A BILL

To require the Comptroller General of the United States to carry out a study on the trafficking into the United States of synthetic drugs, and related illicit finance, and for other purposes.

1       *Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,*

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Preventing the Financ-
5       ing of Illegal Synthetic Drugs Act”.

1   SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2       The Congress finds the following:

3           (1) According to the Center for Disease Control
4       and Prevention, over 107,000 people in the United 5       States died from drug overdoses or drug poisonings
6       in the 12-month period ending January 2022, with 7       67 percent of those deaths involving synthetic 8       opioids like fentanyl.

9           (2) According to the United National Office of 10      Drugs and Crime (UNODC) in its “Synthetic Drug 11      Strategy 2021–2025”, the number of synthetic 12      drugs, also called New Psychoactive Substances, has 13      increased 631 percent since 2009, with traffickers
14      introducing an average of 80 new substances to the 15      illicit drug market each year from 2009–2019.

16           (3) In October 2022, F. Michael McDaniel, di-
17       rector of the Houston High Intensity Drug Traf-
18       ficking Areas (HITDA) program testified in Con-
19       gress that one kilogram of fentanyl can produce one 20       million counterfeit pills containing one milligram of 21       fentanyl, saying, “Currently in Houston, Texas, you
22       can buy a kilogram of fentanyl for an average price
23       of $25,000 to $30,000. This same kilogram of 24       fentanyl in Culiacán (Mexico) could be purchased at 25       an average price of $13,500. Currently, the price of 26       a fentanyl pill in Houston ranges from $6 to $65.

1       Therefore, an illicit investment of $30,000 or less
2       could result in a return of $6 to $32.5 million.”.

3                     (4) According to Celina B. Realuyo, Adjunct
4       Professor, The George Washington University Elliott
5       School of International Affairs, in March 2022 Con-
6       gressional testimony, “Financing is essential to sup-7       port and sustain the command and control, per-
8       sonnel, arms, communications, logistics and oper-
9       ations of organized crime groups. For this reason, 10      following the money trail and depriving criminals of 11      illicit financial flows can disrupt and disable these 12      networks.”.

13 SEC. 3. GAO STUDY ON SYNTHETIC DRUGS TRAFFICKING.

14                     (a) IN GENERAL.—The Comptroller General of the 15      United States shall carry out a study on illicit financing 16      in connection with the trafficking of synthetic drugs, in-17      cluding fentanyl and methamphetamine, fentanyl- and 18      methamphetamine-related substances, Captagon, and 19      fentanyl and methamphetamine precursors, including—

20                         (1) the business of the trafficking of synthetic 21      drugs and related illicit finance, such as the partici-
22      pation of transnational criminal organizations and 23      terror syndicates and their notable trafficking cor-
24      ridors, including source and transit countries;

1                         (2) the business models used by these
2 transnational criminal organizations, including U.S.
3 domestic and foreign activities for precursor pur-
4 chase or production, movement along the supply
5 chain, manufacture of the completed product, mar-
6 keting, distribution, sales, and return of proceeds;

7                         (3) the overlap of the business model of human 8 trafficking and the trafficking of synthetic drugs
9 and related illicit finance;

10                        (4) the use of online illicit drug markets and 11 the use of social media for the marketing, sale, and 12 payment for synthetic drugs;

13                        (5) financial methods used by such 14 transnational criminal organizations, including—

15                        (A) payment;

16                        (B) money laundering; and

17                        (C) repatriation of proceeds;

18                        (6) the use of social media applications like 19 Snap Chat, Discord, and Facebook and payment ap-
20 plications like CashApp to facilitate financial trans-
21 actions for synthetic drug trafficking, especially 22 among young people; and

23                        (7) U.S. Government activities to combat illicit 24 finance related to the trafficking of synthetic drugs,
25 including—

1                             (A) interagency collaboration, including
2                             personnel detailed to other agencies to support
3                             the effort to combat synthetic drugs trafficking
4                             and related illicit finance;
5                             (B) intergovernmental collaboration;
6                             (C) intersectoral collaboration with the pri-
7                             vate sector, including the business and non-gov-8                             ernmental communities; and 9                             (D) identified gaps or resource deficiencies
10                            in combating the trafficking of synthetic drugs
11                            and related illicit finance in the coordination 12                            and collaboration activities described in sub-
13                            paragraphs (A) through (C).

14                         (b) REPORT.—Not later than the end of the 1-year
15                         period beginning on the date of enactment of this Act, the 16                         Comptroller General shall issue a report to the Congress
17                         containing all findings and determinations made in car-
18                         rying out the study required under subsection (a).
