TANF families, given the necessary resources, should engage in full time employment like other working Americans. For this reason I cannot support the Democratic Alternative.

HONORING PETER C. YOUNG ON THE OCCASION OF HIS RETIREMENT

HON. ROSA L. DeLAURO

OF CONNECTICUT

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, June 6, 2002

Ms. DeLAURO. Mr. Speaker, it gives me great pleasure to rise today to pay tribute to an outstanding member of our community, Peter C. Young, as family, friends, and colleagues gather to celebrate his retirement after a thirty-five year career in education.

Peter has been the Executive Director of Area Cooperative Education Services for over three decades. His commitment and hard work has brought a number of important programs and services to the twenty-six school districts located in South Central Connecticut. ACES is one of six educational service centers that were formed under Connecticut State Statute in 1970. A result of recognizing that school districts must work together to meet the ever-changing needs of local education systems, these centers provide an environment where quality programs can be planned, developed and implemented—giving our young people access to the best educational opportunities possible. In addition to his leadership of ACES, he has also implemented programs to benefit local school district teachers and administrators.

Education is the cornerstone of success and the most critical link between our young people and their future. Throughout our country, we look to our towns and cities to provide these invaluable skills to our children. Throughout his professional life, Peter has embraced this responsibility and diligently worked to ensure that our school districts have had the resources to succeed. Working closely with the ACES Governing Board, made up of representatives from each of the member school districts, Peter's unparalleled leadership has benefitted our most precious resource—our children.

Peter's work extends far beyond his career with ACES. His work with a myriad of local, state, and national organizations and associations has and continues to enrich the lives of many. As a member of the Branford Interfaith Housing Cooperation Board, the Connecticut Hospital Association, and the Association of Educational Service Agencies—just to name a few—Peter has used his talents in a variety of areas to make a real difference in the lives of others. His generosity, compassion and commitment is reflected in the many awards and commendations he has received. We have been fortunate to have such an individual working so diligently on our behalf.

Through his many contributions both personally and professionally, Peter has touched the lives of thousands. It is my great honor to join his wife, Judith; daughters, Elizabeth and Kristin; family friends, and colleagues in extending my sincere congratulations and very best wishes to Peter Young as he celebrates his retirement.

THE WEATHER SAFETY ACT

HON. J.C. WATTS, JR.

OF OKLAHOMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, June 6, 2002

Mr. WATTS of Oklahoma. Mr. Speaker, the Weather Safety Act is legislation to help the many towns across America that face recurring threats from severe weather. Whether it is tornados, hurricanes, droughts, or floods, the threats to life and property require a response. Farmers in my home state of Oklahoma have suffered years of severe drought. The federal government must help these farmers and communities assess their vulnerability to the losses that often accompany severe weather, and develop plans to improve their resilience to such events and reduce the economic impacts.

While current federal research on global climate change focuses on long-term trends, we must also develop understanding and strategies that can be put to immediate use in dealing with severe weather. Creating an Office of Vulnerability and Resilience Research to coordinate and advance short-term climatic research will put us on track toward this goal. A unique "Vulnerability Scorecard" system will permit systematic evaluation of regional vulnerabilities, as well as providing a benchmark against which future improvements can be measured.

Call this a "no-regrets" strategy. It is a climate policy that can be enacted right now, in the absence of scientific agreement on the magnitude and extent of the impact of increasing atmospheric carbon dioxide on climate.
