APPOINTMENT OF MEMBER TO BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE INSTITUTE OF AMERICAN INDIAN AND ALASKA NATIVE CULTURE AND ARTS DEVELOPMENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair announces the Speaker's appointment, pursuant to 20 U.S.C. 4412, and the order of the House of January 3, 2019, of the following Member on the part of the House to the Board of Trustees of the Institute of American Indian and Alaska Native Culture and Arts Development:

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska

SUPPORTING THE HEROES ACT

(Mrs. BUSTOS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mrs. BUSTOS. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of the HEROES Act.

When I last spoke on this bill in this Chamber, I told a story about a young man in my congressional district that I serve named Noah. He wrote to me that his town may not survive this pandemic.

Now, more than a month since, I am awfully worried, too. The HEROES Act would provide $915 billion for State and local assistance so our small towns and cities, like where Noah lives, are not left behind.

It would strengthen programs for small business and deliver economic security to those that are the backbone of our economy.

As our country is reeling from record-high COVID-19 cases, it would allow uninsured Americans to access health insurance. Pretty darn important during a worldwide pandemic.

For the cities and towns, for our small businesses, and for so many Americans, this is not about politics; it is about survival. I urge the Senate to join us in passing the HEROES Act.

HONORING CRAIG JOHNSON AND AURASH ZARKESHAN

(Mr. KEVIN HERN of Oklahoma asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. KEVIN HERN of Oklahoma. Madam Speaker, I rise with a broken heart today. On Monday, two of our police officers were shot during a routine stop.

Sergeant Craig Johnson was a leader in Tulsa, serving on the police force for over 15 years. Sergeant Johnson had a strong relationship with local leaders and took pride in keeping the community he loves safe. He was a strong friend to fellow officers and a compassionate leader with a servant's heart.

Sergeant Johnson died from his wounds earlier today. Officer Aurash Zarkeshan remains in critical condition.

Craig and Aurash are examples of the remarkable men and women who choose to put themselves in harm's way to protect us every day.

The best sound a police officer's spouse can hear is the sound of the Velcro of the officer's vest coming off at the end of the shift. Instead of that sound, Sergeant Johnson's wife had to get the worst call a spouse can get.

Madam Speaker, Black lives matter and so do those who wear the blue.

My prayers are with his wife, Krysta, his two children, and the many ones he left behind.

HONORING COACH PAT DYE

(Mr. ALLEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, on June 1, 2020, America lost a football legend. Pat Dye was a player, coach, administrator, and, most importantly, a dear friend.

Coach Dye's ties to the 12th District of Georgia run deep, as he was born and raised in Blythe, Georgia.

He started his football career at Richmond Academy as captain of the team that won a State championship there. He went on to play at the University of Georgia, where he was a two-time All-American.

Coach Dye was most known for his work transforming the Auburn University football team, where he served as Auburn's head coach from 1981 to 1992 and as athletic director from 1981 to 1991.

As the only Auburn alumnus currently serving in Congress, what a privilege it is for me to stand here on the House floor and enter into the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD Coach Dye's amazing record, which includes four SEC championship wins, including three straight from 1987 to 1989.

He led Auburn to three Sugar Bowls and finished in the top 10 five times, including four straight seasons, from 1986 to 1989. So it was no surprise that he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame as a coach in 2005.
