A BILL

To require the Secretary of the Treasury to pursue more equitable treatment of Taiwan at the international financial institutions, and for other purposes.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Taiwan Non-Discrimi-5       nation Act of 2025”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress finds as follows:

3                 (1) As enshrined in its Articles of Agreement, 4 the International Monetary Fund (IMF) is devoted 5 to promoting international monetary cooperation, fa-6 cilitating the expansion and balanced growth of 7 international trade, encouraging exchange stability, 8 and avoiding competitive exchange depreciation.

9                 (2) Taiwan is the 21st largest economy in the 10 world and the 10th largest goods trading partner of 11 the United States.

12                 (3) Although Taiwan is not an IMF member, it 13 is a member of the World Trade Organization, the 14 Asian Development Bank, and the Asia-Pacific Eco-15 nomic Cooperation forum.

16                 (4) According to the January 2020 Report on 17 Macroeconomic and Foreign Exchange Policies of 18 Major Trading Partners of the United States, pub-
19 lished by the Department of the Treasury, Taiwan 20 held $471,900,000,000 in foreign exchange reserves, 21 more than major economies such as India, South
22 Korea, and Brazil.

23                 (5) According to section 4(d) of the Taiwan Re-24 lations Act (Public Law 96–8), enacted on April 10, 25 1979, “Nothing in this Act may be construed as a 26 basis for supporting the exclusion or expulsion of 1 Taiwan from continued membership in any international financial institution or any other international organization.”.

4 (6) Taiwan held membership in the IMF for 9
5 years following the recognition of the People’s Republic of China (PRC) by the United Nations, and 6 16 Taiwan staff members at the Fund were allowed 7 to continue their employment after the PRC was 8 seated at the IMF in 1980. As James M. Boughton 9 has noted in his Silent Revolution: The International 10 Monetary Fund 1979–1989, even as the PRC was 11 seated, the United States Executive Director to the 12 IMF, Sam Y. Cross, expressed support on behalf of 13 the United States Government for “some kind of association between Taiwan and the Fund”.

16 (7) On September 27, 1994, in testimony before the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations regarding the 1994 Taiwan Policy Review, then-Assistant Secretary of State for East Asian and Pacific Affairs Winston Lord stated: “Recognizing Taiwan’s important role in transnational issues, we will support its membership in organizations where statehood is not a prerequisite, and we will support opportunities for Taiwan’s voice to be heard in organizations where its membership is not possible.”.

1                         (8) The Congress has repeatedly reaffirmed
2 support for this policy, including in Public Laws 3 107–10, 107–158, 108–28, 108–235, 113–17, and 4 114–139, and the unanimous House and Senate
5 passage of the Taiwan Allies International Protec-6 tion and Enhancement Initiative (TAIPEI) Act of 7 2019.

8                         (9) In its fact sheet, entitled “U.S. Relations 9 with Taiwan”, published on August 31, 2018, the 10 Department of State asserts: “The United States
11 supports Taiwan’s membership in international orga-
12 nizations that do not require statehood as a condi-
13 tion of membership and encourages Taiwan’s mean-14 ingful participation in international organizations 15 where its membership is not possible.”.

16                         (10) According to the Articles of Agreement of 17 the IMF, “membership shall be open to other coun-18 tries”, subject to conditions prescribed by the Board 19 of Governors of the IMF.

20                         (11) In the IMF publication “Membership and 21 Nonmembership in the International Monetary
22 Fund: A Study in International Law and Organiza-23 tion”, Joseph Gold, the then-General Counsel and 24 Director of the Legal Department of the IMF, elabo-25 rated on the differences between the terms “coun-

1       tries” and “states”, noting that “the word ‘country’ 2       may have been adopted because of the absence of 3       agreement on the definition of a ‘state’” and, with 4       respect to the use of “countries” and applications
5       for IMF membership, “the absence of any adjective
6       in the Articles emphasizes the breadth of the discre-
7       tion that the Fund may exercise in admitting coun-8       tries to membership”. According to Mr. Gold, “the 9       desire to give the Fund flexibility in dealing with ap-10      plications may explain not only the absence of any 11      adjective that qualifies ‘countries’ but also the choice 12      of that word itself”.

13           (12) In his IMF study, Mr. Gold further ob-14       serves, “in the practice of the Fund the concepts of 15       independence and sovereignty have been avoided on 16       the whole as a mode of expressing a criterion for 17       membership in the Fund”. He continues, “Although 18       the Fund usually takes into account the recognition 19       or nonrecognition of an entity as a state, there are 20       no rules or even informal understandings on the ex-21       tent to which an applicant must have been recog-22       nized by members or other international organiza-
23       tions before the Fund will regard it as eligible for 24       membership.”. In fact, when considering an applica-25       tion for membership where the status of an appli-

1           cant may not be resolved, Mr. Gold writes “there
2           have been occasions on which the Fund has made a 3           finding before decisions had been taken by the 4           United Nations or by most members or by members
5           with a majority of the total voting power.” Mr. Gold 6           concludes, “the Fund makes its own findings on 7           whether an applicant is a ‘country’, and makes them 8           solely for its own purposes.”.

9                         (13) Although not a member state of the 10           United Nations, the Republic of Kosovo is a member 11           of both the IMF and the World Bank, having joined 12           both organizations on June 29, 2009.

13                         (14) On October 26, 2021, Secretary of State 14           Antony Blinken issued a statement in support of 15           Taiwan’s “robust, meaningful participation” in the 16           United Nations system, which includes the IMF, the 17           World Bank, and other specialized United Nations 18           agencies. Secretary of State Blinken noted, “As the 19           international community faces an unprecedented 20           number of complex and global issues, it is critical for 21           all stakeholders to help address these problems. This 22           includes the 24 million people who live in Taiwan.
23           Taiwan’s meaningful participation in the UN system 24           is not a political issue, but a pragmatic one.”. He 25           continued, “Taiwan’s exclusion undermines the im-

1 portant work of the UN and its related bodies, all 2 of which stand to benefit greatly from its contribu-3 tions.”.

4 (15) In October 2024, Taiwan announced it
5 would seek IMF membership, with the Taipei Eco-6 nomic and Cultural Representative Office in the 7 United States stating, “Taiwan’s membership at the 8 IMF would help boost financial resilience.”.

9 SEC. 3. SENSE OF THE CONGRESS.

10 It is the sense of the Congress that—

11 (1) the size, significance, and connectedness of 12 the Taiwanese economy highlight the importance of 13 greater participation by Taiwan in the International 14 Monetary Fund, given the purposes of the Fund ar-15 ticulated in its Articles of Agreement; and 16 (2) the experience of Taiwan in developing a vi-

17 brant and advanced economy under democratic gov-
18 ernance and the rule of law should inform the work 19 of the international financial institutions, including 20 through increased participation by Taiwan in the in-21 stitutions.

22 SEC. 4. SUPPORT FOR TAIWAN ADMISSION TO THE IMF.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—The United States Governor of 24 the International Monetary Fund (in this section referred

1 to as the “Fund”) shall use the voice and vote of the 2 United States to vigorously support—

3                 (1) the admission of Taiwan as a member of 4                 the Fund, to the extent that admission is sought by 5                 Taiwan;

6                 (2) participation by Taiwan in regular surveil-
7                 lance activities of the Fund with respect to the eco-8                 nomic and financial policies of Taiwan, consistent 9                 with Article IV consultation procedures of the Fund;

10                 (3) employment opportunities for Taiwan na-11                 tionals, without regard to any consideration that, in 12                 the determination of the United States Governor, 13                 does not generally restrict the employment of nation-14                 als of member countries of the Fund; and 15                 (4) the ability of Taiwan to receive appropriate 16                 technical assistance and training by the Fund.

17                 (b) UNITED STATES POLICY.—It is the policy of the 18                 United States not to discourage or otherwise deter Taiwan 19                 from seeking admission as a member of the Fund.

20                 (c) WAIVER.—The Secretary of the Treasury may 21                 waive any requirement of subsection (a) for up to 1 year 22                 at a time on reporting to Congress that providing the 23                 waiver will substantially promote the objective of securing 24                 the meaningful participation of Taiwan at each inter-25                 national financial institution (as defined in section

1 1701(c)(2) of the International Financial Institutions
2 Act).

3 (d) SUNSET.—This section shall have no force or ef-4 feet on the earlier of—

5 (1) the date of approval by the Board of Gov-6 ernors of the Fund for the admission of Taiwan as 7 a member of the Fund; or 8 (2) the date that is 10 years after the date of 9 the enactment of this Act.

10 SEC. 5. TESTIMONY REQUIREMENT.

11 In each of the next 7 years in which the Secretary 12 of the Treasury is required by section 1705(b) of the 13 International Financial Institutions Act to present testi-
14 mony, the Secretary shall include in the testimony a de-15 scription of the efforts of the United States to support 16 the greatest participation practicable by Taiwan at each 17 international financial institution (as defined in section 18 1701(c)(2) of such Act).
