The House met at 11 a.m.
The Chaplain, the Reverend Daniel P. Coughlin, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, strong to save, You honor the courageous and reward eternally those who are willing to lay down their lives out of love for their countrymen. This weekend Americans will honor veterans who have made the ultimate sacrifice to defend this Nation and uphold the justice and freedom which have fashioned its soul.

As people of diverse faiths gather and find various ways to honor the fallen heroes of this country, we pray also for their widows and children who may still be burdened by their pain of loss.

May this Veterans Day provide celebration for all who have worn or presently wear the proud uniform of American military service. May our remembering those who have been wounded by war or killed by war strengthen our resolve to be promoters of life and liberty and justice for all.

This we pray now and forever. Amen.

CONGRATULATING CHRISTINE HAAS AS “AMERICA’S TOP YOUNG SCIENTIST”

HON. GEORGE RADANOVICH
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Friday, November 8, 2002

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Christine Haas of Clovis, California for being named “America’s top Young Scientist” in the 2002 Discovery Channel’s Young Scientist Challenge. Christine won the nationwide middle school science competition for her botany and zoology project.

On August 17, 1998, Christine Haas was discovered at Reyburn Intermediate School with her science project by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Lincoln Laboratory’s Near-Earth Asteroid Research (LINEAR) program. Christine, now a Clovis East High School student, received the honor of having a minor planet named after her for her achievements. She also earned a $15,000 college scholarship, a Hollywood Studio tour, and a television appearance in an hour-long program that will air in late December 2002.

Christine’s project investigated the use of buckeye blossoms as a means of controlling mosquitoes. She determined that the buckeye plant’s natural poisons deterred mosquito development in Wonder Valley’s vernal pools. This project was ideal for Christine because Wonder Valley has too many mosquitoes, and it also has livestock owners leery of spraying pesticides around water.

Christine’s selection for her award shows her determination and ingenuity which is reflected through this project. She is to be admired and congratulated on her efforts.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to congratulate Christine Haas for her scientific achievement. I urge my colleagues to join me in wishing Christine Haas many years of continued success.
