DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2003

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. SPRATT
Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.
The Clerk read as follows:
Page 34, line 2, after the dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $30,000,000)(increased by $30,000,000)".

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, this amendment would take $30 million out of the space-based kinetic intercept program, leaving $14 or $15 million for concept definition, which is the status of it anyway, and instead, shift that $30 million to another program, a vitally important program as part of missile defense which has been debited by this bill, the airborne laser bill.

So it would not decrease by any means the total amount appropriated by this bill for ballistic missile defense. It would simply reallocate within those accounts $30 million, shifting it, as I said, from the space-based boost phase interceptor over to the airborne laser system to make up for 50 percent of a cut which the committee has made in that particular program.

Mr. Chairman, some 15 years ago when the SDI program, Strategic Defense Initiative, was first begun, it was to be a layered defense. There were to be ground-based layers and space-based layers.

One of the space-based layers was a space-based intercept system. It would have been a satellite which would have housed many different smaller satellites, each of which would have housed many different interceptors, each of which could be fired at missiles as they were launched, or even in the midcourse, as they came towards the United States.

The problem with this system, in addition to the fact of being an enormous system, was that in a fixed orbit in space a target this large with that many interceptors on it was a very valuable target and a very vulnerable target; and any country able to fire at us an ICBM that really put us at risk would also be able to build what is called a DANASAT, a direct ascent ASAT, to take out that defensive system.

So to avoid the inherent vulnerability of having predeployed satellites in space, the idea of Brilliant Pebbles was conceived. This system, the SBI system, was abandoned and Brilliant Pebbles was taken up.

The idea of Brilliant Pebbles was to make this target not so valuable and not so vulnerable by making each satellite a single interceptor. Each would have been self-sufficient and able to sense what was coming on and able to propel itself towards that oncoming missile and take it out.

Members can imagine how daunting this technology is. Because the technology was so daunting and the cost of lift and other things was so enormously expensive, the Brilliant Pebbles program was abandoned, as well.

We have spent substantial sums of money, therefore, on space-based interceptors and boost phase interceptors in space. We have abandoned both. We should learn from our mistakes. We should learn from our mistakes and concentrate on what has worked and put our assets where they are likely to pay off in the near term. That is exactly what we are trying to do today.

I am not opposed to boost-phase intercept. In fact, what I am trying to do is shift some money from a system not likely to work any time soon into a system that shows the promise of being an effective space-based or boost-phase interceptor, the ABL, the airborne laser.

Why do I do this? One reason for doing it is that if we look at what the Missile Defense Agency, the BMD agency is doing today, we will see they have a full plate, a fuller plate than they have had since SDI began. They are developing a ground-based midcourse interceptor; they are developing two or three variations on a ship-based midcourse interceptor and a ship-based boost-phase interceptor; they are developing theater systems like the PAC-3, the THAAD, the MEADs. They are developing laser systems, airborne laser systems, and space-based laser systems.

They need to winnow down some of these systems and focus on what works and try to bring those things that are most feasible to fruition, as opposed to going off in pursuit of a million different ideas. So that is what we would try to do here, refine the focus of the program on a system that is likely to work, taking out of a system that has been proven not to work in at least two iterations over the last 15 years.

Let me say that this system right now, this so-called space-based boost-phase intercept system, is relatively, relative to the defense budget, a small system. It is $23 million, or $23.8 million is the funding level for this year. The President requested $54.4 million. We would leave in the budget $14 million for this program; but as I said, we would shift the program.

Now, it does not seem like it is really crowding anything out at that level of funding. What we have to do is look at what the MDA, the Missile Defense Agency, has provided us in a backup and justification charts for the cost growth they expect in this particular program, the boost-phase intercept program. They expect the cost to go up to $50 million.

The CHAIRMAN. The time of the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT) has expired.
(By unanimous consent, Mr. SPRATT was allowed to proceed for 2 additional minutes.)

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, this program will go from today's modest...
Mr. Chairman, I believe the gentleman has made a very important case here. The Airborne Laser program is one I have followed closely. I think it is on the verge of being tested, and I just want to commend the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT), who clearly knows knowledgeable person in the Congress on these issues, for the good work that he has done over the years in following these issues.

We do not want to do anything to slow down the work on the airborne laser so we can find out that it will work. In fact, last year I urged the committee to put money in so we would not let the test be delayed. So I urge the committee to adopt the Spratt amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT).

The question was taken; and the Chairman announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the last word.

On the other hand, the question relative to space-based kinetic energy I think is a matter that was fully discussed in the authorizing committee and on that bill as it moved through the House.

The CHAIRMAN. Does any other Member wish to be heard on the amendment?

Mr. DICKS. Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of the amendment.

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Reclaiming my time, I appreciate the gentleman's comments and interest; and I guess I do not need to get up and thump the tub any further. But I would be interested if the chairman of the committee has any observations about the work that may be done with the research and development and the cleanup of unexploded ordnance.

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. BLUMENAUER. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the gentleman bringing up this important subject. I could not respond any better than my colleagues from Pennsylvania did, and we look forward to working with the gentleman.

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Mr. Chairman, I deeply appreciate the gentleman's interest and activities; and, too, I look forward to working with the gentleman.

I would note that there appears to be a growing awareness on the part of Members across the country. I will save my stump speech, but I would just mention that there is one site we had a hearing on yesterday that is still, the campus of the American University, that 84 years after World War II we are still cleaning up chemical weapons. I think there is lot we can do. I appreciate the assurance and look forward to working with the gentleman.

Mr. KENNEDY of Rhode Island. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the last word.

Mr. Chairman, just want to rise to commend the chairman, the gentleman from California (Mr. LEWIS), and the ranking member, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. MURTHA), for their excellent work on this bill. I look forward to working with them on the training of our National Guard. I know that the Guard is about to deploy in Pennsylvania. General Centraccio in my home State of Rhode Island has been very active in making sure our Guard is prepared and trained.

We are relying on the Guard more than ever, and they are part of our total force, especially in this war on terrorism. I think they need to get the needed training and equipment that they need to do their job successfully.

I know this bill goes a long way to do that, that I look forward working with the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. MURTHA) to ensure that they continue to get the best training available.

I rise today to commend Chairman LEWIS and Congressman MURTHA for their work on this legislation. The task has been an enviable one, giving the limited legislative allocations that they were forced to work with.

In the end, they made it work. Looking at the bill that they produced, everyone can see that Chairman LEWIS and Congressman MURTHA are dedicated to our military and the security of our Nation. And as the safety and security of our Nation and the training and readiness of our military came first—just as it should.
I'd also like to associate myself with the comments of Mr. MURTHA made when the Appropriations Committee was discussing this legislation.

He expressed his belief in the importance of ensuring that our soldiers receive the best training in the world to fight in our war on terrorism. He reminded us that the National Guard and the Reserves are a vital component in winning this war. He mentioned that the Pennsylvania Guard is about to deploy to Bosnia to initiate operations. In Rhode Island, General Centracchio is leading the Rhode Island Guard on a similar course. These Guard personnel are dedicated men and women, average American citizens, who are putting their lives on the line for their country.

As Mr. MURTHA mentioned, we owe it to them to ensure that they have the absolute best training and equipment available to do their job right in areas like marksmanship which I know is important to both Mr. MURTHA and Mr. LEWIS.

I deeply appreciate the opportunity to work with the Committee on these and other issues. I look forward to the good work we have begun to ensure that our men and women in uniform have access to the best training available.

Amendment offered by Mr. KUCINICH

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. KUCINICH:
At the end of the bill (before the short title), insert the following new section:

Sec. 3521(e) of title 31, United States Code.

I offer this amendment pursuant to section 3521(e) of title 31, United States Code, as being required to have audited financial statements meeting the requirements of subsection (b) of that section, not more than 99 percent may be obligated until the Inspector General of the Department of Defense submits an audit of that component pursuant to section 3521(e) of title 31, United States Code.

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. KUCINICH. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Chairman, I want the gentleman to know I am inclined to accept his amendment if we do not have to spend a lot of time discussing it, since we have discussed the matter already.

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the gentleman and certainly would accept his higher wisdom.

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Chairman, with that, we will accept the amendment if we can move forward.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. KUCINICH).

The amendment agreed to.

Amendment offered by Mr. TIERNEY

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. TIERNEY:
In the item relating to "RISK RANK, DEVELOPMENT, EVALUATION, DEFENSE-WIDE", after the dollar amount, insert the following: "(reduced by $121,800,000)".

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, this particular matter, an amendment, goes to reducing the budget by $121.8 million that is now earmarked for the construction of five silos at Fort Greely. This does not deal with research but rather the construction.

You will remember that earlier in our remarks we talked about the fact that the Department of Operational Testing and Evaluation had come before committees in this Congress to indicate to national missile defense system, particularly this midrange system, is nowhere near a point where it had been tested adequately to sufficiently give anybody confidence in its reliability; and, in fact, the experts and director of that department had indicated we should not move forward with construction until we adequately test it.

The fact of matter is that is why Congress passed the act setting up the Office of Operational Testing and Evaluation, because we had allowed services to go forward and build weapons systems that were not adequately tested, resulting in enormous losses of money and great losses of time in trying to build the defense of this country. And here is we concentrate on the premature construction and not the research of this.

You will remember that when Mr. Coyle, who was the former director of that agency, came before Congress and testified that the testing regime was inadequate, the answer we got from the Department of Defense was to pull it in and say they will now do an entirely different system of testing. This one would lump all the research and development and construction together, and it would be more difficult to separate one out from the other. They would also do what they call the capabilities-based system, as opposed to a system where you are forced to as we are, set out goals and try to meet those goals as we went forward and we could measure and identify the progress in developing a system and whether or not it was working.

When asked about the real capabilities of these Fort Greely interceptors, General Ronald Kadish, the head of the Missile Defense Agency, seems to be of two minds. On one hand, he calls it a limited capability, a residual protection, not perfect by any means, but then he testified before the Committee on February and said he had high confidence that this would be capable to be put in place by 2004.

The fact of the matter is that that is not the case, and because it is not the case, we are spending money to construct something that has not been adequately tested.

Now the problem that we have here is that usually we would have a Test and Evaluation Plan, what we call a TEMP, by which we could judge where this is going, but the administration has not given us one. We would devise specific tests and goals and time lines. That was originally due in June. It has yet to be completed. It has now been pushed off to the fall, maybe later.

Normally, as an alternative, Congress would have certain minimum requirements established for the administrative planners in so-called operational requirements documents, but the administration has canceled those as of January.

Pentagon officials have also failed to deliver many other important documents, including the program implementation plan. So, essentially, they are leaving us all out there without any guide or direction as to whether or not we can measure the progress on this. They are ignoring the technology. They are rushing ahead on construction without any thoughtful testing regimen and forcing us to get a situation where we will have to retroactively correct mistakes and errors, costing billions of dollars and a great deal of time.

So we had a hearing and a briefing. We called in Mr. Coyle, and we called in people of the Union of Concerned Scientists, experts on this matter, for specific questioning about whether or not these programs and aspects of it, separate components of it, were really going to be operational and capable by 2004. We learned that that will not be the case.

We first asked about the X-Band Radar System. The Pentagon thought this system is essential to any ground-based system. We were told that it will not be in place by 2004.

Then we asked about the space-based infrared satellite system, the so-called SBIRS. We were told that those would not be in place near operational and capable by 2004. In fact, we are looking a decade or more out on that.

We then talked about whether or not we would have a Cobra Dane Radar as a substitute for the X-Band Radar, even though it would not come anywhere remotely close to doing all of the things that the X-Band Radar was called upon doing; and we were told at best that would be extremely limited and would not serve the purposes of testing or having it be operational at that point in time.

We talked about whether or not flight tests would be conducted with significant information being provided by the interceptor before the launch, because essentially that is what we have been doing. We have been telling the interceptor ahead of time where the target is. You can bet no enemy is going to do that.

By 2004, Mr. Coyle and the Union of Concerned Scientists told us that we would not have had a single test conducted without advanced information on trajectory for the incoming missile given to the interceptor. Nor would we have an opportunity to have any tests done about first telling the interceptor where the launch location was. So it is noes all the way down the line to there.
The CHAIRMAN. The time of the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Tierney) has expired.

(By unanimous consent, Mr. Tierney was allowed to proceed for 2 additional minutes.)

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, we then asked whether or not the flight intercept tests by 2004 would be able to tell us whether or not countermeasures would be effectively taken into account in the test; and we were told that, no, that would not be done.

We then asked whether or not it was important to test the system for different kinds of weather, and we were told it was, but those types of tests would not be done.

We asked whether or not there would be a simple target sweep or a complex target sweep and whether or not there would be tests done on complex target sweeps, and we were told that that would not be done.

We talked about the fact that, so far, any target has had a beacon on it so that the enemy setting it up would have to have a red light telling it where the beacon was, and they said there would be no test without the beacon being on target ahead of time.

So right on down the line we have had a system of boosters that have been plagued with problems, and we were told that any booster productivity by 2004 would be extremely unlikely. More likely that is a decade out. So we are using a booster system that will not even be the final one when this becomes operational.

Mr. Chairman, the bottom line on all of that is there is no way we should start building this, no way we should start building it until it is fully tested. We cannot under any conditions, by the former operations and technical person at the Pentagon, have this in place and operational and capable by 2004.

Why are we spending taxpayers' hard-earned money when we have so many other needs in defense? Primarily among those are homeland security issues, pay for our troops, housing for our troops, right on down the line. Instead, just because someone treats this program like religion, we are out here allowing them to get away with starting to build something that we have not tested. We are throwing good money after bad.

The worst part of it is, Mr. Chairman, the Pentagon tells us, because they were found out about how bad their testing regime is, now they will classify everything so nobody will get the information.

You can bet every time they have a test they will tell you it is a success. What they will not tell you is that they are testing it knowing where the launch point was, knowing what the trajectory was, knowing there is a beacon on the target, knowing there are no countermeasures, knowing everyone will see the beacon beforehand, and that does not serve the American taxpayer well in the defense of this country.

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the last word.

Mr. Chairman, I will not take the 5 minutes, but the gentleman is a member of the authorizing committee and he knows full well this has to do with authorizing policy. This fact is, we have been spending money and we have already provided a considerable amount of money to build those silos in Alaska, that are designed to do the testing he says we are not interested in doing.

The reality is that this amendment takes us to have our ability to even consider ground-based missile defense, which is pretty fundamental when we consider possibilities for protecting our country in the future.

Because of that, I very, very strongly object to this amendment. I would do so even if I did not object to the fact that the gentleman did not discuss it with us before we came to the floor.

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Tierney) for the work he has done on this and ask the gentleman if he would answer a question.

In looking at this presentation here, am I to understand that what the people in charge of this program have done is that they have basically failed to prove in any way that this system can work?

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. KUCINICH. I yield to the gentleman from Massachusetts.

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, that is absolutely accurate, and when they failed to do that they then tried to change the nature in which they proceed with the system to make it harder to measure, and now they are trying to classify it.

If I could add one word and make note of what the chairman said, this is strictly a matter of money in this case. It identifies only construction issues and not research issues and in no other way impedes the Department of Defense moving forward research on this. In fact, the very point is, let us research and know what it is we are building before we start throwing bad money after good.

Mr. KUCINICH. Reclaiming my time, I appreciate what the gentleman says. Let us just conduct our own simulation here.

Here is an incoming missile. Is there going to be a beacon on an incoming missile?

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. KUCINICH. I yield to the gentleman from Massachusetts.

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, that is absolutely accurate, and when they failed to do that they then tried to change the nature in which they proceed with the system to make it harder to measure, and now they are trying to classify it.

If I could add one word and make note of what the chairman said, this is strictly a matter of money in this case. It identifies only construction issues and not research issues and in no other way impedes the Department of Defense moving forward research on this. In fact, the very point is, let us research and know what it is we are building before we start throwing bad money after good.

Mr. KUCINICH. Reclaiming my time, I appreciate what the gentleman says. Let us just conduct our own simulation here.

Here is an incoming missile. Is there going to be a beacon on an incoming missile?

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, the way they have structured it so far, there will not be any tests before 2004 where the beacon will not be present.

Mr. KUCINICH. So there is an incoming missile for this test that has a beacon on it.

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, it or some of the target suite will have a missile beacon on it.

Mr. KUCINICH. Have they had tests where they had a beacon on it and they failed that test?

Mr. TIERNEY. It is possible, though some of the earlier tests had that scenario.

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Chairman, so they had earlier tests when even when they put a sign on it that said hit me, they were still unsuccessful?

Mr. TIERNEY. That is right. Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Chairman, so from my colleague’s recitation here, what my colleague is saying basically and what has been testified to is that the tests have been basically tricked up so as to make it appear that this system works?

Mr. TIERNEY. I am saying that the testimony was from the Pentagon’s own person, the person who was in charge of doing operational testing and evaluation, Mr. Coyle. It was his job on behalf of the Pentagon, as directed by this Congress, to evaluate whether or not the testing regime was adequate, and it was not. It was basically found that all of these were not to be ready by 2004 and that the whole testing program fell short of giving us any reasonable amount of confidence that the system would be reliable.

Mr. KUCINICH. Reclaiming my time, let us just go over this now. My colleague is saying that in these tests they are giving advance information, this missile coming in, they have advance information on what the trajectory is going to be and what the speed is going to be and what time it is going to be launched and where it is going to be launched from and what the countermeasures might be, and even though they have advance information, they still cannot make this work?

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. KUCINICH. I yield to the gentleman from Massachusetts.

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, they have a history of having failures. They have had some successes, but none of the successes without those additional components.

Mr. KUCINICH. Reclaiming my time, where they have had success, they have been given advance information. Now in a real life scenario are they likely to have advance information on trajectory and speed and launch time? Is that likely?

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. KUCINICH. I yield to the gentleman from Massachusetts.

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, no, it is not likely; and Mr. Coyle made that point, that they do not have the realistic testing scenarios in place and planned for execution before 2004. That is what they should be doing. They should be having realistic scenarios in place and done and completed and be evaluated before we get to the point of building. We have a bad history in this country, prior to the legislation we passed to set up Mr. Coyle’s Department, of having built things before they were adequately tested.
Mr. KUCINICH. So basically we have a system here where they are testing technology, but they are not accepting the results?

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, we have a system here where they are testing and they have not tested adequately to get to the point to where they should be constructing.

Mr. KUCINICH. If we were to adopt the gentleman’s amendment, how would this effect a beneficial purpose for the American taxpayers?

Mr. TIERNEY. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman would yield, it would at least stop them from starting to build something that they have not adequately tested. They could continue to move to research. They could continue to move in the direction of trying to find a way to make a system like this work; but we would not be spending money on building something only to run the extreme risk of having to change it later on at a higher cost and much delay in the construction, and that money could then be used more fruitfully on some of the higher priorities of our defense, including homeland security.

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the gentleman for his work on this, and I am supporting his amendment.

Mr. TIAHRT. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Mr. Chairman, what I really appreciate about this country is that we can have an open forum and allow two lawyers to talk about rocket science. What the gentleman just brought up here is 12 parameters on a rocket test. I would like to talk just a little bit about speaking on only 12 parameters on a rocket test. The facts of the matter is that there will probably be close to 12,000 parameters addressed in the series of tests that we are going to be doing out of Fort Greely, Alaska. I think if we go on, I want to talk a little bit about why we are going to have these tests.

There is a need to have protection from incoming intercontinental ballistic missiles. Today we know that Russia has those capabilities as do some of the former Soviet countries that were part of the former Soviet Union, USSR. We know China has that capability. India is working on that capability. North Korea is working on that capability. We have to put the Russian nuclear warhead into a three-stage rocket. Fortunately, the third stage did not fire, but it is just a matter of time.

Iran, Iraq is also pursuing this technology; but we are not doing it for today. Listening to the previous discussion, it sounded like we were expecting something to be ready either by this December or we should not do it at all. This is a very complex system, but this is a complex system that has had successful tests; and even the gentleman admitted, yes, there have been some successes.

The success was that we fired a rocket out of the Pacific, a second inter-cepting rocket was launched from a land-based location, and in essence, a bullet hit a bullet thousands of miles from the location from where either of these rockets were launched, thousands of miles, a bullet hitting a bullet, tremendous success, wonderful success.

If we think we can get two lawyers, one on each end of the Capitol, have them shoot at each other, ever get a hit on a bullet; but these scientists were able to do this at thousands of miles, a tremendous technical achievement.

We are expecting it to happen immediately, or we should do it at all? Well, it is going to take time to continue this technology so that we can be successful in protecting, not ourselves necessarily, but our posterity, our children. North Korea does not have an intercontinental ballistic missile yet, but they will have. Countries that are rogue nations, with rogue leaders will have that capability in the future. We do have to have a thought-out plan to provide for the common defense of our citizens. We cannot do it without a system like this. It does not happen overnight. We have to work on it over time. We have to invest time; we have to invest dollars. We cannot expect some failures. But it is an incredible technology.

For us to shut the water off on this is very shortsighted. It ignores the future. It ignores the safety of our citizens, our children. We cannot turn our backs on this. It is a reality. It is an achievable technology. It is a necessity, and for us to stop this is very shortsighted and I think, hopefully, improbably, I think that is the general feeling here in the House is that we should provide for the common defense of our children, and that is a viable means of doing that.

One of the other things I wanted to say about the location is that Fort Greely, Alaska, is probably the best location to run this battery of tests, to measure these parameters. The location has been studied. Construction has already started. It is very important that we continue with this program; and I think that the Pentagon, the administration, the rocket scientists have a very good plan. It is a well-thought-out plan. It measures every facet. It starts with a design concept. It develops documents as to what test is required, and it is that to what the statement of work, the total environment of this test activity, every little stress point on these rockets that is going to be measured. It is going to be able to hit a bullet with a bullet, thousands of miles over the Pacific or over areas remote from our country; and that is something that we need to think about as a priority for our children, because the reality is, it is going to occur.

My colleagues cannot convince me that Muammar Qadhafi or Saddam Hussein or some future despot is not going to want to use that leverage on America. How do we protect ourselves from that? We have to have a system, an umbrella around our citizens, around our children. So, Mr. Chairman, I ask that this amendment be opposed and that we continue on with the business of the day.

Mr. HINCHEY. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

I, first of all, want to congratulate the chairman of the subcommittee as well as the ranking member for conducting a very good MIRV. There is no question that this is a very good piece of legislative work. Nevertheless, I rise here this afternoon to support this amendment because I think it makes a very constructive improvement to the legislation that we are currently considering.

A week ago today, the Bush administration unilaterally withdrew the United States of America from the antiballistic missile treaty which had been in effect since 1972. This is a treaty which has stood the American people and the people of the world in good stead for 30 years. It has had the effect of reducing tensions, reducing the likelihood of a nuclear attack by any country; and it is a treaty that I think our country should continue to be in existence, but the administration withdrew us from that treaty so that they could begin the construction of these facilities in Alaska and elsewhere.

In doing so, the allegation is, and we have heard from the gentleman from Kansas just a moment ago, that all of this is designed to improve our security; but in fact, I think what we are seeing is the opposite is happening. As a result of our withdrawal from the ABM treaty, the Russian military is already talking and pressuring the leadership in Russia to put their missiles on higher alert. They are already discussing multiple, independently targeted reentry vehicles, in other words, a very good MIRV. There is no system, putting more warheads on their missiles. In other words, the effect of the withdrawal from the treaty has already begun to increase tensions on both sides and putting the Russian nuclear missile system on a higher position of alert.

What this amendment does is prevent the expenditure of $181-plus million for the construction of these silos. It is a very thoughtful and very prudent initiative, in other words, a very good MIRV. There is no question that this is a very good piece of legislative work. Nevertheless, I rise here this afternoon to support this amendment because I think it makes a very constructive improvement to the legislation that we are currently considering.
where the missile will be at a precise moment in time, in spite of that, the tests have failed over and over and over again. There has been some minimal success, but the preponderance has been failure.

Such as we heard from the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Tierney) a moment ago, Phillip Coyle, who is the former Pentagon chief investigator, said earlier this year in February that some aspects of this tale order are virtually impossible; and the overwhelming evidence from the scientific community agrees with that. Scientists over and over and over again studying the physics tell us that we have not tested this system enough to demonstrate that it is going to work; the physics of it are impossible.

So what we are offered here today is an opportunity to improve this bill, reduce the expenditures by $181 million, and instead of increasing tensions and reducing national security, to improve national security by the adoption of this amendment.

I support the amendment, and I hope that the House will do so as well.

Mr. DeFazio. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

I had not intended to speak on this amendment, but heard the gentleman before me when I just came back from the energy conference to my office. I believe there is a credible nuclear threat against the United States of America. There is a possibility that a rogue nation or terrorist group will deliver a nuclear device to the United States of America, but it will not be on the tip of a missile.

This misbegotten technology, if it ever worked, would not defend against a depressed launched trajectory missile from a submarine, against stealth missiles, against bombers, against all those other threats. But not even those are the real threats, and that is not the real threat. It will not defend against the container, one of the 500 million that come to the United States every year. That is the most likely vehicle for a nuclear bomb in the United States of America. A simple bomb attached to a GPS device gets to a certain point in the United States and it blows up.

And guess what? While we are spending $100 billion or more of our hard-earned tax dollars to try and take this totally failed and continually failing system, one that has to be notified in advance, has to have a GPS device tracking the incoming missile, one that cannot take on any sort of devices that would cloak or hide the missile or in any way make it more difficult to hit, they are going to be attacking us in another way.

It is a real shame. The one thing we have that really works are our satellites and our detection capability. The second that one of those rogue nations launches a missile against the United States, we will know it, and in 20 minutes that nation would no longer exist.

They are not going to launch missiles against the United States. They might buy a junk freighter, they might sneak it in to the harbor, they might put it in a van and drive it across the border from Mexico or Canada. There is a whole bunch of ways they might deliver a nuclear weapon to the United States. And while we are wasting money to enrich the defense contractors with failing technology, they will be making their plans.

It is just extraordinary to me after 9-11, when we pondered our civilian aircraft and used them as weapons of mass destruction, that we are still obsessed with trying to build technology to fight a threat that does not exist.

Yes, the North Koreans. The North Koreans once launched a missile that, if it had worked, might have reached the United States; and someday they might have two or three of them. Well, the leader of North Korea might be nuts, but he is not nuts enough that he wants to turn his country into nuclear glass.

Our assurance of deterrence, mutually assured destruction, in this case, is not mutually assured. They might hit some tiny corner of the United States, which would be very tragic, and I doubt very much they will even try to do that, but we would totally devastate them. That is not the way they will deliver over these threats.

There are credible threats. Let us invest some of this money in a technology to screen the 500 million containers coming into the United States, to screen the Mexican semis that are about to start streaming across the border to all points in the United States with no inspection.

How do my colleagues think they are going to deliver it? They are not going to try to deliver it into a container, or they might put it in a truck and let us detect it. They will put it in a truck, they will put it in a container, maybe a suitcase or maybe a van. And while we are wasting all this money for technology that probably will not work anyway, they are going to be planning an incredible attack.

Mr. Doggett. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Mr. Chairman, in the aftermath of September 11, there is even more interest than usual in rushing legislation through the House. Certainly all of us respect the time, effort, and expertise of this subcommittee in trying to develop the best bill. There is not a Member of this House that does not want to provide every dollar that is essential to securing the future of America and of every American family. But I believe it is appropriate, as is happening here on the floor of the House today, that we at least devote as much time to this expenditure of $354 billion of taxpayer money as we normally allot to a bill naming a post office.

I commend the gentleman from Massachusetts for his courage in advancing these amendments, because the most recent sequel of the Administration’s Star Wars plans is considerably similar to the most recent sequel of the Star Wars movie. It depends in the main on gimmicks and special effects.

One of our colleagues has told us today about the success of one of a number of tests that was done with a bullet hitting a bullet. If my colleagues believe that our adversaries will choose their clear night, will answer the launch time to us, will ensure there is good weather along the full route of the missile, and, in addition, they will place a homing beacon in the missile they are firing at American cities, then, perhaps, with those disclaimers, this is a system worth considering, with one major exception. Because even under those circumstances, even under the best-case scenario, I have yet to hear a single official or a single advocate who will demonstrate that it is going to work.

And guess what? While we are spending $354 billion of taxpayer money as we normally allot to a bill that would be 85 or 95 percent effective in stopping most of the missiles from coming in, I suggest that is like going out in the rain with an umbrella full of holes. It is better to consider whether there is not a better way to stay dry than to use that kind of leaky umbrella.

It builds a sense of false security. It encourages adventurism. It encourages a foreign policy that promises the American people 100 percent security when, in fact, experts agree we are going to expose some Americans to a nuclear catastrophe to an extent that we have never seen in the history of the world. It would make a Hiroshima or a Nagasaki look like a small disaster in comparison.

I would suggest that, there is not an expert around that does not think if we build at Fort Greely and begin this kind of effort that we will not have more missiles designed to be targeted to the United States by our potential adversaries.

If the Chinese build more missiles, and there has been a suggestion that they would as a result of this kind of construction at Fort Greely, what impact might that have on the Indians who are a little closer than San Francisco to China? If the Indians begin building more missiles because the Chinese are building more missiles, what impact might that have on the Pakistanis and the Iranians? And if the Pakistanis build more missiles, what impact might that have on the Iranians, with whom they have had some competition in Afghanistan? And if the Iranians build more missiles, what impact might that have on Egypt?

What we are looking at in Fort Greely is the beginning of a system that will lead to destabilization and to an arms race, the ultimate effect of which will be jeopardizing the security of American families.

It is because we share a commitment as deep as the advocates for this bill in the desire to defend our country that we speak out against Star Wars and in favor of the amendment of the gentleman from Massachusetts, because we believe the true security of our Nation rests on stopping the false security of this phony Star Wars system.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

(Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN asked and was given permission to revise and extend the remarks of the previous speaker.)

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN asked and was given permission to revise and extend the remarks of the previous speaker.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN. Mr. Chairman, I rise to support the bill and to oppose this amendment and particularly to thank the chairman, the gentleman from California (Mr. LEWIS), and the ranking member, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. MURTHA), for their work with me, as well as the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. SABO), on finding a proper replacement for the Crusader.

I want to thank the gentlemen and staff for all their work in protecting those technologies and the brain trust that goes with those jobs.

Mr. Chairman, I rise today in strong support of the Fiscal Year 2003 Defense Appropriations bill. I thank Chairman LEWIS and Congressman MURTHA, the ranking member, as well as their staff, for their work.

We are still a nation at war, and our first and foremost priority at this time must be to the men and women we have called upon to fight. And the first of the regular FY03 Appropriations bills that this body will consider, and that it should be the first of the FY03 appropriations bills to be sent to the President's desk for his signature.

Since the tragic events of September 11, we have been asked a great deal of our military. And Congress has acted to provide them with additional funds to purchase ammunition and equipment, to pay them better wages, and to make sure their families have a decent place to live, access to health care, while their loved ones are fighting for our freedom in Afghani- stan, South Korea, the Middle East and around the globe.

But while it is important that we continue to meet the immediate needs of our armed forces, we must begin to look ahead at their future needs, and focus on what investments are truly worthy.

When it comes to war, we want overwhelming superiority in every way. We want our soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines, and the men and women who work behind the scenes, to have the most advanced, most revolutionary, most lethal systems possible.

I am pleased that this bill contains $57.7 billion for research and development on the next generation of lighter, more mobile, more lethal systems.

However, this bill does not contain funding for one critical R&D project—the Crusader Self-propelled Howitzer, which Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld proposed terminating. This system would have brought revolutionary technologies to the battlefield and provided a true “leap ahead” from the currently fielded Paladin.

While this bill on the floor today meets the administration’s objective of terminating the Crusader program, this committee has recognized the need for ground-based indirect fire support capabilities, and it supports a large leap ahead toward developing the Army’s next generation of these systems. I want to take this opportunity to thank Chairman LEWIS and Mr. MURTHA and his staff for working closely with me and Mr. SABO to shape the direction of the Army’s replacement for the Crusader. They have put in long hours, and I believe they have crafted a compromise which keeps the Crusader project intact while mov- ing ahead with the development of a lighter, more mobile, more lethal system.

Air superiority alone cannot win all our nation’s future wars. We must maintain robust ground warfare capabilities, including a range of direct and indirect fire support systems. Our soldiers on the ground need direct and indirect fire support systems that can hit their targets, day or night, rain or shine.

One system that will fill that need to provide ground-based fire support is the Lightweight 155mm Towed Howitzer. The committee and the amendment offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. LEWIS) have fully funded this joint Marine Corps and Army program which will provide a means for our soldiers to fire the Excalibur precision munition round. The importance of getting this system in the hands of our soldiers and Marines, sooner rather than later, is more critical given the cancellation of the Crusader.

Further, to address future indirect fire support needs, the Committee has provided $368.5 million to begin development of a future Army objective fire vehicle. These funds include $136 million for the maturation and transfer of indirect fire support capabilities from the Crusader, as was requested in the President’s recent FY03 Budget Amendment. Additionally, the Committee provided $173 million for the integration of revolutionary cannon technologies onto a new, lighter platform.

As a result, the Marine Corps can so carefully crafted by the chairman and his staff this bill will allow us to harness the “brain trust” behind the development of Crusader’s revolutionary technologies—the liquid-cooled cannon, automated loading mechanism, crew compartment and software—and imbue these in a lighter, more mobile, more lethal replacement system.

Many of the scientists and engineers responsible for developing these revolutionary Cru- sader technologies work for the Program Manager for Crusader at Picatinny Arsenal in my district.

I am confident that Picatinny’s “brain trust” is up to the challenge of developing a system that possesses the capabilities and advances that will bring this weapon to the battlefield in a package that is half the weight, and can become part of the Army’s arsenal within the next six years.

Also contained in this bill is funding for a broad range of projects at Picatinny in areas such as homeland security, directed energy, nanotechnology and environmental remediation, which I support because they provide our soldiers in the field with the tools they need to win.

I urge my colleagues to stand in support of the men and women who are fighting on behalf of our nation, and to vote for this bill.

Providing for Consideration of Motions to SUSPEND the Rules

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, by direction of the Committee on Rules, I call up House Resolution 463 and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the resolution, as follows:

H. Res. 463
Resolved, That it shall be in order at any time on the legislative day of Thursday, June 27, 2002, for the Speaker to entertain motions to suspend the rules relating to the resolution (H. Res. 459) expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that Newdow v. U.S. Congress was erroneously decided, and for other purposes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LINDER) is recognized for 1 hour.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of debate only, I yield the customary 30 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. McGovern), pending which I yield myself such time as I consume.

H. Res. 463 provides that it shall be in order at any time on the legislative day of Thursday, June 27, 2002, for the Speaker to entertain motions to suspend the rules relating to the resolution, H. Res. 459, expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that Newdow v. U.S. Congress was erroneously decided.

Yesterday was a sad day for the millions and millions of Americans who understand and appreciate the significance of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Incredibly, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals decided to overturn a 1954 act of Congress, which added the phrase “under God” to the Pledge of Allegiance, ruling that these two words violated the Constitution’s Establishment Clause which requires the separation of church and state.

This fatally-flawed ruling, taken to its logical endpoint, would indicate that our currency, which contains the phrase “In God We Trust,” is unconstitutional. Clearly, that is not true, but, in the meantime, the Ninth Circuit has issued this inexplicable ruling.

This decision, if not overturned by the U.S. Supreme Court, will force a number of Western States to remove this important phrase from the Pledge of Allegiance.

I am proud to stand with my colleagues today on both sides of the aisle as we fight to protect our American heritage. In bringing the underlying legislation, H. Res. 459, to the floor, we are reaffirming our commitment to bedrock values and beliefs that have made the United States of America the greatest country on Earth. I firmly believe that the Pledge of Allegiance should continue to include the entire phrase “One Nation Under God.”

I want to thank the chairman of the House Committee on the Judiciary, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. Sensenbrenner), for his leadership in bringing this important legislation to the House floor so quickly, given that the Ninth Circuit’s ruling was handed down only yesterday afternoon.

I urge my colleagues and fellow Americans getting ready to celebrate the birth of our country next week to remember the spirit that made us a great Nation.

The phrase “One Nation Under God” reflects a spiritual belief that was so important to our forefathers, a belief in God that was instrumental to the founding of our country. I believe we, as members of Congress, have a duty and an obligation to express our vigorous disagreement with this ruling, rather than simply allow it to stand unchallenged.

On a personal note, Mr. Speaker, in 1976, in the Georgia legislature, my friend, Tommy Tolbert, and I provided an amendment to the education bill that required every class in Georgia to make available at some point during every day the Pledge of Allegiance for the students in those classes through Georgia and not stopped by the Ninth Circuit, as it has been called, decides that the Congress did not know what it was doing in 1954.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this rule and then supporting the underlying legislation which will allow the House to go on record in regard to this out-of-touch ruling.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. McGovern. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Linder), for yielding me the customary time.

Mr. Speaker, this rule provides for the consideration of H. Res. 459 under suspension of the rules. The underlying resolution expresses the sense of this House that Newdow versus U.S. Congress was erroneously decided.

I now appeal to my colleagues to support this rule and to support the underlying resolution.

Yesterday, a three-judge panel of the Ninth Circuit Courts of Appeals ruled that the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional. It is difficult to describe that decision as anything but just plain dumb.

I strongly support the separation of church and State, and I strongly support the provision in the first amendment that prohibits government from establishing State-sponsored religion. The first amendment protects American citizens from government interference in their spiritual lives. It allows people to worship as they wish, and it allows them to refuse to worship at all.

The Pledge of Allegiance hardly rises to the level of a mandated national religion. The phrase “One Nation Under God” is similar to “In God We Trust” on our currency or “God Bless America” sung at high school graduations or even sung on the floor of this House. These invocations of God have more to do with tradition and heritage than... with the government forcing people to believe or practice a certain type of faith.

Every day in the well of this House a Member leads us in the Pledge of Allegiance. I had the honor of leading the Pledge of Allegiance just last week. The Pledge has for all who say it a sacred bond, regardless of party or ideology, and express our love for this Nation and our commitment to our democracy. But we also have the right not to say the Pledge at all.

As the Supreme Court ruled in 1963, it is unconstitutional to force people to say the Pledge. And the resolution before us states that the United States Congress recognizes the right of those who do not share the beliefs expressed in the Pledge to refrain from its recitation.

But here come a panel of the often-overturned Ninth Circuit, interestingly enough led by an appointee of the Nixon administration, charging into a no-win situation, issuing a divisive and unnecessary ruling. There are so many important issues facing our Nation, and I can say honestly that I have never had a constituent rush up to me in Worcester or Attleboro or Fall River to demand that we remove ‘under God’ from the Pledge of Allegiance.

Indeed, yesterday’s ruling only serves to trivialize the very real issues of church/state separation that deserve a full and fair hearing before all the branches of government. But the Constitution also protects the rights of American citizens to have their day in court. That is what the plaintiff in this case has done; and because of the structure of our government, Congress cannot overturn that decision. We can only express our disapproval, which this resolution does in very clear and appropriate terms.

It will be up to the full Ninth Circuit and possibly the Supreme Court itself to toss this ruling into the dustbin of history. In the meantime, Congress has the right to call a higher court. That is what the plaintiff in this case wants to do. Even former justice William Brennan argued that in certain expressions “it is obvious that [the] tendency to establish religion in this country or to interfere with the freedom of conscience of others is de minimis.” Amen.

(A panel of the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled 2 to 1 that the Pledge of Allegiance—also known as ‘I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands; one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all’—is unconstitutional. And the reason? Because of that phrase ‘under God’ inserted by Congress 48 years ago."

The court said an atheist or holder of non-Judeo-Christian beliefs would be forced to say the Pledge of Allegiance just last week. I had the honor of leading the Pledge of Allegiance yesterday. Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion. Just last week, Michael Newdow, who has complained that his daughter is injured when she is forced to recite the Pledge, led students daily in a pledge that includes the assertion that there is a God.

This is a well-meaning ruling, but it lacks common sense. A generic two-word reference to God would suggest that such practices as the desecration of the national motto, or the references to God contained in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag can best be understood as a form of 'ceremonial deism' protected from Establishment Clause scrutiny chiefly because they have lost through rote repetition any significant religious content.

Other justices have likewise presumed the answer to the question, and no court of appeals should blithely generate a political firestorm—one that was already beginning yesterday—just to find out whether they mean what they said.

As Judge Ferdinand Fernandez pointed out in dissent, the establishment clause tolerates ‘under God’ in the pledge because ‘it does not create a prima facie case of violation of the constitutional deism’; ‘It is okay to sing “God Bless America” or “America the Beautiful” at official events? Is American currency unconstitutional? Is the answer to the question, “No!” Judge Fernandez argues, that in certain expressions “it is obvious that the tendency to establish religion in this country or to interfere with the freedom of conscience of others is de minimis.” Amen.

which may now be unconstitutional because it says, “In God We Trust.” The appeal should come swiftly. God willing, it will.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. ROHRABACHER).

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in strong support of this rule and the underlying resolution. Also, I rise today in outrage and indignation over yet the latest manifestation of an ongoing assault on the rights of Americans who cherish their beliefs and their commitment to God.

This is not just about the Pledge of Allegiance, although forcing people to excuse God from this voluntary oath is bad enough. A liberal left coalition has been trying to do their best for decades to neuter American traditions that is based on God, beliefs and traditions that Americans have held dear for two centuries.

We see it in the attack on the rights of the Boy Scouts to have God in their scout oaths and have a high moral standard. We see it in our schools when they preempt Christmas programs and instead make them holiday programs. We see it in our courts when at a sudden a manger scene or some recognition of Hanukkah are left out during those holy months. We see it when the courthouse takes down the Ten Commandments; and we see it when the National Endowment for the Arts subsidizes art works, supposed, so-called art work that attacks Christianity but then passes when it comes to religious works.

Yes, getting God out of the Pledge of Allegiance is bad; but it is part of an attempt, an overall attempt to use the judicial system to attack our fundamental liberties, especially the liberties of those of us who believe in God.

This is one reason why many of us are so concerned about who controls the United States Senate, because it will be the United States Senate who controls who is on the Supreme Court. No one has ever been forced to pray or to acknowledge God, but the liberal coalition that is involved in taking this Pledge and eliminating God from the Pledge are using our courts to attack the freedom of those who do believe in God and attack our rights to our expression.

Today, those of us who believe in God, those of us who cherish liberty need to unite to make sure that those who would use our court system, especially on to the Supreme Court, are defeated in their attempts to neuter America of its traditional recognition of God. I for one stand for liberty, and together we will keep God in our Pledge of Allegiance; and we will defeat this way to sever America and America from our religious traditions, and we will protect our people’s precious rights to have their faith in God and to express it; and at the same time, we will protect those who do not believe in God.

This is, as I say, a fundamental attack by atheists as part of a liberal left coalition to attack the rights of us who do believe in God to express that, and we must stand together with those of us who believe and nonbelievers together for human liberty which is what America is all about.

Mr. McCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. HOLDEN).

Mr. HOLDEN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me the time.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of the rule and of the underlying resolution. I, like all of my colleagues and the entire American people, are outraged at the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, who have declared the Pledge of Allegiance unconstitutional because of the words “under God.”

Mr. Speaker, patriotism is at an all-time high in rise since September 11 as we stand united behind our Commander in Chief as we stand behind those brave men and women who wear the uniform daily and are fighting the war on terrorism in Afghanistan and across the world.

This decision could not have come at a worse time. This decision was ill advised. It was ridiculous, and we need to send a clear message that we are going to stand as a Congress to see that the court should reverse itself or the Supreme Court should overrule it. If they do not, then this Congress should act to protect the Pledge of Allegiance.

For decades, Americans have said the Pledge of Allegiance as a way to show their respect and love for this country. We say it every day we are in session here on the floor of the people’s House. The Pledge is a statement reaffirming our belief in our country and the values for which it stands. Now more than ever those values, liberty, justice, equality, are so needed.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this rule, this resolution, and the Pledge of Allegiance. Yesterday, a Federal court ruled that the recitation of the Pledge is unconstitutional and all because it contains the words “under God.” Mr. Speaker, I strongly oppose this ruling, and I know that I speak for my constituents when I say that the court should reverse itself or the Supreme Court should overrule it. If they do not, then this Congress should act to protect the Pledge of Allegiance.

We hold the Creator, the one who gave us this Nation, and we hold the people who created this Nation, the Pledge of Allegiance, as a true representation of the spirit of freedom and liberty in our country. If we lose the Pledge of Allegiance, then we lose one of the most important symbols that we have as a Nation, and we lose it to the courts.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. HYDE).

Mr. HYDE. Mr. Speaker, we ought to thank the court. It brought us together, Democrats and Republicans, in unanimity, something that is seldom seen around here.

Actually, though, the court’s decision embarrasses us. We have been living in a dream world. Back in the Mayflower Compact, under God, the sentence, “In the name of God, amen.”

If we go on through that to the Declaration of Independence, “We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal and are endowed with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.” Our human rights are the endowment from the Creator. That is a fundamental premise of America, and it is in our birth certificate, the Declaration of Independence.

The Treaty of Paris, which resolved the Revolutionary War, mentions God.
Abraham Lincoln on November 19, 1863, in a cold, windy little cemetery in Pennsylvania asked a very haunting question, whether this Nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal, can long endure, and the end of that great speech in American literature, he says that we here highly resolve but that these dead shall not have died in vain and that this Nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom and that government of the people and for the people shall not perish from the Earth.

So we are embarrassed by the decision. We have been barking up the wrong tree. We thought it was a good thing to acknowledge the fatherhood of God, to acknowledge our debt to Providence and to do so in a public way. The Supreme Court in 1892, in a case called Church of the Holy Trinity versus the U.S. said, “This is a religious Nation.” That same court in 1961, in a case called Engel v. Vitale We are a religious people whose institutions presuppose a supreme being.

So this decision by these three judges, two of the three judges in the Ninth Circuit, is based on a total lack of research, knowledge, of American history, of American culture, of American tradition. It is an embarrassment; and we as a coequal branch of government ought to rise up and say no, no, it is wrong, and acknowledge, continue to acknowledge the primacy of the supreme being who has blessed this country for more than 225 years.

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from Ohio (Mrs. JONES).

Mrs. JONES of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me the time.

I rise here in support of this resolution. I am a graduate of Cleveland public schools, and I can remember as a little girl at Miles Standish Elementary School learning the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag and it being so important to me. In third grade, we learned French, and we even learned how to say the Pledge of Allegiance in French in that third grade class; and here I stand 53 years old, and I am still able to remember that I said: Je jure fidelite au drapeau des Etats-Unis d’Amerique et a la Republique qu’il represente, une Nation sous Dieu, and so forth. We learned it in French and it was very important to me as I thought about it.

I too am embarrassed by the Ninth Circuit Court. I am embarrassed that this court would take a pledge, when we make allegiance to our country, and try and take it out of context and move on; but I am even more disappointed today in the United States Supreme Court, because I come from the great city of Cleveland.

Today the United States Supreme Court made the decision that vouchers were not unconstitutional, that vouchers in the establishment clause could be used to pay for religious education with public dollars, I was very interested in the decision. It said that parents have a choice to where they send their children, that the dollars go to the parents, and so, therefore, it is not a violation of the establishment clause. The dissenting justices, who I agree with, said but it is clear based on the facts in this case that 96.6 percent of the students of the Cleveland public schools go to religious institutions and there are very few other options other than religious institutions for these children to go to.

Many of my colleagues know that before I came to this body I served as a judge, and I was very proud to be a judge, and I am very proud of the profession of judges that I sat with and that I served with. But I have to say that these two decisions yesterday, decision in regard to the Pledge of Allegiance to the United States of America and today’s decision by the U.S. Supreme Court with regard to vouchers has disgraced this court.

The last thing I would say, Mr. Speaker, is as we talk about the importance of this Pledge of Allegiance to the United States, lest we not remember that portion which says with liberty and justice for all, that all get liberty and justice.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield such time as he might consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. CUNNINGHAM).

Mr. CUNNINGHAM. Mr. Speaker, George Washington was quoted as saying, “An atheist is a person with no invisible means of support.” and I think that that person that brought this lawsuit forward, I do not think, I know, he has got the right to feel like he does; but it is also our right to detest that particular point of view.

We stand here today, I do not care if someone is a Christian, Muslim, Jew, I think to denounce that decision that the Standish case was made in Covington, and I would tell my colleagues, there was a time in my own life, I was raised in a Christian family, had to go to church every Sunday. When I got out on my own, I could not say that I actually knew that there was a God at one time.

On May 10, 1972, over the skies of Vietnam, my aircraft was hit with a surface-to-air missile and the airplane started going out of control, and it actually rolled upside down; and like anyפופler I would never ask for God’s help was when I was in trouble. I remember thinking, God, get me out of this, I do not want to be a prisoner of war or die. The airplane righted itself as I took the stick and put it to the left side, and I remember thinking, God, if I do not have anything to do with this, it was just my superior flying skills that righted this airplane; but about that time, the airplane went back upside down, and I remember thinking, God, I did not mean it, get me out of this.

I will tell the people that are atheist or do not support this resolution, all they have to do is get on their knees and say a prayer and I do not care what religion they are, somebody is going to listen.

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE).

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I thank the distinguished gentleman of the Committee on Rules for yielding me this time and also for the very fine presentation that he made today. I think he clarified the debate that will be framed even more as we move into general debate.

I would like to just briefly, though there is much that I can say from the patriotic perspective and my love for this country, but more importantly the great honor I take in saying the Pledge to the United States of America every day, and would encourage the young people of America to take as much pride in pledging loyalty to their Nation. But I do want to speak to the appropriateness of the resolution as it is constructed, and that is a disagreement with the context and the decision of the particular court.

I am very much respectful of the independence of the three branches of government, the judiciary and the legislative; and so it is appropriate that the context is such that we express disagreement, but I will expand more in terms of debate and discussion on the language that is in this court opinion that suggests that our children will be put in untenable positions of choosing between participation in an exercise with religious context or protesting. That is not accurate.

In fact, what actually occurs is the right of freedom of religion and speech. The speaker has freedom of speech under the first amendment, and the individual who chooses not to say the Pledge of Allegiance has the freedom of religion. Therefore, I am unsure of the line of analysis that the court has made to suggest that one is protesting and that it is untenable. That individual is expressing their freedom of religion by their decision to not express themselves through the Pledge of Allegiance to the United States of America.

I would hope that as this decision makes its way through to the Supreme Court we will once and for all understand the context of the first amendment, that is the freedom of expression, the freedom of religion, and the choice to do so.

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume, and I would close by urging my colleagues to support this rule and support the underlying resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume, and I urge my colleagues to support this resolution and to support the underlying bill.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the resolution.
SENSE OF HOUSE THAT NEWDOW V. U. S. CONGRESS WAS ERRONEOUSLY DECIDED

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 459) expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that Newdow v. U. S. Congress was erroneously decided, and for other purposes.

The Clerk reads as follows:

H. Res 459

Whereas on June 26, 2002, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals held that the Pledge of Allegiance is an unconstitutional endorsement of religion; and whereas the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) and the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER), General Leave.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous material on House Resolution 459, the resolution under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Wisconsin?

There was no objection.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 5 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco topped itself, not an easy accomplishment for the court of appeals with the dubious record of being most likely to be reversed by the U. S. Supreme Court. It did so by ruling in Newdow v. U. S. Congress that the voluntary recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance by public school students is an unconstitutional endorsement of religion and, thus, a violation of the first amendment’s establishment clause.
me is language on page 932, which says, "But, legal word abstractions and ruminations aside, when all is said and done, the danger that ‘under God’ in our Pledge of Allegiance will tend to bring about a theocracy or suppress someone’s freedom to be de minimis. The danger that phrase presents to our first amendment freedoms is picayune at most. Judges, including Supreme Court Justices, have recognized the lack of danger in similar expressions for decades, if not for centuries."

But whatever we think of the decision, Mr. Speaker, the only thing worse than the decision is the spectacle of the Members of the United States House of Representatives putting aside discussions of prescription drug benefits under Medicare to take up and pass this resolution. When we were sworn in, we promised to uphold the Constitution, and it is important to acknowledge that the judiciary ruling based on constitutional rights will be unpopular. If the issue were popular, the litigant would vindicate his rights using the normal democratic process. Obviously, the fact that the litigant had to rely on constitutional avenues means that he was in the minority.

This is the way it always is with constitutional rights. An individual does not need a constitutional right of free speech to say something popular. They only need it when the majority has the legislative and police power to stop them from expressing their views, and the decision will obviously not be politically popular.

In that light, Mr. Speaker, what Members of Congress think of the decision is irrelevant. If the judicial branch finds the Pledge to be unconstitutional, which I do not believe it will ultimately do, no bill we can pass will change that.

Mr. Speaker, because the decision is based on constitutional rights, it will always be unpopular, and what we think about the decision is irrelevant, and that is why it is so important business to address. I would hope that this resolution will be defeated.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), the majority whip.

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentleman yielding me this time.

I just want to answer the last speaker. That kind of attitude that thinks that when a judge speaks that that is the law of the land, well, it does not work that way by the Constitution. There are checks and balances in our Constitution, and what Congress does is relevant to what the judiciary does.

Congress is going to stand up in this particular case and fight the judiciary of this country and stop them from running amuck. There is accountability but not of the Constitution, as long as this Congress understands that they have a responsibility to defend the Constitution against a runaway judiciary.

It appears that this Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals has experienced another short-circuit. This court went way too far, and we know that. This Congress is committed to righting that court’s wrongs, starting right here, right now, today.

Now, as to this absurd logic, the following could be in danger of being outlawed:

The four mentions of God in the Declaration of Independence that made our country free; the oath that each President signs to the Constitution, which holds our Nation together; the words etched right here above the Speaker in this august institution that helps govern our Nation; the phrase that begins with each U.S. Supreme Court session, “God Save the United States;” the oath of witnesses to tell the truth in courts that protect us; our own currency that keeps our Nation prosperous; and the singing of God bless America on the steps of this Capitol that signaled yesterday our resolve.

So as my colleagues can see, this absurd decision was made by a court run amuck; and I urge all our Members, of all political stripes, to send a clear message and put the stars and stripes, along with the words “God Bless America” as the banner for their.gov websites.

As upset as we all are, once again we must summon the best in us to defend this one Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all. This Congress is not going to let anyone strip our Nation of our proud heritage; not now, not ever.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to myself.

Mr. Speaker, on constitutional issues, the judicial branch and the Supreme Court is the law of the land, even if those decisions are unpopular.

If we had to wait for school integration to be popular in America, people in many States would still be going to segregated schools. It is important that we note that the Supreme Court is the law of the land on constitutional issues.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE).

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I indicated earlier today that I adhere to the loyalty Pledge that is taken by all of us to pledge allegiance to the United States of America and find comfort in the fact that since 1954, we have been able to say “one nation under God, indivisible.” I say it without hesitation, and I support this resolution.

Allow me, however, to track an understanding for the American people. I think that is important. It is likewise important to acknowledge the status and the position it relates to the laws of the land that the courts have. My colleague from Virginia is absolutely correct. When we look to the courts, we look to them to establish a body of law; and, of course, the Congress has a responsibility as an equal in the lineage of hierarchy in this Nation, judicial, legislative and executive, to speak its will and its mind.

What Congress does today is a Congress speaking its will and its mind. It is speaking to the American people. It is saying all is well. It is suggesting to them its interpretation of the utilization of the Pledge of Allegiance, something that is done most mornings in our schools around the Nation, most times at ceremonial activities, and certainly after September 11, recognizing the privilege we have in this country to pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

But allow me to take the first amendment again and refer us to it as I read from the Constitution of the United States. When Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, the petition for a redress of grievances.

Mr. Speaker, I believe the first amendment is the first amendment because the Founding Fathers thought this had to be one of the highest tenets of our democracy. Why? Because our country was founded on those who were fleeing from persecution.

I would take issue, and I have the right now as I am debating on this floor, I have a right to take issue, I have a right to make a statement of what I believe in, is that in pledging allegiance to the flag or not pledging allegiance to the flag, Americans are exercising their freedom of religion. It is not classified or should not be classified as a religious exercise. An individual is absolutely within their right to exercise their freedom of religion.

I disagree with the decision of this particular court, but I do believe it has the right to move forward through the judicial process to express its view as well.

Let me share the dissent of the court that I think is accurate. Judge Ferdinand Fernandez pointed out in dissent: “The establishment clause tolerates quite a few instances of ceremonial deism. Is it okay to sing ‘God Bless America’ or ‘America The Beautiful’ at official events? Is American currency unconstitutional?”

The answer must be, as Judge Ferdinand Fernandez argues, that in certain expressions it is obvious that the tendency to establish religion in this country ought to interfere with the free exercise or nonexercise of religion is de minimus.

The point is to take that a step further and suggest that the first amendment allows one to exercise their religious faith. In not saying the Pledge of Allegiance, it is exercised. It is not a protest. I say it. I willingly say it. I believe it should be said. I do not believe it is unconstitutional. I believe this resolution is intact and appropriate because it allows an equal, independent branch of government to express its views on a decision that has been made. We all have to adhere to the procedures of this land, the democracy as it works; and that is a republic, three branches of government. We will watch this case as it goes forward. I proudly rise today to urge my colleagues to support this resolution. I believe the interpretation is accurate.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 30 seconds.

Mr. Speaker, I am a little bit disturbed that what the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT) seemed to have said was that Congress should never question a court decision that is based on constitutional grounds. Had he and I been in Congress before the Civil War when the Supreme Court decided the Dred Scott case, and none of us would claim to be in the House at that time in the 1800s. Maybe we are looking quite young at this point, but I would join him in asking for a commentary on that case. Likewise, some of us are going to be asking for a comment on the question dealing with the constitutionality of vouchers. We happen to believe that it is a most unhappy and certainly an untimely issue as I review it, dealing with the question of drug testing. What this does, in fact, is I hope out of the spirit of bipartisanship, and I certainly hope the distinguished majority whip was not suggesting that this issue is liberal or conservative, we are all over the lot on this particular legislative initiative. I support it, but I am going to be looking for bipartisan support when it comes to discussing what I think is an untimely decision on the court’s ruling. I could not disagree more. What they are saying is because this is de minimis, because that was in the dissenting view, therefore, it is okay to let it go. That is a way of standing on two stools. That is a way of having it both ways because it is not important.

Well, I do not think that it is unimportant. I do not think that it is trivial. I think acknowledging the primacy of Almighty God is of transcendent importance, and I guess de minimis is in the minds of the analysts; but I could not disagree more. In addition to the Dred Scott case, Plessy v. Ferguson, there is a whole line of cases that I am sure the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT), the former chairman of the committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. HYDE. Mr. Speaker, I just want to comment on what has been said by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT) and the gentleman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE).

I could not disagree more. What they are saying is because this is de minimis, because that was in the dissenting view, therefore, it is okay to let it go. That is a way of standing on two stools. That is a way of having it both ways because it is not important.

Well, I do not think that it is unimportant. I do not think that it is trivial. I think acknowledging the primacy of Almighty God is of transcendent importance, and I guess de minimis is in the minds of the analysts; but I could not disagree more. In addition to the Dred Scott case, Plessy v. Ferguson, there is a whole line of cases that I am sure the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT), my distinguished learned friend, would disagree with and not invest them with a dignity because they come from the Court.

And, lastly, I point out to my dear friend, the gentlewoman from Houston, Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE), that the first amendment has two parts: the establishment and the free exercise.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE).

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I indicated my support for this resolution because I believe this is an appropriate comment time by the House. I also suggest to Members, however, that what happens with this kind of approach, and I am at this moment thinking of this because it is of such concern to me, my colleague from Ohio mentioned this, and the distinguished chairman mentioned the Dred Scott case, and none of us would claim to be in the House at that time in the 1800s. Maybe we are looking quite young at this point, but I would join him in asking for a commentary on that case.

Likewise, some of us are going to be asking for a comment on the question dealing with the constitutionality of vouchers. We happen to believe that it is a most unhappy and certainly an untimely issue as I review it, dealing with the question of drug testing. What this does, in fact, is I hope out of the spirit of bipartisanship, and I certainly hope the distinguished majority whip was not suggesting that this issue is liberal or conservative, we are all over the lot on this particular legislative initiative. I support it, but I am going to be looking for bipartisan support when it comes to discussing what I think is an untimely decision on the court’s ruling. I could not disagree more. What they are saying is because this is de minimis, because that was in the dissenting view, therefore, it is okay to let it go. That is a way of standing on two stools. That is a way of having it both ways because it is not important.

Well, I do not think that it is unimportant. I do not think that it is trivial. I think acknowledging the primacy of Almighty God is of transcendent importance, and I guess de minimis is in the minds of the analysts; but I could not disagree more. In addition to the Dred Scott case, Plessy v. And, lastly, I point out to my dear friend, the gentlewoman from Houston, Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE), that the first amendment has two parts: the establishment and the free exercise.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE).

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, if the distinguished gentleman from Illinois (Mr. HYDE) would listen, the chairman, he has misinterpreted my remarks. I quoted from the dissent, and what I said was out of the dissent of Judge Fernandez, I believe, that any commentary about God is de minimis in terms of saying that someone is practicing religion. I support the fact that saying ‘under God’ is not violating religious freedom.

Mr. HYDE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentlewoman yield?

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. I yield to the gentleman from Illinois.

Mr. HYDE. Mr. Speaker, it is ‘de minimis’ that offends me.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. It is in the court’s ruling.

Mr. HYDE. Mr. Speaker, I understand the court’s ruling, and it was in the editorial in the Washington Post; but I disagree.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. It is in the dissent.

Mr. HYDE. I disagree.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, in reclaiming my time, if the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. HYDE) disagrees, would he please indicate that he is disagreeing because he does not like the term ‘de minimis’ used by the judge who is supporting his position, because I am supporting the position that we have a right to comment on it and supporting the resolution. Please make sure that is clarified.

Mr. HYDE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentlewoman yield?

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. I yield to the gentleman from Illinois.

Mr. HYDE. I object to ‘de minimis’ from whatever source.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. I will cite that to the Washington Post.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, how much time remains on both sides?

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SHIMkus). Both sides have exactly 10 1/2 minutes remaining.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS).

Mr. GEKAS. Ms. Jackson-Lee, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

The game is just beginning. We are in the first inning of what may turn out to be a long game in trying to overturn this decision by the Ninth Circuit. We must remember that this was only a three-judge panel, not representing necessarily the total views of all the Ninth Circuit. In that regard, we have directed that a letter be sent to the presiding judge of the Ninth Circuit to ask that they reconsider the decision rendered by the three-judge panel, which is within our right to ask and which is within the right of the Ninth Circuit to reconsider. So now we stretch out the possibilities that we have to overturn this decision. If they do the right thing and overturn their own panel, the game has ended. If not, then the game stretches on to the Supreme Court, which will undoubtedly undertake this case.

We will be guided when we see it go to the Supreme Court with the fact that the court has determined that the opposite of what the Ninth Circuit may be leading to draw, and so we are strengthened by the resolve that when yielding to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER), the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. HYDE), chairman of the committee, indicated what would happen in a position between Plessy v. Ferguson or Dred Scott. The litigants in those cases, Mr. Speaker, lost and I suspect that the Congress might have even approved of that.

But we are told that it is unconstitutional for our children to name God as a sacred oath all Americans take to uphold the values of freedom and independence for which so many veterans have fought and died. It is an outrage that today as our brave men and women are overseas defending our great country against the threat of terrorism, these words that represent the very core of the American values come under attack.

I ask my colleagues and the American people again to show our independence and protest the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals decision by joining together as ‘one Nation under God’ to reject the Pledge of Allegiance on that day we celebrate soon, 226 years of independence, on July 4. I ask all Americans to stop what they are doing on that day this July 4 and with hand over heart recite the Pledge that has reminded millions of schoolchildren each and every day of why America is the greatest Nation on the face of the Earth.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2½ minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. WATT).

Mr. WATT of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Let me say at the outset that when the vote is put on this resolution, I intend to vote ‘present.’

I have had a discussion with the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT) earlier today about whether I agree or disagree with the court’s opinion, the majority opinion, a 2–1 opinion, a part of the court; and I told him I was more with the dissent in the case than I do with the majority.

But that is almost a side issue here. The real issue is what the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS) started to say, I think, was that the process is still continuing. Three people have entered a decision, a 2–1 decision. That decision no doubt will be reviewed by the entire circuit court and no doubt ultimately be reviewed by the United States Supreme Court and we recognize that this body has a prerogative to express an opinion about anything it wants to express an opinion about, I just do not think that I want to be a party to joining in the collective expression of an opinion of the legislative side of government to the judicial side of government on this issue, particularly when the case is still pending before the court and we do not know its ultimate disposition.

I have opinions about this issue. I think the Bill of Rights’ first amendment and other amendments in the Bill of Rights was intended to protect those who are in the minority. Obviously, people who do not believe in some God are in the minority, but they are entitled to have their rights protected, too, and not to be in a coercive setting, so I can certainly understand the decision, although I do not necessarily agree with it. I just think at this juncture this body should not be expressing itself on this issue.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New York (Mr. GILMAN).

Mr. GILMAN of New York. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

I pledge myself to fight every decision by the judiciary, including this one, that seeks to drive expressions of faith, the Ten Commandments, and voluntary prayer out of schools and out of every corner of American life, so help me God.

Mr. SENSENBERGRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from New Jersey (Ms. FRELINGHUYSEN).

Ms. FRELINGHUYSEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this ruling which found our Pledge of Allegiance unconstitutional. The Pledge of Allegiance is a sacred oath all Americans take to uphold the values of freedom and independence for which so many veterans have fought and died. It is an outrage that today as our brave men and women are overseas defending our great country against the threat of terrorism, these words that represent the very core of the American values come under attack.
Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding time, and I commend Chairman SENSENBRENNER for bringing this measure to the floor at this time.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H. Res. 459, expressing the sense of Congress that Newdow v. U.S. Congress was erroneously decided by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. The Federal court’s decision is truly an insult to our Nation, a disgrace and an absurdity of justice. Moreover, it defies the basic principles of our Constitution and government. It is particularly outrageous that such a ruling was made at a time when our Nation’s dedicated men and women are fighting an ongoing war against global terrorism, the very epitome of evil. What kind of message does this court’s ruling send to our enemies? What message does it send to our patriotic military personnel out there on the front lines?

Accordingly, I urge the court to re-hear this case with all due speed and overturn this egregious injustice perpetrated against the very principles upon which our great Nation was founded.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. KINGSTON).

Mr. KINGSTON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

I just want to, I guess, me-too-it as much as possible on this. I think it is incredible that at a time when our Nation is at war, when we have suffered one of the greatest domestic tragedies in our history, that a court would be so out of touch with America that they would say this is what we need at this point in time, reversing all the other court decisions.

I certainly stand in strong support of this resolution. I just want to say when I was in Afghanistan back in January, one of the best things I saw were all the young men and women on the USS Theodore Roosevelt saluting the flag which Rudy Giuliani had flown over the rubble of the World Trade Center. I am glad that they also said the Pledge and that they know that we are one Nation under God.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PUCKETT), the cosponsor with me of this resolution.

Mr. PUCKETT. Mr. Speaker, I rise proudly as a cosponsor of this resolution. For over a generation now, our courts have taken the wrong path, eliminating prayer from schools, eliminating Christmas from our courthouses. They are saying today in our courts that access to child pornography is a constitutionally guaranteed right, and today they are saying that saying the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional.

Something is wrong. They are trying to drive God from the public square, and this is their callous. We believe that our creator endows all men with the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. History shows that every godless state every time trampled on the rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Under God and through our creator, we have our rights. We must never forget that. We must protect it so those who disagree with us will have their rights protected as well.

I urge my colleagues to continue standing for the expression of our freedom under God.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS), the ranking member of the Committee on the Judiciary.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SHIMKUS). The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SHIMKUS), the ranking member of the Committee on the Judiciary, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS), the ranking member of the Committee on the Judiciary, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. PICKERING), the cosponsor with me of this resolution. Or some who may have originally lost their way, and through our creator, we have our liberties. The fact that one panel of the Ninth Circuit that has rendered this opinion should do nothing, I hope, to diminish from Members our general, overarching respect for the judiciary.

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of the 2 minutes.

Mr. PUCKETT. Mr. Speaker, I rise proudly as a cosponsor of this resolution. For over a generation now, our courts have taken the wrong path, eliminating prayer from schools, eliminating Christmas from our courthouses. They are saying today in our courts that access to child pornography is a constitutionally guaranteed right, and today they are saying that saying the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS), the ranking member of the Committee on the Judiciary.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SHIMKUS). The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SHIMKUS), the ranking member of the Committee on the Judiciary, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS), the ranking member of the Committee on the Judiciary, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. PICKERING), the cosponsor with me of this resolution. Or some who may have originally lost their way, and through our creator, we have our liberties. All of this might be justified if there was any real question as to the constitutionality of the 1954 law that added God to the pledge. But while the Supreme Court has never specifically considered the question, the justices have left little doubt how they would do so. Essentially Justice William O. Douglas wrote high-wailing—once wrote—‘I would suggest that such practices as the designation of ‘In God We Trust’ as our national motto, or the references to God contained in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag can best be understood . . . as a form of ‘ceremonial deism’ protected from Establishment Clause scrutiny chiefly because they have lost through rote repetition any significant religious content.’ Other justices have likewise presumed the answer to the question and no court of appeals should blithely generate a political firestorm—one that was already beginning yesterday—just to find out whether they meant what they said.

Half a century ago, at the height of anti-Communist fervor, Congress added the words ‘under God’ to the Pledge of Allegiance. It was a petty attempt to link patriotism with religious identity, to distance us from the godless Soviets. But after millions of repetitions over the years, the phrase has become part of the backdrop of American life, just like the words ‘In God We Trust’ on our coins and ‘God Bless America’ uttered by Presidents at the end of important speeches, just as it is generally believed.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of the time.
Mr. Speaker, I agree with my distinguished ranking member, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS), that the Congress should not pass resolutions like this every time some of us disagree with a court decision. However, that is what was at stake in the federal court decision that struck down the Pledge of Allegiance decided yesterday. So that is why this resolution is here before us.

If we look at the consequences of this decision becoming law, they are just mind-boggling. We have heard about the currency being placed at risk. Maybe we ought to pay those two in rubles or euros or something that does not have the offensive motto “In God We Trust” on it.

“The Declaration of Independence refers to God either directly or indirectly in four separate places, and the signers of the Declaration of Independence called upon divine providence to support the revolution against the English crown. That if that is unconstitutional? Would Queen Elizabeth come back here to reclaim her sovereignty? I do not think so.

But I think that it is important that while the Court has a chance to change its mind rather than writing something in that can only be overturned by a constitutional amendment, that we express ourselves, and that is exactly what we are doing in this resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I could not believe the contorted logic that the two judges that were in the majority in the Newdow case used yesterday. They said that because all of the other kids except Mr. Newdow’s daughter got up and recited the Pledge of Allegiance, they were somehow forced to do the same. Now, that is ridiculous.

The Court, since 1943, has said, you cannot compel everybody to say the Pledge of Allegiance, and those who voluntarily do not wish to participate are perfectly and legally able to sit down and not do so. But to use the logical extension of the Court’s contorted thinking, it gives every heckler and every dissident a veto over what the majority would like to do and to do it in a way that does not coerce somebody who is in the majority from doing something against their own principles or their own beliefs. This resolution tells the court that they were wrong, that they should review and reverse.

Mr. BARR of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to support passage of H. Res. 459, “Expressing the Sense of the House of Representatives that Newdow v. U.S. Congress was Erroneously Decided.”

The Pledge of Allegiance is as much of a child’s school day as English, Math, or even recess. Yesterday, two activists jurists sitting on the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals in California robbed children in its nine states and two territories of the privilege of following the tradition in which their parents and grandparents proudly took part.

I am fully aware of the significance of the 1st Amendment’s Establishment Clause, and I wholeheartedly believe in its purpose—to prevent establishment of a state-sponsored religion—which was at the heart of our fight for independence against the English crown. However, jurists who interpret this vital clause of the Bill of Rights to prohibit even references to God, as in the Pledge of Allegiance, are way off base. A decision is allowed to stand, can we next assume the 9th Circuit will require the San Francisco mint to cease producing U.S. currency with the motto, “In God We Trust?” Or perhaps, we can look forward to these distinguished jurists prohibiting the singing of our National Anthem at government sponsored events?

The Supreme Court has already established that a person cannot be compelled to recite the Pledge of Allegiance. However, this opinion cites dicta from concurring Supreme Court Judges who, in no controlling authority, stating that the Pledge of Allegiance, “constitutes a government endorsement of religion because it sends a message to unbelievers, ‘that they are outsiders of the political community, and an accompanying message to adherents that they are insider, favored by the political community.”

Nothing could be further from the truth, which is why the Supreme Court has rejected this argument. These ceremonial references to “God” neither endorse religion, nor coerce anyone into adhering to a specific religion. The rationale of phrases like “Under his inalienable Right to Bear Arms” and “In God We Trust” is solely a reference to America’s long-standing reverence for our creator, and to the freedom and liberties that have been bestowed upon us.

Thankfully, not all the judges of the 9th Circuit are as irrational as the authors of this opinion. Judge Fernandez, writing in his dissent, stated that, “what religion clause of the 1st Amendment require is neutrality; that those clauses are, in effect, an early kind of equal protection provision and assure that government does not favor one religion against another religion or religions.” This rationale is precisely what was intended when the Bill of Rights was adopted and I am confident the full 9th Circuit, or if necessary the Supreme Court, will recognize this on appeal.

This point also underscores the necessity of pushing public officials and confirming federal judges who understand the Constitution and will use common sense and rationality in reaching decisions.

Mr. Speaker, this is a nation “under God.” It always has been. If the Republic is to endure, it must always remain so. I believe that Francis Scott Key stated it best, when he penned our national anthem in 1814, while observing the valiant defense of Fort McHenry: “Oh! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand Between their loved homes and the war’s desolation! Bless with victory and peace, may the heavy-encumbered land Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation.

Then conquer we must, for our cause it is just, And this be our motto: “In God is our trust.” A handful of judges in ivory towers may not understand this; but our Founding Fathers did, and the overwhelming majority of Americans do. I urge you to vote “aye” on H. Res. 459. Mr. TRAFACTANT. Mr. Speaker, today, I am deeply saddened to hear that a court in California has ruled that the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional.

On September 11, America turned to prayer. Churches, community groups, colleges, all of America prayed for the victims, their families, and our great Nation. On the sides of buildings and in car windows and even on the rooftops of houses the words “In God We Trust” could be seen in every city and every town across the country. People everywhere donned red white and blue ribbons in support of our military forces and preachers everywhere called our great Nation to prayer. Every moment of silence that was offered up for the victims of this great tragedy, wayward souls who had not set foot in a church in years found themselves on their knees praying for America.

And now, now after that great outpouring of faith, a court in San Francisco has decided that the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional because it mentions God. “One Nation, under God with Liberty and Justice for all.” Beam me up! I ask, what is next? Will we recite “In God We Trust” every day in our schools and from the House chamber? Will we deny members of Congress the right to recite the Pledge of Allegiance every morning? The courts started their assault on God by banning school prayer. The courts then banned the public display of the Christmas nativity scene. The courts banned students from writing papers about Jesus. Even in my home state of Ohio, the courts have ruled that our state motto “With God All Things Are Possible” is unconstitutional! Unbelievable. I am continually astounded by the utter secular American political system that continues to rationalize, debate, and deny the importance of God and why our founders placed it in our Constitution.

The founders never intended to separate God from our schools; the founders simply intended to ensure that there would not be one State-sponsored religion period. My colleagues know it, I know it, and the American people know it. I think that these judges should be tied to a chain link fence and flogged with a copy of the Constitution! They are so concerned with pleasing the FBI, the CIA, and the IRS so they won’t lose their lifetime appointments, that God has become background music in a doctor’s office!

I would like to commend my colleagues in both the House and the Senate for supporting Mr. CONYERS and supporting the Pledge of Allegiance. I also commend our President for taking a strong stand on religion and for fighting for our country’s religious freedoms. Freedoms that are taken for granted every single day, but all it takes is one voice. One atheist who does not believe that God has a place in our schools, and those simple freedoms are taken away. I urge this Congress to take whatever steps and means are necessary to invite and allow God back into our schoolrooms.

Mr. GREEN to Texas. Mr. Speaker, today I introduce a constitutional amendment that would protect the rest of the nation from the erroneous and ill-timed decision by the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals that the Pledge of Allegiance violates the First Amendment’s stricture against the establishment of a state religion.

The 9th Circuit, while arguing that this ruling is a logical extension of previous United States Supreme Court decisions, is seeking to protect citizens from the advance of a non-existent theocracy. Religion and government have existed side-by-side in our nation for over 200 years, and we still have yet to establish an official religion for America.

Writing for the majority, Judge Alfred Goodwin asserts that the “profession that we are a nation ‘under God’ is identical * * * to a profession that we are a nation ‘under Jesus,’ a nation ‘under Vishnu,’ a nation ‘under Zeus,’ or a nation ‘under god,’” because none of these professions can be neutral with respect to religion.

I disagree, and echo the thoughts of Judge Ferdinand Fernandez, who contended that there is only a “minuscule” risk that the phrase “under God” would “bring about a theocracy or suppress someone’s beliefs.” According to his colleagues, he wrote, “‘God Bless America’ and ‘America the Beautiful’ will be gone [from public places] for sure, and . . . currency beware!”

Newspapers across the country were quick to respond, with the Los Angeles Times, the San Francisco Chronicle, The Sun Jose Mercury-News, and The San Diego Union-Journal all attacking the decision of the California-based court. They were not alone, though, as nationally prominent papers known for their dedication to the First Amendment like The New York Times and The Washington Post also weighed in with their criticism of the court.

As for the timing of the issuance of this decision, the 9th Circuit chose a time when our nation is still actively engaged in the war against terrorism with our troops still present in Afghanistan, searching for al-Qaeda and Talibain operatives, providing logistical assistance and training to Philippine troops in their pursuit of the al-Qaeda ally organization Abu Sayyaf, and with the wounds of September 11 still fresh in the memory of all Americans.

I ask my colleagues to join me as cosponsors of this important legislation, and I hope that it will receive speedy consideration by this House.

Mr. CRANE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this Resolution, which recognizes that the outrageous decision rendered by a three-judge panel in San Francisco yesterday has no basis in law. I am referring, of course, to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals decision yesterday to declare the Pledge of Allegiance unconstitutional.

Mr. Speaker, I have read the Court’s opinion, which argues that the inclusion of the words “under God” in the Pledge of Allegiance violates the religious clauses of the Constitution of the United States. Specifically, we are told that the Establishment Clause, which reads as follows: “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.”

Putting the pieces together, this means that the Ninth Circuit has determined that phrases such as “under God” or “In God We Trust” tend to establish a religion, or to suppress anyone’s exercise of religion.” This conclusion is absurd on its face.

The phrase “under God” when read in the Pledge of Allegiance, acknowledges that our rights are derived from our Creator. This is a principle upon which our country was founded. How this qualifies as an attempt to suppress anyone’s exercise of religion, or how it tends to establish a religion, I’ll never know. And while I will not force anybody to believe what I believe, neither will I sit still while the ability of my fellow citizens to practice religion is trampled upon by a court that failed U.S. history.

I am saddened by this ruling, but what is most unfortunate is that I am not surprised by it. I saw this coming from a mile away, Mr. Speaker. It is the logical conclusion to a judicial philosophy promulgated over the past 30 years by the politically correct. Mr. Speaker, proof of a travesty of justice will wake up the Dauntless-led Senate up so that they might fulfill their Constitutional obligation and confirm President Bush’s nominees.

Mr. CUNNINGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to join my colleagues in condemning the Ninth Circuit Court’s ruling striking down the Pledge of Allegiance as unconstitutional. This decision is unpatriotic—particularly at this time when our nation is at war. We should be embracing symbols of national unity like our pledge of allegiance, but instead the Ninth Circuit Court is attacking them.

The arguments of the secularists who insist that the pledge is above all, unreasonable. By declaring the inclusion of the phrase “under God” as unconstitutional, the ruling implies that any mention of “God” is equally inappropriate. Remember—the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, which says “one nation under God.” We read “In God We Trust,” and even the oaths we take as Congressional members speak of “God.” These references are embedded in the very foundation of our country and national identity—if we stand by and allow this change to the pledge, what will be next? Where do we draw the line?

Mr. Speaker, this court decision will only lessen the already declining respect for our national symbols and for the liberties for which they stand. Yet devaluing an American symbol is unfortunately something that America has been seen before. As you know, in 1989 the US Supreme Court ruled that desecration of an American flag was a permissible and constitutional right. Nevertheless, public disrespect for such a well-known symbol only weakens the sense of belonging to each of the people. When we do not protect our flag and the god-granted liberties it represents, decisions such as the one declared yesterday will certainly continue.

It is just as essential for Congress to pass House Resolution 459 today as it is to pass the flag burning amendment. We must send a strong message to the courts of America; we value our liberties. We take pride in symbols of national unity. We will fight to protect the pledge and the flag to which we profess our allegiance.

Mr. OXLEY. Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of H. Res. 459, which I am proud to cosponsor. I am deeply troubled, but sadly not surprised, that the action of this San Francisco-based court compels us to consider this resolution today.

Mr. Speaker, the Pledge of Allegiance is one of the first things that children learn to recite in school. Adults still place their hands over their hearts when they say it. This simple thirty-one-word affirmation of our great country encompasses the affection and devotion of Americans young and old toward their flag and their nation.

Two years ago, in a court decision equally as absurd as this Newdow decision, a three-judge panel of the Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals struck down Ohio’s official state motto, “With God All Things Are Possible.” The Court sided with the American Civil Liberties Union in declaring that the motto expresses a “particular affinity toward Christianit,” in violation of the Establishment clause.

The Ohio motto was ultimately overturned, just as this outrageous decision will be overturned. Our Pledge of Allegiance, along with our Biblically based national motto “In God We Trust,” stands as a testament to the undeniable religious foundation of our country. “In God We Trust” has been upheld in the courts time and again as a proper reflection of our nation’s enduring faith.

It’s too often overlooked that the First Amendment’s Establishment clause—Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion—is followed by the phrase “or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.” My constituents are tired of having their free religious exercise attacked by fringe groups in the name of separation of church and state. The Ninth Circuit Court’s action is not just wrong, but more than political correctness run rampant.

When President Eisenhower approved the addition of the words “under God” to the Pledge of Allegiance in 1954, he said, “In this way we are reaffirming the transcendence of religion in America’s heritage and future; in this way we shall constantly strengthen those spiritual weapons which forever will be our country’s most powerful resource in peace and war.” During this time of war, when people across the nation gather in their homes and their churches to pray for the safety of our men and women in uniform, the Ninth Circuit’s assault on our nation’s faith-based foundation cannot stand. It flies in the face of common sense, and blatantly ignores a plethora of court precedents.

When we pledge allegiance to our flag, we are not saluting a mere piece of cloth. Our flag is the most visible symbol of our nation—a unifying force in our nation of nearly 300 million. Since the Supreme Court invalidated state flag protection laws in 1989, the legislatures of all 50 states have passed resolutions petitioning Congress to propose a flag protection amendment to the Constitution. People across the nation—and across the political spectrum—support the right of everyone to affirm the religious foundation of our country through our Pledge.

My home town of Findlay, Ohio, is known as Flag City USA. Major downtown thoroughfares are lined with flags in a patriotic salute to the greatness of America. Nearby Arlington, Ohio, which I am also privileged to represent, enjoys a deep sense of patriotism and the sense of pride in our country that I am receiving from Findlay, Arlington and throughout my district are clear: we are one nation under God, despite this ludicrous court action. I know that my constituents and all Americans are saying the Pledge of Allegiance a little louder and with even more pride.

Mr. KLECZKA. Mr. Speaker, I strongly oppose yesterday’s 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals decision holding that the use of “under God” in the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional.

The case in question originated from a lawsuit filed by a parent who felt that the use of the phrase “under God” impinged on his daughter’s First Amendment rights since he believed that it constituted a sanction of religion in the public school she attends.

This decision was clearly erroneous and I find it abhorrent, as do the vast majority of Americans. It was based upon a total lack of respect if not knowledge of the traditions, the values, and the history of our nation. From the very first pages of Independence points out, our founding fathers established this land based on the idea that individuals were endowed not by man, but by "their Creator with certain unalienable Rights." The Pledge of Allegiance is a revered expression of patriotism recited by millions of citizens every day. When it is spoken, it instills support for the United States and reflects the love that Americans feel for their country. The Pledge does not violate the separation between church and state since it is not a religious statement, but a verbal expression of Americans' affection for our country.

As the dissenting judge pointed out, similar brief references such as the "In God We Trust" that appears on our currency and the opening call of the Supreme Court, "God save the United States and this honorable Court," have always been accepted. I am hopeful that the 9th Circuit Court as a whole reverses the decision of this three judge panel or that the Supreme Court takes up the case and overturns this badly mistaken ruling.

I urge every member of this House to pride in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance on the House floor as we do each day. I am a co-author of the resolution before us, H. Res. 459, that expresses the opinion of Congress that the court's judgment was in error. The measure calls for "that a belief in God permeated the founding of this nation..." and for "the Pledge of Allegiance is an unconstitutional expression of patriotism recited by millions of citizens every day."

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H. Res. 459, Expressing the Sense of the House of Representatives that Newdow v. U.S. Congress was Erroneously Decided.

"One Nation, under God," reflects the fact that a belief in God permeated the founding and development of our Nation.

The Pledge of Allegiance is not a prayer of part of a religious service. It is a statement of our appreciation for the foundation of our great Nation and the role God played in it.

Yesterday, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals confused the issue of separation of church and state with the foundation on which our nation was built. "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness." So reads our Declaration of Independence.

As a new nation we claimed our freedom from any monarch in the Declaration of Independence and inherently in the U.S. Constitution because of "certain unalienable rights" guaranteed to us by our Creator.

President Abraham Lincoln, in his second inaugural address, spoke of God 13 times, not in an effort to unite church and state but to unite our Nation at the conclusion of one of the most devastating periods in U.S. history, the War Between the States.

Speaking of the Northern blue and Southern grey, this is what Abraham Lincoln said: "Both men fought and prayed to the same God; and each invokes his aid against the other. It may seem strange that any men should dare to ask a just God's assistance in wringing their bread from the sweat of other men's faces; but let us judge not, that we be not judged. The prayers of both could not be answered—that of neither has been answered fully."

Abraham Lincoln continued, "With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right."

Today, we as Americans need to seek the right as God gives us to see this right, and continue to ask God's blessing on our great Nation, whose 226th year of freedom we celebrate next week.

Mr. CHAMBLISS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of House Resolution 459, Expressing the Sense of the House of Representatives that Newdow v. U.S. Congress was Erroneously Decided.

I do this on behalf of all Georgians who share my outrage with the Ninth Circuit ruling that our "Pledge of Allegiance" is unconstitutional.

For many years, liberals have been unsuccessful in achieving their objectives through the courts because of the constant pressure on the courts from activist judges who are willing to distort the Constitution and erase from all public forums any mention of religion and our country's rich religious heritage. Mr. Speaker, the First Amendment guarantees us freedom of religion.

Is it any wonder that this year alone, the Ninth Circuit Court has been overruled 12 times by the Supreme Court. But in a larger sense, this ruling is further evidence that our nation is facing a judicial crisis. Liberal special interests are working tirelessly to prohibit the political and religious speech of our country's judicial nominees in order to further pack the courts with liberal judges who will promote their liberal agenda thus guaranteeing that ruling such as this will become the norm.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to pass this resolution. I urge the Department of Justice to immediately appeal this decision and work to have it overturned. I urge confirmation of the President's judicial nominees. To date, only 28% of the President's circuit court nominees have been confirmed. The ruling yesterday in San Francisco demonstrates that the time has run out for holding up the President's nominees. We need the President's judges. We need them now.

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I support this resolution—not because I necessarily agree that the recent decisions it addresses is "inconsistent with the U.S. Supreme Court's First Amendment jurisprudence" as the resolution says, but because I do agree that "the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals should agree to rehear" the matter.

I am not prepared, and have not had a chance to carefully review the decision. So, I am not prepared to conclude that its author—a long-serving judge originally appointed by President Nixon—was clearly wrong as a matter of law. However, it is my understanding that another appeals court, in a similar case, has ruled differently. So, I definitely think the issue needs to be resolved, either through reconsideration or by the Supreme Court.

I also strongly agree with the part of the resolution which states that the "United States Congress recognizes the right of those who do not share the beliefs expressed in the Pledge to refrain from its recitation."

I am proud to recite the Pledge of Allegiance because I personally agree that, as the resolution states, "the Pledge of Allegiance is not a prayer or a religious practice" and its recitation "is not a religious exercise" but instead "the verbal expression of support for the United States of America." However, I think it is not a good idea for the Congress to attempt to define what constitutes a religious practice or prayer.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H. Res. 459 to firmly denounce yesterday's outrageous court ruling that the Pledge of Allegiance is an unconstitutional endorsement of religion. The Court stated that the Pledge "impermissibly takes a position with respect to the purely religious question of whether there is a God and identifies the United States and the court's decision "treats any religious reference as inherently evil and is an attempt to remove such references from the public arena." That seems to me to be a bit of a stretch, especially since under our legal system the courts rule only on cases brought to them, and—unlike the political branches of the government—do not have complete control over their agenda.

On balance, however, and for the reasons I have outlined, I am generally in agreement with the resolution, and so I will vote for it.

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H. Res. 459, a resolution expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that this case was erroneously decided. The Court's ruling is contrary to the vast weight of Supreme Court authority recognizing that the mere mention of God in a public setting is not contrary to any reasonable reading of the First Amendment.

The Pledge of Allegiance is not a religious service or a prayer, but it is a statement of historical beliefs. The Pledge represents everything that unites us. It is a reminder of the freedoms we all share—loyalty and the respect in our children. Many of us grew up pledging allegiance to the flag each morning in
Mr. Speaker, it was 187 years ago this very evening, that in Baltimore, Maryland, at Fort McHenry, this Nation, this young Nation, won its second war of independence. It was the beginning of the end of the War of 1812. Francis Scott Key on this very evening 187 years ago wrote his inspirational poem that became our National Anthem.

In that third verse, he wrote some words that are helpful for us this evening:

From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave,
And the Star-Spangled Banner in triumph doth wave.

We survived the attack by a hostile power and became the strongest Nation in the world, and we will survive this attack on our democratic principles, and we will grow even stronger.

Mr. Speaker, the Pledge of Allegiance is a simple, eloquent statement of American values. For more than four decades, school children have recited it in classrooms across the country. Students pledge allegiance not only to the flag, but to the nation and our values and principles.

I was heartened to see Americans all across our great nation pause for the Pledge on June 14, Flag Day. The Supreme Court, Mr. Speaker, regularly opens its proceedings with the injunction “God save the United States and this Honorable Court.” Congress opens its business for the day with a prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance, as do many of our state legislatures. We should continue this fine tradition in our public institutions of government, as well as our schools.

At this most trying time for our nation, when American values and our democracy are under attack from terrorist both at home and abroad, Congress should send a clear message to the nation that we believe the Pledge of Allegiance continues to unite us.

Mr. Speaker, I urge passage of this resolution.

Mrs. ROUKEMA. Mr. Speaker, I am shocked and appalled by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit’s ruling on the Pledge of Allegiance as unconstitutional. This outrageous decision allows a tiny minority to impose its atheistic views on the vast majority of Americans of all faiths. At the same time, it has no legal foundation.

The Pledge of Allegiance is based on the same fundamental legal principles that established this Nation and the Constitution.

This nation has experienced a tremendous rise in patriotism and we continue to take every opportunity to express our pride in this country. Yet we have now been told that the Pledge of Allegiance is a biased statement and an injury to the words that we are “one Nation, under God.” How ridiculous!

I am strongly opposed to this court decision and urge all Americans to join me in expressing contempt for this ruling.

This case must be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court in an expedited fashion.

Mr. OTTER. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in support of the resolution introduced by my colleague, representative Bob RILEY opposing the ruling of the 9th circuit court that the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional.

This nation has experienced a tremendous rise in patriotism and we continue to take every opportunity to express our pride in this country. Yet we have now been told that the Pledge of Allegiance is a biased statement and an injury to the words that we are “one Nation, under God.” How ridiculous!

This case must be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court in an expedited fashion.

Mr. HORN. Mr. Speaker, yesterday, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling yesterday treats the reference of God as one would treat profanity. Religious references in public discourse are wrongly under attack.

The Constitution guarantees us that government will not ‘establish’ a religion, but it also provides every American—even students—the right to freely express their views. We are ‘one nation under God’ and we have the right to say it.

I urge my colleagues to support this resolution.

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Mr. Speaker, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling yesterday treats the reference of God as one would treat profanity. Religious references in public discourse are wrongly under attack.

The Constitution guarantees us that government will not ‘establish’ a religion, but it also provides every American—even students—the right to freely express their views. We are ‘one nation under God’ and we have the right to say it.

I urge my colleagues to support this resolution.

Mr. HORN. Mr. Speaker, yesterday, the Ninth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled in a 2–1 decision that the words “under God” as referenced in the Pledge of Allegiance were unconstitutional. The case was brought before the panel of three judges by Michael A. Newdow, a self-described atheist who protested the requirement of the pledge at his second-grader’s school in the Eik Grove Unified School District in Sacramento, California. His case had previously been dismissed by the U.S. District Court.

Writing for the majority, Judge Alfred T. Goodwin found that Newdow had standing as a parent to “challenge a practice that interferes with his right to direct the religious education and training of his daughter.” The ruling also established that the Supreme Court in related school prayer cases, the Court ultimately decided that the 1954 Act, which placed the words “under God” in the Pledge was unconstitutional because it violated the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment. The ruling will affect nine states in the western United States: Alaska, Arizona, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, and Washington.

This decision will not be implemented for several months, and an appeal to the Supreme Court will likely be the next step. I urge Attorney General Ashcroft to take steps to begin these proceedings as soon as possible. Congress already is protesting this decision as well. The day the decision was announced, members of the House of Representatives gathered on the steps of the Capitol building and proudly recited that Pledge of Allegiance. In addition, on Thursday, June 27, H. Res. 459 was introduced on the House floor. This legislation expresses the view of Congress that Newdow v. U.S. Congress was erroneously decided. If necessary, I would support a constitutional amendment protecting the right to recite the pledge in schools and other public settings.

As cited in H. Res. 459, the Pledge of Alliance, including the phrase “One Nation, under God,” is an unbroken fact that God permeated the founding and development of our Nation. This is evident in many other cultural elements, including our currency and many patriotic songs, such as “God Bless America.” In this time of uncertainty, it is important to remember and uphold the symbols of our Nation, which honor our heritage and draw us together as one people.

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in response to the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals’ decision that the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional because it contains the words “under God” which were added by Congress in 1954. The Federal Court’s decision is an insult to our Nation and a disgrace and an absurdity of justice. It is an obvious misinterpretation of the Constitution, one which violates the basic principles of reason and good judgment.

The ruling, if allowed to stand, means schoolchildren in the nine western states covered by this Court (Alaska, Arizona, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, and Washington) can no longer recite the Pledge.

Accordingly, I urge the Attorney General to expeditiously appeal this decision to the Supreme Court so that this unbelievable finding stands is another day that the Federal judiciary should hide its head in embarrassment.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to condemn the absurd logic of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in its decision regarding the Pledge of Allegiance and renew my call for much needed reform to stop the unchecked abuses of this court.

We in the West have long known the Ninth Circuit as a court out of touch with reality. Yesterday’s ruling, however, marks a new low for this court and is an affront to the principles on which our nation was founded.

The Ninth Circuit, without question, is the most overturned appeals court in the nation. The 1996–1997 session alone saw 95 percent of its cases reviewed by the Supreme Court overturned—and the wholesale rejection of this court’s decision continues to this day.

I can only hope that my colleagues in the House will support legislation I put forward last year that would split the Ninth Circuit into two courts and put an end to this cycle of wasteful and irresponsible rulings. My constituents deserve better, the people of the nation deserve better, and the constitution deserves better.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional. It ruled to Congress, to the man on the street, and to the children who will be told they can no longer say the pledge in school! I am livid over the court’s brainless decision. I pledge to support every effort to overturn this horrible decision.

The court’s decision stating that the words “under God” amounts to a government endorsement of religion shows just how out of step these judges are with the American people. They state that saying God is akin to saying Jesus, Vishnu, or Zeus. This is blatantly nonsensical as this term God refers to God in the concept that is personal to every single person and does not refer to any certain idea of deity. Furthermore, the Pledge of Allegiance is not a prayer or a religious practice and thus the recitation of the pledge is not a religious exercise but rather it is an expression of support and loyalty for the United States. In the Court’s opinion in School District of Abington Township v. Schempp, 374 U.S. 203, 304 (1963) he stated, “the reference to divinity in the revised pledge of allegiance . . . may merely recognize the historical fact that our Nation was believed to have been founded ‘under God.’” Thus reciting the pledge may be no more of a religious exercise than the reading aloud of Lincoln’s Gettysburg Address, which contains an allusion to the same historical fact. And Justice Blackmun wrote in a West Virginia case, County of Allegheny v. American Civil Liberties Union Greater Pittsburgh Chapter, 109 S. Ct. 3086, 3106 (1989) stated. “Our previous opinions have considered in dicta the motto and the Pledge characterizing them as consistent with the proposition that government may not communicate an endorsement of religious belief.”

Even before Congress added “under God” in 1954 to the pledge, the Supreme Court had no one to recite the pledge. The court’s decision yesterday said simply having to hear it every day violates the First Amendment ban on the establishment of religion. However, as Judge Fernandez points out in his dissenting opinion in West Virginia Board of Education v. Barnette the Supreme Court did not say that the Pledge could not be recited in the presence of Jehovah’s Witnesses children; it merely said that they did not have to recite it. That fully protected their constitutional rights by precluding the government from trenching upon “the sphere of intellect and spirit. As the Court pointed out, their religiously based refusal to participate in the ceremony would not interfere with or deny rights of others. In Justice Brennan’s words, “Essentially that this court has with this opinion developed the idea of a coercive environment. However, the law doesn’t normally condition ones behavior on how it will affect others around them. Instead, we are told to avert our eyes and turn our heads away from something we find objectionable. In Cohen v. California, the Court found that epithets on the back of a war protestor’s jacket, worn in public places, was constitutionally protected speech—the rights to wear and observe the speaker’s. With this decision, the court gives any statement which may appear to be religious, no matter how innocuous, less protection than any other speech. Religion should be a more highly protected value, not a less protected value. At least the value it deserves equal protection. If this case is allowed to stand what will be next? Our national motto “In God We Trust” that Newdow v. U.S. Congress was erroneously decided. By the Speaker of the House’s chair? Or the singing of songs such as “God Bless America” or “America the Beautiful” in public? Or how about congressional prayers or the president’s periodic invocation of the deity? Or maybe even the crosses at Arlington National Cemetery and our national military cemeteries across the country.

The Pledge, like the National Anthem, is one of few remaining vestiges of the old idea of civic inculcation. It reminds us that despite the fact that we are all from diverse ethnic, religious, and racial backgrounds we remain a part of the same republic. The key to our unity is a shared commitment to the republican ideas of liberty and justice. The sanctifying of “under God” is not merely an assertion of religious belief, but an appeal for divine blessing of this rather strange and mysterious grand experiment. Out Pledge, National Anthem, national motto and civic prayers help remind our citizens that there are more spiritual ties that bind us than natural affinities that divide us.

Mr. NETHERCUTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Resolution 459, to express the sense of Congress that the decision made in Newdow v. U.S. Congress was erroneously decided.

Yesterday, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, the Federal Court that has jurisdiction over my constituents in Eastern Washington, ruled that our nation’s Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional. The Ninth Circuit has a long history of bad rulings, and has had more decisions overturned by the Supreme Court than any other circuit. This decision once again proves that the Ninth Circuit needs a common-sense judge from the Eastern District of Washington to bring a voice of reason to the federal appellate bench.

The Pledge of Allegiance, recited by Americans of every age, is an affirmation of our principles of democracy, justice and individual liberty. The declaration of our being “one nation under God” is at the heart and soul of American culture.

This case and decision should serve as a strong reminder to the U.S. Senate that it should fulfill its responsibilities to confirm President Bush’s judicial nominees.

Mr. Speaker, the ruling in Newdow v. U.S. Congress eliminates a constitutionally protected “genuine choice” by disallowing students across the Nation from proclaiming their love for these United States through the Pledge of Allegiance. To do so is wrong. We must encourage our Nation’s youth to believe in whatever religion they choose, for those beliefs set guiding principles that turn our youth into the outstanding leaders of tomorrow.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of House Resolution 459 expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that the court ruling in Newdow v. U.S. Congress is erroneously decided. By supporting this resolution we recognize the meaning of the Pledge of Allegiance and embrace the significance of its recitation by our nation’s schoolchildren.

Since arriving in Congress in 1993, I have had the privilege of leading this House in the June 27, 2002

Pledge of Allegiance several times upon convening at the beginning of the day. It is an honor to express my support for the principles and ideals of freedom, democracy, liberty and justice, the very foundation of this great nation, the nation that our flag and pledge celebrates.
The ruling by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit in this case is unfortunate in that it fails to recognize the meaning that the Pledge of Allegiance has in our lives, its purpose in protection the principles of our democracy, and its remembering of the sacrifice made by our nation’s veterans in defense of this nation and in support of all for which we stand and in which we believe.
Under the logic of this ruling the people of Guam won’t be able to sing the Guam Hymn.
Our hymn, which is sung daily in Guam’s schools not only acknowledges God, it asks for His protection as in ‘Yu’os prutehi islan Guam.
For our elders, for our children, and for generations to come, may the pledge continue to stand strong for all Americans and may it remain the words by which we pledge allegiance to the ideals of liberty and justice for all and recognize that we are indeed one nation, under God.
Mr. BLUMENAUER. Mr. Speaker, at a time when meaningful debate is at a minimum in this Congress, it is embarrassing that this resolution has been brought to the floor in this manner. Issues of great consequence to this nation, like reducing prescription drug costs, protecting investors and ensuring corporate accountability, and producing a budget that allows us to meet our military needs and protect Social Security, are being short-changed.
The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals decided yesterday the case of Newdow v. U.S. Congress on the Pledge of Allegiance. One day later, we by-pass the committee process and rush this resolution to the floor. In my personal opinion, the Court’s decision is an over-reaction to language that has been part of the civic and governmental life of the United States since this nation’s founding. Every American responds in our own ways to the invocation of God on our currency, in solemn oaths and other customary circumstances. Our individual liberties have not been threatened by these expressions, including the words ‘‘under God’’ in the Pledge of Allegiance. However, I would hope we would allow this decision to work its way through the judicial process rather than engage in political grandstanding.
I refuse to dignify this trivialization of the legislative process and I vote ‘‘present.’’
Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to state my strong support for H. Res. 459.
Yesterday, a three-judge panel of the U.S.
Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit ruled 2 to 1 that the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional because it describes the United States as ‘‘one Nation, under God.’’ This decision is absurd, and it flies in the face of reason and a 7th Circuit decision upholding the Pledge.
Immediate action must be taken against the court’s latest decision. I call upon the Administration to ask the full 9th Circuit to reconsider the case or take the matter directly to the Supreme Court. The phrase ‘‘under God’’ was added to the Pledge at the height of the Cold War. The American values in force when this phrase was added are still shared today, as we rebuild as a nation from the tragedy that impacted our lives on September 11, 2002.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE
June 27, 2002

Mr. NADLER and Mr. MCDERMOTT changed their vote from "nay" to "present."

So (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the resolution was agreed to.

The tally of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Stated for:

Mr. GREENWOOD. Mr. Speaker, on the call No. 273 I was unavoidably detained by duties related to my investigation of Worldcom in a interview room without audible vote notification bells. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea."

PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 5011, MILITARY CONSTRUCTION APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2003

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, by direction of the Committee on Rules, I call up House Resolution 462 and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the resolution, as follows:

H. Res. 462

Resolved, That at any time after the adoption of this resolution the Speaker may, pursuant to clause 2(b) of rule XVIII, declare the House resolved into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for consideration of the bill (H.R. 5011) making appropriations for military construction, family housing, and base realignment and closure for the Department of Defense for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2003, and for other purposes. The first reading of the bill shall be dispensed with. All points of order against consideration of the bill are waived. General debate shall be confined to the bill and shall not exceed one hour equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Appropriations. After general debate the bill shall be considered for amendment under the five-minute rule. Points of order against provisions of the bill for failure to comply with clause 2 of rule XXI are waived. During consideration of the bill for amendment, the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole may accord priority in recognition of whether the Member offering an amendment has caused it to be printed in the portion of the Congressional Record designated for that purpose in clause 8 of rule XVIII. Amendments so printed shall be considered as read. At the conclusion of consideration of the bill for amendment the Committee of the Whole shall rise and report the bill to the House with such amendments as may have been adopted. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and amendments thereto to final passage without intervening motion except one motion to recommit with or without instructions. Sec. 2. House Resolution 421 is laid on the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. ISAACKSON). The gentleman from North Carolina (Mrs. MYRICK) is recognized for 1 hour.

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of debate only, I yield the customary 30 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. McGovern), and I believe this is the first time we have done a rule together, welcome, pending which I yield myself such time as I may consume. During consideration of this resolution, all time yielded is for the purpose of debate only.

On Wednesday, the Committee on Rules met and granted an open rule for the Military Construction Appropriations Act for fiscal year 2003. H.R. 5011 recognizes the dedication and commitment of our troops by providing for their most basic needs, improved military facilities, including housing and medical.

Mr. Speaker, we must honor the most basic commitments we have made to the men and women of our Armed Forces. We must ensure reasonable quality of life to recruit and retain the best and brightest to America’s fighting forces. Most importantly, we must do all in our power to ensure a strong, able, dedicated American military, so that this Nation will be ever vigilant and ever prepared.

H.R. 5011 provides nearly $1.2 billion for barracks and $151 million for hospital and medical facilities for troops and their families. It also provides $2.9 billion to operate and maintain existing housing units and $1.3 billion for new housing.

Military families also have a tremendous need for quality child care, especially single parents and families in which one or both parents may face lengthy deployments. To help meet this need, the bill provides $18 million for child development centers.

Mr. Speaker, this is a fair and an open rule for consideration of the fiscal year 2003 military construction appropriations bill. I urge my colleagues to support the rule and the underlying bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume, and I thank the gentleman from North Carolina (Mrs. MYRICK) for yielding me the customary 30 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, we have before us a fair and open rule, the military construction appropriations for fiscal year 2003. The rule provides for 1 hour of general debate, waives all points of order against consideration of the bill, allows for all germane amendments to be offered with priority accorded to those preprinted in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD, and provides for one motion to recommit with or without instructions.

Mr. Speaker, this is a fair rule, and I urge my colleagues to vote for it.

I would like to express my appreciation for the work of the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON), the chairman, and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER), the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Military Construction, along with the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG), the Committee on Appropriations chairman, and the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OSEY), the ranking member, for continuing the tradition of strong bipartisan support in the drafting of the military construction appropriations bill.

This is a very difficult year for the Committee on Appropriations, and I commend the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER) for bringing to this House a very fine bill, given the limited amount of funds allocated for military construction.

Mr. Speaker, the President’s fiscal year 2003 request for military construction was $1.6 billion, or 15 percent below the fiscal year 2002 enacted levels. However, included in the defense emergency response fund of the defense appropriations bill were approximately $594 million worth of military construction projects. These projects were subsequently transferred over to the jurisdiction of the military construction request, resulting in the bill before us today. This combined request for military construction, therefore, now contains $542 million more than the President requested but still remains $522 million below last year’s enacted levels.

Mr. Speaker, I believe it is incumbent upon all of us, the administration and Congress alike, to ensure that our forces have appropriate operational and training facilities, maintenance and production facilities, and research and development facilities. Yet each of these categories face significant reductions in funding in this bill.

According to the Pentagon, 68 percent of the Department’s facilities have serious deficiencies that might impede mission readiness or they are so deteriorated that they cannot support mission requirements. The current reductions in funding for construction in these facility categories mean that the rates at which buildings are renovated or replaced has just increased from 83 years to 150 years.

Mr. Speaker, I must point out that we are engaged in a long-term struggle against a global enemy. So I find it difficult to believe that while we can find the funds to increase the defense budget by $48 billion, we cannot find the funds to bring our operational facilities up to standard.

Mr. Speaker, I firmly believe that our uniformed men and women and their families deserve decent housing and accommodations, both here at home and abroad. We need to ensure that all personnel in all branches of service have a quality place to live and work, both at home and abroad; and I commend the committee for continuing to provide increased funding for dormitories in overseas construction; but again, through no fault of the committee, the funding provided does not come near to meeting the need. According to the Department of Defense, 180,000 of the 300,000 units of military housing are substandard. Mr. Speaker, this is a national scandal.

We also need to ensure that security is maintained around all our military bases, installations and other sites both in the United States, its territories and abroad. I know that this is a matter of deep concern for both the chairman and the ranking member. In last year’s emergency supplemental in response to September 11 and in this bill, we have made progress in this area; but again, much more needs to be done and done quickly.

This is not the first time that this committee has lamented the shortfalls in funding for basic military construction priorities, but we now live in a changed world. Mr. Speaker. Poor facilities are not only unsafe, they hamper readiness and decrease troop retention. The events of September 11 require both the administration and the Congress to provide significantly greater funds for these purposes.

Clearly, the President’s request for fiscal year 2003 was inadequate. Clearly, the committee has done as fine a job as anyone could in bringing forward a bill worthy of bipartisan support; but clearly, in a bipartisan manner, must bring this urgent matter to the attention of the White House so that the next budget does not continue to ignore these significant national security needs. I know I speak for all my colleagues when I pledge that I will be happy to work with the chairman and the ranking member on any such initiative.

Mr. Speaker, I urge adoption of this rule and this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield as much time as he may consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. DREIER), the distinguished chairman of the Committee on Rules.

Mr. DREIER. Mr. Speaker, I thank my friend for yielding me the time, and I would like to first congratulate him on her very strong commitment to our Nation’s military and also for her ascension to the chairmanship of the very important Republican Study Committee, which is an entity within the Republican Conference that spends a great deal of time focused on the national security of the United States of America, and I believe she will provide stellar leadership there.

Mr. Speaker, this is a very important measure. I had a lengthy conversation this morning with the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. MURTHA), the ranking minority member of the Subcommittee on Defense, Committee on Appropriations, and we were talking about our Nation’s military forces, and we were reminded of the fact that we have an all-volunteer Army, all-volunteer military. And in light of that, it is very important for the United States Congress to do its part and do its best to ensure that we attract the most capable individuals to serve in the military. It seems to me that one of the most important things for us to do is to make sure that in the area of military construction that we do just that.

I would like to join in congratulating my good friends, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG), the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBRY), and the leadership of this subcommittee, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOSSON) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER), for their strong leadership and dedication to this shared goal. I appreciate Mr. OLVER from Massachusetts’ (Mr. MCGOVERN) comment about the fact that we continue to pursue this in a bipartisan way, and it is good to see this bipartisan sense here in this institution as we look at this important issue.

The numbers were outlined very well by our colleague from North Carolina. One issue that was not mentioned was the fact that there are resources in here to deal specifically with counterterrorism, and I saw that there is roughly $582 million to deal specifically with that question, to ensure that as we proceed with military construction, that the safety and security of the men and women in uniform, as well as those families of theirs, are addressed.

So I believe that we have got a good measure here that is going to be brought forth under an open amendment process that will allow for the consideration of different ideas; but the fact that we have come together with strong agreement from both Democrats and Republicans is I think a great testimony to the success of the work of the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER), who is the ranking Democrat on the Subcommittee on Military Construction of the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman from Massachusetts for yielding me time.

Mr. Speaker, I rise this afternoon to support this open rule for the consideration of the military construction appropriations bill. Because of the leadership of the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOSSON), the chairman of this subcommittee, the underlying bill is a good bill developed in a bipartisan way, as he has always done in the years that he and I have served together in the positions of Chair and ranking member, respectively, of the committee; and I urge the Members to support this rule.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of the rule that will allow consideration of H.R. 5011, the Military Construction Appropriations bill for 2003. This bill provides over $10 billion for military construction projects. Providing adequate housing and facilities for our men and women in uniform enables them to better do their job. Having safe and secure housing allows service- men and women to know that their families are out of harm’s way while they are deployed or serving our country overseas. This assurance is a key component of our Nation’s military readiness, and today we take steps to further improve and also to modernize the housing and facilities for our military families.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to highlight a significant component of the MILCON Appropriations bill which will help all soldiers at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Since I came to Congress, I have been working to secure funds for the Soldier Support Center at Fort Bragg. This center, to be named in honor of General Hugh Shelton, currently recovering from a spinal cord injury, will provide a one-stop in-and-out-processing facility for soldiers at Fort Bragg. Today we are one step forward in providing the first half of the funding for this important resource for the epicenter of the universe, Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Mr. Speaker, in addition to providing funds for MILCON, I would also like to take this opportunity to highlight some of the innovative projects to leverage private capital that individual services are currently pursuing. At Fort Bragg in my district in North Carolina, the Army is getting under way with a project called the Community Initiative, or RCI. Through RCI, the Army has decided upon a private contractor to build several thousand homes on post and to renovate many, many others. This contractor was awarded a 50-year, multi-million dollar contract and will be responsible for the homes for the next 50 years. I am hopeful that this will create both improved housing for our soldiers and their families but also generate many economic opportunities for the greater Fayetteville community. This innovative way to use private capital to fix some of our most serious family housing problems will provide the best housing for our soldier, the best value for the taxpayer, and maximum benefit for our community.

The tragic events of September 11, 2001, have thrust our Nation’s military into the spotlight and called to duty the brave men and women of the U.S. Armed Forces. Once again, U.S. citizens are rallying behind them in strong support of the harrowing mission that they have been called upon to perform. Our U.S. Congress has the duty and the

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to my friend and neighbor, the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. HAYES).

(Mr. HAYES asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HAYES. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, today I rise in support of the rule, but first let me pay particular tribute to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOSSON) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER), chairman and ranking member, who have a keen awareness of the need for opportunity to pass the Military Construction Appropriations bill for 2003. Please join me in supporting this rule that enables us to provide the necessary facilities and security for these brave men and women who are protecting us and our country and our freedom. We are grateful.

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. CARDIN).

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, let me thank the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER) and the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON) for yielding me this time, and I want to urge my colleagues to support the rule and the underlying bill.

Mr. Speaker, I take this time to congratulate the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER) and the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON) on a very fine Military Construction bill. I particularly want to thank the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON) for his help in regards to a facility at this Naval Academy. He has been very helpful in the new ethics center that will be constructed at the United States Naval Academy.

Eight years ago a private fund-raising group began working with the Naval Academy. They have done a really good job. I do not think there is any controversy to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON) for the good work in producing this bill in a bipartisan fashion, along with the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER). They have done a really good job. I do not think there is any controversy to the staff. But in the case of the defense bill, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON) was here on the first day, trying to save time, that he did not speak on the defense bill that I did not speak on that problem. We are at a time when there are a number of bases around the country, it is no secret, that probably should be closed. There are a lot of reasons why we are not going ahead with that process.

One of the reasons, candidly, is that people are concerned about what they get stuck with when they are over. I think of what has happened with Fort Ord. Despite hundreds of millions of dollars and 11 years of work, we have not yet been able to quite put all those pieces together and finish the job.

What this subcommittee has done here today is the culmination of work that is going to make a difference not just cleaning up these sites, long overdue, it is going to help reorder the process within the Department of Defense so that, at a time when we are giving unprecedented sums of money to the Department of Defense, we will be able to take a little bit of it to be able to make sure that we are not leaving hazards for communities to deal with for years to come.

Mr. Speaker, one of the more important things is that not only are we going to be focusing the attention within the Department of Defense, but the technology that will be developed as we learn to do a better job cleaning up after ourselves is going to make a difference for the other over 2,000 sites across the country, in every State, in most of the congressional districts, that are represented here in this body. We are going to learn to do a better job.

Last but not least, it is going to have international implications. Because, sadly, Mr. Speaker, every single day we have children around the world who are killed from unexplored ordinance, the... legacy of what has happened in Africa, in the Balkans, and in Southeast Asia. With the help of the subcommittee in focusing on doing a better job, we are going to learn how to clean up that toxic legacy. It is going to make a difference not just with the men and women who serve in the military but not just for the communities that are going to inherit lands that they can put in more productive uses, but I think it will make a difference for the quality of life for millions of people around the world.

My only concern is that it looks like there is a little less money than we had last year. At the rate we are going, it is going to take us in the neighborhood of 100 years or more to clean up after ourselves. I am hopeful in the course of the process, as we go through the conferencing, there may be a possibility of putting the money behind it that is necessary.

It is not going to get any cheaper to clean up after ourselves. The liability and the problems are only going to grow over time. And, ironically, the more money we spend to do it right, it will drive down the unit cost, it is going to return the land to productive uses, and this will make the ultimate cleanup cheaper.

I appreciate deeply what the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBBON) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLIVER) have done and the committee has done in the work of the gentleman from California (Mr. FARR). I am hopeful this body will get behind it to give the rest of the push that is needed to make sure we do the job right on the part of our military service and people around the world.

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. DAN MILLER).

Mr. DAN MILLER of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the rule and the bill behind it, the military construction bill. I happen to serve on the Subcommittee on Military Construction, and it is a pleasure to serve with the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBBON), chairing that committee for the past 4 years, and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLIVER), also. It is a bipartisan committee and a bipartisan bill.

My congressional district in Florida, beautiful area in southwest Florida, does not have any military facilities and does not really have any major military contractors, so I approach this bill not from my particular district but what is right for this country and right for our soldiers and what will keep the military strong and prepared, as it was for the events that developed after September 11.

I know that Chairman HOBBON in the past 4 years has been working hard to improve the quality of life. The key to being competitive is that you need to be starting in September of last year, is to have a strong military but also a military that is committed and prepared to go into action at any time; and key to that is the quality of life. That is something that we have been working on now for a number of years. In my congressional district, we have had many of retired military people, a lot of veterans. A lot of these are World War II veterans, Korean War generation, even World War I generation. But it is a different military today with the volunteer military. People do not live in the barracks with a hundred other soldiers. Nowadays, we need to have facilities where they are able to volunteer to be in the military and to be willing to stay and to serve, whether it is at Fort Bragg in North Carolina or in Naples or in Korea, or wherever we have our soldiers stationed around the world.

Quality of life is really critical in this job. As a businessman, before I came to the Congress, one of the things I learned is you need to keep your employees happy. You want to avoid a turnover in your employees. You want to have employees stay and not move on because of the cost of training people. If you can keep an employee for a number of years and keep that employee happy and contented, they will do a good job. And that is exactly what we need to do today, is to attract the good people and to provide an environment so that they feel proud and they are satisfied in their job.

So in the past few years, we have had success. Several years ago I went with the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBBON) to Naples. We saw where 10,000 sailors are based in Naples, Italy, and the Sixth Fleet works out of there. The facilities were in a volcano. We had to move our facilities to take our sailors out of this area. The facilities were almost World War II era. The fact is, they were not very good accommodating them. It was cramped quarters. When sailors came ashore, they had to go back to the ship at night.

Over the past few years, we have been able to create the basic enlisted man’s quarters. So instead of the sailors coming ashore and having to go to the ship at night and sleep in bunks, they were able to stay overnight in facilities with two people to a room.

We spent a lot of money on child development centers. We have them throughout the country at military facilities because we want to allow the families to be able to stay there with their children.

In Sicily, I saw facilities where in- stead of a barracks with 50 people in it, we had semi-private rooms like college dormitories. When I was in college, we had bathrooms down the hallway, but it is a different world today. We have to provide facilities that will allow the military to be happy and their families satisfied in accommoda- tions. The children can go to a day care program, elementary and middle and secondary schools. That is what this bill is about, is pro- viding the facilities for the quality of life.

It is also things like runways, the command and control centers. We do not see them because they are top secret, but we need to have places where our admirals and generals can control their fleet around the world and in Afghanistan. I commend the chairman for putting together a very good bipartisan bill. I hope Members will support the bill.

Mr. McGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. FREYLINGHUYSEN).

Mr. FREYLINGHUYSEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of this rule and the 2003 MILCON appropriations bill. I thank the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBBON) and the ranking member and their staff for their hard work. We know the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBBON) and the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. FREYLINGHUYSEN) have been true advocates for decent and affordable housing for those in the military who cannot often afford decent housing. They have been in the forefront of supporting them.

They have also been in the forefront of promoting the expansion of day care centers so that those who are in the military, the men and women, can be on the front lines and make sure that their children are provided for in a very safe and clean environment with professionals looking after their youngsters.

In addition, this is a committee that has worked hard to consolidate military operations around the world and to move forward and to get the best value through a very efficient use of our resources. They have lowered the maintenance and operating costs of military bases and saved the taxpayers an incredible amount of money.

Mr. Speaker, part of the job of this subcommittee, and while I do not serve on it, is their recognition that we need in this day and age after September 11 to recognize the absolute safety and security of our military personnel, and in many cases they are living in housing arrangements in precarious situations, and we have to do everything we can to improve the quality of life.

Ranking member for including funding in this and previous bills to complete the construction of the high-energy propellant facility at Picatinny Arsenal in my congressional district in New Jersey. This facility is needed to support the development of future weapons systems, particularly on high-energy propellants, propellant charges and igniters, as well as support the development of new manufacturing technologies in a timely and cost-effective manner.

It is through this committee that this center known as Picatinny Arsenal, which provides 90 percent of the Army's lethality, has been able to put together a unified software engineering center bringing all of these talented men and women under one roof as well as upgrade something as basic as the electrical system of the base which had not been updated since World War II.

This committee's mission is important. It looks after the needs of our soldiers, sailors, airmen, and marines. It is about to offer an additional to the rule that we are now talking about, military construction, which we are all in favor of. But I keep hearing rumors that we might suddenly be faced with a parliamentary situation where we are talking about increasing the debt, ceiling, and I yield to the gentleman for the purpose of explaining thoroughly to the body since there might not be any time to debate this.

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. STENHOLM. I yield to the gentlewoman from North Carolina.

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, this is Senate 2578 to amend title 31 of the United States Code, and this is at the end of the resolution without an intervening point of order we would consider this; and this title 31 of the United States Code is to increase the public debt limit, and it would be considered as a bill as read for amendment. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill to final passage without intervening motion except for 1 hour of debate on the bill equally divided and controlled by the chairman and the ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means, and one motion to commit, and this has been shared with the minority.

Mr. STENHOLM. If I understood, this would be another one of the rules that provides for no debate and no discussion, no amendments. Debate for 1 hour, but no amendments.

Mrs. MYRICK. No, it provides for 1 hour of debate equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. STENHOLM. I misspoke. But if Members on this side would have an amendment of which we believe would be a better way to proceed regarding increasing the debt limit, which many of us are prepared to give the President what he has asked for as a clean debt ceiling increase, but we have a little different idea about how that ought to be done. But I understand the gentlewoman’s rule that will be coming will again preclude Members on the minority side from having an opportunity to amend; is that correct?

Mrs. MYRICK. This is providing a straight up and down vote.

Mr. DREIER. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. STENHOLM. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. DREIER. I thank my friend for yielding. I would just like to clarify this. Over the last several weeks, we have had many of my friends on the other side of the aisle join with us in saying it is very important for us to as quickly as possible take action to increase the debt ceiling. The procedure which has just been outlined by my friend from Charlotte would in fact allow for the full hour of consideration and the Members of the minority will have an opportunity to offer a motion to recommit.

Mr. STENHOLM. But no amendment.

Mr. DREIER. No, there would not be an amendment. This would be a standard procedure as would have come forth from the Committee on Ways and Means. It is a very appropriate one. And I think that we should try and move just as expeditiously as possible on this.

Mr. STENHOLM. Looking at the rule, it says that there will be 1 hour of debate and one motion to commit. Commit to what?

Mrs. MYRICK. It is to commit it back to committee.

Mr. STENHOLM. So it is not a motion to reconsider?

Mrs. MYRICK. It is to commit it back to the Senate, because the House would be acting on the Senate bill.

Mr. STENHOLM. Then just about the time I think that I have seen every most unusual political circumstance on this floor, we get another one that is real interesting in this regard. But if I understand the gentleman from California correctly, this provides for a clean increase of $450 billion in the debt ceiling, so all who vote for this are voting to borrow an additional $450 billion clean. It is not going to be added to the military construction. It is a simple take-up of the Senate bill; and if 218 Members vote to borrow that money, it is clean.

Mr. DREIER. If the gentleman will yield, I think that my friend is among those who have advocated an increase in the debt ceiling. I may be wrong on that.

Mr. STENHOLM. No, the gentleman is correct; but not in the manner in which the gentleman is proposing.

Mr. DREIER. Let me say, if the gentleman would continue to yield, that this is the second manner in which we have proposed this. We have already passed language out of here that would allow for conferees in the supplemental appropriations bill to consider increasing the debt ceiling, and now we have come up with a second procedure. People would be able to have this done as quickly as possible. I do not know if it would be possible for us to put into place a procedure that would satisfy my friend, but we share the same goal.

Mr. STENHOLM. Reclaiming my time, I think you are getting very close to satisfying me.

Mr. DREIER. Great. That is reassuring.

Mr. STENHOLM. But I would say to the gentleman that I would feel a whole lot better about the procedure if you allowed the Moore-Spratt bill as a substitute amendment so that we might have a true expression; and then after we had that true expression, and then I certainly would intend to join with the majority in seeing that we do not bring our country to the edge of default. My problem is with the procedure, but it sounds to me like you are getting there.

Mr. DREIER. If my friend will yield further, I just want to express my appreciation for his understanding of our desire to find a procedure around which we can just as quickly as possible do something that we both want to do and that is ensure that we do not see a default and go ahead and have us pay our bills.

Mr. STENHOLM. With all due respect, I understand why you are doing this. My problem is with the procedure, but it sounds to me like you are getting there.

Mr. DREIER. I appreciate my friend’s kind words.

Mr. McGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time. I would urge that Members who are trying to follow what is going on right here on the floor right now vote “no” on the previous question on the amendment and resolution so that we have an opportunity to be able to amend this bill and be able to bring up the Spratt-Moore-Stenholm alternative on the debt limit so we could actually have a debate and we can do this right.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MRS. MYRICK

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, I offer an amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment offered by Mrs. Myrick:

At the end of the resolution add the following:

SEC. 3. That upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order without intervening motion of any point of order to consider in the House the bill (S. 2578) to amend title III of the United States Code to increase the public debt limit. The bill shall be considered as read for amendment. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill to final passage without intervening motion except: (1) one hour of debate on the bill equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means; and (2) one motion to commit.

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

In conclusion, this is a good rule and it is a very good bill.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the amendment and on the resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. ISAKSON). The question is on ordering the previous question.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. McGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I object to the vote on the ground that a quorum is not present and make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Evidently a quorum is not present.

The Sergeant at Arms will notify absent Members.

There will be 5-minute votes on the amendment and on the resolution after this vote.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yea 221, nays 210, not voting 3, as follows:

[Vote tally follows]
Mr. HONDA. Ms. BROWN of Florida, Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California, and Mr. COSTIGAN changed their vote from "yea" to "nay." Mr. AKIN changed his vote from "nay" to "yay." So the previous question was ordered. The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. MCGOVERN. Parliamentary Inquiry. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. ISAACKSON). The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, Members are understood to vote "yea" or "nay" on an amendment to bring up the $450 billion debt limit increase passed by the Senate, but under a rule that does not allow for a House Democratic alternative or any amendments and that does not allow the House to debate the return to fiscal responsibility?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will not interpret the amendment. The interpretation of the amendment is for each and every Member of this body to decide.

The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Mrs. MYRICK).

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.
The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 462 and rule XVIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the consideration of the bill, H.R. 5011.

The Clerk read the title of the chair.

Mr. HOBBON. Mr. Chairman, it is my pleasure to present to the House resolution itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the consideration of the bill (H.R. 5011) making appropriations for military construction, family housing, base realignment and closure for the Department of Defense for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2003, and for other purposes, with Mr. GILLUM in the chair.
I want to particularly thank my ranking member, the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER), for his help in producing this bipartisan bill. I also want to thank the committee on both sides of the aisle and the staff on both sides of the aisle. We have worked together in unison to produce a bipartisan bill.

In my opinion, the projects included in this bill are vital to the security of the United States, especially at this time. Equally important, the project contributes to the health and safety of the troops and their families and the quality of life and their training.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, this is a fair and bipartisan bill that deserves the full support of all the Members of this Congress. The chairman has done an excellent job in the resources that he has been given; however, we are looking at a bill that is $522 million, which is 5 percent below last year’s enacted bill. The bill which was signed by the President, and last year’s level was determined before 9-11. I think most of us would agree that in the wake of 9-11 there is much more that we should be doing, including funding critical force protection projects like perimeter fencing and better inspection stations to secure access to our bases, including building safer barracks for our troops in locations so they are not sleeping right next to the public highways, including providing security and protection for stockpiles of old chemical weapons which we want to get rid of and not having to deal with those stockpiles, and including making certain that we have the capacity in our labs and in our pharmaceutical supplies to meet multiple acts of biological warfare.

Mr. Chairman, in the years that I have had the privilege to serve as a ranking member of this Subcommittee on Military Construction under the excellent leadership of the gentleman from Ohio (Chairman HOBSON), we have made real progress in a bipartisan way in improving housing for singles and for families, in improving the workplaces for the men and women who serve America both at home and overseas. And this bill continues our progress. But because of the cut from last year’s funding, it continues our progress more slowly in addressing the backlog of needs. Yet it does make an important contribution to our efforts to address the shortfall of military housing and making decent, safe workplaces available to our servicemen and women. We cannot continue, however, that progress if we face additional cuttings in the coming years.

Mr. Chairman, finally, I want to thank the staff from both sides of the aisle who have worked so hard to put this bill together: Valerie Baldwin, Brian Potts, Mary Arnold, and Luis James for the majority and of course Tom Forhan for the minority. And I especially want to thank Suzy DuMont of my personal staff after years of dedicated service to the First Congressional District of Massachusetts. This will be Suzy’s last MILCON bill. Suzy has served my district and this subcommittee well. She has been a valuable member of my staff, and I wish her all the best as the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN) legislative director.

I urge the Members of the body to support this bill.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. FARR), a member of the subcommittee. Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER), the ranking member, for yielding me this time.

I rise to engage the distinguished chairman of the Subcommittee on Military Construction in a colloquy. I would note this opportunity to ask my distinguished colleague from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON) to clarify and explain certain language in the bill relating to Fort Ord in my district. The bill in section 130 prohibits the Army from expending any money to prepare legal documents relating to the title transfer of lands at Fort Ord that are intended for the purposes of housing development.

If I may ask the chairman, is my characterization of section 130 correct to his understanding?

Mr. HOBSON. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. FARR of California. I yield to the gentleman from Ohio.

Mr. HOBSON. Mr. Chairman, that is correct. Section 130 limits the ability of the Army to prepare documents having to do with the transfer of land at Fort Ord that is planned for housing development.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, if the Chairman will indulge me, I would like to explain to him and my other colleagues that this language has not been inserted because of any action or misaction by the Army, but as a signal to the Fort Ord community that the thousands of acres of Federal land being given to the reuse authority for free should be used to mitigate the housing crunch on the central coast of California.

Despite local governments acknowledging the need for upwards of 23,000 new units to meet the housing demand, the plans for housing development at Fort Ord remain insufficient if not meager, units available to the local workforce. Instead, that free Federal land will be used to build megamansions out of financial reach for our local workers.

With the language in this bill, title transfers are put on hold until the plans for housing development at Fort Ord reflect a better mix of affordable housing. The local reuse authority is aware of the urgent nature of this language, and the Army has agreed to re-examine the housing development plans at Fort Ord. I feel confident that eventually this limitation on the Army can be lifted and land transfers for housing development at Fort Ord can proceed again.

I appreciate the Chairman’s support and assistance in the matter. He has been a tremendous help in signaling to the Fort Ord community its need to plan for the purposes of housing development.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to be able to assist the gentleman on this matter. Affordable housing is a critical issue, not just at Fort Ord but around the country. Where valuable assets are being given outright to communities as they are under base closure circumstances, those assets ought to be used in a manner that best benefits this community and are not simply sold to the highest bidder.

These are never easy issues because it means discord between Federal and local governments, but I commend the gentleman for coming forward with this difficult matter. I too am confident that it will be resolved in such a way that more affordable homes will soon be made available at Fort Ord.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for his remarks.

Mr. HOBSON. Mr. Chairman, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. KINGSTON), my colleague.

Mr. KINGSTON. Mr. Chairman, I thank the distinguished chairman and the ranking member for yielding some time to me, and I just wanted to discuss something with the chairman and enter into a colloquy about the aviation support facility at Fort Stewart/Hunter in Savannah, Georgia.

Mr. HOBSON. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. KINGSTON. I yield to the gentleman from Ohio.

Mr. HOBSON. Mr. Chairman, clearly the Military Construction, Army National Guard account is a project that plans and designs an aviation support facility at the Fort Stewart/Hunter Army airfield in Georgia, which I might add I have landed at. The amount listed in the report is $1,158,000; however, the amount actually required for the project is $1,580,000. Unfortunately, an error was made in the report that we plan to rectify as this legislation moves forward.

The gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER), the ranking member of the subcommittee, agrees this correction is necessary.

Mr. KINGSTON. Mr. Chairman, I certainly thank the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON), and I thank the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER) as well; and I also appreciate the visit that the gentleman made to that very facility a little over a year ago, but unfortunately, that visit, the facility is very dilapidated and soldiers need a little more elbow room, and they do not certainly need to be operating out of a building that is falling apart.

Just recently, the military has moved into a temporary tent facility; but unfortunately, that even leaks when it rains and in Savannah, Georgia, we get some heavy rains from time to time. Recently, one of my staffers who was down there to visit with them, and there actually had to leave the tent because the leak was so bad.

I know that the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON) and the ranking member,
June 27, 2002

Mr. HOBSON. Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to make these changes, especially for such a worthwhile project.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. EDWARDS), also a member of the subcommittee.

Mr. EDWARDS. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me the time.

Mr. Chairman, I am going to be brief, but I would like to make several comments. First, I want to, as a member of the committee, commend the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. HOBSON), the chairman, and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER), the ranking Democratic member, for working together on a bipartisan basis once again to do the work of our country and to provide these services and facilities in Georgia, knowing the importance of this to our servicemen and women. So I thank the gentleman again for everything that he has done in support of Fort Stewart/Hunter and all the other bases and posts in Georgia.

Mr. HOBSON. Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to make these changes, especially for such a worthwhile project. I am pleased to make these changes, especially for such a worthwhile project.

Mr. NUSSELE. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in support of H.R. 5011, the Military Construction Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2003. It is important that Congress pass this legislation purely on its merits, without any needless amendments. It is critical for our national defense, advances our readiness and supports our men and women in uniform.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of H.R. 5011, the bill making appropriations for our nation’s military construction needs for Fiscal Year 2003. This bill is important legislation that will strengthen our nation’s defense capability in addition to directly benefiting our people in uniform, particularly the Guam Army National Guard. I urge passage of H.R. 5011 as it bolsters our national defense.

Ms. LEE. Mr. Chairman, the House GOP Leadership has gagged Democrats, seniors, and our disabled community by not allowing the chance to first offer and debate a real prescription drug plan. This undermines our democracy, and the true meaning of representative government.

The growing elderly community, most of whom live on a fixed income, consistently pay ridiculously high costs for prescription drugs. According to a survey recently published by the disabled community, almost 40% of all people who are disabled are completely uninsured, and almost 50% of all people who are disabled have no insurance. When the disabled are often ignored in this debate, are also forced to pay an enormous amount. The high price of prescription drugs must not concern the Republican member in this House, because they are only willing to cover less than 25% of the Medicare beneficiaries. This is opposite of the Democratic substitute that would have guaranteed a benefit to everyone.

Democrats know that we must provide government guaranteed comprehensive drug coverage. Under the Democratic plan we would have ensured that seniors wouldn’t go bankrupt with disabilities had affordable, comprehensive, and guaranteed access to prescription drug coverage. But nothing Democratic really matters here today. The Republican plan allows privatization. They continue to protect their big business donors and corporate bedfellows.

In my own district, Oakland, CA, elderly and disabled are paying up to $2,000 more a year for basic drugs than those in Canada, Europe, and Japan. This another example of dramatic price discrimination. Democrats understand that this is unfair and we implore seniors across the country to stand up against the bully-tactics that the Republicans continue to use.

Women need prescription drugs too! More than half of the nearly 40 million Medicare beneficiaries are women. Let me remind the Republicans that although insurance plans routinely prescribe contraceptive drugs, they fail to cover prescription contraceptives and related medical visits and exams. Women on Medicare spend 20% more than men on prescription drugs, especially since prescription drugs are important for treating chronic illnesses with increased drug resistance.

Maybe Republicans need to be reminded that the average woman on Medicare spends 22% of her income on out-pocket health... care expenses, including prescription drugs. And this is worse for poor women without insurance. For poor women this figure rises to 53%.

I’m sure that seniors, the disabled community, and women would like to know what they could receive under the Department plan. A $25 monthly premium; a $100 yearly deductible; 80/20 cost sharing between Medicare beneficiaries, a $2,000 maximum for moderate beneficiaries, and a sliding scale for low income individuals for up to 150% of median income. But we have been muzzled. We cannot even talk of a definition of Medicare drug plan. What a shame! What a sham.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Chairman, for much of the twentieth century, our great steel companies churned and poured out the material used to build our nation creating the skeletons of our battleships, military equipment and installations. Today, during floor consideration of the Military Construction Appropriations Act of 2003 (H.R. 5011), I intended to offer an amendment to ensure that only domestic steel could be used for military construction. However, pursuant to restrictions under the rule for funding limitations, my amendment was subject to a point of order and was not offered. For the record, I would like to fully explain the intent of this amendment.

Mr. Speaker, my amendment to Section 108 of H.R. 5011 was designed to help American industry ailing from the effects of globalization. Section 108 currently states that no funds appropriated in H.R. 5011 may be used for procurement of steel for construction projects or activities for which American Steel producers have been denied the opportunity to compete for such contracts. While this important provision, the goal of my amendment was to strengthen that Section and require that the funds made available in H.R. 5011 would be spent on purchasing equipment, products or systems which contain steel manufactured in the United States. In other words, competition is good, but I wanted to go one step further and guarantee our military construction contracts involve U.S. steel. Our national defense depends on a healthy U.S. steel industry and it makes sense to offer some federal guarantees that American Steel producers receive the opportunity to compete for such contracts. While I support the amendment to ensure that the dollars we spend will protect the security of America, protect American jobs and the livelihood of the American Steel worker.

Mr. OLIVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. HOBSON. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN. All time for general debate has expired.

Pursuant to the rule, the bill shall be considered for amendment under the 5-minute rule. During consideration of the bill for amendment, the Chair may accord priority in recognition to a Member offering an amendment that has been printed in the designated place in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD, and those amendments will be considered read.

The Clerk will read. The Clerk read as follows:

FURTHER MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A further message from the Senate by Mr. Monahan, one of its clerks, announced that the Senate has passed a bill and concurrent resolution of the following titles in which the concurrence of the House is required:

INCREASING PUBLIC DEBT LIMIT

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, pursuant to House Resolution 462, I call up Senate bill (S. 2578) to amend title 31 of the United States Code to increase the public debt limit, and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

The Clerk read the title of the Senate bill.

The text of S. 2578 is as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. INCREASE IN PUBLIC DEBT LIMIT.

Subsection (b) of section 3101 of title 31, United States Code, is amended by striking "$5,950,000,000,000” and inserting "$6,400,000,000,000.”

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SIMPSON). Pursuant to House Resolution 462, the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS) and the gentleman from New York (Mr. RANGEL) each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS).
Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, more than a month ago, this House passed H.R. 4775 by a vote of 280–138, a clear bipartisan majority. That bill created the ability to address the debt limit. For over a month, the Senate has not responded to addressing the debt limit.

However, recently the Senate sent to the House S. 2578, a bill to raise the debt limit. Debt-limit bills usually originate in the House. In fact, the last time this situation faced the House was in 1946. In 1946, the Senate sent the House a debt ceiling bill. On the floor of the House then-majority leader John McCormick referred that bill to the Committee on the Judiciary. The House did not consider the attempt by the Senate to initiate debt-limit legislation.

So today, in the act of considering a Senate-initiated debt-limit bill, we are in a situation which, based upon the data and analysis by the Parthenians, could be considered to be an unprecedented situation. But given the circumstances surrounding the way in which we are required to take this bill up, it should not be considered a precedent because for over a month we could have engaged in the historical usual pattern of addressing debt limit.

It is quite true that that measure that was presented to the House in 1946 was a Senate bill to lower the debt limit, not to raise it. That is why the House, in attempting to preserve its prerogative, felt comfortable in referring the bill to the Committee on the Judiciary from which it never surfaced. But a bill to lower the debt limit, as Members appreciate, does not contain within it the need to act, as does a bill that increases the debt limit.

The failure of the Senate to act on the invitation to address the debt limit by the House means that the Senate has successfully run down the clock by which we measure the House's inaction of addressing the debt limit. So far as the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means is concerned, the measure before us should not be considered a change in the historic relationship between the House and the Senate over the origination of debt-limit legislation; but, rather the action taken today is a one-time acknowledgment of the exigencies of the circumstances facing the House. We are dealing with this purely to facilitate the movement of this bill to the President's desk, and it should not be interpreted as a precedent-changing situation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

A lot of strange things are happening on this floor. As we watch the Committee on Ways and Means lose all of its jurisdiction, I was just about to blame the Republican leadership; and, lo and behold, it is the Senate that is responsible. Every time I get ready to be critical of the Republican leadership for bypassing the House rules, by creating rules to pass legislation, I hear my distinguished and talented and intellectual chairman say, 'This is not unprecedented; just the first time it is happening because what is unprecedented is what the other body is doing. Shame on the other body.'

Let me tell you this. We are the keepers of the tradition of the House, and if the Republican party is being violated each and every day. Who would think at a time of war when our Nation is still in recession, where we are trying to bring our wounds together, where we recognize that, sure, we lost 5 or $6 trillion in the surplus, it was not the Republics' fault, it was because the economy let us down. But now that we are asked to increase the debt ceiling, we are no longer Republicans and Democrats, we are Americans, and we are going to have to do the right thing.

Why? Because Republicans are trustworthy? Of course we cannot say that. Because we come together when the full faith and credit of the United States is at stake. When that flag goes up, then we have no choice except to increase the debt ceiling. It is just the same as finding out at home that when you find out that your credit has run out, you can start pointing fingers, but if you need an extension or the mortgage is going to be foreclosed, then you have to go to the bank.

All we want to know is, what did you do with the money? How are you going to spend the additional money that you are going to borrow? And if the Senate is so irresponsible, why did the House not act sooner? Why did the Committee on Ways and Means not come together in a bipartisan way and bring something to the floor?

Mr. Speaker, the Senate may have a lot of things to fix. I am trying to understand how the Committee on Ways and Means is losing jurisdiction when the chairman of the committee and the ranking member are debating a bill brought to us by a rule which allows no amendments, exactly the way in which legislation coming from the Committee on Ways and Means is always dealt with.

I think if you have really followed this debate over time, you will understand the dynamics of this debate. If we do not do it, we get criticized. If we do it, we get criticized. If in fact the measure before us, which originated in the Senate and is the product of the Senate leadership and the gentleman from New York finds the Senate's language and structure unacceptable, then his problem is with the leadership of the Senate, not of the leadership of this House.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Washington (Mr. McDermott), a senior member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I always am impressed by the chairman of the House's leadership. He said that we are out here because of the exigencies of circumstances. What he means is, we made a mess and we got us out of the mess that you created. It is a mess that did not have to happen.

Mr. Speaker, I refer to an op-ed of Sunday, February 11, 2001, by Robert Rubin that is called A Prosperity Easy to Destroy. It says in short:

The proposed tax cut of roughly $2 trillion—$1.6 trillion of tax cuts plus $400 billion of interest on debt that would otherwise have been retired—would substantially diminish the fiscal position of the Federal government, and would create a serious threat of deficits on the noninterest side of the Federal budget

This was all predicted in February of last year. We came out here, and we have been told, 'You can spend all you want, you can give it all away, you can do all these things.'

He actually even predicted that there would not be any money for a prescription drug benefit. Ha. Mr. Rubin knew very well. He is the guy that brought us in. He is the one that brought us in, and you call it the excess that we created between 1980 and 1992. Two Republicans, Mr. Reagan, Mr. Bush, they dug the hole, they dug us out of it, and now you are back into it and you call it the exigencies of circumstances. Why do you admit you have made a mess? You cannot get the votes for your prescription drug benefit because it is inadequate and everybody knows it. You are privatizing Medicare and you are trying to hide this debt raising right underneath the prescription drug benefit.

If you are lucky and you can squeeze the votes out of your people, the press tomorrow will talk about Republicans pass inadequate drug benefit. They will never mention this business about the mess you created. We created. You gotta own it. You ought to be ashamed of yourself bringing it out here like this.

The article referred to is as follows:

A Prosperity Easy to Destroy

(From the New York Times, Feb. 11, 2001)

I had not intended to get involved in the public debate on fiscal policy at this point, but I feel so strongly that a tax cut of the magnitude proposed is a serious error in economic policy that I felt a need to speak.

The proposed tax cut of roughly $2 trillion—$1.6 trillion of tax cuts plus $400 billion of interest on debt that would otherwise have been retired—would seriously diminish the fiscal position of the federal government, and would create a serious threat.
of deficits on the non-entitlement side of the federal budget. That, in turn, could increase interest rates and recrate the loss of consumer and business confidence associated with the deficits of the late '80s and early '90s.

Over the last 20 years, our nation has seen the benefits of fiscal discipline, and also the adverse consequences of lack of fiscal discipline. Big tax cuts are a fast way back to deficits and economic stress. From these experiences, there are lessons that should guide our actions. First, we gain greatly when our nation is clearly committed to budgetary discipline and lose greatly when it is not. Second, it is wise to be prudent—we should join with the CBO in setting realistic adjustments to better represent future spending on current discretionary programs and tax revenues. Since the proposed tax cut of $1 trillion was about half a trillion, if an alternative minimum tax adjustment is included, it would entirely use up the remaining surplus, with no additional debt reduction. And that leaves nothing for special programs that already have broad support, like a prescription drug benefit or a greater increase in defense spending for a missile defense system, or other purposes or additional tax cuts, all of which are almost sure to happen this year or over the next few years. These spending increases and the additional tax cuts would add at least $1 trillion to the federal budget. That, in turn, could increase federal deficits on the non-entitlement side of the budget and threaten the fiscal solvency of the Social Security and Medicare programs. But I think there is no doubt that key and indispensable to this was that economic conditions would remain mediocre well into the future.

The economic transformation that followed included massive job creation, rising incomes, low inflation, unemployment now at 4.2 percent, and today's large current and projected surpluses. Many factors contrib-ted to this transformation, including global globalization, new technologies, vast corporate restructuring and our flexible labor market. But I think there is no doubt that key and indispensable to this was the restoration of fiscal discipline, beginning with the deficit reduction program of 1993.

Just how dramatic a change in economic conditions was this is evidenced by the putative irresponsibility of opposition, with strident prediction of vast increases in unemployment and recessions. Instead, fiscal discipline contributed greatly to lower interest rates and, very, very importantly, restoration of confidence by consumption and a deficit of deficit balances to symbolize a much broader set of concerns about our ability to manage our affairs. The result was increased demand; increased investment, especially in the new technologies; increased productivity; and sustained growth in gross domestic product, jobs and incomes.

We are now in the process of unwinding the excesses that, in my view, inevitably develop after an extended period of good times. To minimize the economic pain and duration of that unwinding and to best realize our very favoraable longer-term prospects, we should continue with our hard-won fiscal discipline and not adopt a greatly expanded tax cut that seriously threatens the federal government's fiscal soundness.

There is broad agreement amongst virtually all mainstream economists that a tax cut this year is unlikely to provide meaningful economic stimulus to deal with whatever adverse circumstances may occur this year. Moreover, the desire for short-term stimulative purposes, the vast preponderance of the one proposed—which affects later years—is largely irrelevant. Instead, a front-end-loaded tax cut, or a special rebate aimed at working people with the highest propensity to spend, would maxi-to obscure the fact that the irresponsibility commenced right here.

We told you that the sheer size of the tax cut made all of your plan a risky gamble. We warned you the projections of future budget surpluses were not written in stone. As it turned out, they were written in sand, in substantial part because of your policies.

We have gone from surpluses as far as the eye could see to deficits as far as the eye can see. You are diverting Social Security and Medicare to pay for your tax cuts and other irresponsible programs. The majority has compounded its irresponsibility, as I have said, by tonight saying raise the debt ceiling. We are obliged to pay our debt.

Mr. Speaker, I yield balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. Hastings) in characterizing a Member several years ago puts me in exactly that dilemma. I yield to the distinguished leader. We were calling for debate. We did not know you were going to bring out the leader. We want to hear what he has to say about this since the chairman of Committee on Ways and Means is confused.

Mr. ARMEY. Mr. Speaker, I am happy to yield to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. Smith).

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

They wanted to know where is the debate? I am trying to figure out what it is that I am supposed to debate. The gentleman from Michigan comes on the floor and says a plan to do nothing?

Mr. Speaker, I yield my colleagues to vote “no” on this resolution, to vote “no” until you become fiscally responsible with the funds of our fellow and sister citizens.

Mr. ARMEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Texas will control the time for the majority.

There was no objection.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman. All we need is a plan.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Neal), a member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. NEAL. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. Smith) is precisely on target with his comments. During the 1990s, we understood the need to balance the budget. What was the result? It created the greatest period of economic growth in the history of the Nation. The chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means says, hindsight, it is easy. It is foresight that we undertook in the 1990s. We prepared for the rainy day; that was the whole notion: a national disaster, international conflict, a downturn in the economy.

That is why we do not understand a reckless $2 trillion tax cut. We should have been focused on the items that we may not have been able to control in the near or far future.

Unemployment has gone from 4 percent to 6 percent, the budget deficit is at $250 billion, and a Wall Street analyst said yesterday, the economy and the markets right now are in the midst of a full-blown corporate governance shock. Stock market numbers are down, the value of the dollar has dropped considerably, retail sales have dropped along with consumer confidence, and we continue right down this road.

Now here is the point that I find most focused tonight and the one that I think troubles me perhaps far more than anything else. There were Members on the other side of this body who were going to impeach Bob Rubin, going to impeach him. Actually, the Committee on Financial Services in this House held hearings on impeaching Bob Rubin because of the debt ceiling question. They would not vote to raise the debt ceiling under any circumstances.

Tonight, the argument is, well, if we had better hindsight, it would be much
Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Speaker, just 18 short months ago, OMB and Treasury both told us that there would be no deficit or debt ceiling for at least 7 years, not until 2008. OMB told us that they foresaw surpluses coming that would total $5.6 trillion over the next 10 years.

A year later, when OMB sent up its budget, the budget that we are not working upon, it contained a simple pie chart. Look at page S-415. According to OMB’s own pie chart, 40 percent of the surplus was a massive miscalculation. It did not take sufficient account of the payroll tax cut that was defi- cient. Seventeen percent of the surplus was wiped out by spending increases, much of it for defense, and 43 percent, 43 percent of the projected $5.6 billion surplus, according to OMB’s calculation, had been eaten up by the tax cuts, or would be wiped out by the tax cuts enacted last June.

Mr. Speaker, this is the chart, this is the line on this chart right here, this blue line at the bottom that we would have followed had we followed the budget resolution that we proposed, had we not taken the proposal that the Republicans made and that the Presi- dent made. This, instead, is the chart that the line that we are on, the red chart, that is additional debt. That is the bottom line.

This is a bar chart that shows us where we might have been with the publicly-held debt. We could have re-

This, instead, is the chart that the line that we are on, the red chart, that is additional debt. That is the bottom line.

This is a bar chart that shows us where we might have been with the publicly-held debt. We could have re-that is going to come forward from the Democrats a little bit later. It will be, and I think my colleague from the Committee on Ways and Means said earlier it was going to be somewhere in the $600 billion range. Folks, we are getting there, and my guess is it could be over a trillion dollars of new mandatory spending.

Oh, but do not worry about that. Let us compartmentalize that. Because we are going to deal with the Republicans and the Democrats today, even though we do not have a plan.

And then other thing that many Members with integrity come forward with, they say, you know what, that tax cut that we passed last year was too much, it was way too much, and so let us not do anything about that either except maybe roll it back. That is called a tax increase.

So the plan is foggy, but we are starting to talk what the minority side is starting to come up with. It is called higher taxes and more spending, higher taxes and more spending. Now tell me how that plan does not knock up against the debt ceiling?

So you want to come to the floor today, and part of not governing means that you do not have to make a choice and you do not have to make a plan and that is fine. You get to have that luxury. But let us just recall history. For 45 years, this trillions of dollars that have been added to the debt were added to the debt by a Democratic-controlled Congress.

It was only over the last 5 years that that debt has started to be reduced. By almost half a trillion dollars that debt was reduced. I think that is a pretty good track record.

One other thing I would just mention, for those who predicted back in February that all this would happen. It seems to be or would be in order, unless there is objection from the other side. The SPEAKER pro tempore. There are certain unanimous consent requests that require clearance from both sides of the aisle. Among those are a request for consideration of non-germane amendments to bills, which this would be.

Mr. STENHOLM. Further parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker. The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman may inquire.

Mr. STENHOLM. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that by unanimous consent this body may do almost anything if we all agree, all 435.

That is the Democratic plan. That is what this House should be approving tonight.

Mr. ARMey. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 15 seconds to the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT).

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment in the form of legislation. That plan says we will agree to a $150 billion increase in the debt ceiling immediately and no further increase until we have a plan to return us to a balanced budget by 2007, until we establish spending caps to control our spending, and until we strengthen and extend the pay-go rules.

That is the Democratic plan. That is what this House should be approving tonight.

Mr. ARMey. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. ANDREWS).

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank my friend, the gentleman from New York, for yielding time to me.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. For every $100 the Federal Government is spending, we are now bringing in about $90 worth of revenue. The way we are making up the other $10 is to borrow it. Some of it comes from the Social Security trust fund, and the rest of it comes from the private capital markets. We have reached our limit, or we are about to reach our limit as to what we can borrow.

Logic tells us that what we ought to do is sit down and figure out how we get there. I think it is true that the terrorist attack had something to do with that, indisputably. I think it is true that the recession had a lot to do with it, indisputably. But the other side has to admit that the $2 trillion tax cut that they recklessly put through this House last year also has got something to do with it.

The two parties ought to come together, discuss the alternatives, extend the debt ceiling tonight by an amount necessary to cover us during that period of time, and put our house back in order. That is a reasonable, sensible approach, which is why the other side will not let it get to the floor.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Utah (Mr. MATHESON).

Mr. MATHESON asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)
Mr. MATHESON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from New York for yielding time to me.

There is no question that circumstances have changed from where we were a year ago. We acknowledged that there has been more pressure on terrorism. We have had national security concerns, as the situation has changed.

We ought to change the way we are figuring out what we are doing about the budget. If we have to go borrow more money from the bank to buy a car or a house, let us tell the bank a story about how we are going to pay them back. That is just common sense. But we do not have that story here. We are not telling people that story. We are telling the American people we want to borrow more money that is going to be on their backs and the next generation and the next generation, with no story about how we are going to pay it back.

Let us all agree that the situation has changed. Let us all agree that we have a tough job ahead of us. Let us roll up our sleeves and work together and come up with some kind of plan on a go-forward basis to get us out of a position of fiscal responsibility.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DOGGETT), a distinguished member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, it was only a few months ago that Republicans took us by surprise and let us know we would not need to touch this debt ceiling until 2008, and fringed concern that we would probably pay down so much debt that we would hurt the economy.

Well, we know that in the meantime much has happened, but one of these developments is the impact of one tax break after another for their wealthy Republican friends and another is that corporate tax abuse has been totally ignored to the extent that some corporate tax cuts actually will help the arrogance, at a time of national security need, to renounce their citizenship, move their mailbox to Bermuda or some other foreign island, and evade their United States taxes at the same time our deficits continue to mount.

It is not just a spending issue, though there have been plenty of spending bills in this House that I have voted against. A loss of tax revenues also contributes to the deficit and a total disinterest and disregard for this aspect of the problem by the Republican leadership.

I do not believe there is a carpet big enough to sweep underneath all the mess that Republicans have made of our budget. After a few years of paying down the deficit, when Americans enjoyed the benefits of lower interest rates to purchase homes and cars, we now face a return to years of one deficit after another. How incredible that at the offer of a unanimous consent resolution to at least say, can we not agree that the deficit the year 2007 we will be off this deficit financing and we will have a balanced budget, their answer is no; to object, to refuse to consider a commitment to having a balanced budget by at least the year 2007.

We do have a default issue tonight, not about the debt. Rather it is a default in leadership; it is a default in responsibility. We have heard so much talk by Republicans about balance failures, but one of the most obvious is the inability to grasp that when the elite do not pay their fair share, like these corporations that are heading offshore, the rest of us have to pick up the tab. Then we offer to roll up our sleeves, as they are tonight, and ask to use our Social Security cards as their credit card for more spending and more tax breaks.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to my friend, the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. BERRY).

Mr. BERRY. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from New York (Mr. RANGEL) for yielding time to me, and also for his great friendship and leadership.

Mr. Speaker, we have heard the other side come to this floor this evening and talk about this debt as if we did not have good sense over here.

Now, if we are doing so good, Mr. Speaker, how come we are broke? I just do not understand that. It is like we did not have enough sense to tell the difference between turnip greens and butter beans.

If we are doing so good, if this plan that the gentleman from Iowa kept referring to a while ago is working so well, how come we are broke? How come we need to borrow another $450 billion, not from ourselves, but from our children and grandchildren, for crying out loud?

Who in their right mind would want to do something like that? Why would we want to come to this floor and borrow another $450 billion from our children and grandchildren and have no idea how we are going to pay it back?

Mr. Speaker, for a refreshing change in pace, I am more than pleased to yield 4 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding time to me.

Mr. Speaker, when I was elected in 1987, I had one big desire: to get our country’s financial house in order and to balance the Federal budget. That was my desire. I did not feel I really had any authority to really have an impact on that until John Kasich came and started offering amendments to cut spending in 1989, and more and more of us started to join with him.

Then in 1994 a major change happened. Republicans had an opportunity to lead this House and try to get our country’s financial house in order. We did that by 1997, and in 1998 we ended deficit spending. In 1999 we ended using Social Security reserves. That happened. That is a fact. It was a bipartisan agreement.

There are times I voted to increase the national debt, and there are times I voted not to. But when I hear a colleague who has pushed the farm bill so hard talk to us about not increasing the deficit, I think, did that not contribute to increasing the national debt? Is that not a part of spending? When I see some of my colleagues who voted for the defense budget, did that not contribute to increasing our national debt, and it was kind of put into something else. I heard my colleagues say, let us have it clean. So I asked my leadership, and others did, as well, let us have it clean.

There were some who said the $750 billion increase, as the President proposed, is simply so high because it might push us beyond even the election of the President. So when there was an effort by Senator DASCHLE and Republicans jointly to control the $450 billion and to have it clean, I pleaded with my House leadership to just take it right off this desk and send it to the President. That is what we have an opportunity of doing.

I really think, and I know why my colleagues on this side of the aisle are tempted to do it, there are things they do not like, and this is a way for them to illustrate their contempt, their anger, all the things that are pent up.

I just cannot imagine you would do it on this issue, not on this issue. I cannot imagine that we would tomorrow risk the fact that this may not pass. And, you know what? It may not pass. Maybe you will succeed in getting some Republicans, a few, to vote against it, and maybe my Democratic colleagues will convince the rest of their conference to make a political stance on this. In the end, we are simply pushing another debate on this until February, 2003, the next Congress. Maybe the Democrats will be in charge. Maybe the Republicans. But we will have to wrestle with this issue.

But for me there is no question. I voted for the tax cut. I did not vote for the farm bill. I thought the farm bill was an outrage. I think it kind of sent a message that is unfortunate. I voted for the defense bill. I voted for the 9–11 costs. So in the end when you see the votes go up and if my Democratic colleagues are successful in convincing most of their colleagues to vote against this and this goes down, I think tomorrow people will know where the problem is.

This is Senator DASCHLE’s bill. It is a Democratic bill in the Senate that we have an opportunity to take off this desk and pass it, and any alteration to this sends it right back to the Senate. I sincerely hope my colleagues will make sure that they voted for the farm bill, that they have some obligations. If they voted for the defense bill, they have some obligations. And the tax cuts which my colleagues are concerned about really have not taken effect. They have come in years in the future. But the one thing that did take effect was the $300 or the $500 or the $600 payment. The Democratic proposal than God. But because as we went into this recession, more spending and tax cuts have made this recession less. So I salute my colleagues for making this recession less by spending more and making the debt ceiling increase necessary.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. TANNER), a member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

(Mr. TANNER asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. TANNER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from New York (Mr. RANGEL) for yielding me time. I personally do not care whether it is a Democratic bill or a Republican bill. What we have got in this country is a $6 trillion debt. We are paying a billion dollars a day interest, and all we have asked for is a plan of some kind to get us out of this hole before we pass another $450 billion authority to borrow money. I am not thinking that is unreasonable. I would like to debate that point. There is not a business or a family listening tonight anywhere in this country that would run their own business like we are running the Nation’s business. Borrowing the bill. What is worse, we have got in this country is the $6 trillion debt. We are paying a billion dollars a day interest, and all we have asked for is a plan of some kind to get us out of this hole before we pass another $450 billion authority to borrow money. I am sorry. We need a middle-class tax cut. But in 1993, when you had the House, the White House and the Senate, you could not help yourselves. You increased the tax on the middle class. You cut veterans COLAs. You cut military COLAs. You called it a deficit reduction plan.

But when Republicans came we eliminated that Social Security tax. We gave a middle-class tax cut. And our policies, not one single Democrat bill or budget, not one Democrat budget from the President ever passed. As a matter of fact, Republicans brought up your budgets to show how bad they were.

And for you to get up here and say after day talk about tax breaks for the rich, I talked to some of my colleagues. I said, don’t you know that is not true. And they said, it is gamesmanship. You lowered the bar too low in this House.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from North Dakota (Mr. POMEROY), a member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from New York (Mr. RANGEL) for yielding me time.

I rise today as a conservative Member of this institution, Mr. Speaker. I did not come here to increase the government’s debt. I came here believing, as so many people I represent believe, that if you owe debts, pay debts.

I spoke to an elderly woman on a radio program in Richmond, Indiana, today in the heart of the heartland district that I represent. Mr. Speaker, she said with fear in her voice that she was in poverty. She was going to be in poverty. She said about the Social Security check. She assumed that my colleagues would not support raising the debt ceiling and would put at risk her Social Security check. She assumed that my colleagues would not support raising the debt ceiling.

I rise today as a conservative Member of this institution, Mr. Speaker. I did not come here to increase the government’s debt. I came here believing, as so many people I represent believe, that if you owe debts, pay debts.
the budget last year, adopted a plan to actually redeem all of the public debt over the next decade. We were on track, Mr. Speaker, to meet that goal, even after the President’s tax cut was adopted.

And then, though it is convenient tonight to forget it on the other side of the aisle, that a recession struck America; and then, of course, as we all experienced here, the devastation in New York City and at the Pentagon. 9-11 destroyed and hundreds of billions of dollars that the CBO and the OMB and every independent organization in America predicted would be there was no longer there.

The result is that our government now needs to keep its promise to the American people, to all of various entitlement programs, but maybe most especially the program that that elderly woman asked about this morning.

We must raise the statutory debt limit. The truth is they have no budget. They have no credibility on debt reduction. They have no plan to guarantee the full faith and credit. They have no plan to guarantee, especially the program that that elderly American people, to all of various entitlement programs if we did not have the debt in place.

Mr. MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. FLAKE).

Mr. FLAKE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me time.

I did not plan to speak on this at all. I was up in my office and could not help but, watching some of the proceedings, I could not help understanding that there is something amiss here to have people, individuals on the Democrat side of the aisle who have voted for nearly every spending program that has been put up, who vote for the airline bail out, who vote for the farm bill, who vote for the education bill, spending bill after spending bill, none of which I voted for and yet I am over here saying to vote for this bill.

Now, how can somebody spend like a drunken sailor and then all of a sudden find religion when it comes to raising the debt limit? This is just like eating a big meal and walking out on the bill.

There are only a few people in this House who could in good conscience vote against this bill, and they have spoken. And to see this display of people standing up and saying, we cannot raise the debt limit, that is not responsible, after voting to spend and spend and spend, is more than I could take. So I had to come here and talk about it.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from New York (Mr. MOORE).

Mr. MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. MOORE).

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. DAVIS).

Mr. DAVIS. Florida. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me time.

We have heard the debate tonight. There is one question that lingers. Where are the fiscally responsible members of the Republican House of Representatives? So many of my colleagues campaigned, as many Democrats did, on the virtues of the balanced budget and paying down the debt.

The plan that has been outlined here tonight that was offered as an amendment in the Committee on the Budget by me and others addresses all the concerns that have been expressed. It gives discretion for us to spend some money on security. It allows time to get back to a balanced budget and paying down the debt.

On September 11, thank God we had economic security. We had a balanced budget. We were on our way to paying down the debt. It kept us strong. It keeps us strong. We could not ignore that. We need to get back to it.

The arguments my colleagues make about tax cuts would be better arguments if we did not have the debt in the trillions of dollars, over $4 trillion. The interest payment 2 years ago on that debt exceeded more than we spent on Medicare every year. Now a number of us are worried about the health of the economy.

If we continue down this path without adopting the plan that has been advocated tonight, we will start to drive interest rates up again and we will really be in trouble. I urge rejection of this bill. Let us adopt the plan.

Mr. ARMY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Arizona (Mr. FLAKE).

Mr. FLAKE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me time.

I did not plan to speak on this at all. I was up in my office and could not help but, watching some of the proceedings, I could not help understanding that there is something amiss here to have people, individuals on the Democrat side of the aisle who have voted for nearly every spending program that has been put up, who vote for the airline bail out, who vote for the farm bill, who vote for the education bill, spending bill after spending bill, none of which I voted for and yet I am over here saying to vote for this bill.

Mr. FLANGE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. RANGEL).

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. DAVIS).

Mr. DAVIS. Florida. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me time.

Mr. ARMY. Mr. Speaker, I have one speaker left. I reserve my time.

Mr. FLANGE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

At the appropriate time the minority would hope that common sense and fairness would allow us to send this bill to the Committee on Ways and Means and have it reported out the right way with the right amount of increase in the debt.

Mr. Speaker, it is my great honor to yield the remaining time that is left to our distinguished leader from Missouri (Mr. GEPPERTD) in order to close this argument on behalf of the minority.

(Mr. GEPPERTD asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GEPPERTD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to urge Members to vote for the motion to commit, which will be presented in a few moments, and if that motion to commit is not passed, I urge Members to vote against the bill.

The power to budget and to pass economic plans carried with the responsibility to, if it is necessary, raise debt ceilings to accommodate the budget, the economic plan that we are operating under. The economic plan we are operating under is one propounded by the President and the Republican majority in the House. That is their prerogative and that is their right. There was no real collaboration on that plan. There was no need for that collaboration. That also is their right.

If that is the plan that is in place and that plan now leads to deficits and spending Social Security dollars against everything that we said together that we did not want to do because we passed the lockbox at least five times, then it seems to me it is incorrect upon the people to propose that plan to vote to increase the debt ceiling to accommodate the results that that plan has caused.

I have said many times that I would vote tonight or anytime to raise the debt ceiling by $150 billion. I use that amount because I think it is sufficient to buy us a couple of more months’ time to try to work out a bipartisan budget that will begin to move us back in the right direction, because I think that’s what we ought to do.

I have said to the President that we should have a negotiation, we should have a summit, we should have a meeting, a bipartisan meeting, to try to work out a new budget for our country. I know we cannot get everything we want, and I know that the other side cannot get everything they want; but we had a tragedy in this country on 9-11 that no one anticipated. My colleagues can bet that every family who lost somebody on 9-11 has had a budget committee go through their living room table to come up with a new budget, given the fact that many of them lost their breadwinner or winners on 9-11.
Just as those families suffered tragedy on 9-11, the American families suffered a tragedy on 9-11; and as many of us argued when the budget was on the floor, we should take care of those contingencies if they happen. Well, if 9-11 is not a contingency that happens, then I do not understand why we are left with a hole in security responsibilities. We are faced with fighting a war in many countries abroad. If that is not a new contingency, I do not know what is.

As an American family, Democrats, Republicans, Independents, whatever; we are all Americans tonight; and we ought to be sitting around a table in these next 2 months working out a new budget for America that does not lead us back into all these deficits and spending Social Security dollars that all of us together said we did not want to do.

So in the name of common sense, I ask that we come together tonight. We could get 435 votes to pass $150 billion increase in the debt ceiling and move this country back into a budget that will be good for all Americans at war, fighting for our country, fighting against terrorism, and fighting for American values.

I urge my friends on the other side of the aisle to vote for the motion to commit and let us get back to an American budget that is good for all the American people.

Mr. ARMEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the remaining time.

I have here a letter from the Concord Coalition, a nonpartisan group of distinguished American citizens who concern themselves daily with such matters as balanced budgets; and according to the Concord Coalition, it says that “it is clear that the debt limit must be increased. The Senate has acted and now it is up to the House. Republicans and Democrats alike should put the Nation’s creditworthiness ahead of political considerations.”

The Concord Coalition goes on to say that “the House must be prepared to act on a stand alone debt limit increase in time to avoid a crisis.” It also calls upon us to be nonpartisan or bipartisan.

Mr. Speaker, what in the world could possibly be more bipartisan than to have the Republican majority leader of the House of Representatives schedule for debate and a vote a Senate-passed bill supported by the Senate Democrat majority leader? The head of the Democrat Party, the highest-ranking Democrat in America wrote this bill. What could possibly be more bipartisan than the tribute we Republicans are paying to the distinguished leadership of the gentleman from South Dakota, the head of the Democrat Party?

Mr. Speaker, irony of ironies, the gentleman from South Dakota’s own party’s leadership in this House stands here in open opposition to the head of their own party’s plan to raise the debt ceiling. What are we to make of this partisanship? A party turning upon itself in defiance of the Concord Coalition. What are we to do?

Mr. Speaker, we have before us Senate bill 2578, authored, as I have said, by the highest-ranked elected Democrat in America today, the Senate majority leader, Senator Daschle. In South Dakota as bill which when brought to the floor in the other body was passed with a vote of 37 loyal Senate Democrats and 31 thoughtful Senate Republicans. What a bipartisan effort that was. Was not applauded by even The Washington Post for the spirit of bipartisanship?

Every author of bipartisanship in America stood in reverence at the action in the other body, for the collegiality around the Senate Democrat leader’s plan, and yet we bring it to this floor and it is mocked, mocked by members of his own party. Oh, be still my heart. What am I to do with this? What can we say?

Are there any Democratic souls in this body, loyal to their own party’s leadership, afflicted with affection for the gentleman from South Dakota who will stand up and say to the Concord Coalition count me in, I am with my leader, I will vote for Senator Daschle’s plan. Are there any brave souls in this body? Oh, I pray, Mr. Speaker, I pray that they will present themselves.

Let me say, Mr. Speaker, how disappointing it is to see the rejection of the offer that was put back to us as a motion to commit, in the form of a bill offered by a small band of Members of the Senate’s own party who do not even claim to be in the mainstream of their party. These Blue Dogs are treacherous. They are treacherous, Mr. Speaker.

I prevail upon my friends from the other side of the aisle. Look at the example that came before you from the other side of the building. Check the record of how your own, very own Democrat Senator voted. Please vote with him. Save yourselves the embarrassment of having to go home and answer this question at your local party gathering. Do not put yourself in a position where you are being irresponsible. Well, isn’t that the pot calling the kettle black? Under their watch, our budget experienced the most dramatic reversal in history, losing $4 trillion in projected surpluses in one year. To my mind, permanently raising the debt ceiling in the absence of a plan to reduce our deficits is the epilogue of fiscal irresponsibility.

Mr. Speaker, last year, the majority’s budget asserted that there would be no need to increase the debt limit until 2009. But here we are, poised to consider legislation raising the debt ceiling to $6.4 trillion without being given a chance to offer a plan. Mr. Speaker, it is disgraceful that the majority has decided to block debate on a credible plan to address the short-term crisis and undo our present fiscal mess. My Democratic colleagues, Representative Baird and Mooney and the House, offer a measure that would immediately increase debt limit by $150 billion with the requirement that the President submit a revised budget that is in balance by 2007 without borrowing from Social Security. Regrettably, Mr. Speaker, this reasonable alternative never saw the light of day.

Mr. Speaker, I am simply unwilling to write the federal government a virtual blank check that may or may not keep us in the black until the midterm elections in November. Mr. Speaker, Republicans, the Federal Reserve has dramatically reduced short term rates. What in the world is the Federal Reserve doing with the interest on our national debt? That’s about 16 cents of every dollar they pay in taxes—just to make the interest payment, not even to pay down the debt itself. Moreover, the indirect costs of raising the debt limit and the reduction of deficits prevent long-term interest rates low for Americans struggling to make mortgage, car, or credit card payments, even as the Federal Reserve has dramatically reduced short term rates.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in rejecting this measure and forcing the Republican Leadership to work with the minority to develop a real plan to deal with the deficits that now stretch as far as the eye can see. Until we have a realistic budget that eliminates those deficits, increasing the statutory debt ceiling is pure folly.

Mr. BLUMÉNÄUER. Mr. Speaker, the Treasury Secretary made it clear weeks ago that Congress would have to increase the federal government's debt ceiling. Since that time, many of us have been requesting an open debate on a bill to increase the debt ceiling.

How can the Republican leadership explain the debt ceiling increase added to the debate of the military construction appropriations bill by way of a procedural hijacking? This legislative approach blocks any amendments from being offered, including the Democrats' intent to limit the increase to $150 billion as opposed to the Republican's increase of $450 billion.

I am ready to assure the debt limit is sufficient to meet our obligations, however, I vote against this measure because this chamber and the American people deserve that we conduct business of this manner with a full debate and consideration of reasoned amendments that will clarify a blueprint for fiscal responsibility.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All time for debate has expired.

Pursuant to House Resolution 462, the Senate bill is considered as having been read for amendment and the previous question is ordered.

The Clerk reports the third reading of the Senate bill.

The Senate bill was ordered to be read a third time, and was read the third time.

MOTION TO COMMIT OFFERED BY MR. MOORE

Mr. MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I offer a motion to commit.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman opposed to the bill?

Mr. MOORE. In its current form, yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the motion to commit.

The Clerk reads as follows:

Mr. MOORE moves that the bill S. 2578 be committed to the Committee on Ways and Means with instructions to report the same back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

Strike all after the enacting clause and insert the following.

SECTION 1. INCREASE IN PUBLIC DEBT LIMIT.

Subsection (b) of section 3101 of title 31, United States Code, is amended by striking "$3,600,000,000,000" and inserting "$6,100,000,000,000".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. MOORE) is recognized for 5 minutes in support of his motion to commit.

Mr. MOORE. Mr. Speaker, the majority leader is leaving this Congress at the end of this term, and he might have a career as a comedian, but this is a very, very serious matter.

Tonight, we are talking, Mr. Speaker, about raising the debt limit of this country. We are, at present, approximately $5.9 trillion in debt. Certainly nobody in this body wants to see the United States of America default on its financial obligations. That will not happen. That is not an option.

But the majority leader has not provided all the information from the Concord Coalition, because I want to quote from their letter. "An increase of roughly $250 billion would be sufficient for now without providing a blank check." And yet they are asking, the majority leader is asking for $450 billion. We are offering $150 billion, and I think it is a compromise.

If we spend further, we are into Social Security and Medicare, and the people of America need to understand that, Mr. Speaker. That is wrong. We can come together and come up with a compromise if this country without invading Social Security and Medicare.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT), the ranking member of the Committee on the Budget.

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Speaker, we are not trying to stop an increase in the debt ceiling. Here is what we are trying to stop.

This year, in the most dramatic fiscal reversal we have seen in the time many of us have served in this House, our budget will be in deficit to the tune of $320 billion. Next year, according to our best calculation, our budget will be in deficit by $373 billion. Over the next 10 years, it is $2.785 trillion. That is what we seek to stop.

If my colleagues vote for the bill instead of the motion to commit, what they will be voting for is fiscal denial instead of fiscal discipline. They will be voting for a little absolutist, a ticket past the next election, a ticket past the next budget resolution, but we will simply put off dealing with this problem, this serious problem, this dramatic reversal.

We wanted to present a plan that would have allowed the budget to be increased by $150 billion and another $100 billion without any obstacle. But, after that, we could only increase it if we had in place a budget that we would be back in balance by 2007. That is what we really seek.

In the absence of being able to offer that plan, what we offer instead is the closest thing to it, an increase in the debt ceiling of $150 billion which will bring us back to this problem which we will have to address but will allow us to keep to our obligation to our creditors and, at the same time, allow us to keep our obligation to our children and not leave them burdened with overwhelming debt.

Mr. MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Texas Mr. STENHOLM.

[Mr. STENHOLM asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.]

Mr. STENHOLM. Mr. Speaker, I want to begin by congratulating my Republican colleagues for tonight voting to borrow the money to pay for their policies. I am disappointed, though, that they did not come to the floor with the same enthusiasm defending the vote to borrow the money that they did when they passed the policies that put us into debt. With the exception of the majority leader: his enthusiasm for borrowing $450 billion is unprecedented.

The need to increase the debt limit is not the result of September 11. In fact, the Secretary of the Treasury came to us last August predicting that we would have to borrow money when we were looking at the economic game plan that we were under. We agree on this side unanimously, well, almost unanimously, that we need to increase the debt limit by $150 billion tonight, and we will get around to it.

What we object to is providing a blank check to borrow $450 billion to stay on the same economic game plan.

Now, my friend from Arizona made the comments about the spending. I would point out that every single spending vote this year that has occurred has come under the Republican-passed budget that we supported in the Blue Dogs but that my colleagues would never allow us to have the trigger. So do not blame us for the spending when it is the Republican budget that we are spending to. In fact, we agree that we should not increase spending more than the President has asked us to spend.

Is this not the issue tonight. The issue tonight is whether or not we are going to have a new economic game plan or whether we should borrow $450 billion with a blank check to continue spending.

I am perfectly willing to roll up my sleeves in a bipartisan way and work with the majority if they would just let us. But we will have a pharmaceutical bill on the floor later tonight in which we will be denied an opportunity to vote on. My Republican colleagues denied us an opportunity to have the Hill bill, the Moore bill on the floor today, and yet the chairman said a moment ago, where is the debate?

I have been begging my colleagues to do something on whether we should borrow $450 billion or $150 billion. When we vote for the bill, we are borrowing $450. We could do it at $150 and be fiscally responsible. That is the issue. Vote for the motion to commit.

Mr. NUSSLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the motion to commit.

Mr. Speaker, I cannot help but recall the minority leader's comments when he said there was no collaboration, that there was no discussion, that there was no working together.

I seem to remember a lot of working together, a lot of collaboration that got us to this point. I seem to remember a number of late-night meetings in September, when, in a bipartisan way, we decided to reach into that surplus, and there was not much left, but to reach into that surplus and take money and deal with the emergency. I seem to remember a bill that we voted on nearly unanimously to pay for a war against terrorism. Bipartisan. We did not do the same thing. I seem to remember a bill that came to the floor in a bipartisan way that said, you know what, that pre-attack recession has gotten worse and we need an economic stimulus.

So let us reach in there again and let us make sure that we deal with the economy the way we did with the war and the way we did with the emergency.

Now, all of a sudden, the minority leader rushes to the floor and says, gosh, there was no collaboration, no one talked to us, no one consulted us. Now we need a plan all of a sudden. We have had a plan: It is called deal with the circumstances that were dealt last September. That was our plan. And we did it together. We did it together.

So tonight we have to do together what the other body did with the Senate Daschle bill, and that is to increase the debt limit to deal with the cards that we were dealt.

Now, if my colleagues want a plan, present one, but do not come down here and blame the tax cuts without having the courage to tell us what others might have done to raise those taxes back up again.

And, no, I will not yield, because I am tired of my colleagues coming down here and demagoguing tax cuts and not having one ounce of guts to tell us their plan to increase those taxes back up. No, I will not yield, and I will not yield to Members who come in here and say, oh, gosh, but you are doing all the spending, when tonight my colleagues’ bill on prescription drugs will be three times the bill that we offer on prescription drugs.

The applause is there, but where is the guts to vote for it? That is a good thing. Because for several years prior to this majority taking over the House, we did not revisit it in the House because we had something called the Gephardt rule. That rule said the House never had to deal with these issues; they would just be done automatically. That was comfortable, but it did not in fact give us this wonderful opportunity to rejoice in this.

Well, what was done? In 1997, we passed a debt limit increase of $450 billion, exactly the request that has been sent to this body by the other body, authored by the majority leader in the other body, voted for by 37 Members of the other body, and that will take us perhaps for a while.

This substitute that my colleagues are being asked to vote for guarantees us the right to come back and deal with this issue in September or October. We were guaranteed the right to do this again.

Now, I just do not believe we have got that many more entertaining speeches left in us.

I say vote against the substitute, the motion to commit, and vote for the Senate majority leader’s bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to commit.

There was no objection. The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to commit.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I object to the vote on the ground that a quorum is not present and make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Evidently, a quorum is not present.

The Sergeant at Arms will notify absent Members.
Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XX, the Chair will reduce to a minimum of 5 minutes the time for any electronic vote on the question of passage of the Senate bill.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yes 207, nays 222, not voting 6, as follows:

Mr. HAYES. Mr. Speaker, on rollcall No. 279 I was detained on the floor by legislative business. Had I voted, I would have voted "present."

MRS. TAUSCHER changed her vote from "present" to "no." So the Senate bill was passed. The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.
The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SIMPSON). The gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LINDER) is recognized for 1 hour.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LATOURETTE). The gentleman from Georgia without instructions.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of debate only, I yield the customary 30 minutes to the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. SLAUGHTER), pending which I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H. Res. 465 is a closed rule that provides 2 hours of debate in the House, with 1 hour equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means and 1 hour equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

H. Res. 465 waives all points of order against consideration of the bill, except those arising under section 302(f) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

H. Res. 465 provides that in lieu of the amendment recommended by the Committee on Ways and Means, the amendment in the nature of a substitute provided by the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution shall be considered as adopted.

The rule waives all points of order against the bill as amended and provides one motion to recommit, with or without instructions.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in approving this rule so that the House can proceed to consider this important Medicare reform legislation. The underlying bill is critically important legislation that is designed to provide much-needed financial assistance to elderly patients to ease the burden of the rising costs of prescription drugs.

H. R. 4954 seeks to improve the Medicare program by introducing free market forces in order to bring down drug prices and medical costs overall by introducing competition to a program that currently has none.

In addition to unleashing market forces on prescription drug prices, the bill seeks to move the Medicare+Choice program into a more competitive structure. Medicare managed care and off-the-shelf orthotics are subject to competitive bidding and, finally, Medicare contractors will bid competitively for business. All of these reform elements will help move Medicare in the right direction, and our seniors will surely reap the benefits of a more consumer-friendly and patient-sensitive Medicare.

The House voted on similar legislation in the 106th Congress but was unable to reach agreement with the other body and the Clinton White House in order to enact a law to help our seniors. Well, with our new administration under President Bush now in office, I believe our representatives need to seize the historic opportunity to move a Medicare prescription drug benefit proposal through the 107th Congress in order to give our President a chance to sign such important legislation into law.

I applaud the hard work and leadership of my friends and colleagues, the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS), the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, and the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN), the chairman of the Committee on Energy and Commerce, and their respective ranking members in bringing this legislation to the House floor today.

I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support H. Res. 465, a rule that will allow the House to consider and pass legislation that will improve the lives of millions of seniors across the country by providing them affordable prescription drugs.

Mr. Speaker, I need only say earlier that all time yielded in the pursuit of passage of the rule is yielded for the purpose of debate only.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman from Georgia for yielding me the customary 30 minutes, and I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Ms. SLAUGHTER asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, with the rule before us today, this body is being asked to hand over one of the most popular government programs in history to private insurance companies. Medicare is a critical program, a program that benefits a wide spectrum of our constituents and one that American families have come to depend on for their loved ones in need. But today, in a cynical nod to the pharmaceutical industry, the leadership has shut out any meaningful debate. No Democrat substitute will be allowed, no amendments to guarantee affordable prescription drugs for our seniors will be permitted, and anyone voicing dissent has been silenced.

Indeed, in the wee hours of this morning in the Committee on Rules, one of my colleagues made it clear that he intended the free market to determine drug prices, and declared that Medicare was, attention, a Soviet-style, we can be certain that this is not a mandate to ensure the future of the program, but rather, the opposite.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentlewoman yield? She is misquoting something I said, and I would like to respond to it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LATOURETTE). The gentleman from Georgia has not been yielded to. Mr. LINDER. Will the gentlewoman yield?

Ms. SLAUGHTER. No, I want to finish my statement.

Mr. LINDER. She referred directly.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. But rather the opposite, a call to leave seniors to the mercy of the free market, rather than guarantee them livable, affordable health care. My constituents and others around the Nation are reeling from public programs that have been turned over to the so-called free market. Utility rates, cable rates, you name it, the free market has ensured exorbitant prices with diminished service. Pensions and retirement security have taken a similar beating. Moreover, the timing of this proposal could not be worse. The proposal places the program in the private sector at a time when private insurers have dropped Medicare+Choice beneficiaries by the thousands.

Private insurers will inevitably alter plans and move in and out of markets, leading to unpredictability for our seniors. A given drug might be covered one month, but not the next. Premiums could double from year to year without warning.

The rule before us is one of the most heavy-handed procedures to come out of the Committee on Rules, and given the last few weeks, that is saying something. Amendment after amendment was blocked from floor consideration.

My colleague, the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. THURMAN), and the gentleman from Maine (Mr. ALLEN) had a remarkably sensible idea of requiring the prescription drug plans negotiate with pharmaceuticals for lower prescription drug prices, a necessity before we put a Federal program on top of them. Canada does it, and France does it, Germany, Italy, Japan, Britain.

Virtually every developed country in the world has committed itself to negotiating lower drug prices for its citizens. Even the United States demonstrated remarkable success when negotiating Cipro prices during the anthrax attacks last fall.

But under this rule, this very sensible amendment will not be permitted.
This is even more remarkable when we consider that the underlying bill prohibits the Federal Government from pushing for lower prescription prices.

My colleagues, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. PALLONE) and the gentleman from California (Mr. CAPPS), attempted to ensure that all seniors have the option of prescription drug coverage, especially in those geographic areas where insurance companies choose not to offer a plan. Under the current bill, there is no guarantee that seniors will have access to coverage at all if insurers should decide not to cover their area.

The amendment will never see the light of day, however, under this rule. Instead, we are left with a fundamentally flawed document that fails our constituents on every level. The proposed plan would be administered through either HMOs or drug-only insurance plans.

The fact that drug-only insurance plans can exist in the private market does not detract from the importance of this privatization agenda. In fact, they are so bent on privatizing the drug benefit that they are prepared to bribe private plans with a subsidy as large as 99.99 percent in order to get them to offer drug coverage to seniors, regardless of the quality of the service or extent of the benefit. Mr. Speaker, a little more history may be in order. The Medicare program was designed to ensure that the private sector did not offer affordable and reliable health insurance to the elderly and the disabled. Health care has certainly changed in the past 30 years, but what has not changed is the fact that the private market does not want to ensure people who are old, disabled, and likely to need care.

Mr. Speaker, the inadequacies in this bill continue, and I will highlight them briefly. The measure penalizes seniors who do not use prescription drug costs from charitable, church, or State programs by not counting the costs paid by those parties toward the individual’s Medicare deductible. Seniors may actually have to drop out of programs like New York’s Elderly Prescription Insurance Coverage, the EPIC program, in an attempt to obtain their Medicare benefits.

The proposal has numerous gaps that leave seniors without coverage while regularly paying premiums. For example, earlier this month I received a letter from a 71-year-old constituent who must take medication to prevent a recurrence of a potentially dangerous, deadly fungal lung infection. The drug costs her nearly $1,000 a month. Under the majority plan, this woman would still pay well over $3,000 a year for this medication, and in addition, she would have to drop out of New York’s program, which is currently helping her with these expenses.

The proposal includes copayments, premiums, and deductibles that will be unaffordable for many low- and middle-income seniors. The $35-per-month premium is a suggested amount and certainly not a guarantee. Insurers could choose to charge double or triple that amount if they chose to.

The bill is opposed by numerous respected organizations, including the National Council on Aging, AARP, Families U.S.A., and the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare.

Mr. Speaker, the majority has taken the proverbial land and is trying to convince America it is a silk purse. My constituents are not fooled, and I hope my colleagues will not be, either.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY).

(Ms. WOOLSEY asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, I express my opposition to this sham bill that is harmful to our seniors. Mr. Speaker, studies show that older women live an average of six years longer than men. Often widowed and living alone, the average woman age 65 and older struggles to survive on an annual income of $15,515. During her lifetime she probably spent 17 years out of the workforce caring for children, and perhaps 18 years caring for elderly parents. Her retirement income is also smaller because she probably did not receive a pension, and was paid less than most men.

As a result, she receives lower Social Security benefits. She spends a larger percentage of her income on housing costs—leaving less money for necessary expenses like utilities, food, and health care. This is a particularly difficult problem because the average older woman spends 20 percent of her income each year on out-of-pocket health care costs.

Even though Medicare is not typically thought of as a woman’s program, it’s central to a woman’s well-being. Because women live longer than men, they also rely on Medicare and its benefits longer.

While Medicare provides women with critical access to health care, gaps in the program leave women vulnerable to unaffordable out-of-pocket costs. The Kaiser Family Foundation, women account for nearly 7 in 10 Medicare beneficiaries with incomes below the poverty level.

Similarly, access to affordable prescription drugs is a woman’s issue. Why? Because women make up a large portion of consumers purchasing prescription drugs.

Women have a greater rate of health problems since they live longer. They have lower incomes, which make access to affordable prescription drugs more difficult. In addition, because of age-related more chronic conditions that require ongoing treatment, accompanied by a regimen of costly drugs.

As the costs of prescription drugs continue to rise these out-of-pocket expenses will continue to take a higher percentage of older women’s incomes. Where do we draw the line? When will we enact a drug benefit that will allow all seniors to live out their lives without being forced to choose between food or medicine?

It’s time we start considering women’s needs when we debate prescription drug proposals.

Sadly, the GOP’s Medicare modernization plan will only perpetuate persistent health care disparities among women because it creates new gaps in coverage.

If the GOP plan prevails, seniors won’t feel any more certain about their benefits—in fact, the GOP proposal allows plans to vary their benefits and premiums from one region to another. Under this plan, the only guarantee the GOP plan provides is no guarantees. Their plan would privatize prescription drug plans like an HMO . . . not put the plan under Medicare. Our seniors need more stability and certainty than that—especially older women who are counting on Congress to provide a real solution to the high cost of prescription drugs.

Women are major stakeholders in the debate over Medicare’s future and a prescription drug benefit. Policies that expand access to outpatient prescription drugs and long-term care would help fill coverage gaps that drive up out-of-pocket spending for women.

Conversely, policies that erode coverage or that shift costs to beneficiaries could affect women, especially those with low incomes.

Older women are one of the nation’s most at-risk groups, and a prescription drug benefit must meet their needs. Understanding the full implications of proposed reforms for aging women must be an essential component of efforts to preserve and protect Medicare for generations to come.

Under the GOP plan, there will be no real winners—only struggling survivors, seniors who manage to make ends meet.

For my constituents and the older women in this country, merely getting by is not good enough, so instead, let’s make everyone a winner by enacting a prescription drug benefit that guarantees seniors and women real assistance.

After a lifetime of taking care of their families, older women deserve better than what the Republican leadership is proposing. That’s why I strongly urge my colleagues to stop further debate on this sham of a proposal and get serious about providing genuine relief to Medicare recipients.

Ms. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I express my opposition to this sham bill that is particularly harmful to senior women. This is a shame.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Indiana (Ms. CARSON).

(Ms. CARSON of Indiana asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)
Ms. CARSON of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, I express my opposition to this bill that does not allow senior women to be able to afford to live, particularly those senior women who suffer from cardiovascular disease.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the American people. The same American people who have been paying too much for prescription drugs and have been waiting for years for Congress to pass a fair Medicare prescription drug benefit. This plan that the Republican leadership has brought to the floor is a sham. Where is the benefit for our seniors who are living on a fixed income and cannot afford such a high co-payment? Where is the benefit for the women who, because they were stay at home mothers and did not earn a pension, cannot afford the prescription drugs that are needed for a better quality of life.

The costs of prescription drugs for seniors are rising at a rate greater than that of inflation.

Senior women must be accounted for and given a platform regarding prescription drug benefits because they make up almost 60% of the Medicare population. Without affordable benefits, women will be forced to pay extremely high costs for prescription drugs that they already struggle to afford.

We need a plan that makes prescription drugs more affordable for the people who cannot live without these products. What the Republicans are proposing is not help for seniors, but more heartache.

The “plan” the Republicans have drawn up would not be a benefit to anyone except the insurance companies.

Forcing Medicare recipients into private plans which cover less than half of the costs of prescription drugs is not a benefit? A plan that forces Medicare recipients to pay for a gap in coverage of at least $1,800 a year is not a benefit?

A plan that does not guarantee the same coverage for the entire country, that seniors in Indiana could pay a higher premium than those in a different part of the country, is not a benefit.

There are over 844,835 people on Medicare in my state of Indiana. That is 14% of the population. 44% of these people are under 200% of the federal poverty level. I will not go home and tell them that I gave away their security to the gentlewoman from California (Mrs. NAPOLITANO).

(Mrs. NAPOLITANO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. NAPOLITANO. Mr. Speaker, I express my opposition to this shameful bill that is particularly harmful to our senior women who live longer and have the largest consumption of purchases of drugs.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Mrs. MINK).

(Mrs. MINK of Hawaii asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. MINK of Hawaii. Mr. Speaker, I rise on behalf of my constituents to oppose the Republican's prescription drug benefit plan because it does not provide a meaningful prescription drug benefit. It will not create a prescription drug benefit that insurance companies must provide. The insurance companies can create strict rules that limit access to certain expensive drugs that could hurt a company's bottom line. Doctors will prescribe medicine without any assurance that seniors will be able to obtain them through their private insurer.

Additionally, insurance companies can limit which pharmacies participate in their network. Seniors in rural areas may be forced to travel many miles to find a pharmacy that is “acceptable” to their private insurance provider.

By relying on private insurers, the elderly will not even know how much their monthly premium will cost. The Republicans think it will be $35 per month. It might be higher. It might be lower. Premiums could vary from county to county, year to year. Premiums in the Republican's prescription drug benefit plan could rise beyond the resources of the disabled and the elderly. In Nevada, the only state where a similar plan is offered, premiums exceed $80 per month.

The Republican plan does not provide sufficient coverage. It covers less than a quarter of Medicare beneficiaries' estimated drug costs over the next 10 years, and the complicated coverage formula has a large hole. After providing partial coverage, the Republican plan requires seniors to pay $3,800 before they receive any assurance that insurance companies will provide the benefits they need.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to urge my colleagues to oppose the Republican's prescription drug benefit plan because it does not provide a meaningful prescription drug benefit. There are 60 million elderly and disabled people enrolled in Medicare. They need Medicare to obtain basic health care coverage. Unfortunately, the program has a very limited prescription drug benefit. Since Congress created Medicare in 1965, it has struggled to find a way to create an adequate prescription drug benefit.

Prescription drug expenditures have grown at a double-digit rate almost every year since 1980. Congress needs to act now to help those currently in the system and the estimated 77 million Americans who will be in Medicare by 2030. These Americans expect to obtain affordable prescription drugs through Medicare. Congress cannot wait any longer. It must create a prescription drug benefit.

Even though creating a prescription drug benefit is one of the most important bills of this Congress, the Republican leadership has prohibited members of the House from offering amendments or even voting on the Democrat's substitute. Since the Republicans began their rule, they have imposed “gag” rules to prevent a full debate on important issues. In a chamber dedicated to the principles of democracy and a free and open debate, it is unacceptable for the Republican leadership to suppress even the right of the minority to debate.

The Republican's bill (H.R. 4954) does not create a defined prescription drug benefit under Medicare. It subsidizes private insurance companies, who will offer prescription drug coverage to Medicare beneficiaries. This plan leaves the elderly alone in a fight with private insurance companies to obtain the prescription drug coverage they need.

H.R. 4954 does not specifically define the type of benefit that insurance companies must provide. The insurance companies can create strict rules that limit access to certain expensive drugs that could hurt a company's bottom line. Doctors will prescribe medicine without any assurance that seniors will be able to obtain them through their private insurer.

The Republican's prescription drug benefit plan could rise beyond the resources of the disabled and the elderly. In Nevada, the only state where a similar plan is offered, premiums exceed $80 per month.

Unfortunately, the program has a very limited prescription drug benefit. Since Congress created Medicare in 1965, it has struggled to find a way to create an adequate prescription drug benefit.

Prescription drug expenditures have grown at a double-digit rate almost every year since premium is locked in at $25, the annual deductible is only $100, Medicare pays 80% of seniors’ drug costs up to $2,000, and there is a $2,000 out-of-pocket limit per beneficiary per year.

The Democratic proposal fully integrates prescription drug benefits into the Medicare program. It allows the elderly to rely on their governmental prescription drug benefit, rather than depending on the generosity of profit driven insurance companies. This House has an opportunity to pass legislation that helps disabled and elderly women obtain affordable prescription drugs. I urge my colleagues to support the Democratic plan to create a simple prescription drug plan that helps all seniors pay for the skyrocketing cost of prescription drugs.

I urge my colleagues to vote against the Republican bill because it fails to do this.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would advise the gentlewoman from New York that one came close to debate.

Ms. Slaughter. Mr. Speaker, we will watch it.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. McCormick).

(Ms. Slaughter asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. ROYBAL-ALLARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to express my strong opposition to this irresponsible bill that is particularly harmful to senior women. This bill does nothing like the blatant disregard for America’s seniors need most—a Prescription Drug Benefit under Medicare.

The bill before us today is nothing but a SHAM proposal, which does nothing to provide a real, guaranteed prescription drug benefit to our nation’s seniors.

I was a nurse before I came to Congress. Let me tell you what this bill does not do for America’s seniors.

This bill does not bring down the cost of prescription drugs. This bill does not guarantee a prescription drug benefit for seniors; and this bill does not guarantee coverage for any drug prescribed by their doctor. Whatever the bill does, however, is to provide benefits to insurance companies. As a nurse, the worst aspect of this bill to me is that the higher your drug bills get, the less help you get with paying those bills.

Our seniors deserve a plan that is guaranteed and affordable. They should not have to worry about coverage gaps, or which pharmacy they can go to for their prescription drugs.

And they certainly shouldn’t be limited to which drugs their doctor can prescribe.

We owe our seniors more than vague promises. We owe them a prescription drug benefit that will be there whenever they need it, and for whatever drug they prescribe. We owe it to the American people not to support this sham Prescription Drug Bill.

Ms. Slaughter. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Tauscher).

(Ms. Tauscher asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. Tauscher. Mr. Speaker, I express my opposition to this sham bill that is particularly harmful to senior women, my sisters, and my mother. I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Ms. Kilpatrick).

(Ms. Kilpatrick asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. Kilpatrick. Mr. Speaker, I express my opposition to this sham Republican bill that is harmful to women all over America.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to stress the importance of providing a meaningful prescription drug benefit for seniors in our nation. We have paid lip service for too long and now is the time for Members of Congress to deliver good on our word.

However, while we need to enact a prescription drug coverage under Medicare, we cannot afford to enact a benefit that is anything less than what seniors deserve—a meaningful benefit that is voluntary and universal and will provide seniors with affordable prescription drugs. The plan that Republicans plan to offer does not meet these important goals.

Most importantly, the proposed Republican plan does not provide seniors with the promise of guaranteed coverage. What does this mean? The Republican plan relies on private insurance plans or Medicare HMOs to offer prescription drug coverage to seniors and offers no concrete or strict guidelines for benefits. Simply put, Republicans have put the industry’s interests above those of seniors. Seniors will be given no guarantee of meaningful drug coverage and will be at the mercy of the private industry. Seniors have worked too hard to get to this age for us to give them anything but the best we can.

And, Mr. Speaker, the Republican plan is definitely not the best we can do—it is far from it. Democrats are committed to providing a universal, comprehensive drug benefit through Medicare for all seniors. We also are committed to addressing the high cost of prescription drugs that have skyrocketed out of control. It is time for Congress to deliver on our promise and provide seniors with a true prescription drug benefit. Anything less is unsatisfactory.

Ms. Slaughter. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Minnesota (Ms. McCollum).

Ms. McCollum. Mr. Speaker, I express my opposition to this sham Republican bill that is particularly harmful to senior women.

Ms. Slaughter. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. Brown).

Ms. Brown of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to revise and extend my remarks, and I rise against this shameful GOP prescription drug so-called benefit that is very much against my grandmother and all of the grandmothers in this country.

Mr. Cunningham. Mr. Speaker, I object. I object to the last one.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There was objection to the statement of the gentlewoman from Florida. Ms. Slaughter. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. Meek).

(Ms. Meek of Florida asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. Meek of Florida. Mr. Speaker, this is a sham bill. I represent senior women very seriously.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong opposition to both the "sham" prescription drug bill that the Republican leadership has brought to the floor today, and to the unconscionable Rule that the Republican Leadership has proposed, a Rule that denies the Democrats an opportunity to offer a Substitute bill providing real prescription drug coverage through Medicare.

Mr. Speaker, no one in America should have to choose between buying medicine or food, between paying their utility bills or their drug store account, between taking their medicine or their dinner. This is the problem that many of our people face every day and we all know it. "Miracle drugs," no matter how innovative or effective, are worthless to those who cannot afford them.

Yet today there are huge numbers of seniors who are unable to follow their doctor’s orders because they cannot afford the medications their doctors prescribe.

The problem is obvious and so is the solution. Unfortunately, it involves the one thing... that our people want and that the Republican Leadership steadfastly refuses to provide: a real prescription drug benefit through Medicare.

The Republican Leadership knows that American people want a real prescription drug benefit through Medicare. The Republican Leadership's efforts to pass this bill are attempting to create an illusion for the voters this fall. They want to give their candidates a talking point with the voters so they can say that they support prescription drug coverage without actually having to provide it. This is a sham. They deserve much better.

Mr. Speaker, America's seniors, particularly older women, need comprehensive prescription drug coverage through Medicare and fair drug pricing. The Republican bill on the floor provides neither. The Republican bill is unworkable, unreliable and grossly inadequate.

Mr. Speaker, America's seniors do not want to be left to their own devices and sent on a wild goose chase shopping for private drug plans with no guaranteed benefits, plans that private health insurers do not even want to offer. They should not have to join an HMO that tells them where they are able to fill their prescriptions in order to get drug coverage. They deserve the reductions in drug prices that can only be obtained if we pass a real prescription drug bill that takes advantage of the purchasing power of Medicare's 40 million beneficiaries.

While I am outraged by the Republican Leadership's refusal to allow the Democrats an opportunity to offer a Substitute, I certainly understand the reason for it and so do the American people. The Republican Leadership will not allow the Democrats to offer a Substitute because they know their bill cannot withstand a "side by side" comparison with the Democratic Substitute.

The Democratic Substitute that the Republican Leadership will not allow to be debated and voted on has a yearly out of pocket limit on drug costs of $2000. Why would the Republican Leadership want to highlight the fact that under their bill, seniors will have to pay $100% of their drug costs between $2000 and $3700, whereas under the Democratic Substitute, the half of seniors who have drug costs over $2000 would be subject to this gap in coverage?

Why would the Republican Leadership want a comparison between a Republican bill that will force seniors into private HMO's and restrictions on choice of drugs and pharmacies and a Democratic Substitute that guarantees affordable, dependable, comprehensive drug coverage at a uniform price while preserving freedom of choice for seniors?

Why should seniors in different states pay different out of pocket costs because they live in different states?

Now some will in this body will contend that our employees can only be obtained if we pass a real prescription drug bill that takes advantage of the purchasing power of Medicare's 40 million beneficiaries.

It is not a reason to keep the Democratic Substitute from the floor. If a Member of this body believes that we can not afford the real prescription drug benefit that the Democratic Substitute provides, then I say: vote against it.

So the reasons for the Republican Leadership's approach are clear as they are deplorable. They want a press release for the fall elections, not a real drug benefit and they don't want to take the heat that would come from a side by side comparison of the Republican "pretend" bill and the Democratic Substitute.

I urge all my Colleagues. Reject this unfair, one-sided process. Let's have a full and fair debate and produce a real prescription drug benefit. Defeat the proposed rule; pass a fair rule that allows a Democratic Substitute; Vote for the Democratic Substitute and reject the Republican Leadership's bill.

population at age 65 and represent 71 percent of beneficiaries at age 85. Any potential prescription drug plan must be evaluated with regard to its impact on women—if it works for women, it works for everyone.

When Medicare was established in the 1960s, one of the biggest needs was insurance coverage for hospital stays and doctor visits, not prescription drugs. The focus then was on providing relief for acute conditions, not chronic.

Today more than 88 percent of Medicare’s 42 million beneficiaries use prescription drugs. The average senior takes four prescriptions daily and fills an average of 18 prescriptions a year.

The use of prescription drugs is more pronounced among women. Beginning at midlife, women have a higher incidence of chronic illness than men. The average woman age 65 and over lives nearly seven years longer than the average man and relies on Medicare for her health insurance coverage for more years.

While most women on Medicare use prescription drugs regularly, over 1/3 of these beneficiaries—nearly six million women—lack any prescription drug coverage.

Out-of-pocket spending for prescription drugs place a disproportionate burden on older women who have retirement incomes that are roughly half that of men. In 2002, the average income for women over 65 was $15,636, compared to $22,929 for men.

Even though women have significantly smaller incomes than men, they spend a larger proportion of their income on out-of-pocket health costs. Women over 65 spend 20 percent in comparison to the 17 percent spent by men. The increase to 27 percent for women 85 and older.

Older women are one of our nation’s most vulnerable groups and providing affordable prescription drug coverage is critical to improving their quality of life.

Unfortunately, the proposal before us today does not achieve this objective. This legislation does not guarantee any specific benefit. Instead, the bill provides subsidies to insurance companies to provide private insurance to seniors. The coverage and $33 premium means that older women would only be able to purchase a benefit that is a giveaway to the pharmaceutical industry at the expense of seniors and especially women in our country.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in opposition to this legislation. While we all agree that today’s elderly need and deserve a prescription drug benefit, I am afraid this proposal is not the answer.

If we are lucky enough, our parents are still with us. And we know how they can live longer and more active lives with the new medical treatments that exist today. Some of our parents already face—and some of us in the not so distant future may face—the issue of drug affordability—drugs that help us to live life to the fullest.

We are in the middle of a health care crisis in this Nation. Drug prices rose 17 percent last year alone—after five years of double-digit spikes. The prices of popular and heavily-marketed drugs increased even more—an incredible 34 percent.

No one doubts that something must be done—and fast. But passing legislation that makes two wrongs does not make a right. As Ranking member of the Small Business Committee, I want to point out how this plan fails in two critical ways.

First, it fails our seniors. It does nothing to provide a comprehensive, affordable drug benefit with Medicare. Second, it fails small community pharmacists. These pharmacists serve a vital purpose in our communities. The corner drug stores anchor our neighborhoods and the local pharmacist counsels our seniors about their medications.

Once again, through the lens of this proposal, we see how the Republicans care about most—big business—the pharmaceuticals, the health care companies. Not the little people—seniors citizens that give so much back to our communities and the corner drug stores they visit and depend on each and every day.

Mr. Speaker, this is a bad plan. It enriches our seniors at a time when they most need assistance. The plan I support builds on the existing Medicare system and provides seniors with guaranteed benefits, premiums, and cost sharing for all beneficiaries. Not estimates. The federal government would use the collective bargaining clout of all Medicare beneficiaries to negotiate fair drug prices and these savings would be passed on to our seniors.

American seniors want, need, and deserve real prescription drug coverage. The Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act establishes a complex program that offers modest benefits at most.

Ms. Slaughter. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Wisconsin (Ms. Baldwin).

(Ms. Baldwin asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. Baldwin. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in opposition to this bill, which I deem to be the betrayal of the women of the Greatest Generation.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote against this sham of a bill. It lays the groundwork to privatize Medicare and does not provide a real, guaranteed, defined benefit that our seniors desperately need.

The Republican bill that is on the floor today forces seniors to shop around for prescription drug coverage through Medicare HMOs and private insurance plans. The prices and benefits under this private coverage would vary from region to region, so that a senior in Wisconsin would have to pay a different premium than a senior in Florida for the exact same benefit. These geographic disparities are simply unacceptable.

There are no assurances in this bill that prescription drugs will be affordable. In fact, this bill would cover less than one-fifth of the estimated drug costs of Medicare beneficiaries over the next ten years. In addition, there is a huge gap in coverage. Seniors who need more than 2,000 worth of drugs a year must pay 100 percent of their prescription costs. Even with the $3,700 out-of-pocket cap, millions of seniors will fall into this gaping hole. I believe all seniors deserve affordable prescription drug coverage, and we... should not help some seniors cover their drug costs while leaving others out in the cold. Seniors will not be guaranteed access to the drugs they need or to their local pharmacies. The bill would allow private insurance plans to limit access to covered drugs, even if the drugs are on an approved list. Seniors would be restricted to certain pharmacy providers or would be forced to pay higher costs to use the pharmacy of their choice, even a pharmacy they have been using for years. I know many seniors in my district who have developed relationships with their pharmacists over the years and would hate to have to go to another provider or pay extra to keep going to their same trusted pharmacist.

I hear from seniors in my district who cannot afford their prescriptions. They send me receipts for their drug bills and ask me how they are supposed to afford their rising drug costs on a fixed budget. They take less than the required dosage to save money, which puts their health at even greater risk.

I support the Democratic proposal that adds a new Part D in Medicare to provide voluntary prescription drug coverage for all Medicare beneficiaries. This proposal would provide the same benefits, premiums and cost sharing for all beneficiaries no matter where they live. It guarantees coverage by giving the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services the authority to use the collective bargaining clout of all 40 million Medicare beneficiaries to negotiate drug prices. Savings will then be passed on to seniors. Unlike the Republican bill, there are no gaps in coverage in the Democratic proposal. Coverage is provided for any drug a senior’s doctor prescribes. Seniors will be able to choose where to fill their prescriptions and will not have to join an HMO or a private insurance plan to get drug coverage. This is the proposal seniors have been waiting for. Unfortunately, it is not the proposal that was brought to the floor today.

Today we are voting on a bill that is a sad mockery of what the seniors in our country deserve. Instead of providing a comprehensive Medicare prescription drug benefit for America’s seniors, the Republicans have decided to make sure this bill suits big drug companies. Close ties to the pharmaceutical industry have influenced this bill at the expense of our seniors. They are footing the retiree’s greatest generation who worked hard, lived through the depression won a war, and raised their families. Seniors need a comprehensive prescription drug benefit that is affordable and dependable for all—with no gaps or gimmicks in coverage. The Republican proposal fails on all these counts. I urge my colleagues to vote against H.R. 4954.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. SANCHEZ).

(Ms. SANCHEZ asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. SANCHEZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this sham bill that is particularly harmful to senior women, the heart and the soul of our families.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to express my strong opposition to the Republican prescription drug bill, H.R. 4954. This bill, while unfair to millions of seniors, is particularly harmful to women. Women make up a large portion of consumers purchasing prescription drugs. For this reason alone, women’s health care needs must be considered as we debate prescription drug proposals. And unfortunately, I am hard-pressed to find many of my women colleagues who were consulted as this bill was drafted. It is no surprise, therefore, that this GOP bill ignores health problems unique to women. At least one-third of Medicare beneficiaries, many of them women, do not have coverage for drugs needed to create a patchwork of coverage that simply does not get the job done. Too often, women and seniors are left choosing between food and medicine.

Thanks to Medicare, millions of women have dignity and security in their retirement years. Millions of women have avoided poverty and lived better lives. But today, with all of the incredible medical advances coupled with the rising cost of prescription drugs, it’s vital that the country pull together to pass a meaningful Medicare prescription drug plan for all women—and all seniors.

Ms. SANCHEZ. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE).

(Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this destructive insurance protection act that hurts the grandparents, mothers, aunts and sisters and all of seniors and those disabled and provides zero benefits to Americans.

Ms. SANCHEZ. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. MALONEY).

(Mrs. MALONEY of New York asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. MALONEY of New York. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this rule that would create a Democratic substitute and to the underlying bill.

I rise against the rule and the Republican bill. I regret for America’s seniors that a Democratic alternative was not allowed. Medicare provides health care coverage to forty million retired and disabled Americans.

For decades, Medicare has worked to provide needed, lifesaving health care to millions, but it is missing a fundamental component: a prescription drug benefit.

If we have courage, this Congress can make history and give our nation’s seniors what they deserve—a real, and meaningful prescription drug plan.

I am proud to join my Democratic colleagues, led by Mr. DINGELL, Mr. RANGEL, Mr. STARK, and Mr. BROWN, as an original cosponsor of H.R. 5019, the “Medicare Prescription Drug Benefit and Discount Act.”

I come to the floor to discuss two points:

Number 1: unlike the Republican drug plan, the Democratic plan is simple because it builds upon a proven model—Medicare.

For the sake of our seniors, we must pass the Democratic plan, and we must pass it now.

Ms. SANCHEZ. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. HARMAN).

(Ms. HARMAN asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)
Ms. HARMAN. Mr. Speaker, on behalf of seniors in my district, particularly women, and in particular veterans, I express my strong opposition to this bill.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Colorado (Ms. DEGETTE).

(Ms. DeGETTE asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. DEGETTE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this rule on behalf of the senior women in my district and around this country who live longer than men and pay far more money for prescription drugs.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WATERS).

(Ms. WATERS asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. WATERS. Mr. Speaker, I enter my objection and opposition to this irresponsible bill that will do nothing to help the senior women of this country.

Every day, millions of American seniors are forced to choose between buying prescription drugs and buying food. The Republican leadership in Congress has responded to this crisis with H.R. 4954, a prescription drug bill that does nothing to help them.

The Republican bill would force seniors who want prescription drug coverage to get it from private insurance companies, but the bill provides no guarantee that insurance companies will offer prescription drug policies. Even the Health Insurance Association of America has admitted that insurance companies will not offer drug-only policies. So the Republican plan is guaranteed to fail.

Furthermore, even if prescription drug policies do become available, the premiums, deductibles and co-payments will vary widely. Low-income seniors could be denied the drugs they need if they cannot afford the co-payments. For many middle-income seniors, the benefits would be so limited that it would not be worthwhile for them to enroll. H.R. 4954 is a poor excuse for a prescription drug plan for our nation’s senior citizens.

The Democrats have proposed a prescription drug plan that would provide a guaranteed prescription drug benefit under Medicare to all seniors who want one.

This bill would ensure that all seniors who choose to participate would pay the same low premiums and receive the same benefits. Seniors who choose to obtain their prescriptions from any willing pharmacy and would be guaranteed coverage for any drug their doctor prescribes.

Premiums and co-payments would be waived for seniors who are living under 150% of the poverty level.

The bill would use the collective bargaining clout of all 40 million Medicare beneficiaries to negotiate fair and reasonable drug prices.

Finally, no senior would have to pay more than $2,000 per year in out-of-pocket expenses for the prescriptions they need.

I urge my colleagues to oppose H.R. 4954 and support the Democratic plan to provide guaranteed prescription drug coverage to all seniors who desire it.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Georgia (Ms. MCKINNEY).

(Ms. MCKINNEY asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. MCKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill which is a sham and does nothing for seniors in my district, in my State and in my country.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. ESHOO).

(Ms. ESHOO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. ESHOO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to express my opposition to the bill that will be considered this evening on behalf of my constituents, especially the senior women. They deserve a great deal more and much better and all the women of the country do.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from California.

(Ms. PELOSI asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this sham bill which is a cruel hoax on the American people, especially cruel to America’s senior women who raised our families and deserve better.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Ms. DELAURO).

(Ms. DELAURO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this insurance industry, pharmaceutical written bill that does not drive down the cost of prescription drugs or cover most of America’s seniors and is very harmful to women in this country, those tomorrow, and those who are in older generations.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I, too, enjoyed that parade; and I particularly enjoyed the fact that they had not a particular thing to say about the bill. To say something about impact the bill and how it impacts women, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Connecticut.

Ms. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, we have had a parade of my colleagues from the other side claim that this legislation is harmful to senior women. I wonder how they could have lost touch with the lives of women in America and women in their districts. This bill represents the greatest leap forward in women’s health since the passage of Medicare.

I was polite to you, and I ask that you be polite to me.

For the very first time, women, particularly low-income women, will have their prescriptions covered. Perhaps you did not read the bill. You know and I know that women live longer than men. The great majority of senior women are women. Perhaps you did not know that retired women are living on half the income of retired men, that the average income of retired men in America is $30,000 and the average income of retired women is $15,000 and of retired women over 85 is $10,000.

Under this bill those low-income women will receive 100 percent of the costs of their drugs, of their premiums, of the deductible, and of the co-insurance up to maybe 2 to $5. They will have the security of knowing that every dollar of their prescription costs up to $2,000 will be covered if your income is under 175 percent of poverty, and that is 44 percent of all seniors.

Yes, this is a wonderful thing for women in America. Yes, this bill is a giant step forward for seniors in America. Yes, this is the greatest leap forward for women since the founding of Medicare. And once you have read the bill, I will be happy to talk with you about details. But there can be no arguing with the fact that the first $2,000 of drug expense for people under 175 percent of poverty is completely covered and, by saving the State $40 billion, they will be able to go up that ladder of income.

So let us try to talk about the facts tonight, let us have a little less theater, let us have a little more discussion about the details of the legislation, and let us try to do America proud as we talk about the need for prescription drugs in Medicare.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentlewoman yield?

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. THOMAS. As women enter their senior years, in terms of the problems they have with osteoporosis, do we include in this bill additional money to assist in mammography?

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. We certainly do. We fix all the problems with reimbursements for mammography so they will be more accessible to the women of America. Furthermore, we provide access for something that is extremely important to women, and that is access to disease management plans to manage chronic illness. It is women who are plagued with four, five, and six chronic illnesses.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentlewoman yield?

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. I yield to the gentleman from California.
Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Absolutely.

Mr. THOMAS. Is it not true in this bill that, for the first time, every senior who becomes Medicare eligible, that means every woman, gets a free physical.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Every woman gets a free physical under this bill, and for the first time they have an option for a plan that provides entirely free preventative benefits across the board to men and women.

So this is an enormous advancement for women because women are the ones who get the poorest health care throughout their lives, and they will have an option to a plan that has free preventive benefits across the board, and, if they choose it, and they will all get a free baseline physical when they enter Medicare. Yes, a great advancement for senior women.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. McGovern).

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong opposition to this sham bill and to this woefully inadequate bill offered by the majority.

Every Member of this House knows that the number one issue facing senior citizens is the soaring cost of prescription drugs. Our seniors need relief and real relief now.

My Republican colleagues go on about how they support giving our seniors relief, and then they send this poor excuse for a benefit bill to the House floor. This guarantees seniors nothing, nothing. It is a bad bill. And to make matters worse, the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Mrs. Johnson) gets up and tells us how wonderful and strong her bill is. Yet she and the Republican leadership make it unamendable. No substitute. No amendments. No bipartisanship. Two hours total debate. That is all.

How sad. How outrageous. If there ever should have been an open and fair process, it should have been today. There were even good Republican amendments that were offered before the Committee on Rules that were ruled out of order. But, no, you are afraid you might lose because deep in your hearts you know that your bill is nothing more than a political soundbite and you deserve to lose.

‘Vote no’ on this rule and vote ‘no’ on this bad bill.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from West Virginia (Mrs. Capito).

Mrs. CAPITO. Mr. Speaker, I stand before you today to offer my remarks on the prescription drug plan.

On May 1, 2002, four of my constituents boarded a bus, traveled from Martinsburg, West Virginia, to Washington, D.C., to offer their voice and their story on how the prescription drug element of Medicare reshaped their lives. That day I heard each of their voices; and, unfortunately, it is a voice I hear and we all hear all too often.

At each of the town meetings I have had the majority of the questions deal with the high cost of prescription drugs. After one particular town meeting a young lady approached me. She showed me a list of prescription drugs that her mom was taking and the cost of each drug listed beside it. Looking at the list my heart sank. These figures were staggering. Additionally, because of the high cost of her mother’s medication, lack of Medicare coverage for her mother, this young woman and her family were paying for her mother’s medication.

Is this right, Mr. Speaker? No, it is not.

Our seniors deserve the peace of mind of knowing that they can and will be able to afford their prescriptions. Anxiety over the affordability of prescribed medications should not spoil one’s golden years. That is why I am standing here tonight.

I am glad to stand here and tell you that Medicare needs to offer prescription drug benefit. To be blunt, we need to offer it. We needed to offer it yesterday or the day before or the day before. This situation should be resolved.

It is our duty as representatives to represent the people’s voice, and their voice says now is the time. I urge all of my colleagues to stand up, pass this rule, pass the Medicare prescription drug legislation which is extremely beneficial to the senior women of America.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from New York (Mr. Rangel).

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, this rule does not allow Democrats an opportunity to say that we think we have a better idea. The majority found it very difficult to get enough votes to support the pharmaceutical industry, but it would just seem to me that it is not a rule against Democrats. It is not a rule even against the integrity of the House. It is a rule against the senior citizens who really deserve better treatment than they are getting.

Mr. Speaker. I yield to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. Hoyser).

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the distinguished ranking member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

There may be no more serious issue that consider on the floor of this House this year. The gentlewoman from West Virginia (Mrs. Capito) that just spoke said why it was so important. She is right. This issue is critically important to the women that she mentioned, critically important to the individuals that the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Mrs. Johnson) mentioned, and I would say critically important to the citizens that every one of the women on this side of the aisle represent and came and said they were concerned about and, therefore, are not supporting this rule.

The gentlewoman from Connecticut said she was polite to those people, and she was. But I suggest to the gentlewoman that this rule is not polite. This rule denigrates the importance and seriousness of this issue.

When your side took over in 1995, Gerald Solomon, the then-chairman of the Committee on Rules, said this, “The guiding principles will be openness and fairness. The Rules Committee will no longer rig the procedure to contrive a pre-determined outcome. From now on the Rules Committee will hear the stage for debate and let the House work its will.”

You have, of course, retreated from that statement. You have not honored the seriousness of this issue.
The minority does not have a serious bill. They have a $1 trillion election year gimmick that will bankrupt Medicare.

This is a good and fair rule because it allows a vote on the only credible plan that has been carefully and thoughtfully designed to help seniors by lowering drug costs, guaranteeing coverage and providing choices.

Under the Republican plan, every senior will be eligible for coverage. We guarantee this coverage. It cannot be taken away. The Democrat plan, however, phases out coverage. It is essentially an experiment. Mr. Speaker, seniors cannot afford an experiment. They need real, credible coverage that they can rely on.

This bill will help our seniors. This is a good rule for a long-awaited and much-needed legislation and we must pass it. I urge my colleagues to join me in voting approval for this rule and passage on final passage of the bill for my mom and everyone’s mom and dad that is on Medicare.

Mr. LATHAM. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Georgia for yielding the time that has been yielded to the gentleman from Georgia for yield.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LINDER) said, "Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LINDER)."

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LEACH), Mr. NUSSELE, and Mr. GANSKE for working as a team to try to make sure that we did get relief in Iowa. We have the lowest reimbursement for our hospitals in the country by a wide margin. This bill is going to take a giant step toward keeping those rural hospitals open, to keep the kind of high-quality health care providers on the job and serving in Iowa. It is absolutely critical that we continue to have the physicians, the nurses, the home health care folks available for my mother.

Mr. Speaker, this is a great evening, and I support the rule and the bill.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. MENENDEZ).

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise on behalf of my 83-year-old mother and millions like her across this country who work for decades, in her case, in the factories of New Jersey, now has Alzheimer’s and spends over half of her Social Security check on prescription drugs but for my sister and my assistance would not live with the dignity that she deserves. There is a difference between Republicans and Democrats on prescription drugs, and that is why Republicans will not even let us debate our proposal here on the floor of the House of Representatives.

The denial of a vote on the Democratic prescription drug program is a universal, available, guaranteed benefit under Medicare is a corruption of this institution by the Republican majority, by the way, for an industry that has given them millions in campaign contributions.

There is a difference in who benefits. Democrats cover all seniors. My colleagues subsidize big insurance companies and cover less than a quarter of seniors’ costs. There is a difference in what seniors will pay. Democrats guarantee a $25 monthly premium with low out-of-pocket expenses. My colleagues leave those decisions to the whims of corporations. Plenty of opportunity for more corporate greed.

No senior in America should have to choose between paying their rent, putting food on the table, and having access to life-enhancing drugs.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE The pro tempore (Mr. LATOURRETTA). The Chair would ask the courtesy of all Members in not exceeding the time that has been yielded to them.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LATHAM).

Mr. LATHAM. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Georgia for yielding me the time, and I thank the Speaker for this time.

This is a long time coming. This is so important for people like my mother who is 85 years old, living in a town of 168 people in Alexander, Iowa. This is a long time coming.

We all have friends and family who help her to be able to afford her prescription drugs and to enhance her length of life and quality of life; but just as importantly, in rural America, this bill is going to make sure that there is access to quality health care in rural America.

There is a lot of work that has gone into this bill, and I would like to see any other proposal out there that has brought together so many people when we look at the American Hospital Association, the AMA, the physical therapists, the National Association of Home Care, the National Rural Health Association, all coming together in support of this very, very important legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I have been very proud to serve on the Speaker’s Prescription Drug Action Team, and I want to thank the Speaker and all the chairmen of the committees that have worked so hard on this bill and to the president of the American Hospital Association, for all that we are doing to address the problems that we have.

I also want to congratulate my three Republican colleagues from Iowa (Mr. LEACH), (Mr. NUSSELE), and (Mr. GANSKE) for working as a team to try to make sure that we did get relief in Iowa. We have the lowest reimbursement for our hospitals in the country by a wide margin. This bill is going to take a giant step toward keeping those rural hospitals open, to keep the kind of high-quality health care providers on the job and serving in Iowa. It is absolutely critical that we continue to have the physicians, the nurses, the home health care folks available for my mother.

Mr. Speaker, this is a great evening, and I support the rule and the bill.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. PALLONE).

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, some of the comments that are being made by my colleagues on the other side, both on the floor and in the Committee on Rules, have been very upsetting to me. I rise in opposition to the rule, but I heard the gentlewoman from Virginia just say that it was a fair bill because it allows an up-or-down vote on what is the only good bill dealing with prescription drugs. That is not what fairness is about. That is not what democracy is about.

I asked this morning in the Committee on Rules that the Democratic substitute and three other amendments that would lead to price reductions and another amendment that would provide a guaranteed Medicare benefit be placed in order. All were denied. My colleagues and I do not agree with me, but the gentlewoman from Virginia should not suggest that the only thing that should be considered is what they think is the right thing. That is not the way a democracy operates.

The other thing that upset me was that I heard the gentlewoman from Connecticut say that she should just read the bill. Let me tell my colleague, that is not the way we operate here. We have not had a lot of time to read the Republican bill, but I read it. There is nothing in it. It is not a Medicare benefit. It does not guarantee any benefit. It does not tell us what the premium is going to be. It does not tell us what the deductible is going to be. It does not tell us anything about whether it is going to be available anywhere, and there is no price reduction.

The gentlewoman from Connecticut mentioned the passage of Medicare, but she was very proud of the fact this morning in the Committee on Rules that this was not a Medicare bill and that it operated through private insurance and through market competition and was not part of Medicare because the Republican majority does not want this to be under Medicare, the gentlewoman from Massachusetts (Mr. MC GOVERN) said it is unfortunate that the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LINDER) made a reference to the Medicare prescription drug program as a Soviet-style model program, and the gentlewoman from Georgia (Mr. LINDER) said, well, it is; and he said it several times.

The problem is that the Republicans do not like Medicare. They do not want this to be a Medicare program because they never liked Medicare, and they want it to wither on the vine, and they do not want to provide any benefit for senior citizens in this country.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume. That was some of the gentlewoman’s more interesting prose. I am sure there is a kernel of thought in there, but I did not detect it.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS), the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, the parade on the other side of the aisle which repeated the mantra that it was a fair bill, I would argue to women and the disabled, in case anybody really thinks that is true, I am wondering why then when we look at the more than 90 organizations that support this bill, have names such as the Visiting Nurses Association, the Pennsylvania Women’s Health Alliance, the National Spinal Cord Injury Association, the National Coalition for Women With Heart Disease, the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill of Pennsylvania, American Parkinson’s Association, the Epilepsy Foundation of Mississippi, having someone parade to the microphone and repeat some mantra, as though it was some kind of a fixed statement that meant anything really does embarrass me, when if we look at the organizations and more that I just repeated who every day help the people that my colleagues say are not helped are for this bill. Someone is wrong, and it is not them.

Mr. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

The Democrats are standing with AARP, the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare, the Alliance for Retired Americans, National Council on the Aging, National Senior Citizens Law Center, Families USA, the National Partnership for Women and Families, the AFL and countless others who represent America’s 40 million Medicare beneficiaries.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL).

(Mr. DINGELL asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I thank the distinguished gentlewoman for yielding me the time.

We have got a remarkable thing here before us, a closed rule. We have got a bill on which there were never any hearings, a bill that just drags defects, a bill that is opposed by almost everybody that knows anything about pharmaceuticals and about the needs of the senior citizens and a bill that is opposed by every single responsible major organization that has looked for citizens. We cannot offer amendments to it.

They cannot be cut-and-bite amendments. There is no possibility of us offering a substitute to it. This is what my colleagues call democracy on that side of the aisle? This is the way we treat the concerns and the rights and the interests of our senior citizens? I wonder how many of them like what they are seeing tonight on television as they watch this body engage in debate which is at best fraudulent and which is at worst just plain outrageous.

The hard fact of the matter is we cannot offer amendments on this side at all, but we can bring to attention the fact that this is going to significantly, if not in fact destroy, most of the plans that on behalf of industry and labor offer to retirees the right to have prescription pharmaceuticals as a part of the medical care program and the company which offers that particular benefit.

That is an outrage. There is no way that we can address here what the amount is that is going to be charged for the program. In other words, in this legislation, there is nothing anywhere which tells how much the senior citizen is going to pay to whom for what.

That is all left up to some kind of nebulous understanding between the Secretary and an insurance company. There is no protection for that particular problem.

Is that bad? Of course. But there is worse. There is not a nickel’s worth of subsidy for the health care of a senior citizen in this legislation. Do my colleagues know where the money goes in the legislation that is before us? To an insurance company. The insurance company can offer whatever benefits it wants or no benefits, but it is going to get a fat fee and a fat profit.

With companies like Arthur Andersen I am sure that we will have an accounting system which will make that look good, but the simple fact of the matter is the benefits that are going to be covered under the legislation are not going to come to citizens. They are going to go to a bunch of cold-hearted, steely-eyed insurance companies that are going to be interested in maximizing benefits. In fact, there is not one plan which will be offered by insurance companies that is not going to be heavily subsidized.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong opposition to this abominable closed rule. On the most important issue to face this Congress, the Republican leadership to prevent any single amendment to be offered, and in particular, a Democratic substitute.

There is no secret why the Democrats are not being allowed to offer a substitute, even a substitute that requires no waivers of the rules. It is not because our substitute has no merit. It is because it has so much merit, it would pass.

Let me explain why the rule needs to be defeated so that we can offer the Democratic substitute.

Unlike the bill introduced by our Republican colleagues, our substitute can be simply explained, because it is built on a simple, known, and effective model—Medicare itself.

Just like seniors pay a voluntary premium for Part B medical costs such as doctor visits, our bill provides for a voluntary Part D drug premium of $25 per month. For that, the Government will pay 80% of drug costs after a $100 deductible. And no senior will have to pay more than $2,000 in costs per year.

These are real numbers, not estimates. The benefits and the premium are specified on the first page of the substitute. Unfortunately, there are no such guarantees in the Republican bill.

On top of that, we will be arming seniors with the most potent protection from soaring drug costs. Forty million seniors banded together under the buying power of Medicare, we can begin to use the necessary bargaining power to rein in high drug prices.

This is not price controls; it is competition and bargaining. We saw that the Government was effective in negotiating a competitive price for the prescription drug Cipro during the anthrax outbreak. Why shouldn’t we do the same for other life saving drugs for seniors?

In contrast to our simple and effective prescription drug benefit, the Republican bill is a complex scheme that would make Rubie Goldberg blush. In fact, it is not a drug benefit at all. It is a host of subsidies to private insurers in the hope that they will offer a drug-only benefit to seniors. Will they? Time and again they have told us “no.”

Why won’t the Republicans put forward such a model? Well, quite simply they have a larger agenda—they want to privatize all of Medicare, and this is just another step. That is the only reason why seniors are not even given a choice of getting the benefit through their traditional Medicare provider.

Any why don’t they endorse our plan? Our plan is simple; it is comprehensive; it is what seniors want. The Republicans have raised just one issue: they say it costs too much. Well, I can tell you that we can afford it. It is just a matter of priorities.

Should that priority be making the estate tax repeal on the wealthiest people permanent, which will cost $750 billion in the decade that the permanent repeal is effective, or should it be the critical health program that will help all of our seniors?

Our prescription drug benefit has the strong support of organizations representing millions of seniors, such as the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare, the alliance for Retired Americans, the National Council on Aging, and AARP. They recognize our benefit is a good value for seniors.

The substitute also includes provisions to shore up the Medicare fee-for-service system such as increased payments to hospitals, doctors, nursing homes, and individuals depend on Medicare fee-for-service ensuring its continued viability has always been an important goal for the Democrats.

It is a good substitute, and I hope my colleagues will vote against the rule, so that it can be offered.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING).

Mr. PICKERING. Mr. Speaker, I rise in proud support of the rule and the effort of this body. It is an historic opportunity for us.

If we put the politics and the extreme language aside, these are the facts: $350 billion will go to our seniors for prescription drugs, to our rural hospitals, to our health community centers, to those who need it most.

In my home State of Mississippi, 55 percent of all seniors live at the rate that will get the fixed income assistance, which means no deductible, no copay—only a copayment of $2 to $5 per prescription drug, an enormous benefit for the seniors who need it most. Fifty-five percent of seniors in Mississippi.

If we look at those who have catastrophic occurrences in their life, when drug costs exceed $3,700, they will see no cost over that. Those most in need will be helped. It is responsible, it is reasonable, it is right. I urge the Members to follow and support the rule.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. HONDA).

(Mr. HONDA asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HONDA. Mr. Speaker, I rise to express my opposition of this prescription drug proposal.

Mr. Speaker, the elderly and disabled have worked hard enough for a prescription drug benefit in Medicare and for relief from the high cost of prescription drug prices. While the Republicans have been busy voting on permanent tax cuts and attending lavish fundraisers
Mr. KENNEDY of Minnesota. Mr. Speaker, this bill is important and overdue for our Nation’s 13 million seniors. Our seniors deserve prescription drug coverage now. They do not deserve the Democrat’s election-year gimmick.

The average senior saves 44 percent on current drug costs under our plan. Mr. Speaker, our plan gives seniors immediate relief from the rising cost of prescription drugs by providing a discount of up to 25 percent off the top of the overall drug cost.

Just last week, Health and Human Services Secretary Tommy Thompson released a study showing our plan would save seniors more than $3,000 annually. And unlike the Republican plan, our plan has no gap—beneficiaries will always have coverage.

But the Republican Leadership is denying Democrats the opportunity to offer our alternative. They are denying our right to participate in a democratic debate about prescription drugs. The time is now for a real, meaningful, and affordable Medicare prescription drug benefit. Unfortunately, it looks like this Republican-led House won’t be providing one anytime soon.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Mrs. CAPPS).

Mrs. CAPPS. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I acknowledge my sisters in Congress as we rise in opposition to this terrible rule.

One of the proudest days of my life was when I was sworn into this body, the symbol of our democracy. But today I am sad for the House and for this country. Process the majority has used to produce their Medicare bill is completely contrary to the principles of our constitution. A bill was rammed through committee that will not give seniors an affordable, reliable, comprehensive benefit; seniors, most of whom are women.

Now the majority is refusing to allow a free and fair debate on the issue. Why? They know their bill will not work. They know seniors will not get affordable coverage from insurance companies, and they know so many seniors will get no help with their medications, and they are afraid they would lose.

I can accept losing in a fair fight, but I cannot accept this anti-democratic attempt to muzzle fair debate. We should reject this rule, have a full debate on the needs of our seniors, and pass a real prescription drug benefit.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. KENNEDY).

(Mr. KENNEDY of Minnesota asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BARTON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the rule, even though I had an amendment that I would have liked to have offered that was not made in order on prescription drug savings accounts.

This is not the fair rule. We could have made in order a Democratic alternative. But for a first start, I think it is a fair enough rule.

This is a good plan that will be on the floor. It spends $350 billion over 10 years to provide a prescription drug benefit and some Medicare reforms for the providers. The drug benefit comes to a population where we have about 30 million senior citizens on Medicare, and 70 percent of those seniors have some prescription drug coverage under private medigap policies. Of those that do not have any prescription drug benefits, 50 percent of them have drug costs that are less than $1,000 a year, and only about 700,000 have drug costs that are over $5,000 a year.

Now, if you are one of those 700,000 or it is your mother or your father, your grandmother, your grandfather, your aunt or your uncle, that is a big problem. But to say that a prescription drug benefit that is going to provide $31 billion a year to provide coverage for prescription drugs is not at least a good start, I think is just flat hypocritical.

Now, I think we can do more. I would like for us to do more. I would like to, at some point in time, make in order an option for those that want to use a prescription drug savings account to have that option; and, hopefully, later this year, we will get that.

I would point out that if the plan that is before us were to become law and it is a bad plan, it is optional. There is nothing mandatory about this plan that is going to be on the floor.

I would also point out that the provider benefits in the bill, which are over $1 billion a year, there is almost universal support for in the provider community.

So this is a good start. I would hope we would vote for the rule and have the debate.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BROWN).

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I thank my friend from New York for yielding me this time.

Last week, the Committee on Energy and Commerce was marking up the prescription drug bill. Last Wednesday, we stopped at 5 p.m. in the afternoon when we should have been working into the evening. Why? Because my friends on that side of the aisle went to a Republican fund-raiser underwritten by the prescription drug companies.
The Chair of that dinner was the CEO of a British drug company who donated $250,000 to the Republican Party. There were hundreds of thousands of other dollars donated by drug companies that night.

The next day, Mr. Speaker, when we went back for the markup, every amendment that Democrats offered that the drug companies did not like, surprise, was voted down. An amendment that said seniors should get the same drug benefits that Members of Congress were voted down on party line vote because the drug company sat in the back of the room and said no.

Every amendment we voted on that the drug companies did not like, to close the gap in all the out-of-pocket expenses that seniors had to pay, if the drug companies did not like it, they sat back in the back of the room and said no.

Vote for the Democratic plan written for seniors.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman's time has expired.

Mrs. BROWN of Ohio. Vote "no" on the Republican plan written by the drug companies for the drug companies.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman's time has expired.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. I was going to yield that gentleman another 30 seconds.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members need to heed the gavel, and the Chair would respectfully ask that, when the gravel is pounding, the Members cease speaking so that the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. SLAUGHTER) could yield additional time, which is her desire.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 2 minutes to my friend, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. WELDON).

Mr. WELDON of Florida. Mr. Speaker, as many of my colleagues in this body know, I practiced internal medicine for many years before coming to the House. Indeed, I still see patients about once a month at the veterans' clinic in my congressional district. I lived this problem on a daily basis. I practiced internal medicine. Mainly what I did was I wrote prescriptions mainly for senior citizens, and I dealt personally with the struggles that many of them face in paying for their drugs.

My primary concern is getting a bill, and frankly I was very disappointed we did not get a bill 2 years ago, and I think the reason we did not get a bill is because some people thought they could capitalize on it in the campaign, and I have to honestly say this is deja vu all over again. We are starting out very, very poorly.

I have heard that they have not had a chance. We had two committees mark up this bill. The Committee on Ways and Means spent 13 hours on it. They were in until 2 a.m. The Committee on Energy and Commerce went all night. We hear these claims that the pharmaceutical company is giving us all this money. Do I assume the Democratic party has never taken any pharmaceutical money?

I will tell Members what we need. We need a plan. We need some kind of plan, and this is step one. We have to go to conference with the Senate. Then we have to negotiate in conference, and many of you people who are over there demagoguing this issue are going to be the conference committee. We are going to have plenty of opportunities to get a very, very good bill to help our seniors.

But if we keep on with this attitude, I am going to tell my folks back home, forget it. It is going to be kicked off into the campaign again. People are going to hope they are going to get an advantage, and I do not think anybody is going to get an advantage, and the people who are going to suffer are the senior citizens.

I want to say one other thing. We do not want a plan that stifles innovation. If you stifle innovation, I can tell you I used to write prescriptions for people and give them to them, new pills that kept them alive, and without those pills, they would have died.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. THURMAN).

Mrs. THURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I want the people of the fifth district's voices to be heard tonight, too. First of all, I want to say that this debate tonight is not about the provider givebacks in this bill. This debate is about the most important issue facing the American people and the issue that every Member of this Congress and including the President ran on in the last election.

And let me say, today I went to the Committee on Rules because the people in the fifth district said to me, we want the cost of drugs down, we are tired of seeing on the TV people going to Canada to buy their medicines cheaper, or why is it that industrialized nations, our competitors, are buying their drugs at a lesser cost? Just to give you some examples, how about Zocor? In industrialized nations their average pricing is about $65. In the fifth district, it is $104. We need to bring these costs down.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. SHIMKUS).

Mr. SHIMKUS. Mr. Speaker, I wish my friend, the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYSEN), was here because he played the Solomon card, and I have great respect for Jerry Solomon, and I say semper fi to Jerry, who is probably watching these proceedings and chuckling.

Mr. Speaker, I support this rule. We labored hard for over 25 hours in the Committee on Energy and Commerce, and I know my friends on the Committee on Ways and Means worked deeply as hard. It is not a perfect bill. In fact, the bill coming to the floor stripped out my language on orphan drugs, help for Lou Gehrig's disease, Crohn's disease and Tourette's disease.

But this bill has a few positive aspects. First, it fits within the budget. This is critical because any amendment either on the floor would add to the bill which would strip it on a budget point of order or it would shortchange the prescription drug benefit or shortchange the hospital benefits.

Illinois offers a pharmaceutical assistance program for dual eligibles. This bill will assume Federal responsibility for dual eligibles, saving Illinois $2 billion over 8 years.

Individuals who make 175 percent of poverty level will receive full cost-sharing assistance. This covers 34 percent of Illinois' Medicare population, 549,000 people. It increases payments to all hospitals in 2003. It increases payments to community hospitals. It increases DSH payments, adds a 10 percent increase to rural home health care agencies, increases by 10 percent hospital payments.

Mr. Speaker, it is a finely crafted bill that went through the committee process. It is not a perfect bill. It is a bill that we can pass on the floor tonight. I commend my colleagues and look forward to passing this bill.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. PELOSI), the Democratic whip.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, 37 years ago when Medicare first came into existence, there was a big fight over it. The Democrats wholeheartedly supported it. The Republicans opposed it. They still oppose Medicare.

Over the years, they have made statements to that effect. Newt Gingrich when he was Speaker said that he would like to see Medicare, in his words, wither on the vine. And the Republican leader of the House, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. ARMLEY) said that Medicare should be no part of a free world. In the debate in the Committee on Rules last night, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LINDER) referred to it as a Soviet-style model, what the Democrats were proposing. A Soviet-style model.

They did not support it then. They do not support it now. It is no wonder they have proposed this cruel hoax on America's seniors. To pretend they have a prescription drug benefit that is a guarantee is simply not true. They offer no guarantee, merely a suggestion.

The Republican bill does not contain any defined premium or assurances that prescription drugs will be affordable. In the one State where such a program exists, the monthly premium is $85 per month. That is in Nevada.
Less than one-fifth of the estimated cost of Medicare beneficiaries over the next 10 years will be covered in this bill. The Republican bill does not provide guaranteed access to the drugs seniors need or access to their local pharmacists. If we had been allowed to present a substitute tonight, which this rule prevents, the Democratic substitute would have provided a guaranteed, affordable prescription drug benefit for all seniors that will amount to an entitlement under Medicare. The gentleman from Texas (Mr. Barton) said before this is optional; it is not mandatory. He said that himself on the floor here.

Mr. Speaker, imagine a situation where we could have prescription drug benefits for all of our seniors, the quality of life that it would produce, and the cost savings to our budget.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 30 seconds to point out a couple of things in the previous statement.

Mr. Gingrich did not ever say Medicare would wither on the vine. This was played out on CNN very clearly when they played the whole statement, not the botched statement the Democrats have been running. He said that competition in the system, the Health Care Financing Administration would wither on the vine.

Secondly, I will point out that the Democrats had a majority here for 40 years. When I first came here, they had a huge majority in both bodies, and the President was a Democrat; and they did not even offer one. I think it is fair to say that the Republicans are making the effort.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Ms. Hart).

(Ms. Hart asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. HART. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the rule and urge Members to also support the bill.

The Centers for Medicaid and Medicare Services did a poll checking out this bill. They estimated that virtually all of the Medicare beneficiaries, that is at least 95 percent of them, would opt for this drug coverage. I doubt that 95 percent of Medicare recipients would be interested in their proposal, but this proposal provides seniors with coverage for prescription drugs that they cannot get to purchase the choice they currently make of leaving that prescription drug bag on the counter because they cannot afford it or paying for it and taking it home is no longer a choice they have to make. They pay for it because they have coverage, they take it home, and their health improves.

All of the senior citizens that I have met with in my district have been asking me to please help them get the coverage for the prescription drugs they need to stay healthy and out of the hospital. That is all they ask. The women and the men. That is what we give them in our bill. I urge support.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New York (Mr. Nadler).

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Speaker, what we have on the floor today is a pitiful, pathetic, puny, pretend plan; a pretend plan that provides no prescription drug care, prescription drugs; but what it really does is gives a lot of money to the insurance companies and says please, we hope you will do something for our seniors, maybe. That is all it is. They are too something. I will not say what because my words might be taken down, but they will not permit the Democratic plan, which is a straightforward plan for Medicare to pay for 80 percent of the cost of prescription drugs, to be offered on this floor because they do not have confidence that they could win the debate. They will not permit the two plans to be offered on this floor but as a result they are afraid in the light of day if the American people see it, they would say, we want a plan. We want what they call the Soviet-style plan, which is what they characterize Medicare as for the last 40 years.

They did not want it then. They still do not want it. And they certainly do not want Medicare coverage for prescription drugs. They want to give more money to the insurance companies and say we hope they will provide it. Fat chance.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Fletcher).

Mr. FLETCHER. Mr. Speaker, this evening we are addressing one of the most pressing health care issues in America. I am very disappointed that my colleagues on the other side of the aisle, when we marked up the budget, they absolutely set aside no amount of money, zippo. They did nothing to set aside any money for prescription drugs for seniors. There was no plan in order to provide the funding for the plan that they offered in the committee; and it was a 1 to 73 offered in the committee. There was no way of paying for it. This burden was going to be on our children and grandchildren, and the other side of the aisle offered no single way of paying for it.

Mr. Speaker, they talked about taxes, but they did not offer the tax increase that would have been required. Are they taking it from Social Security? That is where it would have had impact. They did nothing to set aside any money for prescription drugs for seniors. Not a dime of this money is going to buy them some prescription drugs. They want to give a dime to drug companies if I, Augmentin was $110. My wife had pneumonia a couple of years ago; and when I went to the doctor, the price of Augmentin was $110. My wife had prescription drug insurance through the school system where she is a teacher. That drug instead of $110 was $17. That is a mere market private system, and we want more and more people to be included in that.

Now, I understand if the other side of the aisle wants a government-controlled health care plan like the former First Lady tried to do with health care. That is their prerogative, but we think that is wrong. We do care about our people. No child should have to apologize because they go to get a drug, and like the President sat right up here, President Clinton, and said that they are going to give him incentive to rise above himself."

They have got our senior citizens down, and now they want to kick them. The Greatest Generation that lived through the Depression, fought World War II and built this Nation, and now we are going to just kick them one more time. And if we cannot kick them, we are going to trick them and try to make them think that we are going to buy them some prescription drugs. This bill does not buy them anything.

Mr. Speaker, this rule should not pass and this bill should not pass because everyone who votes for it is going to have to live forever with the fact that they mistreated our senior citizens, the Greatest Generation one more time.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. Cunningham).

Mr. CUNNINGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak to my colleagues on the other side of the aisle. The gentlewoman from New York (Ms. Slaughter) and I have been friends for a long time. I have a mom. I have a grandmother that is 93 years old. I have a mother-in-law and two daughters. They just left topside.

What we resent on this side, and they know the gamesmanship when they had the majority, but the inferences they are putting out about our families is wrong. We do. We would give my life for my family. And I would not give a dime to drug companies if I thought it was going to hurt.

Let me give an example. I had pneumonia a couple of years ago; and when I went to the doctor, the price of Augmentin was $110. My wife had prescription drug insurance through the school system where she is a teacher. That drug instead of $110 was $17. That is a mere market private system, and we want more and more people to be included in that.

Now, I understand if the other side of the aisle wants a government-controlled health care plan like the former First Lady tried to do with health care. That is their prerogative, but we think that is wrong. We do care about our people. No child should have to apologize because they go to get a drug, and like the President sat right up here, President Clinton, and said that they are going to give him incentive to rise above himself.
I would also say that the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Pelosi), who spoke previously, since 1988, every single year she voted to take 100 percent of the money out of the Social Security trust fund, and here is the documentation.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE).

(Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I am told that our physicians take a Hippocratic oath, and that oath says when someone is in need and trusts the physician, do no harm.

I am sad to say that the insurance companies and the Republicans have gotten together, and they are doing great harm. The Republican insurance protection act: value, zero. Zero benefits. Zero to Mom, zero to Dad, zero benefits to the disabled. It is a shame. Reality is that our sick seniors are on a roller coaster. Their premiums are not guaranteed, deductibles are high. She is not assured that she will be able to buy the drugs at the pharmacy she trusts, and she gets nothing for a big part of the cost even though she keeps paying premiums.

Mr. Speaker, the Member from Florida said everybody takes money, the Democrats took money. But the Democrats did not take $31 million 5 days before the Republicans took money. But the Democrats march down citing the mantra that the Republicans in your district, they would never, ever accept that. That is why there is frustration and anger on this side. We can debate these things, but you are afraid to. You do not want to hear an idea, you do not want to hear about choice, and you do not want to hear about competition.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. KINGSTON).

Mr. KINGSTON. Mr. Speaker, after looking at this issue from many different angles and for many different weeks, I am going to support this rule. There is a lot more left to do. There is a lot more that we can do. I am proud to see that a number of our Members of our leadership have agreed to in terms of addressing and lowering the cost of prescription drugs. But as I listen to this rhetoric tonight, and so much of it is totally uncalled for, one has to believe the statement made in the New Republic in June that the Democrats want the politics.

We have had an interesting debate here. We had a parade of female Democrats march down citing the mantra that this bill does nothing for senior women. In fact, not one of them spoke with any particularity to the bill. We had the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Mrs. JOHNSON) step up right after that and list time after time after time the ways talking about new ideas. But you always speak of choice. You always speak about competition. You are always talking about new ideas. But you will not allow them to come to the floor of the House of Representatives.

I represent 650,000 people. The gentleman that just came to the podium earlier is you. It is right here. But you are afraid to debate it. Why do you not stand up, be men and women, and debate it? Do not be afraid of ideas. So we will protest.

You know that the Democrats since the 1960s and before have had a love affair with Medicare. You will never drive a wedge between us and Medicare. That is what we wanted to offer. We wanted to bring our plan to the floor of the House. Perhaps you have the special relationship with the, but the disgrace is that you waved the flag and then you waived the democratic rules. Shame on you. Shame on you for doing that. Go home and explain that to good Republicans, to good independents and to the Democrats in your district. They would never, ever accept that. That is why there is frustration and anger on this side. We can debate these things, but you are afraid to. You do not want to hear an idea, you do not want to hear about choice, and you do not want to hear about competition.

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

We have had an interesting debate here. We had a parade of female Democrats march down citing the mantra that this bill does nothing for senior women. In fact, not one of them spoke with any particularity to the bill. We had the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Mrs. JOHNSON) step up right after that and list time after time after time the ways talking about new ideas. But you always speak of choice. You always speak about competition. You are always talking about new ideas. But you will not allow them to come to the floor of the House of Representatives.

(b) GENERAL ELECTION PROCEDURES.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—An individual eligible to make an election under subsection (a) may elect to enroll in a prescription drug plan under this part, or elect the option of qualified prescription drug coverage under a Medicare+Choice plan under part C, and to change such election only in such manner and form as may be prescribed by regulations of the Administrator of the Medicare Benefits Administrator (appointed under section 1861(s)(3)(A), or any other factor described in section 2702(a)(1) of the Public Health Service Act) or any other factor.

"(2) ELECTION PERIODS.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in this paragraph, the election periods under this subsection shall be the same as the coverage election periods under the Medicare+Choice program under section 1851(e), including—

(i) annual coordinated election periods; and

(ii) special election periods.

In applying the last sentence of section 1851(e)(4) (relating to discontinuance of a Medicare+Choice election during the first year of eligibility) under this subparagraph, in the case of an election described in such section in which the individual had elected or is provided qualified prescription drug coverage at the time of such first enrollment, the individual shall be permitted to enroll in a prescription drug plan at a time during this part at the time of the election of coverage under the original fee-for-service plan.

"(B) INITIAL ELECTION PERIODS.—

"(3) COMMUNITY-RATED PREMIUM.—(A) IN GENERAL.—In the case of an individual who maintains (as determined under subparagraph (C)) continuous prescription drug coverage since the date the individual first qualifies to elect qualified prescription drug coverage under this part, a PDP sponsor or Medicare+Choice organization offering a prescription drug plan may, subject to subparagraph (B), change such election only in such manner and form as may be prescribed by regulations of the Administrator of the Medicare Benefits Administrator and only during an election period prescribed in or under this part.

"(B) LATE ENROLLMENT PENALTY.—In the case of an individual who does not maintain such qualified prescription drug coverage (as described in subparagraph (C)), a PDP sponsor or Medicare+Choice organization may (notwithstanding any provision in this title) adjust the premium otherwise applicable to or impose a pre-existing condition exclusion with respect to qualified prescription drug coverage to reflect additional actuarial risk involved. Such a risk shall be established through an appropriate actuarial opinion of the type described in subparagraphs (A) through (C) of section 2103(c)(4).

"(C) CONTINUOUS PRESCRIPTION DRUG COVERAGE.—An individual is considered for purposes of this part as maintaining continuous prescription drug coverage on and after the date the individual first qualifies to elect prescription drug coverage under this part if the individual maintained such coverage at any time during such period that begins on the date of termination of the particular prescription drug coverage involved (regardless of whether the individual subsequently obtains any of the following prescription drug coverage):

(i) COVERAGE UNDER PRESCRIPTION DRUG PLAN OR MEDICARE+CHOICE PLAN.—Qualified prescription drug coverage under a prescription drug plan or under a Medicare+Choice plan.

(ii) MEDICAID PRESCRIPTION DRUG COVERAGE.—Prescription drug coverage under a qualified prescription drug plan, if the individual was not adequately informed that such coverage did not provide such level of benefits.

"(D) CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing the disenrollment of an individual from a prescription drug plan or a Medicare+Choice plan based on the termination described in section 1851(g)(3), including for non-payment of premiums or for other reasons specified in subsection (d)(3), which takes effect on a grace period described in section 1851(g)(3)(B)(i).

"(3) NONDISCRIMINATION.—A PDP sponsor offering a prescription drug plan shall not establish the service area for a group of enrollees for which the service area would discriminate in health or economic status of potential enrollees.

provides that similar elections under section 1851(e) take effect under section 1851(f).

(2) No election effective before 2005.—In no case shall any election take effect before January 1, 2005.

SEC. 1860B. REQUIREMENTS FOR QUALIFIED PRESCRIPTION DRUG COVERAGE.

(a) Requirements.—

(1) Standard coverage with access to negotiated prices.—Standard coverage (as defined in subsection (b) and access to negotiated prices under subsection (d).

(2) Actuarially equivalent coverage with access to negotiated prices.—Coverage of covered outpatient drugs which meets the alternative coverage requirements of subsection (c) and access to negotiated prices under subsection (d), but only if it is approved by the Administrator, as provided under subsection (c).

(3) Disapproval authority.—The Administrator shall review the offering of qualified prescription drug coverage under this part or part C and may disapprove any contract if it finds that in the case of a qualified prescription drug coverage under a prescription drug plan or a Medicare+Choice plan, that the organization or sponsor offering the coverage is engaged in activities intended to discourage enrollment of classes of eligible Medicare beneficiaries obtaining coverage through the plan on the plan’s lower likelihood of utilizing prescription drug coverage, the Administrator may terminate the contract with the sponsor or organization under this part or part C.

(b) Application of secondary payor provisions.—The provisions of section 1852(a)(4) shall apply under this part in the same manner as under part C.

(c) Standard coverage.—For purposes of this part, the ‘‘standard coverage’’ is coverage of covered outpatient drugs (as defined in subsection (b) that meets the following requirements:

(1) Deductible.—The coverage has an annual deductible.

(2) Limits on cost-sharing.

(3) In general.—The coverage has cost-sharing (for costs above the annual deductible) specified in paragraph (1) and up to amount specified in subparagraph (C), the cost-sharing—

(1) is equal to 20 percent; or

(II) is actuarially equivalent (using processes established under subsection (e)) to an average expected payment of 20 percent of such costs.

(II) Secondary copayment range.—For costs above the amount specified in subparagraph (C) and up to the initial coverage limit, the cost-sharing is:

(1) is equal to 50 percent; or

(II) is actuarially consistent (using processes established under subsection (e)) with an average expected payment of 50 percent of such costs.

(III) Use of tiered copayments.—Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as preventing a PDP sponsor from applying tiered copayments, so long as such tiered copayments are consistent with subparagraph (A).

(IV) Initial coverage limit.—The amount specified in this subparagraph—

(1) for 2005, is equal to $1,000; and

(II) for a subsequent year, is equal to the amount specified in clause (i) for the previous year, increased by the annual percentage increase described in paragraph (5) for the year involved.

Any amount determined under clause (ii) that is not equal to the nearest multiple of $10 shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $10.

(3) Initial coverage limit.—Subject to paragraph (4), the coverage has an initial coverage limit on the maximum costs that may be recognized for payment purposes (above the annual deductible).

(A) For 2005, that is equal to $2,000; or

(B) for a subsequent year, that is equal to the amount specified in this paragraph for the previous year, increased by the annual percentage increase described in paragraph (5) for the year involved.

Any amount determined under subparagraph (B) that is not a multiple of $25 shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $25.

(C) Catastrophic protection.—

(A) In general.—Notwithstanding the catastrophic threshold described in subparagraph (B), the coverage provides benefits with no cost-sharing after the individual has incurred costs (as described in subparagraph (C)) for covered outpatient drugs in a year equal to the annual out-of-pocket threshold specified in subparagraph (B).

(B) Annual out-of-pocket threshold.—For purposes of this part, the ‘‘annual out-of-pocket threshold’’ specified in this subparagraph—

(1) for 2005, is equal to $4,500; or

(II) for a subsequent year, is equal to the amount specified in this subparagraph for the previous year, increased by the annual percentage increase described in paragraph (5) for the year involved.

Any amount determined under clause (ii) that is not a multiple of $100 shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $100.

(C) Application.—In applying subparagraph (A)—

(1) incurred costs shall only include costs incurred for covered outpatient drugs; and

(2) amounts for which benefits are not provided because of the application of the initial coverage limit described in paragraph (3) and

(III) such costs shall be treated as incurred only if they are paid by the individual, under section 1906(c), or under title XIX and the individuals is not reimbursed (through insurance or otherwise) by another person for such costs.

(1) Annual percentage increase.—For purposes of this part, the annual percentage increase described in this paragraph for a year is equal to the annual percentage increase in per capita aggregate expenditures for covered outpatient drugs in the United States for medicare beneficiaries, as determined by the Administrator for the 12-month period ending in July of the previous year.

(II) Alternative coverage requirements.—For purposes of this subparagraph, a prescription drug benefit design from the standard coverage described in subsection (b) so long as the following requirements are met and the plan applies for, and receives, the approval of the Administrator for such benefit design:

(A) Assurance at least actuarially equivalent coverage.—

(1) Actuarially equivalent value of total coverage.—The actuarial value of the total coverage provided by an alternative coverage design (as determined under subsection (e)) is at least equal to the actuarial value (as so determined) of standard coverage.

(2) Assurance equivalent value of coverage.—The unsubsidized value of the coverage is at least equal to the unsubsidized value of standard coverage. For purposes of this subparagraph, the unsubsidized value of the coverage is equal to the actuarial value of the coverage (as determined under subsection (e)) times the actuarial value of the subsidy payments under section 18003 with respect to such coverage.

(II) Assurance standard payment for costs at initial coverage limit.—The coverage described in subparagraph (I) is actuarially equivalent to the representative pattern of utilization (as determined under subsection (e)), to provide for the payment, with respect to costs included that are equal to the initial coverage limit under subsection (b)(3), of an amount equal to at least the sum of the following products:

(1) First copayment range.—The product of—

(1) the amount by which the initial copayment threshold described in subsection (b)(4) exceeds the deductible described in subsection (b)(1); and

(II) 100 percent minus the cost-sharing percentage specified in subsection (b)(2)(A)(I).

(II) Secondary copayment range.—The product of—

(1) the amount by which the initial copayment threshold described in subsection (b)(4) exceeds the initial copayment threshold described in subsection (b)(2)(C); and

(II) 100 percent minus the cost-sharing percentage specified in subsection (b)(2)(A)(I).

(II) Catastrophic protection.—The coverage provides for beneficiaries the catastrophic protection described in subsection (b)(4).

(4) Access to negotiated prices.—

(A) In general.—Under qualified prescription drug coverage offered by a PDP sponsor or a Medicare+Choice organization, the sponsor or organization shall provide beneficiaries with access to negotiated prices (including applicable discounts) used for payment for covered outpatient drugs, regardless of the fact that no benefits may be payable under the coverage with respect to such drugs because of the application of cost-sharing or an initial coverage limit (described in subsection (b)(3)). Insofar as a State elects to provide medical assistance under title XIX for a drug based on the prices negotiated by a prescription drug plan under this part, the requirements of section 1927 shall not apply to such drugs.

(5) Disclosure.—The PDP sponsor or Medicare+Choice organization shall disclose to the Administrator (in a manner specified by the Administrator) the extent to which negotiated prices are paid to the sponsor or organization by a manufacturer are passed through to enrollees through pharmacies and other dispensers or otherwise. The provisions of section 1927(b)(3)(D) shall apply to information disclosed to the Administrator under this paragraph in the same manner as such provisions apply to information disclosed under such section.

"(ii) the use of generally accepted actuarial principles and methodologies; and

"(iii) applying the same methodology for determinations of alternative coverage under section (c) as is used with respect to determinations of standard coverage under subsection (b); and

"(B) for determining annual percentage increases described in subsection (b)(6).

"(2) USE OF OUTSIDE ACTUARIES.—Under the processes under paragraph (1)(A), PDP sponsors and Medicare+Choice organizations may use actuarial opinions certified by independent, qualified actuaries to establish actuarial values.

"(f) COVERED OUTPATIENT DRUGS DEFINED.—

The Speaker pro tempore. The gentleman from Connecticut (Mrs. Johnson), the gentleman from California (Mr. Stark), the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. Tauzin), and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. Dingell) each will control 30 minutes of debate on the bill.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Connecticut (Mrs. Johnson).

Mrs. Johnson of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 3 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 4954 because it provides prescription drugs to all seniors as an entitlement under Medicare.

Mr. Speaker, I am honored to bring this bill to the floor of this great House. Everywhere I go, seniors look at me with worry in their eyes, concern that they will not be able to buy the prescription drugs needed to get well. They worry that they will not be able to afford the many prescriptions needed to enable them to enjoy their lives and keep on with their daily activities.

Mr. Speaker, not only is that worry important but that our seniors have access to prescription drugs as part of Medicare, within Medicare as part of that entitlement to health services, because indeed, Medicare without prescription drugs is a mere shadow of the promise of health care security that Medicare has always represented to the seniors of our great country.

Mr. Speaker, I am very pleased that this bill provides the deepest discounts on drug prices that any bill has ever brought to this floor. It is a 30 percent discount, compared to every other plan that provides a 10 percent discount. On an average of 30 percent discount are powerful subsidies, 80 percent subsidies, up to $1,000 in drug costs, and 50% after that. This is powerful help.

For those living under 150 percent of poverty income, it will provide 100 percent of their drug cost needs up to $2,000. For over that, States will have freed-up resources to help those that cannot afford their prescriptions.

This is a powerful benefit for our seniors right up through catastrophic coverage, which provides the peace of mind that they so deserve in their senior years.

But that is not all this bill does. It goes on to provide better preventive care for our seniors and to provide those plans that are able to provide disease management, which is the only way that seniors with chronic illness are going to enjoy health in their elder years. Also, it reduces the cost of medication errors, provides safety for our seniors, compensates our providers more realistically, and in general, would strengthen our Medicare program.

I am going to go into the details of the bill later, Mr. Speaker. I will reserve my time for a discussion of this powerful new expansion of Medicare to improve the lives of the seniors of our country.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 1 minute.

Mr. Speaker, I would explain, when one speaks of insurance coverage, we get the Republican bill. They free up any resources that go to the Hartford Insurance Companies.

The truth is that the average senior in this country spends $3,059 on drugs. Under the Republican plan, they will have to spend $1,959 out of pocket to get that $3,000 worth of drugs. Under the bill that we would suggest, they would spend only $691.80.

So Members can see that the Democratic plan, had we been allowed to offer it, is better. It does something for the seniors that the Republican bill does not do: it gives them the where-withal to afford drugs. It gives them an entitlement that they are entitled to.

This bill is an entitlement for the pharmaceutical industry and the insurance industry. They are the only ones who get any money under the Republican bill. Under our alternative, the seniors are entitled.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3½ minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS), the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means and an expert on health policy and prescription drugs.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding time to me.

Mr. Speaker, at some point, somebody needs to talk about reality. What we have heard from the other side of the aisle is that they want to operate under democracy, that democracy does not operate here.

There is a difference between democracy and chaos. Democracy means majority rules, but it also means rights of the minority. What are some of those rights? The rights are the minority gets to participate if they play by the rules. What are the rules? That under the budget, and they want democracy, under the budget they have the right to offer a plan which costs no more than the amount the budget provides: $350 billion. What they presented was a plan that costs $3,000.

Guess what? They do not play by the rules; they do not get to offer their substitute. What they want to do is do whatever they want to do without following the rules. That is not democracy.

Secondly, what I heard from the gentleman from Florida while we were arguing the rules was, our bill does not do a pay-back to the providers. What does that mean? They are going to spend $1 trillion, and they do not take any of it to address the fact that our physicians serving seniors have a payment system that is broken. Why is it broken? Because it is not automatic. If it were automatic, it would adjust to the market. Instead, it is an arbitrary, fixed price. But they do not even want to fix that in their bill.

Now, we have heard several times, the latest argument was that we are in the pocket of somebody; that Republicans wrote a bill if they are in the pocket of somebody. Often times we have heard that we are in the pocket of the pharmaceutical manufacturers.

Mr. Speaker, let me explain what is in this bill. The Democrats put into effect a payment called “best price.” Whenever someone says, we are going to give you the best price, you had better beware. What is “best price”? It is an arbitrary, bureaucratic, green eye shade determination of a floor of what we are going to pay.

When the Democrats ran this place and when the Democrats wrote legislation, they put in best price. Do Members know what we suggest? In this bill, we get rid of best price. What in the world would we pay if we got rid of best price? Guess what.

Do Members know that in that pocket of the pharmaceutical manufacturers that we are in there is going to be a whole lot more room for us, because the pharmaceutical manufacturers get taken out of their bottom line $18 billion in this bill. They are denied $18 billion by going from best price.

They have to help us solve this problem by the tune of $18 billion, because instead of best price, guess what we ask them to do? We ask them to compete. We have all kinds of laws to produce pure drugs. Who will it give to use best price? A modest competition produces savings of $18 billion applied to the benefits to seniors paid for by pharmaceutical manufacturers.

They have nothing in their bill. They have rhetoric. They have hot air. We have $18 billion paid out of the pockets of the pharmaceutical manufacturers to help seniors.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2½ minutes to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. LEVIN).

Mr. LEVIN asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Speaker, I say to the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS), democracy means give the minority rights so that they can have $18 billion paid out of the pockets of the pharmaceutical manufacturers.

It is a disgrace that they do not give us the chance for a substitute. They did it on the trade bill, a motion to recommit. Now they are doing it on this.

Mr. Speaker, we will never yield to the gentleman’s demeaning democracy. The gentlewoman from Connecticut (Mrs. JOHNSON) talks about “this great House.” I want to talk substance, that she is demeaning this great House. She is changing this from the people’s House to something else.

Mr. Speaker, this bill is a shell. It is worse than empty in the sense that it is filled with deceptions. Ten words: no set premiums, no assured benefits, and use private insurance.

The gentlewoman from Connecticut (Mrs. JOHNSON) said, let us not get into the details. I can understand why. She likes to say that 44 percent of women will be covered without cost. What she does not say is that those women are especially vulnerable to paying more than $2,000 bucks. That is, they fall into a deep hole of noncoverage.

This bill is not part of Medicare like hospital and physician bills, and we say, why not? They just do not like Medicare.

Now, the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS) does not like us to talk about Medicare+Choice. I can understand. That has not worked. Under Medicare+Choice if there is not enough money then you have to come to Congress. Under your bill if there is not enough money, I would call this no prescription choice, except you can run to the Secretary to get some more money.

This bill, as I said, is worse than an empty shell; and what makes it worse is you are playing the shell game with democracy.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes and 15 seconds to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. CRANE).

Mr. CRANE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 4954, the Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act.

When it comes to Medicare, Congress must consistently balance accessibility of services from qualified providers, cost and financial stability of the Medicare program. This legislation does just that.

H.R. 4954 provides a long-overdue prescription drug benefit and available to all Medicare beneficiaries in a fiscally responsible way. Our House-passed budget provides for $350 billion for a Medicare prescription drug benefit and modernizations to the program.

According to CBO estimates our proposed drug benefit is estimated to cost $310 billion over 10 years and also achieves a 30 percent savings on drug costs. It is projected that in 2004 the Medicare program. This legislation of services from qualified providers, our seniors are guaranteed those benefits. In this bill many prescription drugs, they are guaranteed nothing.

It reminds me of what we told our seniors with HMOs. Join HMOs and you will get prescription drug coverage. What happened as soon as they joined? The deductible, the co-pays went up, and the amount of coverage went down.

There is no protection in this bill on premiums like under Medicare. In Medicare, our seniors know that their Part B premium is tied to 25 percent of the cost. They know how much it will be. There is no protection in this bill as to what the premium will be set at or how much it will increase. No protections to our seniors.

In Medicare, we know that there will be a reimbursement system in our community. It is always rely on Medicare. The underlying bill relies on private insurance. Mr. Speaker, there is no protection in this bill for those private insurance companies leaving our community.

Look what happened with the HMOs. They enrolled seniors. They brought them in, and then they left town.

Ask the people in Maryland. In 1996, we had eight HMOs writing seniors business, private insurance. Today, we have one with a capped enrollment. The private insurance companies will be there as long as they can make money; and as soon as they cannot make money, they will be gone.

There is no protection in this bill to provide access to our seniors. It is fundamentally flawed, and we should correct it. We will have an opportunity to do it with the motion to recommit.

I urge my colleagues, if we are serious about providing prescription drug coverage for seniors, let us use the model that has worked. Let us use the Medicare model. Let us not use private insurance, solely private insurance. It has not worked in the past, and it will not work under this bill.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. McCrery), an esteemed member of the Subcommittee on Health of the Committee on Ways and Means.

(Mr. McCrery asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. McCrery. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me time. Mr. Speaker, to those who say the benefit in this bill is not rich enough, Mr. Speaker, I would ask them to remember that Medicare spending, despite the bipartisan Balanced Budget Act of 1997, is still growing at an unsustainable rate. As a share of our gross domestic product, Medicare has grown from 1.3 percent in 1980 to more than 2.2 percent today and will hit 5 percent by the year 2030. By 2075, Medicare will be just over 18 percent of our gross domestic product.

10 percent of GDP may not seem like much until you consider that over the last four decades Federal tax revenues have averaged between 18 and 19 percent of GDP. Mr. Speaker, under current projections, unless the Federal tax burden is raised to new and potentially economically destructive levels, Medicare, together with Social Security and Medicaid, will quickly crowd out spending on other important initiatives, including defense, homeland security, education, transportation and others.

These long-term trends will only be exacerbated, the kind of society, the kind of an empty promise to seniors. I cannot disagree more. This package provides a prescription drug benefit that is voluntary for seniors. Let us make sure that our seniors have a choice in Medicare. Let us not play politics with America's seniors.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to adopt this bill along with the minor reforms that we have this evening.
benefits and there is no set premiums because the Republicans are privatizing Medicare. They are giving this whole benefit to the private insurance companies.

Now you have to remember that the chairman of the committee on Medicare, the Medicare Commission and spent an entire year trying to get a voucher system for senior citizens in Medicare. This is his second try. Buried in this bill is the creation of a new private benefit management company or management that will handle the HMOs and will handle the private drug plans.

Now you think I am making this up, but if you take the bill, and I will bet you there is not a person on this floor that has read page 157, line 16, which prevents the Secretary of HHS from interfering in any way with the negotiations between the private drug plans and the Medicare+Choice organizations and drug manufacturers.

Now what this is saying is that the Secretary of Health and Human Services, whoever that may be, has no ability to stand up for the people of this country, the senior citizens, the 40 million people that count on this program, and stand up for them. She has to stand back and let the private drug programs and the pharmaceutical companies negotiate.

Now, we all saw what happened with Medicare+Choice. Hundreds of thousands of people were lured into HMOs and then were dumped out in the street; 500,000 in my State; and I do not know how many across this country. And you say, well, we did not learn anything from that. We know the private industry will take care of them. So let us give them the drug benefit. You are going to get the same thing, and it is rotten.

Everyone should vote "no" and vote "yes" on the Democratic alternative. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 15 seconds to remind the Members that both the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Ms. JOHNSON) and the gentleman from Florida (Mr. SHAW) voted against increasing payments to hospitals, voting against filling the Republican gap in the drug coverage, and voted against requiring drug companies to offer real discounts. So much that they care for the senior citizens of this country.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. KLECKZA).

Mr. KLECKZA. Mr. Speaker, we are told by my Republican colleagues that this is a powerful benefit, that this is an historic opportunity. Well, nothing could be further from the truth. For you see, Mr. Speaker, 2 years ago to the day an identical bill passed this House of Representatives. And why did it pass 2 years ago at this time and why is this bill on the floor here today? Because, you may remember we have the November congressional elections.

And you see, the American public wants a drug benefit. And they do not want to give one, but they keep bringing up this fig leaf 4 months, every 2 years before the Congressional elections.

But what is their bill all about? This is not a Medicare benefit like hospitals and physicians. This is a subsidy to insurance companies. We were told 2 years ago when this same bill was up that no insurance companies are going to sell these policies. For everyone who buys a policy will have a claim against the policy, and it is going to be identical to the failed experiment that the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS) called Medicare Choice.

Two million people have been cancelled by insurance companies from that plan, and the same is going to happen here. But for a senior with drug costs of $3,800 a year, the Republican plan will give them almost nothing. After they are charged a premium, a deductible, they pay $150 for the first $1,000 of costs. They pay one-half or $500 for the next thousand. Then they have no coverage at all for any and all drug costs from $2,000 to $3,800. So for $3,800 in drug costs per year the senior gets $3,100 of extra payments out of the pocket. The benefit is $680.

Is that what they want to give their mothers and their living fathers? They should be ashamed of themselves.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. NUSSLE).

Mr. NUSSLE asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.

Mr. NUSSLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 4954, the Medicare Modernization Prescription Drug Act. It is a good bill. It fits within a budget. It sets real premiums. We have got a budget. We have got a plan. It meets the needs of seniors. It meets the needs of health care providers. It meets the needs for the future.

In 1965, Medicare should have included a prescription drug benefit. 2831

For many years after 1965, Democrats had the opportunity to propose legislation for a prescription drug benefit. In fact as early as 1993, they controlled the House, the other body and the House down the road here, and did not do a thing for seniors on prescription drugs; and now tonight they rush in, claim that we will not let them have the substitute when in fact their substitute costs almost a trillion dollars; and that is the reason they cannot have it, because it does not fit within a budget, and it does not fit within a plan.

Mr. Speaker, just 3 hours ago they were screaming that we had to raise the debt ceiling because we were spending too much. Tonight they are claiming we are not spending enough. Vote for this bill.

I rise in support of H.R. 4954, the Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act of 2002. I’d like to congratulate the Committees on Ways and Means and Energy and Commerce for producing a bill that provides a much-needed Medicare prescription drug benefit within a fiscally responsible framework.

No senior should be forced to choose between the basic necessities of life and purchasing prescription drugs. This bill provides prescription drug coverage that is affordable, accessible and comprehensiveness.

Because the Medicare program has not been significantly modernized since its inception in 1965 to include a prescription drug benefit, it is not meeting the needs of Iowa seniors.

While the drug benefit is indeed important, Iowans recognize that the critical inequities in today’s current Medicare program must also be addressed. While Iowa boasts the 8th highest quality of healthcare in the Nation, it is 50th in Medicare reimbursement.

Actions that affect Medicare affect Iowa’s entire health care system. If health care providers leave rural areas, who will write prescriptions under the new drug benefit? Who will provide the care that cannot be provided by drugs alone? If local hospitals close, where will we take our children’s emergency care?

Many of these problems have compounded since 1965, but rural health care, particularly in Iowa, is on the verge of a crisis. This bill offers significant progress toward bridging the gap between urban providers and those in rural areas such as Iowa.

As a member of the House Committee on Ways and Means, I successfully amended this important legislation with Medicare’s anti-quated reimbursement policies in the current system in mind. My amendment is directed at the hospital costs that need help the most, especially those in Iowa. It has been estimated that my amendment will provide $123 million over the years in much-needed relief for Iowa hospitals such as Covenant in Waterloo, Mercy in Dubuque, and Regional Medical Center in my hometown of Manchester.

I am also pleased that this legislation includes an important provision recognizing the unique cost of physician work in rural areas. This provision would give the Secretary of Health and Human Services discretion to raise the Medicare level of physician wages providing an increase of roughly $7 million to physicians in Iowa.

After years of working to correct these inequities, I’m glad to see that the House of Representatives is following my lead in addressing these disparities in the current system. While this legislation is an important step forward, I will not stop working on this important issue.

Today we are adding an unquestionably important prescription drug benefit to Medicare as part of the largest prescription drug benefit that need help the most, especially those in Iowa. The critical inequities in today’s current Medicare program must also be addressed. While Iowa boasts the 8th highest quality of healthcare in the Nation, it is 50th in Medicare reimbursement.

The budgetary parameters for this bill were established in the Concurrent Resolution on the budget for Fiscal Year 2003 (H. Con. Res. 353), the budget resolution that the House passed in March and then deemed enforceable in the House last month.

That budget made modernizing Medicare with among other things, a prescription drug benefit and reforming Medicare among the highest priorities for the Congress—along with fighting the war on terrorism and encouraging economic recovery.
The budget provides $5 billion in fiscal year 2003 and $350 billion over 10 years to strengthen Medicare and include a prescription drug benefit. That money was specifically fenced off from the rest of a budget in a reserve fund. This bill meets the requirements in the budget resolution and therefore I am releasing amounts in the reserve fund provided in the budget resolution to enable the House to consider the bill.

Some have said that $350 billion is inadequate, that we are making the maximum amount available for Medicare, given the state of the economy and the costs we face in the war against terrorism.

Indeed, the bill provides almost twice the resources for Medicare reform as the President proposed in his budget for fiscal year 2003. Unfortunately, critics of the bill failed to offer an alternative when the budget resolution was considered on the floor. And the other body has yet to even consider a budget resolution, despite the fact that they are required by law to do so by April 15.

As modified by the rule, this bill is “on budget” and within the reserve fund level of $350 billion over 10 years. About $310 billion of the total is for the drug benefit, around $40 billion of additional assistance is provided to struggling Medicare providers, and the rest is for various other critical and important provisions such as regulatory reform.

The modernization provisions in the bill include a Medicare+Choice competition program, regulatory reform, and the President’s prescription drug discount card.

I believe that modernization efforts like the Medicare Plus Choice competition program are necessary to help address Medicare’s long-term financial liabilities. I would encourage future conferences on this bill to make further reforms to address Medicare’s financial liabilities, should the other body act on this legislation and allow us to have a conference.

In conclusion, this bill fulfills our commitment to enact a prescription drug benefit within Medicare that is affordable, and that is part of the overall effort to reform Medicare to make the program stronger over the long term.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. TANNER), who realizes that the National Community Pharmacists Association states that the Republican bill penalizes beneficiaries desiring to use their total of drugs. Improving Medicare+Choice reimbursements in every county in this country with military facilities.

Mrs. THURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from California (Mr. STARK) for yielding me this time. I want to point out something here that continues to be talked about in the discussion of the low-income seniors being given total prescription drugs. The problem is, the low-income benefit would be made available through the Medicare+Choice program. The problem is, there are other benefits that beneficiaries would have to meet in order to get their benefits. So in fact the number of people who would qualify for the low-income benefit would actually be much less.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. HOLDEN).

Mr. HOLDEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the bill. Those of us from rural districts and those of us from central and northeastern Pennsylvania know that the idea that we are going to turn over the administration of a prescription drug program for our senior citizens to the insurance industry, to the HMOs, and have it be fair and universal is ridiculous. In fact it is a joke.

Number one, the insurance industry wants no part of it. As the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. TANNER) mentioned before, why when every policyholder is also going to file a claim? They are going to lose their shirt in this proposal. Medicare+Choice HMOs have failed across the country, but it has failed miserably in rural America. My constituents have to look at commercials coming out of the Philadelphia media market, Cadillac plan for prescription drug coverage and low premiums, and they were not able to participate. The reason they were not able to participate is because they had low incomes and lower reimbursement from Medicare.

As a result of it, we did not have universal coverage as Medicare+Choice.
We cannot make the same mistake. We need to have a divine benefit. We need to have a divine premium, and we need to have universal coverage for all our senior citizens.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 20 seconds. I want to make a correction of the record.

Over and over again my colleagues say we do not have a defined benefit. We have a very clearly defined benefit. Do we have a defined premium? Of course not. The part B premium is never defined. That is a percentage of costs and it varies every year. Federal health employee benefit plans do not define the premium in law. It varies every year.

In our plan we do not want to set the premium in law because if we can provide a more efficient plan, we want to be able to pass on that savings through a lower premium to seniors. We are proud of our core benefit.

Mr. PORTMAN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairwoman for yielding me the time. I am glad that she was able to correct the record on a few misrepresentations that have been made this evening.

I would like to correct the record again. My friend from Pennsylvania just stood up and talked about Medicare+Choice and how this is the same. In fact, it is not. In fact, we are helping to make Medicare+Choice work. Just because we have choked off the funding to Medicare+Choice so it does not work for our seniors, including a bunch of mine, who were not getting the right reimbursement has nothing to do with this plan. This is an entirely different plan, but it does help on Medicare+Choice, and I hope people are happy to hear that who are so concerned about it.

This is a great plan. This is exactly what our seniors need. One would never design the Medicare program today without adding prescription drugs. The other side wants to add $1 trillion of prescription drugs. After just voting not to raise the debt limit they want to add another $1 trillion.

We are doing this within $350 billion, which is responsible, which is, unlike what my friend from Wisconsin said earlier, a lot different than the bill 2 years ago. In fact, 2 years ago we were helping to make Medicare+Choice work. Just because we have choked off the funding to Medicare+Choice so it does not work for our seniors, including a bunch of mine, who were not getting the right reimbursement has nothing to do with this plan. Some have sought to portray Medicare+Choice as a plan for lower-income seniors. Nothing could be further from the truth. The plan is a guarantee for all seniors. In fact, for the average senior drug prices more. There is a discount that is for low-income seniors, which is 44 percent of seniors. They will pay no deductible. They will pay no percentage, 20 percent or 50 percent. They only have a nominal copay. They get this for free. That is 44 percent of the seniors.

I am glad that she was able to correct the record on a few misrepresentations that have been made this evening. The very people the other side has said do not want the plan are helping to make Medicare+Choice work. Just because we have choked off the funding to Medicare+Choice so it does not work for our seniors, including a bunch of mine, who were not getting the right reimbursement has nothing to do with this plan. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. ENGLISH).

Mr. ENGLISH. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Subcommittee on Health of the Committee on Ways and Means, I particularly want to pay tribute to the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Mrs. JOHNSON), who has been on the receiving end of many barbs tonight. The fact is that no one has fought harder to bring a prescription drug benefit to the Medicare program; and if we are successful in that, she, perhaps more than any other Member of this body, will deserve substantial credit.

I am here tonight because I represent a district which consists of working families for whom the abstractions of this debate do not mean much but who desperately need help on their prescriptions. This program that is being proposed in this landmark legislation would give them a flexible and affordable benefit that would be voluntary, a program that would give them real choices, allowing them to customize their benefits. It would provide a benefit that would be very substantial, more generous in fact than the one that had been previously proposed by the Clinton administration that folks on the other side of the aisle once embraced.

This is a program that represents a $350 billion investment in the Medicare program and would provide substantial benefits to seniors that would be available for a premium of about $1 a day. At the same time, for those seniors, including many in my district who cannot afford that premium, this program would provide full coverage for low-income seniors.

What is particularly striking about this legislation is that it establishes a firm ceiling, a limit, catastrophic coverage for people who participate in this program, and one that would limit the amount of prescription drugs they would be liable for in a given year, a limit of $3,700. That is extraordinarily generous, and it positions people who participate in this program to be able to have affordable drugs when they need it.

The 30 percent discount that is built into this program has been much mentioned. Let me say it also allows CMS to negotiate with the drug companies to get the best possible discount and to sharpen their pencils.

This is a great program, and I hope the House will pass it tonight.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I recognize the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. EMERSON), a Republican; and the Republican national leadership would not give us a hearing on our bill. They would not give us a vote on our bill.

Now, less than 5 months before, yes, another election, they are coming to us with this plan, this so-called Medicare plan, which has nothing to do with Medicare other than attempting to privatize it, written by the drug manufacturers for the drug manufacturers.

I know my colleagues have heard a lot from both sides tonight and that very few seniors are still awake listening because it is midnight, and that is the reason they stay up now but let me say this: Do not listen to them and do not listen to us. Go to the family pharmacist and ask them which folks in their state. Too bad.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. BECERRA).

Mr. BECERRA. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, my colleagues on the Republican side have never truly embraced Medicare. They opposed it in 1965, they have talked about letting it die on the vine, and they have described it as a Soviet-style program. In fact, what we have in this bill from my Republican colleagues and friends is a bill that moves us much closer to privatizing Medicare all together.

To privatize Medicare is to ignore the lessons of the Enron scandal and the pension abuses that occurred as a result. To privatize Medicare is to turn back the clock to those bad old days before 1965 when the health care for our seniors was not guaranteed and left to the private sector.

Under the Republican plan, a senior who is paying $250 a month in prescription drugs, and that is a lot of our seniors, would lose coverage, total coverage under this plan after August. So, that, come September, come October, come November, come December, that senior would have to, out of his or her own pocket, pay for the remaining cost of their prescription medication.

Under this plan, a senior who has $5,000 in annual prescription drug costs, and there are a lot of them who do, would have to pay $1,200 out-of-pocket out of that $5,000 cost. Compare that to the Democratic plan, where the total cost to that senior for the $5,000 would be $1,800, a savings of $2,200 between the Republican plan and the Democratic plan.

Those are the facts, and that is the difference. But we do not have a chance to put our Democratic plan for a vote here. Today, today as we speak, seniors are having to make a choice, do I buy my groceries, or do I buy my prescription drugs? Do I pay my rent, or do I buy the medication I need? We should not have them make that choice.

Give seniors what they want. They want an affordable and guaranteed benefit. The Democratic plan does that; the Republican plan does not. Let us defeat this plan.

Mrs. THURMAN of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I need it.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. ROSS), who understands why the National Association of Chain Drug Stores and the National Retail Federation and other pharmacy groups have said they consider a vote for the Republican bill to be a vote against the professional pharmacy and pharmacists.

Mr. ROSS. Mr. Speaker, I do rise in opposition, strong opposition, to this bill.

Just a few months ago, I was in Glenwood, Arkansas, a small town in my district, and ran into an elderly woman who is a retired pharmacist and who just happened to be a relief pharmacist in my hometown when I was a small child growing up.

She related the story to me about Medicare. I was a child and she was a pharmacist, if she had a prescription that cost over $5, she would go on and fill the next one while she built up enough confidence to let the patient know that going out of pocket. I think that really demonstrates, more than life itself, that today’s Medicare, if we think about it, was really designed for yesterday’s medical care.

Health insurance companies, which are very greedy, in my opinion, make huge profits and even they cover the cost of medicine. Why? Because they know it helps patients to get well and live healthier lifestyles.

As a small town family pharmacy owner, I am sick and tired of seeing seniors leave the doors of our pharmacy without their medicine. And living in a small town, I learn a week or 10 days later where they are in the hospital running up a $10,000 or $20,000 bill.

Mr. THOMAS. I yield to the gentleman from South Dakota.

Mr. THUNE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding to me; and I want to commend the chairman, because I know he has worked hard, alongside of the gentlewoman from Connecticut, to fashion a bill that addresses these concerns.

Mr. Speaker, we have seniors in South Dakota who need prescription drug relief. We have rural providers who need relief. I also share some of the concerns the gentleman just voiced about the pharmacist, and I would inquire of the chairman whether, as this process moves forward, he would be willing to work with me to provide assurances to pharmacists, particularly those in rural areas, that their concerns will be addressed?

Mr. THOMAS. Reclaiming my time, Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentleman's concerns. We have moved in the direction. There are still some concerns here that, as we move forward in Congress, we will address the concerns of pharmacists.

Ms. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 15 seconds.

I would like to point out to the gentleman from South Dakota that, on page 8 of the other party's bill they say they require any willing provider, on page 8 of the other party's bill they say that there has to be pharmacy networks and the networks can determine cost sharing for beneficiaries outside the network.

So their bill does not provide any willing providers; and ours, at a later time, provides a lot of recognition to pharmacists.

Mr. HAYWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. HAYWORTH).

Mr. HAYWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman from Connecticut for yielding me this time and who has worked so hard on this legislation.

It is important for citizens of my home state, Arizona, the seniors there who are still awake at what is 20 until 9, prime time in the State of Arizona, to understand exactly what we are doing in this legislation.

Despite the wailing and gnashing of teeth about process, we ought to focus on results. Here are the simple facts. Mr. Speaker: Under our plan, prescription sharing will be available to every senior who wants it.

Every senior who wants this plan will be eligible for coverage. We will leave no senior behind.

That is especially important when we look at the people who need the most help. The 44 percent of seniors nationwide below 175 percent of poverty, their benefit is paid for. Over $40 billion in savings to Medicaid. Real money for real people with a real prescription drug benefit.

And this is the most compelling argument, Mr. Speaker. When we cut through all the smoke and mirrors and all the rhetoric, what seniors want, what I heard at the Mesa Senior Center a couple of weeks ago, was that seniors want prescription drug savings now. When we pass this, when the other body takes its action, our plan begins covering seniors and lowering costs as soon as 50 days after the President signs the bill into law.

Mr. Speaker, the time is now to act. If this can be moved, if this bill can become law, seniors can start realizing savings before Christmas. The perfect present to give our mothers and fathers and grandmothers and grandfathers. Support this legislation.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 25 seconds to remind the gentleman from Arizona that he should tell the seniors in Mesa that he has lined his own pockets with a benefit for Members of Congress which is 50 percent more generous than what he is willing to give the seniors in his home state, and that he is the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Mrs. Johnson) who, as a representative from Florida (Mr. Shaw) voted against eliminating cost sharing for preventive benefits for seniors.

Now that again shows us how much they care for the seniors in Hartford or in Florida or in Arizona.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Indiana (Ms. Carson).

Ms. CARSON of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, there is an old adage that says those that pay the piper name the tune. We are here tonight on a tune that was written by a $30 million dinner at a conference in Florida by those that pay the piper name the tune, the senior citizens were not allowed to even win door prizes for prescription drugs at that event. And $30 million would have undergirded the cost of prescription drugs for millions of seniors who need them across this country. Those that pay the piper name the tune.

When the nonpartisan Congressional Research Service did a comparison of the drug benefit under the Blue Cross/Blue Shield standard option available to Federal employees to the Democrat plan would give about 40 percent of the coverage Members of Congress receive, but the Democratic would give commercials. Under Medicare, those that pay the piper name the tune and obviously those in rural areas, that their concerns. We have moved in the direction. There are still some concerns. We have a plan that takes $18 billion out of the pockets of the pharmaceutical companies and saves the average senior $940. It deserves bipartisan support.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Doggett).

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, this is one of those proposals that is perhaps best considered very late in the evening when the cover of darkness can attempt to hide the shame of the proposal. This bill is the appearance of doing something when it does nothing to improve the lot of our seniors. When we get right down to it, despite the charts, the Republicans have no plan. All they offer is a placebo based on privatization. I suppose we can call it a Swiss cheese plan, but seniors get all of the holes and no cheese. There is no guaranteed deductible, no guaranteed premium, no guaranteed benefit, and there is no insurance company that has ever offered a plan of this type; and most have said that they will not be able to provide a plan of this type.
It all centers on the Republican ideological insistence that we must privatize Medicare, and that is not a prescription for reform; it is a prescription for disaster.

This very day, one of their top leaders called the plan that the President announced into law and upon which millions of Americans have relied, had the audacity to call it a Soviet-style plan. They did not like Medicare then. They have never accepted it, and they are determined to use this device to privatize it.

Further, we find in the fine print of the plan in the paragraph called non-interference, a specific command that the administrator of this program cannot act to reduce costs. This figure of $18 billion has been pulled out of the air by a Republican Health and Human Services administrator. It has no basis in fact.

Rather, with this bill, the Republican leadership has once again pledged its allegiance to pharmaceutical manufacturers whose price gouging forces our seniors to pay the highest prices of anyone in the world. Little wonder that those same manufacturers are continuing to pay for ads all over the country to tell people that the Republican partners are great people for obstructing the help that our seniors so desperately need.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. RYAN), but in the course of doing that I want to mention that the Congressional Budget Office in their letter to us made clear that exempting Medicare prescription drug coverage from Medicaid’s best price drives down drug prices $18 billion for our seniors.

Mr. RYAN of Wisconsin. Mr. Speaker, I would like to put one thing straight.

The AARP does not oppose this bill. But for the benefit of Members who are truly listening to this debate and trying to make up their minds, let me point out three distinct differences. The Democratic bill will have the consequence of pushing out private-sector providers and severe interference, a specific command that the administrator of this program cannot act to reduce costs. This is shameful and a decry. We should support the Democratic plan that covers all seniors and all individuals.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Louisiana (Ms. VITTER). Mr. VITTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise in proud support of this Republican prescription drug plan. Prescription drug coverage is absolutely critical for seniors today, and no senior should have to choose between paying for prescription drugs and paying for food or rent. So we are acting and we are producing a plan and we are passing a plan to give seniors choice. They can choose the plan that works best for their needs. It reduces their out-of-pocket costs for prescription drugs, gives them a lifetime benefit, and the plan is voluntary. So if seniors have a plan already that they are happy with, they can stay with it. They are not going to get kicked out. But for those without coverage, this bill will help them get that coverage and cover those escalating costs of prescription drugs.

Seniors deserve a prescription drug benefit, not just talk, not just debate, and they deserve it today, and that is what we are going to do today, not talk, not debate but act, act responsibly and act within a budget that we can sustain over time.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I am honored to yield the balance of my time to the distinguished Ms. PELOSI pending which I would just like to remind all the seniors in the country to review all the votes that the Republicans took against their interests in coming to this useless bill which they have brought to the floor.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. THORNBERRY). The gentleman from California is recognized for 3 minutes.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time and thank him for his leadership and that of so many other members on the Committee on Commerce and the Committee on Ways and Means for their leadership in making the distinction between what the Democrats would have proposed had the Republicans not been afraid of seeing a real prescription drug benefit plan on the floor tonight and their sham, their cruel hoax, on America’s seniors that they have presented.

Why is it a cruel hoax? It is a cruel hoax because it helps pharmaceutical companies and HMOs and it does not help seniors pay for needed medication. It is a cruel hoax because there is no guaranteed coverage because insurance companies just will not offer plans. Our plan would have guaranteed coverage for all seniors through Medicare. Their plan does nothing to lower prices and our lowered prices by enabling Medicare to negotiate on behalf of seniors. It goes on and on.

What is very important for me to note is that we spend annually $70 billion on doctors under Medicare, $10 billion on hospitals. It would be necessary to spend $90 billion on pharmaceuticals. It sounds like a lot of money, and it is. But it is a tremendous investment in the health of the American people.

The committee on which I serve that deals with the National Institutes of Health, we have seen the progress in science since the inception of Medicare. It is miraculous what these drugs can do. Would it not be great if seniors could have the opportunity to pay for self-administered drugs that is prevented so far and that the Republican bill does nothing to improve?

It would save seniors money. It would save the taxpayers money. Because these drugs are not only an adjunct to care and to hospitalization, they are a substitute for it. It would improve the quality of life, it would save the taxpayers money, and it would go a long way toward the dignity and respect and dignity of economic and health security. The Republican bill is a cruel hoax on them. I urge a "no" vote.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 5 seconds.

Respectfully, how could a sham bill accelerate the pace at which technology will come into Medicare for the first time ever? And I am proud of it.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New York (Mr. GRUCCI).

Mr. GRUCCI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New York (Mr. GRUCCI).

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me this time.

When I went back to my district and I started talking about this program and this plan for senior citizens, I was wondering what kind of reception they were going to give to me, the things that they would tell me.

One of the things I saw that really lit the fire of passion in my heart on this issue and on this particular bill was when I saw the hope in the eyes of the senior citizens that I saw the benefit of this program for the first time ever they were going to get help on their prescription drugs, that the cost of their prescription drugs was going to come down, that they were going to be able to put hundreds of dollars back into their pockets and they were going to be able to use that for the rhetoric that we keep talking about, to buy their food, to be able to put heat in their homes, so that instead of having to stretch their medicine, they could take it as prescribed.

I sat across the table from these senior citizens and they were not just telling me rhetoric, they were telling me how they have to live their lives. When they saw the benefits of this program come, they were not just talking about, when they saw the opportunity to get their money back into their pockets, they had hope.

For that, Mr. Speaker, I encourage my colleagues here tonight to have a "yes" vote on this particular bill.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. BLUNT).

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Missouri (Mr. BLUNT) is recognized for 5 minutes and 3 seconds.

Mr. BLUNT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding time, the great job she has done on the floor to-night and the great job that she and the committee have done with this bill.

This is a tremendous step forward. It provides so many seniors that need. The amount of money allocated to this bill is possible. It is within budget. Health care providers and hospitals support this bill.

The AARP in a letter to the chairmen of the Committee on Ways and Means said, "We are pleased that your bill makes the voluntary prescription drug benefit permanent and maintains the entitlement nature of the Medicare program."

This is something that can actually be done. It is within a real budget. It is an amount of money that can be spent for this purpose and can start immediately. It makes a difference in the lives of our seniors.

Certainly health care delivery has changed dramatically since Medicare was created. This benefit needs to be added to Medicare. It needs to be an entitlement, not an experiment. It needs to be something that we do now, not come up with an amount of money that is impossible to do for years to come.

The amount of money allocated to this bill far exceeds the amount of money that our friends on the other side of the aisle said was necessary just 2 years ago. New drugs and devices would not be a result of a government-run health care program. They will be a result of a program that maintains incentives but guarantees lower cost, private sector access, makes this an entitlement. It is supported by health care providers for a reason. The AARP says it has great merit for a reason.

We need to do this. We need to do it now. We need to make this a reality that we come to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 465, the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) each will control 30 additional minutes on this debate.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN). Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 3 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 465.

I first want to thank the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) and all the members of the Committee on Energy and Commerce who spent over 30 hours of markup in producing this bill. I particularly want to thank my colleagues on the other side for the spirited but I think agreeably friendly debate we had that stretched over 3 days and ended up on Thursday when we started at 9:30 and completed at 8:30 the next morning.

This is a complex piece of legislation. I have heard people describe it on the other side as a hollow bill that contains no benefits. Let me make it clear, this is a bill that spends $500 billion of Medicare tax dollars that will create a valuable new entitlement for Medicare beneficiaries, that will finally provide them with prescription drug coverage, and it will do so in a comprehensive way, ensuring that the benefit will work within a stronger Medicare system for decades to come.

I do not speak just for myself. Let me quote a letter from the AARP. The letter from the AARP says our members and virtually all older Americans need this coverage now. They are tired of excuses. They are tired of politics. They want us to pass this benefit bill now.

Here is what they said about our bill.

"We are pleased that your bill makes the voluntary prescription drug benefit permanent and maintains the entitlement nature of the Medicare program."

They went on further to say, "The bill contains other favorable components as well. They talk about the coverage from $2,000 to $5,000 in the bill and particularly the financial assistance for low-income beneficiaries with drug costs under $2,000 as being vitally important. They also mention, and I quote, we appreciate your efforts to contain costs because a Medicare drug benefit bill alone without effective cost controls will be difficult to sustain. They understand we cannot bankrupt Medicare. We have got to make this system work within our budget.

But they went on to say, "You can improve this. We don’t like this home health copay." It is now gone. Our committee voted it out, and it is not in the bill.

They asked us to do what we could to close the gap, the $4,500 gap that existed between the first $2,000 of coverage and the catastrophic coverage. We found $18 billion by forcing the pharmaceutical companies to negotiate discounts below the so-called best price, $18 billion from pharmaceutical companies, and we lowered that loss from $1,500 of out-of-pocket expenses down to $3,700. We paid $800 more of drug cost in the bill now, exactly what AARP asked us to do.

Finally, they said, it is important, because our research indicates that Americans are looking for stability and dependability, to ensure that private sector entities will be willing to offer coverage.

We have a letter, too, from the Health Insurance Association of America and this is what their letter says: "The improvements contained in the proposal should make the benefit more attractive to beneficiaries. Consequently, there is now a much better chance our members will offer the benefit."

We have a comprehensive plan, a permanent, voluntary entitlement within Medicare that is within budget, that insurance companies say they will be able to work under it and provide plans and what CBO says as high as 97 percent of the seniors in America will find drug coverage and participate in.

This is a great bill. Seniors want it now. They are tired of politics. Let us pass it tonight.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. PALLONE).

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, I listened to the chairman of our committee from Louisiana, and it bothered me because he is not looking at the bill. He is not talking about the Republican bill that is on the floor of this House. This is not a Medicare bill. This is not a Medicare program. There is nothing in this bill that is going to help the average American senior.

If you look at it, first of all, we know that it does not provide Medicare coverage, no guarantees. What it does is to give some money and throw some money to private insurance companies in the hope that somehow they are going to provide a Medicare benefit. The insurance companies have said they are not going to provide the benefit. If they were providing the benefit, we would not need a Federal program.

Let us imagine that somehow, somewhere, somehow one private insurance company is willing to provide the plan the way the chairman describes. Why in the world would anybody buy into such a plan? Look at some of the figures that are so high.

First of all, if I could use this chart, it shows very dramatically that the senior citizen is only going to get about 22 percent of their coverage paid for by the Federal Government, compared to the Democratic plan which was significantly more. Look at this so-called doughnut hole in coverage. In the beginning you are going to get, if it is even available, you will get some money up to $2,000, and then you get $1,000 and then up to $2,000 out of pocket. But then after that there is no coverage. For 40 percent of the beneficiaries, the average senior citizen, they are going to get no coverage during this period.

If you are going to be in a situation, either there is no plan at all, you do not have the advantage of a plan because the private insurance companies do not provide it, or, secondly, the premium, the deductible is so high or it costs so much over the course of the year that it is not even worth buying.

Who in the world would want to buy the coverage even if it was available? The answer is, Nobody. That is the reality of this bill.

The other thing that really bothers me here is I have heard some of my colleagues on the Republican side tonight talk about having a 30 percent discount. I asked the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Mrs. Johnson), where is this in the bill? There is nothing in the bill that provides any discount here. She is assuming that there is interest to be in competition to provide it, but they put a noninterference clause in the bill that prevents any price reduction. They do not want price reduction.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I note that New Jersey is going to receive $1.5 billion in Medicaid savings directly from this bill, and 40 percent of their seniors will receive subsidized coverage of their insurance premium.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. BILIRAKIS), the chairman of the Subcommittee on Health of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Before I get into my remarks, I would say that the gentleman from New Jersey, as usual, does not listen. When the chairman read from the AARP letter, when they said, "We are pleased that your bill makes the voluntary prescription drug benefit permanent and maintains the entitlement nature of the Medicare program," that means it is under Medicare.

Mr. Speaker, obviously, I rise in support of the bill. I believe that today’s vote is another example of our commitment to getting something done for seniors this year, not just talk about it this year.

The bill creates a new entitlement under Medicare. Senior citizens and persons with disabilities will now have access to a voluntary, comprehensive prescription drug benefit. Our bill creates this benefit without jeopardizing the financial health of the overall program, which would certainly happen under the plan offered by our friends on the other side of the aisle.

During the Committee on Energy and Commerce’s consideration of the bill last week, committee Democrats offered an amendment in the nature of a substitute that, while not scored, would likely cost over $900 billion over 10 years. I was disappointed that they would offer such an irresponsible plan during such a serious debate, especially since, just last year, House Democrats included $330 billion for a new prescription drug benefit in their proposed budget resolution.

A benefit without explanations is, of course, no benefit at all. The counterproposal offered by my colleagues does not explain how they would fund this enormous program since they did not even offer a budget resolution this year. I repeat, they did not even offer a budget resolution this year.

The fact that they have now tripled the amount they say is necessary for a prescription drug benefit but, that, instead of being serious about a solution, they care only about outbidding Republicans in an attempt to score a political point for the November elections. After all, as has been said before, they controlled this House for 40 consecutive years and at no time did they attempt to address this problem.

We are addressing it. We want to help seniors now, not just use political rhetoric.

Our plan provides Medicare beneficiaries with meaningful, comprehensive coverage. It does not force beneficiaries into a one-size-fits-all program where bureaucrats pick their medicines. Instead, seniors will have a choice of at least two prescription drug plans which will provide the best price discounts available. The bill also puts into effect an idea presented to me some time ago by Dr. William Hale of Dunedin, Florida, to offer at government expense an initial medical physical to all beneficiaries going into the Medicare program. It is easy to envision. I think, that many diseases will be picked up at that time in their early stages and, thus, result in more healthful retirement years and ultimate health cost savings.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 4964 places an appropriate focus on two populations that have long been, as many know, a priority of mine: the low-income senior with high medical expenses and the very ill senior who is in danger of impoverishing him or herself in order to pay for their medications.

The bill we are considering today includes strong protections for these vulnerable beneficiaries. It fully subsidizes cost-sharing, except for nominal copayments for Medicare beneficiaries with incomes up to 75 percent of poverty. This feature means that 44 percent of our Nation’s seniors, those with incomes less than $15,505 for singles and $20,895 for married couples, could be eligible for full cost-sharing assistance. Mr. Speaker, $20,895 for married couples, could be eligible for full cost-sharing assistance.

Our bill includes needed changes to the program by raising reimbursement rates. That has been talked about.

Mr. Speaker, I hope that the Senate follows our lead and passes a bill soon so that we can begin the process of reconciling our packages later this year. This is a good bill, a responsible plan, not a perfect plan by any means, but intended to help our seniors now, and we need to support it.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. WHITFIELD), a distinguished member of our committee.

Mr. WHITFIELD. Mr. Speaker, Medicare as it exists today uses private companies to administer the Medicare program. Under the Democratic plan, private companies will be used to administer their drug program, just as ours is.

I was looking, and in Kentucky we have 615,000 citizens under Medicare. Under this plan, the plan that we will be voting on and passing tonight, 315,000, or 50 percent of them, will basically receive free prescription drugs with a very small copay of maybe $2 for generics and $4 for brand drugs. So how could we possibly oppose helping seniors with this kind of a meaningful program?

We have heard a lot of discussion today about how horrible the drug companies are in America. I think they are having a lot to do with this legislation. Medicare as it exists today uses private companies to administer the Medicare program. Under the Democratic plan, private companies will be used to administer their drug program, just as ours is.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Ms. ESHOO).

Ms. ESHOO. Mr. Speaker, I thank the distinguished ranking member for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I rise tonight to speak about an issue that calls to a need of the American people. This is really a solemn moment in this Chamber, and I regret enormously that my friends on the other side of the aisle did not have enough confidence in themselves to debate here tonight two plans, not just their plan. So since it is just their plan, that is what I am going to direct my comments to.

I know you all love your mothers and fathers. So do we. We all love our families. We are talking about the American family. We are talking about senior citizens.

Now when the American people go shopping for coverage for something, what do they want? They want something that is comprehensive, they want something that is affordable, they want something that is guaranteed, and they want something that is understandable. They have come to trust the gold standard that Medicare represents.

Now my friends on the other side keep using the word “Medicare.” Do we know what it is? It is the best marketing word in the country. But look at the fine print. What they do is they put the language down for Medicare, but they take the taxpayers’ money and shift to private insurance companies, with no guarantee that there is any insurance company that is going to bring them these benefits.

So American people: Beware. Beware of false advertising. This is no more a Medicare prescription drug plan than I am a redhead.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, the State of California will get $5.1 billion in Medicaid savings under this bill, and 1.5 million California seniors, including 37 percent of Iowans and 315,000 citizens will have no copayment, deductible, or premium. They will get this benefit free. That is not pencil dust. As we have another problem that we have not addressed, and that is that in rural States like my State, rural hospitals and other providers, the rural hospitals are going broke and other providers are not taking care of, cannot take any more Medicare patients in our rural areas, we have whole additional payments for Medicaid, and this is at a time when my State is struggling to meet its payments.
This bill helps seniors. U.S. Senators endorse it, and Sixty Plus. It helps the providers like physicians to keep taking Medicare patients into their practices.

It helps keep the rural hospitals open. That is why it is endorsed by the AMA and the American Hospital Association. Ninety-five percent of seniors would find this a good deal and sign up for this bill.

This bill basically is a bird in the hand. That is worth more than two or three in the bush. Senior citizens in Iowa are telling me that $350 billion now will help a lot, and that is a lot better than an empty promise for two or three times more than that.

Mr. Speaker, a few winters ago, when Iowa was experiencing skyrocketing home heating bills, I received numerous letters from Iowa seniors who were forced to choose between paying their monthly heating bills or paying for their prescription drugs.

I don't believe that's a choice Iowa seniors should have to make.

That is why this week, I have been working with my Energy and Commerce committee to pass modernization and prescription drug Act of 2002, which would provide a prescription-drug benefit for needy Iowa seniors through Medicare.

Although many members of the other party continue to treat Medicare as a political football, we are moving forward to provide immediate help to those who need it most.

Specifically, the bill includes an affordable and permanent prescription drug benefit with an average premium of $35 per month. The bill also includes a standard benefit that would begin with a $25 deductible and pay 80% of spending up to the first $1,000 and 50% up to the second $1,000. Seniors who meet the low-income criteria (50% of seniors currently without coverage) would pay less than $5 per prescription, up to coverage limits. All participants are protected against catastrophic costs, with out-of-pocket expenditures capped at $3,800 per year. An estimated 94% of eligible seniors in this country would participate in this plan in the first year, according to the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office.

In addition to the drug benefit, our legislation also provides a boost to rural Iowa hospitals that, for too long, have ranked last in the country in Medicare reimbursements. The bill provides increased equity for all hospitals in rural areas, as well as increasing payments to sole community hospitals, rural home health agencies, nursing homes, and dialysis services. Congressman Nussle and I also have worked to amend the legislation to provide an increase of up to $40 million per year to Iowa's non-teaching hospitals.

These provisions are significant because the vitality of Iowa's rural hospitals is central to the economy of our state. Our bill would help ensure that Iowans living and working in rural areas have access to reliable and affordable health care.

Our prescription drug legislation contains significant provisions for lower income Iowa seniors. Benefits for Medicare beneficiaries below 150% of poverty level would be fully subsidized, as would cost-sharing expenditures for beneficiaries under 175% of poverty.

Premiums for individuals between 150% and 175% of poverty would be subsidized on a sliding-scale basis. The Medicaid provisions would mean savings of $337 million dollars to Iowa's state budget—needed help to our state legislators who are struggling to balance the state budget.

Has the other party proposed, a prescription drug bill of their own? Yes—a bill that irresponsibly busts the budget and risks bankrupting the system.

Our legislation, on the other hand, provides an immediate $350 billion drug benefit and fits into the budget.

So, do Iowa's seniors want our prescription-drug benefit now, or the other party's empty promises of a drug benefit at some undetermined point in the future?

The answer is that Iowa seniors want help now—because they realize that a bird in the hand is better than two in the bush.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Florida (Mr. Deutch).

Mr. DEUTSCH. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding time to me. Mr. Speaker, and the two proposals, one is in front of us and one was not allowed to be in front of us, really are fundamental policy differences. What the American people want is to have prescription drugs as part of Medicare.

When Medicare was created in 1965, there are two interesting statistics. One is that the average age of Americans was 65 in 1965. It has gone up by more than 10 years. I think we consider that a high achievement.

The second interesting statistic is that the out-of-pocket payments by seniors in America, the percentage of their income has actually gone up, even with Medicare.

One of the major reasons for both of those statistics is because of prescription drugs. We cannot conceive of a Medicare program, which is an insurance program, it is a forced insurance program, and that has been Medicare's success, we cannot conceive of that being set up today without prescription drugs.

What my colleagues on the other side of the aisle are proposing, and I do not doubt the chairman of the full committee will cite a statistic about Florida saving Medicaid dollars after I finish speaking, but that is not Medicare, Mr. Speaker. That is not Medicare.

That is not what America's seniors want. It is a sham. It is misleading advertising for a private insurance company, and they get it. They get it, and they do not want it. They do not want what Members are proposing. What they want is simple. They want an expansion of Medicare coverage for prescription drugs, because they understand on a day-to-day basis that prescription drugs are a necessary component of Medicare, and eventually the American seniors are going to get what they want, regardless of the action that we take today.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, Floridians, seniors under Medicare, over 1 million will have free premiums under this bill, and the State of Florida will receive $3.1 billion in Medicaid savings.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. Burr), distinguished vice chairman of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Mr. BURR of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I have listened to the debate tonight for over an hour. I have heard the word "sham" and I have heard of promises used. Those words are in fact about a benefit that we are going to extend to Medicare, a benefit that had not been extended since 1965, when Medicare was created.

Mr. Speaker, tonight we have a great opportunity. We have a great opportunity to pass a bill that is not perfect, but few things in this House are. We have the opportunity to extend for seniors for the first time coverage that the majority of Americans eligible for Medicare want and need. I do not think that is a sham; I think it is a tremendous opportunity for the Congress of the United States to pass for those individuals.

Some will get up and say that "GOP" is "get old people." Maybe they ought to change the word to "GOP, Get Old People Drugs." That is what we are here to do. If we can put aside partisanship, we can pass a bill that for the first time brings drugs to the American people.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from California (Mr. Waxman).

Mr. WAXMAN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot tell Members how disappointed I am that we are not discussing a Medicare bill that will really meet the needs of the American people.

We are not doing it on a bipartisan basis. Who would have thought this is a partisan issue? Both parties promised prescription drugs for seniors under the Medicare program in the election, but the Republican plan that is before us today does not provide an adequate benefit. It does not help bring down the cost of drugs or stop excessive pharmaceutical company profits. It does not establish what the premium will be, or if it will be affordable.

Our Republican colleagues claim that the premium is set the same way the Medicare premium is now established; but that is wrong, and they know it. Medicare's premium is not set by a private insurance company that is interested first and foremost in its own profits. These premiums will be set just that way.

The Republican plan does not guarantee help with the cost of the drugs the physicians prescribe for us; and it does not ensure that we get our drugs at the local pharmacy. The fact is, this plan does not guarantee anything except subsidies for private insurance companies.

Let us put a real benefit in Medicare. Let us defeat this bill and give people the help they need. If they want to compare, for those seniors who are
Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, not only will 43 percent of the seniors in California get subsidized premiums under this bill, but the State of California safety net hospitals receive over $33 million new dollars to help provide health care.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Norwood).

Mr. Norwood. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding time to me.

Mr. Speaker, I heard comments earlier tonight saying that we should not talk about the debate, I went back to my office tonight and listened to all this.

I pulled two letters from my district, one from Vanderbilt, Michigan. A couple there has $6,298 per year in drug costs. Under the Democratic plan, if we would ever get a chance to vote on it, they would pay $1,637 and they would save $4,661, or 74 percent of their drug savings.

Underneath their plan, their bill here tonight, they would have to pay $4,096. They would only save $2,192, or 35 percent of their drug costs.

The other couple I pulled was from Traverse City, Michigan. They have $3,240 per year on drug costs. Under the Democratic plan, they would pay $1,028 and save $2,212 or 68 percent. Under the Republican plan, they would pay $2,536 and save only $704, or 22 percent.

Do the math. The Republican plan just does not add up.

Mr. Tauszin. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, Michigan will get $2.2 billion and one-third savings in this plan of Medicaid savings, and nearly 40 percent of their seniors will get subsidized premiums for their Medicare prescription drug coverage.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from Oregon (Mr. Walden) from our committee.

Mr. Walden of Oregon. Mr. Speaker, if we think about this, nobody has fought harder for Patients' Bill of Rights than the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Norwood), the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. Ganske), and the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Fletcher). They are unanimously in support of this bill.

These are careful legislators who have evaluated this bill carefully. They unanimously support it because they know it is within the budget. It will give care to those who need it most. From the people that I represent, it is very important, that we put together a plan that will fit within the budget framework we have been given to operate under that will get them care, because they need help now. They need help now. They do not want partisan rhetoric. We are sick and tired of that in America.

This winter and spring, I went around the country and I saw all the things, but some of the statements are just absolutely ludicrous, like people lining up over here saying that $320 billion going into prescription drugs is going to harm people. Who in the world thinks we are going to spend $320 billion of the taxpayers' money to harm somebody?

There are statements saying in 1964, Republicans hated Medicare; they voted against it. That is not true. That is not true. The majority voted for Medicare, and not all the Democrats voted for Medicare in 1965. It was a discussion worth having back then.

But do not stand up here and say all Republicans hate Medicare. Those who continue to say that Republicans say Medicare is going to wither on the vine, I saw that speech. I have a copy of that speech. Newt Gingrich made the speech. He said that HCFA was going to wither on the vine, and that outdated organization needs to have some rework, because it is interfering with the care of patients, for pitty's sakes.

There have been a lot of complaints about the rules, and not a lot of truths about. There is not a perfect bill. I know that; Members know that. All of us could do better. Any one of us could write a perfect bill if we did not need to worry about a budget. We could write a perfect bill, all of us could, if we did not care about bankrupting the trust fund, but we do.

But I will tell Members what this bill will do. They can call it, say it, do any way they want to, but what this bill will do is it will help the poorest and help the sickest seniors. We need to do it now, because this is the only game in town.

Mr. Dingell. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to my good friend, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. Stupak).

Mr. Stupak. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding time to me.

With all due respect to the last speaker, this is not a perfect bill: this is not even a good bill. Through all this debate, I went back to my office tonight and listened to all this.

I pulled two letters from my district, one from Vanderbilt, Michigan. A couple there has $6,298 per year in drug costs. Under the Democratic plan, if we would ever get a chance to vote on it, they would pay $1,637 and they would save $4,650, or 74 percent of their drug savings.

Underneath their plan, their bill here tonight, they would have to pay $4,096. They would only save $2,192, or 35 percent of their drug costs.

The other couple I pulled was from Traverse City, Michigan. They have $3,240 per year on drug costs. Under the Democratic plan, they would pay $1,028 and save $2,212 or 68 percent. Under the Republican plan, they would pay $2,536 and save only $704, or 22 percent.

Do the math. The Republican plan just does not add up.

Mr. Dingell. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to my distinguished friend, the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Markey).

Mr. Markey. Mr. Speaker, watch out, Grandma. The GOP doctors are on their way, and boy, do they have a prescription for you. Every senior citizen gets three bitter pills to swallow:

Pill number one is a half-dose of dollars. The Republicans provide less than half the money that Democrats provide to seniors in their plan so that they will not be burdened by the soaring cost of prescription drugs, but the Republicans will not allow a vote on that plan.

Pill number two is a poison pill for Medicare. The Republicans are diverting Medicare funds into risky private drug plans with no maximum premiums and no guaranteed coverage in a cynical drive to privatize the Medicare program. But they will not allow a vote to prevent the privatization of Medicare.

Pill number three is a privacy piracy. The Republicans allow the pharmaceutical fat cats to exploit Grandma and Grandpa's sensitive medical secrets in marketing schemes without their knowledge or consent, and they will not allow a vote to protect that privacy, which is inside of the Democratic bill.

"GOP,” it used to stand for “Grand Old Party.” “GOP” now stands for “get old people.” Vote “no” on the Republican plan tonight.

Mr. Tauszin. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 30 seconds.

Mr. Speaker, how dare any of the Members suggest they love their mothers and fathers more than we love our mothers and fathers. How dare they suggest that we dislike our grandparents and would feed them bitter pills, and get them. How dare they make that suggestion.

My mother is alive because of Medicare. Medicare saved her life not just three times. We are here to fight for Medicare and to improve it tonight. Republicans and Democrats alike.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. Upton).

Mr. Upton. Mr. Speaker, I ask a question of the Members.

Do the math. The Republicans provide less than half the money that Democrats provide to seniors in their plan so that they will not be burdened by the soaring cost of prescription drugs, but the Republicans will not allow a vote on that plan.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased that we are moving forward tonight with a very important bill for our Nation's seniors.
No senior should be forced to forego needed medications, take less than the prescribed dose or go without necessities in order to afford life-saving medication.

The bill before us tonight will provide much-needed comprehensive Medicare, prescription care for all seniors who elect to participate. For those who can least afford their prescriptions, Medicare will cover a hundred percent of these premium deductibles.

In addition to modernizing Medicare by adding a prescription drug benefit, the bill before us tonight will also help to ensure that Medicare beneficiaries continue to have ready access to high-quality community-based health care services.

The bill fixes flaws in the Medicare prescription fee schedules that are resulting in significant unintended cuts in physician payments. It also improves hospitals and skilled nursing home reimbursement, eliminates a scheduled 15 percent cut in home health payments, puts a moratorium on the cap on physical therapy reimbursement, and takes a good first step in improving reimbursement for ambulance services.

It is a good bill. I urge my colleagues to vote yes.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Texas (Mr. GREEN).

Mr. GREEN of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I thank my ranking member from Michigan for yielding me time.

It is hard to say in one and a half minutes how much is wrong with this piece of legislation. We should have the opportunity to debate alternatives to correct the problems, but the tyranny of the majority makes that mockery of democracy.

There is one major glaring problem that should be mentioned: the gaping hole in the coverage of the drug costs that exceed $2,000. If a senior has a $300 monthly drug bill, they can expect to lose their drug coverage halfway through the year. But they will have to keep paying month after month for the rest of the year until they reach that catastrophic limit.

Another problem is, if seniors have other coverage from an employer or maybe some help from their church or a charitable organization, these contributions will not count as out-of-pocket expenses for that senior. So that is wrong with the bill.

There is another major disincentive for employers to provide retiree health care. It will further erode what little health care coverage we have left in our country.

Diabetes is a major illness for seniors. This bill, granted, covers insulin, but it is not available for the syringes. So those seniors have to pay to inject the insulin we will give them. What kind of sense does this make?

Mr. Speaker, there are so many problems with this legislation we should be allowed our alternative, providing a meaningful prescription drug benefit, but the Republican majority again is afraid to allow amendments to pass.

My Republican colleague from Iowa said that this bill is third in the hand, but seniors, when they find out what this bill does, will be left with only bird droppings in their hands.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the seniors of Texas will receive $1.9 billion in Medicaid savings under this bill; and 55 percent of them will have subsidized premium coverage. That is not bird droppings.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to my friend, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS).

(Mr. GEKAS asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me time.

There is an extra benefit that is being conferred by passage of this bill and that is to our veterans. Veterans are experiencing two phenomena that we can also hope to end. One is the higher cost of medications that they are experiencing, of course. All seniors will benefit from that. But there is another idea that we have to shake away from the existing scene about our veterans and that is the long waiting lines that they are experiencing at the VA hospitals.

In our central Pennsylvania area, some 6,000 are waiting to see a doctor in waiting lines, and their medications that will be prescribed are not waiting for them because of the long lines and because of the high costs of medication. Strike a blow here for your veterans.

Mr. Speaker, the assets test provided under the Republican plan makes a mockery of one of the key objectives of the Medicare prescription drug benefit, to prevent senior citizens from having to pauperize themselves to get the drugs they need. Think what this means.

It means that a frail elderly woman who qualifies for a handicapped sticker on her car because she cannot walk a short distance cannot keep a car that breaks down on the highway if she wants to qualify for the assistance she needs to get the drugs her doctor prescribes. It means that a spouse who has managed to buy a burial plot, a burial plot so that they can lie for eternity next to their husband or wife may have to sell that plot to get the prescription drugs they need to survive. For shame.

Those of you who want to give a death tax elimination for the multi-millionaires in this country have no problem with requiring grandma to give up her burial plot in order to qualify for the assistance under this plan. You ought to be ashamed of yourselves.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

That claim is disingenuous. Section 1902 allows the States to waive that means test. There is an additional section, 1115 waivers are also allowed for the States, and they can waive that means test any time they want to.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GREENWOOD), the distinguished chairman of the Subcommittee on Oversight. and Investigations of the Committee of Energy and Commerce.

Mr. GREENWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I do not have a single new thing to say about this issue because it has all been said over and over again. But as I have been sitting listening to the debate for these 2 hours and looking at it, listening to the howling and the shrieking and the bellowing and the clattering of pans, I could think of nothing more than the ancient times when there was an eclipse; and as the sun was eclipsed the ancients ran out and made some noise.

For decades, the Democrats claimed to be the party that represented and cared for the seniors. They did nothing for the prescription drug benefit. Finally, our plan is eclipsing their stature; and they cannot stand it; and they are bellowing and howling. When the sun comes up tomorrow morning, we will have passed the first prescription drug plan in the history of this program. I will stand silent, and the seniors will have something to be proud of. And I am proud of you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN) has 3 minutes remaining. The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) has 15 minutes remaining.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the distinguished gentleman from Ohio (Mr. STRICKLAND).

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak to the chairman of the committee. He says that the States can waive this requirement. In fact, they can not. The asset test was placed under title 18. The States are not able to waive this requirement under this bill.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I will yield myself 15 seconds to indicate again that our information is the States have the power to exercise the waiver, and the waiver is nonwaivable.

Mr. Speaker, how much time is remaining on each side?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) has 14 1/2 minutes remaining. The gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN) has 9 minutes remaining.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 1/2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New York (Mr. ENGEL.) Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I thank the ranking member for yielding me time.

The fact of the matter is that the bill that we are debating today is inadequate because there is inadequate funding for the bill; and the reason there is inadequate funding for the bill is, as the previous speaker pointed out, because we have cut in the debt ceiling of $450 billion and then turn right around and voted for a $1 trillion expansion of a brand new entitlement program 2 hours later.

I think this is a good bill. The provider part of it is almost universally supported. I think the prescription drug benefit is a good start. I think it could be improved.

I would like at some point in time to have the ability to offer the additional option of a prescription drug savings account. Many in my district, over two-thirds of the seniors that I have talked to, have said that they would probably opt for some sort of a drug savings account if they were given that option, and I hope that later this year we could do that.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BARTON), the distinguished chairman of the Subcommittee on Energy and Air Quality of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Mr. BARTON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank my distinguished chairman and simply tell him I am glad to be on the floor backing him up, and I look forward to tomorrow delivering one of his famous cookbooks to one of my dearest friends down in Texas who has indicated to me you need to be backed up tonight with great, great enthusiasm.

I would like to tell my good Democratic friends that I agree with them on one point, and that is the fact that the rule should have allowed you to offer your substitute. I think it would have been a neat trick to have almost to a person voted against an increase in the debt ceiling of $450 billion and then turn right around and voted for a $1 trillion expansion of a brand new entitlement program 2 hours later.
Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN).

Mrs. CAPPS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the ranking member for yielding time to me; and, Mr. Speaker, for seniors in my district, there is no issue more important than prescription drug coverage. We owe our seniors a better deal. We owe our seniors the money they deserve because of their services, they cannot be members or if they have a pension plan they are providing a Medicare benefit. In the Medicare system outside the hospital, the Republican plan relies on private, stand-alone prescription drug insurance plans. They do not exist down here on television, they say they are providing a Medicare benefit.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, would the Chair again advise us how much time remains on each side?

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. THORNBERRY). The gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN) has 7½ minutes remaining. The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) has 9¾ minutes remaining.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. FERGUSON).

Mr. FERGUSON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman for yielding me the time.

We have heard a lot tonight about facts and figures and partisan rhetoric and attacks and misrepresentations. Some of our colleagues on the other side of the aisle earlier tonight suggested that we talk about or focus on senior women. I would like to do that because, second, one in particular, my mother.

My mother, Roberta, was diagnosed almost 5 years ago with cancer, deadly form of cancer, should have been dead by now. She is alive today, thank God. Because of good access to good medical care and prescription drugs that have saved her life. Why is that so important? Because without it, she never would have met her grandkids. Our kids, 3 and 2 years old, she never would have met them. Thank God she had access to those life-changing, life-saving products, because of scientists and researchers and companies who invest hundreds of millions of dollars, indeed billions of dollars, to find the miracles of cures of tomorrow.

We have to make these miracle products affordable and accessible to everyone because our seniors are too important to let this opportunity sneak by. Our grandparents want to meet their grandkids and make it happen. Pass this plan tonight.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from Maine (Mr. ALLEN).

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me the time.

Mr. Speaker, anyone who has been half awake for the last 2 years knows that for Republicans tax cuts for the wealthy are far more important than prescription drugs for seniors. In the room upstairs, Republicans can call Medicare a Soviet-style program; but down here on television, they say they are providing a Medicare benefit.

The Republican plan relies on private, stand-alone prescription drug insurance plans. They do not exist now, and they probably never will. No guaranteed benefits, no guaranteed premium, no guaranteed reduction in price. Their plan is an empty promise.

We have been asked where is our plan. The truth is my colleagues will not let us vote on it. Why? Because they know that a real Medicare benefit would reduce prescription drug prices. That is not acceptable to the pharmaceutical companies, so it is not part of the Republican plan.

Many Americans may be confused by this debate. All these numbers, estimates, projections. Just remember that Republicans get most of the money from HMOs and pharmaceutical companies. This bill is great for them, but it is a fraud on America's seniors.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to advise the great citizen of Maine that their citizens, their seniors, 40 percent of them, will get subsidized and mostly full subsidized premium coverage under this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. BRYANT), a member of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Mr. BRYANT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman for yielding me the time, and I thank the chairman for making a point. Three weeks ago, we brought forth this first prescription drug benefit that is going to be available to people eligible for Medicare.

I think it is a good bill. It offers low-cost drugs. I think it guarantees insurance coverage, and it is all done in a fiscally responsible way. It fits within our budget, and I thank again the chairman for doing this.

I know our folks in Tennessee, we have about 700,000 senior citizens, and about 45 percent of those senior citizens will be eligible for virtually cost-free drugs under this plan; and I know those citizens in Tennessee that are dual eligible, that are covered, are qualified both in Medicare and Medicaid, that would result in, when this program kicks up, an increase in the Federal State, in a savings of about $565 million over the years 2005 to 2012.

So, Mr. Speaker, again I commend the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN) for bringing forth this very important plan. I think it is a priority of this Republican Congress to give us our first-ever prescription drug benefit in the Medicare system outside the hospital.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Illinois (Mr. PHELPS).

Mr. PHELPS. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman for what he has done in the leadership in this particular subject that has brought us here tonight.

I rise in opposition to this plan and sadly because the rhetoric I guess tonight comes to an end. After promises from both sides of the aisle and those who have run an election for the last several years who promised to do something on this particular subject, we fall short and it is sad because I wanted to come to this body to have a true, fair debate on subjects of great priority like this, not debate at 1:00 a.m. in the morning where we hide things from people, to say just one plan is the best plan, it is the only plan. That is not what we are about.

I am not here to promote adversity. I do not want conflicts. I want us to come together in a bipartisan manner to try to solve the very best of all plans, not just say one plan is the only plan, and say, Illinois, that I know that the gentleman is about to quote how many millions of dollars we are going to receive and help, but what could we have received? That is the question. Those people out there, constituents that I represent, will never know until they receive help, and what could be in store for us.

They have limited us to debate here tonight, trying to get one side of our plan more clear, under handicap conditions. That is not what we are about.
That is not why we were elected, to have one party or a majority party have the only plan to make it deceptively look like it is a positive plan.

That is why we are here tonight, to debate the best, the most priority issue in the Nation, not in the wee hours in the morning, just one plan, but a fair plan for all the best of all plans.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to let my friend know that the great State of Illinois will get a great fair deal, about $2 billion in Medicaid savings, and about half a million of his senior citizens will get totally free premiums for their Medicare premium drug insurance coverage. That is a pretty good deal, pretty fair.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. BUYER), a distinguished member of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Mr. BUYER. Mr. Speaker, it took me 3 years to redesign the pharmacy benefit of military health delivery system. As the only Member of this body in this Congress to offer a prescription drug bill that has been passed and signed into law, I want to share a few observations.

First of all, I want to thank the gentleman from Hawaii (Mr. ABERCROMBIE) because we worked in a bipartisan fashion, something that has not occurred here.

Secondly, we were able to modernize a program without dulling the cutting edge of new prescription drugs.

Missing from this debate is the celebration of capitalization, a free enterprise system that avails the great minds of the world, the incentives to form at-risk entities to push the bounds of modern medicine and pharmacology to the benefit of our people and the improvements in their quality of life.

Please do not demonize these scientists and those who provide the medical community. Americans are living longer with many chronic illnesses. Why? Because modern medicine and the best health care system in the world is giving them that chance. Access to these drugs is what is important. That is what the Republican drug plan is going to do.

Please vote for this bill.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. MEEK), first of all, this bill tonight, I have listened very carefully. It is a relief act for the insurance industry. That is what it is.

Also, the Republican plan is not a fair plan. It is not going to help all seniors. Think about that. That is the fact. It does not cover them. There is no real guarantee at all, and many of them keep getting up and saying this is the first plan. That is all they want to do out there. This is the first plan. It does not mean anything except it is the first ever, and it is not worth dooley squat. So they run with that.

So we have got to think of three things. It will not cover all the seniors. Imagine this, seniors having to run around trying to shop around and find a plan. That is a big hassle for older Americans. They cannot contend with all these various insurance plans that are out there. We have got to look at how the model is going to work. Those of us who have been around, we know it did not work in 1965; and this is just another part of it. It is not going to work now.

We should be sure tonight to vote against this relief act for the insurance agencies.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I am pleased to let my dear friend, the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. MEEK), know that the poor seniors in her State, over 1 million of them, will get free insurance drug coverage under this bill. That is 42 percent of her seniors and the State will get $3.1 billion of Medicaid assistance.

Mrs. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. TAUZIN. I yield to the gentlewoman from Florida for 15 seconds only.

Mrs. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I did not say poor seniors. I said all seniors.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I am saying all seniors are going to get helped, but the poorest will get totally free insurance coverage.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. FLETCHER), a new member of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Mr. FLETCHER. Mr. Speaker, again, prescription drugs for our seniors is probably the most pressing health care issue that we face, and I want to thank the chairman of the Committee on Energy and Commerce for his leadership in bringing this to the floor, a plan that is reasonable, doable, unlike a plan that was brought up in our committee and will be brought up in the recommit motion. That is a plan that scores out at $973 billion with absolutely no way to pay for it.

That means you are either going to have to increase taxes on our children, grandchildren or you are going to have to take cuts from education, national security, homeland security, or Social Security. Those are the only choices you have.

Let me talk just briefly. Two years ago there was a $303 billion prescription drug bill. Who supported that? Virtually every single Democrat supported that. What happened this year? I think they have had an election year epiphany. All of a sudden, it is an election year; and we need three times as much money for it to be a reasonable plan. Is it reasonable, responsible and doable, unlike a plan that is reasonable, doable, it will be a plan that will provide benefits for every senior?

Let me talk about Kentucky. There are 615,000 Medicare beneficiaries that will receive help with this. Fifty percent of those in Kentucky are at 175 percent of the poverty level or below, which means they will be subsidized. It means $650 million for Kentucky. We are going to have a plan for Kentucky, and those dual eligible for Medicare and Medicaid will get help. We are having trouble meeting our budgetary needs, so this bill is the right kind of a bill. It is a responsible bill, a reasonable bill, it is a doable bill, and they thought it was 2 years ago, but now in an election year, no, it is not enough.

I think we need to lay aside election-year politics, pass this thing on a bipartisan basis, and let us do what our seniors need, provide them a prescription drug bill and help for our States.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I notice that my friends on the other side of the aisle talk about giving free drug coverage to poor seniors except for the $2,700 out of pocket they would have to pay under the Republican private insurance plan.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Missouri (Ms. McCARTHY).

Ms. McCARTHY of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. FLETCHER), a new member of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Mr. FLETCHER. Mr. Speaker, again, prescription drugs for our seniors is probably the most pressing health care issue that we face, and I want to thank the chairman of the Committee on Energy and Commerce for his leadership in bringing this to the floor, a plan that is reasonable, doable, unlike a plan that was brought up in our committee and will be brought up in the recommit motion. That is a plan that scores out at $973 billion with absolutely no way to pay for it.

That means you are either going to have to increase taxes on our children, grandchildren or you are going to have to take cuts from education, national security, homeland security, or Social Security. Those are the only choices you have.

Let me talk just briefly. Two years ago there was a $303 billion prescription drug bill. Who supported that? Virtually every single Democrat supported that. What happened this year? I think they have had an election year epiphany. All of a sudden, it is an election year; and we need three times as much money for it to be a reasonable plan. Is it reasonable, responsible and doable, unlike a plan that is reasonable, doable, it will be a plan that will provide benefits for every senior?

in the Medicare Prescription Drug Plan. In addition, physicians would have received a true solution to the Medicare payment problems that threaten the program today.

The Rules Committee had an opportunity to produce a bill that provides sufficient drug coverage for our seniors. Without that, we would have a Democratic substitute. Instead, the House will vote on a plan set by industry, the “Insurance Company Protection Act,” that provides no entitlement under Medicare, an inadequate and ill-defined benefit, and no equality for seniors in different parts of the country. Seniors cannot even be assured that the drugs they are prescribed will be covered, or that they will be able to continue their trusted relationship with their pharmacist. With these provisions, it is not difficult to understand why every senior group opposes the bill before us. I urge my colleagues to vote against the Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to my friend, the gentleman from Washington State (Mr. INSLEE).

Mr. INSLEE. Mr. Speaker, why should the senior citizens of America have to settle with a big gamble about whether they are going to get prescription drugs? When they go to the pharmacy, they want to know whether they have a gamble that maybe, maybe an insurance company will show up when no insurance companies exist on the face of this planet today to provide this service?

When one thinks about this, the Republican plan does not provide drugs. It provides a pair of dice to roll, and that is not good enough for senior citizens. Now, do you provide them a chance maybe, maybe of getting prescription drugs, but this generation has taken enough chances. It took chances on Omaha Beach, it took chances on Iwo Jima, and it should not have to take enough chances. It took chances maybe, maybe an insurance company will show up when no insurance companies exist on the face of this planet today to provide this service?

Mr. Speaker, we ought to reject this plan. It is not good enough for senior citizens. It is not good enough for Medicare. If you give them an honest answer, you are going to say, I do not know. That is going to depend on what the insurance company that is going to carry this plan is going to charge you.

Then they may look at you and say, well, can I get this plan at my local pharmacy? You know the answer to that one. The answer is no. You are going to have to get it through mail order.

And if you look at them again and they say, this does not sound like too good a program, how do I know that this program is going to be there? The answer is 128 percent more than those Medicare HMOs have not been there for our seniors.

So I think what we have got to do tonight is be honest with our seniors and tell them we are passing a sham to help those seniors that we are trying to help. Then they may look at you and say, how much is the premium going to be for this plan? And if you give them an honest answer, you are going to say, I do not know. That is going to depend on what the insurance company that is going to carry this plan is going to charge you.

And if you look at them and say, well, can I get this plan at my local pharmacy? You know the answer to that one. The answer is no. You are going to have to get it through mail order.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 1⁄2 minutes to the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Mrs. LOWEY).

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong opposition to this bill. The skyrocketing cost of prescription drugs is a bitter pill to swallow, and the Republican leadership’s refusal to let us consider the Democratic proposal is simply bad medicine for America’s seniors.

My colleagues, last year, I conducted a study which showed that seniors in Westchester County are paying from 57 percent to 83 percent more than their counterparts in six foreign countries for the five drugs most commonly used by seniors in the United States. It also revealed that three medications frequently prescribed to seniors increased in price by at least twice the rate of inflation.

These statistics reveal to us over and over again the depth of the problem, which is growing worse by the day. We clearly owe our seniors more than a hope and a prayer when it comes to ensuring their health and well-being.

The bill under consideration would, unfortunately, not guarantee benefits for seniors. Instead, it would pay subsidies to insurance companies in the hopes that they will establish drug-only insurance plans for Medicare beneficiaries. Under the Democratic plan, which we were not able to really debate, Medicare would provide voluntary prescription drug coverage for all Medicare beneficiaries.

It is simply unconscionable that the Republicans are denying us a vote on the Democratic bill because perhaps they feel their Members will join us in voting for real prescription drug benefit.

I also note that congressional action on provider payment increase and protections for Medicare-Plus Choice is long overdue.

Let us vote for a real plan. Let us have a real debate. Let us vote down this bill.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL), who will explain why the Democratic plan is written for America’s seniors and the Republican plan is written by and for America’s drug companies.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. THORNBERY). The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) is recognized for 2 1⁄2 minutes.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I am Mr. JOHN DINGELL. My dad was the original author of Medicare. He wrote it for and under Harry Truman’s guidance and tutelage. It was a great piece of legislation. It took us 10 years to get it enacted into law. I sat in the Chair when we passed it. The Republicans, after years of promising it, finally came to town and supported it because they saw the handwriting on the wall.

I know Medicare, and this fraudulent proposal that is before the House is not Medicare. What it is is a subsidy for the insurance companies. We give a pile of money to the insurance companies that they can spend any way they want.

The counsel of the committee was inquired of by me for about 2 hours. He could not tell us of any constraints on the insurance companies or any rights of the insured that would be protected under this Republican legislation.

That is why this is bad legislation. The insurance companies can take this money and spend it any doggone way they want, dividends, or they can give it in corporate executive salaries and bonuses, That is why it is a bad bill.

The Democratic bill is a very simple bill. What it does is it says, you pay $25 a month, you get 80 percent of your prescription pharmaceuticals paid for by the government, and you pay 20 percent of the rest yourself. Very simple, very understandable, very plain. No great big donut hole, no disqualifications for having your expenditures counted, and you get your benefits all year round. Not like this sorry mess that my Republican colleagues would foist upon our senior citizens.

This is a bad proposal. This is a bad process. This is a situation where we do not get an honest chance to either offer an amendment or see to it it is properly debated.

But I would note one thing. Every honest senior citizen organization in the United States says this Republican bill is a bad bill, and AARP says it needs significant improvement before they will support this bill.

We want to give the American senior citizens Social Security in good form, Medicare in proper form, and a Medicare benefit which will take care of their needs for prescription pharmaceutical companies.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I yield the balance of my time to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Mrs. LOWEY), who will explain why the Democratic plan is written for America’s seniors and the Republican plan is written by and for America’s drug companies.
their rent or whether they are going to eat or whether they are going to get their prescription pharmaceuticals. That is wrong.

Our bill corrects that. The Republican bill does not. Vote against their bill. Vote against this motion to recommit and my colleagues will serve their constituents well, especially their seniors.

Mr. Speaker, I include for the RECORD a letter written to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN) from AARP, which was referred to earlier.

AARP.
Hon. W.J. TAUZIN.
Chairman, Committee on Energy and Commerce.
U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMAN TAUZIN: Thank you for your initiative to move legislation through the House this year that will address the important need for prescription drug coverage in Medicare. As you know, AARP’s top priority is affordable prescription drug coverage for all Medicare beneficiaries.

Our members, and virtually all older Americans, need this coverage now. They cannot afford to wait forever for protection against the increasing costs of prescription drugs.

We are pleased that your bill makes the voluntary prescription drug benefit permanent and maintains the entitlement nature of the Medicare program.

The bill contains other favorable components as well. For the approximately 50 percent of beneficiaries who are estimated to have annual prescription drug costs of $2,000 or less, the initial level of drug coverage in the bill should be attractive. Likewise, the financial assistance for low-income beneficiaries with drug costs under $2,000 is vitally important.

We also appreciate your efforts to contain drug costs because a Medicare drug benefit alone, without effective cost controls will be difficult to sustain as our growing population of older Americans increases its drug utilization. While we want to ensure that cost containment mechanisms result in meaningful savings, it is critical that these mechanisms do not impede access to needed medications.

More needs to be done to ensure that a final bill provides a benefit of value to our members and a program in which Medicare beneficiaries will enroll. As the process moves forward, the issues of funding adequacy, structure, benefit viability, and other Medicare changes like the home health copay, need to be addressed.

A voluntary drug benefit will attract broad enough participation to avoid the dangers of risk selection. Our research show that beneficiaries assess the value of the benefit by the premium, coverage, and deductible to determine if it is a good buy. The existence of a large coverage gap is a strong disincentive to enrollment. More funds are needed to close this gap and protect the viability of the program.

Unfortunately, a substantial amount of the already limited funds allocated for a prescription drug benefit have been diverted to other priorities. There believe that investment on an affordable Medicare prescription drug benefit should be reached before Congrress considers additional provider reimbursement increases.

Our research also indicates that older Americans are looking for stability and dependable care. Therefore, it is important to ensure that private sector entities will be willing to offer coverage. In addition, AARP would like to see this year of an affordable Medicare drug benefit that is available to all beneficiaries. This bill requires improvements before our members will provide their support. We want to work with you to assure adequate funding and resolve other issues as the process moves forward and before any legislation is enacted into law.

Sincerely,

WILLIAM D. NOVELLI,
Executive Director and CEO.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, this debate tonight should not be about politics. American seniors have heard all the politics they can stomach. And the AARP said it best in their letter. They said, “Our members, virtually all older Americans, need this coverage now.” What coverage were they talking about? They were talking about the coverage in this bill.

Here is a quote from the AARP, and I am sorry my colleagues are in such disagreement with the AARP, but here is their quote. “We are pleased that your bill makes the voluntary prescription drug benefit permanent and maintains the entitlement nature of the Medicare program.”

Now this is not also about who loves their mother or father the most or their grandparents the most or who is willing to step up to the plate and do what they can to make sure that American citizens in their senior years have prescription drug benefits. This is about whether or not we have a plan that works. We think it does, and the AARP agrees.

Now let me make another point. We have heard a lot about the drug companies. I want to give my colleagues a Clinton administration statistic. The Clinton administration estimated that senior citizens pay, in their own words, 20 percent more for their drugs than anybody else in America with drug coverage. This bill will give seniors drug coverage. It will reduce the cost of their drugs at the expense of the pharmaceuticals.

We had the courage in the Committee on Energy and Commerce to do something our friends on the other side would not do. We got rid of the floor that performed not negotiable below, and we forced the pharmaceuticals to spend $18 billion more, lowering the cost of drugs by eliminating that floor.

This is a great bill for Americans. This means great savings on the drug bills of moms and dads and grandparents. We ought to vote for it tonight.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, this GOP drug bill is nothing but a candy-coated placebo that fails to cure the problems faces by millions and millions of senior citizens who are struggling every single month to pay for life-saving prescription drugs.

The American people are just not going to swallow it.

If the FDA approved a drug that was this untested and unreliable, there would be an outcry across this great Nation for immediate congressional investigations.

That’s what the can’t do. This ideological plan—which depends on private insurance drug only policies—even has insurers scratching their heads.

As Bill Gradison, our former Republican colleague in this House and the former head of the Health Insurance Association of America, recently said: “I’m very skeptical that ‘drug only’ private plans would work.”

There’s no guarantee insurers will offer drug only policies.

There’s no guaranteed monthly premium. There’s no defined benefit for seniors. There’s no guaranteed access to the drugs you need.

The only guarantee in this bill is that it would provide inadequate coverage.

Everyone of us knows that the Republican party really wants to privatize Medicare.

This bill is the first step. A few years ago, the majority leader even told the Chicago Tribune that he “deeply resents the fact that when I’m 65, I must enroll in Medicare.”

In sharp contrast, Democrats want to create a plan under Medicare that’s affordable, guaranteed, universal, and protected.

The only argument that our Republican friends can muster against the Democratic plan is cost.

But these are the same folks who voted to give Enron $250 Million, who voted to give a handful of other corporations billions more, who voted to eliminate an estate tax on the wealthiest estates in the country.

Vote against this shameless drug bill.

Let’s adopt a plan that gives seniors the drugs they need and deserve.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in opposition to H.R. 4954, the Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act. It’s a sad day for seniors all across this country and especially in my congressional district in New Mexico. It is sad because the Republican leadership has decided that the Health Insurance Association of America, our best friend, is not worth defending.

Instead, they decided to take the advice of the folks in medical lobbying and industry-paid for.

The Democrat alternative that we have proposed, and that the majority refuses to allow us to debate, has been bought and paid for by the American people, many who are seniors that have sent us here to represent their interests and not the interests of America’s pharmaceutical companies.

Our bill which has been endorsed by most senior advocacy groups would charge a $25 monthly premium and a $100 deductible and require co-payments of 20 percent up to $2,000. After that average government-subsidized prescription costs.

The Democratic plan has no gaps in coverage and low-income seniors are protected under our plan. The majority says it is too expensive.
Why? Because all the money was spent last year on the $1.3 trillion Bush tax cut for the wealthy few.

The Republican proposal is a ridiculous sham that has been introduced to fool our senior citizens into believing that they will finally have prescription drug protection that Medicare that works. Republican strategists believe that their passage of any drug bill will inoculate their candidates against criticism. Even the spokesman for House Republicans' campaign committee has quoted in the Washington Post as saying, "The fact that the House passed a prescription-drug bill will take away the Democrats' ammunition, and will make Senate Democrats look worse for failing to pass it."

Ar you kidding me? This shouldn't be about politics. It should be about policy. Prescription drugs are nothing more than a political game to the majority. Frankly, this is slap in the face to every American senior and not to mention insulting.

My poor constituency in New Mexico cannot afford the outrageous prices of prescription drugs. Many of them have to go without paying their bills in order to afford prescription drugs. Many of them have to forgo buying groceries, clothes, and other basic necessities to afford prescription drugs. We owe it to America's seniors to do the right thing and propose a plan that offers a real prescription drug benefit. We owe it to America's seniors to do a debate a plan that offers real prescription drug benefit. We owe it to America's seniors to debate our bill.

Our seniors deserve a prescription drug plan that works with a defined benefit plan, guaranteed premium and access, and protection for low-income seniors. The democratic alternative is the real prescription drug plan and not hoax on low-income seniors.

I urge my colleagues to vote "no" on H.R. 4954. Send this back and give us a fair vote on a real prescription drug plan.

Mr. OWENS. Mr. Speaker, H.R. 4954, the Republican Industry Protection Act, is a cruel and unusual joke perpetrated against the senior citizens of America. The Republicans are preoccupied with the goal of the prescription drug manufacturers which is to maintain the highest prices and profits in America. Without operating at a loss in foreign markets, these drug companies sell their products at much lower prices. They sell at lower prices because foreign government negotiators refuse to pay exorbitant prices. In result are added to injuries when Americans are forced to pay the highest prices for drugs which is to America's seniors to debate our bill.

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to urge my colleagues to support a fair and equal prescription drug plan.

Mr. Speaker, as you know, Adam Smith's economic theory of competition over monopoly has worked for our country's economy for nearly 200 years. While competition works for material items, it does not work for social services and human needs such as health care and prescription drugs. If we allow private companies to set their own premiums and co-payments, we will have no guarantee that prescription drug plan providers will not cut costs, nor will we provide seniors with low premiums and co-pays.

As we have seen from health insurance providers, the most affordable insurance plans offer the least amount of coverage, while the most comprehensive plans are the most expensive. This leaves a senior, on a tight monthly budget, with the option of enrolling in a low-cost plan, or no plan at all. Therefore, by voting for this legislation, and allowing the pharmaceutical companies to set their own premiums and deductibles, we are not guaranteeing anything to our seniors, and will be leaving the sickest ones, on the tightest budgets behind.

The second simple step is to follow the program of implementation as stated in the Democratic Plan. No new HMO and insurance bureaucracy is necessary. Let the Prescription Drug Benefit Plan be an extension of the Medicare program. Instead of offering a cruel and unusual joke, Congress should unite behind a plan that reflects the very desperate needs of many of our senior citizens.

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker and colleagues, I rise today to protest the half-baked drug plan that the Republican Party has downed Congress' throat. I find it a particular affront to our system of democracy that the Republicans blocked consideration of a plan that would easily cover all seniors.

I join hundreds of my colleagues in opposing a GOP scheme that would force America's seniors and future seniors to rely on private insurance companies or HMOs for prescription drug coverage. GOP supporters of the scheme received hundreds of thousands of dollars in campaign contributions from pharmaceutical companies or HMOs. America's seniors deserve affordable prescription drug coverage. They should not have to make the preposterous choice between prescription drugs and paying their rent.

The Democratic bill—on which GOP leaders refused to allow a vote—would have guaranteed voluntary prescription coverage for all Medicare beneficiaries. Medicare is available to the vast majority of people over 65. It would have a $25 monthly premium and a deductible of $100 per year. After that, beneficiaries would be responsible for just 20 percent of drug costs, with Medicare covering the remaining 80 percent. All costs would be covered after a beneficiary spent $2,000 out-of-pocket.

The Republican bill guarantees no specific benefit and subsidizes insurance companies in the hope they will create private insurance plans. Many HMOs and private insurance would not want to offer coverage under the plan. Those that did would be able devise the coverage and set the premium.

We should not be playing a shell game with something as important as our seniors' health and well-being. The Republican bill leaves our seniors out in the cold.

Mr. Speaker, let me close by saying that the issue of adding prescription drug coverage for Medicare recipients is long over due. But H.R. 4954 is not the answer.

Mr. RAMSTAD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 4954, the Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act of 2002.

This is truly a monumental day for millions of seniors in America. Congress is finally addressing our greatest generation's need for a prescription drug benefit under Medicare.

Prescription drug coverage is one of the most critical issues facing our Nation. This issue has moral, medical, and economic implications for every single American.

Under this bill, seniors won't have to become insolvent just to pay for the prescription drugs they need. We are rescuing seniors from the terrible dilemma of paying for food or life-saving medicines.

The problem is that when the majority of people need prescription drugs most, in the later years of life, the largest insurer of the elderly does not provide prescription drug coverage. As a result, many seniors go without the drugs they need, dilute their prescriptions or forego other basic necessities to purchase non-prescription drugs. This is wrong, Mr. Speaker.

H.R. 4954 not only provides affordable prescription drug coverage, but also strengthens the Medicare system to ensure that doctors are available to treat Medicare patients and that hospitals can keep their doors open to Medicare beneficiaries.

Mr. Speaker, our seniors need and deserve a Medicare system that reflects the advances in medicine that have occurred in the past 37 years since Medicare began in 1965. They deserve prescription drug coverage under Medicare.

The Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act provides a prescription drug benefit to all seniors and reforms irrational payments to doctors, hospitals, and nursing homes. The bill also strengthens the long-term financial condition of the Medicare program.

All Medicare beneficiaries are eligible for this prescription drug coverage, and seniors will save nearly 30 percent, according to the Congressional Budget Office.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to pass this critical legislation because the seniors of America deserve a prescription drug benefit and a Medicare system.

Ms. HARMAN. Mr. Speaker, tonight we are engaged in a partisan debate on what should be a bipartisan issue.

Reforming Medicare to ensure access to prescription drugs is one of the most important things we can do this year. Seniors have been promised this benefit by both parties during the past two Congresses.

Rather than engage in constructive debate, the Republican leadership has introduced a bill that does not get the job done under a rule for debate that prevents consideration of any alternative of any alternatives.

I intend to vote against the Republican bill because it fails to provide genuine, reliable drug coverage for seniors.

The Republican bill is confusing and unworkable. It requires seniors pay different amount in co-payments depending on how much they spend on prescription drugs overall. In fact, its benefits are likely so meager that only the sickest seniors would want to enroll—a recipe for bankruptcy of the system.

The Republican bill does not ensure discounts on all the drugs seniors need. Not only does it offer no guarantee that private plans will cover all the prescriptions seniors need, but because of high cost-sharing and premiums, seniors will spend 20 percent of the average senior’s drug costs in a year.

The Republican bill has a large gap in coverage. It offers seniors no assistance on drug costs between $2,000 and $3,700. That means that nearly half of all seniors will receive no coverage for their prescriptions for part of the year, even though they continue to pay premiums.

A Medicare prescription drug benefit must be affordable for both senior citizens and the federal government. A plan with high premiums and deductibles—or large gaps in coverage—won’t help the seniors who need it most.

I believe that a Medicare drug benefit should achieve the following goals, and I am eager to work with my colleagues to achieve them:

1. Help those who need it most first. We need to provide genuine and immediate assistance to low-income seniors and seniors who do not currently have drug coverage.

2. Provide relief from the high and escalating cost of prescription drugs. Prescription drugs cost more in the United States than in any other nation in the world. Medicare should have the ability to negotiate lower prices for senior citizens as part of a drug benefit.

3. Disease management techniques and innovation in the delivery of care. Medicare needs to catch up with the private sector in focusing on preventive care and the treatment of chronic conditions. Improving Medicare’s coverage on these fronts will improve seniors’ lives—and reduce their health care costs as well.

I hope we will be able to work in a bipartisan manner in the coming months to keep our promises to seniors and enact a fiscally responsible, meaningful law to include prescription drugs under Medicare.

Mr. WATTS of Oklahoma. Mr. Speaker, this House stepped up to the plate in March and set aside three hundred and fifty billion dollars in our budget for prescription drug coverage. What was in the Democrat budget proposal all for senior citizens? Well, nothing. They didn’t bother to offer a budget.

But the absence of action did not prevent the other party from criticism and condemnation. It's always easy to yell and scream when you have nothing to offer.

The plan before the House today is one that will lower the cost of prescription drugs and help seniors get the life-saving medicine they need. It is practical, realistic, and supported by the President.

The Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act of 2002 is the right remedy for a national problem. In fact, the Department of Health and Human Services recently released a report that stated:

The Republican bill would provide $200 billion in real revenue for the private sector.

The Democrat plan is a prescription for higher drug costs, enriching drug companies and fiscal disaster. It is an election year gimmick that will cost over eight hundred billion dollars over ten years and lead to higher drug prices and higher premiums.

The Republican plan lowers drug costs, guarantees coverage and gives seniors choices. Seniors would be able to pick the plan of their choice—because one size does not fit all. Competition will drive down costs.

Mr. Speaker, no senior should have to decide between buying food and buying medicine. I urge my colleagues to support this legislation to give seniors the life-saving drugs they need and the peace of mind they deserve.

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Mr. Speaker, the pattern denying opportunity for full debate and reasonable alternatives continues as we deal with prescription drug benefits for our Nation’s seniors. The House will not be permitted to vote on the Democratic prescription alternative. Instead, we will only be allowed to consider the Republican bill, which does not provide a guaranteed drug benefit, instead offering only an HMO-style managed-drugs plan for some. Medicare was created in 1965 because most elderly people could not afford to buy expensive drugs on the private market. Most still cannot, and we as a Congress should not in fairness impose this flawed plan on seniors.

Especially important to Oregon seniors are the regional inequities that already exist in Medicare. And that the Republican bill would allow to grow. Medicare already punishes Oregon for its size and efficiency with a Medicare reimbursement rate that is 66 percent of the national average rate per enrollee. As a result, Oregon seniors lose more than 34 of a dollar every year. That represents approximately $3,700 when catastrophic coverage finally begins. A beneficiary will receive zero benefits between $2,000 and $3,800 in spending, even though she will continue to pay the $35 monthly premium.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, the Republican prescription drug bill is a sham, and the unfair rule that brings it to the floor exposes this partisan and shameful process for what it is—a political masquerade designed to convince Americans that we have answered the plea to add a prescription drug benefit to Medicare. Make no mistake, we fall far short of that goal today. I am appalled that the Republican leadership and the American people the decency of comparing the bill before us to a substitute that would provide a real drug benefit for Medicare beneficiaries. This limited debate available to us speaks volumes about the quality of the proposal before us today and its lack of a meaningful prescription drug benefit for the seniors.

The Republican sham prescription drug plan would not provide a guaranteed adequate prescription drug benefit for seniors. The coverage outlined in the bill isn’t the kind of coverage most Americans think of when the need for prescription drug coverage for seniors. Coverage if 80/20 only through the first $1,000, when coverage drops to 50/50. And then there is a huge gap in coverage between $2,000, when the initial benefits run out, and $3,700, when catastrophic coverage finally begins. A beneficiary will receive zero benefits between $2,000 and $3,800 in spending, even though she would continue to pay the $35 monthly premium.

Perhaps even worse, the bill takes the first steps toward privatizing Medicare by contracting this new drug benefit out to private insurance plans. In so doing, premiums, deductibles, and copayments will vary across the country—so a senior who lives in Florida will likely pay a different premium than one of my constituents in Ohio. In addition, coverage under the bill we are considering today will be unstable because plans will be able to pull out from an area when they decide it doesn’t fit their business plan. Where, then do our seniors turn for a prescription drug coverage? The experience of Medicare+Choice illustrates this concern: Medicare+Choice HMOs in my district, but every single one left. Thankfully, those seniors who did switch to an M+C plan had traditional Medicare to fall back on. This won't be the case for prescription drugs if we pass the Republican drug plan. Instead, seniors will be left without any drug plan at all if and when the private insurers leave the area. The Democrats' prescription drug plan would provide quality, guaranteed help for seniors. In addition, the Democrats' proposal would create a prescription drug benefit that is part of Medicare, thus avoiding instability or variation in premiums that occur depending on where the beneficiary happens to live. In addition, the Democrats' plan provides much more help for seniors: there is no gap in coverage, catastrophic coverage would begin at $2,000 rather than 3,800, and the monthly premium would be $25. The unfair rule under which we debate this incredibly important issue means that Americans won't get to hear this comparison in detail or see how it fares in a vote. This is exactly what the Republicans want because they know their proposal can't compete with the Democrats' concrete plan, which has been endorsed by a litany of groups, including the Alliance for Retired Persons, the AARP, the AFL-CIO, AFSCME, American Federation of Teachers, the Center for Medicare Advocacy, Families USA, the National Committee to Preserve Social Security, and Medicare, the National Council on the Aging, the National Partnership for Women and Families, and the National Law Center on Homelessness.

Some of my colleagues will contend that the difference between our plan and theirs is the cost. They will say that the Democrats' are fiscally irresponsible and that our plan breaks the bank. On this point, I stand firm. It is a fact that this Congress has chosen to give huge tax breaks to the wealthy. The President told us we could do both: he said we could enact nearly $2 trillion in tax cuts as well as a prescription drug benefit for America's seniors. But Congress chose to pass tax cuts for the wealthy, and we have chosen not to enact a real prescription drug benefit for seniors. If the choice is between enacting a real prescription drug benefit and giving tax breaks to the wealthy and corporations, then I am proud to choose to stand on the side of America's seniors.

The rule also means that I won't be able to vote for a bill including many commendable provisions that have clear bipartisan support. This year, doctors were hit with a 5.4 percent cut in their Medicare reimbursement, hospitals are struggling with decreases in Medicaid disproportionate share hospital (DSH) funding and shortages in other payments, home health agencies are facing a 15 percent cut in reimbursement, and most Medicare providers are struggling with an increasingly difficult regulatory burden.

Doctors and hospitals in my district provide invaluable care to Medicare and Medicaid recipients, and I hope they know that I support fixing all of these problems. I hope they do not interpret my no vote on this bill as a vote against the compromises that have been reached to address these problems. I recognize that our failure to fix these could seriously threaten the quality of care seniors and the disabled receive, and I cannot override my determination to continue working with my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to enact these reforms. We have had some successes in this area, already done this. For example, last year, the House passed a Medicare regulatory reform package that is now also included in this bill. And even though I support a permanent fix to the formula used to calculate the physician update in Medicare, I have worked with my colleagues to reach a temporary compromise that is included in this bill. I support these and other provisions that will go a long way to ensuring providers have the resources they need to provide quality care for seniors. Therefore, it is with regret that I cannot support the bill that includes many of these solutions, and I will continue to work for their enactment this year.

I would also like to caution Americans to understand that the rule bringing this bill to the floor today undermines their ability to hear a full and open debate about developing a prescription drug plan for our seniors. It is shameful that politics is getting in the way of a healthy debate on the addition of a prescription drug benefit to Medicare. And it is also shameful that politics is interfering in the needed changes in Medicare reimbursements that will ensure beneficiaries continue to receive quality care. This is no way to develop thoughtful, reasonable, balanced legislation that will best serve the nation. It will only get better. Mr. WICKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this comprehensive package which will provide needed improvements to the Medicare system. Much of the debate on this legislation has centered on the need to add a prescription drug benefit in Medicare. I agree with this goal, and I support the responsible proposal put forth by the Ways and Means and Commerce Committees. The practice of medicine has significantly changed since the Medicare program was created in the 1960s, and the role of prescription drugs in making health care more affordable has dramatically increased. It is time we reform the Medicare program to reflect changing times.

However, I want to focus on other, very important parts of this legislation related to reimbursements for providers, especially those in rural America. This legislation provides a life-line for rural America.

In my conversations with doctors, hospital administrators, and community leaders throughout Mississippi, a common concern is the decreasing ability to provide access to quality care in smaller communities. The jobs of rural health care professionals are made harder by inequities in Medicare reimbursement rates between rural and urban areas. This bill goes a long way in correcting this problem by increasing the standardized amount for hospital reimbursement in small cities and rural areas to the level of urban areas in a two step process over the next 2 fiscal years. This is in addition to an increase in the market basket adjustment that all hospitals—urban, suburban, and rural—will receive.

The level of standardized amount is especially important because this is the base with which Medicare starts when establishing reimbursement rates for specific services. Equalizing the standardized amount reduces the difference in payments caused by other parts of the Medicare reimbursement formula. But by putting urban and rural hospitals on the same footing at the beginning of the reimbursement formula, rural hospitals will benefit for years to come as changes are made to any part of the reimbursement system. This major improvement for rural hospitals will be fully implemented in just 2 years.

Other aspects of this bill provide additional benefits for home health agencies and critical access hospitals in rural America. The threat of a 15 percent reduction for home health services has been eased in recent years as Congress has continually delayed the planned reduction. This bill will eliminate the threat by permanently repealing the 15 percent cut, allowing home health agencies to adequately provide their critical services.

Finally, critical access hospitals are increasingly an attractive option for rural communities that would otherwise be without health care service. By improving the rules and regulations for critical access hospitals, this legislation provides more flexibility and incentives and in attracting physicians to medically underserved areas.

I am also pleased this legislation includes a three site hospice pilot project which is based upon H.R. 3270, a bill which I introduced in an effort to improve options for hospice care in rural areas. I believe the current 80 percent out-patient requirement makes it economically difficult to provide inpatient hospice care in rural areas because of smaller patient populations. It is my hope that this pilot project will validate the worth of our proposal and lead to expansion of this specialized care to rural areas across the Nation.

Mr. Speaker, this is a good bill which will improve access to quality health care, be it for prescription drugs, or care in a hospital, home health agency, or hospice. I urge support for this legislation.

Mr. SIMMONS. Mr. Speaker, in my 18 months in Congress, through the many town hall meetings, letters, e-mails and phone calls, I consistently hear the same concern from people of eastern Connecticut—the rising cost of prescription drugs.

We all heard about seniors who have cut their medication in half because they can't afford to take their entire prescription or a senior who has to choose between buying food and buying their medication. We see seniors who are confronted with this choice at supermarkets everyday. We need to lower the cost of prescription drugs for our seniors now.

This concern is not perceived, but very real. The non-partisan Congressional Budget Office estimated that in 1999, nearly 90 percent of Medicare beneficiaries filled at least one prescription. In 2001, the average Medicare beneficiary pays $1,756 on prescription drugs annually, filling approximately 22 prescriptions in that year.

Next month, Medicare will turn 37 years old. The delivery of health care today is very different from the system of our parents and grandparents and very different from the way we cared for our seniors back in 1965.

I believe Medicare needs to be improved to better reflect these changes and strengthened for the future. If Medicare were being designed today, it would include a prescription drug benefit. Because of the remarkable advances made in prescription drugs, seniors are living longer, with a better quality of life. Unfortunately, the promise of prescription drugs is very hollow for those who cannot afford them.

Twenty-six states—including Connecticut—have already enacted some form of prescription drug assistance program and they are to be prescription drug assistance program and they are to be commended. I have long felt that the Federal Government should partner with states to help provide prescription drug relief to seniors, particularly to low-income seniors who have the greatest need.

Earlier this year, in an effort to provide immediate relief for Connecticut's seniors who were feeling the financial pinch over paying for their medicine, I introduced “Immediate Helping Hand” legislation, which provides more than $48 billion to states to give those who can’t afford prescription drugs a “helping hand.”

My bill would provide Connecticut’s ConCap program with more than $91 million per year and expand prescription drug coverage to thousands of seniors. My plan was a solid first step—a bridge to provide seniors with immediate assistance until Congress passed a more comprehensive prescription drug benefit under Medicare.

But as of tonight, only 51 or so legislative days remain until Congress adjourns. I’ve come to realize with the short window of time left, its time to roll up our sleeves and work together on this issue. If Congress really wants to give seniors a prescription drug benefit, then we would need to do it now.

The Ways and Means and the Energy and Commerce Committees have introduced a plan to provide a prescription drug benefit under Medicare that is voluntary and affordable for all prescription drug coverage for all seniors. Our plan gives seniors immediate relief from the rising costs of prescription medications by providing a 30 percent discount off the top of their overall drug bill. While seniors would pay a $35 monthly premium, this plan would save $1,000 of out-of-pocket drug expenses and 50 percent coverage for the next $1,000. Finally, our plan provides 100 percent catastrophic coverage for out-of-pocket drug expenses over $4,500 a year, ensuring that no senior will be forced into bankruptcy because of their prescription medication bill during a long-term, serious illness.

Our plan will lower the cost of prescription drugs now by providing a discount so that seniors can better afford their medications. Our plan will guarantee all senior citizens prescription drug coverage and provide additional assistance to low-income seniors. Our plan will improve Medicare with more choices and more savings and will strengthen Medicare for the future. Our plan is a reasonable solution that provides seniors with upfront savings on the high costs of drugs now as well as guarantee them a drug benefit under Medicare that doesn’t sunset and can’t be taken away.

Our seniors have worked hard to save for their “Golden Years.” Yet the cost of prescription drugs is depleting their savings and jeopardizing their retirement security. Under our plan, seniors will be protected from run-away drug costs.

Our plan is also of particular importance to women in Connecticut who have a higher life expectancy than men; yet often have lower incomes in their retirement and face additional costs after their husbands pass on.

Speaker HASTERT asked me to participate in a special Prescription Drug Action Team and I thank him for this opportunity. In this role, I have tried to advance the cause of providing a prescription drug benefit under Medicare by meeting with the President and members of his cabinet; hold outreach meetings with groups such as senior citizen advocates and representatives of pharmacies and drug companies; attend listening sessions at local senior centers, such as Rose City Senior Center in Norwich and the Colchester Seniors Center, and pharmacies; and participate in bipartisan discussions with other Members of Congress to find lawmakers with the same goals who will work with me to produce a plan that will help provide real relief to seniors in Connecticut as well as the rest of the country.

Our seniors should not be forced to scrimp on food and other basic needs just to be able to afford their medicine. Older Americans deserve more savings and more choice when they fill their prescriptions, and I hope Democrats and Republicans will join together now to see that they receive meaningful prescription drug coverage.

To delay is to deny. Let’s get a prescription drug benefit signed into law now.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to speak out against H.R. 4954, what should have been called the Republican Insurance Protection Act.

When medical students become doctors, they take an oath written by Hippocrates, a great Greek philosopher and naturalist, in the year 400 BC. The underlying spirit of the Hippocratic Oath, is that when someone needs your help, when they trust you to do the right thing to improve their health, the number one priority is to do no harm.

As we design a system to get the much-needed medications to our Nation’s seniors and disabled citizens on Medicare, we must keep the spirit of the Hippocratic oath in mind. This evening, we have compromised them that we would help them get the health care they need, and they trust us to keep that promise.

The Republican plan to privatize and compromise Medicare would be a step in the wrong direction. It is a gift to insurance companies and the pharmaceuticals industry, but does nothing for most of our seniors. If it passes, Hippocrates will probably be turning over in his grave.

Let’s consider one senior, she could be your mother or grandmother. She could be on a fixed income, and her doctor has decided she needs $500 per month in prescription medications to live comfortably. Not only is she carrying a huge financial burden, but she is sick, and can’t visit to our constituents at home, we all know the frustration and even depression that can accompany long-term illness.

She is a member of the greatest generation, as they have been called, that generation that made this country what it is today. Our plan fulfills our responsibility to provide for seniors and individuals with disabilities to go through life with dignity. Today, the Senate passed a bill that would provide real coverage for our seniors through Medicare. The Democratic plan helps all seniors. By harnessing the bargaining power of those 40 million seniors, the Democratic plan will drive down the cost of prescription drugs. Also, new medications, especially preventive medications can save us money in the long run. By keeping people out of hospitals and emergency rooms and off of the surgeon’s table, a good prescription drug bill could actually start saving us money.

But most importantly, it is what our seniors deserve. I urge my colleagues to wait for a better alternative, and vote “no” today on H.R. 4539, the Insurance Protection Plan.

Mr. SERRANO. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the bill before us and in strong support of the Democratic alternative, of which I am an original cosponsor.

The Republicans know that the American people demand prescription drug coverage for seniors. But instead of passing a bill to help our seniors, they’ve chosen to give $350 billion to insurance companies, trusting them to do what’s right for seniors. This bill is a cruel joke. Republicans broke their word—they promised to help seniors and the disabled with a real Medicare prescription drug benefit, and instead passed a pathetic gimmick that will leave seniors holding the bag. This bill isn’t a Medicare benefit plan for seniors. It’s a Republican benefit plan for corporations.

I am an original cosponsor of a alternative bill that would provide real coverage for our seniors through Medicare. The Democratic plan fulfills our responsibility to provide for those who made this country what it is today. No senior should be forced into poverty to pay for life-saving drugs—and no senior living in poverty should be denied necessary medications.

Our plan would not only provide a meaningful prescription drug benefit, it would allow seniors and individuals with disabilities to go through life with dignity. The Republican bill would take choices away, offering coverage through private plans that may not allow seniors to choose their pharmacy, or...

iors would be between purchasing food and purchasing drugs.

The Democratic plan is so good, in fact, that Republicans would not even let it come to a vote. They did not want to admit that their triliondollar drug plan, the supposed one that does not leave enough money for a real benefit for seniors. But the American people are not so easily fooled. They know that Republicans put the interests of the rich ahead of the interests of sick seniors.

Our plan would help all Americans. It would bring down the skyrocketing price of prescription drugs, so that giant pharmaceutical companies can’t inflate their profits at public expense. Medicare contractors would obtain guaran-ted reductions in price, and the Secretary of Health and Human Services would be able to fight back against price gouging, using the collective bargaining power of Medicare’s 40-million beneficiaries. It would stop patent abuses, bringing down drug prices for all Americans. The Secretary would be able to reduce the use of generic drugs, set lower co-insurance for preferred drugs, enhance disease management, and strengthen beneficiary and provider education. The Public plan would do nothing to reduce the drug prices of prescription drugs. Tax dollars would be used to pay the same inflated prices that seniors pay today.

I urge my colleagues to make good on their promises, to defeat H.R. 4954, and to pass meaningful prescription drug coverage in Medicare for seniors and the disabled.

Mr. HINOJOSA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in opposition to the Republican prescription drug bill. For years, our seniors have been begging for help to obtain affordable prescription drugs. The bill before us today gives relief to the large drug companies, not our vulnerable seniors.

It forces Medicare patients into multiple private drug plans, undercuts seniors’ collective purchasing power, and enables the drug industry to maintain its unjustifiably high prices.

By contrast, the Democratic plan would provide voluntary prescription drug coverage for all Medicare beneficiaries. The plan curbs drug costs by allowing the Secretary to use the collective bargaining power of Medicare’s 40 million beneficiaries to negotiate lower drug prices.

But we will not have the opportunity to vote on this sensible plan that is supported by the majority of Americans because the Republican leadership is afraid it would pass.

I urge my colleagues to oppose the sham Republican proposal and say no to the big drug companies. I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. WEXLER. Mr. Speaker, prescription drug coverage has long been a top priority for a majority of Americans, and as a result, both George Bush and Al Gore pledged during the 2000 Presidential campaign to provide seniors with a comprehensive prescription drug plan and finally put an end to the prescription drug crisis in America. The House Republican leadership avoided this issue for as long as they could, but the day of reckoning arrived, and when it was time for both sides to ante up, the Republicans offered nothing but a sham. Now here we are, preparing to vote on what the Republicans that will with their plan pro-ions pay for prescription drugs. But before we do, I want all my colleagues to know what is really on the table.

Quite simply, the Republican prescription drug plan is a disgrace; it is nothing more than a half-hearted attempt to deliver on an empty promise and provide themselves with election time. This will not bring the rising costs of prescription drugs down, it has significant gaps in coverage, and it relies completely on unreliable
HMOs and insurance companies to provide it.
The Republican plan will get us nowhere and will leave too many seniors with nothing at all.
As we look at the Republican proposal, it is clear that they are not only redefining what is being neglected, the wants of an influential few are being met.

The Democratic prescription drug bill we have offered will provide real, meaningful, affordable, prescription drug coverage under Medicare. It will allocate $800 billion to ensure that all seniors can afford coverage. There will be no gaps in coverage, and nobody will be forced to join an HMO. But regrettably, we can’t even debate this bill today. While that is a painful contrast to the reality is that is what Republicans—who have been raking in campaign contributions from the insurance industry and the pharmaceutical companies who are the only true beneficiaries of the Republican bill—

The bill that I am sponsoring will be affordable for all seniors, will cover any prescription regardless of the brand, and not just cover those in their insurance companies’ formularies. Our prescription drug plan will provide seniors substantial savings by using the government’s bargaining power to obtain the best prices for Medicare, as currently done for Medicaid and the Veterans Administration.

The Republican plan relies on the insurance industry and HMOs to provide the already scant coverage that it offers. The Repubnicans have disguised their shallow attempt to pay back the pharmaceutical companies and insurance industry for millions in campaign contributions under the guise of Medicare Modernization. The real name for this bill should be the Insurance and Pharmaceutical Industry Payback Act.

The criticism that has been offered by Republicans regarding the Democratic bill is that it is unrealistic and simply because they know that the Democratic bill interferes with their $1.3 trillion tax cut. And to add insult to injury, Republicans continue to push for additional billions in tax cuts for the wealthiest Americans, which is more than gapping in coverage for the more generous Democratic plan. It is shameful that while Repubnicans pander to the narrow interests they serve, seniors continue to wait for a real solution to the prescription drug crisis.

Mr. KNOFEL. Mr. Speaker, it is simply unacceptable that 13 million seniors do not have prescription drug coverage. Seniors need prescription drug coverage and they need it now.

The legislation before us today provides a real, timely drug benefit while helping ensure the future solvency of the Medicare program.
Although much more reform is necessary, the Medicare modernization provisions contained in the bill are a significant step forward in providing long overdue Medicare improvements. If the Medicare system is to remain viable in the future, it is essential that we bring the Medicare program in line with 21st century healthcare advances and expectations.

I support the Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act of 2002 because it creates a prescription drug benefit in Medicare that is affordable, available, and voluntary. It gives the people the power to choose the plan that best fits their needs, including protection against high out-of-pocket drug costs that threaten their health and safety.

This bill guarantees a choice of at least two drug plans in every area of the country, without endangering existing drug coverage that seniors might already have through a former employer. We avoid giving the Federal Government too heavy a hand in controlling the price of prescription drugs, ensuring that seniors will not be denied the right to select the coverage that best fits their needs.

Furthermore, the bill will bring the increased competition among health plans that is necessary to reduce drug prices. According to the Department of Health and Human Services, this plan is the only proposal before Congress that would lower drug prices and provide an immediate drug discount of up to 15 percent.

Mr. Speaker, seniors must now have the courage to choose between their current subclasses like food and housing. We have a chance to strengthen the Medicare program to guar-tee that our children and their children have access to quality health services and prescription drugs when they become eligible for Medicare. Let us take our rightful and important step and improve Medicare for the future.

Mr. COSTELLO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in opposition to H.R. 4954 and in support of the Democratic substitute. It is imperative that we provide senior citizens with quality, affordable, and reliable health care. H.R. 4954 does not accomplish these important goals.

I am committed to strengthening and improving Medicare. As the nationwide health inurance program for the elderly, Medicare has provided important protections for millions of Americans over its 37-year history. However, the program continues to face increasing problems. Like so many Americans, I am concerned that the program’s structure has failed to keep pace with the changes in the health care system as a whole. When Medicare was created, prescription drug coverage was limited, with most beneficiaries being treated in hospitals. Today, advances in pharmaceutical research allow doctors to treat seniors on an outpatient basis. Unfortunately, Medicare has done not keep up with this change.

As a result, Congress has been actively working to craft a prescription drug benefit for Medicare that is affordable and reliable. Yet, under the Republican bill, the government would pay subsidies to insurance companies to induce them to offer drug coverage. These “cheap” insurance plans do not currently exist, and may never exist, and therefore do not offer a guaranteed benefit to our seniors.

Beneficiaries would be forced to choose between HMOs and risky private drug-only insurance plans. Further, this legislation merely provides suggestions and standard coverage; private insurers have the freedom to alter premiums which can be much higher, varying from county to county, and year to year. Seniors would not know what to expect from their drug benefit from year to year or how much it would cost.

In addition, H.R. 4954 provides inadequate coverage to Medicare beneficiaries. It would cover less than a quarter of beneficiaries’ estimated drug costs over the next 10 years.
Nearly half of all seniors spend over $2,000 annually. This bill would not pay for drug costs between $2,000 and $3,700. Further, this legislation would do nothing to assist low-income beneficiaries. Low-income beneficiaries may have to pay $2 to $5 co-pays and 100 percent of the cost of drugs after paying $2,000 in out of pocket expenses. In addition, this substitute would help low-income beneficiaries with premium and co-insurance payments. Finally, it would guarantee Medicare beneficiaries the choices that made Medicare MSAs (Medicare Savings Accounts) and federal bureaucy, while H.R. 4954 gives this legislation would impose economic hardships that would severely damage pharmacy infrastructure and compromise the health of America's precious seniors.

Thousands of pharmacists have diligently served America's seniors with dedication and excellence. We should not inhibit their ability to continue providing the drugs and services our seniors desperately need.

Mr. PAUL. Mr. Speaker, while there is little debate about the need to update and modernize the Medicare system to allow seniors to use Medicare funds for prescription drugs, there is much debate about the proper means to achieve this end. However, much of that debate centers on the H.R. 4954 or the alternative allow seniors the ability to control their own health care. Instead both plans give a large bureaucracy the power to determine what prescription drugs senior citizens can receive. The only difference is that alternative puts seniors under the control of the federal bureaucracy, while H.R. 4954 gives this power to "private" health maintenance organizations and insurance companies. I am pleased that the drafters of H.R. 4954 incorporate regulatory relief legislation, which I have supported in the past, into the bill. This will help relieve some of the tremendous regulatory burden imposed on health care providers by the Federal Government. I am also pleased that H.R. 4954 contains several good provisions addressing the Congressionally-created crisis in rural health and attempting to ensure that physicians are fairly reimbursed by the Medicare system.

However, Mr. Speaker, at the heart of this legislation is a fatally flawed plan that will fail to provide seniors the pharmaceuticals of their choice. H.R. 4954 requires seniors to enroll in a prescription benefit management company (PBM), which is the equivalent of an HMO. Under this plan, the PBM will have the authority to determine which pharmaceuticals are available to seniors. Thus, in order to get any help with their prescription drug costs, seniors have to relinquish their ability to choose the type of prescriptions that meet their own individual needs! The inevitable result of this process will be rationing, as has been the result of PBM plans, and restricting the type of pharmacies seniors may use in the name of "cost effectiveness." These provisions may even go so far as to forbid seniors from using their own money to purchase Medicare-covered pharmaceuticals. I remind my colleagues that today the federal government prohibits seniors from using their own money to obtain health care services whose "approved" by the Medicare bureaucracy!

Since H.R. 4954 extends federal subsidies (and federal regulations) to private insurers, the effects of this program will be felt even by those seniors with private insurance. Thus, H.R. 4954 will in actuality reduce the access of many seniors to the prescription drugs of their choice!

I must express my disappointment that this legislation does nothing to reform the government policies responsible for the skyrocketing costs of prescription drugs. Congress should help all Americans by reforming federal patent laws and FDA policies which provide certain large pharmaceutical companies a government-granted monopoly over pharmaceutical products. Perhaps the best thing Congress could do to reduce pharmaceutical policies is liberalize the regulations surrounding the reimportation of FDA-approved pharmaceuticals.

As a representative of an area near the Texas-Mexican border, I often hear from my constituents who cannot purchase inexpensive quality imported pharmaceuticals in their local drug store. Some of these constituents regularly travel to Mexico on their own to purchase pharmaceuticals. It is an outrage that my constituents are being denied the opportunity to benefit from a true free market in pharmaceuticals by their own government.

The alternative suffers from the same flaws, and will have the same (if not worse) negative consequences for seniors as will H.R. 4954.

The difference between the two is that under the alternative, seniors will be denied the choice for pharmaceuticals by bureaucrats at the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Servies (CMS) rather than by a federally subsidized PBM bureaucrat.

Speaker, our seniors deserve better than a "choice" between whether a private-public sector bureaucrat will control their health care. Meaningful prescription drug legislation should be based on the principles of maximum choice and flexibility for senior citizens. For example, my H.R. 2268 provides seniors the ability to use Medicare dollars to cover the costs of prescription drugs in a manner that increases seniors' control over their own health care.

H.R. 2268 removes the numerical limitations and sunset provisions in the Medicare Medical Savings Accounts (MSA) program. Medicare MSAs consist of a special saving account containing Medicare funds for seniors to use for their routine medical expenses, including prescription drug costs. Unlike the plans contained in H.R. 4954, and the Democratic alternative, Medicare MSAs allow seniors to use Medicare funds to obtain the prescription drugs that fit their unique needs. Medicare MSAs also allow seniors to use Medicare funds for other services not available under traditional Medicare, such as mammograms.

Medicare MSAs will allow seniors access to a wide variety of health care services by minimizing the role of the federal bureaucracy. As many of my colleagues know, an increasing number of health care providers have withdrawn from the Medicare program because of the paperwork burden and constant interference with their practice by bureaucrats from the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services. The MSA program frees seniors and providers from this burden, thus making it more likely that quality providers will remain in the Medicare program!

Mr. Speaker, seniors should not be treated like children by the federal government and told what health care services they can and
Ms. BROWN of Florida. Mr. Speakers, it matters who is in charge. This Republican leadership must think the American people are stupid. Last week they raised $30 million dollars in a fund raiser with the drug companies, and this week we have a prescription drug bill on the floor. Now who do you think they wrote this bill for? The big drug companies are promising relief to for 2 years, or the big drug companies that will be funding their elections this fall?

While on a trip back home to Jacksonville in March, I went to the drug store for my grandmother’s prescription. I was expecting maybe a $15 co-payment because I knew her insurance plan had drug coverage. The bill was $91 dollars. She had a limit on her coverage, and it had run out. We were 3 months into the year, and she no longer has a drug plan.

My grandmother, and all grandmothers deserve better than this. If the Republicans can take a break from their million dollar drug company fund raisers and constant tax cut bills for their country club friends, maybe we can work on a comprehensive plan that provide our seniors with the relief we have been promising them. My Republican colleagues talk the talk, but they don’t walk the walk. The Republican leadership has come up with a privatized drug plan that has been rejected by both the insurance industry, drug stores as unworkable, and fails to truly help seniors.

This is one more perfect example of why it matters who is in charge.

Mrs. BONO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to support comprehensive health care improvements to our Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act of 2002. It offers a real and immediate benefit to our seniors, while also offering substantive improvements to a Medicare system that will collapse in on itself without out reforms.

Currently the seniors in my district, which represent one in five of all individuals in California’s 44th District, are without prescription drug coverage that is essential to their quality of health. With this legislation, these individuals will receive an affordable option that will become a permanent facet of Medicare for generations to come.

I have had the honor of serving on the Speaker’s Prescription Drug Action team, and we have worked hard to address both prescription drug coverage and improvements to the Medicare system. These include helping our doctors continue to better serve Medicare beneficiaries and helping our hospitals to keep their doors open to those who can’t afford to meet even basic health care needs. In particular, the Medicaid Disproportionate Share Hospital monies included in this bill are a serious disappointment to me and the public, including two in my district.

There is still work to be done in properly funding these hospitals that offer such essential services, but this comprehensive legislation is taking a step in the right direction.

Mr. Speaker, the leadership has also failed seniors with prescription drug coverage. The Republican leaders are doomed to fail because the plan relies on health insurance companies to offer drug only policies which they have said won’t offer. If insurance companies won’t offer these policies, how will seniors actually obtain prescription drug coverage under the leadership of the Republican Party?

Every insurance company with whom I have spoken has said that they will not offer a drug only insurance policy. In fact, during our last debate on this issue, the Health Insurance Association of America, which consists of nearly 300 insurance companies signed a statement claiming, ‘These ‘drug only’ policies represent an empty promise to America’s seniors. They are not workable or realistic.’
H4296

June 27, 2002

Why should the insurance companies provide these drug only policies? They are in the business of insuring risk and there is no risk associated with a drug only policy. This single benefit policy will result in adverse risk selection—only people with predictably high prescription medicine costs will purchase the plan. And the cost of care for the insurance companies who in turn will pass the costs on to the beneficiaries through higher premiums.

In addition, providing a drug benefit through private plans could be problematic, specifically for those living in rural and small communities. There are no requirements as to what has to be covered and the coverage may vary from area to area depending on the plan. Wisconsin may end up on the short end of the stick like we have in the past under Medicare. Another problem is the huge hole in coverage.

Once a senior hits $2,000 in drug costs there is no coverage until they spend $3,700 in out-of-pocket expenses. Nearly half of all seniors have drug expenditures over $2,000 and will receive no drug coverage for part of the year. Further, the one stop shop for low-income seniors to cover their drug costs over $2,000 and before they hit the stop-loss.

We must provide a real solution to the problem of prescription drug coverage for our seniors. The Republican plan falls woefully short. The Democratic proposal, however, heads in the right direction and builds on the current Medicare program. The benefit would include: a $25/month premium; a $100 annual deductible; 20 percent cost-sharing for drug costs; and $2,000 out-of-pocket annual stop-loss.

Low-income individuals up to 150 percent of poverty level would qualify for $25/month premium and $100 annual deductible. The Democratic plan would guarantee a minimum benefit and ensure that those who live in Wisconsin would receive the same benefit as those who live in California or Florida.

This plan is expensive but it would work because of its simplicity. The question about its affordability depends on whether the American people want a meaningful prescription drug program or if they would rather see large tax cuts in the future for the wealthiest Americans. It is clear that the Republican leadership has squandered an excellent opportunity to try and solve the problem of prescription drug coverage in a bipartisan fashion. Instead they have steam-rolled ahead and presented our Nation’s seniors with an unwieldy solution to a grave problem. I urge my colleagues to reject this flawed proposal.

Mr. BERÉUER. Mr. Speaker, this Member will vote for H.R. 4954, the Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act of 2002. There are elements in this Medicare reform legislation which improve the access of health care services in rural areas. For example, not only does this legislation continue an effort to address some of this Member’s concerns regarding the significant difference in reimbursement levels for urban and rural health care providers, it would also provide a 3-year fix for the Medicare physician payment formula, resulting in a 6 percent increase in Medicare payments over the next 3 years rather than the 14.2 percent projected cut under current law.

For some time now, this Member has been aggressively pursuing an issue related to the formula used in the Medicare program to reimburse physicians and other health care providers for beneficiaries’ medical care. The problem is that it does not accurately measure the cost of providing such services. The program reimburses physicians and other health care providers in a manner that favors urban providers in a manner that favors urban providers over rural providers. Instead, Medicare payment formulas should more accurately compensate those who deliver high-quality, cost-effective services to Medicare beneficiaries in all areas of the country.

Accordingly, this Member is pleased that the Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act of 2002 contains a compromise agreement that would establish a floor of 9.985 for the physician work adjuster in 2004 (only), thereby raising all localities with a work adjuster below 9.985 to that level. This change would be dependent upon the outcome of a General Accounting Office (GAO) study and secretarial discretion. The Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services would determine, after taking into account the GAO report, if there is a “sound economic rationale for the implementation” of such a change. If so, the floor would be raised to 9.985 to 9.9865 in 2005 and 9.9865 to that level. This change would thereby allow 34 Medicare localities across the county, including this Member’s home state of Nebraska, to receive a higher reimbursement rate without harming other localities. This language is a modified version of the so-called “Rural Equity and Payment Index Reform Act (H.R. 3569), which is currently co-sponsored on a bipartisan basis by 60 Members of the House. The language included in the House Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act is also a result of efforts by the distinguished gentlelady from New Mexico (Mrs. WILSON), and pushed hard to ensure such language was and the distinguished gentleman from Wisconsin [Mr. BARRETT], who pursued this issue in the House Energy and Commerce Committee. This Member joined his colleagues, especially the gentlelady from New Mexico (Mrs. WILSON), and pushed hard to ensure such language was included in the final Medicare bill brought to the House Floor for consideration today. Establishing a floor of 0.985 to the Medicare physician work adjuster would translate into approximately $4 million annual cost increase in Medicare payments to Nebraska physician and skilled health care professionals in 2004. This is an important first step toward achieving much needed Medicare reform.

This Member is also pleased that the bill would avert a series of projected cuts of nearly 15 percent in Medicare payments. On November 1, 2001, the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) announced that it would lower payment rates for 2002 under the Medicare Physician Fee Schedule. Estimates indicate that this change would result in a $2.0 billion reduction in payments for 2002.

Reductions of this magnitude were completely unexpected and stemmed from two major factors: the downturn of the economy and the related reduction in the Gross Domestic Product that is used to establish the sustainable growth rate for physician spending, and an error on the part of the CMS in collecting physician payment information. This legislation addresses this serious health care issue.

The Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act of 2002 also takes an important step forward in addressing the unintended consequences of the Balanced Budget Act, as well as improving payments for hospitals, particularly rural hospitals. For example, the bill provides increased payment rates for hospitals in rural areas or in metropolitan areas with a population of less than one million.

Under current law, Medicare pays for inpatient services in acute care hospitals in large urban areas using a standardized payment amount that is 1.6 percent larger than the standardized amount used to reimburse hospitals in rural areas and smaller urban areas. This legislation, over a 4-year time frame, would increase the standardized amount for hospitals in rural and small urban areas to the standardized amount paid to hospitals in large urban areas. According to the Nebraska Hospital Association, for example, this could mean an additional $8 million annually for hospitals in Nebraska.

Additionally, the bill increases payments to non-teaching rural and urban hospitals in states whose aggregate inpatient operating costs are less than three percent for hospitals or less than three percent for urban hospitals. The Nebraska Hospital Association estimates that this could result in an additional $8 million annually for Nebraska’s hospitals.

This Member will record two concerns about the initiation of any Medicare prescription drug plan and that is, first, the rather extraordinary cost of this new entitlement program which would have to be paid for employers, employees, and the self-employed, recognizing the high probability that these costs will be underestimated in this or any alternative proposals put before the Congress. That is the track record for all past Medicare and Medicaid initiatives.

However, the major concern this Member has is the near certainty that the cost of prescription drugs for Americans not eligible for the proposed Medicare prescription drug benefits will increase because of the Medicare prescription drug coverage offered to eligible senior citizens under this or other proposals. The cost-sharing occurred when cost-restraints had to be established on Medicare payments to hospitals for professional fees. It is certain that some cost-sharing will occur in short order when restraints inevitably will be placed on Medicare prescription drug costs. The result will surely be that pharmaceutical costs will be cost-shifted by the drug industry to everyone else in America. This legislation, in this crucial deficiency, does nothing to restrain pharmaceutical costs and domestic cost-sharing. However, after extensive consultation, House leadership has promised a vote to those of us demanding the initiation to directly keep those prescription drug benefits of eligible senior citizens from causing prescription drug costs to resolutely increase for other Americans.

One such vote could be on an implementable drug re-importation program of FDA approved drugs for individual, wholesale, or retail uses. Turn loose the American entrepreneurial proclivities on this approach, and it will moderate the outrageously unacceptable level of international cost-sharing that now falls on the backs of American consumers. Most other developed countries have placed cost constraints on the prescription drug costs borne by their consumers; therefore, American and foreign-owned pharmaceutical firms are... charging what the market and tolerance of the American people will bear. This legislation thus far does not address this huge problem—ultimately providing Medicare drug benefits to eligible senior citizens will make the cost of prescription drugs more expensive for most American people directly and indirectly through Medicare deductions from their paychecks and through its effects on their employer’s bottom line.

Mr. Speaker, in conclusion, on balance, this Member supports H.R. 4954 because of the progress made in providing better access to quality medical care in non-metropolitan areas through the Medicare finance reforms and because of the promised opportunity for a clear opportunity for the House to soon cast votes on legislation which can restrain or lower prescription drug costs for those Americans not eligible for prospective Medicare prescription drug benefits. This Member will support the advancement of H.R. 4954 to a stage where conferees can craft what this Member would hope to be better legislation if the other body passes its version of a Medicare reform and prescription drug legislation.

Mr. CHAMBLISS. Mr. Speaker, we need to strengthen, simplify, and improve Medicare and provide prescription drug coverage for all seniors and disabled Americans. It has been entirely too long that seniors have done without substantial help in affording their prescription drugs. I am committed to working hard to pass prescription drug relief for America’s seniors.

Tonight we will pass a fiscally responsible bill that allows seniors and disabled Americans to purchase quality and affordable prescription drugs, offers seniors third party buying power, and provides the security of knowing they are protected from catastrophic pharmaceutical bills.

We desperately need this prescription drug plan. Seniors need this plan to finally receive prescription drug coverage they deserve along with greater choice and flexibility. Further, this plan will substantially help nursing facilities, home health agencies, rural hospitals and local doctors provide better health services and ensure quality health care for folks throughout Georgia.

This bill will not force folks into a Federal Government-run, one-size-fits-all prescription drug plan that has too many rules, regulations, and restrictions and that allows Washington bureaucrats to decide what medicines can and can’t be prescribed. This plan is voluntary, and protects those seniors who are already satisfied with their current prescription drug benefit by allowing them to stay in the existing programs.

With all these benefits, we need to make sure this legislation is friendly to small businesses and our local pharmacies. I have heard from a number of constituents and share their serious concerns that pharmacists may lose access to networks and our seniors will not gain access to benefits at their local pharmacy. Our hometown pharmacies play a critical role in providing health care in our local communities. We need to ensure that they are not put out of business by this legislation and that pharmacists will have the same opportunity to negotiate price reductions and provide discounts to their customers. It is important that pharmacists be involved in the decision making process for these plans and have the same opportunities to deliver lower costs to the consumer. I want our pharmacists to be able to continue giving customers top-notch care, and I hope that as the process moves forward on this important bill, these critical issues will be adequately addressed.

It is no secret that prescription drug costs are an overwhelming burden on the health and financial security of seniors and disabled Americans. Too many senior citizens and disabled Americans face decisions between putting food on their table and being able to afford the prescription drugs they need. In the wealthiest country in the world, our seniors should not have to face these decisions. There are seniors who do or do without medication that would allow them to live longer healthier more enjoyable lives, and I look forward to passing a responsible prescription drug plan that helps America’s seniors.

Mr. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, today’s seniors increasingly depend on prescription drugs to live healthy lives. But with prescription drug prices skyrocketing, medication is out-of-reach for too many of our Nation’s seniors. All too often, we hear of seniors on tight budgets who are forced to choose between medication and their next meal. Congress must ensure that all seniors have access to affordable prescription drug coverage, but the plan that the Republicans have offered falls short.

A voluntarily benefit added to Medicare would guarantee all seniors access to affordable prescription coverage. I support a plan that provides a voluntary, guaranteed, defined benefit under the Medicare program. A Medicare prescription drug plan would leave nothing to surprise. Seniors would know how much to expect to pay in premiums and co-payments. All seniors would be eligible to participate. Moreover, this plan would allow Medicare to negotiate the same price breaks for Medicare beneficiaries that are currently enjoyed by other large scale buyers like HMOs and insurance companies.

The Republican plan is riddled with flaws. First, it is not a Medicare benefit, rather it relies on private insurers who have already made clear that they have no intention of providing drug only plans to Medicare beneficiaries. Second, the Republican proposal fails to reduce the high cost of prescription drugs for seniors. Private insurers will not be limited to what they may charge Medicare beneficiaries and will do little to reduce the high out-of-pocket costs that seniors already pay. Third, the GOP plan will only create more hardships for seniors who will be forced to jump through the hoops of their private insurer and be subjected to limited power provider and drug choices.

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I support this legislation because it provides a prescription drug benefit to all seniors using Medicare. The importance of escalating prescription drug prices, it is essential that seniors have access to affordable drugs to meet their medical needs.

The best way to accomplish this goal is to lower the costs of prescription drugs, ensure that all seniors have prescription drug coverage and increase choices of coverage plans. Patients who live in rural areas and communities deserve the same access to physicians as their urban counterparts. As a member of the Rural Health Caucus, I am pleased that this bill addresses inequities between payments made to rural and urban hospitals, wage adjustments for physicians in rural areas and funding for health care organizations.

Not only does this legislation help consumers of prescription drugs, but it also recognizes the importance of pharmacists in providing prescription drugs, helps states cover their Medicare costs and enhances employer-sponsored health care benefits for retirees.

My Democratic colleagues have proposed a bill that costs over $800 billion and sunsets after ten years. But what happens after ten years?

This bill is a common sense, realistic approach that provides permanent coverage for seniors at a sensible cost. It gives special attention to the needs of low-income seniors and those facing exorbitant costs due to catastrophic illness.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All time for debate has expired.

Pursuant to House Resolution 467, the previous question is ordered on the bill, as amended.

The question is on engrossment and third reading of the bill.

SEC. 611. DISTRIBUTION OF UNUSED RESIDENT POSITIONS.

(a) In General.—Section 1886(h)(4) (42 U.S.C. 1395w(h)(4)) is amended—

(1) in subparagraph (P)(i), by inserting “subject to subparagraph (I),” after “October 1, 1997,”

(2) in subparagraph (H)(i), by inserting “subject to subparagraph (I),” after “subparagraphs (F) and (G),”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following new subparagraphs:

“(I) Redistribution of unused resident positions.—

“(1) Reduction in limit based on unused positions.—

“(i) In general.—If a hospital’s resident level (as defined in clause (iii)(I)) is less than the otherwise applicable resident limit (as defined in clause (iii)(II)) for each of the reference periods (as defined in subclause (II)), effective for cost reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2003, the otherwise applicable resident limit shall be reduced by 75 percent of the difference between such limit and the reference resident level specified in subclause (III) (or subclause (IV) if applicable).

“(ii) Reference periods defined.—In this clause, the term ‘reference periods’ means, for a hospital, the 3 most recent complete cost reporting periods of the hospital for which cost reports have been settled (or, if not submitted, on or before September 30, 2001).”

“(III) Reference resident level.—Subject to subclause (IV), the reference resident level specified in this clause for a hospital is the highest resident level for the hospital during any of the reference periods.

“(IV) Adjustment process.—Upon the timely request of a hospital, the Secretary may adjust the reference resident level for a hospital to be the resident level for the hospital for the cost reporting period that includes July 1, 2002.

“(II) Redistribution.—

“(I) In general.—The Secretary is authorized to increase the otherwise applicable resident limits for hospitals by an aggregate number of positions determined by the Secretary that does not exceed the aggregate reduction in such limits attributable to clause (i) (without taking into account any adjustment under such clause).

“(II) Effective date.—No increase under subclause (I) shall be permitted or taken into account for a hospital for any portion of a cost reporting period that occurs before July 1, 2003, or before the date of the hospital’s application for an increase under this clause.

“No such increase shall be permitted for a hospital unless the hospital has applied to the Secretary for such increase by December 31, 2004.

“(III) Considerations in redistribution.—In determining for which hospitals the increase in the otherwise applicable resident limit is provided under subclause (I), the Secretary shall take into account the need for such an increase by specialty and location involved, consistent with subclause (IV).

“(IV) Priority for rural and small urban areas.—In determining for which hospitals the increase in the otherwise applicable resident limit is provided under subclause (I), the Secretary shall first distribute the increase to programs in rural areas or in urban areas that are not large urban areas (as defined for purposes of subsection (d)) on a first-come-first-served basis (as determined by the Secretary) to demonstrate that the hospital will fill the positions made available under this clause and not to exceed an increase of 25 full-time equivalent positions with respect to any hospital.

“(V) Application of locality adjusted national average per resident amount.

With respect to additional residency positions in a hospital attributable to the increase provided under this clause, notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, the approved FTE resident amount is deemed to be equal to the locality adjusted national average per resident amount computed under subparagraph (E) for that hospital.

“(VI) Construction.—Nothing in this clause shall be deemed to preclude the redistribution of reductions in residency position allowances attributable to voluntary reduction programs under paragraph (6) or as affecting the ability of a hospital to establish new medical residency training programs under subparagraph (H).

“(III) Resident level and limit defined.—In this subclause:

“(1) Resident level.—The term ‘resident level,’ means with respect to a hospital, the total number of full-time equivalent residents, before the application of weighting factors (as determined under this paragraph), in the fields of allopathic and osteopathic medicine for the hospital.

“(2) Otherwise applicable resident limit.—The term ‘otherwise applicable resident limit’ means, with respect to a hospital, the limit otherwise applicable under subparagraph (F) of such subsection, as applicable to the resident level for the hospital determined without regard to this subparagraph.

“(b) No Application of Increase to IME.—Section 1886(d)(4)(B)(v) (42 U.S.C. 1395ww(d)(4)(B)(v)) is amended by adding at the end the following: “The provisions of clause (i) of section 1886(h)(4)(I)(ii)(II) of the Social Security Act (as added by section 1101 of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997) shall apply with respect to the first sentence of this clause in the same manner as it applies with respect to subparagraph (F) of such subsection, but the provisions of clause (i) of such subparagraph shall not apply.”

“(c) Report on extension of applications under redistribution program.—Not later than July 1, 2004, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report containing recommendations regarding whether to extend the deadline for applications for an increase in resident limits under section 1886(h)(4)(I)(ii)(II) of the Social Security Act (as added by such section) until December 31, 2005.

Mr. GEHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I ask Members to vote “yes” on this motion to recommit and to vote “no” on the Republican plan.

I guess I would like to start tonight’s debate with a question: Why did you vote “no” on all the amendments alternative to this drug plan? A Democratic House gave Republicans an alternative in 1965 when we debated Medicare. We represent 49 percent of the American people. This is one of the most important issues that we will vote on in this Congress, yet we are not afforded the opportunity to have a clean vote on a clear alternative. Are you afraid? Do you think that too many of Republican Members would vote for our plan?

This process tonight is not worthy of this House of Representatives. This is the people’s House. Here the people must be heard. I am deeply disappointed that we were not afforded a call for an alternative on this very, very important issue. This is an important issue to all the senior citizens of our country. The Greatest Generation that fought our wars, paid their taxes, raised their children, and made this country great, that Greatest Generation now is too often being robbed of the Medicare program that they were promised.

Tonight, those people are only afforded a vote on a flawed, deficient, wrong plan. If we stack that plan up against what these people are asking for, it fails. It fails. In fact, I would say it is a fraud: a deception, deliberately practiced to secure unfair or unlawful gain. A piece of trickery. A trick.

The Republican plan has no set premium. They say it might be $35. We are told in States where they have done this to date doing it is $85. There is no defined benefit. Republicans are turning seniors over to the private insurance market. This is the same debate that we had in 1965. This is a replay of that debate. If this were 1965, we would not have dreamed of having a Medicare program without a prescription drug benefit.

Prescription drugs are now the treatment of our seniors. And it is true that we would not just add this benefit to the Medicare program? Our plan that is in the motion to recommit is simple. It is Medicare: $100 deductible, $25 premium. The government pays 80 percent of the drug cost. The recipients pay the remainder, and when they hit $2,000 out of pocket, the government picks it all up.

This is what seniors are asking for. They are not asking to go into private insurance. They want a Medicare drug program and they want all the seniors to be amased to get leverage to get the price of prescription drugs down, down, down.

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I claim his remarks.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert the remarks of Mr. Thornberry.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN).

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, I claim his remarks. I deeply resent the fact that when he was 65 he would have to enroll in Medicare.

So you have reverted to form. In the end, this Republican bill listens not to the people of this country. It listens to the pharmaceutical companies and to the insurance companies and is not good for the people’s House of Representatives. It should not be passed.

In closing, I would ask all of you to simply tonight think of the people you represent, people like her. She is 94 years old. She lives in St. Louis.

Every time I go home, she asks me about what is going to happen with the cost of her drugs. She had a stroke about 5 years ago, and the doctor said she probably never talk again; she will probably never be able to cook or to do household duties. She was able to get the drugs and she is back and she is talking. She is asking me every time I see her about what she is going to do about the cost of her drugs. She has been 94 and she has a kitty bottle of drops that cost $100 a bottle and lasts for 2 weeks. She is lucky. She has got my brother and me, and we send her the money every month so that she can get her drugs.

Think about the millions of people in your district who are not as lucky as my mother. Think about them. Think about whether they can afford a premium more than $25. Think about whether they can put up with benefits ending in the middle of the year that when they cannot get their needed drugs. Think about them when you are not getting the price of drugs down so that they can afford to buy the drugs.

In 1965, this Congress took a historic step, and it passed the greatest program that this country has ever put together. It is the reason that people are living to 80 and 90 and 100 in this country with quality in their lives. We should honor that program tonight and expand it as it should have been many years ago. I am sure there were Members on that day or night in 1965 that voted against the Medicare program and regretted it through the rest of their career and their life. Do not reject your vote tonight. Stand for Medicare and stand for the American people that you represent.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. THORNBERY). Any point of order to be reserved on the motion has now been reserved.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN) for 5 minutes.
Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Speaker, there is trickery about this place. There is fraud about this House. We could have a motion to recommit, forthwith, but that is not what happened tonight. What happened tonight was a motion to recommit promptly. My friend, the chairman of the subcommittee, if you would, explain in just a minute the trickery in this House. We could have put the而且 Medicare bill back to the floor, and we could have debated it. You did not put “forthwith” in it. Your motion to recommit is a motion to recommit, this bill would have come back to the floor, and we could have debated it. You did not put “forthwith” in it. Your motion to recommit is a motion to recommit, this bill cannot come back and be made law. You are wasting the House’s time. Obviously, some of you do not understand the rules under which this House operates.

Mr. Speaker, had they had the guts to put “forthwith” in this motion to recommit, this bill would have come back to the floor, and we could have debated it. You did not put “forthwith” in it. Your motion to recommit is a motion to recommit, this bill cannot come back and be made law. You are wasting the House’s time. Obviously, some of you do not understand the rules under which this House operates.

That is saving the Medicare program, driving it into bankruptcy? We are not alone in that assessment. The AARP looked at our plans, too; and this is what they said about ours: “We appreciate your efforts to contain drug costs, because a Medicare drug benefit alone without effective cost controls will be difficult to sustain as our growing population of older Americans increases its drug utilization.”

Our assessment in the committee of this plan, believe it or not, actually raises drug prices to seniors. We asked CBO a simple question. We asked CBO if the Medicare Modernization and Prescription Drug Act before us that we presented to this House tonight would lower drug expenditures more than any other House bill introduced in the Congress and scored by CBO, and this is what they responded: “The answer to your question is yes,” Yes, lower drug costs. Yes, prescription drug benefits for our seniors. Not voting tonight. Yes, it is time to pass this bill tonight for all our moms and dads.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS).

Mr. THOMAS. I thank the gentleman for yielding.

The gentleman from Missouri mentioned several times 1965; 1965 was 10 years before a Member of this House was born, ADAM PUTNAM. For more definition from Webster, look in the dictionary. You never did. And your argument that you have now in front of us the gentleman from California will explain it to you in just a minute. But if we were to even consider the proposal offered in this motion to recommit seriously, it is almost identical, I believe, to the proposal that was made before the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

It has been scored by CBO now at $971 billion, although our budget, as you know, allocated $350 billion to this effort. It is more expensive than the plan prepared on the Senate side by Senator BOB GRAHAM. The BOB GRAHAM plan is estimated to drive Medicare into insolvency by the year 2016. Just imagine what they said about ours: “We feel that the Medicare Modernization Act before us that we passed in the House is almost identical, I believe, to the proposal that was made before the Committee on Energy and Commerce.”

Just imagine what they said about ours: “We feel that the Medicare Modernization Act before us that we passed in the House is almost identical, I believe, to the proposal that was made before the Committee on Energy and Commerce.”

The answer to this gentleman from Missouri mentioned several times 1965; 1965 was 10 years before a Member of this House was born, ADAM PUTNAM. For more definition from Webster, look in the dictionary. You never did. And your argument that you have now in front of us the gentleman from California will explain it to you in just a minute. But if we were to even consider the proposal offered in this motion to recommit seriously, it is almost identical, I believe, to the proposal that was made before the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

It has been scored by CBO now at $971 billion, although our budget, as you know, allocated $350 billion to this effort. It is more expensive than the plan prepared on the Senate side by Senator BOB GRAHAM. The BOB GRAHAM plan is estimated to drive Medicare into insolvency by the year 2016. Just imagine what they said about ours: “We feel that the Medicare Modernization Act before us that we passed in the House is almost identical, I believe, to the proposal that was made before the Committee on Energy and Commerce.”

The answer to this gentleman from Missouri mentioned several times 1965; 1965 was 10 years before a Member of this House was born, ADAM PUTNAM. There was no objection.

DISPENSING WITH CALENDAR WEDNESDAY BUSINESS ON WEDNESDAY, JULY 10, 2002

Mr. ARMEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the business in order under the Calendar Wednesday
H.R. 4954 establishes a prescription drug benefit in Medicare, adjust certain payments under Medicare, and modernizes Medicare through a Medicare-Choice Competition Program, regulatory reform and a prescription drug discount card. As reported by the Committee on Ways and Means and modified to H. Res. 465, the bill would provide for the Medicare policies delineated in section 202. $4.650 billion in new budget authority and $4.575 billion in outlays for fiscal year 2003. For the 10-year period of 2003 through 2012, this bill would provide $347.270 billion in new budget authority and $347.270 billion in new budget authority and outlays.

Accordingly, I am revising the 302(a) allocation for Medicare policies for fiscal year 2003 by $4.650 billion in new budget authority and $4.575 billion in outlays and, for the period of fiscal years 2003 through 2012, by $347.270 billion in new budget authority and outlays.

Pursuant to section 202 of H. Con. Res. 353, the concurrent resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2003, I have adjusted the 302(a) allocation of new budget authority for Medicare (as printed in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD on May 22, 2002) by $4.650 billion in additional budget authority for fiscal year 2003 and by $347.270 billion in additional budget authority for the period of 2003 through 2012.

Under the special rule set forth in section 231(d) of H. Con. Res. 353, the applicable allocation for H.R. 4954 is the 302(a) allocation for Medicare for fiscal year 2003 and for the period of fiscal years 2003 through 2012 that was printed in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD on May 22, 2002.

As reported by the Committee on Ways and Means and modified by H. Res. 465, the bill provides $4.650 billion in new budget authority in fiscal year 2003 and $347.270 billion for the period of fiscal years 2003 through 2012 for the purposes specified in section 202 of H. Con. Res. 353. Hence, the amount of new budget authority related to the Medicare policies set forth in section 202 is equal to the adjusted 302(a) allocation for the applicable periods.

If no further adjustments are made to this allocation, any amendment that would provide any additional new budget authority for Medicare, relative to the bill as amended by the rule, in fiscal year 2003 or for the period of fiscal years 2003 through 2012 would exceed the 302(a) allocation in violation of section 302(f) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

Section 302(f) of the Congressional Budget Act prohibits the consideration of amendments that, if enacted, would exceed the appropriate allocation of budget authority made pursuant to section 302(a) for the first year and the total of all fiscal years covered by the applicable budget resolution.

In addition, the bill provides $0.380 billion in new budget authority in fiscal year 2003 and $1.380 billion over the period of fiscal years 2003 through 2007 that is unrelated to the Medicare policies delineated in section 202. Such spending is therefore subject to the general purpose allocation of the Committee on Ways and Means. Any amendment making changes unrelated to the Medicare policies delineated in section 202 that provides in excess of $0.380 billion in new budget authority in fiscal year 2003 or $6.475 billion for the period of fiscal years 2003 through 2007 would also exceed the appropriate 302(a) allocation in violation of Section 302(f).

This statement is issued in accordance with section 312(a) of the Congressional Budget Act.

SPECIAL ORDERS GRANTED

By unanimous consent, permission to address the House, following the legislative program and any special orders heretofore entered, was granted to—The following Members (at the request of Mr. ARMIEY) to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material:

NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION ACT FOR FISCAL YEAR 2003

AMENDMENT NO. 4060

Mr. WYDEN. Mr. President, I call up amendment No. 4060 that I offer on behalf of myself and Senator SMITH of Oregon.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Oregon [Mr. WYDEN], for himself and Mr. SMITH of Oregon, proposes an amendment numbered 4060.

Mr. WYDEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To authorize an offset, $4,800,000 for personnel and procurement for the Oregon Army National Guard for purposes of Search and Rescue (SAR) and Medical Evacuation (MEDEVAC) missions in adverse weather conditions.)

At the end of subtitle A of title X, add the following:

SEC. 1010. AVAILABILITY OF AMOUNTS FOR ORGON ARMY NATIONAL GUARD FOR SEARCH AND RESCUE AND MEDICAL EVACUATION MISSIONS IN ADVERSE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

(a) INCREASE IN AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR ARMY PROCUREMENT.—The amount authorized to be appropriated by section 421 for military personnel is hereby increased by $1,800,000.

(b) AVAILABILITY.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated by section 421 for military personnel, as increased by subsection (a), $1,800,000 shall be available for up to 26 additional personnel for the Oregon Army National Guard.

(c) OFFSET.—The amount authorized to be appropriated by section 301(a) for operation and maintenance for the Army is hereby reduced by $4,800,000, with the amount of the reduction to be allocated to Base Operations Support (ServiceWide Support).

Mr. WYDEN. Mr. President, the Pacific Northwest must have a search and rescue capability. The vast expanses of Federal land in our part of the country mean our citizens constantly face the risk of disasters and accidents, far from help. Local communities, many of them with tiny populations, do not have the resources to provide search and rescue services to the extraordinarily large surrounding wilderness areas.

The amendment I offer this afternoon on behalf of myself and Senator SMITH is a compromise. It would not have been our first choice. In an effort to work with our colleagues and appeal to our colleagues on a bipartisan basis, we offer this compromise to preserve a search and rescue capability in our region. Without this capability, the Pacific Northwest faces the certain loss of lives for disasters, fires, and accidents that are unique to our region.

This amendment authorizes a total of $1.8 million to the Oregon National Guard to upgrade three Blackhawk helicopters of the National Oregon Guard to the capabilities of the UH-60Q search and rescue helicopters similar to upgrades in the past. It would increase the authorization for military personnel by $1.8 million to ensure the Oregon Guard can respond to emergencies that require rapid medical attention.

Particularly during this season we are concerned about the host of possibilities that can strike our local communities, tragedies we have already seen won in recent difficulties in our region. We cannot afford to play Russian roulette with the safety, health, and security of our citizens.

I urge my colleagues to support the Wyden-Smith amendment that we have worked on with both the majority and the minority for many days.

I reserve my time to speak later in the debate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. SMITH of Oregon. I thank my colleague for being a partner in this cause to preserve in the Pacific Northwest a search and rescue capability.

Mr. President, I rise today to introduce an amendment with Senator WYDEN to preserve a truly invaluable search and rescue capability in the Pacific Northwest.

On May 30, all eyes in Oregon and across the nation watched as brave Oregonians put themselves in harms way to rescue climbers on Mt. Hood.

The rescuers included members of the Oregon National Guard, the Portland Mountain Rescue, and the Air Force Reserve 393rd Air Rescue Wing, whose members have been lauded for scores of rescues on Mt. Hood and the Oregon Coast, not to mention rescues in our neighboring state of Washington. In fact this rescue wing volunteers for these types of rescues.

Recently, nine climbers were swept into a 20-foot deep crevasse on Mt. Hood. Tragically, three of the climbers did not survive, but the skills of the rescuers ensured that others would survive.

This rescue highlighted the skills of the Rescue Wing and the importance Oregonians place on the Wing’s capabilities in the region. While adverse wind conditions most likely sent one of the helicopters into an inevitable crash, the highly skilled pilot of the 393rd ensured that the crew survived and that all on the ground were unharmed.

This “bullet” symbol identifies statements or insertions which are not spoken by a Member of the Senate on the floor.
Just one week prior, the 939th rescued a sick climber from Mt. Hood's Sandy Glacier. I believe this rescue highlights the Wing's capabilities: Late in the evening, the 304th Rescue Squadron used its night vision capabilities to spot the climber at an elevation of 8,750 feet.

The Pave Hawk, equipped with a hoist, lowered down Steve Rollins of Portland Mountain Rescue onto the Glacier to assess the climber. After being hoisted by the hoist, the climber and rescuer were raised into the helicopter and transported to safety.

Mr. President, Oregonians were devastated to hear of Air Force plans to take away the 393rd Search and Rescue Wing out of the state.

Oregonians realize that the 939th's mission is to rescue our brave men in combat. In fact, we believe that the members of the 939th are among the very best trained and equipped pilots anywhere. We know this because we know the Oregon terrain and we have witnessed firsthand their skill under most challenging conditions.

My original amendment with Senator Wyden would have prohibited the use of funds to take this search and rescue unit away from the Pacific Northwest. Senator Wyden and I understand the committee members have a problem with this amendment and we therefore introduced another amendment that would not interfere with the Air Force's force structure.

The managers have told Senator Wyden and me that they would support this compromise: it authorizes a total of $4.8 million for the Oregon National Guard search and rescue.

They volunteered to do this. The 939th is always training to be prepared to help in military situations. They say these real-life situations are truly the best training they can have. In the course of training, they have saved countless human lives.

About a year ago, Senator Wyden and I were informed that the Air Force was going to move the 939th from Oregon. I am not one to interfere with basing decisions of the Air Force. When this happened, it was clear to every Oregonian that we needed them. So Senator Wyden and I tried to make the case a few weeks ago. He brought other kinds of personnel is precious little to the Air Force 939th search and rescue, police, the Oregon National Guard, and the Air Force 939th search and rescue, came to their rescue.

They volunteered to do this. The 939th is always training to be prepared to help in military situations. They say these real-life situations are truly the best training they can have. In the course of training, they have saved countless human lives.

About a year ago, Senator Wyden and I were informed that the Air Force was going to move the 939th from Oregon. I am not one to interfere with basing decisions of the Air Force. When this happened, it was clear to every Oregonian that we needed them. So Senator Wyden and I tried to make the case a few weeks ago. I want to tell you why we brought this amendment to the floor. Senator McCain of Arizona pointed out we should not be telling the Air Force where to base their people. I think he has a good point.

Senator Wyden and I are offering a compromise to say, fine, let us have the upgrades in the helicopters. Let us have the personnel for the Oregon National Guard. By the way, these upgrades have been made available in most of the 50 States, but not Oregon. All we are saying is we need some military component in the Pacific Northwest. The 939th is going to Arizona. I do not begrudge that to my colleagues from Arizona. I love Arizona and I love my colleagues. My Uddall ancestry is all from there. But Oregonians to have all the search and rescue capability need. But, doggone it, why take it from Oregon and say you cannot have any comparable replacement? We are talking peanuts here when it comes to issues of life and death.

So I plead with my colleagues to allow this authorization because the whole country had the case made for them on national TV when they saw this rescue effort tragically end in a crash but with no additional loss of human life. I wish the 939th well as they go to Arizona. This $4.8 million that it takes to upgrade these helicopters and to provide some personnel is precious little to ask in an authorization as gargantuan as this. So I appeal to the hearts and the feelings of all 50 States. Don't leave the Pacific Northwest without this capacity.

I have the privilege of sitting in Mark Hatfield's seat. Mark Hatfield, for reasons of personal conscience, was not a big advocate of military expenditure. The military money went in other places. He brought other kinds of expenditures to Oregon, I grant you. But what little we have probably puts Oregon the 50th of 50 States in receiving military appropriations. I say $4.8 million is not too much to ask.

I yield the floor and ask for the consideration and votes of colleagues on both sides of the aisle.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Nevada.

Mr. REID. I have spoken to the proponents of this bill and Senators McCain and Kyl. I do not know how much more time the Senator from Oregon want. They originally told me they wanted about 10 minutes. I think they used about that. The Senators from Arizona indicated they would take about 15 minutes, 20 at the most—10 for Senator Kyl and Senator McCain, in reverse order.

I am not asking unanimous consent at this time, but I hope that would be about all we need to talk on this amendment. We will have a vote on it. We were very close at one time to final passage. We will not have an unanimous consent requests in the near future, but I am indicating to Senators, maybe there will not be too much more talk on this.

Mr. WYDEN. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. REID. I am happy to yield.

Mr. WYDEN. It is not clear to me what the Senators from Arizona intend. Certainly I understand the desire of the distinguished Senator from Nevada to move expeditiously. I think both of us will try to do that.

Mr. MCCAIN. If the Senator will yield, I say to Senator Reid we are going to have to, because of a previous unanimous consent agreement, get unanimous consent to allow a second-degree amendment to be considered. That would have to be the first order for, to be able to get that.

Mr. REID. I understand.

Mr. MCCAIN. We were seeking that because we were under the impression, clearly a false one, that the Wyden-Smith amendment would be ruled, postcloture, nongermane. The Wyden-Smith amendment is germane so we had wanted to propose a second-degree amendment. If one of the Senators from Oregon objects, then obviously we hear the objection.

Could I be recognized, Mr. President? The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. CARPER). The Senator from Arizona.

Mr. MCCAIN. I ask unanimous consent a second-degree amendment on behalf of myself and Senator Kyl to the Smith amendment, be taken up at this time.

Mr. WYDEN. I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is heard.

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, I regret Senator Wyden chooses to take what I think is an unwise course because I have seen Senator Wyden now that I will fight in the conference—and I will be a conferee—to have it either amended as we want it done or to take it out completely.
I think I may have the support of my colleagues because it really is unreasonable of Senator Wyden to object because it was clear, and everybody is clear, that we were under the impression that the amendment was non-germane. We would have filed a second-degree amendment if it had been germane.

I do not question the choice of the Senator from Oregon, but I can assure the Senator from Oregon that, No. 1, Senator Kyl, and I could care less whether the unit is going to Arizona or Alaska or New Jersey. I have steadfastly opposed micromanaging any of the services.

By the way—Senator Kyl is going to want to talk about this a little bit—it is up to $69,000 per person we are going to expend on this, which is quite a remarkable expense that they have.

Second, if the Oregon National Guard wants to spend money, let them take it out of their existing funds. They are perfectly capable, under their budgetary and decision-making process, to make a decision that they want to upgrade their aircraft with the existing funds that they have.

I do not think Senator Kyl and I would vote on this. I will leave it up to Senator Kyl. But I assure Senator Wyden I would not have treated him in the same fashion. But I yield the floor.

Mr. Wyden. Will the Senator yield? Mr. McCain. I have already yielded the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. Wyden. Mr. President, I want to make clear how extensive the efforts have been on the part of Senator Smith and myself to work with the Senator from Arizona, to work with all of our colleagues on this issue. We have tried again and again. The distinguished Senator—

Mr. McCain. Will the Senator yield on that point? Has the Senator ever said a word directly to me about his amendment?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has the floor.

Mr. Wyden. If I might finish? The fact is, we have come to the distinguished Senator from Arizona and discussed this several times. In fact, we discussed it at some length the night the Senator was unwilling to support another bipartisan effort to reach out to the distinguished Senator. I want to make it clear, I think he knows—

Mr. McCain. Will the Senator yield on that point? Will the Senator yield on that point?

Mr. Wyden. I will be happy to yield to my colleague. As he knows from our work on the Senate Commerce Committee, I worked with the Senator from Arizona again and again because I appreciate his counsel and his wisdom. Yes, we have talked about this subject. We talked about it, in fact, the night that Senator Smith and I tried another effort to come up with a bipartisan approach that would satisfy the Senator from Arizona. Today, we do feel that we have to go forward and protect our constituents.

People in Arizona are, in fact, going to be protected. As Senator Smith said, the 939th is going to go to Arizona. That means the two Senators from Arizona, both of whom I value as good friends and worked with on many subjects, are going to have protection for their constituents.

What we have said is, now that Arizona is going to be protected, let us try another approach, an approach that is not injurious to the Senators from Arizona, so that our citizens, in an area where there are vast amounts of Federal land and great risks for our citizens, can also be protected. So it is in that context that I seek to have this move forward today in conjunction with Senator Smith.

Finally, I yield to my good friend from Arizona. I want to say to him that I will continue to work with him on this issue and virtually everything else that conceivably comes before the U.S. Senate because I value his input and his counsel.

We have worked together on a whole host of questions. Now, if the Senator from Arizona desires me to yield to him, I am glad to yield to the distinguished Senator.

Mr. Wyden. I have to reclaim my time to say that is factually wrong. The night we tried to have the compromise, we in fact talked about it on several occasions. Now I am happy to yield further to the Senator from Arizona.

Mr. McCain. I yield the floor, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona.

Mr. Kyl. Let me say, first of all, it gives me no great pleasure to oppose an amendment offered by two of my best friends in the Senate, one Republican and one Democrat, good colleagues with whom we have worked on a lot of things.

This is not a matter of Arizona v. Oregon. It came to my attention on the night the senior Senator from Oregon was mentioning that there was an objection to the inclusion of an item in the managers' amendment to the supplemental appropriations bill which a number of Senators—Senator Gramm of Texas, our colleague Senator McCain, and I believe some others in this part of the Chamber were going through the managers' amendment to the supplemental appropriations bill. We objected to a whole variety of amendments which attempted to either spend money or micromanage money in ways inappropriate in our view at that time.

That is when this matter first came to my attention because a Member of the other side mentioned to me there was a managers' relating to the State of Arizona. Naturally, I was curious when I saw that the Air Force's 939th unit was going to be moved from Oregon to Arizona. The amendment of the Senator from Oregon would have stopped that. I didn't know about it at the time. We objected to that and a variety of other things because we believed it was inappropriate and be on the supplemental appropriations bill.

Now our colleagues from Oregon have determined that they should not interfere with the movement of that unit to Arizona. But they want to make up for its loss through the amendment they are presenting here—I think that is a fair way to present it—as a result of which they want to take $3 million from the Army's active-duty operations and maintenance account for upgrades of helicopters; $3 million will be spent for procurement of helicopters and $1.8 million for the 26 Oregon National Guard personnel.

If I am incorrect, correct me. I believe those numbers are correct.

The fact that I don't view this as Arizona v. Oregon is illustrated by the fact that the unit will move to Arizona, and Arizona is no worse off.

I speak on this matter having nothing in terms of a parochial interest involved, rather, have taken President Bush and Secretary Rumsfeld at their word. And Senator McCain and I have worked for many months—in fact, a number of years, even before President Bush came into office—trying to preserve as much in the way of funding for our military as possible to be spent in an efficient way and not be wasted.

It is one reason we both support and are cosponsors of the base closing amendment, notwithstanding the fact that it jeopardizes at least one or two Air Force bases, but at least one round, we had a major base closed. We are willing to take that risk for the State of Arizona because we believe we are United States Senators and we have an interest first to protect the United States of America and to protect our constituents what we can. But when it comes to national security and national defense, we don't play around with it. I don't put parochial interests ahead of the interests of America in its defense.

When the President says, I don't have enough money for defense for our home State, we are going to take money out of the Army's active-duty operations and maintenance account—almost $5 million—and put it into our State because we want a search and rescue mission for people who get into trouble in our beautiful mountains.

That is not right. I have no doubt that the local communities around Mount Hood, some of the tourist areas may not have the tax base to pay for this themselves. But the State of Oregon is on television—I have seen the ads, and they look great because they happen in the prettiest country in the world. You see the ads: “Come to Oregon. It’s the beautiful...”

The words, to provide some mechanism for the State to be sure people needing rescue on the side of a mountain could be rescued.

There is a great deal to come to Oregon for. Their beautiful mountains are part of that. If the State of Oregon, I think, with its multimillion-dollar budget—over a billion-dollar State budget—has enough money to urge people to come to the State of Oregon to enjoy its beauties, then I think they also have the ability to provide for their own search and rescue. They are there if $4.8 million is the difference; in other words, to provide some mechanism for the State to be sure people needing rescue on the side of a mountain could be rescued.

I have no idea what this unit is going to be doing in Arizona. We don’t have big, beautiful snowcaps. We have a couple of them, but not the same kind of tourist attractions as the mountains in Oregon. The training, I believe, could be for the number of illegal aliens who come across the border to be rescued. About 50 or 60 have died already this year. Maybe that is what they intend to do. But I don’t know. That is really, in a way, beside the point.

Neither State, nor any other State, should be seeking to take active-duty account money from the Defense Department and using it for what is a parochial need. I don’t say parochial in a negative sense, but a local need, a need that should be satisfied by the people of the State.

That is reason for our opposition. It is not an Arizona v. Oregon issue, as the Senator from Oregon was himself being very clear. We don’t believe we should be micromanaging the military, let alone taking money from the active-duty accounts. I regret we are not able to offer the second-degree amendment because that would have prevented this, in effect. But there are people in Oregon who think it is, I think, fair to have this unit, and to allow the Defense Department to spend the money the way it wants to and help the State of Oregon get its funding in some other way.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. SMITH of Oregon. Mr. President, I would like to tell the Senator exactly what the 939th will do in Arizona. They will train. They will look for opportunities to help in a civic way to help people and to rescue them because they want to be ready for combat situations. So they are going to look for opportunities to save the lives of Arizonians. God bless them in that effort.

What is the Defense budget? Probably $300 billion which we are going to vote for, and we are talking about $4.8 million.

I think what is really lost in my friends’ comments is the role of the National Guard and the national defense. It is growing. It is not declining. National Guard people are looking all the time to do the same thing as the Air Force’s 99th unit.

To suggest that somehow the Oregon National Guard is irrelevant to the national defense is just demonstrably false. As we speak, there are many Oregon National Guard units in Bosnia, Kosovo, and Afghanistan. They are deployed. I think the National Guard’s role is growing. It is not diminishing. To have these kinds of capacities, which many other States have, in Oregon is entirely reasonable, and it is entirely fair. I don’t begrudge the Air Force moving the 99th to Arizona.

I am not sure I am very comfortable hearing that out of $300 billion, the Air Force can’t allow $4.8 million for the State of Oregon when Oregonians are taxpayers too. We contribute to the national defense, and we get less in defense dollars than probably any State in America. Is that right? I say it is wrong. I say we ought to get some help here today on the floor of the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. WYDEN. Mr. President, I wish to pick up on the remark of the Senator from Arizona. Again, he knows how much I enjoy working with him. We have worked together on the forest fires and a whole host of issues that are important.

I wish to address my friend’s comments with respect to the contribution Oregon makes to our national security and why Senator Smith and I see this as being important to our military and why it is a very constructive expenditure as it relates to the military.

For example, my colleague from Arizona said our State does not have high mountains. Well, the State of Oregon does. The State of Oregon—and we are one of the highest end of the list of high mountains. Those high mountains are part of a very good training ground for our military.

The Department of Defense has consistently said—as both of the Senators from Arizona know because they are very knowledgeable in military policy—that we ought to, as a nation, be strengthening our search and rescue capability.

I think my good friend, Senator Kyl, has pointed out one of the aspects that Arizona lacks and with which Oregon can assist, and that is training as it relates to dealing with rescues from high mountains. The fact is, the people in the Northwest have been trained to rescue men and women wounded in combat. The value to our Nation of having this national training ground and this capability is a central reason why we are in support of this effort.

I am very hopeful that our colleagues will approve our bipartisan amendment.

I want to wrap up by way of saying I certainly do not consider this an Oregon against Arizona kind of battle. I am going to continue to work with both my colleagues on this issue, but it seems to me that when we have tried to be considerate of the State of Arizona throughout this process, we would just hope that our colleagues would be willing to address these concerns that our constituents have, especially when we are showing that the contribution that Oregonians make is a contribution that advances our national security, advances our military well-being, and particularly makes a contribution that Senator Kyl, has said, can be made in terms of training people in Arizona.

Mr. President, I yield at this time and reserve the right to respond to comments that might be made further. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona.

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, the Pentagon says: The Pacific Northwest will continue to have a ‘very robust rescue capability.’ There are 109 rescue-capable helicopters in the Pacific Northwest, both in the Air Force and in Astoria. Assets include CH-47s on alert for high-altitude rescue, recovered mishap HH-60. Long-range, over-water missions are covered by the California Air National Guard.

In summary: The Pacific Northwest will continue to have a very robust search and rescue force even after the assets from the 99th wing are moved to active duty units.

I have to tell the Senator from Oregon, the 99th is not moved to active duty units in Arizona. It will not be practicing on civilians. There are two major bases in Arizona: Luke Air Force Base and Davis Monahan Air Force Base...
Base. They will be there ready to conduct search and rescue missions in case those many training flights that take place from both those bases suffer a mishap. That is what they will be doing.

They will also be patrolling our border from time to time because, as Jon said, people have died crossing the desert. But their primary mission will be to support the flight operations out of two major Air Force bases.

Mr. SMITH of Oregon. Will my colleague yield?

Mr. McCAIN. Sure.

Mr. SMITH of Oregon. I say to my friend—and I really mean that—you made my point. They will be focused on military missions. They will volunteer for these real-life rescue missions. They will save people in the desert.

Mr. McCAIN. They won’t volunteer.

Mr. SMITH of Oregon. They do volunteer. That is what they do in Oregon.

Mr. McCAIN. They are an active duty unit now when they move.

Mr. SMITH of Oregon. All the helicopters you just named—all those helicopters—we are just asking them to get the upgrade. Other States have received the West.

Mr. McCAIN. I thank my colleague.

We have probably wasted way too much of the Senate’s time on this issue.

One, the administration opposes it. And I oppose it. The Army says, you are taking the money out of the U.S. Army’s operating funds, which they badly need. According to them, insufficient infrastructure funding decreases readiness. They do not have enough money. And now you are going to take the money out of operations and maintenance for our active duty men and women—active duty men and women—in the military, and you are going to move it to the Guard.

All we are saying is—if you and your colleague would have allowed us—take the money out of the Guard units; shift it around to your own priorities in the National Guard. That seems eminently fair to me.

The Guard is very well funded. You are talking about the overall funding. The Guard is very well funded as well. I am not going to take too much more time on this.

The administration opposes it. The Army opposes it. We oppose it. It is some other reason, that is unnecessary. To have this kind of transfer of funds, when our active duty military is already very short of funds, I think is a mistake.

Again, I think we could have solved this very easily with a second-degree amendment, if it had been allowed, that the money would have been taken out of existing Guard funds. Then you could upgrade it or do whatever you wanted to with Guard funds instead of taking it away from the men and women in uniform.

I will tell the Senator from Oregon, there are too many people living in barracks that were built during the Korean war. There are too many people who are on active duty who have insufficient housing, lifestyles, quarters, and other basic amenities of life. And we are an all-volunteer force.

You are taking the money from the active duty personnel in order to satisfy what your perceived needs are of the Guard in the State of Oregon. I do not think that is fair to the active duty men and women in the military.

I yield the floor. And I don’t think we have any further debate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. WYDEN. President, just to be very brief, with regard to the amount of time the Guard has spent overseas, they might as well be active duty people. These are people who have served our country with extraordinary valor all over the world. They could just as well be called active duty military.

I hope our colleagues support this bipartisan amendment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on agreeing to amendment No. 4060.

The amendment (No. 4060) was agreed to.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, we have one amendment which has been cleared.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, do we have that amendment reconsidered and tabled?

Mr. REID. I move to reconsider the vote.

Mr. WARNER. I move to lay that motion on the table.

Mr. REID. I move to reconsider the vote.

Mr. WARNER. I move to lay that motion on the table.

The motion to lay on the table was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 4077, AS MODIFIED

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I call up amendment No. 4077, on behalf of Senators MILLER and CLELAND, and send a modification of the amendment to the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to the amendment being modified?

Mr. WARNER. There is no objection.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is agreed to.

The amendment (No. 4077), as modified, was agreed to.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote.

Mr. WARNER. I move to reconsider the vote.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Michigan (Mr. LEVIN), for Mr. MILLS, for himself and Mr. CLELAND, proposes an amendment numbered 4077, as modified.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent reading of the amendment Mr. WARNER.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment, as modified, is as follows:

(Purpose: To authorize $1,900,000 for procurement for the Marine Corps for upgrading live fire range target movers and to bring live fire range radio controls into compliance with Federal Communications Commission narrow band requirements) In subtitle C of title I, strike “reserved” and insert the following:

SEC. 121. MARINE CORPS LIVE FIRE RANGE IMPROVEMENTS.

(a) INCREASE IN AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—The amount authorized to be appropriated by section 102(b) for procurement for the Marine Corps is hereby increased by $1,900,000, with the amount of the increase to be allocated to Training Devices.

(b) AVAILABILITY.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated by section 102(b) for procurement for the Marine Corps, as increased by subsection (a), $1,900,000 shall be available as follows:

(A) For upgrading live fire range target movers.

(B) To bring live fire range radio controls into compliance with Federal Communications Commission narrow band requirements.

The amounts available under paragraph (1) for the purposes set forth in that paragraph are in addition to any other amounts available in this Act for such purposes.

The amount authorized to be appropriated by section 108(1) for the C-17 interim contractor support is reduced by $1,900,000.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, this amendment, as modified, would add, with an offset, $1.9 million for buying upgrades for Marine Corps training devices to support live-fire training and live-fire range control systems.

I believe the amendment has been cleared.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, the chairman is correct.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the amendment, as modified, is agreed to.

The amendment (No. 4077), as modified, was agreed to.

Mr. LEVIN. I move to reconsider the vote.

Mr. WARNER. I move to lay that motion on the table.

Mr. REID. I move to reconsider the vote.

The motion to lay on the table was agreed to.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I renew my previous unanimous consent request.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. WARNER. Our Republican leader has reviewed this and approves it.

Mr. REID. It is two pages long. I did not want to read it again. It is spread on the RECORD. I send a copy of it to the desk in case there is any misunderstanding.

I ask approval of the unanimous consent request.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Hearing none, it is so ordered.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, we are going to have the vote on final passage at 3:15. As most know, Secretary Rumsfeld is going to be here at 2:45 for a short period of time. But that will give everyone time to visit with him. Then we would start a vote at 3:15.

NUNN-LUGAR EXPANSION ACT

Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, I rise today to engage in a colloquy with the chairman of the Armed Services Committee, Senator Levin, and the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, Senator Biden, to discuss the legislative intent of the Nunn-Lugar Expansion Act.

I appreciate Chairman Levin’s strong support for my bill. Under his leadership, the Armed Services Committee adopted the bill and included it as section 1203 of the fiscal year 2003 Authorization bill. Furthermore, Chairman
Biden is a cosponsor of the bill and his support is critical to the successful implementation of the nonproliferation authorities provided to the Secretary of Defense.

Section 1203 seeks to capitalize on the unique nonproliferation asset the Nunn-Lugar Program has created at the Department of Defense. An impressive cadre of talented scientists, technicians, negotiators, and managers has been assembled by the Defense Department to implement non-proliferation programs and to respond to proliferation emergencies. Equally impressive credentials are held by other agencies such as the Department of Energy, State Department, and Nuclear Regulatory Commission. Section 1203 acknowledges the unique skills held by various agencies and seeks to broaden the President’s menu of response options. Our legislation rejects a “one size fits all” response and provides another department with the authorization to respond to a proliferation threat.

As the United States and our allies have come to realize that the threats posed by terrorism and weapons of mass destruction in the aftermath of September 11, we have come to the realization that, in many cases, we lack an appropriate assortment of tools to address these threats. Beyond Russia and other states of the former Soviet Union, Nunn-Lugar-style cooperative threat reduction programs aimed at weapons dismantlement and counter-proliferation do not exist. The ability to apply a Nunn-Lugar model to states outside the former Soviet Union would provide our President with another tool to confront the threats associated with weapons of mass destruction.

If the President determines that we must move more quickly than traditional consultation procedures allow, the legislation provides that authority to launch emergency operations. We must not allow a proliferation or WMD threat to be “critical” because we lacked the foresight to empower the President to respond with a variety of options.

In the former Soviet Union the value of being able to respond to proliferation emergencies has been clearly demonstrated. Under Nunn-Lugar the U.S. has undertaken time-sensitive missions like Project Sapphire in Kazakhstan and Operation Auburn Enclave in Georgia that have kept highly vulnerable weapons and materials of mass destruction from being proliferated. But these endeavors have also illustrated the inherent problems of the inter-agency process in addressing these threats. Beyond Russia and other states of the former Soviet Union, Nunn-Lugar-style cooperative threat reduction programs aimed at weapons dismantlement and counter-proliferation do not exist. The ability to apply a Nunn-Lugar model to states outside the former Soviet Union would provide our President with another tool to confront the threats associated with weapons of mass destruction.

This type of scenario does not mean Congress will abandon its oversight responsibilities or that the Administration should continue and coordinate its actions to ensure the most seamless and effective response. Section 1203 requires extensive reporting requirements if action is taken under emergency authorities. Furthermore, this legislation is not a blank check. We expect this legislation to be implemented with close consultation between relevant agencies. But at the same time, the legislative authority provided to the President to avoid inter-agency logjams that would retard urgent American action.

Mr. BIDEN. I am delighted to join with my dear friend and colleague, Senator LUGAR, in supporting section 1203 of this bill. The Nunn-Lugar program and the several nonproliferation programs that have developed over the last decade were born in the need to secure excess weapons and dangerous materials and technology in the former Soviet Union. They have not yet fully achieved their purpose but they have accomplished far more than anybody other than Senators Nunn and Lugar foresaw a decade ago. The record of former Soviet weapons and materials secured and destroyed, and of former weapons scientists given useful and honorable work, is a testament to the importance of positive incentives in foreign and strategic policy.

Proliferation is a worldwide threat, and there are sensitive materials and technology in many countries. Section 1203 is rightly designed to permit Nunn-Lugar activities the former Soviet Union, when there are opportunities to ensure that sensitive materials will never be acquired by rogue states or terrorists.

I am pleased that Senator LUGAR spoke of the need to give the President the authority to act in such cases. The current language of section 1203 could be construed to permit the Secretary of Defense to pursue opportunities on his own, absent specific direction from the President. In my view, that might invite the Secretary of Defense to initiate sensitive foreign activities without the knowledge or support of the Secretary of State. I understand that this was not the intent of the managers, Senator LUGAR, or cosponsors of this bill. Because this was clearly not the intent, I understand the managers will work to clarify the language in a manner so as to make clear that the authority to order these operations resides in the President, not in the Secretary of Defense. That will be a very useful contribution, and I commend them for it. I understand also that the conferences will make clear that the authority to draw funds from other programs will extend only to other Department of Defense programs, and I appreciate that clarification.

I would note that the managers of the bill would also see fit to broaden the list of receipts of the reports required by section 1203. The Foreign Relations Committees of Congress have a legitimate interest in knowing when sensitive non-proliferation programs are to be instituted overseas. I understand that this concern will be kept in mind in conference, and I thank the managers for that courtesy.

Mr. LEVIN. I want to thank the sponsors of the legislation included as section 1203 in the fiscal year 2003 National Defense Authorization bill for bringing this matter to my attention. Of course the responsibility to initiate and expand the type of activities provided for in this bill rests ultimately with the President. As you are the original sponsors of this provision, I will honor your request and will urge the conferences to make the needed changes during the conference process.

THE PRICE-ANDERSON ACT

Mr. SMITH of New Hampshire. Mr. President, in March of this year, when we passed the energy bill, Senator Voinovich offered an amendment to reauthorize the Price-Anderson Act that passed overwhelmingly 78-21. The Price-Anderson Act expires on August 1, 2002. This act sets up a system of insurance and indemnification to protect the public against losses stemming from nuclear accidents. It has served the nation well since the 1950s and has been reauthorized three times. Price-Anderson has been amended over the years so that the utilities that operate nuclear reactors is charged premiums for this insurance. The private Department of Energy (DOE) contractors that are involved in strategic weapons production, clean up of national security sites, nuclear research and technology, as well as other related national priorities are indemnified by the government. In keeping with the directions in the current law both the DOE and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission issued reports urging renewal. The provisions of the Voinovich amendment to the energy bill to reauthorize this legislation were crafted in consonance with these reports. In the Defense authorization bill we are now considering, there is a provision to only renew the authority for the private DOE contractors. There is strong justification for doing so, since a lapse in the authority will affect important cleanup and defense programs as I mentioned before. Price-Anderson authorization is critical to ensure that these projects are managed properly before undertaking these important national projects. Reauthorization is vital to national defense and must be considered on “must do” legislation such as the defense bill. However, the NRC provision of Price-Anderson, one that falls under the jurisdiction of the Environment & Public Works Committee, is not included in this bill. Historically, in the reauthorization of Price-Anderson, we have extended the DOE contractor provision from the NRC license provision. The three previous renewals of Price-Anderson have extended both the DOE and NRC portions of the Act at the same time for identical time periods. As the ranking member of the Environment & Public Works Committee and as a senior member of the Armed Services Committee, it was my hope that we could ensure that these two provisions are retained and moved through the legislative process as one package, and not be separated. Due to the need of keeping non-military provisions off of the Defense Authorization bill while the bill is under consideration by the Senate, adding the NRC provision of Price-Anderson will not be possible at this time. However, it is certainly the hope of this Senator that the DOE and the NRC provisions of Price-Anderson remain on as close of a parallel legislative tracks as is possible, however that can be accomplished.

Mr. INHOFE. I am in complete agreement with my colleague. Should we let this authority lapse, it will jeopardize national security programs. Therefore, we must act in this bill with the provisions that cover the private DOE contracts. However, we must try to get the entire act renewed as recommended by the administration and the agencies that oversee the cleanup and oversee its activities over the past nearly half century that have served us so well. I strongly believe that it vital to pass full and comprehensive reauthorization of the Price-Anderson Act. The law has worked well and has been considered a model in other countries. It insures against terrorism against the plants and has been studied in an attempt to help fashion the terrorism insurance recently passed in this body. I would urge that we do what we can in this body to get Price-Anderson renewed in the most expeditious fashion. I want to thank my colleagues on both the Armed Services Committee and the Environment and Public Works Committee, of which I am the ranking member, the Senator from Colorado, Senator Shelby, and I look forward to working with them so that we may pass comprehensive Price-Anderson reauthorization during the 107th Congress.

Mr. VINOVICh. I thank my colleagues for their commitment to this issue that is of the utmost national importance. I add my support to the idea that we should keep the pieces of this legislation together. I certainly agree that we should make certain that our privatized reactors do not experience a protracted lapse in authority that will surely delay the implementation of important programs. But I want to point out that energy security and national security are very much related, and both are integral parts of our overall economic security. Nuclear power, science and technology are vital to this country. Nuclear generation provides 20 percent of our electricity and is the largest contributor to avoiding emissions. If we are to meet the future demand for electricity we will have to build more nuclear plants to augment the present fleet. All over the world, nations are considering building new nuclear facilities. The current administration wants to move forward with new plants that use new, more efficient nuclear technologies that reduce the volume of spent fuel and have even more safety features than the current plants which have unparalleled safety records. The law was put together to support both aspects of nuclear operations. They have worked very well together. I would agree with my fellow Senators who have just spoken on this matter. I was proud to have reintroduced the Price-Anderson reauthorization bill and was very pleased when the Senate voted overwhelming to include my Price-Anderson amendment on the energy bill. It is important that we reauthorize the entirety of this statute and I look forward to continuing to work with my fellow Senators to ensure that the Price-Anderson Act is reauthorized this Congress.

Mr. WARNER. I agree with my colleagues that reauthorization of Price-Anderson, both for DOE contractors and for NRC licensees is a priority for the Nation. I am hopeful that these two provisions to extend Price-Anderson will soon be enacted into law.

Mr. ALLARD. Mr. President, we just passed an amendment that will require the Missile Defense Agency to provide yet another report. While we accepted this amendment, I believe it is redundant and wasteful. The danger in classifying information on targets and countermeasures for future missile defense tests has been surprising, at best. The Missile Defense Agency (MDA) informed us some time ago that such information would be classified as testing becomes more sophisticated.

From the last three successful long-range intercept test successes, MDA has begun a progressive and more rigorous testing program to evaluate these technologies. These technologies include countermeasure to missile defenses that our adversaries might use and the means MDA devises to overcome those countermeasures. MDA has laid in a structure and process to identify likely or possible countermeasures and to assess their potential effectiveness; and to identify and assess possible counter-countermeasures.

I can’t resist noting that the majority has just funded for this function in its missile defense proposals in this bill. I think if they were that concerned about countermeasures, perhaps they wouldn’t have made this cut.

After MDA has identified these countermeasures it designs and builds them. That’s the only way MDA can test against them. Detailed knowledge of ballistic missile defense countermeasures techniques—techniques that we may be developing ourselves to test the strengths and weaknesses of our missile defense systems—could lead our adversaries to develop capabilities that can defeat our systems.

I don’t believe anyone wants to reveal information that might compromise our security. We should not share information on targets and countermeasures with the likes of Iran, Iraq, and North Korea.

I am concerned with those who believe that Congress should have access to all relevant information related to missile defense tests. MDA has assured me that it will provide us with this information. All members, and staff with appropriate clearances, will have access to the information of received classified information related to targets and countermeasures prior to the last long-range missile defense test.

To those who suggest that this move is designed to disguise or hide missile defense test failures, I would note that test successes or failures really can’t be hidden. Congress will have access to all the information, classified or otherwise. With this information, it will be clear to the public whether the interceptor hit the target or not. Classification may actually make it harder for MDA to demonstrate success to the public because it can’t make details of the test public. Most of almost all military tests are classified. Have we ever explained to our adversaries how to defeat stealth technologies? Why would we do so with missile defense technology?

The decision to classify this information meets the criteria of Executive order 12958 that guides all DOD agencies in decisions on these matters. This executive order notes that information can be classified if it relates to “military plans, weapons systems, or operations” and “vulnerabilities or capabilities of systems... relating to the national security”; or if release of the information could reasonably be expected to “reveal information that would assist in the development or use of weapons of mass destruction.”

I believe MDA countermeasures and targets information qualifies in all three categories.

Is classification premature? I don’t think so. We hope to have early missile defense capabilities in the field in the not too distant future. These capabilities will be based on test assets. Publicly revealing the weaknesses of our test systems to our adversaries simply doesn’t make any sense. At this time, I would also like to make a few more points regarding the original cuts made by the Majority to the missile defense programs.

While I am very happy that the $814 million cut was restored by the Warner/Allard amendment, I am concerned that there is confusion that the second degree amendment in some way reflects that this Senate believes that the President does not have the flexibility to spend the money as he sees fit. The criticism of MDA for classifying details of the test public. Details of all missile test failures, I would note that the intercept hit the target or not. The decision to classify this information meets the criteria of Executive order 12958 that guides all DOD agencies in decisions on these matters. This executive order notes that information can be classified if it relates to “military plans, weapons systems, or operations” and “vulnerabilities or capabilities of systems... relating to the national security”; or if release of the information could reasonably be expected to “reveal information that would assist in the development or use of weapons of mass destruction.”
degree amendment does not preclude the President from deciding where to spend the money—missile defense or counter-terrorism. And that is certainly my understanding, as well as the ranking member of the Armed Services Committee.

One of the major criticisms stated by the majority is the expenditure rates for Ballistic Missile Defense projects, particularly the rate of expenditure in the BMD System program element. The Missile Defense Agency is attempting to develop a single integrated ballistic missile defense system capable of attacking missiles of varying ranges in all phases of flight and defeating missiles of all ranges.

Thus MDA has shifted from an element-centric approach with a focus on THAAD, PAC-3, NTW, NMD etc., to a system-centric approach that knits each of the elements into an integrated whole. The goal is to develop a seamless toot-kick of sensors, shooters, platform, battle management, and command and control assets that function as a single integrated BMD system.

Critical to this refocusing are integration efforts to tie disparate BMD projects into a coordinated whole. The BMD System program element is key to success in the endeavor.

But the chairman seems to argue that some funding will be left over at the end of fiscal year 2002 and thus not all the funding requested for fiscal year 2003 will be needed. I strongly disagree and several points need to be made.

The 2002 budget was approved late. The FY 2002 defense authorization act wasn’t signed until January of this year, at the end of the first quarter of the fiscal year. MDA projects—and all other DOD projects—were late in getting FY 2002 funds.

The expenditures that the chairman cited are already out of date. The figures in the expenditure figures from March 31, less than three months after MDA started receiving 2002 funds. The figure updated for the end of April is already about $100 million.

The end of year expenditure projection for this program element is about half the funds appropriated. More than 90 percent will be obligated. These figures are well within expected ranges.

I have the Missile Defense Agency project going all their major project activities. All appear to be within expected ranges.

It is also very important to remember that the funding request in the BMD System program element is all R&D money. R&D funding is available for obligation for two years and available for expenditure until disbursed or rescinded. Congress provides extended availability for R&D funding specifically to help assure funding stability and planning and contractual flexibility.

If we accept the argument that we can cut funding in this program element because MDA will have Fiscal Year 02 funds left over, we have to accept the argument that the whole rationale for providing extended availability for R&D funding is flawed. We may as well go ahead and cut all R&D programs that have any funding left over from the previous year.

I don’t think any one believes we should do that.

Citing an outdated expenditure figure for this program element so early in the fiscal year is frankly misleading and I believe misguided.

Another concern I had with the majority’s cuts was the $147 million reduction in program operations. This reduction may sound mundane but is critical to the success of the programs.

The majority has justified the cuts on grounds that the funding is redundant and excessive. The committee report notes that program operations are adequately funded in each Missile Defense Agency program element and program operations funds justified in separate lines in each program element simply aren’t needed. So the Armed Services Committee bill cuts each and every one of these funds.

But this justification is simply wrong. It is simply mistaken to state that the funding for program operations is redundant to funding elsewhere in the MDA budget. Not only is it mistaken, this funding reduction is extraordinarily damaging to the Missile Defense Agency.

What are “program operations?” Program operations are people. They provide the basic support for any program. They provide technology support—the computer support people. They provide communications support. They provide security. They provide contract support. They support infrastructure and facilities.

It is true that this is done at the project level. The THAAD project fund program operations unique to the THAAD project. Each MDA projects fund program operations unique to that project.

But the simple fact is that the program operations funds in each project are not used for same purposes as the funds that have been cut in Armed Services Committee bill. The funds cut by the Committee bill are not for activities unique to any particular project. They are for common program support.

The funds identified in the MDA budget for program operations will be used to support and contractors for common program support at Missile Defense Agency Headquarters and for the service executive agents for missile defense programs. The Missile Defense Agency is required by law section 251 (d) of the Fiscal Year 1996 National Defense Authorization Act to request these funds in separate program elements.

This bill cuts almost all of this funding—$147 million of $185 million requested, or nearly 80 percent.

What does this cut do? This reduction cuts nearly 1,000 people who provide basic support for Missile Defense Agency projects and activities. Army Space and Missile Defense Command will lose almost 400 people. The Army Program Executive Office for Air and Missile Defense will lose another 60. Missile Defense Agency Headquarters will lose around 400. The National Air and Space Intelligence Center will lose 75.

Heres how MDA describes the impact:

The majority of Army SMDC and Army PRO-AMD staffs would be eliminated.

Air Force and Navy organizations responsible for missile defense programs would be cut back and/or sharing of common program management costs would be eliminated.

All contract support at MDA for program operations would be eliminated, including computer center and thus computers shut down; no security (technical or physical), no staffing for supply/mail room, cleaning, and facility maintenance.

A contractor support functions, common acquisition management functions performed by MDA, e.g. contracting, financial management, cost estimating, human resources.

That is an incredible hit on any organization.

Could MDA recover by redirecting funds to cover these functions? If these cuts survive the process, MDA would have to move money into activities in direct contravention of Congressional intent which is usually a pretty bad idea.

But even if MDA were to try use project funds to perform these program-wide activities, the agency would be in the position of trying to use new people to do many of these jobs. The Missile Defense Agency simply could not do this in anything approaching a timely manner. Consider contracting support. The whole thrust of the missile defense program has changed, moving toward a single integrated missile defense system and away from autonomous “stove-piped” systems. This will inevitably mean contract changes as the architecture evolves. Yet MDA’s institutional memory would have been surgically excised by this reduction at precisely the time it is needed most. So MDA would take a double hit—a cut to project funds to pay for program operations, and inefficient and ineffective program operations because all the people who did that job will have been fired.

The 80 percent reduction to program operation is just one example of how damaging the missile defense reductions in this bill. It is inconsistent with good management, current law, and common sense. I cannot say if the majority simply erred in this reduction, or if the intent was to cripple the organization.

Another program that was it hard by the majority’s missile defense cuts deals with countermeasures—which for me makes these cuts even more surprising.

Many critics on the majority side have argued that simply countermeasures can render missile defenses ineffective. They have said we would use missile defense technology and testing as too simple, and not sensitive enough to the measures our enemies might take.
to defeat our defenses. The former Director of Operational Test and Evaluation Phil Coyle used to make this argument in his official capacity and had many recommendations about how to improve what he saw as deficiencies. The chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee repeated the view that simply countermeasures may be able to defeat missile defenses.

The Missile Defense Agency agreed that countermeasures represent a significant challenge, and has structured a significant part of its program to meet this challenge. Here’s what they have done:

MDA moved from an architecture that relied very heavily on intercepting enemy missiles and warheads in their terminal phase, the final phase of flight as these weapons approach their target, to an architecture that seeks to intercept missiles and warheads in all phases of flight—boost, midcourse, and terminal. The missiles and warheads fly ballistically toward their target as well as terminal phase. Countermeasures to defenses in any one phase of flight are greatly complicated by attacking missiles and warheads with midcourse interception programs. The Airborne Laser program, for example, reduces in boost phase intercepts the view that simply countermeasures our adversaries might develop or obtain and then deploy. This bill cuts almost half of the funding for the Red, White and Blue teams. This reduction is the result of the 7% reduction to Ballistic Missile Defense System program element. A key project in that program element is system engineering and analysis. That’s where the Red, White and Blue team is funded. This bill decimates this key effort. These reductions severely damage the effort to defeat BMD countermeasures—an effort that everyone—Republicans, Democrats, MDA, and missile defense critics—believes is critical. The rationale for these reductions, to be clarified. Let me end my statement by summarizing some of the majority’s arguments which we have heard during the course of this debate.

First, funding is not adequately justified or unclear what product will be provided.

Not true. The committee has received hundreds of pages of justification which describes in tremendous detail activities to develop and deploy countermeasures that our adversaries may develop or deploy.

MDA initiated technology efforts in the midcourse defense segment to develop counter-countermeasures and advanced kill vehicles to defeat countermeasures that our adversaries may develop or deploy.

MDA initiated a “Red, White, and Blue” team and a process to objectively assess the types of countermeasures that might be developed and deployed and the countermeasures that could be developed to counter them. The Red team assesses the likelihood and technical feasibility and effectiveness of various countermeasures; the Blue team analyzes ways to defeat the countermeasures and does basic technical work to protect the counter-countermeasures; and the White team is the referee to make sure that proposals and assessments from the Red and Blue teams are fair.

Given the concerns expressed by our majority about the ability of adversaries to produce countermeasures that defeat our defenses, you would want that these efforts would among those receiving the strongest support in this bill. If you thought that, you would be wrong. This bill decimates each of these approaches.

The bill makes extraordinarily deep reductions in boost phase intercept projects. The Airborne Laser program—cut by about a quarter—there is almost no funding for anything beyond the first prototype aircraft. Funding for space-based kinetic boost phase interceptors is eliminated. Funding for sea-based boost phase interceptors is eliminated. Space-based laser? That was killed last year. And now we are told to make a $52 million reduction to Navy mid-course missile defense, and concept development and risk reduction effort to produce Navy missile defenses against medium, intermediate, and long-range missiles.

The bill cuts all the funding—100 percent of the funding—for the next generation kill vehicle and midcourse counter-countermeasures. This leaves the midcourse segment with no follow-on capabilities to intercept advanced countermeasures our adversaries might develop or obtain and then deploy. The bill cuts 7% of the funding for the BMD element. This is the Google of the midcourse defense segment to defeat our defenses. The former Democratic chair of the Senate Armed Services Committee believes is critical.

The committee got over 100 pages of similar material detailing these activities in a minute detail. The second argument is that the funding is redundant.

Again, not true. There is a semantic problem in considering “system engineering.” System engineering takes place at the system level and the at the element level. The system level effort integrates all the disparate elements into a seamless whole. At the element level—or perhaps we would better call this “element engineering”—provides for integration between the parts of an element. For example, the THAAD program spends about 10 percent of its time on “system engineering” to assure that the THAAD components—radar, missile, launcher, BM&C—are work together seamlessly. This is not the same work that is being done at the BMD system level. The system engineering and integration across elements of the BMD system is being done at a much more detailed level and more systemically than in the past. This is new or expanded work. On reason this work hasn’t been done so much is the past is because of the former ABM Treaty constraints. A third argument is that the funding is premature.

Once again, not true. Much of this work has not been done before. It is needed to implement the new concept of missile defense as a single integrated system. If this work isn’t started and can’t continue now—the effectiveness of all missile defense systems will be degraded; deployment of effective missile defense will be delayed; costs will increase, since each element will have to “carry more of the load” and element-centric work... will have to be redone later to make it compatible with a single integrated system. The start or expansion of this work coincides with establishment and stand-up of the National Team.

As I mentioned earlier but I believe is important to emphasize, it has also been argued that some funding will be left over at the end of fiscal year 2002 and thus not all the funding requested for fiscal year 2003 will be needed. Although the 2002 budget was approved late, the obligation and expenditure rate was accelerated, and integration funding request, at 2 percent of the MDA budget of the budget, is modest.

Standard text (Essentials of Project and Systems Engineering Management) estimates requested resources for systems engineering to be 4-8 percent of total project cost. Costs tend to be higher for complicated projects.

MDA’s system and element level engineering and integration funding request, at 2 percent of the MDA budget of the budget, is modest.

Fourth, that the funding is excessive. Once again, not true.

MDA’s BMD system level engineering and integration funding request, at 2 percent of the MDA budget of the budget, is modest.

Title XII of the administration’s National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2003 contains several provisions that not only fall within the jurisdiction of the Committee on Environment and Public Works, which I chair, but proposes changes to our environmental and permit authority under the Clean Air Act, which I believe to be necessary, broad, and—judging from the volume of mail I already have received—very controversial. The administration contends that these changes are needed for military readiness and training. However, it has not been demonstrated that is the case.

One provision could permanently extend the timeline for DoD’s conformity analysis, required under the Clean Air Act, by 3 years for all activities broadly referred to as military readiness activities, without regard to whether there is a national security emergency or other need for such an extension.

Another provision attempts to permanently exempt the DoD from broad aspects of Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, RCRA, regulation and cleanup. The proposal significantly changes the definition of “solid waste,” the crux of the RCRA statute. The proposal would exempt munitions that were determined to be necessary or normal and expected use on an operational range. The proposal also may exempt munitions wastes that remain after the range becomes “non-operational” a term not found in environmental law—prohibiting EPA and preempting the states from regulating the cleanup of the vast majority of unexploded ordnance, explosives and related materials that contaminate closed, transferring and transferred training ranges.

By exempting munitions-related materials from RCRA, the proposal could prohibit EPA and states from acting to address munitions-related environmental contamination that is not on a range at all, but has migrated from the range entirely off-site. The exemption also extends to any facility—not just training ranges—with munitions-type waste, which may include plants that manufacture explosives and other manufacturing facilities run by defense contractors. It is possible that the exemption extends to waste streams from the manufacture of explosives since the exemption covers “constituents.” The proposal also provides exemptions from the Comprehensive Environmental Response Compensation and Liability Act or Superfund. “Explosives unexploded ordnance, munitions, munitions fragments or constituents thereof” would be permanently exempted from the definition of “release” under Superfund. In addition, because the definition of “solid waste” under RCRA triggers coverage as a “hazardous waste” under Superfund, the broad RCRA exemption would exempt munitions-related waste from regulation, cleanup, under Superfund. This could similarly tie the hands of the states to compel cleanup.

By affecting the definition of “hazardous substance,” the proposal may preclude states and natural resources trustees from pursuing restoration of areas contaminated by munitions waste—this affects the “natural resource damages” section of the Superfund law. The proposal also may eliminate a proposal in the conference report to the Fiscal Year 2003 appropriation bill that would preclude the Service from designating critical habitat on military lands with the use of military land for military training. If the Fish and Wildlife Service determines that the plan addresses special management considerations, they can decide not to designate critical habitat. Although the Service in the past has excluded some bases from critical habitat designation based on an INRMP, in numerous other decisions, the Service has expressly found that an INRMP would not provide adequate protection in lieu of critical habitat designation.

Under the Endangered Species Act, the Service is required to consider “the importance of national security” when designating critical habitat. This proposal would preclude the Service from designating critical habitat if an INRMP has been completed.

The proposal would exempt military readiness activities under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act—MBTA—without further action by the Secretary of the Interior. It would exempt the DOD from the requirement, applicable to everyone else and founded on treaties between the United States and Canada, Mexico—Japan, that they obtain a permit from the Fish and Wildlife Service before killing migratory birds or destroying their eggs. Such action could be carried out without any assessment of biological impact, effort to mitigate or seek alternative, oversight or accountability.

In March of 2002, a court ruled that the MBTA applied to training activities at the Farallon de Medinilla range in the Western Pacific and enjoined the Navy from continuing the bombing activities there. The Navy has applied for a special purpose permit under the MBTA allowing for incidental take and are completing the biological justification. While the MBTA does not have an exemption for national security, it does provide for permits to be issued if the urgency of the training is determined by the Secretary of the Interior to be compelling justification and there can be compensation for the biological benefits of birds that may be taken.

It is my hope that during the conference with the House on this legislation, the provisions in the House bill amending the Endangered Species Act and the Migratory Bird Treaty Act be deleted. The Committee on Environment and Public Works is the appropriate committee to examine the need for any such environmental legislation and to make such legislation.

Mr. BYRD. Mr. President, I have serious concerns about the amendments that have just been adopted to add $814 million to either missile defense funding or combating terrorism. We have heard from half of deprivations of these amendments, which relate to one of the great issues of our national defense policy. I am stunned that these important amendments were accepted without a rollcall vote.

My concern with these amendments is numerous. The supposed offset for these additional funds is, at the moment, nothing more than a work of fiction. Supposedly, the Office of Management and Budget, in its mid-session review, will redetermine its estimate of the inflation rate. Not only is this report yet to be released, but also we are making budget decisions based upon projections that may or may not pan out.

In addition, the amendments backtrack on cuts in the missile defense program made by the Armed Services Committee. As a member of that committee, I think that we made the right choices on trimming a missile defense program, and it was far better to cut a program that remains in an elementary phrase. By pouring so much money so quickly into missile defense programs, we are only encouraging a rush to failure. I am especially alarmed that these amendments allow for more in missile defense funding at a time when the programs are becoming increasingly shrouded in secrecy, as if the Pentagon wishes to stifle public debate about the utility and effectiveness of anti-missile systems.

The amendments leave the decision about whether to use $814 million for missile defense or for combating terrorism entirely to the President. There is an alarming trend in Congress to simply delegate the decisions on many important issues to the Chief Executive. The President is the Commander-in-Chief of the military, but the Constitution charges Congress with the authority to "raise and support armies" and to "provide and maintain a navy." The Founding Fathers of this country clearly intended to have Congress determine how the funds intended for our national defense would be allocated.

The amendment today delegates, from the Congress to the President, the decision of how to use $814 million. It is an avoidance of our constitutional responsibilities. The amendment offered by the chairman of the Armed Services Committee establishes the top priority for these funds to be used for combating terrorism at home and abroad, but I have no idea for what purposes these funds could be used. I do not know whether I would have supported this amendment, but it is part of a bill. Senator Byrd and Senator Durbin and Senator Kennedy did not have the opportunity to cast to vote on this proposal.

I had even greater concerns about the underlying amendment, offered by the ranking member of the Armed Services Committee. In the statement of the source of the $814 million, the potential for the funds to restore the well-justified cuts in missile defense programs, and its delegation to the President of an important decision on the funding of our military. But again, I did not have the opportunity to register my vote.

I hope that my colleagues would take a more careful look at what powers we invest in the President. We should also take a look at how we dispose of such important business as increasing the missile defense budget by $814 million. We must never allow ourselves to be absolved of our constitutional responsibilities to decide and vote on matters of such importance.

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, I thank the distinguished chairman and ranking member of the Armed Services Committee for their assistance and support in authorizing funding for a military construction project of critical importance to the State of Tennessee and the United States. I also thank the skilled staff members on the Senate Armed Services Committee who assisted this action: George Lauffer and Michael McCarter.

The amendment in question was advanced by Fred Thompson and I to authorize $8.4 million in funding for the construction of a Composite Aircraft Maintenance Complex at Berry Field Guard Base in Nashville, TN. This important project is vital to the combat readiness for the 118th Air Wing of the Tennessee Air National Guard. Currently, the 118th is housed in a variety of substandard buildings, some of which are more than 40 years old. This construction project will allow the 118th to operate on a daily basis flying active duty missions. Back at home station, Command and Control has been operating 24/7 ever since September 11. The 118th Command Post and Crisis Action Team have played a critical role in the direction and guidance of the unit’s response to every assignment and emergency that has arisen. The base medical department, normally 24 hours, full time response to 132 in order to support the increasing number of wing personnel now on active duty.

In conclusion, on behalf of the men and women of the 118th Airlift Wing, Senator THOMPSON and myself, I would like to thank Chairman BIDEN, ranking member, and our Senate colleagues for authorizing this important funding.

Mr. BIDEN. Mr. President, the Senate returned yesterday to an issue which, in recent years, has polarized our debate on national security and foreign policy. An amendment proposed by Senator WARNER allowed the President to add $314 million to the research and development budget for missile defense, money that was not requested by the Armed Services Committee.

It also provided the President the authority to allocate these funds to “antiterrorism” projects, but I have no reason to believe the President would choose that option. Senator WARNER’s amendment was passed with a second-degree amendment by Senator LEVIN that emphasized that combating terrorism should be the top priority for the use of these funds. Although the President could still allocate the entire $314 million to missile defense activities.

It has been my hope that the formal U.S. withdrawal from the Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty, an event which took place less than 2 weeks ago, would emerge as a real turning point in the debate over national missile defense. From this point forward, I fervently wish that officials of all stripes—executive and legislative, Democratic and Republican—would focus on actual missile defense as we would any other major defense initiative.

The touchstone for evaluating any missile defense must be the test that the American people sent us here to propound: Will this program make the United States more secure, or less so? Will national missile defense be operationally effective under real-world conditions, or will it remain a system that no commander can rely on?

Senators of the Warner amendment was not a final decision on the future of national missile defense, nor was it a referendum on the President’s decision to withdraw from the ABM Treaty. Even if the amendment had fallen, the Senate would still have authorized $6.8 billion in fiscal year 2003 on missile defense activities, a significant sum of money of any measure.

The proponents of the Warner amendment contended that an $814 million reduction in an administration request totaling $8.3 billion would seriously hamper our Nation’s efforts to move forward on missile defense. Let’s take a closer look at a couple of these reductions proposed by the Armed Services Committee:

A cut of $200 million for a number of overhead activities, variously described as “Program Operations” or “Systems Engineering and Integration.” This was another multiple time in the Administration’s budget request. The administration cited this particular cut as an attempt by missile defense opponents to block the effective integration of missile defense components.

Despite repeated requests by the Armed Services Committee, however, the Missile Defense Agency never justified these duplicative requests or explained how they would fit together to enhance system integration.

A reduction of $30 million, requested by the administration for the purchase of a second Airborne Laser prototype aircraft. However, the Pentagon does not plan to test the first Airborne laser aircraft until fiscal year 2005. Doesn’t it make sense that we purchase of a second model until you get some feedback from the testing of the initial model? After all, there are real questions regarding payload and beam stability in bad weather, which relate as much to the aircraft as to the laser.

Contrary to what missile defense advocates contended, the Armed Services Committee did not set out to destroy our national missile defense effort. If that has been their intention the committee could have cut more than $514 million in a $7.6 billion budget.

This debate was also over priorities. How should the United States spend an extra national defense dollar: On missile defense or on other more pressing needs? In my view, when we consider underfunded antiterrorism missions, one stands out above the others.

Our first line of defense in today’s world should be to ensure that rogue states or groups are prevented from obtaining weapons of mass destruction or the materials needed to make them. We spend between $1 and $2 billion a year toward this goal. We are nowhere close to the levels recommended by numerous outside experts, including the bipartisan task force headed by Howard Baker and Lloyd Cutler a year ago, which advocated spending approximately $3 billion per year.

The committee’s original reduction would have still provided funding for our missile defense efforts that was four to six times what we spend on threat reduction programs. Putting aside the overall merits of national missile defense, I ask one simple question: Why can’t we show the same sense of urgency and offer the same level of resources in combating the more immediate risk to a more anonymous nuclear weapon delivered without a ballistic missile, but hidden in the hull of a ship or smuggled in the trunk of a car?

Were this any other weapons system but national missile defense, I doubt the Senate would have amended such a modest and sensible committee-recommended funding reduction. Major weapons programs often encounter problems. My friends on the Armed Services Committee are all too familiar with unpredictable testing schedules, skyrocketing budgets, and the need to maintain effective oversight with respect to all weapons programs. So and it is with national missile defense.

The Armed Services Committee recommended some judicious cuts in missile defense funding, contended that an $814 million reduction would seriously hamper our Nation’s efforts to move forward on missile defense. Let’s take a closer look at a couple of these reductions proposed by the Armed Services Committee:

A cut of $200 million for a number of overhead activities, variously described as “Program Operations” or “Systems Engineering and Integration.” This was another multiple time in the Administration’s budget request. In truth, title XIV is an attack without justification on the traditional management of wilderness and other nonmilitary public lands.

I wish to add my voice to the voices of Representative IKE SKELTON and 19 other House Democrats serving on the Armed Services Committee who noted in the committee report that:

“The military use language of title XIV is unprecedented and not found in any other law. Ironically, these provisions encroach on the federal government’s role to be subordinate to a civilian government for wilderness management that would provide less protection to the wilderness areas designated by title XIV than the protections available to non-designated public lands. Millions of acres of designated wilderness and millions more acres of public land underlie military airspace across the United States. None of these lands have or need the restrictive language that title XIV would apply to wilderness and public lands in Utah.”

“Language in title XIV would strip the authority of the Secretary of the Interior to determine where and whether facilities and equipment are placed on public lands within wilderness areas. Another provision allows the Secretary of the Air Force to unilaterally close or restrict access to wilderness and WSAs outside the boundaries of the UTTTR and the Dugway Proving Grounds. These provisions are unprecedented, and no clear rationale has been given for this change from existing law. Moreover, title XIV creates a different standard for access and military use for land in Utah that is applicable to all other public land areas of the United States.”

Furthermore, title XIV requires the Secretary of the Interior to gain the prior concurrence of the Secretary of the Air Force and the commander-in-chief of the military forces of the State of Utah before developing, maintaining, and use plans required by Federal law for millions of acres of public lands in Utah. It is unwise policy, to say the least, for a Cabinet secretary’s role to be subordinate to a service secretary and a state military commander.”

Taken together, the provisions in title XIV go far beyond any language ever included in enacted wilderness legislation, they put in place unprecedented high levels of Department of Defense control for all nonmilitary public lands falling under the air-space of the Utah test and Training Range, and they designate as wilderness, albeit wilderness in name only, a small portion of lands in the Red Rock Wilderness, and they designate as wilderness areas of the Utah test and Training Range, and they designate as wilderness areas of the Air Force and the commander-in-chief of the military forces of the United States.

Furthermore, title XIV contains the provision that the Secretary of the Air Force to unilaterally close or restrict access to wilderness and WSAs across the United States.

Again, I urge my colleagues who will serve on the conference for this bill to reject any permanent weakening of or permanent waivers enabling the circumvention of our Nation’s environmental laws.

Mr. BUNNING. Mr. President, I was proud to support the recent passage of S. 2514, the National Defense Authorization Act for fiscal year 2003. This bill continues to strengthen our military and is vital to the war on terrorism.

This is the most important bill we have debated in the Senate all year. The threats against us are real and I am pleased the Senate acted swiftly in passing this strong defense package. This bill authorizes $393.4 billion for national defense. That is $43 billion above the 2002 level, and the largest defense spending increase in over 20 years.

We are in this war against terrorism for the long haul and our increased military funding is justified. We now have troops on the ground in Afghanistan, the Philippines, and many other places we could not have foreseen before September 11. Depending on what happens as we fight this war, we may have to deploy our troops elsewhere to contain and battle threats against our Nation and freedoms.

This bill focuses on five objectives for our national defense. First, it provides for increases in the compensation and quality of life for our soldiers, retirees and their families. For the fourth year in a row this bill includes a 4.1 percent across the board pay raise for all military personnel, with a targeted pay raise between 5.5 and 6.5 percent for mid-career personnel. A new assignment incentive pay of up to $1,500 per month is authorized to encourage personnel to volunteer for hard-to-fill positions and assignments.

The bill rewards our retirees and disabled veterans. The bill authorizes concurrent receipt of retired military pay and veterans’ disability compensation for all disabled military retirees eligible for non-disability retirement.

For our troops with families, this bill increases the housing allowance, with the goal of eliminating average out-of-pocket housing expenses by 2005. And over $640 million is being added above the budget request to improve and replace facilities. This will help improve the housing, dining and recreation facilities for our trainees and troops.

The quality of life issues boost the morale of our troops, and send a strong signal that we in Congress and across the Nation appreciate their defense of America and her freedoms.

Secondly, this bill also contains those necessary readiness funds to allow the services to conduct the full range of their assigned missions. We have added $126 million for firing range enhancements so that we can properly train our troops to fight and win.

And to show that defense is a top priority for our Nation, this bill authorizes the administration’s $10 billion request to cover the operational costs of the ongoing war on terrorism for next year. After speaking with various military leaders and hearing their testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee, we heard how important the issue of readiness is with our branch of the military today. This bill addresses this important issue by funding the most pressing shortfalls.

Third, in this bill we also address the goal of improving efficiency and increasing savings with DOD programs and operations. These savings will allow us to redirect and focus on high-priority programs within the DOD.

Some of these provisions include $400 million in anticipated savings by deferring spending on financial systems that would not be consistent with financial management systems available and used by non-government entities. Soon we will have a system to better keep track of valuable service funds. This brings not only savings, but accountability to the DOD and the services. Although the DOD’s mission is more unique than any other Federal department, it is not immune to wasteful and duplicative spending which we often see in other Federal departments.

Furthermore, this bill holds a provision requiring the DOD to establish new internal controls to address repeat problems with the abuse of credit cards as seen with the DOD programs. These essential and questionable travel spending by military and civilian personnel. And with the $393.4 billion we are authorizing in this bill, it is imperative now more than ever that we have a sense of accuracy and oversight reasons and for the sake of making sure we are giving the taxpayers the biggest bang for the buck. After all, this bill spends more than $1 billion a day on national defense activities. For that price, the taxpayers should get their money’s worth.

Fourth, this bill also helps our military meet more non-traditional threats, We increased funding for fighting these threats to help secure our nuclear weapons and materials at Department of Energy facilities, and defend against chemical and biological weapons and other weapons of mass destruction.

Finally, our Senate Armed Services Committee wanted to be sure that our military always stay on the cutting edge of new technologies and strategies to meet the threats of the 21st century. From embracing new information of our forces is not easy. But it is essential. This bill helps us to promote a new mind set for the future. I know it is tough to wean ourselves off of some of the legacy systems and structures in place in our armed forces. And I know that some in our armed forces are skeptical about change. But we have to begin to think differently. The world is changing, and not necessarily for the better. Our military has to keep up with that change.

When I was an Appropriator in the Senate Armed Services Committee, I did not agree with the fact that it originally slashed missile defense spending by just over $800 million. This drastically altered President Bush's national security strategy and made our Nation and allies more vulnerable to a possible missile attack.

But thankfully we found a way on the Senate floor during the bill's consideration not only to cut the $800 million back to President Bush's missile defense priorities to protect America. I was proud to cosponsor an amendment which fulfilled this obligation by using expected DOD inflationary savings and adjustments. This offset was responsible because it did not cut any other valuable DOD programs needed to strengthen our military. And I was pleased that this was a bipartisan effort by the Senate with the amendment's unanimous acceptance.

But the House version of this amendment was accepted. Without it, this vital bill was jeopardized. After all, Secretary Rumsfeld, in a letter to the Senate Armed Services Committee's version of the bill were to be adopted by Congress, I would recommend to the President that he veto the Fiscal Year 2003 National Defense Authorization Act. So, its inclusion helped pave the way to an optimistic path to President Bush's desk.

Finally, we have had a very intense debate about the Crusader Artillery System. I would like to note that while I supported the compromise Levin amendment last week over the Crusader program. I remain concerned about our ability to effectively support our troops with adequate fire support. Right now we are vastly under-gunned in artillery by some nations. Our own artillery systems could not even meet our requirements during the Gulf war more than a decade ago. And those systems have not significantly changed since then.

The possibility of shifting funds from Crusader to other indirect fire weapons concerns me in that we are again delaying when we will actually deploy sufficient fire support to protect our armed forces. The DOD hopes to speed up the deployment of some of these new technologies so they would be available around the same time Crusader will be. I am concerned about our ability to meet this time line.

Throwing money at a program does not necessarily mean you can magically speed up its development. Some things just take time, and Crusader is a lot farther along in the development process than many of these other technologies. I view this process closely to ensure that effective indirect fire support capability reaches our troops quickly.

Overall, this is a solid bill. The sooner we get this bill to President Bush, the better chance we have at proving our military with the essential training and strength resources to fight terrorism or anything else that seeks to destroy America, our people and our freedom.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I wish to clarify my comments concerning my amendment to authorize, with an offset, $1,000,000 for research, development, test, and evaluation, defense-wide, for analysis and assessment of efforts to counter possible agroterrorist attacks. The amendment was adopted June 26 by voice vote. I stated then that the $1,000,000 was destined for the In-House Laboratory Independent Research and Development fund. In fact, the funds will be applied to the Chemical and Biological Defense Program (PE 0601384BP) account. The intent of the amendment, however, remains the same. It is still my hope that universities with established expertise in the agricultural sciences can conduct studies and exercises that lead to better coordination between Federal, State, and local authorities as they attempt to detect, deter, and respond to large-scale coordinated attacks on U.S. agriculture. I envision universities assisting the Department of Defense in determining what role—if any—our military or defense agencies play in countering agroterrorism. I thank my colleagues for supporting amendment No. 438.

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Mr. President, I rise today to thank the leadership on both sides of the aisle for clearing an amendment I introduced with my colleague from Alaska, Senator Stevens, to prohibit the use of nuclear armed interceptors as part of a Ballistic Missile Defense System (BMDS).

Senators LEVIN and WARNER have shown tremendous leadership by working hard to address this important issue, and I want to personally thank them for their efforts.

I want to comment briefly on the details of the amendment because I feel so strongly, as do my colleagues in the Senate, that both Chambers of Congress move to prohibit nuclear armed interceptors.

A nuclear armed interceptor is a defensive missile that uses a nuclear, rather than conventional, explosive tip to destroy its target. It is based on the premise that a large blast will overwhelm all of the components of an enemy missile.

The Washington Post reported in April of this year that the Pentagon was pursuing plans to resume research and testing of nuclear armed interceptors as part of a Ballistic Missile Defense System (BMDS).

I think this would be a great mistake and would endanger the health and safety of all Americans.

The Post reported on April 11 that the Defense Science Board, a research body within the Defense Department, received encouragement from Secretary Rumsfeld to consider using nuclear tipped warheads for a missile defense system.

On April 17, Senator STEVENS and I, as Appropriations Defense Subcommittee hearing, asked General Kadish of the Missile Defense Agency to refute the Washington Post story.

He responded that his agency would not conduct research into nuclear warheads.

To further clarify the point, we also asked Secretary Rumsfeld to address the allegation in writing. He also assured us the Pentagon would no longer encourage such testing.

Inexplicably, in this year's House Armed Services Committee report on the House passed Defense authorization bill, there is language sanctioning nuclear interceptor research. The report states:

The Department may investigate other options for ballistic missile defense nuclear armed interceptors, blast fragment warheads . . . as alternatives to current approaches.

This troubling development led Senator STEVENS and me to introduce today's amendment, which prohibits any funds from being used for nuclear armed interceptors.

Our amendment simply states:

None of the funds authorized to be appropriated by this or any other Act may be used for research, development, test, evaluation, procurement or deployment of nuclear armed interceptors of a missile defense system.

The use of nuclear armed interceptors represents a deeply troubling departure from the missile defense testing that has occurred up to this point. For the past year, the Pentagon has been pursuing a technically problematic approach to missile defense.

They have attempted to "hit a bullet with a bullet."

This means that the missile defense systems have to individually hit each incoming warhead in order to eliminate the total threat.

But under this system, the Missile Defense Agency still fails to address the decoy warheads and other countermeasures. In our systems to rapidly determine which is the actual warhead to be targeted and which is simply a decoy.
This core dilemma led the Pentagon to explore the concept of using a nuclear armed interceptor to destroy all of the incoming warheads, real and decoy alike.

Instead of targeting a particular missile, a nuclear tipped interceptor would be expected to change the trajectory of the missile, ensuring the destruction of the missile and any other objects around it.

This approach raises serious questions about the confidence the Missile Defense Agency can have in the current ‘Hit a Bullet with a Bullet’ plan.

But perhaps more importantly, this approach overlooks a laundry list of catastrophic side-effects that would accompany a nuclear blast in the atmosphere.

Even a low-yield nuclear blast in the atmosphere would have grave consequences on public health and on the global economy.

Atmospheric winds could potentially spread fallout over American or allied sovereign territory, the very territory we are trying to protect from nuclear attack.

Also the possibility of intercepting a chemical or biological weapon, and we exponentially increase the risk of spreading spores or chemical agents over a wide area.

The Electromagnetic Pulse (EMP) from an overhead nuclear blast would severely disrupt and most likely permanently damage U.S. and foreign satellites.

These are the very satellite systems we rely on to provide us with early warning and key intelligence for national security operations.

I think we all can see the serious ramifications of pursuing such an ill-advised policy, and I believe that this amendment is needed to prevent us from going down this path.

As Senators from two States that could feel the brunt of radiological, chemical or biological fall-out in the event of a missile defense activation, we are compelled to act.

But make no mistake about it, every State in the Union faces the specter of contamination.

Given the language included in the House bill promoting nuclear intercept research, it is critical the Senate take a leadership role by preventing such research and testing.

I urge my colleagues to support this amendment and inject some common sense into the debate over the future of missile defense.

Ms. SNOWE. Mr. President, I rise to speak on the Senate version of the FY2003 National Defense authorization bill.

As a former member of the Senate Armed Services Committee and former chair of the Seapower Subcommittee, I fully appreciate the hard work and long hours my colleagues in the Senate and their counterparts in the House have dedicated to the completion of the bill.

There are many important provisions in this bill. However, there are also some critical defense requirements which were overlooked. And I would like to take a moment to address those concerns.

First and foremost, with the enormous increase in the defense budget overall, I am deeply troubled that we would fail to sustain the size of our naval fleet, which has played such a critical role in the war on terror.

Admiral Gilbert J. Natter, Commander in Chief of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet, captured it best when he said “We fight them here, or we can fight them there—it’s America’s choice.” And he continued “I’d prefer to fight them there, because I know we can beat them.”

Well, we can’t fight them there without a Navy. In the opening days of Operation Enduring Freedom, our Navy fired over 90 Tomahawk cruise missiles aimed at crippling Taliban air defenses, the major majority of the air strikes in the land war. Air-craft-carrier based fighter and strike aircraft launched 60 to 80 missions a day dropping thousands of bombs on terrorists and Taliban targets. More than 70 percent involved in the action. I am proud of our Navy, but the fact of the matter is, if we do not increase the ship procurement rate, the size and strength of our fleet is going to be diminished.

If we allow this to happen, we are doing future generations a great dis-service. Because the reality is that, when the United States us unable, for whatever reason, to launch military strikes from ground bases in a region where U.S. interests are at stake, there are times when our Navy may be the only option.

Yet, the fleet was stretched too thin even before Operation Enduring Freedom. When I was chair of the Senate Seapower Subcommittee, I heard this time and again from senior Navy officials. As the war on terror continues, I believe it is more important than ever that we maintain a fleet large enough and strong enough to project the power we need in order to safeguard U.S. interests.

These are the facts. The Administration proposed in its budget to procure five new Navy ships in Fiscal Year 2003 and a total of 31 new Navy ships through Fiscal Year 2005. This is an average of 8.8 new ships per year. But we need 8.9 ships per year just to maintain a 310-ship fleet.

The size of the fleet could fall to 263 ships by 2015 to 2025 if we do not reverse this trend. Last year, Secretary Rumsfeld painted an even more dire picture, estimating that the Navy could end up with a 230 ship Navy in the 2025 time frame without substantial increases in the build rate. Contrast this with the size of our fleet in 1987 when the Navy had 568 ships.

I know that the administration recognizes the problem, and I credit them with understanding the need to build more ships in the future. The DOD and the Navy have acknowledged the need to build more ships. Last year, a study conducted by the Office of the Secretary of Defense concluded that the Navy should have 340 ships. Navy officials put the number at 376 ships. And they should know. They are the men and women who are responsible for our forward deployed forces. But we need to help them by taking action. Whatever the ultimate number, we need to reverse the current trend and begin to build a bigger fleet.

To begin to produce more ships now, because there is not doubt that the size of our naval fleet is a vital matter of national security. We can’t afford to wait any longer.

We can’t afford to risk this essential component of our world-wide defense force. After all, 80 percent of the planet’s population lives along the coastal plains of the world, and it is the Navy that has the capability that is imperative. We are to maintain military superiority and defend America’s national interests in the 21st century. For even with today’s rapidly changing and diverse security threats, there is no foreseeable future that would have a greater interest best served by a diminished naval fleet.

Despite the fact that Secretary England has endorsed funding for a third destroyer, for example, this bill fails to fund an additional ship. To maintain readiness and to sustain the industrial base, we desperately need a third destroyer authorized and funded in fiscal year 2003.

Even to maintain a 116-ship surface combatant force, given the projected service life of 35 years for DDG-51 Class ships, requires a sustained replacement rate of over three ships per year. If you assume a 30-year service life, which is more realistic historically, sustaining even the 116-ship surface combatant force would require annual procurement of almost four DDGs each year.

And at a rate of only two destroyers a year, it may be difficult to sustain the yards that have historically built these critical platforms. That is why I was pleased to team with Senator Collins to extend the multi-year procurement rate for DDG destroyers through fiscal year 2007. As chair of the Seapower Subcommittee, I secured procurement authorization for three DDGs fully funded through 2007 and this bill extends that authorization for an additional two years. It is still imperative to add a third destroyer to the fiscal year 2003 budget, but this multi-year procurement is a step in the right direction.

While I am very concerned about the failure to fully fund the shipbuilding accounts, I do believe credit is due in some other important areas. For example, the bill does make some invaluable personnel contributions. The measure includes a 4.1 percent across-the-board pay raise for all military personnel, with an additional targeted pay raise for the mid-career force. It includes a provision authorizing the concurrent receipt of military retirement pay and veterans disability compensation for military retirees with disabilities, an effort which I have long supported.

The bill also reaffirms Congress’s commitment to the war on terror by funding requirements needed to support our Soldiers, Marines, Sailors, and Airmen who are on the front lines with the planes, vehicles, ships and armaments they need to carry out their critical missions.

The bill would set aside $10 billion, as requested by the administration, to fund ongoing operations in the war against international terrorism during fiscal year 2003. And it includes substantial funding to meet asymmetrical terrorist threats including chemical, biological, and nuclear weapons and develop the agility, mobility, and survivability necessary to meet the challenges of the future.

It would increase by $199.7 million funding for systems that ensure the security of nuclear materials and nuclear weapons at Department of Energy facilities. It would increase funding for U.S. Special Operations Command by $42.7 million. Defense against chemical and biological weapons efforts to combat weapons of mass destruction would see an increase of $30.5 million. And the bill would find the request of over $2 billion for force protection improvements to DOD installations around the world.

Finally, the bill would also make possible continued improvements in the Navy’s human resources services with the authorization of $1.5 million for operation of a pilot human resource call center in Machias, Maine under an amendment I worked to include in the bill.

This call center went on-line in January of this year. I worked hard with the Navy to locate this facility in Washington to help compensate for the loss of military personnel at the Cutler Naval Computer and Telecommunications station in Cutler, a communication center used to provide contact with U.S. submarines in the North Atlantic, Mediterranean and Arctic seas. At its peak there were 220 people working at the base—110 civilians and 110 Navy personnel.

The call center establishes a single national employee benefits center for the Department of the Navy’s standardize “capability” or functions currently performed in eight separate Human Resources Service Centers. This center integrates developed computer and Internet technologies to provide updated information immediately to Navy civilians and beneficiaries who make inquiries.

In closing, let me say that I hope during the House-Senate conference on the defense authorization that we will be able to build on the foundation that has been set in this bill and make it an even stronger bill.

Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, I will vote against the National Defense Au-time Army National Guard commanders working to achieve expected readiness goals. Units that are understrength in full time support personnel have difficulty maintaining pace with current elevated Operational Tempo. Consequently, many units fail to attain readiness levels."

This bill authorizes 724 additional Active Guard/Reserve positions and 487 additional military technicians, which, according to the National Guard Bureau, are the minimum essential requirements for full-time manning for the Army National Guard. These increases match those contained in an amendment that I offered to the fiscal year 2003 budget resolution that was adopted unanimously during the Budget Committee’s markup earlier this year.

I am troubled that the Senate added to the bill the $814.3 million that the Armed Services Committee cut from the request for the non-appropriation missile defense by the unfortunate adoption of an amendment offered by the ranking member of the committee. Mr. WARNER. The amendment would allow the President to spend this money on missile defense or on defense activities for protecting the American people at home and abroad. This bill, as reported to the Senate, includes $6.8 billion for the still unproven missile defense system. While I did not originally oppose legislation authorizing development of a missile defense system, I remain skeptical about the need for such a system. Congress should maintain tight cost controls over this system, as the Armed Services Committee attempted to do by cutting $814.3 million for a number of questionable aspects of the Administration’s request. I am still concerned that the $6.8 billion in the bill is far too much for this program, but these cuts were a step in the right direction.

I am also concerned that the proposed offset for the additional funding in the Warner amendment comes from “amounts that the Secretary determines unnecessary by reason of a revision of assumptions regarding inflation that are applied as a result of the midsession review of the budget conducted by the Office of Management and Budget during the spring and early summer of 2002.” This flimsy accounting gimmick should not be cited as an offset or, unfortunately, there is no offset for this spending increase.

I am pleased that the Senate adopted a language offered by the chairman of the committee, Mr. LEVIN, that directs that priority for allocating any funds made available to the Department by a lower rate of inflation be given to “activities for protecting the American people at home and abroad by combating terrorism at home and abroad.” Clearly, the proposed missile defense system does not fit this definition. But I am hopeful that the underlying language for the Warner amendment that I oppose giving the President the option to spend additional funding on missile defense.

I am pleased that the committee included in the bill language that will help to improve congressional oversight of the missile defense program by, one, requiring that the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation conduct an annual operations assessment of the operations of the Joint Requirements Oversight Council review the cost schedule and performance criteria for the program, and, two, requiring that the Secretary conduct a review of the major elements of the missile defense program to Congress cost and schedule information similar to that required for other major defense programs.

Turning to another issue, I continue to be concerned about the Marine Corps’ troubled V-22 Osprey program. I met recently with Colonel Dan Schultz, the Marines’ V-22 Program Manager, and others to discuss the status of this program and to express my concerns about the Osprey. I appreciate Colonel Schultz for acknowledging that the Osprey is a safe and effective aircraft and his thoughtful approach to the new flight testing program, which began on May 29.

The safety of our men and women in uniform should continue to be top priority as we consider the Osprey’s future.

I am troubled that the Osprey nearly made it to a Milestone III production decision in late 2000 with extensive problems in its hydraulic system and flight control software. While I appreciate the hard work that the Marines and the contractors have done to correct these problems, I remain concerned that there is no clear answer for why these deadly problems, which combined to cause the December 2000 crash that killed four Marines, weren’t discovered much earlier.

I am also troubled by the lack of concrete information about how to avoid the phenomenon which occurs when the Osprey descends too rapidly. I remain concerned about the effect that the vortex ring state could have on the ability of the Osprey to perform in combat, especially if a pilot has to make a fast exit from a hostile situation. I will monitor closely planned extensive testing that the Marine Corps has planned to study this phenomenon and ways to help pilots avoid it.

The ongoing flight tests should provide a definitive assessment of the aircraft’s capabilities. If the Osprey is not up to the job, then the Defense Department should be prepared to consider other alternatives that will meet the needs of the Marine Corps in a safe and cost-effective manner. I will work to ensure that Congress maintains strict oversight of the testing program.

In addition, I will oppose any attempt to increase procurement of the Osprey beyond the minimum sustaining rate until the Marine Corps has demonstrated that the Osprey is safe and effective and meets or exceeds all of its performance criteria. I am still not convinced that the Osprey will work, and whether it can be made to work in a cost-effective manner.

In sum, as I have said time and time again, there are millions upon millions of dollars in this bill that are being spent on outdated, surplus or unwanted programs. This money would be better spent on programs that truly improve our readiness and modernize our Armed Forces. This money also would be better spent on efforts to improve morale of our forces, such as ensuring that all of our men and women in uniform have a decent standard of living or providing better housing for our Armed Forces and their families. For those reasons, I will oppose this bill.

Mr. JEFFORDS. Mr. President, I want to thank the chairman, the ranking member, and the staff of the Senate Armed Services Committee for their efforts to address my concerns with the current funding situation for the National Guard Competitive Sports Program. I hope this issue can be resolved in conference.

Mr. President, our world as we know it changed dramatically after the events of September 11, 2001. I believe we must support the United States in a time of war and I think the Fiscal Year 2003 National Defense Authorization Act does exactly that. However, I think we must not lose sight of the fact that we still rely on a volunteer force of the ranks of our military. This means we must, even in a time of war, continue to have a robust retention and recruiting program, especially if the war on terrorism becomes a lengthy one. The best recruiting and retention programs are those that enable the services to get out and interact with the public, which brings me to an issue I would like to see rectified in conference.

We need a minor change in current law which would allow National Guard units to use a small amount of appropriated funds to sponsor sports competitions and send Guard members to those competitions. As the law reads now, only non-appropriated funds may be used to cover expenses such as health, pay, and personal expenses for participating National Guard members. Unlike our active forces, the National Guard does not have access to non-appropriated funds as they do not own or operate non-appropriated functions, such as military exchanges, commissaries, and the like.

Unlike Active Duty military personnel who have all health, pay, and personal expenses covered while participating in competitive sports, National Guard members are not on duty while competing in sporting events, and thus are not covered. For example, if a National Guard member suffers an injury while competing at the marks- manship competition, the service mem-

For example, if a National Guard member suffers an injury while competing at the marks- manship competition, the service mem-members on orders, as occur when military reservists participate in these competitions, is not a solution to the coverage issue.

The senior Senator from Vermont and I had hoped to offer an amendment to allow the Army Guard to Dr. Bell, the National Guard, to be directed off a limited amount of appropriated funds, capped at $2.5 million per year, on its sports program. It should be emphasized that we only seek to allow the National Guard to participate in the same manner as the Active Duty military. The House overwhelmingly passed a National Guard Sports amendment offered by Representative Bereuter to their Fiscal Year 2003 National Defense Act, which is identical to the change I seek. I urge the chairman and ranking member to adopt the Bereuter provision in the Senate bill when the Fiscal Year 2003 National Defense Authorization Act goes to conference.

On 17 June 2002, Colonel Willie Davenport, Chief of the National Guard Bureau's Office of Sports Management, passed away while on travel between duty stations. I did not know Colonel Davenport, but my staff informs me that he was by all appearances a gentle, gracious man. My staff worked extensively with Colonel Davenport in preparing an amendment concerning National Guard Sports. I read the Guard’s recent press release concerning Colonel Davenport, and I was moved by his accomplishments as a teacher, mentor, coach, and soldier. What many may not know is that Colonel Davenport while serving as a soldier was also a five-time Olympian. He won Gold in the 110-meter high hurdles while representing the United States in the 1968 summer Olympics in Mexico City, and that was only the beginning. Colonel Davenport went on from there to represent the Army and the United States in a variety of capacities in the competitive sports world. He coached the All-Army Track and Field team from 1993–1996, which was undefeated all 4 years. Colonel Davenport in his capacity as a teacher, mentor, coach, soldier and Olympian made a very positive, and lasting impression on a good number of young men and women who came to know, work, and enjoy his company. A man of his character and accomplishment will be missed. We know that he has prepared a good number of others to carry on the path ahead. Colonel Davenport had a dream. His dream was to develop a program that would train and sponsor premier Army and Air National Guard athletes for international competition.

Colonel Davenport’s National Guard Competitive Events Sports Program provides National Guard members with an opportunity to hone their training-related skills, such as running, swimming, and marksmanship, in a competitive atmosphere. As the National Guard results increase in number, this can be another feature in recruitment and retention programs for certain members of the National Guard.

Through these competitions, National Guard members can qualify for higher-level national and international competitions, including the Pan American Games and the Olympics.

National Guard members who compete in these competitions could then do so with members of the Active Duty military. Bringing Active, Reserve, and National Guard components together at these competitive sports events will help build greater service component cohesion. While recruiting, retention, esprit de corps, and community support have always been important to maintaining a strong National Guard structure, they have become even more critical as we wage the war on terrorism during which our men and women in the National Guard are more frequently called into duty overseas and to provide security on the homeland.

The National Guard needs a change in the law. Senator Burr’s National Guard Competitive Events Sports Program is going to survive. The National Guard must be able to sponsor competitions and send its members to those competitions, as they are an important tool to be incentivized to recruit and retain some of America’s best and brightest.

This issue is important to the Vermont Guard and the National Guard as a whole. I hope we can provide the National Guard the authority they need to have a robust sports program.

Ms. SNOWE. Mr. President, I rise today to speak in favor of the amendment offered by my friend and colleague, Senator Hutchinson, regarding base closures.

Last year, with the passage of the fiscal year 2002 National Defense Authorization Act, Congress authorized a round of base closures in fiscal year 2005. Senator Burr’s amendment would move this on path to a base closure round in 3 years.

Even before the horrific attacks of September 11, 2001, there were serious questions about both the integrity of the base closing process itself as well as the actual benefits. Now, with the United States in the midst of a war on terror, with no end in sight, I do not believe base closure is a wise path. Instead, Congress was pressed to authorize a base closure round in the dark.

Proposers of base closure claim that efforts to reduce infrastructure have not kept pace with our post cold war military force reductions, and that bases must be downsized proportionate to the reduction in total force strength. However, there is no straight line corollary between the size of our forces and the infrastructure required to support them.

Since the end of the cold war, through fiscal year 01, we reduced the military force structure by about 36 percent and reduced the defense budget by about 40 percent. But while the size of the armed services has decreased, the number of contingencies that our service members have been called upon to respond to in the last decade has dramatically increased. And, keep in mind, once property is relinquished and remediated, it is permanently lost as a military asset for all practical purposes.

In addition, advocates of base closure argue that billions of dollars will be saved. And yet, the Department of Defense has admitted that savings will not be immediate—that approximately $10 billion would be needed for up-front environmental and other costs; and that savings would not materialize for years.

This is why I was pleased to team with Senator Hutchinson in her effort to establish some basic criteria designed to guide the process, and I deeply regret that the Senate will not have the opportunity to adopt these provisions.

Senator Hutchinson’s provision, of which I am an original cosponsor, would set the criteria for force structure, requirements, force protection, homeland security requirements, proximity to mobilization points, costs of relocating infrastructure including military construction costs, compliance with environmental laws, contract termination costs, unique characteristics of existing facilities, and State and local support for continued presence by the military.

I want to protect the military’s critical readiness and operational assets. I want to protect the home port berthing for our ships and submarines, the air space that our aircraft fly in and the training areas and ranges that our armed forces require to support and defend this nation and its interests. I want to protect the economic viability of communities in every State. And I want to make absolutely sure that this Nation maintains the military infrastructure it will need in the years to come to support the war on terror.

In short, we must not degrade the readiness of our armed forces by closing more bases. I thank Senator Hutchinson for her leadership on this important issue, and I remain hopeful that if we press ahead with this ill-conceived base closure round, in 3 years time we will have an opportunity to at least establish sound, basic ground rules.

Mr. WELLSTONE. Mr. President, I rise to address the subject of our Nation's security needs in the context of the Defense authorization bill presently before the Senate.

I believe we must provide the best possible training, equipment, and preparation for our military forces, so they can effectively carry out whatever peacekeeping, humanitarian, war-fighting, or other missions they are given. They deserve the targeted pay raises of 4–6 percent, the incentive pay for difficult-to-fill assignments, and the upgrades to currently substandard housing contained in this bill. Under an amendment adopted by the Senate, the women who serve our country overseas in the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Coast Guard will be able to obtain safe, privately funded abortions in overseas military hospitals. For many years running, those in our armed forces have been suffering from a declining quality of life, despite rising Pentagon budgets. The pressing needs of our dedicated men and women in uniform, and those of their families, must be addressed as they continue to be mobilized in the war against terrorism in response to the attacks of September 11. This bill goes far in addressing these needs, and I will vote for it today.

This bill also addresses a fundamental unfairness in the treatment of America’s veterans by allowing concurrent receipt of military retirement benefits and VA disability benefits. Under current law, if you are career military and you earn a military pension, and you also have service-connected disability as a veteran, your military pension will be reduced by the amount you receive in VA disability payments. As a result, hundreds of thousands of American veterans, men and women who have served their country, are being cheated out of retirement benefits by this bizarre rule and it is time to make a change. Our disabled veterans have earned their retirement and deserve to receive fair treatment.

Last year we passed this same legislation in the Senate, but it was gutted in the House. The Defense Department says it will recommend a veto of this bill if we restore these benefits. But I do not believe that the President will veto legislation to restore the benefits earned by disabled veterans, while career military men and women are overseas fighting for their country, at great risk to their lives. Instead of making threats, let’s sit down and get this done for America’s vets.

I also believe the bill addresses some of the serious flaws in the process by which the Defense Department summarily terminated the Crusader Artillery system. I strongly believe in fair, transparent, and informed government-decision making processes, which did not occur in the case of the Crusader. Three Army secretaries, three Army chief of staff, as well as numerous administration officials, testified in support of the Crusader. Yet within a few weeks of this testimony, the Secretary of Defense abruptly terminated the Crusader. The decision was made without consultation with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, without consultation with the Army, and without consultation with members of Congress. The Senate adopted an amendment which would require the Secretary of Staff and Secretary of Defense to conduct a serious study of the best way to provide for the Army’s need for indirect fire support.

At the same time, it provides the Secretary of Defense, following the study, a full range of options. These include termination to continued funding of Crusader, to funding alternative systems to meet battlefield requirements. I am concerned that it is extremely important in relation to this bill has to do with our own military presence in the Republic of Colombia. As you know, under Plan Colombia, restrictions were placed on the number of U.S. troops and contract personnel in Colombia at any given time. Initially, a 500 troop, 300 contractor limitation was in place. Over time, however, the Senate has acted to address the needs of the Departments of Defense and State by shifting the ration of troop and contractors to 1:1. As a result of recent Foreign Operations Appropriations legislation, the troop cap dropped from 500 to 400, while the contractor cap was lifted from 300 to 400 personnel. I find it unsettling that attempts may be made to raise the troop and contractor caps in Colombia. I have long argued that the United States should be careful and targeted in how it approaches the conflict in Colombia. I’m sure that most Senators agree that it is important to retain the present limitations on U.S. troops and contractors in Colombia at 800 thru 400 troops, 400 contractors. Moreover, it is my understanding that the Department of Defense has not been trained in Colombia, nor has the administration sought to have the troop cap waived. For this reason, I would like to be on record in support of present troop and contractor limitations in Colombia.

Although I expect future debate on the contentious issues surrounding U.S. policy in the Andes, I think it is important for the Senate to be clear on this component of our aid to Colombia. I am concerned that we are getting deeper and deeper into a devastating civil conflict with myriad violent actors of ill repute. That said, I continue to hold out hope that the Congress can craft a policy for Colombia that reflects the best of American values, and acknowledges the economic and social needs of Colombia’s beleaguered population. The administration should retain the troop and contractor caps in Colombia, and Congress should be adequately consulted if they decide to seek any such change.

I also have concerns about the bill, especially about its missile defense provisions. The initial committee language would have cut total funding for missile defense from $7.6 billion to $0.8 billion. The Senate adopted an amendment to restore the entire $814.3 million that the Senate Armed Services Committee cut from missile defense, with the President being given the option of spending the funds on either of the missile defense systems. I argued then that pressing ahead on BMD would make the U.S. less rather than more secure. Instead, I suggested the Senate give homeland defense the high priority it deserves by transferring funds to it from missile defense programs.

Given the justifiable concerns of Americans about possible terrorist attacks on U.S. nuclear facilities, it makes more sense to use the funds to protect our citizens rather than to counter a low priority threat with a very costly system that a number of informed scientists believe may never work.

Under Chairman Levin’s leadership, the Senate subcommittee cut from missile defense programs or on contracts for alternative systems to meet battlefield requirements. I argued then that pressing ahead on BMD would make the U.S. less rather than more secure. Instead, I suggested the Senate give homeland defense the high priority it deserves by transferring funds to it from missile defense programs.

The April 23rd New York Times article on the matter made clear that the project pursued by Colombia are vital to the protection of the United States from terrorist attack. Unbelievably, funding was turned down for several programs designed to safeguard nuclear weapons and weapons material in storage, including: $41 million to reduce the number of places where weapons-grade plutonium and uranium were stored; $12 million to detect explosives in vehicles and packages at DOE sites; $13 million to improve DOE computer systems; and $30 million to improve DOE computers, including the ability to communicate critical cyber-threat and incident information; and $34 million for increasing security at DOE laboratories.

Who can argue that BMD funding for programs that can’t be justified by DOD or are duplicative should take priority over programs designed to deter terrorist actions against U.S. nuclear weapons, weapons material, and weapons laboratories? Just a few days ago, reports of a dirty bomb against the United States caused widespread public alarm. I am sure the American people would be even more alarmed by a threatened terrorist attack against DOE nuclear facilities.

An attack by ballistic missiles is one of the least likely threats we face. Much more probable threats which a missile defense would address are neither as clear, biological or chemical attacks using planes, boats, trucks or suitcases. And as we are all aware even an impenetrable missile defense would have been useless against the assault on the World Trade Center. In short, I remain convinced that a national missile defense would be ineffective in preventing attacks by rogue states or terrorists.

While the intelligence community continues to devote considerable resources to estimating both the threat of an ICBM and unconventional attack on the United States, it still finds that unconventional attacks are the more likely of the two. For example, recent testimony by the National Intelligence Office for Strategic and Nuclear Programs, before a subcommittee of the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee repeated previous intelligence community judgments that U.S. territory is more likely to be attacked with non-missile weapons for numerous countries and provide a level of prestige, coercive diplomacy and deterrence unmatched by non-missile means.

But this thesis has been ably refuted by Joseph Cirincione, head of the Carnegie Endowment’s Nuclear Non-Proliferation Program. In a February speech before the American Association for the Advancement of Science he argued that the U.S. is facing a declining ballistic missile threat rather than the increasing threat the intelligence community sees.

Cirincione focuses on the 1998 Rumsfeld Commission study which assessed the ballistic missile threat to the United States. He repeated previous intelligence estimates that only China and several states of the former Soviet Union had the capability to attack the continental U.S. with land-based ballistic missiles, adding that “...the probability is low that any other country will acquire this capability during the next 15 years.” In a similar vein, the 1995 NIE, said: “The Intelligence Community believes that no country other than the major declared nuclear powers [i.e. Russia and China] will develop a ballistic missile that could threaten the contiguous 48 states or Canada.

In the aftermath of harsh congressional criticism of the estimates, a congressionally mandated panel in December 1996 led by former Bush Administration CIA Director Robert Gates reviewed the previous NIEs and concluded that while non-missiles do not require a successful test.

The “could” standard was one of three major changes made to assessment methodology. The other shifts were to substantially reduce the range of missiles considered serious threats by shifting from threats to 48 continental U.S. with land-based ballistic missiles to threats to 300 miles, the distance from Seattle to the western-most tip of Alaska’s Aleutian Islands. In effect, this means the North Korea’s medium-range ballistic missile the Taepodong-1 could be considered the same threat as an ICBM. The time line shift represents a decrease of five years, which previous estimates said was the difference between first test and likely deployment. Moreover, the new NIE’s don’t require a successful test.

The net effect of these three changes was to shift the goal posts in the direct threat chiped by the Rumsfeld Commission. These shifts account for almost all of the differences between the 1999 and 2001 NIE’s and earlier estimates. Rather than representing some new, dramatic increase in the ballistic missile threat, these changes were an outgrowth of harsh attacks by several U.S. agencies involved in producing intelligence or defense sources.

Despite administration optimism about developing BMD and the prospects for quick deployment, prominent scientists and missile experts remain skeptical. Here are a few examples. Richard Garwin of the Council on Foreign Relations, a member of the Rumsfeld Commission, and a leading expert in military applications of science, is dubious about the administration’s approach to BMD and its rationale for pursuing it.

A report in the Dallas Morning News quotes Garwin as questioning the emphasis on destroying missiles in mid-course, stating that “they would be useless against Russia and China. A mid-course strategy, however, could counter a limited missile attack from those nations. The implications are chilling. I hope and pray that Garwin is wrong about BMD’s true mission, because if Russia and China reach the same conclusion, we may be in for a renewed nuclear arms race.
Dr. Garwin now questions the rationale for BMD, despite his participation in the Rumsfeld Commission which assessed the ballistic missile threat to the United States. He was quoted in a June 12 news wire report as stating: “Fifteen million . . . cargo containers enter the United States every year with a minute chance of being inspected. Why should a nation with a few ICBM’s risk their being destroyed pre-emptively when other means are available?”

Steven Weinberg, a Nobel Laureate in physics, is one of the most prominent and trenchant scientific critics of BMD. He strongly believes that it would be smarter to put our billions pouring into missile defense into other homeland security efforts. Weinberg points out that if the U.S. deploys BMD, intelligence analysts estimate China will sharply expand its arsenal since there is no danger test the program will be in a position to give away any secrets for years to come.

Coyne also is dismayed that MDA is withholding information from the Pentagon’s own independent review offices, such as the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation. Current laws give the Director rights to unfettered access to all major DOD acquisition programs. Coyne believes secrecy is premature since there’s “no danger” the test program will be in a position to “give away any secrets” for years to come.

I am a cosponsor of the Small Business Federal Contractor Safeguard Act, S. 2466. This legislation addresses the problem of consolidated or bundled contracts. Of course, the Government should do all it can to take advantage of economies of scale in production or other benefits that can result from a large contract with a single supplier. Nothing in our legislation would prevent large contracts that serve a genuine economic purpose. However, I am concerned that too often contracts are bundled together simply for the sake of bureaucratic efficiency. This is a disservice to us all, and I am hopeful that the Senate will soon act on S. 2466.

The Army has assured me that they have considered the interests of small businesses. Our amendment simply asks the Army to report back to Congress on their progress as they reform their policies. I hope that the report will be filled with good news. I hope that we will learn of the Army exceeding small business participation goals. I look forward to reading such a report. But I believe that it is imperative that we follow this issue closely. We must ensure that our military is prepared to take full advantage of the tremendous opportunities available from contracting with small businesses across the country.

I thank my colleagues for joining me in asking that the Secretary of the Army provide us with this important report.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Nevada?

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I have spoken to the two managers, staffs on both sides. It appears it would be better to vote now on final passage of this most important bill. I should alert all Members that later this afternoon, when Secretary Rumsfeld’s briefing is completed, we may have another vote on a resolution dealing with the Pledge of Allegiance.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona?

Mr. KYL. Would the Senator yield for a question?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona is recognized.

Mr. KYL. Would it be possible to lock the vote in at 3:15? I am sorry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Mr. KYL. Would the Senator yield for a question?

The Senator from Virginia?

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I join my colleague in thanking the distinguished majority leader and Republican leader, who worked hand in hand with us, and, indeed, the majority whip. I would only revise one thing about the majority whip: He does use, as he drives the buggy, the whip. But he uses it judiciously and fairly. I received a little crack this morning myself, as did one other colleague from the other side. It was equal.

At any rate, he succeeded, and I thank my dear friend. I have the utmost admiration for him.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Deputy Majority Leader?

Mr. REID. Mr. President, working with these two experienced veterans, competent legislators has been a pleasure.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT AGREEMENT—S. 2690

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I also ask unanimous consent that immediately, following the vote on passage of the DOD bill, the Senate proceed to consideration of S. 2690, introduced earlier today by Senator Hutchinson and others, which reaffirms the reference to the Secretary of Defense under the Pledge of Allegiance; further, I ask the bill then be immediately read the third time, and the Senate proceed to a vote on passage of the bill with no intervening action or debate at 3:20 p.m. today.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. REID. I ask for the yeas and nays on passage of S. 2690.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there a sufficient second?

There appears to be a sufficient second.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule XII, paragraph 4, be waived in relation to the Defense authorization bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. REID. I ask for the yeas and nays on final passage of S. 2514.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there a sufficient second?

There is a sufficient second.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask that S. 2514 be read the third time, and the Senate then vote on passage of S. 2514 without any intervening action or debate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed for the third reading and was read the third time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill having been read the third time, the question is, Shall the bill, as amended, pass?

The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk called the roll.

Mr. NICKLES. I announce that the Senator from North Carolina (Mr. HELMS) is necessarily absent.

I further announce that if present and voting the Senator from North Carolina (Mr. HELMS) would vote ‘aye.’

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any other Senators in the Chamber desiring to vote?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arkansas.

Mr. HUTCHINSON. At 3:20 this afternoon we will vote on a piece of legislation I introduced to reaffirm Congress’ commitment to the Pledge of Allegiance and our national motto “In God we trust.” I hope my colleagues will join me in this reaffirmation. Many already have.

I ask unanimous consent the list of 32 Senators as original cosponsors be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

ORIGINAL COSPONSORS OF S. 2690

Mr. Sessions, Mr. Lott, Mr. Nichols, Mr. Burns, Ms. Collins, Mrs. Hutchison, Mr. Helms, Mr. Inhof.

Mr. Campbell, Mr. Roberts, Mr. DeWine, Mr. McConnell, Mr. Shelby, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Stevens, Mr. Voinovich.

Mr. Bond, Mr. Murkowski, Mr. Craig, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Crapo, Mr. Brownback, Mr. Domenici, Mr. Kyl, Mr. Zell Miller.

Mr. HUTCHINSON. Yesterday’s decision by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in Newdow v. U.S. Congress was, in a word, outrageous. It is inexplicable that this man so seriously objected to his daughter having to listen and watch others recite the pledge at their son’s school. Keep in mind, in this country no one can be forced to recite the Pledge of Allegiance. It is simply a matter of respect.

It is appalling that this court took the time and judicial resources to resuscitate this case which the district court had already dismissed for failing to state a claim. This complaint was a mess. The plaintiff, Dr. Newdow, who represented himself, asked a Federal court to order the President to change a law. The court took great pains to find a claim in Mr. Newdow’s complaint and then to rule in his favor.

He did this at a time when Federal judicial resources are very strained. The Nation is trying to function in the speedy manner required by the sixth amendment, a staggering number, representing 10 percent of the Federal judiciary.

According to the Judicial Conference, in the past three decades, a U.S. Courts of Appeals judges’ average caseload increased by nearly 200 percent. In light of those strained resources, it is appalling to me that the court took time to resuscitate this very flawed case.
The Pledge of Allegiance plays a very important part in the citizenship experience of every American. It is part of the patriotic thread that weaves us all together in times of crisis and times of celebration.

If the Ninth Circuit’s interpretation of the establishment clause stands, many national ceremonies and celebrations will be negatively impacted. Singing of songs with references to God on government property will be prohibited. For example, songs such as “Star Spangled Banner,” “God Bless America,” and “America the Beautiful,” which Americans sing every Fourth of July on the steps of this building. But such references are not just important in times of celebration. On September 11 we stood on the steps of the Capitol and sang “God Bless America.” Countless Americans uttered the phrase “God Bless America” and prayed together in public spaces. This ruling could prohibit that.

Judge Fernandez wisely dissented from this decision. His words have been quoted before. He said it beautifully. Such phrases as “In God we trust” or “under God” have no tendency to establish a religion in this country. They express anyone’s exercise or nonexercise of religion. He went on, in eloquent terms, and defends his dissent.

I believe this ruling will be soundly rejected. I was so pleased that yesterday the majority leader and the minority leader moved the Senate very quickly in expressing its disapproval immediately following the ruling yesterday. The Ninth Circuit is not unfamiliar with going out on a limb, and went on, in eloquent terms, and defends his dissent.

I believe this ruling will be soundly rejected. I was so pleased that yesterday the majority leader and the minority leader moved the Senate very quickly in expressing its disapproval immediately following the ruling yesterday. The Ninth Circuit is not unfamiliar with going out on a limb, and the Supreme Court is not unfamiliar with striking it down. This circuit is the most overturned circuit in the country.

There is certainly nothing wrong with pushing the envelope and using an original interpretation of the establishment clause of law, but this court repeatedly makes rulings which counteract standing precedent. Instead of administering justice, it seems some judges in the ninth circuit are far more interested in making social policy statements. It is not what the Constitution asks them to do and it is not what the American people pay them for.

The first amendment prohibits Congress from passing any law establishing a religion. Coming as they did from a land with an established religion where those of other faiths were not well tolerated, they set the highest value on freedom of religion. But they were not advocating freedom from religion.

By passing this legislation today the Senate will make clear that we understand the Founders’ intention. We will reiterate our support for the Pledge of Allegiance as codified and our national motto, “In God we trust.”

Finally, I recommend the Judiciary Committee today in voting out the nomination of Lavenski Smith to the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals. Lavenski Smith, who is from the State of Arkansas will make an outstanding jurist on the Federal bench. He is supremely well qualified as a former member of the Arkansas Supreme Court. He understands the proper role of the judiciary.

I applaud the committee’s unanimous vote today. I believe if we did not have the vacancies on the Federal bench to the extent that we now have them, the decision from the Ninth Circuit would not have occurred. In Judge Smith’s confirmation hearings last month, he expressed his unshakable respect for an adherence to precedent. He said even when it goes against his personal beliefs, he would follow precedence. Clearly, we need people like Lavenski Smith on the bench.

I am pleased that the Judiciary Committee has taken this step. I am also pleased that the Senate will, today, make clear to the Federal judiciary, our reaffirmation of our Pledge of Allegiance and our national motto “In God we trust.”

I suggest the absence of a quorum. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant bill clerk proceeded to call the roll. Mr. HUTCHINSON. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. Mr. HUTCHINSON. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that Senator ZELL MILLER be added as an original cosponsor on the bill on which we are about to vote.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. Mr. HUTCHINSON. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant bill clerk proceeded to call the roll. Mr. SESSIONS. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent the order for the quorum call be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. Mr. SESSIONS. Madam President, I would like to speak in support of the legislation proposed by Senator HUTC HINSON from Arkansas. I am a cosponsor and helped draft this legislation. I would say this: This is not an itty-bitty issue. This is a big issue. The Congress and States and cities have been expressing a desire to have, and be allowed to have, an expression of faith in the public life of America. The courts have been on a trend for decades now to constrict that.

The opinion out of the Ninth Circuit is not as abhorrent as some would think. The Supreme Court, in my view, has been inconsistent and unclear. It has cracked down on some very small instances of public expression of faith. Our courts have made decisions such as constriction of a valedictorian’s address at a high school. Certainly our prayer in schools has been rigorously constricted or eliminated in any kind of normal classroom setting, as has the prayer at football games.

I will just say we hope the courts will reconsider some of their interpretations of the establishment clause and the free exercise clause of the first amendment and help heal the hurt in this country.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The hour of 3:20 has arrived.

Mr. DASCHLE. Madam President, I wish to announce this will be a final rollcall vote of the day and the week. Our next rollcall vote will occur Tuesday morning following the July Fourth recess. Senators should be on notice that we will have a vote that morning and votes throughout the day and the week.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading and was read the third time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill having been read the third time, the question is, Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays have been ordered. The clerk will call the roll.

The senior assistant bill clerk called the roll.

Mr. NICKLES. I announce that the Senator from North Carolina (Mr. HELMS) is necessarily absent.

I further announce that if present and voting the Senator from North Carolina (Mr. HELMS) would vote “yea.”

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any other Senators in the Chamber desiring to vote?

The result was announced—yeas 99, nays 0, as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

Helms

The bill (S. 2690) was passed, as follows:
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. FINDINGS. The Congress finds the following:

(1) On November 11, 1920, prior to embarking for the shores of America, the Pilgrims signed the Mayflower Compact that declared the principles for the formation of a Christian commonwealth and the advancement of the Christian Faith and honor of our King and country, a voyage to plant the first colony in the northern territories of the United States. The Pilgrims, conscious of the divine covenant under God, shall have a new birth of freedom have died in vain. Here highly resolve that these dead shall not from these honored dead we take increased ''

(2) On July 4, 1776, America’s Founding Fathers, after appealing to the “Laws of Nature, and of Nature’s God,” to justify their separation from Great Britain, George Washington declared: “We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness”. (3) In 1781, Thomas Jefferson, the author of the Declaration of Independence and later President of the Constitutional Convention, declared: “If to please the people we encourage, if the people we offer what we ourselves disapprove, how can we afterward defend our work? Let us raise a standard to which the wise and the honest can repair: the event is in the hands of God”. (4) On May 14, 1787, George Washington, as President of the Constitutional Convention, rose to admonish and exhort the delegates and declared: “If to please the people we feel the necessity of neutrality can lead to invocation or appeasement of results which partake not simply of approval of Church and State. Rather, it stolidly defines the manner, the specific ways, in which there shall be no concern or unity or dependency on one the other. That which, as a matter of principle, otherwise would be permitted to render police or fire protection to religious groups. Police- men and other public officials who enter into the places of worship would violate the Constitution. Prayers in our legislative halls; the appeals to the Almighty in the messages of the Chief Executive in making Thanksgiving Day a holiday; ‘so help me God’ in our courtroom oaths—and all other references to the Almighty that run through our laws, our public rituals, our ceremonies would be flouting the First Amendment. A fastidious atheist or agnostic could even object to the supplication with which the Court opens each session: ‘God save the United States and this Honorable Court’.” (5) On June 15, 1949, Congress passed and President Eisenhower signed into law a statute amending the Pledge of Allegiance to read: “I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.” (6) On July 20, 1956, Congress proclaimed that the national motto of the United States is “In God We Trust”, and that motto is inscribed above the main door of the Senate, behind the Chair of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and on the currency of the United States. (7) On June 17, 1963, in the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in Abington School District v. Schempp, 374 U.S. 203 (1963), in which compulsory school prayer was held unconstitutional, Justice Goldberg and Harlan, concurring in the decision, stated: “But untutored devotion to the concept of neutrality can lead to invocation or approval of results which partake not simply of neutrality but of a brooding and pervasive hostility to the religious. Such results are not only not compelled by the Constitution, but, it seems to me, are prohibited by it. Unless government can or should ignore the significance of the fact that a vast portion of our people believe in and worship God and that many of our legal, political, and personal values derive historically from religious teachings, Government must inevitably take cognizance of the existence of religion and, indeed, under certain circumstances the First Amendment may require that it do so.”. (8) On March 5, 1984, in the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in Lynch v. Donnelly, 465 U.S. 668 (1984), in which a city government’s display of a nativity scene was held to be constitutional, Chief Justice Burger, writing for the Court, stated: “There is an unbroken history of official acknowledge- ment by all three branches of government of the role of religion in American life from at least 1789. [Examples of reference to our religious heritage in the statutory prescribed national motto ’In God We Trust’ (36 U.S.C. 186), which Congress and the President mandated for our currency, see (31) 390 (1952), and for the language ‘One Nation under God’, as part of the Pledge of Allegiance to the American flag. That pledge is recited by many thousands of public school children—and adults—every year... Art galleries supported by public rev- enues display religious paintings of the 15th and 16th centuries, presentations inspired by one religious faith. The National Gallery in Washington, maintained with Government support, for example, has long exhibited masterpieces with religious themes, notably by the Last Supper, and paintings depicting the Birth of Christ, the Crucifixion, and the Resurrection, among many others with ex- plicitly Christian themes and messages. The very chamber in which oral arguments in this case were heard is decorated with a not- able and permanent—not seasonal—symbol of the Nativity and the Epiphany. Congress has long provided chapels in the Capitol for religious worship and medita- tion.” (9) On June 4, 1985, in the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in Wallace v. Jaffree, 472 U.S. 38 (1985), in which a mandatory moment of silence to be used for meditation or voluntary prayer was held unconstitu- tional, Justice O’Connor, concurring in the judgment and addressing the conten- tion that the Court’s holding would render the phrase “under God” unconstitutional because Congress amended it in 1954 to add the words “under God,” stated “In my view, the words ‘under God’ in the Pledge, as codi- fied at (36 U.S.C. 172), serve as an acknowledg- ment of religion with ‘the legitimate sec- pural purposes of solemnizing public occa- sions, [and] expressing confidence in the future’. (10) On November 20, 1992, the United States Court of Appeals for the 7th Circuit, in Sherman v. Community Consolidated School District 106-1207 (7th Cir. 1992), held that a school district’s policy for voluntary recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance including the words “under God” was constitu- tional. (11) The 9th Circuit Court of Appeals erro- neously held, in Neadow v. U.S. Congress, (9th Cir. June 26, 2002) that the Pledge of Al- legiance’s use of the express religious refer- ence “under God” violates the First Amendment to the Constitution, and that, therefore, a school district’s policy and prac- tice of teacher-led voluntary recitations of the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitu- tional. (12) One school district’s voluntary and non-teacher-led policies and recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance reference of the Constitution itself would be unconstitu- tional.” (13) The erroneous rationale of the 9th Cir- cuit’s decision of Appeals erroneously lead to the absurd result that the Constitution’s use of the express religious reference “Year of our Lord” in Article VII violates the First Amendment to the Constitution, and that, therefore, a school district’s policy and prac- tice of teacher-led voluntary recitations of the Constitution itself would be unconstitu- tional.

SEC. 2. ONE NATION UNDER GOD. (a) REAFFIRMATION.—Section 4 of title 4, United States Code, is amended to read as follows: “§ 4. Pledge of allegiance to the flag; manner of delivery. ‘The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag: I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.’ should be rendered by standing at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. When not in uniform men should remove their headgear with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand over the heart. Women with headgear should remain silent, face the flag, and render the military salute.’.” (b) CODIFICATION.—In codifying this sub- section of the Office of the Law Revision Coun- cil shall make no change in section 4, title 4, United States Code, but shall show in the between Denver and Colorado Springs had burned in excess of 137,000 acres, much of it in the all-important South Platte watershed of the City of Denver. While the fire is now 70 percent contained, over 1,200 residents are at risk and many lost their homes. In fact, 618 homes and structures burned, and it has cost over $26 million so far in fighting this fire. The Forest Service tells us much of this fire is in an area of diseased and stressed timber, some of which they have been attempting to clear up, but opponents are delaying this needed management through courtroom appeals and litigation.

It is important to note that large parts of the area that has burned are in the areas that were designated as roadless during the Clinton administration, under the Clinton management plan.

We have the Million Fire near the little town of South Fork, CO, near Wolf Creek Pass. That fire is not big by the standards of this summer, but it has already consumed over 8,500 acres, and it is right on the outskirts of the town of South Fork. We have lost 13 homes and buildings in that fire. The resource managers tell us it is burning in an area of spruce-fir pine already killed by insects.

History shows many of proposed salvage sales on the Rio Grande National Forest have also been opposed by opponents of cleaning the forests, and they have been using proactive thinning and sanitation harvesting through the NEPA process. The agency tells us that nearly 100 additional homes and commercial buildings are currently threatened and that the town’s watershed is also in the line of fire.

Finally, just near where I live in Durango, CO, what is called the Missionary Ridge fire, which I am sure you have seen on CNN and a number of other networks, is 15 miles from the town of Durango, CO—indeed, I can see it from my front porch—and it is burning that way. Ten subdivisions are endangered, over 1,150 residences are being evacuated, and we have lost 71 homes and outbuildings. The municipal watersheds of the towns of Durango and Bayfield are threatened, as well as numerous businesses, radio towers, and homes.

The interesting part of that fire is it is burning mostly in RARE II roadless areas. In essence, the fire was only about 2 miles from the city limits of the town of Durango with zero containment and certainly has had a devastating impact on the morale of the community, on the structure and on tourism, which is the backbone and mainstay of our economy.

All of those fires I have mentioned have really been eclipsed and overshadowed by the huge fire in Arizona in the Coconino National Forest, not far from the White River National Forest. I am reminded of 1996, when there was an effort by the Forest Service to do some fuels reduction in the Coconino Forest. They were prevented from doing so by an environmental lawsuit under the Endangered Species Act which contended that the fuels reduction would disturb the goshawk, a small hawk. Later that year, there was a fire that did start in that forest, and it destroyed everything in its path, including the goshawk nests. Now we have almost the same catastrophic fire in the White River National Forest.

Time and again, we hear from Colorado firefighters who are frustrated they can’t seem to get ahead of the fires. I submit we cannot seem to get ahead of some of the lawsuits that block our responsible management of the forests, and we won’t be able to get any place under control until we do. This year so far, we have had over 300 fires nationwide, and the fire season is just beginning.

The science is certain: Thinning forests at natural levels significantly reduces the threat of wildfires. Yet the constant threat of environmental law suits has resulted in what has been described by the Forest Service as “analysis paralysis.” The Forest Service is now forced to study and assess proposed actions, not for the right reasons, but because of any potential action in the court of a flurry of lawsuits and appeals by some extreme groups. Dale Bosworth, Chief of the Forest Service, testified before our committee that they are now using over 40 percent of their agency work and a good deal of their resources, about $250 million a year, that could have gone to save lives and property. Instead, they are using it to prepare for court actions against opponents of cleaning the forest.

Environmental groups are proud of that obstruction-through-litigation strategy because every dollar we spend in litigating is one less dollar we spend on managing the forest. They do acknowledge, however, that forests are unnaturally dense.

In Colorado, normally we have 50 trees per acre. But now we see stands of 200, 500, and 800 trees per acre, representing unmanageable fuel loads. Many of these trees are dying from insect infestation, which increases the fire risk. Yet environmentalists still oppose any thinning or removal of dead timber except if it is near homes or around homes. They argue that the other parts of the forest grants unnecessary footholds for the “big, bad” timber industry that will ravage the landscape. It is interesting that what they completely ignore is that industry thinning on national forests is done under very close scrutiny of the National Environmental Policy Act.

What about lawsuits in the name of animals? On the one hand, environmentalists sue land managers to keep them from thinning because the action might disturb all manner of species. On the other hand, they ignore the complete devastation that catastrophic fires such as the ones we are experiencing do to the same species.

I spoke to one firefighter last week. He told me that the 150-foot flames in the Mission Ridge fire were traveling so fast and were so intense that birds in flight were actually being burned out of the air. Certainly, animals that are land animals have no chance at all. That includes the spotted owl, the red squirrel, Preble’s meadow jumping mouse, and hundreds of animals on the endangered species list.

In arguing against thinning, environmentalists also ignore the very real long-term damage that large and intense fires have on soil and watersheds. Over 70 percent of our Nation’s water comes from waterbodies in our forests. Yet, these environmental groups would prohibit thinning around watersheds, such as the South Platte project. I would have thought that they would support such efforts, especially after the Buffalo Creek fire of 1996, which cost the city of Denver millions of dollars to restore water quality.

Environmentalists oppose improving the safety of our watersheds because they fear losing the Clinton-era “roadless rule,” which provides that no new roads can be built where none exist. Their prized “roadless rule” effectivley acts as a wilderness designation requiring an act of Congress. It is ironic that the “roadless rule” that environmentalists hold so dear was recently ruled illegal by a Federal judge in Idaho because the public comment period was grossly inadequate, stating, “Justice hurried on a proposal of this magnitude is Justice denied.”

I am a big supporter of grass roots initiatives—local communities should be involved in land management decisions. Opportunities for public comment and participation are important aspects of environmental law. However, these are being poisoned by radical groups too interested in legitimizing their own worth to contributors than in collaboratively working for the betterment of our Nation’s resources.

Some of these organizations have effectively paralyzed responsible forest management practices, thus contributing to poor forest health. In fact, 73 million acres of national forest are at risk from severe wildland fires. In the West, more than half of the rangeland riparian area on the National Forest System do not meet standards for healthy watersheds, and one in six acres in the Rocky Mountain and Plains states is making no progress toward improvement. All this in the name of environmentalism.

Forest Service Chief Dale Bosworth recently acknowledged that the Hayman Fire near Denver would not have been nearly as severe had forest thinning projects gone forward.

I am unwilling to allow our forest’s health and environmental quality to continue deteriorating simply because a minority of environmental organizations have thrown science and good sense out of the window in the name of their own political agenda while completely avoiding the tragedy of the 14 deaths of firefighters from the Storm King Fire of 1994 or the recent loss of five firefighters in a bus wreck while on their way to Colorado.

I have seen the negative effect that some environmental organizations have had in the West for a long time. But enough is enough—something has to change. It is unfortunate that it has taken and Senator Bennett and Senator Lott to back out West to get the Nation and the media to acknowledge the same.

I hope, as we move from this Congress to the next, we will look for more positive ways to achieve responsible forest management.

With that, I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. DAYTON). Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senator from Delaware, Mr. CARPER, be recognized for 3 minutes as in morning business.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

The Senator from Delaware is recognized for 3 minutes.

AMTRAK

Mr. CARPER. Mr. President, the attention of a lot of people in the Northwest and in the Midwest and in California has been drawn to the potential shutdown not just of the Amtrak passenger rail service, but commuter rail service in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Delaware, Chicago, Los Angeles, and a lot of places in between.

Amtrak has sought to negotiate a loan from a consortium of private lenders. Literally in the middle of the negotiation, the administration put on the table its restructuring plan for Amtrak. That plan was, in my view, a “dismantling” plan for Amtrak. That plan was designed to give the private lenders, for the most part, a takeover of the operations of many commuter railroads in America as well.

The Secretary of the Department of Transportation, Norman Mineta, was before one of our committees today testifying. Knowing him as an old colleague and somebody who I respect, I think he has not been inside his heart to see what he would want to do in his heart. Given that independence, I think he would favor going ahead with the loan guarantee, or support the Congress in going through and including a $200 million emergency supplemental for Amtrak. The administration, which created this crisis before us, is now still in a very good position to end the crisis, the threat. They can do that by saying, yes, we will provide the full loan guarantee, or we will support the appropriation from the Congress.

Our thanks to the chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Senator Stevens, and Senator Lott, the ranking Republican, for their willingness to support $200 million in the emergency supplemental to help us get through this difficult time, and later this fall we will resolve more fully the passenger rail service in this country.

I have said for a long time—and I will say it again today—the problem with passenger rail service in this country is we have never provided adequate capital support for passenger rail service. We need to do that, to find an earmark source of revenue. I hope in the months to come we will debate that and come to a consensus on that point.

I thank the Chair.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT REQUEST—H.R. 3009

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Chair lay before the Senate a message from the Speaker of the House of Representatives; that the Senate disagree to the House amendment, agree to the request for a conference with the House on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses; and that the Chair be authorized to appoint conferees on behalf of the Senate: three on behalf of the majority and two on behalf of the minority.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. LOTT. Reserving the right to object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Republican leader.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, we have had a number of discussions with respect to how many conferees the Senate would want to have involved in this very important conference that will deal with trade issues on which we spent a great deal of time in the Senate, including the Andean trade authority, as well as the overall large house trade bill, and the Trade Promotion Act—three very important pieces included in this one bill.

As we look at this, I think this is going to be one of the most important conferences we are going to deal with this year.

The House has a small number of conferees to the underlying bill, but they have a number of conferees to different sections to the bill. I suspect there is a total number of House conferees involved that would probably run in the 18 range.

We have members of the Finance Committee who worked very hard on this important legislation, and I had hoped that we could get an 8-to-7 or 7-to-6 ratio, or at minimum 6 to 5 to accommodate members of the Finance Committee who are on the subcommittee of jurisdiction and who have put a lot of work into this. I have even written to Mr. Daschle, but maybe we can make it work at 5 to 4, but we have not been able to get that worked out.
I think for the Senate to be limited to only five conferences on a bill of this magnitude and as complicated as this is, and as many people who worked so hard on this bill, it would not be an acceptable arrangement at this time. So I have to object.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection has been heard.
Mr. REID. Mr. President, I am disappointed, but I certainly understand.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT REQUEST—
H.R. 7
Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that at a time to be determined by the majority leader, after consultation with the Republican leader, and prior to the August recess, the Senate proceed to the consideration of H.R. 7, the charitable deductions bill, as referred to the Finance Committee; and that it be considered under the following limitation: That there be 4 hours for debate on the bill equally divided between the chairman and rank-ning member of the Finance Committee; that the substitute amendment and use of time and passed; that the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, with no intervening action or debate; and that any statements relating to the bill be printed in the Record.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?
Mr. LOTT. Reserving the right to object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Republican leader.
Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I have to say, I have no objection to this legislation. In fact, I am a cosponsor of this legislation. It has been discussed and considered for quite some time now, and with the overwhelming support it has, it should move forward.
However, on behalf of a Senator on my side of the aisle who is now in the Judiciary Committee in a meeting and will not be here at this particular time, I am going to have to object on his behalf, but I do want to say this: I do not agree. I believe this is legislation we should pass, and this is the last issue that we should not sacrifice. But the Congress is going to have to come to terms with reform. There are some Senators who object to moving it at this time. I believe specifically Senator McCaIN has indicated he has an objection to it. So while I do not agree with the objection,
I do agree that the timing is such that we would not be able to give it full and appropriate consideration, in view of other issues to which we have already agreed to go. Therefore, I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection has been heard.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT REQUEST—
EXECUTIVE CALENDAR
Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate now proceed to executive session for consideration of the following nominations on the calendar: Nos. 810, 825 through 827, 839, 862 through 867, 887 through 898; I further ask that the nominations be confirmed, en bloc; that the motions to reconsider be laid upon the table; that the President be immediately notified of the Senate's action; and that the Senate then resume legislative session.

Before the Chair rules, I wish to indicate this request is with respect to 15 judicial nominations, some of which have been on the calendar since May 2.
These are nominations that are pending in the Senate, not in the Judiciary Committee. They are ready for consideration by the entire Senate with only one exception; I know of no objections.
I will be giving a statement with regard to this matter later, but in consideration of Senator Reid’s and others’ time, I thought I would make this unanimous consent request first and make my statement on this matter later.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. REID. Reserving the right to object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Nevada.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, as we speak, there are negotiations going on at the White House dealing with a wide range of appointments and nominations. I hope this can be worked out. I was confident a day or two ago that the majority leader and the Republican leader, together with the White House, had worked something out on nominations on which we could move forward, but that did not come to be. We also know there is someone on the other side of the aisle who has asked that we on his behalf object, and I am doing that now. I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The objection has been heard.

The Republican leader.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I understand there may be another unanimous consent request in a moment, but it could lead to some discussion back and forth, so at this time I yield myself leader time so I can address the issue that is before the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has that right.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, the Senate, the American people, and the House of Representatives have all expressed their outrage at the decision by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday, which ruled that the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional because it contains the phrase “under God.” People are understandably stunned and find it not only unbelievable, but indefensible.

Senators and the American people are shocked that two Federal circuit judges were capable of making such an absurd decision. The fact that they did points up, once again, how vitally important these Federal judicial appointments are in guiding not only the country’s present, but its future as well. Judges are important at every level, but particularly at the appellate court and circuit court level.

This preposterous decision about the Pledge of Allegiance, which Senators have been outraged about, was handed down by three circuit court judges who voted 2-1 that reciting the Pledge violates the Constitution’s Establishment Clause protections.

I should note that the vigorous dissent in the case was filed by Judge Ferdinand Fernandez, who was appointed by the first President Bush, and who went into great detail since echoed by many members of this chamber— as to why the other two judges views and reading of the law are both unfounded and inappropriate.

An interesting fact about these three judges is that two of the three are actually on senior status which means they are not considered active judges and are semi-retired. The fact that semi-retired judges were deciding is an indication in and of itself that there are problems in this circuit court and there are clearly major problems in the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mr. President, we have been arguing for years about how the Ninth Circuit should be changed. It is a huge circuit which includes not only Hawaii and California, but Nevada, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon, Washington, and Montana as well. It is not surprising that the states in the circuit also have very different cultural views of the world. Therefore, geographically and ideologically, many Senators encompassed by the Ninth Circuit want it split into at least two, if not three, circuits.

The Ninth Circuit is also by far the court that has been reversed the most by the United States Supreme Court. Indeed, the 9th Circuit decisions that have been reviewed by the Supreme Court have been reversed 80% of the time over the last 6 years. And these have not been close cases in the Supreme Court either. On average, the Ninth Circuit’s decisions have received just two votes from the Supreme Court’s nine judges.

Mr. President, I should also point out that one of the judges who did decide to hold that the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag is unconstitutional was Stephen Reinhardt, this active judge, who was appointed in the last year of Jimmy Carter’s Presidency, holds the record for the most unanimous reversals by the Supreme Court in a single court term—five. He has been reversed a total of 11 times since the court’s 1996-1997 term. He has been involved in such infamous, ridiculous decisions as striking down California’s “three strikes and you’re out” criminal law this spring. He has a long record of extreme and, in my opinion, inaccurate and unfounded interpretations of the law and/or the Constitution. So, this judge has engaged in a pattern of using his position on the court to become an activist for social change instead of interpreting the law as passed and voted on by Congress or as written by the Nation’s Framers.

Twenty-eight active judges are authorized for the Ninth Circuit and five of those are vacant. Due to the heavy caseload in the Circuit, all five of these vacancies have been declared judicial emergencies by the Administrative Office of the Courts. President Bush has nominated individuals to fill those five vacancies, one from Hawaii who is supported by both of the Democrat Senators from his state has pending on the Executive Calendar since May 16, another from California has been held up in the Committee for 22 months without even a hearing, and the third from Nevada has been in the Committee for two months.

As we can see from this case that has everyone up in arms, these circuit judges do make a difference, and that is why President Bush’s Circuit Court nominees are being held up. He and I agree that we should not be putting judges on the appellate courts who will render decisions such as this. The judgment of such judges really has to be questioned by the vast majority of Americans.

Despite the vacancies and the judicial emergencies on the Ninth Circuit and all the federal circuits, the Senate continues to have a problem confirming judges without undue and unjustifiable delay. There are some 45 judicial nominees pending before the Senate at one level or another. Yet, we have not confirmed one judge since before the Memorial Day Recess.

As I have already noted, as of this morning, there were 15 judges on the Executive Calendar that was ready to go if a few Senators would only let them. Three of the 15 are Circuit Court judges. And there are several circuits around the country that are having real problems handling their caseloads because they do not have enough judges to fill all of their seats—indeed one circuit, the Sixth, has half of its 16 judgeships vacant.

Around the country there are 89 judicial vacancies. Thirty-one are Circuit Court vacancies, 17 of which have been declared judicial emergencies by the Administrative Office of the Courts and the Judiciary Committee is holding 11 nominees President Bush has named to fill those 17 emergencies and currently there are 57 vacancies at the District Court level, 18 of which have been declared judicial emergencies.

I expect we are going to hear arguments back and forth about the numbers. Well, it is because you guys did not confirm enough judges during the President Clinton’s last 2 years. But whatever the history may have been, we have a problem now with our circuits that must be fixed.

Mr. President, another example of how important these judicial appointments can be and what the effect on the nation can be is the decision handed down by the Supreme Court today by a 5-4 vote upholding Cleveland’s school voucher program. Frankly, I was amazed it was that close. Again, it points up the importance of even a single judge on the Supreme Court or on a circuit court.

I think that says a lot about the real reasons behind what is going on in the Committee with the President’s judicial nominees. There are a number of people in the Senate who say that if the President tries to put a conservatively-minded justice on the Supreme Court who will follow the law and not write it from the bench as the judges did in the Pledge of Allegiance case they are going to oppose him no matter how temperamentally, temperamentally, intellectually, or ethnically qualified he or she is.

However, as I have said before, many of us on this side of the aisle, voted for Justice Ginsburg when she went through the Senate when President Clinton was in office. We knew we would not agree with most if not all of her future decisions but we felt we had to admit that she was competent, ethical, and qualified for the job despite our philosophically differences with her.

There are several other Clinton judges, particularly one or two out in the California circuit, that I voted whose future decisions I will probably live to regret for as long as I live. But there is something worse than bad judges. I guess, and that is no judges. which then expands the power of the bad judges like Judge Goodwin and Judge Reinhardt that are on the Circuit Courts of Appeal now.

I will take a moment to note that the Supreme Courts 5-to-4 decision on school vouchers will prove immensely important to thousands of low-income parents whose children are trapped in failing schools. Low-income children need an education even more than other children since it is often their only means of escaping poverty for the rest of their lives. So, when public schools are not succeeding, they and their parents need students to be able to choose the schools that suit their needs best. I believe that school vouchers are one way to help make that possible.
business, aircraft controllers, pilots, airlines, general aviation, and five former Secretaries of Transportation write, call, or in some way visit with the majority leader in support of this legislation, it is hard for the majority leader to ignore this, I respond to my friend.

Mr. DURBIN. If the majority whip will continue to yield, the purpose of this unanimous consent request was to make it clear on the record what I personally believed would occur when my colleague from the State of Illinois objected. There were some who said that would not happen, that once this bill had been reported from the committee, had gone through the regular order, with two hearings before the Senate Commerce Committee, on which my colleague from Illinois serves, a hearing in Chicago as well as in Washington, when ample opportunity had been given both sides to present their point of view, when amendments were considered and offered by my colleague from Illinois, when the final vote on the committee was a substantial bipartisan vote of 19 to 4, it was the belief—and I am sorry to say the mistaken belief—of some of my colleagues in the Senate that any colleague from Illinois would accept a debate on this issue and would accept the consequences, up or down.

Apparently that is not to be the case. It leads us in a position, today, where those who now hold the floor who have any doubt in their mind should have it dispelled. The objection by the Senator from Illinois makes it clear that he is prepared to delay this as long as possible.

The Senator from Nevada has put his finger on the issue. What is at stake is the safety of O'Hare, the world's busiest airport. What is at stake is the efficiency of that airport. What is at stake are hundreds of thousands of jobs in Illinois, and the future of the Illinois economy. That may sound like hyperbole from a Senator, but what I have said is supported by the Chamber of Commerce on a national and State basis, the national AFL-CIO and the State AFL-CIO, all of the major business organizations, economic development organizations which support this bill and oppose the position taken by the junior Senator from Illinois.

This is not a bill just being offered by me but the consensus of both chambers and the active participation of my colleague, Senator GRASSLEY of Iowa, Senator HARKIN as well, and a bipartisan coalition. As the majority whip has noted, 61 Senators have signed on in support of this bill and sent a letter to the majority leader and Republican leader to indicate that support. My junior colleague from the State of Illinois certainly does not have that kind of support. He has said he is going to try to delay this and try to avoid it for as long as possible.

In making this unanimous consent and making this statement, I hope it is clear on the record that at this point in time we will use any appropriate means to bring this issue forward. We will not be enslaved by the threat of filibuster. I say to my colleague from the State of Illinois, if he will accept a debate on this issue for a reasonable period of time, offer the amendments, and I will accept the consequences. Let the Senate make its decision, yes or no. If the merits of his argument are compelling, he will succeed. If they are not compelling, he will lose. The same is true for my position. That is the nature of the legislation—

Mr. DURBIN. If the majority whip will continue to yield, I hope my colleague from the State of Illinois will reconsider his dedication to these delays.

NINTH CIRCUIT OPINION

Mr. REID. Mr. President, while I still have the floor, I will respond more specifically to my friend, but I want to go off subject a little bit with some good news.

As I just stated, I had a couple of Senate colleagues who worked the Ninth Circuit. My friend, Leif Raabe, an administrative assistant to the Ninth Circuit. He just called the cloakroom and indicated the Ninth Circuit stayed the order that was issued yesterday. The pledge is intact. He is faxing me the opinion of the court.

I am, frankly, amazed they did it as quickly as they did, but I am happy they did this.

Back to O'Hare, again I am speaking—and I rarely do this, but on this occasion I am speaking through the major- ity leader of the Senate, TOM DASCHLE. Senator DASCHLE has authorized me to say to Senator DURBIN that he will use all his options, all the options of the Senate, to pass this legislation this year.

On behalf of the many people who support this legislation, I say to my friend, Senator DURBIN, he has done great work on this issue. I appreciate the support of Senator GRASSLEY and Senator Durbin. I tell the Senator from Illinois for his hard work on behalf of frustrated fliers everywhere. We have frustrated fliers at McCarran in Las Vegas, the sixth busiest airport in America. This is unfortunate to frustrated fliers. When fliers at O'Hare are less frustrated, we have more people coming to Las Vegas. It affects not only the Chicago area, the State of Illi- nois, but the entire country. That is a massive airport and is a feeder to the rest of the world.

I salute Senator DURBIN for such patience. The Senate is going to act on this legislation in some way. There are ways to do this. We are going to do it in some way, shape, or form, and we will do it as quickly as we can. The Senator has the full support of the majority leader.

Mr. DURBIN. I ask unanimous consent to be recognized for 10 minutes in morning business.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I again thank my colleague from the State of Nevada. Let me explain for a moment what the issue is before us so those who are not familiar with it can come to understand it. O'Hare is pretty well known across America. It is our busiest airport. In the year 2001, despite Sep- tember 11, it turned out to have more flights and passengers than virtually any airport in America.

But O'Hare is an airport that was designed and built in 1959, 43 years ago, with an anticipated annual volume of 20 million passengers. It now has some 67 million passengers annually. The runways that were designed in 1959 were designed to standards and expec- tations of that era—standards and expec- tations that have changed dramatically.

What we have seen in 43 years is larger planes, more frequent flights, changes in air traffic control. All of these have challenged O'Hare and every airport in the country to modernize. But O'Hare has been stuck with the same runway configuration now for over 40 years.

Part of it has to do with politics because in my State of Illinois the Gover- nor has the final word when it comes to the construction of airports. Politically, it meant that a Democratic mayor of Chicago and a Republican mayor from some other part of our State would rarely find common ground or agreement on the future of O'Hare. But last year, there was finally a breakthrough. Gov. George Ryan, a Republican, and Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, a Democrat, came to an agreement about how to change O'Hare, modernize it, improve it, and make it safer. Many people thought it could not occur, but it did happen, and because of that decision and because of that agreement we now have a chance to make that airport modern and safe by 21st century standards.

Some say that seems to be obvious. Who would object to it? It turns out that a handful of communities around O'Hare naturally are concerned about the prospects of changing flight patterns or expanding service to that air- port. They would object, as one might expect.

The elected officials in that area cre- ate a coalition to oppose these changes at O'Hare. My colleague in the Senate, the junior Senator from Illi- nois, has announced his opposition to the governor's proposal. And I think most people understand that. But there comes a moment in time when you have to say: What is in the best interests of our entire State? What is in the best interests of the region? What is in the best inter- ests of the Nation?

I think what the people of Illinois have said in overwhelming numbers is they believe this historic agreement is in our best interests. We have the sup- port, as I mentioned earlier, of the Na- tional Chamber of Commerce, the Illi- nois State Chamber of Commerce, the National AFL-CIO, the Illinois State AFL-CIO, the Airline Pilots Association, the air traffic controllers, general aviation, virtually all major airlines. They have all signed onto this.

So as some might suggest, this is a unanimous opinion of the experts in aviation that this plan moving forward makes sense.

Of course, every item in the planned agreement between the Governor and the mayor would be subject to the same types of scrutiny and restriction as any other airport design. What I have here is the report of the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, which presents this bill, S. 2039, to Congress. They made it clear in precise language:

"Nothing in the bill guarantees any funding for the O'Hare or Peotone project, or mandates that a specific set of runway configurations be approved, as the FAA retains all its existing discretion to analyze, review, and, if all relevant tests are met, approve the O'Hare project."

They go on to say:

The FAA has discretion to modify the plan, if necessary, for efficiency, safety, or other concerns.

It goes on to say the bill:

"Requires any redesign plan to conform with the Clean Air Act and to conform with all other environmental mandates to the maximum extent possible, while requiring the FAA to systematically practice to analyze any Clean Air Act requirements."

And it goes on to say this bill:

"Provides no Federal priority for federal funding of any O'Hare projects, including the runway design plan."

My colleague will stand up here and tell you what I said is a lie; it is not true. But what I put before you is the report of his committee, which says in black and white that the FAA has the last word. The FAA can reject it. The FAA can say this runway plan will not work. He can stand here, as he has repeatedly, and say those words are not true. I stand behind the committee, his committee, and the report they have given to the Senate.

I think what they have said is true because I wrote the bill and I know what is in it. When the Senator from Illinois offered an amendment in committee and said: I want to make sure the FAA has the last word, we said we will take the amendment, we accept it. Still, it is not enough.

It has really come down to the point where it will never be enough when it comes down to what my colleague is asking for in this bill.

We are in a situation where we have 81 Senators here who have signed onto a letter to the leadership, saying they are prepared to move forward on this bill. I can tell you an additional two Senators this week have told me they are prepared to support this as well. Another 10 Senators on the Republican side of the aisle have said they will support it when it comes to a vote. So the vote will be substantial.

The question before us, though, is whether that will take place. The Senator from Illinois, my colleague, has made it clear by his objection that he is prepared to filibuster this bill. He has said as much—in Illinois and here in Washington. It is no great surprise.

But some of my colleagues in the Senate have said: Oh, no, he won't do that; when it is all over, he is going to bring it up and offer his amendments and take a vote and then it will all be over.

I said: No, I don't think so. Let's go ahead and make this unanimous consent request so it is clear on the record his intention and design to lead this to a filibuster. And I think we have done that today. In the course of doing that, I think what we have established is that we have to find whatever appropriate means are available, working to bring this issue for a vote in the Senate.

I am prepared to accept the decision of the Senate on this issue. I think that is why we are elected to this body, to bring our best ideas forward and say to the assembled Senators: We hope you will support us. If you do not, then it is up to you all: do we want to have this opportunity. But I think now, in the best interests of safety at O'Hare, hundreds of thousands of jobs in our State, and the best interests of business in the region, that we should pass this bill as quickly as possible.

The PRESIDING OFFICER, the majority leader.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, I come to the floor just to compliment the distinguished Senator from Illinois for his tireless advocacy that he continues to make to ensure success. I will guarantee that before the end of this session, one way or the other, we are going to resolve this successfully. We will do whatever it takes to ensure that the people of Illinois, the business community at and around O'Hare and the tremendous service it provides are protected and that the priority it deserves is given on the Senate floor.

The Senator from Illinois has been relentless in his defense and in his advocacy. He has spoken in the caucus on countless occasions, in leadership, and on the Senate floor. I just wanted to assure him publicly, as I have privately, that we will continue to work on this until we get it done. It will happen.

I am convinced that 95, maybe 98 Senators support what the Senator from Illinois is attempting to do. I have every confidence that once we get the vote it is going to be overwhelming. So I will assure the Senator that we will continue to work with him and find a way to do it and make sure that it gets done in a time that will send the right message to the people of Illinois, the people of Chicago, the people who are concerned about safety, concerned about jobs, concerned about economic development—that the Senate understands that and, thanks to the leadership of the Senator from Illinois, we are going to deliver.

I simply want to add my voice to the many who support the Senator's efforts. I appreciate very much his coming to the floor this afternoon, again, to reiterate the extraordinary importance that this issue and this project has for the people of his State. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Illinois.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I express my appreciation for this expression of personal support from the majority leader. I thank him. He has been cooperative from the start. He understands, as we all do, this is not a Chicago issue. This is a national issue. It is an issue that the Senators across the country understand as we sit, hour after weary hour, in airports, wondering: What is wrong at O'Hare now?

What is wrong is a 46-year-old runway design that needs to be modernized; it needs to be safer; it needs to be improved. We cannot allow this issue to die. For the good of that airport, for national aviation, for jobs in Illinois, stopping this bill is a job killer in a State that needs jobs desperately. Stopping this bill is a business killer in a State that desperately needs businesses to expand. Stopping this bill is putting a dagger in the heart of the single most important public works project in the history of our State. I am going to let that happen without a fight. I am happy to have the majority leader in my corner.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Illinois is recognized.

Mr. FITZGERALD. I thank the Chair.

Mr. President, I would like to respond to what my colleague from Illinois just said. I think there are a number of points that were glossed over.

I do oppose Senator DURBIN's bill with respect to O'Hare. Mr. DURBIN said it is necessary to pass this bill in order to expand O'Hare Airport. But I would point out that never in the history of our country, that I am aware of, has any airport in this country had a special bill mandating that the FAA approve its particular expansion plans.

The fact is, if Mayor Daley of Chicago wants to expand O'Hare Airport, he can simply file an application with the FAA to expand O'Hare Airport. The trouble is, if that were the case—if Mayor Daley were simply to file an application similar to all the other airports in the country—his application would have to be judged on the merits.

So Senator DURBIN and Mayor Daley came up with the idea of drafting a statute. They put that into bill form and are now asking Congress to pass it.

The purpose of that bill is twofold:

1. The bill would straightjacket the FAA so that they would have no choice but to approve Mayor Daley's specific runway design at O'Hare Airport.

2. It could go on for a very long time. But maybe I will save that for a later date to tell you why it is in fact a bad runway design that Mayor Daley is trying to mandate in Federal law.
The bill of Senator DURBIN—I don’t care what the committee report says—says that the FAA shall implement a Federal policy in favor of approving six parallel runways running in the east-west direction at O’Hare Airport. It says that the FAA shall implement a policy that is very specifically opposed to the plan submitted by Mayor Daley. I take issue with my colleague’s comments or suggestions that the FAA could change it. In fact, it would be illegal for the FAA to reposition those runways in a northwest-southeast direction. Mayor Daley’s and Senator DURBIN’s policy proposal would be locked into Federal statutory law if my colleague’s bill passes.

That is one of the objectives my colleague has. He wants to straightjacket the FAA, put a gun to the FAA’s head, and force them to approve a bad runway design that has never been reviewed by any Federal aviation expert. It has never been tested in any modeling. In fact, it appears to be the back-of-a-napkin design. Mayor Daley was before the Senate Commerce Committee, and he admitted that the city of Chicago had never itself done any studies to back up that design.

There is another goal my colleague is trying to accomplish with S. 2039. Right now, the city of Chicago has the power to condemn lands around O’Hare Airport and communities around O’Hare Airport, provided Mayor Daley gets a permit from the State of Illinois to do that. Senator DURBIN’s bill would remove the requirement that Mayor Daley get a permit from the State before he condemns the communities around O’Hare. They cannot pass legislation in the State senate that would get rid of the permit requirement. So they have decided to come to Congress in Washington and to strip away the State’s law and permit requirement at the Federal level.

If my colleague’s bill passes, that will mean Mayor Daley could condemn all the communities around O’Hare without getting a permit from anybody. He would have an unfettered ability to condemn properties in communities that are outside the city of Chicago.

Imagine if the mayor of Minneapolis could go willy-nilly and condemn Minneapolis all around Minneapolis. Imagine what the communities around Minneapolis would think.

I think the Senate legislature was wise in imposing a requirement that the mayor of Chicago, before he goes out and condemns communities around his city, get a permit from the State of Illinois. I think the Federal Government would unbalance that wise State law if we were to remove that permit requirement.

If one person had the ability to willy-nilly condemn all parts of the Chicago area around O’Hare Airport, that would literally give the mayor of Chicago an unfettered license to run over anybody he wanted at any time he wanted. I don’t think this body should be part of conferring that kind of unfettered ability to run over people on the mayor of Chicago.

There are delays at O’Hare Airport right now. That is no doubt true. I stood right here 2 years ago and warned Congress not to lift the delay controls at O’Hare. From 1989 to 1999—for 30 years—the FAA had delay controls at O’Hare Airport so that the airlines didn’t schedule more flights than the airport had the capacity to handle.

In 1999, Congress took off the delay controls, allowing the airlines to schedule more flights than O’Hare had the capacity to handle. I warned that we would have horrible delays if we lifted those delay controls. That happened. There were interim studies by the FAA which showed that if the delay controls at O’Hare were lifted, delays would go up exponentially, and they have.

In my judgment, that was a deliberate attempt by United Airlines and American Airlines to get rid of the permit requirement at O’Hare and to build pressure to further expand O’Hare in an attempt to block a third airport which has been needed in Chicago for nearly 30 years. That is what we now see.

I also noted that while Senator DURBIN’s legislation would require the FAA, or force, or command the FAA to approve a runway expansion plan at O’Hare that would increase the capacity of the runways by 78 percent, at the same time the plan is to build new terminals which would only add 12 new gates.

This is a very bizarre plan that Congress is entering into. We are going to expand runway capacity by 78 percent, but we are only going to add 12 new gates. That really means that once runway capacity is expanded at O’Hare, it will be possible under this plan to land a plane but you will have nowhere to park it. It doesn’t make any sense. It is a complete attempt by the Federal Government to wrestle control of airport design from the FAA and curtailing the FAA’s discretion. We should leave the FAA’s discretion intact.

If Senator DURBIN believes his runway design for O’Hare Airport has merit, then he should file an application with the FAA and see if the FAA approves it. He should not seek an end-run around the rules that all the other airports in the country abide by, nor should this body be part of stripping away the authority of Congress to be the judge of what we now see.

The Senate committee stripped out the language that would authorize the FAA to reposition those runways and run around the rules that all the other airports in the country abide by, nor should this body be part of stripping away the authority of Congress to be the judge of what we now see.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, I am pleased that the Senate passed a bill which I introduced, the Patent and Trademark Authorization Act of 2002, which was reported out of the Judiciary Committee last week without objection. I appreciate that Senators HATCH, CANTWELL, REID, BENNETT and CARPER joined with me in co-sponsoring this bill.

This bill, the Patent and Trademark Authorization Act of 2002, will send a strong message to America's innovators and inventors that the Congress is interested to protect and enhance our patent system. The PTO serves a critical role in the promotion and development of commercial activity in the United States by granting patents and trademark registrations to our Nation's innovators and businesses.

The House of Representatives and the Senate are entirely paid for by fees collected by the PTO from users, individuals and companies that seek to benefit from patent and trademark protections. However, since 1992 Congress has diverted over $300 million of those fees for other government programs unrelated to the PTO.

This bill sends a strong message that Congress should appropriate to the PTO a funding level equal to these fees. The primary reason for this simple number is the creation of intellectual property by Americans, individuals and businesses, is a massive positive driving force for our economy and is a huge plus for our trade balance with the rest of the world. In recent years, the number of patent applications has risen dramatically, and that trend is expected to continue. Our patent examiners are very overworked, and emerging areas such as biotechnology and business method patents may overwhelm the system.

If fully implemented as intended, this bill can greatly assist the PTO in issuing quality patents more quickly, which means more investment, more jobs and greater productivity for American businesses.

The House of Representatives has passed a bill, H.R. 2047, which contains some similar provisions but just for fiscal year 2002 regarding the authorization of appropriations. That bill, and H.R. 2047, was also passed by the Senate but amended to include the text of S. 1754, as reported out of the Judiciary Committee. This will provide the Congress the greatest opportunity to get this reauthorization on the President's desk for signature.

Note that the Judiciary Committee reported out a substitute bill, with the assistance of Senator Hatch, which simply moved back some dates in S. 1754; as reported out of the Judiciary Committee. This will provide the Congress the greatest opportunity to get this reform on the President's desk for signature.

Section 2 authorizes Congress to appropriate to the PTO, in each of fiscal years 2003 through 2008, an amount equal to the fees estimated by the Secretary of Commerce to be collected in each of the next 5 fiscal years. The Secretary shall make this report to the Congress by February 15 of each such fiscal year.

This bill thus sets forth the goal, strongly supported by users of the patent system, that the PTO should have a budget equal to the fees collected for each year. In recent years, the appropriations' committees have not provided annual appropriations equal to the fees, and this bill sets forth the wish of the committee, and now the Senate as a whole, that the PTO be funded at levels determined by the anticipated fee collections.

Section 3 directs the PTO to develop, in the next three years, an electronic system for the filing and processing of all patent and trademark applications that is user friendly and will allow the Office to process and maintain electronically the contents and history of all applications. Of the amount appropriated under section 2, section 3 authorizes Congress to appropriate not more than $50 million in fiscal years 2003 and 2004 for the electronic filing system. The PTO is working on this.

In section 4, the bill requires the Secretary of Commerce to annually report to the Judiciary Committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate on the progress made in implementing its strategic plan. The PTO issued a short version of its "21st Century Strategic Plan" on June 3, 2002, which is available on their website.

The bill also contains two sections which will clarify two provisions of current law that provide certainty and guidance to the PTO as well as inventors and businesses.

Section 5 of S. 1754 expands the scope of matters that may be raised during the reexamination process to a level which had been the case for many years. In background, Congress established the patent reexamination system in 1980 for three purposes: to attempt to settle patent validity questions quickly and less expensively than through the courts; to allow the PTO expertise; and, third, to reinforce investor confidence in the certainty of patent rights by affording an opportunity to review patents of doubtful validity.

This system of encouraging third parties to pursue reexamination as an efficient method of settling patent disputes is still a good idea. However, by clarifying current law this bill increases the discretion of the PTO and less expensive than trying to appeal to the Federal court.

Mr. SMITH of Oregon. Mr. President, I rise today to speak about hate crimes legislation I introduced with Senator Kennedy in March of last year. The Local Law Enforcement Act of 2001 would add new categories to current hate crimes legislation sending a signal that violence of any kind is unacceptable in our society.

I would like to describe a terrible crime that occurred in August 2001 in Monmouth County, NJ. Seven people assaulted a 23-year-old learning disabled man with hearing and speech impediments. The victim was lured to a wooded area near the torture continued until he was able to escape. The perpetrators were sentenced on multiple counts in connection with the incident, including aggravated assault and harassment by bias intimidation.

I believe that government's first duty is to defend its citizens, to defend them against the harms that come out of hate. The Local Law Enforcement Enhancement Act of 2001 is now a symbol of the ability of some substance. I believe that by passing this legislation and changing current law, we can change hearts and minds as well.
GETTING ANSWERS
Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, during England’s darkest hour in 1940, Winston Churchill spoke of an unswerving sense of purpose. “You ask, what is our aim? I can answer in one word: it is victory, victory at all costs, victory in spite of all terror.” He told members of Parliament.

Sixty years later, we here in the United States are fighting a different kind of terror, terrorists who hide in caves and plot the murder of thousands of innocent civilians, but our resolve to defeat it matches that of Churchill. Some have expressed concerns that the investigations of how our intelligence and law enforcement authorities handled information prior to 9-11 will weaken our efforts to defeat terrorists. Frankly, I think the questions that are being raised will strengthen our efforts to defeat terrorism. We have a lot of good men and women working in the CIA, the FBI and other agencies. But evidence, we have learned in recent months about some of the failures of the FBI and other agencies who are blowing the whistle on agency managers who fail to see the gravity of this situation and refuse to take appropriate actions.

For example, the so-called FBI agents were admonished by their superiors for sharing information with the CIA in the case of suspected terrorist, Zacarias Moussaoui, who had links to Osama bin Laden. That is unacceptable. These agencies need to work together. Preventing the next terrorist act is a tough job, and we will succeed only if we have all of the resources working full time and cooperating fully.

In recent months and weeks, the head of Homeland Security has warned our country the terrorist attacks against the United States could happen at any time. That’s why these agencies and their officials have to be fighting the battle against, not turf battles between their agencies.

Big, bureaucratic and slow doesn’t get it anymore. We deserve better from these agencies. What if there is critical information in the posses-

When people begin to raise questions about these issues, some claim that the intent is to criticize President Bush.

President Bush, indeed any President, would have moved heaven and earth to prevent the catastrophe of 9-11 if he had received any advance warning. These inquiries are not about the President or the White House. They are about the effectiveness of our Federal agencies in the war against terrorism here at home.

The information disclosed in recent months about some of the failures of these agencies has come from people working inside the agencies. These are employees of the FBI and other agencies who are blowing the whistle on agency managers who fail to see the gravity of this situation and refuse to take appropriate actions.

unalienable rights to a nation where the Pledge of Allegiance can be ruled unconstitutional without many intervening steps along the way. Those of us who oppose the many small steps taken down this path welcome those who finally stand aghast where we end up. I hope this path is taken and the Nation will move to correct the error.

REPORT ON TRIP TO BULGARIA, MACEDONIA, KOSOVO, SLOVAKIA, SLOVENIA AND BRUSSELS

Mr. Voinovich. Mr. President, over the Memorial Day recess, I joined seven members of the House of Representatives to participate in the spring meeting of the NATO Parliamentary Assembly. Twice a year, legislators from NATO member countries and seventeen countries that have been given “associate” status—including NATO aspirants and members of the Partnership for Peace program—gather to discuss significant issues facing the Alliance.

At the forefront of the agenda this year were issues related to the war on terrorism, and questions that will be raised when NATO heads of state meet in Prague this summer, including: the future direction of the Alliance; the growing gap in military capabilities between the United States and our European allies; and the selection of new members.

This was the third year that I have participated in the NATO Parliamentary Assembly’s spring gathering. The meeting took on a new urgency as the Alliance continues to confront a changed international security environment in the aftermath of the terrorist attacks on September 11th. As parliamentarians discussed the military campaign in Afghanistan and the role of NATO in the war on terror, I reminded my European counterparts of the need to invest in the defense budgets of their respective countries. Without fundamental military capabilities such as strategic airlift and command and control systems, the European contribution to the global war on terrorism will continue to be limited.

It was clear throughout the meeting that the events of 9-11 have impacted discussions in many areas, including expansion of the Alliance. During consideration of a Declaration on NATO Enlargement, I introduced an amendment calling attention to the significant threats that terrorism and the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction pose to NATO countries, and recognizing that as NATO considers enlargement, the Alliance remains open to tolerant, democratic societies which embrace values that terrorism seeks to destroy.

As the meeting progressed, I also expressed my strong support for a robust round of enlargement during the Summit of the Alliance in Prague later this year. I share the President’s vision of enlargement, articulated in Warsaw, Poland last June, when he said that as we approach Prague: “We should not calculate how little we can get away with, but how much we can do to advance the cause of freedom.”

Yet while the Alliance should extend invitations to a number of countries in the Partnership for Peace program to sign up for membership at this point. Instead, we should continue to encourage aspirants to make progress on their membership action plans and move forward with democratic, economic and judicial reforms.

As such, during consideration of the Declaration on NATO Enlargement, I joined Congressman Doug Bereuter, the chairman of the U.S. delegation, and other members of the United States Congress at the meeting in abstaining from a vote on an amendment that identified seven countries as ready for membership in the Alliance. Despite U.S. concerns, the amendment was adopted.

While I do not disagree that the countries listed in the amendment—Bulgaria, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania—have made some strides in their preparations to join NATO, there are serious discussions that must take place between now and November regarding the selection of new members.

This spring’s NATO Parliamentary meeting was especially important to its host country, Bulgaria, which hopes to receive an invitation to join the Alliance. Primarily, Mr. Foreign Minister Solomon Passy, who I have visited with previously in my office in Washington, DC. My first official visit outside of the NATO session was with Bulgaria’s Defense Minister, Nikolay Svinarov. Just minutes before our meeting, Mr. Svinarov spoke to the NATO PA’s Committee on Defense and Security, outlining Bulgaria’s plans to move forward with defense reforms. His presentation was clear, and I congratulated him on his effort to describe Bulgaria’s progress on the defense portion of the membership action plan (MAP). While nothing has been made, I encouraged him to follow through on the vision that he articulated to the NATO parliamentarians. I was impressed with Bulgaria’s plan; however, it is evident that there is still a lot of work to be done to implement the ambitious agenda for military reform.

My impressions were reaffirmed several days later when I visited Graf Ignatievo air base, near the city of Plovdiv. The enthusiasm of the officers and pilots at the base was evident.

Since 2001, the Bulgarian government has invested in modernization of base infrastructure, upgrading the runway and the flight line and renovating buildings and training facilities. While this is certainly a positive development, I was concerned with the equipment at the base, including Soviet-era MiG-29 and MiG-21 aircraft. While the MiG-29s will be retired, the Bulgarians hope to upgrade their MiG-29s by 2004, with the goal of full NATO interoperability. There are serious questions not only about whether or not this can actually be done, but also whether this is money wisely spent.

As such, during consideration of the

I am hopeful Bulgaria's enthusiasm for NATO membership remains high, and the government stays committed to critical reform efforts.

After participating in the NATO Parliamentary Assembly meeting in Sofia, I traveled to Macedonia, Kosovo, Slovenia and Brussels to evaluate the situation in southeast Europe, and to examine progress in Macedonia, Slovenia and Albania as they work to join NATO.

Following my arrival in Skopje on Tuesday, May 28, 2002, I had the opportunity to visit with our Ambassador to Macedonia, Larry Butler, and his team at the U.S. Embassy. This was my third trip to Macedonia as a member of the U.S. Senate. I first traveled to Macedonia during the war and visited Stankovic refugee camp; my second trip was in February 2000, and I met with President Trajkovski, Prime Minister Goergeoiski, and ethnic Albanian leader Arben Xhaferi. At that time, our focus was on Kosovo. Since the spring of 2001, all eyes have been in Macedonia.

In August 2001, following the outbreak of violence in the spring by ethnic Albanian rebels from Macedonia and Kosovo, the government's political parties came together to sign a peace agreement. The plan—called the Ohrid Framework Agreement—called for the passage of laws and constitutional reforms to address concerns of Macedonia's ethnic minorities, which makes up approximately one-third of the country's population.

At the time of my visit last month, the government was expected to pass a final package of laws to implement the Ohrid Framework Agreement. This was a primary topic of discussion in my conversations with our Ambassador and staff at the U.S. embassy, as well as President Trajkovski and Mr. Xhaferi. While the parliament did not act in the days immediately following my visit, as hoped, I was pleased to learn that fifteen of the seventeen outstanding laws were passed last Thursday, June 20, 2002. I am hopeful that action on the remaining issues will be taken soon.

During my meetings with Arben Xhaferi, he stressed the importance of the international community's involvement in Macedonia. He said the United States should continue to play a role in Macedonia—both with its military presence and financial assistance. While I agree with Mr. Xhaferi that U.S. involvement in the region is important, I stressed to him that the people of Macedonia—regardless of ethnicity—must take action to improve the situation in their country. While the international community can play a helpful role, ultimately, things are in the hands of the people and their elected leaders. As such, I encouraged Mr. Xhaferi to move forward with efforts to implement constitutional reforms, and to promote respect for the rule of law. I also shared with him my strong concern with organized crime, corruption and human trafficking in the region, and urged him to take action in this area.

During my meetings, it was also clear that demarcation of the border between Macedonia and Kosovo has become a significant issue in both Macedonia and Kosovo. Some in Macedonia would like to move forward with the demarcation of border, recognized by the U.N. Security Council, which was formally agreed upon by Macedonia and the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia last November.

Judging from my conversations in Kosovo, however, it was evident that there is not yet a consensus regarding the right time to put down markers along the border. This issue must be approached with caution.

I am also hopeful that free and fair parliamentary elections will take place in Macedonia on September 15, 2002, as planned. The United States and members of the international community, including the U.S. Congress, should do everything in their power to stress to leaders in Macedonia the importance of permitting people to go to the polls without incidence this fall.

On Wednesday, May 29, 2002, I spent the day in Kosovo. It was my third trip to Kosovo since February 2000, and the fourth full day that I have spent there. During my time in the Senate, I have been very active on issues affecting southeast Europe, and I have been particularly concerned with the situation of ethnic minorities and respect for minority rights throughout the region—In Bosnia-Herzegovina, Croatia, and the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, as well as Kosovo. As such, I was glad to have the opportunity to examine this issue in Kosovo last month.

I spent time with the Head of UNMIK Michael Steiner, as well as Commander of KFOR General Valentin, who also met with President Rugova and Prime Minister Rexhepi, and Serb leaders Rada Trajkovic and Ljubomir Stanojkovic. I met with Ambassador John Menzies and his team at the U.S. Office in Pristina, and I was glad to visit with General Lute at KFOR Main and some of our troops at Camp Bondsteel, as well as Ambassador Pascal Fieschi, who heads the OSCE Mission in Kosovo.

Around the time of my visit, the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE) and the U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) released the Ninth Assessment of the Situation of Ethnic Minorities in Kosovo, which describes the quality of life experienced by Kosovo's minority groups.

My impressions after spending time in Kosovo last month reaffirm many of the conclusions reached in the OSCE-UNHCR report: while there has been some improvement for ethnic minorities, there is still a long way to go. My impression was that things seem somewhat better now than they were when I visited nearly 3 years ago. I attribute this to several factors, including work done by the international community, including UNMIK, KFOR, the OSCE and others, as well as the interest that the people of Kosovo have shown in creating their own government following parliamentary elections last November and the election of new leadership in March. The participation of the Serbian minority in the parliamentary elections last November was very important, as was the cooperation of the FRY government, which encourage Kosovar Serbs to vote.

Additionally, I was impressed with the “benchmark” goals that have been outlined by UNMIK, which call for progress in key areas, including respect for the rule of law, strengthening democratic institutions, and building a civil society.

The benchmarks paper also emphasizes respect for minority rights and refugee returns, which deserve attention both from the international community and from the newly elected leadership in Kosovo.

This document is very important, as it lays out a plan for Kosovo. It will be critical for the international community to refer to this document from time to time, as necessary, to redouble efforts in certain areas. In the past, I have been concerned that the international community has not been focused in its vision of Kosovo, and this document offers a positive step in the right direction.

To make real progress, however, we must encourage Michael Steiner and UNMIK to develop a strategic plan and a critical path for the implementation of the benchmark goals. When I attend the OSCE Parliamentary Assembly meeting in Berlin this July, I will encourage the Head of the OSCE Mission in Kosovo, Pascal Fieschi, to do so. This will allow UNMIK to monitor progress on the benchmark goals.

In Kosovo, I also met with the Commander of KFOR, General Valentin, and discussed with him the security situation in the region. He is optimistic, and believes that there is progress every day. He said things are much better than they were three years ago. Ambassador Fieschi was also encouraged that things have gotten better for Kosovo's minorities, though he indicated that change has been slow.

I agree that things are somewhat better, the findings in the OSCE-UNHCR report are less upbeat. With regard to security and freedom of movement, the report reads: “Despite the decrease in serious incidents of violence, harassment, intimidation and humiliation of minority communities in Kosovo continued to prevail as a feature of daily life.” This affects all of Kosovo’s minorities, including Serbs, Roma, Egyptians, Bosniaks, Croats, Albanians, Turks and others.

I also believe we must watch the situation along the border with Macedonia carefully. This issue has become controversial in both countries, and may destabilize the region. While some in Macedonia would like to move forward with the demarcation of the border, this is a sensitive issue which must be approached calmly and rationally. The OSCE has a key role to play in promoting a peaceful and democratic demarcation of the border, and at the end of May, the Kosovo Assembly passed a resolution denouncing the border agreement—which Michael Steiner immediately annulled. I believe there should be discussion on this matter, with all involved parties together at one table.

Following my time in Kosovo, I traveled to the Slovak Republic to discuss the country’s aspirations to join the NATO Alliance, and to assess their progress in terms of meeting their obligations to participate in the membership action plan process. Though my time was limited, I was pleased to finally have the chance to travel to Slovakia—which was the only country aspiring to join the NATO Alliance to do this.

While in Bratislava, I spent time with our Ambassador to Slovakia, Ron Weiser, who is working hard to promote the merits of democracy, the rule of law and a free market economy as the country looks toward membership in NATO. I believe his work is important in the months leading to parliamentary elections this September, which could be a determining factor in Slovakia’s candidacy for NATO membership.

During my visit, I had the opportunity to meet with Prime Minister Mikulas Dzurinda, who has pushed forward with critical economic and democratic reforms in Slovakia since becoming Prime Minister. His government has placed a top priority on joining NATO and the European Union. Prime Minister Dzurinda and I discussed ongoing efforts to liberalize the economy, strengthen democratic institutions and modernize the country’s armed forces. We also talked about the importance of respecting minority rights including the rights of the country’s ethnic Hungarian community. Additional, I expressed my strong concerns with the problems of organized crime, corruption and human trafficking in central and eastern Europe, and encouraged the Prime Minister and his government to move forward with efforts to address these problems.

I also met with Robert Fico, leader of the Smer (Direction) political party, who hopes to be the country’s next prime minister. Young and charismatic, Fico’s campaign signs were all over town as we drove from one meeting to the next. Fico and his colleague, who is the strongest supporter for Slovakia’s membership in NATO and the European Union. As the polls are close, it is possible that he could play a role in the formation of the next government.

Following my arrival at the Bratislava airport, I met with Defense Secretary Ratsis Kacer. We discussed ongoing defense reforms, and how Slovakia’s accession to NATO will help address those concerns. The country’s defense spending. During my time in public service, I have often said it is important to “work harder and smarter,” and do more with less.” Mr. Kacer knew of my philosophy, and said this business as the country works to modernize with limited resources. He reiterated the country’s strong support for NATO, and said the government has aligned its own national defense priorities with issues important to the Alliance.

Additionally, I have the opportunity to visit with ethnic Hungarian Leader Mr. Laszlo Dobos, who was a member of Slovakia’s parliament during the 1990s. Dr. Dobos is founder and chairman of Madach Posonion, as a Hungarian organization that operates Hungarian bookstores in Slovakia and publishes Hungarian periodicals. We discussed a number of issues of concern to Slovakia’s Hungarian community, including higher education and greater autonomy for local governments.

During at all meetings in Slovakia, I noted that the upcoming elections will be very important to the future of the country. Voters will decide the direction of the country, whether it moves toward membership in NATO and the EU, or whether it is left behind as others join the higher European Community of democracies.

Values are the hallmark of the NATO alliance, and I believe it is critical that Slovakia embraces the ideals of democracy, the rule of law and respect for human rights, consistent with the current government, and break with the leadership of Vladimir Meclor that has brought the country away from the United States, the European Union and other members international community in the past.

I was also glad to have the opportunity to visit Slovakia to talk about the country’s work to join the NATO Alliance. I have long followed developments in Slovenia, and I believe the country is in a very good position as we approach the NATO summit in Prague.

Slovenia has made considerable progress on democratic, economic and defense reforms, and there is continued discussion on the merits of NATO membership in the public. At the same time, it is important that the government act to bolster public support for NATO, which has continued to hover around 50 percent. It is also imperative that the country work to increase its defense budget to the 2 percent mark. Currently, Slovenia allocates approximately 1.5 percent of GDP for its armed forces.

During my time in Slovenia I had the opportunity to visit with President Milan Kucan, who I have known for... many years. We discussed the country’s work to join NATO, as well as its progress in efforts to prepare for membership in the European Union. With regard to public opinion, President Kucan indicated that public support for NATO enlargement is strong and that the Pact make its intentions clear at the annual meeting of OSCE on the Quick Start projects.

I again discussed these issues and found the same enthusiasm for Slovenia’s membership in NATO and the European Union with members of the Slovenian parliament, including the President of Parliament Borut Pahor, President of the Foreign Affairs Committee Jelko Kacin and President of the Defense Committee Doran Marsic. Even the opposition expressed a solid commitment to moving forward with efforts to join the NATO Alliance.

I also discussed these issues with Prime Minister Janez Drnovsek, who has recently announced his intention to run for President of Slovenia, as well as Minister of Defense Anton Origo. During my visit with our ambassador, John Young, and discussed the country’s strong candidacy for membership in both NATO and the European Union. I am hopeful that public support for NATO membership will continue to grow, and I am glad that this will be an enlightened decision in Slovenia given the high level of discussion on the issue.

Following meetings in Slovenia on Friday, May 31, 2002, I traveled to Brussels to participate in the annual meeting of the OSCE Parliamentary Assembly next week.

CHILDREN’S AID SOCIETY OF SOUTHEASTERN MICHIGAN CELEBRATES 140TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I would like to congratulate the Children’s Aid Society of Southeastern Michigan (CAS) on its 140th anniversary. In that time CAS has been an organization dedicated to serving children, youth, and families. For nearly a century and a half, CAS has been a dynamic and compassionate presence in the Michigan community.

CAS, the oldest child welfare agency in Michigan, is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization dedicated to the preservation and quality of family life in Southeastern Michigan based in Detroit. Begun in 1862 by members of the Presbyterian Church to help Civil War orphans, CAS has expanded in the years since to help hundreds of thousands of troubled children and families. CAS aims to build strength within the family unit by providing a variety of comprehensive child and family-focused services seeking to create the foundation for a better and healthier society.

The services that CAS provides are innovative and humanistic, viewing each individual and problem as unique. For example, the Work Works program gives high-risk youth between the ages of 13 and 17 training in employment skills and helps them in finding a job. Alumni of the program help other staff teach the skills of positive self-esteem, work ethics, and job readiness. Another program, Moving Families in the Right Direction, aims to prevent delinquency and school dropout by strengthening family functioning and relationships.

Staff go into homes, schools, and the community to counsel sessions and group work with youth between the ages of 10 and 17 who have been referred to them by the Police Department or Juvenile Court. Following at-risk children and families early attention, CAS tries to help prevent the family break-up and juvenile delinquency that plagues so much of our country today. CAS also provides day care and has programs for early childhood education, mental health, child abuse, teen families, and parenting.

As the largest child welfare agency in southeast Michigan, CAS serves nearly 20,000 clients a year and is deeply indebted to the work CAS has done for families and children over the last 140 years. Year in and year out CAS has fought to hold families together and ensure the welfare of children. The vital support services that CAS provides help children and parents deal with the difficult personal and societal issues they face in the 21st century.

Having performed these important services for over 140 years indeed a tremendous accomplishment and deserves hearty commendation.

I know my Senate colleagues will join me in congratulating the Children’s Aid Society of Southeastern Michigan for 140 years of success and in wishing it a fruitful future that only adds to its rich legacy of compassion.

EDS’ 40TH ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. HUTCHISON. Mr. President. I extend my congratulations to EDS and to its employees on the company’s 40th anniversary. On June 27, 1962, Electronic Data Systems was incorporated in Texas, and the company is still headquartered in Plano, TX. The company’s initial goal was simply to help companies use their computers more effectively. Since then, EDS has been a leader in the information-technology services industry.

EDS is strengthened by adapting to its clients’ needs and by providing information-technology and business-consulting services to every sector of the technology industry.

We also discussed my interest in the Stability Pact—in particular, the Stability Pact Quick Start Instrument Projects. I believe it is critical that the Pact make its intentions clear on the Quick Start projects.

Finally, we discussed my concern with organized crime, corruption and trafficking in human beings, drugs and weapons that plague many countries in central and eastern Europe. I encouraged Mr. Lehne to make these problems a top priority, as they undermine efforts to promote democratic reforms and respect for the rule of law in many of Europe’s new democracies.

With Ambassador Nick Burns, I discussed my interest in NATO enlargement. Ambassador Burns visits with 63 agreeing that the United States will continue to grow, and I am glad that this should not happen immediately, but 90 agreeing that this will be an enlightened decision in Slovenia given the high level of discussion on the issue.

I look forward to continued discussion with the administration and my colleagues in the Senate on NATO enlargement this fall, and I encourage NATO aspirant countries to take as many steps as they can between now and November to address issues outlined in their respective Membership Action Plans.

Additionally, I will continue to be active and involved in the Senate on issues affecting southeast Europe. We had a very productive Helsinki Commission hearing to examine the situation for ethnic minorities in Kosovo over the last month, and I am looking forward to discussing these issues when I participate in the annual meeting of the OSCE Parliamentary Assembly next week.

I again discussed these issues and found the same enthusiasm for Slovenia’s membership in NATO and the European Union with members of the Slovenian parliament, including the President of Parliament Borut Pahor, President of the Foreign Affairs Committee Jelko Kacin and President of the Defense Committee Doran Marsic. Even the opposition expressed a solid commitment to moving forward with efforts to join the NATO Alliance.
global economy. Evolving from a staff of fewer than 30 to a team of more than 140,000 employees in 50 States and more than 60 countries, EDS helps companies to excel in the digital economy.

In the 1960s, when the business world was awash in minicomputers, ERICH BLOCH saw a novel opportunity to help companies use their computers effectively. In the 1970s, EDS expanded into new international markets, which today include some of its fastest-growing opportunities. Over the last two decades, computers and Web-based business models have changed the way people and businesses interact and access information. EDS has worked to ensure the strategic technological alignment of its clients in light of these developments.

EDS prides itself on consistently demonstrating resourcefulness and innovation, such as in aiding disaster recovery and providing information security in business continuity efforts. Responding quickly to unmet needs is a hallmark of successful businesses, such as EDS. I commend EDS for its vitality and innovation, and send the people of EDS best wishes for the future.

THE VANNEVAR BUSH AWARD FOR SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY TO ERICH BLOCH

Mr. LIEBERMAN. Mr. President, I rise to bring to my colleagues’ attention the fact that the National Science Board, NSB, has honored Erich Bloch as the 24th recipient of the Vannevar Bush Award for Science and Technology, its highest award for scientific achievement and statesmanship. Mr. Bloch’s record of innovation and leadership in the advanced technology sector and the immense impact that his career has had on the field make him especially deserving of lofty praise. He received the award on May 7 in Washington, DC.

Mr. Bloch is a member of the President’s Council of Advisors on Science and Technology, a distinguished fellow at the Council on Competitiveness, a former director of the National Science Foundation, and an outspoken supporter of fundamental research in leading innovation. He occupies a senior statesman status in science and engineering and has been a longtime supporter of science and mathematics education programs funded by the Federal government.

Erich Bloch is a visionary innovator of enormous stature—in both high technology for the private sector—and in the organization and objectives of science and engineering research,” Eamon Kelly. National Science Board chair, stated in announcing the honor. “He has been an exceptionally effective advocate of the benefits of public funding for science and technology, and a leader in establishing widely emulated mechanisms for productive partnerships in research. He has excelled across public, academic, and private sectors.

em" brought together a fragmented community to march for freedom for Americans with disabilities. He taught us that disabilities do not mean unable.

When President Bush signed the Americans with Disabilities Act into law and gave the first pen to Justin, he protested the fact that only three disability activists were on the podium, because he believed that the ADA would never have been accomplished without the power of hundreds of people with disabilities who made the difference. When he finally received the Presidential Medal of Freedom, Justin sent out replicas of this award to hundreds of disability rights activists across the country, writing that "this award belongs to you."

Even in his final words to us he talks of the power and importance of equal rights for all people. Disabled people across the country and around the world owe a great debt to Justin Dart for his love and his commitment to Justice. He is a hero not just to those with disabilities, but to all of us who learned from him and served with him in the great causes he inspired.

As President Kennedy once said, "As the years have passed over our cities, we too will be remembered, not for our victories or defeats in battle or in politics, but for our contribution to the human spirit." Justin Dart brought the human spirit of the disability movement to life, and his spirit will go on through the lives of those he touched.

HEROES OF OPERATION ENDURING FREEDOM

Mr. MURKOWSKI. Mr. President, I am pleased to insert in the Record the heroic accounts of the 354th Wing and 18th Fighter Squadron at Eielson Air Force Base in Anchorage, AK, for the vital role they played in Operation Enduring Freedom.

The accounts that follow describe the daring mission of three pilots who were involved in a difficult rescue operation. Both Alaska, and the Nation, appreciate and honor their heroism that helped to save lives. I, along with my fellow colleagues, am extremely proud of our men and women who are at this very moment, much like the 354th Wing and 18th Fighter Squadron were doing their part for freedom and democracy around the world.

Today we are a nation at war. A war against the evil of terrorism. Make no mistake, there are evil people in this world. There are people whose sole purpose on this earth is to harm and kill innocent people. Let us not forget what happened in our country just a short time ago. America's freedom, our freedom, the freedom of this Chamber and of millions of people all over the world, are protected by the men and women who serve in the armed forces.

It is with utmost respect and appreciation that I share the heroic events that took place during Operation Freedom. But before I do, let me personally comment on why lives were saved based upon the acts of three fine soldiers. It all comes down to training. Our military has an extraordinary ability to prepare our soldiers for battle. Our soldiers are in the world. I commend the armed forces for preparing our soldiers for battle and for bringing them home safely. It is no coincidence that our soldiers, who face grave and dire situations, prevail. Thirty-nine minutes after the takeoff because of the actions of Lieutenant Colonel Burt A. Bartley, Captain James R. Sears, Jr. and Captain Andrew J. Lipina. The tale of this mission surely seems unreal. A MH-47 helicopter was shot out of the sky. The enemy was fast closing on the downed helicopter where 10 injured soldiers were in need of immediate medical attention. Time was of the essence. Instinctively, a rescue operation was put into motion. And this was precisely what happened.

When the enemy is armed and looking to kill, it is imperative that all available resources are put to their maximum utilization. After all available artillery were expended, a 500 pound bomb was dropped within 100 meters of the crash site, creating a barrier between the wounded soldiers and the advancing enemy. 100 meters, the length of a football field. This allowed the rescue operation to be successfully carried out. As you will read, this was America at its best. I applaud the heroism and bravery of all those involved in this daring rescue.

I ask that the summary of the heroic actions of the 354th Wing and 18th Fighter Squadron at Eielson Air Force Base, be printed in the RECORD. The material follows:

CITATION TO ACCOMPANY THE AWARD OF THE SILVER STAR TO BURT A. BARTLEY

Lieutenant Colonel Bartley distinguished himself by heroism and courageous action as F-16CG flight lead, 18th Expeditionary Fighter Squadron, in support of Operation ENDURING FREEDOM. During the early morning of 15 March 2002, Captain Lipina learned of a downed MH-47 helicopter. Lieutenant Colonel Bartley departed assigned airspace to immediately support the recovery of thirty-nine personnel on board. The helicopter was situated with the Ground Forward Air Controller (GFAC) to establish situational awareness. Although the MH-47 was coming in to land at the crash site, he observed two UH-60 Medevac helicopters that were directly firing upon the survivors from within 100 meters. He made two strafing runs, each closer to the crash site than the previous, with the aim of keeping the enemy from further attacking the survivors so they could finally land the MH-47. He then provided a rapid talk-over to his wingman, who was experiencing radio problems, immediately employed 20mm cannon fire to neutralize the enemy troops firing upon the survivors. The skill and determination of Captain Lipina rapidly pointed the formation to the next closest tanker and masterfully coordinated with command and control assets to relocate air refueling tanker assets to support the rescue effort. He further defeated a second UH-60 Medevac helicopter. Both MH-47 helicopters were armed with 20mm cannon, 12.7mm machine guns and two 70mm rockets.

Both Alaska, and the Nation, appreciate and honor their heroism that helped to save lives. I, along with my fellow colleagues, am extremely proud of our men and women who are at this very moment, much like the 354th Wing and 18th Fighter Squadron were doing their part for freedom and democracy around the world.

pinned down enemy had begun to close in on their position again. His actions resulted in the flight's ability to maintain continuous contact with the GFAC and continue to threaten the enemy forces for over two and a half hours. After he had verified from command and control that no other airborne assets had 20mm or light ordnance, Captain Sears flew his flight lead at over 500 pounds within 100 meters of the crash site in order to keep the enemy forces at bay. Captain Lipina expertly sanitized the area for MANPADs and anti-aircraft artillery in the hostile and hazardous region of the downed helicopter. This was extremely important since a previous flight had been engaged in similar terrain. Meanwhile a second GFAC reported two critically wounded soldiers requiring immediate air evacuation. While his lead continued to work on pinning down enemy, Captain Lipina began to coordinate for the air evacuation and offered his remaining bombs to escort the rescue helicopters through an area with numerous small mountainous terrain. Additionally, he coordinated for other assets to move into position to support the survivors on the ground. The unyielding courage and heroism of Captain Lipina completely saved the lives of 21 uninjured survivors and 10 wounded on the ground in the crash site and enabled the safe recovery of all 39 Americans.

JAMES R. SEARS JR.: DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS NARRATIVE
Captain James R. Sears Jr. distinguished himself by heroism and extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight to F-16CG flight lead, 18th Expeditionary Fighter Squadron on 20 January 2002. Captain Sears distinguished himself as On Scene Commander for a downed CH-53 in a heavily mountainous area in Northern Afghanistan during Operation ENDURING FREEDOM. During the Combat Search and Rescue he organized, directed, and coordinated a flight lead of 13 aircraft including three Unmanned Aerial Vehicles, five helicopters, one C-130, two F-16s, and two F-18s. He rapidly developed a deconfliction plan that enabled all assets to move into position to support the survivors on the ground. The unyielding courage and heroism of Captain Sears completely saved the lives of 21 uninjured survivors and 10 wounded on the ground in the crash site and enabled the safe recovery of all 39 Americans.

TO JAN OMUNDSON AND PAM ELJ
Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, on many occasions in the past year and a half, I have come to the floor on behalf of steelworkers and their families who live on Minnesota's Iron Range in northeastern Minnesota. Like other steel-producing regions, the Iron Range has been hard hit by unfair foreign imports, devastating the United States steel and iron ore industries. And last year, Minnesota's Iron Range economy was rocked by the bankruptcy and closure of the LTV Steel Mining Company in Hoyt Lakes.

When the LTV Steel Mining Company's 1400 employees were thrown out of work. Many of these men and women had dedicated their entire working lives to LTV. They are hard-working people with families and bills to pay. In addition to the layoffs, 1,700 retirees lost portions of their pensions and all of their health insurance and life insurance.

But if you know anything about Minnesota, you understand that in hard times we pull together and we persevere. This is especially true about the hardworking people of the Iron Range.

Today, I'd like to recognize two very unselshif Minnesota's, Jan Omundson and Pam Elj, who have gone above and beyond the call of normal duty to help people here at home.

For the past 3 months, Jan and Pam traveled more than 160 round-trip miles each day, from the Cities of Duluth and Virginia respectively, to help hundreds of displaced LTV employees and retirees understand their health care options. When an economic tragedy like this strikes a community, it's often a very painful, stressful, and confusing time for the families affected. Thanks to Jan and Pam, people affected now have a much better understanding of their benefits.

In her role as coordinator of the Arrowhead Area Agency on Aging's State Health Insurance Assistance Program, Jan Omundson led this team effort by providing support and resources to the Arrowhead Regional Development Commission, the Arrowhead Economic Opportunity Agency, the Hoyt Lakes Community Credit Union, the City of Biwabik, and Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Minnesota.

I thank them all for their dedication and assistance during this very difficult time.

COMMUNITY HERO
Mr. SMITH of Oregon. Mr. President, today I salute a community leader in my home State of Oregon. I want to recognize the efforts of Susan Abravanel, Education Coordinator at SOLV, a nonprofit organization in Oregon, in advocating for service-learning, one of the most exciting educational initiatives taking hold in our Nation today.

Service-learning gives students the opportunity to learn through community service, but it is important to note that it is much more than just community service. It is a method of teaching that integrates courses, a community service activity, and a classroom lesson. Students learn through hands-on work outside the classroom that benefits the community at large. Research shows that students participating in service-learning make gains on achievement tests, complete their homework more often, and increase their grade point averages.

In addition to producing academic gains, service-learning is also associated with both increased attendance and reduced dropout rates. It is clear to educators across the country that service-learning helps students feel more connected to their own education while strengthening their connection to their community as well. It is for all of these reasons that Susan Abravanel is working so hard to advocate for service-learning in classrooms in Oregon and across the nation.

Ms. Abravanel is working closely with my office and with education leaders in Oregon to ensure that my home state remains a national leader in service-learning. Just 2 months ago, I introduced a bill with my colleague, Senator EDWARDS, to strengthen our Nation's commitment to service-learning. I feel confident that this bill will become law and that with Ms. Abravanel's continued efforts both here in Washington, DC and at home in Oregon, students will continue to benefit from an education tied to civic engagement.

Ms. Abravanel exemplifies the type of engaged citizen our schools must endeavor to produce, and her persistence will ensure that future generations of Americans will give back to their communities just as she has. I would also like to note that Susan isn't just concerned about education, her interests and efforts in Portland's Jewish community are well known and highly appreciated, she is the new President of the... the Oregon chapter of the American Jewish Committee. I look forward to working with Susan in her new role at the AJC and thank her for her continuing devotion to service-learning.

STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. FEINGOLD:
S. 2691. A bill to amend the Communications Act of 1934 to facilitate an increase in programming and content on radio that is locally and independently produced, to facilitate competition in radio programming, radio advertising, and concert and concert industry and its effect on consumers, artists, local businesses, and ticket prices.

A few weeks ago, I began discussing with my colleagues a number of concerns that I have been hearing from Wisconsinites. Anti-competitive practices are hurting local radio station owners, local businesses, consumers, and artists.

During the debate of the 1996 Telecommunications Act, I joined a number of my colleagues in opposing the deregulation of radio ownership rules because of concerns about its effect on consumers, artists, and local radio stations.

Passage of this act was an unfortunate example of the influence of soft money in the political process. As my colleagues will recall, I have consistently said that this act was bought and paid for by soft money. Everyone was at the table, except for the consumers.

We have enacted legislation to fight the system of this loophole in campaign finance law, but we must also repair the damage that it allowed.

In just five years since its passage, the effects of the Telecommunications Act have been far worse than we imagined. While I opposed this act because of its anti-consumer bias, I did not predict that the elimination of the national radio ownership caps and relaxation of local ownership caps would have triggered such a wave of consolidation and harmed such as divergent range of interests.

This legislation did not simply raise the national ownership limits on radio stations, it eliminated them all together. It also dramatically raised the local radio station ownership limits through the implementation of a tiered ownership system that allowed a company to own more radio stations in the larger markets.

When the 1996 Telecommunications Act became law there were approximately 5,100 owners of radio stations. Today, there are only about 3,800 owners, a decrease of about 25 percent.

Concentration at the local levels is unprecedented.

At the same time that ownership of radio stations has become increasingly concentrated, some large radio station ownership groups have also bought promotion services and advertising.

I have been hearing from people at home in Wisconsin, from Radio station owners, artists, broadcasters, and concert promoters who are being pushed out by anti-competitive practices, practices that result from an increasing concentrated media.

I am very concerned that these levels of concentration are pushing independent radio station owners and concert promoters out of business. And I am concerned that a few companies are leveraging their cross-ownership of radio, concert promotion, and concert venues in an anti-competitive manner.

My legislation addresses these concerns by prohibiting any entity that owns radio stations, concert promotion services, or venues from leveraging their cross-ownership of radio, concert promotion, and concert venues in an anti-competitive manner.

My legislation addresses these concerns by prohibiting any entity that owns radio stations, concert promotion services, or venues from leveraging their cross-ownership of radio, concert promotion, and concert venues in an anti-competitive manner. Under this proposal, the FCC would revoke the license of any radio station that uses its cross owner... ship of promotion services or venues to prevent access to the airwaves, venues, or in other anti-competitive ways.

For example, if an owner of a radio station and promotion service hindered access to the airwaves of a rival promoter, then the owner would be subject to penalties for such behavior.

My legislation will also ensure that any future consolidation does not result in these anti-competitive practices. It will strengthen the FCC merger review process by requiring the FCC to scrutinize mergers of large radio station ownership groups to consider the effect of national and local concentration on independent radio stations, concert promoters and consumers.

At the same time, it will also curb future local consolidation by preventing any upward revision of the limitation of multiple ownership of radio stations in local markets.

It will also close a loophole that currently allows radio ownership companies to exceed the cap by “warehousing stations” through a third party. In these arrangements, large radio owners control a station through a third party, but the stations are not accounted for in their local ownership cap.

Finally, my legislation will also address many of the problems created by the consolidation in the radio industry, such as the new forms of payola. This legislation will require the FCC to modernize the Federal payola prohibition to prevent these large radio station ownership groups from leveraging their power to extract money or other consideration from artists, such as forcing them to play concerts for free.

Radio is a public medium and we must ensure that it serves the public good. The concentration of ownership, in the radio and concert industry, has caused great harm to people and businesses that have been involved in and concerned about the industry for generations.

It also harms the flow of creativity and ideas that artists seek to contribute to our society. This concentration does a disservice to our society at every level of the industry, and it must be addressed.

I urge my colleagues to join me to cosponsor this legislation to help to restore competition to the radio and concert industry by putting independent radio stations and concert promoters on a level playing field in the marketplace. This will help promote competition, local input, and diversity, and promote consumer choices.

By Mr. CORZINE (for himself, Mr. TORRICELLI, Mr. DURBIN, and Mr. NELSON of Florida):

S. 2692. A bill to provide additional funding for the second round of empowerment zones and enterprise communities; to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. CORZINE. Mr. President, today I am introducing legislation, “The Round II Empowerment Zone/Enterprise Community, EZ/EC, Flexibility Act of 2002,” to provide funding for the Round II Enterprise Zone/Enterprise Community program. I want to thank and acknowledge Senators TORRICELLI, DURBIN and NELSON of Florida for their cosponsorship of my legislation.

This legislation would encourage economic development throughout the EZ/EC program, particularly to the 15 Round II urban and 5 rural empowerment zones that were designated in 1999. It would also put together strong strategic initiatives to promote economic growth.

The legislation would help ensure that these Round II communities will be provided with the funding they have been promised. The bill also would authorize the use of EZ/EC grants as a match for other relevant Federal programs. This would provide the EZ/EC program with maximum flexibility to implement initiatives at the local level.

The Enterprise Zone/Enterprise Community program was created to provide Federal assistance over ten years in designated urban and rural communities that would fuel economic revitalization and growth. The program does so primarily by providing federal grants to communities and tax and regulatory relief to help communities attract and retain businesses.

Unfortunately, an inequity now exists between Round I and Round II EZs and ECs. Those communities that won EZ designations in the initial round, in 1994, received full funding from the Congress, which made all grant awards available for use within the first two years of designation. However, EZs and ECs designated in Round II did not receive this same funding authority.

Federal benefits promised to the Round II included funding grants of $100 million for each rural zone and about $3 million for each Enterprise Community over a ten-year period beginning in 1999. In reliance on those “promised” funds, Round II zones prepared strategic plans for economic revitalization based on the availability of that funding. However, unlike Round I designees, who received a full funding up front, Round II zones have received a mere fraction of the funding promised.

The lack of a certain, predictable funding stream will ultimately undermine the ability of Round II EZs/ECs to effectively implement their economic growth strategies in their designated communities. And that’s a shame, because the EZ/EC initiative has produced real results.

In fact, I’m proud to say that one of the best Round II EZs is located in Cumberland County, NJ. The Cumberland County Empowerment Zone, a collaborative effort of the communities of Bridgeton, Millville, Vineland and Port Norris, has been a model EZ, and committed all the funds made available to it by HUD.

Since the creation of the EZ, Cumberland County has witnessed more than 100 housing units rehabbed, renovated or newly built. A $4 million loan pool has been created to fund communal and small business reinvestment. The EZ also has led to the funding for economic initiatives, utilizing more than $11 million in funding to leverage $120 million in private, public and tax exempt bond financing.

These are real results. And if the Federal commitment to the EZ continues, over 1,100 new jobs will be created in the County over the next year and a half alone.

Cumberland County is just one example of how the EZ/EC initiative has brought hope and promise to communities throughout America. We need to do more to support and build on these initiatives. Now is the time for Congress to fulfill the promise made to Round II EZs and ECs.

I urge my colleagues to cosponsor this legislation, and hope the Senate will expedite its consideration.

By Mr. DORGAN (for himself and Mr. CORZINE):

S. 2693: A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to encourage retirement savings for individuals by providing a refundable credit for individuals to deposit in a Social Security Plus account, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, the Board of Trustees for the Social Security Trust Fund issued its annual report in March describing the financial health of the Trust Fund and its outlook for the future. The report shows that the financial condition of the Trust Fund over the next few decades has improved somewhat since last year, that is, the Social Security program is now expected to remain solvency for three additional years through 2041. This is welcome news for the tens of millions of baby boomers who will depend on this program in the coming decades.

However, this latest Trustees' report also makes clear that the Social Security program still faces significant long-term financial challenges. This finding was not unexpected. In fact, there is already bipartisan agreement in Congress that we will need to make some careful changes to the Social Security system in order to guarantee the solvency of the Social Security Trust Fund beyond 2041. Today, Senator CORZINE of New Jersey and I are introducing legislation that we think should be part of those reform discussions.

Our legislation, called the Social Security Plus Account Act, builds upon two fundamental principles: one, the underlying guaranteed defined benefit approach of the current Social Security program should not be scrapped or weakened. Social Security has become the foundation of the Nation’s retirement system, something that people can always count on. At a time when private employers are shifting more retirement saving risks onto the shoulders of their employees through the use of defined contribution plans like 401(k) plans rather than traditional defined benefit pension plans, the need to retain Social Security's basic guaranteed payment is paramount.

Second, this legislation recognizes that Congress must do more to encourage families and individuals, especially those of modest means, to increase their savings and to build a retirement nest egg. Specifically, our legislation provides for the creation of new tax-favored retirement savings accounts that individuals and families could access to supplement, but not replace, their expected future Social Security benefits.

Unlike many reform proposals, this legislation leaves the Social Security program intact. Many privatization plans force you to choose between individual accounts and the loss of Social Security's guaranteed benefits at current levels. Our proposal calls for personal accounts as an "add-on" to Social Security. This is an important distinction from the "carve-out" accounts featured in privatization plans. Privatization would inevitably reduce traditional guaranteed benefits. Our approach would not.

Under this legislation, eligible individuals can set up and make tax-favored contributions up to $2,000 each year to a new Social Security Plus Account, SSPA. To provide an extra savings boost for low- and moderate-income families, our legislation would require the Federal Government to provide matching contributions between 25 and 100 percent for married couples with adjusted gross income below $100,000, $50,000 for singles. The $2,000 limit applies to the total of the individual's own contribution and the Federal match. This will make it much more affordable for low and moderate earners to fully fund their accounts.

Like traditional individual retirement accounts, SSPAs can grow tax-free. For example, if an individual aged 30 who files a joint return and has annual earnings of about $25,000 contributes $500 to a SSPA, the Federal Government would match that contribution with a $500 contribution to the account. If that individual contributes $500 in cash each year to the account for 32 years, earning 5 percent interest per year, until retirement at age 62, he or she would have some $80,000 available for distribution from the account.

This amount grows to $100,000 if the individual is able to contribute the maximum in each year until age 62. Let's take another example. Assume that an individual who is forty years old, files a joint return and has annual adjusted gross income of $80,000. If he or she could make the maximum permissible contribution each year until reaching age 62 along with an annual government match of $400, he or she might expect to have at least $160,128 available at retirement.

Under our legislation, the accrued amounts that are paid out or distributed when the holder of a SSPA retires, dies or becomes disabled are treated like Social Security benefits and a portion of the distributions would be tax-free only above certain threshold amounts.

Now I fully understand that we may not be able to enact this legislation this year or next. Regrettably, last year's high profile budget surpluses have vanished for at least the next several years and resources are now scarce. The massive tax cuts put in place in the summer of 2001, and scheduled to take full effect over a period of years, will make finding adequate funds for many of the Nation's critical spending priorities even more difficult.

However, many of the privatization proposals would require massive inflows from the Treasury's general revenue fund to offset the transition and other costs for even partial privatization initiatives. If such resources are available, it seems to me that we would better serve the country by using these scarce resources to enact Social Security Plus Accounts that will help them save for retirement and not put the underlying Social Security program at risk.

The current Social Security system has served us well for many years and will continue to do so if we make some adjustments. Still we all know that Social Security reform is needed. I remain committed to working on a bipartisan basis to solve long-term solvency issues facing Social Security and to improve retirement savings. And we do need to implement appropriate Social Security reforms as soon as our resources will allow. Needlessly delaying efforts to shore up Social Security for the long term would likely require more severe action.

We certainly can't afford to make matters worse in the interim. A number of us in the Senate are concerned for the average citizen and his family against Social Security for the long term would likely require more severe action.

Several of the President's Commission on Social Security privatization plans would divert some of the payroll taxes that are currently being collected for Social Security. This would use over $1 trillion from the Social Security Trust Fund. This would immediately and adversely impact the financial well-being of the Social Security Trust Fund, putting in jeopardy both current and future Social Security benefits.

I do not believe that investing the proceeds of the Social Security system in the stock market through individual accounts provides the kind of stability and certainty we need for the management of the Social Security program. Social Security is intended to provide what its name suggests, security. The Treasury's General Account should be set up to provide this secure foundation. They increase, on average, over certain time periods. But people don't retire at average times. They retire at particular times.

This point is mostly glossed over by the President's Commission to Strengthen Social Security. The Commission issued its final report last December that included several reform options that would allow workers to invest in personal retirement accounts, but reduce their traditional guaranteed Social Security benefit. In my judgment, no one, including the President's Commission, has provided a satisfactory answer to the question of what happens to people who retire when the market is down if we change Social Security, even partly, from a social insurance program to a stock market investment program. This is not mere political expediency. The Enron debacle and bust of the dot com companies of the late 1990s, and the declining stock prices of recent weeks all serve as stark reminders to all of us about the perils of investing in the stock market. Again, I will be working for appropriate reforms to extend the life of the Social Security Trust Fund so future generations can rely on Social Security. Social Security Plus Accounts can provide a much-needed supplement to the basic program, but would do so without undermining it. They do not reform the program by themselves, but are designed to be part of a responsible reform package.

For many of our nation's seniors, Social Security is the difference between poverty and a dignified retirement. When President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Social Security program into law in 1935 he said "We can never hope to wipe away the ills of modern society by legislation. The way to deal with the poverty ridden old age..." The importance of his words and his new social insurance plan are reflected in Social Security's overwhelming success today. Let's make sure that the promise and security of Social Security is kept for many generations to come.
SOCIAL SECURITY PLUS ACCOUNT ACT OF 2002

In general

This legislation creates new tax-favored Social Security Plus Accounts (SSPA). Generally, an eligible individual with at least $5,000 in annual earnings and who is not dependent of another taxpayer or a full-time college student may contribute up to $2,000 to a SSPA for each year until he or she reaches age 25. An individual whose modified adjusted gross income exceeds $150,000 ($300,000 for a married individual) is ineligible to make a contribution to a SSPA.

A 20-percent refundable tax credit is allowed for eligible contributions to a SSPA. In addition, the federal government will match 50 percent of a SSPA contribution for taxpayers with modified adjusted gross income (AGI) below a certain level (see below).

Amounts in SSPAs that are distributed for permissible purposes are subject to favorable tax treatment and are not subject to penalty.

An eligible individual shall file a designation of the SSPA to which the match is made, along with his or her tax return for the year (or if no return is filed, on a form prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury) not later than the due date for filing such return (including extensions) or the 15th day of April, whichever is later.

Matching contributions

In the case of an eligible individual, the federal government makes a matching contribution to the SSPA. This is accomplished as refundable tax credit for the tax year on an amount equal to the matching contribution. The allowable credit is treated as an overpayment of tax which may only be transferred to a SSPA.

The Secretary of the Treasury will make matching contributions to the SSPAs of taxpayers with modified AGI below a certain level. The applicable percentage shall be according to the following:

<tr>
<th>Income Level</th>
<th>Percentage</th>

<tbody>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over $20,000</td>
<td>25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over $100,000</td>

In the case of a head of household:

Maximum contributions

The maximum annual contribution to a SSPA each year in $2,000—including both the individual and matching contributions. As such, the maximum annual contribution would be $1,000 for those in the lowest bracket (with a $1,000 maximum match), $1,333.33 for the middle bracket (with a $667 maximum match) and $1,600 for the next bracket (with a $400 maximum match). Those in the highest bracket with earnings over $100,000 could contribute $2,000 (with no match).

Minimum contributions

The minimum annual contribution must be sufficient to ensure that the total deposit is $200 (i.e., the lowest bracket would have to contribute at least $100, the middle bracket would have to contribute at least $133, the next bracket at least $160, and the highest bracket at least $200).

Tax treatment of SSPAs

Similar to traditional individual retirement accounts (IRAs), amounts contributed to a SSPA would be tax-favored and accounts would grow tax-free. However, amounts paid or distributed out of a SSPA would be taxable like Social Security benefits. That is, up to 50% of SSPA benefits are taxable, with the amount of their benefits exceeding $25,000 for individuals and $32,000 for couples. Over 85% of SSPA benefits are taxable for taxpayers whose income exceeds $54,000 for individuals and $44,000 for couples.

10-percent penalty for disqualified distributions

Distributions that are not made from a SSPA after retirement, death, disability or Social Security retirement levels would be disallowed. However, the Secretary of the Treasury will make an amount equal to the matching contribution as a refundable tax credit for the tax year in which the SSPA was established.

Penalties

An eligible individual shall file a designation of the SSPA to which the match is made, along with his or her tax return for the year (including extensions) or the 15th day of April, whichever is later.

Matching contributions from the federal government may be distributed from an SSPA only after retirement, at death or in case of disability.

Mr. CORZINE. Mr. President, I am pleased to join today with Senator DORGAN and Mr. WARNER in introducing legislation, the Social Security Plus Account Act of 2002, that would create new tax-favored Social Security Plus Accounts to supplement the existing Social Security program.

Although the Social Security Trust Fund is now projected to remain solvent for almost 40 years, I share the interest of a broad range of leaders in exploring ways to extend solvency further into the future. At this point, it remains unclear when Social Security reform will be enacted. However, Senator DORGAN and I are introducing this legislation in the hope that it will be considered when that debate moves forward.

As most of my colleagues know, last year President Bush appointed a commission to recommend ways to move toward privatization of Social Security. Last December, that commission issued a report that included proposals to establish privatized accounts into which a portion of Social Security contributions would be diverted. The Bush Commission’s proposals included deep cuts in guaranteed benefits, cut that for some current workers would exceed 25 percent, and for future retirees would exceed 45 percent.

I strongly oppose these cuts. In my view, they would take the security out of Social Security. That would undermine the central goal of the program.

At the same time, I recognize that, by itself, Social Security will not provide sufficient funds for many retirees in the future. That is why it is important that Americans save on their own to prepare for retirement. I therefore support other government initiatives to promote private savings, such as individual retirement accounts and 401(k) plans.

The proposal for Social Security Plus Accounts in this legislation takes the concept of an IRA or 401(k) account, and builds on it. These new accounts would provide an additional and more powerful savings incentive for many Americans, especially middle class workers and those with more modest incomes. Under our legislation, the government would match contributions by taxpayers with incomes below certain levels. In addition, all contributions would provide immediate tax relief: a tax cut equal to 20 percent of the contribution. Moreover, when a person taxable money out of a SSPA at retirement, the proceeds would be treated in the same manner as Social Security benefits, meaning that some or all proceeds could be withdrawn tax free.

A Social Security Plus Account would provide a useful supplement to our Social Security system, without weakening that system in any way. Unlike the proposals of the Bush Social Security Commission, these new accounts would not force a reduction in traditional Social Security benefits. This difference is critical.

Senator DORGAN and I recognize that the establishment of Social Security Plus Accounts would require resources that are not presently available. We believe that private action that our legislation will have to wait until later, when we have more financing. However, we believe it important to put our proposal on the table today, to help ensure that when the appropriate time comes, our colleagues understand there is more than one way to establish personal accounts. The right way, as proposed in this legislation, is to establish accounts that supplement Social Security, without draining the Social Security Trust Fund, without reducing Social Security benefits, and without undermining Social Security’s promise to Americans who have paid into the system in good faith.

I want to thank Senator DORGAN for his leadership in this effort. I look forward to working with him to ensure that we find new and better ways to promote savings, without undermining the basic guarantees provided through Social Security.

By Mr. ALLEN (for himself and Mr. WARNER):

S. 2694. A bill to extend Federal recognition to the Chickahominy Tribe, the Chickahominy Indian Tribe—Eastern Division, the Upper Mattaponi Tribe, the Rappahannock Tribe, Inc., the Monacan Tribe, and the Nansemond Tribe; to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. President, I rise in support of Virginia’s Indian Tribes and to introduce a bill to extend Federal recognition to six of Virginia’s Indian Tribes.

These Tribes have a rich tradition and history, not only for Virginia, but also for the Nation as a whole. My bill will recognize the Chickahominy Tribe; the Chickahominy Tribe Eastern Division; the Upper Mattaponi Tribe; the Rappahannock Tribe; the Monacan Tribe; and the Nansemond Tribe.

The title of the whole is the “Thomasina E. Jordan Indian Tribes of Virginia Federal Recognition Act.” For me, this legislation also has a very personal aspect to it. Thomasina Jordan was a dear friend of mine. As Governor of Virginia, I appointed Thomasina as Chair of the Virginia Council on Indians, and she served as an advisor to me in many ways over the years. Thomasina was a great leader and civil rights activist in Virginia, passing away in 1999 after a long and courageous battle with cancer. I offer this legislation in her memory as her last battle on earth was for Federal recognition of Virginia’s tribes. Thomasina was an expert to ensure equal rights and recognition to all American Indians continue today in spirit because she was able to have an effect on the lives of so many individuals and encourage many to join her quest for fairness, honor and justice.

The American Indians in Virginia contribute to the diverse, exciting nature and heritage of the Commonwealth of Virginia. Virginians are united in their desire to honor these first residents and I am pleased that Senator WARNER and I are able to join Virginia’s House Delegation in offering this legislation.

There are more than 550 federally recognized Tribes in the United States. While many have been only recently recognized in Virginia, the Commonwealth of Virginia has recognized the eight main tribes. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, there are over 21,000 American Indians living in Virginia.

“Federally recognized” means these tribes and groups can enjoy a special legal relationship with the U.S. government where no decisions about their lands and people are made without Indian consent. It is important that we give Federal recognition to these proud Virginia tribes so that they cannot only be honored in the manner they deserve but also for the many benefits that federal recognition would provide. Members of federally recognized tribes, most importantly, can qualify for grants for higher education opportunities.

There is absolutely no reason why American Indian Tribes in Virginia should not share in the same benefits that so many Indian tribes around the country enjoy.

The Indian Tribes in Virginia have one of the longest histories of any Indian tribe in America, which is a remarkable record. Neither the Haudenosaunee nor the Miccosukee tribes in Virginia are federally recognized. As Virginia approaches the 400th anniversary of the 1607 founding of Jamestown, the first permanent English settlement in North America, it is crucial that the role of Indian tribes in Virginia in the development of our Commonwealth and our country are properly recognized and appreciated.

There are three routes that an Indian Tribe can pursue in order to receive Federal recognition. One, the tribe can apply for administrative recognition through the Bureau of Indian Affairs, which all these Virginia Tribes have done. Two, a tribe can gain Federal recognition through an act of Congress. And three, the tribe can obtain Federal recognition through legal proceedings in the court system.

There has been a sharp increase in recent years in the number of tribes seeking Federal recognition via an application to the Bureau of Indian Affairs. However, the General Accounting Office recently reported that, while the workload at the Bureau of Indian Affairs has increased dramatically, the resources to handle the large volume of applications has actually decreased. Since 1978, the Bureau of Indian Affairs has processed only 32 of the 150 applications it received, deciding favorably on only 12 of them. In fact, BIA averages only 1.3 completed applications a year.

The route of Federal recognition through the Bureau of Indian Affairs and Bureau of Acknowledgment and Recordations is the most lengthy process, which has taken sometimes over 20 years for an application to be decided upon.

In 1999, the Virginia General Assembly passed a bill calling on the U.S. Congress to grant Federal recognition to the tribes in Virginia. Identical legislation to what I introduce today has already been introduced in the House. I join my House colleagues, Mr. Moran of Virginia, Mrs. Jo Ann Davis of Virginia, Mr. Tom Davis of Virginia, Mr. Scott, Mr. Schrock, Mr. Boucher, and Mr. Forbes in this important endeavor.

The precedent has already been set for the second route for attainment of Federal recognition, through an act of Congress. Since the 93rd Congress (1973-1974), Congress has restored Federal recognition to eighteen tribes and has granted seven new Federal recognitions to tribes. In 2000, Congress passed a law to grant new Federal recognition to the Shawnee Indians as a separate tribe from the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma and another law to restore Federal recognition to the tribe of Graton Rancheria of California. It is time that Virginia’s tribes receive the same recognition.

The main goal of this legislation is to establish a more equitable relationship between the tribes and the State and Federal Government. While I understand that some may have a concern that Federal recognition of Indian tribes may lead to the establishment of gaming operations within a State, this is not the case. As a result of the 1988 Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, federally recognized Indian Tribes can conduct only the gaming operations that are authorized by State law. Tribes are unable to operate Indian casinos, slot machines or card games unless approved by a specific State/Tribe Compact. My bill includes language restating this point to make it clear that nothing in the Act provides for a tribe to establish gaming operations within a State, this is not the case. Ultimately, it gives properly approved cases the same proper coverage under Virginia law so as not to provide special gaming privileges.

This legislation not only lays out the path for granting Federal recognition to six American Indian Tribes in Virginia, but it also honors and details the proud history of each of the Six Tribes.

The Virginia tribes have fought hard to claim their heritage and cultural identity, and it is crucial that this legislation be seen as a way to recognize this identity.

As Americans, we need to appreciate the many contributions American Indians have made to our Nation in order to understand it as it is today. Thomasina Jordan once wrote: “We belong to this land. For 10,000 years we have been here. We were never a conquered people. The dominant society needed us to survive in 1607, and it needs American Indians and our spiritual values to survive in the next millennium.” The Commonwealth of Virginia has realized that it needs its proud Indian tribes. This bill is another step toward recognizing and appreciating this special relationship.

By Mr. FRIST (for himself, Mr. FEINGOLD, and Mr. LUGAR): S. 2695. A bill to amend the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 to authorize the use of debt buybacks and nonconcessional loans and credits made to developing countries with tropical forests; to the Committee on Foreign Relations.
In the fall of 2000, the National Geographic Society sponsored a 2,000-mile, 15-month expedition through Central Africa by Dr. Mike Fay, a well known conservationist. Dr. Fay traveled through some of the last unexplored regions of Africa, including the Langoue, or Langoue forest in Gabon. His expedition yielded a fascinating variety of species and habitats that are in danger of disappearing unless we help Gabon's government preserve it. Dr. Fay's observations of the Langoue Forest are compelling. Here are some excerpts from his report:

"[T]here's a river in almost the dead center of Gabon called the Ivindo which has an amazing set of waterfalls. It's a big river, probably a hundred or so meters wide, of slow, black water, and it drains almost all of northeastern Gabon. These chutes, these waterfalls—two in particular called Mingouli and Kongou—make this place an attraction.

An Italian named Giuseppe Vassallo, who died a year and a half ago...promoted this place as a national park. He said it was the best forest in Gabon. He talked about it and lobbied for it and cajoled people, but it just never quite happened. We walked across this block that he walked across the day he talked about, and I actually flew over it with him in '96...

And we discovered the highest concentration of giant elephants that we'd seen on the entire walk. It's probably the only place left in the central African forest with elephants that are abundant and with a large percentage of very large males, tusks that no one has seen in a very long time, one hundred pounds on a side. Giant elephants, it's something that we've been looking for because they've been poached out of the population. [And] naïve gorillas—something that we hadn't seen on the entire trip. You can tell they're naïve because when they see you they don't run away, they don't look alarmed, they don't act alarmed, they don't vocalize. The males don't charge at all and they get very curious. They come to see you and they approach well within the danger zone. They sit there for hours and they just stare as if it's something they've never seen before, and it's pretty obvious that they've never had it.

You travel a little bit farther along and there's this mountain that we'd been navigating toward for a few weeks, and it is again full of elephants and it's got all kinds of beautiful topography and rocky cliffs. It's a real sort hidden forest, and it really gives you a good idea why they chose this mountain plateau. So we started walking south of the mountain and pretty soon we came upon an elephant trail that lead us a little bit farther. It lead us to the eastern side where we wanted to go but we kept on following it and it just got bigger and bigger and bigger. I looked a the map and it was obvious that we had got onto an elephant migration path.

Long before you get to an elephant clearing you can tell where you're going, because the elephant trail opens up into like two meters wide, it's covered with dung, and there's a huge amount that are on these "highways." It's a lot like how major highway arteries in the States get bigger as they go into the city, that's basically what it is for elephants, it's an "elephant city." So, we get there, and there it is, this clearing that no one has ever seen before, no conservations, no one had ever imagined exists in Gabon. This place is just abounding with wildlife and you think "This place really is what old Giuseppe said it was." Even though he had died a year and a half ago, he knew this place was the best. The place is called Langoue and it still exists.

There are about 1.2 million acres in the Langoue Forest that are completely untouched. Experts familiar with the region estimate that more than 700,000 acres at the heart of the forest could be preserved for about $3.5 million. This part of the forest includes the naive gorillas, the giant elephants, and the waterfalls.

At the very modest cost, our amendment will give nations like Gabon a new tool for preserving their remaining tropical forest, for the benefit of the people of Gabon, and for the benefit of mankind.

INTERVIEW: MIKE FAY IS ON A TREK TO PRESERVE FOREST IN GABON

By Andrew Jones

Last year, conservationist J. Michael Fay completed a 2,000-mile (3,218-kilometer), fifteen-month trip through central Africa in some of the world's last pristine forests.

Now, the expedition leader for the National Geographic Society and an ecologist for the Wildlife Conservation Society has undertaken another challenge: a personal campaign to preserve nearly 250,000 hectares (618,000 acres) of forest in Gabon as a national park.

National Geographic News: Were you in the African bush for fifteen months. How has that changed your perspective on conservation?

Dr. J. Michael Fay: As a conservationist, I would say it's a double-edged sword. Because when you're out there, you realize how much is left. There's such abundance—it's so huge, it goes on forever. You can walk for fifteen months and basically be in the woods the whole time and not have to traverse areas that are logged off. And that is something I think, "Wow, that's cool. This place is at the ends of the Earth; it will never be touched." Then you look at the map and the logging companies coming in from the west at a very rapid rate, and so we tried to design a walk in this place that didn't go through any logging.

Dr. Fay: I think the human species is what it is, for better or worse. We were constructed this way, and the elephants are doing what their evolution programmed them to do. They are programmed to extract as many resources as possible from the environment to survive better and better. That's kind of what humans are programmed to do. And to do the opposite of that, to conserve, I think is a very important thing for people to even comprehend, let alone enact. It's kind of a counter-evolutionary, and I think it takes a lot of education and a lot of foresight.

NG News: do you think there can be a world where people can point to as the source of innovation?

Dr. Fay: One hundred and one years ago, a couple of hundred million people in the States went to the great outdoors, and the rest of the world didn't even know it was there. They choose that particular area?

INTERVIEW: MIKE FAY IS ON A TREK TO PRESERVE FOREST IN GABON

Dr. Fay: I think the human species is what it is. It evolved to extract as many resources as it possibly could from the environment to survive better and better. That's kind of what humans are programmed to do. And to do the opposite of that, to conserve, I think is a very important thing for people to even comprehend, let alone enact. It's kind of a counter-evolutionary, and I think it takes a lot of education and a lot of foresight. If humans are programmed to destroy without having some kind of catastrophic event take out large percentages of the population someday in the future, then they're going to have to make that shift. A lot of people talk about it, a lot of people understand it, but it's really hard to make that last jump and actually say, "Okay, I'm going to make a switch." It makes you wake up to the fact that we could do it, that we have the ability to change, and it's a lot more than what we have done in the past.

INTERVIEW: MIKE FAY IS ON A TREK TO PRESERVE FOREST IN GABON

An Italian named Giuseppe Vassallo, who died a year and a half ago, called Langoue and it still exists. The full text of the interview with Dr. Fay and the text of a letter from Conservation International appear at this point in the RECORD.
logging companies, and they're working their way into Langoou as fast as we can talk. They're going to log that entire area, and there's still about 500,000 hectares [1,236,000 acres] of the completely untouched forest. But because of the sheer number of logging companies in there, the potential to log that block completely very quickly is there.

So we're looking at a four-pronged approach. The first prong was basically to get a team to Gabon tomorrow and negotiate the logging agreements for those concessions and maybe preserve 300,000 hectares [741,000 acres] of that forest, which includes those native gorillas, the giant elephants, the clearing on the mountain and the waterfalls. We could start that process quite easily tomorrow. But surprisingly, finding three and a half million dollars in any way for this world that has too much money, is very difficult.

NG News: Where have you been looking for funding?

Fay: Everywhere. You know, we don't have a major coordinated fund-raising effort that we're investing lots of money into. We're trying to do it on the cheap, I guess you could say. We're trying to use the media coverage that we've received and use the connections that we have from a number of sources, because you do well over a million dollars already but we... need three and a half million dollars, and without it we're not gonna get that national park... When you look at the exploitation of the resources in those countries it's not done for the consumption of Gabonese or Congolese, it's done primarily for the consumption of Americans, Asians, and Europeans. And people need to be responsible for that. They can't just blithely keep going farther afield and exploiting the wilderness without having to pay some attention to that fact, without having to pay up... We get all upset when the U.S. government wants to go drilling in [the] MRGCD [Middle Rio Grande Project]... And then we think, well, why don't we do this in Gabon.

NG News: How do you propose to monitor the park and protect it from such threats as poaching, logging, and bushmeat hunting?

Fay: It's that double-edged sword again. The place is very isolated right now. So the potential to log that place in there, but you also have a much broader management base... because if there's an international trust fund then there's an international board. And if there's international money... people are going to be interested in keeping this place in a state that this fund was set up to preserve. Over the years national governments in Africa have shown great interest and have collaborated in international conservation efforts in their countries. This is seen as positive and we have had great success in the past with these kinds of agreements. And then the fourth thing is to actually establish a long-term presence on the ground, which represents the sort of international collaboration between the conservation organization and the national government. It relies on funding from the outside rather than inside the country. We have a grant to pay for the ground action for the next three years and the effort to negotiate the national park. So we're making pretty good progress. But we've only completed about 10 to 30 percent of the 100 percent that we need to go on all four of those demands. So, there's still a lot of work to be done.

There are some positive elements to build on. Along the megatransect route there are already some protected areas. The idea is to establish a corridor from the tenth of the entire forest. We need to be pragmatic by setting reasonable targets that we can accomplish.

CONSERVATION INTERNATIONAL,
Hon. BILL FRIST, U.S. Senate, 416 Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, DC

DEAR SENATOR FRIST: Conservation International applauds your leadership in sponsoring legislation to strengthen the Tropical Forest Conservation Act (TFCA). Through making nonconcessional debt eligible for TFCA treatment, this legislation paves the way for substantial conservation gains by allowing additional countries to participate in debt-for-nature swaps.

Gabon is a good example. The country contains some of the world's most pristine and biologically important tropical forests—forests that shelter an incredible diversity of wildlife including gorillas and chimpanzees so wild as to have never encountered human beings. Protecting Gabon's forests is an urgent priority of the conservation community. It is also important to Gabon's future. These forests are essential to maintaining hydrological patterns, protecting water quality and quantity, and offering enormous potential for the form of a potentially significant ecotourism market. As you well know, their exploitation poses an additional risk of exposing human beings to diseases for which most recent Ebola outbreak occurred in Gabon.

Gaborone should be a strong candidate for debt relief under the Tropical Forest Conservation Act: it has abundant, critical, and threatened tropical forests; it has a stable political regime; it seeks resources for conservation; and it owes debt to the United States. Unfortunately, the TFCA's narrow construction prohibits Gabon from seeking debt treatment under the Act. Your legislation would allow Gabon to benefit.

Conservation International has a long history of participating in debt-for-nature swaps and has significant private resources to bring to bear in the form of active partnerships under the TFCA. In fact, we recently worked with The Nature Conservancy and World Wildlife Fund to contribute a total of $1.1 million to a TFCA deal in Peru, which leveraged $5.5 million in U.S. Government funds and generated $10.6 million in local currency payments for conservation of Peru's forests. With passage of your legislation, CI anticipates additional opportunities to work with the U.S. and key Gabonese partners to simultaneously achieve conservation and debt relief.

Thank you once again for your leadership.

Sincerely,

NICHOLAS LAPHAM,
Senior Director for Policy.

By Mr. BINGAMAN: S. 2696. A bill to close title to certain real property in New Mexico associated with the Middle Rio Grande Project, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

Mr. BINGAMAN. Mr. President, today I am pleased to introduce the Albuquerque Biological Park Title Clarification Act. This bill would assist the City of Albuquerque, NM by clearing it to two parcels of land located along the Rio Grande. More specifically, it would allow the city to move forward with its plans to improve the properties as part of a Biological Park Project, a city funded initiative to create an educator’s premier aquatic and educational center for its citizens and the entire State of New Mexico.

The Biological Park Project has been in the works since 1987 when the city began to develop an aquarium and botanic garden along the banks of the Rio Grande. The facilities constitutes just a portion of the overall project. In pursuit of the balance of the project, the city, in 1997, purchased two properties from the Middle Rio Grande Conservancy District, MRGCD, for $3,875,000. The first property, Tingley Beach, had been leased by the city from MRGCD since 1931 and used for public park purposes. The second property, San Gabriel Park, had been leased by the city from MRGCD since 1943 and also used for public park purposes.

In the year 2000, the city's plan were interrupted when the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation claimed that in 1963 it had acquired ownership of all of MRGCD's property that is associated with the Middle Rio Grande Project. The United States' assertion called into question the validity of the 1997 transaction between the city and MRGCD. Both MRGCD and the city directed the United States' claim of ownership.

This dispute is delaying the city's progress in developing the Biological Park Project. If the matter is simply left to litigation, the delay will be both indefinite and unnecessary. Reclamation has already determined that the two properties are surplus to the needs of the Middle Rio Grande Project. Moreover, this history of this issue indicates that Reclamation had once considered releasing its interest in the properties for $1.00. Obviously, the Federal interest in these properties is low while the local interest is very high. Moreover, this bill would address...
The general dispute concerning title to project works is left for the courts to decide. I hope my colleagues will work with me to help resolve this issue which is important to the citizens of my state. While much of what we do here in the Congress is complex and time-consuming work, we should also have the ability to move quickly when necessary and appropriate to solve local problems, such as snowmobile pollution, by federal actions. I therefore urge my colleagues to support this legislation.

I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the ‘‘Albuquerque Biological Park Title Clarification Act.’’

SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(1) In 1997, the City of Albuquerque, New Mexico paid $3,875,000 to the Middle Rio Grande Conservancy District to acquire two parcels of land known as Tingley Beach and San Gabriel Park.

(2) The City intends to develop and improve Tingley Beach and San Gabriel Park as part of its Albuquerque Biological Park Project.

(3) In 2000, the City’s title to Tingley Beach and San Gabriel Park was clouded by the Bureau of Reclamation’s assertion that MRGCD had earlier transferred its assets, including Tingley Beach and San Gabriel Park, to the United States as part of a 1993 grant of easement associated with the Middle Rio Grande Project.

(4) The City’s ability to continue developing the Albuquerque Biological Park Project has been hindered by the cloud on its title.

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this Act is to—

(1) The use of snowmobiles was inconsistent with the mission of Yellowstone National Park.

(2) Despite that historic decision and the overwhelming evidence that led to it, despite the science the EPA said was among the best it had ever seen, despite the support of over 80 percent of the people commenting on this issue, the National Park Service, under pressure from the administration and special interests, decided on Tuesday to roll back this commonsense rule.

Mr. President, this isn’t the first failing grade of this administration’s environmental report card. I am sorry to say it probably won’t be the last. It is, however, particularly disappointing in light of the crucial role that the Middle Rio Grande Project’s importance to the American people.

Today, I join with Senators Boxer, Clinton, and Lieberman to introduce a bill to stop this administration’s effort to shield America’s first national park from a relapse of damaging snowmobile traffic.

Congressmen Rush Holt and Christopher Shays are introducing a similar bill in the House of Representatives today. I salute them for their bipartisan leadership on this most important issue.

When Congress established the National Park Service, we directed it to ‘‘conserve the scenery and the natural and historic objects and the wild life’’ of our parks ‘‘unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations.’’

Mr. President, I have given speeches talking about Government and the things we should be proud of. Near the top of the list every time is our national park system. We are the envy of the world with these magnificent parks, as well we should be. To think that people who work in the parks must wear respirators because of the pollution from snowmobiles, that is hard to imagine.

In January of 2001, the National Park Service did the right thing. Wisely, it adopted a rule to phase out snowmobile use in the park. After carefully studying the science, examining the law, and reviewing the comments of the American people, it determined—the Park Service did—that the use of snowmobiles was inconsistent with the mission of Yellowstone National Park.

Yet despite that historic decision and the overwhelming evidence that led to it, despite the science the EPA said was among the best it had ever seen, despite the support of over 80 percent of the people commenting on this issue, the National Park Service, under pressure from the administration and special interests, decided on Tuesday to roll back this commonsense rule.

The Bush administration chose to ignore science, environmental laws, and public opinion.

The Yellowstone Protection Act simply codifies the original National Park Service rule that would have banned snowmobiles in the park.

Yellowstone Park is the birthplace of our park system. Congress created the National Park Service to protect Yellowstone and other parks.

Yellowstone Park should serve as a guiding light for our protection of natural resources, not as a canary in a coal mine.

Today, we must act to protect Yellowstone just as our forefathers did in 1872, when they established this magnificent national park. They made a farsighted decision to guarantee that each new generation would inherit a healthy and vibrant Yellowstone.

This Congress must step forward to uphold what Congress began 130 years ago.

This legislation requires the management of Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks to be guided by law and informed by science, not dictated and directed by special interests.

We have suffered through the work that has been done by the Bush administration with the environment—whether it is stopping children from having their blood tested for lead, whether it is making it easier for power generators to dump millions of tons of pollutants in the air, whether it is easing up on Superfund legislation, refusing to fund Superfund legislation—all these things you would think would be enough. But, no, it is not enough. We have to say that Smokey the Bear must wear a respirator. I think that is too much.

I ask unanimous consent that the text of this bill be printed in the Record.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 2697

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Yellowstone Protection Act.”

SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND STATEMENTS OF POLICY.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The January 22, 2001, rule phasing out snowmobile use in Yellowstone National Park, Grand Teton National Park, and the John D. Rockefeller Jr. Memorial Parkway was made by professionals in the National Park Service who based their decision on law, years of scientific study, and extensive public process.

(2) An environmental impact statement that formed the basis for the rule concluded that snowmobile use is impairing or adversely impacting air quality, natural soundscapes, wildlife, public and employee health and safety, and visitor enjoyment. According to the Environmental Protection Agency, the environmental impact statement had “among the most thorough and substantial science base that we have seen supporting a NEPA document.”

(3) The National Park Service concluded that snowmobile use is violating the mission given to the agency by Congress—to manage the parks in such manner and by such means as will leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations”. The National Park Service also found that snowmobile use is “inconsistent with the requirements of the Clean Air Act, Executive Orders 11644 and 11989 (by Presidents Nixon and Carter, relating to off-road vehicle use on public lands), the NPS’s general snowmobile regulations and NPS management objectives for the parks”.

(4) In order to maintain winter visitor access, the NPS outlined a plan to use the already existing mode of winter transportation known as snowcoaches, which are mass transit, overturn vehicles similar to vans. The NPS estimates that a replacement mass transit system “would reduce adverse impacts on park resources and values, better provide for public safety, and provide for public enjoyment of the park in winter.”

(5) The National Park Service Air Resources Division determined that despite being outcompeted by 16 to 1 during the course of a year, snowmobiles produce up to 68 percent of Yellowstone’s carbon monoxide pollution and up to 90 percent of the park’s annual hydrocarbon emissions.

(7) In Yellowstone’s winter climate, snowmobile traffic regularly disturbs and harasses wildlife. In October 2001, 18 eminent scientists warned the Secretary of the Interior that “ignoring this information would not be consistent with the original vision intended to keep our national parks unimpaired for future generations”. National Park Service regulations allow snowmobile use only when that use “will not disturb wildlife...” (36 CFR 218(c)).

(8) At Yellowstone’s west entrance, park rangers and snowcoaches suffer from symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning due to snowmobile exhaust. According to National Park Service records, in December 2000, a dozen park employees filed medical complaints citing sore throats, headaches, lethargy, eye irritation, and tightness in the lungs. Their supervisor requested more staffing at the west entrance, not because of a need for additional personnel to cover the work there, but so the supervisor could begin rotating employees more frequently out of the “fume cloud” for the sake of their health.

(9) For the first time in National Park history, rangers were issued respirators to wear while performing the exact same work as they had in the past.

(10) The public opportunity to engage in the environmental impact study process was extensive and comprehensive. During the 3-year environmental impact study process and rulemaking, there were 4 opportunities for public consideration and comment. The Park Service held 22 public hearings in regional communities such as West Yellowstone, Cody, Jackson, and Idaho Falls, and across the nation. The agency received over 70,000 individual comments. At each stage of the input process, support for phasing out snowmobiling grew, culminating in a 4-to-1 majority in favor of the rule in early 2001.

(11) More recently, 42 percent of those commenting on the National Park Service decision to phase out snowmobile use in the parks.

SEC. 3. FINAL RULE CODIFIED.

Beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of the Interior shall implement the final rule to phase out snowmobile use in Yellowstone National Park, the John D. Rockefeller Jr. Memorial Parkway, and Grand Teton National Park, and snowmobile use in Grand Teton National Park, as published in the Federal Register on January 22, 2001 (66 Fed. Reg. 5269-7269). The Secretary shall not have the authority to modify or supersede any provision of that final rule.

By Mr. ROCKEFELLER:

S. 2698. A bill to establish a grant program for school renovation, and for other purposes—To the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

By Mr. ROCKEFELLER:

S. 2699. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to expand the incentives for the construction and renovation of public schools; to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. ROCKEFELLER. Mr. President, today I am introducing two bills aimed at addressing our national school infrastructure crisis. Schools across America have been allowed to fall into ill repair, and in some school districts, there is a serious need for new school construction.

The Department of Education has found that the average age of a public school building in this country is 42 years old, an age when buildings tend to deteriorate. In 1995, the GAO found that the unmet need for school construction and renovation in the United States was a staggering $2 billion.

When our schools are in poor condition, our children suffer and our Nation suffers. Studies have shown that children in well-kept schools perform better than children in deteriorating bullied schools. Certainly, we can and must do more to provide the advantages that come with studying in a safe, clean, modern environment. The state of our schools is unacceptable, and it is our responsibility to do all we can to remedy this situation.

These bills are the first pieces of my education agenda for 2002. In addition to investing in school construction, we must also invest in school leadership. Within the next few weeks, I intend to promote initiatives for school principals and incentives to recruit and retain teachers. School leadership will be essential in meeting the higher standards set by our new No Child Be Held Act, and play a pivotal role. I will be pushing legislation to ensure that we invest in leadership programs to help principals be bold leaders of reform. Also, I intend to introduce tax incentives to reward highly qualified teachers as a way to recruit and retain the best and the brightest for our classrooms.

Building leadership among principals and teachers is essential to quality education as modern schools.

These efforts build on my ongoing education efforts on math and science and technology. In 1996, I was proud to sponsor the E-Rate program with Senator Snowe to connect our classroom to the Internet because our students must be connected to modern technology to gain the skills needed for the 21st century. This year, I am working hard to enact the National Math and Science Partnership Act to authorize almost $1 billion over 5 years for the National Science Foundation to invest in promoting quality math and science education. The combination of these legislative initiatives should help provide the essential resources and leadership necessary to achieve our educational goals.

I can see the effects of deteriorating school buildings in my State of West Virginia. There alone, the need for school construction, renovation, and repairs is rapidly approaching a staggering $2 billion over the next 10 years, a sum West Virginia cannot meet without assistance.
West Virginia has, in the past, benefited greatly from Federal programs designed to improve the quality of school buildings, and the money we’ve received has been put to excellent use. Funding made available by the Qualified Zone Academy Bond program, a program in which the Federal Government authorizes the states to sell school construction bonds and then pays the interest to the bond holders, has provided my state with over $4 million in bond funding since 1998. This money has been used to renovate science labs, install wireless computer equipment, remove asbestos, and provide modular classrooms, among many other valuable projects. Another program, a direct funding initiative included in the FY 2001 final budget agreement, has also been a great success in West Virginia and across the nation.

Many schools in my State are unable to take advantage of school bondings because the communities are too needy that they cannot afford even the low- or no-interest loans that program makes available. And when areas which are already disadvantaged are hit with natural disasters, such as the heartbreaking floods which West Virginia has now suffered two years in a row, school districts cannot be expected to keep up with their infrastructure needs.

The direct funding initiative in the 2001 bill created $1.2 billion in grants available for emergency school renovation and repair and technology improvements across America. West Virginia was fortunate to receive nearly $8 million in funding from the program, enabling our schools to replace roofs, fix faulty wiring and sewage systems, remove asbestos, and make themselves better prepared for fire emergencies.

The success stories from these programs prove that we can make a real impact in the quality of schools across the nation. I am proud to introduce two bills today designed to build upon these past successes: the America’s Better Classroom Act and the Building Our Children’s Future Act.

The America’s Better Classroom Act is designed to expand and build upon the success of the Qualified Zone Academy Bond, or the QZAB, program. It expands this program by $2.8 billion so even more school districts will be able to take advantage of the low-or no-interest school construction loans that it provides. QZAB’s are aimed at schools in disadvantaged areas. To qualify, a school must be located in an empowerment zone, enterprise community, or 35 percent of its students must be eligible for free or reduced lunch.

In addition to expanding the QZAB program, the America’s Better Classroom Act creates a new $22 billion bonding program designed to help all school districts meet their renovation needs. Funding to states will be allocated based on the Title I funding formula. In this way, many more school districts will have the opportunity to reap the benefits of no- or low-interest loans for school renovation and repair. This legislation is similar to a House bill sponsored by Congresswoman Nancy Johnson and Congressman Charlie Rangel. I look forward to working with the House colleagues on this crucial program.

The second bill I introduce today is the Building Our Children’s Future Act, a $5 billion initiative designed to help schools that, due to poverty, high growth, or unforeseen disaster, are unable to meet their repair and renovation needs. Many districts that are facing these difficult challenges find themselves so strapped that they cannot even afford to pay back the principle on an interest-free loan. These areas need direct help, and this grant program provides it.

The Building Our Children’s Future Act gives each State funding based on Title I, with a priority to target funding to schools that have been damaged or destroyed by a natural disaster or are located in a high poverty or high growth areas, defined by the State. This makes certain that states have the flexibility to put the money where it is needed the most.

The bill also recognizes that not all renovation needs are the same. In the 21st century, providing students and teachers with access to technology will be a critical part of keeping schools up-to-date. Likewise, we have made a commitment to assist states in covering the costs of special education, a commitment that will undoubtedly require renovation and construction to accommodate special needs. For this reason, the Building Our Children’s Future Act sets aside a portion of its funds for technology improvements and carry out programs under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

Finally, the Building Our Children’s Future Act also makes money available to schools with high Native American populations and schools located in outlying areas, so that no group will be left behind as we seek to remedy our school infrastructure crisis.

I believe that America’s Better Classroom Act and the Building Our Children’s Future Act are important steps toward giving our children the learning environments they deserve. When our schools are in disrepair, we cannot expect our educational system to be any different. I hope you will join me in supporting these two bills and, in doing so, join me in supporting the futures of our children and our Nation.

Whereas hundreds of thousands of Americans have given their lives while serving in the Armed Forces during the past century;
Whereas the contributions and sacrifices of the men and women who served in the Armed Forces have been vital in maintaining our freedoms and way of life;
Whereas the advent of the all-volunteer Armed Forces has resulted in a sharp decline in the number of individuals and families who have had any personal connection with the Armed Forces;
Whereas this reduction in familiarity with the Armed Forces has resulted in a marked decrease in the awareness by young people of the nature and importance of the accomplishments of those who have served in our Armed Forces, despite the current educational efforts of the Department of Veterans Affairs and the veterans service organizations;
Whereas our system of civilian control of the Armed Forces makes it essential that the future leaders of the Nation understand the history of military action and the contributions and sacrifices of those who conduct such actions; and
Whereas on October 30, 2001, President George W. Bush issued a proclamation urging all Americans to observe November 11 through November 17, 2001, as National Veterans Awareness Week: Now, therefore, be it Resolved, That the Senate—
(1) designates the week of November 10 through November 16, 2002, as “National Veterans Awareness Week” for the purpose of emphasizing educational efforts directed at elementary and secondary school students concerning the contributions and sacrifices of veterans; and
(2) requests that the President issue a proclamation calling on the people of the United States to observe National Veterans Awareness Week.
Awareness Week with appropriate educational activities.

Mr. BIDEN. Mr. President, today I have the honor of joining with 50 of my colleagues in submitting a resolution setting forth the sense of the Senate that the week preceding Veterans Day this year be designated as “National Veterans Awareness Week.” This marks the third year in a row that I have introduced such a resolution, which has been adopted unanimously by the Senate on both previous occasions.

The purpose of National Veterans Awareness Week is to serve as a focus for educational programs designed to make students in elementary and secondary schools aware of the contributions and sacrifices of those who have served in the Armed Forces. For example, as a result of tremendous advances in military technology and the resultant productivity increases, personnel are required to operate effectively with a personnel roster that is one-third less in size than just 10 years ago. In addition, the success of the all-volunteer career-oriented force has led to much lower turnover rates and a greater ability to achieve and maintain high standards of military performance.

The net result of these changes is that the percentage of the entire population that has served in the Armed Forces is dropping rapidly, a change that can be seen in all segments of society. Whereas during World War II it was extremely uncommon to find a family in America that did not have one of its members on active duty, now there are numerous families that include no military veterans at all. As a consequence, there is a current lack of opportunities for contacts with veterans, many of whom young people have little or no connection with or knowledge about the important historical and ongoing role of men and women who have served in the military. This omission seems to be mirrored by the Department of Veterans Affairs and the veterans service organizations.

This lack of understanding about military service is important because our society can have potentially serious repercussions. In our country, civilian control of the armed forces is the key tenet of military governance. A citizenry that is oblivious to the capabilities and limitations of the armed forces, and to its critical role throughout our history can make decisions that have unexpected and unwanted consequences. Even more important, generational relevance and importance of those individual character traits that are essential for military success, such as patriotism, selflessness, sacrifice and heroism, is vital to maintaining these key aspects of citizenship in the armed forces and even throughout our society in general.

Among today’s young people, a generation that has grown up largely during times of peace and extraordinary prosperity and has embraced a “me first” attitude, it is perhaps even more important to make sure that there is solid understanding of what it has taken to attain this level of comfort and freedom. Even in the midst of our ongoing war against terrorism, with Americans in uniform fighting them and the world, many young people seem to be totally divorced from the implications of the conflict that is raging.

The failure of our children to understand why a military is important, why our country’s defense is crucial for ultimate survival, and why a successful military requires integrity and sacrifice, will have predictable consequences as these youngsters become of voting age. Even though military service is no longer shared by a large segment of the population, as it has been in the past, knowledge of the contributions of those who have served in the Armed Forces is as important as it has ever been. To the extent that many of us will not have the opportunity to serve our country in uniform, we must still remain cognizant of our responsibility as citizens to fulfill the obligations, we owe, both tangible and intangible, to those who do serve and who do sacrifice on our behalf.

The importance of this issue was brought home to me two years ago by Samuel I. Cashdollar, who was then a 13-year-old seventh grader at Lewes Middle School in Lewes, DE. Samuel won the Delaware VFW’s Youth Essay Contest that year with a powerful presentation titled “How Should We Honor America’s Veterans?” Samuel’s essay pointed out that we have Nurses’ Week, Teacher’s Week, and Teacher’s Aid “Secretaries” Week, to rightly emphasize the importance of these occupations, but the contributions of those in uniform tend to be overlooked. We don’t want our children growing up to think that Veterans Day has simply become a synecdoche for department store sales, and we don’t want to become a Nation where more high school seniors recognize the name Britney Spears than the name Dwight Eisenhower.

National Veterans Awareness Week complements Veterans Day by focusing on education as well as commemoration, on the contributions of the many in addition to the heroism and service of the individual. National Veterans Awareness Week also presents an opportunity to remind ourselves of the contributions and sacrifices of those who have served in peacetime as well as in conflict; both groups work unending hours and spend long periods away from their families under conditions of great discomfort so that we all can live in a land of freedom and plenty.

Last year, my resolution designating National Veterans Awareness Week was unanimously approved in the Senate by unanimous consent. Responding to that resolution, President Bush issued a proclamation urging our citizenry to observe National Veterans Awareness Week. I ask my colleagues to continue this trend of support for our veterans by endorsing this resolution again this year. Our children and our children’s children will need to be well informed about what veterans have accomplished in order to make appropriate decisions as they confront the numerous worldwide challenges that they are sure to face in the future.

SENATE RESOLUTION 294—TO AMEND RULE XLII OF THE STANDING RULES OF THE SENATE TO PROHIBIT EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION IN THE SENATE BASED ON SEXUAL ORIENTATION

Mrs. FEINSTEIN (for herself, Mr. SPECTER, Mr. DASCHLE, Mr. DODD, Mr. TORRCELLI, Mr. FEINGOLD, Mr. DAYTON, Ms. STABENOW, Mr. DURBIN, Mr. JEFFORDS, Mr. KENNEDY, Mr. INOUYE, Ms. CANTWELL, Mr. LEHRY, Mr. WYDEN, Mrs. BOXER, Mr. REED, Mr. AKAKA, Mr. HARKIN, Mrs. CLINTON, Mr. REID, Mrs. MURRAY, Mr. COZINS, Mr. RINGAMAN, Ms. MIKULSKI, Mr. BAYH, Mr. LEVIN, Mr. WELLSTONE, Mr. KERRY, Ms. COLLINS, Mr. LIEBERMAN, Ms. LANDRIEU, Mr. EDWARDS, Mr. SMITH of Oregon, Mr. BIDEN, Mr. SCHUMER, Mr. CHAFEE, Mr. SARBANES, Mr. KOHL, Mrs. CARNAHAN, Mr. CARPER, Mr. NELSON of Florida, and Mr. CLELAND) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Rules and Administration:

Resolved.

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT TO THE STANDING RULES OF THE SENATE.

Paragraph 1 of rule XLII of the Standing Rules of the Senate is amended by striking “state of physical handicap” and inserting “state of physical handicap, or sexual orientation”.

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Mr. President, I rise today to submit a resolution to prohibit employment discrimination in the United States Senate based on sexual orientation.

The resolution would amend the Standing Rules of the Senate by adding sexual orientation” to “race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, or state of physical handicap” and inserting “state of physical handicap, or sexual orientation”.

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Mr. President, I rise today to submit a resolution to prohibit employment discrimination in the United States Senate based on sexual orientation.

The resolution would amend the Standing Rules of the Senate by adding sexual orientation” to “race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, or state of physical handicap” and inserting “state of physical handicap, or sexual orientation”.

Mr. BIDEN. Mr. President, this resolution is therefore before us in order to recognize the following:

1. That the Armed Forces is an important component of American culture and society.
2. That the Armed Forces is an important component of American culture and society.
3. That the Armed Forces is an important component of American culture and society.
4. That the Armed Forces is an important component of American culture and society.
5. That the Armed Forces is an important component of American culture and society.
I am very pleased that 41 of my colleagues, Senators Specter, Daschle, Dodd, Torricelli, Feingold, Dayton, Stabenow, Durbin, Jeffords, Kennedy, Inouye, Cantwell, Leahy, Wyden, Boxer, Reid, Akaka, Harkin, Clinton, Reed, Murray, Coburn, Bingaman, Mikulski, Bayh, Levin, Wellstone, Kerry, Collins, Lieberman, Landrieu, Edwards, Smith of Oregon, Biden, Schumer, Chafee, Sarbanes, Kohl, Carnahan, Carper, and Nelson of Florida, have joined me in submitting this resolution today. By amending the current rule, it would forbid any Senate member, officer or employee from terminating, re-fusing to hire, or otherwise discriminating against an individual with respect to promotion, compensation, or any other privilege of employment, on the basis of that individual’s sexual orientation.

Senate employees currently have no recourse available to them should they become victims of this type of employment discrimination.

If the rules are amended, any Senate employee that encountered discrimination based on their sexual orientation would have the option of reporting it to the Ethics Committee. The Ethics Committee could then investigate the claim and recommend discipline for any Senate member, officer or employee found to have violated the rule.

Unfortunately, the Senate is already well behind other establishments of the U.S. Government in this area of anti-discrimination.

In 1998, Executive Order 13087 was issued to prohibit sexual orientation discrimination in the Federal executive branch, including civilian employees of the military departments and sundry other governmental entities.

That Executive order now covers approximately 2.5 million Federal workers, yet, four years later, there are still employees of the United States Senate that are unprotected.

In taking this step toward addressing discrimination, the Senate would join not only the Executive Branch, but also 294 Fortune 500 companies, 23 State governments and 252 local governments that have already prohibited workplace discrimination based on sexual orientation.

Currently, at least 68 Senators have already adopted written policies for their congressional offices indicating that sexual orientation is not a factor in their employment decisions.

Now, I urge my colleagues to join me by making this policy universal for the Senate, rather than relying on a patchwork of protection that only covers some of the Senate’s employees.

SENATE RESOLUTION 295—COMMEMORATING THE 32ND ANNIVERSARY OF THE POLICY OF INDIAN SELF-DETERMINATION

Mr. CAMPBELL (for himself, Mr. Akaka, Mr. Biden, Mr. Cochran, Mrs. Boxer, Mr. Reid, and Ms. Stabenow) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary:

S. Res. 295

Whereas the United States of America and the Sovereign Indian Tribes contained within its boundaries have had a long and mutually beneficial relationship since the beginning of the Republic;

Whereas the United States has recognized this special legal and political relationship and its trust responsibility to the Indian Tribes as reflected in the Federal Constitution, treaties, numerous court decisions, Federal statutes, executive orders, and course of dealing;

Whereas Federal policy toward the Indian Tribes has vacillated through history and failed to establish a clear government-to-government relationship that has endured for more than 200 years;

Whereas these Federal policies included the wholesale removal of Indian tribes and their members from their aboriginal homelands, attempts to assimilate Indian people into the general culture, as well as the termination of the legal and political relationship between the United States and the Indian tribes;

Whereas President Richard M. Nixon, in his ‘Special Message to Congress on Indian Affairs’ on July 8, 1970, recognized that the Indian Tribes constitute a distinct and valuable segment of the American federalist system, whose members have made significant contributions to the United States and to American culture;

Whereas President Nixon determined that Indian Tribes, as local governments, are best able to discern the needs of their people and are best situated to determine the direction of their political future;

Whereas in his ‘Special Message’ President Nixon recognized that the policies of legal and political termination on the one hand, and paternalism and excessive dependence on the other, devastated the political, economic, and social aspects of life in Indian America, and had to be radically altered;

Whereas in his Message President Nixon set forth the foundation for a new, more enlightened Federal Indian policy grounded in economic self-reliance and political self-determination; and

Whereas this Indian self-determination policy has endured as the most successful policy of the United States in dealing with the Indian Tribes because it rejects the failed policies of termination and paternalism and recognized ‘the integrity and right to continued existence of all Indian Tribes’ as a ‘basis for the future relationship between the United States and the Indian Tribes’; and

Whereas the Nixon Indian policy continues as the bedrock of America’s promise to Native Americans. In his Message to Congress, the President made the case for a more enlightened Federal Indian policy. Citing historical injustices as well as the practical failure of all previous Federal policies regarding Indian Nations, President Nixon called for the re-election of both the ‘termination’ policy of the 1950s and the ‘excessive dependence’ on the Federal Government by Indian tribes and people fostered by Federal policies prior to 1970.

Nixon observed that ‘[the first Americans—the Indians—are the most deprived and most isolated group in our Nation. On virtually every scale of measurement—employment, income, education, health—the condition of Indian people rank at the bottom].’

Thirty-two years later, Indians continue to suffer high rates of unemployment, are mired in poverty, and still rank at or near the bottom of nearly every social and economic indicator in the Nation. Nonetheless, there is cause for hope that the conditions of Native Americans are improving, however slowly.

The twin pillars of the policy change initiated in 1970 are political self determination and economic self reliance. Without doubt, the most enduring legacy of the 1970 Indian self determination policy best embodies the Indian Self Determination and Education Assistance Act of 1975, amended several times since then.

This Act, which has consistently been supported, promoted, and expanded with bipartisan support, authorizes Indian tribes to assume responsibility for and administer programs and services formerly provided by the Federal Government.

As of 2001, nearly one-half of all Bureau of Indian Affairs, BIA, and Indian Health Service, IHS, programs and services have been assumed by tribes under the Indian Self Determination Act.

With this transfer of resources and decision making authority, tribal governments have succeeded in improving the quality of services to their citizens, developed more sophisticated tribal governing structures and practices, improved their ability to govern, and strengthened their economies.
Self determination contracting and compacting has improved the efficiency of Federal programs and services and at the same time have devolved control over these resources from Washington, DC to the local, tribal governments which are much more in tune with the needs of their own people.

As steps are taken to provide tribes the tools they need to develop vigorous economies and generate tribal revenue, our policy in Congress and across the Federal Government should be to encourage and assist tribes to expand self determination and self governance into other agencies and programs, and in the process help Native people to achieve real and measurable success in improving their standard of living.

The challenge of the Nixon Message was not only to the Federal Government but to the tribes themselves: that by building strong tribal governments and more robust economies, real independence and true self determination can be achieved.

Our experience has shown that any cooperative efforts between the United States and the tribes must include a solemn assurance that the special relationship will endure and will not be terminated because of the fits and starts of periodic economic success enjoyed by some Indian tribes.

President Nixon wisely realized that the mere threat of termination results in a tendency toward an unhealthy dependence on the Federal Government which has plagued Native people for decades. As President Nixon himself knew, Native people are not hapless bystanders in this process. His Message recognized that the story of the Indian in America is one of "endurance, survival, of adaptation and creativity in the face of overwhelming obstacles."

The persistence and tenacity of Native people has been the foundation in forging a more enlightened Indian policy and with the assistance of the United States will, I am confident, result in true self determination for Native people in the United States.

I urge my colleagues to join me in recognizing the Nixon Message and our collective efforts over time in making Indian self determination a reality.

RESOLVED, That the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), by Mr. Craig, Mrs. Feinstein, and Ms. Stabenow submitted the following concurrent resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions:

S. CON. RES. 126

Whereas Scleroderma is a debilitating and potentially fatal autoimmune disease with a broad range of symptoms that may be either localized or systemic; Whereas the symptoms of Scleroderma may attack vital internal organs, including the heart, esophagus, lungs, and kidneys, and may do so without causing any external symptoms; Whereas more than 300,000 people in the United States suffer from Scleroderma; Whereas the symptoms of Scleroderma include hardening and thickening of the skin, swelling, disfigurement of the hands, spasms of blood vessels causing severe discomfort in the fingers and toes, weight loss, joint pain, difficulty swallowing, extreme fatigue, and ulcerations on the fingertips which are slow to heal; Whereas people with advanced Scleroderma may be unable to perform even the simplest tasks; Whereas 80 percent of the people suffering from Scleroderma are women between the ages of 25 and 55; Whereas Scleroderma is the fifth leading cause of death among all autoimmune diseases for women who are 65 years old or younger; Whereas the wide range of symptoms and localized and systemic variations of Scleroderma make it difficult to diagnose; Whereas the average diagnosis of Scleroderma is made 5 years after the onset of symptoms; Whereas the cause of Scleroderma is still unknown and there is no known cure; Whereas Federal funding for Scleroderma research is less than for other diseases of similar prevalence; and Whereas the estimated annual direct and indirect costs of Scleroderma in the United States are $1,500,000,000. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That it is the sense of Congress that:

1) private organizations and health care providers should be recognized for their efforts to promote awareness and research of Scleroderma;
2) the people of the United States should make themselves aware of the symptoms of Scleroderma and contribute to the fight against Scleroderma;
3) the Federal Government should promote awareness regarding Scleroderma, adequately fund, researching and combating Scleroderma within the fiscal budget, and continue to consider ways to improve the quality of health care services provided for Scleroderma patients, including making prescription medication more affordable;
4) the National Institutes of Health should continue to play a leadership role in the fight against Scleroderma—
   A) working more closely with private organizations and researchers to find a cure for Scleroderma;
   B) funding research projects regarding Scleroderma conducted by private organizations and researchers;
   C) holding a Scleroderma symposium which would bring together distinguished scientists and clinicians from across the United States to determine the most important priorities in Scleroderma research;
   D) supporting the creation of small workgroups composed of experts from diverse but related scientific fields to study Scleroderma;
   E) conducting more genetic, environmental, and clinical research regarding Scleroderma;
   F) training more basic and clinical scientists to carry out such research; and
   G) providing for better dissemination of the information learned from such research; and
5) the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention should give priority to the establishment of a national epidemiological study to better track the incidence of Scleroderma and to gather information about the disease that could lead to a cure.

Sec. 401. Authorization of appropriations.
Sec. 402. Effective dates.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

(a) Findings.—Congress finds the following:

(1) The use of computers and the Internet is rapidly transforming societal interactions and the relationships among citizens, private businesses, and the Government.

(2) The Federal Government has had uneven success in applying advances in information technology to enhance governmental functions and services, achieve more efficient performance, increase access to Government information, and increase citizen participation in Government.

(3) Most Internet-based services of the Federal Government are developed and presented separately, according to the jurisdictional boundaries of an individual department or agency, rather than being integrated cooperatively according to function or topic.

(4) Internet-based Government services involving interagency cooperation are especially difficult to develop and promote, in part because of a lack of sufficient funding mechanisms to support such interagency cooperation.

(5) Electronic Government has its impact through improved Government performance and outcomes within and across agencies.

(6) Electronic Government is a critical element in the management of Government, to be implemented as part of a management framework that also addresses finance, procurement, human capital, and other challenges to improve the performance of Government.

(7) To take full advantage of the improved Government performance that can be achieved through the use of Internet-based technology requires strong leadership, better organization, improved interagency collaboration, and more focused oversight of agency compliance with statutes related to information resource management.

(b) Purposes.—The purposes of this Act are the following:

(1) To provide effective leadership of Federal Government efforts to develop and promote electronic Government services and processes by establishing an Administrator of a new Office of Electronic Government within the Office of Management and Budget.

(2) To promote use of the Internet and other information technologies to provide increased opportunities for citizen participation in Government.

(3) To promote interagency collaboration in providing electronic Government services, where this collaboration would improve the service to citizens by integrating related functions, and is not covered by the existing Federal information technology processes, where this collaboration would improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the processes.

(4) To improve the ability of the Government to achieve agency missions and program performance goals.

(5) To promote the use of the Internet and emerging technologies across Federal Government agencies to provide citizen-centric Government information and services.

(6) To reduce costs and burdens for businesses and other Government entities.

(7) To promote better informed decision-making by policy makers.

(8) To promote access to high quality Government information and services across multiple channels.

(9) To make the Federal Government more transparent and accountable.

(10) To transform agency operations by utilizing, where appropriate, best practices from public and private sector organizations.

(11) To provide enhanced access to Government information and services in a manner consistent with laws regarding protection of personal privacy, national security, records retention, access for persons with disabilities, and other relevant laws.

NOMINATION OF GEN. R.E. EBHERT
Mr. ALLARD. Mr. President, I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate General Ralph E. Eberhart, United States Air Force, on his appointment to serve as the first Commander-in-Chief of Northern Command as well as the commander of NORAD. General Eberhart’s qualifications for this very important position are impeccable, and I have absolutely no doubt that he will bring the same success to Northern Command as he did to US Space Command.

Before General Eberhart departs US Space Command, I want to express my most sincere appreciation to him for his steadfast advocacy of military space capabilities over the past two years. His visionary leadership and dedication as the Commander-in-Chief of US Space Command and, until recently, Air Force Space Command, has truly brought military space into a new era. When he took command of US Space Command in February 2001, our country had just completed Operation Allied Force in Kosovo. At that time we recognized the value that space-based capabilities bring to the flight. GPS-guided weapons were the preferred munition and satellite communications provided double the bandwidth available in Desert Storm. Since Operation Allied Force, General Eberhart was able to increase the effectiveness of these very same capabilities by working with General Eberhart.

When military historians look back at Operation Enduring Freedom, they will note the extreme effectiveness bombs delivered with pinpoint accuracy within minutes of being requested by soldiers on the ground. They will note persistent surveillance and near-real time threat information beamed to cockpit. These capabilities would not be possible if it weren’t for US Space Command. Space-based capabilities are an enabler of not just the Air Force’s transformation, but also the Navy and Army.

General Eberhart’s leadership of NORAD during Operation Noble Eagle is equally impressive. After September 11, NORAD went from having 14 aircraft on alert to more than 100. General Eberhart faced the challenges of supporting continuous combat air patrols, including all the supporting logistics such as tankers and integrating NATO AWACS. The change in focus of NORAD since Sept 11 is not, unfortunately, temporary and points our nation need for a Unified Command to address threats to the United States as well as operations in North America.

North Command is crucial to our national security. I am very proud to host this command in Colorado and sincerely look forward to continuing working with General Eberhart.

Sec. 2 FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) The use of computers and the Internet is rapidly transforming societal interactions and the relationships among citizens, private businesses, and the Government.

(2) The Federal Government has had uneven success in applying advances in information technology to enhance governmental functions and services, achieve more efficient performance, increase access to Government information, and citizen participation in Government.

(3) Most Internet-based Governmental services of the Federal Government are developed and presented separately, according to the jurisdictional boundaries of an individual department or agency, rather than being integrated cooperatively according to function.

(4) Internet-based Government services involving interagency cooperation are especially difficult to coordinate, in part because of a lack of sufficient funding mechanisms to support such interagency cooperation.

(5) Electronic Government has its impact through advanced information technologies combined with processes that implement these technologies, to—

(A) enhance the access to and delivery of Government information and services to the public, other agencies, and other Government entities; or

(B) bring about improvements in Government operations that may include effectiveness, efficiency, service quality, or transformation; and

(C) improve the performance of the improved Government performance that can be achieved through the use of Internet-based technology requires new leadership, better organization, improved interagency collaboration, and more focused oversight of agency compliance with statutes related to information resource management.

(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are the following:

(1) To provide effective leadership of Federal Government efforts to develop and promote electronic Government services and processes by establishing an Administrator of a new Office of Electronic Government within the Office of Management and Budget;

(2) To promote use of the Internet and other information technologies to provide increased opportunities for citizen participation in Government;

(3) To promote interagency collaboration in providing electronic Government services, where this collaboration would improve the service to citizens by integrating related functions, and in the use of internal electronic Government processes, where this collaboration would improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the processes;

(4) To improve the ability of the Government to achieve agency missions and program performance goals; and

(5) To promote the use of the Internet and emerging information and communications technologies to provide citizen-centric services.

(6) To reduce costs and burdens for businesses and other Government entities.

(7) To promote better informed decisionmaking by policy makers.

(8) To promote access to high quality information and services across multiple channels, available to customers through the channels which are preferred by the customer.

(9) To make the Federal Government more transparent and accountable.

(10) To transform agency operations by utilizing, where appropriate, best practices from public and private organizations.

Amend the title so as to read: “A bill to enhance the management and promotion of electronic Government services and processes by establishing an Office of Electronic Government within the Office of Management and Budget, and by establishing a broad framework of measures that require using Internet-based information technology to enhance citizen access to Government information and services, and for other purposes.”

Mr. McCain. Mr. President, I urge my colleagues to pass S. 803, the E-Government Act of 2002. I believe that this bill will play an important role in making the Federal Government more responsive to our citizens.

The Internet would seem to be an ideal way for our constituents, especially those farthest from Washington, to get closer and connect to the government. However, many of our constituents complain that it is hard to access information from the government because the various agencies are not all prepared to deal with the advancements of the “digital age.” Meanwhile, some agencies are using the Internet in groundbreaking ways to improve their processes. In addition, the public has found that “e-government” programs have made interactions with the Federal Government more friendly and time-efficient.

Today, it is easier for American citizens to find out about a government program, look up a regulation, apply for a grant, or download educational materials by using the Internet than by contacting a distant Federal agency.

This legislation has a number of provisions to promote innovative thinking in the field of “e-government,” while also assisting Federal departments and agencies in crossing into the 21st Century. The legislation establishes an Office of Electronic Government, headed by a Senate-confirmed administrator, within the Office of Management and Budget. This new administrator will sponsor a dialogue between Federal government agencies, the public, and private and non-profit entities to spur creative new ideas for “e-government.” In addition the administrator will direct “e-government” initiatives, and oversee an interagency “e-government” fund to invest in cross-cutting projects with government-wide application. The bill also promotes the use of the Internet and other technologies to provide more information and better services to Americans through Internet strategies such as “FirstGov.”

Finally, the bill includes a number of provisions that should make it easier for the public to access information about Federal scientific research, the Federal courts, and other areas of interest.

I would like especially to commend my friends, Senators Lieberman and Thompson, the chairman and ranking member of the Government Affairs Committee, for their hard work on this legislation. This legislation addresses a complex issue that effects many agencies throughout government and its development required persistence and careful thought. The result of their effort will improve Federal Government operations, and make the Government more responsive to the citizens we represent.

Mr. Reid. Mr. President, it is my understanding Senators Lieberman and Thompson have a substitute amendment that is at the desk. I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be considered and agreed to; that the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table; that the committee substitute amendment be agreed to; that the bill, as amended, be read a third time and passed; that the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table; without intervening action or debate; that the title amendment be agreed to; that the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table; and that any statements relating to the bill be printed in the RECORD.
