

The city anticipates that the two projects would employ 500 workers during the peak of construction, with a $1.5 million monthly payroll. The total construction payroll for both projects is expected to be $25 million. The New Martinsville hydropower projects will also pay substantial taxes and other payments to various governmental entities during construction and operation. The Federal Government will benefit from these projects, since it will receive annual payments of $800,000 from the hydroelectric projects, even though the projects will be financed by the city of New Martinsville. The license extensions made possible by this bill will bring significant economic development to the northern Panhandle region of West Virginia.
