

But I think people still recognize that the leadership by example is coming from this House and the Senate and will continue to come from the Congress.

The Christmas tree lighting which took place last week was the largest I have ever seen, and I am a native Washingtonian, occur from the Congress. I thank Speaker HASTERT for his leadership in making it a bigger and better lighting and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. STUPAK) for his work in recognizing that this year, above all, we must make little events like lighting of the Christmas tree into big deals, because everybody is looking to Washington to see whether the war has canceled Christmas and to see whether normalcy really obtains.

I want to thank the Sergeant at Arms of the House and the Senate and the Architect of the Capitol, who are called the Capitol Police Board for reopening tours of the Capitol. People stood in pouring rain on a Saturday morning when they heard by word of mouth that the tours were reopened.

What is the importance of this event after event? I can tell you one thing, I do not intend to become the event planner for Washington or any other city, but the world is looking at us to see whether or not we know how to keep on keeping on. They cannot tell. They cannot get inside our heads. They can only tell by whether or not we continue to remain normal.

The White House at first closed the Christmas tree lighting. When I called the White House and said, do you really have to do this, I appreciate that they rethought it and decided that all they had to do was bring the same glass that they used around the President at the inauguration and put that same glass out there and they could have the public come to the Christmas tree lighting.

I want to make sure that this city is not closed down. If we close down this city, we close down every city in America. The Nation will look to see whether we run to our bunkers to see whether they should run to theirs.

At the meeting last week with White House officials, I want to share with Members some of the suggestions we made that would help send a message that the Nation's capital is open and, therefore, America is open: Allowing people who were screened through their Social Security numbers to tour the White House; opening E Street which was closed down again after September 11 even though the Secret Service had agreed that E Street could be reopened once it was widened; allowing a circulator or secured bus for tourists to go right across Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the White House. If that does not send a message to those who think we are afraid. And funding the National Capital Planning Commission so that we have a citywide plan to do security compatible with our national monuments.

Mr. Speaker, I certainly hope that the White House allows District schoolchildren to be the first to see the White House Christmas tree decorations as a sign that this does remain an open and free society.

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order at 2 p.m.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, the Reverend Daniel P. Coughlin, offered the following prayer:

Lord God, King of heaven and earth, as Members of the U.S. House of Representatives gather today, let every Member know that the prayers of the great religious traditions across this Nation are with them. Guide them, sustain them, and bring them to solemn resolve for what is best for this Nation at this time.

Our Jewish brothers and sisters bring light to a dark world during Hanukkah, praying for the end of violence in the Middle East; they assure us that the lamp of faith is not diminished, but grows stronger day by day.

Our Christian brothers and sisters long for the celebration of the birth of Jesus. They pray that this assembly further the incarnation of peace, justice, and love in this world.

Our Muslim brothers and sisters, having finished their purifying fast, now with hearts and minds renewed, turn to You with greater faith that a new day of understanding, compassion, and prophetic truth is rapidly approaching.

May this House and this Nation place all their trust in You alone. Free the world of prejudice and violence in the name of religion as You manifest in us Your divine destiny now and forever. Amen.
