The Senate met at 3 p.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore (Mr. LEAHY).

PRAYER
The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Eternal God, You place melodies in our hearts. Thank You for the music of Your mercies, for the harmonies of Your sacred words, and for the symphonies of Your unfailing love. May Your songs that surround us in the spacious skies and rolling hills inspire our lawmakers with reverence and faith.

Give our Senators such awe for Your goodness that they will strive to obey You. Provide them also with a faith that stands firm and embraces Your plan.

Lord, save us all by Your power and liberate us with Your might.

We pray in Your great Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE
The President pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Hawaii.

Ms. HIRONO. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will call the roll.

The senior assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Ms. HIRONO). Without objection, it is so ordered.

RECOGNITION OF THE MINORITY LEADER
The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Republican leader is recognized.

NATIONAL GUARD
Mr. MCCONNELL. Madam President, this week, the National Guard is departing what has been a months-long presence here at the Capitol. Aspects of the Guards’ presence here were not fleshed out as clearly or coherently as either Congress or the servicemembers deserved, and Members of Congress will continue to discuss and debate whether it is appropriate for uniformed military personnel to play an ongoing role in policing the U.S. Capitol going forward.

But where Senators are absolutely, 100 percent united is in our great admiration and appreciation of the individual men and women who volunteered to serve in the National Guard, who have put on the uniform, and whose orders brought them here to the Capitol Complex.

It was my particular honor to get to meet and talk with several groups of the remarkable men and women of the Kentucky National Guard during this period.

Thank you, all, from all 50 States, for your patriotism and for your service.

NOMINATION OF KRISTEN M. CLARKE
Mr. MCCONNELL. On a completely different matter, when President Biden’s nominees have been qualified and mainstream, they received bipartisan cooperation. But the President’s choice to head a key Division at the Department of Justice as an Assistant Attorney General failed to even advance out of the committee.

The Democratic leader had to reach into the Judiciary Committee and rescue the nomination of Kristen Clarke. Our colleagues on the committee did not give her a favorable recommendation. That is because of a long history of statements that placed the nominee on, frankly, the far-left fringe of the political spectrum.

If our Democratic colleagues have their way, a couple of days from now, the American people will have an Assistant Attorney General who argued publicly just last year that “we must invest less in police.” She used that exact phrase three times in one essay.

Violent crimes shot up dramatically in 2020. One survey of 30-plus major American cities found that the murder rate jumped 30 percent last year alone. Other estimates have found even larger increases. Experts say 2020 saw the largest 1-year rise in homicides that America has ever seen as far back as we have recorded these kinds of statistics.

Early data from this year suggests that 2021 may even be worse, but, apparently, the President’s response to this violent crimewave is to have a proponent of defunding the police help run the Department of Justice.

This “bullet” symbol identifies statements or insertions which are not spoken by a Member of the Senate on the floor.
Adequate policing is not an enemy of civil rights. Among other things, a recent study by multiple university professors confirmed that more cops lead to fewer murders:

Larger police forces save lives, and the lives saved are disproportionately Black lives.

Police funding isn’t the only important issue where the nominee’s judgment has missed the mark.

Three years ago, when the then-Attorney General was standing up a task force on religious liberty, Ms. Clarke said this was designed “to make it easier for people to use religion to mask their discriminatory goals”—an incredibly out-of-touch, far-left statement.

Finally, we are currently watching an alarming spike in anti-Semitic attacks and violence across our country. I introduced new legislation on Friday, with Senator Cotton, to confront anti-Semitism head-on, but as a Harvard undergraduate, Ms. Clarke invited, welcomed, introduced, and then defended a famously anti-Semitic guest speaker who had authored a book literally entitled—now listen to this—“The Jewish Onslaught.”

The nominee has stated recently that she regrets that decision. Goodness, I would certainly hope so.

Yet she also claims that her op-ed from just last year, which asserted three times—three times—that we must invest less in police, was not actually suggesting that we invest less in police.

This is not the right nominee for a crucial post at a crucial time so I would urge colleagues to vote no this week.

CHINA

Mr. McCONNELL. Now, Madam President, on another matter, last week, a bipartisan majority of Senators voted to proceed to floor debate about our Nation’s long-term competition with China.

There is no disagreement that the People’s Republic of China’s strategic capabilities and its growing influence beyond the Indo-Pacific pose a singular challenge to American strength and security. There is robust debate about the right ways to address this challenge.

The legislation before us arrived on the floor incomplete, and it spans a number of huge issues that occupy multiple committees’ jurisdictions. It is a prime example of a bill that needs a thorough, bipartisan amendment process here in the Senate. So far, we have had a few votes on important amendments. There are a lot more that need consideration, and we should not close debate on this bill until those amendments are addressed.

Unfortunately, during one important vote last week, our Democratic colleagues sent a telling signal. They voted down Ranking Member INHOFE and Vice Chairman SHELBY’s amendment to make sure that the real backbone of our competition with China—the resources we allocate to our Armed Forces and national defense—was not neglected.

Make no mistake, supply chains, espionage, intellectual property—those are all important topics, but all the policy tweaks in the world would not amount to much help if we lose our military edge with respect to China. Soft power isn’t much good without the hard power to back it up.

The Chinese Communist Party appears to understand this quite clearly. According to one watchdog, it has increased military investment by 76 percent over the last decade. China has increased its military spending by 76 percent over the last decade. The same data show that our own U.S. defense spending fell 10 percent over that period, thanks to the approach of the last Democratic administration, and now President Biden has signaled that he wants to cut defense spending after inflation—exactly the wrong approach.

No serious strategy for our competition with massive foreign powers could leave the U.S. Armed Forces, their tools, and their resources out of the conversation in a meaningful way. I hope and expect we will have a number of further votes on important amendments before there would be any attempt to shut off debate on this wide-ranging measure.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the leadership time is reserved.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Morning business is closed.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION

ENDLESS FRONTIER ACT—Resumed

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will resume consideration of S. 1260, which the clerk will report.

The senior assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (S. 1260) to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes:

Pending:
Schumer amendment No. 1502, in the nature of a substitute.
Cantwell amendment No. 1527 (to amend Amendment No. 1502) of a perfecting nature.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority whip.

TRIBUTE TO BILL HOULIHAN

Mr. DURBIN. Madam President, if you have been involved in Illinois politics and government in the last 40 years or if you have called my office in Springfield anytime in the last 24 years, there is a good chance you know the fellow I am about to speak about this afternoon. For those who haven’t been lucky enough to meet him yet, let me give you a brief rundown of one of the best people I have ever known. His name is Bill Houlihan.

Bill came to work on my first Senate campaign in 1996, and when we won, I asked him to be my staff director for Illinois. He has been with me ever since, and now he is State director of the entire State. Whenever I can’t attend an event in Illinois, Bill is the person I turn to. I don’t have to write any speech for him, and I don’t have to check on what he said. People know Bill speaks for me, and I have complete confidence in his judgment and integrity.

Everybody seems to know him. Just try going to a grocery store with Bill Houlihan in Springfield, IL. Be prepared for delays as people want to talk to him or to thank him for something that he might have done: Thanks for helping my mom get her Social Security, Thanks for helping my dad with the Veterans Health Administration. Thanks for helping to get that passport so my daughter could go away to school. Thanks for helping the local union get the project that creates the jobs here in our community.

Over the years, Bill has helped thousands of people find jobs and provide for their families. He knows about the dignity of work. He does whatever he can to help whomever he can, having no expectation of any recognition.

Bill started his professional life in 1961, fresh out of Eastern Illinois University. He was the class president. His first job was with the Illinois Education Association. They sent him into a David-and-Goliath battle scene in Peoria, IL, where they were trying to convince the local teachers to sign up with the IBEA. They hired Bill 6 weeks before the crucial election and sent him into Peoria—his first campaign for a union. You see, Bill had worked on political campaigns for his dad, and I will talk about those in a minute.

When he got down to Peoria—a place where he had not lived before—everybody knew him. And whenever he went up and introduced himself as Bill Houlihan, they would say: Well, are you the Bill Houlihan? Bill said: Are you sure you are not related to my another friend, one of the best people I have ever known. His name is Bill Houlihan.

Our Bill Houlihan was no TV personality, but Peoria teachers quickly learned that he cared about them and I have complete confidence in his judgment and integrity.

When, as a young union organizer, Bill didn’t understand for a while why he kept getting that question. It turns out that he had exactly the same name as Peoria’s longest time and venerable TV weathercaster Bill Houlihan. When, as a young union organizer, Bill showed up, puzzled teachers always said: No, I am the son of John Houlihan.

Mr. DURBIN. Madam President, if you have been involved in Illinois politics and government in the last 40 years or if you have called my office in Springfield anytime in the last 24 years, there is a good chance you know the fellow I am about to speak about this afternoon. Bill said: Are you sure you are not related to my another friend, one of the best people I have ever known. His name is Bill Houlihan.

Our Bill Houlihan was no TV personality, but Peoria teachers quickly learned that he cared about them and that he knew his stuff. Just as important, he understands how to build political organizations and campaigns and how to use that power to help everyday people. Thank goodness for me he knows how to win. The IEA won the election in a close, upset victory back in the day. It was the first of many election campaign victories for Bill Houlihan.

Bill and Cindy, his wife, are the parents of their children, but they did it the hard way—one set of triplets and a bonus baby born 22 months later. Mariah, John, Grant, Neil are all grown up now, but when they were younger, at the start of every school year, their parents would ask them: Is Bill Houlihan your dad? That question was followed with the teachers telling stories about Bill and how he had helped them. This young, unknown organizer had become a legend in his own mind. These stories were the only way the Houlihan kids learned about what their dad did for a living. He never bragged about himself; he was too modest.

Driving around the State of Illinois for over 20 years with Bill Houlihan, I have heard a lot of stories, but I think the thing that impressed me the most was when he talked about his dad—what a remarkable man. I was lucky to know him.

John Houlihan was born in a section of Chicago which describes where you might find it. It is called Back of the Yards; that is, the stockyards. In that section of the city, immigrant families got their start worked in some of the hardest jobs in Chicago. John’s father was a slaughterhouse worker. John himself grew up on the South Side of Chicago—in that area—and his dream came true. As an Irish Catholic kid, he was admitted to Notre Dame University. Can I tell you what a big deal that is still today? For the kids in those parishes to consider going to Notre Dame was nothing short of a miracle involved in politics. Bill’s father, who was 6 feet 4, incidentally, was going to try out for the basketball team at Notre Dame University, an absolute dream come true. Yet there was an intervening event which the Presiding Officer will appreciate. It was called Pearl Harbor.

John Houlihan. Bill’s dad, had to drop out of Notre Dame University to enlist in the U.S. Marines. He served in many campaigns. As his 21st birthday approached and dad sent him a little gift, a belt. It was small enough that it could make it through the mail, and at least he knew they were thinking of him on his birthday. He was embarking on the Battle of Bougainville on his 21st birthday, an island in the South Pacific. A grenade explosion ripped through his left leg in that battle. Lucky for him, he pulled off that belt and applied it as a tourniquet. It saved his life, but it couldn’t save his leg. He was amputated at the hip. The leg saved his life, but it couldn’t save his belt and applied it as a tourniquet. It was his leg’s miracle. So John Houlihan, Bill’s dad, and this is his brother Mike. Bill is over here at the age of 10. His dad was elected to the general assembly. He served with some of the giants of Illinois’ political history: my friend Paul Simon, Adlai Stevenson, and Harold Washington. John Houlihan fit right in.

As an amputee, at a time before the Americans with Disabilities Act, John Houlihan knew they would applaud you on Memorial Day and Veterans Day but that it was hard as hell for a disabled vet—really severely disabled like John Houlihan—to get a job. He fought for those disabled vets just like himself, so much so that, when he came to the Illinois General Assembly in Springfield, the Black Caucus invited him to serve as a member. They knew that he appreciated what discrimination was all about. He accepted the invitation as an honor.

Years later, when his son Bill Houlihan was working in that same Illinois State Senate, the Black Caucus asked that he be assigned to them as a staff member because they knew of his reputation—Bill Houlihan’s reputation—for being willing to fight for the underdog.

John Houlihan served in the general assembly for 8 years before turning his full attention to veterans’ rights. He served with the Illinois Department of Veterans’ Affairs, the Veterans’ Administration here in Washington, and the Cook County Veterans Assistance Commission. His young son Bill was watching him throughout his life experience, and I know he came to appreciate his dad’s courage and determination that he was going to build a family and build a life despite his serious disability.

He also knew what it was like for his dad. I remember his dad, a World War II vet. We look today to amputees who have the good fortune, thank goodness, of modern prosthetics, even computer-driven devices to help them lead as normal a life as possible. That wasn’t the luck of the World War II vets. They went to war on artificial legs, and they did their best.

I can still picture Bill’s dad John—one-legged man, lumbering around life with this big, wooden leg of his that he would just swing forward as he made it with his cane and made his life despite that handicap.

Bill’s mom was a big influence on him as well. She might have been quieter than his dad but just as strong. They were the kind of people who would marry John Houlihan, quickly returning from war, trying to make a life. Vernal Houlihan was a kind, generous woman. No matter how tight money was, there was always room for one more place at the Houlihan dinner table.

Bill Houlihan is just like both his parents, the same courage and determination and the same sense of caring.

The heart of every congressional office is something called casework, helping constituents untangle red tape caused by government bureaucracy or to help solve everyday problems in their lives that mean the world to them.

Bill Houlihan may be the only State Director in this Senate who still does casework along with his colleagues in addition to all his other duties. I can’t count the number of people whose burdens have been made lighter by Bill Houlihan.

He logs every call he receives, and his day doesn’t end until he returns every call. He treats every person with dignity, compassion, and respect, and he always makes time for them.

When we would drive around the State, thousands and thousands of miles, it reached the point where people would call him in his car. The phone never stopped.

Many times I said to Bill: Why don’t you pick up on that when we get back to Springfield tomorrow?

No, he said. I knew he was going to call, this buddy of mine. He calls me every day. He just wants to chat for just a few minutes. I will be done, Boss, in just a minute.

And he would take the call.

Many people called him just to hear his friendly voice. He has fans the likes of which I wish I had some days. A lot of chiefs of staff would think twice about that approach to the job but not Bill. That is just who he is.

Our office in Springfield is located in the same block as Abraham Lincoln’s home. That neighborhood is part of the National Park Service. When Bill and Cindy drove down the boulevard, they would become a park ranger by name, and they knew him by name. It is like that wherever we go.

Illinois is filled with young leaders all over the State—women and men, Black White, and Brown—who didn’t know they could be a leader until they met Bill Houlihan. He is one of the best talent scouts and coaches I have ever known. He boosts the confidence of everyone who works for him or with him.

He crisscrosses the State of Illinois in his dark-blue minivan; they call it the Houli-van. The miles he puts on that van every year might take him to China or the Moon. He knows every mile marker on every highway in our State by heart. He has, at last count, 47,000 contacts in his Palm Pilot—yes, he still has a Palm Pilot—and I think he knows 20,000 of those telephone numbers by heart. He has an encyclopedic mind for names, number of contacts, sports stats, history—everything—and he shares everything he has learned with anyone who might benefit from his knowledge.

In between organizing for the IEA and then the staff, Bill worked as a legislative director the Illinois Senate Democrats and downstate director for Senator Carol Moseley Braun, the first woman of color to serve in the Senate.

One of these pictures here is the early days when he was just getting started as an organizer, hair much darker than it is today.

Now, let me show you a more recent appearance. This is Bill. He is speaking at the Women’s March in Springfield in 2017.

Usually, he is very soft-spoken, until he gets in front of a microphone, and that is when he turns up the volume. Oh, there is one other time he turns up the volume. If he is watching his Fighting Illini play football and they score a touchdown, Bill will let out a scream that will rattle the windows.

Always, always Bill Houlihan is the voice for people whose hopes and needs aren’t heard enough within the halls of the State or the halls of power. He is a voice of compassion, encouragement, wisdom, and decency.

Loretta and I are lucky to call Bill and Cindy some of our best and dearest friends. So it is hard to say, but this is his last week on the job with the U.S. Senate. It hurts to lose a man who has given me such a big part of his life. It is going to take its toll on my office, given me such a big part of his life. It is going to take its toll on my office, and Cindy some of our best and dearest friends.

Bill and Cindy want to move on to the next chapter in their lives. That is understandable. I am sure it is going to include some traveling and special times with their kids and grandkids.

Bill, God bless him, just volunteered again to once again become the chairman of the Sangamon County, IL, Democratic Party—a post he held years ago.

Above all, I know that Bill will continue to help everyone he can in every way he can because that is who he is and always has been.

Bill, I hope you are watching—Cindy too. Thank you. I couldn’t have done it without you. Loretta and I wish you and Cindy your whole family good health and happiness in all the years to come.

I yield the floor.

Ms. HIRONO. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Ms. DUCKWORTH). Without objection, it is so ordered.

The Senator from Hawaii.

Ms. HIRONO. Madam President, I rise today in support of the nomination of Kristen Clarke to be Assistant Attorney General for the Justice Department’s Civil Rights Division.

In that, she was nominated, my Republican colleagues and their rightwing allies have engaged in a coordinated smear campaign to distort Kristen Clarke’s record. It is past time to set things straight.

Kristen Clarke is a supremely capable and qualified nominee to lead the Civil Rights Division. I would argue that she is among the most well-credentialed and qualified nominees ever to serve in this role.

During her career, she has served as a trial attorney in the Division’s voting section; a prosecutor in the Division’s criminal section; an assistant counsel at the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund and later as the codirector of its Political Participation Group; as the civil rights chief of the New York State Attorney General’s Civil Rights Bureau; and as president and executive director of the Lawyers’ Committee for Civil Rights Under Law, one of the Nation’s preeminent civil rights organizations.

Kristen Clarke’s credentials for this job are unimpeachable.

Unable to undermine her nomination on the merits, Senate Republicans have engaged in a vicious smear campaign against Kristen Clarke because they are afraid she will actually do her job. They are afraid she will enforce our civil rights statutes, challenge discriminatory voting laws, combat systemic racism in policing, and protect the LGBTQ community.

This work is urgently needed after the Civil Rights Division endured 4 years of intentional neglect and outright hostility during the Trump administration. During its 4 years in office, the Trump administration brought only a single case—one—under the Voting Rights Act, even as States like Georgia, Ohio, and Wisconsin worked to suppress the vote by targeting people of color.

The press conference this morning also effectively ended the use of consent decrees to bring police departments into compliance with the Constitution. It abandoned this critical tool at the worst possible moment, as the Nation watched Black Americans like George Floyd and Breonna Taylor killed by officers sworn to protect and serve.

President Biden nominated Kristen Clarke to lead the Civil Rights Division because she is precisely the leader we need at this critical moment. But for 4½ months, Republican senators—like Georgia, Ohio, and Wisconsin—have tried to tear down this highly qualified woman of color with unfounded smears and outright lies. They feign outrage over a satirical letter Ms. Clarke wrote as an undergrad at Harvard in 1994, over 25 years ago.

I don’t recall any comparable Republican outrage when Michael Truncale, then a practicing attorney for decades, disparaged President Obama as an “un-American” and “a direct threat to the rights of Arab Sheikhs and other world leaders.” Instead, they confirmed him to a lifetime appointment as a judge in the Eastern District of Texas.

Senate Republicans have also tried to paint Ms. Clarke as some sort of anti-Semite. Again, more than 4½ months ago, we heard Senate Democrats speak out against abolishing the police. Neither of them would rather smear a nominee with baseless criticism to a pathetic, ridiculous new low.

Unfortunately, we have come to expect these laughable exaggerations from our colleague from Texas. He would rather smear a nominee with baseless charges than engage with the facts, because neither Kristen Clarke nor Vanita Gupta has ever supported abolishing the police. Neither of them has said anything remotely close to this. If they had, I am sure it would come as news to the Fraternal Order of Police, the Major County Sheriffs of America, the National Association of Chiefs of Police, all of whom endorsed Vanita Gupta’s nomination. You might also want to ask the Major...

Cities Chiefs Association and the National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives why they endorsed Kristen Clarke if she is looking to put their members out of work. The fact is, she is not. This smear is only one of many baseless, personal attacks Kristen Clarke has endured by those seeking to derail her nomination. This week, the Senate can and should repudiate the vicious rightwing smear campaign against Ms. Clarke and confirm her as the next leader of the Civil Rights Division.

I yield the floor.
I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. SCHUMER. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

RECOGNITION OF THE MAJORITY LEADER

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Democratic leader is recognized.

NATIONAL GUARD

Mr. SCHUMER. Madam President, yesterday was the last day that members of the National Guard were stationed at the Capitol. In the wake of January 6, they have all done us an extraordinary service providing an additional layer of security here. I want to thank everyone on behalf of the Senate and the entire Capitol Complex.

It was never our intention to have an element of the U.S. military on guard at the Capitol for an indefinite period. It was always a temporary solution to a temporary security threat caused by the former President—a reality acknowledged by the House and Senate minority leaders in the immediate aftermath of January 6 but not much since.

Going forward, we must establish and maintain a critical balance between security and access. The Capitol is a place that belongs to the people. We want visitors and tourists to be able to come and go. We want constituents to be able to stay and engage with their representatives and make their voices heard. We also have an obligation to make everyone—Members, staff, media, employees of the Capitol—feel safe when they come to work. Our Senate committees and the new team at the Sergeant at Arms are working very hard to strike that balance.

We thank once again the National Guard for helping us protect this place during a very difficult period for our democracy.

BUSINESS BEFORE THE SENATE

Madam President, now on Senate business, this week, the Senate will consider at least two nominations for important federal positions in the executive branch: Chiquita Brooks-LaSure to be the next Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid and Kristen Clarke to be the next Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights.

Ms. Clarke would become the first woman and the first woman of color to formally lead the Justice Department’s Civil Rights Division since it was established in 1957.

I look forward to confirming both nominees this week.

The Senate will also continue its work on the U.S. Innovation and Competition Act—the largest stand-alone investment in American science and technology in decades. With a once-in-a-generation investment in the National Science Foundation, the Department of Energy, the Department of Commerce, and other vital entities, this legislation will set our country on a path to outinnovate, outproduce, and outcompete the world in the industries of the future.

As the week goes on, we will consider a number of amendments from both sides of the aisle, as well as a managers’ amendment, to bring together a package of bipartisan changes to the bill. This is regular order in action.

The bill itself is the product of at least six Senate committees and includes input from every Member of the Senate. As promised, we are working in a bipartisan way and a much more open way than the Senate used to act to allow amendments and debate. With so much cooperation happening, I see no reason why we can’t finish the legislation by the end of the week.

So far, this bill has flown a bit under the radar, but it is an incredibly important piece of legislation. At its core, the U.S. Innovation and Competition Act is about maintaining America’s role as the global economic leader. Few issues could be more important. Just because it may have its effect 2, 3, 4, 5 years from now and not the day after it passes doesn’t mean that it isn’t one of the most important pieces of legislation we could pass.

The next chapter will be won or lost on the battleground of technological innovation. The country that leads the world in science and tech will create a generation of millions of good-paying jobs, economic growth, and prosperity for its citizens, with profound implications for national security as well.

We want American workers, American businesses, and American values to lead the 21st century, just as they did in the 20th century. That is what the Innovation and Competition Act is all about.

I look forward to working with Members from both parties to complete this legislation by the end of the week.

JANUARY 6 COMMISSION

Madam President, now on a final matter, the Senate will soon consider bipartisan legislation passed by the House to create an independent Commission to investigate and report on the January 6 attack on the Capitol. I have already taken procedural steps to bring the legislation available for consideration and debate. I will bring the bill forward for a vote very soon. I will have more to say on that in the coming days.

The formation of the Commission is more important now than it has ever been in the months since January 6. Washington Republicans have tried to rewrite history and recast the attack on January 6 as little more than peaceful protests that got out of hand. One Republican Senator said the rioters were more like a group of “normal tourists.” Did you see the tapes? Did you see the films, America? Those were normal tourists? Another went so far as to say the mob—not the staff who were terrorized or the police who were brutalized—were the real victims of January 6. Give me a break.

For the sake of our democracy, it is crucial to establish an independent and trusted record of what truly transpired. According to an Ipsos poll today, 56 percent of Republicans believe the election was rigged and 53 percent of Republicans believe Donald Trump is the true President, not Joe Biden. That is what the Big Lie has caused. The majority of one America’s two major political parties doesn’t believe our President is the actual President.

Now more than ever, both parties must stand up to the Big Lie and shine a light on the truth of the 2020 elections and what happened on January 6. Yet it seems our Republican colleagues would rather avoid the subject entirely. The Republican leader, after moving the goalsposts last week after he announced his opposition to the Commission, despite the fact that Democrats agreed to every single request made by the House Republican leader.

One Republican Senator said this weekend that it was “too early” to establish a Commission. Another admitted that many Republicans opposed the Commission because they feared it would hurt the Republican message in the midterm elections. Talk about saying the quiet part loud.

The prevailing view among Republicans seems to be that we should sweep January 6 under the rug like it never happened.

Look, I am sorry that some Republicans believe that a bipartisan investigation of the attack on our democracy is inconvenient for their midterm campaigns, but the Democratic-led Congress of the United States is not going to sweep January 6 under the rug. We are going to vote on the January 6 Commission in the Senate, and the American people will see where every Member stands on the side of truth or on the side of Donald Trump’s Big Lie.

I yield the floor.
I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The senior assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

NATIONAL FOSTER CARE MONTH

Mr. GRASSLEY. Madam President, each month the month of May is recognized as National Foster Care Month. I thank my colleagues for once again unanimously recognizing the importance of youth and families in the foster care system.

This month, organizations in Iowa and around the entire country have been working to support youth in foster care and the foster parents who open their homes to the kids in need. And they deserve this recognition. In 2019, the most recent year for which data is available, there were over 426,000 kids in foster care in the United States. In Iowa alone, there were almost 6,000.

As stated in our resolution, Congress must continue to work toward real solutions for these young people because the trauma they face and the abuse, neglect, and trauma. Obviously, there are a lot of them who get loving care as well.

In recent years, lots of changes have been made to the way that child welfare works. Congress passed the Family First Prevention Services Act in 2018. The goal of that act was to provide more services to families before removing children from the home, before that action had to be taken. And that is where you ought to start—preserve the family as much as you can, as long as the children are not being mistreated. This bill also seeks to help kids who age out of foster care have access to more support and successfully transition to adulthood and to independence.

I was glad to support this legislation, and I hope that, as it is implemented, we see positive outcomes for these young people and their families. All children, no matter what their circumstances, deserve a permanent, loving, and consistent, caring adults in their life.

When you visit with these young people, some of them tell us about being in two or three school systems in a year so obviously probably in two or three different homes in a year. And what you hear from them is “I would like to have a mom and dad. I would like to have a home.” They want some consistency and some permanency. I guess that is what it all adds up to.

Research has shown that the presence of just one caring adult who is available for advice, for support, and for guidance can make a meaningful difference for children in foster care. For some young people, this may be a foster parent who maintains a relationship with a child even after temporary placement is over. For other kids, this may mean an aunt or an uncle, a family member that is willing to shoulder the responsibilities of providing a loving home. Others may benefit from a court-appointed special advocate, what we know as CASA, or a guardian ad litem. These are volunteers assigned to be a child’s advocate.

For a system designed to protect children, often the child welfare system does not give much opportunity for a child’s voice to be heard, and it is a very important opportunity to listen to the unique CASA of the only adults in the court proceedings who are exclusively advocating for what the youth in foster care wants. I am happy that this year, for the first time, May 18 was labeled National CASA/GAL Volunteers Day to honor these important volunteers.

I salute all those who work tirelessly to support kids in foster care in Iowa and nationwide.

When I founded the Senate Caucus on Foster Youth in 2009, the special focus was to hear directly from the young people themselves. Older youth in foster care and adults who experienced foster care as a child can speak to what worked for them and, of course, what didn’t work. They should always have a seat at the table. Over and over again, I have heard the same thing from kids in foster care, so I am repeating what I said previously. They want a mom and a dad, they want a family, and they want a place to call home.

Kinship care provides an opportunity met by their family’s getting help with mental illness, substance abuse, or housing. For others, the dream of a family can be come true by the love and support met by their family’s getting help with mental illness, substance abuse, or housing. The senior assistant legislative clerk called the roll.

Mr. CORNYN. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. CORNYN. Madam President, a few hours ago, I had the pleasure of joining Secretary Raimondo and Senator Warner of Virginia for a tour of the Micron Technologies manufacturing plant just outside Washington, DC, in Manassas, VA. This is one of the great companies with facilities that produce semiconductors on U.S. soil.

Secretary Raimondo, Senator Warner, and I were given a behind-the-scenes tour of how these advanced chips, or semiconductors, are made, and we discussed some of the reasons why it is more expensive to build these facilities here in the United States.

The average American uses countless products every day that could not function without semiconductors. For everything from cell phones, to televisions, to cars and dishwashers, chips underpin our most-used technology. As we become more technology dependent, it is going to get nothing but more important. But it is not just consumer products; cell towers, water treatment plants, agricultural equipment, our energy grid—semiconductors make all of that possible.

These tiny technologies also play a huge role in our national defense. When we send our troops on a mission by land, sea, air, or even in cyber space, they need the best equipment available. While more equipment can’t function without these chips.

Just look at Israel’s Iron Dome missile defense system. This highly sophisticated system of rocket interceptors is connected to a network of missles that play in national security—not only ours but of our allies as well. We know that the number of civilian casualties that would be caused if not for the protection of the Iron Dome for the Israeli people could be significantly higher. I asked my staff to find out how many semiconductors are actually in one of those interceptors that knock out one of those rockets coming from Hamas. What I found out is that every single one of these interceptors contains more than 750 different semiconductors.

So it is not hyperbole to say that there are life-and-death consequences to a reliable semiconductor supply chain, but right now, we are in a serious and vulnerable situation. Over the last two decades, the United States has gone from producing roughly a quarter of the world’s semiconductors to about 12 percent. At the same time, China, our rival, our competitor that we are talking about a lot this week and last, has gone from manufacturing zero chips to now 16 percent of the world’s supply, and it plans to invest another $1.4 trillion in semiconductor technology.

Right now, China is building 17 fabs, or manufacturing facilities, in China. We are maybe thinking about building one, through Taiwan Semiconductor in Arizona, but it depends on our willingness and ability to support that domestic manufacturing whether or not they are significantly higher. This is a significantly higher. This is a significant problem.

The global shortage we are seeing right now is a glimpse of what things could look like and worse. The lack of supply has forced companies across the full range of impacted industries to scale back production or hit pause altogether. We have seen that particularly in the car manufacturing business. This shortage has led to some serious consequences. If companies have to shut down production, which they are doing right now, due to lack of supply of semiconductors, there are hardworking Americans who aren’t able to earn a paycheck. This impact, as I have suggested, is now being felt by autoworkers across the country. But the bigger question we need to ask is how would we fare if our supply chain to advance semiconductors was cut off entirely. Let’s say it is another pandemic or a natural disaster or, heaven forbid, a military conflict in the South China Sea. Nearly 90 percent of the world’s chips are made in Southeast Asia. If that supply was cut off for any reason, what would we do? The consequences wouldn’t be limited to a few bells and whistles or consumer goods. It would impact our missile defense systems, the F–35—the fifth generation Joint Strike Fighter—advanced weapons systems, quantum computing, and the full range of equipment and technologies our national defense depends on. If we don’t have our missile defense systems, the F–35—will the funding go down the drain, and it really is just an unnecessary distraction. We don’t need any other speed bumps in our ability to pass this important bipartisan legislation.

I hope our colleagues will continue to work with us in good faith to reach a compromise that will earn broad bipartisan support.

Last year the CHIPS for America Act, as I said, passed with a vote of 96 to 4, and there is no reason why this critical funding that we will be voting on this week should be politicized now.

Nomination of Chiquita Brooks-Lasure

Finally, Madam President, on another front, the Senate will take up a procedural vote on the President’s nominee for the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. CMS, as we all know, plays a vital role in providing healthcare to our most vulnerable citizens. More than 4 million Texans, including half of our children, depend on the stability of our State’s Medicaid Program to provide healthcare for them and their families. And in States across the country, the ability to obtain quality care for the health of our most vulnerable friends and neighbors from an emergency room visit to mental healthcare. But that could soon change.

The Biden administration has taken the unprecedented step of rescinding an agreement with my State and the previous administration to maintain the stability of our State’s Medicaid Program. Under this agreement, Texas was set to receive approximately $11 billion a year over the next decade to provide healthcare for our underserved population. Low-income individuals and those in rural areas are especially reliant on this funding, as are those who need mental healthcare. Mental and behavioral health providers alone receive about $300 million a year.

When asked for the reasoning behind this dangerous and frankly shocking move, rescinding a prior agreement extended under this agreement, the President’s nominee for the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, put the healthcare of millions of vulnerable citizens on the line.

If we don’t stand up now and push back on this reckless move, who will be next? Which State will be next? How far can the administration go to force States into enacting laws that they do not want to enact?

CMS funding is vital to the healthcare of millions of my constituents and to the stability of our entire healthcare system. CMS cannot be used as an instrument to coerce States into accepting its political demands, which is all this is.

I appreciate Ms. Brooks-LaSure’s experience in working with States to develop these types of waivers and her willingness to meet with me on this issue, but frankly this is a decision being made above her in the food chain. But my State has not so far received... an assurance that this action will be rectified, and it looks like the administration is intent on pulling the rug out from under our poorest and most needy patients.

For that reason, I cannot support this nominee, and I urge my colleagues to stand with me and, in doing so, stand up for the healthcare of their most vulnerable constituents, too, and pushing the administration to find an alternate and satisfactory path forward. The administration will take aim at the healthcare of 4 million vulnerable Texans, they will do it to anyone.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Alabama.

MILITARY APPRECIATION MONTH

Mrs. BLACKBURN. Madam President, this month is Military Appreciation Month. It is a month when we let our soldiers, sailors, airmen, marines know just how grateful we are for their service. Madam President, we are grateful for the service that you gave our Nation in uniform. We thank you for that.

Tennessee is home to three major military installations and numerous other Guard installations. For us, Military Appreciation Month actually lasts all year long.

I would like to start off by welcoming the 101st Airborne Division’s 2nd Squadron, 17th Calvary Regiment back stateside following a 9-month rotational deployment to Korea. We are so happy to have them back home.

In more exciting news out of Fort Campbell, this Thursday, SGM Veronica Knapp will become the first woman to serve as a command sergeant major of a U.S. Army division. She will assume responsibility as the senior enlisted adviser of the 101st Airborne Division.

On behalf of the entire Tennessee delegation, I offer my congratulations and wish her success in all that is yet to come.

The servicemembers stationed at Fort Campbell have really had a very busy past year. Starting last March, we began deploying soldiers to help with COVID-19 response operations across the Northeast, including members from the 501st Medical Company, the 531st Hospital Center, and the 101st Division Sustainment Brigade.

Roswell and New York City were among the most severely affected areas in the country. And if you ask the healthcare workers and city officials in those areas if Tennessee servicemembers made a difference, they will tell you, yes, without a doubt.

In fact, many of our Tennessee National Guard members also joined the fight against COVID-19. The 164th Airlift Wing transported desperately needed PPE all the way from Italy to healthcare workers across the entire country. The 118th ISR Group, along with five other Air National Guard targeting units, produced over 70 percent of the U.S. Air Force’s targeting materials, all while providing continuity to Activity-Duty units.

I want to keep bringing on our Guard members because they really have made an impact, especially when it comes to getting testing and vaccine centers up and running. They set up more static vaccine sites than any other State. As of this year, they have set up double the number of sites that were running in the next most successful State. Job well done.

They directly helped more than 1 million Tennesseans stay healthy throughout the pandemic. They provided emergency communications infrastructure for first responders in Westmoreland County, and found shelter for displaced families in Lynchburg and Manchester.

When you are on the outside looking in on a natural disaster, the last thing you want to hear is that local officials had to call in the National Guard. But I will tell you, when you are sitting in the aftermath, there is no more hopeful sight than a vehicle full of guardsmen pulling into town ready to help.

That peace of mind, of course, comes at a cost. Our servicemembers are told what they are to do and go do the jobs they are told to do without hesitation. Why? Because they have accepted that the cost of freedom is more important than the freedom they sacrificed when they put on the uniform. Their families have accepted this too. And when you are a military family, the uniform comes first. This is why every year when we re-up defense funding, we put special focus on military families and their needs.

For example, 2 years ago, we established a pilot program to offer professional licensed reciprocity for military spouses who want to continue working after moving across State lines. Last year, we increased funding for that program.

We also continued our support for the Preservation of the Force and Families Program, which helps special operators process the aftereffects of their missions.

Last month, the Presiding Officer and I introduced a bill called the Military Hunger Prevention Act. This is an incredibly important piece of legislation that would create a basic needs allowance for low-income military families.

The reason this is so important is that existing benefits programs like SNAP and free school lunches include housing allowances and other military benefits in revenue calculations. Although it is obvious that this only creates the appearance of higher income, the programs aren’t designed to allow an exception. Once we pass this bill—and I am sure that we will—these families who use their allowances to buy groceries instead of relying on food pantries to put dinner on the table.

This is what we should all be thinking about during Military Appreciation Month. The committee has made to take care of our service-members both on and off the battlefield.

We need to ask ourselves: What are we doing to meet their practical needs? What are we doing to support their families? What are we doing to right unintended wrongs?

It is the most important way we can recognize our extraordinary service to our Nation.

I yield the floor.

Mr. WYDEN. Madam President, the Senate is now debating the nomination of Chiquita Brooks-LaSure to head the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

This is clearly one of the most important healthcare jobs in America. Ms. Brooks-LaSure brings decades of health policy experience to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, and I think it would be fair to say that she has worked on healthcare from just about every angle short of scrubbing into the operating room herself. I am going to talk, in a minute, about her qualifications, but I also want, as we start this discussion, to recognize that this is a job that requires urgent, hands-on professionalism—exactly the kind Ms. Brooks-LaSure brings to this.

We are obviously, still working through enormous challenges on the COVID-19 pandemic. There are efforts by colleagues on both sides of the aisle on healthcare, and we, in particular, on this side want to expand healthcare coverage, bring down the cost of prescription medicine, and bring the Medicare guarantee into the 21st century.

The American people need a chief of Medicare and Medicaid as soon as possible, and blocking this nomination slows down important work that needs to be done. Senators on the other side have objected to moving forward with the nomination. So I am going to talk for just a few minutes about these concerns—but first, a little bit more about Ms. Brooks-LaSure.

Starting out, she worked at the Office of Management and Budget on Medicare policy and the CHIP program, the Children’s Health Insurance Program. So she was, long ago, focused on trying to get health care for the millions of Americans who every single day walk an economic tightrope in balancing the food bill against the fuel bill and the fuel bill against healthcare costs. She was there for them.

She then moved to the House Ways and Means Committee as a senior staff member. She helped to write portions of the Affordable Care Act dealing with expanding coverage and updating the Medicare guarantee.

When the Affordable Care Act became law, she went to Health and Human Services, and there she played an important role in implementing the law. She was the leader in the effort to create marketplaces for health insurance in the Affordable Care Act consumer protections. She has been a leader when it comes to defending and expanding women’s healthcare under the Affordable Care Act and other essential programs. When leaving HHS, she went to the private sector and continued to work on policies that expanded coverage and made healthcare more affordable.

Ms. Brooks-LaSure has the qualifications, the experience, and the knowledge to run Medicare and Medicaid, and there are absolutely no questions about it.

Now, our colleague from Texas, Senator CORNYN, has raised objections to moving the nomination forward. His objections relate to a decision by the Biden administration to rescind a Medicaid policy waiver that the Trump administration rushed to grant the State of Texas in mid-January. There are a few key points Members ought to understand about this issue.

First, nothing is going to change for health providers and patients in Texas for more than a year as a result of this decision. That means there is plenty of time to work out a solution that does not get pushed and follows the right process with public comment.

Second, Ms. Brooks-LaSure had nothing to do with the decision that Senator CORNYN is unhappy about. She wasn’t on the job when it was made.

Third, she has been clear in her Finance Committee hearing that she is committed to working on a bipartisan basis with State officials, and she said that to Senator CORNYN and to other Republican members on this issue as well. She has the track record and the experience to get it done.

I want to state again to our colleague from Texas and to every Member of the Senate: I probably spent as much time as any Member of the Senate working on the issue that the Senator from Texas is concerned about, and that is the process for granting waivers. I authored what is called section 1332 of the Affordable Care Act that was designed to say that progressive States that, for example, want to try to aggregate or have an exception or aggregate Medicare and Medicaid money would have a chance to do it as long as they would adhere to the guardrails.

Conservative States that sought to try their own approaches had their innovative approach to healthcare could do it as long as they met the coverage requirements of the Affordable Care Act.

I want to state again to Senator CORNYN, as I did in the Senate Finance Committee, that I am going to work very closely with him, after we confirm this nominee, to address the issues that he discussed in the committee that have concerned him.

To every Member who has issues with respect to waivers, I want each to know that this will be bipartisan interest in trying to bring people in their States together and adhering to the ideas in the Affordable Care Act, which states that States are free to pursue their own ideas for expanding coverage as long as they stay within the guardrails of the program.

We understand that Democrats and Republicans aren’t going to agree on every health policy question. What I do know is that Ms. Brooks-LaSure is going to be the kind of CMS Administrator who can bring two sides together exactly as we envisioned in the Affordable Care Act with the waiver law and exactly as I have committed to working with Senator CORNYN on.

The Finance Committee has demonstrated that it can work together on big issues. In 2010, the Committee passed the CHRONIC Care Act, which was a fundamental transformation of Medicare.

I have told my colleagues that back when I was director of the Gray Panthers, Medicare was about acute care. There was Part A, which was for hospitals, and Part B, which was for doctors. That was it. That was Medicare. When I taught gerontology, the first question on an exam was, What is the difference between Part A and Part B? That isn’t Medicare anymore. Medicare, today, is primarily about chronic disease: cancer and diabetes and heart disease and stroke and chronic pulmonary disease.

The Finance Committee wrote the CHRONIC Care Act on a bipartisan basis. At that point, Chairman Hatch was chairman of the committee, and I was the ranking Democrat. We worked in a bipartisan way, but the Trump administration, after the retirement of Chairman Hatch, basically put everything that he had built back by one vote.

When we confirm Ms. Brooks-LaSure—and I am convinced that she is going to be confirmed—she will work with Democrats and Republicans to make sure we are updating the Medicare guarantee for this century. In particular, what that involves is making sure that there are more opportunities for those who receive traditional Medicare to get the benefits of the CHRONIC Care Act. Already, the CHRONIC Care Act works well for what is called Medicare Advantage. We need to do more to make sure it is available for those who receive traditional Medicare.

Now, there are other issues the Finance Committee is working on that Ms. Brooks-LaSure will play an important role in—one being improving mental healthcare because mental healthcare has gotten short shrift in America for far too long. We know that Americans feel like they are getting mugged when they walk into a pharmacy and go to the window to get their prescription medicines. Look, for example, at insulin. Insulin prices have gone up twelvefold in recent years. The drug is not 12 times better. It is the same drug, but they are getting clobbered because the pharmaceutical companies can get away with it. So those are the kinds of practices that Ms. Brooks-LaSure is going to take on, and she is going to do it in a bipartisan way.

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services is right at the center of taking on these and other important healthcare challenges. This critical Agency—one of the most important places in American healthcare—needs a leader, and it needs one now. She is, in my view, an excellent nominee. She is going to work with both sides here in the Senate, including on the issue our colleague Senator CORNYN has raised. I want to restate my interest in working with both Ms. Brooks-LaSure and Senator CORNYN on this matter my colleague from Texas has raised.

We are going to be voting in a couple of minutes, colleagues, and I urge a strong vote for an eminently qualified nominee, Ms. Chiquita Brooks-LaSure. I yield the floor.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

EXECUTIVE CALENDAR

Thereupon, the Senate resumed consideration of the nomination of Chiquita Brooks LaSure, of Virginia, to be Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

CLOTURE MOTION

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Pursuant to rule XXII, the Chair lays before the Senate the pending cloture motion, which the clerk will state.

CLOTURE MOTION

We, the undersigned Senators, in accordance with the provisions of rule XXII of the Standing Rules of the Senate, do hereby move to bring to a close debate on the nomination of Executive Calendar No. 117, Chiquita Brooks-LaSure, of Virginia, to be Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

The legislative clerk read the nomination of Chiquita Brooks-LaSure, of Virginia, to be Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New York.

MR. GILLIBRAND. Mr. President, I rise today to address the need to reform our military justice system.

Just this month, the Department of Defense released its annual report on sexual assault in the military. That report and more than a decade of data on sexual assault in the military show a clear and disturbing trend. Reports of sexual assault have increased virtually every single year and remain at record highs, while prosecution and conviction rates have declined, including a shocking 10 percent point decline in the prosecution rate from last year. By every measure that you can imagine, we are moving in the wrong direction.

One of the steps Congress has taken to address this problem is to pass the Fiscal Year 2019 National Defense Authorization Act, which provides more than $1 billion—$500 million in fiscal year 2019 alone—enacted hundreds of provisions, and chartered special panels, Commissions, and advisory committees to address this problem. Not one of these steps has reduced the prevalence rate of sexual assaults within the ranks. We are still getting reports like the one we got from Fort Hood, which found that the world’s largest Army base was “a permissive environment for sexual assault and sexual harassment.”

I have heard from too many survivors who have barely come forward in search of justice, only to have their cases outright declined by the chain of command and then face more harassment and retaliation for reporting their assault. We owe it to our servicemembers to do more to prevent these crimes and properly prosecute them when they occur.

This fall, the Military Justice Improvement and Increasing Prevention Act, would ensure that, when these crimes are committed, justice is delivered. It does so by taking the same approach to these cases that the military takes in almost every other area of operation. It puts highly technical work in the hands of trained specialists.

This bipartisan and commonsense reform moves the decision on whether to prosecute serious crimes to independent, trained, and professional military prosecutors while leaving misbehaviors and uniquely military crimes within the chain of command. In other words, it will let prosecutors prosecute and commanders command.

By moving this work off of the commander’s plate, it will empower command to focus on mission-critical activities and on rebuilding the trust among their ranks that we know is critical to military readiness.

This bill is not policy critical. It is about doing the right thing for our service members who do so much for this Nation.
The Military Justice Improvement and Increasing Prevention Act has bipartisan, filibuster-proof support. It is supported by 63 Senators, including 42 Democrats, 2 Independents, and 19 Republicans, and the majority of the Senate Armed Services Committee. If we brought this bill to the floor today, it would pass.

We have the legislation, and we have the votes. Now we just need the will to act. I urge all of my colleagues to join me in haste to pass this bill as quickly as possible. As this week’s Department of Defense report makes clear, our servicemembers do not have time to wait.

I yield the floor to Senator GRASSLEY.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, the time has come for this bill to pass. After 8 years of Senator GILLIBRAND’s work in this area, it proves that she is a Senator who doesn’t give up, and it proves that she is a Senator who can bring bipartisanship to a city that needs it.

So I, like her, call on my colleagues to pass this bill, the Military Justice Improvement and Increasing Prevention Act, by unanimous consent.

I first joined Senator GILLIBRAND in advocating for this legislation in 2013, after truly horrifying reports out of the Pentagon about the rate of sexual assault and other criminal offenses going unpunished and a recommendation from a Commission on how to improve the system.

Whether it is in the military or whether it is outside the military, a crime is a crime, and it ought to be punished. It shouldn’t be overlooked, as so often is what happens in the military.

We have been pushing for this bill ever since, despite promises from the Department of Defense that they had everything under control. We heard, time and again, about new initiatives to stop sexual assaults and harassment. Yet things are worse today than when we started out.

They haven’t worked. In the most recent review, almost 21,000 soldiers were victims of sexual assault. Only 4 percent of the cases went to trial, and 62 percent of those who reported sexual assault experienced retaliation—retaliation just because you shouldn’t be hurt just because you are in the military and people can get away with it.

In two-thirds of these cases, the retaliation comes from inside the chain of command.

The Department of Defense has had more than enough time to try their way forward, and is it working? No, a new approach is needed. It is the same approach that Senator GILLIBRAND has been trying to get done in this body for the last 8 years, and we have always been put off because of these promises that were never carried out.

By moving the decision to prosecute out of the chain of command, perpetrators of sexual assault and other serious crimes will be held accountable and should be held accountable. Survivors will have more confidence in the process. Retaliation will be less likely.

This year, there is fresh support for the Military Justice Improvement and Increasing Prevention Act. Secretary Austin, has indicated that addressing this issue is a priority. A Department of Defense panel of experts that was convened recommended taking the decisions out of the chain of command.

After 8 years and a demonstrated need in the recent 2 or 3 years for bipartisanship, it is right time to move this historical bill. It deserves to be handled as a stand-alone piece of legislation.

I am glad that this bill earned the support of Senator ERNST, and she was key in getting the cloture-proof majority that we needed. I would now yield to Senator ERNST.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa.

Ms. ERNST. Mr. President, I want to thank my senior Senator from Iowa for bringing this bill to the floor, and I am rising today as well to support my colleague in her request today for consideration of the Military Justice Improvement and Increasing Prevention Act.

Our service men and women—all of them—are volunteers. They represent some of the best our Nation has to offer. They choose to try. They swear to protect against all enemies, foreign and domestic, and to defend the Constitution. In this day and age, they face many risks, but they should not face the risk of sexual assault from within their own ranks.

For years, the military has struggled to reduce the number of sexual assaults within the ranks. Yet we have seen little progress in defeating this scourge. The stories from survivors are heart-breaking: servicemembers who are attacked by their own teammates; servicemembers whose lives are turned upside down; servicemembers who are abandoned by their chain of command; servicemembers who receive no justice; and servicemembers who are left with the scars, often physical but always psychological, of a terrible experience.

I know these stories not just from this bill, but the bill in the history of Department of Defense report makes clear, our servicemembers do not have time to wait.

I urge all of my colleagues to join me in haste to pass this bill as quickly as possible. As this week’s Department of Defense report makes clear, our servicemembers do not have time to wait.

I urge my colleagues to show the time has come for this bill to pass. After 8 years and a demonstrated need in the recent 2 or 3 years for bipartisanship, it is right time to move this historical bill. It deserves to be handled as a stand-alone piece of legislation.

I am glad that this bill earned the support of Senator ERNST, and she was key in getting the cloture-proof majority that we needed. I would now yield to Senator ERNST.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa.

Ms. ERNST. Mr. President, I want to thank my senior Senator from Iowa for bringing this bill to the floor, and I am rising today as well to support my colleague in her request today for consideration of the Military Justice Improvement and Increasing Prevention Act.

Our service men and women—all of them—are volunteers. They represent some of the best our Nation has to offer. They choose to try. They swear to protect against all enemies, foreign and domestic, and to defend the Constitution. In this day and age, they face many risks, but they should not face the risk of sexual assault from within their own ranks.

For years, the military has struggled to reduce the number of sexual assaults within the ranks. Yet we have seen little progress in defeating this scourge. The stories from survivors are heart-breaking: servicemembers who are attacked by their own teammates; servicemembers whose lives are turned upside down; servicemembers who are abandoned by their chain of command; servicemembers who receive no justice; and servicemembers who are left with the scars, often physical but always psychological, of a terrible experience.

I know these stories not just from this bill, but the bill in the history of Department of Defense report makes clear, our servicemembers do not have time to wait.

I urge all of my colleagues to join me in haste to pass this bill as quickly as possible. As this week’s Department of Defense report makes clear, our servicemembers do not have time to wait.

I urge my colleagues to show the time has come for this bill to pass. After 8 years and a demonstrated need in the recent 2 or 3 years for bipartisanship, it is right time to move this historical bill. It deserves to be handled as a stand-alone piece of legislation.

I am glad that this bill earned the support of Senator ERNST, and she was key in getting the cloture-proof majority that we needed. I would now yield to Senator ERNST.

of command of decision but also felonies, serious crimes that may be interwined and interrelated with sexual assault, as they so often are in the civilized world, whether it is obstruction, intimidation of witnesses, assault, other crimes related to sexual assault.

So I believe sincerely that this Secretary of Defense is committed to ending sexual assault. I talked to one of the nominee for a prominent position in the Department of Defense; I believe he is sincerely committed. I have talked to others who have been confirmed or who will be nominated; they are firmly committed.

Let’s make that commitment real and approve this legislation because the numbers have belled the promises. The results have betrayed the good intention, and now it is time for action.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Rhode Island.

Mrs. GILLIBRAND. Mr. President, as if in legislative session, I ask unanimous consent that at a time to be determined by the majority leader, in consultation with the Republican leader, the Senate Armed Services Committee be discharged from further consideration of S. 1520 and the Senate proceed to its consideration; that there be 2 hours for debate, equally divided in the usual form; and that upon the use or yielding back of that time, the Senate vote on the bill with no intervening action or debate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. REED. I reserve my right to object, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Rhode Island.

Mr. REED. Well, thank you very much, Mr. President. I would like to first engage in a colloquy with Senator INHOFE, the ranking member of the committee, on the process we will use to consider all the ideas and amendments that will be offered by committee members to address the investigation and prosecution of sexual assault and related crimes under the UCMJ in the annual Defense bill.

I believe that the committee must start from a base that reflected the broadest consensus possible among our members on how best to move forward on this matter and on the recommendations of Secretary Austin’s 90-day Independent Review Commission. I am not sure whether Senators would prefer there be nothing in our bill on this topic, while others will feel that the IRC recommendations do not go far enough. This is the nature of compromise and why I intend to include the IRC recommendations on accountability in the military justice system for the investigation and prosecution of sexual assault and other special victim crimes. We must be able to analyze these recommendations collectively as a committee and then consider them.

With this in mind, as I said over the weekend, I intend to include in the chairman’s mark of the fiscal year 2022 Defense bill, the IRC recommendations. It is my view that these recommendations provide the appropriate basis from which to consider the wide range of amendments and ideas I know our members will have.

I want to stress that all amendments offered by Senators on the committee will be fully considered during the full committee markup. I intend to continue our tradition of following an open amendment process within the committee, and I know that is something the President is quite aware of since he participated in the committee in a very responsible way over many years.

Further, while the first round of reform will focus on the issues of accountability, I intend to incorporate the IRC’s recommendations on prevention, climate and culture, and victim care and support into the bill as we move through the legislative year. I think these recommendations will be critically important to reducing the number of sexual assaults in the ranks.

The focus of the legislation before us is adjudication. I think we all would prefer that prevention, command climate—all of these factors be such that adjudication is not necessary because the crimes, the incidents, the difficulties, the mental and physical anguish that victims incur have been avoided because we have taken the steps to prevent these actions from taking place in our military forces.

With that, Mr. President, I would object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is heard.

The Senator from New York.

Mrs. GILLIBRAND. Mr. President, well, I just want to respond to my colleagues and chairman and ranking member. While I am extremely grateful for their leadership and their willingness to review and take on the IRC recommendations, the IRC recommendations are limited. It was only a 60-day review of the issue of sexual assault and sexual harassment only. It did not look at the military justice system overall. It did not have the benefit of the 90-day review, studying related amendments and changes.

Our committee has passed over 200—or nearly 250—different resolutions and changes to how the military deals with sexual harassment and sexual assault, to no effect.

Deferring only to the IRC, which is an unelected panel that has only looked at this issue for 60 days, is not sufficient. Not only do we have Senators on the Armed Services Committee who have been studying this issue for 8 years, making recommendations and passing laws on this topic for 8 years, it would seem that to defer to a panel that has only looked at this issue for 60 days, to one issue, seems irresponsible. I do not believe that issues of this weight and of this significance should be dealt with the committee only. The Armed Services Committee has been working on this issue for 10 years, and I have no improvement for the number of sexual assaults in the military and on the rate of prosecution and the rate of conviction. That is highly problematic.
Also, when I asked for a vote on this measure over the last several years, I have been denied a vote on this measure on the floor by the chairman and the ranking member. So they have been unable or unwilling to allow me to have a vote, given all the bipartisan support we have had from the beginning.

This bill has been bipartisan from day one. Senator Grassley has been on this bill from day one, as have several other Republicans. Today, we now have 63 criminal measures—what they call—bipartisan—and more than half of the Armed Services Committee. We have established that the weight of this Senate, in a filibuster-proof majority, wants a floor vote on this and does not want to leave it up to the committee.

The Armed Services Committee has lost their opportunity to claim sole jurisdiction over this issue by failing to improve this situation over the last 10 years. More than 250 measures that we passed were all approved by various panels that took 60 days or 90 days or a year to review this issue, and we willingly took those recommendations and turned them into law.

If we will willingly take the recommendations of the IRC board and turn them into law because they are good and thoughtful recommendations, but they are limited. By design, they were only allowed to look at two crimes—sexual assault and sexual harassement—and by not looking at all serious crimes, you are not looking at the weight of the problem.

We now have evidence that has been developed since 2017 about racial disparities and how the criminal justice system in the military works.

Mr. President, that report will show that Black servicemembers were at least 1.29 times and as much as 2.61 times more likely to have disciplinary action taken against them in an average year across all branches from 2006 to 2015. These disparities largely did not improve and in some cases worsened in the most recent years covered.

So we have other challenges within the military justice system, and now we have evidence where we have heard that the military itself has collected. On sexual assault, we have 10 years of data, and now on racial disparities and racism within the military, we have data over the last 3 years, and that has to be considered as well.

So the way to fix both of these problems is really simple: Professionalize the military justice system. Allow serious crimes to be taken out of the chain of command and given to trained military prosecutors who do not have bias and have been trained in military justice.

If we professionalize the military justice system, we will see justice done because there will be less bias in the system and there will be more professionalism. The combination of those two things, we believe, based on what military members have told us, will result in more cases going forward and more prosecutions.

Second, has the support of military justice experts. We have a letter from the National Institute of Military Justice:

The National Institute of Military Justice recommends transferring prosecutorial discretion not only for all sex offenses, but also for serious offenses—those for which the authorized maximum punishment exceeds one year. In other words, this is a familiar feature in the American criminal justice system. Those changes will strengthen the fairness of military justice and bolster public confidence in the administration.

Similarly, we have a piece published in the Marine Corps Gazette by Capt. Lambert Jackson, who has prosecuted these cases. He served as trial counsel for the 2nd Marine Division and is complex trial counsel. He fundamentally understands the nature of these cases. He was an operational law attorney in the 1st Marine Division, that is not going to happen if we see it watered down through the process of the NDAA. So I would love to see this bill in its entirety passed. If that can happen through the NDAA, so be it. But as Senator Grassley just stated, we have worked on legislation before to see it come to fruition in the Senate through NDAA, but not have it passed and signed into law. So I do share those concerns, and I have not had assurances that we could pass the bill in its entirety.

I would also ask that we take this up for consideration on the floor. I think it is that important to move forward. There are a lot of survivors out there who would like to see this move forward. I believe that now we also have a swell of military members who would like to see this bill in its entirety move forward.

This body as a Senate—not just as Senate Armed Services Committee members, but this body as a Senate—this body as a Congress, we do have civilian oversight of the military and our civilian oversight takes into consideration those members, our constituents, who are asking for this change. Believe me, I am hearing from my constituents on this change.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Ms. Smith). The Senator from Rhode Island.

Mr. Reed. Madam President, my colleagues have expressed overwhelming confidence in this bill, and I don’t think that confidence will be eroded through more careful consideration by the committee. I think, in fact, the committee process will allow us to incorporate, examine, accept some and reject other provisions and recommendations by the IRC.
It also, I think, will empower or allow us to consider something that we really have considered as consistently as the issue of sexual assault, and that is the indications that racial bias is such that all felonies must be taken out of the hands of commanders, not just those dealing with individual sexual assault or sexual harassment cases or other related sexual conduct or misconduct—I should rightly advocate this.

Again, I think if we want to go ahead and make a fundamental change, committee consideration can only assist that change by getting broad viewpoints of those who are in favor of it, those who may be opposed to, and those who may seek changes.

And if the committee reports to the floor, there will be opportunity on the floor, once again, to engage in debate and comment.

I think we will try our best to come to a solution that is the best solution. I say that with a commitment to try my best to do so.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New York.

Mrs. GILLIBRAND. Madam President, one of the concerns I have is that we have been studying this issue and debating this issue for years.

We have had several floor debates. We had two floor debates because we only got to vote on it twice. Both times, we had the majority of the Senate promoting this provision.

What we have is a record of our allies already making this change, not for the issue of sexual assault in the military but for the issue of defendants’ rights. The UK, Israel, Germany, Netherlands, Australia all took serious crimes, a bright-line of felonies out of the chain of command because they believed that a defendant had a right to basic civil liberties. When they did so, they didn’t see any diminution in command control or the ability to have good order and discipline within the ranks. And they wrote to one of the many panels that we have had over the past 10 years—that information—to tell them that this is a change we have made. And the UK even said this was a change that our commanders basically didn’t notice.

So this is not some untested, out-of-the-box idea. This is an idea that is supported by the survivors, by veterans, by commanders, by experts in military justice, and by our allies. I believe that our servicemembers deserve a criminal justice system worthy of the sacrifices they make.

Last, I do not think this is a moment to defer to the committee. The committee has failed survivors over the last 10 years, and I do not think it is in their purview to make this ultimate decision. When we had a vote on the “don’t ask, don’t tell” repeal—something that was similarly a generational change—it was done on a floor vote, an up-or-down vote, and we had that vote twice. It was called twice because the first time Republicans refused to participate in the vote. We called it again, and we had the 60 votes we needed to participate in a filibuster.

I believe this vote is also a once-in-a-generation vote that needs the review and the vote of the Senate because, not only does the Congress have the responsibility to oversee the military and the entire executive branch, but this whole body has the ability to oversee individual committees if they aren’t going far enough when the moment demands it.

I believe this is some such time. We are here for a time such as this. We should do our job. We should vote on this measure, and it should be an up-or-down floor vote.

I yield the floor.

Mr. REED. Just a point of clarification, my recollection of the “don’t ask, don’t tell” process was that it was, in fact, considered by the committee. The language that was ultimately adopted was revised language. The reason because of objections to the issue, the NDAA was filibustered consistently and in order to try to break free, in terms of passing both pieces of legislation, the “don’t ask, don’t tell” was removed. It was after a complete committee process, as well as consideration of the NDAA on the floor.

At that point, as Senator GILLIBRAND indicated, after two attempts, there were insufficient votes to pass “don’t ask, don’t tell,” but it was duly considered in the committee.

Again, if the power of the ideas, the compelling data that they have is such, I don’t know why they are concerned about allowing the full members of the committee, not just a subcommittee, to decide what should be in the final mark.

In addition to that, I think in this process—and, in fact, I think you find it on every committee—ideas, perspectives, insights are gained that would otherwise be lost. What are we trying to do is follow the procedure of the Senate, which is to present to this floor a bill that has been carefully examined by people who have dedicated a great deal of their Senate service to the Armed Services Committee, and do so with the input of the Secretary of Defense because all of this has to be implemented by the Department of Defense. And at that point, if there are still difficulties, then, on the Senate floor is available for amendments.

Again, I would suggest that we can make real progress in the committee. We can get legislation that is not bipartisan but, hopefully, unanimous or nearly unanimous, and that would be a very powerful signal to our colleagues both in the House and to everyone else that this legislation will, in fact, become law.

I yield the floor.

Mrs. GILLIBRAND. Madam President, I would simply state that we have already established that this is something that should become law. We already have 63 Senators on a bipartisan basis supporting this reform.

This is not something that is new to the committee. We have been debating this issue for 8 years. I have asked for a vote on every one of those votes. So this bill has been filibustered for 8 years. This bill has been refused to be allowed to be part of the NDAA for a long time. This is not a new issue. These are new facts. These are things that we have been wrestling with and failing. So I believe it is time this measure comes to the floor.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The senior assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. BLUMENTHAL. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

NOMINATION OF KRISTEN M. CLARKE

Mr. BLUMENTHAL. Madam President, I just do not know that we are voting on the nomination of Kristen Clarke to be Assistant Attorney General for the Civil Rights Division in the United States Department of Justice.

I am proud tonight to advocate for her, not that she needs my voice in her support. She is a brilliant leader and advocate. She has dedicated her entire career to protecting the civil rights of all Americans, and she has an extraordinary record to show for it.

She reminds me of the legal warriors in the Department of Justice during the 1950s and 1960s and 1970s who battled for the rule of law in supporting children who were trying to gain entry to desegregated schools, in voters who sought to uphold the franchise, and in men and women who challenged the denial of their rights in the South and throughout the country. The Department of Justice became a beacon of law enforcement in its upholding of the civil rights of America, and she is in that great tradition—fierce and fearless, strong and unyielding and tenacious in defending and advocating for the rights and liberties of Americans when they are denied those rights and guaranteed under the Constitution and our statutes.

She served as the civil rights chief for the New York Attorney General in the civil rights bureau. She served as assistant counsel for the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund. She served as a federal prosecutor during the Bush administration in the Civil Rights Division’s Criminal Section and Voting Section, the very divisions that she has been nominated now to lead.

She knows these issues. She knows civil rights and civil liberties issues and law because she has worked on them for more than two decades. She cares about these issues because her life has been dedicated to them, and she understands these issues on a deeply personal level. She knows them inside and out because she served to fight for them inside and out of the DOJ, inside and out of the New York Attorney General’s Office, inside and out of the organization she helped to direct, and she is the daughter of immigrants who grew up in the Nation’s largest public housing complex. She is also the mother of a 16-year-old son, who is growing up in this moment of reckoning. Justice, equality, and equity in America.

If memory serves me, she also once took a field trip to the Hartford area, in Connecticut, and watched a then comparatively young State attorney general who was arguing in court in a desegregation case. Now, I have no illusions that this experience played any part in her desire to use her extraordinary skills and talents and gifts and education as a public servant and lawyer for good, but it helped open her career, and that is exactly what we need now at the helm of the Civil Rights Division.

There is no excuse for waiting another moment to confirm her to this most critical position. She is the chief civil rights chief for this moment because we are in a moment of reckoning. Justice, equality, and equity are on the line now, and her strength and tenacity meet this moment.

Unfortunately, there are some on the other side who have used Ms. Clarke’s nomination to make baseless allegations against her, including allegations that she supports abolishing the police. To support this distortion, they have repeatedly invoked a 2020 op-ed written by Ms. Clarke and published by Newsweek. I want to meet that article head on, because, at our Judiciary Committee’s markup just 2 weeks ago, Senator Cruz selectively excerpted portions of that article in a manner that they demonstrated that Ms. Clarke “explicitly” advocated abolishing the police.

There is only one problem with this argument: Ms. Clarke never wrote that. It just isn’t true. Ms. Clarke’s piece is a thoughtful call to rethink how we approach law enforcement in a country that is going through a moment of reckoning. Justice, equality, and equity are on the line now, and her strength and tenacity meet this moment.

Unlike Senator Cruz, I do not have the luxury of cherry-picking a single line now, and her strength and tenacity meet this moment.

At a time when the country faces a moment of reckoning over racial justice, the Civil Rights Division needs someone with Ms. Clarke’s knowledge, skill, dexterity of thinking, life experience, heart, and dedication because these challenges are immense and they need to be addressed. She is the person for the job. That is exactly what she will do, address the need for equity and equality in civil rights enforcement. She will be tenacious but thoughtful and insightful and true to the law, serving the rule of law. She is a dedicated and devoted public servant, committed to equal justice, civil rights, and the rule of law.

I have seen that firsthand, and I know I am not the only one who thinks so. The letters the Judiciary Committee has received in support of her nomination reflect a broad, professionally and ideologically diverse coalition of individuals and organizations that know that she is, without a doubt, eminently qualified for this position. She has been a dedicated and devoted public servant, committed to equal justice, civil rights, and the rule of law.

I have seen that firsthand, and I know I am not the only one who thinks so. The letters the Judiciary Committee has received in support of her nomination reflect a broad, professionally and ideologically diverse coalition of individuals and organizations that know that she is, without a doubt, eminently qualified for this position.

Senator Cruz selectively excerpted portions of that article to fit his preconceived narrative, and that is exactly what we need now at the helm of the Civil Rights Division.

I have received numerous contributions to the field of nuclear physics, to the State of New Mexico, and to our country’s nuclear energy community.

I believe strongly that Kristen Clarke should be confirmed right away, without delay, and I encourage all of my colleagues to see the baseless allegations against her for what they are—a distortion—and I urge them to support her nomination. I have confronted those allegations. They are unworthy of repetition, but I think my colleagues should know the truth behind them. They are based on a distortion and are unfounded.

For me, this vote feels very personal. Two of my four children are graduating literally today and during this week from law school. I hope they will use the gifts that they have, and the advocacy that they have been learning to advance the public interests in the way that Kristen Clarke has done throughout her extraordinary career.

I hope they will regard her as a role model because she has sought justice. She has fought to uphold the rights of people who are vulnerable, Americans who are voiceless, and ordinary Americans, who all too often have been denied their rights. She has stood up for them; she has spoken out; and I hope we will confirm her tomorrow with a bipartisan vote.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The senior assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. SCHUMER. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

REMEMBERING DR. PETER B. LYONS

Mr. HEINRICH. Madam President, it is my honor to recognize the life of Dr. Peter B. Lyons, a steadfast and selfless public servant, who over the course of an unparalleled and distinguished career at Los Alamos National Laboratory, the U.S. Senate, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, and the U.S. Department of Energy, made numerous contributions to the field of nuclear physics, to the State of New Mexico, and to our country’s nuclear energy community.

In 2010, Dr. Lyons was confirmed as the Assistant Secretary for Nuclear Energy at the U.S. Department of Energy. As Assistant Secretary, he focused on incorporating modeling and REMEmBERING DR. ARMIN REMBE

Mr. HEINICH. Madam President, it is a deep honor to recognize the life of an extraordinary New Mexican, Dr. Armin Rembe of Los Ranchos. The first oncologist-hematologist in Albuquerque, Dr. Rembe served countless numbers of patients in New Mexico delivering lifesaving care over a long and successful medical career.

Originally from Seattle, WA, Dr. Rembe developed a lifelong love for his adopted home State of New Mexico. He studied everything he could about New Mexico’s rich history and culture. He also became a collector of Spanish colonial art and served for years as a judge at the annual Spanish Market in Santa Fe.

With his wife of 58 years, Penny, Dr. Rembe developed his second career after retiring from medicine as an organic farmer and steward of Los Poblanos Historic Inn and Organic Farm in Los Ranchos. The historic property was designed by the renowned architect John Gaw Meem and sits amid 25 acres of tender fields, cottonwood trees, and formal gardens in the Rio Grande Valley.

For 45 years, Dr. Rembe and Penny worked tirelessly to grow the successful and dynamic mission of Los Poblanos as a gem of historical preservation, a venue with world-class hospitality, and a working organic farm that keeps the tradition of agriculture in the Rio Grande alive while minimizing the use of precious water resources.

Above all else, Dr. Rembe was proud of his family. My thoughts are with his beloved wife, Penny, their four children, Emily, Armin, Jay and Matthew, and their eight grandchildren, as they grieve this loss and remember a life well-lived.

SUBMITTED RESOLUTIONS

SENATE RESOLUTION 229—RECOGNIZING THE DEVASTATING ATTACK ON A GIRLS’ SCHOOL IN KABUL, AFGHANISTAN ON MAY 8, 2021, AND EXPRESSING SOLIDARITY WITH THE AFGHAN PEOPLE

Mrs. SHAHEEN (for herself and Ms. COLLINS) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

S. Res. 229

Whereas on May 8, 2021, a car bomb and several other mechanisms were detonated at the front gates of the Sayed Ul-Shuhada High School in Kabul, killing more than 65 people, many of whom were girls attending the school;
Whereas, the attack took place as the girls and their families prepared to celebrate Eid al-Fitr;
Whereas, the school provides education to the Dasht-e Barchi neighborhood, an under-served area of Kabul where many members of the Hazara minority community live;
Whereas the Hazara in Dasht-e Barchi have been the target of extremist violence for many years;
Whereas on March 12, 2020, assassants attacked a maternity hospital in Dasht-e Barchi, killing 24 people including 2 newborn babies, mothers, and members of the hospital staff;
Whereas, 1 of those killed in the attack on the hospital was Maryam Noorzad—
(1) who was a midwife serving the Hazara community;
(2) who dedicated her life to providing access to healthcare to women in remote parts of Afghanistan;
(3) who was murdered after refusing to leave due to rising insecurity; and
(4) whose bravery was recognized by the Department of State with an honorary International Women of Courage award;
Whereas, Afghan girls were restricted from accessing an education under the Taliban, forcing some girls to dress up as boys in order to attend secret schools and continue their education;
Whereas, according to a report by the Office of the Director of National Intelligence—
(1) there are approximately 3,500,000 girls among the 9,000,000 children who are enrolled in school in Afghanistan;
(2) only 17 percent of girls in rural parts of Afghanistan attend school, while 45 percent of girls in urban areas in Afghanistan attend school;
(3) 80 percent of Afghan women older than 15 years of age are illiterate; and
(4) schools are increasingly being forced to close due to rising insecurity;
Whereas, the education of girls is a necessary requirement for any country to achieve long-term stability and peace;
Whereas the attack coincides with an escalation of violence in Afghanistan, perpetrated by the Taliban, the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant (ISIS) and other terrorist organizations;
Whereas the recent escalation in violence has disproportionately impacted women, who have been targeted while working as reporters, administering vaccines, serving in prominent positions, and helping their communities;
Now, therefore, be it
Resolved, That the Senate—
(1) extends its heartfelt condolences to, and stands with, the people of Afghanistan and the Hazara community;
(2) condemns all forms of violence against women and girls in Afghanistan;
(3) supports United States and international efforts to ensure that girls in Afghanistan are able to safely attend school;
(4) affirms that the United States should continue to provide assistance to support the rights of women and girls to achieve an education;
(5) calls on the Government of Afghanistan to support girls’ education and to ensure that girls are able to safely attend school;
(6) calls for international condemnation of violence against Afghan women and girls, and
(7) asks the international community to devote the resources and attention necessary to provide for the continued safe education of girls in Afghanistan.
Whereas public school teachers, leaders, and staff of public charter schools across the United States for—

(1) making ongoing contributions to public education;

(B) improving and strengthening the public school system throughout the United States;

(2) supports the ideals and goals of the 22nd annual National Charter Schools Week, a week-long celebration to be held May 9 through May 15, 2021, in communities throughout the United States and

(3) encourages the people of the United States to hold appropriate programs, ceremonies, and activities during National Charter Schools Week to demonstrate support for public charter schools.

Whereas public charter schools improve the achievement of students enrolled in the charter schools and collaborate with traditional public schools to improve public education for all students;

Whereas a 2015 report from the Center for Research on Education Outcomes at Stanford University found greater academic gains for students in charter schools than for students in traditional public schools who took the reading and math assessments administered by the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) in fourth and eighth grade between 2005 and 2017, and African American and low-income students attending charter schools were almost 6 months ahead of their peers in reading and math compared with students in traditional public schools over the 12-year span of the study;

Whereas parental demand for charter schools is high, and there was nearly 5 percent growth in charter school enrollment between the 2017–2018 and 2018–2019 school years; and

Whereas the 22nd annual National Charter Schools Week is scheduled to be celebrated the week of May 9 through May 15, 2021: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) supports—

(A) designating May 17, 2021, as "DIPG Pediatric Brain Cancer Awareness Day"; and

(B) efforts to—

(i) better understand diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors; and

(ii) provide comprehensive care for children with diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors and their families; and

(C) improving and strengthening the public school system throughout the United States; and

(2) encourages the people of the United States to hold appropriate programs, ceremonies, and activities during National Charter Schools Week to demonstrate support for public charter schools.

SENATE RESOLUTION 221—EX-PRESSING SUPPORT FOR THE DESIGNATION OF MAY 17, 2021, AS "DIPG PEDIATRIC BRAIN CANCER AWARENESS DAY" TO RAISE AWARENESS OF AND ENCOURAGE RESEARCH ON DIF-FUSE INTRINSIC PONTINE GLIOMA TUMORS AND PEDI-ATRIC CANCERS IN GENERAL

Mr. RUBIO (for himself, Mr. REED, Mrs. HYDE-SMITH, Mr. CASEY, Mr. BRAUN, Mrs. FEINSTEIN, Mr. MARSHALL, and Mrs. FISCHER) submitted the following resolution: which was considered and agreed to:

S. Res. 231

Whereas diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma (referred to in this preamble as "DIPG") tumors regularly affect 130 to 300 children in the United States each year;

Whereas brain tumors are the leading cause of cancer-related death among children;

Whereas DIPG tumors are the leading cause of pediatric brain cancer deaths;

Whereas, with respect to a child who is diagnosed with a DIPG tumor and receives conventional treatment, the median amount of time that the child survives after diagnosis is only 9 months;

Whereas, with respect to an individual who is diagnosed with a DIPG tumor, the rate of survival 5 years after diagnosis is approximately 2 percent;

Whereas the average age at which a child is diagnosed with a DIPG tumor is between 5 and 10 years, resulting in a life expectancy approximately 70 years shorter than the average life expectancy in the United States; and

Whereas the prognosis for children diagnosed with DIPG tumors has not improved over the past 50 years; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) supports—

(A) designating May 17, 2021, as "DIPG Pediatric Brain Cancer Awareness Day"; and

(B) efforts to—

(i) better understand diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors; and

(ii) develop effective treatments for diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors; and

(iii) provide comprehensive care for children with diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors and their families; and

(2) encourages the people of the United States to become more informed about—

(A) diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors;

(B) pediatric brain cancer in general; and

(C) challenges relating to research on pediatric cancers and ways to advance such research.

TEXT OF AMENDMENTS

SA 1920. Mr. BOOZMAN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, and manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

In section 2510(a)(1)(A)(ii) of division B, insert “and” at the end of subclause (III) and strike clause (V).

In section 2510 of division B, redesignate subsection (d) as subsection (e) and insert after subsection (e) the following:

(d) EXCLUSIONS.—The provisions of subsections (a) and (b) shall not apply to—

(1) a covered commodity (as defined in section 4 of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (7 U.S.C. 1638));

(2) any meat or meat food product (as defined in section 1 of the Federal Meat Inspection Act (21 U.S.C. 601 et seq.)); or

(3) any poultry or poultry product (as those terms are defined in section 4 of the Poultry Products Inspection Act (21 U.S.C. 453)) inspected pursuant to that Act (21 U.S.C. 601 et seq.).

SA 1921. Mr. BARRASSO submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, and manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

SEC. 3236. STATEMENT OF POLICY ON MODERNIZATION OF NUCLEAR TRIAD.

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the modernization of land-based intercontinental ballistic missiles, ballistic missile defense, and any future air-launched bomber aircraft is essential to the success of any arms control efforts with the People’s Republic of China;

(2) the bipartisan consensus on the modernization of the nuclear triad was essential to the ratification of the Treaty between the United States of America and the Russian Federation on Measures for the Further Reduction and Limitation of Strategic Offensive Arms, signed April 8, 2010, and entered into force February 5, 2011 (commonly known as the “New START Treaty”); and

(3) continued support for modernization of the triad will be a necessary consideration in any future arms control treaty with the People’s Republic of China; and the modernization of the United States nuclear triad is a critical priority as the Russian Federation and the People's Republic of China continue to advance and modernize their nuclear forces.

(b) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It is policy of the United States—

(1) to advance United States strategic deterrence capabilities both quantitatively and qualitatively;

(2) to ensure the safety, reliability, and performance of United States nuclear forces; and

(3) to fully modernize the United States nuclear triad to ensure a credible deterrent.

SA 1922. Ms. WARREN (for herself and Mr. RUBIO) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of title III of division E, add the following:

SEC. 5311. REPORT ON FOREIGN INVESTMENT IN PHARMACEUTICAL INDUSTRY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the Federal Trade Commission, in consultation with the Secretary of Commerce, shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States, and the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, a report on foreign investment in the pharmaceutical industry of the United States.

(b) ELEMENTS.—The report required by subsection (a) shall include an assessment—

(1) of the effect on the chain of the pharmaceutical industry of the United States and the effect of concentration and reliance on foreign manufacturing within that industry;

(2) of foreign investment in the pharmaceutical industry of the United States on domestic capacity to produce drugs and active and inactive ingredients of drugs; and

(3) of the effect of foreign investment in technologies or other products for sequencing or storage of DNA, including genome and exome analysis, in the United States, including the effect of such investment on the capacity to sequence or store DNA in the United States.

(c) AUTHORITY.—The Federal Trade Commission shall have authority under section 18 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 46) to conduct the studies required to prepare the report required by subsection (a).

(d) PUBLICATION.—The Federal Trade Commission shall publish an unclassified summary of the report required by subsection (a) on a publicly available internet website of the Commission.

(e) APPROPRIATE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES DEFINED.—In this section, the term "appropriate congressional committees" means—

(1) the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs, the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions, the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, the Committee on Appropriations, the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions, the Committee on Foreign Relations, the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, and the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate; and

On page 23, between lines 7 and 8, insert the following:

"(5) CONDITIONS OF RECEIPT.—

(A) REQUIRED AGREEMENT.—A covered entity to which the Secretary of Commerce awards Federal financial assistance under section 9002 of the William M. (Mac) Thornberry National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2021 (Public Law 116-283) or paragraph (3) of this subsection with amounts appropriated under this subsection, unless—

(aa) the individual is free from control and direction in connection with the performance of the service, both under the contract for the performance of service and in fact;

(bb) the service is performed outside the usual course of the business of the covered entity;

(cc) the individual is customarily engaged in an independently established trade, occupation, profession, or business of the same nature as that involved in the service performed;

(dd) the covered entity or any parent company of the covered entity; or

(ee) such other conditions as the Secretary determines to be necessary.

(B) FINANCIAL PROTECTION OF GOVERNMENT.—

(I) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Commerce may not award Federal financial assistance to a covered entity under section 9002 of the William M. (Mac) Thornberry National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2021 (Public Law 116-283) or paragraph (3) of this subsection with amounts appropriated under this subsection, unless—

(aa) the covered entity has issued securities that are traded on a national securities exchange; and

(bb) the Secretary of the Treasury receives a warrant or equity interest in the covered entity; or

(cc) in the case of any covered entity other than a covered entity described in clause (I), the Secretary of the Treasury receives, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury—

(aa) a warrant or equity interest in the covered entity; or

(bb) a senior debt instrument issued by the covered entity.

(ii) TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The terms and conditions of any warrant, equity interest, or senior debt instrument received under this subsection shall be subject to the approval of the Secretary of Commerce and shall meet the following requirements:

(I) PURPOSES.—Such terms and conditions shall be designed to promote a reasonable participation by the Secretary of Commerce, for the benefit of taxpayers, in equity appreciation in the case of a warrant or other equity interest, or a reasonable interest rate premium, in the case of a debt instrument.

(II) AUTHORITY TO SELL, EXERCISE, OR SURRENDER.—For the primary benefit of taxpayers, the Secretary of Commerce may sell, exercise, or surrender a warrant or any senior debt instrument received under this subparagraph. The Secretary of Commerce shall determine the voting rights of such warrant or any shares of common stock acquired under this subparagraph.
(III) SUP Sufficiency.—If the Secretary of Commerce determines that a covered entity cannot feasibly issue warrants or other equity interests as required by this subparagraph, the Secretary of Commerce may accept a senior debt instrument in an amount and on such terms as the Secretary of Commerce deems appropriate.

(F) Definitions.—In this paragraph:
(1) COVERED PROJECT LABOR AGREEMENT.— The term “covered project labor agreement” means a project labor agreement that—
(i) binds all contractors and subcontractors on a construction project through the inclusion of appropriate specifications in all relevant solicitation provisions and contract documents;
(ii) allows all contractors and subcontractors to compete for contracts and subcontract awards without regard to whether they are otherwise a party to a collective bargaining agreement; provide loans, guarantees, or insurance for up to 100 percent of the value of a transaction if—

(i) not less than 50 percent of the content of the goods and services exported pursuant to the transaction are of United States origin; and

(ii) the goods and services exported pursuant to the transaction that are not of United States origin, not less than 25 percent of the content of such goods and services originates from other members countries of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development.

(2) LOCAL COST POLICY.—If the Bank provides a loan, guarantee, or insurance for the export of United States goods or services under the Program on Transformational Exports, the Bank may also support the extension of loans, guarantees, or the purchase of goods or services that originate in that country in amount that does not exceed 50 percent of the value of the United States-origin goods and services exported.

(3) SHIPMENTS.—The Program on Transformational Exports shall expire on December 31, 2026.

(4) DEFINITIONS.—In this subsection:

(A) ARRANGEMENT.—The term ‘Arrangement’ means the Arrangement on Officially Supported Export Credits of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development.

(B) CLEAN ENERGY, ENERGY EFFICIENCY, AND ENERGY STORAGE.—The term ‘clean energy, energy efficiency, and energy storage’ includes the following:

(i) Renewable energy systems.

(ii) Hydrogen fuel cell technology for residential, industrial, or transportation applications.

(iii) Zero-emission aircraft.

(iv) Advanced nuclear energy facilities.

(v) Carbon capture, utilization, and sequestration practices and technologies.

(vi) Efficient electrical generation, transmission, and distribution technologies.

(vii) Pollution control equipment.

(ix) Technologies and systems for reducing more potent greenhouse gas pollutants, including methane leakage from natural gas transmission and distribution infrastructure.

(x) Manufacturing and deployment of nuclear supply components for advanced nuclear reactors.

(xi) System-level energy management solutions.

(xii) Applications of platform technologies, including data analytics, artificial intelligence, and other software to improve the energy efficiency and effectiveness of energy infrastructure, including electric grid operations.

(xiv) Carbon-capture ready combined cycle plants that are supercritical or ultra-supercritical coal plants if deemed to be replacing non-supercritical coal plants supplied by a covered country and in accordance with the Arrangement.

(xvii) Innovative technologies for improving the resilience or reliability of existing energy infrastructure, including innovative approaches to improve the cybersecurity of energy technologies.

(xviii) Innovative technologies for reducing greenhouse gas emissions or carbon-capture processes, including cement and ammonia production.

(xix) Any other projects that support innovative energy technologies or provide an input or application for such technologies.

(C) COVERED COUNTRY.—The term ‘covered country’ means—

(i) the People’s Republic of China;

(ii) the Russian Federation; or

(iii) any country that—

(A) the Secretary of the Treasury designates as a covered country in a report to the Committee on Financial Services of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Development of the Senate;

(B) is not a participant in the Arrangement; and

(C) is not in substantial compliance with the financial terms and conditions of the Arrangement.

(5) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 8(c) of the Export-Import Bank Act of 1945 (12 U.S.C. 653 note) is amended—

(A) in the section heading, by striking ‘‘UNDER THE’’ and all that follows through ‘‘of the Export-Import Bank of 1945’’ and inserting ‘‘UNDER THE PRO-

(B) in the text, by striking ‘‘China’’ and inserting ‘‘the People’s Republic of China’’;

(C) in subsection (a), in the matter preceding subparagraph (A), by striking ‘‘China’’ and inserting ‘‘the People’s Republic of China’’;

(D) any other person which the Secretary of the Treasury has notified the Bank is included in any of the foregoing.

(E) Any person that has been acting or purporting to act, directly or indirectly, for or on behalf of any of the foregoing; and

(F) any other person which the Secretary of the Treasury has notified the Bank is included in any of the foregoing.

(6) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(A) ARRANGEMENT.—The term ‘Arrangement’ means the Arrangement on Officially Supported Export Credits of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development.

(B) CLEAN ENERGY, ENERGY EFFICIENCY, AND ENERGY STORAGE.—The term ‘clean energy, energy efficiency, and energy storage’ includes the following:

(i) Renewable energy systems.

(ii) Hydrogen fuel cell technology for residential, industrial, or transportation applications.

(iii) Zero-emission aircraft.

(iv) Advanced nuclear energy facilities.

(v) Carbon capture, utilization, and sequestration practices and technologies.

(vi) Efficient electrical generation, transmission, and distribution technologies.

(vii) Pollution control equipment.

(ix) Technologies and systems for reducing more potent greenhouse gas pollutants, including methane leakage from natural gas transmission and distribution infrastructure.

(x) Manufacturing and deployment of nuclear supply components for advanced nuclear reactors.

(xi) System-level energy management solutions.

(xii) Applications of platform technologies, including data analytics, artificial intelligence, and other software to improve the energy efficiency and effectiveness of energy infrastructure, including electric grid operations.

(xiv) Carbon-capture ready combined cycle plants that are supercritical or ultra-supercritical coal plants if deemed to be replacing non-supercritical coal plants supplied by a covered country and in accordance with the Arrangement.

(3) to ensure the continued operation of university research reactors.

(b) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) ADVANCED NUCLEAR REACTOR.—The term "advanced nuclear reactor" has the meaning given the term in section 961(b) of the Energy Policy Act of 2005 (42 U.S.C. 16271(b)).

(2) EPSCOR UNIVERSITY.—The term "EPSCOR university" means an institution of higher education that participates in the Established Program to Stimulate Competitive Research Federal-State partnership program to enhance the capabilities of universities to conduct sustainable and nationally competitive energy-related research administered by the Department of Energy.

(3) HISTORICALLY BLACK COLLEGE OR UNIVERSITY.—The term "historically Black college or university" has the meaning given the term in section 322 of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (29 U.S.C. 1001).

(4) INSTITUTION OF HIGHER EDUCATION.—The term "institution of higher education" has the meaning given the term in section 101(a) of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (29 U.S.C. 1001(a)).

(5) MINORITY-SERVING INSTITUTION.—The term "minority-serving institution" has the meaning given the term "minority institution" in section 365 of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 1067k).

(7) PROGRAM.—The term "program" means the University Infrastructure Revitalization Program established under subsection (c).

(8) SECRETARY.—The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of Energy.

(c) ESTABLISHMENT OF PROGRAM.—Not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall establish a program, to be known as the "University Infrastructure Revitalization Program", to promote collaborations, partnerships, and knowledge sharing between institutions of higher education, including EPSCOR universities, historically Black colleges and universities, and minority-serving institutions, National Laboratories, industry, and associated labor unions with the mission to revitalize and upgrade existing nuclear science and engineering infrastructure and develop new capabilities and expertise to support the development of advanced nuclear reactor technologies and applications.

(1) IN GENERAL.—In carrying out the program, the Secretary shall establish university-based consortia of institutions of higher education, including EPSCOR universities, historically Black colleges and universities, and minority-serving institutions.

(2) ESTABLISHMENT OF CONSORTIA.—The Secretary shall competitively award to consortia established under paragraph (1) awards—

(A) to enhance existing capabilities and establish new capabilities and expertise;

(B) to provide project management services and support, technical support, quality engineering and inspections, and nuclear material support services;

(i) existing university nuclear science and engineering programs in the United States as of the date of enactment of this Act;

(ii) new research reactors at universities in the United States as of the date of enactment of this Act; and

(iii) new and emerging nuclear science and engineering programs that are not institutions of higher education, including—

(1) EPSCOR universities;

(II) historically Black colleges and universities; and

(III) minority-serving institutions.

(f) FUNDING.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the amount authorized in section 2117(a), $50,000,000 is authorized for each of fiscal years 2022 through 2026 to carry out this section.

SEC. 1932. Mr. INHOFE (for himself, Mr. COONS, and Mr. CORNYN) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology strategy to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of title III of division F, add the following:

SEC. 234. STATEMENT OF POLICY.

"(1) It is the policy of the United States—

(A) to enhance existing capabilities and leadership of the United States with respect to the research and development of key technologies for future wireless telecommunications standards and infrastructure;

(B) to ensure the continued strength and leadership of the United States with respect to the research and development of key technologies for future wireless telecommunications standards and infrastructure; and

(C) that the national security and foreign policy of the United States requires that the importation of items that use, without a license, a claimed invention protected by a patent that is essential for the implementation of a wireless communications standard be controlled to ensure the achievement of the policies described in paragraphs (1) and (2).

"(2) DEMONSTRATION DESCRIBED.—

(A) The amendment described in paragraph (1) that the person determines that the amendment is essential for the implementation of a wireless communications standard; and

(B) that a person determined under paragraph (A) that an amendment is essential for the implementation of a wireless communications standard.

"(3) DEMONSTRATION REQUIREMENTS.—A demonstration described in paragraph (2) has been submitted to the Secretary and is held by a United States person, be controlled to ensure the achievement of the policies described in paragraphs (1) and (2).

"(4) A decision by a court or arbitral tribunal that a patent owned by the person is essential for the implementation of that standard.

"(5) A determination by an independent patent evaluator not hired by the person that a patent owned by the person is essential for the implementation of that standard.

"(6) A showing that wireless communications device manufacturers together accounting for a significant portion of the United States or world market for such devices have entered into agreements for licenses to the person's portfolio of patents that are essential for the implementation of that standard.

"(7) A showing that the person has previously granted licenses to the foreign entity described in subparagraph (A) or any of its affiliates with respect to a reasonably similar portfolio of the person's patents that are essential for the implementation of that standard.

"(8) ACCOUNTING OF WIRELESS COMMUNICATIONS DEVICE MARKET.—A showing described in subparagraph (B)(3) may be made either by including or excluding wireless communications device manufacturers that are persons of concern.

"(9) PROCEDURES.—

(A) ADDING A FOREIGN ENTITY TO THE WATCH LIST.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may add a foreign entity to the watch list under paragraph (1) only after notice and opportunity for an agency hearing conducted under clause (i) sections 554 through 557 of title 5, United States Code.

"(i) MATTERS CONSIDERED AT HEARING.—An agency hearing conducted under clause (i) sections 554 through 557 of title 5, United States Code.

"(ii) PROCEDURES.—

(A) ADDING A FOREIGN ENTITY TO THE WATCH LIST.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall add a foreign entity to the watch list under paragraph (1) only after notice and opportunity for an agency hearing conducted under clause (i) sections 554 through 557 of title 5, United States Code.

"(ii) MATTERS CONSIDERED AT HEARING.—An agency hearing conducted under clause (i) sections 554 through 557 of title 5, United States Code.

(A) ADDING A FOREIGN ENTITY TO THE WATCH LIST.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall add a foreign entity to the watch list under paragraph (1) only after notice and opportunity for an agency hearing conducted under clause (i) sections 554 through 557 of title 5, United States Code.
“(B) ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE.—Except as provided in subparagraph (A), the functions exercised under this section and section 256 shall not be subject to sections 551, 552 through 552a, 557 through 557a, 701 through 706 of title 5, United States Code.

(c) MOVEMENT BETWEEN LISTS.—A foreign entity on the watch list required by subsection (a)(1) may be moved to the list required by subsection (a), pursuant to procedures established by the Secretary, on or after the date that is one year after being included on the watch list if the foreign entity is not able to reasonably demonstrate that it has entered into a patent license agreement or a licensing, distribution agreement with such covered person that has made the demonstration described in subsection (b)(2) with respect to the entity.

(d) REMOVAL FROM LISTS.—A foreign entity on the list required by subsection (a) or on the watch list required by subsection (b)(1) may petition the Secretary to be removed from that list on the basis that the conditions that led to the inclusion of the foreign entity on the list no longer exist. The burden of proof shall be on the foreign entity.

(e) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) AFFILIATE.—The term ‘affiliate’, with respect to which the Secretary determines that—

(A) persons in the country persistently use, without obtaining a license, patents—

(i) essential to the implementation of wireless communications standards; and

(ii) held by a covered person; or

(B) that use of patents poses a threat to—

(i) the ability of the United States to protect from injury a covered United States person engaged in wireless local area network and mobile communications research and development that made the demonstration described in this paragraph is a wireless communications device—

(A) produced, sold by—

(i) a foreign entity on the watch list required by section 236(b); or

(ii) successors of such an entity; or

(iii) an affiliate of such an entity described in clause (i) or (ii); and

(B) that is claimed, labeled, marketed, or advertised as complying with a wireless communications standard; or

(ii) an ability to the extent practicable, shall coordinate with other Federal agencies to incorporate hydrogen-based systems; and

(3) PERSON OF CONCERN.—The term ‘person of concern’ means—

(A) an individual who is a citizen or national of a country on the list required by subsection (b) in any combination to which the United States is a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; and

(B) engaged in wireless communications research and development.

(4) COVERED UNITED STATES PERSON.—The term ‘covered United States person’ means a United States person engaged in wireless communications research and development in the United States.

(5) PERSON OF CONCERN.—The term ‘person of concern’ means a person that is—

(A) an individual who is a citizen or national of a country on the list in section 236(b) or in any combination to which the United States is a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; and

(B) an entity that is headquartered in, or organized under the laws of, a country that is a member of the European Union or the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; and

(5) UNITED STATES PERSON.—The term ‘United States person’ means—

(A) a covered United States person; or

(B) an affiliate of a covered United States person—

(i) headquartered in, or organized under the laws of, a country that is a member of the European Union or the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; and

(ii) engaged in wireless communications research and development.

(6) UNITED STATES PERSON.—The term ‘United States person’ means—

(A) a United States citizen or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence to the United States; or

(B) an organization, including any subsidiary of any organization, within the United States, including a foreign branch of such an entity; or

(C) any person in the United States.

(7) UNITED STATES PERSON.—The term ‘United States person’ means—

(A) a cellular wireless telecommunication service provider, including such a standard promulgated by the 3rd Generation Partnership Project 1 (commonly known as ‘3GPP’) or the 3rd Generation Partnership Project 2 (commonly known as ‘3GPP2’); or

(B) a wireless local area network standard, including such a standard designated as the ‘IEEE 802.16’ by the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (commonly known as the ‘IEEE’).

SEC. 235. IMPORT SANCTIONS FOR EXPORT VIOLATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Any foreign entity on the list required by subsection (a) or on the watch list required by subsection (b)(2) with respect to the entity that has been selling the product or service associated with hydrogen research, development, and testing platforms co-located with NASA large-scale rocket propulsion test facilities funded by NASA-based or other Federal agencies or platforms that are or may in the future be used by NASA hydrogen research, development, and testing programs.

(b) REMOVAL FROM LISTS.—A foreign entity on the list required by subsection (a) or on the watch list required by subsection (b)(2) with respect to the entity that has been selling the product or service associated with hydrogen research, development, and testing platforms co-located with NASA large-scale rocket propulsion test facilities funded by NASA-based or other Federal agencies or platforms that are or may in the future be used by NASA hydrogen research, development, and testing programs.

(c) TESTING CAPABILITIES AND PLATFORMS.—The Administrator shall consider investments in facilities, capabilities, and platforms to support a range of hydrogen systems in—

(1) space systems, including launch vehicles and spacecraft; and

(2) aeronautics research and development, including unmanned aircraft systems.

(d) RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT.—The Administrator, to the extent practicable, shall coordinate with research universities and other Federal agencies to incorporate hydrogen capabilities into research and development and testing road maps across programs.

(e) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate and the Committee on Science, Space, and Technology of the House of Representatives a report that—

(1) identifies all current and planned NASA-funded programs and public-private partnerships that involve the research, development, and testing of space exploration, space technology, and aeronautics systems using hydrogen, including propulsion systems; and

(2) describes the manner in which each such program or partnership is currently, or in the future, use NASA hydrogen research and development and testing capabilities; and

SEC. 236. HYDROGEN RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT AND TESTING.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall—

(1) establishes all current and planned NASA-funded programs and public-private partnerships that involve the research, development, and testing of space exploration, space technology, and aeronautics systems using hydrogen, including propulsion systems; and

(2) describes the manner in which each such program or partnership is currently, or in the future, use NASA hydrogen research and development and testing capabilities; and

(b) MAINTENANCE OF EXPERTISE.—The Administrator shall—

(1) identify an individual who is a citizen or national of a country on the list required by subsection (a) or on the watch list required by subsection (b)(2) with respect to the entity that has been selling the product or service associated with hydrogen research, development, and testing platforms co-located with NASA large-scale rocket propulsion test facilities funded by NASA-based or other Federal agencies or platforms that are or may in the future be used by NASA hydrogen research, development, and testing programs.

(c) TESTING CAPABILITIES AND PLATFORMS.—The Administrator shall consider investments in facilities, capabilities, and platforms to support a range of hydrogen systems in—

(1) space systems, including launch vehicles and spacecraft; and

(2) aeronautics research and development, including unmanned aircraft systems.

(d) RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT.—The Administrator, to the extent practicable, shall coordinate with research universities and other Federal agencies to incorporate hydrogen capabilities into research and development and testing road maps across programs.

(e) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate and the Committee on Science, Space, and Technology of the House of Representatives a report that—

(1) identifies all current and planned NASA-funded programs and public-private partnerships that involve the research, development, and testing of space exploration, space technology, and aeronautics systems using hydrogen, including propulsion systems; and

(2) describes the manner in which each such program or partnership is currently, or in the future, use NASA hydrogen research and development and testing capabilities; and of the fellowship or temporary rotational program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of title V of division B, insert the following:

SEC. 2528. ASSESSMENT OF EXISTING LARGE POWER TRANSFORMERS.

The Secretary of Energy shall conduct an assessment of existing large power transformers in the United States, identify Government resources that could be leveraged to enhance the domestic manufacturing of large power transformers, and identify Federal authorities needed to provide such assistance.

SA 1935. Mr. Peters submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. Schumer to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

SEC. 2116. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE FOUNDATION.

(a) FISCAL YEAR 2022.—
  (1) FOUNDATION.—There is authorized to be appropriated to the Foundation $9,000,000,000 for fiscal year 2022.
  (2) SPECIFIC NSF ALLOCATIONS.—Of the amount authorized under paragraph (1)—
    (A) $8,500,000,000 shall be made available to carry out the activities of the Foundation outside of the Directorate, of which $756,000,000 shall be for STEM education and related activities, including workforce activities under section 2202; and
    (B) $500,000,000 shall be made available to the Directorate, of which—
      (i) $180,000,000 shall be for scholarships, fellowships, and other activities under section 2106;
      (ii) $70,000,000 shall be for academic technology transfer under section 2109; and
      (iii) $200,000,000 shall be for research and development activities under section 2107 and (vi) an amount equal to 10 percent of the total made available to the Directorate under this subparagraph shall be transferred to the Foundation for collaboration with directorates and offices of the Foundation outside of the Directorate as described under section 2102(c)(7).

(b) FISCAL YEAR 2023.—
  (1) FOUNDATION.—There is authorized to be appropriated to the Foundation $11,700,000,000 for fiscal year 2023.
  (2) SPECIFIC NSF ALLOCATIONS.—Of the amount authorized under paragraph (1)—
    (A) $8,700,000,000 shall be made available to carry out the activities of the Foundation outside of the Directorate, of which $1,222,000,000 shall be for STEM education and related activities, including workforce activities under section 2202; and
    (B) $1,200,000,000 shall be made available to the Directorate, of which—
      (i) $364,000,000 shall be for scholarships, fellowships, and other activities under section 2106;
      (ii) $468,000,000 shall be for academic technology transfer under section 2109; and
      (iii) $361,000,000 shall be for academic technology transfer under section 2109; and
      (iv) $300,000,000 shall be for test beds under section 2108.

(c) FISCAL YEAR 2024.—
  (1) FOUNDATION.—There is authorized to be appropriated to the Foundation $14,700,000,000 for fiscal year 2024.
  (2) SPECIFIC NSF ALLOCATIONS.—Of the amount authorized under paragraph (1)—
    (A) $9,500,000,000 shall be made available to carry out the activities of the Foundation outside of the Directorate, of which $2,011,000,000 shall be for STEM education and related activities, including workforce activities under section 2202; and
    (B) $7,500,000,000 shall be made available to the Directorate, of which—
      (i) $2,475,000,000 shall be for the innovation centers under section 2104;
      (ii) $1,350,000,000 shall be for scholarships, fellowships, and other activities under section 2106;
      (iii) $1,050,000,000 shall be for academic technology transfer under section 2109; and
      (iv) $1,500,000,000 shall be for test beds under section 2108.

(d) FISCAL YEAR 2025.—
  (1) FOUNDATION.—There is authorized to be appropriated to the Foundation $17,000,000,000 for fiscal year 2025.
  (2) SPECIFIC NSF ALLOCATIONS.—Of the amount authorized under paragraph (1)—

(i) Any person against whom a final order under section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1337) against an offending foreign person for misappropriating a trade secret, or an indictment is issued under section 1831 or 1832 of this title against an offending foreign person for misappropriating a trade secret, the Attorney General or the head of a designated Federal agency, as applicable, may impose a penalty on the offending foreign person.

(D) EXCLUSION OF CORPORATE OFFICERS.—

(i) may not procure, or enter into a contract for the procurement of, any goods or services from the offending foreign person; and

(ii) may prohibit, pursuant to notice and opportunity for hearing provided by the Attorney General, a United States person from knowingly investing in or purchasing significant amounts of equity or debt instruments of the offending foreign person.

(ii) OTHER PENALTIES.—The Attorney General or the head of a designated Federal agency—

(iv) may impose on the offending foreign person any other penalty authorized under any provision of Federal law, as determined appropriate.

G) DURATION OF PENALTIES.—

(A) Temporary penalty.—If a court enters a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction under section 1830 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1337) against an offending foreign person for misappropriating a trade secret, the International Trade Commission issues a final exclusion order under section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1337) against an offending foreign person for misappropriating a trade secret, or an indictment is issued under section 1831 or 1832 of this title against an offending foreign person for misappropriating a trade secret, the Attorney General or the head of a designated Federal agency may impose on the offending foreign person, the Attorney General or the head of a designated Federal agency may impose on the offending foreign person, or an individual, any penalty not later than 30 days after the date of the determination.

(B) PERMANENT PENALTY.—If a court enters a permanent restraining order or preliminary injunction under section 1830 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1337) against an offending foreign person for misappropriating a trade secret, the International Trade Commission issues a final exclusion order under section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1337) against an offending foreign person for misappropriating a trade secret, or an indictment is issued under section 1831 or 1832 of this title against an offending foreign person for misappropriating a trade secret, the Attorney General or the head of a designated Federal agency may permanently impose a penalty under paragraph (1) on the foreign person.

"(3) Petition for review.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—If the Attorney General or the head of a designated Federal agency imposes a temporary penalty under paragraph (2)(A) or a permanent penalty under paragraph (2)(B) on an offending foreign person, the offending foreign person may submit to the Attorney General or the head of the designated Federal agency a petition for a revocation or modification of the penalty.

"(B) CONTENTS OF PETITION.—

"(i) In General.—An offending foreign person may, in a petition submitted under subparagraph (A), propose remedial steps that would negate the basis for the penalty.

"(C) DETERMINATION.—The Attorney General or the head of a designated Federal agency, as applicable, shall make a determination with respect to a petition submitted under subparagraph (A).

"(d) REPORT.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this section, and each year thereafter, the Attorney General, in coordination with the head of each designated Federal agency, shall submit to the Committee on the Judiciary of the Senate and the Committee on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives a report that—

"(A) with respect to the preceding year—

"(i) identifies foreign countries, state-owned and state-controlled entities, and other persons that engaged in the misappropriation of trade secrets owned by United States persons;

"(ii) describes any strategy used by a foreign country to undertake misappropriation of trade secrets owned by United States persons;

"(iii) identifies categories of technologies developed by trade secrets owned by United States persons that were targeted for misappropriation;

"(iv) lists legal actions taken under section 1030 of this title, section 357 of the Trade Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1337), or section 1831 or 1832 of this title—

"(I) against an offending foreign person who misappropriated a trade secret owned by a United States person; and

"(II) as a result of which the products of the offending foreign person described in subclause (I) may never enter the United States; and

"(v) describes progress made in decreasing the prevalence of misappropriation of trade secrets owned by United States persons; and

"(B) recommends strategies to the Committee on the Judiciary of the Senate and the Committee on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives to decrease the misappropriation by foreign persons of trade secrets owned by United States persons.

"(2) FORM OF REPORT.—A report submitted under paragraph (1) shall be classified but may contain a classified annex.

"(2) TABLE OF SECTIONS.—The table of sections for chapter 90 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

"TITLE III—COMBATING CYBERCRIME

"(2) in section 1961(1), by inserting ‘‘section 1030 (relating to fraud and related activity in connection with computers) if the act indictable under section 1030 is felonious,’’ before ‘‘section 1084’’.

SEC. 7303. FORFEITURE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 2513 of title 18, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 2513. CONFISCATION OF WIRE, ORAL, OR ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION INTERCEPTING DEVICES AND OTHER PROPERTY.

"(a) CRIMINAL FORFEITURE.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—In cases where the court, in imposing a sentence on any person convicted of a violation of section 2511 or 2512, or of conspiracy to violate section 2511 or 2512, shall order as a condition of the sentence imposed and irrespective of any provision of State law, that such person forfeit to the United States—

"(A) a person’s interest in any property, real or personal, that was used or intended to be used to commit the offense or to facilitate the commission of such violation; and

"(B) any property, real or personal, constituting or derived from any gross proceeds, or any property traceable to such property, that such person obtained or retained directly or indirectly as a result of such violation.

"(2) FORFEITURE PROCEDURES.—Pursuant to section 2461(c) of title 28, the provisions of sections 46501, 46502, 46504, and 46505 of title 28 (21 U.S.C. 853), other than subsection (d) thereof, shall apply to criminal forfeitures under this subsection.

"(b) CIVIL FORFEITURE.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—The following shall be subject to forfeiture to the United States in accordance with provisions of chapter 46 and no property right shall exist in them:—

"(A) Any property, real or personal, used or intended to be used, in any manner, to commit, or to facilitate the commission of a violation of section 2511 or 2512, or in connection with or as a result of a violation of section 2511 or 2512, or a conspiracy to violate section 2511 or 2512.

"(B) Any property, real or personal, constituting, or traceable to the gross proceeds taken, obtained, or retained in connection with or as a result of a violation of section 2511 or 2512, or a conspiracy to violate section 2511 or 2512.

"(2) FORFEITURE PROCEDURES.—Seizures and forfeitures under this subsection shall be governed by the provisions of chapter 46 relating to civil forfeitures, except that such duties shall be performed by the Secretary of Homeland Security or the Attorney General.

"(b) Technical and conforming amendment.—The table of sections for chapter 119 is amended by striking the item relating to section 2513 and inserting the following:

"2513. Confiscation of wire, oral, or electronic communication intercepting devices and other property.

SEC. 7304. SHUTTING DOWN BOTNETS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1345 of title 18, United States Code, is amended—

"(1) in the heading, by inserting ‘‘and abuse’’ after ‘‘fraud’’;

"(2) in subsection (a) (A) in paragraph (1)—

"(i) by striking ‘‘or’’ at the end thereof;

"(ii) in subparagraph (C), by inserting ‘‘or’’ after the semicolon; and

"(iii) by inserting after subparagraph (C) the following:

"(D) by striking any or about to violate section 1030(a)(5) of this title where such conduct has caused or would cause damage (as defined in section 1030) without authorization to 100 or more protected computers (as defined in section 1030) during any 1-year period, including by

"(i) impairing the availability or integrity of the protected computers without authorization; or

"(ii) installing or maintaining control over multiple software or hardware protected computers that, without authorization, has caused or would cause damage to the protected computers;’’ and

"(b) in paragraph (2), in the matter preceding subparagraph (A), by inserting ‘‘a violation described in subsection (a)(1)(D),’’ before ‘‘or a Federal’’; and

"(3) by adding at the end the following:

"(C) A restraining order, prohibition, or other action described in subsection (b), if issued in circumstances described in subsection (a)(1)(D), may, upon application of the Attorney General—

"(i) specify that no cause of action shall lie in any court against a person for complying with the restraining order, prohibition, or other action; and

"(ii) provide that the United States shall pay to such person a fee for reimbursement for costs as are reasonably necessary and which have been directly incurred in complying with the restraining order, prohibition, or other action.

"(2) Technical and conforming amendment.—The table of sections for chapter 63 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by striking the item relating to section 1345 and inserting the following:

"1345. Injunctions against fraud and abuse.’’.

SEC. 7305. AGGRAVATED DAMAGE TO A CRITICAL INFRASTRUCTURE COMPUTER.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 47 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 1090 the following:

"1035A. Aggravated damage to a critical infrastructure computer.

"(1) OFFENSE.—It shall be unlawful, during and in relation to a felony violation of section 1030, to cause damage to a critical infrastructure computer, if such damage results in (or, in the case of an attempted offense, would, if completed, have resulted in) the substantial impairment—

"(i) of the operation of the critical infrastructure computer; or

"(ii) of the critical infrastructure associated with such computer.

"(b) PENALTY.—Any person who violates subsection (a) shall, in addition to the term of punishment provided for the felony violation of section 1030, be imprisoned for not more than 20 years, or both.
"(c) Consecutive Sentence.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law—

(1) a court shall not place any person convicted of a violation of this section on probation;

(2) except as provided in paragraph (4), no term of imprisonment on a person under this section shall run concurrently with any other sentence of imprisonment imposed on the person under any other provision of law, including any term of imprisonment imposed for the felony violation of section 1030;

(3) determining any term of imprisonment to be imposed for the felony violation of section 1030, a court shall not in any way reduce the term to be imposed for such violation of this section or any other provision of law, or otherwise take into account, any separate term of imprisonment imposed or to be imposed for a violation of this section; and

(4) a term of imprisonment imposed on a person for a violation of this section may, in the discretion of the court, run concurrently, in whole or in part, only with another term of imprisonment that is imposed by the court at the same time on that person for an additional violation of this section, if such discretion shall be exercised in accordance with the guidelines and policy statements issued by the United States Sentencing Commission pursuant to section 994 of title 28.

"(d) Definitions.—In this section—

(1) the terms ‘computer’ and ‘damage’ have the meanings given the terms in section 1030; and

(2) the term ‘critical infrastructure’ means systems and assets, whether physical or virtual, so vital to the United States that the incapacity or destruction of such systems and assets would have catastrophic regional or national effects on public health or safety, economic security, or national security, including voter registration databases, voting machines, and other communications systems that manage the election process or report and display results on behalf of State and local governments.

(b) Bill of Sales.—The table of sections for chapter 47 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 1030 the following:

‘‘1030A. Aggravated damage to a critical infrastructure computer.’’

SEC. 7306. STOPPING TRAFFICKING IN BOTNETS; FRAUD AND RELATED ACTIVITY IN CRYPTOGRAPHY WITH COMPUTERS.

(a) In General.—Section 1010 of title 18, United States Code, is amended—

(1) in subsection (a)—

(1) by striking paragraph (2) and inserting the following:

‘‘(2)(A) intentionally accesses a computer without authorization or exceeds authorized access, and thereby obtains information, if—

(i) the conduct was undertaken in furtherance of any felony violation of the laws of the United States or of any State, unless an election violation would require proof that the information was obtained without authorization or in excess of authorization; or

(ii) the protected computer is owned or operated by or on behalf of the United States Government; or

(B) intentionally accesses a computer without authorization, and thereby obtains information from any protected computer;’’;

(2) by striking paragraph (6) and inserting the following:

‘‘(6) knowing such conduct to be wrongful, intentionally traffics in any password or similar information, or any other means of access, further knowing or having reason to know that a protected computer would be accessed or damaged without authorization in a manner prohibited by this section as the result of such trafficking;’’;

(C) by striking paragraph (7), by adding ‘‘or’’ at the end; and

(D) by inserting after paragraph (7) the following:

‘‘(8) intentionally traffics in the means of access to a protected computer, if—

(A) the trafficker knows or has reason to know the protected computer has been damaged in a manner prohibited by this section; and

(B) the promise or agreement to pay for the means of access, or on behalf of, a person the trafficker knows or has reason to know intends to use the means of access to—

(i) damage a protected computer without authorization; or

(ii) violate section 1037 or 1433;’’;

(2) in subsection (c)—

(A) by striking ‘‘(a)(3), or (a)(6)’’ each place it appears and inserting ‘‘or (a)(3);’’;

(i) in subparagraph (C)(i), by striking ‘‘or an attempt to commit an offense’’; and

(ii) in subparagraph (D), by striking clause (i) and inserting the following:

‘‘(ii) an offense, or an attempt to commit an offense, under subsection (a)(6);’’;

(3) in subsection (e)—

(A) by striking paragraph (6) and inserting the following:

‘‘(6) the term ‘exceeds authorized access’ means—

(A)(i) to access a computer with authorization and thereby to knowingly obtain information from such computer that the accessor is not entitled to obtain; or

(ii) to knowingly obtain any information from such computer for a purpose that is prohibited by the computer owner; and

(B) provided that the limitation on access to the use of the information is not based solely on the terms and conditions of use of an online service by customers or subscribers thereof, including terms set forth in an acceptable use policy service;’’;

(B) by striking paragraph (10);

(C) by redesignating paragraphs (11) and (12) as paragraphs (10) and (11), respectively; and

(D) in paragraph (10), as so redesignated, by striking ‘‘and’’;

(E) in paragraph (11), as so redesignated, by striking the period at the end and inserting a semicolon;

(F) by adding at the end the following:

‘‘(12) the term ‘online service’—

(A) means an electronic communication service (as defined in section 2120) to the public, a remote computing service (as defined in section 2711), or other service that provides content or computing services to the public over the Internet; and

(B) does not include an enterprise service;’’;

(C) the term ‘enterprise service’ means any electronic communication service (as defined in section 2120) to the public, remote computing service (as defined in section 2711), or other service that provides content or computing services to the public for the purpose of, or on whose behalf has been paid, more than $10,000 in a calendar year in exchange for the right to access or use the service; and

(D) in paragraph (9) as so amended, by striking ‘‘or’’ after ‘‘and’’.

(b) T ECHNICAL AND CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Section 7431(e)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by striking ‘‘subparagraph (B)’’ and inserting ‘‘subparagraph (B)(iii)’’.

TITLE IV—ESPiOOnGE, THEFT OF TRADE SECRETS, AND IMPROPER INTERFERENCE IN UNITED STATES ELECTIONS

SEC. 7401. ESPiOOnGE, THEFT OF TRADE SECRETS, THEFT OF INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY, INVIOLATION IN COMMERCIAL FRAUD SCHEMES, AND IMPROPER INTERFERENCE IN UNITED STATES ELECTIONS.

(a) Definitions.—Section 101(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

‘‘(3) (A) The term ‘espionage’ means conduct—

(i) in violation of—

(I) the Act of June 15, 1917 (40 Stat. 217, chapter 30) (commonly known as the ‘Espionage Act of 1917’); or

(II) the Espionage Act of 1917 (40 Stat. 217, chapter 30) (commonly known as the ‘Espionage Act of 1917’); or

(II) section (a)(6),’’ after ‘‘of this section’’; and

(5) by striking subsections (i) and (j) and inserting the following:

‘‘(5) CIVIL FORFEITURE.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—The court, in imposing a sentence on any person convicted of a violation of this section, or convicted of conspiracy to violate this section, shall order, in addition to any other sentence imposed and irrespective of any provision of State law, that such person forfeit to the United States—

(A) such person’s interest in any property, real or personal, that was used or intended to be used to commit or to facilitate the commission of such violation; and

(B) any property, real or personal, constituting or derived from any gross proceeds, or any property traceable to such property, that such person obtained or retained, directly or indirectly, as a result of such violation.

(ii) FORFEITURE PROCEDURES.—Pursuant to section 2461(c) of title 28, the provisions of section 413 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 833), other than subsection (d) thereof, shall apply to civil forfeitures under this subsection.

(j) CIVIL FORFEITURE.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—The following shall be subject to forfeiture to the United States in accordance with chapter 46, and no property right shall exist in them:

(A) Any property, real or personal, used or intended to be used, in any manner—

(i) to commit, or facilitate the commission of, a violation of this section; or

(ii) in a conspiracy to violate this section.

(B) Any property, real or personal, constituting or traceable to the gross proceeds taken, obtained, or retained in connection with or as a result of—

(i) a violation of this section; or

(ii) a conspiracy to violate this section.

(ii) FORFEITURE PROCEDURES.—Seizures and forfeitures under this subsection shall be governed by the provisions of chapter 46 that apply to civil forfeitures, except that such duties as are imposed on the Secretary of the Treasury under the customs laws described in section 6001(d)(1) shall be performed by such officers, agents, and other persons as may be designated for that purpose by the Secretary of Homeland Security or the Attorney General.

(b) TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 7431(e)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by striking ‘‘subparagraph (B)’’ and inserting ‘‘subparagraph (B)(iii)’’.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — SENATE
(II) Espionage and theft of trade secrets.—An alien is inadmissible if a consular officer, the Secretary of Homeland Security, the Secretary of State, or the Attorney General knows, or has reasonable grounds to believe—

(i) the alien is seeking admission or sought admission to the United States to engage in espionage or theft of a trade secret; or

(ii) the alien has engaged or intends to engage in espionage or theft of a trade secret.

(D) Improper interference in a United States election.—Any alien who has engaged, or at any time after admission engages in espionage or theft of a trade secret is deportable.

(9) Improper interference in a United States election.—Any alien who has engaged, is engaged, or at any time after admission engages in espionage or theft of a trade secret is deportable.

(3) Termination of status.—

(A) In general.—With respect to an alien who is a citizen or national of the People’s Republic of China who has been admitted to the United States in accordance with subparagraph (F) of section 101(a)(15), the Secretary of Homeland Security shall terminate the status and employment authorization of, and revoke any petition approval of or on behalf of, the alien if the Secretary determines that after such admission the alien—

(i) has engaged in an activity or affiliation that presents a risk to national security;

(ii) has changed his or her program, course of study, research, or employment to graduate-level coursework or research at an institution of higher education described in paragraph (2);

(iii) has engaged, is engaged, or at any time after admission engages in espionage or theft of a trade secret; or

(B) Failure to maintain nonimmigrant status.—Any alien who has been admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant described in subparagraph (F), (J), or (M) of section 101(a)(15), the Secretary of Homeland Security shall terminate the status and employment authorization of, and revoke any petition approval of or on behalf of, the alien if the Secretary determines that after such admission the alien—

(i) has engaged in a activity or affiliation that presents a risk to national security;

(ii) has changed his or her program, course of study, research, or employment to graduate-level coursework or research at an institution of higher education described in paragraph (2).

(4) Inapplicability to nationals of Hong Kong and Macau.—This subsection shall not apply to any national of Hong Kong or Macau.

(C) Application.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to—

(1) any visa application filed on or after the date of the enactment of this Act, has been or is admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant described in subparagraph (F), (J), or (M) of section 101(a)(15), the Secretary of Homeland Security shall terminate the status and employment authorization of, and revoke any petition approval of or on behalf of, the alien if the Secretary determines that after such admission the alien—

(i) has engaged in an activity or affiliation that presents a risk to national security;

(ii) has changed his or her program, course of study, research, or employment to graduate-level coursework or research at an institution of higher education described in paragraph (2).

(b) Nonadmissibility.—Section 212(a)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(3)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(3) The term ‘espionage’ includes economic espionage.

(4) The term ‘improper interference in a United States election’ means conduct by an alien that—

(I) violates Federal criminal, voting rights, or campaign finance law; or

(ii) with respect to a trade secret relating to—

(II) an intermediary individual or entity that seeks to serve, support, or benefit a foreign government; and

(B) interferes with a general or primary Federal, State, or local election or caucus, including—

(a) the campaign of a candidate; and

(b) a ballot measure, including—

(I) an amendment;

(ii) a bond issue;

(iii) an initiative;

(iv) a recall;

(v) a referendum; and

(vi) a referendum.

(5) The term ‘theft of a trade secret’ means conduct—

(A) in violation of—

(i) chapter 98 of title 18, United States Code (commonly known as the ‘Economic Espionage Act of 1996’); or

(ii) any other Federal criminal law relating to an activity described in subparagraph (B) or (C); or

(B) by an alien who is under the direction of—

(I) a foreign government;

(ii) an intermediary individual or entity that seeks to serve, support, or benefit a foreign government; and

(iii) an intermediary individual or entity that seeks to serve, support, or benefit a foreign government;

(6) with respect to a trade secret relating to a product or service used or intended for use in interstate or foreign commerce, that constitutes—

(I) stealing or, without authorization, appropriating, taking, carrying away, concealing, or, by fraud, artifice, or deception, obtaining such trade secret for the economic benefit of any person other than the owner of the trade secret;

(II) without authorization, copying, duplicating, sketching, drawing, photographing, downloading, altering, destroying, photocopying, replicating, transmitting, delivering, sending, mailing, communicating, or conveying such trade secret; or

(III) possessing the trade secret, knowing that the trade secret has been stolen or appropriated, obtained, or converted without authorization.

(b) Inadmissibility.—Section 212(a)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(3)) is amended by adding at the end the following:
title v—government-funded high-tech projects
sec. 7501. findings.

(1) The People’s Republic of China (referred to in this subsection as the “PRC”) or “China”) poses an existential threat to the United States. The PRC, in conjunction with the People’s Liberation Army (commonly known as the “PLA”), has a comprehensive national power, including an advanced military, military authorities, science and technology, education, and global influence.

(2) The PRC, through the Chinese Communist Party (referred to in this subsection as the “CCP”), has long had an interest in replacing the United States as the world’s foremost superpower. China takes a holistic approach towards achieving its long-term goals, which are rooted in the concept of a comprehensive national power, including achieving dominance in economics, military affairs, science and technology, education, and global influence.

(3) A range of forms of espionage serve as primary tools to further the goals of the CCP. Those tools include talent recruitment programs designed to recruit Chinese nationals to acquire knowledge about—and, often, steal—valuable and sensitive research at universities and research institutions abroad, and to lure foreign experts to China to work on key strategic programs. More broadly, the PRC uses mergers and acquisitions or joint ventures as a means to gain access to high-level technology, uses cyber intrusions to steal information, and uses front companies for PRC-related entities to acquire export-controlled technology.

(4) In January 2020, Xi Jinping of the PRC released the “Made in China 2025 initiative,” a 10-year plan to update the manufacturing base of China by developing the following 10 high-tech industries:

(A) Electric cars and other new energy vehicles.

(B) Next-generation information technology and telecommunications.

(C) Advanced robotics and artificial intelligence.

(D) Aerospace equipment.

(E) Traditional medicines and high-end medical equipment.

(F) Ocean engineering equipment and high-end vessels.

(G) High-end rail transportation equipment.

(H) Electrical equipment.

(I) Farming machines.

(J) New materials, such as polymers.

In attempting to overtake the United States and achieve its Made in China 2025 goals, China has systematically sought to identify U.S. advanced innovation, education, and technology that could be replicated, stolen, or appropriated.

(5) The very nature of the open society of the United States’ free market economy that incentivizes creativity and ingenuity and promotes the free flow of capital and ideas, a higher education system and scientific community that is seen as the envy of the world, and collaboration domestically and internationally, and a liberal democratic government that lacks a top-down, authoritarian structure, are all incentives for the PRC to target the United States in ways that are either not adequately protected or not even anticipated as possible threats.

(6) The Federal Bureau of Investigation has assessed that “there’s no country that’s even close” to the PRC when it comes to foreign espionage, in traditional or nontraditional forms.

(7) As the 2018 Foreign Economic Espionage in Cyberspace report of the National Counterintelligence and Security Center (commonly known as the “NCSCI”) stated, China has expansive efforts in place to acquire United States technology, including through espionage. China’s technology acquisition efforts include the nontraditional espionage, trade secret theft, obstacles to protecting trademarks, online piracy and counterfeiting, the high-volume manufacturing and export of counterfeit goods, and impediments to pharmaceutical innovation.

(8) The theft of intellectual property, trade secrets, sensitive technology, and scientific and other academic research all contribute to China’s goal of achieving preeminent superpower status. China’s failure to respect intellectual property rights, failure to adhere to the rule of law, and efforts to obtain intellectual property, trade secrets, technology, and research through improper or illicit methods portend a significant economic and national security threat to the United States.

(9) In recent years, China has increased its use of nontraditional espionage to target colleges and universities in the United States, particularly with respect to cutting edge research and technologies being developed by American universities using technology that has military applications.

(10) The universities of the United States provide fertile ground for nontraditional espionage, and, as a result, must take measures to ensure that China is not able to use academic collaboration to steal United States intellectual property or engage in other activities that harm the national security of the United States.

(11) While the United States benefits from attracting the top research talent from around the world, universities nevertheless must take action to ensure that China is not able to use academic collaboration domestically and internationally, and a liberal democratic government that lacks a top-down, authoritarian structure—features for the PRC to target the United States in ways that are either not adequately protected or not even anticipated as possible threats.

(12) The Counterintelligence and Security Center at the Department of Justice highlight China’s pervasive and illicit networks and programs, including sending United States documents and information to China.
In February 2017 of 1 count of conspiracy to steal trade secrets, 1 count of conspiracy to commit interstate transportation of stolen property, and 1 count of interstate transportation of stolen property.

(16) It remains a national security priority for the United States to protect the research and innovation developed in United States universities and laboratories from misappropriation by any country, including the PRC.

SEC. 7502. DEFINITIONS.

In this title:

(1) AGENCY HEAD.—The term "agency head", with respect to a covered research project, means the head of the covered agency providing the funding for the covered research project.

(2) COVERED AGENCY.—The term "covered agency" means—

(A) the Department of Defense;

(B) the Department of Energy; and

(C) an element of the intelligence community, as defined in section 3 of the National Security Act of 1947 (50 U.S.C. 3001).

(3) COVERED COUNTRY.—The term "covered country" means—

(A) the People’s Republic of China; and

(B) any other country designated by the Director, based on findings similar to the findings under subsection (a), which shall include consideration of—

(i) whether the country poses an existential threat to the economic interests and national security of the United States;

(ii) whether the country engages in persistent efforts to steal sensitive technology and proprietary information from companies, academic institutions, and other organizations of the United States through economic espionage and other forms of non-traditional espionage;

(iii) whether nontraditional forms of espionage serve as primary tools to further the goals of the country;

(iv) whether the nontraditional forms of espionage described in clause (iii) include—

(I) talent recruitment programs designed to recruit the country’s nationals to acquire knowledge about—and, often, steal—valuable and sensitive research at universities and research institutions abroad;

(II) luring foreign experts to the country to work on key strategic programs;

(III) using mergers and acquisitions or joint ventures as a means to gain access to high-level technology;

(IV) using cyber intrusions to steal information by and for others; and

(V) using front companies for state-affiliated entities to acquire export-controlled technology;

(b) PENALTY.—If an agency head determines appropriate, except any information pertaining to United States persons that the agency head is prohibited by law from collecting.

(c) APPROVAL OF COVERED PERSONS IN SENSITIVE GOVERNMENT-FUNDED RESEARCH PROJECTS.

(1) IN GENERAL.—A covered person may not participate in a covered research project unless the covered person applies for and receives approval from the agency head to participate.

(2) REQUIREMENTS.—An agency head may not approve a covered person to participate in a covered research project unless the agency head—

(A) performs a background check on the covered person in consultation with the Director; and

(B) collects any other relevant information about the covered person that the agency head determines appropriate, except any information that the agency head is prohibited by law from collecting.

(d) PENALTY.—If an agency head determines that a covered person in a covered research project commenced on the date of enactment of this section has violated subsection (a), the agency head may impose a period, not to exceed 6 months, on the head of the project or the project:

(1) reduce, limit, or eliminate the funding for the project until the violation is remedied;

(2) require that the project continue only if the covered person complies with the requirements of this section.

(e) DIRECTOR.—The term "Director" means the Director of National Intelligence.

SEC. 7504. DISCLOSURE OF RESEARCH ASSISTANCE FROM FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS.

(1) DEFINITIONS.—In this section—

(A) the term "foreign country" means—

(i) an item subject to the Export Control Reform Act of 2018 (20 U.S.C. 4801 et seq.); or

(ii) an item listed on the Commerce Control List of National Intelligence; or

(f) P OLYCÉNTRIC RESEARCH PROJECT.—The term ‘‘polycentric research project’’ means a research project at an institution of higher education of—

(A) a covered country; and

(B) a political party within a covered country;

(C) a person who acts as an agent, representative, employee, or servant of a covered country;

(D) a person who acts in any other capacity at the order or request, or under the direction or control, of a covered country.

(2) COVERED RESEARCH PROJECT.—The term ‘‘covered research project’’ means a research project at an institution of higher education of—

(A) that is funded in whole or in part by a covered agency; and

(B) the subject of which is—

SEC. 2510. COUNTRY OF ORIGIN LABELING ON PRODUCTS.

(a) MANDATORY ORIGIN AND LOCATION DISCLOSURE FOR PRODUCTS OFFERED FOR SALE ON THE INTERNET.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—

(A) DISCLOSURE.—It shall be unlawful for a product that is required to be marked under section 304 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1304) or its implementing regulations to be introduced, sold, advertised, or offered for sale in commerce on an internet website unless the internet website description of the product:

(i) indicates in a conspicuous place the country of origin of the product (or, in the case of multi-sourced products, countries of origin), in a manner consistent with the regulations promulgated by the Commission pursuant to section 5 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1304) and the country of origin marking regulations administered by U.S. Customs and Border Protection; and

(ii) includes, in the case of—

(A) a new passenger motor vehicle (as defined in section 32304 of title 49, United States Code), the country of origin disclosure required by such clause;

(B) a textile fiber product (as defined in section 2 of the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act (15 U.S.C. 70b)), the country of origin disclosure required by such Act;

(c) the term ‘institution of higher education’ has the meaning given the term in section 101 of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 1001), the country of origin disclosure required by such Act;

(cc) a wool product (as defined in section 2 of the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1909 (15 U.S.C. 68)), the country of origin disclosure required by such Act;

(dd) a fur product (as defined in section 2 of the Fur Products Labeling Act (15 U.S.C. 69)), the country of origin disclosure required by such Act; and

(ee) a covered commodity (as defined in section 2321 of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (7 U.S.C. 138b)), the country of origin information required by section 232 of such Act (7 U.S.C. 138ba); and

(ii) indicates in a conspicuous place the country in which the seller of the product is located (and, if applicable, the country in which any foreign corporation of such seller is located).

(B) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENT.—The disclosure of a product's country of origin required pursuant to subparagraph (A)(i) shall not be considered to be in violation of section 503(b)(1) of the Tariff Act of 1930, if the manufacturer, importer, or private labeler provides the information identified in subsection (a)(2)(A) to the consumer that the product is in whole, or in part, of United States origin, unless such disclosure and marking requirements under subparagraphs (i) and (ii) or paragraph (2), as applicable, include the country of origin and seller information provided by a third-party manufacturer, distributor, seller, or private labeler to the retailer or internet website marketplace for a product is false or deceptive, the retailer or internet website marketplace shall not be required to disclose such false or deceptive information and shall be deemed to meet the disclosure requirements under paragraphs (1) and (ii) paragraph (2), as applicable, for that product.

(b) PROHIBITION ON FALSE AND MISLEADING REPRESENTATION OF UNITED STATES ORIGIN ON PRODUCTS.—

(1) UNFAIR OR DECEPTIVE ACTS OR PRACTICES.—A violation of subsection (a) or (b) shall be treated as a violation of a rule prescribed under section 18(a)(1)(B) of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 57(a)(1)(B)).

(2) POWERS AND DUTIES.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Commission shall enforce this section in the same manner, by the same means, and with the same jurisdiction, powers, and duties as though the terms and provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 41 et seq.) were incorporated into and made a part of this section.

be subject to the penalties and entitled to the privileges and immunities provided in the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 41 et seq.) as though all applicable terms and provisions of that Act were incorporated and made part of this section.

(C) Authority preserved.—Nothing in this section may be construed to limit the authority of the Commission under any other provision of law.

(3) Interagency Agreement.—Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this division, the Commission, the U.S. Customs and Border Protection, and the Department of Agriculture shall—

(A) enter into a Memorandum of Understanding or appropriate agreement for the purpose of providing consistent implementation of this section; and

(B) publish such agreement to provide public guidance.

(4) Definition of Commission.—In this subsection, the term "Commission" means the Federal Trade Commission.

(d) Effective Date.—This section shall take effect 9 months after the date of the publication of the Memorandum of Understanding or agreement under subsection (c).

SA 1948. Mr. HALEY submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment S 1948 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of title I of division F, insert the following:

Subtitle D—Slave-Free Business Certification Act of 2021

SEC. 6131. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the "Slave-Free Business Certification Act of 2021".

SEC. 6132. REQUIRED REPORTING ON USE OF FORCED LABOR FROM COVERED BUSINESS ENTITIES.

(a) Definitions.—In this subtitle:

(1) Covered business entity.—The term "covered business entity" means any issuer, as that term is defined in section 2(a) of the Securities Act of 1933 (15 U.S.C. 77a(a)), that has annual, worldwide gross receipts that exceed $500,000,000.

(i) the sale or exchange of property; and

(ii) the performance of services; or

(iii) the use of property or capital; and

(b) does not include—

(i) repayment, maturity, or redemption of the principal of a—

(I) loan;

(II) bond;

(III) mutual fund;

(iv) certificate of deposit; or

(v) similar marketable instrument;

(ii) proceeds to—

(I) the issuance of a company's own stock; or

(ii) the sale of treasury stock;

(iii) amounts received as the result of litigation, including damages;

(iv) property acquired by an agent on behalf of another party;

(v) Federal, State, or local tax refunds or other tax benefit recoveries;

(vi) certain contributions to capital;

(vii) income from discharge of indebtedness; or

(viii) amounts realized from exchanges of inventory that are not recognized under the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) On-site service provider.—The term "on-site service provider" means any entity performing different tasks, and members of both sexes and different races, in the facilities of a covered business entity, to employees, in order to mitigate risks within the supply chain of products and on-site services of the covered business entity's direct suppliers and employees, including management personnel, of the covered business entity who have direct responsibility for supply chain management or on-site services.

(d) Secretary.—The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of Labor.

(e) Audit and reporting requirements.—

(1) In general.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, and every year thereafter, each covered business entity shall—

(A) conduct an audit of its supply chain, pursuant to the requirements of section 6133, to investigate the presence or use of forced labor by the covered business entity or its suppliers, including by direct suppliers, secondary suppliers, and on-site service providers of the covered business entity;

(B) submit a report to the Secretary containing the information described in paragraph (2) on the results of such audit and efforts of the covered business entity to eradicate forced labor from the supply chain and on-site services of the covered business entity; and

(C)(i) publish the report described in subparagraph (B) on the public website of the covered business entity, and provide a clearly visible link to the report on the homepage of the website that leads to the report; or

(ii) if the information is not published on the public website of the covered business entity, provide a copy of such report to the Secretary.

(2) Required report contents.—Each report required under paragraph (1) shall contain, at a minimum—

(A) a disclosure of the covered business entity's policies to prevent the use of forced labor by the covered business entity, its direct suppliers, and its on-site service providers;

(B) a disclosure of what policies or procedures, if any, the covered business entity uses—

(i) to prevent forced labor;

(ii) to prevent the recruitment of forced labor;

(iii) to ensure that workers are paid at least the minimum wage and overtime compensation for all hours worked;

(iv) to provide training for workers on the risks of forced labor;

(v) to provide training for workers on the risks of human trafficking;

(vi) to provide training for workers on the rights of workers;

(vii) to provide training for workers on the rights of workers;

(viii) to provide training for workers on the rights of workers;

(B) use audit tools to ensure that each on-site service provider conducts an audit of its own work;

(C) collect from interviewed workers copies of contracts containing wage and hour information, as well as other information relevant to the audit;

(D) conduct interviews with workers and employees of the covered business entity, to employees, in order to mitigate risks within the supply chain of products and on-site services of the covered business entity's direct suppliers and employees, including management personnel, of the covered business entity who have direct responsibility for supply chain management or on-site services; and

(E) collect from interviewed workers copies of contracts containing wage and hour information, as well as other information relevant to the audit.

(f) Secretary's findings.—

(1) In general.—If the Secretary finds in any report submitted to the Secretary that the covered business entity has failed to—

(i) conduct an audit as required by subsection (a); or

(ii) provide the information described in subsection (e)(2);

the Secretary shall—

(A) order the covered business entity to conduct an audit as required by subsection (a); or

(B) provide the information described in subsection (e)(2); and

(2) Limitation on enforcement.—Nothing in this section shall preclude the Secretary from taking any enforcement action under this Act or any other provision of this title, including—

(A) seeking injunctive relief; and

(B) seeking to enforce any other provision of this title.

(g) Prohibition of liability.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to create civil liability for failure to conduct audits as required by this Act, or for failure to report the results of such audits, except as provided in subsection (e)(2).

(h) Congressional review.—The provisions of this section were incorporated and made part of this Act.

SEC. 6133. AUDIT REQUIREMENTS.

(a) In General.—Each audit conducted under subsection 6132(b)(1)(A) shall meet the following requirements:

(1) Worker Interviews.—The auditor shall—

(A) select a cross-section of workers to interview that represents the full diversity of the workplace, and includes, if applicable, men and women, migrant workers and local workers, workers on different shifts, workers performing different tasks, and members of various production teams;

(B) if individuals under the age of 18 are employed at the facility of the Ohio supply chain, interview at least one worker as required by subparagraphs (B) and (C); and

(C) conduct interviews—

(i) on-site and, particularly in cases where there are indications of egregious violations about which employees may hesitate to discuss work, off-site of the facility and during non-work hours; and

(ii) individually or in groups (except for purposes of subparagraph (B));

(ii) ensure that each worker is asked a comprehensive set of questions;

(b) Collect from interviewed workers copies of the workers' pay stubs in order to compare the pay stubs with payment records provided by the direct supplier;
(F) ensure that all worker responses are confidential and are never shared with management; and

(G) interview a representative of the labor organization, if applicable, who is a protective organization that represents workers at the facility or, if no such organization is present, attempt to interview a representative from a local union, if available.

(2) MANAGEMENT INTERVIEWS.—The auditor shall—

(A) interview a cross-section of the management, including collective bargaining representative employees, and management of the supplier, including human resources personnel, production supervisors, and others; and

(B) use audit tools to ensure that managers are asked a comprehensive set of questions.

(3) DOCUMENTATION REVIEW.—The auditor shall—

(A) conduct a documentation review to provide tangible proof of compliance and to corroborate or find discrepancies in the information gathered through the worker and management interviews; and

(B) review, at a minimum, the following types of documents:

(i) Age verification procedures and documents.

(ii) Attestation list of juvenile workers.

(iii) Selection and recruitment procedures.

(iv) Contracts with labor brokers, if any.

(v) Worker contracts and employment agreements.

(vi) Introduction program materials.

(vii) Personnel files.

(viii) Employee communication and training plans, including certifications provided to workers including skills training, worker preparedness, government certification programs, and systems or policy orientations.

(ix) Collective bargaining agreements, including collective bargaining representative certifications, descriptions of the role of the labor organization, and minutes of the labor organization’s meetings.

(x) Contracts with any security agency, and descriptions of the scope of responsibilities of the security agency.

(xi) Payroll and time records.

(xiv) Occupational health and safety plans and records including legal permits, maintenance and monitoring records, injury and accident reports, investigation procedures, chemical inventories, personal protective equipment inventories, training certificates, and evacuation plans.

(xv) Disciplinary notices.

(xvii) Performance evaluations.

(xviii) Written human resources policies and procedures.

(3) Summary of Findings.—At the end of the audit, the auditor shall—

(A) a disclosure of the direct supplier’s or on-site service provider’s—

(i) documented processes and procedures that relate to eradicating forced labor; and

(ii) family of worker documents and descriptions of the scope of responsibility entities to—

(A) determine the steps forward to address any violations by the supplier or provider, a requirement that—

(i) the supplier or provider shall not retaliate against any worker for participating in an audit relating to forced labor; and

(ii) worker participation in an audit shall be protected through the same grievance mechanism available to the worker available for any other type of workplace grievance.

SEC. 6134. ENFORCEMENT.

(a) CIVIL DAMAGES.—The Secretary may assess civil damages in an amount of not more than $100,000,000 if, after notice and an opportunity for a hearing, the Secretary determines that—

(1) the supplier has willfully violated any requirement of section 6132(b); or

(2) worker participation in an audit shall be protected through the same grievance mechanism available to the worker available for any other type of workplace grievance.

(b) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO AUDITS.—Each covered business entity shall include, in any contract with a direct supplier or on-site service provider, a requirement that—

(1) the supplier or provider shall not retaliate against any worker for participating in an audit relating to forced labor; and

(2) worker participation in an audit shall be protected through the same grievance mechanism available to the worker available for any other type of workplace grievance.

SEC. 6135. REGULATIONS.

Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the Secretary of State shall—

(a) review the status of data privacy and security requirements (including any appeals for reviewing laws, policies, practices, and regulations related to data privacy and security) in each foreign country to determine—

(i) whether there is a substantial risk that the government of such country will, in a manner that fails to afford similar respect for civil liberties and privacy as the Constitution and laws of the United States, obtain user data from companies that collect user data; and

(ii) designate each country that meets the criteria of clause (i) as a country of concern; and

(b) remove the designation from any country that was previously designated a country of concern (regardless of whether such designation was pursuant to clause (i) or (ii) of subparagraph (A) or was made by the Secretary of State pursuant to clause (iii) of such subparagraph if the country—

(I) no longer meets the criteria of clause (i); and

(II) is not at substantial risk of meeting such criteria.

(C) REGULATIONS.—Not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State shall prescribe regulations—

SEC. 25 . . . . IMPOSING DATA SECURITY REQUIRE- MENTS AND STRENGTHENING REVIEW OF FOREIGN INVESTMENTS WITH RESPECT TO CERTAIN TECHNOLOGY COMPANIES FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES OF CONCERN.

(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) COMMISSION.—The term “Commission” means the Federal Trade Commission.

(2) COUNTRY OF CONCERN.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subparagraph (B), (i) the People’s Republic of China; and

(ii) the Russian Federation; and

(iii) any other country designated by the Secretary of State as being of concern with respect to the protection of user data.

(b) DESIGNATION OF COUNTRIES OF CONCERN.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the Secretary of State shall—

(i) review the status of data security and privacy requirements (including any appeals for reviewing laws, policies, practices, and regulations related to data privacy and security) in each foreign country to determine—

(I) whether there is a substantial risk to the national security of the United States if the government of such country gained access to the user data of citizens and residents of the United States; and

(II) whether there is a substantial risk that the government of such country will, in a manner that fails to afford similar respect for civil liberties and privacy as the Constitution and laws of the United States, obtain user data from companies that collect user data; and

(ii) designate each country that meets the criteria of clause (i) as a country of concern; and

(iii) remove the designation from any country that was previously designated a country of concern (regardless of whether such designation was pursuant to clause (i) or (ii) of subparagraph (A) or was made by the Secretary of State pursuant to clause (iii) of such subparagraph if the country—

(I) no longer meets the criteria of clause (i); and

(II) is not at substantial risk of meeting such criteria.
(i) establishing a process for a covered technology company or country of concern to petition the Secretary to remove the country of concern designation from a country of concern list established under subparagraph (B)(i); and
(ii) setting forth the procedures and criteria the Secretary will use in identifying or removing countries under subparagraphs (A)(iii) or (B)(iii).

(3) COVERED TECHNOLOGY COMPANY.—The term ‘‘covered technology company’’ means an entity that provides an online data-based service such as a website or internet application in or affecting interstate or foreign commerce that:

(A) is organized under the laws of a country of concern;

(B) in which foreign persons that are nationals of a country of concern have a plurality or controlling equity interest;

(C) is a subsidiary company of an entity described in subparagraph (A) or (B); or

(D) is otherwise subject to the jurisdiction of a country of concern in a manner that allows the country of concern to obtain the user data of and residents of the United States without similar respect for civil liberties and privacy as provided under the Constitution and laws of the United States.

(4) FACIAL RECOGNITION TECHNOLOGY.—The term ‘‘facial recognition technology’’ means technology that analyzes facial features to determine whether that data, such as encryption keys, on a server or other data storage device that is located outside of the United States or a country that maintains an agreement with the United States to share data with law enforcement agencies through a process established by law.

(5) TARGETED ADVERTISING.—(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘‘targeted advertising’’ means a form of advertising where advertisements are displayed to a user based on their search terms that the user used to arrive at a website, service or application that is not affiliated with a country of concern.

(B) LIMITATION.—Such term shall not include advertising chosen because of the context of the internet service, such as—

(1) advertising that is directed to a user based on the content of the website, online service, or mobile application that the user is connected to; or

(2) advertising that is directed to a user by the operator, online service, online application, or mobile application based on the search terms that the user used to arrive at such website, service, or application.

(6) DATA.—The term ‘‘data’’ means any information obtained by an entity that provides a data-based service such as a website or internet application that identifies, relates to, describes, is capable of being linked with, or could reasonably be linked with an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States without regard to whether such information is directly submitted by the individual to the entity, is derived by the entity from the observed activity of the individual, or is obtained by the entity by any other means.

(b) DATA SECURITY REQUIREMENTS FOR COVERED TECHNOLOGY COMPANIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The following requirements shall apply to a covered technology company:

(A) MINIMAL COLLECTION OF DATA.—The company shall not collect any more user data than is necessary for the operation of the website, service, or application of the company.

(B) PROHIBITION ON SECONDARY USES.—The company shall not use any user data collected under subparagraph (A) for any purpose that is secondary to the operation of the website, service, or application of the company, including providing targeted advertising, unnecessarily sharing such data with a third party, or unnecessarily facilitating facial recognition technology.

(C) RIGHT TO VIEW AND DELETE DATA.—The company shall allow an individual to—

(1) view any user data held by the company that relates to the individual; and

(2) permanently delete any user data held by the company that has been collected, directly or indirectly by the company.

(D) PROHIBITION ON TRANSFER TO COUNTRIES OF CONCERN.—The company shall not transfer any user data or information needed to decipher encryption keys, to any country of concern (including indirectly through a third country that is not a country of concern).

(E) DATA STORAGE REQUIREMENT.—The company shall not store any user data collected from citizens or residents of the United States or information needed to decipher that data, such as encryption keys, on a server or other data storage device that is located outside of the United States or a country that maintains an agreement with the United States to share data with law enforcement agencies through a process established by law.

(F) REFUSING REQUIREMENT.—No less frequently than every three years, the operator of a website, online service, online application, or mobile application based on the search terms that the user used to arrive at such website, service, or application, shall submit, under penalty of perjury, a report to the Commission for the Commission and the Attorney General of each State certifying compliance with the requirements of this subsection.

(2) EXCEPTIONS.—(A) EXCEPTION FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT AND MILITARY.—The requirements of subparagraphs (A) through (D) of paragraph (1) shall not apply where data is collected, used, retained, stored, or shared by a covered technology company solely for the purpose of assisting a law enforcement or military agency that is not affiliated with a country of concern.

(B) TRANSFER OF SHARED CONTENT.—The requirements of paragraph (1) shall not apply to user data that is content produced by a user for the purpose of sharing with other users (such as social media posts, emails, or data related to a transaction involving the user) or information needed to decipher that data, such as encryption keys, on a server or other data storage device that is located outside of the United States or a country that maintains an agreement with the United States to share data with law enforcement agencies through a process established by law.

(3) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The requirements of this subsection shall take effect 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

(c) ENFORCEMENT OF DATA SECURITY REQUIREMENTS.—

(1) ENFORCEMENT BY THE COMMISSION.—(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise provided, subsections (b) and (c) shall be enforced by the Commission under the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 41 et seq.).

(B) UNFAIR OR DECEPTIVE ACTS OR PRACTICES.—A violation of subsection (b) or (c) shall be deemed to be an unfair or deceptive act or practice prescribed under section 18(a)(1)(B) of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 57a(a)(1)(B)).

(C) ACTIONS BY THE COMMISSION.—Except as otherwise provided, the Commission shall prevent any person from violating subsection (b) or (c) in the same manner, by the same means, and with the same jurisdiction, powers, and duties as though any applicable terms and provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 41 et seq.) were incorporated into and made a part of this section, and any person who violates such a subsection shall be subject to the penalties and entitlements to the privileges and immunities provided in the Federal Trade Commission Act.

(D) AUTHORITY PRESERVED.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the authority of the Commission under any other provision of law.

(2) CRIMINAL PENALTY.—(A) OFFENSE.—It shall be unlawful to knowingly cause a technology company to violate a requirement of subsection (b) or (c).

(B) PENALTY.—Any person who violates subparagraph (A) shall be imprisoned for not more than 5 years, fined under title 18, United States Code, or both.

(d) ENFORCEMENT BY STATE ATTORNEYS GENERAL.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—(1) CIVIL ACTIONS.—In any case in which the attorney general of a State has reason to believe that an interest of the residents of that State has been or is threatened or adversely affected by the engagement of any person in a practice that violates subsection (b) or (c), the State, as parens patriae, may bring a civil action on behalf of the residents of the State in a district court of the United States for the State of the United States, in the State court of appropriate jurisdiction to—

(i) enjoin that practice;

(ii) enforce compliance with such section; and

(iii) recover damages, statutory damages, restitution, or other compensation, each of which shall be distributed in accordance with State law.

(2) CRIMINAL ACTIONS.—(A) EXCEPT FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT AND MILITARY.—The requirements of paragraph (1) shall not apply where data is collected, used, retained, stored, or shared by a covered technology company solely for the purpose of assisting a law enforcement or military agency that is not affiliated with a country of concern.

(B) TRANSFER OF SHARED CONTENT.—The requirements of paragraph (1) shall not apply to user data that is content produced by a user for the purpose of sharing with other users (such as social media posts, emails, or data related to a transaction involving the user) or information needed to decipher that data, such as encryption keys, on a server or other data storage device that is located outside of the United States or a country that maintains an agreement with the United States to share data with law enforcement agencies through a process established by law.

(2) EXCEPTIONS.—(A) EXCEPTION FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT AND MILITARY.—The requirements of paragraph (1) shall not apply where data is collected, used, retained, stored, or shared by a covered technology company solely for the purpose of assisting a law enforcement or military agency that is not affiliated with a country of concern.
Section 721(b) of the Defense Production Act

Section 721(b) of the Defense Production Act—

(A) IN GENERAL.—A covered transaction described in subparagraph (C) is prohibited unless the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States determines that it does not pose a threat to national security of the United States.

(B) MITIGATION.—The Committee, or a lead agency on behalf of the Committee, may negotiate, enter into or impose, and enforce any agreement or condition under subsection (B)(i) with any party to a covered transaction described in subparagraph (C) to mitigate any national security threat to one of the United States that arises as a result of the covered transaction.

(C) COVERED TRANSACTION DESCRIBED.—A covered transaction described in this subparagraph is a transaction that could result in foreign control of a United States company—

(i) that collects, sells, buys, or processes user data and whose business consists substantially more of transferring data than manufacturing, delivering, repairing, or servicing physical goods or providing physical services; or

(ii) that operates a social media platform or website.

(D) USER DATA DEFINED.—For purposes of subparagraph (C), the term ‘user data’ means any information obtained by an entity that provides a data-based service such as a website or internet application that identifies, relates to, describes, is capable of being linked with an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States without regard to whether such information is directly submitted by the individual to the entity, is derived by the entity from the observed activity of the individual, or is obtained by the entity by any other means.”.

SEC. 2511. MARKING OF ARTICLES THAT ORIGINATE IN COUNTRIES BELIEVED TO USE FORCED LABOR.

(a) IN GENERAL.—It shall be unlawful for an article that is required to be marked under section 304 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1304) and originates in a source country to be introduced, sold, advertised, or offered for sale in commerce in the United States unless that article is legibly, indelibly, and permanently marked, in addition to being marked with the English name of the country of origin of the article as required by such section 304, with respect to articles entered on or after the date that is 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SA 1952. Mr. HAWLEY submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, and manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resilience program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

In division B, insert after section 2510 the following:

SEC. 2511. MARKING OF ARTICLES THAT ORIGINATE IN COUNTRIES BELIEVED TO USE FORCED LABOR OR CHILD LABOR.

(a) IN GENERAL.—It shall be unlawful for an article that is required to be marked under section 304 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1304) and originates in a source country to be introduced, sold, advertised, or offered for sale in commerce in the United States unless that article is legibly, indelibly, and permanently marked, in addition to being marked with the English name of the country of origin of the article as required by such section 304, with respect to articles entered on or after the date that is 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act; and

(b) ending on the date, which may not be before the date that is one year after such date of enactment, on which the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of the Treasury, the United States Customs and Border Protection, and the United States Trade Representative—

(i) determines beyond a reasonable doubt that slave labor, forced labor, indentured labor, or child labor exists in the People’s Republic of China; and

(ii) submits to Congress and makes available to the public a report on that determination.

(3) REGULATIONS.—The Commissioner of U.S. Customs and Border Protection may prescribe regulations necessary for the enforcement of paragraph (1).

(b) INELIGIBILITY OF COUNTRIES THAT USE FORCED LABOR FOR GENERALIZED SYSTEM OF PREFERENCES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 502(b)(2) of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2462(b)(2)) is amended—

(A) by inserting after subparagraph (H) the following:

“(I) Such country is identified by the Bureau of International Labor Affairs of the Department of Labor as a country that uses forced labor or child labor in violation of international standards.”;

and

(B) in the flush text at the end, by striking “(F),” and all that follows through “section 507(D)” and inserting “(and)”.

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by paragraph (1) shall apply with respect to articles entered on or after the date that is 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act. and in the same manner as such provisions apply to an article that is not marked as required by such section 304.

(c) REGULATIONS.—The Commissioner of U.S. Customs and Border Protection shall prescribe regulations that—

(1) ensure the requirement under subsection (a) is appropriately applied to articles introduced, sold, advertised, or offered for sale in commerce on an internet website such that the internet description of the article includes the marking required by subsection (a); and

(2) provide for enforcement of the requirement under subsection (a).

(d) EXCISE TAX EXEMPTION.—In this section, the term ‘source country’ means a country identified by the Bureau of International Labor Affairs of the Department of Labor pursuant to section 105(b)(2)(C) of the Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2005 (22 U.S.C. 7112(b)(2)(C)) as a source country of goods that are believed to be produced by forced labor or child labor in violation of international standards.

SA 1953. Mr. HAWLEY submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation within the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

Strike section 3217 of division C and insert the following:

SEC. 3217. DECLASSIFICATION OF INFORMATION RELATED TO THE ORIGIN OF COVID–19.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The Department of State released a fact sheet on January 15, 2021, about the Wuhan Institute of Virology (WIV) which stated the following:

(A) ‘‘The U.S. government has reason to believe researchers inside the WIV became sick in autumn 2019, before the first identified case of the outbreak, with symptoms consistent with both COVID–19 and common seasonal illnesses.’’

(B) ‘‘WIV researchers conducted experiments involving RaTG13, the bat coronavirus identified by the lab in January 2020 as its closest sample to SARS-CoV–2.’’

(C) ‘‘Despite the WIV presenting itself as a civilian institution, the United States has determined that the WIV has collaborated on publications and secret projects with China’s military.’’

(2) Former Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Robert Redfield, testified in March 2021 that ‘‘the most likely etiology of this pathogen in Wuhan was from a laboratory’’ and noted that, ‘‘the lab is itself an unusual respiratory pathogen that are being worked on in a laboratory to infect the laboratory worker.’’

(3) Director-General of the World Health Organization Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus acknowledged in March 2021 that the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID–19) may have originated in a laboratory and said this hypothesis ‘‘merit[ed] further investigation, potentially with additional missions involving specialist experts.’’

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) identifying the origin of Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID–19) is critical for preventing a similar pandemic from occurring in the future;

(2) there is reason to believe the COVID–19 pandemic may have originated at the Wuhan Institute of Virology;

(3) the Director of National Intelligence should declassify and make available to the public as much information as possible about the origin of COVID–19 so the United States and like-minded countries can—

(A) identify the origin of COVID–19 as expeditiously as possible, and

(B) use that information to take all appropriate measures to prevent a similar pandemic from occurring again.

(c) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Director of National Intelligence shall—

(1) declassify any and all information relating to potential links between the Wuhan Institute of Virology and the origin of the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID–19), including—

(A) activities performed by the Wuhan Institute of Virology with or on behalf of the People’s Liberation Army;

(B) coronavirus research or other related activities performed at the Wuhan Institute of Virology prior to the outbreak of COVID–19; and

(C) researchers at the Wuhan Institute of Virology who fell ill in autumn 2019, including for any such researcher—

(i) the researcher’s name;

(ii) the researcher’s symptoms;

(iii) the date of the onset of the researcher’s symptoms;

(iv) the researcher’s role at the Wuhan Institute of Virology;

(v) whether the researcher was involved with or exposed to coronavirus research at the Wuhan Institute of Virology;

(vi) whether the researcher visited a hospital while they were ill; and

(vii) a description of any other actions taken by the researcher that may suggest they were experiencing a serious illness at the time; and

(2) submit to Congress an unclassified report that contains—

(A) all of the information described under paragraph (1); and

(B) only such redactions as the Director determines necessary to protect sources and methods without altering or obscuring in any way the information described under paragraph (1).

SA 1954. Mr. HAWLEY submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. __ REQUIREMENT THAT CERTAIN PRODUCERS OF SYSTEMS TO DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE DISCLOSE THE SOURCE OF PRINTED CIRCUIT BOARDS WHEN SOURCED FROM CERTAIN COUNTRIES.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the ‘‘Protecting Our Defense Systems Act’’.

(b) DISCLOSURE.—The Secretary of Defense shall require any provider of a covered system to provide to the Department of Defense, along with delivery of the covered system, a list of the printed circuit boards in the covered system that includes, for each printed circuit board, an attestation of whether—

(1) the printed circuit board was partially or fully manufactured and assembled in a covered nation;

(2) the printed circuit board was fully manufactured and assembled outside of a covered nation; or

(3) the provider cannot determine where the printed circuit board was manufactured and assembled.

(c) REGULATIONS.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall promulgate such regulations as are necessary to carry out this section.

(d) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) The term ‘‘covered nation’’ includes the following:

(A) The People’s Republic of China.

(B) The Russian Federation.

(C) The Democratic People’s Republic of Korea.

(D) The Islamic Republic of Iran.

(2) The term ‘‘covered system’’ means any item, including commercial items and commercially available off-the-shelf items, notwithstanding section 105 of title 10, United States Code, as redesignated by section 1821(a)(1) of the William M. (Mac) Thornberry National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2021 (Public Law 116–283), or sections 1906 and 1907 of title 41, United States Code, that—

(A) has an electronic component;

(B) is provided to the Department of Defense under a contract that exceeds the simplified acquisition threshold; and

(C) transmits or stores information including—

(i) telecommunications;

(ii) data communications and storage, including servers, switches, and networking systems, but excluding personal data storage devices, personal computers, desktop computers, tablets, and handheld equipment;

(iii) information technology security systems; and

(iv) any other system that the Secretary determines should be covered.

(3) The term ‘‘manufactured and assembled’’ with respect to a printed circuit board, includes all actions from the printing of the printed circuit board from raw materials to the integration of the completed printed circuit board in an end item or component of an end item.

SA 1955. Mr. JOHNSON submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. __ AGREEMENTS RELATED TO NUCLEAR PROGRAMS OF IRAQ DEEMED TREATIES SUBJECT TO ADVICE AND CONSENT OF THE SENATE.

(a) TREATY SUBJECT TO ADVICE AND CONSENT OF THE SENATE.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any agreement reached by the President with Iran relating to the nuclear program of Iran is deemed to be a treaty that is subject to the requirements of article II, section 2, clause 2 of the Constitution of the United States requiring that the treaty is subject to the advice and consent of the Senate, with two-thirds of Senators concurring.

(b) LIMITATION ON SANCTIONS RELIEF.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the President may not waive, suspend, reduce, provide relief from, or otherwise limit the application of sanctions under any other provision of law or refrain from applying any such sanctions pursuant to an agreement relating to the nuclear program of Iran that includes the United States, commits the United States to take action, or pursuant to which the United States commits or otherwise agrees to take action, regardless of whether the form it takes, whether a political commitment or otherwise, and regardless of whether it is legally binding or not, including any joint comprehensive plan of action entered into or made between Iran and any other parties, and any additional materials related thereto, including annexes, appendices, codices, or agreements, implementing materials, documents, and guidance, technical or other understandings, and any related agreements, whether entered into or implemented prior to the agreement or to be entered into or implemented in the future, subject to the advice and consent of the Senate as a treaty, receives the concurrence of two thirds of the Senate.

SA 1956. Mr. HAGERTY (for himself and Mr. COX) submitted an amendment to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the appropriate place in division C, insert the following:

SEC. __. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON THE 10TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE EARTHQUAKE AND TSUNAMI IN JAPAN.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) At 2:46 p.m. on March 11, 2011, an earthquake initially reported as measuring 8.9 on the Richter scale, the strongest recorded in more than 100 years in Japan, occurred near the Tohoku region of Northeast Japan, 81 miles off the coast from Sendai City.

(2) A tsunami could be felt from Tokyo to Kamaishi, an arc of roughly 360 miles.

(3) The earthquake generated a massive tsunami that caused widespread damage to a swath of the northeast Japanese coastline and traveled across the Pacific Ocean, causing damage to coastal communities as far away as the States of Hawaii, Oregon, and California.

(4) Authorities in Japan confirm at least 15,899 deaths from the earthquake and resulting tsunami.

(5) Within minutes of the earthquake, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration alerted emergency workers in the States of Hawaii, California, Oregon, Washington, and Alaska that a potentially catastrophic tsunami was heading toward those States and mobilized the Tsunami Warning System in the Pacific.

(6) The earthquake forced the emergency shutdown of 4 nuclear power facilities in Japan, representing a lack of electricity generation capacity for Japan and necessitating rolling blackouts in portions of Tokyo.

(7) The earthquake and the resulting tsunami severely damaged the Fukushima Daiichi nuclear power station, precipitating a loss of power for cooling systems at that facility and emergency measures to prevent serious radiation leakages.

(8) International response to the disaster was swift, with search and rescue teams arriving from the United States, the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, France, and China, among other countries.

(9) The USS Ronald Reagan aircraft carrier and its support vessels were deployed to the earthquake region to participate in search and rescue and relief operations.

(10) Elements of the III Marine Expeditionary Force (MEF), a United States Agency for International Development Disaster Assistance Response Team (DART), and other United States military and civilian personnel were deployed to Japan to render aid and help coordinate United States relief efforts.

(11) The United States-Japan alliance is based upon shared values, democratic ideals, free markets, and a mutual respect for human rights, individual liberties, and the rule of law, and is central to the security and prosperity of the entire Indo-Pacific region.

(12) The Self-Defense Forces of Japan have contributed broadly to global security missions, including relief operations following the tsunami in Indonesia in 2005, reconstruction in Iraq from 2004 to 2006, and relief assistance following the earthquake in Haiti in 2010.

(13) Japan is among the most generous donor nations, providing billions of dollars of foreign assistance, including disaster relief, annually to developing countries.

(14) Since 2011, Japan has committed tremendous resources and effort to decommis sion the Fukushima Daiichi nuclear power station by taking measures on contaminated water and extracting fuel.

(15) Since 2011, Japan has committed tremendous resources to restore the environment in Fukushima Prefecture, in collaboration with the International Atomic Energy Agency, to ensure that citizens can live in peace with with safe water and food.

(16) Ten years after the earthquake and resulting tsunami, Japan is seeking to host a successful Olympics in Tokyo where the best athletes from across the world can showcase their talents amidst the ongoing global COVID-19 pandemic.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that Congress—

(1) mourns the loss of life resulting from the earthquake and tsunami in Japan on March 11, 2011;

(2) expresses its deepest condolences to the families of the victims of the tragedy;

(3) expresses its sympathies to the survivors who are still suffering in the aftermath of the natural disaster;

(4) commends the Government of Japan for its courageous and professional response to the natural disaster;

(5) supports the efforts already underway by the United States Government, relief agencies, and private citizens to assist the Government and people of Japan with the revitalization efforts in Fukushima Prefecture.

SA 1957. Ms. ERNST (for herself, Mr. CRAMER, and Mr. SULLIVAN) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of title V of division B, add the following:

SEC. 2528. DENIAL OF FUNDS FOR PREVENTING GOVERNMENT AGENCY ACCESS TO CAMPUS.

(a) DENIAL OF FUNDS FOR PREVENTING GOVERNMENT AGENCY ACCESS TO CAMPUS.—No funds described in subsection (c)(1) may be provided by contract or by grant to an institution of higher education (including any subelement of such institution) if the Director determines that the institution (or any subelement of that institution) has a policy or practice (regardless of when implemented) that either prohibits, or in effect prevents—

(1) the government agencies or organizations from gaining access to campuses, or access to students (who are 17 years of age or older) on campuses, from recruiting in a manner that is at least equal in quality and scope to the access to campuses and to students that is provided to any other employing entity;

(2) access by government recruiters for purposes of government recruiting to the following information pertaining to students (who are 17 years of age or older) enrolled at that institution (or any subelement of that institution):

(A) Names, addresses, electronic mail addresses (which shall be the electronic mail addresses provided by the institution, if available), and telephone listings.

(B) Date and place of birth, levels of education, academic majors, degrees received, and the most recent educational institution enrolled in by the student.

(C) EXCEPTIONS.—The limitation established in subsection (a) shall not apply to an institution of higher education (or any subelement of that institution) if the Director determines that the institution (or any subelement of that institution) has ceased the policy or practice described in that subsection;

(3) DECLINE RELEASE.—A parent of a student who has not yet turned 18 years of age and any student have the option to decline release of the student’s name, address, electronic mail address, telephone listing, and all other information to requesting government agencies or organizations.

(b) EXCEPTIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), the limitations established in subsection (a) apply to the following:

(A) Any funds made available for the Foundation.

(B) Any funds made available for any department or agency for which regular appropriations are made by the Department of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act.

(2) EXCEPTIONS.—

(A) Any funds made available for the Department of Homeland Security.

(B) Any funds made available for the National Nuclear Security Administration of the Department of Energy.

(E) Any funds made available for the Department of Transportation.
At the appropriate place in subtitle C of title I of division F, insert the following:

SEC. 25. DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section, the term ‘‘intelligence community’’ includes the National Intelligence Office of Homeland Security.

(b) INTELLIGENCE DUTIES.—In addition to the duties described in subsection (a), (b), or (c), the Director—

1. shall transmit a notice of the determination on the eligibility of the institution to the Secretary of Education and to the head of each other department and agency the funds which are subject to the determination; and
2. shall publish in the Federal Register a notice of the determination and the effect of the determination on the eligibility of the institution of higher education (and any subelement of that institution) for contracts and grants.

SA 1958. Mr. HAGERTY (for himself, Mr. WARNER, Ms. LUMMIS, Mr. COONS, Mrs. BLACKBURN, and Mr. CRAMER) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resilience program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle C of title I of diviwhat steps the institutions can take to safeguard data, particularly genomic data; (C) recommendations regarding areas where Federal agencies can coordinate to increase the pace of private and academic research institutions that partake in science and technology research to ensure the institutions can better protect themselves from threats; and (D) other risks and best practices related to non- data sharing, as identified by the Working Group, including any gaps in current practice that could be addressed by congressional action.

(2) REPORT.—
(A) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Working Group shall submit a report that contains a detailed statement of the findings and conclusions of the Working Group, together with recommendations to update the National Institute of Health’s Genomic Data Sharing Policy and subsequent nonbinding guidance regarding risks and safeguards for data sharing with foreign entities for research institutions in the field, to— (i) the Secretary of Health and Human Services; (ii) the President; (iii) the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions, the Committee on Foreign Relations, and the Select Committee on Intelligence of the Senate; and (iv) the Committee on Energy and Commerce, the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence of the House of Representatives.
(B) GUIDANCE RELATED TO GENOMIC DATA SHARING.—Guidance provided under subparagraph (A) shall include non-binding guidance for entities that utilize genomic technologies, such as whole genome sequencing, for use in research or other types of individually identifiable health information.
(C) REQUIREMENTS.—In carrying out the duties of this subsection, the Working Group shall consider all existing Federal guidance and grant requirements (as of the date of consideration), particularly with regard to foreign relations and research integrity, and ensure that all recommended updates to the Genomic Data Sharing Policy and subsequent best practices put forward by the working group do not conflict with existing guidance, as of the date of publication.

(3) POWERS OF WORKING GROUP.—
(A) HEARINGS.—The Working Group may hold such hearings, sit and act at such times and places, take such testimony, and receive such evidence as the Working Group considers necessary to carry out this Act.
(B) INFORMATION FROM FEDERAL AGENCIES.—(I) IN GENERAL.—The Working Group may secure directly from a Federal department or agency, or any information as the Working Group considers necessary to carry out this Act.
(II) SECRETARY CONCERNED.—The term “Secretary concerned” means— (a) the Secretary of Agriculture; (b) the Secretary of Commerce; (c) the Secretary of Labor; (d) the Secretary of Health and Human Services; (e) the Secretary of Homeland Security; (f) the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; (g) the Attorney General of the United States; (h) any other officer or employee of the United States Government who is authorized to perform any functions under this Act.
(C) POSTAL SERVICES.—The Working Group may use the United States mails in the same manner and under the same conditions as other departments and agencies of the Federal Government.
(D) TERMINATION OF WORKING GROUP.—The Working Group shall terminate 90 days after the date on which the Secretary submits the report required under subsection (c)(2).

SA 1961. Mr. ROMNEY (for himself and Mr. RUBIO) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of section 3213, add the following:

(c) PRECLEARANCE OPERATIONS AT TAOYUAN INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT.—
(1) EXECUTIVE AGREEMENT.—The Commissioner of U.S. Customs and Border Protection shall enter into an executive agreement with the Taoyuan International Airport to establish and maintain preclearance operations in such airport pursuant to section 629 of the Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2008 (22 U.S.C. 7101 et seq.) and section 103a(7) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1103a(7)).

SEC. 2309. CHINA GRAND STRATEGY.

(a) Findings, Sense of Congress.—

(1) In general.—Not later than 30 days after the date on which the President first submits to Congress a national security strategy under section 108 of the National Security Act of 1947 (50 U.S.C. 3043) after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to Congress a national security strategy of the United States with respect to the People’s Republic of China.

(b) China Grand Strategy.—

(1) In General.—Not later than 30 days after the date on which the President first submits to Congress a national security strategy under section 108 of the National Security Act of 1947 (50 U.S.C. 3043) after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall commence developing a comprehensive report that articulates the strategy of the United States with respect to the People’s Republic of China (in this section referred to as the ‘‘China Grand Strategy’’). The China Grand Strategy shall be submitted in classified form and shall include an unclassified summary.

(c) Contents.—The China Grand Strategy shall set forth the national security strategy of the United States with respect to the People’s Republic of China and shall include a comprehensive description and discussion of the following:

(1) The worldwide interests, goals, and objectives of the United States, including national security interests, within the context of the competition with the People’s Republic of China.

(2) The foreign and economic policy, worldwide commitments, and national defense capabilities of the United States necessary to deter aggression and to implement the national security strategy of the United States within the context of the competition with the People’s Republic of China.

(3) How the United States will exercise the political, economic, military, diplomatic, and other elements of its national power to achieve the goals and objectives referred to in paragraph (1).

(4) The adequacy of the capabilities of the United States to carry out the national security strategy of the United States within the context of the competition with the People’s Republic of China, including an evaluation—

(A) of the balance among the capabilities of all elements of national power of the United States and

(B) the balance of all United States elements of national power in comparison to equivalent elements of national power of the People’s Republic of China.

The assumptions of end-state or end-states of the strategy of the United States with respect to the People’s Republic of China.

Such other information as the President considers necessary to help inform Congress on matters relating to the national security strategy of the United States with respect to the People’s Republic of China.

(d) Advisory Board on China Grand Strategy.—

(1) Establishment.—There is hereby established in the executive branch a commission to be known as the ‘‘Advisory Board on China Grand Strategy’’ (in this section referred to as the ‘‘Board’’).

(2) Purpose.—The purpose of the Board is to convene outside experts to advise the President on the development of the China Grand Strategy.

(3) Duties.—

(A) Review.—The Board shall review the current national security strategy of the United States with respect to the People’s Republic of China, including assumptions, strategy, and end-state or end-states.

(B) Assessment and Recommendations.—The Board shall assess the United States national security strategy with respect to the People’s Republic of China, including challenging its assumptions and approach, and make recommendations to the President for the China Grand Strategy.

(4) Composition.—

(A) Recommendations.—Not later than 30 days after the date on which the President first submits to Congress a national security strategy under section 108 of the National Security Act of 1947 (50 U.S.C. 3043) after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to Congress the China Grand Strategy developed under paragraph (1).

(3) Form.—The China Grand Strategy shall be submitted in classified form and shall include an unclassified summary.

(c) Contents.—The China Grand Strategy shall set forth the national security strategy of the United States with respect to the People’s Republic of China and shall include a comprehensive description and discussion of the following:

(1) The worldwide interests, goals, and objectives of the United States, including national security interests, within the context of the competition with the People’s Republic of China.

(2) The foreign and economic policy, worldwide commitments, and national defense capabilities of the United States necessary to deter aggression and to implement the national security strategy of the United States within the context of the competition with the People’s Republic of China.

(3) How the United States will exercise the political, economic, military, diplomatic, and other elements of its national power to achieve the goals and objectives referred to in paragraph (1).

(4) The adequacy of the capabilities of the United States to carry out the national security strategy of the United States within the context of the competition with the People’s Republic of China, including an evaluation—

(A) of the balance among the capabilities of all elements of national power of the United States and

(B) the balance of all United States elements of national power in comparison to equivalent elements of national power of the People’s Republic of China.

The assumptions of end-state or end-states of the strategy of the United States with respect to the People’s Republic of China.

Such other information as the President considers necessary to help inform Congress on matters relating to the national security strategy of the United States with respect to the People’s Republic of China.
(v) Two members shall be selected from among individuals included in the list submitted by the Speaker of the House of Representatives under subparagraph (A), or whom:

(I) one should be selected from among individuals in the private sector; and

(II) one should be selected from among individuals in academia or employed by a nonprofit research institution.

(vi) Two members shall be selected from among individuals included in the list submitted by the minority leader of the House of Representatives under subparagraph (A), of whom:

(I) one should be selected from among individuals in the academic sector (or by a nonprofit research institution); and

(II) one should be selected from among individuals in academia or employed by a nonprofit research institution.

(C) NONGOVERNMENTAL MEMBERSHIP; PERIOD OF APPOINTMENT; VACANCIES.—

(i) NONGOVERNMENTAL MEMBERSHIP.—An individual appointed to the Board may not be an officer or employee of an instrumentality of government.

(ii) PERIOD OF APPOINTMENT.—Members shall be appointed for the life of the Board.

(iii) VACANCIES.—Any vacancy in the Board shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(5) DEADLINE FOR APPOINTMENT.—Not later than the date on which the President first submits to Congress a national security strategy under section 108 of the National Security Act of 1947 (50 U.S.C. 3003) after the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall:

(A) appoint the members of the Board pursuant to paragraph (4); and

(B) submit to Congress a list of the members so appointed.

(6) EXPERTS AND CONSULTANTS.—The Board is authorized to procure temporary and intermittent services under section 3319 of title 5, United States Code, but at rates for individuals not to exceed the daily equivalent of the maximum annual rate of basic pay under level IV of the Executive Schedule under section 5315 of title 5, United States Code.

(7) SECURITY CLEARANCES.—The appropriate Federal departments and agencies shall cooperate with the Board in expeditiously providing to the Board members and experts and consultants appropriate security clearances to the extent necessary for them to perform their duties. No person may be appointed to access to classified information under this Act without the appropriate clearances.

(8) RECEIPT, HANDLING, STORAGE, AND DISSEMINATION.—Information shall only be received, handled, stored, and disseminated by members of the Board and any experts and consultants consistent with all applicable statutes, regulations, and Executive orders.

(9) NONAPPLICABILITY OF CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS OF THE ADVISORY COUNCIL ON SECURE ENTERPRISE.—Section 562(d) of title 5, United States Code (commonly known as the “Government in the Sunshine Act”), shall not apply to the Board.

(10) UNCOMPENSATED SERVICE.—Members of the Board shall serve without compensation.

(11) COOPERATION FROM GOVERNMENT.—In carrying out its responsibilities, the Board shall receive the full and timely cooperation of the heads of relevant Federal departments and agencies in providing the Board with analysis, findings, and all other information necessary for the fulfillment of its responsibilities.

(12) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out this section $2,000,000 for the period of fiscal years 2022 and 2023.

(13) TERMINATION.—The Board shall terminate on the date that is 60 days after the date on which the President submits the China Grand Strategy to Congress under subsection (b)(2).

SA 1966. Mr. HAGERTY submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitile B of title II of division E, add the following:

SEC. 3214. MODIFICATION OF DEFINITION OF DOMESTIC SOURCE UNDER DEFENSE PROTECTION ACT OF 1986.

(a) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that—

(1) rare earth elements are among the materials that are essential for modern industries to base requires to process raw ore for rare earth elements, and is the world’s biggest reserve, producer, conumer, processer, importer, and exporter of rare earth elements;

(2) Greenland, a self-governing territory of Denmark in North America, sits on vast, untapped reserves of critical minerals, including rare earth elements;

(3) rare earth elements are critically important imports for the United States domestic industrial base.

(b) MODIFICATION OF DEFINITION.—Section 702(b)(7)(A) of the Defense Production Act of 1950 (50 U.S.C. 4527b)(A) is amended by striking “or Canada” and inserting “or Canada, or Greenland”.

SA 1967. Mr. HAGERTY (for himself and Mr. WARNER) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of title III of division F, add the following:

SEC. 6302. PREVENTION OF ABUSE OF FLEXIBILITIES IN RULES AND NEGOTIATIONS GIVEN BY THE WORLD TRADE ORGANIZATION TO DEVELOPING COUNTRIES.

(a) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that—

(1) the World Trade Organization (WTO) was established to catalyze economic growth and raise standards of living by establishing international trade rules based on principles of transparency, openness, and predictability; and

(2) the WTO continues to use a dichotomy between developed and developing countries that has allowed some WTO members to gain unfair advantages in the international trade arena;

(3) China continues to declare itself a developing country and avail itself of flexibilities under WTO rules;

(4) China has the second largest gross domestic product in the world;

(5) China is the largest global exporter of goods and services and accounts for more than 10 percent of total global exports of goods;

(6) the outbound and inbound foreign direct investment of China, exceeds that of most member countries of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development;

(7) China, however, continues to declare itself a developing country and avail itself of special and differential treatment provisions that come with that status; and

(8) when the largest economies claim developing country status, they potentially harm not only other developed countries but also developing economies that require special and differential treatment.

(b) PREVENTION OF ABUSE OF FLEXIBILITIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The United States Trade Representative shall use all available means and powers of the Trade Representative to appropriate to secure changes at the World Trade Organization that would prevent self-declaring developing countries from utilizing themselves of flexibilities in the rules and negotiations at the WTO that are not justified by appropriate economic and other indicators, as determined by the Trade Representative.

(2) COOPERATION.—The Trade Representative shall carry out the requirements under paragraph (1) in cooperation with other like-minded WTO members.

(3) REPORT.—Not later than 270 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Trade Representative shall submit to Congress a report on the progress of the Trade Representative in carrying out paragraph (1).

(c) TREATMENT BY UNITED STATES.—Not later than 270 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, if the Trade Representative determines that substantial progress has not been made toward securing the changes described in subsection (b), the Trade Representative shall, as the Trade Representative considers appropriate, no longer treat as a developing country for the purposes of the WTO agreement that, in the judgment of the Trade Representative, is improperly declaring itself a developing country and inappropriately seeking the benefit of flexibilities in the rules and negotiations at the WTO.

(d) PUBLICATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 270 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Trade Representative shall publish on an internet website of the Office of the United States Trade Representative a list of all self-declared developing countries for which the Trade Representative determines are inappropriately seeking the benefit of developing-country flexibilities in the rules and negotiations of the WTO.

(2) UPDATE.—The Trade Representative shall update the list under paragraph (1) not less frequently than annually.

(e) DEFINITIONS.—In this section, the terms “World Trade Organization”, “WTO”, and “WTO member” have the meanings given those terms in section 1 of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act (19 U.S.C. 3501).

SA 1968. Mr. CORNYN (for himself, Mr. KELLY, Mr. RUBIO, and Mr. PETERS) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation; a strategy for a critical supply chain resiliency program; and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

SEC. 2621A. TRANSITION STRATEGY FOR THE INTERNATIONAL SPACE STATION.

(a) In General.—Not later than 360 days after the date of the enactment of this division, the Administrator shall submit to the appropriate committees of Congress a strategy that:

(1) describes the manner in which the Administration will ensure a stepwise transition to an eventual successor platform consistent with the ISS Transition Principles specified in the International Space Station Transition Report issued pursuant to section 5011(c)(2) of title 51, United States Code, on March 30, 2015;

(2) includes capability-driven milestones and timelines leading to such a transition;

(3) takes into account the importance of maintaining spaceflight expertise, core capabilities, and continuity at the centers of the Administration, including such centers that are primarily focused on human spaceflight;

(4) provides a transition plan consistent with paragraph (1) that affects international and commercial partnerships;

(5) presents opportunities for future engagement with—

(A) international partners;

(B) countries with growing spaceflight capabilities, if such engagement is not precluded by other provisions of law;

(C) the scientific community, including the microgravity research community;

(D) the private sector; and

(E) other United States Government users; and

(6) promotes the continued economic development of low-Earth orbit.

(b) IMPLEMENTATION PLAN.—The strategy required by subsection (a) shall include an implementation plan describing the manner in which the Administration plans to carry out such strategy.

(c) REPORT.—Not less frequently than biennially, the Administrator shall submit to the appropriate committees of Congress a report on the implementation of the strategy required by subsection (a).

On page 523, line 8, strike “2625” and insert “2626”.

On page 526, line 16, strike “2626” and insert “2625”.

SEC. 2621A. HUMAN SPACE FACILITIES IN AND BEYOND LOW-EARTH ORBIT.

(a) Sense of Congress.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the Administration of the Exploration investment should play a significant role in the long-term pursuit by the Administration of the exploration goals under section 2621(a) of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Authorization Act of 2010 (42 U.S.C. 13112(a));

(b) Report on Crewed and Uncrewed Human Spaceflight.—

(1) In General.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this division, the Administrator shall submit to the appropriate committees of Congress a report on the potential development of 1 or more human space facilities.

(2) Contents.—With respect to the potential development of each human space facility referred to in paragraph (1), the report required under such paragraph shall include a description of the following:

(A) The capacity of the human space facility to advance, enable, or complement human exploration of the solar system, including human exploration of the atmosphere and the surfaces of planets.

(B) The role of the human space facility as a staging, logistics, and operations hub in exploration.

(C) The capacity of the human space facility to support the research, development, testing, validation, operation, and launch of space exploration systems and technologies.

(D) The importance of workforce expertise and core capabilities at NASA centers, including NASA centers that are primarily focused on human spaceflight, in the development of structures and systems for each human space facility.

(E) Opportunities and strategies for commercial operators of public-private partnerships with respect to the human space facility that protect taxpayer interests and foster competition.

(F) The role of the human space facility in encouraging further crewed and uncrewed exploration investments.

(G) The manner in which the development and maintenance of the International Space Station would reduce the cost of, and time necessary for, the development of the human space facility.

On page 551, strike lines 17 and 18 and insert the following:

On page 583, between lines 2 and 3, insert the following:

(e) Report on Research and Development Relating to Life-Sustaining Technical Systems and Plan for Achieving Power Supply.—Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this division, the Administrator shall submit to the appropriate committees of Congress a report on the research and development of the Administration relating to technical systems for the self-sufficient sustainment of life in and beyond low-Earth orbit; and

(2) a 10-year plan for achieving a power supply on the Moon that includes—

(A) a consideration of the resources necessary to accomplish such plan;

(B) collaboration and input from industry and the Department of Energy;

(C) the use of a variety of types of energy, including solar and nuclear; and

(D) a detailed description of the resources necessary for the Administration to build a lunar power generation and maintenance requirements during the subsequent 10-year period.
SA 1971. Mr. VAN HOLLEN (for himself and Ms. MURKOWSKI) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes: which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

TITLE — NATIONAL FAB LAB NETWORK

SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE.
This title may be cited as the “National Fab Lab Network Act of 2021”.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.
Congress finds the following:
(1) Scientific discoveries and technical innovations are critical to the economic and national security of the United States.
(2) Maintaining the leadership of the United States in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics will require a diverse population, with the skills, interest, and access to tools required to advance these fields.
(3) Just as earlier digital revolutions in communication, computation, and visualization provided individuals with the internet and personal computers, a digital revolution in fabrication will allow anyone to make almost anything anywhere.
(4) These creations include elements of a typical household basket of goods (furnishings, apparel, food production equipment, transportation, the education, personal communication, recreation, and other goods and services), personal technology, means for personal expression, the production of digital fabrication machinery, community design, and manufacturing capability.
(5) The Center for Bits and Atoms of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (CBA) has contributed significantly to the advancement of these goals through its work in creating and advancing digital fabrication facilities, or “fab labs” in the United States and abroad.
(6) Such digital fabrication facilities may include Makerspaces, Hackerspaces, and other digital fabrication that use digital fabrication as a platform for education, innovation, entrepreneurship, personal expression, public access, and social impact.
(7) Such digital fabrication facilities provide a model for a new kind of national laboratory that operates as a network, linking local facilities for advanced manufacturing, providing universal access, cultivating new literacies, and empowering communities.
(8) The nonprofit Fab Foundation was established to support the growth of the international network of digital fabrication facilities, to amplify the educational, entrepreneurial, and social impacts of digital fabrication facilities, and to support the development of regional capacity building organizations to broaden impact as well as address local, regional, and global challenges through the use of digital fabrication technologies.
(9) A coordinated array of national public-private partnerships will be the most effective way to establish the provision of universal access to this infrastructure for workforce development, science, technology, engineering, and mathematics education, developing businesses producing personalized products, and mitigating risks.

SEC. 3. DEFINITION OF FAB LAB.
In this title, the term “fab lab” means a facility that—
(1) contains the range of capabilities required to create and function from digital designs, including—
(A) computer-controlled machines for additive and subtractive fabrication processes; (B) tools as for manufacturing and programming electronic circuits; (C) materials and methods for short-run production; and (D) workflows for three-dimensional design and digitization; and
(2) is committed to supporting education, innovation, entrepreneurship, personal expression, self-sufficiency, and social impact for its community through digital fabrication.

SEC. 4. ESTABLISHMENT.
There is hereby established a nonprofit corporation to be known as the “National Fab Lab Network” (in this title referred to as the “corporation”), which shall not be an agency or establishment of the United States Government. The corporation shall be subject to the provisions of this title, and, to the extent consistent with this title, to the District of Columbia Nonprofit Corporation Act (D.C. Code, section 29-501 et seq.).

SEC. 5. GOALS AND ACTIVITIES.
(a) Goals.—The goals of the corporation are as follows:
(1) To provide universal access to digital fabrication;
(2) To foster current and future fab labs;
(3) To create a national network of connected local fab labs to empower individuals and communities in the United States;
(4) To foster the use of distributed digital fabrication tools—
(A) to promote science, technology, engineering and math skills;
(B) to increase innovation and invention;
(C) to create businesses and jobs;
(D) to fulfill personal, professional, and community needs;
(E) to create value and mitigate harm;
(F) to increase self-sufficiency for individuals, households, and communities; and
(G) to align workforce development with new and emerging technologies;
(5) To provide a platform for education, research, and for catalyzing new methods in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics education and digital fabrication as an essential new literacy.
(6) To create new ways of educating the workforce that will enable workers to compete in a 21st century global marketplace.
(b) Activities.—To attain the goals described in subsection (a), the corporation shall carry out activities, including the following:
(1) Seeking to establish a minimum of one fab lab in each Congressional District, prioritizing underserved communities.
(2) Seeking to establish lab within the network created under subsection (a)(3), in response to local demand, and to provide guidelines for their sustainable operation.
(3) Linking fab labs into a national network, and promoting further expansion of fab labs across the United States.
(4) Serving as a resource to assist diverse public and private stakeholders with the effective operation of fab labs, and the training of fab lab leaders and mentors.
(5) Maintaining a national registry of fab labs.
(6) Providing standards and protocols for connecting fab labs regionally, nationally, and globally.
(7) Assisting existing fab labs in producing additional fab labs.

SEC. 6. MEMBERSHIP AND ORGANIZATION.
Except as provided in this title, eligibility for membership in the corporation and the rights and privileges of members shall be in accordance with the laws governing tax exempt organizations in the District of Columbia.

SEC. 7. GOVERNING BODY.
(a) In General.—Except as provided in subsection (b), directors, officers, and other agents of the corporation, and their powers and duties, shall be in accordance with the laws governing tax exempt organizations in the District of Columbia.
(b) Board Membership.—
(1) Composition.—The board of the corporation shall be composed of not fewer than 7 members and not more than 15 members.
(2) Representation.—(A) In General.—The membership of the board of the corporation shall collectively represent the diversity of fab labs.
(B) Requirement.—At a minimum, the board of the corporation shall be composed of members from geographic regions across the United States, Tribal communities, educational and research communities, nonprofit and commercial organizations, diverse demographic groups, and the Fab Foundation.

SEC. 8. POWERS.
The corporation may—
(1) coordinate the creation of a national network of local fab labs in the United States;
(2) issue guidelines for the sustainable operation of fab labs;
(3) issue standards and guidelines for fab labs;
(4) serve as a resource for organizations and communities seeking to create fab labs by providing information, advising suitably, advising on the lab lifecycle, and maintaining descriptions of prospective and operating sites;
(5) accept funds from private individuals, organizations, government agencies, or other organizations;
(6) distribute funds to other organizations to establish and operate fab labs as members of the corporation;
(7) facilitate communication between other organizations seeking to join the corporation with operational entities that can source and implement fab labs, provide training, assist with operations, account for spending, and assess impact;
(8) communicate the benefits available through membership in the corporation to communities and the public;
(9) facilitate and participate in synergistic programs, including workforce training, job creation, and research for the enabling technology and broader impacts of such programs, and the production of civic infrastructure;
(10) develop processes and methods to mitigate risks associated with digital fabrication;
(11) amend a constitution and bylaws for the management of its property and the regulation of its affairs;
(12) choose directors, officers, trustees, managers, employees, and agents as the activities of the corporation require;
(13) make contracts;
(14) acquire, own, lease, encumber, and transfer property or instruments necessary to carry out the purposes of the corporation;
(15) borrow money, issue instruments of indebtedness, and secure its obligations by granting security interests in its property;
(16) charge and collect membership dues and subscription fees; and
(17) sue and be sued.

SEC. 9. EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO NAME, TERM, SEALS, EMBLEMS, AND BADGES.

The corporation and its participating digital fabrication labs have the exclusive right to use—
(1) the name “National Fab Lab Network”; and
(2) any seals, emblems, and badges the corporation adopts.

SEC. 10. RESTRICTIONS.

(a) STOCK AND DIVIDENDS.—The corporation may not issue securities of any kind or declare a dividend.
(b) DISTRIBUTION OF INCOME OR ASSETS.—The income or assets of the corporation may not inure to the benefit of, or be distributed to, a director, officer, or member during the life of the corporation under this title. This subsection does not prevent the payment of reasonable compensation to an officer or reimbursement for actual necessary expenses in amounts approved by the board of directors.
(c) LOANS.—The corporation may not make a loan to a director, officer, or employee.
(d) CLAIM OF GOVERNMENTAL APPROVAL OR AUTHORITY.—The corporation may not claim governmental approval or the authority of the United States Government for any of its activities, but may recognize establishment of the corporation pursuant to section 4 of this title.

SEC. 11. RECORDS AND INSPECTION.

(a) RECORDS.—The corporation shall keep—
(1) correct and complete records of account;
(2) minutes of the proceedings of its members, board of directors, and committees having any of the authority of its board of directors; and
(3) at its principal office, a record of the names and addresses of its members entitled to vote.
(b) INSPECTIONS.—A member entitled to vote, or an agent or attorney of the member, may inspect the records of the corporation for any proper purpose, at any reasonable time.

SEC. 12. ANNUAL REPORT.

Not less frequently than once each year, the corporation shall submit to Congress, including specifically to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate and the Committee on Science, Space, and Technology of the House of Representatives, a report on the activities of the corporation during the prior fiscal year.

SA 1972. Mr. CARDIN (for himself, Mr. WITKOWSK, Ms. CANTWELL, and Mr. SCOTT of South Carolina) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1260, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation to establish a regional technology hub program, to require a strategy and report on economic security, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resiliency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

SECTION 1. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:
(1) During times of economic downturn or recession, communities of color, and businesses within those communities, are generally more adversely affected.
(2) Despite the growth in the number of minority business enterprises, gaps remain with respect to key metrics for those enterprises, such as access to capital, number of employees, and survival rate. Specifically—
(A) according to the 2021 Small Business Credit Survey of the Federal Reserve Banks, Black-owned and Latino-owned employer businesses are more than 2 and 1.5 times more likely to be denied loans, respectively, than White-owned employer businesses;
(B) according to the Bureau of the Census, the average non-minority business enterprise reports revenue that is more than 3 times higher than revenue reported by the average minority business enterprise; and
(C) according to the Kauffman Foundation,
(i) minority business enterprises are ½ as likely to employ individuals, as compared with non-minority business enterprises; and
(ii) if minorities started and owned businesses at the same rate as non-minorities, the economy of the United States would have more than 1,000,000 additional employer businesses and more than 9,500,000 additional jobs.
(3) Because of the conditions described in paragraph (2), it is in the interest of the United States and the economy of the United States to expeditiously ameliorate the disparities that minority business enterprises experience.
(4) Many individuals who own minority business enterprises are socially disadvantaged because those individuals identify as members of certain groups that have suffered the effects of discriminatory practices or similar circumstances over which those individuals have no control, including individuals who are—
(A) Black or African American;
(B) Hispanic or Latino;
(C) American Indian or Alaska Native;
(D) Asian; and
(E) Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islander.
(5) Discriminatory practices and similar circumstances described in paragraph (4) are a significant determinant of overall economic disadvantage in the United States.
(6) It is in the interest of Congress to address the persistent racial wealth gap in the United States and to support entrepreneurship as a pathway to wealth development.
(7) While other Federal agencies focus only on small businesses and businesses that represent a broader demographic than solely minority business enterprises, the Agency focuses exclusively on—
(A) the unique needs of minority business enterprises; and
(B) enhancing the capacity of minority business enterprises.

(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this division are to—
(1) require the Agency to promote and administer programs in the public and private sectors to assist the development of minority business enterprises;
(2) achieve the development described in paragraph (1) by authorizing the Under Secretary to carry out programs that will result in increased access to capital, management, and technology for minority business enterprises.
In this division:

1. AGENCY.—The term “Agency” means the Minority Business Development Agency of the Department of Commerce.

2. COMMUNITY-BASED ORGANIZATION.—The term “community-based organization” has the meaning given the term in section 6121 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 7301). The term “community-based organization” includes a regional office of the Agency for each of the 12 regions, a regional office of the Agency for each of the 50 States, and an agency of a political subdivision of a State determined by the Under Secretary to be an area of economic distress.

   (A) is established by the Agency; and

   (B) provides technical business assistance to minority business enterprises consistent with the requirements of this division.

11. MBDA BUSINESS CENTER AGREEMENT.—The term “MBDA Business Center agreement” means a legal instrument—

   (A) reflecting a relationship between the Agency and the recipient of a Federal assistance award that is the subject of the instrument; and

   (B) that establishes the terms by which the recipient described in subparagraph (A) shall operate an MBDA Business Center.

12. MINORITY BUSINESS ENTERPRISE.—

   (A) In general.—The term “minority business enterprise” means a business enterprise—

   (i) that is not less than 51 percent-owned by 1 or more socially or economically disadvantaged individuals;

   (ii) the management and daily business operations of which are controlled by 1 or more socially or economically disadvantaged individuals; and

   (B) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in subparagraph (A) may be construed to exclude a business enterprise from qualifying as a “minority business enterprise” under that subparagraph because of—

   (i) the status of the business enterprise as a for-profit, for-profit-for-profit enterprise; or

13. PRIVATE SECTOR ENTITY.—The term “private sector entity” means—

   (A) an entity that is not a public sector entity; and

   (B) does not include—

   (i) the Federal Government;

   (ii) any Federal agency; or

   (iii) any instrumentality of the Federal Government.

14. PUBLIC SECTOR ENTITY.—The term “public sector entity” means—

   (A) a State;

   (B) an agency of a State; or

   (C) a political subdivision of a State.

15. SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of Commerce.

16. SOCIOECONOMICALLY ADVANTAGED BUSINESS CONCERN.—The term “socially or economically disadvantaged business concern” means a minority business enterprise with at least—

   (A) that is less than 51 percent owned by 1 or more socially or economically disadvantaged individuals; or

   (B) that is socially or economically disadvantaged.

17. SOCIOECONOMICALLY ADVANTAGED INDIVIDUAL.—The term “socially or economically disadvantaged individual” means an individual who has been subjected to racial or ethnic prejudice or cultural bias (or the ability of whom to compete in the free enterprise system has been impaired due to diminished capital and credit opportunities, as compared to others in the same line of business and competitive market area) because of the identity of the individual as a member of a group, without regard to any individual quality of the individual that is unrelated to that identity.

18. SPcialty Center.—The term “specialty center” means any business center that—

   (A) includes a specialty in areas of technology transfer; or

19. STATE.—The term “State” means—

   (A) each of the States of the United States; or

   (B) any other area determined necessary or appropriate based on the priorities of the Agency.

20. STATE.—The term “State” means—

   (A) each of the States of the United States; (B) the District of Columbia; (C) the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico; (D) the United States Virgin Islands; or (E) Guam.

21. STATE.—The term “State” means—

   (A) each of the States of the United States; or

   (B) any other area determined necessary or appropriate based on the priorities of the Agency.

22. STATE.—The term “State” means—

   (A) each of the States of the United States; or

   (B) any other area determined necessary or appropriate based on the priorities of the Agency.
(iii) being aware of business retention or expansion programs that are specific to that region;

TITLE I—EXISTING INITIATIVES

Subtitle A—Market Development, Research, and Information

SEC. 7101. PRIVATE SECTOR DEVELOPMENT.

The Under Secretary shall, whenever the Under Secretary determines such action is necessary or appropriate—

(1) provide Federal assistance to minority business enterprises operating in domestic and foreign markets by making available to those business enterprises, either directly or in cooperation with private sector entities, including community-based organizations and national nonprofit organizations—

(A) resources relating to management;

(B) programs offering assistance relating to—

(i) technology;

(ii) law;

(iii) financial, legal, and marketing services; and

(iv) marketing, including community-based organizations and national nonprofit organizations, to increase the share of any market activity being performed by minority business enterprises; and

(2) facilitate the efforts of private sector entities to establish or enhance—

(A) minority business enterprises to operate MBDA Business Centers, and

(B) in cooperation with public sector entities, including community-based organizations and national nonprofit organizations, to increase the position of minority business enterprises in the local economies of those public sector entities, including by assisting public sector entities to establish or enhance—

(i) programs to procure goods and services through minority business enterprises and goals for that procurement;

(ii) programs offering assistance relating to—

(A) access capital, contracts, and grants; and

(B) create and maintain jobs;

(iii) counseling and mentoring to minority business enterprises; and

(iv) facilitate the growth of minority business enterprises by promoting trade.

SEC. 7102. PUBLIC SECTOR DEVELOPMENT.

The Under Secretary shall, whenever the Under Secretary determines such action is necessary or appropriate—

(1) consult and cooperate with public sector entities for the purpose of leveraging resources available in the jurisdictions of those public sector entities to promote the position of minority business enterprises in the local economies of those public sector entities, including by assisting public sector entities to establish or enhance—

(A) programs to procure goods and services through minority business enterprises and goals for that procurement;

(B) programs offering assistance relating to—

(i) management;

(ii) technology;

(iii) law;

(iv) financing, including accounting;

(v) marketing; and

(vi) workforce development; and

(C) financial programs designed to inform minority business enterprises located in the jurisdictions of those public sector entities about the availability of programs described in this section;

(2) meet with leaders and officials of public sector entities for the purpose of recommending and promoting local administrative and legislative initiatives needed to advance the position of minority business enterprises in the local economies of those public sector entities;

and

(3) facilitate the efforts of public sector entities and Federal agencies to advance the growth of minority business enterprises.

SEC. 7103. RESEARCH AND INFORMATION.

(a) In General.—In order to achieve the purpose of this division, the Under Secretary—

(1) shall—

(A) collect and analyze data, including data relating to the causes of the success or failure of minority business enterprises;

(B) conduct research, studies, and surveys of—

(i) economic conditions generally in the United States; and

(ii) how the conditions described in clause (i) particularly affect the development of minority business enterprises; and

(C) provide outreach, educational services, and technical assistance in, at a minimum, the 5 most commonly spoken languages in the United States to ensure that limited-English proficient individuals receive culturally and linguistically appropriate access to the services and information provided by the Agency; and

(2) may perform an evaluation of programs carried out by the Under Secretary that are established under section 7101.

(b) INFORMATION CLEARINGHOUSE.—The Under Secretary shall—

(1) establish and maintain an information clearinghouse for the collection and dissemination to relevant parties (including business owners and researchers) of demographic, economic, financial, managerial, and technical data relating to minority business enterprises; and

(2) take such steps as the Under Secretary may determine to be necessary and desirable to—

(A) search for, collect, classify, coordinate, integrate, record, and catalog the data described in paragraph (1); and

(B) in a manner that is consistent with section 552a of title 5, United States Code, protect the privacy of the minority business enterprises to which the data described in paragraph (1) relates.

Subtitle B—Minority Business Development Agency Business Center Program

SEC. 7111. DEFINITION.

In this subtitle, the term "MBDA Business Center Program" means the program established under section 7113.

SEC. 7112. PURPOSE.

The purpose of the MBDA Business Center Program shall be to create a national network of public-private partnerships that—

(1) assist minority business enterprises to—

(A) access capital, contracts, and grants; and

(B) create and maintain jobs;

(2) provide counseling and mentoring to minority business enterprises; and

(3) facilitate the growth of minority business enterprises by promoting trade.

SEC. 7113. ESTABLISHMENT.

(a) In General.—There is established in the Agency a program—

(1) that shall be known as the MBDA Business Center Program;

(2) that shall be separate and distinct from the efforts of the Under Secretary under section 7101; and

(3) under which the Under Secretary shall make Federal assistance awards to eligible entities to operate MBDA Business Centers, which shall, in accordance with section 7114, provide technical assistance and business development services, or specialty services, to minority business enterprises.

(b) COVERAGE.—The Under Secretary shall take all necessary actions to ensure that the MBDA Business Center Program, in accordance with section 7114, offers the services described in subsection (a)(3) in all regions of the United States.

SEC. 7114. GRANTS AND COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS.

(a) REQUIREMENTS.—An MBDA Business Center (referred to in this subtitle as a "Center"), with respect to the Federal financial assistance award made to operate the Center under the MBDA Business Center Program—

(1) shall—

(A) provide to minority business enterprises programs and services determined to be appropriate by the Under Secretary, which may include—

(i) financial services to meet the needs of minority business enterprises; and

(ii) programs and services to accomplish the goals described in section 7101(1); (B) develop, cultivate, and maintain a network of strategic partnerships with organizations that foster access by minority business enterprises to economic markets, capital, or contracts;

(C) continue to upgrade and modify the services provided by the Center, as necessary, in order to meet the changing and evolving needs of the business community;

(D) establish or continue a referral relationship with not less than 1 community-based organization; and

(E) collaborate with other Centers; and

(2) in providing programs and services under the applicable MBDA Business Center agreement, may—

(A) operate on a fee-for-service basis; or

(B) generate income through the collection of—

(i) client fees;

(ii) membership fees; and

(iii) any other appropriate fees proposed by the Center in the application submitted by the Center under subsection (d) of section 7113.

(b) TERM.—Subject to subsection (g)(3), the term of an MBDA Business Center agreement shall be not less than 3 years.

(c) FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE.—

(1) In General.—The amount of financial assistance provided by the Under Secretary under an MBDA Business Center agreement shall be not less than $250,000 for the term of the agreement.

(2) MATCHING REQUIREMENT.—

(A) In General.—A Center shall match not less than 1/5 of the amount of the financial assistance awarded to the Center under the terms of the applicable MBDA Business Center agreement, unless the Under Secretary determines that a waiver of that requirement is necessary after a demonstration by the Center of a substantial need for that waiver.

(B) FORM OF FUNDS.—A Center may meet the matching requirement under subparagraph (A) by using—

(i) cash or in-kind contributions, without regard to whether the contribution is made by a third party; or

(ii) Federal funds received from other Federal programs.

(3) USE OF FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE AND PROGRAM INCOME.—A Center shall use—

(A) all financial assistance awarded to the Center under the applicable MBDA Business Center agreement to carry out subsection (a); and

(B) all income that the Center generates in carrying out subsection (a)—

(i) to meet the matching requirement under paragraph (2) of this subsection; and

(ii) in order to meet the matching requirement under paragraph (2) of this subsection, to carry out subsection (a).

(d) CRITERIA FOR SELECTION.—The Under Secretary shall—

(1) establish criteria that—

(A) the Under Secretary shall use in determining whether to enter into an MBDA Business Center agreement with an eligible entity; and

(B) may include criteria relating to whether an eligible entity is located in an area, the population of which is composed of not less than 51 percent socially or economically disadvantaged individuals, as

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — SENATE
TITLE II—NEW INITIATIVES TO PROMOTE ECONOMIC RESILIENCY FOR MINORITY BUSINESSES

SEC. 7201. ANNUAL DIVERSE BUSINESS FORUM ON CAPITAL MUNICIPALITIES.

(a) RESPONSIBILITY OF AGENCY.—Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the Under Secretary shall conduct a Government-business forum to assess the current status of problems and programs related to capital formation by minority business enterprises.

(b) PARTICIPATION IN FORUM PLANNING.—The Under Secretary shall invite the heads of other Federal agencies, such as the Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, organizations representing State securities commissioners, representatives of leading minority chambers of commerce, not less than 1 certified owner of a minority business enterprise, business organizations, and professional organizations concerned with capital formation to participate in the planning of each forum conducted under subsection (a).

(2) PREPARATION OF STATEMENTS AND REPORTS.—

(1) REQUESTS.—The Under Secretary may request that any head of a Federal department, agency, or organization, or any of those described in subsection (b), or any other group or individual, prepare a statement or report to be delivered at any forum conducted under subsection (a).

(2) COOPERATION.—Any head of a Federal department, agency, or organization who receives a request under paragraph (1) shall, to the extent practicable, cooperate with the Under Secretary to fulfill that request.

(3) TRANSMITTAL OF PROCEEDINGS AND FINDINGS.—The Under Secretary shall—

(1) prepare a summary of the proceedings of each forum conducted under subsection (a), which shall include the findings and recommendations of the forum; and

(2) transmit the summary described in paragraph (1) with respect to each forum conducted under subsection (a) to—

(A) the participants in the forum;

(B) Congress; and

(C) the public, through a publicly available website.

SEC. 7202. AGENCY STUDY ON ALTERNATIVE FINANCING SOLUTIONS.

(a) REVIEW OF FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS; PUBLIC STATEMENTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—A Federal agency to which a finding or recommendation described in subsection (d) relates shall—

(A) review the finding or recommendation; and

(B) promptly after the finding or recommendation is transmitted under subsection (d)(2)(C), issue a public statement—

(i) assessing the finding or recommendation; and

(ii) disclosing the action, if any, the Federal agency intends to take with respect to the finding or recommendation.

(2) JOINT STATEMENT PERMITTED.—If a finding or recommendation described in subsection (d)(1) relates to more than 1 Federal agency, the applicable Federal agencies may, for the purposes of the public statement required under paragraph (1)(B), issue a joint statement.

SEC. 7115. MINIMIZING DISRUPTIONS TO EXISTING MBDA BUSINESS CENTER PROGRAM.

The Under Secretary shall ensure that each Federal assistance award made under the Business Centers program of the Agency, as in effect on the day before the date of enforcement of this Act, is carried out in a manner that, to the greatest extent practicable, prevents disruption of any activity carried out under that award.

SEC. 7116. PUBLICITY.

In carrying out the MBDA Business Center Program, the Under Secretary shall widely publicize the MBDA Business Center Program, including—

(1) on the website of the Agency;

(2) via social media outlets; and

(3) by sharing information relating to the MBDA Business Center Program with community-based organizations, including interpretation groups where necessary, to communicate in the most common languages spoken by the groups served by those organizations.
(b) STUDY AND REPORT.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Under Secretary shall—

(1) conduct a study on opportunities for providing technical and financial solutions to minority business enterprises; and

(2) submit to Congress, and publish on the website of the Agency, a report describing the findings of the study carried out under paragraph (1).

SEC. 7203. EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT RELATING TO MANAGEMENT AND ENTREPRENEURSHIP.

(a) DUTIES.—The Under Secretary shall, whenever the Under Secretary determines such action is necessary or appropriate—

(1) promote the education and training of socially or economically disadvantaged individuals in subjects directly relating to business administration and management;

(2) encourage institutions of higher education, leaders in business and industry, and other public sector entities and private sector entities, particularly minority business enterprises, to—

(A) develop programs to offer scholarships and fellowships, apprenticeships, and internships relating to business to socially or economically disadvantaged individuals; and

(B) sponsor seminars, conferences, and similar events relating to business in order to benefit socially or economically disadvantaged individuals;

(3) stimulate and accelerate curriculum design and delivery in support of the development of minority business enterprises; and

(4) encourage and assist private institutions and organizations and public sector entities to undertake activities similar to the activities described in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3).

Under Secretary $100,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2021 through 2025 to carry out this division:
(1) a majority shall be used in each such fiscal year to carry out the MBDA Business Center Program under subtitle B of title I, including the component of that program relating to specialty centers; and
(2) $10,000,000 shall be used in each such fiscal year to carry out title III.
SA 1973. Mr. MARSHALL submitted an amendment intended to be proposed in amendment SA 1502 proposed by Mr. SCHUMER to the bill S. 1290, to establish a new Directorate for Technology and Innovation in the National Science Foundation, to establish a regional technology hub and to require a strategy and report on economic securicy, science, research, innovation, manufacturing, and job creation, to establish a critical supply chain resil-liency program, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table;
as follows:
At the appropriate place, insert the following:
SEC. ______. FINDINGS AND SENSE OF THE SEN-ATE REGARDING AN INVESTIGATION TO DETERMINE THE ORIGINS OF COVID-19.
(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:
(1) COVID–19 has taken the lives of over 3,000,000 individuals around the world.
(2) Understanding the origins of the COVID–19 pandemic is essential to address-our vulnerabilities and preventing future crises.
(3) In May 2020, the World Health Assembly did not authorize the type of comprehensive investigation into the origins of COVID–19 that was required, and instead passed a sigificantly limited compromise resolution, with Chinese government support, which did not explicitly include in its scope the possibility of a research-related incident.
(4) The 2020 World Health Assembly resolution and its terms of reference, which were negotiated privately between the World Health Organization (in this section referred to as “WHO”) and Chinese authorities, handed the Chinese government control over the joint-study process by giving the Chinese government veto power over which international experts were allowed to participate in the joint study and by agreeing that most part of the research should be carried out by Chinese teams without ensuring broad access to primary data by international experts.
(5) As a result of these terms, the significance of structural, procedural, and practical shortcomings of the joint study, and the severe restrictions imposed by Chinese authorities, the WHO-convened joint study into the origins of COVID–19 was prevented from giving a balanced consideration of the multiple theories of the origin of COVID–19.
(6) Only 4 of the 313 pages of the joint-study team report and its annexes addressed the possibility of a laboratory accident, and no thorough examination of the lab incident hypothesis was carried out by the joint-study team.
(7) Some of the international experts on the joint-study team stated that they lacked the information and resources to investigate the research-related accident hypothesis, and they were neither able nor meant to do such a full investigation but instead were asked to do a “study review” with additional missions involving specialist experts, which I am ready to deploy.”
PRIVILEGES OF THE FLOOR

Mr. SCHUMER. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the following members from my personal office and Committee on Finance teams be granted floor privileges for the remainder of the Congress: Jake Pasner, Jonathan Beier, Erik Schnotala, Raghav Argarwal, and Marisa Dowling.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

MEASURES PLACED ON THE CALENDAR—S. 1775 and H.R. 3237

Mr. SCHUMER. Madam President, I understand there are two bills at the desk due for a second reading en bloc.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The leader is correct. The clerk will read the bills by title for the second time en bloc.

The senior assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (S. 1775) to address gun violence, improve the availability of records to the National Instant Criminal Background Check System, address mental illness in the criminal justice system, and end straw purchases and trafficking of illegal firearms, and for other purposes.

A bill (H.R. 3237) making emergency supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2021, and for other purposes.

Mr. SCHUMER. Madam President, in order to place the bills on the calendar under the provisions of rule XIV, I would object to further proceeding en bloc.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection having been heard, the bills will be placed on the calendar.

CONGRATULATING THE STUDENTS, PARENTS, TEACHERS, AND LEADERS OF CHARTER SCHOOLS ACROSS THE UNITED STATES FOR MAKING ONGOING CONTRIBUTIONS TO EDUCATION, AND SUPPORTING THE IDEAS AND GOALS OF THE 22ND ANNUAL NATIONAL CHARTER SCHOOLS WEEK, TO BE HELD MAY 9 THROUGH MAY 15, 2021

Mr. SCHUMER. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the consideration of S. Res. 231, submitted earlier today.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the resolution by title.

The senior assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

A resolution (S. Res. 231) expressing support for the designation of May 17, 2021, as “DIPG Pediatric Brain Cancer Awareness Day” to raise awareness of and encourage research on diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors and pediatric cancers in general.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the resolution.

Mr. SCHUMER. I ask unanimous consent that the resolution be agreed to, the preamble be agreed to, and that the motions to reconsider be considered made and laid upon the table with no intervening action or debate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The resolution (S. Res. 231) was agreed to.

The preamble was agreed to.

ORDERS FOR TUESDAY, MAY 25, 2021

Mr. SCHUMER. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it adjourn until 10 a.m., Tuesday, May 25; that following the prayer and pledge, the morning hour be deemed expired, the Journal of proceedings be approved to date, the time for the two leaders be reserved for their use later in the day, and morning business be closed; further, upon the conclusion of morning business, the Senate proceed to executive session to resume consideration of Executive Calendar No. 117, Chiquita Brooks-LaSure, to be Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, postcloture; further, that all time in the Brooks-LaSure nomination be considered expired at 11:45 a.m.; that the Senate recess following the cloture vote on the Clarke nomination until 2:15 p.m. to allow for the weekly caucus meetings; that if cloture is invoked on the Clarke nomination, all postcloture debate shall be continued at 2:30 p.m.; and finally, that if any of the nominations are confirmed, the motions to reconsider be considered made and laid upon the table and the President be immediately notified of the Senate’s action.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 10 A.M. TOMORROW

Mr. SCHUMER. If there is no further business to come before the Senate, I ask unanimous consent that it stand adjourned under the previous order.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 7:41 p.m., adjourned until Tuesday, May 25, 2021, at 10 a.m.
EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

SENATE COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Title IV of Senate Resolution 4, agreed to by the Senate of February 4, 1977, calls for establishment of a system for a computerized schedule of all meetings and hearings of Senate committees, subcommittees, joint committees, and committees of conference.
