Vol. 166

WASHINGTON, MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 2020

No. 178

House of Representatives

The House was not in session today. Its next meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 20, 2020, at 9 a.m.

Senate

MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 2020

The Senate met at 4:30 p.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore (Mr. GRASSLEY).

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God, who is our hope for the years to come, bring us safely to the harbor of your choosing. Continue to work for the good of those who love You and infuse us with the spirit of Your peace.

Lord, help our lawmakers to do what is fair, remembering your Golden Rule which states: "Do for others what you would like them to do for you."

Lord, you said in Matthew 7:12 that this principle is a summary of all that is taught in the law and the prophets. We praise You for this profound maxim to guide our ethical conduct. May it provide our lawmakers with wisdom to make sound decisions and strength to walk in the way of justice and freedom for all.

We pray in Your wonderful Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The President pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mrs. FISCHER). The President pro tempore.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Madam President, I ask to speak for 1 minute in morning business, please.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

CENSORSHIP

Mr. GRASSLEY. Last week, news broke about Hunter Biden's questionable financial dealings. That information, allegedly from Hunter Biden's laptop, appears to show that Vice President Biden may have been more aware of his son's financial dealings with foreign despots and criminals than he admitted to the American people. That information was quickly censored by big tech companies.

Just today, DNI Director Ratcliffe said that Hunter Biden's laptop issue is not part of a Russian disinformation campaign.

The Steele dossier is fake news, but I don't recall reporters and Big Tech censoring the false reporting about President Trump and the Steele dossier. Instead, the liberal media did just the opposite. They became super-spreaders of false reporting across the world.

What happened last week is election interference and anti-conservative bias, and Facebook and Twitter are guilty. Democrats and liberals in the press can't have veto authority over information just because it makes their nominee look bad. They can't have a double standard. Vice President Biden owes the American people answers.

I yield the floor.

RECOGNITION OF THE MAJORITY LEADER

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority leader is recognized.

NOMINATION OF AMY CONEY BARRETT

Mr. McCONNELL. Last week, the Senate Judiciary Committee and the entire country heard from one of the most impressive nominees for any public office in a long time. Judge Amy Coney Barrett demonstrated that she has the deep legal expertise, dispassionate judicial temperament, and sheer intellectual horsepower the American people deserve to have on the Supreme Court. Her nomination prompted an outpouring of praise from across academia, the legal profession, and, importantly, the political spectrum. Last week, our committee colleagues saw why fellow legal scholars called Judge Barrett "a brilliant and conscientious lawyer who will analyze and decide cases in good faith" and say she is "tailor-made for this job." They heard firsthand why her former law clerks and students called her "a woman of unassailable integrity" and "a role model for generations to come."

They heard thoughtful answers that explained why the American Bar Association—an institution the Democratic leader has called "the gold standard"—deems Judge Barrett "well qualified" to sit on the Supreme Court. They heard why the legal professionals behind that rating call her "a staggering academic mind."

The Chair of the ABA's Standing Committee on the Federal Judiciary told the committee directly that "in interviews with individuals in the legal profession and community who know Judge Barrett, whether for a few years or decades, not one person uttered a negative word about her character."

Of course, there is another way you can tell that Judge Barrett is so impressive and so qualified. It is the fact that the people who precommitted to oppose her nomination have completely retreated from arguing the merits. Virtually none of the politicians, pundits, or special interests that opposed Judge Barrett from the beginning have even tried to lay a finger on her qualifications or credentials.

We have seen inaccurate claims that it would be abnormal for the Senate to fill this seat. We have seen bizarre, barely disguised insinuations about the nominee's religious faith, and now, this morning, there was improper press scrutiny of her children. We have heard Democrats try to take hostage our very institutions of government to stop this precedent-backed process from moving forward, but none of the distortions can even begin to cloud the incredible qualifications of the nominee.

I look forward to the Judiciary Committee's vote on Thursday. The full Senate will turn to Judge Barrett's nomination as soon as it comes out of committee. I will be proud to vote to confirm this exceptional jurist.

CORONAVIRUS

Mr. MCCONNELL. Madam President, this week the Senate will vote on more coronavirus relief that Congress could deliver to American families right now.

Month after month, Speaker PELOSI has held up urgent assistance for workers, families, schools, and our healthcare system. Month after month, she has refused to set aside non-COVID-related demands and far-left policy riders that she knows are sabotaging any shot at a deal. Why? Well, because—and these are her own words—she thinks agreeing to a bipartisan compromise might make the Democrats seem like "a cheap date"—her words. The Speaker said over and over again that she does not believe it is better for workers to get something rather than nothing.

Thus far, Senate Democrats have gone along with it. We could have passed hundreds of billions of dollars in relief more than a month ago, but our Democratic colleagues voted in lockstep to filibuster relief and kill the bill. Unless Democrats got every single non-COVID-related wish-list item they were after, American families would get nothing. Every single Senate Democrat voted to filibuster hundreds of billions of dollars of noncontroversial assistance, except our colleague who is running for Vice President. So she wasn't here at all.

This has been the position for months: all-or-nothing obstruction. It has to stop. The Speaker's Marie Antoinette act needs to end. Zero dollars for working families but a whole lot of television time for the Speaker of the House is not a good trade for the American people.

Speaker PELOSI's supposed leverage is not putting food on the table in households where one or both parents have lost their jobs. Speaker PELOSI's so-called leverage is not helping schools reopen safely or struggling small business to avoid layoffs. The Democrats' talking points are not doing a single thing to fund more testing, more tracing, or double down on Project Warp Speed so we can produce and distribute a vaccine.

Tomorrow and Wednesday, the Senate is going to vote. We will see whether our Democratic colleagues in this Chamber agree that families deserve nothing rather than something, or whether they are ready to let the Senate make law across the huge areas where we do not even disagree.

Tomorrow, we will have a standalone vote on creating a second round of the historic Paycheck Protection Program for the hardest hit small businesses. The PPP has saved tens of millions of American jobs and kept main streets across America from turning into permanent COVID-19 ghost towns.

The program is as bipartisan as it gets. Not only did it pass unanimously in the first place, but we also added funding and made tweaks several times without a single objection in either Chamber.

So tomorrow, Tuesday, every Senator will cast an up-or-down vote on establishing a whole second draw of these emergency loans for the small businesses that need it the most—no more all or nothing, no more endless posturing, just one clear vote on one clear good thing that nobody even says they oppose. It would make a huge difference for workers who may otherwise be laid off.

Then, on Wednesday, the Senate will vote again on a larger bill. It will pour hundreds of billions of dollars into the PPP expansion, plus more Federal unemployment insurance, more money for safe schools, more money for testing, more money for vaccines, and many other important priorities.

Nobody thinks this proposal would resolve every problem forever. What it does contain is half a trillion dollars of good that Congress can do right now through programs that Democrats do not even say they oppose. American families deserve for us to agree where we can, make law, and push huge amounts of money out the door while Washington continues arguing over the rest. It is common sense. It is what the country needs. I hope our Democratic colleagues will finally let it happen.
