COPYRIGHT ACT TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, today I am pleased to rise, along with the ranking minority Member on the Judiciary Committee, Senator LEAHY, to introduce a series of intellectual property related "high-tech" measures designed to promote the continued growth of these vital sectors of the American economy and to protect the interests and investment of the entrepreneurs, authors, and innovators who fuel their growth.

It is no secret that high technology is the driving force in the American economy today. American technology is setting new standards for the global economy, from computer chip technology and computer hardware, to personal and business software applications, to Internet, multimedia and telecommunications technology, and even cutting-edge pharmaceuticals and genetic research. In my own state of Utah, these information technology industries contribute in excess of $7 billion each year to the State's economy and pay wages that average 66 percent higher than the state average. Their performance has placed Utah among the world's top ten technology centers according to Newsweek Magazine. Where Wired is a Way of Life, Newsweek, November 9, 1998, at 44. Similar success is seen across the country, with seven of the world's top ten technology centers located in the United States, and with American creative industries now surpassing all other export sectors in foreign sales and exports.

Underlying all of these technologies are the intangible property rights—
