

priorities should be reducing and reusing.

So what can we do? We can start by making good personal choices, and here is an easy one: Don't use plastic utensils.

More than 100 million plastic utensils are used and thrown away into landfills every day across the country. They can't be recycled.

We can think twice about whether we really need our water to come in plastic bottles. There are far better choices.

And for Democrats, the party that commits to careful environmental stewardship, we absolutely, positively must lead by example.

Madam Speaker, in the coming months I will be reaching out to my colleagues to take action on this issue.

Happy recycling day.
