SEC. ____ USE OF FEDERAL RESERVE SURPLUSES.

It is the sense of the Senate that levels in this resolution assume that the $2,853,670,000 increase in revenue over the 2002 through 2005 fiscal year period should be achieved through the transfer of funds from the surplus funds of the Federal reserve banks to the Treasury.

SA 199. Mr. CLELAND (for himself, Mr. JEFFORDS, Mr. LEVIN, Mr. SARBANES, Mr. LIEBERMAN, and Mr. TORRICELLI) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the concurrent resolution H. Con. Res. 83, establishing the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2002, revising the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2001, and setting forth appropriate budgetary levels for each of fiscal years 2003 through 2011; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of title III, insert the following:

SEC. ____ SENSE OF THE SENATE TO SUPPORT THE CONCEPTS OF SMART GROWTH WHEN MAKING APPROPRIATIONS AND REVENUE DECISIONS.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Senate finds the following:

(1) Federal programs and policies influence, to some degree, local growth patterns through the location of Federal facilities, spending on public infrastructure, tax incentives, and Federal regulations.

(2) This inadvertent Federal influence in local land use decisions has both positive and negative implications.

(3) Unplanned and random growth often has the negative consequences of increased commuting times, traffic congestion, impaired air quality, loss of open space, and poor accessibility to critical services such as schools and hospitals.

(4) When not properly planned, local development decisions may actually burden the Federal budget by requiring new water, sewer, and transportation infrastructure in low-density areas.

(5) Continued growth, which is necessary to sustain community development and a healthy economy, can have the positive implications reflected in an increased number of homeowners, consumer savings, and advantages for businesses.

(b) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that the levels in this resolution assume that in making appropriations and revenue decisions, the Senate should—

(1) continue to support economic expansion while taking into consideration the potential effect Federal programs and policies will have in influencing local development and growth patterns;

(2) reject Federal policies which inadvertently encourage growth patterns that are contrary to the wishes of the local community; and

(3) determine whether additional resources are available, in order to allocate budgetary authority and outlays to address the unintended consequences of urban and suburban sprawl resulting from specific Federal programs and policies.

SEC. ____ SENSE OF THE SENATE REGARDING THE ADOPTION TAX CREDIT.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Senate finds that—

(1) promoting permanency and the well being of children has long been a stated priority for Congress and the President;

(2) in 1996, the Federal Government authorized a $5,000 ($6,000 for special needs adoptions) tax credit for the purpose of providing assistance and support to families who adopt;

(3) last year, approximately 130,000 children from all over the world found permanent homes through adoption;

(4) the adoption tax credit has contributed to the constantly increasing number of children who are adopted by loving families;

(5) the tax credit for families adopting a non-special needs child currently will expire in December of 2001; and

(6) according to a report issued by the United States Department of Treasury, there were 31,000 adoptions of children with special needs in 1998, yet only 4,700 of such children received benefits.

(b) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that any comprehensive tax relief legislation passed during this session of Congress should include a provision for the permanent extension and expansion of the adoption tax credit.

SEC. . SENSE OF THE SENATE.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Senate makes the following finding:

- (1) The demand for domestic energy supplies will increase over the next two decades.
- (2) The President, speaking before a joint session of Congress on February 27, 2001, stated that "our energy demand outstrips our supply."
- (3) The Secretary of Energy, on March 19, 2001, stated that the United States was in an "energy supply crisis."

(4) Despite these statements, the administration's proposed Fiscal Year 2002 budget would cut spending within the Department of Energy's Office of Fossil Energy by $150 million from the level enacted for Fiscal Year 2001.

(b) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that the levels in this resolution assume an increase in Function 270 (Energy) by an amount of $150 million in Fiscal Year 2002 so as not to undercut the vital domestic energy research being conducted by the Department of Energy's Office of Fossil Energy.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this resolution, it is the sense of the Senate that:

(a) FINDINGS.—The Senate finds the following:

(1) HIV/AIDS, having already infected over 58 million people worldwide, is devastating the health, economies, and social structures in dozens of countries in Africa, and increasingly in Asia, the Caribbean and Eastern Europe.

(2) AIDS has wiped out decades of progress in improving the lives of families in the developing world. As the leading cause of death in Africa, AIDS has killed 17 million and will claim the lives of one quarter of the population, mostly productive adults, in the next decade. In addition, 13 million children have been orphaned by AIDS—a number that will rise to 40 million by 2010.

(3) The Agency for International Development, along with the Centers for Disease Control, Department of Labor, and Department of Defense have been at the forefront of the international battle to control HIV/AIDS, with global assistance totaling $330,000,000 from USAID and $136,000,000 from other agencies in fiscal year 2001, primarily focused on targeted prevention programs.

(4) While prevention is key, treatment and care for those affected by HIV/AIDS is an increasingly critical component of the global response. Improving health systems, providing home-based care, treating AIDS-associated diseases like tuberculosis, providing for family support and orphan care, and making anti-retroviral drugs against HIV available will reduce social and economic damage to families and communities.

(5) Pharmaceutical companies recently dramatically reduced the prices of anti-retroviral drugs to the poorest countries. With sufficient resources, it is now possible to improve treatment options in countries where health systems are able to deliver and monitor the medications.

(6) The UN AIDS program estimates it will cost at least $3,000,000,000 for basic AIDS prevention and care services in Sub-Saharan Africa alone, and at least $2,000,000,000 more if anti-retroviral drugs are provided widely. In Africa, only $500,000,000 is currently available from all donors, lending agencies and African governments themselves.

SEC. —. UNITED STATES INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION INVESTIGATION OF STEEL IMPORTS.

- (a) FINDINGS.—The Senate finds that—
- (1) total steel imports in 2000 were 6.2 percent higher than in 1999, continuing the alarming trend of sharply increasing steel imports over the past decade;
 - (2) unprecedented levels of steel imports flooded the United States market in 1998 and 1999, causing a crisis—which continues to this day—in which thousands of steelworkers have been laid off and 16 steel companies have declared bankruptcy;
 - (3) steel prices continue to be depressed, with hot-rolled sheet steel prices approximately 35 percent lower in March 2001 than in May 2000, and cold-rolled sheet steel prices down approximately 25 percent over the same period;
 - (4) the United States Government must maintain and fully enforce all existing relief against foreign unfair trade;
 - (5) the United States steel industry is a clean, highly efficient industry having modernized itself at great human and financial cost, shedding over 330,000 jobs and investing more than $50,000,000,000 over the last 20 years;
 - (6) capacity utilization in the United States steel industry fell sharply during 2000 and the market capitalization and debt ratings of the major United States steel firms are at precarious levels;
 - (7) the Department of Commerce recently documented the underlying market-distorting practices and long-standing structural problems that plague the global steel trade with excess capacity and cause diversion of unfairly traded foreign steel to the United States; and
 - (8) a vital steel industry is essential to United States national security and is a key element of the domestic manufacturing base.
- (b) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that the levels in this resolution assume that—
- (1) the budget of the United States International Trade Commission is increased by $3,340,000 for fiscal year 2002, so that it may improve its utilization of information resources and thereby more effectively assess the impact of steel imports on United States industry;

(2) the President should take all appropriate action within his power to provide the United States steel industry with relief from injury caused by steel imports, without imposing restructuring preconditions that would exact additional human and financial costs on the industry and its employees; and

(3) the President should immediately request that the United States International Trade Commission commence an expedited investigation for positive adjustment under section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974 of such steel imports.

- (A) New budget authority $85,000,000,000.
- (B) Outlays, $85,000,000,000.
- (C) The Senate finds that
 - (i) given the apparent economic slow-down, the Congress should stimulate the economy

by passing a 1-year true tax cut stimulus package that provides income tax and payroll tax relief;

(ii) for real economic stimulus the 1-year tax cut should equal approximately 1 percent of the gross domestic product, or $95,000,000,000;

(iii) a meaningful economic stimulus must reach as many taxpayers as possible, or at least 120 million people;

(iv) the broadest range of taxpayers can be reached by offering a direct rebate based on income tax liability or payroll tax liability; and

(v) the tax stimulus bill should be immediate and take effect on or before July 1, 2001.

(D) It is the sense of the Senate that the levels in this resolution assume that the Senate should as soon as practical consider and pass a stimulus tax package pursuant to this budget resolution that will result in a rebate of

(i) up to $500 per individual or $1,000 per couple for 95 million taxpayers who pay income tax; and

(ii) up to $500 for the 25 million taxpayers who pay payroll taxes but do not have income tax liability.

SECTION . SENSE OF THE SENATE ON CAPPING THE SIZE OF A TAX CUT THAT ANY ONE INDIVIDUAL RECEIVES IN A YEAR.

(a) FINDINGS—The Senate finds that—

(1) the top one percent of taxpayer's income has grown over the past decade at a faster rate than the minimum wage;

(2) this inequality would grow if a tax cut was provided to any one individual greater than twice the sum of a year's earnings for a minimum wage worker;

(3) President Bush's tax cut proposal would provide $46,000 in tax cuts per year to the average income taxpayer in the top 1%, more than four times greater than a minimum wage worker currently earns in one year; and

(4) if the Senate wishes to increase the amount of a tax cut allowed for any one taxpayer in a year, it first has to increase the minimum wage accordingly.

(b) SENSE OF THE SENATE—It is the sense of the Senate that levels in this resolution assume that any funds designated for tax cuts will not be used to provide an annual tax cut to any individual in an amount more than twice the annual pay of a full-time, minimum wage worker.
