The House met at 10 a.m. and was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. Cuellar).

DESIGNATION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE
The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:

I hereby appoint the Honorable Henry Cuellar to act as Speaker pro tempore on this day.

Nancy Pelosi,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

MORNING-HOUR DEBATE
The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of January 3, 2019, the Chair will now recognize Members from lists submitted by the majority and minority leaders for morning-hour debate.

The Chair will alternate recognition between the parties. All time shall be equally allocated between the parties, and in no event shall debate continue beyond 11:50 a.m. Each Member, other than the majority and minority leaders and the minority whip, shall be limited to 5 minutes.

PROCEED WITH IMPEACHMENT
The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Green) for 5 minutes.

Mr. Green of Texas. Mr. Speaker, and still I rise because I love my country, and I also rise because I believe that we are currently in a constitutional crisis.

The executive branch of the government is refusing to honor subpoenas lawfully issued by committees of the Congress. The executive branch of the government does not respect the judiciary.

Mr. Speaker, we are at the crossroads of accountability. Either we will hold the Chief Executive accountable, or we will be held accountable. I pray that we will do that which the Framers of the Constitution fully intended, and that is to proceed with impeachment when you have a Chief Executive who is causing harm to society.

This is a seminal moment in time for those of us who are in charge of this House. Either we will act, or we will be acted upon.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President.

CALLING FOR REJECTION OF THE BDS MOVEMENT
The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. Foxx) for 5 minutes.

Ms. Foxx of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, the failure of some Members of the House of Representatives to condemn the global Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions, BDS, movement that seeks to sabotage and undermine the State of Israel is appalling to me.

Instead of empowering a movement that seeks to isolate Israel, we should be supporting our greatest ally in the Middle East.

I have seen firsthand that BDS efforts violate the core goals of universities, which thrive—or should thrive—on open exchange and debate. And I reject the rationale of some Members who voted against the resolution under the guise of free speech.

H. Res. 246, voted on this week, echoes many resolutions that I have broadly supported. In February, House Republicans put forth one such measure to reject anti-Semitism in all forms. Astonishingly, some House Members expressed dissent during the voice vote on this motion. However, once a recorded vote was called, the motion passed 424–0.

The week, the majority leadership took the path of least resistance from its far-left Members by putting on the floor another resolution to condemn anti-Semitism but refusing to debate legislation with the teeth necessary to push back against the harmful BDS movement.

Support of Israel has long enjoyed bipartisan consensus, and real action against the BDS movement must be taken. I and 195 other Republicans signed a discharge petition for H.R. 336, the Strengthening America’s Security in the Middle East Act, to bring this legislation before the full House for an up-or-down vote.

H.R. 336 imposes direct and concrete penalties on the BDS movement by allowing State and local governments to adopt laws to divest public funds from groups or organizations that boycott Israel.

S. 1, the Senate companion to H.R. 336, passed with strong bipartisan support, 77–23. By passing H.R. 336, this House would send a clear message that the BDS movement’s anti-Semitic messages and actions will be met with firm consequences in the United States.

It is important that we stand in opposition to the BDS movement and stand with our strongest ally in the Middle East.

We must reject the BDS movement with the full force of law and continue to support Israel as the major strategic partner and a body has long enshrined in our laws, our policy priorities, and our hearts and minds.

HOUSING AFFORDABILITY CRISIS HURTS ECONOMIC GROWTH

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Oregon (Ms. BONAMICI) for 5 minutes.

Ms. BONAMICI. Mr. Speaker, my home State of Oregon, like much of the country, is facing a housing affordability crisis that is hurting families and the economy.

I recently held six listening sessions in the district I represent. In every community—urban, suburban, and rural—I heard from individuals, employers, local officials, and nonprofits that told me the lack of affordable housing is having serious consequences around northwest Oregon.

Over the last several years, housing costs have risen significantly, but wages have not. Available housing stock has not kept up with demand, driving prices higher and higher. Much of the new housing that is being built is unaffordable for middle- and low-income households.

To afford a modest one-bedroom unit at fair market rent, someone earning minimum wage in Yamhill County, Oregon, for example, would need to work 65 hours a week to pay for a modest one-bedroom apartment—81 hours a week.

Housing is foundational. It forms the bedrock of family stability and security, and it is vital to each person’s full participation in society.

The toll of this crisis on families and communities is devastating, and it is also hampering economic growth. I heard time and again from employers who are struggling to attract workers in areas where housing was unaffordable or unavailable, employees commuting long hours because they cannot afford to live closer to their jobs.

In Columbia County, for example, I heard how the lack of affordable housing for just one individual negatively affected the whole community. The county government recruited a highly qualified new finance director from another State, only to have that person be unable to find a permanent place to live. After staying in an RV for 4 months, she finally had to quit in the middle of budget season because she could not find a place to live.

Federal policies and resources are a vital part of addressing this true national crisis. Unfortunately, Federal support for cost-burdened individuals and families is severely insufficient and declining.

According to the Oregon Center for Public Policy, more than one-third of Oregon households are cost-burdened. That is 530,000 households spending more than 30 percent of their income on shelter, with some spending more than half of their income for a place to live.

Despite that tremendous need, only one out of every five eligible families receives any Federal housing assistance. Wait lists at public housing authorities often stretch into years.

At the Federal level, we have many tools to help address these problems: tax incentives, voucher programs, public housing, and grants that empower nonprofits and communities that implement effective strategies. But the resources Congress provides are woefully insufficient.

We need to do much more if we honestly want to make sure that every person in our communities has the dignity and stability of a roof over their head.

Mr. Speaker, this crisis is why I support transformative legislation like the American Housing and Economic Mobility Act. It would invest $445 billion to create 3 million deeply affordable homes and cut rental costs by 10 percent.

I also strongly support the Ending Homelessness Act to comprehensively address chronic homelessness by providing a surge of resources that will drastically expand access to housing and case management that integrates healthcare and other supportive services. Our communities are better and families will thrive when everyone has a home.

Ultimately, any solution will require a determined and coordinated effort by all stakeholders, including community activists, developers, lenders, nonprofit leaders, and elected officials at every level of government.

Congress must step up and be part of the solution. I ask my colleagues to join me today in committing to bold action to address the housing affordability crisis in Oregon and across the country.

RECOGNIZING NATIONAL HIRE A VETERAN DAY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. THOMPSON) for 5 minutes.

Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize today, July 25, as National Hire A Veteran Day.

In 2017, the nonprofit Hire Our Heroes established the day to highlight the many talented men and women who served our country and are now seeking civilian employment.

Hire Our Heroes serves as a resource bank for veterans to seek professional advice, discover new training opportunities, and search for new job opportunities.

Our Nation’s veterans are some of the most dedicated and selfless individuals who call this great Nation home. While we may never be able to repay them for their sacrifice fully, the very least we can do is to help ease the transition back into civilian life.

A big part of that transition is ensuring there are well-paying, family-sustaining jobs available for our men and women in uniform when they return home.

The most recent numbers from the Bureau of Labor Statistics show veteran unemployment at 3.2 percent, the lowest rate since 2011. That is great news, but that does not mean our work here is done.

As a proud father of an Army infantryman, I am proud to have supported legislation throughout my time in Congress that ensures our Active Duty servicemembers and their spouses have the tools they need to defend our country successfully. But it is critical that we also support legislation that prepares our veterans for adjusting to life after combat.

There are more than 7 million open jobs across the country. Our veterans want to work, and service is in their veins.

They want to make an honest living and provide for their families. They Want to learn new skills and be proud of the work that they do. It is important that we do our part to ensure these opportunities are available.

We can bolster veteran employment opportunities with career and technical education programs for veterans and their spouses. These programs can help veterans find new careers, provide additional education, and prepare them for successful civilian careers.

Mr. Speaker, our veterans are a huge asset to our country. They have valuable skills and experience that can be leveraged to benefit our communities. We must ensure that they have the necessary tools to make smart career decisions when we welcome them home.

Honor the Life and Service of Barbara Keller

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California (Mr. Ruiz) for 5 minutes.

Mr. Ruiz. Mr. Speaker, there are people whose empathy and compassion glow like a beacon, and others whose shine like the sun.

That was Barbara Keller: A blazing star of kindness and an inspiring local example. For 3 decades, Barbara called California's Coachella Valley home. Barbara and her husband Jerry, who she adored, proved and inspired. And she was a bodiment of good, humility, strength, love, kindness, and genuine service to others.

Barbara was a champion for combating HIV/AIDS through her leadership as the first female president of the Desert AIDS Project. Barbara was moved by the deaths and suffering of many HIV-infected friends living on the margins, facing injustice and discrimination in their struggle to live. She brought hope and healthcare to so many HIV-infected friends living on the margins, facing injustice and discrimination in their struggle to live. She brought hope and healthcare to so many HIV-infected friends living on the margins, facing injustice and discrimination in their struggle to live.

Barbara most treasured her family, and her greatest pleasure was being a loving wife, a mother, a daughter, and grandmother.

Barbara devotedly cared for her aging father, Marvin Cohn, until he passed away in March at 106 years old. She never once telling him she was undergoing intense chemotherapy for breast cancer. Barbara's death soon followed the following month on April 15, 2019.

Barbara and her husband Jerry's marriage was a love story few can claim and a touching example of the power of true love.

Barbara leaves behind her devoted husband, Jerry, her son, Brad, her daughters, Lindsay, Lisa, and Kelly, and her seven grandchildren, Taylor, Rebekah, Graham, Ridley, Greta, Eva, and Levon, and her sister, Carole.

While Barbara's passing deeply saddened me, her memory will live on in my heart and in the hearts of the countless individuals whose lives she touched.

In an era of "me first," ego-driven, selfish ambition, Barbara reminds us that love, kindness, and genuine service to others is possible. She is the embodiment of good, humility, strength, and outer and inner beauty. Her legacy lives on in the countless lives she improved and inspired. And she was a giant, a social architect, designing a healthier, kinder, more just community.

Knowing Barbara, and calling her my friend, was an incredible, unique, and beautiful blessing in my life. And her story must be told and recorded in our national records, so that generations to come can learn the vast potential of our national spirit.

She will be missed.

Honor the Service of Grover Davis

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Florida (Mr. Dunn) for 5 minutes.

Mr. Dunn. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor an extraordinary man. He is from Bay County, Florida, and I am fortunate to have him as a dear friend of mine.

Grover was born into a fishing family in December of 1941 in Parker, Florida, and he learned the value of hard work at a young age. He built fishing boats with his father and his brothers, leading his family to own the first charter fishing boats in Panama City.

When his father died, Grover dropped out of high school and worked with his brothers to support the family. They went on to become successful and living in the charter fishing business, with young Grover below deck keeping the boats running. He still keeps the boats running 70 years later.

He learned a lot about life at a young age. He met his wonderful wife, Judy, at Bay High School, and married her in 1961.

By the 1970s, the Davis family was managing the St. Andrews Marina, and Grover became interested in a new business venture. In 1974, he began Marine Transportation Services, which provided transportation services for oil and gas companies in the Gulf of Mexico.

Marine Transportation Services has truly become a family affair, with his wife, Judy, and his daughters, Kim and Kerrie, joining him at the helm.

Grover treats all of his employees like family. In fact, 50 percent of his employees started at Marine Transportation right out of high school and still work for the company.

He is unfailingly supportive of all of his employees. When they make a mistake, he doesn't let them go. He is famous for sitting with them and saying: "Did you learn something from this?"

His favorite phrase is: "There are only two kinds of captains; those who have run aground and those who are about to run aground."

Grover truly leads by example in all aspects of his life, and he has spent much of his life giving back to the community. He is a big supporter of Camo Dreams, a nonprofit that helps disabled children go on hunting trips, and routinely supported events for the Girl Scouts when his daughters were growing up.

Grover, his wife, Judy, and his daughters, have long since cemented their place in the firmament of stars that are the foundation of our community back home.

He has always preached that honor is the most important value among people, and no one person is better than another. He never asks anyone to do what he would not do himself.

Judy and Grover have two children, Kerrie and Kerrie, two grandsons, and two great-grandsons. They all describe him as an amazing friend, father, and leader in our community.

He is the single most social man I know. A great storyteller, he always surrounded himself with his friends, and if he stood still for more than a few minutes, it was certain that he was frowning grouper or mullet for a host of people. He loves people and they love him.

What I have to say, Grover is also widely known as a huge and very inventive practical joker. He has been known to go to elaborate lengths to prank his friends.
The Coast Guard faces cartels and smugglers with staggering resources and advanced technology, and studies show that only 20 to 30 percent of the illegal drugs coming to our shores are interdicted.

According to the leaders of the Coast Guard, the most significant factor in its inability to meet drug interdiction targets has been insufficient inventory of vessels and aircraft to support operations.

At a time when our Nation is facing a profound crisis of addiction, we can and must do more to ensure that the Coast Guard is fully funded and has the resources it needs to keep our country safe.

That is why yesterday’s action to pass the Coast Guard Reauthorization Act of 2019 in a bipartisan way was so critical. This act supports the Coast Guard for the next 2 years with more than $11 billion in discretionary funding each fiscal year, allowing them to address a backlog created by previous cuts.

An important bill I introduced was also included, the Fair and Equal Treatment of Women in the Coast Guard Act. This seeks to increase the recruitment and retention of women in the U.S. Coast Guard and improve gender diversity in this branch of the Armed Forces.

This comes in response to a study commissioned by the Coast Guard that identified barriers to attracting, recruiting, and retaining women, and recommended ways to improve gender diversity in the service. It is one important step to assure that the Coast Guard can continue to attract our Nation’s best and brightest.

When we talk about keeping this Nation safe, let’s remember the incredible work performed by our Coast Guard close to home and around the globe.

Let’s show the Coast Guard Members that Congress has their backs, and let’s continue to work collaboratively to ensure the Coast Guard has the proper support and policies in place to carry out its missions.

THE PLAGUE OF ROBOCALLS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BABIN) for 5 minutes.

Mr. BABIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of Dr. Christopher Columbus Kraft, who served as NASA’s first flight director and one of the agency’s preeminent missile and spacecraft engineers.

Kraft passed away on July 22, 2019, at the impressive age of 95 years old and only 2 days after the 50th anniversary of the Apollo 11 Moon landing. Without a doubt, he was one of the greatest minds America could succeed in space, and the rest of the world that saw our program as a necessity, is now a source of inspiration.

During this time, Kraft essentially created the entire concept of mission control and successfully directed all six crewed Mercury missions, including those that made Alan Shepard the first American in space and John Glenn the first American in orbit.

In Project Gemini, Kraft was promoted to the head of mission operations. Now in charge of a team of flight directors, he served “on console” during many historic moments, including Ed White’s first spacewalk in Gemini 4.

Achieving all of this proved to the country and the rest of the world that America could succeed in space, and certainly set the stage for the Apollo missions to the Moon.
During Apollo, Chris Kraft soon rose to the position of deputy director of the Manned Spacecraft Center, now known as Johnson Space Center, which I proudly represent, and in 1972 was promoted to serve as the Center director.

Before Dr. Kraft’s retirement in 1982, he contributed to a myriad of other projects, including Skylab and the first space shuttle missions.

While our space program continues to grow by leaps and bounds and our hands reach outward for Mars, we should remember the man on whose shoulders we stand and the great debt owed not only by NASA and our Nation, but also by our entire planet, to this incredible individual. Mr. Speaker, I thank Dr. Kraft for his service to our country. ‘flight.’

RECOGNIZING THE LIFE AND SERVICE OF JAMES HUSTON MURPHY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LOUDERMILK) for 5 minutes.

Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the life and service of Mr. James Huston Murphy.

James is a 94-year-old decorated World War II veteran as well as a native of the 11th Congressional District in Georgia.

Jim graduated from Lanier High School for Boys in 1942 and was an officer in the school’s ROTC program, where he was preparing for a career as an officer in the U.S. military. The ROTC program is where Jim learned valuable lessons that would serve him down the road during the war.

In the fall of 1942, Jim enrolled at Georgia Tech, in Atlanta, with the hope of receiving an Army officer’s commission through Tech’s senior ROTC program. At that time, the United States was 4 years into World War II; and at the urging of Army recruiters, Jim and most of his fellow ROTC classmatess enlisted in the Reserve because the military wanted them to complete college and officer training before going to Active Duty.

However, that idea was short-lived, because in March of 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt called Jim’s ROTC class and others across the Nation into Immediate Active Duty. They were needed as ground troop replacements, and at that time, Jim was barely 18 years old.

In the spring of 1943, Jim reported to Fort McPherson in Atlanta, where he faced many challenges, but nothing more daunting than passing the military standard eye exam. And I know you are asking: How difficult is an eye exam? Well, for Jim it was nearly impossible because Jim was blind in his left eye from birth.

This disability would disqualify Jim from serving in the military, but Jim was not going to let that stop him from serving his country. He believed that service was his duty, and after playing a few hand tricks during the exam, he passed.

In March of 1944, Jim was entered to Camp Howze near Gainesville, Texas, to join the 103rd Infantry Division. The battalion was involved in intensive combat training, and since Jim had already received some artillery training, he was assigned to Battery C of the 928th Field Artillery Battalion, a 105-millimeter howitzer unit.

They trained long and hard, knowing they were headed for war. They learned the mission of artillery to support advancing infantry ground forces in combat and how to bracket your target area by trial and error. Jim’s job was to be the forward observer radio operator when they were in combat and a jeep driver when the battery was moving forward.

Only a few months had passed since Jim was assigned to the 103rd Infantry Division before he was aboard the USS Monticello heading for the war.

The trip across the Atlantic was anything but luxurious. The military had packed the ship like “a can of sardines,” as Jim put it; and the 2-week voyage was full of severe storms and indescribable seasickness, and a fear of being torpedoed always loomed in the back of their minds.

After arriving in France, it would not take long for Jim’s combat unit to see their first action, and it occurred while they were in mountains in northeastern France. One of Jim’s forward observer team was killed by rifle fire in the small town of Barr, which meant that Jim and the other member had to carry on the job a man short. For this, they were later awarded the Bronze Star.

Jim survived the record winter that enveloped northern France, Belgium, and Germany during the war, but he did not leave unscathed. On Christmas Eve of 1944, Jim became very sick while single-handedly manning a forward outpost only 200 yards from German soldiers. The pain became so intense that he had to be transported to a field hospital, and doctors determined he had a bad case of appendicitis.

While Jim was lying in the hospital bed after appendix surgery, the Battle of the Bulge was just getting underway, and Jim realized his battery desperately needed him. Going against doctors’ orders, Jim put on his uniform, left the hospital, and hitched a ride back to his battery. The rest of Jim’s unit was amazed he came back, and in the meantime, his battery commander had learned he was blind in one eye. Jim was nominated for the Silver Star, but Jim refused, as he felt any citation earned should go to the entire battery, not just him.

Germany surrendered in May of 1945, marking the end of WWII and the end of Jim’s service in the U.S. military, but the war was still raging in the Pacific, and that is where Jim was sent. However, before Jim got there, the atomic bombs were dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, and World War II was soon over.

In Jim’s own words: “My contributions to World War II, from enlistment to discharge, was 2 years, 11 months, and 14 days of my youth, including 9 months in combat. For this, I am proud and have no regrets. I did not have to go to the war, but I believed it was my duty, and I wanted to go.”

Jim will be the first to tell you his story is like so many others who fought in Europe during World War II, but there are many who, like Jim, faced many challenges, including selflessness, his duty to his country and fellow soldiers was quite exemplary.

Mr. Speaker, Georgia’s 11th Congressional District and the United States House of Representatives thanks Jim. We thank him for his service to our Nation and his sacrifice for our freedoms.

WE CANNOT GIVE UP ON THE GUATEMALAN PEOPLE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from California (Mrs. Torres) for 5 minutes.

Mrs. TORRES of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today as the first person born in Guatemala in the United States House of Representatives.

I know the Guatemalan people have lived through many difficult times, and I know this because I was born there during the civil war. My parents made the brave decision to send me to live with my uncle in the United States when I was a little girl.

But through it all, the people of Guatemala have not given up. They have continued to work to make a better life for their children and for their children’s children. They have worked for justice, for democracy, and they have won important victories.

In 1996, the efforts of the Guatemalan people ended the civil war; and in 2007, the creation of the International Commission Against Impunity in Guatemala, an innovative institution whose mission was to help rid the country of corruption and organized crime. Working with brave Guatemalan judges and prosecutors, CICIG made real progress in improving Guatemala’s justice system.

Then, in 2015, Guatemalans of all ages and political stripes took to the streets to call for the resignation of massively corrupt President Otto Perez Molina, and they won.

The long struggle of the Guatemalan people has led to a country that is safer and more just. The country’s problems are far from resolved, but progress has been made.

Today Guatemala is at a crossroads. CICIG has, unfortunately, been forced out, and the country is in the middle of an election season, but many Guatemalans fear that the current government will be replaced by a new government that is just as corrupt as the current and the previous ones.

So many Guatemalans feel they are alone, and some are losing hope, but to the Guatemalan people I say this:
You are not alone, and you cannot give up. Many of us here in the United States Congress understand your challenges. We understand what you are facing, and many of us refuse to believe the lies peddled by the corrupt political class and their lobbyists. And many of us will continue to stand with you, and we will keep on fighting for your cause because we know that it is our cause, too. We know that a more just and democratic Guatemala is only in the best interests of ours, as well, and we know that you want for your children the same thing that we want for our American children.

I am confident that one day Guatemala will have a government that is worthy of its people, a government that works to advance justice, not to undermine and eliminate it; and one day, the United States Government will support the efforts against corruption in Guatemala, and together, as partners, we will work to ward a brighter and more prosperous and more democratic future.

So to my colleagues, we cannot give up on the Guatemalan people. And to the Guatemalan people I say:
Do not give up on your future. Even in the darkness, we must look for signs of hope.

And in 1990, a brave anthropologist named Myrna Mack was killed by a military death squad for speaking out about the abuses against indigenous Guatemalans, but her sister Helen worked to bring justice in her case and helped lead the effort to create CICIG. And now Myrna Mack’s daughter Lucrecia is going to be a member of the Guatemalan Congress.

So we must remember Pablo Neruda’s words: “They can cut all the flowers, but they can’t stop the spring.”

MAKE AUGUST 16 NATIONAL INDEPENDENT WORKER DAY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. MOOLENAAR) for 5 minutes.

Mr. MOOLENAAR. Mr. Speaker, independent workers are vital to our country and the strong economy that we are enjoying today, with unemployment under 4 percent, wages rising, and Americans keeping more of their own money, thanks to tax reform.

These millions of workers are pursuing the American Dream of working for themselves, including contractors, consultants, freelancers, and small business owners. They embody the principles and values of our country’s Declaration of Independence by truly representing what it means to be free. They are found across every profession, income level, race, religion, gender, and geography.

That is why I am joining with the Association of Independent Workers in calling for August 16 to be National Independent Worker Day.

This special recognition of independent workers’ vital role in our Nation’s economy is long overdue. As more and more Americans choose to take this career path, we will keep on fighting to make sure Washington stays out of their way and allows them to innovate and succeed.

I am proud to support all the independent workers in my district and throughout this great Nation.

CELEBRATING 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF HOME INSTEAD SENIOR CARE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. MOOLENAAR) for 5 minutes.

Mr. MOOLENAAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the late Dr. Russell Kirk, a political theorist, moralist, historian, and literary critic, in honor of a historical marker being placed at his beloved home in Mecosta in my district in Michigan next month. For over 40 years, Dr. Kirk taught students about political theory, culture, and virtue. He also wrote more than 30 books. Today, his legacy lives on through the Russell Kirk Center under the gracious leadership of his wife, Annette.

Dr. Kirk is considered one of the preeminent thinkers of his time. His first book, “The Conservative Mind,” has shaped the modern ideas of American conservatism.

Dr. Kirk found his true joy in addressing college audiences because he believed the key to the lasting success of conservative ideas rested on shaping the cultural and moral beliefs of the next generation.

In his books, articles, speeches, and interviews, Dr. Kirk’s wisdom has shaped the thinking of generations of conservatives around the world.

His ideas have personally helped me in forming my own beliefs, and it is a privilege to pay special tribute to Dr. Kirk and his legacy today.
Senior Care, who for 25 years have enhanced the lives of seniors and their caregivers in the United States and throughout the world.

HONORING SARATOGA’S MARYLOU WHITNEY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. STEFANIK) for 5 minutes.

Ms. STEFANIK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Marylou Whitney, the “Queen of Saratoga,” who, sadly, passed away on July 19 at the age of 93.

Marylou embodied the spirit of a revitalized Saratoga. She was graceful, classic, sparkling, full of joy, and truly one of a kind. Most of all, she loved her community and gave so much of herself to it.

She had a passion for horse racing and was a fixture of the Saratoga Race Course, to host a yearly racing season ball for many decades, where proceeds benefited track workers and local organizations like Saratoga Hospital.

She was active and involved in philanthropy until her last months. Her generosity, energy, and compassion were unmatched. She was the founder of the Saratoga Performing Arts Center and the National Museum of Dance.

Marylou often called Saratoga one of her favorite homes, and those of us in the community are unsurprised by this. It is a community like no other, the community are unsurprised by her favorite homes, and those of us in the community are unsurprised by her generosity and compassion.

Marylou often called Saratoga one of her favorite homes, and those of us in the community are unsurprised by her generosity and compassion.

I want to express my sincere condolences to Marylou’s husband, John Hendrickson, and her entire family.

I consider it an honor to have known Marylou Whitney and an honor to speak her memory into the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD. She will be missed.

HONORING ADIRONDACK’S RANDY PRESTON

Ms. STEFANIK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor and celebrate the life of Randy Preston, Wilmington Town supervisor, former chairman of the Essex County Board of Supervisors, former volunteer firefighter, former fire chief, and fierce advocate for Essex County and the Adirondack region.

After a long, courageous fight with an aggressive brain tumor, Randy, sadly, passed away on July 18. He was 60 years old.

He was a bipartisan leader on behalf of Essex County. He voted for the interests of the people, was beholden to now one, and let no one deter him. He was, undoubtedly, a champion for those he represented.

Randy’s missions and advocacy for the Adirondack region were innumerable. He was passionate about lowering our tax burden and ensuring we had ample funding for lifesaving emergency medical services.

He was known not only for his staunch advocacy but for his sense of humor, his unapologetic convictions, and his willingness to shoot straight and be honest with people, whether a Governor or a Congresswoman.

He was quick to tell me when he thought a policy was right for his community and just as quick to tell me when he thought a policy was wrong.

Mr. Speaker, I express my deepest sympathies to Randy’s wife, Michelle, and his entire family. It is a sincere honor to enter Randy Preston’s memory and achievements into the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

HONORING MARIAANO RIVERA, FIRST UNANIMOUS INDUCTEE INTO BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

Ms. STEFANIK. Mr. Speaker, the hallowed halls of the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, New York, welcomed six inductees last weekend.

In 80 years, baseball has honored 232 players as the best of the best. Only about 1 percent of the 19,500 who played the game are enshrined here.

As a proud New Yorker, I can say the hall includes, and the bronze busts of Bombers Bomber beemoths include Ruth, Berra, Gehrig, Mantle, DiMaggio, Jackson, and more.

I rise today to honor Mariano Rivera, the first unanimous inductee into the Hall of Fame.

Mo, the Sandman, wore the Yankee pinstripes with honor, pride, humility, and dignity for 19 seasons. On the field, number 42 was a 13-time All-Star and won five World Series championships with the Yankees, including being named MVP in 1999.

Mo racked up a record 672 saves. His cutter is legendary. He amassed 1,173 strikeouts and had a postseason ERA of 0.7, allowing only 11 runs in 96 appearances, fewer postseason runs than the number of people who have walked the Moon.

Mo was the very definition of “automatic,” as was he so often described.

Mariano is a man of faith and recognized the importance of family support throughout his times and struggles. He is a mentor, a teacher, and demonstrates quiet leadership that is far too scarce today.

Mr. Speaker, as a young boy in Panama, Mariano used a homemade glove of cardboard, tape, and netting. He had holes in his cleats when he tried out for the Yankees.

Through grit, hard work, and dogged determination, Mo achieved the very pinnacle of greatness in America’s greatest game. He is the embodiment of the American Dream.

Mr. Speaker, I say to Mr. Sandman: Here’s to you. I tip my cap.

CONGRATULATING SHAI MCDONALD AND BRICE PATTERSON

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montana (Mr. GIANFORTE) for 5 minutes.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize two young Montanans who are among the best in rodeo.

In this month’s National High School Finals Rodeo in Wyoming, Montana was well represented with competitors from across the State. The National High School Finals Rodeo drew about 1,500 finalists from 43 States, Mexico, Canada, and Australia.

Two Montanans won buckles for placing in the top 10 in their event. Shai McDonald of Gardiner took second in barrel racing, and Brice Patterson of Bozeman took fourth in bareback riding.

Rodeo is a time-honored tradition in Montana, and it is part of our way of life.

The outstanding work ethic and dedication of these young athletes allows them to compete and succeed at this high level.

Mr. Speaker, I congratulate Shai and Brice on their accomplishments at the National High School Finals Rodeo.

CONGRATULATING ARCHBISHOP NIKITAS LULIAS

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Tarpon Springs native and devout University of Florida Gator and inspired Greek Orthodox theologian, Archbishop Nikitas Lulias, who will be enthroned this weekend in London as the Greek Orthodox archbishop of Great Britain under the Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople.

Archbishop Nikitas has had a blessed life, which started with the retrieval of the Gold Cross in Tarpon Springs for the 1974 celebration of the Epiphany. His proud parents, my great-aunt and great-uncle, Gus and Kally Lulias, knew at that moment that Nikitas was destined for greatness.

Archbishop Nikitas has had an extraordinary ecclesiastical career. His devotion to orthodoxy and to the Holy Synod of the Ecumenical Patriarchate make him a worthy choice as the archbishop of Great Britain.

I wish this son of Tarpon Springs, Florida, and my constituent and my cousin, a blessed ministry.

AXIOS, which means worthy.

RECOGNIZING PUBLIC SAFETY AIRCREWS

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to acknowledge a group of heroes who work tirelessly to keep our country and communities safe. Public safety aircrews ensure the safety of our domestic airspace, repeatedly operating in very hazardous conditions. They are also an essential form of support for first responders during disaster response and rescue missions.

Today, we honor the dedication and devotion that these public servants demonstrate and acknowledge those who have made the ultimate sacrifice.

It is only right that a day is set aside to recognize the thousands of men and women who have served in this role. To that end, I am reintroducing a resolution today to recognize July 26 as National Public Safety Aviation Day.
Mr. KILMER. Mr. Speaker, almost 7 years ago, Austin Tice, an American journalist, disappeared in Syria. Since the day he vanished, his parents, family, friends, and supporters have tirelessly worked to ensure that no stone is left unturned and no avenue ignored in a global campaign to see Austin returned home safely.

As we approach the end of the seventh year of Austin’s captivity, we request that whomever continues to hold Austin release him immediately so that he can return to his family and his friends.

We also ask for the assistance of the Government of Syria. I ask that they do whatever they can to help facilitate Austin’s release.

There are things that transcend politics and diplomacy, bridge cultural divides, and need no translation across different languages. Those are things like love and hope. Represented a mother and a father who wake up each day with the unshakable faith in their son and the belief that today could be the day when they get the chance to hug him again.

We ask for your help, without the assignment of blame or malice to anyone, so that this year is the last that Austin remains so far from home and from family.

RELEASE AUSTIN TICE

Mr. BISHOP of Utah. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the Restore Our Parks Act, and I thank Mr. Bishop for his leadership and partnership on this bill.

I was lucky enough to grow up near one of the crown jewels of our national park system, the Olympic National Park, right in the backyard of the Pacific Northwest. I have seen firsthand how our public lands have captivated both visitors and residents alike and served as key economic drivers for our local communities.

I think there is little doubt that our national parks are some of America’s greatest natural and cultural treasures. I am proud that my home State boasts not only Olympic National Park, but also Mount Rainier National Park and North Cascades National Park, true gems of the national park system.

Unfortunately, these crown jewels are getting a bit rusty, and they require our attention to return them to glory. If you have visited one of our parks lately, you will no doubt have noticed that they are facing a good problem.

In 2017, Washington State had a record 6.45 million park visitors, including families, campers, and outdoors enthusiasts, responsible for all the iconic landscapes. While they were there, these visitors spent more than $500 million, supported more than 6,600 jobs, and created nearly $700 million in economic impact.

While this is undeniably great news for Washington’s growing outdoor economy, the rise in visitation has also strained our park resources, like roads, interpretive centers, campites, and trail systems or to access all of it, and truly experience our parks. If we as a country don’t start investing in our parks, I believe we risk loving them to death.

The National Park Service manages more than 400 sites across the country and is facing a nearly $12 billion backlog in necessary repairs. In Washington State alone, our national parks suffer from nearly $400 million in deferred repairs needed to restore historical structures, fix eroding trails, fix roads, and update unsafe electrical and drinking water systems.

This significant maintenance backlog threatens the health, accessibility, and safety of our parks, their visitors, and communities that depend on them. That is why we need to take this opportunity to build on recent successes of investing in our public lands and turn our attention to passing the Restore Our Parks and Public Lands Act.

Passing this legislation sponsored by my good friend from Utah (Mr. Bishop) will establish a long-term investment in our parks that will create jobs and boost economies throughout Washington and across this country. An analysis commissioned by The Pew Charitable Trusts shows that investing in the maintenance of our national parks could create or support more than 3,800 new jobs in Washington State alone and 100,000 jobs across the country.

Now, these days, Congress can hardly agree on what day it is or what color the sky is; but, with 300 Members of the House of Representatives cosponsoring this bill and 40 Members of the Senate, I believe we can move forward. This solution is one that was coming out of, actually, the administration that has the support of over two-thirds of the House and that has the support of one-third of the Senate. This is one of those things which, all of a sudden, this is a cool idea to solve an existing problem that we have ignored for a number of years.

The goal of this is to take excess— and that is the key word—royalties that are coming from energy production on all Federal lands, all kinds of energy production, whether it is traditional, renewable, onshore, or offshore, any kind of royalties coming into the Federal Government from those. If there is an excess, which means we take the commitments we have already ready to things like GOMESA and LWCF, and after those are funded, then if there is excess, that excess now goes into a fund to start working at these kinds of problems, to solve our problems with public lands. The restoration fund only receives the amounts that are from royalties and other programs have received that.

If there is no excess in the royalties— I clearly doubt that will happen, but if there is no excess in the royalties, then there is no money that goes into this program.

Some people have said this is manda- tory spending. No, it is not.

Mandatory spending, by definition, means you have to spend the money whether it appears or not; you have to find it from somewhere. This is one of those programs that said, if there is excess, then the first billion of this money will go to fund our national parks, our public lands. If there is no excess, then you don’t have to find it anywhere else because there will be no money that goes to that.

This is not mandatory in any way.

Also, some people are saying, well, may be there should be an offset for this new program. This is really not a new program. The parks and public lands exist. The responsibility to make sure that they are viable, they are paid, and they are sustainable already exists. This is an existing program.

We are not taking anything from any other program for this. We are simply basing it on what is already our existing responsibility.

If you were to try and go through a traditional approach of trying to appropriate more money through our budgeting process, that wouldn’t have to have an offset. What we are talking about here is existing programs, existing-needs, and existing responsibilities.

We have spent a whole lot of time buying up land. The Federal Government owns one-third of America already. It is easy to buy up more property. It is easy to establish a park because that sounds really cool. You get your name on it, and it gives you a legacy. The hard part is maintaining that land.

And for heaven’s sake, if we are going to take the responsibility and build a legacy, to actually buy something and create something, we have to take the responsibility of maintaining it, and this is exactly what we are talking about.

I am so proud that there are so many Republicans and so many Democrats who have realized this is our obligation, this is our responsibility, and we have to do it.

This bill is extremely important because it is a proper approach to solving an existing problem. I encourage the leaders of this House to bring it to the floor soon so it can be debated and heard.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule 1, the Chair declares the House in recess until noon today.

Accordingly (at 11 o’clock and 10 minutes a.m.), the House stood in recess.

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. CUELLAR) at noon.

PRAYER

Rabbi Gershon Avtzon, Yeshivas Lubavitch, Cincinnati, Ohio, offered the following prayer:

Almighty G-d, master of the universe, I invoke Your blessing today on the Members of this honorable institution, the House of Representatives of the United States of America. May they humbly serve their constitucencies, aware that creating just legislation is one of the seven laws that You, almighty G-d, gave all humanity through Noah, as detailed in Genesis.

Almighty God, Grand Rebbe of Chassidic Jews who fled the Stalinist regime that persecuted religious observation, I am especially grateful and blessed to be in America, the nation called the “country of kindness” by the great spiritual leader of our ger-eration, the Lubavitcher Rebbe Melech HaMoshiach, Rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneerson. We thank you for the freedom we have here to practice our faith, and we pray for those who still suffer persecution around the world.

While legislating, by definition, includes differences of opinion and rigorous debate, I pray that we, nevertheless, anticipate our shared bright future in the time of redemption and, thus, remain “one nation under G-d, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.”

Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day’s proceedings and announces to the House his approval thereof. Pursuant to clause 1, rule 1, the Journal stands approved.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. PAYNE) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance?

Mr. PAYNE led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under G-d, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

WELCOMING RABBI GERSHON AVTZON

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. WENSTRUP) is recognized for 1 minute.

There was no objection.

Mr. WENSTRUP. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the rabbi for coming to the Capitol today to share with us a time in prayer, a time when we often need it.

America has been through many battles. We have many debates. But we always come out strong, and we come out together, at the end of the day.

I thank the rabbi for his kind prayer and thoughtfulness as we proceed forward as a Nation.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will entertain up to 15 further requests for 1-minute speeches on each side of the aisle.

HONORING THE PAYNE FELLOWSHIP

Mr. PAYNE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the Donald M. Payne, Sr., International Development Graduate Fellowship Program.

My father, the late Donald M. Payne, was committed to human rights at home, in Africa, and around the world. I am honored by the Payne Fellows’ commitment to my father’s legacy, and I have developed a deep appreciation for everything they have done to uplift humanity.

I am proud that the fellowship named for my father helps talented young people enter the USAID Foreign Service program. Today, the Payne Fellows are leading the charge on some of the greatest global challenges of our time.

Since its inception in 2013, the program has trained 50 talented young indiguals who come from diverse backgrounds to enrich and enhance the USAID Foreign Service.

This year, I hosted one of the Payne fellows in my office. Her name is Meklit Gebru.

Meklit’s intellect, work ethic, humor, and, most of all, her positive attitude will truly be missed in my office. The day after her arrival, she was writing questions for me to use in Committee on Homeland Security subcommittee hearings.

Again, I thank the USAID and the Payne Fellows for their commitment to providing humanitarian efforts working in support of America’s foreign policy.

REMEMBERING THE CARLTON COMPLEX FIRE

Mr. NEWHOUSE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.

Mr. NEWHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, it has been 5 years since the largest single wildfire in Washington State history.

The Carlton Complex fire raged through north-central Washington, burning more than a quarter of a million acres and leaving more than 500 homes and structures destroyed in its path. Still today, the communities, small businesses, and families in Okanogan County continue to rebuild and work to address the long-term consequences of this disaster.

While the devastation was heartbreaking, what we saw on the ground was a testament to the resilience and spirit of Washingtonians, as well as the generosity and bravery of those from across the region and the Nation who came to north-central Washington’s aid.

At the height of the fire, in those frightening days of late July 2014, more than 2,800 firefighters from across the country poured in to assist the firefight. Today, I rise to recognize and remember the heroic efforts of those thousands of firefighters, first responders, and volunteers who worked tirelessly and at great personal risk.

FIGHT AGAINST ELIMINATING BROAD-BASED CATEGORICAL ELIGIBILITY

(Mr. McGovern asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. McGovern. Mr. Speaker, I am here this afternoon to raise strong concerns about a rule that the Trump administration recently announced on eliminating broad-based categorical eligibility.

If implemented, this rule will cut 3 million people off of SNAP, 13 percent of whom are elderly and 7 percent of whom are children. In addition, 500,000 kids will lose access to free school meals.

I will put it simply: This will increase food insecurity and hurt working families.

President Trump wants to, literally, take the food off the table of working families so that he can give tax breaks to the well-off and the well-connected.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personal attacks toward the President.

HONORING THE LIFE OF ROY BATES

(Mr. Barr asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. Barr. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of a very special man whom I served with for over a quarter of a century -- Royce Bates.

Royce Bates was quite eager to serve his country and attempted unsuccessfully to enlist in the Navy and the Army when he was not yet of legal age. In 1950, when he was 18 years old, he enlisted in the Marine Corps and went to Parris Island for training.

He was assigned to Company C, 1st Battalion, 7th Regiment, 1st Division. He was soon sent to Korea to join his fellow marines.

On September 1, 1951, just 3 days before his 19th birthday, Mr. Bates was on patrol when his group was ambushed. They were taking heavy fire. Crawling on his belly, trying to reach cover, he heard the dreaded click of a land mine beneath him. His left leg was blown away, and his right leg sustained numerous wounds.

Severely wounded, he was carried off the field by two fellow marines. One of those who carried him off was killed in action a few days later. Many years later, Mr. Bates was reunited with Royce Henry, the other marine who saved him.

Mr. Bates spent 7 years in and out of hospitals and had 32 surgeries. He received a Purple Heart as well as numerous other medals.

He married his wife, Betty, and they had four children.

Mr. Bates eventually returned home to Winchester, Kentucky. In 1965, the President of New Hampshire cherished a deep love for his country and for the Marine Corps.

He was a well-respected member of his community who exemplified good character and a positive attitude all of his life.

Mr. Bates and his fellow veterans are true heroes. He willingly served to protect and defend the freedoms that we enjoy today. He faced life with unwavering faith in God and love of country.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to honor the life of Mr. Roy Bates before the United States Congress.

IT IS TIME FOR SENATE TO ACT ON IMMIGRATION

(Ms. Kuster of New Hampshire asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. Kuster. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to thank the House for passing H.R. 3239 to provide humanitarian standards for migrants and refugees in Customs and Border Protection custody at our border.

Having visited the U.S.-Mexico border now twice in the past 12 months, I know how desperately this bill was needed.

We have good news and bad news. The good news is that the children, the young children, are no longer being separated from their biological parents, although we did see 310 children separated from aunts, uncles, and grandparents.

But the worst news was that the migrants who we saw held in overcrowded conditions for up to 40 to 60 days without any access to basic services, like a hot meal or a shower or being able to brush their teeth.

These are inhumane conditions and a human rights violation.

That is why I was proud to cosponsor the bill sponsored by Dr. Ruiz to enact critical safety, nutrition, and hygiene standards for migrants in custody. I was pleased that the House accepted my amendments to protect women from sexual assault at the border.

HONORING LABOR LEADER HECTOR FIGUEROA

(Ms. Velázquez asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. Velázquez. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of a very special man who we lost on July 21.

Hector Figueroa was the president of Local 21 of the Service Employees International Union, which represents janitors, preschools, and schools. Hector was an exceptional leader and a tireless fighter for workers, a New Yorker, and proud Puerto Rican, who, sadly, passed last week.

While he was relentless in advocating for members of his union, SEIU 32BJ, he was also on the front lines helping taxi drivers, fast food employees, and workers in every sector. To him, anyone who was oppressed was an ally, and he was ready to join them in common cause.

Most recently, he was central to building support for relief in Puerto Rico after Hurricane Maria.

His belief that everyone deserves respect extended beyond his work as a labor leader. Hector treated everyone, from the youngest organizers to the most powerful elected officials, with genuine kindness.

Just last week, this House voted to raise the Federal minimum wage. I like to think, wherever he is, that this will bring a smile to Hector’s face.

We will honor his memory by advancing the causes that inspired him. Hector always said, ‘We’ll keep organizing.’

Yes, my friend, we will.

PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 3877, BIPARTISAN BUDGET ACT OF 2019; PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 549, VENEZUELA TPS ACT OF 2019; AND WAIVING A REQUIREMENT OF CLAUSE 6(A) OF RULE XIII WITH RESPECT TO CONSIDERATION OF CERTAIN RESOLUTIONS REPORTED FROM THE COMMITTEE ON RULES

Mr. Perlmutter. Mr. Speaker, by direction of the Committee on Rules, I call up House Resolution 519 and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the resolution, as follows:

H. Res. 519

Resolved. That upon adoption of this resolution it shall be in order to consider in the House the bill (H.R. 3877) to amend the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, to establish a congressional budget for fiscal years 2020 and 2021, to temporarily suspend the debt limit, and for other purposes. All points of order against consideration of the bill are waived. The bill shall be considered as read. All points of order against provisions in the bill are waived. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and on any amendment thereto to final passage without intervening motion except: (1) one hour of debate equally divided and controlled by chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on the Budget; and (2) one motion to recommit.

SJC. Upon adoption of this resolution it shall be in order to consider in the House the bill (S. 290) to designate Venezuelan nationality Act to permit nationals of Venezue be eligible for temporary protected status under such section, and for other purposes. All points of order against consideration of the bill are waived. In lieu of the amendment in the nature of a substitute recommended by the Committee on the Judiciary now printed in the bill, an amendment in the nature of a substitute consisting of the text of Rules Committee Print 116-28 shall be considered as adopted. The bill, as amended, shall be considered as read. All points of order against provisions in the bill, as amended, as waived. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill, as amended, and on any further amendment thereto, to final passage without intervening motion.

SEC. 3. The requirement of clause 6(a) of rule XIII for a two-thirds vote to consider a report from the Committee on Rules on the same day it is presented to the House is waived with respect to any resolution reported through the legislative day of July 26, 2019.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of debate only, I yield the customary 30 minutes to the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. COLE), pending which I yield myself such time as I may consume. During consideration of this resolution, all time yielded is for the purpose of debate only.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members be given 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Speaker, the Rules Committee met last night and reported the following resolution, providing for consideration of H.R. 3877, which is the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019, under a closed rule. The rule provides 1 hour of debate equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on the Budget, and for one motion to recommit.

The rule also provides for consideration of H.R. 549, the Venezuela TPS Act of 2019. This bipartisan bill was debated on Tuesday under suspension of the rules, and I was disappointed more of my friends from the other side of the aisle didn’t join every Democrat, 37 Republicans, and 1 Independent, to help get to the two-thirds vote required under suspension.

Venezuela is currently in crisis. Their democratic institutions have been corrupted under the Maduro regime and, according to the U.N. Refugee Agency and the International Organization for Migration, more than 4 million Venezuelans have fled the country. I want to applaud the work of Representatives DARREN SOTO, MARIO DIAZ-BALART, and my friend, DONNA SHALALA, from the Rules Committee, for their work to advance this bill to provide temporary protected status for Venezuelan refugees already in the United States. That is why I am glad we have included this bill in the rule today, to ensure this bill passes the House as soon as possible.

Mr. Speaker, overall, this rule provides for consideration of two very important measures we need to get done before the upcoming district work period. I urge all my colleagues to support the rule and the underlying bills. I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I want to thank my good friend, the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. PERLMUTTER) for yielding me the customary 30 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, we are here today on two items, both of which are actually bipartisan ideas. And though this has been an eventful week and month at this Congress, I assure you that we are ending on such a high note. And it avoids devastating sequestration cuts.

I would also remind my friends that with consideration of the budget agreement today, there is absolutely no legislation that must be done this week to justify needing this extraordinary procedure.

The only thing my friends would use this martial law for is to advance high-partisan messaging bills in order to get some face-saving procedural vote that they are violating with one of the measures today, albeit only by a matter of hours.

I would also remind my friends that we are here today on two items, both of which are actually bipartisan, and we should all be encouraged by that.

One bill, H.R. 549, the Venezuela TPS Act of 2019, was brought on the floor for a vote on Tuesday. It, unfortunately, failed to reach the required two-thirds threshold needed for passage under suspension of the rules. But I have every confidence that it will easily pass the House today, albeit only by a matter of hours.

Mr. Speaker, a lot of people talk about the need for bipartisanship anywhere, but in my view, especially in the House Rules Committee. We need to support bills on the floor for a vote; a rule they already had a term for this procedure in the last Congress. He called it "martial law."
parties in both Houses of Congress, resulting in the kind of bipartisan, bicameral budget deal in which all Members can have confidence.

Is this bill a perfect one? No, of course not. No bill ever is. I, myself, would have preferred that this bill dress more fully the need for entitlement reform and deficit reduction, and I am certain that some of my friends on the other side of the aisle would have preferred a lower defense spending number. Some of my friends on my side of the aisle would have preferred a higher defense spending number.

But even when we both agree that this bill isn’t perfect, it is still a good deal for the American people.

I think this bill achieves four bipartisan goals that I would like to highlight.

First, with the passage of this bill, we would avoid the horrific consequences of defaulting on our national debt, which would lead to an economic chaos without which none of us should ever wish to see.

Second, in setting new budgetary levels, we will avoid the automatic and devastating sequestration cuts that would have taken effect at the beginning of this fiscal year.

Third, it allows us to move forward with clarity on the appropriations process for the coming fiscal year and probably for the fiscal year after that.

And fourth, it allows us to resume the process of rebuilding our military after years of underfunding left it with a severe readiness crisis.

When the Commander in Chief tells us that he needs something to defend America, there can only be one answer, and that answer is yes.

Mr. Speaker, I think every Member of the House can be proud of the work done by the leaders of both parties to get us to this point. All five of the people in question, the President, the Speaker, the House Republican Leader, the Senate Majority Leader, and the Senate Minority Leader, negotiated in good faith and produced a compromise bill that all five of them stand behind.

In order to get there, every one of them had to give up some things. That is what it takes to make a compromise, and this is what makes this bipartisan bill possible.

I know there are Members of this House who are disappointed with this bill. I understand that. I did not vote for this bill, and I did not completely agree with it. But I trust my leaders to negotiate on our behalf. And when they came back with this deal, I trusted that this was the best compromise they could reach. Everybody had to give something to get something, and I trust that the leaders of my party achieved as much as they could in the course of the negotiation.

The same should hold for my friends across the aisle with their leaders of their party. Working together, all five of us reached an agreement to do; they led and, in doing so, came to the best deal possible, not for each party, but for the whole Nation.

Now it is up to the Members of the House to say yes and move forward with the passage of this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank Mr. COLE for his comments, particularly about the Venezuelan TPS legislation, as well as the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019. Truly, these are two bills that are supported by both sides of the aisle. Neither one is exactly perfect, but they are both good, and that is the kind of legislation we need to get through this body to the Senate and to the White House.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. SHALALA), my good friend.

Ms. SHALALA. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this rule and H.R. 549, the Venezuela TPS Act of 2019, this lifesaving bipartisan legislation to designate TPS for Venezuelans, and I appreciate the generous remarks of Ranking Member COLE.

The socialist, narco regimes of Hugo Chavez and Nicolas Maduro have brought Venezuela into catastrophe. Venezuela was once a thriving democracy. Now the economy, the health sector, the education system, and virtually every democratic institution is in ruins. The Venezuelan economy has completely collapsed, and the inflation is expected to reach 10 million percent this year.

More than 4 million refugees have fled the continuous worsening conditions in Venezuelan. They have fled to Colombia, to Brazil, to Peru, to so many countries, and they have come to the United States, following the footsteps of millions of refugees before them; those who have helped make this the greatest country on Earth.

They have come to our shores in search of the freedom, democracy, and security that the Maduro regime has stolen from them, and so many Venezuelans have come to south Florida where they have contributed so much to our diverse community. In my district, there are approximately 17,000 Venezuelan-born residents, so this is personal for us. These are our neighbors, our friends, our students, and our teachers. My constituents cannot safely return.

As the vote on Tuesday demonstrated, we are ready to take legislative action to allow Venezuelans to apply for temporary protected status. TPS has bipartisan support in the House and in the Senate, but now it is time for the Senate to take this bill up.

Our hope is that passage of this bill in our House will light the fire under the Senate. Bipartisan TPS legislation supports temporary protected status. Now more than ever, it is time for them to take it up and to get TPS signed into law.

TPS is a fundamental, literally, life-saving component to our approach to the crisis in Venezuela, but TPS alone won’t solve the crisis. The United States and the international community must continue to put pressure on the regime to facilitate a peaceful transfer of leadership. We must expose the corrupt networks that prop up the Maduro government and meet the urgent basic needs of the poor, the hungry, and the sick.

Because our ultimate goal is to secure a stable and peaceful transition of power for the Venezuelan people, I want to thank my Florida colleagues, including lead sponsors Mr. SOTO and Mr. DIAZ-BALART, as well as DEBBIE Wasserman SCHULTZ and DEBBIE MUCARSEL-POWELL and also our Puerto Rican colleague, JENNYFHER GONZALEZ-COLON. I also want to thank Chairman MCGOVERN for his work to help make sure this bill was included in this rule.

Viva Venezuela.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I want to begin by doing something unusual in a rules debate. I want to acknowledge my good friend from Florida had to say. I am very pleased with her work and my colleague Mr. DIAZ-BALART’s work on this legislation, as well as the other Members that she mentioned.

This is an important bill for us to pass for exactly the reasons my friend laid out. The reality of the unfolding political crisis in Venezuela, and we have people at fear for their life and, frankly, leaving a collapsing economy.

This country ought to be a refuge for people in those kinds of circumstances, so I share my friend’s hope that we get this done here and then we get action in the United States Senate.

I do want to advise the Chair, Mr. Speaker, that, if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately bring up H.R. 3537, Strengthening America’s Security in the Middle East Act of 2019, with an amendment that will make it identical to S. 1, which passed the Senate in a bipartisan vote of 77–23 earlier this year.

This bill includes many critical provisions, but the most important section of this bill is the Combating BDS Act of 2019, which will allow a State or local government to adopt measures to divest assets from entities using boycotts, divestments, or sanctions to influence Israel’s policies.

Mr. Speaker, earlier this week, the House passed H. Res. 246, a nonbinding resolution opposing the Boycott, Divestment, and Sanctions movement; and while I appreciate the House’s action in passing that resolution, we can do better in opposing this heinous practice. Actions speak louder than words. We cannot just say we believe in something. We must do something.
H.R. 336 would do something. It would allow a State or local government to stand with us in defense of Israel.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert the text of my amendment in the record along with the extraneous material, immediately prior to the vote on the previous question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Oklahoma?

There was no objection.

Mr. KUSTOFF. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. KUSTOFF), my good friend, for further explanation of the amendment.

Mr. KUSTOFF of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank my good friend from Oklahoma (Mr. COLE) for yielding.

H.R. 336, the Strengthening America’s Security Act in the Middle East Act, is the House companion to S. 1. This bill was so important that the United States Senate made it their top legislative priority and passed it with overwhelming bipartisan support.

H.R. 336, a bill introduced by Ranking Member McCaul, combines four various policy initiatives that deal with the United States-Israel relationship. This legislation authorizes assistance in weapons transfers to Israel; extends defense cooperation with Jordan; establishes additional sanctions on individuals supporting the Syrian Government; and, most importantly, allows States to divest from entities that are boycotting Israel.

Just this week, the House passed, with bipartisan support, a resolution opposing the anti-Israel, anti-Semitic Boycott, Divestment, and Sanctions movement, also known as BDS. That resolution was a great stepping stone, but we need to do more. Now we must pass legislation with some teeth.

There is no doubt that Israel is our greatest ally in the Middle East. It is the only Jewish state. Since before 71 years ago, the U.S.-Israel relationship has continued to grow stronger as we find new means for cooperation and ensure the safety of her and her people.

It is time for the Democrat leadership to bring this crucial bill to the House floor for a vote. It is vital for all of us to come together and show our support for Israel. It is not solely Republican and not solely Democrat. We must continue to come together as a unified body to stamp out anti-Semitism and hate towards the only Jewish state, Israel.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I would just say to my friend, Mr. KUSTOFF, he and I served together on Financial Services, and there is agreement here. In fact, this resolution that he described as a great stepping stone, we just took and passed the resolution 2 days ago, with 398 "aye" votes in favor of that.

Today, though, we are here to focus on two other things, both of which are substantial measures in and of themselves, and we can look forward to other measures involving the anti-BDS movement or whatever we may be, but to deal with anti-Semitism.

But today we are here, really, to applaud a deal that was cut among all of our friends, our Democrats and Republicans, that eliminates drastic cuts, approves funding, or funding levels, for the next year to 2 years, and allows America to move forward without the real potential of shutdown like we had for 35 days here last week, earlier in this year, refused to deal on certain subjects and appropriations. Thankfully, we got through that.

I think, at this point, cooler heads have prevailed, and we are moving forward on the Bipartisan Budget Act; and then, as Ms. SHALALA said, we are dealing with, really, a humanitarian crisis that exists in Venezuela, at this point, to provide temporary protected status to those who fled their country, who are somewhere in the world or in Florida, to provide them some protection while they are here and to make sure that they can comfortably, if you will, remain here and not fear that they are going to have to be deported back to a country they do not know there is a lot of strife and danger.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I agree with my friend very much. These two pieces of legislation are excellent, and they are must pass, and I look forward with working with him on that.

But this is such an extraordinary outburst of bipartisanship, I think we should go for broke and bring up this other legislation as well, which is equally bipartisan, as my friend says. I don’t want to waste this magic moment, Mr. Speaker. We don’t get many of them around here.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New York (Mr. ZELDIN), my good friend.

Mr. ZELDIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the rule and urge my colleagues to defeat the previous question so the House may take up H.R. 336, a bipartisan legislative package that would help fight back against the BDS movement, protect U.S. security in the Middle East by strengthening our alliances with Israel, and sanction nefarious actors like Assad.

The Senate version of this bill, S. 1, passed with an overwhelming bipartisan majority of 77-23. Surprisingly, the major point of contention for this package is the Combating BDS Act of 2019, a bipartisan bill that garnered over 100 cosponsors last Congress and would help combat the BDS movement.

It is okay to have reasonable, legitimate concerns with any government in the world, including our own, but this movement is not all about-affirming the rights of Palestinians, as some suggest. It is about delegitimizing Israel by turning it into a pariah state cut off from all trade, tourism, military, diplomatic, and cultural ties with the rest of the world.

BDS, whose founder was blatantly anti-Semitic, amounts to a declaration of economic war against Israel, with a goal of destroying it as the only Jewish state on Earth.

I hear of college students all across our entire country who share very personal testimonials of how they are being targeted by blatant anti-Semitism in the name of BDS.

Thankfully, this week, the House passed H. Res. 246, a resolution to forcefully condemn the BDS movement.

Making a strong statement is great and should be celebrated, but we should wake up the next morning asking ourselves, challenging each other to what we can do about it.

S. 1 has already passed the Senate, but it is not being brought up in this House, despite more than 250 Members signing the discharge petition and over 100 cosponsors last Congress.

This bill does not impede the right of any individual American to boycott or criticize Israel, as some suggest. Instead, H.R. 336 would combat the BDS movement by simply allowing State and local governments to have the right to counter the BDS movement by ending contracts with companies that boycott Israel, if they so choose, while protecting U.S. security in the Middle East.

There were 350 cosponsors on the statement that was made earlier this week. There were nearly 400 votes on the House floor. Republicans and Democrats worked together through a process, from drafting the legislation to getting the bill marked up at committee, to passing on the House floor, and we should celebrate making a great statement.

Now we should be passing a bill with teeth. We could do it right now. If this bill gets added to the voting before we leave here this week, I guarantee it passes.

So not only did we, earlier this week, make a strong statement to combat the anti-Israel, anti-Semitic BDS movement, but we woke up the next day motivated to actually challenge ourselves to do something about it, and we got it done.

The one thing that is concerning to this House, despite asking for a vote on H.R. 336, and we are not getting an answer in response as to why it is not coming up for a vote or when it will come up for a vote. I would challenge anyone who has an answer to this question to please let us know, because we don’t know what else to do other than bringing up today’s proposal, for example.

But if this is something that has already passed the Senate with a strong bipartisan majority, it is the right thing to do. We have the most unambiguously condemned the BDS movement, and we are here on the House floor together with a bill that would pass, strongly!
Let's get it done. Let's get it done right now. There are a lot of people who would celebrate that big win.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I just want to continue to focus on what is before us today, and what is before us today is dealing with the humanitarian crisis in Venezuela and dealing with the budget of the United States of America, two accomplishments, both bipartisan, that I think will have long-lasting protection for many people who fled Venezuela to America, and particularly to Florida, but also provides for funding caps that help us with veterans, with infrastructure, with foreign affairs across the board, with our military.

The President tweeted the other day that the Bipartisan Budget Act was a real accomplishment for veterans and our military, and I agree.

Mr. ZELDIN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman on the spot, but if anybody can answer that question, we are very interested in having a vote scheduled on this bill.

Let's maximize the statement that we made by adding that. It will pass any day and it will be signed into law, and we will celebrate not only a strong statement made, but maximizing that strong statement made by doing something about it and passing a bill with teeth.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

I want to begin by thanking my colleagues for a good debate and, frankly, for both of us having the enjoyable and unusual position of being in favor of both the pieces of legislation that are dealt with in the rule.

I want to go back and talk, just briefly, about the Venezuela TP5 legislation that our good friend and our fellow Republican, Ms. Shalala, has. That is an important piece of legislation. That is an important statement of American principles. I think it is an important institutional moment for us in the House, because we are passing something jointly to try and get the other body to do something jointly as well, because I am quite convinced if that got to the floor, it would pass in a very substantial bipartisan way. I am glad to work with my friends to achieve that.

I suppose I am even more pleased about the bipartisan Budget Act. I want to want to congratulate the five leaders on both sides of the aisle who actually got this done. The President of the United States sat down and negotiated this.

We have a lot of people on my side of the aisle that are big supporters of the President of the United States. I hope they should stand by actually voting for the deal that he negotiated and has tweeted out that he supports.

Mr. Speaker, I want to congratulate in our own Chamber the Speaker and the Republican leader, Ms. Pelosi and Mr. McCarthy, for also participating in that and working together.

I know each one of them had to go back to their caucuses and probably deliver some news that people in those caucuses did not want to hear. That is certainly true on our side of the aisle. I know it is true on the gentleman's side of the aisle as well.

That is what leaders do. They come to agreements and they go back, and they explain to their supporters, "Hey, I couldn't get you everything you wanted, even though I wanted those things too," but every now and then you need to sit down and put what is good for the American people first.

We all have a very catastrophic debt ceiling crisis and default, what that would do to our economy, how many people that would put out of work.

We all know what having an agreed-upon deal in terms of stability going forward for 2 years means for the American military, but for every other agency of government as well. These are huge, huge wins even if there was some sacrifice.

Now, would I like to do some more on deficit reduction and entitlement reform? I absolutely would. We will continue to work on that.

At any time I can come to an agreement that saves the economy, that provides government stability, that gives our military the ability to plan and to rebuild itself over a 2-year period, and that the Commander in Chief is asking me to do, I am going to vote for that every single time.

I am very proud to be voting for it with my friends on the other side of the aisle, who also, again, had objectives in this that they weren't able to reach.

Finally, I would be remiss—I do this as seldom as possible—but I will praise the United States Senate, because the majority leader and the minority leader both also individually got this done, and in many ways probably came to an agreement between themselves faster even than the other parties involved. But at the end of the day, again, both of those leaders, the majority leader and the minority leader in the Senate, had to go back and tell their caucuses, "Look, this is the best deal I can get. I can't get everything I want. We are not going to achieve everything we would like to achieve."

I respect my colleagues who look at the deal and say, "That is not good enough." That is fine, but can they tell me what is better that they can get passed?

I see no alternative to this particular piece of legislation that is not worse.

The worst thing to do would be to defeat this bipartisan budget agreement and then deal with sequester or a debt crisis or a shutdown or, at best, a CR that would project the quarrels forward into the next year.

It is already a pretty tense political time between all sides.

The fact, again, that we are coming together and making a bipartisan agreement really reflects well on our respective leaders on each side of the aisle and certainly on the President.

I think if the Members will vote in a bipartisan fashion, it will reflect well on all of us and on the institution as well.

Mr. Speaker, I know some doubted that we could ever work together. I think this is the most significant thing we have done together this year, and I just want to thank all concerned.

We all look forward to supporting it enthusiastically. I hope others of our colleagues on both sides of the aisle will do the same.

Mr. Speaker, with that, while I oppose the rule, I would certainly urge passage of both these important pieces of legislation, and I look forward to working with my friends in that regard.
Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. COLE) for his comments. I almost thought he was going to support the rule. I just felt it was moving in that direction, but not quite, but I do want to thank him.

And, particularly, I think, during the 35 days that we were in shutdown mode at the beginning of this year, there were a lot of hard lessons learned by a lot of people, and there were a lot of people who suffered, starting with the people that needed assistance in one way or another by Federal employees who were, in effect, sitting at home waiting for us to open the government again.

So, Mr. Speaker, I am very pleased.

Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman, I think that hard lesson—and we met pretty much every night in the Rules Committee, the Appropriations Committee, the gentleman is an appropriate...something that weighed heavily on all of us.

Mr. Speaker, I do want to applaud the Republicans and Democrats, our leadership, and the White House in coming up with a compromise.

I know there will be some on my side that will not support this for a variety of reasons, and I know there will be some on Mr. COLE’s side as well, but, hopefully, we can garner enough support—and I think it will be strong support—for both of these pieces of legislation that are brought up under the rule.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank my colleagues for joining me to speak on the rule and these pieces of legislation.

The rule provides for consideration of H.R. 549, the Venezuelan TPS Act, which we already know is supported by a bipartisan majority in this House.

We also need and must pass H.R. 3677, the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019. This legislation will raise the debt ceiling for 2 years and increases discretionary spending caps for fiscal year 2020 and fiscal year 2021. The deal achieves parity between increases in defense and nondefense spending and lets the House and the Senate get back to negotiation on all of the appropriations bills so that Congress can fulfill its constitutional duty of funding the government.

As we look ahead to the next several weeks—which we will spend in our districts visiting with constituents and touring local businesses, I look forward to sharing with my constituents that despite our disagreements and everything that they may see on TV, we can still come together and get things done on behalf of America.

Mr. Speaker, I encourage a “yes” vote on the rule and the previous question.

The material previously referred to by Mr. COLE is as follows:

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE RESOLUTION 129

At the end of the resolution, add the following:

SEC. 4. Immediately upon adoption of this resolution, the House shall proceed to the consideration in the House of the bill (H.R. 336) to make improvements to certain defense and national security programs and to authorize the appropriation of funds to Israel, to reauthorize the United States-Jordan Defense Cooperation Act of 2015, and to halt the wholesale slaughter of the Syrian people, and for other purposes. All points of order against consideration of the bill are waived. The amendment described in section 5 of this title shall be considered as adopted. The bill, as amended, shall be considered as read. All points of order against provisions in the bill, as amended, are waived. The bill shall be considered as ordered on the bill, as amended, and on any further amendment thereto to final passage without intervening motion except: (1) one hour of debate equally divided and controlled by the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader or their respective designees; and (2) one motion to recommit with or without instructions.

SEC 5. The amendment referred to in Section 4 is an amendment to H.R. 336 to add at the end of the bill the following:

The report required under section 123(d) shall be submitted in unclassified form, but may include a classified annex.

SEC. 408. CONGRESSIONAL OPPOSITION TO WITHDRAWALS OF UNITED STATES FORCES FROM SYRIA AND AFGHANISTAN.

(a) Findings—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The foreign terrorist organization al Qaeda, responsible for the attacks of September 11, 2001, maintains a presence in Afghanistan.

(2) The Islamic State of Iraq and al Sham, better known by its acronym ISIS, flourished in the chaos created by the civil war in Syria and at one point controlled extensive territory in Iraq and Syria.

(3) Al Qaeda, ISIS, and their affiliates have murdered thousands of innocent civilians.

(4) Al Qaeda, ISIS, and their affiliates have proven resilient and have regrouped when the United States and its partners have withdrawn from the fight against them.

(b) Sense of Congress—Congress—

(1) acknowledges that the United States military and diplomatic teams have made significant progress in the campaign against al Qaeda and the Islamic State of Iraq and al Sham (ISIS), and honors the contributions and sacrifice of the members of the United States Armed Forces who have served on the front lines of this fight;

(2) recognizes the continuing threat to the homeland and our allies posed by al Qaeda and ISIS, which maintain an ability to operate in Syria and Afghanistan;

(3) expresses concern that Iran has supported the Taliban, al Qaeda, the Haqqani network, and Hizballah and the Assad regime in Syria, and has sought to frustrate diplomatic efforts to resolve conflicts in these two countries;

(4) recognizes that the United States and its partners have played in Syria and Afghanistan fighting terrorist groups, countering Iranian aggression, deterring the further use of chemical weapons, and protecting human rights;

(5) warns that a precipitous withdrawal of United States forces from the ongoing fight against these groups, without effective, countervailing efforts to secure gains in Syria and Afghanistan, could allow terrorists to regroup, destabilize critical regions, and create vacuums that could be filled by Iran or Russia, to the detriment of United States interests and the safety of our allies; and

(6) recognizes that al Qaeda and ISIS pose a global threat, which merits increased international contributions to the counterterrorism diplomatic and stabilization efforts underway in Syria and Afghanistan;

(7) recognizes that diplomatic efforts to secure peaceful, negotiated solutions to the conflicts in Syria and Afghanistan are necessary to long-term stability and counterterrorism efforts in the Middle East and South Asia;

(8) acknowledges the progress made by Special Representative Khalilzad in his efforts to promote reconciliation in Afghanistan;

(9) calls upon the Administration to conduct a thorough review of the military and diplomatic strategies in Afghanistan, including an assessment of the risk that withdrawal from those countries could strengthen the power and influence of Russia and Iran in the Middle East and South Asia and undermine diplomatic efforts toward negotiated, peaceful solutions;

(10) requests that the Administration, as part of this review, solicit the views of Israel, our regional partners, and other key troop-contributing nations in the fight against al Qaeda and ISIS;

(11) reiterates support for international diplomatic efforts to facilitate peaceful, negotiated resolutions to the ongoing conflicts in Syria and Afghanistan on terms that protect the rights of civilians and deny safe havens to terrorists;

(12) calls upon the Administration to pursue a strategy that sets the conditions for the long-term defeat of al Qaeda and ISIS, as well as the protection of regional partners and allies, while ensuring that Iran cannot dominate the region or threaten Israel;

(13) encourages close collaboration between the Executive Branch and the Legislative Branch to ensure continuing strong, bipartisan support for United States military operations in Syria and Afghanistan; and

(14) calls upon the Administration to certify that conditions have been met for the enduring defeat of al Qaeda and ISIS before initiating any significant withdrawal of United States forces from Syria or Afghanistan.

(c) Rule of Construction—Nothing in this section shall be construed as a declaration of war or an authorization of the use of military force.

SEC. 6. Clause 1(c) of rule XIX shall not apply to the consideration of H.R. 336.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on ordering the previous question.

The question was taken; and the SPEAKER pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this question will be postponed.
RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess for a period of less than 15 minutes.

Accordingly (at 12 o’clock and 56 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess.

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. CUellar) at 1 o’clock and 3 minutes p.m.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Proceedings will resume on questions previously postponed. Votes will be taken in the following order:

Ordering the previous question on House Resolution 519;

Adoption of House Resolution 519, if ordered; and Suspending the rules and passing H.R. 693.

The first electronic vote will be conducted as a 15-minute vote. Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XX, remaining electronic votes will be conducted as 5-minute votes.

PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 3877, BIPARTISAN BUDGET ACT OF 2019; PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 549, VENEZUELA TPS ACT OF 2019; AND WAIVING A REQUIREMENT OF CLAUSE 6(A) OF RULE XIII WITH RESPECT TO CONSIDERATION OF CERTAIN RESOLUTIONS REPORTED FROM THE COMMITTEE ON RULES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the unfinished business is the vote on ordering the previous question on the resolution (H. Res. 519) providing for consideration of the bill (H.R. 3877) to amend the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, to establish a congressional budget for fiscal years 2020 and 2021, to temporarily suspend the debt limit, and for other purposes; providing for consideration of the bill (H.R. 549) to designate Venezuela under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to permit nationals of Venezuela to be eligible for temporary protected status under such section, and for other purposes; and waiving a requirement of clause 6(a) of rule XIII with respect to consideration of certain resolutions reported from the Committee on Rules, on which the yeas and nays were ordered.

The Clerk read the title of the resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on ordering the previous question.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 234, nays 195, not voting 3, as follows:

The game this year raised a little shy of $1.3 million for the charities. So it was a good cause and good camaraderie.

I will tell you, Mr. Speaker, that those of us on the Democratic team genuinely like our colleagues on the Republican team and get along great together. We have a lot of fun. We practice hard, and we play our hearts out to give the crowd a good game and raise money for the charity.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. WILLIAMS), the Republican manager.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. MICHAEL F. DOYLE), and I just want to congratulate the Democrats for a hard victory.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman used some words over there that I didn’t understand when he said “generally” and some other things, but we will talk about that later. But I congratulate them for their victory.

I also want to congratulate our players for the Republican team. From March 1 to game day, from 6 to 7:30, they played and practiced, and I thank the gentleman for their involvement.

I also congratulate the gentleman from the great State of Florida (Mr. STEUBE), who was our most valuable player. Mr. Speaker, I asked him to throw strikes, and he threw strikes and did a great job for us.

I also want to congratulate everyone over there holding that trophy, standing right over there holding that trophy, Mrs. Schuette, and Mr. D楝PLODZIEŃ, who pitched a complete game, an exciting, action-packed game.

So, in the end, Mr. Speaker, the real winners of this game are the charities.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 519, I call up the bill (H.R. 3877) to amend the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985; to establish a congressional budget for fiscal years 2020 and 2021, to temporarily suspend the debt limit, and for other purposes, and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 519, the bill is considered read.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 3877

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019”.

(a) REVISED DISCRETIONARY SPENDING LIMITS.—Section 251 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 901(b)) is amended by—

(1) for fiscal year 2020—

(A) for the revised nonsecurity category—

(i) $69,500,000,000; and

(ii) $626,500,000,000 in new budget authority; and

(2) for fiscal year 2021—

(A) for the revised nonsecurity category—

(i) $71,500,000,000; and

(ii) $671,500,000,000 in new budget authority; and

(b) OVERSEAS CONTINGENCY OPERATIONS AMOUNTS.—In fiscal years 2020 and 2021, the adjustments under section 251(b)(2)(A) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 901(b)(2)(A)) for Overseas Contingency Operations/Global War on Terrorism appropriations will be as follows:

(1) For the revised nonsecurity category—

(A) for fiscal year 2020, $8,000,000,000; and

(B) for fiscal year 2021, $8,000,000,000; and

(2) For the revised security category—

(A) for fiscal year 2020, $71,500,000,000; and

(B) for fiscal year 2021, $69,000,000,000.

This subsection shall not affect the applicability of section 251(b)(2)(A) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985.

(c) NEW ADJUSTMENT FOR THE U.S. CENSUS FOR 2020.—Section 251(b)(2) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 901(b)(2)) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

REQUEST TO CONSIDER H.R. 962, BORN-ALIVE ABORTION SURVIVORS PROTECTION ACT

Mr. CRENSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the Committee on the Judiciary be discharged from further consideration of H.R. 962, the Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act, and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. (Mr. COURTNEY). Under guidelines consistently issued by successive Speakers, as set forth in section 4 of the House Rules and Manual, the Chair is constrained not to entertain the request unless it has been cleared by the bipartisan Floor and committee leaderships.

Mr. CRENSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I urge the Speaker to immediately schedule this important bill.

BIPARTISAN BUDGET ACT OF 2019

Mr. YARUMTH. Mr. Speaker, pursuant to House Resolution 519, I call up the bill (H.R. 3877) to amend the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, to establish a congressional budget for fiscal years 2020 and 2021, to temporarily suspend the debt limit, and for other purposes, and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the Speaker to immediately schedule this important bill.
SEC. 101. BUDGET RESOLUTION IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Title II—Establishing a Congressional Budget

Sec. 201. Adjustment Authority for Fiscal Year 2021 Budget Resolution in the House of Representatives.

(a) Fiscal Years 2021 and 2022.—If a concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2022 has not been adopted by April 15, 2020, for the purpose of enforcing the Congressional Budget Act of 1974; (2) for all committees of the House of Representatives, committee allocations for fiscal year 2021 and for the period of fiscal years 2021 through 2030 consistent with the May 2019 baseline for fiscal years 2020 through 2030; (3) aggregate spending levels for fiscal year 2021 in accordance with the allocations established under paragraphs (1) and (2), for the purpose of enforcing section 302 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974; and (4) aggregate revenue levels for fiscal year 2021 and for the period of fiscal years 2021 through 2030 consistent with the most recent baseline of the Congressional Budget Office, as adjusted, to the extent practicable, for the budgetary effects of any provision of law enacted during the period beginning on the date such baseline is issued and ending on the date of submission of such statement, for the purpose of enforcing section 302 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974; and (5) aggregate revenue levels for fiscal year 2021 and for the period of fiscal years 2021 through 2030 consistent with the May 2019 baseline of the Congressional Budget Office, as adjusted, to the extent practicable, for the budgetary effects of any provision of law enacted during the period beginning on the date such baseline is issued and ending on the date of submission of such statement, for the purpose of enforcing section 302 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

(b) Committee Allocations, Aggregates, and Levels.—In the House of Representatives, the Committee on the Budget shall submit a statement for publication in the Congressional Record as soon as practicable after the date of enactment of this Act that includes—

(1) for the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate, committee allocations for fiscal years 2020 through 2024 and 2024 through 2029 consistent with the May 2019 baseline of the Congressional Budget Office, as adjusted for the budgetary effects of any provision of law enacted during the period beginning on the date such baseline was issued and ending on the date of submission of such statement, for the purpose of enforcing section 302 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 (2 U.S.C. 633);

(2) for all committees other than the Committee on Appropriations, committee allocations for fiscal years 2020 through 2024 and 2024 through 2029 consistent with the May 2019 baseline of the Congressional Budget Office, as adjusted for the budgetary effects of any provision of law enacted during the period beginning on the date such baseline was issued and ending on the date of submission of such statement, for the purpose of enforcing section 311 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 (2 U.S.C. 633);

(3) aggregate spending levels for fiscal year 2020 in accordance with the allocations established under paragraphs (1) and (2), for the purpose of enforcing section 302 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 (2 U.S.C. 612); and (4) aggregate revenue levels for fiscal years 2020, 2020 through 2024, and 2024 through 2029 consistent with the May 2019 baseline of the Congressional Budget Office, as adjusted for the budgetary effects of any provision of law enacted during the period beginning on the date such baseline was issued and ending on the date such baseline was issued and ending on the date of submission of such statement, for the purpose of enforcing section 311 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 (2 U.S.C. 642); and

(5) levels of Social Security revenues and outlays for fiscal years 2020, 2020 through 2024, and 2020 through 2029 consistent with the May 2019 baseline of the Congressional Budget Office, as adjusted for the budgetary effects of any provision of law enacted during the period beginning on the date such baseline is issued and ending on the date of submission of such statement, for the purpose of enforcing sections 302 and 311 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 (2 U.S.C. 633, 642).
(c) ADDITIONAL MATTER.—The filing referred to in subsection (b) may also include for fiscal year 2021 the deficit-neutral reserve funds in title III of H. Con. Res. 71 (115th Congress), the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2018, updated by two fiscal years.
(d) EXPIRATION.—This section shall expire if a concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2020 is agreed to by the Senate and the House of Representatives pursuant to section 301 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 (2 U.S.C. 632).

SEC. 205. AUTHORITY FOR FISCAL YEAR 2021 BUDGET RESOLUTION IN THE SENATE.

(a) FISCAL YEAR 2021.—For the purpose of enforcing the Budget Resolution in the Senate, the Senate, committee allocations for fiscal year 2021 consistent with the discretionary budget authority provided in a bill or joint resolution making appropriations for a fiscal year, or an amendment thereto, amendment that designates funds for fiscal years 2021, 2021 through 2025, and 2021 through 2030 consistent with the discretionary budget authority provided in a bill or joint resolution making appropriations for a fiscal year 2021 that first becomes available for any fiscal year after 2020 or any new or continuing appropriation Act; and
(b) LIMITATION ON ADVANCE APPROPRIATIONS.—

SEC. 206. LIMITATION ON ADVANCE APPROPRIATIONS IN THE SENATE.

(a) POINT OF ORDER AGAINST ADVANCE APPROPRIATIONS IN THE SENATE.

(1) IN GENERAL.—

(A) POINT OF ORDER.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), it shall not be in order in the Senate for any appropriation bill or joint resolution to contain, in the case of a concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2021, or an amendment thereto, amendment that designates funds for fiscal years 2021, 2021 through 2025, and 2021 through 2030 consistent with the discretionary budget authority provided in a bill or joint resolution making appropriations for fiscal year 2021 that first becomes available for any fiscal year after 2020 or any new or continuing appropriation Act; and
(B) APEX.—The point of order shall be made by a Senator against a provision that—

(c) SUPERMAJORITY WAIVER AND APPEAL IN THE SENATE.—In the Senate, subsection (b) may be waived or suspended only by an affirmative vote of three-fifths of the Members, duly chosen and sworn. An affirmative vote of three-fifths of the Members of the Senate, duly chosen and sworn, shall be required to sustain an appeal of the ruling of the Chair on a point of order raised under subsection (b).

SEC. 208. POINT OF ORDER AGAINST DESIGNATION OF FUNDS FOR OVERSEAS CONTINGENCY OPERATIONS IN THE SENATE.

(a) POINT OF ORDER.—When the Senate is considering a bill, joint resolution, motion, amendment, amendment between the Houses, or conference report, if a point of order is made by a Senator against a provision that designates funds for fiscal years 2020 or 2021 for overseas contingency operations, in accordance with section 251(b)(2)(A) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 901(b)(2)(A)), and the point of order is sustained, such point of order shall be stricken from the measure and may not be offered as an amendment from the floor.

ceding clause (i), by striking “fiscal year 2027” and inserting “fiscal year 2029.”

TITLE V—BUDGETARY EFFECTS

SEC. 501. BUDGETARY EFFECTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The budgetary effects of this Act shall be determined in accordance with the procedures of section 305 of the Budget Act of 1974 (31 U.S.C. 1105(c)).

(b) PAYGO SCORECARD.—The budgetary effects of this Act shall be entered in the PAYGO scorecard maintained pursuant to section 4(d) of the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010 (2 U.S.C. 933(d)).

(c) CONFERENCE REPORTS.—When the Sen-tate, by a vote of three-fifths of the Members of the Senate, deems that a conference report is not in accordance with section 3101(b) of title 31, United States Code, shall not apply for the 1-year period beginning on August 1, 2021. It stops extreme sequestration so that we can make critical instments in our Nation’s people and prosperity.

This budget agreement represents a vast improvement over the harmful cuts contained in the President’s 2020 budget proposal. It rejects the Trump Administration’s cut to nondefense discretionary spending that would have weakened national and economic security, endangered public health, and crippled critical programs that support American families.

This deal will allow us to make strong investments in everything from K-12 education and infrastructure to research and development, clean energy, and veterans’ healthcare.

This is about finally moving us past the threat of sequestration. It is about upholding the full faith and credit of the United States. And it is about providing much-needed certainty to our communities and for our economy.

This bipartisan agreement is a victory for the American people. In the most divisive and polarizing environ-

This section is enacted by the Congress—

(d) SUPPLEMENTAL BUDGETARY RESOLUTIONS.—An obligation shall not be taken

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to

Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, one of the most funda-mentals of Congress is to fund the government. I am pleased that,

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to

Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, today, we have an opportunity to advance bipartisan legislation that will help secure a stronger future for American families and our Nation’s economy. The 2-year budget cap deal we are now debating raises the debt ceiling and increases the budget caps for 2020 and 2021. It stops extreme sequestration cuts of $125 billion from being implemented, helps us avoid another devastating government shutdown, and establishes a realistic budgetary framework so that we can make critical investments in our Nation’s people and prosperity.

Let me be clear, Mr. Speaker. The sequester numbers that would have taken place if this Congress didn’t act were never going to happen. Anybody who suggests that we were going to cut $71 billion from national defense is not being intellectually honest. We were not going to have sequestration.

Mr. Speaker, this bill also takes the chaos that would ensue following another government shutdown off the table. Nobody in this room likes continuing resolutions or big omnibus packages. That is why we are not having those off the table.

Now, I will be honest. This is not a perfect deal. It is not the bill I would have written if I were just a Congress of one. No compromise in any serious negotiation where there are two competing sides will ever result in a perfect outcome. But it does allow us to move forward with a measure of stability for our economy.

Again, I highlight that these negotiations brought forward an important agreement. There will be no poison pills in the funding bills for this year or next and a concerted effort to strive toward no shutdowns and no large omnibus packages.

Any compromise involves hard choices. As chairman of a committee in the Congress, in the House of Representatives, that has to make more hard choices than the people who gather around that Committee on Appropriations markup room.

For our distinguished chairwoman, Nita Lowey, and all of my fellow appropriators who have a lot of requests, there are never enough resources to meet all of them, but we have to make some very hard choices.

Then, let’s not forget the real and practical impact of our current debt and the deficits that add to that debt. We need to put America back on a responsible fiscal path. While I support the progress we have made in this bill, I feel, Congress could do better. It would address the looming crisis of our debt for our children and our grandchildren.

But here is an inconvenient truth: Total discretionary spending, when I came to Congress, was almost $1.3 trillion. That was what we spent on the discretionary budget of the U.S. Government. That is the part of government that most people identify with. Next year, under this caps agreement, discretionary spending is going to be just under $1.4 trillion. That is not much of an increase over a 10-year period.

To put it in perspective, discretionary spending was 9 percent of GDP when I came to Congress. It is down to 6 percent now.

If you look at the CBO report that we highlighted earlier this year, CBO says—their words—as a percentage of the economy, discretionary spending is going down, and mandatory spending continues to go up.

The year before I came to Congress, mandatory spending was 61 percent of the Federal budget. Today, it is about 70 percent of the Federal budget. Mandatory spending is putting intense pressure on a lot of programs on the discretionary side that a lot of America relies on.

I think we have to fix that. I don’t know what the answer is, but I do know this, Mr. Speaker. I know one of the answers is that we have to get back to regular order.

I can’t say it any clearer. We haven’t done the budget process that is enshrined in the 1974 Budget Act since I have been in Congress. In fact, most people in Congress look at how we do things now—CRs, omnibus, shutdowns, those kinds of things—as normal. It is anything but normal.

I know my friend, Mr. Yarmuth, and I worked very hard, as did Mrs. Lowey, on the Joint Select Committee on Budget Process Reform last year. We got close. We made a few recommendations. We couldn’t quite meet the threshold for reporting, but we took a stab at it. I hope we can elevate that discussion over the next Congress and have some success doing that.

Today, we are here to vote on a bipartisan bill, a bill that has been carefully negotiated over weeks with competing interests. The administration has been involved, with Mr. Mnuchin representing the President, and the four corners of leadership. Not the most ideal way to come up with an answer or a solution, but it is what we have today.

Mr. Speaker, with all the things that we have in front of us, let’s take the chaos off the table, and let’s pass this deal. Then, maybe—maybe—we can elevate the conversation to talk about the real drivers of the deficit and the debt in this country when we come back and as we move into the remainder of this year.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. YARMUTH. Mr. Speaker, I am honored to yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. Lowey), the chair of the Appropriations Committee.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 3877. For months, House Democrats have insisted on raising unworkable budget caps so Congress can responsibly fund our government and uphold our commitments to American families.

Unless Congress and the President act, the United States will face $232 billion in devastating cuts that will harm American families and weaken our national security.

That is why this bipartisan legislation to avoid this fiscal cliff is so critical. It thoroughly rejects the President’s slash-and-burn budget proposal, which would have pulled the rug out from under families and communities by decimating initiatives and services that make a real difference in people’s lives.

Instead of reckless cuts, Democrats were successful in securing the largest-ever increase in base funding above sequestration levels. With these more reasonable budget caps, we can undertake an orderly appropriations process to invest in critical domestic priorities for the people.

While this bipartisan deal represents a compromise, I am proud that it ends the senseless austerity of the Budget Control Act. I urge support for this legislation, so that we can help give every American a better chance at a better life.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. Scalise), the distinguished Republican whip.

Mr. SCALISE. Mr. Speaker, I want to associate myself with the remarks made by my friend, the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. Womack) who talked about the importance of what we need to do to get back into a position where we can get control over spending.

There are people that are running around right now trying to pit our Nation’s defense against balancing the Federal budget.

Mr. Speaker, in fact, it is a false choice because if you zeroed out the entire Department of Defense’s budget, which I hope no one would embrace, if you zeroed it out, you would still have a deficit. So, clearly, it is not the Department of Defense that is the problem. We need a strong defense.

President Trump has been rebuilding our military. We need to keep rebuilding our military.

Mr. Speaker, we had men and women die in training exercises than dying in combat over the last 3 years, by a 5-to-1 margin. It was less safe to train to be in the military in the United States of America than it was to go into combat, because they didn’t have the tools they needed. Planes were falling out of the sky because they didn’t have spare parts.

We have finally started to address that. The last thing we want to do is go backward on that success. And I don’t think anybody in this building, voting ‘yes’ or ‘no,” understands or would agree with the idea that if a “no” vote were to be successful, we would have a $71 billion cut to our Nation’s defense, which is one of our prime constitutional responsibilities.

So we have got to get back to solving these problems with deficits; and we all know where that is coming from, the mandatory side.

We had a bill just in the last Congress that would have cut over $800 billion, while improving the healthcare of the people of our country. And if there are better ways to go and fix these broken programs, then please put those on the table. But we need to go back to that.

But in this bill, not only does it allow the President to keep rebuilding our military, it actually protects the pro-life gains that we have made. We have made incredible gains to protect innocent life.
That is why groups like National Right to Life have said such strong things about why this is so important; why President Trump needs this bill so that he can rebuild our military, and keep building wall and border security, which is so important. We have to secure our border. This bill includes the ability for the President to do that as well.

Mr. YARMUTH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MOUTON), the vice chair of the Budget Committee.

Mr. MOUTON. Mr. Speaker, this agreement is a good step forward; not a great step, but a good step.

As vice chairman of the Budget Committee, and a veteran who serves on the Armed Services Committee, I want to speak for a moment about its impact on our national security.

This bill turns our attention to confronting and out-competing our adversaries. And partly, it does so by ending the budget wars.

Now, we all know that the Budget Control Act was established with the tool of sequestration in an effort to improve our budgeting process to, in fact, address our debt, which itself is a threat to our national security. But we also know that that hasn't worked. And in the meantime, our national security, our defense budgeting is at risk.

This bill not only ends that; it also creates parity in increased defense investments with nondefense investments. That is a big deal, because it means we will spend as much on the dignity of Americans as we will on their defense.

But it is also important to note that a lot of defense functions, a lot of things that ensure our national security fall under nondefense discretionary spending; things like investing in veterans' healthcare, investing in embassy security. In fact, the entire investment we make in the Department of Defense is not only investments in military security but also in nondefense discretionary spending, and we increase that significantly with this deal.

But let's not kid ourselves. This deal is not perfect. America is racking up a huge credit card bill which our kids will have to pay. It has skyrocketed under this President and his massive tax cut for the wealthiest few, and this bill does not address that.

And while I don't love that this bill was held up behind closed doors, it proves there is middle ground, and it strips Congress of those draconian tools in the Budget Control Act that made that middle ground hard to find. Chairman YARMUTH and his team have done us a tremendous service.

This deal buys us the time and the opportunity to fix the budgeting process, and I hope we will use it.

In the window this creates, where we aren't negotiating under gunpoint, let's fix Congress and create a next-generation budgeting process where there is thoughtful debate and, ultimately, consensus around a fiscally responsible bill. We can get there. We can start today, and we can begin by passing this bill.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from Fort Worth, Texas (Ms. GRANBERG), the ranking member on the House Appropriations Committee?

Ms. GRANBERG. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 3877. I am proud to support this 2-year budget agreement, because the alternative, not having an agreement, is simply not an option.

I want all Members to understand the importance of this bill in front of us. This deal keeps our economy on solid ground because the United States will avoid defaulting on our financial obligations. Think of that.

With this agreement, we continue to invest in rebuilding our Nation's defense and protecting our strategic interests around the world. The threat of terrorism continues, and Russian, Chinese, and Iranian aggression is on the rise. It is critical that our military is ready to meet all threats.

Unfortunately, unless we pass this bill, our military and our veterans would face arbitrary cuts that would be harmful to our security and that of our partners, like Israel and Jordan.

When I was Chairwoman of the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, I worked with the Secretary of Defense to put together a plan to rebuild our military. He said it would take 5 years. We have only appropriated the funds that were needed for 2 of those years. We should continue that. If this bill does not pass, the impending cuts will have a devastating impact on our national security.

Our Constitution explicitly states that the Congress provides for the common defense. If we don't pass this bill, we have failed to live up to our Constitutional responsibilities, and I am not willing to do that.

Not only does this budget agreement stabilize funding for our Nation's military over the next 2 years, it also sets up a framework to prevent harmful "poison pill" riders from being included in must-pass funding bills.

Finally, this agreement sets us on a path to complete an orderly appropriations process and avoid a costly government shutdown.

Our President should be commended for negotiating with Congressional leaders to protect key conservative priorities, from maintaining our position as the most powerful military in the world, to protecting the life of the unborn.

I urge my colleagues to join me in voting for this bill and sending it to the President's desk quickly for a signature.

Mr. YARMUTH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Washington (Mr. SMITH), the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it is crucially important that we pass this bill. The most fundamental responsibility of government is to fund the government and operate. And as simple as that may sound, over the course of the last 8 years, we have repeatedly failed to do that.

There has been several government shutdowns, countless other threatened government shutdowns, continuing resolutions, and a steady failure to even come close to meeting the October 1st deadline for funding the discretionary portion of the government; and that has had devastating impact.

Certainly, we have heard on a number of occasions about the impact it has had on our national security. The Department of Defense has not been able to plan its budget for too many years. It has led to inconsistency and, as we have heard, it has led to a readiness crisis.

But this applies also to the non-defense discretionary portion of the budget—infrastructure, and our education, and our housing. All of those items have been under uncertainty for too long over the course of the last 8 years.

This budget agreement, though not perfect, funds the government and, I believe, responsibly funds the government, both defense and nondefense.

I really want to commend both Secretaries Mnuchin and Speaker Pelosi for coming together and negotiating this agreement. There is no secret that we are so different between the Democratic-controlled House and the White House and the Republican-controlled Senate. But despite those differences, we have to function. We have to be able to fund the government and meet our responsibilities to the American people.

They were able to transcend those differences, get this deal done, and fund the government in a responsible way.

Now, it is absolutely true that the deal doesn't solve the deficit problem. I know there are many people out there who say that it is not. I just don't see how those numbers add up. You cannot continually spend more money than you take in before it becomes a problem. We need to responsibly address that issue.

I don't think it was responsible to cut taxes by nearly $2 trillion in the face of that. I certainly also think that defense has to be part of that conversation.

The gentleman earlier said, well, you could zero out the defense budget and it wouldn't make any difference. Well, the defense budget is 17 percent of the budget. If you are 17 percent of a budget that is massively in debt, you are at least part of the problem.

I mean, you can take any one piece of the budget and say, well, that is not the problem. In fact, that is kind of what we have been doing. We have been taking piece by piece and saying, well, we can't cut that; we can't raise that tax.

Meanwhile, we have been insisting on a dollar's worth of government for 80 cents worth of taxes. In the long run, people will pay the price for that. In the short term we have to responsibly fund the government. That is exactly what this bill does.

Again, I thank the leadership that brought this to be, and I urge support and passage of this bill.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Corona, California (Mr. CALVERT), who is the ranking member on the Appropriations Committee who funds the national defense of this country.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the Bipartisan Budget Deal of 2019. Like many of my colleagues, there are parts of the deal I object to and parts I strongly support.

As ranking member of the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, I would have preferred a higher top line for defense than $758 billion. However, we will always choose certainty and on-time appropriations rather than another destructive CR.

Right now, our military is at an inflection point. As our military readiness requirements appropriate operational levels, we must continue to push forward on modernization efforts that will continue America's superiority on land, sea, air, and space into the next century.

Just as former Secretary Mattis wowed Americans up to the dire circumstances of our readiness levels, Americans are now beginning to understand that our military superiority can no longer be assumed against near-peer adversaries such as Russia and China. Whether it is hypersonics, low-yield nuclear weapons, artificial intelligence, or the militarization of space, the gap has closed.

The 2-year budget deal before us today provides the certainty for our military to do what they do best, prepare to win the next war in the hopes that our military might will deter any would-be competitor from ever starting that war. I know many of my conservative friends are concerned about more deficit spending and adding to our $22 trillion debt. I share that concern, but we need to look at the full budget picture. Mandatory spending, if you include interest on the debt, now consumes 72 percent of the Federal budget.

National defense actually accounts for 15.6 percent of the budget. That leaves only 12 percent left for all of our 12 fiscal year 2020 annual spending committee bills, but as an appropriator, I intimately understand Congress' top responsibility is to keep the ship of state running, ensuring an open, funded, and fully functional government of the United States. I also know from experience that the full faith and credit of our government can never be questioned. Every one of our constituents deserves this recognition from their elected Member, and this agreement moves Congress past the devastating threats imposed under the Budget Control Act of 2011. Thank goodness.

It avoids deep, automatic cuts that would devastate government's ability to help the American people and meet our obligations to them, including the most vulnerable.

This agreement rejects the devastating cuts the Appropriations Committee's fiscal year 2020 budget proposal and maintains significant funding levels for domestic priorities and defense priorities alike.

Most importantly, this agreement moves us a step closer to finalizing appropriations for all of our Federal dollars responsibly.

Mr. Speaker, I commend our leadership efforts on both sides of the aisle to reach a final consensus and bring this bipartisan agreement to the floor. This agreement reflects give-and-take from all sides of Congress and the White House, and it is deserving of a strong bipartisan showing of support from this body.

Let's govern.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, on occasion it is important to reach out to the rural areas of our country for wisdom, and we are going to reach out to west Texas. The honorable Representative from Texas (Mr. THORNBERY), my friend, the Republican lead on the House Armed Services Committee.

Mr. THORNBERY. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentleman yielding.
Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume. I urge a "yes" vote.

Mr. Womack. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume. A constant theme on our side has been that of national security, a reason why we should support the agreement that has been hammered out between the administration and the four corners of leadership in the House and the Senate, and I stand by that.

We have had speakers from the House Armed Services Committee, the House Appropriations Committee, Defense Subcommittees and so on, and it is an important reason because of how much money it commands of Federal taxpayer money to actually protect, secure, and defend the United States of America.

But, Mr. Speaker, one of the discussions, one of the debates we are not having is about the true drivers of the deficit and the debt, and that is a conversation that I would like to introduce in these proceedings today. I brought a chart with me.

As I was preparing my remarks today, I got to thinking: What were the numbers back in 2010 when I first sought office in the House of Representatives versus what we are talking about today?

So we have a snapshot in time of 2010 and a snapshot in time of what we are debating today. Mr. Speaker, I direct your attention to this chart because, in 2010, discretionary spending, which is the spending that most of us kind of relate to the Federal Government, everything from keeping the lights on at this Capitol to paying for the men and women who are downrange defending our freedoms, was a little over $1.2 trillion in 2010.

The number that we are debating today and that others have been critical of is just under $1.4 trillion. It is

This phony number that we are now suspending for a couple of years, I think that is a phony number. But, Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I urge the President, as he said today in a communication to his Republicans, he said House Republicans should support the 2-year budget agreement, which greatly helps our military and our vets. I am totally with him.

I am pleased that the President supports this agreement. I am pleased that we reached this agreement. I would hope that we could all vote for this agreement, not because, as so many have said, it is perfect, but because it is an outcome of honest and productive discussions between rational people who know that we have a job to do for America, and we are prepared to do it.

Mr. Speaker, the American people, as I was preparing my remarks today, I got to thinking: What were the numbers back in 2010 when I first sought office in the House of Representatives versus what we are talking about today?

So we have a snapshot in time of 2010 and a snapshot in time of what we are debating today. Mr. Speaker, I direct your attention to this chart because, in 2010, discretionary spending, which is the spending that most of us kind of relate to the Federal Government, everything from keeping the lights on at this Capitol to paying for the men and women who are downrange defending our freedoms, was a little over $1.2 trillion in 2010.

The number that we are debating today and that others have been critical of is just under $1.4 trillion. It is...
$1.37 trillion. It represents an increase of $114 billion in 10 years. Most people would probably say that, given 10 years—we had a couple of years there where we had trouble with our economy—a percentage increase like that might be within reason.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I want to direct your attention to the mandatory side of the spending. It has come up a couple of times in our discussion today, the true driver of the deficit and the debt.

When I came to Congress in 2011, the 2016 number was $2.1 trillion. Today, not part of this discussion, mandatory spending is just under $3.3 trillion. Mr. Speaker, that is an increase of almost $1.2 trillion in 10 years. We are not having that discussion today.

I am reminded of the old Bronx-born bank robber, Willie Sutton, Mr. Speaker, who when captured, legend has it, was asked, “Why do you rob banks?” He said, “Because that’s where the money is.”

If we are going to have a meaningful discussion, a constructive discussion about how we put the balance sheet of the U.S. Government back in order, we cannot have an intellectually honest conversation ignoring the bottom line here. In 10 years, mandatory spending has grown 10 times the rate of discretionary spending, yet we are not talking about that today.

Mr. Speaker, I am hoping that when this bill passes, we can sit down to talk about the true drivers of the deficit and the debt.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. YARMUTH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. PELOSI), the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding, and I thank him for his great work as the chair of the Budget Committee. He knows better than all of us that our Federal budget should be a statement of our national values and that what is important to us as a Nation should be reflected in that budget. I thank Mr. YARMUTH for his leadership and thank his staff for bringing this legislation to the floor.

Mr. Speaker, I also thank Chairwoman NITA LOWEY, the chair of the Appropriations Committee, and her staff for the important work that they did to help us get to the place we are today. That place is bipartisan legislation which reflects an agreement that is both bipartisan and a victory for the American people.

I think we all agree, including the ranking member, that we all want to reduce the deficit, so let us work in a bipartisan way to do that.

While we are at it, we may want to eliminate the vote on lifting the debt ceiling each year as well because the full faith and credit of the United States of America should never, ever be in question.

This agreement was reached, and it will meet the needs of the people whom we are honored to represent, investing in middle-class priorities that advance the health, financial security, and well-being of the American people, and enhancing our national security.

Democrats have achieved priorities that we set out from the start. Obviously, we have shared priorities.

We are permanently ending the threat of sequestration. That is a very important measure. The administration has joined us to end the devastating sequestration cuts that threaten our investments to keep America number one in the global economy and, again, ensure our national security.

We are also limiting offsets to half of what was originally proposed to those that were accepted in an earlier bipartisan agreement.

We are taking action to avoid another government shutdown, which is so harmful to meeting the needs of the American people and honoring the work of our important men and women in our Federal workforce, and also the collateral damage that a shutdown does to our economy.

We are securing robust funding for crucial domestic priorities, as I said. We have always insisted on parity in increases between defense and non-defense. We are pleased that our increase in the nondefense budget actually exceeds the parity number on defense by $10 billion over the next 2 years.

We are pleased to be able to say that we have secured an increase of more than $100 billion in the budget cap for domestic priorities since the President took office.

Finally, we are safeguarding the full faith and credit of the United States of America by achieving a lifting of the debt limit until July 31, 2021. Perhaps between now and then we can work in a bipartisan way to address removing all doubt about whether the debt limit will be increased.

It is important to note that this is not about future spending. This is about paying for what we have invested in already.

It was essential that we reach agreement before the upcoming August district work period because we were informed by the Secretary of the Treasury that we might exhaust the full faith and credit during the district work period in August.

We are pleased to have done so with an agreement that meets the needs of America’s families and our national security and achieves so many of our priorities.

Mr. Speaker, I urge a strong vote for this bill. As I said, we can avoid the damage of sequestration and continue to advance the progress for the American people. I urge a “yes” vote.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I might consume.

Mr. Speaker, I want to read from a book that we are all very familiar with, the Constitution of the United States, for just a moment. One of my concerns about what we are doing today, though I support the outcome, is written in Section 8 of Article I of the Constitution: “The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.”

Article I, Section 8, it lays it out pretty simply that the Congress of the United States has the power of the purse.

While I support what we are doing today because I recognize the importance of getting chaos and uncertainty off the table for the reasons already stated in this debate, I am disappointed that the agreement was hammered out by basically four people, four of the administration and four Members of the Congress referenced in Article I, Section 8.

That is our job. The only meaningful debate that has happened over discretionary spending in this chamber has happened only in this chamber during the debates on appropriations that Mr. HOYER referred to earlier. We have had those discussions.

I don’t agree with everything in this appropriations bills. I never have. But at least we have had that debate on the floor of the House. They have not had that debate on the floor of the Senate.

Here we are today, relying on an agreement hammered out by leaders of both parties in both Chambers with a representative from the administration. To me, Mr. Speaker, that flies in the face of what Article I, Section 8 says it should be like.

I hope we all agree we can work together jointly to produce budgets, engage in debates on the floor of the people’s House, and arrive at outcomes that we are proud of, four plus one, four plus two.

That is the way the Framers intended this Chamber to be. I am hopeful that we will get there eventually.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. YARMUTH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON LEE), a distinguished member of the Budget Committee.

(Ms. JACKSON LEE asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)
Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. WOMACK) for his hand of conciliation, his reconciliation, and to acknowledge the work that he and the chairman of the Budget Committee have done and the tone in which the Budget Committee has conducted itself since 2019.

Let me, as the gentleman referred to Article I, Section 8, take note of the fact that it is a recognition of the power to lay and collect taxes and duties, to borrow money and regulate commerce, but in particular, I believe that there is an underlying responsibility that when we do lay taxes on the American people, or we cut taxes and give 1 percent of the population an enormous gift of paying no taxes, that then we have a responsibility to try to respond to the Americans who work every day and pay taxes and are wondering, “What is our government doing?” This budget is answering the question.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to join the gentleman and repeal the Trump tax cuts, as it burdens working Americans, as it denies nonprofits the ability to have deductions when gifts are given to them, but we are where we are today.

This bipartisan budget resolution, which I am grateful to have a combination of leadership and others, eliminates the risk of another costly and devastating government shutdown. There were government workers on food stamps who could not get to work. It lifts the sequestration caps imposed under the Budget Control Act of 2011 to provide for increased investments in non-defense discretionary programs needed to keep America competitive. I was in the midst of those discussions, as many of us were. They were devastating. They were cutting the needs of Americans.

We avoid default on the national debt, the SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mr. YARMUTH. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Texas.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Speaker, I am grateful to the gentleman for yielding.

I want to bring to the attention of the American people what we will be able to do: public health and disease control, infrastructure, economic development, all of that will now come about.

At the same time, we will ensure that the United States military will be stronger.

We will not be competing against each other. By the time we get through, we are avoiding an 11 percent cut to defense and a 9 percent cut to nondefense discretionary. We are making people whole.

As it relates to what the Budget Committee has done, we have had hearings on healthcare, climate change, education, Medicare, Social Security. We have been doing work in the Budget Committee that is important, but we are seeking parity.

We are helping with domestic priorities. We are saying to the American people that we are not just taking your money and giving it to the top 1 percent of Americans. We are now balancing the budget, or working on the budget, paying down on the debt, and ensuring that we do not default on America’s debt.

Mr. Speaker, I am delighted to be able to support this bill to help America.

Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Budget Committee, I rise in strong support of H.R. 3877, the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019.

1. I support this agreement because it:
   1. eliminates another costly and devastating government shutdown;
   2. lifts the sequestration caps imposed under the Budget Control Act of 2011 to provide for increased investments in non-defense discretionary (NDD) programs needed to keep America competitive;
   3. avoids default on the national debt and preserves America’s standing as the world’s most creditworthy nation.

I thank my Chairman YARMUTH of the Budget Committee and Chairman NEAL of the Ways and Means Committee, and the bipartisan and bicameral leadership of the Congress for their work in reaching this agreement and shepherding this legislation to the floor.

Mr. Speaker, I strongly support lifting the caps imposed by the Budget Control Act of 2011 and ending the awful policy of sequestration.

That is why I strongly supported the H.R. 2021, the “Investing For The People Act,” which was marked up by the Budget Committee earlier this year.

Mr. Speaker, without Congressional action, statutory caps on discretionary funding will force an 11 percent cut to defense and a 9 percent cut, about $55 billion, to nondefense discretionary (NDD) programs for 2020 relative to the amounts provided for 2019. The Balanced Budget Agreement of 2019 replaces these destructive cuts with a realistic budgetary framework so that Congress, through its annual appropriations bills, can make critical investments in our nation’s infrastructure and people.

As we learned and documented in several Budget Committee hearings convened by Chairman YARMUTH, such deep cuts would have a devastating effect on U.S. national security and economic vitality.

Failure to lift the budget caps and leave agencies that respond to public health threats and emergencies vulnerable to harmful cuts. The National Institutes of Health and the Centers for Disease Control, along with the State Department and U.S. Agency for International Development, play unique roles in preparing for and responding to threats domestically and abroad.

At a time when there are numerous challenges—from outbreaks of Ebola and Zika, to the Flint water crisis, to chronic diseases like Alzheimer’s and cancer, to the opioid epidemic—it is clear we cannot neglect these investments.

Climate change threatens crop yields, infrastructure, water and energy supplies, and human health. Climate change poses risks to federal property and resources, increases potential outlays from flood and crop insurance, and creates looming disaster assistance needs. Under sequestration, agencies dealing with this threat would be dramatically underfunded and deprived of the resources needed to respond to this national and global challenge.

According to military experts, diplomacy and foreign aid are critical components of our national security.

Both Trump’s own former Secretary of Defense, James Mattis, and former Secretary of Defense Robert Gates have stressed the importance of diplomacy and foreign aid:

“If you don’t fully fund the State Department, then I need to buy more ammunition.” —then Secretary of Defense, James Mattis, 2011.

“... based on my experience serving seven presidents, as a former director of C.I.A. and now as secretary of defense, I am here to make the case for strengthening our capacity to use ‘soft power’ and for better integrating it with ‘hard power.’” —Secretary of Defense Robert Gates, 2011.

Inadequate nondefense funding levels lead to State and Foreign Operations appropriations bills that:

1. slash embassy security funding by more than 21 percent; and

2. decrease assistance to multilateral organizations including our UN contributions, signaling to the rest of the world that the U.S. no longer keeps its word.

Mr. Speaker, the sequestration regime created by the Budget Control Act of 2011 is an untenable state of affairs and must be corrected.

The Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019 is an important step in the right direction and represents a vast improvement over the harmful cuts contained in the President’s 2020 budget, restores certainty to our budgeting and spending, and advances the important priorities of the American people, including:

1. Permanently ends the threat of the sequester and preventing devastating funding cuts of 14 percent to defense spending and 13 percent to non-defense spending, and replaces years of reckless austerity budgeting with responsible budgeting.

2. Achieving parity between defense and non-defense discretionary spending; in fact, the increase in the non-defense budget authority that exceeds the defense number by $4 billion.

3. Securing robust funding for critical domestic priorities, including an additional $2.5 billion for a fair, accurate and timely Census; robust funding for veterans, Child Care Development Block Grants, and a strong increase in the National Institutes of Health budget to accelerate life-saving cancer and health research.

Mr. Speaker, for nearly 75 years, since the end of World War II, the world has been impressed by examples of American power. But what has inspired people the world over is the power of America’s example.

To defend America and keep her great and strong, we need to pass the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019, which ends sequestration and lifts... the budget caps and enable the Congress to invest in America and her people and restore their faith in their government.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. MCCARTHY), the distinguished Republican leader of the United States House of Representatives; my friend and colleague from Bakersfield, California; and a man that I know has a great desire to see regular order played out on the floor of this House and an opportunity to go back to the budget process and appropriations process that we once knew in this great Chamber.

Mr. MCCARTHY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Republican leader of the Budget Committee for yielding. I also thank him for his work and his desire to see a budget in this Congress.

I wish we had a budget in this Congress when we would probably be in a little stronger position. But we work in a government that is designed to have compromise, a divided government.

What we are talking about today is a compromise. It is not perfect by any means, but it ensures important policy victories that no conservative can, or should, dismiss.

Consider these priorities in the final deal:

- The Hyde amendment, perhaps the most important protection for Americans’ rights of conscience, cannot be attacked by Democrats’ poison pills for 2 years. That means taxpayer money will not be used to fund abortions for the foreseeable future.
- Likewise, the Trump administration’s Protect Life rule, it will be unimpeded by legislative antics. This vital rule stops organizations like Planned Parenthood from using title X money as their personal piggy bank.
- And here we build on what we started in the 115th Congress, rebuilding our military from the devastating cuts during sequestration. We watch a world that is more dangerous.
- I just read an article this week that, in the last 28 months, China has visited more ports than in the last 28 years. I read another article where China and Russia military planes entered South Korean air, which they have never done before, where shots actually had to be fired. You turn the news on, and you look at the Persian Gulf and where shots actually had to be fired. We should care most about that are sitting in law today.
- For all of the reasons that have been mentioned today by my colleagues, namely, national security, the ability to give our Pentagon certainty over the next 2 years as we continue to rebuild the readiness of the men and women who, on a voluntary basis, might I add, put their hand up and say, “going to come over there, to defend the principles of freedom”—they make that pledge willingly. They are not conscripted into the service. They make it on a voluntary basis.
- The least that we should be able to do is to sue for sure that the resources are there that properly man the force, train the force, and equip the force so that we never, ever face a fight that is fair. We should always have the advantage.

For the reasons, Mr. Speaker, and with kind of a measure of hope that going through this process, as we have today, maybe it will inspire both sides of the aisle here and at the other having a budget first and without having an agreement first, I knew those bills would never become law. It was a lot of time wasted. But if I looked at those bills, what passed on the floor, and look at what is in this compromise deal, it is spending less money.

Today is a movement forward, but we have much more work to do, and given the opportunity, if our friend, who is the lead Republican on the Budget Committee, became the chair, I know we would have a budget: I know we would have an appropriations process; and I know that budget would be balanced. But until that day comes, we will continue to watch to make sure we spend less, we build our military, and we make tomorrow better than today.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire as to how much time I have remaining.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Arkansas has 3 1⁄2 minutes remaining.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, it is not the most ideal situation to be in. As I reflect back on the many days I spent in my district and I am about to go back there for the August recess, and I am going to circulate around my district and have some townhall meetings and engage in conversation. I know this subject is going to come up.

I already know that most people are going to say: Look, you guys have a spending problem up there in Washington. I hear that a lot, and I would agree with that. Very few people say that we have a revenue problem, but we do have a spending problem.

Mr. Speaker, you can bet your bottom dollar that I am going to be carrying this chart with me that I brought up earlier that shows the big difference between the mandated spending and what we are discussing here today about a $1.37 trillion discretionary budget.

For all of the reasons that have been mentioned today by my colleagues, namely, national security, the ability to give our Pentagon certainty over the next 2 years as we continue to rebuild the readiness of the men and women who, on a voluntary basis, might I add, put their hand up and say, “going to come any way, to defend the principles of freedom”—they make that pledge willingly. They are not conscripted into the service. They make it on a voluntary basis.

The least that we should be able to do is to sue for sure that the resources are there that properly man the force, train the force, and equip the force so that we never, ever face a fight that is fair. We should always have the advantage.
end of this building to work together to improve our processes so that it is the House and the Senate, collectively, doing the work that is prescribed as our fundamental duty in Article I, Section 8 of the United States Constitution,
Mr. Speaker, I encourage a ‘‘yes’’ vote on this bill, the Homeland
The United States did not become an economic powerhouse and world leader by accident. Throughout our history, we made strong investments in our people, our economy, and our security that allow us to innovate and grow, while promoting broad-based economic opportunity.
This agreement will build on that legacy by raising the caps and lifting the debt ceiling, allowing Congress to move our Nation forward without leaving our communities behind.
I look forward to passing this bill in the House, and I encourage both the Senate and the White House to join us in ensuring that we meet our obligations to our Nation and to the American people.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 519, the previous question is ordered on the bill.
The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the bill.
The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read the third time.
The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question was taken; and the bill, as amended, is adopted, and the bill, as amended, is considered read.
The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further procedings on this question will be postponed.
Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentleman
YARMUTH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.
Mr. Speaker, I think anyone watching this debate today, and certainly those of us who are here in the House, would say this is a very unusual mo-moment.
We have a lot of debates in this body in which there is a great deal of unaanimity and agreement, and usually that is because we are doing something that is totally non-controversial. But today is very different, because today we have truly,
I think, respected the highest legacies of this body, that this body is supposed to be a place where you bring very diverse opinions and perspectives to try and find common solutions to this country’s needs.
I think the compromise that we are hopefully going to approve today will serve as a model for what is possible in this body and in this Congress, because it truly is, in my 13 years, I think, a watershed moment. We are in a very, very divisive, polarized environment.
We have come together to move this country forward.
I want to thank and commend the ranking member and my friend, Mr.
WOMACK. I can’t imagine having a better relationship than I have with the ranking member, and I hope that he feels that, when he was chairman and I was ranking member, it was exactly the same way. Mr. WOMACK is a total class act and a distinguished Member, and it is an honor to work with him.
Mr. WOMACK. Will the gentleman yield?
Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Arkansas.
Mr. Speaker, let me say, for the record, that the feeling is mutual. I admire and appreciate the great relationship that Mr. YARMUTH and I have.
Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for those comments.
Mr. Speaker, I also compliment and thank the Budget Committee staff, both majority and minority, for the work done on this very important piece of legislation.
Mr. Speaker, our country is facing an infrastructure deficit; we face a skills and education deficit; and we face a growing income inequality crisis. A failure to act to make the necesnecary investments to promote growth and opportunity will leave our communities and country vulnerable.

by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on the Judiciary.

The gentleman from California (Ms. LOFGREN) and the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. COLLINS) each will control 15 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and insert extraneous materials on H.R. 549.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, this should not be a partisan issue. Democrats and Republicans in both Houses of Congress support temporary protected status for Venezuelans. And, yet, when the Venezuelan TPS Act of 2019 was brought up on a suspension vote on Tuesday, it did not pass because most Republicans voted against it.

President Trump has repeatedly expressed alarm about the situation in Venezuela and support for the people, but he refuses to exercise his authority to designate Venezuela for TPS.

Today, we vote again on this to protect Venezuelans who are already in the United States, and I do hope my Republican colleagues will vote in support of it.

TPS is designed to provide a safe haven to people who are in the United States and unable to return to their home country. Venezuela, once one of Latin America’s most prosperous countries, but currently bankrupt, is in the throes of a political crisis, and it is deserving of TPS designation.

Four million Venezuelans are outside their home country due to violence, hunger, and fear. Seven million people inside need humanitarian assistance to stay alive, and one in five Venezuelans have no access to clean water. This is exactly the type of humanitarian crisis that TPS was designed to address.

For this reason alone, we should stand in support of Venezuela TPS. Just 2 weeks ago, Acting Commissioner of U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, Ken Cuccinelli, informed Senator DICK DURBIN by letter that the administration was “continuing to monitor the situation” instead of designating Venezuela for TPS.

Even more surprising, the United States is still deporting Venezuelans, and in late 2018, DHS deported more Venezuelans than were resettled over the previous 5 years.

In other words, the Trump administration’s Venezuela policy is incoherent at best, but as Members of Congress, we can act consistently with our concern for the people of Venezuela by supporting this bill.

This bill provides us with the mechanism to offer temporary refuge to Venezuelan migrants who are already in the United States. Designating Venezuela for TPS will not only ensure the safety and security of thousands of Venezuelans, it will also demonstrate our bipartisan support of a legitimate, Democratic transition in Venezuela.

I commend my colleagues, DEBBIE MUCARSEL-POWELL and DARREN SOTO, for their work and their commitment to the Venezuelan people, and I urge all of my colleagues to support the Venezuelan TPS Act of 2019.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time. Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. SOTO), the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. SOTO. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Chairwoman from California for her time and her leadership on this issue.

Mr. Speaker, I think that Congress understands that Venezuela is in crisis; that its people are in crisis under the evil fist of a tyrannical dictator who has stayed in power through fraudulent elections.

That is why the United States recognized Juan Guaidó as interim president. And bipartisan President Trump and leaders in the Senate, to leaders in the House, including our Speaker, NANCY PELOSI.

And that is why we have come together in a bipartisan fashion to file and pursue the passage of the Venezuelan TPS Act. It was co-introduced with bipartisanism in its heart with Congressman DIAZ-BALART, who has joined me here today to get the job done and to get everybody together.

We have been joined by such amazing leaders like Congresswoman SHALALA—who we will hear from in a second—who helped on the Rules Committee; or with the help of Congresswoman DEBBIE Wasserman Schultz who helped to work with leadership; and DEBBIE MUCARSEL-POWELL, a Congresswoman who helped us guide it through the Judiciary Committee, along with Congressman LOFGREN as well.

The administration has said positive statements about this. Just this past week, Secretary Pompeo said that this could happen. And we had Vice President PENCE in Florida saying that we need to act to help the Venezuelan people.

So I think we are going to have a second chance. We are going to have a chance tonight to vote on this again where we won’t need a two-thirds vote, but it would say a lot about saying that the Socialist regime that Maduro has in Venezuela needs to go, and that we, as a Congress, stand together as Democrats and Republicans to condemn that; and to allow people who are here, over 170,000 in Florida, and over 1 million throughout the United States, to have a second chance.

Mr. Speaker, I really hope the House can come together and show our very best tonight with the vote.

According to USCIS, Venezuelans have become the largest group of asylum seekers applying for refuge in the United States. Venezuelans made up one-third of all asylum claims, ahead of people from Central America, China, and all other countries. That is really significant considering the humanitarian crisis that all parties have recognized is at the border right now.

Only Venezuelans already in the United States who pose no risk to the safety or security of our country are eligible for TPS. The program already contains the most stringent criminal and public safety bars in all of immigration law, so we make sure that there are only those who are worthy.

Lastly, temporary protective status is the current law of the land.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. DIAZ-BALART).

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the ranking member for allowing me this time.

I want to start by commending—and I have done this before—by commending the gentleman from Florida (Mr. SOTO), for his relentless leadership on this issue.

He has a tradition of working in a bipartisan way. He has a tradition of working on things that are important to the people of Florida. This is not only important to the people of Florida, but when you talk about Venezuela, as the gentleman knows, this is important for the national security interests of the United States.

Now, the gentleman mentioned about the reality in Venezuela today. The reality of what we have seen because of this Socialist regime in Venezuela is what used to be one of the wealthiest countries in Latin America now becomes almost a place where people don’t have access to, frankly, food and medicine.

Mr. Speaker, the most important thing is the repression that they are suffering under day in and day out. The heroic Venezuelan people are doing everything they can to recover their freedom.

I am proud of what this administration, the Trump administration, has done in support, in solidarity with the Venezuelan people, in support of the cause of freedom.

But while that is going on, a lot of us believe that it would be unacceptable to return Venezuelans to the situation that the gentleman, my colleague from Florida (Mr. SOTO), just mentioned, and that is exactly what I just mentioned as well. And that is what this legislation is all about.

We all know that the real solution, the permanent real solution for Venezuela is very simple, and it can be done overnight. The freedom of the Venezuelan people. And we are working, and the administration has done an amazing job, again, in solidarity with the cause of freedom of the Venezuelan people. But in the meantime, Venezuelans cannot be returned to that dictatorship that we have spoken so much about.

So, again, Mr. Speaker, this is not to be confused with issues dealing with immigration, with a lot of controversial issues that are out there. This is to deal with the specific case of the Venezuelan people who are struggling under this repressive Socialist regime. While that is going on, we should not turn people back. That is what this bill does. So I would urge a favorable vote.

Ms. SOTO. Mr. Speaker, I am honored to yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. SHALALA).

Ms. SHALALA. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 549, the Venezuela TPS Act of 2019.

And I thank my distinguished colleague from south Florida, Congressman MARIO DIAZ-BALART, for his comments and for his coaching during my first year.

Venezuela was once the richest country in Latin America. Now, the economy, the health sector, the education system, and virtually every democratic institution is in ruins because of the Socialist policies of the evil Maduro regime.

Venezuela is experiencing the largest refugee crisis in the history of the Western Hemisphere. There are tens of thousands of Venezuelan-born residents in south Florida—17,000 in my district alone. My constituents cannot safely return to a country in chaos.

The vote created. As the vote on Tuesday demonstrated, this Congress is ready to allow Venezuelans to apply for TPS. TPS has bipartisan support in the House and in the Senate. It is time for the Senate to take this bill up.

TPS is a fundamental component in our approach to the crisis in Venezuela, but it will not alone solve the crisis. The United States and the international community must continue to put pressure on the regime to facilitate a peaceful change in leadership, because our ultimate goal is to secure a stable and peaceful transition of power for the Venezuelan people.

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I yield the balance of my time.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I have one additional speaker on the way.

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 2 minutes just to make a couple of additional comments.

First, Venezuela, which was a perfectly happy country, has been trashed by their government. They are now experiencing a 10 million percent annual increase in inflation, and 85 percent of the medicines needed for the major causes of morbidity in the country are unavailable to pharmacies. They are in terrible shape.

I had occasion to go to the Colombian-Venezuelan border a short time ago, and I would like to tell you what I saw.

I saw, first, the skinniest refugees I have ever seen, people who were coming over for the day to get something to eat. The Catholic Church had organized food for people who have no food and who came across the river just to get a meal when it was a tragic situation. To think that we would send someone who is temporarily here back to that catastrophe is really unthinkable.

As Mr. SOTO has mentioned, TPS was devised precisely for this type of situation where we have chaos in the native country of someone who is here temporarily and it is unconscionable to send them back.

So we do know that the ultimate answer in Venezuela is not TPS. It is for the Venezuelan people to gain control of their government, to have a functioning democracy, to get rid of the Socialist policies that have trashed the country. But, meanwhile, we do need to have this protection for the Venezuelans who are here.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself an additional 30 seconds.

Mr. Speaker, I would note that, without a word of complaint, the Colombians have accommodated 4 million Venezuelans who have left Venezuela and gone into Colombia. There has not been a big turmoil in Colombia about accepting those refugees while this disaster is going on. Surely, the estimated 300,000 Venezuelans who are in the U.S. today would not pose a burden. They are able to support themselves, and we should not be sending them back to a terrible fate.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, may I ask how much time is remaining, please.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Georgia has 12 1⁄2 minutes remaining. The gentlewoman from California has 4 minutes remaining.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I am still waiting.

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

And the interesting thing here, and I will just say this—I am not ready to close—but at this point in time, I think one of the issues that has been said today, it should be noted that DHS has actually no mechanism to send anyone back to Venezuela right now. The channels for getting people back to Venezuela are not there, so deportation is not happening, especially now, because we have no mechanism to do that. So that is something later on, the merits of the bill either way.

I am not wanting to engage in a colloquy. I am just trying to see if the gentlewoman has her speaker here.

Ms. LOFGREN. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. I yield to the gentlewoman from California.

Ms. LOFGREN. No, and I think given the time and the other bills behind us, why doesn’t the gentleman close. I will close, and we will go to a vote.

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, reclaiming my time, I oppose this legislation which designates Venezuela for TPS status.

Under Federal law, the DHS Secretary may designate a country for TPS if the country is unable to adequately handle the return of nationals or circumstances prevent it, which is actually happening right now in many ways.

The TPS designation means nationals of a designated country inside the U.S. on the date of designation, legally or illegally, may apply to stay here and receive employment authorization. DHS has estimated that there are 230,000 such Venezuelan nationals currently in the country, and 123,000 are here illegally.

Generally, TPS is designated for an 18-month period, and the country may be redesignated for 18-month increments. But if the country no longer meets the conditions for TPS designation, the Secretary must terminate the designation.

Despite the fact Congress intended TPS to be temporary protection, it has become permanent and automatically renewed. Contrary to Congress’ intent, some countries have been designated for TPS for decades.
The current administration has followed the law and terminated TPS for certain nations, but, of course, that has not been left alone. It has been stymied in the court.

I oppose H.R. 549, but the Venezuelan people are in a dire situation, and thanks to the socialist policies of Hugo Chavez and Nicolas Maduro. I pray for regime change in Venezuela.

If Congress is, nevertheless, inclined to statutorily designate Venezuela for TPS, then we should not ensure renewal automatic. If we do not do that, we can continue the same broken TPS designation process. No future administration will terminate the designations, and 25 years from now, Members will call for the green cards for those who are here on TPS.

I must also point out the hypocrisy of designating a country for temporary protected status. The majority recently passed legislation to create a green card path for 417,000 aliens in the country on a temporary protected status, some of which were 20 years for a volcano—not exactly something that is permanent.

We also may as well remove the word “temporary” from TPS statute and hand over the green cards right now.

Mr. Speaker, I oppose H.R. 549, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, I would hope that everyone will vote for this bill.

It is, unfortunately, the case that the United States has deported Venezuelans in late 2018. More Venezuelans were deported than were resettled.

It is important that, while this country, Venezuela, is really in meltdown, we don’t take vulnerable people and send them back there. That is what TPS is all about. This bill is simple.

I thank Mr. SOTO, Ms. SHALALA, Ms. DEBBIE WASSERMAN SCHULTZ, and Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL for their efforts, along with those of many others.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that we support this bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All time for debate has expired.

Pursuant to House Resolution 519, the previous question is ordered on the bill, as amended.

The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read the third time, and was read the third time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 1(c) of rule XIX, further consideration of H.R. 549 is postponed.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the Chair will now place on the Calendar, and not today on motions to suspend the rules on which a recorded vote or the yeas and nays are ordered, or votes objected to under clause 6 of rule XX.

The House will resume proceedings on postponed questions at a later time.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE AUTHORIZATION ACT OF 2019

This text is part of a larger legislative document and includes various sections and subsections that deal with international security, human rights, and budgetary considerations. Each section addresses specific legislative proposals and provisions related to the overall mission and function of the United States government in these areas.
crime, and law enforcement affairs in the Secretary for International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs; shall be in the Department of State an Assistant Secretary for International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs; and shall carry out such other relevant duties as the Secretary may assign.

(B) ADEQUATE RESOURCES.—The Assistant Secretary for International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs shall maintain continuous observation and coordination of all matters pertaining to international narcotics, anti-crime, and law enforcement affairs in the conduct of foreign policy, including, as appropriate, the international narcotics and law enforcement affairs that are carried out by United States Government agencies abroad, and such other related duties as the Secretary may from time to time designate.

(2) REPRESENTATION.—The Assistant Secretary for International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs shall represent the United States in diplomatic and multilateral fora on matters relevant to the status of women and girls; and shall advise the Secretary and provide input on all activities, policies, programs, and funding relating to gender equality and the advancement of women and girls internationally for all bureaus and offices of the Department and in the international programs of all other Federal agencies.

(3) DUTIES.—The Office shall—

(a) serve as the principal advisor to the Secretary regarding gender equality, women's and girls' empowerment, and violence against women and girls as a priority of United States foreign policy;

(b) represent the United States in diplomatic and multilateral fora on matters relevant to the status of women and girls;

(c) advise the Secretary and provide input on all activities, policies, programs, and funding relating to gender equality and the advancement of women and girls internationally for all bureaus and offices of the Department and in the international programs of all other Federal agencies;

(d) work to ensure that efforts to advance gender equality and women's and girls' empowerment are fully integrated into the programs, structures, processes, and capacities of all bureaus and offices of the Department and in the international programs of other Federal agencies;

(4) CONDUCT REGULAR CONSULTATION WITH CIVIL SOCIETY ORGANIZATIONS WORKING TO ADVANCE GENDER EQUALITY AND EMPOWER WOMEN AND GIRLS INTERNATIONALLY.—The Office shall head by an Ambassador-at-Large for Global Women's Issues.

(5) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report that includes the following:

(a) A description of the duties, responsibilities, and number of staff of each existing Special Envoy, Special Representative, Special Coordinator, Special Negotiator, Envoy, Representative, Coordinator, Special Advisor, or other similar position at the Department.

(b) Recommendations regarding whether to maintain any position in the Department or establish such position, including those listed in the report submitted by the Secretary to the Committee.

SEC. 106. OFFICE OF GLOBAL WOMEN'S ISSUES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—There should be established an Office of Global Women's Issues (to be known as the "Office"), which may be placed within the organizational structure of the Department at the discretion of the Secretary.

(b) PURPOSE.—The Office should coordinate efforts of the United States Government, as directed by the Secretary, regarding gender equality and advancing the status of women and girls in United States foreign policy.

(c) DUTIES.—The Office shall—

(1) serve as the principal advisor to the Secretary regarding gender equality, women's and girls' empowerment, and violence against women and girls as a priority of United States foreign policy;

(2) represent the United States in diplomatic and multilateral fora on matters relevant to the status of women and girls;

(3) advise the Secretary and provide input on all activities, policies, programs, and funding relating to gender equality and the advancement of women and girls internationally for all bureaus and offices of the Department and in the international programs of all other Federal agencies;

(4) work to ensure that efforts to advance gender equality and women's and girls' empowerment are fully integrated into the programs, structures, processes, and capacities of all bureaus and offices of the Department and in the international programs of other Federal agencies;

(5) conduct regular consultation with civil society organizations working to advance gender equality and empower women and girls internationally.

(6) SUPERVISION.—The Office should be headed by an Ambassador-at-Large for Global Women's Issues.
on Foreign Relations of the Senate on April 14, 2017, pursuant to section 418 of the Department of State Authorities Act, Fiscal Year 2017 (Public Law 114-333), that are not expressly authorized by a provision of law enacted by Congress.

(3) Justifications supporting each of the Secretary’s recommendations under paragraph (b) of this subsection shall be submitted to the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate for the advice and consent of the Senate.

(c) Rule of Construction Regarding Establishment of Positions.—Nothing in this section may be construed as prohibiting the establishment or maintenance of any position, including the following:

(1) A description of the duties and purpose of the position.

(2) A statement of the manner in which the position will be funded.

(3) Justifications supporting each of the Secretary’s recommendations under subsection (b) of this section.

Sec. 108. Anti-Piracy Information Sharing.

It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the Department is a crucial national security agency for the benefit of the United States and United States allies and trading partners for their energy security and economic development needs;

(2) the Secretary should ensure the establishment of robust and well-financed educational and training programs; and

(3) the Department’s Foreign Service Institute should seek to substantially increase its educational and training offerings to Department personnel, including developing new training courses, methods, programs, and opportunities; and were the day after such date of enactment.

(4) consistent with existing Department gift acceptance authority and other applicable laws, the Department and Foreign Service Institute should seek and accept funds and other resources from foundations, not-for-profit corporations, and other appropriate sources to help the Department and the Institute accomplish the goals specified in this section.

(2) AGREEMENTS AND PAYMENTS.—The Secretary shall—
(A) enter into agreements pursuant to section 7 of the Fishermen’s Protective Act of 1967 for any claims to which such section would otherwise apply but for the date speci-fi ed in subsection (e) of section 7 of the Fishermen’s Protective Act of 1967, as in effect on the day before the date of the enactment of this Act;
and
(B) make payments in accordance with agreements entered into pursuant to such section if any such payments have not been made as a result of the expiration of the date specified in such section, as in effect on the day before the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 115. ART IN EMBASSIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—No funds are authorized to be appropriated for the purchase of any piece of art for the purposes of installation or display in any embassy, consulate, or other foreign mission of the United States if the purchase price of such piece of art is in excess of $50,000, unless such purchase is subject to prior consultation with, and the regular notification of, the appropriate congressional committees.

(b) REPORT.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on the costs of the Art in Embassies Program for fiscal year 2014 and

THE FISHERMEN PROTECTIVE ACT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 570 of Public Law
104–208 is amended—
(A) by adding subsection (c) to read as
“MULTILATERAL STRATEGY.—The President shall develop, in coordination with members of ASEAN and other like-minded countries, a comprehensive, multilateral strategy to bring about further democratic consolidation in Burma and improve human rights practices and the quality of life in Burma, including the development of a dialogue leading to genuine, non-ethnic reconciliation;” and
(b) in subsection (d),—
(1) in the matter preceding paragraph (1), by striking “six months” and inserting “year”;
(ii) by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (4); and
(2) by inserting after paragraph (2) the following new paragraphs:
“(3) improvements in human rights practices;
“(4) progress toward broad-based and includive economic growth;
“(5) progress toward genuine national rec-conciliation;”
“(6) progress on improving the quality of life of the Burmese people, including progress relating to market reforms, living standards, labor standards, and forced mental quality;”.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by paragraph (a) shall apply with respect to the first report re-due after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(c) IMPLEMENTATION REPORT.—
(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act
the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report that lists all of the Government Accountability Office’s recommendations relative to the Department that have not been fully implemented.

(2) COMPTROLLER GENERAL REPORT.—
Not later than 30 days after the Secretary submits the report under subsection (a), the Comptroller General of the United States shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report that identifies any discrepancies between the list of recommendations included in such report and the Government Accountability Office’s list of outstanding recommendations for the Department.

SEC. 117. REPORTING ON IMPLEMENTATION OF GAO RECOMMENDATIONS.

(a) INITIAL REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report
that lists all of the Government Accountability Office’s recommendations relative to the Department that have not been fully implemented.

(b) COMPTROLLER GENERAL REPORT.—
Not later than 30 days after the Secretary submits the report under subsection (a), the Comptroller General of the United States shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report that identifies any discrepancies between the list of recommendations included in such report and the Government Accountability Office’s list of outstanding recommendations for the Department.

(c) IMPLEMENTATION REPORT.—
(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the submission of the Comptroller General’s report under subsection (b),
the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report that describes the implementation status of each recommendation from the Government Accountability Office included in the report submitted under subsection (a).

(2) JUSTIFICATION.—A report under paragraph (1) shall include—
(A) a detailed justification for each decision not to fully implement a recommendation; or to implement a recommendation in a different manner than specified by the Government Accountability Office;
(b) A timeline for the full implementation of any recommendation the Secretary has decided to adopt, but has not yet fully implemented; and
(c) An explanation for any discrepancies included in the Comptroller General report submitted under subsection (b).

(f) FORM.—The information required in each report under subsection (a) shall be submitted in unclassified form, to the maximum extent practicable, but may be included in a classified annex to the extent necessary.

SEC. 110. OFFICE OF GLOBAL CRIMINAL JUSTICE.
(a) IN GENERAL.—There should be established within the Department an Office of Global Criminal Justice (referred to in this section as ‘‘the Office’’), which shall be placed within the organizational structure of the Department at the discretion of the Secretary.

(b) DUTIES.—The Office shall carry out the following:
(1) Advise the Secretary and other relevant senior officials on issues related to war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide.
(2) Assist in formulating United States policies on the prevention of, responses to, and accountability for mass atrocities.
(3) Coordinate United States Government positions relating to the international and hybrid courts currently prosecuting persons responsible for genocide, war crimes, and crimes against humanity anywhere in the world.
(4) Work with other governments, international organizations, and nongovernmental organizations, as appropriate, to establish and assist international and domestic commissions of inquiry, fact-finding missions, special tribunals to investigate, document, and prosecute atrocities in every region of the globe.
(5) Coordinate the deployment of diplomatic, economic, military, and other tools to help expose the truth, judge those responsible, protect and assist victims, enable reconciliation, deter atrocities, and build the rule of law.
(6) Provide advice and expertise on transitional justice to United States personnel operating in conflict and post-conflict environments.
(7) Act as a point of contact for international, national, hybrid, and mixed tribunals exercising jurisdiction over war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide committed around the world.
(8) Represent the Department in any interagency whole-of-government coordinating entities addressing genocide and other mass atrocities.
(9) Perform any additional duties and exercise such powers as the Secretary of State may prescribe.

(c) SUPERVISION.—The Office should be headed by an Ambassador-at-Large for Global Criminal Justice.

TITLE II—EMBASSY CONSTRUCTION
SEC. 201. EMBASSY SECURITY, CONSTRUCTION, AND MAINTENANCE.
For ‘‘Embassy Security, Construction, and Maintenance’’ there is authorized to be appropriated $1,967,211,000 for fiscal year 2020.

SEC. 202. STANDARD DESIGN IN CAPITAL CONSTRUCTION.
(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the Department’s Bureau of Overseas Buildings Operations (OBO) or successor office should provide appropriate consideration in construction in which each new United States embassy and consulate starts with a standard design and keeps customization to a minimum.

(b) DUTIES.—The Secretary shall carry out any new United States embassy compound or new consulate compound project that utilizes a non-standard design, including those projects that are in the design or pre-design phase as of the date of the enactment of this Act, only in consultation with the appropriate congressional committees. The Secretary shall provide the appropriate congressional committees, for each such project, the following documentation:
(1) A cost estimate for the estimated full lifecycle costs of the project to the estimated full lifecycle costs of such project if it were to use a standard design.
(2) A comparison of the estimated completion date of such project to the estimated completion date of such project if it were to use a standard design.
(3) A comparison of the security of the completed project to the security of such completed project if it were to use a standard design.
(4) A justification for the Secretary’s selection of a non-standard design over a standard design for such project.
(5) A written explanation if any of the documentation necessary to support the comparisons and justification, as the case may be, described in paragraphs (1) through (4) cannot be provided.
(c) SUNSET.—The consultation requirement under subsection (b) shall expire on the date that is four years after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 203. CAPITAL CONSTRUCTION TRANSPARENCY.
(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 118 of the Department of State Authorities Act, Fiscal Year 2017 (22 U.S.C. 304) is amended—
(1) in the section heading, by striking ‘‘ANNUAL REPORT ON EMBASSY CONSTRUCTION COSTS’’ and inserting ‘‘BIANNUAL REPORT ON OVERSEAS CAPITAL CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS’’;
(2) by striking subsections (a) and (b) and inserting the following new subsections:
‘‘(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a comprehensive report regarding all ongoing overseas capital construction projects and major embassy security upgrade projects.
(1) The report required under subsection (a) shall include the following with respect to each ongoing overseas capital construction project and major embassy security upgrade projects:
(1) The initial cost estimate as specified in the proposed allocation of capital construction and maintenance funds required by the Comptroller General for Acts making appropriations for the Department of State, foreign operations, and related programs.
(2) The current cost estimate.
(3) The value of each request for equitable adjustment received by the Department to date.
(4) The value of each certified claim received by the Department to date.
(5) The value of any usage of the project’s contingency fund to date and the value of the remainder of the project’s contingency fund.
(6) An enumerated list of each request for adjustment and certified claim that remains outstanding or unresolved.
(7) An enumerated list of each request for equitable adjustment and certified claim that has been fully adjudicated or that the Department has settled, and the final dollar amount of each adjudication or settlement.
(8) The date of estimated completion specified in the proposed allocation of capital construction and maintenance funds required by the Committees on Appropriations not later than 45 days after the date of the enactment of an Act making appropriations for the Department of State, foreign operations, and related programs.
(9) The current date of estimated completion.
(b) INITIAL REPORT.—The first report required under subsection (a) of section 118 of the Department of State Authorities Act, Fiscal Year 2017 (as amended by this section) shall include an annex regarding all overseas capital construction projects and major embassy security upgrade projects completed during the 10-year period ending on December 31, 2018, including, for each such project, the elements specified in subsection (b) of such section 118.

SEC. 204. CONTRACTOR PERFORMANCE INFORMATION.
(a) DEADLINE FOR COMPLETION.—The Secretary shall complete all contractor performance evaluations required by subsection 42.15 of the Federal Acquisition Regulation for those contractors engaged in construction of new embassy or new consulate compounds by October 1, 2021.
(b) PRIORITIZATION SYSTEM.—
(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall establish a prioritization system for clearing the current backlog of required evaluations referred to in subsection (a).
(2) REPORTS.—The system required under paragraph (1) should prioritize the evaluations as follows:
(1) Project completion evaluations should be prioritized over annual evaluations.
(2) Evaluations for relatively large contracts should have priority.
(3) Evaluations that would be particularly informative for the awarding of government contracts should have priority.
(4) Evaluations for projects that were particularly informative for the awarding of government contracts should have priority.
(b) BRIEFING.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall brief the appropriate congressional committees on the Department’s plan for completing all evaluations by October 1, 2021, in accordance with subsection (a) and the prioritization system developed pursuant to subsection (b).
(d) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that contractors deciding whether to bid on Department contracts would benefit from greater understanding of the Department as a client; and
(2) the Department should develop a forum where contractors can comment on the Department’s project management performance.

SEC. 205. GROWTH PROJECTIONS FOR NEW EMBASSIES AND CONSULATES.
(a) IN GENERAL.—For each new United States embassy compound (NEC) or new consulate compound project (NCC) that is not yet in the design phase as of the date of the enactment of this Act, the Department shall project growth over the estimated life of the facility using all available and relevant data, including the following:
(1) Relevant historical trends for Department personnel and personnel from other agencies represented at the NEC or NCC that is to be constructed.
(2) An analysis of the tradeoffs between risk and the needs of United States Government policy conducted as part of the most recent Vital Presence Validation Process, if applicable.
(3) Reasonable assumptions about the strategic importance of the NEC or NCC, as the case may be, over the life of the building at issue.
(4) Any other data that would be helpful in projecting the future growth of NEC or NCC that is not yet in the design phase as of the date of the enactment of this Act.
(b) OTHER FEDERAL AGENCIES.—The head of each Federal agency represented at a United States embassy or consulate shall provide to the Secretary, upon request, growth projections for the personnel of each such agency or the estimated life of each embassy or consulate as may be appropriate.

(c) BASIS FOR ESTIMATES.—The Department shall base its growth assumption for all NECs and NCCs on the estimates required under subsection (b).

(d) CONGRESSIONAL NOTIFICATION.—Any congressional notification of site selection for a NEC or NCC submitted after the date of the enactment of this Act shall include the growth assumption used pursuant to subsection (c).

SEC. 206. LONG-RANGE PLANNING PROCESS.

(a) PLANS REQUIRED.—

(1) GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act and annually thereafter for five years, the Secretary shall develop:

(A) A comprehensive six-year plan documenting the Department’s overseas building program for the replacement of overseas diplomatic posts taking into account security factors under the Secure Embassy Construction and Counterterrorism Act of 1999 and other relevant statutes and regulations, as well as occupational safety and health factors under the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 and other relevant statutes and regulations, including environmental factors that impact employee health and safety, and

(B) A comprehensive six-year plan detailing the Department’s long-term planning for the maintenance and sustainment of existing diplomatic posts, which takes into account security factors under the Secure Embassy Construction and Counterterrorism Act of 1999 and other relevant statutes and regulations, as well as occupational safety and health factors pursuant to the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 and other relevant statutes and regulations, including environmental factors that impact employee health and safety.

(2) INITIAL REPORT.—The first plan developed pursuant to paragraph (1) shall also include a one-time status report on existing small diplomatic posts and a strategy for establishing a physical diplomatic presence in countries that currently lack a physical diplomatic presence. Such report, which may include a classified annex, shall include the following:

(A) Description of the extent to which each small diplomatic post furthers the national interest of the United States.

(B) A description of how each small diplomatic post makes American Citizens services, including data on specific services provided and the number of Americans receiving services over the previous year.

(C) Description of whether each small diplomatic post meets current security requirements.

(D) A description of the full financial cost of maintaining each small diplomatic post.

(E) Input from the relevant chiefs of mission on any unique operational or policy value the small diplomatic post provides.

(3) UPDATED INFORMATION.—The annual updates of each of the plans developed pursuant to paragraph (1) shall highlight any changes from the previous year’s plan to the ordering dates of each of the plans developed pursuant to subsection (a) and (b).

(b) REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.—

(1) SUBMISSION OF PLANS TO CONGRESS.—Not later than 180 days after the completion of each plan required under subsection (a), the Secretary shall submit the plans to the appropriate congressional committees.

(2) REFERENCE IN BUDGET JUSTIFICATION MATERIAL.—The annual reports submitted to the appropriate congressional committees in support of the Department’s budget for any fiscal year (as submitted with the budget of the President under section 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code), the plans required under subsection (a), and the annual reports required to be submitted to the appropriate congressional committees upon receipt of an application for waivers under section 207(a), shall include an annex that contains an update of the Department’s long-term planning for the replacement of overseas diplomatic posts under the Secure Embassy Construction and Counterterrorism Act of 1999 and other relevant statutes and regulations, including occupational safety and health factors under the Secure Embassy Construction and Counterterrorism Act of 1999 and other relevant statutes and regulations, including environmental factors under the Secure Embassy Construction and Counterterrorism Act of 1999 and other relevant statutes and regulations, including environmental factors that impact employee health and safety, and

(c) SMALL DIPLOMATIC POST DEFINED.—In this subsection, the term "small diplomatic post" means any United States embassy or consulate that has employed five or fewer United States Government employees on average over the previous year’s plan to the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 207. VALUE ENGINEERING AND RISK ASSESSMENT.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Federal departments and agencies are required to use value engineering (VE) as a management tool, where appropriate, to reduce program and acquisition costs pursuant to OMB Circular A-131, Value Engineering, dated December 31, 2013.

(2) OBO has a Directive and Standard Operation Procedure, dated May 24, 2017, on conducting risk management studies on all international construction projects.

(b) NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS.—

(1) SUBMISSION TO AUTHORIZING COMMITTEES.—The proposed allocation of capital construction and maintenance funds that is required by the Committees on Appropriations of the Senate and the House of Representatives not later than 45 days after the date of the enactment of an Act making appropriations for the Department of State, foreign operations, and related programs shall also be submitted to the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives.

(2) REQUIREMENT TO CONFIRM COMPLETION OF VALUE ENGINEERING AND RISK ASSESSMENT STUDIES.—The notifications required under paragraph (1) shall include confirmation that the Department has completed the requisite VE and risk management studies described in subsection (a).

(c) REPORTING AND BRIEFING REQUIREMENTS.—The Secretary shall provide to the appropriate congressional committees upon request—

(1) a description of each risk management study referred to in subsection (a)(2) and a table detailing which recommendations related to each such study were accepted and which were rejected; and

(2) a report or briefing detailing the rationale for not implementing any such recommendations that may otherwise yield significant cost savings to the Department if implemented.

SEC. 208. BUSINESS VOLUME.

(a) DEFINITIONS.—Section 253(c)(2)(E) of the Omnibus Diplomatic Security and Antiterrorism Act of 1996 (22 U.S.C. 4582(c)(2)(E)) is amended by striking “in 3 years” and inserting “cumulatively over 3 years”.

(b) REQUIREMENT TO CONFIRM COMPLETION OF RISK MANAGEMENT STUDIES.—Not later than 45 days after the date of the enactment of an Act making appropriations for the Department of State, foreign operations, and related programs shall also be submitted to the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives.

(c) REPORTING AND BRIEFING REQUIREMENTS.—The Secretary shall provide to the appropriate congressional committees upon request—

(1) a description of each risk management study referred to in subsection (a)(2) and a table detailing which recommendations related to each such study were accepted and which were rejected; and

(2) a report or briefing detailing the rationale for not implementing any such recommendations that may otherwise yield significant cost savings to the Department if implemented.

SEC. 209. EMBASSY SECURITY REQUESTS AND DETERMINATIONS.

(a) REQUEST FOR DETERMINATION.—The Secretary shall provide to the appropriate congressional committees upon receipt of an application for waivers under section 207(a) a report or briefing detailing the rationale for not implementing any such recommendations that may otherwise yield significant cost savings to the Department if implemented.

(b) NOTIFICATION.—Before executing a contract for a delivery method other than design-build in accordance with subsection (a), the Secretary shall provide to the appropriate congressional committees in writing of the decision, including the reasons therefor. The notification required by this subsection may be included in any other notification regarding the use of design-build project delivery method that is required to be submitted to the appropriate congressional committees.

(c) PERIODIC REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall report to the appropriate congressional committees regarding performance evaluation measures in accordance with GAO’s “Standards for Internal Control in the Federal Government” that will be applicable to design and construction projects and the Department’s acquisition programs of the Bureau of Overseas Building Operations of the Department.

SEC. 212. COMPETITION IN EMBASSY CONSTRUCTION.

(a) DELIVERY.—Unless the Secretary notifies the appropriate congressional committees that the use of the design-build project delivery method would not be appropriate, the Secretary shall make use of such method at United States diplomatic posts that have not yet received design or capital construction contracts as of the date of the enactment of this Act.

(b) NOTIFICATION.—Before executing a contract for a delivery method other than design-build in accordance with subsection (a), the Secretary shall provide to the appropriate congressional committees in writing of the decision, including the reasons therefor. The notification required by this subsection may be included in any other notification regarding the use of design-build project delivery method that is required to be submitted to the appropriate congressional committees.

SEC. 213. STATEMENT OF POLICY

It is the policy of the United States that the Bureau of Overseas Building Operations of the Department or its successor office shall continue to balance security with accessibility, as defined by guidelines established by the United States Access Board in constructing embassies and consulates, and shall ensure compliance with the Architectural Barriers Act of 1968 (42 U.S.C. 141 et seq.) to the fullest extent possible.

SEC. 214. DEFINITIONS

In this title:

(1) DESIGN-BUILD.—The term “design-build” means a method of project delivery in which one entity works with the Department to enter into a contract with the Department to provide design and construction services.

(2) NON-STANDARD DESIGN.—The term “non-standard design” means a design for a new embassy compound project or new consulate compound project that does not utilize a standardized design for the structural, spatial, or security requirements of the new embassy compound or new consulate compound, as the case may be.

TITLE III—PERSONNEL ISSUES

SEC. 301. DEFENSE BASE ACT INSURANCE WAIVERS.

(a) APPLICATION FOR WAIVERS.—Not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall revise the Foreign Affairs Manual to include procedures that inform personnel that:

(1) a classified annex

(2) a classified form but may include a classified annex.

(2) Certification.—Not later than 45 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall certify to the appropriate congressional committees that the requirement in subsection (a) has been met.

SEC. 302. STUDY ON FOREIGN SERVICE ALLOWANCES.

(a) Report Required.—

(1) In general.—Not later than 270 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report describing an empirical analysis on the effect of overseas allowances on the foreign assignment of Foreign Service officers (FSOs), to be conducted by a federally-funded research and development center with appropriate expertise in labor economics and military compensation.

(2) Contents.—The analysis required under paragraph (1) shall—

(A) identify all allowances paid to FSOs as- signed permanently or on temporary duty to foreign areas;

(B) examine the efficiency of the Foreign Service bidding system in determining foreign assignment;

(C) examine the factors that incentivize FSOs to bid on particular assignments, including danger levels and hardship conditions;

(D) examine the Department’s strategy and process for incentivizing FSOs to bid on assignments that are historically in lower demand, including military compensation and allowances, noting which allowances are shared or based on the same regulations;

(E) recommend options for restructuring allowances to improve the efficiency of the assignments system and better align FSO incentives with the needs of the Foreign Service, including any cost savings associated with such restructuring;

(F) recommend any statutory changes necessary to implement subparagraph (F), such as consolidating existing legal authorities for the provision of hardship and danger pay; and

(G) recommend any statutory changes necessary to implement subparagraph (F), such as consolidating existing legal authorities for the provision of hardship and danger pay; and

(h) detail any effects of recommendations made pursuant to subparagraphs (F) and (G) on other United States Government departments and agencies with civilian employees permanently assigned or on temporary duty in foreign areas, following consultation with such departments and agencies.

(b) Briefing Requirement.—Before initiating the analysis required under subsection (a)(1), and not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall provide to the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives a briefing on the implementation of this section that includes the following:

(1) The name of the federally-funded research and development center that will conduct such analysis.

(2) The scope of such analysis and terms of reference for such analysis as specified between the Department and such federally-funded research and development center.

(c) Availability of Information.—

(1) In General.—The Secretary shall make available to the federally-funded research and development center carrying out the analysis required under subsection (a)(1) all necessary and relevant information to allow such center to conduct such analysis in a quantitative and analytical manner, including any bids for each foreign assignment and any survey data collected by the Department from eligible bidders on their bid decision-making.

(2) Cooperation.—The Secretary shall work with the heads of other relevant United States Government departments and agencies to ensure such departments and agencies provide all necessary and relevant information to the federally-funded research and development center carrying out the analysis required under subsection (a)(1).

(d) Interim Report to Congress.—The Secretary, through the chief executive officer of the federally-funded research and development center that carries out the analysis required under subsection (a)(1), shall submit to the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives an interim report on such analysis not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 306. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING CERTAIN FELLOWSHIP PROGRAMS.

It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) Department fellowships that promote the employment of candidates belonging to under-represented groups, including the Charles B. Rangel International Affairs Graduate Fellowship Program, the Thomas R. Pickering Foreign Affairs Fellowship Program, and the Donald M. Payne International Development Fellowship Program, represent smart investments vital for building a strong, capable, and diverse representative national security workforce; and

(2) the Secretary of State and the Administrator of the United States Agency for International Development should analyze the terms of their fellowship agreements with each participant in the Fellowship Programs referred to in paragraph (1), as specified in original contractual agreements with each such participant.

SEC. 307. TECHNICAL CORRECTION.

Subparagraph (A) of section 601(c)(6) of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 4011(c)(6)) is amended—

(1) by striking “promotion, on or after January 1, 2017,” and inserting “promotion, on or after January 1, 2017,” and

(2) striking “individual joining the Service on or after January 1, 2017,” and inserting “Foreign Service officer, appointed under section 302(a)(1), who has general responsibility for carrying out the functions of the Service”.

SEC. 308. FOREIGN SERVICE AWARDS.

(a) In General.—Section 614 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 4013) is amended—

(1) by amending the section heading to read as follows: “DEPARTMENT AWARDS”; and

(2) in the first sentence, by inserting “or Civil Service” after “the Service”.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The item relating to section 614 in the table of contents of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 is amended to read as follows:

“Sec. 614. Department awards.”

SEC. 309. DIPLOMATIC PROGRAMS.

(a) Sense of Congress on Workforce Recruitment.—It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary should continue to hold entry-level classes for Foreign Service officers and specialists and continue to recruit civilian servants through programs such as the Presidential Management Fellows Program and the Foreign Service Internship Program in a manner consistent with prior years and consistent with the need to maintain a pool of experienced personnel effectively distributed across skill codes and ranks. It is further the sense of Congress that absent continuous recruitment and training of Foreign Service officers and specialists, the Department will lack experienced, qualified personnel in the short, medium, and long terms.

(b) Limitation.—The Secretary may not include any program authorized under section 3562 or 3565 of title 5, United States Code, or for any incentive payments... for early separation or retirement under any other provision of law unless—

(1) the appropriate congressional committees are notified not less than 15 days in advance of the notification or expenditure; and

(2) the Secretary has provided to the appropriate congressional committees a detailed report that describes the Department’s compelling goals, including—

(A) a justification that describes how any proposed workforce reduction enhances the effectiveness of the Department;

(b) a certification that such workforce reduction is in the national interest of the United States;

(c) a comprehensive strategic staffing plan for the reorganization, including workforce forecasting and a description of the anticipated impact of any proposed workforce reduction; and

(D) a dataset displaying comprehensive workforce data for all current and planned employees of the Department, disaggregated by—

(i) Foreign Service officer and Foreign Service specialist rank;

(ii) civil service job skill code, grade level, and bureau of assignment;

(iii) United Nations employees, including the equivalent job skill code and bureau of assignment; and

(iv) employees hired under schedule C of part 213 of title 5, Code of Federal Regulations, including their equivalent grade and job skill code and bureau of assignment.

SEC. 310. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING VETERANS EMPLOYMENT AT THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the Department should continue to promote the employment of veterans, in accordance with section 301 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 3941), as amended by section 405 of this Act, including those veterans belonging to traditionally underrepresented groups at the Department;

(2) veterans employed by the Department have made significant contributions to United States foreign policy in a variety of regional and global affairs bureaus and diplomatic posts overseas; and

(3) the Department should continue to encourage veteran employment and facilitate their participation in the workforce.

SEC. 311. EMPLOYEE ASSIGNMENT RESTRICTIONS AND PRELIMINARIES

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the Department should continue to promote the employment of veterans, in accordance with section 301 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 3941), as amended by section 405 of this Act, including those veterans belonging to traditionally underrepresented groups at the Department;

(2) veterans employed by the Department have made significant contributions to United States foreign policy in a variety of regional and global affairs bureaus and diplomatic posts overseas; and

(3) the Department should continue to encourage veteran employment and facilitate their participation in the workforce.

SEC. 312. RECALL AND REEMPLOYMENT OF CAREER MEMBERS

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) Department employees provide invaluable service to the United States as nonpartisan professionals who contribute subject matter expertise and professional skills to the development and execution of United States foreign policy; and

(2) re-employment of skilled former members of the Foreign and civil service who have voluntarily separated from the Foreign or civil service due to family reasons or to obtain professional skills outside government is of benefit to the Department.

(b) Requirements. (1) A certification that former employees eligible for reinstatement may apply.

(2) A notice and certification that former employees eligible for reinstatement may apply.

(c) Consultation.—The Secretary shall lead the development of the plan required under subsection (a) that may consult or partner with private sector entities with expertise in labor economics, management, or human resources, as well as organizations familiar with the demands and needs of the Department’s workforce.

(d) Report.—Not later than 120 days after the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report regarding root causes of Foreign Service and civil service shortages, the effect of such shortages on national security objectives, and the Department’s plan to implement recommendations described in GAO-19-220.

SEC. 313. CONSULTING SERVICES.

(a) General.—Chapter 103 of title 5, United States Code, as added by section 313 of this Act, is amended by adding after the following:

"10302. Consulting services for the Department of State—

Any consulting service obtained by the Department of State through procurement contract pursuant to section 3019 of title 5, United States Code, shall be limited to those contracts with respect to which expenditures are a matter of public record and available for public inspection, except if otherwise provided under existing law, or under existing executive order issued pursuant to existing law.

(b) Clerical Amendment.—The table of sections for subpart 1 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding after the following:

"10302. Consulting services for the Department of State—"

Section 1(a)(x) of the Omnibus Diplomatic Security and Antiterrorism Act of 1986 (22 U.S.C. 4331(a)(x)) is amended—

(1) in the heading, by striking "AFGHANISTAN, YEMEN, and"; and

(2) in subparagraph (A)—

(A) in clause (i), by striking "AFGHANISTAN or"; and

(B) in clause (ii), by striking "beginning on October 1, 2005, and ending on September 30, 2019, and pending on September 30, 2022", and inserting "beginning on October 1, 2019, and ending on September 30, 2022".

SEC. 316. FOREIGN SERVICE SUSPENSION AND OUT PAY.

Subsection (c) of section 610 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 4010) is amended—
SEC. 320. STANDARDIZING DEPARTMENT PARENTAL LEAVE POLICIES.

(a) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this section is to:

(1) afford every employee at the Department equal access to leave and workplace flexibilities for childbirth, adoption, and foster care;

(2) encourage the Department to work towards a parental leave policy that will help recruit and retain a dynamic, multi-talented, and diverse workforce capable of meeting the national security and foreign policy goals of the United States; and

(3) determine the impacts of flexible leave policies on recruitment and retention rates.

(b) ESTABLISHING STANDARD PARENTAL LEAVE POLICIES.—

(1) In general.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall establish and implement a standard parental leave policy applicable to Department employees across all bureaus and offices within the Department and Missions abroad. Nothing in this section shall be construed to provide any new category of leave not otherwise provided by law.

(2) REPORTS.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report describing—

(A) the steps taken to implement the policy required under paragraph (1) across all bureaus and offices within the Department and Missions abroad;

(B) any costs associated with such policy.

SEC. 321. APPOINTMENT OF EMPLOYEES TO THE GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT CENTER.

The Secretary of State, for a three year period that may be extended for up to an additional two years, solely to carry out the functions of the Global Engagement Center, may, without regard to the provisions of title 5, United States Code, governing appointment in the competitive service, and may fix the basic compensation of such employees without regard to chapter 51 and subchapter III of chapter 53 of title 5.

SEC. 322. REST AND RECUPERATION AND OVERSEAS OPERATIONS LEAVE FOR FEDERAL EMPLOYEES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall establish and implement a rest and recuperation leave policy applicable to Department employees across all bureaus and offices within the Department and Missions abroad. Nothing in this section shall be construed to provide any new category of leave not otherwise provided by law.

(b) LEAVE FOR REST AND RECUPERATION.—

(1) the term ‘employee’ has the meaning given that term in section 6301, and

(2) the term ‘leave year’ means the period beginning with the first day of the first complete pay period in a calendar year and ending on the first day of the first complete pay period in the following calendar year.

(c) ADJACENT HOUSING.

(1) LEAVE FOR FOREIGN OPERATIONS.—

(II) the term ‘foreign operation’ means a foreign operation that meets the definition of a foreign operation in section 6301.

(2) THE PERIOD COVERED.—The period of leave for foreign operations shall begin with the first calendar day of the first complete pay period beginning on the first date of the first complete pay period in a calendar year.

SEC. 401. DEFINITIONS.

In this title:

(1) APPLICANT FLOW DATA.—The term ‘applicant flow data’ means data that tracks the rate of applications for job positions among demographic categories.

(4) WORKFORCE.—The term ‘workforce’ means—

(I) individuals serving in a position in the civil service (as defined in section 2101 of title 5, United States Code);

(II) individuals who are members of the Foreign Service (as defined in section 103 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 3902));
(C) all individuals serving under a personal services agreement or personal services contract; (D) all individuals serving under a Foreign Service document, as well as those under section 309 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980; or (E) individuals working in the Department of State under any other authority.

SEC. 402. CONDUCT OF ANALYSIS AND DISSEMINATION OF WORKFORCE DATA.

(a) INITIAL REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall, in consultation with the Director of the Office of Personnel Management and the Director of the Office of Management and Budget, submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report, which shall also be posted on a publicly available website of the Department in a searchable database format, that includes disaggregated demographic data and other information regarding the diversity of the workforce of the Department.

(b) DATA.—The report under subsection (a) shall include the following data:

(1) Demographic data on each element of the workforce of the Department, disaggregated by rank and grade or grade-equivalent, with respect to the following groups:

(A) Applicants for positions in the Department;
(B) Individuals hired to join the workforce;
(C) Individuals promoted during the 2-year period ending on the date of the enactment of this Act to senior positions to and within the Senior Executive Service or the Senior Foreign Service;
(D) Individuals serving on applicable selection boards;
(E) Members of any external advisory committee or board who are subject to appointment by individuals at senior positions in the Department;
(F) Individuals participating in professional development programs of the Department, and the extent to which such participants have been placed into senior positions within the Department after such participation;
(G) Individuals participating in mentorship or retention programs;
(H) Individuals who separated from the agency during the 2-year period ending on the date of the enactment of this Act, including individuals in the Senior Executive Service or the Senior Foreign Service.

(3) Data on the overall number of individuals who are part of the workforce, the percentages of such workforce corresponding to each element listed in section 401(4), and the percentages corresponding to each rank, grade, or grade-equivalent.

(c) RECOMMENDATION.—The Secretary may include in the report under subsection (a) a recommendation to the Director of Operations of Management and Budget and to the appropriate congressional committees regarding whether the Department should conduct more detailed International demographic categories in addition to the race and ethnicity categories specified in the Office of Management and Budget statistical policy directive entitled “Standards for Collecting, Presenting Federal Data on Race and Ethnicity” (81 Fed. Reg. 67398).

(d) OTHER CONTENTS.—The report under subsection (a) shall also describe and assess the effectiveness of the efforts of the Department:

(1) to propagate fairness, impartiality, and inclusion in the work environment, both domestically and abroad;
(2) to enforce anti-harassment and anti-discrimination policies, both domestically and at posts overseas;
(3) to refrain from engaging in unlawful discrimination in the employment process, including recruitment, hiring, evaluation, assignments, promotion, retention, and training;
(4) to prevent illegal retaliation against employees for participating in a protected equal employment opportunity activity or for reporting sexual harassment or sexual assault;
(5) to provide reasonable accommodation for qualified employees and applicants with disabilities; and
(6) to recruit a representative workforce by—

(A) recruiting women and minorities;
(B) recruiting at women’s colleges, historically Black colleges and universities, minority-serving institutions, and other institutions serving a significant percentage of minority students;
(C) placing job advertisements in newspapers, magazines, and job sites oriented toward women and minorities;
(D) sponsoring or recruiting at job fairs in urban and rural communities and land-grant colleges or universities;
(E) providing opportunities through the Foreign Service Internship Program under chapter 12 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 1411 et seq.) and other hiring initiatives;
(F) recruiting mid-level and senior-level professionals through programs designed to increase minority representation in international affairs;
(G) offering the Foreign Service written and oral assessment examinations in several locations throughout the United States to reduce the burden of applicants having to travel at their own expense to take either or both such examinations; and
(H) support recruiting and hiring opportunities through—

(i) the Charles B. Rangel Internationals Affairs Fellowship Program;
(ii) the Thomas R. Pickering Foreign Affairs Fellowship Program;
(iii) the Donald M. Payne International Development Fellowship Program; and
(iv) other initiatives, including agency-wide policies.

(e) ANNUAL UPDATES.—Not later than one year after the publication of the report required under subsection (a) and annually thereafter, the Secretary shall, in consultation with the appropriate congressional committees, submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees, which shall be posted on the Department’s website, which may be included in another annual report required under another provision of law, that includes—

(1) disaggregated demographic data relating to the workforce and information on the status of diversity and inclusion efforts of the Department;
(2) an analysis of applicant flow data; and
(3) disaggregated demographic data relating to participants in professional development programs of the Department and the rate of placement into senior positions for participants in such programs.

SEC. 403. EXIT INTERVIEWS FOR WORKFORCE.

(a) RETAINED MEMBERS.—The Director General of the Foreign Service and the Director of Programs of the Department of State shall conduct periodic interviews with each individual in the workforce of the Department who separates from service with the Department to better understand the reasons of such individual for leaving such service.

(b) DEPARTING MEMBERS.—The Director General of the Foreign Service and the Director of Human Resources shall provide an opportunity for an exit interview to each individual in the workforce of the Department who separates from service with the Department to better understand the reasons of such individual for leaving such service.

(c) USE OF ANALYSIS FROM INTERVIEWS.—The Director General of the Foreign Service and the Director of Human Resources shall analyze the demographic and other information obtained through interviews under subsections (a) and (b) to determine—

(1) to what extent, if any, the diversity of those participating in such interviews impacts the results; and
(2) whether to implement any policy changes or include any recommendations in a report required under subsection (a) or (e) of section 402 relating to the determination reached pursuant to paragraph (1).

(d) TRACKING DATA.—The Department shall—

(1) track demographic data relating to participants in professional development programs and the rate of placement into senior positions for participants in such programs;
(2) annually evaluate such data—

(A) to identify ways to improve outreach and recruitment for such programs, consistent with merit system principles; and
(B) to understand the extent to which participation in any professional development program offered or sponsored by the Department differs among the demographic categories of the workforce; and
(3) actively encourage participation from a range of demographic categories, especially those categories with consistently low participation, in such professional development programs.

SEC. 404. RECRUITMENT AND RETENTION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall—

(1) continue to seek a diverse and talented pool of applicants; and
(2) instruct the Director General of the Foreign Service and the Director of the Bureau of Human Resources of the Department to have a recruitment plan in place for the recruitment of people belonging to traditionally under-represented groups, which should include outreach at appropriate colleges, universities, affinity groups, and professional associations.

(b) SCORE.—The diversity recruitment initiatives described in subsection (a) should include—

(1) recruiting at women’s colleges, historically Black colleges and universities, minority-serving institutions, and other institutions serving a significant percentage of minority students;
(2) placing job advertisements in newspapers, magazines, and job sites oriented toward diverse groups;
(3) sponsoring and recruiting at job fairs in urban and rural communities and land-grant colleges or universities;
(4) providing opportunities through highly respected, international leadership programs, that focus on diversity recruitment and retention; and
(5) cultivating partnerships with organizations dedicated to the advancement of members of international affairs and national security to advance shared diversity goals.

(c) EXPAND TRAINING ON ANTI-HARASSMENT AND DISCRIMINATION.

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall—through the Foreign Service Institute and other educational and training opportunities—

(A) ensure the provision of training on anti-harassment and anti-discrimination information and policies to all individuals in the workforce;
(B) expand the provision of training on workplace rights and responsibilities to focus on relevant anti-sexual harassment information and policies, including policies relating to sexual assault prevention and response; and
(C) maintain such expanded training mandatory for—
(i) individuals in senior and supervisory positions;
(ii) individuals having responsibilities related to recruitment, retention, or promotion of employees; and
(iii) any other individual determined by the Department who needs such training based on analysis by the Department or OPM analysis.
(2) BEST PRACTICES.—The Department shall give special attention to ensuring the continuous incorporation of research-based best practices in training provided under this subsection.
SEC. 405. LEADERSHIP ENGAGEMENT AND AC-COUNTABILITY.
(a) AWARD AND RECOGNIZE EFFORTS TO PROMOTE DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION.—
(1) The Secretary shall implement performance and advancement requirements that reward and recognize the efforts of individuals in senior positions and supervisors in the Department in fostering an inclusive environment and cultivating talent consistent with merit system principles, such as through participation in mentoring programs or sponsorship initiatives, rectruitment events, and other similar opportunities.

(2) OUTREACH EVENTS.—The Secretary shall create opportunities for individuals in senior positions and supervisors in the Department to participate in outreach events and to discuss issues relating to diversity and inclusion with the workforce on a regular basis, including with employee resource groups.

(b) EXTERNAL ADVISORY COMMITTEES AND BOARDS.—For each external advisory committee or board to which individuals in senor positions in the Department appoint members, the Secretary is strongly encourgaged by Congress to ensure such external advisory committees or boards are reviewed, and carried out by qualified teams that represent the diversity of the organizaation.

SEC. 406. PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT OPP-
PORTUNITIES AND TOOLS.
(a) EXPAND PROVISION OF PROFESSIONAL DE-VELOPMENT AND CAREER ADVANCEMENT OPP-PORTUNITIES.—
(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary is authorized to expand professional development opportunities that support the mission needs of the Department, such as—
(A) academic programs;
(B) private-public exchanges; and
(C) detail assignments to relevant positions in—
(i) private or international organizations;
(ii) State, local, and Tribal governments;
(iii) other branches of the Federal Government;
(iv) professional schools of international affairs.
(2) TRAINING FOR SENIOR POSITIONS.—
(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall offer, or sponsor members of the workforce to participate in, a Senior Executive Service candidate development program or other program to foster training on the skills required for appointment to senior positions in the Department.
(b) REQUIREMENTS.—In determining which members of the workforce are granted professional development or career advancement opportunities under subparagraph (A), the Secretary shall—

(i) ensure any program offered or sponsored by the Department under such subparagraph comports with the requirements of subpart C of part 412 of title 5, Code of Federal Regulations, or any successor thereto, including merit staffing and assessment requirements;
(ii) consider the number of expected vacancies in senior positions as a factor in determeming the number of candidates to select for such programs;
(iii) understand how participation in any program offered or sponsored by the Department under such subparagraph differs by gender, race, national origin, disability status, or other demographic categories; and
(iv) actively encourage participation from a range of demographic categories, especially from categories with consistently low participation.
SEC. 407. EXAMINATION AND ORAL ASSESS-MENT FOR THE FOREIGN SERVICE.
(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the Department should offer both the Foreign Service Written Examination and oral assessment in more locations throughout the United States. Doing so would ease the financial burden on potential candidates, who are often already involved and must travel at their own expense to one of the few locations where these assessments are offered.

(b) FOREIGN SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.—Section 301(b) of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 3941) is amended—
(1) by striking “The Secretary” and inserting: “(1) The Secretary”;
the Secretary certifies that the United States.’’;

tion test” means a test methodology including any such systems or networks facilitating the use of sensitive or classified infor-

information.
(b) CONSULTATIONS PROCESS.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall establish a process for conducting semiannual consultations with the Secretary of Defense, the Director of National Intelligence, the Secretary of Homeland Security, and any other department or agency representative who the Secretary determines to be appropriate, regarding the security of United States Government and nongovernmental information systems used or operated by the Department, a contractor of the Department, or another organization on behalf of the Department, including any such systems or networks facilitating the use of sensitive or classified infor-

information.
(c) INDEPENDENT PENETRATION TESTING OF
INFORMATION SYSTEMS.—In coordination with the consultations under subsection (b), the Secretary shall commission independent, semiannual penetration tests, which shall be carried out by an appropriate Federal department or agency representative who the Secretary determines to be appropriate, semiomilitary and diplomatic missions of the Department, such as the Department of Homeland Security, the National Security Agency, to ensure that adequate policies and protections are implemented to detect and prevent penetrations or compromises of such information systems, including malicious intrusions by any unauthorized individual, state actor, or other entity.

(d) WAIVER.—The Secretary may waive the requirement under subsection (c) for up to one year if the Secretary determines that such requirement would have adverse effects on national security or the diplomatic mission of the Department.

(2) not later than 30 days after the commencement of such a determination, submits a written justification that describes how such penetration tests would undermine national security or the diplomatic mission of the Department.

SEC. 408. PAYNE FELLOWSHIP AUTHORIZATION.
(a) IN GENERAL.—Undergraduate and graduate fellowships under the Payne International Development Fellowship Program may conduct outreach to attract outstanding students with an interest in pursuing a Foreign Service career who represent diverse ethnic and socioeconomic backgrounds.

(b) REVIEWS OF PAST PROGRAMS.—The Secretary shall review past programs designed to increase minority representation in international affairs positions.

SEC. 409. VOLUNTARY PARTICIPATION.
(a) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this title shall be construed so as to compel any employee to participate in the collection of the data or divulge any personal information.

Department employees shall be informed that their participation in the data collection contemplated by this title is voluntary.
(b) PRIVACY PROTECTION.—Any data colclected under this title shall be subject to the relevant privacy protection statutes and regulations applicable to Federal employees.

than 60 days after the date of the enactment
of this Act, the Secretary shall establish a process for conducting semiannual consultations with the Secretary of Defense, the Director of National Intelligence, the Secretary of Homeland Security, and any other department or agency representative who the Secretary determines to be appropriate, regarding the security of United States Government and nongovernmental information systems used or operated by the Department, a contractor of the Department, or another organization on behalf of the Department, including any such systems or networks facilitating the use of sensitive or classified infor-

information.
(c) INDEPENDENT PENETRATION TESTING OF
INFORMATION SYSTEMS.—In coordination with the consultations under subsection (b), the Secretary shall commission independent, semiannual penetration tests, which shall be carried out by an appropriate Federal department or agency representative who the Secretary determines to be appropriate, semiomilitary and diplomatic missions of the Department, such as the Department of Homeland Security, the National Security Agency, to ensure that adequate policies and protections are implemented to detect and prevent penetrations or compromises of such information systems, including malicious intrusions by any unauthorized individual, state actor, or other entity.

ment of this Act.
(2) For all subsequent reporting periods, all known and suspected incidents affecting the information systems specified in subsection (b) that occurred since the submission of the most recent report.
(f) CONTENTS.—Each report under subsection (e) shall include, for the relevant reporting period, a summary overview addressing the following:

(1) a description of the relevant information system, as specified in subsection (b), that experienced a known or suspected incident;

(2) an assessment of the date and time each such incident occurred or was suspected to have occurred;

(3) an assessment of the duration over which each incident took place or is suspected of having taken place, including whether such incident is ongoing;

(4) an assessment of the volume and sensitivity of information contained or potentially compromised by each incident, including any such information contained on information systems owned, operated, managed, or utilized by any other Federal department or agency;

(5) an assessment of whether such information system was compromised by such incident, including an assessment of the following:

(A) The known or suspected perpetrators,

(B) The methods used to carry out the incident,

(C) The known or suspected intent of the actors in accessing the information system,

(D) The known or suspected impact of the actions of the Department that the Department has taken or plans to take, including timelines and descriptions of any progress on plans described in prior reports, to prevent future similar incidents affecting such information systems.

SEC. 503. PROHIBITION ON CONTRACTING WITH CERTAIN TELECOMMUNICATIONS PROVIDERS.

(a) List of Covered Contractors.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary, in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence, shall develop or maintain, as the case may be, and update as frequently as the Secretary determines appropriate, a list of covered contractors with respect to which the prohibition specified in subsection (b) shall apply. Not later than 90 days after the initial development of the list under this subsection, any update thereto, and annually thereafter for five years after such initial 90 day period, the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a copy of such list.

(b) Prohibition on Contracts.—The Secretary may waive the prohibition specified in subsection (b) if the Secretary determines appropriate, a list of covered contractors with respect to which the prohibition specified in subsection (b) shall apply. Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall publish in the Foreign Affairs Manual guidance implementing the requirements of the process.

(c) Removal From List.—To be removed from the list described in subsection (a), a covered contractor may submit a request to the Secretary in such manner as the Secretary determines appropriate. The Secretary, in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence, shall determine a process for removing covered contractors from the list, as appropriate, and publicly disclose such process.

(d) Waivers.—(1) In General.—The President or the Secretary may waive the prohibition specified in subsection (b) if the President or the Secretary determines that such waiver is justified for national security reasons.

(2) Waivers for Overseas Operations.—The Secretary may waive the prohibition specified in subsection (b) for United States diplomatic posts or diplomatic personnel overseas if the Secretary, in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence, determines that no suitable alternatives are available.

(c) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense should jointly establish a pilot program to evaluate the advisability and feasibility of a joint entity to conduct collaborative planning of security assistance and security cooperation. The pilot program should—

(1) establish one or more joint planning cells to conduct collaborative planning between the Department of State and the Department of Defense for security assistance and security cooperation programs, projects, and activities in a specific region or regions;

(2) assess the advantages and disadvantages of a single entity to increase the efficiency of security assistance, and determine whether there are organizational, legal, policy, or resource barriers to broader adoption of such a model.

July 25, 2019 CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE H7433
Mr. Speaker, one of our top priorities is for the agencies they oversee. Beyond what is in the bill, Mr. Speaker, I thank Chairman ENGEL, again, and his team for working with my staff and our members to ensure that this is a strongly bipartisan bill. It does just that.

As the United States faces growing challenges from nation-states around the world, like Russia, China, Iran, and North Korea, we need our Secretary of State and our diplomats to know that Congress fully supports them, and this bill fully does just that.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Chairman ENGEL, again, and his team for working with my staff and our members to ensure that this is a strongly bipartisan bill. It is the fundamental duty of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs to pass an annual authorization bill. This is necessary to fulfill our constitutional Article I oversight responsibilities and to make sure our diplomats have the tools needed to meet 21st century global challenges. That is why it is so important that, the last time a State Department authorization was signed into law was the year 2002. If we are serious about diplomacy and development, that the Commission would require. Working constantly to provide the tools needed to meet 21st century global challenges. This is necessary to fulfill our constitutional Article I oversight responsibilities and to make sure our diplomats have the tools needed to meet 21st century global challenges.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased that we are advancing this bill today, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, if anything, the last State Department reauthorization was signed into law in 2002. Imagine that, 2002, 1 year after 9/11. The 16 years since the September 11th attacks are not the only reason that a State Department authorization is not for lack of trying. The Foreign Affairs Committee and the House have passed a number of bills that just did not make it across the finish line.

With the bill we are considering today, I hope we are starting a new trend. It contains a wealth of good provisions. I view it as an important start in breathing new life into the comprehensive, regular authorizing work Congress should do to support America’s diplomacy and development efforts.

It will help the Department recruit and retain a diverse workforce so that our diplomats—our face to the world—look like the country they are representing.

It will enhance our Embassy and information security to keep these dedicated public servants safe. It authorizes absolutely essential investments in Embassy security, construction, and maintenance.

It will help to streamline the Department’s management structure, strip out duplication, and cut away the deadwood from outdated reports. This will make sure the agency is flexible and nimble in a rapidly changing world.

It will focus on smart planning and rigorous evaluation so we know we are being effective in our diplomatic efforts.

Beyond what is in the bill, Mr. Speaker, I am especially proud of what this bill stands for. I have tremendous respect for our colleagues on the Armed Services Committee and the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence. I salute their work in regularly passing authorizing legislation for the agencies they oversee.

If we are serious about diplomacy and development as critical parts of our foreign policy and essential to our national security, then there is absolutely no reason that a State Department authorization bill should not be part of Congress’ regular work.
that work, and I know Chairman ENGEL is as well.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to vote in favor of this long overdue bill, which deserves our unanimous support, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman from Virginia (Ms. McSOMETHING), a valued member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Ms. SPANBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 3352, the Department of State Authorization Act.

I would like to first take a moment to thank Chairman ENGEL and Ranking Member MCCAL for their leadership on this authorization, the first in more than a decade. Truly, we are overdue.

As a former intelligence officer who has served abroad, I can attest to the vital role of the State Department and its workforce in keeping our American families safe and secure.

We need to give our diplomatic corps, civil service officers, and support staff the tools, resources, and training they deserve to protect and uphold U.S. interests and values around the world.

Among this bill's strong provisions, I am proud to see my amendment pass committee to keep the State Department workforce safe from sexual harassment.

Additionally, I urge my colleagues to approve my amendment to improve the security assistance coordination between the Department of State and the Department of Defense. This amendment would help Congress and the American people better understand how our military deployments support our diplomatic priorities.

I encourage my colleagues to support this important bill and to recognize and appreciate the tireless work of our diplomatic and civil service corps.

Mr. MCCAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOH), ranking member of the Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on Asia, the Pacific, and Nonproliferation.

Mr. YOH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the gentlewoman from New York (Mr. ENGEL), chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, for her leadership on this bill, and the gentleman from Texas (Mr. McCAL), my good friend and colleague, the lead Republican on the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

I can't tell you how important this bill is, and I rise today in support of H.R. 3352, the Department of State Authorization Act of 2019.

You heard how long it has been since we have passed this. It recently passed out of the Foreign Affairs Committee with wide bipartisan support. This is the work of the Foreign Affairs Committee, and it shows the good work that is done and how important this is, and that is why the Foreign Affairs Committee is the most important committee in the House.

This legislation helps support the important work that the State Department does and its diplomats do to protect our national security.

I have many years of travel on codets that are so important, and I encourage Members to do that, because it strengthens America's foreign policy, our engagement, and it leaves a belief in those other countries that America is here to help.

What I am always amazed at is the hard work of our State Department employees; and not reauthorizing a bill that gives them the ability to work, it kind of affects their attitude. So this is a critical bill to be approved at this time.

Despite the essential need for a fully functioning, operational Department, this is the first time in 6 years that there has been a comprehensive Department of State authorization bill.

It goes to the Foreign Affairs Committee and the Congress as a whole to provide our departments with the necessary tools to advance the United States' foreign policy.

Again, I thank Chairman ENGEL and Ranking Member MCCAL for including the language from my bill, H.R. 1677, which repeals certain foreign affairs reporting requirements within the State Department. This provision will repeal, again, the unnecessary, redundant requirements that are outdated and no longer needed.

I would also like to commend my colleagues in the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, the staff for coming together and supporting a bipartisan bill that will protect America's national security. We must not let partisan divide continue to handicap our diplomats and their mission.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support the passage of this bill.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. CONNOLLY).

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 3352, the Department of State Authorization Act of 2019. This legislation helps put our diplomacy and development workforce safe from sexual harassment, pay discrimination, and harassment.

Again, I thank Chairman ENGEL and Ranking Member MCCAL and their respective staffs for bringing us to this point and, frankly, without any kind of adversity. It was the smoothest mark-up of a State Department bill I ever remember. Mr. Speaker, they deserve a lot of congratulations. It is a good model for this bill.

Mr. MCCAL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. MCCAL), a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. WRIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of the Department of State Authorization Act of 2019.

For our government to function as efficiently and effectively as possible, it is critical for us to revisit the resources and responsibilities of each department from time to time. As everyone has noted, but it is worth repeating, it has been 17 years since we enacted a comprehensive authorization bill for the State Department.

H.R. 3352, which enjoys broad bipartisan support, will bring our diplomacy into the future and save valuable taxpayer dollars by reasserting congressional authority, streamlining programs, eliminating duplicative reporting, and requiring measurements of programs' success.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Chairman ENGEL and lead Republican MCCAL for including my bill, the Energy Diplomacy Act, in H.R. 3352.

Since 1977, when Congress formally gave the Secretary of State primary authority over energy-related foreign policy, there have been significant changes in the global energy landscape: The United States is now the world's top producer of petroleum natural gas;

We have also seen increased weaponization of energy by Russia against our EU and NATO allies, transforming energy into a critical national security issue.

This new challenge requires reaffirmed dedication and focus. The Energy Diplomacy Act does just that by authorizing an Assistant Secretary of State for Energy Resources and defining our energy security and diplomatic priorities.

This will ensure the State Department has adequate personnel to carry out its mandate and protect and advance our security interests of the United States, as well as those of our allies abroad.

Finally, this will advance U.S. energy exports by instructing our diplomats to work in tandem with U.S. energy companies operating abroad.

Combating Russia’s malign influence in Europe has been at the forefront of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs’ agenda this year, and I firmly believe pushing back on Russia’s energy dominance in Europe must be part of our strategy.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank, again, the gentleman from New York (Mr. Engel), the chair, and the gentleman from Texas (Mr. McCaul), the lead Republican in this bill, and to urge my colleagues to support the Department of State Authorization Act.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MCCAUD. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume to close.

I just want to say, as I said at the beginning, how proud I am to work with Chairman Engel, to draft this critical and overdue authorization bill. I think it was mentioned previously. I think this is the most bipartisan committee on the Hill, and it should be, because we shouldn’t bring partisanship to this body on issues of importance like this.

I want to thank the staff on the majority side for working with my staff on the minority side, and particularly, I want to thank Grant Mullins on my staff for his excellent work on this bill. This legislation really does represent a product of close bipartisan work on this committee since the start of this Congress. So I wish to thank the gentleman from Texas (Mr. McCaul) and other members of the committee, both Democrats and Republicans.

And, again, I hope with this bill’s passage today, the House is turning over a new leaf. Mr. Speaker, I am committed to making sure authorizing legislation for the State Department is something we do regularly and is something that this body considers as a must pass.

I am proud of our work on this bill. I want to thank my staff. I want to thank the staff on the minority side, as well. I am very proud of all of us working together as a team.

I urge all Members to support this, and, again, I thank the gentleman from Texas (Mr. McCaul).

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the following was passed by the House:

and extreme overcrowding in El Paso and in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas, where I just visited.

That is why I have introduced this bill, which expands the current requirement under law so that Customs and Border Protection officials must also provide migrants not only food and water but bathroom and shower facilities, appropriate nutrition, hygiene, personal grooming items, and sanitation needs.

But that is only the tip of the iceberg. There is widespread overcrowding in Customs and Border Protection facilities. The number of migrants coming over our southern border is overwhelming. It would overwhelm any administration, any political affiliation, but it does not abrogate our responsibility to maintain basic humanitarian standards in alignment with our values.

The Department of Homeland Security must do better. From my own trip last week, I know they want to do better.

As I said, I am particularly grateful to my colleagues on the other side of the aisle who voiced support for this bill and who came on as cosponsors.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to do the right thing, help our country aspire to higher standards, and support H.R. 3670, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HIGGINS of Louisiana. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentlewoman from Michigan's efforts on this bill. I admire her for her compassion. I respect her intent and the spirit behind this bill, and I hope that we can work together to move forward.

My concern is with the letter of the law written within this bill. I know firsthand that while provisions are provided and that personal hygiene products are immediately available to the unprecedented number of people in Customs and Border Protection custody, both from visits to the border myself and communication with brothers and sisters of law enforcement who work the border, who are tasked with securing our border. I see regular emails, messages, videos, et cetera.

My concern with this bill is that it does not solve the problem, in my opinion.

Customs and Border Protection processing facilities are outdated. Many facilities were built decades ago. They were not designed to process children and families nor the massive numbers of illegal immigrants arriving at our border on a daily basis.

Without providing funding for new Customs and Border Protection facilities, I am concerned that this bill would not fix the real problem, despite its obvious compassionate intent.

Instead of forcing Customs and Border Protection to provide a long list of amenities to illegal immigrants, we should move quickly processing migrants and moving them out of Customs and Border Protection custody.

Unfortunately, many of my colleagues across the aisle have resisted providing funding for additional Immigration and Customs Enforcement bed space. People are being held at CBP much longer than was ever envisioned.

My colleagues across the aisle have supported policies that, in my opinion, have exacerbated the crisis by refusing to provide ICE with the resources it needs to get people out of short-term detention and into more suitable facilities for long-term holding.

This bill is attempting to solve problems that, some would argue, are caused by a Democratic policy decision to restrain funding for ICE and degrade its ability to hold illegal immigrants.

We should provide ICE the resources it needs to conduct its mission rather than imposing additional constraints on Customs and Border Protection, men and women who are tasked with a completely different mission.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SLOTKIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I want to address the specific points raised by the gentleman across the aisle.

The gentleman is correct. This bill is not meant to fix everything. It doesn’t get to the root of the problem.

What it does is establish very basic humanitarian standards similar, almost exactly, to what we have for our prisoners of war and our prisoners.

That is from the Geneva Convention. That is the international standard, and I want to meet those standards.

In many cases, the men and women of Customs and Border Protection and Border Patrol are absolutely meeting those standards. I think probably, at this point, most areas are. So, then, it shouldn’t be a problem to enshrine it in actual law.

I also agree that we have a major problem in our immigration system. I believe that strongly and even more strongly after I went to the border this past week, and I look forward to my colleague working with us on bipartisan immigration reform.

I think this isn’t difficult if we are already achieving, in most cases, these standards across the board.

Regarding the complaint that it doesn’t solve every problem, it was never meant to. So let’s focus on the bill at hand.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HIGGINS of Louisiana. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to share with the gentleman, for whom I have deep respect, that I believe that the humanitarian standards that the gentlewoman referred to are alive in the hearts of the men and women, the American men and women, who serve in Customs and Border Protection on the border. These Americans struggle to accomplish their mission despite overwhelming, almost impossible conditions and situations, masses of humanity, wave after wave of children of God.

Indeed, the role of this body, as envisioned by our Founders and supported... through the generations, is to allow the American spirit to manifest itself without regulation and enforced traditions and principles that are exhibited by the very Americans whom we serve. I deeply respect the intent of this bill, although I have voiced my concern regarding the letter of the language of this bill and the purposes of my concern.

I would share with Congresswoman Slotkin that I am prepared to close. I have no further speakers.

Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

In closing, I appreciate the gentleman’s comments and the spirit with which they were delivered.

Let me say, as someone who is from Michigan, we depend upon our Customs and Border Protection agents, our Border Patrol agents, every single day for our own security, for awareness of what is coming over our border.

Mr. Speaker, we are a border State, so you are never going to find a bigger fan of Customs and Border Protection and Border Patrol. I was visiting with them in the past 10 days. They are doing yeoman’s work, and I asked for their advice before I went to the southern border.

But we know that, despite their best efforts, the overwhelming number of people, combined with the complete inability to be prepared for such numbers, means that people were going without showers, and people were going without access to medical care. People were going without.

That is not what anyone wanted. I do not believe at all that people wanted that, but that was the reality. So I felt it was important to lay down a clear standard. I think the vast majority are adhering to that standard, and I think it is the bare minimum.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PAYNE). The question was taken; and (two-thirds in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill (H.R. 3670) to amend title 11, United States Code, with respect to the definition of “family farmer”, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 2336
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.
This Act may be cited as the “Family Farmer Relief Act of 2019”.

SEC. 2. DEFINITION OF FAMILY FARMER.
Section 101(b) of title 11, United States Code, is amended by striking "$3,237,000" each place that term appears and inserting "$10,000,000".

SEC. 3. DETERMINATION OF BUDGETARY EFFECTS.
The budgetary effects of this Act, for the purpose of complying with the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, shall be determined by the Office of Management and Budget by reference to the latest statement titled “Budgetary Effects of PAYGO Legislation” for this Act, submitted for printing in the Congressional Record by the Chairman of the House Budget Committee, provided that such statement has been submitted prior to the vote on passage.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Rhode Island (Mr. CICILLINE) and the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Rhode Island.

Mr. CICILLINE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Rhode Island?

There was no objection.

Mr. CICILLINE. I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 2336, the Family Farmer Relief Act of 2019, would increase the current debt limit used to determine whether a family farmer is eligible for relief under chapter 12 of the Bankruptcy Code, a specialized form of bankruptcy relief specifically intended for family farmers, from approximately $4.4 million to $10 million. Chapter 12 permits a family farmer who satisfies certain eligibility criteria to reorganize his or her debts pursuant to a repayment plan under the supervision of a bankruptcy trustee. The special attributes of chapter 12 make it better suited to meet the particularized needs of family farmers in financial distress than other forms of bankruptcy relief.

Under chapter 7, for example, the family farm and its assets would have to be liquidated to pay the claims of creditors, thus depriving the family farmer of his or her livelihood, which is completely unacceptable. The chapter 11 process for reorganization, which is typically used by large corporations in economic distress to reorganize complex financial transactions, is also inappropriate due to its costly and time-consuming nature that does not work for our Nation’s small farming operations.

In light of these concerns with other avenues for reorganization under the Bankruptcy Code, Congress created chapter 12 during the farm crisis of the mid-1980s in response to a series of economic catastrophes facing small farms, from grain embargoes, to high interest rates, to consolidation, and mega-farmers.

Unfortunately, many similar economic pressures are impacting family farmers today, who are also facing the devastating effects of climate change, including unprecedented weather events and catastrophic flooding, as well as stagnant or falling returns on investment.

H.R. 2336 takes into consideration the fact that modern farming operations entail greater costs and resulting debt than when chapter 12 was first enacted by raising the debt threshold to qualify for this type of bankruptcy relief to a level more consistent with today’s operations.

In closing, I support H.R. 2336, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the bill.

The Family Farmer Relief Act of 2019 brings urgently needed help to a critical link in America’s economy and a vital part of American community life, the family farm.

In 2005, Congress permanently enacted chapter 12 of the Bankruptcy Code. Chapter 12 is specially designed to help family farmers reorganize their debts in time of need and keep their farms going. In the years since, chapter 12 and its streamlined procedures have worked well.

There has, however, been one problem. As time has passed, the cost of running a family farm has rapidly increased; the ceiling on chapter 12, on how much debt a family farm can reorganize, has lagged behind. Especially with the advent of modern, high-tech farming equipment, the chapter 12 ceiling is no longer high enough to let many farms with typical amounts of debt go into chapter 12.

The Family Farmer Relief Act of 2019 fixes this problem. It raises the ceiling from the old, roughly $4.5 million limit to a more reasonable $10 million limit. This means that more family farmers will be able to successfully reorganize when they need to, to the benefit of the economy and local communities across the land.

I am proud to be an original cosponsor of this bill. I urge my colleagues to support the bill, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CICILLINE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from New York (Mr. DELGADO), the sponsor of the bill, a relentless advocate for this legislation, and a distinguished member of the freshman class.

Mr. DELGADO. Mr. Speaker, I thank my friend, Chairman Cicilline for those kind words.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of my bill, the Family Farmer Relief Act.
I rise to urge bipartisan support for a bipartisan priority, relief for family farmers. Passing H.R. 2336 will make our Nation’s bankruptcy laws for farmers reflective of today’s economy and better represent the experiences of our Nation’s farmers.

I am proud to represent New York’s 19th Congressional District, which stretches nearly 8,000 square miles, is made up of 11 counties, and includes the beautiful Hudson Valley and Catskill Mountains.

New York is the eighth most rural district in the country, and the third most rural represented by a Democrat. It is also home to nearly 5,000 farms and over 8,000 farm operators.

The last USDA Ag Census found that 96 percent of the farms in my district are family owned. These family-owned farms, both in New York, and across the country, are facing alarming rates of foreclosure during this down farm economy.

This is the fifth year on record of declining net farm income. Prices are low, inputs are high, and current trade policies make the future for farms unknown. 2018 marked the fourth consecutive year of rising bankruptcy rates as a proportion of the farm population. This farm economy is exacerbated by an outdated bankruptcy filing cap that leaves farmers without options to restructure or repay their debt. Chapter 12 was created specifically to provide repayment flexibility and reorganization advantages for family farms during poor economic times.

Unfortunately, this outdated debt cap has rendered chapter 12 an inaccessible tool for thousands of farm families.

Mr. Speaker, the numbers tell the story here. According to the National Farm Bureau, last year just 498 farms filed for chapter 12 bankruptcy. By comparison, consumers file under chapters 7 and 13 have seen 10 million total filings, compared to just 5,000 Chapter 12 filings.

Mr. Speaker, we must do more.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to urge bipartisan support for the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Rhode Island (Mr. CICILLINE) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2336, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the motion agreed to; and H.R. 2336 ordered to the Senate.

I yield back the balance of my time.
Mr. BRINDISI changed his vote from "yea" to "nay." Messrs. FERGUSON and BILIRAKIS changed their vote from "nay" to "yea." So the bill was passed. The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. MASSIE

Mr. MASSIE. Mr. Speaker, I have an amendment at the desk to change the title of the bill to: "A bill to kick the can down the road, and for other purposes."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The motion to reconsider is now in order.

Mr. MASSIE. Mr. Speaker, I demand the yea and nay votes. The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the yea and nay votes were ordered.

Mr. MASSIE. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yea and nay votes.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 47, nays 384, not voting 1, as follows:

implemented by the regimes of Hugo Chavez and Nicolas Maduro”.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Pennsylvania is recognized for 5 minutes in support of his motion.

Mr. RESCHENTHALER. Mr. Speaker, the motion to recommit I am offering today is a very simple one. The motion to recommit inserts language into this bill that blames Venezuela’s economic, humanitarian, security, and refugee crisis squarely where it belongs, on socialism.

This crisis is a direct result of years of socialist policies implemented by the authoritarian regimes of Hugo Chavez and Nicolas Maduro. Venezuela should be the wealthiest country in South America. Indeed, it once was. However, like all socialist regimes, Chavez and Maduro ripped power from the hands of their people, depriving Venezuelans of their personal liberties and neglecting them to poverty, death, and despair.

In socialist countries, the government no longer serves the people; the people serve the government. Venezuela is currently experiencing, according to The New York Times, the worst economic collapse outside of war in the last half-century. The country’s economy has shrunk twice as much as the Soviet bloc’s economy did during their failures.

Venezuelans continue to suffer from shortages of food, medicine, and simple commodities. Inflation is set to reach 10 million percent this year.

Ten million percent inflation? Mr. Speaker, that is unthinkable.

Venezuela’s economy is so bad and its inflation is so out of control that, according to Bloomberg, a haircut costs five bananas and two eggs. It is absolutely ridiculous. This is what it has come to in Venezuela.

One-tenth of the population has fled the country due to economic collapse and government repression.

As Margaret Thatcher once said, the problem with socialism is that eventually you run out of other people’s money.

Mr. Speaker, earlier this year, I was fortunate enough to get to the border of Colombia and Venezuela. In fact, I was with a bipartisan, bicameral delegation to the border. I talked to refugees about the conditions from which they fled.

I heard stories of physicians who were performing surgeries with smartphone lights because the lights in the operating room went off and on.

I heard stories from family members who said that their other family members were dying because they couldn’t get penicillin for simple wounds and infections.

I saw a woman crossing a river in a wheelchair because she was desperately seeking medical attention. It was truly heartbreaking.

To this day, over 3 million Venezuelans have fled for Colombia while the ruthless Maduro regime blocks humanitarian aid into Venezuela.

Yet, Mr. Speaker, sadly, Members of this very body continue to stand with Maduro. Mr. Speaker, while Members of this very body stand with Maduro, they simultaneously refuse to recognize Guaido as the legitimate President of Venezuela. They continue to blame the United States for Venezuela’s collapse. They align themselves with the disastrous, inhumane policies of socialism.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to call the crisis in Venezuela for what it is: the result of unfettered socialism. I ask that they support this motion to recommit, which won’t kill the bill and which won’t delay its adoption.

We must send a strong message; we must send a united message; and we must send a message to the world that the United States is a beacon of freedom and hope, that the United States will always fight oppression, and that the United States will always empower the people.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I claim the time in opposition to this motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XX, the Chair ordered on the motion to recommit.

The previous question is ordered on the motion to recommit.

Mr. RESCHENTHALER. Mr. Speaker, I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered.

Mr. RESCHENTHALER. Mr. Speaker, I demand a recorded vote.

The question was taken; and the vote is: the result of unfettered socialism. I think that they support the Venezuelan people, but they are completely unwilling to do anything for them.

I have just one thing to say to my Republican colleagues: Venezuelans don’t need your empty words. They need action now.

Let’s be clear: Every American opposes dictatorial oppression, whether it comes from the far left or the far right. In South America, we have seen dictators from the right and the left, like Augusto Pinochet in Chile or Jorge Rafael Videla in Argentina, both of whom killed and disappeared thousands of their own citizens in pursuit of rightwing agendas.

During those regimes, we condemned dictators. I hope you remember those times, Mr. Speaker. We did not use the tragedy of the people to score cheap political points.

We all oppose dictatorship and tyranny. It is what binds us together as Americans.

Coming from South America, I understand very well what happens when we see a dictator rise, when it goes unchecked. Instead of honoring democratic principles, this amendment uses it as a political weapon to divide our Nation.

That is bad enough, but it is worse when those who offer the amendment are also unwilling to help oppressed people who find themselves in a similar situation to the countless immigrants who came to Plymouth Rock, Ellis Island, or the Freedom Tower.

Let me ask this: Do you think that oppressed Venezuelans, immigrants who desperately suffered in the United States to seek refuge, prefer that we vote and waste our time on an empty condemnation or that we pass meaningful legislation to prevent the administration from deporting them back to a country suffering one of the worst humanitarian crises in this hemisphere?

Trump has said that he condemns Maduro and that he supports the Venezuelan people, but his words are as empty as this Republican motion before us.

Trump’s hypocritical immigration policies have left this House no other option but to act. We have the opportunity to set aside politics, like 37 of my Republican colleagues did on Tuesday, and do right by our Venezuelan brothers and sisters.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote “no” on this motion to recommit. Let’s support our Venezuelan brothers and sisters. “Apoyemos a nuestros hermanos venezolanos.”

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Georgia is welcomed to the House floor.

Mr. RESCHENTHALER. Mr. Speaker, I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to recommit.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the noes appeared to have it.

RECORDED VOTE

Mr. RESCHENTHALER. Mr. Speaker, I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XX, the Chair will reduce to 5 minutes the minimum time for any electronic vote on the question of passage.

This is a 5-minute vote.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—ayes 215, noes 217, not voting 0, as follows:

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A message from the Senate by Ms. Lasky, one of its clerks, announced that the Senate has passed with an amendment in which the concurrence of the House is requested, a bill of the House of the following title:

H.R. 3233. An act to provide for certain extensions with respect to the Medicaid program under title XIX of the Social Security Act, and for other purposes.

The message also announced that the Senate has passed without amendment bills of the House of the following titles:

H.R. 1569. An act to amend title 28, United States Code, to add Flagstaff and Yuma to the list of locations in which court shall be held in the judicial district for the State of Arizona.

H.R. 2196. An act to amend title 38, United States Code, to reduce the credit hour requirement for the Nourse Rogers STEM Scholarship program of the Department of Veterans Affairs.

AUTHORITY FOR CONTINUATION OF SERVICE OF THE DEPUTY ADMINISTRATOR OF THE FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION

Mr. LARSEN of Washington. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure be discharged from further consideration of the bill (S. 2249) to allow the Deputy Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration on the date of enactment of this Act to continue to serve as such Deputy Administrator, and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Washington?

There was no objection.

The text of the bill is as follows:

S. 2249

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. AUTHORITY FOR CONTINUATION OF SERVICE OF THE DEPUTY ADMINISTRATOR OF THE FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—An individual serving as Deputy Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration on the date of enactment of this Act may continue to serve as such Deputy Administrator, without regard to the provisions specified in the 5th sentence of section 106(d)(1) of title 49, United States Code.

(b) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this Act shall be construed as approval by Congress of any future appointments of military persons to the Offices of Administrator and Deputy Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration.

The bill was ordered to be read a third time, was read the third time, and passed, and a motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

REQUEST TO CONSIDER H.R. 962, BORN-ALIVE ABORTION SURVIVORS PROTECTION ACT

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the Committee on the Judiciary be discharged from further consideration of H.R. 962, the Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act, and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under guidelines consistently issued by successive Speakers, as recorded in section 956 of the House Rules and Manual, the Chair is constrained not to entertain the request unless it has been cleared by the bipartisan floor and committee leaderships.

Mr. ROGERS of Alabama. Mr. Speaker, if this unanimous consent request cannot be entertained, I urge the Speaker and majority leader to immediately schedule the Born-Alive bill so we can stand up and protect the sanctity of human life.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman has not been recognized for debate.

REQUEST TO CONSIDER H.R. 962, BORN-ALIVE ABORTION SURVIVORS PROTECTION ACT

Mr. KELLY of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the Committee on the Judiciary be discharged from further consideration of H.R. 962, the Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act, and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under guidelines consistently issued by successive Speakers, as recorded in section 956 of the House Rules and Manual, the Chair is constrained not to entertain the request unless it has been cleared by the bipartisan floor and committee leaderships.

Mr. KELLY of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I urge the Speaker to immediately schedule this important bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman has not been recognized for debate.

PARTICIPANTS IN CONGRESSIONAL YOUTH CABINET IN PENNSYLVANIA’S FIFTH DISTRICT

(Ms. SCANLON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, a few months ago, my office launched a Congressional Youth Cabinet, a yearlong opportunity for students in Pennsylvania’s Fifth District to share their ideas on how to solve the most pressing issues facing young Americans while learning more about the policymaking process and how Congress works.

I want to take a moment to acknowledge the students who applied and will be participating in our PA–5 Youth Cabinet this year.

I look forward to working with and learning from these incredible young people.

CELEBRATING INTERNATIONAL AUTOMAKERS

(Mr. BAIRD asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BAIRD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the positive impact that international automakers’ investments have made in the United States and, specifically, in my home State of Indiana.

Today, international automakers operate 30 manufacturing facilities across 12 States, including 3 in Indiana, and build more than 60 different vehicle models across the country.

Eleven models are produced in my home State, including the Subaru Ascent, Impreza, Legacy, and Outback, which are all built in Lafayette, in our Fourth Congressional District.

In addition to Subaru, Indiana is also home to Honda Manufacturing of Indiana and Toyota Motor Manufacturing Indiana.

Overall, international automakers in Indiana have directly employed more than 13,000 Hoosiers and helped support more than 126,000 local jobs via direct and indirect employment, produced over 1 million vehicles in 2018, and invested $7.5 billion in our State’s economy.

For 50 years and counting, international automakers have thrived in this country, thanks to an economy that welcomes investment, competition, and innovation.

I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing the important role of international automakers in the United States.

REJECT ATTACKS ON SNAP

(Ms. WILD asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. WILD. Madam Speaker, 2 days ago, I received an email from a constituent, a professor at a community college in Allentown, Pennsylvania. Many of her students depend on SNAP benefits, and she reached out to me, deeply worried after hearing reports of the administration’s plans to further undermine SNAP through extreme new executive actions.

These changes would cut assistance to over 8 million people across our country, including children, veterans, disabled Americans, and seniors.

I wish I could send her a reassuring response. It is truly a shameful time in America when we give tax cuts to billionaires and huge corporations, but we can’t help folks falling on hard times put food on their tables.

Around 41 percent of SNAP beneficiaries, nationally, are children, and research shows that SNAP not only reduces hunger and malnutrition, but also improves American people’s lives in a whole range of other ways, including improving children’s education outcomes.

We cannot turn our backs on those we were sent here to serve. Let’s stand together, Democrats and Republicans, alike, just as when we worked together to protect SNAP benefits in the farm bill, and reject these deeply immoral attacks on our most vulnerable fellow citizens.

HONORING CENTRE COUNTY LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS OF THE YEAR JOHN ASTON AND JEFFREY EBECK

(Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. THOMPSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to applaud the bravery, dedication, and sacrifice of two of Centre County’s finest law enforcement officers.

Each year, the Centre County District Attorney’s Office accepts nominations from the public, law enforcement agencies, and government agencies for the Centre County Law Enforcement Officers of the Year award.

Earlier this month, State College Police Officer John Aston and Pennsylvania Trooper Jeffrey Ebeck were recognized as this year’s recipients. Aston has been a part of the borough police department for nearly 25 years and was promoted to detective in 2003. His experience in cellphone, computer, and Internet forensics has been critical in a variety of high-profile cases in Centre County.

Ebeck became a state trooper in 2002 and has been described as a man of strong character and integrity.

First responders like Aston and Ebeck certainly deserve to be recognized for their work. But the men and women who choose these careers don’t do so for the accolades. They do so because of their commitment to service and to safety.

IN SUPPORT OF THE VENEZUELA TPS ACT

(Ms. JACKSON LEE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Madam Speaker, I rise to support H.R. 549, the Venezuela TPS Act of 2019.

This particular bill designates Venezuela for temporary protected status for an initial 18-month period beginning on the date of enactment, and such designation would allow eligible nationals of Venezuela who are in the United States on the date of enactment to register for TPS benefits, including temporary immigration status and employment authorization.

Let me indicate that, in my community in Houston, there are a number of Venezuelans who have told their story of fleeing and leaving behind family members. Many of them, however, have had the opportunity to be in this country to be safe but still to be concerned about family members.

We know that there are difficult times in Venezuela. It is important for the United States to engage diplomatically to try and resolve this.

We know there are medical crises, health crises, crises of family separation, and violence.

So, I would make the point that this is an important initiative, and I would also say that I would like to thank one of the constituents in my community, CITGO, a company that has many Venezuelans working there but has been a generous supporter of Houston.

I believe that it is important to try and resolve these issues to bring peace to Venezuela. TPS is appropriate, and we should do it now.

BDS MOVEMENT INCONSISTENT WITH AMERICAN VALUES

(Mr. GUEST asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. GUEST. Madam Speaker, the United States has long stood guard against ideologies that would undermine the principles of our democracy. Historically, the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions, or BDS, movement has been regarded as inconsistent with American values and in opposition to alliance with Israel.

Unfortunately, support for the BDS movement has been voiced in the House of Representatives. Supporting this measure shows disregard for the longstanding bond that the United States has developed with Israel as a trusted and loyal ally in the Middle East.

The United States will never turn a blind eye to our allies, and every Member of this legislative body should take steps to ensure that we do not betray the enduring trust we have developed with our friend, the nation of Israel, and its people.

We, as the House of Representatives, should bring up H.R. 336, the comprehensive legislation addressing the anti-BDS issue. I encourage my colleagues to support additional measures to protect against the BDS movement and uphold our friendship with the great nation of Israel.

CELEBRATING THE 29TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

(Mr. LANGEVIN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LANGEVIN. Madam Speaker, tomorrow we celebrate the 29th anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act, a groundbreaking civil rights law that has improved the lives of millions across the Nation, including my own. However, the fight for equality and inclusion is not over.

Over the past year, I have collaborated with disability advocates and lawmakers from both sides of the aisle to pass bills that strengthen protections for airline passengers with disabilities, expand caregiver services for disabled veterans, and establish a more inclusive emergency preparedness and disaster planning process.

I have also called for the Federal Government to account for its hiring and retention of disabled workers, increased funding for spinal cord injury research, co-led legislation to help small businesses break down accessibility barriers and passed a bill in the House to authorize $230 million for respite care services.

Madam Speaker, these efforts are only the beginning, and I cannot and will not stop fighting until we achieve the goal of equal opportunity, full inclusion, and economic self-sufficiency for people with disabilities everywhere.

WE MUST CONDEMN ANTI-SEMITISM

(Mr. BUD asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BUD. Madam Speaker, I rise today because a resolution was introduced last week last week supporting the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions, or BDS movement, against the State of Israel. Again, seemingly right after this body passed another resolution condemning anti-Semitism, this backwards ideology has reared its ugly head once again in the form of H. Res. 496.

I have come to the floor today to speak to the supporters of bills like these and the 22 Members who either voted "nay" or "present" on H. Res. 246 early this week, to remind them that Israel is the only stable democracy in an otherwise volatile region of the world.

It is a place where women serve in the military and hold high office. It is a place where all people are able to express their views without threat from the government. It is a place where Arab citizens are elected to the Knesset. Bottom line, Israel values human rights.

Madam Speaker, we must condemn anti-Semitism no matter where it comes from, and I am glad the House did that earlier this week.

CELEBRATING AUGUST 4 AS COAST GUARD DAY

(Mr. CRIST asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CRIST. Madam Speaker, today I rise to celebrate August 4 as Coast Guard Day, marking the service's founding by Alexander Hamilton in 1790. We are very grateful for the brave men and women of the United States Coast Guard who serve America, both at home and abroad.

My congressional district of Pinellas County, Florida, is proud to be home to numerous Coast Guard commands, both ashore and afloat. We have the largest and busiest air station in the country, Air Station Clearwater, and a robust maritime operation at Sector St. Petersburg.

Coast Guard families serve as well, providing the Coasties themselves with the support and resilience they depend on to stand watch, day in and day out.

So, Madam Speaker, I would like to wish a happy 229th birthday to the United States Coast Guard.

FIRE PREVENTION

(Mr. LAMALFA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LAMALFA. Madam Speaker, 1 year ago, on July 23, the Carr fire broke out in Shasta County, California, near Reading, sometimes referred to as a "firenado" that burned nearly 230,000 acres and destroyed 1,600 structures. Most tragically of all, it took eight lives.

It took over a month to fully extinguish what became one of the most destructive fires in California State history. For those impacted by it, it must have felt like a blink of an eye. Everything they owned went up in smoke.

Now, a year later, everyone is still working the recovery process as best as can be done. It is still not easy.

In the aftermath of this disaster, and even during it, our community showed just how strong and resilient our people are. Families, friends, and neighbors came together to help each other in any possible way, with water, food, clothes, everything they needed, and they have continued to do so for the whole year.

Some of the first homes are now being completed as people are moving forward, a good sign.

Preventing another fire like this is one of my top priorities. The Carr fire was started when a flat tire caused a wheel to scrape against the asphalt and create a spark in the nearby forested area; so I have introduced legislation called the CARR Act, Combustion Avoidance on Rural Roads Act, which helps avoid this sort of combustion on rural roads by allowing categorical exclusions to clear vegetation within 300 feet of a roadway.

We have got much to do, and for people who lost everything, this is prevention that will help keep it from happening again.

CONGRATULATING MIKE LANGFORD

(Mr. LEVIN of Michigan asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LEVIN of Michigan. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Mike Langford on his retirement. Mike had served as the president of the Utility Workers Union of America since 2006 and has been a major leader of that union for many decades.

During his time at the UWUA, Mike has worked hard to bring about overdue reform that delivers safe, reliable, cost-effective, and environmentally friendly utility services across this whole country.

I share his commitment to a cleaner environment and more affordable services for working families. And, as a former union organizer, I thank Mike for his outstanding dedication to American workers.

Indeed, I can personally attest to Mike's stalwart leadership of all American workers as a member of the AFL-CIO Executive Council. And I also want to point out that America's veterans have had no better friend than Mike Langford, who helped set up programs to train hundreds and thousands of them for careers in the utility industry.

I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating Mike on his retirement and on wishing him the very best for the next chapter of his life.

BORDER SECURITY

(Mr. ROY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ROY. Madam Speaker, I would notice that there is a certain smell here of jet fumes; that this Chamber is completely empty, here, July 25, my colleagues—well, it is empty for the most part.

My colleagues are headed off to the airport to fly home; fly home for fundraising vacations.

But you know what they are not doing? Nobody in this body is going to stay here to secure the border of the United States. While we have got thousands of people pouring across our border, while ICE does not have the resources it needs to do its job, this body is adjourning.

I had 40 of my colleagues, give or take—and it is a growing list—that have asked the Speaker that we should stay here. We should not adjourn. How can we possibly adjourn without giving ICE the resources it needs for the beds to be able to put people, to be able to deal with the border crisis? Yet, that is what this body is going to do.

It is unconscionable that we are allowing our border to stay open, and that this body is going to adjourn, go home. We cannot and should not allow it. We, as a sovereign Nation to have a secure border, to make sure migrants can come here safely; but more importantly, that our law enforcement has the tools that it needs to do the job that we ask them to do when they are standing on the line every day defending this country.

With cartels having operational control of our border, endangering this country, it is our duty to do it. We should stay here.

HONORING THE SERVICE OF JUDY SCHNEIDER

(Ms. SCHAKOWSKY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to offer my deep gratitude to someone who has played an indelible role in Congress for more than 4 decades, my great friend, my guide, Judy Schneider.

After a legendary career as a Specialist on Congress at the Congressional Research Service—really, the specialist, ultimate specialist, on Congress—Judy is retiring; and I want to let her know how much she will be missed.

I was fortunate to meet Judy even before I was sworn into the Congress. And as soon as I met her, I realized that I need Judy Schneider to be my mentor, and I was fortunate that she agreed to do that.

Judy has won many well-deserved accolades; but I think that her greatest reward is knowing that she has mentored and trained and inspired so many that have gone on to use her lessons about how Congress works, how it really works, how it should work, and then how it really works. That has been the lesson that has improved people's lives and the Members of Congress' lives and well-being.

So, Judy, I thank you. I love you, and I wish you everything good.

CONGRATULATING EVAN DOLISZNY FOR HIS ACHIEVEMENTS

(Mr. VAN DREW asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. VAN DREW. Madam Speaker, Evan Doliszny of Ocean City, in South Jersey, recently received the Congressional Award Gold Medal, along with the STEM Star award for his work in mathematics.

Evan is one of only 538 students in the Nation and 20 in New Jersey to achieve this honor, which was established in 1979 to recognize and celebrate "Initiative, Achievement, Service" in our young people.

Evan is truly living out those ideals. He participated in over 611 hours of volunteer service for his community, over 1,148 hours developing his academic comprehension skills, and over 1,040 hours with his team sport of crew. Evan is passionate about Middle Eastern traditions, culture, and history, and his goal is to work in international finance.

Evan, your service and dedication to South Jersey is wonderful, and your accomplishments make clear that you have a bright, a very bright, future ahead of you.

Congratulations on your achievement. We are very proud of you in South Jersey.

WHERE IS OUR INFRASTRUCTURE PLAN?

(Mr. ROSE of New York asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. ROSE of New York. Madam Speaker, in our first 200 days in this Congress, we have passed an incredible amount of legislation to root out corruption, protect healthcare, and combat the opioid epidemic.

Unfortunately, most of it, though, has died in the legislative graveyard of the Senate at the hands of Mitch McConnell.

Now, there have been rare moments, like the 9/11 Victim Compensation Fund, where we have managed to do the right thing.

But as we prepare to go back for a month of work outside of these Chambers, I ask one simple question: Where is our infrastructure bill? Because my constituents at home are sick and tired of their commute; sick and tired of their roads that are falling apart.

So I put this question to each and every Member of the House, leadership in both parties, and the President himself.

Let's get the job done. Let's pass a real infrastructure bill.

And you know what? If the Republicans do not want to play ball, if they don't even want to sit at the table with us, then let's pass something out of this Chamber and put a very simple question to the Senate, a very simple question to the President of the United States: Whose side are you on?

Are you on the side of the lobbyists, the corporate PACs, the wealthiest amongst us?

Or are you finally on the side of the hardworking Americans that you try to speak to every few years during election season?

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. (Ms. SCANLON.) The Chair will recognize representatives POCAN, PORTE, TLAIB, and JAYAPAL. We are here today to call for justice for immigrants. We are here to put a spotlight on President Trump's harmful attacks on immigrants and asylum seekers.

Since President Trump took office, he has implemented some of the harshest and most racist immigration policies in our country's history. Trump is also repeating one of the worst themes in our history, that of relentless attacks designed to divide our country. Trump wants people to think that brown and black immigrants are not worthy of compassion, legal due process, or human rights.

Despite organizing in our communities, the Trump White House has continued to push forward its anti-immigrant agenda. As an immigrant myself, the stories break my heart and make me really angry.

A year ago, the separation of families and the caging of children shocked the conscience of Americans. A year later, we all mourned the deaths of Oscar Martinez Ramirez and his daughter Angie Valeria, who were found on the edge of a river embankment, both drowned in an effort to reach the promise of America.

We used to think that sharing vulnerable images of the deceased children would elicit our deepest emotions and that would be enough for change, but even after the deaths of Oscar and his daughter, children continued dying at the hands of this administration, and nothing has changed.

It is tempting to become desensitized. It is easy to believe that this is the new normal. This is anything but normal. This is unprecedented. Whenever a scandal comes out or the President feels threatened, he comes after immigrants and those who do not look like him.

It is unconscionable that the President wants to punish families, children, and communities in danger in a blatant effort to distract the media and our country.

Today is an opportunity for my colleagues and me to, one, put a face on the people being impacted by these policies; two, it is a chance to frame this as the agenda of a President and a party who seek to hold power by dividing Americans, and to remind our country that every attack is connected. This is all part of a broader agenda of hate.

I now yield to the gentlewoman from Illinois (Ms. SCHAKOWSKY).

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I am really so proud and grateful to be here to talk about this subject, about this incredible update of what is going on right now at the southern border of our country.

Well, I get that, except that their parents were born in the United States of America, but they came here as small children with their parents, who made a really good life.

My grandfather had a horse and wagon and actually sold vegetables in Humble, Texas, right down in your district right now, carrying heavy bags of potatoes up and down the stairs.

Four children, and they all went to college. They made a good life, and now his granddaughter is in the United States Congress.

Well, I will tell you, my grandparents, my parents did not live with the fear that this President has brought to millions and millions of people and, of course, people in our district.

I want to just tell you that exactly 1 week ago today, I flew home, landed at O’Hare Airport in Chicago, and heard that something was happening over at the international terminal, that there was now a crowd of people and there were children ages. I think it was 16, 10, and 9, minors, who were being held at the airport. These were citizen children.

Why were they being held there? They came from Mexico. They had been there on vacation. They came with an adult relative of theirs who had a valid passport, but for some reason Customs and Border Protection sent that adult back to Mexico—we are investigating exactly why—and now said only the minor could pick up these minor children.

Well, I get that, except that their brother, who is a DACA recipient older than them, an adult, came to pick them up, and they were not released. A lawyer was there with a signed affidavit witnessed by members of the consulate, the Mexican consulate. They would not release the children to her.

By now, there was a crowd of people holding signs “Release the children.” They had arrived at about 3 in the morning. They were given two cots during the night, meaning one of those girls had to sleep on the floor.

This is what is happening at the border, of course, of children.

So, finally, there was an agreement that was made: Okay, Mom will come. Guess what? Mom is undocumented. She was afraid to come, but she came, surrounded by the Mexican consulate, by the lawyers, who made sure that she was able to take her children home. We heard that members of Customs and Border Protection said—and we are investigating this, too—that, if these were normal circumstances, that mother would have been detained.

Understand, they would have detained the mother of citizen children who just wanted to travel to Mexico, come home, and go be with their parents.

What is going on in the United States of America? We fear that children like that are being used to lure undocumented parents to the airport. That is what we fear. And this is just one example of a policy, of one problem that had to be resolved.

I am telling you, I am so heartbroken. I am going to the border on Wednesday, and I want to go see again for myself what is going on down there. But we have to say, no, this cannot happen. We are the country of the Statue of Liberty, the Statue of Liberty that welcomed my father and his family to this country, not the family of walls and fear and mistreatment and children dying in custody.

No, Mr. President, this is not the America that we all deserve.

And thank you, Congressman, for leading this discussion.

Mr. GARCIA of Illinois. Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Vermont (Mr. WELCH).

Mr. WELCH. Madam Speaker, I want to thank Congressman GARCIA for yielding.

I am from Vermont, and it is hard to be farther from the southern border in the United States than being in Vermont, but the question that people ask me in Vermont, really, more than anything else, is how is it that in the name of our government, under the authority that we have instituted a policy, since resided, to take children away from parents? How is that possible?

The President talks about a crisis at the border. No argument about that; there is a crisis at the border. But is the right response to it that you separate families? Is the right response that you call the people who are coming gang members and rapists and killers?

I went to the border, as well, and met many of the women and the men and the children who were there, and as you know better than anybody—and, by the way, I really appreciate your leadership on this and the leadership of the Congressional Hispanic Caucus—the people who are there are there out of desperation.

One woman I spoke to, who was from Guatemala, told us that she had a 13-year-old daughter, and her husband had already been murdered, and the mother was told that her daughter was going to become the girlfriend of one of the gang members. It was that fear that made her leave her home. She do not want to leave their home, and they only do it when they absolutely have to to save their lives.

She and her daughter set out in the night for the more than 1,000-mile journey to the southern border. About two-thirds of the way there, the mother started getting nervous, hearing stories, wondering what it would be like, and said to her daughter: Honey, we have got to go back.

The daughter looked at the mother and said: Mom, we can’t. We are not safe. You are not safe, and I am not safe.

They arrived at the southern border, and they make an effort to cross the bridge and are not allowed because of the go-slow policy and no capacity to “process.” They wade across the river and turn themselves in, and their request is for asylum. That has been criminalized by the Trump administration. The daughter and the mother are separated.

When we were with the mom, she didn’t know where her daughter was. Is she a criminal? Is she a family? Is she an MS-13 member? She is a mom trying to protect her daughter. She is a mother who lost her husband already.

Now, there is not an easy answer to that, and none of us suggest there is. But it is not the answer to say that anybody who is seeking to save their life, fleeing economic desperation, fleeing physical violence, seeking to protect a son or a daughter, is a criminal.

They are asking for help. It is a tough situation: How much help can we give? We have to have secure borders, but are we solving the problem by making it a crime to ask for help? Are we solving the problem by taking kids and separating them from their parents? Are we solving the problem where we cut aid off to the countries Honduras, Guatemala, and El Salvador, where most of the people are coming from? The answer to that is no.

And this is a hard problem, but it can be resolved unless there is some mutual recognition on both sides that it is something we have to work together to try to address.

There are refugees around the world. There are some refugees who are coming from the southern border. But this is becoming a worldwide problem, and it is a combination of factors of failed states, of environmental damage, of economic desperation; and we have to address this in a way that we acknowledg the obligation we have to one another.

So my hope is that the President, whose leadership on this is absolutely essential, tones it down and acknowledges that this is an issue that we have to work together to solve, and it is not just the heel of the boot that is going to solve it, not just the punitive measures of taking kids from parents that is going to solve it, not just cutting off aid to Honduras, Guatemala, and El Salvador that is going to solve it.

We are ready to work, and we need to work because it is, more than anything else, essential that we acknowledge the responsibility all of us have, whatever our policies are, to treat people humanely.

Madame Speaker, I thank Mr. García so much for his work on this, and I pledge to continue working with the gentleman every way I can.

Mr. GARCÍA of Illinois. Madame Speaker, I thank Congressman WELCH, Congresswoman SCHAKOWSKY of Illinois, and the Congressional Progressive Caucus for allowing me to lead this conversation.

The remarks of the previous speaker are a good segue to some background information from a historical context that I will share in the rest of the proceeding.

Migrants are escaping some of the harshest regimes in Central America, where political and economic turmoil have generated abject poverty, abuse, and violence.

Unlike many previous waves of immigrants, Central Americans are not arriving for purely economic reasons or to pursue the American Dream. Instead, they are coming to seek safety and the chance to live without fear of death, rape, or abuse.

Those coming to our border now are families, newborns, children, and pregnant women escaping life-or-death situations as well as poverty. These deeply rooted causes and push factors help explain why so many Salvadorans, Guatemalans, and Hondurans are fleeing their countries and heading toward the U.S.

El Salvador. El Salvador has been trapped in a cycle of violence that can be traced back to its civil war, in which the U.S. was complicit.

The MS–13 gang, which many politicians like to talk about, and frequently referred to by the President in justification of his hardline immigration policy, only truly formed in Los Angeles, California, and introduced into El Salvador when its members were deported, often to a country they barely knew.

Guatemala also comes out of a great conflict in that country, Jakelin Caal Maquin, the 7-year-old Guatemalan girl who died in El Paso in December from cardiac arrest caused by severe dehydration and shock, was forced to leave her home due to severe poverty. Her relatives explained that her father didn’t have enough money to stay in the land, but necessity made him try to get to the U.S.

Honduras. Gender-based violence is the second leading cause of death for women in Honduras. In a country where emergency contraception and abortion are banned even for rape victims, survivors of sexual violence have few options if they become pregnant. They can seek to terminate the pregnancy and risk punishment; they can go through with it and face one of the highest maternal mortality rates in all of Latin America.

As a parent, I understand and empathize with parents who will do whatever it takes to give their children a better life. When you have a gun to your head, people threatening to rape your child, extort your business, or force your son to work for the cartels, what would you do?

Aid to the Northern Triangle region of Central America is a long-standing pillar of American foreign policy supported by most Democrats and Republicans in Congress. Providing humanitarian aid to countries in the Northern Triangle will help stabilize those economies and lift millions out of poverty in the process.

Establishing economic stability in those nations is at the root of an effective strategy to reduce the current surge in migrants seeking asylum and, ultimately, an effort to solve the root causes of the humanitarian crisis at the border.

Despite this understanding from the State Department, the Trump administration is reducing aid. Annual assistance to Central America has declined by nearly 30 percent since fiscal year 2016. Funding is crucial to programs that focus on good governance, economic growth, and social welfare in the Northern Triangle.

This is an issue of national security in our country and basic human needs and dignity abroad.

Instead of receiving children and families with open arms, President Trump is cutting foreign aid for countries in the Northern Triangle, further exacerbating conditions there and ultimately feeding into his manufactured scare that there are hundreds of thousands more will be forced to make the difficult decision and head toward the U.S., and the administration knows this.

Aid is not an immediate fix or the ultimate solution. An investment in the region can, however, help mitigate violence, corruption, and poverty, which can help over the long term.

The State Department’s recent announcement that $300 million on hold, to divert further funds, will impact political stability and economic opportunities in those countries and, therefore, the push factors affecting migration.

President Trump was right when he declared a crisis at the border. What he failed to explain is the role this administration has played in aggravating the situation.

There is real suffering. Every day, refugees arriving at the southern border are being detained and held in inhumane conditions, children locked in cages and infants dying in our care.

The bottom line is very simple. The President has made the crisis at the border significantly worse, and it will only intensify with cuts in foreign assistance to the Northern Triangle.

President Trump is waging an assault on all fronts for Central Americans flying away from the border, it often seem like the President’s assault on immigrants and asylum seekers is a distant issue we see on the news, but the truth is that the terrorizing of communities extends to our backyards, our schools, our neighborhoods, and our church congregations throughout the country.

I want to take a moment to share a story that I heard recently and one that the President failed to explain is the role this administration is playing.

Francisca Lino, a mother and grandmother from Chiapas, Mexico, has missed the birth of her grandchildren because she could not find her daughter, who had never received even a parking ticket in her life, received an order of deportation under the Trump administration.

If she ever tried to step out for a moment, she was forced to leave her home because of deport actions. President Trump was right when he declared a crisis at the border. What he failed to explain is the role this administration has played in aggravating the situation.

In return, however, many of our neighbors, who are no different than ourselves, save for the lack of certain papers, have been met with oppression from an administration that is hellbent on using immigrants as scapegoats to explain the deep-rooted problems in our own communities. It is up to Congress to point out the real problems and stop Trump’s xenophobic and irrational policies.

ICE raids throughout the country continue to threaten families and communities, hurt our local economies and small businesses, and rip U.S.-citizen children from their parents. The President’s assault on immigrants goes well beyond the border. It is terrorizing those all around us for nothing other than political gain.

Blatant suppression of votes and intimidation of communities across the land: Recent news that the Census will be printed without the citizenship question is a victory for everyone in this country, especially important for historically undercounted groups, including communities of color, people living in large housing units, and immigrants.

Every single person in our democracy counts and must be counted in the Census to distribute Federal funding and resources accurately. The Constitution is clear on this topic. The final Census count determines so much of our daily lives: new hospitals and schools, representation in government, funding programs like Medicaid. Ensuring everyone counts ensures funding for the programs our constituents need and for healthy neighborhoods.

Recently released documents have proven what we already suspected, that the Trump administration announced the addition of a citizenship question in yet another attempt to disenfranchise and intimidate the immigrant community. It was a cheap political move to undermine the integrity of the Census.

Is this person a citizen of the United States? A seemingly small question, but one with so many implications. This is especially true for children, including U.S.-citizen children living in mixed-status families, families that might avoid the Census for fear of their information being shared.

Our fight to count every single person is not over. We still have a lot of work to do.

The back-and-forth of the citizenship question left many of my constituents scared and confused. This remains the administration’s goal.

While President Trump has backed down from his attempt to add a citizenship question to the Census, he is directing U.S. agencies to provide all information they have on U.S. citizenship. In other words, he continues to use any means of intimidation to threaten immigrants. When one method is blocked, he tries another.

Ensuring a complete count on the 2020 Census is a fight we can win. I started working on it as a Cook County commissioner and will continue working to ensure that every single person is counted. Our representation, schools, hospitals, and healthcare depend on it.

The President continues to weaponize his office in every possible way. We must fight back until we have justice for all and justice for immigrants.

Madam Speaker, today, we have heard powerful stories and comments from my colleagues from all around the country about the countless ways that President Trump is driving an anti-immigrant agenda and terrorizing communities all around the country, whether it is the detention of American citizens, Trump ending asylum protections and eligibility, changes to the citizenship test, placing children in cages to send a message, or leaving women and children in inhumane conditions at detention camps.

We must remember that this administration is not only hurting immigrants. It is hurting citizens, mixed-status families, and entire communities, Black, White, Asian, and Latino. These harmful tactics may be aimed at a few, but they are harming us all.

Trump’s assault on immigrants and asylum seekers is an assault on all Americans, an assault on our values of inclusion and our history of welcoming the world’s tired and weary. He is leading a full-court press on the very soul of who we are as Americans.

Deeply disturbing is the fact that we know that Trump’s ongoing attacks on immigrants are deeply rooted in racism. We see it in the Muslim ban, we see it in the 2020 census citizenship question, and the public charge rule. Trump says that criminals, drug dealers, and rapists are invading our country. There is no evidence of immigration over communities all over the land. That is false. It is the reason he wants fewer immigrants from s-hole countries and more from northern European countries like Norway, or so he has said.

When a crowd chanted recently “Send her back” in response to Trump’s attacks against my colleagues, we knew it was never about legal immigration. As an immigrant, I take this personally.

When the President announced ICE raids, we know his intent was to deliberately terrorize Black, Brown, and immigrant communities.

Livelihoods and families are at stake and many in the communities, like the Chicago neighborhood of Little Village, are moved to action by the President’s assault on immigrants using the power of the Oval Office.

The decision to end DACA and the DACA program was a direct attack on young men and women, all of whom have fought to be American and paid the price for being born through no decision of their own. Many came as babies.

Many DACA recipients or Dreamers call no other country but America their home. Unfortunately, they have to work harder than anyone else to have access to the same opportunities afforded to their friends and classmates in the same country that we all love.

That is the case of Elizeth Arguelles, a 23-year-old Dreamer from my district. She is paying the price for President Trump’s assault on immigrants using the power of the Oval Office.

Elizeth’s story is hers alone. Our government has and continues to fail her by maintaining an anti-immigrant policy that fails to account for children.
brought here against their own conscious will.

It is a reminder that the Dream and Promise Act passed in the House of Representatives must be passed in the Senate immediately. Up to 2.5 million immigrants in this country, people like Elizeth, would be eligible for protection under H. Res. 6, including 37,000 immigrants in Chicago alone.

Through the Dream and Promise Act, Elizeth and her family and over 85,000 people in my city who live in mixed-status families would have legal certainty.

I applaud Elizeth’s perseverance and determination to fulfill her dream of graduating from a 4-year university. But I also hope that the Members of the Senate are hearing the cries of aspiring young Americans who want to continue to contribute to our country, to lead our country, and to be exemplary citizens by giving them a path to legalization and citizenship.

Many of you yield to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON LEE).

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Madam Speaker, first, I would like to congratulate the gentleman from Illinois, Congressman GARCIA, for his legacy and leadership here in the United States Congress, but really for the work of reconciliation and friendship in the great city of Chicago, working with so many different groups and understand the myriad of issues dealing with immigrants.

Madam Speaker, I rise today, first of all, say to my fellow Americans—that was something utilized by President Lyndon Baines Johnson. And I would think that, as he said it many, many years ago, America was less diverse—I use it now, because I think it is important in a Nation that is enormously diverse, that we, in fact, use the words “fellow Americans,” so that we cannot pit one group of Americans against another, these immigrants against those who are here, or those who have been immigrants that have come and now have either gotten status or been here for a long time. Let us not let the administration pit one American against another. We are, in fact, really our brothers’ and sisters’ keeper.

When I think of immigrants, I think of every single person who has come to this Nation. They have come in many different colors and in many different eras. Yes, Native Americans were already here. Yes, African Americans came as slaves. But then, as the years passed, there were people of African descent who came as immigrants. There were Irish and Italians, there were people from Britain and Germany, and there were people from South Asia, Asia, and Asia Pacific. And, of course, there are those who have now come from the southern border.

When we have the right to be able to demonize individuals who have come in a recent time, individuals who simply want an opportunity to work, to contribute, and, yes, to put on the uniform? I am reminded of Captain Khan and his wonderful family. Captain Khan was a Pakistani who died in the recent war in Iraq. He came here to this country. His family came here to this country.

So, I join with my colleague to say that we must pass comprehensive immigration reform, but we must pass the legislation that includes the American Dream and Promise Act. We must recognize that we have to confront the issue of dealing with the treatment of those who have come most recently.

How do we deny it, when those of us who have been to the border, for example, literally talked to persons who have said they watched their father being beat to death and they watched as the MS–13, who are wanted in that country, come to make them a member? How are you going to challenge that?

How do you challenge a woman who got on the road and had her baby on the road because people in the neighborhood said she owed them money and they were going to kill her?

How do you answer an aunt who went to the store and came back and found all of her nieces and nephews drugged and individuals in the house and all they had to do was escape for their life?

So, I believe that standing here today is recognizing that there must be a solution.

Let me share with you just some of the comments from a hearing that we had on the oversight of family separation and CBP short-term custody under the Trump administration.

In March 2017, former Secretary of Homeland Security John Kelly announced that DHS was considering a proposal to separate families at the southern border as a means of deterrence and to find out they could not find you or to deal with some of its aftereffects.

In a September 2018 report, the DHS Inspector General found that DHS was not fully prepared to implement the administration’s zero-tolerance policy or to deal with some of its aftereffects. Can you imagine that? They just didn’t have the facilities to deal with this very detrimental policy.

What about asylum? That is international law. That is a law that allows individuals fleeing persecution to come to any country and seek asylum under their laws. Under our law, if you are in credible fear you can seek asylum. These administrations that were reasonable recognized that domestic violence could be taken into consideration.

But let us realize where we are: The Trump administration eliminated domestic violence right out and then wanted to eliminate the rights of those individuals to file for asylum. Just recently, a lawsuit said, no, Mr. President, we cannot do that and deny the rights under international law and national law for these individuals to be able to use the process that has been granted to so many before them.

But then, of course, this report from the Office of Inspector General that—in actuality, a report was made public on July 2, though it was given to the Department of Homeland Security much earlier than that, but I think this was the report on the CBP and BP facilities at the border. Let me recognize, of course, the need to provide resources.

We voted on a $4.6 billion appropriations at the beginning of July to be able to help and to provide better resources. But one of the things that was said to the Secretary of Homeland Security: ‘‘DHS needs to address dangerous overcrowding among single adults at El Paso Del Norte processing center.”

And: ‘‘DHS needs to address dangerous overcrowding and prolonged detention of children and adults in the Rio Grande Valley.’’

This is not SHEILA JACKSON LEE or Congressman GARCIA, this is the Department of Homeland Security Inspector General’s report.

We are, in fact, our brothers’ and sisters’ keeper. We are many colors as immigrants. Africans are coming across the border, fleeing for their lives, seeking relief.

All we have to do is to follow our laws to allow the asylum process to proceed and those individuals to be rendered a judgment that they can stay or not. And, in some cases, we need to help us in our refugee resettlement and our humanitarian agencies to either help settle them in the United States or resettle them as they go back out of the United States.

There’s also the possibility of having an agreement that after their asylum has failed, if it does, that they can remain with opportunities in Mexico, which was originally spoken about.

But since I have been to the place in Mexico where the policies of the President are to keep them in Mexico, I can tell you that Mexico at the border does not have the resources, does not have the housing, and does not have the jobs to take care of those individuals who are there.

But let us realize where we are: The Trump administration eliminated domestic violence right out and then wanted to eliminate the rights of those individuals to file for asylum. □ 1915

Madam Speaker, I want to make it very clear, as I started out, my fellow Americans, on this floor, this particular Democratic Congress in the majority has recognized the importance of Americans.
$15-an-hour wage increase as Federal law. We are working on gun safety.

We are working on issues dealing with Americans. But we must call our higher angels and recognize the responsibility of this Nation to address the concerns of its people.

So, as I conclude my remarks, let me say that I hope that we will be able to work together on the 9,000 children who are held by the Department of Health and Human Services in what we call shelters for illegal immigrants, to give them state—or to state—and me state it publicly to Health and Human Services, whom I worked with on the Obama administration—that these shelters do not belong to Health and Human Services. They belong to the people of the United States, funded with taxpayer dollars, and that means the Members of the United States Congress.

No Member of Congress should be blocked from going into these facilities. No Member of Congress should be blocked from talking to these young people who want to talk to them and tell them that they have been in these centers for months, 100 days. They are not supposed to be there that long. There needs to be a system put in place to expedite these youngsters. One youngster wants to go back home to Mexico. He is still there.

So I want to put Health and Human Services on notice not to block any of us from coming in, facilitating how we are to interact with these young people, to provide them comfort and understanding of how we can move their cases along—not pull them out, not break the law, not disrespect the system, but to help the system, over-loaded, choked down, not concerned, to move forward on behalf of these young people.

I thank Congressman GARCÍA for giving me the opportunity to share some of my thoughts about how we have to fix the immigration system, which includes recognizing that many people who are here working, paying taxes, paying a mortgage, have come here through no fault of their own, and, as well, their families, who are here seeking opportunity.

I believe that, together, in a bipartisan manner, we could really do this, as we have done for immigrants who have come to this country in the 1800s and the 1900s, and they have now integrated into our society.

Let me thank the gentleman so much for his leadership on this.

Mr. GARCÍA of Illinois. Madam Speaker, I thank Congresswoman JACKSON LEE for her words.

To close this evening, I want to call our attention again to what we are seeking to do in this Special Order hour, which is to again highlight and shed a spotlight on the administration’s assault on immigration and asylum seekers that is taking place.

Do it seeking to express the sentiment, the concerns, and the aspirations of, especially, immigrant groups in my district whom I represent.

And who are they? They are people who have come from Asia, who have come from Germany, who have come from Ireland, who have come from Eastern Europe, who have come from Africa and the Caribbean, as well as Latin America, and even other countries.

It is my hope that, as the House of Representatives begins its summer recess, this Congress and the White House will reflect on the nation’s great history of welcoming people who are fleeing oppression and, as Congresswoman JACKSON LEE noted, that we allow our better angels to impact, to inspire, and to move us.

As we continue our path, striving to become a more perfect Union, there isn’t a better way forward than by embracing those who are fleeing persecution, those who are fleeing violence, and those who are fleeing terrible conditions in the countries that they were born in.

I want to thank the Congressional Progressive Caucus for its assistance in arranging for this Special Order hour. I want to thank those who have joined me tonight to share their stories.

Madam Speaker, we can and we must do better.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President.

Mr. GARCÍA of Illinois. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

ISSUES OF THE DAY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker’s announced policy of January 3, 2019, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOHO) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the minority leader.

Mr. YOHO. Madam Speaker, I have a three-part series, and I would like to open at this moment and yield to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. PERRY), my good friend.

Mr. PERRY. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Florida for offering me just a moment to talk about something that is very important to me.

Madam Speaker, I rise today at a time when the United States and the international community must step up efforts to combat money laundering.

Money laundering is a critical source of funding for terrorist organizations and drug cartels like the ones that my good friend from Florida might be talking about tonight. These are drug cartels and other organized crime rings. It is used to disguise profits from corruption, financial for illicit activity.

Money is moved in a variety of ways across borders and through the global financial markets to evade detection by law enforcement—global financial markets just like ours. While exact numbers cannot be determined, estimates suggest that annual sums of money laundering are in the trillions of dollars—trillions.

Money laundering facilitates a broad range of serious underlying crimes, including the financing of North Korea’s and Iran’s nuclear proliferation networks and the activities of terrorist operations. Money laundering also plays a significant role in drug, human, and wildlife trafficking.

In today’s world, money launderers rely on both new and old methods. The crime is conducted through shell companies, bulk cash smuggling, gambling, cyber-related methods, and investments in mobile commodities, including things that you might not think about, like gems and real estate—yes, real estate.

For example, we have recently seen a rise in money laundering through luxury real estate purchases. Some people come to me and say there is a housing crisis. Well, when money launderers are inflating the cost of housing by laundering money through overpaying for property, then harm vulnerable populations in the United States. These real estate purchases happen in major U.S. cities as well as international cities like London and Dubai.

Madam Speaker, money laundering threatens political stability, democracy, and free markets around the globe, and we must take steps to counter it right now.

I thank the gentleman from Florida for yielding to me.

HONORING THE MEMORY OF ROSEWOOD

Mr. YOHO. Madam Speaker, I am entering into the second phase of my Special Order.

Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the memory of Rosewood and reflect upon the tragedy that happened in 1923.

Rosewood was a small, rural town in my district. It is in northwest central Florida, in between Otter Creek, Chiefland, and Cedar Key. It was built around the pencil mill and turpentine industry. It was a mixed town of Blacks and Whites.

In 1915, it had a population of approximately 355 people. The town had started to become segregated. The neighboring town of Sumner was developed at the time and was primarily White.

In January of 1923, a young White woman claimed that a Black man had assaulted her. The accusation started a riot, ultimately resulting in the burning of the entire town and the death of many members of the Rosewood community.

Within hours of the violence starting, many survivors fled to the surrounding woods, where they hid and waited for a rescue train that was sent there to take people out of the area of violence.

At the end of the week, only one building remained standing, and to this day, the death toll is still unknown, and no buildings remain.

The story by the young White woman was found to be a lie. She was the Black man’s lover. Her significant other beat her, and she lied and blamed the young Black man to save face.
I went to Indonesia on a code, a bipartisan one, and there was a Member of this Congress from the other side who asked the Indonesian Prime Minister at the time: What is the sentiment in a Muslim country about a ban from the President? President Trump did not ban the Muslim ban that he has placed on there? He knew good and well that President Trump didn’t ban Muslims in this country. He put the ban on the same six countries that Obama did, but there was no complaint. I bring that up just because, if we are going to solve the problems of this country, one that this body—look at it. It is empty. There are two Members of Congress in here, and they have been complaining—I am sorry. I stand corrected, Madam Speaker. There are three Members of Congress. But if we are going to fix this problem, it is going to take more than three of us. I am sure everyone agrees. They sit there and they give great speeches about how it is tearing our country apart. The President is tearing our country apart. What a shame this is, the hatred, the racial hatred that is coming out of the White House, how people are being taken away from their families, and there are no toothbrushes or diapers, or they are sleeping on floors.

I am just glad the other side is acknowledging that there is a crisis, but for the first half of the year, there wasn’t a crisis. They refused to say there was a crisis.

There was a Special Order here last week, my good colleague, Mr. King, was here. We had other Members, and we had pictures from 2014 when President Obama was here. It was funny because my colleagues on the other side of the aisle were railing about the crisis in 2014.

There have been times in this body when the Democrats had the majority in the Senate, and the White House. There were times, and I was there, when the Republicans had the same majority, the House, the Senate, and the White House.

It saddened me because this discussion about our having to fix these things, when both parties were in control, they didn’t do it. What really saddens me is I see people using political opportunities for their next election. I heard a lot of that tonight. There were no solutions in that.

We talked for an hour last week about the crisis at the border, the situation at the border, and the atrocities at the border. The drug cartels are profiting from this. We stay as a divided and divided President Trump—and I will do it again tonight—that he needs to call Congress back in session when we reconvene tomorrow, and I would do it every time this body goes on a break until we fix our border security and until we come up with an immigration bill.

I want to move into what I really want to talk about. In order to move forward, we have to have solutions. I have been here for 7 years, and I have seen “comprehensive” come up in healthcare, and I have seen “comprehensive” come up in immigration. What I have learned is that when you put “comprehensive” in front of a title, it’s not a legislative bill, it’s a political speak that says it is not going to happen because the room becomes divided, and everybody uses it as a political tool for the next election.

What I want to do is, instead of trying to do comprehensive immigration reform, I want to focus on a small bite of the apple.

We have a proposal. We have legislation that we are working through the House in a bipartisan manner. We have shared this with over 40 Members of Congress in a bipartisan manner, and we have shared this with the Senate in a bipartisan manner. It is a guest worker program.

The bill will be a guest worker program. There will be three silos, agriculture, hospitality, and construction. These are all positions that, in general, are in the lower-skilled fields. They are not rocket scientists, and they are not engineers. These are the skills that we need in our labor force in agriculture, for food security, for construction, and for our hospitality. In the past, we have not had a good program for people to come into the country legally and stay in the field that they have decided to work in.

This bill will be under a banner, but there will be three separate bills. The first bill will be a guest worker program for agriculture, and that is what I would like to focus on tonight.

America has the lowest-cost food of the industrialized world because our farmers can produce so well. But they can’t benefit from that if we don’t have the workers willing to go out and work in the fields.

I was a person who, at the age of 15, worked in produce. We loaded trucks. The produce came in from the farm, and we loaded the produce. I did that to work my way through college. Yet, today, people said that domestic people, Americans, won’t do that work. I disagree with that, and I think we put a stigma on that.

In order to fix this, we have to have a labor solution, or our farmers won’t be able to keep farming. The goal of this is to create our labor workforce. The way this program would work is it would be in two phases.

The first phase is that we create a prescreened pool of workers before they come into the country. We will have a relationship and an agreement between country A and our State Department.

If we pick out a country, Guatemala, the Guatemalan state department will have a relationship with our State Department. When a person applies, he becomes what we call the applicant. The country he comes from will verify that person’s date of birth and their residence. Then, they will verify that this
The person has not been involved in violent crimes, drug activity, or gang activity.

Once they apply, that information goes through the Department of Homeland Security. They do a background check. They do it on their nationality and the database. If that person clears the database, then that information goes to the USDA. We moved the agriculture labor workforce from the Department of Labor to the USDA, which can be better monitored to fulfill the needs of agriculture.

That person does not come into the country until a job is open. The employer in this country, an agriculture producer, still has to advertise for domestic help. When that position is not filled, the employer can ask for that worker to come in. That worker comes in under the agreement that they are going to work in the agriculture sector.

They have to be a minimum of 18 years of age. It is not chain migration. If they have family members who want to come in, they, too, can apply, but it applies to them individually.

Once they get accepted into the program and come into the country, they become a guest worker. At that time, they get issued a guest worker identification card that we call a GWIC card. That GWIC card will have 15 digits in there for security. In addition, it will have the initials “AG,” designating that that is an agriculture worker permit.

When the worker comes in, they now have been allowed into the country legally. The work permit goes on for 5 years. That means they can stay in this country for 5 years at a time. They have to work a minimum of 75 percent of the year in agriculture, but it allows them to move back and forth to their host country seamlessly because we have an agreement between two countries.

The person can travel around the country to work a seasonal crop. In Florida, our citrus harvest is done usually by mid- to late June. That would allow that worker to go from that farm up to New York, Maine, or Washington State to work crops. They also have the ability to go back home.

That permit is good for 5 years at a time. He can renew 4 1/2 years into it, and he can do this indefinitely. There will be a $2,500 fee. We are recommending approximately 50 or 55 years of age. There is a fee of $2,500 for that.

The second part of this program will be dealing with the people here who came in illegally. Our proposal would allow a person to apply to this program under the understanding that the Federal Government is not here to deport them. The Federal Government is here to give them a way that they can get into a program and have legal residency and the right to work.

During that period of time, when the applicant is applying, there will be a waiver over that person, meaning that he won’t be deported. A background check will be done. If DHS says this person is okay, then he can enter this program. If that person has minor violations—a fender bender, didn’t return a book to the library—he will have a period of time where he can get straight with the legal system.

Upon completing that, he enters into the guest worker program and becomes a participant. He, too, pays a fee of $2,500. That is to go for running the program. In addition, there will be a fine for someone working illegally. What has been proposed is approximately $1,500 to $2,000 for the first time they apply to the program.

Every year a person renews, 4 1/2 years into this program, there will be a $2,500 fee, and that is subject to change as the times change.

As a person comes into the program, they get issued the guest worker identification card, which is called the GWIC card, and that will be embedded biometrics. We gave the list to the DHS to pick out what they think is necessary from facial recognition pictures, DNA, fingerprints, and retinal scans, all that they can choose from. We asked them to put enough of those biometrics in there so that card is secure.

In addition, it will have a 15-digit code that will be a hack-proof, secure card. As I said, there will be the initials “AG,” designating that person as a guest worker in this country in agriculture.

He is allowed to get a driver’s license. If he passes the test in a State, then he will get a guest worker driver’s license. It would not be used for voter registration. It is something to give that person a driver’s license so that he can work on a farm.

If that person who is here illegally gets accepted into the program and has a family who came in with him illegally, as he is applying to the program, there is a waiver over his family. If he gets accepted into the program, or they get accepted into the program, his family is also allowed to come into the country for 5 years at a time, provided the participant renews 4 1/2 years into it.

If his children came in illegally, then they are protected until the age of 18, at which time they have to make a decision to apply to one of the programs. There will be three sectors. It will be agriculture, hospitality, and construction.

At that point, again, as I said, that person can move around the country. They can work crops wherever they choose. They can go back home knowing they can get back into this country.

E-Verify will be a component of this, and it would work such that, as a person enters the program, their data is already in DHS. When they go to start their job, the employer puts their smart card, the GWIC card, into a reader. It identifies the person, a positive identification. We have eliminated probably close to 100 percent of the fraud that occurs with the current system.

We request that the individual worker has to check into a Federal office on a monthly basis. Every town in America has a Federal office, either a courthouse or a post office. Part of the $2,500 fee goes to pay for the equipment in there. It would be inexpensive equipment that we use when we go to do a retail sale like at a big box store. You put your card in there; it reads it; and it tells DHS and USDA where this person is.

The employer also is required to use E-Verify. This will be seamless because he is pulling people out of a pool who are already prescreened and who are in the E-Verify system. They go through this system.

E-Verify will become mandatory once we get 75 to 80 percent of the expected population that we need in our guest worker fields. At that point, all employers will be using the E-Verify system.

The beauty of this system is that we have given a portal for people to come into this country legally. We have given them a way to stay in this country for up to 5 years at a time. Then, we give them a way that we can monitor the country or employers who are hiring people here illegally that suppresses the wages of domestic workers.

If an employer hires people outside of the system once it is mandatory, when they get caught, it is a $2,500 fee. If it is a repeat offender of an employer, then that fine will go up, and they are subject to jail time.

The beauty of this is if a worker leaves a guest worker program in either agriculture, hospitality, or construction, and they try to work in a different sector and are found out by the people who are doing the inspection, they have given up their right to stay in this country on a guest worker program.

The things that we hear back about that is that people voluntarily enter this program. They have agreed to work in agriculture and agriculture only or one of the other sectors. If they work outside of that, they have agreed that they have broken that. This is a policy that is self-policing when people get found out.

For the people who choose not to enter any of these programs, they are here illegally, and they will be dealt with according to the laws on the books.

We are asking to have sequencing done on this, and the first part of that is we have to agree on border security. It is interesting because I hear this fight over border security, but when I go on trips and talk to my colleagues on the other side, they always tell me that they agree with border security and that we have to have border security. If we agree to it, let’s do it.

Again, this body is empty other than us three. I think the President should call us back. Let’s get border security.
Let's get this done, Madam Speaker, so that we can move on to the next thing.

We have to have enforcement of the laws on the books. We are providing a guest worker program for the majority of the people whom we need in our labor force for low-skilled work.

The third part of the sequencing is that we can deal with Dreamers and DACA down the road. We can't do that until we do border security and have a way for people to come into the country legally, to work in this country legally, and to take that group who came in illegally and put them in a legal process.

Madam Speaker, this is something we have shared with probably close to 60 people in a bipartisan manner. We have shared this with agriculture groups from all over the Nation, from California to Maine, New York, Washington State, Florida, Minnesota, and North Dakota, and from every sector in agriculture, from dairy to pine, timber, fruits and vegetables, citrus, and fruits and nuts. Everybody tells us this is the most commonsense reform they have seen.

We have shared it with ranking members of different committees on the Democratic side. They said this is something they plan to help support. I am excited because of the bipartisan nature in the House. We have shared this with Senators, and the Senators are working with us to make this happen. Our goal is to make this happen this Congress.

We are looking for people to go to our website, https://yoho.house.gov, to get more information. We have a short video that covers this.

If we do nothing, we are going to have a repeat of the last 30, 35 years, when Ronald Reagan gave amnesty to 3.5 million to 4 million people.

This body has sat there and argued and blamed the other side for inaction or blamed the other side for hatred and racism or blamed the other side for inaction and blamed the other side for inaction.

This is the time to act, and I would hope people would come back to Congress over the break and let's get something done.

Madam Speaker, I appreciate the opportunity to be here. I yield to the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. KING), my good friend, to say something.

Mr. KING of Iowa. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Florida (Mr. Yoho) for yielding to me, and I appreciate for the work that is done by Dr. Ted Yoho here in this Congress.

I would like to have the Members know, Madam Speaker, that Ted Yoho gets up every day and grinds away with an eye towards making America great again and putting us in the right place. And I recall a meeting that he called together here, kind of an off-campus meeting about how we are going to save America from a Congress that doesn't seem to want to look to the horizon, let alone over the horizon.

There is a lot of common sense that has been put together in this immigration policy, and I want to carefully evaluate all of the components of it. I know we are in discussions right now about how it can be improved a bit, but I am open to this discussion, and I think he has brought up some very important points.

I will add one that I hope can be incorporated into this, to take the E-verify mandatory piece of this and expand it into a bill that I have had before this Congress a number of years. It is called the New IDEA Act, and it would work actually seamlessly with what has been described here tonight in that I incorporate the language in it, which is this:

When an employer—we put together a committee, a three-way team, the IRS, the Social Security Administration, the Department of Homeland Security, and require them to work together for the cause of enforcing immigration law and, in addition to the penalties that have been suggested here, deny the deductibility of wages and benefits paid to illegals.

I would give the employer safe harbor if they use E-verify, but if they are then using illegal labor, the IRS, in a normal audit, not an accelerated audit, then would come in, run the Social Security number numbers and identifying information of the employees who are listed in the tax forms through the E-verify program.

If they can't be verified, the IRS then could deduct the wages and benefits paid to them, remove it as a business expense, which puts those dollars, wages, and benefits paid to illegals into the gross receipts where they show up as net income. That makes it taxable.

When we first did this math, it would be, if you have an-hour illegal and deny the deductibility of that under the old tax policy, it would take us to a $16-an-hour illegal. We also would have interest and penalty, and there is a 6-year statute of limitations.

Madam Speaker, I got to this conclusion by asking the question: What agency, what department is most respected, and maybe even most feared, by the American people?

Since I have been drug through abortion rights, I will tell you that the business people, the employers in this country, they don't want the IRS looking into their books, and they don't see that they can negotiate much of a compromise with the IRS.

So I think giving a 6-year statute of limitations on that, you accumulate that liability, and it makes it far more likely that employers will voluntarily go in and clean up their workforce. That is something that, had that been done years ago, we wouldn't be in the situation we are in today.

The labor situation that we have, it is a bit more complex down in the southern part of the United States than it is up in the heart of the heartland where I am. And that is that we seem to be able to find the people to climb in the tractor, in the combine, or in the trucks and get our crops in the ground; we get them out; we get them out again; and it is a little smoother up that way.

The labor situations that we see in places like Florida and California and Arizona, all those States, and many more in particular, that is a different kind of a situation.

What I would suggest, though, is that temporary workers be required to be bonded. I introduced legislation to do that, and I hope that is something we discuss, as well, is incorporating it into this proposal.

I pointed out that to the President in a meeting in the Oval Office sometime back. He seemed to respond very favorably to that suggestion. I pointed out that he actually has the authority to go forward with a bonding program now. And so I noticed that, a few weeks later, he issued an order that directed the executive branch to do the research and put the pieces together so that they can activate a program.

But think of it this way: Whether you are going to be a guest worker in the United States or a visitor to the United States, you need a visa to come to America to do that.

So when you apply for that visa, you post your credit card, just as if you walked into a hotel and they say: Your room is paid for, but we need a credit card so we can hold for any incidentals that might come.

You post that credit card on your visa application to temporarily come to America, and if you go back under the terms of the visa, then, fine, the hold is released on that credit card; but if you overstayed your visa, then that credit card is charged for that fee, and that fee goes into an enforcement fund in order to enforce the immigration laws we have in this country.

We need the rule of law restored in the United States of America. No place, in all of our law, is it less respected than it is in immigration law.

And as I listened to some of the rhetoric over here on the floor tonight, it still is breathtaking to hear how intentionally the terms "legal" and "illegal" immigrant are conflated so that the very meritorious legal immigrant who respects our laws, that meritorious legal immigrant is conflated in the same term with the one who has disrespected our laws. The one who has disrespected our laws gets assigned the same merit that exists for those who respect our laws and want to come to America for an opportunity to succeed and to prosper.

But I make another point, Madam Speaker, that I don't hear in this dialogue on immigration, and that is that America has a unique vigor. We have a can-do spirit, we can do a lot of things, and the can-do spirit comes from the legal immigrants who have had the aspiration to come to America.
And I would say that, if there is a family of 10 siblings, boys and girls together, if one of them has the ambition and the eagerness to respect our laws and come to the United States, the one who chooses to self-select to come here is going to be the one in that family who has the most ambition, the most vigor.

That is one of the reasons why America is a can-do country, because we have gotten that quality of people who self-selected as legal immigrants to come to America. And come to the United States, the one who chooses to self-select to come here and come to the United States, the one who has that ambition, the most vigor.

So I appreciate the gentleman’s work on the immigration policy, and I look forward to examining all of the language there and have an open dialogue on this. But I also applaud the very diligent effort that has gone forth on this issue and many others.

Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Florida for yielding.

Mr. Yoho. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. King), for the hands for. He is just a true patriot who loves America.

The gentleman brought up a great point. The current system allows people to use the Social Security number. So you can come into the country. You get Social Security, or people will eventually, as they come in, gravitate and get on an I-9 form.

They will use a fraudulent or a fake ID number. Social Security number. They are a dime a dozen out there. They are counterfeiters, out there doing that.

What happens is it gums up the system. It is like an accounting nightmare, and it creates confusion for the people who are supposed to regulate this. So it gets to a point where they can’t even track the people because there are so many fraudulent numbers.

Where there is confusion, there is inertia, and that is why nothing gets done. And I think you look at the current system, because it is not workable.

The H-2A was designed for seasonal agriculture workers, but we do not use it that way because it is not enforced. They are supposed to come in for 10 months, and then they go home. But the current system is you can get a waiver, and that waiver can go on for 3 years. And if it is not enforced, they forget about the waiver and they just kind of fall into the society, and nobody knows where they are at.

The beauty of this system is there is an identification number. We are proposing 15 digits in length, with the designation of “AG” in there, agriculture, plus the social chip in there that has the biometrics.

So we separate guest workers from the rest of the population. So we have a database of just guest workers that will be a lot easier to track. It will be a lot easier to know where people are. As people come in, check into the system, the computer is on the worker. They can check in at their place of employment. They can check in at a post office. They can check in at a Federal courthouse. And so it is going to be easy for people to stay compliant.

If they are not in compliance with checking in, they will have a grace period. They have to become compliant. If they are not compliant after a period of time, they are subject to deportation.

One of the things we talked about is what happens if somebody creates a deportable felony, and that would be something like, maybe, vehicular homicide from a DUI, which we have seen in too many of those cases in the news. They would be subject to deportation.

If they are here with a family that they came in illegally, they got accepted into this program, if that were to happen, they have put their family at risk of deportation.

I don’t like that part, but it is also that we need to look at the other side of that.

We have allowed people to come into this country to be a guest worker.

If I have had the experience of being a veterinarian, practicing for 30 years, in large animals. We dealt with cattle farms, dairy farms, horse farms, people who did row crops, fruits and vegetables.

I have gotten to a point where I talked to a lot of people who were here as migrant workers, and I sympathize with them. Heck, I was still working on the farm. That was one of my ambitions of going to vet school. I wanted to be outstanding in my field, and I wound up being outstanding in everybody else’s field.

But we got to know the immigrant, and we got to a point where we could ask them: Are you here legally or illegally?

They were so honest. They say: I came in illegally.

And I even asked them: Did you pay a price to come in?

They said: Yeah, $2,000, $5,000, $8,000. And it shocked me, how people were paying.

And this was probably 12 years ago, 11 years ago.

And I would ask them: Do you want to become a citizen?

And it would amaze me how many of these people said: No, I just want the opportunity to come here, make a living, and go home.

So one of the impetuses behind this was let’s set up a system where people can come, fulfill the need we have, and fulfill the need they have.

I have stayed in touch with some of these people. They have made enough money to go back home, create a farm of their own, and they don’t have to come back. But they refer people into the system.

So if we can streamline that and make it easier for people to come in when we have border security, they can come in the legal way. There is no need to sneak in.

If we can take that group that came in illegally and they move into this, the ones that know they probably don’t have a bad record, they have moved into the system.

So we can start cleaning up this mess.

And the gentleman and I just shared the analogy of working cattle. When we have all of our calves, we sort out the ones over here: the males over here; the females over here.

So it is a way to sift through the problem we have. If we do nothing, the problem is going to get worse.

The H-2A system right now, one of the flaws with that, as I said, it was supposed to be a 10-month program. People come in. Our producers are paying $1,200 to $2,000 to get a person into the country for the permit, to get them the transportation and all that. When they come into the country, about 25 percent of the people that come in on an H-2A abscend. They go off the grid, and the producer can’t get people to do that. And they have made that commitment.

With this system, that person will have that “AG” designation. The H-2A program will have a database of just guest workers that have that “AG” designation, and with the H-2A program, the goal is to make it a 10-month seasonal program.

So it gives flexibility to the worker. It gives flexibility to the producer. It creates food security for us because this is something we need. And we get rid of the adverse wage effect and we go to the country for the permit, which usually is about 115 percent above minimum wage.

But as you and I know, people who work in agriculture, and if they are picking crops or shipping stuff, they are making $250, $300 a day. They work their tails off because they are appreciative of the opportunity they have, as you said, because they want to live their dream. And they may become a citizen down the road.

So I yield back to the gentleman with this. It is a way for people to come in and work. We get rid of the touchback provision of Bob Goodlatte’s bill last year, and that comes from feedback from our dairy folks and other industries: I need year-round workers.

A touchback does not work, because we have had these people who have been here illegally for 5, 10, 15 years. Let’s work together as Americans to solve a problem so that we can sift through this and end people coming in illegally.

Madam Speaker, I yield to the gentleman if he has any other thoughts that he would like to add, he can feel free from here.
So I hear these stories, and some of the employers will say: Well, we have followed all of the laws that we are required to follow.

But common sense isn’t something that we hold them accountable for, apparently, and so the Social Security Administration under Barack Obama started issuing no-match letters.

Mr. YOHO. I think that is a great thing. That is something we do need to go into. Then, we need to have the alternative.

The gentleman brought up a good point that I have experienced, too, talking to our producers. If you get an I-9, which is the form to apply for a job, if there is a Social Security number, if you question that and don’t hire that person because you think it is not legal, he has the right to sue you, and he will win. If you don’t question that and hire that person, the Department of Labor or ICE shows up. They are going to fine you if you are hiring a person that you didn’t verify.

It is a mess. How did we become the mess? How did we become the Social Security system again and issuing the no-match letters, and hire that person because you think it is not legal, he has the right to sue you, and he will win. If you don’t question that and hire that person, the Department of Labor or ICE shows up. They are going to fine you if you are hiring a person that you didn’t verify.

That is why I don’t want Social Security associated with it, because Social Security denotes benefits, that if I am paying this, I get benefits. Those are not tied here. Money that goes in will go to other resources.

What we are proposing is that we are going to make a requirement that each person who comes in as a guest worker has to have a catastrophic health insurance policy. If you come in here and drive a car, you have to have insurance. This will be something that we are sitting down with the insurance companies about. We have a pool of about a million people who are going to need some form of catastrophic health insurance.

The other thing we are proposing is, if they are here legally, and they have a good work ethic, and they work for our Nation, we can bring in a group of people. He can get direct primary care for a small amount of money. We will allow him to deduct that cost. Then, there is catastrophic health insurance.

But common sense is not something that we hold them accountable for, apparently, and so the Social Security Administration under Barack Obama started issuing no-match letters.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE

H7457

Let’s work to finally be the Congress that says that we fixed this problem, and let’s make the American people proud and make our Nation safer.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

NEWS MEDIA CREATES FALSE NARRATIVES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker’s announced policy of January 3, 2019, the Chair recognizes the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. KING) for 30 minutes.

Mr. KING of Iowa. Madam Speaker, it is my privilege to have the opportunity to address you here on the floor of the United States House of Representatives and continue some of this dialogue.

I am changing the subject a little bit here this evening. Madam Speaker. I wanted to take up the topic that had this House of Representatives tied up in knots last January, about January 15 or so.

I was the direct subject of those things, and it has to do with, to refresh people’s memory, a misquote on me that came out in the New York Times that alleged that I had tied three phrases together. Two of them are odd, ideologies, and one of them is one of the most meritorious ideologies that the world has ever seen. Those two, it was a misquote by The New York Times.

I believe that I have introduced a document that has been publicly available since sometime last March 6, it is dated, that makes it very clear that The New York Times misquoted me and that a lot of the media out there that went into a hyperventilation fit was jumping on an issue that we have seen the pattern of many times over.

I came across a little comment about The New York Times that said, “All the news that fits the narrative, not necessarily the facts.” That seems to be what happened last January 10, when they wrote a story on me about all the news that fits the narrative, the narrative that they had created, not necessarily the facts.

I would point out, Madam Speaker, that there has been a whole series of narratives out here that turned out to be inactionable or, perhaps, false. I would say that the biggest one and the one that tied America up in knots the longest and most intensely were the allegations against Justice Brett Kavanaugh.

Of all of the folks who had accused him, none of their allegations held up. They were not corroborated in any way. It was clear that he was targeted because they didn’t want a conservative constitutionalist sitting on the bench.

I am very thankful he is sitting on the bench, and I am also very thankful and grateful of the way he conducted himself throughout those hearings.

That is not the first time we have seen this. I felt great sympathy for Justice Clarence Thomas when he endured what he referred to as a high-tech lynching back in the early 1990s. The allegations made against him were hyperventilation of the first order, and it was maybe the worst that we had seen.

I go back even further to Judge Bork, who became a verb when he was “borked” by the United States Senate. Allegations against him became, at a certain point, untenable and unsurvivable, from his career standpoint.

These people that I have mentioned so far were all wronged.

Let me put another one in, Madam Speaker: Covington Catholic boys down here by the Lincoln Memorial, standing there, respectfully and patiently, while a musical device was being pounded in front of one young man’s face.

That turned into better than a week of intense media assaults and attacks, verbally and keyboard-wise, against those Covington boys because the media’s narrative fit their narrative.

All the news that fits their narrative, but not the truth, and not stepping back to take an objective look to try to understand or it is seldom that the world is as bad as the media would like to tell us that it is. The Covington Catholic boys were exonerated when the camera was panned back, and we looked at it as Americans with the full context of what was going on. They were patiently enduring and experiencing something that I am sure was a unique experience for them.

They hadn’t spent time to speak of here in Washington, D.C. They hadn’t been involved in a demonstration of that kind. Just innocent young men, clean-out, one of them wearing a Make America Great cap, probably more of them doing that, and patiently there. People would say: Have you ever seen such a punchable face? I would call it a very innocent face of a young man who kept a tight little smile on his face while he waited for that drum to be finished being beat in front of his face.

I would add another one about that same period of time, Madam Speaker, Michael Cohen, the President’s attorney at that period of time, or former attorney. The news media was all over that Michael Cohen had been directed to lie to the President of the United States, Donald Trump. That was a story that lived for 4 or 5 or more days until the truth came out that that story was untrue either. It was all the news that fit the narratives of The New York Times and others, but it wasn’t true, and she finally admitted it.

I have just listed some along here. Madam Speaker, here are some other stories that were put before us where there has been no consequence and no action taken; there is Governor Ralph Northam of Virginia, just across the Potomac, who was either the fellow in blackface or the fellow in the KKK costume. We are not sure which but, apparently, he is one of them, but no action was taken on that.

That was a long time ago. I am okay with acknowledging what took place; looking at the man that he is today. But the hyperventilation around that was very intense, and it was also a narrative that the news media wanted to be true.

I believe one of those two things seems to have a lot of legs. Lieutenant Governor Justin Fairfax, multiple accusations of sexual assault; no action down there.

The Attorney General Mark Herring confessed that he was in blackface. No action down there. So there is a stalemate in Virginia.

No consequence for these three allegations in Virginia. No consequence so far for Jussie Smollett. No consequence so far for Erica Thomas. We saw all those things.

Madam Speaker, by the way, I will point out that I have not been critical of the comments made by Members of Congress, no matter how much press they have gotten.

The Quad Squad has gotten a lot of press for certain statements. They do have a right to freedom of speech. But with regard to AOC and Ilhan Omar, and Rashida Tlaib, and Ayanna Pressley, some of those statements that are made are on their face pretty stark.
I think our job here in America is to recognize that people have a right to freedom of speech. It is a constitutional guarantee.

I sat with some people that were, I will say, significantly seasoned in the world, and they are people who were out of Europe. And I said to them: You need constitutional protection for freedom of speech in the same way, along the lines that we have in America, because we are protected. We can say what we want to say; freedom of speech is a basic right, the press, and to peaceably assemble, and to petition the government for redress of grievance.

That is America.

The ability to express our thoughts and our ideas and freely exchange them with others generates other ideas. Bad ideas drift by the wayside after they are examined in open public dialogue; and good ideas get legs, as you saw tonight with Congressman Yono lifting his immigration bill up before everyone for community to debate.

Good ideas sustain themselves. Bad ideas, if you have a rational public that believes in the age of reason—and we need to be sustaining this age of reason—then the world gets to be a better place.

If we suppress thoughts and we suppress dialogue, if we tell people they don’t have freedom of speech, if we punish them for exercising their constitutional right to freedom of speech, it diminishes all of us because then we don’t have competing ideas. We only have the repetition of politically correct utterances; and that is not going to allow us to do for a number of reasons; but one of them was, I didn’t want to see this become a witch hunt.

So, Madam Speaker, I am making this the floor here over the years have shaped the fabric of America. We often say this is the greatest debate body in the world here. I am not as convinced of that today, or this year, as I was up to this point.

When I see that there was a false allegation made against me, a misquote in The New York Times, intentional or not, has turned into something that is supposedly a fact; and then, the things that are clear are repeated over and over again by a media that wants their narrative to be true.

So there was a resolution that came to the floor here in the House that was introduced by Mr. McCARTHY that he could get it right.

That is part of the quote, not all of it. It is not even quoted in the context that the article quoted it in. But that is actually a true statement that is a whopper.

And then there are a whole series of whereas here that reject the odious ideology that White supremacy and White nationalism—are there a whole lot of other odious ideologies, and some of them are openly defended here on the floor of this House of Representatives, not either one of those, not by me, and not by anybody.

I agreed with those whereas all the way down. In fact, the rejection that I had put into this CONGRESSIONAL RECORD the previous Friday was more stark, and it rejected those odious ideologies more distinctly and more effectively than the resolution that was introduced by Mr. CLYBURN.

All those whereas I agree with. I got down to the resolve of this resolution. It says: “Resolved, that the House of Representatives once again rejects white nationalism and white supremacy as hateful expressions of intolerance that are contradictory to the values that define the people of the United States.”

Agreed again.

So, Madam Speaker, I am making this point that the world seems to forget that this is supported in this resolution, because it was true. All it said about me was that The New York—that I had been quoted as saying that. That is true. The New York Times quoted me as saying that. I don’t have any reason to disagree with this. I voted for it, and I asked all of the Members to vote for it for a number of reasons; but one of them was, I didn’t want to see this Congress split over something like this.

Why are we policing something of this nature?

Why does Congress think that we should police the speech of Members on the floor here, especially if it doesn’t violate the rules, or outside these Chambers?

Never in the history of the United States House of Representatives has a Member been removed from committee because of even an accurate quote by the press outside these walls. It didn’t take place in this building or on the Capitol grounds in any way whatsoever.

Never has even an accurate quote been used to sanction a Member of Congress.

So we have, instead, a misquote that was in a 56-minute telephone interview with The New York Times reporter who asserted—and our Minority Leader KEVIN McCARTHY said that he talked to him on the phone—he said he could type as fast as anybody can talk and he can punctuate accurately. So I am wondering why he stopped me a couple of times in that 56-minute interview and asked me to repeat a sentence so that he could get it right.

In fact, I am going to guess that there isn’t anybody that can take a conventional typewriter and type accurately and punctuate accurately at the speed that I talk in a normal conversation.

In fact, the wonderful Christy over here, and her magic keyboard, can barely keep up at about 250 words a minute when I am rolling along. And I feel a little sorry for her, but I like her a lot.

And so that is my point: There is no reporter that is even capable of doing that. But he has convinced KEVIN McCARTHY that he is the “magic finger man” and he couldn’t possibly make a mistake; not with a hyphen; not with comma; not with a voice inflection.

Oh, by the way, this is going to be a little harder now, Christy, because Zig Ziglar used to use this to describe how things can be misconstrued. And I am wondering why this is going to be misconstrued.

It just happened to fit the narrative that The New York Times and a number of other liberal organizations wanted.

But Zig Ziglar would put it out this way: There are four different ways, and it is going to be printed all the same way in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD, and then I am going to explain what is different.

But, Madam Speaker, for those that are watching on C-SPAN, to understand how language works, it works like this: He would say, I never said she stole the money, with the emphasis on the word “she”. That says one thing: I never said she stole the money.

Another way to say the same words are: I never said she stole the money, with the emphasis on the word “stole”.

Another one is, I never said she stole the money, with the emphasis on the word “I”.

And the last one is: I never said she stole the money, with the emphasis on the word “money”. There are four different meanings that come out of exactly the same words.
And KEVIN MCCARTHY, and a handful of others, believe that somehow the punctuation that was in The New York Times, and the hyperventilation that emerged on the punctuation of The New York Times, is justifiable to attempt to disenfranchise 755,000 Iowans. And the denier denounces the evidence that more people voted for me in the last election than they did KEVIN MCCARTHY, or the chair of the Republican Conference.

And the legitimacy that was conferred upon me was conferred after any other allegation other than this misquote that happens to be of The New York Times.

Now, I would add, handling language in this way is this way; that the dialogue that went on in that 56-minute interview was a dialogue that the reporter refuses to even speculate as to what question it was that he might have asked me.

I’m pretty sure that he didn’t have that note down in his notes either, so he doesn’t know the question.

But I am going to submit that it was about the discussion that had to do with the weaponization of language; the weaponization of language that has been called out by the left.

And I happen to know that there was a meeting in the Mandarin Hotel here in Washington, D.C. that commenced on November 12, 2016; and that was going to be a meeting on how to exploit the Hillary presidency if she was going to be President-elect on that day, when that 3-day conference began.

But as it turned out, it was President-elect Donald Trump that they had to react to and figure out how they were going to take the highest levels of the Democratic Party that emerged in the Mandarin Hotel, including George Soros, whose picture was on the front of the article written by Politico on that day.

One of that came a number of weaponization strategies; one of them was the resistance movement. And you saw demonstrations in the streets all over America that commenced shortly after that, all the way through the inauguration, and for a month or two after that, all these demonstrations.

The idea was, don’t let Donald Trump govern. If you weren’t successful in beating him in the election; if—let’s just say, Peter Strzok and Lisa Page and those who said they weren’t going to ever let it happen, and the rest of that cabal, they fell short in the election, but they continued to try to deny Donald Trump the opportunity to rule and to function as the President of the United States.

Madam Speaker, that topic has been before us intensively as recently as yesterday.

And so, the strategy that came out of the Mandarin Hotel in that conference that began with the Democratic Party at the highest levels there, including George Soros and the DNC, on Sunday, the 12th of November—it happened to be Charles Manson’s birthday, I happen to know. I don’t know why I know that—but it was about the weaponization of terms.

Our discussion in that interview with The New York Times was about the weaponization of terms. And I have spoken of the weaponization of terms before. And in that interview with The Christian Science Monitor, and there, it is a clear quote that rolls along that says: It is about weaponizing these terms.

And I happen to know——if I can find it here, The Christian Science Monitor article. It was using the terms Western civilization or Western culture as that—why is it that they are trying to turn that into a pejorative term? And that interview was clearly done in the terms Western civilization, and it is clear that that would be the topic I was talking about; not advocacy for odious ideologies, but instead wondering why it would be that the left would be seeking to weaponize the very meritorious identity of Western civilization. That is clearly the case.

And I have been attacked for defending Western civilization, but I have never defended White nationalism or White supremacy.

And so this chart, the blue line shows 10, 30, 20,000 times used, virtually unused before. And I explained and asserted that they are weaponizing that term, and they are injecting it into the dialogue and using that as a pejorative term against anybody they can stick this label on.

And that is exactly what was going on, and that is exactly what I defined in that interview that was so objected to, because the minority leader made a point that, well, you know, that I had defined “white nationalism.” And my reward for being so precise? And my reward for being so accurate, my reward for defending Western civilization is a pejorative decision that is unprecedented in the history of the United States Congress to stifle my freedom of speech and to limit, to the extent they could, my ability to be reelected going into the future.

That is the kind of thing we can’t have in this Congress is for someone to think they have the authority to determine who is not going to represent people outside of their own district. That we built a pretty good place. It is the best place in the world to live and raise a family.

We have people that are coming back. When they are young, sometimes they will go off and look at the rest of the country or the world, but they come back, especially when it is time for the kids to go to schoo, and they contribute back to the community, generation on top of generation on top of generation.

That is one of the things that I have worked to establish.

In the time we have been here in Congress, we have taken Iowa into number one, the Fourth Congressional District into number one in the production of renewable fuels and energy. By the time you add together the ethanol, biodiesel, wind and, now, solar, we produce more BTUS of energy than any other congressional district that is a renewable outside of this.

We have gotten transportation routes that have been set up, four-lane Highway 20 is done. We rank in the top first or second or third in corn and soybeans and in pork and in egg production, right at or near the top in all of that. It is a wholesome place.

When I look outside from my place, I see no neighbors, but I never had a bad one. And we have got a crop that looks great this year.

When I see all those little kids boiling up to the front of our church to put their dollar in the basket, those kids are going to grow up in those communities, too, and we are going to have generation after generation that replicates and improves upon the success that we have had.

But we can’t do that if we are going to live in a country where there is an arbitrary and capricious and false conclusion that has been drawn by KEVIN MCCARTHY. And so that situation needs free or die out there in the plains, and that came across the prairie to live west. We are descended from people straightest of answers.

so, and I give them the bad news when I know; and I give them the good news saying.

And one of the things my constituents like about me is they always get the straight, unvarnished truth whether they like it or not. And they will come up and they will say: I don’t ever dance around with words. I don’t wait until they have a good job. You open up the doors and you give them back their freedom. And in this case, you give back to the people of Iowa the full-throated representation of their senior Member, the dean of the Iowa House of Representatives.
