

which were taken down for failing to meet its “editorial standards”—quite literally, fake news.

What is perhaps most disappointing to me is that 2½ years into the Trump administration, none of this is particularly new. We have had Trump diplomatic appointments call for putting political opponents in prison, such as Kyle McCarter, President Trump’s Ambassador to Kenya, who tweeted on election night of 2016: “Hillary for prison. No, really!”

We have had Trump diplomatic appointments, already at their posts, make totally inappropriate and inflammatory forays into American politics, which is taboo for the Foreign Service, such as in June of this year, when Carla Sands, President Trump’s Ambassador to Denmark, appeared to accuse former President Obama of an “attempted coup d’etat in America”—the U.S. Ambassador in Denmark, June of 2019.

And we have had Trump diplomatic appointments embarrass the country by making false claims and then failing to take responsibility for them.

Pete Hoekstra, appointed by President Trump as Ambassador to the Netherlands, has claimed that there were “no-go zones” too dangerous to enter due to Muslim migration. When asked about these statements, Ambassador Hoekstra claimed they were “fake news” until he was confronted with footage of his own words.

This is not normal. We cannot grow accustomed to this kind of disgraceful behavior. We cannot look at the poor behavior of already-confirmed nominees and conclude that we should lower our standards when it comes to Ms. Blanchard’s nomination.

This is the U.S. Senate—supposedly, the world’s greatest deliberative body. We should examine the fitness and qualifications of every single individual nominated to be the face of America in nations across the world. We should expect our Ambassadors to represent the United States with dignity, respect, and sound judgment, and we should remember that America’s role as a leader of nations rests on our moral standards and greatest values.

Something is wrong if we willingly confirm people to these positions who repeatedly spread fake news, baseless slander, and the most despicable of conspiracy mongering.

For these reasons, I will be opposing the nomination of Lynda Blanchard and urge my colleagues to do the same. I yield the floor.
