HONORING MARCA BRISTO

(Ms. SHALALA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. SHALALA. Mr. Speaker, I rise in honor of a friend, Marca Bristo, the brilliant advocate for people with disabilities. She passed away recently at the age of 66.

In 1977, she became paralyzed from the chest down after a diving accident at the age of 23. As she adjusted to life in a wheelchair, she struggled to navigate in an often deeply inaccessible world.

Before long, she founded what is now Access Living, a Chicago-based nonprofit organization focusing on service and advocacy for people with disabilities. She served as CEO until shortly before her death.

Marca helped write the Americans with Disabilities Act, landmark legislation that extended the Civil Rights Act to people with disabilities. The bill was signed into law in 1990.

Four years later, President Clinton appointed her to serve as Chair of the National Council on Disability, where she continued working to increase accessibility and to fight disability discrimination.

Her work revolutionized disability rights. She melded an unparalleled sense of legislative strategy with deep compassion for people with disabilities.

We will remember her with pride as we continue to work to expand disability rights.

AMERICA MUST LEAD ON CLIMATE CHANGE

(Ms. PLASKETT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. PLASKETT. Mr. Speaker, this week, the United Nations is hosting its Climate Action Summit. Robust funding and sound policies are needed to ensure we effectively combat climate change.

Threatened by increasingly more frequent and extreme changes in our climate, territories like the U.S. Virgin Islands stand at the front line of this quickly escalating climate crisis.

Within the past decade, my district has reduced fossil fuel use by 20 percent and has become a regional leader in clean energy. States and territories have also passed regional and State-specific legislation to combat climate change, but we need a comprehensive, forward-looking national plan to address this threat to our children and our children's children.

While we don't yet have all the tools to address rapid climate change, we must create them through increased Federal investment in research, development, and deployment of emerging technologies.

Across the Nation, climate change is threatening our economy and our lives.

Hurricanes like Irma and Maria collectively cost $140 billion, according to NOAA, and, most importantly, they cost thousands of lives.

America must lead the charge to preserve our planet.

END HIDDEN TRAVEL FEES

(Ms. JOHNSON of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. JOHNSON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, this summer, we witnessed a record number of Americans take the opportunity to travel. Unfortunately, this also meant a record number of travelers were subjected to hidden fees charged by hotels, motels, and other places of accommodation.

It is projected that, in 2019 alone, over $3 billion in revenue will be collected from consumers due to these deceptive hidden fees.

That is why I, along with my colleague Mr. FORTENBERRY from Nebraska, have introduced H.R. 4489, the Hotel Advertising Transparency Act. This bill would require the prices regularly advertised by hotels and online travel agencies to include all mandatory fees that will be charged to a consumer, excluding taxes.

Mr. Speaker, consumers deserve full transparency when making their travel plans. They should be able to enjoy their vacations without being ripped off and financially burdened with almost twice as much as the room that had been advertised.
