

proud Hispanic-American community in New Jersey is indeed one of the reasons the Garden State is a national leader in job creation and economic growth. Through the work of the statewide Hispanic Chamber of Commerce of New Jersey, Hispanic business leaders expand their enterprises and develop a strong work ethic. I thank them for their special and invaluable contributions to my home State.

On behalf of my colleagues, I would like to acknowledge our appreciation of, and pride in, the Hispanic community and congratulate them for a successful celebration this year of Hispanic Business Week.

TRIBUTE TO DEV ANAND

HON. HOWARD L. BERMAN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 30, 1995

Mr. BERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am honored to pay tribute to Dev Anand, one of the giants of Indian cinema, who will be honored this fall by the National Federation of Indo-American Associations. Mr. Anand made his first film in 1945. Since then he has not only starred in countless films, but has produced, written, and directed numerous projects under the banner of Navketan Films. He is both a prolific and talented performer.

The key to Mr. Anand's continued success lies in his willingness to change and mold himself according to the times, as well as in his never-say-die spirit. He is always involved in new projects which sustain his bubbling enthusiasm and dynamism. These range from being the first to use Himalayan backgrounds for love stories, to producing a smash hit based on the hippie phenomenon as seen from the point of view of the Indian popular establishment, to singing rap songs. The word "impossible" simply does not exist in Mr. Anand's dictionary. His impact on the Indian film industry is such that many producers ask their heroes to imitate Dev Anand.

In 1963, Mr. Anand collaborated with Pearl S. Buck on an award-winning film entitled "Guide," which was recorded in Hindi and English. In the film, he stars as the scurrilous guide who redeems himself by fasting to death for rain to save the lives of millions of drought-stricken villagers.

Mr. Anand is celebrating his 50 years of work in the Indian film industry with the release of "Gangster," which will premiere in eight U.S. cities. This will give American audiences the rare treat of being able to see Mr. Anand's skills for themselves. Prior to his U.S. appearances, he will be exhibiting his film at the Shanghai Film Festival, and is invited to address the union at Oxford University.

I ask my colleagues to join me today in saluting Dev Anand, a legend in Indian cinema, and a true artist. All Americans who care about film and culture are honored by his presence on our shores.

CONGRATULATIONS TO ST. JOSEPH'S HIGH SCHOOL

HON. TIM ROEMER

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 30, 1995

Mr. ROEMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor and pay tribute to one of the most dominant teams in the history of Indiana high school football: the South Bend St. Joseph's Indians. On Saturday, November 25, the Indians and Head Coach Frank Amato defeated favored Jasper High School 28-0 to claim the 1995 Class 3-A State Championship, the first football title for the city of South Bend since the Washington Panthers won the 3-A crown in 1973.

This victory was an appropriate climax to an unforgettable season. In finishing the year with a perfect 14-0 record, St. Joe's outscored its opponents by a combined 588-72. The offense, which averaged 42 a game, compiled close to 300 yards on the ground in the championship. Thanks to a powerful offensive line, St. Joe's quarterback Blair Kyle, tailback Sean Waite, and fullback Christian Hurley each rushed for close to or over 100 yards.

The defensive unit of Marques Clayton, Ben Downey, Trevor Dokes, Jeff Harris, Dan Luther, Pace McCormick, Jason Pikuza, Jeremy Remble, Pete Riordan, Rashwan Seward and Sean Waite, was just as spectacular. The Championship victory was their seventh shut-out in a season in which they allowed an average of just 5.1 points a game. In the second half of the victory over Jasper, the defense gave up just 1 yard of offense until the final 2 minutes.

It is often commented that no team in the National Football League will ever be able to duplicate the undefeated season of the 1972 Miami Dolphins. Mr. Speaker, I believe the same can be said of the 1995 South Bend St. Joseph's Indians. They have set a standard of excellence which champions of the future will have a difficult time equalling or even approaching.

LOBBYING REFORM: FINALLY

HON. THOMAS M. BARRETT

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 30, 1995

Mr. BARRETT of Wisconsin. Mr. Speaker, in the last 2 weeks, we have witnessed an incredible change in the balance of power here in Washington. The influence of lobbyists is declining, and the layer of wealthy special interests that shields the American people from their elected officials has begun to disappear.

On November 16, the House adopted a rule prohibiting Members and staff from accepting almost all gifts. And yesterday, we unanimously passed a Senate bill requiring increased disclosure by those who are paid to lobby Congress and the executive branch. This bill, the first substantial change in lobbying disclosure requirements in 50 years, now goes to the President for his signature.

Up until the final vote, however, the lobbying bill was in grave danger of death by amendment. Senate passage of the tough new requirements in July represented a hard-fought compromise painstakingly crafted by Members of both parties. In the House, some Members were not satisfied and proposed to amend the bill, knowing that the adoption of any amendments would send the measure back to the Senate and would threaten that body's fragile compromise. In other words, amending the bill would mean the end of lobbying reform.

During consideration of the bill in the House, I voted against each of the four amendments that was offered. Most of them have merit, and under different circumstances would win my support. But on this occasion, I joined a majority of my colleagues in demanding that a clean bill be passed and sent on to the President.

Last year, both the House and Senate passed similar lobbying reform bills, but the effort was derailed in conference by those who opposed the cause of reform. For that reason, it was imperative to avoid a conference this time around. The Senate sent us a good bill, and I am delighted that we passed it unanimously without change. Once the President signs it, this chapter in the history of reform will be complete.

MEDICARE

HON. RON PACKARD

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 30, 1995

Mr. PACKARD. Mr. Speaker, I was proud to cast a historic vote to save Medicare for current and future beneficiaries. This is a serious effort to deal with a tough problem. We simply cannot sustain Medicare's current astronomical growth.

Our plan gives seniors new choices. Now, they will have the same access to health care their children and grandchildren have—whether it is managed care, preferred provider networks, medical savings accounts, provider services, or traditional fee for service.

Each and every senior will have all of these health care providers competing for their business. Once market forces do their magic, seniors will find they have better health care at less cost. For the first time, beneficiaries will be able to take advantage of new, advanced technologies that previously were unavailable under the old Medicare. Medicare-plus will provide seniors with new choices. Each year, beneficiaries will receive information outlining all of their choices. Every plan offered must be at least as good as the current Medicare.

Mr. Speaker, there is only one plan to save Medicare. The Republican plan. The plan offered by my colleagues on the other side of the aisle is simply a Band-Aid. The substitute they have proposed reveals, yet again, that Democrats are willing to let Medicare go bankrupt. It is not an alternative for seniors who rely on Medicare now or in the future.

Medicare needs a big fix, not a Band-Aid.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON SUSTAINABLE CONTRIBUTION OF FISHERIES TO FOOD SECURITY

HON. DON YOUNG

OF ALASKA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 30, 1995

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, December 4 through December 9, 1995, the Government of Japan will host an international conference on Sustainable Contribution of Fisheries to Food Security in collaboration with the Food and Agriculture Organization [FAO] of the United Nations. This Conference will provide an excellent opportunity for international awareness and understanding of the varied economic, social, and cultural diversity of the utilization of marine resources throughout the world. Delegates representing government and nongovernmental organizations will discuss options and strategies to ensure the sustainable contribution of fisheries to the world's food security in the future.

While the present food fish production throughout the world is approximately 72 million tons, it is projected that the demand for food fish will reach 105 million tons in the year 2010, when the world population reaches 7 billion. Clearly, nations must initiate measures to achieve a sustainable increase in fish production through cooperation on rational utilization measures and implementation of sound conservation programs. It is clear that those of us living at the end of the 20th century have the responsibility to provide a stable food supply system and maintain those reasonable resources for present and future generations. Living aquatic resources are renewable and can provide increased food for human consumption through responsible management and appropriate harvest and handling practices. Such a goal can be achieved if utilization of these resources is based on objective scientific and socio-economic data and principles that recognize and respect the importance of culture and traditions, guarantee the integrity of ecosystems that support living aquatic food resources, and encompass sound management measures through national, and where appropriate, multinational management programs.

I commend the Government of Japan for taking the initiative in hosting this important Conference and I wish the delegates to the Conference much success in their deliberations. As chairman of the Resources Committee of the House of Representatives, I look forward to reviewing their observations, conclusions, and recommendations.

SUPPORTS CATS AND YOUTH PROGRAMS

HON. ELIZABETH FURSE

OF OREGON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 30, 1995

Ms. FURSE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of the Community Action Teams Program [CATS], and other summer youth programs that provide children with healthy alternatives to engaging in gang activity and criminal behavior. Last summer, I had the opportunity to visit with children who participated in this unique summer youth program which emphasizes helping others and teaches the value of hard work. I learned firsthand of the positive difference the CATS programs and other similar programs are having nationwide on our children and in the community. The CATS program is primarily sponsored by the Yamhill County Sheriff's Department in partnership with local schools and the community. This strong partnership between law enforcement and the community enables traditionally poor and underserved areas such as Yamhill County, to pool together their resources to provide a service to children and families.

Yamhill County is rural area in my home district of Oregon with limited resources. Through its creative partnership, Yamhill County has been able to offer this quality program which benefits the community. I applaud Yamhill County's efforts to collaborate and deter our children from criminal activity and I urge other Members to recognize the importance and value of summer youth programs and crime prevention.

LIBERTYVILLE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS PROTEST AGAINST HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES IN NIGERIA

HON. JOHN EDWARD PORTER

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 30, 1995

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I always have said that I am honored to represent one of the most educated, enlightened, caring districts in our country. Today, the meritorious actions by some of the younger members in my district have proven my point, making me proud once again. I want to commend the Libertyville High School students in my district, who last week waged a protest outside a local Shell gasoline station in response to the barbarous executions of Ken Saro-Wiwa and eight other Ogoni leaders by the Nigerian military regime. Under the banner of Amnesty International, these students hope to put pressure on Shell, whose Nigerian branch alone accounts for half the government's income, to use their financial power to influence positive change in Nigeria.

In a time when we question our ability to influence global change, I praise these high school students not only for their global awareness, but also for their compassion and drive that has compelled them to rise from the classroom and take their cause to a forum where their demands cannot be ignored. Refusing to be silent, these half-dozen students have no inhibitions about sending a loud message to an oil giant that it has a moral and ethical responsibility to use its power to help influence the Nigerian Government to stop committing these atrocious human rights violations.

I fully support these students who have reiterated my own outrage at the Nigerian regime. As cochairman of the Congressional Human Rights Caucus, I have sent numerous letters to the Nigerian Government demanding reform. Additionally, I held hearings in response to the latest tragic executions. Today, Representative DON PAYNE of New Jersey and I and a number of other original cosponsors will introduce a bill calling for sanctions against Nigeria. We must all continue putting pressure on the Nigerian Government any way we can, until democracy and the rule of law is restored to Nigeria. I am pleased to work with the Libertyville High School students to this end.

PUERTO RICAN HERITAGE MONTH

HON. WILLIAM J. MARTINI

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 30, 1995

Mr. MARTINI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in honor and recognition of November 1995, as Puerto Rican Heritage Month. The achievements and contributions of Puerto Rican-Americans should be acknowledged by us all.

I especially would like to discuss an organization from my home State, Comite Noviembre de New Jersey. Founded in 1987, Comite has clearly promoted a holistic understanding of Puerto Rican culture in New Jersey and all over the United States. By highlighting social, economic, cultural, and political accomplishments, Comite has etched the history of the Puerto Rican people in the minds of all Americans. Widespread education has served a dual role: the Comite has strengthened a sense of cultural pride among young Puerto Ricans and has simultaneously generated respect for the Puerto Rican culture amongst non-Puerto Rican Americans.

Puerto Rican Heritage Month serves to further our understanding and appreciation of Puerto Rican leaders of the past and the present. It also unifies Puerto Rican Americans by instilling a sense of pride in where they have been, and where they are going as a people. As head of the Comite Noviembre, Jose Angel Villalongo has recognized November 30, 1995, as a day to pay tribute to Puerto Rican leaders of the State of New Jersey and the youth of the State. This day is dedicated to local Puerto Ricans in recognition of their outstanding contributions to the community and the family unit. They are not only models for this generation but also for generations to come, and of most importance, they are inspirations to us all.

Comite is committed to supporting people and inspiring and educating future generations. By the year 2000, the Comite Noviembre de New Jersey hopes that all Americans will realize and appreciate the richness of culture and heritage found within the Puerto Rican community.

I would like to offer my most sincere admiration and praise to the Puerto Rican-Americans of my congressional district and across the Nation as we celebrate Puerto Rican Heritage Month. This is a time of celebration to be enjoyed by all.

TRIBUTE TO A SAN DIEGO EMPLOYER WORKING FOR TECHNOLOGY IN EDUCATION

HON. RANDY "DUKE" CUNNINGHAM

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 30, 1995

Mr. CUNNINGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a local employer in San Diego which has made a special commitment to advancing the use and availability of high technology in education. That employer is Sony Electronics, Inc., which has a major plant in Rancho Bernardo, in my congressional district.

Technology in education is one of my great interests and top priorities. For several years,
