

victories for the American people and prevent massive tax increases that, frankly, bipartisan majorities have opposed in this House from the very beginning.

The flaw in the ACA bill was funding it with things that even my friends on their side did not support and have not supported. They are not for the medical device tax. They are not for taxing people's insurance plans. They are certainly not for the taxes on so-called Cadillac healthcare plans, which are nothing more than good healthcare plans that American people and workers have bargained for.

So I consider these, however imperfectly achieved, real victories for the American people, real bipartisan compromises.

The most important part of this bill is actually the underlying appropriations process, and there we achieved what we failed to achieve last year, as regular governance working for most of the fiscal year: no government shutdown, thoughtful increases, and, frankly, reductions in places that, on a bipartisan basis, we were able to agree.

Mr. Speaker, I urge support for the two appropriations measures we are considering today. The two bills will fully fund the government for fiscal year 2020 and represent a truly bipartisan and bicameral compromise.

I want to applaud all of the Members for the work they have accomplished on these bills which show what we can do when we set our partisan differences aside and truly focus on governing our great Nation together. We will ensure that the government remains open and operating for our constituents and will ensure that the government resources are going where they are needed.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues, obviously, to vote "no" on the previous question and "no" on the rule, but I urge strong and enthusiastic support for the underlying legislation, which I think achieves many victories for the American people and does so to the credit of both parties.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. MORELLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, my friend, the late, great Governor of New York, Mario Cuomo, once said, "We campaign in poetry and govern in prose," and I think he foresaw days like today when we come together in the spirit of compromise to accomplish great things for our communities and for the country.

I want to thank my colleagues for their support and Mr. COLE's support of both Consolidated Appropriations Acts, and I especially thank Chairwoman LOWEY, Ranking Member GRANGER, and all of the Members on the Appropriations Committee, including the distinguished gentleman from Oklahoma, for their tireless work in reaching this bipartisan compromise.

Mr. Speaker, I urge a "yes" vote on the rule and a "yes" vote on the previous question.

The material previously referred to by Mr. COLE is as follows:

SEC. 6. Clause 1(c) of rule XIX shall not apply to the consideration of H.R. 1869.

Mr. MORELLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on ordering the previous question.
