House of Representatives

The House met at noon and was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. EVANS).

DESIGNATION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:

WASHINGTON, DC, October 28, 2019.
I hereby appoint the Honorable D WIGHT EVANS to act as Speaker pro tempore on this day.

NANCY PELOSI,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

MORNING-HOUR DEBATE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of January 3, 2019, the Chair will now recognize Members from lists submitted by the majority and minority leaders for morning-hour debate.

The Chair will alternate recognition between the parties. All time shall be equally allocated between the parties, and in no event shall debate continue beyond 1:50 p.m. Each Member, other than the majority and minority leaders and the minority whip, shall be limited to 5 minutes.

RECOGNIZING DR. DANIEL P. KING

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas (Mr. VELA) for 5 minutes.

Mr. VELA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Dr. Daniel F. King for his service to the Rio Grande Valley in the State of Texas.

Dr. King is a proven leader in the 34th Congressional District of Texas. As a public school superintendent for the last 14 years, he has guided dis-

AFFORDABLE HEALTH CARE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. MARSHALL) for 5 minutes.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, last week the biggest news in Congress was overshadowed by an impeachment circus. The Republican Study Committee and our task force introduced a frame-

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, this morning I want to applaud the efforts of my colleagues across the aisle on their efforts and the United States Trade Representative closer to approving the USMCA trade agreement. I remain very optimistic that we can get this passed in Congress and that we can get this done this fall.

It is time to deliver the USMCA agreement for Kansas. We have waited over a year, and it is now time to pass this agreement. This agreement will mean thousands of jobs and hundreds of millions of dollars of increased exports for Kansas.

Today I want to remind the Speaker of the importance of the USMCA deal and to please bring it to the floor where we can vote on it and deliver for America.

RURAL ENERGY

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, this morning I want to stop and say thanks to Mother Nature for all the blessings she has given Kansas, in particular the fact that we are an energy rich State. She has given us oil, natural gas, wind, and solar production.

We want to stop and applaud the efforts of what the USDA and the Department of Energy formally did last week as they worked together to facilitate energy-related investments in America's rural communities to encourage investments in our new and improved rural energy production and infrastructure.

Additionally, focus on cybersecurity and grid improvements to secure our rural energy networks are also happening. This work builds upon President Trump's energy task force on agriculture and rural prosperity.

Mr. Speaker, so much for making rural America stronger today.

ABU BAKR AL-BAGHDADI IS NO MORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California (Mr. LA MALFA) for 5 minutes.

Mr. LA MALFA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to highlight the tremendous news we all received over the weekend that the world's most wanted terrorist and leader of ISIS, Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi, was killed in a U.S.-led raid in northern Syria.

As the self-proclaimed leader of the Islamic State, al-Baghdadi was directly involved in countless atrocities and demonstrated complete disregard for human rights and human life. Genocide, sex slavery, organized rape, mass executions via crucifixion, stoning, burning in cages or flogging—al-Baghdadi's brutality knew no limits.

The world is unquestionably a better place without this purveyor of evil inhabiting it at this time.

I commend U.S. Joint Special Operations Command's 1st Special Forces Operational Detachment-Delta, also known as Delta Force, for the flawless execution of their mission—and without any U.S. casualties.

I also commend President Trump and his administration for authorizing this raid and bringing one of the most dangerous men in the world to justice. They have done good work in the Syria situation. This will go down as a significant achievement in the war against terror.

In the immediate aftermath of the announcement becoming public, most people from both sides of the aisle celebrated this accomplishment—but not all.

Mr. Speaker, you may have seen the headlines from the Washington Post: “Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi, an austere religious scholar at the helm of Islamic State dies at 48.”

Even in this age of questionable reporting, this headline and others like it are reprehensible. In fact, his last cowardly action on Earth was to detonate a suicide vest as he was being hunted down by some of our specialized military dogs as well as our personnel. Great work. In doing so, with his suicide vest, he also took the lives of three of his own children.

U.S. Special Operations Forces didn't kill just a noble religious scholar as was headlined. They actually killed a deranged, radicalized madman who was directly responsible for the brutal murders of countless people: Americans and his own country people from that part of the world as well.

While the headline has since been changed by the Washington Post, they should be ashamed of themselves. We don't mourn the loss of terrorists in the United States of America.

Now, this victory doesn't mean the war against terror is won by any means, but it should send a loud, clear, and unmistakable message to the rest of the world that the United States will root out evil wherever it is and wherever it hides. Our enemies are not safe, and they never will be.

We celebrate this evil's removal from the Earth embodied by al-Baghdadi. Anyone who is willing to commit these types of atrocities should understand one thing: We will not rest as a Nation and as a military until they are wiped out from the face of the Earth.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until 2 p.m. today.

Accordingly (at 12 o'clock and 12 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess.

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Ms. KELLY of Illinois) at 2 p.m.

PRAYER

Reverend Dr. Derek W.H. Thomas, First Presbyterian Church, Columbia, South Carolina, offered the following prayer:

“Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord.”

Today, I humbly ask that You would bless our Congressional leaders. Grant them the wisdom of Solomon to address the complex issues of government, ensuring that the legitimate needs of our citizens are faithfully represented. At a moment of tension and division, I ask that Your will might be done ensuring the preservation of liberty and justice for all.

I especially pray for those who protect our Nation and today may be in THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has called the Journal of the last day's proceedings and announces to the House her approval thereof.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. JOYCE) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. JOYCE of Pennsylvania led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

WELCOMING DR. DEREK W.H. THOMAS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. WILSON) is recognized for 1 minute.

There was no objection.

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Madam Speaker, the Reverend Dr. Derek William Henry Thomas is the senior pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Columbia, South Carolina, and the Chancellor's Professor of Systematic and Pastoral Theology at Reformed Theological Seminary.

A native of Wales in the United Kingdom, Dr. Thomas completed his master's training at Reformed Theological Seminary and received his Ph.D. from the University of Wales, Lampeter. He served as a pastor for 17 years in Belfast, Northern Ireland, before returning to the United States to serve as the minister of teaching at First Presbyterian Church in Jackson, Mississippi. He was called to his present position in 2013. He has written or edited 25 books becoming editorial director for the Alliance of Confessing Evangelicals and the editor of its e-zine, Reformation 21.

He and his wife, Rosemary, have been married for 43 years, have two adult children, and are naturalized citizens of the United States.

The First Presbyterian Church was the first church organized in the capital of South Carolina and will celebrate its semicentennial next year. It is the largest congregation in the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Synod with 5,000 members.

The historic First Presbyterian Churchyard was established in 1798 with Federal legislators interred along with Ann Pamela Cunningham who founded the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association in 1853 saving President George Washington's home from collapse. Also interred are President Woodrow Wilson's parents, Reverend Joseph and Jessie Wilson.

CONGRATULATING THE NORTH CAROLINA COURAGE

(Mr. PRICE of North Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate the North Carolina Courage for their second straight National Women's Soccer League Championship and their third title in the past 4 years.

Their four-goal win was the largest margin of victory in NWSL history. The Triangle area that I represent in North Carolina has truly embraced this team with a record-setting crowd attending Sunday's match.

Now, this was truly a team effort, but I do want to give a special shout-out to Coach Paul Riley, MVP Debinha Miri, and the retiring great—Heather O'Reilly. I must also mention the four members from the Courage who also led us to victory in the 2019 Women's World Cup: Crystal Dunn, Sam Mewis, Abby Dahlkemper, and Jessica McDonald.

Thank you for making North Carolina proud. And congratulations again to the North Carolina Courage.

SALUTING OUR TROOPS FOR ELIMINATING ABU BAKR AL-BAGHDADI

(Ms. FOXX of North Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. FOXX of North Carolina. Madam Speaker, today, thanks to the relentless efforts of our military's special operations servicemen, ISIS leader Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi, is dead and our world is a safer place. Saturday night's victory over this violent enemy is due to our troops' selfless sacrifices and superior work with our Nation's intelligence operatives.

President Trump has shown that under his command there is no safe place for terrorists, and I thank him and our troops for helping keep our country free and safe.

Providing national security is the number one job of the Federal Government. Now it is time the House of Representatives puts our troops first by passing the Department of Defense Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2020 to support our military's continued success and ensure the safest possible outcome in all its missions.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO DR. PATRICIA SKINNER

(Mr. MCHENRY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MCHENRY. Madam Speaker, I rise to pay tribute to a great education leader in my district, Dr. Patricia Skinner of Gaston College. She has been president of Gaston College for 25 years, nearly half of the college's existence.

Over the last two decades, the college has seen tremendous progress. Dr. Skinner facilitated the opening of two new campuses in addition to the construction of 11 new academic and administrative buildings and recently opened the Center for Advanced Manufacturing at the Dallas campus.

She has done a fantastic and phenomenal job, and we wish her great success in her retirement. Spending more time with her two daughters and her grandchildren will put her through the paces as we well know.

We wish Dr. Skinner well in her retirement.

NATIONAL FIRST RESPONDERS DAY

(Mr. JOYCE of Pennsylvania asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. JOYCE of Pennsylvania. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the service and the sacrifice of our Nation's first responders.

In Pennsylvania and around the entire country, police officers, firefighters, EMTs, and other emergency personnel are willing to put their lives on the line each and every day that they report to duty. On today, National First Responders Day, we thank these men and women and their families for serving our communities.

As a member of the Homeland Security Committee, I am committed to ensuring that first responders are well-equipped to do the job that we have entrusted them to do. This month it was my privilege to announce that FEMA, through the Assistance to Firefighters Grant Program, has awarded nearly $3 million to local fire companies and first responders in the 13th District of Pennsylvania. These funds will help them to acquire much-needed equipment and training.

When there is an emergency, we know that our first responders will be there, and Congress needs to be there for them too.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until approximately 2:30 p.m. today. Accordingly (at 2 o'clock and 9 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess.

may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and insert extraneous material on H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Oregon? There was no objection.

Ms. BONAMICI. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019. I introduced this bipartisan bill to reauthorize and update the Older Americans Act, or OAA, which was first passed in 1965 as part of President Lyndon Johnson’s Great Society initiative.

For more than 50 years, OAA programs have helped older Americans maintain their independence and their dignity.

Today, the Older Americans Act serves about 11 million individuals each year, with 3 million of those Americans regularly on OAA programs to meet their basic needs. Unfortunately, funding for the Older Americans Act lags far behind the increasing demand for its services.

Although the population of Americans over age 60 has grown more than 60 percent since 2001, OAA funding has only grown by about 20 percent. Adjusting for inflation, this means that OAA funding has declined by about 16 percent.

That erosion of funding exacerbates the vast unmet need in my home State of Oregon and across the country. It means that every day in our communities there are seniors who do not have the care they need and deserve. I have heard and read too many stories about seniors rationing medication or saving portions of their meal so they can stretch their resources just a bit further into the week. I will never forget the story I heard of an 80-year-old woman I introduced who was living in her car. She did not know where to turn for help.

Far too many Americans continue to face poverty, discrimination, and barriers to basic necessities. This is, in part, because OAA programs are underfunded and not fully supported.

According a 2015 GAO report, OAA services do not reach 83 percent of the low-income, older Americans who experience food insecurity. That is more than four out of every five seniors in need.

Today, we recommit to investing in OAA programs because we have an obligation, a moral obligation, to take care of those who cared for us.

The Dignity in Aging Act authorizes record levels of funding for OAA programs, which will help expand access to food assistance, transportation, and other basic services that the growing population of seniors need to live independently.

Under this bill, all OAA programs are eligible to receive an immediate 7 percent increase in funding and a 6 percent increase each year thereafter. This will result in a more than 35 percent total increase in program funding over the 5-year reauthorization program, restoring OAA funding to pre-recession baseline.

This is a good investment because OAA programs help seniors stay in their homes and out of costly facilities.

The bill also recognizes the need to support family caregivers and direct-care workers. It extends the RAISE Family Caregivers Act, which helps develop a national strategy to recognize and support those caring for their loved ones. My 91-year-old mother has Alzheimer’s, so I know how important caregivers are.

H.R. 4334 strengthens our focus on combating social isolation, which greatly increases the risk of stroke, heart disease, dementia, and premature death. It does so by incorporating social isolation screening into the health and supportive services that seniors receive and by empowering local organizations to evaluate solutions for social isolation.

The Dignity in Aging Act also establishes a National Research, Demonstration, and Evaluation Center for the Aging Network. This center will be responsible for promoting, supporting, and coordinating research, including evaluation and demonstration projects and related technical assistance through the act. The center will increase the repository of information on evidence-based programs and interventions available to the Aging Network.

The bill improves economic opportunity and engagement for older Americans. It includes individuals who are justice-involved as a priority population for the Senior Community Service Employment Program.

The bill also encourages the inclusion of arts education and cultural experiences, among other supportive services, and further allows for demonstration projects to be used for multigenerational collaboration projects that provide opportunities for older individuals to participate in multigenerational activities and civic engagement activities.

Finally, this bipartisan legislation seeks to improve services for historically underserved and marginalized individuals, including Native Americans, Holocaust survivors, and LGBT seniors. For example, it will create a National Technical Assistance Center dedicated to expanding the Aging Network’s capacity to deliver person-centered, trauma-informed services that meet the needs of aging trauma survivors.

The bill codifies the National Resource Center on Women and Retirement to recognize the ongoing importance of their work, and it improves data collection and outreach for all resource centers that focus on populations needing additional or unique services.

This bill provides a rare bipartisan opportunity to help millions of older Americans across the country spend less of their limited income on costly care and, just as importantly, empowers every individual to age with dignity.

I would like to thank Education and Labor Committee Chairman BOBBY SCOTT and Ranking Member VIRGINIA FOXX, as well as my colleagues on the bill—Representative ELISE STEFANIK; Subcommittee Ranking Member Representative JAMES COMER; and Representatives SUSIE LEE, SUSAN WILD, SCOTT FITZGERALD, and DUSTY JOHNSON—for working together to bring this bipartisan bill to the floor.

I also want to thank the hardworking staff, especially Carrie Hughes and Ali Harding from the committee; my personal office staff: Jack Arriaga, Allison Smith, and Rachael Bornstein; and the staff on both sides of the aisle.

Mr. Speaker, I encourage my colleagues to join me in supporting this bill. That is our obligation for those who have cared for us, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. STEFANIK. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

As the Representatives of a district that has one of the largest constituencies of older Americans, I am proud to rise as a coauthor of H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act, bipartisan legislation that reauthorizes the Older Americans Act, which will directly benefit the seniors in my district and the seniors across the country.

Since 1965, this statute has provided a wide range of social and nutrition services for Americans aged 60 years or older. In addition, programs like Meals on Wheels, the Older Americans Act supports services that include nutrition programs providing meals at senior centers, schools, and churches; care to prevent abuse, neglect, and exploitation of seniors; family caregiver support systems; and community service employment opportunities for older Americans.

This legislation is full of bipartisan agreements and provisions during times of stark political divide, it is encouraging to be here today with my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to speak in support of the Dignity in Aging Act, which is the product of a diligent, congenial effort that embodies the good that can come from working across the aisle.

The bill before us today provides States the flexibility to spend funds on the issues impacting their senior communities, which include support for older Americans who have become caregivers of younger relatives due to the devastating toll of the opioid epidemic on our communities.

It enhances the cost effectiveness of critical programs by requires program accountability and integrity by prohibiting the renewal of grants that do not demonstrate effectiveness.

It assists formerly incarcerated, older individuals in reentering the workforce and, rather than re-offender, ensures that funded programs are evidence based and effectively serving seniors.
Additionally, this bill includes long-overdue updates from the Younger Onset Alzheimer’s Act that I co-led with my friend and colleague from New York, Congresswoman KATHLEEN RICE. Those under 60 with this heartbreaking disease face unique hardships, for themselves and for their families. The current support structures for individuals with Alzheimer’s are focused almost exclusively on seniors, leaving the 200,000 Americans living with younger onset Alzheimer’s without access to critical services.

This bill ensures individuals of any age living with Alzheimer’s receive full access to the services and support provided by the Older Americans Act. I am also very proud to say that included in this bill is language from another bipartisan legislative proposal that I coauthored encouraging the use of caregiver assessments to identify the needs of family caregivers. This individualized approach to care will ensure that both caregivers and those who require assistance are provided tailored support to achieve the best possible health outcomes.

There is another group of older Americans in this country who must not be forgotten: the nearly 80,000 Holocaust survivors who live among us. As victims of the very worst of humanity, Holocaust survivors deserve devoted care and support to address the unimaginable, horrific trauma they experienced. Sadly, one-third of our country’s Holocaust survivors live in poverty.

During the markup process in the House Committee on Education and Labor, I was honored to work with my friend and colleague, Representative BONAMICI, on a provision that works to address the needs of aging Holocaust survivors. Institutional placement can present a unique challenge to those who have suffered the trauma of the Holocaust, so it is critical that these individuals are identified for the services necessary to support independent living. Our provision will ensure local outreach efforts place a special emphasis on Holocaust survivors and others at risk for institutional placement.

Additionally, the bill recognizes the specific needs of this community by ensuring that nutrition programs should meet the religious, cultural, or ethnic dietary requirements of all older Americans.

These men and women have survived unconscionable suffering, yet many continue to live with physical and emotional scars from the horror they faced. Together, we acknowledge their resilience and seek to offer opportunities that allow them to live healthy, dignified, and independent lives through their elder years.

Mr. Speaker, I am encouraged by the bipartisan effort from the Education and Labor Committee that has resulted in the legislation before us today. I strongly encourage all of my colleagues to vote “yes” on H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act. In doing so, we reaffirm our commitment to our Nation’s older generation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BONAMICI. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT), chairman of the Subcommittee on Civil Rights and Human Services for the Committee on Education and Labor. Because of her leadership, we are here today to consider the Dignity in Aging Act and to reauthorize the Older Americans Act and, thereby, support and invest in our Nation’s seniors.

Mr. Speaker, I yield the balance of my time.

Mr. SCOTT. I am pleased to have the opportunity to join my colleagues in support of this bipartisan bill that has been introduced by Representative BONAMICI and my colleagues in the Committee on Education and Labor to advance the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019.

This important legislation builds upon the flexi- dard flexibility that the Older Americans Act currently provides to older caregivers raising younger relatives. These provisions will be especially beneficial for my constituents in Kentucky where, in the midst of the opioid crisis, many older relatives have taken on the responsibilities of raising children whose parents are not present or unable to take care of them.

As an original cosponsor of this legislation, and the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Jurisdiction, I appreciate the work of Chairwoman BONAMICI, and my colleagues on the Committee on Education and Labor to advance the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019.

I urge all my colleagues to support this legislation to build upon the flexible policies found in the Older Americans Act to promote consumer-driven, independent living for our Nation’s elderly population.

Ms. BONAMICI. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Illinois (Ms. UNDERWOOD), a member of the Education and Labor Committee.

Ms. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019. This is a strong bipartisan bill to reauthorize the Older Americans Act, which provides vital services and support to seniors and their families in our community.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, today’s life expectancy rate in our Nation is at a historic high, and that is great news. It also means we need to be doing all we can to ensure that Americans have access to quality, timely services which allow them to live independently in their homes and communities.

Since 1965, the Older Americans Act, or OAA, has governed the organization and delivery of services for senior citizens throughout the country. With more than 41 million Americans aged 65 and older, the social and nutritional programs offered by OAA are critical to helping them maintain independence.

The reach of this law is substantial and covers many aspects of elder care. In addition to well-known programs like Meals on Wheels, OAA supports services provided by more than 300 State organizations and approximately 20,000 local providers. Some of these services include: Nutrition programs providing meals at senior centers, senior centers, and churches; respite care to prevent the abuse, neglect, and exploitation of seniors; family caregiver support systems; and community service employment opportunities for older Americans. These types of programs offer valuable assistance for America’s seniors, and we must ensure the law is aging as well as the people it serves.

I am proud that our committee has worked together to produce bipartisan, effective legislation to support our Nation’s seniors. Specifically, the Dignity in Aging Act we are considering today eliminates the arbitrary cap on the percentage of funding Area Agencies on Aging can use to provide services to older caregivers raising younger relatives. These provisions will be especially beneficial for my constituents in Kentucky where, in the midst of the opioid crisis, many older relatives have taken on the responsibilities of raising children whose parents are not present or unable to take care of them.

As an original cosponsor of this legislation, and the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Jurisdiction, I appreciate the work of Chairwoman BONAMICI, and my colleagues on the Committee on Education and Labor to advance the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019.

I urge all my colleagues to support this legislation to build upon the flexible policies found in the Older Americans Act to promote consumer-driven, independent living for our Nation’s elderly population.

Ms. BONAMICI. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Illinois (Ms. UNDERWOOD), a member of the Education and Labor Committee.

Ms. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019. This is a strong bipartisan bill to reauthorize the Older Americans Act, which provides vital services and support to seniors and their families in our community.
Reauthorization has been an important local priority in my community in northern Illinois. During the August work period, I held a roundtable on the issue at the Fox Valley Older Adult Services with local stakeholders. Their priorities for reauthorization included funding, transportation, legal services, and support for seniors who age in place, and their caregivers.

That is why I am so proud that the bill we are discussing today, among other improvements: Increases overall transportation program funding by 33 percent; improves access to that funding; increases availability and accessibility of meals for seniors; and strengthens support for family caregivers, including those caring for individuals with younger-onset Alzheimer’s disease.

I am so proud that this bill includes my bipartisan amendment to ensure that programs that serve seniors are ready to respond to outbreaks or other public health emergencies.

The Older Americans Act was originally enacted in 1965 and supports a range of home and community-based programs for Americans age 60 and older. These programs include nutritional services like Meals on Wheels, in-home and adult daycare, transportation services, legal aid, elder abuse prevention, and vital assistance and support for family caregivers. These programs have become absolutely essential in 2020 for individuals with Alzheimer’s disease and their families. However, today 5 percent of Americans living with Alzheimer’s disease, approximately 250,000 people, are living with younger-onset Alzheimer’s, a disease that has a particularly devastating effect on families, with diagnoses coming in individual’s thirties, forties, or fifties, when they still have young children, new homes and growing careers. They are in the prime of their lives, but also have the financial stability to leave the workforce, which is usually inevitable.

And because of their young age, they are currently ineligible for all OAA-funded programs. Virtually overnight, these families face unimaginable and unforeseen financial and emotional strain; and yet they are denied access to critical OAA programs, programs that we know work, and that so many people with Alzheimer’s rely on every day.

By including major provisions from our bill, the Dignity in Aging Act will ensure that younger Alzheimer’s patients and their families have access to critical programs and support.

Before I conclude, Mr. Speaker, I want to take a moment to acknowledge two of my constituents who helped bring this issue to my attention, Karen Henley and Connie Wasserman. Karen lost her husband, Mike, to younger-onset Alzheimer’s in 2012. He was diagnosed at the age of 36 and passed away at 47.

KAREN, Mike, and their two children, Brandon and Courtney, experienced firsthand how challenging it is for people with this disease to find affordable and quality care.

Connie Wasserman is the Associate Executive Director of Social Services of the Sid Jacobson JCC in East Hills, New York. For years, she has played a crucial role in supporting people and families living with younger-onset Alzheimer’s right on Long Island, families like the Henleys, who had nowhere to go.

But because the government does not fund Alzheimer’s programs for people under the age of 60, Connie has had to start her own. And right now, she relies almost entirely on private funding.

Connie and Karen have become tireless advocates for those living with younger-onset Alzheimer’s and are happy to work closely with my colleagues on the Committee on Education and Labor to support the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019.

As fate should have it, today is Karen and Mike Henley’s wedding anniversary and, in honor of them, I ask all of my colleagues to support the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019.

Ms. STEFANIK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. FOXX), the Republican leader of the Committee on Education and Labor.

Ms. FOXX of North Carolina, Mr. Speaker, I would like to begin by thanking Representative STEFANIK for her leadership on this legislation before us today.

I rise today to speak in support of H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act, which will reauthorize the Older Americans Act through 2024.

For over 50 years, the Older Americans Act, or OAA, has helped provide social and nutrition services to older Americans. With more than 40 million Americans aged 65 and older, the programs and services offered by OAA are helping them maintain independence, and the data shows overwhelmingly that these programs help older Americans live higher-quality lives.

The reach of this law is substantial and covers many aspects of elder care beyond just well-known programs like Meals on Wheels. OAA supports services that include: Nutrition programs providing meals at senior centers, schools, and churches; care to prevent the abuse, neglect, and exploitation of seniors; family caregiver support systems; and services to help older Americans move into employment.

This reauthorization is the product of bipartisan hard work with Members of the Education and Labor Committee and shows the good that can come from working together. Through productive conversation and compromise, we have successfully authorized grants for States and Area Agencies on Aging, AAAs, responsible for coordinating local services for older individuals.

Specifically, the supportive services program funds a wide range of social services aimed at helping our older population remain independent in their own homes and communities. These services include, case management, adult daycare, and other numerous activities of senior centers. Additionally, States are required to devote a certain portion of funding to access services, home care, and legal assistance.

Furthermore, local agencies that implement the law on the ground will receive new cost-sharing policies designed to increase the cost-effectiveness of OAA programs.
The bill also infuses additional accountability over hardworking taxpayer funds into these programs by requiring programs to demonstrate they meet their stated goals prior to receiving a renewal of their grant. In addition to funding for supportive services and nutrition services, H.R. 4334 also provides for caregiver support. The bill continues support for the National Family Caregiver Support Program, which provides funds to States to support Americans caring for aging family members.

The program provides a range of services, including information and assistance to caregivers about available services, counseling, organization of support groups and caregiver education, respite services to provide families temporary relief from care-giving responsibilities, and supplemental services to complement care provided by other caregivers.

The bill also provides increased flexibility to states by lifting a cap on the percentage of funds that can go to older relative caregivers, which will allow support for seniors who have taken responsibility for caring for family members due to the growing problem of opioids in our Nation.

Mr. Speaker, I am very encouraged by the level of support and bipartisanship that went into this bill. H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act, reflects Congress’ commitment to our Nation’s seniors and builds upon the law’s flexible policies, allowing older Americans to age with health, dignity, and independence in the communities of their choosing.

I would like, again, to thank Representative STEFANIK for her diligent work on this legislation and Chairman SCOTT for his commitment to bipartisanship. I strongly urge all of my colleagues to support this bill, which will benefit an entire generation of seniors. I strongly urge all of my colleagues to support this legislation, which was introduced by my colleague Representative COTTER. The bill also provides increased flexibility to states by lifting a cap on the percentage of funds that can go to older relative caregivers, which will allow support for seniors who have taken responsibility for caring for family members due to the growing problem of opioids in our Nation.

Ms. STEFANIK, Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. WILD), a member of the Education and Labor Committee and a passionate advocate for suicide prevention.

Ms. WILD, Mr. Speaker, back in 1965, when President Lyndon Johnson signed the Older Americans Act, Congress codified into law an essential and universal truth, that each generation has a responsibility to protect and support those who raised and have cared for us.

These bonds of solidarity tie our society together. We are stronger both as individuals and as a Nation when we hold each other up.

The objectives of the Older Americans Act were to secure adequate income in retirement, the best possible physical and mental health services without regard to economic status, suitable housing and transportation, restorative services, and employment opportunities free of discrimination.

The programs funded through the OAA remain immensely popular, but funding has not kept pace. In 2010, OAA funding was approximately $42.95 per senior in today’s dollars. Today, it is just $27.25 per senior.

Every time funding fails to meet demand, the foundation of our Great Society is chipped away. Every time funding fails to meet demand, we run the risk of malnutrition, unsafe living conditions, and social isolation for our seniors.

Fortunately, there is a solution, and that solution is the legislation we are voting on today. The Dignity in Aging Act of 2019 is a bipartisan reauthorization of the OAA, which gives all OAA programs an immediate 7 percent increase in fiscal year 2020 and a 6 percent increase every year thereafter.

Reflecting the fact that this is a national priority, transcending differences of party and politics, three of my Republican colleagues—Representative STEFANIK, Representative STEFANIK, and Representative COMER—worked alongside me as original co-sponsors of this legislation, which was introduced by my colleague Representative BONAMICI.

Critically, this legislation includes provisions that will guide OAA’s nutrition programs, like Meals on Wheels, programs that meet an urgent need across our country, and it includes language that will benefit seniors by ensuring access to nutritional services that are culturally sensitive and reflect the diverse needs of our communities.

I am particularly proud that this bill updates the OAA by putting a greater focus on countering social isolation, empowering local organizations to develop solutions that incorporate social isolation screening into mental health and supportive services that seniors receive.

That is why I proposed an amendment unanimously adopted by the Education and Labor Committee as part of the underlying legislation to add screening for suicide risk to the disease prevention and health promotion services offered under the OAA.

Older Americans are among the most at-risk members of our population when it comes to the suicide epidemic across our Nation. We must stand with these fellow Americans and offer them our support as we all work to break the stigma around suicide and mental health, and as we all work to build a society in which we prioritize mental health just as much as physical health.

Ms. STEFANIK, Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BONAMICI, Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I include in the RECORD letters of support from AARP supporting H.R. 4334, a letter from the Jewish Federation of North America supporting H.R. 4334, the bipartisan RAISE Family Caregivers Act, and the Alzheimer’s Impact Movement supporting the legislation, a letter from 72 national organizations representing older adults and caregivers across the country, and a letter from Meals on Wheels supporting H.R. 4334 and its attention to the impacts of social isolation.

AARP, October 25, 2019.

Dear Representative: On behalf of our nearly 38 million members and all older Americans nationwide, AARP is pleased to support H.R. 4334, the bipartisan Dignity in Aging Act of 2019, legislation to reauthorize the Older Americans Act (OAA). We urge you to pass this legislation that will maintain the vital nutrition and social services of OAA programs and promote greater responsiveness to the needs of older Americans.

older adults needing care, underscoring the need for greater investments in OAA programs. Increased funding levels will assist more older Americans and caregivers, thus helping older adults and their caregivers remain at home and in better health, avoiding costly services.

We urge you to vote for the Dignity in Aging Act. Prompt reauthorization of this law will help ensure the sustainability of OAA programs, and as a result, our loved ones can continue to turn to these vital services for their health and economic security as they age. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me.

DEAR CHAIRMAN SCOTT, RANKING MEMBER FOXX, CHAIRWOMAN BONAMICI AND RANKING MEMBER COMER: The Jewish Federations of North America (JFNA) urges the United States House of Representatives to pass H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019. JFNA represents 164 local Jewish Federations, 300 Network communities, and thousands of affiliated social service agencies across the continent. Our movement protects and enhances the well-being of Jews worldwide through the values of tikun olam (repairing the world), tzedakah (charity and social justice) and torah (Jewish learning).

Jewish social services provide support for more than one million vulnerable individuals each year. They include: Jewish Family Service agencies, Jewish Vocational Service agencies, and Jewish community centers, among others. We have a particular interest in those Jews who are over age 65, Jewish family service agencies, Jewish vocational service agencies and Jewish community centers are a key component of the country’s Aging Services Network and, in a classic public–private partnership, provide many services funded through the OAA, including case management, transportation, congregate and home-delivered meals, adult day care, elder abuse prevention and intervention, family caregiver support, home care, legal conservatorship, and support groups.

This year’s reauthorization process produced a bill that, if passed by the full House of Representatives on Monday, will significantly move the ball forward in how our country and its Aging Services Network treat and care for seniors. The very first provision creates in the legislation several important priorities, including “person–centered, trauma-informed care” as a new objective of the Older Americans Act. This principle, which is subse-sequently defined by the bill, represents a major new focus on social isolation in older adults, recognition of the emerging importance of direct care workforce, an updating of, recognition and support for multigenerational families, and assistance to family caregivers with an extension of the RAISE Family Caregivers Act. Each of these, and many others contained in the bill will serve our nation well.

This Older American Act reauthorization incorporates new support for age-friendly communities, a major new focus on social isolation in older adults, recognition of the emerging importance of direct care workforce, an updating of, recognition and support for multigenerational families, and assistance to family caregivers with an extension of the RAISE Family Caregivers Act. Each of these, and many others contained in the bill will serve our nation well.

JFNA also commends the Education and Labor Committee for supporting a five-year reauthorization period for the Older Americans Act, which helps safeguard support and removes uncertainty for the growing aging population. Finally, and very importantly, this bill provides relatively robust funding increases of 7% for FY 2020 and 6% for each of the next four years.

While the Older American Act formally expired on September 30, 2019, this year’s process to reauthorize it was the most expansive, transparent, and inclusive of the five similar reauthorizations that I have worked on going back to 1999. The result is a reauthorization vehicle that is very worthy of support, and JFNA looks forward to the House of Representatives passage of the Dignity in Aging Act and the enactment of the reauthorization.

Sincerely,

STEPHAN O. KLINE,
Associate Vice President, Public Policy,
The Jewish Federations of North America.

ALZHEIMER’S IMPACT MOVEMENT,
October 25, 2019.

Hon. BOBBY SCOTT,
Chairman, House Education and Labor Committee, Washington DC.

Hon. VIRGINIA FOXX, Ranking Member, House Education and Labor Committee, Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMAN SCOTT AND RANKING MEM-BER FOXX: On behalf of the Alzheimer’s Association and the Alzheimer’s Impact Movement (AIM), including our nationwide network of advocates, thank you for your continued leadership on issues and legislation related to persons living with Alzheimer’s and other dementias and to their caregivers. We want to work together in a bipartisan manner to reauthorize the Older Americans Act (OAA).

We are proud to support the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019 (H.R. 4334) and are pleased to support the activities of the Alzheimer’s Association to help ensure the sustainability of OAA programs. OAA funds have a significant role in providing services to individuals with young-onset Alzheimer’s disease and their families and their caregivers.

We strongly support the inclusion of language in the Dignity in Aging Act that provides services to individuals living with younger-onset Alzheimer’s disease under the National Family Caregiver Support Program and the Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program. We are very appreciative for the Commitee’s inclusion of parts of the Younger-Onset Alzheimer’s Disease Act (S. 901/H.R. 1825).

There are approximately 5.8 million Americans living with Alzheimer’s disease. The vast majority of those individuals are over the age of 65; however, approximately 200,000 Americans are under the age of 65 living with younger-onset Alzheimer’s disease. Individuals living with younger-onset face unique challenges when it comes to family, work, and finances. They may be parents young children at home, or may still be working as the primary income provider for their families. Due to their young age, they also may have more trouble receiving an accurate diagnosis, and even family and friends might question their diagnosis. The stigma associated with younger-onset diagnosis can have a significant impact on their well-being and quality of life.

Since 97 percent of all people living with Alzheimer’s are age 65, even our country’s Alzheimer’s support infrastructure focuses exclusively on seniors. As a result, few supportive services are available to those with young-onset. We know that younger-onset—like heart disease, diabetes, and even cancer—many people living with them are middle-aged and there is a large support structure already in place to serve them. This is a result of the OAA. If the OAA structures are not available for the individuals living with younger-onset Alzheimer’s disease, the services provided under the OAA are particularly helpful for individuals with young-onset Alzheimer’s disease and related dementias who need assistance with activities of daily living.

Younger-Onset Alzheimer’s Disease Act is consistent with the National Plan to Address Alzheimer’s Disease. The Advisory Council on Alzheimer’s Research, Care, and Support, which is responsible for implementing the Plan, has noted that persons living with younger-onset Alzheimer’s face unique challenges in accessing care.

In the 2017 National Advisory Council recommended that Congress amend the OAA to allow additional services to be provided to younger adults living with dementia.

The Alzheimer’s Association and AIM also deeply appreciate the Committee’s extension of the RAISE Family Caregivers Act from 3 to 5 years. We have been advocating for the RAISE Family Caregivers Act since it was introduced in Congress. There has been a delay in the implementation of the Act and the decision to extend the authorization allows the Department of Health and Human Services to better develop a national strategy for education and training, long-term services and supports, and financial stability and security for caregivers.

For millions of Americans caring for individuals with Alzheimer’s and other demen-\t additional health costs last year. We appreciate the Committee prioritizing this important program.

We also applaud the Committee’s strengthening of Caregiver Assessments. In 2018, more than 16 million unpaid caregivers provided 18.5 billion hours of care valued at nearly $724 billion, and face the challenges noted above. Eighty-three percent of the help provided to older adults in the United States comes from family members, friends, or other unpaid caregivers. Nearly half of all caregivers who provide help to older adults do so for someone living with Alzheimer’s or another dementia. Alzheimer’s takes a devastating toll on caregivers. Compared with caregivers of people without dementia, twice as many caregivers of those with dementia indicate substantial emotional, financial, and physical difficulties. Of the total lifetime cost of caring for someone with dementia, 70 percent is borne by families—either through out-of-pocket health and long-term care expenses or from the value of unpaid care.

These dedicated caregivers would greatly benefit from increased resources, training, and support to help them navigate the strain of caregiving and improve their health and quality of life. The proposed changes would provide these caregivers much-needed resources, in the form of caregiver assessments, and identify best practices relating to the programs. These important actions will enhance support for caregivers through skills building and resources, including information, respite care, counseling, and other helpful benefits.

Finally, the Alzheimer’s Association and AIM appreciate your commitment to supporting individuals facing social isolation. Social isolation is an issue within the aging community as a whole, and particularly in the Alzheimer’s and related dementia community. Studies have found that support groups can decrease social isolation and increase social support, the ability to access the diagnosis, cope with symptoms, improve quality of life, and enhance family communication. (Alzheimer’s Association Dementia Care Practice Recommendations, 2018). Support programs offered through the National Family Caregiver Support Program can work to decrease social isolation. We appreciate the bills introduced in the Senate and House dedicated to identifying the challenges, solutions, and best practices to address social isolation.

Again, thank you for your leadership in ensuring OAA’s reauthorization, which will improve the quality of care for people living with Alzheimer’s.

Sincerely,

Robert Egge,
Chief Public Policy Officer, Executive Vice President, Government Affairs, Alzheimers Association.

Hon. Nancy Pelosi, Speaker,
Hon. Kevin McCarthy, Minority Leader,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

Hon. Bobby Scott, Chairman,
Virginia Foxx, Ranking Member,
Committee on Education and Labor, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

Dear Speaker Pelosi, Leader McCarthy,
Chairman Scott and Ranking Member Foxx:

On behalf of the undersigned 72 national organizations with a vested interest in the well-being of America’s older adults and caregivers, we write to you today in support of the Dignity in Aging Act (H.R. 4334) to reauthorize the Older Americans Act (OAA). We urge Members of the House to support this important five-year OAA reauthorization. Reauthorizati on of this critical Act, which expired on September 30, 2019, will ensure the sustainability of vital programs for health, nutrition, employment, the long-term care ombudsman program, and services to prevent the abuse, neglect, and exploitation of older adults.

By keeping seniors healthy and in their communities for more years, OAA programs have delayed or prevented the need for more expensive institutional care for many older adults, which is often paid for through out-of-pocket health and longterm care insurance, OAA services can effectively save taxpayer, state, and federal dollars. In addition to helping older adults age in place where they most often want to live, OAA has improved our country’s fiscal future and promoted efficiency within the health care system by preventing unnecessary hospital stays, reducing readmission rates, coordinating care, and managing care transitions.

We appreciate that the Dignity in Aging Act is included in the bipartisan Senate draft bill and incorporates a number of important priorities articulated by stakeholders organizations. Most importantly, the Dignity in Aging Act calls for much-needed and necessary investments in the OAA by increasing funding authorization over the next five years—a top priority of the undersigned organizations and the most critical need of the Aging Services Network authorized by the OAA.

Other priority areas include research innovation, Native American services, local planning and development, supports for those suffering from dementia and social isolation, legal services, nutrition services, in-home supportive services, disease prevention and health promotion, multigenerational collaboration, and family caregiver supports. We appreciate that the House proposal to reauthorize the OAA has preserved the numerous ways in which this Act works so well at the federal, state, and local levels, on behalf of the older adults and caregivers.

Thank you for your commitment to this important issue. The undersigned organizations represent a diverse set of stakeholders, and we urge Members of the House to swiftly advance the bill to reauthorize the Older Americans Act.

Sincerely,

AARP, Academy of Geriatric Physical Therapy, Advocacy and the Heart of Alzheimer’s Caregiving, Center to Advance Palliative Care, Collective Action Lab, Corporation for National and Community Service, Corporation for National Service, Dignity in Aging Act, Feeding America, Family Caregiver Support Program can work to decrease social isolation. The Alzheimer’s and related dementias are borne by families—either through out-of-pocket health and longterm care expenses or from the value of unpaid care. These dedicated caregivers would greatly benefit from increased resources, training, and support to help them navigate the strain of caregiving and improve their health and quality of life. The proposed changes would provide these caregivers much-needed resources, in the form of caregiver assessments, and identify best practices relating to the programs. These important actions will enhance support for caregivers through skills building and resources, including information, respite care, counseling, and other helpful benefits.

Finally, the Alzheimer’s Association and AIM appreciate your commitment to supporting individuals facing social isolation. Social isolation is an issue within the aging community as a whole, and particularly in the Alzheimer’s and related dementia community. Studies have found that support groups can decrease social isolation and increase social support, the ability to access the diagnosis, cope with symptoms, improve quality of life, and enhance family communication. (Alzheimer’s Association Dementia Care Practice Recommendations, 2018). Support programs offered through the National Family Caregiver Support Program can work to decrease social isolation. We appreciate the bills introduced in the Senate and House dedicated to identifying the challenges, solutions, and best practices to address social isolation.

Again, thank you for your leadership in ensuring OAA’s reauthorization, which will improve the quality of care for people living with Alzheimer’s.

Sincerely,

Robert Egge,
Chief Public Policy Officer, Executive Vice President, Government Affairs, Alzheimers Association.

Hon. Nancy Pelosi, Speaker,
Hon. Kevin McCarthy, Minority Leader,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

Hon. Bobby Scott, Chairman,
Virginia Foxx, Ranking Member,
Committee on Education and Labor, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

Dear Speaker Pelosi, Leader McCarthy,
Chairman Scott and Ranking Member Foxx:

On behalf of Meals on Wheels America, the nationwide network of community-based senior nutrition programs and the individuals they serve, we write to express our support for H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019 and urge swift and bipartisan passage in the House of Representatives. We commend the efforts of the Education and Labor Committee for receiving unanimous approval for the September markup, as well as the leadership of Subcommittee Chairwoman Bonamici (D-OR) and Ranking Member Foxx. On behalf of Meals on Wheels America, the nationwide network of community-based senior nutrition programs and the individuals they serve, we write to express our support for H.R. 4334, the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019 and urge swift and bipartisan passage in the House of Representatives. It is important that we work together to ensure that the Dignity in Aging Act of 2019 is swiftly referred to the Senate and that it receives swift and bipartisan passage in the Senate. We commend the leadership of the Senate Committee on Finance for receiving unanimous approval for the September markup, as well as the leadership of Subcommittee Chairwoman Cortez Masto (D-NV) and Ranking Member Tester.

For over five decades, the OAA has been the primary piece of federal legislation focused on establishing, coordinating and strengthening community and home-based social and nutrition services for adults age 60 and older, their families and their caregivers. OAA services like Meals on Wheels, transportation assistance, caregiver employment and training and elder rights protection are just some of the vital functions the OAA delivers to more than 11 million Americans on a daily basis.

As you and many of your colleagues know firsthand, OAA services and supports, including the programs authorized under Title III of the Act, help keep our nation's most vulnerable, isolated and food insecure seniors healthier and in their own homes longer. This in turn delays or prevents altogether the need for more expensive institutional care often paid for through Medicare or Medicaid. OAA programs are not only extremely cost-effective, but they are longstanding examples of public-private partnerships that help save taxpayers at the local, state and federal levels in reduced healthcare expenditures.

We specifically want to recognize the effort undertaken to increase authorization of appropriations in this legislation. With nearly half of our membership having a documented waiting list for nutrition services, the 7% increase in authorization of funding levels in Fiscal Year 2020—and 6% in subsequent OAA programs over the five-year reauthorization period—will significantly improve the senior nutrition network’s capacity to address these gaps.

We also applaud the attention to and inclusion of additional research and innovation established through the innovative National Research, Demonstration, and Evaluation Center for aging services research and development. We already know the difference that OAA services and supports are making in the lives of those served each day, and this additional support will help identify where the greatest needs and opportunities are to produce substantial savings to Medicare and Medicaid and support our nation’s most at-risk seniors.

Furthermore, we are grateful for the Dignity in Aging Act’s acknowledgement of the components of our network’s comprehensive service model, particularly around the areas of social isolation and loneliness; in-home safety; screenings and prevention; and community and social support. This network has been addressing the social determinants of health (SDOH) for seniors long before it was a common definition used among health providers, to managing the payment of household and medical bills, and more. Each year, this adds up to roughly $470 billion in unpaid care provided by 40 million family caregivers.

I believe one of the best ways to improve home health care is to protect the health and wellbeing of the caregivers who provide it. The Supporting Family Caregivers Act encourages the use of assessments to identify caregivers’ individual needs and challenges, thereby allowing services to be targeted to each person and the family. Additionally, funding resources are currently available to family caregivers, direct feedback through assessments would improve the quality of the support they receive.

I am so pleased to see this body take a necessary step towards more person- and family-centered care. Again, I am grateful to my partner on this bill, Congresswoman Stefanik, as well as Chairman Scott, Ranking Member Foxx and Dignity in Aging Act sponsor Bonamici for their support.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting America’s seniors, and to vote for the Dignity in Aging Act.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from Oregon (Ms. Bonamici) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 4334, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 4334, as amended, was agreed to.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting America’s seniors, and to vote for the Dignity in Aging Act.

Mr. Defazio. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2440) to provide for the use of funds in the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund for the purposes for which the funds were collected and to ensure that funds credited to the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund are used to support navigation, and for other purposes, as amended.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

FULL UTILIZATION OF THE HARBOR MAINTENANCE TRUST FUND ACT

Mr. DeFazio. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2440) to provide for the use of funds in the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund for the purposes for which the funds were collected and to ensure that funds credited to the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund are used to support navigation, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk reads the title of the bill.

The bill will be considered as the “Full Utilization of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund Act.”

SEC. 2. USE OF HARBOR MAINTENANCE TRUST FUND TO SUPPORT NAVIGATION.

Section 210 of the Water Resources Development Act of 1986 (33 U.S.C. 2238) is amended by—

(1) in the heading, by striking “AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS” and inserting “FUNDING FOR NAVIGATION”;

(2) by adding at the end the following:

“SEC. 251. ADDITIONS TO DISCRETIONARY SPENDING LIMITS.–Amounts made available from the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund under this section or section 9505 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 shall be made available in accordance with section 251(b)(2)(H) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985.”.

SEC. 3. ANNUAL REPORT TO CONGRESS.

Sincerely,

Ellie Hollander,
President and CEO.
As we hear so much about our crumbling infrastructure, the surface bill that I am working on—our wastewater, our drinking water—we don’t have any money. Well, here we have the money. We actually have the money. We have taken it from the American people. They have paid their taxes, and Congress is stealing it and not applying it to harbors.

This has been a bipartisan problem over the years. It was Republicans and Democrats who created this program, and it has been administrations and Republican administrations that have been diverting these needed funds.

On a daily basis, our largest ports have only about 38 percent of their authorized capacity. That means longer lines of ships out to sea and more costs in the movement of goods and particularly for our exports.

I will note that this bill is strongly supported by the Senator from Alabama, Senator Shelby, and Senator Shelby supports it because of the need to export from his State. And guess what? A bunch of those exports come from the State of Arkansas.

Why would someone from that State where half of their soybean crop is exported, where they have $3.1 billion in agricultural exports, be opposed to more efficiently moving their goods out of the country and adding costs to their farmers? I don’t understand.

But there are some people in Alabama who think ports don’t affect them. Ports affect every single American every day. Goods that are imported cost more when our harbors aren’t dredged properly. And our trade deficit grows when we are not competitive in the world economy.

I started working on this 23 years ago with a guy named Bud Shuster. His son, Bill Shuster, succeeded him as chairman of that committee over the last 6 years, and back over the House. Twice we moved that bill out of the committee unanimously, including provisions to spend the harbor maintenance tax on harbor maintenance.

Now, that is a radical idea to some people inside the beltway in Washington, D.C., people who just have their focus right here in Washington. They are not focused on the Nation, the needs of the Nation, the needs of their farms, the needs of others who are exporting and importing goods, about a great maritime Nation that is falling behind, that isn’t going to be ready to accept the largest new ships because we don’t have the money to dredge the harbors.

Well, we have the money. $10 billion of it is sitting over in the Treasury, but there are those here who do not want to spend that money on its lawful purpose. They will say, oh, my God, it breaks the budget caps. Really? The budget caps.

The deficit this year was $397 billion higher than when President Obama left office. Now, who has been in charge the last 2 years? Who wrote those budgets to put us up to nearly $1 trillion? And now we are going to say we can’t afford to dredge our harbors, that we should just shut them down.

Shut them down. Let them sit in. Let the jetties decay. No, we can’t afford it.

We can afford it. This is one place with bipartisan support where we can meet our infrastructure needs without raising a new tax on the American people.

This administration actually had some concern about the underspending of the tax and the diversion of the money to the Treasury, so the President’s budget proposed to cut the tax instead of dealing with our harbors and paying for which it was intended. But that was written by Mick Mulvaney, the President’s Chief of Staff, and OMB.
Chairman, Committee on the Budget, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. YARMUTH: Thank you for your letter regarding H.R. 2440, the Full Utilization of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund Act. I appreciate your decision to waive formal consideration of the bill.

I agree that the Committee on the Budget has valid jurisdictional claims to certain provisions in this important legislation, and I further agree that by forgoing formal consideration, the Committee on the Budget is not waiving any jurisdiction over any relevant subject matter. Additionally, I will support the appointment of conferees from the Committee on the Budget should a House-Senate conference be convened on this legislation. Finally, this exchange of letters will be included in the Congressional Record should this legislation be formally considered.

Thank you again and I look forward to continuing to work collaboratively with the Committee on the Budget on this important issue.

Sincerely,

PETER A. DEFAZIO, Chair,
House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, Washington, DC.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the bill, to no surprise of my friend from Oregon. Let me help him a little bit with how I give opposition in context.

As the ranking member of the Budget Committee, Mr. Speaker, it is not possible for me just to consider how we are going to get soybeans out of Arkansas as the limiting factor on how we budget. It is important, it is important to my producers, but at the end of the day, we are $23 trillion in debt. The deficit this year, to add to that $23 trillion, is expected to approach $1 trillion. H.R. 2440 would disrupt the recently enacted budget agreement.

Now, Mr. Speaker, you know that we did months of negotiation on some agreement to keep the government open and operating. This body established discretionary spending caps for the next 2 years with the passage of the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019. The bill before us today breaches that law; it increases that deficit.

So my question is: What was the point of us going through that arduous process of negotiating a bipartisan, bicameral agreement with the President so that, just 3 months later, we could shoot a $10 billion hole in it?

This bill would increase the deficit by up to $10 billion, which I believe is unacceptable, given our fiscal condition.

According to the Congressional Budget Office, the annual deficit this year will be $1 trillion, adding to the already $23 trillion in debt. Now, let me be clear. I acknowledge that there are structural budgetary challenges associated with the harbor maintenance trust fund. They need to be fixed. I think everyone agrees that this is not fair that our shippers are required to pay a tax for harbor maintenance but then the funds can’t be spent on the very service they are supposed to provide. That, we can agree on.

The work that is done on our ports is critical to both American jobs and the economy. We need to fix the flaws in the maintenance trust fund to ensure this essential work can be done; however, this bill is not the answer. It is not a long-term solution. It is just a quick fix.

I would like to work with Members on both sides of the aisle to assess not only the harbor maintenance trust fund, but also all government trust funds to evaluate their funding mechanisms to ensure they make sense and operate as intended.

H.R. 2440 is merely an effort to spend more money without offsets, bust the caps, resulting in an increase to the deficit of about $10 billion. There is broad, bipartisan opposition in the United States Senate. Senate Budget Committee Chairman Enzi and I have released the following joint statement in opposition to H.R. 2440.

It reads:

The bipartisan Budget Act of 2019, which increased spending caps for fiscal years 2020 and 2021, was enacted less than 3 months ago. Instead of prioritizing additional funding for harbor maintenance activities under this agreement, H.R. 2440 would further increase spending by as much as $10 billion over the next 2 years. This approach is irresponsible. It would not provide a lasting solution. With annual deficits in excess of $1 trillion for the foreseeable future, Congress should be focused on reducing the deficit rather than increasing it.

Mr. Speaker, I believe H.R. 2440 is fiscally irresponsible, and I urge my colleagues to vote "no."

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, “So we can’t do it now.”

We would like to do it another time."

Mr. Speaker, “So we can’t do it now."

I have heard that on the floor for the last 6 years when we did the Water Resources Development Act that came biannual. MVPs of the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials, American Association of General Contractors of America, Association of Equipment Manufacturers, Big River Bar Pilots, Columbia River Pilots, Columbia River Steamship Operators Association, Dredging Contractors of America, Florida Ports Council, Great Lakes Small Harbors Coalition, Gulf Ports Association, Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation, High Line Grain Growers, International Liquid Terminals Association, Lake Carriers’ Association, National Association of Marine Pilots, National Maritime Employers, National Conference of State Legislatures, National Grain and Feed Association, National Marine Manufacturers Association, New York Shipping Association, Northwest Seaport Alliance (NWSA), Oregon Coastal Caucus, Oregon Public Ports Association, Pacific Northwest Waterways Association, Port of Alsea, OR; Port of Arling-" of Long Beach, CA; Port of Los Angeles, CA; Port of Morgan City, LA; Port of Morrow, OR; Port of Nehalem, OR.

Port of Newport, OR; Port of Oakland, CA; Port of Portland, OR; Port of Port Orchard, OR; Port of Seattle, WA; Port of Skagit, WA; Port of Siuslaw, OR; Port of The Dalles, OR; Port of Toledo, OR; Port of Umatilla, OR; Port of Long Beach, CA; Port of Whidbey Island, WA; Port of Whitman County, WA; Portland Cement Association; Texas Ports Association; Transportation Trades Department, AFL-CIO, United Grain Co., WA; United States Maritime Alliance.

Mr. DeFAZIO. So, we can talk a lot about making a major investment in infrastructure. We have been hung up on how are we going to pay for service; transportation; 47,000 bridges need repair or replacement; 40 percent of the National Highway System is deteriorated to the point we have to rebuild it, not just recoat it; and there is a $100 billion backlog in transit just to bring it up to a state of good repair.

Those are just the needs in surface. Then you go to wastewater. Then you go to airports. Then you go to drinking water. But guess what? For every single one of those things, we are going to have to raise revenues one way or another.

But we have the need to invest in our harbors, we have the money. It is sitting in the bank, and we are being told, because of the budget caps, it can’t be spent. Seriously?

The President himself said, when I was there, “Spend that money.” So if we get the bill through the House, if they don’t derail it and it gets through the Senate, the President will sign it, plain and simple.

This is common sense outside the beltway, but just budget weirdness inside.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 30 seconds.

Mr. Speaker, in our process, it is not as simple as “just spend the money.” It has to go through a process. We call it the appropriations process, Mr. Speaker. You are well aware of it, having served on the Appropriations Committee.

Here is the deal: The budget agreement is indifferent as to the source of that money, whether it is a harbor maintenance trust fund issue or whether it is spending that is borrowed from China or from the international bond market. It is indifferent to it. It goes through the same process.

This blows a $10 billion hole in the deficit that is just 3 months away from the agreement that we had 3 months ago.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Utah (Mr. STEWART), my friend and my colleague on the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I am proud to rise with my friend, Mr. WOMACK, to speak in opposition to H.R. 2440, the Full Utilization of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund Act.

And why? Because that is a fair thing to say. If you are going to impose something, tell us why, because this bill would break the spending caps that this body agreed to just a few months ago.

Now, this is laughably unacceptable. I also need to point out, and I know this is going to shock many people, that the budget caps are a total and absolute hardly a model of fiscal discipline. Quite the contrary, they were very liberal, very generous.

Now, look, I have no problem with this particular funding. I want to be clear on that. I have no problem with this particular funding. It may be a very wise use of taxpayers’ money, but if it is true, then have the courage to stand up and say: “This is how we are going to fund it. This is how we are going to pay for it.”

Adjustments to the agreed spending caps adversely impact our ability to monitor discretionary spending by allowing funding to come outside of the caps rather than within the base budget.

Again, while it may be true that this trust fund needs to be fixed, this is not the way to address the issue, by adding nearly $10 billion to what is a $22.5 trillion deficit. For our children and our grandchildren, this is not the way to move forward.

Now, I want to mention one other final and, experience would show, certainly, a reasonable fear, and that is this: H.R. 2440 sets a dangerous precedent for other programs looking to operate also outside of the spending caps. If we bust the caps for this, then what other reasonable programs must we fund outside of the budget caps?

Everyone has a special program they want to fund. Everyone has got a sacred cow that they want to fund. Sadly, there are no more cows in Heaven, because all the sacred cows are down here in Congress trying to find a way to be funded.

We must remain defiant toward adding onto our already existing and, as it has been pointed out, including by our friend in the opposition, existential threat from runaway spending. I stand in opposition to that.

Mr. DeFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Utah (Mr. STEWART) would just stand there for a moment, I will yield him some time for a colloquy.

Name another program with a dedicated tax where we are diverting the money over to the Treasury instead of spending it on a well-documented need. Just name another program where we do that.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I would be happy to research that for the gentleman. There may be some.

Mr. DeFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I reclaim my time.

Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman would research that, he can’t name one.

Mr. Speaker, we are taking this money out of a sales tax. The American people are paying it. It is like some of you live in sales tax States. I don’t live in a sales tax State, but my people are still paying this sales tax on imported goods, and they expect the money, as Ronald Reagan signed that bill, to be spent on maintaining our harbors. And I can list the needs in my harbors that aren’t being met today because the Corps of Engineers are underfunded. They are being funded, but not in the Treasury subject to appropriation. So it gives discretion to the appropriators to determine whether or not we will finally honor our compact with the American people and spend the harbor maintenance tax on harbor maintenance, not on illusory deficit reduction.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. Mrazek).

Mr. Mrazek. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to address the gentleman’s question.

There are a number of different areas where we actually collect money. The LWCF is one of those. $900 million a year comes from oil producers. It is supposed to be spent on something, but it goes back to the Treasury.

So if we went into a colloquy back and forth, I will be glad to do that with the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DeFAZIO).

That being said, Mr. Speaker, we have had this debate. The ranking member is exactly right. This is the only place you can exceed an unlimited budget by $10 billion.

We have agreed to something, and all of a sudden what happens is now they start to push back. They start to push back because you know what? This priority wasn’t included in the budget caps deal.

It is amazing that my colleague opposite now is, all of a sudden, becoming a fiscal conservative. So I will give him an honorary invitation to join the Freedom Caucus.

It is amazing how fiscally conservative some of the Members opposite get when it comes to some special project that they want to overlook.

Mr. Speaker, I would just say, the truth here today is that not only do we need to be fiscally responsible for the American taxpayer, but we need to start showing some fiscal restraints here in this body. Eventually, you run out of other people’s money, and I think that day is now.

Mr. DeFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I always enjoy hearing from the gentleman. He is right that we are underspending the Land and Water Conservation Fund, but it is not a tax assessed individually upon the American people as a sales tax. It is fees paid by the oil and gas industry, which you can say: Oh, they are having to pay a fee to use Federal land,
Mr. MEADOWS. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. DEFAZIO. I yield to the gentleman from North Carolina.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Oregon is suggesting that we do not pay for that fee in the ultimate gas tax that we—you know, he is the chairman of the Transportation Committee. As anybody knows, we know now that it is embedded in part of that.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, reclaiming my time, the Federal gas and diesel tax hasn’t changed since 1993, so the American people are not paying for that. The price of oil goes up and down according to speculation and wars and conflicts and all sorts of other things. But the fact is that is a fee paid by the oil companies that might or might not come out of their profits and goes into a fund, which is being underspent.

To be consistent, I fully support and have supported fully expending the Land and Water Conservation Fund on a permanent program, on its intended and legislated purpose, and that is the same thing here. But this is, again, a little different. Anybody, today, who bought a good that came into a port in the United States of America in a container is paying a very small sales tax increment on that good on a bill signed by Ronald Reagan. That money is supposed to be spent to maintain our harbors.

Our harbors are sitting in. Jetties are falling apart. We can’t accommodate, in some harbors that want to accommodate them, the new largest class of ships in the world.

The most efficient way to move goods is on water. The least carbon-intensive way is to move goods on water. But we are impeding that by not spending the funds and the purpose for which it was intended and which is legislated in law. That is all we are asking to do.

As my friend from Oregon indicated, having a paper balance of $9 billion or $10 billion—and it is not like we don’t have a need. We have channels that are shooing up that we put draft restrictions on, but we are not at the depths we need to be at to meet the new trends in shipping.

So, yes, I am concerned about the debt, and I want to make sure we address this. But this has been going on for far too long, that these dollars have been diverted or embezzled.

Mr. Speaker, I urge adoption of this bill because we have to figure this out and figure out how to get it up under the budget cap where it belongs.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I continue to reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. WO MACK. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, in closing, with the numbers we are facing—trillion-dollar deficits and $23 trillion in debt—what is another $10 billion?

Mr. Speaker, it is obvious that Congress needs to start making the tough decisions. The responsibility is at our feet. It is in Article I of the Constitution, that same Constitution we all took an oath to in January. And I am not talking about tough decisions regarding the harbor maintenance trust fund by itself. I am talking about a lot of programs, all programs, mandatory spending programs.

And an inconvenient truth, Mr. Speaker, is this: As a percentage of our economy, mandatory spending is going higher. Discretionary spending, the money we are talking about today, is getting lower.

I wish my friend from Oregon would bring the same passion to the floor that he brings on the harbor maintenance trust fund to actually righting the ship on spending in the country as a whole to include solutions to the mandatory spending programs that continue to skyrocket totally unchecked by the Congress.

I want more money for education. I want more money for healthcare. And I want more money for harbor maintenance. I have backlogs in my own district. But it needs to be prioritized.

This discussion should have taken place 3 months ago. In fact, it did. There were other issues addressed in the negotiation for the budget caps that we operate under today.

May I remind my friend from Oregon that we had a long talk about the Census. It made it in. We discussed harbor maintenance. We discussed VA MISSION, Mr. Speaker, and that was in excess of $20 billion. But, somehow, we were able to get it beneath the caps.

I am at the end of the line of those negotiating topics actually made it into the discussion. So now here we are, expected to relegate the other cap adjustments.

What other types of spending will folks want to give special privilege to? Proponents are saying we don’t get what we want so let’s just bust the caps. That is a dangerous precedent. It should never be considered in the same context as how we have an enormous deficit and disaster spending, which we all know operate above the caps.

It would behoove us to take note of organizations that have expertise in the state of our Nation’s fiscal well-being and their opinions.

Mr. Speaker, I include in the RECORD a statement by the National Taxpayers Union that says, among other things, in urging a “no” vote on the Full Utilization of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund Act, the Congress of the United States should be asking for healthier trust funds, not weakening those trust funds.

NTU urges all Representatives to vote “NO” on H.R. 2440, the Full Utilization of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund Act. This legislation would lead to higher federal spending, exempt the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund (HMTF) from discretionary caps, and potentially draw down the $9 billion surplus in the HMTF. Lawmakers should oppose this proposal, and pursue legislation that strengthens caps on discretionary spending rather than weakening them.

H.R. 2440 would add the HMTF to a special, narrow group of spending categories that are exempt from Budget Control Act caps. Currently, that list is limited to emergency and overseas contingency operations (OCO) spending, disaster relief, continuing disability reviews and redeterminations, health care fraud and abuse control, reemployment services and eligibility assessments, and wildfire suppression. Despite the pending expiration of BCA caps on discretionary spending, the bill’s supporters have failed to make the case that HMTF belongs in the same category of exempt spending as disaster relief and OCO.

CBO has scored H.R. 2440 as having no impact on direct spending, revenues, or the deficit. This is a major misstep. As NTU Foundation pointed out in June, the sponsors of the legislation “wrote that it would provide for an additional $34 billion in funds for harbors. Despite the motivation to use HMTF as a vehicle for spending hikes, CBO’s zero score reflects a myopic reading of the bill.” This intention is also made clear in the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee report on H.R. 2440, which states, “’[t]his change would enable the investment of approximately $34 billion over the next decade from the HMTF for the intended purpose of maintaining Federally-authorized harbors.’”
Policymakers should want strong surpluses in taxpayer-backed trust funds. At a time when the Social Security and Medicare Part A trust funds are facing insolvency, Congress should not be passing legislation that strains one of America’s healthier trust funds. If lawmakers want to spend a higher portion of HMTF’s annual revenues, they should be having harbor maintenance needs compete with other priorities considered by Congress each year, rather than carving out a cap exemption for HMTF. Passing this legislation will only encourage special interests to seek additional exemptions for their priorities.

NTU strongly urges Representatives to oppose this proposal.

Roll call votes on H.R. 2440 will be included in our annual Rating of Congress and a “NO” vote will be considered the pro-taxpayer position.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I am reminded of an old saying, and my dad, who grew up on a Yellow County, Arkansas, farm says it to me often. He says: Son, when you find yourself in a hole, quit digging.

Mr. Speaker, if we pass H.R. 2440, we will have added yet another shovel full of deficit to our Nation’s fiscal situation. I urge a “no” vote, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I may inquire as to how much time is remaining.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Oregon has 7 minutes remaining.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman said he wants healthy trust funds. Well, we got a heck of a healthful trust fund when it comes to harbor maintenance, but we also have a massive deficit in harbor maintenance.

We are projecting that we are going to need an extra $15.8 billion between now and just 2020 to meet the demands of larger and heavier ships that are going to come to America so we can be more competitive as a nation.

It didn’t pay for itself. It was going to raise revenue. It didn’t raise revenues. Revenues didn’t get raised. And, oh, by the way, the question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DEFAZIO) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill. H.R. 2440, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being necessary for the passage of the bill, the yeas and nays will be officially called for.

The Speaker announced that the vote was 266 aye, 153 nay, and 2 present.

Revenues didn’t get raised. And, oh, by the way, it didn’t pay for itself.

I thought that would be one thing that people on both sides of the aisle, all across America would say, no, spend the money on our ports.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 2440, the Full Utilization of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund Act.

First, I want to recognize the leadership of my Chairman, the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DEFAZIO) for his leadership on this issue and shepherding H.R. 2440 through the legislative process. His tenacity on this issue is one of the main reasons why we are here today, and will, hopefully be successful in moving this bill through Congress.

I also want to thank the Ranking Member of the Full Committee, the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. GRAVES); the Subcommittee Ranking Member, the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. WESTERMAN); and the gentleman from Pennsylvania, (Mr. KELLY) for their support of this legislation as original cosponsors.

H.R. 2440 authorizes a discretionary cap adjustment for the full-utilization of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (Corps). This change would enable the investment of approximately $34 billion over the next decade from the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund for the intended purpose of maintaining Federally-authorized harbors. This will allow the Corps to dredge all Federal harbors to their constructed widths and depths.

In 1986, Congress enacted the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund as a user fee by taxing importers and domestic shippers at our harbors in order to pay for the maintenance of our harbors. The problem is that the trust fund collects more revenue than the President’s Budget requests and Congress has appropriated to maintain our harbors.

According to the Congressional Budget Office (CBO), the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund will collect an additional $24.5 billion in new revenue over the next decade but federal appropriations from the fund in 2018 will only be $19.4 billion. This discrepancy is in addition to the estimated $9.3 billion in previously collected but unspent revenue.

During the Subcommittee’s hearing on April 10th, representatives from ports both big and small all agreed that Congress must fully spend the trust fund on harbor needs. H.R. 2440 would provide this authority to spend the $24.5 billion in new revenue as intended on harbor maintenance.

As we pass this responsible budgeting bill today, I also look forward to working with my colleagues as we move forward with a Water Resources Development Act this Congress to address inequities in how these funds are spent.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DEFAZIO) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2440, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being necessary for the passage of the bill, pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

FEDERAL DISASTER ASSISTANCE COORDINATION ACT

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill
(H.R. 1306) to amend the Disaster Recovery Reform Act to develop a study regarding streamlining and consolidating information collection and preliminary damage assessments, and for other purposes, as amended.

Mr. Speaker. I am pleased to be in agreement.

Mr. Speaker, I obviously recommend an "aye" vote, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker. I yield to Mr. MOON. Mr. MOON. Mr. Speaker, I obviously recommend an "aye" vote, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to Mr. MOON. As the chairman was noting, this is a bipartisan, commonsense piece of legislation that would amend the Disaster Recovery Reform Act and establish a process to identify ways to streamline it and consolidate the collection of certain disaster information.

I would be remiss, Mr. Speaker, if I didn’t mention the work of the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES), along with the gentleman from California (Mr. PETERS), in terms of really trying to make sure that, when we allocate dollars, they get to those people who are suffering most. The last thing we need is for them to be caught up in a bureaucracy that was not of their own making.

Following a disaster, many times, damage assessment needs are to be done quickly. In North Carolina, even most recently, some of those get into a lot of finger-pointing back and forth, Mr. Speaker.

Just last week, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure received testimony from State and local agencies are supposed to be there to help.

Currently, the implementation of those recovery efforts and that disaster assistance is hampered by inefficient information collection and assessments conducted by multiple agencies. Some of them even come in like a year after the fact and say: Wait a minute. We didn’t authorize that. That kind of thing has got to stop.

This will remove information collection barriers that currently impede disaster aid. It creates a working group to identify duplicative assessments—we don’t need to waste money on those—and it proposes getting rid of them by administrative rule, or, if necessary, by legislation.

Further, it would streamline Federal disaster recovery efforts by concluding that a single agency is sufficient to conduct damage assessments to account for the needs of disaster victims.

Agencies may have multiple agencies with conflicting opinions and numbers, and sometimes they come back to communities and want money back. Really? The other agency approved the money. Oh, but you didn’t think—that has got to be done better, more efficiently, in coordination with a single lead. So I am pleased that this bill is before us today.

Mr. Speaker, I obviously recommend an "aye" vote, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MEADOWS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his kind comments. I have often wondered, on the pharmaceutical commercials that you see on TV, who is the individual who can speak as fast as the narrator and puts in the disclaimers. I have now found the gentleman from Oregon to be that individual, so it is a good day for me.

I thank the gentleman for his support. Certainly, I rise in support of H.R. 1306, the Federal Disaster Assistance Coordination Act.

As the chairman was noting, this is a bipartisan, commonsense piece of legislation that would amend the Disaster Recovery Reform Act and establish a process to identify ways to streamline it and consolidate the collection of certain disaster information.

I would be remiss, Mr. Speaker, if I didn’t mention the work of the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES), along with the gentleman from California (Mr. PETERS), in terms of really trying to make sure that, when we allocate dollars, they get to those people who are suffering most. The last thing we need is for them to be caught up in a bureaucracy that was not of their own making.

Following a disaster, many times, damage assessment needs are to be done quickly. In North Carolina, even most recently, some of those get into a lot of finger-pointing back and forth, Mr. Speaker.

Just last week, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure received testimony from State and local emergency managers on how that cumbersomely is and what it is now.

So, while FEMA is certainly the lead Federal agency on disasters, there is often an alphabet soup of Federal agencies that have to get involved in the disaster response, and it is the local Federal coordinators that actually have to work in this recovery.

So it is critical that we look throughout all of our agencies to minimize the overlap, certainly as it relates to assessments, and consider the use of newer technologies and how to streamline the process.

Specifically, this bill will establish a Federal working group, led by FEMA, that would work with the Council of the Inspectors General on integrity and efficiency to determine how the damage assessment process can be streamlined and whether new technologies can be used to speed up the process.

Mr. Speaker, this is just a good-gov-ernment bill that will improve disaster recovery. The gentleman knows, being from the great State of Texas, as well as I do, when people are hurting from disasters, what they want are fast, efficient recovery efforts. Hopefully, this bipartisan effort will do that.

I encourage support of this bill, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DeFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I don’t see any additional speakers, so I am prepared to close. I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MEADOWS. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES).

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from North Carolina for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, there are two sorts of Members: There are Members who have experienced and been through the devastation of disaster and the constitu-ents of one, and there are people who will. Those are the two types of Members we have in this body.

The gentleman from North Carolina is one of those folks who has been through this. The people he represents have been through this. The current disaster process that we use oftentimes revictimizes the very disaster victims that we are trying to help, that we are trying to save.

This legislation is very important and it’s insightful. It is insightful because, number one, it brings newer ideas and newer technologies to the table on how we are actually going to quantify the damage associated with disasters.

Let’s not use these technologies and these techniques from the 1950s and 1960s when it is 2019 and 2020. We need to be taking advantage of these new technologies.

What that does, Mr. Speaker, is it results in better, more accurate damage assessments where we are not contrib-uting to the debt and wasting money, as we discussed in previous legislation; it results in faster recovery, faster re-

But, returning to this bill, this is im-portant, and this is not the end of our reforms. As the gentleman from Louisi-ana pointed out, just think of it this way: We had a very rare, bizarre snow event last winter, and I had five trees fall on my house, and the adjuster came out and said okay. We agreed on what it would take to fix the house.

Now, imagine if that company had sent five different adjusters on different days and then with different figures. The house was just finished last weekend. It took 9 months, but I would still be waiting, probably, for the repairs to start.

That is what happens to people in some of these disasters. They are still waiting for the approvals they need to go forward and do the repairs, or they got funding from one agency for emer-gency housing assistance and then they are told that they can’t get housing assistance or they can’t get their home repaired because they took that money, even though no one told them when they took that money that that was going to disqualify them from another agency.

It has got to be straightened out. The Federal Government needs to co-ordinate this response, and this is just, I believe, the beginning of re-forming these disaster assistance programs.

And, oh, by the way, the National Flood Insurance Program is broke, and we have got to do something about that, too, including some reforms.

Mr. Speaker, I urge a “yes” vote, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PETERS. Mr. Speaker, I thank Chair-man DeFAZIO, and thank Congressman MEAD-OWS, for working with me to improve the fed-eral government’s transparency on disaster assistance spending and the government’s ef-ficiency on providing communities with relief funding.

As fires burn across California and hurri-canes continue to hit the Southeast, it is clear that disasters are becoming larger, more dan-gerous, and more expensive. According to the Federal Emer-gency Management Agency (FEMA), there have been more than 2,400 federally declared disasters since 2000, totaling hundreds of billions of dollars in federal relief aid.

Multiple federal agencies help communities recover from these disasters. However, they do not coordinate when conducting damage assessments, which creates duplicative work across agencies.

That’s why I joined Congressman MEAD-OWS in introducing the Federal Disaster Assistance Coordination Act. This bill is commonsense: it requires FEMA to create an interagency working group to determine any areas of overlap across agencies when conducting assess-ments used to administer disaster assistance. It also requires the working group to assess new technologies that may accelerate damage assessments following disasters.

This bill, in coordination with two other dis-aster assistance bills Mr. MEADOWS and I introduced together—the DISASTER Act and the Post-Disaster Assistance Online Accountability Act—allow the federal government to ef-ficiently provide communities with disaster relief aid.
I urge my colleagues to pass this legislation today, and I look forward to the Senate acting on all three of our disaster transparency bills.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DeFazio) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1306, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The title of the bill was amended so as to read: “A bill to amend the Disaster Recovery Reform Act of 2018 to develop and study regarding streamlining and consolidating information collection and preliminary damage assessments, and for other purposes.”

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

NOTICE TO AIRMEN IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 2019

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1775) that establishes a task force on NOTAM improvements, and for other purposes.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 1775

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Notice to Airmen Improvement Act of 2019”.

SEC. 2. FAA TASK FORCE ON NOTAM IMPROVEMENT.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall establish a special task force to be known as the FAA Task Force on NOTAM Improvement (in this section referred to as the “Task Force”).

(b) COMPOSITION.—The Task Force shall consist of members appointed by the Administrator and shall include the following:

(1) Air carrier representatives.

(2) Labor union representatives.

(3) General and business aviation representatives.

(4) Aviation safety experts with knowledge of international and domestic regulatory requirements for notices to airmen (in this section referred to as “NOTAMs”).

(5) Human factors experts.

(c) DUTIES.—The duties of the Task Force shall include—

(1) reviewing existing methods for presenting NOTAMs and flight operations information in a manner that optimizes pilot review and retention of relevant information; and

(2) reviewing regulations and policies relating to NOTAMs, including their content and presentation to pilots;

(3) evaluating and determining best practices to organize, prioritize, and present flight operations information in a manner that optimizes pilot review and retention of relevant information; and

(4) providing recommendations in the following areas:

(A) Improving the presentation of NOTAM information to airmen that prioritizes or highlights the most important information, and optimizes pilot review and retention of relevant information.

(B) Ways to organize that NOTAMs are complete, accurate, and contain the proper information.

(C) Any other best practices that the FAA should consider to improve the accuracy and understandability of NOTAMs and the display of flight operations information.

(D) Ways to carriers, other airspace users, and aviation service providers to implement solutions that are aligned with the recommendations under this paragraph.

(e) RESPONSIBILITIES.—The Task Force shall submit to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate a report detailing—

(1) the results of the reviews and evaluations of the Task Force under subsection (c);

(2) the best practices identified and recommendations provided by the Task Force under subsection (c)

(3) any recommendations of the Task Force for additional regulatory or policy actions to improve the presentation of NOTAMs; and

(4) the degree to which implementing the recommendations of the Task Force will address National Transportation Safety Board Safety Recommendation A–18–24.

(f) APPLICABLE LAW.—The Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App.) shall not apply to the Task Force.

(g) SUNSET.—The Task Force shall terminate on the earlier of—

(1) the date on which the Task Force submits the report required under subsection (d); or

(2) the date that is 18 months after the date on which the Task Force is established under subsection (a).

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DeFazio) and the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. Graves) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Oregon.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 1775.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DeFazio) and the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. Graves) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Oregon.

There was no objection.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise in support of the bill introduced by the gentleman from Minnesota, Representative Stauber. H.R. 1775 is an excellent example of good work and recommendations that will improve safety, hopefully, in the near future without any sort of lengthy rulemaking process.

Mr. Speaker, I urge all my colleagues to join me in supporting the legislation. I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GRAVES of Louisiana, Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, this is how legislation is supposed to work. I want to thank my friend from Wisconsin (Mr. Stauber) and I want to thank Congresswoman DeSaulnier from California for introducing this bipartisan legislation and legislation that is in direct response to an NTSB, National Transportation Safety Board, recommendation.

Mr. Speaker, as you have just heard the committee chair cover a story back at the San Francisco International Airport in 2017, there was an Air Canada flight that was coming in on an occupied taxiway near a turn around. They had been given a notice they misread and didn’t fully understand what they had been given or didn’t fully abide by it, and there were four to five fully loaded airliners on that taxiway.

Mr. Speaker, you can imagine the disaster that would have happened if there had not been a last-minute diversion of the disaster that was imminent in this case. There were four to five fully loaded planes waiting for departure with the Air Canada flight coming in, and there had been notified that it had been closed, but it was not a message that they had properly either understood or received.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question being taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the decision of the previous vote is reversed.

Mr. DESFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I regret that Representative DeSALVONIAR couldn’t be here today because he partnered with Representative STAUFFER on this legislation. He has been very concerned and has been raising this issue with the FAA, especially because of the incident at San Francisco and general concerns he had about runway intrusions and other problems. So he is on an airplane, as we speak, flying here, hopefully, safely. That is unfortunately something he is here to actually get credit on the floor, but I want to extend that to him.

I want to thank Ranking Member GRAVES for his support on this and the other Ranking Member GRAVES for his support on this and Representative LARSEN who is probably also on an airplane somewhere. It is rare that I would be here on a Monday, but the harbor maintenance bill attracted me to be here.

Mr. Speaker, I urge that this be adopted, and I urge a “yes” vote. This is one more little bit of an addition, or a major addition, to our safety culture in aviation in this country with the largest and most complex airspace in the world, and this is a necessary step to make it safer.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DEFAZIO) that this bill receive the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1775.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

TRANSPARENCY IN FEDERAL BUILDINGS PROJECTS ACT OF 2019 Mr. DeFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2502) to amend title 40, United States Code, to require certain prospectuses for public buildings to be made publicly available, and for other purposes.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 2502 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE

This Act may be cited as the “Transparency in Federal Buildings Projects Act of 2019”.

SEC. 2. PUBLIC AVAILABILITY OF BUILDING PROJECT INFORMATION.

(a) In General.—Chapter 33 of title 40, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“SEC. 3318. AVAILABILITY OF FEDERAL BUILDING PROJECT INFORMATION.

(1) The Administrator shall maintain a list of all Federal buildings and structures of the United States of America in the public domain, including the dates on which the Federal Government acquired such property.

(2) The Administrator shall make such list available through a searchable electronic format.

(3) The Administrator shall maintain a list of all Federal buildings and structures of the United States of America in the public domain, including the dates on which the Federal Government acquired such property.

(4) The information shall include—

(A) the last date on which the relevant webpage was updated;

(B) approval dates of respective authorizing resolutions by each committee of jurisdiction, if applicable;

(C) copies of respective committee of jurisdiction resolutions authorizing such prospectuses, as appropriate;

(D) cross-references to any resubmitted or amended prospectuses and associated resolutions; and

(E) such other information as determined by the Administrator.

(b) Definitions.—In this section, the following definitions apply:

(1) PROSPECTUS.—The term ‘prospectus’ means prospectuses, building surveys, and factsheets submitted to the committees of jurisdiction pursuant to sections 3307 and 3316.

(2) COMMITTEES OF JURISDICTION.—The term ‘committees of jurisdiction’ means the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Environment and Public Works of the Senate.

(3) ASSOCIATED INFORMATION.—The term ‘associated information’ means resolutions approved by the committees of jurisdiction and other information as required pursuant to subsection (a).

(4) The information shall include—

(A) the last date on which the relevant webpage was updated;

(B) approval dates of respective authorizing resolutions by each committee of jurisdiction, if applicable;

(C) copies of respective committee of jurisdiction resolutions authorizing such prospectuses, as appropriate;

(D) cross-references to any resubmitted or amended prospectuses and associated resolutions; and

(E) such other information as determined by the Administrator.

(b) Definitions.—In this section, the following definitions apply:

(1) PROSPECTUS.—The term ‘prospectus’ means prospectuses, building surveys, and factsheets submitted to the committees of jurisdiction pursuant to sections 3307 and 3316.

(2) COMMITTEES OF JURISDICTION.—The term ‘committees of jurisdiction’ means the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Environment and Public Works of the Senate.

(3) ASSOCIATED INFORMATION.—The term ‘associated information’ means resolutions approved by the committees of jurisdiction and other information as required pursuant to subsection (a).

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DEFAZIO) and the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. MEADOWS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Oregon.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise in strong support of H.R. 2502, the Transparency in Federal Buildings Projects Act of 2019, introduced by the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. PALMER). It is simple, but it is important. It is also a common sense and contributes to government transparency.

Mr. Speaker, you know that the Federal Government through the GSA is the largest lessor or owner of commercial office space in the United States of America.

The program can use some improvement, and this will help shine a light on some of the issues and concerns we have as we look for some reforms in the way we acquire property in the most cost-effective manner for the American taxpayer. Sometimes GSA does things that make little or no sense when they get into lease agreements, like they did with the Department of Transportation, a beautiful new building. We are now going to buy the building for the second time, essentially, by having paid for the lease for a number of years. These things can be done more effectively and more efficiently, and this legislation will help set a path to that kind of cost savings.

It requires the General Services Administration to publish on its website all prospectuses for leasing, design, or construction activity; update the information and maintain the information for no less than 10 years in a readable, accessible, and—this is key—a searchable form, not just post it and it is like, oh, sorry, there is no index. It has to be searchable.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this legislation, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MEADOWS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 2502, the Transparency in Federal Buildings Projects Act, as the chairman just mentioned, it is a common-sense piece of legislation.

I would like to thank the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. PALMER) for his leadership on this bill. I am pleased that he and I are cosponsors of this particular legislation.

H.R. 2502 does provide for greater transparency to the taxpayers on the public buildings projects and leases. It actually would require the General Services Administration, or what we refer to as GSA, to include on its websites all project proposals and associated information to Congress under the Public Buildings Act for approval.

This is a simple action, but it can have a significant impact on improving the accountability and transparency that all American taxpayers yearn for.

While GSA includes some information on its website, that information provided is somewhat limited. This bill would ensure that taxpayers know what projects have been proposed, how much they will cost, and which have been actually approved.

In 2013 the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure began filling this void by posting this information on its website. Since that time the committee’s website has become a critical resource not only for the public and private sector but also for Federal agencies. However, to ensure the continuity and that this information continues to be regularly updated and maintained, this bill would place that responsibility on GSA.

As I mentioned, this is a common-sense, straightforward bill. I thank Chairman DEFAZIO and Ranking Member GRAVES for their willingness to address efficient and effective government agency.

Mr. Speaker, I encourage all of my colleagues to support this legislation, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. MEADOWS. Mr. Speaker, I yield as much time as he may consume the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. PALMER), the sponsor of this particular piece of legislation.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. GRAVES), the ranking member, and the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. MEADOWS) for their work on the issue, and Chairman DEFAZIO for his support.

The General Services Administration is required to submit to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure and to the Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works prospectuses that contain information on proposed projects for committee consideration.

In recent years, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, as has been mentioned, has posted this information about these projects on its website to provide access to the public and private entities. While the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure has become a resource for the public, and even for Federal agencies, this bill, the Transparency in Federal Buildings Projects Act, would require the transparency in Federal Buildings Projects Act to be publicly available on its website all prospectuses and associated information, pursuant to the Public Buildings Act.

This sensible reform will ensure that taxpayers have more information about how their hard-earned dollars are being spent and managed. The bill would strengthen transparency and accountability in Federal construction, renovation, and leasing projects.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support it.

Mr. MEADOWS. Mr. Speaker, I am prepared to close, and I am assuming that the gentleman opposite is. As we close, I thank the chairman once again for his support, and I thank the sponsor of this particular bill.

We do propose that GSA, in posting this information in a searchable fashion, will provide for a more open and transparent government.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support that, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, in closing, again, I congratulate the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. PALMER) for proposing this new transparency legislation. I am certain, in the end, it is ultimately going to save the taxpayers money and lead to GSA, perhaps, performing in a more efficient manner.

Mr. Speaker, I urge a “yes” vote, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DEFAZIO) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2502.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

VETERAN TREATMENT COURT

ORDINATE OF 2019

Ms. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 886) to direct the Attorney General to establish and carry out a Veteran Treatment Court Program, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill. The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 886
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.
(a) Establishment.—Subject to the availability of appropriations, in coordination with the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, the Attorney General shall establish and carry out a Veteran Treatment Court Program to provide grants and technical assistance to court systems that—
(1) have adopted a Veterans Treatment Court Program; or
(2) have filed a notice of intent to establish a Veterans Treatment Court Program with the Secretary.

(b) Purpose.—The purpose of the Veterans Treatment Court Program established under subsection (a) is to ensure the Department of Justice has a single office to coordinate the provision of grants, training, and technical assistance to help State, local, and Tribal governments to develop and maintain veteran treatment courts.

(c) Programs Included.—The Veterans Treatment Court Program established under subsection (a) shall include the grant programs relating to veterans treatment courts carried out by the Attorney General pursuant to sections 2901, 2991, and 3021 of the Om-

(d) Regulations.—The Attorney General shall promulgate regulations to carry out this section.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from California (Ms. BASS) and the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. COLLINS) each will control 20 minutes.
The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from California.

Ms. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from California? There was no objection.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to support H.R. 886, the Veteran Treatment Court Coordination Act. This bill stands as a testament to the commitment Congress has to veterans, those who have service-connected mental health disabilities and become involved in the criminal justice system.

By establishing a grant program office called the Veteran Treatment Court Program Office in the Department of Justice, the bill makes permanent our support for the hundreds of local veteran treatment court programs around the country that successfully rehabilitate veterans.

The Veteran Treatment Court Program Office would build upon the success of the hundreds of veterans courts programs in the United States by standardizing data reporting methods, serving as a repository for resources, providing training to veteran court administrators, and distributing information nationwide on best practices on how to improve the administration of veterans courts.

Despite efforts to welcome veterans home and ease their transition to civilian life, many veterans continue to face hardships after completing their military service. One study reports that approximately 9 percent of veterans who served in Iraq and Afghanistan have been arrested since returning home.

The Bureau of Justice Statistics estimates that approximately 180,000 veterans were incarcerated in State and Federal prisons between 2011 and 2012. Of those incarcerated veterans surveyed, 48 percent of veterans in prison and 55 percent of veterans in jail reported that they had been told by a mental health professional that they had a mental health disorder.

Veterans treatment courts can provide an effective means by which communities can rehabilitate veterans who commit crimes and support victims by ensuring veteran-defendants pay restitution before they may receive a dismissal or expungement.

Empirical studies show that veterans courts provide more effective means of rehabilitating justice-involved veterans. Although 20 percent of veterans court participants received jail sanctions during their participation in the veterans court program, only 14 percent experienced a new incarceration during an average of nearly 1 year in the program. This rate of recidivism is substantially less than the 23 to 46 percent 1-year recidivism rate found among nonveteran prisoners. Most programs report less than five dropouts in the 2017 calendar year.

There are over 500 veteran treatment courts operating in local, Tribal, and Tribal governments. This bill ensures existing programs will continue their mission to serve our veterans and make it easier for jurisdictions to start new veteran courts programs and adopt best practices.

I thank my colleague, Representative CHARLIE CRIST, for his leadership in authoring this bill and for his continued dedication to supporting our veterans.

This is a thoughtful and important bill that will help veterans who need our assistance.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLLINS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I thank the gentlewoman from California (Ms. BASS). She did a great job explaining this bill. This is an easy bill. This is one that we should come to. This is exactly why suspensions exist, to do something like this.

On a personal note, as a member of the Air Force Reserve, someone who has been both in the Navy and Air Force, serving in Iraq and others, this is something that is very good.

In my home of Hall County, Georgia, the veterans courts have been set up for several years now. We see the mentoring aspect, the peer activity, something that we gained in the military and something that is very important and vital for these individuals who have gone through run-ins with the law on many occasions, on different ideas, especially if it has to do with things that came out of their service. We owe them no greater debt than we do others, to make sure that they have the chance to get their lives back straight.

Veterans treatment courts do that, and this coordination act puts the emphasis on it from a Federal level.

I could not think of a better way to start this week. Hopefully, holding a good bill together, that we could get this to the Senate as quickly as possible, and get it, even more importantly, to the President's desk so that it becomes more than a political statement but actually a law.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. Crist).

Mr. CRIST. Mr. Speaker, after 9/11, thousands of America's best had to offer to sign up for our freedom. They served their country with honor to keep all of us here and our loved ones safe. Many of these heroes suffered greatly with wounds that you can see and, in many cases, wounds that you cannot.

Too many veterans face mental and physical disabilities. Too many veterans come home without support structures. Too many veterans lack opportunities. And too many veterans self-medicate, find themselves in the criminal justice system, and are forgotten.

In 2008, the first veteran treatment court was established in Buffalo, New York. The idea is that veterans face unique challenges that require veteran-specific care.

While the VA can be an option for a veteran in crisis, including at the C.W. Bill Young Medical Center in my district, not every veteran in crisis goes to the VA, and if they do, they may not have somebody to check on them and make sure they are okay.

Veterans treatment courts are diversion programs. Working with justice outreach specialists at their local VA medical centers, social workers and counselors at the local level, and veterans service organizations, vet courts get nonviolent veterans who qualify into treatment and counseling instead of just locking them up.

Just over 10 years after the first court, there are now hundreds all around the country, including one in my home of Pinellas County, Florida.

Each vet court is different, starting in the community from scratch and coordinating the people and organizations that will help rehabilitate veterans in their program.

Congress, recognizing the importance of these courts in our districts, has provided funding for vet courts for a few years now, including a record $25 million in the House-passed Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies Appropriations bill.

However, unlike other justice grant programs, like juvenile justice programs, there is still not adequate coordination at the Department of Justice to provide best practices, support, as well as technical assistance to communities that have vet court or want to start one.

The Veteran Treatment Court Coordination Act fixes this, establishing the Veteran Treatment Court Program in the Office of Justice Programs.

I am thankful to my colleagues on the Committee on Appropriations, of which I am a member, particularly the gentlewoman from New York, Chairwoman LOWEY, and the gentleman from New York, Chairman SERRANO, for their steadfast support of the veteran treatment court funding.

However, the Department of Justice, which administers the grants, needs an office dedicated to helping communities that want to access grants or want to set up their own veteran courts.

I thank the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. STEFANIK) for her work over many years, as well as the gentleman from New York, Chairman NADLER, and the gentleman from California, Chairwoman BASS, for their... leadership on the Committee on the Judiciary, fighting for criminal justice reforms as well as diversion programs. Lastly, I thank all the organizations, both veterans service organizations and criminal justice professionals, that have helped build support for this bill. The bill that has worked tirelessly in our districts to make veterans treatment courts so successful. This includes the National Military and Veterans Alliance, the National Veterans Court Alliance, and the National Sheriffs’ Association, all of which have endorsed the legislation, along with 19 veteran groups total.

When a veteran suffering because of their service makes a mistake, we have a duty as a country to do all we can to give them the very best possible outcome. We have a duty to fight for those who fought for our freedoms.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to support this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, in the state of Georgia, Mr. Speaker, if the gentlewoman has no more speakers, I am prepared to close.

Mr. Speaker, this is a good bill. I appreciate everybody and all the hard work that has gone into it.

When it takes time to come together and lock arms to do these kinds of bills, these are things that actually move the needle for people back home, the reason we are here. This is very easy to support. This should be a simple voice vote. Get it done, and get this done.

Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentlewoman from California, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the ranking member for his brevity.

Mr. Speaker, this bill would help provide support to more than 1 million veterans diagnosed with service-connected disabilities, as well as the thousands who are undiagnosed who have been and will be exposed to the criminal justice system.

Supporting rehabilitative veterans courts programs is the least we can do to acknowledge their sacrifice and treat our veterans involved with the criminal justice system with compassion and care.

Mr. Speaker, for these reasons, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. GONZÁLEZ-COLON of Puerto Rico. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in strong support of H.R. 886, the Veteran Treatment Court Coordination Act of 2019.

Our men and women in uniform often struggle with physical and mental remnants of their time in service. According to the VA, over 1.7 million veterans received treatment through a VA mental health specialty program in 2018.

Additionally, close to 20 percent of service members returning from Iraq or Afghanistan experience depression or have a Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder diagnosis.

Mr. Speaker, I want our veterans to thrive. They listened to their Nation’s call and served when needed. It is now our responsibility to address every single issue that stops them from living a full life and continue to contribute to their country as a civilian.

Veterans’ Treatment Courts are a valuable tool that assists veterans facing non-violent criminal charges resulting from mental illness, substance abuse or other adverse behavior.

They provide the state and county level that focus on rehabilitation and reintegration in part by facilitating programs that provide support and resources to veterans.

H.R. 886 directs the Department of Justice to establish Veteran Treatment Court Programs that provides grants and technical assistance to local governments to develop and maintain veteran treatment courts.

State circuits that have either adopted a Veterans Treatment Court or have filed a notice of intent to establish a Veterans Treatment Court would be eligible.

I am a proud cosponsor of this bill. I genuinely believe veterans are an asset to our communities and as such should be given all available help and assistance.

I thank my colleague, Mr. CRIST from Florida for his leadership on this issue and encourage my colleagues to vote in favor.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from California (Ms. BASS) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 886, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentlewoman from California, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3942) to apply requirements relating to delivery sales of cigarettes to delivery sales of electronic nicotine delivery systems, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows: H.R. 3942 PREVENTING ONLINE SALES OF E-CIGARETTES TO CHILDREN ACT Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3942) to apply requirements relating to delivery sales of cigarettes to delivery sales of electronic nicotine delivery systems, and for other purposes, as amended.

SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Preventing Online Sales of E-Cigarettes to Children Act”.

SEC. 2. AMENDMENTS TO THE JENKINS ACT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Act entitled “An Act to assist States in collecting sales and use taxes on cigarettes”, approved October 19, 1949 (commonly known as the “Jenkins Act”) (15 U.S.C. 375 et seq.), is amended—

(1) in section 1 (15 U.S.C. 375)—

(A) in paragraph (2)(A)—

(i) by striking “includes roll-your-own tobacco” and inserting the following: “includes—

(1) roll-your-own tobacco”;

(ii) in subclause (I), as so designated, by striking the period at the end and inserting “;”;

and

(iii) by adding at the end the following: “(II) an electronic nicotine delivery system.”;

(B) by redesignating paragraphs (7) through (14) as paragraphs (8) through (15), respectively; and

(C) by inserting after paragraph (6) the following:

“(7) ELECTRONIC NICOTINE DELIVERY SYSTEM.—The term ‘electronic nicotine delivery system’—

“(A) means any electronic device that, through an aerosolized solution, delivers nicotine, flavor, or any other substance to the user inhaling from the device; and

“(B) includes—

“(i) an e-cigarette;

“(ii) an e-hookah;

“(iii) an e-cigar;

“(iv) a vape pen;

“(v) an advanced refillable personal vaporizer;

“(vi) an electronic pipe; and “(vii) any component, liquid, part, or accessory of a device described in subparagraph (A), without regard to whether the component, liquid, part, or accessory is sold separately from the device; and

“(C) does not include a product that is—

“(i) approved by the Food and Drug Administration for—

“(I) sale as a tobacco cessation product; or “(II) any other therapeutic purpose; and

“(ii) marketed and sold solely for a purpose described in clause (I).”;

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—This section, and the amendments made by this section, shall take effect on the date that is 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 3. NONMISALIGNABILITY OF ELECTRONIC NICOTINE DELIVERY SYSTEMS.

(a) REGULATIONS.—Not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the United States Postal Service shall promulgate regulations to clarify the applicability of the prohibition on mailing of cigarettes under section 1716e of title 18, United States Code, to electronic nicotine delivery systems, in accordance with the amendment to the definition of “cigarette” made by section 2.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The prohibition on mailing of cigarettes under section 1716e of title 18, United States Code, shall apply to electronic nicotine delivery systems on and after the date on which the United States Postal Service promulgates regulations under subsection (a) of this section.

SEC. 4. DETERMINATION OF BUDGETARY EFFECTS.

The budgetary effects of this Act, for the purpose of complying with the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, shall be determined by reference to the latest statement titled “Budgetary Effects of PAYGO Legislation” for this Act, submitted for printing in the Congressional Record by the Chairman of the House Budget Committee, provided that such statement has been submitted prior to the vote on passage.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. BASS) and the gentleman from North Dakota (Mr. ARMSTRONG) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from California.

Ms. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from California?

There was no objection.
Mr. Speaker, H.R. 3942, the Preventing Online Sales of E-Cigarettes to Children Act, is an important bill to protect our young people. I applaud the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Ms. DeLAURO) for taking the lead on this issue and introducing this bipartisan legislation.

This bill addresses a very serious public health crisis in our country, one which is tragically affecting our children. Since last summer, a mysterious and severe pulmonary disease associated with the use of e-cigarettes and the practice of vaping has sickened over 1,000 mostly young and otherwise healthy people, 18 of whom have died.

Public health advocates place the blame for this crisis on the aggressive marketing of vaping products that appeal to kids, including e-liquids with fruit, bubble gum, or even cotton candy flavors in packaging that features superhero or cartoon characters. Advocates also cite the mushrooming popularity of USB flash drive-like e-cigarettes that have a high nicotine content, appealing flavors, and can easily be concealed.

Evidence of the attractiveness of these products to young people is reflected in some staggering statistics. According to the 2018 National Youth Tobacco Survey, between 2017 and 2018 there was a 78 percent increase in e-cigarette use among high school students and a 48 percent increase among middle school students. H.R. 3942 will play an important role in addressing this crisis.

Congress regulates the sales of tobacco products via interstate shipment through the 1949 Jenkins Act. In 2010, Congress extended the Jenkins Act to regulate delivery sales of tobacco products over the internet through the Prevent All Cigarette Trafficking Act, or PACT Act.

Among other things, the PACT Act curbed internet sales of cigarettes to underage people by encouraging and requiring that delivery agents check identification in person when the product is delivered.

H.R. 3942 amends current law to curb online sales of e-cigarettes to minors. It amends the definition of "cigarette" to extend to any electronic nicotine delivery system, which includes e-cigarettes, vape pens, and other electronic devices.

A violation of the provisions of the Jenkins Act is a Federal felony, punishable by up to 3 years in prison. Amendment to current law to extend these protections to e-cigarettes is the right thing to do.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this important bill, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 3942, the Preventing Online Sales of E-Cigarettes to Children Act.

This bill can be summarized in this way: If minors can't buy e-cigarettes in a store, they shouldn't be able to buy e-cigarettes online.

Today, anyone who purchases alcohol or tobacco at a brick-and-mortar retail store is subject to age verification requirements. Online retailers of alcohol must also verify a purchaser's age to ensure the sales comply with State and Federal law. However, online retailers of e-cigarettes operate e-commerce verifying the age of their customers.

When the PACT Act was passed in 2010, it did a great job of curbing youth smoking. Unfortunately, e-cigarettes were not in existence yet.

This loophole exists at a time when youth vaping is at epidemic levels. Today, one in five high school students is using e-cigarettes. Kids can have e-cigarettes delivered right to their door without requiring an adult signature. Teen vaping rates have doubled since 2017, and over 3 million minors used e-cigarettes last year. The lack of age verification requirements is hurting kids.

The Preventing Online Sales of E-Cigarettes to Children Act would require age verification upon delivery of online purchases of e-cigarettes and other vapor products. It closes the online delivery loophole and will prevent the underaged purchase of e-cigarettes online.

This bill has a broad coalition of support.

I thank Representative Rosa DeLAURO for her partnership on this legislation to protect the next generation, as well as House Judiciary Committee Ranking Member DOUG COLLINS.

This bill also has bipartisan support in the Senate, with Senators DIANNE FEINSTEIN, JOHN CORNYN, and CHRIS VAN HOLLEN all on board.

Patient advocacy organizations like the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network and the American Lung Association also support this legislation.

Business and trade associations like the National Association of Convenience Stores, the Petroleum Marketer Association of America, and the Convenience Distribution Association also support this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I notice that there are a number of young people who are in the gallery, so I am hoping that they pay close attention to this debate since it is all about you guys.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would remind Members to avoid referencing occupants of the gallery.

Ms. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL).

Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in support of H.R. 3942, the Preventing Online Sales of E-Cigarettes to Children Act.

The spread of e-cigarettes is a public health crisis. I have had multiple conversations with parents who are seeing their children become addicted to tobacco products, and, as a mom, I refuse to stand idly by as a new generation of children become addicted to this substance.

We have seen multiple deaths from the use of vaping products and several hundred lung disease cases in Florida alone. Approximately 5,600 kids in Florida are becoming new daily smokers each year. This is affecting children regardless of ZIP Code or income level.

For years, e-cigarette companies have targeted our children using specialty flavors like cotton candy and bubble gum, and made their products easy to purchase online without any age verification.

We have the responsibility to do everything we can to keep this addictive substance out of the hands of our kids, including requiring online and in-person verification for e-cigarette purchases.

The health of our Nation's children is at risk because of e-cigarettes and vaping products. The time to act is now.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BASS. Mr. Speaker, H.R. 3942 is an important measure to address a threat to the health of our children and young people.

For the reasons discussed here today, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this bipartisan legislation, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I have a 9-year-old daughter; I have a 9-year-old son. There are schools across the country that are removing doors on bathroom stalls and banning hoodies. Teen vaping and youth vaping is a real
CROWDFUNDING AMENDMENTS ACT

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H. R. 4860) to amend the Securities Act of 1933 to subject crowdfunding vehicles to the jurisdiction of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill. The text of the bill is as follows:

SEC. 2. CROWDFUNDING VEHICLES.

(a) AMENDMENTS TO THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933—The Securities Act of 1933 (15 U.S.C. 77a et seq.) is amended—

(1) in section 3(c) (15 U.S.C. 80b–3(c)), by striking the term ‘crowdfunding vehicle’ and inserting ‘a company—’;

(2) in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (2) (15 U.S.C. 80b–3(c)(2)), by striking ‘‘crowdfunding vehicle’’ and inserting ‘‘company any fees charged by the investment adviser that is—’’;

(3) in paragraph (2), by adding at the end the following:

‘‘(15)(A) Any crowdfunding vehicle. ‘‘(B) A determination, for the purposes of this section, that a company is a crowdfunding vehicle shall be made by the Commission;’’;

(b) AMENDMENTS TO THE INVESTMENT ADVISERS ACT OF 1940.—The Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80b–1 et seq.) is amended—

(c) AMENDMENTS TO THE INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FIRM ACT OF 1940.—The Investment Management Firm Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80b–1 et seq.) is amended—

(d) AMENDMENTS TO THE SEcurities ACT OF 1934.—The Securities Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78l(g)(6)) is amended—

SEC. 3. CROWDFUNDING EXEMPTION FROM REGISTRATION.

Section 12(g)(6) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78l(g)(6)) is amended—

(i) by striking ‘‘The Commission’’ and inserting the following:

‘‘(A) IN GENERAL—The Commission’’;

(ii) in subparagraph (A), as so designated, by striking ‘‘section 4(6)’’ and inserting ‘‘section 4(a)(6)’’;

and

(iii) by adding at the end the following:

‘‘(B) Treatment of securities issued by certain issuers—

‘‘(1) IN GENERAL.—An exemption under subparagraph (A) shall be unconditional for securities offered by an issuer that had a public float of less than $75,000,000, as of the last business day of the most recently completed semiannual period of the issuer, which shall be calculated in accordance with clause (ii).

‘‘(II) Calculation—

‘‘(i) IN GENERAL.—A public float described in clause (i) shall be calculated by multiplying the aggregate worldwide number of shares of the common equity securities of an issuer that are held by non-affiliates by the price at which those securities were last sold (or the average bid and asked prices of those securities) in the principal market for those securities.

‘‘(ii) Treatment of zero.—If a public float calculation under subsection (b) (I) with respect to an issuer is zero, an exemption under subparagraph (A) shall be unconditional for securities offered by the issuer if the issuer had annual revenues of less than $5,000,000, as of the most recently completed fiscal year of the issuer.’’.

SEC. 4. RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.

Nothing in this Act or the amendments made by this Act may allow an issuer or a crowdfunding vehicle to offer or sell securities in excess of the limitation described under section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act of 1933 (15 U.S.C. 77d(a)(6)).

SEC. 5. DETERMINATION OF BUDGETARY EFFECTS.

The budgetary effects of this Act, for the purpose of complying with the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, shall be determined by reference to the latest statement titled ‘‘Budgetary Effects of PAYGO Legislation’’ for this Act, submitted for printing in the Congressional Record by the Chairman of the House Budget Committee, provided that such statement has been submitted prior to the vote on passage. GENERAL LEAVE.
Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

First of all, Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank our ranking member of the Financial Services Committee, Representative MCHENRY, for his efforts in crafting this very important piece of legislation to help startups finance their operations while still protecting the investors who entrust their hard-earned funds to those companies.

Equity crowdfunding is a high-risk, high-reward investment that allows hundreds, or even thousands, of retail investors to invest in startup companies. Because of the unique and heightened risks posed by crowdfunding, the Securities and Exchange Commission have put in place guardrails to prevent these less-sophisticated investors from suffering financial ruin while still being able to access this area of the market.

Now, in 2012, Congress cautiously approached equity crowdfunding by creating a number of investor protections in the Jumpstart Our Business Startups Act, or the JOBS Act.

The SEC followed our directions and finalized a crowdfunding rule that protects investors by setting reasonable investment limits based on income and provides helpful disclosures for investors to weigh the risks.

This bill aims to enhance the investor and company experience in crowdfunding by authorizing crowdfunding vehicles to pool investors together, allowing them to make joint investments totaling $1 million in a single business.

These vehicles would be advised by a registered investment adviser with a fiduciary responsibility to act in the best interests of the fund. Importantly, the investors would have the same rights to sue companies as if they had directly invested in the company itself—a very, very important point, Mr. Speaker.

This bill also clarifies that as long as a crowdfunding company continues to make ongoing disclosures to investors required under SEC’s rule, it would not have to make the more detailed public reports until it had either a $75 million value or $50 million in revenue. This change is consistent with the levels set under Regulation A, another exempt offering for investors.

I am very pleased that the bill also incorporates targeted improvements to crowdfunding for all investors and start-ups and lacks problematic provisions that were opposed by consumer advocates like the Consumer Federation of America and previous Congresses, including additional changes that Chairwoman WATERS and our ranking member agreed on this Congress.

Moreover, Mr. Speaker, I want to commend our ranking member for his excellent work.

Mr. MCHENRY. Mr. Speaker, I include the remainder of my statement in the RECORD.

I am pleased the House is taking up my legislation and I would like to thank the gentleman from California, the Chairwoman of the Financial Services Committee, for her co-sponsorship of this bill.

We have worked together on this bill for three Congresses now. I appreciate all the hard work that she and her staff have done to make this a bill that works to protect investors and promote small businesses, particularly in communities that are being left behind.

We all agree small businesses and entrepreneurs are America's true job creators. This is especially true in communities I represent in western North Carolina.

But today, America's small businesses are still struggling to find capital. Small business lending from traditional banks continues to decline, and small business loans in America's small towns are less than half it was merely fifteen years ago.

Investment crowdfunding is one way we can reverse this concerning trend. In 2012, I wrote the original bill to legalize investment-based crowdfunding, making it easier for businesses to raise capital.

That bill became part of the JOBS Act. Unfortunately, the SEC's final rule contained serious structural flaws that require Congress's immediate attention.

In particular, crowdfunding is suffering from the so-called “12-g problem.” The “12 g problem” refers to a section of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, which subjects crowdfunding companies to requirements similar to a public company, but at a very low asset threshold.

Our proposed amendment fixes the “12-g problem” by raising the asset threshold for both small businesses that already have revenue, and for those startups that do not. This makes it more likely that high-growth companies will consider crowdfunding as an option for raising capital.

Another significant problem for crowdfunding is that, under the SEC rule, single purpose funds are not permitted.

Single purpose funds allow Main street investors to invest along with more sophisticated lead investors who have an obligation to advocate for their best interests. That means better terms and greater transparency for the investors.

A single purpose fund also improves the capitalization table for companies that hope to attract venture capital in the future.

Although the bill does not include everything I would have hoped, we worked hard to find a compromise that addresses the most urgent problems with investment crowdfunding that need correcting now.

To that end, I want to thank Chairwoman WATERS again for her continued support on this important, bipartisan compromise.

This bill shows that we can work together in a bipartisan way to help American small businesses in seeking to raise capital by connecting folks not just in their local communities, but across America.

I am pleased that this legislation enjoys support from my colleagues on both sides of the aisle.

I urge my colleagues to join us in support of this bill.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I urge all Members to vote for this bill, and I want to commend the ranking member for his excellent work.

I yield back the balance of my time.
Sec. 101. Improving the definition and purpose of the Bank Secrecy Act.

Section 5311 of title 31, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by inserting “to protect our national security, to safeguard the integrity of the international financial system, and” before “to require”; and

TITLE II—IMPROVING AML/CFT OVERSIGHT

SEC. 201. PILOT PROGRAM ON SHARING OF SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITY REPORTS WITHIN A FINANCIAL GROUP.

(a) In General.—

(1) Sharing With Foreign Branches and Affiliates.—Section 5318(g) of title 31, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

‘‘(5) Pilot Program on Sharing with Foreign Branches, Subsidiaries, and Affiliates.—

‘‘(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall issue rules establishing the pilot program described under subparagraph (B), subject to such controls and restrictions as the Director of the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network determines appropriate, including controls and restrictions regarding participation by financial institutions and jurisdictions in the pilot program. In prescribing such rules, the Secretary shall ensure that the sharing of information described under such subparagraph (B) is subject to appropriate standards and requirements regarding data security and the confidentiality of personally identifiable information.

‘‘(B) Pilot Program Described.—The pilot program required under this paragraph shall—

‘‘(i) permit a financial institution with a reporting obligation under this subsection to share reports (or such reports) under this subsection with the institution’s foreign branches, subsidiaries, and affiliates for the purpose of combating illicit finance risks, notwithstanding any other provision of law except subparagraphs (A) and (C);’’.

(2) Implementation Updates.—Not later than 360 days after the date rules are issued under subparagraph (A), and annually thereafter for three years, the Secretary shall provide a report to the Committee on Financial Services of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs of the Senate on—

(i) the degree of any information sharing permitted under the pilot program, and a description of criteria used by the Secretary to evaluate the appropriateness of the information sharing;

(ii) the effectiveness of the pilot program in identifying or preventing the violation of a United States law or regulation, and mechanisms that may improve such effectiveness; and

(iii) any recommendations to amend the design of the pilot program.

(b) Rule of Construction.—Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as limiting the Secretary’s authority under provisions of law other than this paragraph to establish other permissible purposes or methods for a financial institution sharing reports (and information on such reports) under this subsection with the institution’s foreign headquarters or with other branches of the same institution.

(4) Notice of Use of Other Authority.—If the Secretary, pursuant to any authority other than that provided under this paragraph, permits a financial institution to use information on such reports under this subsection with a foreign branch, subsidiary, or affiliate located in a foreign jurisdiction, the Secretary shall notify the Committee on Financial Services of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs of such permission and the reason for the request.

"(6) TREATMENT OF FOREIGN-JURISDICTION-ORIGINATED REPORTS.—A report received by a financial institution from a foreign affiliate with respect to a suspicious transaction relevant to a possible violation of law or regulation shall be subject to the same confidentiality requirements provided under this sub-section on a report of a suspicious transaction described under paragraph (1)."

(2) NOTIFICATION PROHIBITIONS.—Section 5318(g)(2)(A) of title 31, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end of subsection (g):"...or otherwise reveal any information that would reveal that the transaction has been reported;" and

(2) RULEMAKING.—Not later than the end of the 360-day period beginning on the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of the Treasury shall issue regulations to carry out the amendments made by this section.

(2) may include open and closed sessions, as determined necessary by the Council; and

(3) shall include participation by public and private entities and law enforcement agencies.

SEC. 302. INNOVATION LABS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 53 of title 31, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

‘§ 5333. Innovation Labs.

(‘a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established within the Department of the Treasury and each Federal functional regulator an Innovation Lab.

(‘b) DIRECTOR.—The head of each Innovation Lab shall be a Director, to be appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury or the head of the Federal functional regulator, as applicable.

(‘c) DUTIES.—The duties of the Innovation Lab shall be—

(1) to provide outreach to law enforcement agencies, State bank supervisors, financial institutions, and other persons (including vendors and technology companies) with respect to innovation and new technologies that may be used to comply with the requirements of the Bank Secrecy Act;

(2) to support the implementation of responses to emerging innovation and new technology, in a manner that complies with the requirements of the Bank Secrecy Act;

(3) to explore opportunities for public-private partnerships.

(4) to develop metrics of success.

(5) In FINCEN Lab.—The Innovation Lab established under subsection (a) within the Department of the Treasury shall be a subbranch of the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network.

(e) DEFINITION.—In this subsection—

‘(1) FINCEN.—The term ‘FINCEN’ means the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network.

(2) FINCEN LAB.—The Innovation Lab established under subsection (a) within the Department of the Treasury shall be a subbranch of the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network.

(3) CONFIDENTIALITY OF ALGORITHMS.—If a financial institution or any director, officer, employee, or agent of a financial institution voluntarily or pursuant to this subsection or any other authority, discloses the institution’s algorithms to a Government agency, such algorithms and any data associated with the creation of such algorithms shall be considered confidential and not subject to public disclosure.

(4) CRYPTOGRAPHIC ALGORITHMS.—The term ‘cryptographic algorithms’ means—

(A) any algorithm, encryption key, or cryptographic material;

(B) any implementation or use of an algorithm, encryption key, or cryptographic material;

(C) any information used in the generation, distribution, or verification of an encryption key or any other cryptographic parameter.

(b) E FFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall take effect on October 28, 2019.
Georgia (Mr. DAVID SCOTT) and the gentlewoman from Missouri (Mrs. WAGNER) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Georgia.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on this legislation, and to insert extraneous material thereon.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Georgia?

There was no objection.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

In recent weeks, we have had the opportunity to discuss the valuable anti-money laundering aspects of the COUNTER Act of 2019, H.R. 2514, introduced by the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. CLEAVER).

This important piece of legislation is the first major reform in the United States anti-money laundering regime since 2001 and makes critical changes to close loopholes and ensure better enforcement of this country’s AML and Bank Secrecy Act laws.

Today, I would like to highlight how this bill also addresses the costs and burdens of the Bank Secrecy Act and anti-money laundering compliance for smaller financial institutions, including credit unions and community banks.

This bill includes multiple avenues to improve information-sharing and feedback loops, including new programs of domestic liaisons for the Financial Crime Enforcement Network of FinCEN, sending FinCEN officials to small businesses here today, while we discussed the COUNTER Act of 2019, again, thank you, as a standalone piece of legislation.

Both Republicans and Democrats agree, protecting the financial system from bad actors is a priority. We must give financial institutions the tools and resources they need to fight these bad actors.

According to a 2016 report by the U.S. Government Accountability Office, from January 2009 to December 2015, Federal agencies assessed roughly $3.1 billion in fines, forfeitures, and penalties for violations of the Bank Secrecy Act and anti-money laundering regulations, often referred to as BSA/AML.

A separate 2016 analysis of anti-money laundering enforcement found that penalties and fines for BSA violations significantly increased since the 2008 financial crisis. This report concluded that regulators had become more aggressive in pursuing BSA violations in the wake of the crisis.

However, this data is from 2016. We now know that the current enforcement regime is outdated. Technology has outpaced the tools and resources available to Federal agencies to pursue these bad actors.

H.R. 2514 makes important changes to strengthen BSA and AML enforcement. The bill includes key aspects of the BSA/AML reform package from last Congress, including a provision that allows for tailored information-sharing by financial institutions with their foreign branches to better identify suspicious activity.

The bill also includes important updates to the reporting thresholds for Suspicious Activities Reports, or SARs.

H.R. 2514 reforms the SAR framework by requiring the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network to carry out a study examining whether the current SAR thresholds are adequate.

This study will provide the necessary data to alter the current SAR filing regime in the future. There is clearly a recognition on both sides of the aisle that the status quo is unacceptable.

The bill also encourages greater innovation, ensures efficiency, and requires treasury to play a prominent role in coordinating AML policy. These measures will help ensure that the most effective AML policies are being used to stop terrorists, and other bad actors.

I want to thank the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. CLEAVER) and the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. STIVERS) for all their hard work and effort on this bill.

Additionally, I want to thank the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. LUCEMEYER), the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. RIGGLEMAN), and the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. GONZALEZ).

Mr. Speaker, their priorities have made the bill stronger, and more focused. I would especially like to congratulate my colleague from Missouri, Mr. CLEAVER, the chairman of the House Committee on Financial Services, National Security, International Development, and Monetary Policy Subcommittee for introducing this bill.

A champion of small business himself, Mr. CLEAVER has diligently engaged stakeholders, including government, industry, nongovernmental organizations, and Members from across the political spectrum on the text that was voted on here today. The result is this comprehensive bill with broad bipartisan support.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this important piece of legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I yield the balance of my time.
The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed. A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

FINANCIAL INCLUSION IN BANKING ACT OF 2019

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 4067) to amend the Consumer Financial Protection Act of 2010 to direct the Office of Community Affairs to identify causes leading to, and solutions for, under-banked, un-banked, and underserved consumers, and for other purposes, as amended. The Clerk read the title of the bill. The text of the bill is as follows: H.R. 4067

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Financial Inclusion in Banking Act of 2019".

SEC. 2. OFFICE OF COMMUNITY AFFAIRS DUTIES WITH RESPECT TO UNDER-BANKED, UN-BANKED, AND UNDERSERVED CONSUMERS.

Section 1013(b)(2) of the Consumer Financial Protection Act of 2010 (12 U.S.C. 5493(b)(2)) is amended—

(1) by striking "The Director shall establish a unit" and inserting the following: "(A) IN GENERAL.—The Director shall establish a unit to be known as the "Office of Community Affairs"; and"

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(B) COORDINATION WITH OTHER REGULATORY AGENCIES.—The Office of Community Affairs shall—

(1) identify subject matter experts within the Bureau to work on the issues identified under subclause (I);

(2) lead coordination efforts between other Federal departments and agencies to better assess the reasons for the lack of, and help increase the participation of, under-banked, un-banked, and underserved consumers in the banking system; and

(3) identify and develop strategies to increase financial education to under-banked, un-banked, and underserved consumers.

(II) TIMING OF REPORT.—To the extent possible, the Office shall submit each report required under this section in the year in which the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation does not issue the report on encouraging use of depository institutions by the un-banked required under section 49 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act.".

SEC. 3. DISCRETIONARY SURPLUS FUNDS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The dollar amount specified under section 7(a)(3)(A) of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 286(a)(3)(A)) is reduced by $10,000,000.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall take effect on September 30, 2029.

SEC. 4. DETERMINATION OF BUDGETARY EFFECTS.

The budgetary effects of this Act, for the purpose of complying with the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, shall be determined by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office.

This Act may be cited as the "Financial Inclusion in Banking Act, a bill I was proud to introduce just a few months ago. It reported that 8.4 million American households—that is not the individuals; it is just the households. Nobody in these households is considered in a way that they have a bank account or a savings account. 8.4 million American households, nobody in the house, not mama, not daddy, not grandma, not uncle, not cousin, nobody in that household has even a bank account.

According to the FDIC, an additional 24.2 million American households are underbanked, which means that that household has limited access to traditional banking but has to rely on the use of risky alternative financial services to manage just basic maneuvers in their financial lives. I want to take a moment, Madam Speaker, to fully explain and describe the nature of this problem. I hope the American people will understand now why I say we have a national crisis and this is why we need my bill. The Financial Inclusion in Banking Act, a bill I was proud to introduce earlier this year, gets to the heart of this issue. It directs the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau to: one, research factors standing in the way of financial inclusion of the American people so we can understand the hurdles that these individuals and our consumers face; two, the bill will also direct the CFPB to recommend best practices to increase participation in the formal... banking sectors to bring our consumers out of the shadows of risky, predatory, alternative financial services; and, three, my bill will direct the CFPB to work with minority depository banks, African American-owned banks and institutions, consumer advocates, and civil rights groups to make sure that their recommendations—they are out there grappling day to day with the unbanked and underbanked.

They need to be brought to the table so we can learn from these groups what we need to do in order to reflect the needs of the most marginalized and unbanked consumers among us and the most underserved communities across our Nation while also simultaneously strengthening and growing many of the minority-owned banking institutions, African American institutions particularly.

Madam Speaker, do you know that there has not been a new African American-owned bank in the last 25 years and that we are losing our banking ownership? What better opportunity? Who knows best this group that is marginalized?

We will be able to solve two problems, enrich and grow our minority depository institutions while at the same time providing a way to get nearly 58 million Americans out of the grasp of these predators and into our great banking system.

Finally, H.R. 4067 will direct the CFPB to promote strategies to improve financial education. You cannot have consumer financial protection for the American people if you don’t have consumer financial education for the American people. That is an integral part that will empower them with the tools necessary to manage their financial lives.

Personal financial education is the key, especially for our young people. But you know how terribly critical this issue is. As of 2017, 17 of 50 States in our Nation’s public school systems even require a course in financial education, only 17.

We can do much better. This bill will start the wheel moving. And we are going to be bringing another bill so that we can be able to give the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau grant-making authority.

Madam Speaker, we are the richest Nation in the world. We need to apply our resources minimally and need to pass legislation that will mandate the teaching of financial education in all 50 States, not just 17.

I have to thank a lot of people who have been working with me for my bill. First, I thank our chairwoman, Mrs. MAXINE WATERS, who has been working with us and her staff and my staff as we tackle this issue. I also thank my friends from the other side, the Republicans who are working with us, as well, for this is not a Democratic issue or a Republican issue. This is an American issue. And we will bring the energy to make sure that we are able to pass this bill.

I am proud to put the bill forth, and I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of it.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. WAGNER. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I thank and congratulate the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. DAVID SCOTT), my good friend, on so much heavy lifting and the work that he has done to bring this bipartisan piece of legislation to the floor, along with our former colleague from Wisconsin (Mr. Duffy) who was also very involved with you, Madam Speaker, on this bipartisan piece of legislation, H.R. 4067.

According to the most recent FDIC survey of unbanked and underbanked households, 6.5 percent of U.S. households were unbanked in 2017, meaning no one in the household had a checking or savings account. That equates to approximately 8.4 million American households.

The same survey showed that an additional 18.7 percent of households were underbanked, meaning the household had a bank account but also obtained financial services outside the mainstream banking system. That is more than 24 million U.S. households composed of nearly 50 million adults and 15 million children, Madam Speaker.

These statistics point to the staggering number of Americans who have limited access to traditional banking services. While these numbers have, thankfully, declined since the financial crisis, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau’s Office of Community Affairs has and continues to engage in efforts to examine the unbanked and underbanked, as well as allocate resources to Americans who remain credit invisible.

The Office of Community Affairs works with the CFPB’s Office of Research and the Office of Fair Lending to examine credit deserts and equip communities with tools for financial education.

The Bureau’s Your Money, Your Goals program offers a variety of materials to help consumers pursue financial empowerment and resources for organizations aimed at helping financially vulnerable individuals.

Despite the progress that has been made, this remains an important issue that merits our attention. By further directing the CFPB’s Office of Community Affairs to focus its work toward the underserved, we are working to assure these consumers are not overlooked.

This bill reaffirms our intent to engage in efforts to examine the unbanked and underbanked and identify solutions to deliver resources to America’s credit invisible.

All Americans deserve access to the basic financial tools that will help them achieve financial independence, and this bill takes an important step in promoting financial inclusion and providing access to all Americans.

Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. DAVID SCOTT) for all of his tireless efforts on this bill, and I urge my colleagues to support the Financial Inclusion in Banking Act.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Madam Speaker, first, I would like to inquire if the gentlewoman has any more speakers.

Mrs. WAGNER. Madam Speaker, I am ready to yield back if the gentleman is ready to close.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I am so glad that the gentlewoman mentioned Sean Duffy. I thank Mrs. WAGNER for doing that.

Madam Speaker, Sean Duffy literally—to tell you the truth, I told him in committee, we need to have his colleagues on it, when we found out so we couldn’t give our great speeches for him, I told him he broke my heart when I heard he wasn’t coming back. I said here we are working on this monumental bill, he was the lead Republican sponsor on it, and has brought it a mighty long way. But a great American has decided to retire from the Congress, Madam Speaker, and that is Sean Duffy of Wisconsin.

He and I served on that committee for years, and he has played a monumental role with us in this bill. We wouldn’t be here with it on the floor with the strong bipartisan support we have if it weren’t for the leadership of Sean Duffy.

Mrs. WAGNER. Madam Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Madam Speaker. I yield to the gentlewoman from Missouri (Mrs. WAGNER).

Mrs. WAGNER. Madam Speaker, I share the gentleman from Georgia’s sentiment completely, and we are grateful to Sean Duffy. I am grateful to him and his family, they are very, very best in making the choice to choose to put his family first and retire from this wonderful institution.

Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman from Missouri (Mr. DAVID SCOTT) for yielding to me to say a word or two about my friend, Mr. Duffy.

Madam Speaker, I urge passage of this wonderful, bipartisan piece of legislation, H.R. 4067.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I am urging that we get a unanimous vote on this, that every single Member of Congress will send a powerful message that we are no longer going to stand by and have 58 million Americans out there waiting for the paws of these predatory lenders, these loan sharks, and others. No. We want to bring them out of the shadows and bring them into our great American financial system.

Madam Speaker, I urge everyone to vote for the bill, and I hope we have a unanimous vote.
Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. DAVID SCOTT) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 4067, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

NATIONAL LAW ENFORCEMENT MUSEUM COMMEMORATIVE COIN ACT

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1865) to require the Secretary of the Treasury to mint a coin in commemoration of the opening of the National Law Enforcement Museum in the District of Columbia, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill. The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 1865

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “National Law Enforcement Museum Commemorative Coin Act.”

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) In 2000, Congress passed and President William J. Clinton signed into law the National Law Enforcement Museum Act (Public Law 106–492), which authorized the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund, Inc., to build the National Law Enforcement Museum on Federal land in the District of Columbia to honor and commemorate the service and sacrifice of law enforcement officers in the United States.

(2) In April 2009, construction began on the National Law Enforcement Museum in the District of Columbia across the street from the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial in Judiciary Square.

(3) The National Law Enforcement Museum formally opened in October of 2018.

(4) The National Law Enforcement Museum’s mission is—

(A) to honor and commemorate the extraordinary service and sacrifice of America’s law enforcement officers;

(B) to serve as an important bridge between law enforcement’s past and present, between the heroes of yesteryear and those who have followed in their footsteps, and between America’s peace officers and the public they serve;

(C) to increase public understanding and support for law enforcement and to promote law enforcement safety; and

(D) to strengthen the relationship between law enforcement and the communities they serve with thought-provoking programs at the Museum and around the country that promote dialogue on topics of current interest.

SEC. 3. COIN SPECIFICATIONS.

(a) DENOMINATIONS.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall mint and issue the following coin:

(1) $5 GOLD COINS.—Not more than 50,000 $5 coins, which shall—

(A) weigh 8.359 grams;

(B) have a diameter of 0.850 inches; and

(C) contain not less than 90 percent gold.

(2) $1 SILVER COINS.—Not more than 400,000 $1 coins, which shall—

(A) weigh 26.73 grams;

(B) have a diameter of 1.205 inches; and

(C) contain not less than 90 percent silver.

(3) HALF-DOLLAR CLAD COINS.—Not more than 750,000 half-dollar coins which shall—

(A) weigh 11.34 grams;

(B) have a diameter of 1.250 inches; and

(C) be minted to the specifications for half-dollar coins contained in section 5112(b) of title 31, United States Code.

(b) D ENOMINATIONS.—The coins minted under this Act shall be legal tender, as provided in section 5103 of title 31, United States Code.

(c) NUMISMATIC ITEMS.—For purposes of section 5134 of title 31, United States Code, all coins minted under this Act shall be considered to be numismatic items.

SEC. 4. DESIGN OF COINS.

(a) DESIGN REQUIREMENTS.—

(1) In general.—The design of the coins minted under this Act shall be emblematic of the National Law Enforcement Museum and the service and sacrifice of law enforcement officers throughout the history of the United States.

(2) DESIGNATION AND INSCRIPTIONS.—On each coin minted under this Act there shall be:

(A) a designation of the value of the coin;

(B) an inscription of the year “2021”;

and

(C) inscriptions of the words “Liberty”, “In God We Trust”, “United States of America”, and “E Pluribus Unum”.

(b) SELECTION.—The design for the coins minted under this Act shall be—

(1) selected by the Secretary after consultation with the Commemorative Fine Arts and the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund, Inc.; and

(2) reviewed by the Citizens Coinage Advisory Committee.

SEC. 5. ISSUANCE OF COINS.

(a) QUALITY OF COINS.—Coins minted under this Act shall be issued in uncirculated and proof qualities.

(b) MINT FACILITIES.—Only 1 facility of the United States Mint may be used to strike any particular quality of the coins minted under this Act.

(c) PERIOD FOR ISSUANCE.—The Secretary may issue coins minted under this Act only during the 1-year period beginning on January 1, 2021.

SEC. 6. SALE OF COINS.

(a) SALE PRICE.—The coins issued under this Act shall be sold by the Secretary at a price equal to the sum of—

(1) the face value of the coins;

(2) the surcharge provided in section 7(a) with respect to such coins; and

(3) the cost of designing and issuing the coins (including labor, materials, dies, use of machinery, overhead expenses, marketing, and shipping).

(b) BULK SALES.—The Secretary shall make bulk sales of the coins issued under this Act at a reasonable discount.

(c) PREPAID ORDERS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall accept prepaid orders for the coins minted under this Act before the issuance of such coins.

(2) DISCOUNT.—Sale prices with respect to prepaid orders under paragraph (1) shall be at a reasonable discount.

SEC. 7. SURCHARGES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—All sales of coins issued under this Act shall include a surcharge of—

(1) $5 per coin for the $5 coin;

(2) $10 per coin for the $1 coin; and

(3) $5 per coin for the half-dollar coin.

(b) DISTRIBUTION.—Subject to section 5134(I)(1) of title 31, United States Code, all surcharges received by the Secretary from the sale of coins issued under this Act shall be promptly paid by the Secretary to the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund, Inc., for educational and outreach programs and exhibits.

(c) AUDITS.—The National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund, Inc., shall be subject to the audit requirements of section 5134(F)(2) of title 31, United States Code, with regard to the amounts received under subsection (b).

(d) LIMITATION.—Notwithstanding subsection (a), no surcharge may be included with respect to the coins issued under this Act of any coin during a calendar year if, as of the time of such issuance, the issuance of such coin would result in the number of commemorative coin programs issued during such year to exceed the annual 2 commemorative coin program issuance limitation under section 5113(m)(1) of title 31, United States Code (as in effect on the date of the enactment of this Act). The Secretary of the Treasury may issue guidance to carry out this subsection.

SEC. 8. DETERMINATION OF BUDGETARY EFFEC TS.

The budgetary effects of this Act, for the purpose of complying with the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, shall be determined by reference to the latest statement titled “Budgetary Effects” for this Act, submitted for printing in the Congressional Record by the Chairman of the House Budget Committee, provided that such statement has been submitted prior to the vote on passage.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. DAVID SCOTT) and the gentlewoman from Missouri (Mrs. WAGNER) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Georgia.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on this legislation and to insert extraneous material thereon.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Georgia?

There was no objection.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, in 2000, Congress passed and President Clinton signed into law the National Law Enforcement Museum Act. That bill authorized the construction of the National Law Enforcement Museum to commemorate the service and sacrifices of our U.S. law enforcement officers, a very, very important piece of legislation.

The National Law Enforcement Museum opened its doors in October of 2018 with a mission to honor the lives of service and sacrifice of America’s law enforcement officers, serve as an important bridge between law enforcement’s past and present, and strengthen the relationship between law enforcement and the communities that they serve.
This bipartisan legislation authorizes the Department of the Treasury to mint $5 gold coins, $1 silver coins, and half-dollar coins in 2021 to commemorate the National Law Enforcement Museum and the service and sacrifice of law enforcement officers throughout history. The proceeds from the sale of these coins will go toward funding the museum's educational and outreach programs and exhibits.

Madam Speaker, I thank Mr. PASCRELL of New Jersey—for introducing this bill this Congress, and I urge Members to vote “yes.”

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. WAGNER. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 1865, the National Law Enforcement Museum Commemorative Coin Act.

I would like to also thank the gentleman from New Jersey, Representative PASCRELL, and my colleague, Senator BLUNT from Missouri, for all of their hard work on this important, bipartisan legislation.

Madam Speaker, in 2000, Congress authorized the creation of the National Law Enforcement Museum, and just 18 years later, the museum was formally opened on October 13, 2018, in Washington, D.C., just across the street from the National Law Enforcement Memorial.

Every day, our Nation’s law enforcement officers put their uniforms on and go to work not knowing if they will make it home. They selflessly protect us while asking nothing in return.

The establishment of this museum serves as a reminder of the great sacrifices that law enforcement officers make. By educating the public on their work, the museum serves as a vital resource sharing the daily experiences of our men and women in uniform.

Madam Speaker, H.R. 1865, the National Law Enforcement Museum Commemorative Coin Act, directs the U.S. Treasury to mint a coin in 2021 in commemoration of the opening of the National Law Enforcement Museum here in Washington, D.C.

Additionally, the proceeds of this important commemorative coin will go to support the National Law Enforcement Museum and the efforts to make the National Law Enforcement Museum a success.

Mr. PASCRELL. This bill has strong support from several law enforcement groups, including Concerns of Police Survivors, the Federal Law Enforcement Officers Association, the Fraternal Order of Police, the National Association of Police Organizations, the National Sheriffs’ Association, and the Police Foundation.

Madam Speaker, I strongly support H.R. 1865, and I look forward to its passage and into law.

Mrs. WAGNER. Madam Speaker, it is now my privilege to yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. RUTHERFORD), the Republican lead and co-chair of the Law Enforcement Caucus.

Mr. RUTHERFORD. Madam Speaker, I thank my kind colleague from Missouri for this opportunity.

Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 1865, which will give our law enforcement officers and their long honorable history the recognition that they so deserve.

The National Law Enforcement Museum Commemorative Coin Act will have the Treasury, as was mentioned earlier, mint a commemorative coin in recognition of the newly opened National Law Enforcement Museum here in Washington, D.C. The proceeds collected from the sale of this coin will be given to the museum to support its operations.

As you know, Madam Speaker, millions come from around the world to visit our Nation’s Capitol every year. They learn about our culture, our history, and our democracy. Now, they may also visit the National Law Enforcement Museum to learn about our heroic police officers who dedicated... their lives and, in too many instances, made the supreme sacrifice laying down their lives in order to keep their community safe.

As a former sheriff of Jacksonville, Florida, I saw the personal sacrifices and brave actions by countless officers under my command. Law enforcement officers around the country put on the uniform every day and they head out to protect their community, willing to sacrifice their life for their friends and neighbors. Sadly, too many of those officers do not return home from their shift.

So far this year, 99 officers have lost their lives in the line of duty, offering their full measure of devotion to their community. This bill will ensure that their stories be told for generations to come.

I thank my good friend, Congressman Pascrell from New Jersey, co-chair of the Law Enforcement Caucus. His support, respect, and true concern for law enforcement across this country is greatly appreciated by all of those organizations and men and women that he just listed.

Madam Speaker, I hope that all of my colleagues will join me today in supporting our brave law enforcement officers across this country and pass this important bill.

Mrs. WAGNER. Madam Speaker, I have no more speakers, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. DAVID SCOTT) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2423, as amended.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2423, as amended.

SEC. 4. DESIGN OF COIN.
(a) DESIGN REQUIREMENTS.—The design of the coins minted under this Act shall be emblematic of the women who played a vital role in rallying support for the 19th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

(b) SELECTION.—The design for the coins minted under this Act shall—
(1) contain motifs that honor Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Carrie Chapman Catt, Harriet Tubman, Mary Church Terrell, Alice Paul, and other suffrage activists of the late 19th century and early 20th centuries;
(2) be selected by the Secretary, after consultation with the Smithsonian Institution's American Women's History Initiative, and the Commission of Fine Arts; and
(3) be reviewed by the Citizens Coinage Advisory Committee.

SEC. 5. ISSUANCE OF COINS.
(a) QUALITY OF COINS.—Coins minted under this Act shall be issued in uncirculated and proof qualities.

(b) MINT FACILITIES.—Only 1 facility of the United States Mint may be used to strike any particular quality of the coins minted under this Act.

(c) PERIOD FOR ISSUANCE.—The Secretary may issue coins under this Act only during the period beginning on January 1, 2020, and ending on December 31, 2020.

SEC. 6. SALE OF COINS.
(a) SALE PRICE.—The coins issued under this Act shall be sold by the Secretary at a price equal to the sum of—
(1) the face value of the coins; and
(2) the surcharge provided in section 7(a) with respect to such coins; and
(3) the cost of designing and issuing the coins (including labor, materials, dies, use of machinery, overhead expenses, marketing, and shipping).

(b) BULK SALES.—The Secretary shall make bulk sales of the coins issued under this Act at a reasonable discount.

(c) PREPAID ORDERS.—In general—
(1) the Secretary shall accept prepaid orders for the coins minted under this Act before the issuance of such coins;
(2) DISCOUNT.—Sale prices with respect to prepaid orders under paragraph (1) shall be at a reasonable discount.

SEC. 7. SURCHARGES.
(a) IN GENERAL.—All sales of coins issued under this Act shall include a surcharge of $10 per coin for the $1 coin described under section 3(a).

(b) DISTRIBUTION.—Subject to section 5134(f) of title 31, United States Code, and section 8(2), all surcharges received by the Secretary from the sale of coins issued under this Act shall be promptly paid by the Secretary to the Smithsonian Institution's American Women's History Initiative for the purpose of—
(1) collecting, studying, and establishing programs relating to women's contributions to various fields and throughout different periods of history that have influenced the direction of the United States; and
(2) creating exhibitions and programs that recognize diverse perspectives on women's history and contributions.

(c) AUDITS.—The Smithsonian Institution's American Women's History Initiative shall... be subject to the audit requirements of section 5134(f)(2) of title 31, United States Code, with regard to the amounts received under subsection (b).

SEC. 8. FINANCIAL ASSURANCES.

The Secretary shall take such actions as may be necessary to ensure that—

(1) minting and issuing coins under this Act will result in a net cost to the United States Government; and

(2) no funds, including applicable surcharges, shall be disbursed to any recipient designated in section 7(b) until the total cost of designing and issuing all of the coins authorized by this Act (including labor, materials, dies, use of machinery, overhead expenses, and shipping) is covered by the United States Treasury, consistent with sections 512(m) and 513(f) of title 31, United States Code.

SEC. 9. DETERMINATION OF BUDGETARY EFFECTS.

The budgetary effects of this Act, for the purpose of complying with the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, shall be determined by reference to the latest statement titled “Budgetary Effects of PAYGO Legislation” for this Act, submitted in the Congressional Record by the Chairman of the House Budget Committee, provided that such statement has been submitted prior to the vote on passage.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PASCRELL). Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. DAVID SCOTT) and the gentlewoman from Missouri (Mrs. WAGNER) each will control 20 minutes.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the time be extended for the purpose of allowing Members to submit statements in the Congressional Record.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this bill, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, it is my distinct honor to yield 5 minutes to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Mrs. LAWRENCE), who is a national leader in the fight for women’s voting rights and is the lead Democratic sponsor of this historic and important piece of legislation.

Mrs. LAWRENCE. Mr. Speaker, it is an honor to be here and to have the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. PASCRELL) sitting in that seat.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank my colleague, Representative SCOTT, and I want to start by thanking our chairwoman, MAXINE WATERS, for bringing this legislation to the floor.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 2423, the Women’s Suffrage Centennial Commemorative Coin Act introduced by my colleague, Ms. STEFANKI, and myself.

As co-chair of the bipartisan Congressional Caucus for Women’s Issues and the co-chairs of the Democratic Women’s Caucus, I strongly support this measure which honors the legacy of suffragists who played a vital role in rallying support for the 19th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

The suffragists began their organized fight for women’s empowerment in 1848 in Seneca Falls, New York. They were tireless and never gave up the fight. For 72 years, the women leaders lobbied, marched, picketed, and protested for the right to the ballot.

More importantly, proceeds from the sales of these coins will support the Smithsonian Institution’s American Women’s History Initiative for the purpose of collecting, studying, and establishing programs recognizing diverse perspectives on women’s history and women who have influenced the direction of this Nation.

Mr. Speaker, I like to always remind people that women are 51 percent of the population in this great country, and we are now 106 strong Members of the U.S. House of Representatives.

I also want to note that, on May 21 of this year, the House celebrated its 100th anniversary of the House passage of the 19th Amendment with the passage of H.R. 354, legislation I introduced and which was supported by all women Members of Congress. The Senate followed 2 weeks later, in June, with the passage of the Senate resolution.

Today, over 68 million women participate in elections, which would not be possible without the suffragists who... never gave up the fight for equal rights. Because of their hard work, glass ceilings were broken and progress prevailed.

Mr. Speaker, I know that the gentleman stands today recognizing that women are so important to the lives of so many in this country and to our strong government and democracy. I urge my colleagues to support this legislation.

Mrs. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. STEFANIK), the author of this piece of legislation.

Ms. STEFANIK. Mr. Speaker, I thank my friend, the gentlewoman from Missouri, for yielding her time.

The first women’s rights convention was held in Seneca Falls, New York, in 1848, marking the official debut of the women’s suffrage movement, which would extend over the course of the next 72 years.

During this tumultuous time, generations of brave suffragists dedicated their lives, refusing to give up in their fight for a better and more equitable future.

It wasn’t until August of 1920, 140 years after the Declaration of Independence was signed, that this fight culminated with the adoption of the 19th Amendment. Ratification of the 19th Amendment marked the single largest expansion of voting rights in United States history, enfranchising over 27 million American women.

Mr. Speaker, 2020 marks the 100th anniversary of the passage of the 19th Amendment, and I was proud to introduce legislation with my colleague and friend from Michigan (Mrs. LAWRENCE) and my friend, Senator BLACKBURN from Tennessee, to celebrate this historic and monumental movement.

The Women’s Suffrage Centennial Commemorative Coin Act is bipartisan, bicameral legislation that authorizes the Department of the Treasury to mint $1 silver coins in 2020 to commemorate the monumental work of women suffrage activists in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

This bill ensures that, on the 100th anniversary of the passage of the 19th Amendment, the suffragists who dedicated their lives fighting to extend this fundamental right to women are commemorated and celebrated throughout the United States.

I am looking forward to celebrating the 100th anniversary next year in my district, where one of the most vocal advocates for women’s suffrage, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, was born and raised in Johnstown, New York.

I would not have the opportunity to serve in this body today were it not for the bravery and determination of generations of suffragists.

Mr. Speaker, this is a unique opportunity to commemorate a milestone of democracy, and it is my hope that this bipartisan bill will encourage women across the country to continue to be active participants in civic life. I strongly encourage my colleagues to support this bill.

Mrs. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I congratulate the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. STEFANIK) and Congresswoman LAWRENCE, also, for their tremendous work on this, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DAVID SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, in closing, as I stand here at this moment and listen to the comments, I am reminded of a woman whose name was Isabella. But in New York City, the Lord changed her name because she had a vision from God, and God changed her name from Isabella to Sojourner Truth. She was a pioneer in women’s rights and was at the forefront of the battle coming out in the 19th century for women’s rights, a fearless leader.

Today, we have a statue honoring Sojourner Truth right here in the Capitol. Mr. Speaker, I ask everyone to support this bill, and, hopefully, again, we will have a unanimous vote on this very important piece of legislation.

I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from Georgia (Mr. DAVID SCOTT) that the House approve the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2423, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the House passed the bill, H.R. 2423, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2781, as amended.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

EDUCATING MEDICAL PROFESSIONALS AND OPTIMIZING WORKFORCE EFFICIENCY AND READINESS FOR HEALTH ACT OF 2019

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2781, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 2781
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.
This Act may be cited as the "Educating Medical Professionals and Optimizing Workforce Efficiency and Readiness for Health Act of 2019" or the "EMPOWER for Health Act of 2019."

SECTION 2. REAUTHORIZATION OF HEALTH PROFESSIONS WORKFORCE PROGRAMS.
(a) CENTERS OF EXCELLENCE.—Subsection (b) of section 736 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 293(c)) is amended to read as follows:

"(1) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—To carry out this section, there is authorized to be appropriated $24,897,000 for each of fiscal years 2020 through 2024;" and

(b) HEALTH PROFESSIONS TRAINING FOR DIVERSITY.—Section 740 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 293a) is amended—

(1) in subsection (b), by striking "$31,000,000 for fiscal year 2010, and such sums as may be necessary for each of the fiscal years 2011 through 2014" and inserting "$51,419,000 for each of fiscal years 2020 through 2024;" (2) in subsection (b), by striking "$5,000,000 for each of the fiscal years 2010 through 2014" and inserting "$3,250,000 for each of fiscal years 2020 through 2024;" and

(3) in subsection (c), by striking "$60,000,000 for fiscal year 2010 and such sums as may be necessary for each of the fiscal years 2011 through 2014" and inserting "$20,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2020 through 2024.

(c) PRIMARY CARE WORKFORCE ENHANCEMENT.—Section 747(c)(1) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 293a(c)(1)) is amended by striking "$125,000,000 for fiscal year 2010, and such sums as may be necessary for each of the fiscal years 2011 through 2014" and inserting "$51,371,000 for each of fiscal years 2020 through 2024.

(d) NATIONAL CENTER FOR HEALTHCARE WORKFORCE ANALYSIS.—(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 761(e)(1)(A) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 294n(e)(1)(A)) is amended by striking "$7,500,000 for each of fiscal years 2010 through 2014" and inserting "$5,947,000 for each of fiscal years 2020 through 2024;"

(2) TECHNICAL CORRECTION.—Section 761(e)(2) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 294n(e)(2)) is amended by striking subsection (a) and inserting paragraph (1)." (g) PUBLIC HEALTH WORKFORCE.—Section 770 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 294e(a)) is amended by striking "$43,000,000 for fiscal year 2011, and such sums as may be necessary for each of the fiscal years 2012 through 2015;" and inserting "$17,850,000 for each of fiscal years 2020 through 2024."

SEC. 3. EDUCATION AND TRAINING RELATING TO GERIATRICS.
Section 753 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 294c) is amended to read as follows:

(a) GERIATRICS WORKFORCE ENHANCEMENT PROGRAMS.—
"(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall award grants or contracts under this subsection to entities described in paragraph (1), (3), or (4) of section 799B, section 801(2), or section 865(d), or other health professions schools or programs approved by the Secretary, for the establishment or operation of geriatrics workforce enhancement programs that meet the requirements of paragraph (2)." (b) REQUIREMENTS.—A geriatrics workforce enhancement program meets the requirements of this paragraph if such program supports the development of a health care workforce that maximizes patient and family engagement and improves health outcomes for older adults by integrating geriatrics with primary care and other appropriate specialties. Special emphasis should be placed on providing the primary care workforce with the knowledge and skills to care for older adults and collaborating with community partners to address gaps in health care for older adults as populations age through individual, community, and population level changes. Areas of programmatic focus may include the following:

"(A) Transforming clinical training environments to integrated care delivery systems to ensure trainees are well prepared to practice in and lead in such systems."
“(b) Developing providers from multiple disciplines and specialties to work interprofessionally to assess and address the needs and preferences of older adults and their families and caregivers, including through work on public and personal health, and population levels with cultural and linguistic competency.

(C) Creating and delivering community-based programs that will provide older adults and their families and caregivers with the knowledge and skills to improve health outcomes and the quality of care for such adults.

(D) Developing interprofessional collaborative practice into health care education and training curricula for residents, fellows, and students.

(E) Provide comprehensive coordinated care of older adults, including medical, dental, and psychosocial needs.

(F) Develop comprehensive educational programs for teachers and caregivers to support the training and retraining of faculty, preceptors, primary care providers, and providers in other specialties to increase their knowledge, skills, and cultural competency.

(G) Provide clinical experiences across care settings, including ambulatory care, hospitals, post-acute care, nursing homes, federally qualified health centers, and home and community-based services.

(H) Emphasize education and engagement of family caregivers on disease self-management, medication management, and stress reduction strategies.

(I) Provide training to the health care workforce on disease self-management, motivational interviewing, medication management, and stress reduction strategies.

(J) Provide training to the health care workforce on the amount of health care expenditures in order to better address the geriatric health care needs of diverse populations with cultural and linguistic competency.

(K) Integrate geriatrics competencies and interprofessional collaborative practice into health care education and training curricula for residents, fellows, and students.

(1) Standardize training for graduate and professional schools or training programs to spend 75 percent of an award under paragraph (1) on behalf of an eligible individual unless the entity receiving an award under paragraph (1) shall submit an annual report to the Secretary on financial and programmatic performance under such grant, which may include factors such as the number of trainees, the number of partnerships with health care delivery sites, the number of faculty and practicing professionals who participated in continuing education programs, and such other factors as the Secretary may require.

(2) ELIGIBILITY.—(A) ELIGIBLE ENTITY.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘eligible entity’ means—

(i) an accredited school of allopathic medicine, osteopathic medicine, nursing, social work, psychology, dentistry, pharmacy, or allied health; or

(ii) another type of accredited health professions school or graduate program deemed by the Secretary to be eligible under this subsection.

(B) ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUAL.—(i) In general.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘eligible individual’ means an individual who—

(ii) has a junior, nontenured, faculty appointment at an accredited school of allopathic medicine, osteopathic medicine, nursing, social work, psychology, dentistry, pharmacy, or allied health.

(iii) another type of accredited health professions school or graduate program described in subparagraph (A)(ii).

(iv) is board certified or board eligible in geriatrics, gerontology, or a related field.

(v) has completed an approved fellowship program in geriatrics or gerontology, or has completed specialty training in geriatrics or gerontology as required by the Secretary.

(vi) has completed an approved fellowship program in geriatrics or gerontology, or has completed specialty training in geriatrics or gerontology.

(C) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—To carry out this section, there is authorized to be provided from any taking the award.

(3) LIMITATIONS.—An eligible entity may not receive an award under paragraph (1) on behalf of an eligible individual unless the entity—

(A) submits to the Secretary an application, in such form and manner as the Secretary may require, assurances that the eligible individual on whose behalf an application was submitted under subparagraph (A) will meet the service requirement described in paragraph (1), and;

(B) provides, in such form and manner as the Secretary may require, assurances that the eligible individual on whose behalf an applicable grant or contract under paragraph (1) shall submit to the Secretary an application, in such form and manner as the Secretary may require, including the specific measures the applicant will use to demonstrate that the project is improving the quality of care provided to older adults in the applicant’s region, which may include—

(1) an assessment in access to care provided by a health professional with training in geriatrics or gerontology;

(2) improvements in family caregiver capacity to provide care;

(3) patient outcome data demonstrating an improvement in older adult health status or care quality, and;

(4) reports on how the applicant will implement specific innovations with the target audience to improve older adults’ health status or the quality of care.

(4) ELIGIBILITY.—(A) ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUAL.—The Secretary shall consider programs that—

(i) focus on geriatrics, gerontology, chronic disease, and to enhance their interdisciplinary teaching skills.

(ii) are open to current faculty, and appropriately credentialed volunteer faculty and practitioners, to upgrade their knowledge and clinical skills for the care of older adults and adults with age-related limitations and to enhance their interdisciplinary teaching skills.

(iii) in communities that have a shortage of geriatric workforce professionals; and

(iv) in States in which no entity has previously received an award under such paragraph (including as in effect before the date of enactment of this Act).

(B) ELIGIBLE ENTITY.—The Secretary may give priority to eligible entities that—

(i) have the goal of improving and providing comprehensive coordinated care of older adults, including medical, dental, and psychosocial needs;

(ii) demonstrate coordination with other programs and projects; and

(iii) have the capacity to better address the geriatric health care needs of older adults and their families and caregivers at the individual, community, and national level.

(C) ELIGIBILITY.—(A) ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUAL.—To be eligible to receive a grant or contract under paragraph (1), an entity described in such paragraph shall submit to the Secretary—

(i) a plan.

(ii) a plan.

(B) ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUAL.—To be eligible to receive a grant or contract under paragraph (1), an entity described in such paragraph shall submit to the Secretary—

(i) a plan.

(ii) a plan.

(C) ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUAL.—To be eligible to receive a grant or contract under paragraph (1), an entity described in such paragraph shall submit to the Secretary—

(i) a plan.

(ii) a plan.
appropriated 81,500,000 for each of fiscal years 2020 through 2024. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, no funds shall be made available to carry out subsection (b) for a fiscal year unless—

(a) a pool of such funds is available to carry out this section for such fiscal year; and

(b) the amount made available to carry out this section for fiscal year 2017.

SEC. 4. INVESTMENT IN TOMORROW'S PEDIATRIC HEALTH CARE WORKFORCE.

Section 755 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 295s) is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 755. INVESTMENT IN TOMORROW'S PEDIATRIC HEALTH CARE WORKFORCE.

“(a) In General.—The Secretary shall establish and carry out a program of providing loan repayments to qualified health professionals under which—

(C) the professional has an acceptable level of academic standing (as determined by the Secretary).

(2) PRIORITY.—In entering into loan repayment agreements under this section, the Secretary shall give priority to applicants who—

(A) have familiarity with evidence-based methods and clinical practice guidelines for the treatment of behavioral health care and health care services; and

(B) demonstrate financial need.

(3) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated for each fiscal year the sums necessary to carry out this section.

SEC. 5. INCREASING WORKFORCE DIVERSITY IN THE PROFESSIONS OF PHYSICAL THERAPY, OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY, AUDIOLOGY, AND SPEECH-LAN

THE PROFESSIONS OF PHYSICAL THERAPY, OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY, AUDIOLOGY, AND SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY.

Title VII of the Public Health Service Act is amended—

(1) by redesignating part G (42 U.S.C. 295t et seq.) as part H; and

(2) by inserting after part F (42 U.S.C. 294m et seq.) the following new part:

PART G—INCREASING WORKFORCE DIVERSITY IN THE PROFESSIONS OF PHYSICAL THERAPY, OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY, AUDIOLOGY, AND SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY

SEC. 783. SCHOLARSHIPS AND STIPENDS.

(a) In General.—The Secretary may award grants to eligible entities to increase educational opportunities in the professions of physical therapy, occupational therapy, audiology, and speech-language pathology for eligible individuals.

(b) ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUAL.—The term ‘eligible individual’ means a person—

(1) a member of a class of persons who are underrepresented in the professions of physical therapy, occupational therapy, audiology, and speech-language pathology (including racial or ethnic minorities, or students from disadvantaged backgrounds); or

(2) an individual who has a financial need for a scholarship or stipend;

(c) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated for each fiscal year the sums necessary to carry out this section.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Illinois (Ms. SCHAKOWSKY) and the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BURGESS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Illinois.

GENERAL LEAVE

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous materials on H.R. 2781.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Illinois?

There was no objection.
Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 2781, the EMPOWER for Health Act of 2019, or Educating Medical Professional Scholars and Optimizing Workforce Efficiency and Readiness for Health Act, which I introduced with my colleague, Congressman Burgess, in May. This legislation advanced out of the Committee on Energy and Commerce by unanimous vote.

By 2032, the United States may see a shortage of up to 122,000 physicians, but we already have a significant physician shortage. If healthcare access were equ-uitable across all races, socioeconomic statuses, and geographic locations, the United States would need almost 100,000 more doctors immediately.

This legislation is one solution to this real problem. The EMPOWER for Health Act will spur growth in our healthcare workforce and ensure increased funding for several title VII health, education, and training programs over the next 5 years.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

As an author of the Educating Medical Professionals and Optimizing Workforce Efficiency and Readiness for Health Act of 2019, also known as the EMPOWER for Health Act, I rise in support of this bill, H.R. 2781. This moved with strong bipartisan support through regular order in the Energy and Commerce Committee and its Health Subcommittee.

As the chairman of the Energy and Commerce Health Subcommittee in the last Congress, I made it a priority to get this bill to the House floor. While I succeeded in doing so, the Senate did not take up the legislation; so I hope, this year, with plenty of time and plenty of runway, the majority will reauthorize these critically important programs.

This legislation reauthorizes the title VII health professions workforce programs for fiscal years 2020 through 2024.

Title VII programs have expired, but they continue to receive appropriations. In fact, in fiscal year 2018, the appropriations levels for these programs actually increased. Reauthor-izing these physician workforce programs will provide the needed stability to those who depend upon this funding.

1800

Title VII of the Public Health Servces Act includes programs that are vital to building and maintaining a well-educated, well-trained physician workforce. The EMPOWER Act reau-thorizes the funding for Area Health Education Centers at more than $40 million a year. These centers are critical in providing both medical education and healthcare services to medically underserved areas.

The bill also reauthorizes programs that incentivize diversity in the physician workforce, including the Centers of Excellence program which this bill authorizes at a level of $24 million per year. This particular program provides grants to health professions schools that have low rates of minority or economically disadvantaged students for the purpose of expanding the school’s capacity or to improve curriculum.

Madam Speaker, I urge support of this legislation, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, for decades title VII programs have assisted students from minority and economically disadvantaged backgrounds to enter the health professions by focusing on development, retention, matriculation, and graduation, but we still have a lot of work to do.

In 1998 about 7 percent of the medical school matriculants were Black, and 5 percent were Hispanic and Latino. In 2016 those numbers only increased to 8.2 percent for African Americans and 6.2 percent for Hispanics and Latinos. I believe the extreme racial health dis-

As well, the pediatric workforce is at a crisis point right now. In my home State of Illinois, for example, we face severe shortages of child and adolescent psychiatrists. Children with special or complex health issues often have trouble seeing a specialist, and we can see them, and this is unacceptable.

This legislation will encourage physicians to specialize in pediatric care by authorizing funding for this critical program for the first time since 2010.

Finally, this bill creates a new program to increase diversity in the professions of physical therapists, occupational therapists, audiologists, and speech-language pathologists. This was a section that was added by my colleague from Illinois, Bobby Rush, and we appreciate that.

This bill assures almost $2 billion in funding over the next 5 years for these essential programs.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Madam Speaker, I have no additional speakers, and I am prepared to close.

This is a good bill. It was a good bill last Congress when we passed it then and sent it over to the Senate. The authorization on these programs has expired. They are continuing to receive funding. The people who depend upon these programs deserve the certainty that reauthorization would allow.

Madam Speaker, I urge passage of the bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I will close with this: I thank all the Members who worked together to produce this great legislation, especially my colleague, Congressman Mi-

I also would like to give a quick thank you to the Energy and Commerce Health Subcommittee staff on both sides of the aisle and my health policy advisor, Osarenren Okolo.

Madam Speaker, I would also like to include in the RECORD a few letters and statements from the Association of American Medical Colleges, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the Educational Workforce Alliance, the American Geriatrics Society, the National Association for Geriatric Education and the National Hispanic Medical Association all urging strong support for this legislation.

ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN MEDICAL COLLEGES: "Title VII programs improve access to care for rural and underserved com-unities and create a diverse and culturally competent health workforce, which can enhance patients' health outcomes," said the AAMC (Association of American Medical Colleges). "We applaud the House of Representatives for passing bipartisan Title VII reauthorization and recognize the need to increase federal funding in our nation’s health workforce infrastructure."
The future we’re working for at the AGS—a future when all older Americans have access to high-quality, person-centered care—begins by building the workforce to make that possible and by ensuring that workforce can connect us to the tools and supports we need as we grow older together,” observed Nancy E. Lundeberg, MPA, CEO of the AGS. “The EMPOWER for Health Act will make that possible by supporting two training programs that are as critical to our future as they are currently supported, thanks in large part to the bipartisan efforts that will make this bill law.”

Eldercare Workforce Alliance

“Our nation faces a severe and growing shortage of eldercare professionals with the skills and training to meet the unique healthcare needs of older adults,” said Amy York, Executive Director of the Eldercare Workforce Alliance. “EWA supports the EMPOWER for Health Act of 2019 because it expands the only federal geriatrics training program. That’s an investment in an eldercare workforce that can support well-coordinated, high-quality care for all older Americans.”

National Association for Geriatric Education

“NAGE is pleased to support the EMPOWER Act which will enable the GWEP and GACA programs to continue to train health care professionals and caregivers across the nation to care for older adults with the most effective and efficient practices. We are particularly indebted to Representative Schakowsky who is a true leader in aging and health care policy.”

American Academy of Pediatrics

“Across the country, there are significant shortages of pediatric subspecialists, which lead to long commutes for parents seeking care for their children and appointment wait times that can last more than three months. For a child with a complex, serious health condition, three months can seem like a lifetime. Children with complex medical conditions are among the most vulnerable; their ability to see the right doctor in a reasonable amount of time should not be determined by where they live. The EMPOWER for Health Act reauthorizes the Pediatric Subspecialty Loan Repayment Program, which is an important step toward addressing the geographic disparities that impact a child’s ability to access subspecialty care. The American Academy of Pediatrics thanks Rep. Schakowsky (D-IL) and Rep. Bill Huizenga (R-MI) for their leadership advancing this important legislation.”—American Academy of Pediatrics President Kyle Yasuda, MD, FAAP

Hon. Jan Schakowsky,
Committee on Commerce & Energy, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR CONGRESSWOMAN SCHAKOWSKY: On behalf of the National Hispanic Medical Association (NHMA) Board of Directors, we strongly support H.R. 2781 “Educating Medical Professionals and Optimizing Workforce Efficiency and Readiness for Health (EMPOWER for Health) Act of 2019”. We support the amendment of Title VII of the Public Health Service Act to reauthorize certain programs relating to the health professions workforce from FY 2020 through FY 2024. Critical health professional development programs revolving around the underserved, Hispanic communities of this country have been a staple of our organization. The programs listed in this document are essential to furthering patient population, clinical care, and research.

The Centers of Excellence program award recipients, who recruit, train, and retain underrepresented minority students and faculty at health professional schools, achieve the ultimate goal of producing a quality healthcare workforce whose racial and ethnic diversity is representative of the U.S. population. Health Professionals Training for Diversity has provided scholarships for disadvantaged students, loan repayments, and fellowships regarding faculty positions. These programs have assisted students from minority and economically disadvantaged backgrounds to enter the health professions for decades by focusing on student development, retention, matriculation, and graduation.

Past health professional school, graduate medical education enjoys funds and accreditation authorized by this legislation. The Primary Care Training and Enhancement program accredits and funds residency and internship programs in the fields of family medicine, general internal medicine, and general pediatrics, and provides a need-based financial assistance. The National Hispanic Medical Association strongly supports H.R. 2781 “Educating Medical Professionals and Optimizing Workforce Efficiency and Readiness for Health (EMPOWER for Health) Act of 2019”. We are especially supportive since this bill reauthorizes the aforementioned programs and generally furthers a healthcare workforce that represents the U.S. patient population.

Sincerely,

ELENA RIOS, MD, MSPH, FACP,
President & CEO.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I certainly urge all my colleagues to support the bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Ms. TITUS). The question is on the motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2781, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

TITLE VIII NURSING WORKFORCE REAUTHORIZATION ACT OF 2019

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Illinois?

There was no objection.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 15 minutes to the gentlewoman from Oregon (Ms. BONAMICI).

Ms. BONAMICI. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding.
I rise today in support of H.R. 728, the Title VIII Nursing Workforce Reauthorization Act and to highlight the importance of title VIII programs, a critical lifeline for America’s nursing workforce and the patients they serve.

Demand for healthcare services provided by nurses continues to grow, so we must expand and support these programs to maintain a highly educated nursing workforce. Title VIII programs prepare more than 61,000 students in almost every State, but there are still significant shortages in northwestern Oregon and across the country.

Title VIII programs increase the nursing pipeline and also create a culturally diverse workforce to make sure that our increasingly diverse patient population is cared for by culturally aware providers. Title VIII programs prepare nurses to serve the most vulnerable communities and regions, such as rural areas, that are in desperate need of providers.

Title VIII programs also provide crucial support for our nursing educators, greater diversity in the nursing workforce, and more successful careers for nurses who work tirelessly on the frontline of patient care.

Our attention is critical to the health and well-being of our communities. That is why I am honored to serve as a leader on the Nursing Caucus along with several other cosponsors of this legislation, Representatives Joyce, Davids, Bonamici, Matsu, Castor, McKinley, and Underwood.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join us in supporting this legislation.

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I support H.R. 728, the Title VIII Nursing Workforce Reauthorization Act of 2019 which was introduced by Mr. Joyce, our Republican lead of Ohio. This bill reauthorizes the Title VIII nursing workforce programs for fiscal years 2020 through 2024. Title VIII programs, in addition to the Title VII physician workforce programs, have actually expired, but they have continued to receive appropriations.

According to the Health Resources and Services Administration report on nursing workforce projections in 2017, the future supply of and demand for nurses will be affected by a host of factors, including population growth, aging of the Nation’s population, overall economic conditions, expanded health insurance coverage, changes in healthcare reimbursement, geographic location, and health workforce availability. The demands for RNs are projected to increase by nearly 800,000 between 2014 and 2024.

Texas is projected to face a shortage of all types of nurses by 2030. Registered nurses, nurse practitioners, certified nurse anesthetists, and certified nurse-midwives will fall short of demand year after year from now until 2030. This is an issue that we are facing across the country, and H.R. 728 can help fix that.

While our appropriations process has continued to fund these programs, without authorization there remains uncertainty regarding how much money the program will receive each year. These programs range from providing our advanced practice nurses with additional educational opportunities to increasing nursing workforce diversity.

In the midst of a nursing shortage, we must ensure that our healthcare system has the capacity to educate and retain a qualified workforce and also allows for career advancement. This bill includes grants for nurses of different levels of education to obtain further education to advance within their profession. Additionally, this legislation reauthorizes loan repayments, scholarships, and grants for education, practice, quality, and retention. These provisions are essential in educating and retaining a qualified nursing workforce.

Madam Speaker, I urge support of H.R. 728, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise in great support of H.R. 728, the Nursing Workforce Reauthorization Act introduced by Representatives Joyce, Gabbard, Davis, Bonamici, Matsu, Castor, McKinley, and Underwood.

The Title VIII nursing workforce program ensures that we have a skilled, competent, and diverse nursing workforce, and the Nursing Workforce Reauthorization Act is an important step in strengthening these programs.

This bill provides grants to nursing schools, academic health centers, and other entities to help in training graduate-level nurse practitioners and clinical nurse specialists, certified nurse-midwives and certified registered nurse anesthetists and public health nurses. The bill also reauthorizes the successful Nursing Workforce Diversity grant program which has been shown to reduce health disparities and improve outcomes for patients.

As our population ages we are seeing a growing demand for qualified nursing. H.R. 728 helps us prepare for the future by training the next generation of nurses and nurse educators.

Madam Speaker, I urge all of my colleagues to support this bill, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. Joyce), who is the Republican lead on this bill.

Mr. Joyce. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 728, the Title VIII Nursing Workforce Reauthorization Act of 2019.

With 4 million registered nurses nationwide, nurses are more than just the largest healthcare workforce in the United States. They are the backbone of the healthcare system.

As a proud husband of a nurse and as co-chair of the Congressional Nursing Caucus, it is easy for me to understand why nursing is the most trusted profession in America. I can personally attest to the amount of dedication nurses put into caring for their patients each and every day. The bottom line is that nurses hurt the health and well-being of the American people.

Unfortunately, despite the importance of nurses to the well-being of patients, we are facing a nursing shortage that will leave far too many patients without the care that they need. The demand for nurses varies State by State, but it is estimated that the national need for nurses will increase by 28 percent by 2030. On top of that, it is estimated that roughly 10,000 baby boomers turn 65 every day—10,000 every single day.

To meet this increased demand, Congress must address the issues impacting nursing recruitment, education, and retention. My bill accomplishes exactly that by reauthorizing Title VIII nursing workforce development programs.

These programs are designed to address specific needs within the nursing workforce to meet the nation’s patient population. Importantly, they also provide targeted support for the institutions that educate nurses for practice in rural and medically underserved communities.

By passing this legislation, Congress can ensure that those interested in pursuing a career in nursing have access to the high-quality education and training opportunities necessary to do so. By passing this legislation, Congress can make a direct investment in our Nation’s health.

Before I close, I thank the American Association of Colleges of Nursing, the American Nurses Association, and my fellow co-chairs of the Congressional Nursing Caucus who have joined me in this effort: Representative Tulsi Gabbard, Representative Rodney Davis, and Representative Suzanne Bonamici.

I also thank Chairman Pallone and Ranking Member Burgess as well as the Subcommittee on Health Chair Eshoo and Ranking Member Burgess, for recognizing the importance of this legislation and moving it through the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Madam Speaker, I am grateful for the overwhelming bipartisan support this bill has received. On behalf of the Nation’s nurses, I urge all of my colleagues to support its passage.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I am prepared to close with this. Nurses are the backbone of our healthcare system. It looks like, in a bipartisan way, everyday loves nurses. They provide frontline care in a... variety of settings and often work to supervise and coordinate care for patients. We couldn’t live without them, and so we are helping them today.

Madam Speaker, I urge the passage of this legislation with all of my colleagues, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Again, this is one of those bills that passed out of the Subcommittee on Health last Congress, passed on the floor of the House, and, for some reason, didn’t see action over in the Senate. This year, it needs to, for all the reasons we have heard articulated here today.

I also am obligated to mention that my district in Texas is home to one of the largest and best nursing education programs in the country at Texas Woman’s University. I would also be remiss if I didn’t acknowledge the work done in the last Congress, with my colleague at the time, who is no longer in Congress, but it was always her passion to see this bill passed.

Madam Speaker, I urge passage, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, today, I rise in support of H.R. 728, the Title VIII Nursing Workforce Reauthorization Act of 2019.

As the first registered nurse elected to Congress, I know how essential the federal nursing workforce development grants programs are to the development of the next generation of our nursing leaders. These Title VIII programs, administered through the Health Resources and Services Administration, have supported the recruitment, retention, and distribution of our nation’s nursing workforce for over five decades.

Title VIII programs have supported nursing education at all levels, from entry level preparation through graduate study. They have provided support for institutions that educate nurses for practice in rural and medically underserved areas, thus representing a direct investment in our nation’s health.

With the support of our House and Senate colleagues, we must continue to elevate and strengthen our nursing workforce for the wellbeing of our nation. I wholeheartedly urge my colleagues to support the Title VIII Nursing Workforce Reauthorization Act of 2019.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from Illinois (Ms. SCHAKOWSKY) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 728, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF DRUG DISCOUNTS AND REAL-TIME BENEFICIARY DRUG COST ACT

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2115) to amend title XI of the Social Security Act to provide greater transparency of discounts provided by drug manufacturers, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 2115

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE

This Act may be cited as the “Public Disclosure of Drug Discounts and Real-Time Beneficiary Drug Cost Act”.

It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) commercially available drug pricing comparison platforms can, at no cost, help patients find the lowest price for their medications at their local pharmacy.

(2) such platforms should be integrated, to the maximum extent possible, in the health care delivery ecosystem; and

(3) pharmacy benefit managers should work to disclose directly to consumers, at no cost, the name and price of drug prices to such platforms to ensure that—

(a) patients can benefit from the lowest possible price available to them; and

(b) overall drug prices can be reduced as more educated purchasing decisions are made based on price transparency.

Ms. SPANBERGER. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of my bill, H.R. 2115, the Public Disclosure of Drug Discounts Act.

First, I thank my colleagues Congressman ARRINGTON and Congressman BOYLAND for their partnership on this bipartisan legislation. I also thank Congresswoman SLOTKIN for her cooperation and commitment to our efforts. And I thank Congresswoman SCHAKOWSKY for her work here today.

Madam Speaker, if we are going to make substantial long-term progress on the issue of prescription drugs, we can’t afford to work in a bipartisan manner, and I thank my colleagues for joining me in this fight.

I also thank Chairman PALLONE and Chairman Neal for their dedicated work on tackling prescription drug costs and the Committee on Energy and Commerce and the Committee on Ways and Means for voting to advance our bill and making this floor vote possible.

This bipartisan bill would help address the number one concern facing central Virginia’s working families, chronically ill, and seniors—the rising cost of healthcare.

An indication of this is the Seventh District of Virginia, from Chesterfield to Culpeper, the extremely personal effects of rising prescription drug costs are on full display. Whether at a coffee shop, town hall, or street fair, I always hear stories of heartwrenching expenses—from a mother, a father, a grandparent, or a young adult struggling to afford their prescription drugs. People genuinely feel helpless, and it is due to no fault of their own.

In many cases, steep costs have forced them to make nearly impossible decisions. A costly, lifesaving medication could mean buying fewer groceries for their family. It could mean reluctantly selling their home. It could mean saving less, or nothing at all, for their retirement or their kids’ education. And even for those who are healthy, there is an overwhelming fear: What if I get sick, or what if a loved one gets sick, and we can’t afford the medication?

Back in August, I held a roundtable with patients, pharmacists, and healthcare providers in Henrico County to discuss this community-wide issue. Together, we talked about the financial challenges faced by over 40 million Americans. We discussed the issue of pharmacy benefit managers, PBMs.

To those in the healthcare industry, PBMs are known as the middlemen between drugmakers, health insurers, and pharmacies. But for many Americans, PBMs remain a mysterious player within the prescription drug marketplace.

Operating in the murky world of drug negotiation, there are few windows into the calculation of the rebates and discounts PBMs receive from drug companies. Effectively, they are a black box in the long supply chain from the pharmaceutical company to the patient.

During our roundtable in Henrico, one local pharmacist described how PBMs continue to enjoy record profits thanks to the pharmaceutical industry, while patients and pharmacists get stuck with unsustainable costs.

Right now, the three largest PBMs control between 75 and 80 percent of the U.S. prescription drug market. There seems to be little transparency. And where there is zero transparency, there is rarely room for accountability or oversight.

If we cast sunlight into this black box, patients will continue to be left in the dark about the effect of PBMs on the prices of specific drugs. The Public Disclosure of Drug Discounts Act would be a step toward bringing greater transparency to this broken system.

The principle behind my bill is simple. Let’s take the information already provided to the Federal Government and make it public.

PBMs are already required to declare rebate agreements, discounts, and generic dispensing rates to HHS, but under my bill, this information would be posted publicly for the general public to see.

Beyond the principle of my bill, the goal is even simpler: lowering drug costs for seniors and the uninsured.

By sharing this information online with American consumers and businesses, we would give seniors, families, and pharmacists a better sense of how PBMs are affecting people’s access and affordability.

In central Virginia and across the country, families should not be racked by a constant uneasiness about their financial well-being simply due to rising drug costs. They shouldn’t be forced to accept silently the undisclosed results of PBM negotiations that could be bankrupting them.

We need to show the American people that we want to see progress on this vital economic issue and that we are hearing their stories, seeing the problems that exist, and actually moving to reform a prescription drug marketplace that too often seems to be working against the best interests of American patients.

Today, I call on my colleagues to pass the Public Disclosure of Drug Discounts Act because we are long overdue for meaningful actions that can turn the tide.

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise to speak in support of H.R. 2115, the Public Disclosure of Drug Discounts and Real-Time Beneficiary Drug Costs Act.

This bill includes three provisions that passed through the Committee on Energy and Commerce in July as part of a larger transparency package, at that time called the METRIC Act.

The first provision is to hold pharmacy benefit managers accountable in the negotiation of rebates by requiring the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services to make rebates, discounts, direct and indirect remuneration fees, and other information available on a public website. This policy includes a requirement that this information be displayed in such a way that it maintains the confidentiality of individual medications.

What I believe is the most important provision is the one that requires prescription drug plan sponsors to include real-time benefits information in electronic prescribing in Medicare. As a physician, I recognize how important it is for doctors to have as much information at their disposal in prescribing appropriate medications for their patients.

Madam Speaker, I thank my fellow Texans, Jonny Arrington as well as Pete Olson, for bringing forth this policy.

In the past few years, we have begun to see the success of the 21st Century Cures Act actually come to life. New treatments and drugs are coming to the market at an exciting pace, providing great promise for America’s patients.

It is important that doctors be able to see and compare the prices of these medications so that they can help their patients assess their options.

Price transparency at the point of prescribing will provide physicians with information regarding what would or would not be covered under their patients’ insurance and would help them discuss what would be the most affordable options that are available to their patients.

While there are a lot of factors that doctors must consider when prescribing their patients’ medications, medication adherence is essential. If patients cannot afford their drugs, the stage is set for a lack of adherence to the recommended regimen.

We have all heard the stories of patients showing up at the pharmacy counter to pick up their prescriptions, at which point they learn it is unaffordable. This policy would help reduce the number of prescriptions left at the pharmacy counter, not picked up due to cost concerns.

The American Medical Association testified at our drug supply hearing in May that “access to accurate patient coverage and cost-sharing information at the point-of-care would streamline the process, reduce burden for the physician and the patient, and speed delivery of the most appropriate care.”

I agree with that statement, and I am pleased this legislation would improve access to real-time benefits data, further informing quality and doctors’ decisions making and improving patient access to affordable medications.

Madam Speaker, I urge Members to support H.R. 2115, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Ms. Slotkin) on this legislation.
Ms. SLOTKIN. Madam Speaker, I thank Congresswoman CHAKOWSKY and Congresswoman SPANBERGER.

Madam Speaker, I rise this morning in support of my bill, the Real-Time Benefits Act, which has been incorporated into the bill before us today. The bill started with a very simple request from seniors in my district. People want to know how much a prescription will cost before they pick it up at the drugstore, and they deserve to know that it is the best possible price that they can get.

This bill does that very thing. It provides Medicare patients with the information they need about the cost of the prescription and whether there are generic alternatives, as well as the best pharmacy for the best deal before they even leave the doctor's office.

Right now, here is how the system works. A patient goes to the doctor, gets a prescription, and walks out. Then they go to a local pharmacy to fill it, and pick it up. It is right then, at the counter, in front of everyone else, that they actually find out the price of their bill.

There is no advanced warning, no comparison shopping, no offer of generics, and no way of knowing if a different pharmacy could have it cheaper. By the time you get to the pharmacy, they have you over a barrel. This bipartisan bill would fix that.

Here is how it works. Insurers would be required to provide information to a common system, a real-time benefits tool, which doctors would access through their electronic prescribing program. Doctors and patients could then sit together to receive real-time updates, right in the doctor's office, on the price of the drug based on the patient's insurance plan, as well as the price of any other cheaper drugs available.

This real-time benefits tool will also list the price differences at each pharmacy—Rite Aid versus CVS—to allow physicians to make sure that the patients are getting the lowest possible prices.

This not only lowers out-of-pocket costs for seniors, but it increases much-needed price transparency into our system.

Imagine if, every time you went to the doctor, both you and your physician could see the differences in the prices of drugs. This is the kind of all-American competition we need when it comes to our prescription drugs.

To be clear, the cost of prescription drugs is the number one issue I get asked about in my district. People come up to me in the grocery store. They grab my arm. They ask me why their medication has increased by 200 percent in cost in the past 5 years. I want to provide information to our seniors. I want to provide information to the public—because they know exactly what their options are and what they are paying for each time they visit the pharmacy.

When I completely disagree with that premise, this bill will finally allow all of us to see for ourselves exactly how much of a cut these middlemen are taking out of the system.

Transparency is absolutely critical if we are going to lower drug prices for patients, and this bill is a big step in the right direction.

I applaud Representatives SPANBERGER, ARRINGTON, and BOYLE for their leadership on this bill, as well as my Energy and Commerce counterpart, Congresswoman CHAKOWSKY.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support H.R. 2115.

Ms. CHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I am prepared to close now just by saying the cost of prescription drugs is an issue on the minds of all of our constituents, in a bipartisan way, all across the country, and this bill will provide much-needed transparency around the activity of pharmacy benefit managers, or PBMs.

You heard very eloquent statements from our colleagues on this issue. I am going to close now and just say I hope that all of our colleagues will vote for this legislation.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. ARRINGTON), co-author of this legislation.

Mr. ARRINGTON. Madam Speaker, I thank my friend and fellow Texan, Dr. BURGESS, for yielding time to speak.

Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 2115, legislation I was proud to help lead and support, alongside Congresswoman SPANBERGER, which will provide greater transparency to the discounts negotiated between insurance companies and drug manufacturers through what are known as pharmacy benefit managers, or PBMs.

One of the reasons why drug costs have spiraled out of control is because discounts negotiated by PBMs are shrouded in secrecy. Americans are left in the dark about the rebates, and we have no idea where the value of those rebates go.

But we know this: We know they are not going to our seniors. We know they are not going to them at the point of sale. This has created a system that is confusing and overly complicated, particularly for our seniors.

The greatest tension is that the value, again, of these rebates is being passed to our seniors, who need the relief desperately.

The answer to this drug affordability crisis is not to impose more government control, which would only further distort the market, further confuse our seniors, and increase costs on all Americans. Instead, we need to activate the forces of competition and provide patients with more transparency in this marketplace that we need to know exactly what their options are and what they are paying for each time they visit the pharmacy.

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Madam Speaker, as my Energy and Commerce counterpart, I want to thank my colleague, Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

I rise to speak in support of H.R. 2115, the Public Disclosure of Drug Discounts Act. I am very glad to see this bill, which was part of the recently passed Prescription Drug Pricing Reduction Act of 2019, the major PBM companies had a higher projected revenue than Facebook, Amazon, and Google combined.

So much of the debate around how we are going to close now and just say I hope that all of our colleagues will vote for this legislation.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. CARTER), a pharmacist by education, for the purpose of stating his support of H.R. 2115, legislation I was proud to help lead and support, along with my colleagues in the Health Subcommittee of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

I arise today in support of H.R. 2115, legislation that has been focused on drug manufacturers. This bill highlights the need for reforms throughout our entire drug supply system. Specifically, this bill shines a spotlight on the middlemen in our drug supply chain: the pharmacy benefit managers, or PBMs.

For context, three PBMs control almost 80 percent of the marketplace, and while originally designed to primarily process claims, these companies are now some of the largest corporations in the country. For the year 2019, the major PBM companies had a higher projected revenue than Facebook, Amazon, Apple, Netflix, and Google combined.

In a time where patients are facing higher and higher drug costs, it is clear that the answer to this drug affordability crisis is not to impose more government control, which would only further distort the market, further confuse our seniors, and increase costs on all Americans. Instead, we need to activate the forces of competition and provide patients with more transparency in this marketplace that we need to know exactly what their options are and what they are paying for each time they visit the pharmacy.

Joanna, who lives in my hometown of Holly, Michigan, was hospitalized for several days due to complications because she could not afford her inhaler. Her complex health needs require a number of medicines, so she literally rationed her medications in order to keep them manageable, and she still spends hundreds of dollars each month.

While I completely disagree with that premise, this bill will finally allow all of us to see for ourselves exactly how much of a cut these middlemen are taking out of the system.

Transparency is absolutely critical if we are going to lower drug prices for patients, and this bill is a big step in the right direction.

I applaud Representatives SPANBERGER, ARRINGTON, and BOYLE for their leadership on this bill, as well as my Energy and Commerce counterpart, Congresswoman CHAKOWSKY.
This legislation will help ensure that rebates go toward reducing the cost of drugs for our seniors as well as the cost to the American taxpayer.

Additionally, I am thankful this legislation includes the text of my bill, the Shop Rx Act. This provision, which I cannot speak to, I hope the Member of both Republicans and Democrats, require drug plans for seniors to offer realtime information regarding the various options of drugs and their associated costs.

By providing seniors with access to the readily available and relevant information they need in order to be real consumers, we will empower them with the knowledge to choose the options that best fit their needs and their budget. Once consumers have more information, they will have more choices, and insurers will have to actually compete for their business, which will ultimately bring down the cost of drugs.

Madam Speaker, I believe this legislation will help transform the system from one in which patients are often powerless victims to one in which they have true bargaining power and real control over their healthcare needs. I am proud to support it, and I encourage my colleagues to do the same.

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Montana (Mr. GIANFORTE), a valuable member of the Health Subcommittee.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Far too many Montanans can’t afford the prescription drugs they need. They shouldn’t have to leave the pharmacy counter empty-handed because costs are too high. Montanans need access to affordable medications, which is why reducing drug prices is one of my top priorities.

To lower costs, we need more transparency in our healthcare system. We need a way to shine a light onto the opaque drug pricing process. Our common-sense, bipartisan bill before the House today will shine that much-needed light.

The Payment Commission Data Act gives Congress’ nonpartisan think tanks MedPAC and MACPAC greater access to drug pricing data. Armed with this data, they can better advise Congress about who is being a bad actor in the drug supply chain. It will help Congress address prescription drug prices more effectively and fairly.

We all want to ensure the American people can buy more affordable prescription drugs. I believe the bipartisan approach we have here should be a working model for how to move forward, not simply ramming through partisan bills.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote “yes” on this commonsense reform to lower drug prices.

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I urge passage of this bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHRADER. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 2115, the “Public Disclosure of Drug Discounts Act” introduced from my friend and colleague, Ms. SPANBERGER.

While I believe something must be done to bring down the cost of drugs, I also know that unless we have a better view into the process of how a patient’s cost is calculated, we will be unable to address the problem. That’s why I support this important piece of legislation that requires PBMs to report on all the price concessions and factors that contribute to determining the net cost of a drug. PBMs play an important role in our healthcare system as the intermediary negotiating drug prices in the current marketplace. But only if we understand the actual cost of the drug can we ensure that consumers are getting a fair shake. The bill before you today is comprehensive, as it requires PBMs to report the amount of rebates, discounts, direct and indirect remuneration fees, administrative fees, and any other price concessions. The Secretary will make this information available publicly in a way that aggregates the information by class of a drug to protect the negotiation process but also provide insight into any discrepancies between the negotiated drug’s net cost and the price a patient pays for that drug.

Addressing any healthcare problem requires a comprehensive approach. There is no one entity that is solely responsible for the high cost of drugs. We need transparency in our healthcare system. This bill had bipartisan support throughout the Committee process and similar measures have had support in the Senate. I am proud that we continue to work on measures that will help address one of the most concerning issues of our time, the exorbitant price of prescription drugs, and I thank leadership for bringing this measure to the floor today.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Oregon (Ms. SCHAKOWSKY) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2115, as amended.

The question was taken. The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being necessary to pass the bill, I now announce the results of the electronic vote, at 8:30 p.m. today, on the question of passing the H.R. 2115, as amended.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 296, nays 109, not voting 26, as follows:

PALLIATIVE CARE AND HOSPICE EDUCATION AND TRAINING ACT

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 647) to amend the Public Health Service Act to increase the number of permanent faculty in palliative care at accredited allopathic and osteopathic medical schools, nursing schools, social work schools, and other programs, including physician assistant education programs, to promote education and research in palliative care and hospice, and to support the development of faculty careers in academic palliative medicine, as amended. The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 647

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Palliative Care and Hospice Education and Training Act”.

SEC. 2. PALLIATIVE CARE AND HOSPICE EDUCATION AND TRAINING.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Part D of title VII of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 294 et seq.) is amended by inserting after section 759 the following:

“SEC. 759A. PALLIATIVE CARE AND HOSPICE EDUCATION AND TRAINING.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may make awards or enter into cooperative agreements for the purpose of providing support for projects that fund the training of physicians (including residents, trainees, and fellows) who plan to teach palliative medicine.

(2) REQUIREMENTS.—Each project for which a grant or contract is made under this paragraph shall—

(A) be staffed by full-time teaching physicians who have experience or training in interprofessional team-based palliative medicine;

(B) be based in a hospice and palliative medicine fellowship program accredited by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education;

(C) provide training in interprofessional team-based palliative medicine through a variety of service rotations, such as consultation services, acute care services, extended care facilities, ambulatory care and comprehensive evaluation units, hospices, home care, and nursing home care programs;

(D) develop specific performance-based measures to evaluate the competency of trainees; and

(E) provide training in interprofessional team-based palliative care to one or both of the training options described in paragraph (2).
"(3) TRAINING OPTIONS.—The training options referred to in subparagraph (E) of paragraph (2) are as follows:

(A) 1-year retraining programs in hospice and palliative care for physicians who are faculty at schools of medicine and osteopathic medicine, or others determined appropriate by the Secretary.

(B) 1-2-year retraining programs that are designed to provide training in interprofessional team-based hospice and palliative medicine for physicians who have completed advanced education programs who in any medical specialty leading to board eligibility in hospice and palliative medicine pursuant to the American Board of Medical Specialties.

(4) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘graduate medical education program’ means a program sponsored by a school of medicine, a school of osteopathic medicine, a hospital, or a public or private institution that—

(A) is a graduate medical education program in the specialties and subspecialties of medicine; and

(B) has been accredited by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education or the American Osteopathic Association through its Committee on Postdoctoral Training.

(5) PALLIATIVE MEDICINE AND HOSPICE ACADEMIC CAREER AWARDS.—

(1) ESTABLISHMENT OF PROGRAM.—The Secretary shall establish a program to provide awards, to be known as the ‘Palliative Medicine and Hospice Academic Career Awards’, to eligible individuals to promote the career development of such individuals as academic hospice and palliative care physicians.

(2) ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUALS.—To be eligible to receive an award under paragraph (1), an individual shall—

(A) be board certified or board eligible in hospice and palliative medicine; and

(B) have a junior (non-tenured) faculty appointment at an accredited (as determined by the Secretary) school of medicine or osteopathic medicine.

(3) LIMITATIONS.—No award under paragraph (1) may be made to an eligible individual unless the individual—

(A) is appointed by the Secretary an application, at such time, in such manner, and containing such information as the Secretary may require, and the Secretary has approved such appointment;

(B) provides, in such form and manner as the Secretary may require, assurances that the individual will meet the service requirements of the Secretary as described in paragraph (4); and

(C) provides, in such form and manner as the Secretary may require, assurances that the individual has a full-time faculty appointment in a health professions institution and documented commitment from such institution to spend a majority of the total funded time of such individual on teaching and direct patient care in at least one interprofessional team-based palliative care.

(4) MAINTENANCE OF EFFORT.—An eligible individual who receives an award under paragraph (1) shall provide assurances to the Secretary that funds provided to the eligible individual under this subsection shall be used only to supplement, not to supplant, the amount of Federal, State, and local funds otherwise expended by the eligible individual.

(5) AMOUNT AND TERMS.—(A) The award amount of an award under this subsection shall be equal to the award amount provided for under section 753(c)(5)(A) for the fiscal year involved.

(B) Duration of an award made under this subsection shall not exceed 5 years.

(6) PAYMENT TO INSTITUTION.—The Secretary shall make payments for awards under this subsection to institutions, including schools of medicine and osteopathic medicine.

(6) SERVICE REQUIREMENT.—An individual who receives an award under this subsection shall provide service to the Secretary in the time and manner prescribed by the award.

(7) PALLIATIVE CARE WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall award grants or contracts under this subsection to entities that operate a Palliative Care and Hospice Education Center pursuant to subsection (A)(3)(B).

(2) APPLICABILITY.—To be eligible for an award under paragraph (1), an entity described in such paragraph shall meet the knowledge and clinical skills for the care of such, in such manner, and containing such information as the Secretary may require.

(8) USE OF FUNDS.—Amounts awarded under a grant or contract under paragraph (1) shall be used to carry out the fellowship program described in paragraph (4).

(4) FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to paragraph (3), a Palliative Care and Hospice Education Center that receives an award under this subsection shall offer short-term intensive courses (referred to in this subsection as a ‘fellowship’) that focus on interprofessional team-based palliative care that provide supplemental training for faculty members in medical schools and other health professions schools with programs in psychology, pharmacy, nursing, social work, chaplaincy, or other health disciplines, as approved by the Secretary. Such a fellowship shall be open to current faculty, and appropriately credentialed volunteer faculty and practitioners, who do not have formal training in palliative care, to upgrade their knowledge and clinical skills for the care of individuals with serious or life-threatening illness and to enhance their interdisciplinary and interprofessional teaching skills.

(B) LOCAL COORDINATION.—Each fellowship program under this paragraph shall be offered either at the Palliative Care and Hospice Education Center that is sponsoring the course, in collaboration with other Palliative Care and Hospice Education Centers, or at medical schools, schools of nursing, schools of pharmacy, schools of social work, schools of chaplaincy or pastoral care education, graduate programs in psychology, physician assistant education programs, or other health professions schools approved by the Secretary with which the center has an affiliation.

(5) CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDIT.—Participation in a fellowship under this paragraph shall be accepted with respect to continuing education in palliative care education programs. As a condition of such acceptance, the recipient shall subsequently provide a minimum of 18 hours of voluntary instruction in palliative care content (that has been approved by a palliative care and hospice education center) to students or trainees in health-related educational, home, hospice, or long-term care settings.

(6) TARGETS.—A Palliative Care and Hospice Education Center that receives an award under paragraph (3) may establish targets approved by the Secretary for providing training in interprofessional team-based palliative care to a certain number of faculty or practitioners who are practicing in award-covered training programs or other parameters established by the Secretary.

(6) AMOUNT OF AWARD.—Each award under paragraph (1) shall be in the amount of $150,000. Not more than 24 Palliative Care and Hospice Education Centers may receive an award under such paragraph.

(7) MAINTENANCE OF EFFORT.—A Palliative Care and Hospice Education Center that receives an award under paragraph (1) shall make payments to the Secretary that funds provided to the Center under the award will be used only to supplement, not to supplant, the amount of Federal, State, and local funds otherwise expended by such Center.

(8) PALLIATIVE CARE AND HOSPICE CARE INCENTIVE AWARDS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall award grants or contracts under this subsection to individuals described in paragraph (2) to foster greater interest among a variety of health professionals in entering the field of palliative care.

(2) ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUALS.—To be eligible to receive an award under paragraph (1), an individual shall—

(A) be an advanced practice nurse, a social worker, physician assistant, pharmacist, chaplain, or student of psychology who is pursuing a doctorate, masters, or other advanced degree with a focus in interprofessional team-based palliative care or related fields in an accredited health professions school; and

(B) submit to the Secretary an application at such time, in such manner, and containing such information as the Secretary may require.

(3) CONDITIONS OF AWARD.—As a condition of receiving an award under paragraph (1), an individual shall agree that, following completion of the award period, the individual will teach or practice palliative care in health-related educational, home, hospice, or long-term care settings for a minimum of 5 years under guidelines established by the Secretary.

(4) PAYMENT TO INSTITUTION.—The Secretary shall make payments for awards under paragraph (1) to institutions that include schools of medicine, osteopathic medicine, nursing, social work, psychology, chaplaincy or pastoral care education, dentistry, and pharmacy, or other accredited health disciplines in an accredited health professions school or program (such as a physician assistant education program) that is approved by the Secretary.

(5) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out this section each of the fiscal years 2020 through 2024.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by this section shall be effective beginning on the date that is 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act.
Parkinson's disease, or amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, and infectious diseases; as well as serious or life-threatening illness (including cancer; heart, kidney, liver, and lung, and infectious diseases; as well as serious or life-threatening illness). The continuum of care for patients and families throughout the continuum of care for serious or life-threatening illness.

(C) PALLIATIVE CARE PROFESSIONALS.— Specific materials that explain the role of professionals trained in hospice and palliative care in providing team-based care (including the development of care plans, support for shared decisionmaking, care coordination, psychosocial care, and spiritual care) for patients and families throughout the continuum of care for serious or life-threatening illness.

(D) RESEARCH.— Evidence-based research demonstrating the benefits of patient access to palliative care throughout the continuum of care for serious or life-threatening illness.

(E) POPULATION-SPECIFIC MATERIALS.— Materials targeting specific populations, including relevant Federal agencies and departments, including the Department of Veterans Affairs, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, and the Administration on Aging.

(C) APPLICATION.— An eligible entity desiring a grant under subsection (a) shall submit an application to the Secretary at such time, in such manner, and containing such information as the Secretary may reasonably require.

(D) ELIGIBLE ENTITY.— For purposes of this section, the term ‘eligible entity’ shall include a school of nursing, a health care facility, a program leading to certification as a certiﬁed nurse assistant, a partnership of such a school and facility, or a partnership of such a program and facility.

(e) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.— There shall be appropriated to carry out this section $5,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2020 through 2024.

SEC. 4. DISSEMINATION OF PALLIATIVE CARE INFORMATION.

Part A of title IX of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 299 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

SEC. 904. DISSEMINATION OF PALLIATIVE CARE INFORMATION.

(a) IN GENERAL.— Under the authority under this Act to disseminate information on health care and on systems for the delivery of such care, the Director may disseminate information to inform patients, families, and health professionals about the benefits of palliative care throughout the continuum of care for patients with serious or life-threatening illness.

(b) APPLICATIONS OF INFORMATION.—

(1) Mandatory Information.— If the Director elects to disseminate information under subsection (a), such dissemination shall include the following:

(A) Palliative Care.— Information, resources, and communication materials about palliative care as an essential part of the continuum of care for patients, families, and health professionals about the benefits of palliative care throughout the continuum of care for patients with serious or life-threatening illness.

(B) Palliative Care Services.— Specific information and resources provided to patients by professionals trained in hospice and palliative care, including pain and symptom management, support for shared decision-making, care coordination, psychosocial care, and spiritual care, explaining that such services may be provided starting at the point of diagnosis and alongside curative treatment and are intended to:

(i) provide patient-centered and family-centered support throughout the continuum of care for serious and life-threatening illness;

(ii) anticipate, prevent, and treat physical, emotional, social, and spiritual suffering;

(iii) optimize quality of life; and

(iv) facilitate and support the goals and values of patients and families.

(C) Palliative Care Professionals.— Specific materials that explain the role of professionals trained in hospice and palliative care in providing team-based care (including the development of care plans, support for shared decisionmaking, care coordination, psychosocial care, and spiritual care) for patients and families throughout the continuum of care for serious or life-threatening illness.

(D) Research.— Evidence-based research demonstrating the benefits of patient access to palliative care throughout the continuum of care for serious or life-threatening illness.

(E) Population-Specific Materials.— Materials targeting specific populations, including relevant Federal agencies and departments, including the Department of Veterans Affairs, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, and the Administration on Aging.

(C) Consultation.— The Director shall consult with appropriate professional societies, hospice and palliative care stakeholders, and relevant patient advocate organizations with respect to palliative care, psychosocial care, and complex chronic illness with respect to:

(1) the planning and implementation of the dissemination of palliative care information under this section;

(2) the development of information to be disseminated under this section;

(3) a definition of the term ‘serious or life-threatening illness’ for purposes of this section.

SEC. 5. CLARIFICATION.

None of the funds authorized under this Act (or an amendment made by this Act) may be used to provide, promote, or provide training with regard to any item or service for which Federal funding is unavailable under section 3 of Public Law 105–12 (42 U.S.C. 14402).

SEC. 6. ENHANCING NIH RESEARCH IN PALLIATIVE CARE.

(a) IN GENERAL.— Part B of title IV of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 284 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

SEC. 409K. ENHANCING RESEARCH IN PALLIATIVE CARE.

(1) The Secretary, acting through the Director of the National Institutes of Health, shall develop and implement a strategy to be applied across the institutes and centers of the National Institutes of Health to expand and intensify national research programs in palliative care in order to address the quality of care and quality of life for the rapidly growing population of patients in the United States with serious or life-threatening illnesses, including cancer; heart, kidney, liver, lung, and infectious diseases; as well as neurodegenerative disease such as dementia, Parkinson’s disease, or amyotrophic lateral sclerosis.”.

(2) Expanded Trans-NIH Research Repository.— Section 402A(c)(2)(B) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 282a(c)(2)(B)) is amended by inserting “and, beginning January 1, 2021, the National Institutes of Health shall maintain a repository for the public to support research with respect to palliative care” after “or national centers”.

The Speaker pro tempore (Mr. STANTON). Pursuant to the rule, the gentlewoman from Illinois (Ms. SCHAKOWSKY) and the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BURGESS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Illinois.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous materials on H.R. 647.

The Speaker pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Illinois?

There was no objection.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from New York (Mr. ENGEL), the author of this important legislation.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague for yielding to me.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to sponsor H.R. 647, the Palliative Care and Hospice Education and Training Act, which has 296 bipartisan cosponsors and endorsements from 54 national organizations, including the American Cancer Society and the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine.

The goal of palliative care is to provide patients relief from the symptoms of a serious illness. This form of medical care can accompany treatments and even cures. Often, an interdisciplinary team of healthcare providers consisting of doctors, nurses, social workers, and chaplains provide palliative care. In this capacity, these professionals often help patients with medical decisionmaking and care coordination.

Palliative and hospice care has been shown to improve health outcomes for patients, but not many people are aware of the benefits. Furthermore, our Nation has a shortage of qualified palliative and hospice care professionals.

The Palliative Care and Hospice Education and Training Act will help to address this shortage by training new professionals and expanding the pipeline of qualified professionals.

Nearly every one of us has felt the pain and stress of a serious illness, either personally or standing beside a loved one. By passing this bill, we will take an important step forward in bringing relief to patients suffering from serious illnesses.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank Chairwoman PALLONE and Ranking Member WALDEN for their leadership on this issue and Congressman REED and Congressman CARTER, who coauthored this bill with me.

Mr. Speaker, I include in the Record a letter of support from 54 national organizations and 35 State organizations.
Hon. Eliot Engel, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.
Hon. Frank Pallone, Jr., Chair, Energy & Commerce Committee, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.
Hon. Tom Reed, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.
Hon. Greg Walden, Ranking Member, Energy & Commerce Committee, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.
Hon. Buddy Carter, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

We appreciate your leadership in recognizing the importance of palliative care. We share your dedication to this important issue. We look forward to working with you toward quick passage of this legislation in the 116th Congress.

We appreciate your continued support and cosponsored by many Members of the Congress.

The bill before us today could address the growing scrutiny on doctors pretrients. PCHETA would go a long way to-towards bridging this gap by establishing education centers and career incentive awards to improve the training of doctors, nurses, pharmacists, social workers and other health professionals in palliative care. PCHETA also aims to strengthen clinical practice and improve health care delivery for patients with serious or life-threatening illness, as well as their families, by directing funding toward palliative care research. Research funding for palliative care and pain and symptom management comprises less than 0.1 percent of the National Institutes of Health annual budget. PCHETA would direct funding and intensification of research in these important areas.

At the same time, more must be done to ensure patients and providers are aware of the benefits of palliative care. According to the Institute of Medicine, there is a “need for better understanding of the role of palliative care among both the public and professionals across the continuum of care.” PCHETA would direct the implementation of a national education and awareness campaign so that patients, families, and health care professionals understand the roles of palliative care in ensuring high-quality care for individuals facing serious or life-threatening illness.

Through your leadership last Congress, PCHETA passed the House of Representatives with overwhelming bi-partisan support. We appreciate your continued support and cosponsored by many Members of the Congress.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of the bill before us, because as we all know, when loved ones become deathly ill, we are often left feeling helpless, wanting to step in and somehow ease the burden, but not sure how.

When my father began to become sick, there was nothing I wouldn’t have done, Mr. Speaker, to cure her. The woman who taught me how to live, taught me how to die. She taught me that what truly mattered to her in those final days of her life was that, in the comfort of her home, the comfort of her family, and that quality time spent with her loved ones and her friends. Surrounded by a wonderful team of family, friends, but, in particular, hospice care providers, we watched as her wishes were met.

Physicians, nurses, social workers, and aides made sure her symptoms were managed and that she was physically comfortable. But just as important, in many cases, the hospice volunteers who stepped in to give mom companionship, normalcy at the end of her illness, and a much-needed break by the loved ones who were caring for her, such as myself and my brothers and sisters.

The experience changed my perspective on death and dying. Even now, I am enormously thankful to the hospice staff and volunteers who stepped in to give my mom, and countless others in the community and folks across the country, quality of life when their days and her days were limited.

We must ensure that there is a properly trained workforce to care for those closest to us as they increase in age and become chronically and terminally ill. Estimates show that there will be no more than 1 percent growth in the palliative care and hospice physician workforce in the next 20 years, while the number of people eligible for palliative care will increase by over 20 percent, Mr. Speaker.

Without a boost for palliative care education and training, there will only be one palliative physician for every 26,000 seriously ill patients by 2030. This bill promotes a strong American workforce when it comes to our palliative and hospice volunteers and caregivers and advanced training for those healthcare providers providing those services amongst us.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleagues, and I urge all of my colleagues to support this legislation and vote “yes” this evening.

Ms. SCHAUKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I think what you heard from Mr. REED and myself, and those people who have experienced the use of hospice care, what a great and wonderful blessing it can be to the patient, Mr. Speaker, I support the legislation, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from New York (Mr. REED), the co-author of this legislation, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, first, I thank my colleagues, Mr. ENGEL and the members of the Energy and Commerce Committee, for their leadership on this bill, as well as, in particular, my colleague, Mr. CARTER, for helping push this bill through, and Dr. BURGESS for his assistance in leading the floor debate.

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. CARTER), a valuable member of the Health Subcommittee of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 647, the Palliative Care and Hospice Education and Training Act, I am proud to be a co-lead on this much-needed piece of legislation.

In my years as a pharmacist working in long-term care, I saw how patients with all types of illnesses face the challenges of end-of-life care. Whether you are talking about patients with cancer, Alzheimer’s, or some other ailment, critical to our healthcare system is valuing a patient’s quality of life. That is why palliative and hospice care are an important piece of our healthcare system.

As our population ages, the need for quality, well-trained hospice and palliative providers is only growing. The George Washington University Health Workforce Institute projects the number of patients who could benefit from palliative care could increase by 20 percent over the next 20 years. By establishing palliative care and hospice education centers to train and educate new providers, this bill is a critical step in meeting the needs of future patients.

Additionally, this bill enhances the NIH’s research into palliative care, improving our capability to care for patients in even more effective ways.

Finally, PCPTA also establishes a nationwide campaign to better inform patients, their families, and their healthcare providers about palliative care services. This is critical to ensuring patients have a clear picture of all of their options so they and their families can make informed decisions of the care that they want.

This bill is an important investment towards a patient-centered healthcare system that values and improves a patient’s quality of life.

I applaud Representatives ENGEL, REED, CLARKE, and CAR-TER, would establish palliative care and hospice education centers to improve training of interdisciplinary professionals and faculty members in palliative care.

The bill would promote career development of physicians who practice hospice and palliative medicine. It also helps train the next generation of clinicians by authorizing funds to train and retain nurses, social workers, pharmacists, and others who are pursuing advanced degrees in palliative care and related fields.

It’s quite a help patients facing serious conditions at the end of their lives and improve hospice care availability and treatment.

I just want to say this bill is personal to me. My father, who lived with me at the end of his life, was the beneficiary of hospice, and it made all the difference in the final days of his life.

This bill has the support of 294 bipartisan cosponsors, as well as 89 different organizations. I would certainly urge all of my colleagues to endorse, support, and vote for this important piece of legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from New York (Mr. REED), the co-author of this legislation, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, first, I thank my colleagues, Mr. ENGEL and the members of the Energy and Commerce Committee, for their leadership on this bill, as well as, in particular, my colleague, Mr. CARTER, for helping push this bill through, and Dr. BURGESS for his assistance in leading the floor debate.
PAYMENT COMMISSION DATA ACT OF 2019

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1781) to amend titles XVIII and XIX of the Social Security Act to provide the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission and the Medicaid and CHIP Payment and Access Commission with access to certain drug payment information, including certain rebate information, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE. This Act may be cited as the “Payment Commission Data Act of 2019”.

SEC. 2. PROVIDING THE MEDICARE PAYMENT ADVISORY COMMISSION AND MEDICAID AND CHIP PAYMENT AND ACCESS COMMISSION WITH ACCESS TO CERTAIN DRUG PAYMENT INFORMATION, INCLUDING CERTAIN REBATE INFORMATION.

(a) Access to certain Part D payment data.

(1) In paragraph (2), (A) in subparagraph (ii), by striking “and” at the end; (B) in subparagraph (b), by striking the period at the end and inserting “; and” ; and (C) by inserting at the end the following new paragraph:

“(3) in clause (v), by striking the word “or” and inserting “and;” and”;

(2) by striking subsection (a)(6)(A)(i) and inserting “subsection (a)(6)(A)(ii)”;

(b) Access to certain rebate and payment data under Medicare and Medicaid.

Section 1927(b)(3)(D) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395w–40(c)(3)(D)) is amended—

(2) by adding at the end the following new sentence: “Any information disclosed to the Executive Director of the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission or the Executive Director of the Medicaid and CHIP Payment and Access Commission pursuant to this subparagraph shall not be disclosed by either such Executive Director in a form which discloses the identity of a specific manufacturer or wholesaler or prices charged for drugs by such manufacturer or wholesaler.”;

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Illinois, Ms. SCHAKOWSKY and the gentleman from Texas, Mr. BURGESS each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Illinois, Mr. BURGESS.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Illinois?

There was no objection.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 1781, the Payment Commission Data Act of 2019.

This bill will provide the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission, otherwise known as MedPAC, and the Medicaid and CHIP Payment and Access Commission, MACPAC, with access to drug pricing and rebate data under Medicare parts B and D, as well as under Medicaid.

MedPAC and MACPAC are independent, nonpartisan commissions that advise Congress on issues affecting the Medicare and Medicaid programs. Currently, MedPAC and MACPAC lack access to this data in order to analyze and report to Congress on these urgent issues.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this bill, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 1781, the Payment Commission Data Act of 2019, which was introduced by my colleague, Representative CARTER of Georgia. This bill provides the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission, colloquially known as MedPAC, and the Medicaid and CHIP Payment and Access Commission, affectionately known as MACPAC, with access to certain drug payment information.

MedPAC is an independent congressional agency that advise Congress on issues affecting the Medicare program. And MACPAC is a nonpartisan legislative branch agency that provides policy and data analysis and makes recommendations to Congress on issues affecting Medicaid and the State Children’s Health Insurance Program.

The issue was brought to our attention that despite getting similar data, such as plan bid data, we were surprised to learn that while this data could be shared by the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services with the Government Accountability Office and the Congressional Budget Office, it could not be shared with MedPAC or MACPAC, leading us to this effort to correct this in a bipartisan way through H.R. 1781.

By providing these entities with drug payment and drug rebate information, MedPAC and MACPAC will be better able to analyze the drug cost data in the Medicare and Medicaid programs. Therefore, these commissions will be able to make better recommendations to Congress on how to address drug pricing based on accurate and factual data.

RE: Drug pricing and rebate data

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Illinois, Ms. SCHAKOWSKY.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material.
MedPAC looks forward to continuing to support the Congress in developing approaches to payment that ensure beneficiary access to important therapies, while reducing drug pricing and its beneficiaries. I very much appreciate your consideration of this request for this statutory change, and I also appreciate the support that the Congress has long given to the Commission.

Sincerely,
FRANCIS J. CROSSON, M.D.,
Chairman.

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, this bill continues the work of the Energy and Commerce Committee last Congress where we marked up a discussion draft of this very bill at the Health Subcommittee, which I chaired. Drug pricing remains an issue for patients in the United States and this bill will allow the House to act on factual analysis and recommendations to help lower drug prices for Americans.

Mr. Speaker, I urge fellow Members to support H.R. 1781, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. CARTER), the principal author of this bill and a valuable member of the Health Subcommittee of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in support of my bill, H.R. 1781, the Payment Commission Data Act.

Last year the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission, MedPAC, and the Medicaid and CHIP Payment Advisory Commission, MACPAC, who serve as nonpartisan advisory panels to Congress, came to us with a problem: They did not have the data needed to fully study prescription drug rebates.

This bill ensures MedPAC and MACPAC have access to the data they need to make informed recommendations to Congress. This increase in transparency is extremely helpful in allowing MedPAC and MACPAC to analyze how competition in our drug market is currently working and how part D plans are managing the growth in drug prices. They will be able to turn that new knowledge into improved policy recommendations on how we, as Congress, can bring down the price of drugs for patients.

Simply put, this bill is just good governance.

Importantly, I think this bill, as well as the bill we just spoke about, H.R. 2115, are shining examples of what is possible when Republicans and Democrats are working together to lower the cost of drugs for patients.

In the Energy and Commerce Committee, we have worked all year to advance a number of good, bipartisan drug policies that could make a difference for patients.

Looking across the Capitol, there are dozens more bipartisan reforms that I think could get robust support here in the House.

The issue of prescription drug costs is simply too important to be sacrificed in the name of electoral politics. Today is proof that we can, in fact, pass bipartisan drug pricing reforms.

So I call on my colleagues on the other sides of the aisle: Let’s build on today and continue advancing the bipartisan policies we know can become law and actually make a difference for patients in the country.

I want to thank my friend and co-lead, Representative Tom O’HALLERAN, as well as Representatives RICE, PANETTA, GIANFORTE, and Welch for their leadership on this bill.

I urge my fellow Members to support transparency in our drug supply chain and to support H.R. 1781.

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I urge support of the underlying bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out that this evening, early evening as we have passed a total of five pieces of legislation, a couple of which were also out of the Ways and Means Committee. I think it is a tremendous success and a bipartisan success.

So I want to thank Chairman FRANK PALLONE and the chair of the Health Subcommittee, ANNA ESHOO; Ranking Member WALDEN and ranking member of the Health Subcommittee, Mr. BURGESS, for their hard work.

But I also do want to just take a moment to thank the staff on both sides of the aisle. On the Democratic staff we have: Stephen Holland, Jacquelyn Bolen, Kimberlee Trzeciak, Una Lee, Tiffany Guarascio, and Waverly Gordon.

These bills will strengthen our healthcare workforce and increase transparency in prescription drug prices. They are all critical. I am very proud that we were able to work in a bipartisan way to, hopefully, right now, have them pass.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from Illinois (Ms. SCHAKOWSKY) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1781, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

HONORING ANITA CLARK
(Mr. PAYNE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Anita Clark, the 2019 Reverend Fred Handy In-Service Award winner.
Ms. Clark was honored on October 25 by the Montclair, New Jersey, branch of the NAACP. Few honorees have been more dedicated to serving the public good.

Ms. Clark has spent her entire life helping the underserved and the most vulnerable residents of Essex County. She started in child development at the Newark Day Care Center. She has worked for social services and served as the director of a needs-based youth summer camp.

During her 30 years in the Essex County judicial system, she helped single mothers get child support and worked to keep juveniles from becoming criminals.

She is a respected and beloved resident of my district, as well as a great friend and family member and a loved one, and this honor is well-deserved.

We are very proud of the work that Ms. Anita Clark has done in our community throughout her time in Essex County.

RECOGNIZING HANCOCK DAY SCHOOL ON WINNING THE BLUE RIBBON SCHOOL AWARD

(Mr. CARTER of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Hancock Day School for being recognized by the Department of Education as a Blue Ribbon School for 2019. This prestigious award recognized around 350 schools across the country for their commitment to academic excellence and closing the achievement gap among diverse groups of students.

To commemorate this award, Hancock Day School will receive a flag that is a symbol of excellence in teaching and learning. Recognized throughout the Savannah community as a stalwart of quality education, I am proud to see Hancock receive the national recognition it deserves.

The school was founded in 1953 and serves pre-K through eighth grade students. Using the “Hancock Way,” teachers are given autonomy to teach free of buswork and red tape while they push their students to succeed and refuse to water down any part of the curriculum.

The school’s founder once said that students need to “grow a little new wood each day,” and they are certainly succeeding.

To teachers, students, and staff alike at Hancock Day School: Congratulations on your award, and keep up the good work.

SURFSIDE-SUNSET BEACH NOURISHMENT PROJECT

(Mr. ROUDA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to highlight the importance of the Surfside-Sunset Beach Nourishment Project to the residents of Orange County, California.

Due to flood control measures and other shore protection and harbor works made by the Federal Government, the shoreline between Anaheim Bay and Newport Bay no longer receives a natural supply of sand. As a result, Congress authorized the Surfside-Sunset project in 1962 to provide for artificial beach nourishment to stabilize affected shoreline. Stage 13 of this project will combat continued coastline erosion and protect coastal property.

Unfortunately, the Federal Government has neglected the Surfside-Sunset project in recent years, which has prevented stage 13 from moving forward. This project has not been funded by the Federal Government for 11 years. Let me repeat: As the Surfside-Sunset project is one of many more Army Corps projects for the people of Orange County, I will continue to advocate for its prioritization by the Army Corps and Congress.

RECOGNIZING THE IMPORTANCE OF THE FOREST PRODUCTS INDUSTRY

(Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, last week, we celebrated the Pennsylvania Forest Innovation Day and National Forest Products Week.

The forest products industry plays an important role in many communities around the Nation, including Pennsylvania. The industry also provides numerous environmental benefits because managed forests support proactive stewardship.

Unfortunately, times have been difficult for many timber producers in recent years. While the industry continues to diversify and trade negotiations progress, identifying new markets for American forest products remains essential.

The Timber Renovation Act, which was included in the 2018 farm bill, is one initiative I have been proud to support that does just that. It encourages new markets by supporting research for wood products in construction.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank our producers for the work that they do.

RECOGNIZING HABITAT FOR HUMANITY IN SALEM COUNTY, NEW JERSEY

(Mr. VAN DREW asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. VAN DREW. Mr. Speaker, I am here today to draw attention to the Habitat for Humanity organization of Salem County in south Jersey.

Habitat for Humanity in Salem County, south Jersey, has been active since its creation in 1982. As one of the oldest branches, they have built over 40 homes, with many more in progress.

In addition, Habitat for Humanity in Salem County has a branch of ReStore, which promotes sustainability in home improvement by selling new and gently used materials and furniture.

I want to acknowledge their dedication to our community and to the welfare of those around them. The Habitat for Humanity nonprofit organization has made great strides in our district by building and renovating homes so that more citizens can have access to affordable housing.

We are all proud of them in south Jersey, proud of what they have done. They are truly stars and truly have made a difference in individuals’ lives. May God bless them.

CELEBRATING OXI DAY

(Mr. BILIRAKIS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition and celebration of Oxi Day.

Seventy-nine years ago today, the Greek Prime Minister, Ioannis Metaxas, replied, “oxi,” or “no,” to the fascist forces looking to enter Greece initially in their quest for total conquest of the continent. With this historic response, Greece rejected submission to the Axis Powers, proving it would not go easy.

Though the invasion of the Greek homeland ultimately happened, the fascist forces could not contend with the ferocity of the Greek resistance. The delayed invasion marked the first Axis setback in the entire war and actually precipitated a fatal delay in the German invasion of Russia, serving as the turning point for Allied Powers during World War II.

Mr. Speaker, I celebrate the bravery and resistance of Greek warriors, which serves as an example for all freedom-loving people.

HONORING THE LIFE OF JOHN CONYERS

(Ms. JACKSON LEE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the life and legacy of John Conyers.

I look forward, over the next couple of weeks, to paying tribute to him on this floor, for he is deserving of the honor and recognition of the service of 53 years in the United States Congress. John Conyers, throughout newspapers across America, is called a civil rights icon, a man who won reelection time after time with 80 percent of the vote. I offer my deepest sympathy to his beautiful wife, Monica, and his sons, John and Carl, but most of all, I say to America: Those who are voiceless, John Conyers was there; but those who were silenced, who tried to be heard, John Conyers was there.

In every important piece of legislation for the last half century, John Conyers was there: voting rights, fair housing, the Clean Air Act, and the Clean Water Act.

Yes, he is an icon, but he is a person of this Nation. An honored servant and former military, he is to be honored, and I look forward to saluting him in days to come.

May he rest in peace.

VETERAN SUICIDE CRISIS
(Mr. JOHNSON of Louisiana asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. JOHNSTON of Louisiana. Mr. Speaker, as we approach Veterans Day, I rise to bring awareness again to the alarming rate of veteran suicide. This country owes all of our veterans and armed services personnel a limitless debt of gratitude for their sacrifices, so many that they made on our behalf. Our country simply wouldn’t be the Nation it is today, of course, were it not for the many ways in which they have valiantly served.

Very sadly, veteran suicide remains an urgent crisis that devastates too many families across our Nation every single day. The statistics are staggering. We know now that we lose up to 22 veterans every day.

Far too long, our country’s brave men and women who fought abroad for our freedoms fall victim to suicide when they return home, and, of course, they leave families without fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters, sons and daughters.

There are few things more heart-breaking than to hear of another brave soldier taking their own life, and we naturally ask the questions: How could this one have happened? Is there more that we could have done to intervene? I just want to say this. Here in Congress, we have a moral obligation to ensure that our veterans are given top priority and the resources and quality healthcare they need and truly deserve. We will continue to work on that priority. We will continue to advocate for all of those who served, and we will continue to draw attention to this terrible crisis in America.

May God bless and watch over all of our troops and all those who have served the call of freedom.

INFRASTRUCTURE FUNDING
(Ms. KAPTUR asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. KAP'TUR. Mr. Speaker, today the House approved H.R. 2440, the Full Utilization of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund Act of 2019. Nearly every segment of our Nation’s infrastructure is in disrepair due to chronic underfunding, including our Nation’s water infrastructure, a true lifeblood of our economy.

This year, as he did last year, President Trump proposed drastic cuts to the Army Corps of Engineers’ budget. Unbelievable. But our Appropriations Committee rejected his proposals and those cuts. Today I stand with my colleagues on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee to call for greater investment in our water infrastructure.

For our part, the House passed the FY20 Energy and Water Appropriations bill that included $1.6 billion from the harbor maintenance trust fund, an increase of $1.47 billion above fiscal year 2019 and $732 million above President Trump’s paltry and unrealistic budget request.

Big, medium, and small ports across our country are efficient economic engines that anchor jobs and progress. They are hubs of production for communities everywhere. And, yes, they rely on leadership from this Congress to fund their maintenance.

I congratulate Representative DeFazio for his hard work in writing H.R. 2440 and hope we continue the momentum to utilize the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund Act.

Mr. Speaker, I include in the Record a letter from the Port of Cleveland.

Dear Congresswoman Kaptur:
The Port of Cleveland is pleased to know that an important bill will be considered on the House floor on Monday, October 28.

The bill, H.R. 2440, the Full Utilization of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund, has bipartisan support on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee and I urge your support for the measure.

As you know, the Port of Cleveland and others in our state depend on the Corps of Engineers’ civil works program. Our port relies on the maintenance dredging work each and every year. Around $8 million is needed every year to keep the Cuyahoga River Federal shipping channel, the port’s breakwater and related infrastructure in a condition that enables the safe navigation of ships and mariners. Major American industry and U.S. exports rely on maintenance dredging that occurs twice each year.

Since 1986, when Congress created the Harbor Maintenance Tax (HMT) and Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund (HMTF), most cargo in American ports is charged an ad valorem tax for the purpose of covering Federal channel maintenance-related costs in U.S. seaports. In the first years, the tax revenue was fully spent on Federal channel maintenance but soon revenues increased and a surplus was allowed to accumulate in the trust fund, even as many shipping channels in the country were not fully maintained to their design depths and widths.

Overtime, the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund balance has been allowed to grow to over $9 billion while Congress has continued to under-spend on the infrastructure that is our national navigation system.

In more recent years, the House and Senate became more alert to the inadequately maintained American ports and the existence of the HMT and HMTF. Targets for maintenance spending were approved in WRDA 2014 and appropriations have increased. We ports have appreciated that improvement, but the fact is that the unused HMT revenue continues to accumulate while maintenance dredging needs in parts of the country, including on the Great Lakes, is insufficient.

The graph below, prepared in 2016, provides a snapshot of spending versus tax revenue. (In the years since, the trend is much the same with a projected HMTF balance (per FY 2020 budget) of as much as $10.4 billion.)
Again, these are collected taxes for which, by law, only authorized Federal navigation maintenance work is eligible. That the unspent balance has been allowed to accumulate and sit in the Federal Treasury as bail- last against budget deficits is especially dis- turbing at a time when Congress and the White House have rightly talked about the importance to the country of intial infrastructure. In the case of port chan- nels, the money exists. That is an important consideration. No new revenue stream is re- quired.

As a final note, and for clarity sake, this issue is unrelated to the funding of the in- land waterways system. There vessels, includ- ing as tug and towtows, are charged an ex- cise tax on fuel expenses. That revenue is ac- counted for in the Inland Waterways Trust Fund and is spent on construction work such as lock and dam improvements. It is note- worthy that unlike the case with the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund, the Inland Water- ways Trust Fund resources are fully spent on that system's navigation projects.

Please vote for the Full Utilization of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund legislation.

Sincerely,
WILLIAM D. FRIEDMAN,
President & Chief Executive Officer.

EXPRESSING SUPPORT FOR FLORIDA'S SEASONAL GROWERS

(Mr. SPANO asked and was given per- mission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. SPANO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to raise awareness about an issue that is important to our Nation and es- sential to my district. Strawberry growers in Plant City, Florida, are under attack.

For years Mexico has spent millions subsidizing their strawberry produc- tion. This has allowed them to export strawberries at a cost our local growers cannot compete with. Consequently, imports of Mexican strawberries have increased by approximately 80 percent since 2010. Furthermore, current trade agreements don’t allow seasonal grow- ers to bring antidumping claims. This means our growers are left with a right against dumping but no means of enforcing it.

Plant City, Florida, is known as the Winter Strawberry Capital of the World and produces more than 85 per- cent of all the winter strawberries grown here in our Nation. It is impera- tive for Congress to correct the situa- tion and pass legislation that gives our growers the protections that they need and deserve.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO THE HONORABLE JOHN CONYERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentle- woman from Michigan?

There was no objection.

Mrs. LAWRENCE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize an American hero, John Conyers. He was one of the 13 founding members of the Congressional Black Caucus. I stand here today join- ing the chair of the Congressional Black Caucus, KAREN BASS, in recogn- izng that he served for 53 years in the U.S. House of Representatives, making him one of the longest-serving House Members in history and the first Afri- can American to hold the title of dean.

Congressman Conyers was born in Detroit on May 16, 1929, the eldest of four sons of John and Lucille. He at- tended Detroit public schools and graduated from Northwestern High School. After graduating he served in the Na- tion Guard and then joined the U.S. Army.

He was inspired by his friend, Dr. Martin Luther King, to run for office and was elected to the House of Rep- resentatives in 1964. His first hire was civil rights lawyer, F. Lee Bailey.

As a human rights and civil rights champion, Mr. Conyers opposed the death penalty and fought police brutality. He also co-led and was a cospon- sor for the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Mr. Conyers was also a key player in passing the Help America Vote Act, the Vio- lence Against Women Act, the motor vehicle bill, the National Jazz Preser- vation, Education and Proclamation Act, and the Martin Luther King Fed- eral Holiday Commission Extension Act.

Today I am joined by a number of my colleagues who will be giving remarks. Mr. Speaker, it is with honor that I yield to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. PAYNE). My colleague and my colleague’s father both served with John Conyers.

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, let me first thank the gentlewoman from De- troit for her leadership on this issue to- night. We felt it was only fitting that she lead us in this Special Order hour for Mr. Conyers.

I rise to honor the former Congress- man, John James Conyers, after his passing on October 27, 2019. I would like to start by offering my thoughts and prayers to his wife, Monica, and his sons, John and Carl, during this time of loss.

Mr. Conyers spent 53 years as a Congress- man from Michigan, mostly from districts in and around the Detroit area. Mr. Conyers was the third long- est-serving Congressman and the longest- serving African American Con- gressman in United States history. He helped found the Congressional Black Caucus with some of our Na- tion's most prominent civil rights leaders and colleagues such as Shirley Chisholm and William Lacy Clay, Sr., the father of my esteemed colleague, WILLIAM LACY CLAY, Jr., from Mis- souri’s First District.

During his life he had several accom- plishments in and out of Congress. He joined voter registration drives in Selma, Alabama, in 1963, a year before the landmark 1964 Civil Rights Act even became law. As a Congressman, he led the drive to help make Martin Lu- ther King, Jr.'s birthday a national holiday and such perseverance and continued efforts to make that happen despite insurmountable odds. He helped calm rioters in his district during Detroit’s racial strife of 1967. He was a vocal opponent of apart- heid in South Africa, a political system of legal racial discrimination that he just—as many of us in this great Na- tion—would not tolerate. He fought for restrictions on gun ownership to pre- vent violence, because he knew what it meant in so many of our communities to have these lax laws.

At one point Mr. Conyers was called the leading Black voice in Congress. He was also known as one of the best dressers on Capitol Hill and a lover of jazz. He even got the Congress to de- cline jazz a national American treasure in 1987.

He was a dedicated public servant, an honored Korean war veteran, a champi- on of racial equality, and a strong figure in this House for half a century. His legacy will be remembered long after his passing. The work that he has done on this floor and in these Halls is second to none. He cared about this Na- tion, he cared about his colleagues, and he cared about his constituents in his district.

We will miss him dearly. Mr. Conyers was one of a kind. We are saddened by his loss, so we are here to honor him in the manner in which he should be as an esteemed former Member of this House.

Mrs. LAWRENCE. Mr. Speaker, there are so many facts that we need to share about John Conyers, including the fact that in his 52 years in office he represented Michigan’s First Congres- sional District, Michigan’s 14th Con- gressional District, and Michigan’s 13th Congressional District. Also dur- ing his time in Congress he chaired the House Oversight and Reform Com- mittee and also the House Judiciary Committee and served as dean of the House.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS) who is my amazing colleague and who will have comments about the passing and honoring of our colleague whom we all are mourning, John Conyers, who impacted so many of us in this country.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the young lady from Michigan— Mrs. LAWRENCE. I love that.

Mr. LEWIS. Well, you are still very young—for bringing us together to honor John Conyers.

geting what I call good trouble, nec- sary trouble.

As a matter of fact, John Conyers and Martin Luther King, Jr. were born the same year, so maybe history, faith, and maybe God Almighty placed the two of them here to work together.

Before being elected to Congress, Mr. Conyers served in the Korean war and on the staff of Representative John Dingell. When the people of Michigan elected Mr. Conyers in 1964, he brought Congress to the front lines of the civil rights movement, and he took civil rights, voting rights, labor rights, and human rights to the United States Congress.

Mr. Conyers, perhaps more than any other Member of Congress, made trips over and over and again to the South to identify with the struggle going on in the South. He came to Alabama, to Georgia, Mississippi, and other parts of the Deep South.

Mr. Speaker, Representative Conyers was one of two Members of Congress, both from Michigan, who voted on the original and every single reauthorization of the Voting Rights Act. He could give the history of every major law from the Civil Rights Act of 1968 to the 20-year effort to establish a National Day of Service honoring my friend and leader, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

When Rosa Parks, a person I got to know so well, was forced to leave her home State of Alabama after the Montgomery bus boycott, Mr. Conyers more than anyone else gave her a position on his staff, and she was very proud and pleased to work in the office of John Conyers. She served in his district office for 23 years.

The record should be clear: John Conyers loved music, but he loved jazz. He loved jazz more than any other form of music.

He loved this institution, and he dedicated his life to realizing the dream of what our Nation could be. He was for the people, and he was for the people.

On this difficult day, I offer my deepest condolences to his beloved wife, sons, family, and the people of Michigan who mourn his loss.

May he rest in peace and in power.

Mrs. LAWRENCE. Mr. Speaker, I thank Congressman Lewis.

Some other facts that people may not know about John Conyers: He worked for the Lincoln auto factory and was a member of the UAW. He became the director of education for UAW Local 900. He was the first African American to chair the House Committee on the Judiciary. He also sponsored the Racial Justice Act and the Police Accountability Act during that time.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. DANNY K. DAVIS), a Member of Congress who has fought many fights and has stood up and knows the story of justice in our country.

Mr. DANNY K. DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, let me thank the gentlewoman, first of all, for organizing this Special Order that gives all the rest of us the opportunity to come to pay tribute to my hero.

As a matter of fact, I am old enough to remember in a very vivid way the late 1950s and early 1960s with people like John Conyers, Martin Luther King, JOHN LEWIS, Whitney Young, and other heroes of the period.

Although John was elected in Michigan, he was really all of our Congressmen. He was representative for all of us. We didn’t have 55 African American or Black Members of Congress at that time, but we had those voices that were strong and vibrant, those voices that gave hope.

There was so much hope and possibility being expressed during that period that those of us who were emerging had no idea that there was anything that we couldn’t accomplish, any changes that we couldn’t bring about, any possibilities that did not exist. And that, to me, was the true essence of John Conyers.

I was tremendously impressed with John because he was always for the underdog. He was always for the little guy, always for the little person, always representing those who were left out, those who were unheard, even those who were unheard of.

I don’t think there was any place in America where action was going on that John didn’t go. As a matter of fact, at the time when we were electing the first African American mayor in the city of Chicago, John was there every week. We thought he had moved to Chicago, but he didn’t live in Detroit. I mean, every week, from the time I guess, he lived here, in churches and churches and block parties and everywhere that you could possibly turn, there was John Conyers.

John has given the very best that you can give. To his wife and sons and other members of his family, we say thank you for lending John to all of us. I guess the poet Walter Foss maybe had John in mind when he penned these words that I end with.

There are hermit souls that live withdrawn in the peace of their self-content; there are souls, like stars, that dwell apart, in a fellowless firmament; there are pioneer souls that blaze their paths where highways never ran; but let me live by the side of the road and be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road, where the race of men go by, the men who are good and the men who are bad, as good and as bad as I. I would not sit in the scorner’s seat, nor hurl the cynic’s ban; let me live in my house by the side of the road and be a friend to man. I see from my house by the side of the road, by the side of the highway of life. The men who press with the ardor of hope, the men who are faint with the strain. But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears, both parts of an infinite plan; let me live in my house by the side of the road and be a friend to man.

So let me live in my house by the side of the road where the race of men go by, men who are good, men who are bad, wise, foolish, but then so am I. So why would I sit in the scorner’s seat or hurl the cynic’s ban? Let me live in my house by the side of the road, like John Conyers, and be a friend to man.

Mrs. LAWRENCE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. That was beautiful.

We continue in our effort to capture the life of a great man who served in this House.

Again, another fact: Since 1989, John Conyers had introduced H.R. 40, the Commission to Study Reparation Proposals for African Americans Act. This bill would establish a commission to examine the institution of slavery in the United States. The legislation has now been taken up by our colleague from Texas, Congresswoman SHEILA JACKSON LEE.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Pennsylvania, Mr. EVANS, my colleague who has shown to be a voice of reason, hard work, and compassion in his service to Congress.

Mr. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I thank my honorable friend, Congresswoman Lawrence, for her leadership on someone who really set a tone, not just in Detroit and Michigan, but the entire Nation. I thank her for her leadership.

Mr. Speaker, I knew Chairman Conyers, not as well as some of the Members who have spoken, but I did know him, each represented the largest city in a large northern industrial State. Philadelphia and Detroit have many of the same problems, such as poverty, gun violence, a loss of good manufacturing jobs, and access to healthcare.

I didn’t tell my colleague, Congresswoman Lawrence, that when she mentioned May 16, I was born on that same day, so there is that connection there.

The chairman was one of the 12 founders of the Congressional Black Caucus. From Pennsylvania, the person who was one of them was Robert N.C. Nix, who was elected in 1958.

So 48 years ago, as a result of the chairman, we have built on the backs of those founders. Today, there are 54 of us in the caucus, including the House majority whip, two Senators, four chairs of House committees, and one of our former members who became a two-term President of the United States.

The chairman helped to lay the groundwork for this progress. When he cosponsored the Voting Rights Act of 1965, I was 10 years of age. In 1965, the Voting Rights Act banned discrimination at the ballot box. He was a fierce critic of the Vietnam War that led to a clash with President Lyndon Johnson.

It even won him a spot on President Nixon’s enemy list.

It is rather interesting to have this conversation today because, as I recall, he played an important role in the impeachment proceedings. Mr. Speaker, I want my colleagues to know that I saw that on my black-and-white TV.
Once again, we are building on the back of the work that he and other Members did in 1973 and 1974.

We should thank the chairman for his leading role in creating the Federal holiday that honors Martin Luther King Jr. He introduced a bill 4 days after Dr. King's death. When Congressman Lewis talks about that, he knows what he is talking about. The fight took 15 years, but he succeeded.

The chairman also played a leading role in another long fight, the struggle to end apartheid in South Africa with a Congressman from Pennsylvania by the name of William Gray. I recall, Mr. Speaker, meeting President Mandela. I say all of these things because there is a connection to all of us who are here today. I think that we should honor the chairman for all that he has contributed to this Nation.

I want to close with how I recall the chairman urging skeptical African Americans to get involved in politics. He used to say, "Register, vote, run for office. It is power that counts."

He used to say, "Register, vote, run for office. It is power that counts."

There is an election, Mr. Speaker, 8 days from now. An important way for all of us who represent the Congressional Black Caucus, to honor everyone who has worked for civil rights, is to vote. I recall him loving music so much. I heard him talk about John Coltrane.

I think it is important to recognize that John was an example to so many of us. I feel really a sincere obligation and a commitment to add my voice to the foundation that he has laid.

As a person who has been a Member of the Congress for only 3 years, because of the foundation he laid, I have the opportunity to stand here today. So many of us not just in the Congressional Black Caucus but Members who are in this House, he has contributed to all of us. I want to use your voice and be heard. As he would say, "Vote."

Mrs. Lawrence. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague for mentioning so many of the accomplishments that John Conyers had.

I want to add to that his legislative record extends to introducing the Medicare for All Act, legislation to establish a government-sponsored single-payer healthcare option to control costs. Additionally, he championed the issue of redistricting to establish a commission that I had mentioned earlier.

He fought for justice that also extended to international issues. He was an early leader in the anti-Vietnam war movement in addition to the anti-Iraq war movement.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Nevada (Mr. Horsford), my colleague and a hardworking freshman. It is hard to recognize that he is a freshman.

Mr. Horsford. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chair and the anchor for this Special Order hour, Congresswoman Brenda Lawrence, for her commitment, dedication, and service, not just to the people of Detroit but to the people of this great Nation.

I join with my colleagues, not only in the Congressional Black Caucus, but this body of government as a whole, in mourning a giant in the legacy of Representative John Conyers.

Representative John Conyers was a force to be reckoned with, a leader of the civil rights movement who stood tall in the House of Representatives for more than a half century, the longest serving African American Congressman.

During his 53 years as the Representative for the part of Michigan encompassing Detroit, Congressman Conyers fought for the people of his State tooth and nail.

Congressman Conyers was known as the dean of the House of Representatives, and he paved the way for all of us who are here this evening. I really believe that we stand on his shoulders.

Speaking to his legacy, he was a co-founder of the Congressional Black Caucus. So, the fact that we are now 54 members in number representing more than 84 million people across the country, it was the vision of people like Congressman Conyers and others that allowed the Congressional Black Caucus to come forward.

He also led the charge to declare, as has been stated, a national holiday in honor of the great Reverend Martin Luther King Jr., a day Congressman Conyers fought for tirelessly that we now hold in our hearts as a day of remembrance for the legacy of another fearless leader.

He also served on two powerful committees as chairman: the House Committee on Oversight and Reform—and we just mourned the passing of the chairman of that great committee, Chairman Cummings—and the House Judiciary Committee, which has great responsibility, but was never shielded away from speaking truth to power.

As has been stated by my good friend Congressman Evans, one of his early mottos was: Register, vote, run for office. It is power that counts.

So we will continue to harness this power to promote the ideals that Congressman Conyers espoused during his career.

I want to note, and I don’t think I shared this with Congresswoman Lawrence, but there is a group called the Detroit Connection. Because so many people tend to come to Las Vegas to retire, we have a big contingency of Detroit people, and they have an event every year called the Detroit Connection. They raise money. They provide scholarships.

I was so honored one year to have Congressman Conyers come to Las Vegas and attend the event for the Detroit Connection. It made that group feel so good to know that their champion and their Representative was still there.

So, we will use the privilege of serving—I know I will as one of the new, younger Members—to continue to fight for equality and justice for all, just as Congressman Conyers did during his 53 years here on Capitol Hill.

Tonight, I honor him with our words but tomorrow we must honor him with our actions.

Congressman Conyers, we will continue the good work you started all those years ago. May you rest in power.

Mrs. Lawrence. Mr. Speaker, I would like to read a statement by the Honorable Eddie Bernice Johnson about the Congressman.

She said: I pay tribute to the life and legacy of a distinguished public servant and colleague, John James Conyers Jr., who passed away this weekend, and she asked that her colleagues join her in extending sympathies to Congressman Conyers’ wife, Monica; Conyers’ sons, John Conyers III and Carl Edward Conyers; and all whom he influenced over the course of his life. May he rest in peace.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to bring forth my Michigan delegation colleagues. It is significant to note that Rashida Tlaib, Congresswoman Tlaib, carried on the representation of the city of Detroit, by paying tribute to our wonderful, late Congress Member John Conyers, the longest serving African American in the United States Congress, a true civil rights icon and visionary, and the man who will forever be our Congressman.

The Honorable John Conyers Jr.’s mission to make sweeping changes in civil rights by fighting on behalf of the people started well before he ever stepped onto the United States House floor. One of the things that he said at the passing of Rosa Parks, his dear friend, was: “We’ve got a tremendous legacy to fulfill. You can’t maintain a democracy and an empire simultaneously.” And he said, “Rosa, you taught me that.”

But, when he first was sworn in to the Congress in 1965 during a time of great social unrest in our country’s history, he embarked on what would become a 50-year service to our people that would result in that mission being accomplished, and then some.

Indeed, his more than 50 years of service brought forth the vision of reparations for African Americans, the centering of voting rights, a continued push for universal healthcare, the creation of the Congressional Black Caucus, and the inspiration of not just those in Detroit for whom he worked tirelessly, but he directly impacted many, countless Americans across the country.

When I first was elected to succeed Congressman Conyers, I knew that I had a tremendous legacy to carry. It is that tremendous legacy that propels my work on behalf of Michigan’s 13th Congressional District that I fight for every single day.

I remember when I was in his presence, he never talked anything less than grace and kindness. He always paused and took time to talk to the residents. He taught me that.

Sadly, the last time I spoke to him was at his 90th birthday celebration in Detroit, a picture of civil rights and leaves behind a legacy of fighting for transformative change that continues today. His five decades of service in Congress are marked by a core fundamental belief in equity and justice for all.

For many years, I worked with Congressman Conyers on the Judiciary Committee, and most recently, we worked together to address segregation in our public schools. We also fought together for equity in education, as well as criminal justice reform, voting rights, and speaking down barriers to employment.

I want to send my condolences to his family, his loved ones, the entire Detroit community, and all who are mourning this great loss and the lifelong champion for a better America.

Mrs. LAWRENCE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman as we share and the family find strength during this difficult time.

Mr. Speaker, at this time, I would like to also read from a statement from our chair of the Congressional Black Caucus, MARCY KAPTUR, who served with the dean of Congress and would like to reflect.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentlewoman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR). Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Speaker, I thank Congresswoman BRENDA LAWRENCE for inviting us to come to the floor this evening to share our sorrow with the Conyers family and the people of Greater Detroit that Congressman Conyers represented here so forcefully throughout his entire career.

I would like to extend sympathy to his wife, Monica, to his sons, John and Carl, that he used to come walk through Congress, even when they were small. He would take them on the train from one side of the Capitol to the other. I can still see him doing that.

As others have mentioned, he served from 1965 to 2017. So, from the civil rights movement at its apex, that fervor came into this Chamber, and John served over half a century in furtherance of America’s betterment.

He was the 44th dean of the House. He became its most senior member and, certainly, the longest serving African American in the history of the United States of America.

I think most Members would agree, he truly was a drum major for justice and also a drum major for jobs and fair wages for all workers.

His service was anchored by those parallel visions, and I can still remember coming as a new Member to Congress and hearing him who were serving at that time: John; another; and Carl, that he used to come walk through Congress, even when they were small. He would take them on the train from one side of the Capitol to the other. I can still see him doing that.

As others have mentioned, he served from 1965 to 2017. So, from the civil rights movement at its apex, that fervor came into this Chamber, and John served over half a century in furtherance of America’s betterment.

He was the 44th dean of the House. He became its most senior member and, certainly, the longest serving African American in the history of the United States of America.

I think most Members would agree, he truly was a drum major for justice and also a drum major for jobs and fair wages for all workers.

His service was anchored by those parallel visions, and I can still remember coming as a new Member to Congress and hearing him who were serving at that time: John; another; John, Dingell; and a man named William Ford.

The three of them together, in my mind, actually formed the northern apex of the Montgomery Bus Boycott is written. Unfortunately, I don’t think a lot of people really know that he actually had hired Rosa Parks in his office from 1965 to 1988. I can recall, in 2005, attending the funeral of Rosa Parks—what a central role John Conyers played in that magnificent ceremony. But through it was the continuing education of the people of the United States of America as to what the civil rights struggle, and our struggle as a people, has actually been comprised of, a constant struggle.

But he was always moving forward. I would guess we shared thousands—I started adding it up today—thousands of airplane flights between Washington and Michigan, as we went to our respective homestorns. And I always found him to be very cordial, very friendly, full of good humor.

He was a perpetual anchor for us on moving American forward, a leading strategist in that endeavor.

So I hope it is of some comfort to his loved ones and to the people that he represented that his beliefs that his indelible legacy of the struggle are now freed from Earth’s bonds; and that his soul may rise high and shower our precious world with peace and justice from sea to shining sea.

With a grateful heart, golden memories, and abiding gratitude may I extend deepest sympathies on the passing of Congressman John Conyers of Detroit, Michigan to his family, his loving wife Monica, sons John and Carl, his constituents and colleagues who honor his life of service to our nation.

An accomplished lawyer and passionate civil rights and labor leader, Rep. Conyers rose through the ranks of Congress to become Chair of the powerful House Judiciary Committee. Serving as the top Democrat on the U.S. House of Representatives, his contributions to advancing the cause minority and labor rights as intertwined is legendary. He was a founding member of the Black Caucus, along with Rep. Bill Clay of Missouri and Rep. Louis Stokes of Ohio now 54 members strong. When he arrived in Congress and helped create the Congressional Black Caucus, there were only 13 African American Members. He authored and passed legislation creating the Martin Luther King holiday in 1983, and by 2000—17 years later—all 50 states had adopted it.

John Conyers served as a perpetual anchor in the North for the burgeoning Civil Rights movement of the 1960’s and became a leading strategist. His deep commitment accompanied by an affable nature drew people to his presence, about him being—which is all he did and he espoused it at an early time, when a lot of people didn’t get it. People get it now.

Dr. King got a holiday. Dr. King was great, but people hated Dr. King for years.

People didn’t know about Rosa Parks, per se. He gave her a job, and he put her on a pedestal, which she deserved to be.

I will tell you a story about John Conyers. When I was a freshman, and I have an African American district, and some people weren’t so crazy about me being up here. John Conyers took me under his wing from day one.

I had a resolution to apologize for slavery and Jim Crow. I had that resolution because I had suggested to Bill Clinton in 1997 and wrote him a letter when I was a State Senator and suggested he should sponsor such a thing and have a dialogue about race in America. I got a response from Bill Clinton, but it was gibberish and he didn’t act upon it.

But when I got elected to Congress and I was going through my letters as a State Senator in my office, I came across that letter; and I said to myself, I am a Congressman now and I can do something about it. I don’t have to write Bill Clinton and get a meaningless response.

So I introduced that resolution, heartfelt, and appropriate. Some people didn’t want it to come to the floor. Some didn’t want a White person to sponsor it. Some thought I was using it for politics to get re-elected.

The fact is, my political consultant told me not to do it. He said: “You’ve got this race won. Don’t do it. It can only hurt you.”

I said: “You don’t get it. I’m doing this because it matters to me, to make it happen. It has mattered to me since 1997 when I was a State Senator.”

So one day, I had my cell phone, low on power; and I had a staffer bring from Longworth, where my office was, a charger, and I charged it up in the Judiciary Committee.

I went back to Longworth and I couldn’t find my cell phone. I had forgotten where I had left it. I realized I left it charging in the Judiciary Committee, so I went over there at the end of the day. That is the only time that ever happened to me. It was about a week or 10 days before my election in August, so I thought I was through. I went there, and John Conyers was having a meeting with his staff on what to do the next week.

We were in the midst of interviewing people on the Bush team, Alberto Gonzales and some from Liberty University who had done some stuff that was questionable; and we were taking on the Bush Justice Department which had done some egregious things.

I was a freshman, and pretty much in awe of John Conyers, and so I was in the back room and he was in his office and he said: “Steve, come on in.”

Well, I was 10 feet high. I was going into a meeting with John Conyers of what was going to go on that next week. They were tossing about ideas about maybe bringing up an impeachment of George Bush and some other issues. And I decided to throw out kind of a Dr. Phil-like idea. I said: “Well how about if we have an apology for Jim Crow and slavery?”

And without a blink, John Conyers said: “That’s a great idea. Put it on for next week.”

That’s how it got scheduled. We came here, John Conyers managed the time. It passed on a voice vote. I regretted that because I wanted to have everybody vote on it, but John Conyers said, and properly so, take your victory when you can get it.

We had a man on the other side, a Republican, who brought up some insane babble about some Christians being thrown off a boat in the Mediterranean by some Moroccans or some other goofy thing. He thought of being a slavery and Jim Crow was beyond any of us, and I wanted to respond to it.

Mr. Conyers said: “Let him be. Let’s just pass this and move on.” And he was right.

My proudest accomplishment as a freshman, and one of my proudest accomplishments in this Congress, was the passage of that resolution. It would not have happened but for John Conyers’ sponsorship and support. So I thank him for being a mentor, and teaching me so much, and giving me that opportunity.

He did love jazz. We talked about jazz all the time. He played jazz in his office. He had jazz musicians come up to any proceedings he had in Washington and had them perform. And I learned about different jazz people that I had previously not known about.

He came to Memphis to support me in my first term as the first Congressman to come there. He was honored with an April 4th Foundation award, which goes to great, courageous leaders in civil rights on the anniversary of the assassination of Dr. King.

He was given that award.

He came to Memphis also just to support me. He was a proud Kappa, coming in his red coat. And all the Kappas were there with him, and the Kappas loved him. He was a Kappa, and they loved it.

He thanked him for his service. I think about him almost every day up here. We used to sit here together on the floor.

He would ride the escalators when he would leave the Judiciary Committee. Sometimes I ride the escalators now, and I think about John Conyers. It is not really the quickest way to go, but John Conyers did it, and I do it.

So thank you, John Conyers, for teaching me so much, and for being a great leader, a man beyond his years in terms of his knowledge and his spirit, and ahead of his time with his ideas of civil rights and justice and fairness for all people.
God bless you.

Mrs. LAWRENCE. Mr. Speaker, as I wrap up now in our tribute to John Conyers, the dean, he was many things: He was a UAW labor member; he was a military veteran; he was a fighter for voter rights, for healthcare, for reparations, and for justice. He was a lover and promoter of jazz.

But most of all, I stand here today, as a Member of Congress representing Michigan’s 14th District. He was Detroit. He was Motown. He was a person whose thumbprint will remain throughout history as a political voice, a leader, and a beloved man in the history of our city and of metro Detroit.

I want to say to the family, we send all the love and respect; and to say, in closing, John Conyers, rest in power.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BISHOP of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I am very saddened to hear Congressman Conyers passed away. He was a champion for racial equality and changed Congress for the better by co-founding the Congressional Black Caucus. John was a powerful and effective legislator who never stopped fighting to improve our nation, which he served longer than any other black Member of Congress to date. His career helped pave the way for the thriving Black Caucus we now enjoy.

John lived through many pivotal moments in our nation’s history. When Rosa Parks struggled to find a job after her historic protest, John stood by her side. When she worked in his district office for 23 years until her retirement. When Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was assassinated, John began to fight for a holiday to honor him 4 days after Dr. King’s death.

It took him 15 long years, but John kept pushing to honor his memory and the battle for civil rights.

Vivian and I send our condolences to his wife, children, and all loved ones as we keep them in our prayers in this difficult time.

Ms. JOHNSON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the life and legacy of a distinguished colleague and mentor, and dear friend. Congressman John James Conyers, Jr., who passed away this weekend.

Congressman Conyers was born and raised in Detroit, Michigan, to parents Lucille Janice (Simpson) and John Conyers. He graduated from Northwestern High School before answering his country’s call to service and joining the military. Congressman Conyers served three stints in the military; in the Michigan National Guard from 1948 to 1950; in the U.S. Army from 1950 to 1954, and the U.S. Army Reserves from 1954 to 1957, serving during the Korean War and as an officer in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers where he was awarded combat and merit citations.

Following his military service, John Conyers earned his Bachelor of Arts and Juris Doctor from Wayne State University and was admitted to the Michigan State Bar.

Chairman Conyers began his legislative career on the staff of the late Congressman John Dingell and during this time he also served as counsel to several Detroit-area labor unions and was referee for Michigan’s workers’ compensation department.

In 1964, John was elected to represent the First Congressional District of Michigan and was reelected to the succeeding 90th Congress and the following 15 Congresses until he retired on December 5, 2017.

On the retirement of Congressman John Dingell at the end of the 113th Congress in December 2015, John Conyers became the longest-serving Member of the United States Congress, serving as Dean of the House from January 3, 2015 until December 2017.

Mr. Speaker, John Conyers was also the third longest-serving Member of Congress in history; the second-longest serving Member of either the House or Senate in Michigan history, trailing only his former boss, Congressman Dingell, and was the last member of the large Democratic freshman class of 1964 to serve in the House of Representatives.

In the more than half century he served in Congress, John Conyers was at the forefront of most of the seminal moments in American political history. He was a political innovator who authored or co-authored landmark legislation:

- The proposal to expand Medicare to all, a political idea gaining increasing popularity daily, was first introduced by John Conyers in 2003 as the United States National Health Insurance Act.
- John Conyers served on the Judiciary Committee that investigated Watergate and wrote articles of impeachment against President Richard Nixon in August 1974.
- John Conyers marched in the historic March from Selma to Montgomery, Alabama, with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and later employed civil rights legend Rosa Parks in his congressional office until her retirement in 1988.
- John Conyers was loved by his constituents, regularly winning reelection with 80 percent of the vote.
- John Conyers is one of the 13 founding members of the Congressional Black Caucus in 1971, which has worked diligently to strengthen African-American lawmakers’ ability to address the legislative concerns of African American and minority citizens and has now increased to 55 members in the House and Senate, including myself.

While in Congress, John Conyers chaired the prestigious House Judiciary Committee from 1989–1995 and Oversight from 2007–2011, the first African American to hold these coveted positions.

Throughout his career, John Conyers used his influence to push civil rights; in 1968, only days after the assassination of the Rev. Dr.

DELETIONS OF SPONSORS FROM PUBLIC BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

Under clause 7 of rule XII, sponsors were deleted from public bills and resolutions, as follows:

H.R. 3495: Mr. Bishop of Georgia, Mr. Harder of California, and Ms. Wilson of Florida.
The Senate met at 3 p.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore (Mr. GRASSLEY).

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray, Eternal God, in spite of our shortcomings, you have promised never to forsake us. In this decisive season of our Nation’s history, give our lawmakers wisdom and courage. May they remember that history is a faithful stenographer who will judge their words and deeds in the shining light of truth.

Lord, provide our Senators with the grace to glorify You, as they remember You have appointed them for this moment in time. And Lord, we thank You for the courage and professionalism of the men and women in our Nation’s military. We also thank You for the life and legacy of Senator Kay Hagan.

We pray in Your great Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The President pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. HAWLEY). The Senator from Iowa.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak in morning business for 1 minute.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

PRESCRIPTION DRUG COSTS

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, polling consistently shows that lowering the cost of prescription drugs is a top priority for Americans. That is why I hope we can act on this pressing issue in the coming months. A failure to act would be remembered by Americans.

This week, the Democratic House is poised to pass a bill. There are many problems with that legislation, and it doesn’t stand a chance of passage in the Senate. Thankfully, we have bipartisan legislation in the House-titled “Prescription Drug Pricing Reduction Act” that President Trump supports and has a clear path to being signed into law. We need the full Senate to act on this legislation. Republicans should not want to be the party that failed to act.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the leadership time is reserved.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Morning business is closed.

COMMERCE, JUSTICE, SCIENCE, AGRICULTURE, RURAL DEVELOPMENT, FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION, INTERIOR, ENVIRONMENT, MILITARY CONSTRUCTION, VETERANS AFFAIRS, TRANSPORTATION, AND HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT Appropriations Act, 2020

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will resume consideration of H.R. 3055, which the clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

Making appropriations for the Departments of Commerce and Justice, Science, and Related Agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2020, and for other purposes.

Pending:

Shelby amendment No. 948, in the nature of a substitute.

McConnell (for Shelby) amendment No. 950, to make a technical correction.

Today we remember these brave Americans and all the courageous U.S. servicemembers and DOD civilians who gave their lives to fight ISIS. In their memories, we are glad justice has been done. In their memories, we resolve not to back down but to persist in this fight until we have secured the enduring defeat of this dangerous and determined enemy.

TRUMP ADMINISTRATION

Mr. President, on another matter, on Thursday, the chairman of the Judiciary Committee introduced a resolution, which quickly gained dozens of Republican cosponsors. Our resolution states two things, which are very obvious. No. 1, any process as serious as an impeachment inquiry, which seeks to cancel out the American people’s vote in a Presidential election, must adhere to the highest standards of fairness and due process, and, No. 2, what we have seen on display from House Democrats has been anything but that.

Here is why these Democrats have conducted their inquiry so far. Committees at the center of the inquiry have denied President Trump important rights and protections that President Nixon and President Clinton enjoyed. I have impeded his right to have counsel attend hearings and depositions, call and cross-examine witnesses, and even access the evidence they are producing.

Democrats are also flouting past practices that gave minority parties basic procedural rights during past impeachments. House Republicans have not been granted subpoena power, and their participation in closed-door proceedings has been severely limited.

It is no secret that Washington Democrats have been looking for a way to remove President Trump since his inauguration, but that does not remove the basic requirements of fairness and due process.

That is what our resolution makes clear. I am proud to sponsor it, along with Chairman Graham.

APPROPRIATIONS

Mr. President, on a related matter, Washington Democrats have been insisting that their 3-year-old impeachment journey will not keep them from attending to the people’s business. Well, we will have an opportunity to find out later this week when the Senate votes on advancing funding for our Armed Forces and our veterans.

You will recall that last month, our Democratic colleagues made the stunning decision to filibuster legislation to fund our national defense. They blocked resources for our men and women in uniform. They blocked the funding our commanders need to keep us safe in this dangerous time.

And that wasn’t enough. They blocked a pay raise for the men and women in uniform. Democrats filibustered all of this for the sake of picking a fight with the White House. I am glad you have put an end to that. Can our colleagues be so ruled by partisan politics that they would rather leave the U.S. military in limbo than get along with President Trump for 2 minutes—for 2 minutes?

Obviously this cannot continue. Our commanders need funding. Our men and women in military need support. Congress needs to do its job. So later this week the Senate is going to vote again, one more time, to advance defense funding. We will complete the domestic appropriations we are currently considering, including voting on certain amendments, and then we will turn back to defense. This will present a crystal-clear test: Do our Democratic colleagues mean it when they say they want to legislate or not—there is no more important legislation than this—or is their impeachment obsession crowding out critical priorities.

Imagine the spectacle if the same Senate Democrats who give lengthy speeches criticizing the administration’s actions in Syria and the Middle East literally block the funding our commanders need to do their missions. Imagine the embarrassment if Senate Democrats filibuster funding for our men and women in uniform just days after this past weekend’s heroics, just days after the whole country was reminded that our servicemembers risk everything every day, and their missions do not wait for Washington politics. Imagine the supreme irony if the same Democrats who want to impeach the President for supposedly delaying military assistance for Ukraine literally themselves delay military assistance for Ukraine by blocking the funding legislation.

I urge my friends across the aisle to do the right thing. The whole country knows that Washington Democrats are not members of President Trump’s fan club. We get that. We understand that.

But there is no reason why money to fight ISIS, money to pay and supply our servicemembers, and money for military assistance for Ukraine ought to be used as Democrats’ political pawns.

Enough is enough. We need to move forward with the Defense funding bill this week.

I suggest the absence of a quorum. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The clerks announced the roll. No objection, it is so ordered.

RECOGNITION OF THE MINORITY LEADER

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, the minority leader is recognized.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, the minority leader is recognized.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, the minority leader is recognized.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, the minority leader is recognized.
first moment I met Kay Hagan, she was special. She remained that way every day since. She was an amazing force—never loud but always strong, effective, hard-working, dedicated, principled, and just a kindhearted person.

I took some comfort in knowing that. In fact, it reminded me of how Kay lived her life. She was never one to let the sometimes painful realities of life in politics get her down. I knew Kay for over a decade, as a State senator, a candidate, a brilliant senator, and a former Senator who returned to private life without an ounce of regret or ill-will.

In all that time, I never heard her once—never heard her once—complain. She was tireless, sarcastic, or detecting. She remained always to her last day a cheerful optimist, a happy warrior.

It is only one of the many reasons that Kay Hagan was beloved by Members of Congress and the aisle on the other side as well. Boy, do we miss her.

My heart goes out to Chip, to their three kids—Jeanette, Tilden, and Carrie—and their wonderful grandchildren, of whom Kay was so proud and loved.

DEATH OF ABU BAKR AL-BAGHDADI

Mr. President, on another subject, yesterday morning it was announced that U.S. Special Operations Forces killed Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi, the leader of the Islamic State. The death of al-Baghdadi is a great victory for the safety of our country and the safety of our allies and partners. All Americans salute the Special Operations Forces who executed this mission, the intelligence community of professionals, whose work helped to enable the mission, and our allies and partners, particularly, the Syrian Kurds, who have contributed to the global coalition to defeat ISIS.

Despite this great victory, however, we must not confuse the death of this one very evil man with the defeat of ISIS. There are still potentially hundreds of ISIS prisoners and sympathizers who have escaped in recent weeks. President Trump’s abrupt decision to withdraw American troops from northern Syria and green-light Erdogan’s invasion. We cannot allow ISIS to regroup or gather strength. New Yorkers know all too well the destruction a small group of terrorists can cause from half a world away.

Make no mistake, we still need a plan for the enduring defeat of ISIS. They are not gone. We must include details on how we will deal with escaped prisoners. Nobody knows. These are evil people. They want to hurt us, and they can escape from the prisons, and Lord knows where they will go. But we know a good chunk of them will want to do damage to our homeland.

So far, the administration, unfortunately, has articulated no coherent plan. Its top officials, Secretary Pompeo and Secretary Esper, seem unable to find time or even brief from the administration when it comes to major policy decisions. Yet we have had two briefings scheduled and then canceled, and we still cannot get the Department of Defense or the Department of State to commit to a time for those Secretaries to brief Congress.

According to reports, the Trump administration gave Russia and Turkey some kind of advanced notice of the raid of al-Baghdadi, but, seemingly, by the current choice neglected to notify the leaders of Congress, as is custom in this case.

Based on the President’s remarks yesterday, it seems he may have made a solitary exception for the chairman of the Armed Services Committee. That is not what the Founders envisioned when they imagined Congress and the executive branch working together to conduct the Nation’s foreign policy. It seems clear that the Trump administration is either reluctant or simply unable to engage Congress in the loop on its plan to defeat ISIS and protect American interest in the region. The most likely explanation, unfortunately, is that it does not have one.

This needs to change. There needs to be a plan. There needs to be some accountability to Congress. We need to hear from Secretaries Pompeo and Esper in Congress this week.

TRUMP ADMINISTRATION

Mr. President, another subject, later this week, Senate Democrats will again use their authority under the Congressional Review Act to force a crucial vote on the future of healthcare protections for Americans with preexisting conditions. The Trump administration has done nearly everything imaginable to undermine these protections over the last 3 years, including to repeal our healthcare law in its entirety. This vote concerns the administration’s expansion of junk insurance plans, which offer ways around the requirements to cover Americans when they need healthcare most. This rule gives States the green light to use taxpayer dollars to buy junk insurance plans.

Oftentimes, the plans are so skimpy they hardly cover anything at all. They are barely worth the paper they are written on. Imagine you are the mother or father of a child with cancer and you sign one of these plans, and the insurance company says we don’t have to take care of your kid for something as devastating and as life-threatening as cancer. Imagine how you would feel.

Yet our Republican friends and this administration want to give insurance companies the green light to make a ton of money and write this junk—junk insurance—and have hundreds of thousands—millions of Americans not covered for even the most important and vital of coverages.
Well, that is what is at stake this week. The Senate will vote. Republicans will have to go on record to either defend the administration’s actions or protect Americans who have preexisting conditions.

I know many of my Republican colleagues publicly declared their support for these protections when they have their campaign ads going. That hasn’t been the case here in Congress where Republicans have repeatedly voted against those same protections. Wednesday will be another important test for Senate Republicans.

CLIMATE CHANGE

Finally, Mr. President, on climate. On Friday, I announced a new proposal to rapidly phase out gas-powered vehicles and replace them with clean vehicles like electric cars. The goal of the plan, which also aims to spur a transformation in American manufacturing, is that, by 2040, all vehicles on the road should be clean.

We need a plan of this scale and ambition to fight one of the largest drivers of carbon emissions—transportation—which account for over one-third of America’s carbon output. Scientists now tell us that, to avoid the most devastating effects of climate change, the world needs to be carbon neutral by mid-century. At the moment, we are not on track even remotely to meet that target.

So we must act urgently and ambitiously, which requires building diverse coalitions of support. What distinguished my proposal is not only its scale, but its ability to unite the American environmental movement, the American labor movement, and large automakers. Listen to who is supporting this proposal: the Sierra Club, the Natural Resources Defense Council, the League of Conservation Voters, and labor unions like the United Automobile Workers, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the AFL-CIO, and car manufacturers like Ford and General Motors. When have we ever seen the car manufacturers and the unions and the environmentalists agree on a major proposal that will stop carbon from poisoning our atmosphere? Well, here it is.

How would this plan work? First, it would provide a large discount on an American-made vehicle when drivers trade in a gas-powered car. Second, it would provide grants to retrofit existing manufacturing plants in the United States and build new ones in this country that specialize in those technologies.

It will clean our atmosphere, save families money; the cost of these cars will be less than the cost of maintaining a gasoline-driven vehicle, and it will establish America once again as the preeminent automotive power as electric cars become the way of the future.

Critics say that acting on climate change has cost us jobs and money. It is simply not true. My plan is actually estimated to create tens of thousands of new jobs—good-paying jobs right here in the U.S. Much as America experienced a revolution in auto manufacturing at the outset of the 20th century, America under this plan will experience a revolution in clean auto manufacturing over the next 20 years, but if we are to reach our goal, we have to move fast. China now accounts for more than half the world’s electric vehicle market, and if we don’t match the level of China’s commitment, we are going to miss a tremendous opportunity. We have missed too many already.

If Democrats win control of the Senate in 2020, I as majority leader will introduce bold and far-reaching climate legislation. My proposal for clean cars would be a key element of that bill.

This is about American jobs, American global economic leadership, and protecting our dear planet. Nothing, nothing could be more worthy of pursuing.

I yield the floor.

So people ask me: How come some people go to prison for violating classification and other people don’t? Let’s go to the third point. The review found that Secretary Clinton’s non-governmental server increased the risk of unauthorized disclosures.

Fourth, the review found that the non-governmental server increased the risk of security compromises.

Clinton’s private server setup had been described as being so badly secured that it was almost impossible to detect who had attempted to attack it and gain access to it. Anyone could have done it.

Fifth and last, the review found that some classified information was deliberately transmitted via unclassified emails and resulted in adjudicated security violations.

Many in the press, as well as partisan Clinton defenders, have hung their hats on the State Department’s finding that there was “no persuasive evidence of systemic, deliberate mishandling of classified information.”

Take, for example, the Washington Post. Their headline was “State Department probe of Clinton email finds no deliberate mishandling of classified information.” Well, that headline was entirely wrong. The State Department report said: “Instances of classified information being deliberately transmitted via unclassified emails were the rare exception and resulted in adjudicated security violations."

That statement clearly says some individuals deliberately transmitted classified information on unclassified systems. Those individuals were subject to security sanctions, but the State Department failed to describe who the violators were and what the sanctions were.

Those answers ought to be forthcoming. Consequently—you know my reputation—I intend to follow up. Ensuring the proper handling of highly classified information is an issue that should garner bipartisan support. This may sound like history, but there is a lesson to be learned from this history that classified information should be classified for protecting national security.

Furthermore, if government officials deliberately exposed classified information on an unclassified system, why didn’t the FBI find the same during their investigations?

We all know then-Director Comey refused to assign any charges related to the Clinton investigation because the FBI could not identify the requisite criminal intent. It seems to me that deliberately sending classified information on unclassified channels is intentional conduct. Again, if the average American did that, they would be in big trouble, as I pointed out about the Navy sailor spending 1 year in prison.

During the course of my oversight activities, I acquired drafts of Comey’s July 5, 2016, public statement exonerating Clinton. Comey’s initial draft stated the following. This is the initial draft.

There is evidence to support a conclusion that Secretary Clinton and others, used the private email server in a manner that was grossly negligent with respect to the handling of classified material.

Gross Negligence—The words used by Comey—is a criminal standard under title 18, section 793.

He later dumbed-down his statement to a noncriminal standard:

Although we did not find clear evidence that Secretary Clinton or her colleagues intended to violate laws governing the handling of classified information, there is evidence that they were extremely careless in their handling of such sensitive, highly classified information.

And that was before he finished the investigation and interviewed 17 witnesses, including Secretary Clinton.

Director Comey never once said that some individuals deliberately sent classified information on an unclassified system, and those individuals sent that to the State Department’s findings, Comey should have come to that conclusion and made that statement.

Clearly, deliberate conduct rises beyond gross negligence. So who deliberately sent classified information on unclassified channels, and has the Department communicated this new finding to the FBI?

Just last week, I spoke on the floor about how the FBI pulled its punches during the Clinton investigation. I talked about how the FBI agreed to limit the scope of review to her time as Secretary of State. That decision eliminated potentially highly relevant emails from the server that could have shed light on why she operated the nongovernment server. It also eliminated emails around the time of the conference call between Clinton’s attorneys and the administrator of her server that led to the deletion of her emails. That limitation of scope defies reason.

Lastly, the FBI agreed to destroy records and laptops of Clinton’s associates after reviewing them. That is an astonishing agreement in light of the fact those records could have been relevant to ongoing congressional inquiries that the FBI knew about.

Secretary Clinton’s actions caused 588 security violations and highly classified information to be exposed to an unclassified system. Some of those violations were very deliberate, but that is the first we have heard of it.

The public ought to know whether those folks involved were punished according to the letter of the law or were given special treatment. Equal application of the law without regard to power, party, or privilege ought to be the norm. With what we know up to this point, the Clinton investigation failed to hit its mark.

The suggestion of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The senior assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Ms. CORTEZ MASTO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order of the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BOOZMAN). Without objection, it is so ordered.

Amendment No. 961 to Amendment No. 948

Ms. CORTEZ MASTO. Mr. President, I call up amendment No. 941, as provided for under the previous order, and I ask that it be reported by number.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The senior assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senate from Nevada [Ms. Cortez Masto] proposes an amendment numbered 961 to amendment No. 948.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To require a report relating to the challenges that food distribution programs face in reaching underserved populations)

At the appropriate place in title VII of division B, insert the following:

REPORT ON FOOD DISTRIBUTION PROGRAMS REACHING UNDERSERVED POPULATIONS

SEC. 7. The Secretary of Agriculture shall conduct a study on the challenges that the food distribution program on Indian reservations established under section 4(b) of the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008 (7 U.S.C. 2013(b)) and other food distribution programs administered by the Secretary face in reaching underserved populations, with an emphasis on the homebound and the elderly, to better capture data on the populations of people unable to easily travel to a distribution location for food.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator is recognized.

Ms. CORTEZ MASTO. Mr. President, I strongly support this amendment, which is an amendment that supports our Native-American communities who face food insecurity.

The Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations, commonly known as FDPIR, provides food assistance for 90,000 people in 276 Tribes across this country. Often, on Tribal lands—and certainly in the rural parts of my home State of Nevada—people live miles from a SNAP office or a grocery store. So FDPIR provides a crucial source of nutrition.

But many enrollees in the program still have to pick up the FDPIR benefits in person, and for elderly or disabled Tribal members, it is too difficult to make that trip. So I urge my colleagues to vote for this important amendment to study ways to improve access to the program for the homebound and the elderly.

I thank my colleague and fellow member of the Indian Affairs Committee, Senator LANKFORD, for his support on this important effort. We want to ensure that no one is going hungry when there is food waiting for them just a few miles away.

I thank the Senate leadership for allowing open debate and discussion of the issue facing Indian Country on the floor of this Chamber.

I look forward to continued conversations on how to help members of Tribes to thrive and to grow their communities and to chart a more vibrant future.
There are other programs that are in the Federal program right now, like Meals on Wheels and other programs that are designated, where we can partner with groups to make sure food gets there, but there are other programs, like this program, the Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations, that may not be getting to where food is needed the most for the most number of people.

I think other programs will need a study like this as well. We have other child nutrition programs, for instance, that happen in the summertime, where children, just as in this program set up on Indian reservations, have to come to a central location to get access to food. Many children don’t have the ability to get transportation to get food. So those individuals and those families who need the most help are facing yet another hurdle to get help.

This is a study, and I think it is the first step to make sure that what we do is done well, is done efficiently, and that the intended outcome to help people is accurately occurring.

I thank Senator Cortez Masto for stepping up and for her leadership for this. I am proud to be a co-sponsor with her.

I look forward to our colleagues voting for this, getting the results of this study, and actually making sure that in the days ahead, food assistance is getting to places where people need it the most.

With that, I yield back.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Kentucky.

AMENDMENT NO. 2019 TO AMENDMENT NO. 981

Mr. PAUL. Mr. President, we are set to borrow nearly $1 trillion this year. Our overall debt is over $22 trillion.

In my office, I have a debt clock. You can see it at debtclock.org. It is spinning out of control. The numbers are mind-boggling. In the next decade, just the interest on the debt is set to exceed $1 trillion. That is $1 trillion simply wasted because we are not fiscally responsible enough to balance our budget.

There are ramifications to having so much debt. When we monetize the debt, the Federal Reserve creates money to pay for the debt, which ends up diluting the value of our dollar's value has been lost over time.

There are ramifications to having so much debt. When we monetize the debt, the Federal Reserve creates money to pay for the debt, which ends up diluting the value of our dollar's value has been lost over time.

But there are still other problems. As you are on the right and you want more welfare spending or you are on the left and you want more self-sufficiency spending, it is being crowded out by the debt growing so much that interest is pushing out other projects.

Whether you are on the right and you want more military spending or you are on the left and you want more welfare spending, it is being crowded out by the debt growing so much that interest is pushing out other projects.

What I have offered is a commonsense approach to this. Everybody has their sacred cow. Everybody has some money they want to spend somewhere. Why don’t we cut every program by 2 pennies? We have a 2-percent across-the-board cut, and ask what we would do with the 98 percent of what we spent last year. It is interesting that groups come in to see me in the office, and they say “Well, we have this dramatic program, and it is to cure AIDS or Alzheimer’s or diabetes, and it is going to be this wonderful project,” and I say “Well, last year you got $100 million; could you deal with $98 million this year?” Interestingly, whether they are conservative, liberal, or independent, they look at me and say “Well, gosh, yes, I think I can deal with $98 million instead of $100 million; I think we could deal with a 2-percent cut if we get 98 percent of what we got last year.”

Most of the people are actually invested in this and have a family member with one of these diseases think they can deal with it. Do you know the only people in the whole country who wouldn’t do it? The people you have elected. They have become so distant from you that they will not vote for any cuts. They think: Oh, we are me. It will be so much money.

The media will say that even a freeze in spending for 10 years is a $10 trillion cut. How could that possibly be? If we spent the same amount of money next year as we spent this year, how could that be a cut?

But the media controls the narrative. The left has aided and abetted them.

They say: Well, we were going to spend 5 percent more, so you cut 5 percent by not increasing the spending from last year.

That is ridiculous. They call a freeze a spending cut. If your salary is going to be the same next year as it was last year, is that a cut or is it getting the same salary?

What I am proposing is that we cut it by 2 percent. Why? Well, we would like to balance the budget, ultimately. This is just the annual budget. This isn’t getting rid of the debt—not the $22 trillion debt. It is just so we quit digging the hole deeper.

For the first several years I proposed this, we called it the penny plan. We would cut 1 percent a year for 5 years and the budget would balance in 5 years. Nobody liked it.

Not one Democrat cares at all about the debt. Not one of them will ever vote to cut any spending. Now, on the Republican side, they profess to care, but over half of them will not vote to cut any spending. There is a lot of hypocrisy to go around.

When I first started introducing the penny plan, a 1-percent cut would have balanced the budget in 5 years. But since we didn’t do it, government spending is exploding and growing, so now it takes a 2-percent cut. This would be a 2-percent cut of everything but Social Security.

The problem is, though, nobody has introduced a bill in decades and nobody has had a vote in decades on a bill to fix the real problem, which is entitlements. So many of the people will moan: Oh, we could never fix it by cutting the discretionary spending, so I guess the only thing we get to vote on, so that is what we are putting forward, a 2-percent cut. Still, in order to balance it, you would have to have a 2-percent cut of the entitlements, as well, but we don’t do as well start with what we are doing.

Some people say: Well, government is so essential. We would cut government, and what would happen to the people who depend on it?

Let me give you an example of some of what your government is spending your money on. The National Science Foundation probably gets the award for some of the most ridiculous spending in all of your government. Even science. For instance, in the early 1970s, they would get the Golden Fleece Award.

One of his first awards gave them an award for spending $50,000 to determine what makes you happy. It was thought so ridiculous at the time, and then, for the last 50 years, we have continued to do it. In fact, just this last year, the National Science Foundation is still concerned about what makes you happy. They spent $500,000 this time. I guess that is inflation. They spent $500,000 studying whether it makes you happy if you take a selfie of yourself while smiling. If you will keep looking at the picture of yourself smiling—the selfie you took—is that worth $500,000? Do we not have something better we could do? Maybe we can reduce the deficit by cutting the National Science Foundation.

They also studied what Neil Armstrong said when he landed on the Moon. He said “one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind” or did he say “one small step for a man”? They spent $700,000 of your money studying whether Neil Armstrong said “a man” or “man.”

Guess what the experts said after they listened to the tape crackle, crackle, crackle, over and over again, for $700,000. They don’t know. Experts still disagree on whether he said “a man” or just “man”—$700,000.

We spent $1.2 million studying online dating. Look, they seem to be successful. I think it must be working. The websites are making a ton of money. Millions of people use them. Why in the world would government study whether dating sites work? They spend $1.5 million trying to make tomatoes taste better. I don’t know where that came from. They funded a book on appreciating the metric system for $188,000. There was a conference sponsored on bailing for $300,000.

The Department of Commerce got into the game. They developed a digital down marker for football games for
I put forward these spending proposals because I ran for office and said that we should balance the budget. I actually believed what I ran on. I thought the issue was there, and I thought there would be momentum.

The Republicans all talked about the debt. They don’t care. The Democrats are not going to vote for it. No Democrat will vote for a spending cut—never have and never will. But the Republicans will at least tell you they will, and then they don’t.

What I am putting forward today is a 2-percent cut across the board. They get to spend 98 percent of what they spent last year, and we could be serious about addressing many of our budget problems. I have yet to meet someone who doesn’t think it is a good idea, and I have yet to meet many people here who are willing to entertain the idea.

There is a disconnect between Washington and the people. If you were to ask the people in any of the States that are represented at least by the Republican party how they would like to say by someone on the Democratic side—if you were to ask any of the people in those States “Do you think we could live with 98 percent of what we spent last year?” I think the people would say that we ought to do it. Most businesses or families in the country have had to deal with less money and have often had to deal with a lot less than 98 percent of their previous salary, and people do. Businesses recover all the time by having to clamp down and watch their costs, but government never does. Government just keeps spending and spending and spending.

The vote on my amendment will come up in the next few minutes, and it will be a 2-percent cut across the board, and I urge the other Senators to vote in favor of it.

At this time, Mr. President, I call up amendment 1019 and ask that it be reported by number.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is ordered.

The clerk will report the amendment. The legislative clerk read as follows:

The legislative clerk read as follows:

"The Senator from Kentucky [Mr. PAUL] proposes an amendment numbered 1019 to amendment No. 948.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To reduce the amounts appropriated to be 2 percent less than the amount appropriated for fiscal year 2019)

SEC. 1. REDUCTION IN AMOUNT OF APPROPRIATIONS.

Each amount made available under division A, B, C, or D of this Act (in this section referred to as a “fiscal year 2020 amount”) shall be reduced by the amount necessary for the fiscal year 2020 amount to be equal to the amount that is 2 percent less than the amount made available for fiscal year 2019 for the purposes for which the fiscal year 2020 amount is being made available.

AMENDMENT NO. 1067 TO AMENDMENT NO. 948

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I rise today on one issue, and I promise, out of deference to my friend, who is the Presiding Officer right now, not to bring up anything about college football this session. That would be for another discussion.

I rise today to urge my colleagues to take an important step to correct one of the great injustices in America, an injustice that many in this body may not have a full appreciation for because it just does not affect the many of their particular constituents. I am speaking of the injustices faced by real property owners known as ‘heirs’ property owners.

These side-owners, who are typically African-American farmers and producers in the Deep South, own land that has been informally passed down within families, often for several generations, without any clear title. Sadly, that has often led to costly legal complications, prevented landowners from qualifying for Federal assistance, and, in many cases, resulted in actual loss of land ownership. This issue overwhelmingly impacts African-American landowners, of which an estimated 60 percent is heirs’ property and has created barriers to building generational wealth.

It is no coincidence that this has impacted Black landowners when you consider the challenges faced by previous generations of African Americans just to purchase their land, the obstacles they faced to obtain legal services and to have their wills prepared.

The heirs’ property challenge that is facing these families today is yet another vestige of the Jim Crow era that, with some exceptions, has lasted far too long and that we must seek to correct.

These injustices have had long-lasting consequences for the families who have struggled to prove their land claims, including the untold emotional cost for those who have seen their family land taken or sold out from under them.

Because a significant portion of minority-owned rural land was passed down through generations as heirs’ property, these farmers and ranchers have been unable to obtain farm numbers and, thus, access to a multitude of USDA programs. These programs are vital to these landowners, who already face significant risk and uncertainty in their work.

That is why, when I came to the Senate last year, I teamed up with my friend from South Carolina, Senator SCOTT, to work together to initiate changes that will start to help these farmers gain access to Federal aid and help us better understand the full spectrum of challenges they face as a result of their heirs’ property status.

I am very proud of the fact that we secured several provisions in the final 2018 farm bill that address heirs’ property. I thank Senators ROBERTS and STABENOW for their assistance. One of the biggest components that was included will allow heirs’ property owners, with the appropriate documentation, to obtain USDA farm numbers so that they can gain access to the Department’s programs, such as crop insurance and disaster relief.

However, that is just one of the obstacles they face today, and another provision focuses on consolidating land ownership. Heirs are often faced with issues of “fractional” ownership among relatives. Their own family had the fractional shares of the land that has been mismanaged, which an estimate...

AMENDMENT NO. 919 TO AMENDMENT NO. 948

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There will now be 2 minutes of debate equally divided prior to a vote in relation to amendment No. 1019, offered by the Senator from Kentucky, Mr. PAUL.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Vermont.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, I don’t see the Senator from Kentucky on the floor, but I will speak briefly in opposition to it as I know many others feel the same.

His amendment will slash spending below the Bipartisan Budget Act, which we all negotiated, by over $14 billion.

To give you some examples, the U.S. Census Bureau would be $3.8 billion below the fiscal year 2020 bipartisan level, making it impossible to hold an accurate and complete count. It would severely compromise the Federal Government’s ability to fight wildfires and safeguard people’s lives and property. All you have to do is look at the tens of thousands of acres in California, Arizona, and Colorado to see what that would look like. We have $3.6 billion to fight wildfires. He would reject those increases and then cut them by $1.6 billion. It would cut available funding for our Nation’s roadways and bridges by over $1.5 billion. It would eliminate the potential of there being 19,500 new jobs and a whole lot of other things.

Mr. President, the Paul amendment would slash spending below the Bipartisan Budget Act by over $14 billion.

Under the Paul amendment, the Bureau of the Census would be $3.8 billion below the fiscal year 2020 funding level in the Senate bill. At this funding level, it would not be possible to hold an accurate and complete count.

The Paul amendment would also severely compromise the Federal Government’s ability to fight catastrophic wildfires and safeguard people’s lives and property at a time when tens of thousands of acres of forests in California, Arizona, and Colorado are ablaze. The fiscal year 2020 Senate bill provides $3.6 billion to fight wildfires and access. The Paul amendment would reject those increases and reduce the amounts provided for fire suppression by $1.6 billion.

The Paul amendment would cut available funding for our Nation’s roadways and bridges by over $1.5 billion, eliminating the potential for 19,500 new jobs and exacerbating the $123 billion backlog of bridge repairs and replacement of $7,000 structurally deficient bridges.

These are just a few examples of the real world implications of the Paul amendment. I urge all members to vote no.

Mr. President, if nobody seeks time, I yield back all time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. All time is yielded back.

AMENDMENT NO. 1067 TO AMENDMENT NO. 948

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There will now be 2 minutes of debate equally divided prior to a vote in relation to amendment No. 1067, offered by the Senator from Alabama, Mr. JONES.

The Senator from Alabama.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, this amendment will continue a process that was started last year in the farm bill to correct one of the grave injustices to the African-American population here.

This bill deals with heir property—property that has gone down through generations without clear title. These landowners have been denied access to USDA programs and other instances. This amendment deals with heir property. African Americans have long been denied property based on the fact that so much of it has been passed down through the generations without clear title.

They have been denied access to USDA programs and also have lost property. Between 1910 and 1997, an estimated 90 percent of land owned by African Americans in this country was lost due to heir property issues. Last year we began the process in this Senate with the farm bill to correct that, part of which was creating a program at USDA to loan money to help get these folks back on their feet, to get them into the programs they need. This amendment provides $5 million to start that program. It is the same amount of money that is in the House bill.

I urge my colleagues to continue this opportunity to correct this wrong and right this injustice.

Mr. President, I yield.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Who yields time in opposition?

Mr. CRAPO. I yield.

STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. Durbin:

S. 2721. A bill to reduce violence and health disparities by addressing social determinants of health, enhancing health care recruitment, and improving the delivery of quality, coordinated care services, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD. There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 2721

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Healing Communities through Health Care Act".

SEC. 2. MEDICAID HOUSING AND HOSPITAL DEMONSTRATION PROJECTS.

(a) AUTHORITY.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall select States to conduct demonstration projects under title XIX of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396 et seq.) to test innovative partnership programs between housing agencies and programs, hospitals and health systems, and community-based organizations, to establish screening, referral, and supportive housing programs for individuals with behavioral health needs who are experiencing housing insecurity, that account for disproportionately high rates of emergency room visits and associated Medicaid spending.

(b) REQUIREMENTS.—

(1) NUMBER OF PROJECTS.—The Secretary shall select not less than 6 States to conduct demonstration projects under this section.

(2) ELIGIBILITY.—In order to be eligible to conduct a demonstration project under this section, a State shall demonstrate the following:

(A) The State has or will establish sufficient processes for furnishing supportive housing services under the State Medicaid program, working with managed care organizations as applicable in the State, for Medicaid-eligible individuals described in subsection (a), (B) The State Medicaid program has procedures in place to coordinate care and services for Medicaid-eligible individuals described in subsection (a), including those with behavioral health care needs, and (C) Medicaid-eligible individuals described in subsection (a) shall be treated as medical assistance for purposes of section 1903(a) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396a(a)).

(2) LIMITATION ON FEDERAL FUNDING.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The total amountcertified by the Secretary under title XIX of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396 et seq.) for expenditure to a State under a demonstration project under this section shall not exceed the amount allocated to the State by the Secretary under subparagraph (B).

(B) ALLOCATION.

(i) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall allocate to each State selected to conduct a demonstration project under this section an amount determined appropriate by the Secretary for purposes of reimbursing the State for services furnished under the demonstration project in accordance with paragraph (1).

(ii) LIMITATION.—The total amount allocated to States under this subparagraph shall not exceed $75,000,000.

WAVELR AUTHORIZATION.—The Secretary may waive the following requirements as may be necessary to conduct demonstration projects in accordance with the requirements of this section:

(1) The requirements of section 1902(a)(1) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396a(a)(1)) (relating to community), and

(2) The requirements of section 1902(a)(10)(B) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1396a(a)(10)(B)) (relating to comparability).

(b) The Secretary shall give preference to entities that propose to—

(1) carry out the activities supported by this section in communities with a high rate of community trauma; or

(2) recruit for activities supported by this section individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds, as so determined, from communities with a high rate of community trauma.

(c) The Secretary shall give preference to entities that propose to—

(1) carry out the activities supported by this section in communities with a high rate of community trauma; or

(2) recruit for activities supported by this section individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds, as so determined, from communities with a high rate of community trauma.

(d) The Secretary shall give preference to entities that propose to—

(1) carry out the activities supported by this section in communities with a high rate of community trauma; or

(2) recruit for activities supported by this section individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds, as so determined, from communities with a high rate of community trauma.

(3) STATE.—The term ‘State’ has the meaning given that term for purposes of title XIX of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396 et seq.).

(4) SUPPORTIVE HOUSING SERVICES.—The term ‘supportive housing services’ means—

(A) financial assistance with rental payments, room and board, or other housing costs, as appropriate;

(B) case management and service coordination services;

(C) housing support screening and referral services provided in a healthcare setting.

SEC. 3. ESTABLISHING NIH CLINICAL TRIALS RESEARCH NETWORK ON VIOLENCE RECOVERY.

Part B of title IV of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 241 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

‘‘SEC. 409K. CLINICAL TRIALS RESEARCH NETWORK ON VIOLENCE RECOVERY.

‘‘(a) NETWORK.—The Director of NIH shall develop and support a regional clinical research center network, by awarding funding to participants in accordance with subsections (b) through grants, contracts, or other mechanisms, to study and evaluate hospital- and community-based interventions for victims of violent or penetrating injuries to prevent, mitigate, and furnish treatments to address the trauma and mental health impacts of those injuries on such victims and prevent re-injury.

‘‘(1) IN GENERAL.—An entity seeking funding under this section shall—

(A) submit an application to the Director of NIH;

(B) submit an application to the Director of NIH at such time, in such manner, and containing such information as the Director may require, including the information described in paragraph (2).

‘‘(2) DEMONSTRATED EXPERTISE.—An application submitted under paragraph (1)(B) shall include information demonstrating that the applicant has multidisciplinary expertise in—

(A) furnishing hospital- and community-based primary care services for patients suffering a violent or penetrating injury;

(B) quality improvement research;

(C) linking clinical research with practice and community outcomes and activities; and

(D) providing, linking to, or otherwise facilitating community-based care, case management, and treatments.

‘‘(3) SELECTION.—The Director of NIH shall, subject to available funding, select not less than 15 entities meeting the requirements of this subsection and award grants under this section (provided that 15 or more entities meeting such requirements apply for such funding).

(b) AID AND SUPPORTIVE SERVICES.—Section 1902(a)(10)(C)(i)(II) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396a(a)(10)(C)(i)(II)) (relating to income and resource rules applicable in the community), is amended by adding at the end the following:

SEC. 120. (a) Subject to subsection (d) and notwithstanding any other provision of law, for fiscal year 2020, the obligations for Federal-aid highway and highway safety construction programs for previous fiscal years the funds for which are allocated by the Secretary (or apportioned by the Secretary under sections 202 or 204 of title 23, United States Code), and (B) amounts authorized by the Bureau of Transportation Statistics,

(i) not from the obligation limitation for Federal-aid highways—

(A) amounts authorized for administrative expenses and programs by section 106(a) of title 23, United States Code; and

(B) amounts authorized for the Bureau of Transportation Statistics;

(ii) distribution from the obligation limitation for Federal-aid highways that is equal to the unobligated balance of amounts

(A) made available from the Highway Trust Fund (other than the Mass Transit Account) for Federal-aid highway and highway safety construction programs for previous fiscal years the funds for which are allocated by the Secretary (or apportioned by the Secretary under sections 202 or 204 of title 23, United States Code); and

(B) with which the obligation limitation was provided in a previous fiscal year;

(iii) determine the proportion that—

(A) the obligation limitation for Federal-aid highways (aggregate of amounts not distributed under paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection) bears to

(B) the total of the sums authorized to be appropriated for the Federal-aid highway and highway safety construction programs, less the aggregate of the amounts not distributed under paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection;

(iv) distribute the obligation limitation for Federal-aid highways, less the aggregate amounts not distributed under paragraphs (1) and (2) of each of the programs (other than programs to which paragraph (1) applies) that are allocated by the Secretary under the Fixing America’s Surface Transportation Act and title 21, United States Code, or apportioned by the Secretary under sections 202 or 204 of that title, by multiplying

(A) the proportion determined under paragraph (3); by

(B) the amounts authorized to be appropriated for each such program for such fiscal year;

(v) distribute the obligation limitation for Federal-aid highways, less the aggregate amounts not distributed under paragraphs (1) and (2) of each of the programs (other than programs to which paragraph (1) applies) that are allocated by the Secretary under title 23, United States Code (other than the amounts apportioned under sections 202 and 204 of title 23, United States Code) in the proportion that—

(A) amounts authorized to be appropriated for the programs that are apportioned under title 23, United States Code, to each State for such fiscal year, bears to

(B) the total of the amounts authorized to be appropriated for the programs that are apportioned under title 23, United States Code, for such fiscal year;

(c) REDISTRIBUTION OF UNUSED OBLIGATION AUTHORITY.—Notwithstanding subsection (b), the Secretary shall, after August 1 of such fiscal year—

(i) revise a distribution of the obligation limitation made available under subsection (b) if an amount distributed cannot be obligated during the fiscal year; and

(ii) redistribute sufficient amounts to those States able to obligate amounts in addition to those previously distributed during that fiscal year, giving priority to those States having large unobligated balances of funds apportioned under sections 144 (as in effect on the day before the date of enactment of Public Law 114-121) and 104 of title 23, United States Code.

(d) APPLICABILITY OF OBLIGATION LIMITATIONS TO TRANSPORTATION RESEARCH PROGRAMS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subsection (b), the obligation limitation for Federal-aid highway and highway safety construction programs, imposed under title 23, United States Code (other than the transportation research programs), shall apply to the research programs that are apportioned under title 23, United States Code and (B) the title VI of the Fixing America’s Surface Transportation Act.

(2) EXCEPTION.—Obligation authority made available under paragraph (1) shall—

(A) remain available for a period of 4 fiscal years; and

(B) be in addition to the amount of any limitation imposed on obligations for Federal-aid highway and highway safety construction programs for future fiscal years.

(e) REDISTRIBUTION OF CERTAIN AUTHORIZED FUNDS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 30 days after the date of distribution of obligation limitation under subsection (b), the Secretary shall distribute to the States any funds (excluding funds authorized for the program under section 202 of title 23, United States Code) to—

(A) are authorized to be appropriated for such fiscal year for Federal-aid highway programs; and

(B) the Secretary determines will not be allocated to the States (or will not be apportioned to the States under section 204 of title 23, United States Code), and will not be available for such fiscal year because of the imposition of any obligation limitation for such fiscal year.

(2) RATIO.—Funds shall be distributed under paragraph (1) in the same proportion as the distribution of obligation authority under subsection (b).

(f) AVAILABILITY.—Funds distributed to each State under paragraph (1) shall be available for purposes described in section 133(b) of title 23, United States Code.

Land Acquisition (Including Rescission of Funds)

For expenses necessary to carry out sections 205, 206, and 318(d) of Public Law 94–579, including administrative expenses, $28,800,000, to be derived from the Land and Water Conservation Fund and to remain available until expended. Of the unobligated balances from amounts made available for Land Acquisition and derived from the Land and Water Conservation Fund, $2,367,000 is hereby permanently rescinded from projects with cost savings or failed or partially failed projects: Provided, That no amounts may be rescinded from amounts that were voted by the Congress as an emergency requirement pursuant to the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget or the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985.

Oregon and California Grant Lands

For expenses necessary for management, protection, and development of resources and for construction, operation, and maintenance of access roads, reforestation, and other improvements on the revested Oregon and California Railroad grant lands, on other Federal lands in the Oregon and California land-grant counties of Oregon, and on adjacent rights-of-way; and acquisition of lands or interests therein, including existing confectioning and disaffected land grant lands; $106,985,000, to remain available until expended: Provided, That 25 percent of the aggregate of all receipts during the current fiscal year and any prior fiscal year received by the Oregon and California Railroad grant lands is hereby made a charge against the Oregon and California land-grant fund and shall be transferred and made available for the purposes described in the second paragraph of subsection (b) of title II of the Act of August 28, 1937 (43 U.S.C. 2605).

For rehabilitation, protection, and improvement of Federal rangelands pursuant to section 401 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1751), notwithstanding any other Act, sums equal to 50 percent of all moneys received during the prior fiscal year under sections 3 and 15 of the Taylor Grazing Act (43 U.S.C. 315b, 315m) and the amount designated for range improvements from grazing fees and mineral leasing receipts from Bankhead-Jones lands transferred to the Department of the Interior and used for range improvements from grazing fees and mineral leases, and $10,000,000, to remain available until expended: Provided, That not to exceed $600,000 shall be available for administrative expenses.

SERVICE CHARGES, DEPOSITS, AND FORFEITURES
For administrative expenses and other costs related to processing application documents and other authorizations for land disposal and disposal of public lands and resources, for costs of providing copies of official public land documents, for monitoring construction, operation, and termination of facilities in connection with land authorizations, and for rehabilitation of damaged property, such amounts as may be collected under Public Law 94-79 (43 U.S.C. 185), to remain available until expended: Provided, That notwithstanding any provision to the contrary of section 305(a) Public Law 94-79 (43 U.S.C. 1735(a)), any moneys that have been or will be received pursuant to that section, whether as a result of fines, penalties, or settlements, and not appropriate for refund pursuant to section 305(c) of that Act (43 U.S.C. 1735(c)), shall be made available and may be expended under this Act by the Secretary to improve, protect, or rehabilitate any public lands administered through the Bureau of Land Management which have been damaged by the actions of a resource developer, purchaser, permittee, or any unauthorized person, without regard to whether all moneys collected from such action are used for the exact lands damaged which led to the action: Provided further, That any such moneys that are in excess of amounts needed to repair damage to the exact land for which collected, may be used to repair other damaged public lands.

MISCELLANEOUS TRUST FUNDS
In addition to amounts authorized to be expended under existing laws, there is hereby appropriated such amounts as may be contributed under section 307 of Public Law 94-79 (43 U.S.C. 1735), and such amounts as may be advanced for administrative costs, surveys, studies, or activities of management and conveyances of omitted lands under section 301(b) of that Act (43 U.S.C. 1721(b)), to remain available until expended.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS
The Bureau of Land Management may carry out the operations funded under this Act by direct expenditure, contracts, grants, cooperative agreements and reimbursable agreements with public and private entities, including with States. Appropriations for the Bureau shall be available for purchase, erection, construction, operation, and maintenance of structures, and alteration and maintenance of necessary buildings and appurtenant facilities to which the United States has title; up to $100,000,000, to remain available until expended: Provided, That the Secretary, for information or evidence concerning violations of laws administered by the Bureau; miscellaneous and emergency expenditures, in authorizing or approved by the Secretary and to be accounted for solely on the Secretary’s certificate, not to exceed $10,000: Provided, That not to exceed $629,000 (44 U.S.C. 501), the Bureau may, under cooperative cost-sharing and partnership arrangements authorized by law, procure printing services for production of publications for which the cooperators share the cost of printing either in cash or in services, and the Bureau determines that for an acceptable purpose in support of the project may be carried out by the Bureau on a reimbursable basis. Appropriations herein made shall not be available for the destruction of feral horses and burros in the care of the Bureau or its contractors or for the sale of wild horses and burros that results in their destruction for processing into commercial products.

UNITED STATES FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE
For necessary expenses of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, as authorized by law, and for scientific and economic studies, general administration, and for the performance of other authorized functions under the Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act of 1953 (16 U.S.C. 715s), to remain available until September 30, 2021: Provided, That no to exceed $18,318,000 shall be used for implementing subsections (a), (b), and (c) of section 4 of the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. 1533) (except for processing petitions, developing and issuing proposed and final regulations, and taking any other steps to implement actions described in subsection (c)(2)(A), (c)(2)(B)), or (c)(2)(B)).

CONSTRUCTION
For construction, improvement, acquisition, or removal of land and other facilities required in the conservation, management, investigation, protection, and utilization of fish and wildlife resources, and the acquisition of lands and interests therein; $43,226,000, to remain available until expended.

LAND ACQUISITION (INCLUDING RESCISSION OF FUNDS)
For expenses necessary to carry out chapter 2003 of title 54, United States Code, including administrative expenses, in accordance with statutory authority applicable to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, $58,770,000, to be derived from the Land and Water Conservation Fund and to remain available until expended: Provided, That none of the funds appropriated for specific land acquisition projects may be used to pay for any administrative overhead, planning or other management costs.

For the unobligated balances from amounts made available for the Fish and Wildlife Service and derived from the Land and Water Conservation Fund, $3,628,000 is hereby permanently rescinded from projects or from other grant programs with an unobligated carry over balance: Provided, That no amounts may be rescinded from amounts that were designated by the Congress as an emergency requirement pursuant to the Concurrent Resolution on the Budget or the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985.

NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE FUND
For expenses necessary to implement the Act of October 17, 1976 (16 U.S.C. 716b), $13,226,000.

NORTH AMERICAN WETLANDS CONSERVATION FUND

(a) In General.—Chapter 110A of title 18, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 2261A the following:

“§ 2261B. Enhanced penalty for stalkers of children.

“(a) In General.—Except as provided in subsection (b), if the victim of an offense under section 2261A is under the age of 18 years, the maximum imprisonment for the offense is 5 years greater than the maximum term of imprisonment otherwise provided for that offense in section 2261.

“(b) Limitation.—Subsection (a) shall not apply to a person who violates section 2261A if—

“(1) the person is subject to a sentence under section 2261(b)(5); and

“(2)(A) the person is under the age of 18 at the time the offense occurred; or

“(B) the victim of the offense is not less than 15 nor more than 17 years of age and not more than 3 years younger than the person who committed the offense at the time the offense occurred.”.

(b) Clerical Amendment.—The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 110A of title 18, United States Code, is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 2261A the following new item:

“2261B. Enhanced penalty for stalkers of children.”.

(c) Conforming Amendment.—Section 2261A of title 18, United States Code, is amended by striking “section 2261(b) of this title” and inserting “section 2261(b) or section 2261B, as the case may be”.

SECTION 3. REPORT ON BEST PRACTICES REGARDING ENFORCEMENT OF ANTI-STALKING LAWS.

Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Attorney General shall submit a report to Congress, which shall—

(1) include an evaluation of Federal, Tribal, State, and local efforts to enforce laws relating to stalking; and

(2) identify and describe those elements of such efforts that constitute the best practices for the enforcement of such laws.

The bill (S. 134), as amended, was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading, was read the third time and passed.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

Mr. McConnell. I ask unanimous consent that if cloture is invoked, the filing deadline for the first-degree amendments to the Shelby substitute amendment No. 948, and the underlying bill, H.R. 3055, be at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

ORDERS FOR TUESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 2019

Mr. McConnell. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it adjourn until 10 a.m., Tuesday, October 29; further, that following the prayer and pledge, the morning hour be deemed expired, the Journal of proceedings be approved to date, the time for the two leaders be reserved for their use later in day, morning business be closed, and the Senate resume consideration of H.R. 3055; finally, that the Senate recess from 12:30 p.m. until 2:15 p.m. to allow for the caucus meetings.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 10 A.M. TOMORROW

Mr. McConnell. Mr. President, if there is no further business to come before the Senate, I ask unanimous consent that it stand adjourned under the previous order.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 6:54 p.m., adjourned until Tuesday, October 29, 2019, at 10 a.m.

CONFIRMATION

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

IN RECOGNITION OF FISK JOHNSON'S APPOINTMENT TO THE PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL OF ADVISORS ON SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

HON. BRYAN STEIL
OF WISCONSIN
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. STEIL. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Fisk Johnson, Chairman and CEO of SC Johnson & Son, Inc. For 133 years, SC Johnson has been a cornerstone of Racine, Wisconsin. President Trump was wise to select Fisk to serve on his Council of Advisors on Science and Technology. Fisk is a visionary. Fisk, now the fifth generation Johnson family leader of SC Johnson, has continued the family-owned company's tradition of adding good into the world.

Fisk's passion to support his employees, to create great products, and to make the world a better place is evident in his work. SC Johnson has partnered with multiple organizations to tackle issues facing Racine. From working with Gateway Technical College to give workers the education and technical skills they need to obtain a good paying job, to ensuring homeless veterans in Racine have a safe place to go, Fisk continues to find ways to make our community stronger.

Fisk's commitment to environmental sustainability has been nationally and internationally recognized. I recently met with Fisk to hear about the company's ocean conservation efforts. Through Fisk's leadership, SC Johnson partnered with Plastic Bank to give people in countries like Thailand, Vietnam, and Indonesia the opportunity to run recycling centers to prevent plastic waste from entering the ocean. This not only addresses an important environmental issue, but allows residents of these countries to earn a living, move out of poverty, and support their families.

These are just a few examples of Fisk's work in Racine and across the globe.

On behalf of Wisconsin's First Congressional District, I thank Fisk Johnson for his continued work in our community and throughout the world. Congratulations on this appointment to the President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology. Fisk's leadership and expertise will serve this nation well.

RECOGNIZING TECHNICAL SERGEANT PAT MINER, RECIPIENT OF TEXAS' THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT 2019 CONGRESSIONAL VETERAN COMMENDATION

HON. VAN TAYLOR
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. TAYLOR. Madam Speaker, today, it is my privilege to honor twelve distinguished military veterans from Texas' Third Congressional District who answered the call to serve their Nation honorably, both in uniform and following their return to civilian life. The recipients of the 2019 Congressional Veteran Commendation exemplify the time-honored qualities of patriotism, service before self, and bold leadership. Following their time in service, their efforts in our community have earned these fine individuals recognition as the recipients of this prestigious commendation. Their stories of sacrifice will encourage future generations to pursue a life dedicated to the very values we cherish as Americans: faith, freedom, and democracy.

One such hero is Technical Sergeant Pat Miner of Plano, Texas. Technical Sergeant Patrick Miner had a twenty-year career as an United States Air Force Non-Commissioned Officer, beginning his service in 1976 at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. During his time in the military, he deployed to Japan with the 3rd Marine Division as well as the Fleet Marine Force—Pacific. During Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm, he served as a broadcast manager at U.S. Central Command, supervising communications and broadcasts to foreign countries. As an Air Force Broadcast Journalist and Public Affairs Newscaster, his coverage, including the 1992 release of American hostages from Iran, would earn him two Thomas Jefferson Awards, the Department of Defense's highest honor recognizing journalists for outstanding achievements in furthering their Internal Information Program. As a decorated military veteran, Mr. Miner received the Air Force Commendation Medal three times, the Longevity Service Award three times, the NCO Professional Military Education Ribbon twice, the Organizational Excellence Award twice, and the Good Conduct Medal five times.

Following his distinguished military career, Pat worked as a television producer for the Social Security Administration for twenty-three years. Following his move to Plano in 1996, Mr. Miner developed deep roots within the community, holding roles on the Plano Independent School District Council of PTAs, as the President of the Plano Homeowners Council, and on the Plano Transition and the Reviatalzation Commission. Giving back to the community is of paramount importance to Mr. Miner, and he was twice elected to the Plano City Council, holding positions as the Mayor Pro Tem and the Deputy Mayor Pro Tem. Civic involvement is also an important component of Pat’s life, as evidenced by his role as Past-President of the North Texas Pioneers Rotary Club for which he was recognized with the Paul Harris Fellowship Award. Today, Pat is currently working to recognize our first responders who have given all through his efforts on the Plano Police and Firefighters Memorial Fund. Sergeant Patrick Miner is a hometown hero who has served both his country and community in meaningful ways and we are honored to recognize him with this award.

Today, a grateful Nation thanks Technical Sergeant Miner for his exceptional service and congratulates him on this recognition. May his steadfast example of leadership inspire others to live a life of service to a cause greater than themselves. It is my extreme honor to award him the 2019 Congressional Veteran Commendation for the Third District of Texas.

HON. JIM COSTA
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. COSTA. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the first annual Merced County Nut Festival, an event celebrating the agricultural past, present, and future of Merced County and furthermore, the nut industry's impact on our Valley's local economy.

California’s San Joaquin Valley is one of the world’s top producers in almonds, walnuts, and pistachios, contributing to California’s ranking as the sixth largest economy in the world. Together, the growers, haulers, and all involved in the tree to table process in California contribute to producing 80 percent of the world’s almonds, which is also the state’s top agricultural export.

The Merced County Nut Festival is the vision of Necola Adams, who saw the need to celebrate those involved in our Valley’s nut industry while at the same time educating the public about these crops that are present in all parts of Merced County. After discussing this idea for three years, Mrs. Adams put together a committee of community leaders from various backgrounds to help make this vision a reality.

The planning committee consisting of Mrs. Adams, Gwen Hagaman, Cynthia Adams, Kim McMillion, and Vicki Underwood collaborated to ensure the success of this festival. They contacted local businesses and community organizations, marketed the festival to local stakeholders, and overcame any challenge that arose.

The vision of the Merced County Nut Festival being an event to educate about the tree-to-table process and one that brings together members of the community to celebrate an industry uniting the county has been achieved by the committee. This festival will feature demonstrations from industry professionals, food cooked by Merced chefs, and live music from local bands. Any of the additional funds raised will benefit local youth organizations in Merced, signifying the vision that the festival can bridge the local community to those involved in the nut industry.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the Merced County Nut Festival during their inaugural year. It is both fitting and appropriate that we honor them and recognize the significant impact they will have on the greater Merced community and nut industry this year and in future years.

RECOGNIZING 30 YEARS OF EXEMPLARY SERVICE BY CAMP LIVE OAK AND FOUNDER KEN EVANS

HON. THEODORE E. DEUTCH
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. DEUTCH. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor 30 years of exemplary service to South Florida by Camp Live Oak and its Founder, Ken Evans. Under Ken’s direction, Camp Live Oak has been a leader in children’s environmental education since 1989. As the only American Camp Association accredited camp in Broward County since 1990, Camp Live Oak believes that every child is gifted and designs a challenging curriculum to keep young minds sharp during school breaks. It employs certified Broward County teachers to help instill a sense of environmental stewardship in its campers through beach clean-ups, sea turtle education, native plantings, and recycling initiatives. Beyond the valuable services it provides to its campers, Camp Live Oak continues to provide direct benefits to the local economy and the environment. It draws employees and families from around the world, ensuring more dollars are spent at businesses in our community. In this role, Camp Live Oak has also been instrumental in the revitalization and preservation of Hugh Taylor Birch State Park by bringing awareness, funds, and families to the park for the last 30 years.

I ask that my colleagues join me in thanking Ken Evans and Camp Live Oak for the amazing work they have done over the years to educate the public and to help our environment.

125TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE NEW YORK-PRESBYTERIAN WESTCHESTER DIVISION

HON. NITA M. LOWEY
OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the New York-Presbyterian Westchester Division, as it celebrated its 125th anniversary on October 25, 2019.

Located in the City of White Plains, New York-Presbyterian Westchester Division provides critical mental health care services to New York metro area children, adolescents, adults and seniors. The facility is staffed by Weill Cornell Medicine clinicians, who work diligently to study mental illness, provide patient-centered care, and promote activities that support mental health healing. Housed in gracious buildings across 200 acres of beautifully landscaped grounds, the hospital offers patients a tranquil environment to receive the care they need and deserve. For its high quality of services and commitment to its patients, NewYork-Presbyterian Westchester Division has received national recognition for excellence in nursing from the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s (ANCC) Magnet Recognition program. The facility was also the first behavioral health hospital in the nation to be formally named by Planetree Inc., an international non-profit providing the development and implantation of innovative, patient centered models of care delivery, as “Gold Certified for Excellence in Person-Centered Care.”

New York-Presbyterian Westchester Division has been an invaluable partner in making the City of White Plains and the surrounding area a healthier and more prosperous community. Madam Speaker, I urge my fellow members of Congress to join me in expressing both congratulations and thanks to the past and current employees and supporters of New York-Presbyterian Westchester Division for their 125 years of distinguished service to our community.

RECOGNIZING GRACE CRUNICAN

HON. ERIC SWALWELL
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. SWALWELL of California, Madam Speaker, along with Representatives BARBRA LEE, ZOE LOFGREN, RO KHANNA, MARK DeSALVATIERI, and ANNA ESHOO, I rise to recognize Grace Crunican, who earlier this year retired as the general manager of the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) system.

Grace began her long career in transportation management in 1979 when she was appointed to the Presidential Management Intern Program at the U.S. Department of Transportation. She continued to work in a variety of roles in transportation management before going to Seattle to direct its Department of Transportation. In Seattle she implemented its Transit Master Plan, which included Seattle Connections, the Bike Master Plan, the Freight Mobility Strategic Plan and the Pedestrian Master Plan. These initiatives helped to reduce congestion and commute times, helping Seattle achieve the U.S. Kyoto Protocol goals.

In 2011 she joined BART as general manager. In that role Grace oversaw a staff of more than 3,000 full time employees operating a $15 billion transit network. With over three decades in the public transportation industry, she displayed the necessary leadership and focus to provide safe and reliable transportation services for all Bay Area communities.

Grace’s hard work and dedication will result in the replacement and expansion of more than 1,000 new rail cars for BART. Her leadership also encouraged collaboration with BART’s labor force to ensure both riders and workers benefit from policy changes.

She developed and implemented policies that deepen BART’s ties to the communities it serves by prioritizing inclusive planning that benefits small business owners, low-income and homeless riders, and the LGBTQ community. Her affordable housing initiative enhanced accessibility by requiring the inclusion of no less than thirty-five percent affordable housing on all BART transit-oriented development projects. Additionally, she coordinated local and federal resources and fostered regional partnerships to reduce congestion for eastern Contra Costa County communities during peak commute times and led the opening of BART’s Oakland International Airport and Warm Springs/South Fremont stations.

Grace has been a tireless advocate for improved public transit throughout her career. We want to thank her for her years of service to the Bay Area and to wish her well in all her future endeavors.

RECOGNIZING SERGEANT JAMES NICHOLS, RECIPIENT OF TEXAS’ THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT 2019 CONGRESSIONAL VETERAN COMMENDATION

HON. VAN TAYLOR
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. TAYLOR. Madam Speaker, today, it is my privilege to honor twelve distinguished military veterans from Texas’ Third Congressional District who answered the call to serve their Nation honorably, both in uniform and following their return to civilian life. The recipients of the 2019 Congressional Veteran Commendation exemplify the time-honored qualities of patriotism, service before self, and bold leadership. Following their time in service, their efforts in our community have earned these few individuals recognition as the recipients of this prestigious commendation. Their stories of sacrifice will encourage future generations to pursue a life dedicated to the very values we cherish as Americans: faith, freedom, and democracy. One such hero is Sergeant James Nichols of Princeton, Texas.

Mr. James “Nick” Nichols enlisted in the United States Air Force in 1967 as a Materials Specialist. While in the service, Mr. Nichols led support operations during the Vietnam conflict until his discharge in 1971. For his service, Specialist Nichols was awarded the Air Force Achievement Medal.

Mr. Nichols has found a multitude of ways to serve within our community, perhaps most notably as the Commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2150 in McKinney, a leadership role that he has held for nearly a decade. During his tenure with the VFW, he has led a number of community service initiatives including an outreach program for students centered on patriotism and a membership outreach program that engages community business leaders through the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs in McKinney. As a respected member of our veterans community, Mr. Nichols sat on the McKinney Armed Services Memorial Board where his efforts led to the successful completion of the Veterans Memorial Park in McKinney. In addition, Mr. Nichols has been an active participant in the local Marine Toys for Tots Program where he manages the coordination efforts for the toy drive. Most recently, Mr. Nichols led fundraising efforts to support the Collin County Historical Museum’s Centennial Celebration of America’s entry into World War I, resulting in an exhibit that would honor the role of our Collin County soldiers in the Great War.

Air Force Specialist James “Nick” Nichols is justifiably admired by a multitude of civic leaders for his efforts to support our veterans and military, ensuring that Collin County remain a stronghold of support for our defenders of freedom.

To a grateful Nation thanks Specialist Nichols for his exceptional service and congratulates him on this recognition. May his steadfast example of leadership inspire others to live a life of service to a cause greater than themselves. It is my extreme honor to award him the 2019 Congressional Veteran Commendation for the Third District of Texas.

RECOGNIZING PASTOR STACIE FIDLAR FOR 20 YEARS OF SERVICE AT ST. JOHN’S LUTHERAN CHURCH IN ROCK ISLAND, ILLINOIS

HON. CHERI BUSTOS
OF ILLINOIS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mrs. BUSTOS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Pastor Stacie Fidlar for her 20 years of ministry at St. John’s Lutheran Church in Rock Island, Illinois. Pastor Fidlar has demonstrated her commitment to inclusivity, social justice and environmental responsibility, as well as her deeply personal investment in each parishioner as a member of the church family.

Pastor Stacie Fidlar is a native of Cordova, Illinois, and a graduate of Riverdale High School. She earned her B.A. degree, summa cum laude, from Augustana College, majoring in religion with a concentration in Asian Studies. After completing seminary at the Lutheran School of Theology in Chicago, she was ordained in 1995 and served churches in Forreston and Seneca, Illinois before joining St. John’s in 1999. She has since devoted her time to helping and building the community. She is in charge of the W.O.W. program for after-school study help and meals, the establishment of the Free Little Pantry and the designation of St. John’s as a Reconciling in Christ congregation. Pastor Fidlar also oversaw the church’s major building expansion project and aided a partnership to create the Micah House, a community of students practicing intentional living in which faith questions were explored through conversation and outreach projects. In addition, she serves on several boards around the community and her work has led her to be named a Leader Under 40 by the Black Hawk College Foundation, Professional and Overall Citizen of the Year by Rock Island, and a Heart of Gold recipient by the YWCA.

It is because of strong community faith leaders such as Pastor Stacie Fidlar that I am especially proud to live in Illinois’ 17th Congressional District. Madam Speaker, I would like to again formally congratulate Pastor Stacie Fidlar on her 20th Anniversary with St. John’s Lutheran Church.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. EMANUEL CLEAVER
OF MISSOURI
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. CLEAVER. Madam Speaker, I regretably missed a vote on Wednesday, October 23, 2019. I had intended to vote “yes” on vote 584.

RECOGNITION OF LIONEL “LEE” GODBOUT

HON. WILLIAM R. KEATING OF MASSACHUSETTS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. KEATING. Madam Speaker, I rise today in celebration of the life of Lionel “Lee” Godbout, an active member of the Weymouth, Massachusetts community, consummate volunteer in local and state politics, and dedicated friend to all who knew him.

Lee’s passion for service began after high school, when he joined the Navy. It was there, while stationed in Newport, Rhode Island, that Lee met his future wife Kathy. A proud union carpenter by trade, Lee worked tirelessly to support Iris family for many years before retiring in 2002. After retirement, Lee continued to serve his community by volunteering with the neonatal intensive care unit at St. Margaret’s Hospital and at Murphy Primary School where he helped children read.

Lee would continue to work tirelessly to promote progressive values for the rest of his life. Utilizing his carpentry skills, Lee created signs for numerous campaigns and advocated for causes close to his heart. His work with MassEquality helped Massachussets become the first state in the nation to see marriage equality folly implemented.

Those who knew Lee knew him as a good man, full of kindness and the desire to help others. His memory and spirit will live on through his loving wife Kathleen, his three sons Kevin, Keith, and Wayne, and his grandsons Ryan and Rylan.

Madam Speaker, I am proud to honor the life of Lee Godbout. I ask that my colleagues join me in recognizing his many years of dedication and service to his community.

RECOGNIZING TECHNICAL SERGEANT FLETCHER SHARP, RECIPIENT OF THE 2019 CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT 2019 CONGRESSIONAL VETERAN COMMEMORATION

HON. VAN TAYLOR
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. TAYLOR. Technical Sergeant Fletcher Sharp joined the United States Air Force in 1963. Following technician training school, he worked as an aircraft crew chief supporting the 436th Military Airlift Wing at Dover Air Force Base in Delaware and volunteered as a member of the base honor and color guards. In 1966, he was transferred to the 51st Fighter Interceptor Wing at Naha Air Base in Okinawa in support of the F–102 Delta Dagger and was later deployed on C–130A resupply sorties to bases in Vietnam and Thailand. For his efforts, he was awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal, Air Force Achievement Award, Air Force Outstanding Unit Award, Air Force Good Conduct Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Air Force Overseas Service Ribbon, Air Force Longevity Ribbon, Texas ANG Lone Star Distinquished Service Medal and the Small Arms Expert Marksmanship Ribbon.

Upon his discharge, Mr. Sharp joined the Pennsylvania Air National Guard as a flight engineer on C–121 Super Constellation aircraft performing aero-medical evacuations. During the next twenty-three years, he would also serve in the Air National Guards of Maine, Vermont, and Texas. Most recently, he was deployed with the Texas Air National Guard from 1992 to 1995 to support the United Nations humanitarian effort in Sarajevo and throughout Bosnia and Herzegovina.

For over thirty years, Fletcher has been active in a variety of service organizations including the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion Post 321 where he has held leadership positions including his role as Liaison to the Civil Air Patrol, Mr. Sharp acts as a Liaison Officer between the organization and CAP to encourage cadet participation in flight academies. Mr. Sharp has also held the role of Post Honor Guard Commander, providing military funeral honors for veterans and participating in local Veterans Day and Memorial events. Mr. Sharp has also taken a lead to ensure that an American flag is placed on every veteran grave in the Plano Mutual Cemetery every Memorial Day to pay tribute to those who served. Further, as an active member of the Civil Air Patrol, Mr. Sharp has held a variety of leadership positions including his work with the cadet program where he assists with developing leadership skills, character development and aerospace education. Finally, as an active member of the Seidel Chapter of the Air Force Association, Mr. Sharp acts as a Liaison Officer between the organization and CAP to promote the scholarship program for cadets participating in flight academies.

Mr. Sharp displays the qualities of a true patriot who has selflessly served our nation and who continues to mentor our next generation of military leaders.

Today, a grateful Nation thanks Technical Sergeant Sharp for his exceptional service and congratulates him on this recognition. May the steadfast example of leadership inspire others to live a life of service to a cause greater than themselves. It is my extreme honor to award him the 2019 Congressional Veteran Commendation for the Third District of Texas.
Celebrating Speak Up, Stand Up, Save A Life Conference and Movement

Hon. Raul M. Grijalva
Of Arizona
In the House of Representatives
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. GRIJALVA. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize the impact created by the Speak Up, Stand Up, Save A Life conference and movement.

In Arizona, much like the rest of the country, student deaths from suicide have increased substantially, and research has shown, many youth related deaths have been found to be preventable. If only people had the tools to make a difference. Dr. Lily Matos DeBleieux, superintendent of the Pendergast District, and Gina Godbehere, attorney, and Bureau Chief of the Maricopa County Attorney’s office, met in Leadership West Class XXII, and worked collaboratively to create the Speak Up, Stand Up, Save A Life Conference in 2017, the only conference of its kind in Arizona.

Now in its fourth year, over 5,000 students, counselors, law enforcement, parents and education advocates came together in a January 2019 conference to eradicate the stigma and consequences of bullying and to prevent teen suicide. Due to their efforts to help Arizona be a better place for this and future generations, police chiefs, and law enforcement officers from agencies throughout the state joined the effort and attended the conference, along with students, counselors, teachers, education advocates, and caring adults.

The daylong event inspired attendees to connect and create lasting solutions they can implement at their schools. The conference offered students an opportunity to hear from local and national speakers on the difficult issues they face on a daily basis, both inside and outside of school. The conference is free of charge, thanks to sponsors and in-kind donations. What makes this youth conference unique is the outreach offered to the adults through the conference, implementation at the school sites, and follow-up to family resource nights in the communities.

This vital project is now active in 38 school districts in Arizona with a total of 158 schools participating. The January 2020 conference will inspire youth and adults to be empowered, and make a difference in their schools, districts and communities.

The objective of this vital movement is to create tools for students in schools with diverse populations and community partners to take back to their campuses and communities with the goal to prevent suicide by inspiring over 380,000 students to speak up, stand up, and save lives.

Recognizing Al Burton

Hon. Eric Swalwell
Of California
In the House of Representatives
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. SWALWELL of California. Madam Speaker, today, it is my privilege to honor twelve distinguished military veterans from Texas’ Third Congressional District who answered the call to serve their Nation honorably, both in uniform and following their return to civilian life. The recipients of the 2019 Congressional Veteran Commendation exemplify the time-honored qualities of patriotism, service before self, and bold leadership. Following their time in service, their efforts in our community have earned them a steadfast example of leadership inspire others. May his congratulations to him on this recognition. May his story of sacrifice will encourage future generations to pursue a life dedicated to the very values we cherish as Americans: faith, freedom, and democracy. One such hero is Staff Sergeant Jim Skinner of Melissa, Texas.

Staff Sergeant Jim Skinner’s history of service began in 1979 when he entered into the United States Air Force, quickly earning the title of Security Police Military Working Dog Handler after completing the rigorous patrol training. He would spend the next seven years in the role of dog handler, investigator, and SWAT team operator in Southeast Asia, the Middle East, and New York City. For his dedicated efforts in defense of our nation, Staff Sergeant Jim Skinner would receive the Air Force Commendation Medal, Air Force Achievement Medal, Air Force Good Conduct Medal, and Outstanding Small Unit Award.

While Skinner would leave the military in 1987, his desire to protect the innocent would continue, leading him to pursue a Juris Doctorate from the University of Houston Law Center in 2001. Upon graduation he would work as a civil rights lawyer, representing child victims of sexual abuse. In 2007, he was appointed as an Assistant District Attorney and Special Prosecutor of the Collin County Criminal District Attorney's Office and later served as the Second Assistant District Attorney and Chief of the Special Prosecutions Division.

Jim further developed his passion for serving the public when he was elected as the 39th Sheriff of Collin County in January 2017. His drive to protect the most innocent led to the creation of the Child Exploitation Unit. Additionally, Sheriff Skinner was responsible for bringing together the Sheriffs of seven counties to form the North Texas Sheriff’s Office Criminal Interdiction Unit, which targets criminals who are illegally transporting narcotics, weapons, cash or persons involved in human trafficking on our highways.

Sheriff Skinner has found countless ways to serve our community including his role as a board member for the Child Advocacy Center of Collin County, as a Trustee for Collin County Meals on Wheels, as a former board member for the North Texas Crime Commission, and as the Judge Advocate for the Bill Bryant Post 110 of the American Legion. Jim Skinner is a devoted public servant who has spent his entire life giving back to the community and working towards ensuring the values that we hold dear as Americans are maintained and the memory and impact on our community will be well regarded for generations to come. Thank you again to this organization for its commitment to our veterans over the course of the 50 flights they have organized.

It is because of organizations such as the Honor Flight of the Quad Cities that I am especially proud to serve Illinois’ 17th Congressional District. Madam Speaker, I would like to again formally congratulate the Honor Flight of the Quad Cities on its 50th flight.

HONORING THE GALWAY PUBLIC LIBRARY ON THE OPENING OF ITS NEW FACILITY

HON. ELISE M. STEFANIK
OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019
Ms. STEFANIK. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor The Galway Public Library on the opening of its new facility. Over the past decade, the entire community of Galway has been contributing to the effort to construct the new library. This new facility is more than three times the size of the old one, which was founded in 1997, and will act as a holistic community center. It will offer venue space and technology resources for all the residents of Galway to use and benefit from in addition to the collection of books and other media. The library has been supported not only by tax dollars but also by private donations, grants and bonds approved by the voters. Further, the move from the old library was supported by over one hundred volunteers who worked hundreds of hours ensuring that the transition was successful. This level of civic involvement highlights everything that makes the North Country so vibrant and makes me proud to be its representative in Congress.

On Behalf on New York’s 21st Congressional District, I want to congratulate the residents of the Town of Galway on this amazing accomplishment. I look forward to the success of the new Galway Public Library as a centerpiece of the community long into the future.

RECOGNIZING SENIOR MASTER SERGEANT BARNETT WALKER, RECIPIENT OF TEXAS’ THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT 2019 CONGRESSIONAL VETERAN COMMENDATION

HON. JOHN SHIMKUS
OF ILLINOIS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019
Mr. SHIMKUS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the achievements of the Mater Dei Knights golf team, which recently brought home the Illinois Class 1A State Golf Championship.

It was a very tense tournament. At the end of the first round the Knights found themselves tied for first with the Althoff Crusaders. However, with a great deal of grit and determination the Knights eventually pulled out a hard-fought one stroke victory over rival Althoff to claim the state title.

Hearty congratulations go to team members Grant Goebel, Carter Goebel, Nathan Rivera, Blake Kloeckner, Ian Anderson, Tanner Gerdes, head coach Dennis Trame, athletic director Ron Schadegg, and school principal Dennis Litteken.

Madam Speaker, these student-athletes and their coaches have represented themselves, their school, and their community in the best tradition of high school athletics. I am pleased to join with the other Members of this House in congratulating them on their victory and wishing them all the best in their future academic and athletic careers.

HON. V. TAYLOR
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019
Mr. TAYLOR. Madam Speaker, today to honor The Galway Public Library on the opening of its new facility.
Nation honorably, both in uniform and following their return to civilian life. The recipients of the 2019 Congressional Veteran Commendation exemplify the time-honored qualities of patriotism, service before self, and bold leadership. Following their time in service, their efforts in our community have earned these fine individuals recognition as the recipients of this prestigious commendation. Their stories of sacrifice will encourage future generations to pursue a life dedicated to the very values we cherish as Americans: faith, freedom, and democracy. One such hero is Senior Master Sergeant Barnett Walker of Prosper, Texas.

For twenty-two years, retired Master Sergeant Barnett Walker proudly served our nation with distinction in the United States Air Force. During his military career, Walker was awarded 25 different military decorations, most notably three Meritorious Service Medals, four Joint Service Commendation Medals, the Air Force Commendation Medal, Joint Service Achievement Medal, Air Force Achievement Medal, and the Air Force Recognition Ribbon following his selection as Senior Non-Commissioned Officer of the Year at every level including the United States Air Force Headquarters.

Throughout his career, Walker volunteered for the technical and non-combatant military aspects of Desert Shield and Desert Storm. He was stationed at United States Central Command under General H. Norman Schwarzkopf and was part of the first wave of U.S. military forces that arrived in Saudi Arabia in August 1990. There, the late Senator Richard Lugar and the late Indianapolis Mayor William Hudnut, among others. In 1945, P.E. co-founded the MacAllister Machinery Company with his father. His 74 years at the helm of the company are a telling reminder of his unequaled business acumen and leadership capabilities. Throughout his life he helped lead and develop both the public and private sector successes of Indianapolis and the state of Indiana. The people of Indiana’s Fifth Congressional District are forever grateful for P.E.’s contributions to our Hoosier community, and it is my privilege to honor him today.

P.E. was born August 30, 1918, in Oconto, Wisconsin to Edwin W. (E.W.) and Hilda MacAllister. As a recent veteran of World War I, Edwin named his son Pershing after General John Joseph “Black Jack” Pershing. Growing up during the Great Depression, P.E. was taught the frugality and self-sufficient nature required to survive and flourish in the America of the time. With a strong Scottish Presbyterian upbringing and close familial bond, P.E. advanced in his academic career, graduating high school and then enrolling at Carroll College. After graduation from Carroll College in 1940, P.E. joined the United States Army Air Force. On October 25, 1941, he was called to the forefront in the fight for civil rights. I particularly want to applaud the tremendous impact the NAACP has had locally and across the country. The theme for this year’s banquet, “When We Fight, We Win!” invokes this great nation in fighting to make our communities better. The time is now for us to work harder for justice.

Our congressional district, the place we call home, is another place where progress can continue. It begins with each of us in the community. The NAACP is an integral part of that. While our nation has made tremendous strides with respect to civil rights, there is still much to be done. We can do better, we must do better. The NAACP in Bucks County is working every day to bring people together to stand up for justice. When hateful language was found at the Carl Sandburg Middle School, the NAACP was instrumental in uniting our community against the hateful rhetoric by helping to organize a candlelight vigil. The work of our local NAACP is indispensable for our community and our country, and we must continue to support its efforts.

Our community, our nation, is stronger when we stand together. Change begins with each one of us here at home. Whether we are elected officials, moms or dads or neighbors or community leaders or students or anyone—we must remember that the power that unites us than divides us. As a Bucks County resident, I want to thank our local NAACP for all that they do to make Bucks County a better place. I look forward to continuing working together with the NAACP to make our district safer and prosperous for all.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. SVALWELL of California. Madam Speaker, due to a family obligation I missed one vote on October 22. Had I been present I would have voted as follows: Roll Call Vote Number 576 (Motion to Recommit H.R. 2513): NO.

RECOGNIZING THE BUCKS COUNTY BRANCH OF THE NAACP FOR THEIR 68TH ANNUAL FREEDOM FUND BANQUET

HON. BRIAN K. FITZPATRICK
OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. FITZPATRICK. Madam Speaker, I want to take this opportunity to recognize the Bucks County Branch of the NAACP on their 68th Freedom Fund Banquet. It is an honor to recognize an organization that has always been at the forefront in the fight for civil rights. I particularly want to applaud the tremendous impact the NAACP has had locally and across this great nation in fighting to make our communities better. The theme for this year’s banquet, “When We Fight, We Win!” invokes this constant fight for progress and inspires each of us to work harder for justice.

Our congressional district, the place we call home, is another place where progress can continue. It begins with each of us in the community. The NAACP is an integral part of that. While our nation has made tremendous strides with respect to civil rights, there is still much to be done. We can do better, we must do better. Our community, our nation, is stronger when we stand together. Change begins with each one of us here at home. Whether we are elected officials, moms or dads or neighbors or community leaders or students or anyone—we must remember that the power that unites us than divides us. As a Bucks County resident, I want to thank our local NAACP for all that they do to make Bucks County a better place. I look forward to continuing working together with the NAACP to make our district safer and prosperous for all.

HONORING PERSHING EDWIN (P.E.) MACALLISTER

HON. SUSAN W. BROOKS OF INDIANA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mrs. BROOKS of Indiana. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of a beloved and iconic member of the Hoosier state, Pershing Edwin (P.E.) MacAllister. A pillar of the Indianapolis community, P.E. passed away at the age of 101 on October 23, 2019. P.E. was an astute, enthusiastic, and individualistic individual whose life’s work touched and benefitted so many Hoosiers. A longtime leader in Indiana politics, P.E. was a guiding force in not only my career but also the political careers of legendary Republican Hoosier law¬makers, the late Senator Richard Lugar and the late Indianapolis Mayor William Hudnut, among others. In 1945, P.E. co-founded the MacAllister Machinery Company with his father. His 74 years at the helm of the company are a telling reminder of his unequaled business acumen and leadership capabilities. Throughout his life he helped lead and develop both the public and private sector successes of Indianapolis and the state of Indiana. The people of Indiana’s Fifth Congressional District are forever grateful for P.E.’s contributions to our Hoosier community, and it is my privilege to honor him today.

P.E. was born August 30, 1918, in Oconto, Wisconsin to Edwin W. (E.W.) and Hilda MacAllister. As a recent veteran of World War I, Edwin named his son Pershing after General John Joseph “Black Jack” Pershing. Growing up during the Great Depression, P.E. was taught the frugality and self-sufficient nature required to survive and flourish in the America of the time. With a strong Scottish Presbyterian upbringing and close familial bond, P.E. advanced in his academic career, graduating high school and then enrolling at Carroll College. After graduation from Carroll College in 1940, P.E. joined the United States Army Air Force. On October 25, 1941, he was shipped off to basic training, and his service to his country began. As an armament officer, P.E. was stationed first in the United States, but also served in England, North Africa, and finally in Italy where he earned the rank of Captain. After 5 years in the Army Air Force, P.E. finished his service having earned four Overseas Service Bars and a Presidential Unit Citation.

Upon returning from service overseas, P.E. and his father E.W. co-founded the MacAllister Machinery Company in June of 1945. After his father’s medical complications in 1951, P.E. and his brother Dave took the helm of the company. Over the next 74 years, P.E. led the company as it grew to cover two states with over 2,500 employees. Starting in 1986, he began to co-publish and write the lead articles for 170 issues of the company’s newsletter, “Mac Today”. Outside of the office, P.E. maintained strong ties with his faith as a devoted member of Northminster Presbyterian Church. As a leader in the church’s governing body, P.E. served two terms as its moderator. In 1972, he was the moderator of the Synod of Indiana, and in 1975 he was named the moderator of the Synod of Lincoln Trials. P.E. also served on the board of trustees at the Christian Theological Seminary, where along with friend Dick Petticrew, he created “The MacAllister-Petticrew Chair” of the Old Testament Studies. At his alma mater of Carroll College, P.E. endowed a “Chair in Old Testament Studies”.

Later in his career, P.E. began his entrance into the Indiana political arena. Along with close friends Harold Ransburg, John Burkhart and Keith Bulen, P.E. helped to bring about a political revolution within Indiana. He helped to foster the early careers of many Republican candidates such as former Mayor William Hudnut, former Governor Mitch Daniels, former Senator Richard Lugar, and former Governor and Vice-President MICHAEL PENCE. P.E. was also an integral part of the creation of the Indianapolis Parks Foundation and served as the chairman of the Foundation for many years, helping to transform many of the city’s various parks and public lands. His time as a member and then chairman of the Capital Improvements Board helped to see the city commit to the building of the RCA Dome and Convention Center which were important steps to eventually enticing the Colts of the National Football League to relocate to Indianapolis. These partnerships helped change Indianapolis from a sleepy stop on the highways of middle America to a premiere emerging city in the heartland of America.

P.E. leaves behind a larger than life legacy that is fitting for the impact he had on the city of Indianapolis and the state of Indiana. During his life, he was one of the most impactful local leaders in the city’s public and private sectors, leaving a legacy unmatched by his peers. He dedicated his life to the service of his clients, employees, and fellow Hoosiers, fundamentally changing the lives of those he served for the better. His unparalleled love for Indiana and the city of Indianapolis led to massive changes that impacted not only the lives of his clients but also the skyline of Indianapolis. P.E. will be remembered for his amazing compassion, charismatic and warm personality, as well civic involvement. Awarded the Sagamore of the Wabash, Indiana's highest public honor, by three separate Governors is a testament the influence P.E. had on our state. I feel fortunate to have known him, and I know that his legacy lives on through the great contributions he made to Indianapolis, to Indiana, and to the country. On behalf of Indiana’s Fifth District, I offer my condolences to the entire MacAllister family and all who mourn his loss and cherish his memory.

Recognizing Hospital Corpsman Kenneth Yelle, Recipient of Texas’ Third Congressional District 2019 Congressional Veteran Commendation

HON. VAN TAYLOR
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. TAYLOR. Madam Speaker, today, it is my privilege to honor twelve distinguished military veterans from Texas’ Third Congressional District who answered the call to serve their Nation honorably, both in uniform and following their return to civilian life. The recipients of the 2019 Congressional Veteran Commendation exemplify the time-honored qualities of patriotism, service before self, and bold leadership. Following their time in service, their efforts in our community have earned these fine individuals recognition as the recipients of this prestigious commendation. Their stories of sacrifice will encourage future generations to pursue a life dedicated to the very values we cherish as Americans: faith, freedom, and democracy. One such hero is Hospital Corpsman Kenneth Yelle of McKinney, Texas.

Kenneth Louis Yelle began his service to our nation in 1945 during World War II as an integral member of the United States Navy in Washington, D.C. During the Korean War, he served with the 1st Marine Division as a Hospital Corpsman. For his efforts he would be awarded with the WWII Victory Medal, American Area Campaign Medal, Korean Service Medal, United Nations Medal, and the Presidential Unit Citation.

In the years following his military service, Mr. Yelle has found multiple ways to serve his community including his active membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Lone Star Post No. 2150 in McKinney. At the age of 92 years old, he still provides transportation to the Veterans Administration health facilities in Bonham and Dallas for friends and neighbors. At the community where he has resided for many years, he has been an exercise leader and a model of physical fitness for his fellow residents. Mr. Yelle is continuously called upon to assist others with various projects and transportation to appointments. It is because of his continuous fellowship and encouragement to those in need that he was nominated for the Congressional Veteran Commendation. Mr. Yelle is a compassionate and generous patriot who has served our nation both in and out of uniform and who consistently lends a hand to those in need.

Today, a grateful Nation thanks Hospital Corpsman Yelle for his exceptional service and congratulates him on this recognition. May his steadfast example of leadership inspire others to live a life of service to a cause greater than themselves. It is my extreme honor to award him the 2019 Congressional Veteran Commendation for the Third District of Texas.
Sixteen years ago last week, on October 25, 2003, Mikhail Khodorkovsky was arrested at gunpoint by special forces of the Kremlin. At the time, Mr. Khodorkovsky was head of a successful Russian company, Yukos, which had adopted Western standards of governance. His crime was holding more than 230 political prisoners behind bars. Various reports leave no doubt as to the gravity and urgency of the problem and make clear that the situation is only becoming worse. The Kremlin is engaging in a crackdown on political opponents in order to suppress critical voices they see as a threat.

Russia’s longest held political prisoner is Alexey Pichugin. He is still in jail after more than 16 years because he refuses to sign false testimony against his former colleague, Mikhail Khodorkovsky. It would be difficult to imagine a more egregious violation of the rule of law and human decency.

I urge Congress to use the numerous political and economic tools at its disposal—starting with the Sergei Magnitsky Rule of Law Accountability Act, which the House of Representatives adopted in 2012—to bring greater pressure on the lawless regime of Vladimir Putin. We owe it to the courageous Russian men and women fighting for their God-given human rights and freedoms.

RECOGNIZING THE 125TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE EBBEL SOCIETY OF SANTA ANA VALLEY

HON. J. LUIS CORREA
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. CORREA. Madam Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the 125th anniversary of the Ebell Society of Santa Ana Valley, which was commemorated on October 19, 2019, at the organization’s home, the Ebell of Santa Ana.

The Ebell Society of Santa Ana was founded in 1894 to provide social, cultural, and educational opportunities for members. With its motto “That is Only True Living,” the Ebell Society includes 10 educational and cultural sections, including antiques, bridge, genealogy, quilting, home and garden, literature, and the arts.

The Society’s founding president, Mrs. Franklina Bartlett, was an outstanding citizen and a prolific writer whose short stories appeared in publications alongside well-known authors such as Willa Cather, Jack London, and Mark Twain.

In the early 1900s, featured Ebell Club speakers included Helen Keller, Will Rogers, Jack London’s daughter Joan London, and Chief Standing Bear of the Sioux Indian Tribe, who was recently honored with a statue here in the Capitol. These renowned individuals helped raise money to build the Ebell Clubhouse, which was designed in 1924 by Frederick Eleye, one of Orange County’s best-known architects.

The 95-year-old Mediterranean-style building, which is included on the National Register of Historic Places, underwent restoration in 2018. Thanks to the caretaking of the Society’s members, the Ebell Clubhouse continues to be a hub for community gatherings.

Throughout the years, Ebell has made philanthropy and community service an important part of its mission. Ebell members ran a nursery for working women’s children for almost 35 years, made bandages and sold Liberty Bonds during World War I, and held blood drives during World War II.

Today’s members provide philathropic support to WISEPlace Women’s Shelter in Santa Ana and the Friendly Center of Orange County.

In addition, the Ebell Society Color Guard proudly participates in patriotic observances in the community throughout the year.

The club’s current president is Dr. Betts Rive, an author who retired the Santa Ana school system and then taught English at a women’s college in China for 19 years.

Madam Speaker, it is my honor to recognize the 125th anniversary of the Ebell Society of Santa Ana Valley. Congratulations to this group of outstanding Orange County citizens who continue building our community through the pursuit of education and philanthropy.

RECOGNIZING ZIGGY AND STELLA ZIEGLER OF BILLINGS

HON. GREG GIANFORTE OF MONTANA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. GIANFORTE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Ziggy and Stella Ziegler of Billings for their decades of selflessly helping people find a second chance in life.

For more than 40 years, Ziggy and Stella owned and operated Stella’s Kitchen and Bakery in Billings. Their establishment created a downtown buzz where every weekend you can find a line out the door of people waiting to eat a delicious breakfast. Their restaurant won a 2018 Billings Gazette Readers’ Choice for Best Breakfast and Best Bakery.

Recently retired, Ziggy and Stella were honored with this year’s Billings Chamber Legacy Award for their dedication to the city. While their business success is well documented, it’s the Ziegler’s work in their community that sets them apart.

In 1973, when Ziggy was young, his father was murdered. Instead of reacting in anger, Ziggy used that tragedy to fuel his passion for serving others. He dedicated his life to helping prisoners find fruitful, meaningful lives during and after incarceration.

For the last 40 years, Ziggy has traveled to prisons and halfway houses throughout Montana. In those cell blocks and rehabilitation rooms, Ziggy offers spiritual guidance, be it a passage of scripture or a prayer. He also helps those incarcerated or formerly incarcerated develop their self-esteem, encouraging them realize their worth. Ziggy has helped hundreds of men and women find a plan for life after incarceration.

That’s where Stella stepped in to complete the ministry. Stella oversaw the day-to-day operations of the Ziegler’s Bakery, including hiring workers. Collaborating with the prison ministry, Stella filled many of open jobs with former inmates. The employment provided those reentering society with structure and a community.

Stella’s reach goes beyond her bakery. She was instrumental in building the new St. Francis Catholic Elementary School and remodeling St. Patrick’s Co-Cathedral in Billings. Even after retiring, Stella continues to help her community as she serves on boards and leadership committees.

Madam Speaker, for their business successes and ministerial impact to help build a better path for those reentering society, I recognize Ziggy and Stella Ziegler of Billings for their Spirit of Montana.

RECOGNIZING THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE CANTERBURY SHAKER VILLAGE AND HONORING THE GENEROSITY OF THE MAXINE AND RICHARD MORSE ENDOWMENT FUND

HON. CHRIS PAPPAS
OF NEW HAMPSHIRE
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. PAPPAS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 50th Anniversary of the Canterbury Shaker Village and honor the generosity of the Maxine and Richard Morse Endowment Fund for their commitment to both the Shaker Village and for the arts across New Hampshire.

The Maxine and Richard Morse Endowment Fund has supported many philanthropic causes across New Hampshire for more than 60 years. Among their most notable efforts was to help support the establishment of the Canterbury Shaker Village. In 1968, the Morse family worked with a group of Shaker sisters to provide funds and devise a plan to allow the sisters to remain in their home while also preserving the Shaker history, legacy, and lifestyle for generations to come. From then on, Canterbury Shaker Village Inc. was formed to hold the property, thus enabling the continued celebration and teaching of Shaker legacy, philosophy, and teachings for years to come.

Today, we recognize the 50th Anniversary of the Canterbury Shaker Village and honor the generosity of the Maxine and Richard Morse Endowment Fund for their commitment to both the Shaker Village and for the arts across New Hampshire.

On behalf of our constituents across New Hampshire’s First Congressional District, I congratulate the Canterbury Shaker Village at the Currier Museum on its 50th anniversary. I thank everyone, especially Maxine and the late Dick Morse, who have been instrumental in its formation and continued flourishing.

RECOGNIZING THE ONE-YEAR ANNIVERSARY OF THE SUPPORT ACT

HON. ADAM KINZINGER
OF ILLINOIS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. KINZINGER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the one-year anniversary of Mr. COSTA. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and pay tribute to the life of Major General Ronald Hrant Markarian, who passed away on October 12, 2019. Major General Markarian valiantly served our country for 46 years in the California Army National Guard and the Air Force.

Major General Markarian was born in Fresno, California on June 27, 1931 to Theodore and Rose Markarian. He graduated from Clovis High School and was a member of the California Cadet Core. While in high school, Major General Markarian joined the California National Guard. He was in the Heavy Mortar Company of the 185th Infantry Regiment for three years. He then attended California State University, Fresno. During that time, he enrolled in the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps. After graduation, Major General Markarian joined the United States Air Force. His assignments included duties such as B-47 and B-52 strategic bombers. In 1964 he completed his master’s degree in public administration from George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

Major General Markarian was also Chief of Air Reconnaissance Operations in Southeast Asia. He flew 116 Reconnaissance missions during that time. One of his duty stations was in Hawaii and he served as the Pacific Air Forces Director of Plans and Programs. He was Commander of the 548th Reconnaissance Technical Group. Major General Markarian also worked for six years at the Pentagon and was the Chief of Air Reconnaissance Systems and Director of the United States Air Force Intelligence Reserve Forces.

After 30 years of military service, Major General Markarian retired in August 1980 as a Full Bird Colonel in the Air Force. His need to serve did not end at his retirement. In 1987, Major General Markarian was nominated by California Governor George Deukmejian to be appointed by President Ronald Reagan as California State Director for the Selective Service System. Later, Pete Wilson, Governor of California then appointed him to be the California Commission for the Commemoration of the Second World War. He was appointed Commanding General of the California State Reserve and later promoted to Major General in 1990. In 1994, he was appointed to the California Veterans Board. Major General Markarian retired with 46 years of uniformed military service in October of 1995 after he became a member of the California State Military Reserve.

Major General Markarian’s commitment to public service and our country is truly remarkable and he was a key leader in the community in many capacities even after his military years. He was a founding member of the Central California Veterans Home Support Foundation (CCVHSF) and assisted in acquiring the land for the California Veterans Home in Fresno where he lived during the later years of his life. Major General Markarian was the president of Central California Chapter of the Association of the United States Army, American Red Cross and the Military Intelligence Corps Association.

Madm Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the life of Major General Ronald Hrant Markarian. His service to our nation and contributions to veterans in the Central Valley will not be forgotten.

Mr. LONG. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Melissa “Misty” Grandel for being named the 2020 Missouri Teacher of the Year.

If there is one thing people know about Misty, it’s that she is a Missourian through and through. Generations of her family, including Misty, grew up in rural Webster County near the town of Fordland, Missouri. She attended Fordland High School and went on to study English at Drury University. After a few years into her teaching career, she was asked to teach at Fordland High School where she has been teaching for 21 years.

Misty knows the importance of education in a rural community. The Fordland School District serves 550 students, and over half of them qualify for free and reduced-price meals. Despite this statistic, 97 percent of students graduate on time, and 61 percent go on to attend college. This would not be possible without teachers like Misty who are passionate about their students and their community.

Misty doesn’t just put in her time and go home. She goes above and beyond for the children of Fordland High School. Along with teaching six courses, she also sponsors after school and extracurricular activities including the Beta Club. Through her work with the Beta Club, she shares her passion for giving back to the community with her students.

Every day, Misty walks into her classroom not just to teach, but to instill lifelong values into the children of Fordland High School. She goes above and beyond for the children she teaches and the community she serves. She is well-deserving of this achievement, and we are proud to have her represent Missouri in the National Teacher of the Year program.
HONORING MRS. DOROTHY KATHERINE SPENCE BROWNING

HON. MARTHA ROBY
OF ALABAMA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mrs. ROBY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of Mrs. Dorothy K. Spence Browning for her service in the Navy WAVES during World War II.

Dorothy was born on January 2, 1922, in Great Falls, Montana. She grew up running an apple orchard with her family in Glenn’s Ferry, Idaho. Later, she attended college at the University of Idaho and then began teaching in a one-room school house in Pocatello, Idaho.

When the war broke out, Dorothy joined the Navy WAVES (Women Accepted for Volunteer Emergency Service). The Navy WAVES were created in 1942, following the signing of the Women’s Reserve Act. This landmark legislation allowed women to serve as an official part of the Navy for the first time and helped pave the way for the future of women in the United States Armed Forces. The numerous contributions from the WAVES proved to be a vital asset to winning the war.

Dorothy served in Brooklyn, New York, Stillwater, Oklahoma, Seattle, Washington, and then finally discharged at Klamath Falls, Oregon. While living in Oregon Dorothy met her husband John H. Browning. John was a young marine from Mobile, AL, who served two tours in Okinawa and Guadalcanal and later received a purple heart for the wounds he suffered.

The couple later moved to Montgomery, AL, where they went on to raise their three children, Phillip, Steve, and Kathy. Dorothy was a tutor for several local elementary schools, taught Sunday school at Perry Hill United Methodist Church, and would sew and craft Raggedy Ann dolls that she would donate to the church bazaar and local charities in Montgomery.

Madam Speaker, it is my privilege to honor Mrs. Browning’s legacy and her service to our nation. Her contributions to secure and maintain our freedom will not be forgotten.

HON. LLOYD SMUCKER
OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. SMUCKER. Madam Speaker, had I been present, I would have voted Nay on Roll Call No. 573; Nay on Roll Call No. 580; YEA on Roll Call No. 581; YEA on Roll Call No. 582; NAY on Roll Call No. 583; and YEA on Roll Call No. 584.

CELEBRATING THE REVIVAL OF THE REX THEATRE

HON. CHRIS PAPPAS
OF NEW HAMPSHIRE
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. PAPPAS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the re-opening of the Rex Theatre in Manchester, New Hampshire. After 30 years of inactivity, the Rex will re-open its doors to Manchester and the rest of the Granite State.

Opened in 1940, the Rex Theatre served as a performance venue until it closed in 1989. In early 2019, after 30 years, the Manchester Development Corporation and Palace Theatre Trust, in collaboration with the City of Manchester, embarked on the tall task of renovating the original location of the Rex with the goal of re-opening in the fall. Only nine months after groundbreaking, the Rex is now re-opening on time and on budget.

The re-opening of the Rex will continue Manchester’s recent growth as a center for innovation and creativity. As a lifelong Manchester resident, I am excited to see the return of this historic theatre. Venues like the Rex Theatre help us showcase the many creative, passionate, and talented people who call New Hampshire home. I am proud to see investment in our local economy and in the arts in the Granite State through projects such as the revival of the Rex.

On behalf of my constituents in New Hampshire’s First Congressional District, I want to congratulate the Manchester Development Corporation and the Palace Theatre Trust on a successful renovation of the Rex Theatre. Let us celebrate the revival of this historic theatre and those who work hard every day to make New Hampshire such a wonderful place to live, learn, and enjoy the arts.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE FOUNDING OF KING GEORGE COUNTY

HON. ROBERT J. WITTMAN OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. WITTMAN. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the founding of King George County in Virginia, taking place on November 15, 1919.

The area we know as King George has a long and storied history that is integral to the overall history and development of America’s government and way of life as we know it today. Its history stretches back over 10,000 years with its settlement by Native Americans, through Captain John Smith’s explorations in the early 1600’s, through the French and Indian Wars, Bacon’s Rebellion, the Whiskey Rebellion, the American Revolution, the Civil War, World War I, the Great Depression, World War II and into the modern era. King George has been the birthplace and childhood home of Presidents, and home to some of the very founders of our great Nation.

King George County has served as the home of one of the country’s great military and research development centers for over 100 years, as well as functioned as a focal point for commerce and trade for our nation.

Madam Speaker, I ask you to join me in recognizing the founding of King George County. Words cannot express how grateful we are to have a county with such history in the founding of our great Nation. May God bless King George County and its residents, and continue to prosper for another 300 years.

HONORING THE COMMUNITY ACTION PARTNERSHIP OF ORANGE COUNTY ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES PROGRAM

HON. J. LUIS CORREA
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. CORREA. Madam Speaker, I rise today in observation of Energy Awareness Month to honor the work of the Community Action Partnership of Orange County (CAP OC) Energy & Environmental Services Program. CAP OC has been weatherizing homes and providing utility assistance for Orange County residents for more than 40 years.

Of the energy funds allocated between 2014 and 2018 to the 34 cities in Orange County, CAP OC has invested more than 35 percent into California’s 46th Congressional District, which includes portions of Anaheim, Orange, Garden Grove and Santa Ana. Among those served in CA-46 by CAP OC were 6,659 disabled persons, 9,677 seniors, and 3,504 children under the age of 5.

During this same period, CAP OC issued more than $5 million in utility assistance for over 14,000 homes in the 46th District and undertook over $1.5 million in weatherization services with improvements to 1,000 dwellings.

This investment has provided an economic boost for low-income individuals by lowering energy costs and reducing or eliminating late fees, thus assuring less dependency on public assistance programs.

In 2019, CAP OC is projected to weatherize a total of 330 homes in Orange County and invest a total of $1.8 million into services that reduce energy costs by 30 percent on average.

HONORING THE COMMUNITY ACTION PARTNERSHIP OF ORANGE COUNTY ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES PROGRAM

HON. JOHN JOYCE
OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. JOYCE of Pennsylvania. Madam Speaker, it is with great pride that I congratulate Hollidaysburg native, Hugh Halpern, on his appointment to be the Director of the Government Publishing Office.

Mr. Halpern previously served as the Director of Floor Operations in the Office of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and spent more than 30 years in the House before retiring in January of this year. During his tenure, he served as the Staff Director of the powerful House Rules Committee among other committee roles.

Throughout his career in Congress, Mr. Halpern was dedicated to working in a bipartisan manner, garnering the support and respect of House leadership, Members of Congress, and their staff. In recognition of his many achievements, he received the McCormack Award of Excellence for Congressional Employees.

Mr. Halpern has dedicated his life of service to our country, and I am confident that he will continue his outstanding work at the Government Publishing Office. There is no one better to fill this position, and I wish him the best of luck as he commences this new chapter.

HONORING HUGH HALPERN and save families at least $238 per year. This will help families to afford other necessities such as groceries and doctor bills.

Other benefits of these services include the elimination of carbon emissions, stimulation of local economies, job creation, improvements to the overall health of the community, and neighborhood stabilization.

By sharing these statistics and benefits through an October 30th Orange County Weatherization Day Celebration, CAP OC is working to inform more constituents of its important services.

Please join me in honoring the critical work being done by the CAP OC Energy & Environmental Services Program to help those in need, to improve our communities, and to protect the planet.

HONORING THE LIFE OF MARIO DE FRANCOSE, JR.

HON. JIM COSTA
OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. COSTA. Madam Speaker, I rise today along with my colleague Mr. Cox to honor and pay tribute to the life of Mr. Mario De Francesco Jr., who passed away on October 14, 2019. Mario was a successful Fresno County Farmer and beloved member of his community. His presence will be greatly missed.

Mario was born on March 25, 1938 to Mario and Pauline De Francesco in Gilroy, California. In 1960, Mario married his loving wife Carolyn Filice on December 4, 1960. Together they raised five children, daughter Michelle, sons Frank, Mario III, Michael, and Christopher.

In 1972, the family relocated to Firebaugh, California in the heart of the San Joaquin Valley agriculture to expand their farming business. With his father and brother, Mario started a food processing business which quickly flourished and became one of the premiere companies in the dehydrated onions and garlic industry. The De Francesco’s products were sold in the United States and worldwide.

Mario found his greatest joy in his family and friends. He enjoyed life’s simple pleasures, such as cooking and entertaining loved ones in his home.

Mario is survived by his wife, Carolyn, daughter Michelle and her husband Chris Cardella, sons Frank and his wife Sandi, Mario III and his wife Vicki, Michael, and Christopher and his wife Linda. He also leaves behind many grandchildren, their spouses and great-grandchildren.

Madam Speaker, we ask our colleagues to join us in honoring the life of Mr. Mario De Francesco Jr. His commitment and dedication to farming in California’s heartland deserve recognition. We join his family, friends, and members of the community in honoring his great life.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF JAMESTOWN AREA MEALS ON WHEELS

HON. TOM REED
OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. REED. Madam Speaker, today I rise to recognize the fiftieth anniversary of Jamestown Area Meals on Wheels.

The Jamestown Area Meals on Wheels was formed on July 21, 1969 by Rolland Taft, Vaughn Rudy, Harry Bloom and other members of the community. In the past fifty years, the program has served almost five million meals—serving the community each and every day one meal at a time.

Volunteers at Meals on Wheels bring healthy, much needed meals to those who cannot access them otherwise. They give of their time, their energy and their passion to do good in the world. This organization is made up of people who care about those in need—that is what makes them truly successful.

Today, the program delivers meals five days a week and the meals they provide cover seven days’ worth of food for their clients. This service has grown from just a few clients in 1969 to many across the Jamestown area in fifty years. I can’t wait to see how much of an impact they have in another fifty years.

Given the above, I ask that this Legislative Body pause in its deliberations and join me to recognize Jamestown Area Meals on Wheels on their fiftieth anniversary.

COMMEMORATING ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY YEARS OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

HON. STEVE STIVER
OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. STIVERS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to commemorate one-hundred and fifty years of college football. In 1869, Rutgers College, now Rutgers University, won the first college game against the College of New Jersey, now Princeton University, with a score of 6 to 4. Since then, this time-honored game has been woven into the fabric of our nation and the lives of countless Americans. I will always re-member Saturdays spent at “the Shoe” as a student at The Ohio State University, gleefully cheering on the Buckeyes, and the comradery I felt with tens of thousands of fans there.

As our differences are used to divide us, college football allows us to celebrate what unites our nation. We value grit and determination; we believe in teamwork, and in having the will to succeed; we embrace our individual roles to advance an idea or organization that is bigger than us. College football allows us to put aside our differences and rally around a common, unifying cause: victory for our team.

Knowing that nearly five million Americans attended college football games during the 2018 season highlights just how ingratiated this game is in today’s culture. It makes our communities grow closer and gives each of us a sense of pride that was honed during rau-cious chants of “O-H-I-O,” “Roll Tide,” or “Hook ’em, horns.”

Beyond the undeniable excitement and sense of community our teams foster every Saturday, it is undisputable that the stories and memories made live on well after the lights have been shut off. Commemorating the memories, from the first game a child attended, bonding with their parents, keeping family tradition alive, to the tailgate where total strangers became lifelong friends—it’s easy to see the importance this game has played in our history for over one hundred and fifty years. I am confident that, for the next one-hundred and fifty years, Americans will continue to eagerly await college football season and the excitement, pride, and unity it brings. Madam Speaker, I encourage my colleagues to join me in recognizing this milestone for college football.

HONORING THE LEGACY OF JAMES DOUGLAS COLQUITT

HON. J. LUIS CORREA
OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. CORREA. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the legacy of James Douglas Colquitt, a veteran, a businessman, a dedicated husband, father, grandfather, and a champion of the marginalized and under-served.

Born July 21, 1930, to Willie Colquitt and Mary Naomi Brown, James grew up with his brother, Thomas Meeks, in Valley Mills, Texas.

After graduating from high school, he joined the United States Army. His military service allowed him to travel throughout the United States and abroad.

A veteran of the Korean and Vietnam Wars, James served his country for 20 years with honor and distinction, earning personal decorations and many unit certifications and awards. In 1967, he retired at Fort MacArthur Army Base in San Pedro, California.

He began a second career in aerospace with Hughes Aircraft Division in Fullerton, California. He realized a long-held desire to become a business owner when he opened an automobile tire center in Fullerton. He also owned liquor stores in Santa Ana and Los Angeles, which he operated for more than 20 years.
James became an activist in local civic organizations. He served as President of the Orange County Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) for over 15 years.

In addition, he spent more than two decades as the Community Action Partnership of Orange County (CAP OC) Board of Directors as a representative of the NAACP.

He also carried out duties of Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the African American Beverage and Grocers Association Scholarship Fund and was a long-term member of the National United Merchants and Beverage Association.

James was married to Betty J. Colquitt for over 63 years and spent 50 of those years together in Placentia. James and Betty raised four children, who blessed them with six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Please join me in honoring the legacy of James Douglas Colquitt, a patriot who dedicated his life to his family, country, and community.

GENERAL JAMES N. MATTIS CONGRESSIONAL GOLD MEDAL ACT

HON. DAN NEWHOUSE OF WASHINGTON
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, October 28, 2019

Mr. NEWHOUSE. Madam Speaker, all of Central Washington's constituents are special, and I am proud to represent each one of them in our nation's capital. One constituent I am most proud of is General James N. Mattis, decorated four-star general and former U.S. Secretary of Defense. He exemplifies the American principles of hard work, patriotism, and integrity. He can communicate and resonate with everyone—from heads of state and Members of Congress to local business leaders and young students. His military and civilian service serves as an example for all, and I am honored to call him my friend.

Jim Mattis is a Washingtonian through and through. He was born in Pullman, raised in Richland, and attended college in Ellensburg. When he enlisted in the United States Marine Corps Reserve in 1969, I doubt he realized the impact his service would have on the people of Washington State—and the entire nation.

His devotion to defending the United States and our Constitution has earned the deepest degree of trust, respect, and admiration from our men and women serving in uniform across the globe. He was the first United States Marine Corps officer to command a Naval Task Force in Afghanistan following the attacks on September 11, 2001. He bravely commanded forces including the U.S. Joint Forces Command, NATO's Supreme Allied Command for Transformation, and U.S. Central Command. When President Donald Trump nominated General Mattis for United States Secretary of Defense, he served honorably until December 31, 2018.

General Mattis is recognized around the world as an exemplary military general, and he is revered in Central Washington as a hometown hero. Despite his outstanding career and numerous awards, he remains humble and involved throughout Washington state. From volunteering with the Tri-Cities Food Bank to hosting ceremonies for Vietnam veterans, General Mattis continually demonstrates his commitment to our local community.

The Congressional Gold Medal is the highest honor the United States Congress can bestow on an individual. The greatest generals, thinkers, and leaders in our nation have received this award, including, but not limited to, George Washington, Ulysses S. Grant, Douglas MacArthur, and Harry S. Truman. I believe General Mattis belongs amongst these giants of American exceptionalism.

That is why I am introducing the General James N. Mattis Congressional Gold Medal Act with the full bipartisan support of the Washington congressional delegation. If signed into law, this bill would bestow our hometown hero with this great honor. As I told General Mattis, I will work my hardest to ensure he is the next distinguished leader to receive the Congressional Gold Medal. I urge all of my colleagues to support the General James N. Mattis Congressional Gold Medal Act.

The Congressional Record (USPS 087-390). The Periodicals postage is paid at Washington, D.C. The public proceedings of each House of Congress, as reported by the Official Reporters thereof, are printed pursuant to directions of the Joint Committee on Printing as authorized by appropriate provisions of Title 44, United States Code, and published for each day that one or both Houses are in session, excepting very infrequent instances when two or more unusually small consecutive issues are printed one time. †Public access to the Congressional Record is available online through the U.S. Government Publishing Office, at www.govinfo.gov, free of charge to the user. The information is updated online each day the Congressional Record is published. For more information, contact the GPO Customer Contact Center, U.S. Government Publishing Office, Phone 202-512-1800, or 866-512-1800 (toll-free). E-Mail, contactcenter@gpo.gov. ‡To place an order for any of these products, visit the U.S. Government Online Bookstore at: bookstore.gpo.gov. Mail orders to: Superintendent of Documents, P.O. Box 979050, St. Louis, MO 63197-9000, or phone orders to 866-512-1800 (toll-free), 202-512-1800 (D.C. area), or fax to 202-512-2104. Remit check or money order, made payable to the Superintendent of Documents, or use VISA, MasterCard, Discover, American Express, or GPO Deposit Account. §Following each session of Congress, the daily Congressional Record is revised, printed, permanently bound and sold by the Superintendent of Documents in individual parts or by sets. ¶With the exception of copyrighted articles, there are no restrictions on the republication of material from the Congressional Record.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Superintendent of Documents, Congressional Record, U.S. Government Publishing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, along with the entire mailing label from the last issue received.
