Hearing on Ending Exploitation: How the Financial System can Work to Dismantle the Business of Human Trafficking

March 25, 2021
12:00 pm

Testimony of Laila Mickelwait MPD
Founder, Traffickinghub Movement
President, Justice Defense Fund

Pornhub is the 10th most trafficked site in the world with 42 billion visits per year, 115 million visits per day, and 4.5 million visits per hour. The site boasts 6.8 million videos uploaded per year that would take a total of 169 years to watch. One study in 2020 concluded that Pornhub was the website with the third greatest impact on society in the 21st century, after Facebook and Google.

Pornhub is owned by MindGeek, an international pornography conglomerate that has obtained a monopoly on the porn industry. It owns more than 100 websites, production companies and brands. Its properties include Redtube, Youporn, XTube, Tube8, Playboy Digital, SpankWire, ExtremeTube, Men.com, My Dirty Hobby, Thumbzilla, PornMD, Brazzers and GayTube to name a few. As the New York Times put it, “Mindgeek is a porn titan. If it operated in any other industry the Justice Department could be discussing an antitrust case against it.”

MindGeek is also what I call a “mega-sex trafficker” in that its sites are infested with highly monetized commercial crime scene footage of child sexual abuse, rape, assault, and other forms of non-consensual pornographic content. Every video on Pornhub is commercial, in fact the totality of the videos on the MindGeek sites generate hundreds of millions of dollars in revenue per year. The company knowingly has enabled and profited from mass amounts of sex acts induced by force, fraud, or coercion, and the commercial sexual abuse of children. According to both domestic and international law this is by definition human trafficking.

Unfortunately, Pornhub is not alone. There is an entire Big Porn industry operating similar “porn tube” sites. For example MindGeek’s biggest rival WGCZ, the parent company of Xvideos.com who has had a recent class action lawsuit filed against it on behalf of trafficked minors boasts 200 million daily visitors and 6 billion daily ad impressions on its various websites.

Like Pornhub these porn tube sites are set up for mass sexual exploitation and trafficking, allowing any user with a cell phone camera to anonymously, in under 10 minutes, upload sex acts with only an email address. No government issued ID is required to prove these are not trafficked children and no consent form is required to attempt to demonstrate that these are not men or women being raped for profit. In fact, Pornhub even has designed its own VPN so that users can access and upload to the site without their IP addresses being revealed. They also launched a dark web mirror site that enables pedo-criminals to view child rape with added anonymity.

Porn tube sites are the primary way that filmed sex acts are distributed to the world in the digital age, yet there is very little accountability or oversight with regard to the nature of those sex acts. That is intentional on the part of these websites, because the unlimited ability to upload content by any user in the world is the business model that generates the most profit. For Pornhub and its largest competitors, content is king. The more content that is uploaded to these porn tube sites, the more traffic is driven to the site, and the more profit is generated from advertising, premium memberships and the sale of user data. In fact, fifty percent of Pornhub's profit is generated via advertising.

As an example, among many other crime scenes, I have witnessed the monetized anal rape of an obviously pre-pubescent child on Pornhub. She is screaming and recoiling but there are advertisements all around the video of her trafficking including in the middle of the video if pause is pressed, before the video and after the video. The URL to that crime scene was delivered to the FBI and to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children who demanded it be removed from the site. Pornhub finally took the video down after two weeks and tens of thousands of views but they left the data live on the site including the title, the tags and the views in order for Google to continue to index the child's rape and continue to drive traffic to the site using that child's trauma, because again, content is king for these sites.

In early 2020 employee whistleblowers revealed that Pornhub only employed under ten moderators per shift to review content on the site. Remember there are seven million videos and eleven million comments uploaded per year to Pornhub alone. Many of those comments emphatically indicate that the videos contain child rape, trafficking and assault but are ignored for months and years. This lack of moderation is part of the porn tube business model because limiting content, even if illegal, limits traffic, and thus limits profits.

In a digital age, transacting in coerced and forced sex acts and sex acts involving minors has become easier for traffickers to perpetrate and harder for law enforcement to prosecute. Likewise, sex trafficking in a world that operates online has become more profitable and less risky for predators and yet more damaging for victims.

In today's online landscape not only does the trafficking victim undergo the trauma of the incident of monetized rape, but then is forced to live with the terrorizing knowledge that the worst moments of their lives will live on in the digital space, being consumed for both profit and pleasure even long after they are dead. Sex trafficking victims have called this the "immortalization" of their trauma and it is an exponential injustice that leaves victims in a position of never being able to escape their torment.

Because profits are the crux of the issue, financial services actors that facilitate and benefit from the exchange of money play a central role when it comes to enabling or disabling the crime of sex trafficking on such sites.

My journey over the last year to hold Pornhub accountable for complicity in mass rape and trafficking has given me a unique perspective on the role that financial institutions play in compelling the behavior of companies like MindGeek.

After two million people from 192 countries had signed the petition to hold Pornhub accountable; 300 organizations had joined together with a unified voice to call for the site to be shut down; victims were publicly coming forward; over 33 million people had viewed and shared the Traffickinghub movement awareness video; lawmakers in the U.S. had called for a DOJ investigation; cross party parliamentarians had called for criminal investigations in Canada; grassroots protests against the company were happening in countries around the world; and hundreds of media articles were published bringing attention to the issue of mass child trafficking on the site, Pornhub still refused to acknowledge the problem.

Even until October 2020, company executives told the media suggestions that children were being exploited on the site were “conspiracy theories.” However, in December a groundbreaking New York Times expose put pressure on the major card companies to stop enabling the abuse. Mastercard responded by confirming the illegal activity and disabling the use of their card on the site. Visa and Discover immediately followed suit and instantly, in under 24 hours, the 10th most trafficked website in the world deleted 80 percent of its content, totaling 10 million videos.

Not only was this a dramatic admission of guilt on the part of Pornhub, but it was also a demonstration of the power and influence that financial institutions have in regulating even the largest websites in the world. This leverage could and should have been utilized long before it was, not only because it is was the “right thing” to do, but because being aware that acts of trafficking are being facilitated by their card transactions and not taking action is illegal. According to the Trafficking Victims Protection Act knowingly benefiting from a sex trafficking venture is prohibited. Financial services actors should be aware that their due diligence and compliance duties with regard to sex trafficking reach far beyond benevolence into the realm of legal liability.

What can be done immediately to help remedy the emergency of mass trafficking on the world’s most visited pornography websites?

First we urgently need 18 U.S. Code § 2257 to be amended to explicitly hold websites that distribute user generated filmed sex acts responsible for age verification and record keeping. This law has long been used to help prevent child sexual abuse from proliferating in the pornography industry but the law is antiquated. This important law was created when magazines, and later VHS tapes and DVDs featuring studio produced pornographic content were dominant and the law must be updated to keep up with the fact that porn tube sites are the primary means by which pornography is globally distributed and transferred today.

Second, we need mandatory reliable age and consent verification procedures mandated for any image of a sex act uploaded online. All websites allowing user generated pornographic content should implement technology to detect images and videos of sex acts upon upload. That content should be reviewed for age and consent verification before the images make it onto the websites.

Websites that refuse to comply with age and consent verification should have repercussions not only in the form of civil liability and criminal liability, but also financial services actors should have regulations in place that prohibit the use of their services without such checks in place.

Laws regarding the disclosure of the beneficial owners of the companies who own these sites is also an important accountability measure. In the case of MindGeek, its executives and owners have spent the last decade intentionally hiding their identities in order to escape scrutiny. The owner of MindGeek, Bernard Bergemar was only revealed in late December of 2020 after a Financial Times investigation. Its CEO and COO were never publicly seen or heard from until they were subpoenaed to appear by the Canadian Parliament Ethics Committee investigating the company in March of this year. Its VPs have also used fake names and identities when speaking with the media, and even now we don't know who is ultimately behind the company. Transparency is essential in these cases.

Lastly, enforcement of laws concerning the mandatory reporting of child sexual abuse material must be improved to ensure that companies like MindGeek, which has offices, servers, and substantial consumers in the United States are held accountable for failing to report known CSAM on their systems as legally required. Recent testimony in the Canadian House of Commons and publicly available data show that despite the widespread presence of such materials on Mindgeek's servers and systems, from 2008 to late 2020 they made no reports of such content to either American or Canadian authorities as required by law. This is unacceptable, we need more accountability for these websites.

These actions would go a long way in the realm of sex trafficking prevention in the digital age.

As additional information I have also submitted an evidence dense visual presentation for your reference with regard to the specific case against Pornhub and its parent company MindGeek. Thank you for the opportunity to testify before you today and I welcome any questions you may have.

A case involved a 15 y/o trafficked minor from Florida, who was listed as part of the Modelhub program.

“MODEL” RECRUITMENT

Modelhub is the world’s fastest-growing adult marketplace, letting “models” sell their videos at any price. Models can choose to make their video viewable for free, earning ad revenue, and restrict downloads to paying customers (or just make them undownloadable altogether).

The screenshot shows a website layout with a dark background and white text. At the top, it says 'BILLIONS OF REASONS TO JOIN' in large white letters. Below this, a smaller line of text reads: 'With over 3 billion visits a month, make ad revenue, sell your videos and build your fan base on the largest adult platform in the world.' There are two buttons: a grey 'Learn More' button and a yellow 'Join The Model Program' button. Below the main text are three horizontal panels, each with a background image of a woman and white text: 'Marketing Tools To Grow Your Brand', 'Content And Model Support', and 'Multiple Revenue Streams'.

REDWOOD CITY — Videos allegedly depicting a 49-year-old Redwood City woman engaged in sexual acts with a 14-year-old female relative have landed the former behind bars, authorities said.

Dawn Gianni, a substitute teacher who previously taught in Palo Alto and Redwood City, was arrested Oct. 18 after one of the victim's classmates at Woodside High School viewed the videos on the pornography website Pornhub and reported them to the principal. The principal in turn contacted the San Mateo County Sheriff's Office.

Giannini is charged with 24 felony counts, including lewd and lascivious acts on a child ages 14 or 15, forcible sexual penetration and incest. She has not entered a plea.

Prosecutors contend Gianni engaged in a sexual relationship with her relative from Nov. 21, 2014, to Nov. 20, 2015, when the victim was 14. The victim filmed the alleged conduct with her cellphone and those videos were ultimately uploaded to Pornhub. The video sharing site is among the 50 most-visited in the world.

CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE MATERIAL (CSAM) / TRAFFICKING

Pornhub's moderators reviewed and approved obvious indicators of CSAM from unverified and unknown uploader for example videos of boys filming themselves masturbating whose videos clearly indicate CSAM. Many on the site for years.

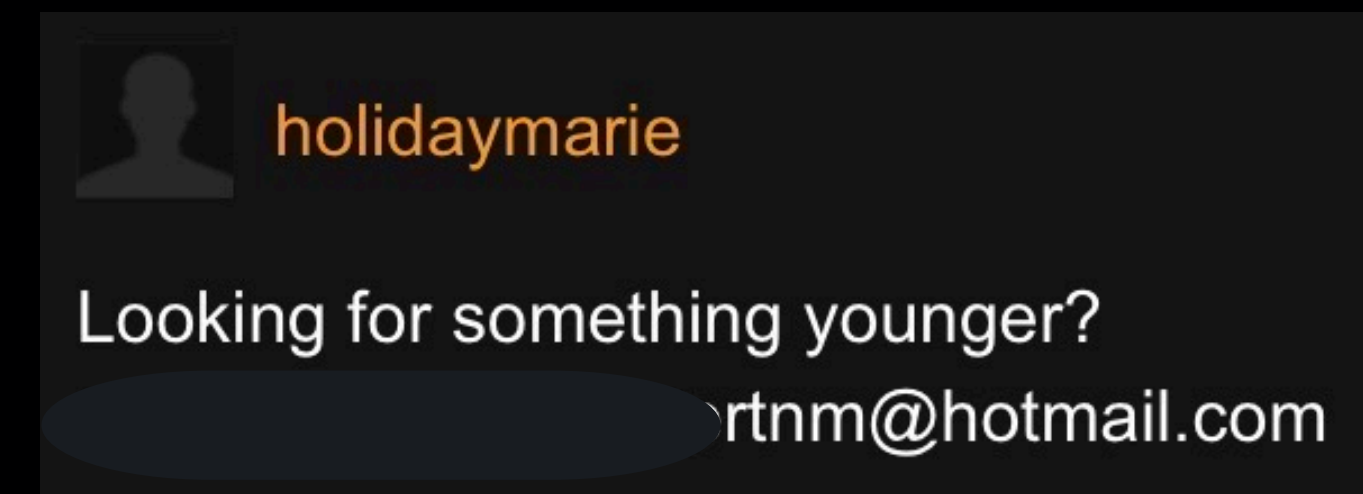

CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE MATERIAL (CSAM) / TRAFFICKING

These are examples of underage victims of Pornhub, who had videos of abuse on the site, many victims have said Pornhub did not respond to their pleas to remove their CSAM videos.

Replying to @LailaMickelwait
I was blackmailed into sending videos of myself doing sexual acts, as a 15 year old. I remember one of those videos ending on pornhub, and still now I check every now and then just out of fear that those videos end up as someone's jerk off material.

The boy who raped me threatened to post a video on pornhub and I found it.

was sobbing and crying because I'm only 15 and it happened when I was 14 and I was so scared that a lot of people could've seen it.

Yesterday I found out an explicit video of me was posted to pornhub. I was underage, did not send it to anyone in the best of my recollection, and it got hacked from my phone. I was Horrified reported it and filed a complaint with the National Center of exploited children. Police took a statement yesterday and I am waiting for a detective to contact me. Even if the video is down it could always come back. This could ruin my life and future. I'm terrified and I am traumatized.

a interesting because the video on their site that was taken of me without my knowledge while i was underage is still up on their site despite me reporting it numerous times STATING that i am underage in the video and that it was taken and posted without my consent.

I had to prove I was underage for them to take a video of me down. Fucking disgusting.

Pornhub finally deleted the video of my rape after days of me pleading and threatening legal action but the damage is already done. countless of people downloaded it, it was viewed over and over again a number I will never forget. I'm being harassed, threatened and stalked don't for a second think I will forget just because it's not there anymore. I was going to leave this alone after it was deleted but I can't, what happened to me has happened to countless others. This brought back the feeling of helplessness I swore to myself I would never feel again, yes I am a victim but I am not broken I will not let myself become silenced

Remember when I spent 2 months begging you to take down the video of me being orally raped at 15? The one where I was crying, screaming and had a bloody nose?The one that was up for a year and a half before I even knew about it?

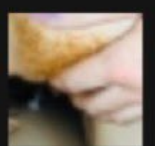

Do you remember that?

This video is totally inappropriate! I suppose the man is a father or family. She was crying "kurushi" meaning "painful" and she was begging him to stop!

Do we really know sex trafficking when we see it! "EXPLOITED TEENS ASIA". She can't be older than 15 or 16. this is a real victim. In some moments she looks like she wants to cry. You can see that she doesnt want this, you can see that she wishes he'd leave her alone! I can't believe 9k liked the image of an old perv humping on a helpless GIRL! Flag the fuck out of this and hopefully pornhub will remove it. My heart breaks for her. Hopefully she will be able to escape and find true love

CSAM ENABLED IN PRIVATE FOLDERS

Pornhub's design included a feature where users can privately upload and share image and video sex acts out of public view.

Content in private folders and messaging are held with very little oversight.

These private files were used to distribute/share illegal content including CSAM/trafficking.

Users can upload private content for themselves, make it viewable to share with others, or allow other users to contribute their own videos to the folders. Child Sexual Abuse Material (CSAM) has been discovered in these private folders, which provide pedophiles a place to communicate and share illegal content.

Thank you for the link, I tried but it gives me an error message.

I don't see why it's a bad thing to report it to Pornhub though. I want them to remove the videos. They have hundreds of thousands of collective views. There's only so much a law enforcement agency can do, they might very feasibly not be able to do anything. At least Pornhub can do us all the justice of not hosting the videos.

These videos are on one of the most popular websites on the planet. Personally I think that that, in itself, is a problem worth spending two or three clicks to try and reverse. It's so bizarre to me that this has received a negative reaction. It's so weird.

Katie_Pornhub • 323d

You don't need to report the urls to an agency, just flag them it email the urls on pornhub.com/support. It's very likely that if they aren't removed it's because it's not illegal content.

ZERO REPORTS OF CSAM FROM PORNHUB FROM 2008-2020

During recent Canadian Parliamentary Ethics Committee hearings 2021 it was revealed by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children and the Canadian Centre for Child Protection that Pornhub/ MindGeek had made ZERO reports of CSAM from 2008 until late 2020 after global media exposure and condemnation.

The Canadian Centre for Child Protection, the U.S. National Center for Missing and Exploited Children and the RCMP have all said they only began receiving reports of child sexual abuse images from Pornhub in late 2020.

"It also appears that MindGeek has violated Canada's laws on publication of intimate images without consent," the letter states.

NON-REPORTING OF CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE MATERIAL (CSAM)

Through the end of 2020, Pornhub had not reported known child sexual abuse material to the Cybertipline.

WHERE IS PORNHUB?

Why no reports to NCMEC through end of 2019?

A: never heard of NCMEC we might report to that too but i would not know

Whistleblower moderator says they “never heard of NCMEC”

NCMEC'S CYBERTIPLINE

Is the nation's centralized reporting system for the online exploitation of children, including child sexual abuse material, child sex trafficking and online enticement.

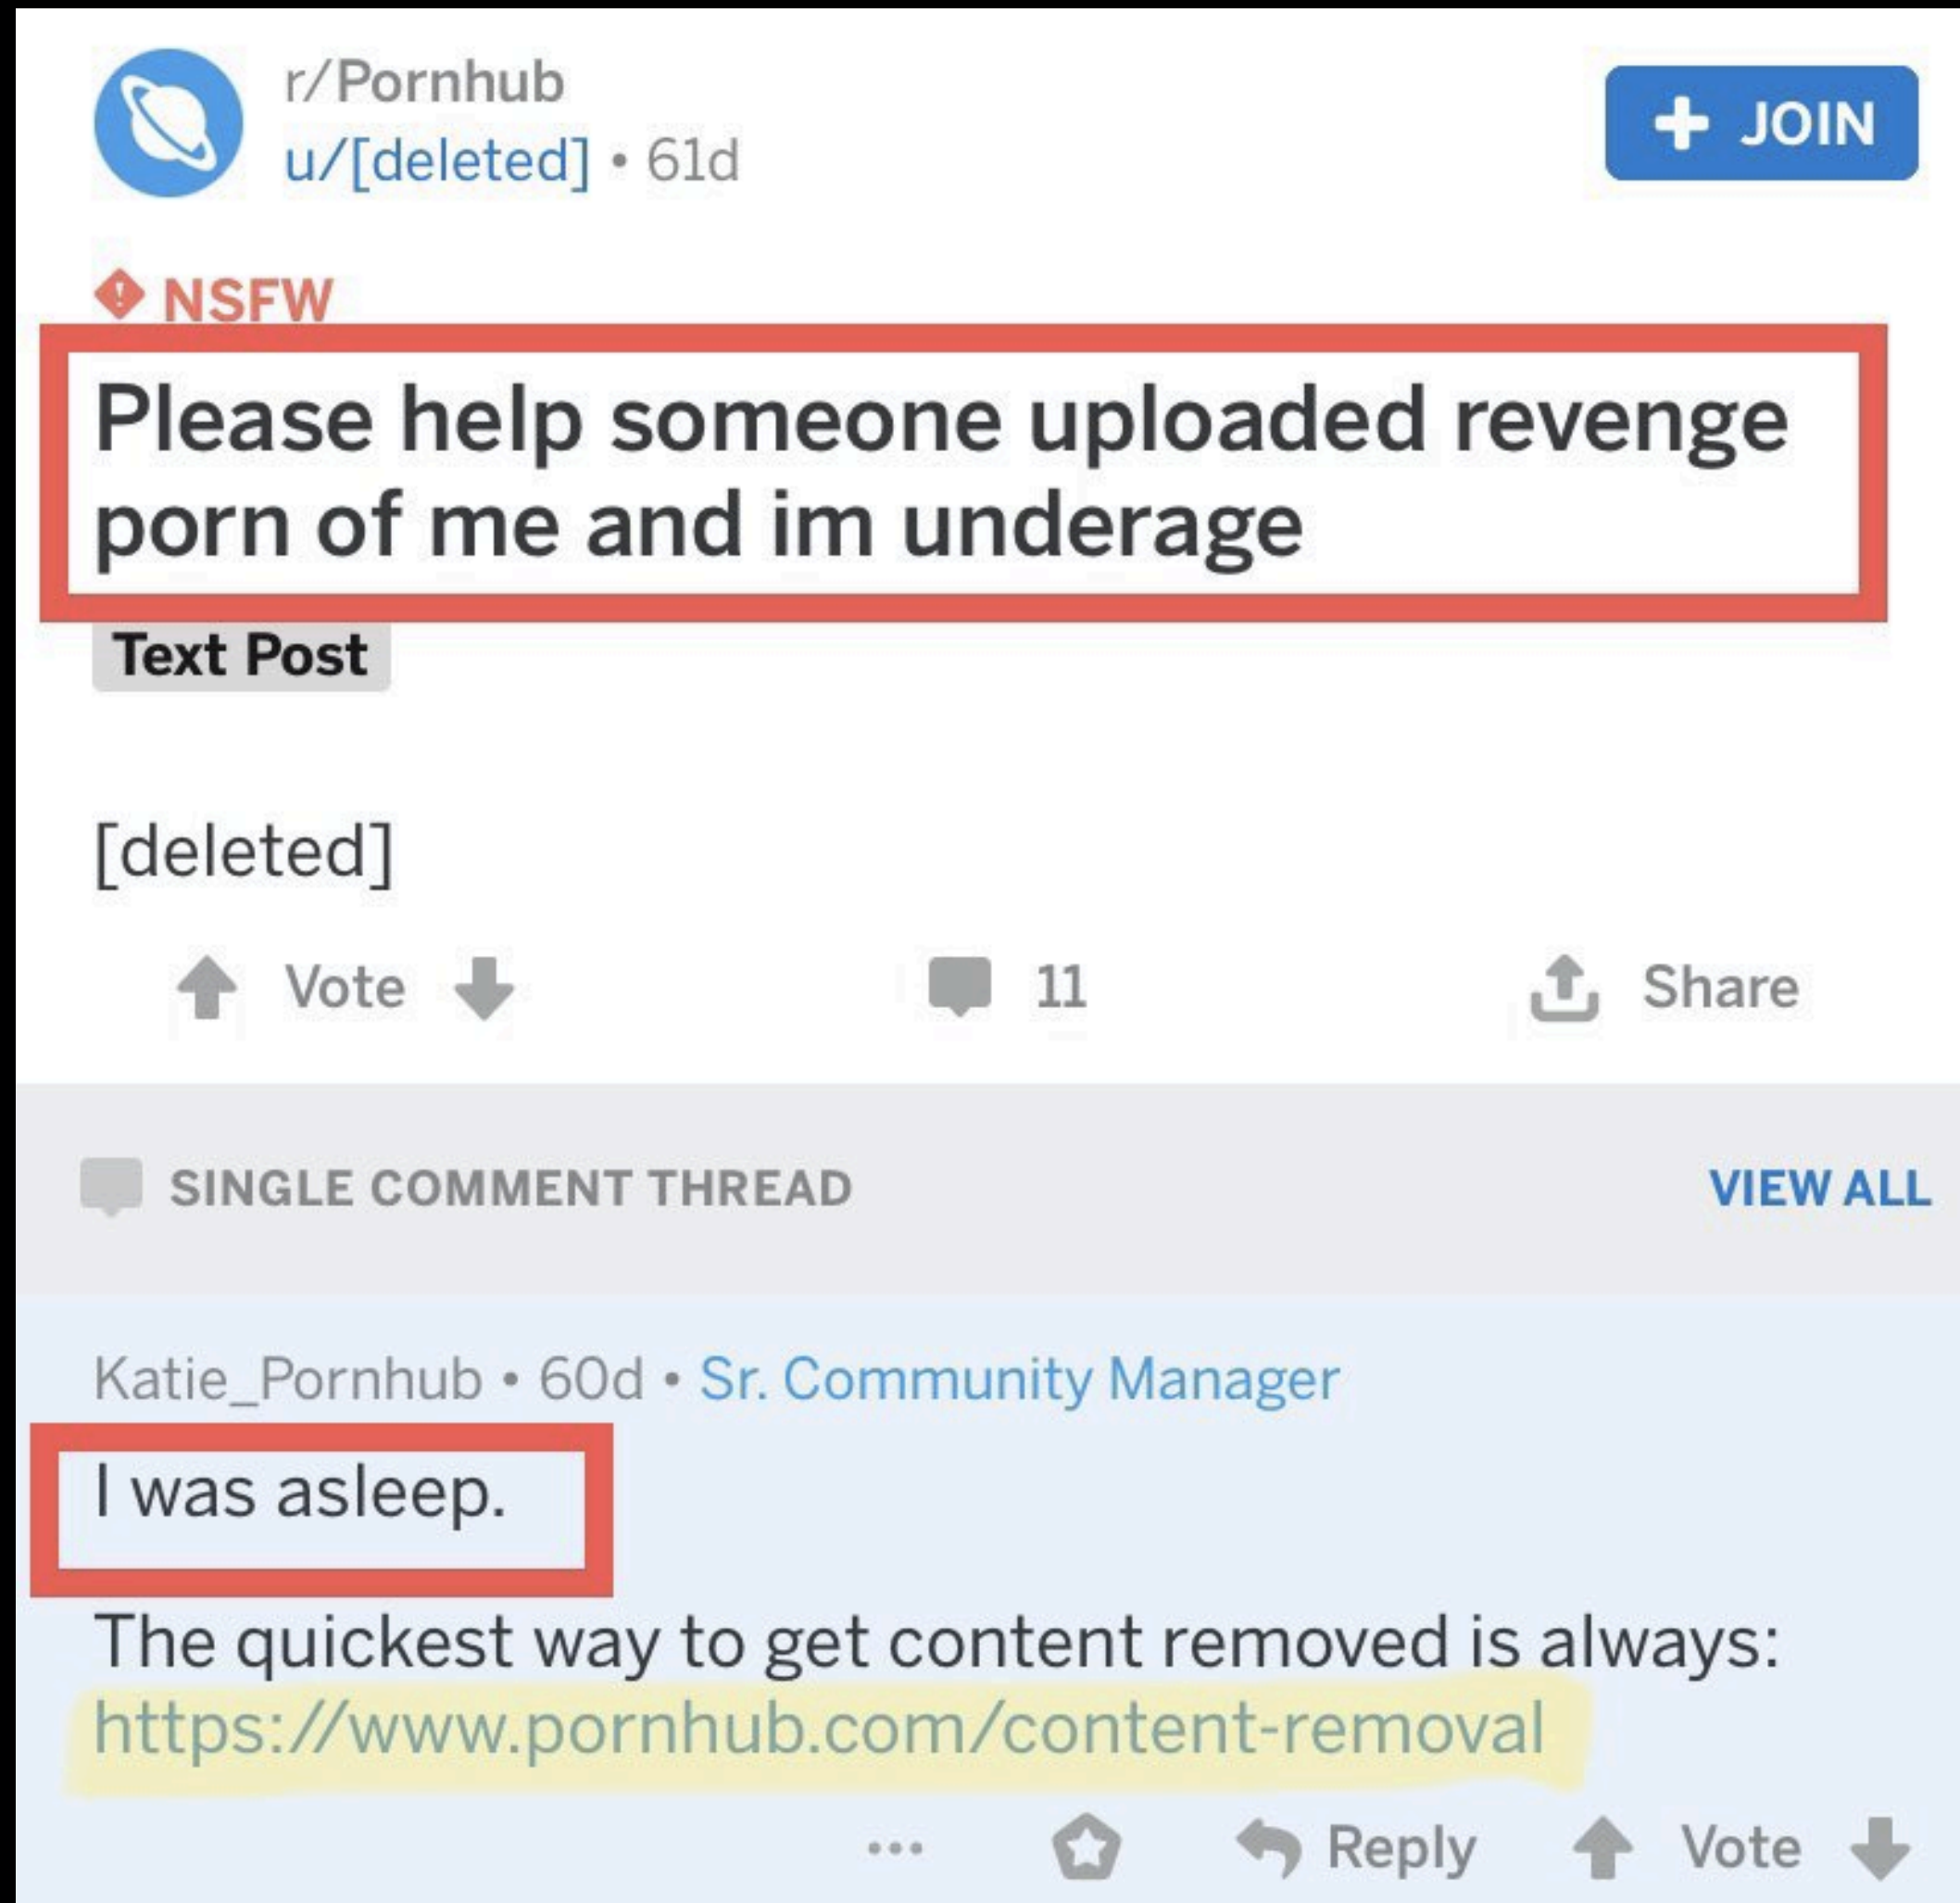

In 2019 the Cybertipline received 16.9 million reports related to suspected child sexual exploitation. These reports contained 69.1 million videos, images and files.

This list is a breakdown of reports by electronic service providers. While 148 other companies did proactively report, Pornhub did not report any instances of suspected child abuse and exploitation to NCMEC's Cybertipline through 2019.

PROMOTING AND ADVERTISING CSAM

ADVERTISING & DISTRIBUTING CSAM

According to MindGeek, they review and approve each video before upload. Therefore, MindGeek approves videos of underage victims. This video identified the girl as underage in the comments, with the tags “CP” and “Not 18” and yet Pornhub intentionally FEATURED (advertised) the video in order to get more views.

PROMOTING AND ADVERTISING CSAM

ADVERTISING/ DRIVING TRAFFIC TO SITE USING CSAM

When NCMEC would confirm instances of CSAM they would send Pornhub a takedown notice. Evidence shows Pornhub would delete the video but use the data of the child exploitation videos to continue driving traffic to the site using the tags, titles, views etc.

Cantone, 31, committed suicide this week, reports say

(CNN) — The family of Tiziana Cantone, an Italian woman who committed suicide after sexually explicit videos of her went viral on the Internet, has urged the Italian authorities "to act so that her death was not in vain."

The 31-year-old was found hanged Tuesday at her aunt's home in Mugnano, near Naples, in the south of the country, according to media reports.

Four people are under investigation by criminal prosecutors over alleged defamation of the woman, Italian state media ANSA reported.

The VPN offers another layer of anonymity for users and further decreases the perception of risk for bad actors.

This enables pedo-criminals and traffickers to upload with less ability to be held accountable.

Pornhub Is Now Available as a Tor Site to Protect Users' Privacy

Pornhub decided to create the Tor mirror site to help protect the porn-viewing habits of LGBT users, whose sexual preferences can be criminalized in certain countries.

Want to keep your adult online activities private? Well, good news: Pornhub is now available on the dark web.

ENABLING & FACILITATING BAD ACTORS

MIRROR SITE ON DARK WEB

Pornhub has created a Tor mirror site which helps anonymize web traffic and prevent internet service providers and the government from tracking users' activities.

In November 2020 I was contacted by a high school principle who provided evidence of a 15 yr old child being abused on Pornhub. In the title of the video was her full real name, the name of her high school and the town she lives in. She was suicidal. She is one of many trafficking victims doxxed on Pornhub in videos uploaded against their will while the executives hide their own identities.

Shortly after the NY Times expose, Visa, MasterCard, and Discover confirmed the presence of illegal content and stopped allowing payments to be processed on Pornhub.

10 MILLION VIDEOS.

In response to the credit card decisions Pornhub deleted the majority of its content because it could not verify the videos did not contain child abuse, assault and sex trafficking. The site also upended its business model to only allow “verified” uploaders.

The screenshot shows a CNN Business article. The headline is "Pornhub removes a majority of its videos after investigation reveals child abuse". The byline is "By Jordan Valinsky, CNN Business" and the update time is "Updated 12:24 PM ET, Tue December 15, 2020". The main image is a portrait of a man in a suit in front of a bookshelf. To the right of the image is a "lendingtree" advertisement with a table of loan rates.

Pornhub suspends over 10 million videos to eradicate illegal content

Roughly 13.5 million videos hosted on Pornhub are now reduced to only 2.9 million.

Pornhub Restricts Downloads, Will Only Allow Uploads From Verified Users

Pornhub made the changes after a columnist for The New York Times documented how the adult site can profit off videos depicting child porn and rape, and Visa and Mastercard suggested they might sever ties with the site.

ACCOUNTABILITY

PROBLEM NOT SOLVED

Pornhub still only consistently verifies the identity of the uploaders who are in known cases the traffickers. Pornhub still does not verify the age and consent of every individual in every video they profit from thus enabling trafficking to continue to proliferate on the site.
