

I think it is very regrettable we did not conclude it.

Mr. President, when we added the $2.7 billion included in the Specter-Harkin amendment, we were able to add to some very, very important programs on education—that is a priority, second to none—and important matters on worker safety, important matters on Health and Human Services.

I know my distinguished colleague from Rhode Island is on the floor waiting to speak, and I will not go through the detail which I would have. Sometimes on Friday afternoon at 1:30 there is nobody seeking recognition on the floor. Instead, I will have printed in the RECORD this chart which shows a comparison, a transition, as to where the appropriations process had been, how we made the additions, how we came to the accommodations and compromises, and finish within $20 million, which is a small fraction of the $2.7 billion, we came in $20 million under the $2.7 billion, and actually only $14 million, because a $6 million addition was added by Congresswoman PELOSI on an education program, which I thought was fine.

So we did the job. Regrettably, it is not altogether finished. Hopefully, a good part of this work will last, and we will be able to build on this when we come back, to finish this omnibus appropriations bill.

There are a few outstanding matters on language and a few other outstanding issues, but I think they would have been resolved fairly quickly had the pressure been maintained to finish this, without the talk of a continuing resolution.

I ask unanimous consent that this chart be printed at the conclusion of my remarks.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

IN MEMORY OF DAVID PACKARD

tive and outstanding builders and manufacturers in our Nation's history.

He and his partner, Bill Hewlett, were the fathers of the electronic industry in Silicon Valley. Starting just 60 years ago, literally, in a garage, David Packard and Bill Hewlett began building an innovative audio oscillator
