SEVENTH ANNUAL CONGRESS

Congressional Record

PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE SIXTY-NINTH CONGRESS FIRST SESSION

SENATE

MONDAY, December 7, 1925

The first Monday of December being the day prescribed by the Constitution of the United States for the annual meeting of Congress, the first session of the Sixty-ninth Congress commenced this day.

The Senate assembled in its Chamber at the Capitol.

CHARLES G. DAWES, of Illinois, Vice President of the United States, called the Senate to order at 12 o'clock meridian.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. J. Muir, D. D., of the city of Washington, offered the following prayer:

Our Father and our God, we come together this morning believing in Thee and praying for Thy grace in all the movements and in every duty which call this session into being. We look back and remember that some have dropped out of this convention of interest and high endeavor, and we pray for the families thus afflicted, beseeching Thee to be the widows' God and the Father of the fatherless. As we are taught to number our days and thus to apply our hearts unto wisdom, we humbly beseech of Thee that each one may assume his task and be the better qualified for every duty and the fulfillment of every obligation to the country and to Thee as supreme. Hear us, we ask of Thee, for each Member of this body—for the Vice President who presides, for the President of the United States, and all related to him in Cabinet condition. Hear our prayer for our Nation, O God. Save us from the evils that are attendant upon other nations, and may we be exalted in righteousness. We humbly beseech Thee, in the name of Jesus our Lord. Amen.

WORLD COURT

Mr. ROBINSON of Arkansas. Mr. President, during the special session of the Senate on March 13 last, a special order was made in executive session with closed doors providing for the consideration of Senate Resolution 5, "granting favorable advice and consent of the Senate to the adhesion on the part of the United States to the protocol of December 16, 1920, with reservations," and so forth, the date for such consideration being fixed for the 17th of December, 1925. The injunction of secrecy respecting this order was removed, but the proceedings were not published in the RECORD. I ask unanimous consent that the record of the proceedings of that day, fixing the order of business as I have referred to it, may be printed in the RECORD.

The VICE PRESIDENT. Without objection, it is so ordered. The matter referred to is as follows:

During the consideration of executive business with closed doors the injunction of secrecy was removed from the following proceedings:

Mr. CURTIS having submitted a request for unanimous consent that on the 17th day of December, 1925, the Senate proceed to the consideration of a resolution providing that the Senate advise and consent to the signature of the United States Court of International Justice, and that the consideration of the said resolution be in open executive session, an objection thereto was interposed by Mr. DILL, when, on motion by Mr. ROBINSON of Arkansas that the resolution (S. Res. 5) granting favorable advice and consent of the Senate to the adhesion on the part of the United States to the protocol of December 16, 1920, with reservations, be made a special order for 12 o'clock m., Thursday, December 17, 1925, for consideration in open executive session, it was determined in the affirmative—yeas 77, nays 2.

Ashurst, Bayard, Bingham, Blease, Borah, Bratton, Brookhart, Broussard, Bruce, Butler, Cameron, Capper, Caraway, Copeland, Couzens, Curtis, Dale, Deneen, du Pont, Ernst, Ferris, Fess, Fletcher, Frazier, George, Gerry, Gillett, Glass, Goff, Hale, Harreld, Harris, Harrison, Heflin, Johnson, Jones of Washington, Keyes, King, Ladd, McKellar, McKinley, McLean, McMaster, McNary, Mayfield, Means, Metcalf, Moses, Neely, Norris, Oddie, Overman, Pepper, Pine, Pittman, Ralston, Ransdell, Reed of Missouri, Reed of Pennsylvania, Robinson of Arkansas, Sackett, Schall, Sheppard, Shipstead, Shortridge, Simmons, Smith, Stanfield, Swanson, Trammell, Tyson, Wadsworth, Walsh, Watson, Weller, Wheeler, and Willis.

So Mr. ROBINSON's motion was agreed to, two-thirds of the Senators present having voted in the affirmative. [Senate Journal, Friday, March 13, 1925, legislative day of Tuesday, March 10, 1925.]

Mr. SWANSON. Mr. President, I desire to give notice that as soon as the special order shall be laid before the Senate on the 17th of December I shall address the Senate in behalf of the resolution.

Resolved, That the Secretary communicate these resolutions to the House of Representatives and transmit a copy thereof to the family of the deceased.

DEATH OF SENATOR EDWIN F. LADD

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, it is my sad duty formally to announce to the Senate the death of my late colleague and friend, Senator EDWIN F. LADD, of North Dakota.

In a life devoted to the public welfare, Senator LADD endeared himself to all who labored with him. This, however, is not the proper time and occasion for a fitting testimonial to his memory. At another time during this session I shall ask that a day be designated upon which appropriate tributes may be paid to his worth and work.

I offer the resolution which I send to the desk and ask unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The VICE PRESIDENT. The resolution will be read.

The resolution (S. Res. 52) was read, considered by unanimous consent, and unanimously agreed to, as follows:

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, as a further mark of respect to the memory of the deceased Senators, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

The motion was unanimously agreed to; and (at 12 o'clock and 25 minutes p. m.) the Senate adjourned until to-morrow, Tuesday, December 8, 1925, at 12 o'clock meridian.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, December 7, 1925

This day in compliance with the provisions of the Constitution the Members elect of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-ninth Congress assembled in their Hall and at 12 o'clock noon were called to order by Hon. William Tyler Page, Clerk of the last House.

The Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., Chaplain of the House of Representatives for the Sixty-eighth Congress, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, unto whom all hearts are open and all desires are known, and from whom no secrets are hidden, Thou has been our dwelling place in all generations, before the mountains were brought forth or ever Thou hast formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, Thou art God. We come again O Lord, to the sacred duties to which we have been called—hence we approach the throne of divine help and wisdom. Mercifully grant that Thy Holy Spirit may in all things direct our minds and rule our hearts. Give us a great conception of service and a wise understanding of the sacred duties we owe the Republic. O make us all worthy of the confidence and the trust which have been reposed in us. With unswerving fidelity may we be faithful to the duties and sanctities of public and private life. Do thou direct our President with great favor and wisdom. Day by day abide with the Speaker, the Members, the officers, and the pages of this Congress. Teach us that righteousness earns its own reward, and that its highest object is man and its greatest service is love. May truth, knowledge, and good will flood the arteries of our beloved country and thus bless all our citizens. Bless all our fire-sides with love, hope, and peace. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The CLERK. Representatives elect, this is the day fixed by the Constitution of the United States for the meeting of the Sixty-ninth Congress of the United States of America. The Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-eighth Congress will read the names of those present whose credentials show that they were duly elected in accordance with the laws of their respective States or of the United States. The CLERK. The roll call discloses the presence of 419 Members. A quorum is present. The Clerk will state that credentials, regular in form, have been filed showing the election of WILLIAM P. JARRETT as Delegate from the Territory of Hawaii and of DAN A. SUTHERLAND as Delegate from the Territory of Alaska.

The Clerk deems it proper to state that pursuant to an act of Congress a Resident Commissioner to the United States from Porto Rico is elected quadrennially, and that the Clerk has received from the Secretary of State of the United States a certified copy of the certificate of election of FELIX CORDOVA DAVILA as such Resident Commissioner for the four years commencing on the 4th day of March, 1925.

Two Resident Commissioners to the United States from the Philippine Islands are elected by the Philippine Legislature triennially. Certificates of election of ISAURO GABALDON and of PEDRO GUEVERA are on file showing their election as Resident Commissioners from the Philippine Islands for the term of three years commencing March 4, 1923.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

The CLERK. The next business in order is the election of Speaker. Nominations will now be received.

Mr. HAWLEY. Mr. Clerk, by direction and authority of the Republican caucus, representing the majority of the membership of the House of Representatives, I have the honor to place in nomination for Speaker of the House of Representatives during the continuance of the Sixty-ninth Congress the Hon. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, a Representative elect from the State of Ohio. [Applause.]

For 22 years Mr. LONGWORTH has been a Member of the House of Representatives, rendering public services distinguished by courage, sincerity, wisdom, and great ability. He is a profound student of legislation. His sufficiency of information and sound judgment upon it have given him leadership in his party and the country and have exalted him as a soldier of the common good. While unsurpassed in debate during the innumerable times he has taken the floor, advocating with cogent and vigorous arguments the policies that commended themselves to his judgment, he has shown an unflinching courtesy to those of opposite views. His appearances in debate have been unsullied by discourtesy, unkindly reference, or caustic humor. He is unflinching in diligence in attending to the business of the House. [Applause.] As Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House he has shown a master's knowledge of the rules of the House and its historical precedents. His rulings have been prompt, careful, competent. As a presiding officer he has been unflinching in courtesy. The consequence of such character and attainments, long tried in the crucible of experience on many a hotly contested legislative battle field, is to elevate him to the highest position in the gift of this House, that of the Speakership. The announcement of his selection by the Republican caucus was received by the country with approval and satisfaction. We take pleasure in presenting him as our candidate for Speaker—a man to whom honor is more than life and patriotism not only a duty but highest privilege.

The CLERK. The Hon. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, a Representative elect from the State of Ohio, has been nominated for the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Mr. CARTER of Oklahoma. Mr. Clerk, by the unanimous action of the Democratic caucus I desire to present as a candidate for Speaker of this House the name of the Hon. FINIS J. GARRETT of Tennessee. [Applause.]

The CLERK. The Hon. FINIS J. GARRETT of Tennessee has been nominated for the office of Speaker. Are there any further nominations?

Mr. FREAR. Mr. Clerk and gentlemen of the House of Representatives, I have been directed by the delegation from my State to present the name of a distinguished gentleman for this high office, and also to make a brief statement of the reasons for so doing.

Gentlemen of the House, the abuses of the secret caucus system in the House of Representatives became so flagrant in the year 1913 that action was taken by the Republicans of the House to abolish the caucus and there was substituted for it a conference, and right was given thereafter to participants to act on their own judgment. The Republicans in the Senate have never attempted to bind Senators by caucus, but their meetings have been conferences, upon the conclusion of which each Member is at liberty to vote as his conscience dictates under his oath of office.

The Wisconsin delegation in the House is opposed to the caucus system. The oath of a Representative in Congress is that he will well and faithfully discharge the duties of his office to the best of his ability; and that oath will not permit him to surrender his judgment and his conscience into the keeping of a party caucus. A Member of the House attends a caucus, pledges himself in advance to abide by its decision, whatever that may be. Thereafter he is not a free agent in the discharge of his duties as a Member of the House. A conference does not seek to bind its members, and therefore the members of the Wisconsin delegation have attended them.

In February, 1925, a secret caucus was held without authority from the Republican membership of the House, more than nine months before a Speaker of the Sixty-ninth Congress could legally be elected, and also prior to the 4th day of March, the date on which the terms of office of the Members of the Sixty-ninth Congress began, for the purpose of binding the Republican Members of the new Congress to vote for the candidate for Speaker to be selected at such secret caucus. Much publicity was given at the time to the fact that the Wisconsin delegation had not been invited to attend that caucus. It should be well understood that the Wisconsin delegation would not have attended that caucus if it had been invited, although it would have been ready to attend a conference as heretofore explained.

This change back to the old discredited method to bind and gag the Members in secret was made without any meeting at which all of the Republican Members of the House had or could have had an opportunity to consider the change from conference to caucus before the call was issued.

At that caucus Representative LONGWORTH was nominated as a Republican candidate for Speaker of the Sixty-ninth Congress. Since his nomination Mr. LONGWORTH in public addresses and press statements has been repeatedly quoted as saying that the Wisconsin delegation is now on trial, and that a vote for Mr. LONGWORTH as Speaker next Monday will be considered the acid test of republicanism in the House. The Wisconsin Republican Members of the House do not concede the right of Mr. LONGWORTH or any other so-called leader to put them on trial for their republicanism.

The entire Republican delegation from Wisconsin accept responsibility for contributing to the liberalization of the House gag rules and also to the defeat of the grossly inequitable Mellon tax bill at the last session. We were largely responsible for bringing about the enactment of a substitute tax bill which was fair and equitable to the American people. The record of the 10 Wisconsin Republican Members of the House in the last Congress was approved by the people of Wisconsin by reelecting every one of them by a combined and unprecedented majority of over 320,000 votes.

The Republican Party was conceived and born in the State of Wisconsin. The people of that State and its progressive Republican Representatives in Congress believe in the broad principles of government established by the immortal Lincoln.

The beneficial effect on all the people of this Nation of the efforts of the Wisconsin delegation, which held the balance of power during the last Congress, has been attested in many ways, and is specifically set forth in the speech of Representative NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, former Republican floor leader, who in his summary of the Republican accomplishments of the last session said (CONGRESSIONAL RECORD June 5, 1924, p. 10907):

Mr. LONGWORTH. Mr. Speaker, whatever may be said in approval or disapproval of the record of the House of Representatives in the first session of the present Congress, this fact at least must stand out uncontradicted: Its legislative accomplishment is unexampled in volume and importance in recent years. The body which many people said at the outset would be impotent to legislate at all turned out to be one of the most efficient and effective legislative machines in history.

The Wisconsin delegation in Congress to-day finds itself challenged by those assuming to be in control of the Republican Party by threats and intimidation on the one hand and by the offer of party recognition with its favors and patronage on the other. We refuse to compromise, or to bargain with Mr. LONGWORTH or with any other Member of the House, on an issue affecting our rights as Representatives in Congress to vote our convictions of duty to our constituents and the country under our official oaths.

Under the circumstances we can not vote for Mr. LONGWORTH for Speaker. Neither flattery nor suggestions concerning committee assignments nor threats will cause the Wisconsin delegation in the House to deviate from such course of action as in its judgment the public interest seems to require.

Gentlemen, in addition to the statement presented, permit me to say the House is about to select its presiding officer for the Sixty-ninth Congress, a responsible position second to none in the world.

By reason of his eminent ability, long legislative experience, and parliamentary training one of the best-equipped men for that high office that ever sat in this great body is the present dean of the House of Representatives.

Sent here by the first congressional district of the State of Wisconsin as a Republican Representative, for 32 years he has actively participated in all the momentous legislation that affected this great Nation's welfare during practically a third of a century.

Recognized throughout the country as a consistent progressive Republican, a student, scholar, statesman, and parliamentarian of high order; a strong, brave man without fear—aye, and tested in many hard battles—a just man, a lovable man, Wisconsin, the birthplace of the Republican Party, presents to you one of her finest sons of all time, her candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives, HENRY ALLEN COOPER. [Applause.]

The CLERK. The Hon. HENRY ALLEN COOPER, a Representative elect from the State of Wisconsin, has been nominated for the office of Speaker.

Mr. NELSON of Wisconsin rose.

The CLERK. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. NELSON of Wisconsin. To ask whether I have the right to present a seconding nomination for Mr. COOPER, of about three minutes.

The CLERK. The Clerk thinks so. The gentleman from Wisconsin, Mr. NELSON, is recognized to second the nomination of Hon. HENRY ALLEN COOPER.

Mr. NELSON of Wisconsin. Mr. Speaker, I am instructed by the Progressive group, other than Wisconsin, to present the following statement:

Progressives from the States of North Dakota, Minnesota, and New York after a group meeting held with representatives from the State of Wisconsin, issued the following statement:

"We indorse the statement issued by the Wisconsin delegation. We desire to add that the Republican Party, the party of Lincoln, was born in the State of Wisconsin but had nothing in common with the Grand Old Party as it exists to-day.

"The demands of Mr. LONGWORTH, candidate for Speaker, and his threat that Progressives are to be tested by their votes on various matters commencing with the first vote for Speaker, are answered by the Progressives in their decision to vote for the Hon. HENRY ALLEN COOPER, the dean of the House, for Speaker.

"The Progressive group will continue their fight against the Mellon tax plan and against a system of taxation which will make possible within two generations the concentration of the wealth of the land in the hands of a dozen families.

"The Progressive group is united, prepared, and ready to continue its fight for legislation for the benefit of the people and the producers of the country, and against legislation for a privileged and favored class.

"The farmers and consumers have learned that they have everything in common. The farmers to-day are not able to live on what the manipulators of food wish to pay them, and the consumers are not able to pay the exorbitant price for the food which the same exploiters place on the farmers' products.

"The farmers of the country want something more than an expression of sympathy in a presidential message. If concrete, constructive, and tangible relief is not assured to the farmers by the Republican Party, the Progressives will hold that party responsible."

[Applause.]

The CLERK. Are there any other nominations? If not, the Clerk will appoint the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. FROTHINGHAM], the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. MONTGOMERY], the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. SABATH], and the gentleman from Kentucky [Mr. CHAPMAN] to act as tellers. These gentlemen will please come forward to the desk in front of the rostrum and the Clerk will call the roll.

The tellers took their places at the desk.

The Clerk called the roll.

The following is the vote in detail:

ANSWERING "PRESENT"—5

Carss

The CLERK. The tellers agree in their tally. The total number of votes cast is 420, of which Hon. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH has received 229 votes, Hon. FINIS J. GARRETT has received 173 votes, and Hon. HENRY ALLEN COOPER has received 13 votes, 5 gentlemen have answered "Present."

Hon. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, a Representative elect from the State of Ohio, having received a majority of all the votes cast, is duly elected Speaker of the House of Representatives for the Sixty-ninth Congress. [Applause.]

The gentleman from Connecticut [Mr. TILSON], the gentleman from Tennessee [Mr. GARRETT], the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. MADDEN], the gentleman from Texas [Mr. GARNER], and the gentleman from Wisconsin [Mr. COOPER] will please conduct the Speaker elect to the chair, and the Clerk designates the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. BUTLER], the Member longest in continuous service in the House, to administer to the Speaker elect the oath of office required by law.

The committee appointed by the Clerk escorted Mr. LONGWORTH to the Speaker's chair.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. My colleagues of the House of Representatives, the gentleman whom the majority have elected as Speaker was endowed by nature with an aptitude for public affairs of a political character, but governments can not be maintained by instinct nor administered by intuition. However brilliant the genius, it to attain helpful efficiency must be bur-nished by unremitting labor and kept bright by constant and studious toil.

This condition has been met by the honorable gentleman from Ohio.

In his youthful days he was made a member of the senate of his State legislature. There he soon became the titular floor leader of his party.

Transferred thence to the Halls of the Federal House of Representatives, he at an early period of his service took his proper place as a leader of his party, assiduous in his labors and wise in his counsels.

He is to-day reaping the reward of years of struggle and effort. It comes to him because of what he has been and what he is—a learned parliamentarian, an experienced and able legislator, temperamentally and intellectually fitted for the great and splendid task. We, both of the majority and the minority, respect him as a wise and gifted character and as a gentleman without reproach.

He has had opportunities for the study not only of our own parliamentary system but of those of many foreign nations, and of them he has taken full advantage. He understands not only the rules but their philosophy, and his courage and courtesy assure that he will faithfully apply that understanding. He stands splendidly equipped to succeed the long line of his illustrious predecessors, many of them world famous, with their names writ large, as his shall be, in the history of the activities of men and nations.

My colleagues, it is my pleasure and honor to present the thirty-ninth elected Speaker of the House of Representatives, the gentleman from Ohio, Hon. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH.

The SPEAKER ELECT. Gentlemen and gentlemen of the House, a great and signal honor has been bestowed upon me.

The Speakership of the House of Representatives is matched by few governmental offices in the world.

To you, members of my political party, who, by your voices, have with unanimity elected me to this office, I extend my heartfelt thanks. It is my highest hope that I may prove not unworthy of the trust you have imposed upon me.

To you, members of the great minority party who have cast your votes, as you were in honor bound to do for that scholarly statesman, that fine gentleman, that man who I am proud to call my friend, FINIS GARRETT, I extend my thanks for the clear evidence you have given me of your cordial good will.

I am a proud and happy man this day. Yet my pride and elation are tinged with a feeling approaching humility in the contemplation of the burdens and responsibilities I shall be called upon to bear during my term of office. To administer it to the satisfaction of this House and of the country I must have the friendly cooperation of all of you. This, my colleagues, I solicit, knowing full well that without it I can not hope to be successful.

The functions and duties of the Speakership as I view them divide themselves into two general classes, the one parliamentary, the other political.

The first I propose to administer with most rigid impartiality. With an eye single to the maintenance in the fullest degree of the dignity and honor of the House, and the rights and privileges of its Members. I promise you that there will be no such thing as favoritism in the treatment by the Chair of either parties or individuals. [Applause.]

The political side, to my mind, involves a question of party service. I believe it to be the duty of the Speaker, standing squarely on the platform of his party, to assist in so far as he properly can the enactment of legislation in accordance with the declared principles and policies of his party and by the same token to resist the enactment of legislation in violation thereof. [Applause.]

I believe in responsible party government. [Applause.] I regard as among the most beneficent provisions of the Constitution those two which provide for the election of the entire membership of the House of Representatives every second year and for the divorcement of the Congress from the executive branch. Under these provisions, unique among the constitutions of the great nations, it has been proved necessary if the will of the people, biennially expressed, is to be effectively translated into legislation that it must be through the medium of one major political party, whose members are united upon basic principles and policies, and responsible every two years to their constituencies.

Just as I stand for this, the American system of responsible party government, I am against the European system of bloc government. [Applause.] I have observed its workings abroad at first hand. It works badly enough over there, where legislation is generally a matter of bluster and trafficking between groups and where governments fall over night. Here it will not work at all, because it is un-American. [Applause.]

I have said that I propose to assist, so far as I properly can, the majority party in the carrying out of its policies and in the preservation of its principles. As a direct corollary I propose to be equally insistent that the right of the minority to speech and debate and the opportunity to record their position on all matters of public moment shall be given full latitude.

The policy I have outlined will, I believe, make for efficiency in the transaction of the public business by this House. It will make, too, I hope, for a continuous feeling of mutual respect and good will among us all, whether we be for the moment united or divided upon matters of high public import.

I rejoice that we are setting forth upon our legislative voyage practically without partisan division upon the most important measure, probably, that this Congress will face, the reduction in great degree of the tax burden of the American people.

And now before I take the solemn oath of office for the eleventh time in my service here may I say to you, my colleagues, that while my ambition to successfully perform the duties of the Speakership is as high, I believe, as any personal ambition can be, I cherish also an ambition, less personal in its nature, which is even higher.

I want to effectively assist you in bringing about universal recognition of the fact that this House, closer as it is to the people than any similar body and more directly responsive to their will, is in very truth, as it ought to be, the great dominant legislative assembly of the world. Thus we may rest assured that the Republic of the United States shall forever live and that popular representative government shall never die. [Applause.]

I am ready to take the oath.

The oath of office was administered to the Speaker by Mr. BUTLER.

Mr. BUTLER. And now, Mr. Speaker, I desire publicly to congratulate you, and I promise to help you make your administration not only acceptable to my own side of the House, but to the other side as well and to the whole country. [Applause.]

SWEARING IN OF MEMBERS

The SPEAKER administered the oath of office to the Members and Delegates, the Members and Delegates presenting themselves as their names were called by States and Territories, in the area in front of the Speaker's desk and taking the oath prescribed by law.

Mr. BUTLER and Mr. GRIEST qualified by affirmation.

ELECTION OF CLERK AND OTHER OFFICERS

Mr. HAWLEY. Mr. Speaker, I wish to announce as a matter of public record that Hon. JOHN Q. TILSON, a Representative from the State of Connecticut, has been selected as majority leader of the Sixty-ninth Congress.

Also, by direction of the Republican caucus, comprising the majority of the House of Representatives, I present the following resolutions for the election of the officers of the House for the Sixty-ninth Congress.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the resolution.

The Clerk read as follows:

House Resolution 1

Resolved, That William Tyler Page, of the State of Maryland, be, and he is hereby, chosen Clerk of the House of Representatives;

That Joseph G. Rogers, of the State of Pennsylvania, be, and he is hereby, chosen Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives;

That Bert W. Kennedy, of the State of Michigan, be, and he is hereby, chosen Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives;

That Frank W. Collier, of the State of Wisconsin, be, and he is hereby, chosen Postmaster of the House of Representatives; and

That Rev. James Shera Montgomery, of the District of Columbia, be, and he is hereby, chosen Chaplain of the House of Representatives.

Mr. HAWLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. CARTER of Oklahoma. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a substitute for this resolution, and upon that I ask a separation of the resolution just read in order that the name of Dr. James Shera Montgomery, as Chaplain, may be voted upon separately.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Oklahoma asks that in so far as the name of Dr. James Shera Montgomery is concerned, that it be voted upon separately and at once. Is there objection to the request? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none. The question is upon the resolution electing Dr. James Shera Montgomery Chaplain of the House of Representatives.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The question is now upon the substitute, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved, That South Trimble, of the State of Kentucky, be, and he is hereby, chosen Clerk of the House of Representatives;

That C. R. Evans, of the State of Nevada, be, and he is hereby, chosen Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives;

That Joseph J. Sinnott, of the State of Virginia, be, and he is hereby, chosen Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives; and

That F. E. Scott, of the State of Tennessee, be, and he is hereby, chosen Postmaster of the House of Representatives.

The question was taken, and the substitute was rejected.

The SPEAKER. The question now recurs on the resolution offered by the gentleman from Oregon.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

The officers elected, mentioned in the resolution, appeared at the bar of the House and took the oath of office.

NOTIFICATION OF THE SENATE

Mr. GREEN of Iowa. Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution, which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the resolution.

The Clerk read as follows:

House Resolution 2

Resolved, That a message be sent to the Senate to inform that body that a quorum of the House of Representatives is assembled; that NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, a Representative from the State of Ohio, has been elected Speaker; that William Tyler Page, a citizen of the State of Maryland, has been elected Clerk; and that the House is ready for business.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Senate Resolution 44

Resolved, That a committee consisting of two Senators be appointed to join such committee as may be appointed by the House of Representatives to wait upon the President of the United States and inform him that a quorum of each House is assembled and that Congress is ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

Senate Resolution 48

NOTIFICATION OF THE PRESIDENT

Mr. TILSON. Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read as follows:

House Resolution 3

Resolved, That a committee of three Members be appointed by the Speaker on the part of the House of Representatives to join with the committee on the part of the Senate to notify the President of the United States that a quorum of each House is assembled and that Congress is ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints the gentleman from Connecticut [Mr. TILSON], the gentleman from Iowa [Mr. GREEN], and the gentleman from Tennessee [Mr. GARRETT] to serve on the committee.

Mr. MADDEN. Mr. Speaker, I present the following resolution and ask its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read as follows:

House Resolution 4

Resolved, That the Clerk be instructed to inform the President of the United States that the House of Representatives has elected NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, a Representative from the State of Ohio, as Speaker and William Tyler Page, a citizen of the State of Maryland, as Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-ninth Congress.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

ELECTION OF ADDITIONAL HOUSE EMPLOYEES

Mr. CARTER of Oklahoma. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the resolution. The Clerk read as follows:

House Resolution 5

Resolved, That until otherwise ordered, Joseph J. Snyder be authorized to act as pair clerk and receive compensation at the rate of $2,150 per annum; that L. M. Overstreet be authorized to act as special messenger and assistant pair clerk and receive compensation at the rate of $2,150 per annum; that W. E. Kenney be authorized to act as special messenger at $2,150 per annum until December 31, 1925, and that Truman Ward be authorized to act as special messenger at $2,150 per annum effective January 1, 1926; that Ralph E. Roberts and Hunter Osborne be authorized to act as special messengers and receive each compensation at the rate of $2,150 per annum; that James J. Kenah be authorized to act as minority telephone messenger and receive compensation at the rate of $2,400 per annum; such employees to be at all times under the control of the Speaker of the House and subject to change at any time by the House, as provided by law.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

THE RULES

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution, which I send to the Clerk's desk.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from New York offers a resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House Resolution 6

Resolved, That the Rules of the House of Representatives in force at the close of the Sixty-eighth Congress be adopted as the Rules of the House of Representatives of the Sixty-ninth Congress, with the following amendments:

1. Clause 2, Rule X: Strike out "26" and insert in lieu thereof "25," so that as amended the clause shall read: "On Ways and Means, to consist of 25 members."

2. Clause 4, Rule X: After the word "members" strike out the period and insert in lieu thereof a colon and the following: "Provided, That until March 2, 1927, it shall consist of 22 members."

3. Clause 7, Rule X: Strike out the period after the word "members" and insert in lieu thereof a colon and the following: "Provided, That until March 2, 1927, it shall consist of 23 members."

4. Clause 3, Rule XIII: Strike out the second sentence and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"On the first Monday of each month immediately after the approval of the Journal, and on the third Monday of each month immediately after the disposition of motions to instruct committees which may be called up, the Speaker shall direct the Clerk to call the bills which have been for three days upon the "Consent Calendar."

5. Clause 4, Rule XIII: Strike out the word "Discharge" and insert the word "Instruct" so that as amended the clause shall read: "There shall also be a Calendar of Motions to Instruct Committees, as provided in clause 4 of Rule XXVII."

6. Clause 4, Rule XXVII: Strike out clause 4 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"4. A Member may present to the Clerk a motion in writing to instruct a committee to report within 15 days a public bill or resolution which has been referred to it 30 days prior thereto (but only one motion may be presented for each bill or resolution). The motion shall be placed in the custody of the Clerk, who shall arrange some convenient place for the signature of Members. A signature may be withdrawn by a Member in writing at any time before the motion is entered on the Journal. When a majority of the membership of the House shall have signed the motion it shall be entered on the Journal, printed with the signatures thereto in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD, and referred to the Calendar of Motions to Instruct Committees.

"On the 3d Monday of each month, immediately after the approval of the Journal, any Member who has signed a motion to instruct which has been on the Calendar at least seven days prior thereto, and seeks recognition, shall be recognized for the purpose of calling up the motion, and the House shall proceed to its consideration in the manner herein provided without intervening motion except one motion to adjourn. Recognition for the motions shall be in the order in which they have been entered.

"When the motion shall be called up, the bill or resolution shall be read by title only prior to a second being ordered by tellers. After the reading of the bill by title the motion shall not be submitted to the House unless seconded by a majority of the membership of the House to be determined by tellers and clause 4 of Rule XV shall not apply to such second; if such motion fails of a second, it shall immediately be stricken from the Calendar and shall not be thereafter placed thereon.

"If a second be ordered, debate on such motion shall be limited to 40 minutes, one-half thereof in favor of the proposition and one-half in opposition thereto. Such motions shall require for their adoption an affirmative vote of a majority of the membership of the House. Whenever such motion shall prevail the committee shall report said bill or resolution to the House within 15 days thereafter and said bill or resolution shall be referred to its appropriate Calendar."

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, pending the debate on the resolution, I would like to have the attention of the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. POU]. I would like to see if we can agree by unanimous consent on the time for its discussion.

Mr. POU. This whole change is quite far-reaching in its provisions. There ought to be at least on this side time for debate.

Mr. SNELL. There is only one change in the rules, and that is a matter that was debated for six days in the last session of Congress, and it seems to me we should dispose of it to-day without loss of time. I would suggest 30 minutes on a side, if that is agreeable to the gentleman from North Carolina.

Mr. POU. We would like more time, but if that is the best that the gentleman can offer we shall have to be content.

Mr. FISH. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, I would like to ask what opportunity there will be to offer amendments to the rules as proposed. It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that the Members of the House should have some opportunity during the entire session to offer amendments to the rules. This is the only opportunity that can or will be had to offer amendments to the rules which we must adhere to and which will control the procedure in the House of Representatives for the next two years. I have in mind, Mr. Speaker, an amendment which I would like to offer; an amendment which, if it is not constructive and based on sound common sense and business experience, the House can easily vote down in a few moments. I would like an opportunity to offer an amendment to create a standing committee of seven to revise and clarify the rules, many of which are archaic, complicated, confusing, and contradictory. Such a standing committee should be composed of the seven best parliamentary experts of this House, and should modernize and liberalize the rules of the House generally and bring them up to date. I would like to know if there is to be opportunity offered to submit such an amendment for the consideration of the House before the previous question is ordered.

Mr. SNELL. I do not think that will be in order at this time. I think it would be better for the gentleman to introduce his resolution in the proper way and have it referred to our committee, and I am sure the committee will give him ample time and opportunity for its careful consideration.

Mr. FISH. The point I have had in mind was to take away certain powers from the Committee on Rules; and, human nature being what it is, I doubt very much if the Committee on Rules will look upon the amendment I have to offer with particular favor, and therefore I favor the creation of a standing committee to revise the rules and desire an opportunity to ask the Members of the House to consider this proposal on its merits and free from all partisanship.

Mr. SNELL. The Committee on Rules is always subject to the will of the House.

Mr. FISH. The Members of the House all know that it is impossible; that unless this amendment is offered and adopted at this time, no other opportunity will occur to offer amendments from the floor, but they must go to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. CHINDBLOM. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield to me for a suggestion? The proposition of the gentleman is not before the Committee on Rules, is it?

Mr. SNELL. I do not yield further, as I desire to submit a unanimous-consent request.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from New York has not yet presented his request.

Mr. SNELL. I ask unanimous consent, Mr. Speaker, that the debate on this resolution may be limited to one hour, one-half of it to be controlled by the gentleman from North Carolina and one-half to be controlled by myself, and at the end of that time the previous question may be considered as ordered on the resolution.

Mr. POU. We can not agree to that until the motion for the previous question is agreed to.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection?

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. I object.

Mr. SNELL. Following the precedent of the Democratic majority when they adopted the old discharge rule in the Sixty-second Congress, the only thing left for me to do is to move the previous question. That will allow 20 minutes for debate on a side. I would have liked to have made some agreement as to time; but if that can not be done, there is nothing else left to do.

Mr. POU. I think we should have at least half an hour on a side.

Mr. LUCE. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question on the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from New York moves the previous question.

Mr. LUCE. Mr. Speaker, a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LUCE. The point of order is that at present we are proceeding under the general parliamentary law, of which the previous question is not a part.

Mr. SNELL. It has been ruled by many Speakers of this House that while debating the rules at the beginning of a session we should follow, as far as possible, the precedents and rules of the last House. Speaker Clark said that was the best parliamentary law he knew of, and under that parliamentary law this motion is in order at this time.

Mr. FISH. Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order also, of the high privilege of this House, that it is in order for any Member of the House, in discussing the rules of the House, to be given an opportunity to offer amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair overrules the points of order. The gentleman from New York [Mr. SNELL] moves the previous question on the resolution.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, on that motion I ask for the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The question was taken; and there were—yeas 210, nays 192, not voting 15, as follows:

NOT VOTING—15

Anthony	Black, N. Y.	McClintic	Sullivan
Bacharach	Frothingham	Newton, Mo.	Swoope
Bailey	Graham	Ragon	Wright
Berger	Houston	Smithwick

So the previous question was ordered.

The Clerk announced the following pairs:

On this vote:

Mr. Bachrach (for) with Mr. Wright (against).
 Mr. Graham (for) with Mr. McClintic (against).
 Mr. Newton of Missouri (for) with Mr. Smithwick (against).
 Mr. Swoope (for) with Mr. Black of New York (against).
 Mr. Bailey (for) with Mr. Sullivan (against).
 Mr. Frothingham (for) with Mr. Ragon (against).
 Mr. Anthony (for) with Mr. Berger (against).

Mr. TUCKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote.

The SPEAKER. Was the gentleman in the Hall and listening when his name was called?

Mr. TUCKER. I was listening a little, I fear, to my colleague, to whom I had been talking. I was told my name had been called, but I did not hear it, although I came in to vote.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman must have been in the Hall and listening when his name was called.

Mr. CRISP. Mr. Speaker, a parliamentary inquiry on this proposition. The Speaker is undoubtedly correct if we had rules, but we have not adopted rules yet. Is there any provision now that a Member of the House, until rules are adopted, must qualify by being in the Hall and listening before he can vote?

The SPEAKER. The same question arose as to whether the previous question was in order, and the present occupant of the chair thought he was following the precedent laid down by Speaker Clark in holding that the rules apply in so far as they possibly can. Therefore the Chair thinks the gentleman must qualify. Was the gentleman in the Hall and listening when his name was called?

Mr. TUCKER. Mr. Speaker, I was listening to my colleague, I am afraid.

Mr. OLDFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I disturbed him; I was talking to him.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman was present and listening he qualifies. How does the gentleman vote?

Mr. TUCKER. Mr. Speaker, I vote nay.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

SWEARING IN OF A MEMBER

Mr. BRIGGS appeared at the bar of the House and took the oath of office prescribed by law.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CANNON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to present a point of order. No rules have been adopted as yet, and the House is proceeding under general parliamentary law. On exceptional occasions it has been held that general practices of the House may be observed prior to adoption of the rules where not in conflict with parliamentary law, but the rule providing for 20 minutes' debate on a side after the ordering of the previous question without debate is one of the most technical and arbitrary sections in the rules of the House. It could not by any stretch of the imagination be considered as in effect prior to formal adoption of the rules. Under general parliamentary law the previous question operates to cut off debate peremptorily and bring the pending question to immediate vote. Any debate is therefore precluded and the gentleman from New York is not entitled to recognition.

If the Chair entertains any doubt on the question, I cite him to the decision of one of the ablest Speakers who ever presided over this body, Speaker Reed, who passed upon this identical question in the Fifty-fourth or Fifty-fifth Congress, on a similar point of order raised by Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, against a demand by Mr. Henderson, afterwards himself Speaker of the House, for recognition to debate a resolution to adopt rules. Speaker Reed held that before the adoption of rules the House proceeds under general parliamentary law; that provisions of the House's accustomed rules are not followed, and that the previous question of general parliamentary law does not permit the 40 minutes' debate on questions on which there has been no previous debate.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman make a point of order?

Mr. CANNON. If the previous question is to be demanded, and debate on this important revision of the rules of the House is to be merely perfunctory, we may as well have no debate at all, and unless the gentleman from Connecticut desires to request unanimous consent for longer debate, I make the point of order.

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the precedent cited by the gentleman from Missouri [Mr. CANNON], but later on we had a ruling by a distinguished Speaker, Speaker Clark, who said that notwithstanding the precedent which was quoted at that time that he believed the best precedent in parliamentary law was the previous rules of the House of Representatives, and until rules were adopted, as far as he was concerned, he proposed to follow them if they applied to the situation, and he overruled a point of order made at that time.

Mr. TILSON. Will the gentleman yield for a question? Was that on this very point?

Mr. SNELL. As I remember, it was on exactly the same situation that arose here to-day, involving the matter of debate on the previous question before the rules of the House were adopted.

Mr. BEGG. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SNELL. Yes.

Mr. BEGG. I call the attention of the Speaker to a little bit different angle on this question than even the one pointed out by the gentleman from Missouri [Mr. CANNON], namely, when this vote was taken the membership of the House believed that they were voting practically on whether or not they would have 40 minutes of debate or whether they would have unlimited debate.

Mr. TILSON. Mr. Speaker, I should like for the House to have 40 minutes' debate on this matter, but I can not say that the gentleman from Missouri [Mr. CANNON] is not right so far as the precedents are concerned and so far as the principle involved is concerned; and if I could get unanimous consent that we shall have 20 minutes of debate on a side, I should like for the Chair to sustain the point of order, because I think it is right in principle.

Mr. CRISP. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. TILSON. Just one moment, if the gentleman from Georgia will excuse me. I wish to say to the Chair that, as the gentleman from Missouri says, this is a highly technical rule; and while all the precedents have been that the application of the general rules of this House will be regarded as good parliamentary usage, when we are working without rules, that the highly technical rules would, of course, not be accepted as general parliamentary law, and as I understand it that is the basis of the point of order of the gentleman from Missouri, and that seems to me sound.

Mr. BLANTON. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. TILSON. I will.

Mr. BLANTON. If the gentleman from Missouri [Mr. CANNON] is correct, and that is the real, correct principle, the gentleman would not want the Speaker to rule against it just because it would shut off debate, would he? He would want the Speaker to rule correctly, whether it allowed debate or not.

Mr. TILSON. I should. I stand for the rules of this House in their integrity.

Mr. CRISP. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to bore you with a long speech. I propounded a parliamentary inquiry to you and you answered, and I think answered correctly, that until rules were adopted the present rules of the House are good parliamentary law to govern the House until a body of rules is adopted. The Speaker ruled the same way again to-day when the question arose, or it was tentatively understood that he ruled that way in the matter of 20 minutes' debate. My understanding of the procedure in the House until rules are adopted is that the general parliamentary law of the House is the old rules of the House. I am not going to take any more time, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has before him the precedent cited by the gentleman from Missouri [Mr. CANNON] and is aware of no precedent contradicting that in terms. However, the Chair feels that before the rules of the House have been adopted in the interest of fairness generally the Chair ought to construe the subject from as broad a point of view as possible. The Chair sees nothing absolutely inconsistent in the rule for the previous question, which he not long ago sustained, following the decision of former Speaker Clark, and thinks that there should be 20 minutes' debate on a side, particularly on a matter of such great importance as this. The Chair feels he should be as little technical as possible, and therefore overrules the point of order. The gentleman from New York [Mr. SNELL] is recognized.

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, the rules as presented for the consideration of the House for the Sixty-ninth Congress are the same as the rules in force at the close of the Sixty-eighth Congress, with the following exceptions:

1. Clause 2, Rule X, strike out "26" and insert in lieu thereof "25," so that as amended the clause shall read, "On Ways and Means Committee to consist of 25 members." This is simply putting the number on the Ways and Means Committee back to the number that has always prevailed up to the Sixty-eighth Congress.

2. Clause 4, Rule X, after the word "members" strike out the period and insert in lieu thereof a colon and the following: "Provided, That until March 2, 1927, it shall consist of 22 members." This is a rule that has been agreed upon by Members on both sides to increase the number of members on the Judiciary Committee of the House by one in order to take care of a man on the minority side of the House.

3. Clause 7, Rule X, strike out the period after the word "members" and insert in lieu thereof a colon and the following: "Provided, That until March 2, 1927, it shall consist of 23 members."

This is the same situation and applies to the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce and increases the membership of that committee for this session only by two members, and is also to take care of a minority Member of the House.

4. Clause 3 of Rule XIII, strike out the second sentence and insert in lieu thereof the following: "That on the first Monday of each month, immediately after the approval of the Journal, and on the third Monday of each month, immediately after the disposition of motions," and so forth. It is not necessary to read it all. This simply changes the name of the calendar to comply with an amendment that is made to clause 4, Rule XXVII.

5. Clause 4, Rule XIII, provides for the striking out of the word "discharge" and inserting the word "instruct." This is another matter that is merely perfunctory and is necessary by reason of the change made in clause 4 of Rule XXVII.

The proposed rules strike out the discharge rule that was adopted at the beginning of the Sixty-eighth Congress. Every Member who was a Member of the House at that time knows that that was a compromise rule. It suited no one and never would have been adopted if either side had had a clear majority. It was freely discussed on the floor of the House at that time, that if it did not work it probably would not be adopted at the beginning of the following Congress. There has never been any one rule of the House of Representatives that has had as fair a trial as that discharge rule, and the result is well known to all the Members of the House. It actually accomplished nothing. The only thing it did was to waste the time of the House and to throw the House into chaos and confusion such as we have never seen before since I have been a Member of the House of Representatives. If there was ever an exact example of marching your army up the hill and then down the hill again, this example was furnished in the House of Representatives when we voted to go into committee and out of committee again and into the House and back into committee again under the old discharge rule. As a matter of fact, this rule was not only a disappointment to its most ardent proponents but it was disgusting to the American people, and no man can consistently stand on the floor of this House and advocate its adoption as a part of the rules of the Sixty-ninth Congress.

Mr. BUTLER. Would the gentleman rather not be interrupted?

Mr. SNELL. I prefer not for a few moments.

The new rule as proposed provides for filing a motion with the Clerk, the same as the rule that was in force in the Sixty-eighth Congress, only this motion is one to instruct a committee to report in 15 days instead of peremptorily discharging. In this we are accomplishing the same result, but in an orderly and natural way, following the normal procedure of the House. It also provides that, in order to complete the motion, it must contain the names of the majority of the Members instead of 150, as required under the discharge rule in the Sixty-eighth Congress.

Now, I appreciate the fact that there will be some fault found with this condition. But let me go back a minute to when the original discharge rule was adopted during the Sixty-first Congress. At that time this rule came as the unanimous report of the Rules Committee of the House, and it recognized the principle that when you did such a revolutionary thing as to discharge a committee and take away legislation that had been assigned to it, it was only right and proper to require an affirmative vote of a majority of the Members of the House to do it. When they first began to discuss the resolution some Members thought it was going too far, but before the resolution was adopted it was nearly an unanimous agreement that it was proper that it should take a majority of the membership to adopt such revolutionary procedure as to discharge a committee.

The only change we have made in the rule is that we have moved this requirement up a step. We have made the original step a majority proposition instead of waiting until the last step, and it does not take one vote more to do this than it did under the original discharge rule adopted almost unanimously. We do that because it will save the time of the House. If you have the votes to carry out the proposition, you might as well put them on record the first thing as the last. There is no use in going through the preliminary proceedings and wasting all the time if you do not have the votes to adopt the main proposition. The only thing we have changed is that we require a majority of the House to start the proposition, and on each vote, while the old rule only asked an affirmative majority vote on the final vote to discharge. The principle is the same, and, as far as I know, no one has ever advocated anything else for such drastic action.

On the third Monday of each month it will be in order immediately after the approval of the Journal for any Member who signed the motion to call for its consideration, and the motion must be seconded by a majority of the Members by tellers; the teller vote at this stage is one of the provisions in all discharge rules of the House. If it receives a second, we provide for 40 minutes' debate. We change the time of debate from 20 minutes to 40 minutes because it was freely admitted during the last discussion that 20 minutes was not enough for the chairman of the committee or Members of the House to discuss such an important proposition.

If this motion is adopted by a vote of the majority of the House, the committee is directed by the House to report the bill or resolution to the House in 15 days and it is then placed on its proper calendar.

There will be some criticism of the rule because it is not given a privileged status on the calendar, but it seems to me that that is rather unfair from the standpoint that it may be that the committee may have other important bills on the calendar that the House desires to consider just as much as it does the legislation that it has instructed the committee to report, and there is plenty of time to give it privileged status later, if the House so desires. As a matter of fact when you get this resolution or bill on the calendar it is in the possession of the House, and the House has a right to do what it likes in regard to it. No man can bring up a bill or resolution from a committee until he first has the approval of the House. The first step is to move we go into Committee of the Whole; and if the House does not want to consider the bill first proposed, it votes down the motion until it gets what it wants.

We know from actual experience that the provisions of the old rule are unworkable, and, while we do not pretend this is easy, if you have the majority you claim, every step of this rule is plainly marked, and it will accomplish the desired results.

Mr. CRISP. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SNELL. I will yield to the gentleman.

Mr. CRISP. My friend says that you must have a sufficient number of votes to take this matter away from the committee. Will not my friend admit that you will have to have three separate votes of a majority of the House, a majority on each one of those three votes, and will not my friend admit further that it will have to be a majority of the entire membership of the House? To illustrate: If 218 Members vote, it is a quorum, and 109 Members can pass a bill taxing the people a billion dollars or appropriating millions of dollars, while under this proposition no bill can be got out of the committee until you have 218 Members of the House signing a petition, a majority of the entire membership of the House.

Mr. SNELL. I admit that, but I will tell the gentleman the reason why. When you are passing appropriation bills you are following the rules and precedents of the House in a normal and logical way, but this is not a normal and logical thing to do. We are doing a revolutionary and radical thing, and that is why we want a vote of the majority of the Members. When you suspend the rules at other times you require a two-thirds vote. The proposition of demanding an affirmative vote of the majority of the House was originally agreed to by my friend's own party.

Mr. CRISP. It is not in the rules of the Sixty-eighth Congress.

Mr. SNELL. In the last part of the resolution.

Mr. CRISP. There is nothing in the rules of the Sixty-eighth Congress that requires a majority to discharge.

Mr. SNELL. The gentleman is correct in that, but it is in all the other rules.

Mr. CRISP. That is for the purpose of discharging the committee?

Mr. SNELL. Yes.

Mr. CRISP. That is not for the purpose of passing the bill to become a law.

Mr. TILSON. It is not to pass the law. It is just the same principle exactly that was involved in the rule written by the gentleman from Georgia.

Mr. LA GUARDIA. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SNELL. I yield for one question.

Mr. LA GUARDIA. If the gentleman requires a majority of the membership of the House to instruct the committee, then why is not the gentleman satisfied with a majority vote on a motion to consider?

Mr. SNELL. That does not make any difference. If you have a majority of votes, you may as well have them all the way through. I reserve the remainder of my time.

Mr. POUL. Mr. Speaker, it were better that the majority should leave this discharge rule out entirely rather than to adopt the absurd and impossible rule that is now proposed. The rule should be denominated a rule to prevent action by the House rather than to secure action. It should be denominated a rule to suppress the power of each individual Member. We did not expect, Mr. Speaker, after the liberal address that was delivered by the present occupant of the chair awhile ago, which pleased both sides of the House, that the steam roller would be put into action so soon, and it is hard to believe that the presiding officer, the newly elected Speaker of the House, is in sympathy with the rule that is proposed.

In the first place, as the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. CRISP] has pointed out, before any measure can be brought before the House at all the signatures of 218 Members must be secured, and then after the measure is before the House the ingenious gentleman who drew this rule provides for the repeal of clause 4 of Rule XV, that clause shall not apply to the second which must be voted. Now, what is that clause 4 of Rule XV? It is the clause which gives to the Speaker the authority to send the Sergeant at Arms out and require the attendance of absent Members. The repeal of clause 4 is notice to Members, "stay away if you wish to do so, nobody will come after you." You gentlemen who represent progressive districts, in my humble judgment, will do well to pause and consider before you vote for such a monstrous proposition, because this action that you are about to take in all probability will be the beginning of a revolution which will cause the seats of certain gentlemen who are here to-day to know them no more henceforth forever.

Mr. BUTLER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. POUL. I am sorry, but I have only five minutes which I have allotted to myself. I wish we had time to discuss this rule. What an absurdity to stand up here and discuss a proposition which concerns the destiny of 110,000,000 people in 20 minutes! That there can be any real debate over a proposal so important in 20 minutes is a patent impossibility. As I said a while ago, it would be better that you do the frank thing of leaving out the rule altogether than to offer this impossible proposition to 435 intelligent men and expect them to approve it. I have seen men come and go. I have seen the political pendulum swing both ways. If you offend the sense of fairness in the American people, they quickly put you out of power. I was here a long time when it looked as though the Democratic Party was destined to remain always in the minority, but I remember one Congress when the so-called Cannon revolution occurred—and I speak of the former Speaker with the very greatest respect. Members realized that there was no opportunity here for individual action. You were forced to go into the Speaker's office, hat in hand, bowing and scraping, and begging for favors if you ever accomplished anything. The Speaker was in fact the czar of the House. He could make or break the Members. His will was always ratified. He wielded power which was appalling. At last Members became tired of one-man rule and they rose up and threw it off. The rules were made more liberal and most of the one-man power was taken away. No one has dared suggest a return to the old system, but this is a long step backward toward the restoration of czarism of 20 years ago. Every Member who wishes to preserve the rights of the individual Member, who is unwilling to surrender his individual rights, should unite here and now and vote down this monstrous proposition. [Applause.] I reserve the remainder of my time, and yield three minutes to the gentleman from Kentucky [Mr. BARKLEY].

Mr. BARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I realize the futility of engaging in an intelligent discussion of this rule in 3 minutes or 20 minutes, but I desire to emphasize what has been said by the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. POU] as to the effect of this rule if it be adopted. We require only a majority of a quorum of the Members of the House to pass a tax bill levying billions of dollars of taxes upon the people of the country. We require only a majority of a quorum of the Members of this House to pass appropriation bills, appropriating money out of the Treasury, and yet we have a proposition here where, if a recalcitrant committee refuses to give consideration to a bill which the House desires to consider on its merit, first, in order to get that thing in motion, a majority of all the Members elected must sign a petition which gives the right to a Member who did sign that petition to move to instruct the committee, and then the proposed rule further provides that even before the membership of the House can go on record on the proposition a majority of all the membership of the House who have been elected must pass through the tellers affirmatively seconding the motion. No such rule as that has ever been dreamed of prior to this time. A majority of the Members must first sign a petition; a majority of all the Members must go through the tellers seconding the motion to instruct a committee, and then a majority of all the Members must vote affirmatively to instruct the committee. Before you can get any action on this rule you have to have three affirmative votes of a majority of all of the Members elected. Under the ordinary rules a quorum can do business in this House. Suppose you had 220 Members on the floor. That would be a quorum. Suppose you had under consideration the question of seconding a motion to instruct the committee and that 217 of those 220 should pass through the tellers in favor of seconding the motion, and only three of them should pass through against it. Under this rule you could not even vote on whether you would instruct the committee to report in 15 days on a bill that had been introduced. [Applause.] A more ridiculous or monstrous proposition was never submitted, and I appeal to every Member here, regardless of politics, who is interested in legislation, who is interested in giving this House the right to pass on legislation, to think twice before voting for this rule.

Not only this, but the rule stipulates that if at any time during this proceeding the House finds itself without a quorum, the House is powerless to send for and bring Members in until a quorum is produced.

In other words, Members may deliberately absent themselves to break a quorum, but the House is denied the right to bring them back. This is not true of any other proceeding in this body.

Mr. HASTINGS. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. BARKLEY. Certainly.

Mr. HASTINGS. May I call the attention in the gentleman's time to the fact that a teller vote is not a record vote.

Mr. BARKLEY. No; it is not a record vote, and the gentleman who drew this recognized that sometimes men vote one way through tellers and another way on a roll call.

Mr. POUL. Mr. Speaker, I yield six minutes to the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. CRISP].

Mr. CRISP. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, of course, I can not argue this rule in six minutes. Before I start, I desire to say that my good friend from New York [Mr.

SNELL] was in error when he said that the discharge rule of the last Congress required a majority vote of the entire House to discharge. It does not so require, and the rule has nothing in it to that effect—only a majority of those present voting, a quorum being present, is sufficient to discharge. I want to say to my new colleagues that a farce comedy is being enacted for your benefit by the leaders of the majority. They propose a rule pretending it is a workable rule to instruct a committee to report a bill, which the committee has pigeonholed when they very well know they have proposed a rule which hermetically seals the door against any bill ever coming out of a committee when the steering committee or the majority leaders desire to kill the bill without putting the Members of this House on record on the measure. Now, under this rule proposed, before you can ever have a motion filed a majority of the entire House must sign the motion. I have never yet known when the entire membership of the House was present. To-day you had only 419 of the 435. Next, you must have a majority not of those present, not of a quorum, but of the entire House, going through tellers even before you can have any debate on the motion. I desire to say to my good friend from New York—and I take off my hat to him—that he has accomplished his purpose; that he has drafted a so-called discharge rule which absolutely makes it impossible ever to discharge a committee from a bill.

Under the general rules of the House a majority of a quorum can pass legislation of tremendous importance. Let me illustrate. Say 220 Members are present—a quorum; 111 Members can pass a bill declaring war or pass an appropriation bill appropriating $1,000,000,000 out of the Treasury or could enact, so far as the House is concerned, a tax measure requiring the people of the United States to pay two or more billions of dollars in taxes. Under the proposed rule 217 Members all voting in the affirmative can not discharge a committee from further consideration of a bill of little importance. You must have at least 218 votes in the affirmative, and you are required to have this number three separate times; first, on a petition; second, by a teller vote. Under past practice when a vote is being taken by tellers and a quorum fails to vote, an automatic call of the House is ordered and a ye-and-nay vote is ordered on the question. Thirdly, if 218 second the motion by tellers, then a vote can be had in the House, but before a discharge is effective there must be at least 218 votes in the affirmative.

My friend was not going to take any chance of a ye-and-nay vote being ordered on a motion to discharge when the vote was being taken by tellers, so the rule takes away expressly the right of a record vote. A teller vote is a splendid scheme to avoid letting the public know how you vote, hence the rule requires that method of voting on a motion to discharge a committee. If, forsooth, by some miracle you get by that stage, then what? Then you would have your 40 minutes' debate, and then a vote will be taken on the motion. If a majority of the whole House, not a majority of those present, vote in the affirmative, then the committee has 15 days in which to report the bill. This is a correct analysis of the new rule.

Gentlemen, this is a poor rule. It would be better to come forward and say, "We will not have any discharge rule." It would be better to say to Members of Congress representing constituencies that if you are afraid to go on record on an issue that we will protect you and not force you to go on record and let your views be known. That would have some bravery in it. But this is simply a delusion and a snare. You simply propose to them, "Oh, we have got a rule where you can do it," and you are laughing in your sleeves, because you know that your rule hog ties this House. It is the most reactionary rule I have ever known presented to the House in recent years. I am never afraid to take a position. I may be wrong, but I am not afraid to go on a record vote.

Now, referring to the operation of the last discharge rule to discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill, I grant you the Howell-Barkley bill involved was not passed because of a filibuster led by the leaders of the majority. But I do say to you that under that old rule, if the Speaker had enforced the rule against dilatory motions, you could have legislated. And I will say further for that rule that it at least smoked certain Members of this House out and made them face the issue and let the people of the United States know where they stood on that public question, and I think your constituents and mine are entitled to know how we stand on any public question. I think the old rule of the last Congress was a good rule. I argued it at length on the 14th day of January, 1924, and if any of you Members are interested in the question, I would feel honored if you would read that speech. I was interrogated by many Members, which brought out the evil of the old rule, and I think many of you who will read that speech will say it is a good rule. It is a workable rule. It only puts it in the power of this House to go on record on any measure on which 150 of the membership desire to go on record without such a revolutionizing and overthrowing of the rules of the House as was done when that great old Speaker, Mr. Cannon, was overthrown.

Mr. BUTLER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield now? Mr. CRISP. I can not refuse the gentleman anything.

Mr. BUTLER. How is it possible to have a record vote? We can vote by tellers. We can not wipe out the constitutional provision. Anybody can demand the yeas and nays.

Mr. CRISP. The Constitution applies to the passage of a bill, not to a rule for getting it up. You could never get the yeas and nays under this rule. I feel quite confident of it.

The SPEAKER. The time of the gentleman from Georgia has expired.

Mr. POUL. Mr. Speaker, we have only one more speech on this side.

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut [Mr. TILSON] five minutes.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Connecticut is recognized for five minutes.

Mr. TILSON. Mr. Speaker, what is a discharge rule, and what is its purpose? A discharge rule means a rule to take from a committee a bill or a resolution which it is the duty of the committee to consider; to withdraw it from that committee, and bring it before the House immediately.

The very statement of such a purpose would indicate that it is an extraordinary and dangerous thing to take away a bill from a committee and bring it before the House without the consideration of any committee whatever. This was one of the many errors of the rule that was adopted last year. Such procedure means taking the control from the duly constituted authorities of the House, the committees, and turning it over to a majority that may be formed by a combination by fear, or by any other force that may bring together a majority for a particular purpose. It should be difficult to accomplish such a thing. It has been provided in every discharge rule that has been passed—

Mr. CONNALLY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. TILSON. I regret that I can not yield now to the gentleman.

In every rule that has ever been passed here in the way of a discharge rule it is made difficult, and it should be difficult, to discharge a committee from the consideration of a matter properly referred to it. Personally I should be willing to adopt the rule which the Democrats who were in control of this House for eight years passed. It served every useful purpose that it was called upon to serve and no harmful purpose. The Republicans had it for four years, and during that time it served all useful purposes and never any harmful purpose.

We, now, propose a rule that embodies some of the features of that rule, which was in effect until the end of the Sixty-seventh Congress, and some of the features of the rule of the Sixty-eighth Congress in regard to the signing of a motion, except that the proposed rule increases the number required to sign the motion from 150 to 218.

It is absurd, Mr. Speaker, that a minority consisting of five votes more than one-third of this House, as is provided in the rule of the Sixty-eighth Congress, should be able at any time to take from a committee of this House and from the responsible majority of the House the control of a bill and force the House to take action upon it. It is a dangerous as well as a preposterous proceeding, and no such rule should ever be in force in a legislative body. Now, what does the proposed rule do?

Mr. RAYBURN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. TILSON. Yes; but please make the question brief.

Mr. RAYBURN. Is that the only change you make? I was opposed to the rule as passed last year. If you increase it from 150 and not change the rule otherwise, I am for it.

Mr. TILSON. That is one change. The next change is requiring a majority of the House by tellers. The gentleman from Georgia [Mr. CRISP] refers to this as if it were doing something very, very wrong to prevent an automatic roll call, for that is all the change does. It prevents an automatic roll call, thereby preventing filibustering and the loss of the time of the House. It requires the vote to be by tellers only, so that the matter may be gotten through with quickly and so that it may not be used for filibustering purposes. Assuming that there is a determined majority of the membership of this house intent upon passing any measure, let me show you how this rule will work. If such a majority are in fact determined and in earnest, they will sign their names to a motion. When such motion comes up they will march up the aisle between the tellers, and then when it comes to the vote to instruct a committee this same majority will record their votes in favor of it. I freely admit that all of this is more difficult than the orderly procedure of this House, but, gentlemen, I tell you that it ought to be more difficult. The party that has been charged by the people with a great responsibility ought to adopt such rules as will place it in a position to work its will, after giving due and fair opportunity to the minority to be heard and to be recorded. [Applause.]

The SPEAKER. The time of the gentleman from Connecticut has expired.

SWEARING IN OF A MEMBER

Mr. GRIFFIN appeared at the bar of the House and took the oath of office prescribed by law.

THE RULES

Mr. POUL. Mr. Speaker, I yield the remainder of the 20 minutes to the gentleman from Tennessee [Mr. GARRETT]. [Applause.]

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Tennessee is recognized for six minutes.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, the distinguished gentleman from Connecticut [Mr. TILSON] opened his remarks with an inquiry: What is this proposed discharge rule and what is its purpose? I remember another inquiry made long, long ago, "What is truth?" said jesting Pilate, and would not stay for an answer. [Laughter and applause.] The gentleman from Connecticut endeavored to answer his own question, but to my mind he did not answer it satisfactorily.

I think I know what the proposed rule is, and I know I know what its purpose is. Its purpose is to absolutely emasculate and to absolutely destroy the remotest possibility of discharging any committee in this House from the consideration of legislation, no matter how recalcitrant that committee may be. That is its purpose, and it will accomplish that purpose unquestionably.

Now, my friends of the House, when we had that long discussion two years ago it was freely predicted by eminent gentlemen on the Republican side that if the Crisp rule were adopted it would be utilized for purposes of delay and for purposes of embarrassing the majority. What has been its history, Mr. Speaker? It was not used for the purposes of delay and was not used for the purpose of embarrassing the majority. The only bill that was brought before this House for consideration under the terms of that rule and the only effort that was put forth to bring a bill before this House was put forth upon a nonpartisan proposition, and the motion was signed by gentlemen upon both sides of the Chamber.

Much has been said in the press in recent days about the purpose of the powers that be on the majority side to discipline certain Members of the House of Representatives. The idea has been given forth that the committee assignments of certain gentlemen who declare themselves Republicans, coming from the State in which the Republican Party was born, are to be determined by their votes upon certain propositions, including that for the Speaker of the House, upon the rules, and upon revenue matters. They are to be disciplined unless they vote correctly. I wonder how far that is to extend? Whom are you to discipline? I shall watch this vote with great interest. Mr. Speaker, I hold in my hand a list of gentlemen on the majority side who two years ago regarded the Crisp rule as it stands as a most excellent rule, or, at least, as sufficient to command their respect and support.

I shall read the names of those gentlemen, with a view of seeing who will be disciplined by my friend from Connecticut [Mr. TILSON] and other gentlemen of the powers that be. [Applause.] BARBOUR, BECK, BIXLER, BOIES, BRAND of Ohio, BROWN of Wisconsin, BRUMM, BURTON [laughter and applause], BUTLER, CLAGUE, COLTON, COOPER of Ohio, COOPER of Wisconsin, CRAMTON, DOWELL, FAIRCHILD, FISH, ROY G. FITZGERALD, FREAR, GABER, GIBSON, HAUGEN, MORTON D. HULL, WILLIAM E. HULL, JAMES, KELLER, KELLY, KETCHAM, KING, KNUTSON, LAGUARDIA, LAMPERT, LANGLEY, LEATHERWOOD, LEAVITT, LONGWORTH [laughter and applause]—oh, Mr. Speaker, is it possible that your seat is in danger in the first hour of its occupancy [laughter and applause]—MAPES, MICHENER, MILLER, MOORE of Ohio, MORGAN, NELSON of Wisconsin, PEAVEY, PURNELL, RATHBONE, REID of Illinois, ROBINSON of Iowa, ROBSON of Kentucky, SCHAFER, SCHNEIDER, SCOTT, SIMMONS, SINCLAIR, SINNOTT, SNELL [laughter and applause], SPEAKS, SPROUL of Kansas, STEPHENS, STRONG of Kansas, SUMMERS of Washington, SWING, TAYLOR of Tennessee, THATCHER, TINCHER, TINKHAM, VINCENT, VOIGT, WAINWRIGHT, WHITE of Kansas, WILLIAMS of Illinois, and WOODRUFF. Seventy-one Republican gentlemen who are now Members of this House then regarded the discharge rule as proper. That rule has not been abused. Why is it that this change should come? Oh, gentlemen, they refer to the fact that when we were in the majority we changed the discharge rule. True, true; and it was changed because there was a deliberate movement to undertake to interfere with the discharge of the public business by utilizing the rule in the form in which it stood, and so we then, being in the majority, necessarily had to do it.

I beg the gentleman from Connecticut to be careful as to how he takes vengeance upon these several men. [Laughter and applause.] I beg him to remember the old biblical injunction, "Vengeance is mine; I will repay saith the Lord."

The SPEAKER. The time of the gentleman from Tennessee has expired.

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, our friends on the Democratic side have made exactly the speeches we expected to hear from them on this proposition. It is mighty queer they were not so interested in a discharge rule that was workable when they were eight years in undisputed control of this House, and I would like to call on some one on that side of the House to tell me one piece of beneficial or progressive legislation that was ever passed in the history of the American Congress as a result of discharging a committee. I admit this is not an easy rule to work, and no conscientious, responsible legislator would stand on this floor and advocate one that was, but I do claim that under such extraordinary conditions as must exist, if you want to go so far as to discharge an unyielding committee from the consideration of legislation that has been assigned to it and you do have a majority in favor of it, the machinery is here set up to successfully accomplish that result.

Mr. CANNON. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SNELL. No; I can not yield because I have only two minutes.

We are proposing a set of rules that not only will protect every right of the minority but that will also aid and help the majority in carrying out its programs and policies, and the majority of the House is entitled to a set of rules of that kind.

Mr. BURTNESS. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SNELL. I am sorry I can not yield.

After all is said and done, the people of this country are not interested in how or under what rules you pass your legislation, but they are vitally interested in the kind and quality of legislation you put on the statute books of this country. By what we do we will be judged and not how we do it. As far as we are able, we intend to spend the time of this session in discussing and passing progressive, constructive legislation that will be for the benefit of all the people.

Mr. CONNALLY of Texas. Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. SNELL. I can not yield now.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman declines to yield.

Mr. SNELL. And as evidence of our ability and efficiency along this line, I want to call the attention of the House and of the country to the fact that for the first time in the memory of man a Republican Ways and Means Committee has reported a carefully considered revenue bill on the first day of this session of Congress—a bill that will reduce the taxes of every man, woman, and child in America. This is an example of what we are going to do and of our ability and desire to meet the demands of the people.

The responsibility is ours, and we accept it; and we expect to perform the work of this session in such a manner that it will deserve the approval and commendation of every thoughtful American citizen.

I trust you will approve of the resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a vote.

The SPEAKER. The time of the gentleman from New York has expired; all time has expired.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask a separate vote. I think there are three propositions affecting the discharge rule. Let them all be lumped together and let us have a separate vote on that, and then the others can be adopted.

Mr. SNELL. That is satisfactory.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. The resolution changes Rule XIII in one or two respects, and that is an integral part of this discharge matter.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Tennessee, as the Chair understands, asks unanimous consent that the question be so separated that all amendments touching this discharge rule be voted on at once and separately. Is there objection?

Mr. BEGG. Mr. Speaker, I do not see any use of that, and I object.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, of course, I do not have to have unanimous consent. I have the right to demand a separate vote, but in the interest of expediting the business I simply suggested that the three propositions that related to the discharge rule might all be bunched and voted on as one.

The SPEAKER. And the gentleman asked unanimous consent for the bunching of those three propositions.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Yes.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none.

Mr. TILSON. The gentleman from Tennessee requests that the changes with respect to the number of members on these committees shall be voted on separately.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Yes.

Mr. TILSON. Of course, the gentleman realizes that all those have been put on at the request of the gentleman and for the benefit of that side.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. The gentleman does not understand my point. I do not object to that at all. All I am wanting is a separate vote on the discharge proposition. Let the others be adopted en bloc; I have no objection at all.

Mr. BEGG. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, I would like to ask the gentleman a question. The division the gentleman asks shows clearly that he is trying to ask a separation of those rules that have been amended to meet with the wishes of the minority party from the others. I hardly think that is a sportsmanlike request; the thing that affects him, let us separate and adopt unanimously, and on the thing proposed by the majority party let us have a roll call; and I object, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, then I demand a separate vote. It will just make three roll calls instead of one. I demand a separate vote upon the three propositions.

Mr. SNELL. Mr. Speaker, if I understand the request or the demand of the gentleman from Tennessee, it is to vote on the entire resolution down to No. 4.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. I have no objection to that.

Mr. SNELL. That adopts the rule on everything except with reference to the discharge rule.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Yes.

The SPEAKER. The question, then, is upon the adoption of the first three sections.

Mr. BEGG. Mr. Speaker, a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BEGG. Mr. Speaker, under what right at this stage of the proceedings have you a right to separate a single motion made by the Rules Committee? Of course, there is no Rules Committee, it is true, right now, but it is made by the gentleman from New York, who was the chairman of the Rules Committee. I would like to make that inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that such a ruling was made within two years.

Mr. CRISP. I would like to say to the gentleman that, under general parliamentary law, when anybody is called upon to vote on a proposition containing separate, distinct, substantive propositions, they have a right to have them divided and vote on each one separately. [Applause.]

Mr. BEGG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the Chair to the fact that the motion of the gentleman from New York is that the rules of the Sixty-eighth Congress be adopted with an amendment.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. With amendments.

Mr. BEGG. No; with an amendment, I think the language is.

Mr. SNELL. No; with amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thinks the resolution is divisible. The question is on the adoption of the first three sections of the resolution.

Mr. LAGUARDIA. A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LAGUARDIA. I desire to respectfully inquire of the Speaker just when and how, according to the Longworth principle enunciated an hour ago, Members of the House belonging to a minority party are to obtain the floor to express their views on any measure that may come before the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman state what minority party he represents. [Laughter.]

Mr. LAGUARDIA. The gentleman represents a district in the city of New York, consisting of as many inhabitants as are in the district now represented by the occupant of the chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair merely asked the gentleman out of curiosity. [Laughter.] The question is on the adoption of the first three sections of the resolution offered by the gentleman from New York.

The question was taken, and the first three sections were adopted.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Now, Mr. Speaker, I ask that there be reported the remaining amendments in the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Clerk will report the remainder of the resolution.

The Clerk again reported the remainder of the resolution.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, all these propositions relate to the discharge rule. I do not care to have but one vote on it, but I do want a record vote on these four propositions.

Mr. SNELL. I think there is no objection to that.

Mr. TINCHER. As I understand, we have adopted the rules of the Sixty-eighth Congress, with certain amendments, and the proposition is now whether we will have another amendment. If this amendment of the rules should fail, will we have the old discharge rule?

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. We will have the old discharge rule.

Mr. TINCHER. The old Democratic rule of eight years.

Mr. CRISP. The Republican rule of the Sixty-eighth Congress.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. It is the rule that you voted for in the Sixty-eighth Congress.

Mr. SNELL. I think that we should have this made clear. If this amendment is voted down we will have the discharge rule of the Sixty-eighth Congress.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the adoption of the remainder of the resolution, and the gentleman from Tennessee asks for the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

Mr. TILSON. Mr. Speaker, does this vote adopt the rule with this amendment, or is there to be another vote?

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. As far as I am concerned, this is the last roll call.

Mr. TILSON. It is adopting the resolution.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. We are voting on the discharge proposition; another vote will be necessary to adopt the rule.

Mr. TILSON. If this is carried, the gentleman will not insist on another vote?

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. No; I will be satisfied with this vote, but may I ask the gentleman from Connecticut for information. I stated that I would be satisfied with this roll call. If it so happens that a considerable number of the 71 stand where they did before, how will the gentleman feel about another roll call? [Laughter.]

Mr. BEGG. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Tennessee is wrong in his statement. If I understood the matter correctly, we adopted the resolution with the four amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands the parliamentary situation to be this: A favorable vote has been had on the entire resolution offered by the gentleman from New York adopting the rules of the Sixty-eighth Congress with certain amendments, all except these particular amendments that are now to be voted on. The gentleman from Tennessee demands the yeas and nays, and the yeas and nays have been ordered.

The question was taken; and there were—yeas 206, nays 196, not voting 16, as follows:

Mr. GARNER of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to proceed for five minutes.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection?

There was no objection.

Mr. GARNER of Texas. Mr. Speaker, it will be observed that only seven committees are being made up at this time. I think it is nothing but fair to say that the Democrats are prepared to nominate their entire committee assignments. It seems rather strange to me, and I think it will be strange to the House of Representatives, that on the first meeting day of the Congress the majority side is unable to nominate its committee assignments, although the minority is prepared to conduct the business of the House. It is characteristic, of course, of the majority to stall on occasions of this kind. For some reason, I do not know why, we were told to-day that the Speaker of the House was to be a brilliant Speaker, that he was to make a record. I hope he will. I do not know whether he is responsible for the majority not being able to function to-day or not; I do not know whether it is the majority leader, the gentleman from Connecticut [Mr. TILSON], or whether it is just the imbecility of the entire Republican side of the House. [Applause and laughter.]

Mr. BEGG. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. GARNER of Texas. One thing is certain, and that is that the minority is prepared to nominate its committee assignments to-day and the majority is not prepared to do that.

Mr. MADDEN. Oh, the minority is always prepared when they have nothing to do. [Laughter.]

Mr. GARNER of Texas. The gentleman says that we have nothing to do. Mr. Speaker, the Republican Party probably does not want to have anything to do. The trouble with the Republican side of the House is that they do not want to do anything. If I understand it, there is important legislation to be considered by the Committee on Military Affairs, by the Committee on Naval Affairs, by the Committee on the Judiciary, and by the Committee on Education, and I understand that the Committee on the District of Columbia is rearing to go. Why is it that you do not nominate your committees to-day? Is it for the purpose of holding the whip hand over some one? Is that the reason? It has been stated in the newspapers that you are not going to nominate your committees until after the holidays, and that the reason you are not going to do that is because you have the tax bill before you. How do you have the tax bill before you? You could not have done that by yourselves? You could not have reported a tax bill at this time if only the Republican organization had been working. You have to have help, and look what help you had! [Laughter and applause.]

Of course, when the Democrats assist the Republicans, the Republicans can function; but when you have something to do by your lonesome, then you are out of fix. The machine is out of fix; you have not any oil; you have not any gas; you have not even a self-starter.

Mr. PARKER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. GARNER of Texas. Yes.

Mr. PARKER. Simply to ask the gentleman why in 1913 the Democrats did not appoint their committees?

Mr. GARNER of Texas. Oh, we were just starting out on a new régime, but you are an old established business. You have a tremendous majority here. Why do you not select your committees to-day? Why do you not let these committees go to work with their hearings and begin to function? Will somebody answer that question? I ask the gentleman from Connecticut to tell us why he does not nominate his committees to-day?

Mr. PARKER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. TILSON rose.

Mr. GARNER of Texas. Oh, I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut, who speaks with authority.

Mr. TILSON. If the gentleman will permit, through the very fine work of the committee, of which the gentleman is an honored and leading member, that committee has prepared for consideration by the House, business which we are quite sure will take several days to consider. We have just now officially elected the membership of that committee, so that as soon as the gentleman's five minutes have expired, he and his committee may retire and report a revenue bill to the House that will require at least a week for consideration. Before that time, I can assure the gentleman that we shall have assigned the membership on our side to committees where they can best serve this House and the country.

Mr. CHINDBLOM. The Committee on Ways and Means is waiting for the gentleman.

Mr. GARNER of Texas. The gentleman can go ahead and report the bill while I am making this little talk. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has given his reasons. Do you propose to have the House of Representatives continue to do nothing while waiting for the Committee on Ways and Means to pass the tax bill? Why do you not give us an opportunity to work?

Mr. TILSON. We are going to do so.

Mr. GARNER of Texas. When, when?

Mr. TILSON. Within a week; and certainly before the revenue bill is finished.

The SPEAKER. The time of the gentleman has expired. The question is on the resolution offered by the gentleman from Texas.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

PRINTING AND BINDING, STANDING COMMITTEES OF THE HOUSE

Mr. KIESS. Mr. Speaker, I offer a privileged resolution from the Committee on Printing.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will report the resolution.

The Clerk read as follows:

House Resolution 10

Resolved, That the standing committees of the House of Representatives and the floor leader and the chairman of the conference minority are hereby authorized to have such printing and binding done as may be actually necessary for the transaction of their official business during the Sixty-ninth Congress.

Mr. KIESS. I move the adoption of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the consideration of the resolution? [After a pause.] The Chair hears none.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. This is the usual printing resolution?

Mr. KIESS. Yes. This is the usual resolution always offered on the first day of the session. It authorizes the committee chairmen and the leaders of the majority and minority to have printing done.

The question was taken, and the resolution was agreed to.

ADDITIONAL COPIES OF H. R. 1

Mr. KIESS. I offer another resolution from the Committee on Printing.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Pennsylvania asks unanimous consent for the present consideration of the resolution which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House Resolution 11

Resolved, That there be printed 3,000 additional copies of the bill (H. R. 1) to reduce and equalize taxation, to provide revenue, and for other purposes, for the use of the House document room.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection?

Mr. BLANTON. Mr. Speaker, could not the gentleman have a larger number printed and let them be distributed through the folding room? There are a great many calls for this bill.

Mr. KIESS. I will explain why the number is limited, and it is because that is all that we can print with a House resolution, $500, but the Joint Committee on Printing will add their 200, and that will make 1,300 more. They go to the document room.

Mr. BLANTON. They are not distributed through the folding room pro rata?

Mr. KIESS. No.

Mr. LAGUARDIA. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, will the bill be so printed that the Members may have a comparison of the old bill and the new bill, such as is ordinarily printed when the bill is under consideration for amendment? I saw this morning the print, and I should judge it makes it difficult to work with.

Mr. GREEN of Iowa. It will be printed in the regular bill form.

Mr. LAGUARDIA. And will not show the lines stricken out and the new matter in italics?

Mr. GREEN of Iowa. No; we never introduce a bill in that way.

Mr. KIESS. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the present consideration of the resolution?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the resolution.

The resolution was agreed to.

HEARINGS ON THE REVENUE BILL

Mr. KIESS. Mr. Speaker, I offer another resolution from the Committee on Printing.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Pennsylvania asks unanimous consent for the present consideration of the resolution, which the Clerk will report.

The Clerk read as follows:

House Resolution 12

Resolved, That in accordance with paragraph 3 of section 2 of the printing act approved March 1, 1907, the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives be, and is hereby, authorized and empowered to have printed 300 additional copies of the hearings before said committee on a bill to reduce and equalize taxation, to provide revenue, and for other purposes.

Mr. KIESS. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the present consideration of the resolution?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER. The question is on agreeing to the resolution.

The resolution was agreed to.

THE REVENUE BILL

Mr. GREEN of Iowa, chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, by direction of that committee, reported a bill (H. R. 1) to reduce and equalize taxation, provide revenue, and for other purposes; which was read a first and second time, and was referred, with the accompanying report, to the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union and ordered to be printed.

Mr. GARNER of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I desire to reserve all points of order on the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Texas reserves all points of order on the bill.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. GREEN of Iowa. Yes.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. In order that the Members may understand, is it probable that consideration of this bill (H. R. 1) will begin to-morrow?

Mr. GREEN of Iowa. That is the intention, after the reading of the President's message, unless some other business intervenes.

Mr. GARRETT of Tennessee. I am glad to have that understanding.

Mr. TILSON. That is the understanding, that to-morrow morning after the House assembles there will come the report of the committee to wait on the President, notifying him that we are ready to transact business and receive any communication he may have to make. Immediately after that will be the reading of the President's message and after that the consideration of the revenue bill.

Mr. GARNER of Texas. Let me ask the gentleman from Iowa a question. It is the purpose, is it not, to have general debate begin at once and run not later than Saturday?

Mr. TILSON. It is my understanding that the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means will make that request, that general debate begin at once and run not later than Saturday, at 4 o'clock Saturday, with a view to taking it up under the five-minute rule on Monday; and if the debate is exhausted we will begin the reading of the bill on Saturday.

Mr. GREEN of Iowa. Yes; if the general debate is exhausted, unless Saturday afternoon has gone by.

Mr. CHINDBLOM. The reading will begin at any time that the debate is exhausted?

Mr. GREEN of Iowa. As soon as the debate is exhausted we will begin the reading of the bill.

Mr. GARNER of Texas. It is the idea, is it, that the general debate will take the entire week?

Mr. GREEN of Iowa. That is the expectation, that the general debate would take the entire week.

SENATE

TUESDAY, December 8, 1925

The Chaplain, Rev. J. J. Muir, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Our gracious heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the sunlight; we thank Thee for every inspiring influence; for the guardianship of the night and for the opportunity of service with the day. We beseech of Thee that there may be given unto us such a consciousness of Thy nearness and to the great realities that press heavily upon our thoughts, so as to lead us to the largest purposes befitting the Nation and befitting the individual. We pray for Thy guidance this day, and ask Thee to lead us even when we ourselves think we can be self-sufficient. Hear and help us. For Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

The Chief Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on request of Mr. CURTIS and by unanimous consent, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL MESSAGE

Mr. Latta, one of the secretaries of the President, was announced and said:

Mr. President, I am directed by the President of the United States to deliver to the Senate a message in writing.

The message was received by the assistant doorkeeper (C. A. Loeffler) and handed to the Vice President.

The VICE PRESIDENT. The Chair lays before the Senate a message from the President of the United States, which will be read.

The Secretary (Edwin P. Thayer) read the message, as follows:

Members of the Congress, in meeting the constitutional requirement of informing the Congress upon the state of the Union, it is exceedingly gratifying to report that the general condition is one of progress and prosperity. Here and there are comparatively small and apparently temporary difficulties needing adjustment and improved administrative methods, such as are always to be expected, but in the fundamentals of government and business the results demonstrate that we are going in the right direction. The country does not appear to require radical departures from the policies already adopted so much as it needs a further extension of these policies and the improvement of details. The age of perfection is still in the somewhat distant future, but it is more in danger of being retarded by mistaken Government activity than it is from lack of legislation. We are by far the most likely to accomplish permanent good if we proceed with moderation.

In our country the people are sovereign and independent, and must accept the resulting responsibilities. It is their duty to support themselves and support the Government. That is the business of the Nation, whatever the charity of the Nation may require. The functions which the Congress are to discharge are not those of local government but of National Government. The greatest solicitude should be exercised to prevent any encroachment upon the rights of the States or their various political subdivisions. Local self-government is one of our most precious possessions. It is the greatest contributing factor to the stability, strength, liberty, and progress of the Nation. It ought not to be infringed by assault or undermined by purchase. It ought not to abdicate its power through weakness or resign its authority through favor. It does not at all follow that because abuses exist it is the concern of the Federal Government to attempt their reform.

Society is in much more danger from encumbering the National Government beyond its wisdom to comprehend, or its ability to administer, than from leaving the local communities
