AN AGENDA FOR AMERICA

(Mr. GIBBONS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GIBBONS. Mr. Speaker, for the first time in decades, the American voters have reelected a Republican House majority here in four consecutive elections. While the nay-sayers and political pundits have spent 2 years writing off our majority, we have spent 2 years forging a legislative agenda for America's families, an agenda that America has endorsed.

The political season, Mr. Speaker, is now over; and the time has come to look ahead. We will continue to work across party lines in a bipartisan fashion to ensure that seniors are secure in their retirement and that every child has a successful education and a safe school and that working families receive long overdue tax relief and that our country's military is indeed ready for any challenge.

These are the goals that the American people have entrusted us with, and we are meeting those goals. We stand ready to look forward to working in the 107th Congress to achieve these goals and for the common good of the American people and for the future of our great Nation.

EYES OF AMERICA ON FLORIDA

(Mr. TRAFICANT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. TRAFICANT. Mr. Speaker, the eyes of America are on Florida, and they should be. The truth is, this is not a Washington matter; this is a matter for Florida. Let Florida count the votes, and if Mr. Bush continues to maintain his lead, and does win the popular vote in Florida, Mr. Bush should be installed as our next President.

Mr. Speaker, the electoral college system to elect Presidents has survived for over 200 years unchanged. I yield back the wisdom of our Founding Fathers.
