

pollution control technologies, and would insist that developing countries set emission targets as well. Finally, the President proposes to develop a global market-based system to curb emissions, under which countries and businesses can earn "credits" for reducing emissions below targeted levels and sell those credits to countries and businesses which have exceeded their targets. The U.S. uses such a trading system to curb emissions of certain pollutants which cause smog and acid rain.

Conclusion: The scientific consensus is that human activity is having an impact on the environment and Earth's climate. The question, then, is how best to respond. I do not support a "crash" program to reduce these emissions. The sky is not falling, but is slowly filling up with greenhouse gases. I favor a gradual program of reducing emissions that takes special care to protect the economy.

The President's plan, on the whole, is balanced and reasonable. It provides a long lead time for curtailing emissions, invests in energy efficiency and cleaner technologies, and proposes market-based solutions. Since the problem is global, the response must be global, and we should encourage global emissions trading and the participation of all countries, including developing countries.

Forming a proposal to fight global warming is the easy part. The tough part will be selling it to a world that wants us to do more, and to the American people, who are skeptical about the science and the need for action. The debate is only beginning.

REMEMBERING LOUIS J. ADAMIE
"MR. SCOREBOARD"

HON. WILLIAM (BILL) CLAY
OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, January 28, 1998

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Speaker, I wish to share with our colleagues a St. Louis Post-Dispatch article about a great American and remarkable individual, Mr. Louis J. Adamie. Lou was a valiant warrior and leader in the struggle for justice and equality. His tireless efforts helped to change the Democratic Party and to shape the American political system. Lou also was a grand sportsman and will long be remembered for his contributions to major league baseball. It is my hope that our colleagues will find inspiration in his story titled, "Lou J. Adamie, 83; Was 'Mr. Scoreboard' In Big League Baseball Lore."

LOUIS J. ADAMIE, 83; WAS 'MR. SCOREBOARD'
IN BIG LEAGUE BASEBALL LORE

Louis J. "Mr. Scoreboard" Adamie, a major league baseball scorekeeper in St. Louis for more than four decades, died Saturday (Sept. 13, 1997) at DePaul Health Center in Bridgeton after a long illness. He was 83.

Mr. Adamie, of St. John, worked for both the St. Louis Cardinals and the old Browns baseball teams here for 41 seasons as the scoreboard operator, first at the old Sportsmen's Park and later at Busch Stadium.

In 1940, Mr. Adamie strolled into the old Sportsmen's Park as a teenager, seeking the field announcer's job; instead, he was hired as scoreboard operator, keeping track of every run, pitch and error, not only in St. Louis, but also scores at other major league parks.

Between the 1941 and 1982 seasons, Mr. Adamie kept score and tracked every pitch in 4,350 games, including seven World Series and five All-Star games. The last game he worked was Game 7 of the 1982 World Series.

Sometime in the 1940s, Mr. Adamie took on additional duties as the first press box public-address announcer at a major league park. In the mid-1950s when Anheuser-Busch Cos. Inc. bought the Cardinals, Mr. Adamie became one of the first scoreboard operators in the country to run an animated display board that, in later years, would be common at most major league ballparks.

In 1968, he was inducted into the communications wing of the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y., where he remained the only scoreboard operator recognized in Cooperstown. He also was honored by the St. Louis Sports Hall of Fame. In 1994, the Baseball Writer's of America awarded him the Harry Mitauer Good Times award for his work in baseball. Mr. Adamie also worked as a broadcaster at WEW radio here, and for many years, he was host of sports talk shows on the radio. He was known for his "Diamond Diary" radio show.

In addition to his baseball work, Mr. Adamie was active in area Democratic politics. From the 1930s to the 1960s, he was secretary of the St. Louis City Democratic Committee, where he helped organize many political campaigns and fund-raising events. Mr. Adamie also was involved in numerous charitable organizations, including being one of the first Globe-Democrat Old Newsboys carriers. He also organized charitable bowling tournaments for the St. Louis area March of Dimes. Mr. Adamie was also active in the Legion of 1000 Men.

Visitation will be from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday at Alexander Funeral Home, 11101 St. Charles Rock Road, St. Ann. A funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the funeral home. Burial will be at Mount Lebanon Cemetery.

Among the survivors are his wife of 52 years, Helena Lampe Adamie; and a son, Rick L. Adamie of St. John.

MOUNT VERNON HEIGHTS
CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

HON. ELIOT L. ENGEL

OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, January 28, 1998

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, this year, the good parishioners of the Mount Vernon Heights Congregational Church celebrate the church's 100th anniversary. The history of the church is actually longer when we remember that it was in 1892 that its meetings began in the Garden Avenue School. The church became fully organized in 1896 with the Rev. F.B. Kellogg named pastor of the new church. By the following year the congregation had grown so large that it moved to a barn on Bedford Avenue and, on July 4th of that year, the new church was dedicated.

By 1910 the church has become self-supporting and in 1916 construction on the current building was started. The church, a New England colonial design reflecting a post Civil War spirit of unity and self determination, was completed by 1922. Subsequently a sanctuary was added as well as tower chime.

The Mount Vernon Heights Congregational Church has always practiced community activism as well as charitable works and community projects, such as its youth seminars and elderly centers.

The Church also is part of the annual pulpit exchanges in which ministers from 19 churches deliver sermons at sister churches.

The Church is justly proud of its fellowship of many denominations and its ministers of many differing ethnic and social backgrounds. The Rev. Maximilian Bernard Surjadinata, pastor since 1988, was born in Indonesia. I warmly congratulate the Mount Vernon Heights Congregational Church on its centenary and for its wonderful accomplishments in those hundred years.

CONGRATULATING GIACOMO

HON. JERRY WELLER

OF ILLINOIS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, January 28, 1998

Mr. WELLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Giacomo Leone of La Salle, Illinois on being named the 1997 recipient of the Illinois Theater Association's Award of Honor. This award is given in honor of individuals for exceptional service to the ITA and the drama profession.

Mr. Leone a speech and drama instructor at Illinois Valley Community College has staged over 70 productions in his 21 years at IVCC, and has been active in the Illinois Theater Association serving as both President and Treasurer. Giacomo Leone's commitment to the arts in Illinois and my district can be witnessed through the countless hours Giacomo spends working on committees, and through his work as a director, playwright and composer at IVCC.

In 1987 and 1988, Giacomo Leone took his act on the road to Northeastern University of Technology in Shenyang in the People's Republic of China. There Giacomo taught English, Business Communication, and social amenities to Chinese graduate students who were going to work in the United States. Mr. Leone also acted as an advisor in foreign languages to the university faculty. During his time in China, Giacomo used his bilingual skills serving as a liaison between the Hong Kong-Illinois office, and the Illinois office in Shenyang.

Through hard work and devotion, Giacomo has shared his love of the stage with audiences and students from Illinois and around the world. From La Salle to Shenyang, Giacomo Leone's impact on the lives of all who know him is not only worthy of recognition by this body, but, his commitment to the arts and our children should act as a model for all.

Mr. Speaker, I applaud Mr. Leone's commitment to the arts, his students at IVCC and the local community. At a time when service to the community has become more important than ever in enriching the lives of our children, Giacomo Leone has stepped forward to do his part.

I ask my colleagues to join me in saluting Mr. Leone, and I wish him, his wife Beth, and their four children the very best.
