

have deep respect, the gentleman from California [Mr. DELLUMS], may call for a revote on an issue that was decided the night before last. If indeed this happens, I would hope that my colleagues stand firm to the position that we had the night before last, and that is, it deals with an issue as to whether or not if Russia transfers a weapon that it designed during the cold war, a missile designed specifically to kill American sailors and to sink American ships, whether or not we should continue to pump $200 million a year into a fund for a program that we are involved in with the Russians, by the way a program that has a billion-dollar backlog right now.

I would hope that my colleagues think very closely on this issue. The gentleman from California [Mr. DELLUMS] is a very serious man and sincere, concerned about peace, I have no doubt about that, and concerned about his country.

I have a disagreement with him on this issue. I think our colleagues will say it is a good way to send a message to the Russians not to send high technology weapons designed during the cold war to countries that would kill Americans, and I would hope they revote the way they did the night before last.

MIGHTY JAZZ DEFEATED BY THE MIGHTIER BULLS

(Mr. COOK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. JACKSON].

Mr. JACKSON of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, we are not worthy, we are not worthy, we are truly not worthy.

I was approached during the NBA championship series by my colleague from Utah, Mr. COOK, and Mr. COOK made a friendly wager, that if the Chicago Bulls had won the championship, that he would indeed wear a Chicago Bulls hat for the remainder of a day.

"I have missed more than 9,000 shots in my career," a Bull once said; "I've almost lost 300 games, 26 times I have been trusted to take the game-winning shot and missed."

Character, Mr. Speaker, character speaks for both the Utah Jazz and the Chicago Bulls, of whom we are both extremely proud.

I want to express our condolences once again to Shannon Anderson and his family, and to all of the Utah Jazz that played with such character, with such determination, we look forward to beating the Utah Jazz for a sixth time.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, we certainly look forward to a repeat performance, and I think the result is going to be a little bit different.

I am here today to honor the promise. My team, the mighty Jazz, was defeated in the NBA finals by the mighty Bulls, and let me just make the statement as I promised the gentleman from Illinois. I did not say I would go that far.

I had a busy week, and I asked my chief of staff to help me with this piece, but it turns out she is not a sports fan. Now, as a Utah woman, she knows two names in basketball: Stocton and Malone; actually in Utah it is Stocton to Malone, and that is just one word.

Now I told her that there is a man out there named Michael Jordan. It is not Michael Jackson, Michael Jordan; and he is a very fine player, particularly when he has the flu. If it were not for this man, I told her, the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. JACKSON] would be standing here today in a Jazz cap. "One ball player can't be that important," she said. My staff is chipping in to send her to a Bulls game the next season. In the meantime perhaps I could use this cutout as a visual aid to explain the wonder of Michael.

To Mr. Jordan, the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. JACKSON] and to all the Bulls team, congratulations on an outstanding playoff series, and we will definitely see them next year.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. Wicker). The time of the gentlemen from Utah [Mr. COOK] and from Illinois, [Mr. JACKSON], has long since expired and in this instance the Chair has granted great leeway and reminds Members that it is a violation of the House rules to wear hats on the floor of the House.

NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION ACT FOR FISCAL YEAR 1998

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 169 and rule XXIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the bill, H.R. 1119.

IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Accordingly, the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the bill (H.R. 1119) to authorize appropriations for fiscal years 1998 and 1999 for military personnel strengths for fiscal years 1998 and 1999, and for other purposes, with Mr. YOUNG of Florida in the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The CHAIRMAN. When the Committee of the Whole rose on Tuesday, June 24, 1997, amendment No. 8 printed in part 1 of House Report 105-137 by the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. BUYER] had been disposed of.

There being no further amendments in order, the question is on the committee amendment in the nature of a substitute, as amended.

The committee amendment in the nature of a substitute, as amended, was agreed to.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN. Mr. Chairman, I want to take this opportunity to commend Chairman SPENCE and the other members of the National Security Committee for their efforts in drafting a defense bill that funds our national security priorities with limited resources. It is a balancing act that has become even more difficult as a result of the present administration that asks our men and women in uniform to do more around the world while subsequently giving them less resources. In fact, today, our troops are stationed in nearly 100 nations and the world, more than ever before. Yet, we are spending three times less on defense as a percentage of our national economy than when John F. Kennedy was President in 1963.

The defense bill Chairman SPENCE has crafted uses the resources available to focus on improving the quality of life for our troops and their families. The bill improves force readiness and modernizes aging equipment. Furthermore, Chairman WELDON and the members of the Research and Development Subcommittee have provided resources to continue the invaluable research and development efforts for the weapons systems that give our troops an overwhelming edge on the battlefield. We should never put our service men and women in harm's way with anything less than overpowering force and the most advanced technology available.

I would be remiss, however, if I did not add that I remain concerned about the effect declining defense budgets are having on our ability to recruit and retain new engineers and scientists who design, maintain, and upgrade our weapon's systems. Picatinny Arsenal, located in my congressional district, is home to many of our Nation's best and brightest weapons engineers. The men and women of Picatinny Arsenal design warheads for the Patriot missile, the 155mm howitzer for the Army's revolutionary Crusader artillery system and improvements to the gun turret of the Comanche helicopter, as well as developing the weapons of the future for our troops on the frontlines. If the knowledge that exists at Picatinny and similar facilities within the Department of Defense is not passed on to new engineers and scientists, it will be lost forever. This knowledge cannot be replicated or replaced. We can only retain it and maintain it by continuing to recruit bright young men and women and by giving them the resources to continue their critical work.

Again, I want to commend Chairman SPENCE and the other members of the House National Security Committee for their work on this bill.

Mr. SAXTON. Mr. Chairman, I have a non-controversial amendment to title 29 of the bill dealing with wildlife conservation on military lands or, as it is better known, the Sikes Act.

During the past 3 years, my Subcommittee on Fisheries Conservation, Wildlife and Oceans conducted two hearings on the Sikes Act and the House, on two separate occasions during the 104th Congress, approved legislation to extend this landmark statute.

Regrettably, this legislation did not become law and the Department of Defense [DOD], the Department of the Interior [DOI], and the International Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies have been engaged in ongoing discussions on the details of a reauthorization bill.

I am happy to report that those negotiations have now been successful and that the language contained in my amendment has been endorsed by DOD, DOI, and the States.

The Sikes Act is the law under which land under the jurisdiction of the Department of Defense is managed for fish and wildlife-related conservation and recreational purposes. The Department of Defense controls nearly 25 million acres of valuable fish and wildlife habitat at approximately 900 military installations nationwide. These lands, equal in size to the State of Kentucky, contain a wealth of plant and animal life, and provide vital habitat for migrating waterfowl and nearly 100 federally listed threatened or endangered species.

Enacted by Congress in 1960, the Sikes Act provides a mechanism for cooperative wildlife management on these military installations. It is time to reauthorize this Act.

Under the terms of my amendment, which I am offering on behalf of Chairman DON YOUNG, Chairman JOEL HEFLEY, and me, the Sikes Act will be reauthorized for 5 years; integrated natural resource management plans will be required on all military installations with significant fish, wildlife, or natural resources; and certain elements are required for those plans—including fish and wildlife management, wetland protection, and fish and wildlife-oriented recreation. The Department of the Interior and the States will have a meaningful role in the development of those plans and wildlife-dependent recreation, such as fishing and hunting, will be facilitated on all military lands, where appropriate. In addition, the Secretary of Defense shall submit an annual report to the Congress describing the number of integrated natural resource management plans in effect, the amount of money expended on conservation activities, and an assessment on whether these plans comply with the act.

Finally, this amendment will allow the Department of Defense to transfer any wildlife conservation fees collected at a military installation that has been closed to a DOD facility that will remain open in the future.

Mr. Chairman, I urge the adoption of this noncontroversial amendment which will not only reauthorize the Sikes Act but will improve its effectiveness.

Mr. ORTIZ. Mr. Chairman, I rise today to register my opposition to the provisions of the defense bill inserted by my friend from Ohio which would put 10,000 United States troops on the United States-Mexico border.

As a veteran and a former law enforcement officer, I understand the unique perspectives of those who strive to keep the peace on the border, and the views of those in this Congress who believe we should put resources we already have in a place they are needed.

However, this is a very bad idea. For 50 years, the United States spent our money and our energy on fighting the war against communism and, in 1989, we saw the Berlin Wall finally come down. It would be a mistake of enormous proportions if we erected our own wall along our southern border in the form of our military. At a time when Mexico is our neighbor, friend, and economic partner, it would be folly to station troops who are trained to kill on the international border.

There is a huge difference between law enforcement officers trained to police the civilian population and the military troops who are trained to kill the enemy.

We have a problem with illegal immigrants and drugs coming across the border, but the answer to that problem is to increase the Border Patrol staff along the border, not reinforce it with troops trained to shoot to kill. Already there have been two incidents along the border in which the military engaged. As a result, one young U.S. citizen has died and the Texas Rangers seem to be ready to proceed with a murder indictment against the marine who fired the shot that killed him.

The reason I support trade treaties like NAFTA and GATT is that they address the economic foundations of this region by expanding economic and job opportunities. We are better served as a nation if we address the economic motivation behind the movement of illegal immigrants and drugs as opposed to positioning U.S. troops to be our cops.

The CHAIRMAN. Under the rule, the Committee rises.

Accordingly the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. WICKER) having assumed the chair, Mr. YOUNG of Florida, Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 1119) to authorize appropriations for fiscal years 1998 and 1999 for military activities for the Department of Defense, to prescribe military personnel strengths for fiscal years 1998 and 1999, and for other purposes, pursuant to House Resolution 169, he reported the bill back to the House with an amendment adopted by the Committee of the Whole.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the rule, the previous question is ordered.

Is a separate vote demanded on any amendment to the committee amendment in the nature of a substitute adopted by the Committee of the Whole?

Mr. DELLUMS. Mr. Speaker, I demand a separate vote on amendment No. 35 offered by my distinguished colleague from California, Mr. ROHRBACHER, relating to the Nunn-Lugar cooperative threat reduction funds.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is a separate vote demanded on any other amendment?

If not, the Clerk will redesignate the amendment on which a separate vote has been demanded.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment:
At the end of title XI (page 371, after line 18), insert the following new section:

SEC. 1112. PROHIBITION ON USE OF FUNDS FOR CERTAIN PURPOSES IN CASE OF TRANSFER OF MISSILE SYSTEM BY RUSSIA.

(a) IN GENERAL.—No fiscal year 1998 Cooperative Threat Reduction funds may, notwithstanding any other provision of law, be obligated or expended to carry out a Cooperative Threat Reduction program in Russia after the date on which it is made known to the Secretary of Defense that Russia has transferred to the People's Republic of China an SS-N-22 missile system.

(b) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply with respect to any transfer by Russia of an SS-N-22 missile system to the People's Republic of China that occurs on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the amendment.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. DELLUMS. Mr. Speaker, I object to the vote on the ground that a quorum is not present and make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Evidently a quorum is not present.

The Sergeant at Arms will notify absent Members.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 204, nays 219, not voting 11, as follows:

The Clerk announced the following pair: On this vote:

Radanovich of California for, with Mr. Yates of Illinois, against.

Ms. STABENOW and Mr. MARTINEZ changed their vote from "aye" to "no." Mr. FORD changed his vote from "no" to "aye."

So the bill was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

The title of the bill was amended so as to read: "A bill to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1998 for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe personnel strengths for such fiscal year for the Armed Forces, and for other purposes."

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, with regard to the vote on final passage for H.R. 1119, the Defense Authorization Act, I was unavoidably detained. I support of H.R. 1119. This bill safeguards that our military will continue to defend the Nation's vital interests. H.R. 1119 ensures that the American military will be ready for the 21st century battlefield. In particular, it adds $2.6 billion to the President's deficient budget request, making for a total of approximately $268.2 billion. The bill is robust in terms of offering a balanced research and development program that will include advanced technologies and improved capabilities. Mr. Speaker, I support my colleagues who voted in favor of H.R. 1119.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. SPENCE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. WICKER). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from South Carolina?

There was no objection.

AUTHORIZING THE CLERK TO MAKE CORRECTIONS IN ENGROSSMENT OF H.R. 1119, NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION ACT FOR FISCAL YEAR 1998

Mr. SPENCE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous that in the engrossment of the bill, H.R. 1119, the Clerk be authorized to correct section numbers, punctuation, cross references, and the table of contents and to make such other technical and conforming changes as may be necessary to reflect the actions of the House in amending the bill, H.R. 1119, and to make the following corrections: On page 492, line 19, of the printed bill, strike "2,000,000" and insert "2,000 millions".

In the section added by the amendment designated as amendment No. 25 in part 2 of House Report 105-137, strike "63695N" and insert "63795N".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the corrections.

The Clerk read as follows:

(A) On page 492, line 19, of the printed bill, strike "2,000,000" and insert "2,000 millions".

(B) In the section added by the amendment as amendment #25 in part 2 of House Report 105-137, strike "63695N" and insert "63795N".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from South Carolina?

There was no objection.

REGARDING COST OF GOVERNMENT DAY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The unfinished business is the question of suspending the rules and agreeing to the concurrent resolution, House Concurrent Resolution 102.

The Clerk read the title of the concurrent resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. SESSIONS) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, House Concurrent Resolution 102, on which the yeas and nays were ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 386, nays 20, answered "present" 13, not voting 15, as follows:
