

Robert was active duty with the U.S. Navy from 1951 to 1955, then started in the Navy Active Reserve until his retirement as a commander in 1980. As a Navy Air Operations Officer, he received numerous awards and designations.

As a fellow graduate of the University of Alabama School of Law, I had the pleasure of working with Robert on many occasions, and I will miss his passion, professionalism, and friendship.

I offer my sincere condolences to his beloved wife, Pat, and their children. They can be proud of the legacy of service that Robert leaves behind.

RECOGNIZING NICKY CHRISTOPHER

(Mr. FITZPATRICK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FITZPATRICK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize an amazing member of our community. Nicky Christopher is a 12-year-old from Yardley, Pennsylvania, who has been working to brighten the day of people across our community.

Over the last several months, Nicky has decorated dozens of homes to celebrate birthdays, graduations, and bar and bat mitzvahs and other causes for celebration.

In an amazing show of community spirit, families have donated supplies and decorations to help Nicky continue to bring joy across our community. And while Nicky receives some cash donations, he takes any money that is not spent on supplies, and he donates that money to children who have been displaced from their homes.

Mr. Speaker, Nicky's kindness and generosity are an inspiration for our entire community and our entire Nation. I know that he has been able to brighten the day of so many people in our community when they have really needed it the most.

Last month I had the opportunity to meet Nicky over Zoom, and I cannot say enough about what an amazing young man he is and how proud I am to represent him in Congress and how incredibly proud his family must be.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Nicky for bringing so much light to our community and to our Nation. We need more people like him.

HONORING THE LIFE OF ERIC MEYERHOFF

(Mr. CARTER of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to remember and honor the life of beloved Savannah architect Eric Meyerhoff, who passed away at the age of 91.

Eric was a gift to the Savannah community, who blessed it with his gift of imagination. Eric helped create the Savannah Riverfront and more than 74 projects in the historic district, including the World War II monument titled, "A World Apart," which is located on River Street.

Eric played a large part in making the beautiful city what it is today, and he spent over 50 years bringing his vision for Savannah to life. Although Eric was extremely committed to Savannah's architecture, he was even more committed to his people.

Eric and his family escaped Nazi Germany in the 1930s, so he had many impactful stories that touched countless lives.

Eric was also a veteran. Eric served as a translator in the United States Army.

Eric was a graduate of the University of Florida and was a huge Florida Gators fan.

Although most in the Savannah community knew Eric as a renowned architect, he was also a devoted teacher, provider, husband, and father.

I am thankful for the life Eric lived, and he will leave a lasting impact on Savannah with his architectural creations. My thoughts and prayers are with his family and friends during this most difficult time.

RECOGNIZING THE 100TH BIRTHDAY OF ED EWING

(Mr. LAMALFA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LAMALFA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 100th birthday of a great World War II veteran, Ed Ewing from Redding, California.

Ed is a U.S. Army veteran, who once dreamed of being a doctor but then found his way to be a longtime owner and operator of Economy 4 Cycle Marine.

Ed began his business in Redding in 1960. He tried to retire in 1985 and did so for 6 years, but he reopened his doors again and worked until just a few years ago, finally retiring at 98 years old.

Ed knows Bearcat outboard motors inside and out, and he had people seeking out his expertise from all over the country.

At his birthday party this past weekend, I am told that Ed still appeared to be running on all cylinders.

Mr. Speaker, I wish Ed a happy birthday and I wish him and his family a wonderful year ahead.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The bill, as amended, is debatable for 90 minutes equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on Appropriations.

The gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY) and the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. COLE) each will control 45 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from New York.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the measure under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from New York?

There was no objection.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Today, we continue investing for the people with H.R. 7617.

This minibus combines six appropriations bills: Defense, Commerce-Justice-Science, Energy and Water Development, Financial Services and General Government, Labor-HHS-Education, and Transportation-Housing and Urban Development.

The bill promotes economic recovery from the devastating COVID-19 pandemic. It provides more than $200 billion in emergency funding to rebuild our Nation's transportation, housing, and energy infrastructure; to expand broadband to unserved and underserved areas; and to rebuild the Nation's aged public health capacity and support State and local health agencies and global health activities.

The bill prioritizes public health and safety with $47 billion for lifesaving medical research at the National Institutes of Health and $50 million, an increase of $25 million above fiscal year 2020, for firearm injury and mortality prevention research at the NIH and CDC. It includes strong funding for numerous public health efforts, including initiatives to reduce HIV infections, address tobacco and e-cigarette use, and ensure food safety.

As we confront the twin crises of COVID-19 and systemic racism, the bill takes bold steps to build safer and stronger communities for all people. It provides strong funding to support law enforcement reform at the State and local level while catalyzing economic development in disadvantaged communities that is fundamental to a more just and equitable society.

Among other priorities, the bill invests in education and job training; expands access to safe, affordable, and fair housing; supports servicemembers and military families; and combats climate change and embraces a clean energy future.

This package prioritizes the lives and livelihoods of the American people and makes the strong investments needed to build a stronger future for every person.

It is the product of months of thoughtful deliberation and input from Members on both sides of the aisle. I am proud of the work we have completed under the incredibly difficult circumstances of the COVID-19 pandemic. Our incredibly talented appropriations subcommittee chairs will discuss more about what this package does for the people.

Mr. Speaker, I urge support for the bill, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

As the vice ranking member of the House Appropriations Committee, Mr. Speaker, I stand today in opposition to H.R. 7617, the second set of fiscal year 2021 appropriations bills to be considered by the House.

This minibus of six bills includes the two largest, Defense and Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, as well as the titles covering Commerce-Justice-Science, Energy and Water Development, Financial Services and General Government, and, finally, Transportation-Housing and Urban Development.

While I am always encouraged to see the process of funding government underway in Congress, Democrats, unfortunately, chose a deeply flawed approach in exercising this function for fiscal year 2021.

Remember, nearly a year ago, Mr. Speaker, Congress passed and President Trump signed into law the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2019, which set budgetary levels for fiscal years 2020 and 2021. This bipartisan and bicameral compromise was the result of a good faith negotiation between the President and congressional leadership. Last year, my friends on their side of the aisle actually kept that agreement, and we had an orderly appropriations process, a successful outcome, and we have had no government shutdowns, no long-term continuing resolutions.

This year, however, despite this existing agreement, Democrats on the House Appropriations Committee chose to write bills that greatly exceed the spending limits allowed for fiscal year 2021. In fact, they did so through extensive use of a budget gimmick that designates certain funds as emergency.

Without question, there are many worthwhile items and priorities in these six bills before us, Mr. Speaker, but I remain concerned about the use of emergency designated funds as a workaround and scheme to break the budget agreement between the two parties and the President.

In fact, in this bill alone, there is well over $200 billion of this so-called emergency spending, clearly in violation of the budget agreement. $186 billion is included in the infrastructure title without any bipartisan discussion or agreement. Another $24 billion is included to address the coronavirus, even though discussions and negotiations are underway on another supplemental specifically for that purpose.

These funds were added without any consultation with House Republicans, with the Senate, or with the President, and without that consultation, they have no chance of becoming law.

Now, let's remember, Mr. Speaker, some of the critical things these six appropriations titles are supposed to support each year: our dedicated servicemembers who put their lives on the line every day to defend and preserve our precious freedom; our courageous law enforcement officers who keep our communities safe; our hardworking small business owners and their workers who are seeking to achieve the American Dream; our vital researchers who are looking for lifesaving treatments and cures; our ports and waterways that are so critical to commerce; and, finally, they support our transit system upon which many Americans depend daily.

All these things are put at risk, Mr. Speaker, unless Democrats and Republicans work together.

Unfortunately, along with the unworkable approach taken in writing this package of bills, there are many partisan policy positions that must come out before it can become law. Many of these partisan provisions are similar to policies pushed through the House in recent months.

Considering that the committee has had more than 100 hearings and briefings to make important funding decisions, it is disappointing that many of these provisions seem to have been dictated from the top.

A few examples:

The bill jeopardizes our safety and security by allowing terrorists detained at Guantanamo Bay to be brought to U.S. soil.

It also includes language that would prevent the United States from exercising the right to defend ourselves and our allies, such as Israel.

In a time when China is seeking to dominate the world order, this bill would undermine America's preeminence in space exploration and cede the opportunity to China to dominate the next frontier.

Also concerning, this minibus plays into the dangerous narrative of defunding the police through its failure to provide adequate funding for our Federal law enforcement agencies.

Moreover, State and local law enforcement agencies are barred from receiving excess equipment from the Department of Defense.

As the ranking member of the Labor-HHS-Education Subcommittee, I am, of course, most familiar with the partisan provisions contained there. Indeed, the text of that bill includes a wide variety of harmful riders.

First, it includes a partisan policy prescription that will tie the hands of the administration with respect to the Title X family planning program. Most notably, the riders would force the administration to resume grants awarded to controversial groups that provide abortions, such as Planned Parenthood, and it would prevent the administration from granting waivers that protect deeply held religious beliefs of institutions, organizations, and individuals that provide vital services funded in the bill.

The Labor-HHS title also includes riders that would undo the Department of Labor's rule clarifying the joint employer standard. If this policy rider were enacted, it would cause chaos for thousands of businesses and millions of employees, leaving them uncertain about the nature of the employment relationship.

Not to be outdone, this bill also includes riders micromanaging and second-guessing how HHS administers the Unaccompanied Alien Children Program, which will ensure that the individuals devoting their energies to assisting such unaccompanied minors will find themselves devoting their energy to becoming wrapped up evermore deeply in congressionally mandated red tape.

Again, the same can be said for the other five divisions of this package. Throughout this minibus, the Democratic majority has inserted policy riders that tie the hands of the administration. They have limited the ability of the administration to reprogram funds, even when necessary. They have inserted rider after rider aimed at preventing the President from spending money on barriers and security measures at the southern border. And they have removed countless bipartisan policy provisions that have been carried in previous year's bills.

When it comes to Congress' fundamental function of keeping the government open and operating, good faith negotiation must be present at every stage. In this era of divided government, that might be challenging, but we have proven time and time again that it is certainly not impossible.

We did it when we negotiated the 2019 budget agreement. We did it again when we moved through an orderly process for the 2020 fiscal year appropriations bills. And, finally, we did it most recently on four separate occasions in dealing with the coronavirus.

All of these successes were the product of bipartisan negotiation in divided government. In those negotiations, neither side can dictate to the other or jam the other, or failure will result.

In the days ahead, Mr. Speaker, we must work together on appropriations bills that reflect the bipartisan budget agreement and leave out controversial policy language. Until we do that, no appropriations bill will make it to the President's desk, and we will run the risk later this year of either a long-term continuing resolution or even a government shutdown.

For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition to the second minibus package, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentlewoman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR), the chairwoman of the Subcommittee on Energy and Water Development, and Related Agencies.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Speaker, I thank Chairwoman LOWEY, Ranking Member GRANGER, and Vice Ranking Member COLE.

Please let me add my thanks to Chair LOWEY for her years of honorable, dedicated, and affable service to this committee and to our Nation and for her recognition of the full potential of the Energy and Water division.

Truly, she will be missed. Without question, she has made her mark across our Nation and the world. She can draw great satisfaction from that.

Mr. Speaker, I also want to thank my brother, Stephen, who is watching from a distance. Without his strength and courage, I would not be here today.

This bill represents an overwhelming majority of our total discretionary appropriations, and with its passage, the House's completion of 10 appropriation bills.

Mr. Speaker, I extend congratulations to Chairwoman LOWEY and, of course, Ranking Member KAY GRANGER for this feat in the middle of a global pandemic.

Mr. Speaker, I also have to thank the marvelous committee staff who have made this possible. I wish to say that the Energy and Water division captures the American spirit of ingenuity and independence in our enterprising Nation.

Our bill lays the foundation for critical investments to combat climate change. It is poised to pass today as the most important funded climate change bill the 116th Congress will pass.

□ 1045

Truly, this bill will sustain life in America and address global imperatives.

Our bill upgrades and strengthens our Nation's energy and water infrastructure.

It responsibly funds our Nation's nuclear deterrent. It rejects the administration's dangerous plan to start nuclear explosive testing.

The bill rejects the President's drastic and shortsighted proposed cuts that would harm America's leadership at home and abroad. Instead, it invests in important programs that keep our Nation at the forefront of global energy innovation.

It enables the efficient shipment of goods. It provides water, irrigation, and electricity to millions upon millions of Americans, and these programs propel real economic growth and the jobs that go with it.

Let me briefly walk through the bill.

The Army Corps of Engineers receives $7.6 billion, the second year of record funding and an increase of $1.7 billion above the budget request.

The Bureau of Reclamation receives $1.64 billion, an increase of $508 million above the request.

The Department of Energy receives $41 billion, an increase of $5.1 billion above the request. Within the Department of Energy, the bill contains historic funding levels for key programs critical to our future.

First, energy efficiency and renewable energy receive $2.85 billion, $2.1 billion above the request. ARPA-E, our advanced energy portfolio, receives $435 million, a record amount for a program the President proposed to eliminate, blunting America's future.

The Office of Science receives $7.05 billion, $1.2 billion above the request.

This bill also provides an increase for the home Weatherization Assistance Program. It helps ensure that additional low-income households have energy-efficient and more livable and affordable futures in communities across our Nation.

The National Nuclear Security Administration receives $18 billion, $1.3 billion above 2020. Within the Nuclear Security Administration, the bill responsibly funds America's nuclear deterrent.

Nuclear nonproliferation receives $2.24 billion, an increase of $209 million above the request.

Finally, this bill prohibits the diversion of essential Army Corps funds to be used for a border wall. In addition to regular appropriations, the bill cues up additional investments that will spur a job-rich, robust economic recovery by modernizing our water and energy infrastructure.

I cannot thank our chair more for her efforts to make sure this occurs, including $17 billion to accelerate backlogged Army Corps of Engineers projects across this Nation; $3 billion to accelerate work on authorized reclamation projects; and $25.3 billion for the Department of Energy to modernize infrastructure and deploy technologies for our Nation's future clean energy.

In sum, the Energy and Water division will help put America back to work. It makes desperately needed investments in crumbling water infrastructure across the Nation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentlewoman from Ohio an additional 30 seconds.

Ms. KAPTUR. It maintains a credible nuclear deterrent while supporting a robust nonproliferation program.

I would like to thank our ranking member, Mr. SIMPSON, for his partnership and thank our subcommittee staff for their hard work: Jaime Shimek, Farouk Ophaso, Scott McKee, Marcel Caldwell, Mike Brain, Mark Arnone, and Angie Giancarlo on the other side.

I want to thank all of our committee members, especially dear friends like Chairman VISLOSKY; Chairman SERRANO; Chairwoman LOWEY; and on the Republican side, Mr. GRAVES, all of whom are retiring. They will take with them over a century of cumulative legislative knowledge that simply cannot be replaced.

It is a profound contribution but also a great loss to our Nation as you depart. May God bless you all.

I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 6 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Alabama (Mr. ADERHOLT), my good friend, the ranking member of the Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies Subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I rise this morning in opposition to H.R. 7617.

I do appreciate the efforts of the majority in producing the FY 2021 appropriations package that we are considering on the floor today. This bill addresses many priorities and concerns that Members on both sides of the aisle have.

There are a lot of things in this bill that we all agree on, particularly in division B of the Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act.

I do want to thank Chairman SERRANO for including the resources necessary to work toward completion of the Space Launch System, or, as it is commonly called, the SLS, including no less than $400 million for the Block 1B version of the Space Launch System.

With its powerful Exploration Upper Stage and the 8.4-meter payload fairing, the Block 1B represents a transformational strategic capability for the United States and deep-space exploration.

NASA must increase the pace of SLS production to ensure that a Space Launch System is available for the Europa missions and other future science missions, in addition to meeting all human exploration needs.

I also want to thank Chairman SERRANO. Of course, as has been said, he is going to be retiring after this term. We certainly will miss him around here in the House Chamber and the Capitol complex.

I want to thank him also for including $110 million for the nuclear thermal propulsion, a level necessary to work toward the design of a flight demonstration by 2024.

In addition to some key space priorities, the bill also addresses issues impacting all of our communities. It increases funding for critical drug court programs and other vital initiatives that address the opioid epidemic, as well as the DNA analysis programs that are helping to solve cold cases and eliminate the backlog of sexual assault cases.

The bill also rightly directs the Department of Justice to undertake novel approaches to addressing online child exploitation, obscenity, and human trafficking.

In addition, the bill includes strong funding for the agencies to ensure compliance with trade laws and agreements. I am especially pleased that it funds the aluminum import monitoring program.

The bill also supports the administration's Industries of the Future initiative with new investments in quantum information science, artificial intelligence, 5G research, and advanced manufacturing.

Finally, I want to thank Chairman SERRANO and his staff for including $10 million for the VORTEX Southeast program. The number of killer tornadoes in the southeastern part of the United States is really disproportionate to the overall number of tornadoes throughout the country. VORTEX Southeast is doing critical work to better understand environmental factors and improve weather forecast communications in my home region of the South and Southeast.

However, with all of this being said, the strong funding that is in some areas of this bill, unfortunately, it makes the deficiencies in this bill even more glaring.

For example, we all saw for ourselves several weeks ago, when the Nation witnessed the first U.S.-based launch of astronauts in 10 years, the passion of the American people at that time for a renewed era of space exploration and a recognition of the strategic value of U.S. space supremacy.

Yet, this bill that we are debating today rejects America's Moon-to-Mars Artemis initiative and the capabilities needed to land the first woman on the Moon by 2024.

Worse still, this bill caters to the radical demands of defunding so many of our law enforcement agencies across the board. None of the Federal law enforcement agencies in this bill, including the FBI, the ATF, the DEA, or the U.S. Marshals Service, are fully funded in this legislation.

The Attorney General has made fighting gun crime one of his priorities, yet none of his initiatives received the requested increase. Even bipartisan requests to address violent gun crime, along with the request to increase resources for the investigation and prosecution of human trafficking, child exploitation, and high-tech organized crime at the Federal level, have been marginalized in this bill.

The bill includes so many new unauthorized conditions on the Byrne JAG and COPS programs, it seems these grants will basically be halted indefinitely.

I have no doubt that our side of the aisle could have supported some bipartisan police training reforms and other policy initiatives, had the majority not bowed to the pressure of defunding so many of these programs.

The bill also sets a terrible precedent by proposing to use hard-earned taxpayer dollars to defend people crossing the border illegally. Sadly, it will only serve to further entice people to make that dangerous journey as they head north.

This bill eliminates several longstanding Second Amendment protections that have enjoyed historical bipartisan support. The elimination of freedoms that are not even associated with firearms is an unfortunate outgrowth of the gun control agenda with no basis in the science of criminal justice.

In closing, I want to thank Chairwoman LOWEY and Chairman SERRANO and all of their staff for their hard work. They both have great careers, and we will certainly miss them.

Just in closing, I do want to say thanks to the minority staff: Stephanie Gadbois, Darren Benjamin, and Kristin Clarkson, along with the majority staff, Bob Bonner, Jeff Ashford, Trisha Castaneda, Faye Cobb, T.J. Lowdermilk, Shannon McCully, and B.G. Wright.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. COLE, Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentleman from Alabama an additional 30 seconds.

Mr. ADERHOLT. I continue to be committed to working with the majority in good faith as we proceed through the legislative process, and I look forward to the debate that we will have today.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, it is such an honor for me to yield to the next speaker, the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. VISCLOSKY), who is the chairman of the Subcommittee on Defense.

Mr. VISCLOSKY has announced that he is going to retire, but he has committed so much of his knowledge, his energy, to a bill that requires a lot of knowledge of detail. It is a very, very difficult bill, but Mr. VISCLOSKY has mastered it.

At the same time that the gentleman has focused on this very important bill, he remembers all of his constituents back home. My vision of Mr. VISCLOSKY was writing notes and participating in the hearing, but it was clear to me that the gentleman served every one of his constituents with distinction as well as being chairman of this committee.

Mr. Speaker, I say to Mr. VISCLOSKY: Good luck, my friend. Good health, my friend. I wish you everything the best on your retirement, and more time with family and friends.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. VISCLOSKY), the outstanding chair of the Subcommittee on Defense.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the chairwoman for her very kind remarks. I also want to thank NITA for her friendship over the years. As I am going to again mention in my prepared remarks, the gentlewoman's life of service to not only her constituency, not only to this great Nation, but to the people of the world, given all of her work on the Subcommittee on State, Foreign Operations, and Related Agencies, and again, having a broad, long-term view of dedicating her life to make sure that the world we leave is going to be better for our children and posterity.

So I appreciate that as well. As I have quipped, if the gentlewoman is not going to be back next year, I am not going to be back next year.

I, first of all, do want to thank my ranking member and my friend, Mr. CALVERT, for his continued commitment to being collegial, transparent, and bipartisan.

I cannot overstate the value of the gentleman's friendship and the partnership we have enjoyed over the years. He is a gentleman.

Further, I would again appreciate and acknowledge the work of chairwoman, Mrs. LOWEY, who is also departing the House at the end of this year. Again I commend you, NITA, for your dedicated life of service and a commitment to leaving this world better. Thank you very much.

□ 1100

I want to also thank the subcommittee staff, particularly our clerks, Becky Leggieri and Johnnie Kaberle; as well as Walter Hearne, Brooke Boyer, Ariana Sarar, Kiya Batmanglidj, Jackie Ripke, David Bortnick, Matt Bower, Bill Adkins, Jennifer Chartrand, Hayden Milberg, Paul Kilbride, Shannon Richter, Sherry Young, Kyle McFarland, Jamie McCormick, Brian Potts, and Nick Vance; those in Ranking Member CALVERT's personal office, as well, Rebecca Keightley and William Hendrickson; and my personal staff, Joe DeVooght and our fellow from the Department of Defense, Major Stephen Cash.

I am profoundly grateful to each for their dedicated service to the public, for their acumen, and for their generosity of spirit.

The bill continues to focus on the well-being and morale of those in uniform and their families as well as DOD civilians and their communities. The bill provides an additional $116 million for upgrades to childcare facilities, and the report contains language directing the military services to present innovative ideas to address the serious backlog for childcare.

It provides $1.49 billion for environmental restoration activities, which is $415 million above the request.

We provide $327 million to address the ongoing epidemic of sexual assault in the military and at the service academies, which is $49 million more than requested. Despite dire warnings, the Department's budget for sexual assault prevention and response remains stagnant. The Department has got to do a much better job.

Another area of deep concern for me is the Department's lack of compliance with many congressionally directed reporting requirements. For example, last year, the committee directed the Department to submit a report on its contracts for advertising services with socially and economically disadvantaged small businesses. The report was supposed to accompany the Department's fiscal year 2021 budgets submission in February, but it was transmitted to the committee on July 14, 5 months late and the same day we marked up the bill. Regrettably, reporting deadlines are often missed, making it much more difficult for the committee to make timely decisions.

The bill, again, contains several provisions to rein in the Department's now habitual redirection of funding and contravention of congressional intent. One DOD official in a meeting earlier this year referred to these transfers of $10 billion as anomalies. I refer to them as habitual abuses. The sense of entitlement in these actions is galling, and I hope that at some point the Department will have the leadership in place to recognize it is Congress' constitutional prerogative and restore trust to the appropriations process.

Mr. Speaker, before I begin with my remarks on the fiscal year (FY) 2021 bill, I would like to briefly discuss some concerns I have as a longtime member of the House Appropriations Committee.

The Committee has a unique responsibility. It is charged with funding and oversight of the entire government, and ensuring that it is as effective and as efficient as possible. However, in some ways, the Committee is at its nadir in terms of its ability to achieve bipartisan solutions. In part, this is due to the Budget Control Act of 2011, which is an ill-fated attempt to balance the federal budget by cutting only discretionary spending.

Currently, mandatory spending and interest on the debt represent 70 percent of the money spent each year by the federal government. Discretionary spending, which is an investment in the future, makes up just 30 percent of federal spending. When less than 30 percent of young Americans are qualified to join the military, it is clear we need to invest more in our nation's health, education, infrastructure, and jobs. Unfortunately, from my perspective, recent Congresses have mistakenly relied on mandatory spending to avoid making difficult decisions on discretionary spending on an annual basis. A case in point, last week the House passed a bill that will provide much needed funding to address the maintenance backlog in our public lands. But the bill utilizes mandatory funding mechanisms that further decrease the ability of Congress and the Appropriations Committee to exercise annual discretion and oversight.

I implore my colleagues who serve in the next Congress to avoid repeating the mistakes of the recent past. The lasting solution to our nation's fiscal problems will only be realized by confronting the continued growth in mandatory spending while simultaneously increasing revenues. In the year 2000, the last year the federal government had a surplus, revenues, as a percentage of GDP, were 20 percent. In fiscal year 2019, revenues were 16.3 percent. We need revenue to invest in the future of our country, and every appropriated dollar is an investment.

Moving onto the FY 2021 bill, I first want to thank my Ranking Member and friend, Mr. CALVERT, for his continued commitment to being collegial, transparent, and bipartisan. I cannot overstate the value of his friendship and the partnership we have enjoyed over the years.

I also want to express my sincere gratitude to Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER. We would not be here without their leadership and dedication.

Further, I would like to acknowledge that Chairwoman LOWEY will be joining me in departing the House at the end of this year. I commend her for a dedicated life of service and commitment to leaving this world a little bit better than the way she found it. Thank you very much. It is a joy to work with you.

I want to thank the Subcommittee staff, particularly, our clerks, Becky Leggieri and Johnnie Kaberle, as well as Walter Hearne, Brooke Boyer, Ariana Sarar, Jackie Ripke, David Bortnick, Matt Bower, Bill Adkins, Jennifer Chartrand, Hayden Milberg, Paul Kilbride, Shannon Richter, Sherry Young, Kyle McFarland, Kiya Batmangliji, Jamie McCormick, Brian Potts, and Nick Vance, my personal office staff, Joe DeVooght and Stephen Cash, and those in Ranking Member CALVERT's personal office, Rebecca Keightley and William Hendrickson. Having to assemble the bulk of the bill and report remotely increased the degree of difficulty substantially, as it has for all of the subcommittees. I commend them for their professionalism and acumen.

The bill would provide $694.6 billion for the Department of Defense budget, which is $1.3 billion above the fiscal year 2020 enacted level and $3.7 billion below the request. The base funding recommendation is $626.2 billion, which is $3.5 billion above the fiscal year 2020 enacted level and $3.5 billion below the request. The overseas contingency operations recommendation is $68.4 billion, which is $2.2 billion below the fiscal year 2020 enacted level and $215 million below the request.

This legislation recognizes the complex challenges the members of our Armed Forces and intelligence community face every day throughout the world, and it aims to ensure that they are able to continue to meet these challenges and complete their missions to the best of their abilities. To support this forward-looking posture, the bill makes major investments in operations and maintenance, procurement, and research and development.

I also think it is important to highlight some investments the Committee has made with regards to the current COVID-19 pandemic. This legislation would provide:

$758 million in procurement for COVID-19 recovery for second, third and fourth tier suppliers. This has been of particular interest to Mr. CALVERT, and I appreciate his advocacy of this issue;

$450 million in operation and maintenance for COVID-19 recovery and resupply; and

$150 million in the Defense Health Program for COVID-19 response.

In addition to the funding enumerated above, the legislation places several reporting requirements on the Department specific to COVID-19. The budgetary impacts of the pandemic on the Department are still largely undetermined. Some programs will cost more. However, there will be savings obtained through delayed or cancelled events and activities. It is imperative that the Committee and Congress have as much detail as possible to properly delegate funding and to conduct oversight.

And most importantly, the bill continues to focus on the well-being and morale of those in uniform and their families, as well as DoD civilians and their communities.

The bill provides an additional $116 million for upgrades to childcare facilities and the report contains language directing the military services to present innovative ideas to address the serious backlog for childcare.

The bill provides $1.49 billion for environmental restoration activities, which is $415 million above the request. This increased funding will help DoD address the significant and salient public health risks associated with PFOS/PFOA.

The bill and report take steps to stop the Department from closing military treatment facilities and from reducing military healthcare billets, which would have cost $334.6 million this fiscal year. These plans were poorly justified to the Committee prior to the pandemic, and even harder to defend under current conditions.

The bill provides $327 million to address the ongoing epidemic of sexual assault in the military and at the service academies, which is $49 million more than requested. And I must express my personal upset over this issue. The most recent report on the sexual assault rate for women has jumped a shocking 50 percent from 2016 to 2018. Despite dire warnings, the Department's budget for sexual assault prevention and response remains stagnant. And I would also say it is not just a question of money. Year after year after year, we have testimony from officials who contend that they are really committed to solving this problem. And yet we are going backwards. The Department must do a much better job.

These efforts and several others within the bill will have an immediate positive impact on people's quality of life.

Another area of concern for me is the Department's lack of compliance with many Congressionally directed reporting requirements. For example, last year the Committee directed the Department to submit a report on its contracts for advertising services with socially and economically disadvantaged small businesses. The report was supposed to accompany the Department's FY 2021 budget submission in February, but it was transmitted to the Committee on July 14, five months late and the same day we marked up the bill. Regrettably, reporting deadlines are often missed, making it much more difficult for the Committee to make timely decisions.

The bill, again, contains several provisions to rein in the Department's habitual redirection of funding and contravention of congressional intent. These actions have irreparably damaged the Department's credibility with the Committee. One DoD official, in a meeting, referred to these transfers of billions of dollars as anomalies. I refer to them as habitual abuses by the Department.

In recent years, the Department leadership has not missed an opportunity to claim that a 3 percent to 5 percent annual growth rate in the defense budget is necessary to support the National Defense Strategy. But at the same time, those same leaders facilitated the transfer of nearly $10 billion to non-defense activities not enumerated in their own National Defense Strategy. And while this was happening, they also have the temerity to repeatedly request more flexibility from Congress for executing their budget and for reprogramming authorities. The sense of entitlement in these actions is galling, and I hope that at some point the Department will have the leadership in place to recognize Congress's constitutional prerogative and restore trust to the appropriations process.

In closing, I would again thank my chair, ranking member, and all of the members, who have logged so many hours in making this bill possible. I look forward to debate on the amendments.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 7 minutes to the gentleman from Idaho (Mr. SIMPSON). My very good friend is the ranking member on the Energy and Water Development, and Related Agencies Subcommittee on Appropriations.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend from Oklahoma for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in reluctant opposition to H.R. 7617, the six-bill fiscal year 2021 appropriations package that includes the Energy and Water Development appropriations bill.

I had hoped to have been able to support the appropriations bill this year. Unfortunately, while the bill includes some bipartisan priorities, excessive spending and partisan riders mean I am unable to support the bill at this time.

I am pleased that the bill continues significant investments in our Nation's water resources infrastructure, including harbor maintenance activities. Unfortunately, the majority is choosing to ignore several opportunities to enhance water security in the drought-prone West. The bill cuts funding for water storage projects, blocks a critical water storage project in California, and unnecessarily delays the use of previously appropriated funds for other water storage projects.

Republicans—in fact, I think every Republican from the California delegation—filed multiple amendments to correct these problems, but none of them were made in order. Even a simple amendment to highlight the importance of funding for water storage projects was left out of the rule.

In fact, every other Energy and Water amendment that followed the same format was made in order and will be in en bloc amendments expected to be adopted. Yet the majority refused to allow the full House to even consider and to even debate these critical Western water storage issues.

One bipartisan priority of great importance to me is the Department of Energy's nuclear energy program. While the bill addresses several priority activities within the program, overall funding for the program is not reflective of its importance to the national and global energy future.

The committee report repeatedly expresses the majority's intent to address climate change, and we have heard that today several times. Yet nuclear energy, a carbon-free, baseload source of power, suffers one of the largest cuts from enacted levels in the entire bill.

I am pleased to support Mr. WEBER's amendment highlighting the importance of the versatile test reactor. This project will provide a capability that will help with the development of next-generation fast neutron reactors as well as benefit materials development for today's reactors. I am hopeful that, moving forward, we can work together towards stronger funding for the entire nuclear energy program, including the versatile test reactor.

One of my main concerns with the bill is the significant amount of emergency spending, mandatory spending, and other gimmicks that effectively undermine the defense and nondefense spending levels agreed to in last year's bipartisan budget deal.

The emergency spending provisions alone almost double the cost of the Energy and Water bill, all without discussion, let alone buy-in from House Republicans. That is why I support Mr. PERRY's amendment to strike the emergency spending in the Energy and Water bill. If there is a demonstrated need for spending above and beyond the bipartisan caps, it should only occur as a result of bipartisan discussions on that issue, not as a partisan title to an annual appropriations bill.

Even with all the additional spending, however, the bill still shortchanges funding for the nuclear weapons program by almost $2 billion. Currently, much of our nuclear weapons complex infrastructure is old, outdated, and some of it is literally falling apart. We must uphold our Nation's strong nuclear deterrence posture, and to do that, we must adequately fund the activities necessary to maintain a safe, reliable, and effective nuclear weapons stockpile.

The bill includes numerous policy riders and authorizing provisions, most of which we know will be unacceptable to the administration and will need to be addressed before a final bill can be enacted. I believe one of these riders is intended to reaffirm current law with respect to the authority of the Secretary of Energy, and I strongly support that intent.

The House will consider an amendment to strike this language due to concerns that the text goes beyond the intent and would unintentionally disrupt the important work of the Nuclear Weapons Council. While I certainly understand those concerns, I am also concerned about recent efforts in the Senate to undermine the authority of the Secretary of Energy.

The Secretary must continue to have full authority for appropriately balancing priorities across the entire Department, including the nuclear weapons program. Unless or until those Senate efforts are defeated once and for all, I believe it would be better to improve the bill text to avoid unintended consequences rather than strike the language entirely.

Finally, I am disappointed that the bill does not include any funding to advance the Yucca Mountain license application process and, instead, offers a false promise of interim storage as a solution to the nuclear waste issue. Continuing the license process is how we ensure an authoritative scientific decision—not a political decision—on the safety of Yucca Mountain.

Over the past few decades, electricity customers across the country have paid roughly $43 billion, with accrued interest, into the nuclear waste fund for permanent disposal of nuclear waste. Due to the political decision to halt advancement of a permanent repository, however, it is the taxpayers—not the ratepayers, but the taxpayers in all 435 congressional districts—who currently are paying approximately $2.2 million per day, or more than $800 million per year, to cover the cost of temporary onsite storage.

There has long been broad, bipartisan support for continuing the Yucca Mountain licensing process, and the Energy and Water bill should reflect that reality.

Despite our disagreements over the issues I have mentioned, I want to close by thanking Chairwoman KAPTUR and the majority staff for their dedication and hard work on this bill. Ms. KAPTUR has continued the cooperative tradition of the subcommittee, even during this year's unusual circumstances, and I appreciate that very much.

I would also like to thank Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER for their support.

Lastly, I would like to thank the staff on both sides of the aisle, particularly my staff in my office, Sarah Cannon, who is on kind of semi-leave about ready to deliver another child. So she does a great job.

I look forward to working together as this bill moves forward in the legislative process to develop a final Energy and Water bill that reflects a balanced set of priorities.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Ms. DELAURO), who is the outstanding and passionate chair of the Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies.

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak on a portion of the bill for Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies.

To start, let me commend my dear friend, the chair of the full Appropriations Committee, Congresswoman NITA LOWEY, who is a path breaker and a change maker. NITA LOWEY has made this Nation and the world a far better place because of the commitments that she has to the issues that come before this subcommittee: quality education, after school programs, and protections for working men and women.

Under her leadership, appropriations proceeded despite, and in response to, this virus and the disparities that it has exposed. She is a force. She leaves a legacy of excellence and of innovation, and, as I have said before on a number of occasions, I will miss my friend. I will miss her in the Halls, and I will miss her in committee, but our friendship carries on.

Also, I want to say thank you to Ranking Member COLE for his friendship and for his gracious, collaborative spirit in which we work together on the Labor-HHS bill, which we have for the last several years in producing the bill. While we have differences of opinion on issues, there is no difference of opinion on the shared values that we have in providing opportunity and creating opportunity for the people of this country. So I thank the gentleman very, very much.

For 2021, the Labor-HHS bill includes $196.5 billion in overall funding. It is an increase of $2.4 billion above the 2020 enacted level, $20.8 billion above the President's 2021 budget request.

The bill supports some of our Nation's most critical programs from early Head Start, Social Security, CDC, and NIH. They touch individuals and families throughout their lives and help to create that opportunity to allow America to realize its values and its promise.

The Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Subcommittee also continues to be central to our response to COVID-19. We are at the center of this health and economic crisis and the serious racial and economic disparities that it has exposed.

Since March, we have appropriated $280 billion in emergency funding for education, for health, and for working people throughout the pandemic. We add $300 billion more in the HEROES bill: $197 billion in health, $100 billion in education, and $3.1 billion in labor.

Today we seek to build on those emergency and supplemental packages so that we can be making it safe for our economy to reopen.

Our Members recognize the importance of this bill. The subcommittee received more than 15,000 requests for today's bill, and I am proud to say that we were able to fill so many of them either in total or in part, and that is from both sides of the aisle.

Let me provide a brief overview.

Together, we are making investments for the Nation for health, education, good-paying safe and secure jobs, and to address the disparities that have been exposed by this virus:

For health, $96 billion for programs at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, an increase in $1.5 billion above 2020. That is a $500 million increase for the NIH and a $230 million increase for the CDC.

For families, children, and seniors, we provide $150 million more for Head Start, $100 million more for childcare, $25 million more for preschool development grants, and $25 million more for the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program.

For education, a $716 million increase from 2020. That includes $254 million for title I education for the disadvantaged, $194 million more for IDEA State grants for special education, $150 million more for a maximum Pell grant, and $50 million more for minority-serving higher education institutions.

As the school year approaches, while the White House chooses to make that a political battle to threaten schools and teachers, instead of beating them down, we are lifting them up to invest in them so that they can meet the education and the life challenges that face them.

For working Americans, this bill provides an increase for the Department of Labor of $254 million, $12.7 billion in total.

When unemployment remains at alarming high levels, we are investing in job opportunity and worker protection with $50 million for more workforce innovation and opportunity grants.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentleman from Connecticut (Ms. DELAURO) an additional 30 seconds.

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, there is $12 million more for Job Corps and a $15 million increase for worker protection programs.

We plan future investments for our public health agencies in an emergency, $24.4 billion; for the CDC, $9 billion; NIH, $5 billion; for BARDA, $4.5 billion.

Mr. Speaker, we are going to look at ensuring oversight on these dollars so that the scientists are in charge and not the politicians.

□ 1115

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has again expired.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 1 minute to the gentlewoman.

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, it is time for us to move boldly, swiftly. Let's defeat the virus and the racial disparities it has exposed in health, education, and the economy. We can and must do so by passing the bill before us, and I urge my colleagues to invest in our constituents, invest in beating this virus, and closing those gaps it has exposed. We need to vote "yes" on this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I will miss my colleagues, Mr. VISCLOSKEY, Mr. SERRANO, Mr. GRAVES, Mrs. ROBY, and Mr. HURD. It has been an honor to serve with them. And to our staff in the majority: Brad Allen, Jared Bass, Jennifer Cama, Robin Juliano, Jackie Kilroy, Laurie Mignone, Stephen Steigleder, and Philip Tizzani. And my personal staff: Letty Mederos, Liz Albertine, and Caitlin Peruccio. I thank Ranking Member GRANGER, and to Shalanda Young and to Chris Bigelow for all of the help you provided us during this period of time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from California, (Mr. CALVERT), my very good friend, the ranking Republican on the Subcommittee on Defense Appropriations.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I rise in reluctant opposition to the defense appropriations division of H.R. 7617.

However, first, I thank the full committee chairwoman, NITA LOWEY, for her dedicated leadership and years of service to the Committee on Appropriations and to this institution.

I also extend my deep gratitude to Chairman VISCLOSKEY, who has been a great partner on the committee and a friend these many years. You will both be very much missed, and I wish you all the happiness in your next chapter.

I also thank our full committee ranking member, KAY GRANGER, for her leadership on this bill. She has been a tireless advocate for our men and women in uniform.

Mr. Speaker, the bill before us today provides funding for many key programs consistent with the National Defense Strategy and is focused on great power competition with China and Russia.

The bill makes critical investments in 5th generation combat aircraft, ships, and an additional Virginia-class submarine, while also providing the combatant commanders the resources necessary to carry out their missions. The bill also continues to invest in research and development of new technologies essential to maintaining U.S. military superiority.

I am also pleased at the focus on providing for the health and welfare of our men and women in uniform. It reflects the longstanding concerns that so many of our members have had with defense health programs; sexual assault prevention, suicide prevention, and a long-awaited electronic health record.

These are all examples of critical investments in this bill that I strongly support. That is why it is so unfortunate that important initiatives that have broad support are overshadowed by political issues.

While this is a very strong bill, there are numerous provisions, like the prohibition on funding for the southwest border wall construction and limitations on DOD's general and special transfer authorities that will draw a veto threat from the administration. It is important that the bill becomes law as soon as possible.

While I cannot support it in its current form, I am committed to working with the majority to produce a bill that can be signed by the President.

The importance of getting a bill done on time cannot be overstated. According to a DOD comptroller, a continuing resolution wastes roughly $1.7 billion a month. $1.7 billion a month wasted. This year, a CR would halt many of the modernization priorities that are vital to maintaining our military superiority over near-peer threats, such as China and Russia. This is no way to run the most sophisticated and professional fighting force in the world.

There are currently over 200,000 U.S. servicemembers deployed around the world, ensuring that threats never meet our shores. They do their job every day; there is no allowance for pause or break. They do what we ask, and it is time for Congress to do what is necessary and required in the U.S. Constitution and provide for the common defense of our Nation in a timely and consistent manner.

Mr. Speaker, in closing, I thank the staff, both minority and majority staff, for their hard work during some very challenging times.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the distinguished gentlewoman from California (Ms. ROYBAL-ALLARD), the hardworking chairwoman of the Subcommittee on Homeland Security, a woman with endless patience and expertise who has worked with dozens of groups who have such definite ideas on this bill.

Ms. ROYBAL-ALLARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 7617, and I commend the chairs of the subcommittees who worked so hard to produce funding bills that reflect our “For the People” vision for America.

The appropriation bills in this minibus provide critical resources for our wide range of vital domestic and defense priorities. As vice chair of the Labor-HHS Subcommittee, I will focus on that title of the bill which, thanks to the efforts of Chairwoman ROSA DELAURO and Ranking Member COLE, upholds our promise to Americans by investing in our workers’ needs, supporting the education of our children, and ensuring all our families and communities have access to quality health programs during this pandemic and beyond.

For example, the bill makes strong investments to strengthen the ability of our public health system to overcome the current COVID crisis, and equally important, to have the resources to build the infrastructure critical to our ability to successfully address public health challenges in the future.

Robust investments are also made to address the health disparities COVID-19 has intensified, and the bill commissions a National Academies of Sciences study on the most promising solutions to advance health equity in the years ahead.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased the Labor-HHS bill contains substantial funding for many of my requests to support mothers and babies during this pandemic and the months to follow. This includes large increases to the Maternal and Child Health Services Block Grant and the Healthy Start program, as well as strong investments in breastfeeding support and a maternal mental health hotline.

Today, our children and families are suffering from the prolonged isolation of school closures and the challenges of learning remotely while parents try to work. As we fight the pandemic, this bill makes critical investments to ensure our children safely receive a high-quality education.

During a time when so many Americans have lost jobs due to the economic impact of this pandemic, the strong outlays in job training and apprenticeships will help American workers gain the skills needed to get well-paying jobs.

Mr. Speaker, Vice President Biden has said, “Don’t tell me what you value. Show me your budget, and I will tell you what you value.”

I thank Chairmen VISCLOSKY, SERRANO, QUIGLEY, and PRICE, and Chairwomen KAPTUR and DELAURO, for outlining those values so clearly in their appropriations bill, and I urge passage of this minibus.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Florida (Mr. DIAZ-BALART), my very good friend and classmate.

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Mr. Speaker, let me start by thanking Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER for their leadership.

A lot has been said about Chairwoman LOWEY, and I don’t want to repeat myself, but the bottom line is: You are one class act, and you will be sorely missed by this institution.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Chairman PRICE for his friendship, his transparency, and his openness in this process. I strongly support so many aspects of the T-HUD portion of this bill. I am particularly pleased with the inclusion of funding and language requests from Members on both sides of the aisle in a nonpartisan way.

I appreciate, for example, the $300 million for port infrastructure grants. It is important, obviously, for coastal States like Florida, but also for our entire country’s freight network, and our economy. It is clear that ports are crucial for our economy.

The bill also includes $389 million for a Maritime Academy Training Ship program—something that had been, frankly, ignored for too many years. This bill supports the training ship in Texas, which will double as a disaster response asset for the region.

The bill continues investments in our Nation’s highways, rail, transit and airport infrastructure. It builds on progress we have made in recent years through, again, this bill creating jobs, improving the quality of life, and spurring innovation. The bill makes important progress to enhance safety on our roads and railways.

Now, these are programs championed for years by Chairwoman LOWEY, and, obviously, Chairman PRICE. And I share her support in these areas, but, again, this has been her driving force.

Funding for FAA will modernize air traffic technologies, improve the safety of our skies, and address noise concerns from our colleagues in our communities.

The bill renews housing assistance for millions of Americans in need. It is our duty. It is our duty to meet this commitment, especially for our elderly, for our disabled, for our heroes, for our veterans. These housing assistance programs are not just a safety net for millions of Americans, but they are a path for opportunity and self-sufficiency to so many.

Chairman PRICE has included new innovative programs to support our efforts to end homelessness in America, including a focus on families at risk of becoming homeless, victims of domestic violence, and veterans.

Again, Chairman PRICE has made so many smart and, by the way, tough decisions, but smart, good policy decisions that I, unfortunately, like my colleagues, find it unfortunate that I cannot support this bill in its current form right now.

A major portion of this T-HUD bill division is based on, frankly, a funding gimmick—$75 billion in new infrastructure spending is designated as an emergency. This violates last year’s bipartisan agreement. It puts our entire appropriations process at risk. The bill also includes controversial DOT and HUD policy riders. Some of these were dropped last year, again, consistent with the budget agreement that we all—most of us—voted for. And they have to be dropped again.

Despite these concerns and, obviously, despite the fact that at this moment I can’t support the bill, I need to thank Chairman PRICE for making, again, as I mentioned, some really, really good important decisions. He had to make some tough decisions. That is what this job entails when you are an appropriator and you are a cardinal, but he has done so.

Mr. Speaker, I am confident—no, I am certain—that we will be able to address these concerns as this process moves forward. Chairman PRICE knows how to reach across the aisle and how to strike a deal, as does our committee leadership, Chairwoman LOWEY, and our ranking member, as well.

The question is not “if,” but “when” we will be able to get a bill that can be sent to the President and will be able to get his signature. Again, this bill isn’t that right now, but I am confident that we will be able to move forward.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. PRICE), the chairman of the Subcommittee on Transportation and Housing and Urban Development.

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague and friend, Chairwoman LOWEY.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this bill, particularly the division involving Transportation, HUD appropriations for fiscal year 2021.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my friend and the former chairman of our subcommittee, MARIO DIAZ-BALART, for his kind words this morning and for his cooperation throughout this process. We do work well together, and we share many, many goals for this legislation. We have a bill that reflects that collaborative work.

My heartfelt best wishes to Chairwoman LOWEY. Your leadership has been exceptional, as many have said—your friendship, even more so. We are going to miss you, and we are happy to see these tributes today. And also, to other retiring Members: Mr. VIS-CLOSKY, Mr. SERRANO, Mr. GRAVES; all colleagues who have contributed greatly, and whom we will miss.

This year's T-HUD appropriations bill represents a renewed commitment to address our Nation's housing crisis and to modernize our aging transportation infrastructure. Throughout the bill, we focus on improved safety, on the needs of underserved people and communities, and on resiliency in the face of a changing climate.

Overall, the bill includes $75.9 billion in discretionary funding. That is an increase of $1.6 billion over the Fiscal Year 2020 level, and it is $16.7 billion above the President's budget request. It also includes major increases for highway and transit formula funding, consistent with Chairman DEFAZIO's INVEST Act, which passed the House on July 1, 2020.

On the housing side of the ledger, we provide increases of $100 million for the Community Development Block Grant program and $350 million for HOME, to help spur the creation of new affordable housing.

We fully renew all Housing Choice Vouchers. We provide $250 million for new vouchers targeting homeless families and those at risk of homelessness, and we increase homeless assistance grants by approximately 23 percent over last year's level. That is the largest increase in over a decade.

Our bill includes an 11 percent increase in the Public Housing Capital Fund and new set-asides within that fund to address urgent health and safety issues. We continue to provide new resources to create more housing for the elderly and disabled and for the Choice Neighborhoods program, formerly known as HOPE VI.

The bill also does right by transportation. All modes receive robust funding, including highways, transit, rail, aviation, bike and pedestrian projects, and ports.

This includes $1 billion for the popular BUILD program; more than $2 billion for Amtrak; a very deliberate 50 percent increase for intercity passenger and freight rail improvements in the CRISI program; and a funding boost for highways, bus fleet replacement, and the Federal Transit Administration's Capital Investment Grants, or "New Starts" transit program.

This division of the bill also includes emergency funds. It provides an additional $75 billion for infrastructure investments to revitalize transportation networks, jump-start affordable housing production, and further reduce the disgraceful public housing capital backlog.

Some may object to this use of emergency spending, but to them I ask: What is the cost of continued inaction for our economy, for our communities? "Infrastructure Week" shouldn't be a punch line. We need to mean it. This funding is necessary for our future prosperity, especially as we transition from this pandemic to recovery.

I want to underscore that the funding in the bill deliberately promotes equity and resiliency in our communities. We set aside funding for areas of persistent poverty, provide dedicated funding for DOT and HUD to offer technical assistance, especially to rural and low-income areas, and to fund programs that promote opportunity.

The bill seeks to protect taxpayer dollars by incorporating resiliency principles into DOT and HUD programs. That means building smarter, requiring all-hazards mitigation, and the use of updated building codes.

Importantly, the bill prevents HUD from implementing mean-spirited and harmful rules that would split up immigrant families in Federally assisted housing and allow homeless shelters to discriminate against LGBTQ individuals.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 1 minute to the gentleman.

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. The bill also provides increased funds for fair housing enforcement, which is all the more important given HUD's open hostility to bedrock fair housing laws and the President's racist tweet, just yesterday, about low-income housing in suburban communities. Pending amendments will go one step further in preventing Donald Trump from repealing our fair housing rules.

So, Mr. Speaker, this year's T-HUD bill incorporates many priorities from Members on both sides of the aisle, makes forward-looking investments in our housing and transportation infrastructure, boosts safety, protects vulnerable population, and promotes equity and fairness.

I want to thank our excellent professional staff: Joe Carlile, our majority clerk; his teammates Gladys Barcena, Winnie Chang, Jo Eckert, Sarah Puro, Angela Ohm, and Becky Salay; our minority clerk, Doug Disrud, and his colleague, Alyssa Hinman. I want to thank Sean Maxwell from my personal staff and Chris Sweet from Mr. DIAZ-BALART's personal staff. They work hard, and we appreciate that hard work.

I urge my colleagues to support this legislation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

To respond to my friend, I have no problems whatsoever with emergency spending. That is why we passed four bills. We work with our friends on the other side of the aisle to do that.

I think where the mistake was made was the HEROES Act, where you decided you weren't going to work with anybody on this side of the aisle. You just jammed it through, and it has gotten nowhere in the United States Senate.

The same thing is happening here. This emergency spending of enormous proportion that has been placed in this bill was done without any consultation with Republicans in the House, let alone with agreements with the Senate and the President, who would have to sign off on it. I don't think that is a productive way to proceed. I think negotiating together with one another, we show we can work together.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Washington (Mrs. RODGERS), a distinguished lady from Spokane, Washington, my good friend, and a distinguished member of the Energy and Commerce Committee.

Mrs. RODGERS of Washington. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the bill. While it contains many partisan poison pills and reckless levels of spending, there is a glaring omission: funding for the long-term storage of nuclear waste.

Safely storing our Nation's existing and future nuclear waste in Yucca Mountain is of paramount importance. Eastern Washington pioneered some of the most important breakthroughs in nuclear technology of the last century at the Hanford Site near Tri-Cities, Washington. Their efforts are critical to continuing the development and the expansion of nuclear power in the next century.

However, this important work came at a cost. Today, more than 2,000 tons of spent nuclear waste and millions of gallons of high-level waste await disposal at the Hanford Site, which is why it is so necessary that we move forward with the Yucca Mountain site and properly dispose of the nuclear waste in eastern Washington and from the sites in 38 other States across the country.

The United States has led the world in nuclear energy innovation, and continued advancements in this important technology will be essential to meet our clean energy needs and maintain our global leadership in the 21st century.

Failure to move forward with the Yucca Mountain site jeopardizes our ability to continue to innovate in the future and is unfair to the communities that have dealt with the cost of housing nuclear waste for the past 50 years.

I would like to end by thanking Congressman SHMKUS for his years of tireless leadership on this important issue. Whether shepherding legislation through the Energy and Commerce Committee and through the House, prodding the Appropriations Committee to act, or leading delegations to see Yucca firsthand, no one has been more dedicated to solving the nuclear waste issue for our Nation's communities.

Let's help him finish that fight by working on a bipartisan, long-term solution to our country's nuclear waste.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. QUIGLEY), the chairman of the Subcommittee on Financial Services and General Government.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, first, I want to thank Chairwoman LOWEY for her service and for allowing me to speak today.

I also want to thank my friend, Ranking Member TOM GRAVES, who I now have had the privilege of working with for a fourth year managing this bill. He was previously chairman. He was always helpful, cooperative, and gracious. I thank him for his partnership throughout this process, and we will miss him next year.

I would also like to thank the staff on both sides for the hard work that goes on behind the scenes in developing this legislation. From my personal office, that includes Juan and Bridget; and from our committee staff on the majority side, Laura, Marybeth, Elliott, Aalok, Parker, and Matt; and from our minority staff, John Martens. For the committee staff particularly, I know it has not been easy, as you have been working remotely.

The bill before us today provides $24.64 billion in total discretionary funding. This is an increase of $808 million above 2020.

We also include $67 billion in emergency funding for broadband, Federal buildings, and land ports of entry across the Nation.

The FSGG bill encompasses a wide range of programs, everything from the IRS to the Federal courts to the District of Columbia to the General Services Administration.

A longstanding priority of mine has been to help States and local governments meet the challenge of restoring the security and integrity of our elections. To this end, the bill includes $500 million for election security grants to help States acquire resources and equipment to conduct safe and secure and on-time elections.

This issue is especially relevant now, as States are currently facing the need to adjust their processes to accommodate conducting an election in the middle of a pandemic.

Also of importance, the FSGG bill includes $12.1 billion for the IRS, an increase of more than $606 million above fiscal year 2020. This is a good first step toward restoring the draconian cuts this agency has suffered for almost a decade.

The IRS has played a critical role in the disbursement of stimulus checks during the height of the tax filing season. While its rollout has not been without its challenges, it has highlighted how important it is for the IRS to have proper funding.

Notably, the bill makes significant investments in taxpayer services, helping to provide better resources for taxpayers, especially for low-income individuals and the elderly, and investment to support more efficient and effective enforcement activities to address all taxpayers, including those in the higher tax brackets, as well as an investment in business systems modernization and to help improve their outdated IT and operating systems.

The bill also ensures capital and other assistance gets to small businesses and those who are underbanked in low-income communities. For instance, we rejected the President's proposal to essentially eliminate the Community Development Financial Institution Fund and included $273.5 million for CDFIs.

The bill also provides $277 million for the Small Business Administration's entrepreneurial development programs to help small businesses expand and grow.

We also reject the administration's efforts to sideline funds to combat the opioid epidemic. We include $290 million for High Intensity Drug Trafficking Areas and $102 million for the Drug-Free Communities program.

The bill includes $7.8 billion in discretionary appropriations for the judicial branch, an increase of $287 million, to fund protective services and physical security needs in courthouses and to ensure the continued operations of the Federal judiciary.

We also increase funding for agencies to protect everyday consumers and retail investors: the Consumer Product Safety Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Finally, the bill takes steps toward reducing undue congressional interference in local D.C. affairs and eliminates restrictions on the District that do not apply to other parts of the Nation. Importantly, it ends the uniquely restrictive prohibition on the use of locally raised funds for abortions.

In closing, I would like to reiterate how grateful I am to all the staff that helped put this product together. It is a bill we can all be proud of, and I urge my colleagues to join me in support of this legislation.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. DUNCAN), my very good friend and distinguished member and leader on the Energy and Commerce Committee.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, here we go again, voting on an appropriations package without funding Yucca Mountain because the Federal Government will not follow the law passed by Congress.

It is the law of the land to store the Nation's nuclear waste in a long-term repository, and Yucca Mountain is the site that was chosen by the Federal Government to store that.

Now, the government wants the American people to follow the mandates recommended by the CDC, but they won't follow a duly-passed law.

Let's be clear: It doesn't matter whether the Republicans or the Democrats control the House of Representatives or the White House, the law is ignored because of the politics of Nevada.

The terminology the other side uses, "The science is settled," well, the science is settled with regard to Yucca Mountain. It was settled a long time ago.

It is settled with reprocessing, too. But short of that, we need to do something with the waste that sits beside the pristine waters of Lake Erie, the Savannah River, Lake Keowee in my district, and waterways all across this great land.

I have got a question for my colleagues, Republican and Democrat: How much have the utility rate payers in your State forked out for nothing? Nothing.

I can tell you, in South Carolina, it is over $3 billion. I can tell you that nationwide, it is about $40 billion.

And, folks, we are not just talking about spent fuel, which sits at 121 sites in 39 States. There is also yucky stuff sitting at Savannah River site, Idaho Flats and Oak Ridge and Hanford, Washington, that has been turned to glass.

Let's put that glass and the spent fuel where the Nation decided by law that we should put that, and that is Yucca Mountain.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. CARTWRIGHT), the vice chair of the Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies Subcommittee.

Mr. CARTWRIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this combination of appropriations bills, this minibus.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to take a few minutes to discuss this CJS component of the bill.

First, I would like to thank, again, our overall chairwoman of appropriations for her amazing dignified service in the Congress and to the Appropriations Committee.

I also want to express my appreciation to Chairman JOSÉ SERRANO, whose leadership of CJS has been unmatched.

Thank you to the staff, Bob Bonner, Jeff Ashford, T.J. Lowdermilk, Shannon McCully, B.G. Wright, Faye Cobb, Trisha Castaneda, and also acknowledge the good faith and the assistance of Ranking Member ADERHOLT and the minority staff as well.

The fiscal year 2021 Commerce-Justice-Science appropriations bill includes a total of $71.473 billion in discretionary budget authority, which is actually a $1.7 billion decrease below last year's level. This reflects the natural decline in the funding requirement due to the decreased needs associated with the completion of the 2020 Census.

But even at this overall funding level, the CJS bill sustains strong increases to invest in jobs and economic development, reduce gun violence, address climate change, sustain scientific leadership in the world, and implement police accountability and police reform.

On this last score, this bill takes immediate steps to start the process of police reform and accountability and to better protect civil rights. To do that, the bill increases funding for the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department, as well as for the U.S. Attorney and the FBI to conduct pattern and practice reviews of law enforcement agencies. We include language to roll back Justice Department policies that have hindered this oversight.

The bill provides funding for a national task force on law enforcement oversight and national police misconduct database.

In addition, the bill funds nearly $500 million in new grant programs authorized in the George Floyd Justice in Policing Act. These grants will help improve law enforcement practices and accountability by funding State-level pattern and practice reviews and independent reviews of law enforcement, as well as funding better training for police community, organization efforts, and more.

Finally, we include sensible requirements for COPS and Byrne JAG grants to implement numerous reform efforts at the local level. These changes show that the Federal Government is deeply serious about ensuring police accountability and protecting American civil rights.

The bill does these things without neglecting important priorities elsewhere. We reject the administration's proposed cuts to climate change research programs at NASA and NOAA and, instead, provide responsible funding increases to that.

We promote jobs and better wages by supporting significant investments at the Economic Development Administration, through the Manufacturing Extension Partnership program and the Minority Business Development Agency.

We help policing against gun violence by increasing ATF's budget by $150 million, by sustaining funding for the NICS program and grants, and by increasing funding for the STOP School Violence Act.

We promote criminal justice reform with large increases for both the First Step Act and the Second Chance Act, and we increase funding to address the ongoing opioid epidemic.

This bill also ensures that our Nation's scientific leadership in the world can continue by increasing funding by $270 million for the National Science Foundation, by $35 million for the core NIST activities, and by over $101 million for NOAA.

We also include significant funding for the educational components of NASA, National Science Foundation, and NOAA to ensure that we are training the next generation of scientists in America to continue this important work.

Mr. Speaker, for all these reasons, and more, I urge the adoption of this minibus.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I would inquire from my friend, is she prepared to close?

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, yes, I am.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, I want to begin where every other speaker has started, and that is to thank our distinguished chairman for her 30 years of unparalleled service to the Congress and to the country and, of course, her many years on Appropriations.

I have had the good fortune since I arrived on that committee to serve with my friend and watch her steady rise to the chairmanship. And I think my friend, Mr. DIAZ-BALART, summed it up, if you want to be short: What a class act.

What an extraordinary appropriator. We all, on both sides of the aisle, respect her professionalism and her deep knowledge of the appropriations process. But I think even more than that, we just appreciate her personal qualities as a friend, as a mentor, as a colleague, and as someone who is an outstanding credit to her district, to her State, and to the Congress of the United States. Mr. Speaker, we will all miss her on both sides of the aisle.

Having said that, I am going to be less charitable toward the bill itself.

As I mentioned several times, I love the Appropriations Committee because I think it is a naturally collaborative committee, and when it is left to do its work, it does a really good job.

Last year, we had a negotiated settlement between the President and the congressional leadership on both sides of the aisle in both Chambers in the 2019 Budget Act, and that led to a very orderly appropriations process under the leadership of my friend, the chairman.

We got all those bills done. We didn't have a long-term CR, and we have not been at risk, in this fiscal year, of a government shutdown. And that is something you can't always say around here.

My friend had a great deal to do with that, along with our ranking member, Ms. GRANGER, that legendary partnership between the two. If you let them do their work, they will get the job done.

What is in front of us now, though, is not what we saw last year. My friends, for whatever reason, decided they would ignore the 2019 Budget Act, which has the force of law, and embark on an unprecedented amount of emergency spending, almost a quarter of a trillion dollars. And, again, none of that was agreed to last year.

In addition, last year, the agreement was we would not put extraneous matters in the bill. We would not put legislative riders, as they are known. We didn't do it last year, and we moved through. This year, these bills are absolutely full of them. And the consequence, while these bills may pass this floor, they are certainly not going to be taken up as is by the United States Senate, nor would they ever be signed by the President.

I think we have another model. We have the model of last year. We also have the model of the first four supplementals this year, Mr. Speaker. The four supplementals dealing with coronavirus were brought to the floor after collaborative discussion and negotiation and passed here with almost universal bipartisan support on each occasion.

For whatever reason, rather than continuing that productive dialogue, our friend decided they would bring the HEROES Act. That is certainly their right to do that. But, again, if you are not involving Republicans in this Chamber in that discussion, then I can assure you you are not going to be in very good shape when you go to a Chamber where Republicans are actually the majority. Nor will you get the support of the President. And we are seeing how that is working out right now with respect to the next supplemental. The same thing could happen here.

Mr. Speaker, I don't worry about that in the short term because, again, there are times in this process where it is partisan, and when we get to conference, quite often, it becomes bipartisan. But I do worry these departures are so large that we could find ourselves in September kicking into a CR and then, frankly, then we could do another one well into next year. That would be a mistake. That would be a mistake, in my opinion.

The day-to-day funding of government ought to go on regardless of the politics of the moment. The emergencies need to be dealt with. And I think we have shown we can work together on emergency supplementals. We did them so quickly and so easily in an unprecedented way just in the spring of this year. So I would think we could return to that.

And if we do return to that, I suspect our friends and I on our side can come to common ground and we can bring bills to the floor that command substantial bipartisan majorities, just as my friend, the chairwoman, did last year when she brought appropriations bill after bill after bill to the floor, and they were passed with substantial bipartisan majorities because she engaged, as is always her habit, in collaborative negotiation with friends on all sides of the Chamber.

So with that, Mr. Speaker, I reluctantly urge the rejection of this particular minibus of six appropriations bills. I hope that my friends, as we go forward, will return to their habits in terms of the appropriations of last year and return to the style of negotiation that they exhibited all through the spring in dealing with this awful coronavirus crisis that has caused such turmoil and damage in our country.

In closing, the last thing I would say is, again, it is a privilege for me to share the floor with my friend, the chairman. Normally, my ranking member would be here, but Ms. GRANGER, of course, is in self-quarantine because of coronavirus; otherwise, I know she would prefer to be here. But her misfortune at least gave me the opportunity to share the floor with my very good friend, our distinguished chairman.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the rejection of the legislation, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, I do want to say to my dear friend, Mr. COLE, that I will truly miss you. We have worked together on so many issues, and not only are you thoughtful, intelligent, and enthusiastic, but you are a real partner.

And I am not sure what the future brings for any of us, but let's hope that this coronavirus disappears somehow soon. I hope my friend, Ms. GRANGER, does not, frankly, suffer from it, and I am glad that she is going through a period of isolation. Let's hope there is some good news. But, for me, it has really been a pleasure not only to work with you, but to be your friend.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his very, very kind remarks.

Mr. Speaker, I am very proud of the work we have completed under incredibly difficult circumstances, and I would like to thank our wonderful subcommittee chairs, particularly PETE VISCLOSKY and JOSÉ SERRANO, who are also retiring. I thank them both for their outstanding service.

This is an excellent package of appropriation bills that lives up to the principle that has guided our work together: Do the best we can to make life better for the most people we can.

Mr. Speaker, I urge support for the bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Mr. Speaker, before I begin with my remarks on the fiscal year (FY) 2021 bill, I would like to briefly discuss some concerns I have as a longtime member of the House Appropriations Committee.

The Committee has a unique responsibility. It is charged with funding and oversight of the entire government, and ensuring that it is as effective and as efficient as possible. However, in some ways, the Committee is at its nadir in terms of its ability to achieve bipartisan solutions. In part, this is due to the Budget Control Act of 2011, which is an ill-fated attempt to balance the federal budget by cutting only discretionary spending.

Currently, mandatory spending and interest on the debt represent 70 percent of the money spent each year by the federal government. Discretionary spending, which is an investment in the future, makes up just 30 percent of federal spending. When less than 30 percent of young Americans are qualified to join the military, it is clear we need to invest more in our nation's health, education, infrastructure, and jobs. Unfortunately, from my perspective, recent Congresses have mistakenly relied on mandatory spending to avoid making difficult decisions on discretionary spending on an annual basis. A case in point, last week the House passed a bill that will provide much needed funding to address the maintenance backlog in our public lands. But the bill utilizes mandatory funding mechanisms that further decrease the ability of Congress and the Appropriations Committee to exercise annual discretion and oversight.

I implore my colleagues who serve in the next Congress to avoid repeating the mistakes of the recent past. The lasting solution to our nation's fiscal problems will only be realized by confronting the continued growth in mandatory spending while simultaneously increasing revenues. In the year 2000, the last year the federal government had a surplus, revenues, as a percentage of GDP, were 20 percent. In fiscal year 2019, revenues were 16.3 percent. We need revenue to invest in the future of our country, and every appropriated dollar is an investment.

Moving onto the FY 2021 bill, I first want to thank my Ranking Member and friend, Mr. CALVERT, for his continued commitment to being collegial, transparent, and bipartisan. I cannot overstate the value of his friendship and the partnership we have enjoyed over the years.

I also want to express my sincere gratitude to Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER. We would not be here without their leadership and dedication.

Further, I would like to acknowledge that Chairwoman LOWEY will be joining me in departing the House at the end of this year. I commend her for a dedicated life of service and commitment to leaving this world a little bit better than the way she found it. I thank her very much. It is a joy to work with her.

I want to thank the Subcommittee staff, particularly, our clerks, Becky Leggieri and Johnnie Kaberle, as well as Walter Hearne, Brooke Barnard, Ariana Sarar, Jackie Ripke, David Bortnick, Matt Bower, Bill Adkins, Jennifer Chartrand, Hayden Milberg, Paul Kilbride, Shannon Richter, Sherry Young, Kyle McFarland, Kiya Batmanglidj, Jamie McCormick, Brian Potts, and Nick Vance, my personal office staff, Joe DeVooght and Stephen Cash, and those in Ranking Member CALVERT's personal office, Rebecca Keightley and William Hendrickson. Having to assemble the bulk of the bill and report remotely increased the degree of difficulty substantially, as it has for all of the subcommittees. I commend them for their professionalism and acumen.

The bill would provide $694.6 billion for the Department of Defense budget, which is $1.3 billion above the fiscal year 2020 enacted level and $3.7 billion below the request. The base funding recommendation is $626.2 billion, which is $3.5 billion above the fiscal year 2020 enacted level and $3.5 billion below the request. The overseas contingency operations recommendation is $68.4 billion, which is $2.2 billion below the fiscal year 2020 enacted level and $215 million below the request.

This legislation recognizes the complex challenges the members of our Armed Forces and intelligence community face every day throughout the world, and it aims to ensure that they are able to continue to meet these challenges and complete their missions to the best of their abilities. To support this forward-looking posture, the bill makes major investments in operations and maintenance, procurement, and research and development.

I also think it is important to highlight some investments the Committee has made with regards to the current COVID-19 pandemic. This legislation would provide:

$758 million in procurement for COVID-19 recovery for second, third and fourth tier suppliers. This has been of particular interest to Mr. CALVERT, and I appreciate his advocacy of this issue;

$450 million in operation and maintenance for COVID-19 recovery and resupply; and

$150 million in the Defense Health Program for COVID-19 response.

In addition to the funding enumerated above, the legislation places several reporting requirements on the Department specific to COVID-19. The budgetary impacts of the pandemic on the Department are still largely undetermined. Some programs will cost more. However, there will be savings obtained through delayed or cancelled events and activities. It is imperative that the Committee and Congress have as much detail as possible to properly delegate funding and to conduct oversight.

And most importantly, the bill continues to focus on the well-being and morale of those in uniform and their families, as well as DoD civilians and their communities.

The bill provides an additional $116 million for upgrades to childcare facilities and the report contains language directing the military services to present innovative ideas to address the serious backlog for childcare.

The bill provides $1.49 billion for environmental restoration activities, which is $415 million above the request. This increased funding will help DoD address the significant and salient public health risks associated with PFOS/PFOA.

The bill and report take steps to stop the Department from closing military treatment facilities and from reducing military healthcare billets, which would have cost $334.6 million this fiscal year. These plans were poorly justified to the Committee prior to the pandemic, and even harder to defend under current conditions.

The bill provides $327 million to address the ongoing epidemic of sexual assault in the military and at the service academies, which is $49 million more than requested. And I must express my personal upset over this issue. The most recent report on the sexual assault rate for women has jumped a shocking 50 percent from 2016 to 2018. Despite dire warnings, the Department's budget for sexual assault prevention and response remains stagnant. And I would also say it is not just a question of money. Year after year after year, we have testimony from officials who contend that they are really committed to solving this problem. And yet we are going backwards. The Department must do a much better job.

These efforts and several others within the bill will have an immediate positive impact on people's quality of life.

Another area of concern for me is the Department's lack of compliance with many Congressionally directed reporting requirements. For example, last year the Committee directed the Department to submit a report on its contracts for advertising services with socially and economically disadvantaged small businesses. The report was supposed to accompany the Department's FY 2021 budget submission in February, but it was transmitted to the Committee on July 14, five months late and the same day we marked up the bill. Regrettably, reporting deadlines are often missed, making it much more difficult for the Committee to make timely decisions.

The bill, again, contains several provisions to rein in the Department's habitual redirection of funding and contravention of congressional intent. These actions have irreparably damaged the Department's credibility with the Committee. One DoD official, in a meeting, referred to these transfers of billions of dollars as anomalies. I refer to them as habitual abuses by the Department.

In recent years, the Department leadership has not missed an opportunity to claim that a 3 percent to 5 percent annual growth rate in the defense budget is necessary to support the National Defense Strategy. But at the same time, those same leaders facilitated the transfer of nearly $10 billion to non-defense activities not enumerated in their own National Defense Strategy. And while this was happening, they also have the temerity to repeatedly request more flexibility from Congress for executing their budget and for reprogramming authorities. The sense of entitlement in these actions is galling, and I hope that at some point the Department will have the leadership in place to recognize Congress's constitutional prerogative and restore trust to the appropriations process.

In closing, I would again thank my chair, ranking member, and all of the members, who have logged so many hours in making this bill possible. I look forward to debate on the amendments.

Ms. GRANGER. Mr. Speaker, as the Republican leader of the Appropriations Committee, I oppose H.R. 7617, the second package of fiscal year 2021 appropriations bills to be considered by the House.

My concerns today will sound very familiar. I had many of the same objections when I spoke on the House floor last week about the first package of appropriations bills.

I regret that I again oppose a very important piece of legislation.

This bill supports:

The servicemembers who risk it all for our freedoms;

The law enforcement officers that keep us safe;

The small business owners who want to achieve the American dream;

The researchers seeking groundbreaking cures for diseases;

The ports and waterways that are so critical for commerce; and

Our transit systems that millions of Americans rely on every day.

Unfortunately, like the bill we considered last week, H.R. 7617 has some fatal flaws that make it unacceptable.

First, many of the policy provisions are similar to the partisan legislation the majority has pushed through the house the last few months; and second, the spending levels exceed the amounts the Congress and the President agreed to just last year.

Instead of policy and funding proposals being developed from the bottom up within the Appropriations Committee, many of these decisions appear to have been dictated from the top down.

This is disappointing because the committee has held more than 100 hearings and briefings in the last six months—even in the middle of a global pandemic.

For example, the bill jeopardizes our safety and security by:

Repealing both the 2001 and 2002 authorizations for the use of military force, which would limit our ability to conduct counterterrorism operations worldwide;

Allowing terrorists detained at Guantanamo Bay to be brought to U.S. soil; and Preventing the United States from exercising the right to defend ourselves and our allies, such as Israel.

Our path toward renewed American prominence in space is undermined, giving China the opportunity to dominate the next frontier.

The bill gives in to the voices calling for defunding the police by failing to provide adequate funding for our federal law enforcement agencies.

In addition, state and local law enforcement agencies are prohibited from receiving excess equipment from the Department of Defense.

Officers should have what they need to protect and serve our communities. Provisions in this bill will halt critical funds used for training and equipment, including active shooter training, body cameras, and bullet-proof vests.

The bill also:

Blocks the administration's rule protecting health care providers from performing actions that violate their religious beliefs;

Forces faith-based providers to discuss abortion, even if they have a personal objection; and Perhaps worst of all, makes changes to family planning grants which will require funds to go to Planned Parenthood clinics.

I am also disappointed to see that several long-standing, bipartisan second amendment protections were eliminated.

The bill also contains billions of dollars in emergency spending on top of the caps that were agreed to last year.

$186 billion is included in this bill for infrastructure without any bipartisan discussions or agreement.

Another $24 billion is included to address coronavirus, even though a three trillion-dollar bill passed the House in May and the Senate is moving quickly on its response.

We must work together on appropriations bills that avoid controversial legislative language and meet agreed-upon spending levels.

This is the only way to get bills through the House and the Senate and signed into law.

For these reasons, I oppose this package.

Mr. RUPPERSBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to note provisions in H.R. 7617 which provide $5 million for the Maglev Deployment Program, also known as MDP, and an additional $100 million in Title V of the bill.

The MDP was created in 1998 as a competitive program to encourage the development and construction of an operating maglev transportation system capable of safe use by the public at speeds in excess of 240 miles per hour. The program was not intended for the United States to deploy a new transportation system somewhere in America and not for research. America has fallen behind as countries like China and Japan have deployed magnetic levitation transportation systems.

Congress directed the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) to establish project selection criteria, to solicit applications for funding, to select one or more projects to receive financial assistance for preconstruction planning activities, and after completion of such activities, to select one of the projects to receive financial assistance for final design, engineering and construction. Funds were only available to States or an Authority designated by one or more States and included required State matching funds.

The FRA received eleven applications for MDP funding and selected seven projects for Initial Feasibility Studies. The FRA then completed a Programmatic Environmental Impact Statement and Record of Decision for the MDP.

As a result of the prior rounds, the FRA further selected two projects to continue: Baltimore-Washington and Pittsburgh. Other projects in the Program, such as Atlanta-Chatanooga, could continue but without federal support.

In 2008, Congress passed SAFETEA-LU providing an additional $90 million in Highway Trust Fund contract authority for the MDP. In clarifying eligible projects for the MDP Congress explained that for projects east of the Mississippi River "the intent is to limit the eligible projects to three existing projects east of the Mississippi River: Pittsburgh, Baltimore-Washington and Atlanta-Chatanooga."

Subsequently, the Pittsburgh project was discontinued, leaving the Atlanta-Chatanooga and the Baltimore-Washington projects as the two remaining in the competition. In 2019, the Georgia DOT determined to not pursue Atlanta-Chatanooga any further.

As a result, after 20 years of work, more than $100 million of private sector investment, millions of dollars in state and federal investment, the most advanced and sophisticated of the projects has emerged as the winner. All of the participants have expended time and funds in reliance on the fact that the long-standing competitive process would ultimately end in the selection and, hopefully, construction of a single project.

It is critical that the federal commitment continue. I applaud the Committee and Congress for its continued federal commitment to the MDP. After so many years of monetary and time investment, by many participants, the good faith effort by the State of Maryland and the Maryland private sector should result in the purpose of the competitive program was designed to achieve. Congressional intent has never changed. Indeed, the Baltimore-Washington Project has attracted potentially billions of dollars in nonfederal investment.

I rise to make it abundantly clear, as Congress did in 2008, that funds in the MDP are available only to current participants in the program, and it is not the intent of this Congress to restart a 20 year competition to new entrants, after so much work, reliance on the process and expenditure. It is clear to this Member that FRA discretion to award funds is limited to those existing projects in the Maglev Deployment Program.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of the need for a backup system to GPS, which is critical to our economy, our national security and is integrated into nearly every aspect of all Americans lives. We greatly appreciate the foresight of the Appropriations Committee for providing $5,000,000 in funding to begin the implementation of the National Timing Resilience and Security Act under the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Research and Technology at the Department of Transportation.

The need for a backup system to GPS has been recognized by this government for over 15 years and a terrestrial based system has been recommended nearly 18 times by different US government agencies and bodies in the last decade alone. Because of this is, in 2018 Congress acted in a fully bipartisan manner to finally protect GPS by passing the National Timing Resilience and Security Act of 2018. Unanimously approved in the House, and by 96 to 4 in the Senate, it was signed into law on December 4, 2018. This law calls for, at a minimum, the deployment of a terrestrial based backup system for GPS with the Department of Transportation as the lead for execution. This Jaw ensures the implementation of a nationwide, fully complementary, and resilient backup timing system within two years, and thereafter with the expansion to position and navigation.

As strong of an advocate for GPS as I know we all are, we must now also be stronger advocates for protecting it. And that comes through this funding for the deployment of the National Timing Resilience and Security Act under the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Research and Technology at the Department of Transportation.

AMENDMENT NO. 146 OFFERED BY MS. TLAIB OF MICHIGAN

At the end of division B (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. _____. None of the funds appropriated or otherwise made available by this Act to the Department of Justice may be obligated or expended to implement, administer, or enforce the rule entitled “DNA Sample Collection from Immigration Detainees” published by the Department of Justice in the Federal Register on March 6, 2020 (85 Fed. Reg. 13483).

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY) and the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT) each will control 15 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from New York.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. MCNERNEY).

Mr. MCNERNEY. Mr. Speaker, my amendment would increase and decrease by $5 million the NSF Research and Related Activities budget to support a National Academy of Sciences study on approaches and procedures for creating and assessing congressional district maps.

The mathematical community has focused on the theory of district map drawing and can now provide fair and unbiased methods of creating and evaluating district maps.

Recent court rulings have shown that objective statistical evidence can be used to assess whether district maps have been drawn in an overly partisan manner. These rulings which have continually found congressional and State legislative districts in States across the country to be too partisan highlight the need for an impartial, unbiased system of creating and assessing district maps. My amendment would fund a study to define best practices for creating fair congressional districts and be in compliance with the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the adoption of this amendment.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume, and I rise in opposition to the Democratic in bloc amendment.

Mr. Speaker, while there may certainly be valid adjustments reflecting important priorities, there are also political statements that have no place in the Defense appropriations bill, such as language insinuating that our military is being used in a way that violates the First Amendment.

Make no mistake, the men and women of the United States military protect and defend the First Amendment along with the entire Constitution to which they swore an oath. It is beneath the institution to call their loyalty into question. As such, I urge rejection of this en bloc.

Mr. Speaker, if the gentlewoman has no further speakers, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. MENG. Mr. Speaker, on July 21, 2020, President Trump issued a Presidential Memorandum to exclude undocumented immigrants from being counted in reapportionment for Congress.

The Constitution explicitly requires an “actual Enumeration” of all “persons,” imposing on the federal government the duty to count the “whole number of persons in each State.” In other words, each person—regardless of citizenship status—must be counted. President Trump’s plan to prohibit undocumented immigrants from being counted in the apportionment of Congressional seats, violates the plain text of both the Constitution and the governing statutes.

I submitted an amendment to H.R. 7617 to block this effort by prohibiting the use of any and all federal funds to implement, administer, or enforce this Presidential Memorandum. Although this memorandum is unconstitutional, my amendment would end any confusion caused by the President, and avoid costly litigation.

Mr. Speaker, immigrants have always been America’s strength, and during the COVID-19 pandemic, we’ve seen how so many immigrants have put themselves on the front lines to help combat the coronavirus. They have made enormous sacrifices, working tirelessly to provide the critical services we need and depend on. Immigrants are part of the fabric of our nation, and we shall not allow them to be kicked to the curb by this President.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of my amendment to promote access to justice policies within the Department of Justice.

As a former pro bona counsel, I know how important legal representation is for the most vulnerable members of society. My amendment, which would reduce and increase funds in this division by the same amount, aims to bring attention to the fact that the Department of Justice should spend appropriated funds to improve access to justice in the criminal and civil systems for all Americans. Carrying out this goal requires coordination throughout the Department in its litigation, policy activity, and grant making. This task was historically accomplished by the Department’s Office of Access to Justice, an office that was eliminated by the Trump administration and I hope is re-established soon.

In the meantime, the Department should reinvigorate its statement of interest and amicus brief practice reflecting focusing on the Sixth Amendment right to counsel to ensure it is guaranteed at the state and local level in the criminal context.

In the civil context, the Department should accelerate its work to raise federal agencies’ awareness of how civil legal aid helps advance a wide range of federal objectives including improved access to health care and housing, education and employment, family stability and public safety. Specifically, the Department should continue its leadership of the White House Legal Aid Interagency Roundtable an interagency effort that I am so pleased to learn this Administration has embraced.

A report from the Philadelphia Bar Association showed that the estimated return on investment for providing counsel to low income tenants in the city was about $12.47. That means for every dollar that the City of Philadelphia spent on providing legal representation to these individuals, it received $12.47 in return. Ensuring access to justice is not only the morally just thing to do, it is also a financially sound decision. Responding to the legal needs of victims of crime, people seeking employment, and servicemembers are bipartisan concerns that my amendment directly supports. My amendment would help continue these bipartisan practices and promote the Department of Justice’s mission of ensuring justice for all.

Mr. HORSFORD. Mr. Speaker, on July 11, 2019, President Trump issued Executive Order 13880 after the U.S. Supreme Court’s decision denying the citizenship question on the Census.

The Executive Order would have directed all government departments, including the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to share any information regarding citizenship that they have with the Department of Commerce, which operates the Census Bureau.

It was clear that this order was another attempt to deny the rights and privacy of undocumented immigrants, but we could not let the Administration deter anyone from participating in the decennial census. The census is critical for vital programs to receive federal funding, but more importantly census data is critical for proper political representation of our local community.

That is why I introduced my bill, H.R. 7291, that would nullify the effect of Trump’s Executive Order that requires Federal agencies to share citizenship data. The executive order directing federal agencies to compile citizenship data through administrative records and merge it with decennial census data is a blatant effort to collect this information for political and discriminatory purposes.

Recently, on July 21, 2020, President Trump issued a Presidential Memorandum to exclude undocumented immigrants from being counted in reapportionment for Congress.

The Constitution explicitly requires an “actual Enumeration” of all persons, imposing on the federal government the duty to count the “whole number of persons in each State.” In other words, each person—regardless of citizenship status—must be counted. President Trump’s plan to prohibit undocumented immigrants from being counted in the reapportionment of Congressional seats, violates the plain text of both the Constitution and the governing statutes.

I submitted Horsford Amendment 23 to Division B of H.R. 7617 to block this effort by nullifying the effect that of the Presidential Executive Order that requires Federal Agencies to share citizenship data. Although the President’s memorandum and executive order are unconstitutional, my amendment would send an important message to the President and his administration that he cannot disenfranchise whole communities in our Nation. This plan violates our Constitution and governing statute. By moving forward with my amendment, Congress is making it abundantly clear that the President lacks the authority to exclude undocumented immigrants from being counted in reapportionment for Congress.

Congress compels possesses the Constitutional authority to prevent the President from excluding undocumented immigrants from the apportionment count, and the determination by this body to move forward with my provision will deter the President from wasting valuable public time and resources on an unconstitutional action.

The contributions of immigrants are of vital importance to our society and economy, particularly as immigrant communities play a significant role as frontline workers during the COVID-19 pandemic. For example, the American health care system relies very heavily on individuals who were born in other countries, who make up about 18 percent of all health care workers in the country despite making up 15.5 percent of the population. Further, immigrants account for a third of direct care workers, and legal noncitizen immigrants make up 9 percent of direct care workers despite accounting for only 5 percent of the population.

In addition to caring for us when we are sick, immigrants feed us by forming the backbone of our food system. An estimated 70 to 80 percent of farmworkers are immigrants, between half and three quarters of whom are undocumented. Finally, both documented and undocumented immigrants pay billions of dollars in taxes to federal, state and local governments every year. In 2017 alone, this accounted for $405.4 billion in taxes, including an estimated $27.2 billion paid by undocumented immigrants.

Immigrants deserve not only to be recognized for these contributions, but to be respected as human beings taking part in one of the most integral traditions to the American way. For these reasons, we must ensure that the President does not exclude immigrants, who make up the fabric of our nation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendments en bloc offered by the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY).

The question is on the amendments en bloc.

The en bloc amendments were agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Division B, page 186, line 2, after the dollar amount, insert “(increased by $2,000,000) (reduced by $2,000,000)”.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY) and the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT) each will control 15 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from New York.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. COOPER).

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding.

I rise today to offer an amendment to provide $3 million for the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Sustainment in order to continue the JASON scientific advisory group’s major contributions to informing national security decisions.

This funding will be the 61st year of JASON’s activity. This funding is consistent with congressional intent and direction in the fiscal year 2020 appropriations bill to establish the JASON within the office of the Department of Defense.

My amendment simply aligns funding for JASON and fiscal year 2021, following efforts by the former Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering, Dr. Michael Griffin’s attempt last year to abruptly cancel the longstanding JASON group contract. While the Defense Authorization Act for fiscal year 2020 moved the JASON contract to the Office of the Under Secretary for Acquisition and Sustainment, the funding, unfortunately, did not follow.

So I am deeply grateful, Madam Chair of the Appropriations Committee, for allowing this very important amendment to be included in the package.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise in support of a bipartisan en bloc, which includes important changes to the bills that reflect Member priorities. I would also like to thank the full committee chairwoman and Chairman VISCLOSKY for their willingness to work with Members on both sides of the aisle to accommodate as many amendments to the defense division as possible.

It is vital to our work that we have input from members who know their districts best and who want to ensure their constituent interests are being reflected in the appropriations process.

The defense portion of the bipartisan en bloc includes 55 amendments, and I thank the many Members who are included in this en bloc for input and insight.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. ADAMS).

Ms. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding time to me.

I rise in support of, specifically, my amendment to prohibit the use of Federal funds for the acquisition of chemical agents, such as teargas and pepper balls.

Since the tragic death of George Floyd, millions of Americans have sought to exercise their first amendment right to protest and to assemble. Too often these actions have been met by the brutal force of the State as the elderly, as children, as those with medical conditions choke and asphyxiate due to the use of so-called riot control agents.

Mr. Speaker, we can no longer condone the use of agents that hundreds of public health professionals say can help spread respiratory illnesses, such as COVID-19.

The use of such agents is banned by international law, so why would we use them against our own people? This is absolutely unacceptable.

And so with my amendment, it is my hope today that we are nearing the dawn of a fairer, more equitable and more just era of policing in this country.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. ADERHOLT), the ranking member on the Commerce, Justice, Science Subcommittee.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bipartisan en bloc amendment. This amendment includes various provisions that make improvements to division B of this bill.

Among other things, it increases funding to study the root cause of school violence.

It also provides additional support for child advocacy centers, which will work to hold child abusers accountable and help children heal through this process.

This amendment also highlights the work of the International Trade Administration and its important role in the enforcement of the antidumping and countervailing duty laws. I agree with the amendment's sponsors that it is critical that the ITA allocates sufficient resources to protect American jobs from illegal foreign trade practices.

Finally, the amendment also includes a strong bipartisan provision advancing university research on artificial intelligence.

Mr. Speaker, in closing this is a good amendment, and I would recommend a "yes" vote.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New York (Mr. ROSE).

Mr. ROSE of New York. Mr. Speaker, I will begin by thanking the gentlewoman. I am a fourth generation New Yorker. I am a Jew. I am a vet. And you are a hero. It has been such an incredible honor to serve with you. Thank you for so much.

I also thank Congressman RUIZ for partnering on this effort I would like to speak on today.

I rise today in support of our amendment to increase appropriations for Law Enforcement Mental Health and Wellness Act grants, because when it comes to our law enforcement, the last thing that we should ever do is pinch pennies.

There are few in this Chamber, heck, a few in this country, who know what it means to put your life on the line every single day for years in the service of others. Well, that is what the NYPD does every single day, and they do not get the appreciation that they deserve. That is as true today as it ever has been.

What law enforcement across the country deserves is our support, not just with our words, but with our budgetary decisions, because while our Nation confronts the realities of systemic racism both in our history and in our everyday life, the future that we must build is one based around unity. It is one where there is trust between the community and those who protect us.

It is a future, though, where we also acknowledge that law enforcement officials are up to three times as likely to die from suicide as they are in the line of duty.

Our officers have faced daily horrors during this pandemic. We have called them essential workers. They have always been essential.

Something must be done in these hallowed Chambers.

That is exactly what this program is for. It allows police departments to use these funds in a way that works best for their officers. That is why I am honored to offer this amendment yet another year with Dr. RUIZ.

Each and every day, officers in my community on Staten Island and South

Brooklyn are hugging their children, hugging their partners, their spouses good-bye, not knowing if they are going to return home. That is a stress that they live with every day that none of us can relate to.

This program must be advanced in honor of their service.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. TIFFANY).

Mr. TIFFANY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the Stauber-Tiffany-Cox amendment, and I thank the gentleman for the time.

This amendment comes after many years of experiencing well-documented U.S. Navy maintenance backlogs and deficiencies in much-needed naval upgrades. These backlogs and deficiencies seriously inhibit our force-in-readiness and operational capabilities.

Our military needs to be the readiest it can be in order to meet the challenges of the future, and this amendment will help them do that.

Shipyards across the country are ready, willing, and able to support the maintenance and upgrade requirements needed by our naval assets, including one in Superior in my congressional district. These non-homeport shipyards can support vital surge capacity, addressing maintenance needs that cannot be addressed in a timely fashion at homeports. This change will also support good, family-wage jobs across the country.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a "yes" vote on the amendment.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. COOPER).

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker, once again, I thank the great chair of the Appropriations Committee for including three words that Nashville, Tennessee, desperately needs in the pending legislation in order to better manage our Cumberland River. These three words are "flood risk management."

A decade ago, Nashville suffered a devastating flood, costing more than two dozen lives and billions of dollars in damages. To mitigate the chance of future flooding, we need to allow the two Army Corps of Engineers-operated dams that are directly upstream from Nashville, namely Old Hickory and Cordell Hull, to be used for flood risk management.

Contrary to common sense, these dams today may not be used for flood control, even in emergencies, unless they have previously been congressionally authorized to do so. The congressional authorization for Old Hickory and Cordell Hull Dams was made way back in 1946, and believe it or not, it still governs, regardless of the massive growth of Nashville and numerous subsequent floods.

The archaic authority that the Corps has been operating under only allows Old Hickory and Cordell Hull to be used for navigation, recreation, and hydropower, but not for flood risk management. The Corps needs this flexibility to protect everyone downstream, as well as to prevent possible overtopping of their dams.

I have buy-in from my District Corps to make this happen, and I hope the National Corps of Army Engineers listens.

Mr. Speaker, I thank, again, Chairwoman LOWEY and the entire Appropriations Committee for including this in the en bloc.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Missouri (Mrs. HARTZLER).

Mrs. HARTZLER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairwoman and the ranking member for including two of my amendments in this bipartisan en bloc package, and I would specifically like to highlight one of my amendments that will provide $5 million for the Department of Defense to utilize community-based, nonprofit, post-traumatic growth organizations for mental health treatment.

Suicide prevention is a top priority for the DOD, yet suicides in our military communities continue to rise. While current pharmaceutical and psychotherapy approaches help alleviate some struggles, they fail to address two key elements of resilience: social and spiritual fitness.

My amendment provides resources to enable the DOD to employ a variety of pathways for our servicemembers and will allow the Department to leverage the resilience expertise of post-traumatic growth organizations that are seeing so much success. I am excited about this potential.

Mr. Speaker, I appreciate their support of this amendment, and I ask everyone to support this package.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. MCNERNEY).

Mr. MCNERNEY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairwoman for her hard work on the appropriations bill this year. It is never easy. This year is even harder. I thank, not only the chairwoman, but all the members of the committee. I thank them for their work, and I thank the chairwoman for including my amendment.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of my amendment to division B of H.R. 7617.

This amendment is critical to advancing our Nation's competitiveness in artificial intelligence. It will require the National Science Foundation to examine, including through workshops, and to publish findings on the following:

First, which universities are putting out significant peer reviewed AI research, including based on quantity and number of citations;

Second, for each of the identified universities, what specific factors enabled their AI research, including computing power, data sets, and availability, specialized curriculum, and industry and other partnerships; and

Third, how universities not included in this list could implement these factors to produce AI research as well as case studies that universities can look to as examples and potential pilot programs that the Federal Government could develop or support to help universities produce AI research.

AI research is critical to our Nation's competitiveness in artificial intelligence. We need to have a competitive spirit if we want to compete with China and other countries.

Mr. Speaker, as co-chair of the AI Caucus, I am proud that this important amendment has received strong bipartisan support. I urge all of my colleagues to support it.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. BOST).

Mr. BOST. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding, and I thank the ranking member and the chair for including my amendment in the en bloc. Antidumping and countervailing duty laws exist to protect American workers and producers from economic injury caused by illegally traded foreign imports.

Unfortunately, a tidal wave of illegally traded foreign imports is reaching our shores. Many of these products are produced by companies in non-market economies like China.

As of today, the International Trade Administration has initiated more than 91 new antidumping and countervailing duty petitions. This is a record number, an increase of nearly 57 percent from the previous year.

Unfortunately, resources at ITA have not kept pace with increasing case-loads and orders. Today, there are only eight AD/CVD offices when we need nine.

While I appreciate the work of the chairman and ranking member to increase trade remedies for resources, more must be done. American workers should not face delayed relief when other nations are cheating.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LEVIN of Michigan). The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Illinois.

Mr. BOST. Mr. Speaker, Congress must provide sufficient resources to staff a ninth office. This includes providing a minimum of $96 million for antidumping and countervailing duty activities.

In addition, we should require the Secretary of Commerce to provide quarterly reports to Congress on its progress in increasing AD/CVD activities and staffing levels.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. RUIZ).

Mr. RUIZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of my amendment to H.R. 7617, which will increase funding for the Law Enforcement Mental Health and Wellness Act grant program by $2.5 million.

In order to comprehensively address policing in our Nation, we must address the mental health needs of law enforcement officers. For example, officers are more than three times as likely to die by suicide than from shootings. Rates of depression among officers are more than four times higher and rates of PTSD are five times higher than the general population.

That is why I have worked to substantially increase funding each year since these grants were created to help with law enforcement training, peer mentoring, and mental health program activities. It is important that our officers know they are not alone and that we provide the resources they need to protect our communities as well as their own mental well-being.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Representative ROSE for cosponsoring this amendment.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. STAUBER).

Mr. STAUBER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman and ranking member for including my amendment in this en bloc amendment.

Mr. Speaker, my amendment is simple. It gives the Secretary of the Navy the authority to solicit contracts from non-homeport shipyards for maintenance work to meet surge capacity should the shipyards meet the Navy's requirement for ship repair work.

Currently, the Navy has a tremendous maintenance backlog, but under current law, there are certain restrictions that limit where naval vessels can undertake maintenance repair. Unless these restrictions are lifted, the Navy's backlog will only increase exponentially.

At the same time, there are qualified shipyards in the rest of the United States, including the Great Lakes, Gulf Coast, and Alaska, that can perform repair work for certain types of naval vessels. These yards have the capacity and skills to do this work. They just need the chance.

Last year, an amendment of mine was adopted into the 2020 NDAA. It requests the Navy report on the feasibility of doing maintenance work on naval vessels at shipyards other than shipyards in the vessel's homeport. The report was produced this spring, and within the report, the Navy concluded that the law could be modified to allow the Navy to use non-homeport shipyards to meet surge capacity.

We have done the proper examination. Now it is time to give the Navy the authority it needs to reduce its maintenance backlog. This amendment provides an opportunity for the Navy to diversify their industrial base, create resilience, and improve our military readiness.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Congressman TIFFANY and Congressman COX for cosponsoring this amendment.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Ms. TLAIB).

Ms. TLAIB. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairwoman for yielding.

I rise today in support of this en bloc, which includes my amendment to prohibit funds from being used to implement, administer, and enforce a recent rule forcing DNA collection from immigrant detainees. The rollout of this policy started in January when CBP and ICE began collecting DNA samples from people as young as 14 years old at the Border Patrol sector in Detroit, Michigan.

Is this how we are going to do this? We are going to just stop and not try to fix our immigration system, and this is what we are going to do to people, which is violate their human rights?

We must stop this administration from forcing collection of DNA, actual parts of people's bodies, from families and individuals. We must push back, because this would indefinitely store DNA information, creating a permanent law enforcement record for folks who may have never even been accused or convicted of a crime.

So, Mr. Speaker, we must stand up against xenophobic criminalization of our immigrant neighbors.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Chairman SERRANO and Congresswoman OCASIO-CORTEZ for working with me on this measure, and I urge support for this amendment.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. WILSON).

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I thank Ranking Member KEN CALVERT for yielding.

I am grateful to support two amendments, Nos. 94 and 95 to division A of H.R. 7617. These two amendments would prohibit taxpayer money from going to the Badr Organization and other murderous Iranian-backed militias comprising the Popular Mobilization Units.

The Badr Organization, perhaps the largest and most murderous Iranian-backed militia in Iraq, which has oppressed the people of Iran, was founded by the Islamic Revolutionary Guards Corps with the mandate to export Iran's failing Islamic revolution.

They are controlled by the tyrannical regime in Tehran and have a long history of involvement in attacks directly targeting Americans and our NATO allies in Iraq. Their deranged leader proudly brags of his involvement in the New Year's Eve attack on unarmed civilians at our Embassy in Baghdad.

Badr and other cowardly Iranian-backed militias should not be the beneficiaries of U.S. aid. They have blood on their hands, and the American people should not be funding them.

I urge my colleagues to support these amendments and the underlying bill.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. CÁRDENAS).

Mr. CÁRDENAS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to thank the Appropriations Committee and the subcommittee chairs for including two amendments that I submitted to H.R. 7617, division

B and division F, in the en bloc being considered today.

For years, we have been funding a juvenile justice system that is robbing children of their futures and wasting taxpayer dollars. Today, experts, academics, advocates, and police departments agree we must change that for the better.

I am proud to have introduced two amendments to H.R. 7617, division B, that will increase funding for programs that focus on girls in the juvenile justice system and invest in collaborative mental health and antirecidivism initiatives.

I have also cosponsored an amendment led by my colleague, Congressman RUSH, that will increase funding for community-based violence prevention initiatives and also introduced an amendment to H.R. 7617, division F, that will increase funds for the National Child Traumatic Stress Initiative. This investment will help increase evidence-based support for youth with mental health needs that have been exacerbated by this pandemic.

I ask for my colleagues to support this bill and my amendments that are offered today. We need to have a better system for our children.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. GROTHMAN).

Mr. GROTHMAN. Mr. Speaker, this bipartisan amendment would transfer $21.3 billion from the procurement account to the Marine Corps' JLTV and transfer it from the funds from the Defense-wide operation and maintenance account.

We want to make sure the JLTV is delivered to our servicemembers on schedule and on cost. I have come to understand that, last year, the Marine Corps had substantially higher fielding costs than they anticipated for this vehicle, so they had to transfer funds from purchasing more vehicles to fielding the vehicles they had.

I understand why the Appropriations Committee, being fiscally responsible, saw that they shifted money and therefore gave them less of these new vehicles than they thought they needed. However, the Marine Corps had two options: pay the incurred costs or not pay for these costs and not have operational JLTVs. The Marine Corps has demonstrated the need for these trucks and requested funding for 752 of them to be appropriated in FY21.

My bipartisan amendment will accomplish this. I think we in Congress can work with the Marine Corps, the least-funded branch of the armed services.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. CROW).

Mr. CROW. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of en bloc package No. 2, which contains my bipartisan amendment to provide resources for a key national defense priority.

The threat to our servicemembers from sophisticated, state-manufactured unmanned aerial systems, or drones, is serious and requires us to pursue innovative and advanced solutions.

My amendment would increase by $5 million the Army RDT&E air and missile defense advanced technology line in order to integrate and demonstrate a modular, multimission capability consisting of surveillance, electronic warfare, and high-energy laser into a remotely operated robotic vehicle. The integrated prototype would demonstrate an ability to remotely detect, identify, and mitigate UAS threats so that we can better protect our troops and bases.

I would like to thank Chairman VIS-CLOSKY and Ranking Member CALVERT for working with me on this amendment. Additionally, I would like to recognize Mr. LAMBORN, Mr. LANGEVIN, Mr. BUCK, and Ms. HAALAND for their leadership and support on this issue.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendments en bloc offered by the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY).

The question is on the amendments en bloc.

The en bloc amendments were agreed to.

AMENDMENTS EN BLOC NO. 3 OFFERED BY MRS. LOWEY OF NEW YORK

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, pursuant to House Resolution 1067, I offer amendments en bloc.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendments en bloc.

Amendments en bloc No. 3 consisting of amendment Nos. 19, 39, 47, 58, 65, 76, 77, 79, 85, 88, 98, 113, 162, 181, 188, 201, 207, 214, 225, 242, 248, 249, 268, 296, 309, 325, 326, and 333, printed in part B of House Report 116-461, offered by Mrs. LOWEY of New York:

Mr. CARSON of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of my amendment which will provide an additional five million dollars in support of pancreatic cancer research, including early detection, at the Department of Defense (DoD). Considering Rep. Lewis' recent passing from pancreatic cancer, and Rep. HASTINGS' current fight against this disease, I am grateful that my colleagues came together today to pass this amendment—included in En Bloc No. 2—by unanimous voice vote. This is a fitting tribute today, when our colleague, John Robert Lewis, is laid to rest in Atlanta.

This amendment builds on the incredible work done by the Defense Subcommittee on this issue. The Defense Subcommittee has already appropriated $10 million for pancreatic research at the Department of Defense (DoD), which is an increase of four million dollars from the previous year. I am thankful to the Defense Subcommittee, especially Chairman VIS-CLOSKY, for their leadership on this issue.

By passing my amendment, the House will increase appropriations for pancreatic cancer research at DoD from $10 million to $15. I am grateful that my colleague, Rep. ANNA ESHOO of California, has cosponsored my amendment—she is a great leader on behalf of pancreatic cancer research and the Chairwoman of the Health Subcommittee in the Energy and Commerce Committee. I am also thankful for the support of the Pancreatic Cancer Action Network, whose support and advocacy for this amendment has been critical in our efforts.

Today's amendment also builds on my previous amendment to the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA), which the House passed last week, that authorized $5 million for a pancreatic cancer early detection initiative at the Department of Defense (DoD). My amendment also complements report language in the Defense appropriations bill, which states that "early detection of pancreatic cancer requires additional research" and encourages the director of the Congressionally Directed Medical Research Program (CDMRP) at DoD to "expand early detection research for pancreatic cancer" to include pre-diabetic and diabetic individuals, "as well as those in underserved ethnic and minority communities."

Just a few weeks ago, this issue hit painfully close to home as America lost a giant to pancreatic cancer. Rep. John Lewis, our civil rights hero and Conscience of the Congress, passed away from pancreatic cancer only seven months after receiving his diagnosis. My amendment is inspired by Rep. Lewis' courageous battle against pancreatic cancer and also by Rep. ALCEE HASTINGS' ongoing fight. It is unacceptable that, despite being the third leading cause of cancer-related deaths in our country, pancreatic cancer still does not have a dedicated early detection initiative.

Rep. Lewis' short battle against pancreatic cancer is, sadly, often the norm for patients. In fact, the lack of research in ways to detect pancreatic cancer early has led to devastating consequences: sixty-six percent of patients live less than one year following their diagnosis. If diagnosed early, the five-year survival rate for pancreatic cancer patients is above eighty percent. However, if pancreatic cancer is detected late, the five-year survival rate drops to less than five percent. By failing to support our nation's researchers with the means to find new ways to detect pancreatic cancer early, we are leaving American's pancreatic cancer patients with few ways to detect this disease in time to extend the quality and duration of their lives. Rep. Lewis' struggle against this horrifying disease should serve as a sobering reminder of the human cost of failing to support early detection research for pancreatic cancer.

It's important to note that persistent health care inequities and disparities for communities of color compound the devastation of pancreatic cancer. In fact, the incidence rate for pancreatic cancer among Black Americans is twenty percent higher than that of any other racial demographic. This disease is deadlier for us; the pancreatic cancer death rate is seventeen percent higher for Black men than for white men. Significant evidence demonstrates that these disproportionate levels of pancreatic cancer are, in large part, rooted in disparities in health care and access to tests and diagnostics. As a result, the lack of pancreatic cancer early detection research accelerates the racial unfairness in our health care system, with devastating consequences for minorities.

At a time when our country is having a national conversation about the deep disparities in access to health care for Black and Brown people during a global pandemic, Congress must do everything within our power to improve health outcomes through research and treatment. Passing this amendment is a critical way to increase our investment in pancreatic cancer research, including early detection, and to help address the pancreatic cancer disparities for communities of color.

I thank my colleagues for including my amendment in En Bloc No. 2 and for passing this amendment today by voice vote. I urge my colleagues to support final passage of H.R. 7617 as amended.

Ms. MOORE. Mr. Speaker, year after year since coming to Congress, I have led efforts in the House to secure funding for Violence Against Women programs. I was honored to have led the efforts to renew the VAWA authorizing legislation in 2013. This is personal for me. And I want to make sure that for all of those who are going through the horror that domestic violence, they know that they have a place to go or services and supports to turn to get through those dark days.

VAWA is essential legislation that provides the premier services for survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault. However, that authorizing language is only as good as we actually fund it. With domestic violence-related homicides on the rise, now more than ever, we need these funds and we need these funds right now.

I have offered two amendments to this bill for programs that are in desperate need for additional funds.

I applaud the committee for their efforts but like so many programs, the need continues to outpace available resources. The first amendment I submitted is for the Transitional Housing Program. This program provides transitional housing and short-term housing assistance for victims and their children or other dependents. With many victims stuck at home during the pandemic, access to safe housing can be the difference between life and death.

I also offered an amendment to increase funding for the Sexual Assault Services Program. This essential program provides grants to rape crisis centers and other agencies for survivors of sexual assault. I am so proud of the work that these programs have done but we cannot limit the resources required to combat sexual violence in our communities during these dire times.

I am glad that these amendments have been included in En Bloc and thank Chairwoman LOWEY and Chairman SERRANO for their support. I encourage my colleagues to support this En Bloc.

Mr. LYNCH. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of en bloc Amendment No. 2 which includes my amendment No. 35 to the Department of Defense Division to provide an additional $5 Million for the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency (DPAA).

Mr. Speaker, we ask much of our men and women in uniform, especially when they are deployed into battle. They risk injury and indeed their lives to carry out the missions that keep America safe and protect our values around the world. In return, we make a promise to them that if the worst were to happen, we would ensure that they will be brought home to their families. The Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency's mission is to do just that for the over 82,000 American Prisoners of War and Missing in Action servicemembers since World War II still waiting to be returned.

The DPAA works through diplomatic partnerships with 46 host nations and collaborates with veterans service organizations, non-profit institutions, and other private sector entities in order to maximize scarce resources to find our missing servicemembers. They bring a steadfast dedication to this mission, and we must ensure they have the resources they need.

Since the 2015 reorganization of its predecessor organization, the Joint POW/MIA Accounting Command, the DPAA has taken meaningful steps towards refining its mission, unifying agency functions and personnel, and augmenting its accounting and recovery operations. Through my position as Chairman of the National Security Subcommittee I have continued to exercise Congressional oversight to ensure that these reforms are being optimally implemented, including leading several bipartisan Congressional Delegations to the DPAA headquarters and skeletal identification laboratory at Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam, as well as to their recovery missions in Vietnam, the Korean Peninsula and the Philippines, and most recently, holding an oversight hearing in the National Security Subcommittee last November.

The additional $5 Million that this amendment provides will help the DPAA continue to build upon its reforms, as well as continue its ongoing and vital work.

I would like to thank Representative JODY HICE for cosponsoring this amendment and for his leadership in supporting POW/MIA identification and recovery efforts. I would also like to thank Representative MARK GREEN, with whom I have the pleasure of collaborating on helping veterans who were deployed to the former K2 Forward Operating Base, for cosponsoring this amendment as well.

I would like to thank Appropriations Committee Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER for including this amendment in the en bloc.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in strong support of En Bloc No. 2, to H.R. 7617, the Defense, Commerce, Justice, Science, Energy and Water Development, Financial Services and General Government, Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, Transportation, Housing, and Urban Development Appropriations Act.

I thank Chairman MCGOVERN and Ranking Member COLE for including several amendments in the Rule for House consideration of H.R. 7617.

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 30, included in En Bloc No. 2, reduces funding for Operations and Maintenance-Defense Wide, by $5 million and increases funding for Defense Health Care for PTSD by $5 million.

My amendment increases funding for PTSD by $5,000,000.

These funds should be used toward outreach activities targeting hard to reach veterans, especially those who are homeless or reside in underserved urban and rural areas, who suffer from Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD).

Along with traumatic brain injury, PTSD is the signature wound suffered by the brave men and women fighting in Afghanistan, Iraq, and far off lands to defend the values and freedom we hold dear.

For those of us whose daily existence is not spent in harm's way, it is difficult to imagine the horrific images that American servicemen and women deployed in Iraq, Afghanistan, and other theaters of war see daily.

In an instant, a suicide bomber, an IED, or an insurgent can obliterate your best friend right in front of your face. Yet, you are trained and expected to continue with the mission, and you do, even though you may not have even reached your 20th birthday.

But there always comes a reckoning. And it usually comes after the stress and trauma of battle is over, and you are alone with your thoughts and memories.

And the horror of those desperate and dangerous encounters with the enemy and your own mortality come flooding back.

PTSD was first brought to public attention in relation to war veterans, but it can result from a variety of traumatic incidents, such as torture, being kidnapped or held captive, bombings, or natural disasters such as floods or earthquakes.

We can now add COVID-19 with the stress of watching the American people fight off a foe they cannot confront and defeat.

We must address PTSD in all its forms so that it can be defeated.

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 31, included in En Bloc No. 2, reduces funding for Operations and Maintenance-Defense Wide, by $10 million and increases funding for Defense Health Care for Triple Negative Breast Cancer (TNBC) by $10 million.

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 31 reduces funding for Operations and Maintenance-Defense Wide, by $10 million and increases funding for Defense Health Care for Triple Negative Breast Cancer (TNBC) by $10 million.

My amendment increases funding for the Defense Health Program's research and development by $10 million. These funds will address the question of breast cancer in the United States military.

The American Cancer Society calls several strains of breast cancer as a particularly aggressive subtype associated with lower survival rates; in this instance, it's a triple negative. But I raise an article that says: "Fighting a Different Battle; Breast Cancer and the Military."

The American Cancer Society reports the following 5-year survival rates for breast cancer:

- stage 0 to 1—near 100 percent survival rate;
- stage 2—about 93 percent survival rate;
- stage 3—72 percent survival rate; and
- stage 4 (metastatic)—22 percent survival rate.

Triple Negative Breast Cancer is more aggressive than other types of breast cancer.

Studies have shown that triple-negative breast cancer is more likely to spread beyond the breast and more likely to recur (come back) after treatment.

The risk appears to be greatest in the first few years after treatment.

For example, a study of more than 1,600 women in Canada published in 2007 found that women with triple-negative breast cancer were at higher risk of having the cancer recur outside the breast—but only for the first 3 years.

In 2013, the American Cancer Society Surveillance and Health Services Institute estimated that 27,060 black women would be diagnosed with the illness.

The rate of breast cancer is 10 percent lower in African American women than white women—it is the type of breast cancer (Triple Negative) that African American women contract that is alarming.

Because African American women are diagnosed in greater numbers with Triple Negative Breast Cancer, we have a five-year survival rate of 78 percent after diagnosis as compared to 90 percent for white women.

The incidence rate of breast cancer among women under 45 is higher for African American women compared to white women.

Triple Negative Breast Cancer:

Accounts for between 13 percent and 25 percent of all breast cancer in the United States; onset is at a younger age;

is more likely to metastasize.

Currently, 70 percent of women with metastatic triple negative breast cancer do not live more than five years after being diagnosed.

African American women are 3 times more likely to develop triple-negative breast cancer than White women.

African-American women have prevalence TNBC of 26 percent vs. 16 percent in non-African-American women.

Funding to support women serving in the military to address the incidence of Triple Negative Breast cancer can benefit from this Jackson Lee Amendment.

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 29, included in En Bloc No. 2, increases and decreases the Department of Defense Military Retirement Fund by $2 million to provide the Secretary of Defense the flexibility needed for technical assistance for U.S. military women to military women in other countries combating violence targeting women and children as a weapon of war, terrorism, human trafficking, and narcotics trafficking.

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 102, included in En Bloc No. 2, increases and decreases by $2,000,000 funding for the Office of Justice Programs grant in order to support programs to engage adult men and young persons to reduce and prevent domestic violence against children.

I ask that my colleagues vote in support of these amendments by passing En Bloc No. 2.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY) and the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT) each will control 15 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from New York.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise in support of the Republican en bloc, which includes important changes to the bill that would enable us to finish our work and deliver to the President a bill that he could sign, including removing language prohibiting the funding of the border wall.

While I certainly agree with my colleagues on the other side of the aisle that wall funding should not come from the DOD, it is unfortunate that the majority continues to ignore the problem along our southern border and funds no wall construction or Border Patrol agents in their FY 2021 Homeland Security appropriations bill. In doing so, they are forcing the administration to deal with the security of our borders through any means possible, including using DOD funds to build the wall.

Finally, I will simply say that all Members should have an opportunity to have their voice heard on annual appropriation bills on the House floor. While I acknowledge the difficulty of doing our work safely during the pandemic, and I thank the chairwoman for the bipartisan en bloc, which includes many of our minority’s priorities, nothing should stifle our Members from having the opportunity to offer debate and have a vote on an amendment germane to the bill.

Therefore, I urge adoption of the Republican en bloc, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. CUELLAR), a member of the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. CUELLAR. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank Chairwoman LOWEY for all the wonderful work that she has done on this appropriation bill, a very balanced bill that she has done, and I want to thank KAY GRANGER and also Mr. CALVERT for the work that they have done, even though we do have a disagreement. Let me talk about the wall.

With all due respect, I always get a kick out of people who don’t live close to the border, they might live about 1,000 miles away from the border, but they are the first ones who would tell us what we need to have at our border, in our own backyard.

Earlier this month, President AMLO from Mexico was at a press conference with President Trump. President Trump had said we need a wall, and we are going to have Mexico pay. I did not hear the President say: Where is that check to pay for the wall?

So what is happening is, the master dealmaker is now asking the U.S. taxpayers to pay for this wall after he promised that Mexico would pay for this wall.

Again, the taxpayers are paying for this. We are taking money away from the defense. We are taking money away from military construction. And we are taking money away from other places to pay for that 14th century solution called a wall.

I will tell you where we are on the wall. After 3 years, we only have 3 miles—and I emphasize 3 miles—of new wall. Everything else is replacement. Everything else is double wall—only 3 miles of new fencing that we have had.

Again, if you look at it, and I think you have seen some of the videos, the wall is falling apart. It is falling apart. Again, why are we spending billions of dollars to build this wall when it is falling apart?

If you ask every Border Patrol chief, including the Border Patrol chief under President Trump, if you ask him, “How much time does the wall buy you?” they say, “A few seconds or a few minutes, depending on who wants to cross over.”

So why are we spending billions of dollars to stop this? I have asked the experts on the border, which is Border Patrol: Do we need a wall? I always ask this question: Is it post-2012, or pre-2012? Because before 2012, the Border Patrol agents were saying that the wall was ineffective and a waste of taxpayers’ dollars itself.

Now, there are two main reasons why people called for the wall. One is to stop people coming in illegally, and the other is to stop drugs.

Let me talk about people coming in illegally. If you look at it, the last 7 consecutive years, visa overstays exceeded illegal border crossings. If you look at the last 2016–2017 numbers that we have, visa overstays accounted for 62 percent of the newly undocumented immigrants that we had.

If you look at the number one violators, with due respect to our Canadians, it is Canadians that are the number one violators of these visa overstays. So it is not people coming from the south, but it is visa overstays.

I dare you to say that we need a wall on the northern border. I dare any of you all to say that, and I bet nobody is going to say that.

If you want to stop folks from coming in, look at visa overstays. Sixty-two percent of the undocumented immigrants that we have are visa overstays.

Now, the other reason is drugs. Drugs, we have to stop the drugs. If you look at the official numbers from CBP, you will see that in FY19, just last year, 89 percent of the cocaine coming into the United States came up through bridges, our bridges. Only 11 percent came through in-between bridges.

If you look at heroin, 84 percent of the heroin that came into the United States came in through our bridges, and then the rest came in in-between.

If you talk about fentanyl, and I have heard so many people talk about fentanyl, 92 percent of all the fentanyl coming into the United States comes through our bridges, and only 8 percent in-between itself.

If you talk about meth, 81 percent of all the meth coming into the United States comes through our bridges.

Again, I want to stop drugs. I want to stop illegal migration. But we have to make sure that we look at this the right way.

Finally, let me say, I believe in private property rights. Why is it that we have forgotten about private property rights for all of those people who live along the border?

Imagine if you had land there for generations and then here comes the big bad Federal Government to take the land away. We have to protect the environment, private property rights, and if you want to stop drugs and people coming in, let's do it the right way. So again, I believe in law and order, but we have to do it the right way.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from West Virginia (Mrs. MILLER).

Mrs. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to speak on my amendment to fund the border wall.

Our country has suffered this year. We have all experienced hardship as a pandemic rapidly made its way onto our shores. Americans are resilient. We are rebuilding our economy, and we will persevere.

However, we must not forget about the ongoing crisis on our southern border. In their bill, my colleagues across the aisle want to strike all funding for border wall construction. This is not the time. We need to focus.

It was just months ago when nearly every Member of Congress joined together to ban deadly fentanyl from our country. This was such a strong statement to showcase our commitment to combating the opioid epidemic. Thanks to our strong border wall and the heroic efforts of the men and women who guard it, our border is currently more secure than it has ever been. Defunding the wall will weaken enforcement efforts and hurt our communities.

During the pandemic, overdoses in West Virginia alone have risen by 50 percent compared to a year ago. Now is not the time to turn a blind eye toward the drug smugglers who are looking to capitalize on our hardship.

We cannot abandon our vulnerable populations. We cannot stop construction. We need to finish the wall. We need a strong and stable border to show our commitment to stop crime and make sure that security is available to every single American.

For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I urge passage of my amendment and the entire Republican en bloc.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. ADERHOLT), who is the ranking member of the Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies Subcommittee.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I do rise in support of this amendment. The amendment improves the bill by including addressing several important Republican priorities, especially in division B.

For example, it increases the funding for school hardening measures under the STOP School Violence Act. It offsets this cost with a reduction of unauthorized appropriations for a new program that is included in the bill that will provide lawyers for undocumented immigrants arriving at our southern border.

The amendment also strikes a provision in the bill that would restrict the data of the Census Bureau that it can provide to the American people. The American people deserve more information when it comes to the Census, not less. The Trump administration has rightly made developing complete and accurate data on the U.S. population a top priority.

In addition, this amendment highlights the important work of the Department of Commerce in advancing U.S. leadership in space.

Finally, the amendment would increase funding for NOAA's Weather and Climate Operational Supercomputing System.

In closing, Mr. Speaker, I would like to commend the sponsors of this amendment for their efforts to highlight important, yet sometimes overlooked, priorities that very much improve this bill, and I recommend a "yes" on the amendment.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Washington (Mr. NEWHOUSE). The gentleman is from the land of hops.

Mr. NEWHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from California for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, one in five households with a disabled family member falls below the Federal poverty line. These families rely on home healthcare providers who are often family members of the disabled to care for them and to improve their quality of life. These providers receive modest compensation for their efforts provided by dedicated State Medicaid dollars.

For decades, Federal law has required that Medicaid providers be paid directly and in full for the services they provide. However, some States, including my own home State of Washington, have been withholding union dues via payroll deductions from payments to Medicaid-subsidized home caregivers. In many cases, this is done without the knowledge or the consent of the caregiver, and it is in clear violation of the law.

Now, this is no small problem. In 2017 alone, $150 million was diverted to unions from Medicaid payments to 350,000 caregivers. Fortunately, last year, the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services finalized a rule to stop this predatory practice that takes money out of the pockets of in-home providers. However, language in the bill would defund implementation of this rule and allow States to continue to circumvent Federal law.

My amendment strikes section 245 of the bill to ensure that CMS can enforce the law and protect home healthcare providers from having their Medicaid payments diverted to third parties.

Mr. Speaker, let me be clear: Ending this illegal deduction does not prevent caregivers from joining unions if they wish; rather, it empowers them by giving them the choice to do so. My amendment gives them that choice.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support the amendment.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. WRIGHT).

Mr. WRIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of my amendment which would remove harmful language that seeks to upend religious freedom protections for organizations across America.

Earlier this year, the Department of Labor took an important step in preserving the Constitution and ensuring the rights of religious employers. It is simple: Faith-based groups should be on equal footing as they compete with other employers without having to give up their sincerely held religious beliefs. Organizations such as the Salvation Army and Catholic Charities should not be afraid to partner with the Federal Government to help Americans.

Unfortunately, if House Democrats have their way and roll back these important religious protections, these organizations will face uncertainty and confusion in the Federal contracting process, possibly opting out altogether.

Beyond the fact that it is wrong to tell these organizations that they cannot work with the Federal Government to provide essential services, it is flat-out unconstitutional.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to stand by their commitment to the Constitution and protect religious liberty for all Americans by supporting my amendment.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. BOST).

Mr. BOST. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the chairman and the ranking member for including my amendment in this en bloc package.

My amendment has a straightforward goal: increasing support for school safety grants under the STOP School Violence Act.

Last Congress, I introduced legislation which is now law to provide grants to local school districts to strengthen security on school grounds. This was made part of the broader bipartisan STOP School Violence Act enacted last Congress.

In my southern Illinois district, these funds have been used by the Shawnee Community School District to build an emergency communications cell tower. The Meridian School District uses the funds to hire a school resources officer.

As a father, grandfather, and former first responder, I hope that our young people can return to the classroom soon. I hope that this money is available to make sure that they are even safer.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support the en bloc package.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. FOXX), who is the ranking member of the Education and Labor Committee.

Ms. FOXX of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague from California for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to highlight an issue of great importance to Americans: the ability to choose high-quality and affordable healthcare and increase competition among healthcare providers to drive down costs.

Included in this package is my amendment to codify the administration's rule requiring hospitals to post the prices they have negotiated with insurers and their cash discounted prices for about 300 common services. This rule is a step forward towards empowering patients by giving them the information they need to make informed decisions and take control of their healthcare.

Pulling back the curtain on hospital charges allows patients to shop around for the best price and will spur competition and innovation among hospitals for these services and, ultimately, result in lower prices for patients. It is a shame that Democrats appear to oppose this commonsense policy which will save money for patients and our healthcare system.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote "yes" on this en bloc amendment.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. BISHOP).

Mr. BISHOP of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of my amendment No. 225.

Last year, the Trump administration finalized a rule to allow employers to use flexible health reimbursement arrangements, HRAs, to fund insurance premiums for coverage purchased on the individual market. This will allow more Americans to shop for their own coverage and allow more employers to provide quality health benefits. Expanding the use of HRAs will increase overall coverage by 800,000 and provide strong protections for those with pre-existing conditions.

Congress needs to provide certainty for employers who want to provide this benefit. That is why my amendment would ensure that no funds in this act may be used to withdraw the final HRA rule.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the House to adopt my commonsense amendment.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. STEIL).

Mr. STEIL. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of my amendment, which is included in this bloc.

My amendment strikes language in the underlying bill which would prevent the Securities and Exchange Commission from implementing important reforms to the rules governing shareholder proposals.

The current rules, which haven't been updated since the Eisenhower administration, allow activists to repeatedly resubmit divisive proposals that have been rejected by a vast majority of shareholders. In fact, many resubmissions received only a single-digit share of the vote the year before.

A 2018 study of almost 2,500 activist shareholder proposals over nearly two decades found that proposals that had been submitted three or more times made up 32 percent of all the failed proposals. This can have a significant negative impact on public companies which continue to decline in number. Responding to each proposal takes time, and companies are forced to deal with multiple resubmissions of failed proposals each year. Importantly, this diverts the limited resources away from growth, job creation, and innovation.

Especially in today's challenging economic environment, we should support policies that encourage opportunity. The SEC's efforts to raise the bar for resubmissions are a step forward for workers, investors, and the health of our economy.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I have no additional speakers, I urge a "yes" vote, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I urge a "no" vote, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendments en bloc offered by the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY).

The question is on the amendments en bloc.

The en bloc amendments were rejected.

AMENDMENT NO. 49 OFFERED BY MS. OCASIO-CORTEZ

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 49 printed in House Report 116-461.

Ms. OCASIO-CORTEZ. Mr. Speaker, I have an amendment at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of division A (before the short title) insert the following:

SEC. ____ . None of the funds appropriated or otherwise made available by this Act may be used by any of the Armed Forces for twitch.tv or esports activities.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. OCASIO-CORTEZ) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from New York.

Ms. OCASIO-CORTEZ. Mr. Speaker, I present this amendment by opening with the stance of the U.S. Marine Corps, which is that: "War is not a game." I'm quoting the Marines. The Marine Service brand and issues associated with combat are too serious to be gamified in a responsible manner.

Now, this amendment is specifically to block recruitment practices and funding for recruitment practices on platforms such as Twitch.tv, which are live-streaming platforms that are largely populated by children well under the age of military recruitment rules. Children as young as 13, and oftentimes as young as 12, are targeted for recruitment forms that can be filled online.

This amendment is in direct alignment with both those values but also the values that children should not be targeted in general for many marketing purposes, in addition to military service.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from California is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. VISCLOSKEY), chairman of the Subcommittee on Defense.

Mr. VISCLOSKEY. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentleman yielding, and I do appreciate the gentlewoman's concerns.

Mr. Speaker, I would begin my remarks by saying the United States military is a very special place. Only about 30 percent of young Americans between 17 and 24 are eligible to join the military. Others are not because of educational issues, because of health issues, and other circumstances.

It is clear we have to make an investment in society. But having said that, this is a special place and we ought to cast a very broad net to encourage young Americans to serve their country in the military, especially those—I would point out, living in Gary, Indiana—in disadvantaged communities, many of which don't even know that opportunity exists.

The gentlewoman is concerned about abuses, and I share that concern, and I think Mr. CALVERT certainly does. We have seen abuses—setting the issue of technology aside—with recruiters making false promises. That is why we have controls in place. That is why those people are punished. That is why we have Congressional oversight.

Mr. Speaker, I do understand the criticism of younger people viewing esports channels. The ArmyEsports team Twitch channel has been set to 18-plus since August of 2019. I would grant that it is difficult in many instances to verify age online, and I do find recent media reports on the ArmyEsports team in the banning of commentators concerning. It is difficult to balance a platform's churn of service and community guidelines with free speech, and I understand that ArmyEsports has taken a pause on streaming and is reviewing its internal policies and procedures.

We, on the committee, certainly look forward to seeing the results of that review to allow the military to learn how to ensure that these platforms are used properly in the future.

The gentlewoman rightly also points out the issue of age. I would point out to all of my colleagues in this Chamber, that our bill already funds educational programs that give children under the age of 16 exposure to military service, including Junior ROTC, Civil Air Patrol, STARBASE, National Guard Youth Challenge, Young Marines, and Sea Cadets. These programs are in high demand and enjoy great bipartisan support.

Mr. Speaker, the concern is well-placed. It is the reason we have to exercise great oversight and control, but I do have to oppose the gentlewoman's amendment.

Ms. OCASIO-CORTEZ. Mr. Speaker, once again, I think it is extraordinarily important, especially when it comes to emerging technology platforms, that intervention be taken extraordinarily seriously, because once these lights are turned on, it is very difficult to roll them back. Right now, currently children on platforms such as Twitch are bombarded with banner ads that link to recruitment sign-up forms that can be submitted by children as young as 12 years old. These are not educational outreach programs, but recruitment forms for the military.

A Twitter account for the USArmyEsports team linked to a page with “Register to Win” at the top—no details on what one could even win—and a sign-up form that, according to a tiny disclosure at the bottom of the page, consents to contact by an Army recruiter, again allowing people as young as 12 years old to submit this form.

Viewers on the Army's Twitch channel are repeatedly presented with an automated prompt that says they could win an X-box Elite Series 2 controller that cost upwards of $200, and a link where they can enter the “give-away.” It, too, directs them to a recruitment form, which has no additional mention of a contest, odds, total number of winners, or when a drawing will occur.

Again, it is extraordinarily important that we approach and study emerging technologies, including live-streaming, which is a platform that is exploding in use, particularly among young people. And when it comes to issues of technology, I believe that we should act with reservation and caution first rather than entering with both feet in and then trying to undo damage that could potentially be done.

That is why I believe that we should, again, restrain and restrict ourselves from explicit recruitment tactics—not others, but recruitment specifically—on platforms that children are using to play games from Animal Crossing to Call of Duty.

Additionally, there was also the extraordinary concern within the Marine Corps of conflating military service with shoot-em-up style first-person shooters. We cannot conflate war and military service with this kind of gamified format.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, serving in the United States military is an honor, and we should be thanking the thousands of young people who choose to join the military to defend this great Nation.

The assertion that joining the military is a bad thing for low-income youth or any young person, is fundamentally flawed. It is insulting to the men and women who currently serve and those who served before them.

The military recruits the best and the brightest. They should not be prohibited from recruiting the best and the brightest from lower, socioeconomic classes or in the activities in which young people participate, such as esports.

In fact, studies show that when compared to their peers, military veterans do better across-the-board on education attainment, income, and quality of life.

It is important to remember the quotation, “This Nation will remain the land of the free only so long as it is the home of the brave.” The world is more dangerous now than it has ever been. It is because of the brave men and women in our military that our freedoms and security are assured.

I respect each branch of our military and it is the moral responsibility of every Member of this body to show these men and women the respect and the appreciation they deserve. Please join me in doing just that and voting “no” on this amendment.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. OCASIO-CORTEZ).

The question is on the amendment.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appear to have it.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to section 3 of House Resolution 965, the yeas and nays are ordered.

AMENDMENT NO. 87 OFFERED BY MR. BLUMENAUER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 87 printed in House Report 116-461.

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Mr. Speaker, I have an amendment at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of division B (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. ____ None of the funds made available by this Act to the Department of Justice may be used, with respect to any of the States of Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming, or with respect to the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, Puerto Rico, or the United States Virgin Islands, to prevent any of them from implementing their own laws that authorize the use, distribution, possession, or cultivation of marijuana.

SEC. ____ None of the funds made available by this Act to the Department of Justice may be used to prevent any Indian tribe (as such term is defined in section 4 of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 5304)) from enacting or implementing tribal laws that authorize the use, distribution, possession, or cultivation of marijuana.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. BLUMENAUER) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Oregon.

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Mr. Speaker, since 1996, when California voters made that State the first in the country to legalize medical marijuana, we have seen a revolution taking place in cannabis policy. This has been driven almost entirely by advocates and activists mounting successful campaigns to have voters in 33 States legalize medical marijuana.

Starting in 2012 in Washington State, in Colorado, followed quickly by Oregon and Alaska, voters legalized adult use. Today, 10 States, and the District of Columbia, have legalized adult use. In all, 47 States have legalized some form of cannabis use. This year, voters in 6 more States will decide on future progress.

Through this revolution, we have watched, across the country, shifting attitudes and moving forward. The Federal Government, sadly, is still trapped by the dead hand of Richard Nixon's "war on drugs," declaring cannabis a Schedule I controlled substance—wait a minute—despite objective evidence that it is not highly addictive and it does have therapeutic benefit.

That is why we are making progress in this Congress to catch up with the rest of America, and the multi-billion dollar—$12 billion by some estimates this year—industry, which pays $2 billion to State and local governments, much of it, sadly, with $20 bills in duffel bags.

Mr. Speaker, we passed the SAFE Banking Act on the floor of this House earlier in the Congress with 321 bipartisan votes. Sadly, it is still languishing in the Senate, but luckily, it is in the HEROES Act that we passed over to them. We have passed out of the Committee on the Judiciary, the MORE Act, which would fully legalize cannabis. And make no mistake, that day is coming.

Over two-thirds of the American voters support it, including a majority of Republican voters, and that support is what fueled a situation today when 47 States have some form of cannabis that is legalized.

In the meantime, until that day of reckoning comes, we must pass this amendment to assure the Federal Government does not interfere with State-legal cannabis activities, and that we extend those same protections to Tribal interests.

This modest extension of existing protections, which we have achieved through the appropriations process in the past, is critically important we retain and continue.

Mr. Speaker, I urge adoption of the amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Alabama is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, this proposal that is being referred to here would prevent Federal law enforcement from enforcing current law, protecting public health, and ensuring community safety.

Under the Controlled Substances Act, the Drug Enforcement Administration defines Schedule I drugs as "having no currently accepted medical use and a high potential for abuse." And according to the National Institute on Drug Abuse, there is scientifically "no recognized medical benefit from smoking or eating marijuana plants."

Claims of benefits from smoked or ingested marijuana are very unreliable and generally outright fabrication. However, it is an established fact that marijuana use has real health and social harms. This is true especially in children; young people with developing brains and those with impaired physical or psychological conditions. And new data shows crime and health problems from marijuana use and trafficking, in particular, in States that have criminalized its use.

Mr. Speaker, this amendment sends the wrong message about the most widely abused drug in the United States. It should be noted—and this is very important—according to the DEA, more young people receive treatment for marijuana dependency than for alcohol or all other illegal drugs combined. This amendment ignores the problems of abuse and sends the false message to youth that smoking marijuana is healthy.

Mr. Speaker, I strongly urge the rejection of this amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Mr. Speaker, I would respectfully disagree. As a practical matter, it is easy to verify that it does have therapeutic value. That is why even States that haven't approved it.

I have had experience with what has happened with our veterans, who make the strong argument that this has actually saved their lives: People with extreme nausea from chemotherapy. Babies with extreme seizure disorders are being tortured, and the only relief comes from the use of cannabis. That is why even States that haven't approved medical marijuana have passed it, because it works.

The existing scheduling is an outright lie. That is why we have problems, a Federal policy that is so out of touch with a majority of the American public, with objective evidence, what people have seen with their own eyes, protecting babies from being tortured or veterans with PTSD. That is one of the problems we have, a policy that is so out of sync that it is hard to convince children that they should believe the admonition.

We ought to legalize it, tax it, regulate it, keep it out of hands of kids, but don't deal with what is, for many adults, a medicine or a choice in terms of what they want to do. This is where the American public has been going.

The existing policy of prohibition is an abject failure.

In the gentleman's home State, we watched, just this last week, a veteran from Phoenix driving to North Carolina was discovered to have medical marijuana in his possession and subject to a 5-year prison sentence.

That is outrageous. That is not where the rest of America is. That is one of the reasons people are outraged in terms of Black Lives Matter. This selective enforcement of nonsensical policy has posed huge problems for Black Americans.

I strongly urge approval of this amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, let me just say, I know the gentleman from Oregon is very passionate, and I respect the gentleman very much, but I do want to say that this amendment ignores the problems of abuse. It sends a false message to our young people across this country that smoking marijuana is healthy. And I strongly urge the rejection of the amendment.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. BLUMENAUER).

The question is on the amendment.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appear to have it.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to section 3 of House Resolution 965, the yeas and nays are ordered.

Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this question are postponed.

The Chair understands that amendment No. 133 will not be offered.

AMENDMENT NO. 148 OFFERED BY MS. UNDERWOOD

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 148 printed in House Report 116-461.

Ms. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I have an amendment at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of division B (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. _____. None of the funds made available by this Act may be used by the Department of Justice to argue, in the conduct of any litigation to which the United States, or an agency or officer thereof is a party, that any provision of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (Public Law 111-148; 124 Stat. 119) or of the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010 (Public Law 111-152), is unconstitutional or is invalid or unenforceable on any ground, including that certain provisions of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act are not severable from section 5000A of that Act.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentlewoman from Illinois (Ms. UNDERWOOD) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Illinois.

Ms. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of my amendment, which will prevent Federal funds from being used by the Department of Justice to undermine the Affordable Care Act.

After Republicans failed in their dozens of attempts to repeal the Affordable Care Act legislatively, they are now fighting in the courts to overturn the law in its entirety. My amendment will stop them.

You see, if ACA is overturned, 23 million Americans would lose the affordable care they depend on; prescription drug costs would increase for seniors on Medicare; being a woman would once again be considered a preexisting condition; insurance companies would cap the benefits and kick children off their parents' plans before their 26th birthday; and 130 million Americans with preexisting conditions would lose their protections.

We simply cannot go back to those days.

Affordable healthcare that covers preexisting conditions has always been crucial, but it has never been more important than right now.

Today, over 4 million Americans have been diagnosed with the coronavirus, a new preexisting condition. Over 30 million Americans have lost their jobs, and over 5 million have lost their health insurance at the worst possible time.

While this health and economic crisis has been unfolding, the Trump administration will not stop until they destroy the Affordable Care Act. Not even a once-in-a-generation global pandemic will keep them from coming for your healthcare.

Well, not on my watch. As a nurse, and as an American with a preexisting condition, I understand personally why we must fight this with everything we have got: 130 million Americans depend on it.

Today, we fight for them as we send a crystal-clear message to the Trump administration: Keep your hands off our healthcare.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I claim the time in opposition to the amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Alabama is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, unfortunately, ObamaCare has been an unlawful failure. Fortunately, this administration remains committed to providing more affordable healthcare options to all Americans.

Debating the prospects of future judicial action will not help us deliver on our promise to bring better healthcare to our constituents. Congress needs to work, rather, on a bipartisan basis, with the administration, to ensure quality, affordable care.

In addition, it is not appropriate for Congress to tell the executive branch what positions it should take in court. Litigation strategy is the responsibility and the prerogative of the Department of Justice.

The Attorney General, as the litigator for the United States, should be able to advance what he believes are defensible and reasonable legal positions. The Attorney General has concluded that the position of the States challenging the ACA and the district court is a defensible and reasonable legal position for the department to take.

Questions of the constitutionality should be determined by the courts, not through a partisan debate on a funding limitation to an appropriations bill, which we are doing this afternoon.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I would urge a "no" vote on this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Kansas (Ms. DAVIDS).

Ms. DAVIDS of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of the amendment introduced by Congresswoman LAUREN UNDERWOOD, which would prevent the Department of Justice from spending taxpayer dollars on a lawsuit that would tear down the landmark Affordable Care Act.

To effectively fight the coronavirus, we have to make sure that every person has access to affordable, quality healthcare. But even during a global pandemic, when so many people are finding themselves without health insurance, this administration is determined to eliminate every last protection and benefit afforded by the ACA.

These benefits include allowing young adults to stay on their parents' plan until age 26, ensuring women and men are charged the same rates, and protecting people with preexisting conditions, things like asthma and diabetes.

If this lawsuit is successful, 94,000 Kansans would lose their healthcare coverage, people like Danny Robeson. I met Danny when he was 7. He lives in Prairie Village, in the district that I represent.

He was born prematurely, has cerebral palsy, epilepsy, and a cortical vision impairment, health conditions that surely are considered preexisting conditions. Without the protections of the ACA, his family fears that they would go bankrupt and be unable to get Danny the care he needs.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Ms. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 15 seconds to the gentlewoman.

Ms. DAVIDS of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, during this time of uncertainty, no Kansan should have to worry about whether they will afford the care that they or their families need to stay healthy.

We should build on the progress of the ACA, not tear it down.

I urge my fellow colleagues to support the amendment introduced by Representative UNDERWOOD.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I would oppose this amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Minnesota (Ms. CRAIG).

Ms. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this amendment.

Our work to lower healthcare costs for working families could not be more urgent. I am here to say that we will not fund the administration's attempts through litigation to threaten and tear down the critical protections of the Affordable Care Act.

Fifty-one percent of the non-elderly in my district in Minnesota have a preexisting condition and rely on the ACA's critical protections. If the ACA were repealed, 35,000 of my constituents would lose healthcare coverage.

To these Minnesotans, the results would be life-threatening and financially devastating. We cannot allow that to happen. We need to build on the ACA, not tear it down.

That is exactly why I introduced the bipartisan State Health Care Premium Reduction Act to lower the costs of healthcare for those in the individual marketplace, and it is why I am proud to support this amendment today.

I urge my colleagues to join us in fighting to preserve and build upon healthcare for millions of Americans.

Ms. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I yield 45 seconds to the gentlewoman from Iowa (Mrs. AXNE).

Mrs. AXNE. Mr. Speaker, I am so pleased to cosponsor this amendment today, to ensure that no taxpayer dollars go toward advancing a lawsuit that literally threatens the livelihood of millions of Americans.

Mr. Speaker, since 2017, we have seen an administration obsessed with undermining, sabotaging, and repealing a law that protects millions living with preexisting conditions in this country.

As we end another month of a devastating health crisis that has taken the lives of 150,000 Americans, they are doubling down and insisting—and I quote their own words here—"the ACA must fall."

This isn't only extraordinarily tone-deaf. It is playing politics with the lives of people in this country, including Iowans.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman from Illinois has expired.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Illinois (Ms. UNDERWOOD).

The question is on the amendment.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appear to have it.

Ms. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to section 3 of House Resolution 965, the yeas and nays are ordered.

AMENDMENT NO. 149 OFFERED BY MR. WALBERG

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 149 printed in House Report 116-461.

Mr. WALBERG. Mr. Speaker, I have an amendment at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of division B (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. _____. None of the funds made available by this Act may be used to carry out Order Number 3946-2017 of the Attorney General, issued July 19, 2017.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. WALBERG) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Michigan.

Mr. WALBERG. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to support my bipartisan amendment, which would help provide critical protections for all Americans and their right to due process under the Constitution.

My amendment would prohibit the use of funds for the Department of Justice to implement its adoptive seizures policy. These forfeiture adoptions provide a loophole that helps law enforcement evade stricter laws governing civil asset forfeiture by seizing property and transferring it to Federal authorities in exchange for up to 80 percent of future proceeds.

Now, while I support law enforcement and oppose the ridiculous idea to defund law enforcement, for many years I have worked in a bipartisan way to highlight civil asset forfeiture abuses and call for reform to the practice. And I thank my colleagues, Representatives RASKIN, AMASH, RUSH, GABBARD, and MCCLINTOCK, for joining me on this bipartisan effort today.

The Department of Justice Assets Forfeiture Fund contains proceeds from equitable sharing agreements between the Federal Government and local law enforcement. These arrangements create perverse incentives to seek out forfeiture opportunities, and it is used to circumvent State-enacted—like Michigan's—civil asset forfeiture reforms.

In recent years, we have learned of a growing number of instances across the United States where the government has confiscated property from citizens and small businesses without any criminal conviction or any criminal charges being brought. Moreover, civil forfeiture disproportionately affects minorities and individuals who cannot afford to represent themselves.

Mr. Speaker, current civil forfeiture practices are deeply unpopular with the public, and there is strong bipartisan support for reform. As such, proponents for reforming forfeiture practices include a broad coalition, like the ACLU, FreedomWorks, the NAACP, and Americans for Prosperity.

Mr. Speaker, the current civil asset forfeiture system is ripe for abuse and has undermined the constitutional rights of far too many Americans. This amendment has already passed the House twice by voice vote. I ask my colleagues to once again support this bipartisan amendment and protect the right of due process for all Americans.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. GABBARD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to claim the time in opposition, although I do not oppose the amendment.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I am opposing the amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. As a Member in true opposition, the gentleman from Alabama is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this amendment.

While I greatly respect the gentleman from Michigan and I know that he feels very strongly about this issue, this amendment would reverse the July 2017 order from the Attorney General, Jeff Sessions, which included safeguards to ensure adoptive seizures that are legal and conform to the Department of Justice policy.

Adoptive seizures allow the Federal Government to recover funds that are proceeds of or connected to Federal crimes, but where property happens to be discovered by local law enforcement. Moreover, this type of Federal and local cooperation fosters important collaboration between agents and officers.

We should not return hastily to the Obama administration policy but, rather, continue to review carefully the practice of forfeiture adoption as part of the broader discussion of asset forfeiture reform.

Violent crime, gangs, and drug trafficking are a growing and continuing problem across this Nation. We should not take away from law enforcement a tool they need to combat criminal groups and to make our streets safer.

So, again, we would love to work with the gentleman on this, but I would have to recommend a “no” on this amendment.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. WALBERG. Mr. Speaker, I yield as much time as she may consume to the gentleman from Hawaii (Ms. GABBARD).

Ms. GABBARD. Mr. Speaker, I commend my colleague from Michigan for his leadership on this very important bipartisan issue.

There should not be much dispute around the constitutional basis for the need of this change. In plain language, civil forfeiture basically allows police to seize, keep, or sell any property they allege is involved with a crime. Owners of that property may never be arrested or convicted of a crime, but they will see their money or their cars or their homes be promptly taken away permanently.

Now, in 2017, the Department of Justice expanded civil asset forfeiture, allowing local law enforcement to bypass State laws and seize property from people with the lowest possible burden of evidence, again, regardless of whether or not that person was ever convicted or even charged with a crime.

Furthermore, it puts the burden of proof on the private citizen to go through the bureaucracy and the red tape to attempt to reclaim their property, which is extremely difficult to do. This violates the very principle of our justice system: innocent until proven guilty.

It is a violation of the Fifth Amendment, which says: “No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.”

Mr. Speaker, this is a commonsense, bipartisan measure. I am proud to stand in strong support and urge my colleagues to vote “yes.”

Mr. WALBERG. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I would just remind my colleagues that the current forfeiture system is ripe for abuse, and it has undermined the constitutional rights of far too many Americans. This amendment has already passed the House twice by voice vote. We support it here.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to once again support this bipartisan amendment and protect the right of due process for all Americans.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I again want to oppose this amendment, and I firmly believe we should not take away from law enforcement a tool that they need to combat criminal groups and make our streets safer.

Mr. Speaker, I recommend a “no” vote, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. WALBERG).

The question is on the amendment.

The amendment was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. VISCLOSKEY) and the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT) each will control 15 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Indiana.

Mr. VISCLOSKEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. DANNY K. DAVIS).

Mr. DANNY K. DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I thank Representative MICHAEL BURGESS, who has been my bipartisan partner in this effort to affect positively those individuals who suffer from sickle cell anemia.

The Davis-Burgess amendment will add $2 million to the Centers for Disease Control’s National Center for Birth Defects and Developmental Disabilities’ Public Health Approach to Blood Disorders account to fund a surveillance program in sickle cell disease and reduce the administration account in the Office of the Secretary of Health and Human Service’s account by a similar amount.

This same bipartisan amendment was offered last year by me, Representative BURGESS, Representative BUTTERFIELD, and passed a roll call vote of 410–12, 410 yes, 12 noes.

I urge passage because what it does is set up a separate account for sickle cell anemia in the National Institutes of Health. It has no bearing on the budget, and I urge passage.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to this en bloc amendment.

I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BALDERSON).

Mr. BALDERSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of an amendment I offered alongside Representatives CISNEROS, LARSEN, and YOUNG. This amendment would increase funding to Small Business Development Centers by $5 million by fiscal year 2021.

SBDCs provide a critical resource to small business owners and entrepreneurs who use the centers for free consulting and at-cost trainings. SBDCs have a return on investment of over two to one, and last year they helped generate $7 billion in new sales. It will be even more valuable as our small businesses recover from this pandemic.

As a Member of the House Small Business Committee, I have seen firsthand how effective SBDCs can be for our Nation’s economic engine. Now, more than ever, we need to strengthen our support for small business programs.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in voting “yes” on this amendment and support Main Streets across America.

Mr. VISCLOSKEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT), the chair of the Committee on Education and Labor.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of my two amendments to H.R. 7617.

My first amendment is offered with Virginia Representatives WITTMAN, LURIA, and BEYER and reflects the need to adequately fund the important work done at Jefferson Lab.

JLab conducts primary research in subatomic particles, but the $2 million included in this year's bill falls short of the $9 million needed to move forward with the renovation and expansion to JLab, which the Department of Energy has already approved.

I also rise in support of my amendment offered with Virginia Representatives WITTMAN, MCEACHIN, LURIA, SPANBERGER, and WEXTON in regard to the urgent need for robust funding for the U.S. Corps of Engineers for coastal construction projects. The Port of Virginia and the Corps of Engineers have already undertaken the dredging, widening, and deepening of the Norfolk Harbor to enable safe and efficient two-way passage of the new larger container ships. The project will require additional funds and a New Start designation to keep the projected timeline intact.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting additional funding to keep both of these essential projects moving forward and on schedule.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New York (Mr. ZELDIN).

Mr. ZELDIN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the ranking member for yielding.

I rise today in support of my bipartisan amendment to halt the sale and marketing of Plum Island, New York, by the General Services Administration.

Situated at the gateway of the Long Island Sound, Plum Island is treasured by our local community in both New York and Connecticut.

Since World War II, Plum Island has been utilized as a research laboratory. In 2005, the Department of Homeland Security, which currently has jurisdiction over the island, announced that the Animal Disease Center would be moved to a new Federal facility in Kansas.

To offset the cost of this relocation, a law was enacted in 2008 that called for the sale of Plum Island to the highest bidder.

However, according to a DHS report issued in April 2016, the new site in Kansas is already fully paid for through a combination of Federal appropriations and funding from the State of Kansas.

The current law is the wrong path forward. The better way is to provide for public access, permanent preservation of Plum Island, and continued use of the state-of-the-art research infrastructure.

That is why I have been working with my colleague from Connecticut, Congressman JOE COURTNEY, and a bipartisan coalition of lawmakers from both sides of Long Island Sound to repeal this flawed mandate.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues' support.

□ 1345

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LOEBSACK).

Mr. LOEBSACK. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this en bloc package, which includes my amendment to increase investment of distributed wind technologies and research within the Department of Energy's Wind Energy Program.

Distributed wind is the use of typically smaller wind turbines owned primarily by rural and local entities, such as homes, farms, businesses, and public facilities to offset all or a portion of onsite energy consumption.

This type of energy production strengthens American communities by helping them become more energy independent while lowering costs for consumers. Distributed wind also strengthens domestic manufacturing, and, in fact, American-made wind turbines can be found in well over 100 countries around the world.

The funding provided over the past few fiscal years has helped unleash distributed wind power's vast potential, but continued investment is needed to support the critical research and development that will further reduce costs and maximize the benefits of distributed wind power.

Mr. Speaker, I encourage my colleagues to support this amendment.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. SMITH).

Mr. SMITH of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

I rise today in support of my amendment that requires the Secretary of Health and Human Services to coordinate with the heads of the relevant agencies to compile a list of critical medications the Federal Government should ensure are readily available in the event of another public health emergency.

In recent decades, the United States has become more reliant on foreign countries for the production of general pharmaceutical drugs. Today, only a small portion of generic drugs are produced in the United States. That is one thing that the coronavirus pandemic has taught us is that we should not be reliant on our adversaries for our generic drugs.

Hostile authoritarian regimes like the Chinese Communist Party should never have the ability to decide the drugs that American people have access to. We cannot allow China to hold American lives in its hands.

My amendment will ensure we are properly informed about our pharmaceutical supply chains.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Washington (Mr. HECK).

Mr. HECK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of the en bloc group of amendments including mine, bipartisan amendment No. 318, to increase funding for the Indian Community Development Block Grant.

This is about creating jobs and addressing housing needs in Indian Country.

For far too long, native communities have experienced poverty and overcrowded, dilapidated housing at a rate much higher than the rest of the Nation.

My bipartisan amendment would help Tribes address these longstanding challenges by increasing funding for the Indian Community Development Block Grant by $5 million.

Boosting funding for this program is a small yet meaningful step to improve housing and economic opportunities in Indian Country.

But we can't stop there. We must continue our work to improve housing in native communities.

I thank Representatives YOUNG, HAALAND, MOORE, GABBARD, and HUFFMAN for cosponsoring this amendment.

Mr. Speaker, I urge its adoption.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from the great State of Alaska (Mr. YOUNG).

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding, and thank him for his good work on this bill.

My amendment supports the important Water Power Technologies Office in the Department of Energy.

This office offers grants to deploy hydropower, pumped storage, and marine energy projects and related transmission infrastructure in low-income, economically distressed, underserved, or rural communities.

Hydropower is clean and produces no emissions and uses the energy of running water without reducing its quantity to produce electricity.

My State of Alaska has tremendous hydropower potential. While Alaska's total energy consumption is among the 10 lowest States, its per capita energy consumption is fourth highest in the United States because of our small population, terrain, and geographic parameters.

Mr. Speaker, the cost of electricity in Alaska can be twice that of the lower 48.

This increased cost of power in the residential sector has significant economic impacts on Alaskan families.

Many communities rely on expensive diesel generation for electricity and home heating.

This amendment offers support for hydropower projects, provides many residents and businesses of Alaska with low-cost, renewable, clean power.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Ms. GABBARD).

Ms. GABBARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this en bloc and my amendment that is included in it.

I am speaking on behalf of our rural communities that face many challenges in making sure that goods and services are accessible to residents and small businesses and that they actually remain affordable. Communities like mine are no different where, in many cases, air travel island-by-island is the only means of access available.

For things such as medical appointments, visiting family, getting to school, commuting to work or meeting local business needs and more, air travel is a lifeline.

A national one-size-fits-all regulation on Essential Air Service fails to acknowledge our unique travel needs and geographic realities.

This amendment extends protections for communities in Hawaii and Pennsylvania that Congress has long recognized and ensures our rural populations maintain access to critical transportation resources.

This bipartisan effort eliminates the cost-sharing requirement and makes sure that our local communities in rural areas remain connected.

Mr. Speaker, I urge support for this amendment.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. STAUBER).

Mr. STAUBER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding and for the opportunity to offer my crucial amendment that will help the five sovereign Chippewa Tribes in my district: The Bois Forte Band, the Fond du Lac, the Grand Portage, the Leech Lake, and the Mille Lacs Band.

Northern Minnesota Tribes provide cultural perspective that enrich and inform my policymaking. However, Indian Country has endured a crisis unlike any other.

Suicide among American Indian and Alaska Natives is a devastating epidemic impacting the communities in my district and across our Nation.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, American Indians and Alaska Natives have the highest rate of suicide of any ethnic group in the United States, and it has steadily been increasing since 2003. To this day, suicide is the second leading cause of death among native youth between the ages of 15 and 24.

Despite this startling trend, funding for Native American suicide prevention programs within the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration was level funded from last year.

Level funding is not enough. We need these funds to strengthen community-driven and informed approaches to reduce suicide among native populations.

Mr. Speaker, my amendment today nearly doubles funding for Native American suicide prevention programs. These crucial resources within SAMHSA will benefit Native American and Alaska Native youth everywhere.

For example, the renowned Indian Health Services facility in Bemidji, Minnesota, serves 34 Tribes in the Midwest covering my district and well beyond. With increased funding from this amendment, they would be able to provide more suicide and mental health services and outreach to our communities.

Mr. Speaker, before I close, I would like to thank my partner in addressing this issue, the dean of the House, DON YOUNG, from the great State of Alaska.

Mr. Speaker, I urge support for my amendment and, in turn, support for ending the longstanding and devastating epidemic in Indian Country that is suicide.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Virginia (Ms. SPANBERGER).

Ms. SPANBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of my amendment to address current IRS backlogs.

Over the past few months, I have heard from constituents across central Virginia who have not yet received their recovery rebate checks or their 2019 Federal tax refunds.

Congress created the recovery rebate program to address the economic crisis caused by COVID-19, and as families struggle waiting for IRS checks to arrive, we know that the taxpayer correspondence which is necessary to process these checks and tax returns is currently sitting in trailers and office space leased specifically to store the backlog of mail.

This backlog is unacceptable, and Congress must take action to make clear that this backlog must be addressed, and we must give IRS the tools they need to address it and make clear our expectations that they will.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. LAMALFA).

Mr. LAMALFA. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague from southern California for yielding.

I refer back to amendment No. 87 that would prohibit expenditure funds by DOJ for marijuana enforcement eradication.

Now, we have a huge problem in my part of northern California, and this isn't just what some may look at as a State's rights issue. This is a problem. We have a 50-State standard for FDA legalization of drugs, and we are going to have a willy-nilly hopscotch way of doing things with every State that wants to legalize it doing their own thing. What it really boils down to is this is still in violation of Federal law by legalizing marijuana. So we should continue to enforce it.

Empowering States to legalize it doesn't stop illegal drug trafficking. Indeed, it just brings it into town. It brings it closer and increases illegal drug trafficking from my State out to other States.

The cartels get even more nasty about this. Drug cartels have moved on to our public lands and caused great amounts of damage clearcutting trees, killing wildlife with their chemicals, and trying to keep them away.

The DEA Cannabis Eradication Program found a 60 percent increase in the amount of assets seized from raids in busting these grows.

The same year, the Forest Service eradicated nearly $1.5 million worth of plants, so this is 2016, from 247 sites on national forest lands in California alone. And those are 4-year-old stats because it keeps going up.

The amount of damage they are doing and what it means to nearby farmers and ranchers who have a very low tolerance for what they are allowed to get away with on their operations is really unfair.

Of course, these cartels are very heavily armed, and anybody that happens to go in there hunting or hiking or just traipsing around, their life is in danger because these people enforce very strongly on their grows.

They plague our forests. Many of my colleagues have a bipartisan bill called the PLANT Act to help the Federal Government and local law enforcement address this problem and increase penalties and do a better job of enforcing in our forests because they are damaging them. It is dangerous to our communities in those areas.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentleman from California an additional 30 seconds.

Mr. LAMALFA. So before we do anything that makes marijuana legalization easier or simpler, we must consider the side effects of this legalization and looking the other way on enforcement of marijuana on our lands.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. PANETTA).

Mr. PANETTA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 7617 and my amendment for funding the Education for Homeless Children and Youth Program.

This funding is necessary because homelessness affects students all across our Nation, including in my district on the central coast of California.

In Monterey County, nearly 10,000 students meet the formal definition of homelessness. More specifically, in Salinas, over 3,500 students are homeless. That is 40 percent of the school district.

We can and we must do better. And we can start with this bill and my amendment that identifies homeless youth, funds local liaisons, ensures support services, and coordinates with the community to meet the basic needs of our children.

Let's pass this bill with my amendment so that we can give homeless students greater support for a more promising future.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Washington (Ms. SCHRIER).

Ms. SCHRIER. Mr. Speaker, I am delighted that this amendment addressing antibiotic resistance has been included in this package.

While today we are laser focused on COVID-19, our next pandemic could be a "super bug."

The antibiotics we have relied on for years are no match for the drug-resistant bacteria that infect more than 2.8 million people each year.

As a pediatrician, I want to make sure that in 10 years I will still be able to treat my patients' bacterial infections like pneumonia, C. diff, meningitis, and abscesses.

In order to do that we need to curtail the current overuse of antibiotics and make investments in developing new ones now.

That is why Combating Antibiotic Resistant Bacteria, or CARB-X, is so important. By funding early phases of research for promising new antibiotics, this public-private partnership minimizes the risk that discourages investment in new treatments.

□ 1400

Mr. CALVERT. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. GOTTHEIMER).

Mr. GOTTHEIMER. Madam Speaker, I thank Chairman VISCLOSKY for his hard work here.

I rise in support of this en bloc package, which contains two amendments I introduced.

My first amendment will give all of Congress access to weekly updates on inventory in our Strategic National Stockpile. We all need current information on our Nation's supply chain and our inventory of PPE, vaccine materials, and supplies as we respond to this crisis, especially for my district, which has been hit so hard in northern New Jersey.

My second amendment prioritizes clean drinking water, because every child should have access to lead-free water at school.

I am proud my other two amendments were included in other en bloc packages to increase investment for broadband infrastructure, so we can address the challenges facing underserved areas, especially as families are working and learning online.

My final amendment, which has been adopted, supports improving our Nation's manufacturing supply chain to address the challenges caused by COVID.

I have worked closely with the New Jersey Manufacturing Extension Program as we help ensure small and mid-size manufacturers in New Jersey have the equipment they need.

Madam Speaker, I urge support for this bipartisan en bloc set of amendments.

Mr. CALVERT. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New Jersey (Ms. SHERRILL).

Ms. SHERRILL. Madam Speaker, COVID-19 weighs heavily on our communities. The pandemic has increased isolation, anxiety, and economic stress for millions of Americans, and we have seen a sharp increase in overdoses across the country.

The Overdose Detection Mapping Application Program tracks overdoses and has documented a 42 percent increase in suspected overdoses compared to the data from May 2019. In New Jersey, State health officials say there has been a 20 percent increase in overdose deaths since May.

The Mental and Substance Use Disorder Workforce Training program is critical to ensuring the necessary resources and training for medical practitioners and mental health professionals. This program makes grants to institutions, including medical schools and federally-qualified health centers, to support training for medical residents and fellows in psychiatry and addiction medicine, as well as nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and others to provide substance use treatment in underserved communities.

My amendment highlights the critical nature of these programs, and I applaud the committee for increasing funding for this training to support the mental and physical health of Americans.

Mr. CALVERT. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New York (Mr. ESPAILLAT).

Mr. ESPAILLAT. Madam Speaker, I thank Chairwoman LOWEY for more than three decades of valuable service to our Nation.

I joined Congresswoman SHEILA JACKSON LEE on an amendment that directs NIAID, led by Dr. Anthony Fauci, to prioritize minority patient outreach and minority candidate inclusion in COVID-19 critical clinical trials or therapy development.

I worked with Chairman RÁUL GRIJALVA on an amendment that supports English language acquisition grants used by school districts and teachers that teach English language learners, like myself, that sat in the back of a classroom for 2 years not knowing what was being said.

I have worked for the past 2 years with my colleague JOSÉ SERRANO on the National Science Foundation's STEM undergraduate program for Hispanic-serving institutions.

Finally, Madam Speaker, I am glad we included my critical amendment to prohibit the Office of Refugee Resettlement from contracting with for-profit contractors to house unaccompanied alien children.

That is a private sector money grab that benefits from children that are split, ripped apart from their parents' arms.

Mr. CALVERT. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Ms. STEVENS).

Ms. STEVENS. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of my amendment on drowning prevention in H.R. 7617.

This amendment emphasizes the pressing need to appropriate $5 million to the CDC to continue its lifesaving work on water safety and drowning prevention.

This amendment is in memory of Jacob Sandy, a loving brother and son, who drowned off the coast of Lake Michigan just over a year ago.

Jacob graduated from Seaholm High School, my alma mater. His young adult life was just beginning, and he was known for his deep Christian faith, his positive outlook, adventurous and humorous spirit.

Now that summer is in full swing, it is time for us to ensure that no one has to experience the pain suffered by his mother, Carol, his brother, Paul, his sister, Charlotte, and the countless others who loved him.

There is so much more we can do to prevent drownings in America.

Mr. CALVERT. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New Hampshire (Mr. PAPPAS).

Mr. PAPPAS. Madam Speaker, American doctors, scientists, and researchers aren't alone in racing to unlock treatments, vaccines, and other lifesaving developments in the fight against COVID-19.

Their counterparts in Israel are making groundbreaking advancements as well.

Just days ago, an Israeli study indicated that low levels of vitamin D increase the risk of contracting COVID. Israeli scientists are developing six different vaccine candidates and more than a dozen different treatment options for the deadly lung inflammation caused by COVID-19.

That is why I am asking my colleagues to support this bipartisan amendment which will fund a new partnership between the U.S. and Israel to bring leading researchers together to defeat this devastating disease.

By passing this amendment, we can deepen our expertise in the development of drugs, vaccines, AI solutions, respiratory assist devices, diagnostic tests, telemedicine, and more to help save American lives.

America can't go it alone in this fight. We are stronger when we join forces with countries that share our values to confront our shared challenges.

Madam Speaker, I urge adoption of this provision.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Madam Speaker, I have no further speakers. I support the en bloc amendment, and I urge a "yes" vote.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Madam Speaker, I rise to speak in strong support of En Bloc No. 4, to H.R. 7617, the Defense, Commerce, Justice, Science, Energy and Water Development, Financial Services and General Government, Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, Transportation, Housing, and Urban Development Appropriations Act.

I thank Chairman MCGOVERN and Ranking Member COLE for including several amendments in the Rule for House consideration of H.R. 7617.

The Jackson Lee amendments are in the following Divisions:

- Division A—Department of Defense;
- Division B—Commerce, Justice, Science;
- Division F—Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education; and
- Division G—Transportation, Housing and Urban Development.

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 319, included in En Bloc No. 4, increases and decreases the National Infrastructure Investments account by $2,000,000 to emphasize support for urban bicycle and pedestrian safety programs.

I wish to thank the Transportation Trades Department of the AFL-CIO and for voicing support for this Jackson Lee Amendment.

On March 30, 2019, in the city of Houston, at the intersection of North Shepherd Drive and West 10th Street located in the 18th Congressional District of Texas, Lesha White, 54, was driving with her daughters when she saw Jesus “Jesse” Perez struggling to cross the intersection in a wheelchair.

Ms. White pulled over and got out of her car to help Mr. Perez cross the street when another vehicle struck them, and they were both killed.

On March 7, 2019, 23-year-old David Leon Loya was killed in a collision with a school bus while riding his bicycle in The Heights area of Houston.

Police report that Mr. Loya was in the bike lane and tried to avoid the accident by sliding under the bus, but unfortunately, he was run over by the back axle.

This young man was greatly loved by his family, the lives of the people he touched in his volunteer work, and the bicyclist community.

I offered the amendment in remembrance of Lesha White, Jesus “Jesse” Perez, David Leon Loya, and all of the other pedestrians and bicyclists who have lost their lives in accidents with motor vehicles in urban areas.

In the past sixteen years, the Houston area has seen 2,000 deaths of bicyclists and pedestrians, at an average of 100 a year, with the last three years seeing the rate increase to 150 a year, according to federal statistics.

In 2017, the most recent year for which comprehensive statistics are available, according to the Texas Department of Transportation (“TDOT”), the numbers were no more encouraging.

According to TDOT, 1,409 Houston-area pedestrians were injured in roadway crashes:

- 275 of them were injured seriously;
- 146 pedestrians were killed in roadway crashes;
- 639 bicyclists were injured in roadway crashes; and
- 82 bicyclists were injured seriously.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has called the number of deaths a “public health crisis.”

The problem is no more encouraging on the national level as Texas ranks third nationwide in bicycle deaths, behind California and Florida.

Nationwide, the number of fatal bicyclist accidents is rising and are also amounting to a greater percentage of total traffic fatalities.

Cities are uniquely susceptible to this problem, as the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration reports that 70 percent of bicycle fatalities occur in cities.

I offered this amendment that was included in the FY 2020 Transportation Appropriations bill that is law today because funding is needed to make changes to the intersections to improve pedestrian and bicyclists safety.

We must come together to tackle this problem and work to ensure that we stem the tide in these fatalities.

The rising death and injury toll of pedestrian and bicyclists is alarming and merits serious attention but as we know too tragically, behind the statistics are stories about people who are treasured and sorely missed by family, friends, and coworkers.

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 251, included in En Bloc No. 4, increases and decreases funds by $10,000,000 increase in funding to support greater diversity in the pool of diabetes research professionals and patients participating in clinical trials.

Diversity in medical trials is essential to ensuring that cures, especially vaccines, and therapies work for the greatest number of persons impacted by an illness.

34.2 million people, or 10.5 percent of the U.S. population, have diabetes. An estimated 26.8 million people—or 10.2 percent of the population—have been diagnosed with diabetes. Approximately 7.3 million people have diabetes but have not yet been diagnosed (2018).

Diabetes impacts all social, economic, and ethnic backgrounds.

Type 1 diabetes accounts for about 5.2 percent of all diagnosed cases of diabetes, affecting approximately 1.6 million people.

African American adults are 60 percent more likely than non-Hispanic white adults to have been diagnosed with diabetes by a physician.

In 2016, non-Hispanic blacks were 3.5 times more likely to be diagnosed with end stage renal disease as compared to non-Hispanic whites.

In 2016, non-Hispanic blacks were 2.3 times more likely to be hospitalized for lower limb amputations as compared to non-Hispanic whites.

In 2017, African Americans were twice as likely as non-Hispanic whites to die from diabetes.

This Jackson Lee Amendment focuses efforts on addressing lower participation rates of African Americans with diabetes in clinical trials that test treatments and therapies.

I thank those who are instrumental in setting up clinical trials of the COVID-19 vaccine for focuses on increasing African American and Hispanic participation in the trial involving tens of thousands of Americans across the nation.

This work, like what is proposed by this Jackson Lee amendment, is intended to make cures as effective as possible for the greatest number of persons.

I am pleased to cosponsor Congressman ESPAILLAT’s Amendment No. 236 included in En Bloc No. 4 to provide the increases and decreases by $10,000,000 to support greater minority patient outreach and minority candidate inclusion by the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases in clinical trial participation for any vaccine or therapeutics to treat the novel Coronavirus 2019 (COVID-19).

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 252, included in En Bloc No. 4, increases and decreases funds by $10,000,000 with the intent of supporting programs that provide outreach and support services targeting program participants at greatest risk of not completing a college degree due to COVID-19 education disruption.

I urge my fellow members to vote in favor of En Bloc No. 4 and support these Jackson Lee Amendments.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Ms. BARRAGÁN). Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendments en bloc offered by the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. VISCLOSKEY).

The question is on the amendments en bloc.

The en bloc amendments were agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

AMENDMENTS EN BLOC NO. 5 OFFERED BY MR. VISCLOSKEY OF INDIANA

Mr. VISCLOSKEY. Madam Speaker, pursuant to House Resolution 1067, I offer amendments en bloc.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendments en bloc.

Amendments en bloc No. 5 consisting of amendment Nos. 151, 152, 154, 155, 158, 165, 166, 167, 168, 173, 177, 179, 185, 186, 189, 194, 196, 198, 203, 205, 208, 209, 210, 211, 213, 215, 216, 218, 221, 222, 224, 228, 234, 235, 237, 253, 256, 259, 260, 264, 269, 270, 278, 283, 284, 286, 288, 292, 297, 298, 299, 301, 302, 303, 307, 308, 312, 313, 320, 322, 323, 327, 331, 332, and 339, printed in part B of House Report 116-461, offered by Mr. VISCLOSKEY of Indiana:

Mr. LUJÁN. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of my amendment to support Comprehensive Opioid Recovery Centers.

Our country and my home state of New Mexico have made progress in addressing the opioid crisis, but the United States is still falling far short of ensuring that everyone struggling with a substance use disorder can access the treatment they need. Recovery is not a one-size-fits-all approach—it needs to be tailored to each person’s unique needs.

In 2018, Congress passed the overwhelmingly bipartisan SUPPORT for Patients and Communities Act. This legislation included new grants for Comprehensive Opioid Recovery Centers—facilities that provide the full continuum of treatment services, including all FDA-approved methods of medication assisted treatment, peer support, and wrap-around services for families. These Centers can help us identify what works and develop best practices to improve treatment everywhere.

Last year, Congress provided $2 million for the first round of funding for two Centers, which will be awarded this fall. My amendment increases funding to $10 million, the full amount authorized by the SUPPORT Act, to fund 10 Centers to serve some of the hardest-hit communities and build the evidence needed to improve treatment across the country.

Thank you to Mr. GUTHRIE and Mr. PAPPAS for joining me on this amendment, and I urge my colleagues to vote YES.

Mrs. CAROLYN B. MALONEY of New York. Madam Speaker, every day Americans communicate with loved ones, receive medication, and during this pandemic, millions more than usual will vote all by mail.

Yet drastic, negative changes are being made by new Postal Service leadership.

Mail is being delivered later than normal, overtime is being eliminated, and carriers are being told to leave mail at distribution centers.

The Administration's new Postmaster General is treating the Postal Service like a company, not a constitutionally mandated service for all Americans.

My amendment would stop the Postal Service from implementing new standards that will result in later mail delivery and worse service.

Now more than ever it is critical that the Postal Service continue to perform its mission without having to worry about cutting corners to cut costs.

I urge my colleagues to support this amendment.

Mr. WEBER of Texas. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of my amendment, which emphasizes the need to provide adequate funding for construction of the Department of Energy (DOE)'s Versatile Neutron Source or Versatile Test Reactor.

The Versatile Test Reactor is a critical piece of DOE R&D infrastructure that will allow U.S. nuclear researchers to test and validate a wide range of advanced nuclear reactor designs on U.S. soil. Any responsible U.S. nuclear energy strategy must include robust support for this user facility.

Last Congress, my bill, the Nuclear Energy Innovation Capabilities Act (NEICA), was the first step towards making this DOE user facility a reality. To build on the success of NEICA, the central piece of my nuclear legislation this Congress, H.R. 6796, the Nuclear Energy for the Future Act, is the authorization of full funding for this necessary work.

That's why I am very concerned to see that the 2021 appropriations bill provides less than a quarter of the funds needed to keep the Versatile Test Reactor project on budget and on schedule. If we are serious about our clean energy future and if we want to decrease our dependence on competitors like China and Russia for advanced nuclear R&D, we must continue to strengthen our advanced nuclear energy industry by prioritizing our investment in essential research infrastructure.

The United States should lead the world in advanced nuclear research and development. I believe that this amendment identifies one of the fundamental and immediate needs of the U.S. nuclear industry and provides a strong commitment to addressing it. Moving forward, I will continue to work with my colleagues to prioritize fundamental research that will support nuclear innovation and keep America safe, independent, and globally competitive.

I urge my colleagues to support this amendment.

Ms. WEXTON. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of my amendment No. 340 in En Bloc 4 to provide $9 million to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to continue its work developing the remote tower pilot program.

The remote tower pilot program is a simple and cost-effective way to provide air traffic control services to an airport from any location. Remote towers use a network of high-definition cameras and sensors to feed real-time information to air traffic controllers, who can be located at the airport or at a separate remote tower center. Remote tower infrastructure is cheaper, more flexible, and requires less extensive maintenance and upkeep than manned air traffic control towers, allowing the FAA and airports to address their air traffic control needs more cheaply. Remote towers also provide controllers with additional capabilities, including night vision with infrared cameras, enhanced visibility in poor weather or low light conditions, views of high-traffic areas or blind spots, moving object tracking, and real-time data overlays.

I am very pleased that the first remote tower in the U.S. is currently being tested at Leesburg Executive Airport in Virginia's 10th Congressional District. Launched in 2014, remote tower technology has provided Leesburg with air traffic control capabilities without having to construct a manned air traffic control tower. These capabilities support Leesburg's more than 100,000 annual operations in highly complex airspace due to the airport's proximity to Dulles International Airport.

The remote tower pilot program at Leesburg has been a great success, and my amendment will ensure that the FAA can continue this work at Leesburg and at new pilot sites around the country to further develop these important technologies. I thank the Committee for the inclusion of this amendment, and I urge my colleagues to support it.

Mr. SEAN PATRICK MALONEY of New York. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of my amendment to H.R. 7617, Division F—of the Defense, Commerce, Justice, Science, Energy and Water Development, Financial Services and General Government, Homeland Security, Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, Transportation, Housing, and Urban Development Appropriations Act of 2021. My amendment, included in the bipartisan en bloc, will increase funding for the Institute of Museum and Library Services account by $10 million to support technological advancements in libraries. This amendment highlights the need for technology, like Wi-Fi and computers, in libraries, especially in communities that are economically distressed. With uncertainty around school openings in the fall, many students may not have the technology or internet available at home to succeed. Libraries are a great place to offer these types of free community services in a safe environment. My amendment would support the bolstering of these resources. I urge my colleagues to support this legislation.

Mr. SWALWELL of California. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of my amendment, number 187 and part of en bloc package number four, which would direct the Department of Energy (DOE) to continue spending $10 million on the Hazardous Waste Operations and Emergency Response (HAZWOPER) worker training program in fiscal year 2021.

HAZWOPER is implemented by the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS). Through grants to outside organizations and labor groups, NIEHS is able to provide training for both communities near DOE sites and workers at such locations in hazardous waste and material clean up as well as emergency response in the event of a hazardous material release.

Many different categories of worker receive this preparation; some examples include carpenters, firefighters, machinists, and truck drivers. Their training can involve dealing with site-specific issues, such as superfund locations, job-specific challenges, and dangerous substances, including radiological materials, lead, and asbestos.

Since the program started in 1993, over 622,000 workers have received a total of more than eight million hours of training at dozens of sites around the country. One of those sites is in my congressional district, at Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory.

HAZWOPER thus helps protect staff, work sites, and communities from hazardous materials and emergency situations involving DOE operations. It is a vital program that should be continued.

I urge all Members to support my amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. VISCLOSKY) and the gentleman from Florida (Mr. DIAZ-BALART) each will control 15 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Indiana.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. LEVIN).

Mr. LEVIN of Michigan. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding the time.

I rise in support of this en bloc package, which includes three of my amendments.

My first amendment prioritizes funding to support labor reforms in Mexico that will improve Mexican and U.S. workers’ standards of living so the USMCA can fulfill its promise.

The second prioritizes BUILD grant funding for green infrastructure projects that will decarbonize and electrify U.S. ground transportation.

My final amendment prohibits Secretary DeVos from funneling public school money to private schools through so-called Education Freedom Scholarships.

These amendments protect workers, promote investments in green infrastructure, and safeguard public education.

Madam Speaker, I thank the chair for considering them and I urge my colleagues to support this package.

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Madam Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG), the dean of the House of Representatives of the United States.

Mr. YOUNG. Madam Speaker, I thank the ranking member, my good friend, for yielding to me.

You know, the legislation we have been talking about has a lot of good merits, but I was on the floor last week talking about the mice that get into a good bill and destroy it by leaving residue behind. It appears to me now that there is a rat in this bill that is leaving a lot more behind.

I am talking about an amendment that is offered on the Pebble Mine that hijacks due process and the scientific process that the sponsors of this amendment claim to hold so near and dear to their hearts.

The Clean Water Act and the National Environmental Policy Act, NEPA, are bedrock environmental statutes and they should not be preempted or short-circuited when it is convenient for groups on either side of the issue.

The sponsors of this amendment claim the administration is unraveling NEPA, but it is this amendment that would stymie the process, and it is disingenuous to want it both ways.

If groups on the other side want to indict the process, then we can have a debate about the environmental review process in this country, but to change the rules in the middle of the game is not fair nor right, especially if it comes from one State to another State.

The Federal permitting process is nearing completion, and I will respect the end result. I don’t know what the result will be.

As the Congressman for all Alaska, again, I am offended—all Members should be too—when another Congressman gets involved in my State or my district.

That is wrong. This is the House of Representatives. It is not the House of the Federal Government.

The House of Representatives speaks for their people, especially when it comes to States rights.

The people of Alaska have a right to have this decided by the book and free from interference by parties outside the State that seek to impose their wills or philosophies on the State and the people.

So, again, Madam Speaker, I want to remind my majority leaders: Let’s stop this rat infestation. Let’s keep this pure. Let’s be about appropriations. Let’s keep this in mind as we go through this process.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. MCNERNEY).

Mr. MCNERNEY. Madam Speaker, first I want to thank the chair and the ranking member for their hard work in considering all these amendments.

Madam Speaker, my amendment would increase and decrease by $15 million DOE’s Energy Information Administration budget to stimulate more robust data collection and analysis from their commercial and residential surveys, specifically with regards to water consumption, as well as to make water consumption data for commercial buildings available to the public, broken down by principal building activity and by region.

Our energy and water systems are interdependent.

As water scarcity, availability, and uncertainty become more prominent, the U.S. energy system risks exposure to potential associated vulnerabilities.

Therefore, it is time for a more integrated approach to address the challenges and opportunity of the energy-water nexus.

My amendment aims to assist us in that process by encouraging the EIA to modify and improve their existing data collection and analysis programs, enabling us to better collect and utilize energy-water data.

I urge adoption of this amendment.

□ 1415

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Ms. SLOTKIN).

Ms. SLOTKIN. Madam Speaker, on this, the funeral day of the great John Lewis, I ask my colleagues to support my amendment to fund a critical source of knowledge for my State, “The State of Black Michigan” report. This amendment comes directly from my meetings with African-American leaders in my district in the wake of the killing of George Floyd.

For four decades, researchers at Michigan State University compiled “The State of Black Michigan” report. This critical research project was established in the wake of civil unrest in the 1960s, and until 2007, it did what all good research does: it used hard data and facts, regardless of politics, to inform and hold elected leaders accountable for the persistent inequality in housing, healthcare, education, economic opportunity, and more.

The work to produce “The State of Black Michigan” was spearheaded by Dr. Joe Darden at Michigan State. It was not easy or cheap, and since 2007, without a source of dedicated funding, we have been without the knowledge of this report.

Madam Speaker, now, as the country once again confronts systemic racism and inequality, we must acknowledge and learn from the underlying facts to build effective policies. My amendment would provide a source of funding for efforts such as “The State of Black Michigan” so that we can confront systemic inequalities and actually do something about these systemic problems.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Washington (Ms. SCHRIER).

Ms. SCHRIER. Madam Speaker, researchers across the globe are working on vaccines to protect us from COVID-19, and once rigorous studies are complete, we will be able to roll this out to the public and provide protection from this dreadful disease.

But we need to be doing work now to build public trust and vaccine safety and understand concerns within specific communities. In order to do that, we need data on vaccine confidence and access broken down by race, ethnicity, geography, and age.

Just this week, we have seen a prominent example of bad actors who willfully undermine science, peddle conspiracy theories, and intentionally spread misinformation.

This won't be the last time. It is going to be hard to counter sophisticated efforts to sow doubt in vaccine evidence, efficacy, and safety, and we must reckon with this country's legacy of unconscionable treatment of people of color.

My amendment ensures that we will get reliable information to the American people because a safe and effective vaccine is only helpful if people are confident in it and willing to take it.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. NORCROSS).

Mr. NORCROSS. Madam Speaker, I thank the Member for yielding and including my two amendments in this package.

My first amendment directs OSHA to implement an emergency temporary standard to protect employees, employers, and customers from COVID-19.

In these chaotic times, standards will provide that predictability we need. Without these enforceable standards, we can't take that responsibility to reopen in a safe and effective way.

My second amendment: Health and Human Services must create comprehensive national testing and tracing for childcare centers. Essential employees are hard at work. Millions want to get back to work. Yet, childcare providers can't do the job they need to do to be safe.

A national testing strategy and contact tracing standard will help safely reopen these childcare centers. It is what our economy needs. It is what our kids need and, certainly, what our parents need.

I urge my colleagues to support these amendments, and I thank the chairman, once again, for his years of service.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. OCASIO-CORTEZ).

Ms. OCASIO-CORTEZ. Madam Speaker, I would like to thank the chairman for including my two amendments here regarding housing discrimination.

Yesterday, the President had tweeted that he was “happy to inform all of the people living their suburban lifestyle dream that you will no longer be bothered or financially hurt by having low-income housing built in your neighborhood.”

Now, this is classic, textbook discrimination. And we are here to rise to say: Uh-uh. This is not going to happen on our watch and that our Nation is strengthened and exemplified by diversity of class, race, and all backgrounds when it comes to housing; that HUD and the Department of Housing has an affirmative responsibility to not just prevent discrimination but to actively dismantle years and decades of actively racist and discriminatory policy.

That is our responsibility, and we have a responsibility to block that discriminatory policy wherever we see it.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. CORREA).

Mr. CORREA. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding. I am proud to support the Trahan-Correa amendment.

Our most precious gifts that we have in life are our children. As parents, nothing is more important than the well-being of our children.

Today, parents across the country are very concerned about their children's health, as they should be. Parents across this country are also concerned about their children's education and how to move forward.

Parents and local school boards, elected by the local voters, are in the best position to make the decisions on when to open those schools, and under what circumstances, not Washington bureaucrats.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. BLUMENAUER).

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Madam Speaker, I am proud to join my friend, Ms. OCASIO-CORTEZ' leadership and partnership stopping the Trump administration's reckless attack on fair housing.

For a century, housing discrimination against Black Americans and people of color was rampant. They were shut out of programs. It has been a struggle to be able to engage in fair housing practices.

The Obama administration reversed this disparate treatment by strengthening the Fair Housing Act. But the current occupant of the White House has, instead, rescinded the rule with his thinly veiled racist tweet suggesting that individuals in suburbs will no longer have to be “bothered or financially hurt by having low-income housing built in their neighborhoods.”

This continues a pattern for over a century, one of the reasons that people of color have been denied housing opportunities and an escalator to the middle class.

We ought to approve this amendment, push back, and recommit ourselves on the day that we lay our friend, John Lewis, to rest that we recognize his commitment to fair housing.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President.

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, I ask for support of the amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. MCHENERY. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong opposition to the Pascrell/Kaptur amendment that would increase funding to the United States Postal Service to carry out a pilot program for postal banking.

In 2018, President Donald Trump created a special task force to specifically review the Post Office and necessary reforms. The Treasury Department was directed to release the Task Force's recommendations, which it did in its report, “United States Postal Service: A Sustainable Path Forward.”

In its report, the Task Force was clear: “given the USPS's narrow expertise and capital limitations, USPS should not pursue expanding into new sectors, such as postal banking, the USPS does not have a demonstrated competency or comparative advantage, or where balance sheet risk would be added.”

The Post Office agreed. In response to a widely criticized and highly unusual report by the United States Postal Service Office of Inspector General (OIG), the Post Office made clear that despite any recommendations to the contrary from the OIG, the Post Office core mission “is delivery, not banking.”

The Government Accountability Office (GAO) agreed. In March, the GAO released a report finding that new, non-postal services like postal banking may have limited viability. Based on interviews the GAO conducted with the USPS officials, postmasters, postal employees, and consumer groups, GAO cautioned that postal banking may “generate minimal revenue and [the] USPS may face factors limiting the viability of these offerings.”

The Task Force said no. The Post Office said no. The GAO cautioned against it. Yet there are some in Congress who seemingly have put blinders on the overwhelming expertise of those who say this is a bad idea.

The cost of this willful blindness is at the expense of community banks and small financial institutions. Since Dodd-Frank, community financial institutions have struggled with the regulatory burdens and compliance regimes that are now required to provide basic financial services to more Americans. Allowing the federal government to go into banking via the Post Office might well be more than these financial institutions can bear.

In short, postal banking is a bad idea. And one that I have fought over the years and will continue to fight as needed going forward.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Madam Speaker, I rise to speak in strong support of En Bloc No. 5, to H.R. 7617, the Defense, Commerce, Justice, Science, Energy and Water Development, Financial Services and General Government, Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, Transportation, Housing, and Urban Development Appropriations Act.

I thank Chairman MCGOVERN and Ranking Member COLE for including several amendments in the rule for House consideration of H.R. 7617.

The Jackson Lee amendments are in the following Divisions:

- Division A—Department of Defense;
- Division B—Commerce, Justice, Science;
- Division F—Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education; and
- Division G—Transportation, Housing and Urban Development.

The Jackson Lee Amendments made in order for Division G provide funding for Fiscal Year 2021 Transportation, Housing and Urban Development and exemplify the House of Representatives' commitment to making real policy change and upholding Black Lives.

Three Jackson Lee amendments to this Division are complementary because they protect the history and culture of Black Lives from our past into our present by protecting areas that are cited in Public Law 116–111, which enacts H.R. 434, the National Emancipation Historic Trail Study Act.

The Emancipation National Historic Trail Act would pave the way for the establishment of only the second nationally recognized historic trail that chronicles the experience of African Americans in their struggle for equality and justice.

H.R. 434, the Emancipation National Historic Trail Act, designates the 51 miles from the historic Osterman Building and Reedy Chapel in Galveston, Texas, along Highway 3 and I–45, north to Freedmen's Town and Emancipation Park in Houston, Texas as a national historic trail.

The key amendments to Division G of H.R. 7617, are: Jackson Lee Amendments No. 320, No. 321, and No. 323, which are included in En Bloc No. 5.

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 320, included in En Bloc No. 5, prohibits the Department of Transportation from using funds for Section 106 Transportation construction projects in urban areas that have not been determined to meet the statutory and fiduciary obligations of the National Historic Preservation Act.

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 322, included in En Bloc No. 5, provides $1,000,000 in assistance to address challenges faced by communities impacted by persistent poverty and are not included in decision making when major highway construction threatens their homes, businesses, and culturally significant structures.

These two amendments make a statement in support of preserving the history of Black Lives, because this history matters.

Through these lives, a nation was forged out of what should have taken hundreds of years for America to rival Europe in economic might, industrial capacity, and military strength, it took less than a hundred because of forced labor worked beyond human capacity, compassion, or decency under a system of chattel slavery, which was more cruel than any conceived form of forced involuntary labor prior to what was created in the United States.

Some may ask, why do we need an H.R. 40, the Commission to Study and Develop Reparation Proposals for African-Americans Act, it is because we have not, as a nation nor as a people, gotten to the truth about what chattel slavery was, why those who created it thought it was necessary, and what steps were taken to poison every institution known to mankind to accept it as natural, normal and in many records as "compassionate".

Until we understand what was done, why it was done, and how it was achieved, there is no method to chart a course out of it, to get beyond its influence, to fully eradicate it from our minds, institutions, and way of life.

One of the vestiges of slavery is how government entities treat African Americans' right to own property—a home is the single greatest source of wealth for black people living within the United States.

Achieving homeownership is celebrated and the home becomes a source of stability for the family over multiple generations.

Stable communities led to the establishment of places of worship, businesses, as well as social and cultural centers of life within residential areas.

One of these historic communities is Independence Heights, which began in the 1900s, a time in which African Americans faced enormous difficulties securing property and establishing a place to live in the South.

Having faith in the message of self-determination advocated by Booker T. Washington, the early pioneers of Independence Heights secured property from the Wright Land Company, set up their own system of governance, and became the first town incorporated by African Americans in Texas in 1915.

Annexed by the City of Houston in 1929, Independence Heights remains a community that reflects and cherishes its values, accomplishments, and history to this day.

This area and others cited in Public Law 116–111 are under threat from the Texas Department of Transportation starting after World War II, when major highway construction was invoked nationally, and has continued to the present day.

For more than 14 years, Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) has been planning the North Houston Highway Improvement Project (NHHIP), a massive expansion of Interstate 45 that will completely reshape freeway transit around downtown Houston, with major changes to I–45, I–69, I–10 and Hwy 288 over the next decade.

These changes will threaten the Near Northside of Houston, taking away the Leonel Castillo Community Center and Greater New Hope Missionary Baptist Church along with seven other historic churches in Independence Heights.

The proposed expansion of I–45 north of downtown to Beltway 8 will result in impacts to neighborhoods along either side of I–45 North, as hundreds of residents face displacement.

Located just northwest of the intersection of I–610 and I–45, the historic neighborhood of Independence Heights is one of those neighborhoods facing said impacts.

Unfortunately, in 2019 when TxDOT made public its report on the Project's expected impacts to historical resources required under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), the agency completely left Independence Heights out of its survey.

Independence Heights is listed in the National Register of Historic Places as the first state chartered community of former slaves and is a destination site on state historic heritage trails such as the Texas Independence Trail and holds the distinction as the first town incorporated by African Americans in the state of Texas.

After World War II, the construction of the I–45 and 610 Loop isolated Independence Heights from the rest of the city of Houston.

Starting after World War II, the push to build highways accelerated and the brunt of the pain for this growth was felt by black and brown communities not just in Texas but everywhere massive projects were undertaken.

Once again, I–45 has planned major reconstruction that could impact communities of color, including historic black neighborhoods like Independence Heights and the Fifth Ward, as plans call for demolishing homes and businesses to accommodate more roadway space.

TxDOT has not been kind to Independence Heights or other communities around the network of freeways and interchanges in the downtown area.

Over the decades, these same areas have lost hundreds of homes, businesses and historic places to massive rebuilds and new construction has taken hundreds of homes and historic sites from Independence Heights.

TxDOT's plans for the I–45 massive rebuild seem to have relied on previous policies of the past I–610 freeway construction for the current plan to take neighborhood property.

Today, the world has changed—and the faith of historic places and the community that cherishes them can take comfort in knowing that H.R. 434, the "Emancipation National Historic Trail Study Act," became Public Law 116–111 on January 27, 2020.

The ambition of taking on the effort of building a national historic trail was made possible by the dedication and hard work of local historic preservationists who tell the story of the African American experience.

Jackson Lee Amendment No. 323, included in En Bloc No. 5, increases by $1,000,000 the Office of Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity to address the fairness in the use of Community Development Block Grant Disaster funding to repair or replace single family homes damaged during Hurricane Harvey to ensure that multigenerational homes can house the family at documented predisaster capacity.

This amendment addresses the unfair action taken to diminish the quality of repairs or replacement of homes damaged by Hurricane Harvey.

The law providing the final supplement for disaster recovery for Hurricanes Harvey and Maria disaster housing recovery provisions of the bill allowed local jurisdictions to be in control over recovery or repair of single and multi-family housing.

The City of Houston applied for and was awarded the grant to replace or repair single and multi-family housing for city residents.

The state of Texas General Land Office is attempting to take back the grant and replace the city's plan to repair or replace housing with a plan to only repair two bedrooms no matter how many the home had at the time of the storm's damage.

The City of Houston strongly opposes the Texas General Land Office's ("GLO") proposal to eliminate all City-administered CDBG-DR 17 program funding for several reasons.

First, the City's programs are successful and on schedule. For example, even though the City is only 1.5 years into its grant: $446 million (35 percent) of total funds allocated to the City has already been designated for the specific properties or projects at which the assistance is to be used. $153 million (12 percent) is already under a signed contract that obligates its use to deliver recovery services, with more contracts being signed on a weekly basis.

The City's Single-Family programs have already fully served 234 homeowners, with another 246 families submitted to or approved by GLO and currently being served.

At the current pace, the City will serve 1000 families for each of the next 4 years before the end of the contract, for an estimated total served of 4,480 families.

Second, the City's programs are better and more appropriate for the citizens of the City than those the GLO has implemented.

As intended by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD"), the City's programs are serving the most vulnerable families first.

This prioritization addresses systemic racial inequalities that have regularly occurred in prior disaster recovery efforts, including the disaster recovery programs previously overseen by the State.

Specifically, the City has adjusted its approach to ensure Houston's most vulnerable residents are not left behind because of regulatory or bureaucratic barriers erected by the State or any other entity.

This number does not include contracts for third-party vendors.

The City's multifamily program will create units that are affordable for more than twice as long the State's program, will serve far more very low income families than the State's program, and is attracting seven times the amount of funding leverage (a requirement of the CDBG-DR 17 program) as compared to the State's program.

The City's program provides more recovery choices to Hurricane Harvey-impacted renters allowing them to use recovery funds to become homeowners. The State's program does not provide this option.

The third reason the city of Houston is opposing the GLO's proposed amendment to the grant award is because it violates the terms of its subrecipient agreement, GLO Contract No. 19-147-001-B489, as amended, with the City (the "Contract").

Section 2.03 of the Contract provides that amendments to increase or decrease the amount of the subaward must be made by written agreement of the parties and the City has not consented to any reduction in its subaward.

Funding under the Contract has not been reduced or terminated.

The City is performing under the terms of the Contract and has not defaulted under the Contract.

Finally, the GLO has demonstrated that it has a difficult time complying with HUD requirements and with establishing and communicating its own bureaucratic and confusing requirements to the City.

Two years ago, as it was drafting its own plan for the $5 billion recovery funds, the GLO failed to provide appropriate community engagement in Houston and Harris County, jurisdictions representing half of the state's total residential damage from Harvey.

Due to the above failure, HUD directed the State to allow the City to submit its own action plan, directed by and informed by Houstonians. As directed by HUD and agreed to by the State, the GLO's only role as the passthrough entity for the funding was to ensure compliance with HUD regulations.

The State has failed in this role, by making up requirements for the City's programs completely unrelated to any set by HUD but especially in its review of the City's home repair program.

Having decided to impose far more requirements than originally agreed to by the City or required by HUD, the GLO failed to communicate these additional requirements at the beginning of the program—using instead its Requests for Information ("RFIs") process to reject files and repeatedly changing its process along the way in order to continue rejecting files submitted by the City.

For these reasons, and to protect the homes of hundreds of Black Homeowners, it matters that the city, so long as it meets or exceeds the expectations for recovery of homes post Hurricane Harvey, they should be allowed to continue the work.

I urge all my colleagues to vote in support of En Bloc No. 5 and the Jackson Lee Amendments.

CITY OF HOUSTON,
Houston, Texas, July 28, 2020.

HON. SHEILA JACKSON LEE,
House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR CONGRESSWOMAN JACKSON LEE: On behalf of the City of Houston, I am writing to express strong support of your amendment #38 House Resolution 7617 regarding common-sense approach to providing disaster recovery assistance to households with homes damaged by Hurricane Harvey.

In Houston, many of our lower-income seniors live in single family homes that are their only asset. Of course, homeowners who have lived in homes with more than two bedrooms for many years would want to retain the value of that precious asset, even as they may need significant federal help to reconstruct their homes. Our desired standard is to rebuild a three-bedroom home for households of four or fewer people for people whose homes had three or more bedrooms before the storm.

While this is the standard outline in City of Houston guidelines, we are subject to rules set by the Texas General Land Office (GLO). GLO requires that occupancy as the sole factor for determining the size of rebuilt homes. Under GLO rules, people who have lived for many years in a three- or four-bedroom home would be forced to accept a two-bedroom home as a condition of receiving Harvey assistance.

This policy will have the unintended effect of depressing property values across those neighborhoods, while this amendment will help address that disparity and is consistent with the feedback from Houstonians.

We must work together to ensure that Houston has a health housing stock of the future, and that vulnerable Houstonians who receive much-needed recovery funds after Harvey are not forced to unreasonable downsize longstanding family homes as a condition of receiving assistance.

Sincerely,

SYLVESTER TURNER,
Mayor.

CITY OF HOUSTON,
Houston, Texas, July 28, 2020.

HON. SHEILA JACKSON LEE,
House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR CONGRESSWOMAN JACKSON LEE: The City of Houston ("City") strongly opposes the Texas General Land Office's ("GLO") preposterous proposal to eliminate all City-administered CDBG-DR 17 program funding for several reasons. First, the City's programs are successful and on schedule. For example, even though the City is only 1.5 years into its grant:

$446 million (35%) of total funds allocated to the City has already been designated for the specific properties or projects at which the assistance is to be used.

$153 million (12%) is already under a signed contract that obligates its use to deliver recovery services, with more contracts being signed on a weekly basis.

The City's Single-Family programs have already fully served 234 homeowners, with another 246 families submitted to or approved by GLO and currently being served. At the current pace, the City will serve 1000 families for each of the next 4 years before the end of the contract, for an estimated total served of 4,480 families.

Second, the City's programs are better and more appropriate for the citizens of the City than those the GLO has implemented.

As intended by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD"), the City's programs are serving the most vulnerable families first. This prioritization addresses systemic racial inequalities that have regularly occurred in prior disaster recovery efforts, including the disaster recovery programs previously overseen by the State. Specifically, the City has adjusted its approach to ensure Houston's most vulnerable residents are not left behind because of regulatory or bureaucratic barriers erected by the State or any other entity.

The City's multifamily program will create units that are affordable for more than twice as long the State's program, will serve far more very low income families than the State's program, and is attracting 7 times the amount of funding leverage (a requirement of the CDBG-DR 17 program) as compared to the State's program.

The City's program provides more recovery choices to Hurricane Harvey-impacted renters allowing them to use recovery funds to become homeowners. The State's program does not provide this option.

Third, the GLO's proposed amendment violates the terms of its subrecipient agreement, GLO Contract No. 19-147-001-B489, as amended, with the City (the "Contract").

Section 2.03 of the Contract provides that amendments to increase or decrease the amount of the subaward must be made by written agreement of the parties and the City has not consented to any reduction in its subaward.

Funding under the Contract has not been reduced or terminated.

The City is performing under the terms of the Contract and has not defaulted under the Contract.

Finally, the GLO has demonstrated that it has a difficult time complying with HUD requirements and with establishing and communicating its own bureaucratic and confusing requirements to the City.

Two years ago, as it was drafting its own plan for the $5 billion recovery funds, the GLO failed to provide appropriate community engagement in Houston and Harris County, jurisdictions representing half of the state's total residential damage from Harvey.

Due to the above failure, HUD directed the State to allow the City to submit its own action plan, directed by and informed by Houstonians. As directed by HUD and agreed to by the State, the GLO's only role as the passthrough entity for the funding was to ensure compliance with HUD regulations. The State has failed in this role, by making up requirements for the City's programs completely unrelated to any set by HUD but especially in its review of the City's home repair program.

Having decided to impose far more requirements than originally agreed to by the City or required by HUD, the GLO failed to communicate these additional requirements at the beginning of the program—using instead its Requests for Information (“RFIs”) process to reject files and repeatedly changing its process along the way in order to continue rejecting files submitted by the City.

1. The City's programs are successful and on schedule by any measure and there is no reasonable rationale for taking away City administration of the programs. Such an action only creates delays and harms the citizens of Houston.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT & OUTREACH

The City's Hurricane Harvey recovery programs were designed with significant community consultation, reaching nearly 4,500 citizens. In response to the destruction that Hurricane Harvey caused, Congress allocated $5.024 billion to the State of Texas in September 2017. In March 2018, the State of Texas announced that the City would have local control over $1.15 billion of these funds. When the State of Texas released its State Action Plan in April 2018, the City had a short window of time in which to develop an Action Plan for its portion of the allocated funds. To increase transparency in the process and support community efforts that promote the “right to stay, right to choose” framework promoted by housing advocates locally, the City's Housing and Community Development Department (“HCDD”) initiated its largest community engagement effort to date. Partners, organizations, and consulting teams, including building community WORKSHOP (be) and the Community Design Resource Center, were engaged to increase the success and reach of the engagement process.

What the City heard from Houstonians is summarized as follows: Neighborhoods want a voice in the process of prioritizing where the money goes. Housing advocates want to ensure that Houston's low- to moderate-income residents are prioritized in this recovery effort. Past recovery efforts led by the State fell short and heightened the desire by Houstonians for transparency and community participation in the disaster recovery decision making process. Housing and neighborhood advocates affirm the right of residents to have a say in what happens in their neighborhoods. A partnership approach between the City and community groups is the appropriate model to pursue.

MULTIFAMILY PROGRAM

The multifamily program that resulted from the City's community consultation was designed to specifically address community concerns and needs, including flooding concerns, fair housing considerations, and replacement of affordable rental units lost in the storm. The City's multifamily program provides loans to local multifamily developments that agree to reserve a certain number of units for families at or above the poverty level for many decades. CDBG-DR multifamily funding can be used to rehabilitate or build new, affordable apartment buildings. While the City's programs respond to basic HUD requirements for targeting the majority of assistance to low-income families, the City's programs go much further to fully address the unmet needs in Houston. The City's multifamily programs are a model for how to spend and leverage federal funds to maximize their benefit to low-income Houstonians. Specifically, the City's multifamily program achieves the following: More resilient design to ensure these homes are not flooded in the next storm; Equitable placement throughout the City to affirmatively further fair housing; Long-term affordability through a mandatory minimum affordability period of 40 years of affordability; Reserving a significant number of units for occupancy by extremely low-income and very low-income families; Leveraging CDBG-DR resources to augment the Federal dollars and attract tax credits, bank loans and philanthropic funds; and Expanding workforce protections to ensure those building the homes have a livable wage, a safe work environment and a career path.

The program includes requirements to ensure that developments constructed with City dollars are built to withstand future storm damage. As part of its resiliency planning, during Round2 of the City's multifamily application process, the City instituted additional design standards to ensure that the new developments would withstand future flooding. These standards provide guidance for multifamily building owners on a variety of retrofit strategies and outline mitigation strategies against a variety of hazards. Applicants were required to provide the City preconstruction, design phase information showing the planned project will incorporate resilient building measures to protect residents from future disasters. For new construction or major rehabilitation projects, this requires identification of a minimum of 12 resilient project points. Resilient Areas where developments were graded are based on the Enterprise Ready to Respond: Strategies for Multifamily Building Resilience in the areas of protection, adaptation, back up measures and community as follows:

Protection—Applicants are required to design a minimum of two distinct strategies to reduce a building's vulnerability to extreme weather.

Adaptation—Applicants are required to design a minimum of three distinct strategies that improve a facility's ability to adapt to changing climate conditions

Back up measures—Applicants are required to design at least one strategy that provide critical needs when a facility loses power or other services.

Community—Applicants incorporate two strategies that encourage behavior which enhances resilience

Green Building Standard—Applicants are required to build their development to one of four energy efficiency standards (HUD requirement)

Solar—Applicants are required to design buildings to be solar ready (HUD requirement)

Electric Vehicles (“EV”)—Applicants are required to incorporate standards to be ready to implement EV charging stations

Substantial amendments are to be reviewed by HUD for clarity. As shown above, Action Plan Amendment 7 is simply not clear. It is confusing and misleading, especially with regard to programs operated within the City.

ACTION PLAN AMENDMENT 7 DOES NOT ADEQUATELY ADDRESS FAIR HOUSING NEEDS IN THE CITY

We are further concerned that the GLO's efforts to replace the City's CDBG-DR 17 programs with GLO's more limited programs will expose the GLO, and potentially the City, to potential fair housing claims. The City's programs were specifically designed to address affirmatively furthering fair housing objectives and nondiscrimination in the City. The City prioritized our assistance in the single family programs for our most vulnerable and impacted citizens, which are often protected classes (including people of color and persons with disabilities). The City prioritized the new rental units created in the multifamily program in neighborhoods of opportunity, ensured that more units are available long-term to very low income families, and we have maximized our investment of federal resources through requiring developers to obtain significant leverage of other private and public dollars. Both GLO and HUD are currently being sued for fair housing violations by renters and low-income families who believed GLO's allocation of funds and program design discriminates against renters (who in Texas are also disproportionately protected classes) and does not properly take into account the needs of Texans impacted by Hurricane Harvey. We would think that, rather than apply programs that are already under fire for fair housing violations in Houston, the GLO would welcome the continued operation of programs that better address the fair housing needs of the citizens of the City and are not the subject of active fair housing litigation.

CONCLUSION

These comments highlight the numerous flaws in Action Plan Amendment 7. It is not approvable by HUD and requires substantial revision. While the City urges the GLO to cease its unreasonable efforts and revise the Action Plan Amendment 7 to allow the City to continue to administer its programs and help the citizens of Houston, we note separately that any substantive revision to this Amendment should be subject to further public comment. The GLO should draft a sensible, approvable Amendment 7 and re-issue for the required public comment.

In the alternative, GLO should not submit Action Plan Amendment 7 as drafted to HUD. If GLO chooses to do so, HUD should reject the portions of the amendment that eliminate the City's administration of its allocation of CDBG-DR 17 funds so as to enable the citizens of Houston to access much-needed funds and services. HUD should reject the amendment on the ground that it is incomplete and does not fully respond to the applicable criteria governing the CDBG-DR program. In the alternative, HUD should modify the grant such that it becomes a direct grant to the City, rather than one administered by the State.

July 22, 2020.

Hon. JIM MCGOVERN,

Re: Support of Congresswoman SHEILA JACKSON LEE—Amendment #30 (“Amendment #30”) to Division C of H.R. 7608, the State, Foreign Operations, Agriculture, Rural Development, Interior, Environment, Military Construction, and Veterans Affairs Appropriations Act (“Div. C of H.R. 7608”).

DEAR CHAIRMAN MCGOVERN AND RANKING MEMBER COLE: We write to express our overwhelming support for Congresswoman SHEILA JACKSON LEE's Amendment #30 to Div. C of H.R. 7608. Div. C of H.R. 7608 will provide Fiscal Year 2021 funding to the Department of Interior, and the National Parks Service (“NPS”) which manages our nation's parks, monuments, and federally recognized historic trails.

As you are aware, Amendment #30 proposes that $6 million of the funds allocated to the NPS should be used to address the backlog of national historic trail studies authorized by law, with special attention to enacted trail studies, relating to the history of underrepresented groups. Amendment #30 is of particular importance to us as it relates to H.R. 434—Emancipation National Historic Trail Study Act and the Emancipation National Historic Trail (the “Emancipation National Historic Trail”)—a 51-mile route showing the migration of newly freed slaves and other people of African descent in the 19th century. The Emancipation National Historic Trail begins at the location of the famous June 19, 1865, Juneteenth Announcement, commemorating the ending of slavery in Texas, and follows the route of the newly freed and formerly enslaved persons into Houston, Texas, and ends in Emancipation Park and the historic Independence Heights. The Emancipation National Historic Trail will become only the second trail in the 243-year history of the United States to commemorate the history of African Americans. Currently, the National Parks Service has only one other National Historic Trail which centers on the African American experience. It is the Selma to Montgomery National Historic Trail, which covers a 54-mile path between Selma and Montgomery, Alabama, and which was named a national historic trail in 1996. The Selma to Montgomery trail tells an important story about a pivotal moment in the nation’s struggle transitioning from a history of segregation towards the modern Civil Rights Movement.

The goals of the Emancipation National Historic Trail are the restoration, resurrection, and ascension of historical memory. It is a remarkable story and one that all Americans can be proud to share with the world. However, this cannot occur without direct financial support as offered by Amendment #30 to Div. C of H.R. 7608. Indeed, Amendment #30 would preserve critical periods of U.S. history not otherwise represented in existing Federal trails or historic places.

Amendment #30 provides support for the commencement of the Emancipation National Historic Trail study and will support additional studies that have been approved by Congress and signed into law. Your support and championing of Congresswoman SHEILA JACKSON LEE’S Amendment #30 is appreciated as it will provide vital resources for this historic endeavor.

Sincerely,

SAMUEL L. COLLINS JJJ,

Re Support of Congresswoman Sheila Jackson Lee’s Amendment #78 (“Amendment #78”) Division C of H.R. 7608, the State, Foreign Operations, Agriculture, Rural Development, Interior, Environment, Military Construction, and Veterans Affairs Appropriations Act, 2021 (“Div. C of H.R. 7608”).

DEAR CHAIRMAN MCGOVERN AND RANKING MEMBER COLE: We write to express our overwhelming support for Congresswoman JACKSON LEE’S Amendment #78 to Div. C of H.R. 7608. Div. C of H.R. 7608 will provide Fiscal Year 2021 funding to the Department of Interior, which includes the National Parks Service (“NPS”) which manages our nation’s parks, monuments, and federally recognized historic trails.

As you are aware, Amendment #78 seeks to provide $2 million to promote collaborations between Historically Black College and Universities (“HBCUs”) and local historic societies to identify, restore, and preserve places of historic significance to African Americans that are at risk of being lost. Amendment #78 is of particular importance to us as it relates to H.R. 434—Emancipation National Historic Trail Study Act and the Emancipation National Historic Trail (the “Emancipation National Historic Trail”)—a 51-mile route showing the migration of newly freed slaves and other people of African descent in the 19th century. The Emancipation National Historic Trail begins at the location of the famous June 19, 1865, Juneteenth Announcement, commemorating the ending of slavery in Texas, and follows the route of the newly freed and formerly enslaved persons into Houston, Texas, and ends in Emancipation Park and the historic Independence Heights. Amendment #78 would permit local history preservationist to collaborate with students at HBCUs on projects such as the Emancipation National Historic Trail and other projects to reclaim treasures that would otherwise be lost for future generations, and would train young people in some of the vital fields that are needed to support the protection of historic treasures in underserved communities.

We ask that you support Congresswoman Jackson Lee’s Amendment #78 to Div. C of H.R. 7608 because it is needed and would contribute to the important work of saving historic places of significance to African Americans by enriching the lives of students and offer career opportunities to them in history preservation.

Sincerely,

DEAR CHAIRMAN MCGOVERN AND RANKING MEMBER COLE: We write to express our overwhelming support for Congresswoman Sheila Jackson Lee’s Amendment #36 and Amendment #38, H. R. 7617.

As you are aware, Rules #36 Prohibits the Department of Transportation from using funds for Section 106 Transportation construction projects in urban areas that have not been determined to meet the statutory and fiduciary obligations of the National Historic Preservation Act.

Also, the Rules #38 amendment provides $1,000,000 in assistance to address challenges faced by communities impacted by persistent poverty and are not included in decision making when major highway construction threatens their homes, businesses, and culturally significant structures.

R. 7617, the Defense, Commerce, Justice, Science, Energy and Water Development, Financial Services and General Government, Homeland Security, Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, Transportation, Housing, and Urban Development Appropriations Act

Hon. JIM MCGOVERN,
Chairman, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

Hon. TOM COLE,
Ranking Member, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMAN MCGOVERN AND RANKING MEMBER COLE: On behalf of the community of Independence Heights we are sending this letter to show our support for Congresswoman Sheila Jackson Lee’s Amendment #36 and Amendment #38, H. R. 7617.

As you are aware, Rules #36 Prohibits the Department of Transportation from using funds for Section 106 Transportation construction projects in urban that have not been determined to meet the statutory and fiduciary obligations of the National Historic Preservation Act. As our community is one of the identified places on the National Emancipation Historic Trail, we are facing extreme pressure from gentrification and impending displacement and cultural erasure as a result of the North Houston Highway Improvement Project. More specifically, we are faced with the loss of many key historic structures in our community that will contribute to our placement on the historic trail. Supporting this amendment is key for our community as it will help protect the remaining historical and culturally significant structures

Also, the Rules #38 amendment provides $1,000,000 in assistance to address challenges faced by communities impacted by persistent poverty and are not included in decision making when major highway construction threatens their homes, businesses, and culturally significant structures.

Amendment #36 and #38 are of particular importance to us as it relates to H.R. 434—Emancipation National Historic Trail Study Act and the Emancipation National Historic Trail (the “Emancipation National Historic Trail”)—a 51-mile route showing the migration of newly freed slaves and other people African descent in the 19th century. The Emancipation National Historic Trail begins at the location of the famous June 19, 1865, Juneteenth Announcement, commemorating the ending of slavery in Texas, and follows the route of the newly freed and formerly enslaved persons into Houston, Texas. The route includes historic places such as Emancipation Park and our community, historic Independence Heights. This historic trail will become only the second trail in the 243-year history of the United States to commemorate the history of African Americans. Currently, the National Parks Service has only one other National Historic Trail which centers on the African American experience. It is the Selma to Montgomery National Historic Trail, which covers a 54-mile path between Selma and Montgomery, Alabama, established in 1996. The goals of the Emancipation National Historic Trail are the restoration, resurrection, and ascension of historical memory. It is a remarkable story and one that all Americans can be proud to share with the world. It should also be noted that without these proposed amendments, these communities are in threat of losing the physical evidence of their existence.

We encourage your support of these amendments and invite your direct support as offered by approving Amendment #36 and #38, H. R. 7617.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendments en bloc offered by the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. VIS-CLOSKY).

The question is on the amendments en bloc.

The en bloc amendments were agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

AMENDMENT NO. 219 OFFERED BY MR. ALLEN

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 219 printed in House Report 116-461.

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, I have an amendment at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of division F (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. ____ The total amount of appropriations made available by this Act is hereby reduced by 5 percent.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. ALLEN) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Georgia.

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, last week, I stood before this body as we voted on the first spending package, which, like this package, was enormous and brought before this House without enough time to learn where the American people’s tax dollars are actually going.

Today, we are considering 6 of the 12 traditional appropriation bills in one package.

We must get back to regular order and a process where we can carefully consider and examine each bill and one that works for the American people. The bills in this package would spend $1.3 trillion in total discretionary spending, a 13.9 percent increase from the budget that was agreed to.

I would once again like to state for the record that the Democratic majority can’t even stick to the bipartisan budget that was agreed to last year.

The first appropriations package that was passed last week contains $37 billion in emergency measures, and this package adds another $207 billion of such spending. With that addition, according to the Congressional Budget

Office estimate, this level of spending is 23.5 percent higher than the President's request.

No business or family in this country would ever dream of spending money like this that they don't have and have no idea where they are going to get it. So why does this body think we are an exception?

Unfortunately, that is business as usual for the 116th Congress.

My amendment today is simple. It would reduce the total amount of funding for the Labor, HHS, and Education division by 5 percent for fiscal year 2021.

HHS alone is a $1.2 trillion agency. It employs hundreds of lawyers. Without my amendment, the division provides a net total of $222.4 billion in fiscal year 2021 discretionary budget authority.

If you do the math, my amendment would cut about $9.8 billion. I urge my Democratic colleagues to support my amendment since they will still be overspending, but just a little bit less than they initially intended.

I just want to note that I wanted to offer a 5 percent cut to multiple divisions throughout this bill, but continuing the Democrats' shadowy process, only this one amendment to this bill was ruled in order.

We can no longer neglect our national debt crisis, which is at unsustainable heights. It is morally wrong to burden our children and grandchildren with excessive debt because we can't seem to get our act together and exercise fiscal constraint.

Let me explain myself like this: How in the world can we create a standard of healthcare and a standard of living in this country on the backs of our children and grandchildren? We can't pay for it. So what do we do? We send it to our children and grandchildren and I don't know how many generations.

I urge my colleagues in this body to support my amendment today, and let's start having a serious discussion about how we can once again unleash economic growth in this country by restraining spending.

I reserve the balance of my time.

□ 1430

Ms. DELAURO. Madam Speaker, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentlewoman from Connecticut is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. DELAURO. Madam Speaker, I would just say to the gentleman, I hope he had the same concern about what happens to our children and grandchildren as he may have supported the unbelievable—what is it?—$2 trillion in tax cuts for the wealthiest 1 percent of the people in this Nation.

Again, I rise in opposition to the amendment. It would cut funding for important programs and services that provide for working families in this country. Many of these programs are already underfunded; they fail to meet the existing need.

For instance, the amendment would cut Head Start by $538 million, leading to thousands of children losing access to high-quality early learning programs, and that would be on the backs of today where we don't have an administration that wants to do anything about the loss of childcare in this country. They would cut the Childcare and Development Block Grant by almost $300 million at a time when childcare is in crisis. More than half of childcare programs could close if we do not provide emergency funding.

Just yesterday, this House passed two emergency bills to bring much-needed relief to childcare providers, and yet this amendment would cut funding for childcare.

It would cut the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program, LIHEAP, a bipartisan priority, by $188 million.

How about senior nutrition, which it would cut, including Meals on Wheels, by almost $50 million, resulting in 10 million fewer home-delivered or pre-packaged meals for low-income seniors.

Think about it. Think about that.

It would cut biomedical research at the National Institutes of Health by $2.3 billion, resulting in a reduction of nearly 2,500 new research grants.

It would cut title 1 funding for our public schools by $828 million, reducing needed resources for 25 million low-income students.

It would cut special education grants to States by $648 million. That would reduce support to provide services for 7.4 million students with disabilities, curtailing their ability to succeed.

It would cut Federal financial aid programs, Pell grants, the SEOG program, and the Work-Study Program by $1.2 billion for students and for families in need.

It would cut funding for job training programs by $185 million, resulting in fewer supports for Americans who are seeking better opportunities for themselves and for their families.

It would cut funding by $122 million meant to help States manage and administer unemployment insurance claims and benefits for struggling Americans.

Today, people are not even sure if their unemployment benefits are going to be cut off tomorrow unless the Senate would move and pass the HEROES bill, where we extend unemployment benefits. But, no, this amendment would cut $122 million, again, cutting the unemployment insurance program.

This is about values. Budgets are about values, and $135 billion that is in the CARES bill has gone to or was prepared to go to 43,000 taxpayers at $1.6 million as a tax rebate going back to 2018, 2019 when no one had even heard of the coronavirus. But that is okay. That is okay. We can pass that. We can do something about that because of whom it benefits.

Think about whom we need to benefit in this institution and what our responsibilities are. Our responsibilities are to the working families and the essential workers today who are on the front lines trying to just be able to get by and also to save themselves, their health, and their families.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to oppose this amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, in response, I understand that we are in unprecedented times, but H.R. 7617 moves our Nation in the wrong direction.

We talk about values. Those same children who are in Head Start programs 20 years from now are going to be trying to find a job. Five months ago, we had the best economy in the world. We had more jobs than we had people looking for jobs.

Isn't that what America is all about: living the American Dream?

Yet what we are doing is those same children—and we say we care about the children—where are you going to get the money? Where are you going to get it? Off their backs?

Madam Speaker, we can't continue this, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. ALLEN).

The question is on the amendment.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the yeas appear to have it.

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to section 3 of House Resolution 965, the yeas and nays are ordered.

Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this question are postponed.

AMENDMENT NO. 239 OFFERED BY MS. FINKENAUER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 239 printed in House Report 116-461.

Ms. FINKENAUER. Madam Speaker, I have an amendment at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 749, line 7, after the dollar amount, insert "(increased by $12,000,000)".

Page 780, line 11, after the first dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $12,000,000)".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentlewoman from Iowa (Ms. FINKENAUER) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Iowa.

Ms. FINKENAUER. Madam Speaker, I rise to offer this amendment to double Federal research funding for endometriosis over the level for fiscal year 2019.

Endometriosis is a painful, chronic condition affecting 1 in 10 women, 7 million women in the United States, with serious costs to their physical and emotional health and quality of life. Despite the prevalence of this disease and the many women who have it, it remains misunderstood, under-researched and underfunded.

Women and their caregivers, alike, often suffer from a lack of awareness about the symptoms of endometriosis and the disease itself.

This is a profound and heavy moment for me right now because of the fact that, back in March, I came down to this Chamber and shared publicly for the very first time that I, too, suffer from endometriosis. You see, Madam Speaker, at the time when I gave my speech, I wanted to make sure that folks knew that I could still do my job, that, yes, I have this painful condition, but that I was tough and I could still do my job and my work.

Luckily, I have been able to do that. I have my entire career. But what I realized since sharing my story is that I am absolutely one of the lucky ones, because this condition affects people in all different ways and in all different severities.

I happened to have been fortunate to find out at a young age when my mother believed my pain. This is for the women whom I have heard from who have reached out and who have suffered in silence, the ones whose bodies this condition has attacked in even more severe ways, who have had to drop out of the workforce because of the severity of their condition, the ones who have lost decades of their lives and their future family plans in pain because there weren't better options and there weren't any answers. They are warriors, they are tough, and they are braver than we deserve.

Today, we uplift those voices along with the truth that we must do more. You see, Madam Speaker, it is imperative that, with this funding, not only do we raise awareness of this issue, but we fight for better options: more than just one or two pills that don't necessarily work for every woman; more than extreme surgeries like cauterization or hysterectomies; and education and work to bring equity to other surgeries that are more advanced but yet specialized and available to so few because of the cost so that more women can get the care that they need and, quite frankly, deserve.

At the same time, we need to also figure out why this condition happens in the first place. Does it start at birth? Does it happen later in life? Can it happen starting in adolescence?

There are so many unknowns in this condition that we have known about since the 1920s. Again, 7 million women have it currently in the United States.

Today, we push forward. Today, we celebrate a win. But today is just the beginning. We will continue to uplift and increase awareness, funding, and research every single step of the way.

It has been an honor to hear the stories of the women who have reached out. They have told me, after reaching out and hearing their story, their pain described for the first time ever on the House floor, that they felt for the first time that they were not alone. After hearing their stories, they have made me feel not alone, and we will continue together. We have so much work left to do, and they are the reason we will not stop fighting.

I fully urge the adoption of this amendment.

Madam Speaker, may I inquire how much time remains.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentlewoman has 30 seconds remaining.

Ms. FINKENAUER. Madam Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Ms. DELAURO).

Ms. DELAURO. Madam Speaker, let me thank the gentlewoman for her passion, her concern, her courage, and her leadership on this issue.

There really isn't much more to say. I thank her for standing up for women and for health.

I am a survivor of ovarian cancer. The gentlewoman is tough. She is a warrior. She represents those who are suffering in pain every single day, when nearly 1 in 10 women are affected by this condition.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this amendment and support women's health research. It is imperative that women are able to survive endometriosis.

Ms. FINKENAUER. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Iowa (Ms. FINKENAUER).

The question is on the amendment.

The amendment was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

AMENDMENT NO. 241 OFFERED BY MR. FOSTER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 241 printed in House Report 116-461.

Mr. FOSTER. Madam Speaker, I have an amendment at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Strike section 510 of division F.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. FOSTER) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Illinois.

Mr. FOSTER. Madam Speaker, this bipartisan amendment offered by Mr. KELLY and me and supported, also, by Mr. SCHWEIKERT and Dr. BERA, would strike section 510, which bans HHS from adopting standards for a unique patient identifier that would allow patients to be identified uniquely across electronic health record systems.

In the 21 years that this misguided policy has been in place, tens of thousands of Americans have died due to getting the wrong drug to the wrong patient or due to incorrect or incomplete electronic medical records, all arising from the inability to simply and correctly merge health records from different systems.

Matching records properly requires a unique identifier for each patient. A Federal ban on doing this properly makes our healthcare system more expensive and less safe for patients.

A Johns Hopkins study recently calculated that more than 250,000 deaths per year are due to medical errors, and patient misidentification is a significant contributor to this.

□ 1445

This ban is also handcuffing us in our fight against opioids. A 2018 roundtable on the opioid crisis, cohosted by HHS and the nonprofit Center for Open Data Enterprise, recommended the generation of a unique identifier for each patient.

This would not only guard against so-called "doctor shopping" for opioids by those struggling with substance use disorder, but could also prevent those in recovery from accidentally being given prescription opioids after an injury, surgery, or childbirth, thereby triggering a relapse.

Finally, the ability to identify patients across the care continuum is also critical in our efforts to address the COVID-19 pandemic. Accurate identification of patients is one of the most difficult and crucial operational issues during a public health emergency. Field hospitals and temporary testing sites in parks, convention centers, and parking lots only intensify these challenges.

Laboratories that are testing patient specimens for COVID-19 are reporting that patient misidentification is causing COVID-19 test results to be returned to the wrong patient with potentially deadly consequences.

Madam Speaker, repealing this ban tackles a known and fixable problem in our healthcare system. I urge support for this bipartisan amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. KELLY of Pennsylvania. Madam Speaker, I rise in opposition, although I am not opposed to the amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the gentleman from Pennsylvania is recognized for 5 minutes.

There was no objection.

Mr. KELLY of Pennsylvania. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding. It is nice working with the gentleman. This has been a couple of years in the making, and it is way over time.

First, let's understand one thing: name and date of birth just isn't cutting it anymore, so this ban on HHS promulgating a unique patient identifier has resulted in a lot of American lives lost.

Madam Speaker, Mr. FOSTER already referenced a Johns Hopkins study that said up to 250,000 deaths per year—and I want you to think about that number—250,000 deaths per year are due to medical error. When we are talking today about the number of deaths from the coronavirus, and saying now it has gone over 145,000, these are deaths caused by a virus. And then here, we have another opportunity, if we are using the right data, we could possibly wipe out medical errors just by having access to that data and being able to cross-reference. Mr. FOSTER also referenced about opiates that sometimes patients are prescribed as a way to handle the pain.

Madam Speaker, I sat in the emergency room with one of my children. And a doctor said to him: We found out what you have; you do have MRSA. It is on your hip, and we are going to have to operate on you, and we are going to have to be able to try and scrape that off. Although it won't be gone forever, it will take care of the problem right now. This is what I am going to do. And he went through the procedure.

He also talked about the anesthesia that he was going to use. And he said to him: Do you have any problem with anything I have told you?

And my son said: No, none at all.

Well, luckily, I was sitting there. I said: Well, Doctor, the fact that he is a heroin addict, would that have any effect?

The doctor looked up and said: Oh, my God. Thank God you said something about it, because that would absolutely be fatal for him.

Madam Speaker, it is not just happening in studies. We are seeing it on the floor all the time in our hospitals. We are seeing that somehow data that is available is not being made available because of some archaic ban. Somebody says: No, we shouldn't have access because it just doesn't make sense.

It does make sense. It makes all the sense in the world.

In the year 2020, and what we are looking at right now, and we are talking about finding a cure for the coronavirus and doing it in a safe and smart way, why wouldn't we be able to look at all the data that is available? Why wouldn't we be able to cross-reference it? Why would we sit in the dark and say, this is my best guess? It doesn't have to be that way.

Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. FOSTER). This has been over 2 years trying to get this, and I feel very certain we will get it done, but this just makes sense.

Quite frankly, the stuff we have been using for the last several decades it just—maybe back in 1999, when it was an issue for somebody, it made sense. Not today; not in 2020; not in the world we live in; not in the danger that we are putting people in just because we don't always have the right data in front of us. And we can do that. We have the ability to do that.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. FOSTER. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Connecticut (Ms. DELAURO), chairwoman of the Appropriations, Labor-HHS and Education Subcommittee.

Ms. DELAURO. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Madam Speaker, I rise in support of Congressman FOSTER's amendment, and was fascinated listening to the bipartisan support for this effort. This brings down the skyrocketing cost of healthcare, a universal interoperable patient identifier, reducing avoidable administrative errors as has been pointed out, and that is being further exacerbated by COVID-19 today.

So we learned during this pandemic that accurate identification of patients is one of the most difficult operational issues in the field. Field hospitals, temporary testing sites are gathering demographic information of patients, but correctly matching that result after they return from labs is time-intensive, sometimes inaccurate, and it is a burden for the healthcare system.

I also would make one point, and I have expressed this to my colleague, Mr. FOSTER. We have to do this in a way that protects the sensitivity of an individual's medical information and that person's right to privacy cannot be compromised. So we need to be firm, clear on that principle. I think it can be developed in a way that doesn't compromise right-to-privacy.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this amendment.

Mr. FOSTER. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. KELLY), my colleague, for cosponsoring this bipartisan amendment so that we can move our healthcare system into the 21st century, save money, and, most importantly, save lives.

Madam Speaker, this amendment is supported by over 50 health groups, including the American Heart Association, the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, the American College of Physicians, the American College of Surgeons, the College of Healthcare Information Management Executives, the Opioid Safety Alliance, and many others.

Madam Speaker, last year, the House resoundingly passed this amendment to strike this ban. I urge my colleagues to once again pass this amendment. I urge the Senate to take proper action when we do, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. FOSTER).

The question is on the amendment.

The amendment was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

AMENDMENT NO. 334 OFFERED BY MR. POSEY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 334 printed in House Report 116-461.

Mr. POSEY. Madam Speaker, I have an amendment at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 954, line 4, after the dollar amount, insert "(increased by $2,000,000) (reduced by $2,000,000)".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. POSEY) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Florida.

Mr. POSEY. Madam Speaker, residents and local businesses along the way have expressed concerns about the upcoming high-speed rail project being built along Florida's east coast and through my district.

A high number of fatalities have already been associated with the train since the South Florida operations began in 2018. In fact, over the past 3 years, 75 deaths have been reported along the rail corridor, with more than 40 deaths involving the new high-speed train.

Last year, the Associated Press analyzed data from the Federal Railroad Administration and concluded that the project had "the worst per-mile death rate of the Nation's 821 railroads."

These trains will travel at fast speeds through existing town centers and residential areas in my district, with little separating the tracks from the surrounding communities. I have had concern for local schools in my district. There are several that are positioned very close or adjacent to the tracks; Gifford Middle School and North County Elementary School in Vero Beach, and Ascension Catholic School in Melbourne, just to name a couple of them. Many students walking to and from school must cross these tracks, and we all have an interest in their safety.

Madam Speaker, I thank my good friend and colleague, Congressman BRIAN MAST, for working together with me on this amendment, and for standing up for the safety of our constituents. Our amendment simply asks the Federal Railroad Administration and the Federal Highway Administration to conduct a pedestrian, motorist, and student safety study along the corridor and report back their recommendations to increase safety. The amendment simply increases the FRA's rail safety operations budget by $2 million from the program's reserve funds.

My office reached out to both the FRA and the FHWA for technical assistance on doing such a study, and neither agency expressed any objection whatsoever. In fact, FRA expressed support for it.

Staff from both the minority and the majority offices assisted in drafting this amendment, and I sincerely want to thank them for working together and stepping up to help on this.

The rail corridor is the recipient of Federal money and has been authorized for private activity bonds, so the Federal Government has been involved in the funding and financing of this project. Since Federal resources are being expended, it only makes sense that we should make sure it is safe for the surrounding communities.

The introduction of high-speed rail for our Florida communities will undoubtedly present safety challenges that need to be properly addressed, and that is the purpose of this amendment.

I ask my colleagues to join us in looking out for the safety of our residents, motorists, and school children, and support our amendment.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Madam Speaker, I claim the time in opposition, although I want to support the bill, if that is acceptable.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the gentleman from North Carolina is recognized for 5 minutes.

There was no objection.

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MAST).

Mr. MAST. Madam Speaker, I appreciate the gentleman yielding me the time.

Madam Speaker, I also rise in support of my colleague. I rise in support of my colleague, Mr. POSEY's amendment, specifically because what is going on with Virgin Trains and Brightline, it affects my community as well.

This project, it goes through some very dense communities with very little room between it and the people who live there. Hundreds of the crossings that we have that go through our community, nearly all of them, are at grade, directly encountering the traffic that they travel so close to. There are several schools in close proximity to the rail tracks, often placing children in significant danger of this project.

This amendment, which I am very proud to cosponsor, would divert $2 million from the Railroad Rehabilitation and Improvement Financing loan program for a study on pedestrian safety related to this project—very worthy cause.

This is a commonsense, public safety provision that will help to keep children and people in our community safe.

Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me time.

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of this amendment.

Madam Speaker, the rail safety issues that our colleagues raise are not limited to the State of Florida. They are severe in Florida, but they are, in fact, national problems.

Communities across the country are working to address highway-rail grade crossing safety, to prevent trespassing on railroad rights-of-way, and to mitigate blocked railroad crossings. In fact, the two leading causes of all rail-related fatalities are collisions at highway-rail grade crossings and trespassing on railroad rights-of-way.

This bill will provide communities and the Federal Railroad Administration with tools to mitigate these safety risks and to develop local solutions—specifically:

$110 million in grants for highway-rail grade crossing improvement projects;

$25 million for capital projects and engineering solutions targeting trespassing;

$10 million to continue media campaigns focused on grade crossing safety;

And $3.6 million for FRA to develop risk models, bolster community outreach and education, and support enforcement grants.

In addition, the bill requires FRA to continue to update each year its national strategy to prevent trespassing on railroad property, so we can have the most current data available and better understand the progress being made or the challenges that remain in reducing trespasser fatalities.

Madam Speaker, I commend my colleagues for offering this amendment, for calling attention to this issue, and I pledge to continue to work with them as we address railroad safety.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Florida (Mr. POSEY).

The question is on the amendment.

The amendment was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

AMENDMENT NO. 335 OFFERED BY MS. SHERRILL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 335 printed in House Report 116-461.

Ms. SHERRILL. Madam Speaker, I have an amendment at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 954, line 15, after the dollar amount, insert “(reduced by $5,000,000) (increased by $5,000,000)”.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the gentleman from New Jersey (Ms. SHERRILL) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New Jersey.

Ms. SHERRILL. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise today to speak about an issue critical to the residents of New Jersey.

I applaud Chairwoman LOWEY, Chairman PRICE, and the Appropriations Committee for this important legislation, which includes significant new investments in transit to modernize our crumbling bridges and tunnels and will jump-start our economy, create jobs, and improve the quality of life for New Jersey commuters.

My amendment demonstrates the strong support this bill provides for the Gateway tunnel project and other important rail projects throughout the Nation.

Of great importance to New Jersey is this legislation's focus on new rail infrastructure investment, including renewed funding for Amtrak's Northeast Corridor, the Capital Investment Grants program, and the State of Good Repair Grants program.

The Nation's most critical surface infrastructure project is the Gateway tunnel project. A failure of the current Hudson River tunnels could send the Nation into an even greater recession and cost the economy an estimated $100 million a day.

A planned, partial closure of the existing Hudson River tunnel could wipe out $22 billion in property values in New Jersey alone.

New Jersey and the Nation need funding to build Gateway and revitalize the similarly outdated transportation infrastructure across the country.

In May of 2019, I testified in front of the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee about the desperate need for a dedicated source of passenger rail capital funding that could be used to expedite the funding process for large projects like Gateway.

One program that can fill this important role is the Federal Railroad Administration's Northeast Corridor grant program for Amtrak, which provides funding for capital projects to expand passenger rail capacity and reliability along the most heavily used rail line in the Nation. This legislation provides almost $1.2 billion for this program, a significant step in expediting funding for the Gateway project.

Another important program for this task is the Federal Safe Partnership for State of Good Repair program, which provides funding to rehabilitate rail infrastructure and improve passenger rail performance.

A critical barrier to moving the Gateway project forward has been the administration's flawed interpretation of State of Good Repair funding as only being available to infrastructure projects in the construction phase. That is in spite of the fact that the FAST Act of 2015, which created the program, intended the funding to also go toward projects in the planning and review phases.

I sent a letter to the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee last year, urging that their surface transportation bill include language that explicitly allows projects in the design, planning, and review stages to be eligible for State of Good Repair grants. I was greatly pleased to see this exact language included in this legislation. It is an important step that will help expedite the funding that is available for Gateway.

It is concerning that even when the administration has approved grants for Gateway, it has slow-walked that process and continuously made grant awards months after they were expected. As a result, the entire process for utilizing those funds to conduct planning, reviews, and construction has been delayed for long periods.

This legislation requires that for both the State of Good Repair program and the Consolidated Rail Infrastructure and Safety Improvements program, the Department of Transportation issue notices about the availability of funds and provide those funds within a set period of time after this bill goes into effect, which will stop DOT from slow-walking this important process.

Finally, the Federal Transit Administration currently requires that a project receive a medium or higher rating before it finalizes an environmental impact statement that is critical for that project to move forward but often then refuses to grant Gateway projects that rating. This bill prohibits the FTA from making this requirement for the environmental impact statement.

We have a tremendous opportunity to green-light funding for the critical rail projects of the future with smart investments now.

I thank Chairwoman LOWEY and the committee for the great work they have done with this legislation, and I hope we can pass this bill that is so important for the residents of New Jersey and the Nation.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Madam Speaker, I claim the time in opposition to the amendment, although I am not opposed to the amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the gentleman from North Carolina is recognized for 5 minutes.

There was no objection.

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of this amendment. The Federal-State partnership for State of Good Repair Competitive Grant program is vital to improving passenger rail infrastructure all along Amtrak's Northeast Corridor and across the Nation.

I have traveled firsthand to see the Portal Bridge, the Hudson tunnels, the other infrastructure on the Northeast Corridor that we must upgrade as part of the critical Gateway program. This corridor is significant not just to New York, not just to New Jersey, but to the entire Nation's economy.

At the request of my colleague from New Jersey—whose amendment I commend—and others from the region, this bill includes important new flexibilities in the program which should help jump-start rail projects.

The bill rejects the administration's flawed decision to restrict project eligibility to final design and construction activities and makes important early-stage project activities like design, engineering, environmental studies, and acquiring rights of way eligible for funding.

Given the strain the coronavirus pandemic has placed on the budgets of State and local governments, Amtrak, and others, the bill eliminates the selection preference for projects which have a 50 percent or higher non-Federal match.

The bill also provides strong funding through other programs which could advance the rail infrastructure projects that make up the Gateway program, including $5.75 billion for Amtrak's Northeast Corridor, $7.2 billion for Capital Investment Grants (CIGs), $5.5 billion for CRISI, and $4 billion for the BUILD program.

In addition, the bill directs the administration to administer the CIG program as required by law, including a prohibition on requiring that certain financial metrics be met for projects before they finalize environmental reviews.

So I commend my colleague for her amendment. I look forward to working with her and others with a strong interest in this matter to support investments in Gateway and other important rail infrastructure all across this country.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1067, the previous question is ordered on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New Jersey (Ms. SHERRILL).

The question is on the amendment.
