The Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, December 7, 1905, was read and approved.

INCREASING MEMBERSHIP OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. DALZELL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the adoption of the following resolution, which I send to the desk and ask to have read.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That section 1 of Rule X be, and hereby is, amended as follows:

By increasing by one member each of the following-named committees: Ways and Means, Judiciary, Banking and Currency, Interstate and Foreign Commerce, Rivers and Harbors, Merchant Marine and Fisheries, Agriculture, Foreign Affairs, Military Affairs, Naval Affairs, Post-Office and Post-Roads, Public Lands, Indian Affairs, Territories, Insular Affairs, Railways and Canals, Mines and Mining, Public Buildings and Grounds, Militia, Patents, Invalid Pensions, Pensions, District of Columbia, Irrigation of Arid Lands, Census, Industrial Arts and Expositions.

By increasing by two members the Committee on Manufactures and by three members the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

By inserting after the designation of the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Agriculture the following:

"On Expenditures in the Department of Commerce and Labor, to consist of seven members."

Resolved, That Rule XI be amended as follows:

By inserting after paragraph 50 a new paragraph, as follows:

"51. In the Department of Commerce and Labor: To the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Commerce and Labor."

And by renumbering the succeeding paragraphs of Rule XI, and by amending in accordance with such renumbering the reference to clause 60 of Rule XI contained in paragraph 2 of Rule XIII.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman from Pennsylvania to grant me a little time.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman yield?

Mr. DALZELL. Certainly.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to state that this resolution gives the Republicans one additional member upon the committees which we have heard named. Upon the committee where the three additional members are provided for the Republicans in the House get two and the Democrats one. Some time since I was afraid that the Democratic membership upon the committees would be reduced. The Speaker has solved the problem by increasing the Republican membership without reducing the Democratic membership. Indeed, we get one additional place on this committee where the three are provided for. This was largely done at my own suggestion as a method of reaching a modus vivendi between the two parties. The Republican party has 64 per cent of the membership of the present House. They are taking now two-thirds of the places, which is 66 2/3 per cent—practically two-thirds—of the membership. As two-thirds is a vulgar fraction which approximates nearer the decimal 64 per cent than any other vulgar fraction, I want to say to the House and to the country that I think we can well afford to give the unanimous consent.

Mr. DALZELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say just one word with regard to what the gentleman from Mississippi has said. Of course the justification for the increase in the number of members of the various committees arises out of the fact that this is a House of 386 Members, whereas the largest House heretofore has consisted only of 356 Members. In all cases where there has been no increase of the membership of the committees the relative standing on the committees of the Republicans and the Democrats is precisely the same as it was in the last House. Where there is an increase of one, that increase has gone to the Republican representation, but with that increase the proportion of the minority on these committees is in its favor, greater than was the proportion in favor of the minority in the Fifty-second and the Fifty-third Congresses.

The only addition provided for by the resolutions to the increase in the number of Members is the increase of one committee—the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Commerce and Labor, which has not heretofore been provided for—and the change in the numbers of the paragraphs in two or three rules, rendered necessary by the introduction of this new committee.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection?

Mr. GILLET of Massachusetts. Will the gentleman allow a question?

Mr. DALZELL. Certainly.

Mr. GILLET of Massachusetts. Does this rule provide how many members shall be on each committee? I did not hear it as it was read.

Mr. DALZELL. No; it does not.

Mr. GILLET of Massachusetts. All this matter, then, will be left to the Speaker as it was before?

Mr. DALZELL. It rests with the Speaker; certainly.

COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none. The Chair lays before the House an announcement of the following committees. The Chair also desires to state that the rules provide for two Delegates from the Territories on the Committee on Territories. Last session the House, by unanimous consent, added all the Delegates as members of that committee. There are still four Delegates, and without objection the four Delegates will be named upon that committee. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none. The Clerk will report the committees.

PRINTING FOR THE INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE COMMITTEE.

Mr. HEPBURN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the present consideration of the resolution which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The resolution was read, as follows:

Resolved, That the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce shall have authority to order such printing and binding done as it may deem to be necessary, connected with the hearings and other business before said committee.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Iowa [Mr. HEPBURN] asks unanimous consent for the present consideration of the resolution which has just been read. Is there objection?

There was no objection; and the resolution was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. HEPBURN, a motion to reconsider the vote by which the resolution was agreed to was laid on the table.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. LAMAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Florida [Mr. LAMAR] rises to a question of personal privilege. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LAMAR. I am not sure, Mr. Speaker, if this is a question of personal privilege, but I desire a formal ruling from the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair can not rule unless the Chair understands the question.

Mr. LAMAR. I will submit the paragraph to which I refer, stating at the same time that I consider that paragraph a reflection upon me in my Representative capacity in Congress. I would like to ask the Chair to read it, and, if proper, to have it announced for a formal record ruling.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire the Chair to read it personally?

Mr. LAMAR. No, sir; I desire to have it read by the Clerk, and if it is in the nature of a personal privilege, or if it is personal privilege, I desire to speak upon it. If it is not, I will ask the Chair to rule upon it.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read.

The Clerk read as follows:

Much of the trouble comes from the fact that he has removed from the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce DORSEY W. SHACKLEFORD, of Missouri, and WILLIAM B. LAMAR, of Florida, the two Democrats who last year submitted to the House a subsidiary report on the Hearst railroad-rate bill.

In addition to this action, which, it is claimed, was taken by Mr. WILLIAMS without notice to the two men concerned, he yesterday made a statement that SHACKLEFORD and LAMAR had broken faith with the caucus agreement on the Davie rate bill last session.

"There is nothing personal in this," said Mr. WILLIAMS. "SHACKLEFORD and LAMAR simply broke the party agreement reached in the caucus."

Mr. LAMAR. Now, Mr. Speaker, if that is not a question of personal privilege, of course I do not desire to make the slightest attempt to address the House upon it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is quite clear that the paragraph read at the Clerk's desk does not present a question of personal privilege.

Mr. LAMAR. I am in doubt myself, Mr. Speaker, but I desired that it should be formally made of record in the House to estop and debar forever any possible suggestion that I did not attempt to bring that matter up here in this House.

Mr. PAYNE. I suggest to the gentleman that he ask unanimous consent if he desires to make a statement.

Mr. LAMAR. I do ask unanimous consent that I may make a statement.

Mr. PAYNE. Say ten minutes?

A MEMBER. An hour.

Mr. PAYNE. Or twenty minutes?

Mr. LAMAR. Twenty minutes. I would like to have a square deal.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Florida asks unanimous consent to make a personal statement.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, pending the request, and reserving the right to object, I wish to say that in the interest of Democratic harmony and effectiveness and general good feeling, which will not be promoted by washing Democratic linen for the amusement of a Republican House, I object. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Mr. LAMAR. I will not ask one thing that is unfair of this House—

Mr. SHACKLEFORD. I wish to ask a question.

Mr. LAMAR. I decline to be interrupted.

The SPEAKER. Well, the gentleman has not the floor. Objection has been made.

Mr. LAMAR. May I have the floor?

The SPEAKER. Objection has been made.

Mr. LAMAR. Then I will ask the minority leader if he will not withdraw that objection. I will not detain the House—

Mr. WILLIAMS. I have stated my reasons for having made that objection. I have assumed the responsibility for that course, and I persist in the objection.

Mr. PAYNE. All this is out of order. [Cries of "Regular order!"]

Mr. LAMAR (to Mr. WILLIAMS). Will you call a Democratic caucus—

Mr. WILLIAMS. This is not a question for the consideration of the House of Representatives—

Mr. LAMAR. Will you call a caucus?

Mr. WILLIAMS. The gentleman can put that question to me somewhere else.

Mr. LAMAR. The gentleman went to the newspapers with this matter, and now objects here on the floor to a settlement of it.

Mr. WILLIAMS. The gentleman from Mississippi has not gone to the newspapers.

The SPEAKER. This is not in order. [Cries of "Regular order!"]

Mr. LAMAR. The House will understand it. I have gotten it before the House in part.

Mr. PAYNE. I move that the House do now adjourn.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Pending the motion to adjourn, by unanimous consent, leave of absence was granted as follows:

To Mr. VAN DUZER, indefinitely, on account of sickness in his family.

To Mr. GRANGER, for this week, on account of illness.

WITHDRAWAL OF PAPERS.

Mr. TOWNSEND, by unanimous consent, obtained leave to withdraw from the files of the House, without leaving copies, the papers in the case of Sue M. Salsbury, no adverse report having been made thereon.

The motion to adjourn was then agreed to; and accordingly (at 12 o'clock and 55 minutes p. m.) the House adjourned until Wednesday, December 13, 1905.
