

The biggest risk is doing nothing at all in Social Security. One thing I am concerned about is President Clinton and Vice President GORE have suggested that we simply add huge, giant IOUs to the Social Security trust fund. The problem with that is that the full faith and credit of this country is good, but the way we pay back Treasury notes now is simply to borrow more money. If we are going to borrow $20 trillion, it is going to tremendously change the economics of this country.

Social Security has a total unfunded liability of over $20 trillion. The Social Security trust fund contains nothing but IOUs. That means you have to either borrow the money to pay it back, increase taxes to pay it back, or you have to reduce benefits. We have to have two things very clear: No increase in taxes, and no reduction in benefits for existing or near-term retirees.

To keep paying the promised Social Security benefits, the payroll tax will have to be increased at least 50 percent of total income or benefits will have to be cut by one-third. Neither of those options are good.

In conclusion, this is the demonstrated problem of Social Security. We are in a short range up to for the next 12 to 15 years of a little more money coming in in the Social Security payroll tax than is needed to pay benefits. But then look what happens in the out years. Twenty trillion, in today's dollars, but in those dollars that are going to have to be paid out over and above what is coming in from the Social Security tax 50 or 60 years from now, it is going to be 120 trillion of those inflated future year dollars. Huge problems. It needs to be dealt with now. We have to get a better return on the investment.

The six principles of saving Social Security that I and Senator ROD GRAMS have come up with are: Protect the current and future beneficiaries; allow freedom of choice; preserve the safety net; make Americans better off, not worse off; create a fully funded system; and no increase in taxes.

Right now the average American worker pays more in the payroll FICA tax than in the income tax. Seventy-eight percent of American workers pay more in the FICA tax than they do the income tax. Let us not increase taxes on them again. Let us do something now, so we do not pass this burden on to our kids and grandkids.

RYAN WHITE CARE ACT

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. QUINN). Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, it is my pleasure to be able to rise and support S. 2311, the reauthorization of the Ryan White CARE Act. This legislation needed to come to the floor before the end of the 106th Congress. It is imperative that we continue the fight for treatment dollars to deal with those who are HIV infected and those who are affected.

Thanks to the efforts of collaboration, this legislation provides a funding formula that will actually ensure that all Americans suffering from this devastating disease are properly covered. In particular, it will work to enhance some of the devastated areas in African-American areas and Hispanic areas to provide resources for those communities.

The legislation maintains the integrity of the multi-structure of the CARE Act, allowing funds to be targeted to the areas hardest hit by the HIV and AIDS epidemic. In addition, I am pleased that the legislation maintains and, in fact, strengthens the decision-making authority of local planning councils and allows resources to be used to locate and bring more individuals into the health care system.

I am also delighted to learn that the bill will provide more individuals with early intervention services, such as counseling and testing. This is particularly important in the 18th Congressional District, where many faith-based organizations, nonprofits, are now realizing the importance of education and prevention and speaking the cultural language of the different unique communities that need to understand the dangers of not having knowledge about HIV and AIDS.

This bill, that I have supported in years past and am delighted to extend my support, extends Medicare coverage to people living with HIV. Under this legislation adopted now, States will have the ability to add poor and low-income uninsured persons living with HIV to the list of persons categorically eligible for Medicaid.

This is very important for people in the 18th Congressional District here in Houston for getting proper coverage, and it is very critical that they receive the kind of quality care that is necessary. There are HIV-infected persons in my district and across America that need some relief immediately, and thus the Medicaid provision is imperative.

Under current rules, most people living with HIV are ineligible for Medicaid until they have progressed to AIDS and are disabled. We wanted to engage individuals who are infected so they can have the proper care and treatment. We know with the new health care revolutions and the new drug treatments that have come about, it is very important to have early intervention so that these individuals can live full, active lives. New treatments, such as the highly active heart therapy, are successfully delaying the progression of HIV progression to AIDS.

Mr. Speaker, this is very exciting. We can turn this situation around. Early access to HIV treatment is imperative. I remember coming to this Congress in the early 1990s or in 1990 as a local elected official to join with Senator KENNEDY as he introduced the Ryan White treatment dollars.

This reauthorization is a testimony that it works, that treatment works, and now we must focus on prevention. I believe the legislation must be signed by the President. The formula will add to people's lives; it will in fact save lives. I am very delighted to support this legislation, and I look forward to it being signed by the President so that it can save lives, not only in Texas and in my district, but throughout this Nation, as we continue to fight the AIDS epidemic throughout the world.

CONGRESS RESTORES THE UPARR PROGRAM

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from California (Mr. MILLER) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, earlier this week the House passed the Department of Interior appropriations conference report for the year 2001 by an overwhelming margin. Many of the votes for that legislation were the result of an historic commitment of funds to efforts to preserve our national resources, including parks and other public lands, wildlife, endangered species, forest programs and others.

We are providing this support through a new $1.6 billion Lands fund because of the severe underfunding of resource programs over the past decade that have led to a deterioration of the environment and the recreational opportunities for tens of millions of Americans who treasure their national parks, wilderness areas, coasts and other public lands.

No program has been more unjustifiably undermined than the Urban Parks and Recreation Program known as UPARR.

UPARR is a vital program that provides on a matching basis relatively small grants to towns and cities throughout America to try and provide some expanded recreational opportunities to children who have very few alternative recreational opportunities. Across this country, there are dozens of towns and cities where baseball fields are overgrown, soccer fields are short of equipment, gyms and courts are unusable, and every day tens of thousands of children pass by those vacant and useless playgrounds and gyms and have to find something to do after school and in their evening hours. These are the children who fall prey to crime and drugs and gangs and inappropriate sexual activity that place
