IN RECOGNITION OF W.A. "BING"
LECROY

HON. BOB RILEY

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. RILEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to an outstanding educator and citizen of the State of Alabama, the late W.A. "Bing" LeCroy. Mr. W.A. "Bing" LeCroy died on October 29, 1996, but his enthusiasm for the field of education can still be felt by everyone that he directly and indirectly touched throughout his career.

Bing LeCroy was born in Coosa County, Alabama, on April 1, 1918. Mr. LeCroy studied at Jacksonville State University and Auburn University where he received a Bachelor's and Master's degree in Administration. He later attended the University of Alabama at Birmingham for additional graduate work.

Bing left Coosa County and moved to Chilton County to begin his career as a classroom teacher. He later served as Superintendent of Education of Chilton County, State Superintendent of Education, Director of the Chilton County Area Vocational Center and Director and Coordinator of the Wallace Community College, Clanton Extension. After his many years as an Alabama educator, he became such a recognizable icon that he was known to thousands across the state as "Mr. Education."

Mr. LeCroy not only indulged in scholastic education, he also was a leader in civil education and worked tirelessly to ensure the safety and health of our children. During his administrative career in public education, he hired the first female bus driver in the State of Alabama. He also was the first proponent in the United States for mandating red stop signs on school buses, allowing for children's passage across the roads and highways.

In addition to the unparalleled dedication that Bing selflessly gave to his students, Mr. LeCroy was a devoted member of the First Baptist Church of Clanton and was a long-time member and President of Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Speaker, I am not the only person aware of Bing LeCroy's accomplishments. The thousands of students this man directly impacted will remain both a legacy and a reminder of the potential good that a teacher can achieve in a child's life. Recently, the Chilton County Board of Education recommended and approved the Chilton County Area Vocational Center be re-named the W.A. "Bing" LeCroy Career Technical Center. The re-naming of this building is a suitable memorial for a man who was known by those who love him as "Mr. Education".

I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the memory of one of Alabama's great education advocates, Bing LeCroy.

HONORING JUANITA C. BOBBITT

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the skill and achievements of Juanita C. Bobbitt. Her contribution to the United Nations and women's issues is incomparable.

Ms. Bobbitt was raised in the Bedford-Stuyvesant community of Brooklyn. Her undergraduate degree from Brooklyn College of the City University of New York as well as her Masters degree from New York University and Harvard University, successfully prepared her for a United Nations career that has spanned nearly four decades.

As a consultant to governments and an expert in public administration and management, she has travelled to Africa, Asia and the Pacific, Latin America, the Caribbean, and Europe. She is fluent in French and Spanish. Recently, she was responsible for managing a group of professionals to formulate and implement programs in developing countries and economies in transition devoted to social, rural and community development, poverty alleviation, and the advancement of women. She is currently leading the Gender Advisory Services Unit in the Division for the Advancement of Women within the Department of Economic and Social Affairs. Most recently, Ms. Bobbitt organized a workshop on behalf of the United Nations to examine the ways to enhance the partnership among entrepreneurs, government, and the business community. As a result of Ms. Bobbitt's workshop, the Lausanne Enterprise was created to serve as an international mechanism to further develop women's entrepreneurship worldwide as a result of Ms. Bobbitt's workshop.

As an active member of her community, Ms. Bobbitt has served on various academic committees. She is also a long-standing member of St. George's Episcopal Church and a Golden Life Member of Delta Sigma Theta, Inc., a Public Service Sorority.

Ms. Bobbitt has been able to reach these incredible goals and also be the proud mother of one son, Edmund Michael Bobbitt, a Harvard graduate and entrepreneur.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in congratulating Ms. Juanita C. Bobbitt for all of her achievements, for being a woman who dares to be different, and for showing young women everywhere that they can do and accomplish anything.

PRESIDENT'S BUDGET BRINGS BACK DEFICIT SPENDING

HON. RON PACKARD

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. PACKARD. Mr. Speaker, last week the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) released an analysis that shows that the President's FY1999 Budget submission would result in a $5 billion deficit, even with the $130 billion in new taxes his plan proposes. President Clinton's Budget not only comes as a disappointment, it blows a hole in the agreement he made with Congress last year and breaks the promise he made to American taxpayers.

As a member of the Appropriations Committee, I admit that these figures do not come as a shock. Considering that the President's proposal includes 85 new programs, costing at least $150 billion over the next five years, we shouldn't be surprised that the numbers in his budget don't add up. Mr. Speaker, the President's budget puts us right back on the path to deficit spending. To top it off, this plan raises taxes to the highest level since 1945. That is totally unacceptable.

The CBO analysis projects that by 2000, the deficit would return to $5 billion under the President's plan. If no changes were made to the Balanced Budget pact agreed to last summer, however, the CBO reported that there would be a higher surplus each year through 2003.

Mr. Speaker, this is one more indication that Bill Clinton is not sympathetic to the American taxpayer. It took a Republican Congress to create and pass the Balanced Budget Agreement, and it's going to take a Republican Congress to protect it. Bill Clinton has only given lip service to balancing the budget, but is apparently not willing to be a partner in that effort.

HONORING THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF AMANDA DAVIS

HON. GLENN POSHARD

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. POSHARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to laud the accomplishments of Amanda Davis, a senior at Eastern Illinois University (EIU). Amanda is from Mt. Vernon, Illinois, a town I represented during my first two terms in Congress, and she served as an intern in my Washington, D.C. office last summer. She possesses maturity beyond her years and a character made up of the finest qualities: intelligence, integrity, and a desire to help those around her. I believe her example is one to be emulated by not only her peers, but by the entire nation.

The first thing you notice about Amanda is her seriousness. She is not a frivolous person, and immerses herself in the projects she undertakes. In my office, this trait manifested itself in everything from her thorough Capitol tours to her tireless research into numerous legislative issues. An accomplished scholar, the list of her academic achievements, awards, and activities is truly staggering. I will list just a few: recipient of the Herbert F. Hueller and Jennifer Woods Scholarships, Honors student and regular member of the Dean's List, high school valedictorian, co-editor of and contributor to The Vehicle, EIU's literary magazine, and membership in numerous honor societies. She is perhaps most passionate about women's issues, especially as related to the correctional system and literacy. Her work on these subjects has resulted in numerous papers that she has presented at professional conferences across the nation. Somehow, Amanda finds time to volunteer as a tutor for illiterate adults and a crisis hot-line worker at a battered women's shelter. Her unrelenting pursuit of knowledge and her penchant for helping others is a powerful combination, and it will lead her to accomplish great things in the future.
