

Whereas the World Trade Organization will hold a Ministerial Meeting in Cancun, Mexico, in September 2003, at which members of the World Trade Organization are expected to make decisions that will determine the broad outlines of any agreement on agriculture reached in the Doha Development Agenda; and

Whereas the Chairman of the World Trade Organization Agriculture Negotiations Committee has proposed a modalities framework to serve as the basis for discussion and decisions at the Ministerial Meeting in Cancun: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Senate that—

(1) the goals of the United States in the Doha Round of the World Trade Organization agriculture negotiations are to achieve significantly increased market access, to harmonize allowed levels of trade-distorting domestic support for all countries, to immediately eliminate export subsidies, and to achieve a more level playing field in the world market for United States farmers, ranchers, and agricultural producers;

(2) the Chairman of the World Trade Organization Agriculture Negotiations Committee has properly sought to move the negotiations forward, but the proposed modalities framework he has released fails to meet the goals described in paragraph (1) because—

(A) the framework accepts the European formulation of equal percentage reductions from unequal levels of support that locks in place the European Union's current advantage on trade-distorting domestic support levels;

(B) while the framework recognizes that high tariff levels should be reduced more quickly, it nevertheless fails to sufficiently open export markets for United States products by allowing countries to maintain prohibitively high tariffs;

(C) while the framework eliminates trade-disrupting export subsidies, it phases out the elimination of export subsidies over too long a period of time;

(D) the framework contains a potentially unlimited tariff reduction loophole that would disadvantage United States agricultural products exported to developing countries, and would also limit trade between developing countries; and

(E) the framework preserves trade-distorting direct payments under production-limiting programs that are not subject to commitments to reduce domestic support under the Agreement on Agriculture of the World Trade Organization; and

(3) the United States should not agree to the proposed framework unless and until it is substantially improved in order to result in significantly increased market access, the harmonization of allowed levels of trade-distorting domestic support, and a more level playing field for United States farmers, ranchers, and agricultural producers.

MUSEUM AND LIBRARY SERVICES ACT OF 2003

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of Calendar No. 178, S. 888.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the bill by title.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (S. 888) to reauthorize The Museum and Library Services Act, and for other purposes.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the bill.

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, I am pleased that the Senate will consider and pass today a Substitute Amendment to H.R. 13, the Museum and Library Services Act of 2003. This substitute mirrors my bill, S. 888. Since I first introduced this legislation in April with several of my colleagues, it has been a bipartisan process. Over the past several months we have worked to build support for this language, so that today S. 888 has over 50 Senators as cosponsors. I thank my colleagues for their support. I particularly want to thank Senator REED, Senator FRIST, Senator KENNEDY, and Senator ENZI for their efforts.

This bill recognizes the importance of libraries and museums and provides them with continued federal support through the Institute of Museum and Library Services. In addition, it authorizes a doubling of the minimum state allotment under the Grants to State Library Agencies Program, up to $680,000. That provision allows for an increase, if appropriated, of 50% for New Hampshire's Federal library allotment under the law.

Recognizing the key role that libraries play in fostering the academic achievement of our nation's schoolchildren, the Museum and Library Services Act of 2003 also requires that the director, where appropriate, ensure that the library activities of the IMLS are coordinated with the school library provisions of the No Child Left Behind Act.

Furthermore, this bill increases the indemnity limits in the Arts and Artifacts Indemnity Act, thereby facilitating the international exchange and display of works of art, books, rare documents and other published materials, artifacts, and films and other audiovisual media. This will ensure that people throughout the world are exposed to American culture and that our own citizens will have richer educational opportunities available as well.

In addition, S. 888 supports the efforts of President Bush and Mrs. Bush to recruit more librarians by allowing funds to be used for the recruitment of persons in library and information science. Over the next 16 years, America's libraries are projected to lose 58 percent of their professional librarians, and more than one-quarter of all librarians with master's degrees will reach the age of 65 before 2009. This bill will help to alleviate this shortage.

The legislation contains a number of other important provisions. It prohibits projects determined to be obscene from receiving Federal funds, requires the Institute to conduct analyses of the need for museum and library services and the effectiveness of funded projects in meeting those needs, consolidates the library and museum advisory boards into one entity, and prohibits funds appropriated under the Act's authority from being used for library or museum construction.

We have worked hard to reach an agreement on this language with our colleagues in the House, and expect that when the House returns from the August recess, they will pass this bill as well and send it on to the President for his signature. Again, I thank my colleagues for their support of this important legislation.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. President, I strongly support the Museum and Library Services Act. Federal support of museums and libraries is appropriate and often essential to maintain the cultural and educational centers that provide valued resources for communities across the country. These institutions encourage learning, understanding, and respect for others in our diverse society, and their benefits are found in every neighborhood in America.

As technology's role in our society becomes more significant than ever, wider access to the internet and other resources is increasingly important. Greater Federal funding for libraries and museums is especially important when local budgets are so hard-pressed.

This bill supports the use of a wide range of media in both museums and libraries, enhancing access to exhibits and programs, and improving learning in a variety of formats. Library and museum advisory boards are consolidated into one body under this bill as a way to improve networks among museums, schools, and other community organizations.

This bill is intended to increase the efficiency of library services and provide much-needed financial assistance. It encourages library services for people of all backgrounds, especially in under-served urban and rural communities, so that access to technology will be much more widely available to all.
