

passed; and that the motion to reconsider be considered made and laid upon the table.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

The Senator from Kentucky.

Mr. PAUL. I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The objection is heard.

The Senator from New Hampshire.

Ms. HASSAN. Mr. President, I will just say that I regret the objection. A Senate version of the reauthorization was, of course, included in the package that we all agreed on—bipartisan agreement in both the Senate and the House, after months and months of work, reauthorized through our committee process—and was stripped out, of course, on Wednesday at the instruction of Mr. Musk. So the House had already passed this bipartisan bill. It had huge and overwhelming bipartisan support there, and this is really unfortunate because, of course, the opioid epidemic—especially the fentanyl epidemic—continues to devastate our communities, and it is truly unfortunate that the objection was made tonight.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Colorado.

Mr. BENNET. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

SENATE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, the work of the 118th Congress comes to an end. The majority in this Chamber will soon change hands.

Tonight, I would like to take a moment to thank my colleagues for their outstanding work over the past 4 years. This was the most productive, ambitious, and historic 4 years the Senate has seen in decades. I am proud that many of our biggest accomplishments were bipartisan—something I hope the incoming majority embraces as a model. And the accomplishments speak for themselves. They are enormous. I was so proud to lead the Senate when we did so much for so many people—and, as I said, so much of it bipartisan.

It started at the beginning in 2020, when COVID was at its worst. We passed the American Rescue Plan, sending checks to every mailbox and shots in every arm. It helped reduce the problems with COVID so quickly—more quickly than people ever felt.

We passed a once-in-a-generation bipartisan infrastructure law. You see the effects of it all over America right now. Infrastructure is being rebuilt. People are being employed. Our country is getting more efficient, which it always does when we have better infrastructure. It rebuilt America's roads, bridges, and highways. It provided kids with safe drinking water. Rural communities and urban communities got access to broadband, which they had never had before—so essential in the 21st century.

We brought manufacturing jobs back to our shores and revitalized American innovation through the Chips and Science Act.

We took on the NRA and won by passing the first gun safety law in 30 years.

We passed the greatest expansion of veterans care in a generation to ensure that no veteran is denied treatment related to toxic exposure and burn pits.

On this and almost every one of these issues, it was the Senate that led the way; bipartisan—Senators got together with one another and passed legislation that then the House followed and the President signed. But make no mistake about it, we were the cauldron; we were the place where it all got put together and melded together. And I am proud of the job, frankly, that I did as majority leader, but I am so proud of our Senators on both sides of the aisle who got so much done.

There were other things we did as well. We stood with our friends in Ukraine as they defend their country against the brutality of Vladimir Putin.

We took a stand to protect marriage equality.

Through the Inflation Reduction Act, we made insulin $35 a month for millions of seniors.

We empowered Medicare to negotiate with drug companies for the first time.

The IRA was also the most ambitious clean energy bill in American history. The effects are happening all over the country. Our kids are going to breathe cleaner air. Our communities will see less pollution. Future generations are going to see millions of new, good-paying jobs as we complete the wind and solar and nuclear and all the other parts of the bill.

Again, it made us so proud of what we were able to do. It was incredible. The list goes on and on. Our legacy in these past 4 years when we were in the majority is just large. It is grand. I am proud of it.

We also, let's not forget, confirmed 235 highly qualified and historic judges to the bench—more than a quarter of all active judges. We are so proud of this ambitious record.

Years from now, when Americans drive on better roads, buy cleaner cars, make faster chips, have better paying jobs, save on prescription drugs, it will be the work of this majority.

In conclusion, I want to thank the staff here in the Senate who work behind the scenes and make this Chamber come to life, the incredible floor staff sitting here who do incredible work. Thank you to the miracle workers in the cloakroom. They always find everybody, wherever they are. If you say someone is missing, there they are. Thank you to the Senate doorkeepers, to the Secretary of the Senate, and the Senate Sergeant at Arms, to the pages and support staff, and to all of those who make this place function.

A special thanks to my staff. What an amazing, hard-working, dedicated, smart, passionate, and caring group of people they are. I know this for sure: Without my staff, none of this would have been accomplished. They keep me going. Sometimes when I veer off course, they get me back on course. Sometimes when I am doing too much, they sort of limit me. Oftentimes, when I want to do something that is a yes, they sometimes say no, but all too often, they find a better way to do yes. So they are great. I love them, and I am grateful to them as well.

There will be much to do in the year to come. The work will continue. The challenges will be great. And we will no longer be in the majority; we will be in the minority. But our North Star will not change: working every single day to serve the American people and reward the trust they have placed in us.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

EXECUTIVE CALENDAR

Mr. SCHUMER. There being no objection, the committee was discharged, and the Senate proceeded to consider the nominations en bloc.
