

Peter Mattis—Research Fellow in China Studies at the Victims of Communism Memorial Foundation.

Peter Mattis is a Research Fellow in China Studies at the Victims of Communism Memorial Foundation and a contributing editor at War on the Rocks. He was a Fellow in the China Program at The Jamestown Foundation, where he also served as editor of the foundation's China Brief, a biweekly electronic journal on greater China, from 2011 to 2013. He previously worked as an analyst for the Central Intelligence Agency for four years. Prior to entering government service, Mr. Mattis worked as a research associate at the National Bureau of Asian Research in its Strategic Asia and Northeast Asian Studies programs, providing research assistance and editing support. He received his M.A. in Security Studies from Georgetown University's School of Foreign Service and earned B.A.s in Political Science and Asian Studies from the University of Washington in Seattle.

Mr. Mattis's analysis of China and intelligence has appeared in The National Interest, China Brief, Sydney Morning Herald, The Hill, Jane's Intelligence Review, Taipei Times, the East-West Center's Asia-Pacific Bulletin, The Diplomat, War on the Rocks, the Asia Society's ChinaFile, Cipher Brief, the International Journal of Intelligence and Counterintelligence, and Studies in Intelligence. His views have been cited in the Washington Post, New York Times, Defense News, Christian Science Monitor, Financial Times, Wall Street Journal, Sydney Morning Herald, Wired, Foreign Policy, Australian Financial Review, ABC [Australia], BBC, CNN, and National Public Radio. He also has delivered lectures on China at the Council on Foreign Relations, Institute for International Strategic Studies, Stanford University, Australian National University, George Washington University, University of Cambridge, University of Nottingham, University of Washington, University of Chicago, and the National Cheng-chi University (Taiwan) as well as many government-organized conferences at home and abroad. He is the author of Analyzing the Chinese Military: A Review Essay and Resource Guide on the People's Liberation Army (2015) and co-author of Chinese Communist Espionage: An Intelligence Primer (Forthcoming, Naval Institute Press, 2019).