"ANSWERING AMERICA'S CALL"
HAWAII'S WINNING ESSAY IN VOICE OF DEMOCRACY CONTEST

HON. PATSY T. MINK

OF HAWAII

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

April 16, 1996

Mrs. MINK of Hawaii. Mr. Speaker, I submit the winning essay in the Hawaii State Veterans of Foreign Wars Voice of Democracy Competition. The author, Emily Shumway, resides in my district. She attends Kahuku High School and serves as the senior class president. In her script, Ms. Shumway explores the theme "Answering America's Call." Her entry gained national recognition from the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and she was recently awarded the Mr. and Mrs. James H. Black Scholarship.

I join with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Brandon and Carolyn Merrill Shumway of Laie, HI, to congratulate Emily Shumway for her outstanding performance in the 1996 Voice of Democracy Program. The VFW Post 3927 of Waimanalo, HI, sponsored her in this year's contest. Her essay is as follows:

ANSWERING AMERICA'S CALL

(By Emily Shumway)

A young boy clings to his mother's black dress, his eyes fixed on the bright flag draped over a coffin. The rays from the blazing Arizona sun sparkle and dance on the shining flag, causing it to glitter. The flag lights up the gloomy circle he stands in. His trance is broken by the sound of crying. He looks over at Corporal Far's young widow, her whole body shaking in anguish and sorrow. He moves his attention towards a young marine in a crisp blue uniform. He watches the soldier closely as he removes a shining gold bugle from its case. The bugle boy raises the instrument to his lips and starts to play. The haunting melody of "Taps" fills the little boy's ears and goose bumps rise on his skin. Each moving phrase of the melody is echoed by another bugler standing on a hill about a quarter of a mile away. The music penetrates the silence across the lonely Arizona desert. To the small child, the whole desert resonates. So much so, that even the sagebrush and the tumble weeds seem to stand at attention. He senses that he is witnessing one of the most significant of human events. There is a line of military men standing alongside the casket with burnished rifles at their sides. In unison they raise their guns into the air and fire 3 shots as the final note of "Taps" floats solemnly over the crowd and lingers for a few moments. The feeling in the air is almost tangible. Even the little boy of five recognizes the importance of what he is observing. He is not a spectator, but a participant in the event taking place. His attention returns to the flag in the center. "What does one do to deserve such honor?" he thinks.

If America could speak she would say, "I need men and women who would give their very lives to protect me and preserve the freedom and justice I stand for. Patriotism in this country, so vital for a nation's survival, has been increasingly replaced by cynicism and mistrust of government. I need men and women who embody the same spirit that possessed George Washington, Paul Revere, Abraham Lincoln, Frederick Douglas, Susan B. Anthony, Harriet Tubman, Theodore Roosevelt, Sergeant York, General MacArthur, and even Corporal Far."

America's call is a call to uphold her commitment to peace, freedom, liberty, and justice for all. In an age where discontent and excessive individuality seek to undermine and trivialize patriotic actions, America calls out to each man, woman, and child to remember the sacrifice of thousands, even millions, like Corporal Far. They believe in America's future and they proved it with their very lives. May each one of us of the rising generation know and feel, as did the five year-old Arizona boy, the honor of devoted service to our country. Though we may not die for our country, let us live for it by seeking for ways to uphold and strengthen its righteous institutions while constantly focusing on improvement. Each one of us must thus answer America's call.

IN SUPPORT OF 35TH ANNIVERSARY
OF THE PEACE CORPS

HON. JOSEPH P. KENNEDY II

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 16, 1996

Mr. KENNEDY of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to offer my congratulations to the Peace Corps on the celebration of its 35th anniversary and to thank all of the many volunteers who have given so much of themselves over the past three and a half decades to ensure the success of the Peace Corps mission abroad.

The Peace Corps currently has over 6,000 American volunteers operating in 94 countries, providing skills and services that range from teaching English in densely populated cities to repairing damaged or outdated water structures in remote villages. The beauty of this program is that it is a cultural exchange. Yes, the host countries are exposed to some of the technological and social advancements our country has to offer through the important services of the Peace Corps volunteers; but after 2 years of service, the volunteers also bring back home with them more than they could ever anticipate: a new language, a new culture, new job skills, and an enlightened world view. This is a win-win program if I've ever seen one.

Knowing that the creation of the Peace Corps was one of President Kennedy's proudest accomplishments during his administration, I am pleased to see that my uncle's vision for the involvement of U.S. citizens in international development has endured. My hat's off to all current and former Peace Corps volunteers, and I sincerely hope that their idealism and service to both our country and our international neighbors continues to be passed on from generation to generation.

SIDE WITH DOCTORS AND SCIENTISTS,
NOT THE DOPE PUSHERS

HON. GERALD B.H. SOLOMON

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 16, 1996

Mr. SOLOMON. Mr. Speaker, the pro-drug crowd is at it again, Mr. Speaker. They never tire of their sneaky attempts at legalizing drugs. Their latest endeavor is in, no surprise here—California—where a fringe group called Californians for Compassionate Use is lobbying the California Legislature to pass two bills which would legalize marijuana use for medicinal purposes. Because marijuana has no medicinal value, it is fairly obvious that this is nothing but a backdoor attempt to legitimize the use of marijuana for all purposes. And that is not just my opinion.

Mr. Speaker, the FDA has repeatedly rejected marijuana for medical use because it adversely impacts concentration and memory, the lungs, motor coordination and the immune system. A recent evaluation of the issue by scientists at NIH concluded, "after carefully examining the existing preclinical and human data, there is no evidence to suggest that smoked marijuana might be superior to currently available therapies for glaucoma, weight loss associated with AIDS, and nausea and vomiting associated with cancer chemotherapy."

Marijuana weakens the human immune system. That is why oncologists reject the idea of prescribing smoked marijuana for cancer chemotherapy. Experts also oppose the use of marijuana to treat glaucoma. As for AIDS patients, it does not facilitate weight gain, further weakens the immune system, and puts them at significant risk for infections and respiratory problems.

For these reasons the American Cancer Society, the American Glaucoma Society and the American Medical Society all oppose using marijuana for medicinal purposes.

Unfortunately, this seriously misguided effort is not limited to some hippies out in California. It has reached the Congress of the United
