

protecting a nation that treated them as second-class citizens at best. Military life offered no escape from the racism and segregation of civilian life, but Mr. Hodges didn't let that deter him. He served his country with distinction as a medical corpsman, ordnance technician and supplymaster. Mr. Hodges even became friends with General John "Black Jack" Pershing, commander of the U.S. Allied Expeditionary Force.

Following his service, he returned home to his mother and father's farm. He married Malinda, and despite the economic hard times, the two eventually saved enough money to buy their own land and build a home in Stonewall. He and Malinda had eight children. Sadly, after more than 50 years of marriage, Malinda died in 1997.

Time has not touched his incredible spirit. In fact, if you ask him to, he can still describe his feelings at the moment he heard an orderly shout to the front lines "The war is over!"

Several years ago, a reporter covering a Veteran's Day celebration in Stonewall asked Mr. Hodges why it was so important for him to tell his story. Mr. Hodges replied because "so many people . . . didn't get to come home."

Mr. Hodges' story is remarkable. He overcame discrimination and prejudice and served his country with honor. He raised a loving family and has become a pillar of his church and community. I am proud to help tell his story of service and patriotism today, and I'm certain it will serve as an inspiration to all of us.●

CONGRATULATIONS TO ULUS JOHNSON OF SYMSONIA, KENTUCKY

● Mr. BUNNING. Madam President, today I congratulate Ulus Johnson of Symsonia, KY on being named by the Benton Kiwanis Club this year's Grand Marshal of events for the annual Tater Day Parade.

Mr. Johnson, who was with the Navy Seabees during WWII and served 28 months in the South Pacific, is believed to be the first non-Marshall Countian ever to be named Grand Marshal in the Parade's 159 years of existence. Like Mr. Johnson, Tater Day has survived the various twists and turns of history. During the 1950s and 1960s, many believed the parade was on the brink of being canceled. But with the help of friends, Ulus Johnson was able to revive the tradition of Tater Day for future generations.

Tater Day has its origins on the first Monday in April because this day also happened to be County Court Day and a good time for farmers to gather from across Kentucky in Benton to stock up on supplies, including sweet potatoes, for the upcoming planting season. They could also visit with neighbors, swap horses, dogs, knives and more than a few quality stories and tales. Johnson vividly remembers pretending to be ill on this day as a young boy so that he could miss school and attend the events of Tater Day. For many years, Johnson even drove his stagecoach to the parade for the sake of tradition, but now this item stands in a glassed-in enclosure at the rear of his home, where school children often come to learn about modes of transportation from the past. Ulus Johnson has been a vital figure for the Tater Day Parade almost his entire life and will certainly do a great job carrying on its tradition and legacy.

I once again congratulate Mr. Johnson for this honor and wish him and the rest of the participants a glorious Tater Day.●
