The House met at 10 a.m. and was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mrs. BUSTOS).

DESIGNATION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE
The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:
WASHINGTON, DC, March 6, 2019.
I hereby appoint the Honorable CHERRY BUSTOS to act as Speaker pro tempore on this day.
NANCY PELOSI, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

MORNING-HOUR DEBATE
The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of January 3, 2019, the Chair will now recognize Members from lists submitted by the majority and minority leaders for morning-hour debate.
The Chair will alternate recognition between the parties. All time shall be equally allocated between the parties, and in no event shall debate continue beyond 11:50 a.m. Each Member, other than the majority and minority leaders and the minority whip, shall be limited to 5 minutes.

IMPEACHMENT IS NOT DEAD
The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas (Mr. GREEN) for 5 minutes.
Mr. GREEN of Texas. Madam Speaker, and still I rise, with love of country in my heart.
And still I rise, as I did some 659 days ago, more than 21 months, when I first stood on the floor of the House of Representatives and called for the impeachment of the President. In so doing, I had to fend off the multitudes who wanted to know what crime the President had committed, what law did he break.
We had to fight that fight, and we won, because it is now generally perceived and believed that the President does not have to commit a crime to be impeached.
In fact, Article II, Section 4 of the Constitution of the United States of America addresses that question when it deals with high crimes and misdemeanors as misdemeanors or misdeeds, pursuant to the understanding that we have of the Constitution of the United States of America.
And still I rise now, understanding that we have had to fend off those who have said: You have to wait for the Mueller report. You have to wait. Why not wait?
Here is why you don’t have to wait: Because the Mueller report is dealing with violations of the law. Misdeeds don’t necessarily require a violation of the law.
If you are corrupting society, if you are creating harm to society, if you are causing things to happen in society that are unacceptable to the people in the United States of America, an unfit President can be impeached for those misdeeds that corrupt and harm society.
We are winning that fight. This fight is one that is easily won because, as we proceed, it is going to become intuitively obvious that these misdeeds are the problems, and the misdeeds are creating the concerns in society.
It is my belief that we have a duty, a responsibility, and an obligation under the Constitution to deal with an unfit President.
There are those who would want me to withhold my thoughts until after there has been an investigation, when we have clear and convincing evidence before our very eyes of the misdeeds: separating babies from their mothers, who happen to be of color, I might add; talking about s-hole countries that happen to be where people of color live, I might add; talking about good people, or very fine people, in Charlottesville, among those who are bigots, racists, xenophobes, homophobes, and Islamophobes.
Yes, the evidence is there, because the President was putting in his policies these bigoted statements. These statements went beyond his words. They became a part of his policies. For this, he can be impeached.
I stand where I stood 659 days ago, and I will continue to stand until this President is removed from office.
We can investigate to the extent that we engage in what Dr. King called the paralysis of analysis, just investigate until it is time for another election, and then the election becomes the focal point.
My dear friends, my dear brothers and sisters, those who desire to wait may do so. I will not wait. Impeachment is not dead.

WOMEN’S HISTORY MONTH
The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. CICILLINE). The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. MARSHALL) for 5 minutes.
Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the many women who have shaped our country’s successes and are inspiring our future.
This month, we celebrate Women’s History Month and recognize the women who have fought for equality and positively impacted their communities. The courage and resolve of our women must not go unnoticed.
In Kansas, we are always quick to highlight the great Amelia Earhart, our hometown aviation pioneer. But today, I want to highlight the millions of women around the world who have made and continue to make significant impacts on their families, communities, and workplaces through meaningful, everyday contributions.
My own mother, Nancy, taught me many family values that continue to give me strength and guide me throughout fatherhood and in my career as an obstetrician.

She instilled in me the value of proper nutrition at an early age, which I was able to go on and explain in very commonsense terms to all my patients as an obstetrician. My mom emphasized the importance of a healthy breakfast and sitting down each night as a family for dinner, something my wife, Laina, and I prioritized as parents as well.

She taught me all these lessons while also working a full-time job as an office manager. Her dedication to her family and career didn’t garner news headlines, but it made a significant impact and allowed me to grow up understanding the outcomes of hard work.

My wife, Laina, went to school to be a nurse at Butler County Community College and later worked in the neonatal intensive care unit, caring for premature babies. She made a huge impact on all those babies’ lives, as well as their families and their development.

Now, as a mother of four and grandmother of two, I often tell people my wife has the most important job in America: raising our children.

I know there are millions of mothers around the globe who have and continue to provide the same energy, time, and dedication to their children, families, and communities. Too often, we don’t take the time to share and celebrate these contributions, but we all know a woman who has made a significant impact on our lives.

As we celebrate Women’s History Month, I challenge you to thank those women who have positively influenced your life, improved our communities, and contributed to the success of this great nation.

RECOGNIZING LEADERSHIP OF DR. BOBBY MOSER

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to recognize my friend and fellow western Kansas physician, Dr. Bobby Moser, for his leadership with the Kansas Heart and Stroke Collaborative, an initiative funded through CMS’ Health Care Innovation Awards.

The effort started in 2014 with the University of Kansas Health System, Hays Medical Center, 10 critical-access hospitals, and the First Care Clinic to provide an innovative care delivery and payment model designed to improve heart health and stroke outcomes for rural Kansans.

When they first received this 3-year Federal grant, they were nothing shy of ambitious. In their proposal, they aimed to reduce healthcare costs by nearly $14 million and reduce deaths from stroke and heart attack by 20 percent. To accomplish this, they needed to comply with a number of data requirements.

The people they serve on how nutrition programs. That is why we must

Dr. Moser recently reported that the clinical network of hospitals has improved medications and delivery time for getting clot-busting drugs to patients that literally save lives and prevent lifelong paralysis.

Since its inception, these physicians have grown to reach more counties and are able to help more patients. Now called Care Collaborative, they are exploring new payment systems for rural hospitals and focusing on expanding into new medical treatments, like palliative care.

With more than 50 critical-access hospitals in my district, the resources developed through this collaborative have been lifesaving and critical for our hospitals and, most importantly, rural patients.

ADVOCATING FOR FEDERAL NUTRITION PROGRAMS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MCGOVERN) for 5 minutes.

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I am here today to advocate for the Federal nutrition programs that help our most vulnerable and those without food security. I believe these programs continue to need our unwavering protection and attention.

March 4 marked the beginning of National School Breakfast Week, which is designed to provide more students, parents, and school officials the benefits of fueling up for the day with a healthy school breakfast.

I am sure it comes as no surprise to many of you that learning improves when students are not hungry. It is awfully hard to concentrate when you don’t have any fuel in your body.

Last week, I met with several anti-hunger organizations from my district, and they shared with me stories from the people they serve on how nutrition programs, food pantries, and school breakfast and lunch programs impact their lives.

Many of them wrote their thoughts on paper plates, and I would like to read a few of them to you.

Jay Keller from Jeremiah’s Inn in Worcester said: "These food centers make a huge difference when it comes to preparing meals. Without them, I would not be able to make ends meet. Please keep them going. Many people may go hungry if they do not continue."

A parent from Catholic Charities in Worcester said: "SNAP and school lunches help my daughter and I eat. It helps us get by, and I work part-time. Very grateful for these programs."

Sometimes, Mr. Speaker, school breakfasts and lunches are the only opportunities a child has to receive a full meal. In a recent interview, Dr. Moser said: "School lunch is important because it keeps me full until I go home." Another student from Pernet Family Health Services in Worcester wrote: "If I don’t eat, my head hurts."

While many nutrition program participants are children and persons with disabilities, their reach extends to veterans. A veteran from St. Anthony’s in Worcester said: "My food bank provides myself and fellow veterans with love and nutrients. Without you guys, it would be a long month. Thanks to our nuns who help us always."

When a family is worried about whether they can afford basic necessities, nutrition programs and the food security they provide goes a long way.

In 2018, a monthly average of 40.3 million people participated in the SNAP program. Despite the fact that this number has been steadily decreasing, the Trump administration has unveiled several baseless attacks on these nutrition programs.

On December 20, 2018, the Trump administration proposed a rule that will threaten the eligibility of SNAP participants who are considered able-bodied adults without dependents. In an effort to, ironically, "restore self-sufficiency through the dignity of work," their rule stigmatizes SNAP participants and limits a State’s ability to waive 20-hour work requirements.

The able-bodied adult without dependents population is a complex group. Many of them are veterans returning from overseas and having a difficult time reintegrating into our communities. Many of them are young adults who have aged out of the foster care system. Some are ex-felons who are products of mass incarceration. Some are workers who are not given 20 hours of work per week.

Mr. Speaker, 75 percent of SNAP participants do work, but often in jobs that are either unstable or don’t pay enough to put food on the table. It is not that the able-bodied adult without dependent population is an easy choice. Many are jobless because they lack privilege and are trying to get on their feet.

This proposed rule also specifically goes against the will of Congress by imposing restrictions that were specifically rejected for inclusion in the farm bill signed into law just last year.

As if that weren’t enough, the Trump administration also announced its intention to propose changes to categorize eligibility. Cat-el, or Cat-el, is a criteria used to determine whether a family is automatically eligible for SNAP because they already qualify for certain other low-income programs. Cat-el is fine as it is because it eliminates redundancy and minimizes times that low-income families must overcome just to keep up with their basic needs.

While the administration changes are forthcoming, I don’t have much optimism about how they will turn out.

The current administration is trying to solve problems that don’t exist, and they are creating problems that have clear solutions. That is why we must continue to raise these issues to the forefront of our agenda.

There is no excuse. We have the resources. It is on all of us to prioritize basic hunger needs. Supporting school breakfast and lunch programs, and maintaining reasonable eligibility for nutrition assistance programs, are the least we can do to end hunger now.

We live in the richest country in the history of the world, and we have millions and millions of people who are hungry. We should all be ashamed of that.

Hunger and food insecurity are political conditions. We can solve these problems if we have the political will. I urge my colleagues to gather that political will.

$22 TRILLION DEBT AND DEBT CEILING REACHED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. BROOKS) for 5 minutes.

Mr. BROOKS of Alabama. Mr. Speaker, America recently blew through the $22 trillion debt mark with no end in sight.

In January, the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office warned Washington that America faces an unending stream of trillion-dollar-a-year deficits beginning in FY 2022 and culminating in a $1.4 trillion deficit in FY 2028, the amount Congress spends each year on the military, NASA, ATF, FBI, and almost every other Federal agency.

The cumulative effect of these deficits is a debt that explodes from $22 trillion today to $33 trillion in a decade.

As debt goes up, so does debt service. The CBO warns: "In CBO’s projections, outlays for net interest increase from $325 billion in 2018 to $383 billion . . . In 2019, and more than double by 2029, to $928 billion, which is the rough equivalent of almost 50 NASA programs.

Compounding matters, this past weekend, on March 2, the Federal Government hit the debt ceiling, which means the Federal Government’s operational costs are being paid for via extraordinary measures, such as borrowing from the Social Security and Medicare trust funds.

Washington’s response to this financial firestorm is akin to that of Roman Emperor Nero, who fiddled as Rome burned.

Rather than be proactive and work to prevent a debilitating national insolvency and bankruptcy, Congress emulates an ostrich that buries its head in the sand and denies lurking danger.

In sum, America’s sea of red ink and projected financial path is wholly and completely unsustainable.

America must learn from financially reckless nations like Greece and Venezuela, and from Puerto Rico, an American territory that defaulted on its $70 billion debt.

Unfortunately, the vast majority of American voters are oblivious to America’s lurking financial dangers, in large part because of minimal national media coverage.

American voters are too often seduced by debt-junkie politicians who promise free stuff to get elected, while knowing full well America can’t pay for it. If American voters do not elect financially responsible officials to Washington, America will succumb to the same debilitating insolvency and bankruptcy that wreaks havok in Greece and Puerto Rico, with one major difference; unlike Greece, which has been bailed out three times by the European community, and unlike Puer- to Rico, which may yet be bailed out by American taxpayers, there is no one, no one who can or will bail out America.

Instead, America will be more like Venezuela, whose annual inflation rate now exceeds 2 million percent, where the International Monetary Fund reports there are: “Widespread shortages of essential goods, including food, ex- acting a tragic toll,” where grocery stores have rows and rows of empty shelves and Venezuelans can’t find food to feed their families.

Worse yet, Venezuela’s bankruptcy has made it one of the most violent countries in the world, with a chilling 82 homicides per 100,000 population, roughly 20 times worse than America’s homicide rate. Caracas, Venezuela’s capital is the world’s most violent city, with a war-zone-like 120 murders per 100,000 citizens.

Mr. Speaker, America must learn from the financially irresponsible mistakes of others. As the adage says, We can either learn from history, or we are doomed to repeat it.

American voters must wake up and stop being seduced by the wily ways of debt-junkie politicians who promise anything to get elected, who pretend to be Santa Claus, when, in fact, they are the Grinch that stole America’s future.

Time is running out. The American people must start being good stewards of our Republic, and elect Washington officials who both understand the threat posed by defaults, and debt, and have the backbone to fix it. America’s future depends on it.

PROTECTING ATLANTIC COASTAL ECONOMIES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. VAN DREW) for 5 minutes.

Mr. VAN DREW. Mr. Speaker, I rise today because I am profoundly concerned with the possible permitting of seismic airgun blasting off the Atlantic Coast, from Jacksonville, Florida, to Cape May, New Jersey, to Portland, Maine. This is an extremely serious issue.

Late last year, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, also known as NOAA, issued five Incidental Harassment Authorizations which advanced permit applications for seismic airgun blasting in the Atlantic Ocean. This action essentially sets the stage for the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management to approve these permits at any time now.

Seismic airgun blasting is not only the first step toward offshore oil and gas exploration and development, but it is harmful to marine mammal life and to marine life in general, and it encroaches on vital military operations. It is on all of us to limit the dangers of climate change, such as extreme weather events like Superstorm Sandy, it is unthinkable to further harm the environment and endanger our coastal economy in South Jersey and along the coast, which is largely based on fishing and based on tourism.

Our public policy goal is to create a cleaner and healthier environment, an environment that we can pass on to our children and grandchildren so that they may enjoy it.

I am proud that broad arrays of organizations in New Jersey have supported my legislation. These organizations include the Chambers of Commerce of Cape May County, Ocean City, Vine- land, Greater Wildwood, Greater Atlantic City, the Garden State Seafood Association, the Recreational Fishing Alliance, the Jersey Shore Partnership, Clean Ocean Action, Surfers Environmental Alliance, the American Littoral Society, Ocean Conservancy, New Jersey chapters of the Sierra Club, the League of Conservation Voters, Audubon Society, and Environment America.

Mr. Speaker, it was a pleasure to have worked with Congressman RUTH- ERFORD of Florida on H.R. 1149. I am also grateful that several of our elite colleagues joined us on important efforts, including JOE CUNNINGHAM of South Carolina, CHRIS SMITH of New Jersey, DONNA SHAW of Idaho, and BRIAN MAST of Florida, as well.

Our bipartisan bill, the Atlantic Coastal Economies Protection Act, would prevent the five seismic airgun blasting permits that are now under consideration from the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management from being issued. It would stop them.

I urge my colleagues to protect our precious coastline and to protect the livelihoods of those that depend upon it by supporting H.R. 1149. It is a bipartisan bill. It is the Atlantic Coastal Economies Protection Act.

Mr. Speaker, I include three letters of support for the RECORD.

[From the Greater Atlantic City Chamber]

RESOLUTION OPPOSING BOEM 2019-2024 OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF OIL AND GAS LEASING PROGRAM

Whereas, on January 8, 2018, the federal Bureau of Ocean Energy Management (BOEM) announced in the Federal Register notice the release of their Draft Proposed Program (DPP) for the Outer Continental Shelf Oil and Gas Leasing Program. BOEM is requesting public comment on the DPP as well as formal scoping for a Programmatic Environmental Impact Statement for the 2019-2024 Program; and

Whereas, this new plan includes the entire Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida, including the waters off New Jersey within 3 miles of beaches, as well as including other ocean waters totaling some 90% of US ocean waters; and

Whereas, New Jersey boasts over 127 miles of beautiful ocean coastline and hundreds of miles of beaches, bays, estuaries, and other waterways connected to the Atlantic Ocean; and

Whereas, the Jersey Shore is essential to the health of the our communities, environment and the thriving economy of New Jersey; and

Whereas, the physical, hydrodynamic, and biological characteristics of the ocean off the Jersey Shore are unique in the world, as more than 300 species of fish, nearly 350 species of birds, 5 species of sea turtles, and many marine mammals such as 20 species of whales and dolphins, 1 species of porpoise, and 4 species of seals, frequent this region. Nine endangered species, four of which are whales, can be found in these ocean waters, including the Atlantic Right Whale, one of the world’s most endangered marine mammals, which serves as an essential migratory pathway for many of these species; and

Whereas, the Jersey Shore sustains the economy of the region with its bounty of natural resources and intrinsic values for millions of people through tourism. Tourism brings more than $30 billion to NH each year and provides jobs to more than 500,000 people with $6.2 billion generated in Cape May County alone; and

Whereas, recreational and commercial fisheries in NJ provide enormous economic benefits, including revenue, food production, and recreational activities with the poaching of Cape May and Wildwood ranking as the second largest seaport on the east coast. In 2014, recreational fishing supported nearly 20,000 jobs and resulted in $2 billion of retail sales. Commercial fishing supports nearly 7,300 jobs and provides $152 million in landings, not including restaurant and retail sales; and

Whereas, current estimates of the amount of technically recoverable oil off the entire Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida would only be approximately 226 billion barrels, and the amount of technically recoverable gas would only last approximately 562 days; and

Whereas, offshore oil and gas development, causes substantial environmental impacts, including: (a) onshore damage due to infrastructure, (b) water pollution from drilling muds and the water brought-up from a well with oil and gas (called “produced waters”), (c) noise from seismic surveys, (d) air pollution, and (e) oil spills; and

Whereas, the harmful environmental consequences of offshore oil and gas exploration and development are serious and threatens the environmental and economic assets of New Jersey; and

Whereas, The BP Horizon disaster in the Gulf of Mexico (2010) is clear evidence of the dangers associated with offshore drilling, including costing the lives of 11 people, devastating coastal economies and countless livelihoods, and killing countless marine animals, continuing to cause harm to marine life as documented by a steady flow of studies; and

Whereas, Federal Administration officials are also weakening protections of ocean resources by undermining rules and regulations, cutting funding sources for spill response, and

Whereas, oil spills travel vast distances, and the Gulf Stream and Labrador Ocean Current all flow toward New Jersey making the region vulnerable to impacts from spills anywhere in the Atlantic Ocean; and

Whereas, Within 5 days of the release of the DPP Governor Rick Scott was able to convince Department of Interior Secretary Zinke to remove Florida from further consideration for drilling due to the importance of coastal tourism to that state and UF shares this same economic dependence on tourism and clean ocean economies;

Whereas, bi-partisan opposition against drilling off the New Jersey coast has included every Governor since 1985, and a majority of the congressional delegation and most coastal towns; and

Whereas, in the January 8, 2018, BOEM Federal Register to requests comments on the Draft Proposed Program (DPP) and scoping comments for the Programmatic Environmental Impact Study

Whereas, energy conservation and efficiency measures can significantly reduce the nation’s need to explore and drill for non-renewable resources, such as oil and natural gas; and

Whereas, coastal municipalities have a profound interest in maintaining strong federal protections for our nation’s coastal environment, as well as the economic and social benefits it supports; and

Now, therefore, this bill was resolved on March 5, 2018, that the Greater Atlantic City Chamber hereby opposes offshore oil and gas exploitation and drilling activities that would subsidize the Department of the Interior to withdraw New Jersey and the entire Atlantic Ocean from consideration for the offshore oil and gas exploration, development, or drilling,

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE
March 6, 2019

OCEAN CITY REGIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND VISITORS SERVICES, Ocean City, NJ, February 6, 2019.

Congressman JEFF VAN DREW,
Mays Landing, NJ.

DEAR CONGRESSMAN VAN DREW: On behalf of the Ocean City Regional Chamber of Commerce, we would like extend our endorsement of your proposed bill, known as the "Atlantic Coastal Economies Protection Act to prohibit the Department of Interior from issuing certain geological and geographic exploration permits under the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act, and for other purposes.

The Ocean City Regional Chamber of Commerce, which is comprised of more than 550 member businesses, strongly supports this act as we are against seismic airgun blasting in the Atlantic Ocean.

We stand by you and your support of the Atlantic Coastal Economies Protection Act.

Kindest regards,

MICHELLE GILLIAN,
Executive Director.

GREATER VINEYARD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,

U.S. Representative JEFFREY VAN DREW,
Washington, DC.

DEAR CONGRESSMAN VAN DREW: On behalf of our organization, in more than 450 member businesses, strongly supports this act as we are against seismic airgun blasting in the Atlantic Ocean.

We stand by you and your support of the Atlantic Coastal Economies Protection Act.

Kindest regards,

MICHELLE GILLIAN,
Executive Director.

VISITS TO RICHLAND, CAMBRIA HEIGHTS, AND PURCHASE LINE HIGH SCHOOLS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. THOMPSON) for 5 minutes.

Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, over the past couple of weeks I had the honor of visiting three high schools in my district, the Richland High School, near Johnstown, Cambria Heights High School, in Patton, and Purchase Line High School in Condomore, Pennsylvania.

As a senior member of the House Education and Labor Committee, I love speaking with students about their learning experiences, and hearing from faculty and staff as well.

Last week, the Richland School District invited me to join them for their Teacher-In-Service event with award-winning educator and principal, Salome Thomas-El. It was a pleasure to be with educators from the Cambria County area to hear the ways that we can work together to improve education in America.

I enjoyed hearing Mr. Thomas-El discuss the change in attitudes and strategies of school staff, parents, and members of the community to help the students in most need of guidance. He is currently the head of the Thomas Edison Charter School in Wilmington, and before that, began his career as a teacher and chess coach at Vaux Middle School.

Mr. Thomas-El has published several books, received prestigious awards, appeared on television, and Disney recently optioned the movie rights to his best-selling book titled “I Chose to Stay.” He has committed more than 20 years of his life to answering the question of how to ensure that every child achieves their greatest potential.

The question is one that all educators seek to answer and even policymakers in Congress; and that is why I will continue to support legislation and initiatives that meet the needs and grow the potential of every student.

We must also address family poverty, child nutrition, community violence, and other barriers that affect student success.

As Mr. Thomas-El says, All children can and will learn as long as they have adults who care enough. And he is right. In order for our country’s students to truly succeed, they need the support from adults at home, in the classroom, and throughout their communities.

I left the in-service event with Richland School District encouraged and confident that our educators are providing essential support to their students.

That feeling stayed with me the next day as I visited Cambria Heights High School. There, I met with students representing music, athletics, student council, and vocational programs at the school. Students showed me the ongoing renovations to the high school building as part of a major renovation of the classrooms and the cafeteria.

They also shared with me their many accomplishments that included earning top scores in the county on the State’s Keystone Exams for literature and biology.

Earlier this week I participated in an assembly at the Purchase Line High School in Indiana County. The students asked great questions about civic engagement, and we had an open dialogue about the challenges and the opportunities that are facing our Nation.

Meeting with all these students gives me great hope for the future, and I know these students will become our next generation of leaders, regardless of what fields they enter after graduation.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the Richland School District, Cambria Heights High School, and the Purchase Line High School for inviting me into their schools and sharing with me the ways they are transforming education to help students not only graduate, but go on to earn a higher degree or a certification or, quite frankly, go successfully into the workforce.

A good education opens so many doors in life. I am tremendously proud of the students, faculty, and staff of each of these outstanding institutions.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until noon today.

Accordingly (at 10 o’clock and 27 minutes a.m.), the House stood in recess.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker, the Reverend Patrick J. Cunrroy, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, we give You thanks for giving us another day.

During these days on the Hill, there are many Americans walking the halls, speaking to their Representatives about interests of great concern to them. The American Osteopathic Society, the National Kidney Foundation, the VFW, the National Down Syndrome Society, the Lupus Foundation, the Boy and Girl Scouts of America, among others, have been advocates for so many who are in need.

We thank You that we live in a nation blessed by the rights and opportunities for Americans to petition their government.

Bless the Members of this assembly, who know best how to respond to such entreaties, with the ability to meet so many needs.

May all that is done this day be for Your greater honor and glory.

Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to clause 8, rule XX, further proceedings on this question will be postponed.

The point of no quorum is considered withdrawn.

CONSTITUENTS SHOULD BE THE TOP PRIORITY

(Mrs. KIRKPATRICK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. KIRKPATRICK. Mr. Speaker, our constituents sent us here to represent them, to be a voice for their families, to fight for their Flag, to vote in their best interest. I am here for the residents of Arizona’s Second Congressional District. I am here to work for them.

We must reject the culture of corruption and put the power back in the hands of the people we represent. Our government works best when it is focused on people and American families, not some special interest group or large corporation.

We can clean up the muddy swamp behaviors by passing H.R. 1. We need to reduce the role of dark special interest money and to make it easier to vote. We need to have some accountability here.

I will be voting for H.R. 1 so that our constituents become the top priority for all of us, not special interest groups.

FAIRNESS IN DISCIPLINE
(Mr. ZELDIN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ZELDIN. Mr. Speaker, there is no room for anti-Semitism anywhere in this Chamber.

This past January, the House voted nearly unanimously to condemn white supremacy, and it named a Republican Member as we did that. I voted for that.

Back in January, around the same exact time, we had a Member apologize for remarks about how Israel had hypnotized the world, an anti-Semitic trope; a month later, apologizing for an allegation that if you support Israel, then you have been bought off by Jews; and now, claiming that if you support Israel, then that means that you have allegiance to a foreign government.

But this time there will be no apology. I commend my colleagues on the other side of the aisle who have spoken out against it. This Chamber today should be taking action to condemn anti-Semitism, to be naming names; and where that Member in January was anti-Semitism, to be naming names; and where that Member in January was anti-Semitism, to be naming names.

As a Member of Congress, we mean to hold ourselves to the highest standards of behaviability, and transparency. Servant leaders don’t hold a tight grip on power; they empower those around them. The first step to doing that is to pass H.R. 1 and return power to the people who sent us here.

Let’s show America that we are their Representatives, and that we are elected to serve them, not the mega-donors and not the special interests.

WE THE PEOPLE
(Ms. BROWNLEY of California asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. BROWNLEY. Mr. Speaker, my favorite three words in our Constitution are the first three words, “We the people.”

The will of the people is the basis of our entire democracy. But for far too long, special interests and big money have rigged that system against everyday Americans.

This week, we take a major step to change that. We are voting on H.R. 1, transformational legislation that will finally put the power back in the hands of the American people, by toughening Federal ethics laws, fixing the broken campaign finance system, and strengthening voting rights, including two bills that I have worked on with my colleagues to end partisan gerrymandering and requiring same-day voter registration.

I encourage everyone to support H.R. 1 this week, because it is long past time we return our government to one that is of the people, by the people, and for the people once again.

FREE AND FAIR ELECTIONS
(Mr. MOULTON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MOULTON. Mr. Speaker, amidst the tragedies of the Iraq war, I witnessed one of the proudest demonstrations of democracy in modern times. When the Iraqis voted for the first time, they dipped their fingers in ink and, rather than hiding those fingers for fear of reprisal, they held them high walking through the streets.

What they were saying was that, for the first time in their lives, their opinion mattered. Their vote counted. It is the most fundamental requirement of a democracy. Yet, today, we know that this basic right has never been truly guaranteed here at home.

Our elections are not free when Americans are forced between providing for their families and casting a vote; our elections are not fair when gerrymandering predetermines them or dark money makes some votes count more than others; and our people do not have a voice when they are turned away by voter ID laws that make it easier to buy a gun than cast a vote.

H.R. 1 changes that, taking a stand against Citizens United, resolving to err on the side of transparency, and making it far easier for Americans to vote.

I believe that America, however imperfect, is the greatest democracy on Earth. H.R. 1 finally makes us act that way.

WE CAN AND WE MUST DO BETTER
(Mr. PHILLIPS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to voice my full-hearted support of H.R. 1, the For the People Act.

As I spend time with parents and business owners, retirees and millennials, Republicans and Democrats back home in Minnesota, one thing is clear: People are losing faith in the integrity and fairness of our political system, and for good reason.

When I arrived in Washington, I witnessed firsthand the corrupting influence of money and politics: envelopes with PAC checks offered after handshakes and a culture in which votes often seem to have price tags attached. Orange is the new black.

AMERICANS ARE LOSING FAITH IN THEIR GOVERNMENT
(Mr. MALINOWSKI asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. MALINOWSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 1.

When I was running for Congress, I heard again and again that Americans are losing faith in their government, asking why the votes they cast don’t lead to the outcome they want. At a time when we are so divided, I can think of nothing more unifying than a bill that addresses the source of their discontent.

To those who have raised concerns about H.R. 1 here, let me say that, in my district, I have not met a single person, Republican or Democrat, who thinks it is a good idea to let non-donors spend millions of untraceable dollars on political attack ads or to have a campaign finance system so opaque that Russian oligarchs can easily channel money into it.

I haven’t met a single person, Republican or Democrat, who thinks it is just fine for Members of Congress to serve on corporate boards or for Presidents to hide their tax returns, or anyone who is pleased with partisan gerrymandering or who is happy that we have done nothing to secure our elections from foreign hacking since 2016.

The median age among the American people. On the contrary, when I vote "yes" on H.R. 1, I will be doing what the vast majority of my constituents are demanding: to make our democracy work better for everyone, regardless of our party or our point of view.

I can’t wait to cast that vote.

EXPANDING ACCESS TO QUALITY AFFORDABLE HEALTHCARE

(Mr. DELGADO asked and was given permission to address the House for one minute.)

Mr. DELGADO. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in support of the Medicare Drug Price Negotiation Act, a bill that I am proud to cosponsor. This bill is a critical step in expanding access to quality affordable healthcare by bringing down prescription drug costs.

Too many of my constituents and too many Americans across this country can’t afford the healthcare coverage they need. There is no bigger driver of this problem than the skyrocketing cost of prescription drugs.

The United States pays the highest prices for prescription drugs in the world, and over the past decade, the prices of 90 percent of brand name drugs have more than doubled.

How is it that one in five American adults cannot afford the medicine they need?

In the wealthiest country in the world, it is inexcusable that we have seniors who have to choose between their prescriptions and buying groceries, cancer patients who can’t afford their chemotherapy, diabetics who need to ration the insulin they need to survive.

The Medicare Prescription Drug Price Negotiation Act couldn’t be more commonsense. It allows the Department of Health and Human Services to negotiate drug prices for nearly two years, without whom I would never have made it to Congress.

I have three children: Betsy, who is 7; Paul, who is 10; and Luke, who is 13. Leaving them alone was not an option and bringing them on the campaign trail was often impossible, inappropriate, and could have even been dangerous.

For the past two centuries, Congress has written many, many laws about what women may and may not do, but until this year, women’s representation in Congress was less than 20 percent.

Even with the election of my historic class, we are only 102 women. There are even fewer moms in Congress and even fewer single moms, as in, nobody but me.

I have introduced language today as a standalone bill I will introduce.

MAKING IT EASIER, NOT HARDER, FOR PEOPLE TO VOTE

(Ms. WEXTON asked and was given permission to address the House for one minute.)

Ms. WEXTON. Mr. Speaker, our democracy isn’t working the way it should for a majority of Americans, but H.R. 1, the For the People Act, can fix that.

This legislation will end partisan gerrymandering by creating independent redistricting commissions, letting the voters choose the politicians, not the politicians choosing their voters.

H.R. 1 will promote online registration, same-day and automatic voter registration, because we should be making it easier, not harder, for people to vote.

It also prohibits arbitrary voter roll purges, expands early voting and vote-by-mail options, and ensures the restoration of voting rights for those who have paid their dues to society.

The right to vote is the cornerstone of American democracy. It is sacred as the freedom of religion and speech.

The American people want clean and fair elections, and H.R. 1 is a once-in-a-generation opportunity to restore the faith and function in American democracy.

PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 1, FOR THE PEOPLE ACT OF 2019, AND PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF MOTIONS TO SUSPEND THE RULES

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, by direction of the Committee on Rules, I call up House Resolution 172 and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the resolution, as follows:

H. RES. 172

Resolved, That at any time after adoption of this resolution the Speaker may, pursuant to clause 2(b) of rule XVIII, declare the House resolved into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for consideration of the bill (H.R. 1) to expand Americans’ access to the ballot box, reduce the influence of big money in politics, and strengthen ethics rules for public servants, and for other purposes. The first reading of the bill shall be dispensed with. All points of order against consideration of the bill are waived. General debate shall be confined to the bill and shall not be subject to a demand for division. The bill shall be considered as amended in the nature of a substitute by the Committee on House Administration now printed in the bill, an amendment in the nature of a substitute consisting of the text of Rules Committee Print 116-7, modified by the amendment printed in part A of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution, the amendments printed in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution, the amendments in the nature of a substitute in the report of the Committee on Rules, the amendments to the original bill for the purpose of further suspending the rules, and the amendments printed in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution.

SEC. 2. (a) No further amendment to the bill, as amended, shall be in order except those printed in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution and amendments en bloc described in section 3 of this resolution.

(b) Each further amendment printed in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules shall be considered only in the order printed in the report, may be offered only by a Member designated in the report, shall be considered as read, shall be debatable for the time specified in the report, and shall be subject to a demand for division of the question in the House or in the Committee of the Whole.

(c) All points of order against the further amendments printed in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution and amendments en bloc described in section 3 of this resolution are waived.
S. 3. It shall be in order at any time for the chair of the Committee on House Administration or her designee to offer amendments en bloc consisting of amendments printed in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution not earlier disposed of. Amendments en bloc offered pursuant to this section shall be considered as or amendments as may have been adopted. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and amendments thereto to final passage without intervening motion except a motion to recommit with or without instructions.

SEC. 5. It shall be in order at any time on the legislative day of March 7, 2019, or March 8, 2019, for the Speaker to entertain motions to proceed to the consideration of the bill after the conclusion of consideration of any matter for consideration pursuant to this section.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Ms. SARBANES). The gentleman from Pennsylvania is recognized for 1 hour.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of debate only, I yield the customary 30 minutes to the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. COLE), the distinguished ranking member of the Committee on Rules, pending which I yield myself such time as I may consume. During consideration of this resolution, all time yielded is for the purpose of debate only.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members be given 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania?

There was no objection.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, on Tuesday, the Rules Committee met and reported a rule, House Resolution 172, providing for consideration of H.R. 1, the For the People Act of 2019, under a structured rule.

The rule provides 2 hours of general debate equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on House Administration.

The resolution self-executes Chairwoman LOFGREN’s manager’s amendment and provides for the consideration of 72 amendments debatable for 10 minutes each.

The rule also provides authority for en bloc amendments, debatable for 20 minutes each.

The rule also provides 10 minutes of final general debate after amendment consideration equally divided and controlled by the Chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on House Administration or their designees.

Lastly, the rule provides suspension authority through Friday, March 8, 2019.

Mr. Speaker, as you know, this past weekend, I had the honor of traveling to Selma, Alabama, with over 40 of our congressional colleagues on a pilgrimage to observe the 54th anniversary of Bloody Sunday, the violent confrontation at the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma.

That confrontation seized the Nation’s attention and launched one of the most important periods in the history of our Republic, culminating in the passage of the Voting Rights Act. When our colleague, Representative John Lewis, along with Martin Luther King and other civil rights pioneers, organized voters to register, crossed the Edmund Pettus Bridge and marched from Selma to Montgomery, they did so knowing that their lives and the lives of those they loved were at risk.

The institutional opposition they faced was fierce and violent, but their message of nonviolence and justice strengthened them and their resolve. They marched and bailed their lives in order to secure the right to vote. They understood that they would never be equal citizens of the United States until they had a voice in their destiny, and they understood that the United States could never be the republic it aspired to become until all of its citizens had the right to participate in decisions affecting their future.

We undeniably have made progress since then, but not enough, and frighteningly, we seem to be moving backward.

In recent years, we have seen new forms of voter suppression emerge, whether in the guise of strict voter ID laws, purges of voting rolls, partisan gerrymandering, or unfounded allegations of voter fraud.

As an election official, election protection organizer, and voting rights advocate for over 3 decades, I have seen all of these tactics in play. In fact, several of us in the Pennsylvania delegation were able to join this Congress in part because a Federal court ordered that Pennsylvania’s congressional districts had been so gerrymandered that they must be redrawn, they were unconstitutional.

We have heard, and will undoubtedly hear again today, that Democrats are pushing voting rights reform because of the expectation that new voters will likely be Democratic voters. I would hope that those with a sense of history would resist this, recognizing that the very same argument was used to oppose the Voting Rights Act in 1965 out of fear that those who had been oppressed would use that experience into their voting decisions.

It is telling that a similar fear motivates some in this Chamber today who would rather deprive citizens of a fundamental right than face them at the ballot box.

The cynicism of those who would continue to place barriers in the way of those who wish to vote goes a long way to explaining why our citizens lack faith in our political process.

Those with power, voting and otherwise, too often try to preserve that power through means that are neither transparent nor understood by the people of this country. We have to be bold, and shed some of that institutional power in order to regain the trust of the people.

I thank my colleague, Representative John Sarbanes, who has worked for years in tirelessly crafting this legislation. I also thank Speaker PELOSI and the Democratic leadership team for making this bill the top priority in the House for the 116th Congress. I am so proud that the first order of business of this Congress, our H.R. 1, is dedicated to good government and restoring trust in our democratic institutions.

Our elections are the bedrock of our democracy. During last year’s midterm elections, the American people charged us, the new Congress, to make sure that our government works for them. They put their trust in us to champion our uniquely American creed: a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

H.R. 1, the For the People bill, is our commitment to that trust. This reform package will address many of the barriers to democracy that prevent too many eligible voters from having their voices heard, including our seniors, communities of color, servicemembers, college students, those with disabilities, and low-income families. But it is up to us to see it through.

I am immensely proud to be part of a Caucus that is prioritizing legislation that the people are asking for, legislation that will protect the right to vote for every American and ensure clean and fair elections, that will end the dominance of big money in our politics, and that will crack down on corruption to make sure that public servants put the public interest first.

Recent polls have found that many Americans do not vote because of difficulty registering or accessing their polling places and that Americans are really concerned about the ethical standards of their elected representatives and government officials and are similarly concerned about the influence of special interests and corruption in Washington.

Mr. Speaker, the Democratic majority takes what the people are asking for seriously. This is a bill that addresses their concerns and resists our democracy so that it works for the people, not special interests.

H.R. 1 will make it easier for eligible Americans to vote. Allowing and enabling Americans to vote should not be a divisive partisan issue. Our Nation can only stand to benefit when all eligible voters have a voice.

The very fact that my colleagues on the other side of the aisle have greater electoral success when fewer people come out to vote is not just a stain on our democracy but a direct threat to it.

Automatic voter registration will make it easier for young adults and working families to make sure that they are not left out of the process due to issues with registration.

This bill will make critical fixes to voter purging policies that have disenfranchised millions since section 4 of the Voting Rights Act was struck down by the Supreme Court in Shelby v. Holder. Over 4 million more names were purged from voter rolls after that decision came down than they were in the years before. These purges affected poor minority communities at a vastly disproportionate rate, further marginalizing people who already face significant institutional barriers to voting.

Election security has been a bipartisan concern across the country for years, and H.R. 1 will make considerable investments to ensure our elections are seen as independent, and safe from foreign interference. Empowering the Election Assistance Commission will allow States to get the funding they need to upgrade or improve their election infrastructure, and improvements in election administration will help protect voting systems from cyber threats.

Election infrastructure is critical, and this bill finally recognizes the role that Congress must play in protecting our elections.

A specific priority of mine that I am excited to see included in the bill will make it easier for persons with disabilities to participate in the electoral process. For too long, individuals with disabilities who face physical or technological barriers that prevent them from participating in our democracy at the ballot box. I have introduced legislation included in H.R. 1 that will direct and assist States to improve access to voter registration and the ballot box for persons with disabilities.

These democracy-driven policies represent just a handful of the voting rights reforms contained in H.R. 1. They will improve access to voting, promote integrity in the voting process, and ensure the security of our elections.

Going further, H.R. 1 acts to shine a light and address the dark money which the Citizens United decision unleashed into our politics. Each year that we do not act on reversing Citizens United, more and more untraceable money is spent on campaigns.

This bill will overhaul the Federal Election Commission, the FEC, so that we have a real cop on the beat to enforce our campaign finance laws.

It will upgrade political advertising disclosures and require donors giving more than $10,000 to politically active organizations to be publicly identified. Simultaneously, this bill seeks to empower everyday Americans by creating a small-dollar match system that will bring more people into the conversation and impact that large donors can have on any one campaign.

While small-dollar campaign funding is relatively new to the Federal system, it has been trialed in States and larger cities to great effect. I am pleased to see the bill includes a bill that I drafted to keep Presidential inauguration funds from becoming shadowy slush funds or opportunities for dark forces, whether foreign or domestic, to influence our government.

The bill will prohibit donations to inaugural funds by foreign nationals or corporations, ban personal use of inaugural funds by a candidate, and require disclosure of all donations and disbursements.

H.R. 1 will also help to restore voter confidence in our democracy by codifying ethics standards for all three branches of government. The bill requires the development of a code of ethics for judges, justices, and mandatory recusal of Presidential appointees from matters that concern the President, and increased enforcement of the registration of foreign agents.

The bill will prohibit Members of Congress from using taxpayer funds to settle employment discrimination cases against them, preventing Members of Congress from hiding this conduct and protecting taxpayer money from being misused.

Finally, H.R. 1 will address Presidential conflicts of interest by requiring sitting Presidents and Vice Presidents, as well as Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates, to release their tax returns. Those occupying the highest office in the land should be required to show if they have financial interests that would influence their decisionmaking. Having an executive beholden in any way to a private company or a private corporation serves to undermine our democracy.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend, the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCANLON) for yielding me the customary 30 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, we had quite the debate on this bill in the Rules Committee last night, and I expect the debate on the floor today will be along similar lines. Today’s bill is H.R. 1, which my friends on the other side of the aisle are calling by the misnomer “For the People Act.” Plainly, not accurately, this bill is completely misnamed.

It is not for the people. It is, instead, for the Democratic majority, by the Democratic majority, in hopes of maintaining the Democratic majority for many years to come. Every provision in this bill reflects that goal.

That began with the process the majority used to put this bill together. H.R. 1 was referred to 10 different committees, yet only one, House Administration, held a markup. My friends hold a 2-to-1 advantage on that committee. There are only three Republicans who can participate.

Later, we will be hearing from some of the Republican ranking members of these committees, each of whom will talk about provisions that they had hoped to address, had their respective committees marked up the bill. This failure to allow other committees with jurisdiction to mark up the bill reinforces the desire of the majority to push this bill through as quickly as possible without any additional consideration. Without further hearings and markups, it is all too easy for the majority to sweep the bill’s flaws under the rug and pass it quickly without allowing the American people to see what they are up to.

The bill would be more aptly named the “For the Politicians Act” or “Welfare for Politicians Act.” It reinforces the idea that the majority cares only about passing a bill that will lead to more Democrats in the House of Representatives.

We do not have time today to go over every provision in this bill, but for now, I will take a moment to point out some of the bigger flaws in this product.

First, H.R. 1 takes taxpayer dollars and uses them to create a special piggy bank for campaigns. That is right, Democrats want to use taxpayer dollars of the American people to finance their political campaigns. H.R. 1 creates a matching program for small-dollar campaign contributions, thereby shifting taxpayer dollars to politicians to run their campaigns. In essence, Democrats are demanding that your tax dollars be used to subsidize and fund political candidates.

According to the Bipartisan Policy Center, since 2000, total spending on Federal elections has exploded, going from $2.7 billion that cycle to $6.4 billion in 2016. With so much being raised from private sources, one wonders why the majority wants to waste taxpayer dollars adding even more money into campaigns.

Second, H.R. 1 completely takes over elections, removing authority from States and local election boards and giving it to Washington, D.C. Currently, States have the authority to determine how they want to structure their own elections. Without voter registration, timing, and even redistricting. But all that goes away under H.R. 1. States would no longer be able to set voter registration requirements, hold elections where and how often they want, nor reapportion voters into appropriate districts. Instead, under H.R. 1, Washington, D.C., takes over all these functions.

I doubt any secretary of state or supervisor of elections in America supports this federalization of the election process. In fact, last night in the Rules Committee meeting, Mr. Speaker, I entered into the record a letter from the voting periods and on Election Day. This mandate is not currently feasible with the current funding and staffing levels of county election boards. The logistics of predicting how many ballots and how many precinct officials to assign to polling places, with the number of potential voters unknown, would be extremely difficult and inefficient. Same-day registration increases the risk that due to error or fraud an ineligible person is allowed to register and vote.

"Provisional ballots": Oklahoma has a county-based election system. While Oklahoma uses the same voting system statewide, the county’s system is isolated and does not directly interact with other counties’ systems. (For example, one county cannot print or count another county’s ballots) H.R. 1 requires a voter to vote in the assigned polling place in the county where the voter is registered. Provisional ballots are issued for a variety of reasons, and, if eligible, are counted after 2:00 p.m. on the Friday following Election Day. However, H.R. 1 requires a provisional ballot to be counted even if it is cast in the wrong county or county election board. This mandate is not currently feasible with the small budgets and staffing levels of the 77 county election boards paid for by the State Election Board, and is not currently possible given Oklahoma’s election security features.

"Online Voter Registration": Oklahoma will implement online voter registration in the near future. Unfortunately, H.R. 1 sets different requirements for its federally-mandated online voter registration system than is required by Oklahoma law. (For example, H.R. 1 does everything from defining acceptable signature requirements, to mandating a telephone version of an online voter registration system, to micromanaging the features required for a state’s customer support system.) Further, Oklahoma’s future online voter registration system will require that a registrant’s identity be confirmed by matching the person’s information with an existing driver license or state I.D., but H.R. 1 sets different (and less secure) standards for confirming a registrant’s identity.

"Federalism": While I believe H.R. 1’s sponsors are well-intentioned, a great many of its election provisions— even those that are not concerns—relate to policy decisions that are best left to the states under our federal system. I am concerned that, in its current form, the bill would compel states to act against their will, as in the case of the county election board.

While these are not my only concerns, they are the most serious. I appreciate your consideration. the role of the National Institute of Standards and Technology, NIST, in election security. NIST is an important agency under our committee’s jurisdiction. NIST also plays an important nonregulatory role, providing guidance to State and local governments to help ensure that election results are secure and accurate.

Keeping our elections safe from cyberattacks and fraud is not a partisan priority. It is a priority for all of us.

Unlike the more partisan parts of H.R. 1, I believe that if we had been given a chance on the committee, Chairwoman EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON and I would have been able to come to an agreement on bipartisan legislation to update NIST election security activities.

However, the Democratic leadership has rushed this legislation to the floor without giving our committee an opportunity to even hold a single hearing on the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Rhode Island (Mr. CICILLINE).

Mr. CICILLINE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of the rule and, of course, in support of H.R. 1, the For the People Act, which would provide the most significant reform to our democratic system in decades.

This landmark legislation represents the fulfillment of a promise to the American people to restore our democracy by expanding access to the ballot, reducing the corrupting influence of corporate money and political campaigns, and restoring ethics, integrity, and transparency to government.

We live in a time in our Nation’s history where Americans have a deep sense that government does not work for them, and they are right. That cynicism is caused by policies that respond to the voices of the rich and powerful while ignoring those of ordinary Americans and practices that seek to reduce the fulfillment of a promise to the American people.

The DISCLOSE Act will require organizations that spend money on elections to promptly disclose donors who give $10,000 or more during the election cycle and prevent political operatives from actions meant to conceal the identity of donors.

I have also introduced legislation which would require motor vehicle registries to automatically register all eligible citizens, deliver to residences the services from their motor vehicle registries.

In 2006, at least 32.6 million eligible Americans were not registered to vote and, thus, unable to cast a ballot. The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentleman from Rhode Island an additional 1 minute.

Mr. CICILLINE. Mr. Speaker, making registration automatic will ensure that everyone who wishes to be added to the voter rolls will not have to think twice about it, and I am proud that H.R. 1 will implement automatic voter registration.

For too long, Mr. Speaker, Washington has acted on behalf of wealthy and powerful special interests. Last Congress, Republicans passed legislation to take away healthcare from 23 million Americans, to give billions in tax cuts to billionaires, and to ease gun restrictions in the wake of the deadliest shooting in modern America. Americans responded by voting them out and entrusting us to clean up this culture of corruption. Let us repay that trust by passing this landmark legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support the For the People Act, and I urge adoption of the rule.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. PERRY).

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. COLE) for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, this rule is about what is called the For the People Act, but, to me, it should be called the “For the Swamp Act.”

Now, we are going to have plenty of time later to debate the particulars of the bill, but right now we are talking about the rule and what brings this to the floor.

I just want to remind everybody that this bill was given jurisdiction in 10 committees—10 committees—but 1 committee marked it up and the full committee took a look at it and said: Well, this is wrong. Let’s fix this. Let’s change that.

One committee with nine people—2 percent of Congress—has been involved in this bill.

Now, we understand we are in the minority here. We get that. We get that we are not going to get our way, but we are asking you to have a say. That is all we are asking for here.

This bill is about shutting down the open process and honest debate—this rule resolution, which actually makes sense, because the underlying bill does the same thing for the American people.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. McGovern), the distinguished chairman of the Committee on Rules.

Mr. McGovern. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. Scanlon) for yielding me the time.

Mr. Speaker, in 1997, I stood on this floor and urged action to fix our broken campaign finance system. I spoke then about how newspapers were filled with daily stories detailing how unregulated campaign contributions were corrupting our political system and threatening the very essence of our democracy. That was my first year serving in this institution.

I am sorry to say that this problem hasn’t only persisted, it has gotten worse than many of us could have ever imagined.

Who could have thought that the Supreme Court would issue a disaster ruling like Citizens United? That some would try to have us believe that corporations are people? That we would have a President in the White House who has taken the Republican culture of corruption to a whole new level?

Now, I could go on and on, Mr. Speaker. The news that once made the front page of the newspaper is now in front of us on our smartphones nonstop.

We see over and over again how big money has infected our political process and prevented action on things that the American people care most about, how new roadblocks are being put in place to prevent some eligible Americans from casting their ballots, and how some have used their office to side with special interests over the public interest.

This legislation is about finally fixing our broken democracy, including modernizing and securing our election system. We care so much about this that the For the People Act is literally our top priority. That is why it is H.R. 1.

Now, my Republican friends are talking about process like it is something to be ashamed of. Are they kidding? I mean, these are crocodile tears. When they were in charge at the last Congress, their priority, their H.R. 1, was a tax cut for the superrich. Ours is literally a bill for the people.

And their H.R. 1, by the way, as you can see from this chart, had zero hearings. None. Our H.R. 1 had five.

Our H.R. 1 had 15 hours of hearings. Do you know how many hours of hearings their H.R. 1 had? Zero. A big fat zero. No hearings at all.

We had expert witnesses come to testify and give their input, pro and con. They had none when they did H.R. 1.

Our bill, as we have a structured rule, was put into the Rules Committee in order. When they had their H.R. 1 bill to help the superrich, do you know how many amendments they made in order? Zero. None. A big fat closed rule.

The cost of our legislation to kind of cleanup our democracy is zero. Do you know how much theirs was? At least $1.5 trillion.

Mr. Speaker, what we are doing here is how the legislative process is supposed to work. And imagine what we could achieve once we get special interests out of the way, whether it is lowering the cost of prescription drugs or strengthening our healthcare system or passing sensible gun safety legislation or protecting the Dreamers.

This is about ensuring that our elections actually reflect the Constitution my friends on the other side of the aisle so often talk about. The Preamble does not include “We the corporations” or “We, the special interests.”

It says, “We, the People.”

Mr. Speaker, I urge all of my colleagues to join with the majority in supporting this rule and the underlying legislation so we can finally put our government back in the hands of the people.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. JORDAN), my good friend and distinguished Republican ranking member on the Committee on Oversight and Reform.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman for yielding and thank him for his service on the important Rules Committee as our ranking member in his service and on that particular committee.

Much of this grab bag of Democratic party favors in this bill are entirely unrelated to each other. How, for example, does imposing unfunded Federal mandates on the states relate to mandating the President divest from business holdings?

The House Administration Committee is the committee to mark up this legislation. However, House Administration only marked up the portions of the bill that were in their jurisdiction.

The amendment in the nature of the substitute was 447 pages; the Rules print was 622 pages.

The Committee on Oversight and Reform had substantial jurisdiction over this legislation. We sent a letter to the Rules Committee asking for a markup. We got a letter back from him saying we would do that after the vote on the bill. Now, how the heck does that work? How the heck does that work?

So this next 5 minutes. I think the underlying legislation is wrong for the country. The idea that every single taxpayer is now going to have to finance public campaigns, finance election campaigns—just what the voters want—just what they need. The very people who are in this swamp, you now have to pay for them to get reelected to stay in this swamp.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentleman from Texas an additional 1 minute.

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, they noted that he was the sole or principal owner of 500 separate business entities that stretched from Azerbaijan to Miami, and they gave him an all-clear, upon which he asked us to rely without noting that the same firm had proudly boasted that it was “the Russia law firm of the year.”

Some of us believe we need a little more credible source to review his conduct. But not just review his conduct, that of anyone, for either party, who aspires to be the most powerful person in the entire world.

Even President Nixon invited the Joint Committee on Taxation to review his tax returns, explaining that the people have got to know whether their President is a crook—something very relevant to our times. Candidates who cannot meet the very low Richard Nixon standard have no right to our highest office.

If left untouched and unreachable, without exposure to sunlight, we will find our tax returns hide the darkest secrets. It is good that we have a strong act demanding disclosure of those returns.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BURGESS), my good friend, fellow member of the Rules Committee, and classmate.

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, a little over 2 years ago, President Trump stood on the west front of this Capitol and pledged to dedicate his administration to taking care of the forgotten men and women of this country. This bill does not take seriously the plight of those forgotten men and women. It does take seriously the plight of protecting Democratic incumbents and candidates for this bill can’t become law. It is never going to pass in the Senate. It is never going to be signed by the President. But it is important to talk about it because it reveals the agenda of the Democratic majority here in the House of Representatives.

This bill, things like the Green New Deal, things like a massive single-payer healthcare system, and it is pretty clear that Democrats don’t care about the economy. They don’t care about the middle class. Every election they tell people talk about rebuilding the middle class.

My gosh, Donald Trump has rebuilt the middle class, but you don’t care. about that. You don’t care about jobs. You don’t care about what people earn in those jobs, otherwise you wouldn’t be opening the borders the way you are. You care about your own power. You care about maintaining your own power. It is our job to notify and magnify the President’s friends and business associates.

Now, what are we doing in H.R. 1? We are trying to reclaim American democracy. This legislation is anti-gerrymandering legislation. This legislation says that every State in the Union will have to have an independent redistricting commission. No politicians involved.

They want the politicians to be involved. Amazingly, they embrace the title of being the gerrymander party. They want to keep gerrymandering because that is how they maintain their stranglehold on political power.

The whole purpose of H.R. 1 is to liberate us from the gerrymandering of our elections. That is why we start with independent redistricting commissions. We move to publicly financed elections, because either the big, wealthy, special interests are going to own the elections, or else the people are going to own them through a small, donor-leveraged system. And that is what we are doing. We have got ethics reform in this legislation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 15 seconds to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. RASKIN. Mr. Speaker, I encourage, everyone to actually read the Supreme Court, ethics reform in the executive branch, empowering the Office of Government Ethics to have real subpoena power, and to actually be able to do this when they do their H.R. 1, which was a big, fat giveaway to big corporate special interests in this country, they had no amendments. They had no hearings. They did nothing to make sure that that vote is protected. This bill does nothing to make sure that happens.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. McGovern).

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I am confused when I listen to the gentleman from Illinois when he complains about process. He complains that we have over 70 amendments in order, as if that were a bad thing.

We think that is a good thing. And when they did their H.R. 1, which was a big, fat giveaway to big corporate special interests in this country, they had no amendments. They had no hearings. They did nothing.

The House Administration Committee happens to be the main committee of jurisdiction, and they did a hearing and a markup. So did the other committees. They all did hearings. I don’t understand what the problem is.

The problem is, you don’t like this bill because it undercuts your stranglehold on the political system where all of the big money, corporate special interests can basically get their way within this Republican majority.

People, whether they are Democrats, Republicans, or Independents, have had enough of this corrupt political system that my Republican friends have embraced. We are sick of it. They are sick of it. We are going to change it and it begins here today with passing H.R. 1.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues on both side of the aisle: stand with us, clean up our political system and support H.R. 1.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Arizona (Mrs. Lesko), my good friend and fellow member of the Rules Committee.
Mr. LESKO. Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend, Mr. Cole, the ranking member of the Rules Committee, for yielding me time to speak on this most important issue.

Mr. Speaker, I tell those of you who are here today that the American way of life, the American experience, this is a terrible bill. I have to tell you, the more that I read about it, the more that I study about it, the worse I think that it is.

First of all, it is a total overreach of the scope of authority that the federal government has, or is supposed to have, over the States. In this bill, the majority didn't even consult with the secretaries of States and the election officials throughout the entire country to see if they even liked it. And so you are mandating to the States how they should run their elections.

Not only that, it is mandating to the States how they should run redistricting. Now, in the State of Arizona, the voters of Arizona set up a redistricting commission and determined how their district lines would look. But in this bill it says, no, no, it shouldn't be up to the State. It shouldn't be up to the voters. We know better here in Washington, D.C. how to do your business.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time gentleman has expired.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 15 seconds to the gentlewoman from Arizona.

Mrs. LESKO. Mr. Speaker, the worst part is that it subsidizes politicians with public money, a 6-to-1 matching ratio giving millions, billions more dollars to candidates. My constituents don't want to see any more of those TV commercials at all; no more signs; no more robocalls. This bill would add more money to those nasty things.

Ms. SCANNON. Mr. Speaker, I preserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. McHENRY), the distinguished ranking member on the Financial Services Committee.

Mr. McHENRY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Republican leader on the Rules Committee for yielding.

It is unfortunate we are here today to debate a bill like this. This bill is nothing more than a partisan power grab. That is the sum and substance of what has been offered here as H.R. 1.

This is about the priorities of Democrats in the House, and the priorities of Democrats across the country. It is about taking our election laws in such a way as to benefit their party and harm the American voters and their will at the ballot box. That is the deep problem here with H.R. 1.

This is a partisan power grab by one party to seize power by manipulating our laws to get an outcome counter to the will of the people.

It is not about fairness. It is just the opposite. This is a problem, the process that the Democrats went through, the majority went through for this bill. We had one markup in one committee even though we had multiple committees, including the House Financial Services Committee. That is how big this bill is.

It had multiple committees of jurisdiction that were supposed to have markups on this, and they did not go through that full process.

This bill, at the end of the day, seeks to limit free speech. It uses taxpayer dollars to subsidize political campaigns and undermine the First Amendment. It is objectionable. It undermines the American people's right to freely express their ideas. It is about undermining the sovereignty of States.

This is about the priorities of Democrats in the House, and the priorities of the House Financial Services Committee. That is how big this bill is.

Against higher ethics in Congress, they are, what, accepting any kind of corruption in this institution and what it means for our democracy? You are for gerrymandering. You want dark money to continue?

This is absurd. This is about strengthening our democracy. This should have 435 votes. I am so proud that two of my bills have been incorporated into H.R. 1; one is that we have a national day for our national elections. People shouldn't have to choose between their job or their families. They should be able to go and vote.

Presidents and all Presidential candidates should be mandated to put out 10 years of their tax returns so that the American people can vet them in their own minds to see if they are worthy of the highest office in the land.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment that adds a provision that bars candidates from receiving matching funds under this bill unless that candidate certifies that no tax lien exists on any property owned by that candidate by reason of a failure of the candidate to pay any Federal, State, or local tax.

Mr. Speaker, the logic of this is simple. If the majority is going to insist that millions—really, billions—of Federal tax dollars should be spent subsidizing campaigns, then candidates should also certify that they have paid all the taxes due from them. If a candidate has a tax lien against them, then they should not receive taxpayer dollars to subsidize their campaigns. This is common sense and simple fairness.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert the text of my amendment in the RECORD, along with extraneous material, immediately prior to the vote on the previous question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Oklahoma?

There was no objection.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I urge a "no" vote on the previous question, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SCANNON. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire if the gentleman from Oklahoma has any more speakers?

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I am prepared to close.

Ms. SCANNON. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time to close.

Mr. Speaker, I urge opposition to this rule and the underlying measure. The majority has brought up a misnamed bill that instead serves only to preserve its own power. It will create a taxpayer-funded ATM to waste Federal dollars on political campaigns.

Let me say that again: to waste Federal dollars on campaigns.

My friends are worried about the power of money, but they are injecting billions of new taxpayer dollars into this. And not only that, the taxpayer has no say in where those dollars go. They don't get to pick a candidate or win. We are just going to willy-nilly have their dollars support candidates whom they may or may not agree with.

This does not only apply to Democrats and Republicans. There are fringe candidates who will get funding under this, too. Candidates, quite frankly, who will probably embarrass my friends and ourselves.

So I think this is an enormously misguided idea. It will take over elections and voter registration in all 50 States and transfer power to Washington.

Let me say that again. My friends are voting to literally turn over the State election operations of 50 separate States and federalize them. They haven't talked to very many secretaries of state. I think there was only one who actually was allowed to testify in opposition to this bill.

Instead, we are going to foist off billions of dollars in unpaid mandates on every State in the country, so my friends can continue this misguided effort to alter the political landscape of the greatest Republic and democracy in the world.

This bill will weaken voting systems and weaken the enforcement mechanism that guards against fraud, and it will undermine Americans' fundamental First Amendment rights.

Mr. Speaker, I would strongly urge my friends on the other side to reconsider their course of action. This bill is not going to be heard by the Senate; it will never be signed by the President of the United States; and instead of building a bipartisan coalition for election and campaign reform, it will partisanize this process further.

There was and still is an opportunity to have this bill considered in markups across every committee of jurisdiction. Instead, the majority is simply ramming it through, seeking a committee on its own to consider the provision that was proposed.

This bill will weaken our democracy. This bill will undermine the sovereignty of States. It is a partisan power grab. It is about undermining the American people's right to freely express their ideas. It is about undermining the sovereignty of States.
We can do better than this, Mr. Speaker, and we should strive to do better than this now.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote “no” on the previous question, “no” on the underlying measure, and “yes” on the previous question of the amendment.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, the reforms in H.R. 1, the For the People Act, will remove barriers to voting and give the American people, by the people, for the people. This is why we are urging passage of H.R. 1—"For the People.”

Mr. Speaker, I urge a “yes” vote on the rule and the previous question.

The material previously referred to by Mr. COLE is as follows:

At the end of the resolution, add the following:

SEC. 6. Notwithstanding any other provision of this resolution, the amendment printed in section 7 shall be in order as though printed as the last amendment in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution if there be a majority Republican Representative of Oklahoma or a designee. That amendment shall be debateable for 10 minutes equally divided and controlled by the proponents and opponents.

SEC. 7. The amendment referred to in section 6 shall as follows:

"(b) The candidate certifies that no lien exists on any property of the candidate by reason of a failure of the candidate to pay any Federal, State, or local tax."
ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

Mr. RODGERS of Washington changed her vote from “yea” to “nay.” So the resolution was agreed to.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. WALDEN. Mr. Speaker, due to my attendance at memorial services following the untimely passing of Dennis Richardson, Oregon’s 26th Secret of State, I was in Oregon and missed votes. Had I been present, I would have voted “nay” on rollcall No. 106 and “nay” on rollcall No. 107.

RECOGNIZING THE HONORABLE DON YOUNG AS THE LONGEST-SERVING REPUBLICAN MEMBER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

(Ms. PELOSI asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I rise to mark a historic moment in our institution as DON YOUNG, the dean of the House, completes the longest-serving Republican in the House’s history.

Is that a blushing DON YOUNG that we see behind the beard there? On behalf of the entire House, Mr. Speaker, I congratulate Congressman YOUNG on this honor and on your 46 years of proud service on behalf of the people of Alaska.

DON YOUNG has served alongside, from Alaska, six Senators and 11 governors of his proud State. Photographs of eight Presidents signing his bills into law proudly cover the walls of his Rayburn office.

Despite the length of time, every single day he serves here, it is clear that DON is passionate about his patriotism and about working in this institution to make a difference for America.

As he said upon becoming dean—remember we celebrated his becoming dean not that long ago—he said:

I love this body. I believe in this body, my heart is in the House.

Just over 2 months ago, DON honored one of the special traditions of our institution when he, as dean, administered the oath of office to me, a woman Speaker of the House. That oath began: “I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic . . .” As DON’s name becomes further etched in the history of this House, his caucus and this Congress will look to him for leadership to protect our Constitution, to defend our institution, and to drive progress for the American people.

Just so you know, my colleagues, in becoming the longest-serving Republican of the House, DON surpasses the
Mr. Speaker, I yield to the distinguished gentleman from California (Mr. McCARTHY), the Republican leader of the House.

Mr. McCARTHY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Speaker for yielding.

I too rise to congratulate Representative DON YOUNG, the dean of the House, who today, as stated, becomes the longest-serving Republican in the history of Congress and, as the speaker noted, has surpassed Joe Cannon.

DON YOUNG doesn’t quote Joe Cannon, but he reminds me they named a building after him.

Now, like me, DON was born in California. He got to know Alaska the way many of us did, he read Jack London’s “The Call of the Wild,” and he moved there right when it became a State.

As of today, DON has represented Alaska for 46 years, over 75 percent of the entire time it has been a State.

His career is an important reminder of how young this wonderful experience we call America truly is.

They lied to me during freshman orientation. They told me nobody had an assigned seat in this House. That is how I got to know DON YOUNG. I made the mistake of coming in and sitting down right over by that door.

I also learned another valuable lesson: DON keeps a knife.

Now, DON has been a very effective Member. He has been chair of the Committee on Natural Resources, chair of the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, he has worked with nine Presidents, nine Speakers, he has numerous bills on his wall in between nine Presidents, nine Speakers, he has been preparing for this job.

You see, when he was in Alaska, he was a riverboat captain, he was a mayor, but he told me the job that prepared him the most to be a Member of Congress, he taught the fifth grade. I don’t know how good of a teacher you were, but I imagine it was good.

But DON has been a mentor to many of us. You see, you can watch him, how he carries himself in conference, how he carries himself on the floor, but the way I’ve come to mentor all of us is by the love and respect that he always had for his spouse. Lula was always next to him, and Anne is there now.

He has been a Member of Congress, but he has been a father, and he has been a very, very great husband.

Mr. Speaker, we all travel far and wide to be here to represent our constituents, but no one travels further, no one has the challenge to match DON. There is no role he requires, he takes a dog sled, and it is no joking matter. That is his dedication.

DON also makes sure this institution stays running on time. I noticed that last vote we had, I think it was the only time I ever monitored the difference when we are in the minority. On average, the votes lasted 5 to 10 minutes less when we were in the majority, not by anything I did, but by the calls of DON YOUNG.

But on a serious note, Madam Speaker, I have always heard that if you find a job you love, you will not work a day in your life. It is clear that DON YOUNG loves what he does, because he loves this institution and he loves the people’s House.

So to DON, we say congratulations on this incredible accomplishment, something nobody probably sitting here today will ever be able to achieve, but you did it for your passion, you did it for the love, but more importantly, you did it for your country.

I thank you.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, as usual, the distinguished dean is eager to take to the microphone, but not yet. There is more to come.

When the distinguished Republican leader of the House referenced the animals in your office, the menagerie there, I was reminded of one of your ties, and I shared this story with Members on the day that you became the dean of the House, now the longest-serving Republican today. But I saw you one day with a tie that really gave me hope, because it had an owl and an eagle and a baby seal on it, and I said, “Oh, Mr. Chairman, I am so happy to see you paying tribute to these endangered species,” to which you said, “I call this tie lunch.”

I knew you were only kidding, right? So, in any event, we have all had our stories with the chairman. We all respect and admire him.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER), the distinguished Democratic majority leader of the House for purposes of commenting on the distinguished dean, the longest-serving Republican today.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Speaker for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to congratulate DON YOUNG, who the minority leader and the Speaker have both indicated today will ever be able to achieve, but you did it for your passion, you did it for the love, but more importantly, you did it for your country.

I thank you.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to congratulate DON YOUNG, the dean of the House, who today, as stated, becomes the longest-serving Republican in the history of Congress and, as the Speaker noted, has surpassed Joe Cannon.

DON YOUNG comes from Alaska, as all of us know, although the Speaker and the minority leader recognized that he came from California, but, DON, you have really made a difference, particularly for your State.

As chairman of Natural Resources, you were focused like a laser on making sure that your State was treated fairly. I know there are still some things you didn’t accomplish that you would like to have accomplished, and you have much time left to do that, but the fact is all of us have benefited. I think, from your honesty, your recognition of how the House ought to work, and, yes, your regular order, which you demanded and didn’t always get.

Of course, you took that with very low-key responses, as I recall, walking by your seat from time to time.

But DON YOUNG is an institution. DON YOUNG is an institutionalist. DON YOUNG is the kind of Member that makes this House, over the decades, work as constructively as it can, not as constructively as it should.

Hopefully, we will follow DON YOUNG and John Dingell’s example, because both of them are lions of partisanship, but both of them were not only willing but thought it appropriate to work across the aisle to reach objectives that they could hold in common.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to thank DON for his service. DON and I have served together for 37 years. Between us, we have seen the little bit of partisanship, but look forward to serving with him for some years to come. God bless him and Godspeed.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. SCALISE), the distinguished Republican whip of the House.

Mr. SCALISE. Mr. Speaker, I thank Speaker Pelosi for her kind words.

Mr. Speaker, it really is a special moment for all of us to pay tribute to DON YOUNG for this great achievement, being the longest-serving Republican in the House, especially for someone who loves this institution so much. As we talked about John Dingell and had the honor of serving with John Dingell in the House Energy and Commerce Committee and seeing his passion, not just for the issues he believed in, in fighting for the auto industry and so many other issues, but for his love of the people’s House, DON YOUNG has the same love. In fact, anybody who knows DON YOUNG knows that his secrets to longevity are always speaking his mind, fighting every day to be a champion for the great people of Alaska, and always speaking his mind.

On a somber note, Don started his career out of a tragedy. A lot of you remember that back in October of 1972, there was a plane crash in Alaska. Nicholas Begich and Hale Boggs, who at the time was the majority leader, went down in a plane crash. There was a massive search to try to find the plane. They never did find that plane. Ultimately, they finally recognized that we had lost two great leaders, they had special elections.

I get to serve and actually work every day in the office that Hale Boggs once worked in, the same office that Majority Leader Hoyer worked in as well, and I think about Hale a lot, as we think about Nicholas Begich as well. But I know Don was elected in a special election. That is when he came to Congress. Somebody else came to Congress: Hale Boggs' wife, Lindy Boggs, who some of you may have served with. They are probably too very different personalities, but they formed a special bond because of the unique institution in which they came to Congress. He shared with me some of those stories.

It just shows you how sometimes our differences can, ultimately, bring us together to at least pay tribute not only to an institution, but to respect our backgrounds and how we all come here from different walks of life. Ultimately, it is our desire to serve the people who we represent.

The other thing I love the most about serving with DON YOUNG. It is that he has such a passion. He fights for his beliefs, and he works with other people.

We all know that, for 37 years, one of his great causes was to open up ANWR. Finally, we were on the White House lawn in December 2017 to have that ceremony and watch DON YOUNG giddly as a schoolchild as the President was making that announcement, and then to see him that day, and every day, come to work with the passion of representing the great people of Alaska and continuing to work with all of us on all the different issues that we come here to address.

As we celebrate this great achievement, I think, as we all know, he comes and sits in that same spot and he yells “order,” and he yells a few other things, and he pushes us all to do our job more efficiently. But how fitting it is that the United States' largest State has such a larger than life personality as its representative.

Congratulations, DON. It is an honor to serve with you.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, it is clear to me that Don is a unique leader in this body, and that he is up in the stand. I have been trying to get the Committee of the Whole to pay her because when I lost my dear Lu, I thought I was going to die. She came along, picked me up off the ground, and makes me want to come to work every day to serve the great State of Alaska.

Mr. Speaker, I thank everyone in this room for recognizing my tenure. I want to especially thank my wife, Anne, who is up in the stand. I have been trying to get the State of Alaska to pay her because when I lost my dear Lu, I thought I was going to die. She came along, picked me up off the ground, supported me, loved me, cherishes me, and makes me want to come to work every day to serve the great State of Alaska.

Mr. Speaker, I thank everyone. God bless them, and God bless America.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

THE SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the unfinished business is the question on agreeing to the Speaker's approval of the Journal, which the Chair will put as an order of business.

The question is on the Speaker's approval of the Journal.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

REQUEST TO CONSIDER H.R. 962, BORN-ALIVE ABORTION SURVIVORS PROTECTION ACT

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the Committee on the Judiciary be discharged from further consideration of H.R. 962, the Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act, and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. BUTTERFIELD). Under guidelines consistently issued by successive Speakers, as recorded in section 956 of the House Rules and Manual, the Chair is constrained not to entertain the request unless it has been cleared by the bipartisan floor and committee leaderships.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, if this unanimous consent request cannot be entertained, I urge the Speaker and the majority leader to immediately schedule a vote on the born-alive bill.

FOR THE PEOPLE ACT OF 2019

Ms. LOFOREN. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and add extraneous material on H.R. 1, the For the People Act of 2019.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from California?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 172 and rule XVIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the bill, H.R. 1.

The Chair appoints the gentleman from Texas (Mr. CUELLAR) to preside over the Committee of the Whole.

IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Accordingly, the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the bill (H.R. 1) to expand Americans’ access to the ballot box, reduce the influence of big money in politics, and strengthen ethics rules for public servants, and for other purposes, which Mr. CUÉLLAR in the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to the rule, the bill is considered read the first time.

General debate shall be confined to the bill and shall not exceed 2 hours equally divided and controlled by the chairmans, and they each will control 60 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from California (Ms. LOFGREN) and the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. RODNEY DAVIS) each will control 60 minutes.

Mr. Chair, H.R. 1 will begin the process of putting power back to the people. Many provisions of H.R. 1 have been pending and ignored for years in this House. No more.

H.R. 1 has been the subject of hearings in five committees and 15 hours of testimony from witnesses. Throughout these hearings, we have heard our Republican friends bemoan a rushed process, yet they had 8 years to consider these proposals but failed to do so.

Today, we deliver on our promise to the American people. H.R. 1 is critically important at this point in our history.

Trust in government and in many institutions has eroded because of years of putting profit before the people and letting politicians pick their voters.

Dark money has been allowed to poison our system, crowding out the voices of the very people who we were sent here to represent.

Access to the ballot box has been impeded by arbitrary obstacles that have made voting a privilege, not a right.

Without trust, our representative system suffers. Too many Americans view themselves as shut out from our democracy. Others cannot participate because of election administration procedures that fail to account for how Americans live and work in the 21st century.

Some of these barriers make it harder for certain populations, including communities of color and other underrepresented groups, to vote. This is especially the case after the Supreme Court gutted factoring provisions of the Voting Rights Act in Shelby County v. Holder.

Meanwhile, the Supreme Court’s 2010 Citizens United decision has further empowered wealthy special interests and ushered in nearly a billion dollars in money from undisclosed sources, even though the Court affirmed the importance of disclosure by a vote of 8 to 1.

H.R. 1 reverses course and strengthens our democracy and makes it easier and more convenient for all eligible Americans to vote. It offers solutions to the dominance of big money in politics, and it ensures public officials will work in the public interest.

One of the things that has been discussed is the proposal for a freedom from influence fund that will allow for small donors to reclaim control of candidates through $200 or less donations. I want to make clear that no tax payer funds are permitted to flow into this freedom from influence fund. Instead, as was approved in our last vote, a modest additional assessment of 2.75 percent on Federal fines, penalties, and settlements for certain tax crimes and corporate malfeasance will be the sole source of funding for this freedom from influence fund. In fact, the bad guys will be funding the clean system.

This bill will lower barriers to voting for all eligible Americans. It will save cost-sharing for the integrity of election administration, and, for example, it will modernize voter registration systems by enabling automatic voter registration and same-day voter registration, taking advantage of technology to ensure that all Americans can register and update their voter registration status online. Automatic voter registration, alone, may bring up to 50 million new American citizens onto the rolls and, therefore, able to vote.

It makes it easier for states to ensure ballot access for voters with disabilities as well as our overseas and military voters.

It ensures early voting for at least 15 days and will require States to use voter-verified paper ballots. This is a commonsense safeguard to cybersecurity threats, especially after the 2016 election showed vulnerabilities in our system.

H.R. 1 will reform redistricting to ensure fairness in the process to guard against partisanship and respect communities of interest.

This legislation will shine a light on dark secret money that influences campaigns and will protect everyone’s right to know who is influencing their votes and their views.

As I mentioned earlier, it provides an alternative voluntary system for candidates to finance their campaigns by empowering small dollar contributors to witness election integrity. This will reduce candidates’ reliance on wealthy special interests and open the political process to more people. This will create a government for the people.

H.R. 1 will also implement high ethical standards and boost confidence in self-government.

It has been said that we should not take these steps, but Article I, Section 4 of the United States Constitution provides that Congress may, by law, regulate votes in Federal elections. It is time that we take this step. Democracy is resilient, but it requires our continual work to ensure that it lives up to its promise.

H.R. 1 is a major, comprehensive step forward, a step that we must take if we are to be true to our promise of our representative government.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, I agree with my colleagues across the aisle that there is a role for the Federal Government to play in election infrastructure, campaign finance disclosure, ballot access transparency, and election security. However, H.R. 1 was developed to serve the special interests of Democrats and the outside organizations that support the Democratic Party and will not accomplish its alleged goal of being for the people.

The greatest threat to our Nation’s election system is partisanship, and that is what we are seeing right here in H.R. 1. It misuses taxpayer dollars, takes power away from States to administer their own elections, and threatens to limit Americans’ constitutional rights.

H.R. 1 proposes all groups limit free speech and imposes vague standards that disadvantage citizens who wish to advocate on behalf of any public policy issue.

Every American has a right to support causes they believe in, and that is exactly why the American Civil Liberties Union echoes my concerns. The ACLU said that there are provisions that unconstitutionally impinge on the free speech rights of American citizens and public interest organizations.

When groups that have traditionally supported the Democratic Party cannot support H.R. 1, it underscores why election reform legislation should not be developed in a partisan manner.

H.R. 1 overreaches our Constitution by taking power away from States that decide how their election should be administered, States that know their residents’ elections better than a Federal bureaucracy does.

Congress should be partnering with States to support them in increasing voter registration instead of forcing a federally mandated one-size-fits-all approach that will be costly and ineffective.

This bill also fails to include safeguards, while implementing new voter registration and voting practices.

I do not believe that Congress should absolutely be in favor of increasing access to the polls, but we do that by adding the necessary checks and balances to ensure these votes and that access are protected.

Mr. Chair, I agree with my colleagues that allow States to maintain their own voter rolls in order to process voters in a timely manner on election day, avoid unfunded mandates, and manage voter lists to avoid voting irregularities. A few voting irregularities can change the outcome of a single election, especially in a competitive district like I do. Every single vote makes a difference between winning and losing.
If we pass new voter registration practices in H.R. 1 without creating safeguards to prevent voting irregularities in these practices, we risk taking away the choice of the American people. Simply, another way, H.R. 1 is taking away the voice of each American voter.

If we want to increase our election security, Congress should support States choosing their own methods and machines. Multiple points of entry are more secure than one system. Federalizing election security, as this legislation does, will not protect voters.

When H.R. 1 was introduced, it was referred to 10 committees in the House. This bill, which is now over 600 pages, will now have gone from introduction to general debate on the floor of the House with only half of those 10 committees holding a single hearing, and only one of those committees holding a markup. The Democrats promised greater transparency in the majority, but we are not seeing that in their first major piece of legislation.

We just received the CBO score for H.R. 1, which egregiously underestimates H.R. 1’s cost to the taxpayers by converting over many of the legislation’s most expensive provisions. H.R. 1’s campaign match provision is what is being left out. CBO said they needed more time to develop a more comprehensive score. That was ignored.

Though my Democratic colleagues may have changed where exactly the bucket is, they are still using H.R. 1 to put more money into politicians’ campaigns. H.R. 1 is creating public subsidies through the 6-to-1 government match program on small dollar campaign contributions of up to $200. For every $200, the Federal Government, the taxpayers, will now pay $1,200 to a politician, to Members of Congress’ campaigns.

While my colleagues across the aisle now say this will be of no cost to the taxpayer—as of a new gimmick that they developed yesterday—I would like to point out that every single House Democrat signed on to cosponsor this legislation before any changes were made to this provision.

Make no mistake, the new majority wants to put your hard-earned tax dollars into their own campaigns. While they may have changed the route to get there, that is their fundamental goal with this obvious sham campaign finance reform. They say they want to get money out of politics, but they are using this bill, H.R. 1, to funnel more in.

Provisions like this do not belong in any campaign or finance election reforms. Election reforms should be bipartisan, not serving the interests of partisan politicians.

As a progressive with the debate today, I hope my colleagues across the aisle will thoughtfully reconsider their eager support of a bill that will harm the American voter and taxpayer and not simply vote, as we have seen throughout this not-open process, along partisan lines.

Every American’s vote should be counted and protected.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from New York (Mr. NADLER), chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding.

Mr. Chair, the right to vote has been called protective of all other rights. Without it, you can’t protect your rights. That right has been eroded in recent years.

We have seen many attempts on the State and local level to limit the right to vote for minorities, to close polling places, to limit the hours of voting, to put in phony requirements that prevent people from voting.

We must restore, as this bill will do, the protections of the 1965 Voting Rights Act that guarantee the right to vote, that stop local politicians from choosing their own electorates.

We must eliminate the poison of large campaign contributions from hidden money. The dominance in our politics of large campaign contributions when someone anonymously can give $20,000 to $30,000—or millions of dollars—to various PACs which then funnel the money to politicians is subversive of our democracy.

It is a metastasized cancer on our democracy. And if we don’t excise this cancer through this bill, historians will eventually write, I fear, that the American Republic, like the Roman Republic, had a good 250-year run with democracy but then evolved into an oligarchy, which is the direction we are headed in.

We must ban those huge campaign contributions, substitute a system of small contributions by ordinary people that will be matched so that the public, not the plutocrats, will dominate our politics and control our legislation.

We should restore our right to vote for people who committed crimes long ago and have long since paid their debts to society.

These restrictions and ex-felons voting were put in specifically to guarantee white supremacy. Read the debates in the various State conventions in the 1900s and 1910.

This bill will help strengthen Americans’ faith in their government institutions and ensure that everyone has a voice in determining how our country is governed.

Mr. Chair, I urge all of my colleagues to support this landmark legislation.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Chair, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. PRICE), my colleague, good friend, and member on the House Administration Committee.

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Chair, I thank the ranking member for his work.

Mr. Chair, I rise today in opposition to H.R. 1. While my colleagues on the other side of the aisle have deemed this bill to be “for the people,” a more proper characterization would be “for the politicians.”

Voting is a foundational right for all Americans, and the egregious provisions of this bill would jeopardize our democracy. In particular, this legislation fails to address the issue of ballot harvesting.

As we have seen in California and my own State of North Carolina, ballot harvesting has created troubling irregularities in several States due to the lack of oversight and opportunities for voter manipulation and intimidation.

Ballot harvesting allows political operatives with a partisan agenda to get involved in the collection and submittal of votes, creating an opportunity for organizations or campaign workers to exploit voters and violate our fundamental rights.

Americans should have a choice on how they want to vote, who they want to support, and if they want to vote at all.

Not only would H.R. 1 manipulate the voting process, but it would also restrict our rights as Americans to donate to the campaigns of our choosing and would allow the Federal Government to use our taxpayer dollars to subsidize elections.

Aside from the proposed matching donations with a 6-to-1 ratio, H.R. 1 would create a pilot program to provide $25 vouchers for eligible voters. In practice, that means taxpayer money from hardworking Americans could be used to finance campaigns for candidates they do not support.

If this doesn’t limit free speech enough, another provision of the bill politicizes the Federal Election Commission by reducing membership from six to five. This makes a traditionally nonpartisan organization political, giving one party the power to make partisan decisions about election communications.

With the vague standards created by H.R. 1, this would affect any group wishing to advocate on behalf of any legislative issue.

In short, this legislation violates the First Amendment. Even the ACLU has problems with it. It creates an avenue for fraud and subjects voters to potential exploitation.

While my colleagues across the aisle will support this bill to subsidize their own elections and keep their party in the majority, I will stand up for our rights as Americans and vote against one of the worst bills ever, this abhorrent assault on our election system.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. PRICE), a pioneer and leader in clean government.

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Chair, I thank my colleague and I rise in strong support of H.R. 1. It is a comprehensive, once-in-a-generation blueprint for reforming our democratic system, ranging from gerrymandering to voter suppression, and voting rights to the dominance of unaccountable big money in our politics. It is an urgent priority rightly numbered H.R. 1, and basic to everything else we need to do. If our democracy doesn’t work, nothing else will.

It represents a culmination of issues I have worked on during my entire time in Congress, particularly, the way moneyed interests can corrupt our politics, and how they draw out the voices and influence of the rest of us. The For the People Act will modernize our Presidential public financing system. It will establish a new public matching system for congressional races to empower small donors. It will crack down on improper super-PAC coordination with campaigns.

H.R. 1 also includes my legislation to repeal the IRS dark-money rule, and it expands my original stand-by-your-ad provision to require corporations and other groups to disclose the top funders when they run political ads over the air or on the internet.

These reforms will empower American voters and encourage more diverse candidates to run for office, and will help restore the balance of big money on big politics.

Let’s deliver on the promises we have made to restore integrity, accountability, and transparency to our democracy. I urge my colleagues to vote “yes” on H.R. 1.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. DUNCAN), my good friend.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Chairman, I rise to strongly oppose H.R. 1. This is an egregious assault on the fundamental rights and freedoms of Americans.

H.R. 1, really, is a fight over liberty. This is a fight over the constitutional duties and roles of the States, one of which is the role in conducting elections.

Article I, section 4 says clearly, “The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof.”

Having individual States conduct elections has been vital to preserving the integrity and security of elections across the country. But this debate really is about the Democrats’ desire to centralize power in one place, Washington, D.C.

Instead of actively giving more power to Washington bureaucrats, we should be divesting power away from the expansive Federal Government, and re- serving that power for the States, because that is how the Founding Fathers designed our Republic.

But, sadly, this bill is nothing but a top-down power grab by the Democrats using the Federal Government to micromanage the electoral process, impose limits on free speech, and further impose unconstitutional mandates.

Mr. Chair, this is not the liberty our Founders intended. In fact, this is a dangerous proposal that centralizes power, enhances Big Government in Washington, and takes decisionmaking power out of the hands of the States and the people.

Let’s ask ourselves: Is this the proper and constitutional role of the Federal Government? And the answer to that question is, no. H.R. 1 encroaches on the liberties and powers of the Constitution reserved for the States and the people, and I oppose this type of power grab. I think that is what so infuriates so many Americans.

We take an oath here to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States. We shouldn’t be passing bills like H.R. 1. We should be passing bills that preserve the liberty and freedom enshrined in the Constitution.

I encourage all Members to adamantly oppose this legislation, because if you take your oath seriously—because we aren’t voting for a fancy title if you take your oath seriously—because we aren’t voting for a fancy title, we are voting for a fundamental American right.

I urge my colleagues to vote against this legislation.

Mr. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. KRISHNAMOORTHI).

Mr. KRISHNAMOORTHI. Mr. Chair, I rise today in support of the For the People Act, which includes language from my legislation with Senator Cory Booker, the Help Students Vote Act.

Young Americans vote at the lowest rates of any age group, and a key factor in that are the challenges of voting on a new college campus far away from home. My bill introduces provisions to address this challenge.

First, it requires every college and university to email timely voter registration information to all of its students.

Second, it requires every school to designate a campus vote coordinator to answer students’ questions about voting.

Third, it authorizes grants to colleges and universities that take exemplary action to promote civic engagement.

I want to thank the many organizations supporting the legislation, including Young Invincibles, and the Students Learn Students Vote Coalition.

By helping students register and vote, we can ensure our government better responds to the people it serves, while encouraging our next generation of leaders to vote.

Mr. Chair, I strongly urge my colleagues to support this measure.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I am very privileged to stand here with somebody who grew up in the same rural county as I did, in Christian County, Illinois.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. BUCSHON), my good friend.

Mr. BUCSHON. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in opposition to H.R. 1, the Democrat politician protection act. This legislation is a radical attempt to hijack our free and fair election system, and limit the voices of the American people.

For example, in H.R. 1, Democrats are proposing the public financing of elections which would force Americans’ hard-earned tax dollars to be subsidizing political campaigns they do not support, limiting constitutionally guaranteed freedoms of speech and association.

Furthermore, this one-size-fits-all Federal takeover of the election process will open the door for voting irregularities through Federal mandates on voter registration practices that will be forced on the States—a massive Federal power grab.

Last time I checked, voting happens at the State level, and is the right and responsibility of the State and local governments.

They say this only affects Federal elections, but does anyone really believe that the States will have two separate systems? I am in full support of increasing voter registration participation in our election process. Unfortunately, this legislation goes far beyond increasing voter participation, and, instead, is a misguided attempt to rig our Nation’s electoral systems for the benefit of the Democratic Party by telling Americans, once again, that the Federal Government and Washington bureaucrats know best.

Mr. Chair, I urge my colleagues to oppose this liberty- and freedom-limiting legislation.

Mr. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Mrs. DAVIS), a valued Member of the House Administration Committee.

Mrs. DAVIS of California. Mr. Chairman, this bill was not rushed. It is long overdue registration and voting reform.

I recently joined our colleagues and civil rights icon, Congresswoman JOHN LEWIS, on the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma, commemorating the march and the fight for the right to vote.

We can never forget how many people have risked and lost their lives for that right. Fifty-four years later, our election system is still stacked against... many Americans. Some eligible voters are still prohibited from voting by mail and can’t make it to the polls.

Some eligible voters have still been unfairly purged from the rolls, and some communities still do not have enough polling locations, leading to long lines.

We need justice. We need to expand the fixes that have been proven to work in so many of our States, and that is exactly what H.R. 1 does.

If we are for the people, not just the ones we think will vote for us, then we should be for this bill.

Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Chair, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, I love this country. I love this country for what it is. I love this country for the principles and the ideas on which it was founded. America is not a place. It is not a government. It is not a people. It is an idea.

One of the ideas of our Founders is that their time is most effective when it is local, the closest to the people.

I want to correct something that I think my colleagues on the other side may not understand or are just not presenting to the American people. Yes, the Constitution gives Congress the ability at times to come in and modify election law, but this bill is so sweeping, it strips the States of their constitutional authority that was given to them by the Constitution by eliminating their influence in elections altogether.

The true intention of the Founders when it came to this provision in the Constitution was predominantly to ensure that the States could not render the Congress ineffective by refusing to hold elections so they would ensure that we always have a quorum here.

That was the purpose of that. We need to go back to the original intent of the Founders when they added this in the Constitution.

Mr. Chairman, if you read the writings of the Founding Fathers, this is ultimately clear. I want to read you something that James Madison said regarding the States’ authority, especially when it comes to elections. He said, “The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the Federal Government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and indefinite.

. . . . The powers reserved to the several States will extend to all the objects which in the ordinary course of affairs, concern the lives and liberties, and properties of the people, and the internal order, improvement and prosperity of the State.

They could not be clearer that the States should be the ones setting the laws regarding elections. This would totally undermine that.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. WOODALL), my good friend and colleague.

Mr. WOODALL. Mr. Chairman, I thank my friend from Georgia for yielding me the time.

It is tough to get up and speak after the Federalist Papers have been referenced because they do go to the core of who we are. So does election integrity.

I look around, and I see my friends from the other side of the aisle, along with friends on my side of the aisle, and election integrity is a shared value. So you would think that the solution to election integrity challenges would be a shared solution.

But if I go to my friends on the Republican side of the House Administration Committee, the only one of the 10 committees this bill was referred to that marked it up to a full vote on the floor of the House, one Republican was consulted on the drafting of this language.

Mr. Chairman, you have heard my colleagues talk about the wholesale changes to election law—State election law—across this country. You would think, Mr. Chairman, that we would have talked to all 50 secretaries of state. That wouldn’t be true.

Maybe you would think we would have consulted with 25 secretaries of state. It wouldn’t be true. What would be true is, in the one committee that had the one markup on this bill, we consulted with one State election official.

Mr. Chairman, this is an opportunity for us to do something together. We can either take advantage of that opportunity or we can poison the well.

How in the world can we promise the American people election integrity when one side is writing the rules?

It should be instructive to us all the way this bill has come to the floor, and it is yet another, Mr. Chairman, in a string of missed opportunities that we have had. I will give you just one example.

I made a motion last night in the Rules Committee to only bring this bill to the floor as it was marked up in committee. We have talked about a bill that is going to guarantee voter transparency. We don’t even have legislative transparency on this bill. We couldn’t get the bill brought to the floor from the one of the 10 committees that marked it up. We had manager’s amendments added. We had the bill not as reported.

I offered another amendment last night. If it is so important that we legislate for the first time in American history that tax returns be released by elected officials—this bill includes let’s release them at the Presidential level and let’s release them at the Vice Presidential level—I offered an amendment to the rule to allow a vote on whether or not they should be considered at your level, Mr. Chairman. That amendment was denied on a partisan line.

Let’s not make this a partisan issue; it is an American issue.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON LEE), who is my colleague on the Judiciary Committee.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for her leadership and Mr. SARBANES for his leadership and for allowing us to tell our stories. Let me tell you the story of Texas.

In 2017, right before a bond election in my district and surrounding areas, 4,000 people were taken off the voting rolls. In 2018, the Secretary of State’s Office purged people off the voting rolls with absolutely no understanding and no notice.

H.R. 1 expands the access to the ballot box by creating voluntary automatic voter registration access across the country, ensuring that the rights of individuals who have completed felony sentences—family members, your neighbors who have done their time—have the ability to register as well, and expanding early voting. Be reminded of the 2000 election when those who had done their time were citizens, went to the voting poll, and they were told: Oh, you cannot vote.

It ends partisan gerrymandering, but in particular, it focuses on opportunities for voting. So I am here to say these provisions are providing the American public its constitutional right to vote, and we should support that right.

Mr. Chair, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 1, The “For the People Act of 2019,” which expands access to the ballot box, reduces the influence of big money in politics, and strengthens ethics rules for public servants.

I am proud to be one of 226, cosponsors, and one of the original cosponsors of H.R. 1, which will increase public confidence in our democracy by reducing the role of money in politics, restoring ethical standards and integrity to government, and strengthening laws to protect voting.

Specifically, the For the People Act will:

1. Make it easier, not harder, to vote by implementing automatic voter registration, requiring early voting and vote by mail, committing Congress to reauthorizing the Voting Rights Act and ensuring the integrity of our elections by modernizing and strengthening our voting systems and ending partisan redistricting.

2. Reform the campaign finance system by requiring all political organizations to disclose large donors, updating political advertisement laws for the digital age, establishing a public matching system for citizen-owned elections, and requiring the Federal Election Commission to ensure there’s a cop on the campaign finance beat; and

3. Strengthen ethics laws to ensure that public officials work in the public interest by expanding conflict of interest laws to the President and Vice President; requiring the release of tax returns to the public; and requiring the Federal Election Commission to ensure those tax returns are released.

This bill ensures that individuals who have completed felony sentences have their full
The Ex-Offenders Voting Rights Act sought to reverse discriminatory voter restrictions that disproportionately affect the African American voting population, which continues to be targeted by mass incarceration, police profiling, and a biased criminal justice system. The tens of thousands of incarcerated persons who cherish the right to vote justifiably are skeptical of Voter ID laws because we understand how these laws, like poll taxes and literacy tests, can be used to impede or negate the ability of seniors, racial and language minorities, and young people to cast their votes.

Voter ID laws are just one of the means that can be used to abridge or suppress the right to vote but there are others, including:

1. Curtailing or Eliminating Early Voting;
2. Ending Same-Day Registration;
3. Not counting provisional ballots cast in the wrong precinct on Election Day will not count;
4. Eliminating Teenage Pre-Registration;
5. Shortened Poll Hours;
6. Lessening the standards governing voter challenges used by vigilantes, like the King Street Patriots in my city of Houston, to cause trouble at the polls;
7. “Voter Caging,” to suppress the turnout of minority voters by sending non-forwardable mail to targeted populations and, once the mail is returned, using the returned mail to compile lists of voters whose eligibility is then challenged on the basis of residence under state law;
8. Employing targeted redistricting techniques to dilute minority voting strength, notably “Cracking” (i.e., fragmenting and dispersing concentrations of minority populations); “Stacking” (combining concentrations of minority voters with greater concentrations of white populations); and “Packing” (i.e., over-concentrating minority voters in as few districts as possible).

Mr. Chair, we must not allow our democracy to slide back into the worst elements of this country’s past, to stand idly by as our treasured values of democracy, progress, and equality are poisoned and dismantled. I urge all members to join me in voting to pass H.R. 1, the “For The People Act of 2019.”
Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I thank you for yielding 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. OLSON).

Mr. OLSON. Mr. Chairman, back home, all Texans agree the 10 most terrifying words and the biggest lie people can hear is “I’m from the Federal Government, and I’m here to help.”

On that viewpoint, H.R. 1, which is called the For the People Act, should be called the “For the Big Government Act” or, more accurately, the “Big Lie Act.”

Texas 22 does not want to have $6 of Federal tax dollars given to subsidize small donors and match every dollar they raise. They prefer that $6 of their money be used for new roads, deeper ports, Border Patrol, safe schools, and hurricane prevention.

Texans are swarmed by Californians. They are coming for jobs, a low State income tax—zero—and a friendly environment for businesses. Just like we don’t want a tax on plastic straws, Texas sure as heck don’t want to follow California’s same-day registration. I ask my colleagues, respect the Constitution, respect the 10th Amendment, respect States’ rights, and vote against this terrible bill.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, it is my honor to yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER), who is the Democratic leader.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding. I thank her for her leadership on this bill, H.R. 1, and I thank Mr. SARBANES for being a principal sponsor and proponent of H.R. 1.

Mr. Chairman, I rise as the sponsor of the Help America Vote Act in 2002, which responded to the lack of performance of our voting system in the 2000 election, hanging chads and all. This bill expands on that.

But let me, at the outset, remind those who would talk about what the Constitution says to read a portion of the Constitution.

Let me say before I do that, throughout my lifetime, early in my lifetime, I heard a lot about States’ rights. People talk about the right to vote. I was in Alabama this past weekend, and we commemorated the march over the Edmund Pettus Bridge, which was led by our colleague, JOHN LEWIS. There were State troopers meeting him on the other side of the bridge that beat and almost killed JOHN LEWIS. Why? Because he was marching from Selma to Montgomery to register to vote.

I remember, as a child—not a child; I was a young man—watching Lester Maddox on television with an ax handle saying that nobody was going to integrate his premises.

I have heard a lot about States’ rights through the years. Now, what did our Founders say about States’ rights as it relates to Members of Congress? “The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature there-of”—and apparently we didn’t get to this phrase—“but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations.” Why did our Founders do that? Because they wanted one nation.

Now, that was not our pledge at that point in time, but they wanted the colonies to come together as a nation. They had been a federation, and it didn’t work so well. So they wanted one nation to come together, and at least for the Federal Congress, they reserved to the Federal Congress the right to set the rules in the Constitution.

Mr. Chairman, last September, I delivered a speech outlining House Democrats’ plans to renew faith in government by enacting a series of reforms to increase transparency, accountability, and ethics reform. This week, after extensive hearings and lots of witnesses, we bring to the floor a legislative package of reforms that made good on our promises to the American people last year.

We didn’t make a secret of this. This was well-known to everybody, and they gave us the majority of this House. We are redeeming, today, that honor and that responsibility.

I want to thank, again, Representative SARBANES and the cosponsors of this bill, every single Democratic Member. I want to thank JOHN LEWIS, a giant of a man, a giant of principle, a giant who risked his very life to make sure that the protections available in this bill would be available to every American and that we would promote—not prevent—accessibility to the voting booth and that we would not confront people going over a bridge in Selma, Alabama, who only wanted to register to vote, to be turned around by State troopers ordered by Governor Wallace to do so.

This bill was driven in large part by our dynamic freshman class who were elected on a platform of making government work once again for the people.

This For the People Act will open government up in several critical ways. First, it includes real national redistricting reform. I am for that. Mr. Chairman, it may cost Maryland a seat—I get that—but it is the right thing to do to have a level playing field.

Now, we have got a number of court cases that have turned around redistricting in North Carolina, in Pennsylvania, in Texas, and in some other States as well. But I have always said that, in order to be successful, redistricting reform cannot be done on a State-by-State basis; and the Constitution, of course, says that Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations so that we have fair—they don’t have to do this for State elections. If they don’t want to do it, that is fine. But we, under the Constitution, are the arbiters of Federal elections. It must be a uniform process across all States.

H.R. 1, the For the People Act, achieves this by requiring a non-partisan redistricting commission to oversee the process in every State.

What does that mean? It means the politicians will not do it. Iowa, California, or Arizona will have a fair redistricting process.

Next, this bill includes a much-needed expansion of voting rights to protect our democracy. It would institute automatic voter registration.

In America, if you are an American citizen, you ought not to have to jump through hoops to vote, and government ought not make it difficult for you to exercise that right. No eligible voter should ever be turned away from his or her polling place.

It will also restore the vote to those who have paid their debt to society and should have a voice in their representative government.

This legislation builds on the important bipartisan work we did in 2002 when we passed, as I pointed out, the Help America Vote Act. It reauthorizes the Election Assistance Commission, which, very frankly, my Republican friends tried to eliminate on a number of occasions and transfer their authority to the finance commission, which oversees campaign finance—not election laws, campaign finance. It was a way to, in effect, undermine and kill, in many ways, the Election Assistance Commission designed to make sure that our elections are secure and fair. It reauthorizes the Election Assistance Commission, which is critically important to ensuring modern, accessible, and secure elections.

In addition, H.R. 1 will make campaign finance more transparent, requiring super-PACs to disclose their donors.

Again, I want to congratulate my colleague. We are very proud of JOHN SARBANES and his dad in Maryland. He has been indefatigable in his work in trying to make sure that it is the people’s interest and not the financial interests that control our elections. be required, therefore, to release 10 years' worth of tax returns.

In such ways, H.R. 1 will make strides, Mr. Chair, in restoring the trust in government that, unfortunately, has been lost in recent years. Americans know that their government works for them and can be a force for good for their families, their communities, and our country.

I rise in strong support of this legislation. I don’t oppose it because I think it is perfect, but I rise because I think it is an excellent effort to redeem the promise of America and our democracy.

It is for the people. Let us vote for the people, Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Chair, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, I thank my esteemed colleague, the majority leader, for whom I have an immense amount of respect. I appreciate the words that he said and especially his participation in the commemoration of the march in Selma, in which my family has also participated.

Have we always got it right in the United States? Our Founders knew that we would make mistakes along the way, but they gave us the power and the ability to correct those mistakes.

The lack of civil rights in this Nation was a travesty to the people. It flew in the face of the ideas of our Founders that all men were created equal. That is why Republicans fought so hard for civil rights during the 1960s and 1970s.

I agree with the majority leader. We do have the ability, according to the Constitution, to make modifications. But H.R. 1 is not a modification. It is a sweeping takeover of the election system, leaving the States with very little authority or power over their own elections, as well as the Federal elections.

I also would like to say that I heard that this bill has had extensive hearings. The Committee on House Administration, the only committee which had a hearing on this bill. The hearing lasted 5 hours, and the only reason it lasted that long was because the Republicans submitted 28 amendments to the bill. Otherwise, this bill would have gone right in and right out of committee, with probably less than an hour of a committee hearing, and come to this floor.

It has committees of jurisdiction. It has not gone before those committees, so I submit it has not followed regular order.

Especially with something of this magnitude, the American people have the right to hear, they have the right to understand, what is in this bill. They have not been afforded that opportunity.

Mr. Chair, we have 50 States, 50 State Governors, 50 secretaries of state, and I know my Governor and secretary of state have not been involved in this process. It has a drastic impact, not only upon the voting rights of the people in Georgia, but also on the budget of Georgia and the fiscal cost.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. PERRY), my good friend.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Chair, I thank Mr. LOUDERMILK for the time, and I, too, thank the majority leader for his comments. But I don’t think it should be removed from history that the Governor of Alabama at that time ran on segregation; it was run on segregation. It was the Republicans in this House, the majority percentage of Republicans, that carried the day for the Voting Rights Act.

Mr. Chair, this bill, among other things, forces States to count votes cast outside of assigned precincts. Just think about that. I am going to vote for you over here even though I don’t live there. That is going to be great. That is what we all want, people who don’t live in our neighborhoods voting for the people who decide our fates and our policies.

Mr. Chair, the For the People Act, that is what it is called, but I wonder: Which people? Is it the people here or the people out there?

It seems like this is for the people here when powerful voices on the left and the right oppose this bill, voices like the ACLU, voices like the NRA and Planned Parenthood, because, Mr. Chair, while you might want to contribute to one of those organizations because you believe in their cause, you don’t want the protest to show up on your doorstep. It is bad enough that it shows up, the protest, at Planned Parenthood or the NRA or the gun show or segregation, but now the protest is going to show up at your door—at your door—because the people who are opposed to the things you believe in are going to find out you sent your 5 bucks in. They are going to come to your door and say: Well, I don’t agree with you, I don’t like you. And I don’t think you should be spending your money on those things.

Is that what we want in America? Is that what this bill does, Mr. Chair. Essentially, it is empowering the Federal Election Commission to carry out the actions of Lois Lerner and the IRS during the last administration in an attempt to silence opposition to the politicians in the swamp, in this place, regardless of which side you are on.

I urge a “no” vote for this bill, Mr. Chair.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Rhode Island (Mr. LANGEVIN), who has served so faithfully on the House Homeland Security Committee.

Mr. LANGEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding. I would also like to thank her, Chairman Thompson, Congressman SARBANES, and the many Democratic Members who helped craft this important legislation.

H.R. 1, Mr. Chairman, among many things, will make our elections more ethical and will make them more secure.

As a former Rhode Island secretary of state and member of the Congressional Task Force on Election Security, I absolutely believe that we must actively address our elections systems' vulnerabilities, or our enemies certainly will.

H.R. 1 provides States with funding, guidance, and threat intelligence to secure election systems by purchasing voting machines that provide auditable paper ballots, securing voter registration databases, and training election officials.

Now, these suggestions came from the Task Force, and guidance we heard from leaders like Rhode Island Secretary of State Nellie Gorbea, who is implementing one of the Nation's first risk-limiting audits. They also reflect the wisdom of the cybersecurity research who have so much to offer in identifying vulnerabilities and helping us to close them.

Mr. Chairman, with the 2020 elections around the corner, I am proud to support this legislation, because we must act now to protect our democracy.

Mr. Chair, I would like to thank Ms. LOFGREN, Chairman THOMPSON, Congressman SARBANES, and the many House Democratic members who helped craft this vital legislation. The For the People Act, while it only makes our elections more ethical and accessible, it will also help secure them from outside interference.

As a former Secretary of State of Rhode Island and member of the Congressional Task Force on Election Security, I believe we must actively address the vulnerabilities in our election systems.

We know that Russia interfered with our 2016 elections, targeting political organizations and the election infrastructure of at least 21 States. It is said to have cost us huge public confidence in our elections, and despite no evidence of ballot tampering, millions of Americans now question whether their votes were counted properly.

While state and local governments must retain control of elections, they cannot be expected to confront a nation state like Russia on their own. We owe it to our state partners to provide the resources they need to protect these vital systems at the heart of our democracy.

H.R. 1 ensures states have the funding, guidance, and threat intelligence they need to address the risks and vulnerabilities in their systems, whether by purchasing voting machines that provide auditable paper ballots, securing voter registration databases, or training election officials in cybersecurity best practices.

These are all suggestions that came from the Task Force, and they reflect guidance we heard from local election leaders like Rhode Island's current Secretary of State Nellie Gorbea, who is implementing one of the first risk-limiting audits in the nation. They also reflect the wisdom of the cybersecurity research community that has so much to offer when it comes to shoring up our systems and networks.

With the 2020 elections right around the corner, I'm proud to support this legislation—it's more important than ever that we act swiftly to protect the integrity of our democracy.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, may I say how much time remains on each side.

The CHAIR. The gentlewoman from California has 4½ minutes remaining.
The gentleman from Georgia has 38 minutes remaining.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SARBANES).

Mr. UPTON. Mr. Chairman, I have long been a supporter of campaign finance reform. I voted for motor voter. I voted for McCain-Feilgold the year in the House it was Shays-Meehan. I supported the Help America Vote Act in 2002.

There are plenty of flaws in the current system. That is for sure. And we need to fix it. But you know what? We have a Democratic House, and we have a Republican Senate, and the only way that we are reasonably going to fix this issue is with a bipartisan bill.

I am the only Republican here today who was here in 1993 when we passed the motor voter bill. This was a bill that was patterned after what Michigan has had in place for decades. When you get your driver’s license, you are asked to register to vote. It works.

This bill, H.R. 1, is not bipartisan. One of our big objections is truly the taxpayer-financed campaign element of this bill.

If you do a poll today across the country, you are going to find that most voters are going to say that campaigns are too expensive; they are too negative; and, yes, they are too long.

We have—all states, thousands—thousands—thousands—of candidates running for Congress. They are all going to be eligible for this match from the Treasury for any contribution under $200, with a 6-to-1 ratio, so we are going to have more money in politics, and we are not going to have the transparency that I think all of us want.

If we are going to fix the problem, let’s sit down; let’s have regular order; let’s have more money in politics, and we are not going to have the transparency that I think all of us want.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBANES), the one person who probably has worked harder than anyone else on this bill.

Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding.

Mr. Chair, last year, in the 2018 election, a powerful message was sent to this Congress that the public wants us to clean up our politics, fight corruption, unrig the system, and make sure that the rights of the voters are protected.

I think part of the reason the message was so strong is that, for the last 8 years under a Republican Congress, there has been no progress made on any of those priorities, so there is this pent-up demand out there among the public. They want their voice back.

H.R. 1 is our opportunity to give them their voice back.

The message they are sending is very simple. The first message is: Make it possible for us to get to the ballot box without running an obstacle course.

It is inconceivable, it is incomprehensible, that more than 50 years after the motor voter bill was bloodied on the Edmund Pettus Bridge protesting for voting rights, we still can’t get it right in America when it comes to voting.

That is ridiculous. We need to make it possible to register and vote in this country so that people can get to the ballot box and their voices can be heard. That is one thing they are saying to us.

The other thing they are saying to us is, when you get to Washington, if you are a lawmaker, if you serve in an office of public trust, behave yourself, abide by ethics, be accountable to the people, remember who sent you there, and be transparent. We have provisions in H.R. 1 that strengthen ethics and accountability, as we should have.

The third thing they said to us, loud and clear, was, when you get to Washington, don’t get tangled up in the money, don’t let the special interests and the insiders call the shots on priorities out there who sent you, and fight for us. So we have measures in here to clean up the campaign finance system, create more disclosure, transparency, so we know where that secret money is coming from, building a new system of funding campaigns in America that is not owned by the special interests and the big money.

The Acting CHAIR (Mr. BUTTERFIELD). The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 1 minute to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. SARBANES. Let’s build a new system of funding campaigns in America that is not owned by the special interests and the big money.

This bill is nothing but a top-down, reverse power grab to take our election system, and give it completely off course. Beyond that, this bill contains numerous provisions attempting to weaponize our institutions of higher learning, where so many students go to learn and grow, outside of the influence of politics.

Instead of promoting the freedom of ideas, this bill limits the right to free speech. The ugly truth is that this bill will not make our elections safer or more democratic.

The ugly truth is that this bill would fundamentally change the principles of our election system, all at a cost to the average American taxpayer.

And this bill would infringe on the rights of our colleges and universities, where so many students go to learn and grow, outside of the influence of politics.

Instead of calling this bill the Fair and the People Act, it should be called the “Democrat Politician Protection Act.”

This bill is nothing but a top-down power grab to take our election system, reverse it, and send it completely off course.

Instead of calling this bill the For the People Act, it should be called the “Democrat Politician Protection Act.”

Mr. SMUCKER. Mr. Chair, I appreciate the gentleman and the comments.

Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. SMUCKER).

Mr. SMUCKER. Mr. Chairman, Democrats have been marketing H.R. 1 as a necessary election reform measure, but the ugly truth is that this bill is not for the people. It is for the Democratic Party.

The ugly truth is that this bill is a massive Federal overreach. The ugly truth is that this bill won’t make our elections safer or more democratic. The ugly truth is that this bill would fundamentally change the principles of our election system, all at a cost to the average American taxpayer.

And this bill would infringe on the rights of our colleges and universities, where so many students go to learn and grow, outside of the influence of politics.

Instead of promoting the freedom of ideas, this bill limits the right to free speech. The ugly truth is that this bill violates the U.S. Constitution, the document which makes our country so great.

Instead of calling this bill the For the People Act, it should be called the “Democrat Politician Protection Act.”

This bill is nothing but a top-down power grab to take our election system, reverse it, and send it completely off course. Beyond that, this bill contains numerous provisions attempting to weaponize our institutions of higher learning, where people go to learn.

H.R. 1 forces our colleges and universities to divert resources to election-related tasks, including provisions for colleges and universities to automatically register students to vote.

Students could also establish a second residency, which is, essentially, another way to weaken the voting system and give them, potentially, the right to vote not once, but twice. You heard that right. There are no other people in our country who get to be registered to vote in two locations.

Under H.R. 1, this could be allowed.

The ugly truth is that this bill is not for the people. It is for the Democratic Party.
This bill blatantly violates our own constitutional rights as well as the rights of our higher education institutions.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Chairman, I yield the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Collin).

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. Mr. Chairman, I do appreciate that because I am very concerned, after two straight weeks of Democrat bills, I am going to have a 100 percent voting record with the ACLU. That is something new as we go forward, although I think they do good work, I just didn’t know we were going to agree so soon on this.

Mr. Chairman, I am going to describe the terrible policy behind the provisions of H.R. 1 in the jurisdiction of the Judiciary Committee.

It is amazing, also, that we just did this without going through, because we didn’t want to mark this up in areas because we didn’t want to see what was in it; because here is what is going to happen.

First, the bill creates a private cause of action for lawsuits related to the Help America Vote Act of 2002. That means the bill allows anyone to sue anybody if they don’t like the way an election was conducted in a locality, State, or nationwide.

Do you all remember the lawsuit Bush v. Gore? In 2000, Democratic Presidential candidate Al Gore didn’t like the results of the vote in Florida. If he couldn’t undo the Florida results overturned, he would have had enough to win the Presidency. So he sued to get the Florida results overturned by a court. The case went all the way up to the Supreme Court which finally stopped the recount after a month of legal wrangling that made America look like its elections were determined by lawyers, not voters.

Well, guess what? We are bringing them back. Here they come in, because under this bill today, you won’t just see the Gore v. Florida. You will see all sorts of lawsuits; Everybody v. Everybody.

Does a candidate need 1,000 more votes to win? Then a candidate can sue in two or three counties and see if a judge will order those votes into their vote column.

Does a candidate need a few more votes? Then under this bill, they could sue in a dozen counties. Need a million votes? This bill allows a losing candidate and disgruntled activists to sue in all 50 States: Gore v. Georgia, Gore v. Oklahoma, Gore versus any State, or nationwide.

Now here is the problem. The problem is that provision I just quoted, doesn’t refer to a person’s exercising the right to vote; that is voting when they have a legal right to vote. The statutory term used in this provision is aimed at protecting legitimate voters from voting refers to the denial or abridgment of the right to vote.

Now, listen, because this provision does contain those key terms, meaning the provisions would literally make it illegal to prevent illegal voters from voting, and to prevent any other non-qualified person from voting. This same provision again appears in pages 102 and 103, and adds a criminal penalty of up to 5 years in prison and a $100,000 fine.

No person, whether acting under color of law or otherwise, shall intentionally hinder, interfere with, or prevent another from voting, registering to vote, or aiding another person to vote in an election.

That text, if read strictly, says it makes it illegal to prevent a four-year old from voting, to prevent an illegal alien from voting, and to prevent any other non-qualified person from voting.

Now, listen, because this provision does contain those key terms, meaning the provisions would literally make it illegal to prevent illegal voters from voting, we shouldn’t be making it a crime—

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Georgia.

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. We shouldn’t be making it a crime for election officials to do their job.

Remember, we can’t prevent illegal voters from voting under this bill, which makes it—they have no legal right to vote illegally.

An illegal voter cancels the vote of a legal voter. This was recognized in the Supreme Court case, Reynolds v. Sims and, in that case it was said:

"The right to vote can be denied by a deasenbement or dilution of the weight of a citizen’s vote just as effectively as by wholly prohibiting the free exercise of that franchise."
Look, an illegal vote negated the vote of a legal voter. This bill, my colleagues across the aisle, you are getting ready to vote for a bill that actually could negate legal voting. I could go on for days. This is why I am here. This is why this bill is bad. Why do we keep doing this and running away.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Washington (Mr. KILMER).

Mr. KILMER. Mr. Chairman, I want to start by saying thank you to Congressman SARBANES for his important work on leading this legislation. I am proud that we are bringing forward H.R. 1 to restore faith in the legislative branch, because right now Congress is less popular than head lice and colonoscopies. That is because every time my constituents see a bill that is written behind closed doors, or see a gentleman shoehorn, or see floor debate that looks like the Jerry Springer Show, they need to see a restoration of faith in government.

This bill will protect voting rights, strengthen ethics rules, and reduce the role of money in politics. It will refresh our democracy; and that is why the new Democrat coalition has endorsed this bill.

Listen, we don't talk enough about this. This bill includes bipartisan provisions in support of good government. It includes a bipartisan bill that I am leading, the Restoring Integrity to America’s Elections Act, which would reform the Federal Election Commission, and enable it to weed out campaign finance abuse, and hold those who skirt the rules accountable.

It includes the Honest Ads Act, my bipartisan bill.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. LOFGREN. I yield the gentleman from Washington an additional 30 seconds.

Mr. KILMER. It includes the Honest Ads Act, my bipartisan bill that would shine a light on the murky world of online political advertising by requiring digital ads to meet the same disclosure requirements as print or broadcast ads.

Americans deserve to know who is paying for political ads that they see online. They deserve to see who is speaking, and hold those who skirt the rules accountable.

And finally, worst of all, the bill gives welfare to politicians, coercing Americans to support candidates with whom they fundamentally disagree. This shouldn't enhance democracy, the idea that we, the people, establish a government based on the consent of the government. It corrupts democracy by taking away the fundamental right of the people to choose their own representatives, and giving it to a partisan election bureaucracy in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Chairman, Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin once famously said: “The people who cast the votes don’t decide an election; the people who count the votes do.”

H.R. 1 would “Stalinize” American elections by legalizing voter fraud, giving partisan election bureaucrats the power to ration free speech, and by coercing Americans to support candidates and causes with whom they fundamentally disagree.

I urge everyone, for the sake of the First Amendment and for our Constitution, vote “no.”

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself and the gentlewoman from Michigan 15 seconds.

Before yielding to the gentlewoman from Michigan, I would just like to quote one of the most conservative justices, who said that “the public has an interest in knowing who is speaking about a candidate shortly before an election.” That was in the Citizens United decision.

Mr. Chair, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Ms. TLAIB).

Ms. TLAIB. Mr. Chair, today I rise in strong opposition to H.R. 1.

Mr. Chair, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. MEADOWS), my good friend.

Mr. MEADOWS. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Chair, let’s be clear: H.R. 1 takes money from hardworking American taxpayers and puts it straight in the pockets of politicians.

Let me be abundantly clear: This bill that the Democrats have proposed provides taxpayer funding for Federal campaigns, Mr. Chair.

By voting for this bill, the Democrats are voting to take the American hardworking taxpayers’ money and actually give it back to be used for their own campaigns. By voting for this bill, the Democrats are saying, “We deserve to stay elected.”

This is a money grab for politicians. This unfairly benefits elected incumbents. It protects career politicians. Under the guise of campaign finance reform and dark money reform, this 600-page bill does nothing but fill the campaign coffers of people who have already been elected.

Not only that, this bill now includes a tax stuck in last night as a manager’s amendment in Rules. Yes, they are wanting to tax American citizens to make sure that they get reelected and put money back in their own campaign coffers.

Mr. Chair, if this is how the majority party believes that we are going to get transparency in Congress, it is not doing it. It is not living up to that.

I find it even interesting, because it seems to trample on our First Amendment rights to speak freely and voluntarily participate in the process that we hold as a privilege of electing our elected leaders. To top it off, Mr. Chair, they want you and every hardworking American taxpayer to pay for it.

Now, I can see it coming up, because it is going to come very soon, and they may talk about all the wonderful virtues of this particular bill, but when they vote for it, they are actually voting to rip away money from our election systems. So I look for that endgame when we say: Democrats vote to give $3.5 million to reelect the Freedom Caucus chairman.

I do think that that is what America is all about.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, before I reserve, may I inquire as to how much time is remaining.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Illinois has 24 minutes remaining. The gentleman from California has 37½ minutes remaining.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, before yielding to the chairman of the Homeland Security Committee, I would just like to say that saying it is tax money does not make it so. We have prohibited appropriations into the freedom from influence fund. The total source of funding is a 2.75 percent assessment on people who have committed tax crimes or corporate malfeasance.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. Thompson), the chairman of the Homeland Security Committee.

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman from California for giving me the time.

Mr. Chair, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 1. Last Congress, House Democrats sought to address Russia’s meddling in the Presidential election. Unfortunately, the then-majority would not prioritize the issue, so Democrats formed a Congressional Task Force on Election Security, which I co-chaired.

In February of 2018, after a series of public meetings with experts in national security, cybersecurity, and election administration, the task force released a report charting a course for how we could better protect our election infrastructure.

I am pleased that H.R. 1 includes the Election Security Act, legislation I introduced to implement the task force’s recommendation. Under the Election Security Act, states will receive funding to replace decades-old, outdated election equipment with more modern, secure technologies.

Additionally, to move the Nation off the crisis-to-crisis model we have been on, it provides grants, ongoing maintenance, and security. It also improves transparency with election infrastructure vendors and provides cybersecurity training to election officials.

Last month, at my committee’s hearing on election security, some my Republican colleagues balked at the bill’s price tag. Mr. Chair, to put the bill’s cost in context, the $1.8 billion provided here to secure our elections from the Russians and other foreign adversaries is half of what Congress provided in response to the hanging chads.

For the sake of our democracy, we cannot leave State and local election officials to fend for themselves against sophisticated adversaries like Russia. We have to help.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 15 seconds to the gentleman.

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Lofgren) for yielding.

Mr. Chair, before I close, I would like to thank Speaker Pelosi, Chairwoman Lofgren, and Mr. Sarbanes for all the work they and their staffs have done to bring this important measure to the floor.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. Bacon).

Mr. BACON. Mr. Chair, today I rise in opposition to this effort to conduct a hostile takeover of our elections by Washington, D.C.

H.R. 1 is nothing less than an attempt by the majority party to federalize and centralize our election system, strip all authority from the States, and create government-funded political campaigns. All of this will increase the election system’s vulnerability for fraud and restrict free speech.

The legislation we consider today will have a long-lasting, devastating impact on our elections:

H.R. 1 will create a 6-to-1 government match for all small donor contributions. This means government funds will be going to help pay for more campaigns, more TV, more radio ads. Americans will be compelled to bankroll candidates they don’t support.

My sister, a staunch Republican, shouldn’t have to have her hard-earned money go towards Democratic candidates. Her son, a staunch Democrat, shouldn’t have his hard-earned money go towards a Republican.

If H.R. 1 is to become law, it will place limits on freedom of speech, putting vague standards on groups who wish to advocate for any legislative issue. This is why even the ACLU does not support H.R. 1. And when the ACLU doesn’t support a Democratic election bill, you know it is wrong.

Our Nation was built on individuals advocating for their beliefs. It is our right to advocate the way we wish for a cause we believe in.

If a survivor of domestic violence wishes to quietly donate to a cause we believe in. Trump wrote these payments off as a lease.

Michael Cohen received reimbursement for illegal campaign contributions from Trump directly. If President Trump wrote these payments off as a business expense, that would be a crime, and his returns will show that.

In addition, The Trump Organization allegedly inflated their revenue in financial documents to obtain loans. The business’ tax returns would show whether their profits were accurate or if they filed fraudulent documents.
The President’s conflicts of interest and finances must be investigated.

With H.R. 1, we are setting down a marker that we expect standards of ethics and transparency for all Presidents going forward. With norms and precedents set, today is a historic day. The bill must codify certain norms into law. The law is on our side, 6103.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. PASCRELL. Mr. Chair, I support H.R. 1 for taking needed steps to get dark money and foreign money out of our politics; restore voting rights that are under assault in States around the country; improve our election security, as you heard the last gentleman say, BENNIE THOMPSON; and restore integrity to our democratic process.

In this era, the clock is turning back on voting rights and election integrity. Voter suppression has become a scourge in our democracy. For anybody to deny it on this floor, they haven’t been in the country.

Mr. Chair, these reforms are long overdue. I urge my colleagues to vote “yes.”

The Acting CHAIR. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President.

Mr. ROONEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair. I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. McCINTOCK).

Mr. McCINTOCK. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Chairman, consent of the governed is the cornerstone of our democracy. In America, the people are sovereign, and we govern through the votes that we cast. At the very core of this process are fair and free elections. Every citizen should be free to express themselves and to vote, and no citizen should ever be muzzled or have their legitimate vote canceled out by a fraudulent one.

By definition, one side is always going to be disappointed with the outcome. That is why it is essential that both sides are confident that they were treated fairly.

Democracies die when one party seizes control of the elections process, eliminates the safeguards that have protected the integrity of the ballot, places restrictions on free speech, and seizes the earnings of individual citizens to promote candidates that they may abhor.

That is precisely what this bill does today. It destroys the bipartisan composition of the Federal Election Commission and places a partisan majority in control of every aspect of our Federal elections. It imposes limits on free speech, and that has earned the opposition of the American Civil Liberties Union. It makes a contribution of $200 given to a candidate with $1,200 taken from others who may oppose that candidate.

Worst of all, it undermines the integrity of the ballot and opens the floodgates to fraud. The purpose of registration periods is to allow parties to canvass the rolls and challenge improper registrations, while ensuring candidates know exactly who is going to be voting.

The reason we require election day voting at a polling place is to ensure voters cast their ballots in secret after they have heard the entire debate and then cast their process and their vote. This bill sweeps away these few remaining vestiges of ballot integrity.

Democracies die by suicide, and we are now face-to-face with such an instrument.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I am honored to yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from New Jersey (Mrs.ウォSON COLEMAN).

Mrs.ウォSON COLEMAN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding to me.

Mr. Chairman, I rise today in support of H.R. 1, the For the People Act. America has a responsibility if we don’t protect the right to vote. We should be expanding voter rolls and making every single American voice heard at the ballot box, and that includes currently and previously incarcerated Americans.

Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment to this bill that would have included those Americans in our democracy. I have withdrawn that amendment at this time. I will continue to work with my colleagues to fight for re-enfranchisement for these Americans.

Mr. Chairman, I close by noting that this bill represents a paradigm shift in our approach to voting rights, and it is a reflection of the priorities of Democratic leadership in this body. It is long overdue and exactly the type of legislation that went overlooked until Democrat retook the House.

Mr. Chairman, I urge all my colleagues to support our democracy by voting for its passage.

Mr. ROONEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. SCALISE), the most courageous Member of Congress that I know, the man who bleeds tiger blood.

Mr. SCALISE. Mr. Chairman, I thank my colleague from Illinois for those kind comments. Go Tigers.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong opposition to this bill that instead of being called For the People Act should be called “For the Politicians Act.” Let’s take a look at some of the provisions of this bill that involve a Federal takeover of the elections process.

First of all, section 5111 of the bill will allow billions of dollars of taxpayer money to be funneled into political campaign accounts. That is your hard-earned dollars, in many cases, going to fund a candidate for office that you oppose. Think about that.

Now let’s look at section 1402 of this bill. Mr. Chairman, where they allow felons to vote. Let’s take, for example, a State that might have a law against felons voting, heavily debated in the State, where they are allowed that precedents to set their laws through the Constitution. Here comes the Federal Government telling a State, for example, that if somebody went to Federal prison for voter fraud, they now have to let them be involved in the political process and through because their own State law prohibits that person who was a felon for voter fraud.

One thing we can’t even get an answer on—and there are many, unfortunately—we can’t even get an answer on the cost of this bill. Many estimates are that it will be billions of dollars, but nobody can truly tell you because they continue to make changes after changes without even going through the normal committee process that should have been done.

If you look at the felons who can vote, think, for example, Mr. Chairman, a State—and many States have laws against felons who are child molesters from going into schools. In many places, the polling location is a school. Under this bill, if someone who has been convicted as a felon of molesting children and is banned by that State from going into the school, if they now show up on election day, under this law, they have a hall pass. They can go into the school because of this new Federal law where the State said that child molester shouldn’t be allowed in the school.

And as this goes on and on, the kinds of things you can’t even get clear answers on.

What would the cost be? Because they tell you the felons would be able to vote in the Federal election, but if your State law says they can’t vote, then you have to have multiple ballots. If somebody shows up to vote, the State is going to have to try to figure this out at what cost to the State, not talk about billions of dollars, the billions it costs the taxpayers?

This bill enshrines voter fraud in so many different places. Many States have voter integrity laws to make sure that the person who votes is the person who is on the roll. This says you don’t even have to have an ID if the State has a voter ID law. You can show up and just sign your name. You can sign this who I am, and you can vote. The Federal law overrides the State law in this case.

Mr. Chair, the time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. ROONEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Illinois.

Mr. Chairman, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Illinois.

Mr. SCALISE. Finally, I would like to talk about the constitutional infringements. And don’t take it from me. Let’s take groups as divergent as the ACLU and National Right to Life that are that cite serious First Amendment concerns.

ACLU says provisions “unconstitutionally impinge on the free speech rights of American citizens and public interest organizations."

National Right to Life: Enactment of H.R. 1 "would not be a curb on corruption, but itself a type of corruption, an abuse of the lawmaking power, by which lawmakers empower the threat of criminal sanctions . . . to reduce the amount of private speech regarding the actions of the lawmakers themselves."

This is a bad bill. It ought to be rejected.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, how much time remains on both sides?

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from California has 30 1⁄4 minutes remaining. The gentleman from Illinois has 16 1⁄2 minutes remaining.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New Mexico (Ms. HAALAND).

Ms. HAALAND. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in support of H.R. 1 because I want America to live up to its democratic principles, and that means having a government that really is for the people and not just for those with the means. This bill is about ensuring that all voters, regardless of ZIP Code, race, or party, can participate in our democracy.

I am proud that H.R. 1 includes a bill I introduced, the Same-Day Voter Registration Act, which will increase access to the ballot box across the country. Same-day registration already exists in 17 States and the District of Columbia. In those locations, more people, not fewer, participate in elections. I spent nearly two decades organizing to make sure New Mexicans, including those in Indian Country and in rural America, have access to our democracy.

This commonsense provision gets rid of arbitrary registration deadlines, which often fall long before the real time needed to process voter registration applications. Same-day voter registration is one of many provisions in H.R. 1 that will make elections more accessible.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, this has been a long debate. I am enjoying the discussion, enjoying the debate. This is why we all came here to Washington.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. JORDAN), my good friend.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Chairman, it is bad enough that this bill is going to tell States how to run elections, bad enough this bill is going to require taxpayers to finance the elections of politicians who created the swamp so they can get back to the swamp, but what is most egregious about this legislation is the attack on free speech.

As the whip mentioned, the ACLU has said we should vote no on this bill because it unconstitutionally burdens free speech and association rights. Let me tell you how it does it. It uses our old friend the IRS.

Remember just a few years ago the IRS systematically targeted people for their political beliefs. They went after conservatives.

Now think about your First Amendment liberties. You have the right to practice your faith, the right to vote, the right to assemble, the right to petition your government, freedom of the press.

What is the most fundamental liberty we have under the First Amendment? Your right to speak and particularly to speak in a political fashion, a political nature. That is what the IRS went after.

This bill does this. It gets rid of the schedule B protections that are currently in law. It says the reason the protection of schedule B information is important has nothing to do with vast conspiracies on the right or left related to so-called dark money. Rather, it dates back to the Supreme Court's 1958 decision NAACP v. Alabama. The Supreme Court formally recognized First Amendment protection of the freedom of association that prevented the NAACP from being compelled to turn over information about its members.

What this bill will do today, is, when this information has been leaked, as it has already, everyday Americans will continue to receive death threats, mail containing white powder, all because someone disagrees with what they believe.

This bill should be defeated for one simple reason: It attacks our First Amendment liberties, our most sacred rights. This bill goes after it. That is why we should vote it down, and that is why I urge a "no" vote.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, it is my honor to yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. CUMMINGS), the chairman of the House Oversight and Reform Committee.

Mr. CUMMINGS. Mr. Chair, I rise in strong support of H.R. 1, the For the People Act.

Mr. Chairman, I thank my friend, Congressman JOHN SARBADES, for his vision and for his tenacity in introducing this bold and historic reform package. He has given his blood, his sweat, and his tears, and I thank him. This sweeping legislation would clean up corruption in government, fight secret money in politics, and make it easier for American citizens across our great country to vote.

I have heard this bill dismissed as a "power grab." In fact, it is a power restoration. H.R. 1 would restore power to the American people and break the hold of special interests.

For example, title VIII includes a bill that I introduced, the Executive Branch Ethics Reform Act, which would ban senior officials from accepting bonuses and other payments from private-sector employers in exchange for their government service. H.R. 1 would prevent Gary Cohn, President Trump's former economic adviser, from receiving more than $100 million in accelerated payments from Goldman Sachs when he left to lead the Trump administration's efforts to slash corporate taxes.

Title VIII also includes another bill that I introduced, the Transition Team Ethics Improvement Act. This legislation would require Presidential transition teams to disclose to Congress the ten people they submit to receive security clearances and which team members receive security clearances.

This legislation also would require transition teams to have ethics plans in place and to publicly disclose those plans.

H.R. 1 gives people the power to freely exercise their right to vote. I have said quite often that when my mother died, at 92 years old, her last words were not, "Elijah, I love you." This former sharecropper, her last words were: Elijah, don't let them take away our right to vote.

I believe that we should be doing everything in our power to make it easier, not harder, for American citizens to exercise their constitutional right.

Unfortunately, some oppose our efforts. They think we should make voting more difficult by cutting back on early voting, eliminating polling places, and taking other steps to reduce the number of people who do vote.

In some cases, they have even engaged in illegal efforts to suppress the votes and target minority communities. Just look at what happened in North Carolina.

In 2013, State legislators requested data broken down by race on how residents engaged in a number of voting practices. They then used that data to enact legislation that restricted voting and voter registration in five different ways that disproportionately affected African Americans.

You do not have to take my word. The Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals found that this legislation was enacted with discriminatory intent. In fact, the Fourth Circuit said that in North Carolina legislation targeted African Americans with—they said this—"almost surgical precision."

We are better than that.

In Georgia, we saw actions just last year by officials to remove people from the voter rolls and prevent them from registering in the first place. H.R. 1 would establish procedures to automatically register people to vote, extend early voting, absentee voting, and give additional funding to States to maintain polling sites so that they can do their job.

This legislation would help make it easier and harderworking Americans to find the time to vote by making election day a Federal holiday and encouraging the private sector to follow suit.

Federal court after Federal court, there are ongoing efforts to stop people from voting. So I will fight until my death to make sure citizens, whether they be Republican, Democrat, Independent, Green Party, or whatever, has the right to vote.
The American people gave this Congress a mandate to restore our democracy, and we will clean it up.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. Posey), my good friend, and your friend.

Mr. POSEY. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for yielding the opportunity to speak about H.R. 1.

You have heard it called the “Welfare for Politicians Act”; you have heard it called the “Democratic Politician Protection Act”; and you have heard it called a very partisan proposal to hijack elections. I think it may be all those things.

Historically, elections are based on three principles: number one is fairness to everybody who votes, number two is that every voter counts, and number three is that every voter should have the assurance or the confidence that their vote was counted equally and was not compromised in one way or the other. I believe it does none of those things. If it did, and if it was at all fair, it would have bipartisan support.

In 2000, after the contentious election between Bush and Gore, I was chairman of the elections committee in the Florida Senate, charged with re-forming the election laws.

Working with the minority leader at the time, Steve Geller, we did some historic things. We pioneered the provisory ballot. We pioneered early voting. We got rid of punch cards and went to precinct-based optical scanners that they said would cost Republicans 100,000 votes statewide. It seems like the Republicans knew how to vote and the other side didn’t.

We did those things because it was fair and it was the right thing to do. And as a result, for the past 19 years, our elections have worked very well down there, except for two counties, very highly partisan counties who didn’t like the rules.

The measure of credibility for election bills is whether or not you have bipartisan support. Our legislation passed nearly unanimously, if not unanimously. Here, this is very one-sided. It is not fair. If it were fair, you would have a lot of support from this side.

And so I am for the other side to try and consider fairness a little bit in this process so we don’t go from one regime to another. And forthwith with election law that is not stable, is not good for the voters, is not good for the United States of America.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from the District of Columbia (Ms. Norton).

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Chair, I thank my friend for yielding.

There is a reason that this bill is H.R. 1. It shows that we are not there yet in building a more perfect democracy. What it illustrates is that better than H.R. 1’s is the District of Columbia statehood. These findings document the District’s long adherence to all the qualifications for statehood.

Since the founding of the Republic, serving in all the Nation’s wars, paying Federal income taxes—in fact, leading the country, per capita, in Federal income taxes paid today—if anything, H.R. 1’s findings show that the District is overqualified for statehood—witness the $2.8 billion surplus and its population larger than that of two States.

Yesterday marked 200 cosponsors for our D.C. statehood bill. Today, passage of H.R. 1 would set a historic milestone, marking the first vote for the necessary funds. In the 218 years the District has been the capital of the Nation.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, it is with great pleasure I get to introduce my good friend, whom I have known for a very long time from Illinois.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Bost), and I would like to ask him to throw his paper in the air and hit them when he is done with his speech.

Mr. BOST. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for yielding. I think the papers will remain on the table.

Mr. Chair, Speaker Pelosi said she wants to get money out of politics. She said this sham puts more money into politics. It doesn’t offer free speech; it offers forced speech.

In fact, for every dollar contributed to a candidate, the American taxpayer will be forced to contribute 6. Now, let me say that again. For every dollar that is contributed to a candidate, an American taxpayer will be forced to contribute 6.

You heard it right, a 6-to-1 match, whether you support a candidate or not, whether you support their positions on life, the Second Amendment, immigration, taxes, or anything else—6 to 1.

The bill would also require same-day registration on Election Day. States already have the right to determine for themselves if they want same-day registration. My home State of Illinois has it. But with it, can come challenges in ensuring the accuracy of a voter’s registration information.

I believe that every single legitimate vote needs to be counted—every single legitimate vote—but it must be a single vote. And we are not just talking about one State. Multiply that by 50.

Without proper safeguards, my colleagues are leaving the States less capable of managing their voter systems. That is a big problem. This is a bad bill.

Mr. Chair, I urge the House to vote “no.”

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. Sarbanes), the prime author of this bill.

Mr. SARBANES. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding and for her hard work on this bill. I am concerned that there is a collective delirium that seems to have infected part of this Chamber. I keep hearing our colleagues on the other side say that the public financing system, the 6-to-1 matching system that we want to set up, is taxpayer funded. Hear this: It is not taxpayer funded. It is not taxpayer funded. It is not taxpayer funded. It is law breaker funded.

We are setting up a fund, called the freedom from influence fund, because we don’t want the big money and the special interests to use influence in our campaigns anymore.

The freedom from influence fund will be filled with dollars that come from putting a surcharge, an assessment, on people who break the law: corporations who have engaged in criminal activity or are subject to civil penalties. Corporate malfeasance, that is where the dollars will come from. The people who are breaking the law, they are going to fund the freedom from influence account that will be there to match small donations.

Now, let me tell you why it is so important that small donors be the ones that have the power. If you are a candidate and you have to raise money for your campaign, right now, in order to raise the money you need, you have to go to the deep pocket and the PACs and the lobbyists.

And here is what happens: You start to think like the company you keep. So if you are hanging around with those folks because that is where you are raising your money, you are going to start putting their priorities first, not the public’s priorities.

If we have a 6-to-1 matching system funded by lawbreakers, not taxpayers—

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield the gentleman from Maryland an additional 1 minute.

Mr. SARBANES. Mr. Chair, if we have a matching system that gives power to small donors, now the candidate is going to say: I want to raise money from my campaign and power my campaign. I am going to go spend time with real people in my district. I am going to go house party where somebody can give $25 or $50, and then that 6-to-1 match will come in and I can power my campaign.

So instead of hanging out with the lobbyists on K Street or with the big money donors or with the PACs and super-PACs, I am going to spend time with people in my district. They are going to tell me what their priorities are, and then I am going to go to Washington and I am going to fight for them.

That is why we are creating this system: to take power away from the PACs and the big money and the insiders who are calling the shots now and give it back to the people. That is why this bill is called The For the People Act.

So let’s restore their voice, give them back the power that they deserve, and give them their rightful ownership of their own democracy.
Mr. Chair, let’s support H.R. 1.

Mr. ROYDEN DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, it is great to have the author of the bill here on the floor.

Mr. BIGGS. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. ROYDEN DAVIS) for yielding me time.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. BIGGS), my good friend.

Mr. ROYDEN DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. ROYDEN DAVIS) for yielding me time.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. BIGGS), my good friend.

Mr. BIGGS. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. ROYDEN DAVIS) for yielding me time.

Let me just tell you that this really is a monstrosity of a bill, the “Democratic Politician Protection Act.”

You see, H.R. 1 was referred to 10 committees, but only one marked it up; 100 pages of this bill fell within the jurisdiction of the Judiciary Committee. We had a hearing but we didn’t get to mark it up, which I think was designed—who knows why it was designed, but we couldn’t expose all the flaws of this bill.

Let me talk about two of them right now, because these both are patterned after the Arizona law, oddly enough.

The Independent Arizona Redistricting Commission in Arizona, passed by the voters, upheld by the United States Supreme Court, and guess what? We are not going to qualify under this bill.

That redistricting commission produced, actually, a Democratic majority, so we have a blue majority in the house now. But I tell you what, the registration numbers all were for the red, but the IRC in Arizona changed that.

But guess what. Under this bill, it is not good enough. It is going to be taken out of the hands of the State and put in the hands of the Federal Government.

That is a violation of the Constitution and the spirit of electoral law and redistricting throughout the country.

Let me talk about this, having heard now that this is going to be not from taxpayers but from lawbreakers who are going to fund this.

Arizona has something called the Citizens Clean Elections Commission. I was there when that came out, funded ostensibly by lawbreakers who, oddly enough, are taxpayers. They are taxpayers. And guess what else? Arizona’s courts have said they are taxpayers and that the whole scheme was problematic.

That is what is happening with this particular bill. It is rife with problems throughout, but these two problems are really dilatory to this bill. I urge Members to vote “no.”

Mr. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROYDEN DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. PALMER).

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Chairman, H.R. 1 is yet another case of Democrats attempting a power grab from the States with no regard for the Constitution and States’ powers. The bill completely disregards the fact that most States have successfully adopted their own process for a fair and honest and constitutional election.

Thirty-eight States, including my home State of Alabama, have already implemented some type of online voter registration, most with safeguards to protect against fraud. Each State is different and circumstances and challenges that only the State and local legislators can effectively address.

For instance, in Alabama, where we require voter identification, our election officials have a rural nature of the State and have taken steps to ensure that every person has a form of ID, which is required to vote. Alabama accepts seven different types of ID, including a student or employee ID. They can get a voter ID card for free. The State even goes so far as to have a mobile ID unit that will pick people up and take them to an ID center at no expense.

That is why a Federal judge recently threw out a lawsuit against the ID law, because, in the judge’s words: There is no person who is qualified to register to vote who cannot get a photo ID.

One of the most important requirements for eligibility to vote is citizenship. H.R. 1 requires States to maintain online voter registration with no safeguards. They can simply upload an electronic signature without any validation through a DMV database.

Many officials from States that have implemented online voter registration will tell you that a huge obstacle is cybersecurity. Any time parts of the process are connected to the internet, it opens it up to hacking attempts.

My Democratic colleagues have spent the better part of 2 years alleging there was Russian influence through the 2016 election. Now they want to invite China to the party? What about Iran and North Korea?

Just this week, FBI Director Wray was asked if China’s digital threat was overwhelming. He responded: There is nothing else.

Voter fraud and registration fraud are real threats to elections. The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. ROYDEN DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Alabama.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Chairman, the Texas Attorney General indicted four people as part of a vote fraud ring funded by the Texas Democratic Party. Under the new automatic registration scheme in California, they admitted to registering 25,000 ineligible voters, including non-U.S. citizens. The bill even allows felons to register to vote, even those who are felons for voter fraud.

Each State is unique, with their own circumstances and challenges. Elections are a State matter, not a Federal matter. We should continue to allow the States to act on their own and implement policies that work best for their State rather than cede the fundamental base of our liberty: our right to choose our leaders in honest and fair elections.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, I just want to make a couple of observations and perhaps corrections.

This has been alleged that somehow the assessment on tax crimes and corporate malfeasance has been transformed into taxpayer money—I think that is clearly incorrect—but that if the money is insufficient, then the taxpayers would have to pay for it.

When we marked up the bill in the House Administration Committee, we outlined how the money would be reduced if there were not enough money in the fund; and in section 510(c)(9), it talks about mandatory reductions of payments in the voucher program. In 510(d)(2), it talks about mandatory reductions in the congressional program and Presidential and so on, if there were insufficient funds.

So there is no way under the terms of this bill that the taxpayers could ever be on the hook for these funds, and I think it is important to know that.

I want to talk a little bit about the concern about free speech.

I am an advocate of free speech. I think we all are and honor our Constitution here in the House of Representatives. But the ACLU has a storied history of litigation constituting ideas. They have done good work, but when we debated campaign finance law, particularly on how to shine a light on secret, dark money in elections.

The ACLU has opposed applying disclosure laws to organizations spending money on electioneering communications, which are paid ads that mention candidates in the days leading up to the election.

As we have mentioned earlier, the Court, in Citizens United, said the public has an interest in knowing who is speaking about a candidate before an election and pointed out that disclosure does not prevent speech. I think that is one of the reasons why we have
Mr. Chairman, it is interesting, my colleague, Mr. Rodney Davis, my good friend, for his strong leadership on this bill and his strong leadership on the Committee on House Administration for leading the way on this.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. LaHood), my good friend.

Mr. LaHood. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank my colleague, Congressman Ms. Brown. I believe in democracy. We should be making a greater effort to give all Americans the right to vote. It is not a partisan issue: the right to vote is a fundamental right to vote. It is a right that we should be supported by all Americans who believe in democracy. We should be making the voting process easier, making it easier for people who are no longer incarcerated to register to vote. Because vote registration, fails to adequately verify voter registration. The measure would prohibit voter caging, the discriminatory influence of big money in politics, prevent voter fraud, and strengthen ethics rules and accountability for public servants. H.R. 1 would require early voting in all states; voting would have to start at least 15 days before an election, including weekends. H.R. 1 would require every voter registration on election-day and during early voting. Under a provision in H.R. 1, states would be prohibited from restricting an individual's ability to vote by mail. H.R. 1 would require that "provisional ballots" be counted and provide assistance to states and localities in improving the provisional ballot process. The measure would prohibit voter caging, voter deception and voter intimidation. H.R. 1 also promotes voter registration via the internet and establishes a strict code of ethics for elected and appointed officials, including the President, the Vice President, his cabinet, and every Member of Congress, so we are not constantly distracted by scandal of the day.

Mr. Chairman, I rise today strongly opposed to H.R. 1. Among the numerous, egregious provisions of H.R. 1, I am here to shed light on one proposal that has increased vulnerabilities in our election system in our home State of Illinois.

Under H.R. 1, Democrats are proposing a blanket, nationwide mandate for States to adopt same-day registration practices with no safeguards. Once again, my colleagues across the aisle are advocating a Big Government solution, but, in fact, they are threatening the integrity of elections at every level of government.

Coming from Illinois where same-day registration and other lax election laws have been passed by our Democrat-controlled legislature, uncertainty has followed. The practice of same-day registration has caused confusion for our election administrators and has opened the door to fraud.

Under same-day registration in Illinois, an individual can arrive at their polling place with a copy of their utility bill and cast a full ballot without being fully verified thanks to same-day registration.

Election officials are having difficulty verifying residents in a timely manner, particularly on college campuses where students have been told that they can use a receipt from Jimmy John's sub shop to confirm their voting domicile.

Under H.R. 1, these vulnerabilities and problems will be seen across the country and exacerbated by provisions that will allow individuals to use sworn statements in place of government IDs when registering to vote.

Mr. LaHood. Mr. Chairman, further-more, H.R. 1 fails to deter bad actors from taking advantage of the system by not criminalizing fraudulent registrations.

Mr. Chairman. Republicans want more registered voters. We want more Americans to fulfill their civic duty, but we can’t simply push legislation that jeopardizes the integrity of our election process and potentially undermines our democracy.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. LaHood), my good friend.

Ms. Brown. Mr. Chair, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Pelosi), the Speaker of the House.

Ms. Pelosi. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding, and I commend her and congratulate her on her success in bringing this important legislation to the floor of the House.

I want to salute our colleague from Maryland, Congressman John Sarbanes, for being a relentless and persistent advocate, for honoring the Constitution of the United States and giving people confidence that their voice and their vote count as much as anyone in this country.

That is what H.R. 1 is about; giving people confidence that we can do what we say without the influence of big, dark, special interest money weighing in on the process.

Our Constitution, Mr. Chairman, as you know, begins, "We the people," a beautiful statement of purpose for our Nation. "We the people..."

Our Founders envisioned a government that would work for the people, serving the people's interests, fighting for their aspirations, hopes, and dreams.

We have a responsibility to honor that vision of our Founders, honoring our Constitution, and enshrining the Constitution of the United States, honoring the sacrifice of our men and women in uniform for the sacrifices that they make for our freedom and freedom throughout the world, and worthy of the aspirations of our children. We can only do this if we have a government that is committed to transparency, to as much bipartisanship as possible, and to being unifying for our country.

In the election, the American people voted for just that. They voted for a Congress that would restore transparency, bipartisanship, and unity and be unifying in Washington, D.C., so that the government would again—I can't say it enough—work for the people.

On day one, reflecting the priorities of our outstanding freshman class, our new Democratic majority honored the people's trust by introducing H.R. 1, the For the People Act.

Again, let me salute Congressman JOHN SARBANES, the chair of our Democracy Reform Task Force, who was the godfather of this bill.

Today, we are proud to be bringing this transformative legislation to the floor of the House, H.R. 1—and it is H.R. 1 because it is of primary importance—restores the people's faith that government will work for the people and not the special interests.

We are ending the dominance of big, dark, special interest money in politics.

We are ensuring clean, fair elections with Congressman JOHN LEWIS, our hero, with his Voter Empowerment Act, to increase access to the ballot box.

Democrats or Republicans or people who are Independent, who do not register with a party, should want everyone to be able to vote without obstacles. This legislation will remove obstacles to participation. Whether obstacles of closing polling places in certain neighborhoods, obstacles of reducing hours that those polling places are open, reducing the number of days for early voting, and the rest, it will reduce those obstacles.

We also are protecting the sacred right to vote through Congresswoman TASHI SEWELL's H.R. 4, which is an offshoot of the movement, the Voting Rights Advancement Act, to secure, again, and restore the Voting Rights Act. It is part of H.R. 1, but it will be taken up separately because of the need to establish the constitutional basis in an ironclad way as we go forward.

I am so pleased, Mr. Chairman, and I thank the chairwoman of the House Administration Committee for rein-stating the House Administration Subcommittee on Elections led by Congresswoman MARCIA FUDGE which began its out-of-Washington hearings in Brownsville, Texas, and people were delighted that Chairwoman FUDGE's subcommittee came there to hear the stories of voter suppression that exists throughout the country, especially among people who may have a last name that may sound foreign to some and questionable therefore to them, but who are American citizens eligible to vote.

We are cleaning up corruption and ensuring that public officials again put their work for the people. You can't say it enough, Mr. Chairman.

We must pass this legislation so we can break the grip of special interests. We talk about obstacles to participation and secure the vote, and we talk about what we talked about earlier, whether it is voting, number of polling places, number of hours, number of days, degree of identification that is required in some areas more so than in others and different surnames and the rest, but one of the biggest suppressors of the vote is the suffocation of the airwaves by big, dark special interest money. There are some people in our country—I hope none of them in this body—who think that the only way to win an election is to suppress the vote one way or another, and bombarding and suffocating the airwaves with information that is not factual, by disrupting elections and by putting out messages in the social media that are misleading, the resources that make all of this possible are as much a voter suppressor as anything you can name.

So that is why when we put forth our For the People Act; one, to lower healthcare costs by reducing the cost of prescription drugs; secondly, to increase paychecks, lower healthcare costs, bigger paychecks by building the infrastructure of America in a green way, we had confidence that we could do that because H.R. 1, which was essential to our For the People agenda, would, again, diminish the role of big, special interest money and increase the voice of every person in our country, including the impact of small donor participation in elections.

When we put power back in the hands of the American people, as this legislation does, we can make much more progress on hard issues facing our Nation, and the American people know that. It removes a great deal of skepticism that they have in politics and government. It instills confidence that their voice will be heard, that their cause will be addressed, and that their interests will be served.

Again, lowering healthcare costs by reducing the cost of prescription drugs, people's voices will be heard, a big issue in re-election; increasing paychecks by rebuilding the infrastructure of America in a bold, green and modern way; safeguarding consumer protections, workers' rights and the rights of the LGBTQ community; and addressing the needs of our Dreamers in legislation that we will take up and launch next week; protecting clean air and clean water, confronting the climate crisis, and so much more will be taken up.

So, let me add that a bill that we passed last week—which was historic in the House—finally passing a bill for commonsense background checks for gun violence prevention, again, defies the big money in that arena.

There should be nothing partisan or political about empowering the American people and making sure that government works for them. Our Founders provided a vision for our country. They wrote a constitution making us the godfather of this bill for the rest of the world that enabled people—oh, thank God they made it amendable so that we could ever expand power, voting rights, and the rest.

What is exciting about this Congress, which has over 100 women in it for the first time, is that in the course of this Congress, we will be celebrating the 100th anniversary of women having the right to vote. But the right to vote must be accompanied by removing obstacles to that participation, and that is what we are doing today.

How do we answer our Founders if one day we are meeting them in the next life?

How do we say to them: I did everything in my power to suppress the vote?

Or do we say: Honoring your vision, we removed every obstacle for those who are legitimately eligible to vote to do so and to have their vote counted as can?

To honor the oath we take and to honor the people's trust, I strongly urge a bipartisan vote for this bill, for the people.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois, Mr. Chairman, I have no further speakers, and I am ready to close.

I reserve the balance of my time, Mr. Chairman.

Ms. LOFGREN, Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman would like to wrap up, I will also wrap up.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. But before I do, Mr. Chairman, may I inquire how much time is remaining.

The Acting CHAIR (Mr. SCHRADER). The gentleman has 2½ minutes remaining.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time and that is not nearly enough to talk about all the bad provisions in this bill once again.

There are so many provisions in this bill that many of my colleagues graciously came down to the floor to talk about them. As a matter of fact, I have with me a file of letters from groups like the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the ACLU, the National Right to Life, and all others that have been outspoken in their opposition to this behemoth partisan piece of legislation.

Let me remind everybody once again: we Republicans—there are only three of us on the House Administration Committee—not consulted at all by anyone who wrote this bill, nor by any of the groups who were pointed out at the press conference announcing this piece of legislation that they helped to write this bill. Make no bones about it, this shell game, this nebulous freeness or whatever fund you want to call it, the CBO estimates they don’t even have enough information on it. They are estimating the taxpayers will be on the hook for at least $1 billion, and that goes in addition to the over $2 billion that the rest of the bill is going to cost the taxpayers of this country.

Now, it is interesting, I just read a tweet—I never met the gentleman, Dan McLaughlin, but it is a pretty good explanation of what I think this bill is. His tweet says: “Professional politicians do unethical things that they’ve written the rules to allow.”

This bill has written the rules to allow Members of Congress to enrich their own campaign coffers that will eventually be on the backs of government and the taxpayers. This is not why we should be here.

I am for the American voter. I support every eligible voter has easier ways to register to vote and get easier access to the polls. What I am not for is for Washington, D.C., taking over elections and enriching the campaign coffers of the people who sit in this room.

I know what difficult elections look like. It is the worst of partisan politics, and it is personal to me. I know what it looks like when people take well-intentioned laws and use them to their political advantage. I don’t want that to happen, and I believe H.R. 1 will allow that to happen.

We have had disagreements. I respect the fact that my colleagues have come here to debate this bill, but this is the furthest thing from a bipartisan bill. I can’t say it enough how opposed to this bill I am.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Chair, I rise today as one of 226, co-sponsors, and one of the original cosponsors, of H.R. 1, which will increase public confidence in our democracy by reducing the role of money in politics, restoring ethical standards and integrity to government, and strengthening laws to protect voting.

Specifically, the For the People Act will:

1. Make it easier, not harder, to vote by implementing automatic voter registration, requiring early voting and vote by mail, committing Congress to reauthorizing the Voting Rights Act and ensuring the integrity of our elections by modernizing and strengthening our voting systems and ending partisan gerrymandering.

2. Reform the campaign finance system by requiring all political organizations to disclose large donors, updating political advertisement laws for the digital age, establishing a public matching system for citizen-owned elections, and revamping the Federal Election Commission to ensure there’s a cop on the campaign finance beat; and

3. Strengthen ethics laws to ensure that public officials work in the public interest by extending conflict of interest laws to the President and Vice President; requiring the release of their tax returns; closing loopholes that allow former members of Congress to avoid cooling-off periods for lobbying; closing the revolving door between industry and the federal government; and establishing a code of conduct for the Supreme Court.

H.R. 1 expands access to the ballot box by taking aim at institutional barriers to voting.

This bill ensures that individuals who have completed felony sentences have their full rights restored and expands early voting and simplify absentee voting; and modernize the U.S. voting system.

Mr. Chair, this legislation and this hearing is particularly timely because more than half a century after the passage of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, we are still discussing voter suppression—something which should be a bygone relic of the past, but yet continues to disenfranchise racial minorities, immigrants, women, and young people.

The Voting Rights Act of 1965 was a watershed moment for the Civil Rights Movement—it liberated communities of color from legal restrictions barring them from exercising the fundamental right to civic engagement and political representation.

But uncaged by Supreme Court’s infamous 2013 decision in Shelby County v. Holder, 570 U.S. 529 (2013), which neutered the preclearance provision of the Voting Rights Act, 14 states, including my state of Texas, took extreme measures to enforce new voting restrictions before the 2016 presidential election. It is not a coincidence that many of these same states have experienced increasing numbers of black and Hispanic voters in recent elections.

If not for invidious, state-sponsored voter suppression policies like discriminatory voter ID laws, reduced early voting periods, and voter intimidation tactics that directly or indirectly target racial minorities, the 2016 presidential election might have had a drastically different outcome.

Mr. Chair, H.R. 1 must be passed because many of the civil rights that I fought for as a student and young lawyer have been undermined or been rolled back by reactionary forces in recent years.

To add insult to injury, the Trump Administration issued an Executive Order establishing a so-called “Election Integrity” Commission to investigate not voter suppression, but so-called “voter fraud” in the 2016 election. Trump and his followers have been unceasing in their efforts to perpetuate the myth of voter fraud, but it remains just that: a myth.

Between 2000 and 2014, there were 35 credible allegations of voter fraud out of more than 834 million ballots cast—that is less than 1 in 28 million votes.

An extensive study by social scientists at Dartmouth College uncovered no evidence to support Trump’s hysterical and outrageous allegations of widespread voter fraud “rigging” the 2016 election.

Just for the record, Mr. Chair, the popular vote of the 2016 presidential election was: Hillary Clinton, 65,853,516. Donald Trump, 62,884,824.

Trump’s deficit of 2.9 million was the largest of any Electoral College winner in history by a massive margin, and despite the allegations of the current Administration, there have been only 4 documented cases of voter fraud in the 2016 election.

The Voter Fraud Commission, like many of Trump’s business schemes, was a massive scam built on countless lies that do not hold up to any level of scrutiny.

As Members of Congress, we should be devoting our time, energy, and resources addressing Russian infiltration of our election infrastructure and campaigns, along with other pressing issues.

Instead of enjoying and strengthening the protections guaranteed in the Voting Rights Act—people of color, women, LGBTQ individuals, and immigrants—have been given the joyless, exhausting task of fending off the constant barrage of attacks levied at our communities by Trump and other conspiracy theorists.

Not only are we tasked with reversing the current dismal state of voter suppression against minorities; we are also forced to refute the blatant, propagandist lie of voter fraud.

To this end, I have been persistent in my efforts to protect the rights of disenfranchised communities in my district of inner-city Houston and across the nation.

Throughout my tenure in Congress, I have cosponsored dozens of bills, amendments, and resolutions seeking to improve voters’ rights at all stages and levels of the election process.

This includes legislation aimed at:
1. Increasing voter outreach and turnout;
2. Ensuring both early and same-day registration;
3. Standardizing physical and language accessibility at polling places;
4. Expanding early voting periods;
5. Decreasing voter wait times;
6. Guaranteeing absentee ballots, especially for displaced citizens;
7. Modernizing voting technologies and strengthening our voter record systems;
8. Establishing the federal Election Day as a national holiday; and
9. Condemning and criminalizing deceptive practices, voter intimidation, and other suppression tactics;

Along with many of my CBC colleagues, I was an original cosponsor of H.R. 9, the Fannie Lou Hamer, Rosa Parks, and Coretta Scott King Voting Rights Act Reauthorization and Amendments Act, which became public law on July 27, 2006.

I also authored H.R. 745 in the 110th Congress, which added the legendary Barbara Jordan to the list of civil rights trailblazers whose memories are honored in the naming the Voting Rights Act Reauthorization and Amendments Act.

This bill strengthened the original Voting Rights Act by replacing federal voting examiners with federal voting observers a significant enhancement that made it easier to safeguard against racially biased voter suppression tactics.

In the 114th Congress, I introduced H.R. 75, the Coretta Scott King Mid-Decade Redistricting Prohibition Act of 2015, which prohibits states whose congressional districts have been redistricted after a decennial census from redrawing their district lines until the next census.

Prejudiced redistricting, or gerrymandering as it is more commonly known, has been used for decades to weaken the voting power of African Americans, Latino Americans, and other minorities since the Civil Rights Era.

Immediately after the Shelby County ruling, which lifted preclearance requirements for states with histories of discrimination seeking to change their voting laws or practices, redistricting became a favorite tool for Republicans who connived to unfairly gain 3 congressional seats in Texas.

In the 110th Congress, I was the original sponsor of H.R. 6778, the Ex-Offenders Voting Rights Act of 2008, which prohibited denial of the right to vote in a federal election on the basis of an individual’s status as a formerly incarcerated person.

The Ex-Offenders Voting Rights Act sought to reverse discriminatory voter restrictions that disproportionately affect African American voting population, which continues to be targeted by mass incarceration, police profiling, and a biased criminal justice system.

Those of us who cherish the right to vote justifiably are skeptical of Voter ID laws because we understand how these laws, like poll taxes and literacy tests, can be used to impede or negate the ability of seniors, racial and language minorities, and young people to cast their votes.

Voter ID laws are just one of the means that can be used to abridge or suppress the right to vote but there are others, including:
1. Curtailing or Eliminating Early Voting;
2. Ending Same-Day Registration;
3. Not counting provisional ballots cast in the wrong precinct on Election Day will not count;
4. Eliminating Teenage Pre-Registration;
5. Shortened Poll Hours;
6. Lessening the standards governing voter challenges used by vigilantes, like the King Street Patriots in my city of Houston, to cause trouble at the polls;
7. “Voter Caging,” to suppress the turnout of minority voters by sending non-forwardable mail to targeted populations and, once the mail is returned, using the returned mail to compile lists of voters whose eligibility is then challenged on the basis of residence under state law; and
8. Employing targeted redistricting techniques to dilute minority voting strength, notably “Cracking” (i.e., fragmenting and dispersing concentrations of minority populations); “Stacking” (combining concentrations of minority voters with greater concentrations of white populations); and “Packing” (i.e., over-concentrating minority voters in as few districts as possible).

Mr. Chair, we must not allow our democracy to slide back into the worst elements of this country’s past, to stand idly by as our treasured values of democracy, progress, and equality are poisoned and dismantled.

I urge all members to join me in voting to pass H.R. 1, the “For The People Act of 2019.”

The Acting CHAIR. All time for general debate has expired.

Pursuant to the rule, the bill shall be considered for amendment under the 5-minute rule.

In lieu of the amendment in the nature of a substitute recommended by the Committee on House Administration, printed in the bill, the amendment in the nature of a substitute consisting of the text of Rules Committee Print 116-7, modified by the amendment printed in part A of House Report 116-16, shall be considered as adopted. The bill, as amended, shall be considered as an original bill for purpose of further amendment under the 5-minute rule and shall be considered as read.

The text of the bill, as amended, is as follows:

March 6, 2019
date of the election for Federal office involved, shall provide the individual with information on how to obtain the following information by electronic means:

(A) The address of the polling place at which the individual is assigned to vote in the election.

(B) The hours of operation for the polling place.

"(C) A description of any identification or other information the individual may be required to present at the polling place.

SEC. 1004. INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS.

(a) REQUIREMENT OF INFORMATION REGARDING THE CONSEQUENCES OF VOTING IN ACCORDANCE WITH FALSE INFORMATION.

(1) Persons voting in Federal elections shall be provided with the following information:

(A) The consequences of voting in Federal elections with false information.

(B) The method of voter registration and list maintenance procedures with electronic and Internet capabilities.

(C) The method of protecting and enhancing the integrity, accuracy, efficiency, and accessibility of the electoral process for all eligible citizens.

SEC. 1012. AUTOMATIC REGISTRATION OF ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUALS.

(a) REQUIREING STATES TO ESTABLISH AND OPERATE AUTOMATIC REGISTRATION SYSTEM.

(1) In General.—The chief State election official of each State shall establish and operate a system of automatic registration of eligible individuals to vote for elections for Federal office in the State, in accordance with the provisions of this part.

(b) REGISTRATION OF VOTERS BASED ON NEW AGENCY RECORDS.

(1) In General.—It is the purpose of this part to ensure that every citizen of the United States, who is not registered to vote, or is found ineligible to vote, or is found ineligible for purposes of this part on the grounds that the individual is less than 18 years of age at the time a contributing agency transmitted the information to the State, in accordance with the provisions of section 9 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, shall be registered to vote in such elections.

(2) P Urpose.—It is the purpose of this part to ensure that every citizen of the United States, who is not registered to vote, or is found ineligible to vote, or is found ineligible for purposes of this part on the grounds that the individual is less than 18 years of age at the time a contributing agency transmitted the information to the State, in accordance with the provisions of section 9 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, shall be registered to vote in such elections.

(3) Individuals.—In accordance with this part, each contributing agency in a State shall treat an individual as an eligible individual for purposes of this part on the grounds that the individual is less than 18 years of age at the time a contributing agency transmitted the information to the State, in accordance with the provisions of section 9 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, shall be registered to vote in such elections.

(4) Notice.—In this part, the term "notices" means, with respect to a State, an agency listed in section 1013(e).

(b) REQUIREMENTS FOR CONTRIBUTING AGENCIES.

(1) INSTRUCTIONS ON AUTOMATIC REGISTRATION.

With each application for service or assistance, and with each related recertification, each contributing agency shall inform each individual who is a citizen of the United States of the requirements of this part.
to vote will in any way affect the availability of services or benefits, nor be used for other purposes.

(2) OPPORTUNITY TO DECLINE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS.—Each contributing agency shall ensure that each application for service or assistance, and each related recertification, renewal, or change of address, or in the case of an institution of higher education, each registration of a student for enrollment in a course of study, cannot be completed until the individual is given the opportunity to decline to register to vote as prescribed by this section.

(3) INFORMATION TRANSMITTED.—Upon the expiration of the 30-day period which begins on the date the contributing agency informs the individual of the information described in paragraph (1), each contributing agency shall electronically transmit to the appropriate State election official, in a format compatible with the statewide voter database maintained under section 303 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21085), the following information, unless during such 30-day period the individual declined to be registered to vote:

(A) The individual’s given name(s) and surname(s).

(B) The individual’s date of birth.

(C) The individual’s residential address.

(D) Information showing that the individual is a citizen of the United States.

(E) Any other information pertaining to that individual was collected or last updated.

(F) If available, the individual’s signature in electronic form.

(G) Information regarding the individual’s affiliation or enrollment with a political party, if the individual provides such information.

(H) Any additional information listed in the mail voter registration application form for elections for Federal office prescribed pursuant to section 9 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, including any valid driver’s license number or the last 4 digits of the individual’s social security number, if the individual provided such information.

(c) ALTERNATE PROCEDURE FOR CERTAIN CONTRIBUTING AGENCIES.—With each application for service or assistance, and with each related recertification, renewal, or change of address, any contributing agency that in the normal course of its operations does not request individuals applying for service or assistance to provide data designates as a contributing agency under this section.

(d) REQUIRED AVAILABILITY OF AUTOMATIC REGISTRATION OPPORTUNITY WITH EACH APPLICATION FOR SERVICE OR ASSISTANCE.—Each contributing agency shall offer each individual, with each application for service or assistance, and with each related recertification, renewal, or change of address, or in the case of an institution of higher education, with each registration of a student for enrollment in a course of study, the opportunity to register to vote as prescribed by this section without regard to whether the individual previously declined a registration opportunity.

(e) CONTRIBUTING AGENCIES.—
did not make an affirmation of citizenship (including through automatic registration) under this part may not be used as evidence against that individual in any State or Federal legal proceeding, and an individual’s lack of knowledge or willfulness of such registration may be demonstrated by the individual’s testimony alone.

(c) PROTECTION OF ELECTION INTEGRITY.—Nothing in subsections (a) or (b) may be construed to prohibit or restrict any action under color of law against an individual who—

(1) knowingly and willfully makes a false statement to effectuate or perpetuate automatic voter registration by any individual; or

(2) casts a ballot knowingly and willfully in violation of State law or the laws of the United States.

(d) CONTRIBUTING AGENCIES’ PROTECTION OF INFORMATION.—Nothing in this part authorizes a contributing agency to collect, retain, transmit, or publicly disclose any of the following:

(1) An individual’s decision to decline to register to vote or not to register to vote.

(2) An individual’s decision not to affirm his or her citizenship.

(3) Any information that a contributing agency receives pursuant to subparagraph (B), with respect to any individual for whom any State election official receives information from a contributing agency, the State election officials shall not publicly disclose any of the following:

(i) The identity of the contributing agency.

(ii) Any information not necessary to voter registration.

(iii) Any voter information otherwise shielded from disclosure under State law or section 8(a) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20507(a)).

(iv) Any portion of the individual’s social security number.

(v) Any portion of the individual’s motor vehicle driver’s license number.

(vi) The individual’s signature.

(vii) The individual’s telephone number.

(viii) The individual’s email address.

(B) SPECIAL RULE FOR INDIVIDUALS REGISTERED TO VOTE.—With respect to any individual for whom any State election official receives information from a contributing agency, the State election officials shall not publicly disclose any of the following:

(i) The identity of the contributing agency.

(ii) Any information not necessary to voter registration.

(iii) Any voter information otherwise shielded from disclosure under State law or section 8(a) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20507(a)).

(iv) Any portion of the individual’s social security number.

(v) Any portion of the individual’s motor vehicle driver’s license number.

(vi) The individual’s signature.

(c) P ROTECTION OF ELECTION INTEGRITY.—The chief State election official of each State to adopt a policy that shall specify—

(1) a description of the activities the State shall annually file with the Election Assistance Commission a statement certifying to the Director of the National Institute of Standards and Technology that the State is in compliance with the standards referred to in paragraphs (3) and (4). A State may use the previous sentence by filing with the Commission a statement which reads as follows: ‘‘The State hereby certifies that it is in compliance with the standards referred to in paragraphs (3) and (4) of section 1015(e) of the Automatic Voter Registration Act of 2015.’’ (with the blank to be filled in with the name of the State involved).

(B) PUBLICATION OF POLICIES AND PROCEDURES.—The chief State election official of a State shall publish on the official’s website the policies and procedures established under this paragraph, and shall make those policies and procedures available in written form upon public request.

(C) DEPENDENT ON CERTIFICATION.—If a State does not timely file the certification required under this paragraph, it shall not receive any payment under this part for the fiscal year.

(D) COMPLIANCE OF STATES THAT REQUIRE CHANGES TO STATE LAW.—In the case of a State that requires State legislation to carry out any certification submitted by any certification submitted under this paragraph, for a period of not more than 2 years the State shall be permitted to make the certification notwithstanding any provision that has not been enacted at the time the certification is submitted, and such State shall submit an additional certification once such legislation is enacted.

(f) RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF INFORMATION.—No person acting under color of law may disseminate, use, or disclose any information obtained, or use for any purpose other than voter registration, election administration, or enforcement relating to election crimes, any of the following:

(1) Voter registration records.

(2) An individual’s declination to register or complete an affirmation of citizenship under section 1013(b).

(3) An individual’s voter registration status.

(g) PROHIBITION ON THE USE OF USE OF VOTER REGISTRATION INFORMATION FOR COMMERCIAL PURPOSES.—Information collected under this part shall not be used for commercial purposes. Nothing in this subsection may be construed to prohibit the transmission, exchange, or dissemination of information for political purposes, including the support of campaigns for election for Federal, State, or local public office or the activities of political committees (including committees of political parties) under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.
section. In determining the amounts of the grants, the Commission shall give priority to providing funds for those activities which are most likely to accelerate compliance with the provisions of this part. If there is more than one application, the case of an exempt State, which are most likely to enhance the ability of the State to automatically register individuals to vote throughout the year under the automatic voter registration program, including—

(1) investments supporting electronic information transfer, including electronic collection and transfer of signatures, between contributing agencies and the appropriate State election officials;

(2) updates to online or electronic voter registration systems already operating as of the date of the enactment of this Act;

(3) introduction of online voter registration systems in jurisdictions in which those systems did not previously exist; and

(4) public education on the availability of new methods of registering to vote, updating registration, and correcting registration.

SEC. 1009. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—

(a) AUTHORIZATION.—There are authorized to be appropriated—

(1) $500,000,000 for fiscal year 2019; and

(2) such sums as may be necessary for each succeeding fiscal year.

(2) Voting age population percentage defined.—In paragraph (1), the “voting age population percentage” for a State is the quotient of—

(A) the voting age population of the State (as determined on the basis of the most recent information available from the Bureau of the Census); and

(B) the total voting age population of all States (as determined on the basis of the most recent information available from the Bureau of the Census).

(d) Reports to Congress.—(1) Reports by recipients of grants.—Not later than 6 months after the date on which the final grant is made under this section, each recipient of a grant shall submit a report to the Commission on the activities conducted with the funds provided by the grant.

(2) Reports by Commission.—Not later than 1 year after the date on which the final grant is made under this section, the Commission shall submit a report to Congress on the grants made under this section and the activities carried out by recipients with the grants, and shall include in the report such recommendations as the Commission considers appropriate.

(e) Funding.—(1) Continuing availability of amount appropriated.—Any amount appropriated to carry out this section shall remain available without fiscal year limitation until expended.

(2) Administrative expenses.—Of the amount appropriated for any fiscal year to carry out this section, not more than 3 percent shall be available for administrative expenses of the Commission.

SEC. 1802. STATE DEFINED.

In this subtitle, the term “State” includes the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

Subtitle L—Enhancement of Enforcement

SEC. 1811. ENHANCEMENT OF ENFORCEMENT OF HELP AMERICA VOTE ACT OF 2002.

(a) COMPLAINTS; AVAILABILITY OF PRIVATE RIGHT OF ACTION.—Section 801 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21111) is amended—

(1) by striking “The Attorney General” and inserting “(A) IN GENERAL.—The Attorney General”; and

(2) by adding at the end of the following new subsection—

“(b) FILING OF COMPLAINTS BY AGGRIEVED PERSONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—A person who is aggrieved by a violation of title III which has occurred, is occurring, or is about to occur may file a written, signed, notarized complaint with the Attorney General describing the violation which under the Act or 28 U.S.C. 2431(a) the Attorney General is authorized to take appropriate action under this section. The Attorney General shall immediately provide a copy of a complaint filed under this paragraph to theViolations of campaign finance laws are a serious matter, as they can undermine the integrity of the democratic process. The amendments discussed here aim to enhance the enforcement mechanisms and increase accountability. The amendments ensure that the Attorney General has the authority to investigate and take action against violations, and they clarify the role of the Attorney General in the enforcement process. The amendments also specify the types of violations to which the Attorney General’s authority applies, including violations affecting the result of an election for Federal office.

The amendments also establish procedures for the Attorney General to take appropriate action in response to a complaint. These procedures include investigating the complaint and determining whether there is evidence of a violation. If a violation is found, the Attorney General may take appropriate action, such as filing a lawsuit or referring the matter to the Department of Justice for criminal prosecution. The amendments also provide for the protection of confidential information and for the issuance of subpoenas to obtain evidence.

The amendments are designed to strengthen the enforcement mechanisms for campaign finance laws, particularly in cases where the Attorney General has reason to believe there may be a violation affecting the result of an election for Federal office. It is important to ensure that these laws are enforced effectively to maintain public confidence in the integrity of the political process.

The amendments also address the role of the United States Comptroller General in the enforcement process. The Comptroller General has the authority to investigate and report on program integrity, which includes campaign finance laws. The amendments clarify that the Comptroller General’s responsibilities do not apply to a chief State election administration official with respect to an election for Federal office in which the official or an immediate family member of the official is a candidate.

The amendments also provide for the protection of confidential information, including personal information about individuals who are not registered to vote or who have not been required to register. The amendments require that such information be protected to ensure the privacy of individuals.

The amendments also provide for the protection of confidential information, including personal information about individuals who are not registered to vote or who have not been required to register. The amendments require that such information be protected to ensure the privacy of individuals.
‘‘(iii) In addition to transmitting the message described in clause (ii) not fewer than twice during each calendar year, the Campus Vote Coordinator shall transmit the message under this subsection no less than 30 days prior to the deadline for registering to vote for any election for Federal, State, or local office in the State: ‘‘

(B) that institution in its normal course of operations requests each student registering for enrollment in a course of study, including students registering for enrollment in distance or correspondence courses, to complete a statement for a contributing agency under the Automatic Voter Registration Act of 2018.

‘‘(C) If the institution is not described in subparagraph (A) or (B), the institution will comply with the requirements for a voter registration agency in the State in which it is located in accordance with section 7 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20506).

‘‘(D) This paragraph applies only with respect to an institution which is located in a State to which section 4(b) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20503(b)) does not apply.’’.

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to elections held on or after January 1, 2020.

(c) GRANTS TO INSTITUTIONS DEMONSTRATING EXCELLENCE IN STUDENT VOTER REGISTRATION.—

(1) GRANTS AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of Education may award competitive grants to public and private nonprofit institutions of higher education that are subject to the requirements of section 487(a)(23) of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 1094(a)(23)), as amended by subsection (a) and that the Secretary determines have demonstrated excellence in registering students to vote in elections for public office beyond meeting the minimum requirements of such section.

(2) ELIGIBILITY.—An institution of higher education is eligible to receive a grant under this subsection if the institution submits to the Secretary of Education, at such time and in such form as the Secretary may require, an application containing such information and assurances as the Secretary may require to make the determination described in paragraph (1), including information and assurances that the institution carried out activities to increase voter registration by students, such as the following:

(A) Sponsoring large on-campus voter mobilization efforts.

(B) Engaging the surrounding community in nonpartisan voter registration and get out the vote efforts.

(C) Creating a website for students with centralized information about voter registration and election dates.

(D) Inviting candidates to speak on campus.

(E) Offering rides to students to the polls to increase voter education, registration, and mobilization.

(3) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 2020 and each succeeding fiscal year such sums as may be necessary to award grants under this subsection.

(d) PROVISIONS RELATING TO OPTION OF STUDENTS TO REGISTER IN JURISDICTION OF INSTITUTION OF HIGHER EDUCATION OR JURISDICTION OF Domicile.—It is the sense of Congress that, as provided under existing law, students who attend an institution of higher education and reside in the jurisdiction of the institution of higher education that institution should have the option of registering to vote in elections for Federal office in that jurisdiction or in the jurisdiction of their own domicile.

SEC. 1902. MINIMUM NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS FOR VOTERS AFFECTED BY POLLING PLACE CHANGES.

(a) REQUIREMENTS.—Section 302 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21082), as amended by section 1601(a), is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (f) as subsection (g); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (e) the following new subsection (h):

‘‘(h) MINIMUM NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS FOR VOTERS AFFECTED BY POLLING PLACE CHANGES.—

‘‘(1) IN GENERAL.—If a State assigns an individual who is a registered voter in a State to a polling place with respect to an election for Federal office which is not the same polling place to which the individual previously was assigned with respect to the most recent election for Federal office in the State in which the individual was assigned to vote—

‘‘(A) the State shall notify the individual of the location of the polling place not later than 7 days before the date of the election; or

‘‘(B) if the State makes such an assignment fewer than 7 days before the date of the election and the individual appears on the date of the election at the polling place to which the individual was previously assigned, the State shall make every reasonable effort to enable the individual to vote on the date of the election.

‘‘(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—This subsection shall apply to elections held on or after January 1, 2020.

(c) USE OF STATEMENT.—Title III of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21081 et seq.) is amended by inserting after section 303 the following new section:

‘‘SEC. 303A. PERMITTING USE OF SWORN WRITTEN STATEMENT TO MEET IDENTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS FOR VOTING.

(a) PERMITTING USE OF STATEMENT.—Title III of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21081 et seq.) is amended by inserting after section 303 the following new section:

‘‘SEC. 303A. PERMITTING USE OF SWORN WRITTEN STATEMENT TO MEET IDENTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS.

(1) USE OF STATEMENT.—

‘‘(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subsection (c), if a State has in effect a requirement that a voter present an identification as a condition of receiving and casting a ballot in an election for Federal office, the State shall permit the individual to meet the requirement of subsection (a) by presenting a sworn written statement in accordance with section 303A.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 302(g) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 21082(g)), as redesignated by subsection (a) and as amended by section 1601(b), is amended by striking ‘‘(d)(2), (e)(2), and (f)(2)’’ and inserting ‘‘(d)(2), (e)(2), and (f)(2)’’.

SEC. 1903. PERMITTING USE OF SWORN WRITTEN STATEMENT TO MEET IDENTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS FOR VOTING.

(a) REQUIREMENTS.—Section 303 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 21082(g)), as redesignated by subsection (a) and amended by section 1601(b), is amended—

(1) by striking ‘‘and’’ at the end of subparagraph (G);

(2) by striking the period at the end of subparagraph (H) and inserting ‘‘; and’’; and

(3) by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

‘‘(1) in the case of a State that has in effect a requirement that a voter present an identification as a condition of receiving and casting a ballot in an election for Federal office, but does not include any ballot covered by section 302(b), is amended—

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to elections occurring on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1904. POSTAGE-FREE BALLOTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 34 of title 39, United States Code, is amended by adding after section 3406 the following:

‘‘3407. Absentee ballots

‘‘(a) Any absentee ballot for any election for Federal office shall be carried expeditiously, with postage prepaid by the State or unit of local government responsible for the administration of the election.

‘‘(b) As used in this section, the term ‘absentee ballot’ means any ballot transmitted by a voter by mail in an election for Federal office, but does not include any ballot covered by section 3406.

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents of such title is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 3406 the following new item:

‘‘Sec. 3403A. Permitting use of sworn written statement to meet identification requirements.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to elections occurring on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1905. REIMBURSEMENT FOR COSTS INCURRED BY STATES IN ESTABLISHING PROGRAMS TO TRACK AND CONFIRM RECEIPT OF ABSENTEE BALLOTS.

(a) REIMBURSEMENT.—Subtitle D of title II of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 15401 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following new part:
PART 7—PAYMENTS TO REIMBURSE STATES FOR COSTS INCURRED IN ESTABLISHING PROGRAM TO TRACK AND CONFIRM RECEIPT OF ABSENTEE BALLOTS

SEC. 297. PAYMENTS TO STATES.

(a) PAYMENTS FOR COSTS OF ESTABLISHING PROGRAM.—In accordance with this section, the Commission shall make a payment to a State to reimburse the State for the costs incurred in establishing, if the State so chooses to establish, an absentee ballot tracking program for costs incurred in making a referral to elections for Federal office held in the State (including costs incurred prior to the date of the enactment of this part).

(b) ABSENTEE BALLOT TRACKING PROGRAM DESCRIBED.—

(1) PROGRAM DESCRIBED.—In this part, an absentee ballot tracking program is a program to track and confirm the receipt of absentee ballots in an election for Federal office under which the State or local election official responsible for the receipt of voted absentee ballots in the election carries out procedures to track and confirm the receipt of such ballots, and makes information on the receipt of such ballots available to the individual who cast the ballot, by means of online access using the Internet site of the official’s office.

(2) INFORMATION ON WHETHER VOTE WAS COUNTED.—The information referred to under subparagraph (A) with respect to the receipt of an absentee ballot shall include information regarding whether the vote cast on the ballot was counted, and, in the case of a vote which was not counted, the reasons therefor.

(3) USE OF TOLL-FREE TELEPHONE NUMBER.—A program established by a State or local election official whose office does not have an Internet site shall establish and operate a toll-free telephone service, using a telephone number that is accessible throughout the United States and that uses easily identifiable numbers, through which individuals throughout the United States may connect directly to the State-based response system described in paragraph (1) with respect to the State involved.

(c) PAYMENTS FOR COSTS INCURRED.—The amount of a payment made to a State under this section shall be equal to the costs incurred by the State in establishing the absentee ballot tracking program, as set forth in the statement submitted under paragraph (1), except that such amount may not exceed the product of—

(A) the number of jurisdictions in the State which are responsible for operating the program; and

(B) $3,000.

(d) LIMIT ON NUMBER OF PAYMENTS RECEIVED.—A State may not receive more than one payment under this part.

(b) CONTINUING AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.—Any amount appropriated pursuant to the authorization under this section shall remain available until expended.

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents of such Act is amended by adding at the end of the items relating to subtitle D of title II the following:

PART 7—PAYMENTS TO REIMBURSE STATES FOR COSTS INCURRED IN ESTABLISHING PROGRAM TO TRACK AND CONFIRM RECEIPT OF ABSENTEE BALLOTS

Sec. 297. Payments to States.

Sec. 297A. Authorization of appropriations.

SEC. 1906. VOTER INFORMATION RESPONSE SYSTEMS AND HOTLINES.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT AND OPERATION OF SYSTEMS AND HOTLINES.—

(1) STATE-BASED RESPONSE SYSTEMS.—The Attorney General shall coordinate the establishment of State-based response systems for responding to questions and complaints from individuals voting or seeking to vote, or registering to vote or seeking to register to vote, in elections for Federal office. Such system shall provide—

(A) State-specific, same-day, and immediate assistance to such individuals, including information on how to register to vote, the location and hours of operation of polling places, and how to obtain absentee ballots; and

(B) State-specific, same-day, and immediate assistance to individuals encountering problems with registering to vote or voting, including individuals encountering intimidation or deceptive practices.

(2) HOTLINE.—The Attorney General, in consultation with State election officials, shall establish and operate a toll-free telephone service, using a telephone number that is accessible throughout the United States and that uses easily identifiable numbers, through which individuals throughout the United States may contact directly to the State-based response system described in paragraph (1) with respect to the State involved.

(3) COLLECTION OF INFORMATION FROM STATES.—The Attorney General shall coordinate the collection of information from States and that uses easily identifiable numbers, through which individuals throughout the United States may contact directly to the State-based response system described in paragraph (1) with respect to the State involved.

(b) COLLECTION OF INFORMATION FROM STATES.—The Attorney General shall coordinate the collection of information from States and that uses easily identifiable numbers, through which individuals throughout the United States may contact directly to the State-based response system described in paragraph (1) with respect to the State involved.

(c) COLLABORATION WITH STATE AND LOCAL ELECTION OFFICIALS.—

(1) COLLECTION OF INFORMATION FROM STATES.—The Attorney General shall coordinate the collection of information from States and that uses easily identifiable numbers, through which individuals throughout the United States may contact directly to the State-based response system described in paragraph (1) with respect to the State involved.

(2) FORWARDING QUESTIONS AND COMPLAINTS TO STATES.—If an individual contacts the free telephone service established under paragraph (2) on the date of an election for Federal office with a question or complaint with respect to a particular State or jurisdiction made to the Attorney General, the Attorney General shall forward the question or complaint immediately to the appropriate election official of the State or jurisdiction so that the official may answer the question or remedy the complaint on that date.

(3) FORWARDING QUESTIONS AND COMPLAINTS TO STATES.—If an individual contacts the free telephone service established under paragraph (2) on the date of an election for Federal office with a question or complaint with respect to a particular State or jurisdiction made to the Attorney General, the Attorney General shall forward the question or complaint immediately to the appropriate election official of the State or jurisdiction so that the official may answer the question or remedy the complaint on that date.

(4) CONSULTATION REQUIREMENTS FOR DEVELOPMENT OF SYSTEMS AND SERVICES.—The Attorney General shall consult with the State-based response system under paragraph (1) and the free telephone service under paragraph (2) that are each developed in consultation with civil rights organizations, voting rights groups, State and local election officials, voter protection groups, and interested community organizations, especially those that have experience in the operation of similar systems and services.

(5) USE OF SERVICES BY INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES AND INDIVIDUALS WITH LIMITED ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY.—The Attorney General shall design and operate the toll-free telephone service established under this section in a manner that ensures that individuals with disabilities are fully able to use the service, and that assistance is provided in languages in which more than one hundred (100) individuals who are residents of the State and that uses easily identifiable numbers, through which individuals throughout the United States may contact directly to the State-based response system described in paragraph (1) with respect to the State involved.

(c) VOTER HOTLINE TASK FORCE.—

(1) APPOINTMENT BY ATTORNEY GENERAL.—The Attorney General shall appoint individuals in such number as the Attorney General considers appropriate but in no event fewer than 3 to serve on a Voter Hotline Task Force to provide ongoing analysis and assessment of the operation of the telephone service established under this section, and shall give special consideration in making appointments to the Task Force to individu-of elections, including but not limited to identifying how to eliminate coordinated voter suppression efforts and how to establish effective mechanisms for distributing updates on changes to voting requirements; and

(5) any recommendations on best practices for the State-based response systems established under subsection (a)(1).

(e) AUTHORIZATION OF ADOPTION.—

(1) AUTHORIZATION.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Attorney General for fiscal year 2019 and each succeeding fiscal year such sums as may be necessary to carry out this section.

(2) SET-ASIDE FOR OUTREACH.—Of the amounts appropriated to carry out this section for a fiscal year pursuant to the authorization under paragraph (1), not less than 15 percent shall be used for outreach activities to make the public aware of the availability of the telephone service established under this section, with an emphasis on outreach to individuals with disabilities and individuals to the limited proficiency in the English language.

PART 2—IMPROVEMENTS IN OPERATION OF ELECTION ASSISTANCE COMMISSION

SEC. 1911. REAUTHORIZATION OF ELECTION ASSISTANCE COMMISSION.

Section 210 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 20900) is amended—

(1) by striking “for each of the fiscal years 2003 through 2005” and inserting “for fiscal year 2019 and each succeeding fiscal year”; and

(2) by striking “but not to exceed $10,000,000” and inserting “not to exceed $15,000,000”.

SEC. 1913. REQUIRING STATES TO PARTICIPATE IN POST-GENERAL ELECTION SURVEYS.

(a) REQUIREMENT.—Title III of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21081 et seq.), as amended by section 1903(a), is further amended by inserting after section 1903(a) the following new section:—

“SEC. 303B. REQUIRING PARTICIPATION IN POST-GENERAL ELECTION SURVEYS.

“(a) REQUIREMENT.—Each State shall furnish to the Commission such information as the Commission may request for purposes of conducting any post-election survey of the States with respect to the administration of a regularly scheduled general election for Federal office.

“(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—This section shall apply with respect to the regularly scheduled general election for Federal office held in November 2020 and any succeeding election.”

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents of this Act, as amended by section 1903(c), is further amended by inserting after the item relating to section 303A the following new item:

Sec. 2501. Severability.

Subtitle I—Findings Reaffirming Commitment of Congress to Restore the Voting Rights Act

Sec. 2601. FINDINGS REAFFIRMING COMMITMENT OF CONGRESS TO RESTORE THE VOTING RIGHTS ACT.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The right to vote is a fundamental right, the hallmark of American democracy, and the cornerstone of our Nation’s democratic process. The Nation has a long history of use of federal and state laws and policies to destroy the power of African Americans, as disabled, young, elderly, and low-income communities of color.

(2) The 2018 midterm election provides further evidence that systemic voter discrimination and intimidation continues to occur in communities of color across the country, making it clear that voter disenfranchisement cannot be achieved until Congress restores key provisions of the Voting Rights Act.

(3) Congress must remain vigilant in protecting the right to vote.

Congress should follow this precedent by modernizing the electoral system to:

(A) improve access to the ballot;

(B) enhance the integrity and security of our voting systems;

(C) ensure greater accountability for the administration of elections;

(D) restore voting rights to Native American voters; and

(E) ensure that Federal civil rights laws protect the rights of voters against discriminatory and deceptive practices.

Subtitle J—Findings Relating to Native American Voting Rights

Sec. 2701. FINDINGS RELATING TO NATIVE AMERICAN VOTING RIGHTS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The right to vote is a fundamental right the hallmark of American democracy, and the cornerstone of our Nation’s democratic process. The Nation has a long history of use of federal and state laws and policies to destroy the power of African Americans, as disabled, young, elderly, and low-income communities of color.

(2) The 700,000 residents of the District of Columbia pay more Federal taxes per capita than residents of any State in the country, yet do not have full and equal representation in the Federal Government because they do not have voting representation on the floor in either Chamber of Congress or freedom from congressional interference in purely local matters.

(3) There are no constitutional, historical, financial, or economic reasons why the 700,000 Americans who live in the District of Columbia should not be granted statehood.

(4) The District of Columbia has a larger population than two States—Wyoming and Vermont, and is close to the population of the seven States that have a population of under one million fully represented residents.

(5) The District of Columbia government has one of the strongest fiscal positions of any jurisdiction in the United States, with a $14.6 billion budget for fiscal year 2019 and a $2.8 billion general fund balance as of September 30, 2018.

(6) The District of Columbia’s total personal income is higher than that of seven States, its per capita personal consumption expenditures is higher than those of any other jurisdiction, and its total personal consumption expenditures is greater than those of seven States.

(7) Congress has authority under article IV, section 3, clause 1, which gives Congress power to admit new states to the Union, and Article I, Section 8, Clause 17, which grants Congress power over the seat of the Federal Government, to admit the new State carved out of the residential areas of the Federal seat of Government, while maintaining as the Federal seat of Government the United States Capitol, Federal monuments, Federal buildings and grounds, the National Mall, the White House and other Federal property.

Subtitle K—Territorial Voting Rights

Sec. 2801. FINDINGS RELATING TO TERRITORIAL VOTING RIGHTS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The right to vote is one of the most powerful instruments residents of the territories of the United States have to ensure that their voices are heard.

(2) These Americans have played an important part in the American democracy for more than 120 years.

(3) Political participation and the right to vote among the highest in all of the territories in part because they were not always afforded these rights.

(4) Voter participation in the territories consistently ranks among the lowest than many communities on the mainland.

(5) Territorial residents serve and die, on a per capita basis, at a higher rate in every United States war and serve in the National Guard, as an expression of their commitment to American democratic principles and patriotism.

Sec. 2902. CONGRESSIONAL TASK FORCE ON VOTING RIGHTS ACT & NAVRA

(a) Eligibility. Includes citizens of territories of the United States, or citizens of the District of Columbia Statehood.

(b) Reaffirming Congress’ commitment to establish within the legislative branch a Congressional Task Force on Voting Rights of United States Citizen Residents of Territories of the United States (in this section referred to as the “Task Force”).

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—The Task Force shall be composed of 12 members as follows:

(1) One Member of the House of Representatives, who shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, in coordination with the Chairman of the Committee on Natural Resources of the House of Representatives.

(2) One Member of the House of Representatives, who shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, in coordination with the Chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives.

(3) One Member of the House of Representatives, who shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, in coordination with the Chairman of the Committee on Administration of the House of Representatives.

(7) One Member of the Senate, who shall be appointed by the Majority Leader of the Senate, in coordination with the Chairman of the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate.

(8) One Member of the Senate, who shall be appointed by the Majority Leader of the Senate, in coordination with the Chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary of the Senate.

(9) One Member of the Senate, who shall be appointed by the Majority Leader of the Senate, in coordination with the Chairman of the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate.

(10) One Member of the Senate, who shall be appointed by the Minority Leader of the Senate, in coordination with the ranking minority member of the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate.

(11) One Member of the Senate, who shall be appointed by the Majority Leader of the Senate, in coordination with the ranking minority member of the Committee on the Judiciary of the Senate.

(12) One Member of the Senate, who shall be appointed by the Minority Leader of the Senate, in coordination with the ranking minority member of the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate.

(c) DUTIES OF APPOINTMENT.—All appointments to the Task Force shall be made not later than 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

(d) CHAIR.—The Speaker shall designate one Member to serve as chair of the Task Force.

(e) VACANCIES.—Any vacancy in the Task Force shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(f) REPORT.—Not later than December 31, 2019, the Task Force shall issue a report containing its findings to the House of Representatives and the Senate regarding:

(1) the economic and societal consequences (through appropriate metrics) that come with political disenfranchisement of United States citizens in territories of the United States;

(2) impediments to full and equal voting rights for United States citizens who are residents of territories of the United States in Federal elections, including the election for President and Vice President of the United States;

(3) impediments to full and equal voting representation in the House of Representatives for United States citizens who are residents of territories of the United States;

(4) recommended changes that, if adopted, would allow for full and equal voting rights for United States citizens who are residents of territories of the United States in Federal elections, including the election of the President and Vice President of the United States;

(5) recommended changes that, if adopted, would allow for full and equal voting representation in the House of Representatives for United States citizens who are residents of territories of the United States; and

(6) additional information the Task Force deems appropriate.

(a) USE OF PLAN REQUIRED.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, and except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, congressional redistricting conducted by a State shall be conducted in accordance with—

(1) the redistricting plan developed and enacted into law by the independent redistricting commission established by the State, in accordance with part 2; or

(2) if a plan developed by such commission is enacted into law by a 3-judge court, in accordance with section 2421.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 22(c) of the Act entitled “An Act to provide for the fifteenth and subsequent decennial censuses and to provide for an apportionment of Representatives in Congress”, approved June 21, 1929 (2 U.S.C. 2a(c)), is amended by striking “in the manner provided by the law thereof” and inserting: “in the manner provided by the Redistricting Reform Act of 2019.”

(c) SPECIAL RULE FOR EXISTING COMMISSIONS.—Subsection (a) does not apply to any State in which, under law in effect continu- ously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, congressional redistricting is carried out in accordance with a plan developed and approved by an independent redistricting commission which, in compliance with each of the following requirements—

(1) PUBLICLY AVAILABLE APPLICATION PROCESS.—Membership on the commission is open to citizens of the State through a publicly available application process.

(2) DISQUALIFICATIONS FOR GOVERNMENT SERVICE AND POLITICAL APPOINTMENT.—Indi- viduals who have served as a public official for United States citizens who are residents of territories of the United States; and

(3) SCREENING FOR CONFLICTS.—Individuals who apply to serve on the commission are screened through a process that excludes positions with conflicts of interest from the pool of potential commissioners.

(2) MULTI-PARTISAN COMPOSITION.—Members of the commission are required to meet certain criteria in the map drawing process, including minimizing the division of communities of interest and a ban on drawing maps to favor a political party.

PUBLIC INPUT.—Public hearings are held and comments from the public are accepted before a final map is approved.

(3) PUBLIC INPUT.—Public hearings are held and comments from the public are accepted before a final map is approved.

(4) BROAD-BASED SUPPORT FOR APPROVAL OF REDISTRICTING PLAN.—The approval of the redistricting plan requires a majority vote of the members of the commission, including the support of at least one member of each of the following:

(A) Members who are affiliated with the political party whose candidate received the most votes in the most recent Statewide election for Federal office held in the State. (B) Members who are affiliated with the political party whose candidate received the second highest votes in the most recent Statewide election for Federal office held in the State. (C) Members who are not affiliated with any political party. (D) Representatives from political parties other than the political parties described in subparagraphs (A) and (B).

SEC. 2402. BAN ON MID-DECADE REDISTRICTING. A State that has been redistricted in accordance with this subtitle and a State described in section 2401(c) may not be redistricted again until after the next apportionment. (a) APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS.—(1) I N GENERAL.—The nonpartisan agency established or designated by a State under section 2414(a) shall establish an independent redistricting commission for the State which shall consist of 15 members appointed by the agency as follows: (A) Not later than October 1 of a year ending in the numeral zero, the agency shall, at a public meeting held not earlier than 15 days after notice of the meeting has been given to the public, first appoint 6 members as follows: (i) The agency shall appoint 2 members on a random basis from the majority category of the approved selection pool (as described in section 2412(b)(1)). (ii) The agency shall appoint 2 members on a random basis from the minority category of the approved selection pool (as described in section 2412(b)(1)). (B) Not later than November 15 of a year ending in the numeral zero, the agency shall, at a public meeting held not earlier than 15 days after notice of the meeting has been given to the public, then appoint 9 members as follows: (i) The members shall appoint 3 members from the majority category of the approved selection pool (as described in section 2412(b)(1)(A)). (ii) The members shall appoint 3 members from the minority category of the approved selection pool (as described in section 2412(b)(1)(B)). (C) The members shall appoint 3 members from the independent category of the approved selection pool (as described in section 2412(b)(1)(C)).

(b) APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS APPOINTED BY FIRST MEMBERS.—(1) I N GENERAL.—The first members of the independent redistricting commission shall, at a public meeting held not earlier than 15 days after notice of the meeting has been given to the public, first appoint 3 members as follows: (i) The members shall appoint 1 member from each of the categories referred to in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1). (ii) The members shall appoint 1 member from each of the categories referred to in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1). (C) The members shall appoint 1 member from each of the categories referred to in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1).

(c) RULES FOR APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS APPOINTED BY FIRST MEMBERS.—(1) AFFIRMATIVE VOTE OF AT LEAST 4 MEMBERS.—The appointment of any of the 9 members of the independent redistricting commission who are appointed by the first members of the commission pursuant to subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1), as well as the designation of alternates for such members pursuant to subparagraph (B) of paragraph (3) and the appointment of alternates to fill vacancies pursuant to subparagraph (B) of paragraph (4), shall require the affirmative vote of at least 4 of the members appointed by the nonpartisan agency under subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1).

SEC. 2403. REPORT BY APPLICANTS.—(A) AFFIRMATIVE VOTE OF AT LEAST 4 MEMBERS.—The appointment of any of the 9 members of the independent redistricting commission who are appointed by the first members of the commission pursuant to subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1), as well as the designation of alternates for such members pursuant to subparagraph (B) of paragraph (3) and the appointment of alternates to fill vacancies pursuant to subparagraph (B) of paragraph (4), shall require the affirmative vote of at least 4 of the members appointed by the nonpartisan agency under subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1).

(b) ENSURING DIVERSITY.—In appointing the 9 members under subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1), as well as in designating alternates pursuant to subparagraph (B) of paragraph (3) in appointing alternates to fill vacancies described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (4), the first members of the independent redistricting commission shall ensure that the membership is representative of demographic groups (including racial, ethnic, economic, geographic) and geographic regions of the State, and provides racial, ethnic, and language minorities protected under the Voting Rights Act of 1965 with a meaningful opportunity to participate in the development of the State’s redistricting plan.

(c) DESIGNATION OF ALTERNATES TO SERVE IN CASE OF VACANCIES.—(A) MEMBERS APPOINTED BY AGENCY.—At the time the agency appoints the members of the independent redistricting commission under subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1), from each of the categories referred to in such subparagraph, the agency shall, on a random basis, designate other individuals from such category to serve as alternate members who may be appointed to fill vacancies in the commission in accordance with paragraph (4).

(b) MEMBERS APPOINTED BY FIRST MEMBERS.—At the time the members appointed by the agency appoint the other members of the independent redistricting commission under subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1), from each of the categories referred to in such subparagraph, the members shall, in accordance with the special rules described in paragraph (2), designate 2 other individuals from such category to serve as alternate members who may be appointed to fill vacancies in the commission in accordance with paragraph (4).

(C) Members who are affiliated with any political party or who are affiliated with political parties other than the political parties described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) shall, at a public meeting held not earlier than 15 days after notice of the meeting has been given to the public, first appoint 3 members as follows: (i) The members shall appoint 1 member from each of the categories referred to in subparagraph (A), including at least one member from each of the categories referred to in such subparagraph.

(D) Members who are affiliated with any political party or who are affiliated with political parties other than the political parties described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) shall, at a public meeting held not earlier than 15 days after notice of the meeting has been given to the public, first appoint 3 members as follows: (i) The members shall appoint 1 member from each of the categories referred to in subparagraph (A), including at least one member from each of the categories referred to in such subparagraph.

(E) Members who are affiliated with any political party or who are affiliated with political parties other than the political parties described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) shall, at a public meeting held not earlier than 15 days after notice of the meeting has been given to the public, first appoint 3 members as follows: (i) The members shall appoint 1 member from each of the categories referred to in subparagraph (A), including at least one member from each of the categories referred to in such subparagraph.

(F) Members who are affiliated with any political party or who are affiliated with political parties other than the political parties described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) shall, at a public meeting held not earlier than 15 days after notice of the meeting has been given to the public, first appoint 3 members as follows: (i) The members shall appoint 1 member from each of the categories referred to in subparagraph (A), including at least one member from each of the categories referred to in such subparagraph.

(G) Members who are affiliated with any political party or who are affiliated with political parties other than the political parties described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) shall, at a public meeting held not earlier than 15 days after notice of the meeting has been given to the public, first appoint 3 members as follows: (i) The members shall appoint 1 member from each of the categories referred to in subparagraph (A), including at least one member from each of the categories referred to in such subparagraph.

persons with knowledge of the individual’s history of political activity.

(5) ENCOURAGING RESIDENTS TO APPLY FOR INCLUSION IN POOL.—The nonpartisan agency shall take such steps as may be necessary to ensure that residents of the State across various geographic regions and demographic groups are aware of the opportunity to serve on the redistricting commission, including publicizing the role of the panel and using newspapers, broadcast media, and online sources, including ethnic media, to encourage individuals to apply for inclusion in the selection pool developed under this subsection.

(6) ESTABLISHMENT OF SELECTION POOL.—At the time the nonpartisan agency submits the selection pool to the Select Committee on Redistricting under paragraph (1), it shall post on the agency’s public website a report describing the process by which the pool was developed, and shall include in the report a description of how the individuals in the pool meet the eligibility criteria of subsection (a) and of how the pool reflects the factors the agency is required to take into consideration under paragraph (6).

(7) PUBLIC COMMENT ON SELECTION POOL.—During the 14-day period which begins on the date the nonpartisan agency publishes the report under paragraph (6), the agency shall accept comments from the public on the individuals included in the selection pool. The agency shall post all such comments on its public website under the term of the report on the pool for purposes of such subparagraph.

SEC. 2413. CRITERIA FOR REDISTRICTING PLAN

IN GENERAL.—Not later than 15 days and not later than 14 days after receiving the selection pool submitted under subsection (b), the Select Committee on Redistricting shall—

(a) develop and analyze the proposal for a second replacement selection pool from the nonpartisan agency under paragraph (1), and the Select Committee on Redistricting shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be considered the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a replacement selection pool in accordance with subsection (c).

(b) INACTION DEEMED REJECTION.—If the Select Committee on Redistricting fails to approve or reject the pool within the deadline set forth in subparagraph (A), the Select Committee shall be deemed to have rejected the pool for purposes of such subparagraph.

(c) DEVELOPMENT OF REPLACEMENT SELECTION POOL.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—If the Select Committee on Redistricting rejects the selection pool submitted by the nonpartisan agency under subsection (b), not later than 14 days after the rejection, the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit to the Select Committee a replacement selection pool, under the same terms and conditions that applied to the development of the selection pool under paragraphs (1) through (7) of subsection (b). The replacement pool submitted under this paragraph may include individuals who were included in the rejected selection pool submitted under subsection (b), so long as at least one of the individuals in the replacement pool was not included in either such rejected pool.

(ii) ACTION BY SELECT COMMITTEE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Not earlier than 15 days and not later than 14 days after receiving the replacement selection pool submitted under paragraph (1), the Select Committee on Redistricting shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be considered the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a second replacement selection pool in accordance with subsection (d).

(B) INACTION DEEMED REJECTION.—If the Select Committee on Redistricting fails to approve or reject the replacement selection pool within the deadline set forth in subparagraph (A), the Select Committee shall be deemed to have rejected the pool for purposes of such subparagraph.

(C) EFFECT OF REJECTION.—If the Select Committee on Redistricting rejects the second replacement pool from the nonpartisan agency under paragraph (1), the Select Committee on Redistricting shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be considered the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a second replacement selection pool in accordance with subsection (d).

(D) INACTION DEEMED REJECTION.—If the Select Committee on Redistricting fails to approve or reject the replacement selection pool within the deadline set forth in subparagraph (A), the Select Committee shall be deemed to have rejected the pool for purposes of such subparagraph.

SEC. 2413A. CRITERIA FOR REDISTRICTING PLAN

BY INDEPENDENT COMMISSION;

COMMUNITY OF INTEREST AND HISTORY—

IN GENERAL.—Not later than 21 days after receiving the replacement selection pool submitted under subsection (b), the independent redistricting commission shall—

(a) develop and analyze the proposal for a second replacement selection pool from the nonpartisan agency under paragraph (1), and the independent redistricting commission shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be considered the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a second replacement selection pool in accordance with subsection (d).

(b) INACTION DEEMED REJECTION.—If the independent redistricting commission fails to approve or reject the replacement selection pool within the deadline set forth in subparagraph (A), the independent redistricting commission shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be considered the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a second replacement selection pool in accordance with subsection (d).

(c) EFFECT OF REJECTION.—If the independent redistricting commission rejects the second replacement selection pool from the nonpartisan agency under paragraph (1), the independent redistricting commission shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be considered the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a second replacement selection pool in accordance with subsection (d).

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a second replacement selection pool in accordance with subsection (d).
submitted by individuals included in any selection pool, except that the commission may redact from such applications any financial or other personally sensitive information.

(B) SEARCHABLE FORMAT.—The commission shall ensure that all information posted and maintained on the site under this paragraph, including information and proposals submitted by the public, shall be maintained in an easily searchable format.

(C) DEADLINE.—The commission shall ensure that information posted on the website under this paragraph is operational (in at least a preliminary format) not later than January 1 of the year following a decennial census.

(3) PUBLIC COMMENT PERIOD.—The commission shall solicit, accept, and consider comments from the public with respect to its duties, responsibilities, and procedures at any time during the period:

(A) which begins on January 1 of the year ending in the numeral one; and

(B) which ends 7 days before the date of the meeting at which the commission shall vote on approving the final redistricting plan for enactment into law under subsection (d)(2).

(4) PUBLICATION IN VARIOUS GEOGRAPHIC LOCATIONS.—To the greatest extent practicable, the commission shall hold its meetings and hearings in various geographic regions throughout the State.

(5) MULTIPLE LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS FOR ALL NOTICES.—The commission shall make each notice required to be posted and published under this section available in any language in which the State (or any jurisdiction in the State) is required to provide election materials under section 203 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

(c) DEVELOPMENT AND PUBLICATION OF PRELIMINARY REDISTRICTING PLAN:

(1) IN GENERAL.—After notice and opportunity for comment on the redistricting plans for the State and the processes by which the commission will develop the preliminary plan under this subsection, the independent redistricting commission of a State shall develop and publish a preliminary redistricting plan.

(2) MINIMUM PUBLIC HEARINGS AND OPPORTUNITY FOR COMMENT PRIOR TO DEVELOPMENT.—

(A) 3 HEARINGSREQUIRED.—Prior to developing a preliminary redistricting plan under this subsection, the commission shall hold not fewer than 3 public hearings at which the members of the commission shall publish subsequent preliminary redistricting plans, so long as the process for the development and publication of each such subsequent plan meets the requirements set forth in this subsection for the development and publication of the first preliminary redistricting plan.

(B) MINIMUM PERIOD FOR NOTICE PRIOR TO HEARINGS.—Not fewer than 14 days prior to the date of each hearing held under this paragraph, the commission shall post notices of the hearing in on the website maintained under subsection (b)(2), and shall provide for the publication of such notices in newspapers of general circulation throughout the State. Each such notice shall specify the date, time, and location of the hearing.

(6) PERMITTING MULTIPLE PRELIMINARY PLANS.—At the option of the commission, after developing and publishing the preliminary redistricting plan under this subsection, it shall publish subsequent preliminary redistricting plans, so long as the process for the development and publication of each such subsequent plan meets the requirements set forth in this subsection for the development and publication of the first preliminary redistricting plan.

(d) PROCESS FOR ENACTMENT OF FINAL REDISTRICTING PLAN.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—After taking into consideration all public hearings on any preliminary redistricting plan developed and published under subsection (c), the independent redistricting commission of a State shall approve the final redistricting plan for the State.

(2) MEETING; FINAL VOTE.—Not later than the deadline specified in subsection (h), the commission shall hold a public hearing at which the members of the commission shall vote on approving the final plan for enactment into law.

(3) PUBLICATION OF PLAN AND ACCOMPANYING MATERIALS.—Not fewer than 14 days before the date of the meeting under paragraph (2), the commission shall provide the following information on the website maintained under subsection (b)(2), as well as through newspapers of general circulation throughout the State:

(A) The final redistricting plan, including all relevant maps.

(B) A report by the commission to accompany the plan which provides the background for the plan and the commission’s reasons for selecting the plan as the final redistricting plan, including responses to the public comments received on any preliminary redistricting plan developed and published under subsection (c).

(C) Any dissenting or additional views with respect to the plan of individual members of the commission.

(4) ENACTMENT.—The final redistricting plan developed and published under this subsection shall be deemed to be enacted into law if—

(A) the plan is approved by a majority of the whole membership of the commission; and

(B) at least one member of the commission appointed from each of the categories of the approved selection pool described in section 203(b)(1) approves the plan.

(e) WRITTEN EVALUATION OF PLAN AGAINST EXTERNAL METRICS.—The independent redistricting commission shall include with each redistricting plan developed and published under this section a written evaluation that measures each such plan against external standards, and which covers the process under paragraph (1) of subsection (a), including the impact of the plan on the ability of communities of color to elect candidates of choice, measures of partisan fairness using multiple accepted methodologies, and the degree to which the plan preserves or divides communities of interest.

(f) TRAINING.—The independent redistricting commission of a State may begin its work on the redistricting plan of the State upon receipt of relevant population information from the Bureau of the Census, and shall approve a final redistricting plan for the State in each year ending in the numeral one not later than 8 months after the date on which the State receives the State apportionment notice or October 1, whichever occurs later.

SEC. 2411. ESTABLISHMENT OF RELATED ENTITIES.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT OR DESIGNATION OF NONPARTISAN AGENCY OF STATE LEGISLATURE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Each State shall establish a nonpartisan agency in the legislative branch of the State government to appoint the members of the independent redistricting commission for the State in accordance with section 2411.

(2) NONPARTISANSHIP DESCRIBED.—For purposes of this subsection, an agency shall be considered to be nonpartisan if under the law the agency—

(A) is required to provide services on a nonpartisan basis; and

(B) is required to maintain impartiality; and

(C) is prohibited from advocating for the adoption or rejection of any legislative proposal.

(3) TRAINING OF MEMBERS APPOINTED TO COMMISSION.—Not later than January 15 of a calendar year in which the members of the independent redistricting commission are appointed, the nonpartisan agency established or designated under this subsection shall provide the members of the independent redistricting commission with initial training on their obligations as members of the commission, including obligations under the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and other applicable laws.

(4) REGULATIONS.—The nonpartisan agency established or designated under this subsection shall adopt and publish regulations, after notice and opportunity for comment, establishing the procedures that the agency will follow in fulfilling its duties under this subtitle, including the procedures to be used in vetting the qualifications and political affiliation of applicants and in creating the selection pools, the randomized process to be used in selecting the initial members of the independent redistricting commission, and the rules that the agency will apply to ensure that the agency carries out its duties under this subtitle in a maximally transparent, publicly accessible, and impartial manner.

(5) DESIGNATION OF EXISTING AGENCY.—At its option, a State may designate an existing agency in the legislative branch of its government to appoint the members of the independent redistricting commission for the State under this subtitle, so long as the agency meets the requirements for nonpartisanship under this subsection.

(6) Termination of agency specifically established for redistricting.— If a State does not designate an existing agency under paragraph (5) but instead establishes a new agency to serve as the nonpartisan agency under this section, the new agency shall terminate the creation of a new redistricting plan for the State.

(7) Preservation of records.— The State shall ensure that the records of the nonpartisan agency established in the appropriate State archive in such manner as may be necessary to enable the State to respond to any civil action brought with respect to congressional redistricting in the State.

(8) Deadline.— The State shall meet the requirements of this subsection not later than each October 15 of a year ending in the numerical zero.

(b) Establishment of Select Committee on Redistricting.—

(1) In general.— Each State shall appoint a Select Committee on Redistricting to approve or disapprove a selection pool developed by the independent redistricting commission for the State under section 2412.

(2) Procedure.— The Select Committee on Redistricting for a State under this subsection shall consist of the following members:

(A) 1 member of the upper house of the State legislature, who shall be appointed by the leader of the party with the greatest number of seats in the lower house.

(B) 1 member of the upper house of the State legislature, who shall be appointed by the leader of the party with the second greatest number of seats in the upper house.

(C) 1 member of the lower house of the State legislature, who shall be appointed by the leader of the party with the greatest number of seats in the lower house.

(D) 1 member of the lower house of the State legislature, who shall be appointed by the leader of the party with the second greatest number of seats in the lower house.

(3) Special rule for states with unicameral legislature.— In the case of a State with a unicameral legislature, the Select Committee on Redistricting for a State under this subsection shall consist of the following members:

(A) 2 members of the State legislature appointed by the political party whose candidate received the highest percentage of votes in the most recent Statewide election for Federal office held in the State.

(B) 2 members of the State legislature appointed by the chair of the political party whose candidate received the second highest percentage of votes in the most recent Statewide election for Federal office held in the State.

(4) Deadline.— The State shall meet the requirements of this section not later than each January 15 of a year ending in the numerical zero.

PART 3—ROLE OF COURTS IN DEVELOPMENT OF REDISTRICTING PLANS

SEC. 2431. Enforcement of plan developed by 3-Judge Court.

(a) Development of plan.— If any of the triggering events described in subsection (f) occur in a State under section 2412:

(1) not later than December 15 of the year in which the triggering event occurs, the United States district court for the applicable voting district shall order the court convened pursuant to section 2284 of title 28, United States Code, shall develop and publish the congressional redistricting plan for the State;

(2) the final plan developed and published by the Court under this section shall be deemed to be enacted on the date on which the Court publishes the final plan, as described in subsection (d).

(b) Applicable venue described.— For purposes of section 2412(f) the “applicable venue” with respect to a State is the District of Columbia or the judicial district in which the capital of the State is located.

(3) Procedures for development of plan.—

(1) Criteria.— In developing a redistricting plan for a State under this section, the Court shall adhere to the following conditions that applied or that would have applied, as the case may be, to the development of a plan by the independent redistricting commission of the State under section 2413(a).

(A) Public availability of initial plan.— Upon completing the development of one or more initial redistricting plans, the Court shall make the plans available to the public at no cost, and shall also make available the underlying data used by the Court to develop the plans, and a written evaluation of the plans against external metrics (as described in section 2413(e)).

(B) Publication of final plan.— At any time after the 4-year period which begins on the date the Court makes the plans available to the public under paragraph (1), and taking into consideration any submissions and comments by the public which are received during such period, the Court shall develop and publish the final redistricting plan for the State.

(C) Use of special master.— In the event that the Court is not able to develop and publish a final redistricting plan for the State with sufficient time for an upcoming election, the Court may deviate from the procedures described in paragraph (1) and publish an interim redistricting plan which shall serve as the redistricting plan for the State until the Court develops and publishes a final plan in accordance with this section.

(D) Ticking events described.— The “triggering events” described in this subsection are as follows:

(1) The failure of the State to establish or designate a nonpartisan agency of the State legislature under section 2414(a) prior to the expiration of the deadline set forth in section 2414(a)(5).

(2) The failure of the State to appoint a Select Committee on Redistricting under section 2414(b) prior to the expiration of the deadline set forth in section 2414(b)(4).

(3) The failure of the Select Committee on Redistricting to approve any selection pool or final redistricting plan for the State under section 2412(b)(2).

(4) The failure of the independent redistricting commission of the State to approve a final redistricting plan for the State prior to the expiration of the deadline set forth in section 2413(b)(3).

SEC. 2432. Special rule for redistricting conducted under order of federal court.

If a Federal court requires a State to conduct redistricting subsequent to an appointment of Representatives in the State in order to comply with the Constitution or to enforce the Voting Rights Act of 1965, section 2413 shall apply with respect to the redistricting, except that the court may revise section 2413 to the extent it determines that a revision is appropriate in order to provide for a timely enactment of a new redistricting plan for the State.

PART 4—ADMINISTRATIVE AND MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 2431. Payments to States for carrying out redistricting plans.

(a) Authorization of payments.— Subject to subsection (d), not later than 30 days after a State receives a State apportionment notice, the Election Assistance Commission shall make a payment to a State in accordance with paragraph (1) and, if subsection (d) does not apply, make a payment under this section to the State in an amount equal to:

(1) the number of Representatives to which the State is entitled, as provided under the notice; and

(2) $150,000.

(b) Use of funds.— A State shall use the payment made under this section to establish and operate the State’s independent redistricting commission, to implement the State redistricting plan, and to otherwise carry out congressional redistricting in the State.

(c) No payment to States with single member.— The Election Assistance Commission shall not make a payment under this section to any State which did not have one or more Representatives in the State established under section 2414(b).

(d) Requirements for selection pool as condition of payment.—

(1) Requirement.— Except as provided in paragraph (2), the Election Assistance Commission may not make a payment to a State under this section until the State certifies to the Commission that the nonpartisan agency established or designated by a State under section 2414(b)(3) has, in accordance with section 2412(b)(1), submitted a selection pool to the Select Committee on Redistricting for the State established under section 2414(b).

(2) Special rule for States with existing commissions.— In the case of a State which, pursuant to section 2401(c), is exempt from the requirements of section 2401(a), the Commission may not make a payment to the State under this section until the State certifies to the Commission that its redistricting commission meets the requirements of section 2401(a).

(e) Authorization of appropriations.— There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary for payments under this section.

SEC. 2432. Civil enforcement.

(a) Civil enforcement.
(1) ACTIONS BY ATTORNEY GENERAL.—The Attorney General may bring a civil action in an appropriate district court for such relief as may be appropriate to carry out this subtitle.

(2) AVAILABILITY OF PRIVATE RIGHT OF ACTION.—Any citizen of a State who is aggrieved by the failure of the State to meet the requirements of this subtitle may bring a civil action in the United States district court for the applicable venue for such relief as may be appropriate to remedy the failure. For purposes of this section, the “applicable venue” is the District of Columbia or the judicial district in which the capital of the State is located, as selected by the person who brings the action.

(b) EXPEDITED CONSIDERATION.—In any action brought forth under this section, the following rules shall apply:

(1) The action shall be filed in the district court of the United States for the District of Columbia or for the judicial district in which the capital of the State is located, as selected by the person bringing the action.

(2) The action shall be heard by a 3-judge court convened pursuant to section 2284 of title 28, United States Code.

(3) The court shall consolidate actions brought for relief under subsection (b)(1) with respect to the same State redistricting plan.

(4) The court shall deliver promptly to the Clerk of the House of Representatives and the Secretary of the Senate a copy of the complaint.

(5) A final decision in the action shall be reviewable only by appeal directly to the Supreme Court of the United States. Such appeal shall be taken by filing of a notice of appeal within 30 days, and the filing of a jurisdictional statement within 30 days, of the entry of the final decision.

(6) It shall be the duty of the district court and the courts of appeals of the United States to advance on the docket and to expedite to the greatest possible extent the disposition of the action and appeal.

(c) ATTORNEY’S FEES.—In a civil action under this section, the court may allow the prevailing party (other than the United States) reasonable attorney fees, including litigation expenses, and costs.

(d) RELATION TO OTHER LAWS.—

(1) RIGHTS AND REMEDIES ADDITIONAL TO OTHER REMEDIES.—The rights and remedies established by this section are in addition to all other rights and remedies provided by law, and neither the rights and remedies established by this section nor any other provision of this subtitle shall supersede, restrict, or limit the application of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (52 U.S.C. 10301 et seq.).

(2) VOTING RIGHTS ACT OF 1965.—Nothing in this subtitle authorizes or requires conduct that is prohibited by the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (52 U.S.C. 10301 et seq.).

SEC. 2433. STATE APPOINTMENT NOTICE DEF INED.

In this subtitle, the “State appointment notice” means, with respect to a State, the notice sent to the State from the Clerk of the House of Representatives under section 22(b) of the Act entitled “An Act to provide for the fifteenth and subsequent decennial census, etc.” to provide for an appointment of Representatives in Congress”, approved June 18, 1929 (2 U.S.C. 2a), of the number of Representatives to which the State is entitled.

SEC. 2434. NO EFFECT ON ELECTIONS FOR STATE AND LOCAL OFFICE.

Nothing in this subtitle or in any amendment made by this subtitle may be construed to affect the manner in which a State carries out elections for State or local office, includ ing the process by which a State establishes the districts used in such elections.

SEC. 2435. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This subtitle and the amendments made by this subtitle shall not apply to redistricting carried out pursuant to the decennial census conducted during 2020 or any succeeding decennial census.

Subtitle F—Saving Eligible Voters From Purging

SEC. 2501. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the “Stop Automatically Voiding Eligible Voters Off Their Enrolled Rolls in States Act” or the “Save Voters Act.”

SEC. 2502. CONDITIONS FOR REMOVAL OF VOTERS FROM OFFICIAL LIST OF REGISTERED VOTERS.

(a) CONDITIONS DESCRIBED.—The National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20501 et seq.) is amended by inserting after section 8 the following new section:

“SEC. 8A. CONDITIONS FOR REMOVAL OF VOTERS FROM OFFICIAL LIST OF REGISTERED VOTERS.

“(a) VERIFICATION ON BASIS OF OBJECTIVE AND RELIABLE EVIDENCE OF INELIGIBILITY.—

“(1) REQUIREING VERIFICATION.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, a State may not remove any registrant from the official list of voters eligible to vote in elections for Federal office in the State unless the State verifies, on the basis of objective and reliable evidence, that the registrant is ineligible to vote in such elections.

“(2) FACTORS NOT CONSIDERED AS OBJECTIVE AND RELIABLE EVIDENCE OF INELIGIBILITY.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the following factors, or any combination thereof, shall not be treated as objective and reliable evidence of a registrant’s ineligibility to vote:

“(A) The failure of the registrant to vote in any election;

“(B) The failure of the registrant to respond to any notice sent under section 8(d), unless the notice has been returned as undeliverable;

“(C) The failure of the registrant to take any other action with respect to voting in any election or with respect to the registrant’s status as a registrant.

“(b) NOTICE TO INDIVIDUAL REMOVED.—

“(1) NOTICE TO INDIVIDUAL REMOVED.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 48 hours after a State removes the name of a registrant from the official list of eligible voters for any reason (other than the death of the registrant), the State shall send notice of the removal to the former registrant, and shall include in the notice the grounds for the removal and information on how the former registrant may contest the removal or be reinstated, including a telephone number for the appropriate election official.

“(B) EXCEPTIONS.—Subparagraph (A) does not apply in the case of a registrant—

“(i) who sends written confirmation to the State that the registrant is no longer eligible to vote in the registrant’s jurisdiction in which the registrant was registered; or

“(ii) who is removed from the official list of eligible voters by reason of the death of the registrant.

“(2) PUBLIC NOTICE.—Not later than 48 hours after conducting any general program to remove the names of ineligible voters from the official list of eligible voters (as described in section 8(a)(4)), the State shall disseminate a public notice through such method as is best calculated to reach the general public (including by publishing the notice in a newspaper of wide circulation or posting the notice on the websites of the applicable election officials) that the list maintenance is taking place and that registrants should check their registration status to ensure no errors or mistakes have been made. The State shall ensure that the public notice disseminated under this paragraph is in a format that is reasonably convenient and accessible to eligible voters (including voters who have low vision or are blind).”.

(b) CONDITIONS FOR TRANSMISSION OF NOTICES OF REMOVAL.—Section 8(d) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 20507(d)) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(4) A State may not transmit a notice to a registrant under this subsection unless the State obtains objective and reliable evidence (in accordance with the standards for such evidence which are described in section 8A(a)(2)) that the registrant has changed residence to a place outside the registrant’s jurisdiction in which the registrant is registered.”.

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(1) NATIONAL VOTER REGISTRATION ACT OF 1993.—Section 8(a) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 20507(a)) is amended—

(A) in paragraph (3), by striking “provide” and inserting “subject to section 8A, provide”; and

(B) in paragraph (4), by striking “conduct” and inserting “subject to section 8A, conduct”.

(d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act.

Subtitle G—No Effect on Authority of States to Provide Greater Opportunities for Voting

Nothing in this title or the amendments made by this title, or any application of a provision or amendment to any person or circumstance, is held to be unconstitutional, the remainder of this title and amendments made by this title, and any provisions of this Act, and amendments to any person or circumstance, shall not be affected by the holding.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS ON NEED TO IMPROVE ELECTION INFRASTRUCTURE SECURITY.—It is the sense of Congress that, in light of the lessons learned from Russian interference in the 2016 Presidential election, the Federal Government should intensify its efforts to improve the security of election infrastructure in the United States, including through the use of individual, durable, paper ballots marked by the voter by hand.

Subtitle A—Financial Support for Election Infrastructure

PART 1—VOTING SYSTEM SECURITY IMPROVEMENT GRANTS
Sec. 3001. GRANTS FOR OBTAINING COMPLIANT PAPER BALLOT VOTING SYSTEMS AND CARRYING OUT VOTING SYSTEM SECURITY IMPROVEMENTS.
(a) AVAILABILITY OF GRANTS.—Subtitle D of title II of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21001 et seq.), as amended by section 1060(a), is amended by adding at the end the following new part:

"(a) Availability and Use of Grant.—The Commission shall make a grant to each eligible State—

"(1) to replace a voting system—

"(A) which does not meet the requirements which are first imposed on the State pursuant to this section on the basis of the most recent regular election for Federal office held in November 2016 and which is in compliance with such guidelines and rules; and

"(B) which does meet such requirements and is in compliance with such guidelines and rules; and

"(2) to carry out voting system security improvements described in section 298A with such pro rata reductions in such amounts as may be necessary to ensure that the entire amount appropriated under this part is distributed to the States.

"(b) AMOUNT OF GRANT.—The amount of a grant made to a State under this section shall be such amount as the Commission determines to be appropriate, except that such amount may not be less than the product of $1 and the average of the number of individuals who cast votes in any of the two most recent general elections held in the State for Federal office, divided by 2.

"(c) PRO RATA REDUCTIONS.—If the amount of funds appropriated for grants under this part is insufficient to provide grants to each State which receives the amount of the grant calculated under subsection (b), the Commission shall award each State such pro rata reductions in such amounts as may be necessary to ensure that the entire amount appropriated under this part is distributed to the States.

"(d) ADMINISTRATION OF GRANTS TO ADMINISTER RANKED CHOICE ELECTIONS.—To the greatest extent practicable, an eligible State which receives a grant to replace a voting system under this section shall ensure that the replacement system is capable of administering a system of ranked choice voting under which each voter shall rank the candidates for the office in the order of the voter’s preference.

"SEC. 298A. VOTING SYSTEM SECURITY IMPROVEMENT GRANTS.

"(a) PERMITTED USES.—A voting system security improvement described in this section is any of the following:

"(1) The development of standards for the testing and certification of voting systems.

"(2) Training for the States on the security risk and vulnerability assessments described in paragraph (4).

"(3) The development of an electronic infrastructure to support the operation of ranked choice elections.

"(4) A security risk and vulnerability assessment of the State’s election infrastructure, as described in paragraph (3), and any known or suspected cybersecurity incidents involving any of the goods and services provided by the vendor pursuant to a grant under this part.

"(5) Providing increased technical support for any information technology infrastructure that the chief State election official determines to be part of the State’s election infrastructure.

"(b) The vendor agrees to meet the requirements of subparagraph (A) if, upon becoming aware of the possibility that the vendor no longer meets the requirement described in this paragraph, the vendor shall notify the chief State election official.

"(c) The vendor agrees to meet the requirements of subparagraph (A) if, upon becoming aware of the possibility that the vendor no longer meets the requirement described in this paragraph, the vendor shall notify the chief State election official.

"(3) CYBERSECURITY INCIDENT REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.—(A) IN GENERAL.—A vendor meets the requirements of this paragraph if, upon becoming aware of the possibility that the vendor no longer meets the requirement described in paragraph (3), the vendor promptly assesses whether or not such an incident occurred, and submits a notification meeting the requirements of subparagraph (B) to the Secretary of Homeland Security (as defined in section 3501 of the Federal Information Security Act) who meets the criteria described in paragraph (2).

"(B) CONTENTS OF NOTIFICATIONS.—Each notification submitted under clause (i) or clause (ii) of subparagraph (A) shall contain the following information with respect to any election cybersecurity incident covered by the notification:

"(1) The identity of the incident.

"(2) The identity of the entity that was adversely affected by the incident.

"(3) COMPOSITION OF COMMITTEE RESPONSIBLE FOR DEVELOPING STATE PLAN FOR USE OF PAYMENTS.—Section 255 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 21005) is amended—

"(A) by redesigning subsection (b) as subsection (c); and

"(B) by inserting after subsection (a) the following new subsection:

"(2) COMPOSITION OF COMMITTEE RESPONSIBLE FOR DEVELOPING STATE PLAN FOR USE OF PAYMENTS.—The State will carry out risk-limiting audits later than 5 years after receiving the grant, and the State will carry out any of the following activities:

"(i) The term 'cybersecurity incident' has the meaning given the term 'incident' in section 202 of the National Cybersecurity and Communications Act of 2002 (6 U.S.C. 1401).

"(ii) Which is conducted in accordance with rules and procedures established by the chief State election official of the State which meet the requirements of subsection (c); and

"(iii) The term 'State' means each of the several States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.''.

"(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents of such Act is amended by adding the following new section:

"SEC. 3003. INCORPORATION OF DEFINITIONS.

"(a) IN GENERAL.—Title II of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21031 et seq.), is amended as follows:

"(b) REQUIREMENTS PAYMENTS.—The State may use a requirements payment to carry out any of the following activities:

"(1) a description of how the State will use the grant to carry out the activities authorized under this part;
"(1) Rules for ensuring the security of ballots and documenting that prescribed procedures were followed.

"(2) Rules and procedures for ensuring the accuracy of ballot manifests produced by election agencies.

"(3) Rules and procedures for governing the format of ballot manifests, cast vote records, and other data in the audit.

"(4) Methods to ensure that any cast vote records used in the audit are those used by the voting system to tally the election results on behalf of the Chief State Election Officials and made public.

"(5) Procedures for the random selection of ballots to be inspected manually during each audit.

"(6) Rules for the calculations and other methods to be used in the audit and to determine whether and when the audit of an election is complete.

"(7) Procedures and requirements for testing any software used to conduct risk-limiting audits.

"(d) Definitions.—In this part, the following definitions apply:

"(1) The term ‘ballot manifest’ means a record maintained by each election agency that meets each of the following requirements:

"(A) The record is created without reliance on any part of the voting system used to tabulate votes.

"(B) The record functions as a sampling frame for risk-limiting audits.

"(C) The record contains the following information with respect to the ballots cast and counted in the election:

"(i) The total number of ballots cast and counted by the agency (including undervotes, overvotes, and other invalid ballots).

"(ii) The total number of ballots cast in each data administration by the agency (including undervotes, overvotes, and other invalid ballots).

"(iii) A precise description of the manner in which the ballots are physically stored, including the total number of physical groups of ballots, the numbering system for each group, a unique label for each group, and the number of ballots in each such group.

"(2) The term ‘incorrect outcome’ means an outcome that differs from the outcome that would be determined by a full tabulation of all votes validly cast in the election, determining voter intent manually, directly from the voter-verifiable paper records.

"(3) The term ‘incorrect outcome’ means the winner of an election, whether a candidate or a position.

"(4) The term ‘reported outcome’ means the outcome of an election which is determined according to the canvas and which will become the official, certified outcome unless it is revised by an audit, recount, or other legal process.

"SEC. 299A. ELIGIBILITY OF STATES. —‘A State is eligible to receive a grant under this part if the State submits to the Commission, at such time and in such form as the Commission may require, an application containing—

"(1) a certification that, not later than 5 years after receiving the grant, the State will conduct risk-limiting audits of the results of elections for Federal office held in the State for the calendar year specified in section 299(b); and

"(2) a certification that, not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this section, the chief State election official of the State or an entity established or will establish the rules and procedures for conducting the audits which meet the requirements of section 299(b): (c).

"(3) a certification that the audit shall be completed not later than the date on which the State certifies the results of the election;

"(4) a certification that, after completing the audit, the State shall publish a report on the results of the audit, together with such information as necessary to confirm that the audit was conducted properly;

"(5) a certification that, if a risk-limiting audit conducted under this part leads to a full manual tally of an election, State law or the election agency shall use the results of the full manual tally as the official results of the election; and

"(6) such other information and assurances as the Commission may require.

"SEC. 300B. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS. — There is authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary $6,250,000 for fiscal years 2019 through 2027 for purposes of carrying out this section.

"(d) Eligible Entity Defined.—In this section, the term ‘eligible entity’ means—

"(1) an institution of higher education (as defined in section 101(a) of the Higher Education Act of 1986 (20 U.S.C. 1001(a)), including an institution of higher education that is a historically Black college or university; or

"(b) DEFINITION.—Section 2 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (6 U.S.C. 101) is amended—

"(1) by redesignating paragraphs (6) through (20) as paragraphs (7) through (21), respectively; and

"(2) by inserting after paragraph (5) the following new paragraph:

"‘(6) ELECTION INFRASTRUCTURE.—The term ‘election infrastructure’ means storage facilities, polling places, and centralized vote tabulation locations used to support the administration of elections for public office, as well as related information and communications technology, including voter registration databases, voting electronic mail and other communications systems (including electronic mail and other systems of vendors who have entered into contracts with election agencies to administer elections, manage the election process, and report and display election results), and other systems used to manage the election process and to report and display election results on behalf of an election agency.’.

"(c) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents in section 1(b) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 is amended by striking both items relating to section 319 and the item relating to section 318 and inserting the following new item:

"‘Sec. 318. Social media working group.

‘Sec. 319. Transparency in research and development.

‘Sec. 320. EMP and GMD mitigation research and development.

‘Sec. 321. Election infrastructure innovation grant program.’.

"SEC. 3011. ELECTION INFRASTRUCTURE INNOVATION GRANT PROGRAM.

"(a) IN GENERAL.—Title III of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (6 U.S.C. 181 et seq.) is amended—

"(1) by redesignating the second section 319 (relating to EMP and GMD mitigation research and development) as section 320; and

"(2) by adding at the end the following new section:

"‘SEC. 321. ELECTION INFRASTRUCTURE INNOVATION GRANT PROGRAM.

‘(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Secretary, acting through the Under Secretary for Science and Technology, in coordination with the Chairman of the Election Assistance Commission, shall establish a competitive grant program to award grants to eligible entities, on a competitive basis, for purposes of research and development that are determined to have the potential to significantly improve the security (including cybersecurity), quality, reliability, accuracy, accessibility, and affordability of election infrastructure.

‘(b) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Not later than 90 days after the conclusion of each fiscal year for which grants are awarded under this section, the Secretary shall submit to the Committee on Homeland Security and the Committee on House Administration of the House of Representatives and the Committee for Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs and the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate a report describing such grants and analyzing the impact, if any, of such grants on the security and operation of election infrastructure.

‘(c) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary $5,000,000 for fiscal years 2019 through 2027 for purposes of carrying out this section.

"(d) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term ‘eligible entity’ means—

"(1) an institution of higher education (as defined in section 101(a) of the Higher Education Act of 1986 (20 U.S.C. 1001(a)), including an institution of higher education that is a historically Black college or university; or

(b) CERTIFICATION OF COMPLIANCE.—Section 319 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30121) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(c) CERTIFICATION OF COMPLIANCE REQUIRED PRIOR TO CARRYING OUT ACTIVITY.—Prior to the making in connection with an election for Federal office of any contribution, donation, expenditure, or disbursement for an election or political activity, or expenditure for an electioneering communication by a corporation, limited liability corporation, or partnership or for any Federal, State, or local office or any decision concerning the administration of a political committee.

(1) A separate segregated fund established for permanent residence in the United States.

(2) By a corporation may not make a contribution or expenditure during a year unless the fund has certified to the Commission the following:

(a) The name of the covered organization.

(b) The name of the covered organization.

(c) The fund has certified to the Commission the following:

(1) No foreign national under section 319 participates in any way in the decision-making processes of the fund with regard to contributions or expenditures under this Act.

(2) The fund does not solicit or accept recommendations from any foreign national under section 319 with respect to the contributions or expenditures made by the fund.

(3) Any member of the board of directors of the corporation who is a foreign national under section 319 abstains from voting on matters concerning the fund or its activities.

PART 2—REPORTING OF CAMPAIGN-RELATED DISBURSEMENTS

SEC. 4111. REPORTING OF CAMPAIGN-RELATED DISBURSEMENTS.

(a) DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS FOR CORPORATIONS, LABOR ORGANIZATIONS, AND CERTAIN OTHER ENTITIES.—

(1) In general.—Section 324 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30126) is amended to read as follows:

“DISCLOSURE OF CAMPAIGN-RELATED DISBURSEMENTS BY COVERED ORGANIZATIONS.

(a) Disclosure statement.—

(1) In general.—Any covered organization that makes campaign-related disbursements aggregating more than $10,000 in an election reporting cycle shall, not later than 24 hours after each disclosure date, file a statement with the Commission made under penalty of perjury that contains the information described in paragraph (2).

(A) In the case of the first statement filed under this subsection, for the period beginning on the first day of the election reporting cycle (or, if earlier, the period beginning one year before the first such disclosure date), and ending on the first such disclosure date; and

(B) In the case of any subsequent statement filed under this subsection, for the period beginning on the previous disclosure date and ending on such disclosure date.

(2) Information described.—The information described in this paragraph is as follows:

(A) The name of the covered organization and the principal place of business of such organization and, in the case of a covered organization that is a political organization, the business concern that is an issuer of a class of securities registered under section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78o) or that is required to file reports under section 15(d) of that Act (15 U.S.C. 78o(d)) or an entity described in subsection

(b) Application to certain foreigners.—Section 319(a)(1)(A) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30121(a)(1)(A)) is amended by striking the semicolon and inserting the following:—
(e)(2), a list of the beneficial owners (as defined in paragraph (4)(A) of the entity that—

“(i) identifies each beneficial owner by name and current residential or business street address and

“(ii) if any beneficial owner exercises control over the entity through another legal entity, such as a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, or trust, identifies each such other legal entity and each such beneficial owner who will use that other entity to exercise control over the entity.

“(B) The amount of each campaign-related disbursement made by such organization during the period beginning on the first day of the election reporting cycle (or, if earlier, the period beginning one year before the disclosure date for such election reporting cycle) and ending on the disclosure date.

“(i) In any calendar year after 2020, section 315(c)(1)(B) shall apply to the amounts described in clause (i)(B), such section applies to the limitations established under subsections (a)(1)(A), (a)(1)(B), (a)(3), and (b) of such section, except that for purposes of applying such section to the amounts described in subsection (b), the ‘base period’ shall be 2020.

“(ii) Such other information as required in rules established by the Commission to promote the purposes of this section.

“(3) EXCEPTIONS.—

“(A) Amounts received in ordinary course of business.—The requirement to include in a statement filed under paragraph (1) the information described in paragraph (2) shall not apply to amounts received by the covered organization in commercial transactions in the ordinary course of any trade or business conducted by the covered organization, in the ordinary course of investments (other than investments by the principal shareholder in a limited liability corporation) in the covered organization. For purposes of this subparagraph, amounts received by a covered organization as remittances by a person who, directly or indirectly—

“(i) has a substantial interest in or exercises substantial control over an entity that is through a right of inheritance, appointment, or trust the person to whom the disbursement pertains and if the disbursement would subject the person to serious threats, harassment, or reprisals.

“(B) Donor restriction on use of funds.—The requirement to include in a statement submitted under paragraph (1) the information described in subparagraph (F) of paragraph (2) shall be subject to the following:

“(i) the person described in such subparagraph prohibited, in writing, the use of the payment made by such person for campaign-related disbursements; and

“(ii) the covered organization agreed to follow the prohibition and deposited the payment in an account which is segregated from any account used to make campaign-related disbursements.

“(C) Threat of harassment or reprisal.—The requirement to include any information described in clause (ii) is not required if the information would subject the person to serious threats, harassment, or reprisals.

“(D) Other definitions.—For purposes of this section:

“(A) Beneficial owner defined.—

“(i) In general.—Except as provided in clause (ii), the term ‘beneficial owner’ means a natural person who, directly or indirectly—

“(I) exercises substantial control over an entity that is through a right of inheritance, appointment, or trust the person to whom the disbursement pertains and if the disbursement would subject the person to serious threats, harassment, or reprisals.

“(II) has a substantial interest in or receives substantial economic benefits from the assets of an entity.

“(B) Exclusions.—The term ‘beneficial owner’ shall not include—

“(i) a minor child;

“(ii) a person acting as a nominee, intermediary, custodian, or agent on behalf of another person;

“(iii) a person acting solely as an employee of an entity and whose control over or use of the economic benefits derived by such person solely from the employment status of the person;

“(iv) a person who has a minority interest in an entity that is through a right of inheritance, appointment, or trust the person to whom the disbursement pertains and if the disbursement would subject the person to serious threats, harassment, or reprisals.

“(C) Election reporting cycle.—The term ‘election reporting cycle’ means the 2-year period beginning on the date of the most recent general election for Federal office.

“(D) Payment.—The term ‘payment’ includes any contribution, donation, transfer, payment of dues, or other payment.

“(E) Coordination with other provisions.—

“(i) Other reports filed with the Commission.—Information included in a statement filed under this section may be excluded from statements and reports filed under section 304.

“(2) Treatment as separate segregated fund.—A segregated bank account referred to in subsection (a)(2)(E) may be treated as a separate segregated fund for purposes of section 327(f)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

“(C) Filing.—Statements required to be filed under subsection (a) shall be subject to the requirements of section 309(d) to the same extent and in the same manner as if such reports had been required under subsection (c) or (g) of section 304.

“(D) Campaign-related disbursement defined.—

“(1) In general.—In this section, the term ‘campaign-related disbursement’ means a disbursement by a covered organization for any of the following:

“(A) An independent expenditure which expressly advocates the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate for election for Federal office, or is the functional equivalent of express advocacy, when taken as a whole, it can be interpreted by a reasonable person only as advocating the election or defeat of a candidate for election for Federal office.

“(B) Any public communication which refers to a clearly identified candidate for election for Federal office and which promotes or supports the election of a candidate for that office, or attacks or opposes the election of a candidate for that office, without regard to whether the communication expressly advocates, or directs, or requests or authorizes, a vote for or against a candidate for that office.

“(C) An electioneering communication, as defined in section 304(b)(3).

“(D) A covered transfer.

“(2) Intent not required.—A disbursement for an item described in subparagraph (A), (B), (C), or (D) of paragraph (1) shall be treated as a campaign-related disbursement regardless of the intent of the person making the disbursement.

“(E) Covered organization defined.—In this section, the term ‘covered organization’ means any of the following:

“(1) A corporation (other than an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986).

“(2) A limited liability corporation that is not otherwise treated as a corporation for purposes of this Act (other than an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986).

(3) An organization described in section 501(c)(3) of such Code that is exempt from taxation under section 501(a) of such Code (other than an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of such Code).

(4) Labor organization (as defined in section 314(b)).

(5) Any political organization under section 527 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, other than a labor organization under this Act (except as provided in paragraph (6)).

(6) A political committee with an account that is maintained for the purpose of making or paying for such campaign-related disbursements.

(a) Definition of Covered Transfer

(1) In general.—In this section, the term ‘covered transfer’ means any transfer or payment of funds by a covered organization to another person if the covered organization—

(A) designates, requests, or suggests that the amounts be used for—

(i) campaign-related disbursements (other than covered transfers); or

(ii) making a transfer to another person for the purpose of making or paying for such campaign-related disbursements;

(C) engaged in discussions with the recipient of the transfer or payment regarding—

(i) transferring or paying for campaign-related disbursements (other than covered transfers); or

(ii) donating or transferring any amount of such transfer or payment to another person for the purpose of making or paying for such campaign-related disbursements;

(D) made such transfer or payment in response to a solicitation or other request for a donation or payment for—

(i) making a transfer to another person for the purpose of making or paying for such campaign-related disbursements;

(E) knew or had reason to know that the person receiving the transfer or payment made such disbursements in such an aggregate amount during that 2-year period; or

(E) knew or had reason to know that the person receiving the transfer or payment made such disbursements in such an aggregate amount during that 2-year period ending on the date of the transfer or payment; or

(C) engaged in discussions with the recipient of the transfer or payment regarding—

(i) transferring or paying for campaign-related disbursements (other than covered transfers); or

(ii) donating or transferring any amount of such transfer or payment to another person for the purpose of making or paying for such campaign-related disbursements;

(D) knew or had reason to know that the person receiving the transfer or payment made such disbursements in such an aggregate amount during that 2-year period; or

(E) knew or had reason to know that the person receiving the transfer or payment made such disbursements in such an aggregate amount during that 2-year period; or

(F) knew or had reason to know that the person receiving the transfer or payment made such disbursements in such an aggregate amount during that 2-year period; or

(G) Effect on Other Reporting Requirements.—Nothing in this section shall affect the reporting of any other requirement of this Act which relates to the reporting of campaign-related disbursements.

(2) Conforming Amendment.—Section 308(b)(6) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 308(b)(6)), as amended by section 303(j)(3)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, is amended by inserting ‘‘except as provided in section 328(h), any requirement’’.

(3) Special Rule Regarding Transfers Among Affiliates.—

(A) Special Rule.—A transfer of an amount transferred by a covered organization to another covered organization which is treated as a transfer between affiliates under subsection (C) shall be considered a covered transfer by the covered organization which transfers the amount only if the aggregate amount transferred during the year by such covered organization to another covered organization is equal to or greater than $5,000.

(B) Determination of Amount of Certain Payments to Affiliates.—In determining the amount of a transfer between affiliates for purposes of paragraphs (A), (B), and (C), the amount of a transfer shall be determined as follows—

(i) if the transfer is in a form other than a covered transfer, the amount transferred by the covered organization shall be determined in accordance with section 316.(b).

(ii) if the transfer is in a form other than a covered transfer, the amount transferred by the covered organization shall be determined in accordance with paragraph (A) of section 316(b) of such Code.

(C) Description of Transfers Between Affiliates.—A transfer of amounts from one covered organization to another covered organization shall be treated as a transfer between affiliates if—

(i) one of the organizations is an affiliate of the other organization; or

(ii) each of the organizations is an affiliate of the same organization, except that the transfer shall not be treated as a transfer between affiliates if one of the organizations is established for the purpose of making campaign-related disbursements.

(D) Determination of Affiliate Status.—For purposes of subparagraph (C), a covered organization shall be treated as an affiliate of another covered organization if—

(1) the governing instrument of the organization requires it to be bound by decisions of the other organization;

(2) the governing board of the organization includes persons who are specifically designated as affiliates of the other organization or are members of the governing board, officers, or paid executive staff members of the other organization, or whose service on the governing board is contingent upon the approval of the other organization; or

(3) the organization is chartered by the other organization.

(E) Coverage of Transfers to Affiliated Section 501(c)(3) Organizations.—This paragraph shall apply with respect to an amount transferred to an organization described in paragraph (3) of section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and exempt from tax under section 501(a) of such Code in the same manner as this paragraph applies to an amount transferred by a covered organization to another covered organization.

(F) Section 4113. Effective Date.

The amendments made by this part shall—require interveners taking similar positions to file joint papers or to be represented by a single attorney at oral argument.

(c) CHALLENGE BY MEMBERS OF CONGRESS. —In any action brought by a Member of Congress, or the political committee of a Member, against (1) any person who is speaking, or (2) any publishing company, the court shall give preference to a trial by jury, subject to the special rules described in subsection (a), for declaratory or injunctive relief to challenge the constitutionality of any provision of this Act or chapter 95 or 96 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(b) CONFERENCING AMENDMENTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—

(A) Section 9021 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 9011. JUDICIAL REVIEW. — For provisions relating to judicial review of certifications, determinations, and actions by the Commission under this chapter, see section 407 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971."

(B) Section 9041 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 9041. JUDICIAL REVIEW. — For provisions relating to judicial review of actions by the Commission under this chapter, see section 407 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971."

Subtitle C— Honest Ads

SEC. 4201. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the "Honest Ads Act".

SEC. 4202. PURPOSE.

The purpose of this subtitle is to enhance the integrity of American democracy and national security by improving disclosure requirements for online political advertisements. It provides the Supreme Court’s well-established standard that the electorate bears the right to be fully informed.

SEC. 4203. FINDINGS. — Congress makes the following findings:

(1) On January 6, 2017, the Office of the Director of National Intelligence published a report on Russian Activities and Intentions in Recent U.S. Elections, noting that “Russian President Vladimir Putin ordered an influence campaign in 2016 aimed at the U.S. presidential election.”

(2) On November 24, 2016, The Washington Post reported findings from 2 teams of independent researchers that concluded Russians “exploited American-made technology platforms to manipulate the public discourse in a highly targeted audience. With a sample of nearly 1.5 million tweets, researchers found that the Kremlin was using pro-Russian bots to manipulate public discourse to a highly targeted audience.”

(3) In a 2018 study published by the Computational Propaganda Research Project at the Oxford Internet Institute, it was found that the Kremlin is using pro-Russian bots to manipulate public discourse to a highly targeted audience.

(4) On September 6, 2017, the nation’s largest national security expert warned that between June 2015 and May 2017, Russian entities purchased $100,000 in online advertisements, publishing roughly 3,000 ads linked to false news stories about Clinton, Trump, and other candidates.

(5) In 2016, the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act became law, establishing disclosure requirements for all political advertisements distributed from a television or radio broadcast station or provider of cable or satellite television. In 2003, the Supreme Court upheld regulations of political communicators under the Act, noting that such requirements "provide the electorate with information and assure that the voters are fully informed about the person or group who is speaking.".

(6) According to a study by Borrell Associates, in 2016, $1,415,000,000 was spent on online advertising, more than triple the amount in 2012.

SEC. 4205. EXPANSION OF DEFINITION OF PUBLIC COMMUNICATION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Paragraph (22) of section 301 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101(22)) is amended by striking “or satellite communication” and inserting “satellite, paid internet, or paid digital communication”.

(b) ECONOMIC EFFECTS.—Section 301 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30101) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (b)(2)(V) by striking “on broadcasting stations, or in newspapers, magazines, or similar types of general public political advertising” and inserting “in any public communication”; and

(2) in paragraph (b)(2)(V) by striking “on broadcast stations, or in newspapers, magazines, or similar types of general public political advertising” and inserting “in any public communication.”
(B) in clause (iv), by striking ‘‘on broadcasting stations, or in newspapers, magazines, or similar types of general public political advertising’’ and inserting ‘‘in any public communication’’.

(c) Disclosure and Disclaimer Statements.—Subsection (a) of section 318 of such Act (52 U.S. C. 30120(a)) is amended—

(1) by striking ‘‘financing any communication through a broadcasting station, newspaper, magazine, outdoor advertising facility, mailing, or any other type of general public political advertising’’ and inserting ‘‘financing any public communication’’; and

(2) by striking ‘‘solicits any contribution through any broadcasting station, newspaper, magazine, outdoor advertising facility, mailing, or any other type of general public political advertising’’ and inserting ‘‘solicits any contribution through any public comnunication’’.

SEC. 4206. Expansion of Definition of Electioneering communication.

(a) Expansion to Online Communications.—

(1) Application for Qualified Internet and Digital Communications.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Subparagraph (A) of section 304(f)(3) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S. C. 30104(f)(3)(A)) is amended by inserting ‘‘or satellite communication’’ each place it appears in clauses (i) and (ii) and inserting ‘‘satellite, or qualified internet or digital communication’’ each place it appears in subsection (c)(3).

(B) Qualified Internet or Digital Communication.—Paragraph (3) of section 304(f) of such Act (52 U.S. C. 30104(f)) is amended by adding at the end the following new sub-paragraph:

‘‘(D) Qualified Internet or Digital Communication.—The term ‘qualified internet or digital communication’ means any communication which is placed or promoted for a fee on an online platform (as defined in subsection (c)(3)).’’

(2) Nonapplication of Relevant Electotorate to Online Communications.—Section 304(f)(3)(A)(i)(III) of such Act (52 U.S. C. 30104(f)(3)(A)(i)(III)) is amended by inserting ‘‘any broadcast, cable, or satellite’’ before ‘‘communication’’.

(3) News Exemption.—Section 304(f)(3)(B)(i) of such Act (52 U.S. C. 30104(f)(3)(B)(i)) is amended by adding after the words ‘‘a written format’’ the following:

‘‘(B) by striking ‘‘BY RADIO’’ in the heading and inserting ‘‘AUDIO COMMUNICATIONS’’.

(2) Other Communications.—In the case of an audio communication, the statement is spoken in a clearly audible and intelligible manner at the beginning or end of the communication and is held for 4 seconds.

(3) Video Communications.—In the case of a video communication which also includes audio, the statement—

(i) appears in letters at least as large as the majority of the text in the communication; and

(ii) meets the requirements of paragraphs (2) and (3) of subsection (c).

(B) After Communications.—In the case of an audio communication, the statement is spoken in a clearly audible and intelligible manner at the beginning or end of the communication and is held for 4 seconds.

(c) Modification of Additional Requirements for Certain Communications.—Section 318(d) of such Act (52 U.S. C. 30120(d)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1)(A)—

(A) by striking ‘‘transmitted through radio’’ and inserting ‘‘in an audio format’’; and

(B) by striking ‘‘BY RADIO’’ in the heading
and inserting ‘‘AUDIO FORMAT’’;

(2) in paragraph (1)(B)—

(A) by striking ‘‘which is transmitted through television’’ and inserting ‘‘which is in video format’’; and

(B) by striking ‘‘BY TELEVISION’’ in the heading and inserting ‘‘VIDEO FORMAT’’; and

(3) in paragraph (2)—

(A) by striking ‘‘transmitted through radio or television’’ and inserting ‘‘made in audio or video format’’; and

(4) in paragraph (3)—

(B) by striking ‘‘through television’’ in the second sentence and inserting ‘‘in video for-mate’’.

SEC. 4208. Political Record Requirements for Online Platforms.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 304 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S. C. 30120) is amended—

(1) Special Rules with Respect to Statements.—In the case of any qualified internet or digital communication (as defined in section 304(f)(3)(D)) which is disseminated through a medium in which the provision of information is not possible, the communication shall, in a clear and conspicuous manner:

(A) state the name of the person who paid for the communication; and

(B) provide a means for the recipient of the communication to obtain the remainder of the information required under this section with respect to the advertisement and without receiving or viewing any additional material other than such required information.

(2) Safe Harbor for Determining Clear and Conspicuous Manner.—A statement in qualified internet or digital communication (as defined in section 304(f)(3)(D)) shall be considered to be made in a clear and conspicuous manner as provided in subsection (a) if the communication meets the following requirements:

(A) ‘‘(a) Text or Graphic Communications.—In the case of a text or graphic communication, the statement—

(i) appears in letters at least as large as the majority of the text in the communication; and

(ii) appears at least as prominently as the remainder of the text at the beginning or end of the communication; and

(iii) is made both in—

(I) a written format that meets the requirements of subparagraph (A) and appears for at least 4 seconds; and

(II) an audible format that meets the requirements of subparagraph (B).

(B) Audio Communications.—In the case of an audio communication, the statement is spoken in a clearly audible and intelligible manner at the beginning or end of the communication and is held for 4 seconds.

(C) Video Communications.—In the case of a video communication which also includes audio, the statement—

(i) is included at either the beginning or the end of the communication; and

(ii) is made both in—

(I) a written format that meets the requirements of subparagraph (A) and appears for at least 4 seconds; and

(II) an audible format that meets the requirements of subparagraph (B).

(D) Electronic Communications.—In the case of any other type of communication, the statement is at least as clear and conspicuous as the statement specified in sub-paragraph (a) of subsection (c).

(2) Nonapplication of Certain Exceptions.—The exceptions provided in section 110.11(f)(1)(i) and (ii) of title 11, Code of Federal Regulations, or any successor to such rules, shall have no application to qualified internet or digital communications (as defined in section 304(f)(3)(D)) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.

(c) Modification of Additional Requirements for Certain Communications.—Section 318(d) of such Act (52 U.S. C. 30120(d)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1)(A)—

(A) by striking ‘‘which is transmitted through radio’’ and inserting ‘‘which is in an audio format’’; and

(B) by striking ‘‘BY RADIO’’ in the heading
and inserting ‘‘AUDIO FORMAT’’;

(2) in paragraph (1)(B)—

(A) by striking ‘‘which is transmitted through television’’ and inserting ‘‘which is in video format’’; and

(B) by striking ‘‘BY TELEVISION’’ in the heading
and inserting ‘‘VIDEO FORMAT’’; and

(b) By striking ‘‘through television’’ in the second sentence and inserting ‘‘in video for-
made available as soon as possible and shall be retained by the online platform for a period of not less than 4 years.

(6) Safe Harbor for Platforms Making Best Efforts to Identify Requests Which Are Subject to Record Maintenance Requirements.—In accordance with rules established by the Commission, if an online platform (or the platform used by the online platform) makes reasonable efforts to determine whether or not a request to purchase a qualified political advertisement was subject to the requirements of this subsection, the online platform shall not be considered to be in violation of such requirements.

(7) Penalties.—For penalties for failure by online platforms that are subject to this subsection to purchase a qualified political advertisement on online platforms, to comply with the requirements of this subsection, see section 309.

(8) Rulemaking.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Federal Election Commission shall establish rules—

(a) requiring common data formats for the record required to be maintained under section 309 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (as added by subsection (a)) so that all online platforms submit and maintain data online in a common, machine-readable and publicly accessible format; and

(b) establishing best practices for identifying requests relating to such record, including searches by candidate name, issue, purchase date, and—

(1) establishing the criteria for the safe harbor exception provided under paragraph (6) of section 309(j) of such Act (as added by subsection (a));

(c) Reporting.—Not later than 2 years after the date of the enactment of this Act, and biannually thereafter, the Chairman of the Federal Election Commission shall submit a report to Congress on—

(1) matters relating to compliance with and the enforcement of the requirements of section 309 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as added by subsection (a); and

(2) recommendations for any modifications to such section to assist in carrying out its purposes; and

(3) identifying ways to bring transparency and accountability to political advertisement distribution online for free.

SEC. 4209. PRECINCT CONTRIBUTIONS, EXPENDITURES, INDEPENDENT EXPENDITURES, AND DISBURSEMENTS FOR FOREIGN COMMUNICATIONS;

Section 319 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30121), as amended by section 4201(a)(2) and section 4201(b), is further amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

(e) Responsibilities of Broadcast Stations, Producers of Cable and Satellite Television, and Online Platforms.—Each television or radio broadcast station, provider of cable or satellite television, or online platform (as defined in section 309(c)(3)) shall make reasonable efforts to ensure that communications described in section 318(a) and made available by such station, provider, or platform are not purchased by a foreign national, directly or indirectly.

Subtitle D—Stand By Every Ad

SEC. 4301. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the "Stand By Every Ad Act".

SEC. 4302. STAND BY EVERY AD.

(a) Expanded Disclaimer Requirements for Certain Communications.—Section 318 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30120), as amended by section 4201(b)(1), is further amended—

(1) by redesigning subsection (e) as subsection (f); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (d) the following new subsection:

(4) Expanded Disclaimer Requirements for Communications Not Authorized by Candidates or Committees.—

(1) In General.—Except as provided in paragraph (6), any communication described in paragraph (3) of subsection (a) which is transmitted in an audio or video format (including an Internet or digital communication), or which is an Internet or digital communication transmitted in text or graphic format, shall include, in addition to the requirements of paragraph (3) of subsection (a), the following:

(A) The individual disclosure statement described in paragraph (2)(A) (if the person paying for the communication is an individual) or the organizational disclosure statement described in paragraph (2)(B) (if the person paying for the communication is not an individual).

(B) If the communication is transmitted in a video format, or is an Internet or digital communication which is transmitted in a text or graphic format, and is paid for in whole or in part with a payment which is treated as a campaign-related disbursement under section 324—

(i) the Top Five Funders list (if applicable); or

(ii) in the case of a communication which, as determined on the basis of criteria established in regulations issued by the Commission, is of such short duration that including the Top Five Funders list in the communication would constitute a hardship to the person paying for the communication by requiring a disproportionate amount of the content of the communication to consist of the Top Five Funders list, the name of a website which contains the Top Five Funders list (if applicable) or, in the case of an Internet or digital communication, a hyperlink to such website.

(C) If the communication is transmitted in an audio format and is paid for in whole or in part with a payment which is treated as a campaign-related disbursement under section 324—

(i) the Top Two Funders list (if applicable); or

(ii) in the case of a communication which, as determined on the basis of criteria established in regulations issued by the Commission, is of such short duration that including the Top Two Funders list in the communication would constitute a hardship to the person paying for the communication by requiring a disproportionate amount of the content of the communication to consist of the Top Two Funders list, the name of a website which contains the Top Two Funders list (if applicable).

(2) Disclosure Statements Described.—

(A) Individual Disclosure Statements.—The individual disclosure statement described in this subparagraph is the following: ‘‘I am , and I approve this message,’’ with the blank filled in with the name of the applicable individual.

(B) Organizational Disclosure Statements.—The organizational disclosure statement described in this subparagraph is the following: ‘‘The of , and approves this message,’’ with—

(1) the first blank to be filled in with the name of the applicable individual;

(2) the second blank to be filled in with the title of the applicable individual; and

(3) the third blank to be filled in with the name of the organization or other person paying for the communication.

(3) Method of Conveyance of Statement.—

(A) Communications in Text or Graphic Format.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies which is transmitted in a text or graphic format, the disclosure statements required under paragraph (1) shall appear in letters at least as large as the majority of the text in the communication.

(B) Communications Transmitted in Audio Format.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies which is transmitted in an audio format, the disclosure statements required under paragraph (1) shall be made by audio by the applicable individual or the organization or other person paying for the communication.

(C) Communications Transmitted in Video Format.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies which is transmitted in a video format, the information required under paragraph (1)—

(i) shall appear in writing at the end of the communication or in a crawl along the bottom of the communication in a clear and conspicuous manner, with a reasonable degree of color contrast between the background and the printed statement, for a period of at least 6 seconds; and

(ii) shall also be conveyed by an unsecured, full-screen view of the applicable individual or by the applicable individual or similar image of the individual, except in the case of a Top Five Funders list.

(4) 'Applicable Individual' Defined.—The term ‘applicable individual’ means, with respect to a communication to which this subsection applies—

(A) if the communication is paid for by an individual, the individual involved;

(B) if the communication is paid for by a corporation, the chief executive officer of the corporation (or, if the corporation does not have a chief executive officer, the highest ranking officer of the corporation);

(C) if the communication is paid for by a labor organization, the highest ranking officer of the labor organization; and

(D) if the communication is paid for by any other person, the highest ranking official of such person.

(5) Top Five Funders List and Top Two Funders List Defined.—

(A) Top Five Funders List.—The term ‘Top Five Funders list’ means a list of the top five persons who, during the 12-month period ending on the date of the disbursement, provided the largest payments of any type in an aggregate amount equal to or exceeding $10,000 to the person who is paying for the communication and the amount of the payments each such person provided. If two or more people provided the fifth largest payment, the person paying for the communication shall select one of those persons to be included on the Top Five Funders list.

(B) Top Two Funders List.—The term ‘Top Two Funders list’ means, with respect to a communication which is paid for in whole or in part with a campaign-related disbursement (as defined in section 324), a list of the two persons who, during the 12-month period ending on the date of the disbursement, provided the largest payments of any type in an aggregate amount equal to or exceeding $10,000 to the person who is paying for the communication and the amount of the payments each such person provided. If two or more people provided the second largest of such payments, the person paying for the communication... shall select one of those persons to be included on the Top Two Funders list.

"(C) EXCLUSION OF CERTAIN PAYMENTS.—For purposes of subparagraphs (A) and (B), in determining the amount of payments made by a person to a person paying for a communication, there shall be excluded the following:

"(1) Any amounts provided in the ordinary course of any trade or business conducted by the person paying for the communication or in the form of investments in the person paying for the communication.

"(2) Any payment which the person proh"ibited, in writing, from being used for campaign-related disbursements, but only if the person paying for the communication agrees to follow the prohibition and deposited the payment in an account which is segregated from any account used to make campaign-related disbursements.

"(6) SPECIAL RULES FOR CERTAIN COMMUNICATIONS.—

"(A) EXCEPTION FOR COMMUNICATIONS PAID FOR BY POLITICAL PARTIES AND CERTAIN POLITICAL COMMITTEES.—This subsection does not apply to any communication to which subsection (b)(3) applies.

"(B) TREATMENT OF VIDEO COMMUNICATIONS LASTING 10 SECONDS OR LESS.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies which is transmitted in a video format, or is an Internet or digital communication which is transmitted in a text or graphic format, the communication shall meet the following requirements:

"(i) The communication shall include the individual disclosure statement described in paragraph (2)(A) (if the person paying for the communication is an individual) or the organizational disclosure statement described in paragraph (2)(B) (if the person paying for the communication is not an individual).

"(2) A TREATMENT TO COMMUNICATIONS SUBJECT TO EXPANDED DISCLAIMER REQUIREMENTS.—Section 318(e)(1) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(e)(1)), as added by section 4205(c), is amended by inserting after "public communication" each place it appears the following: "(including a telephone call consisting in substantial part of a prerecorded audio message)".

"(3) COMMUNICATIONS BY CANDIDATES OR AUTHORIZED PERSONS.—Section 318(d)(4) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(d)(4)), as added by section 4205(c), is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(4) by striking "or other person" each place it appears; and

"(5) by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(b) APPLICATION OF REQUIREMENTS.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 318(b)(5) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30120(b)(5)), as amended, is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(ii) Any amounts received by the covered organization or in the form of investments in the covered organization.

"(3) COMMUNICATIONS BY CANDIDATES OR AUTHORIZED PERSONS.—Section 318(d)(4) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(d)(4)), as added by section 4205(c), is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(b) TREATMENT AS COMMUNICATION TRANSMITTED IN AUDIO FORM.—

"(1) COMMUNICATIONS BY CANDIDATES OR AUTHORIZED PERSONS.—Section 318(b)(2) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(b)(2)), as added by section 4205(c), is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(ii) The statement described in clause (i) shall appear in writing at the end of the communication, or in a crawl along the bottom of the communication, in a clear and conspicuous manner, with a reasonable degree of color contrast between the background and the printed statement, for a period of at least 4 seconds.

"(iv) To the extent that the format in which a communication is made permits the use of a hyperlink, the communication shall include a hyperlink to the website address described in clause (ii).

"(B) APPLICATION OF EXPANDED REQUIREMENTS TO PUBLIC COMMUNICATIONS CONSISTING OF CAMPAIGN-RELATED DISBURSEMENTS.—Section 318(a) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(a)), as amended by striking "for the purpose of financing communications expressly advocating the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate or the insertion into the communication of a campaign-related disbursement, as defined in section 324, consisting of a public communication"

"(c) EXCEPTION FOR COMMUNICATIONS PAID FOR BY POLITICAL PARTIES AND CERTAIN POLITICAL COMMITTEES.—Section 318(d)(2) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(d)(2)) is amended—

"(1) in the heading, by striking "others" and inserting "certain political committees";

"(2) by striking "any communication" and inserting "any communications";

"(3) by striking "or other person" each place it appears; and

"(4) by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(ii) Any amounts received by the covered organization or in the form of investments in the covered organization.

"(5) by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(A) EXCEPTION FOR COMMUNICATIONS PAID FOR BY POLITICAL PARTIES AND CERTAIN POLITICAL COMMITTEES.—This subsection does not apply to any communication to which subsection (b)(3) applies.

"(B) TREATMENT OF VIDEO COMMUNICATIONS LASTING 10 SECONDS OR LESS.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies which is transmitted in a video format, or is an Internet or digital communication which is transmitted in a text or graphic format, the communication shall meet the following requirements:

"(i) The communication shall include the individual disclosure statement described in paragraph (2)(A) (if the person paying for the communication is an individual) or the organizational disclosure statement described in paragraph (2)(B) (if the person paying for the communication is not an individual).

"(ii) The described in clause (i) shall appear in writing at the end of the communication, or in a crawl along the bottom of the communication, in a clear and conspicuous manner, with a reasonable degree of color contrast between the background and the printed statement, for a period of at least 4 seconds.

"(3) COMMUNICATIONS BY CANDIDATES OR AUTHORIZED PERSONS.—Section 318(d)(4) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(d)(4)), as added by section 4205(c), is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(2) COMMUNICATIONS SUBJECT TO EXPANDED DISCLAIMER REQUIREMENTS.—Section 318(e)(3) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(e)(3)), as added by section 4205(c), is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(D) PRERECORDED TELEPHONE CALLS.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies which is a telephone call consisting in substantial part of a prerecorded audio message, the following shall be considered to be transmitted in an audio format:

(11) Since the landmark Citizens United decision, 2015, Congress and the States severely restrict them from setting reasonable limits on campaign spending. For example, the Court has held that only the Government’s interest in preventing corruption or the appearance of corruption, like bribery, or the appearance of such corruption, can justify limits on campaign contributions. More broadly, the Court has severely curtailed the ability of the Nation’s wealthiest and most powerful to skew our democracy in their favor by buying outsized influence in our elections. The Constitution has prevented truly meaningful regulation or reform of the way we finance elections in America, a constitutional amendment is needed to achieve a democracy for all the people.

(12) At the same time millions of Americans have signed petitions, marched, called their Members of Congress, written letters to their Members, and even engaged in civil disobedience to protest the Court’s decision. Federal and State public support for a constitutional amendment to overturn Citizens United that will allow Congress to reign in the outsized influence of individual donors and organizations is now extensive. Dozens of organizations, representing tens of millions of individuals, have come together in a shared strategy of supporting such an amendment.

(13) In order to protect the integrity of democracy and the electoral process and to ensure equal opportunity for all, the Constitution should be amended so that Congress and the States may regulate and set limits on the raising and spending of money to influence elections and ensure that American corporations and foreign money from making campaign contributions and from making campaign contributions or other expenditures to influence elections. In 1962, a Presidential commission on election spending recommended spending limits and incentives to increase small contributions from more people.

(7) The Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (FECA), as amended in 1974, required disclosure of contributions and expenditures, imposed contribution limits on individuals and groups, and set spending limits for campaigns, candidates, and groups. The FEC has implemented these laws and created the Federal Election Commission to oversee and enforce the new rules.

(8) In the wake of Citizens United and other damaging Federal court decisions, American corporations have witnessed an explosion of outside spending in elections. Outside spending increased nearly 900 percent between the 2008 and 2016 Presidential election years. Indeed, the 2016 elections once again made clear the overwhelming political power of wealthy interests, to the tune of over $5,000,000,000. And as political entities adapt to a post-Citizens United, post-McCutcheon landscape, these trends are getting worse, as evidenced by the experience in the 2018 midterm elections, where outside spending more than doubled from the previous midterm cycle.

(9) The torrent of money flowing into our political system has a profound effect on the ability of the average American, whose voices and policy preferences are increasingly being drowned out by those of wealthy special interests. The more campaign cash from wealthy special interests can flood our elections, the more policies that favor those interests are reflected in the national political agenda. When it comes to policy preferences, our Nation’s wealthiest tend to have fundamentally different views than do average Americans when it comes to the issues ranging from unemployment benefits to a post-modern digital economy.

(10) The Court has tied the hands of Congress and the States severely restricting them from setting reasonable limits on campaign spending. For example, for the Court has held that only the Government’s interest in preventing corruption or the appearance of corruption, or the appearance of such corruption, can justify limits on campaign contributions. The Constitution has prevented truly meaningful regulation or reform of the way we finance elections in America, a constitutional amendment is needed to achieve a democracy for all the people.

(11) Since the landmark Citizens United decision, 19 States and nearly 800 municipalities across the country have witnessed an explosion of outside spending in elections. Outside spending increased nearly 900 percent between the 2008 and 2016 Presidential election years. Indeed, the 2016 elections once again made clear the overwhelming political power of wealthy special interests, to the tune of over $5,000,000,000. the first day after the program operation period.

(f) REIMBURSEMENT OF COSTS.—

(i) REIMBURSEMENT.—Upon receiving the report required by section 5103(a), the Commission shall make a payment to the State in the amount of the reasonable costs incurred by the State in operating the voucher pilot program under this part during the cycle.

(ii) SOURCES OF FUNDS.—Payments to States under this program shall be made using amounts in the Freedom From Influence Fund under section 541 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (as added by section 5111), hereafter referred to as the “Fund”.

(iii) MANDATORY REDUCTION OF PAYMENTS IN CASE OF INSUFFICIENT FUNDS FROM INFLUENCE FUND.—

(A) ADVANCE AUDITS BY COMMISSION.—Not later than 90 days before the first day of each program operation period, the Commission shall—

(1) audit the Fund to determine whether, after first making payments to participating candidates under section 5111(c) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (as added by section 5111), the amounts remaining in the Fund are sufficient to make payments to States under this part in the full amount provided under this subsection; and

(2) submit a report to Congress describing the results of the audit.

(B) REDUCTIONS IN AMOUNT OF PAYMENTS.—

(i) AUTOMATIC REDUCTION ON PRO RATA BASIS.—If, on the basis of the audit described in subparagraph (A), the Commission determines that the amount anticipated to be available in the Fund with respect to an election cycle involved is not, or may not be, sufficient to make payments to States under this part in the amounts provided under this subsection, the Commission shall reduce each amount which would otherwise be paid to a State under this subsection by such pro rata amount as may be necessary to ensure that the aggregate amount of payments anticipated to be made with respect to the cycle shall not exceed the amount anticipated to be available for such payments in the Fund with respect to such cycle.

(ii) REIMBURSEMENT IN CASE OF AVAILABILITY OF SUFFICIENT FUNDS DURING ELECTION CYCLE.—If, after reducing the amounts paid to States with respect to an election cycle under clause (i), the Commission determines that there are sufficient amounts in the Fund to restore the amount by which such payments were reduced (or any portion thereof, to the extent that such amounts are available), the Commission may make a payment on a pro rata basis to each such State with respect to the cycle in the amount of such State’s payments reduced under clause (i) (or any portion thereof, as the case may be).

(iii) NO USE OF FUNDS FROM OTHER SOURCES.—In any case in which the Commission determines that there are insufficient moneys in the Fund to make payments to States under this part, moneys shall not be made available from any other source for the purpose of making such payments.

(iv) CAP ON AMOUNT OF PAYMENT.—The aggregate amount of payments made to any State with respect to any program operation period may not exceed $10,000,000.

(v) REIMBURSEMENT.—The Commission shall make a payment to each State with respect to the program operation period in an amount equal to the reasonable costs incurred by the State in operating the program under this part during the cycle.

(vi) PRELIMINARY REPORT.—Not later than 6 months after the first election cycle of the program operation period in which a State operates a voucher pilot program under this part shall submit a report to the Commission analyzing the operation and effectiveness of the program in the State, including such recommendations and other information as the Commission may require.

SEC. 5102. VOUCHER PROGRAM DESCRIBED.

(a) GENERAL ELEMENTS OF PROGRAM.—

(i) ELEMENTS DESCRIBED.—The elements of a voucher pilot program under this part are as follows:

(A) The amount of the portion of the value of the My Voice Voucher during the election cycle which will be assigned a routing number and which at the option of the individual will be provided in paper or electronic form.

(B) The routing number assigned to the My Voice Voucher, the individual may submit the My Voice Voucher in either electronic or paper form to qualified candidates for election for the office of Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, Congress and allocate such portion of the value of the My Voice Voucher in increments of $5 as the individual may select to any such candidate.

(C) If the candidate transmits the My Voice Voucher to the Commission, the Commission shall pay the candidate the portion of the value of the My Voice Voucher that the individual allocated to the candidate, which shall be comprised of the aggregate amount of payments anticipated to be made with respect to the program operation period involved is not, or may not be, sufficient to make payments to States under this part by such program.

(ii) DESIGNATION OF QUALIFIED INDIVIDUALS.—For purposes of paragraph (1)(A), a “qualified individual” with respect to a State means an individual—

(A) who is a resident of the State;

(B) who will be of voting age as of the date of the election for the candidate to whom the individual submits a My Voice Voucher; and

(C) who is not prohibited under Federal law from making contributions to candidates for election for Federal office.

(iii) TREATMENT AS CONTRIBUTION TO CANDIDATE.—For purposes of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, the submission of a My Voice Voucher to a candidate shall be treated as a contribution to such candidate by the individual allocated to that candidate.

(iv) Oversight Commission.—In addition to the elements described in subsection (a), a State operating a voucher pilot program under this part may not later than 2 days after submitting the My Voice Voucher to a candidate.

(b) FRAUD PREVENTION MECHANISM.—In addition to the elements described in subsection (a), a State operating a voucher pilot program under this part may not later than 2 days after submitting the My Voice Voucher to a candidate.

(c) PUBLIC INFORMATION CAMPAIGN.—In addition to the elements described in subsection (a), a State operating a voucher pilot program under this part shall carry out a public information campaign to disseminate awareness of the program among qualified individuals.

SEC. 5103. REPORTS.

(a) PRELIMINARY REPORT.—Not later than 6 months after the first election cycle of the program operation period in which a voucher pilot program under this part shall submit a report to the Commission analyzing the operation and effectiveness of the program in the State, including such recommendations and other information as the Commission may require.

(b) FINAL REPORT.—Not later than 6 months after the end of the program operation period, the State shall submit a final report to the Commission analyzing the operation and effectiveness of the program in the State, including such recommendations and other information as the Commission may require.

(c) REPORT BY COMMISSION.—Not later than the end of the first election cycle which begins after the program operation period, the Commission shall submit a report to Congress which analyzes the results of the voucher pilot program, and shall include in the report such recommendations as the Commission considers appropriate regarding the expansion of the program to additional States and territories and any other recommendations and other information as the Commission considers appropriate.
"SEC. 502. PROCEDURES FOR MAKING PAYMENTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Commission shall make a payment under section 501 to a candidate who is certified as a participating candidate for the campaign committee of a request for a payment which includes—

(1) the statement of the number and amount of qualified small dollar contributions to the candidate since the most recent payment made to the candidate under this title during the election cycle;

(2) a statement of the amount of payment the candidate anticipates receiving with respect to the request;

(3) a statement of the total amount of payments the candidate has received under this title since the date of the statement; and

(4) such other information and assurances as the Commission may require.

(b) RESTRICTIONS ON SUBMISSION OF REQUESTS.—A candidate may not submit a request under subsection (a) unless each of the following applies:

(1) The amount of the qualified small dollar contributions in the statement referred to in subsection (a)(1) is equal to or greater than $5,000, unless the request is submitted during the 30-day period which ends on the date of a general election.

(2) The candidate did not receive a payment under this title during the 7-day period which ends on the date the candidate submits the request.

(c) TIME OF PAYMENT.—The Commission shall, in coordination with the Secretary of the Treasury, take such steps as may be necessary to assure that the Secretary is able to make payments under this section from the Treasury not later than 2 business days after the receipt of a request submitted under subsection (a).

SEC. 503. USE OF FUNDS.

(a) USE OF FUNDS FOR AUTHORIZED CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES.—A candidate shall use payments made under this title, including payments provided with respect to a previous election cycle which are withheld from remittance to the Commission in accordance with section 524(c)(2), only for making direct payments for the receipt of goods and services which constitute authorized expenditures (as determined in accordance with title III) in connection with the election cycle involved.

(b) PROHIBITING USE OF FUNDS FOR LEGAL EXPENSES, FINES, OR PENALTIES.—Notwithstanding section 304(i)(7) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, an individual who makes a qualified small dollar contribution to a candidate or the authorized committees of a candidate, a contribution that meets the following requirements:

(1) The contribution is in an amount that is—

(A) not less than $1; and

(B) not more than $200.

(2) the term ‘person’ does not include an individual (other than an individual described in section 304(i)(7) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971), a political action committee, or any political political committee which is not a separate segregated fund described in section 316(b) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 and which does not make expenditures or independent expenditures, does not engage in lobbying activity under the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1988 (2 U.S.C. 1601 et seq., and is not a registered lobbyist under section (a).

(b) RESTRICTIONS ON SUBSEQUENT CONTRIBUTIONS.—(A) An individual who makes a qualified small dollar contribution to a candidate or the authorized committees of a candidate with respect to the election in which the individual made the contribution does not—

(i) the subsequent contribution to the individual. In the case of a subsequent contribution which is not a qualified small dollar contribution because the contribution fails to meet the requirements of subsection (a) (relating to the aggregate amount of contributions made to the candidate or the authorized committees of the candidate under this title), the candidate may return an amount equal to the difference between the amount of the subsequent contribution and the amount described in paragraph (1)(B) of subsection (a).

(2) The candidate may retain the subsequent contribution, so long as not later than 2 business days after receiving the contribution, the candidate submits a statement to the Commission for deposit in the Freedom from Influence Fund under section 541 an amount equal to any payments received by the candidate under this title which are attributable to the qualified small dollar contribution made by the individual involved.

(c) NO EFFECT ON ABILITY TO MAKE MULTIPLE CONTRIBUTIONS.—Nothing in this section may be construed to prohibit an individual from making multiple qualified small dollar contributions to any number of candidates, so long as each contribution meets each of the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subsection (a).

(d) NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS FOR CANDIDATES.—

(1) NOTIFICATION.—Each authorized committee of a candidate which is a participating candidate under this title shall provide the following information in any materials for the solicitation of contributions, including any internet site through which individuals may make contributions to the committee:

(A) A statement that if the candidate is certified as a participating candidate under this title, the candidate will receive matching payments in an amount which is based on the total amount of qualified small dollar contributions received.

(B) A statement that a contribution which meets the requirements set forth in subsection (a) shall be treated as a qualified small dollar contribution under this title.

(C) A statement that if a contribution is treated as a qualified small dollar contribution under this title, the individual who makes the contribution may not make any other contribution to the candidate or the authorized committees of the candidate during the election cycle which is not a qualified small dollar contribution.

(2) ALTERNATIVE METHODS OF MEETING REQUIREMENTS.—An authorized committee may meet the requirements of paragraph (1)—

(A) by including the information described in paragraph (1) in the receipt provided under section 512(b)(3) to a person making a qualified small dollar contribution; or

(B) by providing the information it provides to persons making contributions which is otherwise required under title III (including the information it provides through the internet).

Subtitle B—Eligibility and Certification

SEC. 511. ELIGIBILITY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—A candidate for the office of Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, the Congress is eligible to be certified as a participating candidate under this title with respect to an election if the candidate meets the following requirements:

(1) The candidate files with the Commission a statement of intent to seek certification as a participating candidate for that election.

(2) The candidate meets the requirements of section 512.

(3) The candidate, if holding public office, has not been convicted of a felony.

(4) The candidate has not been determined by the Commission to be ineligible for certification as a participating candidate under this title.

(b) CERTIFICATION.—The Commission shall certify candidates who meet the requirements of paragraph (a).

(c) REVIEW OF CERTIFICATION.—The Commission may review the certification of candidates for any of the following reasons:

(1) A statement of intent to seek certification as a participating candidate under this title.

(2) Any action, claim, or other matter brought before the Commission under this title.

(d) NOTIFICATION.—If the Commission certifies a candidate as a participating candidate under this title, the Commission shall notify the candidate and provide the candidate with a certification in writing.

(e) REVOCATION.—The Commission may revoke the certification of a candidate who is ineligible for certification as a participating candidate under this title.
“(3) The candidate files with the Commission a statement certifying that the authorized committees of the candidate meet the requirements of section 504(d).

“(4) On the last day of the Small Dollar Democracy qualifying period, the candidate files with the Commission an affidavit signed by the candidate and the treasurer of the candidate’s principal campaign committee declaring that the candidate—

“(A) has compiled and, if certified, will compile dollar contribution and expenditure requirements of section 521;

“(B) if certified, will run only as a participating candidate for all elections for the office that the candidate is seeking during that election cycle; and

“(C) has either qualified or will take steps to qualify under State law to be on the ballot.

“(b) General election.—Notwithstanding subsection (a), a candidate shall not be eligible to be certified as a participating candidate under this title for a general election or a general runoff election unless the candidate’s party nominated the candidate to be placed on the ballot for that election or the candidate is otherwise qualified to be on the ballot under State law.

“(c) Small dollar democracy qualifying period.—The term ‘Small Dollar Democracy qualifying period’ means, with respect to any candidate for an office, the 180-day period (during the election cycle for such office) which begins on the date on which the candidate files a statement of intent under section 511(a)(1), except that such period may not continue after the date that is 30 days before the date of the general election for the office.

“SEC. 512. QUALIFYING REQUIREMENTS.

“(a) Exception of qualified small dollar contribution to the candidate—

“(1) Not fewer than 1,000 individuals make a qualified small dollar contribution to the candidate.

“(2) The candidate obtains a total dollar amount of qualified small dollar contributions which is equal to or greater than $50,000.

“(b) Requirements relating to exception of qualified small dollar contribution—

“(1) Each qualified small dollar contribution—

“(A) may be made by means of a personal check, money order, debit card, credit card, electronic payment account, or any other method determined appropriate by the Commission; and

“(B) shall be accompanied by a signed statement (or, in the case of a contribution made online or through other electronic means, an electronic equivalent) containing the contributor’s name and address; and

“(C) may not be deposited by the candidate or the last data entry of a contribution by a contributor to the Commission; and

“(2) Verification of contributions.—The Commission shall establish procedures for the auditing and verification of the contributions, receipts and expenditures made by participating candidates under this title, including procedures for random audits, to ensure that such contributions and expenditures do not exceed the dollar limits of this title.

“SEC. 513. CERTIFICATION.

“(a) Deadline and notification.—

“(1) In general.—Not later than 5 business days before the close of a qualifying period under section 511(a)(4), the Commission shall—

“(A) determine whether or not the candidate meets the requirements for certification as a participating candidate;

“(B) if the Commission determines that the candidate meets the requirements, certify the candidate as a participating candidate; and “(C) notify the candidate of the Commission’s determination.

“(2) Deemed certification for all elections in election cycle.—If the Commission certifies a candidate as a participating candidate with respect to the first election of the election cycle involved, the Commission shall be deemed to have certified the candidate as a participating candidate with respect to all subsequent elections of the election cycle.

“(b) Revocation of certification.—

“(1) In general.—The Commission shall revoke a certification under subsection (a) if—

“(A) a candidate fails to qualify to appear on the ballot at any time after the date of certification (other than a candidate certified as a participating candidate with respect to a primary election who fails to qualify to appear on the ballot for a subsequent election in that election cycle); or

“(B) a candidate ceases to be a candidate for the office involved, as determined on the basis of official announcement by an authorized committee of the candidate on the basis of a reasonable determination by the Commission; or

“(C) a candidate otherwise fails to comply with the requirements of this title, including any regulatory requirements prescribed by the Commission.

“(2) Effect of revocation.—If a candidate’s certification is revoked under this subsection—

“(A) the candidate may not receive payments under this title during the remainder of the election cycle involved; and

“(B) in the case of a candidate whose certification is revoked pursuant to subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1)—

“(i) the candidate shall repay to the Freedom From Influence Fund established under section 541 an amount equal to the payments received under this title with respect to the election cycle (including any period of the election cycle involved) plus interest (at a rate determined by the Commission on the basis of an appropriate annual percentage rate for the month involved) on any such amount received; and “(ii) the candidate may not be certified as a participating candidate under this title with respect to the next election cycle.

“(3) Prohibition in future elections for candidates with multiple revocations.—If the Commission revokes the certification of an individual as a participating candidate pursuant to subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) a total of 3 times, the individual may not be certified as a participating candidate under this title with respect to any subsequent election.

“(4) Voluntary withdrawal from participating during qualifying period.—If at any time during the Small Dollar Democracy qualifying period described in section 511(c), a candidate may withdraw from participation in the program under this title by submitting to the Commission a statement of withdrawal (without regard to whether or not the Commission has certified the candidate) so long as—

“(A) the candidate’s spouse; and “(B) the funds are used only for making direct payments for the receipt of goods and services which constitute authorized expenditures in connection with the election cycle involved.

“(5) Immediate family member defined.—In this subsection, the term ‘immediate family member’ means, with respect to a candidate—

“(A) the candidate’s spouse;

“(B) a child, stepchild, parent, grandparent, brother, half-brother, sister, or half-sister of the candidate or the candidate’s spouse; and

“(C) the spouse of any person described in subparagraph (B).

“(c) Exceptions.—

“(1) Exception for contributions received prior to filing of statement of intent.—A candidate who has accepted contributions that are otherwise permitted to make contributions under this Act, subject to the applicable limitations of section 315, except that the aggregate amount of contributions a participating candidate may accept from any individual with respect to any election during the election cycle may not exceed $50,000; and

“(2) Exception for expenditures made prior to filing of statement of intent.—If a candidate has made expenditures prior to the date the candidate files a statement of intent under section 511(a)(1) that the candidate is prohibited from making under subsection (b), the candidate is considered not to be in violation of such subsection if the aggregate amount of the prohibited expenditures is less than the amount referred to in section 501(b)(3) and the total aggregate amount of qualified small dollar contributions which the candidate is required to obtain which is applicable to the candidate.

(b) Exception for campaign surpluses from a previous election.—Notwithstanding paragraph (1), unexpended contributions received by the candidate or an authorized committee of the candidate prior to the effective date of this title shall not constitute a violation of subsection (a) or (b). Unexpended contributions shall be treated the same as campaign surpluses under paragraph (1), except that the candidate shall not be considered to be in violation of subsection (a) or (b) if contributions remain unexpended as of such date.

(c) Special Rule for Coordinated Party Expenditures.—For purposes of this section, a payment made by a political party in coordination with a participating candidate shall not be treated as a contribution to or as an expenditure made by the participating candidate.

(d) Prohibition on Joint Fundraising Committees.—

(1) Prohibition.—An authorized committee of a participating candidate under this title shall not be considered to be a joint fundraising committee unless the candidate is certified as a participating candidate under this title with respect to an election may not establish a joint fundraising committee with another candidate.

(2) Status of existing committees for prior elections.—If a candidate established, financed, maintained, or controlled a joint committee described in paragraph (1) with respect to a prior election may not establish a joint committee with another candidate.

(e) Prohibition on Leadership PACs.—

(1) Prohibition.—A candidate who is certified as a participating candidate under this title with respect to an election may not establish, finance, maintain, or control a leadership PAC.

(2) Status of existing Leadership PACs.—If a candidate established, financed, maintained, or controlled a leadership PAC prior to being certified as a participating candidate under this title and the candidate does not terminate the leadership PAC as required by the Commission under section 541, the candidate shall be treated as if the candidate had not been certified as a participating candidate under this title.

(3) Leadership PAC Defined.—In this subsection, an "Leadership PAC" means any political action committee that is identified as a participating candidate under this title.

SEC. 522. ADMINISTRATION OF CAMPAIGN.

(a) Separate Accounting for Various Permitted Contributions.—Each authorized committee of a participating candidate under this title shall provide for separate accounting of each type of contribution described in section 521(a) that is received by the committee; and

(2) shall provide for separate accounting for the payments received under this title.

(b) Enhanced Disclosure of Information on Donors.—

(1) Mandatory Identification of Individuals Making Qualified Small Dollar Contributions.—Each authorized committee of a participating candidate under this title shall elect, in accordance with section 306(a)(3)(A), to include in the reports the committee submits under section 304 the identification of each person who makes a qualified small dollar contribution to the committee.

(2) Mandatory Disclosure Through Internet.—Each authorized committee of a participating candidate under this title shall ensure that all information reported to the Commission under this Act with respect to the committee is available to the public on the internet (whether through a site established for purposes of this subsection, a hyperlink included in the report filed by the committee, or a hyperlink on a report filed electronically with the Commission) in a searchable, sortable, and downloadable manner.

SEC. 523. Retaining Unnecessary Spending of Public Funds.

(a) Mandatory Spending of Available Private Funds.—An authorized committee of a participating candidate under this title shall not make any expenditure of any payments received under this title in any amount unless the committee identifies an equivalent amount of funds received by the committee which are described in paragraphs (1), (3), (4), (5), and (6) of section 521(a), (b) Limitation.—Subsection (a) applies to an authorized committee only to the extent that the funds referred to in such subsection are available to the committee at the time the committee is required to make a payment under this title.

SEC. 524. Remitting Unspent Funds After Election.

(a) Requirement Required.—Not later than the date that is 180 days after the last election for which a candidate certified as a participating candidate qualifies to be on the ballot during the election cycle involved, such participating candidate shall remit to the Commission for deposit in the Freedom From Influence Fund established under section 541 an amount equal to the amount of the payment which would have been made to the candidate under section 501(b) with respect to such qualified small dollar contributions if the candidate had not reached such limit.

(b) Limit.—The amount of the additional payment under paragraph (a) with respect to a candidate may not exceed $500,000.
(c) No Effect on Aggregate Limit.—The amount of the additional payment made to a candidate under this subtitle shall not be included in determining the aggregate amount of payments to participating candidates with respect to an election cycle under section 501(c).

SEC. 534. WITHHOLDING AUTHORITY TO RETAIN PORTION OF UNSPENT FUNDS AFTER ELECTION.

Notwithstanding section 524(a)(2), a candidate who receives an additional payment under this subtitle with respect to an election cycle is not permitted to withhold any portion from any of unspent funds of such candidate is required to remit to the Commission under section 524(a)(1).

Subtitle E—Administrative Provisions

SEC. 541. FREEDOM FROM INFLUENCE FUND.

(a) Establishment.—There is established in the Treasury a fund to be known as the 'Freedom From Influence Fund'.

(b) Amounts Held by Fund.—The Fund shall consist of the following amounts:

(2) Deposits.—Amounts deposited into the Fund under—

(A) sections 522(c)(1)(B) (relating to exceptions to reporting requirements);

(B) section 523 (relating to remittance of unused payments from the Fund); and

(C) section 544 (relating to violations).

(3) Patterns.—Interest earned on, and the proceeds from, the sale or redemption of any obligations held by the Fund under subsection (c).

(b) Authority.—The Commission shall invest portions of the Fund in obligations of the United States in the same manner as provided under section 6620(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(d) Use of Fund to Make Payments to Participating Candidates.—

(1) Payments to Participating Candidates.—Amounts in the Fund shall be available without further appropriation or fiscal year limitation to make payments to participating candidates as provided in this title.

(2) Mandatory Reduction of Payments in Case of Insufficient Amounts in Fund.—

(A) Advance Audits by Commission.—Not later than 90 days before the first day of each election cycle (beginning with the first election cycle after the date of enactment of this title), the Commission shall—

(i) audit the Fund to determine whether the amounts in the Fund will be sufficient to make payments to participating candidates in the amounts provided in this title during such election cycle; and

(ii) submit a report to Congress describing the results of the audit.

(B) Reductions in Amount of Payments.—

(i) Automatic Reduction on Pro Rata Basis.—If, on the basis of the audit described in subparagraph (A), the Commission determines that the amount anticipated to be available in the Fund with respect to the election cycle involved is not, or may not be, sufficient to satisfy the full entitlements of participating candidates to payments under this title for such election cycle, the Commission shall reduce each amount which would otherwise be paid to a participating candidate under this title by such pro rata amount as may be necessary to ensure that the aggregate amount of payments anticipated to be made with respect to the election cycle shall not exceed the amount anticipated to be available for such payments in the Fund with respect to such election cycle.

(ii) Restoration of Reductions in Case of Availability of Sufficient Funds During Election Cycle.—If, after reducing the amounts paid to participating candidates under this title, the amount of funds in the Fund to restore the amounts under clause (i), the Commission determines that there are sufficient amounts in the Fund to restore the amount that was reduced (or any portion thereof), to the extent that such amounts are available, the Commission may make a payment on a pro rata basis to participating candidates with respect to the election cycle in the amount by which such candidate's payments were reduced under clause (i) (or any portion thereof) be.

(iii) No Use of Amounts from Other Sources.—In any case in which the Commission determines that there are insufficient amounts in the Fund to restore the amount of payments to participating candidates under this title, moneys shall not be made available from any other source for the purpose of making such payments.

(3) Use of Fund to Make Other Payments.—In addition to the use described in subsection (d), amounts in the Fund shall be available without further appropriation or fiscal year limitation—

(A) to make payments to States under the My Voice Voucher Program under the Government By the People Act of 2019, subject to reductions under section 5101(f)(3) of such Act;

(B) to make payments to candidates under chapter 96 of title H of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, subject to reductions under section 9043(b) of such Code; and

(C) to make payments to candidates under chapter 96 of title H of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, subject to reductions under section 9043(b) of such Code.

(2) Effective Date.—This section shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this title.

SEC. 542. REVIEWS AND REPORTS BY GOVERNMENTAL AND OTHER OFFICIALS.

(a) Review of Small Dollar Financing.—

(1) In General.—After each regularly scheduled general election for Federal office, the Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct a comprehensive review of the Small Dollar financing program under this title, including—

(A) the maximum and minimum dollar amounts of qualified small dollar contributions under section 5115(b) of such Act; and

(B) the number and value of qualified small dollar contributions a candidate is required to obtain under section 512(a) to be eligible for certification as a participating candidate.

(2) Criteria for Review.—In conducting the review required under paragraph (1), the Comptroller General shall consider the following:

(A) Qualified Small Dollar Contributions.—Whether the number and dollar amounts of qualified small dollar contributions required strikes an appropriate balance regarding the importance of voter involvement, the need to assure adequate incentives for participating, and fiscal responsibility, taking into consideration the number of participating candidates and the electoral performance of those candidates, program cost, and any other information the Comptroller General determines is appropriate.

(B) Review of Payment Levels.—Whether the totality of the amount of funds allowed to be raised by participating candidates (including through qualified small dollar contributions) and payments under this title are sufficient for voters in each State to learn about and cast an informed vote, taking into account the historical amount of spending by winning candidates, media costs, primary election dates, and any information the Comptroller General determines is appropriate.

(3) Recommendations for Adjustment of Amounts.—Based on the review conducted under paragraph (1), the Comptroller General may recommend to Congress adjustments of the following amounts:

(A) The number of qualified small dollar contributions a candidate is required to obtain under section 512(a) to be eligible for certification as a participating candidate.

(B) The maximum amount of payments a candidate may receive under this title.

(b) Reports.—Not later than each June 1 which follows a regularly scheduled general election for Federal office for which payments were made under this title, the Comptroller General shall submit to the Committee on House Administration of the House of Representatives a report containing an analysis of the review conducted under subsection (a), including a detailed statement of Comptroller General's findings, conclusions, and recommendations based on such review, including any recommendations for adjustments of amounts described in subsection (a)(3); and

(c) Authorization of Appropriations.—There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

SEC. 543. ADMINISTRATION BY COMMISSION.

There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

SEC. 544. VIOLATIONS AND PENALTIES.

(a) Civil Penalty for Violation of Contributions and Expenditure Requirements.—If a candidate has been certified under section 542 and accepts a contribution or makes an expenditure that is prohibited under section 521, the Commission may assess a civil penalty against the candidate or the person or persons making the contribution or making the expenditure, subject to reductions under section 5101(f)(3)

(b) Repayment for Improper Use of Funds.—Any sums as are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(1) In General.—If the Commission determines that any payment made to a participating candidate was not used as provided in this title or that the participating candidate was not used as provided in this title.
Commission shall so notify the candidate and the candidate shall pay to the Fund an amount equal to—

(A) the amount of payments so used or not permitted to be used; and

(B) interest on any such amounts (at a rate determined by the Commission).

(2) OTHER ACTION NOT PRECLUDED.—Any action taken by the Commission in accordance with this subsection shall not preclude enforcement proceedings by the Commission in accordance with section 309(a), including a referral by the Commission to the Attorney General in the case of an apparent knowing and willful violation of this title.

(c) PROHIBITING CANDIDATES SUBJECT TO CRIMINAL PUNITIVE DISCIPLINARY ACTION QUALIFYING AS PARTICIPATING CANDIDATES.—A candidate is not eligible to be certified as a participating candidate under this title with respect to an election if a penalty has been assessed against the candidate under section 509(d) with respect to any previous election.

SEC. 545. APPEALS PROCESS.

(1) REVIEW OF ACTIONS.—Any action by the Commission in carrying out this title shall be subject to review by the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit in the same manner as a decision by the Commission in a case involving an apparent knowing and willful violation of this title.

(2) PROCEDURES.—The provisions of chapter 7 of title 5, United States Code, apply to judicial review under this section.

SEC. 546. INDEXING OF AMOUNTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—In any calendar year after 2024, section 315(c)(1)(B) shall apply to each amount described in subsection (b) in the same manner as such section applies to the amounts described under subsections (a)(1)(A), (a)(1)(B), and (a)(3), and (b) of section 110, except that for purposes of applying such section to the amounts described in subsection (b), the period shall be 2024.

(b) AMOUNTS DESCRIBED.—The amounts described in this subsection are as follows:

(1) The amount referred to in section 502(b)(1) (relating to the minimum amount of qualified small dollar contributions included in a request for payment).

(2) The amounts referred to in section 504(a)(1) (relating to the amount of a qualified small dollar contribution).

(3) The amount referred to in section 521(a)(2) (relating to the total dollar amount of qualified small dollar contributions).

(4) The amount referred to in section 521(a)(5) (relating to the aggregate amount of contributions a participating candidate may accept from any individual with respect to an election).

(5) The amount referred to in section 521(b)(1)(A) (relating to the amount of personal funds that may be used by a candidate who is certified as a participating candidate).

(6) The amounts referred to in section 524(a)(2) (relating to the amount of unspent funds a candidate may retain for use in the next election cycle).

(7) The amount referred to in section 522(a)(3) (relating to the total dollar amount of qualified small dollar contributions for a candidate seeking an additional payment under subtitle D).

(8) The amount referred to in section 533(b) (relating to the limit on the amount of an additional payment made to a candidate under subtitle D).

SEC. 550. ELECTION CYCLE DEFINED.

In this title, the term 'election cycle' means, with respect to an election for an office, the period beginning on the day after the date of a general election for that office (or, if the general election resulted in a runoff election, the date of the runoff election) and ending on the date of the next general election for that office (or, if the general election resulted in a runoff election, the date of the runoff election).

SEC. 5512. CONTRIBUTIONS AND EXPENDITURES BY MULTICANDIDATE AND POLITICALLY RELATED COMMITTEES.

(a) AUTHORIZING CONTRIBUTIONS ONLY FROM SEPARATE ACCOUNTS CONSISTING OF QUALIFIED SMALL DOLLAR CONTRIBUTIONS.—Section 315(a) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30116(a)) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

(8) In the case of a multicandidate political party committee or any political committee of a political party, the committee may make a contribution to a candidate who is a participating candidate under title V with respect to an election only if the contribution is paid from a separate, segregated account of the committee which consists solely of contributions which meet the following requirements:

(A) Each such contribution is in an amount which meets the requirements for the amount of qualified small dollar contribution under section 504(a)(1) with respect to the election involved.

(B) Each such contribution is made by an individual who is not otherwise prohibited from making a contribution under this Act.

(C) The individual who makes the contribution does not make contributions to the committee during the aggregate amount that exceeds the limit described in section 504(a)(1).

(b) PERMISSING UNLIMITED COORDINATED EXPENDITURES FROM SMALL DOLLAR SOURCES BY POLITICAL PARTIES.—Section 315(d) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30116(d)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (6), by inserting “The national committee” and inserting “Except as provided in paragraph (6), the national committee”;

(2) by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

(7) The amount referred to in paragraph (3) do not apply in the case of expenditures in connection with the general election campaign of a candidate for the office of Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, the Congress who is a participating candidate under title V with respect to the election, but only if—

(A) the expenditures are paid from a separate, segregated account of the committee which is described in subsection (a); and

(B) the expenditures are the sole source of funding provided by the committee to the candidate.

SEC. 5513. PROHIBITING USE OF CONTRIBUTIONS BY PARTICIPATING CANDIDATES FOR PURPOSES OTHER THAN CAMPAIGN FOR ELECTION.

Section 313 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30114) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

(4) RESTRICTIONS ON PERMITTED USES OF FUNDS BY CANDIDATES RECEIVING SMALL DOLLAR CONTRIBUTIONS.—Notwithstanding paragraph (2), (3), or (4) of subsection (a), if a candidate for election for the office of Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, the Congress is certified as a participating candidate under title V with respect to the election, any contribution which the candidate is permitted to accept under such title may be used only for authorized expenditures in connection with the candidate’s campaign for such office, subject to section 503(b).

SEC. 5218. USE OF FREEDOM FROM INFLUENCE FUND AS SOURCE OF PAYMENTS.

(a) In General.—Subtitle H of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

``SEC. 9013. USE OF FREEDOM FROM INFLUENCE FUND AS SOURCE OF PAYMENTS.

(1) In General.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, effective for the calendar year 2028 and each succeeding Presidential election, all payments made under this chapter shall be made from the Freedom From Influence Fund established under section 541 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.

(2) MANDATORY REDUCTION OF PAYMENTS IN CASE OF INSUFFICIENT AMOUNTS IN FUND.—

(1) ADVANCE AUDITS BY COMMISSION.—Not later than 30 days before the first day of each Presidential election cycle beginning with the cycle for the election held in 2028, the Commission shall:

(A) audit the Fund to determine whether, after first making payments to participating candidates under title V of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 and then making payments to candidates under chapter 96, the amount in the Fund will be sufficient to make payments to candidates under this chapter in the amounts provided under this chapter during such election cycle; and

(B) submit a report to Congress describing the results of the audit.

(2) REDUCTIONS IN AMOUNT OF PAYMENTS.—

(A) AUTOMATIC REDUCTION ON PRO RATA BASIS.—If, after advance audits described in paragraph (1), the Commission determines that the amount anticipated to be available in the Fund with respect to the Presidential election cycle involved is not, or may not be, sufficient to satisfy the full entitlements of candidates to payments under this chapter for such cycle, the Commission shall reduce such amounts to the extent necessary to pay to a candidate under this chapter by such pro rata amount as may be necessary to ensure that the aggregate amount of payments anticipated to be made by the Commission in the Presidenti-cal election cycle will not exceed the amount anticipated to be available for such payments in the Fund with respect to such cycle.

(B) RESERVATIONS IN CASE OF AVAILABILITY OF SUFFICIENT FUNDS DURING ELECTION CYCLE.—If, after reducing the amounts paid to candidates with respect to an election cycle, the Commission determines that there are sufficient funds in the Fund to restore the amount by which such payments were reduced (and the extent to which such amounts are available, the Commission may make a payment on a pro rata basis to each such candidate with respect to the election cycle by which such candidate’s payments were reduced under subparagraph (A) (or any portion thereof, as the case may be).

(C) NO USE OF AMOUNTS FROM OTHER SOURCES.—In any case in which the Commission determines to make payments to candidates in the amounts described in subparagraph (A), the Fund as source of payments."

SEC. 5221. EFFECTIVE DATE.

(a) In General.—Except as otherwise provided, this subtitle and the amendments made by this subtitle shall apply with respect to the Presidential election held in 2028 and each succeeding Presidential election, without regard to whether or not the Federal Election Commission has promulgated rules as the amendment made by this part by the deadline set forth in subsection (b).

(b) DEADLINE FOR RULES.—Not later than June 30, 2026, the Federal Election Commission shall promulgate such regulations as may be necessary to carry out this part and the amendments made by this part.

Subtitle D—Personal Use Services as Authorized Expenditures

SEC. 5301. SHORT TITLE; FINDINGS; PURPOSE.

(a) Short Title.—This section may be cited as the “Help America Run Act”.

(b) Findings.—Congress finds the following:

(1) Everyday Americans experience barriers to entry before they can consider running for office to serve their communities.

(2) Current law states that campaign funds cannot be spent on everyday expenses that would exist whether or not a candidate were running for office.

(3) Thus current practice favors those prospective candidates who do not need to rely on a regular paycheck to make ends meet. The 2013 New York Times article cited above noted that the few women legislators who have firsthand knowledge of the importance of stable childcare, a safety net, or great public schools are less likely to get a seat at the table. This is antithetical to the democratic experiment, but most importantly, when lawmakers do not share the concerns of everyday Americans, their policies reflect that.

(4) These circumstances have contributed to a Congress that does not always reflect everyday Americans. The New York Times recently reported that 30% of Representatives cite blue-collar or service jobs in their biographies. A 2015 survey by the Center for Responsive Politics showed that the median net worth of lawmakers was just over $1 million in 2013, or 18 times the wealth of the typical American household.

(5) These circumstances have also contributated to a government that does not reflect the nation it serves. For instance, women are 51% of the American population. Yet even with a record number of women serving in the One Hundred Sixteenth Congress, the Pew Research Center notes that more than three out of four Members of this Congress are male. The Center for American Women and Politics found one third of women legislators surveyed had been actively discouraged from running for office, often by political professionals. This type of discouragement, combined with the prohibitions on using campaign funds for domestic needs like childcare, burdens that still fall disproportionately on American women, particularly disadvantages working mothers. These barriers may explain why only 10 women in history have given birth while serving in Congress, in spite of the prevalence of working parents in other professions. Yet working mothers and fathers are best positioned to create policy that reflects the lived experience of most Americans.

(6) Working mothers, those caring for their elderly parents, and young professionals who rely on their jobs for health insurance should have the freedom to run to serve the people they rely on their jobs for health insurance should have the freedom to run to serve the people.

The Act will facilitate the candidacy of representatives who have the freedom to run to serve the people.

(c) PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of this subtitl...a quorum, except that 3 members shall constitute a quorum.

“(1) REVISION OF STANDARDS.—Section 309(a) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30109(a)) is amended by striking paragraphs (2) and (3) and inserting the following:

“(A) The general counsel, upon receiving a complaint filed with the Commission under paragraph (1) or upon the basis of information ascertained by the Commission in the course of its investigation of the matter, having supervisory responsibilities, shall make a determination as to whether or not there is reason to believe that a person has committed, or is about to commit, a violation of this Act or section 309(a), (b), or chapter 95 or chapter 96 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, and as to whether or not the Commission should either initiate an investigation of the matter or that the complaint should be dismissed. The general counsel shall promptly provide notification to the Chair of any determination. If the determination by the general counsel that the Commission should investigate the matter takes effect, unless during such 30-day period the Commission, by vote of a majority of the members of the Commission who are serving at the time, overrules the general counsel’s determination. If the determination by the general counsel that the Commission should investigate the matter takes effect, and if the determination by the general counsel that the determination is correct is overruled as provided under the previous sentence, the general counsel shall initiate an investigation of the matter on behalf of the Commission.

“(B) If the Commission initiates an investigation pursuant to subparagraph (A), the Commission, through its general counsel, shall notify the subject of the investigation of the alleged violation. Such notification shall set forth the factual basis for such alleged violation. The Commission shall make an investigation of such alleged violation, which may include a field investigation or audit, in accordance with the provisions of this section and any budget allocation to the Commission of any intent to issue a subpoena or conduct any other form of discovery pursuant to the investigation. Upon the expiration of the 15-day period which begins on the date the general counsel provides such notification, the general counsel may issue a subpoena or conduct the discovery, unless during such 15-day period the Commission, by vote of a majority of the members of the Commission who are serving at that time, the general counsel from issuing the subpoena or conducting the discovery.

"(3) Upon completion of an investigation under paragraph (2), the general counsel shall promptly submit to the Commission the general counsel's recommendation that the Commission take such action as the general counsel considers appropriate, which action the general counsel shall promptly take if the respondent submits a brief under subparagraph (A), the general counsel submits the recommendation to the Commission to present testimony in support of the request, and replying to the brief of the general counsel including with the recommendation a brief stating the position of the general counsel on the legal and factual issues of the case.

"(B) At the time the general counsel submits to the Commission the recommendation under subparagraph (A), the general counsel shall notify the respondent of such recommendation and the reasons therefore, shall provide the respondent with an opportunity to object to the recommendation, and shall determine by de novo review whether the agency's failure to act on the complaint is contrary to law.

"(C) In any proceeding under this subparagraph the court may declare that the dismissal of the complaint or the failure to act on the complaint is contrary to law, and may direct the Commission to present testimony in support of the request, and the person or counsel accepts such opportunity, the Commission shall provide a reasonable opportunity for an interested person who submitted written comments under subsection (d) in response to the request (or counsel for such interested person) to appear before the Commission to present testimony in support of the request, and the person or counsel accepts such opportunity, the Commission shall provide a reasonable opportunity for an interested person who submitted written comments under subsection (d) in response to the request (or counsel for such interested person) to appear before the Commission to present testimony in response to the request.

"(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by paragraph (1) shall apply—

(a) in the case of complaints which are dismissed under subparagraph (A), with respect to complaints which are dismissed on or after the date of the enactment of this Act; and

(b) in the case of complaints upon which the Federal Election Commission failed to act, with respect to complaints which were filed on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(IV) address the role on the transition team of—

(aa) registered lobbyists under the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.) and individuals who were formerly registered lobbyists under that Act;
The term "executive agency" has the meaning given that term in section 2853.203(b) of title 5, Code of Federal Regulations (or any successor regulation); and

"(B) does not include those items excluded by sections 2635.204(b), (c), (e)(1), (e)(3), (j), (k), and (l) of such title 5.

"(4) The term "executive branch official" and "lobbyist" have the meanings given those terms in section 3 of the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1602).

"(5) The term "lobby" and "lobbied" mean to act or have acted as a registered lobbyist.

"(6) The term 'lobby' and 'lobbied' mean to act or have acted as a registered lobbyist.

"(7) The term 'former employer' means a person or entity for whom an appointee served personally as agent, attorney, consultant, or contractor during the 2-year period ending on the date before the date on which the covered employee begins service in the Federal Government; and

"(8) The term 'government territory or possession' means a territory or possession of the United States.

"(9) The term 'government official' means any employee of the executive branch.

"(10) The term 'participate' means to participate personally and substantially.

"(11) The term 'person' means any natural person or entity, including a谎言 or entity for whom an appointee served personally as agent, attorney, consultant, or contractor during the 2-year period ending on the date before the date on which the covered employee begins service in the Federal Government.

"(12) The term 'lobbyist' includes each of the lobbyists identified in paragraph (A)

"(13) The term 'lobby' and 'lobbied' mean to act or have acted as a registered lobbyist.

"(14) The term 'lobbyist' includes each of the lobbyists identified in paragraph (A)

"(15) All references to provisions of law and regulations shall refer to such provisions as in effect on the date of enactment of this title.

"(A) (1) Lobbyist Gift Ban.—I will not accept gifts from registered lobbyists or lobbying organizations for the duration of my service as an appointee.

"(2) Revoking Door Ban; Entering Government.—I will not, for a period of 2 years from the date of my appointment, participate in any particular matter involving specific interests substantially related to my former employer or former clients, including regulations and contracts.

"(3) Lobbyists Entering Government.—If I was a registered lobbyist within the 2 years before the date of my appointment, in addition to abiding by the limitations of subparagraphs (A) or (B), I will not for a period of 2 years after the date of my appointment:

"(i) participate in any particular matter on which I lobbied within the 2 years before the date of my appointment;

"(ii) participate in the specific issue area in which that particular matter fails; or

"(iii) seek or accept employment with any executive agency that I lobbied within the 2 years before the date of my appointment.

"(4) Revolving Door Ban; Appointees Leasing Government.—If, upon my departure from the Government, I am covered by the post-employment restrictions on communicating with employees of my former agency and the agency is set forth in section 207(c) of title 18, United States Code, I agree that I will abide by those restrictions for a period of 2 years following the end of my appointment.

"(B) Appointees Leasing Government to Lobby.—In addition to abiding by the limitations of subparagraph (A), I also agree, upon leaving Government service, not to lobby the Government for the remainder of the Administration.

"(C) Employment Qualification Commitment.—I agree that any hiring or other employment decisions I make will be based on the candidate's qualifications, competence, and experience.

"(D) Assent to Enforcement.—I acknowledge that title II of the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, which I have read before signing this document, defines certain of the terms applicable to the foregoing obligations and sets forth the methods for enforcing the express terms of that title as a part of this agreement and as binding on me. I understand that the terms of this pledge are in addition to any statutory or other legal restrictions applicable to me by virtue of Federal Government service.

"SEC. 203. WAIVER.

"(a) The President or the President’s designee may grant to any current or former appointee a written waiver of any restrictions contained in the pledge signed by such appointee, and to the extent that the President or the President’s designee certifies (in writing) that, in light of all the relevant circumstances, the interest of the Federal Government in the employees participation outweighs the concern that a reasonable person may question the integrity of the agency's perception of facts or operations.

"(b) Any waiver under this section shall take effect when the certification is signed by the President or the President’s designee.

"This section shall take effect when the President or the President’s designee signs a written certification that, in light of all the relevant circumstances, the interest of the Federal Government in the employees participation outweighs the concern that a reasonable person may question the integrity of the agency's perception of facts or operations.

"(A) The President or the President’s designee may grant to any current or former appointee a written waiver of any restrictions contained in the pledge signed by such appointee, and to the extent that the President or the President’s designee certifies (in writing) that, in light of all the relevant circumstances, the interest of the Federal Government in the employees participation outweighs the concern that a reasonable person may question the integrity of the agency's perception of facts or operations.

"(B) Any waiver under this section shall take effect when the certification is signed by the President or the President’s designee.

"(C) The President or the President’s designee may grant to any current or former appointee a written waiver of any restrictions contained in the pledge signed by such appointee, and to the extent that the President or the President’s designee certifies (in writing) that, in light of all the relevant circumstances, the interest of the Federal Government in the employees participation outweighs the concern that a reasonable person may question the integrity of the agency's perception of facts or operations.
(1) provide a copy of the waiver to the Director not less than 48 hours after the waiver is granted; and
(2) publish the waiver on the website of the agency within 30 calendar days after granting such waiver.

(e) Upon receiving a written waiver under subsection (d), the Director shall—
(1) review the waiver to determine whether the Director has any objection to the issuance of the waiver; and
(2) if the Director has any objections—
(A) provide reasons for the objection in writing to the head of the agency who granted the waiver not less than 15 calendar days after the receipt of the written waiver, and
(B) publish the written objection on the website of the Office of Government Ethics not less than 30 calendar days after the waiver was granted.

SEC. 204. ADMINISTRATION.

(a) The head of each executive agency shall, in consultation with the Director of the Office of Government Ethics, establish such rules or procedures (conforming as nearly as practicable to the agency’s general ethics rules and procedures, including those relating to designated agency ethics officers) as are necessary or appropriate to ensure—
(1) that every appointee in the agency signs the pledge upon assuming the appointee’s office or otherwise becoming an appointee;
(2) that compliance with paragraph (2)(B) of the pledge is addressed in a written ethics agreement with each appointee to whom it applies;
(3) that spousal employment issues and other conflicts not expressly addressed by the pledge are addressed in ethics agreements with appointees or, where no such agreements are required, through ethics counseling; and
(4) compliance with this title within the agency.
(b) With respect to the Executive Office of the President, the duties set forth in subsection (a) shall be the responsibility of the Counsel to the President.
(c) The Director of the Office of Government Ethics shall—
(1) ensure that the pledge and a copy of this title are made available for use by agencies in fulfilling their duties under subsection (a);
(2) in consultation with the Attorney General or the Counsel to the President, when appropriate, assist designated agency ethics officers in providing advice to current or former appointees regarding the application of the pledge;
(3) adopt such rules or procedures as are necessary or appropriate—
(A) to carry out the responsibilities assigned by this subsection;
(B) to apply the lobbyist gift ban set forth in paragraph 1 of the pledge to all executive branch employees;
(C) to authorize limited exceptions to the lobbyist gift ban for circumstances that do not impair the purposes of the ban;
(D) to make clear that no person shall have violated the lobbyist gift ban if the person properly disposed of a gift;
(E) to ensure that existing rules and procedures for Government employees engaged in negotiations for future employment with private entities that are affected by their official actions do not affect the integrity of the Government’s programs and operations; and
(F) to ensure, in consultation with the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, that the requirement set forth in paragraph (4) of the pledge is honored by every executive branch.

“(G) if the person making the disbursement, or a contributor described in subparagraph (E) or (F), is a registered lobbyist under the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995, a separate statement that such person or contributor is a registered lobbyist under such Act.”;

(d) REQUIREING COMMISSION TO ESTABLISH LINK TO WEBSITES OF CLERK OF HOUSE AND SECRETARY OF SENATE.—Section 304 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30104), as amended by section 3308(a) of this Act, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:—

“(k) REQUIRING INFORMATION ON REGISTERED LOBBYISTS TO BE LINKED TO WEBSITES OF CLERK OF HOUSE AND SECRETARY OF SENATE.—

“(1) LINKS TO WEBSITES.—The Commission shall ensure that the Commission’s public database containing information described in paragraph (2) is linked electronically to the websites maintained by the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives containing information filed pursuant to the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995.

“(2) INFORMATION DISCLOSED.—The information described in this paragraph is each of the following:—

“(A) Information disclosed under paragraph (9) of subsection (b).

“(B) Information disclosed under subparagraph (D) of subsection (c)(2).

SEC. 9203. EFFECTIVE DATE.

The amendments made by this subtitle shall apply with respect to reports required to be filed under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101 et seq.) after the expiration of the 90-day period which begins on the date of the enactment of this Act.

Subtitle D—Access to Congressionally Mandated Reports

SEC. 9301. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the “Access to Congressionally Mandated Reports Act”.

SEC. 9302. DEFINITIONS.

In this subtitle:

(1) CONGRESSIONALLY MANDATED REPORT.—The term “congressionally mandated report” means a report that is required to be submitted to either House of Congress or any committee of Congress, or subcommittee thereof, by a statute, resolution, or conference report that accompanies legislation enacted into law:

(A) means a report that is required to be submitted to either House of Congress or any committee of Congress, or subcommittee thereof, by a statute, resolution, or conference report that accompanies legislation enacted into law; and

(B) does not include a report required under part B of subtitle II of title 36, United States Code.

(2) DIRECTOR.—The term “Director” means the Director of the Government Publishing Office.

(3) FEDERAL AGENCY.—The term “Federal agency” means the Office of Management and Budget, the Accountability Office, or the Director of the Accountability Office.

(4) REPORTS.—The term “reports” means reports submitted under the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995.

(5) REPORTS ONLINE PORTAL.—The term “reports online portal” means the online portal established under section 3(a).

SEC. 9303. ESTABLISHMENT OF ONLINE PORTAL FOR CONGRESSIONALLY MANDATED REPORTS

(a) REQUIREMENT TO ESTABLISH ONLINE PORTAL.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Director shall establish and maintain an online portal accessible by the public that allows the public to obtain electronic copies of all congressionally mandated reports in one place. The Director may publish other reports on the online portal.

(2) EXISTING FUNCTIONALITY.—To the extent possible, the online portal shall meet the requirements under paragraph (1) by using existing online portals and functionality under the authority of the Director.

(b) CONTENT AND FUNCTION.—The online portal shall ensure that the congressionally mandated report to the Director, the Director shall to the extent practicable—

(A) include on the reports online portal—

(i) the information required under clauses (i), (ii), (iv), and (v) of section 3(b)(1)(C); and

(ii) the date on which the report was required to be submitted; and

(B) include the congressionally mandated report on the list described in subsection (c)(5)(C).

(c) REPORTS NOT IN OPEN FORMAT.—If a Federal agency submits a congressionally mandated report that is not in an open format, the Director shall include the congressionally mandated report in another format on the reports online portal.

(d) FREE ACCESS.—The Director may not charge a fee, require registration, or impose any other limitation in exchange for access to the reports online portal.

(e) UPGRADE CAPABILITY.—The reports online portal shall be enhanced and updated as necessary to carry out the purposes of this subtitle.

SEC. 9304. FEDERAL AGENCY RESPONSIBILITIES.

SEC. 9305. SUBMISSION OF ELECTRONIC COPIES OF REPORTS.—Concurrent with the submission to Congress of each congressionally mandated report, the head of the Federal agency submitting the congressionally mandated report shall submit to the Director the information required under subparagraphs (A) through (D) of section 3(b)(1) with respect to the congressionally mandated report. Nothing in this subtitle shall relieve a Federal agency of any other requirement to publish such congressionally mandated report on the online portal of the Federal agency or otherwise submit the congressionally mandated report to Congress or specific committees of Congress or subcommittees thereof.

(b) GUIDANCE.—Not later than 240 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget, in consultation with the Director, shall issue guidance to agencies on the implementation of this Act.

(c) Structure of Submitted Report Data.—The head of each Federal agency shall ensure that each congressionally mandated report submitted to the Director complies with the open format criteria established by the Director in the guidance issued under subsection (b).

(d) Point or Contact.—The head of each Federal agency shall designate a point of contact for congressionally mandated report.

(e) List of Reports.—As soon as practicable after the calendar year (beginning after April 1), a report on a rolling basis during the year if feasible, the Librarian of Congress shall submit to the Director a list of congressionally mandated reports from the previous calendar year, in consultation with the Clerk of the House of Representatives, which shall—

(1) be provided in an open format;

(2) include the information required under clauses (1), (ii), (iv), (v) of section 3(b)(1)(C) for each report;

(3) include the frequency of the report;

(4) include a unique alphanumeric identifier for the report that is consistent across report editions;

(5) be dated on which each report is required to be submitted; and

(6) be updated and provided to the Director, as necessary.

SEC. 5005. REMOVING AND ALTERING REPORTS.

A report submitted to be published to the reports online portal may only be changed or removed, with the exception of technical changes, by the head of the Federal agency concerned if—

(1) the head of the Federal agency consults with each congressional committee to which the report is submitted; and

(2) the head of the congressional committee authorizes the changing or removal of the report.

SEC. 5006. RELATIONSHIP TO THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT.

(a) In General.—Nothing in this subtitle shall be construed to—

(1) require the disclosure of information or records that is exempt from public disclosure under section 552 of title 5, United States Code; or

(2) impose any affirmative duty on the Director or Congress to congressionally mandated reports submitted for publication to the reports online portal for the purpose of identifying and redacting such information or records.

(b) Redaction of Information.—The head of a Federal agency may redact information required to be disclosed under this Act if the information would be properly withheld from disclosure under section 552 of title 5, United States Code, and shall—

(1) redact information required to be disclosed under this subtitle if disclosure of such information is prohibited by law;

(2) redact information being withheld under this subsection prior to submitting the information to the Director;

(3) redact only such information properly withheld under this subsection from the submission of information or from any congressionally mandated report submitted under this subtitle;

(4) identify where any such redaction is made in the submitted report; and

(5) identify the exemption under which each such redaction is made.

SEC. 5007. IMPLEMENTATION.

Except as provided in section 5004(b), this subtitle shall not take effect—

(1) before the date of enactment of this Act and shall apply with respect to congressionally mandated reports submitted to Congress on or after the date that is 1 year after such date of enactment.

Subtitle E—Severability

SEC. 5001. SEVERABILITY.

If any provision of this title or amendment made by this title, or the application of a provision or amendment to any person or circumstance, is held to be unconstitutional, the remainder of this title and amendments made by this title, and the application of any provisions and amendment to any person or circumstance, shall not be affected by the holding.

TITLE X—PRESIDENTIAL AND VICE PRESIDENTIAL TAX TRANSPARENCY

Sec. 10001. Presidential and Vice Presidential tax transparency.

(a) Definitions.—In this section—

(1) the term ‘‘covered candidate’’ means a candidate of a major party in a general election for the office of President or Vice President;

(2) the term ‘‘major party’’ has the meaning given the term in section 9002 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(b) Disclosure.—

(1) The term ‘‘tax return’’ means, with respect to an individual, any return (as such term is defined in section 6103(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, except that such term shall not include declarations of estimated tax of—

(A) such individual, other than information returns issued to persons other than such individual, or

(B) of any corporation, partnership, or trust in which such individual holds, directly or indirectly, a significant interest as the sole or principal owner or the sole or principal beneficial owner (as such terms are defined in regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury) or any trust in which such individual is a named fiduciary;

(3) The term ‘‘Secretary’’ means the Secretary of the Treasury or the delegate of the Secretary.

(c) Operations Under Subtitle E.—

(1) In General.—

(A) Candidates for President and Vice President.—Not later than the date that is 15 days after the date on which an individual becomes a covered candidate, the individual shall submit to the Federal Election Commission a copy of the individual’s income tax return for the most recent taxable year for which a return has been filed with the Internal Revenue Service.

(B) President and Vice President.—With respect to the President or Vice President, not later than the due date for the return for each taxable year, such individual shall submit to the Federal Election Commission a copy of the individual’s income tax returns for the taxable year and for the 9 preceding taxable years.

(d) Transition Rule for Sitting Presidents and Vice Presidents.—Not later than the date that is 30 days after the date of enactment of this section, an individual who is the President or Vice President on such date of enactment shall submit to the Federal Election Commission a copy of the income tax returns for the 10 most recent taxable years for which a return has been filed with the Internal Revenue Service.

(2) Failure to Disclose.—If any requirement under paragraph (1) to submit an income tax return is not met, the term tax return of the Federal Election Commission shall submit to the Secretary a written request that the Secretary provide the Federal Election Commission with the individual’s income tax return.

(3) Publicly Available.—The chairman of the Federal Election Commission shall make publicly available each income tax return submitted under paragraph (1) in the same manner as a return provided under section 6103(l)(23) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (as added by this title).

(4) Treatment As a Report Under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.—For purposes of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, any income tax return submitted under paragraph (1) or provided under section 6103(l)(23) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (as added by this section) shall, after being submitted under paragraph (1) or provided under paragraph (3) of such section, be treated as a report filed under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.

(c) Disclosure of Returns of Presidents and Vice Presidents and Certain Candidates for President and Vice President.—

(1) In General.—Section 6103(l) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

‘‘(23) Disclosure of Return Information of Presidents and Vice Presidents and Certain Candidates for President and Vice President.—’’

(2) Conforming Amendments.—Section 6103(p)(4) of such Code is amended—

(A) by striking ‘‘(or (2))’’ and inserting ‘‘(2), (23),’’ and

(B) in subparagraph (F)(ii) by striking ‘‘(2)’’ and inserting ‘‘(2), (23)’’;

(3) Effective Date.—The amendments made by this subsection shall apply to disclosures made on or after the date of enactment of this Act.

The Acting CHAIR. No further amendment to the bill, as amended, shall be in order except those printed in part B of House Report 116-16 and amendments en bloc described in section 3 of House Resolution 13. Each further amendment printed in part B of the report may be offered only in the order printed in the report, by a Member designated in the report, shall be considered as read, shall be debatable for the time specified in the report equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent, shall not be subject to amendment, and shall not be subject to a demand for division of the question. It shall be in order at any time for the chair of the Committee on House Administration or her designee to offer amendments en bloc consisting of amendments in part B of the report not earlier disposed of. Amendments en bloc shall be considered as read, shall be debatable for 20 minutes equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on House Administration or their designees, shall not be subject to amendment, and shall not be subject to a demand for division of the question.

□ 1700 AMENDMENT NO. 1 OFFERED BY MR. SUOZZI

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 1 printed in part B of House Report 116-16.

Mr. SUOZZI. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

SEC. 4103. AUDIT AND REPORT ON ILLICIT FOREIGN MONEY IN FEDERAL ELECTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Title III of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101 et seq.), as amended by section 1821, is further amended, by inserting after section 319A the following new section:

"SEC. 319B. AUDIT AND REPORT ON DISBURSEMENTS BY FOREIGN NATIONALS.

"(a) AUDIT.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—The Commission shall conduct an audit after each Federal election cycle to determine the incidence of illicit foreign money in such Federal election cycle.

"(2) PROCEDURES.—In carrying out paragraph (1), the Commission shall conduct random audits of any disbursements required to be reported under this Act, in accordance with procedures established by the Commission.

"(b) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the end of each Federal election cycle, the Commission shall submit to Congress a report containing—

"(1) results of the audit required by subsection (a)(1); and

"(2) recommendations to address the presence of illicit foreign money in elections, as appropriate.

(c) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section:

"(1) The term ‘Federal election cycle’ means the period which begins on the day after the date of a regularly scheduled general election for Federal office and which ends on the date of the first regularly scheduled general election for Federal office held after such date.

"(2) The term ‘illicit foreign money’ means any disbursement by a foreign national (as defined in section 319A) prohibited under such amendment.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply with respect to the Federal election cycle that began during November 2018, and each succeeding Federal election cycle.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from New York (Mr. SUOZZI) and a Republican cosponsor, would require the Federal Election Commission to conduct an audit after each Federal election cycle to determine any incidence of illicit foreign money in the election.

The reason we have such a bipartisan-supported amendment is because of the hard work of the Problem Solvers Caucus, chaired by my friends Chairman REED for the Republicans and Chairman GOTTHEIMER for the Democrats.

In January, our colleagues on the Problem Solvers Caucus worked with the leadership to negotiate the 20–20 rule as part of our Break the Gridlock proposal.

This amendment is the first amendment to receive preferential treatment under the 20–20 rule by the Rules Committee, and we are happy to see our addition to the rules package has worked its way to encourage transparency and bipartisanship in the 116th Congress.

Mr. Chairman, campaign finance law has loopholes, leaving the American electoral process susceptible to illicit funding from individuals, corporations, and governments.

Foreign money easily influences our elections by passing funds through shell corporations, U.S. subsidiaries, investments, trade associations, and shell companies. Under our proposed amendment, within 180 days of an election, the FEC will submit to Congress a report containing audit results and recommendations to address the presence of illicit foreign money.

I urge the members of this Congress to continue to utilize the 20–20 rule and gain some muscle memory of working in a bipartisan way to work for the American people.

Confidence in our electoral process is essential to faith in our government institutions. I urge the passage of this bipartisan amendment to H.R. 1.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chair, I seek the Republican side of the aisle.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from New York is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chairman, I would like to start by thanking my colleague, Mr. SUOZZI from New York, as well as my Republican colleague, Mr. FITZPATRICK, who led the charge on this amendment process in this amendment before you.

I would also take a moment to thank my co-chair on the Problem Solvers Caucus, Mr. GOTTHEIMER from New Jersey.

Though we may disagree on the fundamental bill before us, Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to be able to report to the American people today that there are still Members here that are looking to find common ground.

In the amendment before you that has been put forward in this new mechanism in the Rules Committee to encourage bipartisan debate, we have found that common ground in regards to the transparency and the requirements that this amendment calls for in regards to making sure that, if foreign money is in our election process, we do everything we can in order to root that out and bring sunshine to that issue for all Americans to see.

I encourage my colleagues on our side of the aisle to support this amendment because this is that common ground that, even though we may fundamentally disagree on some of the final conclusions of H.R. 1 and the issue and the debate that we have already seen on display here today, this is something that common sense dictates that we come together for as Democrats and Republicans, working together to find that common ground to advance the American cause.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SUOZZI. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 1/2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Virginia (Ms. SPANBERGER).

Ms. SPANBERGER. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for yielding, and I rise in support of this amendment to H.R. 1.

I speak today as someone who has spent my career in public service identifying foreign threats to the safety and security of the American people. As a former CIA officer, I worked to identify threats to our country, our fellow Americans, and threats that would leave our Nation vulnerable to attack, espionage, or foreign influence.

As Congress acts this week to restore transparency to our government and regain trust from the people we serve, we must take steps to prevent foreign influence in our democratic process. I support efforts to push back against the very real threat of foreign financial influence. I know nefarious actors are out there. I know they are tireless in their commitment to target our foundational institutions, including our voting process.

The American people shouldn’t have to worry about the ability of foreign governments or entities to influence our elections and our citizens, but senseless loopholes in our campaign finance system have left our electoral process vulnerable to spending by foreign governments, corporations, and foreign nationals. These foreign entities should not have the ability to exert influence over the issues that impact Americans most, including the national defense, healthcare, and our financial services sector. That is why I am proud to cosponsor this much-needed bipartisan amendment.

This amendment would strengthen the integrity of our elections by encouraging our government to ensure that our campaign finance system is not falling prey to signs of foreign money in our politics. It would require the FEC to conduct an audit to look for foreign money in our elections and then require the FEC to report its findings.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. GOTTHEIMER), Democratic co-chair of the Problem Solvers Caucus, in the spirit of bipartisanship and in the pursuit to find common ground.

Mr. GOTTHEIMER. Mr. Chairman, I thank my co-chair of the Problem Solvers Caucus, Tom Reed, for his leadership.

Mr. Chairman, thank you for allowing me to speak on behalf of this important bipartisan amendment to H.R. 1. I also want to thank Congresswoman Loe-Gren and Congressman Sarbanes for their leadership on this legislation. And strengthening the rights that we have in our amendment, my very good friend Congressman Suozzi and Congressman Fitzpatrick, I thank them for their work on this bipartisan Problem Solvers Caucus initiative, which I know will further help improve H.R. 1 by stopping the flow of foreign money into our elections.

This amendment was developed with strong support from the bipartisan Problem Solvers Caucus, utilizing the new Break Gridlock rules reforms that the caucus helped put in place in the new Congress.

This is the first time the 20-20 rule is being utilized for broad, bipartisan support legislation, and an amendment like this sends exactly the right signal to the American people that we can work together to move legislation.

I am proud to be a cosponsor of H.R. 1, the For the People Act, which will help strengthen the rights in our country, help clean corruption out of our politics, and protect free and fair elections, which is the bedrock of our democracy.

Civil rights means everyone in our great Nation has equal rights and, therefore, equal speech. Dark money in our politics flies in the face of that American ideal, from wherever it comes. Even worse is dark foreign money.

Loopholes in our campaign finance system have left our electoral process vulnerable to unlimited spending by foreign governments, corporations, and foreign nationals in our elections. We have seen that foreign entities are able to spend undisclosed amounts of money to influence U.S. elections by using subsidiaries, shell corporations, or advocacy groups to hide their influence.

In 2016, American Pacific International Capital, a company owned by Chinese citizens, used these loopholes to donate $1.3 million to a super-PAC in the Presidential election.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chairman, I yield the gentleman an additional 15 seconds.

Mr. GOTTHEIMER. Even in this most recent election in 2018, Iran, China, and Russia all attempted to influence American voters and policy.

Americans on both sides of the aisle agree this is a critically important issue that we must do something about. The adoption of this amendment will further codify the intent of Congress to end unchecked foreign spending, which is the scourge of our democracy.

Mr. Chair, I look forward to more support for 20-20 legislative amendments.

Mr. SUOZZI. Mr. Chair, I reserve the remainder of my time to close.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chair, I have no other speakers and am prepared to close.

Mr. Chairman, as we wrap up the debate on this amendment, I hope we have demonstrated that there is common ground to be found in this Chamber.

I would like to take a moment to thank, again, my colleagues, but also the Rules Committee, Mr. McGovern and his staff, for working with us in regards to this new reform of the rules process that will reward and encourage bipartisan behavior and bipartisan common ground-finding efforts.

I encourage all Members on both sides of the aisle to utilize this new rule path to bring forth ideas that benefit the American people in a bipartisan way.

At the end of the day, this amendment is something we should all support for the reasons articulated by my colleagues on the other side and as articulated, hopefully, by myself today in regards to supporting this reform that goes at the issue of foreign money in our elections.

Mr. Chair, I encourage our Members to support this amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SUOZZI. Mr. Chairman, I want to applaud my colleague on this bill, this bipartisan bill, Congressman Fitzpatrick, a Republican from Pennsylvania, who couldn’t be here today, but he worked very hard on this, as did the other colleagues who have spoken here already.

The people of America are hungry for bipartisanship. They are hungry for people to work together to try and solve the problems in this country.

We hope that the use of the 20-20 rule and this amendment, with 24 Democrats and 20 Republicans, is one small step in the process to demonstrate that people can work together to solve problems.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. Suozzi).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 OFFERED BY MR. BUTTERFIELD

The Acting CHAIR (Mr. CARDENAS). It is now in order to consider amendment No. 2 printed in part B of House Report 116-16.

Mr. BUTTERFIELD. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 136, strike lines 6 through 11 and insert the following:

(1) LOCATION OF POLLING PLACES.—To the greatest extent practicable, a State shall ensure that each polling place allowing voting during an early voting period under subsection (a) will be located in rural areas of the State, and shall ensure that such polling places are located in communities which will provide the greatest opportunity for residents of rural areas to vote during the early voting period.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. BUTTERFIELD) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from North Carolina.

Mr. BUTTERFIELD. Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of my amendment to improve early voting in rural communities.

My amendment would ensure that early voting locations in rural communities are placed strategically in communities to provide the greatest access to rural voters seeking to cast their ballots.

My amendment builds on the underlying text of H.R. 1 that directs States to locate early voting locations within walking distance of stops on public transportation routes by recognizing that rural communities face very different challenges to voting as compared to voters in urban communities.

In many rural communities, Mr. Chairman, like the ones that I represent in eastern North Carolina, there is no public transportation in many of those communities, so polling locations in these communities need to be located where these voters will have the best chance to let their voices be heard in our elections, and my amendment would simply ensure that that happens.

Mr. Chair, rural communities are facing many challenges, but their ability to participate in our elections should not be one of those challenges. I think all of us on both sides of the aisle can agree on this.

During the markup at the committee, I got a good feeling about it, and I hoped my friend from Illinois (Mr. RODNEY DAVIS) would be willing to work with me in getting this amendment passed.

Mr. Chair, I urge my colleagues to support the amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.
Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I claim time in opposition to this amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate my good friend and colleague from North Carolina’s assertion that we have to be cognizant of what is happening in rural America and how, maybe a top-down approach from Washington may not be the best approach when we might not have public transportation opportunities in many of the rural areas that he and I both serve.

But, as Mr. BUTTERFIELD is a member of the House Administration Committee, I would have hoped that this amendment would have been offered during the committee markup, the markup, the only markup that was held on this 622-page bill. We offered 28 amendments to the Republican side and not a single one was accepted.

These are the types of amendments I would have loved to have seen have bipartisan support in the committee process because I am from a rural area. I understand that sometimes it’s difficult for people in rural areas to vote.

But we have got to leave it up to the States and localities to be able to determine where these polling places are going to go, especially in the rural areas.

We have a hard enough time having somebody here in Washington figure out where everybody is going to be in an office every 2 years. Can you imagine somebody in a concrete building out here in Washington, D.C., determining where a polling place should or should not be in a town that I represent in central Illinois?

That is my problem with this bill; it is a top-down approach that takes away the ability for locals to really truly get polling places in areas that are accessible for every voter to be able to cast their vote.

Mr. Chairman, I want every single American to be able to vote. Every vote, every single vote in every American vote deserves to be counted and protected.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BUTTERFIELD. Mr. Chairman, the gentleman from Illinois would remember that at the subcommittee markup, or the full committee markup, we did have a very healthy discussion about this topic. I acknowledge that no amendment was offered at the committee, but I felt a consensus, Mr. Davis, when we discussed it at the committee, and I thought that it would be accepted by the other side.

But suffice it to say that rural communities deserve to have polling locations that are convenient to all of its citizens. We are talking about Federal elections, not local elections, so I would ask my colleagues to reconsider and support this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBANES).

Mr. SARBANES. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding, and I want to thank him for his work on House Administration. I know, as well, that Congressman ANTHONY BROWN helped with this particular amendment.

This is really critical. This is all about, and H.R. 1, in large part, is about the journey to the ballot box, and how do we make that journey easier for people; how do we make sure that they can get there without too much of an undue burden; and that is what this would do for rural voters.

This would require that States ensure that the polling places are located in rural areas. So this idea that somebody in Washington is going to be deciding where the location is, that is preposterous. We are just saying make sure that the State figures it out; and so each State can decide what makes the most sense in terms of placing these voting places for rural voters.

So it is a commonsense amendment. I want to thank the gentleman for introducing it and, definitely, I support it.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, my colleague from North Carolina has had a good, healthy discussion on how rural voters could be adversely impacted by the original language that was in the bill that would have required polling places to be next to areas of mass transit.

Well, as such, there are many areas we serve that don’t have access to mass transit. My problem is not with what this amendment does. My problem, again, is with the process.

My problem is how are we going to determine—and my biggest fear is if Washington is determining where polling places should go, maybe we are not allowing the locals to determine best how to ensure that voters get easiest access to being able to cast their vote.

I want to work with the gentleman from North Carolina to address many rural needs, especially when it comes to our oversight responsibility of elections. And I certainly hope—I do believe this amendment will pass—and I certainly hope, if it becomes a law, which I don’t believe H.R. 1 will become law, but I would really encourage us to be able to work together after this is done and maybe work in a separate fashion, Democratic, Independent, communities’ needs. And I look forward to working with the gentleman.

Mr. Chairman, I know we have a lot of amendments, so I will go ahead and yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BUTTERFIELD. Mr. Chair, let me thank the gentleman for his comments and thank him for his friendship. The gentleman is right; we do serve on the House Administration Committee together. He is the ranking member of the committee and Ms. Lowey and I have had many opportunities to work together, and I look forward to working with the gentleman and all of the committee on very important issues as we go forward.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. BUTTERFIELD).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 3 OFFERED BY MR. RASKIN

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 3 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Mr. RASKIN. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

SEC. 10E. ASSESSMENT OF SHAREHOLDER PREFERENCES FOR DISBURSEMENTS FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES.

(a) ASSESSMENT REQUIRED.—The Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78a et seq.), as amended by inserting after section 10D the following:

``SEC. 10E. ASSESSMENT OF SHAREHOLDER PREFERENCES FOR DISBURSEMENTS FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES.

(a) ASSESSMENT REQUIRED BEFORE MAKING A DISBURSEMENT FOR A POLITICAL PURPOSE.—

(1) REQUIREMENT.—An issuer with an equity security listed on a national securities exchange may not make a disbursement for a political purpose unless—

(A) the issuer has in place procedures to assess the preferences of the shareholders of the issuer with respect to making such disbursements; and

(B) such an assessment has been made within the 1-year period ending on the date of such disbursement.

(2) TREATMENT OF ISSUERS WHOSE SHAREHOLDERS ARE PROHIBITED FROM EXPRESSING PREFERENCES.—Notwithstanding paragraph (1), an issuer described under such paragraph with procedures in place to assess the preferences of its shareholders with respect to making disbursements for political purposes shall not be considered to meet the requirements of such paragraph if a majority of the number of the outstanding equity securities of the issuer are held by persons who are prohibited from expressing partisan or political preferences by law, contract, or the requirement to meet a fiduciary duty.

(b) ASSESSMENT REQUIREMENTS.—The assessment described under subsection (a) shall assess—

(1) which types of disbursements for a political purpose the shareholder believes the issuer should make;

(2) whether the shareholder believes that such disbursements should be made in support of, or in opposition to, Republican, Democratic, or Independent party candidates and political committees;

(3) whether the shareholder believes that such disbursements should be made with respect to elections for Federal, State, or local office; and

(4) such other information as the Commission may specify, by rule.

(c) DISBURSEMENT FOR A POLITICAL PURPOSE DEFINED.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘disbursement for a political purpose’ means any of the following:

(A) A disbursement for an independent expenditure, as defined in section 301(17) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101(17)).

(B) A disbursement for an electioneering communication, as defined in section 304(f) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30104(f)).

"(C) A disbursement for any public communication, as defined in section 301(2) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101(2))—

"(i) which expressly advocates the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate for elective office, or in the form of investments made by the corporation in the ordinary course of any trade or business segregated fund of the corporation for a political purpose' does not include any disbursement for Federal election for Federal office; or

"(ii) which refers to a clearly identified candidate for election for Federal office and which is part of a campaign to support a candidate for that office, or attacks or opposes a candidate for that office, without regard to whether the communication expressly advocates a vote for or against a candidate for that office.

"(D) Any other disbursement which is made for the purpose of influencing the outcome of an election for a public office.

"(E) Any transfer of funds to another person which is made with the intent that such person will use the funds to make a disbursement for a political purpose unless the corporation has in place procedures to assess the preferences for political spending, and the knowledge that the person will use the funds to make such a disbursement.

"(2) EXCEPTION.—The term 'disbursement for a political purpose' does not include any of the following:

"(B) Any transfer of funds to another person which is made in the ordinary course of any trade or business conducted by the corporation or in the form of investments made by the corporation.

"(C) Any transfer of funds to another person which is subject to a written prohibition against the use of the funds for a disbursement for a political purpose.

"(D) OTHER DEFINITIONS.—In this section, each of the terms 'candidate', 'election', 'political committee', and 'political party' has the meaning given such term under section 301 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101).

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO FEDERAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN ACT OF 1971 TO PROHIBIT DISBURSEMENTS BY CORPORATIONS FAILING TO ASSESS SHAREHOLDER PREFERENCES.—Section 316 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30118) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(d) PROHIBITING DISBURSEMENTS BY CORPORATIONS FAILING TO ASSESS SHAREHOLDER PREFERENCES.—

"(1) PROHIBITION.—It shall be unlawful for a corporation to make a disbursement for a political purpose unless the corporation has in place procedures to assess the preferences of its shareholders with respect to making such disbursements, as provided in section 10E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

"(2) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term 'disbursement for a political purpose' has the meaning given such term in section 10E(c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.".

"(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to disbursements made on or after December 31, 2019.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. RASKIN) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. RASKIN. Mr. Chair, I yield myself such time as I may consume, and I rise to offer this amendment to H.R. 1. For decades, the law prevented business corporations from engaging in campaign spending. But the Supreme Court destroyed that prohibition with its watershed decision in 2010, in the Citizens United case, which, for the first time, defined for-profit business corporations as political membership associations and, thereby, unleashed billions of dollars in corporate treasury money into the system.

Since then, corporations have taken advantage of this newfound constitutional identity and political freedom by investing hundreds of millions of dollars, perhaps billions, in campaign expenditures and the torrent of 'dark money' now coursing through the political system.

But who are these corporations speaking for? Well, according to the court, they are speaking for the shareholders. Writing for the majority, Justice Kennedy took the position that corporate political campaigning is on behalf of the shareholders, an association of individuals who have taken on the corporate form.

But, in real life, that is not the case. CEOs engage in political spending without the knowledge, much less the consent of the shareholders whose First Amendment rights are allegedly being exercised.

Anyone who has a retirement fund with money invested in corporate equities will know that they have never been asked whether they want a portion of their retirement money invested in Republican or Democratic or other campaigns. The CEOs just do it without their participation.

What can be done to stop shareholders' money from being spent on campaigns without their knowledge or consent? Most Americans want a constitutional amendment to reverse Citizens United and restore the definition of corporations as economic entities barred from politics. But there is something that we can do right now, short of that, simply by enacting Citizens United on its own terms. Justice Kennedy said the main check against abuse of this new right would be exercised by the 'shareholders through the procedures of corporate democracy.'

Justice Kennedy called for a world of comprehensive and immediate disclosure. He wrote: 'Shareholder objections raised through the procedures of corporate democracy can be more effective today because modern technology makes disclosures rapid and informative.'

With the advent of the Internet, prompt disclosure of expenditures can provide shareholders and citizens with the information needed to hold corporations and elected officials accountable. If citizens can see whether elected officials are in the pocket of so-called money interests.' But the current system provides nothing like that kind of transparency and accountability. This amendment, the Shareholders United Act of 2019, will begin to change the secrecy, darkness, and oligarchical implications of the current system.

It would require publicly-traded corporations to get shareholder buy-in on the front end before their money is channeled into political campaigns. Companies would have to develop a process to assess shareholder preferences for political spending and make any such spending within a year of assessing the majority's preferences.

Moreover, the amendment recognizes that some shareholders are institutional investors, like pension funds, states, and citizens, and universities or charities, which are categorically forbidden from expressing partisan political preferences.

If this type of investor holds a majority of corporate shares, the corporation would not be able to make expenditures from the general treasury because the CEO, at that point, would paradoxically be speaking for institutional shareholders that may not themselves speak in politics.

Citizens are begging for this kind of commonsense regulation and promotion of corporate democracy. People invest in the stock market to save for retirement, or to send their kids to college, not to support their favorite political candidates, much less their most disfavored ones.

I know that I would be mad as hell to learn that my retirement money was being spent, being given away to Donald Trump and the RNC; just as I assume my GOP friends don't want their pension dollars going to the DNC or to help Elizabeth Warren's Presidential campaign.

People who invest in the stock market should not be used as the pawns for the political designs of CEOs. I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support this commonsense amendment called for by Justice Kennedy's opinion in Citizens United.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I yield my time in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, again, as I mentioned earlier, I would have liked to have seen these amendments offered during our House Administration markup as my good friend from Maryland is also a member of the House Administration Committee.

There was some discussion on issues like this and I was under the impression, during that markup process, that provisions like my opponent put into this amendment were already part of this.

But let me add, this amendment would turn businesses and corporations into partisan political entities and shareholder meetings and votes into political conventions.

It would require corporations to poll their shareholders on whether the corporation's political spending should be made in support of, in opposition to Republican, Democratic, Independent, or other political party candidates and political committees.

Business decisions drive corporations’ political spending. This would incentivize corporations to change their voting standards in corporate political spending.

And let me remind the American people, corporations are banned by law currently to be able to give directly to candidates or to organizations that will directly support or oppose candidates during an election cycle. This is going to further polarize our political environment.

This amendment also relies on unconstitutionally vague and intent-based standards for what corporate spending is covered by the shareholder preference assessment requirement. It is going to encourage the current practice of activists taking hold of proxy advisory firms to socially engineer public policy through proxy shareholder votes. There is no transparency to proxy advisory firms.

I am opposed to this amendment because it is vague and impractical, and would, again, infringe upon free speech. It is not clear what speech is covered under the amendment and that is, perhaps, the worst part.

The practical effect of this amendment would be that the companies would not have shareholder elections under these new standards. Many would probably stop paying dues to their exist socs because the language might be construed to cover that. That would be a bomb on many of the largest and most important trade groups. No similar requirement for other organizations as part of this bill, of course.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RASKIN. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for those thoughtful comments. The ranking member of the House Administration Committee contends that we talked about this in the House Administration Committee which, indeed, we did, and it was precisely that discussion which led to the formation of the amendment.

I am afraid there he is just protesting against the character of the legislative process. We have a discussion; we learn things; we develop new amendments. And for a moment there it sounded like he wanted to vote for it, but then he turns around and says the problem with this amendment is that it would politicize the corporation, which is quite an astounding argument to make against it, when the entire purpose of our amendment is to prevent corporations from engaging in political expenditures and dark-money spending without the consent and the knowledge of the shareholders.

If you object to corporations being engaged in partisan political activity, then you should support this amendment because it is precisely this amendment that will prevent it from happening if the shareholders don’t want it to.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, may I inquire how much time is remaining.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Illinois has 2 1⁄2 minutes remaining.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, look, I don’t own too many stocks outside of mutual funds, but I do have one that I get statements to ask me to cast a vote for those members who are currently members of the board of directors or running to be. What I do is use the disclosure database OpenSecrets. I find out the political spending of these individuals who are going to determine the outcome of the stock that I have invested in that, hopefully, will grow in value, because that is why people invest in the stock market and that is why people invest in corporate entities that may be publicly traded.

The problem I have with this amendment is that corporate money wasn’t supposed to go to candidates. I don’t take corporate dollars. Frankly, I am probably one of the ones standing in this institution tonight who had many of these super-PAC dollars spent against me in the last election. They can’t take corporate dollars.

But the issue at hand is, in another part of the bill where this new Freedom From Influence Fund is put together, they are now going to use corporate dollars to create a fund that is flowing through the Federal Treasury that should be going to infrastructure, should be going to pediatric cancer research. Instead, it is going to flow into this new shell that is going to have corporate money go directly to congressional candidates, which is illegal now.

That, to me, is the biggest problem with this bill, and that, to me, is a problem with this amendment.

Mr. Chair, I look forward to a discussion on many other amendments throughout this long evening.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. RASKIN).

Mr. HASTINGS. Mr. Chair, I demand a recorded vote.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Maryland will be postponed.

AMENDMENT NO. 4 OFFERED BY MR. HASTINGS

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 4 printed in part B of the printed records of Thursday, March 7, 2019.

Mr. HASTINGS. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment to H.R. 1, the For the People Act of 2019, that I have offered with my good friend from my neighboring district, Congressman TED DEutch.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 140, insert after line 19 the following:

"(b) FEDERAL ELECTION CYCLE DEFINED.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘Federal election cycle’ means the period beginning on January 1 in the odd numbered year and ending on December 31 of the following year.

"(ii) Description of attempts to contact voters to provide notice as required by this subsection.

"(iii) Description of the cure process developed by such State pursuant to this subsection, including the number of ballots determined valid as a result of such process.

"(C) FEDERAL ELECTION CYCLE DEFINED.—

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. HASTINGS) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Florida.

Mr. HASTINGS. Mr. Chair, the right to vote is sacred and fundamental. Yet across this country, in particular in my home State of Florida, voters were denied their right to vote because of penmanship.

In the wake of the 2018 midterms, Florida’s signature matching law was deemed unconstitutional because it allowed county election officials to reject vote-by-mail ballots for mismatched signatures, with no standards, an illusory cure process, and no process to challenge the rejection.

Ballots being rejected because of perceived signature mismatch heavily affect voters already at the margins: trans and gender-nonconforming people, people for whom English is a second language, military personnel, and women.

I am very pleased to see that H.R. 1 would protect voters’ due process rights when it comes to signature matching laws by requiring proper notice and an opportunity to cure.

My amendment, amendment No. 4, builds on that by requiring States to submit a report to Congress after the end of a Federal election cycle regarding the number of ballots invalidated due to a discrepancy in a voter’s signature, the attempts to contact voters to provide notice that a discrepancy exists between the signature on the ballot and the signature on the official list of registered voters, and the cure process and results.

Mr. Chair, I urge a “yes” vote, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I claim the time in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.
Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, while I appreciate my good friend from Florida’s amendment, this amendment doesn’t go far enough. It does nothing to stem the practice of ballot harvesting.

Ballot harvesting is a practice of States allowing anyone to collect any number of absentee ballots and then deliver them to the polls. It could be even after election day.

This practice, of course, is ripe for fraud. I think, most recently in North Carolina how it can be abused to the advantage of political campaigns.

In North Carolina’s Ninth District, the individual who harvested ballots for a Republican, where we will now have a special election, was caught because the practice is illegal. It is unlikely that he would have been caught in a State like California, because the practice is perfectly legal.

Take the current law in California. A signature is invalid if the ballot turned in by a harvestor doesn’t match a signature in the voter file, but the campaign can cure this by getting the voter in question to submit an affidavit that they voted. Then that signature only has to match the signature in the voter file, not the signature on the ballot.

A harvester could theoretically take a bunch of ballots, submit them with forged signatures, and then collect signatures afterward, since the campaigns would only be required to check a list of the signatures that were rejected.

Loose standards relating to providing notice to voters whose signatures were mismatched, as well as a lengthy cure process without any safeguards, disenfranchise voters who showed up and cast votes before or on election day.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HASTINGS. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate my good friend’s suggestions, but the amendment we’re considering today only has to do with ballot harvesting and gender violence in North Carolina. I think there are others who are going to address that particular subject.

Mr. Chair, I yield the balance of my time.

Mr. HASTINGS. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. Chair, let’s not compare apples and oranges. Let’s support Mr. Hastings’ amendment.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Florida (Mr. HASTINGS).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 5 OFFERED BY MR. COLE

The Acting CHAIR. The text of the amendment is as follows:

Strike subtitle G of title IV.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. COLE) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Oklahoma.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in support of my amendment to H.R. 1.

Mr. Chairman, this is a commonsense amendment that will maintain current law. Beginning with the National Defense Authorization Act of 2012 and continuing to appropriation processes for every fiscal year since, I sponsored an amendment that barred the government from requiring Federal contractors to disclose campaign contributions as a condition for submitting a bid on a Federal contract. The amendment was adopted by the House on at least four occasions.

I opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Strike subtitle G of title IV.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman’s amendment to H.R. 1 would keep in place a provision of law that was inserted into must-pass pieces of legislation over the past few years. It makes it harder for voters to follow the money when it comes to government contractors and political spending.

The amendment is anathema to the purposes of H.R. 1, which is to bolster confidence and trust in the American Government and shine a light on secret spending in elections. The gentleman’s amendment would further the status quo of dark money in our elections, thereby protecting a culture of pay-to-play politics that Americans reject.

Republicans in Congress, as Mr. COLE has mentioned, first included this language in the 2012 appropriations bill, then the 2014 appropriations bill, and finally in the 2015 Consolidated Appropriations Act.

H.R. 1, in title IV, subtitle G, repeals the restriction on requiring disclosure of campaign-related spending by those submitting an offer for a Federal contract. Repealing this restriction will curb the appearance of corruption that can go along with campaign-related money in government contracts. It will shine a light on dark money in politics.

Americans have a right to know who is trying to influence them with political advertisements and campaign spending and what big campaign spenders want from the government in return.

The Federal Government spends hundreds of billions of dollars a year on Federal contracts. Campaign-related spending should have nothing to do with influencing a contract, and disclosure will protect the integrity of the process and curb any appearance of corruption.

After the Supreme Court decided Citizens United in 2010, undisclosed sources have spent more than $950 million in dark money to influence Federal elections, according to the non-partisan Center for Responsive Politics. The money flows through a complex web of corporations, dark money, nonprofit organizations, super-PACs, and other groups. When money from...
The court held 8 to 1 in Citizens United that "The First Amendment protects political speech; and disclosure permits citizens and shareholders to react to the speech of corporate entities in a proper way. This transparency enables the electorate to make informed decisions and give proper weight to different speakers and messages."

"The public has a right to follow the money, including money from government contractors to dark-money groups that did not disclose their spending."

H.R. 1 ensures disclosure and transparency, both of which are critical to open and responsive democracy that protects the public interest. And this amendment, although I am sure well-intentioned, takes us in the wrong direction.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. NORMAN), my good friend.

Mr. NORMAN. Mr. Chairman, I am a contractor. We run business and we build projects. If you want to see something that is going to skyrocket cost, the fact of asking what party and where they donate money has nothing to do with transparency. It just has to do with what political affiliation you have and it could weigh heavily in who is selected for a job, which has nothing to do with the job that you are doing.

Mr. Chairman, I urge a "no" vote on this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. SARBANES), my good friend.

Mr. SARBANES. Mr. Chairman, as you know from the discussion today, we obviously feel very strongly that there needs to be as much disclosure as possible and transparency and accountability when it comes to how money flows into the political arena. I think the public has a particular apprehension about how insidious spending can be when it has to do with government contractors. The public deserves to know who is spending in their politics and, particularly, if contractors—who are the ones who are going to get these government contracts—are spending in a way that could potentially influence the contracting decisions. In a sense, what is happening is people are leaning on the government potentially using money and influence in a way that cuts against what the public interests might be.

That is why prohibiting the executive branch from even considering—that is what this rider does. It actually prohibits the executive branch from even sitting down and considering whether there should be certain rules that should govern what happens in the contractor space in terms of political spending. That doesn't make any sense. That doesn't make common sense; that the executive branch ought to be able to figure out some rules so that that transparency is in place.

That is why we want to repeal it. That is why we have that in H.R. 1. I oppose this amendment that would strike the repeal.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Oklahoma has 1 minute remaining.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, I want to disagree very profoundly with my friend. Frankly, what this amendment does is keep politics out of contracting. My friends want to put politics back into contracting. The decisions, as my friend, Mr. NORMAN, mentioned, on contracts, ought to be made on the basis of the quality of the bid and the quality of the job. There is no reason to ask for political information when you are evaluating whether or not a bridge should be built or whether or not a road should be paved and who should do that.

Frankly, what we are going to do is inject politics by requiring the list of political contributors. If you don't think that will matter, I think you are being painfully naive.

Mr. Chairman, I urge support of the amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. COLE).

The question was taken; and the Acting CHAIR announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Oklahoma will be postponed.

AMENDMENT NO. 6 OFFERED BY MS. SCANLON

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 6 printed in part B of House Report 116-16.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 311, insert after line 8 the following new subtitile and conform the succeeding subtitles accordingly:

Subtitle F—Election Security Grants

Advisory Committee

SEC. 3501. ESTABLISHMENT OF ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

(a) In General.—Subtitle A of title II of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 20922 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"PART 4—ELECTION SECURITY GRANTS ADVISORY COMMITTEE"

"SEC. 225. ELECTION SECURITY GRANTS ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

"(a) Establishment.—There is hereby established an advisory committee (hereinafter in this part referred to as the 'Committee') to assist the Commission with respect to the award of grants to States under this Act for the purpose of election security.

"(b) Duties.—

"(1) In General.—The Committee shall, with respect to an application for a grant received by the Commission:

"(A) review such application; and

"(B) recommend to the Commission whether to award the grant to the applicant.

"(c) Considerations.—In reviewing an application pursuant to paragraph (1)(A), the Committee shall consider—"
Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chairman, having been here for a little while, be assured that good intentions of people when people often bring those issues and bring those—be careful. You may have good intentions. And the intentions of often those who bring us a thought or an idea or until we list whether they have particular potential economic interests—I am just sharing my concern—the amendment, just as it is designed right now, our side is going to have to vote no because we create a fourth level. We don’t create enough definitions. We hand so much power to the executive director.

Mr. Chairman, I would love to talk to the gentlewoman about election encryption and my personal fixation on blockchain technology. But for this one, I think we may miss the mark.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the much more experienced gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBAINES).

Mr. SARBAINES. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCANLON) for yielding, and I thank her for her amendment.

I would just say very quickly, I think this is a good amendment that actually improves the bill. And to the point of the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. SCHWEIKERT), it is because technology is changing quickly all the time and one has to kind of keep ahead of the curve on that to make sure the decisions are made in a sensible way, that having a committee that can assemble the kind of expertise that you need to bring to bear on a decision like this fourth level, seems. It can allow the EAC to function better.

Evaluating these security grants, I think, makes a lot of sense, and they can keep up-to-date on what the changing technology is so that the EAC can be as informed as possible.

So I think it is an outstanding amendment. I want to thank the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCANLON).
Mr. Chair, I urge a "yes" vote on the amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCANLON).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 7 OFFERED BY MS. SCANLON

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 7 printed in part 1616-16.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, I have a second amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

SEC. 5114. STUDY AND REPORT ON SMALL DOLLAR FINANCING PROGRAM.

(a) STUDY AND REPORT.—Not later than 2 years after the completion of the first election cycle under the program established under title V of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as added by section 5111, is in effect, the Federal Election Commission shall—

(1) assess—

(A) the amount of payment referred to in section 501 of such Act; and

(B) the amount of a qualified small dollar contribution referred to in section 504(a)(1) of such Act; and

(2) submit to Congress a report that discusses whether such amounts are sufficient to meet the goals of the program.

(b) UPDATE.—The Commission shall update and revise the study and report required by subsection (a) on a biennial basis.

(c) TERMINATION.—The requirements of this section shall terminate ten years after the date on which the first study and report required by subsection (a) is submitted to Congress.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCANLON) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, my next amendment is Amendment No. 7.

The amendment would require the Federal Election Commission to conduct a study to specifically assess whether the small donor match cap and the 6-to-1 ratio contained in H.R. 1 is appropriately scaled for both House and Senate elections.

H.R. 1 will empower everyday Americans through each of these systems by bringing more and more people into the political fold.

This system of small donor campaign funding is relatively new to the Federal system but has been tried in States and localities nationwide to great effect. New York City has had a matching funds program in place since the 1980s, and over 80 percent of the 2015 Connecticut State Legislature was elected under the Citizens' Election public financing program.

It is important and necessary to study these issues at the Federal level, and my amendment would ensure that the Federal Government has all of the relevant information it needs when proceeding with any future changes to these programs.

Mr. Chair, I urge a "yes" vote, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chair, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Arizona is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chair, I actually appreciate the study mechanisms, but this is actually one a little bit broader.

How many of us are from States that have actually had public funding or public matching of our State legislatures?

I am from Arizona; I have actually lived this experience. And do understand, we used to—in Arizona—refer to it as the "no new moderates" piece of legislation.

If you actually look at what happened to Arizona—and my understanding is this happened in other States—when I was 28 years old when I got elected to the Arizona Legislature.

I was there. You had to go knock on a door. You had to ask someone for a couple hundred dollars. You had to listen to them. They would look you in the eye, and if they thought you weren't worthy, you walked out the door without anything. It turns out asking for money is part of the vetting process.

Well, a few years later—so we have had it for 25 years in Arizona—here is what happened:

You are part of the group over here on the right or you are part of this group on the left. In Arizona, you got a couple hundred people to write you a $5 contribution, and you get elected.

Within two election cycles, we wiped out half of Democrats, half of Republicans, maybe one-third of the body who were in the moderates.

So when I am looking at the experience of my state legislature for 4 years, half the Republicans were conservatives, half the Republicans were moderate; same thing on the Democratic side. After just functionally 4 years of public funding or public match, they were gone.

I appreciate the study of saying: Hey, this amendment is really about knowing, you know, do the dollars match, do the mechanisms match? And I don't know if the FEC is the right place to go to say: Are we about to try to finance the bipolar—the extremism on both ends?

In many ways, this piece of legislation—at least this mechanic right here—you have got to understand what you are doing. You are going to wipe out the middle.

This is, in many ways, the "no new moderates" piece of legislation.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBANES).
Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chair, I accept this as—and I don’t mean this in a mean fashion, but I accept this as one of the tenets of faith on the Democratic side.

The gentleman from Maryland—wonderfully articulate—that isn’t what happened. I mean, you have 25 years in other States and other communities, particularly in legislative bodies. I thought the same thing.

But the fact of the matter is, what you do in this fashion is the person who is part of a certain leftist group, right group: I just need these folks to write me enough checks so that I get enough matching; or a good direct mail vendor who hits the ideological extreme so I get those dollars.

Those aren’t the facts. And on occasion, we have to take a step back and take a look at some of the incubators of democracy and experience, which is our State legislatures, and understand the reality of what has happened. I am a conservative. It worked out fine for my view of the world, but understand—at least in my State legislature—within 4 years, this type of plan completely changed the character of the population that was representing the people in Arizona.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, I would just close by saying, once again, the intent of this is to study and make sure we have the best possible system going forward.

I know that Representative SARBANES and others have studied the existing mechanisms out there to try and implement this kind of small donor matching system. I am sorry it didn’t work out in Arizona, but I think we have a great plan here going forward.

Mr. Chair, I urge a “yes” vote, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chair, wishes and hopes and optimism are not public policy, careful what you are asking for here. There are real-life examples across our country with what this did to our democracy. Understand the damage you are about to do.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. MORELLE) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York.

Mr. MORELLE. Mr. Chair, I rise today to offer an amendment intended to make it easier to register to vote by ensuring the deadline does not fall on a public holiday.

Millions of registration applications are handled through the mail and through local Departments of Motor Vehicles. Current Federal law requires States to accept registration forms postmarked or submitted 30 days before election.

However, Mr. Chair, it just so happens, in some years, 30 days before election day falls exactly on Columbus Day, Indigenous Peoples’ Day, or another public holiday. This results in a shorter window for preelection registration, and many Americans may not even realize the holiday could disrupt their plans to register. Without Postal Service or DMV hours on the holiday, some voters have been unable to get their registrations in on time.

My amendment makes a simple change. The deadline to postmark your ballots, register online or visit a government office to submit your registration will be changed from 30 days to 28 days prior to election day.

This provides voters simply more time to submit their registration without burdening local election officials with rapid turnaround time and ensures that the deadline never falls on a holiday.

Every day leading up to election day is an opportunity for thousands of Americans across the country to update their registration or register for the first time. By ensuring the cutoff for advanced registration is only 28 days before an election and ensuring that date doesn’t fall on a public holiday, we can give more Americans the chance to participate in our democracy.

Now, H.R. 1 already allows for same-day voter registration in every State—a policy I strongly support—as it will make it easier for every citizen to exercise their franchise. But H.R. 1 still provides for registration on Election Day in advance if they so choose; and when they choose that option, this amendment will give them enough time to do so, making certain that their paperwork is not rejected for being postmarked or submitted on a public holiday.

This is a simple change, but it is one that can make voting a little easier for Americans across the Nation, and I hope we can all agree that is a change worth making.

Mr. Chair, I ask my colleagues to support this amendment, and I thank the ranking member for his extraordinary work, as well as the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBAanes), the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. MORELLE). The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 9 OFFERED BY MS. SHALALA

The Acting CHAIR (Mr. CART- WRIGHT). It is now in order to consider amendment No. 9 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Ms. SHALALA. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at this time.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

In section 8022 of title VIII, insert after subsection (c) the following (and redesignate subsection (d) as subsection (e)):

(d) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Not later than 45 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Director of the Office of Government Ethics shall submit a report to Congress on the impact of the application of subsection (b), including the name of any individual who received a waiver or authorization described in subsection (a) and who, by operation of subsection (b), submitted the information required by such subsection.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. SHALALA) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentle- woman from Florida.

Ms. SHALALA. Mr. Chair, last year, we learned that of the 59 EPA hires, roughly a third worked as registered lobbyists or lawyers for fossil fuel producers, chemical manufacturers, or other corporate clients. Several of these EPA hires have gotten waivers, allowing them to participate in actions involving their former clients. This directly impacts my district.

In my district, climate change and sea level rise aren’t debated. These are not partisan issues because, for Miami, climate change is life or death. There are no climate deniers in south Florida. This is a real-life example of why these ethics waivers matter, and they matter to my constituents.

I am very pleased that H.R. 1 mandates that the executive branch promptly disclose waivers of executive branch ethics rules to the Office of Government Ethics.

My amendment will maximize transparency by highlighting who is now captured by the upgraded ethics waiver regime. We need to know who is now getting these waivers, why they are getting it, and what are the implications. We need to know the impact so that we can simply uphold our constitutional duty as Members of Congress and hold this administration accountable and hold future administrations accountable.

Whether it impacts climate change policy, foreign policy, health policy, or any of the American people deserve to know who is working behind closed doors in their government.

Mr. Chair, I urge a “yes” vote, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chair, H.R. 1 as currently drafted requires the Office of Government Ethics to make ethics waivers issued to executive branch employees publicly available. The bill goes even further to mandate ethics waivers issued prior to the enactment of this legislation must also be made publicly available.

This amendment requires OGE to submit a report to Congress within 45 days of enactment regarding the implications of the retroactive applications of the ethics waiver process.

H.R. 1 already gives the Office of Government Ethics vast new authorities and vast new responsibilities. This amendment would just place an additional burden on OGE, and I would urge, Mr. Chair, that all Members oppose the amendment from the gentleman from Florida.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SHALALAL. Mr. Chair, I do not believe that this is an undue burden on the Office of Government Ethics. It is simply a request for us to apply the new waiver to see what the explanations are for the number of ethics waivers that have already been given. It is simply a transparency issue, and it is perfectly appropriate for Congress to request this information.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. SHALALAL. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Florida (Ms. SHALALAL).

The amendment was agreed to.

The Acting CHAIR. The Chair understands that amendment No. 19 will not be offered by the gentleman from Florida.

The Acting CHAIR. The amendment No. 11 offered by Mr. BIGGS.

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 11 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Mr. BIGGS. Mr. Chair, I have an amendment at the desk.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. Chairman, I request that my colleagues vote for this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. I yield back the balance of my time.

Former HHS Secretary Tom Price spent more than $400,000 on travel on private jets.

Mr. JORDAN. I yield back the balance of my time.

Former Interior Secretary Ryan Zinke spent over $30,000 of taxpayer funds on a helicopter tour of national monuments in Nevada. He then spent an additional $12,000 of taxpayer funds on a private jet to go to Las Vegas, Nevada, to speak to a hockey team owned by a major donor.

Mr. JORDAN. I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to the provisions of section 3110 of title 5, United States Code, or section 3110 of title 5, United States Code, the term "senior political appointee" means any individual occupying—

(1) a position listed under the Executive Schedule (subchapter I of chapter 53 of title 5, United States Code);

(2) a Senior Executive Service position that is not a career appointee as defined under section 3139(a)(4) of such title; or

(3) a position of a confidential or policy-determining character under schedule C of subpart C of part 213 of title 5, Code of Federal Regulations.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from California (Mr. TED LIEU) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from California.

Mr. TED LIEU of California. Mr. Chairman, let me first start off by commending Representative JOHN SARNAKOS for H.R. 1 and everyone who has worked on behalf of this historic bill.

Today I rise in support of amendment 12 to H.R. 1. Last term, I introduced what I call the SWAMP FLYERS Act to make sure that government officials don’t abuse taxpayer funds for their luxury travel preferences. We did not get a vote on this bill last term. I am very pleased that now I am going to be able to offer it as an amendment to H.R. 1.

This is a commonsense amendment. It would simply prevent government officials from using taxpayer funds to travel on a private, chartered, or non-commercial flight. If your official business needs you to go on one of those really expensive flights, you might want to think twice about why you are doing it.

Eliminating waste, fraud, and abuse has long been a bipartisan mission of the U.S. Congress, and I can think of few more obvious candidates than paying for private jets for Cabinet officials to travel across the country. As every Member of Congress knows, you can reach any district of the U.S. just flying commercial.

I think it is disturbing I even have to introduce this amendment, but let me just walk folks through some of the corruption we have seen in the last 2 years.

Former HHS Secretary Tom Price spent more than $400,000 in travel on private jets.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I urge that we oppose the amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. TED LIEU of California. Mr. Chairman, I want to note that a number of these Cabinet officials defended their abuse of luxury travel preferences by saying that their travel was legitimate.

So, clearly, there is not enough in the law to stop this abusive behavior of taxpayer funds. Again, if you just look at the abuse of travel, we know we can stop it. There is no justification for it.

I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. TED LIEU of California. In closing, this is a commonsense amendment. I appreciate, again, the historic nature of H.R. 1. Preventing travel abuse by Cabinet officials is something that we can all support on a bipartisan basis.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. TED LIEU).

The amendment was agreed to.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Insert after section 8005 the following:

SEC. 8006. GUIDANCE ON UNPAID EMPLOYEES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Director of the Office of Government Ethics shall issue guidance on ethical standards applicable to unpaid employees of an agency.

(b) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) the term ‘agency’ includes the Executive Office of the President and the White House; and

(2) the term ‘unpaid employee’ includes an individual occupying a position at an agency and who is unpaid by operation of section 3110 of title 5, United States Code, or any other provision of law, but does not include any employee who is unpaid due to a lapse in appropriations.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Washington.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chairman, I come to the floor today to speak on this amendment that simply requires unpaid government employees to comply with the same ethics rules as paid employees.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chairman, I come to the floor today to speak on this amendment that simply requires unpaid government employees to comply with the same ethics rules as paid employees.

President Trump has exploited this ethics loophole for his daughter Ivanka Trump and his son-in-law, Jared Kushner, who both work in the White House.

Mr. Chairman, I urge that we oppose the amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.
ethics rules as everyone else is simply basic common sense. It is not a Democratic issue or a Republican issue, but it is core to our democracy and our national security.

The purpose of ethics rules, Mr. Chairman, is to ensure that conflicts of interest are not permitted to interfere in the operations of our government. This is critical so that the American people trust that the people guiding our country’s laws and policies are acting with the best interests of our country and the American heart and not personal, foreign, or business interests. But President Trump’s hiring of his daughter Ivanka Trump, and son-in-law, Jared Kushner, as unpaid advisors has raised serious concerns.

Shortly after the 2016 elections, Ivanka Trump participated in her dad’s meeting with the Japanese Prime Minister as her namesake clothing brand, Ivanka Trump Marks LLC, was simultaneously negotiating a licensing deal with Oleanian, a company whose largest shareholder is the Japanese Government.

In addition, her company received preliminary approvals for 16 new trademarks from China during the President’s visit with Chinese President Xi. In one case, Ivanka Trump and Chinese President Xi dined together at Mar-a-Lago with Sanei International, a company whose largest shareholder is the Japanese Government.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Ohio is recognized for 5 minutes. Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, as the gentlewoman said, this amendment would require the Office of Government Ethics to promulgate rules to apply ethics laws to unpaid employees of the Executive Office and President of the White House.

As she also mentioned, this is clearly to go after Jared Kushner and Ivanka Trump. It seems to me that this is not the kind of thing that we should be focused on.

Miss Trump has been appointed as an executive branch employee and is now covered by the ethics laws and regulations that apply to all executive branch employees. It seems to me this is congressional overreach and redundant of current ethics rules and practices of other folks who have worked in the executive branch.

As I said, I oppose the amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the incredible gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBANES), who has been leading this effort.

Mr. SARBANES. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding. I thank her for this amendment which is, as she says, a very commonsense amendment. I don’t really understand what the objection would be.

If you don’t apply the same ethical standards to unpaid staff or people who are working in the executive branch as you do to paid, what you are left with is a gigantic loophole that could be taken advantage of, and I don’t think that the average person out there could understand why you would make that kind of distinction. So this is a very logical thing to do. Just because you are unpaid doesn’t mean you might not have a conflict of interest.

So this is an amendment that simply directs the Office of Government Ethics to come up with some rules to make sure that senior administration officials, senior executive branch employees who draw no salary, are still going to abide by the ethics laws.

Again, if the job here of all of us is to meet the expectations of the public in terms of how things should function up here in Washington, abiding ethical standards and observing conflicts of interest rules, then this meets that expectation directly. I think it is a good amendment.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, once again, I just reiterate that what we are saying is whether you are paid or unpaid, you have to go through the same security clearances; and whether you are paid or unpaid, you have to deal with the same ethics regulations. Particularly when unpaid employees are put into serious positions where national security clearances are required and where they have access to top secret information, we need to make sure that those ethics rules apply to everybody.

Now, frankly, we didn’t see this as a loophole in the past because it hasn’t been exploited in the same way, but, unfortunately, that is what is happening now.

Mr. Chairman, I think that this should raise serious concerns for anybody. We need to make sure that the people guiding our government are facing the same transparent ethics rules whether you are a relative of the person in the Oval Office or not.

We have ethics laws for a reason. The United States is not a despot country built on nepotism, and we need to make sure that it is in everyone’s best interest when all of these employees are subject to ethics laws, including laws that prohibit employees from participating in matters in which they have a financial interest or from misusing their official positions.

Mr. Chairman, I strongly urge my colleagues to support this amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Washington (Ms. JAYAPAL).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 14 OFFERED BY MS. JAYAPAL

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

SEC. 7202. PROHIBITING RECEIPT OF COMPENSATION FOR LOBBYING ACTIVITIES ON BEHALF OF FOREIGN COUNTRIES VIOLATING HUMAN RIGHTS (a) PROHIBITION.—Nothing in this section may be construed to affect any prohibition of a duly accredited diplomatic or consular officer of a foreign government who is so recognized by the Department of State, while said officer is engaged in activities which are recognized by the Department of State as being within the scope of the functions of such officer:.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to lobbying activity under the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 which occurs pursuant to contracts entered into on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentlewoman from Washington (Ms. JAYAPAL) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Washington.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chairman, this amendment would stop lobbyists from working on behalf of foreign governments with gross human rights violations.

Countries with human rights abuses should use the diplomatic process to express their views and not try to influence the American Government when hiding behind highly paid K Street lobbyists.

H.R. 1, the For the People Act, is a historic bill that aims to restore the promise of our Nation’s democracy and the culture of corruption in Washington, reduce the role of money in politics, and return power back to the American people. My amendment furthers this goal by limiting the role of dark money in our foreign policy.

Take, for instance, Mr. Chairman, Saudi Arabia. After 9/11, Saudi Arabia was implicated in the most destructive attack on American soil in our history. Yet 15 years later, the country was the leading recipient of U.S. arms sales.

For nearly 4 years, Saudi Arabia has perpetuated the worst humanitarian catastrophe in Yemen, with U.S. military participation in its bombings and an estimated 2,000,000 people deprived of millions of food and medicine. Despite the Saudis’ indiscriminate killing of civilians, Secretary of State
Mike Pompeo has certified that the country has been protecting civilians just last year.

Most recently, Saudi Arabia murdered U.S.-based journalist Jamal Khashoggi while President Trump rejected the evidence from his own intelligence agencies that Saudi Arabia's crown prince ordered the murder.

How does Saudi Arabia maintain its relationship with the United States? It shouldn’t surprise anyone that Saudi Arabia spent about $27 million on U.S. lobbying and public relations in 2017 alone.

Individuals affiliated with the Trump administration like Paul Manafort and Michael Flynn have also taken substantial sums of money from foreign countries to lobby the American Government.

Paul Manafort lobbied on behalf of pro-Russian forces in Ukraine in 2005, and prosecutors allege that Mr. Manafort was working on Ukrainian politics well into 2018, even after Special Counsel Mueller indicted him. He didn’t even report the payments he was receiving for his lobbying efforts, in flagrant violation of current law.

Though not charged with lobbying illegally, Manafort has still had a long history of lobbying on behalf of the world’s most brutal dictators, including Mobutu Sese Seko, Ferdinand Marcos, and Jonas Savimbi. He is rumored to have accepted a briefcase from a Marcos affiliate with $10 million in cash to give to the Reagan campaign.

Finally, Michael Flynn, President Trump’s former National Security Adviser, worked on a $15 million plan to kidnap a political enemy of Turkish President Erdogan and fly him to an island prison. Mr. Flynn was paid at least $530,000 for lobbying on behalf of the Turkish Government between August and November of 2016. Mr. Chairman, he did not retroactively register as a foreign agent with the Justice Department until March 7, 2017.

This is a commonsense amendment that brings transparency and ensures that we protect our system from this type of lobbying from those countries that have gross human rights violations.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chair, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Ohio is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chair, another bad amendment to a bad bill. This amendment suffers from the same defects as the underlying bill. It continues the same regrettable trend by our colleagues on the other side of the aisle of trying to silence speakers they don’t like.

Portions of this bill are so radical that, as we have said several times already, even the ACLU came out today and asked Members of this body not to vote for it. The ACLU said H.R. 1 would unconstitutionally burden free speech and associational rights. This amendment is more of the same tactics that caused the ACLU to oppose the underlying legislation.

As I said, a bad amendment to a bad bill. Put that all together, it makes everything worse.

The Lobbying Disclosure Act, which this amendment would seek to change, is about disclosure and increasing public awareness, not preventing people from undertaking a lawful profession. The decision of whether to undertake representation of a client is a personal and professional matter, not one for central government planning.

What my friends on the other side of the aisle seem not to understand is the answer to speech that they view as undesirable is more speech. It is called the First Amendment. It is called de-prohibition. The lasher, is God that should not and cannot constitutionally prevent the people it does not like from speaking.

And we know it has tried. Just a few years ago, it did it. And I will continue to bring this up as long as the good folks in the Fourth District will have me in Congress.

A few years ago, the IRS systematically, for a sustained period of time, went after people for their political beliefs— it happened; they did it— for the most fundamental liberty we have, our right to speak.

Think about the First Amendment, freedom to practice your faith the way you want, freedom to petition your government, freedom of the press. All those are critically important.

But your right to speak is fundamental, and your right to speak in a political campaign is just like the First Amendment.

Think about the First Amendment, freedom to practice your faith the way you want, freedom to petition your government, freedom of the press. All those are critically important.

And by your right to speak is fundamental, and your right to speak in a political campaign is just like the First Amendment.

This amendment goes to restrict it just like the bill does, and that is why the ACLU is against it. That is why I am against it.

This is a bad idea to a bad piece of legislation. I mean, think about what is going on, on college campuses today: safe spaces, free speech zones, bias response teams. If you say something politically incorrect today on a college campus, you get harassed.

In the last Congress, I asked a question in committee to a professor from one of these schools that are taxpayer subsidized. I said: Can a free speech zone and a safe space on a college campus be at the same location? He kind of chuckled. That is sort of the joke, because where is the free speech zone supposed to be in this country? Everywhere. It is called the First Amendment.

I asked this one professor: Professor, in a safe space on a college campus, could I say this sentence: “Donald Trump is President”? That is subject to a trust agreement that prohibits the use of its resources for any purpose other than—
(i) the administration of the trust;
(ii) the payment or reimbursement of legal fees or expenses incurred in investigatory, civil, criminal, or other legal proceedings relating to or arising by virtue of the office or employment of the trust’s beneficiary as an officer or employee, described in this section, or as an employee, contractor, consultant or volunteer of the campaign of the President or Vice President; or
(iii) the distribution of unused resources to a charity selected by the trustee that has not been selected or recommended by the beneficiary of the trust;
(E) that is subject to a trust agreement that prohibits the use of its resources for any other purpose or personal legal matters, including tax planning, personal injury litigation, protection of property rights, divorces, or estate probate; and
(F) that is subject to a trust agreement that prohibits the acceptance of donations, except in accordance with this section and the regulations of the Office of Government Ethics;
(3) the term “lobbying activity” has the meaning given that term in section 3 of the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1512); and
(4) the term “officer or employee” means—
(A) an officer (as that term is defined in section 2105 of such title) of the executive branch of the Government;
(B) the Vice President; and
(C) the President and
(5) the term “relative” has the meaning given that term in section 3101 of title 5, United States Code.
1. Legal Defense Funds.—An officer or employee may not accept or use any gift or donation for the payment or reimbursement of legal fees or expenses incurred in investigatory, civil, criminal, or other legal proceedings relating to or arising by virtue of the office or employee’s service as an officer or employee, as defined in this section, or as an employee, contractor, consultant or volunteer of the campaign of the President or Vice President except through a legal defense fund that is certified by the Director of the Office of Government Ethics.
1(b) Limits on Gifts and Donations.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Director shall promulgate regulations establishing limits with respect to gifts and donations described in subsection (b), which shall, at a minimum—
(I) prohibit the receipt of any gift or donation described in subsection (b); and
(A) from a single contributor (other than a relative of the officer or employee) in a 180-day period of more than $5,000 during any calendar year;
(B) from a registered lobbyist;
(C) from a foreign government or an agent of a foreign principal;
(D) from a State government or an agent of a State government;
(E) from any person seeking official action from, or seeking to do or doing business with, the agency employing the officer or employee;
(F) from any person conducting activities regulated by the agency employing the officer or employee;
(G) from any person whose interests may be substantially affected by the performance or nonperformance of the official duties of the officer or employee;
(H) from an officer or employee of the executive branch;
(I) from any organization a majority of whose board of directors is comprised of individuals described in (A)–(H); or
(J) require that a legal defense fund, in order to be certified by the Director only permit distributions to the officer or employee.
1(d) Written Notice.—
1(1) in General.—An officer or employee who wishes to accept funds or have a representative accept funds from a legal defense fund shall first ensure that the proposed trustee of the legal defense fund submits to the Director a written notice that includes—
(A) the name and contact information for any proposed trustee of the legal defense fund;
(B) a copy of any proposed trust document for the legal defense fund;
(C) the nature of the legal proceeding (or proceedings), investigation or other matter which gives rise to the establishment of the legal defense fund;
(D) an acknowledgment signed by the officer or employee and the trustee indicating that they will be bound by the regulations and limitations under this section.
1(2) Approval.—An officer or employee may not accept any gift or donation to pay, or to reimburse any person for, fees or expenses described in subsection (b) of this section except through a legal defense fund that has been certified in writing by the Director following receipt and approval of the information submitted under paragraph (1) and approval of the structure of the fund.
1(e) Reporting.—
1(1) in General.—An officer or employee who establishes a legal defense fund may not directly or indirectly accept distributions from a legal defense fund unless the fund has provided the Director a quarterly report for each quarter of every calendar year since the establishment of the legal defense fund that discloses, with respect to the quarter covered by the report—
(A) the source and amount of each contribution to the legal defense fund; and
(B) the amount, recipient, and purpose of each expenditure from the legal defense fund, including all distributions from the trust for any purpose.
1(2) Public Availability.—The Director shall make publicly available online—
1(A) each report submitted under paragraph (1) in a searchable, sortable, and downloadable form;
(B) each trust agreement and any amendment thereto;
(C) the written notice and acknowledgment required by subsection (d); and
(D) the Director’s written certification of the legal defense fund.
1(f) Recusal.—
1(1) in General.—An officer or employee, other than the President and the Vice President, who is the beneficiary of a legal defense fund may not participate personally and substantially in any particular matter in which the officer or employee knows a donor to or of the legal defense fund.
1(2) Recusal.—An officer or employee who knows a donor, other than the President and the Vice President, who is the beneficiary of a legal defense fund may not participate personally and substantially in any particular matter in which the officer or employee knows a donor to or of the legal defense fund.
1(g) Limitations on Use of Legal Fees.—
1(1) in General.—An officer or employee who knows a donor, other than the President and the Vice President, who is the beneficiary of a legal defense fund may not accept any gift or donation to pay, or to reimburse any person for, fees or expenses related to a matter in which the officer or employee knows a donor to or of the legal defense fund that is otherwise payable from a legal defense fund unless the fund has provided the Director a quarterly report for each quarter of every calendar year since the establishment of the legal defense fund that discloses, with respect to the quarter covered by the report—
(A) the source and amount of each contribution to the legal defense fund; and
(B) the amount, recipient, and purpose of each expenditure from the legal defense fund, including all distributions from the trust for any purpose.
1(2) Public Availability.—The Director shall make publicly available online—
1(A) each report submitted under paragraph (1) in a searchable, sortable, and downloadable form;
(B) each trust agreement and any amendment thereto;
(C) the written notice and acknowledgment required by subsection (d); and
(D) the Director’s written certification of the legal defense fund.
1(h) Fee Arrangements of Legal Counsel.—An officer or employee shall not participate personally and substantially in any particular matter in which the officer or employee knows a donor to or of the legal defense fund unless the Director has determined that the arrangement for the legal fees will be made by the legal counsel associated with the legal defense fund.
1(i) Reform.—
1(1) in General.—An officer or employee who is the beneficiary of a legal defense fund shall not accept any gift or donation to pay, or to reimburse any person for, fees or expenses related to a matter in which the officer or employee knows a donor to or of the legal defense fund, unless—
(A) the legal fees are otherwise payable from a legal defense fund;
(B) the legal fees are otherwise payable from another source;
(C) the legal fees are otherwise payable from the personal assets of the officer or employee;
(D) the legal fees are otherwise payable from a non-profit organization;
(E) the legal fees are otherwise payable from an entity that is not related to the matter in which the officer or employee knows a donor to or of the legal defense fund; or
(F) the legal fees are otherwise payable from any other source approved by the Director.
1(2) approval.—The Director shall make publicly available online—
1(A) each report submitted under paragraph (1) in a searchable, sortable, and downloadable form;
(B) each trust agreement and any amendment thereto;
(C) the written notice and acknowledgment required by subsection (d); and
(D) the Director’s written certification of the legal defense fund.
1(j) Authority.—The Director has the authority to adopt rules and regulations to carry out this section.
1(k) Enforcement.—The Director shall—
1(1) promulgate regulations to carry out the purposes of this section;
(2) make a written decision with respect to the payment or reimbursement of fees or expenses described in subsection (b) of this section if the Director finds that the payment or reimbursement of fees or expenses described in subsection (b) of this section are otherwise payable from another source or are otherwise permissible under the law; and
1(3) have the power to institute an action in any appropriate court to enforce the purposes or provisions of this section.
1(l) Effect of Amendments.—Except as otherwise provided in this Act, the amendments made by this Act shall take effect immediately.
1(m) Authorization of Appropriations.—There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE
H2493

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chair, this amendment cleans up the so-called legal defense funds in the executive branch and to ensure that Federal employees cannot obtain money from prohibited sources. These regulations will be similar to rules that are already established for Members of Congress, and I think that that is just common sense. My amendment closes loopholes and eliminates conflicts of interest in these legal defense funds in several ways. First, it limits the gifts and donations that can be made to legal defense funds to no more than $5,000 per person per year.

Second, it prohibits registered lobbyists, foreign governments, and individuals involved in activities that are regulated by the agency that is employing the individual who will receive the legal defense fund dollars from contributing to the legal defense fund.

Third, it clarifies that employees may not accept gifts and donations outside of legal defense funds to pay for [later text]

In other words, employees in the White House can fund their legal defenses with contributions from the President’s campaign backers or people who want to influence the President’s decisions.

Not surprisingly, this President’s team has set up a legal defense fund, the Patriot Fund, to help staffers pay for their legal fees related to the Russia investigation. The Patriot Fund was cleared by the Office of Government Ethics under the Acting Director, David Apol, who was appointed by—you guessed it—President Trump.

Former Trump campaign staffer Rick Gates and former National Security Advisor Michael Flynn have also set up legal defense funds.

According to a political report from a month ago, Sheldon Adelson, who is the single largest donor to the Trump campaign, and his wife, Miriam, have contributed $30 million to the Patriot Fund, for a total of half a million dollars.

The fund is flush, Mr. Chair. It is no wonder that one of Trump’s former campaign staff who has been interviewed by the House Intelligence Committee referred to the Patriot Fund as “a real blessing.”

Trump lawyers have said that decisions about which staffers’ legal funds are paid out of the Patriot Fund will not be related to whether that individual in question defends the President. But since the fund manager has sole discretion over who will benefit from the fund, it is almost impossible to know whether access to Patriot Fund dollars will be used to reward those who might be loyal to the President. That creates an extraordinary conflict of interest for any President, not just this one.

It is time to put a stop to this in perpetuity. That is why I have offered this amendment to direct the Office of Government Ethics to promulgate regulations on basic requirements to ensure transparency of donations to legal defense funds in the executive branch and to ensure that Federal employees cannot obtain money from prohibited sources. These regulations will be similar to rules that are already established for Members of Congress, and I think that that is just common sense. My amendment closes loopholes and eliminates conflicts of interest in these legal defense funds in several ways. First, it limits the gifts and donations that can be made to legal defense funds to no more than $5,000 per person per year.

Second, it prohibits registered lobbyists, foreign governments, and individuals involved in activities that are regulated by the agency that is employing the individual who will receive the legal defense fund dollars from contributing to the legal defense fund.

Third, it clarifies that employees may not accept gifts and donations outside of legal defense funds to pay for legal fees and expenses from civil or criminal proceedings.

And, fourth, it makes legal defense funds public by requiring that the source of contributions and the amount of those contributions be publicly disclosed.

Mr. Chair, this is a sensible amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chair, I oppose the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Ohio is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chair, the Office of Government Ethics already consults with legal defense funds when prompted. OGE already published two legal advisories around legal defense funds that define gifts according to current U.S. Code and the “Standard of Ethical Conduct for Employees of the Executive Branch.” Any legal defense fund reviewed by OGE bars the trustee from accepting donations from already prohibited sources.

Mr. Chair, I urge that Members oppose this bad amendment to an already terrible underlying piece of legislation, and, respectfully, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chair, in conclusion, I would say this bill, H.R. 1, is about reclaiming our democracy, ensuring transparency and accountability for the American people. For evidence of obstruction of justice, public corruption, and abuses of power for any President and the people surrounding him, we believe that this bill is essential, and this amendment is essential.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Washington (Ms. JAYAPAL).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 16 OFFERED BY MR. CONNOLLY

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 16 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 625, insert after line 9 the following (and conform the succeeding subsection accordingly):

“(d) SURPLUS APPROPRIATIONS.—If the amount appropriated for grants authorized under section 296D(a)(2) exceed the amount necessary to meet the requirements of subsection (b), the Commission shall consider the following in making a determination to award remaining funds to a State:

“(1) The record of the State in carrying out the following with respect to the administration of elections for Federal office:

“(A) Providing voting machines that are less than 10 years old.

“(B) Implementing strong chain of custody procedures for the physical security of voting equipment and paper records at all stages of the process.

“(C) Conducting pre-election testing on every voting machine and ensuring that paper ballots are available wherever electronic machines are used.

“(D) Maintaining offline backups of voter registration lists.

“(E) Providing a secure voter registration database that logs requests submitted to the database.

“(F) Publishing and enforcing a policy detailing use limitations and security safeguards to protect the personal information of voters in the voter registration process.

“(G) Providing secure processes and procedures for reporting vote tallies.

“(H) Providing a secure platform for disseminating vote totals.

“(2) Evidence of established conditions of innovation and reform in providing voting system security and the proposed plan of the State for implementing additional conditions.

“(3) Evidence of collaboration between relevant stakeholders, including local election officials, in developing the grant implementation plan described in section 296B.

“(4) The plan of the State to conduct a rigorous evaluation of the effectiveness of the activities carried out with the grant.

“The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to H.R. 1512, the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. CONNOLLY) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Virginia from Virginia (Mr. CONNOLLY).

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Chairman, H.R. 1, the For the People Act of 2019, of which I recently reintroduced with my colleague, Representative JIM LANGEVIN of Rhode Island, adapted from the FAST Voting Act, delivers on the For the People Act of 2019, of which I recently reintroduced with my colleague, Representative JIM LANGEVIN of Rhode Island, adapted from the FAST Voting Act, delivers on the promise to reform American democracy by protecting voting rights and our elections, improving the transparency of campaign finance, and promoting ethics and effectiveness.

Key to safeguarding voting rights is ensuring that our voting system is secure and free from interference by foreign actors.

My amendment to H.R. 1 would help States implement voting system security improvements in order to enhance the integrity of our Federal election infrastructure.

Adapted from the FAST Voting Act, H.R. 1512, which I recently reintroduced with my colleague, Representative JIM LANGEVIN of Rhode Island, this amendment to H.R. 1 would award supplemental grants to State applicants based on evidence of previous election security reforms and plans for implementing additional innovations.

This race-to-the-top model would incentivize States to adopt best practices, including providing voting machines that are less than 10 years old, maintaining offline backups of voter registration lists, and providing a secure platform for disseminating vote totals.

According to the Brennan Center for Justice, in the 2016 Federal elections, voters relied on outdated voting equipment that was more than a decade old in 43 of the 50 States, Mr. Chairman.

My amendment would also instruct the Election Assistance Commission, when evaluating State grant applications, to consider evidence of collaboration between relevant stakeholders, including local election officials, in developing the grant implementation plan and the State’s plan to evaluate the effectiveness of its grant activities.

We now know that Russia directly targeted State voter databases and software systems in 39 States during the 2016 Federal elections. That effort by Russia and additional foreign entities to conduct robust influence operations persisted, sadly, in the 2018 midterm elections, and the U.S. intelligence community expects such attacks to continue through the 2020 Federal elections.

Numerous witnesses before the Homeland Security Committee testified on the ongoing need for investment to protect us from such attacks. The need to strengthen the integrity of our voting system is crystal clear, Mr. Chairman. We have a moral obligation as Members of Congress to protect the sacred nature of the results of every election, and it is urgent.

Mr. Chair, I urge my colleagues to support this simple but, I think, helpful amendment to move us toward voter security in the next election and enhance cybersecurity for all of our Federal election infrastructure.

Mr. Chairman, I am delighted to see there is no opposition here on the floor, and I yield back the balance of my time.

AMENDMENT NO. 17 OFFERED BY MS. FOXX OF NORTH CAROLINA

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 17 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Ms. FOXX of North Carolina. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 617, insert after line 2 the following (and redesignate the succeeding subtitle accordingly):

Subtitle E—Reports on Outside Compensation Earned by Congressional Employees

SEC. 9401. REPORTS ON OUTSIDE COMPENSATION EARNED BY CONGRESSIONAL EMPLOYEES.

(a) REPORTS.—The supervisor of an individual who performs services for any Member, committee, or other office of the Senate or House of Representatives for a period in excess of four weeks and who receives compensation therefor from any source other than the Federal Government shall submit a report identifying the identity of the source, amount, and rate of such compensation to—

(1) the Select Committee on Ethics of the Senate, in the case of an individual who performs services for a Member, committee, or other office of the Senate; or

(2) the Committee on Ethics of the House of Representatives, in the case of an individual who performs services for a Member (including a Delegate or Resident Commissioner to the Congress), committee, or other office of the House.

(b) TIMING.—The supervisor shall submit the report required under subsection (a) with respect to an individual—

(1) when such individual first begins performing services described in such subparagraph; and

(2) at the close of each calendar quarter during which such individual is performing such services; and Chairman, I rise to speak on behalf of my amendment, co-authored by Representative Harley Rouda of California, which seeks to bring badly-needed transparency to sources of compensation for certain individuals staffing the legislative branch.

I would like to start by thanking my colleague from California (Mr. Rouda) for working together in this bipartisan fashion. I am always willing to work across the aisle to find common ground, and I am glad to have found a partner in him on this issue.

I want to be clear, however, if I did not mention the missed opportunity for doing so on the underlying bill. This underlying legislation ran afoul of the legislative process, having gone through only one markup, despite 10 committee referrals. Democratic leaders also rejected many Republican amendments that I support, amendments that would have terminated Congressional pensions, prohibiting pay for Congressmen when the government shut down, and other commonsense reforms.

While the general public understands the need for strict regulations on campaign contributions, gifts, and other methods of influence, many Americans would be shocked to learn that the influence of personnel is escaping public notice.

The Congressional Fellows program is a great contribution to this institution on the whole, as it offers direct exposure and experience in the legislative process to people outside of the Beltway. That exposure is great for our democracy and great for the American public.

However, it goes without saying that fellowships being paid by industry groups, advocacy groups, or for-profit industries shouldn’t be creating any undue advantage by way of their access to this body.

In fact, there is an old saying around Congress that personnel equals policy. If that is so evident to Members of Congress, then surely we can understand the potential conflicts of interest that could arise from this influence.

It is true some Congressional Fellows are working on legislation pertaining to the very interest group they are being paid by to support their work in Congress. The public would rightfully be outraged to learn that even some of the largest social media firms in this country are retaining fellows on Capitol Hill, and yet, the average citizen outside the Beltway has no way of knowing about it. This situation requires a whole new meaning to the term “social media influencer.”

While House ethics rules currently bar fellowship programs from giving an “undue advantage to special interests,” the House of Representatives lacks a reporting requirement to expose conflicts of interest.

Our amendment would fill this gap by mandating that legislative offices disclose the rate and source of compensation for Congressional Fellows to their Chamber’s respective Ethics Committee.

The taxpayers have a right to know about the funding, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, at this time, let me yield to the gentleman from California (Mr. Rouda), my cosponsor for the amendment.

Mr. Rouda. Mr. Chair, I rise today in support of this bipartisan amendment, which would codify disclosure requirements for paid Congressional fellowships sponsored by nongovernment sources.

It has been a privilege to work with Congresswoman FOXX and her office on this amendment to enhance transparency in Congress, and I thank her for her attention to this matter.

I look forward to continuing to work with Congresswoman FOXX and my other colleagues across the aisle to advance bipartisan initiatives.

I am eager to work with Democrats and Republicans to find common ground and deliver practical, commonsense solutions for the American people.

By passing this bipartisan amendment, we can show our constituents that we are serious about improving transparency and accountability in the people’s House.

I ask my colleagues to join me in supporting this amendment.

Ms. FOXX of North Carolina. Mr. Chairman, could I inquire as to how much time is remaining?

The Acting CHAIR. The gentlewoman from North Carolina has 45 seconds remaining.

Ms. FOXX of North Carolina. Mr. Chairman, if personnel equals policy, then the general public should have access to knowledge about the influencers in our legislative body.

Again, I am glad to have been a partner with Congressman ROUDA in this bipartisan initiative. I ask my colleagues to support our amendment to uphold transparency, accountability, and the integrity of our legislative process. And I urge all Members to vote for the amendment. It is a very commonsense amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. FOXX).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 18 OFFERED BY MRS. LAWRENCE

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 18 printed in part B of House Report 116–16. Mrs. LAWRENCE. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 555, line 16, insert “CABINET MEMBER,” after “VICE PRESIDENT,” and strike “the President or Vice President,” and insert “the President, Vice President, or any Cabinet member.”

Mr. ROUDA, my cosponsor for the amendment.

The American people expect their government to act in their best interest, not in the best interest of their bank accounts.

When a department issues a ruling, the American people should not have to consider whether a Cabinet member will benefit from that action.

The President, the Vice President, and Cabinet members all have tremendous power and decisionmaking authority within our government. That power comes with great scrutiny and the need for oversight. This commonsense amendment will eliminate that confusion.

Aside from providing essential oversight for our government, H.R. 1 addresses serious issues that have plagued our country for decades. For years, Americans’ access to the ballot box has been under attack, and millions of voters have been removed from voter rolls across the country.

Democrats are committed to ensuring that voting is free, fair, and equal for all citizens, and that every vote by an eligible voter is counted as cast.

H.R. 1, the For the People Act, codifies that oversight, and seeks to shed a light on any corrupt actions being taken by our elected officials and Cabinet members.

Mr. Chairman, Cabinet members should be held to the same standard as the President, Vice President, and Members of Congress and should not be able to benefit from agreements, policy, and their actions while serving the U.S. Government. I urge my colleagues to support this commonsense amendment that will help provide important oversight of our government.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Michigan (Mrs. Law-rence).

The amendment was agreed to.

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 19, printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

AMENDMENT NO. 20 OFFERED BY MR. ROUDA

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 20, printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 127, insert after line 17 the following new section (and conform the succeeding section accordingly):

SEC. 1605. PAPER BALLOT PRINTING REQUIREMENTS.

(a) In general.—Section 301(a) of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21081(a)), as amended by section 1504, is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(8) PRINTING REQUIREMENTS FOR BALLOTS.—All paper ballots used in an election for Federal office shall be printed on recycled paper."

(b) Effective date.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to elections occurring on or after January 1, 2021.

Page 128, line 4, strike "subparagraphs (B) and (C)" and insert "section 1505(b) of the For the People Act of 2019 and subparagraphs (B) and (C)".

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from California (Mr. ROUDA) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, the people of Orange County sent me to Congress because they were disillusioned with the nature of our politics, whether it is the toxic partnership or the vice grip of special interest money on our political system.

I offer these amendments today to improve this landmark bill by regulating political ads and restore voters’ confidence in our elections.

Our government has, for too long, preferred to shield special interests instead of our constituents; and that ends by getting out of politics and passing the For the People Act.

In an age of advanced cybersecurity threats, more States are looking to one of the oldest technologies in existence. Currently, the majority of States utilize some form of paper ballot for elections, with more taking steps to adopt paper-only systems.

My amendment would require the use of recycled paper for Federal elections, a crucial step to increasing the sustainability of our elections. Recycled paper production emits 40 percent fewer greenhouse gases, uses 26 percent less energy, and creates 43 percent less water waste than non-recycled paper.

The impact of requiring the use of recycled paper for ballots is significant when you consider the amount of paper used in the United States. In fact, Americans use approximately 85 million tons of paper a year, about 680 pounds per person per year.

Recycling just 1 ton of paper can save 17 trees, 7,000 gallons of water, 380 gallons of oil, 3,3 cubic yards of landfill space, and 4,000 kilowatts of energy, reducing greenhouse gases by 1 metric ton of carbon dioxide equivalent.

As security concerns continue to inspire moves to replace electronic voting methods with paper ballots, we must be mindful of the environmental impact.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for his comments, but with all due respect, I don’t believe the facts support those statements.

It is quite clear that many States are already using recycled paper in their ballots, and recycled paper can be cheaper than the paper chosen by certain States. This is a small request that goes a long way in supporting environmental health across our great country and continuing to fight climate change.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROUDEN DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I appreciate the gentleman’s willingness to show awareness and concern over climate change and our environment. Maybe this amendment is better suited for when the New Green Deal is called up on the floor for all of us to cast a vote upon, but this is an amendment that would be included in the Federal Government right down to the State and local officials.

This is something that can cost local election officials even more money to run elections and then also run the risk of them not having enough money to budget to print enough ballots that will be available on election day for the increased voter turnout that we have seen over the last few election cycles. At that point in time, it becomes a very big burden on local taxpayers.

This bill is going to be a burden on local taxpayers. This bill is estimated to already cost almost $3 billion. It creates another mandatory spending program.

I appreciate my new colleague’s willingness to come here and offer amendments. I just believe that this amendment is, again, adding to the unfair, unfunded burden that H.R. 1 gives to many State and local election officials.

State and local election officials know best how to stack their ballot boxes to ensure they have enough ballots for everybody to vote, and this will now be an added cost.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, while I appreciate the comments and concerns about the potential increase in cost to local and State institutions in administering the vote, I would point out that my Republican brethren were quick to pass a tax bill that added $2 trillion to our deficit, while simultaneously not addressing requests by local municipalities and States for additional funding to make sure that we had proper voting taking place for all voters across the U.S.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for his comments, but with all due respect, I don’t believe the facts support those statements.

It is quite clear that many States are already using recycled paper in their ballots, and recycled paper can be cheaper than the paper chosen by certain States. This is a small request that goes a long way in supporting environmental health across our great country and continuing to fight climate change.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, I offer these amendments today to...
The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 127, insert after line 17 the following (and conform the succeeding section accordingly):

SEC. 1505. STUDY AND REPORT ON OPTIMAL BALLOT DESIGN.

(a) Study.—The Election Assistance Commission shall conduct a study of the best ways to design ballots used in elections for public office, including paper ballots and electronic or digital ballots, to minimize confusion and user errors.

(b) Report.—Not later than January 1, 2020, the Election Assistance Commission shall submit to Congress a report on the study conducted under subsection (a).

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from California (Mr. ROUDA) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

Mr. Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, every election, hundreds of thousands of votes are not counted simply because of bad ballot design. These citizens fulfill their patriotic duty, but their voices are silenced by confusing voter instructions and poor ballot design. This cannot continue.

Although most Americans associate bad ballot design with the 2000 Presidential race and hanging chads, unnecessarily complex and misleading ballots still plague our elections today.

Confusing ballot design has a significant and well-documented effect on our elections, disproportionately affecting low-income and elderly voters.

You shouldn’t need a magnifying glass to read a candidate’s name and you shouldn’t need a Ph.D. to understand voter instructions. My amendment simply directs the U.S. Election Assistance Commission to study the best ways to design both paper and digital ballots. By reviewing uncounted vote data and conducting usability tests, the U.S. Election Assistance Commission can provide States with better ballot design guidelines.

This study, which would be due in January 2020, is a commonsense way to ensure that more Americans’ votes are counted next election and in every election to come.

Mr. Chair, I ask my colleagues to join me in supporting this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

My biggest problem with this amendment is we don’t know how much this will cost the last taxpayer. These are the types of studies that I believe the information that my colleague wants to get is already going to be in place. Why do we need to spend any more tax dollars on another study that is going to provide the same answers that my colleague has already asked them to now do a new study on? The EAC is doing their job.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I appreciate the gentleman’s intention, and I appreciate his willingness to allow us to debate this amendment. It is clear that we still have work to do. So we have agreement that we want better ballots at all locations, and I am glad Mr. DAVIS is joining me in support of that.

I would recognize that this does not require States to follow the suggested potential improved ballot, but makes it clear that there are better ways to do it.

My amendment recognizes the need for States to follow the suggestions of the EAC, and makes the ballot easier to understand, therefore improving voter outcomes.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

SEC. 1052. USE OF POSTAL SERVICE HARD COPY CHANGE OF ADDRESS FORM TO REMIND INDIVIDUALS TO UPDATE VOTER REGISTRATION.

(a) In General.—Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Postmaster General shall modify any hard copy change of address form used by the United States Postal Service so that such form contains a reminder that any individual using such form should update the individual’s voter registration as a result of such change in address.

(b) Application.—The requirement in subsection (a) shall not apply to any electronic version of a change of address form used by the United States Postal Service.
Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, each year, too many Americans lose their voter registration status when they move without updating their voter registration address.

My amendment is a commonsense measure which directs the Postmaster General to include a notice on the Postal Service’s hard copy change of address form simply reminding voters to update their voter registration following a change of address.

The online change of address form on the Postal Service’s website already includes a reminder to reregister with your new address. This amendment would simply ensure that voters who use the hard copy change of address form also get a reminder to update their voter registration.

No one should be denied the right to vote simply because they forgot to update their voter registration address following a move.

Mr. Chair, I urge adoption of this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I claim the time in opposition to the amendment, even though I am not opposed to it.

The Acting CHAIR. Without objection, the gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

There was no objection.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I appreciate the opportunity.

I am not necessarily opposed to this amendment, and if the gentleman is willing, I am ready to move towards closing. I am ready to close on this debate, so I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, if my colleague is ready to yield back and proceed to a vote, then I am certainly willing. I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. ROUDA).

The amendment was agreed to.

Ms. LOFGREN. I move that the Committee do now rise.

The motion was agreed to.

Accordingly, the Committee rose; and to a temporary adjournment (Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL) having assumed the chair, Mr. CARTWRIGHT, Acting Chair of the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 1) to expand Americans’ access to the ballot box, reduce the influence of big money in politics, and strengthen ethics rules for public servants, and for other purposes, had come to no resolution thereon.

REMEMBERING ANTHONY RIOS

(Mr. ESPAILLAT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. ESPAILLAT. Madam Speaker, the Dominican Republic lost one of its brightest stars this week, with the passing of singer and composer Froilán Antonio Jiménez, known in the artistic world as Anthony Ríos.

Ríos’ ascent was rapid due to his remarkable work ethic, perseverance, and an undeniable God-given talent. Even as a child, Ríos demonstrated a unique ability to intertwine music into his life.

As a young shoeshine boy in the city of Hato Mayor del Rey, Ríos would serenade his customers. During Christmas season, he sang Christmas carols door to door. The Dominican Republic have lost a true talent.

May he rest in peace and may God comfort his friends, family, and all those who knew and loved him dearly. He will be missed. “Rest in peace.” “De descanse en paz.” Anthony Ríos.

COMPREHENSIVE IMMIGRATION REFORM

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker’s announced policy of January 3, 2019, the gentleman from New York (Mr. ESPAILLAT) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the majority leader.

Mr. ESPAILLAT. Madam Speaker, as the whip of the Congressional Hispanic Caucus, I am pleased to lead our second monthly Special Order hour.

Last month, my colleagues and I spoke about the importance of comprehensive immigration reform. Since then, the Congressional Hispanic Caucus Immigration Task Force, led by Congresswoman LINDA SANCHEZ of California, drafted a set of immigration principles, which our caucus has now adopted. We plan to use these as a guide as we work on developing a comprehensive immigration reform proposal. Chief among these principles is a timely path to citizenship for Dreamers and a permanent solution for those with temporary protected status and deferred and forced departure.

Democracy made an important commitment to these communities. After a failed attempt at a bipartisan solution for Dreamers and TPS recipients last year, and again a few weeks ago, we said that if we regained control of the House, we would move quickly to fix this. Democrats have spent the last few weeks working just on that.

In particular, two of our CHC colleagues, Congresswoman LUCILLE ROYBAL-ALLARD and Congresswoman NYDIA VELÁZQUEZ, along with Congresswoman Villegas, are putting together a proposal that will provide overdue needed relief. Their Dream and Promise Act, H.R. 6, will be introduced next week. We are also grateful for the time and effort they have put into this critical legislation.

That is why we wanted to take this month’s CHC’s Special Order to focus on Dreamers and TPS recipients. These are unique groups within our broader immigration community and their current plight—the uncertainty of their status—is entirely the fault of President Donald Trump and actions he took against them.

For Dreamers, the American people have heard us talk about them for many years, but I think it serves reminding just who those folks are. Dreamers are mostly young adults whose parents brought them to this country when they were minors. They do not have legal immigration status in the United States. They are undocumented, just like I was once. They came here through no fault of their own. For the vast majority of them, the United States of America is the only country they know. A good number of them grew up not even knowing they were in immigration limbo and at risk of being deported.

Some only found out when they applied to college. Just think about that, Madam Speaker. You are a young high school student with your whole life ahead of you. You have dreams and aspirations for future careers and you are excited to take on a new chapter of your life. Then one day you find out that you are one of those undocumented folks you have been hearing about. There is now a barrier to your ability to get a higher education, to get a good job, to establish yourself in our society.

President Obama recognized this injustice and he created a program that would give Dreamers relief from deportation, known as the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals, or DACA. This gave them some sense of certainty, and important to them is the legal status they needed to pursue an education and career, to buy a home, and begin raising a family.

Nearly 800,000 individuals across the country receive DACA, and thousands more were still eligible. But President Trump abruptly chose to end the program as part of his anti-immigrant policies. Not only is this cruel and unjust, it is economic malpractice.

According to the Center for American Progress, ending DACA will cost our GDP $160 billion. Let me say that again, Madam Speaker. Ending DACA will cost our GDP $160 billion. That is because it will mean removing 685,000 workers out of the workforce.

If President Trump wants to promote economic growth, as he says, then why would he make such a horrible decision? I leave it up to the American people to sort out that mystery. Perhaps they can do it at the ballot box in a couple of years.

Ms. ESPAILLAT. Madam Speaker, the promise act, H.R. 6, will be introduced next week.
Over the course of his 2 years in office, the President has ended also temporary protected status. I know you know that very well, Madam Speaker, because you represent the State of Florida.

For thousands of individuals, the temporary protected status has been attempted to end. TPS is an incredibly important program. It allows individuals to stay and remain in the United States for an extended period of time if some emergency erupts in their home country and prevents them from being able to return. TPS has been used cases of severe natural disasters, as well as armed conflict.

Only a few countries have been granted TPS. The program is so important because it allows these people, who would otherwise be in limbo for an unknown amount of time, to live their lives here in the United States, giving them the ability to work and establish themselves. Some countries have been designated TPS for many, many years and are still not safe for individuals to return back home.

That is why it has been routinely extended by Presidents of both parties. This is not a Republican or a Democratic program. Presidents of both parties have extended TPS.

TPS holders are established members of our communities. They are workers, they are homeowners, they have four neighbors and they have children and families that have built their lives here. They deserve to stay, Madam Speaker.

And the truth is our economy really needs them. More than 300,000 individuals are currently beneficiaries of TPS, but they account for more than $10 billion in spending power in our economy according to CAP. They pay local, State, and Federal taxes. Once more, so many TPS holders are the parents or relatives of thousands of U.S. citizen children, children who deserve to have their families stay together.

In conclusion, Madam Speaker, families here in the U.S. are separated at our border, whether they came here with a young child who only recently learned he or she was undocumented, whether they cannot return to a nation that is not able to receive them, they deserve to stay together, and they deserve to remain here in the United States, the place they now call home.

During the rest of this hour, you will hear from a number of CHC colleagues from across the country about how important Dreamers and TPS recipients are to their respective districts, how these hardworking individuals are part of the very fabric of communities they represent, I look forward to hearing from sharing their stories with you, Madam Speaker.

Madam Speaker, I yield to my colleague from the State of Illinois (Mr. GARCÍA) whose State is home to nearly 3,000 TPS holders and more than 42,000 DACA recipients. The GDP law, if DACA were to be removed, is $413 million, and TPS spending power in that same State is $91.7 million.

Mr. GARCÍA of Illinois, Madam Speaker, I thank my colleague, Representative ESPAILLAT, for organizing this important hour to share the stories of those living in fear as a result of the actions of this administration.

As a proud immigrant and representative of a Chicago district that is over one-third foreign born, I know and understand the need for a permanent solution to the status of immigrants in this country. We are long overdue for legislation that provides a path to citizenship for those with uncertain status.

Madam Speaker, there are more than 11 million individuals, including children, living in the U.S. who are currently undocumented. Of those, there are over 3.6 million Dreamers, children who entered the U.S. before their 18th birthday, and over 1.8 million children eligible for deferred action because they were brought to the U.S. before their 16th birthday. Too many are in constant fear as a result of the cruel policies of this administration.

In Illinois alone, there are almost 40,000 individuals enrolled in the deferred action program, but this issue affects entire families, including those in mixed-status families.

There are about 800,000 people in Illinois alone in families with at least one undocumented family member. I want to share a story of a Dreamer, like Beatriz, who is a constituent in my district, who came to this country at the age of 6.

Like many, her parents brought her seeking refuge from hunger, poverty, and the violent drug wars ravaging Mexico and Central America. Despite the toughest odds, Beatriz graduated from the Illinois Institute of Technology with no financial aid and working a full-time job.

Dreamers like Beatriz, if given the opportunity, are incredible assets to our country, not a drain. We should welcome hardworking immigrants like Beatriz and not make it harder for them to succeed and, in turn, grow our economy and enrich the cultural riches that makes America great.

In Beatriz’s own words: “While I am always in fear of deportation, I am not afraid to work or to study.”

As an immigrant myself, I empathize with Beatriz and her story.

Let me be clear: Putting Dreamers and TPS beneficiaries on a pathway to citizenship is just one of the many steps that we must take to undo the damage the Trump Administration has done.

The current legal immigration system is broken, creating decades-long delays for family reunifications and exacerbating workforce gaps that harm our economy.

We must continue to turn a blind eye to over 11 million undocumented people in our country who live and work in fear and in the shadows.

Immigrants—many of them are undocumented—are our teachers, engineers, your law enforcement officers. We are your firefighters, your plumbers, and your doctors. In some lucky instances, we are even your Representatives in Washington.

These are people who contribute every day to our country, and it is time we act now to reasonable pathways to citizenship for these hardworking people.

Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from New York for yielding in order to share Beatriz’s story.

Mr. ESPAILLAT. Madam Speaker, let me just share some numbers with you from respective States across the country.

The number of TPS holders, for example, in the State of California, over 50,000 of them; in your home State of Florida, Madam Speaker, over 41,000 of them; in Illinois, close to 3,000 of them; in Massachusetts, over 5,000 of them; in New Mexico, over 2,000; in New York, over 23,000; and in Texas, over 46,000 of them.

And the children living with these TPS recipients are, in California, over 49,000; in Florida, again, over 37,000; in Massachusetts, over 8,000; in New York, over 23,000; and in Texas, 49,000 children are living with TPS recipients.

DACA recipients are also in large numbers. In the State of California, you have close to 223,000 DACA recipients, in Florida, close to 33,000 recipients; in Illinois, Madam Speaker, you have close to 43,000 DACA recipients; in New York, 41,000.

So these are huge numbers for people who are so important to the fabric of our country, and that is why we are here to support them, because families that stay together are stronger together. When a family is divided, our Nation is weaker; when our family is together, our Nation is stronger.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to my colleague from Florida (Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL), whose State is the home State to 45,000 TPS recipients and nearly 33,000 DACA recipients.

Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL. Madam Speaker, DACA recipients are our neighbors. They are entrepreneurs, college graduates, educators, and healthcare providers.

DACA recipients are helping our country lead in science, technology, and medicine. Jorge Cortes is one those DACA recipients.

Jorge came to the United States from Colombia when he was a teenager. Despite his undocumented status, Jorge worked hard. He contributed to his community and eventually graduated from Florida International University.

After graduating, he quickly established himself as an entrepreneur in Miami’s technology and social innovation sector. Eventually employing upwards of 15 people. For his entrepreneurship and leadership, Jorge was awarded the keys to both Miami-Dade County and the city of Miami.
A path to citizenship for DACA and TPS recipients like Jorge, would add $1.2 billion, annually, to Florida’s economy.

In our discussions about DACA, immigration reform, and the economy, it is easy to say the beneficiaries are just people. DACA isn’t just the right thing to do for our economy, it is the moral thing to do. It is time that our immigration system treats all of them, like people.

Mr. ESPELLETT. Mr. Speaker, as has been said here tonight, bringing relief, permanent relief to DACA recipients and TPS beneficiaries must not be delayed. Comprehensive immigration reform cannot continue to be delayed. That is why I am so happy, as I mentioned earlier, that in a week or two, H.R. 6, the Dream and Promise Act, which promises to bring about comprehensive immigration reform in many ways, will hit this floor.

We are hoping that all our colleagues from both sides of the aisle will recognize that this is an important effort to finally bring to 800,000 young people permanently to the United States, young people who are teachers, nurses, police officers, members of our Armed Forces. They are business owners. They purchase their own homes, in many cases. These are important members of our communities across the country, and we must allow them to stay in the United States of America.

TPS recipients, many of them cannot return back to dangerous settings in their homeland. Many of them, their countries are reeling from natural disasters. It would be a travesty if we send them back home. They must be allowed to stay here in the United States of America. This is an important moment in our time.

Families that stay together are stronger; families that are divided are weaker. Our country is made stronger when a family is together. That is why I am so happy, as I mentioned earlier, that in a week or two, H.R. 6, the Dream and Promise Act, which promises to bring about comprehensive immigration reform in many ways, will hit this floor.

We believe we have five pillars, so we always start with this chart, and you can do them in any fashion you want. Last week, we actually did 30 minutes—which I am sure was riveting for anyone who was willing to watch—on labor force participation, but it is important.

If you go back over the last couple years and look at some of the CBO reports, repeatedly there are sections in there that talk about: What is the barrier to economic expansion in our country? They will often talk about two things: capital stock, basically, savings rates, money to be lent into the economy to multiply, to build things, to grow things; and the second thing is population, labor force availability.

Well, it turns out, since tax reform, the capital stock numbers have been much better than almost any of us had expected in the modeling. So our restraint on economic expansion turns out to be substantially labor force.

Okay. So that is what we talked about last week. How do you draw in millennial males? How do you add incentives to those who are older to stay in the labor force? So that was last week.

We have also actually talked about what we will have to do—and every week we are going to do one of these—dealing with the earned benefits. Are there things we can do in those earned benefits to add some competition for when someone is buying their medical benefits through Medicare? Can we add certain incentives? or crowd source volatile organics, or whatever, our environmental regulator is no longer a file cabinet of paperwork where we put paper and document more, document more. Instead, it is almost like a quick reaction for us of: Hey, the sensors are saying there’s a hotspot over here. Let’s go deal with it.

I think it is time we revolutionize what we consider financial, environmental, health types of regulations, realizing we have technology today that would make us healthier, more prosperous, industrial, more stable, and the time between a bad act and something getting fixed could be minutes, not years.

An example is, if you had certain types of technology, a Bernie Madoff could never happen because you would instantly know his accounts don’t match his bank accounts.

The other one we are going to do next week is technology disruption. What happens if you could go home and, at home, you have this thing that looks like a large kazoo? You could blow into it, and it instantly tells you if you have the flu or not and then instantly could order your antivirals. A couple hours later, those antivirals could be at your home. How much healthier would you be?

We are going to bring in a whole series of healthcare technologies that is a true disruption because, remember, part of our premise is, if you look at the curve of much of it is Medicare. The fact is, we do not have the resources set aside to keep our promises right now.

That technology, if we do the adoption, if we remove the barriers, could be an amazing disruption in the price of healthcare because this body—let’s be brutally honest—for a decade, we have been having the wrong debate. We have the ACA over here, which, functionally, just moved around who got to pay. Of our Republican alternatives that we believed would add some competition and those things, but it was, substantially, who got to pay.

It is time the Republicans and Democrats got together to understand there is a technology revolution out there that could be, that can be, that will be the price disrupter on healthcare, if this body is willing to remove those barriers to that technology.

Imagine being able to have certain wearables, whether you are the type of person who walks around with a smartwatch or the type of person who has the patch that can read your blood oxygen and these types of things, or the autonomous healthcare clinics that are being experimented with in the Phoenix-Scottsdale market.

There is a revolution happening out there. We need more of it. We need to adopt it faster. We need to remove the barriers and stop having these crazy conversations of little, incremental changes. We need the disruption.

As we walk through, part of the premise is, if you look at this slide, and I brought this slide in previous discussions, 91 percent of the spending growth between 2008 and 2028, interest, Social Security, healthcare, and functionally the healthcare entitlements.

When you look at that, you start to realize that the real problem out here. If these are functionally the other portions of the budget. Nondefense is green. Yellow is defense. Their percentage of the growth and spending is substantially flat. A little growth here, a little growth there, but the explosion in the curve or going up, is interest, Social Security, and healthcare entitlements.

Why doesn’t this place, why don’t we as Members of Congress, have the honest conversation that, if you care about the debt, if you care about retirement security, if you care about these things, this is the honest conversation?

Take a look at this slide. Between 2018 and 2048, a 30-year period, and this slide is not adjusted for inflation, you see this curvy line on the far end? That is the rest of the Federal budget. That is the non-Social Security, non-Medicare. It is actually $16 trillion to the positive. How do you end up with $84 trillion in the negative over those 30 years?

It is functionally the interest and the spending on Social Security, the interest and the spending on Medicare. I believe we have a moral obligation to protect these earned entitlements. But you are protecting them by avoiding the subject, and that is what this place has become famous for doing.

Let’s talk about this concept we refer to in our office as sort of population stability. Remember, this is just one of our five pillars. In 9 years, our society, and its driven by demographics, will have two workers for every one person in retirement. Think about that for a moment.

Programs like Social Security and Medicare, there were four or five, five-plus workers for every one in their benefits. In 9 years, we moved 2-to-1. What also happens in 9 years? It is the end of the baby-boom cycle, so the end of the spiked years.

If this slide doesn’t make you go “wow, maybe we should take this seriously,” because we should have taken it seriously a couple of decades ago because we knew people were going to turn 65 from the baby boom for how many years? Nine years, two workers plus workers for every one in their benefits. In 9 years, we moved 2-to-1. What also happens in 9 years? It is the end of the baby-boom cycle, so the end of the spiked years.

I can imagine being able to have certain wearables, whether you are the type of person who walks around with a smartwatch or the type of person who has the patch that can read your blood oxygen and these types of things, or the autonomous healthcare clinics that are being experimented with in the Phoenix-Scottsdale market.

There is a revolution happening out there. We need more of it. We need to adopt it faster. We need to remove the barriers and stop having these crazy conversations of little, incremental changes. We need the disruption.

If I asked you right now which State had the largest fall in birth rates, how many of you would have said Arizona? It turns out Arizona has the largest fall in birth rates. It is a little complicated. You have to read through the data, but Native Americans and Hispanics, their birth rates fell substantially and are looking much more like the mean of the rest of our society.

You do understand, as a nation, we spend a lot of our politics keeping us apart, the actual demographics say, when we are all having babies like each other, it is a symbol that the melting pot is working, that we are all starting to have similar education, live in the same neighborhoods, have similar job descriptions. Now our family formations are starting to look very, very similar.

That is wonderful. The melting pot is working. But understand what that means in the future, having enough workers to participate in keeping the economy growing and stable.

Let’s talk about this concept we refer to in our office as sort of population stability. Remember, this is just one of our five pillars. In 9 years, our society, and its driven by demographics, will have two workers for every one person in retirement. Think about that for a moment.

What do you do for population stability? Okay, back to family formation. Are there things we can do that will work? We have spent about a year in our office reading literature from around the world, what they have done in other countries, what they are doing right now in Hungary, what has been done in a province in Canada, trying to promote native births. Small, incremental changes—no one has found the magic formula.

Maybe we as a society have to have this discussion. What works? What can we do? Is it something you do in the Tax Code? Is it something you do in family friendly policies? What do we do to maximize family formation in our society?

Right now, when you start to look at the cost, I have only one beautiful little girl, and you realize, children are the greatest thing that ever happened to my wife and I, but it is expensive.

The idea of that population stability discussion is, if you are over here working on family formation and making sure society understands the blessing of children in our society, are there immigration policies that if you are bringing in populations into the United States that maximize the economic vitality?

So part of this thought experiment, based on the actual numbers in the last 10 years, the U.S. fell in birthrates functionally equals 4 million children that we expected that with the fallen birthrates will not be part of our society. You do realize that over 10 years that is functionally 4 full years of legal immigration.

So let’s say we actually were effective in being serious about family formation here, and we actually started to have an honest discussion of as a society do we start to do the things such as New Zealand, Great Britain, Australia, Canada, and others are doing where substantially it is a talent-based immigration system?

What do you want to fixate on that? It is an immigration system that actually has the essence of we don’t care about your gender, we don’t care about your religion, and we don’t care about your race. But what we care about as a society is we care about the vitality, the energy, and the talent you bring to our society to maximize the economic growth so we can keep our promises, particularly on Social Security and Medicare.

Remember, demographics are really the biggest issue we as a society are facing, except it is really hard to talk about it because the math is complex.

So are we as a body willing to take on complex issues and understand you can’t just do one of them?

There was a time here a decade ago or so people would come to the microphone and say: Well, if we do entitlement reform, then we get this.

We have missed that window.

Now my argument to this country, to my brothers and sisters here in Congress, is we have to actually reach out to at least the five pillars we have laid out of maximizing economic growth, and that is everything from tax policy to trade policy to regulatory policy, and labor force participation.

How do you design programs, everything from Social Security Disability to TANF to food stamps to this and that, saying we want you in the labor force?

What can we do so you have your safety net, but we have got to get you into the labor force?

What do you do for population stability as we have talked about right now?

What do you do for dramatic disruptive technology adoption, particularly for healthcare, but it can also be for environment?

We are going to actually do that in the coming weeks. Then we will have to step up and have an honest conversation of as the promised earned benefits, we call entitlements, how can we adjust and refine them so they incentivize to stay in the labor force, but they incentivize efficiencies of how healthcare is purchased?

We need to do this as an entire society. Once again, remember, in 9 years, two workers, one person in retirement, person 65. Over the 20-year period, 2008 to 2028, 91 percent of all the growth in spending will be interest, Social Security, and healthcare entitlements. In 9 years—the CBO report that came out last month has a beautiful graph in there—in 9 years, 50 percent of all the noninterest spending coming from Washington, D.C. will be for those who are 65 and older.

So if you care about keeping our promises, if you care about this country being able to maintain its place in the world, it is math. It is demographics. There is a path for us to succeed, but it no longer works. The math no longer works by just doing one thing or these little, incremental, petty things I see happening around here where it is political power grabs instead of the things that stabilize and grow our country and protect my 3-year-old daughter and her economic future and her opportunity to actually live the American Dream.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Madam Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn. The motion was agreed to; accordingly (at 8 o’clock and 19 minutes p.m.), under its previous order, the House adjourned until tomorrow, Thursday, March 7, 2019, at 10 a.m. for morning-hour debate.

The Senate met at 10 a.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore (Mr. GRASSLEY).

PRAYER
The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.
O God our shield, the giver of victory and honor, shine on us with Your kindness that brings a rich harvest of joy.

Today, guide our lawmakers with Your spirit and lead them by the power of Your prevailing Providence. May they trust You completely and permit You to remove obstacles from the road ahead.

Lord, train them in Your school of humility so they will walk safely and never stumble. Help them to remember that all efforts to defend themselves will fail without Your grace and mercy. May they not trust in their own strength and ingenuity but instead lean on You the God of might and miracles.

We pray in Your Holy Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE
The President pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME
The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. CRAMER). Under the previous order, the leadership time is reserved.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Morning business is closed.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

EXECUTIVE CALENDAR
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will proceed to executive session to resume consideration of the following nomination, which the clerk will report.

The bill clerk read the nomination of Chad A. Readler, of Ohio, to be United States Circuit Judge for the Sixth Circuit.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak for 1 minute as in morning business.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, yesterday, I came to the floor to speak about the Green New Deal. I compared it to the New Deal of the 1930s. I mentioned before that the New Deal of the 1930s is not something that we ought to be emulating.

The National Recovery Administration of the 1930s was a key feature of that New Deal. It was designed to eliminate competition, with industry, government, and labor all working together.

The National Recovery Administration turned out hundreds of codes, regulating every aspect of business. Small businesses struggled to comply, job creation stalled, and prices stayed high.

When big business and big government get together to write regulations, hard-working Americans suffer. You don’t create jobs.

So I hope you will take a look at how complicated the Green New Deal is, besides costing $93 trillion in the future. I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. McCONNELL. I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, the Senate confirmed one of President Trump’s well-qualified nominees to the federal bench and advanced the nomination of another.

That is what we will do today. With Allison Rushing’s nomination confirmed, we will vote later today on the nomination of Chad Readler and then turn to consideration of Eric Murphy to join him on the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mr. Murphy is a graduate of Miami University and the University of Chicago Law School and now serves as the State solicitor of Ohio. He has held two prestigious clerkships on our Federal courts, including for Justice Anthony Kennedy on the U.S. Supreme Court.

So I hope our colleagues will join me in advancing another wise choice for our Nation’s judiciary.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. President, on another matter, in recent months our Nation has watched the Democratic Party take a sharp and abrupt left turn toward socialism.

A flawed ideology that has been rejected time and again across the world is now driving the marquee policy proposals of the new House Democratic majority, and nothing encapsulates this as clearly as the huge, self-inflicted, national wound the Democrats are agitating for called the Green New Deal.

Let’s review a few of the greatest hits in this particular proposal.

Democrats have decided that every building in America needs to be either overhauled or replaced altogether. They are putting homeowners and small business owners on alert. The all-knowing central planners here in the Nation’s capital are raring to remodel the entire country.

Up next: ending all fossil fuel and nuclear energy production. Forget about coal and all of the jobs it supports in my State of Kentucky and around the country. Forget about the oil and natural gas industry and all of those jobs as well. The list goes on.

Oh, by the way, forget about nuclear, too—proving that this proposal doesn’t even intends to be a serious effort to reduce carbon emissions. It is just a statement of what sounds trendy in New York and San Francisco.

Anyone seriously concerned about carbon would know that nuclear power generates a majority of America’s carbon-free electricity. You would think the carbon police would be glad that from 1995 to 2016, American nuclear power met the emissions equivalent of keeping 3 billion cars off the road.

Let me say that again. You would think the carbon police would be glad that from 1995 to 2016, American nuclear power met the emissions equivalent of keeping 3 billion cars off the road.

Oh, but alas, these Democrats will not let facts get in the way of what is fashionable.

Besides, why should America bother being a net exporter of energy when we could leave all of that economic potential to competitors like China?

Naturally, as background documents explained, this means eliminating all combustion engines—cars, lawn mowers, commercial airliners. Everything must go. Everything must go.

By the way,my background really helps clarify another goal behind all of this. It is providing “economic security,” even those who are “unwilling to work.”

All of this and more can be ours for the low, low price of a staggering expansion of centralized government and—wait for it—upward of a mere $93 trillion. Ninety-three trillion is more than every dollar our Federal Government has spent in its entire history to date—combined. It is more than the combined annual GDP of every nation on Earth.

As our colleague Senator BLUNT and the policy committee have pointed out, this amount of money could rebuild the entire Interstate Highway System every year just for the heck of it—for 250 years, and you would still have a little left over—a little left over.

Or maybe Americans would rather have something nicer to drive on the roads we already have. For the comparatively cheap price of just $66 trillion, I am told the government could buy every American a Ferrari. But, of course, everyone would have to get their driving in before Democrats ban the internal combustion engine.

To be clear, $93 trillion is just one number and one attempt to estimate the pricetag of this fantasy novel. The proposal is so lacking in details and math that it is almost impossible for analysts to even know where to begin trying to connect it to the real world.

Let’s talk about where this money would come from. That is always a question worth asking.

If we spread that $93 trillion out over 10 years, any American household, we get about $65,000 per household—$65,000 every year for every household. The median income in this country is around $60,000. So, like any good socialist plan, I am sure we would hear a lot about soaking the rich

We always do. We would hear that wealthy Americans could pay for this whole thing, if only they were sufficiently civic-minded, but, of course, that is not even close to accurate. A huge share of the bill would land at the feet of the American middle class.

There are not enough billionaires—there are not enough billionaires to pay the trillions needed for this massive government plan.

Even if Washington decided the IRS should grab every single cent of adjusted gross income above $1 million, all of it taken, it would only bring in a little over one-tenth—one-tenth—of what the Green New Deal is estimated to cost every year. Take all the money away from the billionaires, it would only bring in a little over one-tenth of what the Green New Deal is estimated to cost every year.

In fact, in order to break even on this proposal alone, the Federal Government would have to take $9 of every $10 that every single American earns. The Federal Government would have to take $9 out of $10 of everything every American earns.

You had better believe that families’ last dollar would need to go toward keeping the lights on. By one analysis, middle-class families could see their power bills jump by more than $300 a month under the Green New Deal. That would take up the last dollar they had left.

I know Senator ERNST and several of our colleagues will be speaking at greater length on this issue later today, and I am sure each one of them will point out that there certainly is one green thing about this sprawling proposal, one green thing: the huge, unprecedented pile of middle-class families’ money. Democrats are itching—itching—to grab.

RESOLUTION CONDEMNING ANTI-SEMITISM

Mr. President, on one final matter, I want to discuss something that will happen on the floor of the House perhaps as soon as today.

Remarkably, for the second time in just the last 3 weeks, Speaker PELOSI apparently feels compelled to have her Members vote on a resolution that will reportedly condemn anti-Semitism—a resolution that will purportedly condemn anti-Semitism.

Unfortunately, again, for the second time in just the last 3 weeks, this seems to be in response to the invocation of crude, hateful, and backward anti-Semitic stereotypes by one specific freshman member of the House Democratic majority.

This Democratic Congresswoman already stoked controversy in mid-February when she publicly proclaimed that Israel’s supporters are only in it for the money. Apparently, she believes the only reason leaders would stand with the Jewish people and the State of Israel is Jewish money. Well, I think we have all heard this line of talk before, and we must not tolerate it.

During my time in the Senate, I have had the honor of traveling all over America. I know I speak for colleagues on both sides of the aisle when I say that support for the State of Israel and the U.S.-Israel relationship is deeply felt—deeply felt—all across America. Our relationship is built on common values and democratic principles, our shared interests, close partnerships, and deep friendships. The support for Israel that you see here in this Chamber is not the work of some shadow conspiracy. The Members of this body support Israel because so many Americans support Israel.

I had hoped this regrettable episode might have caused this lawmaker to be more careful with her language, but, alas, just a few weeks later, here we are again: more anti-Semitic tropes. This time, she claims that supporters of Israel actually have “an allegiance to a foreign country.” That is that old, ugly, dual loyalty smear, plain as day.

We should also not overlook that in a few cases, these anti-Semitic statements have provoked offensive, anti-Muslim comments in response. That is hateful and completely inexcusable as well.

So now the House of Representatives seeks to distance itself from this Member’s remarks and will apparently soon vote to condemn anti-Semitism for the second time in just a few weeks. I hope this time the message is clear.

Support for Israel isn’t about the “Benjamins,” it is about the hearts and minds of the American people. It is unconscionable for any Member of the U.S. Congress, even less a Member of the House Foreign Relations Committee, to repeatedly traffic in base stereotypes.

The long, bloody legacy of anti-Semitism is spread out over the pages of history, but, regrettably, this scourge is not confined to history.

Long common across the Middle East, violent, hateful acts of anti-Semitism have been increasing throughout Europe. Less than a lifetime after the Holocaust, 9 out of 10 European Jews say anti-Semitism has increased—increased—in the past 5 years.

Eighty-eight percent of French Jews say they actively worry about targeted anti-Semitic incidents. That country alone saw 51 anti-Semitic incidents in 2018, a massive 74-percent increase from just the prior year.
In France, in 2006, a Jewish man was kidnapped for ransom because criminals assumed his Jewish family had to be rich. When their plan failed, they tortured and killed him. A memorial tree was planted in his honor. Earlier this month, that tree was found chopped down—anti-Semitism on top of anti-Semitism.

Trends here in America are troubling too. Every year, hundreds and hundreds of anti-Semitic incidents take place in America, everything from vandalism to harassment in schools, college campuses, and other public places, to targeting Jewish institutions.

This racial and religious hate-mongering deserves swift condemnation—swift condemnation. So I am glad the House is at least taking up this short, symbolic resolution and rejecting the anti-Semitic tropes this Democratic Congresswoman keeps peddling, but at the end of the day, it is just a symbolic resolution.

If House Democrats wanted to, they could pass real legislation to take action against anti-Semitism and shore up America’s relationship with Israel. I know they could because last month the Senate did just that. We did that in the same time frame last month. The House should take up and pass S. 1, the bipartisan foreign policy legislation that the Senate passed last month, 77 to 23. That legislation walks the walk. It supports Israel and gives local communities the flexibility to combat the so-called BDS movement, which is a kind of anti-Semitic economic warfare that opponents of Israel are trying to wage against the Jewish State.

The bill also attends to other critical priorities, such as renewing U.S. commitments to Jordan’s security and providing for the Assad regime’s butchers to be brought to justice.

S. 1 is not just about combating anti-Semitism or bolstering the U.S.-Israel relationship, it is about standing with an Arab partner like Jordan and providing justice for the Syrian people. So my point is this: Resolutions are fine, but the House could do something that mattered by taking up S. 1 that we sent them last month that deals with the BDS boycott against Israel.

Words are one thing. Meaningful action is another. House Democrats should walk the walk and pass S. 1 without any further pointless delay.

I suggest a quorum call. THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

RECOGNITION OF THE MINORITY LEADER

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The Democratic leader is recognized.

Two remarks of Senator SCHRADER pertaining to the submission of S. Res. 97 are printed in today’s Record under “Submitted Resolutions.”

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, now on Readler, later this afternoon, the Senate will vote on the confirmation of Chad Readler to the Sixth Circuit. As this Chamber by now is no doubt aware, Mr. Readler was once a cook and both members of the Trump administration’s decision not to defend the healthcare law in court. In a brief submitted to the court on behalf of the Department of Justice, Mr. Readler said that protections for the 130 million Americans with preexisting conditions are unconstitutional.

I say to my Republican friends: Do you want to vote for a judge who says that protecting preexisting conditions, which affect 130 million Americans, is unconstitutional?

Well, that is what you are going to do if you vote for Readler.

Even my Republican colleague Senator ALEXANDER, who oversees the committee that created these protections, called Readler’s arguments “as far fetched as I have ever heard.”

Can you imagine the lack of compassion it takes to argue that 130 million Americans with cancers, respiratory ailments, and all the way down to asthma and allergy do not deserve affordable healthcare? Can you imagine voting for a man who is so cold-hearted that he doesn’t protect a mother who has a daughter or a son with cancer and the insurance company cuts them off, and they have to watch their child suffer?

Can our Republican colleagues actually vote for a nominee who feels that way not just in his words but in his action? This vote is going to be remembered for a long time—a long, long time.

Can you imagine sitting at your desk on an average workday and arguing for a policy with such catastrophic consequences for a third of our country? I inform you for one, cannot. That is what Readler did.

The very next day, after he wrote that brief, he was nominated for this lifetime appointment on the bench. Go figure. Only in the Trump administration could a person be rewarded for efforts to take healthcare away from average Americans. That is exactly what happened.

Yesterday, regretfully, the Senate proceeded to Readler’s nomination over the opposition of one of his home State Senators, Senator SHERROD BROWN. Republican leaders are so eager to confirm judges that they are willing to break the blue-slip tradition even when the nominee is the literal encapsulation of their party’s most heartless policy. I might add—a policy that helped them lose the House and could help them lose future elections, if they only care about that.

Republican Senators still have a chance to reject this unislanded behind Mr. Readler’s confirmation. They have a chance to stand up for healthcare. I would ask my colleagues, is the confirmation of one circuit judge really worth endorsing the position that our healthcare law should be repealed and Americans with preexisting conditions should not be protected? The answer to that question ought to be obvious.

I urge my Republican colleagues to vote no on Mr. Readler’s nomination this afternoon. I yield the floor.

Mr. THUNE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

THE GREEN NEW DEAL

Mr. THUNE. Mr. President, the more you look at the Green New Deal, the worse it looks. Last week, one think tank released a first estimate of what the Green New Deal would cost. Here is the answer: between $51 trillion and $93 trillion over 10 years. Between $51 trillion and $93 trillion. That is an unfathomable amount of money. The 2017 gross domestic product for the entire world, for the whole planet, came to $81 trillion. Today, the cost of $93 trillion less than what Democrats are proposing to spend on the Green New Deal.

Mr. President, $93 trillion is more than the amount of money the U.S. Government has spent in its entire history. Since 1789, when the Constitution went into effect, the Federal Government has spent a total of $83 trillion. That is right—it has taken us 230 years of American history to spend the amount of money the Democrats want to spend in 10 years. Look at it this way: $93 trillion is enough money to buy more than 7,000 Ford-class aircraft carriers. To put that in perspective, guess how many aircraft carriers the Navy currently has in its entire fleet? Eight.

It is like the Democrats are playing pretend. It is like they are on a road trip, and they are trying to pass the time, and they say, “What would you do if you won the lottery?” or “What would you do if you had all the money in the world?” It is a fun game to play for a few minutes, but this is not a game. The government doesn’t have all the money in the world. That $93 trillion is going to have to come from somewhere.

Democrats like to suggest that we can pay for it and pay for just about anything simply by taxing the wealthy, but the truth is, taxing the wealthy or even the merely well-off isn’t going to pay for this proposal. Taxing all the millionaires in the United States at a 100-percent tax rate for 10 years wouldn’t add up anywhere close to $93 trillion. Taxing every household making more than $200,000 a year at a 100-percent tax rate for 10 years wouldn’t add up anywhere close to $93 trillion. Let’s take it a step further. Taxing every family making more than $100,000 a year at a
I would tell the Chair that my home State of South Dakota is leading the way on this issue. In fact, my colleagues may be surprised to know that according to the U.S. Energy Information Administration, South Dakota generates an average of two-fifths to half of its electricity from hydro-electric facilities along the Missouri River. Combined with our abundant wind generation, which provides roughly 30 percent of our electricity, South Dakota’s net utility-scale energy generation is largely renewable.

I am proud of South Dakota’s renewable energy achievements, and I think we should be encouraging improved domestic energy production, increasing America’s renewable energy supply, and reducing consumption through improved efficiencies. What we should not be doing is adopting a wildly irresponsible, completely unworkable, and utterly unrealistic proposal that would drive taxes through the roof, reduce the standard of living, and permanently damage our economy.

We are going to be voting on the Democrat’s Green New Deal proposal in the coming weeks, and it will be interesting to see where all of my colleagues stand on something we should be supporting.

You just heard the Democratic leader, the Senator from New York, say that it is a gimmick and we shouldn’t be voting on it. It is the first time I think I have ever heard a leader of one of the parties here in the Senate come out and say that we shouldn’t vote on something that 11 of his Democratic colleagues have cosponsored. He doesn’t want to vote on a piece of legislation that is put forward by 11 Democrats here in the Senate.

Well, I think it is important for the American people to know. I think it is important for Members of the Senate to go on record on whether they think this is a good idea or whether they think it will drive taxes through the roof, reduce the standard of living, and permanently damage our economy.

For the sake of our economy and for working families, I hope that when this vote comes, at least some Democrats will slow their party’s headlong rush to become the Socialist Party and not the Democratic Party of the United States of America.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. Sasse). The Senator from Ohio.

NOMINATION OF CHAD A. READLER

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, judges are making decisions around the country right now on voting rights, on civil rights, on women’s rights, on LGBTQ rights, decisions that could limit those rights not just for a year or for a decade but for a generation. They are making decisions on how the government decides who gets the death penalty on high schoolers and, possibly, on even younger children. I guess I give him credit for consistency.

How do you turn around and put someone on the bench for life who supports executing children? That is what a 16-year-old is—still a teenager, still a child under the law. Yet he thinks it is a good idea to allow the execution of children who are found guilty.

During his nomination hearing, it was pretty unbelievable that Readler stood by his op-ed and refused to disavow his support for using the death penalty on 16-year-olds—kids, children. I give him credit for consistency.

something improper and unconstitutional. One of them, I believe, resigned.

Do you know what happened then? The next day, he was nominated for this very judgeship.

So the message is loud and clear from the administration—If you go after pre-existing conditions under consumer protections, if you attack workers’ rights, if you attack voters’ rights within any job you hold—and there is a real incentive to do this from this administration—you may get a good, lifetime Federal judgeship. The arguments he made in his brief were unprecedented. As I said, three attorneys withdrew from the case. One resigned altogether in his objections to the Department of Justice’s unprecedented actions.

One of our Republican colleagues, Senator Alexander, who works with Senator Murray to run the HELP Committee, called Readler’s argument as farfetched—Senator Alexander’s words were conservative Republican from Tennessee—as he had ever seen. Yet, in December, a partisan Texas judge decided to go along with Readler’s opinion, and he handed down the decision that undermines pre-existing condition protections for all Americans.

Right now, judges are deciding the future of Americans’ healthcare every day. We can’t afford to put another extreme—someone who is way out of the mainstream among lawyers, way out of the mainstream among judges, and way out of the mainstream as a citizen. We can’t afford to put another extreme judge on the court who will not defend Americans’ right to healthcare.

We know there have been a number of times this body has refused to take away the consumer protections for pre-existing conditions. We remember the vote late at night when we defeated the repeal of the Affordable Care Act. We know that all kinds of Republican candidates who were victorious went on to defend the consumer protections for pre-existing conditions. We heard that over and over.

Why did we hear that? Even though that was not their position a few months earlier, in the cases of a lot of times this body has refused to take away the consumer protections for pre-existing conditions. We heard it because they knew that all kinds of Republican candidates who were victorious went on to defend the consumer protections for pre-existing conditions. We heard that over and over.

I previously lost health insurance from a 2-time cancer survivor, I’m scared of losing my insurance. He was later diagnosed with lung cancer. He wrote: “I am watching the dismantling of the only protection available to me with a pre-existing condition that I can afford. I am devastated.”

I don’t know what Mr. Readler thinks when he reads something like that, but I am a 2-time cancer survivor, I’m scared of losing my insurance. I mean, hear the passion in that letter, the cries for help in that letter. Yet this body may be about to put on the Sixth Circuit, in a lifetime appointment, someone who clearly doesn’t care about people like them.

Another woman from Hillsboro writes:

We are a family of pre-existing conditions and survive because we have insurance that we can afford. My husband works long, hard hours and has to work 60 hours a week for us to make it. I’m a teacher. I work about 18 out of 24 hours a day but make $40,000 a year. We can’t work any more than we already do.

Again, these are people who are working hard and who are doing everything right. They didn’t ask to be sick. They didn’t ask for their healthcare costs to go up. Are we going to put somebody on the court who wants to take away the consumer protections for people like this lady from Hillsboro?

These Americans work hard. They pay their premiums. Many of them deal with all that comes with caring for a child or a family member who has a chronic condition. Millions of Americans have good insurance protected by law and how can this President—all who have good insurance paid for by the taxpayers—stand by and allow activist, partisan judges to dismantle these protections that Americans rely on?

It is bad enough that so many Members of Congress want to take away these consumer protections. Now it is unselected judges the American public really doesn’t know, and this body is about to put one of the most extreme judges on the court, even more extreme and younger than so many other of these judges.

We can’t afford another judge on the courts who will vote to take away Americans’ healthcare, who will vote to take away Americans’ voting rights, who will vote to take away Americans’ civil rights.

I ask my colleagues to vote no on Chad Readler for the Sixth Circuit.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Washington, Mrs. Murray.

Mrs. MURRAY. Mr. President, I thank my colleague from Ohio for his statement and his concerns, and I am here today to join him on the floor to oppose Chad Readler’s nomination to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

I call on every Republican who said they were going to fight for families’ healthcare coverage, protections for people with pre-existing conditions, to prove they meant it by joining us.

My colleagues claim time and again that they care about protections for people with pre-existing conditions. I have heard them say they want to tackle those skyrocketing healthcare costs. I have heard them say they want to help people get the care they need, but when push comes to shove, I have yet to see them join Democrats and actually vote to make that happen. In fact, they have a long track record of working to move us in exactly the opposite direction.

People across the country have not forgotten how they had to speak up and stop Republicans from jamming through that awful TrumpCare bill, which would have spiked premiums and gutted Medicaid and put families back at the mercy of big insurance companies that could jack up prices for people with preexisting conditions.

Those people also will not forget if Republicans decide to ignore them again and rally around this judicial nominee, who wants to do the same damage.

Let’s be clear. Chad Readler’s nomination is the latest test of whether Republicans are serious about fighting for people’s healthcare, and every Republican who supports him is failing yet again.

Make no mistake—Chad Readler has not only championed some of President Trump’s most alarming steps, such as his travel ban, his family separation policies, his efforts to undermine protections for people with preexisting conditions or helping families get affordable healthcare. He has also been President Trump’s right-hand man when it comes to undermining healthcare for people in this country.

When the Trump administration decided to abandon protections for people with preexisting conditions in court and throw its weight behind a lawsuit that would strike them down, Chad Readler signed on to the brief defending the individual mandate. It was an argument one of my Republican colleagues from my old days—under the ACA, they said, it was constitutional, and that the Affordable Care Act would stand, but it was a tough Process of jamming the Trump tax law through Congress, in late 2017, many Republicans said: Let’s bring out our old attacks on the Affordable Care Act. They passed an amendment that said there would be no penalty for those who failed to sign up for health insurance, even though everybody understands that those who have coverage often pick up the bills for those who don’t.

Then, in 2018, Republican Governors and attorneys general in 20 States made what was really the silliest legal challenge to the Affordable Care Act yet, and that was in the case of Texas v. United States.

Here, they said they were going to stipulate that the Supreme Court upheld the Affordable Care Act’s individual mandate only because it was a tax. Then they said: We establish that the Trump tax law dialed the penalty associated with violating the individual mandate down to zero. At least that had a kernel of accuracy.

Let me describe how they got into the backbreaking legal acrobatics next. They argued that because there is no penalty associated with violating the individual mandate, it is no longer a tax and somehow it has become unconstitutional. Finally, they argued that since the individual mandate is unconstitutional, the Affordable Care Act is unconstitutional and ought to be thrown out the window.

My own take is that if you were a first-year law student, you would get a failing grade for that kind of work on constitutional law, but let’s stick to the history.

The Justice Department has an obligation to defend the laws of the United States. It is a quaint idea, but that is the role of the Justice Department—defending the laws of the United States in court.

The Trump administration, however, said: Who cares? It doesn’t matter. And they sided with officials who shared their view.

In fact, the Trump Justice Department focused this attack specifically on the Affordable Care Act protections for preexisting conditions. It said that the mandate was inseverable from two key protections in the law, which therefore ought to be struck down: the rule that bars insurance companies from denying coverage due to preexisting conditions and the rule that bars insurance companies from jacking up premiums based on preexisting conditions.

Here is a little bit of a recap. A group of officials had strongly objected to what the Justice Department had done. Our friend Senator Alexander, a Republican from Tennessee, chair of a key committee, and works with us on a bipartisan extreme.

There are colleagues here in the Senate, on the other side of the aisle, who have objected to what the Justice Department did. Our friend Senator Alexander, a Republican from Tennessee, who admitted that there was a pre-existing condition, said: “The Justice Department argument in the Texas case is as far-fetched as any I’ve ever heard.”

Senator Lamar Alexander is a Republican from Tennessee, chair of a key committee that works with us on the Finance Committee. The Justice Department’s argument, according to Senator Alexander, is just light years from a reasonable and rational position.

The bipartisan blue-slip process has worked for over a century. What is at stake? It is the right thing to do. This issue came to a head last year, when the Senate took up the nomination of Ryan Bounds to the Ninth Circuit, despite objections from my Oregon colleague, Senator Merkley, and me.

We were able to block that nomination. It was the right thing to do. This nominee, who we felt had not been straight with us, was a nominee who we felt not only was not making good on the bipartisan tradition for the Judiciary Committee. As Oregon’s senior Senator, I had been dealing with these nominees—Democrats and Republicans—for years, but our judicial selection committee had never felt so misled. Senator Merkley and I led the fight, and we were successful in defeating that nominee.

Now the White House still wants, apparently, this body to act as a rubber stamp and just approve one nominee after another without any questions. I want my colleagues to understand that by moving this nomination forward, they are going to be responsible for creating a new reality—in effect hot-wiring the process for considering judicial nominees in a way that will take us back again to a more partisan approach.

The bipartisan blue-slip process has worked for over a century. What is at stake? It is a breach of bipartisan protocol that has further driven the judiciary to a partisan extreme.
Following these actions by the Trump administration and the majority, I seriously question, if you continue this, whether the current structure of the courts is going to survive.

Colleagues, Chad Readler does not deserve a lifetime appointment to the Sixth Circuit. The moment he put his name on the Trump administration’s absurd legal attack on protections for preexisting conditions, he revealed that he was going to be partisan all the way and, on top of that, that he was going to exercise poor judgment. He has been a defender of discrimination in multiple forms. He has defended the indefensible abuse of vulnerable migrant families at our border. At this point, he cannot claim to be close to the standard of impartiality and evenhandedness that a Senator ought to expect from any judicial nominee.

I intend to vote against Chad Readler. I urge my colleagues to join me.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. LANKFORD). The Senator from New Jersey.

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. President, today I rise to oppose the nomination of Chad Readler to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

I remember the 2018 campaign season, when so many Republicans suddenly became the world’s most passionate defenders of patients with preexisting conditions. They told voters that never ever could they even imagine doing anything that would weaken the protections that stop health insurance companies from discriminating against people with preexisting conditions.

Whether they be breast cancer survivors or children born with birth defects or any of the tens of millions of Americans who manage chronic conditions like diabetes or depression or high blood pressure, well, Americans are about to find out whether our American colleagues meant a word of what they said on the campaign trail.

Americans will soon see whether Republicans stand up for patients with preexisting conditions or vote to confirm Chad Readler to the Ohio Sixth Circuit Court.

This nominee’s record of threatening patients with preexisting conditions is not up for debate. Chad Readler was the mastermind behind the Trump administration’s effort to strip away the core of the Affordable Care Act—the principle that health insurance companies cannot deny coverage or kick a patient off their policy just because of their medical history.

On the campaign trail, President Trump spoke of protecting Americans with preexisting conditions, but we now know that was just another lie.

Apparent, it wasn’t enough for this administration to stop defending the Affordable Care Act in court; the President sought to attack it in court. Initially, the Trump administration struggled to find someone at the Department of Justice willing to take on this cause. In fact, three separate career attorneys at the Justice Department refused to argue the administration’s position in court. One employee even resigned.

Chad Readler, the nominee we are voting on today, was more than happy to take on this cruel and unjust cause. He became the chief architect of the Trump administration’s legal brief, challenging the very constitutionality of the Affordable Care Act’s protections for people with preexisting conditions. In other words, Chad Readler’s legal brief took the administration’s effort to sabotage the Affordable Care Act to a whole new level, threatening to bring us back to a time when health insurance companies didn’t have to cover cancer survivors, or individuals with substance abuse disorder, or anyone who has ever faced, ever confronted a health challenge in their life. How does President Trump reward Chad Readler for his assault on patients and their families? Well, the day after he filed this reckless and morally reprobate legal brief, the President nominated him to serve on the Sixth Circuit.

Last fall, I spoke with a woman from Highland Park named Ann Vardeman who told me she was diagnosed with PTSD after surviving a sexual assault. Ann told me that health insurers shouldn’t be able to “charge me more for something that is a horrible thing that happens to millions of people.” Indeed, without the Affordable Care Act, there would be no Federal health protections for survivors of sexual violence like her.

Perhaps one of my constituents—Anne Zavalkic of Middlesex, NJ—said it best when she wrote about her battle against bladder cancer. She wrote:

It is crucial that I continue to receive scans to make sure there is no recurrence of the cancer for likely the rest of my life. If I don’t have coverage for preexisting conditions, I will go bankrupt. ... Then I will probably die. So, yeah, this is kinda super important to me, personally.

It should be personal to all of us. Everyone should be able to get health coverage when they need it personally when this administration attacks protections that 130 million Americans rely on for their health and financial security.

People remember what it was like before the Affordable Care Act, and they remember how they remember how a woman could be denied coverage for maternity care or charged higher premiums simply for being a woman. Today, being a woman is no longer a preexisting condition. They remember how infants born with heart deformities could hit lifetime caps within days of being born. Today, families don’t have to worry about lifetime limits. They remember how cancervers and Americans with chronic conditions like diabetes or asthma lived in fear of being denied coverage or dropped from their policies at a moment’s notice.

Today, patients are protected from discrimination, but they will not be if the courts side with Chad Readler’s shameful arguments on behalf of this administration.

This issue is personal for millions of Americans across our country—from 3.8 million in New Jersey, to 4.3 million in Georgia, to 4.8 million in Ohio, Mr. Readler’s home State. All told, 130 million Americans with preexisting conditions may suffer the consequences of Mr. Readler’s assault on the Affordable Care Act. These Americans are not Democrats or Republicans or Independents; they are human beings with a right to access affordable, quality healthcare.

Does this Senate really want to reward someone largely responsible for endangering the coverage our constituents depend on with a lifetime appointment to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals? I sure hope not. That is not the kind of judgement we want on any court.

Last fall, we heard a lot of talk from Republicans about protecting people with preexisting conditions. We know that actions speak louder than words, and it is action that we need right now. We need every Member of this body to stand up for the right of all Americans to get quality healthcare coverage. We need every Member of this body to vote against in their healthcare coverage. We need every Member of this body to stand up for the proposition that Americans cannot be discriminated against in their healthcare coverage because of a preexisting condition. We need every Member of this body to vote against the nomination of Chad Readler for the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

DECLARATION OF NATIONAL EMERGENCY

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, if you ask the Trump administration about their highest spending priority in terms of their budget, it is pretty clear—national defense. Over and over, the President has asked and Congress has voted for more money for America’s military for operations, readiness, and investment across the board. I and the Senate have voted for more money for America’s military.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded. that spending dollars today to train our men and women, to equip them properly, and to make sure they live in the best circumstances is in the best interests of America’s future. We have done that year in and year out, but this year we are facing quite a challenge from the Trump Administration.

This notion of building a $5.7 billion wall is going to be paid for at the expense of the U.S. military. It is the military that will end up surrendering projects that are underway and investments in our troops that are underway so that the President can build this almighty wall of his that was supposed to be paid for by the Mexicans, right? I heard him say that—only 100 times, but I heard him say it. Now he is off of that. It will not be the Mexicans paying for the President’s wall. It will be our military.

So we ought to be very honest about the vote that is coming up. President Trump has decided to declare an emergency to get funds to build the wall, which he said was going to be paid for by the Mexicans, right? It will not be the Mexicans paying for the President’s wall. It will be our military.

Yet others have said they are prepared to look the other way. That spending dollars today to train our men and women, to equip them properly, and to make sure they live in the best circumstances is in the best interests of America’s future. We have done that year in and year out, but this year we are facing quite a challenge from the Trump Administration.

The Commandant of the U.S. Marine Corps is going to tell us: There are certain things that are essential and timely, and we need you to spend money on them. And we have responded, not just in the subcommittee and in the full committee but in the Senate and in the House.

Now comes the President and says: Not so, we are going to take the money that we told you was so critically important this year and spend it on the Mexican border to extend the wall—$5.7 billion worth of it. As I have told the leaders with the heads of the branches of our military service, we have asked basic questions. I did that yesterday to several generals and Secretaries who came before me. I said: Has the administration sat down with you in terms of your branch of the military and told you where they are going to take the money to build the wall?

Consistently, the answer is no, they don’t know. We are days or weeks away from that happening. The money can be transferred if the President decides to cut military projects and to stop the money going to our military.

What have we done is to prepare a chart through the Military Construction Subcommittee, which is chaired by Senator Boozman, the Republican from Arkansas, and Senator Schatz, a Democrat from Hawaii. I asked them: Where are the unobligated projects? These are projects that have been authorized but haven’t been started. They may have had basic engineering and preliminary estimates done and so forth. They are ready to let a contract. The money is sitting there ready to move forward, and these are the projects that are on the target list for President Trump when it comes to cutting the military to pay for his border wall.

We have a long list here. The list includes almost every State—certainly, every State that has anything near a military facility. The State of Illinois has several key projects that we consider to be a high priority. One is the Marine Corps site in Peoria, IL. It is a fire crash and rescue station that needs to be upgraded for the safety of the men and women who work there and those who use that important airport, and there are other things within our State.

As I said, hardly any State is omitted from this list. Any Senator who is voting to give this President the authority to cut military projects and to stop the spending on military projects should realize that it may come home and require an explanation.

The Presiding Officer is from the State of Oklahoma. I tell him that four of the projects are in Oklahoma that are on the target list—the hit list—for cuts if the President decides to cut those projects. Illinois projects to fund this wall.

I have two or three specific ones that I would like to highlight today because they came to my attention. I thought it would be a shame—in fact, it would be just plain wrong—for us to cut the spending on these projects. Let me tell you about one of them that struck me first.

The Marine Corps said they want to get down to work as quickly as possible and restore this training facility to the good of the Marine Corps and for our Nation, but this is on the hit list for the President for the wall at the border.

What else needs attention this year? The U.S. Air Force needs $750 million to begin cleaning up Tyndall Air Force Base which was leveled by Hurricane Michael. The Army needs $1 billion for everything from more training to jump-starting new technology to keep our troops safe and effective in the battlefield. The Navy has asked for hundreds of millions of additional dollars for unexpected ship maintenance. We can’t afford to shortchange the men and women in the Navy. We saw what happened not that long ago with the fatal accidents involving Navy maneuvers and exercises. We never want that to happen again.

The National Guard has 2,100 personnel on the border, but it is starting to run low in its pay account. So it was hoping some of these unobligated funds, at least a small part of them, might be used so they can continue their border mission.

Unless the Department of Defense finds $150 to $300 million this year, the National Guard will have to cut short its summer trainings in all 50 States.

My subcommittee has identified almost $5 billion in military priorities that are not in the President’s budget. After President Trump takes half of that—$2.5 billion to pay for his border wall—which priorities will get cut?
The President has also decided to cut or delay $3.6 billion in military construction projects. The President might not think these projects are timely or important, but it was just weeks or months ago when the administration said just the opposite and asked Congress to appropriate billions for the projects. Examples: $800 million for essential training facilities like the National Guard readiness centers, simulators and firing ranges in the States of Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, and Montana, to name just a few; $1 billion worth of projects—such as aircraft hangars and vehicle maintenance shops in Arkansas, Indiana, Missouri, and Oklahoma, not to mention many other States affected; $1 billion worth of projects for medical and dental care facilities for the men and women in uniform; schools for military families, military barracks, and other essential facilities in Arizona, Missouri, Texas, and beyond.

Fort Campbell, KY, needs a new middle school for military children. The current building dates back to 1967 and is in serious disrepair. We were told that was a priority, but it could be stopped, cut, and eliminated if we are not careful to build this wall.

Also on this list is a new rifle range at Parris Island, SC, a training base for our Special Forces. They are using an old warehouse right now, and they want a modern facility. If it were your son or daughter serving our military at Fort Bragg, you would give them nothing less. The list goes on and on.

Are we really going to tell our military—the very people who are protecting and defending this Nation—that the needs they have identified and we have appropriated money for are going to be put on hold because President Trump made a campaign promise that he can’t keep—that the Mexicans were going to build the wall?

Republicans and Democrats in the Senate should join the House in rejecting the President’s emergency declaration. The Senate should reject any effort by the President to take money from our troops, from the military—

From the Marines, from the Air Force, the Navy, the Army, the National Guard. We should not be advancing a Federal emergency designation and to try to assume constitutional responsibilities beyond what is already written.

We are a branch of government—article 1 of the Constitution. Our responsibility is to appropriate funds. When we give away that responsibility, we walk away from the reason we were elected. I hope that Members on both sides of the aisle will consider that as we face this historic vote.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Michigan.

NOMINATION OF CHAD A. READLER

Mr. PETERS. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the nomination of Mr. Chad Readler to the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court. There are certainly many reasons to oppose Mr. Readler’s nomination. His track record paints a very clear picture of what he values and what he does not. Mr. Readler has upheld President Trump’s travel ban that targets people because of their religion. He has argued in favor of a business turning away customers simply because they are LGBT. He worked to unravel programs that were put in place by the past administration that would ensure low-income workers would actually receive their hard-earned benefits. Of the things that Mr. Readler values, protecting Americans from wrongful acts of discrimination is clearly not among them.

Yet it still remains difficult for me to understand why Mr. Readler—and any of my colleagues who choose to advance his nomination today—would support going back to an era when health insurance companies are allowed to discriminate against people with preexisting health conditions. I have heard plenty of my colleagues from across the aisle make public statements in favor of preexisting coverage protections. That is probably because they hear, like I do, from people all across my State who fear losing coverage as a result of having that preexisting condition.

What are preexisting conditions? Well, it is things like diabetes, asthma, or even high blood pressure, and they are a reality for over 4 million Michiganders. This range of fairly common to fairly complex conditions is experienced by one in every four children, over half of the female population, and 84 percent of people in their late fifties and in their sixties.

Today, there is a broad consensus that we need a Federal law in place that prevents insurance companies from denying coverage or jacking up prices based on someone’s health status, their age, or their gender. We have a law on the books right now that protects people with preexisting conditions, but this law must be defended, not undermined.

I worked hard to pass this important coverage during my first term in the Congress, and I have fought to preserve it every day since then. Although this fight has been successful so far, it is based on the premise that the laws passed and upheld by Congress will be defended in court. Yet the Department of Justice Civil Division, under Mr. Readler’s leadership, decided not to do so. His actions fit into the story of the Trump administration’s ongoing partisan efforts to sabotage our healthcare system and dismantle strategies that would lower premiums and expand quality, affordability, and coverage, generally. The President is constantly looking for ways to step Congress and attack legislation that has brought health insurance to over 20 million Americans and cut Michigan’s uninsured rate in half.

We should not be advancing a Federal court nominee whose disregard for the rule of law comes at the expense of the health and the financial stability of millions of Americans. I urge my colleagues to vote no on Mr. Readler’s nomination and his track record of promoting discrimination.

Thank you, Mr. President. I yield the floor.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BOOZMAN). Without objection, it is so ordered.

The GREEN NEW DEAL

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I appreciate my colleague from Iowa, Senator ERNST, for organizing this opportunity for several of us in the Senate to discuss the Green New Deal and to do it this week.

To put it mildly, the Green New Deal is ambitious. To frame it more accurately, it is an unworkable, pie-in-the-sky attempt to reshape every aspect of everyday Americans’ lives.

First, let me say that I am proud of my record in successfully advancing the availability and affordability of renewable energy. Many have called me the father of the Wind Energy Incentives Act. I suppose after—what?—probably 26 years, that makes me the grandfather of the Wind Energy Incentives Act. I suppose after—what?—probably 26 years, that makes me the grandfather of the Wind Energy Incentives Act.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I appreciate my colleague from Iowa, Senator ERNST, for organizing this opportunity for several of us in the Senate to discuss the Green New Deal and to do it this week.

To put it mildly, the Green New Deal is ambitious. To frame it more accurately, it is an unworkable, pie-in-the-sky attempt to reshape every aspect of everyday Americans’ lives.

First, let me say that I am proud of my record in successfully advancing the availability and affordability of renewable energy. Many have called me the father of the Wind Energy Incentives Act. than one-third of its electricity from wind. Wind energy employs approximately 7,000 Iowans, and the nearly 3,000 wind turbines in Iowa generate millions of dollars in economic activity. So I want to make it very clear that I am speaking as someone who has a verifiable track record of advancing clean energy.

Think about what the Green New Deal is about. Presumably, they don’t know we have been this successful because the Green New Deal, on the other hand, would want to remove more than a 1/3 of the power demands of vague aspirations. In fact, the Green New Deal was initially introduced in the House and Senate by its authors as a nonbinding, symbolic resolution—in other words, a lot of hot air. That means that even if it were to pass as introduced, it would not become law. I am glad that Senate Majority Leader McConnell reintroduced the text in a format that could become law so we Senators could go on record as to whether we want to make this the policy of the United States.

It would be one thing if the policy and goals remained on topic—namely, reducing pollution and cutting our Nation’s carbon emissions. Those are worthy goals, but I would question the need for a utopian manifesto that seeks to implement every liberal policy priority from the past many decades.

We have seen extreme leftwing agendas that rely on the power of the State and that usurp the role of individuals. How will those policies turn out? We have plenty examples. Look at the former Soviet Union. Look at Cuba over the last 60 years. Look at what has happened to Venezuela in the last 15 years. It has gone from the richest country in South America to a desperate country in which they die of malnutrition and people can’t get medicine. In more instances than in the three I have just given you, these utopian ideas never turn out very well.

Supplementing the Green New Deal includes goals that are related to energy and the environment, but for the most part, they are wholly unrealistic. For example, their calling for the upgrading of all existing buildings or, in another statement, their meeting 100 percent of the power demands of the United States through clean, renewable, zero-emission energy sources—all within the next 10 years—is simply not feasible. Of course, no concrete proposals are put forth on how this is to be achieved. The Green New Deal just leaves us scratching our heads thinking about how all this would work. There are a lot of questions. Would it require the government to mandate that every building owner in the United States make costly building improvements to meet national standards set here in Washington, DC? Another question is, would every homeowner, tenant or business owner be required to submit to government inspection to ensure that his or her home meets the standards dictated by the government?

Another question is, what government expenditures would have to be made, assuming all of this is even technologically possible, to go from about 17 percent of U.S. electricity generation from renewables today to a total 100 percent in 10 years? The last question is, are the backers of the Green New Deal willing to support nuclear energy as a means to reach their goal? On this last point, I would conclude that a summary of the Green New Deal initially put in the House suggests a lack of support for nuclear energy.

As I have said before in my remarks today, I have been a leader on renewable energy production for decades, not just wind, as I have said, but geothermal, solar, biofuels, et cetera. So I am not just talking about being the author of the wind energy production tax credit.

During my leadership of the Senate Finance Committee in the 2000s, when I was chairman there, I oversaw the establishment, the enhancement, and renewal of numerous tax incentives that promote everything from wind and solar to renewable fuels like biodiesel, to energy-efficient homes, buildings, and appliances.

Unlike the unrealistic goals of the Green New Deal, these initiatives I just read are not only law, but they are real, proven, bipartisan actions that I shepherded into law to make the United States more energy independent and also, at the same time, improve our environment. Unfortunately, many of these key energy incentives I just mentioned are currently expired, and some of them have been expired for more than a year.

We had a real opportunity to extend these energy incentives as part of the appropriations deal reached earlier this month, but that was ultimately blocked by a Democrat who—probably by design or perhaps just by happenstance—is some of the same people who are promoting the Green New Deal. They seem overly focused on the lofty goals of the Green New Deal or, as Speaker Pelosi called the Green New Deal, “The green dream or whatever they call it, no one knows what it is.”

The House Democrats could not be bothered a month ago with extensions of existing and successful provisions that incentivize the type of investment they claim to have blocked and not only tend to incentivize, actually have incentivized alternative energy over the last two and one-half decades—provisions that support millions of jobs for people who are actually willing to work.

Perhaps this just shows that the Green New Deal is less about tackling energy and environmental issues and more about remaking America into a dreamy new progressive paradise.

I don’t believe all those smarts rest in the Congress of the United States or even the bureaucracy of this government. Over the last several years, when it comes to farming, we have seen farmers readily adopt the use of cover crops to prevent nutrient runoff and to sequester carbon in the soil through what we call minimum or no tillage.

Today farmers may go down as the first group in history to leave the land better than they found it for future generations. More evidence of this is that these calls for sustainable farming and a sustainable food system go well beyond farmers being good stewards of our natural resources. It appears to be intent on changing everything from how we farm to what we eat.

A fact sheet released by the House author, shortly after introduction, made this perfectly clear. It notes a desire—now, listen to this—it notes a desire to rid the planet of methane gas-emitting cows. In case the authors are unaware, all cows and all people emit methane. It is part of the natural digestive process. The only way to stop these emissions is to ban animal agriculture. That proposal couldn’t be more disconnected or out of touch with Americans.

That is what makes the taxpayers feel there is nobody in Washington, DC, who has any common sense, but don’t worry. According to the authors of the Green New Deal in the House, “It is not to say you get rid of agriculture or force everybody to go vegan.” This doesn’t instill much confidence in the farmer about the real intentions behind the Green New Deal. I am amazed by the scope of what the authors would have the government impose on the American people.

I will end by noting that I am interested in all of my colleagues on sensible policies to secure our energy independence and improve our environment, but I fear this will not be possible as long as my Democratic colleagues remain intent on handing over the country to the government to remake it in Washington, DC’s, image. I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The clerk will call the roll.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

NOMINATION OF CHAD A. READLER

Ms. CORTEZ MASTO. Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the nomination of Chad Readler to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

This nomination, if confirmed, would be advanced without the support of one of his home State Senators, and it deliberately ignores Senate precedent that has historically respected Senators’ ability to identify nominees that best fit the needs of their State.

In his current position at the Department of Justice, Chad Readler led the legal briefs for some of the Department’s most extreme positions.

He defended President Trump’s travel ban, led efforts to end DACA, supported the inclusion of a citizenship question on the 2020 census, suggested that the structure of the CFPB was unconstitutional, and argued that businesses should be able to refuse services to same-sex couples.

Mr. Readler also led the DOJ’s legal brief for the Texas v. U.S. lawsuit, arguing against the Affordable Care Act’s protections for people with preexisting conditions, even while three other career attorneys at the DOJ refused to do so.

Think about that for a second. This nominee took up his pen and drafted a legal opinion at the Department of Justice that stated it was fine for his Department not to defend the law—a law that protects millions of Americans’ access to the critical healthcare they need.

If that weren’t enough to shock the conscience, Mr. Readler’s nomination to the Sixth Circuit judgeship was announced the same day the brief was filed.

Is that a coincidence? Maybe, but since three other career lawyers at the Department of Justice resigned rather than draft this brief and violate their duty to the law, I think it is fairly obvious.

This administration has made it crystal clear that Mr. Readler was chosen because of his willingness to dismantle the ACA and completely eliminate critical protections that ensure seniors, kids, and families in Nevada and across this country are able to get health insurance, regardless of whether they have a previous medical condition. In fact, many Americans, denying vital health care protections and access to care is truly a matter of life and death.

President Trump and Republican leaders have promised to sabotage our healthcare from day one, and this nomination exemplifies a long line of legislation, nominations, and Executive actions aimed at ripping away healthcare coverage from hardworking families in Nevada and across the country.

The Affordable Care Act is, quite simply, the law of the land. Its patient protections have wide bipartisan support, as evidenced by Congress’s inability to pass ACA repeal. Since its inception, over 400,000 Nevadans have gained health insurance coverage including 158,000 children. Tens of million more Americans across the country have gained access to affordable health insurance, prescription drug coverage, mental health services, and preventive care.

The ACA’s provisions have also guaranteed that over 1.2 million Nevadans with preexisting conditions will not be denied coverage because insurance companies deem them “too risky” to cover.

We cannot go back to the day when women, veterans, cancer survivors, and children with disabilities were charged more for healthcare or were flatout denied coverage.

Americans need us to work together to defend their access to quality and affordable healthcare, not just in Nevada but across this country. Yet Mr. Readler has shown us that he would instead take us backward, unravelling more than a decade of progress and wreaking potential havoc on our economy.

This nominee has demonstrated that he is willing to carry water for this President’s political interests and not serve in the best interest of Americans.

I oppose Mr. Readler’s nomination because Americans deserve a judge who respects the rule of law and interprets the law based on statute, not the political needs of this or any administration.

I want my colleagues to know that a vote in support of his nomination is a vote in support of unleashing chaos on the American health system, eliminating preexisting condition protections, and one that would result in millions more uninsured.

Mr. Readler is a dangerous choice, who has a long track record of supporting the most extreme legal positions, which makes him unfit to sit on any court, much less one whose decisions will impact millions of Americans.

Thank you.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Ms. ERNST. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

THE GREEN NEW DEAL

Ms. ERNST. Mr. President, I rise today to join over 10 colleagues to speak in opposition to the so-called Green New Deal.

Merriam-Webster defines a deal as “a bargain” or “an agreement for mutual advantage.” By its name, you would think that Americans are going to derive some benefit from it, but this couldn’t be further from the truth.

The truth is that this proposal is a raw deal for America, especially our rural communities.

As many of you know, every month I give out a Squeal Award, which draws attention to outrageous examples of wasteful and reckless spending of taxpayer money.

With a $93 trillion—trillion with a “T”—pricetag, which is roughly $10 trillion more than the entire recorded spending of the U.S. Government since 1789, this month’s Squeal Award goes to the Green New Deal, which, again, I think is kind of a raw deal.

Just think about that number—$93 trillion. To fund this radical government takeover, every American family would have to pay about $65,000 annually. Folks, that is more than most Iowa households bring in in a year.

The ideas presented in the Green New Deal used to garner support only from the furthest fringes of the political left—the furthest fringes. Concepts like rebuilding every building in the country, outlawing fossil fuels, and guaranteed jobs would never have made their way into mainstream discourse just a few years ago. Now our Democratic colleagues are trying to make them mainstream.

In fact, 100 of the 282 Democratic Members of the House and Senate have signed on to support this plan. This is the creep of socialism into America.

If you work in a part of the energy industry that has fallen out of favor, your job has no place in the country. That is what is envisioned by the Green New Deal.

The Green New Deal states that one of its goals is to meet “100 percent of the power demand in the U.S. through clean, renewable, and zero-emission energy sources.”

Don’t get me wrong, folks—don’t get me wrong—increasing our reliance on renewables is a good goal and one that I support, but we have to be realistic about our current energy capabilities and our needs.
I do believe that climate change is real, and we have seen climate change for centuries, Senator SCHUTZ. So, for my colleague from Hawaii, we have seen climate change; there is no doubt about that.

But what I am debating here today and what we are speaking on is right here: $93 trillion, and we want to get rid of all fossil fuels within 10 years, folks—10 years. We can’t drive a combine. We can’t harvest our food. For heaven’s sake, we have to be realistic. My home State of Iowa has taken advantage of ingenuity and innovation and developed a process where wind energy contributes 40 percent of our electricity.

Now, with the new wind energy field that is being put in by MidAmerican Energy in the western part of the State, where I am from, in the next 2 to 3 years, 80 percent of our electricity will come from wind energy, and it didn’t take big government or socialism to put it into place.

So thank you very much.

I yield the floor to Senator CORNYN.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President.

Mr. SCHUTZ. Excuse me, Mr. President. May I ask a followup question through the Chair?

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, regular order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa has yielded the floor to Senator CORNYN.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President.

Mr. SCHUTZ. I just would like to get clarification. She did say climate change is real, but my question is whether—

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, regular order.

Mr. SCHUTZ.—manmade climate change is real, and I did not get an answer.

Mr. CORNYN. Regular order.

Mr. SCHUTZ. If she’s unwilling to answer that question, I understand.

Mr. CORNYN. Regular order, Mr. President.

Mr. SCHUTZ. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas.

Mr. CORNYN, Mr. President, last week, I spoke on the Senate floor about the perils of socialism. I never thought in my entire life that I would have to do something like that, but given the rise of democratic socialists, which obviously is an contradiction in terms, I think it is important to remind the American people about the failures of socialism, as well as radical policies like the ones the Democrats are trying to push off on the American people.

If you want to know what command and control economics is and what it would mean to our freedom and our liberty, all you need to do is look at the Green New Deal. This is really nothing more than an attempt to mask this power grab by the Federal Government in ALL of it in a major policy by mixing ideas like Medicare for All and guaranteed jobs and unrealistic economic and environmental policies.

Mr. SCHUMER, Mr. President, will the Senator yield for a question?

Mr. CORNYN. With net zero emissions—

Mr. SCHUMER. Will my colleague from Texas yield for a question instead of just filibustering what he says?

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I will—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas has the floor.

Mr. CORNYN—yield for a question after I conclude my remarks, not to be interrupted.

Mr. SCHUMER. I simply want to ask the Senator—

Mr. CORNYN. Regular order, Mr. President.

Mr. SCHUMER.—if he believes climate change is real—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas has the floor.

Mr. SCHUMER.—or caused by humans.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President.

Mr. SCHUMER. We know what he is not for. What is he for?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator will yield. The Senator from Texas has the floor.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I am not for socialism. I am not for Washington, DC, thinking they know better than what my constituents know about.

Mr. SCHUMER. Will the Senator yield for a question and say what he is for?

Mr. CORNYN. I will not yield.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas.

Mr. SCHUMER. Will he yield for a question stating what he is for, not what he’s against but what he is for?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be in order.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas has the floor.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, if the Democratic leader wants to just be quiet—

Mr. SCHUMER. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. CORNYN. If he will be quiet for a minute, I will tell him what I am for, if he will quit interrupting.

So what this is is an attempt—purely a power grab here in Washington masked as a feel-good environmental policy, mixing ideas like Medicare for All and guaranteed jobs with wildly unrealistic and radical environmental policies like zero net emissions transportation systems and guaranteed green housing.

Since this resolution was proposed, it has gained the ire of people on both sides of the aisle, something we don’t see that often, and something that I don’t know that I have ever seen. One of this bill’s authors refers to the majority leader’s intent to bring this resolution to the floor as sabotage.

Ordinarily, when you introduce an idea to the U.S. Congress, you are begging the majority leader to put it through committee so you can advance your idea. When the majority

So what this is is an attempt—purely a power grab here in Washington masked as a feel-good environmental policy, mixing ideas like Medicare for All and guaranteed jobs with wildly unrealistic and radical environmental policies like zero net emissions transportation systems and guaranteed green housing.

Since this resolution was proposed, it has gained the ire of people on both sides of the aisle, something we don’t see that often, and something that I don’t know that I have ever seen. One of this bill’s authors refers to the majority leader’s intent to bring this resolution to the floor as sabotage.

Ordinarily, when you introduce an idea to the U.S. Congress, you are begging the majority leader to put it through committee so you can advance your idea. When the majority leader said he would do that for the Green New Deal. It was called sabotage.

Since the Green New Deal was rolled out, things in Washington have gotten increasingly wacky and, believe it or not, everything has changed.

We recently put a pricetag on the Green New Deal. You heard the Senator from Iowa talk about the $93 trillion. That is so much money that I doubt most of us can wrap our brains around it. It is kind of like when somebody tells you the Earth is 140 million miles from Mars. How do you conceptualize that? You have no point of reference to understand just how far that really is.

Let's put it this way: If you combine the gross domestic product of every single country in 2017—every single country on the planet in 2017—the price of the Green New Deal would be higher than that.

If you total up how much the United States has spent—the U.S. Government, since the Constitution went into effect in 1789, the price of the Green New Deal would still be higher.

If you look at the value of 1 year's worth of oil and gas production in Texas, it would take almost seven centuries of production to pay for the Green New Deal.

Margaret Thatcher, who had a gift for words, said: "The problem with socialism is that you eventually run out of other people's money." Well, in this case, you don't even have the money to begin with, but that is what this is really about.

This is the antithesis of what our Founders believed in when they founded the United States of America. They believed that checks and balances and separated powers were protections of our individual liberty and our right to make decisions for ourselves and our families.

They viewed the concentration of power that would be necessary to do something like the Green New Deal as the opposite—antagonistic to individual liberty.

Mr. President, things like eradicating air travel clearly aren't the answer, and the Senator from Hawaii would say that wouldn't work very well if you tried to get to Hawaii from Washington, DC.

No matter what your perspectives on energy are or the environment, I think every one of us can single out something we can agree on; that is, smarter policies that will not bankrupt our country.

The solution is not the Green New Deal or another government power grab. It is all about innovation—

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President.

Mr. CORNYN. The creativity of Americans—

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President.

Mr. CORNYN. Doing research and science to come up with—

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President.

Mr. CORNYN. Innovations.

Mr. MARKEY. Will the Senator yield for a second?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas has the floor. He has declined to yield.

Mr. MARKEY. I would just seek to be recognized and just ask the Senator if this is the appropriate forum to discuss the Green New Deal.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has not yielded.

Mr. MARKEY. $93 trillion number comes from a Koch brothers-funded organization.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts will suspend. The Senate will be in order. The Senator from Texas has the floor.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I notice one thing: When people around here—colleagues across the aisle—don’t like what they are hearing, they try to suppress or drown out dissenting voices.

I think the American people need to hear this debate because our ability to innovate is critical to the success of our economy and our competitiveness in the global economy.

Investing in science and technology and increasing our ability to innovate is an investment in making our economy strong. Rather than the government’s seizing control of nearly every industry, overregulating their activities as you would under the Green New Deal, we should harness the power of the private sector to drive real, affordable solutions, and that is how we find cutting-edge solutions to our biggest challenges.

A lot of folks try to paint with broad strokes about energy. You are either on the side of innovation and new technologies or you are in favor of traditional oil and gas development.

Well, I am proud to come from a State that believes truly in an "all of the above" approach. We generate more electricity from wind than any other State in the country, and we believe in all of the above. You don’t have to pick one or the other.

Not only do we lead the Nation in oil and gas production, we also lead, as I said, in wind energy production too. We are proof that you can implement policies that get government out of the way and leave industry experts to do their jobs. You can be pro-energy, pro-innovation, and pro-growth.

The Green New Deal is not the answer to our problems. It is a solution in search of a problem, and it is a naked power grab by Washington, DC, seeking to impose on each and every American how we should run our lives.

It is the opposite of the individual liberties and freedoms that our Founders believed our country would be based on. I hope in the coming months we will take steps to promote freedom and not more government control and ideas that lead to innovation, not socialist policies.

With that, I yield to my friend from Indiana.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. President.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, my colleague said he would yield to a question after he finished debating. I would like to ask him a question.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Indiana is recognized.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. President, I rise today in opposition to the so-called Green New Deal. This is unaffordable. It is unrealistic. And, really, this reflects the most radical ideology and fringe of the Democratic Party today.

I would ask my colleague, once again, not what he is against but what he is for. We have not heard from the other side of the aisle anything they are for about climate change or whether they believe it is real and caused by humans.

I would ask my colleague, once again, not what he is against. We know what he is against. What is he for?

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, there is a great book called "SuperFreakonomics" written by some Chicago economists who talk about the threat to the environment of horse manure back when we had horse-drawn buggies in our cities because the internal combustion engine had not been created. They point out that that environmental hazard went away almost overnight because the internal combustion engine was created.

Likewise, when I was growing up, a scientist named Paul Ehrlich from Stanford wrote a book called "The Population Bomb." He said that millions of people would starve across our country and across the world unless we basically quit having children. What he miscalculated is the impact of a gentleman by the name of Norman Borlaug and the Green Revolution that he began due to research and development of an innovative plant gene research.

So we were able to basically defeat the population bomb, and we were able to deal with the environmental hazard of horse manure by innovation. That is what I am for, that is what I said, and that is what I would say again to my friend from New York.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Indiana is recognized.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the so-called Green New Deal. This is unaffordable, unrealistic, and doing this proposal is bad for all Americans, but it is especially bad for the people who live in my home State of Indiana.
Indiana is the most manufacturing-intensive State in the country, and my Hoosiers are rightfully proud of that distinction. We make America’s planes, our trucks, our recreational vehicles, our boats, and our pipelines. We produce the aluminum and steel that will not go into that book. We mine that coal that makes it affordable to power all of those factories.

Indiana is home to those respectable, high-paying jobs because of the highly skilled Hoosier workforce, our world-class infrastructure network, and our low energy costs. But the Green New Deal would crush Indiana’s affordable energy prices, forcing the cost of doing business to skyrocket for Hoosier manufacturers and farmers alike and eliminating jobs in the process.

What would this Green New Deal mean for American families?

Over the next decade, the so-called deal would cost up to $65,000 per American household per year. That is roughly 50 percent—47 percent more than the median Hoosier household income.

Yes, America must continue to support an “all of the above” energy strategy, and I look forward to working in a bipartisan way to get that done. We must develop renewable energy sources like wind and solar, but we must also continue to utilize our important baseload energy sources—that is your coal, your natural gas, your nuclear power. We simply cannot afford to eliminate these critical energy sources from our Nation’s energy mix, and that is what the Green New Deal would call for.

In Indiana, approximately 92 percent of our electricity is generated by coal and natural gas—92 percent. Wind and solar account for just 6 percent of Indiana’s electricity, and they cannot reliably and affordably produce the electricity Indiana needs.

So instead of turning a blind eye to coal—our energy sources that power America—let’s continue to incentivize research and development. Instead of promoting job-killing legislation like the Green New Deal, we should be promoting proposals like the USE IT Act. This is bipartisan legislation like the Green New Deal that would endanger tens of thousands of Hoosier jobs. The Green New Deal would not even mention Indiana’s priorities. Hoosiers know a bad deal when they see one. This is a bad deal.

My fellow Hoosiers are greatly concerned that this radical proposal will cause utility bills and force Indiana factories to shutter. For these reasons, I am a resounding no on the Green New Deal. I stand with Hoosier farmers, I stand with Hoosier manufacturers, and I stand with Hoosier families in opposing this $93 trillion deal.

Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. BLUMENTHAL. Mr. President, will the Senator from Indiana yield for a question?

Mr. YOUNG. I will.

Mr. BLUMENTHAL. Mr. President, does the Senator believe climate change is real, and will he stand with the scientific community, which believes unanimously or almost completely, that human activity caused climate change?

Mr. YOUNG. Well, that is an easy one. I thank my good colleague. I have publicly said for a long period of time—and that I believe the climate is changing. I believe that all flora, fauna, and human beings have some impact on that. I also fervently believe that we can protect our environment without wrecking our economy. We can do that through energy efficiency initiatives, investment in energy R&D, carbon capture and sequestration, and adoption of free market principles.

I read a very impactful book, in response to my good colleague, early on in my adulthood, and I recommend it to him. It is titled “Eccide in the USSR.” And it explains how centrally planned economies and fatal, conceit-driven planned economies, like the USSR, and it explains how centrally planned economies are preventing those of us who actually want to make progress from having a reasonable discussion instead of shouting over each other.

I don’t care if it is $93 trillion, $43 trillion, or $35 trillion—is unsustainable. We can sit here and question the sources, but at the end of the day, we all know that this was the other. This was something that people wanted to pitch. They wanted to win an election. But it was a dishonest promise that could never be fulfilled.

If you take a look at the other provisions of this bill—guaranteed jobs. I mean, it is reading like some sort of a socialist manifesto. As somebody who grew up in a trailer park and who didn’t get a degree until I was 36 years old, I want an America that gives me an opportunity, not an America that tells me what my job is and how much money I am going to make.

So I view this as a realistic discussion about the Green New Deal. We are pushing people into corners and not having a good discussion about things we should be making progress on.

By the way, just out of levity, we even had some people go so far as to say that maybe we should reduce the number of cows we have on the planet because they create methane gas. I will not get into the gross reasons as to why. So maybe the chicken caucus is in favor of getting rid of cows or eating more cows.

Why don’t we lower the temperature, recognize we have a proposal that doesn’t work, and recognize it was generally motivated by politics. And when you are talking about extreme things, people should expect the other side to come to the floor, just as we are doing today, and make it real.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Missouri.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. President, I understand that the majority has the floor, and so I will be very brief. I have enormous regard for Senator BLUNT and for those who have spoken already. But I want to say that, if you look at the people who say we want to have a discussion about this issue, we are so eager to have a discussion about this issue. I come here every week hoping to have a discussion about this issue, and I would love to have a hearing about this issue. I would love to have hearings in the Environment and Public Works Committee about a climate bill.

I would love to have people working together to solve this problem. I will say that Senator SCHUM and I have a piece of climate legislation that is not this one, but it does have the support of seven Republican former chairs of the President’s Council of Economic Advisers, six current and former Republican EPA administrators, two former Republican chairs of the Federal Reserve, and one former Republican CBO Director. A Republican congressman referred to that bill as not just an olive branch reaching out to Republicans but an olive limb reaching out to Republicans.

I hope we can emerge from this with a real conversation about real bills, and in the context of that, we will be very interested to know what the Republican proposal is to deal with climate change.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from West Virginia.

Mrs. CAPITO. Mr. President, I would like to thank my colleague from Iowa for organizing this discussion on the Green New Deal resolution.

The public doesn’t usually pay a whole lot of attention to nonbinding resolutions here in the Congress, but that is not the case with this one. The sponsors of the Green New Deal in the House and the Senate certainly deserve recognition for the profile they managed to create so quickly. Of course, that is a double-edged sword because now people are beginning to pay attention to what is actually in the Green New Deal.

Leader McCONNELL has proposed bringing the resolution to the floor, which has created, in my view, sort of a baffling response. The planned sponsors are claiming that a vote is ‘cynical’ and meant to ‘disrupt’ their movement. You and I both know that every Member of this body would clamor to have their bills brought up for floor consideration. Most of us here live in the land of realistic and practical solutions.

The Green New Deal is very vague, but it does include enough detail to know that it proposes radical solutions that, in my view, are neither practical nor realistic. It lists a list dressed up as environmental policy.

We knew it was going to be expensive. We knew the goal was to eliminate coal and gas industries, along with a lot of other good-paying jobs that support families like mine. This isn’t the first salvo in the war on coal, for sure. We knew all the economic harm they would be proposing, but this is a massive shift to the left that goes far beyond anything the Democrats have proposed before. This plan doesn’t stop at eliminating the use of coal and natural gas for electricity. The plan also ends nuclear electricity and severely curtails the commercial air industry.

The environmental and energy components of this proposal are estimated to cost $3.3 to $12.3 trillion over the next decade, which averages out to about $52,000 to $71,000 for every American household.

We will be left with possibly an energy grid that lacks affordability and reliability to make the American manufacturers competitive around the globe and meet the basic needs of our families. Right now, coal, natural gas, and nuclear energy account for 83 percent of all the electricity produced in the United States. It is neither practical nor realistic to believe that we could phase all of that capacity out without some catastrophic consequences.

Unbelievably, this is just one piece of the Green New Deal. The sticker shock continues with tens of trillions of dollars to fund guaranteed jobs for people unwilling to work, eliminate private healthcare for 170 Americans in favor of a government-run system, replace or retrofit all housing stock for environmental compliance, and guaranteeing it to every American and putting food on everyone’s table. Altogether, it could cost possibly $9 trillion over a 10-year period of time. We could liquidate all the wealth in the entire country and maybe just cover that tab, but we wouldn’t have anything left.
The Green New Deal sponsors claim the government will be making investments. They claim that the returns will pay for everything and make a profit for the people. Is this realistic or practical?

Some say the Green New Deal, even if it is a disaster of a policy that would destroy our economy, at least has Congress finally talking about climate change. We heard from my colleague. We serve on the EPW Committee together. It is a huge disservice, if it is a disaster of a policy that would practically?

Members of both parties have worked and will continue to work on these important policies to meaningfully address carbon challenges while also protecting and creating jobs. We do not need a $93 trillion turn that fundamentally alters the foundations of this country. We are capable of making investments in technology and infrastructure to address our Nation’s challenges in a commonsense and bipartisan way.

The Green New Deal is not practical. It is not realistic, and it is a bit scary that so many Democrats are embracing it. The American people deserve to know where each of us stands on this policy. That is why we are going to have a vote. I am glad that we will have the opportunity to take a vote on this resolution in the coming months, and I hope that all of my colleagues will join me in opposing this utterly unfathomable and unworkable resolution.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Indiana.

Mr. BRAUN. Mr. President, although I had prepared my remarks to address what many of my colleagues have just covered—and that would be the preposterous proposal of the Green New Deal—I want to take a little different angle.

I think there is a point where so often those of us on the conservative side of the ledger, I think, get overwhelmed by the conversation being dominated by the other side. It is a fertile ground to want to try to use a better environment to parlay that intellectual way into more government.

I think what we have here is just like addressing healthcare costs. We had ObamaCare—the Affordable Care Act—which turns out to be the “Uncomformable Care Act,” but there were issues that were valid. In my own company years ago, I was worried about it. I drafted a plan that was proactive, addressed high healthcare costs, and made the pledge that you should never go broke because you get sick or have a bad accident. I crafted a plan through the real world that cut costs, and my employees have not paid a premium increase in 9 years.

I want to talk about the Green New Deal. I am a conservationist, and I am a member of the Nature Conservancy, as a business and an individual. We cannot let the other side co-opt the issue and preempt it because they think the answer is on their side. I am not going to belabor the point that I think it is preposterous. I want to make the point that if you think any of that can be done—whether it is $50 trillion or $93 trillion—keep in mind that we are running nearly trillion-dollar deficits. We are $22 trillion in debt. Does that sound like anything that the Federal Government could actually solve in a sustainable way when we are in a pickle like we are currently in? Until we take economic here and get individuals who know how to do things where it works, in States like Indiana and in many States, and maybe let States have a bigger hand in the equation, where their budgets are balanced, fiscal balances, and where it is not a false hope.

Let’s look at the particulars of what the Green New Deal is supposed to do in addition to cleaning up our environment, which we have made great strides with. It is being spun as an economic argument. It is the exact opposite of what I want to challenge folks on our side of the ledger, from the practical side, to where we generally lose out on the general argument, and, incrementally, things change against us over time.

We just had legislation pass in 2017. I want to tell this little story of what we did in our own special way. I am going to challenge enterprisers and I am going to do it. I am going to challenge businesses across the country to think about this as a way to avoid that.

In 2017 we had, in my opinion—for enterprisers, small businesses, and farmers, and I have been involved in both—the biggest opportunity that has come along in years. We are keeping more of our own resources and not sending it here to a broken institution that has given us all of these deficits and debt, but we have to do something with it.

Back in my son, who is one of my three kids now in my business, said: Dad, let’s take tax reform and share the benefits with employees. That is a great idea. I didn’t think it would have a bigger political meaning until he said: Hey, let’s put it in the company memo that it is due to tax reform. We have taken, in my mind, the biggest thing we could do—whether you want to return the dividends into the environment, into higher wages, or into whatever you want to do—and we have done it or run with it. All I know is that like many companies in Indiana, we lowered healthcare costs and flattened them for 9 years.

We raised 401(k) benefits. We started quarterly bonuses instead of just annual ones.

We are doing what I think this country needs to do—quit looking to the Federal Government to solve all of our problems, even when an argument like that we need to further improve our environment, that we need to avoid what could possibly be a catastrophe down the road, where we do stick our head in the sand.

I am not going to belabor the point that because I don’t think you can credibly say that you can do anything in the context of the product that has been delivered over the last decade or two. States, individuals, businesses, organizations, but especially businesses, because we have reaped the benefits, in my opinion, of the biggest legislation that has occurred in decades—must put our money where our mouth is, where my company’s is. Invest in your employees and change the system from the bottom up, not from the top down.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska.

Mr. SULLIVAN. Mr. President, first, I want to thank my colleagues for coming down here and having this important discussion. I am grateful to my Democratic colleagues, for whom I have a lot of respect, for being here and having this debate. I am sure it is not going to be the first time that we are going to be doing this on the Green New Deal or other elements of proposals coming from the House or the Senate. This is a big issue happening in the House and what is going to happen over here with some of our colleagues.

I think, in many ways, it is an issue that focuses on the future and where the country is going. As the majority leader recently said in an interview, “I can pretty safely say this is the first time in my political career that the essence of America is being debated... socialistic and democratic capitalism.”

OK. Let’s have that debate. We are having that debate. What is the essence of America? I believe it is freedom and liberty. That is what we are founded on, and that is what I think proposals like the Green New Deal would undermine. To be clear, some people are joking about it—like banning hamburgers or airplanes or returning to the horse and buggy, but I actually think there are many people who are looking at this very seriously, and so they should.

Some of these kinds of ideas can be funny until they are not funny. What we are trying to do here is to talk about this proposal in a serious manner. In my State, the great State of Alaska, this is a deadly serious matter. There is so much that is in this idea, the Green New Deal—government takeover, healthcare, free housing, and free food, and the list goes on and on. The costs, as have been pointed out, are very high.

Today what I want to do is to talk about one aspect that would be particularly detrimental to my State and to many other States—my colleagues from West Virginia and North Dakota are here on the floor—and that is this proposal to ban hydrocarbons produced in America within a decade. This is not a joke.

There are many Members in this body—some are on the floor right now, and some are in the House—who think this is a serious proposal and would like to do it. I want to talk about that. I want to stipulate that I am certainly something of a fan of "all of the above" energy. The fact that America is now producing more oil, more gas, and more renewables than any other country in the world is good for all of us, Democrats and Republicans.

My colleague from Rhode Island is here. He and I have worked on a whole host of issues together involving oceans. I think the technological advances with regard to hundreds of years of supplies of natural gas with technology and renewables provide huge opportunities for Democrats and Republicans to work together to bring down greenhouse gas emissions. This is enormous. We are just scratching the surface.

I look forward to working with him and the Senator from Massachusetts on these kinds of ideas because I think they are exciting, and I think, when you are burning natural gas at very high temperatures, you almost have very little greenhouse gas emissions. Combine that with technology and renewables. We have hundreds of years of these supplies. It is a great opportunity, and it is exciting. I want to work with him.

Let me get back to the proposal on the Green New Deal on natural resources.

In my opinion, we do not spend enough time on this floor talking about the positive societal benefits of natural resource development in America—oil, gas, renewables, fisheries. These industries don't just fuel our power generation and transportation and our homes; these industries literally lift people out of poverty. They lengthen life expectancy. They literally save lives. There is a strong correlation between poverty, the lack of economic opportunity, and the health of our citizens.

I am going to show a few charts here. This correlation is strong in my State, particularly with our Alaska Native population. In 1954, the Interior Department, in the help of the University of Pittsburgh, conducted a study of the health of Alaska Natives.

Here is a quote from 1954: "The indigenous people of Native Alaska are the victims of sickness, crippling conditions, and premature death to a degree exceeded in very few parts of the world."

Some of the poorest people on the planet were my constituents in Alaska—In America—in 1954. More than 10 years later, in 1969—just 50 years ago—the situation was still dire.

Here is what Emil Notti, the president of the Alaska Federation of Natives, told Congress 50 years ago, in 1969:

The native people in rural Alaska live in the most miserable homes in the United States. The life expectancy of the average Native Alaskan was compared to 69 years old for the rest of the country.

So what happened after that?

We had a big change. We are not there yet, but we had a big change, and I want to explain. This was a chart that was studied just last year in the Journal of Internal Medicine. It is a study that was published in 2018 about the life expectancies of Americans.

Where you see blue and purple is where Americans' life expectancy increased the most. The most with the greatest change in the entire country was in my State. By the way, that is a pretty important statistic—life expectancy. It doesn't get more important than that. Are you living longer? Look what happened in Alaska. The North Slope of Alaska, the Aleutian Islands, and Southeast all experienced huge increases in life expectancy from these very low levels, some of the lowest in the world.

Why did that happen?

On the North Slope of Alaska, this Congress passed the Trans-Alaska Pipeline Authorization Act to develop Prudhoe Bay, to develop oil and gas—some of the biggest fields in the world. At the same time, we also had a very large zinc mine that came into production. Because of this body's Magnuson-Stevens Act, we had a huge increase in our fisheries.

The bottom line is that natural resource development happened in Alaska, in America, and people's lives increased. That is a remarkable thing, and we don't talk about it enough. The average life expectancy increase in Alaska was almost between 8 and 13 years. That is a measure of success because we were developing our resources of oil and gas. That is why I am taking this Green New Deal literally deadly seriously because what we have done in our State and in our country by producing resources is we have created the ability for people to actually live longer, and I challenge my colleagues to come up with a better statistic and a more important statistic than that. I am going to end with a quote from a gentleman who came down here and testified in front of the Senate, Matthew Rexford—a proud Alaska Native leader from Kaktovik, AK, which is in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge. He testified that Congress should give his small community the opportunity to develop the resources near his village. We did that in 2017 after a 40-year debate.

He spoke firsthand about his knowledge as to what resource development did for America, for Alaska, and for his community:

"The oil and gas industry supports our communities by providing jobs, business opportunities, infrastructure development. It has built our schools, hospitals. It has moved our people from Third World living conditions to what we expect in America. We refuse to go backward in time.

That is what he said. I believe the Green New Deal—certainly, its ban on hydrocarbon production—would take us back in time. For the sake of Matthew Rexford and all of these Alaskans who have done so well by responsibly developing our resources, we are not going to allow that to happen.

I yield the floor to my colleague from North Dakota.

Mr. MARKEY. Will the Senator yield?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska yield for a question?

Mr. SULLIVAN. I yield my time to the Senator from North Dakota.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is not possible.

Mr. MARKEY. Would the Senator from Alaska yield for a question?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts.

Mr. SULLIVAN. Mr. President, I believe I still have the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. No. The Senator from Alaska yielded the floor. The Senator from Massachusetts is recognized.

Mr. MARKEY. I thank the Presiding Officer.

Mr. President, I would pose a question to the Senator from Alaska.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts cannot pose a question. He has the floor.

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President, through the Presiding Officer, I pose a question to the Senator from Alaska.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska does not have the floor. Therefore, he cannot respond.

The Senator from Massachusetts has the floor.

Mr. MARKEY. I thank the Presiding Officer.

I will just make this point through the Presiding Officer, which is that the words "fossil fuels" are not in the resolution. No. 2, airplanes are not banned in the resolution. No. 3, there is no guarantee for healthcare for everyone in America in the resolution. No. 4, there is nothing that provides for those who are unwilling to work in the resolution. None of this is true.

We know the Koch brothers paid for this $93 trillion study, and all we are hearing from the Republican side is of a Koch brothers-produced document that is absolutely inaccurate. There is no banning of airplanes. There is no guarantee of Medicare for all. Neither of those is in the resolution. This entire discussion is based upon a completely fraudulent, bogus report that the Koch brothers produced.

What we are trying to say to the other side is we should have a debate about the science, that we should have a debate about the human activity, that we should have a debate about what the solutions are, and that we should bring it out here as a great deliberative body.
Right now, we are debating the Green New Deal, but the Republicans haven’t given us any hearings. They have given us no scientists, no witnesses, and no debate. They are just doing this because the Koch brothers have produced a report saying the $93 trillion climate bill is completely and totally inaccurate. In fact, with regard to the accusation of the banning of airplanes, Politifact has looked at it, examined it, and said it is completely and totally inaccurate. I think it is difficult to have a debate when the facts here are those which we cannot submit to committees, witnesses, debates. Instead, all we are subjected to is a representation of the Green New Deal that is completely inaccurate. For that matter, the words “fossil fuels” don’t even appear in the Green New Deal.

This is not right. If the Republicans want to, they should set up a debate. Then we could have it out here on whether the planet is dangerously warming, whether human activity is principally responsible, whether this body should take action in order to deal with that problem, and whether, economically, we can unleash a technological revolution to solve the problem. That should be the debate. Out here this afternoon, not a whole group of bogus facts that have been produced by the Koch brothers, have been paid for by the Koch brothers, and that are being repeated over and over again on the other side without any Republican saying he actually believes the planet is dangerously warming, that he actually agrees with the U.N.’s scientists who say it is an existential threat to us, that he actually agrees it is largely caused by human activity, and that we, the greatest deliberative body in the world, should have a robust debate. If the Republicans believe it is serious, they should present their own plan for debate on the Senate floor.

Mr. SCHUMER. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. MARKEY. I yield to the leader.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, we thank our friends on the other side of the aisle for helping to make our case. The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is the Senator asking a question?

Mr. SCHUMER. Yes, I am asking a question.

If the Senator from Massachusetts has the floor, I ask a question of the Senator from Massachusetts yield for a question?

Mr. MARKEY. I yield to the leader for a question.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, we have been making the case for the last several weeks that our Republican colleagues love to get up and rant about what they are against even though they exaggerate and tell mistruths about the bill Senator MARKEY has sponsored. They have been asked repeatedly, haven’t we, three questions: Do you believe climate change is real? Do you believe it is caused by human activity? Most importantly, what would you do about it?

Here we have had an hour of debate, haven’t we, with our Republican colleagues, and there have been a lot of mistruths and a lot of “here is what we are against” but not one single thing they are for.

So isn’t it true, my friend from Massachusetts, that they have helped to make our case? We are glad they are finally talking about climate change, but we have to do something about it. Isn’t it true we haven’t heard a single positive response about what they would do?

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President, the leader has put his finger right on it. We want a debate. We want to see their plan. We want to know if they agree with the science of the entire United Nations and 13 of our own Federal Agencies that produced an identical report at the end of 2018—that being, it is dangerous and a great threat to our country, and we have to do something about it.

So where is the Republicans’ plan? What is their plan? Of course, they don’t have one. They want to bring out the Green New Deal with no hearings, no witnesses, and no science when they should be bringing out their own plan.

The leader is right. It is just, basically, a condition they have, and the number they are using—the $93 trillion in terms of the cost of the Green New Deal—is a Koch brothers-produced number. It is their group that put it together. So how could we possibly be having a serious debate about something the Koch brothers have produced, in terms of dealing with global warming, since they are central players in this dangerous warming of our planet? I yield to the leader.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I pose a second question.

Isn’t it true that our Republican colleagues have been in the majority for 5 years, and each year goes by—and still no answers? Here we have had an hour of debate, haven’t we, with no predisposed answers. Isn’t it true that in those 5 years, the Republican leader, our friend, hasn’t brought a single piece of legislation to the floor that would deal with climate change in any way? Is that correct?

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, the leader is correct. No solutions, 5 years, and it is more dangerously warm on the planet. Four hundred billion dollars’ worth of damage was done to our country in the last 2 years. We had fires out in the West, flooding, $400 billion worth of damage—and the consensus among scientists is that it is only going to grow worse as each year goes by—and still no answers. Nothing on the floor from the Republicans, nothing that would deal with the problem, and no admission that it is a $93 trillion cost, and that we can do something about it.

Mr. SCHUMER. Finally, we have not heard a single answer from any of the Senators on the floor or any who spoke about what their plan is. So I would ask you to repeat and ask them three questions that they still haven’t answered—simple questions with no predisposed answers. A. do any of our Republican colleagues—this is a question—believe climate change is real?

Mr. MARKEY. We don’t know the answer.

Mr. SCHUMER. Second, do any of our Republican colleagues over there believe it is caused by human activity?

Mr. MARKEY. We don’t know the answer.

Mr. SCHUMER. And C, do they have any plan, proposal, suggestion as to how we deal with the issue?

Mr. MARKEY. We don’t know the answer.

Mr. SCHUMER. And I would ask my colleague to ask our Republican friends—if they have an answer to any of these questions, to yield the floor to them.

Mr. MARKEY. And I would be glad to yield the floor to any of them who would be willing to be recognized, but, through the leader, the problem is that they keep talking about climate change, but we have to do something about it.

Mr. SCHUMER. Can you ask them to not repeat the same talking points about what they are against and finally say something about what they are for?

Mr. MARKEY. I would yield to any of my friends on the other side of the aisle who have concrete, positive proposals for dealing with the crisis of climate change in our country and on the planet.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wyoming.

Mr. BARRASSO. Mr. President, I appreciate the opportunity to come to the floor to answer those specific questions, and I would point to an op-ed that I wrote for the New York Times last year. Perhaps the Senator from New York doesn’t read his hometown newspaper, but there is an editorial in the New York Times of December 18: “Cut Carbon Through Innovation, Not Regulation.” It is a plan. Cut carbon through innovation, not regulation.

The question is, Do we believe the climate is changing? Do humans have an impact? The answer is yes to both. As a matter of fact, I wrote: “The climate is changing, and we, collectively, have a responsibility to do something about it.”

It is right here in the New York Times from December 18. Second, the United States and the world will continue to rely on affordable and abundant fossil fuels, including coal, to power our economies for decades to come.

We need to also rely on innovation, not new taxes, not punishing global agreements. That is the ultimate solution. I will point out that this is something that I had written and submitted and published long before the so-called Green New Deal was ever introduced into Congress either in the House or in the Senate.

I go on to say:

People across the world are rejecting the idea that carbon taxes and raising the cost of energy is the answer to lowering emissions.

Because we know, as I go on:

In France, the government just suspended a planned fuel tax increase after some of its citizens took to the streets in protest.

It was every story on the news.

And in the United States, the results of [the] November elections showed that these plans and other government interventions are just as unpopular.

Voters in Washington State rejected the creation of an expensive tax on carbon emissions. In Colorado, a ballot measure to severely restrict drilling was defeated. And in Arizona, voters rejected a mandate to make the state’s utilities much more dependent on renewable energy by 2030—regardless of the cost to consumers.

I would point out that all three of those States elected liberal Democrats to Congress on election night.

In further answer to that question, I would point to USA TODAY, March 4, 2019. Today is the 6th, so we are talking Monday. Today is Wednesday. This is this week’s paper, front page:

To a warming planet’s rescue: Carbon Capture.

To the rescue of a warming planet.

In the race against climate change, scientists are looking for ways to pull CO2 out of the Earth’s atmosphere and store it away.

And what they point to is bipartisan legislation passed by this body, passed by the House, and signed into law by President Trump focusing on carbon capture and sequestration. It talks about $45Q. That is the FUTURE Act. One of the cosponsors from the other side of the aisle is on the floor right now. His name is mentioned, my name is mentioned in finding the solution.

There are Republican solutions and ideas that are focused on innovation, not regulation, not taxation, focused on freedom and the innovation that we have had.

So I just come to tell you, Mr. President, that there are solutions, and the Republican artifacts offer them. We had a hearing most recently just last week on something called the USE IT Act—again, to capture carbon and to sequester it. We have been working on new-age nuclear power, working with leaders around the world. We passed that, and it was signed into law—an innovation bill for nuclear power, new-age nuclear power that will be in small reactors, safer reactors, cheaper to use, no carbon whatsoever.

So there are absolute solutions, and Republican artifacts continue to come to the floor, but we are not going to support something that would bankrupt the country, something that would raise the cost of energy for families, something that would drive people to the point of having to spend money they don’t have, having our country borrow money we don’t have, all at a time when you say, what is the cause? There are suggestions and numbers that have been raised, I haven’t heard any numbers from the other side of the aisle.

So I come to the floor to tell you that Republicans have continued to offer solutions, and I have been offering some of them over the past couple of years. It took us a while to get these into law, but they are working. They are working and have been identified as working. Even President Obama’s former Secretary of Energy, Ernie Moniz, who came and testified to the Energy and Natural Resources Committee, said there are two things that would make a big difference. One is the new-age nuclear work that we are doing, and the other is carbon capture and sequestration. Those are large-scale products that work.

I see other colleagues on the floor.

Do I have the floor right now?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wyoming has the floor.

Mr. BARRASSO. The Americans as long as I continue to have the floor, I would like to point out that we have a booming economy in this country. In just over a year, tax relief has helped create 3 million new jobs. Manufacturing jobs have increased. There is the fact that we have more jobs available than there are people looking for jobs. We have a booming economy.

I want to do nothing that is going to harm these people all across the country who are working to have an opportunity in such a strong, healthy, growing economy.

This Green New Deal—this Big Government takeover of the economy—it is masked as an environmental proposal. To me, it is radical. The president of the Laborers’ International Union of North America calls it a “bad deal.”

Take a look at America. We are leading the world in reducing carbon dioxide because of the technological and innovative techniques we have had. We know from what we hear about the Green New Deal that it is prohibitively expensive, with predictions of up to $93 trillion. The entire net worth of the economy in the United States—$112 trillion, and this alone would cost $93 trillion. You can go by how much it is going to cost each individual family. It is completely unaffordable. It is not something that is workable. But it is so far out of the mainstream even if it were affordable.

So what we have seen here is the Democrats take another hard left turn. Under this Green New Deal, in just 10 years, the Nation’s energy system would undergo what was an attack on our nation’s system.

The Green New Deal would end the use of energy resources that currently provide power for three out of five homes and businesses in the United States. Think about the harm that would cause the economy. This Green New Deal mandates the use of expensive power sources that can’t keep the lights on. Wind and solar are important. We need more renewable energy to power this country. But right now, wind and solar provide less than 8 percent of our electricity.

Should we increase the use of renewables? Absolutely. But eliminating affordable coal and natural gas would be a huge mistake. In that case, it is impossible to do. The electric grid can’t handle it.

Last month, there was an op-ed in the Wall Street Journal titled “The Green New Deal’s Impossible Electric Grid,” written by Robert Biom of the North American Electric Reliability Corporation. He writes that if the electric grid relies solely on renewable energy sources, “the grid itself may collapse.”

That is not all we lose if the grid collapses. Our transportation system is in the crosshairs. The Green New Deal seeks to transform how Americans travel. It calls for an extensive and expensive national, high-speed rail system to replace its cars.

The State of California attempted to build a high-speed rail line between Los Angeles and San Francisco. It turns out the price was too high even for California. The Governor, Gavin Newsom, just recently canceled the line between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Why? He said because of the massive cost. But it is all part of the Green New Deal. The question is, if California can’t afford to build high-speed rail between two major cities, how can we afford to build a system that crisscrosses the country? We can’t.

The Green New Deal doesn’t stop at energy and travel; it extends to every corner of the country. People are going to be forced to retrofit their houses, and businesses would have to do the same.

This is what massive government overreach looks like.

The rest of the world is going to continue to pollute even if the country were to adopt something as extreme as the Green New Deal. It would cancel all of the gains we have made in the United States by the fact that our energy intensity continues to decrease. Last year, in 2017, we produced just 13 percent of global emissions here in the United States—just 13 percent. China and India together—33 percent. And they are rising over there. Without dramatic changes from India and China, global emissions are going to continue to climb. So even if all the Green New Deal’s costly mandates went into effect, with the punishment to our country and our economy, there would still be no real effect on the Earth’s temperature.

So there is no surprise that the Democrats are trying to duck this big green bomb. Senate Democrats may even decide to vote present to avoid voting for their own extreme proposal that a dozen of them have either signed on to or cosponsored, including just about every Democratic Senator who is running for President. They have all signed on. They are all cosponsoring it.

This green dream is unreachable, but there are a number of ways we can accomplish the goals they say we need to accomplish, which is why I speak about what we are wanting to do in a positive way with nuclear energy, with carbon capture, things that have gathered the attention of the New York Times and were on the front page of USA TODAY on Monday.

So we are going to continue to work with the FUTURE Act and with the USE IT Act. The committee is going to continue to work in a bipartisan way because Republicans are committed to finding solutions through innovation, not taxation, not regulation—solutions that do not hurt our strong and healthy, growing economy.

I yield the floor to the Senator from North Dakota.

Mr. CRAMER. Mr. President, I rise to join my colleagues, first of all, in, yes, opposing this Green New Deal, this joint resolution, that is full of so many dangerous policies and positions. But before I get into my reasons for that, let me also join my colleague from Wyoming in saying I am for the things he is for and even more—carbon capture, utilization, and storage, refined coal, all kinds of ways that we can accomplish the same goals together, with realistic proposals, not fantasies.

Let me also say something that should warm the heart of our colleagues from Massachusetts. The Koch brothers strongly opposed my candidacy and my election to the U.S. Senate. I owe them nothing, and I am grateful.

You know, I wasn’t always this pessimistic about the possibilities in this Chamber. I believe, in fact, that divided government presents an opportunity for the parties to come together to find common ground and to have legislative victories based on shared goals and shared values. I hope we can get back to that.

I had hoped for it even on controversial issues, like immigration and healthcare, and I certainly hoped for it on energy policy, but when I heard that the Democrats were proposing this Green New Deal, I didn’t view it as an opportunity to cooperate and to find common ground, to compromise, to find balance, and to negotiate the way that I believe our founders intended it.

I don’t think killing innovators with something like a Green New Deal is how we accomplish the goals they say they are for in their Green New Deal.

You can imagine my disappointment when I read the contents of this joint resolution of the Upper New Deal serious policy. It is a fantasy. I am personally disappointed to see so many of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle cosponsor this—especially those who are seeking higher office—and ignore the realities.

Someone earlier mentioned that the Green New Deal never talks about airplanes. No, but it does say that we want to transition to 100-percent renewable energy by 2050. Well, I don’t know how we can have airplanes without having fossil fuels.

As the Presiding Officer may have seen, in my State of North Dakota, we are having a really, really cold winter. In fact, those of us in the Upper Midwest are.

The National Weather Service referred to a stretch of this really cold weather earlier this winter as a polar vortex. We call it winter.

Polar vortex or whatever you want to call it, it has been a rough winter. Rough winters aren’t rare or new to us, but this one has been particularly cold. We were well below zero several days in a row. In fact, during the polar vortex, one day the wind chill was well below 50 degrees below zero. By the way, for those of you who believe 50 below is below zero—zero. It is a really low number.

But I believe there are some facts that have been left out related to how this will affect human health. On January 1, in Hettinger, ND, it reached 42 degrees below zero without wind chill. That is real temperature. Again, that has happened in many communities throughout the State.

During these low temperatures, guess what doesn’t happen. The wind doesn’t blow, and when the wind doesn’t blow, windmills stop providing energy, and they actually start consuming it. When I was a regulator, I cited a couple thousand megawatts of wind turbines in North Dakota.

When the energy can’t be produced by wind turbines, it turns to gas, and, then, guess what happens. Natural gas providers have to ask their customers to curtail their gas consumption because they need the gas for a more firm supply of electricity that backs up the wind turbines.

Again, I was a utility regulator. I saw this happen a lot, and it happened just a couple of weeks ago in the Midwest. Can you imagine that when temperatures drop below minus 22 degrees and wind turbines stop working? That means that many North Dakotans, like my mom and my grandchildren, have to rely on intermittent electricity to fill all their storage. They use a lot of energy for a lot of gas. Do you see the cycle of this? It is a circle. One bad thing leads to another bad thing.

In this situation, it is when—not if—an electric outage occurs during a polar vortex, it would be disastrous for the people of my State and many others. This is a serious health risk, and I do not want my friends and family to ever wonder if they will be able to warm their homes when they need it the most.

Even if the Green New Deal were to pass, we could never afford it. You have heard a lot of statements today from Members about the expected cost of up to $93 trillion. You can argue that it is not $93 trillion—that it is only $90 trillion, it is only $80 trillion, or it is only $50 trillion. It is too much. It is unaffordable. And $93 trillion is more than 90 percent of the combined wealth of all—I said “all”—American households. It would cost every American family as much as $65,000 per year, which, as you know, is more than the average yearly household income.

A tax-and-spend agenda to pay for an energy plan that wouldn’t even work flies in the face of one of our Nation’s greatest success stories—our domestic energy production.

To a large degree, the U.S. rocket ship economy is being driven by the energy renaissance happening all across our country, like in my State of North Dakota. Our strategy of energy dominance encompasses an “all of the above” approach—harnessing wind, oil, natural gas, solar, nuclear, and, yes, coal potential.

Millions of Americans are employed by energy development, and that number is only expected to grow.

In fact, in 2020 the United States will become a net energy exporter for the first time in a century. At the same time, emissions have steadily decreased over the years, and it serves as a very important national security hedge. Why would we halt this positive momentum and synonymous promising solutions?

The key to a better energy future is not taxation regulation but innovation and empowerment, as so beautifully articulated by my friend from Wyoming, Ms. STABENOW. Would my friend from North Dakota pause for a question?

Mr. CRAMER. If these recent polar vortices and cold winters taught us anything, it is that we have a well-rounded energy policy that encourages innovation promising solutions?

There are two things about the Green New Deal. It is unrealistic, unworkable, and unaffordable.

I hope we never become so lopsided that my friends, neighbors, and family back home are unable to turn the heat on when they need it the most.

I yield the floor.

Ms. STABENOW. Would my friend from North Dakota be willing to yield for a question?

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. COTTON). The Senator from Arkansas.

Mr. BOOZMAN. Mr. President, I am grateful for the opportunity to echo my colleagues’ concerns about the Green New Deal.

We are here because the majority leader has indicated that the Senate will be considering this misguided proposal in the coming weeks.

You would think our colleagues on the other side of the aisle would be excited about the idea of a Senate vote on a resolution that essentially compasses their party’s entire platform. Instead, the minority leader is scrambling to conceive ideas that will give his caucus members cover instead of embracing a plan. I can see why.

The Green New Deal didn’t quite receive the celebration Democrats were expecting when it was announced. Its release was greeted with a combination of bewilderment, amusement, and confusion, which is how they live their lives by eliminating their jobs, outlawing their vehicles, and demanding they essentially build their homes to whatever standards Democrats in Washington decide.

If you ask most Americans if government control over almost every aspect of their lives is the direction they want to see the Nation take, the answer is an overwhelming no. Yet that is exactly what the Green New Deal seeks to do under the pretense of ending climate change.

The authors of the Green New Deal and its accompanying memo suggest their plan is the cure for all of society’s ills. They cast themselves as saviors who will end global warming, income equality, and depression in one fell swoop. The Green New Deal will guarantee every American free healthcare, college tuition, and a job with a “family-sustaining” wage.

That last part isn’t even required to receive the benefits promised by the Green New Deal. If an able-bodied person is unwilling to look for work, the government would provide “economic security” under the plan.

What supporters can’t say is how they will implement this, what impact it will have on the average American, and where the trillions of dollars it will cost will come from. These details are important when you are asking for support of a plan that is estimated to cost up to $93 trillion and dramatically expands the Federal Government’s reach into the daily lives of every American.

Single moms, seniors, and those living on fixed incomes—the very people whom the Green New Deal supporters purport to help—will be the most negatively impacted by this proposal.

Getting the majority of our Nation’s energy from renewable sources is certainly a worthy goal. However, you cannot brand a $93 trillion, all-encompassing modernization scheme that can’t be achieved in the manner it is written. The Green New Deal is not a serious plan. The Senate should wholeheartedly reject it when it comes before us.

With that, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Michigan.

Ms. STABENOW. Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. President, I am here on the floor to ultimately speak regarding Mr. Readler’s nomination, but I do want to respond to my colleagues. It is hard to know where we begin because so much is said that doesn’t make any sense. It is made up.

What I wanted to address as my colleague was speaking was where it said in the Green New Deal that we couldn’t have ice cream. I have looked everywhere, I like ice cream, and I was shocked that we weren’t going to have ice cream. Sure enough, there is nowhere where it says that they are outlawing ice cream.

For people who like cheeseburgers and milkshakes, I don’t see anything in there that is personal. Let’s put that personal aside, take your child to the doctor when they get sick is not personal. It is personal. Being able to make up new names now for weather events, that come at 60, 80 miles an hour into a community like a clone bomb. We are having to make up new terms for what is happening right in front of us.

So I would hope that when it comes to this discussion about what happens with the weather and climate change, that we would put aside the games, stop making stuff up, and have a serious discussion about how we can come together, create new jobs, move the economy, stop carbon pollution, and make sure our kids and grandkids actually have something to be proud of.

NOMINATION OF CHAD A. READLER

Mr. President, I now want to speak about the Readler nomination. I have often said that healthcare isn’t political; it is personal. Let’s put that personal aside, take your child to the doctor when they get sick is not political; it is personal. Being able to manage chronic conditions such as diabetes, heart disease, and high blood pressure with quality medical care and prescription medicine is not political; it is personal. Being able to count on your medical insurance to cover you if you get sick is not political; that is personal.

That is why, when the Trump administration nominates people for powerful positions who are going to be on healthcare—you want to talk about somebody going to war. We have someone who waged war on healthcare who...
He fought to eliminate the part of Ohio’s Constitution that guarantees Ohio students will receive “a thorough and efficient” education. In short, he would eliminate the right to public education in Ohio.

He proposed a change that would exclude LGBTQ students from discrimination protections in Ohio schools, and while at the Department of Justice, he defended Betsy DeVos when she delayed implementation of rules aimed at helping students who are victims of illegal or deceptive practices by colleges. They were victims of illegal or deceptive practices by colleges, and he supported stopping that relief.

Michigan families who have children with preexisting conditions deserve better than Chad Readler. Michigan students who have been targeted by unscrupulous colleges deserve better than Chad Readler. Michigan folks who have business before the U.S. court of appeals certainly deserve better than Chad Readler.

In my judgment, he has no business being a judge with a lifetime appointment, and I know a whole lot of Michigan families who agree. I am voting no, and I encourage my colleagues to do the same.

Thank you.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Vermont.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, as the longest serving member of the Senate and also the former chairman of the Judiciary Committee, I feel compelled—and I normally don’t come down and speak about these things—but I want to warn about the destruction of long-held norms and traditions that have protected the Senate’s unique constitutional role with respect to lifetime judicial appointments.

This is an extraordinary responsibility on the part of the U.S. Senate. The Constitution allows any President to nominate whomever they want for a lifetime position on our Federal courts, but as our Founders said, the Senate has to give advice and consent because of the effect of this person’s lifetime position. They go way beyond the term of the Senators who vote for them and the term of the President who nominates the person.

In fact, until recently, and certainly during the years I have served, every Member of this body knew well they had a say when it came to who serves in the Federal courts in their States. It didn’t matter whether you had a Republican or Democratic President or a Republican or Democratic majority in the Senate; blue slips protected the prerogative of home State Senators and gave meaning to the constitutional requirement of advice and consent. It ensures fairness but, more importantly, I think it also ensured comity in the Senate. That now is fast becoming history. Blue slips is going to do lasting damage to the Senate.

What is happening is a disingenuous double standard. When I was chairman of the Judiciary Committee at the beginning of the Obama administration, every single Senate Republican, including many serving today, signed a letter. They made the case for the importance of the blue-slip tradition. They said it was absolutely imperative that it be respected during the Obama administration. I respected the blue-slip tradition without exception, even when it was not politically expedient to do so. I respected Republicans and Democrats alike. Regardless of who was in the Oval Office, under my chairmanship, not a single judicial nominee received a hearing without first receiving both home State Senators’ positive blue slips.

I defended the blue slips, and that was unpopular in my own party on occasion, but I believed in both the constitutional and institutional importance. I also believed in the prerogatives of home State Senators and the need to ensure that the White House works in good faith with those Senators. I believed then, and I still believe now, that certain principles matter more than party. Something that, unfortunately, some, probably because they are new here, don’t understand.

All of us, whether Democratic or Republican, should care about good-faith consultation with our home State Senators. We know the men and women who are qualified. Without blue slips, nothing prevents our State selection committees from being completely ignored by the White House. Nothing would even prevent a New York or California lawyer from being nominated to a Texas court or vice versa.

Yet the Senate is abandoning this protection. Senators of the Republican Party who promised they would uphold it, gave their word they would uphold it, asked me to uphold it, have suddenly broken their word. That bothers me.

Last week, for example, for the first time in the history of this body, a nominee was confirmed to a seat on the circuit court over the objections of both home State Senators. That is the first time in our history that has happened. That meant my friends on the other side of the aisle had to break their word from what they agreed to before.

This week, we are voting on two additional nominees, Chad Readler and Eric Murphy, who are opposed by an- other home State Senator, Mr. BROWN. Senator Brown made extensive efforts to reach a compromise with the White House on these two Sixth Circuit vacancies, but the White House was not interested.

The White House knew the Republicans would not keep to the position they expected Democrats to keep when they said they knew they could rely on Members of their own party not to follow tradition for the first time, they didn’t even try. The White House didn’t even try to consult. Even superficial consultation is an afterthought.

Senator Brown then attended the confirmation hearings. He spoke against these nominations. He cited, among other things, Mr. Readler’s unprecedented actions attacking healthcare protections while serving in the Trump Justice Department.

Mr. Readler was willing to reverse Justice Department policy and sign a brief undermining protections for pre-existing conditions when career Justice Department officials—career officials who have served in both the Republican and Democratic administrations—refused. They refused to reverse their well-established Justice Department policy. He, however, was perfectly willing to throw it away in court. Nobody we expect to be fair on the court?

Senator Brown cited Mr. Murphy’s longstanding support and advocacy for restrictive voting laws in Ohio. He knows that his constituents will have to live with the ramifications if these nominees are confirmed. It will directly affect the State. He expressed his concerns about their records, and his voice, in this process as a U.S. Senator, was ignored.

These votes come on the heels of the Senate’s confirming a 37-year-old nominee for the Fourth Circuit who has practiced law for less than 10 years—a grand total of 9 years. She now holds a lifetime judgeship on an appellate court, just one step below the Supreme Court. Her confirmation hearing made a mockery of the Senate’s duty of advice and consent.

It marked the first time in the Judiciary Committee’s history—the first time ever that a nomination hearing was held during the October recess over the objections of the other party. We found out why.

Only two Republican Senators attended the hearing, and the questions lasted only 20 minutes for someone who demonstrated no abilities to serve on the Fourth Circuit. They knew it didn’t make any difference whether she had the abilities or knew what she was doing. All they knew is that this White House had nominated her again and rubberstamped this.

Frankly, the Senate should never function as a mere rubberstamp for nominees seeking lifetime appointments to our Federal judiciary. We shouldn’t do it, whether there is a Republican or a Democrat in the White House. That is exactly what we are doing with a Republican President and a Republican majority. No matter whether the person is qualified, if the name comes up, rubberstamp it.

When I chaired the Judiciary Committee, many Senators—Republican Senators—expressed both publicly and privately their appreciation for the fact that they had protected their rights and gave meaning to advice and consent. Many told me this is the way it must always be, whether Republicans or Democrats are in the majority.

Well, their about-face, now that they control the Senate, is unbecoming, and it basically says that the Senate will just bow down to the executive branch. We will give up our responsibility, and we will just be rubberstamps. We might as well not even bother to show up; just do whatever we are told. It is deeply disappointing.

I know the pressure because many of my Republican friends have told me to rubberstamp President Trump’s nominations to the appellate courts, failing on many deaf ears, even for those who promised me they would not do this.

I have served in the Senate long enough to know that political winds tend to change direction. Inevitably, when the party in the minority, and the White House changes hands, I suspect that many of my Republican colleagues who care about this institution, as do I—and there are many—are going to live to regret many of these actions.

The further down this path the Senate goes, the harder it is going to be to unring this bell. A vote for Mr. Readler or Mr. Murphy is a vote to say that we abandon our abilities as home State Senators to serve as a check not just on this President but any future President, Republican or Democrat. Basically, we are saying that we don’t believe in advice and consent. Basically, we are saying that we don’t believe in the rule of the majority. Basically, we are saying that we don’t believe the Founders of this country knew what they were doing when they said the U.S. Senate—this body of 100 people—has to represent 325 million Americans and that we don’t believe they should have any responsibility, have any say in lifetime appointments.

If we abandon longstanding traditions and chase partisan expediency, I remind everybody that provides only fleeting advantage. It inflicts lasting harm on this body. It is within our power to stop it right here and right now.

I urge all Senators to ensure that home State Senators are provided the same courtesies during the Trump administration that they received from both Republican and Democratic Judiciary chairmen during the Obama administration. I believe we can do that. I ask my fellow Senators to oppose Mr. Readler’s and Mr. Murphy’s nominations because they were done so out of the way that they should be done. Let the U.S. Senate, all of us, Republicans and Democrats, say that we are not a rubberstamp to any President. We don’t take our orders from any President. We don’t bow and scrape for any President. Let’s act like Senators, not like a rubberstamp.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Delaware.

Mr. COONS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be retracted.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

TRIBUTE TO FRANZ WUERPFMANNSDOBLER

Mr. COONS. Mr. President, I come to the floor today to recognize a true public servant, an individual who has been by my side since my first year as a Senator, someone who will be dearly missed, not only in my office but by this institution as a whole as he moves on to his next chapter this week: my dear chief of staff and senior policy advisor, Franz Wuerpfmannsdobler.

Franz has had a great impact on this institution, on the staff members who served here over the last two decades, and on me. His sage advice, his patience, his incredibly calm demeanor, his willingness to mentor and guide others, his respect for this institution, and his knowledge born out of 20 years of experience in the Senate have contributed immeasurably to the meaningful work we have been able to do here for the people of Delaware and our country.

Today, I want to recognize and thank Franz for his remarkable and selfless career. I want to thank him for what he has done for me, for my office, for the people of Delaware, and pay tribute to the legacy he leaves.

It is a remarkable legacy. He has been on the frontlines of events and policy battles that have quite literally shaped the history of our country over the last two decades—from 9/11 to the passage of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, from energy and appropriations efforts to sustained concerns and engagement around bipartisanship.

Franz’s career in the Senate began in 1998 when he served as a legislative assistant for the late, great Senator Bob Dole. Franz himself is a giant of this body. For 8 years, Franz handled issues from energy to environment, to climate change and natural resources. It was also in Senator Byrd’s office that Franz cut his teeth on the complex appropriations process, learning from the master appropriator himself.

Franz’s career then took him to the office of former Senator Byron Dorgan of North Dakota, where he was a trusted senior energy policy advisor, and finally joining the Water Appropriations Subcommittee before finally joining my own office in March of 2011.
Franz’s list of legislative accomplishments is long and impressive and reflects his deep grasp of policy and the mechanics of politics. He helped to shape elements of the Energy Policy Act of 2005 and the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007. He was central to establishing refined fuel economy standards for our Nation’s automobiles and played a key role in the Recovery Act, a massive effort that helped pull our Nation out of the depths of a recession.

Franz is a person of ideas and vision. His vision for our country has led to policies that have made our Nation cleaner, more innovative, and more secure. Likewise, his vision in my Senate office has made our team more efficient, more effective, and more successful. Franz has played a key role in shaping my office early on, helping to create a team-based structure and the positive culture of our legislative staff.

He also introduced me to the valuable concept of having an office built around and relying on expert legislative fellows, including, in particular, fellows from the American Association for the Advancement of Science, whose incredible expertise and deep knowledge of matters has been invaluable in advancing technology and science policy in my last 8 years. In total, Franz has mentored more than 15 fellows during his time in the Senate—13 of them are AAAS fellows in my own office. I have been attestuated individually and collectively to the reach, scope, and power of his guidance and mentorship to them.

Franz is also a master of appropriations—an arcane process that even the most seasoned legislative veterans should admit that they don’t completely understand. He brought his wealth of experience to our team, taking the reins of the Federal budget and appropriations process and building from the ground up the complex, detailed appropriations system that we use to this day. There is no question that Franz’s expertise and the time he dedicated to building this meticulous system has made me a more effective member of the Senate Appropriations Committee and led to countless wins for the State of Delaware—from funding for critical transportation improvements and investments in our first responders to support that has helped to establish the University of Delaware’s manufacturing institute of the University of Delaware and to fully fund science and R&D projects around the country and in my home State.

Beyond Franz’s technical expertise, nothing better exemplifies his character than the patience and dedication with which he has taught others about the appropriations process. Each year, Franz hosts “Appropriations Bootcamp 101” to teach new staff members the ins and outs of this riveting and complex process of working in the Senate. He has even developed a legendary method for teaching staff about appropriations by using hand-drawn and colored stick figures to explain funding allocations for each Appropriations subcommittee. For the record, the legislative branch gets just one marble.

Franz’s patience extends far beyond the annual appropriations process. He has making it fun even when the most seasoned legislative veterans consider this a daunting and straightforwardly wearing, even in the most trying of circumstances. One of those more trying circumstances occurred at a staff outing just a few years ago. Franz had driven a couple of other members of our team, and on their way home, his car broke down. The group decided to push start the car, going down a hill to get momentum, while a junior staffer manned the wheel. Unfortunately, the lack of power steering made it impossible to get speed. After a good strong push, the car rolled right down the hill and into a tree. Franz very calmly said: Don’t worry about it. It is not a problem; it is all going to be fine—even when the front end of his car was unrecognizable. From this experience, Franz’s patience is characterized by a grace that he has imparted on all of us, even in some of the most tumultuous times here in the Senate.

One of the unique things about Franz is that when he encounters a policy problem, he doesn’t think about somebody who knows him or has worked with him, they talk about the ways in which he has gone out of his own way to help them and mentor them over the years. So many people in the Senate view Franz not just as a friend or colleague but as someone who they know has helped them in their careers and someone who has shown them the ropes and invested time in supporting them and helping them succeed. One member of my team described it this way:

Franz has an uncanny ability to take the time necessary to help. He enables us to do our jobs and do them well. We get meaningful things done, and that’s because of the wisdom Franz has imparted.

In an environment here in the Senate that is at times fast paced, Franz takes the time to invest in younger people. He sees potential in staff and imparts knowledge and experience, even when we are just trying to keep him busy just meeting his own commitments. For example, Franz took it upon himself to create a manual for the new fellows who work in my office every year. The manual, which should be required reading for every new Senate staffer, describes how to write a bill and important things about the process of working in the Senate.

He also maintains the Capitol Hill Urban Dictionary, which he shares with new staff and interns to help them demystify the terminology that is often used, but rarely explained. Franz understands phrases like “en bloc” or “move the needle.” It explains, for example, what to do when asked: Do you have language on that.

Franz embraces the importance of teaching the next generation of Capitol Hill staff how to do their job well. I think that is truly his greatest legacy. He has been one of the key champions of younger staff members who he has believed in, invested in, and helped to train who are now working everywhere from the Senate to the House, to the Department of Defense, to running a non-profit in Kenya.

Each year, Franz and his wonderful wife Lisa host an annual gathering at their home for a growing community of current and former fellows and, literally, dozens of colleagues—folks who have shared experiences, who care about policy, who like a good geeky joke, and who enjoy helping each other and developing and sustaining each other’s careers.

That is just the kind of person Franz is. He has impacted people—something that was never more evident than at his wedding to Lisa a few years ago, which I was deeply honored to have the chance to officiate. In addition to their friends and family, guests that day included former Senator Dorsey Hall, folks who knew Franz early in his career, dozens of individuals who mentored him, and people from all walks of life who support Franz and Lisa and care about them. It was a testament to the community that Franz has created, both inside and outside the Senate.

Franz cares deeply about this institution. He cares about policies, and he cares about people. He is always looking for ways to bridge the partisan divide and make this broken piece work better. It hasn’t always been easy. Like many of us, Franz has struggled with the slowing pace of legislative progress in the Senate in recent years and its increasingly divisive nature. It says so much about him and his faith in us and in this institution that he is leaving his Senate career to go work on these very issues, helping to lead the Bipartisan Policy Center in advancing bipartisan policy solutions to address the challenges facing our Nation and the institution of the Senate.

He has made such a mark that he is known throughout this institution by a single name. Few people are known by just one name—Bono, Noah, Cher, Franz. With Franz leaving the Senate, I promise to continue to do my part here to bridge what divides us and to do the important work required of us. That includes passage of the Master Limited Partnerships Parity Act, important bipartisan legislation that will level the tax playing field for clean energy, which Franz has worked on for Congress as long as I have been here—work that I intend to finish.

While I am sad today to see Franz leave my office in the Senate, he will be deeply missed by everyone on my staff and everyone who has benefited from his wisdom, but I am also excited to see the inspiring things he will accomplish in his next chapter.

I want to thank Franz for his dedication, his leadership, and his expertise. I want to thank his family for sharing him with us these past 8 years in my office, and these 2 decades here in the Senate. He inspires me every day to be a better and more thoughtful, more careful, and more caring legislator. He leaves a deep and positive impact on all of us that we will not soon forget.

Thank you, Franz. You will be deeply missed.

Thank you, Mr. President. I yield the floor.

JUDICIAL NOMINATIONS

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Mr. President, I rise today in opposition to three circuit court nominees who will receive votes on the floor this week: Allison Jones Rushing, nominated to the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals; Chad Readler, nominated to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals; and Eric Murphy, also nominated to the Sixth Circuit.

I want to begin by addressing how these nominations were handled and the ongoing disregard for Senate norms and traditions by Republican leadership. It’s the change in how blue slips are treated. Blue slips work. The blue slip ensures that the interests of home state Senators are respected when it comes to judicial nominees from their States.

However, the blue slip process helps guarantee that the White House nominates well-qualified, mainstream individuals to key seats on the circuit and district courts, and it prevents the selection of nominees who do not reside in the circuit in which they are slated to serve.

In the past century, before President Trump took office, only five judges had ever been confirmed with only one blue slip; two were by a Democratic chair over the objection of a Republican, then in the minority. The other three instances occurred when a Republican chairman overruled a Democratic Senator.

In fact, Democratic chairs have never moved a judicial nominee to confirmation over the objection of a Republican Senator. Let me say that again: Democratic chairs have never confirmed a judicial nominee without a blue slip from a Republican Senator.

However, since President Trump took office, 10 circuit court nominees have received hearings, and four have been confirmed over the objection of Democratic home State Senators. In just over 2 years, Republicans are on their way to doubling the number of judges confirmed over the objection of home State Senators than have been confirmed in the last 100 years.

This week we are considering both Mr. Readler and Mr. Murphy who lack blue slips from Ohio’s Senior Senator, my friend and colleague Senator Brown.

Senator Brown’s opposition was not unreasonable; in fact, Senator Brown worked with the White House for weeks in an effort to find consensus picks for the Sixth Circuit.

But the White House refused to cooperate, and he was left with no choice but to withhold his blue slip. In doing so, Senator Brown could not support nominees who have actively worked to strip Ohioans of their rights. Special interests already have armies of lobbyists and lawyers on their side, they don’t need judges in their pockets.

Further, when the majority did move forward on the nominations of Mr. Readler and Mr. Murphy, the two appeared on the same panel at the same hearing. With 5-minute rounds of questioning, these stacked circuit court hearings make it all but impossible for Senators on the committee to thoroughly vet judicial nominees, and that, in turn, makes it impossible for this body to fulfill its obligation of providing advice and consent.

Ms. Rushing’s nomination is also the product of a departure from Senate norms. Then-Chairman GRASSLEY held Ms. Rushing’s hearing on October 17, 2018, during an extended Senate recess. Only two Senators questioned Ms. Rushing. Mr. Grassley was present to question the nominee.

These process violations matter. They matter because they impact the quality of the nominees we are considering and the ability of the nominee to reflect the State and community to which they are being nominated.

We have already seen several nominees who have had no judicial experience, and others with no trial experience whatsoever. We have seen nominees who have been rated unqualified for lack of experience and also for lack of judgement, ethical problems, and issues with impartiality and temperament.

This isn’t a partisan issue. This is an issue that should concern Senators from both sides of the aisle. At a time when Americans increasingly distrust the institutions of our government, we should not be degrading the Federal judiciary with unqualified and ideological nominees.

Turning to the nominees themselves, I first want to discuss Allison Rushing. Ms. Rushing is only 36 years old. In fact, she has practiced law for only 9 years. She has never tried a case in the Fourth Circuit. She has been nominated, and she was not even admitted to practice in the Fourth Circuit until 2017; yet she is being nominated to serve on a Federal circuit court.

Even in her limited experience, Ms. Rushing has demonstrated strong ideological views. For instance, in 2013, Ms. Rushing spoke for the Supreme Court’s decision to strike down a key provision of the Defense of Marriage Act. She claimed that Justice Kennedy’s opinion was in the majority in a way that calls bigotry to lie that homosexuality does not comport with Judeo-Christian morality.” Ms. Rushing also demonstrated her hostility to the rights of employees in a brief she submitted in a 2018 Supreme Court case. Ms. Rushing argued that employment agreements requiring employees to waive their rights to go to court as a condition of employment should be allowed, because most people don’t have a choice to turn down a job.

Ms. Rushing’s view prevents employees who have entered arbitration agreements from bringing lawsuits against their employers, even if the employers have violated their rights or fired them against the law.

As the dissent pointed out, Ms. Rushing’s position risked leading to “the under-enforcement of federal and state statutes designed to advance the well-being of vulnerable workers.”

I next would like to address the nomination of Chad Readler. Mr. Readler previously headed the Justice Department’s Civil Division. In that position, he defended some of the most troubling policies this administration has implemented. He defended the President’s decision to end the DACA program, the policy to separate immigrant children from their parents, and the President’s Muslim travel ban.

Most concerning, however, is that Mr. Readler led the administration’s efforts to overturn the Affordable Care Act. Mr. Readler argued that the healthcare law’s protections for pre-existing conditions should be struck down. Even Senator LAMAR ALEXANDER called the arguments made in Mr. Readler’s brief “as far-fetched as any I’ve ever heard.”

Finally, the Senate is voting on Eric Murphy to the Sixth Circuit. As the chief appellate lawyer for the State of Ohio, Mr. Murphy led the State’s defense of its law banning same-sex marriage, which was struck down by the Supreme Court in Obergefell v. Hodges. Justice Kennedy famously saying: “Barely four years ago, Mr. Murphy made a forceful argument that my marriage was unconstitutional. As the attorney tasked with defending Ohio’s discriminatory ban on same-sex marriage, he used dog-whistles . . . [If] Murphy had been successful, [my husband and I, and tens of thousands of couples like us, would have been denied the right to marry and forced to live as second-class citizens.”

Mr. Murphy also challenged Ohio’s defense of restrictive voting laws, including the Ohio law allowing the State to purge eligible voters if they missed voting in just one Federal election, and he has assayed a troubling record on women’s reproductive rights, arguing for instance in support of a 20-week abortion ban, which he claimed would create “at most, an incidental burden” on a woman’s right to make her own reproductive health care decisions.

The three nominees before the Senate exemplify the Trump administration’s efforts to stack our courts with nominees who are far outside the judicial mainstream. I believe they will not protect the rights of all Americans and should not be confirmed. I will vote no on each of these nominees, and I hope my colleagues will do the same.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Ohio.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I rise to speak on the judicial nomination coming up and the cloture vote on the other nominee.

With both nominees, I offered the White House an opportunity to choose two more moderate nominees for Ohio, both of whom had been vetted by a bipartisan commission Senator PORTMAN and I had, and the White House said they would rather pick these two extremist judges—these two young, far-right judges who have attacked America's healthcare and have attacked the consumer protection on preexisting condition.

Judges are making decisions right now—very fortunately. As Members of the Senate, we all have good coverage and health insurance—that try to take insurance away from millions of Americans and several thousands in my State, even as they have tried to eliminate the consumer protections for those people who have preexisting conditions. There are millions of Americans who are anxious about holding onto their insurance because they yet sick a lot and it is expensive to take care of them. They are afraid of having their insurance canceled, and they can't get insurance because of a preexisting condition, and this Congress tried to repeal that law and it failed.

Now, Senator MCCONNELL has turned to the Federal Judiciary, and the President of the United States seems to think the only way to eliminate the consumer protection for those with preexisting conditions is through the Judiciary. Judges are making decisions right now, on civil rights, on women's rights, on LGBT rights, on healthcare, on sentencing, and on corporate power—decisions that could limit those rights for a generation.

We know that the Federal Judiciary already puts its thumb on the scales of justice to support corporations over workers, to support Wall Street over consumers, and to support insurance companies over patients. We know that the Pretrial and the Supreme Court have done that dozens of times. We know that the Federal Judiciary, increasingly, is looking like a group of far-right, young, detached people who never go out and get their public opinion pass, as Lincoln said. They never consider what the public wants in this country.

Chad Readler, the nominee whom we will vote on in a moment, took it upon himself as a Jones Day lawyer—one of the greatest law firms in the country, headquartered in Cleveland—to write an op-ed as a private citizen saying we should allow the execution of 16-year-olds. He actually wasn't that specific. He implied it could be even younger than that. He said we would allow the execution of teenagers. At a time when this body—something we should be proud of—took important bipartisan steps forward on sentencing reform that was supported by the White House, supported by a lot of Republicans, and supported by virtually all Democrats, how do we turn around and put someone on the bench for life who supports executing children? How does that compute? How can we do that?

He argued it wasn't the far-right think tank for the elimination of "Golden Week" in Ohio, a period where people can vote early. They can register and vote early. It was passed by a Republican legislature. It has bipartisan support, but not by this right-wing nominee who thinks it is OK to eliminate people's right to vote and restrict it. He defended restrictive voter ID. He defended the squeezing of provisory ballot laws.

On the other, the 54th anniversary tomorrow of Bloody Sunday in Selma, AL, it is shameful to put on the bench another judge who will rubberstamp modern-day literacy tests and poll taxes. Fundamentally, it is the same purpose. You find ways to take people's voting rights away. You find ways to disqualify people who want to vote.

Chad Readler's record on healthcare is clear. He has been a ringleader in the Republican effort to take away the protections on preexisting conditions for all Americans. He wrote the White House's brief. We all know that now. He wrote a brief that nobody else above him at the Justice Department was willing to do. Three people refused to write it. One actually resigned. The next day, he was rewarded by this lifetime appointment as a Sixth Circuit Federal judge. Remember that. The White House rewarded him after suggesting that we block the consumer protections for preexisting conditions for millions of Americans and for hundreds of thousands in Virginia, Arkansas, and in Ohio. Millions of Americans would lose their consumer protections under his views, and the next day the White House decided to reward him with a judgeship.

As I said, three career attorneys withdrew from the case. One resigned altogether in objection to doing this. Senator ALEXANDER, our friend from Tennessee, who sits near where Senator KAINES is sitting, said this was just amazingly awful language that Chad Readler had suggested.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator's time has expired.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak for an additional 2 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, judges are deciding the future of America's healthcare right now, the right to vote right now, civil rights right now, LGBTQ rights right now, women's rights right now. Judges around the country are deciding that. We can't afford to put another out-of-the-mainstream judge on the court—and he is clearly out of the mainstream among Ohio lawyers, among Ohio judges, among Ohio citizens—who will not defend America's right to healthcare.

I ask my colleagues to think about the families you promised to vote for. If any of you in your campaigns, if any of you in discussions you have had with your constituents, if any of you in your public statements, and if any of you running for office committed that you would support consumer protections for preexisting conditions, the only way you can prove you actually believe that is by voting no on Chad Readler in about 1 minute from now. If you really believe in preserving preexisting condition consumer protections so you don't see in your State—in Tennessee, Virginia, Arkansas, and Ohio—millions of Americans lose their insurance, then your only way to support what you promise is to vote no on Chad Readler.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mrs. BLACKBURN). Under the previous order, all postcloture time is expired. The question is, Will the Senate advise and consent to the Readler nomination?

Mr. KAINES. Madam President, I ask for the yeas and nays.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there a sufficient second?

The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk called the roll.

Mr. DURBIN. I announce that the Senator from West Virginia (Mr. MANCHIN) is necessarily absent.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any other Senators in the Chamber desiring to vote?

The result was announced—yeas 52, nays 47, as follows:

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — SENATE

March 6, 2019

CLOTURE MOTION

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Pursuant to rule XXII, the Chair lays before the Senate the pending cloture motion, which the clerk will state.

The bill clerk read as follows:

CLOTURE MOTION

We, the undersigned Senators, in accordance with the provisions of rule XXII of the Standing Rules of the Senate, do hereby move to bring to a close debate on the nomination of Eric E. Murphy, of Ohio, to be United States Circuit Judge for the Sixth Circuit.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. By unanimous consent, the mandatory quorum call has been waived.

The question is, Is it the sense of the Senate that debate on the nomination of Eric E. Murphy, of Ohio, to be United States Circuit Judge for the Sixth Circuit, shall be brought to a close? The yeas and nays are mandatory under the rule. The clerk will call the roll.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The senior assistant bill clerk called the roll.

Mr. DURBIN. I announce that the Senator from West Virginia (Mr. MANCHIN) is necessarily absent.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. CRAMER). Are there any other Senators in the Chamber desiring to vote?

The yeas and nays resulted—yeas 53, nays 46, as follows:

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the nomination.

The bill clerk read the nomination of Eric E. Murphy, of Ohio, to be United States Circuit Judge for the Sixth Circuit.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska.

TRIBUTE TO DON YOUNG

Mr. SULLIVAN. Mr. President, it is Alaskan of the Week time on the Senate floor, my favorite time of the week to talk about someone who has made a difference in my State. As you know, and as all the pages know, I try to come down to the floor every week to talk about someone who is in Alaska doing a great job for America, for their community, for the State, and what I believe is the best State in the country. I know we can all debate that.

Some of you might take issue a little bit with the characterization of the best State, but we certainly have some bragging rights on some elements that make the State of Alaska in America. For example, right now, the Iditarod, the Last Great Race, is underway, with 52 mushers and their dog teams—up to 14 dogs—barreling for well over 900 miles across the State of Alaska toward Nome in some of the most harsh, difficult, and rugged terrain in the world. That is just one of the many things that makes us unique. We have the Iditarod, the Northern Lights that dance in the sky, communities that still hunt whales to feed their villages, which they have been doing for centuries. We have the most fish and the longest coastline. As a matter of fact, our coastline is longer than the rest of the lower 48’s coastline combined. We have the tallest mountain in the world, and we have a mountain of a Congressman named DON YOUNG.

Usually, Alaskans of the Week are reserved for people who aren’t so visible, who aren’t legends, who maybe are not even in Congress, who haven’t been sworn in, in the Senate or in the House, DON YOUNG was here. In fact, according to Roll Call, there are at least 75 Members of Congress who were not even born when DON YOUNG came to Washington. That is an amazing achievement.

He has served Alaska and our country so well for 46 years that it was only right to feature him as the Alaskan of the Week and to make a special Alaskan of the Week poster with the young DON YOUNG and President Ford and many others and Don in uniform. We just love DON YOUNG in Alaska. Congrats to DON.

Where do we begin to talk about Congressman YOUNG and the enormous impact he has had on Alaska and America? Let me start in Central California, where he was raised on a small ranch. He began the hard work of ranching, “My dad was a good man,” Don said, “but he believed that when you turned 7, you became a hired man.” So he worked sunup to sundown. It was hot, riddled with snakes, and poison ivy. When he was still young, his dad read him the book “The Old Man and the Wild” by Jack London. Alaska sounded really good to DON YOUNG. It was cold, not hot, and there were lots of dogs. He loved dogs. There were no snakes and no poison ivy.

After he got out of the Army in 1959, the year Alaska became a State, he heeded the call of the wild and headed up the Alcan—much of it was still unpaved—in a brandnew Plymouth Pury. Alaska would never be the same.

He bought forest. He owned a skating rink for a short time, but the BIA school needed a teacher in Fort Yukon, way up in the Interior on the Yukon River—a place he still, to this day, calls home and has a home there. In fact, he jokes that he is the only Congressman who uses an outhouse when he goes home. Anyway, he went to coach and teach fifth grade. He became a trapper, a gold miner, and a tugboat captain. Eventually, he met Lou, his wife, who stayed by his side for 46 years until she passed in 2009. Now he has found another partner in Ann. Thank you, Ann, for continuing to share him with all of us.

DON, with Lou’s prompting, caught the political bug. He served in the State House in Alaska. He served in the State Senate in Alaska. He learned some good lessons there; namely, that his time in the State Senate taught him that he was more of a House guy, where bills move fast, where elections are right around the corner. No matter what, and where the action is.

Along the way, they had two wonderful daughters, which to DON are still the most important things in his life. Then Lou talked him into running for Congress, and with the help of people like my wife’s grandmother who was an avid Don Young supporter, he began to introduce himself to a wider audience. Don Young made a trip to Alaska that took the life of then-Congressman Nick Begich. Don Young was appointed to his seat in 1973. He won the next special election, and because he has been so effective for our State—he passed more bills mostly to help Alaska—and because he knows so many of our fellow Alaskans by name because he is fiercely loyal, and because he has helped hundreds of his fellow Alaskans since 1973, he has been reelected every year since. I can recount many elections that is, but it is a lot.

He is consistently ranked among the Congress’s most effective legislators. He was just recently ranked the most effective legislator, No. 1 in the House, by the nonpartisan group the Center for Effective Lawmaking. Heck, even in his freshman year, Ralph Nader said he was the most powerful Congressman in the Congress. I imagine that he was the most powerful Congressman in his freshman year, Ralph Nader said. He was just recently ranked the most effective legislator since 1973, he has been reelected every year since he was elected. He has never, for a second, lost his love for our great State. He could have done anything, and he chose to stay, year after year, decade after decade, to serve the people of our State and the people of America. He triumphed.

Every day I try to do something for somebody in some group. And every day I try to learn something new. We all go into theBody in some group. And every day I try to leave behind [here on this Earth] are our accomplishments. Well, he has notched numerous accomplishments, and he is far from finished. If I had my guess, I would also say he is far from finished with some of his famous theatrics too: brandishing walrus parts and steel traps on the floor of the House, maybe an altercation or two with colleagues that may or may not involve a sharp weapon, and campaign commercials that border on the humorous. Don Young is not finished speaking his mind and giving us Alaskans his heart.

It has been an honor to serve our great State next to this historic figure. So Congresswoman Young, for your service, for your mentorship, and friendship with me, thank you for all you have done for all of us in Alaska and in America.

Congratulations on being the longest serving Republican in the Congress in U.S. history today, and even more important, thank you and congratulations on being our Alaskan of the Week.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Delaware.

Mr. CARPER. Mr. President, before I was elected Governor of Delaware in 1992, I served in the House of Representatives for five terms. We have one congressional seat. Alaska is one of those States, as the Senator from Alaska, know what that also has one congressional seat.

I got to the House on January 3, 1983, and one of the first people I met there was Don Young. We ended up on the same committee together, not the Environment and Public Works we serve on today but the Merchant Marine and Fisheries, which has a lot of the same jurisdiction as the Environment and Public Works Committee.

So I remember going to Alaska with him and a bunch of our colleagues and just going through Prudhoe and just seeing all kinds of places around the Senator’s beautiful State and going back with my family years later.

My colleague is also a colonel in the Marines. I call him “colonel.” He knows that John Barrasso and I like music and that every now and then, we will find some way to work some music lyrics into what we have to say. In listening to the Senator talk about Don Young, it reminds me of a great song by Bob Dylan, called “Forever Young,” which is a classic song. You can find anything on the internet these days, and someone was nice enough to pull the first verse of the lyrics of “Forever Young” by Bob Dylan.

It goes something like this:

May God bless and keep you always
May your wishes all come true
May you always do for others
And let others do for you
May you build a ladder to the stars
And climb on every rung
May you stay forever young
Forever young; forever young
May you stay forever young

Don Young, congratulations from your Delaware buddy and former colleague, Thank you.

What I really think we need to do is to join hands here in the Senate and sing “Kumbaya” and get our act together now that things have calmed down a little bit from earlier today.

CLIMATE CHANGE

Mr. President, I rise to speak this afternoon on the need for Congress to take some bold action in addressing climate change.

Earlier today, a number of our Republican friends were here on the Senate floor to chastise the Green New Deal, which is a resolution that was introduced by my good friend, the junior Senator from Massachusetts. I came down and listened for a bit. For a moment there, the conversation got a little bit heated, as our Presiding Officer may recall and, I am certain, as our staff recalls. I listened as several of our Republican friends denounced the resolution and claimed it would bankrupt the country and, in almost the same breath, claimed that they supported climate action without having provided a whole lot of tangible details about what actions they do support.

On several occasions, I have heard our friends on the other side of the aisle suggest that the Green New Deal is somehow preventing the Senate from doing work to produce results on climate action. If you had watched my Democratic colleagues during that debate, you would have noticed a little bit of frustration because we have long been eager to work with Republican colleagues on climate solutions, and we would gladly welcome the reality of how we could work in a bipartisan way on meaningful climate actions.

As the adage goes, actions speak louder than words; and for many of us over the past two decades, the Democrats have tried to put forth different climate solutions. Some of them have employed market forces, which is usually my favorite approach. Some have employed investing in technology. I like that on a lot too. Some have also set more strict standards, and sometimes that is part of the solution. Yet, when it comes to generating support for these policies, we don’t seem to get much support from our friends on the other side of the aisle. At least we didn’t today. I know this because I have sponsored quite a bit of legislation. I have sponsored pieces of legislation that have enacted many of these policies that I am talking about.

Despite these political setbacks, I remain ready; I remain willing; and I remain eager to work with our Republican colleagues to find approaches that work for them and that work for our planet. I am going to keep trying. I am going to keep trying to talk to people who do not give up, and I am not going to give up in this instance either.

To say that a nonbinding resolution of bold ideas and ambitious goals is somehow keeping Congress from taking real action on climate change, with all due respect, is just not true. What is true is that my Democratic colleagues and I and, quite frankly, I think, the American people just don’t see the urgency and the passion from our Republican friends to act on climate change. What is also true is that our country can no longer afford political leaders to give lip service to the growing climate crisis. We need real action, and we need it now.

I have another chart here on sea level rise. Since 1993, sea levels have risen by 3 inches, which doesn’t sound like much. By 2100, if we do nothing, we could see the sea level rise by 6 feet or more. If I had the time, I would explain the science behind that large, enormous detail. This will cause ecological devastation along our coasts if we don’t act. An estimated $3.6 trillion in cumulative damage to U.S. coastal properties and infrastructure could result from rising seas and extreme weather. I live in a State that is the lowest lying State in America. The State is sinking while the seas around us are rising, and that isn’t a good combination. For us, this is up close and personal.

We also raise a lot of corn and soybeans, I am told, in Sussex County, DE, in southern Delaware. We may raise more soybeans than just about any county this side of the Mississippi River. According to the “National Climate Assessment,” with more frequent and intense rains that are combined with rising temperatures, farmers will be likely to experience a reduction in corn and soybean yields by up to 25 percent.

I mention this because I talk to a lot of farmers in our State during the course of a week or a month, and I can’t tell you how many times I have heard this year about the farmers who planted corn last year, and it rained. Then they had to replant. It rained some more, and they tried to replant again, but it rained some more, and they were done. From that point on, they had no crops or they had greatly diminished crops. They used crop insurance, which, fortunately, was available. I think that these facts make clear that every sector in our economy is or will be disrupted by climate change if we don’t act now.

We have had a GDP loss. This is the loss in the GDP from the great recession of about a decade ago, and this is the forecast for the GDP loss by 2100 if we stay on the course that we are on. Basically, it will be twice as big a hit to the GDP because of climate change than what we suffered in the great recession.

Earlier today, there was a common news release that we put out, and I am going to quote it. “Neither global efforts to mitigate the causes of climate change nor regional efforts to adapt to the impacts currently approach the scales needed to avoid substantial damages to the U.S. economy, environment, and human health and well-being over the coming decades.”

Think about that. I am going to read that again: “Neither global efforts to mitigate the causes of climate change nor regional efforts to adapt to the impacts currently approach the scales needed to avoid substantial damages to the U.S. economy, environment, and human health and well-being over the coming decades.”

That is not some statement from Greenpeace, the Sierra Club, or any number of environmental organizations. That is not the statement of any of my colleagues on this side of the aisle in the House or in the Senate. That is right out of the Government Accountability Office’s high-risk list that we have for the country. The GAO released its high-risk ways of losing money and raising money in our country. Again, one of the high-risk areas the GAO identified in this year’s report was our Federal Government’s fiscal exposure to climate change risks. So there you have it from the non-partisan GAO, which is probably going to be a surprise to a lot of people.

We have two options here. We can either confront this challenge head-on and reduce carbon emissions, enhance resiliency, and support clean energy jobs or we can pretend the science is not real and do nothing. We will threaten the future of our children and our grandchildren. Sadly, with our current President in the White House, despite what you may have heard today again and again, our Republican friends—not all of them but too many of them—have taken the latter option. They have decided repeatedly to retreat from this threat and ignore the clear signs of climate change.

Instead of pursuing ideas to address climate change and protect Americans from its effects, we have seen the current administration promote policies that undermine the climate science and increase our dependency on dirty energy. These actions reduce U.S. competitiveness in the global clean energy economy, and they threaten the health of every single American. Unfortunately, most of our Republican friends have been applauding this President with every one of these actions.

The Democrats know that we cannot shrink away from this problem. We want to build on the work we started with President Obama and Vice President Biden when legislation was leading our country and when we set actions in motion to put our country on a path of net zero emissions for carbon.

During the Obama administration, starting with the Recovery Act right at the end of the great recession, the Federal Government provided economic incentives and smart regulations to support market investments in clean energy. Today, workers, consumers are paying less for energy, and more than 3 million people went to work today in the clean energy sector of our country. One of them, until a couple of years ago, was our older son, Christopher, who worked for a big company called Honeywell. The job for him and the folks with whom he worked was to work on large building energy conservation projects all over the Northeast. He did that for a number of years.

There are millions of jobs that are provided in that sector—millions of good-paying jobs. As folks are displaced, whether they happen to be coal miners or other folks who are displaced because of a loss of employment opportunities in that industry, we have a moral obligation to make sure that those men and women are retrained and retooled so they can do some of these jobs in which there happen to be a lot of demand. Our colleagues who work in the solar panel industry—in the solar energy industry—or in offshore wind or in energy conservation buildings. There is a
My hope is that our Republican friends will translate their words into actions by joining us in working on real climate solutions. Once again, I invite all of our Republican colleagues to join our resolution, which simply states that climate change is real, that we as humans have a fair amount to do with it, and that Congress needs to act.

There are three things—that climate change is real; that we as humans have quite a bit to do with that; and that Congress needs to do something to respond to this threat. From there, let’s have a meaningful, fact-based debate as to what actions we must take.

I have a piece of paper that reads for me to end with this, but I am not going to end with this. I am going to say this now and lead into something else. Calls to take climate action should not divide us. This is an issue that should unite us. Senator Enzi and I agree on 80 percent of the Nation’s electric-generating capacity. Think about that. At the end of 2008, Barack Obama was about to become President. At that time, wind and solar industries were, respectively, the first and second fastest growing sectors in this country. I will say that again. I learned that today the wind and solar industries are, respectively, the first and second fastest growing sectors in this country. I was surprised to hear that.

Here is another fact. At the end of 2008, before President Obama took office, wind and other renewables, other than hydro, made up about 3 percent of our Nation’s electric-generating capacity. Think about that. At the end of 2008, Barack Obama was about to become President. At that time, wind and other renewables, other than hydro, made up about 3 percent of the Nation’s electric-generating capacity. Wind power alone was at 1 percent. When President Obama and Joe Biden left office, renewables other than hydropower were hitting 10-percent capacity, with wind power making up about 7 percent. I learned today that wind power is expected to make up almost 10 percent of our Nation’s electricity in 2 years, not in two decades but in 2 years. We have come a long way in a hurry, and I think that is only going to accelerate.

These substantial increases in clean energy economic opportunities aren’t the result of markets just being markets; they were because we put smart policy in place and because we in this body invested in smart policy. We had leadership that believed that climate change was a threat, and we had an opportunity to do something good for our planet and, at the same time, create opportunities—employment opportunities—across the country, which is what happened.

These advances in clean energy are great, but much more must be done to address the growing climate crisis that we face. That is why the Democrats continue to support policies that will reduce our Nation’s carbon footprint, will help to create a fair economy, and will support those who are the most vulnerable to the effects of climate change.

My hope is that our Republican friends will translate their words into actions by joining us in working on real climate solutions. Once again, I invite all of our Republican colleagues to join our resolution, which simply states that climate change is real, that we as humans have a fair amount to do with it, and that Congress needs to act.

There are three things—that climate change is real; that we as humans have quite a bit to do with that; and that Congress needs to do something to respond to this threat. From there, let’s have a meaningful, fact-based debate as to what actions we must take.
The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. MERKLEY. I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority leader.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that all postcloture time on theMurphy nomination expire at 12:30 p.m., Thursday, March 7; further, that if confirmed, the motion to reconsider be considered made and laid upon the table and the President be immediately notified of the Senate’s action; further, that following disposition of the Murphy nomination, the Senate resume consideration of the Fleming nomination, the cloture motion on the nomination be withdrawn, the time until 1:45 be equally divided in the usual form, and the Senate vote on the nomination at 1:45; finally, that if confirmed, the motion to reconsider be considered made and laid upon the table and the President be immediately notified of the Senate’s action.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION

MORNING BUSINESS

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to legislative session for a period of morning business, with Senators permitted to speak therein for up to 10 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

VOTE EXPLANATION

Mr. HEINRICH. Mr. President, on March 4 and 5, 2019, I was unavoidably absent due to illness during rollcall votes Nos. 34 and 35. Had I been present, I would have voted nay.

TRIBUTE TO SAM MAMET

Mr. BENNET. Mr. President, I rise to honor the career of Sam Mamet, who recently announced his retirement as the executive director of the Colorado Municipal League. Sam spent the better half of his adult life working to empower communities and local governments across Colorado. It is not an understatement to say that every corner of the State is incredibly grateful for his work.

Sam joined the Colorado Municipal League in 1979, when he spearheaded the organization’s advocacy in the State capitol. After 26 years in that position, Sam would go on to spend the rest of his time in the organization as its executive director. There, he worked tirelessly to foster partnerships across the State and the country that have benefited Colorado’s 270 towns and cities. He also spent time as an adjunct professor of political science at CU Denver.

Throughout my time in public service, I have always appreciated Sam’s thoughtful approach to policymaking, his collaborative spirit, and his unwavering advocacy for our local communities. When I worked in local government, I always knew I could count on Sam to ensure that our perspective would be heard at the State and Federal level. After joining the Senate, I have had the benefit of his advice across issues, ranging from infrastructure to tax policy.

Going forward, I will miss Sam’s wit, humility, and sense of humor—tributes in short supply in our politics today.

Although Sam is retiring from the Municipal League, I suspect he will continue to serve the State of Colorado with the same passion that has characterized his career. We wish Sam well in retirement and extend our deepest thanks for his lifetime of public service.

200TH ANNIVERSARY OF WASHINGTON PARISH

Mr. CASSIDY. Mr. President, today I wish to acknowledge the 200th anniversary of the Union Parish, the Parish that I represent. There is no doubt that the parish is Mrs. Colleen McGuire.

In 1998, she was hand-selected to command the 705th Military Police Battalion, Fort Leavenworth, KS. One notable chapter in Colleen’s career came in the fall of 1993, when she was assigned as the public affairs officer for Joint Task Force-Somalia. In early October, two U.S. Army Black Hawk helicopters were shot down during a covert operation, which launched a 2-day battle that later became known as the Battle of Mogadishu. In the months that followed, Colleen played a pivotal role in telling the United States’ story that would later inspire several books and the movie “Black Hawk Down.”

Perhaps Colleen’s most notable achievements came as she shattered glass ceilings across the Army. Epitomizing the Montana pioneer spirit, she was the first female to assume command of the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Command, CID, serve as the provost marshal General of the Army, and take command of the U.S. Disciplinary Barracks in Fort Leavenworth KS. Not only did she command with distinction but she opened the door for aspiring women to follow in her footsteps. It is fitting that Colleen should be inducted into the U.S. Army Women’s Foundation Hall of Fame, and I am pleased that her accomplishments will be memorialized as an example for generations to come.

During her military service, she earned numerous awards. Colleen’s legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. MERKLEY. I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

After joining the Senate, I have had the benefit of his advice across issues, ranging from infrastructure to tax policy.

Going forward, I will miss Sam’s wit, humility, and sense of humor—tributes in short supply in our politics today.

Although Sam is retiring from the Municipal League, I suspect he will continue to serve the State of Colorado with the same passion that has characterized his career. We wish Sam well in retirement and extend our deepest thanks for his lifetime of public service.

200TH ANNIVERSARY OF WASHINGTON PARISH

Mr. CASSIDY. Mr. President, today I wish to acknowledge the 200th anniversary of the Union Parish, the Parish that I represent. There is no doubt that the parish is Mrs. Colleen McGuire.

In 1998, she was hand-selected to command the 705th Military Police Battalion, Fort Leavenworth, KS. One notable chapter in Colleen’s career came in the fall of 1993, when she was assigned as the public affairs officer for Joint Task Force-Somalia. In early October, two U.S. Army Black Hawk helicopters were shot down during a covert operation, which launched a 2-day battle that later became known as the Battle of Mogadishu. In the months that followed, Colleen played a pivotal role in telling the United States’ story that would later inspire several books and the movie “Black Hawk Down.”

Perhaps Colleen’s most notable achievements came as she shattered glass ceilings across the Army. Epitomizing the Montana pioneer spirit, she was the first female to assume command of the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Command, CID, serve as the provost marshal General of the Army, and take command of the U.S. Disciplinary Barracks in Fort Leavenworth KS. Not only did she command with distinction but she opened the door for aspiring women to follow in her footsteps. It is fitting that Colleen should be inducted into the U.S. Army Women’s Foundation Hall of Fame, and I am pleased that her accomplishments will be memorialized as an example for generations to come.

During her military service, she earned numerous awards. Colleen’s awards include the following: Legion of Merit with two oak-leaf clusters, the Bronze Star Medal, the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal with four oak-leaf clusters, the Joint Service Commendation Medal, the Army Commendation Medal with three oak-leaf clusters, the Army Achievement Medal with three oak-leaf clusters, the Iraqi Campaign Medal, the Senior Parachutist’s Badge, and the Senior Staff Identification Badge.

After 32 years of dedicated service, Colonel, in Kalspell, MT. She continues to serve as an inspirational leader in the community. On behalf of our grateful Nation, I thank her for her courage and selfless dedication to others as a hallmark for generation to come.

REMEMBERING KATHLEEN “MIKE” DALTON

Mr. HAWLEY. Mr. President, today I wish to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Joplin High School Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps, one of the oldest such programs in the United States.

At a time when our Nation faces extraordinary challenges at home and abroad, preparing the next generation is paramount. The future lays in the hands of our youth. Since 1919, Joplin High School JROTC has been developing outstanding citizens for Missouri through leadership development, discipline, and service.

Today, less than 1 percent of Americans serve in the military; yet, Joplin High School JROTC has 120 cadets who are part of the program's historic legacy under the leadership of Lt. Col. (Ret.) Joshua Reitz and 1SG (Ret.) Richard Banks. Some of these cadets will go on to put the lessons and leadership training they received into practice through service in the U.S. Armed Forces. Military service is not only a career, but a lifestyle full of continuous reward and knowledge. For those who choose the path of Military Service, we should thankful.

To the members of Eagle Battalion, I urge you to uphold your school’s core values of truth, honor, and loyalty. These values may be no guarantee of popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not warmth, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; not popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success.

The path of leadership is a difficult one and often lonely. America needs strong servant-leaders in the next generation willing to confront the challenges we face with courage, rooted in the principles that make our Nation great.

As your Senator, I have been given the solemn responsibility to nominate young women and men for placements at our nation’s academies. It is a duty I do not take lightly, knowing that these future leaders will be on the frontlines of securing American freedom. I encourage those of you who remembered that Mike refused to attend an event honoring her 90th birthday because she was so adamantly opposed to self-aggrandizement. The Alaska Women’s Hall of Fame recognized Mike as a “seemingly tireless activist whose efforts have made waves since her arrival in Alaska from Arizona in 1949 . . . As for Fairbanks, her home base for more than half a century Mike played a major part in shaping its social, political and economic future, as well as the state, while preserving a valuable part of our history.”

I thank my colleagues for the opportunity to share a brief glimpse into the extraordinary life of Mike Dalton in the U.S. Senate today.

STATMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. CARPER.

S. 674. A bill to amend title 23, United States Code, to establish a grant program for the installation of electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure along the National Highway System, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Environment and Public Works.

Mr. CARPER, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Mr. CARPER. Mr. President, Today I am introducing the “Clean Corridors Act of 2019.” This legislation authorizes $3 billion in grant funding to public entities for installing electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure along designated corridors.

Earlier this week, Chairman BARRASSO and I sent a letter to the full Senate requesting Senators’ priorities for a surface transportation bill reauthorization this Congress. The surface transportation bill is the primary authorization legislation for the programs of the Federal Highway Administration at the U.S. Department of Transportation, among other programs related to surface transportation.

As the Ranking Member on the U.S. Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works, this legislation is a reauthorization priority of my own.

Nearly two years ago, the Rocky Mountain Institute published a report that said re-installing electric vehicle charging infrastructure should be, quote, an “urgent priority in all states and major municipalities. Getting it right will require unprecedented cooperation by many stakeholder groups. The time to act is now.”

I agree. This legislation would provide grants for the installment of electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure along the National Highway System. This bill is the product of remarkable collaboration between stakeholders, and it will take us head-on in reducing emissions, improving air quality, and enhancing energy security and fuel choice. This legislation is endorsed by stakeholders from across the electric vehicle supply chain, including the National Electrical Manufacturers Association, Electric Drive Transportation Association, Edison Electric Institute, Auto Alliance, the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials, and the American Highway Users Alliance.

As I have stated before, the threat of climate change is greater than any one state, or region or country—we all have to do our part, and the federal government has a role to play. By deploying necessary electric and fuel cell vehicle charging infrastructure, and supporting growth of these needed technologies, doing so will help us lower the rate of emissions of carbon into our atmosphere.

Even better yet, this legislation will help us in our efforts to put the United States back in the driver’s seat of the world’s clean energy economy, while creating green manufacturing jobs here at home. This legislation is a true win-win for our environment and our economy, and it is my hope that the Senate will support this legislation and that it will be enacted this Congress.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE. This Act may be cited as the “Clean Corridors Act of 2019”.

SEC. 2. GRANTS FOR CHARGING AND FUELING INFRASTRUCTURE TO RENEW AND RECONNECT AMERICA FOR THE 21ST CENTURY.

(a) PURPOSE: FINDINGS—

(1) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this section is to establish a grant program to strategically deploy electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure along designated alternative fuel corridors that will be accessible to all drivers of zero emission vehicles.

(2) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(A) greater adoption of zero emission vehicles will help—

(i) reduce emissions and improve air quality; and

(ii) enhance energy security of the United States by expanding the use of zero emission fuels;

(B) enhance fuel choice and utilization of electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure in order to benefit consumers;

(C) ensure that the transportation infrastructure of the United States is equipped to manage the demands and anticipated future needs of the economy; and

(D) develop a new economic sector in the United States that will create middle class jobs;
(B) consumer and business adoption of zero emission vehicles depends in part on the availability of reliable and convenient fueling and charging infrastructure;
(C) electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure must be strategically deployed to ensure the deployment and adoption of zero emission fuels; and
(D) infrastructure owners and operators should prepare to meet the charging and fueling needs of electric vehicles and hydrogen vehicles.

(b) Grant Program.—Section 151 of title 23, United States Code, is amended—
(1) by striking "Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of the FAST Act, the Secretary shall" and inserting "The Secretary shall periodically, and at least every 3 years after the date of enactment of the Clean Corridors Act of 2019," and
(2) by inserting a new paragraph (4) to read as follows:
```````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````````
(ii) other provisions of Federal, State, and local law, as applicable.

(7) FEDERAL SHARE.—The Federal share of the cost of a project carried out with a grant under this section shall not exceed 20 percent of the total project cost.

(8) FUNDING.—There is authorized to be appropriated to carry out this subsection $300,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2019 through 2028.

By Mr. CARDIN:
S. 686. A bill to amend the Higher Education Act of 1965 to provide greater access to higher education for America’s students, to eliminate educational barriers for participation in a public service career, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. President, today, I am introducing the Strengthening American Communities (SAC) Act of 2019. My bill seeks to expand access to debt-free public service career pathways for Americans who want to serve their communities, States, or our Nation. No one should be denied the opportunity to serve their community as a law enforcement officer, public health practitioner, social worker, or educator out of fear or lack of the resources to afford the rising cost of an undergraduate education. As Congress moves towards reauthorizing the Higher Education Act this year, I intend for my bill to be a first step towards correcting public sector workforce disparities by enabling people to serve their communities without being hobbled by massive student loan debt, and by providing current public servants with the financial freedom to continue to heed their calling to service.

Every city, town, and rural community in the United States relies on individuals who choose to utilize their talents for the betterment of others while accepting the lower pay of public service careers. Our current system of indebting individuals can cause individuals to leave the workforce before they see any reward in the form of federal student loan forgiveness. As Congress moves forward with an overdue reauthorization of the Higher Education Act, I urge my colleagues to join in this effort to help individuals who are wholly committed to public service by supporting the Strengthening American Communities Act.

The SAC Act I am introducing today offers a new path for future public servants to earn their baccalaureate degree. Through a new partnership between Federal, State, and public and private, non-profit institutions of higher education, students will have the ability to receive the lower-paying public service career benefits. The Strengthening American Communities Act will formally end the Public Service Loan Forgiveness program and establish a long-term relationship of cooperation and friendship, based on the principle of equality in the public sector workforce and despite their years of service, the service these workers provided are not taken into consideration. I propose to accelerate the Public Service Loan Forgiveness program to provide more immediate student loan relief. For every two years of Federal or corresponding monthly Federal student loan payments, hard-working public sector employees will receive a percentage of their federal student loans forgiven, with 100 percent of the federal student loan balance being forgiven at the end of 10 years of service. With 99 percent of the initial round of PSLF applicants being rejected last year for loan forgiveness due to administrative barriers and misunderstanding of the rules of the program, Congress should work to accelerating Public Service Loan Forgiveness, therefore encouraging additional individuals to stay in the public sector workforce despite the lower-paying salaries, reduce their cost of borrowing for home and auto loans, and set aside additional money for their own retirement.

As Congress moves forward with an overdue reauthorization of the Higher Education Act, I urge my colleagues to join in this effort to help individuals who are wholly committed to public service by supporting the Strengthening American Communities Act. No individual willing to serve his or her community in a public service career should be forced to leave public service because of financial hardship.

S.J. Res. 13. A joint resolution to repeal the authorizations for use of military force against Iraq, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. KAINE. Mr. President. I am pleased today to introduce in the Senate, with my colleague Senator YOUNG, a bipartisan resolution to repeal the 1991 and 2002 Authorizations for Use of Military Force (AUMF) against Iraq. This legislation will formally end the authorizations for the Gulf and Iraq wars—28 and 17 years, respectively, after these AUMFs were first passed, reasserting Congress’ vital role in not only declaring wars, but in ending them. The repeal of these authorizations also recognizes the strong partnership the United States now has with a sovereign, democratic Iraq.

The United States is no longer at war with Iraq and our legal frameworks should reflect this reality as much as our policy frameworks, to include the Strategic Framework Agreement that Iraq and the United States signed in November 2018, which envisions the establishment of a long-term relationship of cooperation and friendship, based on the principle of equality in sovereignty and the rights and principles that are enshrined in the United Nations Charter.

Since 2014, U.S. troops have been in Iraq, alongside Iraqi forces, at the Government of Iraq’s request for assistance in combating the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS), current Administration officials, including Secretary Pompeo, Acting Secretary Shanahan and Commander of the United States Central Command, General Votel, have routinely emphasized that United States military forces remain in Iraq at the invitation of the Government of Iraq and in respect to its sovereignty. Recent presidential administrations have maintained that the 2002 AUMF only serves to “reinforce” any legal authority to combat ISIS provided by the 2001 AUMF and is not independently required to authorize any such activities. As such, repealing the 1991 AUMF and the 2002 AUMF would not affect ongoing United States military operations. It would however, prevent the future misuse in Iraq and Iraq War authorizations and strengthen Congressional oversight over war powers.

It is past time to repeal both AUMFs and formally mark the end of the Iraq War that resulted in a devastating loss of life and wealth and tens of thousands of our troops. It makes no sense that two AUMFs remain in place against a war that is now a close ally. They serve no operational purpose, run the risk of future abuse by the President, and help keep our nation at permanent risk of future abuse by the President, serve no operational purpose, run the risk of future abuse by the President, and help keep our nation at permanent risk of future abuse by the President, serve no operational purpose, run the risk of future abuse by the President, and help keep our nation at permanent risk of future abuse by the President.

SUBMITTED RESOLUTIONS

SENATE RESOLUTION 96—COMMENDING THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA FOR UPHOLDING THE RULE OF LAW AND EXPRESSING CONCERN OVER ACTIONS BY THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PEOPLE’S REPUBLIC OF CHINA IN RESPONSE TO A REQUEST FROM THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT FOR THE EXTRADITION OF A HUAWEI TECHNOLOGIES CO., LTD. EXECUTIVE

Mr. RISCH (for himself, Mr. MENENDEZ, Mr. GARDNER, Mr. COONS, Mr. ROMNEY, and Mr. CRUZ) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

WHEREAS, on December 1, 2018, Canadian authorities detained Huawei Technologies Co., Ltd. chief financial officer Meng Wanzhou based on a request issued pursuant to a request made by the United States under the Extradition Treaty between the United States of America and Canada, signed at Washington December 3, 1971;

WHEREAS, on January 24, 2019, the United States filed a superseding indictment in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York against Huawei Technologies Co., Ltd. ("Huawei"), Huawei Device USA Inc., Skycom Tech Co. Ltd. ("Skycom"), and Meng Wanzhou; and

WHEREAS the January 24, 2019, indictment charges two counts of bank fraud; two counts of conspiracy to commit bank fraud; one count of conspiracy to commit wire fraud; two counts of bank fraud; one count of wire fraud; one count of conspiracy to defraud the United States; two counts of conspiracy to violate the International Emergency Economic Powers Act; two counts of violations of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act; one count of money laundering conspiracy; and one count of conspiracy to obstruct justice;

WHEREAS the January 24, 2019, indictment charges that "Huawei operated Skycom as an unofficial subsidiary to obtain otherwise prohibited U.S.-origin goods, technology, and services, including banking services, for Huawei’s Iran-based business while concealing the link to Huawei";

WHEREAS the United States Government is seeking the extradition of Meng Wanzhou;

WHEREAS Canadian authorities granted Meng Wanzhou consular access and official visits, including those pursuant to the Extradition Convention of 1976, as well as consular visitation and consular department officials, including Secretary Pompeo, Acting Secretary Shanahan and Commander of the United States Central Command, General Votel, have routinely emphasized that United States military forces remain in Iraq at the invitation of the Government of Iraq and in respect to its sovereignty. Recent presidential administrations have maintained that the 2002 AUMF only serves to “reinforce” any legal authority to combat ISIS provided by the 2001 AUMF and is not independently required to authorize any such activities. As such, repealing the 1991 AUMF and the 2002 AUMF would not affect ongoing United States military operations. It would however, prevent the future misuse in Iraq and Iraq War authorizations and strengthen Congressional oversight over war powers.

It is past time to repeal both AUMFs and formally mark the end of the Iraq War that resulted in a devastating loss of life and wealth and tens of thousands of our troops. It makes no sense that two AUMFs remain in place against a war that is now a close ally. They serve no operational purpose, run the risk of future abuse by the President, and help keep our nation at permanent war powers issues to include revising and replacing the 2001 AUMF.

WHEREAS the January 24, 2019, indictment charges that Huawei’s Iran-based business while concealing the link to Huawei; and

WHEREAS the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs strongly urged Canada “to immediately release” Meng Wanzhou and threatened that otherwise “it will definitely have grave consequences, and [Canada] will have to bear the full responsibility for it”;

WHEREAS the Government of the People’s Republic of China detained Canadian diplomat Michael Kovrig and Canadian executive Michael Spavor on December 10, 2018, in apparent retaliation for the arrest of Meng Wanzhou;

WHEREAS Michael Spavor and Michael Kovrig have faced harsh conditions while in detention, including limited consular access, access to a lawyer, being unable to turn off the lights at night, and lengthy interrogations, including in the case of Mr. Kovrig, about his official activities during his previous tenure as an accredited foreign diplomat in the People’s Republic of China, potentially in violation of the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations, done at Vienna April 18, 1961;

WHEREAS, on January 14, 2019, a third Canadian, Robert Schellenberg, in Chinese custody for drug smuggling, had his 15-year sentence changed to the death penalty; and

WHEREAS the Department of State’s Country Report on Human Rights Practices for 2017 states that “arbitrary arrest and detention remained serious problems” in China and that Chinese judges “regularly received instructions on how to rule, from both the government and the CCP [Chinese Communist Party], particularly in politically sensitive cases”: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) commends the Government of Canada for upholding the rule of law and complying with its international legal obligations, including those pursuant to the Extradition Treaty Between the United States of America and Canada, signed at Washington December 3, 1971;

(2) commends the Government of Canada for providing consular access and due process for Huawei Technologies Co., Ltd. chief financial officer Meng Wanzhou;

(3) expresses concern over the Government of the People’s Republic of China’s apparent arbitrary detention and abusive treatment of Canadian nationals Michael Spavor and Michael Kovrig in apparent retaliation for the Government of Canada’s detention of Meng Wanzhou; and

(4) joins the Government of Canada in calling for the immediate release of Michael Spavor and Michael Kovrig and for due process for Canadian national Robert Schellenberg.

SENIOR RESOLUTION 97—ESTABLISHING THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE CLIMATE CRISIS

Mr. SCHUMER submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Rules and Administration:

Resolved, SECTION 1. SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE CLIMATE CRISIS.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established in the Senate a Select Committee on the Climate Crisis (in this resolution referred to as the “Select Committee”).

(b) COMPOSITION.—

(1) MEMBERSHIP.—The Select Committee shall be composed of 16 Senators, of whom—

(A) 8 shall be appointed by the Majority Leader; and

(B) 8 shall be appointed by the Minority Leader.

(2) CO-CHAIRPERSONS.—The Majority Leader and the Minority Leader shall each designate 1 member of the Select Committee to serve as a Co-Chairperson of the Select Committee.

(3) DEADLINE.—Not later than 14 days after the date of adoption of this resolution, the Majority Leader and Minority Leader shall each appoint all members and designate the Co-Chairpersons of the Select Committee.

(4) PERIOD OF APPOINTMENT.—Members shall be appointed for the life of the Select Committee.

(5) VACANCIES.—A vacancy in the membership of the Select Committee—

(A) shall not affect its powers; and

(B) shall be filled not later than 14 days after the date on which a vacancy occurs, in the same manner as the original appointment was made.

(6) DEPARTURE OF MEMBER.—If a member of the Select Committee ceases to be a Member of the Senate, the member is no longer a member of the Select Committee and a vacancy shall exist.

(c) FUNDING.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The expenses of the Select Committee shall be paid from the Contingency Fund of the Senate, in a total amount of—

(A) not more than $1,500,000 for the period beginning on the date of adoption of this resolution and ending on September 30, 2019; and

(B) not more than $2,600,000 for the period beginning on October 1, 2019 and ending on September 30, 2020.

(2) APPROVAL.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), the expenses of the Select Committee shall be paid upon vouchers approved by the Co-Chairpersons of the Select Committee, in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Senate.

(B) VOUCHERS NOT REQUIRED.—Vouchers shall not be required for—

(i) the disbursement of salaries of employees paid at an annual rate;

(ii) the payment of telecommunications provided by the Office of the Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper;
Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, maybe the other side of the aisle don't like the culture, and banking, we should have a bipartisan group of Senators to focus on health, this year for the same purpose. For the same reason that we dedicate as a first step, we want Republicans, particularly their leader, to agree with us that climate change is a problem that must be addressed. And what do we get from our Republican friends? Either a walk, or a stunt vote on the floor a bill they will not vote for. That doesn't say anything. That doesn't address the problem. It is a stunt. That is all they can do. They can't come forward with a single positive thing to say or do. So they put a bill on the floor that they will not vote for—what a ruse. What a mocking of the way the Founding Fathers wanted democracy to work—it is a disgrace.

That is why today I am introducing a resolution to create a new committee, where Democrats and Republicans can discuss the issue, debate the issue, and perhaps come up with some bipartisan solutions. That is what we hope to achieve when we come to the floor and ask our friends, sincerely, if they agree with those three items, because climate change will not wait for the partisanship, which so often defines this Chamber, to ebb. It will not pause while one party is in power. Its impacts will not discriminate between red States and blue States.

It is time to unlock our party affiliations aside and agree that we face a major crisis that is caused by humans and that we have an immediate and glaring need to address it.
SENATE RESOLUTION 98—ESTABLISHING THE CONGRESSIONAL GOLD STAR FAMILY FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM FOR THE PLACEMENT IN OFFICES OF SENATORS OF CHILDREN, SPOUSES, AND SIBLINGS OF MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES WHO ARE HOSTILE CASUALTIES OR WHO HAVE DIED FROM A TRAINING-RELATED INJURY

Mrs. BLACKBURN submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Rules and Administration:

Resolved, SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.
This resolution may be cited as the “SFC Program Resolution”.

SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL GOLD STAR FAMILY FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM.
(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section—
(1) the term “eligible individual” means an individual who is the child (including a stepchild) of, a spouse of, or a sibling of a member of the Armed Forces who is a hostile casualty or died from a training-related injury;
(2) the terms “hostile casualty” and “training-related injury” have the meanings given those terms in section 202(b) of title 38, United States Code; and
(3) the term “Program” means the Congressional Gold Star Family Fellowship Program established under subsection (b).

(b) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established in the Senate the Congressional Gold Star Family Fellowship Program, under which an eligible individual may serve a 12-month fellowship in the office of a Senator.

c) DIRECTION OF PROGRAM.—The Program shall be carried out under the direction of the Secretary of the Senate.

d) PLACEMENT IN DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA OFFICE OR A STATE OFFICE.—An individual may serve a fellowship under the Program at the office of a Senator in the District of Columbia or an office of the Senator in the State the Senator represents.

(e) REGULATIONS.—The Program shall be carried out in accordance with regulations promulgated by the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate.

PRIVILEGES OF THE FLOOR
Mr. MERCLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that my intern, Mariah Shriner, may have privileges of the floor for the balance of the day.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

MEASURES READ THE FIRST TIME—H.R. 1271 AND H.R. 1381
Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I understand there are two bills at the desk, and I ask for their first reading en bloc.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will read the titles of the bills for the first time en bloc.

The legislative clerk read as follows: A bill (H.R. 1271) to establish in the Department of Veterans Affairs a pilot program instituting a clinical observation program for pre-med students preparing to attend medical school.

A bill (H.R. 1381) to direct the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to take actions necessary to ensure that certain individuals may update the burn pit registry with a registered individual’s cause of death, and for other purposes.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I now ask for a second reading, and I object to my own request, all en bloc.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection having been heard, the bills will receive their second reading on the next legislative day.

ORDERS FOR THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 2019
Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it adjourn until 9:30 a.m., Thursday, March 7th; further, that following the prayer and pledge, the morning hour be deemed expired, the Journal of proceedings be approved to date, the time for the two leaders be reserved for their use later in the day, morning business be closed, and the Senate proceed to executive session and resume consideration of the Murphy nomination under the previous order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?
Without objection, it is so ordered.

ORDER FOR ADJOURNMENT
Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, if there is no further business to come before the Senate, I ask that it stand adjourned under the previous order following the remarks of our Democratic colleagues.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The Senator from New Mexico.

GOVERNMENT REFORM
Mr. UDALL. Mr. President, thank you for the recognition today.
I rise today for the people. I am glad to be joined by Senator MERCLEY.
We have worked a long time together on government reform issues, campaign finance reform, and rules reform—some very, very important issues that face the country.

Today, in this country, there is a deep disconnect between what the American people want and what the President and the Congress have been giving them. Poll after poll shows that the American people want affordable healthcare. Yet the Republican leadership has demanded time and again to take away healthcare rights and healthcare protections.

Poll after poll shows that the American people want good-paying jobs. Yet the Republican leadership has demanded time and again to take away healthcare rights and healthcare protections.

Poll after poll shows that the American people want clean air and clean water. Yet the Republican leadership has demanded time and again to take away healthcare rights and healthcare protections.

Poll after poll shows that the American people want comprehensive immigration reforms. Yet the Republican leadership has refused to take any action whatsoever on even the most basic safety laws, like universal background checks.

Poll after poll shows that the American people want Dreamers to stay in our country. Their parents brought them here, and their children need to be able to stay. Yet the Republican leadership has refused to debate this separated from their parents. They want comprehensive immigration reform to fix our broken system. Yet the Republican leadership has opposed these priorities for many years, and now it is too late. This affects the future of our country.

The situation has gotten dramatically worse under this President. There is no doubt about that. But these problems preceded this President, and they will live much longer than his time in office, unless we act.

Let’s talk about how we do that. For years, I have stood with others in this Chamber to call for a constitutional amendment to overturn Citizens United, for an independent, nonpartisan drawing of House districts, and for closing the revolving door in Washington.

In the past, some Senate Republicans were independent of their leadership and supported these ideas. The President had even promised to “drain the swamp.” As we all know by now, unfortunately, that promise was empty.

But with the change in leadership in the House of Representatives, Congress is now making progress to enact the reforms that the American people want.

The House will soon pass H.R. 1, the For the People Act—a major reform package to fix our broken system. It will be up to the Senate to follow suit.

Next week, my Senate colleagues and I will introduce our own “For the People Act”—a comprehensive set of reforms that moves this effort forward. I hope we will have bipartisan support, but I was disappointed to hear the Republican leader deride this essential reform bill as “the Democrat Politician Protection Act.”

This is not only a warped political comment, but it is also cynical and totally misses the point, especially when you consider that the American people overwhelmingly—across party lines—support these kinds of reforms. It is the special interests who oppose them because they are threatened by them.

If the Republican leader feels the same way about this bill as the special interests do, perhaps the bill is not the problem.

Every Member of the Senate will have a choice. Do they support reform, where our ideas and policies can compete on a level playing field, or do they choose to side with the special interests to do their bidding in return for their protection and money during election season?

I have known plenty of Americans who oppose this system. John McCain was one of them. Senator Alan Simpson is another. Senator Cochran was a co-sponsor of my constitutional amendment.

No party has to side with the big money and special interests. It is a choice. It is a choice we must make together to return our democracy to the people and to rid our system of corruption.

This bill will do just that. It will make it easier, not harder, to vote. It will bring an end to the dominance of big money and politics, and it will ensure that politicians actually serve the public interests.

First, on voting rights, for 50 years the Voting Rights Act of 1965 has stood as a bulwark against voter suppression practices and enfranchised millions of voters, but in 2013 the Supreme Court eviscerated it in its Shelby County v. Holder decision, unleashing a torrent of State laws designed to suppress the vote among minorities.

The 5-to-4 decision rendered the Voting rights Act’s preclearance provisions ineffective and cleared the way for States to engage in voter suppression. Since Shelby, nearly 1,000 polling places have been closed across the country, many in southern Black communities. Voter ID laws have been tightened, and early voting has been slashed. Voter rolls have been purged, and House districts have been redrawn to dilute the minority vote.

One of the many egregious examples is North Carolina. Less than 2 months after Shelby, that State enacted far-reaching voter suppression requirements. North Carolina’s law was struck down by a Federal court of appeals, finding that the law targeted African Americans “with almost surgical precision.”

Just this last midterm, we saw voter suppression tactics surge. For instance, in North Dakota, the State legislature passed a law right before the November election that took aim squarely at the Native vote. The law required voter IDs to list physical addresses—impossible for many Native American voters living on reservations. A Federal court found that 5,000 Native American voters did not have the necessary identification.

We have no choice but to respond and to restore the Voting Rights Act so States are stopped from closing off the franchise. That must also include the Native American Voting Rights Act to address voter suppression tactics in Indian Country and to make sure the Native vote is counted, not discounted.

Bills to restore lost voting rights protections have been introduced in both Chambers. I hope the Senate majority will work in a bipartisan way to restore this landmark legislation.

We should make it easier for voters to register, not harder. In a healthy democracy, automatic voter registration, online voter registration, and same-day voter registration for eligible voters would be noncontroversial.

Voting should be easy. Too often, for too many, it is hard. It is our duty to fix that, and this bill will do that.

Extreme political gerrymandering continues to skew State and congressional elections. Results from legislative races don’t reflect the proportion of each party’s voters. Voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around.

Congress must direct nonpartisan, independent line drawing in each State to draw congressional districts, and congressional districts must fairly reflect States’ racial compositions so our representative government truly represents the electorate.

There is no other way to put it. Our campaign finance system is broken. The Supreme Court’s 2010 Citizens
United decision opened the floodgates for unlimited contributions and dark money, and this Congress’s negligence has allowed the flood to drown out regular people’s voices.

Super PACs can raise and spend unlimited sums to influence elections, and never for dollars that candidates wanted in return for their investment.

There was $1.4 billion spent on the last Presidential race in 2016. This midterm’s outside expenditures topped a billion dollars. The system is rigged right before our eyes.

How do we reverse course and return elections to the American people? For starters, Congress needs to shine a light on the dark money and require reality television Court that equates big money with speech puts campaigns for sale to the highest bidder.

Once again, I will offer an amendment to the Constitution to overturn Citizens United, as I have since 2010. Congress must pass the Fair Elections Now Act to put our democracy above a root canal and to restore the public’s confidence.

We also need comprehensive ethics reform. Elected officials and public servants should not reap huge personal profit from their public positions. We need to tighten lobbying disclosure laws, and we must require Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates to disclose their tax returns.

Beyond announcing that they will divest of any and all assets that create a conflict of interest, Candidate Trump promised to disclose his tax returns. He didn’t. He then promised to disclose them after an alleged audit. He hasn’t. That is unacceptable.

We know the President has business and financial ties with Russia and Saudi Arabia, and this may well explain his strange closeness with Vladmir Putin and odd comments by Salman. Transparency and divestiture are the only ways to avoid conflicts of interest and corruption. These issues go to the heart of what it means to be an American.

Our democracy is supposed to exist by the will of the people and by the consent of the governed. Congress has an amazing opportunity before it. The House of Representatives is starting debate on its comprehensive reform package. My colleagues and I will introduce our legislation next week.

To Republicans around the country: Don’t fall for the majority leader’s cynical name-calling. I know you love your democracy as much as I do. This is not about protecting Democrats or Republicans; it is about protecting Americans from a rigged system. Let us commit to work together to pass reforms the American people hunger for.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. MERKLEY. Mr. President, I am pleased to be here on the floor with my colleague from New Mexico, who has been a champion for restoring our democracy, working year after year over the last decade toward that vision, and presenting tonight superb comments on the history of where we have been and where we should go.

This last weekend, I went to Alabama. I went with Congressman John Lewis to be there to look into the history of discrimination in our Nation, the history in which we had separate entries to buildings for Whites and for Blacks and separate water fountains. We had back doors for Black America and front doors for White America.

We were standing on the spot where Rosa Parks stood before she stepped onto the bus and said: I will not sit at the back of the bus. I will be treated like a human being. She was asked about equality, and she started a big movement to break down discrimination.

Last weekend, we also gathered together in Selma, AL, at the foot of the Edmund Pettus Bridge, and there is where John Lewis and a whole set of individuals took a stand. They were planning a march. They were going to march for voting rights—for voting rights in America, voting rights that had been taken away as a strategy of suppressing the voice of the people, particularly the voice of African Americans.

We have struggled in the history of our country toward full equality of opportunity to participate in this beautiful democratic Republic we call America. We started with a Constitution that was flawed by not recognizing the full equality of every American.

We fought a war over slavery, and after that war, a strategy was devised to continue to strip the right to vote from African Americans by taking African-American men, arresting them as felons, and then saying that felons who committed either petty or serious drug-related crimes would be reenlisted because the constitutional amendment said that you could put people to work if they were a felon, and to strip voting rights from them.

That is a history we should be putting behind us—a history of voter intimidation and a history of voter suppression. Have we not come to the point where we can recognize that the real vision in our “we the people” democracy is that every person gets a full chance to participate, that we should be working for voter empowerment, not voter suppression?

This beautiful document we have worked to perfect and fulfill over time. It was President Lincoln who said: ‘America will never be destroyed from the outside. If we falter and lose our freedoms, it will be because we destroyed ourselves.’

Aren’t we at that point now, where the majority of government for the people has been corrupted by voter suppression, by voter intimidation, by gerrymandering, and by dark money flooding our campaigns? Aren’t we at that point now that our very essence of our constitutional vision of government by and for the people has been destroyed by these corrupting forces?

Here is what we have in America right now. We have a circle of power of those of great wealth and those of great privilege, and they want to run this government and write our laws to benefit those inside that circle.

That circle isn’t that large. It is a small percent of our population, but they use their great wealth and their great leverage to continue to corrupt our government because the last thing they want is a government that serves the people.

What they are invested in, what they fight for is government by the powerful few and for the powerful few. If anyone doubts that, just ask them how much they have already put into this point of huge corruption in this country, look simply at what happened in this Chamber in 2017 when the majority party said that we have two missions: Mission one, take down healthcare for 20 to 30 million Americans; mission two, raid the national Treasury for $1 1⁄2 trillion and give it to the very richest Americans and largest corporations.

That is what happens in a corrupted government by and for the powerful rather than by and for the people. That is what happens in dictatorships around the world where the elite raid the National Treasury and steal the money for themselves.

I want to tell you what else happens. They don’t invest in “we the people.” They don’t invest in the foundations for families to thrive. We know what those foundations are: good public education, debt-free college, employment programs that include apprenticeships and career technical education, a healthcare system that is simple and seamless and is there when your loved one is sick or injured, and it doesn’t send you into bankruptcy, a system of infrastructure, rural broadband, repaired highways, expanded transit systems, all kinds of infrastructure that enable our economy to thrive and our people to do well.

Do we see what this corrupted system is now in place of government by and for the powerful, did we see an investment in healthcare or housing or education or infrastructure or living-wage jobs? We did not because this Chamber is now run by and for the powerful of the United States of America, not the people.

So along comes the other Chamber at the end of this hall, and this other Chamber wants to serve—the vision of our Constitution—and they put together H. Res. 1. They said: Let's take this on. Let's take it on the gerrymandering. Let's take it on the voter suppression. Let's take it on the dark money. They put together this bill for the people—for the people, not for the powerful.

They proceeded to say: Let's start with that challenge of gerrymandering. Let's make sure the people pick their leaders instead of their leaders picking their electors. Then they proceed to take on voter suppression and voter intimidation.

It was President Lyndon Johnson who said “the vote is the most powerful instrument ever devised by man for breaking down injustice.”

That powerful instrument is at the heart of our Constitution. It is the instrument that the powerful and privileged want to diminish, destroy, and take away so they can continue to run this country for themselves. So this bill says: Let’s proceed to do voter empowerment. Let’s extend early voting to all States. Let’s ensure that there is an opportunity for people to register and vote on the internet, and have same-day registration. Let’s encourage vote by mail, which gives a full opportunity for everyone to participate without having to get to a poll on a day that it is difficult to get there, and let’s make sure changes designed to suppress voting are not automatically approved, that we will restore the Voting Rights Act, which said we will protect the voting system, its sacred heart, the Constitution, and we will not let people’s rights be stripped.

If you look back at November 6, and you look at what happened across the country, you see the plot—the plot to prevent the poor from voting; the plot to prevent minorities from voting; the plot to prevent college students from voting. One State went so far as to say you can’t vote if your ID doesn’t have an expiration date because the college IDs in that State didn’t have an expiration date—strategy after strategy, purging people off the voting rolls without their permission right before the election.

So this bill, the For the People Act that the House is working on right now and that we will introduce right here in this Chamber says: We believe in the Constitution of America; we believe in the power of the people, and we will protect the right to vote. The For the People Act takes on campaign finance. It proceeds to say: We will have disclosure of contributions. There is sunlight on the dark money. There is sunlight on the donor of those ads. We oppose caps on donations, but we support disclosure. It is the sunshine that disinfects the system. Suddenly, when the bill that provides disclosure was up before this body, the individuals who said that said: “Oh, I was wrong; I don’t want sunlight in the system,” and voted against disclosure. So the House is saying: Let’s do it. Let’s create transparency.

There is an honest ads component that says people need to be able to know who is funding the ads they are seeing. I know I have seen in my campaigns, attack ad after attack ad, after attack ad funded by front groups. Wouldn’t it be better for America if the folks behind those ads actually have to disclose that they are behind those ads?

We have in this bill a small-dollar match so individuals who seek to run for the House or the Senate with small-dollar donations, donations up to $200, get a 6-to-1 match, encouraging breaking dark money and the money that comes from the most affluent in large chunks, leveling the playing field for participation by regular Americans, freeing our elections from the grip of dark money.

This is the For the People Act, says let’s improve the ethics. Let’s reduce or try to eliminate the conflicts of interest that haunt this Chamber and haunt the House Chamber down the hall.

JOHN LEWIS stood on that bridge on Bloody Sunday. Congressman JOHN LEWIS, long before he was a Congressman, in 1965, stood on that bridge. He stood, and he was the very first person in line as the troops approached to beat up the protesters. They shaved him, they pushed him down, they struck him in the head, and then they proceeded to beat up and terrify the other protesters on that bridge.

Those protesters were standing for the vision of our Constitution, were standing for voting rights, the most powerful instrument, as Lyndon Johnson said.

They went back to that bridge the following Tuesday, and they marched up and were stopped, and they agreed to turn back—“Turn Back Tuesday.” Then they reorganized again and more people joined. They came back a third time and they marched over that bridge and they marched all the way to Montgomery, AL, to fight for voting rights because it is the heart and soul of an individual’s ability to participate in our democracy. JOHN LEWIS has said this:

There is still work to be done. Get out there, push and pull, until we redeem the soul of America.

The For the People Act that the House will pass and that we will introduce here in this Chamber is the fight to redeem the soul of America. Let’s stand together—in times and new conditions of the Senate, those who sit on the left of the aisle and those who sit on the right of the aisle, those who come from blue-collar communities and those who come from circles of power—to stand behind the vision of our Constitution, the “we the people” vision, so this Chamber will do the work of the people. Let’s restore the soul of America together.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts.

NET NEUTRALITY

Mr. MARKZY. Mr. President, I rise in defense of the internet. This is a fight for innovation, for entrepreneurialism, for the American economy, a fight for the cornerstone of our democracy—a fight for the most powerful platform for commerce and communications in the history of the planet. This is a fight for net neutrality.

Today nearly every Member of the Senate Democratic caucus introduced a bill, the Save the Internet Act, to put net neutrality rules back on the books. Congressman MIKE DØYLY is leading the same effort over in the House.

In the Senate, we have already successfully passed the proposal. The newly introduced Save the Internet Act and the Congressional Review Act we approved last Congress will have the same effect—overturning the Trump administration’s FCC’s wrongheaded decision and restoring the open internet order.

Last May, in a historic, bipartisan CRA vote of 52 to 47, in the Senate on this floor, we sent a message to President Trump about what a free and open internet means, free of corporate control, open to all who want to communicate, engage, and innovate. We made clear this Congress will not fall for President Trump’s special interest agenda and his broadband baron allies.

This bill does what the American people want. It restores the rules so people are not subject to higher prices, slower internet speeds, and even blocked websites because the big broadband providers want to pump up their profits. With this bill, we will do right by the people who sent us here and fight to protect the internet as we know it.

This is a fight which we can win. There is tremendous power on this issue. Republicans and Democrats alike agree we need net neutrality so the sky is the limit. Support for our position will only continue to grow.

The critics claim the sky hasn’t fallen since the FCC repeal, so why do we need net neutrality at all?

The answer is simple. There is pending litigation right now in the DC Circuit Court challenging the FCC’s repeal. So there is every reason in the world why they would not change their practices until the legal matter is settled in court. Any prudent business would act cautiously when there is an issue pending before a court, but once the issue is resolved in court, there are no rules. They can do what they want.

In fact, I attended the court hearing and listened to 5 hours of oral argument. I saw firsthand how the FCC and broadband industry used tortured logic to defend the repeal of net neutrality and reclassification of broadband.

I also organized an amicus brief with 100 other Members of the Senate and House in defense of the net neutrality rules. I am confident we will prevail in court. Net neutrality is just another way of saying nondiscrimination, just another way of saying big companies can’t discriminate against small companies; that big companies can’t discriminate against small individuals; that they have equal access to the internet. They don’t have to pay extra to gain access. Net neutrality means nondiscrimination. Those are the rules we need for the internet in order to see explosive economic growth because of the new ideas that are able to be introduced and at the same time so democracy can flourish because every voice is treated equally on the internet.

So whether it is in the Halls of Congress or in the courts, we will not stop fighting until net neutrality is fully restored. We are on the right side of history, and we will not give up this fight until we have won.

I thank you for the time.

At this point, I yield the floor.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 9:30 A.M. TOMORROW

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate stands adjourned until 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Thereupon, the Senate, at 6:37 p.m., adjourned until Thursday, March 7, 2019, at 9:30 a.m.

NOMINATIONS

Executive nominations received by the Senate:
Mr. PERLMUTTER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and applaud Jessica Lopez for receiving the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award. Jessica Lopez is a student at Jefferson Jr./Sr. and received this award because her determination and hard work have allowed her to overcome adversities.

The dedication demonstrated by Jessica Lopez is exemplary of the type of achievement that can be attained with hard work and perseverance. It is essential students at all levels strive to make the most of their education and develop a work ethic which will guide them for the rest of their lives.

I extend my deepest congratulations to Jessica Lopez for winning the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award. I have no doubt she will exhibit the same dedication and character in all of her future accomplishments.

Celebrating the 1st Anniversary of the Launch of Emergency Air Medical Services for the Big Bear

HON. PAUL COOK
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. COOK. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and congratulate the Big Bear Fire Department and Mercy Air on a successful year of Emergency Air Medical Services for the Big Bear Valley.

The mountain communities of my district are uniquely rugged, and ground based responses are oftentimes too slow or limited by terrain to provide lifesaving medical care in a timely fashion. Air ambulances have the ability to rapidly transport patients to treatment centers, and emergency air medical services improve the survival and recovery rate of those in need. On February 14, 2018, Big Bear Fire Authority (BBFA) and the BBFA Critical Care Medical Air Ship crew undertook their first flight. Over the past year, arrival times have decreased, lives have been saved, and over 300 missions have been safely and successfully flown.

I applaud the BBFA and the BBFA Critical Care Medical Air Ship crew, and their partners Mercy Air, Big Bear Valley Community Healthcare District, and Big Bear Airport District for their commitment and dedication to bringing this lifesaving service to the Big Bear Valley. I wish them many years of safety and success ahead as they work to keep our community safe.

Pueblo East High School Wrestling Team Tribute

HON. SCOTT R. TIPTON
OF COLORADO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. TIPTON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Pueblo East High School Eagles wrestling team for its first ever 4A State Championship win.

The Eagles finished first at the Colorado State Wrestling Tournament in Denver, Colorado, with 200 points. Pueblo County was runner-up with 181.5 points, while Centennial was in the top five with 76.5 points.

The Eagles performed well as a team, with every single wrestler scoring at least one point during the tournament. The team had three overall state champions, including Andy Garcia, Dominic Robles, and Zion Freeman. All three of these young men won their weight classifications.

Andy Garcia accomplished a first for the team, earning a 4–3 decision over his opponent and becoming the team’s first three-time champion, despite having an injured knee on competition day. Dominic Robles had a phenomenal performance, getting a pin at 1 minute and 36 seconds in the first period against an opponent from Canon City. Zion Freeman was the first Eagles wrestler to win a title at the tournament, ultimately scoring a perfect 38–0 record for the season.

Madam Speaker, we are proud to have these incredible students representing Pueblo and the people of the Third Congressional District. They have proven themselves to be individuals with sportsmanship, tenacity, and perseverance. I offer them my sincere congratulations and wish them luck in their future endeavors. I am eager to see what they will accomplish going forward.

HON. RICHARD HUDSON
OF NORTH CAROLINA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Bill Hedgepeth with Select Bank and Trust and Select Bancorp Inc. for receiving the 2019 Realtor Cup award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce. Bill has served as the President and Chief Executive Officer of Select Bank & Trust and Select Bancorp Inc. since 2008. This includes 19 branches in North Carolina and South Carolina. Bill is known for not just his exemplary work in real estate, but his commitment to lead in the community.

Throughout his career, Bill has been recognized for his effort and natural talent. He has been named a Paul Harris Fellow by the Rotary Foundation of Rotary International and in 2015 received the Business of the Year Award on behalf of Select Bank & Trust and Select Bancorp Inc.

Not only is Bill dedicated to seeking excellence in his career but he currently serves as the Board Chair of the United Way of Cumberland County, the Greater Fayetteville Chamber board Treasurer, the Fayetteville and Cumberland County Vision 2026 Board, the Highland Country Club Board of Directors and the Fayetteville Technical Community College Board of Trustees.

Bill is very deserving of this award, and I couldn’t be prouder of the example he set for our county and beyond.

Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Bill Hedgepeth on receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Realtor Cup.

INTRODUCTION OF THE OUTPATIENT MENTAL HEALTH CARE ACT OF 2019

HON. ALCEE L. HASTINGS
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. HASTINGS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to introduce the Outpatient Mental Health Care Act of 2019.

Medicare Partial Hospitalization Programs (PHPs) provide a structured and clinically intensive alternative to hospitalization for patients who otherwise might require sustained inpatient psychiatric hospitalization. PHP psychiatric patients typically receive four to six hours of treatment per day, five to six days a week in hospital-based settings and community mental health centers. However, the severity of a patient’s illness often prevents that individual from obtaining or seeking transportation to a PHP facility, or from accessing high quality food. Additionally, some psychiatric medications that are prescribed to the patient cannot be safely administered without food.

Currently, Medicare does not cover the costs of nutritional planning, meals or transportation for patients who receive psychiatric treatment in PHP programs. Therefore, PHP facilities are responsible for the cost of providing food and transportation. This exacerbates financial burdens that many PHPs and countless other community organizations are experiencing in these difficult economic times.

Medicare also does not provide for vocational counseling. However, this counseling provides a direction for patients that they might not find on their own. Therefore, vocational counseling is vital for individuals while they work through their treatment allowing them to set employment goals and develop a plan to meet those goals.

Madam Speaker, my bill will require Medicare to reimburse PHPs for providing transportation, food, nutritional services and vocational counseling. The bill also establishes a Behavioral Health Advisory Committee in which a diverse group of behavioral health stakeholders would examine and provide recommendations on how to address the persisting challenges of access, stigma, quality and operability in the mental health delivery system.

PHPs are a cost effective alternative that can prevent mentally ill individuals from facing expensive inpatient care, incarceration, or institutionalization. The growing role of mental health PHPs in our health care system requires that we amend the law to assist PHPs in delivering the services, care and support to those who are living with severe and chronic mental illness.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this critically important legislation.

HON. RICHARD HUDSON
OF NORTH CAROLINA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Gary Rogers for receiving the 2019 Ambassador of the Year award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce.

Gary is a Senior Marketing Consultant with the Beasley Media Group that represents many of our local radio stations. He has an esteemed passion for radio and an unmatched drive that makes him a sound resource for our community.

This prestigious honor is not the first for Gary. He was included in the Fayetteville 40 Under 40 Class of 2018, Ambassador of the Year in 2016, and was the recipient of the Chairman’s Award in 2017. He continues to serve his community by investing and volunteering with non-profit organizations such as the Media Team and Children’s Ministry at Breezewood Church.

While he is dedicated to his career and service in the community, it is clear his real passion is his marriage to his wife and being a father to his three year old, Charlie. In his efforts to set a wonderful example for his son, he serves as an ambassador with the Greater Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce and has been for the last four years.

Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Gary Rogers on receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Ambassador of the Year award.

RECOGNIZING KRISTINE PETERSEN IN HONOR OF WOMEN’S HISTORY MONTH

HON. MARIO DIAZ-BALART
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Madam Speaker, in recognition of Women’s History Month, I rise today to honor Kristine Petersen, whose long-term service in law enforcement has had a significant impact on Southern Florida.

Over thirty years ago, Kristine, a single parent, moved to Hendry County and worked as a waitress and secretary. In 1986, she began her career in law enforcement as a dispatcher with the Hendry County Sheriff’s Department. After successfully completing the Southwest Florida Criminal Justice Academy, Kristine was appointed as a Sheriff’s Deputy for Hendry County, making her the second female to do so. Through this role, Kristine helped build Hendry County’s Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) Program, an important initiative that teaches middle schoolers the dangers of substance abuse. During this time, she dedicated her evenings to working as an instructor with the Criminal Justice Academy for the Lee County School Board. Her passion for community service is of the highest caliber, and her selfless character is truly demonstrated in her work for public safety.

In 1998, Kristine began working as a detective for the City of Clewiston’s Police Department. In 2003, she became the Assistant Police Chief where she served in this role until 2012. Her honorable work ethic and determination has extended beyond law enforcement. Kristine was appointed to Clewiston’s City Commission where she won consecutive four year terms in 2014 and 2018. She also served as Vice Mayor from December of 2014 to December of 2016. Currently, Kristine is employed by the Hendry County School Board to serve as Clewiston High School’s Public Safety Academy Teacher. In addition to this role, Kristine also participates in the City of Clewiston’s Chamber of Commerce.

Madam Speaker, I am honored to know Ms. Petersen and it is a privilege to acknowledge the dedicated work she has done for Hendry County. I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing this remarkable individual.

This prestigious honor is not the first for Gary. He was included in the Fayetteville 40 Under 40 Class of 2018, Ambassador of the Year in 2016, and was the recipient of the Chairman’s Award in 2017. He continues to serve his community by investing and volunteering with non-profit organizations such as the Media Team and Children’s Ministry at Breezewood Church.

While he is dedicated to his career and service in the community, it is clear his real passion is his marriage to his wife and being a father to his three year old, Charlie. In his efforts to set a wonderful example for his son, he serves as an ambassador with the Greater Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce and has been for the last four years.

Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Gary Rogers on receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Ambassador of the Year award.

RECOGNIZING KRISTINE PETERSEN IN HONOR OF WOMEN’S HISTORY MONTH

HON. MARIO DIAZ-BALART
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Madam Speaker, in recognition of Women’s History Month, I rise today to honor Kristine Petersen, whose long-term service in law enforcement has had a significant impact on Southern Florida.

Over thirty years ago, Kristine, a single parent, moved to Hendry County and worked as a waitress and secretary. In 1986, she began her career in law enforcement as a dispatcher with the Hendry County Sheriff’s Department. After successfully completing the Southwest Florida Criminal Justice Academy, Kristine was appointed as a Sheriff’s Deputy for Hendry County, making her the second female to do so. Through this role, Kristine helped build Hendry County’s Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) Program, an important initiative that teaches middle schoolers the dangers of substance abuse. During this time, she dedicated her evenings to working as an instructor with the Criminal Justice Academy for the Lee County School Board. Her passion for community service is of the highest caliber, and her selfless character is truly demonstrated in her work for public safety.

In 1998, Kristine began working as a detective for the City of Clewiston’s Police Department. In 2003, she became the Assistant Police Chief where she served in this role until 2012. Her honorable work ethic and determination has extended beyond law enforcement. Kristine was appointed to Clewiston’s City Commission where she won consecutive four year terms in 2014 and 2018. She also served as Vice Mayor from December of 2014 to December of 2016. Currently, Kristine is employed by the Hendry County School Board to serve as Clewiston High School’s Public Safety Academy Teacher. In addition to this role, Kristine also participates in the City of Clewiston’s Chamber of Commerce.

Madam Speaker, I am honored to know Ms. Petersen and it is a privilege to acknowledge the dedicated work she has done for Hendry County. I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing this remarkable individual.
Antonio Portillo
HON. ED PERLMUTTER
OF COLORADO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019
Mr. PERLMUTTER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and applaud Antonio Portillo for receiving the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award.
Antonio Portillo is a student at Jefferson Jr/Sr and received this award because his determination and hard work have allowed him to overcome adversities.

The dedication demonstrated by Antonio Portillo is exemplary of the type of achievement that can be attained with hard work and perseverance. It is essential students at all levels strive to make the most of their education and develop a work ethic which will guide them for the rest of their lives.

I extend my deepest congratulations to Antonio Portillo for winning the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award. I have no doubt he will exhibit the same dedication and character in all of his future accomplishments.

Hon. Richard Hudson
OF NORTH CAROLINA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019
Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate On-After Bar and Grub for receiving the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Business of the Year Award.
On-After Bar and Grub has established itself as a staple in the community and continue to go above and beyond to support the community where ever it is needed.
Joseph Dewberry, or known around the bar as Bear, has been a driving force in adding meaning to their slogan “Our day begins, when your shift ends.” Over the past few years they have hosted events like the Autism Awareness cook off, Hurricane Florence Relief, Every Child Deserves a Christmas, and Domestic Violence Awareness and Prevent Day. In addition to hosting events they emphasize the importance of recognizing the service our local law enforcement, emergency service agencies, and military provide. The entire community is grateful for On-After Bar and Grub, myself included.

Bear and all the staff at On-After Bar and Grub are deserving of this award and I wish them success as they continue to provide excellent service to our community. I personally look forward to my next visit while I’m traveling across the district!

Madam Speaker, I would like to join today in congratulating Joseph Dewberry and On-After Bar and Grub Restaurant on receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Business of the Year Award.

Adrena Rocha
HON. ED PERLMUTTER
OF COLORADO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019
Mr. PERLMUTTER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and applaud Adrena Rocha for receiving the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award.
Adrena Rocha is a student at Arvada High School and received this award because her determination and hard work have allowed her to overcome adversities.

The dedication demonstrated by Adrena Rocha is exemplary of the type of achievement that can be attained with hard work and perseverance. It is essential students at all levels strive to make the most of their education and develop a work ethic which will guide them for the rest of their lives.

I extend my deepest congratulations to Adrena Rocha for winning the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award. I have no doubt she will exhibit the same dedication and character in all of her future accomplishments.

VETERANS-SPECIFIC EDUCATION FOR TOMORROW’S HEALTH PROFESSIONALS ACT SPEECH OF
HON. STEVEN C. WATKINS, JR.
OF KANSAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Tuesday, March 5, 2019
Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 1271, the Vet HP Act. The Vet HP Act would be a significant advancement for two critical issues burdening Eastern Kansans.
My district, being both rural and home to tens of thousands of veterans, is a medically underserved district. With both VA and rural hospitals lacking the line of health professionals, access to quality health care is not guaranteed for many of these folks back home.

Secondly, aspiring health professionals from underserved areas are not afforded the same opportunities for clinical observation hours as medical school applicants in major cities, putting them at a disadvantage during the admissions process.

The Vet HP Act would provide an opportunity for health students to gain clinical observation hours at VA hospitals, prioritizing students in underserved areas over medical school applicants. The Vet HP Act would provide an opportunity for health students to gain clinical observation hours at VA hospitals, prioritizing students in underserved areas over medical school applicants.

The Vet HP Act would be a massive step forward for both issues.

I urge passage of this common-sense, bipartisan bill.

Recognizing Ana Maria Rodriguez in Honor of Women’s History Month
HON. MARIO DIAZ-BALART
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019
Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Madam Speaker, in recognition of Women’s History Month, I rise today to honor Ana Maria Rodriguez, who has faithfully served the City of Doral and the wider Miami region for many years.
Born and raised in South Florida to Cuban exiles, Ana Maria has been heavily involved in the Southern Florida community since graduating from Florida International University in 1999 with a Bachelor’s degree in communications. In 2002, she furthered her education by gaining her Master’s degree in leadership from the H. Wayne Huizenga School of Business at Nova Southeastern University. Ana Maria worked for a number of years in public relations and the governmental affairs sector, and in 2009 served as President of Government Affairs for the Miami Associates of REALTORS.
Ana Maria’s dedication to supporting Southern Florida’s community is further demonstrated in her position as an elected official. Elected in 2018, Ana Maria currently serves as a Florida House State Representative for the 105th District. Prior to this impressive achievement, she served as Vice Mayor for the City of Doral and previously on the City Council. Ana Maria executed these roles in a professional and honest manner at all times, proving to be a true asset to the City of Doral.
Her passion for community work goes beyond elected service. In 2007, Ana Maria launched the Southeast Region for Connect Florida, a leadership development program, and in 2009 served as Statewide Chair. For over a decade, she has been a dedicated and active member of the Doral Business Council and also served as Vice Chair for the City of Doral’s Parks & Police 4 Kids Advisory Board. It would be remiss to honor Ana Maria without touching on the number of awards she has received for her ongoing commitment to her community. In 2011, she was selected as Humanitarian of the Year by the March of Dimes and in 2015 she received Advocate of the Year by the Miami Association of REALTORS. In 2017, Ana Maria was presented the Public Service Award by the South Florida Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, and most recently, in 2018, the Salute to Miami’s Leaders Government Award by the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce. These accolades are a just a small testament to Ana Maria’s determined personal character. It is truly a privilege to know that she will continue to make a significant difference in the community she serves and the people that she touches.
Madam Speaker, I am honored to know Ana Maria Rodriguez and to have the opportunity to acknowledge her amazing work for Southern Florida. I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing this outstanding individual.

HONORING SHARON MOYER, THE 2019 ATHENA AWARD WINNER

HON. RICHARD HUDSON
OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Sharon Moyer for receiving the 2019 Athena Award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce.

The Athena award is highly coveted and is presented to the individual that represents the greatest support for the goals of professional women. Recipients of this award demonstrate excellence, creativity, and initiative in their profession and provides valuable service by contributing time and energy to improve the lives of others in the community.

Sharon Moyer has proven worthy of this award time and again with her innovative thinking, natural leadership, and ability to meet competitive deadlines. She inspires others with her personable attitude and her willingness to work hard and invest in the growth and success of others around her. Sharon has been an active part of the Partnership for Children program and initiated “Historic Hauntings: A Ghostly Ghost Tour” to help children learn the history of Fayetteville. I have personally attended one of her annual soirees for the Partnership for Children and have seen the product of her leadership firsthand.

There are many children in our community more prepared to reach their full potential due to Sharon’s philosophy “perseverance beats resistance.” Our community is better because of Sharon and I am thrilled she is being recognized for her talent and dedication.

Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Sharon Moyer on receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Athena Award.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. BILL POSEY
OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. POSEY. Madam Speaker, my return flight to Washington, D.C., was delayed due to technical difficulty, and I was unable to attend the legislative session on March 5, 2019. Had I been present, I would have voted “yea” on Roll Call No. 104, and “yea” on Roll Call No. 105.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Sandy Ammons for receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Chairman’s Award.

Sandy has been a constant positive force in the community when it comes to the world of business development and marketing services. She currently serves as the Director of Business Development and Human Resources for Highland Construction and Restoration where she oversees marketing and communication, business development, and administrative functions including human resources and recruitment.

Sandy is a highly valued and trusted resource who is always generous in offering guidance to others. She has been conquering all aspects of this industry since 1999 and owned her own successful marketing firm for 14 years. Her ability to capture elegant and innovative design is only part of her unmatched talent. During her time with Methodist University she was able to provide unparalleled guidance as the Vice President for Advancement and University Relations. She continues to serve the community with her fierce work ethic and amazing attention to detail.

Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Sandy Ammons on receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Chairman’s Award.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF DOUGLAS CORBIN
HON. MARK DeSAULNIER
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. DeSAULNIER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Douglas Corbin for his dedication and service in the Bay Area.

Born in Rochester, New York, Douglas attended St. Lawrence University before receiving a law degree from George Washington University. After working as a patent attorney in Washington, D.C., his work brought him to San Francisco.

In San Francisco, Douglas became involved in local politics and eventually transitioned to public defense. In his new role, Douglas defended the Bay Area’s LGBT community from harassment and submitted bids on houses on behalf of African American families who had seen their own bids unfairly rejected.

After meeting his wife Rosemary, the couple moved to Richmond where Douglas was named Contra Costa County’s first Juvenile Court Referee. In addition to this new role, Douglas continued to be the first woman elected to serve as Mayor of Richmond.

In his retirement and between excursions to Spain and Mexico, Douglas continued to be active in the East Bay community. He served for decades as a board member and chairman for the Early Childhood Mental Health Program, as well as a supervisor for the development of town homes in Richmond by Habitat for Humanity.

Douglas will long be remembered for his knowledge, spirit, and commitment to the Richmond community.

RECOGNIZING PRISCILLA W. GRANNIS IN HONOR OF WOMEN’S HISTORY MONTH
HON. MARIO DIAZ-BALART
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Madam Speaker, in honor of Women’s History Month, I rise today to recognize Priscilla Grannis, whose inspiring life journey and determined work ethic has had a major impact on those around her and the wider Southern Florida community.

Throughout her eventful life, Priscilla has proved that she is a strongminded and driven person who has risen to match many challenges in a multitude of areas. After receiving her undergraduate degree in music from Florida State University and a Master’s of Music from Yale University, she joined the Miami Opera and performed with them for two seasons. She then furthered her music career by moving to Germany and performed overseas. While in Germany, Priscilla joined Hewlett Packard and became the Executive Assistant to the German CEO for a number of years.

Sheer will to achieve has constantly been displayed in her ability to adapt to any line of work. After moving back to Florida due to the unexpected death of her father, she took over the management of her family’s cattle farm despite having no prior knowledge or experience in the industry. With her natural determination and enthusiasm, Priscilla turned the farm into a largely successful business centered on an ethical and responsible management style.

In the late 1980s, Priscilla made the decision to enroll in Miami’s St. Thomas University’s law school and was a high-achieving student and graduated with honors. She then became an attorney in Naples and practiced law until retiring from the legal profession in 2014. Throughout her life, she has been heavily involved in politics and remains active in public affairs today. Priscilla previously served two terms as the third Vice President of the Women’s Republican Club of Naples Federated until being elected President of the Club, where she honorably served for six years before becoming treasurer, a position that she still holds today. Her dedicated involvement to the Women’s Republican Club of Naples cannot be understated. Under her leadership, the club grew from about seventy-five members to over two hundred. Presently, Priscilla works for Florida House Representative Bob Rommel as his District Secretary.

Madam Speaker, it is a privilege to know Ms. Grannis and I greatly admire her commitment to Southern Florida. Her natural motivation and determination have allowed her to make an impact everywhere she goes and I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing this outstanding individual.

GABE SIMON

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and applaud Gabe Simon for receiving the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award.

Gabe Simon is a student at Standley Lake High School and received this award because his determination and hard work have allowed him to overcome adversities.

The dedication demonstrated by Gabe Simon is exemplary of the type of achievement that can be attained with hard work and perseverance. It is essential students at all levels strive to make the most of their education and develop a work ethic which will guide them for the rest of their lives.

I extend my deepest congratulations to Gabe Simon for winning the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award.

I have no doubt he will exhibit the same dedication and character in all of his future accomplishments.

HONORING THE MILLER FAMILY
HON. BRETT GUTHRIE OF KENTUCKY
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. GUTHRIE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Joel Miller and his wife, Megan Bel Miller, on the birth of their daughter, Caroline Frances Miller.

Caroline was born on Saturday, January 12, 2019, at 8:25 p.m. Joel and Megan’s pride and joy came into this world weighing in at 8 pounds, 5 ounces and 20 inches in length.

With Joel, my previous Deputy Chief of Staff and Legislative Director as her father, and Megan, also a long-time Capitol Hill staffer, as her mother, I trust Caroline will have a bright and successful future ahead of her.

Joel recently went on to a new opportunity after being an integral part of the legislative operation in my office for over five and a half years. I am thrilled to forestall him continue in his most important role yet, as a father. I have no doubt that Joel and Megan will be wonderful and inspiring parents, who are devoted to their daughter’s well-being.

Congratulations and best wishes to the Millers and Bel families.

HONORING PASTOR FRANKLIN WOOD, SR.
HON. GREG PENCE
OF INDIANA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. PENCE. Madam Speaker, I rise to acknowledge Pastor Franklin Wood, Sr., of Whittier Lane Baptist Church who has played an integral role in his community and congregation for nearly half a century. The United States of America was founded by patriots like Pastor Wood who believed that faith and freedom of religion was of paramount importance to building a strong society.

That truth is evident in our National Motto: in God We Trust.

Faith remains the bedrock of American life, and one of the reasons for that is the Church. Local churches, such as Whittier Lane Baptist Church in New Castle, IN, have always been at the forefront of service to communities large and small. As worshippers put their trust in God, they looked to Pastor Wood for guidance and counsel. I have no doubt that Pastor Wood’s leadership played a vital role in the spiritual health and wellbeing of so many individuals in his congregation.

As he begins a well-deserved retirement, I want to acknowledge Pastor Wood and sincerely thank him for dedicating his life to serve God and the Church. It is a true honor to serve a Hoosier who has demonstrated such deep commitment to his community. I wish him all the best in his retirement.
HONORING HANNA BRITT, THE 2019
FAYETTEVILLE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE YOUNG PROFESSIONAL OF THE YEAR

HON. RICHARD HUDSON
OF NORTH CAROLINA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Hanna Britt for receiving the 2019 Young Professional of the Year award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce. I have a profound respect for successful individuals taking the time and patience to offer mentorship to other aspiring young professionals. Hanna has been with H&H Homes since 2013 and is currently serving as the Corporate Director of Marketing.

After receiving a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration in Marketing from Appalachian State University, Hanna taught English in South Korea. She came back to Fayetteville in 2013, and has been passionate about supporting the community. She is a member of the Fayetteville Young Professional program and served on the leadership committee for two years. Additionally, she is a past member of the Junior League of Fayetteville.

Hanna was honored with this award and provides a wonderful example for other young professionals in our community. Her passion is shown in all that she does and it is with great pride that I acknowledge her achievements today. Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Hanna Britt on receiving the 2019 Young Professional of the Year award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce.

COMMENDING AND CONGRATULATING MR. ROBERT "BOB" CAMACHO ON HIS 34 YEARS OF PUBLIC SERVICE

HON. MICHAEL F.Q. SAN NICOLAS
OF GUAM
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. SAN NICOLAS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor a genuine public servant and friend, Chief Robert “Bob” D. Camacho on his retirement from the Antonio B. Won Pat Guam International Airport Authority (GIAA) police department after 34 years of service to Guam and to the nation.

Bob has a long history in public service. After serving 11 years in the United States Army, where he received numerous awards and decorations, Bob began his civilian career as a parole officer in the Guam Department of Corrections, eventually advancing to the post of Director of the Department. As Director, Bob’s innovations included making the Department of Correction a tobacco-free environment and effectively restructuring prison food services. These changes significantly reduced health-care costs for employees as well as inmates and saved millions of dollars in food costs and wastage for the government of Guam.

Bob served in other senior executive positions within the law enforcement field including in the Guam Customs and Quarantine Agency and the Guam Police Department. It is no surprise that Bob also excelled in these other positions, constantly exemplifying the definition of a public servant.

Appointed to the Chief of the Guam International Airport Authority police department in 2005, Bob effectively responded to the increased security risks imposed by the tragedy on September 11, 2001. Bob continued to ensure that the GIAA and his department kept pace with new and constantly changing U.S. Department of Homeland Security and Transportation Security Administration mandates as well as keeping pace with the constantly growing passenger and freight workload. He was instrumental in promoting and securing funding for “Project Hulo,” a much needed, and significant increase, in services, operations, and security for the airport, which has become a major Pacific hub for both domestic and international travel and freight.

Bob continued to trailblaze in the Guam law enforcement community when he served as Chairman of the Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission, setting appropriate training, ethical conduct, and retention of peace officers throughout the territory of Guam. Bob has dedicated his life serving our community, exemplifying the best in leadership qualities, and has continued inspire those around him. Madam Speaker, I rise on behalf of the People of Guam, offering my greatest appreciation for Bob’s commitment to public service. I congratulate him on his retirement and offer him best wishes on his well-earned retirement.

RECONCILING THE RECRUIT CLASS 2018–02 OF THE PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF FIRE AND RESCUE

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise to congratulate the recent graduates of the Prince William County Public Safety Academy. These men and women will soon join the ranks of those who have served and continue to serve in the Prince William County Department of Fire and Rescue.

Since its inception in 1966, the Department of Fire and Rescue has led the way. In 1967, Prince William County became the first jurisdiction on the East Coast to implement the 911 System. That same year, Prince William became the first county in the Commonwealth of Virginia and the National Capital Region to implement a physical ability exam for career firefighters. In 1994, Mary Beth Michos was hired as Chief and became the first female fire and rescue chief of a metro-sized department. The Prince William County Department of Fire and Rescue continues to maintain one of the most forward-thinking combination fire departments in the country, and its legacy of “firsts” continues. It is one of only three jurisdictions in the Commonwealth of Virginia with delegated training authority, granted by the Virginia Department of Fire Programs.

As the newest members of the Department of Fire and Rescue, these graduates join the department as integral parts of the emergency response and community safety team.

Madam Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me in congratulating the newest members of the Prince William County Department of Fire and Rescue. I am confident that recruit class 2018–02 will serve the residents of Prince William County with honor and distinction. In the tradition of their new firefighting family, I say: “Stay safe.”

RECOGNIZING PAUL RECKLAU ON THE OCCASION OF HIS RETIREMENT FROM THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize Paul Recklau on the occasion of his retirement from the General Services Administration following a 40-year career in the federal government. I thank him for his life-long dedication to public service to our country.

Paul Recklau was born and raised in Feasterville, Pennsylvania. He graduated from Pennsylvania State University in 1978 with a degree in Accounting. He began his career in civil service in January of 1979 in a 16-month training program at the Savannah Army Depot in the Defense Supply Agency. Paul then got his first duty assignment at the Pueblo Army Depot in Colorado continuing to gain experience as an ammunition inspector and an explosive safety expert. After serving a couple of years there, he received his second assignment at the Lone Star Army Ammunition Plant in Texas. He was transferred to Longhorn Ammunition Plant in Karnack, Texas to act as a GS–11 level QUASAS.

Paul then spent 6 years at the Sunflower Army Ammunition Plant in Kansas, south of De Soto. In 1988, only 9 years into his career, he was promoted to a GS–12 and acted as Chief of Quality Assurance at the plant. In 1990, he moved into a new role as an Industrial Specialist for the Defense Logistics Agency in Columbus, Ohio. For 9 months, Paul commuted to Dayton, Ohio and performed his duties at the Defense Electronic Supply Center. Upon returning to Columbus he became a Contract Specialist. In 1999, he was promoted to a GS–14 Senior Project Manager. After 10 years at FEDSIM, Paul moved to the Office of Strategic Management within GSA and finally in 2014, ended up in the Office of General Services and Services as a Program Analyst where he ended his career on March 1, 2019. Throughout his career, Paul successfully worked with other federal employees as well as outside contractors to complete projects and keep day to day processes running smoothly. Civil servants like Paul are vital to the continuous operation of the government and I am grateful to Paul for spending the entirety of his career in service to our country.

Paul resides in Woodbridge, Virginia with his wife, Maureen, who has been a reading tutor at a local Prince William County public elementary school for 15 years. Their daughter, Jean Recklau, is a junior at the University of Virginia studying Public Policy. In retirement, Jean devoted countless hours to assisting veterans through his leadership in several veteran service organizations.

In 1982, two years after his retirement from the U.S. Army, John was appointed to the Board of County Supervisors to fill the Neabsco District seat vacated by James McCourt. While serving the constituents of the Neabsco District was always John's primary objective, he was also able to effect change and shape progress for all of Prince William County. He advocated successfully for the construction of the Dale City Recreation Center, the McCoart Administration Center, Pfitzner Stadium, the county's Boys' and Girls' Home, the Hilda Barg Homeless Prevention Center, Chinn Park Regional Library, and many more major civic investments including numerous schools, public safety facilities, and senior centers. John worked tirelessly to improve our local schools and the quality of public education. He was a champion of economic and infrastructure development in the county.

But what everyone loved most about John was his care for all people. Regardless of sex, race, or creed, John supported all rights. As a life-long civil and human rights supporter, John asked the board to initiate a local investigation of a Dale City restaurant for refusal of service based on race. Then just last year in 2018, John supported a vote on the board to make June "LGBTQ and More Pride Month." Throughout his tenure, John worked for the people of Prince William County, making sure their next day was better than the last. Through the past four decades John was both elected and appointed to distinguished committee seats. John served two terms as Vice Chairman of the Prince William Board of County Supervisors as well as two terms as Chairman of the Northern Virginia Regional Commission, State President of the Virginia Association of Planning District Commissions, State President of the Virginia Association of Counties, Chairman of the Virginia Railway Express Operations Board, and Chairman of the Potomac and Rappahannock Transportation Commission.

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. CONNOLLY.
the community provided land for a church and a place for Reverend Bailey to live. The Clerk of the Court for Prince William County approved the deed on March 8, 1883, and Ebenezer Baptist Church celebrates its anniversary on the first Sunday of March in recognition of that occasion.

Bailey started the New School in Occoquan, serving as a precursor to the establishment of the New School Baptist Church, which later became Ebenezer Baptist Church. The cornerstone of the church was laid on the first Sunday in May 1883 and the building was dedicated in 1885. Reverend Bailey, who had long been the inspiration and driving force for the establishment of this church, led the congregation from 1885–1891.

The church has endured setbacks and faced community challenges during its 136 year history. After the original church structure burned to the ground in 1923, Ebenezer Baptist Church was rebuilt in 1924 where it remains today in the same historical site. The church was also instrumental in the integration of the county’s public schools in the 1960s, as well as several other Civil Rights accomplishments. I was honored to include the oral histories of three members of Ebenezer Baptist Church in my Northern Virginia Civil Rights Archive project.

Throughout its history, Ebenezer Baptist Church has been led by pastors who have served the church and the congregation faithfully. Their most recent pastor, Reverend Charles A. Lundy, was called to the pulpit to lead the church and has done so righteously since June 23, 1990. Under Reverend Lundy’s leadership, Ebenezer Baptist Church has flourished and its membership has expanded from 120 members to more than 800 today. To accommodate this growing church family, weekly worship at Ebenezer Baptist Church has been relocated to Telegraph Road. Ebenezer Baptist Church has been and remains a monumental, historical, and spiritual structure in our community.

Madam Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me in celebrating the 136th anniversary of Ebenezer Baptist Church and in thanking the church and congregation for their contributions to our community.

HONORING THE LIFE OF GEORGE WILLIAM "BILLY" ELLIS

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the life of George William "Billy" Ellis, former Chief of the Vienna Volunteer Fire Department. Chief Ellis recently passed away at the age of 81 following a brief illness, surrounded by his friends and loved ones.

My congressional district includes the town of Vienna, Virginia, a vibrant and active community of 16,000 residents. In 2013, Money Magazine ranked it the third best place to live in the nation. If you were to ask the residents of Vienna, they would unanimously say that it should have taken first place.

There are many reasons why residents of Vienna take such pride in their town—the annual town festivals and concerts, the incredible Vienna Youth sports program, the outstanding schools and services, and even a local restaurant that serves the best chili dogs. Perhaps the most important reasons are the community spirit that is so prevalent, and the willingness of the residents to work together for the betterment of all. This is course includes the many individuals who protect the town as members of law enforcement and the Vienna Volunteer Fire Department.

Chief Ellis joined the Vienna Volunteer Department at the age of 18. For more than 50 years, he epitomized the spirit of volunteerism, devoting himself to serving his community. In 1980, he became the chief of the department, a position he held until 2001 when he and his wife, Joan, decided to move to Culpepper County where he lived up until his passing. But even a move to a quieter community couldn’t keep Chief Ellis away from a fire station. Following the move, he quickly joined the Salem Volunteer Fire Department and spent many more years driving apparatus to emergencies. Serving others was in his DNA.

Chief Ellis was preceded in death by a son, Charles. He leaves behind a wife of 58 years, Joan Scott Ellis, his sons David (Jennifer) and Robert (Lori), his daughter Jennifer, and his four grandchildren, Alison, Jacob, Ashley and Hunter. He also leaves behind an incredible legacy of charity, commitment and dedication to a community that will be indebted to this great man for years to come.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in commending the selfless dedication and commitment to serve of Chief George William "Billy" Ellis, and in extending my deepest condolences to his family. May you rest in peace, Chief Ellis.

RECOGNIZING GUAM’S AUTISM COMMUNITY TOGETHER AS THEY CELEBRATE THEIR 12TH ANNUAL AUTISM AWARENESS FAIR

HON. MICHAEL F.Q. SAN NICOLAS
OF GUAM
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. SAN NICOLAS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Guam’s Autism Community Together (ACT) as they celebrate their 12th annual Autism Awareness Fair, appropriately themed “Get Your Blue on, Guam, Support Autism.” During Autism Awareness Month, ACT and organizations across the country work together to provide every individual with autism spectrum disorder with the opportunity to achieve the highest possible quality of life. This year, ACT and their partners want to do more than just promote autism awareness. They want to motivate friends and collaborators to become active partners in the movement towards acceptance and appreciation. As the father of an autistic child, I am aware of the impact that autism has on parents, family, and friends. It is imperative that the whole community becomes involved. Although much has been accomplished, much more remains to be done to raise worldwide awareness of these issues.

ACT is an organization based in Guam as a support group for families with autistic children. It is one of Guam’s principal organizations leading the efforts to increase autism awareness across our community. ACT is dedicated to helping individuals and parents find resources, support, and training while making diligent efforts to increase the awareness of autism spectrum disorders. ACT advocates for effective services to meet the unique needs of individuals with autism and their families.

Madam Speaker, I further commend Autism Community Together as it continues to host the 12th Annual Autism Awareness Fair World Autism Day. The Autism Awareness Fair is the largest event hosted by ACT throughout the year and brings together government agencies, non-profit organizations, service providers, and support vendors with the intent to provide information and resources on the various disability-related programs and services available on Guam. Madam Speaker, on behalf of the people of Guam, I thank Guam’s Autism Community Together and all government agencies and community partners for their assistance in spreading autism awareness and acceptance. I look forward to future contributions by Autism Community Together to provide more opportunities for those in community living with autism.

CONGRATULATING THE ELECTED OFFICERS OF THE FAIRFAX COUNTY FEDERATION OF CITIZENS ASSOCIATIONS

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize the Fairfax County Federation of Citizens Associations (the “Federation”) and to congratulate its recently elected officers who will serve in leadership positions for the 2018–2019 term.

Founded in 1940 and re-incorporated in 1995, the Federation is a coalition of civic and homeowners associations who work together to promote and support initiatives that will benefit the community as a whole. The Federation realized early in its existence that by joining with other civic and homeowners associations from every corner of the county and speaking with one unified voice, its influence and contributions would be far more powerful and effective.

The Federation is comprised of thousands of volunteers who actively participate in matters of local and state government that impact their communities. Individual members serve on countless task forces, boards and commissions to help preserve the quality of life that is enjoyed by all who call Fairfax County home. As a former two-term President of the Federation, I understand that those who volunteer their time, energies, and talents to civic activities play a vital role in making Fairfax County one of the best places in the nation in which to live, work, and raise a family.

The Federation would not be nearly as successful and effective without the leadership of its officers. It is my great honor to include in the Record the names of the following newly elected Federation officers:

President: William S. Barfield. Bill resides in the Braddock District and has an extensive history of civic engagement including serving as President of the Country Club View Civic
Just as the physical presence of Antioch Baptist Church has expanded over time, so too has their presence in the community. The congregation provides witness to their faith through a variety of missions, including programs assisting the homeless population, the elderly, those suffering from illness and those who are incarcerated. The congregation has also partaken in international relief efforts, such as the aftermath of the devastating earthquake in Haiti in 2010.

As someone who attended seminary and seriously considered entering the Catholic priesthood, I can attest that being called to ministry is a special responsibility. The burdens and rewards that are represented by this calling are neither widely understood nor appreciated, but they are uniquely enriching.

I have often found a pastoral aspect to my constituent service work as a Member of Congress and I trust that Antioch Baptist will continue to be a pastoral force in the community for many years and decades to come. I am confident that Antioch Baptist will continue to prosper and provide the community with the spiritual guidance so needed in today's complex world. Their dedication to ministry and to their faith is to be commended, and I thank them for their dedication to their congregation and our community.

On behalf of the 11th Congressional District, I again congratulate Pastor Auberry and the entire congregation on this momentous anniversary. I ask my colleagues to please join me in offering their congratulations to in wishing Antioch Baptist Church continued success in all their future endeavors.

RECOGNIZING THE 30TH ANNIVERSARY OF ANTIOCH BAPTIST CHURCH

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize Pastor Marshall L. Auberry and the congregation of Antioch Baptist Church on the occasion of their 30th anniversary.

Founded on January 8, 1989 by Pastor John Q. Gibbs, Antioch Baptist Church has been a thriving member of the Fairfax County community. Pastor Gibbs was responsible for many of the significant milestones in the church's history, including the purchase of the land where the current building now stands, as well as the construction of the building that would become the new and expanded sanctuary.

Now pay 800 million bills each month with Direct Payment via ACH. In 2018 alone, 23 billion ACH payments, valued at a total of $50 trillion, moved across the ACH Network. I am thrilled to recognize NACHA's commitment to creating and fostering an award-winning work environment, and I commend them on their efforts to strengthen the ACH Network. I am proud to represent in Congress one of the 2019 Best Places to Work in Virginia.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in recognizing NACHA's successes, and in congratulating them on the well-deserved honor of being named one of the 2019 Best Places to Work in Virginia.

RECOGNIZING THE NOMINEES FOR THE 2018-2019 PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY PUBLIC SCHOOLS PRINCIPAL OF THE YEAR AWARD

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the nominees for the 2018–2019 Prince William County Public Schools Principal of the Year Award. Principals who meet the criteria for the award are those who effectively manage, demonstrate, and encourage creativity and innovation, foster cooperation between the school and community by maintaining an open dialogue with students, parents, faculty, and staff, and exemplify commitment to providing a quality education for all students to learn and develop. The selected winner will be named the Prince William County Principal of the Year.

As the second largest school division in the Commonwealth of Virginia, Prince William County Public Schools educates 90,000 students in ninety-eight schools. The efficiency and impact of these teachers is apparent as PWCS ranked the highest in the entire state with their on-time graduation rate.

I extend my personal congratulations to the following nominees for the 2018–2019 Prince William County Public Schools Principal of the Year Award: Neil Beech, Osbourn Park High School; Mary Jane Boynton, Parkside Middle School; Hamish Brewer, Fred Lynn Middle School; Kathryn Forgas, Coles Elementary School; Latiesa Green, Potomac View Elementary School; Sheila Huckeinstein, Saunders Elementary School; Latesha Green, Potomac View Elementary School; Sheila Huckeinstein, Saunders Elementary School; Jennifer Perilla, Tyler Elementary School; Amy Schott, Rockledge Elementary School; Aerica Williams, River Oaks Elementary School; and Latiesa Green, Potomac View Elementary School.

I urge my colleagues to join me in congratulating the nominees for the 2018–2019 Prince William County Public Schools Principal of the Year Award. The selected winner will be named the Prince William County Principal of the Year.
RECOGNIZING THE RECIPIENTS OF THE 2019 PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION AWARDS

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize the recipients of the 2019 Prince William County Human Rights Commission Awards.

The Prince William Board of County Supervisors (BOCS) implemented the Human Rights Ordinance January 15, 1993, formally establishing the Human Rights Commission. Two years prior, the BOCS formed the Human Rights Study Committee to explore the needs of a community that was growing in population and diversity. An exhaustive effort that included numerous committee meetings and public hearings identified a strong community desire for a human rights ordinance and an agency to enforce it. The Human Rights Ordinance prohibits discriminatory practices based on race, color, sex, national origin, religion, marital status, or disability, as well as in the consideration of employment, housing, public accommodations, education, and credit, in Prince William County.

The BOCS approved the ordinance in September 1992 to ensure that “each citizen is treated fairly, provided equal protection of the law, and equal opportunity to participate in the benefits, rights, and privileges of community life.” Residents enlist the services of the commission if they feel their rights have been violated in the areas of employment, fair housing, credit, education and public accommodation.

In celebration of Universal Human Rights Day, the Human Rights Commission recognizes individuals and organizations that promote the principles of human rights in Prince William County. It is my honor to include in the RECORD the recipients of the 2019 Prince William County Human Rights Commission Awards: Phyllis Aggrey, John Harper, The Nabil County Human Rights Commission Foundation, Graham Park Middle School, Minnieville Elementary School’s Family Engagement Team.

Madam Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me in commending the recipients of the 2019 Prince William County Human Rights Commission Awards. We owe a deep debt of gratitude to these honorees for their efforts to safeguard our most basic rights and remind us of our common humanity. Let us use their example to re dedicate ourselves to the fight against inequity and injustice.

SENATE COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Title IV of Senate Resolution 4, agreed to by the Senate of February 4, 1977, calls for establishment of a system for a computerized schedule of all meetings and hearings of Senate committees, subcommittees, joint committees, and committees of conference. This title requires all such committees to notify the Office of the Senate Daily Digest—designated by the Rules Committee—of the time, place and purpose of the meetings, when scheduled and any cancellations or changes in the meetings as they occur.

As an additional procedure along with the computerization of this information, the Office of the Senate Daily Digest will prepare this information for printing in the Extensions of Remarks section of the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD on Monday and Wednesday of each week.

Meetings scheduled for Thursday, March 7, 2019 may be found in the Daily Digest of today’s RECORD.
