

117TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. 5275

To establish an independent appeals process relating to assignment restrictions at the Department of State, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SEPTEMBER 17, 2021

Mr. LIEU (for himself, Mr. KIM of New Jersey, Ms. HOULAHAN, and Mr. CASTRO of Texas) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs

A BILL

To establish an independent appeals process relating to assignment restrictions at the Department of State, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Accountability in As-5 signment Restrictions Act”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 Congress finds the following:

8 (1) The Foreign Service Act of 1980 prohibits 9 the Department of State from discrimination on the

1 basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin,
2 age, handicapping condition, marital status, geo-
3 graphic or educational affiliation within the United 4 States, or political affiliation in all personnel actions,
5 including assignments.

6 (2) According to a Government Accountability
7 Office report published in 2020, the Senior Foreign 8 Service was 69 percent male and 90 percent White.
9 Meanwhile numerous testimonials have documented
10 the barriers to advancement faced by non-White
11 Foreign Service officers (FSOs).

12 (3) On April 12, 2021, Secretary Blinken ap-
13 pointed a new Chief Diversity and Inclusion Officer,
14 former Ambassador Gina Abercrombie-Winstanley,
15 reflecting his stated commitment to increasing diver-
16 sity and inclusion at the Department.

17 (4) According to the Department of State, there
18 are approximately 1800 employees currently subject
19 to a practice called assignment restrictions, whereby
20 they are precluded from working in or on a par-
21 ticular country. The top four countries to which the 22 restrictions apply are China (196), Russia (184),
23 Taiwan (84), and Israel (70).

24 (5) Department of State employees have repeat-
25 edly raised concerns with Congress and the Depart-

1 ment that the practice of assignment restrictions
2 lacks transparency and accountability, and it may
3 disproportionately and unfairly affect Asian-Amer-
4 ican employees.

5 (6) The Department of State lacks an inde-
6 pendent appeals process for assignment restrictions,
7 preventing affected employees from having their case
8 reviewed by individuals who were not involved with 9 the initial decision.

10 SEC. 3. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

11 It is the sense of Congress that—

12 (1) it is in the foreign policy interest of the 13 United States to maintain a diplomatic corps that 14 reflects the diversity of the country and fully utilizes
15 the cultural and linguistic skills that stem from this 16 diversity;

17 (2) the practice of assignment restrictions risks
18 undermining the Department of State’s stated goals
19 of promoting diversity and inclusion in its workforce, 20 while potentially restricting those individuals whose 21 cultural and linguistic skills can most benefit the 22 work of United States diplomacy and counterintel-
23 ligence;

24 (3) the practice of assignment restrictions lim-
25 its the opportunities for promotion and career ad-

1 vancement of talented Department of State employ-
2 ees who possess valuable linguistic skills and coun-
3 try-specific knowledge;

4 (4) the establishment of an independent appeals
5 process for assignment restrictions, whereby the 6 panel is not made up by a majority of individuals
7 from the same bureau that made the initial deter-
8 mination, would help ensure fairness and trans-
9 parency while promoting the goals of inclusion and 10 diversity within the Department; and

11 (5) tracking and reporting data on assignment
12 restrictions, including the race, ethnicity, and na-
13 tional origin of those impacted individuals, will help
14 ensure that assignment restrictions are not dis-
15 proportionately targeting a particular group or mi-
16 nority at the Department.

17 SEC. 4. ESTABLISHMENT OF AN INDEPENDENT APPEALS
18 PROCESS.

19 The Secretary of State shall amend all relevant provi-
20 sions of the Foreign Service Manual, and any associated 21 or related policies of the Department of State, to reflect

4 than 60 days after such appeal is filed.

11 the Panel.

19 port that contains the following:

21 strictions by the Department of State, including spe-
22 cific case studies related to cleared American For-23 eign Service and civil service employees of the De-
24 partment that demonstrate country-specific restric-
25 tions serve a counterintelligence role beyond that

1 which is already covered by the security clearance
2 process.

3 (2) The number of such Department employees
4 subject to assignment restrictions over the previous 5 year, with data disaggregated by:

6 (A) Identification as a Foreign Service of-
7 ficer, civil service employee, eligible family

23 cluded employees.
