Whereas, both these bills contain provisions that include: the federalization of nuclear power plant security forces; the revision of design criteria for nuclear reactors to include threats equivalent to the events of September 11, 2001, or the use of explosive devices or other modern weaponry; the development of a security plan to prevent disruption of operations or radioactive releases to protect spent fuel pools, to place spent fuel in dry cask storage, and to require background security checks; bi-annual force-on-force exercises to assure that the plant can protect itself from an assault or infiltration from terrorists; distribution of potassium iodide stockpiles in a 50 mile radius of a nuclear power plant with plans for distribution in the event of an accident; emergency planning exercises within a 50 mile zone around a nuclear power plant once every three years and public reporting on the results of the planning exercises; a surcharge on nuclear power generation of up to 1 mil per kilowatt hour plus federal appropriations to fund the security forces and security plans; authorization to deploy the National Guard, Coast Guard, and to restrict air space around reactors in the event of war or national emergency, to be funded through federal appropriations; and now therefore be it

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION

Whereas, the United Nations Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women was adopted by the United Nations General Assembly on December 18, 1979, and became an international treaty on September 3, 1981; and

Whereas, the Convention establishes a worldwide commitment to combat discrimination and violence against women and girls around the world; and

Whereas, as of May of 2001, 168 nations, including all members of the United Nations in the industrialized world except the United States, have ratified or acceded to the Convention provisions, leaving the United States among a small minority of countries, including Afghanistan, North Korea, Iran and Sudan, which have not; and

Whereas, the spirit of the Convention is rooted in the basic principles of the United States, to affirm faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person, and in the equal rights of men and women; and

Whereas, because more than ever, in recent months, the United States has taken a leading role in the promotion of democracy and freedom around the world, it is essential to set such an example here at home; and

Whereas, the Convention is critical to the restoration of human rights for women in Afghanistan, as it has been for protecting rights of women in countries as diverse as Uganda, Colombia, Brazil and South Africa, including citizenship rights for women in Botswana and Japan, inheritance rights in Tanzania, and property rights in Costa Rica; and
