AN ACT

To designate the area between the intersections of 16th Street, Northwest and Fuller Street, Northwest and 16th Street, Northwest and Euclid Street, Northwest in Washington, District of Columbia, as “Oswaldo Payá Way”.

1        Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2        tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. FINDINGS.

2 Congress finds that—

3 (1) the revolution led by Fidel Castro in Cuba
4 in 1959 started 61 years of an ongoing dictatorship,
5 systemic human rights abuses, and a lack of basic 6 freedom of press, religion, assembly, and association
7 that continue to this day under the Communist rule
8 of Raúl Castro and his successor, Miguel Díaz-
9 Canel;

10 (2) Oswaldo Payá Sardiñas was a Cuban polit-
11 ical dissident dedicated to promoting democratic 12 freedoms and human rights in Cuba;

13 (3) the Communist Party of Cuba has always 14 viewed that commitment to democracy and freedom
15 as a threat to the existence of the Communist Party
16 of Cuba;

17 (4) on July 22, 2012, a violent car crash, wide-
18 ly believed to have been carried out by the Castro re-
19 gime, took the lives of Oswaldo Payá and Harold 20 Cepero, another dissident;

21 (5) the official investigation into the crash has 22 been demonstrated to be compromised, and the Cas-
23 tro regime has offered no plausible evidence of the 24 innocence of the Castro regime in the crash, leaving
25 the circumstances of the death of Oswaldo Payá un-26 known;

1           (6) opposition by Oswaldo Payá to the Com-
2           munist Party of Cuba began at a young age, when 3           he refused to become a member of the Young Com-
4           munist League as a primary school student, and 5           continued through high school, when he publicly
6           criticized the invasion of Czechoslovakia by the So-
7           viet Union;

8           (7) the Communist Party of Cuba responded to 9           the opposition by Oswaldo Payá to the invasion of 10          Czechoslovakia by the Soviet Union by sending 11          Oswaldo Payá to a labor camp for 3 years;

12          (8) Oswaldo Payá forewent a chance to escape
13          Cuba in the 1980 Mariel boatlift, deciding instead to 14          continue the fight for democracy in Cuba, saying,
15          “‘This is what I am supposed to be, this is what I 16          have to do.’”;

17          (9) by creating the Varela Project in 1998,
18          Oswaldo Payá demonstrated his staunch commit-
19          ment to peacefully advocating for freedom of speech
20          and freedom of assembly for his fellow Cubans;

21          (10) in recognition of his determination for po-
22          litical reforms through peaceful protests, Oswaldo
23          Payá was awarded the Sakharov Prize for Freedom
24          of Thought by the European Parliament in 2002
25          and the W. Averell Harriman Democracy Award

1 from the National Democratic Institute for Inter-
2 national Affairs in 2003 and was nominated for the 3 Nobel Peace Prize by former Czech President Václav
4 Havel in 2005;

5 (11) on April 11, 2018, the Senate unanimously
6 passed S. Res. 224, recognizing the sixth anniver-
7 sary of the death of Oswaldo Payá Sardiñas, com-
8 memorating his legacy and commitment to demo-
9 cratic values and principles, and calling on the 10 Cuban government to allow an impartial, third-party 11 investigation into the circumstances surrounding his 12 death; and

13 (12) renaming the street in front of the Em-
14 bassy of Cuba in the District of Columbia after 15 Oswaldo Payá serves as an expression of solidarity
16 between the people of the United States and the peo-
17 ple of the Cuba, who are engaged in a long, non-18 violent struggle for fundamental human rights.
