AN ACT

To require the Securities and Exchange Commission to carry out a study of the costs associated with small- and medium-sized companies to undertake initial public offerings.

1       *Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,*

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2        This Act may be cited as the “Middle Market IPO
3 Cost Act”.

4 SEC. 2. STUDY ON IPO FEES.

5        (a) STUDY.—The Comptroller General of the United
6 States, in consultation with the Securities and Exchange
7 Commission, in consultation with the Financial Industry
8 Regulatory Authority, shall carry out a study of the costs
9 associated with small- and medium-sized companies to un-
10 dertake initial public offerings (“IPOs”). In carrying out
11 such study, the Comptroller General shall—

12              (1) consider the direct and indirect costs of an 13 IPO, including—

14                  (A) fees of accountants, underwriters, and 15 any other outside advisors with respect to the 16 IPO;

17                  (B) compliance with Federal and State se-
18 curities laws at the time of the IPO; and

19                  (C) such other IPO-related costs as the 20 Comptroller General may consider;

21              (2) compare and analyze the costs of an IPO
22 with the costs of obtaining alternative sources of fi-
23 nancing and of liquidity;

24              (3) consider the impact of such costs on capital
25 formation;

1                             (4) analyze the impact of these costs on the
2                             availability of public securities of small- and me-
3                             dium-sized companies to retail investors; and

4                             (5) analyze trends in IPOs over a time period
5                             the Comptroller General determines is appropriate to 6                             analyze IPO pricing practices, considering—

7                                 (A) the number of IPOs;

8                                 (B) how costs for IPOs have evolved over 9                             time for underwriters, investment advisory
10                             firms, and other professions for services in con-
11                             nection with an IPO;

12                                 (C) the number of brokers and dealers ac-
13                             tive in underwriting IPOs;

14                                 (D) the different types of services that un-
15                             derwriters and related persons provide before
16                             and after a small- or medium-sized company
17                             IPO and the factors impacting IPOs costs;

18                                 (E) changes in the costs and availability of 19                             investment research for small- and medium-
20                             sized companies; and

21                                 (F) the impacts of litigation and its costs
22                             on being a public company.

23                             (b) REPORT.—Not later than the end of the 360-day
24                             period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act,
25                             the Comptroller General shall issue a report to the Con-

1 gress containing all findings and determinations made in
2 carrying out the study required under subsection (a) and
3 any administrative or legislative recommendations the 4 Comptroller General may have.

Passed the House of Representatives June 5, 2023.

Attest:                    CHERYL L. JOHNSON,
