

Lisa M. Hanscom Introduction Bio

Lisa Hanscom is a lifelong member of the Town of Roque Bluffs in Downeast, Maine. She is both a farm and business owner and Selectmen in her community. As such she has both personal business challenges from slow internet connectivity as well as an intimate knowledge of the last mile challenges now faced in her rural coastal community. She has worked aggressively in the past year and half to bring high speed broadband to her community through the Town's May application of $1.3 million proposal to the ReConnect Pilot Program from USDA
