The Senate met at 10 a.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore (Mrs. Murray).

PRAYER
The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:
Let us pray.
Eternal Lord God, Your promises are sure. Bless our lawmakers in all their undertakings. In their friendships, keep them faithful and true. In their emotions, keep them calm and serene, free from anxiety and care. In their material things, give them contentment and generosity. In their spiritual lives, deliver them from doubt and distrust. In their work, give them guidance, courage, and success. And when misfortune comes, use the trials to bring them closer to each other and to You. Let nothing make their certainty that You alone are sovereign over their lives be shaken.
We pray in Your mighty Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE
The President pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:
I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME
The President pro tempore. Under the previous order, the leadership time is reserved.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS

LEGISLATIVE SESSION

PROVIDING FOR CONGRESSIONAL DISAPPROVAL UNDER CHAPTER 8 OF TITLE 5, UNITED STATES CODE, OF THE RULE SUBMITTED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION RELATING TO “WAIVERS AND MODIFICATIONS OF FEDERAL STUDENT LOANS”—Resumed

The President pro tempore. Under the previous order, the Senate will resume consideration of H.J. Res. 45, which the clerk will report.

The senior assistant legislative clerk read as follows:
A joint resolution (H.J. Res. 45) providing for congressional disapproval under chapter 8 of title 5, United States Code, of the rule submitted by the Department of Education relating to “Waivers and Modifications of Federal Student Loans”.

RECOGNITION OF THE MAJORITY LEADER
The President pro tempore. The majority leader is recognized.

FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY ACT
Mr. SCHUMER. Madam President, last night, a large majority of both Democrats and Republicans in the House passed bipartisan legislation to protect the U.S. economy, protect American families, and eliminate the threat of a first-ever default.

The bill is now in the Senate where we begin the process today of passing this legislation as soon as possible. The Senate will stay in session until we send a bill avoiding default to President Biden’s desk. We will keep working until the job is done.

Time is a luxury the Senate does not have if we want to prevent default. June 5 is less than 4 days away. At this point, any needless delay or last-minute holdups would be an unnecessary and even dangerous risk, and any change to this bill that forces us to send it back to the House would be entirely unacceptable. It would almost guarantee default.

So, again, the Senate will stay in session until we send a bill avoiding default to the President’s desk, and we will keep working until the job is done.

The vast majority of Senators recognize that passing this bill is supremely important. It is about preserving the full faith and credit of the United States. There is no good reason—none—to bring this process down to the wire, no good reason to bring this process down to the wire, and that, too, is dangerous and risky.

So, today, I hope we see a genuine desire to keep this process moving quickly. I hope we see nothing even approaching brinksmanship. The country cannot afford that right now. Instead, I hope we see bipartisan cooperation.

Bipartisanship is always the best way to avoid default and get this bill over the finish line. We have said it over and over again. Bipartisanship is what prevented default under President Trump; it is what prevented default under President Biden; and it is what will prevent default in this case too. Bipartisanship and hostage-taking, meanwhile, were never going to win the day.

Let me say this. Last night’s House vote was a resounding affirmation of bipartisanship, which I hope bodes well for quick movement here in the Senate. Large majorities from both sides came together to produce last night’s 314–314—“yes” votes. Two-thirds of Republicans voted for it, and more than two-thirds of Democrats voted for it. I thank my House colleagues on both sides of the aisle who fulfilled their duty to prevent a catastrophic default.

We need that same spirit of bipartisanship that governed the House vote to continue here in the Senate this morning. I hope that very soon we can finish the job of putting the default in our rearview mirror. This is the best thing we can do right now for our economy and for American families.

I am optimistic the Senate is going to get this done, but it will take one
The deals the House passed last night is a promising step toward fiscal sanity. Ah, but make no mistake, there is much more work to be done. The fight to reel in wasteful spending is far from over.

Our obligation to provide for the common defense is especially urgent. For years, Republicans have led significant investments in improving the readiness of our Armed Forces and modernizing their capabilities to face down emerging threats, but since President Biden, Republicans have had to fight year after year to ensure we meet the needs of our military.

Fortunately, we have secured bipartisan recognition that President Biden's budget requests have over-funded our national defense. This was especially true last year when Republicans secured a substantial, real-dollar increase to defense funding and ended Democrats' artificial demands for paralyzing military spending. This bought our military valuable time, but it was hardly a silver bullet.

As I said yesterday, President Biden's refusal to let the defense portion of this modestly insuffi-cient budget request is certainly disappointing.

So while the coming votes are an important step in the right direction, we cannot—cannot—neglect our fundamental obligation to address the Nation's most pressing national security challenges. Vladimir Putin's brutal invasion of Ukraine continues. Iran's state sponsorship of terrorism against Americans and our partners continues. North Korea's destabilizing nuclear proliferation continues. China's growing challenge to peace and stability in the Indo-Pacific continues as well.

So the Senate cannot afford to neglect its obligation to America's men and women in uniform and work urgently to help them defend our Nation, support our allies, and safeguard our interests remains unfinished, and so does our work to bring more of Washington Democrats' reckless liberal spending to heel.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. (Mr. WARNOCK.) The clerk will call the roll.

The senior assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. THUNE. Mr. President, before I begin, I would like to take just a moment this morning to recognize a pillar of the South Dakota press corps who has served at WNAX in Yankton, SD, for an incredible 47 years. His name is Jerry Oster, and he truly is an institution in the media landscape in South Dakota.

Jerry joined WNAX as news director in September of 1976, and he has become one of the most familiar and beloved voices on the airwaves in South Dakota.

I have had many great conversations with Jerry over the years on air and off, and I can say for certain that his departure will leave a void in the South Dakota radio scene. But he has more than earned his retirement, and I know that he will relish getting to spend more time with his wife Cheryl—herself just recently retired from an amazing 43 years with Farm Credit Services of America—and with his sons and their wives and his six grandchildren.

Jerry, congratulations on an incredible and award-winning career, and enjoy some well-deserved rest.

Mr. President, last August, mere days after he had signed a bill that would supposedly reduce the deficit by $238 billion, President Biden announced a student loan giveaway that is said to cost American taxpayers near a trillion dollars over the next decade. In a Presidency distinguished by bad economic decisions, this was a particularly notable one.

There are two main parts to the President's scheme. There is the outright forgiveness of $10,000 in Federal student debt—or $20,000 for Pell grant recipients—which is set to cost American taxpayers somewhere in the neighborhood of half a trillion dollars. Then there is President Biden's radical ramp of the income-driven repayment system, which will bring total cost for the President's plan somewhere close to a trillion dollars.

There are a number of obvious problems with the President's plan for forgiving student debt. I say "forgiving student debt," but it is more like transferring the cost of student debt for the relatively small percentage of taxpayers in this country with student debt to American taxpayers in full. It is something of a slap in the face to Americans who chose more affordable college options or worked their way through school to avoid taking on student loans or whose parents scrimped and saved to put them through college.

It is also a slap in the face to members of the military who signed up to serve this country and earned GI bill benefits to help with tuition or training. Not to mention that negating this popular benefit could drag down recruitment and retention for individuals who took out loans for college or graduate school and agreed to pay them back.

And, of course, it is deeply unfair to ask the many Americans who worked hard to pay off their loans or who never pursued college in the first place to take on the burden of student debt for individuals who took out loans for college or graduate school and agreed to pay them back.

And let's remember, we are asking taxpayers, at large, to foot the bill for student loan cancellation for Americans who enjoy greater long-term earning potential than many of the Americans who will be helping to shoulder the burden for their debts.
The President’s student loan giveaway isn’t a government handout for the needy; it is a government handout that will be disproportionately beneficial to Americans who are better off. It is ironic coming from someone who claims he wants to build the economy from the bottom up and the middle out. The President’s student loan giveaway is decidedly more top-down, let’s face it.

And speaking of the economy, Americans continue to struggle with the effects of the Democrat-driven inflation crisis that has beset our economy for most of the President’s administration. Prices are up 16 percent on average since the President took office, and we are nowhere near getting back to the target inflation rate of 2 percent.

What is the President’s student loan plan almost guaranteed to do? In the words of the nonpartisan Committee for a Responsible Federal Budget, the President’s own Treasury Secretary served on the board, the President’s student loan giveaway will “meanfully boost inflation”—“meaningfully boost inflation.”

I have already talked about the forgiveness part of the President’s plan and how fundamentally unfair it is, but that is only half of the President’s student loan giveaway. The other half is just as problematic because it sets up a system in which the majority of Federal borrowers will never fully repay their loans. The Urban Institute, a left-of-center think tank, estimates that just 22 percent of those with bachelor’s degree enrolled in the President’s new income-driven repayment program would repay their loans in full—22 percent—and many individuals would never be required to repay a penny.

And who will be footing the bill for all those student loan dollars that aren’t repaid? Well, you guessed it—the American taxpayers.

Needless to say, the President’s income-driven repayment plan will not only fail to curtail student borrowing, it will encourage it. If you reasonably expect that you won’t have to fully pay back your loans, you are much more likely to feel free to borrow and to borrow liberally.

And, of course, neither the President’s outright student loan forgiveness nor his forgiveness masquerading as income-driven repayment will do anything to address the problem of soaring college costs. In fact, the President’s student loan giveaway is likely to make the problem worse.

You only have to look at what happened when Democrats forced through their $7,500 tax credit for Americans who purchased electric vehicles. Car manufacturers unsurprisingly increased their prices by a similar amount. Similarly, if colleges can expect that the Federal Government will pick up a sizable part of the tab for their students’ education, they are extremely unlikely to feel any pressing need to cut costs or to stop tuition hikes. If anything, colleges might further increase tuition and fees.

Currently, the outcome of the forgiveness portion of the President’s student loan giveaway is unclear. The President’s legal authority for this action is dubious, and his ability to unilaterally forgive student loans has been challenged in the Supreme Court, with a decision expected within weeks.

And, today, the Senate looks likely to pass a resolution that would block the forgiveness part of the President’s proposal. Unfortunately, the President is guaranteed to veto the measure, and there are not enough Democrats in the House and Senate willing to override his veto. Apparently, the possibility of garnering votes from Americans with student debt is reason enough for Democrats to ignore the blatantly regressive nature of the President’s student loan giveaway—and the fact that it will almost unquestionably worsen the problem of rising college costs, not to mention the fact that it will drive up inflation and balloon the deficit.

That pause, which has been in place for 3 years now, costs taxpayers $5 billion per month. Fortunately, this pause is guaranteed to end thanks to the Fiscal Responsibility Act, the legislation Speaker McCarthy and President Biden agreed on to raise the debt ceiling. That pause, while the end of the pause is a victory for taxpayers, the savings that will result pale in comparison to the tremendous costs of the President’s student loan giveaway. And if the Supreme Court doesn’t overturn the forgiveness portion of the President’s student loan giveaway, American taxpayers will be stuck with the full nearly trillion-dollar bill. It will be one more economic legacy from Democrats and the Biden administration.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. LUJAN). The Senator from Washington.

Mrs. MURRAY. Mr. President, I come to the floor to urge all of my colleagues to vote against this Republican bill that would undo President Biden’s student debt relief plan and rip away relief borrowers across the country are counting on.

It is hard to overstate how badly the student debt crisis has strained our borrowers and our families nationwide, and this crisis has been a drag on our whole country and our economy. It is holding people back from starting families or starting a business or buying a home—or, in many cases, just making ends meet.

The student debt relief President Biden announced last fall is life-changing for so many borrowers. Under his plan, tens of millions of people who are struggling with student debt will finally see their balances go down, and millions will have their debt wiped out entirely.

Before Republican interests sued to deny borrowers this life-changing relief, putting the President’s plan on pause, over 26 million people across all 50 States had already applied for or were automatically eligible for that relief.

And let’s be clear. This relief is targeted to reach those who need it the most. Ninety percent of the relief will go to borrowers earning less than $75,000 a year. That is such a big deal.

I have heard from so many people across my State who were so grateful and relieved to have a glimmer of hope finally, to see a light at the end of the tunnel, and now Republicans want to snuff it out. They are trying to deny relief to borrowers in court and now here in Congress too. That is what we are voting on today.

To the hard-working people in America who are counting on the student debt relief, listen up. Republicans are willing to do anything and everything to prevent you from living a life without crushing debt.

And let’s be clear. This Republican bill wouldn’t only rip away relief borrowers who qualify under the President’s plan are counting on. This CRA that we are going to vote on could impact the pause on loan payments and cause major problems for borrowers who have received relief through the Public Service Loan Forgiveness and income-driven repayment programs.

That means these Republican efforts could create the perfect storm for more than 260,000 public service workers who have already earned that relief. Borrowers who thought they were done paying their loans may have to pay more interest or additional payments. Think about that.

You know who we are talking about: nurses and teachers and firefighters and medical researchers. Seriously, they’re the people we are counting on to keep America going. The cold, hard reality is that if Republicans get their way and pass this into law, people across the country would have relief that they have counted on snatched away from them, plans they have made upended, less money in their pockets, and monthly payments not just abruptly restarted but maybe even abruptly jacked up hundreds of dollars. That is what Republicans are voting for. It is chaos and hardship for borrowers and families across this country.

Mr. President, I can’t speak for everyone, but I came here to make people’s lives better. I didn’t come here to punish them for this broken student loan system that they got stuck with. I cannot overstate how arcane and complicated and how broken our current student loan system is. Millions of Americans find themselves unfairly bogged down with massive debt, so often through no fault of their own.

Myself and all six brothers and sisters of mine got through college...
thanks to Federal loans and aid programs. I know how much of a difference the President’s plan for debt relief will make for people. I know President Biden did the right thing here for borrowers and for our economy. This is not a handout. It is a hand up that will benefit every family.

So I urge my colleagues today to vote against this resolution that would needlessly hurt millions of hard-working Americans, and let’s work together then to fix this broken student loan system to make it work.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. PADILLA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection.

Mr. PADILLA. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the harmful CRA resolution that would cause tens of millions of hard-working Americans to see their monthly budgets get even further squeezed, making it harder to pay their bills and necessities. I rise to defend one of the largest efforts to close the racial wealth gap in our Nation’s history.

As we debate student debt relief, it would be remarkably tone deaf for this body to spend the entire debate on the life-changing student debt forgiveness plan without acknowledging who it is that is at the decision-making table and who is not.

Most people consider this body, the U.S. Senate, as being deliberative. Many Members take pride in this being the most deliberative body in the world. While we may be deliberative, we are clearly far from diverse—at least far from reflecting the diversity of our great Nation.

Most Members of this body are decades removed from when they earned their undergraduate degrees. And many are at least years, if not, years and years removed from even having to sit down to plan how they would pay for their kids’ college education.

So before we even get into the merits of President Biden’s plan to uplift millions of hard-working Americans, I urge my colleagues to step outside the Senate and step into the homes of working-class and middle-class families across the country who see skyrocketing rates of tuition and wonder if college just isn’t for people like them anymore. Step into the family room of parents praying that scholarships, work study, and, yes, student loans, which took years to pay off.

So I know the real weight of student debt. And I also know what it is like to start thinking ahead to prepare my own son’s college education.

And as it turns out, President Biden’s plan is not just good for everybody; I mentioned earlier that it is a part of helping address the racial wealth gap in America. One statistic alone, his plan would mean almost half of Latino borrowers would see their entire debt forgiven. That is not just liberating. That is a wise investment for all of us.

The increased relief for Pell grants that will have students graduate borrowers and 65 percent of Latino students receive this grant. The President’s plan will mean that a generation of students would be able to begin their careers and build a life without the weight of student debt holding them back.

In California alone, it would bring relief to over 3.5 million eligible borrowers, an undeniable boost to our economy and to families throughout the State.

Let me underscore something else about this CRA. There is not just about what it threatens prospectively. If this program is overturned, if this resolution were to pass, 43 million Federal student loan borrowers would have to pay back months of payments and interest that had been relieved, forcing Americans into delinquency or worse: default.

Republics seem determined to prevent relief to tens of millions of Americans, despite the fact that 90 percent of the relief would go to those earning less than $75,000 a year.

In one fell swoop, it would cause unthinkable confusion and chaos for Federal student loan borrowers and make clear that, once again, Republicans view their main goal as a premium and higher education as a luxury, only for the wealthiest, only for those who can afford it.

I refuse to accept that fate. I urge my colleagues to see the real cost of today’s CRA on working families. I ask the question: Is the real impact worth it for the wealthy families? It will be the working families of California and across the country whose lives will be fundamentally altered should we fail them today.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority whip.

DEBT CEILING

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, this is a historic day in the annals of the U.S. Senate because we are faced with a critical role as to whether we can pass the bipartisan compromise on spending or default on our debt for the first time in history, whether we will have a nation for the first time ever—ever—to pay our bills.

There is a strange construction in the law where we can vote in the Senate and in the House for spending, send it to the President, qui signs it into law, go back to our States and districts and announce in press conferences that we have millions of dollars coming home—Federal dollars—back home to pay off interest and the credit for it and then not face the reality that the money appropriated actually adds to our national debt.

The debt ceiling is the mortgage of the United States, which needs to be renewed as we spend money. So we reached a point where we have a deadline—first June 1 and now June 5—of doing something in Congress to extend the Nation’s mortgage or default on that mortgage and debts for the first time in history.

There was a ferocious negotiation that went on for weeks. It was precipitated by the threat of one person on Capitol Hill, Speaker KEVIN McCARTHY, who said I am willing to default, willing to ruin America’s reputation and the reputation of the United States, the value of the U.S. dollar would be in danger because of such a careless and reckless act.

So negotiation was underway for the last few weeks; an agreement was reached as we spend money. So we reached a point where we have a deadline—first June 1 and now June 5—of doing something in Congress to extend the Nation’s mortgage or default on that mortgage and debts for the first time in history.

So we reached a point where we have a deadline—first June 1 and now June 5—of doing something in Congress to extend the Nation’s mortgage or default on that mortgage and debts for the first time in history.

This Congress has done a great job to date. We have a budget agreement, an infrastructure agreement, a strong commitment to medical research.

And that is the question of America’s credibility. And that is the question of America’s credibility.

When it comes to discovering cures for the diseases, new medications, it is the National Institutes of Health and the Food and Drug Administration which are charged with that responsibility, and we lead the world in research. I am such a fan of this Agency that I can speak for a long time about what they are doing.

But let me go on to say, if you or a member of your family have a diagnosis from a doctor that scares you to death, one of your first questions is, Doctor, is there anything we can do? Is there a medicine? Is there a surgery? Is there anything we can do?

Some of us have asked that question and we pray that the answer is yes and we pray that it leads us back to the NIH and all the work they put in.

So here is what we face with the budget agreement that passed the House, now headed to the Senate. We asked the experts on the budget to tell us what is going to happen to the budget of the National Institutes of Health—the preeminent medical Agency in the world—as a result of Speaker McCarthy’s fiscal conservatism. What is more, there is a cut in the budget of the National Institutes of Health of the Administration's plan to cut spending. What will happen is this. We face this prospect almost with certainty. We are going to see a cut in the NIH spending for the first time in 10 years. For 10 years, we have consistently increased funding for NIH. How much of it is going to be cut? At least $500 million—$500 million.

And I stepped back, and I thought to myself, you mean, we are going to cut medical research? That was Speaker McCarthy’s idea of fiscal conservatism? That, to me, is mindless. It may have some political goal in mind, and I don’t know what it might be, but to cut that makes no sense.

And let me suggest that my colleagues want to cut wasteful spending in Federal Government, and there is plenty of it. I know one obvious place to start. This projected cut of $500 million happens to match almost exactly the amount of money we waste each year maintaining an offshore military prison that only serves to violate our fundamental values and undermine the United States of America’s preeminent status as a medical research to maintain Guantanamo Bay. The thought of going back to endless court proceedings, when more than 20 years of litigation did not lead to trial, is painful.

Returning to pretrial purgatory will not deliver justice to the loved ones that are now waiting to open the pretrial litigation again. That was devastating news for these children, like Mr. Miller’s daughters. In their letter, they wrote:

The thought of going back to endless courtroom proceedings, when more than 10 years of litigation did not lead to trial, is painful.

But their hopes were crushed when the prosecution team recently indicated they are now going to start to open the pretrial litigation again. That was devastating news for these children, like Mr. Miller’s daughters. In their letter, they wrote:

The thought of going back to endless courtroom proceedings, when more than 20 years of litigation did not lead to trial, is painful.

And let’s be honest, this will not be the full measure of justice these families deserve. Sadly—sadly—this is no longer possible. Because these families were robbed of true justice when the administration at the time decided to torture and abuse detainees in our Nation’s custody and throw them into an untested legal black hole rather than trust America’s time-honored system of justice. As Ted Olson wrote a few months ago:

Bill’s death, year after year after year—for something to happen.

In March, I received a letter from a young woman named Leila Murphy. She was 3 years old when her father Brian died on 9/11. For nearly 22 years, Mrs. Murphy has been fighting for a trial that has never come. In her letter to me, she pleaded with our government to bring this process to an end by securing guilty pleas from defendants in the 9/11 cases.

Leila, Colleen, and Ted Olson are not alone in calling on the Biden administration to finally deliver a shred of justice to the victims of 9/11 and their loved ones through guilty pleas. Just last week, Leila Miller’s daughter, the children and grandchildren of the victims who died on 9/11 wrote to the President. Here is what they said. They implored him to salvage “whatever justice can still be had for the parents and grandparents we lost . . . [do] not let [this] drag on any longer,” these survivors begged.

The signers in that letter included three daughters of New York firefighter Douglas Miller. He was among the more than 340 New York who were killed when the towers collapsed. If you have seen the programs dedicated to these men and women, you cannot forget the bravery they demonstrated that day.

At the time of Mr. Miller’s death, his daughters were just children. His first-born Elizabeth was 7; Rachel was 6; Katie was 4. He and his wife Laurie had been sweethearts since high school. In their letter, Mr. Miller’s daughters and other signers expressed how hopeful they felt last year when the 9/11 prosecution team began negotiations to finally obtain guilty pleas from defendants. They considered it a breakthrough that would finally bring closure; that would finally provide answers they had sought for more than 20 years.

But their hopes were crushed when the prosecution team recently indicated they are now going to start to open the pretrial litigation again. That was devastating news for these children, like Mr. Miller’s daughters. In their letter, they wrote:

The thought of going back to endless courtroom proceedings, when more than 10 years of litigation did not lead to trial, is painful.

Nothing will bring back the thousands whose lives were so cruelly taken that September day. But we must face reality and bring this process to an end. The American legal system must move on by closing the book on the military commissions and securing guilty pleas.

The Biden administration must complete the interagency process to review the terms of the plea deals without further delay. Securing guilty pleas from the detainees who had been charged with a crime will bring us one step closer to ending the shameful chapter of Guantanamo.

These men will then serve out their sentences—some for the rest of their lives.

When it comes to the detainees who had not been charged, they should be released. That means the State Department must find countries who will take the 16 men for the approved transfer. It is not an easy assignment, but it is one that is inevitable.

The United States is a Nation of laws. We cannot detain people who have never been charged with a crime and who have been deemed safe to release, we are betraying our own basic constitutional values. And autocrats abroad point to the history of abuse and detention without charge or trial to justify their own human rights abuses. If you want to stand for liberty and the rule of law, be honest with the American people.

Guantanamo Bay is a blight on our national character and it has been for a long period of time. It is time for us to accept reality. It is not only a waste—tremendous waste—of taxpayer dollars, but it is an injustice that must end.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Jersey.

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. President, I come to the floor today in opposition to a crude and misguided attack on millions of student loan borrowers in New Jersey and across the country. I understand that some of my colleagues are intent on overturning President Biden’s signature policies no matter the cost or the consequence. But to overturn his landmark student debt relief program just to score political points, to force borrowers to pay back their loans with interest and stick it to the administration, well, that, to me, is just cruelty for the sake of cruelty. How can you describe a proposal that would strip away one of the most important economic lifelines borrowers have relied on? Other than cruel, what else can you call a resolution that rips away benefits for up to 43 million Americans who stand to benefit from President Biden’s relief plan?

I remind my colleagues that the pause on student loan repayments has saved borrowers an average of over $233 per month, an amount that is particularly crucial for our Nation’s teachers, nurses, police officers, and firefighters who rely on the Public Service Loan Forgiveness program.

For a moment, I would like to focus on the impact this resolution has on them, because for these public service employees, $233 can mean the difference between making it to the end of the month or not. Make no mistake. Repealing this relief especially hurts public service communities across the country—the very people who go to work every day to care for us, protect us, educate our kids and keep us safe.

Is this body really trying to claw back benefits from thousands of every- day heroes in our communities? Is this really what my colleagues set out to do?

For years, the Public Service Loan Forgiveness program has enjoyed bipartisan support because it is essential to the promise of America. After all, if you take out loans in support of an education for a career benefiting others, then you deserve to see your balance forgiven after 120 payments or 10 years, as outlined under the law.

For many, the economic challenges of COVID and the reforms that occurred as a result were the first time that they were able to enjoy the program’s benefits. This harmful proposal erases that progress and, once again, imposes the burden of debt on hard-working teachers, nurses, police officers, and firefighters. This proposal is a slap in the face to them and to their shot at the American dream—full stop.

It is a slap in the face for Public Service Loan Forgiveness borrowers and for the full universe of Americans who stand to benefit from student loan relief, which is why I encourage all of my colleagues to ask themselves: Is this vote—this misguided proposal—the kind of message you feel proud to send? When the history books are written about this moment in time, do you want to stand on the side of the 43 million Americans who have played by the rules and stand to benefit from long-promised relief, or do you want to stand on the side of those who punish hard-working Americans for trying to get ahead? That, to me, is the stark moral decision that is before this Chamber.

With your vote, you can choose to support the borrowers you represent by rejecting this plan, or you can blindside them, rolling back nearly 8 months of interest benefits they have earned and deserve.

In no uncertain terms, this resolution increases the yoke of student loan debt and sets up borrowers to fail. That is not something that I want to vote for, and it is not something that any Member of this Chamber should want to vote for. I urge my colleagues to vote no.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.
The decision we make today can be implemented—if we have the resolve to do them—by 2027, but we need to make those decisions this year. We don’t need to put them off until next year, and we certainly don’t need to say we are going to go with the Biden cuts in readiness and do 1 percent more next year. That is woefully inadequate.

We weren’t ready for World War II, and when the flag went up and we were in a war, suddenly we were way, way behind. We were ready under President Reagan, and we had peace under President Reagan. When we are ready, we have the ability to avoid conflict, and this budget simply does not do that.

I will yield the floor and let my friend from Arkansas seek recognition.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arkansas.

Mr. COTTON. Mr. President, after weeks of negotiating with an obstinate and capricious President, the House of Representatives passed legislation yesterday raising the debt ceiling and establishing budget caps for the next 2 years. Both Democrats and Republicans compromised in these negotiations, and, like every piece of compromise legislation, there are good parts and bad parts of this bill.

I want to commend Speaker McCARTHY for a number of commonsense victories. This bill improves the environmental review process for infrastructure projects, cuts funding for President Biden’s army of IRS agents, and saves American taxpayers tens of billions of dollars by clawing back unused efficiencies in the Pentagon to make grave dangers gather on the horizon.

Unfortunately, this bill poses a mortal risk to our national security by cutting our defense budget, which I cannot support, as grave dangers gather on the horizon.

The bill’s supporters contend that it raises defense spending by 3.2 percent compared to last year. That is true at face value, but inflation was 6 percent last year. When you get a 3-percent raise but prices go up by 6 percent, even a small child could tell you that your money won’t go as far and your family will have to tighten their belt. And it gets worse next year, when the automatic 1 percent sequester takes effect.

Who thinks Joe Biden will get inflation to pre-pandemic levels? Even if he did, inflation would grow at least twice as fast as the defense budget, causing even more real cuts to defense.

Workers of all this bill contains an automatic 1 percent sequestration based off last year’s budget. That means that domestic spending will go up, and defense spending will go down if the sequester kicks in. Let me repeat that. If the sequester kicks in, we will get less welfare spending, while defense gets cut. Who thinks the Democratic leader will be dissatisfied with this result? More to the point, who thinks he won’t use the threat of sequestration to extort even higher levels of welfare spending?

These three provisions—a cut this year in real dollars, a worse cut in real dollars for 2025, and the automatic sequester based on last year’s spending levels—are perilous to our defense needs.

But these same hollow promises were made, with the same promises, the last time. Our military needs have effectively collapsed, and cartel members, criminal aliens, and possibly even terrorists are pouring into our country. We need a military to match the threats we face.

We cannot shortchange the military today without grave risks tomorrow. The weapons we buy this year will be the ones we field in 2027, the time by which China will be at its greatest relative strength compared to the United States and when war is most likely.

Now, I know that holding firm on defense priorities isn’t always easy. As I said, there are parts of this bill I support, but I cannot support the bill because it does not adequately fund our military given the threats we face.

Supporters of the bill contend that the situation isn’t as bad as I make it out to be. Their arguments don’t hold up under scrutiny. Some claim that we could still get more defense funding through a supplemental bill or some other backdoor funding mechanism. But these same hollow promises were made after Congress passed the Budget Control Act of 2011, which devastated our military under President Obama. I ran for the Senate, in part, to reverse that disaster, and I won’t vote for a new disaster with the same promises.

And as I have explained, the sequester of this bill actually produces more domestic spending than the bill’s core provisions, which encourages irresponsible Democrats to trigger sequester.

Others have claimed that we can find efficiencies in the Pentagon to make up the difference. I don’t agree that there is fat to trim in some places in our military, but no serious person thinks that it is enough to make up for tens of billions of dollars in cuts. Moreover, this claim assumes the Biden administration will put our readiness ahead of social engineering. Color me skeptical on that one when they start looking for efficiencies.

Still, my colleagues have shrugged and deployed the commonly used but rarely persuasive argument that the bill may be bad, but there is no alternative, and it is too late anyway. But it was and it remains our job to craft an alternative.

We hear a lot that things that add votes to these big bills get in and things that subtract votes don’t. Again, we know, from recent experience, that a bipartisan National Defense Authorization Acts, that a higher defense number gets nearly 400 votes in the House and more than 80 votes in the Senate. The first thing—the first thing—that should have been settled in these negotiations was a larger defense budget. But if not—and in your heart of hearts you know you don’t—

So why wasn't it the first thing settled? I don’t know, but the result is that a Congress with a Republican House and a Democratic Senate have now produced a defense budget worse in real terms than either defense budget produced by a unified Democratic Congress. I cannot vote for that curious result. If it takes a short-term increase in the debt ceiling to go back to the drawing board, so be it.

Before we vote, I would also ask all my fellow Senators a simple question: Do you feel more safe or less safe than you did a year ago? If you feel more safe, by all means, vote to slash our defense budget. But if not—and in your heart of hearts you know you don’t—join me in demanding that we do what it takes to protect our Nation.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. KING). The Senator from South Carolina.

Mr. GRAHAM. I just want to compliment Senator COTTON for reminding us what the job in Congress is, defending the Nation, and the odd outcome here is that at a time of growing conflict, we are reducing the Navy.

There are 296 ships in the Navy today. Under this budget, by 2025, there will be 286. If we continue with the Biden plan, the Navy will be 286. The Chinese Navy today is 340. By 2025, they will have 400, and by 2030 they will have 440. This budget locks in a smaller U.S. Navy at a time the Chinese Navy is growing dramatically.

There is not a penny in this budget to help beat Putin. The Navy is smaller. The Army is smaller. The Marine Corps is smaller. This is not a threat-based budget. This is a budget of political compromise where people have lost sight of what the country needs.

We need safety and security.

To my House colleagues, I can’t believe you did this.

To the Speaker, I know you have got a tough job. I like you, but the party of Ronald Reagan is dying. Don’t tell me that a defense budget that is $42 billion below inflation fully funds the military.

Don't tell me that we can confront and challenge China. Everybody in this body is putting themselves on the back that we see China as the most existential threat to America. You are right. We did the CHIPS Act. We are doing things to help our economy combat China. At the moment of decision when it came to the military, this budget is a win for China. Please don’t go home and say this is fully funded because it is not. Please stop talking about going to China when you are dismantling the American Navy.

How does this end? Senator COTTON is right. We will be here until Tuesday, until I get commitments that we are going to do something. The ranking member of the Appropriations Committee, SUSAN COLLINS, has been steadfastly in the camp of fiscal responsibility and national security. This deal has taken the Appropriations out of the game.

The CR, which kicks in, cuts defense and increases nondefense, making it really hard for me to believe that we are actually going to do our appropriations job.

So what I want to do is, I want a commitment from the leaders of this body that we are not pulling the plug on Ukraine. There is not a penny in this bill for future efforts to help Ukraine defeat Russia, and they are going to go down the battlefield in the coming days.

And it is just not about Ukraine. I want a commitment that we will have a supplemental to make us better able to deal with China. I want a commitment that we are not going to weaken our position in the Mideast. There is a report out today that Iran is planning to attack our troops in Syria to drive us out.

We are expending weapons that need to be replenished. Our military is weakening by the day. This budget that we are about to pass makes every problem worse.

I want to end the war in Ukraine by defeating Putin. If you don’t, he keeps going and we are going to have a conflict between NATO and Russia and our troops will be involved. And if you don’t send a clear signal now, China will see this as an opportunity to leap into Taiwan.

So to the Members of this body, we are staying here as long as it takes to get some commitment that we are going to reverse this debacle sooner rather than later.

With that, I will yield to my good friend from Alaska.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska.

Mr. SULLIVAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent for 10 minutes for my remarks as well as 10 minutes for Senator WICKER and Senator COLLINS' remarks before the vote.
as Senator GRAHAM has already mentioned, shrinks the Army, shrinks the Navy, shrinks the Marine Corps. That is what it does: less ships, not more ships; smaller number of soldiers and marines, not more. So accepting the Biden defense budget is actually something new during the Biden administration.

What do I mean by that? As Senator COTTON mentioned, the last two previous Biden budgets came in, in anemic numbers, and in a bipartisan way—a strong way by the way. Democrats and Republicans significantly plussed-up those budget numbers. Last year, it was a $45 billion increase to the weak Biden budget on the Armed Services Committee that every single Senator on the committee voted for, except one. That is about as bipartisan as you can get. The year before, it was a $25 billion plus-up. And as many people know, we were already discussing, in a bipartisan way on the Armed Services Committee, an additional $25 billion, another significant plus-up to this Biden budget. So Democrats and Republicans knew it was weak and not sufficient to meet the challenges of today.

But what happened? The music stopped. And now—all of a sudden we are accepting the Biden budget. I know Democrat Senators who think that is wrong. They think that is wrong.

One amendment I am going to offer, as we are debating this, is to do something very simple. It is to look at the Biden Pentagon’s priority list—their unfunded priority list—that this President and his Secretary of Defense put forward. It is $18 billion, which the Armed Services Committee, in a bipartisan way, was already getting ready to agree to move forward and fund, and I am going to ask my colleagues to fund it. At a minimum, let’s fund it. We are not going to ask my colleagues to fund it. I yield the floor.

This is deadly serious business, and we need a strong budget so that they can come home victorious and not come home in body bags. This is deadly serious business, and we are not putting enough attention to it. It is one of the No. 1 things in the U.S. Constitution: that we need to provide for the common defense, to raise and support an Army, and to provide and maintain a Navy. That is our job, and we are not doing it. With this budget, this rushed budget, we need to get serious, and, hopefully, in the next few days, we can do that as we debate this agreement.

making it more vulnerable or our country more vulnerable and a more challenging job for the young men and women who wear the uniform of this country.

With that, I just want to say thank you to my colleagues who have laid out some great numbers for all of us and who clearly have laid out a path forward: a commitment by leadership that the appropriations process be completed in a timely fashion and a recognition that supplemental funding will be necessary to confront aggressive authoritarians throughout the world.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from South Carolina.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that I be recognized for 5 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, I yield my time to our next speaker, who is the ranking member of the Appropriations Committee, but I just want to say one thing before she speaks.

The Chief of Naval Operations said we need 373 ships manned and 150 unmanned platforms to deal with the threats we face around the world. We have 296 today. Under this budget deal, we will go to 286 by 2025. What does it take to get 373? The CNO of the Navy said, to get 373 ships, you have got to spend 5 percent above inflation for a sustained period of time. This bill is 2 percent below inflation. So we are undermining the ability of the Navy to build the ships we need to defend America.

With that, I yield to Senator COLLINS.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Maine.

Ms. COLLINS. Mr. President, shortly, the Senate will consider the debt ceiling package that passed the House last night by a strong vote.

I commend the Speaker for his hard work and his negotiations to prevent what would be a disastrous default, with catastrophic consequences for our economy, for the people who rely on important government programs, and for America’s standing in the world. Nevertheless, there are two issues in this package that are very problematic.

The first, as you have heard from my colleagues, is the completely inadequate Medicare number for our national defense.

The second is a harmful provision that would go into effect if any 1 of the 12 appropriations bills has not been signed into law. It would trigger an automatic, meat-ax, indiscriminate, across-the-board cut in our already inadequate defense budget and in the domestic discretionary nondefense funding. This would happen automatically if, in fact, all 12 appropriations bills have not been passed.

Now let me address both of those issues and offer to my colleagues what I believe are solutions.

The first is the inadequacy of the defense budget. As my colleagues have very well described, the defense budget submitted by President Biden and included as the top line in this package is insufficient to fund the national defense strategy and meet the urgent and serious threats that we face in 2023.

As my friends and colleagues from South Carolina and Alaska and others have already described, this budget request would actually shrink the size of our Navy by 2025. There are 9 ships fewer than today’s fleet of 297 ships, and it is further—further—away from the Chief of Naval Operations’ requirement, which is informed by scenarios involving China, for example. Meanwhile, what is China doing? China has the largest navy in the world now, and it is growing to 400 ships in the next 2 years.

This story is very similar if you look at the Air Force’s tactical aircraft. So we have a real problem.

Let me give you another example. It is an example that all of us can relate to who fill our cars with gas or seek to heat our homes.

This budget request falls woefully short in funding the fuel costs of our military. The Government Accountability Office says the DOD’S fuel costs are likely to be 20 percent higher than the amount of money that is included in the President’s budget.

I asked the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Milley, about this. He says the result would be, and he says it very clearly: It would translate into 20 percent fewer flying hours and steaming days, which would harm our military’s training and readiness. So that is a very concrete area where the President’s budget is clearly not going to be adequate.

Second is the harmful provision with the automatic 1 percent cut across the board. Think you have the Secretary of Defense. Let’s say the Department of Defense appropriations bill is signed into law before the start of the fiscal year in October, as I hope that it will be, and I am working hard. It doesn’t matter. Let’s say the branch appropriations bills isn’t signed into law by January 1 of next year. An order goes out that has to be implemented by April 30 which would cut every account across the board by 1 percent. How does that make sense? Think about it.

How in the world is the military going to enter into contracts if it doesn’t know what its budget is going to be, despite the fact that its appropriations bill has been signed into law, but because of this threat hanging over the Department.

So what do we do? I don’t want to see our country default for the first time in history. I do believe that would have catastrophic consequences. But we need to fix these problems.

The first problem of an inadequate defense budget would be addressed and remedied by having an emergency defense supplemental. That is what we need to do. That is what I would ask the administration and my colleagues on the other side of the aisle to commit to because we know that this budget is not adequate to the global threats that we face.

We know that it does nothing to deter Russian aggression in Ukraine. We know that it is not adequate to the challenge that we face from China. An emergency supplemental must be considered our way to remedy the first problem.

What should we do about the second problem, the threat of this 1 percent indiscriminate meat ax cut across the board? We need to pass each and every one of the 12 appropriations bills on time before the start of the fiscal year. In order to do that, I am working very hard with the chair of the committee, Senator MURRAY. But we need a commitment from the Senate majority leader that he will provide us with floor time.

We will do our utmost to get every singe one of the 12 appropriations bills marked up and reported out of the Appropriations Committee. But I am asking the majority leader to commit to bringing each of those bills to the Senate floor, either singly or individually, or as minibuses, as we used to do, where we would pair a couple of the bills together. But it is essential. I would implore the Democratic leader to provide the commitment that he will bring each of the appropriations bills to the Senate floor so that we can avoid the threat of this indiscriminate, across-the-board cut.

I believe that is the path forward for us: an emergency defense supplemental to make up for the woefully inadequate budget that has been submitted by this administration for the Department of Defense for our national security and, second, to prevent the 1 percent cut from ever being triggered, a commitment that all of the appropriations bills will be brought on time to the Senate floor.

Then, it seems to me, we can proceed with this package and avoid a catastrophic default for our country.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from South Carolina.

Mr. GRAHAM. I want to echo what Senator COLLINS just suggested. How do you begin to turn this debacle around? You admit you have got a problem. It is pretty hard to quit drinking if you don’t admit you have got a drinking problem.

So what she is suggesting is that we acknowledge the obvious, that this bill, on the defense side, is inadequate to the threats we face, that a bill that funds the Pentagon below inflation at a time of great threat is not fully funding. She is trying to get us to wake up to the reality that if we don’t speak about defeating Putin now, then the Ukrainians, who are on the offense, will be undercut.

I will never let this happen again, as long as I am here, to let people negotiate behind closed doors and not tell... me what they are doing on defense. I blame myself for not being more involved and more active, because in my wildest dreams I never believed that the Republican Party would take the Biden budget that they have attacked for a year and celebrate it as fully funding. I know who I am dealing with now.

Here is what Reagan told the Russians: Trust but verify. I will never, ever trust again, because you have got an ‘R’ behind your name, that you are going to cut a deal like the one that Reagan, the President of Ronald Reagan. You have to prove that to me. So, as we go forward, the game will change.

Why is she asking for this to be done? If we don’t commit to an orderly appropriations process, it gets worse for the Defense Department.

To the people who wrote this bill, I would not let you buy me a car.

The provisions of sequestration—for lack of a better word—the continuing resolution, if we don’t do our legislative business, increases nondefense spending and decreases defense spending. I thought we were Republicans. Who came up with that great idea?

The top line is inadequate. The CR is devasting. This is what bothers me the most is that we would put the Department of Defense in this position.

We are playing with the lives of men and women in the military, their ability to defend themselves, as some chess game in Washington. Well, this is checkers, at best.

The fact that you would punish the military because we can’t do our job as politicians is a pretty sad moment for me. But people in this body, on my side of the aisle, have drafted a bill that would punish the military even more if we fail to do our basic job. That cannot be the way of the future.

So I will insist, or we will be here until Tuesday, and I will make an amendment to avoid default for 90 days or however many days it takes to get this right. I don’t want us to default on the debt, but we are not leaving town until we find a way to stop some of this madness. You are not going to be able to blame me for default because I am ready to raise the debt ceiling right now for 90 days, no strings attached, to give us a chance to stop this insane approach to national security.

I am supposed to talk to the President of Ukraine this afternoon. I would like to be able to tell him something: Oh, by the way, you have done a hell of a job with the money we have given you. Not one soldier has died. The weapons used by Ukraine have punished the Russian military. They are weakened and bloodied.

They are about to take back territory. He is wondering, well, what does this mean for the future? I want to try to be able to tell him that I have got an assurance from this body that we are not going to leave you hanging.

It is in our interest to beat Putin. I don’t like war more than anybody else, but if Putin gets away with invading Ukraine, there goes Taiwan. And if you don’t get that, you are just out of the game. They have a chance to evict Russia from Ukrainian territory. They need more military help, not American soldiers.

If Putin loses, it is a deterrence for China. If Putin doesn’t lose, he will keep grabbing territory until we have a war between Russia and NATO. This is a big, big deal.

Iran is coming up with a plan, apparently, to drive us out of the Mideast. That just came out today.

China is building. As Senator Collins says, they are going from 340 ships to 410 ships by 2030. We are going from 296 to 290. That can’t be the response to China.

You cannot say with a straight face that this military budget is a counter to Chinese aggression, that it adequately allows us to defeat Putin. You cannot say with a straight face that this budget represents the threats America faces.

A military budget should be based on threats, not political deals to avoid default. Nobody wants default. We are not going to default. But I am tired of having default hanging over my head as a reason to neuter the military at a time we need it the most.

To the American public, you would suffer if we defualted. I get it. If this budget is the end of the discussion and we don’t fix it, your sons and daughters are going to have more war, not less. You are going to send a signal to all the bad guys that we are all talk. And what you will be doing is putting the world on a course of sustained conflict rather than deterrence.

The last time people did this was in the 1930s. They wanted to believe that Hitler wasn’t serious about killing all the Jews, that they only wanted some land, that he really didn’t want to take over the world. He wrote a book, and nobody believed him.

The Iranian Ayatollah speaks every day. I wonder what he says to the state of Israel: that we are infidels, and he is going to drive us out of the region.

China openly confronts our planes—400 feet yesterday. They are testing us every day.

The bottom line, folks, is we are not leaving until we get a path to fix this problem. Senator Susan Collins, my good friend from Maine, gave us that path. If you want to go home, fix it.

I yield the floor.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, if you are one of the over 43 million Americans with Federal student loan debt, today’s Republican measure attacking debt relief is a slap in the face. Even a casual examination of today’s CRA shows that this is a cruel measure.

This is what Republicans are proposing: They not only want to sabotage President Biden’s student debt relief, they not only want to put a stop to future payments. As many as 4.2 million Americans actually want to ask for payments and interest retroactively—from September to December of last year.

That is right: if you are a student loan borrower and were told that you didn’t have to worry about payments last fall, you could be back on the hook if Republicans get their way. This Republican bill is a student debt bait-and-switch, penalizing borrowers by an average of $1,500 in extra payments.

And there is another twist in the knife: If you are a first responder, an educator, a member of the military, or any sort of employee in the public sector, the Republican bill could jeop- darize your eligibility for the public service loan forgiveness program.

We should be in the business of helping Americans saddled with student loan debt, not making their problems worse as this measure would do. I will vote no.

VOTE ON H.J. RES. 45

The joint resolution was ordered to a third reading and was read the third time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The joint resolution having been read the third time, the question is, Shall the joint resolution pass?

Mr. HASSAN. I ask for the yeas and nays.

The joint resolution (H.J. Res. 45) was passed.

(Mr. PETERS assumed the Chair.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. SCHARTZ). The majority leader.

FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY ACT OF 2023—MOTION TO PROCEED

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I move to proceed to Calendar No. 84, H.R. 3746.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the motion.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

Motion to proceed to Calendar No. 84, H.R. 3746, a bill to provide for a responsible increase to the debt ceiling.

Mr. SCHUMER. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the question be suspended.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, as we all know by now, yesterday evening, the House passed a bipartisan bill to lift the debt limit and begin the process of reining in our Nation’s unchecked spending habit.

From the time the United States reached the debt ceiling in January, it was clear that a compromise bill would be the only way to avoid a full-blown economic crisis, which is what would happen if we were not to raise the debt ceiling. With a Democrat-led Senate and a Republican-led House and a Democrat in the White House, bipartisanship was and is a necessity.

Now, Republicans, for our part, were clear that any increase in the debt ceiling must come with spending reforms. Otherwise, it would be like your maxing out your credit card and then asking to raise the credit limit so you could borrow more money without having an adult conversation about how you were going to pay the money back.

In the real world, that is what would happen. You would have to have that conversation or there would be no increase in your credit card limit. But only in Washington, only in the Nation’s Capital would it be even argued that you could raise the debt limit without talking about spending reform.

What has happened is, our Nation’s national debt has ballooned now to more than $31.4 trillion. That is a number—I doubt that anybody here in the Chamber could tell us how many zeros follow that 31.4.

The American people are clearly unhappy with what they see is happening here when it comes to out-of-control spending crisis. A poll found that 60 percent of adults think the government spends too much, and they are right. They are frustrated by the unnecessary and wasteful spending, and they are eager for Congress to do the reasonable, rational thing, which is to begin to get our financial house in order.

That is precisely what Republicans demanded throughout this process—necessitating some increase to the debt ceiling negotiation. But instead of stepping up, doing his job, acting responsibly, President Biden took a very different approach. He said: I refuse to negotiate. This is a President of the United States with $31.4 trillion in debt. He didn’t negotiate. He went on to say that only a clean debt ceiling increase was an option, and he refused to engage in negotiations altogether.

It is helpful to remember that it was in January when we actually hit the debt ceiling. What has happened since then is the Treasury Secretary has engaged in what is euphemistically called extraordinary measures in order to pay the bills as the money comes in through the tax. But now she has told us that the X date—which presumably is the default date after extraordinary measures are exhausted—would be June 5. That is Monday. That is May 31.

The President has known since January that this day would come. He has refused to negotiate, and he has led us into this scenario where, unless Congress acts by June 5, we will breach the debt limit and begin to default on paying our bills.

I don’t have to remind anybody that inflation as a result of some of the profligate spending habits of the previous Congress, particularly on our Democratic friends’ side—they were happy to spend roughly $2.3 trillion last year on strictly party-line spending votes. But you put enough gasoline on the fire, and inflation is going to spiral out of control. That is exactly what has happened.

As a consequence, two things have happened. One is that hard-working American families have found their standard of living reduced because they simply can’t afford to keep up with the increase in costs as a result of inflation. The second thing that happened is that in order to try to deal with this hidden tax, the Federal Reserve has had to raise interest rates, which has slowed down the economy even more.

Why in the world would President Biden, as a responsible public official, refuse to negotiate when he knows that the anxiety associated with hitting this X date on Monday is causing even more uncertainty, even more trepidation, and even more anxiety over exactly what the future is going to look like?

Why would he risk that? President Biden stuck to his “no negotiations, no reforms” position for literally months even though it was painfully obvious that a bipartisan deal was the only way to avoid a further economic crisis.

I want to pause for a moment to commend the Speaker of the House, Speaker MCCARTHY, for his leadership throughout this process. Without a negotiating partner, he did everything in his power and within the power of the House of Representatives to move this process forward. He stood strong behind the need for fiscal reforms and led the way in passing the Limit, Save, Grow Act. He lured President Biden to the negotiating table, and he successfully moved a compromise bill through the House.

But I think the backstory about Speaker MCCARTHY’s leadership is that President Biden’s plan to default in a year and a half, that in a million years, after the difficult race for Speaker that we saw in January, Speaker MCCARTHY would be able to unify Republicans in the House of Representatives and actually pass a bill that raised the debt ceiling. That is what the Limit, Save, Grow Act was. I think President Biden was shocked that he was able to get that done. And I congratulate him for it. It changed the whole dynamics of this negotiation.

But now that the House has acted, the ball is in our court. This Chamber will soon vote on the McCarthy-Biden agreement, and now is the time for the Senate to do its job. The Senate needs to unify Republicans and Democrats to pass a bill that raised the debt ceiling. That has never been the case. We weren’t a party to the agreement; why should we be bound by the strict terms of that agreement?

The Senate has not had the opportunity to weigh in or otherwise participate in the negotiations that he finally engaged in a month, months earlier. So the President dragged his feet for several months, leaving the narrowest possible window to reach a deal and avoid a further crisis.

This is not how this should have played out, but that doesn’t mean our hands are tied behind our backs here in the Senate. The Senate is not required, as I said, to rubberstamp the House bill. We have the opportunity to amend this legislation and make it stronger.

I share the concerns expressed by the ranking member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, the Senator from Maine; the Senator from South Carolina; and the Senator from Alaska; and Senator COTTON, I believe, has spoken on that publicly, that the defense numbers in this agreement are simply inadequate.

It is simply unacceptable to leave it in the hands of Senator SCHUMER, the majority leader, whether or not we actually pass appropriations bills this
Mr. President, I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

Mr. President, I want to spend a few minutes here on the Senate floor discussing the debt ceiling agreement reached between the Republican majority in the House and the Biden White House, the Fiscal Responsibility Act, the bill that, presumably, we will be debating, discussing, and voting on yet today or tomorrow.

I fully recognize that governing in a divided government is a challenging amount of work. The American people have given us that circumstance. This circumstance requires negotiation and finding common ground; otherwise, we can do nothing.

Unfortunately, President Biden, for way too long, refused to negotiate with House Republicans. He refused for months to negotiate with House Republicans—I suppose in an effort to intimidate Republicans and pass an unaltered debt ceiling increase. This would have opened the door for more Democratic majority spending—indeed, even fleecing, perhaps no, but certainly fewer, strings attached. Fortunately, that tactic did not work, and the House Republicans acted to pass their own debt limit legislation. Without a realistic plan, a plan that could pass Congress, the Biden administration finally conceded and negotiated with House Republicans to create a deal, the deal that is before us now.

My view: Defaulting on the national debt would send a message that we are a nation that cannot be trusted to pay our bills. Default would be highly dangerous to our national security and to our currency and to our economy. China and other countries, those countries that are on the fence in today’s world, are watching. They are watching how the American government operates. They want to diminish our role in the world. China would love for our standing in the world to be damaged due to default, for the United States and its economy to be in chaos.

It is vital to our economy and to our national security to come to terms, to do so not to default and that we preserve the U.S. dollar as the primary currency, the “reserve currency”—not the yen or any year because if we don’t, under the terms of the McCarthy-Biden agreement, then we go back into a sequester, with a 1-percent cut across the board.

That may not sound like a lot, but our country is facing more and more security threats that we have ever before. Whether it is the challenge in Europe with Russia’s unjustified invasion of Ukraine; whether it is the aspirations of the Ayatollah in Iran to build nuclear weapons; whether it is Kim Jong Un in North Korea or Vladimir Putin or President Xi, it is easy to see that the threats are not diminishing. They are getting more and more serious, which means that a sequestration of the Defense Department’s spending by automatic operation of law is unacceptable.

Senators on both sides want amendments. Members want to make changes to try to improve the bill. As I said, the Senate should not be cut out of the process. President Biden’s foot-dragging. We still have time before the June 5 deadline. The Senate could move through the amendment process fairly quickly. We could do it today. We have ample time to vote on amendments. We could amend the legislation back to the House for final passage. I might add, there is no reason for the majority leader to block amendment votes. Senators deserve an opportunity to vote on amendments, and I hope the majority leader will mind and in the way of those Senators on both sides of the aisle who want to offer amendments and then receive up-or-down votes.

This bill does include some very positive developments—beginning to rein in our Nation’s spending habits—but it is not a magic pill to cure the Federal Government’s chronic financial troubles. America’s $3.1 trillion debt developed over the course of decades, so it is unreasonable to expect we are going to turn that around with the passage of one bill. But we can start, and we should start.

We know the pandemic accelerated these problems. We spent a lot of money necessarily on a bipartisan basis to try to deal with the public health crisis and the economic consequences of the pandemic, but then, as I said, at President Biden’s request, our Democratic colleagues abused the rules of the Senate to go on two partisan spending sprees.

First came the $1.9 trillion American Rescue Plan, followed by the $700 billion so-called Inflation Reduction Act. That is $2.6 trillion more, which gets us up to the $2.3 trillion today. But then they used that money to do everything from funding a supersized IRS to taxpayer-provided subsidies for rich people to buy electric vehicles.

So I am glad the Speaker was successful. In addition to beginning the long process of beginning to bend the curve when it comes to reckless spending, I am glad the Speaker was able to agree with the White House to claw back some of that money, including $27 billion in unspent COVID funds, and to redirect a reported $20 billion in IRS funding to other priorities.

The Congressional Budget Office estimates this bill will reduce Federal spending by $1.6 trillion over the next decade, which is a strong start in the fight to right America’s financial ship.

As I said, this bill is the beginning of that fight; it is not the end. And I know many of us, including this Senator, would like for us to be able to do more. But the fact is, one bill cannot erase decades of financial troubles. We need to build on the progress made in this legislation in the months and years to come. Of course, the best way to do that is at election time because it matters who wins elections. It matters who is in the majority. It matters who controls a body of Congress and the White House.

But the next big battle will be in the Senate and House Appropriations Committees. Every year, the committees are charged with writing 12 separate bills to fund the various components of the Federal Government.

The process of drafting those bills is designed to involve public hearings, committee deliberation, and floor discussion. It gives every member of the Appropriations Committee opportunities to shape the individual spending bills and address America’s spending habits. And once it gets voted out of committee, then all 100 Senators should have that opportunity to shape and improve the legislation.

Once these bills are completed, they are supposed to pass both Chambers and be signed into law by September 30 every year. But that didn’t happen in 2021 or 2022. The Democratic Senator majority leader refused to allow us to pass a single appropriation bill last year, forcing us into the ugly process of considering and passing an omnibus appropriation bill, which was not the way that is supposed to be done.

Congress cannot continue to operate like this—with bloated budgets, last-minute spending bills, backroom negotiations. That is no way to gain the public’s trust or to run the Federal Government. We need to return to a transparent and regular process where every elected Member of Congress has the opportunity to participate in budgeting and deciding what the appropriate expenditure of taxpayer dollars should be.

So we have known this date was coming since January. President Biden put us in this difficult situation by wasting valuable time, and he has pushed us to the brink of default. Now, thanks to his delay tactics, the Senate is preparing to vote on a bill that no Member of this body had a hand in writing. Given the time crunch, this truncated process was a necessary evil, but it cannot be the norm.

We need to return to the processes that were designed to promote smart and responsible spending. Hearings, committee votes, and public debate are absolutely critical. For today, Senators deserve the opportunity to amend this bill and, as I said, to make it better if they can; but all of our colleagues have the right to have a say in this process, and I urge the majority leader to allow that process to go forward with up-or-down amendment votes.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

Mr. PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.
other country’s currency. The implications of what happens here today in regard to a default has a consequence upon our national well-being vis-a-vis the rest of the world and, most importantly, determines the relationship we have with other countries and the role that China and Russia are able to further play in the world order.

China and these countries that are on the fence are watching. It is time—it is vital to our economy and national security that we do not default and that we pay our bills.

The Fiscal Responsibility Act isn’t the legislation that I personally would introduce. It does not sufficiently cap long-term discretionary spending; it continues to tie our defense budget spending less than the rate of inflation; and it fails to address reforms needed to mandatory programs. But it does accomplish key conservative priorities that will benefit America and help put our Nation on a better path toward fiscal responsibility.

In addition to the debt ceiling issue, reckless spending can also be the demise of our country’s well-being, and endless deficit spending will eliminate the American dream for many Americans that can only be seen as the result of the world.

As a fiscal conservative, the Federal Government must spend less, must grow its spending less rapidly, must set limits on our appetite, and must stop wasting our Nation’s money. We have a spending problem for the last several decades—probably even longer than that. It used to be that everyone understood that deficit spending was a damaging thing to the economy. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, perhaps the first progressive President, understood that World War II had to be paid for. It was a given that we paid our bills with nearly current revenue.

It seems, over time, that many—particularly, in the Democratic Party—decided that deficit spending was not that much of a problem. And I worry that, too often, Republicans want to look the other way as well. We accelerated that spending during COVID. Perhaps with the uncertainty of what COVID meant to us, government spending rose rapidly, and we spent too much money. But Congress was slow—even as COVID began returning to the rearview mirror, we were too slow to turn off that COVID spending spigot.

Coupled with reckless tax-and-spending sprees driven by the Biden administration, out-of-control spending has led to record-high inflation. Inflation is like a tax on every American and is damaging to the poorest among us.

Here in Congress, we talk about spending in terms of millions and billions—sometimes even trillions. But folks back home in Kansas talk about spending in dollars and cents. And for folks back home in Kansas talk about lions—sometimes even trillions. But spending in terms of millions and billions has led to record-high inflation. Inflation is one of the most important responsibilities to the Federal Government, and that is to protect and defend our country and to keep our promises to those who served in the military that defends us. My colleagues and I on the Senate Committee on Veterans’ Affairs have consistently said we would provide the VA with the funding it needs to provide care and services to the men and women who have served our Nation. I have heard it said many times here in the Senate and elsewhere that it is too easy for us to go to war and never easy enough for us to pay for the bills for those who sacrificed so much during the war.

The debt ceiling deal delivers on our commitment to support veterans. The deal also secures the full funding of the toxic-exposed veterans that was authorized by the just recently passed PACT Act.

In regard to government waste, this legislation will slow the rate of spending and recoup unspent funding, starting with COVID and the tune of billions of dollars. The pandemic is basically behind us, and there is no reason for us to keep spending under the rubric—under the title—of COVID relief funding.

Additionally, this legislation will cut significant funding to the Biden administration’s plan to hire thousands of additional IRS agents. I am an appropriate, and I have long been an advocate for what we are hard here call regular order, what folks back home would just call doing your job.

The way this process is supposed to work is we have a budget that outlines how much money we can spend, what the revenue is, and for it; and then we divide up the budget so that we are going to spend in discretionary spending among 12 bills that the Appropriations Committee and, ultimately, the Senate and the House and the President then have something to say about.

I have been an advocate for passing those separate 12 bills. We haven’t done that very well many times. For far too long, we have relied on continuing resolutions and massive omnibus packages to spend our money. Those omnibus packages allow for a small group of Members of Congress to make major decisions for the rest of us. It adds to the uncertainty of what is in a bill when it is such a massive piece of legislation. At the same time, we are so—cynicism among my constituents about “What is in there?” and “Did you read the bill?”

These measures, the way we do it—the way we have done it in the past—pumping more Federal spending, they lead to the ease of additional spending. It becomes too easy to add something to such a massive bill.

This legislation would encourage Congress to do its job by passing 12 separate appropriation bills or face automatic caps on spending. Whatever happens on this piece of legislation, I hope the outcome, with the leadership of the Appropriations Committee that we can move to do 12 separate bills, each with the scrutiny of an appropriations subcommittee and the opportunity for amendments by all Senators on the Senate floor.

Working to spend less will help stop this runaway inflation. But this legislation goes a step further by stimulating the economy and protecting Americans from new taxes.

Unleashing American energy is a key to reducing energy prices, stimulating our economy, and strengthening our national security. The permitting reforms included in this bill will help get energy projects approved more quickly rather than being bogged down in a set of bureaucratic things that should take months or a few years—hopefully, it will be the case and not take years or decades.

Raising the debt limit is not something for any of my colleagues should be taken lightly. Why be concerned if it is just automatically increased every time it is met? Don’t we wish that would work in our credit card bills that we receive? We have a limit on what we can spend because sometimes people, sometimes government, need to be told no.

We are seeing firsthand the consequence for spending outside our means. And there will continue to be more consequences. But no deal is not a solution either. This is really the clash of a bad outcome of a default and the bad outcome of more spending, more inflation, and a greater challenge to our country and its economy.

No deal is not a solution. And for what? I can’t say. I am not sure whether we can do anything that is helpful to Kansans or Americans. The American people elected a divided government. That is what we work in every day here. Democrats hold the White House and the Senate. The House Republicans deserve credit for negotiating a deal with a reluctant President and passing an agreement with reasonable caps on Federal spending.

This bill represents progress and is that proverbial step in the right direction. We cannot do more—throw money we don’t have and saddle future generations with the consequences.

The debate cannot end here, however, with this vote. However, the outcome of the legislation in Congress, should we never have to wait for a crisis—an economic crisis, the debt ceiling—to take fiscally responsible measures. It should be part of a way of life here. Those responsible measures need to become part of what every Member of Congress and for this and every other President.

Without a serious long-term plan and subsequent action to reduce spending, we will be back in this position way too soon, and we will jeopardize the American dream. It threatens our children and our grandchildren's futures as well as our Nation's ability to defend itself against global threats.

I always tell myself that my responsibility as a citizen of this country—not as the United States Senator as a citizen—is to do what we can do to make sure that the American dream is alive and well and liberties and freedoms that we enjoy as Americans through the sacrifice and service of many of the Founding Fathers in the Constitution of the United States—our job is to make certain those liberties and freedoms are protected for people we will never meet and that the American dream is alive and well for people today and their children and grandchildren.

America still stands as a beacon for others around the world, and there are others in other countries who are trying to live the American dream. They are envious of what we have. But it is fragile, and it can go away.

It is our responsibility to make sure that is not the case. We can't let this happen. We have to confront our threats head-on.

And it is easy to take a side and defend that side and advocate for that side. It is what we do here. There are times in which it is necessary for us, for the well-being of not us as individuals or us as elected officials but for the well-being of the country, but it has to be within a path forward. And in today's environment, in today's world, it requires bipartisan cooperation. And bipartisan agreement is a blueprint to develop more fiscally responsible legislative agendas.

We will debate this bill. We will, potentially and perhaps hopefully, amend this bill, but our work is cut out for us. The American people deserve for us to make the decisions that protect us from challenges we face regardless of political affiliation. The American dream alive and well and make certain that our children and grandchildren and those we have never met have a brighter future. The issue before us is one of those that has a consequence in all those arenas.

I work with my colleagues today as we move forward on this legislation to make sure that the outcome is something that advances a cause that is important to me and to the people I represent.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oklahoma.

Mr. LANKFORD. Mr. President, years ago—talking like 15, maybe 18 years ago—I was speaking in a town in Oklahoma, and my daughter wanted to just go with me, which was great. So we took off. I had reserved a hotel. And so we get there. We were going to stay overnight. And I was speaking somewhere the next morning.

We arrived at the hotel late that evening. When I got there and checked in, I knew initially we were in trouble. You have that feeling when you pull up to the hotel and you think this may not work. Pull up, check in, but there is no one at the desk. And then it just gets harder as we get to our room. It is dark. Lots of light bulbs are out in the pathway to get to our room to check in. And, actually, when I shut the door behind us, I didn't even shut the door behind us, and the crack underneath the door was so large I could physically see the patio and the balcony and everything outside. And it was so loud because it was right next to the street. We are in serious trouble. This is just not going work. So we ended up packing everything up and just going to search and find another place and thinking there is no way we will both be able to sleep.

Why do I tell you this silly story? Well, when we were traveling and heading there, we anticipated one thing, and then when we got there and got to the hotel, it ended up being different.

I have to tell you, this past weekend, when we were thinking of the $1 trillion debt ceiling bill, I would read through a section of it, and I would get to the end of that section and be surprised at the “except for” at the tail end of each section. It is not what I expected when I read through the document, page after page.

I have to tell you, we are a nation that leads the world. We have the world’s largest economy. We are to be responsible in how we handle our budget that leaves it there in the Department of Commerce and leaves it there in the Department of Commerce amount and says we will decide later how to spend it.

Now, I ask the obvious question: Isn't this supposed to go to deficit reduction?

And the answer came back: Well, a few billion went to deficit reduction, but $22 billion actually went over into the Department of Commerce's budget and is being parked there, and they will have other opportunities to be able to spend those dollars in the future.

That is not really a savings on the rescission. There is permitting reform in this, which I am grateful for. Quite frankly, there is bipartisan support for permitting reform in many areas because we can't get lithium and cobalt. We can't move solar and wind power because of permitting, just like we can't move natural gas and hydrogen and CO2 because of permitting issues. It has to do major reforms in those areas to be able to make sure we can actually produce more energy for the future of our country.

So when I saw the permitting issues, then I thought, good, we need to get started on some of these permitting issues—except when I read through it, there seems to be a lot of exceptions to it.
For instance, there is a 2-year commitment to say, if you are doing the more strict environmental impact statement, you have to get it done in 2 years—well, unless the administration declares it complex, and then they have a lot more time; in fact, an infinite amount of time.

It limits you to 150 pages for an environmental impact statement, which is good; that actually brings the paper down—unless the administration declares it complex, and then it is a wholesale move. It limits the number of pages even, unless it is the appendix. If the administration declares actually these can go in the appendix, then there is actually no cap, no limit for that.

It also says that, in this time period piece, that if you get to 2 years from the environmental impact statement and if they don't achieve that—I asked a logical question: If an administration and an Agency doesn't get it done in 2 years, what happens?

The answer is: Well, you have to sue the Federal Government and that Agency to make them do it. And then it has to go through the court system, which, as this body knows, will take 2 or 3 years. If the court finds in favor, then the court can then declare the Agency has another 90 days to be able to get it resolved—unless it is considered complex, and then they have unlimited time.

So the permitting piece, as I read through it, I thought, why are there all these exceptions that are out there that give it an out for every single portion of it?

There is a section of the bill that talks about what is called administrative pay-go. That is a rule that has existed in some administrations before where they will say that if you are going to add a cost to America through an administrative action, you have to look somewhere else to decrease the cost, because by the Constitution, only this Congress can actually increase spending; that is not something the administration has the constitutional authority to do. That is a reasonable rule.

It puts in this administrative pay-go to say, if spending is going to increase based on a regulation, it has to decrease somewhere else. That sounds great—until I get to the very end of it, and it uniquely says: unless the Director of the Office of Management and Budget considers the additional spending necessary. No restrictions.

If it is considered necessary, then they have an unlimited amount that they can do. Even that restriction actually goes away on January 1, 20 days before President Biden's term ends, so it is not even all the way through the last 3 weeks. Even that restriction goes away. And I can’t figure out why, suddenly, it gives 3 weeks of home base without any restriction like the one I thought. Why, if we are going to put a restriction in there, why end it in 2 years anyway? If it is a good idea, it should be a good idea for every President, not just for this one. Why would there be, suddenly, an out clause in it?

There is a 1-percent sequester that is across the board if appropriations are not done.

Now, I have to tell you, I worked with Senator MAGGIE HASSAN on the other side of the aisle to resolve a way to end government shutdowns and actually do appropriations. We should do all 12 appropriation bills. The Senator who is chairwoman of Appropriations is on the floor right now. She and I have had these conversations. She has committed to doing all 12 appropriations bills. So am I. We can bring back regular order and actually go through the process.

We don't all agree on everything here in the body. Welcome to America, where 320 million Americans don't agree on everything. OK, well, let's talk it all out. Let's have the vote and go from there. We haven't had that ability in years.

Senator MAGGIE HASSAN and I have a bill dealing with ending government shutdowns and pushing us towards doing the 12 appropriation bills. That is not a bipartisan effort. Frankly, it is a nonpartisan bill. I don't find anyone here who doesn't actually want to get us back to regular order. So we are trying to find a logical way to be able to do it.

But the way this bill sets up the sequestration to put this towards those 12 appropriation bills, it says that if appropriation bills are not done by April 1 next year, there is a 1-percent, across-the-board cut that will happen in the current year spending in the last 5 months of the year.

The answer is: Well, you have to sue the Federal Government and that Agency to make them do it. And then it has to go through the court system, which, as this body knows, will take 2 or 3 years. If the court finds in favor, then the court can then declare the Agency has another 90 days to be able to get it resolved—unless it is considered complex, and then they have unlimited time.

So the permitting piece, as I read through it, I thought, why are there all these exceptions that are out there that give it an out for every single portion of it?

That is a reasonable rule.

It puts in this administrative pay-go to say, if spending is going to increase based on a regulation, it has to decrease somewhere else. That sounds great—until I get to the very end of it, and it uniquely says: unless the Director of the Office of Management and Budget considers the additional spending necessary. No restrictions.

If it is considered necessary, then they have an unlimited amount that they can do. Even that restriction actually goes away on January 1, 20 days before President Biden's term ends, so it is not even all the way through the last 3 weeks. Even that restriction goes away. And I can’t figure out why, suddenly, it gives 3 weeks of home base without any restriction like the one I thought. Why, if we are going to put a restriction in there, why end it in 2 years anyway? If it is a good idea, it should be a good idea for every President, not just for this one. Why would there be, suddenly, an out clause in it?

There is a 1-percent sequester that is across the board if appropriations are not done.

Now, I have to tell you, I worked with Senator MAGGIE HASSAN on the other side of the aisle to resolve a way to end government shutdowns and actually do appropriations. We should do all 12 appropriation bills. The Senator who is chairwoman of Appropriations is on the floor right now. She and I have had these conversations. She has committed to doing all 12 appropriations bills. So am I. We can bring back regular order and actually go through the process.

We don't all agree on everything here in the body. Welcome to America, where 320 million Americans don't agree on everything. OK, well, let's talk it all out. Let's have the vote and go from there. We haven't had that ability in years.

Senator MAGGIE HASSAN and I have a bill dealing with ending government shutdowns and pushing us towards doing the 12 appropriation bills. That is not a bipartisan effort. Frankly, it is a nonpartisan bill. I don't find anyone here who doesn't actually want to get us back to regular order. So we are trying to find a logical way to be able to do it.

But the way this bill sets up the sequestration to put this towards those 12 appropriation bills, it says that if appropriation bills are not done by April 1 next year, there is a 1-percent, across-the-board cut that will happen in the current year spending in the last 5 months of the year.

That is a pretty big spending. Except it really only hits defense because the way it is set up. Longshore will debate. Let's have the vote and go from there.

I completely respect that. But in this particular bill, the incentives for work requirements has a little caveat stuck in the back of it that says all of this applies to these States and they are all these 39 others where they pull away work requirements—they can't do those things unless Secretary Becerra—the Secretary of HHS—declares that that State is doing good work to try anyway. There are no restrictions on it. If it is that way, that if Secretary Becerra decides that, it gets waived.

So as I look at the bill, I see a lot of good intentions in the bill, but I see a whole lot of exceptions. And I see a whole lot of ability for the administration to waive that, waive that, waive that, waive that. That undercut the purpose of the bill.

Quite frankly, as a Congress, I wish that we could sit down across the aisle and discuss this. That is what I could have said: What is Congress's responsibility? What are the policies that are wise policies? And not hand authority to the White House—Republican or Democratic—and say: Which is good policy that we need to put in place and do those things? One day, we will get back to that, but that day wasn't today. And that is frustrating for me. I am going to oppose this bill today, but I want us to be able to keep working. Otherwise we will have work to do, as one side knows as well. I know Congress is focused on this today, rightly so. The American people expect us to get this resolved.

TULSA RACE MASSACRE

Mr. President, can I just tell you a little heartbreak issue for me? It is June 1. That may not mean a lot of things to a lot of people, but for those of us from Oklahoma, today is the 102nd anniversary of the worst race massacre in American history.

It happened in Tulsa, OK, May 31, overnight, to June 1. And 102 years ago today, Greenwood was a smoking heap of rubble after an all-night violence... and massacre on hundreds of Black Americans in North Tulsa.

It is a stain on our Nation. It is a stain on our State.

And 102 years later, I hope we still pause and remember as a State and we continue to learn the lessons and continue to be able to work towards being a more perfect union.

Today, the Greenwood Rising museum is open. Folks are coming in and out, talking about what happened 102 years ago. Folks at the John Hope Franklin Center for Reconciliation are engaging in conversation. There are community groups all over North Tulsa, meeting with people just to be able to talk and to say: What have we learned 102 years later? How can we still be better as a Nation still?

We learned a lot. We have grown a lot. But it is unfinished business for us.

So on June 1, I remind us as a body, there was a massacre 102 years ago today. But more important than just remembering what happened 102 years ago is learning from here. Thank you very much.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BOOKER). The senior Senator from Washington.

Mrs. MURRAY. Mr. President, first of all, let me acknowledge the final comments from the Senator from Oklahoma.

Thank you for making us all pause and remember that important time and important lessons that we all need to have learned from here. Thank you very much.

DEBT CEILING

Mr. President, like so many of my colleagues, I spent last week back home hearing from folks in my State. Everywhere I went, I heard from people about how the investments that we make here in Congress actually matter in their daily lives; how the funding that we provide from here helps postpartum moms who rely on the University of Rainier Valley Midwives Center to get the care they need to have a healthy pregnancy.

I saw how our Federal investments make cutting-edge biomedical research possible at the Allen Institute in Seattle, leading to breakthroughs that save lives and give people more time with their loved ones.

Again and again, I heard about the resources that we send back home pay off in a truly meaningful way. And it is true: The investments we make in our country are critical. They are critical in helping our families succeed; keeping our communities safe; and keeping our Nation strong, secure, and competitive.

We aren’t simply spending; we are investing. We are investing in fighting deadly fentanyl and upgrading our crumbling infrastructure. We are investing in keeping America on the cutting edge of clean energy and scientific innovation. We are investing in rebuilding American manufacturing and bringing industries of the future back home here to our shores.

I could talk for hours.

But the point is, the funding decisions we make right here in this Chamber are not just numbers on a page. They are investments in people, in families, in our communities, and, ultimately, in our country’s future. And they are also crucial to keeping our country secure and on the cutting edge as competitors like the Chinese Government work hard to outpace us.

As we all know, our adversaries are not restricting their investments in their futures. They are not. And they are not teetering on the verge of calamitous default for the sake of partisan politics. And, yet, instead of listening to people back home, instead of listening to the flashing red warning sign that the House Republicans have been insisting on draconian cuts and harmful changes to the programs that are a lifeline for struggling families and the lifeblood of our global leadership?

House Republicans’ push to slash this funding for key Federal programs is alarming, and the way they have tried to make their cuts is downright reckless. We have to be clear about what they have done. Instead of working through the budget and appropriations process—as we do every year—to craft our Nation’s budget and determine how we spend money—House Republicans just decided they would threaten to tank our economy and force the United States into default to extract partisan concessions. They have absolutely not been shy about it.

We heard from House Republican leaders and even the leader of the Republican Party talk openly about taking Americans ‘‘hostage.’’ That is damning—House Republicans admitting to using the full faith and credit of the United States of America as a political weapon.

Needless to say, that is not how this should work. Negotiating is not one side saying: Give me everything I want or else. Negotiating is coming to the table saying: Here are my concerns; here are my principles; here is what I am hearing from families in my State; where can we find common ground? That is what people elected us to do. That is what they sent us here to do.

Frankly, that is what I think many of us here want to do. I have heard from so many of my colleagues about their desire to return to regular order, and I have been working with Senator COLLINS to do that on the Appropriations Committee. But let’s get one thing straight—hostage-taking is not regular order. It is just not. That is not the way that we work hard to outpace our competitors to keep our country secure and on the cutting edge of clean energy and scientific innovation.

And let’s be clear. For House Republicans, this never was truly about the debt anyway. Republicans added trillions to the debt under President Trump through tax giveaways for billionaires and Big Pharma. They definitely won’t talk about capping tax giveaways to the wealthy. Instead, House Republicans want to give handouts to the rich and massive corporations. They want to make life harder for struggling families by cutting the programs they rely on and make competing and growing from behind by capping our ability to invest in our future. They agreed to raise the debt ceiling three times under President Trump without batting an eye, but their tune changes when a Democrat is in the White House.

President Biden and congressional Democrats have been clear from the outset that default is not an option and should never have been a threat because it would be catastrophic to our Nation’s economy and the security of our families, and to the stability of the global economy. So I applaud President Biden for his laser focus on taking default off the table.

While I know the President has pushed hard to hold the line on recent progress and protect vulnerable people who need support and reject the House Republicans’ most extreme demands, we have to be clear-eyed and honest about how this bill fails to meet our country’s moment—every Democrat in this room is the most important member of that political family.

Understand that the programs being cut make a real difference in people’s lives. I know that firsthand. I am someone who grew up knowing what it meant to get by on a tight, tight budget. I had a big family—six brothers and sisters and a World War II veteran. He ran a mom-and-pop store on Main Street, selling everyday goods in Bothell, WA. We never had a lot, but we always got by, and a lot of times, that was because our government had our backs.

When my dad got sick and was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis, my mom had to figure out how to support seven kids and find a job that would make that possible. A Federal workforce training program helped her get a job as a bookkeeper to keep my family afloat. Me and my siblings—all seven of us—got through college thanks to Federal assistance because our government invested in Pell grants and other programs. And I had to turn in food stamps for a brief time. We didn’t go hungry because of Federal investments in nutrition.

So I will say it again. The funding decisions you make right here in this Chamber are not just numbers on a page; the policy we write and sign into law has a direct consequence on people’s lives, and every Member of Congress needs to recognize that.

So rest assured, I remain very focused on keeping our appropriations process moving forward here in the Senate, marking up our spending bills in a timely, bipartisan way. I want to make it clear right here on the Senate floor that I will be doing absolutely everything I can to protect the investments that help those families get by and ensure that this great country lives up to its promise, from childcare, to housing, to lifesaving research, and more. As chair of the Senate Appropriations Committee, I will be a voice for working families in my home State and all across the country.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Indiana.

Mr. BRAUN. Mr. President, I have been here about 4½ years and come from that world where you could never do what we do here. When you run a business, you are competing. You are earning your revenues. They are not given to you like in government. Here, we just have to be smart enough not to spend more than we take in.

Sad book—all the data is there historically—we haven’t balanced the budget since the late 1990s. Over 50 years, there are some things that are just criteria you need to take into consideration and maybe view as a given. Our debt, built on enterprises sound regulation, not overbearing, taxes that you can pay without being a wet blanket on the economy. Over 50 years, other than 2 or 3 years that happened to coincide in the Clinton years when we balanced the budget, we have never generated more than 18 percent of our GDP in revenue through the Federal Government.

So I am going to introduce an amendment this week, which is to put cap and limits on non-discretionary, that is Social Security; that is Medicare; that is Medicaid—all programs we want to be there, but we want them to be solid.

Until we get the backbone, the political discipline, we are going to keep skirting the rigor that it takes to make this thing work long term, and you can expect more of the same. What you are seeing here today is no different; it is just punctuated with a little more drama than normal.

We know we have debt ceilings. If we didn’t have those, we would probably even plow further into debt. But the numbers always win in the long run. We are running trillion-dollar deficits—and sides of the aisle generating them—from the Bush years. We had COVID come along. We politically enterprised. I think, through 2 years, not reckoning what the real capability of our economy would be, and we are in a pickle.

I am going to do a little math quiz here. I did it with a bunch of reporters 3 months ago. I said: What is 1 percent of 30 trillion? Would the Presiding Officer venture to make a guess on that?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I would, but I am not allowed to.

Mr. BRAUN. So 1 percent of 30 trillion is 300 billion.

After 30 seconds of silence, one reporter offered 300 million. I said: You are off by a power of a thousand.

That is how abstract these numbers are. But they become real over time when you take interest rates that have gone up 4 to 5 percent. Now that you know what 1 percent of 30 trillion is, try 5 percent. That is 1.5 trillion. That is what we are going to be pricing into our debt that we are incurring.

The only blueprint for future generations, has been from the Biden administration—puts us $20 trillion further in debt in just 10 years. And all this is going to do is knock it back to just $18 trillion more. That is shameful for future generations.

This institution needs to be healthy, and it needs to live within its means like households do, like local and State governments do, like all businesses do. Try talking to your banker, running a 30-percent loss, wanting them to lend you the money. They would laugh you out of the office before you got into the details of really what you need. It is a bad business plan.

I could go on about that, but it has been happening for now over two decades, both sides of the aisle. The deal is generally made by some on our side of the aisle who hold defense sacrosanct, don’t want to budge at all. The other side views domestic spending as more important. But we generally work out this same deal. But do you know what the net result is? We are deeper in debt.

I did take finance 101. I spent 37 years running a business with full competition, the rigor of it, was on a school board, and was on committees in our State government. It can be done.

We have the printing press in the basement; that is the Fed. When they take all this fiscal stimulus that we did and put it on their balance sheet, that is how you print money. That is a bad business plan. The Federal workforce.

I am going to introduce an amendment called the no-default amendment. We should not be flirting with this year after year when we know it is going to happen anyway, and until we put real reforms into the system, expect the same.

The next time we hit the debt ceiling, when the Treasury says you are entering into extraordinary measures, that is when the clock starts. My amendment—if you can’t get a real deal done with reforms addressing the things I have talked about, we are going to start paring back this place, and it is going to be across the board, defense, domestic spending—every 30 days, a 1-percent cut. If you are so thickheaded that you can’t get it done then, in another 30 days, you do it again. That would put some rigor into the process.

But if we are not honest with the public and really address the programs that are dearest to most Americans—Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid—and quit doing mandatory spending on things that aren’t important, we are going to run this place into the ditch.

I fear for what my kids and grandkids are going to have to deal with, and I think all Americans should be worried about that. This would be at least a start of putting a little bit of discipline into an undisciplined system.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Kentucky.

Mr. PAUL. Mr. President, our national debt now stands at about $32 trillion.

How did we get here? Whose fault is it? Republicans? Democrats?

Well, the answer is, yes, both parties are at fault. The Republicans come to this floor and will promise. They promise. People say Washington conservative movement had a voice in that small sliver of government.

Well, guess what. You can’t do it. You can eliminate all of the non-mandatory discretionary money. Leave the mandatory in place. Leave the military in place. Increase them. Eliminate all this other chunk of money, and you still never balance the budget.

There was a time when there was a conservative movement, and the conservative movement had a voice in Washington. There is still some voice but not much. But there was a time when people on the conservative side of this said: It is in order to be a thoughtful, rational, realistic, strong response to the budget deficit, you would have to balance your budget in 5 years. In fact, we voted on a constitutional amendment in this body, and every Republican voted for it. But it said you had to balance in 5 years.

Why 5 years? Well, because of the plans that lasted longer than that, most of the plans that balanced in years 9 and 10 were basically somebody fudging the numbers and hoping something good would happen in year 9 or 10, but the only years they actually had any power over were the first year and the next two years. And they made many cuts, and they always had unrealistic expectations in year 10.

So what have I done? I said: Let’s look at 5 years. What would it take? About 5 or 6 years ago, I began introducing something called the penny plan. And what would it do? It would cut one penny out of every dollar. It actually would balance. Actually, the first year I did it, I didn’t even cut 1 percent. I froze spending for 5 years, and the budget would have balanced. But the trick is—or not the trick but the truth is that you have to cut all spending or freeze all spending. You can’t just freeze a sliver of spending.

So people talked about: Oh, there is a 1-percent trigger on the discretionary spending. That is $16 billion.

They are going to add $4 trillion in debt over the next 5 years. And if they say: “But by golly, we might save $16 billion,” which even that is not going to happen because the trigger isn’t real, doesn’t have muscle, and will be evaded.

But the thing is that if we were to balance the budget over 5 years, what would happen is there now needs to be about a 5-percent cut of all the spending each year for 5 years and then the budget would be balanced.

You say: Well, isn’t that just a number? What would that mean to real people? Why do I care whether the budget is balanced?

Well, go to the grocery store, go to buy gas, go to buy anything, go to pay your rent, look at your cost of living and look at what inflation is doing to you.

Who does inflation hurt the worst? Those on fixed incomes and those of the working class because they don’t have any extra spendable income. Most of their income goes to things that they have to purchase each month. But where does inflation come from?

The Senator from Indiana described it accurately. We run a debt. This place spends money we don’t have, and where is the deficit made up for? We sell that debt to the Federal Reserve. The Federal Reserve buys it. And it is like: Wow, this is a great system. We spend money we don’t have. We print up these things called Treasury bills. The Federal Reserve comes over and buys them. Wow. We can just do anything we want. We have the printing press. But when they create new money and that new money enters into circulation, that is inflation.

This $5 trillion is an increase in the money supply, and when you increase the money supply and you chase the prices right up. That is where inflation comes from.

The debt is out past a number. The debt is about the value of your paycheck. It is about how far your paycheck goes.
So right now we are in a bit of a spiral. We have had 9 percent inflation. It is a little lower now, but we have had as high as 9 percent, and I think the cost of living increase for Social Security went up 9 to match that. But you will find people who are honest. You know, even with the 9-percent increase, I still can’t buy everything I need. I am actually still being squeezed.

But it is a bait and switch. It is because your government isn’t honest with you. It is this huge government that wants to be honest with you, and they say: We are going to be everything to everyone, and we are going to give you stuff—it is funny because we have this comparison sometimes with Sweden. People say and many Democrats will say: We want to be Sweden. We want to be Sweden, and we are going to give you everything. And we are going to have a big government that coddles you from cradle to grave.

But do you know how they do it in Sweden? With a balanced budget. I am not advocating we become Sweden, but they balance their annual budget every year.

Do you know how they got to have all that free stuff to give everybody? How they have a safety net that includes everything including college, free healthcare, everything? They tax everybody an enormous amount of tax. Over here the bait and switch is they will say: We are just going to tax the rich people. It is easy. Just tax the rich people.

They don’t do that in Sweden, though. In Sweden, they tax everybody. It is a 60-percent income tax beginning at $60,000 a year. Everybody pays. The middle class pays.

So if we wanted to be honest and we were to say, “We are going to give you this massive safety net. You don’t have to work. Everybody can have a basic income, and do all this,” we would be honest or we should be honest and say it would take massive taxes.

Instead it is a dishonesty, but the dishonesty is on both sides of the aisle. The Democrats say that welfare is free and the safety net is free and Social Security is free and all these things are free.

What do the Republicans say? The military industrial complex is free. You can have all the weapons you want. You can give hundreds of billions of dollars of weapons to Ukraine, and it won’t cost anything because we will just print it up.

See, there were times in our history when you went through a war or with the devastation of war in World War II, the people actually suffered, and you could see the suffering and people felt like they had to pay something. But now we just put it on the tab.

But there is a point at which the tab gets so large that there can be something precipitous happening. The question has always been, is this a gradual process or will we just have to worry with a little inflation, 5 or 10 percent here, or is there a point at which there is a calamity?

If you look at the stock market for the last 100 years, some people will point to 7 different days in which like 80 or 90 percent of the downturn occurred in 7 days in the last century.

Is there a possibility of calamity when we are so destructive to our dollar, when we are so destructive to good sense?

I think the American people want more from us. Recent polls have said 60 percent of Americans say don’t raise the debt ceiling. Forty-three Republicans—forty-four of us, actually, said: We want significant reforms before we raise the debt ceiling.

But then the devil is in the details. The devil is in concluding what is significant and what is not significant. So what will end up happening—my prediction here—is almost every Democrat will vote to raise the debt ceiling and about half the Republicans will vote. It will be a 75-25 vote, and in the end, the debt ceiling will go up.

The people will say: It is good. We didn’t have a calamity. The stock market didn’t crash because we didn’t pay our debt.

But you might want to ask yourself: Is this really a contrived controversy? Is there really a reason in which we would ever default? Is there a reason why we wouldn’t make our interest payment? We bring in $5 trillion, and our interest payment is $500 billion.

So that means if you make $100,000, and your mortgage payment is $10,000. If you made $100,000 and your mortgage payment is $10,000, is there any chance you would ever default? Is there any reason you wouldn’t cut your other expenditures to prioritize your interest so you don’t get kicked out of your house? That is what every American family would do, but we don’t do it up here.

So we threaten default. We scare the markets and say: Oh, no, we will default if the debt ceiling doesn’t come up.

No, we would default only if we refused to cut spending. So we spend a trillion dollars more than comes in every year. That is the problem.

If we simply said: We are going to pay the $500 billion, 10 percent of our revenue for next year. We are going to pay the interest no matter what. And guess what. We will tell the marketplace we are never going to default. We are never going to default. We will always do that. That would be great. The market would go gangbusters and say: We no longer have to worry about those knuckleheads. They finally decided they would pay their interest, and they always would like to pay something. But then what would happen?

Well, we wouldn’t have enough money for everything. So then we should look at where we can save money.

The problem has always been this. Republicans point at Democrats and say: We don’t like your programs. Let’s cut your programs. Democrats look at Republicans and say: No, no, no. Don’t cut our programs. Cut yours.

Everybody is “Don’t cut mine, cut yours.”

This is why I have taken the approach and continue to take the approach that we cut everything across the board. In the past, there were always conservatives who said: Let’s get rid of Public Television. Let’s get rid of “Sesame Street” and they would get so much grief over that. It is like, why do that? You are not balancing the budget over Big Bird. Take 1 percent of Big Bird’s budget. Take 1 percent of everybody’s budget. What would that do? That would bring about more conservation of the dollar. It would bring about more restraint and more reform.

I will end with this. People ask: Where would you cut? I would say everywhere. You can give hundreds of billions to Ukraine, and it is free. You can give all the weapons you want. You can give $1 million to somebody. That cost you a million bucks.

Nowadays, it has gone up. We spent a million dollars having young people take selfies of themselves while smiling and then looking at it later in the day to see if looking at pictures of you what would make you a happier person. That cost you a million bucks.

We spent $1 1/2 million studying the mating call of the Panamanian frog to see if the mating call of the country frogs is different from the city frogs. We spent nearly half a million dollars studying the Japanese quail to see if they are more sexually promiscuous when they are on cocaine. I think we could have just polled the audience on that.

This is the kind of ridiculous stuff—but does it get better? I complain about this every year and all the time and everybody shakes their head and says: No way. Why are we doing that? For the National Science Foundation, we increased their budget 50 percent last year. People said: Oh, we have to compete with China. So let’s give the National Science Foundation more money.

We almost increased their budget by 50 percent—the people who are studying why you go on dates, why you are happy, what the male frog’s mating call is. This is the craziness, but it never gets better because we always spend more and more.

So my amendment would do this: My amendment would reduce the spending in real terms. We would actually spend less money next year than last year. It would give a 5-percent reduction in money. You would spend less each year, and, over 5 years, you would balance your budget. Then it would be on course to balance.
People ask: Who can do this? Half of Europe does it. Sweden balances their budget. Germany balances their budget. Over half of the countries in Europe run on an annual balanced budget. Our profligacy and our spending are catching up to us. I say we act now. I recommend a “yes” vote on my amendment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from West Virginia.

Mrs. CAPITTO. Mr. President, I rise today to discuss the importance of both the permitting sections and the provision to expedite the completion of the Mountain Valley Pipeline that are included in the Fiscal Responsibility Act.

I want to commend Speaker MCCARTHY and House Republicans for negotiating legislation that makes responsible reductions in government spending while avoiding a government default.

Included in this legislation are key elements of the BUILDER Act permitting reform proposal, which was championed by Congressman GARRETT GRAVES and Chairman WESTERMAN. This bill represents a positive first step in improving the permitting projects for all kinds of projects.

By amending the National Environmental Policy Act for the first time since 1962, we will help projects of all types whether we are talking about a road, a bridge, a transmission line, a renewable energy project, a pipeline, or a port. Simply put, a project shouldn’t take longer to permit than it takes to build, and that should be true regardless of what type of project is under consideration.

This legislation will impose statutory deadlines on the completion of environmental impact statements and environmental assessments. It would establish the review process with threshold language that tells Agencies when various levels of review are necessary.

It allows Agencies to share categorical exclusions for similar projects, because multiple Agencies should not have to do the same work twice. It makes sense.

By placing the One Federal Decision policy into the NEPA statute, this legislation will allow project sponsors to work with a single lead Federal Agency.

Most of those listening probably thought that that was what was happening anyway. But, no, all of these different Agencies were giving all individual opinions. It’s too easy to build things in this country, we should not force project sponsors to bounce back and forth from one Agency to the next, often facing litigation at every step. It is just simply common sense to allow project sponsors to work with one lead Agency.

More work is needed beyond this bill to fix our broken process for permitting projects. Reforms to the judicial review process, timelier Fish and Wildlife Service reviews, and improvements to the Clean Water Act are all very important.

I introduced the RESTART Act last month with a number of my EPW colleagues to address those issues, and I will continue to work in a bipartisan way to see additional reforms enacted into law.

Today’s legislation is a positive step on permitting reform. Again, I want to thank Congressman GRAVES and Chairman WESTERMAN for their efforts to get us to this point.

Mr. President, the Mountain Valley Pipeline is a prime example of an important project that has faced senseless delays, mostly as a result of litigation filed by anti-natural gas activists at the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit.

This project has undergone numerous—numerous—environmental reviews and multiple Federal Agency actions that both set off glaciers. This legislation will ratify approvals and environmental documents. These include actions from the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, better known as FERC; the U.S. Forest Service; the Bureau of Land Management; the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service; the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers; the West Virginia Department of Environmental Protection; and the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality. These Agencies have at no time approved the construction of this pipeline.

Given the multiple actions by Federal and State environmental agencies’ approving this project, assertions that this project has not gone through adequate environmental review are just plain wrong. Both the Trump and Biden Administrations have expressed support for this project. Secretary of Energy Jennifer Granholm recently sent a letter to FERC endorsing the project.

The Mountain Valley Pipeline is 95 percent complete and would be finished today if it weren’t for the rulings by the Fourth Circuit that have stayed or vacated multiple approvals granted by Federal and State environmental regulators. The Fourth Circuit has acted nine times with respect to the Mountain Valley Pipeline. On eight of those nine occasions, the court has either stayed or vacated an approval from a Federal or a State agency.

Only once did the court uphold an approval for this project, and that was when the court upheld water quality certifications from the State of Virginia, under section 401 of the Clean Water Act. But, within days of that opinion, the same Fourth Circuit panel vacated similar 401 water quality certifications from the State of West Virginia.

I want to commend Speaker MCCARTHY and the Republican colleagues to address those issues, and I will continue to work in a bipartisan way to see additional reforms enacted into law.

Today’s legislation is a positive step on permitting reform. Again, I want to thank Congressman GRAVES and Chairman WESTERMAN for their efforts to get us to this point.

But, within days of that opinion, the same Fourth Circuit panel vacated similar 401 water quality certifications from the State of West Virginia.

Because certification from both States is necessary, the Army Corps of Engineers to issue a required 401 permit for the Mountain Valley Pipeline, vacating certification from one State has had the effect of continuing to prevent the project from moving forward.

We have become all too familiar with the Fourth Circuit’s blocking of key projects. The same panel that has rejected nearly all of the State and Federal approvals for the Mountain Valley Pipeline brought before it took similar actions to vacate State and Federal approvals for the now canceled Atlantic Coast Pipeline.

Project sponsors for the Atlantic Coast Pipeline appealed one of the Fourth Circuit’s four adverse rulings against that project all the way to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court reversed the Fourth Circuit in a 7-to-2 opinion that was written by Justice Thomas and joined not only by Republican-appointed Justices but also by Justices Ginsburg and Breyer.

Despite winning at the Supreme Court, the Atlantic Coast Pipeline was canceled amid the threat of continuing litigation and permitting delays. Activists are using the same playbook at the Fourth Circuit to try to stop the Mountain Valley Pipeline.

This is a pipeline that will result in $40 million in tax revenue for the Commonwealth of Virginia in royalty payments in West Virginia annually once it is completed. The project will open markets to West Virginia’s natural gas, providing good-paying jobs not just in my State, and enhancing our Nation’s energy security and our own national security.

The project’s benefits and given approvals from State and Federal regulators across multiple administrations from both parties, I do not believe that a handful of judges should have the final say.

This legislation will ratify approvals issued under the Biden administration from the U.S. Forest Service, the Bureau of Land Management, and the Fish and Wildlife Service, along with approval from the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. These documents will be insulated from judicial review to prevent further delays.

Additionally, this bill requires the Army Corps of Engineers to issue necessary project permits, including a 401 permit I talked about earlier, within 21 days. Both Virginia and West Virginia environmental regulators have issued necessary certifications for this permit, but the Fourth Circuit has delayed further permitting action by vacating West Virginia’s certification.

This legislation makes it crystal clear that Congress expects the Mountain Valley Pipeline to be completed, consistent with the previously approved environmental documents.

I have consistently fought for commonsense reforms so that we can actually get projects moving and ensure that we can safely move forward with energy infrastructure projects in America, including key projects such as the Mountain Valley Pipeline. It is my hope that permitting reforms—both the provisions that are in this bill and those that we should consider in the future—will allow projects to be approved and constructed in an efficient manner that does not require congressional intervention.
It also should be pointed out and emphasized that this does not mean that any environmental regulation that is put forward is ever shortchanged or overlooked. That is not the point here.

On occasions when the process fails projects of significant regional and national interest, we have the authority and the responsibility as elected Representatives to step in and ensure a project is allowed to proceed.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. FETTERMAN). The Senator from Maryland.

CLEAN WATER ACT

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. President, I rise to express my disappointment in the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision to curtail the Clean Water Act, the principal law governing pollution control and water qualities of our Nation's waterways.

The narrow interpretation now supported by the highest Court will remove Clean Water Act protection for the majority of wetlands in the United States.

Let me just repeat that. Wetlands—we all know how important that is to water quality in America. We know that wetlands act as a sponge for runoff. It traps pollution that otherwise would end up in our waterways. And it is critically important to our habitat.

This narrow interpretation will remove protection from a majority of wetlands in the United States.

At a time of rightly intense attention to avoiding a default crisis, this attack on clean water protection must not escape notice.

This past weekend, we honored the sacrifices of our military servicemembers. Often, these celebrations of the lives and legacies of our fallen soldiers and their loved ones take place outside in community green spaces. Our parks need clean water.

The Sackett v. EPA decision is detrimental to national parks, where two-thirds of park waters are already impaired with much of this pollution linked to out-of-park upstream activities.

Under the Sackett decision issued on May 25 of this year, a slim majority of the Court, led by Justice Alito, incorrectly concluded that the Clean Water Act does not apply to the wetlands of the Sackett’s property, but they disagreed with the majority’s reasoning.

In an opinion joined by the three liberal Justices, Justice Kavanaugh contended that the Court’s interpretation of the Act’s coverage of wetlands to only adjoining wetlands, the Court’s new test will leave some long-regulated adjacent wetlands no longer covered by the Clean Water Act, with significant repercussions for water quality and flood control throughout the United States.

Justice Kavanaugh specifically noted that the health of the Chesapeake Bay would be at risk under the Court’s new test. Our national treasure—the largest estuary in the country—was one of two examples given, along with efforts to control flooding along the Mississippi River.

In its opinion, the majority claims that the Clean Water Act repeatedly uses “waters” in contexts that confirm the term refers to bodies of open water. Despite this convenient fallacy, the waters of the Bay are by no means limited to open water. In fact, the Chesapeake Bay, a body of water from a network of 110,000 streams and 1.7 million acres of wetlands, most of which are non-navigable tributaries and nontidal wetlands that drain to those tributaries.

The watersheds’ roughly 1.5 million acres of wetlands are critical to restoring the Chesapeake Bay in its tributaries across six States and the District of Columbia.

Wetlands are essential to water quality. They trap pollutants that are running off farmland, suburban parking lots, and city streets before they can reach the 111,000 miles of local streams, creeks, and rivers that empty into the Bay.

Entering the Atlantic hurricane season, it is worth noting that wetlands also protect flood-prone communities by absorbing storm surges and flood waters like sponges. Wetlands also mitigate some of the climate change effects like sea level rise and “sunny day” flooding that threatens lives, businesses, and properties in waterfront cities like Annapolis, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Virginia have State regulations that could offer backstop coverage for wetlands that are adjacent to, but not adjoining, the Bay and its covered tributaries EPA can no longer protect. But we should not be abdicating this shared responsibility just to our States. Nationwide, more than 111 million acres of wetlands and the ecosystem services they provide are estimated to face the essential threat from the loss of Federal protections.

Justice Kavanaugh also wrote a brief opinion joined by the three liberal Justices, in which she criticized what she characterized as “the Court’s appointment of itself as the national decision-maker on environmental policy.”

In her view, which I share, Congress deliberately drafted the Clean Water Act with a broad reach to “address a problem of ‘crisis proportion.’” Although the majority disagrees with that decision, she wrote, it cannot “rewrite Congress’s plain instructions because they go further than the Court would like. But that is precisely what the majority did decide, just as it did last year when it curtailed the EPA’s authority to regulate greenhouse gas emissions from power plants.

Sackett is the latest in an alarming series of rulings to undercut the Agency’s mission to protect human health and the environment. This one happens to hit especially close to the statutory home of the Chesapeake Bay program partnership.

For now, to assert jurisdiction over an adjacent wetland under the Clean Water Act, a party must establish “first, that the adjacent [body of water constitutes] . . . ‘water[s] of the United States’ [i.e., a relatively permanent water connected to traditional interstate navigable waters]; and second, that the wetland has a continuous surface connection with that water, making it difficult to determine whether the ‘water’ ends and the ‘wetland’ begins.”

This arbitrary new definition strikes at the heart of the Chesapeake Bay Program—science-based decision making.

Moreover, as Justice Kavanaugh notes, the Court’s new test “is sufficiently novel and vague” that it will create precisely the type of regulatory uncertainty that the majority roundly criticized.

The decision muddles the waters for a clear, workable waters of the United States definition. After years of uncertainty, the rule of the final “Revised Definition of ‘Waters of the United States’” rule the EPA and U.S. Army Corps announced in December established a clear and reasonable definition.

The commonsense approach the EPA must now defend recognizes that pollution upstream can have downstream impacts, so we must protect the system to safeguard downstream communities in our environment.

The rule this opinion invites opponents to challenge also maintained longstanding Clean Water Act permitting exceptions for routine farming and ranching activities. Basically, complied to what we thought the rule was before the Supreme Court decisions almost a decade ago.

In addition to the indirect costs of regulatory uncertainty, the loss of clean water protections will have significant economic consequences for outdoor recreation, which supports $788 billion in consumer spending and more than 5 million jobs in the United States annually. Wetlands do not just provide habitat for wildlife and trail fisheries that offer recreational opportunities; they also clean water for farmers that drive our economy through production of food.
In order to protect our resources in our new reality, we must enforce the Federal authorities to preserve clean water, support States strengthening their own laws and regulations, and take action to restore protections. In addition, clean water infrastructure grants, such as those from the Clean Water State Revolving Fund and non-regulatory coastal habitat restoration programs like the Coastal Program offer resources to support States, Tribes, and NGOs, restoring wetlands in their best interest.

Water pollution has never respected political boundaries. Our constituents all rely on clean water for drinking, swimming, fishing, irrigation, and more. I urge my colleagues to consider the seriousness of this setback and let us work together to mitigate the damage of this decision.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

Mr. KAINE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

Mr. KAINE. Mr. President, I rise to speak about a provision of the debt ceiling deal that I will later today offer an amendment to. It is the provision dealing with the Mountain Valley Pipeline.

I appreciate the hard bipartisan work that has been done to put together a deal. And the deal has things I like and things that I don’t like. That is the nature of any deal that is struck between different parties.

It would have been my intention to be a supporter of the deal despite its imperfections. However, a provision was added to the deal to green-light a pipeline project that goes through two States: West Virginia and my Commonwealth of Virginia.

It was struck without any consultation with either of the Virginia Senators. It is a highly controversial project in Virginia that directly impacts families whose land will be taken by the permitting process isn’t just about building, but it is about holding the developer to strict standards so that when they build the pipeline, they minimally disturb the land, they minimally affect species, and they minimally affect creeks and streams and wetlands.

The Mountain Valley Pipeline is proposed to go about 110 miles through the poorest part of my State—Appalachia. In the Appalachian region of Virginia, a lot of people don’t have very much. For many of them, their land is what they have, and for many of them, that land has been in their family for generations. They are entitled to a fair process that would look at the need for the pipeline and what is the best route and then would insist that the pipeline be built to a high standard to maximize protection of the property.

Congress has made a decision that this is not to be decided by Congress. Pipeline routing, pipeline need is not to be determined by Congress. Instead, you put it in administrative agencies. Why do you do that? It is because, A, they have expertise, and B, it is less likely to be abused.

If you were to let Congress do pipeline routing, it would be pretty easy for somebody to look at a map and say: Well, this county never voted for me. Why don’t we run it through that county and take their land?

Instead, we remove it from Congress so that professionals can undertake the right analysis and review.

In this bipartisan debt ceiling deal, there is a provision to green-light one project in the United States, the Mountain Valley Pipeline. If you will insist that it will be no more administrative processes to determine whether it has been fully permitted and no more ability for the courts to review the administrative Agency’s decisions.

I strongly object to that. I don’t have an objection to the pipeline itself. I have been asked again and again and again, and I said: This is not for Congress to decide. In fact, it would be wrong for Congress to do this. You should have an administrative process. A Pipeline project proponent should have to meet the standard, get over the hurdles, and when they do, then, OK, they should be enabled to take land and build a pipeline but only then. We shouldn’t short-cut it and give one project a green light.

This is ultimately about Virginians who care about their land. They don’t want to give up their land for this pipeline because they don’t think they will benefit from it.

Sometimes a county will take someone’s land to build a road, and even if you are not happy about that, at least there is a road. You can have an ambulance to your house and can go out and catch a schoolbus on it. But a pipeline of this kind that is transmitting gas from one part of the country to the other—people can’t hook into it to get low-cost natural gas. Many of the communities in Virginia that this pipeline will run across don’t even have natural gas distribution to their communities. It might have some effect upon global gas prices, but that won’t affect somebody who doesn’t have gas service to their home.

Virginia just want to be sure that if this pipeline is built, it has met the requisite standards of the review agencies, both State and Federal, and it has withstood any court challenges.

There is a pipeline project that has been underway for a while. I know the proponents of this provision will say it has just been going on too long. But one of the reasons it has been going on for a while is because the company was shuffled in a lot of its operations and construction, particularly early in the life of this project. I do believe the company has better management now, but the project has been cited for dozens and dozens of Clean Water Act violations and other construction problems that have led to mudslides on people’s property. That is why my Virginia constituents are so desiring that, let’s do this the right way or let’s not do it at all.

This provision in this bill not only frustrates these Virginia landowners who want to make sure that if their land is going to be taken, it is done in a fair way after deliberate consideration, but it also does something that I believe is unwarranted and really historical in the wrong way. It is a rebuke of the Fourth Circuit of the U.S. Court of Appeals, which is headquartered in Richmond, my hometown, which has been the court that has heard cases about the Mountain Valley Pipeline. The agency’s challenges to agencies to give up the land and then proceed to call the roll.

Mr. KAINE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

Mr. KAINE. Mr. President, I rise to speak about a provision of the debt ceiling deal that I will later today offer an amendment so that we can remove an imperfection.

Without objection, it is so ordered.

DEBT CEILING

Mr. KAINE. Mr. President, I rise to speak about a provision of the debt ceiling deal that I will later today offer an amendment so that we can remove an imperfection.
lost some. When I lost, I wasn’t happy, but if I lost, I would tell my client: We can appeal.

We would appeal to the Fourth Circuit. Sometimes I would win my appeal, and sometimes I would lose my appeal. I wasn’t happy, but I would try to get the U.S. Supreme Court to take up the case. Never once did I tell a client after a loss: What we need to do is go to Congress and take this case away from the Fourth Circuit and put it in a court that is more likely to be favorable.

I would never have thought to do that. No one gets that deal. No individual gets that deal. No civil rights plaintiff gets that deal. No criminal defendant gets that deal. No small business gets that deal. Most people would be embarrassed to ask for that.

I lost. I am unhappy. Why don’t I get Congress to rewrite the rules of Federal jurisdiction and take this case away from the court that has made me unhappy and put it in another court? Yet that is what this bill will do. It will end further administrative review. It will end judicial review of any permit. And it will say only this: If someone wants to challenge what Congress is doing here, saying it is unlawful or unconstitutional or an overreach, they have to file that challenge in the DC Circuit Court of Appeals. They cannot file it in the Fourth Circuit where this project is being considered.

Both of these landowners, who have a right to a full and deliberate consideration if they are going to have to give up their land, and to protect the integrity of both our court system and this body, I strongly oppose this provision.

I will move later in the day to bring up my amendment, and I would encourage my colleagues to support me in it.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Virginia.

Mr. MANCHIN. Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the MVP. They call it the Mountain Valley Pipeline; I call it the most valuable pipeline we have to offer energy to the people of America.

It has been under tow for a long time. I brought some illustrations of what we are going through because my good friend from Virginia, the Senator from Virginia who just spoke—and we respect and disagree on this—this is something we have worked on for an awful long time.

First, I want to make sure everybody understands that you cannot get permission to move forward on a pipeline, transmission line, anything you want in this country, unless there is a market for it. You have to show that there is a person or a group or a market that this product—whether it is electricity on transmission lines or gas in the pipelines or oil or whatever, there has to be a need. You can’t go from here to there and try to build a market. So there has to be a need. There has to be a need. If there is going to be a need in the market, then it starts proceeding, and then it goes through the process.

This was started over 8 years ago, going through that process. I don’t think there is another permit that has ever been more scrutinized—or a request for permit—than this Mountain Valley Pipeline.

It is the Mountain Valley Pipeline. We will call it the MVP. FERC has approved the MVP three times—not one time, three times—basically, over 8 years of review. It started with the Trump administration, went through the Biden administration, and now into the Supreme Court. And we are as desperate for the fuel today as we are.

Let’s look at the people and basically where the need is. This pipeline is 42 inches. It takes the most oil shale. First of all, it goes into an area that basically is deprived of natural resources themselves. Let me tell you some of the areas we are going to be able to serve in a direct and indirect way. Our military bases in North Carolina and South Carolina are in desperate need.

There was another pipeline coming out of the same shale of gas called the Atlantic Coast Pipeline that went on for years. It went on for years. It was finally scrubbed because the price got so exorbitant that there was no way to continue, and they could not get through the litigation that went on for years. And finally with a $6 billion, Dominion Energy basically pulled the plug on it. They couldn’t do it.

So when they tell you that everything is fine and they did all this, wherever there were problems, they are sent back. If someone doesn’t like this or that, they send it back. They went through it three times. Now, when FERC goes through it, it is a pretty arduous process. They look into everything. And if the courts basically say look at this, then they do that, and they correct that and send it back, and they find something else.

Wouldn’t you think that they would see all the first time if they saw any problems whatsoever that needed corrected?

So, as I said, it has been thoroughly vetted for 8 years by the Obama and Trump and Biden administrations, and eight NEPA reviews. Anyone who has gone through any NEPA review knows how low the barriers can be. Low times NEPA has reviewed this. There are six environmental impact studies. The environmental impact studies can go from 1 to 3 years. Six times, it went back to them.

So when someone thinks this has not been scrutinized and has not basically gone through every Agency that it was required to go through and had every review done that possibly could be done, they would be mistaken, if you see just the outline of things.

The millions of dollars of permitting were approved by FERC. They approved all of them. It still wasn’t good enough. It still wasn’t good enough. It went through the courts and back it came. It went through the courts and back it came. The Forest Service, the Bureau of Land Management, and Fish and Wildlife, they all went through it. Everybody had a good look at this thing. They would have a request for permit—than this Mountain Valley Pipeline.

We are going through a process because my good friend from Virginia, the Senator from Virginia who just spoke, is at the head of FERC. He has been in the process. He knows how difficult that can be. Eight times, anyone who has gone through any NEPA review knows how difficult that can be. Eight times, it went back. They went through it three times. Now, when they started on this pipeline, there was an approximate cost of $3.5 billion to build it. We are over $6.6 billion now. Who do you think is going to pay that price? It is going to be paid by the customers who need the product. They are paying $50 to $60 per million Btu, and they should be paying $4 to $6, in that range there, and I guarantee you the savings would be tremendously supportive to their families.

So as we have talked, we had a lot going on here, a lot of different conversations. There is a new Summit View Business Park in Franklin County in southwest Virginia. It is struggling to attract businesses to that park that would create opportunities and jobs for the hard-working people in southwest Virginia, just like all of West Virginia. They cannot attract or furnish the energy at the plant that the park needs to attract the different industries that would like to come. So for economic development, just having a job, taking care of your family, and living in beautiful southwest Virginia, they don’t have that opportunity now.

In North Carolina, Cumberland County and Fayetteville needed a billion of investment because the businesses cannot afford the high price of gas. And we have an abundance of it in...
West Virginia and Pennsylvania and coming out of the eastern part of Ohio. We are willing to share it and put it in the market and keep the prices where they should be—affordable.

So the review process which has been incredibly thorough and rigorous with eight NEPA reviews, six environmental impact statements, two environmental assessments, three rounds of review by the same Federal Agencies—FERC, Fish and Wildlife, Forest Service, and BLM—and that is a mighty lift in itself. It has been before the court numerous times—nine times, to be exact—nine times before the courts. When does it stop? When does it stop? The cost has ballooned, as I said, and doubled in price, and here we are.

Now, you would think that we are just trying to get this line started. It is going to be 303 miles. But guess what: 283 miles are already built. It is already halfway into service. Right? Now, they said there have been violations because there is sedimentation going on, and they didn’t go back and reseed. They weren’t allowed to because the court actions that permitted them from getting back on the property. It is a catch-22. They could not reclaim what they wanted to reclaim because they were taken to court and stopped, and then they were brought to task again for not reclaiming it.

If we pass this piece of legislation, within 6 months this line will be in production. We only have 20 miles to go. That would put 2,500 people to work—2,500 people to work. About $40 to $50 million annually will be coming to the States of West Virginia and some to Virginia, as it passes through. There is about $200 to $250 million that will go to individuals who own their gas rights that are being sold and put into the line. That is every year. That is tremendous support for the poorest parts of our country. In the poorest parts of our country, the people are finally able to sell what they own, and to help stabilize the prices or help all people in the States that are affected.

There is $1.2 billion in additional investment to complete the project. We have tried everything humanly possible. We really have. I just didn’t believe that we couldn’t get this to work after what happened to the previous lines they were trying to build to bring product to the marketplace.

So different people who are upset. I understand that. My good friend from Virginia, my Senate friend—we were co-Governors together and our families are very close. This doesn’t affect our relationship, our friendship, and it doesn’t affect, basically, us fighting for many of the same causes. But it brings a healthy discussion: Are we going to move forward in this country? Are we going to have permit reform? Are we going to be able to build the necessary transmission that it takes?

I am talking about powerlines. They are the same. If anything, it takes longer for a powerline, for pipelines. Everything is being stopped now. It is not that they are protesting the pipe itself. They are protesting basically the product in the pipe, the gas.

Now, there is a transition going on in energy throughout the country—a transition throughout the world, to a certain extent—but we still cannot run our country without the gas, without the oil, without the coal that we need for dispatch. That means 24/7. Just gas and coal itself is over 60 percent of the energy we use.

In this system here, right where we are in this beautiful Capitol, this is a PJM system, which they call it, and it is basically what this is all about. It is basically “all of the above.” It is wind, solar. It is coal. It is gas. It is every-thing that gives the reliability that, when you turn that switch on, you are going to have lights. When you turn the heat on, you are going to be warm. When you turn this air conditioner on, we are comfortable. When you cook your food, you are going to be able to do it. That is what we are able to do in America.

And as that transitions, there will be a transition into new technology that will replace what we are talking about. But we are a long way away from that, and to deprive people who need this for their livelihood, to deprive them and make them pay 10 times more for a product that is abun-dant—it would be much different if the Good Lord didn’t give us the resources. But it is a shame and a sin that we don’t use the resources we have to help all humankind. That is what we are talking about.

And if you look at the process we have just gone through and where we are right now and what we embark on this evening, we will probably be here most of the night. I would say, going through the amendments. Everybody has to have some issues. But we have come to the reality and we have been here long enough understanding that this piece of legislation that we have before us has to pass. The Mountain Valley Pipeline is in that piece of legislation. It still has some review processes. We are not asking for that. We are asking, basically, that the things that have been done multiple times proceed on—that it proceeds on. That is all we are asking for.

But with that, when you think about 3 or 4 months ago, we started talking seriously about the debt ceiling. We have got to address the debt ceiling. That is our responsibility to address it and make sure the full faith and credit of this country and the value of us having the reserve currency of the world is stable—that it is stable.

If we pass an amendment or any amendment—this amendment my dear friend is going to introduce or any amendment—we will default. It is as simple as that. We will default.

Now, it would be different if this had not gone through 8 years of scrutiny, in court nine times, been looked at any way and every way, shape, and form. That would be a different thing—if no one has ever seen anything, if we are trying to slide something through. That is not the case here. No one can accuse that of happening.

So we are in the right now of trying to move forward in this country to get the energy that we need, that we have. It is unbelievable to me when the people were thinking sometime: Well, maybe we will have Iran produce more oil. Maybe we will have Venezuela produce more.

We have it in our backyard, and we can’t produce it ourselves? We want someone else to do the work that we won’t do for ourselves? That is ridiculous.

You can’t lead that way. You can’t have the rest of the world looking at you as the superpower of the world that won’t do for yourself because you don’t like something. We found ways through innovation, not elimination, to do it better. And we can help the rest of the world, and we can help the global climate because of this if we work together.

I can assure you that what we have today before us is a product that is going to help an awful lot of people—450 million just in one State that de-pends on this product to give them relief and are paying through the nose. They are already at the highest prices. They are already at the highest prices in the country except for the Northeast.

So I would say there is so much at risk right now. If we move forward and we pass this amendment that would go on this bill, that would have to go back to the House with us not defaulting. We cannot take that risk.

I would ask my colleagues—all of my colleagues on both sides of the aisle—instead of what we are doing, consider basically the value that this product brings. Consider also the reviews this product has gone through, and I think you will find it more than adequate and more than comforting that, basi-cally, we have a product that is going to do an awful lot of good for America, an awful lot of good for humankind in the States. And, also, this will backfill and also help us toward where we are sending LNG to our allies around the world. There are so many benefits from 2 billion cubic feet a day—2 billion. Two billion cubic feet a day will go through this line, helping America to be energy independent.

I would encourage all of my colleagues to vote respectfully against the amend-ment that will be offered to strip this out of the bill.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. KESKIN). The Senator from South Caro-lina.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, I have been informed that shortly, the major-ity leader will come to the floor and announce his commitment and the bill in continuing to do a supple-mental to make sure that the damage done by this bill is, at least, partially corrected.
This bill puts our military behind the eight ball. There is not one penny in this bill for Ukrainian assistance. As I speak tonight, Ukraine is engaged in a fight for its life. They are going on the offensive. I have high hopes in the coming days and weeks they will liberate part of their territory occupied by Russia.

The assistance we have provided in a bipartisan fashion with our European allies has made all the difference in the world. We were told after the invasion that this war would fall in 4 days; but as-and-somethings later, they are still fighting. The Russian Army has been weakened and bloodied because of the weapons we have provided. I appreciate the bipartisan support to make sure we win a war in Ukraine without one American soldier being involved.

If we can defeat Putin in Ukraine, that means China will, hopefully, take notice and Putin will be stopped, because if you don’t stop him in Ukraine, he will think we will be in a war between NATO and Russia.

So I appreciate all the hard work of the staff to make a statement to the people who are facing threats from China, from Russia, from Iran, that we have your back and we have your back. There are somethings in this bill to deal with the threats I think we face from China consistent with the threat level. There is money in this bill but not enough. So I am hoping that those who are watching this in Ukraine understand that Senators SCHUMER and MCCONNELL are going to say in a moment: We have not abandoned you. We are going to keep helping you as you struggle to liberate your country from the war criminal Putin.

Whether you believe we should be helping Ukraine or not, I do. People in this body, on both sides of the aisle in the Senate, understand that Putin’s invasion is a defining moment of the 21st century. Ukraine says: Putin gets away with this, there goes Taiwan, and the world order will begin to crumble. The world order we created, which World War II would be jeopardized.

War crimes on an industrial scale by Putin cannot be forgiven or forgotten. To the brave men and women in Ukraine, help is on the way. To the people standing up to China, living in its shadow in Taiwan, help is on the way. To the American military who is underfunded because of this bill, help is on the way.

For 3 days, I and some others have been screaming to high heaven that what the House did was wrong. It is right to want to control spending, and there are some good things in this bill. But it was wrong to give a giant underfunded because of this bill, help is on the way.

I do believe that we are on track to right some of those wrongs. To my colleagues, I am not the perfect—the enemy of the good. I vote on my share of bipartisan bills and get crap for it like most of you. But as long as I am here, I am going to speak about the need of the Federal Government to get the defense budget right. Budgets are based on threats, not political deals. And if you think the world is safer, you have missed a lot. So, hopefully, in a few minutes, there will be an announcement that puts us on a course correcting some of the damage, and there will be a clear signal from both the leader and the majority leader, Senator MCCONNELL, that help is on the way to those who live in the shadow of totalitarian governments and those who will be attacked.

To my American citizen friends, I wish there were no war anywhere. I wish China wasn’t the way they are. I wish the Ayatollah didn’t want a nuclear weapon and would use it if he could. I wish that Putin would not have invaded Ukraine. I wish that the world was different than it is. But if you want peace and stability, it comes at a high price.

The good news for us is that not one American soldier has died fighting Russia from Ukraine. The Ukrainians have fought like tigers. It is in our national security interest to provide them the weapons and the technology to keep this fight up. Their win is our win.

So I look forward to hearing the statement that I think is forthcoming. It does not fix this bill totally, but it begins to march in the right direction.

To my colleagues, thank you for listening. There is no one more working with me and others, Victory for Ukraine.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. OSSORY). The clerk will call the roll.

The senior assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. OSSORY). Without objection, it is so ordered.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following joint statement from Senator MCCONNELL and me be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

JOINT STATEMENT FROM SENATE LEADERS

We share the concern of many of our colleagues about the potential impact of sequestration and we will work in a bipartisan, collaborative way to avoid this outcome.

Now that we have agreed on budget caps, we have asked Appropriations Committee Chair Senator Murray and Vice Chair Senator Collins to set the subcommittee caps and get the regular order process started.

To accomplish our shared goal of preventing sequestration, expeditious floor consideration will require cooperation from Senators from both parties. The Leaders look forward to billeting the markup out of committee with strong bipartisan support. The Leaders will seek and facilitate floor consideration of these bills with the cooperation of Senators from both sides of the aisle.

VOTE ON MOTION TO PROCEED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I know of no further debate on the motion to proceed.
would almost certainly cause another recession. It would be a nightmare for our economy and millions of American families. It would take years—years—to recover from. But for all of the ups and downs and twists and turns it took to get here, it is so good for this country that both parties have come together at last to avoid default.

I thank my colleagues on both sides of the aisle for their cooperation. Let’s finish the job and send this very important bipartisan bill to the President’s desk today.

Mr. President, I also want to dispel rumors and reassure our friends across the world about the Senate’s commitment and ability to respond to emerging threats and needs.

This debt ceiling deal does nothing to limit the Senate’s ability to appropriate emergency supplemental funds to ensure our military capabilities are sufficient to deter China, Russia, and our other adversaries and respond to ongoing and growing national security threats, including Russia’s ongoing war of aggression against Ukraine, our ongoing competition with China and its growing threat to Taiwan, Iranian threats to American interests and those of our partners in the Middle East, or any other emerging security crisis; nor does this debt ceiling deal limit the Senate’s ability to appropriate emergency supplemental funds to respond to various national issues, such as disaster relief, or combating the fentanyl crisis, or other issues of national importance.

I know a strong bipartisan majority of Senators stands ready to receive and process emergency funding requests from the administration. The Senate is not about to ignore national needs nor abandon our friends and allies who face urgent threats from America’s most dangerous adversaries.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

Mr. PAUL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the absence of a quorum be rescinded.

The amendment is as follows:

Mr. PAUL. Mr. President, I ask for the yeas and nays.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question now occurs on agreeing to amendment No. 107.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Rhode Island.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. President, with all due respect to my colleague, I strongly urge a “no” vote.

This amendment would create catastrophic damage throughout the Federal economy, with spending cuts as much as 37 percent by 2028, putting Federal programs like Medicare, Medicaid, border security, and transportation into extremely difficult circumstances. This is not the America that Americans expect, and we should not allow this vote to pass.

VOTE ON AMENDMENT NO. 107

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Kentucky [Mr. PAUL] moves to reconsider the previous vote, and I so notify the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from California [Mrs. FEINSTEIN] moves to reconsider the previous vote, and I so notify the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Georgia [Mr. WARNOCK] moves to reconsider the previous vote, and I so notify the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas [Mr. CRUZ] moves to reconsider the previous vote, and I so notify the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Tennessee [Mr. HAGERTY] moves to reconsider the previous vote, and I so notify the Senate.
Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, about an hour ago, I entered a statement into the RECORD, and I would like to read it so the Members can hear it.

I want to also dispel rumors and reassure our friends across the world about the Senate’s commitment and ability to respond to emerging threats and needs. This debt ceiling deal does nothing to limit the Senate’s ability to appropriate emergency supplemental funds to ensure our military capabilities are sufficient to deter China, Russia, and our other adversaries and respond to ongoing and growing national security threats, including Russia’s evil ongoing war of aggression against Ukraine, our ongoing competition with China and its growing threat to Taiwan, Iranian threats to American interests and those of our partners in the Middle East, or any other emerging security crisis; nor does this debt ceiling limit the Senate’s ability to appropriate emergency supplemental funds to respond to various national issues, such as disaster relief, combating the fentanyl crisis, or other issues of national importance.

Mr. President, I want to remind Members, we were indulgent in the first vote. That is over. We are doing 10-minute votes. Please stay in your seats so we can finish this bill at a reasonable hour.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Duly noted.

The Senator from Indiana.

AMENDMENT NO. 91

Mr. BRAUN. Mr. President, I call up my amendment No. 91 and ask that it be reported by number.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the amendment by number.

The Senator from Indiana [Mr. BRAUN] proposes an amendment numbered 91.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To rescind discretionary appropriations in the event of a debt ceiling crisis period and to honor the full faith and credit of the debts of the United States in the event of a debt ceiling crisis period.

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. ___. RESCISON OF DISCRETIONARY SPENDING AND HONORING DEBTS DURING A DEBT CEILING CRISIS.

(a) Definitions.—In this section:

(1) CURRENT FISCAL YEAR.—The term “current fiscal year,” means the fiscal year during which the applicable rescission of discretionary appropriations under subsection (b) occurs.

(2) DEBT CEILING CRISIS PERIOD.—The term “debt ceiling crisis period” means a period—

(A) beginning on the date on which, but for subsection (c), the Secretary of the Treasury would have to issue obligations under chapter 31 of title 31, United States Code, or other obligations whose principal and interest are guaranteed by the United States Government, because of the limit on the face amount of such obligations that may be outstanding at one time under section 310(b) of title 31, United States Code,

(B) ending on a date on which the first measure suspending or increasing the limit under section 310(b) of title 31, United States Code, is enacted after the date described in subparagraph (A).

(3) DISCRETIONARY APPROPRIATIONS.—The term “discretionary appropriations” has the meaning given such term in section 250(c) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 900(c)).

(b) RESCISON OF DISCRETIONARY SPENDING.—For each discretionary appropriations account, effective on first day of a debt ceiling crisis period, and every 30 days thereafter until the end of the debt ceiling crisis period, 1 percent of the amount provided for the discretionary appropriations account under the appropriation Act for the current fiscal year is permanently rescinded.

(c) TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF DEBT CEILING.

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 310(b) of title 31, United States Code, shall not apply for the period—

(A) beginning on the first day of a debt ceiling crisis period; and

(B) ending on the last day of the debt ceiling crisis period.

(2) SPECIAL RULE RELATING TO OBLIGATIONS ISSUED DURING EXTENSION PERIOD.—Effective on the first day of a debt ceiling crisis period, the limitation in effect under section 310(b) of title 31, United States Code, shall be increased to the extent that—

(A) the face amount of obligations issued under chapter 31 of such title and the face amount of obligations whose principal and interest are guaranteed by the United States Government (except guaranteed obligations held by the Secretary of the Treasury) outstanding on the first day of the debt ceiling crisis period; exceeds

(B) the face amount of such obligations outstanding on the last day of the debt ceiling crisis period.

(3) EXTENSION LIMITED TO NECESSARY OBLIGATIONS.—An obligation shall not be taken into account under paragraph (2)(A) unless the issuance of such obligation was necessary to fund a commitment incurred pursuant to law by the Federal Government that required payment on or before the last day of the applicable debt ceiling crisis period.

(d) REPORTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 30 days after the first day of a debt ceiling crisis period, and every 30 days thereafter until the date that is 30 days after the end of the debt ceiling crisis period, the Director of the Office of Management shall submit to Congress a report evaluating the description of the rescission of discretionary appropriations in the report by the Director of the Office of Management and Budget.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is now 2 minutes of debate, equally divided.

Mr. BRAUN. This should be the easiest vote of the night. This is to take default off the table in future endeavors like this. This simply says that when we get notice that extraordinary measures are going to be incorporated—that happened in January, I believe, of this year—X date is this Monday—that if we do not do a bill that either raises the amount or changes the date, ideally with reforms, that on the X date, after we had 5 to 6 months to do it, we have 1 percent cuts every 30 days to the discretionary spending. It is the No Default Act.

We should not be risking default. This would be simple. It gives us plenty of time and puts a little incentive. If you reach the X date, you’re going to be encouraged to do it sooner. If not, it would happen again in 30 days.

I ask for your support. Let’s not default when we engage this same dynamic in the future.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Washington.

Mrs. MURRAY. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the Senator’s amendment, which would lead to more reckless brinkmanship, more arbitrary cuts by permanently rescinding 1 percent of discretionary appropriations every 30 days during a debt limit crisis. This makes no sense. Rewarding brinkmanship by slashing funding that our families and our communities and our troops depend on is an absolutely dangerous way to govern.

I would encourage the Members on both sides of the aisle to come to the floor to air legitimate grievances about this process and the outcome and this debt limit deal. Nobody likes the position we are in today—nobody. Passing this amendment would prove we have learned nothing.

We do not need to create new opportunities for hostage-taking and cuts that would seriously undermine our economy, our families, our future, and our global leadership. We just need to do our job. Right now, we have to pass this bill to avoid a catastrophic default.

I will be voting no. I urge my colleagues to do the same.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. All time has expired.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on agreeing to the amendment.

Mr. BRAUN. Mr. President, I ask for the yeas and nays.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there a sufficient second?

There appears to be a sufficient second.

The senior assistant legislative clerk called the roll.

Mr. MARSHALL. I am proud to introduce my amendment today and hope that you will vote in support of it.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Illinois.

Mr. DURBIN. Madam President, we had a hearing this week in the Committee on the Judiciary. We had a grower from South Carolina, a guest of Senator GRAHAM. He professes to be the grower from South Carolina, a guest of Senator GRAHAM. He professes to be the second largest peach grower in America. I asked him point-blank: If you had E-Verify on your farm today, what would happen to you and the growers who need workers?

He said: We would be out of business tomorrow.

That’s what your amendment does. It imposes E-Verify on farmers in Kansas and Illinois and all across the United States.

We are not ready for this. You are going to put them out of business.

And, secondly, it strips away all of the protections of unaccompanied children at the border. We do not want kids in cages anymore at the border. Please vote against this amendment.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Alaska is recognized.

Mr. SULLIVAN. Madam President, I call up my amendment No. 125 and ask that it be reported by number.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Alaska (Mr. SULLIVAN) proposes an amendment numbered 125.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To provide adequate funding for defense and increase the rescission of funding for the Internal Revenue Service)

On page 5, line 16, strike “$886,349,000,000” and insert “$894,779,000,000”.

On page 51, line 22, strike “$1,389,525,000” and insert “$74,625,475,000”.

Mr. SULLIVAN. Madam President, the Fiscal Responsibility Act, unfortunately, does not meet the moment in terms of defending our Nation.

The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs and others have said we are now in the most dangerous period of any time since World War II. And yet this bill cuts defense spending in inflation-adjusted terms by approximately 3 percent this year and 5 percent next year. Services Committee and this Chamber below 3 percent of GDP spending for the first time in 25 years.

My amendment does what the Armed Services Committee and this Chamber have done in a broad bipartisan manner over the past 2 years. It significantly pluses up the inadequate defense budget submitted by the President. My amendment fully funds the Biden Pentagon’s unfunded priorities list by

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator’s time has expired.

Mr. SULLIVAN. By $18 billion.
The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senate’s time has expired.

Mr. SULLIVAN. And it raises——

Madam President, I ask unanimous consent for 30 seconds more.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Is there objection?

Mr. SULLIVAN. And for fiscal year 2025, it raises the defense top line by 5 percent to simply keep pace with inflation. These increases are offset by rescinding the additional amounts from the President’s $80 billion plus-up from the IRS.

So, my colleagues, the choice is clear: more Navy ships, soldiers, and marines to protect America or more IRS agents to harass Americans. I urge a ‘yes’ vote on this important amendment.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Oregon is recognized.

Mr. WYDEN. Madam President, I oppose the gentleman’s amendment, and Senate Democrats will keep this Chamber on time.

There are three important reasons to vote against this amendment. First, it would be an even bigger Republican handout to wealthy tax cheats—nearly $200 billion would be an even bigger Republican handout to wealthy tax cheats.

Second, at a time when Congress is supposed to be debating fiscal responsibility, this amendment doubles counts billions and billions of dollars by increasing the deficit with more spending on defense contractors and bigger handouts to wealthy tax cheats.

Finally, this Senate should focus on better service to taxpayers, improved information technology, and ending the free ride once and for all for wealthy tax cheats.

I urge colleagues to oppose the amendment.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Is there objection?

Mr. WYDEN. Madam President, I call up my amendment No. 93, and I ask that it be reported by number.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will report.

The senior assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Missouri [Mr. HAWLEY] proposes an amendment numbered 93.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To require the imposition of additional duties with respect to articles imported from the People’s Republic of China until trade between the United States and the People’s Republic of China comes into balance.)

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. 3. IMPOSITION OF DUTIES TO BALANCE TRADE WITH THE PEOPLE’S REPUBLIC OF CHINA.

(a) CALCULATION OF TRADE WITH THE PEOPLE’S REPUBLIC OF CHINA.—Not later than January 31 of each year, the President shall calculate and publish in the Federal Register, for the preceding calendar year—

(1) the total value of articles imported into the United States from the People’s Republic of China; and

(2) the total value of articles exported from the United States to the People’s Republic of China.

(b) IMPOSITION OF DUTIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—If the total value calculated under paragraph (1) of subsection (a) exceeds the total value calculated under paragraph (2) of that subsection for the preceding calendar year, the President shall impose an additional duty with respect to each article imported into the United States from the People’s Republic of China of 25 percent ad valorem.

(2) ADDITIONAL DUTIES.—A duty imposed under paragraph (1) shall be in addition to any duty previously applicable with respect to an article.

Mr. HAWLEY. Madam President, in these challenging times, we can be sure that the previous order requiring 60 senators to stand to vote will default, and they will be rejoicing.

I urge a ‘yes’ vote.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Ohio.

Mr. BROWN. Madam President, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

I take a back seat to no one when it comes to standing up to China. LINDSEY GRAHAM and I have been fighting to close the trade deficit for decades.

I went to junior high at Johnny Appleseed Junior High in Mansfield, Ohio, with the sons and daughters of machinists and IUE members and steelworkers and auto workers and carpenters and millwrights and plumbers and pipefitters and operating engineers. Ten years later, most of these jobs were gone, and so much of industrial America all over the country has been lost because of bad trade policy with China.

But do you know? The People’s Republic of China would love for us to pass this amendment because, if it passes, the United States of America will default, and they will be rejoicing in Beijing.

Stand up to China. Vote no on this amendment.

AMENDMENT NO. 104
Mr. KENNEDY. Madam President, I call up my amendment No. 104 and ask that it be reported by number.
The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will report the amendment by number.
The legislative clerk read as follows:
The Senator from Louisiana [Mr. KENNEDY] proposes an amendment numbered 104.
The amendment is as follows:
(Purpose: To remove the sunset on modification of work requirement exemptions)

In division C, in section 311, strike subsection (b) and insert the following:

(b) APPLICATION—A State agency shall apply section 606 of the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008 (7 U.S.C. 2015b(h)(3)), as amended by subsection (a), to any application for initial certification or recertification received starting 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator will be notified that there is 6 minutes, equally divided, to this amendment under the previous agreement.
The Senator from Louisiana.
Mr. KENNEDY. Madam President, the American people are the most generous people in the world. In our country, if you are hungry, we will feed you. If you are homeless, we will try to house you. If you are sick, we will pay for your doctor. I am very proud of that, and I am too. However, those who can work should work. Those who can work should work.

A person without a job is not healthy, not happy, and not free. History has demonstrated that the best social program is a job. The best social program is a job. Free enterprise has lifted more people out of poverty than all the social programs put together. So while we should continue to be generous to our neighbors as Americans, we will talk about it and repeat often: Those who can work should work.

My amendment would make the food stamp work requirement permanent in this bill permanent. It would remove the sunset.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Michigan.
Ms. STABENOW. Madam President, first of all, the great news is, we have a robust economy growing, more small businesses opening, the lowest unemployment rate in a generation, and we all want people to be able to work.

Let me speak to the reality of what is in this bill. First of all, we have had work requirements for people who are single adults with no dependents since the 1990s. If you don’t work, if you are not in school, the most you can qualify for is 3 months’ worth of SNAP within 3 years. That is current law—§6 a day is what we are talking about.

This bill extends that out in terms of the age of the number of people required to be in school or at work, with certainly important exemptions for our seniors, for our veterans, and our homeless, and it is in place until 2030. Here is my question: How do you tell your constituents that you are willing to default, create a catastrophic default now that will raise their unemployment, cost us jobs, raise interest rates, and so on, because you want to change something that is going to be in place until 2030? We have plenty of time to revisit it at that point. This is a bipartisan agreement.
I would just suggest it is very irresponsible for us to change something here that we know—the House is gone. We are going to go into default. We will make a change and say it is because we wanted something to be extended beyond 2030. I would suggest we give this a chance, evaluate it.
I would suggest we vote no.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Is there further debate?
Mr. KENNEDY. Yes, Madam President.
The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator has 1 minute 11 seconds remaining.

NOT VOTING—3
Cruson Feinstein Hagerty

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Ms. KLOBUCHAR). On this vote, the yeas are 46, the nays are 51.
Under the previous order requiring 60 votes for the adoption of this amendment, the amendment is not agreed to.
The amendment (No. 104) was rejected.
Mr. COTTON. Madam President, I call upon my amendment No. 106 and ask that it be reported by number.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the amendment by number.

The senior assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Arkansas [Mr. Cotton] proposes an amendment numbered 106.

"The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To provide appropriate adjustments to the discretionary spending limits, in the event of funding under a continuing resolution)

SEC. 102. SPECIAL ADJUSTMENTS FOR FISCAL YEARS 2024 AND 2025.

Section 251 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 is amended at the end of the section by adding at the end the following:

"(d) REVISED DISCRETIONARY SPENDING LIMITS FOR FISCAL YEAR 2024—

"(1) In general.—Subject to paragraph (3), if on or after January 1, 2024, there is in effect an Act making continuing appropriations for part of fiscal year 2024 for any discretionary budget account, the discretionary spending limit specified in subsection (c)(9) for fiscal year 2024 shall be adjusted in the final sequestration report, in accordance with paragraph (2), as follows:

"(A) For the revised nonsecurity category, the amount specified in subsection (c)(9)(A), reduced by one percent.

"(B) For the revised security category, the amount specified in subsection (c)(9)(B), reduced by one percent.

"(2) Final report; sequestration order.—If the conditions specified in paragraph (1) are met during fiscal year 2024, the final sequestration report for such fiscal year pursuant to section 254(f)(1) and any order pursuant to section 254(f)(5) shall be issued on the later of—

"(A) April 30, 2025.

"(B) April 30, 2025.

"(2) REVERSAL.—If, after January 1, 2025, there are enacted into law each of the full year discretionary appropriation Acts, and then the adjustment to the applicable discretionary spending limits in paragraph (1) shall have no force or effect, and the discretionary spending limits for the revised security category and revised nonsecurity category for the applicable fiscal year shall be such limits as in effect on December 31 of the applicable fiscal year.".

Mr. COTTON. Madam President, colleagues, this bill has budget caps for both domestic and defense spending. I don't like the defense number this year. I like it even less next year. That is why I am opposing it.

But it also has a much worse provision. It has a 1 percent automatic reduction that is based on last year's omnibus, not the caps on this bill. Let me restate that: last year's omnibus, not this bill.

So if we go to a continuing resolution on October 1, which we almost always do, domestic spending will go up by $61 billion while defense will go down by $27 billion—not the caps in this bill.

If the sequester of 1 percent kicks in, domestic spending will go up by $61 billion and defense will go down by $37 billion. Progressives will get more welfare for grown men who refuse to work while defense is slashed. Think about the incentives this gives to the Democratic leader when it comes to appropriations bills.

I ask for a simple change in this amendment. The sequester should be based on the caps that you are about to agree to, not last year's spending bill. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Washington.

Mrs. MURRAY. Madam President, I rise in opposition to the Senator's amendment.

Our defense spending is critical, but so are our investments to combat fentanyl; rebuild American manufacturing; make sure our programs are up-to-date; improve access to childcare, early learning, and a lot more. We cannot shortchange our investments in families and our country's future, and the underlying bill will already force painful cuts.

This amendment would make it so the consequences of failing to pass our appropriations bills falls heavily on our nondefense programs, and that will hurt our families across the country. Let me be clear. We will not let that happen.

None of us want to end up in a situation where we have a CR in the first place. That is exactly why I am committed to making sure that we write the strongest 12 funding bills possible and get them passed in a timely way.

This amendment will set us back even further and target the programs that are a lifeline for working people in this country.

I urge my colleagues to vote no.
The President pro tempore. Who seeks recognition?

AMENDMENT NO. 134

Mr. BUDD. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent to call up Senate amendment No. 134 and ask that it be reported by number.

The President pro tempore. The clerk will report the amendment by number.

The President from North Carolina [Mr. BUDD] proposes an amendment numbered 134.

The amendment is as follows:

Strike title I of division B and insert the following:

TITLE I—RESCISSION OF UNOBLIGATED FUNDS

SEC. 201. RESCISSION OF UNOBLIGATED CORONAVIRUS FUNDS.

The unobligated balances of amounts appropriated or otherwise made available by the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (Public Law 117–2), and by each of Public Laws 116–123, 116–127, 116–136, and 116–139 and divisions N of Public Law 116–260, are hereby permanently rescinded, except for—

(1) such amounts that were appropriated or otherwise made available to the Department of Veterans Affairs; and

(2) amounts made available under section 601 of division HH of Public Law 117–328.

Mr. BUDD. Madam President, on March 13 of 2020, the Federal Government declared a national emergency concerning the COVID-19 pandemic. More than 3 years later, on May 11, 2023, that declaration ended. And yet, to this day, billions of COVID dollars throughout the Federal Government remain unspent.

So let’s be clear. Each and every one of those dollars came from a hard-working taxpayer, from a working family's budget. That is why my amendment would rescind an additional $17 billion of unspent COVID money.

If we really want the Fiscal Responsibility Act to live up to its name, the least we can do is to rescind the taxpayer dollars that remain to fight a pandemic that everyone knows is over. Every taxpayer dollar is sacred and should be treated that way.

I yield the floor.

The President pro tempore. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. WYDEN. Madam President, I rise in opposition.

The bipartisan package importantly negotiated between Speaker MCCARTHY and President Biden, in fact, makes specific rescissions to unused COVID funds while protecting important funding for programs that are still necessary to support our community.

This amendment, colleagues, goes beyond the McCarthy-Biden agreement. This amendment would take an ax to nearly all of the funding in the Recovery Act and several other COVID bills, even if the communities are still dependent on planning on using that money.

Blue States or red States, pass this amendment and you risk default. I strongly urge a vote against this amendment.

VOTE ON AMENDMENT NO. 134

The amendment is as follows:

The amendment is simple. It strikes section 265 of title III of division B. Mr. LEE. Madam President, this amendment is necessary to stabilize the economy. The amendment is simple. It strikes section 265 of this bill. Section 265 creates a regulatory pay-go measure, but section 265 nullifies that by giving out, complete discretion to the Director of OMB—who, by the way, just announced the day before yesterday from the White House that she would use this effectively to nullify the regulatory pay-as-you-go measure.

Please support my amendment.

I yield the rest of my time to the Senator from Louisiana.

The President pro tempore. The Senator from Louisiana.

Mr. KENNEDY. Madam President, it is present, and I will be candid.

To my colleagues, I say, not a single one of you is a dummy. Not a single one of your mothers raised a fool, and if she did, it was one of your siblings.

We all know that a pay-go requirement for a regulation that can be waived by the proponent of the regulation is meaningless.

This amendment will provide that the pay-go requirement cannot be waived.

The President pro tempore. The Senator's time is expired.

Mr. PETERS. Madam President, the Lee amendment is an unnecessary roadblock to this bipartisan deal, and it would interfere with the delivery of essential government services in times of need.

If adopted, this amendment would prevent Agencies from exercising their discretion and acting quickly in times of need, such as during a national emergency or natural disaster. The government must be able to provide essential services to the public. And it is important to promote offsets and save taxpayer dollars. We understand that. But we must also ensure that the American people receive the services they need and protect our economy.

That is why we must vote to quickly pass this bipartisan bill. Without amendment to avoid a catastrophic default.

I urge my colleagues to vote no on the Lee amendment.

The amendment (No. 98) was rejected. The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Virginia.

Mr. KAIN. Madam President, I call up my amendment No. 101 and ask that it be reported by number.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will report the amendment by number.

The Senator from Virginia [Mr. KAIN] proposes an amendment numbered 101.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To strike a provision relating to expediting completion of the Mountain Valley Pipeline.

Strike section 324.

Mr. KAIN. I ask unanimous consent that there be 4 minutes equally divided prior to the vote on my amendment, with Senators CAPITO and MANCHIN each controlling 1 minute in opposition.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. KAIN. Madam President, I rise to offer an amendment to strip a single provision out of this bill: the provision green-lighting the Mountain Valley Pipeline.

I offer my amendment for three reasons.

First, this provision that would put Congress’s thumb on a permitting scale is completely unrelated to the debt ceiling and should not be included in this bill.

Second, I object on behalf of Virginia landowners. If you could build a pipeline in midair, that is one thing. But the only way you could build it is to be eminent domain to take people’s land. Virginians don’t want to have their land taken for a pipeline unless there is a thorough process where they have all the rights accorded to them by law, administrative agency, and judicial review. Cutting off those rights is disrespectful to these landowners, who, in this part of the State, sometimes land is all they have, and it has been in their families for generations.

Finally, this bill would strip jurisdiction of a case away from the Fourth Circuit in the middle of the case. That is unprecedented and historic.

I used to try cases all the time in this circuit. I lost them, and I would appeal them. But I wouldn’t try to get Congress to strip jurisdiction away from the court because I was unhappy. No everyday person gets this deal. No criminal defendant gets this deal. No small business gets this deal. Nobody gets this deal, and we shouldn’t give it to some company just because they are powerful and they have influence in Congress.

For these reasons I ask for a ‘‘yes’’ vote on my amendment.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from West Virginia.

Mrs. CAPITO. Madam President, I rise in opposition to the Senator’s amendment. This Mountain Valley Pipeline is an important infrastructure project. It has been vetted numerous times. It has permitting—all permits that are from the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality, the Fish and Wildlife, and the Bureau of Land Management. These are all permits through both administrations—both the Biden and Trump administrations—that have already been offered. They are in a judicial hellhole right now where they can’t get out. This is absolutely essential to the eastern seaboard.

It is jobs and tax revenues in the State of West Virginia, and I think this is an opportunity for us to cut through this red tape and move forward with the very essential infrastructure package.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from West Virginia.

Mr. MANCHIN. Madam President, I also rise in opposition. For eight years—eight years—and three administrations this project has been under review. Eight times NEPA—eight times of NEPA reviews. Three times through every Agency. This has been reviewed more than anything in the United States of America. The people in this eastern part of the country, especially in the Carolinas, are paying sometimes 10 times more for gas because of the shortages during severe weather.

This is critical for the people of this country. If you believe in energy security, you believe in energy independence, and you believe that we should be the superpower of the world, this helps us do that. It puts more product in the market than anything that we have available. This will be up and running in 6 months—6 months. Already, 293 more miles are already built. We only have 20 more miles to go to finish it. It is time to finish this project.

Please vote no on this, an amendment by my friend, who I respectfully disagree with.

AMENDMENT NO. 102

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Louisiana is recognized.

Mr. KENNEDY. Madam President, I call up my amendment No. 102 and ask that it be reported by number.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will report the amendment by number.

The senior assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Louisiana [Mr. KENNEDY] proposes an amendment numbered 102.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To require up-to-date employment data for waivers of work requirements)

In division C, after section 311, insert the following:

Please vote no on this, an amendment by my friend, who I respectfully disagree with.
SEC. 312. WAIVERS.

Section 6(o)(4)(A)(i) of the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008 (7 U.S.C. 2015(o)(4)(A)(i)) is amended by inserting "; as determined by the most up-to-date employment data" before "; or".

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. On this amendment, there is 6 minutes of debate, equally divided.

The Senator from Louisiana is recognized.

Mr. KENNEDY. Madam President, this is the last amendment of the evening. I have 3 minutes. I can read a room, and I can count votes. This amendment would require States to use the most up-to-date employment data for waivers of food stamp work requirements. Thank you.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Michigan.

Ms. STABENOW. Madam President, I will be equally brief. The good news is this is already required by law.

This is a total duplication. States must already provide up-to-date employment data in order to measure if they hit a 10-percent unemployment rate in order to get a State waiver. This amendment would require States not to risk a default of our country on language that is already in the law.

Would my friend accept a voice vote?

Mr. KENNEDY. Madam President.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Louisiana.

Mr. KENNEDY. Madam President, I will accept a voice vote.

VOTE ON AMENDMENT NO. 102

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The question is on agreeing to the amendment.

The amendment (No. 102) was rejected.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Madam President, for 2 years, Democrats had control of the House, the Senate, and the Presidency. They took the reins of power as the Nation began to emerge from a pandemic that had upended our economy and the lives of all Americans.

Up to that point, Republicans and Democrats had worked together to pass multiple rounds of COVID relief with strong bipartisan support. That spirit of cooperation and bipartisanship came to screeching halt when Democrats took total control in January of 2021.

Rather than viewing the pandemic as a challenge that required temporary measures to overcome, Democrats saw it as an opportunity to permanently expand the size and scope of government. That was the exact opposite of what we needed as a nation.

Our public debt as a share of the economy had soared to heights many would have viewed as unthinkable a few years earlier. What was sorely needed was a bipartisan focus on putting our fiscal house in order.

Instead, Democrats rammmed through a nearly $2 trillion partisan spending bill that prominent Democrat economists warned risked sparking inflation. Then, as inflation soared to 40-year highs, Democrats doubled down on their reckless spending with additional legislation and executive actions adding trillions more to our national debt.

Thankfully, the American people had enough. They made their voices heard through the ballot box. Republicans were handed control of the House of Representatives based on a promise of a return to fiscal responsibility. Fortunately, President Biden proved not to be a willing dance partner. He sat idly by for nearly 100 days watching the clock tick down to default despite the urgent need to raise the debt ceiling and begin to put our fiscal house in order.

Speaker McARTHY repeatedly called on the President to negotiate a fiscally responsible and timely debt limit increase. Unfortunately, President Biden proved not to be a willing dance partner. He sat idly by for nearly 100 days watching the clock tick down to default despite the urgent need to raise the debt ceiling and begin to put our fiscal house in order.

Speaker McARTHY thankfully never took no for an answer. He kept pushing and rallied House Republicans to pass a debt limit package to pair back spending excesses of the prior Congress and impose meaningful spending controls moving forward.

House passage of the Limit, Save, Grow Act put a reasonable and fiscally responsible offer on the table that President Biden couldn’t ignore.

The bipartisan negotiations that ensued brought us to where we are today, bipartisan consensus the debt ceiling while imposing meaningful brakes on government spending largess.

As is the case with any bipartisan agreement, neither side got everything they wanted. They arrived at an agreement closer to the House-passed bill. But in a closely divided government, you can’t let the perfect be the enemy of the good.

The Fiscal Responsibility Act is a step in the right direction after years of unchecked Democrat spending. It will impose meaningful caps on discretionary spending that, over the next 2 years, will produce hundreds of billions of dollars in savings.

The agreement also strengthens work requirements in social welfare programs and lays back tens of billions in unspent COVID funds.

On the whole, over the next 10 years, this agreement will produce $1.5 trillion in savings. However, for all these savings to be realized, Republicans in the House and in the Senate will need to stick to their guns and vigorously enforce the spending caps.

As the ranking member of the Senate Budget Committee, I am prepared to do my part to hold the line and expect the House chairman is prepared to do the same.

As I said earlier, this agreement is a step in the right direction. However, we have a long road ahead to put our debt and deficits on a sustainable path.

Even assuming all the savings in this agreement is realized, public debt as a share of our economy will exceed World War II era record levels in a matter of years, and annual interest costs will balloon to over $1 trillion.

We have a moral obligation to the Nation’s youth to leave them a country that is on solid financial ground. Passage of the Fiscal Responsibility Act is a start, but much remains to be done.

Mr. CRAPO. Madam President, the Inflation Reduction Act, IRA, contained a provision for the Internal Revenue Service, IRS, to spend $15 million to renew and maintain a report on an IRS-run and maintained “Direct eFile” tax return system. This was not a bipartisan provision. In fact, not one Republican Senator or Representative supported the IRA, and none had an opportunity to vote on this specific provision.

The report, released on May 16, 2023, was supposed to address the cost of such a system and the safeguards to protect taxpayers, surveys of taxpayer opinions and findings of an “independent third party” on the overall feasibility, approach, schedule, cost, organizational design and IRS capacity to deliver such a Direct eFile tax return system. It fell far short of these requirements and was conducted by the parties who had already expressed a desire for the IRS to make such an undertaking. Beyond these flaws, the report simultaneously announced that the IRS had already built functioning multilingual, mobile friendly tax preparation and filing software. However, the Inflation Reduction Act only authorized the IRS to spend funds on a report, not the building of the prototype system.

The implementation of this provision by the Biden administration has clearly violated Congress’s statutory direction. Worse, the decision by the administration to build and publicly launch such a Direct eFile system by January 2024, all without congressional authority, and using report and IRA funds further violates the IRA and exceeds the IRS’s statutory authority.

The IRS has publicly indicated it began the diversion of report funds to the building of the software as early as December 2022, but the software development using report funds was not disclosed to the public or the Senate until May 16, 2023. This is particularly dis-appointing and completely without justification.

IRS Commissioner Daniel Werfel appeared before the Senate Finance Committee on April 19, 2023. In response to specific questions by both the majority and minority about the report and the IRS’s intentions, he not only failed to disclose the building of the software and the diversion of report funds for this purpose, but also stated that the IRS had not yet decided to act, when the facts strongly suggest that it had. These responses do not build the trust the public needs to receive the IRS with respect to its actions here is essential, including when expenditures were made and if payments were being made in advance of the work being accomplished. Such accountability is a top priority.

With respect to the Direct eFile system, the IRS has provided no evidence it has authority to create such a system, and indeed, the evidence strongly indicates it doesn’t. The IRS will also have to explain how it has not violated case law prohibiting study provisions authorized by Congress from being converted by administrative agencies into implementation decisions, as well as those addressing instances where the IRS has been found to have unilaterally acted beyond its statutory authority.

Make no mistake: Congress has the final say on the ability of the IRS to build or reject eFile programs that puts the IRS—the tax collector and enforcer—in the business of tax preparation. Beyond this clearly being Congress’s prerogative, many policy reasons weigh against the IRS action, including the stable confidence of interest of the IRS being tax return preparer, adviser, collector, enforcer, and, in many cases, adjudicator.

It is particularly poignant in the context of a bill that attempts to rein in excessive Federal spending to address an Agency action that will assuredly result in billions in future, and ongoing, expenses to the Federal fisc.

We must return to regular order and let Congress express itself, rather than be ignored by an Agency intent on overstepping its bounds.

Mr. KELLY. Madam President, the CHIPS for America Act uses innovative funding tools to incentivize private companies to construct, modernize, or expand semiconductor manufacturing facilities in the United States. Properly structured, these incentives can encourage companies to build more facilities, faster, than without Federal support. In order to maximize this opportunity to bring chip manufacturing back to the United States, we can’t allow redundant regulations to delay projects already underway.

The benefit of Federal funding has influenced the pace of investment in the U.S. At the same time, Federal funding doesn’t control the outcome of projects that are currently being constructed. The role of the Department of Commerce under the CHIPS for America Act is to determine whether the project is worth of investing taxpayer dollars.

The enactment of the CHIPS for America Act has greatly accelerated the pace of investment in the U.S., but a Federal grant will not create control over the outcome of project plans that are already being implemented. Notably, Arizona has four new leading-edge semiconductor fabs under construction.

These were announced after the CHIPS for America Act was enacted and with the hope for potential Federal support, but companies aren’t going to walk away from the multi-billion investment they have already made into these ongoing projects.

The challenge is the definition of “major Federal action” included in section 111 of H.R. 3746, the Fiscal Responsibility Act of 2023, will ensure that certain projects that would not otherwise be subject to the National Environmental Policy Act—NEPA—do not in fact trigger NEPA simply by receiving a Federal incentive investment through programs, like the CHIPS for America Act, where the provision of Federal funds does not control the outcome of the project. It is important to note that privately funded semiconductor manufacturing facilities undergo significant environmental reviews.

I am grateful that H.R. 3746 clarifies the scope of NEPA as it applies to this narrow subset of projects where Federal agencies do not control the outcome of a project.

Mr. OSSOFF. Madam President, today the Senate takes up legislation to avert an economically catastrophic U.S. sovereign obligations. The Department of the Treasury has advised the Congress that without passage of this legislation by June 5, the United States will default.

Any modifications to the legislative text under consideration by the Senate will require consideration of the measure by the House, pushing passage of such legislation past Treasury’s June 5 deadline and forcing a default. Our overriding governing responsibility is to avoid default and the massive economic damage it would impose on American families and businesses.

Accordingly, I will oppose all amendments offered to this measure to ensure Senate passage of the measure as passed by the House and to protect families and businesses from economic catastrophe.

Mr. SCHUMER. Madam President, first, I want to thank everybody for cooperating. I think we got the most votes in the least time.

Second, and more importantly, we are about to vote on something so important to the country, and so many of us on both sides of the aisle will know that if we do this, we will not default. That is very, very important. Thank you for your cooperation.

The next vote is Tuesday at 5:30 p.m.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. PADILLA). On this vote, the yeas are 63, the nays are 36.

The 60-vote threshold having been achieved, the bill is passed.

and has provided mental health care services to over 250 Iowa students.

In October 2022, founder Sue Gehling received the Iowa School Mental Health Hero Award. The award honors a practitioner, researcher, educator, or community partner for their defining contribution to school mental health in Iowa. Additionally, Classroom Clinic was chosen as the winner of the Small Business Development Center Iowa's statewide August Small Business of the Month award due to their contributions to the community. Today, Classroom Clinic is striving to reach more students across Iowa to have a more positive impact within these students and families' lives.

Classroom Clinic's commitment to providing mental health services in Iowa is clear. I want to congratulate Sue Gehling, and the entire team at Classroom Clinic for their continued dedication to providing students from rural Iowa with the additional mental health and resources they need. I look forward to seeing their continued growth and success in Iowa.

TRIBUTE TO MABEL HASHISAKA

• Ms. HIRONO. Mr. President, later this month, on June 14, we will welcome Hawaii businesses to our Nation's Capital for the seventh annual Hawaii on the Hill. These businesses will have an opportunity to hear from government leaders, Federal officials, policy experts, and others about the important issues facing small businesses and entrepreneurs in the United States. The businesses will also have an opportunity to showcase their products and share what we have to offer from the Aloha State.

Since the inaugural event in July 2014, Hawaii on the Hill has been very successful. But such success would not be possible without the dedication, commitment, hard work of business owners from our State, who make this event possible every year. We are excited to welcome them back to Washington, DC, for the first time since the pandemic. Recognizing this dedication, I would like to acknowledge one particular business owner who has been with us since the very beginning: Mabel Hashisaka, of Kauai Kookie.

Mabel's story is pretty remarkable. Her family immigrated from Japan to Hawaii in 1905. She was born in Lihue, Kauai, and graduated from Waima High School in 1946. At a time when many girls did not go to college, Mabel began earning a bachelor's degree in psychology and then attended Indiana University, where she graduated with a master's degree in education. She was then a school teacher on Hawaii Island for many years.

In 1965, she decided Kauai needed more "omiyage"—or gifts that visitors could bring back to share with their family and friends—so she started Kauai Kookie. She began by making chocolate macadamia nut shortbread cookies and serving them on the side of plate lunches at the Big Save grocery store that her father owned. The cookies gained popularity, and soon, customers were coming in just for the cookies. Mabel purchased a used stove and opened Hanapepe business for $100 and hired a few employees. Kauai Kookie was born.

More than 50 years later, Kauai Kookie remains a Kauai community staple. During the pandemic, the company, like many others, implemented new strategies with their "Souper Sundays" program and provided "Kookie for Heroes" to first responders on the front line.

Kauai Kookie now bakes over 50,000 cookies and other baked goods each day and also offers salad dressings and marinades. It has two locations on Kauai, the original factory in Hanapepe and the bakery and cafe in Kalaheo. Kauai Kookie products can be found throughout Hawaii, in specialty stores in the continental United States, and overseas. The products are made with some of the finest "Made-in-Hawaii" products like macadamia nuts, Kona coffee, and Kauai Makaweli chocolate. Kauai Kookie originally came in eight island flavors—Kona Coffee Macadamia Chocolate Chip Macadamia, Peanut Butter, Guava Macadamia, Coconut Krispies, Cornflake Crunch, Macadamia Nut Shortbread, and Almond— but have since expanded to many more varieties.

Mabel claims that she is not a baker and that her philosophy has always been to hire someone smarter than her to help with the business. But despite her humble approach, it is clear she has built something truly impressive that has an important place in the community. Today, she still lives on Kauai with her husband Norman and her two daughters Ann and Ruth, who lead the company. So even to this day, her legacy continues.

Mahalo, Mabel, for your contributions to our State as a recognized business leader. You continue to inspire all of us to "just do it."
McKee’s continuously supports local schools and Boy Scouts, Relay for Life, educational programs and field trips, and live nativities every winter. McKee’s partners with the Humane Society and various rest homes and veterans’ facilities to provide “pet therapy” to residents.

Congratulations to the McKees and all of the employees at McKee’s Feed, Garden & Pet Centers for being selected as an Idaho Small Business of the Month for June 2023. You are an outstanding example of what it means to be one of Idaho’s Local Gems. You make the Gem State proud, and I look forward to your continued growth and success.

RECOGNIZING MCKEE’S FEED, GARDEN & PET CENTERS

Mr. RISCH. Mr. President, Idaho small businesses are the backbone of our economy and our communities. These small businesses not only employ friends and neighbors, but they showcase Idaho’s creativity and values. Idaho small businesses provide invaluable goods and services and are an important part of the Gem State. These small businesses deserve to be celebrated for the integral role they play in our communities. I am proud to re-launch Support Local Gems, a statewide initiative, on June 9, to encourage Idahoans to support the small businesses that make the Gem State special. As a member and former chairman of the Senate Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship, I am pleased to honor Perrine Man Press as one of Idaho’s Small Businesses of the Month for June 2023.

Cory and Kenji Paulson started Perrine Man Press out of their home in 2017 and opened a physical storefront on Twin Falls’ Maine Avenue in the fall of 2020. The Paulsons grew up in southern Idaho and have always been inspired by Idaho’s beautiful landscape and way of life, which Kenji hand draws on their product designs. Their signature design, the “Perrine Man” highlights their hometown’s iconic landmark: the Perrine Bridge.

Perrine Man Press’ mission is more than simply selling good tees, but about ensuring every customer knows they are “made for more.” Perrine Man Press is committed to reminding everyone they are incredibly valuable and giving back to great causes.

Congratulations to Cory and Kenji Paulson and all of the employees at Perrine Man Press for being selected as an Idaho Small Business of the Month for June 2023. You are an outstanding example of what it means to be one of Idaho’s Local Gems. You make our great State proud, and I look forward to your continued growth and success.

PETITIONS AND MEMORIALS

The following petitions and memorials were laid before the Senate and were referred or ordered to lie on the table as indicated:

BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Representatives and the Senate of the 56th Legislature of the State of Oklahoma:

That a delegation of commissioners selected as provided in this resolution shall be authorized to attend and participate in a gathering of states proposed by any state legislature for the purposes of developing rules and procedures for an Article V Convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution to require a balanced federal budget, or to impose fiscal restraints on the federal government, to limit the power and jurisdiction of the federal government and to limit the terms of office for federal officials and members of Congress; and

WHEREAS, it appears that two-thirds of the states, including Oklahoma, soon will have approved a convention with an amendment adding to the United States Constitution a requirement that the federal government balance its budget; and

WHEREAS, it has also been proposed by several states, including Oklahoma, that a convention be called for proposing amendments to “impose fiscal restraints on the federal government, limit the power and jurisdiction of the federal government, and limit the terms of office for its officials and for members of Congress;” and

WHEREAS, it is appropriate for the state legislatures to prepare for the Article V Convention and recommend to Congress an initial time and place to hold the convention; and

WHEREAS, a gathering of the states called by a state legislature and consisting of members from states that would be an effective way of considering and recommending solutions to common issues related to an Article V Convention, including planning for and recommending rules and procedures for an Article V Convention, and recommending to Congress the initial date and location of an Article V Convention; and

WHEREAS, a planning convention of the several states convened on September 12, 2017, in Phoenix, Arizona, and was attended by a delegation from Oklahoma as authorized by House Concurrent Resolution No. 107 of the 1st Session of the 56th Oklahoma Legislature (2017). Now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives and the Senate of the 1st Session of the 56th Oklahoma Legislature:

That a delegation of commissioners selected as provided in this resolution shall be authorized to attend and participate in a gathering of states proposed by any state legislature for the purposes of developing rules and procedures for an Article V Convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution to require a balanced federal budget, or to impose fiscal restraints on the federal government, to limit the power and jurisdiction of the federal government and to limit the terms of office for federal officials and members of Congress;
I will vote only for convention rules that provide that each state have one equal vote and that a state or commissioner shall not be allowed to propose an amendment that is irrelevant to the convention’s objects or the purpose of the convocation. I acknowledge that any violation of this oath may result in being recalled by the Legislature of the State of Oklahoma or its authorities.

That an Article V Convention Committee shall be composed of three members, one appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Oklahoma State Senate, and one of whom shall be appointed by agreement of both the Speaker of the Oklahoma House of Representatives and the President Pro Tempore of the Oklahoma State Senate.

That two of the commissioners appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Oklahoma House of Representatives shall be current members of the Oklahoma House of Representatives at the time of appointment, and two of the commissioners appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Oklahoma State Senate shall be current members of the Oklahoma State Senate at the time of appointment.

The third commissioner appointed by the Speaker of the Oklahoma House of Representatives shall be a current or former member of the Oklahoma House of Representatives, and shall be a third commissioner appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Oklahoma State Senate to be a current or former member of the Oklahoma State Senate.

That the commissioners shall be bound by the rules adopted by the gathering of the states or provided for in the proposal for the Article V Convention.

That unless otherwise provided by the Oklahoma Legislature, the commissioners provided for in this resolution shall also serve as commissioners to the Article V Convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution when called and shall be bound by the rules adopted by the members of the Article V Convention.

That if a commissioner is unable to participate in either the state gathering or an Article V Convention to propose amendments to the United States Constitution either permanently or temporarily, the appointing authority or authorities shall select an alternate, who shall be a current or former member of the appointing authority’s legislative body, to serve for the time the commissioner is unable to serve. The alternate shall comply with the same oath, qualifications and procedures as the original commissioner.

That no commissioner or alternate from this state to an Article V Convention shall have the right to vote to allow the deletion of or vote to approve an unauthorized amendment for ratification to the United States Constitution.

That any commissioner or alternate casting a vote to allow consideration or approval of an unauthorized amendment shall be immediately recalled by the appointing authority or authorities and be replaced by an alternate.

That all voting in either a gathering of states or an Article V Convention shall be by state having one vote.

That commissioners and alternates shall take the following oath of office before accepting their appointment:

“I do solemnly swear or affirm that to the best of my abilities I will, as a commissioner (alternate commissioner) to a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution, uphold the Constitution and laws of the United States and the State of Oklahoma.

I will vote only for convention rules that provide that each state have one equal vote and that a state or commissioner shall not be allowed to propose an amendment that is irrelevant to the convention’s objects or the purpose of the convention. I acknowledge that any violation of this oath may result in being recalled by the Legislature of the State of Oklahoma or its authorities.

That an Article V Convention Committee shall be composed of three members, one appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Oklahoma House of Representatives, one appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Oklahoma State Senate and one appointed jointly by the Speaker of the Oklahoma House of Representatives and a member of the Article V Convention Committee may not be a member of the delegation. The duties of the Article V Convention Committee and their appointing authority or authorities include:

1. Monitoring the delegation to determine if it is obeying legislative instructions and obeying convention rules;

2. Advising the delegation on the Legislature’s position on issues before the convention;

3. Disciplining any commissioner who violates the oath of office or instructions or is otherwise guilty of malfeasance or nonfeasance. Disciplinary actions may include recall from the convention, removal as a commissioner or demotion to the office of alternate commissioner;

4. Notifying the convention that a commissioner has been recalled, removed as a commissioner or demoted to the office of alternate commissioner;

5. Replacing any recalled commissioner.

That commissioners shall vote only for Article V Convention rules consistent with the following principles:

1. The convention is convened under the authority reserved to the state legislatures of the several states by Article V of the Constitution of the United States;

2. The only participants at this convention are the several states represented by their respective delegations duly selected in the manner that their respective legislatures have determined;

3. The scope of the convention’s authority is defined by applications adopted by at least two-thirds of the legislatures of the several states, which authority is limited to the subjects specified in the application;

4. The convention has no authority to propose or discuss an amendment on any other subject outside the approved call of the convention by calling states;

5. The convention shall provide for disciplining a commissioner or delegation for exceeding the scope of the convention’s authority by raising subjects for discussion or debate that lie outside the convention’s authority;

6. The convention shall not infringe on the respective legislatures’ authority to instruct, discipline, recall and replace commissioners; and

7. All voting at the convention or in a committee shall be by state with each state having one vote without apportionment or division of votes.

Whereas, Congressman Andy Biggs of Arizona introduced legislation in Congress that would empower states and localities to pass and enforce their own immigration enforcement laws similar to federal immigration laws; and

Whereas, H.R. 974, known as the State Immigration Enforcement Act, would allow states to bypass the current Administration’s open border policies and restore the rule of law.

Wherefore your memorialist, the House of Representatives of the State of Arizona, the Senate concurring, prays:

1. That the United States Congress enact H.R. 974, the State Immigration Enforcement Act, or similar legislation.

That the Secretaries of State of the State of Arizona transmit copies of this Memorial to the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and each Member of Congress from the State of Arizona.

POM–24. A joint resolution adopted by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee urging the United States Congress to enact legislation that will make state child abuse registries public records; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 19

Whereas, in Tennessee, the Department of Children’s Services maintains the official Child Abuse Registry, which includes the names of people who have been substantiated as perpetrators of child abuse or neglect; and

Whereas, the purpose of the Registry is to protect children from those who have been identified as perpetrators of child abuse or neglect; a person’s name is not placed on the Registry until all reviews or hearings have been conducted and the person has waived their right to due process; and

Whereas, the Department of Children’s Services may release the name of a person who is listed on the Registry only to other state agencies or organizations due to the nature of the employment or licensing of the person as statutorily required in certain circumstances; and

Whereas, due to prohibitive federal rules and regulations, the general public does not have access to the Child Abuse Registry; now, therefore,

Be it Resolved by the House of Representatives of the One Hundred Thirteenth General Assembly of the State of Tennessee, The Senate Concurring, that we urge the United States Congress to enact legislation to make state child abuse registries public records; and be it further Resolved, that we certify a copy of this resolution to the Speaker and the Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, the President, and the Secretary of the United States Senate, and each member of the Tennessee Congressional delegation.

POM–25. A resolution adopted by the City Council of Durham, North Carolina, urging the Executive Office of the President to act immediately to designate Temporary Protected Status (TPS) for Guatemalans, and calls on the Department of Homeland Security to grant TPS for Guatemalans currently residing in the United States, a program that provides support to people fleeing uncertainty, natural disasters, and violence. (To the Committee on the Judiciary.

PO-M-26. A resolution adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, California, condemning the passage of “Red-Baiting” House Concurrent Resolution 9, and urging the United States Congress not to engage in, vote for, or otherwise support fearmongering and red-baiting by the federal government; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) supports designating May 17, 2023, as “DIPG Pediatric Brain Cancer Awareness Day”; and

(2) supports efforts—

(A) to better understand diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors; (B) to develop effective treatments for diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors; and (C) to provide comprehensive care for children with diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors and their families; and

(3) encourages all individuals in the United States to become more informed about—

(A) diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma tumors; (B) pediatric brain cancer in general; and (C) challenges relating to research on pediatric cancers and ways to advance that research.

SENATE RESOLUTION 234—EXPRESSING SUPPORT FOR THE DESIGNATION OF MAY 2023 AS MOTORCYCLE SAFETY AWARENESS MONTH

Ms. ERNST (for herself and Mr. PERRIN) submitted the following resolution, which was considered and agreed to:

Whereas, in the United States, motorcycling is a great tradition enjoyed by an estimated 30,000,000 individuals annually, representing approximately 9 percent of the population; whereas motorcycling is a valuable component of transportation mix; whereas motorcycling is fuel-efficient and decrease congestion while having little impact on the transportation infrastructure of the United States; whereas the motorcycling community promotes rider safety education, licensing, and motorcycling awareness; whereas the motorcycling community is committed to decreasing motorcycle crashes through training and safety education, personal responsibility, and increased public awareness of motorcycle fatalities; whereas approximately 87 percent of motorcycles operated on highways are operated in conjunction with other vehicles; whereas motorcyclist fatalities occur more frequently than passenger vehicle motorist fatalities; whereas motorcycle awareness is beneficial to all road users and will help decrease motorcycle crashes; and whereas the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration’s Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month seeks to promote riders to be properly licensed, receive training, and wear personal protective equipment, and to remind all riders and motorists to always share the road: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) supports the designation of Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month; and

(2) recognizes the contribution of motorcycles to the transportation mix; (3) encourages motorcycling awareness by all road users; (4) recognizes that motorcyclists have a right to the road and that all motorists should safely share the roadways; (5) encourages rider safety education, training, and proper gear for safe motorcycle operation; and (6) supports the goals of Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month.

SENATE RESOLUTION 234—DESIGNATING MAY 2023 AS “OLDER AMERICANS MONTH”

Mr. KELLY (for himself, Mr. BRAUN, Mr. CASEY, Mr. SCOTT OF Florida, Mr. VANCE, Mr. RICKETTS, Ms. WARREN, Mr. FETTERMAN, Mr. BLUMENTHAL, and Mr. RUBIO) submitted the following resolution, which was considered and agreed to:

Whereas President John F. Kennedy first designated May as “Senior Citizens Month” in 1963; whereas, in 1963, only approximately 17,759,000 individuals in the United States were 65 years of age or older, approximately 4 percent of the total population of the United States; whereas, during the COVID–19 pandemic—

(1) more than 8,039,000 individuals in the United States who were 65 years of age or older have died due to COVID–19; and

(2) more than 200,000 residents and workers in long-term care facilities, including more than 168,000 in nursing homes, have succumbed to the virus; whereas approximately 11,224 individuals in the United States turn 65 years of age each day; whereas, in 2022, more than 8,543,000 veterans of the Armed Forces were 65 years of age or older; whereas older individuals in the United States rely on Federal programs, such as programs under the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 301 et seq.), including the Medicare program under title XVII of that Act (42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.), and the Medicaid program under title XIX of that Act (42 U.S.C. 1396 et seq.), for financial security and high-quality affordable health care; whereas the Older Americans Act of 1965 (42 U.S.C. 3001 et seq.) provides—

(1) support services to help individuals in the United States who are 60 years of age or older maintain maximum independence in the homes and communities of those individuals; and

(2) funding for programs, including nutrition services, transportation, and care management to assist more than 10,000,000 older individuals in the United States each year; whereas, as local aging network leaders, Area Agencies on Aging are critical partners in the health care continuum; whereas, in 2022, an estimated 6,779,000 individuals in the United States who were 65 years of age or older continued to work as full-time, year-round employees; whereas older individuals in the United States play an important role in society by continuing to contribute their experience, knowledge, wisdom, and accomplishments; whereas older individuals in the United States play vital roles in their communities and remain involved in volunteer work, the arts, cultural activities, and social activities relating to mentorship and civic engagement; whereas more than 140,000 older individuals serve as AmeriCorps Seniors volunteers in the Foster Grandparent, Senior Companion Program, and the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program, helping communities by mentoring and tutoring children, providing independent living support and companionship to other older adults, addressing food insecurity, and more; and whereas a society that recognizes the success of older individuals—their insights, hard work, and contributions—to enhance the access of older individuals to quality and affordable health care will—

(1) encourage the ongoing participation and heightened independence of older individuals; and

(2) ensure the continued safety and well-being of older individuals: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) designates May 2023 as “Older Americans Month”, and

(2) encourages the people of the United States to provide opportunities for older individuals to continue to flourish by—

(A) emphasizing the importance and leadership of older individuals in public recognition of the ongoing achievements of older individuals; (B) presenting opportunities for older individuals to share their wisdom, experience, and skills with younger generations; and (C) recognizing older individuals as valuable assets in strengthening communities across the United States.

SENATE RESOLUTION 235—SUPPORTING THE DESIGNATION OF THE WEEK OF MAY 7, 2023, AS “CHILDREN’S MENTAL HEALTH AWARENESS WEEK” AND MAY 11, 2023, AS “CHILDREN’S MENTAL HEALTH AWARENESS DAY”

Mr. KING (for himself, Mr. CORNYN, and Mr. PADILLA) submitted the following resolution, which was considered and agreed to:

Whereas children in the United States have been documented to have undergone an acute public health crisis of mental and behavioral health for many years, even before the additional challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic; whereas a 2022 study found as many as 1 in 5 children in the United States have a mental, emotional, or behavioral health condition; whereas the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, based on survey data from the Youth Risk Behavior Survey, estimate that, in 2021, more than 4 in 10 (42 percent) high school students felt persistently sad or hopeless, and nearly 1 in 3 (29 percent) experienced poor mental health; whereas, in 2019, according to the Census Bureau, over 11 percent of children aged 3 to

S1902 CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — SENATE June 1, 2023
17 received treatment or counseling from a mental health professional;

Whereas, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, suicide is—

(1) designates June 10 to 14;

(2) the second leading cause of death among individuals aged 10 to 14;

(3) the third leading cause of death among individuals aged 15 to 19;

(4) the tenth leading cause of death for individuals aged 20 to 24.

Whereas there has been a significant increase in demand for mental health services for children, including a more than 30 percent increase in mental health visits to emergency departments for children aged 12 to 17 from 2019 to 2020;

Whereas barriers exist to access to mental health delivery systems, particularly impacting children and adults who have been exposed to adverse childhood experiences; and

Whereas the stigma surrounding mental and behavioral health persists, and acknowledging this public health crisis and creating awareness as early as possible is as important as ever; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) recognizes the importance of connecting children with appropriate mental and behavioral health services and supports;

(2) seeks to create awareness for the additional stressors children and their families have faced during the COVID-19 pandemic due to isolation from family and peers, barriers to services, and exposure to trauma;

(3) supports programs and services aimed at providing access to care, building resilience, and addressing trauma; and

(4) shows appreciation and gratitude for family members, friends, educators, mental and behavioral health service providers, and others in their support for the mental health and well-being of children.

SENATE RESOLUTION 236—HONORING THE 125TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ROUGH RIDERS IN THE SPANISH AMERICAN WAR AND DESIGNATING JUNE 2, 2023, AS “NATIONAL ROUGH RIDER DAY”

Mr. SCOTT of Florida (for himself and Mr. RUBIO) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary:

S. Res. 236

Whereas the brief history of the 1st United States Volunteer Cavalry Regiment (referred to in this preamble as the “Rough Riders”) fighting to defend and protect the United States has made an indelible contribution to the history of the United States;

Whereas the Rough Riders were 1 of 3 volunteer cavalry regiments created by Congress on April 25, 1898, with Leonard Wood named Colonel of the regiment and Theodore Roosevelt named Lieutenant Colonel of the regiment;

Whereas although the volunteer cavalry regiments were initially recruited from the Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, and Oklahoma Territories, the notoriety of the leaders of the Rough Riders inspired recruits from all portions of the United States to go to San Antonio, Texas, to enlist;

Whereas the Rough Riders were given numerous nicknames, with the most prevalent being “Roosevelt’s Rough Riders”;

Whereas the Rough Riders trained in Texas and were ordered to embark on June 8, 1898, with the Army invasion fleet; and

(2) in their eagerness to be part of the invasion fleet, famously commandeered a train to take them to Port Tampa to embark;

Whereas, at Port Tampa, things were in great disarray, and the 5th Corps was highly disorganized;

Whereas, in the confusion of moving the 5th Corps invasion forces on to the Army invasion fleet trains to be—

(1) several 5th Corps regiments were assigned to the same transport vessel, the S.S. Yucatan; and

(2) Lieutenant Colonel Roosevelt got his men aboard the S.S. Yucatan, and realizing that once aboard they would probably not be forced to disembark, the Rough Riders stayed aboard, to the chagrin of the other regiments;

Whereas, the Army invasion fleet sailed on June 14 with the Rough Riders, and the 5th Corps landed at Daiquiri, Cuba on June 22, 1898;

Whereas, on June 24, 1898, the Rough Riders, along with the 10th United States Cavalry Regiment (referred to in this preamble as the “Buffalo Soldiers”)—

(1) led the advance of the 5th Corps; and

(2) met, engaged and celebrated the defeat of Spanish forces at the Battle of Las Guasimas, while sustaining the first casualties of the Cuba campaign;

Whereas, on July 1, 1898, the Rough Riders, under the command of the future President Lieutenant Colonel Roosevelt, led the charge at Kettle Hill and San Juan Hill, serving alongside the Buffalo Soldiers;

Whereas, despite the Rough Riders sustaining considerable losses, the Rough Riders participated in the siege of Santiago de Cuba and were present for the surrender of the enemy forces, which signaled the end of hostilities in Cuba;

Whereas, during the Cuba campaign, the courage and tenacity of the Rough Riders in battle resulted in—

(1) 2 officers and 21 enlisted killed in action; and

(2) 7 officers and 97 enlisted wounded in action;

Whereas Lieutenant Colonel Roosevelt was promoted to Colonel and the Rough Riders proved their worth and lived up to the public they had already received;

Whereas Colonel Roosevelt was nominated for and later received the Medal of Honor for his leadership actions and bravery in leading from the front at Kettle Hill and San Juan Hill;

Whereas, in August 1898, the Rough Riders departed Cuba for Montauk, New York, and were disembarked on September 15, 1898;

Whereas from the formation of the Rough Riders to its disbandment, the Rough Riders suffered a 37 percent casualty rate during the Cuba campaign, the highest of any cavalry or infantry regiment in the service;

Whereas, after their service, numerous members of the Rough Riders went on to serve the United States in various roles, including—

(1) as President of the United States;

(2) as Secretary of the Navy;

(3) as various State Governors;

(4) as Army Generals and Colonels;

(5) as educators; and

(6) in various professions;

Whereas the history and military achievements of the members of the Rough Riders, including their post-service contributions to the United States and their fight to defend the United States and liberate an oppressed people, warrant special expressions of the gratitude by the people of the United States; and

Whereas the decedents and beneficiaries of the achievements of the Rough Riders celebr-be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 3746, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.
SA 121. Mr. GRAHAM (for himself and Mr. SULLIVAN) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 3746, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.
SA 122. Mr. GRAHAM (for himself and Mr. SULLIVAN) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 3746, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.
SA 123. Mr. GRAHAM submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 3746, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.

TITLE III—REGULATIONS FROM THE EXECUTIVE IN NEED OF SCRUTINY
SEC. 261. SHORT TITLE.
This title may be cited as the ‘‘Regulations from the Executive in Need of Scrutiny Act of 2023’’.
SEC. 262. PURPOSE.
The purpose of this title is to increase accountability for and transparency in the Federal regulatory process. Section I of article 1 of chapter 8 of title 5, United States Code, grants all legislative powers to Congress. Over time, Congress has excessively delegated its constitutional charge while failing to ensure accountability and retain accountability for the content of the laws it passes. By requiring a vote in Congress, this title will result in more carefully drafted and improved regulatory process, and a legislative branch that is truly accountable to the American people for the laws imposed upon them.
SEC. 263. CONGRESSIONAL REVIEW OF AGENCY RULEMAKING.

‘‘CHAPTER 8—CONGRESSIONAL REVIEW OF AGENCY RULEMAKING

Sec. 801. Congressional review.
802. Congressional approval procedure for major rules.
803. Congressional disapproval procedure for nonmajor rules.
804. Definition of major rule.
806. Exemption for monetary policy.
807. Effective date of certain rules.
808. Congressional review otherwise provided for in this chapter.

SEC. 801. Congressional review.

(a)(1)(A) Before a rule may take effect, the Federal agency promulgating such rule shall publish in the Federal Register a list of information on which the rule is based, including data, scientific and economic studies, and cost-benefit analyses, and identify how the public can access such information online, and shall submit to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General a report containing—
(i) a copy of the rule;
(ii) a concise general statement relating to the rule;
(iii) a classification of the rule as a major or nonmajor rule, including an explanation of the classification specifically addressing each criteria for a major rule contained within subparagraphs (A) through (C) of section 804(2);
(iv) a list of any other related regulatory actions intended to implement the same statutory provision or regulatory objective as well as the individual and aggregate economic effects of those actions; and
(v) the promulgation date of the rule.
(B) On the date of the submission of the report under subparagraph (A), the Federal agency promulgating the rule shall submit to the Comptroller General and make available to each House of Congress—
(i) a complete copy of the cost-benefit analysis of the rule; and
(ii) an analysis of any analysis of any jobs added or lost, differentiating between public and private sector jobs;
(iii) the agency’s actions pursuant to sections 603, 604, 605, 607, and 609 of this title;
(iv) the agency’s actions pursuant to sections 202, 203, 204, and 205 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995; and
(v) any other relevant information or requirements under any other Act and any relevant Executive order.
(C) Upon receipt of a report submitted under subparagraph (A), each House shall provide copies of the report to the chairman and ranking member of each standing committee or committee with jurisdiction of the rules of the House of Representatives or the Senate to report a bill to amend the provision of law under which the rule is issued.

SEC. 802. Congressional approval procedure for major rules.

(a)(1)(A) Before a rule may take effect for in the rule following enactment of a joint resolution of approval described in section 802, whichever is later.

SEC. 803. Congressional disapproval procedure for nonmajor rules.

(a)(1)(A) A major rule shall not take effect unless the Congress enacts a joint resolution of approval described under section 802.
(b)(2) If a joint resolution described in subsection (a)(1)(A) is not enacted by the end of 70 session days or legislative days, as applicable, beginning on the date on which the report referred to in section 802 is required by Congress, then the rule shall be deemed not to be approved and such rule shall not take effect.

SEC. 804. Definition of major rule.

(1) In this chapter, the term ‘‘major rule’’ means a rule—
(A) promulgated by an Executive agency—
(i) that amends or revokes a regulation that has the force of law; or
(ii) that would impose, modify, or repeal a requirement subject to review under chapter 9, part C, of title 5, United States Code; or
(B) promulgated by a Federal agency—
(i) in the case of the Senate, the 15th session day after the President signs such a rule; or
(ii) in the case of the House of Representatives, the 30th session day after the President signs such a rule.

(a)(1) A challenge to the validity of any major rule is governed by chapter 7 of title 5, United States Code, relating to judicial review.
(b) In applying subsection (a) for purposes of such additional review, a rule described in paragraph (1)(A) may take effect for one 90-calendar-day period if the President makes a determination under paragraph (2) and submits written notice of such determination to the Congress.
(c)(1) Withholding any other proviso in this section shall not be subject to paragraph (3), a major rule may take effect for one 90-calendar-day period if the President makes a determination under paragraph (2) and submits written notice of such determination to the Congress.

SEC. 806. Exemption for monetary policy.

(a) Paragraph (1) applies to a determination made by the President by Executive order that the rule is a monetary policy rule.

SEC. 807. Effective date of certain rules.

(a)(1)(A) A rule—
(i) that is a ‘‘major rule’’ (as defined in section 804(1));
(ii) that is promulgated by an Executive agency;
(iii) that is not promulgated by an Executive agency upon the date the rule was published in the Federal Register;
(iv) that is promulgated pursuant to any statute implementing an international trade agreement; or
(v) that is promulgated pursuant to any statute implementing an international trade agreement shall take effect for in the rule following enactment of a joint resolution of approval described in section 802, whichever is later.

SEC. 808. Congressional review otherwise provided for in this chapter.

(a)(1) In addition to the opportunity for review otherwise provided under this chapter, in the case of any rule for which a report was submitted in accordance with subsection (a)(1)(A) during the period beginning on the date occurring—
(A) in the case of the Senate, 60 session days; or
(B) in the case of the House of Representatives, 60 legislative days.

SEC. 809. Mandates Reform Act of 1995; and
SEC. 810. Unfunded mandates.

(a)(1)(A) A rule may take effect for one 90-calendar-day period if the President makes a determination under paragraph (2) and submits written notice of such determination to the Congress.
(b)(2) If a joint resolution described in subsection (a)(1)(A) is not enacted by the end of 70 session days or legislative days, as applicable, beginning on the date on which the report referred to in section 802 is required by Congress, then the rule shall be deemed not to be approved and such rule shall not take effect.

(c) Withholding any other proviso in this section shall not be subject to paragraph (3), a major rule may take effect for one 90-calendar-day period if the President makes a determination under paragraph (2) and submits written notice of such determination to the Congress.

(d) Paragraph (1) applies to a determination made by the President by Executive order that the rule is a monetary policy rule.
SECTION 802. Congressional approval procedure for major rules

(a)(1) For purposes of this section, the term ‘joint resolution’ means only a joint resolution addressing a report classifying a rule as major pursuant to section 801(a)(1)(A)(iii) that—

(A) bears no preamble;

(B) bears the following title (with blanks filled as appropriate): ‘Approving the rule submitted by __ relating to __’;

(C) includes after its resolving clause only the following (with blanks filled as appropriate): ‘Whereas Congress approves the rule submitted by __ relating to __’; and

(D) is introduced pursuant to paragraph (2).

(2) After a House of Congress receives a report classifying a rule as major pursuant to section 801(a)(1)(A)(iii), the majority leader of that House (or his or her respective designee) shall introduce (by request, if appropriate) a joint resolution described in paragraph (1)—

(A) in the case of the House of Representatives, within 3 legislative days; and

(B) in the case of the Senate, within 3 session days.

(3) A joint resolution described in subsection (a) shall not be subject to amendment at any stage of proceeding.

(b) A joint resolution described in subsection (a) shall be referred in each House of Congress to the committees having jurisdiction over the provision of law under which the rule is issued.

(c)(1) If the Senate, if the committee or committees to which a joint resolution described in subsection (a) has been referred have not reported it at the end of 15 session days after introduction, such committee or committees shall be automatically discharged from further consideration of the resolution and it shall be placed on the calendar. A vote on final passage of the resolution shall be taken on or before the close of the 15th session day after the resolution is reported by the committee or committees to which it was referred, or after such committee or committees have been discharged from further consideration of the resolution.

(d)(1) In the Senate, when the committee or committees to which a joint resolution is referred have reported, or when a committee or committees are discharged (under subsection (c)) from further consideration of a joint resolution described in subsection (a), it is at any time thereafter in order (even though a previous motion to the same effect has been disagreed to) for a motion to proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution, and all points of order against the joint resolution shall be waived. The motion is not subject to amendment, or to a motion to postpone, or to a motion to proceed to the consideration of other business. A motion to reconsider the vote by which the motion is agreed to shall not be in order. If a motion to proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution is agreed to, the joint resolution shall remain the unfinished business of the Senate until disposed of.

(2) If either House has not taken a vote on final passage of the joint resolution by the last day of the period described in section 801(b)(2), such vote shall be taken on that day.

(3) This subsection shall not apply to the House of Representatives if the joint resolution received from the Senate is a revenue measure.

(4) If either House has not taken a vote on final passage of the joint resolution by the last day of the period described in section 801(b)(2), such vote shall be taken on that day.

(5) This section and section 803 are enacted by Congress—

(1) as an exercise of the rulemaking power of the Senate and House of Representatives, and are subject to the provisions of the Constitution relating to the joint resolution (and against consideration of the joint resolution) to the extent that such provisions are not in harmony with the provisions of the Constitution relating to the joint resolution (and against consideration of the joint resolution) to the extent that such provisions are not in harmony with the Constitution relating to the joint resolution and the Senate, the vote on final passage of the joint resolution shall occur.

(2) Appeals from the decisions of the Chair relating to the application of the rules of the Senate to the procedure relating to a joint resolution described in subsection (a) shall be decided without debate.

(c)(1) In the case of the House of Representatives, if any committee to which a joint resolution described in subsection (a) has been referred has not reported it to the House within 15 legislative days after its introduction, such committee shall be discharged from further consideration of the joint resolution, and it shall be placed on the appropriate calendar. A vote on final passage of the joint resolution shall be taken on or before the close of the 15th legislative day after its introduction, such vote shall be taken on that day.

(2) In the Senate, immediately following the conclusion of the debate on a joint resolution described in subsection (a), and a single quorum call at the conclusion of the debate (whether or not in accordance with the rules of the Senate), the vote on final passage of the joint resolution shall occur.

(3) This subsection shall not apply to the House of Representatives if the joint resolution received from the Senate is a revenue measure.

(4) Appeals from the decisions of the Chair relating to the application of the rules of the Senate to the procedure relating to a joint resolution described in subsection (a) shall be decided without debate. The motion is not subject to amendment, or to a motion to postpone, or to a motion to proceed to the consideration of other business. A motion to reconsider the vote by which the motion is agreed to shall not be in order. If a motion to proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution is agreed to, the joint resolution shall remain the unfinished business of the Senate until disposed of.

(d) In the Senate, if the committee to which a joint resolution described in subsection (a) has not reported such joint resolution to the Senate within 15 legislative days after the date of introduction of the joint resolution, such committee may be discharged from further consideration of such joint resolution by a unanimous consent agreement supported by a petition supported in writing by 30 Members of the Senate, and such joint resolution shall be placed on the calendar.

(2) In the Senate, when the committee to which a joint resolution is referred has reported, or when a committee is discharged (under subsection (c)) from further consideration of a joint resolution described in subsection (a), it is at any time thereafter in order (even though a previous motion to the same effect has been disagreed to) for a motion to proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution, and all points of order against the joint resolution (and against consideration of the joint resolution) are waived. The motion is not subject to amendment, or to a motion to postpone, or to a motion to proceed to the consideration of other business. A motion to reconsider the vote by which the motion is agreed to shall not be in order. If a motion to proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution is agreed to, the joint resolution shall remain the unfinished business of the Senate until disposed of.

(3) In the Senate, immediately following the conclusion of the debate on a joint resolution described in subsection (a), and a single quorum call at the conclusion of the debate (whether or not in accordance with the rules of the Senate), the vote on final passage of the joint resolution shall occur.

(4) Appeals from the decisions of the Chair relating to the application of the rules of the Senate to the procedure relating to a joint resolution described in subsection (a) shall be decided without debate. The motion is not subject to amendment, or to a motion to postpone, or to a motion to proceed to the consideration of other business. A motion to reconsider the vote by which the motion is agreed to shall not be in order. If a motion to proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution is agreed to, the joint resolution shall remain the unfinished business of the Senate until disposed of.

(5) This section and section 803 are enacted by Congress—

(1) as an exercise of the rulemaking power of the Senate and House of Representatives, and are subject to the provisions of the Constitution relating to the joint resolution (and against consideration of the joint resolution) to the extent that such provisions are not in harmony with the provisions of the Constitution relating to the joint resolution and the Senate, the vote on final passage of the joint resolution shall occur.

(2) with full recognition of the constitutional right of either House to change the rules (so far as they relate to the procedure of that House) at any time, in the same manner, and to the same extent, and in case of any other rule of that House.

§ 803. Congressional disapproval procedure for nonmajor rules

(a) For purposes of this section, the term ‘joint resolution’ means only a joint resolution introduced in the period beginning on the date on which the report referred to in section 801(a)(1)(A) is received by Congress and ending 60 days thereafter (excluding days either House of Congress is adjourned for more than 3 days during a session of Congress), the matter after the resolving clause of which is as follows: ‘That Congress —’ and which approves the nonmajor rule submitted by the joint resolution described in subsection (a) shall be decided without debate. The blank spaces being appropriately filled in.

(b) A joint resolution described in subsection (a) shall be referred to the committees in each House of Congress with jurisdiction.

(c) In the Senate, the committee to which a joint resolution described in subsection (a) has been referred has not reported it to the Senate within 15 legislative days after its introduction, such committee may be discharged from further consideration of such joint resolution by unanimous consent agreement supported by a petition supported in writing by 30 Members of the Senate, and such joint resolution shall be placed on the calendar.

(d) In the Senate, immediately following the conclusion of the debate on a joint resolution described in subsection (a), and a single quorum call at the conclusion of the debate (whether or not in accordance with the rules of the Senate), the vote on final passage of the joint resolution shall occur.

(2) In the Senate, when the committee to which a joint resolution is referred has reported, or when a committee is discharged (under subsection (c)) from further consideration of a joint resolution described in subsection (a), it is at any time thereafter in order (even though a previous motion to the same effect has been disagreed to) for a motion to proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution, and all points of order against the joint resolution (and against consideration of the joint resolution) are waived. The motion is not subject to amendment, or to a motion to postpone, or to a motion to proceed to the consideration of other business. A motion to reconsider the vote by which the motion is agreed to shall not be in order. If a motion to proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution is agreed to, the joint resolution shall remain the unfinished business of the Senate until disposed of.

(3) In the Senate, immediately following the conclusion of the debate on a joint resolution described in subsection (a), and a single quorum call at the conclusion of the debate (whether or not in accordance with the rules of the Senate), the vote on final passage of the joint resolution shall occur.

(4) Appeals from the decisions of the Chair relating to the application of the rules of the Senate to the procedure relating to a joint resolution described in subsection (a) shall be decided without debate. The motion is not subject to amendment, or to a motion to postpone, or to a motion to proceed to the consideration of other business. A motion to reconsider the vote by which the motion is agreed to shall not be in order. If a motion to proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution is agreed to, the joint resolution shall remain the unfinished business of the Senate until disposed of.
“(1) after the expiration of the 60 session days beginning with the applicable submission or publication date; or

“(2) if the report under section 801(a)(1)(A) was submitted under a joint resolution described in subsection (a) of section 801(d)(1), after the expiration of the 60 session days beginning on the 15th session day after the succeeding session of Congress first convenes.

“(f) If, before the passage by one House of a joint resolution of that House described in subsection (a), that House receives from the other House a joint resolution described in subsection (a), then the following procedures shall apply:

“(1) the joint resolution of the other House shall not be referred to a committee.

“(2) With respect to a joint resolution described in subsection (a) of the House receiving the joint resolution:

“(A) the procedure in that House shall be the same as if no joint resolution had been received from the other House; but

“(B) the vote on final passage shall be on the joint resolution of the other House.

§ 806. Exemption for monetary policy

“Nothing in this chapter shall apply to rules that concern monetary policy proposed by or implemented by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or the Federal Open Market Committee.

§ 807. Effective date of certain rules

“Notwithstanding section 801—

“(1) any rule that establishes, modifies, opens, closes, or conducts a regulatory program for a commercial, recreational, or subsistence activity related to hunting, fishing, or camping; or

“(2) any rule other than a major rule which an agency for good cause finds (and incorporates in the rule) that notice and public procedure thereon are impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest, shall take effect at such time as the Federal agency promulgating the rule determines.''

SEC. 264. BUDGETARY EFFECTS OF RULES SUBJECT TO SECTION 802 OF TITLE 5, UNITED STATES CODE

Section 257(b)(2) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 907(b)(2)) is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

“(E) BUDGETARY EFFECTS OF RULE SUBJECT TO SECTION 802 OF TITLE 5, UNITED STATES CODE.—Any rule subject to the congressional approval procedure set forth in section 802 of title 5, United States Code, affecting budget authority, outlays, or receipts shall be assumed to be effective unless it is not approved in accordance with such section.''

SEC. 265. GOVERNMENT ACCOUNTABILITY OFFICE STUDY OF RULES.

(a) In general.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct a study to determine, as of the date of the enactment of this Act—

(1) how many rules (as such term is defined in section 804 of title 5, United States Code) were in effect; and

(2) the total estimated economic cost imposed by all such rules.

(b) Report.—Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General of the United States shall submit a report to Congress that contains the findings of the study conducted under subsection (a).

SEC. 100. Mr. Lee submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 3746, to provide for a responsible increase to the debt ceiling; as follows:

(a) Suspension.—Section 3101(b) of title 31, United States Code, shall not apply during the period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act and ending on the applicable date.

(b) DOLLAR LIMITATION ON SUSPENSION.—Subsection (a) shall not apply to the extent that the application of such subsection would result in the face amount of obligations subject to limitation under section 3101(b) of title 31, United States Code, exceeding the sum of—

(1) the dollar limitation in effect under such section on the date of enactment of this Act; and

(2) $1,500,000,000,000.

(c) APPLICABLE DATE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘applicable date’ means the earlier of—

(1) March 31, 2024; or

(2) the first date on which subsection (a) does not apply by reason of subsection (b).

(d) SPECIAL RULE RELATING TO OBLIGATIONS ISSUED DURING SUSPENSION PERIOD.—Effective on the date after the applicable date, the limitation in effect under section 3101(b) of title 31, United States Code, is increased to the extent that—

(1) the face amount of obligations issued under chapter 31 of such title and the face amount of obligations whose principal and interest are guaranteed by the United States Government (except guaranteed obligations held by the Secretary of the Treasury) outstanding on the day after the applicable date; and

(2) the face amount of such obligations outstanding on the date of enactment of this Act.

(e) Extension Limited to Necessary Obligations.—An obligation shall not be taken into account under subsection (d) unless the issuance of such obligation was necessary to fund a commitment incurred by the Federal Government that required payment on or before the applicable date.

(bb) the only countries through which the alien transited en route to the United States were, at the time of the transit, not parties to the 1951 United Nations Convention relating to the Status of Refugees, the 1967 Protocol Relating to the Status of Refugees, or the United Nations Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment.

SEC. 532. CREDIBLE FEAR INTERVIEWS.

Section 235b(1)(B)(v) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1225b(1)(B)(v)) is amended to read as follows:

(1)(B) IN GENERAL.—Paragraph (1) shall not apply to an alien who:

(I) any act or threatened act of violence, including any forcible threat or threats to result in physical or mental injury;

(II) psychological or sexual abuse or exploitation, including rape, molestation, incest, or forced prostitution, shall be considered acts of violence; and

(III) other abusive acts, including acts that, in and of themselves, may not initially appear violent, but that are a part of an overall pattern of violence.

(II) FELONY.—The term ‘felony’ means—

(A) any crime defined as a felony by the relevant jurisdiction (Federal, State, tribal, or local) of conviction; or

(B) any crime punishable by more than one year of imprisonment.

(III) MISDEMEANOR.—The term ‘misdemeanor’ means—

(A) any crime defined as a misdemeanor by the relevant jurisdiction (Federal, State, tribal, or local) of conviction; or

(B) any crime punishable by more than one year of imprisonment.

(IV) IMMIGRATION LAW.—Paragraph (1) shall not apply to an alien if the Secretary of Homeland Security or the Attorney General determines that

(i) the alien claimed, instigated, assisted, or otherwise participated in the persecution of any person on account of race, nationality, membership in a particular social group, or political opinion;

(ii) the alien has been convicted of any felony under Federal, State, tribal, or local law;

(iii) the alien has been convicted of any misdemeanor offense under Federal, State, tribal, or local law involving—

(1) the unlawful possession or use of an identification document, false identification feature, or false identification document (as those terms and phrases are defined in the jurisdiction where the conviction occurred), or the alien can establish that the conviction resulted from circumstances showing that

(aa) the document or feature was prepared for boarding a common carrier;

(bb) the document or feature related to the alien’s eligibility to enter the United States;

(cc) the alien used the document or feature to depart a country wherein the alien has claimed a fear of persecution; and

(dd) the alien claimed a fear of persecution without delay upon presenting himself or herself to an immigration officer upon arrival at a United States port of entry;

(2) the unlawful receipt of a Federal public benefit (as defined in section 401(c) of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (8 U.S.C. 1611(c)), from a Federal entity, or the unlawful receipt of similar public benefits from a State, tribal, or local entity; or

(III) possession or trafficking of a controlled substance or controlled substance paraphernalia that is defined under the law of the jurisdiction where the conviction occurred, other than a single offense involving possession for one’s own use of marijuana or less than 30 grams of marijuana (as marijuana is defined under the law of the jurisdiction where the conviction occurred);
"(iv) the alien has been convicted of an offense arising under section 274(a)(1)(A), 274(a)(2), or 276;

"(v) the alien has been convicted of a Federal, State, or local domestic or family violence crime that the Attorney General or Secretary of Homeland Security knows, or has reason to believe, was committed in support, promotion, or furtherance of the activity of a criminal street gang (as defined under the law of the jurisdiction where the conviction occurred or in section 521(a) of title 18, United States Code);

"(vi) the alien has been convicted of an offense for driving while intoxicated or impaired, as such terms are defined under the law of the jurisdiction where the conviction occurred (including a conviction for driving while under the influence of or impaired by alcohol or drugs), without regard to whether the conviction is classified as a misdemeanor or felony under Federal, State, tribal, or local law, in which such intoxicated or impaired driving was a cause of serious bodily injury or death of another person;

"(vii) the alien has been convicted of more than 1 offense for driving while intoxicated or impaired, as those terms are defined under the law of the jurisdiction where the conviction occurred; or

"(viii) the alien has been convicted of a crime that involves conduct amounting to a crime of domestic violence, as described in section 921(a)(33) of title 18, United States Code; or

"(cc) any crime based on conduct in which the alien has been convicted by, or who has cohabitated with, who has cohabitated with, the alien as a spouse; or

"(DD) with whom the alien shares a child;

"(EE) who is protected from that alien's acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the United States or of any State, tribal government, or unit of local government;

"(I) that involves conduct amounting to a crime of stalking;

"(II) that involves conduct amounting to a crime of abuse, child neglect, or child abandonment;

"(AA) who is a current or former spouse of the alien;

"(BB) with whom the alien shares a child;

"(CC) who is sharing a child with, or who has cohabitated with, the alien as a spouse;

"(DD) who is similarly situated to a spouse of the alien under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction where the offense occurred;

"(EE) who is protected from that alien's acts under the domestic or family violence laws; or

"(FF) is similarly situated to a spouse of the alien under the domestic or family violence laws of the United States or of any State, tribal government, or unit of local government;

"(G) CRIMES AND EXCEPTIONS.—(I) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this subparagraph (B)(ii), the Attorney General or Secretary of Homeland Security may determine that an alien previously convicted under section 237(a)(1)(A) was not convicted of a particularly serious crime based on—

"(aa) the nature of the conviction;

"(bb) the type of sentence imposed;

"(cc) the circumstances and underlying facts of the conviction.

"(II) TREATMENT OF FELONIES.—In making a determination under subparagraph (I), the Attorney General or Secretary of Homeland Security may consider all relevant information and are not limited to facts found by the criminal court or provided in the underlying record of conviction.

"(III) EXCEPTIONS FOR VICTIMS OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE.—An alien who was convicted of an offense described in clause (vii) or (ix) of section 237(a)(1)(A) is not eligible for asylum on that basis if the alien satisfies the criteria under section 237(a)(7)(A).
effect under this paragraph, but may consider such additional information as the immigration judge determines appropriate.

"(F) ADDITIONAL LIMITATIONS.—The Secretary of Homeland Security or the Attorney General may by regulation establish additional limitations and conditions, consistent with this section, under which an alien shall be ineligible for asylum under paragraph (A).

"(G) NO JUDICIAL REVIEW.—There shall be no judicial review of a determination of the Secretary of Homeland Security or the Attorney General under subparagraph (B)(xii)."

SEC. 535. EMPLOYMENT AUTHORIZATION.

Section 208 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1158(d)(2)) is amended to read as follows:

"(2) EMPLOYMENT AUTHORIZATION.—

"(A) AUTHORIZATION PERMITTED.—An applicant for asylum is not entitled to employment authorization, but such authorization may be provided under regulation by the Secretary of Homeland Security. An applicant who is not otherwise eligible for employment authorization shall not be granted such authorization before the date that is 180 days after the date on which the alien filed an application for asylum.

"(B) TERMINATION.—Each employment authorization granted pursuant to subparagraph (A), and extension or re-authorization of such authorization, shall be valid until the earlier of—

"(i) the date that is 6 months after such authorization, renewal, or extension;

"(ii) the date on which the asylum application is denied by an asylum officer, unless the case is referred to an immigration judge;

"(iii) the date that is 30 days after the date on which an immigration judge denies an asylum application, unless the alien timely appeals to the Board of Immigration Appeals; or

"(iv) the date on which the Board of Immigration Appeals denies an appeal of a denial of an asylum application.

"(C) RENEWAL.—The Secretary of Homeland Security may not grant, renew, or extend employment authorization to an alien if the alien was previously granted employment authorization under subparagraph (A), and the employment authorization was terminated pursuant to a circumstance described in clause (ii), or (iv) of subparagraph (B) unless a federal court of appeals remands the alien’s case to the Board of Immigration Appeals.

"(D) INELIGIBILITY.—The Secretary of Homeland Security may not grant employment authorization to an alien under this paragraph any alien who—

"(i) is ineligible for asylum under subsection (b)(2)(A); or

"(ii) entered or attempted to enter the United States at a place and time other than lawfully through a United States port of entry.

SEC. 536. ASYLUM FEES.

Section 208(a)(6) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1158(d)(3)) is amended to read as follows:

"(3) FEES.—

"(i) means the infliction of a serious threat of harm; and

"(ii) includes threats with no actual effort to carry out the threats, except that particularized threats of severe harm of an immediate and particularized nature that the United States is able or willing to control; and

"(C) DEFINITIONS.—In this subsection:

"(i) the term ‘country’ means a country, and includes a national part thereof.

"(ii) the term ‘country’ includes a national part thereof. A ‘country’ also includes a national part thereof. In making such a determination, the Attorney General or the Secretary of Homeland Security shall consider, if applicable, an alien’s use of fraudulent documents to enter the United States, unless the alien arrived in the United States by sea, air, or land directly from the country of the alien’s home country without transiting through any other country.

"(B) FAVORABLE EXERCISE OF DISCRETION NOT PERMITTED.—Except as provided in subparagraph (C), the Attorney General or the Secretary of Homeland Security may not favorably exercise discretion under this section for any alien who—

"(i) has accrued more than 1 year of unlawful presence in the United States (as defined in clauses (i) and (ii) of section 212(a)(9)(B)), before filing an application for asylum;

"(ii) at the time the asylum application is filed with the immigration court or is referred from the Department of Homeland Security;

"(A) has failed to timely file (or timely file a request for an extension of time to file) any required Federal, State, or local income tax return;

"(ii) has failed to satisfy any outstanding Federal, State, or local tax obligations; or

"(iii) earned income that would result in tax liability under section 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and that was not reported to the Internal Revenue Service;

"(B) is the beneficiary of a recruitment effort by criminal, terrorist, or persecutory organizations;

"(C) INTERPERSONAL DISPUTES.—The term ‘political opinion’ shall be construed to include any factor related to political opinion with respect to which the alien is subject to persecution or has a well-founded fear of persecution based on—

"(i) the alien’s membership in a group defined with particularity,

"(ii) past or present criminal activity or association (including gang membership);

"(iii) past or present persecutory activity or association;

"(iv) has withdrawn a prior asylum application with the Department of Homeland Security or the Attorney General;

"(ii) private criminal acts of which government officials acting outside the scope of their official capacity.

"(4) DISCRETIONARY DETERMINATION.—

"(A) ADVERSE DISCRETIONARY FACTORS.—The Secretary of Homeland Security or the Attorney General may not determine that an alien holds a political opinion with respect to which the alien is subject to persecution if the political opinion is constituted solely by generalization or by any other group or organization and does not include expressive behavior in furtherance of a cause against such organizations related to such factors that the alien is subject to persecution.

"(B) CONDUCT OF ROGUE FOREIGN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS.—

"(1) POLITICAL OPINION.—The term ‘political opinion’ shall be construed to include any factor related to political opinion with respect to which the alien is subject to persecution or has a well-founded fear of persecution based on—

"(i) the alien’s membership in a group defined with particularity,

"(ii) past or present criminal activity or association (including gang membership);

"(iii) past or present persecutory activity or association;

"(ii) past or present persecutory activity or association.

"(B) CONDUCT OF ROGUE FOREIGN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS.—

"(1) POLITICAL OPINION.—The term ‘political opinion’ shall be construed to include any factor related to political opinion with respect to which the alien is subject to persecution or has a well-founded fear of persecution based on—

"(i) the alien’s membership in a group defined with particularity,

"(ii) past or present criminal activity or association (including gang membership);

"(iii) past or present persecutory activity or association;

"(ii) past or present persecutory activity or association.
alien shows by a preponderance of the evidence that—"(i) exceptional circumstances prevented the alien from attending the interview; or

"(ii) the interview was otherwise prohibited pursuant to the last address provided by the alien or the alien's representative and neither the alien nor the alien's representative received notice of the interview or

"(vi) was subject to a final order of removal, deportation, or exclusion and did not file a motion to reopen to seek asylum based on changed country conditions within one year of the change in country conditions.

"(C) EXCEPTIONS.—Notwithstanding paragraph (B), if there are 1 or more of the adversitementary factors described in such subparagraph (B), the Attorney General or the Secretary of Homeland Security, may favorably exercise discretion under section 208.

"(1) in extraordinary circumstances, such as those involving national security or foreign policy considerations; or

"(ii) when the alien, by clear and convincing evidence, demonstrates that the denial of the application for asylum would result in exceptional and extremely unusual hardship to the alien.

"(6) LIMITATION.—

"(A) In General.—If the Secretary of Homeland Security or the Attorney General determines that a claim fails to satisfy the requirement under paragraph (2), the alien may not—

"(i) be granted asylum based on membership in a particular social group;

"(ii) appeal the determination of the Secretary or the Attorney General, as applicable;

"(B) NO BASIS FOR MOTION TO REOPEN OR RECONSIDER.—A determination under this paragraph shall not serve as the basis for any motion to reopen or reconsider an application for asylum, withholding of removal, or nonadmission for any reason, including a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel, unless the alien—

"(i) complies with the procedural requirements for such a motion; and

"(ii) demonstrates that counsel's failure to define, or provide a basis for defining, a formulation of a particular social group was not a strategic choice and constituted egregious conduct.

"(7) STEREOTYPES.—Evidence offered in support of an application for asylum that promotes cultural stereotypes about a country, its inhabitants, or an alleged persecutor, including stereotypes based on race, religion, nationality, or gender, shall not be admissible as evidence, for purposes of withholding of removal, for any reason, including a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel, unless the alien—

"(i) complies with the procedural requirements for such a motion; and

"(ii) demonstrates that counsel's failure to define, or provide a basis for defining, a formulation of a particular social group was not a strategic choice and constituted egregious conduct.

"SEC. 538. FIRM RESETTLEMENT.

(5) South Texas Family Residential Center.

(d) EXCEPTION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3), the Secretary of Homeland Security may obtain equivalent capacity for detention facilities at locations other than those listed in subsection (c).

(2) LIMITATION.—The Secretary may not take any action under paragraph (1) unless the capacity obtained would result in a reduction of time and cost relative to the cost and time otherwise required to obtain such capacity.

(3) SOUTH TEXAS FAMILY RESIDENTIAL CEN-

TER.—The exception under paragraph (1) and memoranda of understanding between the United States, Mexico, Honduras, El Salvador, Guatemala, and other countries in the Western Hemisphere;

(A) to enhance the cooperation and burden sharing required for effective regional immigration enforcement; and
(B) to expedite legal claims by aliens for asylum-seeking, detention, and repatriation of foreign nationals seeking to enter the United States unlawfully.

(2) ELEMENTS.—Agreements negotiated pursuant to paragraph (1) shall—

(A) be designed to facilitate a regional approach to immigration enforcement;
(B) provide that the Government of Mexico—

(i) authorize and accept the rapid entrance into Mexico of nationals of other countries other than Mexico who seek asylum in Mexico; and
(ii) process the asylum claims of such nationals inside Mexico, in accordance with domestic law and international treaties and conventions governing the processing of asylum claims;
(C) provide that the Government of Mexico authorize and accept—

(i) the rapid entrance into Mexico of all nationals inside Mexico for whom there exists evidence that such nationals are ineligible for asylum in Mexico and wish to apply for asylum in the United States, whether or not at a port of entry; and
(ii) the presence of such nationals in Mexico while they wait for the adjudication of their asylum claims to conclude in the United States;
(D) provide that the Government of Mexico commit to provide the individuals described in subparagraphs (B) and (C) with appropriate humanitarian protections;
(E) provide that the Government of Honduras, the Government of El Salvador, and the Government of Guatemala—

(i) authorize and accept the entrance into their respective countries of nationals of other countries seeking asylum in the applicable country; and

(1) entering into agreements, accords, and memoranda of understanding with foreign countries; and
(2) using United States foreign assistance to stem the root causes of migration in the Western Hemisphere.

(c) TERMINATION OF MANDATORY BRIEFING.—The date described in this subsection is the date on which the Secretary of State, in consultation with the heads of other relevant Federal departments and agencies, determines and certifies to the appropriate congressional committees that illegal immigration flows have subsided to a manageable rate.
stating that, "If Henry Ford had seen this in his plant, he would have never become famous and rich. This is not the way you do an assembly line."
(11) Department of Health and Human Services employees working under Secretary
Xavier Becerra’s leadership penned a July 2021 memorandum expressing serious concern that "labor trafficking was increasing" and that the agency had become "one that rewards individuals for making quick releases, and not one that rewards individuals for preventing such trafficking."
(12) Despite these concerns, Secretary Xavier Becerra pressured Director of the Office of Refugee Resettlement Cindy Huang to prioritize releases of unaccompanied alien children over ensuring their safety, telling her "if she could not increase the number of discharges she would find someone who could" and Director Huang resigned one month later.
(13) In June 2014, the Obama Administration issued new guidelines to allow judges to exercise discretion in returning and removing unaccompanied alien children from noncontiguous countries back to their home countries.
(b) SUBTITLE.—The purpose of this title is to end the disparate policies of the William Wilberforce Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2008 by ensuring the swift return of all unaccompanied alien children to their country of origin—
(1) are not victims of trafficking; and
(2) do not have a fear of returning to their country of origin.
SEC. 567. REPATRIATION OF UNACCOMPANIED complying with the period of stay authorized until, with respect to procedures or practices specified in section 462(g)(2) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (6 U.S.C. 279(g)(2))—

(1) the screening of such a child for a credible fear of return to his or her country of origin;
(2) the screening of such a child to determine whether he or she was a victim of trafficking; or
(3) Department of Health and Human Services policy in effect on the date of the enactment of this Act requiring a home study for such a child if he or she is younger than 12 years of age.
TITLE VII—VISA OVERSTAYS PENALTIES
SEC. 571. EXPANDED PENALTIES FOR ILLEGAL
ENTRY OR PRESENCE.
Section 257 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1325) is amended—
(1) in subsection (a), by inserting "or if the alien was previously convicted of an offense under section 242(f)(1) (as such term is defined in section 462(g)(2) of the Homeland
Security Act of 2002 (6 U.S.C. 279(g)(2))—
(1) the screening of such a child for a credible fear of return to his or her country of origin;"
(2) in subsection (b)—
(A) in paragraph (1), by striking "at least $50 and not more than $250" and inserting
"not less than $500 and not more than $1,000;" and

section (e)(2)(B)" after "(a)(2)(A)" after "for a subsequent conviction of any such offense;"
(3) in subsection (c)—
(i) by striking "(V) the immigration status of such individual," and inserting "(V) the immigration status of such individual, if knowing;
(ii) by striking "(VI) contact information for such individual," and inserting "(VI) contact information for such individual," and (iii) by striking "(III) a foreign national who has been subject to a criminal conviction, or is convicted of an offense under subsection (a), be fined under such title 18, imprisoned not more than 2 years, or both; and
(B) in addition to any penalty under subsection (A) and any other criminal or civil penalties that may be imposed for such a violation, shall be subject to a civil penalty of—
(1) not less than $500 and not more than $1,000 for each such violation; or
(2) twice the amount specified in clause
(1) if the alien was previously subject to a civil penalty under this subparagraph or sub-paragraph (b).
TITILE VIII—IMMIGRATION PAROLE REFORM
SEC. 575. IMMIGRATION PAROLE REFORM.
Section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1182(d)(5)) is amended to read as follows:
"(a)(A) Subject to subparagraphs (B) through (H) and section 214(f), the Secretary of Homeland Security, in the discretion of the Secretary, if the Secretary determines that the alien is not likely to depart from the United States any alien applying for admission to the United States who is not present in the United States, under such conditions as the Secretary may prescribe, on a case-by-case basis, and not according to eligibility criteria describing an entire class of potential parolees. The alien shall immediately return or be returned to the custody from which the alien was paroled. After such return, the case of the alien shall be dealt with in the same manner as the case of any other applicant for admission to the United States.

(C) The Secretary of Homeland Security may grant parole to any alien who—

(1) is present in the United States without lawful immigration status;

(2) is a national of the Republic of Cuba and is living in the Republic of Cuba;

(3) who is the beneficiary of an approved petition under section 203(a);

(4) who is residing; or

(5) is residing in the foreign state in which the alien establishes that the alien—

(a) has a medical emergency; and

(b) the medical emergency is life-threatening and there is insufficient time for the alien to be admitted to the United States through the normal visa process;

(vi) who is the spouse or child of a member of the Armed Forces serving on active duty.

(D) The Secretary of Homeland Security may grant parole to any alien—

(1) who is a national of the Republic of Cuba and is living in the Republic of Cuba;

(2) who is the beneficiary of an approved petition under section 203(a);

(3) who is residing; or

(4) who is residing in the foreign state in which the alien establishes that the alien—

(a) has a medical emergency; and

(b) the medical emergency is life-threatening and there is insufficient time for the alien to be admitted to the United States through the normal visa process;

(vi) who is the spouse or child of a member of the Armed Forces serving on active duty.

(E) The Secretary of Homeland Security may grant parole to any alien—

(1) who is a national of the Republic of Cuba and is living in the Republic of Cuba;

(2) who is the beneficiary of an approved petition under section 203(a);

(3) who is residing; or

(4) who is residing in the foreign state in which the alien establishes that the alien—

(a) has a medical emergency; and

(b) the medical emergency is life-threatening and there is insufficient time for the alien to be admitted to the United States through the normal visa process;

(vi) who is the spouse or child of a member of the Armed Forces serving on active duty.

(F) In determining an alien's eligibility for parole under subparagraph (A), the term 'case-by-case basis' means that the facts in each individual case are considered and parole is not granted based on membership in a defined class of aliens to be granted parole. The fact that aliens are considered for or granted parole one-by-one and not as a group is not sufficient to establish that the parole decision is a case-by-case decision.

(G) The Secretary of Homeland Security may grant parole to an alien who is returned to a contiguous country pursuant to section 212(d)(3)(H) to allow the alien to attend the alien’s immigration hearing. The grant of parole shall not exceed the time required for the alien to be escorted to, and attend, the alien’s immigration hearing scheduled on the same day as the grant, and to immediately thereafter be escorted back to the contiguous country. A grant of parole under this subparagraph is not considered for purposes of determining whether the alien is inadmissible under this Act.

(H) The Secretary of Homeland Security may not use the parole authority under this paragraph to parole an alien into the United States for any reason or purpose other than those described in subparagraphs (C), (D), (E), (F), and (H).

(I) An alien granted parole may not accept employment, except that an alien granted parole under subparagraph (C) or (D) is authorized to accept employment for the duration of the parole, as evidenced by an employment authorization document issued by the Secretary of Homeland Security.

(J) Parole granted after a departure from the United States shall not be regarded as an admission of the alien. An alien granted parole, whether as an initial grant of parole or parole upon reentry into the United States, is not eligible to adjust status to lawful permanent residence for transfer by the immigration status the alien had at the time of departure did not authorize the alien to adjust status or to be eligible for such benefit.

(k) Except as provided in clauses (i) and (ii), parole shall be granted to an alien under this paragraph for the shorter of—

(1) a period of sufficient length to accomplish the activity described in subparagraph (E), (F), or (H) for which the alien was granted parole;

(2) 1 year.

(1) Grants of parole pursuant to subparagraph (A), (B), or (E) that are in effect on the date of enactment of this Act shall be terminated immediately upon the denial of such parole application. The Secretary of Homeland Security shall submit to the Committee on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives and make available to the public, a report identifying the number of aliens paroled into the United States under this paragraph during the previous fiscal year.

(iii) Aliens who have a pending application to adjust status to permanent residence under section 245 may request extensions of parole under this paragraph, in 1-year increments, until the alien is eligible to apply for adjustment of status. Such parole shall terminate immediately upon the denial of such adjustment application. The Secretary of Homeland Security shall submit to the Committee on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives and make available to the public, a report identifying the number of aliens paroled into the United States under this paragraph during the previous fiscal year.

(ii) containing information and data regarding all aliens paroled during such fiscal year, including—

(1) the duration of parole;

(2) the type of parole and

(iii) the current status of the aliens so paroled.

SEC. 577. IMPLEMENTATION.

(a) In General.—Except as provided in subsection (b), this title and the amendments made by this title shall take effect on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(b) EXCEPTIONS.—Notwithstanding subsection (a),—

(1) any application for parole or advance parole filed by an alien before the date of the enactment of this Act shall be adjudicated under the law that was in effect on the date on which the application was properly filed;

(2) any approved advance parole shall remain valid under the law that was in effect on the date on which the advance parole was approved;

(3) section 212(d)(5)(A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as added by section 576, shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act; and

(4) aliens who were paroled into the United States pursuant to section 212(d)(5)(A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1182(d)(5)(A)) before January 1, 2022, shall continue to be subject to the terms of parole that were in effect on the date on which their respective parole was approved.

SEC. 578. CAUSE OF ACTION.

Any person, State, or local government that experiences financial harm in excess of $1,000 due to a failure of the Federal Government to lawfully apply the provisions of this title or the amendments made by this title shall have standing to bring a civil action in an appropriate district court of the United States for appropriate relief.

SEC. 579. SEVERABILITY.

If any provision of this title or any amendment by this title, or the application of such provision or amendment to any person or circumstance, is held to be unconstitutional, the remainder of this title and the amendments made by this title shall have standing to bring a civil action in an appropriate district court of the United States for appropriate relief.

TITLE IX—LEGAL WORKFORCE

SEC. 581. EMPLOYMENT ELIGIBILITY VERIFICATION PROCESS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 274A(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1324a(b)) is amended to read as follows:

(b) EMPLOYMENT ELIGIBILITY VERIFICATION PROCESS.—

(1) HIRING, RECRUITMENT, AND REFERRAL.—The requirements referred to in paragraph (1)(B) and (3) of subsection (a), with respect to a person or other entity hiring, recruiting, or referring for employment in the United States, are the following:
“(A) ATTESTATION AFTER EXAMINATION OF DOCUMENTATION.—

“(i) ATTESTATION.—During the verification period, the person or entity shall attest, under penalty of perjury and on a form, including electronic format, designated or established by the Secretary of Homeland Security by regulation not later than 6 months after the effective date of the Secure the Border Act of 2023, that it has verified that the individual is not an unauthorized alien and

“(I) obtaining from the individual the individual’s Social Security account number or United States passport number and recording the number on the form (if the individual claims to have been issued such a number) and, if the individual does not attest to United States nationality under subparagraph (ii), providing the Secretary, indicating nonimmigrant admission of the individual, with Form I–94 or Form I–94A, or other documentation as designated by the Secretary specifying the alien’s nonimmigrant status if—

“(aa) the period of such status has not expired; and “(bb) the proposed employment is not in conflict with any restrictions or limitations identified in the document;

“(II) examining—

“(aa) a document relating to the individual presenting it described in clause (ii); or “(bb) the individual presenting it described in clause (ii); and

“(III) unexpired United States passport or passport card;

“(ii) unexpired permanent resident card that contains a photograph;

“(iii) unexpired employment authorization card that contains a photograph;

“(IV) in the case of a nonimmigrant alien authorized to work for a specific employer incident to his or her nonimmigrant status, a foreign passport with Form I–94 or Form I–94A, or other documentation as designated by the Secretary specifying the alien’s nonimmigrant status if—

“(aa) the period of such status has not expired; and

“(bb) the proposed employment is in conflict with any restrictions or limitations identified in the document;

“(V) passport from the Federated States of Micronesia (FSM) or the Republic of the Marshall Islands (RMI) with Form I–94 or Form I–94A, or other documentation designated by the Secretary of Homeland Security, indicating nonimmigrant admission under the Compact of Free Association Between the United States and the FSM or the RMI;

“(VI) other document designated by the Secretary of Homeland Security that—“(aa) contains a photograph of the individual;

“(bb) contains security features to make it resistant to tampering, counterfeiting, and fraudulent use.

“(B) EVIDENCING EMPLOYMENT AUTHORIZATION.—In this clause, a document described in this clause is an individual’s Social Security account number card (other than such a card which specifies on the face that it is for Federal benefits only) or a United States passport that is not expired, and contains a photograph and personal information about the holder, such as name, date of birth, gender, height, eye color, and address; or

“(C) ESTABLISHING INDENTITY.—A document described in this clause is an individual’s unexpired United States passport, or a valid alien’s social security number established by the Department of Homeland Security for the alien as the Secretary may specify, and recording such number on the form; and

“(D) at least verifying the number on the form (if the individual claims to have been issued such a number) and, if the individual does not attest to United States nationality under subparagraph (ii), providing the Secretary with Form I–94 or Form I–94A, or other documentation as designated by the Secretary specifying the alien’s nonimmigrant status if—

“(I) the individual’s Social Security account number or United States passport number and recording the number on the form (if the individual claims to have been issued such a number); or

“(II) the individual does not attest to United States nationality under this subparagraph, such identification or authorization number established by the Department of Homeland Security for the alien as the Secretary may specify, and recording such number on the form; and

“(III) the individual contests a tentative nonconfirmation of an individual’s identity or work eligibility under the verification system with the specific period an appropriate confirmation of an individual’s identity and work eligibility under the verification system within the specified period, the person or entity shall inform the individual for whom the verification is sought.

“(A) the nonconfirmation shall be considered final; and “(B) the person or entity shall record on the form an appropriate code that has been provided under the system to indicate a final nonconfirmation.

“(EE) LIMITATION ON RESCISSION.—If the person or entity contests a tentative nonconfirmation, nothing in this subclause shall apply to a termination of employment for any reason other than because of such a failure.

“(AA) the individual shall utilize the process for secondary verification provided under subsection (d); and “(BB) the nonconfirmation will remain tentative until a final confirmation or nonconfirmation is provided by the verification system within the specified period.

“(DD) LIMITATION ON TERMINATION.—An employer may not terminate an individual because of a failure of the individual to have identity and work eligibility confirmed under this section until a nonconfirmation becomes final. Nothing in this subclause shall apply to a termination of employment for any reason other than because of such a failure.

“(II) LIMITATION ON RESCISSION.—An employer may not rescind an offer of employment to an individual because of a failure of the individual to have identity and work eligibility confirmed under this section until a nonconfirmation becomes final. Nothing in this subclause shall apply to a rescission of the offer of employment for any reason other than because of such a failure.

“(EE) LIMITATION ON RESCISSION.—If the person or entity contests a tentative nonconfirmation, nothing in this subclause shall apply to a termination of employment for any reason other than because of such a failure.

“(FF) FINAL CONFIRMATION OR NONCONFIRMATION RECEIVED.—If a final confirmation or nonconfirmation is provided by the verification system regarding an individual, the person or entity shall record on the form an appropriate code that is provided under the system and that indicates a confirmation or nonconfirmation of identity and work eligibility of the individual.

“(GG) EXTENSION OF TIME.—If the person or entity contests a tentative nonconfirmation of an individual’s identity or work eligibility under the verification system within the specified period, the person or entity may make an inquiry during the specified period and the verification system has registered that not all inquiries were received during such period, the person or entity may make an inquiry in the first subsequent working day in which the verification system registers that it has received all inquiries. If the verification system cannot receive inquiries at all times during a day, the person or entity merely has to assert that the entity attempted to make the inquiry on that day for purposes of this sentence; in an inquiry, and does not have to provide any additional proof concerning such inquiry.

“(HH) CONSEQUENCES OF NONCONFIRMATION.—

“(I) TERMINATION OF CONTINUED EMPLOYMENT.—If the person or entity has received a final nonconfirmation verification of the identity and employment eligibility of an individual.
Congressional Record — Senate

regarding an individual, the person or entity may terminate employment of the individual (or decline to recruit or refer the individual). If the person or entity does not terminate employment of the individual or rehire, recruit or refer the individual, the person or entity shall notify the Secretary of Homeland Security of such fact through the verification system in such other manner as the Secretary may specify.

“(bb) FAILURE TO NOTIFY.—If the person or entity fails to provide notice with respect to an individual hired, recruited, referred, or employed under subsection (a)(1)(A), the failure is deemed to constitute a violation of subsection (a)(1)(A) with respect to such hire, recruitment, referral, or employment.

“(VI) CONTINUED EMPLOYMENT AFTER FINAL NONCONFIRMATION.—If the person or other entity continues to employ (or to recruit or refer) an individual after receiving final nonconfirmation, a rebuttable presumption is created that the person or entity has violated subsection (a)(1)(A).

“(D) EFFECTIVE DATES OF NEW PROCEDURES.—

“(i) HIRING.—Except as provided in clause (iii), this paragraph shall apply to—

“(I) the Fair Labor Standards Act of 2023 beginning on the date that is 6 months after such date of enactment;

“(II) employers having at least 500 employees and fewer than 20 employees in the United States as of the date of the enactment of the Secure the Border Act of 2023 beginning on the date that is 1 year after such date of enactment;

“(III) employers having at least 20 employees and fewer than 500 employees in the United States as of the date of the enactment of such Act beginning on the date that is 18 months after such date of enactment;

“(IV) employers having at least 1 employee and fewer than 20 employees in the United States as of the date of the enactment of such Act beginning on the date that is 2 years after such date of enactment.

“(ii) RECRUITING AND REFERRING.—Except as provided in clause (iii), this paragraph shall apply to a person or other entity recruiting or referring an individual for employment in the United States beginning on the date that is 1 year after the date of enactment.

“(iii) AGRICULTURAL LABOR OR SERVICES.—

“(AA) agricultural labor (as defined in section 3121(g) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986);

“(BB) agricultural labor (as defined in section 3(f) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29 U.S.C. 201(d));

“(CC) the handling, planting, drying, packing, processing, freezing, or grading before delivery for storage of any agricultural or horticultural commodity in its unmanufactured state;

“(DD) all activities required for the preparation, processing, or manufacturing of a product of agriculture (as defined in such section 3(f)); “(EE) activities similar to the activities referred to in subitems (AA) through (DD) as they relate to fish or shellfish facilities.

“(iv) EXCLUSION.—In this paragraph, the term ‘agricultural labor or services’ includes—“(AA) agricultural labor (as defined in section 3121(g) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986); and

“(DD) all activities required for the preparation, processing, or manufacturing of a product of agriculture (as defined in such section 3(f)) for further distribution; and

“(v) IN GENERAL.—In this paragraph, the term ‘verification period’ means—

“(I) in the case of recruitment or referral, the period ending on the date on which recruiting or referring commences; and

“(II) in the case of hiring, the period beginning on the date on which an offer of employment is extended and ending on—

“(aa) the date that is 3 business days after the date of hire; or

“(bb) in the case of an alien who is authorized for employment and provides evidence from the Social Security Administration to the employer that the alien’s Social Security account number, the date that is 3 business days after the alien receives the Social Security account number;

“(vi) JOINT OR CONDITIONAL.—A person or other entity may offer a prospective employee an employment position that is conditioned on final verification of the identity and employment eligibility of the employer using the procedures established under this paragraph.

“(vii) REVERIFICATION FOR INDIVIDUALS WITH LIMITED WORK AUTHORIZATION.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subparagraphs (B) and (C), a person or entity shall make an inquiry in accordance with subsection (d), using the verification system to seek reverification of the identity and employment eligibility of all individuals with a limited period of work authorization employed by the person or entity during the 3 business days after the date on which the employee’s work authorization expires.

“(B) HIRING.—Except as provided in subparagraph (C), a person or entity shall apply to—

“(1) employers having at least 10,000 employees in the United States as of the date of the enactment of the Secure the Border Act of 2023 beginning on the date that is 6 months after such date of enactment;

“(ii) employers having at least 500 employees and fewer than 10,000 employees in the United States as of the date of the enactment of such Act beginning on the date that is 2 years after such date of enactment;

“(iii) employers having at least 20 employees and fewer than 500 employees in the United States as of the date of the enactment of such Act beginning on the date that is 1 year after such date of enactment; and

“(iv) employers having at least 1 employee and fewer than 20 employees in the United States as of the date of the enactment of such Act beginning on the date that is 2 years after such date of enactment.

“(v) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in clause (iii), this subparagraph shall not apply with respect to the reverification of the employee until the date that is 3 years after the date of the enactment of the Secure the Border Act of 2023.

“(vii) EXCLUSION.—An employee described in this subparagraph may not be counted for purposes of subparagraph (A) or (B). In the case of such a paragraph (1)(C)(ii) shall apply to reverifications pursuant to this paragraph on the same basis as it applies to a paragraph (1), except that employers shall—

“(1) use a form designated or established by the Secretary by regulation for purposes of this paragraph; and

“(2) retain a paper or electronic version of the form and make it available for inspection by officers of the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Justice, or the Department of Labor during the period beginning on the date the reverification commences and ending on the date that is the later of 3 years after the date of such reverification or 1 year after the date the individual’s employment is terminated.

“(viii) PREVIOUSLY HIRED INDIVIDUALS.—

“(A) ON A MANDATORY BASIS FOR CERTAIN EMPLOYERS.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Not later than the date that is 6 months after the date of the enactment of the Secure the Border Act of 2023, an employer shall make an inquiry, as provided in subsection (d), using the verification system to seek verification of the identity and employment eligibility of any individual described in clause (ii) employed by the employer whose employment eligibility has not been verified under the E-Verify Program during the period beginning on the date of the enactment of the Secure the Border Act of 1996 (8 U.S.C. 1324a note)).
inquirers as evidence of their compliance with their obligations under this section.

(2) INITIAL RESPONSE.—Not later than 3 business days after the receipt of an initial inquiry, or tentative nonconfirmation, the Secretary shall—

(A) confirm or a tentative nonconfirmation of an individual’s identity and employment eligibility, or

(B) provide a notification of the nonconfirmation, subject to—

(i) the information provided regarding an individual’s identity and employment eligibility is being confirmed;

(ii) the correspondence of the name and number; and

(iii) whether the individual has presented a Social Security account number that is not valid for employment.

(3) LIMITATION ON DISCLOSURE.—The Commissioner may not disclose or release Social Security information (other than such confirmation or nonconfirmation) under the System except as provided for in this section or section 274A(d)(2)(B) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 405(c)(2)(B)).

(4) RESPONSIBILITIES OF SECRETARY OF HOMELAND SECURITY.—As part of the System, the Secretary of Homeland Security shall—

(A) establish a standard process for—

(i) any designee of the Secretary to establish and administer the System in consultation with the Commissioner of Social Security, in accordance with chapter 171 of title 28, Federal Tort Claims Act, and injunctive relief to correct such error. No class action may be brought under this paragraph.

SEC. 583. RECRUITMENT, REFERRAL, AND CONTINUATION OF EMPLOYMENT.

(a) ADDITIONAL CHANGES TO RULES FOR RECRUITMENT, REFERRAL, AND CONTINUATION OF EMPLOYMENT.—Section 274A(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1324a(a)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1)—

(A) in subparagraph (A), by striking “or to recruit or refer for employment in the United States an individual without complying with the requirements under subsection (b),” and inserting “to recruit or refer for employment in the United States an individual without complying with the requirements under subsection (b),”;

and

(B) by amending subparagraph (B) to read as follows:

(2) INITIAL RESPONSE .—Not later than 3 business days after the date on which a notice of tentative nonconfirmation is received by an employer, the employee, the Secretary in consultation with the Commissioner of Social Security, shall—

(A) confirm or a tentative nonconfirmation of an individual’s identity and employment eligibility, or

(B) provide a notification of the nonconfirmation, subject to—

(i) the information provided regarding an individual’s identity and employment eligibility is being confirmed;

(ii) the correspondence of the name and number; and

(iii) whether the individual has presented a Social Security account number that is not valid for employment.

(1) in paragraph (1)—

(A) in subparagraph (A), by striking “to recruit or refer for employment in the United States an individual without complying with the requirements under subsection (b),” and inserting “to recruit or refer for employment in the United States an individual without complying with the requirements under subsection (b),”;

and

(B) by amending subparagraph (B) to read as follows:

(2) INITIAL RESPONSE .—Not later than 3 business days after the date on which a notice of tentative nonconfirmation is received by an employer, the employee, the Secretary in consultation with the Commissioner of Social Security, shall—

(A) confirm or a tentative nonconfirmation of an individual’s identity and employment eligibility, or

(B) provide a notification of the nonconfirmation, subject to—

(i) the information provided regarding an individual’s identity and employment eligibility is being confirmed;

(ii) the correspondence of the name and number; and

(iii) whether the individual has presented a Social Security account number that is not valid for employment.

(3) LIMITATION ON DISCLOSURE.—The Commissioner may not disclose or release Social Security information (other than such confirmation or nonconfirmation) under the System except as provided for in this section or section 274A(d)(2)(B) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 405(c)(2)(B)).

(4) RESPONSIBILITIES OF SECRETARY OF HOMELAND SECURITY.—As part of the System, the Secretary of Homeland Security shall—

(A) establish a standard process for—

(i) any designee of the Secretary to establish and administer the System in consultation with the Commissioner of Social Security, in accordance with chapter 171 of title 28, Federal Tort Claims Act, and injunctive relief to correct such error. No class action may be brought under this paragraph.

SEC. 583. RECRUITMENT, REFERRAL, AND CONTINUATION OF EMPLOYMENT.

(a) ADDITIONAL CHANGES TO RULES FOR RECRUITMENT, REFERRAL, AND CONTINUATION OF EMPLOYMENT.—Section 274A(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1324a(a)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1)—

(A) in subparagraph (A), by striking “or to recruit or refer for employment in the United States an individual without complying with the requirements under subsection (b),” and inserting “to recruit or refer for employment in the United States an individual without complying with the requirements under subsection (b),”;

and

(B) by amending subparagraph (B) to read as follows:

(2) INITIAL RESPONSE .—Not later than 3 business days after the date on which a notice of tentative nonconfirmation is received by an employer, the employee, the Secretary in consultation with the Commissioner of Social Security, shall—

(A) confirm or a tentative nonconfirmation of an individual’s identity and employment eligibility, or

(B) provide a notification of the nonconfirmation, subject to—

(i) the information provided regarding an individual’s identity and employment eligibility is being confirmed;

(C) the chair of the Joint Committee on Taxation shall provide technical assistance to the Commission on findings and recommendations of the Joint Committee on Taxation.

(II) PERSONNEL MATTERS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Members of the Commission shall serve without compensation.

(B) TRAVEL EXPENSES.—Members of the Commission shall be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, at rates authorized for employees of agencies under chapter 57, or chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, while away from the homes or regular places of business of the members in the performance of services for the Commission.

(C) STAFF.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—

(A) APPOINTMENT.—The co-chairpersons of the Commission shall appoint, without regard to civil service laws and regulations, appoint and terminate an executive director and such other additional personnel as may be necessary to enable the Commission to perform the duties of the Commission.

(ii) APPROVAL.—The appointment of an executive director under subclause (i) shall be subject to confirmation by the Commission.

(iii) COMPENSATION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The co-chairpersons of the Commission may fix the compensation of the executive director and other personnel of the Commission without regard to the provisions of chapter 51 and subchapter III of chapter 53 of title 5, United States Code, relating to the classification of positions and General Schedule pay rates.

(B) PAY RATE.—The rate of pay for the executive director and other personnel of the Commission shall be the rate of pay prescribed for level V of the Executive Schedule under section 5613 of title 5, United States Code.

(D) DETAIL OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES.—

Any employee of the Federal Government may be detailed to the Commission—

(i) without reimbursement; and

(ii) without loss of pay or loss of civil service status or privilege.

(E) PROCUREMENT OF TEMPORARY AND INTERMITTENT SERVICES.—The co-

chairpersons of the Commission may procure temporary and intermittent services under section 3106(b) of title 5, United States Code, at rates for individuals that do not exceed the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay prescribed for level V of the Executive Schedule under section 5316 of such title.

(II) TERMINATION OF THE COMMISSION.—The Commission shall terminate on the date that is 30 days after the date on which the Commission submits the final report of the Commission under subsection (7)(A)(i).

(II) RULES OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to—

(A) impair or otherwise affect—

(i) authority granted by law to a Federal agency or a head thereof, or

(ii) functions of the Director of the Office of Management and Budget relating to budgetary, administrative, or legislative proposes; or

(B) create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity, by any party against the United States, the departments, agencies, officers, employees, or agents of the United States, or any other person.

(i) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Commission such sums as may be necessary to carry out this section.

(B) AVAILABILITY.—Any sums appropriated under subparagraph (A) shall remain available, without fiscal year limitation, until expired.

(III) SPECIAL MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT.—

(A) DEFINITIONS.—In this subsection:

(1) COMMISSION REPORT.—The term "Commission report" means the final report of the Commission on Fiscal Responsibility and Reform described in subsection (b)(7)(A)(i).

(2) QUALIFYING LEGISLATION.—Only a Commission report referred shall report the Commission joint resolution to the House of Representatives without amendment not later than 10 legislative days after the date on which the Commission joint resolution was so referred. If a committee of the House of Representatives fails to report a Commission joint resolution within that period, it shall be in order to move that the House of Representatives discharge the committee from further consideration of the Commission joint resolution. Such a motion shall not be in order after the last committee authorized to consider the Commission joint resolution reports it to the House of Representatives or after the House of Representatives has disposed of a motion to discharge the Commission joint resolution.

(III) CONSIDERATION.—The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the motion to its adoption without intervening motion, except 20 minutes of debate equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent. If such a motion is adopted, the House of Representatives shall proceed immediately to consider the Commission joint resolution. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the motion to discharge the Commission joint resolution. A motion to reconsider the vote by which the motion is disposed of shall not be in order.

(C) PROCEEDING TO CONSIDERATION.—After the last committee authorized to consider a Commission joint resolution reports it to the House of Representatives or has been discharged (other than by motion) from its consideration, it shall be in order to move to proceed to consider the Commission joint resolution in the House of Representatives. Such a motion shall not be in order after the House of Representatives has disposed of a motion to proceed with respect to the Commission joint resolution. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the motion to its adoption without intervening motion. A motion to reconsider the vote by which the motion is disposed of shall not be in order.

(IV) CONSIDERATION.—The Commission joint resolution shall be considered as read. All points of order against the Commission joint resolution and against the amendments thereto are waived. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the Commission joint resolution to its passage without intervening motion except 20 minutes of debate equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent and 1 motion to limit debate on the Commission joint resolution. A motion to reconsider the vote on passage of the Commission joint resolution shall not be debatable. The vote on passage of the Commission joint resolution in the Senate is in order, not later than 2 days of session after the Commission joint resolution was so referred. A motion to proceed is in order, not later than 2 days of session after the date on which a Commission joint resolution was received from the House of Representatives.

(B) COMMITTEE CONSIDERATION.—A Commission joint resolution introduced in the Senate under subparagraph (A) shall be jointly referred to the committee or committees of jurisdiction in the Senate.

(C) COMMITTEE ORDER.—The committee to which a Commission joint resolution is referred shall report back the Commission joint resolution within 5 session days after the date on which the Commission joint resolution was so referred.

(D) NO AMENDMENTS.—An amendment to a Commission joint resolution may not be offered on the floor unless the motion to recommit the Commission joint resolution, and the Committee on Appropriations, on the same day. A motion to reconsider the vote on the Committee to report the Commission joint resolution shall not be in order.

(E) RULES.—Subject to the Standing Rules of the Senate, which shall apply to the Senate at any time, the rules of each House with respect to the procedure to be followed in the Senate and House of Representatives, as such.

SECTION 1. TEMPORARY EXTENSION OF PUBLIC DEBT LIMIT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 3101(b) of title 31, United States Code, shall not apply for the period—

(1) beginning on the date of enactment of this Act; and

(2) ending on the date that is 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

(b) SPECIAL RULE RELATING TO OBLIGATIONS ISSUED DURING EXTENSION PERIOD.—Effective on the day on which a payment is required to be made under section 3102(a)(2), the limitation in effect under section 3101(b) of title 31, United States Code, shall be increased to the extent that—

(1) the face amount of obligations issued under chapter 31 of such title and the face amount of obligations whose principal and interest are guaranteed by the United States Government (except guaranteed obligations held by the Secretary of the Treasury) outstanding on the date described in subsection (a)(2);

(2) the face amount of such obligations outstanding on the date of enactment of this Act.

(c) EXTENSION LIMITED TO NECESSARY OBLIGATIONS.—An obligation shall not be taken into account under subsection (b)(1) unless the issuance of such obligation was necessary to fund a commitment incurred pursuant to an authorization for spending (except guaranteed obligations held by the Secretary of the Treasury) that required payment on or before the date described in subsection (a)(2).

SA 124. Mr. GRAHAM (for himself and Ms. COLLINS) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 3746, to provide for a responsible increase to the debt ceiling; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. 4. FINDINGS AND SENSE OF CONGRESS ON PREVENTION OF SECURITY ASSISTANCE TO UKRAINE.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) The Russian Federation has failed to abide by the Belovezh Accords (also known as the "Minsk Agreement"), signed in Minsk, Belarus, on December 8, 1991, by the leaders of the Russian Federation, Ukraine, and the Republic of Belarus, in which those leaders agreed to have "respect for state sovereignty" and renounce "the use of force and of economic or any other methods of coercion".

(2) The Russian Federation has failed to honor its commitment under the Memorandum of Understanding in connection with Ukraine's accession to the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons, signed at Budapest, Hungary, December 5, 1994, in which the Russian Federation agreed to respect the sovereignty of Ukraine in exchange for the removal of nuclear weapons from Ukraine.

(3) The Russian Federation illegally annexed Crimea in 2014 and forces backed by the Russian Federation continue to occupy Eastern Ukraine.

(4) The further invasion of Ukraine by the Russian Federation that began in 2022—

(A) threatens the safety, security, and sovereignty of Ukraine;

(B) is destabilizing to the region; and

(C) poses a risk to the economy of Ukraine and may deter future investments in Ukraine.

(5) Through the invasion, the Russian Federation has indiscriminately attacked civilian targets, resulting in the death of at least 8,490 civilians and injury of at least 14,244 civilians, and has made thinly veiled threats to impose additional death and destruction on members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) if the Russian Federation so desires.

(6) In May 2023, the Russian Federation announced it was moving ahead with a plan to deploy strategic missiles to the Republic of Belarus, which would be the first deployment by the Russian Federation of such weapons outside of Russia since 1991.

(7) The security provided by the United States has been used to maximum effect and allowed Ukraine to fight back against the Russian Federation's unprovoked invasion of the sovereign territory of Ukraine.

(8) It is imperative to continue to provide security assistance to Ukraine at this crucial inflection point in the war, as Ukraine prepares to launch its counteroffensive against the Russian Federation.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that:

(1) affirms it is in the national security interest of the United States to provide security assistance to Ukraine and calls on the United States Government to continue to provide such assistance to ensure the sovereign territory of Ukraine is liberated from the Russian Federation and its proxy forces;

(2) supports providing additional funding to Ukraine through future supplemental packages to ensure Ukraine has the resources it needs to defend and sustain its liberation from the Russian Federation;

(3) calls on Congress to appropriate all funds needed to increase the production of and replenish United States inventories that have been provided to Ukraine.

SA 125. Mr. SULLIVAN proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 3746, to provide for a responsible increase to the debt ceiling; as follows:

(aa) are vetoed by the President; or

(bb) do not become law without the President’s veto;

(3) the term ‘‘Secretary’’ means the Secretary of the Treasury; and

(b) Limitation on Travel Expenditures.—

(1) In General.—During a covered period, amounts may be obligated and expended for official travel by a covered officer or employee for official travel for a single return trip to the seat of Government for official travel by a covered officer or employee.

(2) Return to DC.—If a covered officer or employee is traveling from the seat of Government on the date on which a covered period begins, funds may be obligated and expended for official travel for a single return trip to the seat of Government by the covered officer or employee.

(3) Travel in National Capital Region.—During a covered period, amounts may be obligated and expended for official travel by a covered officer or employee from one location in the National Capital Region to another location in the National Capital Region.

(4) National Security Events.—During a covered period, if a national security event that triggers a continuity of operations or continuity of Government protocol occurs, amounts may be obligated and expended for official travel by a covered officer or employee for any official travel relating to responding to a national security event or implementing the continuity of operations or continuity of Government protocol.

(5) Restriction on Use of Campaign Funds.—Section 313 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 31014) is amended—

(A) by striking in subsection (a)(2), by striking ‘‘or ordinary’’ and inserting ‘‘except as provided in subsection (d), for ordinary’’; and

(B) by adding at the end the following:

‘‘(d) Restriction on Use of Campaign Funds for Official Travel During Automatic Continuing Appropriations.—

‘‘(1) In General.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), during a covered period (as defined in section 101 of the Prevent Government Shutdowns Act of 2023), a contribution or donation described in subsection (a) may not be obligated or expended for travel in connection with duties of the individual as a holder of Federal office.

‘‘(2) Return to DC.—If the individual is away from the seat of Government on the date on which a covered period (as so defined) begins, a contribution or donation described in subsection (a) may be obligated and expended for official travel by the individual to return to the seat of Government.’’;

(c) Procedures in the Senate and House of Representatives.—

(1) In General.—During a covered period, in the Senate and the House of Representatives—

(A) it shall not be in order to move to proceed to any matter except for—

(i) a measure making appropriations for the fiscal year during which the covered period occurs;

(ii) any motion required to determine the presence of or produce a quorum; or

(iii) on and after the 30th calendar day after the first day of a covered period, any motion to (I) the nomination of an individual—

(aa) to a position at level I of the Executive Schedule under section 5312 of title 5, United States Code; or

(bb) to serve as Chief Justice of the United States or an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; or

(ii) an automatic continuing appropriations Act during which a program, project, or activity is authorized to be carried out (without substantive change to the program, project, or activity or any other program, project, or activity) if—

(aa) an appropriation Act with respect to the program, project, or activity for the fiscal year during which the covered period occurs has not been enacted; and

(bb) the program, project, or activity has expired since the beginning of such fiscal year and will expire during the covered period beginning on the date of the motion;

(B) it shall not be in order to move to recess or adjourn for a period of more than 23 hours; and

(C) at noon each day, or immediately following any constructive convening of the Senate under rule IV, paragraph 2 of the Standing Rules of the Senate, the Presiding Officer shall direct the clerk to determine whether a quorum is present.

(2) Waiver.—A limitation on period.—It shall not be in order in the Senate or the House of Representatives to move to waive any provision of paragraph (1) for a period that is longer than 7 days.

(d) Motion to Proceed to Appropriations.—

(1) In General.—On and after the 30th calendar day after the first day of each fiscal year, if an appropriation Act for such fiscal year has not been enacted, it shall be in order in the Senate, notwithstanding rule XXII or any pending executive measure or matter, to move to proceed to any appropriations Act of Congress, project, or activity that has been sponsored or cosponsored by not less than 3 Senators who are members of or caucuses with the party in the majority in the Senate and not less than 3 Senators who are members of or caucuses with the party in the minority in the Senate.

(2) Consideration.—For a bill or joint resolution described in paragraph (1)—

(A) the bill or joint resolution may be considered the same day as it is introduced and shall not have to lie over 1 day; and

(B) the motion to proceed to the bill or joint resolution shall be debatable for not to exceed 6 hours, equally divided between the proponents and opponents of the motion, and upon the use or yielding back of time, the Senate shall vote on the motion to proceed.

SEC. 504. BUDGETARY EFFECTS.

(a) Classification of Budgetary Effects.—The budgetary effects of this division and the amendments made by this division shall be estimated as if this division and the amendments made by this division were discretionary appropriations Acts for purposes of section 251 of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997.
and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 900 et seq.).

(b) BASELINE.—For purposes of calculating the baseline under section 257 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 907), the provision of budgetary resources under section 1311 of title 31, United States Code, as added by this division, shall be considered to be a continuing appropriation in effect for such account for less than the entire current year.

(c) ENFORCEMENT OF DISCRETIONARY SPENDING LIMITS.—For purposes of enforcing the discretionary spending limits under section 251(a)(4) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 901(a)(4)), the budgetary resources made available under section 1311 of title 31, United States Code, as added by this division, shall be considered part-year appropriations for purposes of section 251(a)(4) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 901(a)(4)).

SEC. 505. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This division and the amendments made by this division shall take effect on September 30, 2023.

SA 127. Mr. BUDD submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 3746, to provide for a responsible increase to the debt ceiling; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

Strike title IV of division B and insert the following:

TITLE IV—NULLIFICATION AND LIMITATION RELATING TO FEDERAL STUDENT LOANS

SEC. 271. NULLIFICATION OF CERTAIN EXECUTIVE ACTIONS AND RULES RELATED TO FEDERAL STUDENT LOANS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The following shall have no force or effect:

(1) The waivers and modifications of statutory and regulatory provisions relating to an extension of the suspension of payments on certain loans and waivers of interest on such loans under section 3513 of the CARES Act (20 U.S.C. 1001 note).

(2) As described by the Department of Education in the Federal Register on October 12, 2022 (87 Fed. Reg. 61513 et seq.); and

(b) Issued on or after the date of enactment of this Act.

(2) The modifications of statutory and regulatory provisions relating to debt discharge described in the letter pursuant to section (a) shall be in addition to any other cost analysis required under law for a regulation implementing this title, including any cost analysis that may be required pursuant to Executive Order 13266 (87 Fed. Reg. 51735; relating to regulatory planning and review), Executive Order 13563 (76 Fed. Reg. 3821; relating to improving regulation and regulatory review), or any related or successor orders.

(d) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term ‘economically significant’ means any energy resource—

‘‘(1) that is essential to the energy sector and energy systems of the United States; and

‘‘(2) the supply chain of which is vulnerable to disruption.’’

SEC. 102, by adding at the end the following:

(20) To ensure there is an adequate and reliable supply of critical energy resources essential to the energy security of the United States.’’; and

(3) in subsection (a), by adding at the end the following:

(2) Functions that relate to securing the supply of critical energy resources, including identifying and mitigating the effects of a disruption of such supply on—

(A) the development and use of energy technologies; and

(B) the operation of energy systems.’’.

SEC. 322. PROTECTING AMERICAN ENERGY SUPPLY CHAINS—

(1) IN GENERAL.—In carrying out the requirements of the Department of Energy Organization Act (42 U.S.C. 7101 et seq.), the Secretary of Energy, in consultation with the appropriate Federal agencies, representatives of the energy sector, States, and other stakeholders, shall—

(A) conduct ongoing assessments of—

(i) energy resource criticality based on the importance of critical energy resources to the development of energy technologies and the supply of energy;

(ii) the critical energy resource supply chain of the United States;

(iii) the vulnerability of such supply chain; and

(iv) how the energy security of the United States is affected by the reliance of the United States on importation of critical energy resources; and

(B) facilitate development of strategies to strengthen critical energy resource supply chains in the United States, including by—

(i) diversifying the supply of critical energy resources; and

(ii) increasing domestic production, separation, and processing of critical energy resources; and

(C) develop strategies and standards to secure critical energy resources; and

(D) improve technology that reuses and recycles critical energy resources.

(2) REPORT.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this title, and annually thereafter, the Secretary of Energy shall submit to Congress a report containing—

(A) the results of the ongoing assessments conducted under paragraph (1)(A); and

(B) a description of any actions taken pursuant to the Department of Energy Organization Act to mitigate potential effects of critical energy resource supply chain disruptions on energy technologies or the operation of energy systems; and

(C) any recommendations relating to strengthening critical energy resource supply chains that are essential to the energy security of the United States.

(3) CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCE DEFINED.—In this section, the term ‘critical energy resource’ has the meaning given such term in section 2 of the Department of Energy Organization Act (42 U.S.C. 7101).

SEC. 323. PROTECTING AMERICAN ENERGY PRODUCTION—

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that States should maintain primacy for the regulation of hydraulic fracturing for oil and natural gas production on State and private lands.

(b) PROHIBITION ON DECLARATION OF A MORATORIUM ON HYDRAULIC FRACTURING.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the President may not declare a moratorium on the use of hydraulic fracturing unless such moratorium is authorized by an Act of Congress.

SEC. 232. RESEARCHING EFFICIENT FEDERAL IN- PROVIDENCES FOR NECESSARY EN-ERGY REFINING.

Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this section, the Secretary of Energy shall direct the National Petroleum Council to—

(1) submit to the Secretary of Energy and Congress a report containing—

(A) a discussion of the role of petrochemical refineries located in the United States and the contributions of such petrochemical refineries to the energy security of the United States, including the reliability of supply in the United States of liquid fuels and feedstocks, and the affordability of liquid fuels for consumers in the United States;
(B) analyses and projections with respect to—

(i) the capacity of petrochemical refineries located in the United States;
(ii) opportunities for expanding such capacity; and
(iii) the risks to petrochemical refineries located in the United States;
(C) an assessment of any Federal or State executive actions, regulations, or policies that have caused or contributed to a decline in the petrochemical refineries located in the United States; and crease in the production of petrochemical refineries located in the United States; and

(2) make publicly available the report submitted under paragraph (1).

SEC. 324. PROMOTING CROSS-BORDER ENERGY INFRASTRUCTURE.

(a) Authorization of Certain Energy Infrastructure Projects at an International Boundary of the United States.

(1) Authorization.—Except as provided in paragraph (3) and subsection (d), no person may construct, connect, operate, or maintain a border-crossing facility for the import or export of oil or natural gas, or the transmission of electricity, across an international border of the United States without obtaining a certificate of crossing for the border-crossing facility under this subsection.

(2) Certificate of Crossing.—

(A) Requirement.—Not later than 120 days after final action is taken, by the relevant official or agency described in subsection (A) of the certificate of crossing for the border-crossing facility is not in the public interest of the United States.

(B) Relevant official or agency.—The relevant official or agency referred to in sub-paragraph (i) is—

(i) the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission with respect to border-crossing facilities consisting of oil or natural gas pipelines;
(ii) the Secretary of Energy with respect to border-crossing facilities consisting of electric transmission facilities.

(C) Subparagraph (A) Requirement for Electric Transmission Facilities.—In the case of a request for a certificate of crossing for a border-crossing facility consisting of an electric transmission facility, the Secretary of Energy shall require, as a condition of issuing the certificate of crossing under subpara-graph (A), that the border-crossing facility be constructed, connected, operated, or maintained consistent with all applicable policies and standards of—

(i) the Electric Reliability Organization and the applicable regional entity; and
(ii) any Regional Transmission Organization or Independent System Operator with operational or functional control over the border-crossing facility.

(3) Exclusions.—This subsection shall not apply to any construction, connection, operation, or maintenance of a border-crossing facility for the import or export of oil or natural gas, or the transmission of electricity—

(A) during the period at the end and inserting the findings required under section 202(e) of the Federal Power Act (16 U.S.C. 824a–4(b)) is amended by striking ''the Com-ties would not impair the sufficiency of electric supply within the United States or the Secretary has determined that the coordination in the public interest of facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Secretary.

(C) No Presidential Permit Required.—

No Presidential permit (or similar permit) shall be required pursuant to any provision of law to construct, connect, operation, or maintenance of an oil or natural gas pipeline or electric transmission facility, or any border-crossing facility thereof.

(d) Modifications to Existing Projects.—

(1) No certificate of crossing under subsection (a), or Presidential permit (or similar permit), shall be required for a modification to—

(A) an oil or natural gas pipeline or electric transmission facility that is operating for the import or export of oil or natural gas or the transmission of electricity as of the date of enactment of this section;
(B) an oil or natural gas pipeline or electric transmission facility for which a Presidential permit (or similar permit) has been issued pursuant to any provision of law or Executive order; or
(C) a border-crossing facility for which a certificate of crossing has previously been issued under subsection (a).

(e) Prohibition on Revocation of Presidential Permits.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the President may not revoke a Presidential permit (or similar permit) issued pursuant to Executive Order No. 11423 (3 U.S.C. 301 note), Executive Order No. 12038 (43 Fed. Reg. 4957), Executive Order No. 10855 (18 Fed. Reg. 5397), or any other Executive order for the construction, connection, operation, or maintenance of an oil or natural gas pipeline or electric transmission facility, or any border-crossing facility thereof, unless such revocation is authorized by an Act of Congress.

(f) Effective Date; Rulemaking Deadlines.—

(1) Effective date.—Subsections (a) through (d), and the amendments made by such subsections, shall take effect on the day of enactment and apply on and after the date of enactment of this section.

(2) Rulemaking Deadlines.—Each relevant official or agency described in subsection (a)(2)(B) shall—

(A) not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this section, publish in the Federal Register notice of a proposed rulemaking to carry out the applicable requirements of subsection (a); and

(B) not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this section, publish in the Federal Register a final rule that applies the applicable requirements of subsection (a).

(g) Definitions.—In this section:

(1) Border-crossing facility.—The term "border-crossing facility" means the portion of an oil or natural gas pipeline or electric transmission facility that is located at an international boundary of the United States.

(2) Modification.—The term "modification" includes a reversal of flow direction, change in ownership, change in flow volume, addition or removal of an interconnection, or an adjustment to maintain flow (such as a reduction or increase in the number of pump or compressor stations).

(3) Natural gas.—The term "natural gas" has the meaning given that term in section 2 of the Natural Gas Act (15 U.S.C. 717a).

(4) Oil.—The term "oil" means petroleum or a petroleum product.

(5) Electric Reliability Organization; Regional Entity.—The terms "Electric Reliability Organization" and "regional entity" have the meanings given those terms in sec-

(6) Independent System Operator; Regional Transmission Organization.—The terms "Independent System Operator" and "Regional Transmission Organization" have the meanings given those terms in section 3 of the Federal Power Act (16 U.S.C. 796).
SEC. 325. SENSE OF CONGRESS EXPRESSING DISAPPROVAL OF THE REVOCA TION OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PERMIT FOR THE KEystone XL PIPELINE.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) On March 29, 2019, TransCanada Keyst one Pipeline, L.P., was granted a Presidential permit to construct, connect, operate, and maintain the Keystone XL pipeline.

(2) On January 20, 2021, President Biden issued Executive Order No. 13996 (86 Fed. Reg. 7937) that revoked the March 2019 Presidential permit for the Keystone XL.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESSIONAL OPPOSITION TO THE EXPORT OF CRUDE OIL OR OTHER PETROLEUM PRODUCTS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) The United States has enjoyed a renaissance in energy production, with the expansion of domestic crude oil and other petroleum product production contributing to enhanced energy security and significant economic benefits to the national economy.

(2) The United States has recognized the need to adapt to changing crude oil market conditions and repealed all restrictions on the export of crude oil on a bipartisan basis.

(3) The United States recognized the need to impose or enforcing any restrictions on the export of crude oil with limited exceptions, including a savings clause maintaining the authority to prohibit exports under any provision of law that imposes sanctions on a foreign person or foreign government (including any provision of law that prohibits or restricts United States persons from engaging in a transaction with a sanctioned person or government), including a foreign government that is designated as a state sponsor of terrorism.

(4) Lifting the restrictions on crude oil exports encouraged additional domestic energy production, created new jobs, improved the American economy, and allowed the United States to emerge as the leading oil producer in the world.

(5) The United States became a net exporter of petroleum products for the first time since 1952, and the reliance of the United States on foreign imports of petroleum declined to historic lows.

(6) Free trade, open markets, and competition have contributed to the rise of the United States as a global energy superpower.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the Federal Government should not impose—

(1) overly restrictive regulations on the exploration, production, or marketing of energy resources; or

(2) any restrictions on the export of crude oil or other petroleum products under the Energy Policy and Conservation Act (42 U.S.C. 6201 et seq.), except with respect to the export of crude oil or other petroleum products to a foreign person or foreign government pending a resolution of United States law, including to a foreign country, including an LNG terminal.

In determining whether to approve or deny an application for a permit under this Act, nothing in this Act is intended to affect otherwise applicable law related to any Federal agency's authorities or responsibilities related to facilities to import or export natural gas, including LNG terminals.

by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(d)(1) Nothing in this Act limits the authority of the President under the Constitution, the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.), the National Emergencies Act (50 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.), part B of title II of the Energy Policy and Conservation Act (42 U.S.C. 6271 et seq.), or the Energy Policy Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. 4931 et seq.), or any other provision of law that imposes sanctions on a foreign person or foreign government (including any provision of law that prohibits or restricts United States persons from engaging in a transaction with a sanctioned person or government), including a foreign government that is designated as a state sponsor of terrorism, to prohibit imports or exports.

(2) In this subsection, the term "state sponsor of terrorism" means—

(A) a country that may issue a license that authorizes an application under this paragraph, the Commission shall deem the exportation or importation of natural gas to be consistent with the public interest.

(b) DEFERENCE TO COMMISSION.—In making a decision with respect to a Federal authorization or is required by Federal authorization or is required by the Secretary of State to consult with the Commission in conjunction with the issuance of a Federal authorization for which the agency is responsible, and

(3) take such actions as are necessary and appropriate to facilitate the expansion of oil exports.

(3) NEPA REVIEW.—The term "project-related NEPA review" means the process of reviewing a proposed Federal action under section 102 of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) with respect to an authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act.

(c) SENSE OF CONGRESS EXPRESSING DISAPPROVAL OF THE DENIAL OF JORDAN Liquefied Natural Gas Project.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(2) On the same day, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission issued a certificate of public convenience and necessity to Pacific Connector Pipeline, L.P., to construct and operate the proposed Pacific Connector Pipeline in the counties of Klamath, Jackson, Douglas, and Coos of Oregon.

(3) The Secretary of State denied the permits and the certificate necessary for these projects.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that Congress disapproves of the denial of these permits by the State of Oregon.

SEC. 329. PROMOTING INTERAGENCY COORDINATION FOR REVIEW OF NATURAL GAS PIPELINES.

(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) "Commission" means the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

(2) "Federal authorization."—The term "Federal authorization" has the meaning given that term in section 15(a) of the Natural Gas Act (15 U.S.C. 717(a)).

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—Congress finds the term "project-related NEPA review" means the process of reviewing a proposed Federal action under section 102 of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) with respect to an authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act.

(c) SENSE OF CONGRESS EXPRESSING DISAPPROVAL OF THE REVOCA TION OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PERMIT FOR THE KEystone XL PIPELINE.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) On March 29, 2019, TransCanada Keyst one Pipeline, L.P., was granted a Presidential permit to construct, connect, operate, and maintain the Keystone XL pipeline.

(2) On January 20, 2021, President Biden issued Executive Order No. 13996 (86 Fed. Reg. 7937) that revoked the March 2019 Presidential permit for the Keystone XL.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that Congress disapproves of the revocation by President Biden of the Presidential permit for the Keystone XL pipeline.

SEC. 326. SENSE OF CONGRESS EXPRESSING DISAPPROVAL OF THE DENIAL OF JORDAN Liquefied Natural Gas Project.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(2) On the same day, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission issued a certificate of public convenience and necessity to Pacific Connector Pipeline, L.P., to construct and operate the proposed Pacific Connector Pipeline in the counties of Klamath, Jackson, Douglas, and Coos of Oregon.

(3) The Secretary of State denied the permits and the certificate necessary for these projects.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that Congress disapproves of the denial of these permits by the State of Oregon.

SEC. 329. PROMOTING INTERAGENCY COORDINATION FOR REVIEW OF NATURAL GAS PIPELINES.

(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) "Commission" means the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.
agency identified under paragraph (1) as a participating agency with respect to an application for authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act unless the agency informs the Commission, in writing, by the deadline established pursuant to paragraph (2)(B), that the agency——

(A) has no jurisdiction or authority with respect to the applicable Federal authorization;

(B) has no special expertise or information relevant to any project-related NEPA review or

(C) does not intend to submit comments for the project-related NEPA review conducted by the Commission.

(4) EFFECT OF NON-DISSENTATION.—

(A) EFFECT ON AGENCY.—Any agency that is not designated as a participating agency under paragraph (3) with respect to an application for an authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act may not request or conduct a NEPA review that is supplemental to the project-related NEPA review conducted by the agency.

(i) demonstrates that such review is legally necessary for the agency to carry out responsibilities in considering an aspect of an application for the authorization; and

(ii) requires information that could not have been obtained during the project-related NEPA review conducted by the Commission.

(5) COMMENTS; RECORD.—The Commission shall not, with respect to an agency that is not designated as a participating agency under paragraph (3) with respect to an application for an authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act——

(i) consider any comments or other information submitted by such agency for the project-related NEPA review conducted by the Commission; or

(ii) include any such comments or other information in the record for such project-related NEPA review.

(6) QUALITY IMPACTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section 401 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1341), an applicant for a Federal authorization shall not be required to provide a certificate under such section with respect to the Federal authorization.

(2) COORDINATION.—With respect to any NEPA review, a Federal authorization to conduct an activity that will directly result in a discharge into the navigable waters (within the meaning of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act), the Commission shall identify as an agency under subsection (A) the State in which the discharge originates or will originate, and if, or, if determined, the applicable law concurrently, and in the case of a failure by a State agency, the Federal agency overseeing the relevant agencies (including, in the case of a failure by a State agency, the Federal agency assisting in reviewing the application for such authorization or certification to such application; and

(i) formulate and implement a plan to enable the agency to complete the Federal authorizations. Such information shall include the following:

(A) THE DETERMINATION.—Any agency that is and National Environmental Policy Act (42 U.S.C. 4341 et seq.), the Commission—

(B) CONCURRENT REVIEWS.—Each Federal and State agency—

(i) the schedule established by the Commission under section 15(c)(1) of such Act; and

(ii) not later than 30 days after the agency receives such application for a Federal authorization, transmit to the applicant the statement—

(i) the schedule established by the Commission under section 15(c)(1) of such Act; and

(ii) the schedule established by the Commission under section 15(c)(1) of such Act.

(2) REMOTE SURVEYS.—If a Federal or State agency determining an application for a Federal authorization requires the person applying for such authorization to submit data, the agency shall consider any such data gathered by aerial or other remote means that the person submits. The agency may grant a conditional approval for the Federal authorization based on data gathered by aerial or other remote means, conditioned on the verification of such data by subsequent on-site inspection.

(3) APPLICATION PROCESSING.—The Commission shall not, with respect to an application for authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act——

(A) transmit to the Commission a report describing for each such action.

(B) REMOTE SURVEYS.—If a Federal or State agency determining an application for a Federal authorization requires the person applying for such authorization to submit data, the agency shall consider any such data gathered by aerial or other remote means, conditioned on the verification of such data by subsequent on-site inspection.

(3) APPLICATION PROCESSING.—The Commission shall not, with respect to an application for authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act——

(A) transmit to the Commission a report describing for each such action.

(B) REMOTE SURVEYS.—If a Federal or State agency determining an application for a Federal authorization requires the person applying for such authorization to submit data, the agency shall consider any such data gathered by aerial or other remote means, conditioned on the verification of such data by subsequent on-site inspection.

(3) APPLICATION PROCESSING.—The Commission shall not, with respect to an application for authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act——

(A) transmit to the Commission a report describing for each such action.

(B) REMOTE SURVEYS.—If a Federal or State agency determining an application for a Federal authorization requires the person applying for such authorization to submit data, the agency shall consider any such data gathered by aerial or other remote means, conditioned on the verification of such data by subsequent on-site inspection.

(3) APPLICATION PROCESSING.—The Commission shall not, with respect to an application for authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act——

(A) transmit to the Commission a report describing for each such action.

(B) REMOTE SURVEYS.—If a Federal or State agency determining an application for a Federal authorization requires the person applying for such authorization to submit data, the agency shall consider any such data gathered by aerial or other remote means, conditioned on the verification of such data by subsequent on-site inspection.

(3) APPLICATION PROCESSING.—The Commission shall not, with respect to an application for authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act——

(A) transmit to the Commission a report describing for each such action.

(B) REMOTE SURVEYS.—If a Federal or State agency determining an application for a Federal authorization requires the person applying for such authorization to submit data, the agency shall consider any such data gathered by aerial or other remote means, conditioned on the verification of such data by subsequent on-site inspection.

(3) APPLICATION PROCESSING.—The Commission shall not, with respect to an application for authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act——

(A) transmit to the Commission a report describing for each such action.

(B) REMOTE SURVEYS.—If a Federal or State agency determining an application for a Federal authorization requires the person applying for such authorization to submit data, the agency shall consider any such data gathered by aerial or other remote means, conditioned on the verification of such data by subsequent on-site inspection.

(3) APPLICATION PROCESSING.—The Commission shall not, with respect to an application for authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act——

(A) transmit to the Commission a report describing for each such action.

(B) REMOTE SURVEYS.—If a Federal or State agency determining an application for a Federal authorization requires the person applying for such authorization to submit data, the agency shall consider any such data gathered by aerial or other remote means, conditioned on the verification of such data by subsequent on-site inspection.

(3) APPLICATION PROCESSING.—The Commission shall not, with respect to an application for authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of such Act——

(A) transmit to the Commission a report describing for each such action.

(B) REMOTE SURVEYS.—If a Federal or State agency determining an application for a Federal authorization requires the person applying for such authorization to submit data, the agency shall consider any such data gathered by aerial or other remote means, conditioned on the verification of such data by subsequent on-site inspection.
(1) PIPELINE SECURITY.—In considering an application for an authorization under section 3 of the Natural Gas Act or a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of the Federal Power Act, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission shall consult with the Administrator of the Transportation Security Administration regarding the applicant’s plans for building, maintaining, and best practice recommendations of the Administration regarding pipeline infrastructure security, pipeline cybersecurity, pipeline personnel security, and other pipeline security measures.

(3) WITHDRAWAL OF POLICY STATEMENTS.—The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission shall withdraw—

(1) the updated policy statement titled “Certification of New Interstate Natural Gas Facilities” published in the Federal Register on March 1, 2022 (87 Fed. Reg. 11:548); and

SEC. 330. INTERIM HAZARDOUS WASTE PERMITS FOR CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCE FACILITIES.

Section 3005(e) of the Solid Waste Disposal Act (42 U.S.C. 6925(e)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1A)—

(1) by striking “or’’ at the end;

(2) in clause (ii), by inserting “or’’ after “this section’’; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:—

“(iii) a critical energy resource facility’’; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

“(A) COVERED REQUIREMENT.—The term ‘covered requirement’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource. ‘Critical energy resource’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(B) CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES.—The term ‘critical energy resources’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(C) CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES FACILITIES.—The term ‘critical energy resources facilities’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(D) Definitions.—In this section:

(1) COVERED REQUIREMENT.—The term ‘covered requirement’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(2) CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES.—The term ‘critical energy resources’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(3) CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES FACILITIES.—The term ‘critical energy resources facilities’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(4) GENERAL.—If the Administrator, in consultation with the Secretary of Energy, determines that, by reason of a sudden increase in demand for, or a shortage of, a critical energy resource, or another cause, the processing or refining of a critical energy resource or a critical energy resource facility is necessary to meet the national security or energy security needs of the United States, then the Administrator may, with or without notice, issue a temporary waiver of any requirement under the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7401 et seq.) with respect to such critical energy resource or facility, and the Administrator will allow for such processing or refining at such critical energy resource facility as necessary to best meet such needs and serve the public interest.

(5) CONFLICT WITH OTHER ENVIRONMENTAL LAWS.—The Administrator shall ensure that any waiver of a covered requirement under this section, to the maximum extent practicable, does not result in a conflict with a requirement of any other applicable Federal, State, or local environmental law or regulation.

(6) EXPIRATION AND RENEWAL OF WAIVERS.—A waiver issued under this section shall expire not later than 90 days after it is issued. The Administrator may renew or reissue such waiver pursuant to subsections (a) and (b) for subsequent periods, not to exceed 90 days for each period, as the Administrator determines necessary to meet the national security or energy security needs described in subsection (a) and is in the public interest. In renewing or reissuing a waiver under this subsection, the Administrator shall include in any such renewed or reissued waiver such conditions as are necessary to minimize any adverse environmental impacts to the extent practicable.

(7) SUBSEQUENT ACTION BY COURT.—If a waiver issued under this section is subsequently stayed, modified, or set aside by a court pursuant a provision of law, any omission or action previously taken by a party under the waiver while the waiver was in effect shall remain subject to subsection (c).

(8) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) COVERED REQUIREMENT.—The term ‘covered requirement’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(2) CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES.—The term ‘critical energy resources’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(3) CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES FACILITIES.—The term ‘critical energy resources facilities’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(4) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for this title is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 2925 the following:

“Sec. 2925. Waivers for critical energy resource facilities.

SEC. 330B. NATIONAL SECURITY OR ENERGY SECURITY WAIVERS TO PRODUCE CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES.

(a) GENERAL.—If the Administrator, in consultation with the Secretary of Energy, determines that, by reason of a sudden increase in demand for, or a shortage of, a critical energy resource, or another cause, the processing or refining of a critical energy resource facility is necessary to meet the national security or energy security needs of the United States, then the Administrator may, with or without notice, issue a temporary waiver of any covered requirement with respect to such critical energy resource facility that, in the judgment of the Administrator, will allow processing or refining at such critical energy resource facility as necessary to best meet such needs and serve the public interest.

(b) CONFLICT WITH OTHER ENVIRONMENTAL LAWS.—The Administrator shall ensure that any waiver of a covered requirement under this section, to the maximum extent practicable, does not result in a conflict with a requirement of any other applicable Federal, State, or local environmental law or regulation.

(c) VIOLATIONS OF OTHER ENVIRONMENTAL LAWS.—To the extent any omission or action taken by a party under a waiver issued under this section is in conflict with any requirement of a Federal, State, or local environmental law or regulation, such omission or action shall not be considered a violation of such environmental law or regulation, or subject such party to any requirement, civil or criminal liability, or a citizen suit under such environmental law or regulation.

(d) EXPIRATION AND RENEWAL OF WAIVERS.—A waiver issued under this section shall expire not later than 90 days after it is issued. The Administrator may renew or reissue such waiver pursuant to subsections (a) and (b) for subsequent periods, not to exceed 90 days for each period, as the Administrator determines necessary to meet the national security or energy security needs described in subsection (a) and is in the public interest.

(e) SUBSEQUENT ACTION BY COURT.—If a waiver issued under this section is subsequently stayed, modified, or set aside by a court pursuant a provision of law, any omission or action previously taken by a party under the waiver while the waiver was in effect shall remain subject to subsection (c).

(f) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) COVERED REQUIREMENT.—The term ‘covered requirement’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(2) CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES.—The term ‘critical energy resources’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(3) CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES FACILITIES.—The term ‘critical energy resources facilities’ means a facility that processes or refines a critical energy resource.

(4) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for this title is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 2925 the following:

SEC. 330C. NATURAL GAS TAX REPEAL.

(a) REPEAL.—Section 136 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7436)(relating to methane emissions from oil and gas production for petroleum and natural gas systems) is repealed.
(b) REPEAL.—The unobligated balance of any amounts made available under section 136 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7436) (as in effect on the day before the date of enactment of this Act) is rescinded.

SEC. 320D. REPEAL OF GREENHOUSE GAS REDUCTION FUND.

(a) REPEAL.—Section 134 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7434) (as in effect on the day before the date of enactment of this Act) is rescinded.

(b) REPEAL.—The unobligated balance of any amounts made available under section 134 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7434) (as in effect on the day before the date of enactment of this Act) is rescinded.

SEC. 320E. ENDING FUTURE DELAYS IN CHEMICAL SUBSTANCE REVIEW FOR CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES.

Section 5(a) of the Toxic Substances Control Act (15 U.S.C. 2604) (as amended by adding at the end the following:

"(6) CRITICAL ENERGY RESOURCES.—"

"(A) STANDARD.—For purposes of a determination under paragraph (3) with respect to a chemical substance that is a critical energy resource, the Administrator fails to take into consideration economic, societal, and environmental costs and benefits, notwithstanding any requirement of this section to not take such factors into consideration.

"(B) FAILURE TO RENDER DETERMINATION.—"

"(i) ACTIONS AUTHORIZED.—If, with respect to a chemical substance that is a critical energy resource, the Administrator fails to make a determination on a notice under paragraph (3) by the end of the applicable review period and the notice has not been withdrawn by the submitter, the Administrator may take the actions described in paragraph (1)(A) with respect to the chemical substance, and the Administrator shall re-ave any requirement to make such determination.

"(ii) NON-DUPLICATION.—A refund of applicable fees under paragraph (4)(A) shall not be made if a submitter takes an action described in paragraph (1)(A) under this subparagraph.

"(C) PRIORITIZATION FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF WITHDRAWAL OR SUSPENSION.—The Administrator may not suggest to, or request of, a submitter of a notice under this subsection for a chemical substance that is a critical energy resource, that such submitter withdraw such notice, or request a suspension of the running of the applicable review period with respect to such notice, unless the Administrator shall—"

"(i) conducted a preliminary review of such notice; and

"(ii) provided to the submitter a draft of a determination under paragraph (3), including any supporting information.

"(D) DEFINITION.—For purposes of this paragraph, the term 'critical energy resource' shall be determined by the Secretary of Energy, any energy resource—"

"(i) that is essential to the energy sector and energy systems of the United States; and

"(ii) the supply chain of which is vulnerable to disruption.''

SEC. 320F. KEEPING AMERICA'S REFINERIES OPERATING.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The owner or operator of a stationary source described in subsection (b) of this section shall not be required by the regulations promulgated under section 112(r) of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7412(r)(7)(B)) to include in any hazard assessment under clause (ii) of such section 112(r)(7)(B) an assessment of safe technology and any operational management measures with respect to the use of hydrofluoric acid in an alklylation unit.

(b) STATIONARY SOURCE DESCRIBED.—A stationary source described in this subsection is a stationary source (as defined in section 112(r)(2)(C) of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7412(r)(2)(C)) and conforming to the most recent version of American Petroleum Institute Recommended Practice 751.

SEC. 320G. HOMEOWNER ENERGY FREEDOM.

"(A) a country referred to in any of paragraphs (1) through (5); or

"(B) the Chinese Communist Party."

"(b) WAIVER.—The Secretary may issue a waiver of the prohibition described in subsection (a) if the Secretary certifies that any export or sale authorized pursuant to the waiver is in the national security interests of the United States.

"(c) RULE.—Not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of the Fiscal Responsibility and Economic Growth Act, the Secretary shall issue a rule to carry out this section.";

SEC. 330L. SENSE OF CONGRESS EXPRESSING DISAPPROVAL OF THE PROPOSED TAX Hike on the Oil and Natural Gas Industry in the President’s Fiscal Year 2024 Budget Request.

"(a) FINDING.—Congress finds that President Biden’s fiscal year 2024 budget request proposes to repeal tax provisions that are vital to the oil and natural gas industry of the United States, resulting in a $31,000,000,000 tax hike on oil and natural gas producers in the United States.

"(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that Congress disapproves of the proposed tax hike on the oil and natural gas industry in the President’s fiscal year 2024 budget request.

SEC. 330M. DOMESTIC ENERGY INDEPENDENCE ACT.

Not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report that identifies and assesses regulations promulgated by the Administrator during the 15-year period preceding the date of enactment of this Act that have—

"(1) reduced the energy independence of the United States;

"(2) increased the regulatory burden for energy producers in the United States;

"(3) decreased the energy output by such energy producers;

"(4) increased energy costs for consumers in the United States.

SEC. 330N. GAS KITCHEN RANGES AND OVENS.

Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary may not finalize, implement, administer, or enforce the proposed rule titled "Energy Conservation Standards for Gas Kitchen Ranges and Ovens" (88 Fed. Reg. 6818; published February 1, 2023) with respect to energy conservation standards for gas kitchen ranges and ovens, or any substantially similar rule, including any rule that would directly or indirectly limit consumer access to gas kitchen ranges and gas ovens.

TITLE IV—TRANSPARENCY, ACCOUNTABILITY, PERMITTING, AND PRODUCTION OF AMERICAN RESOURCES

SEC. 321. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Transparency, Accountability, Permitting, and Production of American Resources Act' or the “TAPPR American Resources Act’.

Subtitle A—Onshore and Offshore Leasing

SEC. 322. ONSHORE OIL AND GAS LEASING.

(a) REQUIREMENT TO IMMEDIATELY RESUME ONSHORE OIL AND GAS LEASE SALES.—

"(2) REQUIREMENT.—The Secretary of the Interior shall ensure that any oil and gas lease sale pursuant to paragraph (1) is conducted in a timely manner to ensure compliance with paragraph (b)(1).

(b) LEASE OF OIL AND GAS LANDS.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of the Interior shall ensure that any oil and gas lease sale pursuant to paragraph (1) is conducted in a timely manner to ensure compliance with paragraph (b)(1).

"(2) REQUIREMENT.—The Secretary of the Interior shall ensure that any oil and gas lease sale pursuant to paragraph (1) is conducted in a timely manner to ensure compliance with paragraph (b)(1).

"(3) LEASE OF OIL AND GAS LANDS.—Section 17 of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 181) is amended by inserting "eligible lands comprise all lands subject to leasing under this Act and not excluded from leasing under a land use plan developed under section 202 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 and that have been nominated for leasing through the submission of an expression of interest, subject to drainage in the absence of leasing, or are other lands designated available pursuant to regulations adopted by the Secretary," after "sales are necessary.",

"(4) QUARTERLY LEASE SALES.—""SEC. 17. SCHEDULE FOR LEASE SALES—"In accordance with the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 181 et seq.), each fiscal year, the Secretary of the Interior shall conduct a minimum of four oil and gas lease sales in each of the following States:

"(A) Wyoming.

"(B) New Mexico.

"(C) Colorado.

"(D) Utah.

"(E) Montana.

"(F) North Dakota.

"(G) Oklahoma.

"(H) Nevada.

"(I) Alaska.

"(J) Any other State in which there is land available for oil and gas leasing under the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 181 et seq.) or any other mineral leasing law.

"(2) REQUIREMENT.—In conducting a lease sale under subsection (b), the Secretary shall ensure that any oil and gas lease sale pursuant to paragraph (1) is conducted in a timely manner to ensure compliance with paragraph (b)(1).

"(3) REPLACEMENT SALES.—The Secretary of the Interior shall conduct a replacement sale during the same fiscal year if—

"(A) a lease sale under paragraph (1) is canceled, delayed, or deferred, including for a lack of eligible parcels; or

"(B) during a lease sale under paragraph (1) the percentage of acreage that does not receive a bid is equal to or greater than 25 percent of the acreage offered.

"(4) NOTICE REGARDING MISSED SALES.—Not later than 30 days after a lease sale required under this subsection is canceled, delayed, deferred, or otherwise missed the Secretary of the Interior shall submit to the Committee on Natural Resources of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate a report that states what sale was missed and why it was missed.

SEC. 333. LEASE RESTATEMENT.

The reinstatement of a lease entered into under the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 181 et seq.) or the Geothermal Steam Act of 1970 (30 U.S.C. 1521 et seq.) by the Secretary shall not be considered a major Federal action under section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)).

SEC. 334. PROTESTED LEASE SALES.

"(1) IN GENERAL.—""(a) the Department of the Interior shall have the power to protest a sale if the Secretary shall determine that the protest is meritorious.

"(2) REQUIREMENT.—The Secretary shall ensure that any oil and gas lease sale pursuant to paragraph (1) is conducted in a timely manner to ensure compliance with paragraph (b)(1).

"(3) LEASE OF OIL AND GAS LANDS.—""Sec. 17(b)(1)(A) of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 181) is amended by inserting "eligible lands comprise all lands subject to leasing under this Act and not excluded from leasing by a statutory or regulatory prohibition. Available lands are those lands that are eligible for leasing under a land use plan developed under section 202 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 and that have been nominated for leasing through the submission of an expression of interest, subject to drainage in the absence of leasing, or are other lands designated available pursuant to regulations adopted by the Secretary," after "sales are necessary.",

"(4) SENSIBILITIES OF OPERATIONS PERMITS.—In the event that an oil and gas lease owner has submitted an expression of interest for a tract that is part of that portion of the geological play and has yet to be offered in a lease sale by the Secretary, the Secretary may request a suspension of operations from the Secretary of the Interior and upon request, the Secretary shall grant the suspension of operations within 15 days. Any payment of acres rental or of minimum royalty prescribed by such lease likewise shall be suspended during such period of suspension of operations and production; and the term of such lease shall be extended by adding any such suspension period thereto.

SEC. 336. ADMINISTRATIVE PROTEST PROCESS REFORM.

Section 17 of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 226) is further amended by adding at the end the following:

"(s) PROTEST FILING FEES.—(1) Before processing any protest filed under this section, the Secretary shall collect a filing fee in the amount described in paragraph (2) from the protester to recover the cost for processing documents filed for each administrative protest.

"(2) AMOUNT.—The amount described in this paragraph is calculated as follows:

(A) For each protest filed in a submission not exceeding 10 pages in length, the base filing fee shall be $150.

(B) For each submission exceeding 10 pages in length, in addition to the base filing fee, an assessment of $5 per page in excess of 10 pages shall apply.

(C) For protests that include more than one oil and gas lease parcel, right-of-way, or application for permit to drill in a submission, an additional assessment of $10 per additional lease parcel, right-of-way, or application for permit to drill shall apply.

"(3) ADJUSTMENT.—

"(A) In general.—Beginning on January 1, 2024, and annually thereafter, the Secretary shall adjust filing fees established in this subsection to whole dollar amounts to reflect changes in the Producer Price Index, as described in paragraph (2), and (C) of section 17(p)(2) of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 226(p)(2));

"(B) the number of days an application has been pending; and

"(C) a plan for how the office intends to come into compliance with the requirements of section 17(p)(2) of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 226(p)(2)).

"(3) the number of permits to drill issued each month by the Bureau of Land Management office during the 5-year period ending on the date on which the report is submitted; and

"(4) the status of each pending application for a license for offshore geological and geophysical surveys received during the period of 365 days that ends on the date on which the report is submitted, including the number of applications received each month by the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management regional office, including—

(A) a description of any cause of delay for pending applications, as a result of staffing shortages, technical limitations, incomplete applications, and incomplete review pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) or other applicable laws; and

(B) the number of days an application has been pending; and

(C) a plan for how the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management intends to complete review of each application; and

(ii) for offshore geological and geophysical surveys issued each month by each Bureau of Ocean Energy Management regional office during the 5-year period ending on the date on which the report is submitted;

(6) the status of each pending application for a permit to drill received during the period of 365 days that ends on the date on which the report is submitted, including the number of applications received each month, by each Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement, and includes—

(A) a description of the uses of application received during the period of 365 days that ends on the date on which the report is submitted, including the number of applications received each month, by each Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement; and

(B) the number of days an application has been pending; and

(C) steps the Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement is taking to complete review of each application;

(7) the number of permits to drill issued each month by each Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement regional office during the period of 365 days that ends on the date on which the report is submitted;

(8) how, as applicable, the Bureau of Land Management, the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, and the Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement determines whether to—

(a) issue a license for geological and geophysical surveys; and

(b) issue a permit to drill; and

(c) issue, extend, or suspend an oil and gas lease; and

(9) when determinations described in paragraph (8) are sent to the national office of the Bureau of Land Management, the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, and the Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement for final approval;

(10) the degree to which Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, and Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement field, State, and other entity personnel utilize office staff and bureau manpower resources to process applications for permits to drill paid by permit holders during the 5-year period ending on the date on which the report is submitted.

(2) OFFSHORE GEOLOGICAL AND GEOPHYSICAL SURVEY LICENSES.—Not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this subsection, the Secretary shall—

(1) complete all requirements under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) and other applicable law that must be met before issuance of a permit to drill described in paragraph (2); and

(2) issue a permit for all completed applications to drill that are pending on the date of the enactment of this subsection.

(3) IN GENERAL.—Before processing any protest filed under this section, the Secretary shall collect a filing fee in the amount described in paragraph (2) from the protester to recover the cost for processing documents filed for each administrative protest.

(4) AMOUNT.—The amount described in this paragraph is calculated as follows:

(A) For each protest filed in a submission not exceeding 10 pages in length, the base filing fee shall be $150.

(B) For each submission exceeding 10 pages in length, in addition to the base filing fee, an assessment of $5 per page in excess of 10 pages shall apply.

(C) For protests that include more than one oil and gas lease parcel, right-of-way, or application for permit to drill in a submission, an additional assessment of $10 per additional lease parcel, right-of-way, or application for permit to drill shall apply.

(5) ADJUSTMENT.—

(A) In general.—Beginning on January 1, 2024, and annually thereafter, the Secretary shall adjust filing fees established in this subsection to whole dollar amounts to reflect changes in the Producer Price Index, as described in paragraph (2), and (C) of section 17(p)(2) of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 226(p)(2));

(B) the number of days an application has been pending; and

(C) a plan for how the office intends to come into compliance with the requirements of section 17(p)(2) of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 226(p)(2)).

(6) the status of each pending application for a license for offshore geological and geophysical surveys received during the period of 365 days that ends on the date on which the report is submitted, including the number of applications received each month by each Bureau of Ocean Energy Management regional office, including—

(A) a description of any cause of delay for pending applications, as a result of staffing shortages, technical limitations, incomplete applications, and incomplete review pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) or other applicable laws; and

(B) the number of days an application has been pending; and

(C) a plan for how the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management intends to complete review of each application; and

(i) for offshore geological and geophysical surveys issued each month by each Bureau of Ocean Energy Management regional office during the 5-year period ending on the date on which the report is submitted;

(6) the status of each pending application for a permit to drill received during the period of 365 days that ends on the date on which the report is submitted, including the number of applications received each month, by each Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement, and includes—

(A) a description of the uses of application received during the period of 365 days that ends on the date on which the report is submitted, including the number of applications received each month, by each Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement; and

(B) the number of days an application has been pending; and

(C) steps the Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement is taking to complete review of each application;

(7) the number of permits to drill issued each month by each Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement regional office during the period of 365 days that ends on the date on which the report is submitted;

(8) how, as applicable, the Bureau of Land Management, the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, and the Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement determines whether to—

(a) issue a license for geological and geophysical surveys; and

(b) issue a permit to drill; and

(c) issue, extend, or suspend an oil and gas lease; and

(9) when determinations described in paragraph (8) are sent to the national office of the Bureau of Land Management, the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, and the Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement for final approval;
Continental Shelf in the preceding month in each regional office.

“(3) PAST DATA.—Not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this subsection, the Secretary shall publish on the website of the Department of the Interior, with respect each month during the 5-year period ending on the date of the enactment of this Amendment—

“(A) the number of approved applications for licenses for offshore geological and geophysical surveys; and “(B) the number of approved applications for permits to drill on the outer Continental Shelf.’’.

(d) REQUIREMENTS.—Submit Documents and Other Requirements.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this section, the Secretary of the Interior shall submit to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate and the Committee on Natural Resources of the House of Representatives all documents and communications relating to the comprehensive review of Federal oil and gas permitting and leasing practices required under section 208 of Executive Order No. 14008 (66 Fed. Reg. 7626; relating to tackling the climate crisis at home and abroad).

(2) INCLUSIONS.—The submission under paragraph (1) shall include all documents and communications submitted to the Secretary of the Interior by members of the public in response to any public meeting or forum relating to the comprehensive review described in that paragraph.

SEC. 338. OFFSHORE OIL AND GAS LEASING.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall conduct all lease sales described in the 2017–2022 Outer Continental Shelf Oil and Gas Leasing Proposed Final Program (November 2016) that have not been conducted as of the date of the enactment of this Act by not later than January 15, 2023.

(b) GULF OF MEXICO REGION ANNUAL LEASE SALES.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, and except within areas subject to existing oil and gas leasing moratoria beginning in fiscal year 2023, the Secretary of the Interior shall annually conduct a minimum of 2 region-wide oil and gas lease sales in the leasing areas of the Gulf of Mexico region, as described in the 2017–2022 Outer Continental Shelf Oil and Gas Leasing Proposed Final Program (November 2016).

(c) ALASKA REGION ANNUAL LEASE SALES.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of the Interior shall annually conduct a minimum of 2 region-wide oil and gas lease sales in the Alaska region of the Outer Continental Shelf, as described in the 2017–2022 Outer Continental Shelf Oil and Gas Leasing Proposed Final Program (November 2016).

(d) REQUIREMENTS.—In conducting lease sales under subsections (b) and (c), the Secretary of the Interior shall—

(1) publish such leases in accordance with the Outer Continental Shelf Land Acts (43 U.S.C. 1322 et seq.); and

(2) include in each such lease sale all unleased areas that are not subject to a moratorium as of the date of the lease sale.

SEC. 339. FIVE-YEAR PLAN FOR OFFSHORE OIL AND GAS LEASING.

Section 18 of the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (43 U.S.C. 1344) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a)—

(A) by striking “subsections (b) and (c) of this section shall periodically revise,’’ and inserting “this section, shall issue every five years’’;

(B) by adding at the end the following:

“(5) Each five-year program shall include at least two Gulf of Mexico region-wide lease sales per year.’’; and

(C) by inserting “domestic energy security,’’ after “between’’;

(2) by redesignating subsections (f) through (j) as subsections (h) through (k), respectively; and

(3) by inserting after subsection (e) the following:

“(f) FIVE-YEAR PROGRAM FOR 2023–2028.—The Secretary shall issue the five-year oil and gas leasing program for 2023 through 2028 and issue the Record of Decision on the Final Programmatic Environmental Impact Statement by not later than 30 days after the final decision.

“(g) SUBSEQUENT LEASING PROGRAMS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 30 months after conducting the first lease sale under an oil and gas leasing program prepared pursuant to this section, the Secretary shall begin preparing the subsequent oil and gas leasing program under this section.

“(2) REQUIREMENT.—Each subsequent oil and gas leasing program under this section shall be approved by not later than 180 days before the expiration of the previous oil and gas leasing program.

SEC. 340. GEOETHERMAL LEASING.

(a) ANNUAL LEASING.—Section 4(b) of the Geothermal Steam Act of 1970 (30 U.S.C. 1503(b)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (2), by striking “2 years’’ and inserting “year’’;

(2) by redesigning paragraphs (3) and (4) as paragraphs (5) and (6), respectively; and

(3) after paragraph (2), by inserting the following:

“(3) REPLACEMENT SALES.—If a lease sale under paragraph (2) of this section is canceled or delayed, the Secretary of the Interior shall conduct a replacement sale during the same year.

“(4) REQUIREMENT.—In conducting a lease sale under paragraph (2) in a State described in that paragraph, the Secretary of the Interior shall offer all nominated parcels eligible for geothermal development and utilization under the resource management plan in effect for the State.’’.

(b) DEADLINES FOR CONSIDERATION OF GEO- THERMAL DRILLING PERMITS.—Section 4(d) of the Geothermal Steam Act of 1970 (30 U.S.C. 1503) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(1) DEADLINES FOR CONSIDERATION OF GEO- THERMAL DRILLING PERMITS.—

“(1) NOTICE.—Not later than 30 days after the date on which the Secretary receives an application for a geothermal drilling permit, the Secretary shall—

“(A) provide written notice to the applicant that the application is complete; or “(B) notify the applicant that information is missing and specify any information that is required to be submitted for the application to be complete.

“(2) INITIAL DECISION.—If the Secretary determines that an application for a geothermal drilling permit is complete under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall issue a final decision on the application not later than 30 days after the Secretary notifies the applicant that the application is complete.’’.

SEC. 340A. LEASING FOR CERTAIN QUALIFIED COAL APPLICANTS.

(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) COAL LEASE.—The term “coal lease’’ means a lease entered into by the United States and the Secretary of the Interior to permit the taking of coal, and the applicant for the lease shall be one of the entities described in paragraphs (2) through (5) of this subsection.

(2) QUALIFIED APPLICANT.—The term “qualified applicant’’ means any applicant for a coal lease who, in the Secretary’s judgment, has the financial and staffing shortfalls and turnover to ensure adequate staffing to process applications for such oil, gas, hardrock mining, and coal, and renewable energy leases, rights-of-way, claims, easements, and permits; and

(3) HISTORIC PARTY OWNERSHIP INTER- EST.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Communist Party of China (or a person acting on behalf of the Communist Party of China), any entity subject to the jurisdiction of the Government of the People’s Republic of China, or any entity that is owned by the Government of the People’s Republic of China, may not acquire any interest with respect to lands leased for gas, oil, hardrock mining, and coal, and renewable energy leases, rights-of-way, claims, easements, and permits; and

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Communist Party of China (or a person acting on behalf of the Community Party of China), any entity subject to the jurisdiction of the Government of the People’s Republic of China, or any entity that is owned by the Government of the People’s Republic of China, may not acquire any interest with respect to lands leased for gas, oil, hardrock mining, and coal, and renewable energy leases, rights-of-way, claims, easements, and permits; and

SEC. 340D. PROHIBITION ON CHINESE COMMUNIST PARTY OWNERSHIP INTEREST.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Communist Party of China (or a person acting on behalf of the Community Party of China), any entity subject to the jurisdiction of the Government of the People’s Republic of China, or any entity that is owned by the Government of the People’s Republic of China, may not acquire any interest with respect to lands leased for gas, oil, hardrock mining, and coal, and renewable energy leases, rights-of-way, claims, easements, and permits;
SEC. 340E. EFFECT ON OTHER LAW.

Nothing in this title, or any amendments made by this title, shall affect—

(1) the Presidential memorandum titled ‘‘Memorandum on Withdrawal of Certain Areas of the United States Outer Continental Shelf From Leasing Disposition’’ and dated September 8, 2020;

(2) the Presidential memorandum titled ‘‘Memorandum on Withdrawal of Certain Areas of the United States Outer Continental Shelf From Leasing Disposition’’ and dated December 20, 2016; or

SEC. 340F. REQUIREMENT FOR GAO REPORT ON WIND ENERGY IMPACTS.

The Secretary of the Interior shall not publish a notice for a wind lease sale or hold a lease sale for wind energy development in the Eastern Gulf of Mexico Planning Area, the South Atlantic Planning Area, or the Straits of Florida Planning Area as described in the 2017-2022 Outer Continental Shelf Oil and Gas Leasing Proposed Final Program (November 2016) until the Comptroller General of the United States publishes a report on all potential adverse effects of wind energy development in such areas, including associated infrastructure and vessel traffic, on—

(1) military readiness and training activities in the Planning Areas described in this section; unusual activities within or related to the Egin Test and Training Complex and the Jacksonville Range Complex;

(2) marine environment and ecology, including species listed as endangered or threatened under the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.) or designated as depleted under the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972 (16 U.S.C. 1361 et seq.) in the Planning Areas described in this section; and

(3) tourism, including the economic impacts that a decrease in tourism may have on the communities adjacent to the Planning Areas described in this section.

SEC. 340G. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON WIND ENERGY DEVELOPMENT SUPPLY CHAIN.

It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) wind energy development on Federal lands supported by a burgeoning industry in the United States;

(2) major components of wind infrastructure, including turbines, are imported in large quantities from other countries including those countries that are national security threats, such as the Government of the People’s Republic of China;

(3) in the interest of the United States to foster and support domestic supply chains across sectors to promote American energy independence;

(4) the economic and manufacturing opportunities presented by wind turbine construction and component manufacturing should be met by American workers and materials that are sourced domestically to the greatest extent practicable; and

(5) infrastructure for wind energy development in the United States should be constructed in the United States.

SEC. 340H. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON OIL AND GAS ROYALTY RATES.

It is the sense of Congress that the royalty rate for onshore Federal oil and gas leases should not be more than 12.5 percent in amount or value of the production removed or sold from the lease.

SEC. 340I. OFFSHORE WIND ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW PROCESS STUDY.

(a) In General.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this section, the Comptroller General shall conduct a study to assess the sufficiency of the environmental review processes for offshore wind projects in place as of the date of the enactment of this section of the National Marine Fisheries Service, the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, and any other relevant Federal agency.

(b) Contents.—The study required under subsection (a) shall include consideration of the following:

(1) The impacts of offshore wind projects on—

(A) whales, finfish, and other marine mammals;

(B) benthic resources;

(C) commercial and recreational fishing;

(D) air quality;

(E) cultural, historical, and archaeological resources;

(F) invertebrates;

(G) essential fish habitat;

(H) military use and navigation and vessel traffic;

(I) recreation and tourism; and

(J) the sustainability of shoreline beaches and inlets.

(2) The impacts of hurricanes and other severe weather on offshore wind projects.

(3) How the projects described in subsection (a) determine which stakeholders are consulted and if a timely, comprehensive comment period is provided for local representatives and other interested parties.

(4) The estimated cost and who pays for offshore wind projects.

SEC. 340J. GAO REPORT ON WIND ENERGY IMPACTS.

The Comptroller General of the United States shall publish a report on all potential adverse effects of wind energy development in the North Atlantic Planning Area (as described in the 2017-2022 Outer Continental Shelf Oil and Gas Leasing Proposed Final Program (November 2016)), including associated infrastructure and vessel traffic, on—

(1) maritime safety, including the operation of radar systems;

(2) economic impacts related to commercial fishing activities;

Subtitle B—Permitting Streamlining

SEC. 341. DEFINITIONS.

In this subtitle:

(1) ENERGY FACILITY.—The term ‘‘energy facility’’ means a facility the primary purpose and activity of which is for the development, production, conversion, gathering, storage, transfer, processing, or transportation of any energy resource.

(2) ENERGY STORAGE DEVICE.—The term ‘‘energy storage device’’—

(A) means any equipment that stores energy, including electricity, compressed air, compressed chemical heat, and hydrogen, which may be converted into, or used to produce, electricity; and

(B) includes a battery, regenerative fuel cell, flywheel, superconducting magnet, and any other equipment the Secretary concerned determines may be used to store energy which may be converted into, or used to produce, electricity.

(3) PUBLIC LANDS.—The term ‘‘public lands’’ means any land and interest in land owned by the United States within the several States and administered by the Secretary of the Interior or the Secretary of Agriculture without regard to how the United States acquired ownership.

Subtitle C—VIEW PROCESS STUDY

SEC. 342. STUDY.

It is the sense of Congress that in making a decision, including an analysis of any negative environmental impacts of not implementing the proposed agency action in the case of a no action alternative, that are technically and economically feasible, are within the jurisdiction of the agency, and which may be involved in the proposed agency action should it be implemented; and

(4) the relationship between local short-term use of man’s environment and the maintenance and enhancement of long-term productivity; and

(5) any irreversible or irretrievable commitments of Federal resources which would be involved in the proposed agency action should it be implemented.

(B) by striking ‘‘inure’’ and inserting ‘‘ensure’’;

(3) in subparagraph (C)—

(A) by inserting ‘‘consistent with the provisions of this Act and except as provided by other provisions of law,’’ before ‘‘includex in every’’; and

(4) by striking paragraphs (3) through (5) and inserting the following:

‘‘(i) reasonably foreseeable environmental effects with a reasonable certainty of relationship to the proposed agency action;’’

‘‘(ii) any reasonably foreseeable adverse environmental effects which cannot be avoided should the proposal be implemented;’’

‘‘(iii) a reasonable number of alternatives to the proposed agency action, including an analysis of any negative environmental impacts of not implementing the proposed agency action in the case of a no action alternative, that are technically and economically feasible, are within the jurisdiction of the agency, and which may be involved in the proposed agency action should it be implemented;’’; and

(C) by striking ‘‘the responsible Federal official’’ and inserting ‘‘the head of the lead agency’’;

(4) in subparagraph (D), by striking ‘‘Any’’ and inserting ‘‘any’’;

(5) by redesignating subheadings (D) through (I) as subheadings (E) through (K), respectively; involved Federal agencies, such agencies shall determine, by letter or memorandum, which agency shall be the lead agency based on consideration of the following factors:
(i) Magnitude of agency’s involvement.
(ii) Project approval or disproval authority.
(iii) Expertise concerning the action’s environmental effects.
(iv) Sequence of agency’s involvement.

SEC. 106. PROCEDURE FOR DETERMINATION OF LEVEL OF REVIEW.

(a) Threshold Determinations.—An agency is not required to prepare an environmental document with respect to a proposed agency action if:
(1) the proposed agency action is not a final action within the meaning of such term in chapter 5 of title 5, United States Code;
(2) the proposed agency action is covered by a determination established by the agency, another Federal agency, or another provision of law;
(3) the preparation of such document would clearly and fundamentally conflict with the requirements of another provision of law;
(4) the proposed agency action is, in whole or in part, a nondiscretionary action with respect to which such agency does not have authority to take environmental factors into consideration in determining whether to take the proposed action;
(5) the proposed agency action is a rule-making that is subject to section 553 of title 5, United States Code; or
(6) the proposed agency action is an action for which such agency’s compliance with another statute’s requirements serve the same or similar function as the requirements of this Act with respect to such action.

(b) Levels of Review.—
(1) Environmental Impact Statement.—An agency shall prepare an environmental impact statement with respect to a proposed agency action that has a significant effect on the quality of the human environment.
(2) Environmental Assessment.—An agency shall prepare an environmental assessment with respect to a proposed agency action that is not likely to have a significant effect on the quality of the human environment, or if the significance of such effect is unknown, unless the agency finds that a categorical exclusion established by the agency, another Federal agency, or another provision of law applies. Such environmental assessment shall be a concise public document prepared by a Federal agency to set forth the basis of such agency’s finding of no significant impact.
(3) Source of Information.—In making a determination under this subsection, an agency—
(A) may make use of any reliable data source; and
(B) is not required to undertake new scientific or technical research.

SEC. 107. TIMELY AND UNIFIED FEDERAL REVIEWS.

(a) Lead Agency.—
(1) In General.—If there are two or more involved Federal agencies, such agencies
(2) Notice of Intent.—An agency that receives a request under this paragraph shall transmit such request to each involved Federal agency and to the Council.

(c) Council Designation.—
(1) Request.—Not earlier than 45 days after the date on which a request is submitted under paragraph (1), a Federal, State, Tribal, or local agency or person that is substantially affected by the lack of designation of a lead agency may request that the Council designate a lead agency. Such request shall consist of—
(i) a precise description of the nature and extent of the proposed agency action; and
(ii) a detailed statement with respect to each involved Federal agency and each fact considered in paragraph (1) (regarding which agency should serve as lead agency).

(B) Transmission.—The Council shall transmit a request received under subparagraph (A) to each involved Federal agency.

(C) Response.—An involved Federal agency may, not later than 20 days after the date of the submission of a request under subparagraph (A), submit to the Council a response to such request.

(D) Designation.—Not later than 40 days after the date of the submission of a request under subparagraph (A), the Council shall designate the lead agency with respect to the relevant proposed agency action.

(2) Document.—To the extent practicable, if there are 2 or more involved Federal agencies with respect to a proposed agency action and the lead agency has determined that an environmental document is required, such requirement shall be deemed satisfied with respect to all involved Federal agencies if the lead agency issues such an environmental document.

(2) Consideration Timing.—In developing an environmental document for a proposed agency action, no involved Federal agency shall be required to consider any information that becomes available after the sooner of:
(A) receipt of a complete application with respect to such proposed agency action; or
(B) publication of a notice of intent or decision to prepare an environmental impact statement for such proposed agency action.

(3) Scope of Review.—In developing an environmental document for a proposed agency action, the lead agency and any other involved Federal agency shall consider the effects of the proposed agency action that:
(A) occur on Federal land; or
(B) are subject to Federal control and responsibility.

(c) Request for Public Comment.—Each notice of intent to prepare an environmental impact statement under section 102 shall include a request for public comment on alternatives or impacts and on relevant information, studies, or analyses with respect to the proposed agency action.

(d) Statement of Purpose and Need.—Each environmental impact statement shall include a statement that briefly summarizes the underlying purpose and need for the proposed agency action.

(6) Estimated Total Cost.—The cover sheet for each environmental impact statement shall include a statement of the estimated total cost of preparing such environmental impact statement, including the total agency direct and indirect costs, personnel hours, and other direct costs.

(7) Public Inspection.—
(1) Environmental Impact Statements.—
(A) In general.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), an environmental impact statement shall not exceed 150 pages, not including any citations or appendices.

(B) Extraordinary Complexity.—An environmental impact statement for a proposed agency action of extraordinary complexity shall not exceed 300 pages, not including any citations or appendices.

(c) Sponsor Preparation.—An agency shall not prepare an environmental assessment or an environmental impact statement upon request of the project sponsor. Such agency may provide such sponsor with appropriate guidance and assist in the preparation. The lead agency shall independently evaluate the environmental, economic, and social impact of any actions taken. The lead agency shall take responsibility for the contents upon adoption.

'’(h) DEADLINES.—

''(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2) with respect to a proposed agency action, a lead agency shall complete,
as applicable—

''(A) the environmental impact statement not later than the date that shall be 2 years after the sooner of, as applicable—

''(i) the date on which such agency deter-mates that section 102(2)(C) requires the issue, ment or environmental impact statement
with respect to such action;

''(ii) the date on which such agency notifies the applicant that the application to esablish a right-of-way for such action is complete; and

''(iii) the date on which such agency issues
a notice of intent to prepare the environmental impact statement for such action;

''(B) the environmental assessment not later than the date that is 1 year after the sooner of, as applicable—

''(i) the date on which such agency deter-mates that section 106(b)(2) requires the preparation of an environmental assessment
with respect to such action;

''(ii) the date on which such agency notifies the applicant that the application to esablish a right-of-way for such action is complete; and

a notice of intent to prepare the environmental assessment for such action.

''(i) the lead agency that deter-mates it is not able to meet the deadline described in paragraph (1) may extend such deadline with the approval of the applicant.
If the lead agency extends such an extension, the lead agency shall establish a new deadline that provides only so much additional time as is necessary to complete such environmental impact statement or environmental assessment.

''(3) EXPENDITURES FOR DELAY.—If a lead agency is unable to meet the deadline described in paragraph (1) or extended under paragraph (2), the lead agency must pay $100 per day, to the extent funding is provided in advance in an appropriates Act, out of the appropriation for that project of the department of the lead agency to the applicant starting on the first day immediately following the deadline described in paragraph (1) or extended under paragraph (2) up until the date that an applicant approves a new deadline. This paragraph does not apply when the lead agency misses a deadline solely due to delays caused by litigation.

''(1) REPORT.—

''(1) IN GENERAL.—The head of each lead agency shall annually submit to the Commitees on Appropriation of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Environment and Public Works of the Senate a report that—

''(A) identifies any environmental assessment and environmental impact statement that such lead agency did not complete by the deadline described in subsection (h); and

''(B) provides an explanation for any failure to meet such deadline.

''(2) INCLUSIONS.—Each report submitted
under paragraph (1) shall identify, as applicable—

''(A) the office, bureau, division, unit, or other entity within the Federal agency responsible for each such environmental asseessment and environmental impact statement;

''(B) the date on which—

''(i) such lead agency notified the applicant that the application to establish a right-of-way for the major Federal action is complete;

''(ii) such lead agency began the scope-ing for the major Federal action; or

''(iii) such lead agency issued a notice of intent to prepare the environmental assessment or environmental impact statement for the major Federal action; and

''(C) when such environmental assessment and environmental impact statement is expected to be complete.

'SEC. 106. JUDICIAL REVIEW.

''(a) LIMITATIONS ON CLAIMS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a claim arising under Federal law seeking judicial review of a determination made under this Act, or of Federal action resulting from a determination made under this Act, shall be barred unless—

''(1) in the case of a claim pertaining to a proposed agency action for which—

''(A) an environmental document was prepared and an opportunity for comment was provided;

''(B) the claim is filed by a party that participated in the administrative proceedings regarding such environmental document; and

''(C) the claim is filed by a party that participated in the public comment period for such environmental assessments and such comment was sufficiently detailed to put the lead agency on notice of the issue upon which the party seeks judicial review; and

''(ii) the date on which the party seeks such a determination is determined, as aplicable, in accordance with section 402;

''(ii) except as provided in subsection (b), such claim is filed not later than 120 days after the date of publication of a notice in the Federal Register of an agency intent to carry out the proposed agency action;

''(iii) such claim is filed after the issuance of a record of decision or other final agency ac-ction with respect to the relevant proposed agency action;

''(iv) such claim does not challenge the es-

''(v) such claim concerns—

''(A) an alternative included in the environmental document; or

''(B) a comment or effect considered in the environmental document.

''(b) SUPPLEMENTAL ENVIRONMENTAL IM-PACT STATEMENT.—

''(1) SEPARATE FINAL AGENCY ACTION.—The issuance of a Federal action resulting from a final supplemental environmental impact statement shall be considered a final agency action pursuant to chapter 5 of title 5, United States Code, separate from the issuance of any previous environmental impact statement with respect to the same proposed agency action.

''(2) DEADLINE FOR FILING A CLAIM.—A claim seeking judicial review of a Federal action arising from a final supplemental environmental impact statement shall be considered a final agency action determined in accordance with chapter 5 of title 5, United States Code, separate from the issuance of any previous environmental impact statement with respect to the same proposed agency action.

''(c) PROHIBITION ON INJUNCTIVE RELIEF.—

''(1) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘environmental assessment’ means an environmental impact statement, an environmental assessment, or a finding of no significant impact.

''(2) ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT STATEMENT.—

The term ‘environmental impact statement’ means a detailed written statement that includes a detailed analysis of the likely direct, indirect, and cumulative effect of a proposed action on the environment, including the impact on the human environment and the adverse impact on specific species of wildlife.

''(3) INCLUSIONS.—Each report submitted
under paragraph (1) shall identify, as applicable—

''(A) the office, bureau, division, unit, or other entity within the Federal agency responsible for each such environmental asseessment and environmental impact statement;

''(B) the date on which—

``(i) such lead agency notified the applicant that the application to establish a right-of-way for the major Federal action is complete;

``(ii) such lead agency began the scope-ing for the major Federal action; or

``(iii) such lead agency issued a notice of intent to prepare the environmental assessment or environmental impact statement
for the major Federal action; and

``(C) when such environmental assessment
and environmental impact statement is expected to be complete.

'SEC. 109. DEFINITIONS.

'’(8) ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT.—The term ‘environmental assessment’ means an environmental impact statement prepared under section 106(b)(2).

'’(9) ENVIRONMENTAL DOCUMENT.—The term ‘environmental document’ means an environmental impact statement, an environmental assessment, or a finding of no significant impact.

'’(10) ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT STATEMENT.—

The term ‘environmental impact statement’ means a detailed written statement that includes a detailed analysis of the likely direct, indirect, and cumulative effect
of a proposed action on the environment, including the impact on the human environment and the adverse impact on specific species of wildlife.

'’(11) INCLUSIONS.—Each report submitted
under paragraph (1) shall identify, as applicable—

'’(A) the office, bureau, division, unit, or other entity within the Federal agency responsible for each such environmental asseessment and environmental impact statement;

'’(B) the date on which—

'’(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2) with respect to a proposed agency action, a lead agency shall complete,
as applicable—

'’(A) the environmental impact statement not later than the date that shall be 2 years after the sooner of, as applicable—

'’(i) the date on which such agency deter-
mates that section 102(2)(C) requires the issue,
ment or environmental impact statement
with respect to such action;

'’(ii) the date on which such agency notifies the applicant that the application to esablish a right-of-way for such action is complete; and

a notice of intent to prepare the environmental impact statement for such action;

'’(B) the environmental assessment
not later than the date that is 1 year after the sooner of, as applicable—

'’(i) the date on which such agency deter-mates that section 106(b)(2) requires the preparation of an environmental assessment
with respect to such action;

'’(ii) the date on which such agency notifies the applicant that the application to esablish a right-of-way for such action is complete; and

a notice of intent to prepare the environmental assessment for such action.
“(ii) funding assistance solely in the form of general revenue sharing funds which do not provide Federal agency compliance or enforcement responsibility over the subsequent operation or use of the infrastructure; and

“(iii) loans, loan guarantees, or other forms of financial assistance where a Federal agency does not exercise sufficient control and responsibility over the effect of the action;

“(iv) farm ownership and operating loan guarantees by the Farm Service Agency pursuant to section 305 and 311 through 338 of the Consolidated Farmers Home Administration Act of 1961 (7 U.S.C. 1925 and 1941 through 1949);

“(v) loans or loan guarantees provided by the Small Business Administration pursuant to section 7(a) or (b) and of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 636(a), or title V of the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 (15 U.S.C. 646 et seq.);

“(E) EXPERTISE.—The term ‘special expertise’ means statutory responsibility, agency mission, or related program expertise.

“(F) NO NET LOSS DETERMINATION.—The term ‘reasonably foreseeable’ means likely to occur—

“(A) not later than 10 years after the lead agency begins preparing the environmental document; and “(B) in an area directly affected by the proposed agency action such that an individual of ordinary prudence would take such occurrence into account in reaching a decision.

“(14) SPECIAL EXPERTISE.—The term ‘special expertise’ means statutory responsibility, agency mission, or related program expertise.

“SEC. 343. CODIFICATION OF NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT REGULATIONS.

“The revisions to the Code of Federal Regulations made pursuant to the final rule of the Council on Environmental Quality titled ‘Update to the Regulations Implementing the Procedural Provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act’ and published on July 16, 2020 (85 Fed. Reg. 43304), shall have the same force and effect of law as if enacted by an Act of Congress.

“SEC. 344. NON-MAJOR FEDERAL ACTIONS.

“(a) Exemption.—An action by the Secretary concerned with respect to a covered activity shall not be considered a major Federal action under section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), if

“(1) the new proposed action is substantially the same as a previously analyzed proposed action or alternative analysis shall be provided;

“(2) the new proposed action is not major Federal action under section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332) with respect to any major Federal action, if such Secretary determines that—

“(A) the new proposed action is substantially the same as a previously analyzed proposed action or alternative analysis shall be provided, or environmental assessment or environmental impact statement; and

“(B) the effects of the proposed action are substantially the same as the effects analyzed in such existing environmental assessments or environmental impact statements.

“SEC. 347. DETERMINATION REGARDING RIGHTS-OF-WAY.

“Not later than 60 days after the Secretary concerned receives an application to grant a right-of-way, the Secretary concerned shall notify the applicant and the Secretary of the decision complete or deficient. If the Secretary concerned determines the application is complete, the Secretary concerned may not consider any other application to grant a right-of-way on the same or any overlapping parcels of land while such application is pending.

“SEC. 348. TERMS OF RIGHTS-OF-WAY.

“(a) Fifty-Year Terms for Rights-of-Way.—

“(1) In General.—Any right-of-way for pipelines for the transportation or distribution of oil or gas that is granted or renewed under Federal law may be limited to a term of not more than 50 years before such right-of-way is subject to renewal or amendment.

“(2) Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976.—Section 501 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1761) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(e) Any right-of-way granted, issued, amended, or renewed under subsection (a)(4) may be limited to a term of not more than 50 years before such right-of-way is subject to renewal or amendment.

“(b) Mineral Leasing Act.—Section 28(n) of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 153(n)) is amended by striking ‘thirty’ and inserting ‘50’.

“SEC. 349. FUNDING TO PROCESS PERMITS AND DEVELOP INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY.

“(a) In General.—In fiscal years 2023 through 2027, the Secretary concerned shall ensure that the total funds (acting through the Forest Service) and the Secretary of the Interior, after public notice, may accept and expend funds contributed by non-Federal entities, dedicated staff, information resource management, and information technology system development to expedite the evaluation of permits, biological opinions, concurrence letters, environmental surveys and studies, processing of applications, consultations, and other activities for the leasing, development, or expansion of an energy facility under the jurisdiction of the respective Secretaries.

“(b) EFFECT ON PERMITTING.—In carrying out the provisions of the administrative rules, and other regulations, concurrence letters, environmental surveys and studies, processing of applications, consultations, and other activities for the leasing, development, or expansion of an energy facility under the jurisdiction of the respective Secretaries.

“(c) STATEMENT FOR FAILURE TO ACCEPT OR EXPEND FUNDS.—Not later than 60 days after the end of the applicable fiscal year, the Secretary concerned shall submit to the Committee on Natural Resources of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate a report that includes—

“SEC. 346. DETERMINATION OF NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT DEFINITIONS.

“The Secretary concerned shall use previously completed environmental assessments and environmental impact statements to satisfy the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332) with respect to any major Federal action, if such Secretary determines that—

“(1) the new proposed action is substantially the same as a previously analyzed proposed action or alternative analysis shall be provided, or environmental assessment or environmental impact statement; and

“(2) the effects of the proposed action are substantially the same as the effects analyzed in such existing environmental assessments or environmental impact statements.

“SEC. 346. DETERMINATION OF NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT DEFINITIONS.

“The Secretary concerned shall use previously completed environmental assessments and environmental impact statements to satisfy the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332) with respect to any major Federal action, if such Secretary determines that—

“(1) the new proposed action is substantially the same as a previously analyzed proposed action or alternative analysis shall be provided, or environmental assessment or environmental impact statement; and

“(2) the effects of the proposed action are substantially the same as the effects analyzed in such existing environmental assessments or environmental impact statements.
(d) Prohibition.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of Agriculture (acting through the Forest Service) and the Secretary of the Interior may not accept contributions, as authorized by subsection (a), from non-Federal entities owned by the Communist Party of China (or a person or entity acting on behalf of the Communist Party of China).

(e) Report on Non-Federal Entities.—Not later than 60 days after the end of the applicable fiscal year, the Secretary of Agriculture (acting through the Forest Service) and the Secretary of the Interior shall submit to the Committee on Natural Resources of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Natural Resources of the Senate a report that includes, for each expenditure authorized by subsection (a)—

(1) the amount of funds accepted; and

(2) the contributing non-Federal entity.

SEC. 350. OFFSHORE GEOLOGICAL AND GEO-

PHYSICAL SURVEY LICENSING.

The Secretary of the Interior shall authorize geological and geophysical surveys related to oil and gas exploration and production for Mexico Outer Continental Shelf, except within areas subject to existing oil and gas leasing moratoria. Such authorizations shall be issued upon receipt of a completed application and shall, as applicable to survey type, comply with the mitigation and monitoring measures in subsections (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) of section 217.185 of title 50, Code of Federal Regulations (as in effect on January 1, 2022), and section 217.185 of title 50, Code of Federal Regulations (as in effect on January 1, 2022). Geological and geophysical surveys authorized pursuant to this section are deemed to be in full compliance with the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972 (as added by title II, subtitle E, section 537, of the General Reorganization Act of 1978) and the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.), and their implementing regulations.

SEC. 350A. DEFERRAL OF APPLICATIONS FOR PERMITS TO DRILL.

Section 17(g)(3) of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 226(g)(3)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(D) Deferral based on formatting issue.—If an application for a permit to drill may not be deferred under paragraph (2)(B) as a result of a formatting issue with the permit, unless such formatting issue results in missing information.”.

SEC. 350B. PROCESSING AND TERMS OF APPLICATIONS FOR PERMITS TO DRILL.

(a) Effect of Filing Civil Actions.—Section 17(p) of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 226(p)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(4) Effect of Filing Civil Action on Processing Applications for Permits to Drill.—Pursuant to the requirements of paragraph (2), notwithstanding the existence of any pending civil actions affecting the application for a Federal lease, the Secretary shall process an application for a permit to drill or other authorizations or approvals under a valid existing lease, unless a United States Federal court vacated such lease. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as providing authority to a Federal court to vacate a lease.”.

(b) Term of Permit to Drill.—Section 17 of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 226) is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(c) Term of Permit to Drill.—A permit to drill issued under this section after the date of the enactment of this subsection shall be valid for one four-year term from the date the permit is approved, or until the lease regarding which the permit is issued expires, whichever occurs first.”.

SEC. 350C. AMENDMENTS TO THE ENERGY POLICY ACT OF 2005.

Section 390 of the Energy Policy Act of 2005 (42 U.S.C. 15942) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 390. NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT REVIEW.

“(a) National Environmental Policy Act Review.—Action by the Secretary of the Interior, in managing the public lands, or the Secretary of Agriculture in managing National Forest System lands, with respect to any of the activities described in subsection (c), shall not be considered a major Federal action for the purposes of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, if the activity is conducted pursuant to the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 181 et seq.) for the purpose of exploration or development of oil or gas.

“(b) Application.—This section shall not apply to an action of the Secretary of the Interior or the Secretary of Agriculture on Indian lands or resources managed in trust for the benefit of Indian Tribes.

“(1) Reinstating a lease pursuant to section 31 of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 188).

“(2) The following activities, provided that any new surface disturbance is contiguous with the footprint of the original authorization and does not exceed 20 acres or the acreage has previously been evaluated in a document prepared under section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)) with respect to such activity:

“(C) Expansion or modification of an existing oil or gas well pad site, road, pipeline, facility, or utility submitted in a sundry notice.

“(D) Drilling of an oil or gas well at a new well pad site, provided that the new well pad site does not exceed 20 acres and the acreage evaluated in a document prepared under section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)) with respect to such activity, whichever is greater.

“(E) Construction or realignment of a road, pipeline, or utility within an existing right-of-way or without a right-of-way corridor established in a land use plan.

“(F) The following activities when conducted from non-Federal surface into federally owned minerals, provided that the operator submits to the Secretary concerned certification of a surface use agreement with the non-Federal landowner:

“(A) Drilling an oil or gas well at a well pad site at which drilling has occurred previously.

“(B) Expansion of an existing oil or gas well pad site to accommodate an additional well.

“(C) Expansion or modification of an existing oil or gas well pad site, road, pipeline, facility, or utility submitted in a sundry notice.

“(D) Drilling of an oil or gas well from non-Federal surface into Federal mineral estate, subject to restriction against alienation under laws of the United States; or “(E) Construction or realignment of a road, pipeline, or utility within an existing right-of-way or without a right-of-way corridor established in a land use plan.

“(G) The following activities when done under paragraphs (1) through (E) in connection with a geothermal project under section 210 of the Geothermal Steam Act of 1970 (30 U.S.C. 1001 et seq.) for the purpose of exploration or development of oil or gas.

“(H) Construction or realignment of a road, pipeline, or utility within an existing right-of-way or without a right-of-way corridor established in a land use plan.

“(I) The following activities when done under paragraph (1) in connection with a geothermal project under section 210 of the Geothermal Steam Act of 1970 (30 U.S.C. 1001 et seq.) for the purpose of exploration or development of oil or gas:

“(A) Construction or realignment of a road, pipeline, or utility within an existing right-of-way or without a right-of-way corridor established in a land use plan.”.

SEC. 350D. ACCESS TO FEDERAL ENERGY RE-

SOURCES FROM NON-FEDERAL SUR-

FACE ESTATE.

(a) Oil and Gas Permits.—Section 17 of the Mineral Leasing Act (30 U.S.C. 226) is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(G) No Federal Permit Required for Oil and Gas Activities on Certain Land.

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall not require an operator to obtain a Federal drilling permit for oil and gas exploration and production activities conducted on non-Federal surface estate, provided that—

“(A) the United States holds an ownership interest of less than 50 percent of the subsurface mineral estate to be accessed by the proposed action; and

“(B) the operator submits to the Secretary a State permit to conduct oil and gas exploration and production activities on the non-Federal surface estate.”.

(b) Geothermal Permits.—Section 210 of the Geothermal Steam Act of 1970 (30 U.S.C. 1001 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(G) No Federal Permit Required for Geothermal Activities on Certain Land.

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall not require an operator to obtain a Federal drilling permit for geothermal exploration and production activities conducted on a non-Federal surface estate, provided that—

“(A) the United States holds an ownership interest of less than 50 percent of the subsurface geothermal estate to be accessed by the proposed action; and “(2) the operator submits to the Secretary a State permit to conduct geothermal exploration and production activities on the non-Federal surface estate.

“(b) NO FEDERAL ACTION.—A geothermal exploration and production activity carried out under paragraph (1)—

“(1) shall not be considered a major Federal action for the purposes of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969;

“(2) shall require no additional Federal action; and

“(3) may commence 30 days after submission of the State permit to the Secretary; and

“(4) shall not be subject to—

“(A) section 306108 of title 54, United States Code (commonly known as the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966); and

“(c) ROYALTIES AND PRODUCTION ACCOUNTABILITY.—(1) Nothing in this section shall affect the amount of royalties due to the United States under this Act from the production of electricity using geothermal resources (other than direct use of geothermal resources) or the production of any byproducts.

“(2) The Secretary may conduct onsite reviews to ensure proper accountability, measurement, and reporting of the production described in paragraph (1), and payment of royalties.

“(d) Exclusions.—This section shall not apply to actions on Indian lands or resources managed in trust for the benefit of Indian Tribes.

“(e) INDIAN LAND.—In this section, the term ‘Indian land’ means—

“(1) any land located within the boundaries of an Indian reservation, pueblo, or rancheria; and

“(2) any land located within the boundaries of an Indian reservation, pueblo, or rancheria, the title to which is held—

“(A) in trust by the United States for the benefit of an Indian tribe or an individual Indian;

“(B) by an Indian tribe or an individual Indian, subject to restriction against alienation under laws of the United States; or

“(C) by a dependent Indian community.”.

SEC. 350E. SCOPE OF ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEWS OF EXPANDING GAS LEASES.

An environmental review for an oil and gas lease or permit prepared pursuant to the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) and its implementing regulations—

(1) shall only apply to areas that are within or immediately adjacent to the lease plot or plots that are directly affected by the proposed action; and

(2) shall not require consideration of downstream, indirect effects of oil and gas consumption.

SEC. 350F. EXPEDITING APPROVAL OF GATHERING LINES.

Section 11318(b)(1) of the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (42 U.S.C. 15943(b)(1)) is amended by striking ‘‘to be an action that is categorically excluded (as defined in section 139B.1 of title 48, Code of Federal Regulations (as in effect on the date of enactment of this Act))’’ and inserting ‘‘to not be a major Federal action’’.

SEC. 350G. LEASE SALE LITIGATION.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any oil and gas lease sale held under section 17 of the Mineral Leasing Act (26 U.S.C. 226) or the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (43 U.S.C. 1331 et seq.) shall not be vacated unless a lease and any lease amendments in the sale shall not be otherwise limited, delayed, or enjoined unless the court concludes allowing development of the challenged lease will pose a risk of an imminent and substantial environmental harm and there is no other equitable remedy available as a matter of law. In response to an action brought pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. et seq.), any court may enjoin or issue any order preventing the allowance of a lease sale conducted pursuant to section 17 of the Mineral Leasing Act (26 U.S.C. 226) or the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (43 U.S.C. 1331 et seq.) if the court finds that the Interior has previously opened bids for such leases or disclosed the high bidder for any tract that was included in such lease sale.

SEC. 350H. LIMD SECOND AWARD CLAUSES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a claim arising under Federal law seeking judicial review of a permit, license, or approval issued by a Federal agency for a minor project, energy facility, or energy storage device shall be barred unless—

“(1) the claim is filed within 120 days after publication of a notice in the Federal Register announcing that the permit, license, or approval is final pursuant to the law under which the agency action is taken, unless a shorter time is specified in the Federal law pursuant to which judicial review is allowed; and

“(2) the claim is filed by a party that submitted a comment during the public comment period for such permit, license, or approval and such comment was sufficiently detailed to allow the agency on notice of the issue upon which the party seeks judicial review.

(b) SAVINGS CLAUSE.—Nothing in this section shall preclude a claim subject to section 139(l)(1) of title 23, United States Code.

(c) TRANSPORTATION PROJECTS.—Subsection (a) shall not apply to or supersede a claim subject to section 139(l)(1) of title 23, United States Code.

(d) MINERAL PROJECT.—In this section, the term ‘mineral project’ means a project—

“(A) a mining claim, millsite claim, or tunnel site claim; or “(B) lands open to mineral entry; or

“(C) a Federal mineral lease; and

“(2) for the purposes of exploring for or producing minerals.

SEC. 350I. GOVERNMENT ACCOUNTABILITY OF FEDERAL ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEWS OF PERMITS TO DRILL.

(a) REPORT.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General of the United States shall issue a report detailing—

“(1) the appropriate timelines for applications for permits to drill issued by the Bureau of Land Management from 2018 through 2022;

“(2) the number of applications for permits to drill that were not issued within 30 days of receipt of a completed application; and

(b) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The report issued under subsection (a) shall include recommendations with respect to—

“(1) actions the Bureau of Land Management can take to streamline the approval process for permits to drill to allow for appropriate applications for permits to drill within 30 days of receipt of a completed application;

“(2) the effects of the Federal permitting processes carried out by the Bureau of Land Management to issue applications for permits to drill that can be turned over to States to expedite approval of applications for permits to drill; and

“(3) legislative actions that Congress must take to allow States to administer certain aspects of the Federal permitting process described in paragraph (2).

SEC. 350L. E-NPEA.

(a) PERMITTING PORTAL STUDY.—The Council on Environmental Quality shall conduct a study and submit a report to Congress within 1 year of the enactment of this Act on the potential to create an online permitting portal for permits that require review under section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)) that would—

“(B) upload additional documents as required by the applicable agency; and “(C) track the progress of individual applications;

“(2) enhance interagency coordination in consultation by—

“(A) allowing for comments in one unified portal; and

“(B) centralizing data necessary for reviews; and “(C) streamlining communications between other agencies and the applicant; and “(3) boost transparency in agency decision-making.

(b) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is authorized to be appropriated $300,000 for the Council on Environmental Quality to carry out the study directed by this section.

SEC. 350K. LIMITATIONS ON CLAIMS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 139(l)(1) of title 23, United States Code, is amended by striking ‘‘150 days’’ each place it appears and inserting ‘‘90 days’’.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

“(1) Section 330(e) of title 23, United States Code, is amended—

“(A) in paragraph (2)(A), by striking ‘‘150 days’’ and inserting ‘‘90 days’’; and “(B) in paragraph (3)(B)(i), by striking ‘‘150 days’’ and inserting ‘‘90 days’’.

“(2) Section 24201(a)(4) of title 49, United States Code, is amended by striking ‘‘150 days’’.

SEC. 350L. ONE FEDERAL DECISION FOR PIPELINES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 601 of title 49, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(a) EFFICIENT ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEWS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Transportation shall apply the project development procedures, to the greatest extent feasible, described in section 139 of title 23 to any pipeline project that requires the approval of the Secretary under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.).

“(2) REGULATIONS AND PROCEDURES.—In carrying out paragraph (1), the Secretary shall incorporate into agency regulations and procedures pertaining to pipeline projects described in paragraph (1) aspects of such project development procedures, or portions thereof, determined appropriate by the Secretary in a manner consistent with this section that increase the efficiency of the review of pipeline projects.

“(3) DISCRETION.—The Secretary may choose not to incorporate into agency regulations and procedures relating to pipeline projects described in paragraph (1) such project development procedures that could only feasibly apply to highway projects, public transportation capital projects, and multimodal projects.

(4) APPLICABILITY.—Subsection (i) of section 139 of title 23 shall apply to pipeline projects described in paragraph (1).

"(b) ADDITIONAL CATEGORICAL EXCLUSIONS.—The Secretary shall maintain and make publicly available on the Internet, a database that identifies project-specific information on the use of a categorical exclusion on any pipeline project carried out under this section.

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The analysis for chapter 601 of title 49, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:--

"Sec. 80144. Efficient environmental reviews and one Federal decision.

SEC. 350M. EXEMPTION OF CERTAIN WILDFIRE MITIGATION ACTIVITIES FROM CERTAIN ENVIRONMENTAL REQUIREMENTS. (a) IN GENERAL.—Wildfire mitigation activities of the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture may be carried out without regard to the provisions of law specified in subsection (b).

(b) PROVISIONS OF LAW SPECIFIED.—The provisions of law specified in this section are all Federal, State, or other laws, regulations, and judicial or administrative interpretive pronouncements or related to the subject of the following:

(1) Section 422(c)(1)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)).

(c) WILDFIRE MITIGATION ACTIVITY.—For purposes of this section, the term "wildfire mitigation activity"—

(1) includes any activity conducted on Federal land that is

(A) located on public lands administered by the Secretary of Agriculture or the Secretary of the Interior; and

(B) within 500 feet of any permanent or temporary road, as measured from the center of such road; and

(2) includes forest thinning, hazardous fuel reduction, prescribed burning, and vegetation management.

SEC. 340N. VEGETATION MANAGEMENT, FACILITY INSPECTION, AND OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE RELATING TO ELECTRIC TRANSMISSION AND DISTRIBUTION RIGHTS-OF-WAY.

(b) CONSULTATION WITH PRIVATE LANDOWNERS.—Section 512(c)(3)(E) of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1772(c)(3)(E)) is amended—

(1) in clause (i), by striking "and" at the end;

(2) in clause (ii), by striking the period and inserting "; and";

and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

"(iii) consulting with private landowners with respect to any hazard trees identified for removal from land owned by such private landowners.".

(c) REVIEW AND APPROVAL PROCESS.—Clauses (i) through (iv) of section 512(c)(4)(A) of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1772(c)(4)(A)) are amended to read as follows—

"(iv) except that—

"(1) a plan submitted without a modification under clause (iii) shall be automatically approved 60 days after review; and

"(2) a plan submitted with a modification under clause (iii) shall be automatically approved 67 days after review.

SEC. 350Q. CATEGORICAL EXCLUSION FOR ELECTRIC UTILITY LINES RIGHTS-OF-WAY. (a) SECRETARY CONCERNED DEFINED.—In this section, the term "Secretary concerned" means—

(1) the Secretary of Agriculture, with respect to Federal lands;

(2) the Secretary of the Interior, with respect to public lands.

(b) CATEGORICAL EXCLUSION ESTABLISHED.—Forest management activities described in subsection (c) are a category of activities designated as being categorically excluded from the preparation of an environmental assessment or an environmental impact statement under section 102 of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332).

(c) FOREST MANAGEMENT ACTIVITIES DESIGNATED AS CATEGORICAL EXCLUSION.—The forest management activities designated as being categorically excluded under subsection (a) are—

(1) the development and approval of a vegetation management, facility inspection, and operation and maintenance plan submitted under section 512(c)(1) of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1772(c)(1)) by the Secretary concerned; and

(2) the implementation of routine activities conducted under the plan referred to in paragraph (1).

(d) AVAILABILITY OF CATEGORICAL EXCLUSION.—The availability of the categorical exclusion established under subsection (b) shall not apply to any forest management activity conducted—

(1) in a component of the National Wilderness Preservation System; or

(2) on National Forest System lands on which, by Act of Congress, the removal of vegetation is restricted or prohibited.

(e) PERMANENT ROADS.—

(1) PROHIBITION ON ESTABLISHMENT.—A forest management activity designated under subsection (c) shall not include the establishment of a permanent road.

(2) EXISTING ROADS.—The Secretary concerned may approve the carrying out of a forest management activity designated under subsection (c) on an existing road for which analysis is not required under the extraordinary circumstances procedures in section 220.6, title 36, Code of Federal Regulations, or section 1508.4, title 40, Code of Federal Regulations.

(f) EXCLUSION OF CERTAIN AREAS.—The categorical exclusion established under subsection (b) shall not apply to any forest management activity conducted—in a component of the National Wilderness Preservation System; or on National Forest System lands on which, by Act of Congress, the removal of vegetation is restricted or prohibited.

(g) TEMPORARY ROADS.—

(1) PROHIBITION ON ESTABLISHMENT.—A forest management activity designated under subsection (c) shall not include the establishment of a temporary road.

(2) EXISTING ROADS.—The Secretary concerned may approve the carrying out of a forest management activity designated under subsection (c) on an existing road.

(h) APPLICABLE LAWS.—A forest management activity designated under subsection (c) shall not be subject to section 7 of the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. 1536), section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, and any other applicable law.

SEC. 350P. STAFFING PLANS. (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 365 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary concerned shall:

(1) develop a plan for staffing the Forest Service, Bureau ofLand Management, and Forest Service—

(A) to conduct an outreach plan for disseminating and advertising open civil service positions relating to permitting or natural resources in their offices.

Each such plan shall include outreach to local high schools, community colleges, institutions of higher education, and any other relevant institutions, as determined by the Secretary of the Interior or the Secretary of Agriculture (as the case may be).

(2) develop an outreach plan for mining permits that may collaborate to produce a joint outreach plan that meets the requirements of subsection (a).

(b) COLLABORATION PERMITTED.—Such local units of the National Park Service, Bureau of Land Management, and Forest Service located in reasonably close geographic areas may collaborate to produce a joint outreach plan that meets the requirements of subsection (a).

SEC. 351. DEFINITIONS. In this title:

(1) BYPRODUCT.—The term "byproduct" has the meaning given such term in section 1001(b) of the Energy Act of 2020 (30 U.S.C. 1606(a)).

(2) INDIAN TRIBE.—The term "Indian Tribe" has the meaning given such term in section 4 of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 5304).

(3) MINERAL.—The term "mineral" means any mineral of a kind that is locatable (including, but not limited to, such minerals located on "lands acquired by the United States", as such term is defined in section 2 of the Mineral Leasing Act for Acquired Lands under the Act of May 10, 1872 (Chapter 152; 17 Stat. 91).

(4) SECRETARY.—Except as otherwise provided, the term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior.

(5) STATE.—The term "State" means—

(A) a State;

(B) the District of Columbia;

(C) the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico;

(D) Guam;

(E) American Samoa;

(F) the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands; and

(G) the United States Virgin Islands.

SEC. 352. MINERALS SUPPLY CHAIN AND RELIABILITY. Section 40206 of the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (30 U.S.C. 1607) is amended—

(1) in the section heading, by striking "CRITICAL MINERALS" and inserting "MINERALS";

(2) by amending subsection (a) to read as follows:

"(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

"(1) LEAD AGENCY.—The term 'lead agency' means the Federal agency with primary responsibility for issuing a mineral exploration or mine permit or lease for a mineral project.

"(2) MINERAL.—The term 'mineral' has the meaning given such term in section 20031 of the TAPP American Resources Act.

"(3) MINERAL EXPLORATION OR MINE PERMIT.—The term 'mineral exploration or mine permit' means—

"(A) an authorization by the Bureau of Land Management or the Forest Service, as applicable, for exploration for minerals that requires analysis under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969;

"(B) a plan of operations for a mineral project approved by the Bureau of Land Management or the Forest Service; or

"(C) any other Federal permit or authorization for a mineral project.

"(4) MINERAL PROJECT.—The term 'mineral project' means a project—

(A) located on—

(i) a mining claim, millsite claim, or tunnel site claim for any mineral,

(ii) lands open to mineral entry; or

(iii) a Federal mineral lease; and

(B) for the purposes of exploring for or producing minerals.

(3) by striking "critical" each place such term appears; and

(4) in subsection (c)—

"(a) MINERAL SUPPLY CHAIN IMPACTS—In this section:

"(1) MINERAL SUPPLY CHAIN.—The term "mineral supply chain" means the flow of minerals from their point of extraction to the point of importation and includes any parts of the supply chain outside the United States.
(A) by striking “critical mineral production on Federal land” and inserting “mineral projects”;
(B) by inserting “, and in accordance with subsection (d)”;
(C) by striking “to the maximum extent practicable”;
(D) by striking “shall complete the” and inserting “shall complete such”;
(E) in paragraph (1), by striking “critical mineral-related activities on Federal land” and inserting “mineral projects”;
(F) in paragraph (9), by striking “procedures,” and inserting “procedures;” and
(G) by adding at the end the following:

“(10) in subsection (d), by striking “critical mineral projects’’;

(2) in subsection (f), by striking “critical’’;

(3) in paragraph (1), by striking “critical’’ each place such term appears; and

(4) in subsection (g), by striking “critical’’ each place such term appears; and

(5) by adding at the end:

“(h) OTHER REQUIREMENTS.—

(1) MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT.—For purposes of maximizing efficiency and effectiveness of the Federal permitting and review processes described under subsection (c), the lead agency in the Federal permitting and review processes of a mineral project shall (in consultation with any other Federal agency involved in such Federal permitting and review processes, and upon request of the project applicant, an affected State government, local government, or an Indian Tribe, or other entity such lead agency determines appropriate) enter into a memorandum of agreement with a project applicant where requested by the applicant to carry out the activities described in subsection (c).

(2) TIMELINES AND SCHEDULES FOR NEPA REVIEW.

(A) EXTENSION.—A project applicant may enter into 1 or more agreements with a lead agency to extend the deadlines described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of subsection (h)(1) of section 10102 of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 by, with respect to each such agreement, not more than 6 months.

(B) ADJUSTMENT OF TIMELINES.—At the request of a project applicant, the lead agency and any other entity which is a signatory to a memorandum of agreement under paragraph (1) may, by unanimous agreement, adjourn—

(i) any deadlines described in subparagraph (A); and

(ii) any deadlines extended under subparagraph (B).

(3) EFFORT ON PENDING APPLICATIONS.—Upon a written request by a project applicant, the requirements of this subsection shall apply to any application for a mineral exploration or mine permit or mineral lease that was submitted before the date of the enactment of the TAPP American Resources Act.”.

SEC. 355. FEDERAL REGISTER PROCESS IMPROVEMENT.

Section 7002(f) of the Energy Act of 2020 (30 U.S.C. 1606(f)) is amended—

(1) by striking “critical’’ each place such term appears; and

(2) by striking paragraph (4).

SEC. 354. DESIGNATION OF MINING AS A COVERED SECTOR FOR FEDERAL PERMITTING IMPROVEMENT PURPOSES.

Section 41001(b)(6) of the FAST Act (42 U.S.C. 4370m(b)(6)(A)) is amended by inserting “mineral production,” before “or any other sector”.

SEC. 355. TREATMENT OF ACTIONS UNDER PRESIDENTIAL DETERMINATION 2022–11 FOR FEDERAL PERMITTING IMPROVEMENT PURPOSES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided by subsection (c), an action described in subsection (b) shall be—

(1) treated as a covered project, as defined in section 41001(b) of the FAST Act (42 U.S.C. 4370m(b)), without regard to the requirements of that section; and

(2) included in the Permitting Dashboard maintained pursuant to section 41003(b) of that Act (42 U.S.C. 4370m–2(b)).

(b) ACTIONS DESCRIBED.—An action described in this subsection is an action taken by the Secretary of Defense pursuant to Presidential Determination 2022–11 (67 Fed. Reg. 19755, relating to certain actions under subsection 303 of the Defense Production Act of 1950) or the Presidential Memorandum of February 27, 2023, titled ‘‘Presidential Waiver of Environmental Review Requirements Pursuant to Section 303 of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, on Department of Defense Supply Chains Resilience’’ (66 Fed. Reg. 19015) can maintain, protect, expand, or restore sustainable and responsible domestic production capabilities through—

(1) supporting feasibility studies for mature mining, beneficiation, and value-added processing projects;

(2) byproduct and co-product production at existing mining, mine waste reclamation, and other industrial facilities;

(3) modernization of mining, beneficiation, and value-added processing to increase productivity, environmental sustainability, and workforce safety; and

(4) any other activity authorized under section 303(a)(1) of the Defense Production Act of 1950 15 (50 U.S.C. 4370m(a)(1)).

(c) EXCEPTION.—An action described in subsection (b) may not be treated as a covered project or be included in the Permitting Dashboard under subsection (a) if the project sponsor (as defined in section 41001(b) of the FAST Act (42 U.S.C. 4370m(b))) requests that the action not be treated as a covered project.

SEC. 356. NOTICE FOR MINERAL EXPLORATION ACTIVITIES WITH LIMITED SURFACE DISTURBANCE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 15 days before commencing an exploration activity with a surface disturbance of not more than 5 acres of public lands, the operator of such exploration activity shall submit to the Secretary a complete notice of such exploration activity.

(b) INCLUSION.—Notice submitted under subsection (a) shall include such information the Secretary may require, including the information described in section 3809.301 of title 43, Code of Federal Regulations (or any successor regulation).

(c) REVIEW.—Not later than 15 days after the Secretary receives notice submitted under subsection (a), the Secretary shall—

(1) review and determine completeness of the notice submitted; and

(2) allow exploration activities to proceed if—

(A) the surface disturbance of such exploration activity on such public lands will not exceed 5 acres;

(B) the Secretary, acting through the Director of the U.S. Geological Survey, shall publish in the Federal Register an update to

SEC. 357. USE OF MINING CLAIMS FOR ANCILLARY ACTIVITIES.

Section 10101 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993 (30 U.S.C. 281) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(d) OPERATIONS DEFINED.—For the purposes of this section, the term ‘operations’ means—

(1) any activity or work carried out in connection with prospecting, exploration, processing, discovery and assessment, development, or extraction with respect to a locatable mineral;

(2) the reclamation of any disturbed areas; and

(3) any other reasonably incident uses, whether on a mining claim or not, including the construction and maintenance of facilities, roads, transmission lines, and any other necessary infrastructure or means of access on public land for support facilities.

“(e) FULFILLMENT OF FEDERAL LAND POLICY AND MANAGEMENT ACT.—A claimant that fulfills the requirements of this section and section 10102 shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements of any provision of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act that requires the payment of fair market value to the United States for use of public lands and resources relating to use of such lands and resources authorized by the general mining laws.

“(f) SECURITY OF TENURE.—Nothing in this subsection may be construed to diminish the rights of entry, use, and occupancy, or any other right, of a claimant under the general mining laws.

“(g) SAVINGS CLAUSE.—Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to diminish the rights of entry, use, and occupancy, or any other right, of a claimant under the general mining laws.

SEC. 358. RECONSIDERATION OF URANIUM AS A CRITICAL MINERAL.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 7002(a)(3)(B)(i) of the Energy Act of 2020 (30 U.S.C. 1621(b)(1)) is amended to read as follows:

“(A) oil, oil shale, coal, or natural gas;”;

(b) UPDATE.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this section, the Secretary, acting through the Director of the United States Geological Survey, shall publish in the Federal Register an update to the final list established in section 7002(c)(3) of the Energy Act of 2020 (30 U.S.C. 1606(c)(3)) in accordance with subsection (a) of this section.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary, acting through the Director of the United States Geological Survey, in consultation with the Secretary of Energy, shall submit to the appropriate committees of Congress a report that includes the following:

(1) The current status of uranium deposits in the United States with respect to the amount and quality of uranium contained in such deposits;

(2) A comparison of the United States to the rest of the world with respect to the amount and quality of uranium contained in uranium deposits;

(3) Policy considerations, including potential challenges, of utilizing the uranium from the deposits described in paragraph (1).

SEC. 359. BARRING FOREIGN BAD ACTORS FROM OPERATING ON FEDERAL LANDS.

A mining claimant shall be barred from the right to use, occupy, and conduct operations on Federal lands if the Secretary of the Interior finds that the claimant has a foreign parent company that has (including through a subsidiary):

(1) a known record of human rights violations; or

(2) knowingly operated an illegal mine in another country.

SEC. 360. PERMIT PROCESS FOR PROJECTS RELATING TO EXTRACTION, RECOVERY, OR PROCESSING OF CRITICAL MATERIALS.

(a) DEFINITION OF COVERED PROJECT.—Section 41001(d)(A) of the FAST Act (42 U.S.C. 4370m(6)(A)) is amended—

(1) in clause (iii)(I), by striking “;” and inserting “;”;

(2) in clause (iv)(I), by striking the period at the end and inserting “;”;

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“; (v) is related to the extraction, recovery, or processing of coal, coal processing waste, pre-post combustion coal byproducts, or acid mine drainage from coal mines of—

“(I) critical minerals (as such term is defined in section 7002 of the Energy Act of 2020);

“(II) rare earth elements; or

“(III) microfine carbon or carbon from coal.”

(b) REPORT.—Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of the Interior shall submit to the Committees on Energy and Natural Resources, Agriculture, Science, and Transportation of the Senate and the Committees on Transportation and Infrastructure, Natural Resources, and Energy and Commerce of the House of Representatives a report evaluating the timeliness of implementation of reforms of the permitting process required as a result of the amendments made by this section on the following:

(1) The economic and national security of the United States;

(2) Domestic production and supply of critical minerals, rare earths, and microfine carbon or carbon from coal.

SEC. 360A. NATIONAL STRATEGY TO RE-SHORE MINERAL SUPPLY CHAINS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the United States Geological Survey, in consultation with the Secretaries of Defense, Energy, and State, shall—

(1) identify mineral commodities that—

(A) serve a critical purpose to the national security of the United States, including with respect to military, defense, and strategic mobility applications; and

(B) are at highest risk of supply chain disruption due to the domestic or global actions of any covered entity, including price-fixing, systemic acquisition and control of global mineral resource assessment, mining, and smelting capacity, and undercutting the fair market value of such resources; and

(2) develop a national strategy for bolstering domestic mineral supply chains for the mineral commodities identified under paragraph (1), including through the enactment of new national policies and the utilization of appropriate administrative authorities, to increase capacity and efficiency of domestic mining, refining, processing, and manufacturing of such mineral commodities.

(b) COVERED ENTITY.—In this section, the term “covered entity” means an entity—

(1) subject to the jurisdiction or direction of the People’s Republic of China;

(2) is directly or indirectly operating on behalf of the People’s Republic of China; or

(3) is owned by, directly or indirectly controlled by, or otherwise subject to the influence of the People’s Republic of China.

Subtitle D—Federal Land Use Planning

SEC. 361. FEDERAL LAND USE PLANNING AND WITHDRAWAL.

(a) RESOURCE ASSESSMENTS REQUIRED.—Federal lands and waters may not be withdrawn from entry under the mining laws or operation of the mineral leasing and mineral materials laws pursuant to—

(1) a quantitative and qualitative geochemical and geological mineral resource assessment of the impacted area has been completed within the 10-year period ending on the date of such withdrawal;

(2) the Secretary, in consultation with the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Energy, and the Secretary of Defense, conducts an assessment of the economic, energy, strategic, and national security value of mineral deposits identified in such mineral resource assessment;

(3) the Secretary conducts an assessment of the reduction in future Federal revenues to the Treasury, States, the Land and Water Conservation Fund, the Historic Preservation Fund, and the National Parks and Public Land Legacy Restoration Fund resulting from the proposed withdrawal;

(4) the Secretary, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, conducts an assessment of military readiness and training activities on the withdrawal area; and

(5) the Secretary submits a report to the Committees on Natural Resources, Agriculture, Energy and Commerce, and the Committees on Energy and Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Foreign Affairs of the Senate, that includes the results of the assessments completed pursuant to this subsection.

(b) LAND USE PLANS.—Before a resource management plan under the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.) or a forest management plan under the National Forest Management Act is updated or completed, the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of Commerce, as applicable, may not rescind any existing lease, permit, or claim for the extraction and production of any mineral under the mining laws or mineral leasing and mineral materials laws on National Forest System land or land under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Land Management, unless specifically authorized by the Federal statute, or upon the lease, permit, or claim’s failure to comply with any of the terms or conditions of the applicable lease, permit, or claim.

(c) MINERAL DEFINED.—In subsection (a)(3), the term “mineral” means a kind that is locatable (including such minerals located on “lands acquired by the United States”, as such term is defined in section 2 of the Mineral Lands and Timber Act (for Acquired Lands) under the Act of May 10, 1872 (Chapter 152; 17 Stat. 91).

SEC. 363. DEFINITIONS.

In this subtitle:

(1) FEDERAL LAND.—The term “Federal land” means—

(A) National Forest System land;

(B) lands (as defined in section 103 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1702));
(c) the outer Continental Shelf (as defined in section 2 of the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (43 U.S.C. 1331)); and

(d) land managed by the Secretary of Energy.

(2) President.—The term "President" means—

(A) the President; and

(B) any designee of the President, including—

(i) the Secretary of Agriculture;

(ii) the Secretary of Commerce;

(iii) the Administrator of Energy; and

(iv) the Secretary of the Interior.

(3) Previously undiscovered deposit.—The term "previously undiscovered mineral deposit" means—

(i) in paragraph (2)—

(I) insert "either" after "rentals and"; and

(II) insert "or the inclusion in a reissued lease issued pursuant to the provisions of section 17(c) of this Act of a requirement that future rentals shall be at a rate not less than $5 per acre per year," but only in accordance with subsection (b)(1) of this Act; and

(ii) by amending paragraph (3) to read as follows:

(3)(A) the payment of back royalties and the inclusion in a reissued lease issued pursuant to the provisions of section 17(b) of this Act of a requirement for future royalties at a rate of not less than 16 percent computed on a sliding scale based upon the average production per well per day, at a rate which shall not be less than 4 percentage points greater than the competitive royalty schedule then in force and used for royalty determinations for competitive leases issued pursuant to such section as determined by the Secretary; Provided, That royalty on such reissued lease shall be paid on all production removed or sold from such lease subsequent to the termination of the original lease;
“(B) payment of back royalties and inclusion in a reinstated lease issued pursuant to the provisions of section 17(c) of this Act of a requirement for future royalties at a rate not less than 16 2/3 percent; Provided, That back rental and royalty accruing from the statute date of abandonment of the oil placer mining claim, being filed with the Secretary, will be credited to any claim deemed conclusively abandoned on or before January 12, 1983, on or before the one hundred and twentieth day after January 12, 1983, conclusion of the investigation into the abandonment, and (f)’’;

(1) in paragraph (1), strike ‘‘in the same manner as the original lease issued pursuant to section 17(f)’’ and insert ‘‘as a competitive or a noncompetitive oil and gas lease in the same manner as the original lease issued pursuant to subsection (b) or (c) of section 17 of this Act’’;

(ii) by redesignating paragraphs (2) and (3) as paragraphs (3) and (4), respectively; and

(iii) by inserting after paragraph (1) the following:

‘‘(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the issuance of a lease in lieu of an abandoned patented oil placer mining claim shall be treated as a noncompetitive oil and gas lease issued pursuant to section 17(c) of this Act.’’;

(D) in subsection (g), by striking ‘‘subsection (d)’’ and inserting ‘‘subsections (d) and (f)’’;

(E) by amending subsection (h) to read as follows:

‘‘(h) ROYALTY REDUCTIONS.—‘‘(1) In acting on a petition to issue a noncompetitive oil and gas lease, under subsection (f) of this section or in response to a request filed after issuance of such a lease, or both, the Secretary is authorized to reduce the royalty on such lease if in his judgment it is equitable to do so or if the circumstances reflect due diligence, economic or other circumstances which could cause undue hardship or premature termination of production.

(2) in a petition for reinstatement pursuant to subsection (d) of this section or in response to a request filed after reinstatement, or both, the Secretary is authorized to reduce the royalty in that reinstated lease on the entire leasehold or any tract or portion thereof segregated for royalty purposes if, in his judgment, there are unique circumstances which could cause undue hardship or premature termination of production; or because of any written action of the United States, its agents or employees, which preceded, and was a major consideration in, the lessee’s expenditure of funds to develop the property under the lease after the rent had become due and payable, or if in the judgment of the Secretary it is equitable to do so for any reason.’’;

(F) by redesigning subsections (f) through (i) as subsections (g) through (j), respectively; and

(G) by inserting after subsection (e) the following:

‘‘(g) ISSUANCE OF NONCOMPETITIVE OIL AND GAS LEASES.—Where an unpatented oil placer mining claim validly covered by the required rental or royalty, including back rental and royalty accruing from the statute date of abandonment of the oil placer mining claim, of not less than $5 per acre per year;‘‘ (h) a requirement in the lease for payment of rental, including back rentals accruing from the statutory date of abandonment of the oil placer mining claim, of not less than 12 1/2 percent; and

‘‘(i) compliance with the notice and reimbursement of costs provisions of paragraph (d) of the petition covering the conversion of an abandoned unpatented oil placer mining claim to a noncompetitive oil and gas lease.’’;

Subtitle F—Energy Revenue Sharing

SECTION 381. GULF OF MEXICO OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF REVENUE.

(a) DISTRIBUTION OF OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF REVENUE TO PRODUCING STATES.—Section 105 of the Gulf of Mexico Energy Security Act of 2006 (43 U.S.C. 1331 note) is amended—

(1) by striking all that comes before subsection (a) and inserting ‘‘(a) IN GENERAL.—Subject to item (bb), for each fiscal year beginning after the date of enactment of this subparagraph, the amount made available under subclause (I) shall be allocated to each eligible State in amounts based on a formula established by the Secretary, which formula shall disburse to each eligible State an amount determined pursuant to subclause (II).’’

(2) by adding at the end the following:

‘‘(II) ALLOCATION.—The amount paid by the Secretary to each eligible State under this paragraph shall be allocated to each eligible State in accordance with subparagraphs (B) and (C), respectively.’’;

(b) EXEMPTION OF CERTAIN PAYMENTS FROM SEQUESTRATION.—‘‘(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall exempt from sequestration all payments under the Secure and Safe Ports Act (43 U.S.C. 1337) if the port is an eligible port as defined by such Act.’’;

(c) MINIMUM ALLOCATION.—‘‘(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall exempt from sequestration all payments under subitem (AA) shall be allocated to each eligible State in amounts based on a formula established by the Secretary, which formula shall disburse to each eligible State an amount determined pursuant to subclause (II).

(2) AMOUNT.—The amount paid by the Secretary to coastal political subdivisions under subitem (AA) shall be paid to coastal political subdivisions in accordance with subparagraphs (B) and (C) of section 31(b)(4) of this Act.’’
“(iii) TIMING.—The amounts required to be deposited under subclause (I) of clause (ii) for the applicable fiscal year shall be made available in accordance with such subclause during the fiscal year immediately following the applicable fiscal year.

“(iv) AUTHORIZED USES.—

“(I) In general.—Subject to subclause (II), each eligible State shall use all amounts received under clause (ii)(II) in accordance with all applicable Federal and State laws, only for 1 or more of the following purposes:

“(a) Mitigation of the impact of outer Continental Shelf activities through the funding of onshore infrastructure projects.

“(b) Mitigation of the impact of outer Continental Shelf activities through the implementation of a conservation management plan.

“SEC. 391. EXPEDITING COMPLETION OF THE MOUNTAIN VALLEY PIPELINE.

“(a) DEFINITIONS.—

“(1) MOUNTAIN VALLEY PIPELINE.—In this section, the term ‘Mountain Valley Pipeline’ means the Mountain Valley Pipeline project, as generally described and approved in Federal Energy Regulatory Commission Docket Nos. CP16–10, CP19–477, and CP21–57.

“(2) CONGRESSional FINDINGS AND DECLARATIONS.—

“(A) The Congress finds and declares that the timely completion of construction and operation of the Mountain Valley Pipeline is required in the national interest, that such pipeline will serve demonstrated natural gas demand in the Northeast, Mid-Atlantic, and Southeast regions, will increase the reliability of natural gas supplies and the availability of natural gas at reasonable prices, will allow natural gas producers to access additional markets for their product, and will reduce carbon emissions and facilitate the energy transition.

“(B) APPROVAL AND RATIFICATION AND MAINTENANCE OF EXISTING AUTHORIZATIONS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law—

“(1) Congress hereby ratifies and approves all authorizations, permits, verifications, extensions, biological opinions, incidental take statements, and any other approvals or orders issued pursuant to Federal law necessary for the construction and initial operation at full capacity of the Mountain Valley Pipeline;

“(2) Congress hereby directs the Secretary of the Army, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, the Secretary of Agriculture, and the Secretary of the Interior, and other agencies as applicable, as the case may be, to grant, issue, approve or order any other permits, verifications, extensions, biological opinions, incidental take statements, and any other approvals or orders issued pursuant to Federal law necessary for the construction and initial operation at full capacity of the Mountain Valley Pipeline.

“(c) EXPEDITING.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, not later than 21 days after the date of enactment of this Act for the purpose of facilitating permitting and the completion of the Mountain Valley Pipeline, the Secretary of the Army shall issue all permits or verifications necessary—

“(1) to complete the construction of the Mountain Valley Pipeline across the waters of the United States; and

“(2) to allow for the operation and maintenance of the Mountain Valley Pipeline.

“(e) JUDICIAL REVIEW.—

“(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no court shall have jurisdiction to review any action taken by the Secretary of the Army, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Secretary of the Interior, or a State administrative agency acting pursuant to Federal law that grants an authorization, permit, verification, biological opinion, incidental take statement, or other approval described in subsection (c) or (d) of this section for the Mountain Valley Pipeline, whether issued prior to, on, or subsequent to the date of enactment of this Act, and including any lawsuit pending in a court as of the date of enactment of this section.

“(2) The United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit shall have original and exclusive jurisdiction over any claim alleging the invalidity of this section or that an action is beyond the scope of authority conferred by this section.

“(f) EFFECT.—This section supersedes any other provision of law (including any other section of this Act or other statute, any regulation, any judicial decision, or any agency guidance) that is inconsistent with the issuance of any authorization, permit, verification, biological opinion, incidental take statement, or other approval for the Mountain Valley Pipeline.
