At the end of the bill add the following:

SEC. 3. DEFENSE EXPORT LOAN GUARANTEES.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF PROGRAM.—

(1) AUTHORITY.—Chapter 148 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new subchapter:

“SUBCHAPTER VI—DEFENSE EXPORT

“Sec.

“2540. Establishment of loan guarantee program.

“2540a. Transferability.

“2540b. Limitations.

“2540c. Fees charged and collected.

“2540d. Defense Export Loan Guarantee Revolving Fund.

“2540e. Full faith and credit of the United States.

“2540f. Definitions.

“§ 2540. Establishment of loan guarantee program

“(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—In order to meet the national security objectives in section 2501(a) of this title, the Secretary of Defense shall establish a program under which the Secretary may issue guarantees assuring a lender against losses of principal or interest, or both principal and interest, arising out of the financing of the sale or long-term lease of defense articles, defense services, or design and construction services to a country referred to in subsection (b).

“(b) COVERED COUNTRIES.—The authority under subsection (a) applies with respect to the following countries:

“(1) A member nation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

“(2) A country designated as of March 31, 1995, as a major non-NATO ally pursuant to section 2350a(i)(3) of this title.

“(3) A country in Central Europe that, as determined by the Secretary of State—

“(A) has changed its form of national government from a nondemocratic form of government to a democratic form of government since October 1, 1989; or

“(B) is in the processing of changing its form of national government from a non-democratic form of government to a democratic form of government.

“(4) A country that was a member nation of the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) as of October 31, 1993.

“(c) AUTHORITY SUBJECT TO PROVISIONS OF APPROPRIATIONS.—The Secretary may guarantee a loan under this subchapter only as provided in appropriations Acts.

“§ 2540a. Transferability

“A guarantee issued under this subchapter shall be fully and freely transferable.

“§ 2540b. Limitations

“(a) TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF LOAN GUARANTEES.—In issuing a guarantee under this subchapter for a medium-term or long-term loan, the Secretary may not offer terms and conditions more beneficial than those that would be provided to the recipient by the Export-Import Bank of the United States under similar circumstances in conjunction with the provision of guarantees for nondefense articles and services.

“(b) LOSSES ARISING FROM FRAUD OR MISREPRESENTATION.—No payment may be made under a guarantee issued under this subchapter for a loss arising out of fraud or misrepresentation for which the party seeking payment is responsible.

“(c) NO RIGHT OF ACCELERATION.—The Secretary of Defense may not accelerate any guaranteed loan or increment, and may not pay any amount, in respect of a guarantee issued under this subchapter, other than in accordance with the original payment terms of the loan.

“(b) AMOUNT.—To the extent that the cost of the loan guarantees under this subchapter is not otherwise provided for in appropriations Acts, the fee imposed under this section with respect to a loan guarantee shall be fixed in an amount determined by the Secretary to be sufficient to meet potential liabilities of the United States under the loan guarantee.

“(c) PAYMENT TERMS.—The fee for each guarantee shall become due as the guarantee is issued. In the case of a guarantee for a loan which is disbursed incrementally, and for which the guarantee is correspondingly issued incrementally as portions of the loan are disbursed, the fee shall be paid incrementally in proportion to the amount of the guarantee that is issued.

“(d) COLLECTIONS TO BE CREDITED TO REVOLVING FUND.—Fees collected under this section shall be credited to the Defense Export Loan Guarantee Revolving Fund.

“(d) AVAILABILITY OF FUND.—Sums in the Fund shall be available, to the extent provided in appropriations Acts, to pay the cost of loan guarantee obligations under this subchapter.

“§ 2540e. Full faith and credit of the United States

“All guarantees issued under this subchapter shall constitute obligations, in accordance with the terms of those guarantees, of the United States, and the credit of the United States is hereby pledged for the full payment and performance of those obligations.

“§ 2540f. Definitions

“In this subchapter:

“(1) The terms ‘defense article’, ‘defense services’, and ‘design and construction services’ have the meanings given those terms in section 47 of the Arms Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2794).

“(2) The term ‘cost’, with respect to a loan guarantee, has the meaning given that term in section 502 of the Congressional Budget and Impoundment Control Act of 1974 (2 U.S.C. 661a).”.

(2) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of subchapters at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

“VI. Defense Export Loan Guarantees ..... 2540”.

(b) REPORT.—

(1) REQUIREMENT.—Not later than two years after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to Congress a report on the loan guarantee program established pursuant to section 2540 of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a).

(2) CONTENT OF REPORT.—The report shall include—

(A) an analysis of the costs and benefits of the loan guarantee program; and

(B) any recommendations for modification of the program that the President considers appropriate, including—

(i) any recommended addition to the list of countries for which a guarantee may be issued under the program; and

(ii) any proposed legislation necessary to authorize a recommended modification.

Mr. KEMPTHORNE. Mr. President, I rise today to submit an amendment to S. 570 to create a defense export loan guarantee program at the Department of Defense. I am pleased that I am joined in this effort by the distinguished Senator from Colorado, my friend, HANK BROWN, and senior and junior Senators from Connecticut, Senators DODD and LIEBERMAN.

As many of my colleagues know, defense exports are currently prohibited from participating in Government financing systems available for the exports of other nondefense products. My amendment would eliminate this discriminatory treatment of legitimate defense exports while preserving all existing export controls. I want to be clear that my colleagues understand this last point: My amendment deals only with legitimate sales that are consistent with every existing export control and license requirement. My amendment also does not propose to sell destabilizing weapons to dangerous countries, but would only support sales of defense articles to a select number of countries. It would allow American defense companies and workers to compete on a level playing field for legitimate defense sales that promote our National interests.

Since the height of the Reagan build up in 1985, the defense budget has been declining every year. In particular, the Department of Defense has reduced the procurement of weapons systems that our military personnel use to defend our Nation's interests. As a result of these cuts in procurement, large parts of our defense industrial base are closing their doors. Today, we have concerns about the ammunition industrial base, the small arms industrial base, the shipbuilding industrial base, the tank industrial base, and the helicopter industrial base. As the defense committees look at the defense industrial base, we know that we will need these manufacturing capabilities in the future as we struggle to find ways to preserve these assets.

One way we can help preserve this important industrial base is to allow defense companies to use export financing similar to that available to every other exporter in the United States. And that is what my amendment would do.

The United States currently dominates the international arms market. In my mind, our dominance in this market is a result of the superiority of our weapons, as demonstrated in Operation Desert Storm, and the sharp reduction in arms exports from the former Soviet Union. But we still have strong competition in the international arms market. Today, American defense exporters face stiff and increasing challenges from many of our European allies who have access to Government-supported export financing. American companies do not compete on a level playing field and this may erode U.S. marketshare at precisely a time when our own modernization program is in budgetary jeopardy. This situation is what my amendment seeks to address.

My amendment would give the Secretary of Defense the discretion to create a self-financing program to extend Government-backed loan guarantees for the export of defense articles and services. The buyer or the seller would pay fee which would cover the Federal Government's exposure cost of the loans. The list of eligible countries would be limited to NATO allies, major non-NATO allies, the emerging democratic states in Central Europe and members of the Asian Pacific Economic Cooperation [APEC]. Two years after enactment, my amendment calls for the President to issue a report that assesses the costs and benefits of the program and that recommends modifications.

Mr. President, my amendment has strong bipartisan support but I know some Members of the Senate oppose this type of program. I am open to any suggestion for improving this amendment, but this amendment represents a solid start for addressing this issue. The important point is that our defense companies and workers, the men and women who won the cold war for the United States, need our help to compete effectively on the international market. No one argues that defense exports alone will not make up for the effects of a 70-percent reduction in the defense procurement budget over the last 10 years. By providing this exports loan guarantee authority, however, we have a chance to help preserve at least some of the most important segments of the industrial base that our country will surely need in the future. We will also have a chance to save good, high-paying American jobs, and we owe it to ourselves, and to our future, to let our workers enjoy the benefits of a level playing field in the international defense marketplace.
