

and other colleagues on the Ways and Means Committee from both sides of the aisle in introducing legislation to extend structured settlement rules under section 130 of the Internal Revenue Code to workers' compensation.

I am a strong supporter of structured settlements. I have seen firsthand in Minnesota how structured settlements can help victims of severe physical injuries put their lives back together in the wake of a disabling injury, help support their families, and instill some hope for the future.

Structured settlements give crucial financial security to victims and their families by providing an assured stream of payments into the future to cover medical expenses and basic living needs. Structured settlements also save taxpayer dollars by ensuring that injury victims will not be required to seek indigent care.

For all these reasons, Congress has sought to promote the use of structured settlements through specific tax rules that have been enacted in the Internal Revenue Code. Extending the Code section 130 structured settlement rules beyond physical injuries caused by torts to include physical injuries under workers' compensation would provide the same financial protection to victims who have suffered serious, long-term physical injuries in the workplace.

I understand the Treasury Department testified before Ways and Means in the last Congress that it does not oppose this proposal and sees no distinction for purposes of the structured settlement tax rules between physical injuries suffered from torts and physical injuries suffered in the workplace. I also understand the Joint Committee on Taxation estimated in the last Congress that the proposal would produce only a very minimal revenue loss.

I join with my colleagues in urging prompt enactment of this legislation.

HONORING BETSY BEAMF AND EMILY DUTTON

HON. LANE EVANS

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 1, 1997

Mr. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Betsy Beamf, of Princeton, IL, and Emily Dutton, of Lewiston, IL. This weekend they will receive the Girl Scouts Gold Award from the Kickapoo Council of Girl Scouts, and I congratulate them on this occasion.

The Girl Scouts Gold Award represents the highest honor in Girl Scouting and recognizes significant achievement in leadership, community service, career planning, and personal development. While Girl Scouting has provided these young adults a supportive setting in which to learn from and work with their peers in a group, Emily and Betsy have earned this award through their own individual commitment of over 50 hours of exceptional service.

Through her performance of plays for local youth, Betsy has fostered a greater appreciation for the world of theater and drama among the children in her community. Emily drew upon her artistic talents to design and create a mural in her school that promotes good sportsmanship. At a time when Americans nationwide have placed a renewed emphasis on community service as a way of improving our society, Emily and Betsy exemplify the kind of dedication and commitment we need from people of all ages.

Mr. Speaker, we as a nation are enriched by the efforts of Betsy and Emily, and the thousands of children like them who give of themselves to benefit their communities each day. I hope that they are proud of themselves, and I am sure that their families take great pride in them. I encourage them to continue to take an active role in the community and wish them every success in the future.

CONGRATULATING HOLLIS CURL

HON. EARL F. HILLIARD

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday May 1, 1997

Mr. HILLIARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to offer congratulations to one of the finest and most honorable journalists that I have ever had the pleasure to know, M. Hollis Curl of Camden, AL. Mr. Curl has just received the State of Alabama's highest journalism award, the Hector Award.

The Hector Award was given to Mr. Curl for the "Most Outstanding Performance by an Alabamian in Journalism." Mr. Curl is the publisher and editor of the Wilcox Progressive Era, located in Wilcox County, AL. This is not Mr. Curl's first taste of victory. This is the second time he has received this award and he is the only person ever to win it twice.

I am proud to say that I am a friend of Mr. Curl. I am no stranger of his love for journalism, and his quest to improve the community in which he lives. At a time when the President is calling on the Nation to become more active in voluntarism, Mr. Curl has already been a major community volunteer for over 30 years. He serves on the board of his country's hospital; president of the Gas Board for 15 years; led the effort to get his county a 911 emergency line; serves as the Charter Commander of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, and much, much more.

Above all, due to Mr. Curl's proactive journalism, we were able to work together to restore the ferry-boat service across the Alabama river which was disrupted by the KKK in the 1960's. Because of his due diligence, this too, will soon become reality.

Mr. Speaker. When it comes to talking about Mr. Hollis Curl, words fail me. Obviously, words never fail Hollis, and his second Hector Award says it all. Way to go, Hollis Curl.

THE NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

HON. JOEL HEFLEY

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 1, 1997

Mr. HEFLEY. Mr. Speaker, our Nation's first call to prayer came in 1775 when the Continental Congress asked the Colonies to pray for wisdom in forming a nation. Since then, the call to prayer has continued throughout our history. In 1952, a joint resolution by Congress, signed by President Truman, declared an annual, National Day of Prayer. In 1988, the law was amended and signed by President Reagan, permanently setting the day as the first Thursday of every May.

Today is the National Day of Prayer.

We are celebrating in the Cannon caucus room all day—from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Military Chiefs of Staff, Cabinet Secretaries, Senators, and Representatives are gathering to ask for prayers from the people. You see, the National Day of Prayer belongs to all Americans of all faiths. It stands as a call to us to humbly come before God, seeking His guidance for our leaders and His grace upon us as a people.

Please join me today by stopping by the Cannon caucus room to celebrate this great event. It is our prayer that during this National Day of Prayer, America will again remember the trust that made this Nation great.

DOLLARS TO THE CLASSROOM

HON. JOSEPH R. PITTS

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 1, 1997

Mr. PITTS. Mr. Speaker, I come before the House today because I believe that one of the greatest challenges that faces our Nation today is the education of our children and grandchildren. Recently, a fifth grade student wrote to me commenting that "people are taking our parents for granted, because they're paying taxes which they assume are to schools, but most of the money doesn't make it to the classroom where it should be." I agree with this student.

Currently, we are failing the school children of America. We are failing their parents as we allow their hard-earned education tax dollars to be funneled through layers of bureaucracy. The problem with our education system today is not how much money we spend, but how we choose to spend it.

While it is unknown exactly what percentage of Federal education dollars reaches the classroom, a recent audit of New York City public schools found that only 43 percent of their local education budget reaches the classroom. Another study found that only 85 percent of funds administered by the U.S. Department of Education for elementary and secondary education reach the school district level. Even if 65 percent of Federal education funds presently reach the classroom, it still means that billions of dollars are not directly spent on children in the classroom.

For these reasons, today I am introducing the Dollars to the Classroom resolution. My Dollars to the Classroom resolution expresses the sense of the U.S. House of Representatives that Department of Education, State education departments, and local education agencies should spend more Federal education tax dollars for our Nation's children—in their classrooms.

For far too long, Americans' hard-earned tax dollars have gone to Federal bureaucrats and have churned through a Washington labyrinth—instead of rightfully being placed in the hands of someone who knows your child's name.

Of the $15.4 billion which goes to elementary and secondary programs in the Federal Department of Education, the classroom may be lucky to see 65 percent of that. That means over $5.4 billion is lost in the abyss of
