

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

THE DANTE B. FASCELL NORTH-SOUTH CENTER

HON. BENJAMIN A. GILMAN

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 9, 1998

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, today Representative LEE HAMILTON and I are introducing H.R. 4757, to honor our esteemed former colleague, the former Chairman of the International Relations Committee Dante Fascell.

This bill will rename the educational institution known as the North/South Center, as the Dante B. Fascell North-South Center.

Chairman Dante Fascell was responsible for establishing this Center in 1991 to promote better relations between the United States and the nations of Latin America and the Caribbean and Canada through cooperative study training and research. Today, we recognize the significant contribution Dante Fascell has made to U.S.—Latin American relations and indeed to so many other aspects of our foreign policy. He was dedicated legislator and statesman. It is a privilege to sponsor this measure to provide a modest means of recognizing a truly great American.

Accordingly, I urge my colleagues to fully support this measure.

AUTHORIZING THE COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY TO INVESTIGATE WHETHER SUFFICIENT GROUNDS EXIST FOR THE IMPEACHMENT OF WILLIAM JEFFERSON CLINTON, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

SPEECH OF

HON. LOIS CAPPS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 8, 1998

Mrs. CAPPS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of beginning a fair and focused impeachment inquiry. I will—as every member of the House should—cast a vote of conscience on this grave Constitutional matter.

Let me be clear. I have been appalled by the President's behavior in this matter. His affair with Monica Lewinsky was reckless and reprehensible. Lying to his family and the American people about it was outrageous. He has tarnished the office of the Presidency and his own positive record of accomplishment. President Clinton must be held accountable.

The question before us today is not whether or nor there will be an inquiry. The question before us is what kind of inquiry will there be.

I support what the American people are calling for—an expeditious impeachment inquiry that will allow our country to be on this issue to a close and to move on. I cannot in good conscience support an endless series of unfocused hearings that may distract Congress from dealing with the important issues facing the nation.

Of course, if the House is presented with further allegations from the Independent Counsel, the Judiciary Committee can examine them as well.

But today the House should take a step toward completing this inquiry—fairly, thoroughly and quickly. There is no reason we cannot finish this by the end of the year.

Mr. Speaker, I have heard from thousands of my constituents on this issue. Their comments and advice range from calling for the President's resignation or impeachment to insisting that the House drop the entire matter. While they may differ in their beliefs and positions, in the end their most common theme is that they want to see this matter come to an expeditious resolution.

We should follow their advice.

TRIBUTE TO GEORGE WIMBERLY

HON. MARION BERRY

OF ARKANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 9, 1998

Mr. BERRY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a great friend, great Arkansan, and great American. I speak of Mr. George Wimberly, who has served his community as a member of the City Manager Board for the City of Little Rock; Mayor of the City of Little Rock, Arkansas; and as a member of the Arkansas General Assembly. All of these positions are significant, but they are completely overshadowed by his accomplishments as a friend and servant to his fellow man.

George has owned and operated a neighborhood pharmacy, Buice Drug Store, in the Stiff Station area of Little Rock for over forty years. He is personally involved in the day to day care of each and every one of his customers. George provides not only medicine, advice and counsel, love, attention and service, but he also has a genuine concern for the well being of everyone he knows. Every person that comes in contact with George gets the same consideration.

When George Wimberly is your friend you know that there is one person in the world that you can count on. He has been my dear friend since childhood and is befriending generations of my family members. He is a wealth of knowledge about our heritage and when he reads this he will say, “What would Wimpy say about this?”

He has provided free medical advice, service, and products for anyone in need. He continues to check on shut-ins and the disabled in the community and is the only link to the outside world for many of them. He is from the school that thinks character and honesty are premier qualities and practices these beliefs.

Because he has lived and served among us for 78 years we are better for it and the world is a better place to live. As they say in the place I come from, the One Horse Store, he is a “good man” and I am proud to call him my friend.

A YEAR OF ACHIEVEMENTS

HON. JAMES A. BARCIA

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 9, 1998

Mr. BARCIA. Mr. Speaker, efforts to promote equality, success, and opportunity are appreciated by all Americans. An organization, in my district, is truly dedicated to helping African-Americans succeed in the business community and sets a powerful example. It was formed to overcome hardships, and to support each other in furthering their success. This month the Saginaw African-American Minority Business Association (S.A.A.M.B.A) is celebrating a year of outstanding achievements by designating October as National Minority Business Month.

The weekend of October 23rd, S.A.A.M.B.A. will be hosting a Minority Business Conference. This conference will bring together Saginaw area minority business owners. The conference will offer the members of S.A.A.M.B.A. many different helpful workshops and motivational keynote speakers, in hopes of providing a solid foundation for the advancement of African-Americans in business.

S.A.A.M.B.A. advances the development of area African-American minority businesses to
