(d) The Secretary shall also take appropriate steps to ensure that project-based contracts remain in effect, subject to the exercise of contractual abatement remedies to assist relocation of tenants for major threats to health and safety after written notice to the affected tenants. To the extent the Secretary determines, in consultation with the tenants and the local government, that the property is not feasible for continued rental assistance payments under such section 8 or other programs, based on consideration of—

(b) All unobligated balances from funds appropriated under the heading "Department of Housing and Urban Development Public and Indian Housing—Project-Based Rental Assistance" in chapter 10 of title I of division B of the Consolidated Security, Disaster Assistance, and Continuing Appropriations Act, 2009 (Public Law 110-329; 122 Stat. 324) (as amended by section 1203 of Public Law 111-32; 123 Stat. 1859) are hereby rescinded.

SEC. 236. Any public housing agency designated as a Moving to Work agency pursuant to section 239 of (Public Law 114-113) may, upon such designation, use funds (except for special purpose funding, including special purpose vouchers) previously allocated to any such public housing agency under section 8 or 9 of the United States Housing Act of 1937, including any reserve funds held by the public housing agency or funds held by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, pursuant to the authority for use of section 8 or 9 funding provided under such section and section 204 of title II of the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1996 (Public Law 104-134), notwithstanding the purposes for which such funds were appropriated.

SEC. 237. None of the amounts made available by this Act or by Public Law 116-6 may be used to prohibit any public housing agency under receivership or the direction of a Federal monitor from applying for, receiving, or using funds made available under the heading "Public Housing Capital Fund" for competitive grants to evaluate and reduce lead-based paint hazards in this Act or that remain available and not awarded from prior Acts, or be used to prohibit a public housing agency from using such funds to carry out any required work pursuant to a settlement agreement, consent decree, voluntary agreement, or similar document for a violation of the Lead Safe Housing or Lead Disclosure Rules.

SEC. 238. The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development shall include in the budget materials submitted to Congress in support of the budget of the President submitted under section 1105 of title 31, United States Code, for fiscal year 2021, recommendations and any associated costs for future research on insurance models designed to reduce evictions or expand access to rental opportunities for tenants, such as rental payment insurance.

SEC. 239. It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) more than 17,000,000 people live in manufactured homes and benefit from high-quality affordable homes which provide stability;

(2) owners of manufactured homes have disproportionately low-income households, and in 2013, the median annual household income for living in manufactured housing was $28,400;

(3) approximately 75 percent of manufactured home households earn less than $50,000 per year;

(4) more than 10 percent of veterans in the United States live in manufactured homes;

(5) in late 1990, manufactured housing represented ⅓ of the new affordable housing produced in the United States and remains a significant source of unsubsidized affordable housing in the United States;

(6) in 2015, the average cost per square foot for a new manufactured home was 48 dollars, less than half of the cost per square foot for a new-site built, structure-only home, which was $101;

(7) in 2009, 43 percent of all new homes that sold for less than $150,000 were manufactured homes;

(8) manufactured homes account for 23 percent of new home sales under $200,000;

(9) more than 50,000 manufactured home communities, also referred to as "mobile home parks", exist throughout the United States;

(10) more than 2,900,000 manufactured homes are placed in manufactured home communities;

(11) manufactured home communities provide critical affordable housing, but receive very little Federal, State, or local funds to subsidize the cost of manufactured homes;

(12) manufactured home owners in such communities may own the home, but they do not own the land under the home, which leaves the home owners vulnerable to rent increases, arbitrary rule enforcement, and in the case of a manufactured home community owner converting the land to some other use, community closure;

(13) an eviction or closure of a manufactured home community is very disruptive to a resident who may be unable to pay the thousands of dollars it takes to move the manufactured home or find a new location for the manufactured home;

(14) in an effort to preserve a crucial source of affordable housing within the past two decades, a national network of housing providers has helped residents purchase and own the land under the manufactured home community, and manage the manufactured home community;

(15) nationwide, there are more than 1,000 stable, permanent ownership cooperatives or non-profit-owned developments in more than a dozen States;

(16) members of manufactured home communities continue to own such homes individually, own an equal share of the land beneath the entire manufactured home community, participate in the governing of the community, and elect a board of directors who make major decisions within the manufactured home community by a democratic vote;

(17) in New Hampshire, more than 30 percent of manufactured home communities are owned by residents;

(18) resident-owned cooperatives and non-profit owned communities have also flourished in Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Washington, Oregon, and Minnesota;

(19) nationwide, only 2 percent of all manufactured home communities are resident or non-profit-owned;

(20) when the owner of a manufactured home community or his or her heirs sell the community to the highest bidder, it can result in displacement for dozens and sometimes hundreds of families; and

(21) Congress should endeavor to protect residents of manufactured home communities by encouraging the owners of those properties to sell them to nonprofit organizations or to the residents themselves to own cooperatively.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 708, the motion shall be debatable for 1 hour equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on Appropriations.

The gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY) and the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. GRANGER) each will control 30 minutes.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the House amendment to the Senate amendment to H.R. 3055.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from New York?

There was no objection.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

While the House did its work and passed 12 appropriations bills through committee and 10 appropriations bills off the floor, delays in the Senate mean the appropriations process is behind.

With just days until current stopgap funding expires, we must pass a continuing resolution to keep the government open and fund key priorities as we negotiate subcommittee allocations and then finalize individual appropriation bills.

This legislation avoids controversial policies and instead contains provisions that reflect shared priorities, including bipartisan language to fully fund a fair and accurate 2020 decennial Census, a 3.1 percent pay raise for our military, and language to prevent a rescission of $7.6 billion in highway funding.

In addition to these provisions, the CR includes a package of extenders that will keep health programs critical to American families up and running. By extending these programs and government funding through December 20, this CR will allow additional time to negotiate and enact responsible long-term funding for priorities that make our country safer and stronger and give working families a better chance at a better life.

Mr. Speaker, even as we pass this CR today, American families, businesses, and communities need the certainty of full-year funding. To complete the appropriations process, we must first settle allocations with the Senate Republicans. Only by coming together in good faith can we enact responsible full-year spending bills that invest for the people and give every American a better chance at a better life.

I urge my colleagues to join me in support of this legislation, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. GRANGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

It is with a heavy heart that I rise today in opposition to the continuing resolution. As an appropriator, I don't want to support anything short of full-year appropriations bills, especially when it comes to funding for our national defense. Even so, in September, I urged my colleagues to join me in voting for a temporary CR to avoid a government shutdown and give the Senate time to complete their work.

At that time the budget deal had just been signed into law, and the Senate had not yet started consideration of full appropriations measures for fiscal year 2020. By voting for the last CR, I argued at the time that we would provide enough time for appropriators in the House and the Senate to complete work on full-year appropriations bills.

Unfortunately, not only has that not happened, there still has not even been an agreement reached on spending levels for those bills. No business in the world could survive on temporary funding doled out on a month-to-month basis. The uncertainty created by the habit Congress finds itself in of repeated CRs and the continual threat of a shutdown is crippling, especially for our military.

Continuing resolutions limit the military's ability to operate, train, and care for our servicemembers and their families and continue the critical research and development that is needed to meet and defeat all threats. Congress must not fail to meet its most fundamental constitutional responsibility to provide appropriations.

I call on my colleagues in both parties in both Chambers of Congress to immediately come together, put politics aside, and work together to reach an agreement for a full-year appropriations measure that the President can sign.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield the balance of my time to the gentlewoman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR) and I ask unanimous consent that she be allowed to control that time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MORELLE). Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from New York?

There was no objection.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER), our majority leader.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding.

I want to thank Mrs. LOWEY and Ms. GRANGER for their leadership on this committee. I want them to know that I appreciate their commitment to doing the appropriations process the way we are supposed to do it.

But this day is a recognition of failure, a failure to do our work as those who adopted the Budget Committee report in 1974, as those of us who have served on the Appropriations Committee since 1983, 23 years active on the Appropriations Committee, but still on it but under a waiver.

This is an admission of failure. It is a recognition of failure. It is a recognition that the Senate did not do its job. It is a recognition that the White House would not cooperate in getting to 302(b) allocations.

I talked to Senator MCCONNELL in January of this year. Leader MCCONNELL and I agreed that we wanted to get the appropriations work done in a fashion that it was intended to be done, considering discretely and individually appropriation bills, considering them on the floor.

Now, frankly, we did not do that. We did not do it for time's sake, so that we could do things in a timely fashion. And we considered three omnibus bills, minibuses as we called them, and we sent them to the Senate prior to June 26 of this year, which gave the Senate more time. They had all the time they needed. And because the White House, and, in particular, the acting chief of staff, Mr. Mulvaney—who has been one of the most negative people I have dealt with in terms of fiscal responsibility and doing the work of the House on time, and the person who would say "amen" would be John Boehner. Paul Ryan would be not too far behind.

But Mr. Mulvaney wanted to go to sequester. That was his original play. And when that didn't fly some months into the sequester gambit, he went to a CR for the whole year.

But then he found the Pentagon rightfully was very concerned about that proposal that would damage our national security, so he continued to delay. I don't know whether the President was involved in it or not, frankly. So we did not get to a 302(a) allocation.

For those, Mr. Speaker, watching all this jargon that we are using, that means how much discretionary money we are going to spend in total. By the way, our citizens, Mr. Speaker, ought to know that it is only about one-third, maybe a little less, that is discretionary. The other is Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid, things of that nature.

We needed to come to an agreement on how much we were going to spend. After all, we understand the President has to sign the bills. But it was not the committees that made that agreement. It was not the Budget Committee that was involved in that agreement. It was Speaker PELOSI and Secretary Mnuchin meeting together. The Senate wasn't really involved.

We got to a number, and that was good, in July, which meant that the Senate had another 2 months to pass its bills, to come to an agreement.

They didn't have to take our 302(b), and they weren't going to take it. They would have taken it within the constraints of the Mnuchin-Pelosi agreement or, more properly, the Pelosi-Mnuchin agreement. But they still did not enact a single appropriations bill.

Now, the floor is not filled. The galleries are not filled, Mr. Speaker. This is sort of inside baseball. But, very frankly, there are only 12 bills that need to pass. All the other bills can be put off. It will have adverse effects, but it will not shut down the people's government. But if we don't pass these 12 bills, it shuts down the people's government.

For the first time in the history of the Congress, this Congress took over with a government partially shut down.

I am going to vote for this CR, but I do not delude myself that this is a successful pursuance of the appropriations process. It is not. It is a failure. It is not our failure. We did our work on time.

The Republican whip, Mr. Speaker, keeps telling me: Well, it was a partisan exercise.

It may well have been a partisan exercise, but 10 bills went to the United States Senate unattended, untouched, unconsidered, and so we are here.

The alternative is shutting down government at midnight on December 21. That is not an acceptable alternative.

I want to tell my friends, Mr. Speaker, and I want to say to those in this Chamber, that I have great respect for Ranking Member GRANGER, with whom I have worked for longer perhaps than either one of us want to say, but a long time. I have respect for her commitment to the appropriations process, her commitment to regular order, and her commitment to doing our work in the fashion that the American people can have confidence.

Mr. Speaker, I have confidence in Mrs. LOWEY, the chair of the committee. I know that they are working together and have the same objective. That does not mean they agree on every dollar, as to how it ought to be allocated, but it does mean they think it ought to be considered in the way that it should be. This is not the way it should be.

This is the way it is, and I am going to vote for it. I urge my Members to vote for it. But I will say, Mr. Speaker, if I am upset today, if we don't get our work done, and I mean done, and you talk about a CR on December 20, I will not be happy. I don't know what that means, but I am going to have additional discussions with Senator MCCONNELL, as I have had with the chairman of the Appropriations Committee in the Senate and the ranking member, Mr. LEAHY. I have talked to both Mr. SHELBY and Mr. LEAHY. They want to get this work done.

There is no reason on God's green Earth that we cannot do the appropriations bills in the way that they ought to be done, except we lack the will to compromise. We lack the will to work together. We lack the will to do the American people's business on time, rationally, and without creating a sense that this institution cannot and does not work.

I hope we use these days that are left between today and December 20 in a productive, effective way so that the appropriations process can be concluded on December 20 or before.

This probably is going to have no constructive effect this day, but I hope in the days to come that we will all have such a sense of urgency that we owe it to the country, to our people, and to this institution to show the American people we can make it work. Let's do it.

Ms. GRANGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. WOMACK).

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. GRANGER) for yielding and for her leadership.

I, too, am concerned about the direction we are heading in this continuing resolution, but I have another reason, Mr. Speaker. This CR includes a provision that has a significant budgetary impact. I am frustrated that the amendment I filed with the Rules Committee last night was not made in order to address it.

My amendment would have offset $76 billion in mandatory spending increases from repealing a rescission of funds in the 2015 Fixing America's Surface Transportation Act, or FAST Act, a transportation bill.

This provision, Mr. Speaker, would have a significant impact on mandatory spending, which everybody in this Chamber knows is driving the Nation's deficits and debt.

Let me be clear: The amendment would have allowed for the highway funding to take place but simply called for it to be paid for.

Now, I don't think that is asking too much, to ask for increases in spending, given the fact that we will have a trillion-dollar deficit this year on top of the $23 trillion debt, to just simply pay for the excesses.

The House should have had an opportunity to consider whether to offset the funding in a fiscally responsible manner, in my opinion. I find it troubling that we were not given that opportunity. That is one thing.

The manner in which the CR was assembled doesn't provide a great deal of hope that we will enact a full-year defense spending bill, which the military so desperately needs right now. I share the concerns of the distinguished majority leader.

Mr. Speaker, I am not optimistic that we will conclude all of these other funding bills before the expiration of the next CR. The difference is going to be that it is going to be the 20th of December. It is going to be right before Christmas, and we will do whatever we can to get out of town to go celebrate the holidays.

The majority leader says if that happens, he will be mad. My recommendation to him is to prepare to be mad. I know how this place works.

Mr. Speaker, is it not apparent to the discerning people of America and specifically to the people in this Chamber that this is a flawed and broken process and that we need to fix it?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. GRANGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arkansas.

Mr. WOMACK. Mr. Speaker, we need to fix it.

I spent last year with the distinguished chair of the Appropriations Committee, Mrs. LOWEY, as co-chairs of the Joint Select Committee on Budget and Appropriations Process Reform. We got really close on some good ideas that would fundamentally change the way we do our Article I responsibility, but we left all that at the altar.

What more evidence do we need to show that this process is flawed, that it is broken and needs to be fixed?

I am frustrated. The American people are frustrated.

Nobody paying attention to this process conducts their business or their personal finances the way this body does, the legislative body of the most incredible country ever known to humankind.

Yet the question today is: Will we just kick the can down the road to right before Christmas in hopes that this Congress is going to have some epiphany that we have to do the work that we have been trying to do for the last 7 weeks? We are 7 weeks into the fiscal year.

Mr. Speaker, I had breakfast this morning with the Secretary of the Army, and here is what he said: Eventually, we will give you the money, our men and women in uniform. The problem is that we can't give you the time back.

That time is running through the clock, so I am frustrated.

I am prepared to vote "no," and I am prepared to continue to work as long as it takes to make sure that we do our work on time and not kick the can down the road.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this continuing resolution.

I listened carefully to what the gentleman said just prior to my taking the floor, and I wish that the other body had done its work. We did ours. I am pretty proud of our Members.

This bill ensures that the Federal Government and its lights stay on, that we pay our bills on time, and that the people's business continues while negotiations on a full year's spending deal proceed.

While we are hopeful an agreement can quickly be reached, I am really disappointed that the Senate continues to delay while so much is at stake. I really don't understand the problem over there.

For each day that we delay in passing a full-year appropriations bill, we send a message of uncertainty that has consequences for the business of the American people. Be glad you are not a contracting officer in one of the agencies, certainly the Department of Defense, at this point.

For our subcommittee, my bill, the Energy and Water Development, and Related Agencies appropriations bill, proposes key investments to the Army Corps of Engineers, in our Nation's crumbling water infrastructure, and in the energy innovation pipeline that is so essential to sustaining life on Earth. The United States must remain at the forefront of energy innovation to address climate change, so vital to people across the globe.

This bill essentially offers a pathway, and that is all it is, for our committees to negotiate on a final bill that makes these key investments and many others across committees.

In addition to giving Congress the space to finalize our bills, this continuing resolution makes key investments in the Census, and they make those investments as soon as the bill passes.

We must ensure a complete census count. In fact, the country can't wait even 1 month to invest in this ramp-up effort. Ads are out all across the country. The Census Bureau has to do its job.

And the Census will support reapportionment and will impact everything the Federal Government does, from grant programs to redistricting.

I urge my colleagues to support this legislation so the committees can move toward full agreement. I urge prayerful thoughts for our colleagues over in the other body to do their work so that we don't have to use up the full time before December 20 and we can actually pass the bills that are necessary before that time.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. GRANGER. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ) of the Military Construction, Veterans Affairs, and Related Agencies Subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee, who does such a fine job.

Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ. Mr. Speaker, I thank the distinguished woman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in reluctant support of this continuing resolution, which would keep the government open until December 20, 2019.

As has been stated, but can't be stated enough, the House has done its job. We passed our appropriations bills earlier this summer. Unfortunately, the Senate failed to act in time, and now we are kicking the can down the road yet again with a second CR.

A CR is destructive for our Federal agencies, but we need to keep the government open, obviously. Fortunately, this CR has a few provisions that make this bitter medicine more palatable.

It once again includes critical health extenders for Medicare and Medicaid programs and for other benefit programs like Temporary Assistance for Needy Families.

Notably, the bill also restores necessary funding for the Census Bureau as it gears up for the 2020 Census, and it includes a 3.1 percent pay raise for our troops. As chairwoman of the Appropriations Military Construction, Veterans Affairs, and Related Agencies Subcommittee, I happily support this necessary pay raise for our service members.

But let me make this clear: We cannot responsibly govern by an endless series of destructive continuing resolutions. These Band-Aids keep the lights on but serve as de facto spending cuts for our Federal agencies, and they handcuff short and longer term budget and project planning.

Instead of locking ourselves into a series of CRs, it is imperative that the Senate work with us in good faith to come to agreement on top-line funding numbers, and do so without taking all their marching orders from the White House.

Passing CRs also abdicates our congressional power of the purse. The Appropriations Committee put a lot of work and countless beneficial provisions into our bills. We must not toss all of that thoughtful work aside.

Mr. Speaker, I support passage of this CR. Our businesses, families, and local communities deserve and need that budget certainty.

But I urge Congress to work out amongst ourselves a concrete path forward to fulfill our appropriations responsibilities and resume orderly funding of the government.

Ms. GRANGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote for this continuing resolution, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, the Continuing Resolution before us today not only keeps our government open and operating until December 20, 2019—as we finalize the 2020 budget—but it also extends authorities for critical services such as the National Flood Insurance Program, Community Health Centers, and the National Health Service Corps.

Of particular significance to thousands of 9/11 survivors—and a giant step forward for justice—the CR also reforms the US Victims of State Sponsored Terrorism (USVSST) Fund to ensure that immediate family members—the spouses and children of the victims of 9/11—are, for the first time, given rightful access to the judgements they have won in court against the perpetrators of the attack on our Nation.

The USVSST was established by Congress in December 2015 to compensate victims of international state-sponsored terrorism. It is funded entirely by criminal and civil penalties collected by the US government from foreign entities that violate U.S. sanctions—primarily related to Iran. In addition to compensating Americans who were held hostage during the Iranian Hostage Crisis of 1979–1981, the 2015 legislation also sought to award any persons who have won legal judgments in a U.S. federal district court against a state sponsor of terrorism arising from acts of international terrorism.

Is there any more deserving group of victims of state sponsored acts of terrorism than those who lost their parents or spouses on September 11, 2001? I don't think so.

Yet, remarkably through a misinterpretation of the 2015 law by the fund's Special Master, the immediate family members—i.e. the dependents—were barred from participating—that's unfair, unjust and unconscionable.

In 2017 and 2019, the fund granted awards to the Iranian hostages, their relatives, victims of U.S. embassy bombings and the Marine barracks in Lebanon—and to more distant relatives of those who were killed on 9/11. But the spouses and children of 9/11 victims were denied, barred and shown the door.

With the deadline for the 2020 round of awards approaching, this past September I hosted a town meeting in Wall Township, New Jersey. Widely attended by spouses and children from across the entire tri-state area, the meeting exposed anew the struggles these survivors continue to face, the sacrifices they have endured, the efforts they have made to hold state sponsors of terrorism accountable for the deaths of their loved ones, and the madness in the decision to bar them from the USVSST.

The technical correction in the CR reflects a bipartisan agreement, an equitable fix to the USVSST that permits 9/11 spouses and children to pursue their judgements in the fund while continuing the participation of other victims as well.

None of this would have been possible if not for the leadership and commitment of the victim's spouses and children, people who continue to seek justice after the murders of their loved ones. Many stepped forward, and those known as the Jersey Girls—Kristen Breitweiser, Mindy Kleinberg, Lorie Van Auken, and Kathy Maher—have been tireless, factual and well-informed in advocating for the needed reforms.

Kathy Wisniewski, a surviving widow, former school vice principal, and member of my staff, has been relentless especially in working on behalf of the surviving children. And Angela Mistrulli was tenacious in working with leaders outside the tri-state area to help bring about this needed reform.

With absolute clarity, Congress has now instructed the Justice Department to specifically honor the judgements of these immediate 9/11 family members.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All time for debate has expired.

Pursuant to House Resolution 708, the previous question is ordered.

The question is on the motion by the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY).

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Ms. GRANGER. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XX, this 15-minute vote on the motion to concur will be followed by a 5-minute vote on agreeing to the Speaker's approval of the Journal, if ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 231, nays 192, not voting 7, as follows:

RECOGNIZING ALZHEIMER’S AWARENESS MONTH

(Mr. PAYNE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PAYNE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize November as Alzheimer’s Awareness Month.

Alzheimer’s disease causes brain cells to waste away slowly and die, causing memory loss and, possibly, death. It is a condition that affects 5.5 million Americans and growing.

It was believed to be a disease of old age, but diet, exercise, and lifestyle are becoming larger factors.

It is a personal concern for me because I am a diabetic. I have a greater chance of contracting it as I age.

But Alzheimer’s patients are not the only ones who suffer. The disease takes a terrible toll on loved ones as sufferers demand constant care.

Madam Speaker, we need to devote more resources to a disease that could affect us all.

RECOGNIZING JOHN O. BROWN AS TENNESSEE SECOND DISTRICT’S VETERAN OF THE MONTH

(Mr. BURCHETT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BURCHETT. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize John O. Brown as the Tennessee Second District’s November 2019 Veteran of the Month.

A Vietnam war veteran, Sergeant Brown served in the U.S. Army for almost 13 years before medically retiring in 1971.

John Brown was born on January 17, 1936, in the metropolis of Kettle Hollow, Tennessee. He graduated from Horace Maynard High School in 1951, joined the Army in 1958, and deployed to Vietnam as part of the Ninth Infantry Division in 1966. During his 12 months in Vietnam, Brown rose to the rank of sergeant first class before returning stateside.

In 1969, Sergeant Brown received orders to return to Vietnam. On June 20 of that year, he was wounded in action and medically evacuated. The injury resulted in the amputation of one of his legs.

For his bravery and service throughout his military career, Sergeant Brown was awarded the Purple Heart, the Silver Star, the Combat Infantry Badge, the Bronze Star, and the Army Commendation Medal.

Despite living with a service-related disability, Sergeant Brown enthusiastically reentered civilian life. He earned degrees from Tennessee State Regional Vocational School and the Tennessee Institute of Electronics. Upon his graduation, he worked in sales for Sony and then became JVC’s director of government overseas sales. He retired after a 27-year career with JVC.

I am proud to recognize John O. Brown as the Tennessee Second District’s November 2019 Veteran of the Month.
