

The amendments that I am going to offer is just going to attempt to even the playing field between Title I students and non-Title I students, between disadvantaged students and those who have a little more advantage in our States.

This is supposedly one Nation under God. We should work through this bill to make sure that each child has an equal opportunity. We say that a lot, but we know that, in each of our States, different children have different sets of opportunities.

The amendments that I am going to offer are going to seek to close those gaps and to make sure that, as the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Chairman GOODLING) said in his opening remarks, that the children who most need to have a qualified teacher have a qualified teacher, and that we have the opportunity in terms of equalizing spending to encourage our States to make sure that they are providing an equal playing field as the Federal Government comes in and hopefully provides a hand up for those who may be starting out in a deficit position.

I would encourage my colleagues to support the Student Results Act, H.R. 2.

Mr. GOODLING. Madam Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. HILLEARY), a member of the committee.

Mr. HILLEARY. Madam Chairman, I am proud to be before the House today to support H.R. 2. This legislation will take a step in the right direction, without question, to improve the Title I education program for our children.

Providing more flexibility and accountability for Title I is exactly what our children need in disadvantaged areas. The improvement in Title I would be felt most in our inner cities where Title I funds repeatedly get caught in a bureaucratic maze and too few of those dollars actually reach our children.

However, I also want to commend the committee for realizing that rural schools must also be helped. Within H.R. 2, there is a section that specifically will allow the rural schools to receive the aid that they might not otherwise receive.

Often rural schools are at a disadvantage in receiving formula grants, like Title I, and competitive grants. These communities simply do not have the tax base and the access to grant writers that some of their bigger urban counterparts do. In addition, the formulas are skewed in some cases to strike against rural areas even if they have a high poverty quotient.

H.R. 2 successfully, although not completely, addresses this problem by including a rural schools initiative that will provide additional flexibility and funds for those underserved populations.

I hope that all of my colleagues can join together and support this great piece of legislation.

Mr. CLAY. Madam Chairman, I yield 3½ minutes to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. BONIOR).

Mr. BONIOR. Madam chairman, I thank the gentleman from Missouri, my ranking member, for his time.

Madam Chairman, I want to say at the beginning how much I appreciate the efforts by the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK) and the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY) and the gentlewoman from California (Ms. SANCHEZ) and my distinguished colleague on the other side of the aisle, the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA) and for their amendment; and that is the issue to which I would like to speak for just a second, Madam Chairman.

Their voices on this issue will and have made an enormous difference, not just in this Congress, but in the lives of young girls who will grow up to be women and leaders in their communities for decades and generations to come.

This amendment that they are offering reaffirms our commitment, our Nation's commitment to offer girls equal educational opportunities from the day they start school. That is when the difference has to be made, right out of the box, right from the beginning.

This amendment will provide important training and resources for our teachers so that they are aware of their need to be equitable in how they pursue their educational instructions in the classroom.

Different expectations lead to different academic performances. So if a girl in the classroom is not expected to excel in math or in science, which leads to careers that are lucrative in terms of their financial ability and are productive and are important in terms of the overall community, if they are not expected to excel in those areas, they will not excel in those areas.

So the attitude that is brought into the classroom by the teacher is critical, and that requires training and understanding.

Over time, if this is not done, what we have is a situation which leads to inequality and then just enormous missed opportunities later on for these girls and then eventually women. With training, teachers could learn to get the most out of every student regardless of their gender.

Then, fourthly, let me just say that this amendment will help America close an alarming gender gap between boys and girls in technology: math, science, but also in technology. Experts predict that 65 percent of all the jobs in the year 2010 will require technological skills, but only a small percentage of girls take computer science classes or go on to pursue degrees in math and science. If girls are not being encouraged in these fields, they and their families are, as I said, going to suffer economically in the future.

In conclusion, Madam Chairman, let me just say that it used to be said that teachers can change lives with just the right mix of chalk and challenges. Well, in today's high-tech world, the challenges are there, but the chalk is not enough.

This amendment will put resources into our schools that will pay dividends for generations to come. It will create a sensitivity. It will create a training. It will create an aura that girls can do anything they set their minds to do. They can be challenged. They can meet that challenge. They can grow up with careers that will provide them, their families, and their communities great, not only challenge, but reward in the future.

I want to thank the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK) and the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. CLAY), the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. BONIOR), the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. ROEMER), and all my colleagues who have worked on this legislation.

The CHAIRMAN. The Committee will rise informally.

The Speaker pro tempore (Mr. OSE) assumed the chair.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

A message in writing from the President of the United States was communicated to the House by Mr. Sherman Williams, one of his secretaries.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Committee will resume its sitting.

STUDENT RESULTS ACT OF 1999

The Committee resumed its sitting.

Mr. CLAY. Madam Chairman, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GOODLING. Madam Chairman, I yield myself 4½ minutes, the balance of the time.

Madam Chairman, I am extremely happy that this is not a status quo piece of legislation. We have had status quo in this program for the first 20 years of this program, and it was a disaster. In 1994, we added a little bit of accountability. We are not sure what that brought us yet. We will find that out after the studies are done by the Department as to how they messed up the scoring on the tests.

I am also pleased that this has been a bipartisan effort, as most of our education bills have. I am happy to say that, so far, we passed the Flexibility Act in a bipartisan fashion. I am happy to say that we passed the Teacher Empowerment Act in a bipartisan fashion. The bipartisan Teacher Empowerment Act takes care of the class size reduction problem. The tax bill takes care of the building problem. I am happy that all of those have been passed out of our committee and on the floor of the House.

I am happy to say that, when we get to the amendment process, we will model all the preschool programs that they talk about after a program that has worked. It is called Even Start. We will make sure that, as a matter of fact, that is the model.

I think we better be careful about increasing funds. Generally, if you failed for a period of time, they say, okay, show us what you are going to do to be successful, and then we will see whether you are successful, and then we will determine whether you should receive considerably more money.

I am sure that, by the time we implement this and it is in vogue for a couple of years, we will be able to go to the appropriators and say look how successful we have been, and they will be very happy to increase funds.

So when we get to the amendment process, we will all have different ideas of how we make this bill better. I have heard the subcommittee ranking member say that on many occasions, and I always say, "but that means we have to do it your way." So we will see how that process goes.

But to this point, we have had a wonderful time. We had a horrible 4-day markup. But everybody had an opportunity to vent their emotions and whatever else they were doing at that particular time. The end result will be that the most disadvantaged youngsters, the children who need us the most, will benefit from this program. They will not continue to be left behind. We cannot afford to leave them behind.

Mr. MANZULLO. Madam Chairman, I reluctantly rise today to express my concerns about the Student Results Act, H.R. 2.

The proponents of this bill attempt to accomplish many positive reforms to several federal education programs, such as reinforcing parental rights in the bilingual education program; offering school choice, if states want it, for students in low performing schools; and changing the poverty threshold requirement for school-wide program eligibility.

However, while I believe this legislation is well intended, I am deeply concerned by this bill's overstepping of the authority of the federal government. Just because the federal government is responsible for about 6 percent of a state's (or local district's) total education budget, it appears that some of my colleagues believe we can exercise power to impose our education policies on states and local schools districts.

For example, the Illinois Administrative Code contains a state-adopted standard for all teachers' aids. This federal legislation preempts all state requirements for teachers' aids, and, of course, if a state did not follow the federal requirements, then the state or local school agency would not be eligible to receive Title I funding. The federal government has no authority for dictating standards for teachers' aides. The next step is dictating standards for teachers.

Also, a provision has been included in H.R. 2 that would supersede and interfere with state laws for tort liability in an area where there is no interstate commerce or other justification for federal preemption. This provision would provide limited civil litigation immunity to teachers, principals, and other local school officials who engage in "reasonable actions to maintain school discipline." This is not a federal issue. It is a state issue, and every state, including Illinois, has a tort immunity act involving State employees, such as teachers. However, H.R. 2 mandates a one-size-fits-all plan on how states should handle their local claims.

I appreciate the efforts that my colleagues have made to reform the current education program that funds low-income students. I believe that a new approach is needed and applaud many of the innovative ideas that have found their way into this legislation. If I were a member of the state legislature, I would support this bill. Unfortunately, H.R. 2 goes way beyond what our Constitution envisions as the proper role for the federal government with regard to education policies.

Mr. CANNON. Madam Chairman, I rise today in support of H.R. 2, the Student Results Act of 1999. I would like to thank Chairman GOODLING for his work on this bill.

Several weeks ago, I approached the Chairman to discuss some of the education issues facing Utah, including a 20 percent cut in Title I funding due to changes in the allocation formulas implemented this past year. The Chairman has graciously addressed those issues by including language to "Hold Harmless" those states that are experiencing dramatic cuts in their Title I funding.

This provision will allow Utah, and several other small states, to continue funding levels for the education of disadvantaged students.

Today we seek to empower disadvantaged students across the country by providing them access to a better education. We desire to help them develop a foundation from which they can succeed. By providing educational opportunities we will ensure that these children will have the tools to become productive members of society.

A good education is essential to achieving success in life. Through this bill we will help to provide funding for teachers, books, and supplies to contribute to a quality education for disadvantaged students, helping them to build confidence and self esteem. We need to provide them with the tools to enter society and not only survive but thrive. In doing so we seek to guarantee the future of our nation and our way of life.

I believe that a good education is one of the greatest gifts that we can give our children. By passing this bill we will be improving the education of disadvantaged students all across the country. I urge my colleagues' support of H.R. 2, the Student Results Act of 1999.

Mr. GARY MILLER of California. Madam Chairman, I rise today in support of H.R. 2 the "Student Results Act of 1999."

H.R. 2 authorizes the Title of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and other programs assisting disadvantaged students.

Under H.R. 2:

States, School Districts and Schools Held Accountable to Demonstrate Results to Parents.—All states, school districts and schools will be held accountable for ensuring their students meet high academic standards set by states.

H.R. 2 Closes Achievement Gaps.—States, local school districts and schools must improve the achievement of all groups of students so that no one is left behind.

H.R. 2 Rewards Excellence.—Rewards Title I schools that make substantial progress in closing achievement gaps.

H.R. 2 Empowers Parents.—Parents and the community will be provided report cards on student achievement, teacher qualifications, and other important indicators of school quality in Title I schools.

H.R. 2 Expands School Choice Opportunities.—Gives families the option to take children out of failing Title I schools and enroll in other public or charter schools.

H.R. 2 Sends More Dollars to the Classroom.—95 percent of Title I school district dollars are directed to the classroom.

H.R. 2 Protects Local Control and Flexibility.—States and Local school districts may request waivers to tailor these programs to their unique needs through Ed-Flex or from the Secretary.

H.R. 2 Focuses on What Works.—Ensures that federal education programs will fund instruction based on the most current, proven research—not the latest trends.

Once again, I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support the Student Results Act.

Mr. GOODLING. Madam Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN. All time for general debate has expired.

Pursuant to the rule, the committee amendment in the nature of a substitute printed in the bill is considered as an original bill for the purpose of amendment and is considered read.

TITLE I—STUDENT RESULTS PART A—BASIC PROGRAM

SEC. 101. LOW-ACHIEVING CHILDREN MEET HIGH STANDARDS.

The heading for title I is amended by striking “DISADVANTAGED” and inserting “LOW-ACHIEVING”.

SEC. 102. PURPOSES AND INTENT.

Section 1001 (20 U.S.C. 6301) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 1001. FINDINGS; STATEMENT OF PURPOSE; AND RECOGNITION OF NEED.

“(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

“(1) Schools that enroll high concentrations of children living in poverty face the greatest challenges but effective educational strategies based on scientifically based research can succeed in educating children to high standards.

“(2) High-poverty schools are much more likely to be identified as failing to meet State standards for satisfactory progress. As a result, these schools are generally the most in need of additional resources and technical assistance to build the capacity of these schools to address the many needs of their students.

“(3) The educational progress of children participating in programs under this title is closely associated with their being taught by a highly qualified staff, particularly in schools with the highest concentrations of poverty, where paraprofessionals, uncertified teachers, and teachers teaching out of field frequently provide instructional services.

“(4) Congress and the public would benefit from additional data in order to evaluate the efficacy of the changes made to this title in the Improving America’s Schools Act of 1994.

“(5) States, local educational agencies, and schools should be given as much flexibility as possible in exchange for greater accountability for improving student achievement.

“(6) Programs funded under this part must demonstrate increased effectiveness in improving schools in order to ensure all children achieve to high standards.

“(b) PURPOSE AND INTENT.—The purpose and intent of this title are to ensure that all children have a fair and equal opportunity to obtain a high quality education.

“(c) RECOGNITION OF NEED.—The Congress recognizes the following:

“(1) Educational needs are particularly great for low-achieving children in our Nation’s highest-poverty schools, children with limited English proficiency, children of migrant workers, children with disabilities, Indian children, children who are neglected or delinquent and young children and their parents who are in need of family literacy services.

“(2) Despite more than 3 decades of Federal assistance, a sizable achievement gap remains between minority and nonminority students, and between disadvantaged students and their more advantaged peers.

“(3) Too many students must attend local schools that fail to provide them with a quality education, and are given no alternatives to enable them to receive a quality education.

“(4) States, local educational agencies and schools should be held accountable for improving the academic achievement of all students, and for identifying and turning around low-performing schools.

“(5) Federal education assistance is intended not only to increase pupil achievement overall, but also more specifically and importantly, to help ensure that all pupils, especially the disadvantaged, meet challenging standards for curriculum content and pupil performance. It can only be determined if schools, local educational agencies, and States, are reaching this goal if pupil achievement results are reported specifically by disadvantaged and minority status.”.

SEC. 103. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

(a) LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCY GRANTS.—Subsection (a) of section 1002 (20 U.S.C. 6302(a)) is amended by striking “$7,400,000,000 for fiscal year 1995” and inserting “$8,350,000,000 for fiscal year 2000”.

(b) EDUCATION OF MIGRATORY CHILDREN.—Subsection (c) of section 1002 (20 U.S.C. 6302(c)) is amended by striking “$310,000,000 for fiscal year 1995” and inserting “$400,000,000 for fiscal year 2000”.

(c) PREVENTION AND INTERVENTION PROGRAMS FOR YOUTH WHO ARE NEGLECTED, DELINQUENT, OR AT RISK OF DROPPING OUT.—Subsection (d) of section 1002 (20 U.S.C. 6302(d)) is amended by striking “$40,000,000 for fiscal year 1995” and inserting “$50,000,000 for fiscal year 2000”.

(d) CAPITAL EXPENSES.—Subsection (e) of section 1002 (20 U.S.C. 6302(e)) is amended to read as follows:

“(e) CAPITAL EXPENSES.—For the purpose of carrying out section 1120(e), there are authorized to be appropriated $15,000,000 for fiscal year 2000, $15,000,000 for fiscal year 2001, and $5,000,000 for fiscal year 2002.”.

(e) ADDITIONAL ASSISTANCE.—Subsection (f) of section 1002 is amended to read as follows:

“(f) SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT.—Each State may reserve for the purpose of carrying out its duties under section 1116 and 1117, the greater of one half of 1 percent of the amount allocated under this part, or $200,000.”.

(f) STATE ADMINISTRATION.—Section 1002 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(h) STATE ADMINISTRATION.—

“(1) STATE RESERVATION.—Each State may reserve, from the grants it receives under parts A, C, and D, of this title, an amount equal to the greater of 1 percent of the amount it received under parts A, C, and D, for fiscal year 1999, or $400,000 ($50,000 for each outlying area), to carry out administrative duties assigned under parts A, C, and D.

“(2) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated $10,000,000 for fiscal year 2000 and such sums as may be necessary for each of the 4 succeeding fiscal years for additional State administration grants. Any such additional grants shall be allocated among the States in proportion to the grants received by each State for that fiscal year under parts A, C, and D of this title.

“(3) SPECIAL RULE.—The amount allocated to each State under this subsection may not exceed the amount of State funds expended by the State educational agency to administer elementary and secondary education programs in such State.”.

SEC. 104. RESERVATION AND ALLOCATION.

Section 1003 (20 U.S.C. 6303) is repealed.

SEC. 105. STATE PLANS.

Section 1111 (20 U.S.C. 6311) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 1111. STATE PLANS.

“(a) PLANS REQUIRED.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Any State desiring to receive a grant under this part shall submit to the Secretary a plan, developed in consultation with local educational agencies, teachers, pupil services personnel, administrators (including administrators of programs described in other parts of this title), other staff, and parents, that satisfies the requirements of this section and that is coordinated with other programs under this Act, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Technical Education Act of 1998, and the Head Start Act.

“(2) CONSOLIDATED PLAN.—A State plan submitted under paragraph (1) may be submitted as part of a consolidated plan under section 14302.

“(b) STANDARDS, ASSESSMENTS, AND ACCOUNTABILITY.—

“(1) CHALLENGING STANDARDS.—(A) Each State plan shall demonstrate that the State has adopted challenging content standards and challenging student performance standards that will be used by the State, its local educational agencies, and its schools to carry out this part, except that a State shall not be required to submit such standards to the Secretary.

“(B) The standards required by subparagraph (A) shall be the same standards that the State applies to all schools and children in the State.

“(C) The State shall have such standards for elementary and secondary school children served under this part in subjects determined by the State, but including at least mathematics and reading or language arts, which shall include the same knowledge, skills, and levels of performance expected of all children.

“(D) Standards under this paragraph shall include—

“(i) challenging content standards in academic subjects that—

“(I) specify what children are expected to know and be able to do;

“(II) contain coherent and rigorous content; and

“(III) encourage the teaching of advanced skills;

“(ii) challenging student performance standards that—

“(I) are aligned with the State’s content standards;

“(II) describe two levels of high performance, proficient and advanced, that determine how well children are mastering the material in the State content standards; and

“(III) describe a third level of performance, basic, to provide complete information about the progress of the lower performing children toward achieving to the proficient and advanced levels of performance.

“(E) For the subjects in which students will be served under this part, but for which a State is not required by subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) to develop, and has not otherwise developed such standards, the State plan shall describe a strategy for ensuring that such students are taught the same knowledge and skills and held to the same expectations as are all children.

“(2) ADEQUATE YEARLY PROGRESS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Each State plan shall demonstrate, based on assessments described under paragraph (4), what constitutes adequate yearly progress of—

“(i) any school served under this part toward enabling all children to meet the State’s challenging student performance standards;

“(ii) any local educational agency that received funds under this part toward enabling all children in schools receiving assistance under this part to meet the State’s challenging student performance standards; and “(iii) the State in enabling all children in schools receiving assistance under this part to meet the State’s challenging student performance standards.

“(B) DEFINITION.—Adequate yearly progress shall be defined in a manner that—“(i) applies the same high standards of academic performance to all students in the State;

“(ii) takes into account the progress of all students in the State and in each local educational agency and school served under section 1114 or 1115;

“(iii) uses the State challenging content and challenging student performance standards and assessments described in paragraphs (1) and (4);

“(iv) compares separately, within each State, local educational agency, and school, the performance and progress of students by gender, each major ethnic and racial group, by English proficiency status, by migrant status, by students with disabilities as compared to non-disabled students, and by economically disadvantaged students as compared to students who are not economically disadvantaged (except that such disaggregation shall not be required in a case in which the number of students in a category is insufficient to yield statistically reliable information or the results would reveal individually identifiable information about an individual student);

“(v) compares the proportions of students at the ‘basic’, ‘proficient’, and ‘advanced’ levels of performance with the proportions of students at each of the 3 levels in the same grade in the previous school year;

“(vi) at the State’s discretion, may also include other academic measures such as promotion, completion of college preparatory courses, and high school completion, except that inclusion of such other measures may not change which schools or local educational agencies would otherwise be subject to improvement or corrective action under section 1116 if the discretionary indicators were not included;

“(vii) includes annual numerical goals for improving the performance of all groups specified in clause (iv) and narrowing gaps in performance between these groups; and

“(viii) includes a timeline for ensuring that each group of students described in clause (iv) meets or exceeds the State’s proficient level of performance on each State assessment used for the purposes of section 1111 and section 1116 within 10 years from the date of enactment of the Student Results Act of 1999.

“(C) ANNUAL IMPROVEMENT FOR STATES.—For a State to make adequate yearly progress under subparagraph (A)(iii), not less than 90 percent of the local educational agencies within its jurisdiction shall meet the State’s criteria for adequate yearly progress.

“(D) ANNUAL IMPROVEMENT FOR LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—For a local educational agency to make adequate yearly progress under subparagraph (A)(ii), not less than 90 percent of the schools within its jurisdiction must meet the State’s criteria for adequate yearly progress.

“(E) ANNUAL IMPROVEMENT FOR SCHOOLS.—For a school to make adequate yearly progress under subparagraph (A)(i), not less than 90 percent of each group of students described in subparagraph (A)(iv) who are enrolled in such school are required to take the assessments consistent with section 612(a)(17)(A) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act and paragraph (4)(F)(iv) on which adequate yearly progress is based.

“(F) PUBLIC NOTICE AND COMMENT.—Each State shall ensure that in developing its plan for adequate yearly progress, it diligently seeks public comment from a range of institutions and individuals in the State with an interest in improved student achievement and that the State makes and will continue to make a substantial effort to ensure that information under this part is widely known and understood by the public, parents, teachers, and school administrators throughout the State. Such efforts shall include, at a minimum, publication of such information and explanatory text, broadly to the public through such means as the Internet, the media, and public agencies.

“(G) REVIEW.—The Secretary shall review the information from States on the adequate yearly progress of schools and local educational agencies required under subparagraphs (A) and (B) for the purpose of determining State and local compliance with section 1116.

“(3) STATE AUTHORITY.—If a State educational agency provides evidence, which is satisfactory to the Secretary, that neither the State educational agency nor any other State government official, agency, or entity has sufficient authority, under State law, to adopt curriculum content and student performance standards, and assessments aligned with such standards, which will be applicable to all students enrolled in the State’s public schools, then the State educational agency may meet the requirements of this subsection by—

“(A) adopting standards and assessments that meet the requirements of this subsection, on a statewide basis, limiting their applicability to students served under this part; or

“(B) adopting and implementing policies that ensure that each local educational agency in the State which receives grants under this part will adopt curriculum content and student performance standards, and assessments aligned with such standards, which meet all of the criteria in this subsection and any regulations regarding such standards and assessments which the Secretary may publish, and which are applicable to all students served by each such local educational agency.

“(4) ASSESSMENTS.—Each State plan shall demonstrate that the State has implemented a set of high-quality, yearly student assessments that include, at a minimum, assessments in mathematics and reading or language arts, that will be used, starting not later than the 2000–2001 school year, as the primary means of determining the yearly performance of each local educational agency and school served under this title in enabling all children served under this part to meet the State’s challenging student performance standards. Such assessments shall—

“(A) be the same assessments used to measure the performance of all children, if the State measures the performance of all children;

“(B) be aligned with the State’s challenging content and student performance standards and provide coherent information about student attainment of such standards;

“(1) the number of economically disadvantaged children enrolled in the school is not less than 25 percent of the school's total enrollment; and

“(2) to help ensure that all children in such a school meet challenging State standards for student performance, particularly those children who are most at-risk of not meeting those standards.

“(b) USE OF FUNDS FOR SCHOOLWIDE PROGRAMS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—A local educational agency may consolidate funds under this part, together with other Federal, State, and local funds, in order to upgrade the entire educational program of a school that serves an eligible school attendance area in which not less than 50 percent of the children are from low-income families, or not less than 50 percent of the children enrolled in the school are from such families.

“(2) STATE ASSURANCES.—A local educational agency may start new schoolwide programs under this section only after the State educational agency provides written information to each local educational agency in the State that demonstrates that such State educational agency has established the statewide system of support and improvement required by subsections (c)(1) and (e) of section 1117.

“(3) IDENTIFICATION OF STUDENTS NOT REQUIRED.—(A) No school participating in a schoolwide program shall be required to identify particular children under this part as eligible to participate in a schoolwide program or to provide supplemental services to such children.

“(B) A school participating in a schoolwide program shall use funds available to carry out this section only to supplement the amount of funds that would, in the absence of funds under this part, be made available from non-Federal sources for the school, including funds needed to provide services that are required by law for children with disabilities and children with limited English proficiency.

“(B) A school that chooses to use funds from such other programs shall not be relieved of the requirements relating to health, safety, civil rights, student and parental participation and involvement, services to private school children, maintenance of effort, uses of Federal funds to supplement, not supplant non-Federal funds, or the distribution of funds to State or local educational agencies that apply to the receipt of funds from such programs.

“(C)(i) A school that consolidates funds from different Federal programs under this section shall not be required to maintain separate fiscal accounting records, by program, that identify the specific activities supported by those particular funds as long as it maintains records that demonstrate that the schoolwide program, considered as a whole addresses the intent and purposes of each of the Federal programs that were consolidated to support the schoolwide program.

“(5) PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT.—Each school receiving funds under this part for any fiscal year shall devote sufficient resources to effectively carry out the activities described in subsection (c)(1)(E) in accordance with section 1119A for such fiscal year, except that a school may enter into a consortium with another school to carry out such activities.

“(III) include strategies for meeting the educational needs of historically underserved populations;

“(iii)(I) address the needs of all children in the school, but particularly the needs of low-achieving children and those at risk of not meeting the State student performance standards who are members of the target population of any program that is included in the schoolwide program;

“(A) developed during a 1-year period, unless—

“(i) the local educational agency determines that less time is needed to develop and implement the schoolwide program; or

“(1) an amount equal to the amount appropriated to carry out section 1124 for fiscal year 1999 plus 42.5 percent of the amount, if any, by which the amount appropriated under section 1002(a) for the current fiscal year exceeds the amount appropriated under such section for fiscal year 1999 shall be allocated in accordance with section 1124;

“(2) an amount equal to the amount appropriated to carry out section 1124A for fiscal year 1999 plus 7.5 percent of the amount, if any, by which the amount appropriated under section 1002(a) for the current fiscal year exceeds the amount appropriated under such section for fiscal year 1999 shall be allocated in accordance with section 1124A; and

“(3) an amount equal to 50 percent of the amount, if any, by which the amount appropriated under section 1002(a) for the current fiscal year exceeds the amount appropriated under such section for fiscal year 1999 shall be allocated in accordance with section 1125.

“(b) ADJUSTMENTS WHERE NECESSITATED BY APPROPRIATIONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—If the sums available under this part for any fiscal year are insufficient to pay the full amounts that all local educational agencies in States are eligible to receive under sections 1124, 1124A, and 1125 for such year, the Secretary shall ratably reduce the allocations to such local educational agencies, subject to subsections (c) and (d) of this section.

“(2) ADDITIONAL FUNDS.—If additional funds become available for making payments under sections 1124, 1124A, and 1125 for such fiscal year, allocations that were reduced under paragraph (1) shall be increased on the same basis as they were reduced.

“(c) HOLD-HARMLESS AMOUNTS.—

“(1) AMOUNTS FOR SECTIONS 1124 AND 1125.—For each fiscal year, the amount made available to each local educational agency under each of sections 1124 and 1125 shall be—

“(A) not less than 95 percent of the amount made available in the preceding fiscal year if the number of children counted for grants under section 1124 is not less than 30 percent of the total number of children aged 5 to 17 years, inclusive, in the local educational agency;

“(B) not less than 90 percent of the amount made available in the preceding fiscal year if the percentage described in subparagraph (A) is between 15 percent and 30 percent; and

“(C) not less than 85 percent of the amount made available in the preceding fiscal year if the percentage described in subparagraph (A) is below 15 percent.

“(2) AMOUNT FOR SECTION 1124A.—The amount made available to each local educational agency under section 1124A shall be not less than 85 percent of the amount made available in the preceding fiscal year.

“(3) PAYMENTS.—If sufficient funds are appropriated, the amounts described in paragraph (2) shall be paid to all local educational agencies that received grants under section 1124A for the preceding fiscal year, regardless of whether the local educational agency meets the minimum eligibility criteria for that fiscal year provided in section 1124(a)(1)(A) except that a local educational agency that does not meet such minimum eligibility criteria for 4 consecutive years shall no longer be eligible to receive a hold harmless amount referred to in paragraph (2).

“(4) POPULATION DATA.—In any fiscal year for which the Secretary calculates grants on the basis of population data for counties, the Secretary shall apply the hold harmless percentages in paragraphs (1) and (2) to counties, and if the Secretary's allocation for a county is not sufficient to meet the hold-harmless requirements of this subsection for every local educational agency within that county, the State educational agency shall reallocate funds proportionately from all other local educational agencies in the State that are receiving funds in excess of the hold harmless amounts specified in this subsection.

“(d) RATABLE REDUCTIONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—If the sums made available under this part for any fiscal year are insufficient to pay the full amounts that all States are eligible to receive under subsection (c) for such year, the Secretary shall ratably reduce such amounts for such year.

“(2) ADDITIONAL FUNDS.—If additional funds become available for making payments under subsection (c) for such fiscal year, amounts that were reduced under paragraph (1) shall be increased on the same basis as such amounts were reduced.

“(e) DEFINITION.—For the purpose of this section and sections 1124, 1124A, and 1125, the term ‘State’ means each of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.”

SEC. 121. BASIC GRANTS TO LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.

Section 1124 (20 U.S.C. 6333 et seq.) is amended to read as follows:

“(a) AMOUNT OF GRANTS.—

“(1) GRANTS FOR LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES AND PUERTO RICO.—Except as provided in paragraph (4) and in section 1126, the grant that a local educational agency is eligible to receive under this section for a fiscal year is the amount determined by multiplying—

“(A) the number of children counted under subsection (c); and

“(B) 40 percent of the average per-pupil expenditure in the State, except that the amount determined under this subparagraph shall not be less than 32 percent or more than 48 percent, of the average per-pupil expenditure in the United States.

“(2) CALCULATION OF GRANTS.—

“(A) ALLOCATIONS TO LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—The Secretary shall calculate grants under this section on the basis of the number of children counted under subsection (c) for local educational agencies, unless the Secretary and the Secretary of Commerce determine that some or all of those data are unreliable or that their use would be otherwise inappropriate, in which case—

“(i) the 2 Secretaries shall publicly disclose the reasons for their determination in detail; and “(ii) paragraph (3) shall apply.

“(B) ALLOCATIONS TO LARGE AND SMALL LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—(i) For any fiscal year in which this paragraph applies, the Secretary shall calculate grants under this section for each local educational agency.

“(ii) The amount of a grant under this section for each large local educational agency shall be the amount determined under clause (i).

“(iii) For small local educational agencies, the State educational agency may either—

“(I) distribute grants under this section in amounts determined by the Secretary under clause (i); or “(II) use an alternative method approved by the Secretary to distribute the portion of the State's total grants under this section that is based on those small agencies.

“(iv) An alternative method under clause (iii)(II) shall be based on population data that the State educational agency determines best reflect the current distribution of children in poor families among the State's small local educational agencies that meet the eligibility criteria of subsection (b).

“(v) If a small local educational agency is dissatisfied with the determination of its grant by the State educational agency under clause (iii)(II), it may appeal that determination to the Secretary, who shall respond not later than 45 days after receipt of such appeal.

“(vi) As used in this subparagraph—

“(I) the term ‘large local educational agency’ means a local educational agency serving an area with a total population of 20,000 or more; and “(II) the term ‘small local educational agency’ means a local educational agency serving an area with a total population of less than 20,000.

“(3) ALLOCATIONS TO COUNTIES.—

“(A) CALCULATION.—For any fiscal year to which this paragraph applies, the Secretary shall calculate grants under this section on the basis of the number of children counted under section 1124(c) for counties, and State educational agencies shall suballocate county amounts to local educational agencies, in accordance with regulations issued by the Secretary.

“(B) DIRECT ALLOCATIONS.—In any State in which a large number of local educational agencies overlap county boundaries, or for which the State believes it has data that would better target funds than allocating them by county, the State educational agency may apply to the Secretary for authority to make the allocations under this part for a particular fiscal year directly to local educational agencies without regard to counties.

“(C) ASSURANCES.—If the Secretary approves the State educational agency's application under subparagraph (B), the State educational agency shall provide the Secretary an assurance that such allocations shall be made—

“(i) using precisely the same factors for determining a grant as are used under this part; or

“(ii) using data that the State educational agency submits to the Secretary for approval that more accurately target poverty.

“(D) APPEAL.—The State educational agency shall provide the Secretary an assurance that it shall establish a procedure through which a local educational agency that is dissatisfied with its determinations under subparagraph (B) may appeal directly to the Secretary for a final determination.

“(4) PUERTO RICO.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—For each fiscal year, the grant which the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico shall be eligible to receive under this section shall be the amount determined by multiplying the number of children counted under subsection (c) for the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico by the product of—

“(i) the percentage which the average per pupil expenditure in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico is of the lowest average per pupil expenditure of any of the 50 States; and “(ii) 32 percent of the average per pupil expenditure in the United States.

“(B) MINIMUM PERCENTAGE.—The percentage in subparagraph (A)(i) shall not be less than—

“(i) for fiscal year 2000, 75.0 percent;

“(ii) for fiscal year 2001, 77.5 percent;

“(iii) for fiscal year 2002, 80.0 percent;

“(iv) for fiscal year 2003, 82.5 percent;

“(v) for fiscal year 2004 and succeeding fiscal years, 85.0 percent.

“(C) LIMITATION.—If the application of subparagraph (B) would result in any of the 50 States or the District of Columbia receiving less under this part than it received under this part for the preceding fiscal year, the percentage in subparagraph (A) shall be the greater of the percentage in subparagraph (A)(i) or the percentage used for the preceding fiscal year.

“(5) DEFINITION.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘State’ does not include Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, and the Northern Mariana Islands.

“(b) MINIMUM NUMBER OF CHILDREN TO QUALIFY.—A local educational agency is eligible for a basic grant under this section for any fiscal year only if the number of children counted under subsection (c) for that agency is both—

“(1) 10 or more; and

“(2) more than 2 percent of the total school-age population in the agency’s jurisdiction.

“(c) CHILDREN TO BE COUNTED.—

“(1) CATEGORIES OF CHILDREN.—The number of children to be counted for purposes of this section is the aggregate of—

“(A) the number of children aged 5 to 17, inclusive, in the school district of the local educational agency from families below the poverty level as determined under paragraph (2); and

“(B) the number of children (determined under paragraph (4) for either the preceding year as described in that paragraph, or for the second preceding year, as the Secretary finds appropriate) aged 5 to 17, inclusive, in the school district of such agency in institutions for neglected and delinquent children (other than such institutions operated by the United States), but not counted pursuant to subpart 1 of part D for the purposes of a grant to a State agency, or being supported in foster homes with public funds.

“(2) DETERMINATION OF NUMBER OF CHILDREN.—For the purposes of this section, the Secretary shall determine the number of children aged 5 to 17, inclusive, from families below the poverty level on the basis of the most recent satisfactory data, described in paragraph (3), available from the Department of Commerce. The District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico shall be treated as individual local educational agencies. If a local educational agency contains two or more counties in their entirety, then each county will be treated as if such county were a separate local educational agency for purposes of calculating grants under this part. The total of grants for such counties shall be allocated to such a local educational agency, which local educational agency shall distribute to schools in each county within such agency a share of the local educational agency’s total grant that is no less than the county’s share of the population counts used to calculate the local educational agency’s grant.

“(3) POPULATION UPDATES.—In fiscal year 2001 and every 2 years thereafter, the Secretary shall use updated data on the number of children, aged 5 to 17, inclusive, from families below the poverty level for local educational agencies or counties, published by the Department of Commerce, unless the Secretary and the Secretary of Commerce determine that use of the updated population data would be inappropriate or unreliable. If the Secretary and the Secretary of Commerce determine that some or all of the data referred to in this paragraph are inappropriate or unreliable, they shall publicly disclose their reasons. In determining the families which are below the poverty level, the Secretary shall utilize the criteria of poverty used by the Bureau of the Census in compiling the most recent decennial census, in such form as those criteria have been updated by increases in the Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers, published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

“(4) OTHER CHILDREN TO BE COUNTED.—The Secretary shall determine the number of children aged 5 through 17 living in institutions for neglected or delinquent children, or being supported in foster homes with public funds, on the basis of the caseload data for the month of October of the preceding fiscal year or, to the extent that such data are not available to the Secretary before January of the calendar year in which the Secretary’s determination is made, then on the basis of the most recent reliable data available to the Secretary at the time of such determination. The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall collect and transmit the information required by this subparagraph to the Secretary not later than January 1 of each year. For the purpose of this section, the Secretary shall consider all children who are in correctional institutions to be living in institutions for delinquent children.

“(5) ESTIMATE.—When requested by the Secretary, the Secretary of Commerce shall make a special updated estimate of the number of children of such ages who are from families below the poverty level (as determined under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph) in each school district, and the Secretary is authorized to pay (either in advance or by way of reimbursement) the Secretary of Commerce the cost of making this special estimate. The Secretary of Commerce shall give consideration to any request of the chief executive of a State for the collection of additional census information.

“(d) STATE MINIMUM.—Notwithstanding section 1122, the aggregate amount allotted for all local educational agencies within a State may not be less than the lesser of—

“(1) 0.25 percent of total grants under this section; or

“(2) the average of—

“(B) the number of children in such State counted under subsection (c) in the fiscal year multiplied by 150 percent of the national average per pupil payment made with funds available under this section for that year.”

SEC. 122. CONCENTRATION GRANTS.

Section 1124A (20 U.S.C. 6334 et seq.) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 1124A. CONCENTRATION GRANTS TO LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.

“(a) ELIGIBILITY FOR AND AMOUNT OF GRANTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—(A) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, each local educational agency, in a State other than Guam,

American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, which is eligible for a grant under section 1124 for any fiscal year is eligible for an additional grant under this section for that fiscal year if the number of children counted under section 1124(c) in the agency exceeds either—

“(i) 6,500; or

“(ii) 15 percent of the total number of children aged 5 through 17 in the agency.

“(B) Notwithstanding section 1122, no State described in subparagraph (A) shall receive less than the lesser of—

“(i) 0.25 percent of total grants; or

“(ii) the average of—

“(1) one-quarter of 1 percent of the sums available to carry out this section for such fiscal year; and

“(II) the greater of—

“(aa) $340,000; or

“(bb) the number of children in such State counted for purposes of this section in that fiscal year multiplied by 150 percent of the national average per pupil payment made with funds available under this section for that year.

“(2) SPECIAL RULE.—For each county or local educational agency eligible to receive an additional grant under this section for any fiscal year the Secretary shall determine the product of—

“(A) the number of children counted under section 1124(c) for that fiscal year; and

“(B) the quotient resulting from the division of the amount determined for those agencies under section 1124(a)(1) for the fiscal year for which the determination is being made divided by the total number of children counted under section 1124(c) for that agency for that fiscal year.

“(3) AMOUNT.—The amount of the additional grant for which an eligible local educational agency or county is eligible under this section for any fiscal year shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the amount available to carry out this section for that fiscal year as the product determined under paragraph (2) for such local educational agency for that fiscal year bears to the sum of such products for all local educational agencies in the United States for that fiscal year.

“(4) LOCAL ALLOCATIONS.—(A) Grant amounts under this section shall be determined in accordance with section 1124(a)(2) and (3).

“(B) For any fiscal year for which the Secretary allocates funds under this section on the basis of counties, a State may reserve not more than 2 percent of its allocation under this section to make grants to local educational agencies that meet the criteria of paragraph (1)(A)(i) or (ii) but that are in ineligible counties that do not meet these criteria.

“(b) STATES RECEIVING MINIMUM GRANTS.—In States that receive the minimum grant under subsection (a)(1)(B), the State educational agency shall allocate such funds among the local educational agencies in each State either—

“(1) in accordance with paragraphs (2) and (4) of subsection (a); or

“(2) based on their respective concentrations and numbers of children counted under section 1124(c), except that only those local educational agencies with concentrations or numbers of children counted under section 1124(c) that exceed the statewide average percentage of such children or the statewide average number of such children shall receive any funds on the basis of this paragraph.”

SEC. 123. TARGETED GRANTS.

Section 1125 (20 U.S.C. 6335 et seq.) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 1125. TARGETED GRANTS TO LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.

“(a) ELIGIBILITY OF LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—A local educational agency in a State is eligible to receive a targeted grant under this section for any fiscal year if the number of children in the local educational agency counted under subsection 1124(c), before application of the weighting factor described in subsection (c), is at least 10, and if the number of children counted for grants under section 1124 is at least 5 percent of the total population aged 5 to 17 years, inclusive, in the local educational agency. For each fiscal year for which the Secretary uses county population data to calculate grants, funds made available as a result of applying this subsection shall be reallocated by the State educational agency to other eligible local educational agencies in the State in proportion to the distribution of other funds under this section.

“(b) GRANTS FOR LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES, THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, AND PUERTO RICO.—

“(I) IN GENERAL.—The amount of the grant that a local educational agency in a State or that the District of Columbia is eligible to receive under this section for any fiscal year shall be the product of—

“(A) the weighted child count determined under subsection (c); and “(B) the amount in paragraph 1124(a)(1)(B).

“(2) PUERTO RICO.—For each fiscal year, the amount of the grant for which the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico is eligible under this section shall be equal to the number of children counted under subsection (c) for Puerto Rico, multiplied by the amount determined in subparagraph 1124(a)(4).

“(c) WEIGHTED CHILD COUNT.—

“(I) WEIGHTS FOR ALLOCATIONS TO COUNTIES.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—For each fiscal year for which the Secretary uses county population data to calculate grants, the weighted child count used to determine a county's allocation under this section is the larger of the two amounts determined under clause (i) or (ii), as follows:

“(i) BY PERCENTAGE OF CHILDREN.—This amount is determined by adding—

“(I) the number of children determined under section 1124(c) for that county constituting up to 12.20 percent, inclusive, of the county's total population aged 5 to 17, inclusive, multiplied by 1.0;

“(II) the number of such children constituting more than 12.20 percent, but not more than 17.70 percent, of such population, multiplied by 1.75;

“(III) the number of such children constituting more than 17.70 percent, but not more than 22.80 percent, of such population, multiplied by 2.5;

“(IV) the number of such children constituting more than 22.80 percent, but not more than 29.70 percent, of such population, multiplied by 3.25; and

“(V) the number of such children constituting more than 29.70 percent of such population, multiplied by 4.0.

“(ii) BY NUMBER OF CHILDREN.—This amount is determined by adding—

“(I) the number of children determined under section 1124(c) constituting up to 1,917, inclusive, of the county's total population aged 5 to 17, inclusive, multiplied by 1.0;

“(II) the number of such children between 1,918 and 5,938, inclusive, in such population, multiplied by 1.5;

“(III) the number of such children between 5,939 and 20,199, inclusive, in such population, multiplied by 2.0;

“(IV) the number of such children between 20,200 and 77,999, inclusive, in such population, multiplied by 2.5; and

“(V) the number of such children in excess of 77,999 in such population, multiplied by 3.0.

“(B) PUERTO RICO.—Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), the weighted child count for Puerto Rico under this paragraph shall not be greater than the total number of children counted under subsection 1124(c) multiplied by 1.72.

“(2) WEIGHTS FOR ALLOCATIONS TO LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—For each fiscal year for which the Secretary uses local educational agency data, the weighted child count used to determine a local educational agency's grant under this section is the larger of the two amounts determined under clauses (i) and (ii), as follows:

“(i) BY PERCENTAGE OF CHILDREN.—This amount is determined by adding—

“(I) the number of children determined under section 1124(c) for that local educational agency constituting up to 14.265 percent, inclusive, of the agency's total population aged 5 to 17, inclusive, multiplied by 1.0;

“(II) the number of such children constituting more than 14.265 percent, but not more than 21.553 percent, of such population, multiplied by 1.75;

“(III) the number of such children constituting more than 21.553 percent, but not more than 29.223 percent, of such population, multiplied by 2.5;

“(IV) the number of such children constituting more than 29.223 percent, but not more than 36.538 percent, of such population, multiplied by 3.25; and

“(V) the number of such children constituting more than 36.538 percent of such population, multiplied by 4.0.

“(ii) BY NUMBER OF CHILDREN.—This amount is determined by adding—

“(I) the number of children determined under section 1124(c) constituting up to 575, inclusive, of the agency's total population aged 5 to 17, inclusive, multiplied by 1.0;

“(II) the number of such children between 576 and 1,870, inclusive, in such population, multiplied by 1.5;

“(III) the number of such children between 1,871 and 6,910, inclusive, in such population, multiplied by 2.0;

“(IV) the number of such children between 6,911 and 42,000, inclusive, in such population, multiplied by 2.5; and

“(V) the number of such children in excess of 42,000 in such population, multiplied by 3.0.

“(B) PUERTO RICO.—Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), the weighted child count for Puerto Rico under this paragraph shall not be greater than the total number of children counted under section 1124(c) multiplied by 1.72.

“(d) CALCULATION OF GRANT AMOUNTS.—Grants under this section shall be calculated in accordance with section 1124(a)(2) and (3).

“(e) STATE MINIMUM.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this section or section 1122, from the total amount available for any fiscal year to carry out this section, each State shall be allotted at least the lesser of—

“(1) 0.25 percent of total appropriations; or

“(2) the average of—

“(A) one-quarter of 1 percent of the total amount available to carry out this section; and

“(B) 150 percent of the national average grant under this section per child described in section 1124(c), without application of a weighting factor, multiplied by the State's total number of children described in section 1124(c), without application of a weighting factor.”

SEC. 124. SPECIAL ALLOCATION PROCEDURES.

Section 1126 (20 U.S.C. 6337 et seq.) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 1126. SPECIAL ALLOCATION PROCEDURES.

“(a) ALLOCATIONS FOR NEGLECTED CHILDREN.—

“(I) IN GENERAL.—If a State educational agency determines that a local educational agency in the State is unable or unwilling to provide for the special educational needs of children who are living in institutions for neglected children as described in subparagraph (B) of section 1124(c)(1), the State educational agency shall, if such agency assumes responsibility for the special educational needs of such children, receive the portion of such local educational agency's allocation under sections 1124, 1124A, and 1125 that is attributable to such children.

“(2) SPECIAL RULE.—If the State educational agency does not assume such responsibility, any other State or local public agency that does assume such responsibility shall receive that portion of the local educational agency's allocation.

“(b) ALLOCATIONS AMONG LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—The State educational agency may allocate the amounts of grants under sections 1124, 1124A, and 1125 among the affected local educational agencies—

“(1) if two or more local educational agencies serve, in whole or in part, the same geographical area;

“(2) if a local educational agency provides free public education for children who reside in the school district of another local educational agency; or

“(3) to reflect the merger, creation, or change of boundaries of one or more local educational agencies.

“(c) REALLOCATION.—If a State educational agency determines that the amount of a grant a local educational agency would receive under sections 1124, 1124A, and 1125 is more than such local agency will use, the State educational agency shall make the excess amount available to other local educational agencies in the State that need additional funds in accordance with criteria established by the State educational agency.”

SEC. 125. SECULAR, NEUTRAL, AND NONIDEOLOGICAL.

Part A is amended by adding at the end the following:

“SEC. 1128. SECULAR, NEUTRAL, AND NONIDEOLOGICAL.

“Any school that receives funds under this part shall ensure that educational services or other benefits provided under this part, including materials and equipment, shall be secular, neutral, and nonideological.”

TITLE II—MAGNET SCHOOLS ASSISTANCE AND PUBLIC SCHOOL CHOICE

SEC. 201. MAGNET SCHOOLS ASSISTANCE.

Title V of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 7201 et seq.) is amended to read as follows:

“TITLE V—MAGNET SCHOOLS ASSISTANCE AND PUBLIC SCHOOL CHOICE

“SEC. 5101. FINDINGS.

“The Congress finds that—

“(1) magnet schools are a significant part of our Nation's effort to achieve voluntary desegregation in our Nation's schools;

“(2) the use of magnet schools has increased dramatically since the date of enactment of the Magnet Schools Assistance program, with approximately 2,000,000 students nationwide now attending such schools, of which more than 65 percent of the students are nonwhite;

“(3) magnet schools offer a wide range of distinctive programs that have served as models for school improvement efforts;

“(4) in administering the Magnet Schools Assistance program, the Federal Government has learned that—

“(A) where magnet programs are implemented for only a portion of a school's student body, special efforts must be made to discourage the isolation of—

“(i) magnet school students from other students in the school; and

“(ii) students by racial characteristics;

“(B) local educational agencies can maximize their effectiveness in achieving the purposes of the Magnet Schools Assistance program if such agencies have more flexibility in the administration of such program in order to serve students attending a school who are not enrolled in the magnet school program;

“(C) local educational agencies must be creative in designing magnet schools for students at all academic levels, so that school districts do not select only the highest achieving students to attend the magnet schools;

“(D) consistent with desegregation guidelines, local educational agencies must seek to enable participation in magnet school programs by students who reside in the neighborhoods where the programs operate; and

“(E) in order to ensure that magnet schools are sustained after Federal funding ends, the Federal Government must assist school districts to improve their capacity to continue to operate magnet schools at a high level of performance; and

“(5) it is in the best interest of the Federal Government to—

“(A) continue the Federal Government's support of school districts implementing court-ordered desegregation plans and school districts voluntarily seeking to foster meaningful interaction among students of different racial and ethnic backgrounds, beginning at the earliest stage of such students' education;

“(B) ensure that all students have equitable access to quality education that will prepare such students to function well in a technologically oriented society and a highly competitive economy;

“(C) maximize the ability of local educational agencies to plan, develop, implement and continue effective and innovative magnet schools that contribute to State and local systemic reform; and “(D) ensure that grant recipients provide adequate data which demonstrates an ability to improve student achievement.

“SEC. 5102. STATEMENT OF PURPOSE.

“The purpose of this part is to assist in the desegregation of schools served by local educational agencies by providing financial assistance to eligible local educational agencies for—

“(1) the elimination, reduction, or prevention of minority group isolation in elementary and secondary schools with substantial proportions of minority students;

“(2) the development and implementation of magnet school projects that will assist local educational agencies in achieving systemic reforms and providing all students the opportunity to meet challenging State content standards and challenging State student performance standards;

“(3) the development and design of innovative educational methods and practices that promote diversity and increase choices in public elementary and secondary schools and educational programs; and

“(4) courses of instruction within magnet schools that will substantially strengthen the knowledge of academic subjects and the grasp of tangible and marketable vocational and technical skills of students attending such schools.

“SEC. 5103. PROGRAM AUTHORIZED.

“The Secretary, in accordance with this part, is authorized to make grants to eligible local educational agencies, and consortia of such agencies where appropriate, to carry out the purpose of this part for magnet schools that are—

“(1) part of an approved desegregation plan; and

“SEC. 5104. DEFINITION.

“For the purpose of this part, the term ‘magnet school’ means a public elementary or secondary school or public elementary or secondary education center that offers a special curriculum capable of attracting substantial numbers of students of different racial backgrounds.

“A local educational agency, or consortium of such agencies where appropriate, is eligible to receive assistance under this part to carry out the purposes of this part if such agency or consortium—

“(2) without having been required to do so, has adopted and is implementing, or will, if assistance is made available to such local educational agency or consortium of such agencies under this part, adopt and implement a plan that has been approved by the Secretary as adequate under title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 for the desegregation of minority-group-segregated children or faculty in such schools.

“SEC. 5106. APPLICATIONS AND REQUIREMENTS.

TITLE IV—INDIAN, NATIVE HAWAIIAN, AND ALASKA NATIVE EDUCATION

Subtitle A—Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965

SEC. 401. AMENDMENTS.

Part A of title IX of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 7801 et seq.) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 9101. FINDINGS.

“Congress finds that—

“(1) the Federal Government has a special responsibility to ensure that educational programs for all American Indian and Alaska Native children and adults—

“(A) are based on high-quality, internationally competitive content standards and student performance standards and build on Indian culture and the Indian community;

“(B) assist local educational agencies, Indian tribes, and other entities and individuals in providing Indian students the opportunity to achieve such standards; and

“(C) meet the unique educational and culturally related academic needs of American Indian and Alaska Native students;

“(2) since the date of enactment of the initial Indian Education Act in 1972, the level of involvement of Indian parents in the planning, development, and implementation of educational programs that affect such parents and their children has increased significantly, and schools should continue to foster such involvement;

“(3) although the number of Indian teachers, administrators, and university professors has increased since 1972, teacher training programs are not recruiting, training, or retraining a sufficient number of Indian individuals as educators to meet the needs of a growing Indian student population in elementary, secondary, vocational, adult, and higher education;

“(4) the dropout rate for Indian students is unacceptably high; 9 percent of Indian students who were eighth graders in 1988 had dropped out of school by 1990;

“(5) during the period from 1980 to 1990, the percentage of Indian individuals living at or below the poverty level increased from 24 percent to 31 percent, and the readiness of Indian children to learn is hampered by the high incidence of poverty, unemployment, and health problems among Indian children and their families; and “(6) research related specifically to the education of Indian children and adults is very limited, and much of the research is of poor quality or is focused on limited local or regional issues.

“SEC. 9102. PURPOSE.

“(a) PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of this part to support the efforts of local educational agencies, Indian tribes and organizations, postsecondary institutions, and other entities to meet the unique educational and culturally related academic needs of American Indians and Alaska Natives, so that such students can achieve to the same challenging State performance standards expected of all other students.

“(b) PROGRAMS.—This part carries out the purpose described in subsection (a) by authorizing programs of direct assistance for—

“(1) meeting the unique educational and culturally related academic needs of American Indians and Alaska Natives;

“(2) the education of Indian children and adults;

“(3) the training of Indian persons as educators and counselors, and in other professions serving Indian people; and

“(4) research, evaluation, data collection, and technical assistance.

“Subpart 1—Formula Grants to Local Educational Agencies

“SEC. 9111. PURPOSE.

“It is the purpose of this subpart to support local educational agencies in their efforts to reform elementary and secondary school programs that serve Indian students in order to ensure that such programs—

“(1) are based on challenging State content standards and State student performance standards that are used for all students; and

“(2) are designed to assist Indian students in meeting those standards and assist the Nation in reaching the National Education Goals.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—

“(1) ENROLLMENT REQUIREMENTS.—A local educational agency shall be eligible for a grant under this subpart for any fiscal year if the number of Indian children eligible under section 9117 and who were enrolled in the schools of the agency, and to whom the agency provided free public education, during the preceding fiscal year—

“(A) was at least 10; or

“(B) constituted not less than 25 percent of the total number of individuals enrolled in the schools of such agency.

“(2) EXCLUSION.—The requirement of paragraph (1) shall not apply in Alaska, California, or Oklahoma, or with respect to any local educational agency located on, or in proximity to, a reservation.

“(b) INDIAN TRIBES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—If a local educational agency that is eligible for a grant under this subpart does not establish a parent committee under section 9114(c)(4) for such grant, an Indian tribe that represents not less than one-half of the eligible Indian children who are served by such local educational agency may apply for such grant.

“(2) SPECIAL RULE.—The Secretary shall treat each Indian tribe applying for a grant pursuant to paragraph (1) as if such Indian tribe were a local educational agency for purposes of this subpart, except that any such tribe is not subject to section 9114(c)(4), section 9118(c), or section 9119.

“SEC. 9113. AMOUNT OF GRANTS.

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subsection (b) and paragraph (2), the Secretary shall allocate to each local educational agency which has an approved application under this subpart an amount equal to the product of—

“(B) the greater of—

“(i) the average per-pupil expenditure of the State in which such agency is located; or

“(ii) 80 percent of the average per-pupil expenditure in the United States.

“(2) REDUCTION.—The Secretary shall reduce the amount of each allocation determined under paragraph (1) in accordance with subsection (e).

“(b) MINIMUM GRANT.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding subsection (e), a local educational agency or an Indian tribe (as authorized under section 9112(b)) that is eligible for a grant under section 9112, and a school that is operated or supported by the Bureau of Indian Affairs that is eligible for a grant under subsection (d), that submits an application that is approved by the Secretary, shall, subject to appropriations, receive a grant under this subpart in an amount that is not less than $3,000.

“(2) CONSORTIA.—Local educational agencies may form a consortium for the purpose of obtaining grants under this subpart.

“(c) DEFINITION.—For the purpose of this section, the term ‘average per-pupil expenditure of a State’ means an amount equal to—

“(1) the sum of the aggregate current expenditures of all the local educational agencies in the State, plus any direct current expenditures by the State for the operation of such agencies, without regard to the sources of funds from which such local or State expenditures were made, during the second fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which the computation is made; divided by

“(2) the aggregate number of children who were included in average daily attendance for whom such agencies provided free public education during such preceding fiscal year.

“(e) RATABLE REDUCTIONS.—If the sums appropriated for any fiscal year under section 9162(a) are insufficient to pay in full the amounts determined for local educational agencies under subsection (a)(1) and for the Secretary of the Interior under subsection (d), each of those amounts shall be ratably reduced.

“SEC. 9114. APPLICATIONS.

“(a) APPLICATION REQUIRED.—Each local educational agency that desires to receive a grant under this subpart shall submit an application to the Secretary at such time, in such manner, and containing such information as the Secretary may reasonably require.

“(c) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect a definition contained in section 9161.

“(d) FORMS AND STANDARDS OF PROOF.—The forms and the standards of proof (including the standard of good faith compliance) that were in use during the 1985–1986 academic year to establish the eligibility of a child for entitlement under the Indian Elementary and Secondary School Assistance Act shall be the forms and standards of proof used—

“(1) to establish such eligibility; and

“(2) to meet the requirements of subsection (a).

“(e) DOCUMENTATION.—For purposes of determining whether a child is eligible to be counted for the purpose of computing the amount of a grant under section 9113, the membership of the child, or any parent or grandparent of the child, in a tribe or band of Indians may be established by proof other than an enrollment number, notwithstanding the availability of an enrollment number for a member of such tribe or band. Nothing in subsection (b) shall be construed to require the furnishing of an enrollment number.

“(f) MONITORING AND EVALUATION REVIEW.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—(A) For each fiscal year, in order to provide such information as is necessary to carry out the responsibility of the Secretary to provide technical assistance under this subpart, the Secretary shall conduct a monitoring and evaluation review of a sampling of the recipients of grants under this subpart. The sampling conducted under this subparagraph shall take into account the size of the local educational agency and the geographic location of such agency.

“(B) A local educational agency may not be held liable to the United States or be subject to any penalty, by reason of the findings of an audit that relates to the date of completion, or the date of submission, of any forms used to establish, before April 28, 1988, the eligibility of a child for entitlement under the Indian Elementary and Secondary School Assistance Act.

“(2) FALSE INFORMATION.—Any local educational agency that provides false information in an application for a grant under this subpart shall—

“(1) A count of the number of students in those schools certified by the Bureau.

“(2) A count of the number of students for whom the school has eligibility forms that comply with this section.

“(h) TIMING OF CHILD COUNTS.—For purposes of determining the number of children to be counted in calculating the amount of a local educational agency's grant under this subpart (other than in the case described in subsection (g)(1)), the local educational agency shall—

“(b) PAYMENTS TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT BY THE STATE.—The Secretary may not make a grant under this subpart to a local educational agency for a fiscal year if, for such fiscal year, the State in which the local educational agency is located takes into consideration payments made under this subpart in determining the eligibility of the local educational agency for State aid, or the amount of the State aid, with respect to the free public education of children during such fiscal year or the preceding fiscal year.

“(c) REDUCTION OF PAYMENT FOR FAILURE TO MAINTAIN FISCAL EFFORT.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may not pay a local educational agency the full amount of a grant award determined under section 9113 for any fiscal year unless the State educational agency notifies the Secretary, and the Secretary determines that, with respect to the provision of free public education by the local educational agency for the preceding fiscal year, the combined fiscal effort of the local educational agency and the State, computed on either a per student or aggregate expenditure basis, was not less than 90 percent of the amount of the combined fiscal effort, computed on the same basis, for the second preceding fiscal year.

“(2) FAILURE TO MAINTAIN EFFORT.—If, for any fiscal year, the Secretary determines that a local educational agency failed to maintain the fiscal effort of such agency at the level specified in paragraph (1), the Secretary shall—

“(A) reduce the amount of the grant that would otherwise be made to such agency under this subpart in the exact proportion of such agency's failure to maintain its fiscal effort at such level; and

“(B) not use the reduced amount of the agency's expenditures for the preceding year to determine compliance with paragraph (1) for any succeeding fiscal year, but shall use the amount of expenditures that would have been required to comply with paragraph (1).

“(3) WAIVER.—(A) The Secretary may waive the requirement of paragraph (1), for not more than 1 year at a time, if the Secretary determines that the failure to comply with such requirement is due to exceptional or uncontrollable circumstances, such as a natural disaster or a precipitous and unforeseen decline in the agency's financial resources.

“(B) The Secretary shall not use the reduced amount of such agency's expenditures for the fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which a waiver is granted to determine compliance with paragraph (1) for any succeeding fiscal year, but shall use the amount of expenditures that would have been required to comply with paragraph (1) in the absence of the waiver.

“(d) REALLOCATIONS.—The Secretary may reallocate, in a manner that the Secretary determines will best carry out the purpose of this subpart, any amounts that—

“(1) based on estimates made by local educational agencies or other information, the Secretary determines will not be needed by such agencies to carry out approved programs under this subpart; or

“SEC. 9119. STATE EDUCATIONAL AGENCY REVIEW.

“Before submitting an application to the Secretary under section 9114, a local educational agency shall submit the application to the State educational agency, which may comment on such application. Such plan shall include a statement of the relative needs of each Bureau funded home-living (dormitory) school, projected future needs of each Bureau funded home-living (dormitory) school, detailed information on the status of each school in relation to the standards established under this section, specific cost estimates for meeting each standard for each such school, aggregate cost estimates for bringing all such schools into compliance with the criteria established under this section, and specific timelines for bringing each school into compliance with such standards.

"(d) WAIVER.—The criteria established under this section may be waived in the same manner as the standards provided under section 1121(c) may be waived.

"(e) CLOSURE FOR FAILURE TO MEET STANDARDS PROHIBITED.—No school in operation on or before January 1, 1987 (regardless of compliance or noncompliance with the criteria established under this section), may be closed, transferred to another authority, consolidated, or have its program substantially curtailed for failure to meet the criteria.

"SEC. 1123. REGULATIONS.

"(a) PART 32 OF TITLE 25 OF CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS.—The provisions of part 32 of title 25 of the Code of Federal Regulations, as in effect on January 1, 1987, are incorporated into this Act and shall be treated as though such provisions are set forth in this subsection. Such provisions may be altered only by means of an Act of Congress. To the extent that such provisions of part 32 do not conform with this Act or any statutory provision of law enacted before November 1, 1978, the provisions of this Act and the provisions of such other statutory law shall govern.

"(b) REGULATION DEFINED.—For purposes of this part, the term 'regulation' means any rules, regulations, guidelines, interpretations, orders, or requirements of general applicability prescribed by any officer or employee of the executive branch.

"SEC. 1124. SCHOOL BOUNDARIES.

"(a) ESTABLISHMENT BY SECRETARY.—The Secretary shall establish, by regulation, separate geographical attendance areas for each Bureau funded school.

"(b) ESTABLISHMENT BY TRIBAL BODY.—In any case where there is more than 1 Bureau funded school located on an Indian reservation, at the direction of the tribal governing body, the relevant school boards of the Bureau funded schools on the reservation may, by mutual consent, establish the relevant attendance areas for such schools, subject to the approval of the tribal governing body. Any such boundaries so established shall be accepted by the Secretary.

"(c) BOUNDARY REVISIONS.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—On or after July 1, 1999, no geographical attendance area shall be revised or established with respect to any Bureau funded school unless the tribal governing body or the local school board concerned (if so designated by the tribal governing body) has been afforded—

"(A) at least 6 months notice of the intention of the Bureau to revise or establish such attendance area; and

"(B) the opportunity to propose alternative boundaries.

Any tribe may petition the Secretary for revision of existing attendance area boundaries. The Secretary shall accept such proposed alternative or revised boundaries unless the Secretary finds, after consultation with the affected tribe or tribes, that such revised boundaries do not reflect the needs of the Indian students to be served or do not provide adequate stability to all of the affected programs. The Secretary shall cause such revisions to be published in the Federal Register.

"(2) TRIBAL RESOLUTION DETERMINATION.—Nothing in this section shall be interpreted as denying a tribal governing body the authority, on a continuing basis, to adopt a tribal resolution allowing parents the choice of the Bureau funded school their children may attend, regardless of the attendance boundaries established under this section.

"(d) FUNDING RESTRICTIONS.—The Secretary shall not deny funding to a Bureau funded school for any eligible Indian student attending the school solely because that student's home or domicile is outside of the geographical attendance area established for that school under this section. No funding shall be made available without tribal authorization to enable a school to provide transportation for any student to or from the school and a location outside the approved attendance area of the school.

"(e) RESERVATION AS BOUNDARY.—In any case where there is only 1 Bureau funded program located on an Indian reservation, the attendance area for the program shall be the boundaries (established by treaty, agreement, legislation, court decisions, or executive decisions and as accepted by the tribe) of the reservation served, and those students residing near the reservation shall also receive services from such program.

"(f) OFF-RESERVATION HOME-LIVING (DORMITORY) SCHOOLS.—Notwithstanding any geographical attendance areas, attendance at off-reservation home-living (dormitory) schools shall include students requiring special emphasis programs to be implemented at each off-reservation home-living (dormitory) school. Such attendance shall be coordinated between education line officers, the family, and the referring and receiving programs.

"SEC. 1125. FACILITIES CONSTRUCTION.

"(a) COMPLIANCE WITH HEALTH AND SAFETY STANDARDS.—The Secretary shall immediately begin to bring all schools, dormitories, and other Indian education-related facilities operated by the Bureau or under contract or grant with the Bureau into compliance with all applicable tribal, Federal, or State health and safety standards, whichever provides greater protection (except that the tribal standards to be applied shall be no greater than any otherwise applicable Federal or State standards), with section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Nothing in this section shall require termination of the operations of any facility which does not comply with such provisions and which is in use on the date of enactment of the Student Results Act of 1999.

“(b) COMPLIANCE PLAN.—At the time that the annual budget request for Bureau educational services is presented, the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate committees of Congress a detailed plan to bring all facilities covered under subsection (a) of this section into compliance with the standards referred to in subsection (a). Such plan shall include detailed information on the status of each facility’s compliance with such standards, specific cost estimates for meeting such standards at each school, and specific timelines for bringing each school into compliance with such standards.

“(c) CONSTRUCTION PRIORITIES.—

“(1) SYSTEM TO ESTABLISH PRIORITIES.—On an annual basis the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate committees of Congress and cause to be published in the Federal Register, the system used to establish priorities for replacement and construction projects for Bureau funded schools and home-living schools, including boarding schools and dormitories. At the time any budget request for education is presented, the Secretary shall publish in the Federal Register and submit with the budget request the current list of all Bureau funded school construction priorities.

“(2) LONG-TERM CONSTRUCTION AND REPLACEMENT LIST.—In addition to the plan submitted under subsection (b), the Secretary shall—

“(A) not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of the Student Results Act of 1999, establish a long-term construction and replacement list for all Bureau funded schools;

“(B) using the list prepared under subparagraph (A), propose a list for the orderly replacement of all Bureau funded education-related facilities over a period of 40 years to enable planning and scheduling of budget requests;

“(C) cause the list prepared under subsection (B) to be published in the Federal Register and allow a period of not less than 120 days for public comment;

“(D) make such revisions to the list prepared under subparagraph (B) as are appropriate based on the comments received; and “(E) cause the final list to be published in the Federal Register.

“(3) EFFECT ON OTHER LIST.—Nothing in this section shall be construed as interfering with or changing in any way the construction priority list as it exists on the date of the enactment of the Student Results Act of 1999.

“(d) HAZARDOUS CONDITION AT BUREAU SCHOOL.—

“(1) CLOSURE OR CONSOLIDATION.—A Bureau funded school may be closed or consolidated, and the programs of a Bureau funded school may be substantially curtailed by reason of plant conditions that constitute an immediate hazard to health and safety only if a health and safety officer of the Bureau determines that such conditions exist at the Bureau funded school.

“(2) INSPECTION.—(A) After making a determination described in paragraph (1), the Bureau health and safety officer shall conduct an inspection of the condition of such plant accompanied by an appropriate tribal, county, municipal, or State health and safety officer in order to determine whether conditions at such plant constitute an immediate hazard to health and safety. Such inspection shall be completed by not later than the date that is 30 days after the date on which the action described in paragraph (1) is taken. No further negative action may be taken unless the findings are concurred in by the second, non-Bureau of Indian Affairs inspector.

“(B) If the health and safety officer conducting the inspection of a plant required under subparagraph (A) determines that conditions at the plant do not constitute an immediate hazard to health and safety, any consolidation or curtailment that was made under paragraph (1) shall immediately cease and any school closed by reason of conditions at the plant shall be reopened immediately.

“(C) If a Bureau funded school is temporarily closed or consolidated or the programs of a Bureau funded school are substantially curtailed under this subsection and the Secretary determines that the closure, consolidation, or curtailment will exceed 1 year, the Secretary shall submit to the Congress, by not later than 6 months after the date on which the closure, consolidation, or curtailment was initiated, a report which sets forth the reasons for such temporary actions, the actions the Secretary is taking to eliminate the conditions that constitute the hazard, and an estimated date by which such actions will be completed.

“(e) FUNDING REQUIREMENT.—

“(1) DISTRIBUTION OF FUNDS.—Beginning with the fiscal year following the year of the date of the enactment of the Student Results Act of 1999, all funds appropriated for the operations and maintenance of Bureau funded schools shall be distributed by formula to the schools. No funds from this account may be retained or segregated by the Bureau to pay for administrative or other costs of any facilities branch or office, at any level of the Bureau.

“(2) REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTAIN USES.—No funds shall be withheld from the distribution to the budget of any school operated under contract or grant by the Bureau for maintenance or any other facilities or road related purpose, unless such school has consented, as a modification to the contract or in writing for grants schools, to the withholding of such funds, including the amount thereof, the purpose for which the funds will be used, and the timeline for the services to be provided. The school may, at the end of any fiscal year, cancel an agreement under this paragraph upon giving the Bureau 30 days notice of its intent to do so.

“(f) NO REDUCTION IN FEDERAL FUNDING.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to diminish any Federal funding due to the receipt by the school of funding for facilities improvement or construction from a State or any other source.

“SEC. 1126. BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS EDUCATION FUNCTIONS.

“(a) FORMULATION AND ESTABLISHMENT OF POLICY AND PROCEDURE; SUPERVISION OF PROGRAMS AND EXPENDITURES.—The Secretary shall vest in the Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs all functions with respect to formulation and establishment of policy and procedure and supervision of programs and expenditures of Federal funds for the purpose of Indian education administered by the Bureau. The Assistant Secretary shall carry out such functions through the Director of the Office of Indian Education Programs.

“(b) DIRECTION AND SUPERVISION OF PERSONNEL OPERATIONS.—Not later than 6 months after the date of the enactment of the Student Results Act of 1999, the Director of the Office of Indian Education Programs shall direct and supervise the operations of all personnel directly and substantially involved in the provision of education services by the Bureau, including school or institution custodial or maintenance personnel, facilities management, contracting, procurement, and finance personnel. The Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs shall coordinate the transfer of functions relating to procurement, contracts, operation, and maintenance to schools and other support functions to the Director.

“(C) for capital improvements to be made over the 5 succeeding years.

“(2) PROGRAM FOR OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Assistant Secretary shall establish a program, including the distribution of appropriated funds, for the operation and maintenance of education facilities. Such program shall include—

“(v) a system for the conduct of routine preventive maintenance.

“(B) The appropriate education line officers shall make arrangements for the maintenance of education facilities with the local supervisors of the Bureau maintenance personnel. The local supervisors of Bureau maintenance personnel shall take appropriate action to implement the decisions made by the appropriate education line officers, except that no funds under this chapter may be authorized for expenditure unless such appropriate education line officer is assured that the necessary maintenance has been, or will be, provided in a reasonable manner.

“(3) IMPLEMENTATION.—The requirements of this subsection shall be implemented as soon as practicable after the date of the enactment of the Student Results Act of 1999.

“(e) ACCEPTANCE OF GIFTS AND BEQUESTS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Director shall promulgate guidelines for the establishment of mechanisms for the acceptance of gifts and bequests for the use and benefit of particular schools or designated Bureau operated education programs, including, where appropriate, the establishment and administration of trust funds. When a Bureau operated program is the beneficiary of such a gift or bequest, the Director shall make provisions for monitoring its use and shall report to the appropriate committees of Congress the amount and terms of such gift or bequest, the manner in which such gift or bequest shall be used, and any results achieved by such action.

“(f) FUNCTIONS CLARIFIED.—For the purpose of this section, the term ‘functions’ includes powers and duties.

“SEC. 1127. ALLOTMENT FORMULA.

“(a) FACTORS CONSIDERED; REVISION TO REFLECT STANDARDS.—

“(1) FORMULA.—The Secretary shall establish, by regulation adopted in accordance with section 1138A, a formula for determining the minimum annual amount of funds necessary to sustain each Bureau funded school. In establishing such formula, the Secretary shall consider—

“(A) the number of eligible Indian students served and total student population of the school;

“(B) special cost factors, such as—

“(i) the isolation of the school;

“(ii) the need for special staffing, transportation, or educational programs;

“(iii) food and housing costs;

“(iv) maintenance and repair costs associated with the physical condition of the educational facilities;

“(v) special transportation and other costs of isolated and small schools;

“(vi) the costs of home-living (dormitory) arrangements, where determined necessary by a tribal governing body or designated school board;

“(vii) costs associated with greater lengths of service by education personnel;

“(viii) the costs of therapeutic programs for students requiring such programs; and

“(C) the cost of providing academic services which are at least equivalent to those provided by public schools in the State in which the school is located; and “(D) such other relevant factors as the Secretary determines are appropriate.

“(2) REVISION OF FORMULA.—Upon the establishment of the standards required in sections 1121 and 1122, the Secretary shall revise the formula established under this subsection to reflect the cost of funding such standards. Not later than January 1, 2001, the Secretary shall review the formula established under this section and shall take such steps as are necessary to increase the availability of counseling and therapeutic programs for students in off-reservation home-living (dormitory) schools and other Bureau operated residential facilities. Concurrent with such action, the Secretary shall review the standards established under section 1122 to be certain that adequate provision is made for parental notification regarding, and consent for, such counseling and therapeutic programs.

“(b) PRO RATA ALLOTMENT.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, Federal funds appropriated for the general local operation of Bureau funded schools shall be allotted pro rata in accordance with the formula established under subsection (a).

“(c) ANNUAL ADJUSTMENT; RESERVATION OF AMOUNT FOR SCHOOL BOARD ACTIVITIES.—

“(1) ANNUAL ADJUSTMENT.—For fiscal year 2001, and for each subsequent fiscal year, the Secretary shall adjust the formula established under subsection (a) to—

“(A) use a weighted unit of 1.2 for each eligible Indian student enrolled in the seventh and eighth grades of the school in considering the number of eligible Indian students served by the school;

“(B) consider a school with an enrollment of less than 50 eligible Indian students as having an average daily attendance of 50 eligible Indian students for purposes of implementing the adjustment factor for small schools;

“(C) take into account the provision of residential services on less than a 9-month basis at a school when the school board and supervisor of the school determine that a less than 9-month basis will be implemented for the school year involved;

“(D) use a weighted unit of 2.0 for each eligible Indian student that—

“(i) is gifted and talented; and

“(ii) is enrolled in the school on a full-time basis, in considering the number of eligible Indian students served by the school; and

“(E) use a weighted unit of 0.25 for each eligible Indian student who is enrolled in a yearlong credit course in an Indian or Native language as part of the regular curriculum of a school, in considering the number of eligible Indian students served by such school.

The adjustment required under subparagraph (E) shall be used for such school after—

“(i) the certification of the Indian or Native language curriculum by the school board of such school to the Secretary, together with an estimate of the number of full-time students expected to be enrolled in the curriculum in the second school year for which the certification is made; and

(ii) the funds appropriated for allotment under this section are designated by the appropriations Act appropriating such funds as the amount necessary to implement such adjustment at such school without reducing allotments made under this section to any school by virtue of such adjustment.

“(2) RESERVATION OF AMOUNT.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—From the funds allotted in accordance with the formula established under subsection (a) for each Bureau school, the local school board of such school may reserve an amount which does not exceed the greater of—

“(i) $8,000; or

“(ii) the lesser of—

“(B) TRAINING.—Each school board shall see that each new member of the school board receives, within 12 months of the individual's assuming a position on the school board, 40 hours of training relevant to that individual's service on the board. Such training may include legal issues pertaining to schools funded by the Bureau, legal issues pertaining to school boards, ethics, and other topics deemed appropriate by the school board.

“(d) RESERVATION OF AMOUNT FOR EMERGENCIES.—The Secretary shall reserve from the funds available for distribution for each fiscal year under this section an amount which, in the aggregate, shall equal 1 percent of the funds available for such purpose for that fiscal year. Such funds shall be used, at the discretion of the Director of the Office of Indian Education Programs, to meet emergencies and unforeseen contingencies affecting the education programs funded under this section. Funds reserved under this subsection may only be expended for education services or programs, including emergency repairs of educational facilities, at a schoolsite (as defined by section 5204(c)(2) of the Tribally Controlled Schools Act of 1988). Funds reserved under this subsection shall remain available without fiscal year limitation until expended. However, the aggregate amount available from all fiscal years may not exceed 1 percent of the current year funds. “(2) ATTENDANCE OF NON-INDIAN STUDENTS AT BUREAU SCHOOLS.—The Secretary may permit the attendance at a Bureau school of a student who is not an eligible Indian student if—

“(A) the Secretary determines that the student's attendance will not adversely affect the school's program for eligible Indian students because of cost, overcrowding, or violation of standards or accreditation;

“(B) the school board consents;

“(C) the student is a dependent of a Bureau, Indian Health Service, or tribal government employee who lives on or near the school site; or “(D) a tuition is paid for the student that is not more than that charged by the nearest public school district for out-of-district students, and shall be in addition to the school's allocation under this section.

“(3) ATTENDANCE OF NON-INDIAN STUDENTS AT CONTRACT AND GRANT SCHOOLS.—The school board of a contract or grant school may permit students who are not eligible Indian students under this subsection to attend its contract school or grant school and any tuition collected for those students shall be in addition to funding received under this section.

“(h) FUNDS AVAILABLE WITHOUT FISCAL YEAR LIMITATION.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, at the election of the school board of a Bureau school made at any time during the fiscal year, a portion equal to not more than 15 percent of the funds allocated with respect to a school under this section for any fiscal year shall remain available to the school for expenditure without fiscal year limitation. The Assistant Secretary shall take steps as may be necessary to implement this provision.

“(a) GRANTS; EFFECT UPON APPROPRIATED AMOUNTS.—

“(1) GRANTS.—Subject to the availability of appropriated funds, the Secretary shall provide grants to each tribe or tribal organization operating a contract school or grant school in the amount determined under this section with respect to the tribe or tribal organization for the purpose of paying the administrative and indirect costs incurred in operating contract or grant schools, provided that no school operated as a stand-alone institution shall receive less than $200,000.00 per year for these purposes, in order to—

“(A) enable tribes and tribal organizations operating such schools, without reducing direct program services to the beneficiaries of the program, to provide all related administrative overhead services and operations necessary to meet the requirements of law and prudent management practice; and

“(B) carry out other necessary support functions which would otherwise be provided by the Secretary or other Federal officers or employees, from resources other than direct program funds, in support of comparable Bureau operated programs.

“(2) EFFECT UPON APPROPRIATED AMOUNTS.—Amounts appropriated to fund the grants provided under this section shall be in addition to, and shall not reduce, the amounts appropriated for the program being administered by the contract or grant school.

“(b) DETERMINATION OF GRANT AMOUNT.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The amount of the grant provided to each tribe or tribal organization under this section for each fiscal year shall be determined by applying the administrative cost percentage rate of the tribe or tribal organization to the aggregate of the Bureau elementary and secondary functions operated by the tribe or tribal organization for which funds are received from or through the Bureau. The administrative cost percentage rate determined under subsection (c) does not apply to other programs operated by the tribe or tribal organization.

“(2) DIRECT COST BASE FUNDS.—The Secretary shall—

“(A) reduce the amount of the grant determined under paragraph (1) to the extent that payments for administrative costs are actually received by an Indian tribe or tribal organization under any Federal education program included in the direct cost base of the tribe or tribal organization; and

“(B) take such actions as may be necessary to be reimbursed by any other department or agency of the Federal Government for the portion of grants made under this section for the costs of administering any program for Indians that is funded by appropriations made to such other department or agency.

“(c) ADMINISTRATIVE COST PERCENTAGE RATE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, the administrative cost percentage rate for a contract or grant school for a fiscal year is equal to the percentage determined by dividing—

“(A) the sum of—

“(i) the amount equal to—

“(I) the direct cost base of the tribe or tribal organization for the fiscal year, multiplied by

“(II) the minimum base rate; plus

“(ii) the amount equal to—

“(I) the standard direct cost base; multiplied by

“(II) the maximum base rate; by

“(B) the sum of—

“(i) the direct cost base of the tribe or tribal organization for the fiscal year; plus “(ii) the standard direct cost base.

“(2) ROUNDING.—The administrative cost percentage rate shall be determined to the $\frac{1}{100}$ of a decimal point.

“(d) COMBINING FUNDS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Funds received by a tribe or contract or grant school as grants under this section for tribal elementary or secondary educational programs may be combined by the tribe or contract or grant school into a single administrative cost account without the necessity of maintaining separate funding source accounting.

“(2) INDIRECT COST FUNDS.—Indirect cost funds for programs at the school which share common administrative services with tribal elementary or secondary educational programs may be included in the administrative cost account described in paragraph (1).

“(e) AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.—Funds received as grants under this section with respect to tribal elementary or secondary education programs shall remain available to the contract or grant school without fiscal year limitation and without diminishing the amount of any grants otherwise payable to the school under this section for any fiscal year beginning after the fiscal year for which the grant is provided.

“(f) TREATMENT OF FUNDS.—Funds received as grants under this section for Bureau funded programs operated by a tribe or tribal organization under a contract or agreement shall not be taken into consideration for purposes of indirect cost underrecovery and overrecovery determinations by any Federal agency for any other funds, from whatever source derived.

“(g) TREATMENT OF ENTITY OPERATING OTHER PROGRAMS.—In applying this section and section 105 of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act with respect to an Indian tribe or tribal organization that—

“(1) receives funds under this section for administrative costs incurred in operating a contract or grant school or a school operated under the Tribally Controlled Schools Act of 1988; and the Secretary shall ensure that the Indian tribe or tribal organization is provided with the full amount of the administrative costs that are associated with operating the contract or grant school, and of the indirect costs, that are associated with all of such other programs, provided that funds appropriated for implementation of this section shall be used only to supply the amount of the grant required to be provided by this section.

“(2) operates 1 or more other programs under a contract or grant provided under the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act;

“(h) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this section:

“(1) ADMINISTRATIVE COST.—(A) The term ‘administrative cost’ means the costs of necessary administrative functions which—

“(i) the tribe or tribal organization incurs as a result of operating a tribal elementary or secondary educational program;

“(ii) are not customarily paid by comparable Bureau operated programs out of direct program funds; and

“(3) DIRECT COST BASE.—(A) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (B), the direct cost base of a tribe or tribal organization for the fiscal year is the aggregate direct cost program funding for all tribal elementary or secondary educational programs operated by the tribe or tribal organization during—

“(i) the second fiscal year preceding such fiscal year; or

“(ii) if such programs have not been operated by the tribe or tribal organization during the 2 preceding fiscal years, the first fiscal year preceding such fiscal year.

“(B) In the case of Bureau elementary or secondary education functions which have not previously been operated by a tribe or tribal organization under contract, grant, or agreement with the Bureau, the direct cost base for the initial year shall be the projected aggregate direct cost program funding for all Bureau elementary and secondary functions to be operated by the tribe or tribal organization during that fiscal year.

“(4) MAXIMUM BASE RATE.—The term ‘maximum base rate’ means 50 percent.

“(5) MINIMUM BASE RATE.—The term ‘minimum base rate’ means 11 percent.

“(6) STANDARD DIRECT COST BASE.—The term ‘standard direct cost base’ means $600,000.

“(i) STUDIES FOR DETERMINATION OF FACTORS AFFECTING COSTS; BASE RATES LIMITS; STANDARD DIRECT COST BASE; REPORT TO CONGRESS.—

“(1) STUDIES.—Not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of the Student Results Act of 1999, the Director of the Office of Indian Education Programs shall—

“(A) conduct such studies as may be needed to establish an empirical basis for determining relevant factors substantially affecting required administrative costs of tribal elementary and secondary education programs, using the formula set forth in subsection (c); and

“(B) conduct a study to determine—

“(i) a maximum base rate which ensures that the amount of the grants provided under this section will provide adequate (but not excessive) funding of the administrative costs of the smallest tribal elementary or secondary educational programs;

“(ii) a minimum base rate which ensures that the amount of the grants provided under this section will provide adequate (but not excessive) funding of the administrative costs of the largest tribal elementary or secondary educational programs; and

“(iii) a standard direct cost base which is the aggregate direct cost funding level for which the percentage determined under subsection (c) will—

“(I) be equal to the median between the maximum base rate and the minimum base rate; and “(II) ensure that the amount of the grants provided under this section will provide adequate (but not excessive) funding of the administrative costs of tribal elementary or secondary educational programs closest to the size of the program.

“(2) GUIDELINES.—The studies required under paragraph (1) shall—

“(A) be conducted in full consultation (in accordance with section 1131) with—

“(C) take into account the availability of skilled labor; commodities, business and automatic data processing services, related Indian preference and Indian control of education requirements, and any other market factors found substantially to affect the administrative costs and efficiency of each such tribal elementary or secondary educational program studied in order to assure that all required administrative activities can reasonably be delivered in a cost effective manner for each such program, given an administrative cost allowance generated by the values, percentages, or other factors found in the studies to be relevant in such formula;

“(D) identify, and quantify in terms of percentages of direct program costs, any general factors arising from geographic isolation, or numbers of programs administered, independent of program size factors used to compute a base administrative cost percentage in such formula; and

“(E) identify any other incremental cost factors substantially affecting the costs of required administrative cost functions at any of the tribal elementary or secondary educational programs studied and determine whether the factors are of general applicability to other such programs, and (if so) how the factors may effectively be incorporated into such formula.

“(3) CONSULTATION WITH INSPECTOR GENERAL.—In carrying out the studies required under this subsection, the Director shall obtain the input of, and afford an opportunity to participate to, the Inspector General of the Department of the Interior.

“(4) CONSIDERATION OF DELIVERY OF ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES.—Determinations described in paragraph (2)(C) shall be based on what is practicable at each location studied, given prudent management practice, irrespective of whether required administrative services were actually or fully delivered at these sites, or whether other services were delivered instead, during the period of the study.

“(I) the increase occurs in its entirety; or

“(B)(i) Upon the request of the supervisor and the local school board of a Bureau school, the Secretary shall grant the supervisor of the school authorization to provide 1 or more post-differentials under subparagraph (A) unless the Secretary determines for clear and convincing reasons (and advises the board in writing of those reasons) that certain of the requested post-differentials should be disapproved or decreased because there is no disparity of compensation for the involved employees or positions in the Bureau school, as compared with the nearest public school, that is either—

“(I) at least 5 percent, or

“(II) less than 5 percent and affects the recruitment or retention of employees at the school.

“(ii) A request under clause (i) shall be deemed granted at the end of the 60th day after the request is received in the Central Office of the Bureau unless before that time the request is approved, approved with modification, or disapproved by the Secretary.

“(I) the local school board requests that such differential be discontinued or decreased; or “(II) the Secretary or the supervisor determines for clear and convincing reasons (and advises the board in writing of those reasons) that there is no disparity of compensation that would affect the recruitment or retention of employees at the school after the differential is discontinued or decreased.

“(2) CHANGE OF ELECTION.—During the course of such year the employee may change election once.

All published proposed regulations shall conform to agreements resulting from such negotiated rulemaking unless the Secretary reopens the negotiated rulemaking process or provides a written explanation to the participants in that process why the Secretary has decided to depart from such agreements. Subtitle C—Tribally Controlled Schools Act of 1988

SEC. 420. TRIBALLY CONTROLLED SCHOOLS.

Sections 5202 through 5212 of Public Law 100-297 (25 U.S.C. 2501 et seq.) are amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 5202. FINDINGS.

“Congress, after careful review of the Federal Government’s historical and special legal relationship with, and resulting responsibilities to, Indians, finds that—

“(1) the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act, which was a product of the legitimate aspirations and a recognition of the inherent authority of Indian nations, was and is a crucial positive step towards tribal and community control;

“(2) the Bureau of Indian Affairs’ administration and domination of the contracting process under such Act has not provided the full opportunity to develop leadership skills crucial to the realization of self-government and has denied Indians an effective voice in the planning and implementation of programs for the benefit of Indians which are responsive to the true needs of Indian communities;

“(3) Indians will never surrender their desire to control their relationships both among themselves and with non-Indian governments, organizations, and persons;

“(4) true self-determination in any society of people is dependent upon an educational process which will ensure the development of qualified people to fulfill meaningful leadership roles;

“(5) the Federal administration of education for Indian children has not effected the desired level of educational achievement or created the diverse opportunities and personal satisfaction that education can and should provide;

“(6) true local control requires the least possible Federal interference; and “(7) the time has come to enhance the concepts made manifest in the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act.

“SEC. 5203. DECLARATION OF POLICY.

“(a) RECOGNITION.—Congress recognizes the obligation of the United States to respond to the strong expression of the Indian people for self-determination by assuring maximum Indian participation in the direction of educational services so as to render such services more responsive to the needs and desires of those communities.

“(b) COMMITMENT.—Congress declares its commitment to the maintenance of the Federal Government’s unique and continuing trust relationship with and responsibility to the Indian people through the establishment of a meaningful Indian self-determination policy for education which will deter further perpetuation of Federal bureaucratic domination of programs.

“(c) NATIONAL GOAL.—Congress declares that a major national goal of the United States is to provide the resources, processes, and structure which will enable tribes and local communities to effect the quantity and quality of educational services and opportunities which will permit Indian children to compete and excel in the life areas of their choice and to achieve the measure of self-determination essential to their social and economic well-being.

“(d) EDUCATIONAL NEEDS.—Congress affirms the reality of the special and unique educational needs of Indian peoples, including the need for programs to meet the linguistic and cultural aspirations of Indian tribes and communities. These may best be met through a grant process.

“(e) FEDERAL RELATIONS.—Congress declares its commitment to these policies and its support, to the full extent of its responsibility, for Federal relations with the Indian Nations.

“(f) TERMINATION.—Congress hereby repudiates and rejects House Resolution 108 of the 83d Congress and any policy of unilateral termination of Federal relations with any Indian Nation.

“SEC. 5204. GRANTS AUTHORIZED.

“(1) to require a tribe or tribal organization to apply for or accept; or

“(2) to allow any person to coerce any tribe or tribal organization to apply for, or accept, a grant under this part to plan, conduct, and administer all of, or any portion of, any Bureau program. Such applications and the timing of such applications shall be strictly voluntary. Nothing in this part may be construed as allowing or requiring any grant with any entity other than the entity to which the grant is provided.

A later date as may be specified if mutually agreed upon by the Secretary and the tribal governing body. “(2) STATUS AFTER RETROCESSION.—The tribe requesting retrocession shall specify whether the retrocession is to status as a Bureau operated school or as a school operated under contract under title XI of the Education Amendments of 1978.

“(3) TRANSFER OF EQUIPMENT AND MATERIALS.—Except as otherwise determined by the Secretary, the tribe or tribal organization operating the program to be retroceded must transfer to the Secretary (or to the tribe or tribal organization which will operate the program as a contract school) the existing equipment and materials which were acquired—

“(A) with assistance under this part; or

“(B) upon assumption of operation of the program under this part if the school was a Bureau funded school under title XI of the Education Amendments of 1978 before receiving assistance under this part.

TITLE V—GIFTED AND TALENTED CHILDREN

SEC. 501. AMENDMENT TO ESEA RELATING TO GIFTED AND TALENTED CHILDREN.

Part B of title X of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 8031 et seq.) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 10201. SHORT TITLE.

“This part may be cited as the ‘Jacob K. Javits Gifted and Talented Students Education Act of 1999’.

“SEC. 10202. FINDINGS.

“The Congress finds the following:

“(1) While the families or communities of some gifted students can provide private programs with appropriately trained staff to supplement public educational offerings, most high-ability students, especially those from inner cities, rural communities, or low-income families, must rely on the services and personnel provided by public schools. Therefore, gifted education programs, provided by qualified professionals in the public schools, are needed to provide equal educational opportunities.

“(2) Due to the wide dispersal of students who are gifted and talented and the national interest in a well-educated populace, the Federal Government can most effectively and appropriately conduct scientifically based research and development to provide an infrastructure and to ensure that there is a national capacity to educate students who are gifted and talented to meet the needs of the 21st century.

“(3) State and local educational agencies often lack the specialized resources and trained personnel to consistently plan and implement effective programs for the identification of gifted and talented students and for the provision of educational services and programs appropriate for their needs.

“(4) Because gifted and talented students generally are more advanced academically, are able to learn more quickly, and study in more depth and complexity than others their age, their educational needs require opportunities and experiences that are different from those generally available in regular education programs.

“(5) Typical elementary school students who are academically gifted and talented already have mastered 35 to 50 percent of the school year’s content in several subject areas before the year begins. Without an advanced and challenging curriculum, they often lose their motivation and develop poor study habits that are difficult to break.

“(6) Elementary and secondary teachers have students in their classrooms with a wide variety of traits, characteristics, and needs. Most teachers receive some training to meet the needs of these students, such as students with limited English proficiency, students with disabilities, and students from diverse cultural and racial backgrounds. However, most teachers do not receive training on meeting the needs of students who are gifted and talented.

“SEC. 10203. CONDITIONS ON EFFECTIVENESS OF SUBPARTS 1 AND 2.

TITLE VI—RURAL EDUCATION ASSISTANCE

SEC. 601. RURAL EDUCATION.

Part J of title X of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 8271 et seq.) is amended to read as follows:

“PART J—RURAL EDUCATION INITIATIVE

“SEC. 10951. SHORT TITLE.

“This part may be cited as the ‘Rural Education Initiative Act of 1999’.

“SEC. 10952. FINDINGS.

“Congress finds the following:

“(1) The National Center for Educational Statistics reports that 46 percent of our Nation’s public schools serve rural areas.

“(2) While there are rural education initiatives identified at the State and local level, no Federal education policy focuses on the specific and unique needs of rural school districts and schools.

“(3) Small school districts often cannot use Federal grant funds distributed by formula because the formula allocation does not provide enough revenue to carry out the program the grant is intended to fund.

“(4) Rural schools often cannot compete for Federal funding distributed by competitive grants because the schools lack the personnel needed to prepare grant applications and the resources to hire specialists in the writing of Federal grant proposals.

“(5) A critical problem for rural school districts involves the hiring and retention of qualified administrators and certified teachers (especially in reading, science, and mathematics). As a result, teachers in rural schools are almost twice as likely to provide instruction in 3 or more subject areas than teachers in urban schools. Rural schools also face other tough challenges, such as shrinking local tax bases, high transportation costs, aging buildings, limited course offerings, and limited resources.

“Subpart 1—Small and Rural School Program

“(a) ALTERNATIVE USES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an eligible local educational agency may use the applicable funding, that the agency is eligible to receive from the State educational agency for a fiscal year, to support local or statewide education reform efforts intended to improve the academic achievement of elementary school and secondary school students and the quality of instruction provided for the students.

TITLE VII—MCKINNEY HOMELESS EDUCATION IMPROVEMENTS ACT OF 1999

SEC. 701. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Education Assistance Improvements Act of 1999”.

SEC. 702. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) An estimated 1,000,000 children in the United States will experience homelessness this year.

(2) Homelessness has a devastating impact on the educational opportunities of children and youth; homeless children go hungry at more than twice the rate of other children; have 4 times the rate of delayed development; and are twice as likely to repeat a grade.

(3) Despite steady progress in school enrollment and attendance resulting from the passage in 1987 of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act, homeless students still face numerous barriers to education, including residency, guardianship and registration requirements, as well as delays in the transfer of school records, and inadequate transportation service.

(4) School is one of the few secure factors in the lives of homeless children and youth, providing stability, structure, and accomplishment during a time of great upheaval.

(5) Homeless children and youth need to remain in school so that they acquire the skills necessary to escape poverty and lead productive, healthy lives as adults.

(6) In the 12 years since the passage of the McKinney Act, educators and service providers have learned much about policies and practices which help remove the barriers described.

SEC. 703. PURPOSE.

The purpose of this title is to strengthen subtitle B of title VII of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 11431 et seq.) by amending it—

(1) to include innovative practices, proven to be effective in helping homeless children and youth enroll, attend, and succeed in school; and

(2) to help ensure that such individuals receive a quality education and secure their chance for a brighter future.

SEC. 704. EDUCATION FOR HOMELESS CHILDREN AND YOUTH.

Subtitle B of title VII of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Education Assistance Act

(42 U.S.C. 11431 et seq.) is amended to read as follows:

“Subtitle B—Education for Homeless Children and Youth

“It is the policy of Congress that—

“(2) in any State that has a compulsory residency requirement as a component of the State’s compulsory school attendance laws or other laws, regulations, practices, or policies that may act as a barrier to the enrollment, attendance, or success in school of homeless children and youth, the State review and undertake steps to revise such laws, regulations, practices, or policies to ensure that homeless children and youth are afforded the same free, public education as provided to other children and youth;

“(3) homelessness alone is not sufficient reason to separate students from the mainstream school environment; and

“(4) homeless children and youth should have access to the education and other services that such children and youth need to ensure that such children and youth have an opportunity to meet the same challenging State student performance standards to which all students are held.

“SEC. 722. GRANTS FOR STATE AND LOCAL ACTIVITIES FOR THE EDUCATION OF HOMELESS CHILDREN AND YOUTH.

“(B)(i) The Secretary shall transfer one percent of the amount appropriated for each fiscal year under section 726 to the Department of the Interior for programs for Indian students served by schools funded by the Secretary of the Interior, as determined under the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act, that are consistent with the purposes of this Act.

“(ii) The Secretary and the Secretary of the Interior shall enter into an agreement, consistent with the requirements of this part, for the distribution and use of the funds described in clause (i) under terms that the Secretary determines best meet the purposes of the programs described in such clause. "TITLE VII—EDUCATION OF LIMITED ENGLISH PROFICIENT CHILDREN AND EMERGENCY IMMIGRANT EDUCATION

"PART A—ENGLISH LANGUAGE EDUCATION

"SEC. 7101. SHORT TITLE.

"This part may be cited as the 'English Language Proficiency and Academic Achievement Act'.

"SEC. 7102. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

"(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

"(1) English is the common language of the United States and every citizen and other person residing in the United States should have a command of the English language in order to develop to their full potential;

"(2) limited English proficient children must overcome a number of challenges in receiving an education in order to enable such children to participate fully in American society, including—

"(A) segregated education programs;

"(B) disproportionate and improper placement in special education and other special programs due to the use of inappropriate evaluation procedures;

"(C) the limited English proficiency of their own parents, which hinders the parents' ability to fully participate in the education of their children; and

"(D) a need for additional teachers and other staff who are professionally trained and qualified to serve such children;

"(3) States and local educational agencies need assistance in developing the capacity to provide programs of instruction that offer and provide an equal educational opportunity to children who need special assistance because English is not their dominant language;

"(4) Native Americans and Native American languages (as such terms are defined in section 103 of the Native American Languages Act), including native residents of the outlying areas, have a unique status under Federal law that requires special policies within the broad purposes of this Act to serve the education needs of language minority students in the United States;

"(5) the Federal Government, as exemplified by title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and section 204(f) of the Equal Education Opportunities Act of 1974, has a special and continuing obligation to ensure that States and local educational agencies take appropriate action to provide equal educational opportunities to children of limited English proficiency; and

"(6) research, evaluation, and data collection capabilities in the field of instruction for limited English proficient children need to be strengthened so that educators and other staff teaching limited English proficient children in the classroom can better identify and promote programs, program implementation strategies, and instructional practices that result in the effective education of limited English proficient children.

"(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this part are—

"(1) to help ensure that children who are limited English proficient attain English proficiency, develop high levels of academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State content standards and challenging State student performance standards expected of all children; and

"(2) to develop high quality programs designed to assist local educational agencies in teaching limited English proficient children.

"SEC. 7103. PARENTAL NOTIFICATION AND CONSENT FOR ENGLISH LANGUAGE INSTRUCTION.

"(a) NOTIFICATION.—If a local educational agency uses funds under this part to provide English language instruction to limited English proficient children, the agency shall inform a parent or the parents of a child participating in an English language instruction program for limited English proficient children assisted under this part of—

"(1) the reasons for the identification of the child as being in need of English language instruction;

"TITLE VII—EDUCATION OF LIMITED ENGLISH PROFICIENT CHILDREN AND EMERGENCY IMMIGRANT EDUCATION

"SEC. 7101. SHORT TITLE.

"This part may be cited as the 'English Language Proficiency and Academic Achievement Act'.

"SEC. 7102. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

"(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

"(1) English is the common language of the United States and every citizen and other person residing in the United States should have a command of the English language in order to develop to their full potential;

"(2) limited English proficient children must overcome a number of challenges in receiving an education in order to enable such children to participate fully in American society, including—

"(A) segregated education programs;

"(B) disproportionate and improper placement in special education and other special programs due to the use of inappropriate evaluation procedures;

"(C) the limited English proficiency of their own parents, which hinders the parents' ability to fully participate in the education of their children; and

"(D) a need for additional teachers and other staff who are professionally trained and qualified to serve such children;

"(3) States and local educational agencies need assistance in developing the capacity to provide programs of instruction that offer and provide an equal educational opportunity to children who need special assistance because English is not their dominant language;

"(4) Native Americans and Native American languages (as such terms are defined in section 103 of the Native American Languages Act), including native residents of the outlying areas, have a unique status under Federal law that requires special policies within the broad purposes of this Act to serve the education needs of language minority students in the United States;

"(5) the Federal Government, as exemplified by title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and section 204(f) of the Equal Education Opportunities Act of 1974, has a special and continuing obligation to ensure that States and local educational agencies take appropriate action to provide equal educational opportunities to children of limited English proficiency; and

"(6) research, evaluation, and data collection capabilities in the field of instruction for limited English proficient children need to be strengthened so that educators and other staff teaching limited English proficient children in the classroom can better identify and promote programs, program implementation strategies, and instructional practices that result in the effective education of limited English proficient children.

"(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this part are—

"(1) to help ensure that children who are limited English proficient attain English proficiency, develop high levels of academic attainment in English, and meet the same challenging State content standards and challenging State student performance standards expected of all children; and

"(2) to develop high quality programs designed to assist local educational agencies in teaching limited English proficient children.

"SEC. 7103. PARENTAL NOTIFICATION AND CONSENT FOR ENGLISH LANGUAGE INSTRUCTION.

"(a) NOTIFICATION.—If a local educational agency uses funds under this part to provide English language instruction to limited English proficient children, the agency shall inform a parent or the parents of a child participating in an English language instruction program for limited English proficient children assisted under this part of—

"(1) the reasons for the identification of the child as being in need of English language instruction;

"(2) the child's level of English proficiency, how such level was assessed, and the status of the child's academic achievement;

"(3) how the English language instruction program will specifically help the child acquire English and meet age-appropriate standards for grade promotion and graduation;

"(4) what the specific exit requirements are for the program;

"(5) the expected rate of transition from the program into a classroom that is not tailored for limited English proficient children; and

"(6) the expected rate of graduation from high school for the program if funds under this part are used for children in secondary schools.

"(b) CONSENT.—

"(1) AGENCY REQUIREMENTS.—

"(A) INFORMED CONSENT.—For a child who has been identified as limited English proficient prior to the beginning of the school year, each local educational agency that receives funds under this part shall obtain informed parental consent prior to the placement of a child in an English language instruction program for limited English proficient children funded under this part, if—

“(ii) DELIVERY OF PROOF OF DOCUMENTATION.—The proof of documentation shall be mailed or delivered in writing to the parents or guardian of the child prior to placing the child in a program described in subparagraph (A), and shall include a final notice requesting parental consent for such services. After such documentation has been mailed or delivered in writing, the local educational agency shall provide appropriate educational services.

“(iii) SPECIAL RULE APPLICABLE DURING SCHOOL YEAR.—A local educational agency may obtain parental consent under this clause only for children who have not been identified as limited English proficient prior to the beginning of a school year. For such children the agency shall document, in writing, its specific efforts made to obtain such consent prior to placing the child in a program described in subparagraph (A). After such documentation has been made, the local educational agency shall provide appropriate educational services to such child. The proof of documentation shall be mailed or delivered in writing to the parents or guardian of the child in a timely manner and shall include information on how to have their child immediately removed from the program upon their request. “(3) procedural information for removing a child from a program for limited English proficient children.

“(d) BASIS FOR ADMISSION OR EXCLUSION.—Students shall not be admitted to or excluded from any federally assisted education program on the basis of a surname or language-minority status.

“SEC. 7104. TESTING OF LIMITED ENGLISH PROFICIENT CHILDREN.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Assessments of limited English proficient children participating in programs funded under this part, to the extent practicable, shall be in the language and form most likely to yield accurate and reliable information on what such students know and can do in content areas.

“(b) SPECIAL RULE.—Notwithstanding subsection (a), in the case of an assessment of reading or language arts of any student who has attended school in the United States (excluding Puerto Rico) for 3 or more consecutive school years, the assessment shall be in the form of a test written in English, except that, if the local educational agency determines, on a case-by-case individual basis, that assessments in another language and form would likely yield more accurate and reliable information on what such students know and can do, the local educational agency may assess such students in the appropriate language other than English for 1 additional year.

“SEC. 7105. CONDITIONS ON EFFECTIVENESS OF SUBPARTS 1 AND 2.

“(a) SUBPART 1.—Subpart 1 shall be in effect only for a fiscal year for which subpart 2 is not in effect.

Mr. GOODLING (during the reading). Madam Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that the modification be considered as read and printed in the RECORD.

The CHAIRMAN. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN. Is there objection to the modification offered by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING)?

There was no objection.

Mr. GOODLING. Madam Chairman, this amendment is a bipartisan amendment that makes several technical and clarifying changes to the committee reported bill and includes long overdue reform of the Federal bilingual education program. I might say, I hope we have some final agreement. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, we did. At 10 o'clock last night, we did not. I would not have stepped 1 inch into the Hispanic caucus meeting going on out here in the Speaker's lobby. It sounded pretty ruckus, but, at any rate, I think we have everything worked out. So many long hours have been spent to reach this agreement.

I want to thank the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. SALMON) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. KILDEE) for bringing Members with diverse views together to craft this legislation that will truly help limited English proficient children learn English and excel in their academic subject.

As the number of limited English proficient children in this country increases, we must be sure that we are providing these children with the best possible education. Graduation rates for this population are very disappointing, and we cannot afford to support programs that do not ensure the academic success of children with limited English proficiency.

The key to success for these children is the legislation before my colleagues as it focuses on teaching English to those with limited proficiency and assists them to meet the same State content and performance standard as other students.

The bilingual education program contains several key reforms. First, it turns the current competitive grant program into a formula grant program to the States after appropriations reach $220 million. For the first time, when the threshold is reached, those individuals closest to the children will play a major role in deciding how to use funds under this program to provide them with the best possible education.

Second, thanks to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. SALMON), we ensure that the parents of limited English proficient children play a major role in determining which types of instructional services will be provided to their children. Too often we have heard testimony from parents who are unaware of the types of services offered to the children. It is our belief that parents must give their consent before placement of their child in a program for limited English proficient children.

This way, we will avoid the current battles between schools and parents who are trying to remove their child from a program that is failing to provide them with a quality education.

If parents believe their child is not obtaining the English language skills they need for academic success, they should have the right to remove their child from the current instructional program. It is just that simple.

Third, we provide local educational agencies the maximum flexibility to decide which instructional methods should be used to educate limited English proficient children. Currently, the Bilingual Education Act requires 75 percent of the funds available for grants to eligible entities to be spent on programs using a child's native language in instruction. We removed this provision because we do not believe the Federal Government should support any one method of instruction over another. The amendment does not mandate any one method of instruction over another. Instead, it merely allows schools to decide which instructional methods will yield the greatest success in helping our students learn English and achieve the same high degree of academic success as other students.

Finally, the legislation focuses on teaching children English as quickly as possible. Once this becomes a formula grant program, States will be required to remove founding from any program where the majority of limited English proficient children are not becoming proficient in English and meeting challenging State content and performance standards after 3 academic years of performance.

As a former educator, I agree that having the ability to speak more than one language is key. But for children who do not speak English, our major focus should be in providing them with the language skills they need to stay in school and succeed.

The amendment also makes several technical and clarifying changes to other sections of the Student Results Act. First, the amendment strengthens a provision related to local assessments given to para-professionals.

Under this bill, the local school districts may use title I funds to hire qualified para-professionals. This must be demonstrated through completion of 2 years of college, receipt of an associate's degree, or by passing a rigorous local standard of quality. Under this amendment, local school districts must simply include a description of these assessments as part of their plan to the State. This will ensure the States have an understanding of the criteria being set at the local level, which is important since many States set their own minimum qualifications for para-professionals.

The amendment also makes improvements to the new public school choice program that was added to the bill in committee. Because I believe one of the biggest barriers to school choice is the cost of transportation, the manager's amendment removes the prohibition on using these funds for that purpose.

The amendment specifically allows schools to use these funds to augment their existing transportation services in order to meet the needs of children participating in a public school choice program.

And, finally, this amendment modifies the McKinney Homeless Assistance

Act, as reported by the committee, regarding documentation for the immediate enrollment of a homeless child in school. If a child needs to obtain immunization or immunization records, the enrolling school shall immediately refer the parent or guardian of the child to the homeless liaison who shall assist in obtaining these records. These provisions will not override State law or policy regarding immunizations and enrollment.

Mr. KILDEE. Madam Chairman, I rise in support of the manager's amendment.

Mr. MARTINEZ. Madam Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. KILDEE. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. MARTINEZ. Madam Chairman, I rise in support of the manager's amendment with great trepidation. The chairman spoke a little bit about the Hispanic caucus meeting, and I am here to tell my colleagues that the Hispanic caucus is devastated by the fact title VII was added to this bill in the manager's floor amendment.

Now, I understand that in the manager's floor amendment there are also a lot of things we negotiated to make the bill better, but the one thing we never got to negotiate to any great extent was title VII, which is very important to the Hispanic community and the limited English proficient children that it serves.

The fact is, if we had had a chance in committee markup to deal with title VII as we did with title I, we may have come out with the same bipartisan compromise on that as we did on title I. But it puts us kind of behind the 8 ball to be here having to make a presentation on the floor in support of title I but yet disturbed by the situation of title VII and what it really looks like as the Republicans entered it into this floor amendment.

I am going to vote for the bill, because I believe there are so many things that have been compromised. And even in title VII there was some compromise. We did raise the trigger from $210 million to $225 million. We then further got a little compromise on the language that would allow the children to opt in or opt out. That is, in my mind, one of the biggest hurdles or obstacles there was in title VII.

I am going to support the bill and support the manager's amendment because I strongly support all the programs that I believe H.R. 2 really does a good job of maintaining. It also maintains the integrity and original intent of the bill. Originally, when it passed out of committee, I was not able to support the bill. I was one of six people that voted no. It was more on process than it was on what were the contents of the bill even at that time.

I stand here again in objection to the process on title VII, although that is there and we have to deal with it. I am hopeful that as we move to the conference committee and deal with the Senators and their version, that we may be able to revisit title VII and make it better than it is as it presently stands in this bill.

I understand several of my colleagues on that side of the aisle were concerned about the parental involvement, and they did move to strengthen that parental involvement. And I support their desire to make sure that parents know everything that is going on with their children's education in school; but by the same token, a child should not suffer the lack of services because a bureaucrat is waiting for a parent to make a decision, or they cannot make a decision themselves.

I believe the way my amendment has been accepted into the bill that the children will receive services immediately upon entering school; that the final notification will take place quickly; that the school will be required to pick up the phone or make some direct contact as quickly as possible to make sure that that child does not lack any services.

Having said that, I feel that the bill is vastly improved. I believe the manager's amendment, which I hesitate to vote against because it does contain all of the agreements that we have made and made improvements to, but I do not believe this is the end of the situation. I believe that we have a process yet to go through in which we will have to meet with the Senate and have a conference, and the Senate will have to concur and we will have to yield to some of the Senate's desires, and I am hoping that the Senate's desires for bilingual education and for title I and parental notification is even stronger than it has been on this side of the aisle.

Along with that, let me tell my colleagues that one of the reasons that I support the bill is that we are able to increase or include language increasing the standards and accountability for instructions. This is something that the gentleman from California (Mr. GEORGE MILLER) from our side has been a strong proponent of for many years. We were able to put it in the bill that is going to be marked up tomorrow.

I would have liked to come down earlier and join in the lovefest that was taking place on the floor in the general debate regarding this bill. The only problem is that I could not join in that lovefest because I believe the honeymoon is going to end tomorrow, as the gentleman from New York (Mr. OWENS) has stated. Tomorrow we are going to take up Straight A's, which destroys everything that was negotiated in this bill, which I think is absolutely ridiculous, although I am hopeful somebody will come to their senses and either not offer Straight A's or that Straight A's will be voted down. And if it is not voted down, I hope it will be vetoed by the President so that we will not have to deal with it and keeping intact what we have in title I.

I would also like to commend my colleague from Arizona (Mr. SALMON) for working with me on the parental consent portion of this bill. I believe his willingness to compromise gave us the ability to be able to vote for this bill. And, Madam Chairman, I do support the manager's amendment.

Madam Chairman, while I regret that the committee did not have an opportunity to mark up and fully debate title VII, the Bilingual Education Act, which is included in today's manager's amendment, and while I still have a number of concerns regarding the effects this bill will have on limited English instruction programs and the children they serve, I am going to vote yes on the manager's amendment because it is vastly improved over where it was a week ago, and because I hope it will be further improved in conference.

Last week, the Education Committee considered H.R. 2, which includes the reauthorization of several important Federal education programs, including title I, which provides nearly $8 billion for the education of disadvantaged children, the Magnet Schools Program, the Indian Education Program, the Javitz Gifted and Talented Program, and the McKinney Homeless Assistance Program.

Although I strongly support these programs and believe that H.R. 2 does a good job of maintaining their integrity and original intent, I was not able to support H.R. 2 when it was reported by the committee due primarily to what I consider to be unreasonable parental consent requirements placed on the education of limited English proficient children.

While I understand that several of my colleagues on that side of the aisle desire increased parental involvement and strengthened parental rights, and although I support that desire, I could not support the manner in which they were going about obtaining that involvement and those rights since it meant that a limited English proficient child could go for months without title I services.

However, over the past week, since this bill was reported from committee, staff have worked tirelessly to negotiate an agreement whereby parental involvement and rights are maintained, and more importantly, LEP children begin receiving educational services almost immediately.

In the process of those negotiations, we were also able to make headway on a number of issues in title VII.

For instance, we were able to increase the trigger point at which the instructional services program turns into a formula grant.

We were able to insert provisions ensuring that local education agencies measure the progress of LEP students not only on English proficiency but also on challenging academic and contents standards, and monitor the transition of LEP students into the mainstream classroom.

We were also able to include language increasing standards and accountability for instructional programs and teachers, and requiring the department to do research and collect data on best practices. And while I still have concerns regarding some of the provisions in title VII, I am pleased with the progress that has been made over the last week and would like to commend the staff for their hard work.

I would also like to commend my colleague from Arizona, Mr. SALMON, for working with me on the parental consent language although I know he feels as strongly about his original position on this issue as I feel about mine.

In all honesty, were the Democrats in charge of the House, many of the provisions in this bill, including those regarding parental involvement and consent, would look quite different and I am sure that Mr. SALMON would have rather stuck with his original language.

However, I believe that we have come up with an agreement that we can both live with and support. And I believe that H.R. 2, carefully crafted by Chairmen GOODLING and CASTLE and ranking members CLAY and KILDEE, is also something we can live with and support. And so Madam Chairman, as I said earlier, I will support the manager's amendment and urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to do the same.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment, as modified, offered by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING).

The amendment, as modified, was agreed to.

“PART C—WOMEN'S EDUCATIONAL EQUITY

“SEC. 5301. SHORT TITLE; FINDINGS.

“(a) SHORT TITLE.—This part may be cited as the ‘Women's Educational Equity Act of 1994’.

“(b) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

“(1) since the enactment of title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, women and girls have made strides in educational achievement and in their ability to avail themselves of educational opportunities;

“(2) because of funding provided under the Women's Educational Equity Act, more curricula, training, and other educational materials concerning educational equity for women and girls are available for national dissemination;

“(3) teaching and learning practices in the United States are frequently inequitable as such practices relate to women and girls, for example—

“(A) sexual harassment, particularly that experienced by girls, undermines the ability of schools to provide a safe and equitable learning or workplace environment;

“(B) classroom textbooks and other educational materials do not sufficiently reflect the experiences, achievements, or concerns of women and, in most cases, are not written by women or persons of color;

“(C) girls do not take as many mathematics and science courses as boys, girls lose confidence in their mathematics and science ability as girls move through adolescence, and there are few women role models in the sciences; and

“(D) the low number of girls taking higher level computer science courses leading to technical careers, and the low degree of participation of women in the development of education technology, will perpetuate a cycle of disadvantage for girls in elementary schools and secondary schools as technology is increasingly integrated into the classroom; and”.

“(E) pregnant and parenting teenagers are at high risk for dropping out of school and existing dropout prevention programs do not adequately address the needs of such teenagers;

“(4) efforts to improve the quality of public education also must include efforts to ensure equal access to quality education programs for all women and girls;

“(5) Federal support should address not only research and development of innovative model curricula and teaching and learning strategies to promote gender equity, but should also assist schools and local communities implement gender equitable practices;

“(6) Federal assistance for gender equity must be tied to systemic reform, involve collaborative efforts to implement effective gender practices at the local level, and encourage parental participation; and

“(7) excellence in education, high educational achievements and standards, and the full participation of women and girls in American society, cannot be achieved without educational equity for women and girls.

Mrs. MINK of Hawaii. Madam Chairman, today I am pleased to join my colleagues, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. SANCHEZ), and the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA), in offering this amendment to restore the gender equity provisions in the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, now referred to as the Student Results Act of 1999, H.R. 2.

The majority has argued that these equity provisions are no longer needed. However, girls continue to face barriers in the classroom. The Women's Educational Equity Act, WEAA, and other gender equity provisions are still needed to help overcome these barriers. For instance, while girls have improved in some areas, girls are still not learning the technology skills that will be needed to compete in the 21st century. In fact, only a very small percentage of girls take computer science courses, even though 65 percent of the jobs in the year 2000 will require these skills. The girls that do take computer classes tend to take data entry, while boys take advanced programming. Only 17 percent of the students who take computer science advanced placement tests are girls.

There is overwhelming evidence that it is not time now to terminate the programs that have been successful. In point of fact, the majority argues that women and girls have now advanced to such a point that these types of programs are not necessary. I ask my colleagues to examine that thesis; that the girls and women in our society have made it because they have had the constructive assistance of programs like the Women's Educational Equity Act that this year enjoyed its 25th anniversary. It has provided throughout the country a resource of information. It has been on call to anyone that wanted to inquire as to what programs were in place, in what community, and what the results were.

So often we criticize Federal research because it is not disseminated.

One of the key provisions in the Women's Educational Equity Act was to establish a center where this type of dissemination would occur, and that is in fact what has happened. We do not have to replicate the trial mechanism in each community because we have the results of programs and other efforts and projects that have been instituted in different communities.

If we dismantle the Women's Educational Equity Act program now, we will dismantle 25 years of effort, of accumulated dialogue, of accumulated reports, and other types of things that will continue to be of tremendous benefit to the girls and women in our society. It is not time now to dismantle it. We are just about making progress in some areas. There is still a lot to go, and this is proven in so many of the studies we have seen.

There is a barrier beyond which women are not able to go forward in terms of their careers, in terms of their own benefits. And, therefore, we have to start early in the elementary and secondary schools to make sure that the teachers and the administration understand this special responsibility that they have to the girls in their community.

The Women's Educational Equity Center has a technical assistance service. It is there to answer these many, many questions. This year, up to now, there have been 758 positive, affirmative technical assistance programs offered to people who have called. It is in all sorts of areas. In the center is 73,332 publications that have been collected. If we dismantle this program and terminate the Women's Educational Equity Act, 73,000 documents will be gone. They will not be able to serve this community any more.

The Women's Educational Equity Center has established a Web site. Just between March 1 and August 31, there were 248,000 hits on that Web site, people wanting information about women's opportunity for careers, for education, for things that they could do within their community and within their schools.

There is no question that this program is utilized; it is needed; it is woefully underfunded. So I cannot believe that the majority truly feels that this program is no longer needed by our communities. It has made progress. But now is not the time to terminate this program and end the progress that we have made. Girls in our schools need this special assistance. Teachers need this assistance.

The AAUW report clearly demonstrates that when they went out to analyze what was happening in the classrooms, they found indeed in the best classrooms that female teachers were dealing with their students in a disproportionate way in which they favored the boys as against the girls in terms of assignments, in terms of grading, in terms of their dealing with the student.

So I plead with this House to reconsider this terrible move made by the majority of this committee and ask my colleagues to restore this provision and all the other provisions that are in this en bloc amendment and restore again our confidence that we as a society can implement programs that truly have equity, gender equity, at heart.

Mr. GALLEGLY. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 2, the Student Results Act, which renews Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and other programs assisting low-achieving students.

I am particularly pleased that H.R. 2 includes a version of my bill, H.R. 637, the gifted and talented student education act. I want to thank the chairman and the other members of the committee for their work on this important legislation.

All children deserve to be educated to their fullest potential. Unfortunately, the educational needs of our most talented students are not being met. Gifted and talented students are not reaching their highest level of learning.

H.R. 637 provides incentives through formula grants to States to identify gifted and talented students from all economic, ethnic, and racial backgrounds, particularly students of limited English proficiency and students with disabilities.

The bill authorizes State educational agencies to distribute grants to local education agencies, including charter schools, on a competitive basis. Funding would be based on each State's student population.

H.R. 637 provides needed funds for gifted and talented students while leaving the decision on how best to serve these students to the States and local school districts.

I know we all are committed to ensuring our Nation's youth have all the tools they need for their future. Our gifted and talented students are one of the Nation's greatest natural resources. I urge my colleagues to support this very important bill.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I, too, would like to compliment the chair of the Committee on Education and the Workforce and the ranking member for a good bill. But I am here to make H.R. 2 better.

I am sure that many of my colleagues are surprised, as I was, to learn that H.R. 2 eliminates the Women's Educational Equity Act, WEAA, and other gender equity provisions in the Elementary Secondary Education reauthorization.

I knew that WEAA and other gender equity provisions were doing a good job. What I did not know was that their success could be seen as an excuse to eliminate a good program. It is hard to believe that some Members think that gender equity provisions should be eliminated from ESEA because more women are enrolled in college, graduating from college, or because boys have reading scores that are not as good as girls. But that is shortsighted.

Women do earn more than half of all Bachelor's degrees, and WEEA and other gender equity provisions deserve credit for that. But women's degrees are still clustered in traditional fields such as nursing and teaching, fields that pay far less than jobs in science and technology.

While women are more than 50 percent of this country's population, they earn only 36 percent of math degrees and just 7 percent of engineering degrees. That is why, Madam Chairman, in addition to reinstating WEEA and other current gender equity provisions, the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment includes my language to allow schools to use professional development funds to instruct teachers in how to work with students, how to work with their parents in groups from under-represented areas of our country. And they do that to encourage them to pursue careers in math, in science, engineering, and technology.

Madam Chairman, just last week, Senator ROBB introduced a bill to create a new category of visas for foreign nationals with graduate degrees in high-technology fields. It does not take a rocket scientist to figure out why the high-tech companies want these visas for foreign workers. It is because there just are not enough U.S. citizens with educations needed for these high-tech positions in our own country.

In fact, the American Electronics Association, AEA, reports that the number of degrees awarded to Americans in computer science, engineering, math, and physics has been declining since 1990. One of the reasons for this decline is that girls and minorities are not pursuing these fields and they are not pursuing them in the early grades; and because they are not interested in the early grades, they do not get the background they need in elementary school to take the necessary precollege requirements in high school and they do not go on to major in these subjects in college.

If our schools do not change, females and minorities will continue to dominate the low-wage jobs, while America's high-wage, high-tech jobs go to foreign undergraduates and foreign graduates.

That is why Microsoft Corporation, Hewlett-Packard, Intel Corporation, Motorola, Apple, AutoDesk, and Compac Computers signed a letter to members of the Committee on Education and the Workforce strongly encouraging members to consider proposals that "not only strengthen math and science education broadly but that aim to target women, minorities, and other under-represented groups to pursue these courses of study."

But unless we use WEEA and other gender equity provisions to address the problem that exists for girls in our schools, women will continue to have fewer economic opportunities than men and less access to the careers that will support themselves and their families. Without these opportunities, this country will be deprived of the highly educated, highly skilled workforce we need in the United States to compete in a global economy.

Gender equity and education is not a women's thing. All Americans, men and women, have a stake in making sure that all students gain the skills and self-confidence they need in elementary and secondary school to become productive, self-supporting adults.

The Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment is vital to the strength of the Nation, and I urge my colleagues to please support it.

Mr. HILL of Montana. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I do not rise to speak to this amendment, but I do rise to speak to the bill. I want to thank our chairman for his leadership in bringing this bill to the House. Of all the issues that we will be debating, none are more important than the issue that we are debating here today, the issue of education.

I also want to thank our leadership for providing such a large block of time for us to debate this bill and the issue of education.

Madam Chairman, every parent wants their child to succeed, succeed in school and succeed in life. I am fortunate to represent a State that has really good schools. Montana's students consistently perform very well on independent tests. We are fond of saying that Montana is the last best place. And many would say that Montana is what America used to be.

Many would say that we need to rebuild our schools like they used to be, schools where achievement is emphasized, where people are held accountable for results, where parents and local school boards make the decisions. Those are worthy objectives, Madam Chairman, and those objectives are incorporated into this bill, a bill that addresses Title I.

Under this bill, all States and school districts and schools will be held accountable to ensure that their students meet high academic standards. All schools would be required to issue report cards on student achievement, on teacher qualifications, and on school quality. The State and local schools would be required to close the achievement gap if they are trailing so that no student is left behind.

All students would be required to meet the same standard. So there would be no discrimination on the basis of race or other status. The families will be authorized to take their kids out of failing schools and put them into charter schools or into other public schools.

I will later be supporting an amendment that will broaden the scope to allow school choice and private education, as well. Under this bill, 95 percent of the dollars will go to the classroom.

I am particularly supportive of the new flexibility for rural schools, as well as the additional resources for rural schools. I support the provisions requiring English first, requiring that all third-year students to be tested for English proficiency.

Madam Chairman, it is clear that despite years and years and many billions of dollars in Federal assistance to local schools, excellence and quality and achievement and high standards still elude us. This bill has the potential to move us a long way in bringing these reforms to all of our schools to create schools that we can all be proud of.

When these Title I reforms are coupled with other measures, one that we will be taking up tomorrow, the Straight A's education bill, we will be on our way to making meaningful changes in education.

Again, I want to thank the chairman for his leadership and his hard work and diligence in getting this good bill to the floor that has broad bipartisan support. I urge my colleagues to support the bill.

Ms. SANCHEZ. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, well, my colleagues, what a century it has been for women's progress. We could say that this century we got the vote, we own businesses and earn college degrees like never before, we control our own money, we are in the workplace, in the factories, in the corner offices, and on the playing field.

In fact, just this year, we rejoiced in the great successes of Title IX when the U.S. women's soccer team showed the world what it really means to kick like a girl at the World Cup.

Well, my colleagues, I knew it was a bad idea to win that soccer game. Because the Republican male leadership in Congress apparently took Brandi Chastain's winning kick as a sign that everything is fine, that we do not need the Women's Educational Equity Act anymore, that everything is suddenly A-okay.

Well, I have got news for my colleagues. Women are only 17 percent of students who take the computer science Advanced Placement test. Women are 50 percent of the population yet only 8 percent of the engineering workforce. Women are 3 percent of the top executives at the Fortune 500 companies.

So what do they want to do about that? Repeal the law that has helped American girls for 25 years.

Our role is to reduce the final Elementary and Secondary Education Act reauthorization of this 20th century. We have got to make it one that prepares all students, boys and girls, for the challenges and for the opportunities that await them.

So I urge my colleagues to support the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment to H.R. 2.

Mrs. BIGGERT. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I question whether this amendment is needed. But I do want to express my strong support for H.R. 2, the Student Results Act, which includes a provision that will have a direct and positive impact on the estimated one million homeless children and youth in our Nation.

Being without a home should not mean being without an education. Yet, that is what "homelessness" means for far too many of our children and youth today.

Congress recognized the importance of education to homeless youth when it enacted in 1987, the McKinney Education Program. But despite the progress made over the past decade, we know that homeless children continue to miss out on what often is the only source of stability and promise in their lives, school attendance.

H.R. 2 strengthens the McKinney program by incorporating the innovative provisions contained in my legislation, the McKinney Homeless Education Assistance Improvements Act. This bill will ensure that a homeless child is immediately enrolled in school. That means no red tape, no waiting for paperwork and no bureaucratic delays. It gives a homeless student the choice of enrolling in the nearest school or in the school he or she attended before becoming homeless. It also improves the way the Department of Education collects its data so that we no longer use unreliable figures that likely underreport the numbers of homeless students. It allows States to select a homeless education ombudsman whose sole job is to help homeless children and youth. And lastly, it authorizes the McKinney program for another 5 years.

Homelessness is and will likely be for the immediate future a part of our society. But being homeless should not limit a child's opportunity to learn. I commend the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING) as well as the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. CLAY) for understanding this and for addressing in the bill before us the needs of homeless children. I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support the Student Results Act.

Mr. ANDREWS. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I rise in very, very strong support of the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment. Gender discrimination has been institutionalized in American life. It is important that we try to uproot that discrimination from its roots, and what better place to start than the classrooms of America.

I am particularly gratified that the authors of this amendment have included in it language that I suggested with respect to a special education program for gender equity that involves the birthplace of women's rights, in Mount Laurel, New Jersey, the Alice Paul Foundation. Alice Paul understood when she wrote the equal rights amendment, which we will yet ratify, and she understood when she led the fight for women's suffrage that discrimination on the basis of gender is rooted in American life.

My grandmother was born at a time when women did not have the right to vote. My wife was born at a time when the smartest girl in the class, which she was, was told that she could be a teacher but not the principal, that she could be a nurse but not a doctor. Now, nursing and teaching are honorable professions and if a young woman or young man chooses that profession, we should encourage them to do so, but we should educate them that if they choose to be the doctor or the principal or the President, that they have every right to do so. It is important that young women learn that from the word go.

My daughters are 6 and 4. They are being educated in their homes to understand that they can go as far as their abilities will take them. But I understand that in the institutions that they will encounter, they will not necessarily receive the same message. They will be paid 69 cents for every dollar that their brothers earn. They will be told that there are still glass ceilings that apply to them but not their boy cousins or brothers. This must change. The first and best place to change it is in America's classrooms, and the best way to change it today is for us to strongly support the retention of this program.

I applaud the authors for introducing it.

Mr. HINOJOSA. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

(Mr. HINOJOSA asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HINOJOSA. Mr. Chairman, the region of America that I represent strongly supports the Women's Educational Equity Act. WEEA, as it is best known, represents the Federal commitment to helping schools eradicate sex discrimination from their programs and practices and to ensure that girls' future choices and success are determined not by their gender but by their own interests, aspirations and abilities.

I have four daughters, and I want the best for them. I want them to be able to reach as high as they can dream. Since 1974, WEEA has funded the following: Research, development and dissemination of curricular materials; training programs; guidance and testing activities; and other projects to combat inequitable educational practices.

Through an 800 number, through e-mail and a web site, the WEEA Publishing Center makes these materials and models widely available at low cost to teachers, administrators and parents throughout. WEEA is critical in assisting schools to achieve educational equity for women and girls. WEEA provides a resource for teachers, administrators and parents seeking proven methods to ensure equity in their school systems and communities. WEEA projects help so that girls can become confident, educated and self-sufficient women.

Since its inception, WEEA has funded over 700 programs. Past and current WEEA-funded projects include:

Programs such as Expanding Your Horizons, which exposes girls to women in nontraditional careers, have been replicated in communities throughout the country often by AAUW branches. Developing "Engaging Middle School Girls in Math and Science," a 9-week course for teachers and administrators which explores ways of creating classroom environments that are supportive of girls' successes in these subjects. Clarifying for schools the definition of sexual harassment and what the law requires them to do about it.

Finally, Mr. Chairman, I urge my colleagues to vote to reinstate the Women's Educational Equity Act, and I commend the authors of this act, the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. SANCHEZ), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY) and the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA).

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Mr. Chairman, there are several gentlemen on this side of the aisle who relinquished their time to me, and I appreciate that very much. I thank the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. BALLENGER) and the gentleman from Utah (Mr. COOK).

Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong support of the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment. I am proud to have my name on it. It would restore gender equity provisions to Title I programs.

My colleagues on the Committee on Education and the Workforce have really worked hard on this legislation and for that I commend them. I commend the gentleman from Pennsylvania. I commend the members of the committee. H.R. 2 has some very good provisions. The bill encourages parent involvement, targets funds to those most in need, and supports gifted and talented programs.

However, H.R. 2 does not reauthorize the Women's Educational Equity Act, it does not ensure that teachers in Title I schools are trained to treat boys and girls equally, and does not train teachers to encourage children from underrepresented groups, including girls, to pursue careers and higher education degrees in math, science, engineering and technology.

It is my understanding that the gender equity provisions that are in current law have been eliminated because, quote, they have served their purpose and that gender equity has been accomplished and they are not needed.

This is simply not true. While many girls are doing better in math and science classes in school, these generally are girls in more affluent schools in suburban areas. Many of these schools, such as Walt Whitman High School in Bethesda, Maryland, or Richard Montgomery in Rockville, Maryland, have made efforts to work with girls to encourage them to take high level math and science classes and correct gender bias in the classroom.

For disadvantaged students, however, it is another story. And those are the students whose needs are supposed to be addressed in this legislation. In Title I schools, boys as well as girls are not succeeding and we must ensure that these students are prepared for the job market as we approach the 21st century. For girls, we must address the problem of teen parenting and its impact on the female dropout rate. We must also address the new gender equity gap that is widening for girls in technology.

Statistics show that African-American and Hispanic students fare poorly in technology. For instance, only 127 Hispanic girls nationwide took the AP computer science exam in 1998. Only six Latinas in the State of California took the exam in 1998. African-American girls comprised 10 percent of the girls taking the exam but 83 percent made the lowest score of 1 out of 5.

The statistics for the general female student population are also disturbing. For example, more than 53 percent of female students take no further high school math beyond Algebra 2. Only 25 percent of female students have taken computer science courses in high school. Only 2 percent of female students have taken the advanced placement test in physics. I could go on and on. Only 20 percent of female students take the three core science courses, biology, chemistry and physics, in high school.

Mr. Chairman, as we prepare to enter the new millennium engaged in a competitive global economic market, we must ensure that our children are fully prepared for the future. Most jobs are going to be technology-based. They say that over 60 percent of them will be. People who can possess information to develop new goods and services and use technology effectively will excel in the next century. Nations that prepare their citizens for this new economy are going to be most successful, lower tax rates, better services, higher standard of living.

We are going to need a healthy pool of technically skilled persons, information technology workers. We can arrive this only if we educate both halves of the workforce. We cannot afford to dismiss 50 percent of our kinetic energy. We must ensure that we address the different learning needs and styles of girls in the classroom from kindergarten through high school. We all have the same interest at heart, both sides of the aisle, males, females. We all want to make sure that our children and grandchildren are afforded a quality education and that they are well prepared for the marketplace of the future. We can do that by voting "yes" on the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment.

Mr. BALLENGER. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

First of all I would like to say that having read the information on the Mink amendment I am not necessarily for it, because it says in our description here, it is to identify and eliminate gender and racial bias in instructional materials, methods and practices. To me that sounds like building a whole new bureaucracy in the educational vein. I am not sure that Title I does not have enough problems already.

In the past, Title I funding has seen few results. However, H.R. 2, the Student Results Act of 1999, has strong accountability measures to ensure that these Federal funds are spent in the appropriate manner, on low-achieving, disadvantaged students of both sexes. It is important to let schools know that if we are going to give you Federal funding, we expect results.

This bipartisan bill creates the academic State reports which show the academic performance of all schools receiving Title I funding, allowing parents and local leaders to monitor the progress of these schools. H.R. 2 also allows students in low performing schools to have the choice of transferring to a public school or to a public charter school that is not low performing.

Accountability does not stop there. This bill requires that within 3 years of enactment, paraprofessionals, or teachers aides, as they say, at schools receiving Title I funding have to complete at least 2 years of study in an institution of higher learning, obtain an associate's degree or higher and meet rigorous standards of quality set by the local school district in math, reading and writing. You cannot really help low achieving students with unqualified teachers aides. These students need the best of the profession to move out of their low achieving status. In the past, this teaching effort was largely done by 75,000 teachers aides. With the additional training, we could almost reach the President's requested 100,000 more teachers with less money and the need to hire fewer teachers. This higher standard will ensure that our Federal funding is used in providing a higher quality of education to our youth, especially since 95 percent of the money must go to the classroom.

We should not use Title I funding again to go to students who have already been failed by the educational system before. Let us support H.R. 2.

Ms. MILLENDER-MCDONALD. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Mr. Chairman, as a former director of gender equity programs for the largest unified school district in California and the second largest in the Nation, I know firsthand how important this extraordinary program is. I have seen teen mothers come, thinking that they had no other recourse but to stay at home and stay on welfare. With this program they have come to school, they have engaged in job training, with counseling, while their children were in a safe child care program.

I have seen single parents who thought that they had no other recourse but found job training programs while being counseled and were able to become self-sufficient. I have seen displaced homemakers who after a divorce were petrified in thinking that they had to go to work without skills. This is the type of program that we are talking about today, the gender equity programs and the provisions that are included in this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I yield to the gentleman from California (Mr. MARTINEZ) who has worked with me for years when I was with Los Angeles Unified as the director of gender equity programs.

(Mr. MARTINEZ asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MARTINEZ. Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong support of this bill and associate my remarks with those of the gentlewoman that yielded to me. There is no reason why this amendment should not be accepted. Just think about it, gentlemen, when you vote against women, you are voting against over 50 percent of the voters.

Ms. MILLENDER-MCDONALD. Mr. Chairman, I think that is noteworthy, to say that the majority of the voters in this Nation are women.

I yield to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE) who worked with me very closely when she was on the city council in Texas and I was on the council in Carson.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Madam Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman very much for her excellent leadership, just to say that I associate myself with her remarks and others in support of the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment restoring gender equity to H.R. 2 and providing opportunities for math and science be taught to our young women. We cannot tolerate any further less than 20 percent of the doctoral candidates in computer science, engineers and elsewhere, chemistry, not being part of the female population of the United States.

This must be corrected. I support this amendment.

Madam Chairman, I rise to strongly support this extremely important amendment. Gender equity remains a key issue in America's society, and nowhere is it more apparent than in education—especially in regards to educational opportunities in math, science, engineering, and technology.

We passed Title IX a quarter-century ago to ensure equal opportunities for girls as well as boys. Title IX has accomplished a great number of its goals. If we were to ever question the impact of Title IX, we simply need to recall the USA Women's Soccer Team during its glorious World Cup run and the Houston Comets' unprecedented 3 year reign as WNBA Champions.

Yet, although a great deal of progress has been made, a gender gap still exists in America's schools. Today's education field requires gender-fair policies more than ever. With advances in science and technology, we must work to narrow the gap that exists between boys and girls in these fields. Indeed, to empower young women to achieve economic independence and full participation in the new world of the 21st century, we must ensure that girls are educated fairly.

The Student Results Act, H.R. 2, maintains many standards for public education in the reauthorization of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. But it lacks many of the gender equity-related provisions that have been proposed—and some that have been part of ESEA for decades. For all students to achieve in school, educators, parents and policymakers must develop strategies to address the different learning styles of all students. Both genders deserve equal opportunity to excel and learn in the classroom.

The Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment to the Student Results Act includes many gender equity provisions in current law that H.R. 2 has eliminated. These include the reauthorization of the Women's Educational Equity Act (WEEA) which has, since 1974, represented the federal commitment to ensuring that girls' future choices and success are determined not by their gender, but by their own interests, aspirations, and abilities.

This amendment also trains teachers in gender equitable methods and techniques and requiring the identification and elimination of gender and racial bias in instructional materials. The amendment also strives to ensure that dropout prevention programs target pregnant and parenting teens, thereby addressing one of the chief causes of young women's dropout rate.

In addition, the amendment allows Title I schools to set up programs to encourage girls and other underrepresented groups to pursue careers and higher education degrees in math, science, engineering and technology.

This latter issue is of great importance given our current dearth of science and math teachers. Elementary school districts report a 96 percent demand for science teachers and a 67 percent need for math teachers. These statistics are sobering, and we must act immediately.

It is clear that we are not cultivating enough scientists, mathematicians, and engineers from our K-12 schools. In the status quo, high tech firms are looking to import workers from abroad to keep them competitive in this ever-evolving industry. In a nation of innovation such as ours, this situation is unacceptable, and given the opportunity, I am certain that American women could easily fill these positions.

Yet, we find that women face barriers to entry and achievement at all stages of the academic ladder. We have identified a series of mechanisms that mitigate against the progress of women in academic careers in science and engineering. Extra-academic factors as the differential socialization of men and women and marriage and family impede the progress of women. The normal working of everyday features of academic science such as advising patterns have the unintended consequence of excluding women. This amendment could go a long way toward remedying these problems.

In 1983, only approximately 15 percent of undergraduate engineering students were women. Yet, in 1996, that number failed to rise substantially, and less than 20 percent of undergraduate engineering students were women. In 1995, over 50,000 male engineering students were awarded bachelor's degrees. During that same year, only around 10,000 female engineering students were awarded bachelor's degrees.

Just over 15 percent of doctoral computer scientists in the workforce were women. Women represented just over 10 percent of all math doctoral scientists and engineers in the workforce, women represented under 15 percent of all chemistry doctoral scientists in the workforce, and women composed under 5 percent of all engineers with doctoral degrees in the workforce.

H.R. 2 provides greater opportunities for many underprivileged groups. This amendment simply ensures that women are included in its coverage. We must continue the progress afforded by Title IX, and we must provide greater opportunities for women, especially in the fields of math, science, and technology.

I urge my colleagues to support this amendment.

Ms. MILLENDER-McDONALD. So, Madam Chairman, we are here today debating whether or not we should include a provision that has been included since 1974 that represents the Federal commitment to ensuring that girls' future choices and successes are determined not by their gender, but by their own interests, aspirations and abilities. I do not think that in 1999, as we prepare to enter a new century in which many jobs are based on a thorough understanding of math and science, we would be on this House floor debating whether or not our girls still need and deserve educational equity.

Today we will have the opportunity to vote on the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment. This amendment includes many gender equity provisions that are in current law. In addition, the amendment allows title I schools to set up programs to encourage girls and other underrepresented groups to pursue careers and higher education degrees in math, science, engineering and technology.

I can recall, Madam Chairman, when I introduced an aviation program, being gender equity director in the Los Angeles Unified School District. Girls did not know anything about airplanes, and yet we have this program whereby they can do simulations on airplanes and really take an interest in becoming pilots. They were very enthused about that and indeed intrigued about that. These are the types of programs that we can introduce our young women to through a gender equity program.

So, I understand the necessity for gender equity programs and the continuance of a Federal commitment towards such programs.

Now in 1996, Madam Chairman, we were able to restore gender equity funding by a vote of 294 to 129 in this House. We had bipartisan participation then, and I do hope that we will continue to have this bipartisan participation today because our girls, all of us, I think, who are married who have children and have girls, and our girls meet these types of equity programs.

The gentleman will recall as the chairman of the Subcommittee on Special Small Business Problems that we had the digital divide hearing, and with that hearing we saw a disparity of the number of women and men in programs that talked about high tech.

We also saw minority groups that were disproportionately numbered in terms of being in high-tech programs or even having computers in schools or in their homes. This is the type of thing along with the study and the magazine Education Week that shows that only 14 percent of African American students and 25 percent of Latino students used computers for simulation and application rather than just drills. Compare these figures, Madam Chairman, to the 43 percent of Asian students and 31 percent of Caucasian students who use their computers for stimulation, simulation and application.

I know that time is out, the time is out for us to stop playing around with our girls' future and put this provision in for the sake of the future of this country.

Mr. COOK. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, improved student achievement and a quality education for every child is a top priority for all of us. That is why I am proud to support H.R. 2, which will accomplish just that, close achievement gaps and raise the academic performance of every student. This bill effectively responds to needs of our States and local communities by empowering them with the flexibility they need to achieve these important goals.

Just yesterday educators from my home State of Utah reiterated here in Washington their support for giving schools the flexibility to use funds in effective and innovative ways that will actually benefit students and improve achievement. A one-size-fits-all directive from Washington has failed to narrow these achievement gaps in the past. This bill targets students most in need to ensure that no one is left behind.

This is very important for States such as Utah where disadvantaged students are not concentrated in specific districts, but are spread throughout the State. This bill will help those students to finally receive the attention and the funding needed to reach their potential.

Accountability is the key component of this bill. School districts will have to report to parents on the academic progress of their children as well as their performance compared to other title I eligible children. This will provide parents with practical information about school quality, teacher qualifications, and academic performance within their State.

I would also like to thank the chairman and the committee for their willingness to insert the 85 percent hold-harmless language that the gentleman from Utah (Mr. CANNON), my colleague, and others so diligently worked to have included. This will ensure that the children in my State and others will not be greatly impacted from a decrease in title I funding under the current formula.

Parents and teachers know what is best for their children, not bureaucrats in Washington. Ninety-five percent of title I funds will be sent directly to the classroom where those funds belong, not in Washington.

I urge my colleagues to support this bill which will help our children get the best education possible.

Mrs. MEEK of Florida. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I certainly want to thank my colleagues, the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK); the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY); the gentlewoman from California (Ms. SANCHEZ); and the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA) for trying to restore the confidence and the conscience of this Congress by making sure that we do not forget that women and children and girls require equal treatment, particularly in education.

Education is the mainstream of our country. If it were not for education, then none of us would be here today because that is the backbone of our character and our ability to communicate and to help America understand.

Therefore, today we must focus all of our attention on the issue that no inequities exist anywhere in our society, and in order to do that we must be sure that there is a continued Federal commitment to solving these inequities. Fairness is extremely important to all of us. We must be sure that fairness is there. We must be sure that diversity is attended to in all levels of education, not just in higher education, but in K through 12 and into higher education that that fairness has to be there.

I did not receive it, Madam Chairman, when I was coming along. Now the time has come that we all be treated fairly. That is why this amendment is going to restore that, to be sure that no one is being treated unfairly.

So we must support this amendment. This amendment makes clear that we must retain these solid principles that will keep this Nation a Nation unified, a diversified Nation. We must treat boys and girls fairly and prepare the teachers so they will know how to do the kind of work they need to do. And in the name of my grandchildren, I have four strong girls, Madam Chairman, as hard headed as I am: Amber Kinui, Carrie Yoshimi Kinui, Ayo Raiford and Lauren MEEK, and in the name of those four grand-girls I want them to become strong women, Madam Chairman, based on education, and certainly I thank us for the Federal commitment.

Mr. BILBRAY. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I was not going to speak on this amendment.

I am very sympathetic to the amendment, but I have to say quite clearly I was rather taken aback at a statement made by a dear, dear friend of mine from California; and the statement was made that somehow that we have got to be aware that when we vote against or for women we are voting for or against 50 percent of the voters, and I think that really, really is the kind of statement that Americans want to see less of from this House.

I say this sincerely, because when we vote against or for women and/or girls in this House, we are voting for or against our daughters, our mothers, our sisters and our grandmothers, not voters back and forth. We are here to serve, as my colleagues know, the people out there in the real world.

And the political jargon, I think people are really, really tired of bringing it up; and I am sure that my dear colleague from California did not mean for it to come out the way he said, as if this was a political ball to be used in this amendment.

Now I feel very sympathetic to this amendment, and I do see that we want equity, and I want to strongly make sure that when we implement our education strategies that we have equity. I have daughters and I have sons, and I would hope as a parent that every parent feels the way I do, that we want our children, no matter what their gender, to have access to quality education, to be able to achieve academically.

Now frankly in my family it is the boys that have the problem academically, and I hope that when they have trouble that there will be the resources there to make sure that they get through. But my daughters happen to have the ability right now to be able to achieve.

But, Madam Chairman, I just want to say clearly that I think that this is a well-intentioned amendment. I am not speaking in opposition to it, but I am speaking to my colleagues on both sides of the aisle, that when we start using terminology here, let us remember that we are all working for our daughters and our sons and our granddaughters and our grandsons and try to bring it together; and I look forward to working with the sponsors of this amendment who are dear friends of mine at making sure that we implement a fair and equitable educational system in this country to make sure that our daughters and granddaughters and sons and grandsons all can work together for a better education.

Mrs. JONES of Ohio. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, just think about it like this:

Right here on the House floor in 1999 I am able to turn around and say, Thank you, Madam Chairwoman. But for programs like WEEA, it may well have not even happened. See, 25 years ago the first woman military pilot, Barbara Raines, was named, and then it took 10 more years for it even to happen for the first woman, Katherine Sullivan, to walk in space. Hopefully in 2004 we will not have to be counting the first woman. There will be many women who have had an opportunity in the technological world to participate.

I rise in support of the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment. This amendment has my full support because it will restore funding to the Women's Educational Equity Act. We have funds, instructional materials, teacher training, and it encourages women to pursue careers in the fields of math, science, technology, and engineering.

As my colleagues know, I wanted to go ahead and read my written words, but I just decided it would be more appropriate for me to talk from right here. In 1974, I graduated law school, and my daddy was so happy he said, Yes, she finished law school, and he said, Stephanie, what are you going to do next, and I said, Dad, you know I don't know, but whatever it is, please be with me.

In 1981, I ran for my first judgeship, 31-years-old, and but for programs like WEEA I never would have even been encouraged to go to law school. Made my daddy so happy when I got elected. Election night do my colleagues know what he said? See, I got a judge in the family and didn't even have to have a boy. My daddy thinking like that, who loved and was endeared to me.

I would suggest to my colleagues that there are young women all around this country who need the opportunity to be encouraged and supported.

Let us talk about right here in our own House, 57 women out of 435. Think about it. Think about it. Women need to be encouraged to be right here on the floor. They do not need just solely technological support, they need to think about how can we be here on the floor of the U.S. Congress talking about issues that impact the entire country and only 57 of us are women.

But let us even talk about major corporations. It is a wonderful woman who just became the head of a major corporation, and there are only three to five that head major corporations. It is in the technology; it is in the training that these young women have not been given the opportunity, the access, the encouragement, the support, the love, the nurturing, all of which they need to become what they want to be.

Now see, I appreciate the gentleman saying he is sympathetic to this piece of legislation. Do not give me sympathy; give me a vote. That is what we need right here on the floor. My colleague can be sympathetic if he wants to, but he should not tell his daughters he is sympathetic and he does not want her to go to medical school, he does not want her to go to law school, he does not want her to be an engineer.

As we stand here on the floor today, it is important to think about all the young women across this country, and we are 50 percent; and God willing, we may even in fact be 65 percent of the next election. We do know that women vote more than men do. It is not a political game we are playing here. We are playing with the lives of young women; we are playing with the heads of the families of young women. We are playing with the heads of our young men, because it is the women who raise the young men in this country.

So I would just ask my colleagues, support this amendment. It is important to you, it is important to you, it is important to our children; and in the end, we will all be paid off.

Mr. CUNNINGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I have a grandmother and a mother that never had a chance to go to college. I have a wife that has a doctorate and two master's degrees. I have my oldest daughter is a gifted writer at the University of California, San Diego. My youngest daughter scored 1550 on her SATs as a junior in high school. She is head of the science team. She soloed, because I heard the gentlewoman talk about flying, she soloed at 16. We did not need a Federal law to have women to be able to participate. I introduced Barbara Raines, the first pilot, when she came into flying, and I knew her and I welcomed that, and I welcomed people that tried to achieve.

But let me tell my colleagues something about equity when we are talking about not just this amendment. I want to bring to Members' attention something that is not in this bill and should not be, but is in the Senate version of the education appropriations bill for fiscal year 2000.

We understand that the Senate has included a legislative rider in its 2000 Labor-HHS-Education bill placing a special 100 percent "hold-harmless" on State-by-State distribution of Title I grants. What that means is that in the States where population has grown, they get less money because the States where the population has fled from are held harmless, and they get the same amount of money.

What happens is we have hundreds of thousands of children that are being underserved in Title I, while other States that do not have as many students still get the same amount, and we think that is wrong.

There are three reasons that the Senate provision is bad for children, for men and for women, for boys and for girls. It unfairly penalizes schools located in States with growing populations of disadvantaged school-age children. It most directly impacts on those with the largest and fastest growing numbers of immigrant and Hispanic schoolchildren. The Senate provision, in my estimation, is anti-immigrant.

Now, I stand opposed to illegal immigration. We are talking about legal immigrants that are underserved under Title I because of the Senate's hold-harmless provision. I would hope my colleagues on both sides of the aisle would support the language in the House, and I hope the Committee on Rules does not make in order or protect authorization on an appropriations bill.

Mrs. CAPPS. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I want to offer my strong support for the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment to restore gender equity provisions in H.R. 2. We must restore funding for the Women's Educational Equity Act. This landmark legislation was established in 1974 to help school districts and educators provide equal opportunities for girls and young women in our schools. This equity act represents the commitment of our Federal Government to ensuring that the future choices and successes of girls are determined not by their gender, but by their own interests, their aspirations, their abilities. Without the support that this amendment makes possible, in fact, young women are held back because of their gender.

Now, girls have come a long way, but we still have work to do. Today, only 17 percent of the students who take computer science advanced placement tests are girls. This figure alone is enough to tell us that gender equity programs are still needed. Additionally, H.R. 2 does not continue funding for dropout prevention programs that target pregnant and parenting teens.

I spent 20 years working as a school nurse in the Santa Barbara School District where I was the director of the Pace Center, a program for teen parents called the Parent and Child Enrichment Program. This program encourages teenage mothers to stay in school, helping them to take responsibility for their lives, and to gain access to child care and other support services. It is essential that this Congress work hard to reduce teen pregnancy so that our teens do not become parents before the time is right. But, if teens do become pregnant, we must work to keep them in school, helping them to keep their lives on track, and teaching them to be nurturing parents.

I have seen firsthand the struggles that teenage parents face, and I know how important these dropout prevention programs are.

Madam Chairman, I strongly urge my colleagues to support these gender equity and dropout prevention programs. I am honored to have three students from my district here in the Capitol today, and they are accompanied by the program development director for Girls, Incorporated. These constituents of mine know firsthand and they know full well the importance of these gender equity programs.

Madam Chairman, we here in Congress, we must do our part to keep our promise to the students of this Nation to ensure that everyone receives equal educational opportunities.

Mr. TIAHRT. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I rise in opposition to the Mink amendment. The GAO found that only 17 percent of these grants were being utilized. The resources were going to a relatively small number of agencies; but most of all, it discriminated against some children by preferences over others.

Let me tell my colleagues about a trip I recently took in Wichita, Kansas, to the Levy Special Education School along with superintendent Winston Brooks. I saw firsthand there how Title I funding was changing the lives of special education students. Life has dealt these kids a bad hand, and as compassionate Americans collectively, we are trying to even the odds a little and close the gap between the average student and these specially challenged, loving children.

Madam Chairman, H.R. 2 gives the local school districts the flexibility to manage the Federal dollars, to meet the needs of these special people. At the Levy Special Education School, I met a special young man. I will call him Mark. Mark had a great potential, if someone could only draw it out of him by spending a little time with him. By teaching Mark, even though it was very tough, they were able to give him some of life's basic skills. Mark moved out of a small, dark, and quiet world into a bright day where he talks, he reads, and he now has the confidence to be productive in our community.

Mark is a success, but H.R. 2 can increase the possibilities of success for many others trapped in a dark world.

Over the next 5 years the Student Results Act will channel approximately $9.33 billion annually into programs for 10 million disadvantaged students like Mark, with more than $8.3 billion going specifically to Title II. The Student Results Act contains several provisions that I strongly support, such as quality instructions. In the past, Title I has been used as a "jobs program" for unqualified teacher aides. H.R. 2 increases the minimum qualifications that must be met by all teacher aides within 3 years. Furthermore, H.R. 2 ensures Title I teachers are more qualified and that parents are aware of the numbers of teachers and the teachers' aides that are hired with Title I dollars.

Also under the Student Results Act, parents have the option to exercise public school choice for the very first time. I agree with my colleague who is chairman of the Subcommittee on Early Childhood, Youth and Families when he said the public choice provision is a simple concept. Children should not be forced to attend failing schools. H.R. 2 allows children attending schools classified as low performing to have choices about their education, by giving them the opportunity to attend a higher quality public school in their area.

This act also includes academic accountability by modifying existing accountability standards to ensure that all students, not just a specific number, but all students, especially the most disadvantaged students, show increased academic achievement at school and State levels.

Madam Chairman, H.R. 2 rewards performance. It will reward excellence in education by giving States the option of setting aside 30 percent of all new Title I funding and provide cash rewards to schools to make substantial progress in closing the achievement gap between the students that are special-needs students and the average students.

One of the most important provisions in H.R. 2 for Kansas is that it gives rural schools new flexibility to consolidate Federal funds. With provisions similar to the Academic Achievement for All Act, under H.R. 2, school districts with less than 1,500 students will be exempted from several formula requirements, giving them the flexibility to target Federal funds where they are most needed within the school district. Under the Student Results Act, school districts receiving Title I funding will distribute information to parents so that they can make good decisions, and they will distribute it to the public; and it is going to be based on the academic performance of each Title I school. That is called the "school report card." There is also testing for students in English learning where students who have attended school in the U.S. for at least 3 consecutive years will have testing and reading and language arts and the English language.

But one of the other most important things is that H.R. 2 makes sure that ESEA programs are based on current scientifically based research and not on some unproven fad that has been plaguing our educational system in recent years.

Madam Chairman, H.R. 2 was overwhelmingly approved by the Committee on Education and the Workforce last week. I urge my colleagues to vote against the Mink amendment, but to vote in favor of this measure and encourage President Clinton to sign into law H.R. 2.

Ms. VELÁZQUEZ. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I come to the floor today in full support of the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment reauthorizing the Women's Educational Equity Act.

The Women's Educational Equity Act encourages the training of teachers to treat boys and girls in the classroom fairly. It helps to prevent teen mothers or teens who are pregnant from dropping out of school, and it allows teachers to be trained to promote education in math, science, engineering, and technology among girls.

According to the National Assessment of Education Programs, despite some gains for girls in math and science, gender differences in scores still exist. The University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign found that performance-based science classes did not ensure equal participation among boys and girls. In classes where teachers are not sensitive to gender issues, the study found that there had been even fewer opportunities to take an active role in hands-on learning.

Eliminating the Women's Educational Equity Act would signify the dissolution of the only Federal program that specifically tackles the barriers to educational opportunities for women and girls. Gender equity practices, policies and principles must continue to be an integral part of the Federal education legislation.

Five years ago, reauthorization of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act included strong provisions for gender equity in education. We must not abandon those principles.

I urge every Member to vote for the Mink amendment and support gender equity in elementary and secondary education.

Mr. MCKEON. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I would just like to talk a little bit about my family. I very fortunately have a wife of about 38 years who is a wonderful woman and has been a great partner to me all through our life, and we have six children, three girls, three boys. My girls, daughters, have all graduated from college. The boys are trailing behind a little bit. They have not done quite as well as their sisters, but they are doing well in life and in providing for their families. We have 17 grandchildren. We have nine granddaughters and eight grandsons, and two on the way.

The thing that I am really proud about is that these daughters that graduated from college have done so without any special help or special benefit.

We taught our children that they are all good and that they can all do good things. They do not need special handouts or special help.

I have a little granddaughter that is competing. There is a boy in her class and she is in the second grade and one test he will be the best in the class and one test she will be the best in the class. She is very competitive, does very well in sports, in soccer and in her school work. I just hate to tell her that she needs special help to compete against the boys or other girls, and I just think that it would be good to be able to treat girls and boys as equals and give them both a chance to compete and do well in life.

That is all I want to say on the amendment, but I would like to say a little bit more about the bill.

I rise in strong support of the Student Results Act of 1999. H.R. 2 builds upon the public education reforms this Congress has already considered. First I would like to commend the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING) and the subcommittee chairman, the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE), for their hard work. As a member and subcommittee chairman of the Committee on Education and the Workforce, I am well aware of the time and effort it takes to put legislation together and to get it to this point, and I wanted to commend them for their work and their dedication and leadership in bringing this here.

Also, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. KILDEE), the ranking member with whom I had the opportunity of working in the last Congress on our Higher Education Act, I know he has worked very hard and diligently on bringing this bill to the floor.

At the beginning of this year, House Republicans outlined our top priorities, and strengthening public education was at the top of that list. Enacting the Student Results Act will move us another step toward that goal. H.R. 2 reauthorizes title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and other programs, which are the cornerstone of the Federal Government's role in education, to provide assistance to our most disadvantaged children.

While we have spent billions of dollars over the last 30-plus years, the research shows that these programs are not meeting the goals of the act. So we must change the failings of the past and replace them with real results, and we can do that by voting for H.R. 2.

For example, H.R. 2 places new qualifications on teachers' aides who are hired with title I funds. Too often they are providing instruction with little training. In fact, under current law these aides are not even required to have a high school diploma. All we ask for is that if they are going to be working in the classroom, they must meet basic standards. Quality teaching is mandatory in order for these children to succeed.

Finally, I would like to take a moment to discuss an issue that is very important to my home State of California and many other States with fast-growing populations of poor children, the title I funding formula. Five years ago when we last authorized the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, we called for periodic updates to the formula so funding will go to where the most disadvantaged students are living.

However, that provision has never been fully implemented because the Senate has substituted a hold-harmless each year the Labor/HHS does their appropriation. This simply is not fair and punishes our Nation's neediest students.

I am pleased that this year's bill retains the changes we made and also calls on the appropriators to abide by the authorizing language. For these reasons and more, I call on my colleagues to vote for this important legislation.

Mr. ALLEN. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I rise in strong support of the Mink/Woolsey/Sanchez/Morella amendment which restores current gender equity provisions to ensure that girls succeed in school. We need to support gender equity and diversity through all levels of education. For decades, title I has included essential programs to address the gender gap in education. Now arguments have been made that gender inequities no longer warrant our attention. While it is true that girls have made some improvements, the statistics show there are still major gaps in areas such as technology.

In our fast-paced global economy, it is essential that girls receive the technology skills to compete successfully.

Another continuing problem is inequitable teaching. In 1998, an American Association of University Women report showed that gender inequities still persist in teacher practices. While in most cases teacher biases are unintentional, we need to develop and implement strategies to prevent classroom gender biases. These and other examples show why we must continue to address the need for gender equity in education. We should make this good bipartisan bill better and adopt the Mink amendment.

First, this amendment includes provisions to keep pregnant and parenting teenagers in schools. This is one of the most common reasons girls give for dropping out of high school. We should not and cannot turn our back on those who are at risk.

Second, the amendment continues to encourage title I schools to meet the educational needs of underserved populations, including girls.

Schools should develop strategies to treat boys and girls fairly in the classroom and to encourage girls to pursue higher degrees and careers in math, science, and technology.

Finally, this amendment would reauthorize the Women's Educational Equity Act, WEEA, which was enacted in 1974 under the leadership of the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK), to help schools and teachers meet the title IX requirements that prohibit sex discrimination in educational programs that receive Federal funding. WEEA provides resources for teachers and schools seeking equitable education models and methods. Girls all over this country have realized the success of WEEA and other currently working programs; and given the current continuing evidence of the need, we must reaffirm our commitment to ensuring that girls have choices in the future that are not limited by gender; and therefore I urge my colleagues to adopt the Mink/Woolsey/Sanchez/Morella amendment.

Mr. MORAN of Virginia. Madam Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. ALLEN. I yield to the gentleman from Virginia.

Mr. MORAN of Virginia. Madam Chairman, I thank the gentleman from Maine (Mr. ALLEN) for raising the very important issue of technology. H.R. 2 is a very good bill because it really does address the inequities that exist throughout our public school system, but this amendment is also a terribly important one.

The gentleman talked about technology. I represent an area that currently has about 30,000 unfilled technology jobs, and yet I read in the paper that only 17 percent of the students in computer science classes are women. So in an area that is expanding so fast, where we so desperately need skilled, well-educated personnel, we really need to be making a special effort to get the other half of our population far more involved in the kinds of jobs that give them control over their lives economically and socially.

This amendment is designed to achieve that objective. It is a good amendment. I support it and it makes H.R. 2 all the finer piece of education legislation that should really set the direction for the 21st century.

Madam Chairman, I rise in strong support of this legislation as a means of addressing the major inequities that disadvantaged students suffer as a result of our system of raising money through property taxes for our public schools. But it does lack an important measure which this amendment would restore and accordingly I would urge my colleague's support.

The Women's Equity Education Act is so important to ensuring that girls are afforded the same educational opportunities as boys. We have made great strides in this direction since the program was originally initiated 25 years ago. Some may even suggest that the program is no longer necessary. I disagree for many reasons, but one sticks with me.

My district and its surrounding community in Northern Virginia is home to many of the most prosperous high-tech companies in the world. Companies like America Online, Oracle and Network Solutions employ many thousands of my constituents. The Northern Virginia Technology Council estimates that there are 19,000 unfilled jobs in this region in the high-tech field.

But here I read that only 17% of students in advanced programming computer science classes are young women. In a seemingly ever expanding economy based on new technologies, to not encourage women to fill these high paying, desirable jobs by encouraging their participation in these educational field would be unconscionable, and the result of leaving the Women's Educational Equity Act out of this bill.

I urge my colleagues to continue to strive for gender equity, to end the disparity between women and men in earnings and retirement savings, and most importantly to make sure that girls and young women are afforded the same opportunities as boys and young men in our public schools.

Mr. HAYES. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I probably somewhat reluctantly rise in opposition to the Mink amendment. I have a number of friends here who are ladies, and there is no question in my mind that they are here because of their ability and their desire to do a good job.

I think that H.R. 2 is a great bill. It does things that are badly needed, but as I sit and listen to the debate, I wonder do we really have a gender equity problem? I do not think so. In the past, there have been serious problems. These problems have been addressed in the process of governmental reform. If we have problems with equity now, it seems to me that this is a management problem, not a legislative problem. It is very clear in the law that we will treat everyone fairly. If someone does not know that by now, then management in the school system certainly is well equipped to deal with what is a management problem and not a legislative problem.

I hope we would not distract from the many fine qualities and features of H.R. 2 that are before us today by going off in a direction that ultimately may not be positive for all of our students.

Let me talk just briefly about H.R. 2. Recently, as recently as last week, I had the experience and pleasure of being in Fayetteville, North Carolina, in my home district. I witnessed the choice school, a local community addressing the needs of their children. It is known as 71st Classical Middle School. It is a school for middle schoolers sixth through eighth grades, a school that parents and students choose to go to in the public school system. This school is in its fourth year of existence and is already ranked as one of the top 20 middle schools in the State of North Carolina. There is a competitive, random selection application process that is used to select students for this school. Parents and teachers sign a contract, as do the students, in which they agree to strict adherence to discipline, prescribed codes of dress, high expectations, rigorous academic standards; in other words, the kind of flexibility that we all aspire to with H.R. 2. Wonderful atmosphere, young people who are excited about learning, teachers who are committed to the process; a building, interestingly, that was built in 1924, in pristine condition, restored at a cost of some $500,000, which is a stark contrast to a replacement of probably $15 million.

My point is, this was an atmosphere in which learning was taking place because local parents, teachers, superintendents had the flexibility to make choices that really worked for their young people.

Let me read just a portion of what that contract says: "In order to maintain a positive academic environment conducive to high standards in teaching and learning, students will be accountable for responsible, respectful behavior. Students must adhere to the rules contained in the Cumberland County Schools' Student Code of Conduct, the 71st Classical Middle School Dress Code. If failure to abide by these rules results in a 3-day suspension or more, the student shall be transferred to his or her home school unless disciplinary action results in a long-term suspension from all schools." As I say, what a wonderful atmosphere where learning was taking place.

With this contract comes accountability, just what H.R. 2 is about, both from students and from teachers, and even more importantly, respect. They wear uniforms. The school is pristine. They have seminar classes in which students gather to talk about subjects across the academic spectrum. They develop life-long learners. They utilize a variety of instructional methods, stimulate creative and critical thinking through seminars. They emphasize positive character development, ensure strict adherence to a code of conduct, mandate prescribed standards of dress. There is no peer pressure there.

I would read the code in part, if time would permit. Again, the goal is to have all of the schools in Cumberland County to have these kind of choices that result in this sort of atmosphere and give these kinds of results.

Madam Chairman, I recommend H.R. 2 and support it strongly.

Mr. KILDEE. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I rise in strong support of this amendment to restore and strengthen title I's and ESEA's focus on gender equity. I have yet to find a school in this country, and I traveled throughout the country, where additional help on the area of gender equity would not be useful.

Girls continue to be educated at a lower level in the areas of mathematics, science, and technology and even other areas. This has the effect of denying women access to careers that are higher paying and to self-sufficiency. Since our girls continue to fall behind boys in these critical access areas, I cannot understand why this House would not adopt this very, very reasonable amendment.

Certain Members have stood up here and have stated that their daughters are doing well without the help of the Federal Government. Those daughters, I am sure, have benefited from the Women's Education Equity Act without even knowing about it. My daughter, I know, benefited from the Women's Education Equity Act, and she was not even aware of the fact that it was on the books.

So they stood, I am sure, in good faith, saying their daughters have not been affected by it. The laws may not be published on the wall to have an effect in the school. In fact, the schools are required to do certain things that have touched the lives of countless girls in the schools in this country. So I certainly strongly support this amendment.

Madam Chairman, I yield to the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. VENTO).

Mr. VENTO. Madam Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding to me. I rise in strong support of the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK) and the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY) and the gentleman from California (Ms. SANCHEZ) and the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE) and the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA) for offering this amendment.

Madam Chairman, the fact is that, generally, for thousands of years, we have had a circumstance in our society, in the Western society, where women have obviously not had the opportunity to develop their full potential.

In our Nation, some 2 decades ago, this legislation was enacted in an environment in which there is a recognition that as a society, if we want to grow, if we want to retain our full productivity, we need to obtain the participation of all race and color and gender in our society.

We have made some very positive progress. But to think that we could turn on its head 1,000 years of, basically, gender discrimination in the base of 2 years is, I think, arrogant.

I think the recognition of that is represented in wages that are paid, in the presence of women in the course studies of engineering and science and many other specialties where they basically are not able to participate on an equal basis.

I think, just as a society, this is a great bill in terms of investment in our people, investment in our communities to build a better society, have a more productive economy. But we cannot do that if we are going to not develop the full potential of both the men and women or the young men and women in our society.

So I look forward to this amendment receiving the type of support it deserves. Frankly, the small amount that is being asked here to help and encourage and to provide leadership in this Nation and globally; quite frankly, it is not just here. I mean, other nations look to us in terms of what we are doing and the leadership that we have provided in terms of women's rights and the involvement of women and the status of women around the globe, whether it is in international forums, whether it is in other countries where there is a persistent discrimination and alienation and rejection of the full participation.

This is, after all, a Nation where we have the franchise where we have changed many things. It is not time to rest on our laurels; it is time to move ahead. To move ahead with this amendment in this body for this small amount, we need to do this; and we need to do much more, quite frankly.

Some of the best teachers and some of the best folks that I have ever worked with in my career in developing my skills, starting with my mother, I am one of eight, and she was a great leader, and I would say with the teachers, instructors that I have had in my college and professional training, have been women, women scientists. Actually, I was a science teacher. So these scientists have devoted their lives. We need to develop and encourage more women to take up these fields so we can have the benefit of that in our society.

Madam Chairman, the American public time and again has rated education as a top priority—above tax cuts, above foreign affairs, above defense, even above gun control and protecting Social Security. I am pleased that this body has uncharacteristically set partisan politics aside for a moment to focus on the needs of our students. Title I is especially important because it provides funding to ensure that all children, despite financial background, ability, or language barriers, have the support they need to be successful in our schools and beyond. In fact, Title I is to education what preventative medicine is to health care; giving schools the opportunity early on to offer added services to students who are at risk of falling behind academically in their schooling.

The Saint Paul school district, one of the school areas I represent, has undertaken this year a new strategic plan entitled Raising Expectations. The school district is committed to establishing respectful working relationships with Saint Paul's diverse students and families. In short, they are holding themselves accountable for making our schools better places to learn and work. I am proud that the Saint Paul schools have made this initiative a priority. Passing Title I legislation today will demonstrate to them that the Federal government is truly interested in helping them achieve these goals.

The Student Results Act, H.R. 2, strengthens many of the provisions in current law. Overall, I support a number of provisions which retain the basic structure and focus of the Title I programs, but there are some areas in which I think the bill could be further improved. In particular, there are two initiatives which I believe will divert funds from those schools and students who would best benefit from them. I am disappointed to see that the current Title I eligibility requirement for the use of funds for school-wide programs was lowered from 50 percent to 40 percent. This would dilute the funds rather than concentrate on the most needed student population. Additionally, this bill would allow states to use Title I funds to provide financial rewards to schools that have succeeded in improving their students' academic achievement. While I certainly understand the importance of recognizing schools which have been successful, we should focus funding on schools which need those resources; not divert Title I funds as a reward, especially when so many factors in dispute are used as indices of success.

In addition, I have concerns with the provision which requires students with limited English proficiency to receive parental consent before being served by Title I programs. Nearly one-third of the Saint Paul school district's student body is comprised of Asian-American students, most of whose parents cannot read or write English. These kids need extra help and may fall through the cracks of the system if we focus resources on fulfilling bureaucratic requirements rather than on providing services to LEP students. Providing parents an "opt in" to an ESL program doesn't address the real needs and deficiencies of the student. Students should receive the instruction they need based on sound diagnosis, because a positive experience throughout their school career is based on the assumption of language competence.

Finally, this legislation regrettably does not provide funding for the promotion of fairness and equity. The Women's Educational Equity Act has, since 1974, represented the Federal commitment to ensuring that girls in the classroom have an equal chance to succeed. Teachers should be trained to treat all students fairly and ensure that instructional materials, methods and practices do not promote racial or gender bias. In fact, our school and society today must aggressively recruit and enroll women in technology, engineering, and other math and science based learning, and promote the foundation for such in our school settings. Therefore, I'll enthusiastically support Representative MINK's amendment that will be offered to this measure.

Title I is truly a cornerstone of Federal support for building the bridge between disadvantaged students and their peers. I encourage all of my colleagues to support funding for this important program.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, many of us have gotten up and talked about our children and grandchildren, and I am going to follow suit. I have a beautiful, bright, intelligent, exceptionally talented granddaughter, 18 months old. Do I need to worry about her? Probably not. She gets a lot of attention from her mom. We are all going to be nurturing her and making sure that, at school, she gets the best attention and that she does just fine. But what we need to be doing today is looking beyond our own families.

For anyone on this floor to get up and say we do not have a gender equity problem is not looking in the right places. All they have to do is look around here and see the small percentage of women, 11 percent of the Members of the United States Congress. I assure my colleagues that I did not grow up thinking that I could become a Member of the United States Congress. It was just not on the radar screen for girls.

That is what we are talking about. How are we going to put on the radar screen for the more disadvantaged girls in this country the opportunity to do and be anything that they want to be?

Do we have gender equity? Of course we do not. While educational opportunities for girls and young women have improved in some areas, many are not given the chance to learn the technology skills needed to compete in the 21st Century.

Let me give my colleagues a few numbers here. Although experts predict that 65 percent of all jobs in the year 2010 will require technology skills, a very small percentage of girls choose to take computer science courses. They are probably not encouraged to do this. There may be subtle differences there. Their teachers need training to encourage them. When they do take those courses, they use them for word processing, the 1990s version of typing.

Only 17 percent of students who take computer science advance placement tests are girls. Is that because 17 percent of the girls are smart enough? No. It is because 17 percent of the girls are all the ones that have been encouraged to do so. We need to make those numbers much, much higher; and we can.

Then there is a very real economic component to the lack of gender equity in our classrooms. They carry that burden with them all through their lives. Women are still paid 75 cents on the average for every dollar that a man with the same qualifications doing the same job earns. Over a third of all families headed by women alone were below the poverty level.

The training for women for low paying, traditional fields helps perpetuate the cycle of poverty and powerlessness for both women and their children. If we are truly committed to empowering young girls and young women and if we want to be able to stand up here at some point and say with truth that we no longer have a gender equity problem, then the least we can do today is support the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment which simply seeks to restore the gender equity provision that has been there for a long time in H.R. 2.

Mrs. NAPOLITANO. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, certainly I want to recognize the great work that has been accomplished in this amendment by my colleagues, the women of the Congress. I am very much in favor of and support this amendment to H.R. 2.

Had WEEA been in effect when I was in school, I do not think it would have taken me 40 years to get to this stage, to this floor, and to this Congress. Yet, while gender equity efforts have made gains, we talk about our women's performance, about how we want to help our young people, our young women; we are not in an age where we can say we can rest, it has been taken care of. We have a lot yet to do. We have made quite a few gains, but there is still a lot of work to be accomplished. The passage of this amendment will help us get there.

In my State of California, possessing high-tech skills is a key to success. However, far fewer young women take computer science courses compared to boys. My colleagues have heard those statistics. We do not want the next generation of women to be left behind. We want them to be able to have equity and to compete fairly.

It is our duty, and it is our responsibility as leaders of our communities to bring down those barriers that block young women from future success. Passage of this amendment to H.R. 2 will help ensure that the next generation of young women are not shut out of the high-tech revolution or out of any other career they choose to follow. Support and vote for this amendment to H.R. 2.

Madam Chairman, I yield to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. PELOSI).

Ms. PELOSI. Madam Chairman, I commend the distinguished gentlewoman from California (Ms. NAPOLITANO) for her excellent statement on this subject, and I thank her for yielding to me.

Madam Chairman, it is very interesting to review why we are here tonight. Twenty-five years ago, under the leadership of the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK), our great colleague, the Congress of the United States passed legislation, the WEEA; and it has served as a resource to parents, administrators, and educators to guarantee academic equity in their educational institutions.

Here we are 25 years later, and Women's Educational Equity Act is being debated on the floor again. Why? It is really a remarkable tale, almost unbelievable if we had not been conditioned by events of the past years, few years.

The Republican majority in the House of Representatives has chosen to remove the gender equity language from this bill, H.R. 2, which in itself is a bill worthy of our support and which I intend to vote for, and I commend the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING) for his leadership on the bill.

But why would the Republican leadership in this House decide that, after 25 years of effectiveness in helping young girls receive equity in their education, that the Republican leadership would take this language out of the bill? This is not a positive initiative being advanced on the floor today by the Democrats and for education for young girls. This is an attempt to remedy the elimination of this important language from this bill which has served our country well for 25 years.

This is about helping young girls who fall under Title I, the most disadvantaged young people in our country. We want them to have the opportunity to study math and science.

We need to do this. We still need to do this. For example, only 17 percent of the students who take computer science advanced placement tests are female. While women comprise 50 percent of the population, indeed, over 50 percent of the population, they are only 8 percent of the engineering force. The technology gap will exacerbate as time goes by, and the glass ceiling will be affected by that.

We know that by the year 2010, 65 percent of all jobs will require advanced technology skills in order to work in them. So as technology becomes more important in the work force, this technology gender gap, if it is not addressed, women will fall behind further.

So, again, I commend the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY), the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA), and all of those who worked to put this amendment together to correct and to restore what the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK) worked for so hard those 25 years ago.

Ms. BROWN of Florida. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I rise in support of the amendment. This act represents the Federal Government's commitment to ensure that young girls will not be discriminated against in schools because of their gender.

We have struggled for years to level the playing field for boys and girls; and just as we are beginning to see the benefits of this program, the Republicans are attempting to roll back the clock. Let me say that again. Just as we are beginning to see the benefits, the Republicans are trying to roll back the clock. They are trying to gut this program in its mean spirit attempt to take valuable education tools out of the hands of our Nation's female students.

Since 1974, the Women Education Equity Act has funded the development of school material as well as training programs. It has served as a resource for teachers, administrators, and parents. The program also helps schools comply with Title IX, the Federal law that prohibits sex discrimination in public schools.

Although female students have made gains in education, they still lag behind boys in many important subjects such as math, science, and technology. This program is crucial for the continuation of the development of this program.

A young man, one student, an eighth grader, Garrett from Hilliard, Florida feels that boys should be able to have the opportunity to play volleyball, and girls should be able to have weight training if they want to. We found out that this weight training is very important for our bone development and other things.

Madam Chairman, with all of the problems that is going on in this country, all of the violence, we in Congress need to be doing all we can to make things better. We should not be gutting programs. We should be adding to various programs.

We should be doing all we can to assist the community, the parents, the school, the faculty in bringing the community together, not trying to gut programs.

Ms. MCCARTHY of Missouri. Madam Chairman, will the gentlewoman yield?

Ms. BROWN of Florida. I yield to the gentlewoman from Missouri.

Ms. MCCARTHY of Missouri. Madam Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding to me, and I rise today in strong support of the bipartisan amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Hawaii, and others, to reauthorize the Women's Educational Equity Act and to reaffirm the commitment of this House to the principle of gender equity. The amendment enables States and schools to eliminate the historic gender bias in education materials through teacher training and will encourage the participation of girls and minorities in high-tech careers.

Madam Chairman, I was a high school English teacher 25 years ago, when Congress made a commitment to encourage women to pursue quality educational opportunities. Congress authorized and appropriated funds to teach teachers how to break the cycles of sexism and gender bias. I can remember discussing with my high school students the possibility of a woman in space, and that conversation was met with general scoffing by the boys in the class and doubt by the girls in the class. But I had the honor, along with a number of women in this Congress to watch the first woman be commander of a NASA spaceship. This year, Eileen Collins proved this effort has made a difference.

For 25 years, Congress has reaffirmed its commitment. We have stood by the teachers and the young women, and we have begun to see real results. Test scores are improving; women are staying in school longer; and career choices are slowly expanding. The glass ceiling has not been shattered but it is moving, Madam Chairman. Sixty-five percent of all jobs in the year 2010 will require some technology skills. Do not let that ceiling come crashing back down on the young women of today.

Madam Chairman, I urge my colleagues to support the Mink amendment for education equity.

Ms. LEE. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I rise today in support of the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment, and I want to especially thank the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK) for her decades of hard work on behalf of all women in this country.

Now, we want our boys and girls to reach their optimum and not be restricted by false social limits. This amendment restores current gender equity provisions from Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act to H.R. 2 to ensure that boys and girls succeed in the classroom. This amendment allows Title I schools to set up programs to encourage girls and underrepresented groups to pursue careers in higher education degrees in math, science, engineering, and technology.

Now, I raised two boys. I have two sons. This amendment has nothing to do with stifling boys, as some may imply, and are implying, but what it will do is help to make sure that girls are provided with equal opportunities. We do have a gender gap problem. While gaps in math and science achievement have narrowed, a new gender gap in technology has emerged.

A recent report conducted by the American Association of University Women found that when we compare the performance of girls and boys in the classroom, girls appear to be at a significant disadvantage when it comes to their exposure to technology. Girls tend to come to the classroom with less exposure to computers and other forms of technology. They, in turn, become less proficient in using technology than boys. These early limited interactions with technology perpetuate a cycle of disadvantage in educational technology for girls.

When young women and girls are underrepresented in computer and technology courses, this means that fewer women will be eligible for high-paying, high-tech jobs in the future. This issue needs to be addressed considering that by the year 2000, 65 percent of all jobs will require technological skills.

Also, Madam Chairman, this amendment targets dropout prevention programs for pregnant and parenting teens. For young girls, pregnancy and parenting is one of the major reasons why they drop out of high school. We know that the United States has the highest teen pregnancy rate of any industrialized nation. Each year, almost 1 million teenagers become pregnant. For young girls, pregnancy and parenting account for half of the dropout rate and for one-fourth of the dropout rate for all students. Two-thirds of girls who give birth before the age of 18 will not complete high school. Further, the younger the girl is when she becomes pregnant, the more likely she is that she will not complete high school.

Again, we know that the less education a person obtains, the lower their lifetime earnings will be. This is particularly important because the new welfare reform law, enacted by the 105th Congress, provides little opportunity for education and training, and places time limits on public assistance in education.

Single women make up 95 to 98 percent of the 2.8 million single adult welfare recipients heading families. Of this group, one-third of welfare recipients have minimal skills, those skills that are similar to that of a high school dropout; and these women will face the most extreme employment situations. These women are employable, but only in the least skilled, lowest paying jobs. In fact, minimally skilled women employed year-round earn on the average $15,200 a year.

So as we enter the new millennium, we know the job opportunities for minimally skilled people will cease to grow. Only 10 percent of all new jobs will be generated at this new skill level. And by 2006, only 12 percent of all jobs will require minimal skill. So without the proper investments in education and training, many women will continue to rely on public assistance.

It is critical that parents and pregnant teenagers do not drop out of school but complete their high school education. So this reauthorization act must provide every proven alternative to strengthen and support programs to keep pregnant and parenting teens in school to receive a high school degree.

I urge my colleagues to support this amendment. We are really talking about nothing more than plain old equity.

Mrs. MALONEY of New York. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words, and I rise to really thank my colleagues, the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. SANCHEZ), and the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA) for their bipartisan amendment.

Earlier today the gentlewoman from Hawaii told me that of all of her many achievements in her long career, she was most proud of having authored and enacted WEEA. We must restore gender equity language that helps girls succeed in schools. WEEA is the only Federal program dedicated to gender equity that has provided teaching materials, projects, programs to schools to eliminate gender bias. If the WEEA center is not funded, all the classroom records, program materials, anthology of women's voices, and years and years of research will be lost.

More than 55 organizations wrote me in support of this program, and I would provide that list for the RECORD.

There are those on the other side of the aisle that say this program is not needed. Whether it is the medical profession or engineering, these fields continue to change and evolve. Just like these fields, gender equity needs to be continually updated with new research and techniques.

The appropriators just funded WEEA for $3 million for fiscal year 2000. Even with the tight budget caps, they recognized the importance of this program. But today, some want to throw away over 25 years of research, assistance, and expertise. WEEA helps our Nation's girls, but some people think girls no longer need assistance in overcoming barriers. Yes, women have made great strides, however, these strides have not happened by themselves. It has been programs like WEEA that provide the training and the materials and the support for girls in education. In the last 6 months alone, WEEA has received over 700 requests for information on gender bias.

Glass ceilings still exist in the classroom, in universities, and in the marketplace. Women still only make 72 cents to every dollar a man earns. When girls are exposed to math and sciences, they tend to choose nontraditional female careers, careers such as bankers and engineers, that have lifetime earnings of more than 150 percent above their peers who choose traditional careers, such as nursing and secretaries. This glass ceiling still exists, and we will not break out of it until we break out of this pink collar ghetto.

Last year, more than 65 percent of all jobs will require technology skills. But girls make up only 17 percent of the students taking advanced placement computer science tests. Even in basic computer usage, girls repeatedly rate their computer skills as far lower than boys.

Yes, our underserved populations, girls and boys, need to have equal opportunities for success, yet girls in underserved populations have two barriers before them. They not only lack access to math and technology, but they still have the disadvantage of being a girl in a society that often treats them differently from boys. More than 60 percent of new teachers, when shown videotapes of their classroom instruction, were unaware of the disparity between how they treated boy and girl students. WEEA provides teachers with training and materials to help them adapt their teaching techniques to provide more equity in the classroom.

This essential, unique service provided by WEEA helps our teachers, administrators, and other school staff work with the learning needs of both boys and girls. Studies have shown that girls and boys learn differently.

Newer teaching techniques can help boys excel in greater numbers in the social sciences and with communication skills—an area typically favoring girls.

WEEA's training material help teachers address these issues, issues special to boys, in their classrooms too.

As we head into the next century, we cannot turn our backs on women and girls.

As the educational needs of our society change and grow, at math and technology continue to become prominent skills of our everyday lives, gender equity in our education system is more essential than ever girls must catch up with boys when it comes to math and technology.

To the critics who say there is no longer a need to assist girls and young women in America's education system—I say this: A quote from a former WEEA director: "If we as a nation had decided to stop funding research on heart disease after we made the first mechanical heart, we would have wasted our initial investment. Like medicine, equity is an evolving process and needs to be continually examined, revised, and supported. There is still a lot of work to do, and it changes over time, but gender equity is a real issue that needs to be addressed anew every year."

Even though only 12 percent of the House of Representatives are women I hope the rest of the House will vote bipartisan and vote for gender equity. I ask my colleagues to support the Mink/Woolsey/Sanchez/Morella Amendment.

Mr. OWENS. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words, and would like to associate myself with the remarks of the rest of my colleagues.

(Mr. OWENS asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CLAY. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words, and I rise in support of the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment.

(Mr. CLAY asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Ms. NORTON. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, we owe a debt of thanks to the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. SANCHEZ), and the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA) for their work in helping us as we strive to save the Women's Educational Equity Act this evening.

Madam Chairman, it will be unbelievable to most Americans that there is a message going out from this body that women and girls have arrived. That will be news to the American people, especially to women and girls themselves.

I ask this body, please do not make girls a victim of their own success, for things are not as bad as they were when we last rose to speak about this bill, but who can but admit that they are not as good as they should be; and we should not extinguish prematurely one of the programs that is finally yielding results for girls and women.

It is a truism that special targeted programs are not permanent. The challenge is to allow them to get a sufficient foothold, or the advances we have achieved because of these programs may well all be lost. The work that remains for girls is across the board, is across the classes, is across the races, and is across geographical boundaries.

Look at the high pregnancy rates, for example, in Title I schools. We know that this is directly related to what happens at home; but, my colleagues, these high pregnancy rates are directly related to what happens at school before pregnancy occurs, and what happens at school after pregnancy occurs when these girls drop out of school wholesaley.

Every American, to take girls at the other end of the scale, should be greatly concerned about the gap of girls between girls and boys on standardized tests, again across racial lines and across class lines, precisely in those areas where proficiency is going to be required in the next century. We have to solve these mysteries before getting rid of programs like WEEA.

Why do males increase their advantage over girls in grades 8 to 12 in math concepts and geopolitical subjects and in natural sciences? If we continue to let that happen, the whole country is at risk.

Why is it that at the fourth grade girls and boys are about the same but the more they stay in school the more girls fall behind in standardized tests but not in the grades they yield in school?

We have got to solve those mysteries or we will leave our country in the lurch, because increasingly we depend upon the skills of these girls. Just ask the Armed Forces where they are drawing their most proficient members from. Girls make better grades in all the subjects but do not do as well on scientific tests. We have got to find out why if we want to get the most productivity out of our young people.

Why are girls almost 40 percent behind boys in SAT scores? Are my colleagues satisfied with that? If they are, get rid of WEEA tonight. Vote against this bill. Are my colleagues satisfied with the digital gap? If they think this is a minority gap, I ask them to look more closely. The digital gap is a female gap more than it is a minority gap.

Being a girl continues to put a person at a permanent disadvantage unless we do something to rescue her whether that girl is a so-called at-risk girl or whether that girl is a privileged girl. And yet, this is very different for boys. Because when a boy is a privileged boy or an at-risk boy makes a profound difference. We have got to understand why simply being a girl puts a person at a disadvantage.

There will come a time, my colleagues, if we keep programs like WEEA going long enough to get the job done, when this Member will come to the floor and say, well done. My colleagues may ask me this evening how long? I will say not long, but I will also say very much not yet.

Keep this program. America wants it. America needs it.

Mr. PAYNE. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Madam Chairman, I rise in strong support of the gender equity act and the amendment offered by my colleagues, the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. SANCHEZ), and the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA), to restore the current gender equity provisions in education, specifically, the 25-year-old program to help combat gender bias in the classroom.

I listened to my colleague from the other side who talked proudly of his daughter who did 1550 on the SATs and did not need any help from the gender equity program. That is great, and I think he should be very proud.

But I do not think that every child has the privilege of having a father who happens to have been a hero, a pilot, a person who had the privilege of being in a very prestigious position. I do not think that everyone has the advantage of having a father who is a Member of the United States Congress. As we know, there are only 435 of us.

It is totally illogical for people to go from the particular to the universal. The first thing I learned in basic logic is that we cannot say, because I did it or my daughter did it, everybody should do it. That is like saying, therefore, we should have 260 million presidents of the United States because a person makes it. This is totally illogical.

So as we take this debate forward, let me just say that women are still being discriminated against. Women still are paid only 75 cents on the dollar, but that is a 25-percent increase from the way it was 20 years ago when they only made 54 cents on the dollar. Women still, at age 65, will get less than 60 percent of what men will get from Social Security when they retire.

We have heard from the National Advisory Council on Economic Opportunity at the present rate, 5 years from now the poor will be made up almost entirely of women and children. And we call this phenomena feminization of poverty.

We look at the Congress, 10 percent are women. Even State legislatures are only 25 percent. So people say we do not need this gender equity. We need to keep it at the local level with schools. We must continue to fight for job equity, for pay equity, for credit equity, for insurance equity, for pension equity, for fringe benefit equity, for Social Security equity through legislation, through negotiations, through education and litigation even.

We must continue to have women break through the glass ceiling of the executive suites and break loose from the sticky floors, the dead end, low-wage jobs that keep women in poverty.

So when we hear people talk about there is no more need for this, I think we are going to set the clock back. I think we are moving ourselves in the wrong direction. As we move to the new millennium when we talk about the great opportunities in the future, we are taking away from women who have fought and struggled inch by inch to move themselves a little bit higher to then say we are going to push them back on the rough side of the mountain, they cannot continue to move forward in the manner in which they have been doing.

So I commend the women who have put this resolution in, the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. SANCHEZ), and the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA) to say let us continue the gender equity provision, let us not turn back the clock. We have been here for 25 years and it has been successful. Why take success and turn it around into failure? It makes no sense.

Madam Chairman, I yield to the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY).

(Mrs. LOWEY asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Madam Chairman, I rise in strong support of the Mink-Woolsey amendment, which would reauthorize the Women's Educational Act.

Madam Chairman, I rise today in support of the Mink-Woolsey amendment, which would reauthorize the Women's Educational Equity Act and restore other critical gender equity provisions to the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

And I must say that I feel like I've gone back in time—during consideration of the FY 97 Labor-HHS-Education Appropriations bill on the House floor in 1996, nearly 300 of my colleagues voted for an amendment I authored to fund the Women's Educational Equity Act. My colleagues overwhelmingly agreed then that this was an important and worthwhile program. They should do the same now and vote for this amendment.

No one can dispute that every child in America deserves the opportunity to learn and grow, and since the passage of Title IX twenty-five years ago, women face far fewer barriers in the classroom. But disparities remain in the educational opportunities available to young women. We continue to see female high school students fall behind their male counterparts in standardized math test scores. We also hear from the students themselves that a startling amount of gender bias—some inadvertent—still pervades American classrooms, preventing young women from achieving at their highest potential and discouraging them from pursuing certain subjects.

Treating girls and boys unequally in the classroom is a problem with disturbing implications for the young women who are losing out on opportunities and for our country's economic future.

By the year 2010, 65% of all jobs will require technology skills. So, it's very important that we act to implement policies that respond to a wealth of research, which demonstrates that the earlier girls are introduced to careers in mathematics and sciences, the more likely they are to pursue careers in technology and related fields. Yet more than half of female students take no high school math beyond Algebra 2. Only 20% of female students take the three core science courses—biology, chemistry and physics—in high school. Fewer than 20% report using a computer once a week. With the number of women in the work force increasing at twice the rate of men, how will our workforce be prepared for a global, fast-paced economy without the full participation of women?

It is obvious that America's schools need assistance to ensure that both men and women are equipped to compete for good jobs with good wages. That's why it's baffling, and in my judgment unconscionable, that the Women's Educational Equity Act and other gender equity provisions were stripped from this bill in committee. WEEA, which was developed over twenty-five years ago to help schools meet their commitment to Title IX, provides grants to ensure that women's future choices and accomplishments are not dictated by their gender but freely determined based on their skills, interests, and dreams. These grants have been used to develop dropout prevention programs, to help schools understand and combat sexual harassment, and to bolster female performance in math and science.

I think we can all agree the initiatives included in this amendment can meaningfully enhance the education of America's young women.

The Women's Educational Equity Act remains as important today as it was in 1974 for ensuring that girls succeed at school. I strongly urge my colleagues to vote in favor of the Mink-Woolsey amendment.

Mr. PAYNE. Madam Chairman, I yield to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON).

(Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. Madam Chairman, I rise in strong support of this amendment.

Mr. PAYNE. Madam Chairman, I yield to the gentleman from California (Mr. GEORGE MILLER).

(Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Madam Chairman, I rise in strong support of the Mink-Woolsey-Sanchez-Morella amendment.

Since 1974, the Women's Educational Equity Act ("We-Uh") has provided resources to teachers, administrators, and parents to ensure equity in their schools and in their communities.

The Act was created in response to widespread recognition that girls had specified educational needs and learning styles that were not being met.

While we have made some progress in leveling the educational playing field for girls, we still have a long way to go.

A study released last year by the American Association of University Women entitled "Gender Gaps: Where Schools Still Fail Our Children" shows that girls, when compared to boys, are at a significant disadvantage as technology is increasingly incorporated into the classroom.

Girls tend to come to the classroom with less exposure to computers and other technology, and girls believe that they are less adept at using technology than boys.

Even though 65 percent of jobs in the year 2000 will require technology skills, only 17 percent of students who take computer science Advanced Placement tests are girls. And, compared with boys, girls receive lower scores on the AP test.

Last year, on the high-stakes college admissions test—the SAT—female students scored 496 on the math section, compared to an average of 531 for male students.

Similarly, on other standardized tests in the subject areas of math and science—such as the National Assessment of Educational Progress—girls continue to score lower than boys.

Let's make sure that we provide resources to teachers, administrators, and parents to meet the need of girls and women.

Let's make sure that we target dropout prevention programs for at-risk youth to pregnant and parenting teenagers.

Let's make sure that we provide training to teachers to encourage girls to pursue careers and higher education degrees in technology, mathematics, science, and engineering.

Vote for the Mink/Woolsey/Sanchez/Morella amendment so that all students will be prepared to compete in the everchanging global economy of the 21st century.

Mr. PAYNE. Madam Chairman, I yield to the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Ms. DELAURO).

(Ms. DELAURO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. DELAURO. Madam Chairman, I rise in support of this amendment to provide gender equity.

Mr. GOODLING. Madam Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

(Mr. GOODLING asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GOODLING. Madam Chairman, I was thinking as I was sitting there, where is former Congresswoman Millison Fenwick when we need her? She used to get up here in the well and say, "I don't even have a high school education, but I didn't need the Government to get me here in the Congress of the United States."

But that is not the issue. This is all a bad idea. The debate is a whole bad idea, because what it is doing is taking away from exactly what we are trying to do in this bill.

What we are trying to do in this bill is get poor youngsters and youngsters who are two grade levels below in achievement, we are trying to bring them up so they can be competitive. That is what this bill is all about. This bill is not about white children, black children, Hispanic children, boy children, girl children. This is about children who are disadvantaged academically. And we are trying our best to make sure that, as a matter of fact, they can compete with their peers academically. That is what it is all about.

Now, when we think about this, first of all, the children we are talking about, these are children, as I indicated, the money comes based on poverty and then it includes those who are two grade levels below in achievement.

Now, who is their first role model from the day they are born? Mother, grandmother. Who is their role model when they go into a preschool program? A woman. Who is their role model when they go into Headstart? Nine times out of ten it is a woman molding them all the time. And who is their role model when they get into elementary school? Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, it is a woman. And who is their elementary counselor? It is a woman.

Then they get into middle school, and then maybe it starts to level out a little. Now maybe only 75 percent of their teachers and their role models are women. And their guidance counselors, maybe only 75 percent now are women. The whole way down the line women, women, women are molding these young children whether they are male children or whether they are female children.

So when someone says women have to be there right out of the box, that is exactly where they are, right out of the box.

But again I go back to the point. We are trying in this legislation not to talk about women children, men children, black, Hispanic, white. We are trying to talk about children who are performing below grade level, who do not stand a chance in life to do well unless we can dramatically improve what they are getting.

That is why we said we failed in this program, as well-meaning and as well-intentioned as it was, we failed; and now we are trying to right that so every child has an opportunity to be successful academically.

The General Accounting Office found that only 17 percent of WEEA grants awards were received by State and local educational agencies, only 17 percent, and no evidence that other recipients of the funds are working with State or local educational agencies to address equity problems.

The GAO noted that WEEA activities appear to be out of balance. Specifically, too many resources go for direct services to small numbers of persons and too few resources go to eliminate systemic inequities. And they found that WEEA discriminates against some children in favor of others.

Now, going back again to the fact that this legislation is trying to make sure that all children have an equal opportunity for a quality education. We find also that by the time they reach middle school boys, boys I am talking about now, are now an average of two grade levels below girls.

Minority boys have fallen farthest behind their peers academically and emotionally and are least likely to receive the attention and resources they need.

So I hope we can once again focus what this legislation is all about. This legislation, again I repeat, is about trying to make sure, since we failed for 20-some years and $120 billion, we are now trying to make sure that every child who is eligible for Title I services has an opportunity to receive quality services, not baby-sitting, not anything else other than quality services, so that their academic achievement is dramatically increased.

We failed these youngsters dramatically. We cannot afford to do it any longer. We need them not only for their own self-esteem, but if we are going to compete in the 21st century, we positively cannot lose 50 percent of our children simply because they keep falling behind academically. If they fall behind in the first grade, we can be pretty sure they are a drop-out, maybe not physically, but they have dropped out.

So let us refocus. Let us talk about what this bill is all about, which is to improve the academic achievement of all children who are in need.

Ms. KILPATRICK. Madam Chairman, I rise in support of the amendment offered by Representatives MINK, WOOLSEY, SANCHEZ, and MORELLA to restore the provisions of the Women's Educational Equity Act under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

I'm disappointed that the majority has turned away from the educational needs of girls and young women. Granted, women have made tremendous progress in formerly non-traditional fields where they are underrepresented such as sports and sciences, but let's not end this program with an unfinished agenda. We can point to the accomplishments of astronaut Sally Ride and soccer heroine Christie Chastain. But our schools must do more to mold girls and young women into captains of industry and technology.

When we've only just begun, the majority wants to cut short the record of our successes. I disagree, and that's why I support the continuance of the Women's Educational Equity Act.

This act is the only Federal program designed specifically to increase opportunities and resources for girls and young women—the only program, Madam Chairman. Now the majority wants to eliminate it.

Federal programs must show positive results to justify their reauthorization, and I am delighted to remind my colleagues of the work that's been implemented under the act. WEEA, as the act is known, supports research and development activities to help schools implement long-term practices and policies to support gender equity. Grants awarded under the program encourage women and girls to participate in academic fields and careers in which they have been traditionally underrepresented. WEEA grants go to support model teacher training programs, gender-equitable curricula, and other gender-sensitive educational materials. The program also provides funds to help educational institutions meet their Title IX obligations, which prohibits educational institutions from offering programs that discriminate on the basis of gender.

Funds authorized under WEEA go to operating a resource center that provides information to educators on gender-related issues such as gender equity awareness, sexual harassment, support for adolescent girls and instructional improvements in math, science, and technology.

Currently, WEEA must use two-thirds of its total appropriation of three million dollars to support gender equity implementation programs. The resources are insufficient to meet increasing demands for gender-equity technical assistance and the development of new model equity programs. With the demands for resource assistance authorized under WEEA increasing, it is naive to suggest that the best days of this Act are "behind us."

Women have made advances under WEEA. But we still have miles to go before we can say with certainty that women have attained the level of full and equal access to all educational and career opportunities.

It is for the reasons that I urge my colleagues to continue the Women's Educational Equity Act and support this important amendment.

Ms. ROYBAL-ALLARD. Madam Chairman, I rise in support of the Mink/Woolsey/Sanchez/Morella amendment. This amendment restores the crucial gender equity provisions removed from the bill during committee consideration, most notably, the Women's Education Equity Act. Since 1974, the Women's Education Equity Act helped school districts and teachers meet the goals of title IX which require fair and equitable opportunities for girls in our schools.

This amendment helps to achieve these goals by providing—grants for the development of materials and model programs that ensure gender equity in education; information on methods and techniques teachers can use to promote gender equity; and it provides dropout prevention programs targeted to pregnant and parenting teen girls.

These are just some of the provisions in the Women's Education Equity Act that have contributed greatly to the progress we have made in ensuring that girls in this country have the same educational opportunities as our boys. The sad reality is, however, that although we have made progress, a gender gap still exists in America's schools, particularly in the areas of science and technology.

For example—only 17 percent of students taking the computer science advanced placement exam are girls and women continue to be sorely underrepresented in both undergraduate and graduate programs in engineering, math, the physical sciences, and computer science.

Hispanic and African-American girls fare even worse with respect to technology education. In fact, only 127 Hispanic girls nationwide took the computer science advanced placement exam in 1998.

These facts are strong evidence that we still have not reached many of our young girls who would excel in these and other areas. This is particularly alarming because, as we move into the new millennium, all our children must be prepared to compete in the even-growing, highly technological world economy. Equally important is addressing the crisis that can prevent many of our young girls from reaching their full potential: the near epidemic rate of teenage pregnancy in our country. The reality is that, teen mothers are more likely to drop-out of school and never go on to college than girls who delay pregnancy and motherhood. With the Women's Educational Equity Act we can continue to help address many of the barriers facing our girls today because this act will give our schools the help they need to give girls the confidence and direction necessary to pursue and excel in math, science, and technology. And it will help schools provide guidance and encouragement to pregnant and parenting teens through targeted dropout prevention programs.

If our country is to remain the leader in the next century, we must ensure that all our children, regardless of their race, sex, or socioeconomic background, have access to the highest-quality education. I urge all my colleagues to vote for this critical amendment.

Mrs. CHRISTENSEN. Madam Chairman, title I is an important provision which has provided the resources to our schools. Its original intent was to target the most resources to those schools with the greatest need, and to provide equity to all segments of our Nation. It must remain that way.

Madam Chairman, I also rise today in support of the Mink/Woolsey/Sanchez/Morella amendment to H.R. 2, the Students Results Act. The amendment would restore current gender equity provisions to H.R. 2 in order to ensure that our young women succeed not only in school, but also in life.

The intent of this amendment is not to target a specific group, but rather, it is intended to continue into the millennium what the Women's Educational Equity Act has done for the past 25 years: provide teaching materials, projects and programs to schools to eliminate gender bias. Studies show that girls face an alarming new gender gap in technology as we approach the new millennium. Girls tend to come to the classroom with less exposure to computers. Experts predict that 65 percent of all jobs in the year 2000 will require technology skills, and only 17 percent of advanced placement test takers in computer science are girls.

Madam Chairman, I stand here before you today because I am a product of the Women's Educational Equity Act and so are all of my female colleagues. This act provides resources to empower our daughters, granddaughters, sisters and all young women to realize their dreams and become Congresswomen, physicians, lawyers, mechanics, and in sum, overcome gender barriers.

Madam Chairman, instead of eliminating the Women's Educational Equity Act, Congress should consider ways to improve and expand the program.

Madam Chairman, education is the foundation of our society. Our success is measured and determined by how well we educate all—not some—but all of our people, including women, people of color, the poor, and those for whom English is not their first language. We would be doing a grave disservice to this Nation to pass a weak reauthorization with such glaring deficiencies. I ask that the provisions for bilingual education be included, that the Women's Educational Equity Act be reauthorized, and that the Payne amendment be passed. The next century awaits us. We must move forward not backward, and we must do so together. Make H.R. 2, the Student Results Act whole. I ask for your support for these amendments.

Overall, the reauthorization of title I, is a good bipartisan effort, that addresses many of the important problems in the Nation's educational system, but I must call your attention to a very grave deficiency, which I feel strikes at the very heart of the title. Madam Chairman, I am speaking of the lowering of the poverty threshold that determines eligibility for schoolwide programs, and the failure to reauthorize the Women's Educational Equity Act. I also want to associate myself with the remarks of my colleague from Texas, Mr. RODRIGUEZ, with regard to this bill as well. In the case of the lowering of the poverty threshold, Madam Chairman, this measure is nothing more than a veiled attempt to undermine the public school system in some of our poorer neighborhoods, by draining funds that they would not otherwise have, and allowing them to go to schools in systems that are better off. Surely all of our children need our support for education, but some need more funding than others, and it is our responsibility to see that they get it.

Madam Chairman, we need to be working harder at fostering equity in our Nation's school system, not creating a greater divide. Lowering the threshold will increase the gap between schools' ability to educate the students who do well and those who do not.

Personally, I think the threshold should be higher, but certainly to reduce it below 50 percent is unacceptable. My colleagues, I ask your support for the Payne amendment. Our goal must be to leave no child behind.

Mr. WU. Madam Chairman, I move to strike the last word. I rise today in support of the Mink/Woolsey/Sanchez/Morella amendment to restore important gender equity provisions in the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

When Congress last reauthorized the act, measures were put into place to ensure that girls were getting equal education. These programs have only to show the positive results. Now, faced with the opportunity to continue the valuable work of gender equity programs, Congress is proposing that we turn our backs on them. I am pleased that this amendment allows teacher training to encourage girls to pursue careers and higher education degrees in technology, math, science, and engineering. According to Department of Labor statistics, nearly 75 percent of tomorrow's jobs will require use of computers; fewer than 33 percent of participants in computer courses and related activities are girls. Gender equity programs can increase the 33 percent by getting girls interested in math and science.

In Oregon, we've seen first-hand the positive work that gender equity programs provide. AWSEM (Advocates for Women in Science, Engineering and Mathematics) is a program that was started in Portland, OR to stimulate girls' interest in science and math during middle and high school years. Girls meet in after-school AWSEM clubs with their peers with similar interests. They meet regularly with college-age women studying science or math related-disciplines, and get to work with experienced women professionals from aeronautic engineers to zoologists. The program is successful. AWSEM groups are rapidly spreading throughout the country, and we should encourage their growth.

We need to do more to ensure that other girls will be able to benefit and achieve under similar gender equity programs. I strongly urge members to support this amendment.

Ms. MCKINNEY. Madam Chairman, why are we having this debate today?

Because in one sleight-of-hand, backroom maneuver, the Republican leadership has succeeded in turning back the clock 30 years on educational progress for girls and young women. We need the Mink amendment to protect our young girls and women who are helped by educational equity.

By dropping the Women's Educational Equity Act from the bill, the Republican leadership demonstrated that even without their guru, Newt Gingrich, they are still as meanspirited as ever.

We have a need for these programs that help level the playing field between boys and girls. For instance, girls are not learning the technology skills they need to compete in the new information revolution; a very small percentage of girls take computer science courses even though 65 percent of the jobs in the next millennium will require technology skills. Studies show that poor self-esteem as a result of unequal treatment is a factor in this persistent educational gender gap. Sometimes, without realizing it, teachers and administrators carry society's biases against girls into our schools and classrooms. This becomes yet another factor which discourages girls from achieving. Gender equity training, resources and materials are needed to counter stereotypes and to assure that girls and young women are given equal educational opportunities.

We all were so proud as we watched the USA Team in the Women's World Cup games. Even the Republican leadership scrambled to congratulate those young women. However, we want our women to score goals on and off the field. By supporting the Mink/Woolsey/Sanchez/Morella amendment, we can assure that this little piece of Republican misogyny is put into the trash heap where it belongs.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mrs. BIGGERT). The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK).

The question was taken; and the Chairman pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following message from the President of the United States; which was read and, together with the accompanying papers, without objection, referred to the Committee on International Relations and ordered to be printed:

To the Congress of the United States:

As required by section 401(c) of the National Emergencies Act, 50 U.S.C. 1641(c), and section 204(c) of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (IEEPA), 50 U.S.C. 1703(c), I transmit herewith a 6-month periodic report on the national emergency with respect to significant narcotics traffickers centered in Colombia that was declared in Executive Order 12978 of October 21, 1995.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON.

SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 6, 1999, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. MILLENDER-McDONALD) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. MILLENDER-McDONALD addressed the House. Her remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

TRUE AMERICAN HEROS OF THE 109TH AIRLIFT WING

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from New York (Mr. McNULTY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. McNULTY. Mr. Speaker, today Dr. Jerri Nielsen is in her home State of Ohio to receive treatment for breast cancer. In itself, this fact is not miraculous. But to think that just days ago she was stranded performing improvisational chemotherapy on herself at the South Pole, one could consider her rescue to be heaven sent.

Doctor Nielsen's prayers were answered by the Air National Guard's 109th Airlift Wing based in Glenville, New York, and I am proud to say, Mr. Speaker, in my district. The only guard unit trained to fly such a dangerous mission, the 109th skillfully landed the mammoth C-130 Hercules cargo plane, a plane equipped with skis for landing gear on a runway of ice and temperatures of 58 degrees below zero completing an 11,410 mile trip. The pilot, Major George McAllister, Jr., became the first person ever to land on a polar ice cap at this time of year.

Mr. Speaker, Major McAllister and the crew of the 109th literally traveled to the end of the Earth, risking their own lives to save another, and I am sure that my colleagues as well as Dr. Nielsen and her family join me in recognizing and thanking these true American heroes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. DIAZ-BALART) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. DIAZ-BALART addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. HOLT) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. HOLT addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from Idaho (Mrs. CHENOWETH-HAGE) is recognized for 5 minutes.
