Friday, October 9, 2020

Mr. KELLY of Mississippi. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the service of the late William E. Tabor Jr., who fought for our country during World War II.

William was born to William E. Tabor, Sr. and Clara Watts Tabor of Lobutcha. After graduating from Lobutcha High School, William joined the Army and was sent to the Philippine Islands where he was stationed at Clark Field, Manila. Sergeant Tabor would spend three years and five months as a Prisoner of War to the Japanese surviving the infamous Bataan Death March and Malaria.

CONGRATULATING DR. JOYCE E. WIPF ON RECEIVING THE WORTHEN CAREER ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

HON. ADAM SMITH

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 9, 2020

Mr. SMITH of Washington. Madam Speaker, it is my privilege to rise to congratulate Joyce E. Wipf, M.D. on receiving the 2020 Worthen Career Achievement Award, which recognizes her as an outstanding health professions trainee education champion whose lifetime contributions have profoundly advanced and impacted the educational mission of the Veterans Health Administration.

Dr. Wipf is a first-generation college graduate who always wanted to be a teacher. She found ways to integrate her passion for teaching with her career in medicine. While completing her medical residency she began developing the Resident to Teacher curriculum to help second-year residents become better educators. Now, nearly 30 years later, Resident to Teacher programs continue to help residents in hospitals across the country.

Dr. Wipf also led the effort to establish VA Puget Sound's Center of Excellence in Primary Care with the University of Washington School of Medicine and School of Nursing. The Center of Excellence takes an interdisciplinary approach to improving health care services for Veterans by creating a collaborative program that includes a range of fields and experience from internal medicine to social work and interns to fellows.

Veterans who receive their medical care from the VA Puget Sound Health Care System are very lucky to have someone who has dedicated their career to improving health care services for our nation's veterans, while simultaneously preparing the next generation of health professionals. It is truly remarkable that Dr. Wipf has combined her passion for teaching and medicine so effectively.

Madam Speaker, I congratulate Dr. Joyce Wipf on receiving the 2020 Worthen Career Achievement Award and thank her for improving health care for all Veterans.

THE COMPREHENSIVE BREAST RECONSTRUCTION ACT OF 2020

HON. ALCEE L. HASTINGS

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 9, 2020

Mr. HASTINGS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to introduce the Comprehensive Breast Reconstruction Act of 2020. This bill would provide breast cancer patients the option to have comprehensive reconstruction, including nipple-areola complex tattooing.

Approximately 275,000 new cases of breast cancer will be diagnosed in the United States this year. As surgical options have improved in recent decades, the number of women pursuing breast reconstruction has continued to increase. In 2019 alone, 107,238 breast reconstructive procedures were performed in the United States—a 36 percent increase since 2000 when 78,832 procedures were performed. Post-mastectomy breast reconstruction is now universally recognized as a gold standard component of comprehensive breast cancer treatment. Breast reconstruction has been proven to significantly improve a woman's psychological and physical well-being, providing self-assurance, and affording women a new beginning.

The final stage of breast reconstruction surgery is to the nipple-areolar complex. This results in fully restoring the breast to a natural, symmetric appearance. This is achieved by a combination of tattooing with or without the addition of a surgical procedure to create a nipple. At times, tattooing is the only option for nipple-areolar reconstruction in patients that may have damaged tissue due to radiation therapy or simply want to avoid an additional surgical procedure. Most commonly, nipple-areolar tattooing is performed in a surgeon's office if a woman selects to have tattooing performed, which is not always the case. However, plastic and reconstructive surgeons are increasingly recognizing that professional tattoo artists can achieve superior results, including an impressively realistic 3-D nipple-areola complex tattoo. The price of tattooing can start at approximately $400 for a single breast and reach as high as $1,000 for both breasts.

Greater standardization of insurance coverage for nipple-areolar reconstruction across insurance carriers is needed. In order to achieve this consistency, we need to amend the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 (WHCRA), within the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Further, we need to enhance the requirements for Medicare and Medicaid through the Social Security Act to protect a woman's right to comprehensive breast reconstruction, including nipple-areola complex tattooing.

My bill will:

Amend the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 (WHCRA) to state that nipple-areola complex tattooing is medical necessary and is a part of breast reconstruction;

Amend the Social Security Act to require Medicare to follow the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998;

Amend the Social Security Act to add licensed tattoo artists to the list of Medicare providers; and Amend the Social Security Act to require Medicaid to add nipple-areola complex tattooing (as medically necessary) to the list of required services each State must offer relating to breast cancer reconstruction.

Madam Speaker, as you know, breast cancer can affect not only a woman's physical well-being, but also her psychological well-being. Considering the significant role psychological factors can play in patients' overall well-being, it is essential that comprehensive breast reconstruction, including nipple-areola complex tattooing be required coverage by group health insurance companies, Medicare, and Medicaid.

I urge my colleagues to assist women in their fight against breast cancer by supporting this important legislation.
