DESIGNATION OF THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:

WASHINGTON, DC,
October 7, 2022.

I hereby appoint the Honorable ADAM B. SCHIFF to act as Speaker pro tempore on this day.

NANCY PELOSI,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, the Reverend Margaret Grun Kibben, offered the following prayer:

All that we are and all that we have comes from You, O God. You have graced us with life, abundant with love and abounding with opportunity. All we need do is look around and we can, with our whole being, see, hear, smell, taste, and touch Your generous gifts and know of Your extraordinary faithfulness to us.

With the psalmist, we sing Your praises:

Our love, Lord, reaches to the heavens, Your faithfulness to the skies. Your righteousness is like the highest mountains, Your justice like the great deep.

You, Lord, preserve both people and animals. How priceless is Your unfailing love, O God. People take refuge in the shadow of Your wings. They feast on the abundance of Your house. You give them drink from Your river of delights, for with You is the fountain of life. In Your light, we see light.

Lord, hear our deepest and heartfelt gratitude for all You have done for us and who You have made us to be.

May we live faithfully into these gifts.

By the power of Your name, we pray.
Amen.

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

TRIBUTE TO HOMETOWN HERO RONALD CRONIN

HON. BETH VAN DUYNÉ

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Ms. VAN DUYNÉ. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize a 15-year Dallas Police Department veteran, Officer Ronald Cronin.

Officer Cronin was recently presented with a Life-Saving Award from the Sons of the American Revolution for his courageous actions that stopped an active shooter at Dallas Love Field Airport in July.

Thinking of others before himself, Officer Cronin took swift action and put his life on the line to ensure the hundreds of Love Field travelers around him lived another day.

Just as the shooter pulled her firearm, Officer Cronin was on the scene, giving her loud verbal commands to drop the weapon.

Disregarding the verbal commands, she began firing her weapon at Officer Cronin and innocent bystanders. He quickly returned fire, hit the shooter, and held his position until fellow officers arrived to take the shooter into custody.

If it weren't for Officer Cronin's selfless acts of courage, this disturbing incident could have ended in tragedy. On behalf of the entire Dallas-Fort Worth community, I thank Officer Cronin for his actions that day and his 15 years of service with the Dallas Police Department.

RECOGNIZING RUTH ELLIS CLAIRMOUNT CENTER

HON. RASHIDA TLAIB

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Ms. TLAIB. Madam Speaker, today I want to recognize the outstanding work of the Ruth Ellis Center, based in Highland Park, Michigan, as they celebrate the grand opening of its Ruth Ellis Clairmount Center in Detroit. This expansion will allow Ruth Ellis Center to expand housing, access to healthcare, and community space for our most vulnerable LGBTQI+ youth in our district.

Founded in 1999, Ruth Ellis Center has established a national reputation for quality and innovation in providing trauma-informed services for lesbian, gay, bi-attractional, transgender and questioning (LGBTQ+) youth, and young adults, with an emphasis on young people of color, experiencing homelessness, involved in the child welfare system, and/or experiencing barriers to health and wellbeing for residents in Detroit. Its mission has remained true and continues to uplift and serve our communities. Ruth Ellis Center has implemented safe and supportive environments around young people to build their vision for a positive future. The Clairmount Center expands on that vision by providing an integrated health clinic at the housing center, while including access to a library, technical center, and much more. The Ruth Ellis Center goes above and beyond in its mission to ensuring access to holistic care and support services to one of the most underserved communities. I am proud to have secured direct investment for this critical work and project and I look forward to the continued partnership in serving our underserved.

Madam Speaker, please join me in recognizing the Ruth Ellis Center's numerous contributions on behalf of the people of southeast Michigan and the 13th District Strong as we congratulate them on the grand opening of the Clairmount Center.

HONORING STEVE KERR

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Steve Kerr in recognition of his contributions to gun violence prevention.

Mr. Kerr was born in Lebanon in 1965. His father Malcolm served as President of the American University of Beirut but was shot and killed by a militia known as Islamic Jihad in 1984. At only 18 years old, this event had a profound effect on Mr. Kerr and inspired his activism.

For over 30 years, Mr. Kerr has led an historic career in professional basketball, both as a player and a coach. In 1986, while attending the University of Arizona, Mr. Kerr competed in the FIBA World Championship and was drafted by the Phoenix Suns in 1988. Over the next 15 years, he played on seven teams and won five NBA titles. Mr. Kerr retired as a player in 2003 but returned to the NBA in 2014 as head coach of the Golden State Warriors. Since then, he has led the team to six NBA Finals and four championships—the most successful run in franchise history.

As someone well aware of the impact gun violence can have on families, Mr. Kerr has been especially involved in gun violence prevention. In the wake of mass shootings, including those in Parkland, Boulder, and Atlanta, Mr. Kerr used his platform as a leading figure in American sports to call for congressional action. During an NBA press conference in May 2022, Mr. Kerr once again spoke out to address the shooting at Robb Elementary School in Uvalde, Texas. He referred to gun violence as “a public health issue” in desperate need of both recognition and treatment. He has supported charities and organizations focused on passing legislation to reduce gun violence such as the Giffords Law Center, Brady, and Sandy Hook Promise. Mr. Kerr has been an important part of Rock the Ride, a benefit bike ride and walk to help end gun violence. He has also dedicated much of his time to the East Bay chapter of Live Free, a national racial justice network that has worked to reduce gun violence in Oakland.

Mr. Kerr is a proud father of three children, Nick, Maddy and Matthew, and a devoted husband to his wife, Margot.

Madam Speaker, we thank Mr. Kerr for his unwavering dedication to the fight against gun violence. Therefore, it is fitting and proper that we honor him here today.

HONORING TREVOR BRUNELL

HON. JEFFERSON VAN DREW

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. VAN DREW. Madam Speaker, last week, I had the pleasure of attending a ceremony and reception for Wounded Warrior Week in Mays Landing, South Jersey. At the event, Staff Sergeant Trevor Brunell, a United States Army Ranger, was honored for his service to our nation.

Trevor was born in Pennsylvania in 1993 and was raised in Maryland, where he graduated top of his high school class. After attending community college for a few months, he enlisted in the United States Army with a contract for training to become an Army Ranger. Following the basic ranger training, Trevor attended airborne school and then the Ranger Assessment and Selection Program. In the spring of 2014, once he had completed all the required trainings, he was assigned to Fort Benning, Georgia.

Trevor was deployed in the winter of 2014 to bravely serve our great nation in Afghanistan. In 2016, he sustained injuries in Afghanistan and underwent 33 surgeries, had a prosthetic leg installed below the knee, and spent 6 months bedridden. Miraculously, Trevor regained his strength and returned to Afghanistan in the winter of 2017. During his final deployment, he reinjured parts of his knee and underwent 10 more surgeries. In August of 2022, Trevor was medically discharged from the Army due to these injuries.

SSG Trevor Brunell is a brave and resilient patriot, and I want to thank him for his heroic service to our great nation. God Bless SSG Trevor Brunell, and God Bless our America.

HONORING YADIRA SANCHEZ FOR HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH

HON. DARREN SOTO

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. SOTO. Madam Speaker, Yadira Sanchez is currently serving as the executive director of Poder Latinx and is a co-founder of the organization, which focuses on civic and social justice and is dedicated to building a sustained progressive voting bloc of Latinxs in key states while strengthening the political power of the Latinx community. As the daughter of immigrant parents, Yadira grew up in a mixed-status home and learned about the inner workings of her community's upward battle. Her passion to advocate for families like hers led her to champion the work she is doing today in Florida and beyond, being a fierce advocate for economic, environmental, and immigrant justice.

Poder Latinx launched its efforts in 2019 in Orlando, Florida, and today has operations in four states. Since 2019, Poder Latinx has knocked on doors across Central Florida for voter registration and mobilization efforts, hosted community events and information sessions on economic, environmental, and immigrant justice, and tailored a culturally and language accessible message to inform and mobilize Central Florida's Latinx community. Most recently, the organization opened a second office in Central Florida located in Kissimmee to expand accessibility to the Latinx community. Yadira's steadfast commitment to Central Florida is present through all of the programs Poder Latinx executes.

Yadira earned her bachelor's degree from the University of California at Santa Barbara, and her master's degree from the George Washington University. She previously served as the development director for Mi Familia Vota, where she helped raise over $20 million and expanded strategic partnerships with major organizations to increase year-round civic participation efforts within the Latinx community. She was also proud to support the Fast for Families campaign for immigration reform during her time in the immigration department at the SEIU.

TRIBUTE TO MARK KELLAM

HON. ADAM B. SCHIFF

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. SCHIFF. Madam Speaker, I rise today in memory of a constituent of mine, Mark Kellam, who passed away on September 27, 2022. Mark was one of my district's pre-eminent newsmen—a veteran chronicler and good government watchdog, but most importantly, a neighbor, mentor and friend who fiercely loved his community and was deeply kind.

Mark was born in New Castle, Indiana, to the late Josephine and James Kellam, and from the very beginning appeared destined for a career in storytelling. At Tri Junior Senior High School, he excelled in just about every expression of the narrative form: as a theater kid, a prizewinning speech competitor, and editor of the yearbook. While his talents and passions varied widely, his callings ultimately coalesced around a bachelor's degree in journalism, which he obtained from Indiana University in 1984.

After more than a decade of reporting for his hometown paper and throughout the Midwest, Mark's yearning for adventure drew him westward to Chino, California. It was in California that Mark met the love of his life, Jeffrey Waack, and in 2004 Mark moved to West Hollywood to be with him. This cultural capital in my district was the setting for their many beautiful years together, including spending time in landmark establishments like Micky's, the Revolver Video Bar, and Basix. The latter is where Mark proposed to Jeff, and as soon as same-sex marriage became legal in California in 2008, they were wed at Kings Road Park.

As a new Angeleno, Mark quickly rose through the ranks of esteemed local publications like the Los Angeles Daily News and the Los Angeles Times Community News, where he was the city editor for the Glendale News-Press and Burbank Leader leading a team of reporters and editors, and mentoring many young staff who came through its doors. Most recently, he took the helm locally for the Outlook News Group. It was during these times that I got to know and talk with Mark often, and came to appreciate the intense kindness and heart he applied to his craft. Journalism—especially local journalism—is a hard business, but Mark made it seem effortless despite the hours he spent behind the scenes bringing countless stories to life.

Though his journalism career was legendary, so too were his pursuits of those many talents and passions acquired in his youth. Mark was a renowned karaoke singer, a longtime member of the L.A. Wranglers country dance group, and a wonderful playwright whose work was produced in New York, Dayton, and Indianapolis. He loved cats, the ocean, and traveling with Jeff and their friends.

Mark's legacy will live on through his masterful stories, as well as those of the many young reporters he mentored over the years. And it will live on through all those whose lives he touched with his unwavering warmth, humor, and heart.

Madam Speaker, I ask all Members to join me in offering my sincerest condolences to Mark's husband, Jeff, and his loving family, friends, and readers across my district, and in remembering Mark Kellam for his service to West Hollywood, Glendale, Burbank, Los Angeles, and beyond.

Mr. CASTRO of Texas. Madam Speaker, I rise to celebrate the 50th anniversary of UT Health San Antonio's Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences (GSBS). For decades, GSBS has led our nation in educating future biomedical professionals. Please join me in recognizing its extraordinary achievements.

Since October 21, 1972, GSBS has produced more than 4,000 graduates who are working worldwide in academia, the sciences, and other key industries. The school offers 21 academic programs and serves students from across the nation, with a particular focus on students from underrepresented backgrounds and economically-disadvantaged groups. GSBS programs are designed to provide a foundation of knowledge and scientific inquiry in the pursuit of educating students in contemporary areas of the biomedical sciences.

GSBS faculty work on cutting-edge research in areas such as cancer, heart disease, and neurogenerative disorders. GSBS is one of only 11 institutions with National Institutes of Health (NIH)-funded Doctor of Dental Surgery/Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Medicine/Doctor of Philosophy combined degrees.

Madam Speaker, UT Health San Antonio's Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences (GSBS) is a pillar of our extraordinary community. GSBS will continue to remain at the forefront of scientific exploration. I congratulate GSBS on their 50th anniversary year. I look forward to seeing the many great things GSBS and its students will accomplish in the years to come.

RECOGNIZING PRESIDENT BARRY DUNN

HON. DUSTY JOHNSON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. JOHNSON of South Dakota. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and honor President Barry Dunn of South Dakota State University for winning the Harold W. McGraw Jr. Prize in Education. This award is a testament to the progress President Dunn has made during his tenure to improve academic access and success in Indian Country through the Wokini Initiative and the New Beginnings Initiative. Education is an undisputed path to better career prospects and is vital to those in Indian Country facing staggering unemployment rates.

Investing in recruitment, retention, and graduation of Tribal students is a critical step to helping them participate in the American economy and the American Dream. I am proud that I, along with my colleagues, have been able to successfully secure Federal funding for the New Beginnings Initiative during my time in Congress.

Madam Speaker, the Harold W. McGraw, Jr. Prize in Education is one of the most competitive and prestigious awards in education. I ask that my colleagues join me in congratulating President Barry Dunn for this remarkable achievement.

CELEBRATING 25 YEARS OF AMIGOS BLOCK WATCH

HON. RUBEN GALLEGOS

OF ARIZONA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. GALLEGOS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Amigos Block Watch, which will celebrate its 25th anniversary this month.

Amigos Block Watch was formed by a group of community members in Phoenix who work together to minimize crime in their neighborhoods. For 25 years, Amigos Block Watch has hosted community meetings where individuals can voice their concerns or questions, helping provide resources from community action officers and keeping the Phoenix City Council informed. Amigos Block Watch also hosts events that bring the community together, building a more inclusive city. They are also active in using their social media to promote educational and work opportunities for residents, while continuing to encourage those in the area to get involved and stay updated on impactful safety issues.

For so many years, Amigos Block Watch has been ensuring everybody feels safe in their community. They have lived up to their message of "One Neighborhood, One Family". Their community efforts continue to provide free resources and support to those in need, and they continue to advocate for the members of the community while never backing down from the fight to create neighborhoods where all feel safe.

I would like to again congratulate Amigos Block Watch on their 25th anniversary. I hope Phoenix has this incredible organization for decades to come.

HONORING THE 45TH ANNIVERSARY OF SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY COLLEGE

HON. CONNIE CONWAY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Ms. CONWAY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize San Joaquin Valley College for its 45 years of service in the State of California.

San Joaquin Valley College (SJVC) was established in 1977 by Shirley and Robert Perry. Shirley earned medical assistance certifications despite training programs being unavailable, while Robert worked in a tire factory. Their early struggles, which were similar to those of many San Joaquin Valley families, inspired the Perrys to address the regional need for local, quality career training.

SJVC first opened in the City of Visalia, California, offering a medical assisting class. When only three students attended, Shirley went to work building relationships with community stakeholders and doing publicity, even putting fliers on cars at grocery stores. This commitment eventually paid off, as SJVC expanded rapidly in the succeeding decades.

Today, SJVC serves thousands of students on seventeen campuses and online. Its reach has expanded outside the Central Valley, with locations in both Northern and Southern California. SJVC's programs have grown far beyond the initial medical assisting certification, offering more than twenty accelerated certificate and Associate of Science degree programs in the medical, business, and technical fields. Its emphasis on balancing hands-on training and academic instruction has been fruitful—as of 2021, SJVC has awarded more than seventy-two thousand certificates and degrees.

SJVC has maintained its heart for community service amid its expansion. Since 1998, the college has provided more than $7 million in free dental services to more than twenty-thousand patients in underserved communities.

While SJVC earns many accolades and awards, it is most proud of its identity as a second-generation, family run institution. Shirley and Robert's sons, Mark and Mike, took over operations in 1995 and today lead the college as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer/President, respectively.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues in the United States House of Representatives to join me in commending San Joaquin Valley

College for 45 years of service to the Valley community and for many more decades of growth and success to come.

HONORING THE OPENING OF VICTORY GARDENS

HON. JOSH HARDER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. HARDER of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the opening of Victory Gardens in French Camp, California. Upon its opening, Victory Gardens will deliver housing and access to crucial resources for over forty homeless veterans in our community, thus providing a stable foundation that our local heroes deserve.

Veteran homelessness is an issue that impacts every corner of this country, and our community is not immune to this problem. No one who fought for our freedom should ever have to spend a night on the streets. Victory Gardens works towards solving this problem, as it has 48 units earmarked specifically for veterans struggling to find permanent housing. Victory Gardens will do more than provide housing, as the development is focused on helping our veterans with their mental and physical health as well. In line with this goal, the community will include a garden, common, computer room, and is located near San Joaquin General Hospital.

This life changing project has been made a reality thanks to the hard work, collaboration, and genuine care of so many in our community. Advocacy for this development came from the federal, state, and local levels in the form of letters, official applications, and lobbying. The funding comes from organizations and agencies like the State Veteran Housing and Homelessness Prevention fund, Low Income Housing Tax Credits, and much more. Finally, DFA Development and the Housing Authority of San Joaquin County worked together and saw this project through to completion. Though the problem of veteran homelessness persists, Victory Gardens is a major step towards our collective goal of ensuring that each and every veteran has a secure place to live.

Our way of life is only made possible thanks to the immense sacrifices of our men and women in uniform. It is our obligation to be there when they need us, and that is exactly what Victory Gardens does. I am grateful for the work done by those in our community to make this project a reality, and immensely proud to honor the opening of Victory Gardens.

HAPPY 100TH BIRTHDAY TO WILLIAM LEUCHTENBURG, EMINENT HISTORIAN

HON. DAVID E. PRICE

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Madam Speaker, I rise to honor the life and work of Professor William (Bill) Leuchtenburg, who celebrated his 100th birthday on September 28 and will be feted by his friends in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, the hometown we share, this weekend. Bill is a distinguished scholar, devoted educator, and friend and counselor to many, including myself.

In fact, reading Bill's "The Perils of Prosperity, 1914–32" as an undergraduate 62 years ago helped attract me to completing a history major at UNC-Chapel Hill. In the 1980s, I assigned successive editions of "In the Shadow of FDR" to my classes in American Political Thought. In the meantime, I had gotten to know Bill personally through his fellowships at the National Humanities Center and his assumption—after a distinguished 30-year career at Columbia University—of a Kenan professorship at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Bill won the Bancroft Prize and the Parkman Prize of the Society of American Historians for "Franklin D. Roosevelt and the New Deal, 1932–1940," with Samuel Eliott Morrison and Henry Steele Commager, he took the two-volume "The Growth of the American Republic" through two editions. He dealt with key aspects of the Roosevelt era in "The Supreme Court Reborn: The Constitutional Revolution in the Age of Roosevelt" and "The FDR Years: On Roosevelt and His Legacy." His published articles range from "The Needless War with Spain" to "Court Packing Plans," "Jimmy Carter and the Post-New Deal Presidency," and "The Boston Red Sox, 1901–1946."

Bill's long, varied, and impactful bibliography earned him his first Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr. Prize for distinguished writing in American history of enduring public significance, awarded by the Society of American Historians. But the printed record only begins to reveal Bill Leuchtenburg's impact on America's self-understanding and public life. By virtue of his effervescent personality, boundless energy, and strong ethic of civic engagement, Bill's range of activities and their impact are remarkable even for a 100-year life span. His political engagements go back to the 1940s, when he was a state director for the Americans for Democratic Action, field staff for the A. Philip Randolph Institute, and an organizer for Richard Bolling's first campaign for the U.S. House. In 1987, he joined Walter Dellinger and John Hope Franklin in testifying against Robert Bork's appointment to the Supreme Court. He served over many years as an election analyst and commentator on presidential inaugurations for national networks. He has advised and appeared in many of Ken Burns' acclaimed documentaries on topics including the Civil War, the Roosevelts, the Vietnam War, National Parks, baseball and country music.

When Bill's international colleagues honored him at Cambridge University upon the 30th anniversary of "Franklin D. Roosevelt and the New Deal," they entitled the session "In the Shadow of Leuchtenburg," a takeoff on the title of the book on FDR's impact that he took through six editions. Indeed, Bill casts a long shadow with works translated into multiple languages, a teaching and lecture circuit that includes most of the U.S. and Western Europe, Russia, Israel, and South Africa, and a huge worldwide network of students, colleagues, collaborators, and admirers.

I am privileged to count myself in that circle of colleagues and friends, and North Carolina is exceedingly grateful and proud that this pre-eminent scholar and exemplary citizen has lived and worked among us these past 40 years. I extend to Bill and his wife, Jean Anne, hearty congratulations and good wishes for health and happiness in the years ahead.

RECOGNIZING TEDDY TENDLER

HON. BRIAN K. FITZPATRICK

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. FITZPATRICK. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize an outstanding constituent in my district, Teddy Tandler. Teddy is an eight-year-old student at Congregation Kol Emet in Yardley, Pennsylvania. In April, Teddy decided to incorporate her passion for technology towards supporting her community. With the support of her parents, Jared and Corey, Teddy launched a Facebook campaign as a service project for Hebrew School. Her goal was to donate laptops to Family Service Association of Bucks County, which operates an emergency homeless shelter. Teddy was able to provide six laptops, six sets of headphones, a printer, paper, and ink to Family Service Homeless Shelter residents in Levittown, Pennsylvania. Whether they are used for education or just playing games and being a kid like Teddy, these computers will make a large impact for both homeless kids and adults. In August, Teddy was awarded the "6ABC Hometown Hero Award" from Family Service Association to recognize her fundraising efforts. We are incredibly grateful for the positive impact Teddy has had on our community. I wish her continued success in her future endeavors.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO CONSTANTINE P. KIAMOS, JR.

HON. JEFFERSON VAN DREW

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. VAN DREW. Madam Speaker, last month, I had the pleasure of attending the Dorothy Volunteer Fire Company's presentation of their 50-years of service plaques. At the event, Constantine Kiamos, Jr. was honored with a plaque for his dedicated service to the company.

Constantine is a lifelong South Jersey resident who graduated from Vineland High School in 1971. He joined the Dorothy Volunteer Fire Company right after his high school graduation in 1972 and has been an active member ever since. In addition to serving in the fire company, Constantine also served the South Jersey community as an EMT, Deputy Emergency Management Coordinator, and as a Crew Member with the NJ Forest Fire Service. His only break from actively working at the Dorothy Volunteer Fire Company was when he was an Active-Duty member of the United States military.

Constantine should be proud of his dedication to both the fire company and our country, and I want to sincerely thank him for his service. God Bless Constantine, and God Bless our America.

Mr. LONG. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Warden Jeffrey E. Krueger of the United States Medical Center for Federal Prisoners (USMCFP) in Springfield, Missouri.

Warden Krueger started his career with the Bureau of Prisons as a Correctional Officer at the United States Penitentiary Terre Haute, Indiana, in 1989. He will be retiring in December 2022, and is building his new home in Nixa, Missouri. During his two stints at USMCFP Springfield, Warden Krueger has become involved in the local community and the Ozarks in general.

Madam Speaker, Warden Krueger has loyally served the Bureau of Prisons in a variety of roles for 33 years. I would like to thank him for his dedicated service and congratulate him, his wife, Dawn, and his son, Drake, on his retirement.

HONORING THE LIFE AND LEGACY OF BILL JIMMERSON

HON. MATTHEW M. ROSENDALE, SR.

OF MONTANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. ROSENDALE. Madam Speaker, I rise to pay tribute to a dedicated public servant and Montana legend, Bill Jimmerson, who passed away last week at the age of 74. Bill will best be remembered for his outsized impact in Montana. As a well-known Montana State FFA advisor and an agricultural educator, Bill taught and influenced thousands of agriculture advocates, government officials, and aspiring students over his 32 years of service.

Bill drew his inspiration for agriculture from his father, who was the FFA advisor for Lewistown, Montana. His father corralled him one day and asked a young Bill if he wanted to stay in Winifred to play sports or go to Lewistown to receive an education. Bill, interested in agriculture at the time, decided to go to Lewistown with his father and embark on a journey that would change his life forever.

His time in Lewistown would eventually lead to a career in teaching in Conrad, Montana. In 1980, he began teaching at Conrad High School, providing students with the knowledge and skills needed to start their own careers in state agricultural sales and management. In 2003, he concluded his teaching career and became an Agricultural Loan Officer for Stockman Bank. Bill then served as Montana State FFA Advisor from 2005 to 2013. During his tenure, he was widely known for the breadth and depth of his knowledge: he was familiar with every parcel of land and had a grasp on agricultural issues facing the entire state. Many drew inspiration from Bill and often sought his advice.

Bill was known as an architect of Montana agriculture. In 2012 he developed a national program for Native American FFA members, earning recognition from the White House and laying the groundwork for more improvements across the state. His national program encouraged many Native Americans to become more immersed in agriculture, allowing more Montanans to invest in their state and its policies.

Bill Jimmerson will be missed, not just by family and friends, but by all Montanans who were touched by his service. His impact will continue to be felt as the next generation prepares to tackle Montana's most pressing agricultural issues. Bill has left an indelible mark on his community and Montana agriculture—he will be remembered fondly.

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Ms. KELLY of Illinois. Madam Speaker, today we celebrate the 21st Anniversary of Rev. Dr. Trunell D. Felder's leadership of New Faith Baptist Church International.

Whereas, New Faith Baptist Church International has served the Chicagoland area for 21 years under the leadership of Rev. Dr. Trunell D. Felder;

Whereas, New Faith Baptist Church continued to expand within the community and, in 1984, broke ground for a permanent facility at 25 S. Central Avenue in Matteson, Illinois;

Whereas, New Faith Baptist Church expanded to youth outreach and developed a youth ministry targeting high school and junior high school students with programs such as "Jesus and Me" (J.A.M.) and "Helping Young People Excel" (H.Y.P.E.);

Whereas, Rev. Dr. Trunell D. Felder began his official duties as Senior Pastor of New Faith Baptist Church on October 1, 2001 and saw membership grow from 2,250 active members to 7,000+ active members;

Whereas, New Faith Baptist Church expanded their evangelism and community efforts within Matteson and surrounding communities, especially within the Ford Heights community through providing free health screenings, free school supplies, job fairs, and a carnival to the community;

Whereas, New Faith Baptist Church became an international ministry in 2005 and expanded to Ghana, West Africa with 15 churches and 6 Christian schools, and to Cape Town, South Africa with 6 churches;

Whereas, Rev. Dr. Trunell D. Felder and Rev. Dr. Alexis L. Felder founded The Joseph Assignment, a Christian global humanitarian organization that has impacted the lives of over 320,000 people living in extreme poverty;

Whereas, New Faith Baptist Church International continues to dedicate their time and service to the Matteson community and surrounding areas, sharing the love of Christ with the world—until all have heard; and Now, therefore, be it resolved, by the House of Representatives of the United States of America that the hard work and service of Rev. Dr. Trunell D. Felder and New Faith Baptist Church International be remembered and honored.

RECOGNIZING THE WORK OF UTAH STATE REPRESENTATIVE KEVEN STRATTON

HON. JOHN R. CURTIS

OF UTAH

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. CURTIS. Madam Speaker, I include in the RECORD the following op-ed:

[From the Deseret News, Sept. 27, 2022]

OPINION: THIS UTAH CLIMATE ACTION IS A WIN FOR ALL SIDES

(By Keven Stratton)

The recent divisive partisan fight in Washington over the Democrats' controversial $369 billion climate legislation was disappointing to watch.

Equally troubling is how the climate and energy provisions in the bill are being "scored" as a "zero-sum game." Renewable energy provisions are deemed a "win" for climate, while provisions supporting fossil fuel use are viewed as a "loss."

A much better public policy approach is to develop the broadest bipartisan consensus on as many issues as possible. Utah has shown that on important climate questions not only can we achieve this but that unanimity is even possible.

In the last legislative session, we unanimously passed and Gov. Spencer Cox signed HCR1, "Concurrent Resolution to Work Together to Address the Climate, Public Lands, and Carbon Sequestration," which lays out a win-win strategy for protecting and improving our natural resources and the environment while also significantly controlling greenhouse gases.

The underlying approach in HCR1 is to protect the atmospheric carbon now being stored in natural systems like forests and rangeland soils while also sequestering additional CO₂ by better harnessing the processes nature has perfected and proven throughout the ages.

Everyone understands how forest fires massively contribute to air pollution and produce greenhouse gases. Less well understood is the importance of rangeland and soil health, and HCR1 also highlights this. The proven potential here is enormous, as several examples illustrate. Dr. Fred Provenza, world-renowned emeritus professor at Utah State University, and several colleagues have estimated that simply restoring the soil health of the world's historic grasslands could "lower greenhouse gas concentrations to pre-industrial levels in a matter of decades."

The Rodale Institute has done extensive surveys and conducted field trials of organic and regenerative agriculture practices in the U.S. and abroad. Based on this they conclude: "We have proven that organic agriculture and, specifically, regenerative organic agriculture can sequester carbon from the atmosphere and reverse climate change With the use of cover crops, compost, crop rotation and reduced tillage, we can actually sequester more carbon than is currently emitted, tipping the needle past 100% to reverse climate change."

This approach is also a win-win because these natural sequestration processes also generate many valuable "co-benefits." These include improved water quality and quantity, better fish and wildlife habitat, increased biodiversity, improved food and commodity yields using far less chemicals, better drought resiliency, reduced flooding and danger of catastrophic wildfire, as well as stronger and more prosperous rural economies, among others.

HCR1 focuses primarily on improving federal forest management to better prevent catastrophic wildfires but its basic principles are broadly applicable. While the federal government is beginning to incorporate some of its recommendations in managing forests and rangelands, these efforts are pitifully inadequate in light of the magnitude of both the problems and the potential for remediation.

One of HCR1's most significant recommendations is that the federal government adopt a "social benefits of carbon control" test to rank climate policy options. Since many different policies can lower greenhouse gas levels, it is only common sense and responsible policy-making to choose the most co-beneficial ones. Applying this test would allow us to transition to the energy sources of the future more gradually, rationally, economically and responsibly while still addressing climate concerns. It would mean we could still provide the affordable, abundant and reliable energy that is so essential to improving and maintaining our quality of life. Rather than engaging in a zero-sum game, we could choose a win-win solution. HCR1 passed unanimously because it incorporates such a "climate-smart" approach. It teaches an important lesson that, sadly, Washington has yet to learn.

HONORING JOSH NASS

HON. DON BACON

OF NEBRASKA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. BACON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to acknowledge someone I have the privilege of calling both a friend and close colleague. Josh Nass is a leader in both the Jewish and pro-Israel communities, and someone whose contributions to strengthening our nation's alliance with the State of Israel has been critical to fostering the US-Israel relationship.

As Israel finds itself under constant attack on the battlefield, it is incumbent upon members of this chamber to speak out in her defense. But sadly Israel is not just the subject of a military war; but also facing a continuous onslaught of attack in the public domain.

Intellectually dishonest movements such as the Boycott Divestment & Sanctions campaign have exposed Israel's detractors for their unmitigated hate toward a country whose contributions to the Western world are enumerable. For that reason I believe it to be fitting for leaders such as Josh who fearlessly stand up for our nation's lone friend and ally in the Middle East to be recognized for having the courage of their convictions to speak truth to power.

For his fearless advocacy on Israel's behalf, Josh was recently honored alongside Secretary of State Pompeo with the Builder of Jerusalem Award. Among the distinguished government officials who recognized him for his award was The State Department's former Under Secretary of State for Public Diplomacy and Public Affairs, Heather Nauert.

Josh is also involved in a myriad of social and public policy endeavors designed to advance a more muscular American foreign policy, while ensuring our nation's steadfast support for Israel remains unwavering. Among these commitments is his service as the Treasurer of The Israel Heritage Foundation, an organization dedicated to strengthening Israel's security and combatting bigotry and antisemitism in all forms.

HONORING HAPPY TRAILS RIDING ACADEMY

HON. CONNIE CONWAY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Ms. CONWAY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Happy Trails Riding Academy for decades of service in the San Joaquin Valley of California.

Happy Trails was founded in 1984 as a small, backyard program in Tulare, California, providing therapy through horseback riding. While the academy began by serving only a few riders, its operation has expanded into a beautiful facility serving thousands of rides each year.

The sole, fully accredited therapeutic riding center in the San Joaquin Valley between Modesto and Bakersfield, Happy Trails serves people of all ages, but mostly children. Through horseback riding, the academy provides an alternative to traditional therapy for people suffering from physical, cognitive, and emotional disabilities including Cerebral Palsy, ADD, ADHD, head trauma, brain injury, sight and hearing impairments, Autism, and Down Syndrome.

Aside from physical improvements, Happy Trails is proud of the psychological benefits their therapy provides, including improved self-confidence, increased interest in the outside world, emotional control, self-discipline, and a sense of normality. The social improvements are also worth noting: riders gain new friends and a sense of joy they've often lost in life.

Happy Trails is volunteer driven—an average of seventy-five people volunteer each week, donating more than eleven-thousand hours of service yearly. The academy also partners with major community organizations including Tulare Youth Service Bureau, Tulare County Mental Health, United Way, and Kaweah Delta Rehabilitation Center of Kaweah Delta Hospital. Appreciative of the support the community provides, Happy Trails reciprocates by opening its facility for events by other nonprofits.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues in the United States House of Representatives to join me in commending Happy Trails Riding Academy for decades of service in the San Joaquin Valley and for many more decades of growth and success to come.

TRIBUTE TO HOMETOWN HERO
LORI CERAMI

HON. BETH VAN DUYNE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Ms. VAN DUYNE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Lori Cerami, a North Texan who took an unimaginable tragedy and turned it into a lifesaving difference for our community.

After her daughter Elise fatally drowned during swim practice, Lori took this tragedy and created the Swim4Elise Foundation to ensure no other child suffers the same fate.

Every summer, the Swim4Elise Foundation provides free water safety classes to more than 5,000 daycare children in North Texas. They also provide full scholarships for American Red Cross lifeguard training programs so trained swimmers are always on alert.

Because of her efforts—and immense love for her late daughter—mothers and fathers across North Texas may rest easy knowing their children are in good hands. On behalf of our entire community, I thank Lori for taking her family's tragedy and turning it into a beautiful act of public service.

HONORING MAGGIE SALINAS

HON. VICENTE GONZALEZ

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. VICENTE GONZALEZ of Texas. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Maggie Salinas, a native of Kingsville, Texas, who served her community for over 70 years. Ms. Salinas was a member on over two dozen boards and committees that helped the people of Kingsville across many different areas of life.

In 1951 at the age of 17, Ms. Salinas was the first and youngest Hispanic woman hired by Kleberg County. She started her career with the Kleberg Welfare Department as a social worker, helping people achieve independence. In April of 1957, she worked with county officials and automotive industry experts to get the "Safety Belt" Seal adopted which certified seat belts. She later moved on to work for Duval County as a social worker, all the while helping Nueces County administer the polio vaccine and tuberculosis screenings.

Ms. Salinas has sponsored 4 Girl Scout troops and served as a member of the Kleberg County Parks and Recreation Board. She has served as the Chairwoman of the Kleberg County Historical Development Board since 1999, preserving the rich history of South Texas. In 2005 she received a Local Committee of Honor Award from the Smithsonian Center for Latino Initiatives Centro Alameda, the University of Texas at San Antonio Institute of Texas Cultures and was recognized for her participation with "Our Journeys/Our Stories: Portraits of Latino Achievement" from the Smithsonian U.S. Traveling Exhibition.

Ms. Salinas currently serves as the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Engineering Department Advisory Committee Chairwoman. As Chairwoman, she works with Texas A&M University-Kingsville engineering professors and students to compile information for the Calle Siete Project. This data will be utilized in potential economic revitalization and tourist opportunities of the historic Kingsville area, establishing a cultural zone. One revelation from the Calle Siete Project was the unveiling of her "Los Kinenos Trail". The Los Kinenos Trail honors the King Ranch Kinenos who played a role in founding the historic King Ranch. Her dedication to community and culture is seen in her founding role of "La Posada", a Christmas tradition event, in 1990, her work redesignating over 80 historical streets in La Colonia Mexicana to include their original names, and her instrumental role in the restoration of the Mother Julia Chapel and Museum.

A true humanitarian, Ms. Salinas has planned and led fundraising events for the National Kidney Foundation, American Cancer Society, and the American Heart Association. She was also awarded the American Heart Association Texas Affiliate Leadership Award in recognition of volunteer service in a leadership role and expanding role of the American Heart Association—to name one of many awards she has been honored with.

Madam Speaker, Ms. Maggie Salinas is an incredible leader with an unwavering commitment to the development of the Kingsville community. Her legacy will have a lasting impact on South Texas.

COMMENDING KAZAKHSTAN FOR HOSTING THE SEVENTH CON-GRESS ON WORLD AND TRADI-TIONAL RELIGIONS

HON. ROBERT B. ADERHOLT

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. ADERHOLT. Madam Speaker, today I would like to commend President Kassym-Jomart Tokayev and the Republic of Kazakhstan for hosting the seventh Congress on World and Traditional Religions.

This year was the largest such forum to date with more than 100 delegations from over 50 nations, with a focus of a post-pandemic world. It was a historic event and included representatives from most major faiths including Christianity, Buddhism, Judaism, Islam, and others. Notably, Pope Francis made his first appearance at the Congress on World and Traditional Religions and Israel's Ashkenazi Chief Rabbi David Lau attended.

Madam Speaker, at a tumultuous time in the world, this event was an important opportunity for faith leaders to work to promote and protect freedom of religious expression and worship in all nations.

Notably, it included a panel that focused on the role faiths play in supporting the social status of women; the panel specifically discussed ways faiths around the world can bolster women and families. The opportunity to discuss these very important issues was a welcome addition.

I would also like to acknowledge the Declaration of VII Congress of the Leaders of World and Traditional Religions, which was adopted at the Congress on September 15th.

I commend these types of gatherings and the Republic of Kazakhstan for again hosting this event and promoting a robust and meaningful dialogue among many faith leaders from around the world.

HONORING TERESA FOSTER

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Teresa Foster for over 30 years of service to the Latino Community. Her dedication to serving others is clear through her work as an immigration consultant and community activist.

Ms. Foster was born in Mexico City to a family of 10 children. She went to school in Mexico City with the goal of becoming a bilingual executive administrative assistant. She became a U.S. citizen over 25 years ago, and made her way to Napa, California.

After coming to the United States, Ms. Foster remained focused on helping the immigrant community. She supported hundreds of families as an immigration consultant and produced "Crossing the Line", a bilingual column that appeared in newspapers throughout Northern California, and focused on helping readers understand immigration issues. Currently, she is the host of Charlando con Teresa Foster, a TV show that includes guests from diverse backgrounds.

Ms. Foster is an active member of the Napa community. She was President of the Napa County Hispanic Network, where she received a "Lifetime Achievement" and "Friend of the Network" award. Ms. Foster was the President or Chair of the Board of Directors for four organizations and a member of many others, including the Latino Advisory Board. Currently, she maintains leadership positions in three organizations, including the Women's Club of Napa Valley.

Ms. Foster is well-known by others in her community as someone who embodies persistence, kindness, and selflessness. She is incredibly driven and has found great success as a leader who works to bring individuals together for a common goal.

Madam Speaker, it is evident that Teresa Foster has dedicated her life to serving others in the Napa community and beyond. Therefore, it is fitting and proper that we honor her here today.

CELEBRATING THE 30TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ESTÉE LAUDER COMPANIES' BREAST CANCER CAMPAIGN

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. HIGGINS of New York. Madam Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the 30th anniversary of the Estée Lauder Companies' Breast Cancer Campaign and the important work that the initiative has done.

In 1992, Evelyn H. Lauder co-created the pink ribbon and launched The Campaign with the goal of a breast cancer-free world for all. The initiative has inspired hope in millions of Americans and has helped save countless lives.

The Estée Lauder Companies' Breast Cancer Campaign has, in conjunction with the Estée Lauder Companies Charitable Foundation, dedicated more than $108 million to support research, education, and medical services. This includes more than $86 million in funding for medical research grants through the Breast Cancer Research Foundation. The Campaign has also helped to improve the early detection of breast cancer, which is essential for treatment. Since 1989, increased use of early detection and more effective treatments have caused the breast cancer death rate in the U.S. to fall by 41 percent.

Despite these gains, the work of The Campaign is still needed, as breast cancer continues to affect millions of people around the world every year. In 2022, it is estimated that 287,850 cases of invasive breast cancer will be diagnosed, and 43,250 women are expected to lose their lives. In Western New York, it is estimated that more than 1,450 people will be diagnosed with breast cancer this year.

Institutions in Western New York continue to lead in the field of breast cancer research, prevention, and treatment. Roswell Park Comprehensive Cancer Center in Buffalo continues to be one of the top-ranked cancer treatment centers in the world, with breast cancer survival rates higher than national outcomes.

I applaud the work that the Estée Lauder Companies' Breast Cancer Campaign has done in America and Western New York. It is more important than ever that we remain committed to making strides toward a breast cancer-free world.

RETIREMENT OF DR. EDWARD HOLUB II

HON. BRIAN K. FITZPATRICK

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. FITZPATRICK. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize an outstanding constituent from my district, Doctor Edward J. Holub II, M.D. Dr. Holub obtained his bachelor's degree in Biology from Loyola College in 1973 and his doctorate from Georgetown University in 1977. He then did two years of Surgical residency at Georgetown University, then a year of residency in the newly founded Emergency Medicine residency at Medical College of Pennsylvania. After finishing residency, Dr. Holub began working in the Emergency Department at Germantown Hospital in Philadelphia. A year later, in 1981, he started working at St. Mary Medical Center in Langhorne, Pennsylvania. Now after 41 continuous years as a dedicated Emergency Physician at St. Mary Medical Center, Dr. Holub is retiring. I am proud to recognize and celebrate Dr. Holub's service to the citizens of Bucks County. Dr. Holub brought the first "Command Physician" course, now mandatory for all Emergency Physicians, to Bucks County. Dr. Holub has been a Command Physician for 41 years. He is widely respected in the Hazardous Materials

(Hazmat) community and has been the Bucks County Hazmat Medical Command Physician since 2000. Dr. Holub is a Life Member of the American College of Forensic Examiner's International and holds Board Certification in Homeland Security as a CHS III. He has been involved in local rescue squads as a physician advisor. Dr. Holub is also a Certified Wilderness Medical Command Physician. Dr. Holub has also worked tirelessly during the COVID-19 pandemic.

We are incredibly grateful for the positive impact Dr. Holub has had through his long career of public service. We wish Dr. Holub countless blessings during his retirement. We thank Dr. Holub for a job well done.

REMEMBERING THE LIFE OF EDDIE DANIEL DIXON

HON. TRENT KELLY

OF MISSISSIPPI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. KELLY of Mississippi. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize the life of Marshall County District 2 Supervisor Eddie Daniel Dixon. He was well-known throughout Marshall County for his integrity and steadfast commitment to public service.

During his 40-year career with the Marshall County School District, Mr. Dixon wore many hats—from educator to school bus driver. He taught trade skills at H.W. Byers High School with high hopes for his students to find work and raise a family in Marshall County. Mr. Dixon's strong desire to improve the quality of life for all residents led him to seek a seat on the Marshall County Board of Supervisors in 2000. His calm demeanor and thoughtful remarks earned him many supporters and a lengthy stay in office. Mr. Dixon served four and a half terms for the residents of District 2.

The South Reporter, a newspaper in Holly Springs, published an article that included a quote from Marshall County Sheriff Kenny Dickerson. "Eddie's been an icon to work with as far as county government," Sheriff Dickerson said. "He was compassionate, yet firm when he needed to be. He loved H.W. Byers. He's going to be missed."

Mr. Dixon, a lifetime believer in the importance of education, graduated from Alcorn State University. His accomplishments also included serving as president and vice president of the Marshall County Board of Supervisors. He also served as president of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors. Mr. Dixon served as director of the board of the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District. He also played a central role in the development of the Marshall County Workforce Training Center. Mr. Dixon was a parishioner at St. Joseph Catholic Church, a member of the Knights of Columbus, and a member of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity.

Mr. Dixon is survived by his wife, Maxine Howard Dixon, and their four children: Brignetta Dickerson, Wanda Dixon-Beasley, Eddie Dixon, Jr., and Trevan Dixon. He is also survived by two brothers, Floyd Dixon and James Dixon. Survivors also include four grandchildren.

Mr. Dixon was devoted to God, family, and to the citizens of Marshall County. His service will always be remembered.

HONORING CLAUDIA MAE TAYLOR DONALSON

HON. SCOTT DesJARLAIS

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. DESJARLAIS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the memory of Claudia Mae Taylor Donalson. Claudia is the most recent honoree of the Women of Lincoln County Committee—a group that has joined together to recognize and honor influential women that have played such a significant role in the County's history.

Claudia was a lifelong Lincoln County resident born April 13, 1916. She was the only child to her proud parents Jessie and Mary Lacy Taylor. She was educated in Fayetteville public schools where she would later return as a teacher. Donalson attended Tennessee State University in Nashville for her undergraduate degree and Alabama A&M University in Huntsville for her graduate studies.

She was married in 1944 to a prominent Lincoln County community member, Dr. Latha Mitchell Donalson, known as L.M., who was a surgeon and hospital administrator. After Claudia retired from teaching, she worked as a dietitian for her husband who founded Donalson Hospital now known as Donalson Nursing Home.

One of the greatest joys of her life was being an educator. She spent thirty years working to better the lives of children as a teacher in both the Fayetteville and Lincoln County school systems.

Claudia was a woman of great faith. She was baptized as a child and became a lifetime member of the St. Paul A.M.E. Church in Fayetteville. She served her church in many capacities as Trustee, Vice President of the Women's Missionary Society, the Layman's Organization, and the Kitchen Committee.

A woman with a true servant's heart, she was incredibly active in making her community a better place. She was a member of the Tennessee Retired Teachers Association, the NAACP, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., the Advisory Board of First National Bank-Pulaski, the Fayetteville and Lincoln County Child Development Center, Lincoln Medical Center Auxiliary, Lincoln County Historical Society, Hannah's House, and the R.F. Boyd Auxiliary at Meharry Medical Hospital. She was also a Volunteer Hostess for the Fayetteville/Lincoln County Museum and Civic Center.

In her free time, she enjoyed traveling with her husband abroad, gardening, reading, refinishing furniture and mastering her needlework skills. She passed away on October 2, 2007.

I hope that the Congress will join me in recognizing the life of Mrs. Donalson, and I congratulate the efforts of the Women of Lincoln County Committee for their work in recognizing and adding to the historical records of the women who have helped shaped the history of their county.

HONORING THE 80TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BURCHELL NURSERY

HON. JOSH HARDER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. HARDER of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the 80th anniversary of the Burchell Nursery. Located in Oakdale, California and perfectly nestled within our beautiful Central Valley, Burchell Nursery has been a pioneer in the industry and is now one of the leading fruit and nut tree nurseries in California.

Founded in 1942 by Irvin Burchell, Burchell Nursery has, from the start, lived out Irvin's vision: "To grow trees of the highest quality, sell trees with the highest integrity, and represent them honestly." It is this core vision that has led Burchell Nursery to where it is today, as it has grown to more than 1,000 acres and has over 150,000 square feet of greenhouse space. Every year, this independent nursery provides more than three million fruit and nut trees to farmers across America. The nursery's influence can also be felt across the globe, as it collaborates with nurseries in Chile, Australia, South Africa, and Europe.

Like any fruitful endeavor, Burchell Nursery's success is a direct result of the hard work and dedication of its staff and leadership. Today, following in the footsteps of his father and grandfather, Tom Burchell leads the nursery, serving as president of the company. Continuing the family tradition, Tom has made sure that Burchell Nursery remains innovative and ready for what comes next. This can be seen through the nursery's development of nut trees designed to excel in our changing environment. Mr. Burchell has also been focused on the future through his community involvement, as Tom serves on advisory boards and is working to mentor the next generation through classroom, FFA, and 4-H programs.

Over the last 80 years, Burchell Nursery has done more than just withstand changes in the industry. Rather, under the leadership of the Burchell family, the nursery has seen every challenge as an opportunity for innovation and has consistently met the moment. I am incredibly proud to honor this remarkable achievement and wish the Burchell Nursery and Burchell family continued success.

RECOGNIZING THE WORK OF THE UTAH STATE LEGISLATURE ON CLIMATE AND ENERGY INITIATIVES

HON. JOHN R. CURTIS

OF UTAH

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. CURTIS. Madam Speaker, I include in the RECORD the following Utah State Legislature Resolution:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TO WORK TOGETHER TO ADDRESS THE CLIMATE, PUBLIC LANDS, AND CARBON SEQUESTRATION, 2022 GENERAL SESSION, STATE OF UTAH

Chief Sponsor: Keven J. Stratton
Senate Sponsor: David P. Hinkins

LONG TITLE

General Description: This resolution recognizes and encourages best management practices to reduce carbon 12 emissions while also preserving and expanding forests and other lands to improve climate outcomes.

Highlighted Provisions: This resolution: recognizes certain challenges and concerns with current land and forest management practices and how those practices conflict with goals to slow and reverse climate change; and encourages improved land management practices, including coordination with all relevant parties, to reverse trends of carbon emissions with new and evolving technology, expand natural carbon sequestration, and improve health, safety, and forest and ecosystem vitality.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

Whereas, in his January 27, 2021, Executive Order, President Biden stated that "the United States and the world face a profound climate crisis" and to deal with it he pledged "to implement a government-wide approach that reduces climate pollution in every sector of the H.C.R. 1 economy, increases resilience to the impacts of climate change, protects public health, and conserves our lands, waters, and biodiversity";

Whereas, at the recent United Nations COP 26 climate meeting in Glasgow, Scotland, President Biden announced "a new plan to conserve global forests, halt forest loss, restore critical carbon sinks, and improve land management," and committed the United States to an international declaration to reverse global deforestation by protecting forests and mitigating wildfire damage and restoring degraded land by 2030;

Whereas, many people are concerned that rising levels of carbon dioxide (CO₂) and green house gases (GHGs) resulting from the continued use of fossil fuels are causing climate changes that threaten human health and wellbeing through more frequent extreme weather events, damage to critical ecosystems, threats to food supplies, and other harms;

Whereas, the primary approaches to slow or reduce the levels of CO₂ and other GHGs being pursued by climate policy advocates would rapidly replace the current "all-of-the-above" energy mix with an increasingly heavy reliance on renewable sources;

Whereas, there is wide concern over some of these proposed climate policies, including that the policies would increase energy costs, damage the economic competitiveness of the United States, and undermine national security;

Whereas, the national debate over climate change policy is becoming increasingly heated and divisive;

Whereas, in contrast, the state of Utah has adopted an "all-of-the-above" energy approach policy and goals as Utah's strategy to ensure that energy is affordable and reliable;

Whereas, in such a policy environment, the wisest course is to emphasize first adopting the most efficacious elements of the various proposed responses to climate change on which there is wide agreement;

Whereas, national and international policies, agreements and reports, including specific mention in the Paris Accords, multiple reports by the United Nations Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, the international "4 per 1,000 Initiative" and President Biden's proposed climate policy, among others, all recognize the importance of natural systems in removing and sequestering GHGs and call for these natural sinks to be protected and expanded where possible;

Whereas, forests and rangelands, including those managed by the federal government in Utah and nationally, can either be sinks for atmospheric carbon or emitters of CO₂ and other GHGs, largely depending on how they are managed;

Whereas, for a number of reasons, federally-managed land in Utah and nationally 64 that had been functioning as carbon sinks are increasingly becoming emitters of CO₂ and other GHGs;

Whereas, the same conditions that convert carbon sinks into GHG emitters, such as wildland fire and soil erosion, also create a wide range of economic, health, social, and environmental problems;

Whereas, a growing body of scientific research, practical application, and demonstrated results on tens of millions of acres in the United States and around the world prove that in many cases degraded natural systems can be restored as vitally important carbon sinks and that the sequestration potential of existing sinks can be vastly increased by applying proven land management practices;

Whereas, while the importance of natural systems functioning as sinks for GHGs is widely accepted, their true potential is often not recognized;

Whereas, some scientists have calculated that globally applying these widely demonstrated and proven best management practices to forests, rangelands, and agricultural lands could sequester all of the CO₂ produced by human activities from the beginning of the Industrial Revolution and continue to sequester enough to achieve not just net zero emissions but net negative emissions for decades to come;

Whereas, this research and practical experience have also shown that these same advanced and proven sequestration and management techniques also simultaneously produce a cascade of valuable and significant environmental and economic co-benefits, including greater overall ecosystem integrity and productivity, increased biodiversity, improved water quantity and quality, better fish and wildlife habitat, greater drought resilience, reduced flooding risk, H.C.R. 1 more and better forage for wildlife and livestock, sustainable timber, and enhanced recreation opportunities, among others;

Whereas, these associated co-benefits are so valuable and cost effective in their own right that tens of millions of acres in the United States and around the world are being managed solely to generate them and not to achieve any climate-related goals;

Whereas, at a minimum, responsible land stewardship requires employing the best possible practices to protect, and enhance where possible, the land and resources over which the steward has responsibility;

Whereas, because some previous carbon sinks may not be repairable for decades or even centuries, if at all, prudent stewardship dictates putting primary emphasis on protecting them from degradation to the maximum possible extent;

Whereas, for a number of reasons, the federal government has not met this minimal standard of stewardship in its management of much of the public lands and resources in Utah and across the country;

Whereas, by failing in this stewardship responsibility, the federal government has caused a wide range of environmental and economic harm while at the same time also converting what had previously been effective carbon sinks into emitters of CO₂ and other GHGs;

Whereas, protecting and enhancing natural carbon sinks is clearly a non-controversial win-win solution in the climate change debate because it addresses the concerns about rising GHG levels while at the same time largely alleviating the concerns of those resistant to many of the other approaches being considered to achieve this goal; Whereas, in addition to helping control the rise in GHG emissions, the many co-benefits generated by adopting this win-win approach increases resilience to projected climate change and better allows for adaptation and mitigation;

Whereas, because of these many recognized co-benefits that carbon sinks generate, fostering them should bring an important measure of unity among all parties in the climate policy debate since all can agree on the value of this approach;

Whereas, research is revealing significant human health impacts from exposure to wildfire smoke and small particulate matter, including respiratory and heart issues and an increase in premature births, among others;

Whereas, the Salt Lake City metropolitan area has had a number of days in 2021 with the worst or close to the worst air quality of any metropolitan area in the world, and studies have found that wildland fire smoke contributes close to half of the concentration of these pollutant levels in western states; and

Whereas, efforts to protect and enhance natural carbon sinks are easily and rapidly scalable in Utah and nationally and would provide numerous and immediate benefits:

Now, Therefore, be it resolved that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, challenges the Biden Administration and Congress to make meeting the federal government's stewardship responsibility in managing the federal public lands their highest priority in implementing any climate policy, thereby protecting and enhancing natural carbon sinks and, further, that they undertake this effort while recognizing Utah's state sovereignty and their statutory mandates under the Federal Land Policy and Management Act and the National Forest Management Act to fully coordinate and integrate these activities with the relevant land management and resource management plans of the state of Utah, Native American tribes, and local governments.

Be it further resolved the Legislature and the Governor find that the standard of responsible federal land and resources stewardship should be to achieve on federally-managed public lands the highest level of soil and ecosystem health and productivity that is being achieved on comparable land by tribal, state, local, and private managers or make a public report on why the agency is unable to restore this level of ecosystem health and productivity.

Be it further resolved that the Legislature and the Governor recognize that while increased funding and attention is being proposed, also challenge the Biden Administration and Congress to urgently initiate and fund emergency efforts to expand forest and rangeland fuel reduction and other fire pre-suppression activities to the maximum acreage H.C.R. 1 of federal land as quickly as possible to prevent the harm and damage now being caused on millions of acres annually.

Be it further resolved that the Legislature and the Governor declare that until adequate funding is provided for such an emergency effort to protect and enhance natural sinks on federally-managed land, no funding for such purposes should be provided for similar activities in other countries unless the federal government first provides a detailed analysis justifying spending those funds abroad instead of spending them to further improve the health and fire resistance of forests and rangelands in this country.

Be it further resolved that the Legislature and the Governor find that the federal government should apply a social benefits of carbon control cost-benefits funding test to identify and compare the co-benefits of protecting, rehabilitating, and expanding carbon sinks in natural systems on federally-managed land as a mechanism to control GHGs with the co-benefits that might be generated with any other alternative approach and make those calculations available to the public.

Be it further resolved that the Legislature and the Governor urge Congress to request that the U.S. Government Accountability Office analyze the potential capabilities of federal land management agencies to protect, enhance, and expand carbon sinks on federally-managed land in response to a maximum effort directive and estimate the annual costs of doing so, and, further, request, and provide funding if necessary, for several appropriate professional organizations such as the National Association of State Foresters and the Society for Range Management to undertake a similar analysis and include any recommendations for changes in federal policy, adoption of new management techniques, and any other suggestions that would improve the effectiveness and efficiency of such a maximum effort.

Be it further resolved that the Legislature and the Governor urge all state agencies with authority to manage state-managed public lands to continue to manage them in ways that increase soil carbon sequestration and to the extent they can, to encourage greater soil carbon sequestration on private lands.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the United States Secretary of the Interior, the United States Secretary of Agriculture, the United States Secretary of Health and Human Services, the United States Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, the United States Secretary of Commerce, the United States Secretary of Energy, the United States Secretary of Transportation, the United States Environmental Protection Agency, the leader of each legislative house in each of the other states, and the members of Utah's congressional delegation.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO CHARLES "SANDY" WENTZELL

HON. JEFFERSON VAN DREW

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 7, 2022

Mr. VAN DREW. Madam Speaker, last week, I had the pleasure of attending Charles "Sandy" Wentzell's 100th birthday celebration.

Sandy is the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 253's oldest surviving World War II and Korean war veteran. In the Army Air Corps, he served as a technical sergeant and flew 34 missions over Berlin in a B-17 Superfortress during World War II. Then, Sandy joined the newly formed U.S. Air Force as a ground air controller with South Korean forces. During this time, he was captured and taken prisoner. However, Sandy bravely escaped captivity in the middle of the night during freezing cold temperatures. It is truly remarkable that he was able to flee, and it was such an honor to be able to meet him.

Sandy should be so proud of his bravery and successful escape, and I want to thank him for his heroic service to our country. God Bless Sandy, and God Bless our United States of America.
