HONORING THE LIFE OF SANDEEP DHALI WAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOHO) for 5 minutes.

Mr. YOHO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life and legacy of Sheriff Sandeep Dhaliwal who was tragically and senselessly killed in the line of duty last year, September 27, 2019.

Deputy Dhaliwal was the first observant Sikh to serve in Harris County Sheriff's Office and was the first Sikh American in Texas to receive a policy accommodation to wear articles of faith, including his turban and beard, while serving.

His story is an American story. Born in India, he moved to Houston, Texas, at an early age with his parents. He started a successful business but felt called to serve and build better relations and understanding between the Sikh and all greater-Houston communities.

He was a beloved husband, father, and son who selflessly served others and was a role model to all who knew him. Like many of the brave men and women in law enforcement who put on the uniform to protect and serve communities across our great Nation, Deputy Sandeep Dhaliwal is a hero.

HONORING THE LIFE OF SERGEANT ERIC TWISDALE

Mr. YOHO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of Clay County Sheriff Sergeant Eric Twisdale who passed away due to complications from COVID-19.

Anyone who knew Sergeant Twisdale said he was committed to serving the community. Throughout his 28 years of active service, he showed that commitment and was rewarded, receiving several awards, including the Lifesaving Award in 2014 for saving a person from drowning.

He was honored as the 2015 Deputy of the Year for displaying exceptional valor while helping stop two murder suspects during a high-speed chase through several counties.

There is a common thread that runs through our Nation's law enforcement community: courage, and selfless service to others.

Sergeant Twisdale most certainly possessed both in abundance. He is survived by his children, many grandchildren, and family members.

I thank Sergeant Twisdale for his service and for keeping our community safe. He will be missed.

CELEBRATING THE OPENING OF MIDDLEBURG VA CLINIC

Mr. YOHO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize the critical work being done by our VA health centers in Florida's Third Congressional District, and specifically to congratulate the opening of the new Middleburg VA Clinic.

On September 15, the Middleburg VA Clinic opened to patients. The clinic is vital for the health and well-being of so many veterans who call Clay County home.

Before the state-of-the-art facility opened, I introduced a bill with the entire Florida delegation that would name this clinic after Naval Chief Petty Officer Andrew Baker, a former Clay County resident and American hero who lost his life while serving our country.

During these turbulent times, we must never forget to honor those who serve and protect our fellow citizens and the Constitution from enemies both foreign and domestic.

CONGRATULATING UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA ON NUMBER 6 RANKING FOR PUBLIC UNIVERSITIES

Mr. YOHO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today as a proud Florida Gator. In the last "Best Colleges" edition of the U.S. News & World Report, the University of Florida was named the number 6 public university in the country. That ranking marks the fourth—I want to repeat that, that ranking marks the fourth—consecutive year the University of Florida has risen in the rankings for public universities, jumping from number 14 in 2017 to number 6 today.

UF is one of the finest research universities in the United States, attracting the best and brightest from around the great State of Florida, America, and the world.

I want to congratulate President Kent Fuchs, his staff, the faculty, student body, and the board of trustees for their collective efforts in continuing to elevate the University of Florida to higher and higher rankings.

And I can't end without saying: Go Gators.

SUPPORTING FIRST RESPONDERS AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

Mr. YOHO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and show my support for our Nation's first responders and law enforcement officials.

On September 14, we witnessed the assassination attempt of two Los Angeles County sheriff deputies in Compton, California.

Just yesterday, we saw two more attacked in Louisville. As I speak on this floor, the 31-year-old female and 24-year-old male deputies who were brutally ambushed, thankfully, have been released from the hospital.

The officers attacked yesterday, hopefully, will survive also. The support from across the country for these heroes is inspiring, even as the leftwing radicals shouted obscenities outside the hospital and yelled they hoped the officers would die.

While the President pursues noble action through peace accords in the Middle East, the Democratic Party cannot find its voice in admonishing domestic terrorists targeting our brave law enforcement officers across the country.

I stand with the President, with our law enforcement, and with the foundation of this country—respect for life, defense of liberty, and the protection of property.

SUPPORT PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. HORSFORD). The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. VELÁZQUEZ) for 5 minutes.

Ms. VELÁZQUEZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to express support for our Nation's public school systems, particularly, our K-12 institutions that are grappling with a frightening reality.

Unfortunately, the coronavirus pandemic has posed an unprecedented threat to our schools and without additional further assistance, they cannot afford to take necessary safety measures to reopen.

For example, according to a recent Government Accountability Office report, 4 of 10 districts need to update or replace HVAC systems in at least half of their school buildings. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has identified proper ventilation as a key consideration for schools seeking to reopen safely.

Today, it has been 6 months since New York City Public Schools and many others across the Nation were shuttered. The decision to close our schools was necessary and slowed the disease's spread, saving lives.

However, I understand this was a difficult decision for many families because of the vital support services that schools provide.

Not only is the school system where young people learn, but they also serve as a vital community anchor, providing nutritional assistance, special education, teacher support, and childcare. We all want schools to reopen for our students, but it must be done safely, and that requires additional Federal resources.

In March, the Families First Coronavirus Response Act and the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security, or CARES Act, were signed into law. Both measures help address the urgent challenges facing every part of our education system. These funds help educators adjust to long-term school closures, fund purchases for online learning materials, and provide a lifeline for public schools.

While the relief bills enacted so far took steps in the right direction, the magnitude of this pandemic demands more. Four months ago, the House passed the HEROES Act which will go even further. Without the HEROES Act, budget shortfalls are projected to reach nearly $500 billion for State governments alone.

The Senate's inaction has resulted in no relief for State and local governments, which are now being forced to make deep cuts to public education. Without significant Federal funding, our schools cannot upgrade buildings, provide PPE, continue virtual or blended learning, and, ultimately, safely reopen.

As the public health crisis has worsened since the passage of the HEROES

Act, the amount of funding needed to repair and modernize school facilities for the safe reopening has grown. My colleagues and I are now fighting for $300 billion to safely reopen our schools and maintain services for students.

Today, I am calling on the Senate to act immediately and pass a comprehensive relief package that provides significant resources to safely reopen our schools and protect students, staff, and families.

We must guarantee the academic achievement and basic development needs of our youth. However, we must also care for the safety and the mental and physical health of our students, educators, staff, and families.

At every level of government, we must do more for our teachers, our school administrators, and the families who depend on critical services provided by our public school system. That is why the Senate needs to stop obstructing and pass meaningful legislation for our Nation's families.

PROMOTING FARM AND AGRICULTURAL WORKER SAFETY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. HAGEDORN) for 5 minutes.

Mr. HAGEDORN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of bipartisan legislation, the Farm and Agricultural Worker Safety Education Act, which I am proud to introduce with my friend from Texas (Mr. CUELLAR).

The coronavirus pandemic has highlighted the need to ensure that we have a safe and reliable workforce to maintain our food supply. In order to win the battle with COVID-19, we must guarantee that the most up-to-date and science-based information is readily available and accessible for community leaders, educators, and rural businesses.

Our legislation will help guarantee that timely, relevant health and safety guidelines are reaching our rural workforce and communities by allowing higher learning institutions to apply for grants to distribute best practices and safety guidance to help farms, ag workers, and others who conduct business during this pandemic.

When we think about best practices and safety in the rural areas, we often think about tractor accidents and how to stop the farmers from being hurt in grain bin incidents and things of that nature.

We haven't really delved into this idea that we have to look at the health of our employees, the workers who are in the packing plants, the folks driving the trucks, the people at the distribution plants, and the people on the farms.

□ 1015

We have learned during this pandemic that when our health workers and when our workers on the farms and everything are in trouble, we are in trouble. We had shortages in our grocery stores of meat products, and that was not due to any problems having a supply of hogs, for instance. We had excess supply. But the folks who did the work at the packing plants were down, and we had disruptions, which led to those types of shortages.

So to make sure that we ensure our food supply and that we have everyone in as safe a condition as possible, we want to have these grants and best practices moving forward.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to join me in supporting this important initiative that will help ensure the safety of our farmers in rural communities as we work to keep rebuilding our economy.

RECOGNIZING OFFICER BLAKE CRULL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. PENCE) for 5 minutes.

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Sixth District hero Greenfield Police Officer Blake Crull.

Officer Crull was on a routine patrol when he saw a flipped car on fire. He sprang into action and ran toward the danger. With no regard for his personal safety, Officer Crull saved a woman from the burning car, which exploded mere moments later.

Brave acts such as Officer Crull's are the very reason I will always back the blue and never defund the police. I thank Officer Crull for his courageous and brave service to our community.

FIGHTING FOR CONSERVATIVE PRINCIPLES

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Speaker, as Indiana's Sixth District Representative, it is my duty to fight for the conservative Hoosier principles on which my constituents sent me to Washington.

My Republican colleagues and I are committed to the American people. We will renew the American Dream. We achieve this by making sure students can attend a great school, no matter their ZIP Code, by honoring the service of our veterans with good healthcare and job opportunities, and by supporting technical education.

We will restore our way of life. We achieve this by defeating COVID-19, by defending our police and not defunding them, and by upholding our constitutional rights.

We will rebuild the greatest economy our Nation has ever seen. We achieve this by getting Americans back to work, by ending our dependence on China, and by upgrading America's infrastructure.

Mr. Speaker, America is worth fighting for. This is our commitment to America.

AMERICAN SOYBEAN ASSOCIATION CENTENNIAL

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the American Soybean Association centennial celebration.

One hundred years ago, the American Soybean Association was started in my home State of Indiana at Soyland Farms in Camden. Today, the association advocates for our great soybean farmers while promoting the growth of the U.S. soybean industry, a thriving Hoosier asset and industry.

Congratulations to the association on its 100th year. As a supporter of the ag industry, I wish them the best of luck in the next 100 years.

RECOGNIZING FUTURE OF WORK

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Future of Work initiative in Muncie, Indiana, for its leadership in the 21st century workforce development.

The Future of Work organization includes Innovation Connector, Ivy Tech Community College, Ball State University, Purdue Polytechnic, Muncie-Delaware County Economic Development, Muncie Community Schools, Eastern Indiana Works, Ball Brothers Foundation, and East Central Indiana Regional Partnership.

It is paving the way for students and jobseekers to prepare for careers in technology, engineering, and manufacturing. I thank Future of Work for helping young Americans develop skills to join the 21st century workforce.

SUPPORTING SECOND AMENDMENT

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to give my proud support of the Second Amendment.

The Constitution affords the right of the people to keep and bear arms, and that shall not be infringed.

As a lifetime member of the NRA, I understand what it is like to have your constitutional rights attacked. We take a look at the riots, looting, and danger right here on our own front doorsteps, and we see that the ability to protect our families and ourselves has never been more important.

As the Representative from Indiana's Sixth District, I promise to uphold the Constitution.

APPLAUDING TRUMP ADMINISTRATION'S SUPPORT OF FARMERS

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to applaud the Trump administration's commitment to our great American farmers.

This week, the USDA announced $14 billion for agricultural producers who continue to face market disruptions and associated costs due to COVID-19.

President Trump made a promise to put American farmers first, and he is doing just that. This commitment to farmers has helped the hardworking Sixth District Hoosier farmers who have been impacted by this pandemic. Our ag community feeds this Nation, and I applaud the Trump administration's unwavering support.

SUPPORTING PPP FOR SMALL BUSINESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York (Mr. JACOBS) for 5 minutes.

Mr. JACOBS. Mr. Speaker, of the many excellent provisions in the
