

And, as I said before, when USTTA closed its doors on April 15, U.S. tourism promotion efforts plummeted to zero.

It's time to turn this situation around.

We're losing jobs.

We lost 177,000 jobs in the past 3 years to countries who are willing to promote tourism.

H.R. 2579 is the blueprint we need to increase our market share and save those jobs.

This 226 Member bipartisan bill will establish a ground-breaking cooperative effort between the tourism industry and the U.S. Government to promote of international travel to the United States.

This plan allows the United States to compete globally for tourism dollars against countries like Canada, Germany, Spain, and Australia.

Even small countries like Malaysia and Tunisia have been spending more than the United States year after year.

In the next 5 years, there will be an increase of some 50 million travelers worldwide.

This could mean tens of thousands of new jobs for American workers. But not if we in Congress don't have the foresight to take advantage of this remarkable opportunity.

That is precisely why, as chairman of the 304-member Travel and Tourism Caucus—the largest caucus in Congress, I introduced the Travel and Tourism Partnership Act.

It's time to take a bold new approach to our economic future.

Rather than creating another government-run program, this bill designs a partnership between the tourism industry and the public sector to devise and carry out a more effective marketing plan.

H.R. 2579 is vital to the United States.

This is a job-creating bill.

All over the world, and particularly in the United States, travel and tourism is the predominant industry for the jobs our people need.

With all this potential, the United States is losing its market share of travel and tourism in a growing market.

With one out of every nine American workers employed by travel and tourism, we can't afford not to take action.

I urge you to join the 226 Members who have already co-sponsored the Travel and Tourism Partnership Act.

Join us and get involved in the blockbuster industry of the 1990's and the 21st Century.

THE TRAVEL AND TOURISM PARTNERSHIP ACT
OF 1995

(By Congressman Toby Roth)

FACTSHEET

Implements a central recommendation of the White House Conference on Travel and Tourism.

Forms a "public-private partnership" between the travel/tourism industry and the federal government to strengthen the promotion of international travel to the U.S.

Establishes a 36-member National Tourism Board (75% private sector)—to advise the President and Congress on policies to improve the competitiveness of the U.S. travel and tourism industry in global markets; appointed by the President with the advice of the travel and tourism industry

Establishes a National Tourism Organization as a not-for-profit corporation under federal charter—to implement the tourism promotion strategy developed by the national Tourism Board; to develop and operate a marketing plan in partnership with U.S. travel and tourism firms to increase the U.S. market share of the world travel market; governed by a 45-member board of directors, reflecting the breadth of the travel and tourism industry; board of directors develops a plan for a long-term financing; interim funding from industry; data and staff resources provided by federal government.

Requires federal agencies and U.S.C. overseas missions to cooperate in implementing promotion strategy developed by National Tourism Board.

THE RETIREMENT OF DEXTER
MAYOR WILLIS CONNER

HON. BILL EMERSON

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 24, 1996

Mr. EMERSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to bring to this country's attention the retirement of a civic servant in my southeast Missouri congressional district. The Honorable Mayor Willis Conner of Dexter, MO, will be turning over his gavel on May 6, 1996.

A reason I feel compelled to mention Mayor Conner's retirement is that his life embodies the very meaning of community service. When he does step down, he will have served the city of Dexter as its chief elected officer for 30 straight years. All told, he has served our southeast Missouri region for nearly half this century—48 years to be exact including Democrat committeeman, Liberty Township collector, Stoddard County public administrator, and city of Dexter Ward I alderman. In fact, Mayor Conner was recently named this year's recipient of the Missouri Municipal League's [MML] highest honor. It named him the State's current or former municipal official who has made outstanding contributions and leadership to the MML.

In a position that isn't supposed to be a full-time job, Mayor Conner has always faithfully and diligently served his community while also delicately balancing his needs at home and at his paid occupation in real estate and insurance.

As the Eighth District's Congressman, I have had the personal privilege and high honor of working with Mayor Conner on a number of initiatives over the years. One of the most notable is the four-laning of Highway 60 which provides an East-West link through the southern part of the State. Mayor Conner joined me as a visionary who could see the direct benefits of improving our region's transportation infrastructure. He well understood that once we improved our roads and bridges more folks, more businesses, and more industries would be attracted to our region. Mayor Conner is one of those civic leaders who steadfastly supported important efforts such as the Highway 60 project to directly link Dexter, Stoddard County, and southeast Missouri to other reaches in the United States and the globe. From day one, Mayor Conner has helped to improve the quality of life for folks today and in generations to come.

As I close, I again want to bring to the rest of America's attention how impressive and remarkable Mayor Conner is as a person and as a pillar of is community. Thirty years in any job, elected or unelected, is a Herculean undertaking, let alone nearly a half-century of public service. The city of Dexter, Stoddard County, and the State of Missouri will certainly miss his leadership as Mayor; however, I truly believe, even in his so-called retirement, Mayor Conner will still be active and provide guidance, strength, and energy to overcome future hurdles. I am proud and honored to say thank you to Mayor Conner on behalf of his constituents, all Missourians, and our great country in general.

ALLIANCE FOR THE CHESAPEAKE BAY

HON. BENJAMIN L. CARDIN

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 24, 1996

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay special tribute to the Alliance for the Chesapeake Bay, an environmental organization concerned with cleaning up and preserving Maryland's greatest environmental treasure, the Chesapeake Bay.

It was most appropriate that on Monday, Earth Day, we turned our attention to the fine job done by the Alliance for the Chesapeake Bay. The Bay is a national resource that has a profound effect on much of the east coast. Its 64,000-square mile drainage basin—from the Finger Lakes in New York to the Ports of Baltimore and Hampton Roads—provides millions of us with food, energy, recreation, and water.

Since its inception in 1971, the alliance has been dedicated to creating a healthier, cleaner Bay. It has proven equal to the task. The alliance's nonadversarial approach has enabled it to work with a wide range of people for a better Bay. Over the years, the alliance has successfully rallied support from the business community, citizens groups, environmentalists, industry, scientists, farmers, sports enthusiasts, and others to preserve and restore the Chesapeake Bay.

The alliance has accomplished its mission by establishing several important programs. The Alliance's Public Policy Program builds consensus on issues that directly affect the Bay. The Information Services Program provides unbiased information about issues. The Watershed Restoration Program gets people involved in hands-on habitat restoration work.

I urge my colleagues to acknowledge the fine work of the Alliance for the Chesapeake Bay and to commit themselves to preserving the important programs that are so vital to the health of the Chesapeake Bay.

HONORING THE MIDWAY
VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

HON. BART GORDON

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 24, 1996

Mr. GORDON. Mr. Speaker, I am taking this opportunity to applaud the invaluable services provided by the Midway Volunteer Fire Department. These brave, civic minded people give freely of their time so that we may all feel safer at night.

Few realize the depth of training and hard work that goes into being a volunteer firefighter. To quote one of my local volunteers, "These fireman must have an overwhelming desire to do for others while expecting nothing in return."

Preparation includes twice-monthly training programs in which they have live drills, study the latest videos featuring the latest in fire-fighting tactics, as well as attend seminars where they can obtain the knowledge they need to save lives. Within a year of becoming a volunteer firefighter, most attend the Tennessee Fire Training School in Murfreesboro where they undergo further, intensified training.

When the residents of my district go to bed at night, they know that should disaster strike and their home catch fire, well-trained and qualified volunteer fire departments are ready and willing to give so graciously and generously of themselves. This peace of mind should not be taken for granted.

By selflessly giving of themselves, they ensure a safer future for us all. We owe these volunteer fire departments a debt of gratitude for their service and sacrifice.

IN HONOR OF G. NELSON PERRY OF SCOTLAND, CT

HON. SAM GEJDENSON

OF CONNECTICUT

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 24, 1996

Mr. GEJDENSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a public servant of exemplary note and a man whom I am genuinely proud to represent, today and every day, Mr. G. Nelson Perry, former first selectman of Scotland, CT.

In November 1995, G. Nelson Perry completed his 32d consecutive year as the first selectman of the town of Scotland. Nelson is to be honored for his 50 years of distinguished and selfless service to his town, his State, and his country.

Nelson was born in Scotland, CT, in 1916 where as a child he attended elementary school in a two-room schoolhouse and later graduated from Windham High School. Immediately upon graduation, at the tender age of 19, he went to work in Hartford, CT, in the payroll department of Hartford Electric Light Co. where he worked diligently for more than 6 years.

Then came World War II, and like so many men of his generation, Nelson enlisted in the Army to serve his country. He fought and served with distinction in the 3d Army in Europe commanded by General Patton. He fought to liberate Europe from the shores of Normandy all the way to Czechoslovakia.

At home on leave from the Army toward the end of his enlistment, Nelson married Eileen Vennard of Manchester, CT, to whom he has remained married during the 52 years since. As the war ended, he returned to Scotland to farm and began to raise a family with his new bride. And Nelson and Eileen have raised a fine family of four sons and two daughters, all brought up in Scotland and instilled with the values taught by their parents and community. Their 6 children have given Nelson and Eileen the blessing of 17 grandchildren who live in Scotland close to their loving grandparents.

Nelson later moved from agriculture and farming to work as a cost accountant with the Amstar Corp. in Sprague, CT. He remained with Amstar in that capacity for 17 years.

It was during this period of professional transition that Nelson began to feel an obligation and yearning to give something back to the local community which had been so good to him. And so, in 1951, he was elected to the Scotland Board of Education. And Nelson's constituents were inspired by his service to reelect him to six more 2-year terms, where he served as the board's secretary. In 1955, the Scotland electors elected him a State representative to the Connecticut General Assembly. And in 1963 we urged him to run for first selectman, a position where Nelson has served with distinction ever since.

The hallmarks of Nelson's career in public service have been his defense of the local taxpayer, his sense of bipartisanship, and his desire to remain completely accessible to his constituents.

In the words of one of his friends, Nelson "spends Scotland's money like it was his own." In the process of exercising careful fiscal management of Scotland's finances, Nelson has presided over the building and later expansion of a local elementary school, the fire department has been improved, bridges have been repaired and rebuilt, and Nelson established Scotland's annual Memorial Day celebration which continues today. Nelson has faithfully executed his duties of preparing Scotland's annual budget, issuing permits, producing annual town reports, and many other responsibilities.

G. Nelson Perry has had a remarkable career in public service and is a remarkable citizen of the town of Scotland. It is my honor and pleasure, Mr. Speaker, to share with you and the Members of this House Nelson Perry's achievements, and commend him for a lifetime of personal sacrifice and public service.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. Y. TIM HUTCHINSON

OF ARKANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 24, 1996

Mr. HUTCHINSON. Mr. Speaker, this past weekend a destructive tornado hit northwest Arkansas. As a result of the devastation which was wrought by this natural disaster, I spent yesterday assisting my constituents in the district and consequently missed two rollcall votes.

I would like the record to show that had I been present I would have voted "yea" on rollcall No. 127 and "yea" on rollcall No. 128.

VOLUNTEER SPIRIT IS ALIVE AND WELL IN THE CITY OF HOUSTON

HON. SHEILA JACKSON-LEE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 24, 1996

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, fellow Members of the House I rise today to thank and commend the volunteer work of Madgelean Bush, a friend and constituent of mine from Houston, Texas.

On April 19th, Madgelean Bush was named the recipient of the Joint Action in Community Service National Volunteer of the Year Award for 1996.

The Joint Action in Community Service better known as JACS is a national, nonprofit organization of thousands of volunteers, dedicated to assisting at-risk youths to enter the mainstream of American society. Committed to the key principles of volunteerism and collaboration, JACS has worked for over thirty years with government, business, labor, religious and private organizations to open doors of opportunity for generations of the most disadvantaged young men and women in America.

Nominated for the award by Southwest Regional Director Deloris Kenerson, Ms. Bush was described as "a dedicated, humble, yet dynamic advocate for the Job Corps program." Madgelean and her staff have offered assistance to over 2,400 former Job Corps students in their transition from Job Corps training to community readjustment and the world of work."

Ms. Bush also offers the Job Corps students she is assigned the opportunity to take advantage of the benefits and services of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Community Center's half-way house, where she serves as its Executive Director. With management skills to rival any corporate manager, she supervises a staff of 45 and directs a $2.5 million in city, country, State, and Federal funds.

When not helping Job Corps youth, she is busy volunteering for a host of other worthy causes. She is affiliated with numerous civic organizations and has served on a variety of boards with concerns ranging from hunger to health, and from youth issues to those of the aged and disabled. She has contributed over two decades of service to the Houston Inter Faith Hunger Coalition, the Riverside Health Clinic Advisory Board, Twilight Chapter #393 Order of the Eastern Star Prince Hall Masons, and the Dobson Elementary Advisory Group. She serves as a Precinct Judge, member of the Texas Democratic Executive Committee Precinct #247, and is a member of the United Methodist Church Conference of Church and Society, as well as the Texas Conference of Churches.

Madgelean Bush is the mother of a grown son and daughter.

I would like to thank you Madgelean for making a life long commitment to volunteerism that is a lesson for us all. You have taught me along with many Houstonians that the individual in this diverse and complex society can make a difference.

LOAN GUARANTEES FOR ISRAEL— A GREAT SUCCESS FOR ISRAEL AND U.S. ASSISTANCE

HON. TOM LANTOS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 24, 1996

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, in this era when trashing government programs seems to be more politically correct than praising government success, it is a pleasure indeed to call attention to a program that has achieved remarkable success. This is the loan guarantee program that was instituted in 1992, under terms of which the United States Government guaranteed loans to the Government of Israel totally $2 billion per year for 5 years.

The funds were provided to assist the Government of Israel deal with the massive influx of 700,000 immigrants from the former Soviet Union and other areas. The United States did